GOVERNOR'S VETO IS GOING STRONG

MANY BILLS WILL FAIL OF EXECUTIVE APPROVAL

SONOMA FARM MEASURE AMONG FIRST DISPROVED

Thirty Bills, Carrying Appropriations Approximating $800,000, Blue Pencilled in One Day's Work—Hundreds of Others to Meet Same Action.

Sacramento.—It appears that Governor Richardson may eclipse his veto record of two years ago, when he vetoed about 50 per cent of the 932 measures approved by the senate and assembly. He has given notice that he will wield a ruthless pen on the hundreds of bills which the legislature sent down to him for his consideration, and has indicated what his feelings are by sending in thirty veto messages for the records of the legislative journals on the last day of the proceedings. Of this something over $800,000 were appropriations, among them the measure to re-establish the Sonoma farm for delinquent women.

The gas tax bill and the San Francisco harbor transfer measure, from a political standpoint, are two of the most difficult hurdles in the way of legislation the governor now has before him, with the gas tax affording the embarrassing problem. The strongest opposition to the gas tax bill comes from the south, where the governor is soon to go to sound out the sentiment. The Southern California Automobile club is keeping up its resistance to that measure.

PROFESSOR'S ATTACK ON JEWS RESENTED AT LAW SESSION

Washington.—The meeting of the American Society of International Law was thrown into a turmoil. When Professor Brown of Princeton university, delivered a speech containing harsh criticism of Jews, many of his hearers, resented his remarks, and former Secretary of State Hughes, who was presiding at the time, left the convention hall. Brown's criticism of Jews was directed at what he called their "internationalism." They do not, he said, give whole hearted allegiance to any one land.

Arthur K. Kuhn took exception to Brown's remarks and Professor A. B. Hort of Harvard defended the argument of his Princeton colleague.

"This society," Kuhn said with heat, "should not branch off into personalities or racial discussion. The foreign policy of the United States has no place in this meeting. We should not embarrass our government by bringing up the patriotism of nationals who are now Americans."

Washington Takes Calm View

Washington.—Consensus of opinion in official and diplomatic circles is that the election of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg as president of Germany will not have a serious effect either on the political or economical situation in Germany or the steady progress of normal relations with other countries. While neither government officials nor members of the diplomatic corps were willing to be quoted they inclined to the belief that there was "no cause for alarm," as one of them expressed it, and believe that "whatever flurry" in the market or in the general political situation will be but temporary in character.

Dry in Airplanes Sink Boat

Atlantic City.—Following to the letter the orders of Commander William Ridgeley of the local dry navy to "shoot to kill," a squad of prohibition agents turned an airplane gun on a band of rum runners at Margate City near here. One of the rum runners was wounded, but the other eleven escaped unharmed. The dry officers sank two of their boats and captured 167 cases of liquor.

Whipping Causes Child's Death

Willamook, Or.—Testimony at the coroner's inquest into the death of 4-year-old Sylvia Louise Descamps, showed that she came to her death as a result of punishment administered by her grandmother, Mrs. M. C. Paton, who was accused of having whipped the child so severely with a strap that she died a few hours afterward.

Inquire Into Ship's Loss

New York.—An investigation, which may lead to an exchange of diplomatic messages between Japan and England, are under way here into the sinking of the Japanese freighter Raifuku Maru, which went down off Halifax, with all hands, while the British-owned liner Homeric stood by apparently powerless to aid.

MANHUNT TURNS TO BAY DISTRICT

POLICE DOWN PENINSULA WATCH FOR FUGITIVES

ESCAPED SLAYERS TRAIL IS LOST TO PURSUERS

No Definite Clue For Week Leads Authorities To Believe They Escaped To San Francisco—Valley Officers Still Vigilant.

San Francisco.—Belief is that Joe Tanko and Floyd Hall, escaped killers, had headed for San Francisco after terrorizing the Sacramento valley for days, led Police Chief O'Brien to issue emergency orders to all the city police. New pictures of the convicts, with detailed descriptions, were given to every man on the San Francisco force—uniformed and plainclothes.

Every patrolman and officer were directed to make careful inquiries among known sources of information and to make every other possible effort to find out whether or not Tanko and Hall are here.

South San Francisco, San Mateo, Burlingame and other peninsula towns were given similar orders. In South San Francisco particularly, where Tanko and Hall are known to have friends, a special watch was set, and several places put under surveillance in the expectation that the escaped convicts would turn up there.

The establishment of the special watch here has not slackened the manhunt in the Sacramento valley, where squads of deputies were being held in readiness to answer calls. Police Chief Bernard McShane of Sacramento, who had been personally directing the hunt there, has had no positive clue to their presence since April 22, when they held up an autoist.

Holdup of a farmer near Woodland late Sunday night by two bandits caused a concentrated search in that vicinity.

E. G. Rogers, Elmira farmer, was driving toward his home when at a point two miles south of Woodland two men stopped him and asked for a lift. After they had gotten into his car, one of the men slugged him. Four hours later a passing autoist found him, still semi-conscious, and removed him to the Woodland hospital, where he is under treatment. His car was found wrecked against a railroad embankment a mile from where the bandits slugged him, but all trace of the men had been lost. In addition to the close watch maintained in Sacramento and vicinity, and the emergency lookout established in San Francisco and peninsula towns, Los Angeles officials have entered the manhunt.

On receipt of reports that Tanko and Hall may be headed south in a stolen car, deputy sheriffs, armed with shotguns were posted along roads north of Los Angeles.

Circulars are being distributed throughout the western part of the United States. From the Canadian to the Mexican borders and as far east as the Missouri river, police officials, county authorities, railroad employes and other persons have been sent circulars bearing the pictures and descriptions of Tanko and Hall.

FLEET TAKES HAWAII—GREAT PACIFIC WAR GAME IS ENDED

Honolulu.—The great Pacific war game, the most spectacular ever staged by any nation, ended with the capture and occupation of the Hawaiian islands by the Blue, or attacking, forces consisting of a United States fleet. At noon, Tuesday, Rear-Admiral Coontz, and Major-General Hines, the chief umpires, called off the contest, with the decision that the Blacks, or defenders, were decisively vanquished.

The outstanding lesson of the joint army and navy exercises is that the Hawaiian Islands, our western outpost cannot be defended from attack by any first rate power, save by the big guns of the American navy.

Babe Ruth Still "Out"

New York.—Physicians attending Babe Ruth announced that although the Yankee slugger has been steadily improving, it will be two and perhaps three more weeks before he is able to leave the hospital. Mrs. Ruth, a patient at the same institution, is rapidly recovering, it was said. She suffered a nervous breakdown recently.

Mexican Elections Fatal

Nogales.—Thirty-two persons were killed in fights and disturbances resulting from the city elections, in the state of Sonora. Two men were shot and killed in fights at Nogales, Sonora, and the other deaths are said to have occurred in Naco and Magdalena, Sonora.

MRS. BEN RODECK INJURED AUTO WRECK

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rodick are alive and thankful after a serious accident with their auto last week. When returning from a party in the night their auto plunged into a creek bed where a bridge had been removed in preparation of constructing a new one. No lights or warning signals had been placed at the approach to the precipice it is said.

Mrs. Rodeck sustained a fractured skull and a bad cut across the face and was in a very serious condition for several days. She was thrown clear of the auto. Ben was thrown from behind the wheel which saved him from being crushed by it as the auto buckled as the result of the nose dive. He was badly bruised and cut but not seriously.

Mrs. Rodeck regained consciousness and climbed to the road and by screaming halted friends she knew were coming behind them and probably averted another accident.

Mrs. R. Alison, sister of Mrs. Rodeck, has been with her since she learned of the mishap.

DO YOU LIKE PIRATES?

Of course you do—there never was child to whom pirates didn't make a romantic appeal. Captain Kidd, Long John Silver, Morgan, Blackbeard, Captain Hook—don't those names send a thrill through you—a thrill of pleasurable dread and excitement, together with visions of buried treasure on desert islands?

Perhaps you even at one time had a secret ambition to become a pirate yourself—to hoist the black flag with its skull and cross bones and sail away into unknown seas, to frighten mighty ships into surrendering to you after a gallant fight during which their decks were washed with blood, to take their treasure of Spanish doubloons and pieces of eight, to force their captains (who, someday or other, were also persons of your acquaintance to whom you owed revenge and humiliation) to walk the gang plank while you and your trusty (and bloodthirsty) crew sang deep-sea songs to the time of waving cutlasses.

"Treasure Island," the most popular boy's book, and "Peter Pan," one of the best moving pictures ever produced, owe their appeal, one largely and the other partly, to the wickedness of the pirates (for wickedness is appealing—in stories) and their thrilling adventures.

If you want to, not read about them in a book or see them in a movie, but see them—eight of them—in real flesh and blood, go to the Campbell Union Grammar School the evening of the fifteenth of May.

ROSE FESTIVAL PLANS COMPLETED

Tomorrow is a day towards which attention has been centered for a number of weeks, and which the Country Woman's Club has diligently planned and worked to make a grand success, socially and financially.

The opening event of the Festival will occur this evening and is deserving of generous patronage, but Saturday's events are more purely social.

A very delightful program of music, readings, an illustrated talk on gardening and solo dancing has been arranged, which may be enjoyed for the very nominal admission charge of fifteen cents. The program has been set for 3 o'clock so all who wish to attend should be present at that time.

Handsome booths for the sale of food, candy and other attractions will make charming pictures as well.

For fifty cents per person any who wish to play cards or mah jongg, either afternoon or evening, will find this a most satisfactory way to entertain their friends. A rate of $5 has been made for a reservation of three tables.

In the afternoon the sheltered corridors of the Annex will be utilized and in the evening the hall in the library.

For all of these events full value for the money is assured. You may have a pleasant time and also be helping a worthy public benefit.

SUPT. HANCOCK TO SPEAK HERE

The committee in charge of the program for Public School Week to be held at the Grammar School Auditorium on the evening of May 11, 1925, has been very fortunate in securing Joseph E. Hancock, County Superintendent of Schools to deliver a message to the people relative to the cost of education, what we are getting for the money expended and the real value of a Union School. The committee was also very much pleased to have Mr. Croke, Principal of the Willow Glen School, consent to give his talk on Americanization, upon which subject, Mr. Croke has devoted a great deal of time and preparation.

Both these speakers are in positions where they can give first hand authentic information, and the audience on May 11, will certainly receive a treat.

In addition to the speeches there will be interspersed, musical numbers given by the school orchestra and vocal numbers, the singer to be announced later.

Remember the importance of the public school in America and come out on the evening of May 11, and lend your support morally as well as you have done financially.

PRE-SCHOOL EXAMS HELD BY COM. NURSE

Monday morning at the Campbell Grammar school will be begun the pre-school examination of all children who may enter school at the beginning of the fall term. This is being done at this time that any defects in the child's sight, hearing, or health may be corrected by treatments or diet and the pupil begin school without a handicap.

Parents are urged to bring their children early that the examination may be made promptly. If desired children may be vaccinated at once thereby avoiding any loss of time at school later.

Mrs. O. H. Weiss, our popular community nurse, will be in charge of the work at the school.

PUNDITAS HOLD ENJOYABLE GUEST DAY

The ladies of Pundita Circle have a well deserved reputation as hostesses and the success of their Guest Day, Wednesday, added more laurels to their collection.

Bowls of beautiful roses lent the needed touch to the attractive social room of the library, where representatives from many of the neighboring clubs were assembled to enjoy the hospitality of the Pundita Club.

With a few happily chosen words, their president, Mrs. L. J. Carboni, welcomed the guests and explained the reason for this annual event in the clubs program.

She then introduced Mrs. J. W. Nixon, County Federation President, who greeted all the clubs represented and expressed her pleasure at this opportunity of visiting one of the clubs in her jurisdiction.

Mrs. H. Owen Smith, of Union District, accompanied by Mrs. E. F. Colvin, of Los Gatos, delighted the company with violin selections, playing "Melody" by Gen. Chas. G. Dawes, "Forget-Me-Not" by Allan Macbeth and "Robin Sings in the Apple Tree" by MacDowell. Mrs. Smith is one of the popular artists of Los Gatos but Campbell residents have not had the pleasure of hearing her often.

Mrs. Paul Clark, of San Jose, who with her husband, has recently returned from a world tour, talked most entertainingly of their visit to Egypt. Mrs. Clark is not only a keen observer but has a wonderful memory and a remarkable gift of narrative and skill in word picturing. It was with regret on the part of her listeners when she closed her graphic account.

The formal program was concluded with a charming group of solos sung by Miss Vivian Arnerich, accompanied by Miss Darling, both of San Jose. Miss Arnerich has a very pleasing voice and personality, which showed to advantage in the rather unusual group of songs selected, which were thoroughly enjoyable—"Little Brown Owl" by Sanderson, "The Maid of Japan" by Scott, "Tu", a Cuban folk song, by Eduardo Sanchez de Tuentes and Reiley's "A Very Youthful Affair."

A very pleasant social hour followed during which dainty refreshments were served by the members, assisted by some of their young lady daughters. The daintiest of French nose gays, complete with lace paper frill, graced each tray and served as favors. The occasion was one of the happy events of club life and will remain a pleasant memory.

P T A FEDERATION

The first regular meeting of the Foothill Federation of P. T. A. was held at the Campbell grammar auditorium Monday afternoon with a fair attendance.

Plans for future activities were suggested and discussed at length.

Saratoga has been selected as the next meeting place May 25. The executive board will meet at 10:30 and lunch at noon, the regular session being scheduled for 1:30.

SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. Brolyer, a student of Stanford, is giving different educational tests to the children in the upper grades in connection with his work in that line.

The boys' baseball team played Hester on Friday with a score of 9 to 6 in Hester's favor.

Mr. Wohlbridge was around on his annual tour and everybody had pictures taken Wednesday.

Campbell is having its turn at editing the County grammar school paper. Mrs. Allen, the language teacher, has charge of this.

FORESTRY WEEK

By presidential proclamation this week has been set apart as Forestry Week throughout the United States. This is a matter of national interest. Every man, woman and child is a victim of the economic loss through rapid forest depletion, in which the forest fire is the greatest factor.

Forestry Week, or Forest Preservation Week, should be dedicated not alone to education in fire prevention, but to constructive action. Many schools and civic organizations throughout the land are planning to combine Arbor Day exercises with Forestry Week, thus focusing public attention to the necessity of measures to perpetuate forest growth, forest protection, and the great lumbering industry. To do this, it is necessary to give attention to the human element—to the "man" as well as to the "tree."

Taking the state of California as an illustration of the direful effects of carelessness, we find that of the 2657 forest and brush fires during the year 1924, 79 per cent were man-caused, and 21 per cent were started by lightning. As a result of intensive study made by the state board of forestry, it is found that 258 fires were caused by campers, 609 by smokers, 135 by brush burning, and 249 of incendiary origin. In spite of laws of states and nation, in spite of the millions spent by the government in regulations, scouting and other protective measures through the forestry department, the frightful toll continues.
It is more or less authoritatively estimated that unless the present rate of forest diminution is checked, both through protection from physical destruction and substitutes for lumber in the building trades, the present supply of timber in the United States will not last more than 25 years.

Some of the alarming effects resulting from forest fires are damage to watersheds, fire scars on standing trees which seriously affects the merchantable value of the lumber, direct heat killing, prevalence of insects and wood-destroying fungi, increase in logging costs, the killing of seed trees which tends to wipe out reproduction, and the fact that each succeeding forest fire leaves ready fuel for the next one.

Trees, which are Nature's greatest sanctuaries, also have their esntimental values. Trees have ever been the subject of the poet's song, the shelter from the falling mists and shade from the burning sun, the home of the birds, and an untiring beauty for all mankind. "To know a tree," says a current author, "we must climb its trunk, taste its bark, and shake its branches." To know trees and love them we first must protect them.

"DISARMAMENT" IN EXPENDITURES

The way to disarm is to disarm, and one way to reduce government expense is to limit the available supply of money in the treasury. So says Senator King, of Utah, who is drafting a bill to reduce taxes one half billion of dollars for introduction in congress next winter. As a cold proposition that by cutting revenues there would be no money to spend except for the actual essentials of government, the proposed bill rings clear with common sense. But will it prevent the evils it seeks against? American statesmen and budget makers have a peculiar aptitude for dealing in futures. Cutting off the source of ready money will mean the borrowing against the future—mortgaging the coming generation for all they are worth—unless along with the curtailment of revenue comes the reality of needing less money to administer the affairs of a financially sound and peaceful nation.

If we could stop crime tomorrow, the government and the states would overnight be relieved of their highest costs. If the next day we would stop commercial greed, dishonesty, unfair and undue speculation, with all the attendant economic ills, we would have reduced another great need for expenditure. Education must take the place of taxation.

The automobile of Dominic Pietrarola, alleged bootlegger, under pressure of a load of wine, broke down at the entrance of the Stockton street tunnel, San Francisco, directly in front of Federal Prohibition Agent Gordon Lee, who had the car towed to the federal offices.

A series of sensational raids by prohibition agents and Siskiyou county officials on Shastina, a suburb of Weed, described as the last remaining wide open town in northern California, netted fifteen resort proprietors and hundreds of gallons of moonshine whiskey and gin.

Johns is the first Harvard Washington—first voyaging 2,000 miles in a one-way yacht, Kenah Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, his wife and son, Hiram, Jr., are pointing up the west coast of Panama, enroute to San Francisco.

Prize Check Given Needy
New York—Miss Edna Ferber, author of "So Big," awarded the $1,000 Pulitzer prize for the best American novel in 1924, donated the check to the Authors league fund for the cars of needy writers.

An interesting light on the early days of California history is being eagerly awaited by the California State Library in the form of an original letter from Captain John A. Sutter, founder of Sacramento, to Don Juan Bautista Alvarado, Spanish governor of California, written when Sacramento was known as New Helvittia in 1841. The letter is now in the possession of Judge Henry V. Alvarado of Martinez, Contra Costa county, son of the Spanish governor, who will present the document to the state library.
The letter, a curiously worded affair written in English by Sutter, recounts some early incidents and tells of the coming of some of the state's earliest settlers.

The Oakdale Chamber of Commerce is planning a big banquet for the entire Oakdale Irrigation district, at which the directors of the district will be the guests of honor, as a compliment for their working out what is believed to be a successful solution of the storage problem for the district.
The directors recently negotiated a contract with the Pacific Gas & Electric company and the Sierra & San Francisco Power company, by which a $2,000,000 dam and reservoir are to be erected at Melones, and a power plant to cost more than that sum.

HEAR J. U. H. TONIGHT

Are you planning to hear J. U. Higinbotham this evening? If not you are going to miss a treat and an opportunity to hear a celebrity. This "neighbor" of ours was formerly a great success as a speaker and author and his humorous account of his visit to Japan, China, Manchuria and the Philippines, which he entitles, "An Oriental Omelet" will be well worth hearing. The entertainment will be held in the auditorium of the High School Annex and the admission is thirty-five cents, which also affords one an opportunity to view the beauties of the court and corridors in "festive array."

On May 1st "The Busy Bee Confectionery" will take over the agencies for the Examiner and the Chronicle. Kindly pay for April service at the "Peter Pan Bakery."

ROSE PLANTING URGED AT GRANGE

Mah jongg and other games were the chief attraction at the grange Tuesday evening. The Lecturer had a full hour and those who did not care for games did a whole week's visiting.

The following ten candidates were obligated in the first and second degrees: M. S. Hedegard, Mrs. F. Galbraith, W. E. Rallings, Mrs. Rose G. Rallings, Mrs. Ida V. Wellington, Arthur Wellington, Mrs. Margaret G. Lomox, W. R. Lomox, Chauncey H. Watson, Peter Peterson.

President H. G. Keesling of the Flower Lovers' Club, reported thousands of rose bushes contracted for to be sold next fall through the club and that it was their object to make Santa Clara Valley a rosecenter. He stated there is no other place in this country or the whole world where roses would do as well as here. Every highway should be lined on either side by a continuous panorama of roses. Roses should surround our houses, roses should abound in our parks and all public places. Roses should climb over our factories, packing houses and bridges and every old fence or unsightly building should be covered with roses. So when our friends visit Santa Clara valley they will see roses, smell roses, handle roses and think of our roses all the rest of their lives. We can do it.

Pomona grange is to meet at Campbell May 9 at 1:30 p.m. and in the evening. Field Day of all the granges in this section is to be held at Winchester park, May 23. Take note of the date as it has been changed from an earlier day. There have been three of four new granges organized in this district within a very recent time and it is expected this field day meeting will be a notable event.

The next meeting of Orchard City grange will be Tuesday evening May 12, beginning with a banquet at 6:30 P. M. A large class of new members will be initiated in the third and fourth degrees, and the work will be put on by the drill team.

"Nor Wind, Nor Snow, Nor Rain, Nor Night, Can Stay the Pilot in His Flight"—"Air Mail" Theme.

All the romance—all the thrills of the U. S. Government Air Mail Service has been caught for the screen in Paramount's "The Air Mail," an Irvin Willat production, which comes to the Orchard City Theatre on Saturday, May 2. Warner Baxter, Bille Dove, Mary Brian and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., are featured in the leading roles of the production, written especially for the screen by Byron Morgan, author of "Code of the Sea" and others.

Baxter plays the role of a clever crook who becomes an air postman solely for the purpose of robbing the mails. Living up to the code of the service, "Nor wind, nor snow, nor rain, nor night, can stay the pilot in his flight," results in the death of one of the Service's most capable men. On his death bed he asks Baxter to "carry on" and it is the beginning of the regeneration of the thief.

"The Air Mail" is a thrill-filled drama that should prove one of the most entertaining pictures you've seen in months.

The body of a man, believed to be Davis James Gilmour, 65, former captain in the Gordon Highlanders, who was decorated with the Military Cross by the English government for gallantry in action, was found in the brush beside the state highway at San Ysidro. He had committed suicide. It is thought that the man was Gilmour, from an "excerpt from the honor list," which was in his pocket. There were no other identification marks.

A searching party found the nude body of Terry Courtney, 14-year-old Olinda school boy, hanging from a cross bar of an oil derrick near Fullerton, and what was at first believed to be a suicide, became mystery when it was discovered that the boy's neck had not been broken. GOV. RICHARDSON CHAIRMAN OF CAMP'GN

Governor Richardson has accepted the chairmanship of the State Committee which is to direct the campaign for the American Legion endowment fund in California. It is proposed to raise $5,000,000 in the United States to establish a fund for the disabled men and orphans of veterans. California's quota is $400,000. The actual campaign is to start in May.

In taking the chairmanship, the Governor said: "It is with genuine pleasure that I accept the chairmanship of the State Committee which is to direct the campaign for the American Legion endowment fund in California."

"No work is more necessary or important than that of rehabilitating the men who were disabled fighting for our country in the World War and of properly providing for the upbringing of the orphans of the patriots who sacrificed their lives in the great conflict."

"Light Eternal" at Santa Clara Univ.

Santa Clara, April 30—"The Light Eternal," Martin Merle's story of early Christianity in pagan Rome, which was declared by critics when produced in the East as being the most convincing drama since the romantic stories of "Ben Hur" and "Quo Vadis", will be presented by actors made up from the Alumni and student-body of Santa Clara University in the college auditorium, May 2 and 3.

Author Merle, now in charge of dramatics at the University, is taking personal supervision of the rehearsals and selected the cast. The play will be produced again this year with all the elaborate scenic grandeur and lighting effects that marked the production in the Eastern presentations.

The play is a story of the early struggles of Christianity against the might of pagan Rome. The story revolves around the Christian youth Panchatius, his friendship for the Emperor of Diocletian, Emperor of Rome; his defiance of the pagan gods, and finally his martyrdom.

The success of the play after a number of appearances in Pacific Coast Cities attracted the attention of large eastern theatrical producers. Henry Miller, one of America's eluding stage celebrities, in collaboration with Author Merle, produced the play in New York City late in 1906, and the foremost critics universally acclaimed the Christian drama for its beautiful simplicity in word and picture. The play affords an opportunity for passionate acting and picturesque scenery.

The cast includes nineteen speaking parts and is made up of the alumni and student-body of Santa Clara University. A number of the actors who will portray the principal roles have been appearing in college productions for the last ten years and have attained high honors in the Western dramatic world.

A matinee Saturday, May 2, will mark the initial performance of "The Light Eternal" this year, and another performance will be given in the evening, Sunday, May 3, a matinee and evening presentation will complete the production at the Santa Clara University Auditorium.

Tickets have been placed on sale in the San Francisco and San Jose stores of Sherman, Clay and Company, as well as at the University. The prices are $1 and $1.50 for reserved seats with a general admission charge of 50 cents. Boxes are being reserved for $7 and $10.
