More Interesting.

Much interest is being taken in the contest for the Piano and other prizes to be given away by the CAMPBELL INTERURBAN PRESS. There is yet time for others to enter and stand an equal opportunity of earning these gifts. Send the PRESS to your eastern friends and relatives, or have them subscribe and let the credits be applied to the one desired. Let us see how many new subscriptions can come in this week. How they stand:

LELIA OLIVER.....2880    BETH KENNEDY..... 2050    MARY CLARK .....1450    Ralph Hyde.....300    AVENEL BRANDENBURG.....300

...THIS IS THE PIANO... Some Young Lady Will Get.

Given Away by the "Interurban Press."

READ! ON MARCH 4, 1905, the day the President will be inaugurated, we propose to give absolutely FREE OF COST to the lady who secures for us the largest amount of money for subscriptions or advertising to the CAMPBELL INTERURBAN PRESS a beautiful Golden Oak Curtaz Piano, costing $325.00, now on exhibition in our show window. It must be seen to be appreciated.

To the young man or lady, boy or girl, who brings in the second largest amount we will give a $50.00 Scholarship Course in the Pacific Coast Business College.

To the young man or lady, boy or girl, who brings in the third largest amount we will give a beautiful solid Silver Hair Brush and Comb in a neat case.

To the young man or lady, boy or girl, who brings in the fourth largest amount we will give a fine French Plate Hand Mirror.

WHO WILL WIN THE $325 CURTAZ PIANO?

Now As to the Plan Every subscription to the PRESS of $1 will count as 100 credits, and you can subscribe for as many years as you wish and have 100 credits for each subscription placed to the credit of any of the young lady contestants. Every advertisement secured for the paper will be governed by the same rule. A dollar a month ad. will count for 100 credits; a two dollar ad. 200 credits, etc. Paid locals will count the same. Credits given for every penny turned into this office between now and March 4th, '05. We want young men and young ladies in the outlying districts to go to work for the PRESS, as well as in town. How can you earn such valuable premiums more easily? An hour or two a day from now on may do it. The contest will be conducted in a perfectly honest and honorable manner and all parties going to work can depend on it that they will be treated absolutely fair. Come in and get the necessary information. Let us explain the plan to you.

NOTE--Those who have paid anything since the PRESS started either for back subscriptions or in advance, or for advertising, are entitled to come in and have their credits counted.

Epworth League Banquet.

Last Friday night a banquet was given by the young men of the Epworth League to the young ladies who have constituted the working force of the social department.

The parlors of the church had been newly carpeted and were charmingly decorated for the occasion.

A short program consisting of piano and violin music by the Misses Archibald and a vocal solo by Mr. John Morton was enjoyed by the company and games and conversation furnished amusement until the supper was announced.

About twelve couples were seated at the table which was effectively decorated with roses. An elaborate menu was served, the Ladies' Aid Society having this in charge. At the close of the feast, Mrs. Jenness acting as toastmistress most acceptably proposed the following toasts:

"Our Guests"—Mr. Harlow Plimpton; "Our Hosts"—Miss Minnie Dawson; "The Good Old Days"—Mr. Russel Kennedy; "The Future"—Mr. Clarence Martinia; "The Artists of the Evening"—Mr. Vaughn Lloyd; "The Value of our Young Peoples' Society in the Growth and Development of a town"—Mr. E. C. Hurlbert; "The Juniors"—Mrs. E. C. Hurlbert.

Rather Coincident.

The electric lights went out Tuesday evening about 6:30, and for about thirty minutes tallow candles, lanterns, lamps, and any old thing that would serve as a light, were in demand.—Haywards Review. That's a coincident; same thing happened in Los Gatos.—Mail. That thing has happened many times in Campbell to the great annoyance of our people. It generally happens during church time Sunday evening or during a lecture.—Campbell Interurban Press. The Mail would not call that a coincident, but rather a habit—a bad habit.

Must Stop Smoking.

"Until very recently the students of the university have respected the unwritten law against smoking in and about the inner and outer quadrangle. Recently this has been disregarded at the ends of the arcade in different places. I trust that the students will not make it necessary to change this unwritten law into a written one; but, in any case, the university will not tolerate smoking about the recitation buildings nor on the steps leading to them.

"DAVID S. JORDAN."

Last Sunday morning at the Congregational church the Pastor's old College Pastor, Sec. H. M. Tenney, spoke concerning the work of the American Board, the Mother Missionary Society of the United States. He showed the value and worth of foreign missions from all standpoints. Even from the commercial standpoint of dollars and cents it pays richly. One missionary society christianizing and civilizing a race of cannibal islanders at an outlay of $100,000; since that time this same race has given back to the commerce of the world more than $30,000,000. These figures taken from the Statesman Yearbook. Mr. Tenney also showed how missions save a man, physically, intellectually, spiritually, building up character that will stand all tests and make useful strong citizens.

At the conclusion Dr. Tenney asked the church to increase their last year's offering by one-half. In spite of the sickening price of prunes, the church more than did as requested.

Revolution Imminent.

A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness, or stomach upsets. Electric Bitters will quickly dismember the troublesome causes. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the Kidneys and Bowels, stimulate the Liver, and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and thorough effectiveness. Electric Bitters is only 50c, and that is returned if it don't give perfect satisfaction. Guaranteed by P. F. Farrington, Druggist.

SQUINTING

Looks particularly unlovely when children do it. Don't imagine that it is a habit you can break them of, for it is simply an outward sign of defective eyesight. The child must look that way to see right. The only way to cure squinting is to cure the defect in the eyesight.

Sketch of the Life of

Lt. Col. Alexander M. Lochwitzky

Who will open the High School Lecture Course on Thursday Evening, December 15th

I was born on the 11th of August, 1871, in St. Petersburg, and am the only son of the late General Michael Lochwitzky, who for 36 years was assistant to the Minister of War of the Russian Government. My late mother was the first wife of my father; she was born Countess Nikitine. Both my parents were of the oldest families of the Russian aristocracy, families dating from the beginning of the twelfth century. I am married to the daughter of the Councillor of the Court, Count Waldemar of Luxemburg, my wife being the Countess Anastasia. I have three children; two sons and a daughter.

Until 1880 I was educated at home. My father being able to spend 2,000 or 3,000 roubles a year in salaries of professors and teachers, I successfully passed my examinations and entered the first class of the sixth Classical Gymnasium. Four years afterward I was transferred to the High College of General Gourevitch, where I graduated with the degree B. A. in June, 1888.

Having continued, in the evenings at home, my lessons under professors of languages (French, German and English) and also of mathematics, I entered in September, 1888, after a hard competition, the Military Cavalry School of Emperor Nicholas I, being admitted to the highest class, which I left in May, 1889. In August I was admitted to the High Cavalry College from which I graduated two years after (1891). I was promoted Cornet of the Dragoon Regiment of the Imperial Guards, where I remained until September 17th, 1892, when I was transferred to the War Office and again promoted, being made Lieutenant (conserving my place in the list of the Officers of the Guard.)

Shortly after this I was transferred to the Technical Committee of the Chief Intendancy Department, where I had to share the work for the amelioration of the uniforms, munitions and foods of the Russian troops.

In January, 1892, I was sent to the town of Helsingfors, Finland, to work out the "mobilization plan" for the military district of Finland. I had also to inspect military stores in different towns. I remained in Finland till December, 1894, when I was recalled to St. Petersburg, and appointed Assistant Chief of the fourth Bureau of the Chief Intendancy Department.

In May, 1895, I was sent to the North Caucasus, where I spent three months inspecting military stores. Upon my return I was for a time secretary to the famous General Annenkoff (constructor of the Trans-Caspian Railway). Then I was appointed to act as Military Attorney (defending the interests of the Crown), in a case involving about 263,000 roubles. Having won this case, I received as an Imperial reward, the Cross of St. Stanislas of the Third Class (I had already three medals).

In 1896 I was temporarily Attache to the Military Museum (of the War Office), where I one day had the opportunity of guiding and explaining to His Highness the Prince of Bulgaria, by whom I was named Knight Commander of St. Alexander (of Bulgaria). Shortly after I was appointed to act as Chief of Bureau of the Auditor's Department of the War Office.

In the beginning of the year 1897 I was promoted to my last rank, Lieutenant Colonel. In April, 1897, I had to fulfill the duties of Chairman of the Jury in the St. Petersburg District Court.

In May, 1897, I was arrested (being suspected of belonging to a "Socialist Party") and was put into the dungeons of the Fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul in St. Petersburg. At this time the chief and friend of my late father, General Vannovsky, Minister of War, having resigned his post, and the personal enemy of my late father, General Kuropatkin, having been appointed instead, I was detained for nearly 15 months in solitary seclusion, and afterwards, without trial, I was sent as a "political exile" (guilty of "high treason") to the Island of Saghalien, this by a ukase of the Czar Nicholas II. On my arrival there, being weak in health, I was made a clerk in the office of the Military Governor, and six months afterwards I was made a teacher in the governmental school at Fort Due, and also appointed "Acting Surgeon" of the Arkovo District. These positions I occupied till May, 1901, when I was allowed to go to Vladivostock. There I entered the service of the British Commercial Agency, as secretary of the agency, (with the consent of the British Foreign Office). In February, 1903, I was also elected (by a meeting of the shareholders) secretary to the Ussuri Mining Co. In these positions I remained till August, 1903, when I had to escape to Japan, the nearest foreign country, being again hard pressed by the Russian Gendarmes.

In Japan, being supported in my efforts by the British Legation, I secured through Baron Kanda (the President of the High Commercial College) who was my friend, an appointment as acting professor in the "Kempei Military College" for officers, and also I got the position of professor in the school of the St. Maure Convent. In March, 1904, I came to Hongkong, where I was professor of French in the Y. M. C. A. school and also in St. Stephens College, which positions I occupied till the 22nd of July, soon after which I left Hongkong for Shanghai, whence I came to America.

Miss Lawrence has folio paper, pencil tablets, ink tablets, pencils of various kinds, pencil boxes, pencil sharpeners, erasers, fountain pen ink and fillers, cinch paper clips, paper binders, visiting cards, souvenirs.

The Sunday School Institute conducted here Thursday morning, afternoon and evening was a fine success so far as the work of the gentlemen who had it in charge, Messrs. Halliday and Fisher, is concerned, but a dismal failure when the lack of appreciation of their opportunity by local Sunday School workers is considered. These gentlemen are experts in their line and their presence offered a fine chance to learn of the newest and best methods in this line of endeavor. The editor regrets that a deluge of office work prevented his attendance at the sessions.

Interurban Cars Run to Los Gatos.

Upon invitation of Manager Chapin of the Interurban road we accompanied the special party on the "Mayflower" to the "Gem City," Los Gatos Wednesday afternoon, over the new short line. There were some sixty persons on the car, including President Hale, Manager Chapin and other officials, as well as Mayor Worswick, City Attorney Brown, the supervisors, and a number of the gentler sex.

The road was found to be in good order and the Los Gatans had a broad smile on when the first car over the new road pulled into town. After a picture by A. P. Hill and a short stop the return trip was made to San Jose in thirty-five minutes, the time from Campbell in being fifteen minutes.

This road will do wonders in building up the road along which it passes provided the fare is placed at a figure that will admit of easy travel.

Manager Chapin states that in all probability a new road will be built west from Campbell to intersect with the new road to come from Palo Alto. The benefits of such a road to Campbell can hardly be overestimated.

High School Lecture Course.

The high school lecture course for this winter has been arranged by Prof. Smith and will equal the excellent one offered last year. The best available lecture talent has been secured and the patronage will no doubt be even more liberal than last year. The following is the course:

December 15—Russia; My Experiences in St. Petersburg and Saghalien, by Lt. Col. Alexander M. Lochwitzky, a Siberian exile.

January 20—"The Idyls of The King" by Prof. Lee Emerson Bassett, of Stanford University.

February 17—Leaves of Earth's History, by Prof. H. C. Tillman of the University of the Pacific.

March 17—Grand Concert, in charge of Mrs. Mildred Spencer-Hartman.

April—"The Story Teller" by Wallace Bruce Amsbary.

Single admission, 25c. 8 P. M.

San Tomas Items.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman of Gilroy, visited Mrs. C. H. Brandenburg last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Brandenburg, and Avenel Brandenburg attended the reception of the fruit growers at Unitarian Church Tuesday evening.

The San Tomas school joined with the Austin school in Thanksgiving exercises.

George Anderson of the Quito road is on the sick list.

Following is the San Tomas roll of honor: Eighth Grade—Bessie Brandenburg. Seventh Grade—Espin Mitchell, Nettie Stone and Levina Vollmer. Sixth Grade—Wilbur Mitchell, Ralph Mitchell. The average is 85 per cent; department, 100 per cent.

A Frightened Horse.

Running like mad down the street dumping the occupants, or a hundred other accidents, are everyday occurrences. It behooves everybody to have a reliable Salve handy and there's none as good as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Burns, Cuts, Sores, Eczema and Piles, disappear quickly under its soothing effect. 25c, at Farington's Drug Store.

PRESS NOTES

Nice rain Thursday night.

W. T. Perry has accepted a position with F. O. Putnam.

The editor acknowledges a mess of Capitola smelt, from G. L. Beaver.

FOR SALE—Fresno raisins in 5 lb. lots, 5 cents a pound by A. B. TOWNSEND.

Herbert Sault is home from Monterey county to remain. Glad to have him back.

Some twenty Odd Fellows are going to Palo Alto this Saturday evening to be present at the institution of a new lodge.

Mrs. Flora Crow has purchased a lot on Harrison avenue and is having a cottage built thereon. W. H. Blodgett and Frank Greenfield are doing the work.

Alfred Bulmore took the third degree in Odd Fellowship Thursday night. A bean supper followed and ye scribe quit work at eleven o'clock to take in this part of the doings.

Last Saturday, December 3rd, Mrs. M. E. Letcher gave a party in honor of her son Truman, celebrating his sixth birthday. The party was from 2 to 5. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were much enjoyed. Those present were Truman Letcher, Alaris June Lindsay, Elliott Marrs, Bert Campbell, Rodley Thrower, Audley Thrower, Ella Mae Page, Marie Page, Helen Gilman, Earl Page, Clarence Page, Irma Page, Ralph Bohnett, Carrie Couch of Palo Alto.

L. D. Bohnett is winning honors for himself at the State University. Last Monday he received his appointment as managing editor of the Californian, the college daily, and one of the largest, if not the largest, published anywhere. Mr. Bohnett will assume his new duties when college commences immediately after the holidays. He is at present completing a turn as news-editor, having worked himself up through all the grades from that of freshman reporter. Tuesday evening Mr. Bohnett was elected president of the Students Congress for the ensuing term. This is the larger of the two college debating societies, and his honor is all the greater since in his election the society over-ruled a long established precedent and elected one other than a senior to this office. Surely Campbell Union High School is to be congratulated on the character of its graduates.

If you want a lot in "Sunny-side Tract" you will have to act quick—they are going off fast. Hurlbert & Kennedy, Sole Agents.

The Farm and the Farmer's Son.

Many and frequent are the reasons given by the press for the abandonment of the farm home by the farmer's son for some city occupation, but the most sensible discussion of the subject that has been observed appeared in a recent issue of the Breeder's Gazette, says the Herald.

It seems necessary to repeat with considerable frequency, remarks that journal, that agricultural colleges do not educate their students away from the land. Farm boys who leave these institutions or other schools and engage in mercantile or professional life, instead of returning to their homes to become practical farmers, either have divorcement from the soil gradually forced on them or possess an innate desire, which should never be suppressed (if it could) to follow another occupation.

To trace the influences which largely are responsible for the decreasing desertions of farms by the young men reared on them is to go directly to their homes. Education away from the farm begins at that period in the boy's life when he is introduced to tasks and toil that are as far beyond his youthful strength as they are irksome and monotonous. A wearisome routine, which we need not analyze, supplemented with despotic restraints against which any normal boy will instinctively rebel, are wholly capable of making a village or city clerk of the lad who might otherwise honor the vocation followed by his father.

Long hours of hard work, scant cash allowances, if any, denial of social pastimes, shoddy clothes, unsanitary, ill-kept, bookless, cheerless rooms in which to sleep, and the absence of partnership interest in his father's business are the sufficient factors which render farm slavery extremely repugnant to an ambitious boy. Dislike for agriculture is a perfectly natural characteristic of the young man brought up in these circumstances. Eagerness to escape from this form of serfage and enjoy some of the liberties and pleasures which other fields seem to offer is a part of his education on the farm. Every year of his prosaic life strengthens his early formed conviction that the lot of a farmer is unspeakably hard. Participation in the farming operations in consideration of very few clothes and three meals per day and a place to sleep soon strikes the reflective boy as a very one-sided case of reciprocity.

Literally there are boys whose reasons for wanting to leave their farm homes are quite similar in foundation to those of the ancient bondsmen who constantly sought liberation from the hand of regal oppression. Therefore the conclusion is inevitable that most of the country boys who seek city life with its larger opportunities for the expression of their real selves do not leave the land so much from inherent choice as from compulsion. They are not drawn away by the attractions of urban life, but driven away by the unreasonable hardships, deprivations and hollowness to which they are subjected on the farm.

Just in proportion to the progress of agricultural education has been the decrease in the cityward movement of young men reared on farms. Farmers who know how to treat their livestock and their land know how to treat their sons. Good stock is almost invariably found in the possession of good men, and it is significant that on stock farms sons succeed fathers in cases, as history tells us, to the fifth and sixth generations.

There is only one way for the farmer to make a farmer of his son: That is to make him first his confidant and then his business partner as soon as the boy can appreciate this relation and share its advantages, pecuniary and otherwise. Assumption of responsibilities at an early age creates an interest and resourcefulness in the boy which are absolutely essential to his success as a farmer. At 21 years of age a farm raised boy ought to have had at least six years of practical business experience as a farmer. Instead the probabilities are that at this age he knows farming only as the hired man knows it. He has worked only with his hands. He knows nothing of the receipts and expenditures of the farm, only he knows that precious little has been expended on him. He perhaps does not know how to fill out a blank draft or attend to any of the most rudimentary affairs connected with the business of the farm.

A farm boy cannot have proper interest in his father's business unless he is first told all about it and has a part to play in its management. Enjoying an intimate knowledge of its affairs and sharing the profits as well as losses of the farm and treated with the consideration and respect to which as a partner he is entitled, a farmer's son will never have the inclination or an excuse to abandon the land unless his health should require a change. It is an easy matter to keep the boys on the farm where there is not a constant though unconscious effort to drive them away.

Mrs. J. E. Brown leaves this Thursday for Kansas City, having been called there by the illness of her mother.

The state board of education at Sacramento has issued the following public school credentials to Santa Clara county students: Grammar school life diplomas—Adella Cook, of Campbell, normal documents—Elizabeth M. Sargent, Campbell.

Ada Rebekah Lodge held an interesting meeting Tuesday evening, there being election of officers. Following are those elected: Miss Eva Brown, N. G.; Miss Stella Brown, V. G.; Miss Porter, Recording Secretary; H. J. McGee, Treasurer; D. R. Oliver, Trustee.

About 11:30 o'clock Saturday morning the ticket office of the narrow gauge depot was broken into and the cash drawer torn open. The thief, taking advantage of the quiet hours of the day at the depot, had secured entrance into the office by prying the door open with a pair of heavy shears. The cash drawer was opened but no money secured, as it is the habit of the agent to take all the receipts from the drawer and place them in the safe as soon as the trains leave the depot.

As he was leaving the office, the thief was seen by one of the employees of the freight yards. A description of the robber was sent to the sheriff's office, and resulted in the arrest late that afternoon of Dennis Collins by Deputy Sheriff Marcen. Collins is still in the county jail awaiting the action of the railroad company. He is said by the officers to be a dangerous character, and a petty thief.—Mercury.
