SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, SAN MATEO COUNTY, CALIF., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1925.

NO. 8

KNEESE OFFERS REMEDY FOR FLOODED ROAD HERE

In the opinion of County Surveyor George A. Kneese, the highway between San Bruno and South San Francisco can be protected from flood waters without resorting to increasing the elevation of the road, which, he says, would cost approximately $50,000.

Work on the project was commenced, but not completed. If the channel had been functioning during the recent heavy rain storms, the highway would not have been covered with water, the county surveyor believes. Instead, the flood would have been diverted from the highway bridge to the railroad bridge and on to the bay.

SKYLINE BANDITS GET $2500 IN HOLDUP

In a daring holdup on the Skyline boulevard near its intersection with the Half Moon Bay-San Mateo road at 6 o'clock Sunday evening two masked highwaymen robbed an automobile party of cash and jewels valued at $2500.

The victims of the robbery were Wallace Cameron of Fruitvale, his two sisters and Mrs. Elsie Ezbein, of San Francisco.

In his report to the sheriff's office, Cameron said he was traveling south on the boulevard when a machine going in the opposite direction forced him into the ditch. There were two men in the automobile, which Cameron described as a small touring car.

One of the highwaymen leaped out of the car and forced Cameron and his party to climb out and line up beside the road. The other robber then stripped the women of their jewels and relieved Cameron of $80 cash. The lot included seven diamond rings and a woman's diamond studded watch. The total value of the gems was more than $2000.

Cameron said that after the robbery the two men ordered him and the women back into the automobile and forced them to drive away.

Both men, he said, were masked with bandana handkerchiefs and wore smoked spectacles as an added disguise.

The Welfare Club gave a prize whist party for its members and their families on Tuesday evening at the club house. Mrs. P. Bowler held the high score, taking first prize. INCREASED DEMAND FOR CLOSED MODELS IS NOTED HERE

The new Buick coaches, both in the master six and the standard models, continue to attract hundreds of prospects, according to Joe Altieri, manager of the Colma Motor Car Company, local Buick distributors.

"We were satisfied when these coaches arrived that they would prove to be big sellers, especially to individuals looking for closed cars at open car prices. It is doubtful if any Buick enclosed car has ever swept into such prominence in so short a time as the two coach models.

"Dealers throughout the Pacific coast territory report that they will be able to handle a big supply of the coach jobs just as soon as the company is able to fill their orders.

"With the wave of prosperity at hand, our record for 1924 in sales should easily be topped during the year 1925.

"Since the first of the year business has been very brisk, and this definite demand for more coaches will mean a busy season for the next few months to come.

"The production schedule at the Buick factory has been stepped up so as to keep enough cars rolling to dealers during the heaviest selling months. This production will enable them to meet immediate demand as near as possible.

"Never before has there been such a distinct demand for enclosed models. This condition has no doubt been created through the rush on the coach jobs."

LARGE LOCOMOTIVE BOUGHT BY S. P.

The American Locomotive Company has announced the receipt of an order from the Southern Pacific system for a very large and powerful three-cylinder locomotive, says the Railway Review. It will be the largest and most powerful non-articulated locomotive that has ever been built. It will have a tractive power of approximately 90,000 pounds, a 4-10-2 wheel arrangement, and being the first of this type built in the United States, will be known as the "Southern Pacific type."

The same spirit of progress on the part of Southern Pacific which influenced them in the purchase of the ten large mountain type locomotives, leads to a greater endeavor in enlarging economies already enjoyed. Hence the order for this powerful three-cylinder locomotive.

The merits of this type of engine have been thoroughly tested on foreign roads.

REFER BUILDING TO HEALTH OFFICER

The request of Eugene Gordon of 10 Grand avenue, to install a glass partition and open a new street door to his barber shop was referred to City Health Officer Dr. T. C. Doak. It was pointed out Doak is investigating this property as it is alleged many Mexicans reside in the building which lacks sanitary facilities. A Mexican lad recently died there of tuberculosis and another is reported ill of the same disease on the premises.

Requests of Sterling Foster for permits to erect four houses were granted upon motion of Trustee McCaffrey, seconded and amended by Trustee Cunningham that Foster appear in person hereafter when seeking permits to building the type of house he is outlining plans for a new building at the corner of California and Linden. The opinion was expressed by members of the board that the houses are probably undervalued or that they cover just the cost of carpentering and not of plumbing and electrical fixtures and foundations.

Antonio Veroni appeared with plans for a new building at the corner of California and Linden, the old building having been condemned as a fire trap and a health menace. A permit was granted.

BURLINGAME GIVES $250 FOR BAYSHORE FUND

Burlingame city trustees Monday night voted $250 to be used in the campaign to be carried on at Sacramento in behalf of the Bayshore highway when the legislature reconvenes. This amount, together with $750 appropriated yesterday by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, makes a total of $1000 for the county.

H. W. Regan of Burlingame and F. A. Cunningham of South San Francisco are the members of the committee which was appointed to raise $1000 in San Mateo county to finance the fight to pass legislation which would make possible the construction of the Bayshore highway from San Francisco to San Jose, despite the fact that the road was omitted from the report of the governor's Committee of Nine.

The contribution from the Burlingame city trustees came following a meeting in Burlingame of representatives of the Peninsula Chambers of Commerce, Federated which organization is actively engaged in carrying on the fight for the Bayshore highway.

MORE DRESSING UP

New Edwards Wire Works Tower and Illuminated Sign Gives Upper End of Factory District a Large Edge on Self-Identification

With the city busying itself with park plans and projects for the beautification of the center of the industrial zone has again quietly set about on a campaign of improvement and self-advertising.

Recently Western Pipe & Steel constructed a fiery red sign on the top of its building to identify itself. Now its neighbor, Edwards Wire Works, has had painted on a newly erected steel water tower tank its firm name and business. This sign is illuminated by night by a powerful searchlight and a mighty pleasing effect is produced.

At the present rate the northern end of the industrial zone is far in advance of the balance of the district in selling itself to the passerby and in dressing up.

THE "ANNEXATION" QUESTION

We Approach the Study Holding Certain Ideas at Present, But They Are Subject to Change

It is well that experts in municipal research have been delegated to make a thorough and impartial study of the whole great and ramifying matter loosely labeled "Annexation" in connection with the question of what the peninsula communities are to do regarding any possible change in their political status.

Each of these subjects presents a big field of investigation in itself. All of them need to be considered at considerable length before our final judgment is formed.

But not everything can be left to the research experts. The mere completion and transmission of a report by them will not automatically endow all the rest of us with a full understanding of all that they are now learning.

The term "annexation," in the loose sense in which we use it here includes the following possibilities: Amalgamation of San Francisco and San Mateo county; amalgamation of those counties with the additional inclusion of Palo Alto; joining of Palo Alto and the communities at the southern edge of San Mateo county within the mile radius of Palo Alto; formation of a new county from the territory from Belmont in San Mateo county to Mayfield or Mountain View in Santa Clara, leaving the northern half of San Mateo county to merge with San Francisco.

Our final judgment on these possibilities is yet to be formed, as we said above. But that does not preclude our holding of certain present ideas which we freely acknowledge are subject to change should more exhaustive information than is now at hand indicate that we are now wrong.

Our present attitude is one of doubt whether the political linking of our communities with San Francisco would be for the best interests of ourselves. "It is bound to happen sooner or later," the bromide repeats. But why is it bound to happen if we should decide conclusively that we would not want it to happen?

We do not say that that step would be foolish. We merely say that it might be found to be so. We believe that the people affected should be on their guard against being swept off their feet into a position they later might not enjoy by lack of resistance to the convincing power of the mere repetition of phrases.

There are obviously many problems which San Francisco and the peninsula communities have in common, such as water supply, waterfront and harbor development, transportation, etc. But much can be accomplished in all these lines to the mutual advantage of both San Francisco and the peninsula without any change in political status.

In the matter of water supply, for instance, it has been said in unofficial and not wholly authoritative conversations that cheaper rates for the water could probably be arranged for the peninsula cities if they were merged with San Francisco.

These are not final judgments, let us remind you. They merely express some of our ideas on some of the "annexation" details to date. We may be entirely wrong. We may be entirely right. We may be part and part. But some day all of us are to be called upon to decide what will be done. It is time now to begin studying the matter. And our study can be carried much farther when the report of the research staff is finished.

The American Federation of Labor is proceeding in a logical and proper manner with its continued efforts to put over eventually the federal constitutional amendment to empower congress to regulate child labor. An educational campaign will be carried on in those states which have failed to ratify the measure upon first consideration.

CITY TAKES FIRST STEP IN PARK PURCHASE

With the passage of a resolution on Tuesday, the first step toward completion of the city's park and playground program was taken by the city trustees on Monday night. It is provided in the agreement to be drawn with the land company that the land can never be used for any other public purposes.

Protests of property owners on Miller avenue against the proposed erection of a dwelling at the corner of Miller and Magnolia avenues by Peter Maltrani at less than 13 feet from the property line was referred to the city attorney for an opinion.

Peter J. McCormick was named plumbing inspector to succeed Trustee Carl Blank, who recently resigned. One other application was received, that of Charles Young, who stood three to two in favor of McCormick with Blank, McCaffrey and McNellis voting aye, and Cunningham and Eschebach voting no.

The condition of the paving on Baden avenue was called to the attention of the board by Trustee McCaffrey and ordered inspected and repaired. An impassible road to the garage dumps west of the city as reported by Trustee Eschebach and City Engineer Kneese was ordered to look into the situation there.

PHYSICIAN'S GLAND EXPERIMENTS ASTOUND SCIENTIFIC WORLD

Through a New Scientific Discovery the Vital Glands May Be Assisted in Their Work of Supplying the Energizing Glucogenic Secretions Which Are So Necessary to Vigorous Health.

Thousands of Men and Women Now Take Glucogen to Help Regain Normal Health, Vigor and Strength

Wonders have been worked in the rejuvenation of youth and vigor by glandular treatment in one of California's State Institutions. This "Scientific Magic" has been performed by the head physician and surgeon, who reports success in 90% of 1,000 cases treated.

Probably the most remarkable instance is the case of a 73-year-old man who displayed the athletic prowess of a youth of twenty by running a 50-yard race in 6 seconds.

EMINENT SCIENTISTS AND PHYSICIANS REVEAL AMAZING FACTS ABOUT GLANDS.

Dr. Serge Voronoff, an international authority on Organotherapy, has said: "The brain, the nerves, the muscles, as well as the liver, the kidneys and all other organs would be incapable of playing any useful part without the aid of the organs of our glands."

At a recent medical convention in Chicago, Dr. Roy Upham, president of the American Institute of Homeopathy, stated that because of the intimate connection of the nervous system with the glands, many sufferers from nervous disorders were receiving remarkable benefits from glandular treatment. He further stated that this glandular treatment could be taken by mouth like any other medicine, and that an operation is not necessary.

Dr. Arnold Lorand says in his book, "Old Age Defered," in speaking of the glands: "We must insist upon the reinforcement of their functions, if changed by age or disease by means of extracts obtained from the similar organs of healthy young animals."

GLANDULAR TREATMENT (GLUCOGEN) CAN NOW BE TAKEN IN CONVENIENT TABLET FORM.

Thousands of men and women are now turning to glandular treatment to help regain lost strength, vigor, vitality and health. Since science has prepared a gland treatment in simple, compact tablet form—Glucogen—it is a simple matter to take glandular treatment. Glucogen is scientifically prepared in two different forms, one for men and one for women, from the vital glands of healthy young animals, combined with other efficacious ingredients. Peninsula Drug Co., South San Francisco, Daly City, and Colma, will supply you.

WHO'S WHO in the HIGH SCHOOL

EDITORIAL NOTE

Visiting schools does not seem to be in the province of parents nowadays, and in order to acquaint you with "who's who in the high school" and what you may expect them to do for your boys and girls, and you, this column each week will print a short item giving the past achievements and present-day policies of each high school teacher. Parents should have a real interest in the schools, and we hope in this column to develop this interest.

GUY J. RONEY

It is altogether fitting and proper that the good old state of Indiana which holds its reputation as the "Hoosier Schoolmaster State," should also furnish a man to head the South San Francisco High School. It takes a Hoosier to handle successfully the problems as they occur locally.

Guy J. Roney is that one—the principal. After completing his elementary and high school education in Indiana, he came west and entered the Junior College at Fullerton, California. Here he stood high in his classroom work. He turned out for athletics and played on the college teams of basketball, baseball, track and tennis. Debating, too, was a favorite activity, and he represented his school many times in this capacity.

At Stanford University, Roney majored in history, education and physical education, with the idea of following these closely as an immediate calling. His athletic prowess continued to wax, and he easily made and played on the first team of soccer and basketball.

Mission High School of San Francisco recognized a good man, and made him head of the physical education department. Here an average of 1,300 students came under his personal supervision daily. The Humboldt Evening School claimed him, too, for the same work, and Roney pointed with a great deal of pride to the work he did there in helping men to improve their bodies by exercise and personal hygiene. His work with these two schools lasted for a year and a half, and for the balance of the second year he was transferred to Lowell High School to act in the same role.

The following year brought a change of residence and advancement for Mr. Roney for he captured the principalship of the Half Moon Bay Union High School. He entered where turmoil at first existed, but successfully straightened this out and remained for four and one-half years to enjoy the good will of the community at large. The problems of part-time education, the employment of child labor in factories, and difficult problems of discipline shaped him for the parallel work he has taken over with the South San Francisco High School since August last.

Roney has definite clear-cut ideas as to the educational needs of this community, and knows how to go about materializing these theories. The first need he saw was that of new buildings to relieve the congestion of classes, and to accommodate the fast growing necessity of teaching trades in the youth of an industrial city. The carrying of the school bonds at the recent election brings the principal close to his plan for a separate housing of the popular physical education, shop, mechanical drafting, free-hand drawing, and domestic science classes.

Mr. Roney is a thorough believer in student self-government and in student rights. Those who carry their rights to an extreme find that he is a stern disciplinarian, well able and fearless in backing up his statements.

He is a striking example of the modern theory of a body developed to support the mind, and not one to the detriment or expense of the other. In addition to his work as principal, he holds classes in government, economics and civics for seniors, and fitting gives them the final send-off into the world.

Mesdames W. H. Coffinberry, E. Coffinberry and Miss Eleanor Hynding attended a bridge party given by the Delta Gamma Sorority in Berkeley Saturday evening.

Large Crowd Attends Dedication of New St. Paul's M. E. Church

Sunshine—bright and warm and lasting for the entire day, after a week of rainstorms—was indicative of the spirit which was shown by the townspeople gathered at the cornerstone laying for the new St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church on the corner of Miller and Spruce avenues Sunday morning. The crowd gathered at an early hour, and by the time the services were well under way, fully 150 men, women and children had assembled. The fact that it was Sunday made no difference to about 20 small boys who took a keen delight in climbing the beams and scrambling over the framework, even as high up as the roof. When the services began, each found a perch on a rafter, others sat winging their legs just above the speaker's platform, and remained there throughout the exercises.

The seating arrangement of the audience and the position of the pulpit was the same as it will be in the completed structure. On the improvised pulpit rostrum were seated thirteen people, each the head of one of the various local organizations, body or association. Each was called upon to speak, and while it is impossible here to record the words of any particular one, yet all brought greetings and good will for the new church.

Many Bring Felicitations

The speakers, in addition to Rev. Beall, included Dr. Warner of the Methodist Conference; Mr. Lawrence, the architect; Mr. Blaine, the artist; H. F. McNellis, mayor of South San Francisco; Charles B. Hodgkin, editor of the Journal; Harry J. Borba, editor of the Enterprise; George W. Holston, president of the chamber of commerce; Mrs. J. O. Snyder, president of the Woman's Club; Mrs. J. E. Sullivan, one of the first charter members of the local church; Mrs. I. H. Dotson, president of the Ladies' Aid; Mrs. W. A. Fox, superintendent of the Cradle Roll; Ira H. Potter, president of the church trustees, and J. O. Snyder, chairman of the church building committee. Father Moran was unable to be present but a letter from him was read.

In the audience also were seen some of the city trustees, newspaper people, officers of the banks, members of the school board, the father of South San Francisco, the president of the Merchants' Association, the secretary of the Manufacturers' Association, the principals of the schools, including about two-thirds of the high school faculty, high officials and masters of almost every lodge, prominent business men and worshippers of the Episcopal, Science and Catholic faiths. All came to pay tribute to the town's newest socializing asset in a wholesome spirit of the kind that only South City fosters.

Quartet Pleases

One of the pleasant things about the morning service was the men's quartet, consisting of Messrs. Hargraves, Young, Hardy and Beall. Their announcement brought a stir on the outer edges of the audience, but from the first note the stir surprised and hearts were changed to surprise, appreciation and praise for the clear, beautiful harmony of tones.

The sermon of the morning was delivered by Dr. Warner, and his theme was an enlargement of the spirit already expressed. When he had finished the congregation gathered around the cornerstone. The engraving on the stone reads: "Saint Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, erected A. D. 1925." Out of the top of this stone is hollowed a niche, large enough to hold a steel bond box. The box contains many lists, such as contributors to the new edifice, the cradle roll, the charter members, the Ladies' Aid, the Epworth League, and the name of every boy and girl in the grammar and high school. The box was carefully placed in its niche, the stone shifted into its proper position, and with a brief reading by Dr. Warner, the services officially ended.

Among the guests invited to hear the happy news were Misses Wilma Davidson, Doris Cattalini, Elsie and Madeline Price, Freda Braeco, Muriel Roberts, Lena Cortesi, Bernice Stireman, Messrs. THESE GEESE DON'T HANG HIGH

Editor Enterprise:

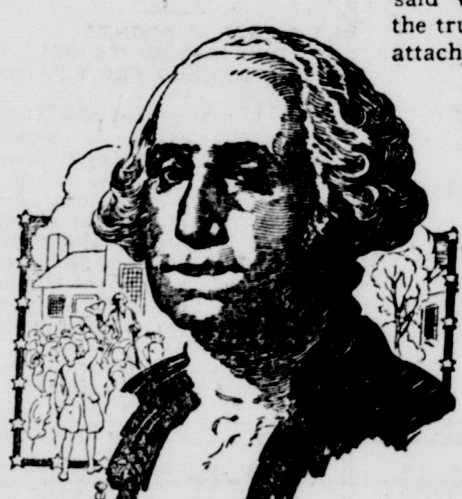

South San Francisco is considered a rapidly advancing industrial city, and who helps to make it so? Why, the men who work hard in the different plants, and, of course, they need rest at night; but on one of our best residential streets people keep noisy honking geese, who start in with their noise from midnight 'til 7 o'clock a. m., breaking the rest of our working men. Can we not have this nuisance abated? A SUBSCRIBER.
