LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

AMERICAN OFFICERS IN EASTERN SERVICE.

VICE-A-NEW FIELD FOR OUR SURPLUS MILITARY TALENT—GEN. C. D. STONE AND OTHERS IN EGYPT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10th, 1875.

I noticed in a morning paper the announcement that Mr. David Porter, the son of Admiral Porter of the Navy, sailed for Europe on Saturday, en route to Egypt, to enter the service of the Khedive, having received an appointment on his staff. I can easily understand the cautious under which this young gentleman is leaving his native land, and the dreams of glory that are haunting his pillow as he rocks in his temporary cradle on the breast of the Nile. In the first place there is something fascinating about the military service in Egypt. The gaudy well fitting uniform, and jaunty step that is pleasing to the average civilian, and so "exquisitely charming" as the French say—the clash and brazen melody of the military bands, the bright waving banners, the glimmer of the bayonets as they flash in the sun, are all pleasures of undoubted quality and suggestive of undoubted glory. And then the East, the luxurious Oriental land of enticing fables and impassioned sentiment, and suggestive of undoubted glory. Think of a residence amid the glorious halls of Cairo, with the Pyramids arising above the most luxurious palaces, and the subtle odor of undefined fragrance permeating your chamber, treading the streets where Califs and Mamelukes have trod before you, gazing by almost unobscured hours through latticed windows, and lighted by the lustre of an Eastern sun. And when the two are so tempting, it is not surprising that the youthful enthusiast, Colonel—will it be Colonel?—of the staff of His Highness the Khedive, Mr. David Porter, has accepted the offer of the 5th U. S. Artillery, which he resigned some five years ago to accept an appointment in the Army of Egypt, is now in the city on sick leave. Colonel Porter commanded a regiment of Volunteers during the late war, and is an officer of ability and reputation. This is the officer who commanded the 5th U. S. Artillery, and distinguished services during that campaign brings with him the decoration of the order of the "Medjidie." This officer, I am informed, while of course loyal in all that pertains to the fealty due the sovereign under whom he serves, does not speak of the services of the country in those enthusiastic strains which one would be led to expect. In the first place, the country is misnamed at most seasons of the year, damp and penetrating, while the sun at noonday drives north and stranger alike to the nearest shade. The nights, though cool and refreshing, serve by their intensity to render the climate the more debilitating. Service in the field—and there is plenty of it—is by no means devoid of danger from the climate, for, as the healthful and hearty, and as the most of the well trained and perfectly disciplined men that our country has ever furnished to command and lead so bravely into the teeth of danger. The pay is by no means regular or the service consistent with the agreement. Again, the Egyptian soldiers are debilitated and degraded by intrigues and subtle devilities to which our civilization is a stranger, and from which our moral training would shield us. It is only by plots and counterplots, that a position once obtained can be retained or made even tenable. So little to be desired is an appointment of this nature, that several army officers who have been tendered positions in the army of Egypt, have declined with thanks. Lieut. R. P. Brown of the 4th Infantry, who reached Washington during the past week, en route to Cairo, having accepted an appointment, altered his mind and returned to his regiment. Lieut. Bourke, of the 3d Cavalry, at present an aide on the staff of Gen. Crook, has also declined the offer of Major in the Egyptian service, while I have heard of several others who have the matter under consideration. How much an interview with Colonel Stone has effected these decisions, I am of course unable to suggest, but have no doubt that his pictures of the reality, tended to a greater or less extent to cure the enthusiasm and explode their theories of romance and military glory under the banner of the Khedive.

LOCAL NEWS.

SOCIAL GATHERING AT AUNT NABBY'S GROVE.—On Thursday, the 9th inst., a party of about forty ladies and gentlemen in the above named Grove, Mr. Alvah Raymond, Jr., acting as Generalissimo, Chief Cook and Dish Washer for the day. By the time the party had all arrived, the Chief Cook had the tables arranged and loaded in a manner that would have tempted an epicure, and the chowder was pronounced by all to be a No. 1. Employment was the order of the day, and it was obeyed to the letter. At half past 5 o'clock the party were called to a nicely prepared supper of cold meats, hot green corn, sweet potatoes, &c., to which they responded and performed their part in an agreeable and satisfactory way. When daylight had departed, we prepared for return home, satisfied that Aunt Nabby's was an acquaintance that would be remembered with pleasure, and sought for in the future. By request of those present, I take this opportunity to return their heartfelt and sincere thanks to Mr. Alvah Raymond, Jr., and lady, for the successful manner of planning and carrying out the day's entertainment. May they live to enjoy many such pleasant gatherings, is the wish of all.

HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING.—Mr. Charles Simmons, of East Weymouth, has been awarded the contract for building the new High School house at Weymouth Landing, at $7,200 above the foundation. His competitors for the job varied but little from this sum in their offers.

APPOINTMENT OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.—Frank E. Lewis, Esq., has been chosen to fill the vacancy in the Board of School Committee of Weymouth, occasioned by the resignation of Mrs. James.

SURRENDERED.—We learn from Constable Loring that Fox, another of the party concerned in the assault on Mr. Mason, has been captured, leaving three at large at present time.

FIFTH GENERATION.—Mrs. White, of Braintree, who is now upwards of one hundred years of age, and of whom mention has been made in the family sketches of "J. W. P." has a representative of the fifth generation in Weymouth—Master Wm. E. Field, son of Granville and the late Bella Field.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. Charles E. Hartshorn, a respected and former resident of Weymouth Landing, and an employee in the Navy Yard, died very suddenly at Charlestown, Mass., Aug. 29, 1875, aged 27 years. The deceased was taken ill on Saturday evening, and died at 3 A. M. Sunday.

INCENDIARISM in this vicinity is assuming proportions of alarming magnitude. Our Quincy neighbors being kept in a continual state of fear by the frequency of fires of incendiary origin, and employing a numerous patrolling body of watchmen, in an endeavor to ferret out the authors of the villainy, and also prevent the accomplishment of their nefarious designs. A similar state of terrorism prevailed in this town several years ago, but we have been relieved from the incendiary torch, to any extent, until Tuesday morning last, when an attempt was made to destroy valuable property in East Weymouth, an account of which is given by our correspondent.

A FUNERAL SERVICE was held in the Baptist Church at Weymouth Landing, last Sunday afternoon, over the remains of Miss Mary Somers, a former resident of the Landing, who died at Hingham on Friday, after a painful illness of several weeks. The house was filled with a gathering of relatives and friends of the deceased.

East Weymouth.

The carpenter's shop belonging to the Weymouth Iron Co., and connected with their works, was totally destroyed by fire about three o'clock, Tuesday morning. The fire was undoubtedly the work of a cold-blooded and methodical incendiary, as an attempt was made at the same time, to fire the Congregational Church, in the immediate vicinity of the building, which was burned. The incendiary entered the church through one of the vestry windows, and set fire to the interior in two places, using hay, hymn-books, and a piece of carpeting torn from the floor and saturated with oil, to accomplish his diabolical purpose. Fortunately these villainous plans were discovered in season to prevent their consummation. The reported estimate of the losses from the destruction of the carpenter's shop and contents, is from $2500 to $3000, insured for $1500. We have no positive information, as to the correctness of these estimates.

Such a fire following so closely upon the late incendiary fires of Quincy, has naturally caused some anxiety as well as considerable excitement, and great indignation in our village. Several of our manufacturing firms have engaged private watchmen for their establishments, and if the fire-bugs choose to continue to operate in this vicinity, it is to be hoped that they will receive the full benefit of the statute, in such case made and provided, which decrees that "whoever willfully and maliciously burns the dwelling-house of another, or any building adjoining such dwelling-house, or willfully and maliciously set fire to any building, by the burning thereof such dwelling-house is burnt, or whoever willfully and maliciously burns in the night-time, a meeting-house, church, court-house, town-house, college, academy, jail, or other buildings erected for public use, or a banking-house, warehouse, store, manufactory, or mill, of another (being with the property therein, in contained, of the value of $1000), or any other building by the burning whereof any building mentioned in this section is burnt in the night-time, shall be punished by imprisonment in the State Prison for life."

We learn that the ladies connected with the Methodist Society, contemplate holding a fruit festival, on Wednesday evening, Sept. 22nd. In connection with the festival will be given a literary and musical entertainment. A mere mention of this projected social occasion, will suffice to induce those to be present, who have attended similar entertainments prepared by the same management in the past, and know how many attractive elements enter into their composition. Their entertainments have always been marked by refinement and excellence throughout, and this will be no exception to the general rule.

BUSINESS in East Weymouth is quite lively, the Iron Co. running their works on nearly full time, and the boot and shoe factories having abundant orders, and furnishing plenty of work for their hands. Henry Loud has returned to his old location, having purchased the interest of C. W. Soule in the store business, and like King Richard, is "himself again."

J. I. Bates has opened a branch of his store in the building formerly occupied by Mr. Sanborn, and is said to be doing a lively business in "Good News Ranges," &c. There are now three establishments of this kind in the village. The extensive addition to the store of Z. L. Bicknell affords increased accommodation for business purposes and also added room in the upper story.

ACCEPTED.—The call extended to Rev. E. P. McElroy, formerly of East Weymouth, by the First Church of Brockton, has been accepted by him, and installation services will take place Oct. 15. The Gazette says that additional interest will attach to this occasion from the fact that it will be the 135th anniversary of the ordination of Rev. John Porter, the first pastor of the church and the first settled minister in the town. By a remarkable coincidence it will also be the 75th anniversary of the ordination of his successor Rev. Asa Meech. It is proposed to give to the exercises something of a historical character in view of these interesting facts, and invitations are to be sent to all the former pastors of the church now living to be present. It is hoped that Rev. E. L. Clark, now of New York, will deliver an historical address on this occasion.

HEADQUARTERS REYNOLDS POST, No. 58, DEPARTMENT OF MASS., G. A. R. (Weymouth Town Hall, Aug. 24, 1875.)

CARD OF THANKS. The members of Reynolds Post 58, hereby tender their thanks to the widow Bates, for kindly offering the use of the Grove, known as Aunt Nabby's Grove, for their recent camp make. Also to Mr. Mills, for the valuable services gratuitously rendered by him, and to Comrade Oliver Burrell, for the portion of the musical entertainment, generously furnished by him on the same occasion.

By order of the Post, CHARLES W. HASTINGS, Adjutant.

DISTRICT COURT.—Thomas Mulligan, Arthur Hickey, Patrick Flanagan and Thomas Flanagan, of Braintree, were arrested by Constable Loring, for committing a dangerous assault with a stone on Alverdo Mason, a police officer of Braintree, on Saturday evening, and ordered to recognize with sureties in the sum of $2000 each, for their appearance before the grand jury in December next, in default were committed.

John Logan, of Quincy, for the larceny of one hundred dollars' worth harnesses, the property of the National Soldiers' Home. Plead guilty, and was held for trial at the Superior Court.

Fleet Dorson and James Hall, both of Milton, for being drunk were each fined $3 and costs, and in default were committed.

FRUIT AND FLOWERS for the Boston Hospitals may be sent next Wednesday evening, to the house of Mrs. E. F. Holmes, Sixteen Street, Weymouth.

South Weymouth.

Work has commenced upon the reservoir in Columbus Square. The workmen were unable to sink it to the depth first intended, on account of rocks, but have given it more surface. Its capacity, as calculated by Prof. Voss, of South Weymouth, is 16,000 gallons. Its locality enables engines to avail themselves of the water, for the protection of all the buildings in the vicinity of the Square, including churches, school edifices &c.

The drug store of Elbridge Nash is rapidly being fitted up, and we hope, from the known character of the proprietor, will not be suffered to be the haunt of those whose potatoes fit them to make night hideous, to say nothing of the injury felt by ladies whose business calls them upon the street in the evening.

We understand that Rev. J. C. Halliday, of Lovell's Corner, has tendered his resignation, to take effect in December. In losing Mr. Halliday, the society loses one whose place will be hard to fill. Self-sacrificing, and consecrated to the one work of saving souls, he has followed closely in the steps of his Master, counting no labor too great which shall relieve the suffering, comfort the sorrowing, or lead the weary laborer to a loving Saviour. While his right hand never knew the gifts of the left, the poor will rise up, and call him blessed. The churches in the vicinity will lose an able man from their exchange. Wherever God may call him, our hearts go with him, and the earnest prayers of Christians will follow him.

The Norfolk Conference of Churches will meet with Rev. George F. Stanton's church, on Tuesday, the 28th inst. Everything will be done to make the meeting one of interest and profit.

A meeting of the directors of the Weymouth Agricultural Society was held at their hall, last Friday evening, to make arrangements for the approaching fair. Capt. A. J. Garey was appointed Chief Marshal, and a committee appointed to secure the Weymouth Band. Messrs. Henry Newton, Elnathan Bates, Eben L. Pool, Jacob F. Diaz, Erastus Nash, John O. Foy, B. F. Locke, Chas. Hawes, A. S. Howe, George N. Blanchard, were appointed to solicit contributions and to convey them to and from the Hall at the expense of the Society; and these gentlemen desire that contributors will furnish a list of articles they desire entered, with their name signed, and in sending baskets or plates, to have them plainly marked. The "Conqueror" is in practice, and will do its best to make a good record Sept. 30th. The pens for swine have been built in modern style, and being covered will afford a comfortable place for the exhibition of this class of stock. We have heard it intimated that Nathan D. Canterbury will exhibit his splendid stallion at the fair.

The contract for the widening of Pine St., has been given to Messrs. Vining and Barnes, who commence upon it this week, and are to have it finished this fall.

THE WEYMOUTH FAIR.—The Committee on Sports have concluded their programme for Friday and Saturday. The Boston Red Stockings will play on Friday; Running Matches; Foot Races; Friday; the Heavy and Small Stones; three Standing Jumps—Hop, Step and Jump, and a new game called the Potato Game, all of which have liberal prizes attached. The last game is very amusing, and will receive ten entries—the first that come.

EX-CHIEF J. S. DANRELL will act as Chairman of Judges, and will conduct on the same plan as that of last year. The Torrent of Hingham, and Amazon of Weymouth entered this week for the trial, and we learn that the noted Hudson Co., will put in an appearance at Weymouth, after the play at Hingham. This company is composed of the first citizens of that town, and is one of the finest companies in the State.

Contributors to the show in the Hall are reminded that the department of agriculture requires special attention this season, on account of the limited crop, and it is earnestly desired by the Committee that every effort will be made to make this portion of the exhibition a creditable one. In other departments, also, we trust that the generous contributors of former years will rally once again, and furnish an exhibition which shall excel all previous fairs of the Society.

MUSICAL.—The time for the resumption of the rehearsals of the Union Church Society is close at hand, and we learn with pleasure that its Conductor, Mr. Webb, has suggested to the government a way to increase its effectiveness and usefulness; and not only so, but the suggestion is one of great importance to all the religious societies in the vicinity. He proposes to give such instruction that every person possessed of natural time and tune, with due attention and practice may become an intelligent reader of music. It will also give an excellent opportunity to our public schools to learn to read music, instead of learning entirely by ear, as now. We hope the suggestion will meet with warm encouragement, as upon its success in numbers will depend the cost to each individual. The expense may be reduced to a mere bagatelle, if all who possess good voices and earnestly desire to be able to read music at sight, and so become efficient members of the Choral Society, as well as competent to assist in the musical part of our church services, adopt his suggestions in good earnest. We believe such opportunity has presented itself for years to revive the old time reputation of Weymouth for musical enterprise and ability. We understand all the members of the board of government are warmly in favor of the enterprise, and will explain the views of Mr. Webb, and they will cause notices to be given in the different churches, wherever practicable. In our next issue we hope to chronicle the complete success of this interesting movement.

All who are desirous of becoming intelligent readers of music in this vicinity, and thus becoming efficient in the choral service of our churches, are cordially invited to meet at Lincoln Hall, on Wednesday evening next, Sept. 22d, at 7 1/2 o'clock, to listen to such explanations and take such initiatory steps as may be necessary to secure so desirable an object.

The prominent prospective candidates of the Republican party for Governor of this Commonwealth have been shut out of the pale of the Temperance Alliance, in resolutions adopted at a late meeting, which declare that the Hon. Alexander H. Rice, by his life-long adherence to license, and by his utter failure, as Mayor of Boston, to do anything effective for the execution of the prohibition law, having left the strongest instrumentality of the law—the saloon class—wholly unemployed, has debarred himself from being the standard-bearer of the wise, sober, patriotic citizens of the Commonwealth; also that Dr. George B. Loring is likewise debarred from being their leader, his lukewarmness during a long series of years, and his marked inefficiency in positions of highest responsibility and at the crisis he has all along pretended to love more than any open attack could have damaged it. H. H. Faxon, Esq., of Quincy, in commenting on the resolutions, said that "believing the Republican party to be the party of principle, he had voted for men who he knew to be unfit for office; but he did not propose to do so any longer; he declined to believe in either Loring or Rice, and hoped there would be a 'vamos' at Worcester. Rev. Mr. Foster of Randolph objected to the personal references in the resolutions, and was supported in this opinion by Dr. William Cornell. Mr. Brigham came to the defense of Dr. Loring, saying that his whole record proved him to be anything but unprincipled, and urging temperance people to give him a fair trial. It is needless to assert that strict temperance principles have been advanced in this State mainly by temperance men working with the Republican party, and we think many supporters of the temperance cause will be loath to "kick up a fuss" in the Convention, should the delegates select either Rice or Loring as their candidate.

Dr. G. H. Emerson will preach at the Universalist Church, Weymouth, next Sunday. Service at 10-2 A. M.

SOCIAL.—The coffee party given by the ladies of the Baptist Society of Weymouth, last Wednesday evening, netted about $25 for the organ fund. The entertainment of singing and instrumental music was very good, the ladies being indebted to Miss McElroy, of East Weymouth, for her kindly assistance as vocalist.

DELEGATES to the Democratic state convention from Weymouth have been chosen as follows—Alvah Raymond Jr., Henry Newton, John W. Hart, Alexis Torrey, A. J. Randall, James Moore, Augustus Vining, Peter Lawson, Walter C. French, L. B. Tirrell, Dorick White, L. H. Loud, Robert McIntosh, Chas. H. Loud, Abner Holbrook.

COUNTY FAIR.—The time-honored Norfolk County Agricultural Society announces, in another column, its programme for the coming annual fair, at Readville. The government of the Society are aware of the importance of furnishing an attractive entertainment, and that this will be the result of their labors, so one will question in reading their announcement. The County Farmer's Festival is especially worthy of a general attendance and bounteous contribution of articles for exhibition, and the people of the County will of course respond in energetic manner, to the call of the old Norfolk Society.

SURPRISED.—The employees of the Central House, at Oak Bluffs, surprised the senior proprietor, Mr. J. S. Fuller, last week, with a present of a handsome silver water pitcher and salver—a compliment well deserved by the popular host of the Central, who has won hosts of friends the present season by unceasing attention to the wants of his guests.

COURT MATTERS.—The Superior Court for criminal business came in at Dedham, last Monday. Eli Huskins and Leonard Thompson are the jurors for Weymouth. The Grand Jury came in and reported last Friday, when 27 prisoners were brought in from the jail, being the largest number arraigned at any one time since West Roxbury was set off from this County.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for October is an unusually attractive Number. It opens with a beautiful story, "The Little Girl," by Mrs. E. M. Alcott, and gracefully illustrated with six pictures by Sol. Eytinge, Junr. A richly illustrated article, entitled "The Lakes," describes Minnesota's resources, natural scenery, and its principal cities, St. Paul and Minneapolis. JONAS HENRY BOWEN gives some graphic pictures of prominent Parisian Journalists—including De Girardin, De Cassagne, About, and Veuillot, whose portraits illustrate the article. Mrs. Cowley contributes a second paper on the art treasures of the South Kensington Museum, profusely illustrated, and giving special attention to the influence of the Museum in the progress of Art Education. The most important paper in the Number is President Woolsey's contribution to the "First Century Series," entitled "The Experiment of the United States." Besides its value as a historical study, it is a valuable paper, as it also illustrates the progress of our country, and is a study through its suggestions as to our immediate situation. A lighter character, though by no means trivial, is the Hon. S. C. Cook's paper on "Legislative Humors," full of wags and anecdotes. Another of CASTLEMAN'S philosophical papers is given in this Number. The field is already ripe in this country for the suggestions and eloquent appeal of Ellis Gray's paper on "The Mission of Music." It is an intensely practical discussion of the prospects of popular musical education in America. JULIAN HAWTHORNE'S thoroughly beautiful and yet almost ideal romantic novel, "Garth," is continued, it is here now ready to be launched into the wonderful experiences of college life.

OF short stories this Number has an unusual variety.

PLEY'S DIETETIC SALABRUS.—Universally acknowledged the best in use. Each pound bears the name of JAMES PLEY. None genuine without.

STOP THAT COUGH. DR. MORRIS' STRIP OF TAR, WILD CHERRY AND HONEY, will cure a cough in half the time necessary to cure it with any other medicine. We are prepared to guarantee every bottle. Please call and inquire about it. Trial size 10 cents. For sale by J. H. PARSONS & CO., 100 N. BROAD ST., NEW YORK.

MARRIED. In Weymouth, Aug. 23rd, at the residence of A. J. Richards, by Rev. Merrill Richardson, of Milton, Charles W. Shupps, of Milton, and Miss Carrie M. Clapp, of Weymouth.

DEID. In Charlestown, Aug. 29, Mr. Charles E. Hartshorn, formerly of Weymouth, aged 27 years.

Western Correspondence.

PERILS OF A WESTERN FARMER. "Cursed be the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shall thou eat of it all the days of thy life." This language was used to Adam, 5799 years ago; but it applies with peculiar force to the western farmer. In early spring time, he sows his seed broadcast o'er the land, hoping he may be permitted to gather an abundant harvest. In a few days high winds prevail, blow off the top of the soil, and leave his wheat and oats uncovered, and exposed to the depredations of black-birds and prairie chickens. Cold wet weather, sometimes follows. Crows come plaining, and the seed rots in the ground. Then he must replant or have nothing in harvest. The Colorado beetle takes his potatoes, squash bugs spoil his vines, and cut worms destroy his onions.

Perhaps the season is usually favorable, and he encounters none of these perplexities. Wheat, oats, corn, potatoes, &c., come up, look well and promise much. Then perhaps a drought follows, his corn looks as though it had the jaundice, and his small grain is dwarfed in stature, and the heads do not fill out well. Potatoes are small, and there are but few in a hill. He may escape drought, and all the above named calamities; then while he is rejoicing at the prospect of an abundant harvest, chintz bugs come and destroy in a few hours, all his golden prospects. Wheat, corn is eaten, despair settles down, and the poor man hardly knows what to do next. (The chintz bug is very much like a bed-bug, only a great deal more destructive. They come in legions.) Perhaps the grasshoppers visit him instead of the chintz bugs, and remain unwelcomed and unobjectionable tenants of his farm until there is nothing left to harvest. He may escape all these, and then in the midst of an abundant harvest, wet weather sets in, the grain sprouts in the sheaf, and the crop isn't worth half-price. An early frost kills his corn, and the next spring his half starved cattle look like skeletons. He may raise five tons of pork, and just as he takes it to market it falls so low that he does not realize enough to pay his debts. The black leg kills his cattle. Horse thieves borrow his beef, and the cholera kills his hens and turkeys. His children shake with the ague. He gets in debt, and borrows money at 20 per cent. He can't pay up. The mortgage on his farm is foreclosed. He sells his personal property at a great sacrifice, and goes to the far west to seek a new home where land is cheap and plenty; repeats all his first experiments with the same results as at first, and finally dies a poor man, leaving a large family unprotected.

Such are some of the perplexities of a western farmer; yet his lot is not harder than that of many others. The curse of God rests heavily upon all. Thorns and thistles are brought forth. In the sweat of our face we shall eat our bread until we return to dust again. Iowa, Aug. 27, 1875.

Under date of Sept. 2d, Peregrine writes from Northern Iowa:—"Crops at the West are poor. Floods in Indiana and Illinois, in July almost wholly destroyed every thing. Chintz bugs have destroyed wheat in southern Wisconsin, and now frost has taken the corn in the northern part of the state. Here we have had an abundant harvest, and nice harvest wheat; but just at the commencement of the threshing and stacking season, wet weather has set in, grain is growing in the shocks, and the prospect looks dubious. Mitchell Co., had a million dollars worth of wheat, which won't be worth ten cents unless we have dry weather, except on a few farms where it has been stacked."

THE BIBLE SOCIETY appears to find peculiar favor in New Jersey. A Masonic Lodge recently sent a donation of $20 to a county Bible Society, through its Worshipful Master, to aid in the circulation of the Scriptures. Gifts have come also from other lodges of the same order. A lodge of the Sons of Temperance, some time since, on disbanding, in the disposition of funds on hand, appropriated a part to the Bible Society. It has also come to pass in some counties that fines, imposed on delinquent jurors at the courts, instead of being used for refreshments (? in the old-time way, are voted to the Treasurer of the Bible Society and duly acknowledged by him.

REFINING. BY MRS. E. E. BROWN. We murmur if a single plan rarely finds us in its grooving; And wish that fate were set on springs, And we could rise with its impetus. We strive to pierce the veil that hides The future from our vision. And when the quester paths of life, Because they're not elysian. When fortune frowns and friends grow cold, When we are left to our own thoughts; When what we sit down within our home, A guest that's uninvited, We struggle with our destiny, And chafe at every fetter, And think that if we planned our lot, We might have planned it better. If foibles haughty be still, And cease by vain repining; If clouds obscure while the sun, We might have planned it better. If every wish were gratified, We'd soon grow tired of pleasure; If needs were ever forced to suit, Who would prize the better lot? And could not value love's bright links If none had never tasted; And friends who never have been tried, Are hardly to be trusted. If more we'll see the light—Too much we should adore it; Then let us bear with every ill, Since we're the better for it. South Weymouth, Sept. 14, 1875.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD

Count of Farms Labor. The department of agriculture report for July, from statistics gathered from all the States, shows that the average price of farm labor for the whole United States, at the present time, is with- out board, $12.40 per month—six days since 1895, of nearly twenty-two per cent. The calculations are based on the numbers given respectively in the cen- suses of 1890 and 1870. In the latter years are included only those formerly slaves. These had no place in the former enumeration. They increased the proportion of low-priced labor, and thus assist in reducing the average.

THE INSURRECTION IN TURKEY.

A Clear and Fully Understood Analysis of the Whole Affair. The disturbances in Herzegovina grow more and more serious. The Turkish government is evidently not disposed to yield, while the revolted Christians are openly encouraged in Montenegro, in Bosnia, and in Dalmatia. Extractions of this kind have frequently occurred in Turkey, and the present revolt might be settled as the former were. In case, however, the Turkish government falls, the Balkan States, we are unable to see a new kingdom formed in the East, with or without a general European squabble.

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

Gen. Sherman contemplates a revised edition of his Memoirs, and has written to some of his friends to remain the popular edition. The Rev. Dr. Estlin has been elected to the office of president of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. The Rev. Dr. Estlin has been elected to the office of president of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions.

THE FRENCH DEBT.

The New York Sun says that one of its correspondents who inquired if France had paid her debt resulting from the Franco-Prussian war? We answer that she has not paid a cent of it. The debt is estimated at five hundred millions of francs, and she has borrowed the money. This money she still owes, and upon it she continually pays interest. No part of the principal has yet been extinguished.

HEAVY YOKES.

Heavy Yokes. A heavy yoke is a yoke for oxen, and is made of iron or steel. It is used for pulling heavy loads, such as plows, harrows, and wagons. It is a very important part of the farming equipment, and is used in all parts of the world.

GAZETTE & REPORTER.

C. G. EASTBROOK, Editor.
Single copies 5 cents; to be had at the New Office in Weymouth Landing, North, South and West Weymouth, and South Braintree; also at Weymouth, at Braintree, R. Station.

EAST BRAINTREE.—On the afternoon of Sabbath last, the Rev. Mr. Wright, of the Baptist Church, occupied the pulpit of the Union Congregational Church, of Weymouth and Braintree. We remember that Mr. Wright conducted the services of this congregation on last Thanksgiving day and on that occasion he delivered a sermon of rare merit, and which we intended to have noticed, but from some oversight was neglected at the time.

Mr. Wright, on the present occasion, chose for his text, the 4th verse of the 6th
chap. of Galatians. "But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another." From this text Mr. Wright preached an excellent sermon on the personal responsibility of Christians, both in the Church and society. So far as we could gather from these two sermons, and not seem very deeply impressed with the value of the particulars of dogmatic ortho-doxy. The Christians, according to Mr.
Wright's idea, is one who sets himself earnestly and faithfully to do the Divine will, and who is not overcareful in appreciating from a theological point of view, those specific relations of truth in the form of doctrine and institutions, which Christians in general have accepted as the most effectual source of regenerative power, both for the individual and for society. People who are ever active in human duty need not be indifferent about religion; on the contrary, they may be strongly religious. They may condemn coldness and commend fervor, and yet
all the time may be feebly and only partly appreciate points of Christian dogma—namely, they may even like Charles Lamb, hold themselves apart from its central propositions. So it may come about that the comparative purity of a man's nature, the milder form of the degeneration he inherits, the fearless cheerfulness with which he seems to stand and walk in the light of God's presence, may impair his power to estimate the warmer and the more inward spiritual parts of Christianity, and giving credit to others for possessing similar dispositions to his own, he may fail to appreciate the severer side of the gospel and forget that such a law which is made not for the righteous, but for the ungodly, and is used to correct reckless men in their headlong course, to constrain them to come in, and to rescue them as brands
from the burning. We believe that Mr.
Wright would be slow to charge all such partial conceptions of doctrinal truth
upon moral defect, or to deny the truth,
force and value of the heart service,
which they may render, and so with affectionate humility to their Father, and their God.

Mr. Wright does not veil the plain relations of the gospel in aesthetic or in philosophic vapor. His statements of it are clear, simple, and consistent, and his pleading for it direct and earnest, his religion is a cheerful religion, and this makes his preaching hopeful, and while not denying or disguising the terrors of the Lord, nor shutting his eyes to the depths of obnoxious and evil in human heartings, yet he evidently believes in glad tidings for all people, and we should think that his mind will be drawn naturally to what is cheering and encourageing in the gospel.

It is said that the besetting sin of preachers is "dull propriety;" from this Mr. Wright is free and we are thankful for it. His exegesis is correct, he is reverent, while his sermons are characterized by great common sense.

The forty-third year begins Sept. 12th.
In the different departments of the School, all of which, at any stage, are open to pupils of both sexes,
a complete education is given in preparation for College, Business, the Institute of Technology, or the position of a Teacher. Any branch of study, Mathematics, Languages, Book-keeping, Drawing, etc., can be pursued by Special Students,
without taking the whole course of the School.
An excellent Gymnasium, with scholars and Military Drill is a part of the Course. Pupils without inconvenience from all the neighboring towns, and their necessities in regard to travel,
food, etc., are always considered.
By special arrangement, the members of the Boston Public Library, members of the first class of Churches, and others, are allowed to take books
from the Library.
A year's trial has shown the New School building to be perfectly warmed and ventilated, and in every way well adapted to the purposes of a school.
It can be inspected and the Principals consulted on Wednesdays in August, and daily on and after August 20, from 9 to 12 o'clock in the forenoon.
Catalogues may be had at A. Williams & Co.'s,
