

BACK FROM THE EAST

W. J. CLENDENIN TELLS OF CONDITIONS ON THE ATLANTIC COAST

W. J. Clendenin, 246 Orange St., who with Mrs. Clendenin left Glendale, April 16, to visit his birthplace and former residence, Baltimore, is back again in his residence at 246 Orange street, delighted to return to the genial climate of Southern California. Mr. and Mrs. Clendenin left Baltimore two and a half years ago.

"On our way East," said Mr. Clendenin, "we stopped at Colorado Springs for a brief time. There we encountered a regular winter storm. The snow was swirling fast in a keen wind and I believe that there I caught a cold which rapidly developed into pleurisy. When I reached Baltimore I was in a high fever. I called in a doctor who declared I had pleurisy. Two days after he said the pleurisy had developed into pleuro-pneumonia. I was laid up in Baltimore sixteen days and was sorry to lose so much valuable time.

"After having recovered from my illness I visited the old Presbyterian church in which I was raised. We were tendered a most hearty reception by the clergyman and the members. They thought at first that we had come to stay; but their reception was none the less cordial when they learned that we intended to return to California.

"When I had recovered we went to Atlantic City, N. J., to visit the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in session there. I have been a commissioner to the Assembly on several occasions and I always feel deeply benefited by the spiritual uplift of that great body. Loyal Presbyterians have no idea how much they could gain at those national gatherings.

"Nine hundred ministers and elders were present from all over the United States. The prevailing sentiment in the Assembly was a deep feeling of reverence and a profound devotion to the cause of Christ. The spiritual inspiration was tremendous. I profited largely by the influence that radiated from this great spiritual gathering. I would be sorry to think that I should not be privileged to attend other similar gatherings.

"The Assembly was animated by a desire to spread throughout the land a spirit of Sabbath observance. The Assembly was of the opinion that too much stress could not be laid on the discouragement of Sunday baseball, moving pictures and other secular amusements on the Lord's day. They urged that such practices be entirely forbidden. There was only one dissenting voice—that of an individual who advocated Sunday baseball.

"The Committee on Evangelism struck the keynote of a great religious sentiment by advocating more extensive work in presenting the claims of Christ on the people. A few years ago only a small number of churches paid any attention to evangelism, now the entire church is turned in this direction and conversions are on the increase.

"Atlantic City has grown wonderfully. Apartment houses are springing up on every hand and the famous Board Walk now extends seven and a half miles along the ocean front. The walk is so popular that often there is hardly room for the numerous pedestrians. The city itself is now an all-the-year-round seaside resort and people go there from every part of the United States.

"Business in the East is booming at a great rate. The factories are busy with the war orders of Europe and an immense flood of money is pouring into the coffers of the manufacturers. There is hardly a factory engaged in this business that is not swamped with orders. It is not merely ammunition or guns or automobile trucks or aeroplanes that are being manufactured but iron and steel work of all kinds, shoes, saddlery, shirts, clothing of all kinds, barbed wire, tents, socks—every imaginable line of manufacture. There is little wonder that the East is flourishing and that there has been even somewhat of an exodus from California and other western states to that land of work and good wages.

"Personally I am glad to get back to Glendale. I found no climate equal to this while I was away and I am glad to get back to this pure air and stimulating surroundings."

GUESTS OF ALUMNI

Members of the Glendale Union High School Alumni will entertain the members of the class of 1916 at Masonic Temple, Saturday evening. It is urged that all members of the Alumni be present.

HAMILTON TO SPEAK

MEMBER OF BOARD OF SUPERVISORS TO TALK ON COMMISSION GOVERNMENT

John J. Hamilton, a member of the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county, will speak, Saturday, June 17, in the city hall, at 8 p. m. His subject will be "Essentials of Commission Government." Mr. Hamilton for twenty years was owner and editor of the Des Moines Daily News. He was instrumental in getting the commission form of government introduced in that city. It was there that commission government was first given its present form. Mr. Hamilton is familiar with all the details and with the history of the working of commission government throughout the United States.

In 1912 Mr. Hamilton was secretary of the Board of Freeholders, which drafted a charter for the city of Los Angeles. He was also a member of the board of education, at Pasadena. He has made a reputation as a speaker on civic affairs and is an active member of the City Club. He is also prominent in various reform and civic organizations.

Mr. Hamilton's talk at Glendale on Saturday will be based largely on his personal experience and observation of Commission government. It will be profoundly interesting and instructive. Mr. Hamilton wrote the first book published in America on the Commission form of government and is recognized as an authority on the subject. This book is styled "The Dethronement of the City Boss." Mr. Hamilton should be greeted by a large audience Saturday evening.

M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

The First Methodist-Episcopal Sunday school held its annual picnic Saturday, at Eagle Rock park. There was a large attendance and everyone had a good time. The Rev. B. D. Snudden accompanied the party, which was superintended by T. W. Watson, the Sunday school superintendent. Mr. L. C. Leeds, superintendent of the intermediate department, was also present, and took an active part in the proceedings. Mr. Addison, Mrs. Johnson and others aided to make the day a success. The great feature of the day was the baseball game between the Junior Baracas and the Baracas. The Juniors won.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. W. M. Crawford, 916 S. Central avenue, entertained a number of young people, Saturday afternoon, in honor of the fourteenth birthday of her daughter, Margaret Crawford. The house was beautifully decorated with pink sweet peas, roses and asparagus ferns. The color scheme throughout was pink and green. Refreshments were served in an arbor in the garden. The girls had a very pleasant time with games and music. Mrs. Claire Arrington and Mrs. R. L. Taylor assisted Mrs. Crawford in entertaining the children. The children present were: Lillie Shick, Dorothy Carmack, Louise Hollenbeck, Edith Schuyler, Lois Schuyler, Millie Alvord, Margaret Frazee, Dorothy Patterson, Mildred Swenson, Evelyn Taylor, Katherine Hendricks, Rae Stevenson, Margaret Fortune, Helen Ingledue, Josephine Van Sant and Zelma Lindley.

FORMER PASTOR TO PREACH

Members of the First Baptist church of Glendale will be glad to hear that one of their former pastors, the Rev. W. F. Stone, will visit this city this week. During his incumbency of the Glendale church Mr. Stone made a fine record. He added many names to the church roll and his call to Sacramento was greatly lamented. He is now in San Diego. His old friends will have opportunities to hear him on Sunday when he will preach and will meet his friends. The regular notice of Sunday's services will convey all further information.

HONOR TO GLENDALE BAND

John R. White, Jr., 101 Orange street, as marshal of Division No. 44, Furniture and Carpets, in the Preparedness parade, in Los Angeles, Wednesday, led that section, which numbered 1200 strong and was one of the most conspicuous of the industrial section. By Mr. White's exertions the Glendale Municipal band obtained the honor of heading that division in the parade. Mr. White is manager of the carpet and rug department in the California Furniture company of Los Angeles and a stockholder in that organization.

CARRANZA GOVERNMENT IN DIFFICULTIES

WASHINGTON HEARS THAT DE FACTO GOVERNMENT OF MEXICO IS IN SERIOUS TROUBLE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15.—It is believed that the end of the Carranza government is at hand. Private information in the hands of the administration states that Carranza is faced by serious difficulties on account of his determination not to have a clash with the American troops if possible. He is accused of being a traitor and of Americanizing tendencies. The disintegration of the de facto government goes on daily. Carranza's difficulties continue to pile up.

RUSSIAN FORCES ADVANCE IN GALICIA

MUSCOVITES RUSH ENORMOUS HOSTS TO CUT OFF THE AUSTRIANS IN LEMBERG DISTRICT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PETROGRAD, June 15.—Huge Russian forces have been concentrated on the Galician front and are advancing north of Czernowitz. Their object is to cut off the Austrian forces in that region and to capture the railroad to Lemberg. Czernowitz is completely enveloped; Kovel will be captured ere long and Lemberg, the great Austrian fortress, will probably fall into the hands of the Muscovites. The movement on Kovel endangers the German line in the Riga direction. The Russians have crossed the Pruth at several points. The Germans, hard pressed themselves, are unable to send aid to the Austrians.

BERLIN, June 15.—Russian forces attacked the German positions north of Pinsk this morning. Numerous attacks were launched against the strong German positions. The Russians advanced again and again to the attack only to be cut down by the terrific fire from the German guns. The attacks, however, are continuing. Hindenburg is confident that he can repel any assaults made on his troops.

CHILDREN'S RIGHTS

MUTUAL BENEFIT READING CIRCLE HEARS ABOUT KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN

Though composed of a group of loyal and patriotic women, the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle held its regular weekly meeting yesterday. Some of the members went to witness the grand pageant of marching hosts, but twenty were present, besides two visitors, Meses. S. C. Maranville and T. E. Remley.

The circle began the reading of its fourth book, "Children's Rights," by the eminent ex-teacher and woman of letters, Kate Douglas Wiggin (Riggs). An interesting fact in the history of this noted woman was elicited yesterday. This was, that she became acquainted with the kindergarten and its philosophy while in Los Angeles, and founded the first free kindergartens on the Pacific Coast there and in San Francisco. One can recognize the influence of the kindergarten in all Mrs. Wiggin's books, which are well-known and very widely read.

Mrs. V. H. Ormsby gave a very entertaining and concisely written account of the life of the eminent kindergarten and writer on the Froebel literature, Miss Susan E. Blow, who passed from this life in March last.

It is the plan to have a trained kindergarten teacher present next Wednesday, to entertain the little people who will be present with story-telling and games, that their mothers may be free to listen undisturbed to the reading.

BIRDHOUSE WON BY BROADWAY SCHOOL

One hundred and seventy-seven birdbaths have been placed by Glendale children in their home yards during the past 10 days. Just realize that 177 children living in Glendale have thought with affection of our feathered friends, and have evolved ways and means of giving the native birds water to bathe in and water to drink. We hope the 177 children will keep up the good work, and renew the water daily during the hot summer months.

The principals and teachers of the various Glendale schools took much interest in the movement and encouraged the children with most gratifying results. Broadway school wins the birdhouse; 64 children from this school performed the kindly deed of arranging birdbaths in their home yards. Columbus Avenue school follows, with 41 children. Then Colorado school with 32 children, Pacific Avenue with 28, and Doran street school with 12 little children. All schools are to be heartily congratulated.

Mrs. Nanno Woods, who donated the birdhouse, finds she can produce yet another birdhouse, which she will give as second prize, so that Columbus Avenue school, with 41 children who put out bird baths, also secured a bird home to be erected on their school grounds.

Mrs. Woods will present the prize to Broadway School at 10 o'clock Thursday morning; two boys with a spade are asked to be ready to dig a hole and erect the house during the 10 minutes recess. At 12:40, same day, Mrs. Woods hopes to be at Columbus Avenue school and with the aid of a couple of boys and a spade will erect the second prize birdhouse before the bell rings for resumption of school work.

All children are invited to join the Bird and Flower club meeting weekly all summer; come Monday next, 2:30, to 1111 W. Broadway, to organize, and to arrange a picnic.

WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN UNION

The Glendale City Woman's Christian Union will hold an interesting session Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Grist, 210 Colorado boulevard.

Mrs. P. E. Keim will lead the devotionals and Miss Ellene Grist will sing several songs. Miss Leone Brice will appear on the program in reading numbers.

A parliamentary farce is being arranged. Mrs. Charles Grist will be the presiding officer, Mrs. G. H. Rowe will act as secretary. The object of the drill is to illustrate amendments. "How a Bill Becomes a Law" is the subject of an address to be given by Mrs. Opal Greenwalt. A large attendance is expected.

Since last Tuesday's election, Los Angeles has the distinction of being the largest city in area in the United States. Before the annexation of Westgate and Occidental, Los Angeles was second to New York in area. It now comprises 337.92 square miles.

FIND DYNAMITE CACHE

GLENDALE POLICE UNEARTH 25 POUNDS OF EXPLOSIVE ON MEXICAN RANCH

Enough dynamite to blow up a good section of Glendale was unearthed by the Glendale police Wednesday, on a small ranch in Verdugo canyon, near Verdugo road. Having dynamite in one's possession without reporting the fact to the authorities and stating the purpose for which it is intended is a breach of the law. The discovery was made by accident.

T. C. Potts of La Crescenta reported that a boy called Ydroga, at that place, had met with a bad accident while playing with dynamite caps, near Montrose. Chief of Police Herald and Patrolman Arrington went to investigate, as it had been reported that the caps had been given the boy by Carmen Ovrosco and R. Madera, who live in Verdugo canyon.

It was found that the boy, who had been injured in the face, chest and hands, had received the caps from Carmen Ovrosco just before she and Madera had moved from La Crescenta. The affair has some elements of mystery and the belief of the police is that the woman gave the boy the caps with the intention of injuring him. It appears that there has been some kind of a quarrel between the Ydrogas and the Maderas. The Maderas occupied a small house in the rear of the Ydrogas place and on account of their having a quantity of dynamite on the premises the Ydrogas objected to the occupancy.

Madera and Carmen Ovrosco then moved into Verdugo canyon and it is asserted vowed vengeance on the Ydrogas. The Ydrogas believe that the Maderas intended to blow up their whole family and in the meantime took a temporary revenge on them by giving the dangerous fulminate of mercury caps to their boy.

Chief Herald and Patrolman Arrington, following hints given them by the Ydroga boy, went to the Madera ranch and found the dynamite buried in the midst of a clump of trees. They did not find a quantity of black powder and caps which the Ydroga boy said were there also.

Madera and Carmen Ovrosco were arrested and arraigned Thursday morning before Judge Whomes, who held them in $500 bail each. Failing bail they have been sent to the county jail and will be brought to trial Friday, June 16, at 3 p. m.

QUIET HOME WEDDING

Catherine A. Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lewis of 241 S. Kenwood street, was married Wednesday, June 14, at the home of her parents, to Lieutenant John C. Maul of New York. The Rev. C. Irving Mills, D. D., rector of St. Mark's church, officiated. The wedding was a very quiet affair. None but the parents and immediate friends of the bride were present. The bride was wedded in a traveling suit and immediately after the marriage the young couple started for New Orleans, whence they will journey to the Panama Canal zone. Lieutenant Maul is stationed with his regiment, the Fourth Field Artillery, at Corazal, about four miles from Panama City, on the Pacific side of the canal.

Packer's friends will drive over to San Fernando this evening to attend a meeting in the theatre building at that place, which is held in the interests of Mr. Packer's candidacy for supervisor in the fifth supervisorial district of Los Angeles county. This will be the first meeting in the Packer campaign, which promises to be an interesting one. Hon. Mattison B. Jones of Glendale will open the campaign in one of his characteristic addresses. The meeting will be called to order promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Packer's Glendale friends are extended a cordial invitation to be present at the meeting this evening.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE IN GALICIA

Russia's marvelous recovery from the heavy blows dealt her last year by the Germans is the great feature on the checkerboard of Europe at present. The rapid move of the Muscovites on Galicia and all along the 500-mile battle line from Riga to the Roumanian frontier is one of the wonders of the present war.

Equipped with new guns and apparently abundantly supplied with ammunition of all kinds Russia has smashed through the strong Austrian lines and handled with ease the German attempts to create a diversion on the Riga frontier.

At one point in the Austrian defences where attack was anticipated the lines had been strengthened until the German officers who superintended the operation declared that they were impregnable. There seventeen rows of wire entanglements offered an apparently impassable barrier to any troops that might assail them.

In consequence of this irresistible advance the Austrians have been compelled to give up all the positions they lost and then retook last year. Driven from the Russian border they have been battered pellmell through Galicia, losing men and equipment at every step until now 120,000 Austrian prisoners are in the hands of the Russians and Gen. Brussiloff's troops in the rapidity of their advance cannot stop to gather up the units of the Austrian armies that are caught in their net.

It is now almost certain that Czernowitz, an important Galician center, will fall into the hands of the Russians and there more troops will be captured. The victorious Russians have swept across the Dniester and have captured almost every important fortified position in their path.

One of the most serious results of this advance will be that the valuable Galician oil wells will again fall into the hands of the Russians and the Germans and Austrians will be sadly crippled in that essential of modern warfare—gasoline.

In view of all this it is reasonable to suppose that the war in Europe is approaching the last stage of its course, as prophesied by the late Lord Kitchener, who alone of all those who looked forward to the course of events foresaw and foretold that the campaigning would last three years at least.

COAL IN THE ARCTIC REGIONS

Just at present it is to be noted that a Norwegian company has taken over the vast deposits of coal in the island of Spitzbergen. Spitzbergen lies well in the arctic region and it has been known for a long time that its coal deposits are rich and easily worked.

Parties wrecked on the coast of the island long ago discovered the existence of coal there. They made the fact known and Russia attempted to develop the deposits. There was not enough of enterprise in the companies that undertook the business, however, and the matter of developing the deposits languished.

Latterly a company known as the Arctic company acquired the coal fields and did develop them for a time. That company has now sold out to a Norwegian company, which is said to be backed with some of the capital the people of Norway have been acquiring since the war in Europe broke out.

Naturally the trouble with arctic coal is that a great part of it lies in places where the harbors are closed for eight months of the year. That, however, is not so great a difficulty as might be supposed. The coal fields of Alaska are in some cases similarly situated but they are being developed all the same.

It is not generally appreciated that the coal deposits of the Arctic regions are much more vast in extent than the deposits of the main continent of North America. As far north as Cape Lisburne in the Bering sea there are well-known deposits situated conveniently for shipping, close to the sea side.

Further south in the Bering sea, off the coast of the Seward peninsula, there are coal deposits. There are also coal deposits on

SENATOR JAMES ON WILSON ADMINISTRATION

ST. LOUIS, June 15.—"The Democratic party has kept its word with the American people. We have made good." Thus Senator Ollie M. James (Kentucky) permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention, threw down the gauntlet before the Republican party.

Rehearsing in detail the legislative activity of the party and the diplomatic policies of President Wilson in the last four years, James concluded by telling the convention that "patriotism in this world crisis should rise above politics and that all parties should rejoice at an opportunity to proclaim him the wholehearted and happy choice of a republic of peaceful free men."

"We undertook the reformation of the tariff with open minds and clean hands, unowned, unpledged to any interest, except the public welfare and we are proud of our achievement in writing into law the present Underwood-Simmons tariff bill."

"Would our republican opponents repeal the present federal reserve law that emancipated the credit of a nation? We took the money control out of the hands of this oligarchy, we lodged its control in the hands of the government and created the federal reserve banks of the country."

"We are all Americans no matter whence we come. We love our country because it makes us free. This freedom is as much the right of the one who comes here as the one who is born here. We only ask in return loyalty, valor and love; loyalty to the flag, valor in its defense and a love of our free institutions."

"Safe defense and preparation for it is as near now as ever before. We must not mistake dishonor for peace, as we cannot mistake oppression for peace. Woodrow Wilson and the Democratic party advocate an army big enough to make aggressors think the second time before they strike a blow."

"The president challenged the seeming overwhelming opposition of congress and of his own party and in the name of self defense and America first, he took his cause to the country. Their response was immediate and overwhelming in his support. President Wilson acts, he does not rant, he builds, he does not bluster."

"No president during the life of this republic has ever had to deal with so many delicate and dangerous problems as those which have confronted President Wilson during the last two years of his incumbency in office. With more than half the world in arms in Europe, with Mexico in revolution at our border, these difficult and complicated international problems have confronted him almost daily and he has handled them as becomes a patriot and a statesman."

"The Mexican situation was inherited by the Democratic party from the administration of President Taft. The president has dealt with the Mexican situation and his policy has been the same as that of Abraham Lincoln under like conditions more than half a century ago."

"The Democratic party is proud of the achievements of President Wilson. He has brought prosperity and plenty to 100,000,000 Americans. He has given voice to every willing hand in the republic. Every toiler has the full dinner pail—full to overflowing."

"With critics all about him, with patience and strength and great foresight, he has kept a nation at peace with honor. What party is it now that would dare undertake to discredit this master diplomat, this unconquerable leader, this great American, for by that you may palsie the hand that may write the peace treaty of the world."

Nelson's island and other deposits of brown coal in the Candle region. These are all open now, if they have not been already taken up, to location. Most of them, of course, have been located already; but there is still room for the prospector in the 590,000 square miles of territory in Alaska, of which the outer rim only has been touched.

In early stages of the earth's geologic history Alaska was a tropical region, hence the coal deposits. Hence, too, the tropical flora found in a fossil condition in the soil there; hence too the remains of the pre-historic mastodon and other denizens of prehistoric forests. The arctic coal deposits assure the world of a supply for many centuries to come and also assure many a fortune to their fortunate exploiters.

AVIATION OF THE FUTURE

Signor Marconi, the father of the wireless, who is at present in the United States, has been carrying out a series of experiments in Italy for the purpose of completing a system of wireless communication with aeroplanes. Marconi explains that up to this time aeroplanes have been at a disadvantage as compared with airships in wireless work because, while they have been able to transmit messages they have not been able to receive them.

The reason of this disability was because the receiving signal was too faint to be distinguished over the noise of the motor. Marconi states that he has been able to strengthen the receiving signal sufficiently to enable messages to be taken. This, says Marconi, opens up great commercial opportunities to the wireless after the war. Long distance transmission has also been signally improved. Now comes the news that the wireless telephone is already playing its part in the war. Marconi is a soldier of Italy like all Italians and therefore his discoveries are military secrets. He says, however, that the war has not hindered the development of wireless science, rather it has stimulated it.

PASSION PLAY IN AMERICA

Because of the havoc which war has wrought in the vicinity of Oberammergau, where the famous Passion Play has been held once every ten years, havoc not only to the country but also to the participants of the play, efforts are being made to transfer the scene of the Passion Play to Southern California, and to hold it, not once every ten years, but every year, says the Hollywood Citizen. It has been reported that efforts have been made to find a suitable setting for the play in the neighborhood of Redlands. These efforts, so reports go, have in a measure been unsuccessful, and the directors of the movement are turning to other places, hoping that somewhere in Southern California just the suitable spot can be found.

POULTRY RAISING

Daily illustrated lectures on the practical part of poultry raising will be inaugurated Monday, June 19, in the lecture hall of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Professor J. B. Lillard, principal of the Gardena High School, will begin the series. The lectures will be from 12 to 12:30 o'clock in order that advantage may be taken of the noon hour by those working in the down town district.

A special invitation is extended to suburbanites to attend these lectures which, it is hoped, will be the forerunner of a poultry farming extension branch of the state university. The agricultural committee of the chamber has been working for some months to establish such an institution for this section.

The initial lectures will be especially adapted to all raising poultry for profit or wishing to do so. The course will be free to the public and those attending will be permitted to ask questions of general interest to breeders.

A BIT OF EXPERIENCE

I have met with a good many people, In jogg'ng o'er life's varied way; I've encountered the clever, the simple,

The crabbed, the grave and the gay.

I have traveled with bounty, with virtue,

I have been with the ugly, the bad;

I have laughed with the ones who were merry,

And wept with the ones who were sad.

One thing I have learned in my journey,

Ne'er to judge one by what he appears;

The eyes that seem sparkling with laughter

oft battle to keep back the tears. And long sanctimonious faces,

Hide often the souls that are vile,

While the heart that is merry and cheerful is often the freest from guile.

And I've learned not to look for perfection

In one of our frail human kind,

In hearts the most gentle and loving

Some blemish or fault we can find. And yet I have ne'er found the creature

So low, so depraved or so mean,

But had some good impulse, some virtue

That 'mong his bad traits might be seen.

And, too, I have learned that most friendships

We make are as brittle as glass. Just let a reverse overtake us,

Our friends on the other side pass. But, ah! I have found some few loyal,

Some hearts ever loving and true! And the joy and the peace they have brought me

Will cheer me my whole journey through.

PLAY WAS SUCCESS

Apparently the large audience which more than filled the High school auditorium, Wednesday night, to witness the Seniors' presentation of their play, "The Cabinet Minister," enjoyed the clever portrayals of the different members of the cast as much as the first night audience did. As the play went on it became manifest that the players were taking the parts with greater assurance and speaking their lines with more smoothness than even on the first night, when they did so well.

Miss Terry, who trained the cast in this difficult play, was active as usual throughout the evening behind the stage and was the soul of the activities there. She deserves great credit for having taught the young people the true spirit of this English farce. On this second night everyone did as well and even better than on the first presentation. Harry Glazier deserves great credit for his skilled services in making up the characters—wigs, mustaches, eyebrows and coloring in every case were as perfect as could be. The youngest member of the cast, Marian Howard, four months old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Howard, 1464 Sycamore, behaved again with admirable propriety and obligingly slept throughout the whole performance.

IF THE RACE BE LONG

If a race is to be long, experienced runners are careful not to exhaust themselves on the start. To get ahead in the first minute is worth nothing if you have to fall back in the third. In starting a long race, the experienced runner husbands his energy, so that he will still be fresh and strong when his rivals are beginning to flag.

This is something that enthusiasts need to remember. For enthusiastic people are very likely to take up anything that interests them with a desperate earnestness which is bound to tire out before long. It is worth little to win the first battle of a war if you lose the last. A good start is absolutely valueless if it means a collapse before you are half done. Enthusiasm is a splendid ally, but it must not be allowed to spur you into undertaking a pace you cannot keep up. Follow the example of the trained runner. Keep enthusiasm in reserve for the last lap of the race.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT

THE HUMAN BODY AND ITS CARE —IT IS FOLLY TO BE SICK

This department will be devoted to the human body and its care, and will be edited by O. H. Jones, 480 W. Broadway, Glendale, Doctor of Food Science and Professor of Applied Food Chemistry. Mr. Jones is a graduate of the Eugene Christian School of Applied Food Chemistry of New York, with degree of Doctor of Applied Food Chemistry. This is the most advanced up-to-date school of hygiene and dietetics in the United States; and the only one that teaches exclusive the combined sciences of physiological chemistry and food chemistry.

The writer has no fads or isms, and advances no theories of his own, but confines himself strictly to the teachings of modern science as taught by the most eminent specialists of modern times.

The life and health of the physical material body of man, are the two most important subjects, in this life, that the human family is interested in. All other things in life are subordinate to them.

Life and health are intimately bound together, and they are the foundation stones upon which the harmony, happiness, and success in life depend.

Life is defined as the vital principle; the state of being alive; that condition in which animals and plants exist, as distinguished from inorganic substances and from dead organisms.

"The animation of the body, in animals and man, by the vital principle or animal soul."

All down the ages men have sought to solve the mystery of life. Philosophers and wise men have speculated, chemists and naturalists have delved deep into the secrets of nature, living and inert; but they have brought back only a report of fathomless depths of mystery, of unknown and incomprehensible energies, too subtle for the most delicate balance, too vast for apprehension or expression, intangible, yet mighty in overcoming the forces of the inanimate world, and able to build up immense structures, such as the giants of the forest and the monarch of the animal world, and equally active in tearing asunder of mountain peaks, which crumble beneath the dissolving action of lichens and mosses, and split and pulverize by the wedge-like action of the roots of pines and other mountain trees.

This wonderful vital principle we call life is active all about us in an infinite variety of forms; in man, bird, insect, fish, reptile, and all the million creatures which people the earth and sea, we recognize one common Life—a kindred force which springs in every limb that leaps and moves, which throbs in every beating heart, thrills through every nerve, and quivers in every brain. We behold a like evident brotherhood or sisterhood of life in vegetable form, joining in one common family the mammoth Sequoia of California, rugged mountain sides and the grasses of the plain and valley, and the molds and mosses of the ancient walls.

While human knowledge stands mute respecting the origin of life, investigation has gone far enough to show that all life is one—that animal life and vegetable life are not merely kindred lives, but are really one and the same.

The manifestations of life are varied as the different individuals, animals and plants, and parts of animated things.

Every leaf, every blade of grass, every flower, every bird, every insect, as well as every beast or every tree, bears witness to the infinite versatility and inexhaustible resources of the one all-pervading, all-creating, all-sustaining Life. This general thought outreaches our powers of expression or comprehension.

This mysterious life pervades all nature—a life that sustains the unnumbered worlds throughout immensity; that lives in the insect atom which floats in the summer breeze; that wings the flight of the swallow, and feeds the young ravens which cry; that brings the bud to blossom and the flower to fruit.

The same power that upholds nature is working also in man. The same just laws that guide alike the stars and the atoms control human life.

The laws that govern the heart's action, regulating the flow of the current of life to the body, are the laws of that mighty intelligence that has the jurisdiction of all life.

All life is the result of these universal laws, and is sustained by keeping in harmony with these laws.

NEW RAILWAY SIGNAL

After having become a long recognized and accepted institution, the red flag of the guard at the railroad crossing has been found inadequate for the modern demands, and a movement to bring about its overthrow is well under way. In the light of recent demands and experiences many criticisms of the railroad watchman and the red flag have developed. Sometimes he shook it in the air to warn pedestrians and drivers of the approach of a train, and later waved the same flag with much the same motion to beckon them on. Then again he was lost to view at the crossing at train time.

SWITZERLAND GOES TO SEA

Switzerland has been granted the use of the small French port of Certe, on the Mediterranean; and from this place ships bearing the white cross of Helvetia may venture on as many of the seas as they may deem advisable. It is not apparent just why a land-locked nation has maritime ambitions, but this the French in their generosity have not inquired into.

There is something incongruous in the thought of a Swiss sailor. The mountaineers are excellent and efficient men in many ways, but a people who have not as a rule even smelled the sea cannot be expected to produce a crop of sailors on short notice. Probably the ships under the Swiss flag will be manned by navigators of other nationalities, and will be interesting chiefly because of the strange flag under which they sail.

VAST SODA DEPOSIT

England controls in Africa one of the largest deposits of soda in the world. It is located in Lake Magadi, which lies east of Lake Victoria Nyanza and about 280 miles from the sea. It consists of a solid block of almost chemically pure soda, with a surface area of fifty square miles. It is known to be more than nine feet, and may be a hundred feet deep.

This lake is generally dry, and after a rain it is covered with a layer of strong soda water. It is fed by springs all charged with soda. This proves that somewhere near there is a far larger deposit.

GREATER HALIFAX

Halifax, Nova Scotia, hopes to become an important point of transshipment, according to plans which have been set on foot for making it a great port terminal, because of its geographical location and its being the most easterly of the Canadian ports never closed by ice. Canada, through its departments of railroads and canals, contemplates one of the biggest port developments in the world in this harbor. Already work to the amount of seven millions has been contracted for and a total outlay of $30,000,000 is contemplated.

GAS IN JAPAN

For a nation accustomed to lamps and candles for centuries, the fact that nearly 12,000,000 people in Japan now use gas for lighting purposes is remarkable. In spite of the fact that charges for gas are higher than in Europe or America, its use is on the increase.

Gas lighting was attended by many accidents in Japan at the start, because the rooms of Japanese houses are not so air-tight as in America. The amount of capital now invested in gas works in Japan amounts to $26,000,000 with about 250 miles of piping.

UNKNOWN INDIAN TRIBE

A tribe of Indians hitherto unknown to civilized peoples has been discovered by Dr. William G. Farabee, leader of the Amazon expedition of the Pennsylvania University Museum. He reports that the tribe consists of a chief, six women, and two boys, who are believed to be the survivors of a once populous nation.

WAR ON MOSQUITOES

The Interstate Mosquito Committee representing New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, and the United States Public Health Service has started a determined campaign toward the extermination of these pests. It has been ascertained what kind of vegetation the mosquito seeks as a hiding place, what times of day he prefers for attacking human beings, how far he can travel with or against the wind, and, in short, a host of practical details, the knowledge of which when given general publicity will aid people in joining in the campaign of extermination.

Little is known of the history of these people, but Dr. Farabee believes that they were exterminated by white men shortly after the settlement of Brazil by Amerigo Vespucci.

BURBANK

Mrs. Katherine Meeker has just finished rebuilding the residence she recently purchased at Central avenue and San Fernando road. Mrs. Meeker recently moved to Burbank from the East and is very much pleased with Burbank.

D. Findlayson has just moved into his new 5-room residence at Eighth and Cypress streets.

Mike Groshong has the contract for the building of the G. A. Grim-mer residence on San Fernando road.

W. S. Faxton returned Saturday from a ten days' business trip to Salt Lake, Ogden and other points in Utah.

New Canning Factory Completed

No longer can it be said that Burbank has no home industries. Through the efforts of W. S. Faxton and Los Angeles parties a first-class canning factory is to be started in Burbank within the next thirty days, the initial cost of the building and machinery being about $8000. The building, which is 30x73 feet in size and constructed of brick and wood, has just been completed and the machinery necessary for the canning of vegetables and fruits is being installed as rapidly as possible. When in operation this new industry will employ about twenty-five people and be of inestimable value to the growers and producers of this vicinity. There is no question as to the success of the enterprise, as Mr. Faxton operated a small canning factory in his building on Fourth street last season, and the "tryout" proved that a larger establishment would fill a distinct community need.

Arthur Horne and family motored to Pomona Sunday.

Work on City Hall Progressing

The work on the new city hall is progressing rapidly. H. E. Betz, the brick contractor, already has a large per cent of the brick work in, and the building will soon assume its proper outlines, so that passersby can get an idea of the structure as it will look when finished.

Mrs. Ben Ludlow and Mrs. Frank Clark are enjoying an indefinite recreation at Venice.

New Pressing and Cleaning Establishment

A. Weil, who for over a year conducted a cleaning and pressing works in Glendale, has entered business in Burbank in the store next to Minert's barber shop. He has leased a residence on Magnolia avenue and will make his home in Burbank. As Mr. Weil conducts the cleaning and dyeworks in this city he will no doubt receive a good measure of business.

Chas. Hannawalt, F. D. Silvius, Ernest Luttge, Harold Pomeroy, Luella and Mabel Hatch went on a fishing trip Tuesday of this week on the other side of San Fernando, where they caught 82 fish.

Miss Mabel Hatch had her tonsils removed Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Lane autored to their ranch near Bakersfield the first of the week, where they spent a few days.

Ed Minert and son caught forty-one fish Wednesday morning of this week in but four hours fishing in the aqueduct head waters, north of San Fernando.

Trustees' Meeting

The regular meeting of the board of trustees of the city of Burbank was held at the city hall Tuesday afternoon, June 13, and there were present Trustees W. A. Blanchard, president; E. S. Hogle, J. W. Forbes, W. L. Pollock and R. L. Linn.

The minutes of previous meeting were read and approved. Cecil Lockwood filed new bonds, showing John D. Radcliff and John Parish as bondsmen. On motion the bonds were approved and accepted.

The bond of W. A. Thompson as city recorder was approved and accepted.

The map of tract 2763, as filed by I. W. Biggar, was approved and adopted by the board.

The matter of Mr. Salisbury's bill was again taken up, Mr. Salisbury being present in person to state the facts in the case. Trustee Pollock reported that he had consulted with former trustees in regard to the matter. The city attorney not being present and the board not caring to take action without his advice, the matter was laid over.

He gave two hard boiled eggs per day to 50 chicks with bread crumbs at the very first but after a few days fed co-operative mash and wheat. SUNLAND

On last Friday night the Chamber of Commerce did themselves proud in the big rabbit bake. They fed over two hundred people. They came from everywhere (even Glendale). While their delegation was a little tardy yet they arrived in time to partake of what was left of a great feast. The band certainly rendered some excellent music and received many encores. Among others who helped to make the affair a success were the ladies and young girls who so nobly did their work. Several good speakers were on the job with a few words of good cheer, among them the Hon. Mr. McGroarty, who dwelt heavily on the beautiful scenery of the Monte Vista valley. Then Dr. Avery gave a few words of praise. Dr. Avery said he had always considered Burbank to be the only place on the map. But upon looking around him he was almost outside on the rim of the wheel and that the center or hub was right here in Sunland (very right you are, doctor). Then Mr. Pollock, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank of Burbank had a few well chosen remarks as did also Councilman Roberts of Los Angeles.

This affair will be repeated in July, due notice of which will appear in this paper. Watch for it, for the next one will surpass this one by many odds. The net proceeds was about $40.00.

The next matter of importance was the glorious Fourth of July. A motion was made and seconded that we have an old fashioned celebration in the oak park and a committee of five was appointed as an executive committee. A committee was appointed to extend an invitation to the board of trade of Littlelands to unite with us. Also a communication was sent to the band asking them to appoint a committee of five to co-operate with the Sunland and Littlelands committees. The committee appointed met with the board of trade at Littlelands on Wednesday evening and explained the object of their meeting, which was very agreeable to all present and they called a special meeting for Monday night, to consider the matter. After careful consideration they voted not to join us but to hold a picnic of their own in Manzanita park. However, Sunland will have a big Fourth of July celebration. The committees are all at work on the different lines to assure a success of it. Some of the best speakers will be engaged. We expect good music and plenty of it. And everybody is invited to come to Monte Vista park for the Fourth of July. A program will appear later in this paper.

County Forester Flintham has a crew of men at work in the park taking the dead wood out of the trees and otherwise improving the park. It certainly begins to look like a park. Mr. Flintham advises us he is going to take the old wooden fence down and build a rustic fence, enclosing the entire block, and build a lot of concrete tables and one or two new furnaces. This is the work that has been needed so long. The political campaign is on in the vale of Monte Vista, candidates frequently visiting us, and the glad hand is open everywhere. In the supervisory campaign operations are most active. Ed Thomas is boosting the candidacy of Stephen Packer for supervisor and is first in the field with plans for a Packer club.

ACROSS THE FIELDS

Now comes the scent of fallen hay
Tnd flowers bestrew the foot-worn clay
And summer breathes a passing sigh
As westward rolls the day's gold eye
And Time with Labor ends his day
Across the fields. —Walter Crane.
