EAGLE ROCK NOTES

This morning at 7:15, a Dodge roadster driven by employees of the Haas-Birch company crashed with a Ford at the corner of Park and Central. From the looks of the two machines, one would suppose that the Dodge was going south on Central and the Ford had turned in on Park from the east to go into South Central. At any rate, the two came together with a bang and the rear wheel on the right side of the Ford was completely torn off. The Dodge suffered only a slightly bent fender, and was soon on its way to Los Angeles. A dolly was obtained from a local garage and the Ford was moved to the curbing on Park avenue. It was driven by Jewell D. Martin of 1412 Mahantonga way.

The Eagle Rock scribe for the Daily Press wishes to thank those persons who are leaving news items in the box at Sol Gans' corner of Central and Colorado. If you want to have the doings of your friends or yourself known, don't be afraid to write it all out drop it in the box. It is there for your convenience, and so please use it.

The Methodist bazaar which was held in the annex last night went over big under the capable management of Mrs. J. A. Morrow. Over 200 people were served a delicious supper and many were turned away, due to their failure to get tickets beforehand. Big bouquets of poinsettias adorned the banquet room, while pepper boughs and leaves made the other rooms very attractive. All sorts of Christmas gifts were sold, ranging from candy and soda pop, up to high-class needle work of every description. Dollies, handkerchiefs, pillow cases, sweaters and countless other articles were disposed of at reasonable prices. Several hundred persons were present and bought these articles.

Hugh Pomroy, secretary of the regional planning commission, gave a talk this morning on the city work of planning the regions to be built up. It was given in the Occidental college chapel.

A moving picture outfit was on location at Patterson field yesterday and were busy on a football scene. The powder-bedecked football movie stars showed the amused spectators how to play the game, amid considerable laughter. The rooters, also movie people, gave those assembled to watch the performance a great deal of pleasure in their efforts at yelling and waving pom poms. From all the noise and pleasure everyone received watching the performance, one would think it was a regular Harvard-Yale game.

The extension of York boulevard will come up before the Los Angeles city council today, and favorable action is expected to be taken by that body. The next meeting of the Occidental-York Valley Improvement association is expected to be on Monday night in the Presbyterian church. It is located at the corner of York and Glassell. Everyone is asked to be there.

At the home of Mrs. Harriet Collins, president of the Buchanan street school, yesterday afternoon, considerable discussion was had concerning the events that will take place soon. The names of those on the committee for the bazaar to be held in the spring were read, a picture show to be given in the school house December 14 was decided upon, and the regular monthly meeting to be held next Tuesday was considered. The picture show will be in the evening and an admission charge of 15 cents will be made. Everyone is welcome to attend. The school house is located at the corner of Avenue 50 and Buchanan.

RADKE JEWELRY STORE IS NOW FULLY STOCKED

With the holiday rush season now in full swing, the Radke Jewelry store, 109-B South Brand boulevard, is fully stocked with high grade gifts, all of which are new in design, and of the highest quality. In order to meet the great demands for high class jewelry gifts, Ed. N. Radke, proprietor, has recently received a large shipment of fine novelty jewelry from the east, and all of this shipment is offered at great savings over the usual high holiday prices.

Several new styles in earrings are included, the lot comprising both long and short designs, and many with fancy stones and settings. According to Mr. Radke, any woman will appreciate the beauty and quality of these, and they will make excellent gifts. Other fine gifts for the lady are in stock, including watches, rings, bairpins, pearls, gold and silver pens and pencils, bracelets, necklaces, etc.

For "him" there are many selections to be found at this store—cuff links, watches, stickpins, cigarette holders and cases, watches, chains and many others too numerous to mention.

Many high grade articles of silver are being featured, including knife and fork sets, salt and pepper, baby spoons, trays, plates, etc. The stock is now complete, and an early selection is urged by all who care to obtain gifts while the stock is full. A small deposit will hold any article until called for.

Mr. Radke has employed H. D. Smart, an expert jeweler, who will be permanently located in the Radke store.

MONTROSE NOTES

Miss Viola Rowe, a former Montrose girl, remembered here as a very popular member of the social circle, was married on November 28 to Ila M. Moore of this community. The ceremony was performed in Santa Barbara, and came as a complete surprise to many friends of the bride and groom. The young couple will make their home in Montrose. They are having an attractive cottage built on Crescent avenue and will be at home after the first of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson left Tuesday morning for San Jacinto and other points in California. They are making the trip by automobile and expect to be gone a week or ten days.

The work of paving the south end of Montrose avenue from Honolulu avenue to connect with the pavement at Sparr Heights was completed Tuesday morning and the road is now open. The surfacing of this portion of the avenue will provide an outlet for south-bound traffic and will greatly relieve the congestion which has been prevalent at the junction of Honolulu, Montrose and Verdugo roads.

David Nylen, a carpenter, was quite seriously injured Tuesday morning when he fell from the roof of the new Belanger building being constructed on Honolulu avenue. Mr. Nylen lost his balance and being unable to regain his footing fell to the ground. It was thought at first that he had sustained a broken back, but upon further investigation it was found that his back had just been seriously wrenched and bruised. He was rushed to the Glendale hospital, where he is being cared for. The injured man was a resident of La Crescenta.

ALL-DAY MISSIONARY MEETING, BROADWAY M. E.
The Women's Missionary society of the Broadway M. E. church will hold an all-day meeting Thursday December 6. Those who attend are expected to bring lunch. All members are urged to be there, as there will be a business meeting, when the officers for the coming year will be elected.

BURBANK NOTES

At the meeting of the city dads last night, the method of parking on San Fernando boulevard was again brought before the board. After a discussion of some length, it was finally decided that cars parking on the northerly side of the boulevard between Verdugo and Magnolia, are to park at a 25 degree angle and those parking on the southerly side are to park parallel. A time limit has also been set and there will be a one-hour limit between the hours of 9 and 4 p. m. and 30 minutes from 4 to 6 p. m., Sundays and holidays excepted. Trucks will not be allowed to park on the boulevard except when loading or unloading, and must park on the side streets. The city attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance covering the above ruling and it will probably be about December 21 before the ordinance becomes effective.

Six Mexicans, giving the names of Joe Ocha, Santos Hernandez, Manuel Gonzales, L. Lopez, Nestor Hernandez and A. Compro were each fine $50 or 30 days in jail, on a charge of possessing and transporting liquor in a Ford automobile. They evidently did not relish spending the holidays in jail and refused the hospitality of the court by paying their fines and going away much wiser.

The Rotary club held a very fine luncheon and meeting yesterday at the Sunset Canyon country club, the speaker of the day being C. Munro, a national forester, who gave a very interesting talk on forest reserves. A short talk was given both by Mr. Kilgore and Mr. Schumenheimer of Los Angeles. This had been their first visit to Burbank and they were very much pleased with the city and with the spirit manifested by the Rotarians. There were about six visitors from Glendale. In the absence of President J. C. Crawford, Vice President Van Meter presided.

The speed court was very busy yesterday hearing the various cases and the usual excuses which were offered. Those fined on various traffic violations were Benjamin Harrison, Jr., $75, for reckless driving; K. C. Porter, $30; C. H. Sherer, $5; L. G. Franco, $15; H. O. Harwell, $5; F. Lockett, $5; Louis Garten, $10; Frank Hudson, $15; Chas. Cano, $10; Otto Basso, $10; H. M. Allen, $10; H. Watkins received suspended sentence, and A. P. Martin and F. A. Graham failed to appear.

A luncheon will be served by the social section of the Women's club in the club rooms on Thursday at 12:30, and it is open to the public. A very delicious lunch is served for a nominal sum.

On Thursday evening, at the Methodist church, the Business and Professional Women's club will hold a festive Christmas dinner, which will be prepared and served by the Methodist women. There will be a splendid program after the dinner, consisting of numbers by Eugene Haffinger, Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Russell. All members are requested and urged to be present.

CHRISTMAS NOTE EVERYWHERE AT PENDROY'S STORE

No customer could enter Pendroy's and doubt that Christmas was near at hand. There are many suggestions of that great festival and none more tempting than Christmas boxes of California products, glace fruit, almonds from the Santa Clara valley, raisins, big juicy ones, from the Fresno district, dates from the Imperial valley, figs from the San Joaquin valley. Every new-comer is a booster for California, the newer the more enthusiastic, and these boxes and baskets which symbolize the agricultural riches of the state therefore have a big appeal aside from their tempting appearance. Besides these goodies which can be found on the second floor in company with dainty little jars of California orange marmalade, and preserved Santa Clara cherries, and Southern California fruit cake, have room to display their varied charms. Package and contents are perfect for Christmas gift purposes and all the purchaser has to do is to pay the price, which is moderate in comparison with the offerings of many other stores, give the address and the postage to the saleswoman, and the remembrance will be sent forward without care or trouble to the buyer.

G. E. MacFaddin of Clovis, California, returned to his home Tuesday after having been a guest over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Higgins of 247 North Jackson street.

A Practical Gift For Your Employees

MANY employers who have customarily made a gift of some sort to their employees at Christmas time plan this year to give interest-bearing Savings Accounts.

They recognize that the thrifty employee is the most desirable. He is steady, efficient, reliable, and takes a greater interest in his work.

To put the proper Christmas spirit into such a gift, this Bank has prepared a handsomely embossed Christmas check, in four colors and enclosed in an appropriate envelope.

These checks, which may be drawn against funds in any bank, are free to our customers and friends.

"TONY" ELLIOTT WILL GIVE "OH-HO" THE KICKOFF SONG

"Tony" Elliott, Glendale High's fast stepping triple threat ball back is going to start the "Oh-Ho" show off with the "kick off" song, "Rah Rah Rah, the Great Big College," the first big feature of the show, and, when it is known that Elliott is just as capable at putting over a stunt in a musical show as he is at speering a forward pass, or bucking tackle, it can be assured that "Oh-Ho" is going to get off to a regular whirlwind of a start.

Elliott has, for assistance in his song, more than a dozen peppy, husky-lunged rosters, who, in the role of the college men in the Fraternity House in "Oh-Ho" are going to put this number over with a bang. These rosters, led by Archie Neel, the yell leader, are Golburn-Danner, John Lovell, Theo Hagg, Elmer Eliz, Darrel Eliza, Cyril Walton, Dante La Frankie, Bub Carver, Jess Hibbs, Marlon Morrison and Ralph Eccles, and half a dozen others.

And the pretty girls from Glendale High who are also taking part in the many dances of "Oh-Ho" are going to make these peppy boys step lively for headline honors, as the "High Jinks" trio dance, as danced by Evelyn Hunt, Marie Hearnshaw, and Leona Hunt is a real winner.

Then there is the "Sport" dance, with Marjorie Hart, Wilma Gosser, Elizabeth Walker, Gladys Gilman, Beryl Goodale, Marjorie Temple, Leona Hunt and Alice Dewey. This number has a great charm.

Rebecca Hodge, Marie Hearnshaw, Dorothy Houston and Evelyn Hunt present the song and tag-to-go dance, "Crooning," and then "Sorority" double quartette dance has, as its personnel, Dorothy Houston, Polly Richmond, Rebecca Hodge, Betty Knudsen, Sally Trump, Edna Steerman, Ruth Clauson and Ida Englehart.

There has seldom been a show staged in Glendale boasting of the clever cast of leads to be found in the "Oh-Ho" show. These include Joe Griffin, D. Ripley Jackson, Jack Statham, Gregory Lowery, Stanley Lindman, John Reber, Jane Pearsall, Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Jr., Mrs. Malburn Barker and Hazel Linkogel, and make up a splendid cast throughout.

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, chairman of the ticket committee for the Tuesday Afternoon club, sponsors of "Oh-Ho" has her group of ticket sellers actively at work on selling out the houses for the "Oh-Ho" engagement. They claim that "Oh-Ho" will play to capacity on both nights of its presentation here.

"Oh-Ho" will be seen at the Tuesday Afternoon Theatre on next Friday and Saturday evenings, December 7 and 8. The reserved sale of seats will start Tuesday morning at the Sun Drug company, Glendale.

EVANGELIST PREACHES ON HEART SEARCHING

Heart searching and stirring are the sermons preached in the Nazarene evangelistic campaign by Rev. Hatfield. The sermon last night was along the line of individual heart searching. The evangelist said people think they are Christians, and right with God, but when they get to the place where they search their hearts they soon find out they are not.

A special feature of the evening was a miniature boxing match, performed by charming little Constance and Marjorie Steelman, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. C. Stuart Steelman, of 321 Milford street. Truths in Epigram

Let proud ambition pause and sicken at the vanity that prompts his little deeds.—Mallett.

Ambition is the growth of every crime.—Gibber.

Let not the sun go down upon your wrath.—Old Testament.

A soft answer turneth away wrath, but a grievous word stirreth up anger.—Old Testament.

THE SUBNORMAL MIND

Intelligence tests reveal that many minds are not up to the normal standard. After an examination the experts will declare the subject to have the mental equipment of a child of ten or twelve years. Such a child, however, is amenable to discipline, and easily distinguishes between right and wrong.

It happens frequently that the subnormal reach maturity without any suspicion having been excited as to their status. They undertake various callings, possibly with reasonable success. They become married, and assume the responsibility of parentage. No objections seem to be offered. The family acquiesces in the arrangement. The properly authorized functionary issues the wedding license. A minister or civil magistrate performs the ceremony without qualm.

When one of the subnormal has entered upon a criminal career, and been caught, then it is that his or her inherent weakness is proclaimed. It had been kept a secret. It had not been considered sufficiently serious to interfere with matrimonial plans. There had been no hesitancy as to permitting the type to multiply itself. All at once the subnormal person, having offender, is said to be immune to the operation of the statutes against crime. The plea of insanity is eagerly advanced. Relatives are ready to tell that they always had known the offender to be incompetent.

As a concrete illustration may be cited the case of a young woman arrested as the accomplice of her husband in the acts of burglary and murder. They say on her behalf that she is insane, that she had been queer all her life. Then why had they not said so before? The spectacle of their lunatic kin entering into marriage had not excited protest. The thought that she might perpetuate her low grade of morals and mentality left them untroubled.

A large proportion of criminals are defectives. Were this not so they would realize the futility of their chosen course. That because they lack perfect balance, they shall be free to war on society, escaping penalty for misdeeds, does not follow as a logical conclusion. If society fails to curb the activity of its defectives, waiting to find the defect through perusing police reports of burglary and murder, it has dug a pit for itself. Primarily it should forbid the marriage of such unfortunates. But when the mentally deficient are permitted the full exercise of civil rights, to hold them blameless for wanton violations of the law does not appear consistent or wise.

POLICE ACTIVITY

The police of Los Angeles under Chief Vollmer have won high praise. While crimes continue, it cannot be denied that many of the more desperate criminals have been caught. Owing to the aroused spirit of the community the trials of these men have been speedy and the sentences severe. However, there is heard occasionally now a note characterized by the absence of adulation.

Permission had been given for the holding of a great Thanksgiving ball. In attendance were many prominent men and women of the city, as well as most of the notable moving picture folk. The affair of course was orderly. It naturally would have extended beyond midnight, but promptly on the striking of that hour it was peremptorily closed. To keep open later, it is said another permit should have been procured. The indignation aroused seems slow to subside.

People desire the laws observed, and yet it is possible to discern a difference in the moral force of laws. That dancing should cease at midnight instead of at 1 a. m. may be very important. It is far less important than that the streets be cleared of thugs, homes protected against burglars and thieves, bootleggers and dope peddlers all put to rout. It may be imagined that the police who forbade the continuance of social activities that hundreds were enjoying without evil intent or the creation of disturbance, might have been giving better service in curbing the nocturnal malefactor whose presence is a constant peril to the urban dweller.

NOVA SERPENTIS STICKS

Fourteen years ago astronomers of Heidelberg discovered a star which they named Nova Serpentis. Many stars are discovered, and after keeping in sight for a time, dodge into the unknown, or are dissolved by agencies not fully understood. Nova Serpentis proves by its abiding gleam that it is no frivolous fly-by-night, but is here to stay, or to be more precise, is there to stay. However, there still is doubt.

It is estimated that light from Nova Serpentis takes a thousand year in filtering through distance until it finds this little globe. So the conduct of the heavenly visitant as observed today really is the record of its behavior ten centuries ago. It is possible, then, that the new star isn't where it seems to be, and hasn't been on duty for the better part of a millennium.

All of this may not be important to a worried and rushing world discussing war and peace and the price of pork, but it is diverting. It gives the mind something to draw it out of the mundane sphere. There may be merit in contemplation of the fact that this proud speck of dust afloat in the void, isn't the whole show.

CHINESE ADVANCING

The courts of China have sentenced a white man to death. The condemned prisoner is a Russian. From all accounts he seems to have been about as brutal and active an assassin as ever struck terror to a community. The notable feature of the ruling is that this is believed to be the first instance in which the sentence of death has been passed on a white man in China. Therefore the episode is significant. It indicates that China is assuming a place on the plane of independence with other nations. Formerly it had endured outrage rather than provoke the resentment of any other power. It had learned from experience far from sweet, that such resentment was readily evoked, and that it found expression in demands characterized by greed, and often devoid of the slightest element of justice. To execute the death penalty upon a Russian, even at this time of Russian chaos, is an act bespeaking new courage and a new viewpoint.

China has been wonderfully patient. For centuries it has borne with imposition. It has been robbed alike by the shrewd methods of diplomacy, and in the cruder ways known to commerce. What others happened to want of China, it has been the common habit to take, with whatever show of violence was deemed necessary. It had not lifted a hand in self defense. If it has made protests, these have been ignored. That it should take upon itself the enforcement of laws touching aliens, would only a short time ago have been regarded as the showing of extraordinary courage. Possibly some would have construed it as presumption.

Chinese treatment of a Russian murderer may be a small thing in itself; but it is the sign of a new China.

The fall drive on hoboes has begun. The invaders are being stopped in San Bernardino county, some of them detained for as long as 180 days. The purpose is to drill into the intelligence of the hobo knowledge of the fact that he is undesirable. In the classification are included the natural vagrants whose ambition is to get through life without work, and who annually drift to southern California at the first nip of eastern frost.

A girl may be a trifle frivolous, but she is apt to be engaging.

SECOND CLASS

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

Being second class is a state of mind that advertises itself in every act of one's life.

Thousands of people born in second class places have stepped up and out of those places as naturally as a race horse steps into his ancestral stride. Others, born to the purple, sink to second or third class positions because they have second or third class minds; so never say, if you find yourself below the best, that fate has been against you. You are where you are because of what you are; either you have a second class mind or you are failing to use to the full a first class one, which, in the last analysis, means that you are second class in some other respect.

And if you are second class the worst thing you can do for yourself is to claim the work that belongs only to first class humans, artists, musicians, bankers, commercial giants, so called, writers or what not. If you are of second rate ability it naturally follows that you will do your work in a second rate fashion, and when a second rate advertises himself as of first standing he has to make good or suffer the resentment of his own craft for the ignominy his failure has placed upon it.

"They advertised themselves as artists from my country and they were arrogant amateurs," said an indignant Hungarian recently, speaking of a group of his stranded countrymen. "They have discredited my people before the American public. Let them wash dishes."

Rather severe? No doubt; still it is easy to get the artist's point of view. He wished the American public to know that his land produced first class craftsmen and he resented the imposition for which all of his countrymen must pay in lost prestige.

It is a curious but very solid union, this cohesion of the first classes against those below and it is one of the most substantial and indestructible barriers against the rise of the unworthy.

But it is not a barrier against the rise of the able and worthy. Not even water gives place more readily than the ranks of the successful to one of their own kindred. Jealousy does not come from the gifted; it comes from the few mediocre who have by accident or some extraneous influence climbed into a precarious position among the first ranks.

The first requisite of all success is, have a first class mind. The second is, use it in a first class manner. On fidelity to this formula hangs all earthly success worth the name.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

The wife never quite forgave Doc Henneberry for getting married that second time. Women are queer that way. If a man doesn't marry once they never let him alone, but if, after having had a happy married life he tries to repeat, they would dog him out of the community. So Mrs. Pilgrim never forgave Doc for getting married—until last night.

"I never quite understood Doc before," she said after he had gone home. "He's a fine man."

We had been talking about Curly Wilkes. Mrs. Wilkes has been sick with a misery in her back for some weeks now. Doc says she is a very sick woman though she tries not to admit it. He says, her spine just naturally got canted to one side, or something of the sort, and the only thing that will restore her health is perfect rest.

"I think it's perfectly sweet the way Curly Wilkes has been behaving," said Mrs. Pilgrim.

I thought so, too. I would have said so, if there had seemed to be any place in the conversation into which I could fit. But there wasn't. Not even a cranny. Mrs. Pilgrim told how Curly hurries home nowadays and cooks the dinner. In the morning he gets up and makes breakfast and washes the dishes and cleans up the house and all this time Mrs. Wilkes stays in bed. Curly carries her coffee on the silver tray their Aunt Ida gave them and the burglar didn't take that time their house was robbed.

"He's a perfect angel," said Mrs. Pilgrim.

"The big swine," said Doc Henneberry. "If I had my way I'd install a whipping post and I'd fan Curly Wilkes a hundred the first day. He's darn near killed his wife. He let her do four times more work than a Rumanian peasant woman ought to, and never raised that ham-hand of his to help her. Now he does a little dish washing—"

Doc said the only thing that can do Mrs. Wilkes any permanent good is to have Curly run over by a five-ton truck. That's why my wife has forgiven his second marriage.

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

Young man, do you look within you for strength? Or do you expect it to come from without? If you do you will be disappointed.

JAMES W. FOLEY

For strength comes from within and not from without.

There is no way of putting strength into you with a spoon.

Or a hypodermic needle. Or with a capsule.

The spoon and the hypodermic needle and the capsule are makeshifts.

For a little while your system will respond to them. And after while it will cease to respond.

And continually increasing doses are required.

Until your system refuses to respond at all.

What chance would an athlete have if he were strengthened with dosage from spoon, needle or capsule?

He might make a spurt. But in a little while he would collapse.

It is the same with the spiritual as with the physical being.

You cannot get spiritual strength with a spoon, a needle or a capsule.

Spiritual strength comes from within. Not from without.

It cannot be poured into you. You must build it into yourself.

So let us get a clear understanding. Put aside self pity. Stop blaming the world, the flesh and the devil.

And begin putting the blame for weakness where it belongs. Which is with ourselves.

The captain who wrecks his ship by steering carelessly cannot blame the compass.

Neither can we wreck our ships of life absolve ourselves by placing the blame on circumstances.

We have to look the facts squarely in the face before we can go ahead with a prospect of safety.

Do you know, to ask another question, that it is possible for any young man to be financially independent, so far as modest needs go, at forty or fifty?

That reasonable thrift will do it? That many people are pouring a little water weekly or monthly into the financial tub and leaving the plug out?

So that savings run out as quickly as they pour in?

In a certain hospital for the insane it is said they give patients a barrel of water, a pail and a bath tub.

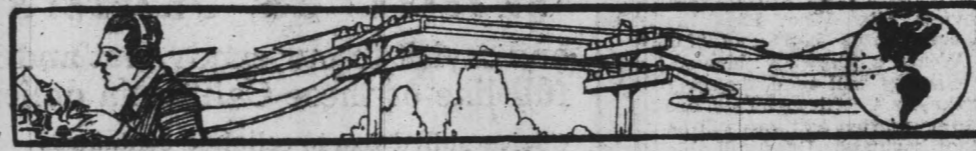

With the plug out. And they set them to work to fill the tub.

Those whose minds are unbalanced keep pouring water into the tub and letting it run out as quickly.

Those whose reason is still clear put in the plug before they begin pouring.

It is an old story. It may not be true. But it has a moral.

Don't go through your life pouring water into a tub with the plug out. Put in the plug first.

Songs of the Poets

From "Lucy"—By William Wordsworth

She dwelt among the untrodden ways
Beside the springs of Dove.
A Maid whom there were none to praise
And very few to love:

A violet by a mossy stone
Half hidden from the eye!
Fair as a star, when only one
Is shining in the sky.

She lived unknown, and few could know
When Lucy ceased to be;
But she is in her grave, and oh,
The difference to me!

THE UNIVERSAL INDEX

By DR. FRANK CRANE

"I AM engaged," said the little blonde man with spectacles and short, yellowish, pompadoured hair, "in a work that is of the greatest interest to all intelligent persons. It is the classification and indexing of all known facts. Various classes of facts have heretofore been classified and so on, but before me no one has attempted to arrange universal knowledge so that any item of information that forms part of the sum of human cognition can be got at easily. I include everything, art, ancient history, medieval astrology, modern sociology, all the ideas of Plato and Confucius, all the superstitions of times, all legal procedures and cases, all geography, arithmetic, fashions, sports, everything in the range of intelligence."

"It is all to be card-indexed, cross-indexed and alphabetically arranged. If anybody wants to know anything in the world, it makes no difference what, whether a cuneiform inscription from Nineveh or a rule of auction bridge, all he will have to do, when my system is completed, will be to go right to it. Just as you find a criminal by the Bertillon data or determine the species and genus or a given plant by a field-book of botany. I am now raising funds to prosecute my work, as of course, it will be very expensive and I—but here his audience left him. The fatal moment in any enterprise is where you pass the hat.

It is amazing the amount of absolutely useless information that has been collected and tabulated. Possibly if you were to pick out the books in your library that are really of any mortal use to you, you could carry them away in your arm.

I remember once climbing up to the Benedictine monastery, which is on a high hill near Subiaco in Italy. One of the Brothers showed me the library. It was a most wonderful room, full of beautiful books. They were not printed but hand-wrought upon vellum and exquisitely bound. I looked through some of them. I discovered that they were priceless. Priceless is the correct word. You probably could not have bought them for any price, and if you had paid any price for them at all, it would have been too much. Not one of them was of any earthly use to anybody. They were all about theological discussions concerning which mankind at present has no more interest than it has in the domestic arrangements of the planet of Mars.

It is quite important to have wide information, and it may be of some value to have access to many books, but all this is insignificant compared with the importance of discerning the exceedingly minute part that is of any use to you.

I should not want to possess the wisdom of the Almighty or even of any of His angels that are several thousand years old. It would bring to me but vanity and vexation of spirit. It would make me distressingly old. I know but little. But I am constantly acquiring new knowledge. And if there was no new knowledge to acquire and no new things to learn, why go on living?

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

By HENRY JAMES

Somebody is always taking the joy out of life for the people who find such joy mostly in roadhouses.

Mary Pickford urges young women not to seek to get into pictures. But she got in.

Murder by auto suggestion is a new French novelty.

Paris sends words that bobbed hair is coming back. The average citizen did not know it had been away.

Congressional radicals may not accomplish much beyond preventing others from accomplishing anything.

Eastern papers seem to take Magnus much more seriously than they do Hiram.

Los Angeles automobile deaths head the municipal record of such fatalities. Nobody boasts about it, however.

Holland, that has kept aloof from the European mess, seems tired of the monotony.

Congress is in session, partly for transaction of business, and partly to interfere with attempts to transact business.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

"SEEING THINGS"

[Chicago Post]

We are convinced that if the United States and some other nation or nations should agree in writing that the Ten Commandments form a good moral code there would be constant objection raised by the irreconcilables of the land, objection which would not be foregone.

Quickly on the signing of such a compact irreconcilability would consult some handy encyclopedia to find out what the Ten Commandments are, and then, having located them and their place in the Twelfth Chapter of Exodus, would make a microscopic study of each paragraph of the Mount Sinai pronouncements hoping and believing that underneath one or the other of them would be found lurking the League of Nations.

In a proposition for a commission to find out how much Germany has in its pocket Mr. Johnson of California has found all the elements of a conspiracy to enforce the hated Article 10 with other articles severally and collectively intended to undo our beloved country. The irreconcilable sees things day-time and night-time which no other man can see. The non-existence of an object does not prevent its instant visualization.

If the hope of the administration be to find some plan of international procedure so harmless that irreconcilability will not attempt to lay it by the heels it may as well give it over.

Modern Version of New Testament

By EDGAR J. GOODSPEED

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MARK

And it gave a cry and convulsed him terribly, and went out of him. And the boy was like a corpse, so that most of them said that he was dead. But Jesus grasped his hand and made him rise, and he stood up. When he had gone home, and his disciples were alone with him, they asked him, "Why could not we drive it out?"

He said to them, "This kind of thing can only be driven out by prayer."

And they left that place and made their way through Galilee, and he did not wish anyone to know it; for he was teaching his disciples, saying to them,

"The Son of Man is to be handed over to men, and they will kill him, and three days after he is killed he will rise again."

But they did not understand what he meant, and they were afraid to ask him about it.

And they reached Capernaum. When he reached home, he asked them,

"What was it that you were discussing on the way?"

But they made no answer, for one the way they had been discussing with one another which of them was the greatest. And he sat down and called the Twelve in, and said to them,

"If anyone wishes to be first, he must be the last of all and the servant of all."

And he took a child and made him stand among them, and he put his arms around him, and said to them,

"Whoever welcomes one child like this on my account is welcoming me, and whoever welcomes me, welcomes not me but him who has sent me."

John said to him, "Master, we saw a man driving out demons with your name, and we told him not to do so, for he was not one of our followers."

But Jesus said, "Do not tell him not to do so, for there is no one who will use my name to do a mighty act, and be able soon after to abuse me. For the man who is not against us is for us. For whoever gives you a cup of water to drink, on the ground that you belong to Christ, I tell you, will certainly not fail to be repaid. And whoever causes one of these humble believers to fall might better have a great millstone hung around his neck and be thrown into the sea. If your hand makes you fall, cut it off. You might better enter upon life maimed, than go with both your hands to the pit, into the fire that cannot be put out. And if your foot makes you fall, cut it off. You might better enter upon life crippled, than be thrown with both your feet into the pit. And if your eye makes you fall, tear it out. You might better go into the Kingdom of God with only one eye than be thrown with both your eyes into the pit, where the worm that feeds upon them never dies and the fire is never put out. Everyone must be seasoned with fire. Salt is a good thing, but if salt loses its strength, what will you use to season it? You must have salt within you, and live in peace with one another."

And he left that place and went into the district of Judea and crossed the Jordan, and crowds of people again gathered about him, and again he taught them as he was accustomed to do. Some Pharisees came up, and in order to test him asked him whether a man should be allowed to divorce his wife. But he answered,

"What has Moses commanded you to do?"

They said, "Moses permits a man to divorce his wife by drawing up a written divorce-notice."

But Jesus said to them, "It was on account of your perversity that he laid down that law for you. But from the beginning of the creation, 'God made them male and female. Therefore a man must leave his father and mother, and he and his wife must become one,' and so they are no longer two but one. Therefore what God has joined together man must not try to separate."

When they reached the house the disciples asked him about this again. And he said to them,

"Anyone who divorces his wife and marries another woman commits adultery against his former wife, and if a woman divorces her husband and marries another man, she is an adulteress."

And people brought children to him to have him touch them, but the disciples reproved them for it. When Jesus saw it, he was indignant, and said to them,

"Let the children come to me; do not try to stop them, for the Kingdom of God belongs to such as they. I tell you, whoever does not accept the Kingdom of God like a child shall not enter it at all."

And he took the children in his arms and laid his hands on them and blessed them.

As he was starting again on his journey, a man came running up to him, and knelt at his feet and asked him, "Good master, what must I do to make sure of eternal life?"

But Jesus said to him, "Why do you call me good? No one is good but God himself. You know the commandments—Do not murder, Do not commit adultery, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honor your father and mother."

But he said to him, "Master, I have obeyed all these commandments ever since I was a child."

And Jesus looked at him and loved him, and he said to him, "There is one thing that you lack. Go, sell all you have, and give the money to the poor, and then you will have riches in heaven; and come back and be a follower of mine."

But his face fell at Jesus' words, and he went away much cast down, for he had a great deal of property.

And Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, "How hard it will be for those who have money to enter the Kingdom of God!"

But the disciples were amazed at what he said. And Jesus said to them again,

"My children, how hard it is to enter the Kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to get through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to get into the Kingdom of God!"

They were perfectly astounded and said to him, "Then who can be saved?"

Jesus looked at them and said, "For men it is impossible, but not for God, for anything is possible for God."

Peter started to say to him, "Well, we have left all we had, and have followed you."

Jesus said, "I tell you, there is no one who has given up home or brothers or sisters or mother or father or children or land for me and for the good news, but will receive now in this life a hundred times as much in homes, brothers, sisters, mothers, children, and lands, though not without persecution—and in the coming age eternal life. But many who are first now will be last then, and the last will be first."

As they went on their way up to Jerusalem, Jesus walked ahead of them, and they were in dismay, and those who still followed were afraid. And he took the Twelve aside again and began to tell them what was going to happen to him.

TUESDAY CLUB HAS WONDERFUL MEETING

Importance of the position of mother was one of the messages brought to the women of the Tuesday Afternoon club at its regular meeting on December 4 by Mrs. Mary Wright. She said in part: "It is wonderful to be a mother for in her hands lies the success or failure of her child. There is no time lost that you give to your child. The child can give you something that you cannot get anywhere else, a sweetness of spirit if you get into the soul of the child, unselfishness, understanding of the beautiful things of life. It is an evening well spent at home visiting, reading and talking with your children. In nine cases out of ten you can solve your many problems and take care of the situation by having a loving interest in your child. It is more important than club work, more important than education. It is education in the highest form, the education of the soul. That is the work of every mother and she should never lose sight of it. While she should do club work, because it makes her a stronger, finer and better woman, in the doing of it don't let her forget the children."

Glendale is the fastest growing city in America, but it is something bigger and greater than that. It has a spirit, not only of progress and of the desire to succeed, but also a spirit of fellowship, worth whilence, the spirit of real service and desire for the finer and better things of life. I know of no place where there are better opportunities for the children."

This splendid message followed an interesting talk on current events given by Mrs. Wright, who is registrar and teacher of history of the Cumnock School of Expression of Los Angeles and a resident of Glendale. In her talk Mrs. Wright touched upon many of the big topics of the day, including the debts of the European nations to the United States, federal loans for the farmers, immigration problems and alien land laws, the Panama canal, Philippine Island independence, the Pan-Pacific Union, Turkey, education and many others.

A most delightful group of vocal numbers was given by Miss Vida Rohr, Swedish contralto, who has sung in the opera at Munich and has become quite a favorite with the radio fans. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Helen Sawyer. Her numbers included "The Old Refrain" (Kreislir), "Supposing" (Bishop), and "My Dearest Prayer" (Tilden). As an encore she sang "To You" (Speaks).

A message of Christmas was brought to the members by Rev. Hugh K. Walker of the First Presbyterian church of Los Angeles, who was one of the luncheon speakers. He said in part, "Christmas time is the time when we can afford to be careless about the things that so make up our practical, every day life, when we should not have to consider the prudence of things. If you are too practical or too prudent at this time you lose the real thing for which Christmas stands. You club women and intellectuals have many calls for your consideration from science, business, fine arts, literature, pleasure, etc., but do not cast Christ out. It is only with the child spirit that we can come to God and we should remember this at Christmas time."

Mrs. John Stearn Thayer, chairman of information and reciprocity for the Los Angeles district of the California Federation of Women's clubs, urged the members of the T. A. C. who were talented to register with the program bureau of the district in order to be of use to other clubs less fortunate. Mrs. Thayer gave some very enlightening statistics regarding the child labor problems of the United States.

During the luncheon hour Mrs. Daniel Campbell announced that the club would follow the plan of community singing being followed by a number of men's organizations. A number of Christmas carols and other favorite songs were enjoyed by the members, with Mrs. Helen Sawyer at the piano and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell directing. Through the courtesy of the fine arts section, of which Mrs. Roy Ballagh is curator, there is a splendid display of paintings by George Colman of Balboa Beach in the banquet room.

An invitation has been received by the club to attend the housewarming of John McGroarty's new home at Tujunga on Saturday, December 8. Among other announcements made was that Mrs. C. J. Newcomb, historian of the club, has completed the collection of year books of the T. A. C. from 1904 up to the present time.

Hugo Kirchofer will lead community singing at the club meeting on December 11, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. Members of the club were asked to bring an offering for Christmas time that will go towards the work for the fourteen welfare organizations towards which the club is contributing. Two new pictures have been loaned to the club by Mrs. Julia Nichols and are on display in the lounge room.

Mrs. Montgomery urged the club members to attend the "Oh-Oh" show, a musical comedy, to be given at the club on Friday and Saturday of this week. Mrs. W. E. Mabee, district chairman of music of the federation, will be one of the luncheon speakers for December 18. She will talk on "Christmas Music." On December 11, the program will be given by the Orpheus Four.

THURSDAY CLUB TO HAVE CHRISTMAS PARTY

Members of the Thursday afternoon club are to be entertained with a very delightful Christmas program at the regular meeting on December 6 at the home of Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, corner of Laurel street and South Brand boulevard. Miss Hazel Campbell of Glendale, character impersonator, will give the program in costumes, including Chinese stories and other interesting features.

PIANO PUPILS WILL GIVE RECITAL ON FRIDAY EVE

The movies look to all sorts of sources for their material and there have been diggings in many strange fields. One talented young writer thought of trying out mythology. So he went to his general manager with the story of Diana.

The general manager viewed with some interest the illustration presented.

"Who is she?"

"Diana, goddess of the chase."

"Well, she's a pretty fair looking, but we ain't making any more chase pictures."

of its program. The chamber of commerce has kept an account of its work and its various activities before the people of Glendale through the active cooperation of the local newspapers.

A resolution of thanks to the local newspapers, therefore, was officially approved by the board of directors.

"One of the most active committees is that which is charged with the duty of promoting the improvement of highways and the laying out of additional traffic arteries," resumed Mr. Sanders. "The early construction of one new bridge across the Los Angeles river is now assured and this will be the forerunner of other bridges that will be erected in the near future, linking Glendale with the principal highways and boulevards of Southern California.

"The establishment of a city telephone office in Glendale as distinct from an office subordinate to Los Angeles is now engaging the attention of the chamber of commerce.

"The chamber of commerce is working in the closest harmony with the other civic bodies in Glendale.

"Glendale's population today stands close to 45,000, much of the new population being brought here as a direct result of the activities of the chamber of commerce.

"The decision of the Southern Pacific to erect its new depot in Glendale was hastened by the persistent work of the chamber of commerce. Progress is now being made on the building of the depot following the reconciliation of widely divergent views as to the most suitable location, a divergence which was largely harmonized by the efforts of the chamber of commerce.

"Through the efforts of the chamber of commerce many new businesses have been established here during the past year.

"One of the most important civic activities to occupy the attention of the chamber of commerce has been the project to secure an adequate sewer system for Glendale."

R. E. Olin, member of the firm of Olin & Hutchinson, submitted his report upon the audit of the account of the chamber of commerce. This showed a balance on hand of $5,696.14.

HEALTH CENTER IS CLINIC FOR THE ABLE BODIED

The Health Center is what its name implies. It is for healthy adults rather than for the ailing. It is only for persons who cannot meet the fees of family physicians for a similar service.

Thus prevention forms the cornerstone of the Health Center. The entitled to examination are asked to present themselves by appointment. If they think they are in the best of health, so much the better. Perhaps they are, perhaps not. At any rate, they are gone over scientifically, from ear to toe. If any malady or dangerous tendency is discovered, treatment is prescribed. Those passing the tests without a scratch are given general advice, a sort of verbal health insurance policy, and told to return for other examinations at stated periods, preferably on or near their birthday anniversaries.

The Health Center is pioneer work for a medical school, according to Dr. L. S. Schmitt, the acting dean. He explained that it supplemented work already in general use, such as baby clinics and training for motherhood.

Dr. Schmitt said, recently: "The need for periodic examinations of apparently normal individuals has been set forth in numerous publications. The aims of the Health Center are to discover defects in the ways of living; hazards of occupation; minor defects of a physical nature which may be corrected and thereby prevent more serious consequences. Emphasis is placed on prevention in medicine which although not spectacular, is the ultimate goal of the study of disease processes

EDUCATION BOARD TO APPOINT TEN NEW TEACHERS

The appointment of ten additional teachers for next semester in the local grammar school system was authorized last night by the Glendale board of education.

Christmas vacation will commence December 19 and conclude January 2. The first three days of this period teachers will attend the annual county institute in Los Angeles.

An offer to examine the teeth of all school children and to report upon their condition both to the board and to the parents was made by a committee of four local dentists consisting of Dr. T. P. Noehle of 206-A South Brand boulevard, Dr. F. F. Thompson and Dr. D. M. Allen of 149 North Brand boulevard, and Dr. John P. Lucecock of 620 East Broadway. The matter was laid upon the table.

NOW WATCH THEM HURRY TO CALIF.

NAVY DEPARTMENT ACCEPTS SHIP BIDS

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The navy department today accepted bids made by Learner & Rosenthal of Oakland, Calif., for purchase of the battleships Vermont and Nebraska to be scrapped at the Mare Island navy yard under the arms treaty. The company offered $41,110 for the Vermont and $37,110 for the Nebraska.

At the same time the department decided to have the battleships Michigan, Minnesota and Kansas scrapped by navy yard employes at the Philadelphia navy yard and to have the Boston navy yard proceed with the scrapping of the Delaware.

FEDERAL FOREST RESERVE MONEYS

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Federal forest reserve moneys appropriated by congress, paid to the states and by them distributed to the counties need not be disbursed by the counties equally for public road and public school purposes, the supreme court held today in a case brought by King county, Washington against the Seattle school district No. 1.

The county contended that it was vested with discretion in the disbursement of money but the federal district court for western Washington did not take that view and its decision was affirmed by the ninth circuit court of appeals.

This was reversed today. In its decision today the supreme court held that money derived from forest reserves belongs absolutely to the states when turned over to them.

NAVY DEPARTMENT ACCEPTS SHIP BIDS

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The navy department today accepted bids made by Learner & Rosenthal of Oakland, Calif., for purchase of the battleships Vermont and Nebraska to be scrapped at the Mare Island navy yard under the arms treaty. The company offered $41,110 for the Vermont and $37,110 for the Nebraska.

At the same time the department decided to have the battleships Michigan, Minnesota and Kansas scrapped by navy yard employes at the Philadelphia navy yard and to have the Boston navy yard proceed with the scrapping of the Delaware.

FEDERAL FOREST RESERVE MONEYS

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Federal forest reserve moneys appropriated by congress, paid to the states and by them distributed to the counties need not be disbursed by the counties equally for public road and public school purposes, the supreme court held today in a case brought by King county, Washington against the Seattle school district No. 1.

The county contended that it was vested with discretion in the disbursement of money but the federal district court for western Washington did not take that view and its decision was affirmed by the ninth circuit court of appeals.

This was reversed today. In its decision today the supreme court held that money derived from forest reserves belongs absolutely to the states when turned over to them.

A proposed amendment to the board's constitution, which it is intended shall take the place of the present multiple listing article in that document, was considered, section by section, and it was decided to offer this to the board for vote at an early date.

About 75 members of the Glendale realty board were present at this meeting, which was presided over by Peter Hanson, president. W. A. Horn is chairman of the multiple listing committee.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

DREAMS

No draught of nectar ever was like that,
 Dipped up from the brook's current in a hat,
 Nor ever was there cup of gold or jade
 Served thirst as well as that cup that was made
 From ancient straw or felt, with fingers gripped;
 While boys lay flat and in the water dipped;
 Nay, draught of nectar never was like that
 Dipped from the old brook's current in a hat.

Nor ever was there king upon a throne
 Knew gladness such as we did, on a stone
 Beneath a willow tree, who sat all day
 To fish and sleep and dream the hours away.
 The vagrant bees about to drowse and hum,
 With now and then a fishhook in the thumb,
 A sore toe plastered thick with mud, the birds
 Above us and a joy too glad for words.

Who but a boy knows gladness like to that?
 Nectar dipped from the brook in an old hat,
 Berries to eat, a fish upon a hook,
 A stone to sit upon beside a brook,
 A bird to sing, and dreams of treasure rare
 Hidden in iron-bound chests; a pirate's lair
 With doubloons, rusted swords, an old cocked hat—
 Who but a boy knows gladness?—Tell me that!

"CAMEO KIRBY" IN LAST SHOWINGS AT THE GLENDALE

Jean Arthur, playing a leading feminine role in the new William Fox special, "Cameo Kirby," which comes to the Glendale theater for the last times today, can be taken as an inspiration by any screen aspirant. Jean—she is only eighteen—didn't attempt to hurdle established cinematic obstacles to get into pictures. When her photographs appeared in leading magazines, the motion picture producers took cognizance of this vivid, slender, winsome brunette.

Then she received motion picture offers instead of asking for her motion picture chance. That she "had the makings" was evident in the fact that after six months' playing small roles she was given a leading feminine role in "Cameo Kirby."

In picture parlance, Jean photographs like a "million dollars"; she takes direction easily, and she "feels" her scenes when she enacts them.

SEE CONSTANCE TALMADGE AT T. D. & L. THEATRE

Again tomorrow will that "Dangerous Maid," Constance Talmadge, thrill patrons of the T. D. & L. theater, as she bosses the king, his army and the whole country, offering to fight the whole army and actually horsewhipping one of the officers. Then there are the five acts of vaudeville again—Nora Kelly, Ireland's representative comedienne; three Wilson sisters in a rose bower of song and dance; Gulano and Marguerite in music and melody; also Lee Dana and Tom Mills.

DOUG FAIRBANKS THE YOUNGER AT THE GATEWAY

At the Gateway today is seen a picture that features young Doug Fairbanks for the first time, "Stephen Steps Out," also five acts of vaudeville—the better kind. Young Doug bids fair to rival his illustrious dad on the silver screen, think many who have seen this first release showing him in action.

CARLSBAD CAVE NATURAL PALACE, EXPLORERS SAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—A palace of nature has been preserved by President Coolidge's recent proclamation establishing the Carlsbad Cave National Monument, located 25 miles southwest of Carlsbad, New Mexico. Its beauty reminds one of the illustrations of Dore in Dante's inferno, government experts who explored the cavern report. They traveled several miles through underground passages, no one of which was explored to its end. They descended vertically about 800 feet but the depth of the cave is unknown.

So far as known no limestone cavern exists whose chambers approach those of Carlsbad Cave. The internal decorations rival in variety, beauty and magnitude those of any cave heretofore described. The chambers are of phenomenal size and the deposits of travertine so voluminous and varied in form as to be of unusual scientific as well as scenic interest.

The new national monument comprises an area of 719 acres of land. The cave was discovered 22 years ago and was first known as "Bat Cave" because it was the habitat of thousands of bats which have largely been driven away.

KU KLUX KLAN GIVES FIRST LECTURE IN GLENDALE

Twelve hundred Glendale citizens, about one-fourth of whom were women, gathered at 335 North Brand boulevard, last night, to hear the lecture on the principals of the Ku Klux Klan, given by Realm Lecturer Hon. J. Russ Bronson, of Atlanta, Georgia.

"The Klan," said Mr. Bronson, "is a Caucasian, Protestant, American institution. Every member has sworn allegiance to the United States and has sworn to uphold its constitution against every other earthly agency or being. We recognize the American flag as our flag, while the flaming cross of Jesus Christ is our emblem."

"The Klan stands for white supremacy, development of the highest standard in citizenship, the right use of the ballot, for the purest and most practical type of patriotism toward our great and glorious country. It magnifies the Bible, as a basis of our constitution, the foundation of the government. It teaches the worship of God. It honors the Christ as the Klansman's only criterion of character. It believes in the highest expression of life in service and in sacrifice for that which is right."

"The Klan believes we should pay more attention to the home, which is the true American symbol. There is too much disobedience in the home and boys and girls who are improperly trained cannot make the best citizens. It believes we should honor womanhood, a point that is entirely forgotten by many organizations today."

"The Klan is not fighting any creed, religious faith or organization. There are secret organizations in all of the other religious bodies. Why should not the Protestants have their secret body?"

"There are 3,500,000 Klan members in the United States and 350,000 in California—and the organization is growing. A public ceremonial will be held next Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock at Santa Monica, at which time 3,000 members will be taken into the order."

Near the close of his address, Mr. Bronson said:

"I have told you many things and every word has been the truth. With the Flaming Cross of Christ, our own American flag and the Word of God within my reach I could not lie to you."

NEW METERS SHOW GLENDALE'S GROWTH

Glendale continues to grow, according to the records on file in the office of J. F. McIntyre, commercial agent for the public service department. Last month 161 water and 234 electric meters were installed. Altogether 919 water and 11,541 electric meters are now in service. Last November only 135 electric and 228 water meters were installed. "Glendale keeps right on growing," asserted Mr. McIntyre. "There is no indication of any letup. She shows a good healthy growth all the time."
