LADIES OF CHURCH SERVE DIN-NER TO WORKERS ON TABERNACLE

Quite some work was done on the Brown and Curry tabernacle between showers Tuesday and the breaking of a perfect morning called out the largest number of workers thus far, including most of the preachers, some of whom can drive a nail straight, but most of whom are more at home driving theological points. There is plenty of sunshine, however, around at the tabernacle despite a few bruised fingers, and the immense edifice is going up in record time under the direction of skilled carpenters, of whom Glendale has its share.

Judged by the enthusiasm of the men on the job and the large number responding to the call, Noah must certainly have happened upon evil times in that he saved but eight souls including himself while building the ark. One of the prominent pastors aptly remarked standing by watching the progress of the work, "You can always count on our men; they never fail."

Lunch is served by the good sisters promptly at 12 noon, an institution which will be continued each day till the tabernacle is completed. Work commenced promptly at 8 o'clock, opening with prayer by Pastor Willisford, chairman of the prayer meeting committee. All who figure on having a part in the work had better jump in right now. Mr. Banker, the city building inspector, is the chairman of the building committee and the success of his end of the great campaign for souls to commence on the 14th, explains the broad smile he is wearing in these days of big things for the church of Christ in Tropic, Casa Verdugo and Glendale.

CARRY BODY LASHED TO POLE

The Pulliam Undertaking company was called to Sunland Tuesday to take charge of the body of J. L. Bryant, who passed away at his home six miles above Sunland in the mountains. It was impossible to ford the river and bring the body down by the usual trail and friends of the dead man carried his remains over the mountains. The body was wrapped in sheets and tied to a pole and slung on the shoulders of the men, six of whom volunteered for the greswome task. It was a long, hard journey over the unused trails and the undertakers waited in Sunland nearly all day for the body.

The remains are at the Pulliam undertaking parlors awaiting arrangements for the funeral, which will not be held until conditions are such that the family can leave their mountain home.

HIGH SCHOOL FAIR WELL ADVERTISED

The "county fair," which is to be held at the high school Friday and Saturday nights is rapidly taking shape of one of the largest attractions ever held in Glendale.

The list of amusements, which is published in another column, is but an inkling of the great number of attractions which will be going.

The entire woodworking department is busy today constructing the booths and corrals and sundry other things in that line which a carnival involves. The advertising committee made a round of the grammar schools this morning and heralded the coming event.

The advertising committee also had a number of autos with banners, pretty girls and clowns in a parade along the race course this afternoon and needless to say, they were "shot" by cameras a number of times.

People of Glendale should see to it that the high school buildings are jammed to the doors both evenings, for entertainment has been provided for fifteen hundred people each evening. Come and in the words of the advertising committee, "Bring your pocketbooks."

A WORD TO THE WISE

It has come to the ears of the management of The News that someone who speaks and then thinks mentioned at a public meeting recently that the Evening News intentionally withholds certain reports of the city officials. The man making that statement does not know the manager of the Evening News, or he would make no such statement.

It is so easy for some people to talk without knowing what they are talking about that it seems out of place to take any notice of their sayings. The management of The News stands in with nobody, but wishes to be fair with everybody. If your liver is bad, call a physician and get yourself in respectable condition before you appear in public.

PATRIOTISM THEME

MRS. PRESTON PRESIDES AT A Patriotic Meeting of THE P. T. A.

The monthly meeting of the high school Parent-Teachers' association was held in the household science building Tuesday afternoon at 3:15. The meeting was called to order by Rev. E. H. Willisford, president. The minutes of the preceding meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. R. D. White. Mrs. Cora Nichols, treasurer of the association, gave a report showing $8.10 in the treasury and that no money had been paid out during the past month.

Mrs. Lord, chairman of the membership committee, extended an invitation for those present and their friends to become members of the association and said she would be at the desk at the close of the meeting to receive dues from those who wished to pay.

Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the federated Parent-Teachers' association of Glendale, said she had received a communication from officers of the Congress of Mothers of California stating that that organization will entertain the National Congress of Mothers at San Francisco some time in May and to defray the expense connected with providing this entertainment, each association in the state has been asked to contribute $1. On motion, the treasurer of the high school Parent-Teacher association was instructed to remit $1 to the Congress of Mothers.

Prof. Harry L. Howe read the new constitution which had been, as he stated, mainly prepared by Mrs. Lord, another member of the committee.

The chair announced that the constitution would be taken up for a second reading and further discussion at the next regular meeting. The question of the association becoming a member of the Valley Relief association of Glendale was also taken up for consideration and favorably acted upon. The treasurer was instructed to pay $5 into the fund of the relief association.

Mrs. A. S. Chase, the chairman of the patriotism committee of the federation, said that arrangements are being made to have February 17th celebrated in a special way. On that date her committee will have charge of the new columns of the Glendale Evening News. Mrs. Chase also announced the lecture to be given on February 22nd by Frances M. Richardson, "The Flag Lady." The Palace Grand theater has been secured for this lecture.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. T. W. Preston, chairman of the patriotism committee of the high school association.

Mrs. John R. Barrows gave a piano solo, followed by ten-minute addresses by Prof. George U. Moyle on "Respect for Authority," Prof. Harry L. Howe on "Twentieth Century Patriotism," A. T. Cowan on "The Relation of Duty to Patriotism." Mrs. Fred Hagin read an interesting paper containing many excellent suggestions for bringing about a spirit of loyalty, patriotism and good citizenship among the young people of our high schools.

After a song by Mrs. Frank Arnold and a reading by Miss Terry, all joined in "America" and the audience was dismissed.

HONEST INVESTIGATION

Honest investigation should be invited by all public officials and persons making investigations should have honest and noble purposes at heart. Public officials should throw away all signs of doing things in secret. It is presumed that citizens of a community like this one are intelligent and will be satisfied with honest and clear explanations. The few citizens who will not listen to reason will have but few followers.

TO ATTEND PURE FOOD SHOW

The Merchants' association of this city and vicinity will go to Los Angeles Thursday evening, where they will attend the pure food show which is being held under the auspices of the Southern California Retail Grocers' association. This show is held in the Brockman building, corner of Seventh and Grand, and will close on February 6. The show this year is said to be the best and largest ever held and is being well attended. It is educational as well as interesting. There is a cooking school every afternoon and a baby show every afternoon at 2 o'clock. Concert and entertainment every afternoon and evening, and lots of good things to eat. The Glendale merchants are looking forward to a good time tomorrow evening.

Mr. Leslie Meeker of 116 West Fifth street, who has been in San Francisco for the past three or four months, has returned to Glendale.

Splendid Weather and Excellent Management Prevent Any Serious Accidents

Once and for all Glendale is on the map of the sporting world. Following a protracted "wet spell" on account of which the Glendale road race had to be postponed from Saturday until today, the sun shone out in all its glory this morning and with the assistance of the wind, the course was soon dry and in good condition. The racers were out on the track at an early hour, the race course was roped off, a large number of special policemen sworn in and the large crowd began to throng the streets before noon.

The road race committee for the Glendale lodge of Elks, under whose auspices the race was given, consisting of J. W. Lawson, John Roman, F. J. Showalter, John W. Usilton, A. W. Beach and Phil Roach, have been busy men all day, as well as for the past two weeks.

Occupying the judges' stand this afternoon were O. B. Henderson, vice-president Pacific KisselKar branch; Frank H. Carroll, manager Goodrich Tire and Rubber company; O. R. Fuller, Pioneer Commercial Auto company; Eddie Lingenfelder, manager Goodyear Tire and Rubber company; K. E. Ahlberg of the Ahlberg Bearing company.

Technical committee—Guy West, Western Rubber and Supply company; W. E. Bush, the Pierce-Arrow agent; Al G. Faulkner of the Carlton Faulkner Bowles company.

F. H. Pendleton was chief timer, with W. H. Halliwell and L. W. Wickes as assistants. Mel Stringer acted as manager and V. E. McDermott as clerk of the course. Standish L. Mitchell, secretary of the Automobile club of Southern California, represented the contest board of the American Automobile association, under whose sanction the race was held. Joseph H. McDuffee was referee.

The cars and drivers were:
No. 1, Marmon, Guy Ball.
No. 4, Renault, Gaston Morris.
No. 5, Gordon Special, Huntley Gordon.
No. 6, Isotta, H. Reynolds.
No. 9, Alco, Billy Taylor.
No. 10, Duesenberg, J. Callaghan.
No. 11, Marmon, A. A. Cadwell.
No. 12, Ford, Jack Elliott.
No. 19, Duesenberg, Ed O'Donnel.
No. 20, Chevrolet, George Hill.
Barney Oldfield, the official starter, gave the starting signal at 2:20. The machines were lined up in pairs, and was only stopped by the finish of the first five.

No. 19, the winner, came near to having an accident when it hit and killed a large dog at Third street and Glendale avenue. O'Donnel soon righted the machine and went on. After the race O'Donnel went around to the scene of the "killing" and took a look at his victim.

Hill, who won third, threw his left rear tire on Glendale avenue between Third and Second. This did not stop Oldfield's plucky mechanic, however, and he rode in third on the rim.

EDUCATION AND THE STATE IN ENGLAND

The warning expressed recently by Dr. Weldon, the well-known educationist, that there was reason to fear that education today, in England, was not wholly free from the "taint of civic uselessness," must be regarded as timely. Anyone, it is true, who carefully considers the development of educational systems during the past half century, must have noticed a growing tendency toward a greater freedom and a willingness to depart from precedent, where better results seem to be promised by so doing. In nothing perhaps, however, is conservatism more strongly entrenched than in the educational systems. The more difficult the acquisition of knowledge has been made to them, the more reluctant, it would seem, are those who have at length acquired this knowledge to free those to whom they would, in turn, communicate it from the necessity of passing through the same school.

As a consequence of this, the schoolmasters of yesterday, who, as the schoolboys of the day before, had, in the words of Dr. Weldon, spent many hours month after month in producing what could never be called poetry, and seldom deserved to be called versification, in Greek and Latin, were possessed of a great reluctance to abandon the idea that such occupations had not the most profound educational value. There are indications, however, in every direction that educationists are now breaking away from these traditions;

Nos. 1 and 2 being first and No. 20 last. There was an interval of ten seconds between the starting. No. 2 had engine trouble and failed to make a start.

A feature of the race was the consistent team work of Ball in the Marmon 1 and Cadwell in the Marmon 11 who went lap after lap side by side. They separated company for a while but were together again towards the close of the race.

In the thirteenth lap No. 6, Isotta, was ruled out on account of its faulty brakes. This was only after its driver, Reynolds, had mixed up with the crowd at Sixth and Brand.

The four sharp turns on the two-mile course cut down the average speed to around fifty miles an hour, although on the straight-away on Brand boulevard opposite the P. E. station a number of the drivers hit a 105-mile gait.

One of the exciting incidents of the race was when No. 4, Renault, driven by Gaston Morris, turned cross wise at Second and Glendale avenue and ran into the crowd and wire. No one was hurt except Morris and only his face was scratched. He kept in the race, although he didn't figure in the money.

Callaghan, who drove No. 10 Duesenberg, blew a tire at Glendale avenue and the Salt Lake tracks, but he changed tires in 27 seconds with the result that he came in for second money.

No. 11, Marmon, driven by Cadwell, who was contesting for third money, had engine trouble in the fiftieth lap, which put him out of the running.

The little Ford, No. 12, achieved something in the race not often accomplished by a Ford. It went fifty laps, nearly the entire distance, without a stop, except to change one tire, and was only stopped by the finish of the first five.

Because a tax on their gross receipts could only be secured through a constitutional amendment, the board favors a heavy license tax to achieve the same end.

NORTH GLENDALE

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Rice of 1632 Ruth street will regret to hear that their little daughter is very ill suffering from an attack of tonsillitis.

Miss Edna Muller, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Muller of Fairview avenue, has just recovered from an attack of chickenpox that has confined her to the house for the past ten days.

Mr. Leland Duncan of 1600 Ruth street is the proud possessor of a pedigree Boston bull pup, the gift of his uncle, Mr. Joe Ellis of San Francisco.

Mrs. G. M. Gregory of Los Angeles was the guest of Mrs. H. Bettis of 1610 Stocker street at luncheon last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Townsend of 507 North Brand boulevard entertained, with a very pretty dancing party last Monday evening at their attractive home, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion with marigolds. Mr. Fred Ellis of Pasadena rendered several baritone solos during the intermission of dances, and Mrs. Stone of Los Angeles was the pianist for the evening, and she certainly charmed the happy guests with her playing. At 11 o'clock the hostess served a dainty buffet luncheon and a very happy evening was enjoyed by about thirty guests who motored out from Los Angeles and the following guests from Glendale: Mr. and Mrs. Lee L. Payne of North Louise street, also Mr. and Mrs. Frank Townsend of Louise street. Mr. Floyd Murphy, formerly of 1648 Ruth street, now of Maultman avenue, Los Angeles, has secured a position with the Esperero de Verdugo company of Casa Verdugo.

BETTER SCHOOL LAWS

NECESSITY OF BETTER LEGISLATION IS DISCUSSED BY SCHOOL BOARDS

The necessity of better legislation for the schools of California was strongly emphasized by members of school boards representing sixty-five school districts of Los Angeles county, who met in the office of County Superintendent of Schools Mark Keppel. This conference was called at the request of the Pomona board of education. County Superintendent Keppel was elected chairman and superintendent Bennett of the Pomona city schools was elected secretary.

The program of school legislation as worked out in the Riverside schools received unanimous approval. After considerable discussion it was deemed advisable that Los Angeles county should have a responsible representative at the legislative session in Sacramento. Superintendent Keppel was appointed as a committee of one to represent the county in lobbying for better school laws.

Among other important subjects concerning legislation discussed by the conference were:

First, that the legislature be requested to reimburse the state school fund of $315,000 that was lost at the last election by the abandonment of the poll tax.

Second, that the legislature should pass a law establishing a fund for the erection and maintenance of separate schools for feeble-minded children.

Third, that the legislature should pass an act that would authorize the levying of a state tax, not to exceed a 20 per cent tax rate, to be expended for the support of kindergartens. Fourth, supporting the passage of an act authorizing the governing school boards to levy a tax, not to exceed the 20-cent limit, to be used as a building fund.

Fifth, indorsing an act that would set apart $250,000 a year from the collateral inheritance tax to be used in the investment of a permanent fund for the interests of the schools. Sixth, requesting the legislature to increase the state schools tax from $13 per unit to $18 per unit.

Seventh, the adoption of a resolution requesting the legislature to increase the county school fund from $13 per unit to $26 per unit.

SUES P. E. FOR $103,035

Damage suits aggregating $103,035 were filed against the Pacific Electric the other day by Dr. Lillian M. Whiting and her son, Lorenzo, growing out of the accident at Bank and Fair Oaks streets, Pasadena, May 7, 1913, when Dr. Clement A. Whiting was killed and Mrs. Whiting and Lorenzo Whiting were injured.

Mrs. Whiting brought suit in behalf of her minor children, Robert and Lillian, for the death of their father, asking $70,350; she brought suit for $17,685 damages for the injuries she suffered, and Lorenzo, now of age, asked $15,000 damages for his own injuries.

The accident was the result of Dr. Whiting's automobile stalling on the tracks. It is alleged that the motor man saw the car there and failed to take proper precautions to prevent striking it. Dr. Whiting was a prominent osteopath physician, author and lecturer. He resided in South Pasadena.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

The Glendale Municipal League met in Butler's hall Tuesday evening. The meeting was called to order by the temporary chairman, E. M. McClure. M. P. Russell was elected permanent chairman and C. W. Doyle was chosen permanent secretary, the regular secretary, J. F. Tatlow, being absent.

The constitution governing the de-liberations of the meeting was presented by the committee in charge and said constitution was adopted.

On motion the chair was instructed to appoint a committee of five members whose duty it will be to investigate in detail as to the conditions at the city hall and report at the next meeting.

BOYS DOING DAMAGE

A gentleman from the La Crescenta-La Canada territory called at the Evening News office a few days ago and called our attention to the reckless damaging of boys who come out from Glendale to that locality. They throw stones at buildings, shoot at random, fill water reservoirs with stones and sand, and do other damage to property. Parents should inquire as to the doings of their sons when absent from the parental roof.

It usually is a matter of "e's" for the eligible lonely widow to trans-late weeds into weds.

VALENTINE MASQUERADE

The masquerade and Valentine party given Tuesday night at the social hall of the First Methodist church by the J. O. C. class proved a great success. As usual, the rain held a few young folks back, but those who braved the running waters were well repaid.

Upon entering the rooms one was surprised to see how beautifully and tastefully they had been decorated. Hundreds of large and small red hearts were hung everywhere, while asparagus plumosus, red roses and poinsettias were twined around the lights and across the doorways. Here and there was a golden arrow piercing a heart. Large warm rugs covered the floors and a fire kept burning brightly, adding to the cheer.

Each guest was met at the door by a gypsy maid, who pinned a number on and handed him a pencil and piece of paper, and said in a low grumbling voice to guess who each number was. This surely was a task. There was Red Riding Hood, Negro Mammies, Dolls, Old Maids, Feeble Old Ladies, Nurses, Maids, a Gypsy and a Swedish peasant, also several ladies (?) who had a hard time getting around; their skirts, either too full or too long, being in the way, and they were noticed to be resting frequently. Ike was there and a number of clowns, an Indian chief, lawyers and coons. Mrs. May E. Knox and Mrs. Rachel Lord guessed all present and each received a Valentine.

Many amusing games were played, and at a late hour refreshments of hot chocolate, sandwiches, pickles and heart-shaped cakes were served, the happy guests going home in the moonlight. The committee, consisting of Ruth Mathiesen, Laura Maxwell, Mrs. May Knox, Esther Andrae and Marguerette Flower, did hard and earnest work and their party will long be remembered by all who came.

TROPICO

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Muhleman were among the guests who gathered to celebrate the eighty-first birthday anniversary of Mr. Jacob J. Muhleman at his home on Maple avenue, Glendale. Mr. Muhleman, Sr., entered into the spirit of the occasion with all the zest of the younger generation and children and grandchildren seated at the dinner table completed a happy celebration.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church are diligently at work preparing for the supper to be given at the church Friday evening.

Tuesday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the cabinet of the Epworth League of the First Methodist church, plans were made and committees appointed to carry out the work arranged by the executive board for the Brown and Curry meetings, which will soon open at the tabernacle in Glendale. The league is entering into the work heartily and expects fully to do its share in the interests of Tropic.

Mrs. S. A. Pollock and her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Cassels, were recent guests at a luncheon given by Mrs. E. Wilkes of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Frank Stoddard, who is at the head of the Florence Crittenden home in Los Angeles, will address the members of the Thursday Afternoon club on February 4th. The subject of the talk will be "The Unmarried Mother and Her Child." Mrs. Stoddard's ability as a speaker, her knowledge of the subject and her own charming personality give assurance of an interesting afternoon. Mrs. Frank B. McKenney of Eulalia street is to be the hostess and assisting her will be Mrs. D. H. Smith, Mrs. O. E. Clemens, Mrs. J. H. Smith and Mrs. E. K. Barnes.

Mrs. A. A. Burbank, with her brother, Mr. Joseph Andrews, leaves today for the beach for a visit with old-time friends.

On Saturday Mrs. Frank Marsn was hostess to the Norton Art club. Mrs. J. T. Chapman presided, and gave in her especially capable way a summary and criticism of the papers read, which is always an enjoyable feature of the meeting. A number of interesting papers were read by Mrs. Frank Ashton, Jr., on "Sculptors and Sculpture in Italy," and "The God Pan"; Mrs. S. A. Ayers, "Modern Art and Artists"; Mrs. S. A. McNutt, "Modern Art of Italy"; Mrs. Frank Marsh, "The Women of Italy." Mrs. S. A. McNutt will be the hostess at the next meeting on February 13th.

FAIR ENOUGH

Two little boys whose names were Willie and Johnny were playing with their sled and their mother saw them from the window and said:

"Willie, why don't you let Johnny have the sled?"

"Why mamma, I do," he said. "I have it going down hill and he has it going up."

God judges the heart; man judges the dress.

Mrs. Will A. Burns entertained the members of the young people's branch of the W. C. T. U. at her beautiful home, No. 16 Piedmont park, Tuesday evening, Feb. 2nd, and although the evening was stormy, a goodly number of young people were on hand.

The evening was spent in playing games and music, which made the time pass all too quickly, so we thought, but we must not forget the refreshments, which consisted of punch and cake and were served by the hostess to the following young people: The Misses Marion Carmichael, Vivian Engle, Winifred Taylor, May Sprinkle, Ruth Richards and Doty L. Anderson, and Messrs. Al Ginn, Frank Butterfield, Will Marple, Will Richards, George Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Morton and little daughter Ruth and Mr. and Mrs. Will A. Burns and sons, Robert and Lawrence.

The president of the branch announced that on Friday evening, Feb. 5th, the W. C. T. U. were to have a social at the home of Mrs. C. O. Pulliam and that they had extended an invitation to the Y. P. B.'s to be present. Please remember this and let as many go as can possibly do so. D. L. A.

PAYROLL OF CIVILIZATION MET BY FARMER

WANTS NO "DEADHEADS" ON LIST OF EMPLOYEES.

A CALL UPON THE LAW MAKERS TO PREVENT USELESS TAX UPON AGRICULTURE.

By Peter Radford
Lecturer National Farmers' Union

The farmer is the paymaster of industry and as such he must meet the nation's payroll. When industry pays its bill it must make a sight draft upon agriculture for the amount, which the farmer is compelled to honor without protest. This check drawn upon agriculture may travel to and fro over the highways of commerce; may build cities; girdle the globe with bands of steel; may search hidden treasures in the earth or traverse the skies, but in the end it will rest upon the soil. No dollar will remain suspended in midair; it is as certain to seek the earth's surface as an apple that falls from a tree.

When a farmer buys a plow he pays the man who mined the metal, the woodman who felled the tree, the manufacturer who assembled the raw material and shaped it into an article of usefulness, the railroad that transported it and the dealer who sold him the goods. He pays the wages of labor and capital employed in the transaction as well as pays for the tools, machinery, buildings, etc., used in the construction of the commodity and the same applies to all articles of use and diet of himself and those engaged in the subsidiary lines of industry.

There is no payroll in civilization that does not rest upon the back of the farmer. He must pay the bills—all of them.

The total value of the nation's annual agricultural products is around $12,000,000,000, and it is safe to estimate that 95 cents on every dollar goes to meeting the expenses of subsidiary industries. The farmer does not work more than thirty minutes per day for himself; the remaining thirteen hours of the day's toil he devotes to meeting the payroll of the hired hands of agriculture, such as the manufacturer, railroad, commercial and other servants.

The Farmer's Payroll and How He Meets It.

The annual payroll of agriculture approximates $12,000,000,000. A portion of the amount is shifted to foreign countries in exports, but the total payroll of industries working for the farmer divides substantially as follows: Railroads, $1,252,000,000; manufacturers, $4,365,000,000; mining, $655,000,000; banks, $200,000,000; mercantile $3,500,000,000, and a heavy miscellaneous payroll constitutes the remainder.

It takes the corn crop, the most valuable in agriculture, which sold last year for $1,692,000,000, to pay off the employees of the railroads; the money derived from our annual sales of livestock of approximately $2,000,000,000, the yearly cotton crop, valued at $920,000,000; the wheat crop, which is worth $610,000,000, and the oat crop, that is worth $440,000,000, are required to meet the annual payroll of the manufacturers. The money derived from the remaining staple crops is used in meeting the payroll of the bankers, merchants, etc. After these obligations are paid, the farmer has only a few bunches of vegetables, some fruit and poultry which he can sell and call the proceeds his own.

When the farmer pays off his help he has very little left and to meet these tremendous payrolls he has been forced to mortgage homes, work women in the field and increase the hours of his labor. We are, therefore, compelled to call upon all industries dependent upon the farmers for subsistence to retrench in their expenditures and to cut off all unnecessary expenses. This course is absolutely necessary in order to avoid a reduction in wages, and we want, if possible, to retain the present wage scale paid railroad and all other industrial employees.

We will devote this article to a discussion of unnecessary expenses and whether required by law or permitted by the managements of the concerns, is wholly immaterial. We want all waste labor and extravagance, of whatever character, cut out. We will mention the full crew bill as illustrating the character of unnecessary expenses to which we refer.

Union Opposes "Full Crew" Bill.

The Texas Farmers' Union registered its opposition to this character of legislation at the last annual meeting held in Fort Worth, Tex., August 4, 1914, by resolution, which we quote, as follows:

"The matter of prime importance to the farmers of this state is an adequate and efficient marketing system; and we recognize that such a system is impossible without adequate railroad facilities, embracing the greatest amount of service at the least possible cost. We further recognize that the farmers and producers in the end pay approximately 95 per cent of the expenses of operating the railroads, and it is therefore to the interest of the producers that the expenses of the common carriers be as small as is possible, consistent with good service and safety. We, therefore, call upon our law-makers, courts and juries to bear the foregoing facts in mind when dealing with the common carriers of this state, and we do especially reaffirm the declarations of the last annual convention of our State Union, opposing the passage of the so-called 'full-crew' bill before the thirty-third legislature of Texas."

The farmers of Missouri in the last election, by an overwhelming majority, swept this law off the statute book of that state, and it should come off of all statute books where it appears and no legislature of this nation should pass such a law or similar legislation which requires unnecessary expenditures.

The same rule applies to all regulatory measures which increase the expenses of industry without giving corresponding benefits to the public. There is oftentimes a body of men assembled at legislatures—and they have a right to be there—who, in their zeal for rendering their fellow-associates a service, sometimes favor an increase in the expenses of industry without due regard for the men who bow their backs to the summer's sun to meet the payroll, but these committees, while making a record for themselves, rub the skin off the shoulders of the farmer by urging the legislature to lay another burden upon his heavy load and under the lash of "be it enacted" goad him on to pull and surge at the traces of civilization, no matter how he may sweat, foam and gall at the task. When legislatures "cut a melon" for labor they hand the farmer a lemon.

The farmers of the United States are not financially able to carry "dead heads" on their payrolls. Our own hired hands are not paid unless we have something for them to do and we are not willing to carry the hired help of dependent industries unless there is work for them. We must therefore insist upon the most rigid economy.

Legislative House-Cleaning Needed.

While the war is on and there is a lull in business, we want all legislative bodies to take an inventory of the statute books and wipe off all extravagant and useless laws. A good house-cleaning is needed and economies can be instituted here and there that will patch the clothes of indigent children, rest tired mothers and lift mortgages from despondent homes. Unnecessary workmen taken off and useless expenses chopped down all along the line will add to the prosperity of the farmer and encourage him in his mighty effort to feed and clothe the world.

If any of these industries have surplus employees we can use them on the farm. We have no regular schedule of wages, but we pay good farm hands on an average of $1.50 per day of thirteen hours when they board themselves; work usually runs about nine months of the year and the three months dead time, they can do the chores for their board. If they prefer to farm on their own account, there are more than 14,000,000,000 acres of idle land on the earth's surface awaiting the magic touch of the plow. The compensation is easily obtainable from Federal Agricultural Department statistics. The total average annual sales of a farm in the continental United States amounts to $516.00; the cost of operation is $340.00; leaving the farmer $176 per annum to live on and educate his family.

There is no occasion for the legislatures making a position for surplus employees of industry. Let them come "back to the soil" and share with us the prosperity of the farm.

When honesty is merely a good policy it is a poor virtue.

Lazy farmers are just as useless as dead ones and take up more room.

When the soul communes with the spirit of nature the back to the farm movement prevails.

There are two kinds of farmers. One tries to take all the advice he hears and the other won't take any at all.

Endowment Insurance

Whenever a man tells me he doesn't believe in Endowment Insurance, but wants only straight "Life" protection, I ask him whether he would care much for that form if its "endowment" features should be taken away, viz., "paid-up" cash loan and "extended" values. He knows that one of its best features is the fact that these values are in the policy, so that if he has to stop payments he will still have proportionate protection.

Very few men who reach 55, 60 or 65 years want to continue payments on life insurance. In fact, only 3% of men and women are self-supporting at 65, so that if they have protected their families up to that time, and have a policy which matures to take care of themselves in their old age, it is an ideal form of policy.

The Provident Life and Trust Co. sells Endowment Policies maturing at 60, 65 and 70 at "Life" rates in other companies. This company is the only one in America which pays more in Endowments than in death claims, and which returns annually to its living policy-holders in dividends, only about 10 per cent less than the total it pays for death claims.

Digest these facts and ask me to further elucidate them. If you learn what the "Provident" really has, we can't keep you out if the company will accept you.

Phone, write or see me and I will prove all I have said.

DAIRYING

The care given the raw materials in creamery production determines the quality of the finished product. Cleanliness and low temperatures are controlling factors in producing good dairy products.

Poor dairy methods and poor dairy products are coincident.

Workmanship and methods used in manufacturing dairy products influence quality and yield.

Sterilization of the utensils used in handling milk or cream tends to reduce contamination.

Sanitary buildings and equipment tend to reduce contamination.

Factors which tend to check bacterial development in milk and cream favor their keeping quality.

Pasteurization reduces the bacterial content of milk and cream.

Immediate cooling of milk or cream removes the animal heat and checks fermentation.

Sacrifice of quality for yield tends to reduce the demand for manufactured dairy products.

PROTECTING HIMSELF

"You admit, then," inquired the magistrate severely, "that you stole the pig?"

"I has to, Boss," said the prisoner.

"Very well," returned the magistrate, with decision; "there has been a lot of pig-stealing going on around here lately and I am going to make an example of you, or none of us will be safe."

THE REASON WHY

Do you know that practically every article of your wearing apparel was sewn on a SINGER Machine? Department Stores use SINGER Machines in their Factories and Fitting Rooms.

Ask your modiste, your corsetiere, your shoemaker, your furrier, what sewing machines they use. They will say "THE SINGER." "There's a reason"—superior excellence.

Possibly you have an old sewing machine or one that is not satisfactory. Do you know that a fair allowance will be made for it in exchange for an up-to-date SINGER at the Singer Store, 1020 West Broadway? E. J. Upham, Sunset phone 656W.

DOING GOOD ROAD WORK

One of the most conscientious and best-equipped road contractors operating on Long Island recently exclaimed in disgust, "I am almost tired of trying to do good work!" He did not mean it, but expressed a state of mind resulting from the fact that an award had just been made on the basis of $1.14 a square yard for some work on which the "good contractor" had bid $1.16. The man who got the work cannot even read the specifications intelligently. He has no adequate organization or equipment, nor a staff skilled in road construction. The work will cost him more than he figured and the temptation to "skin" the job will be very strong. But even if he resists this and does the best work he knows how to do, the county will not get as good a road as it could have bought for two cents more per square yard. The well-equipped contractor has—besides his plants, capital, organization and reputation—a big mileage of the best roads in the community to show what he can do. Much might be said about the unwisdom of foregoing all these advantages for two cents a yard. The point here emphasized, however, is that the good contractor should not follow the unwise policy of officials. The time is approaching—in fact, it has arrived in many places—when communities will pay a little more for good work by responsible contractors. This is but a logical extension of the rule in other branches of contracting, in which not the lowest but the best bid gets the contract. Good contractors are so close to their reward that it will be a loss to themselves as well as to the community if they grow weary in good roadbuilding.—Engineering Record.

STICKING TO THE CITY

Chicago's problem of the unemployed is not different from that faced by any great city in winter, except that it is on a larger scale. Estimates are that 25,000 women and girls there are out of work. The conditions are made hard to remedy in part by the attitude of these persons themselves. The wife of a Michigan farmer sent word that she wanted a woman to help her. She was willing to pay $5 a week, of course with board, lodging and laundry. The woman hired would sit at the table as a member of the family. Among all the thousands looking for jobs, not one could be found to accept this chance. They all said they wanted to stay in the city. What had the city done for them. Overworked and underpaid them and thrown them into the streets. Yet they were willing to brave the rigors of poverty

Mrs. B. S. Scott of 1312 Lomita avenue is very ill in Dr. Thompson's Burbank hospital, where she has undergone a serious operation. Mrs. Scott's friends are much concerned about her condition.

Mrs. B. M. Brooks and daughter, Miss Clyde Brooks, of 346 South Louise street, had as their dinner guests last evening Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Bergen of Pasadena and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lilly of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Bergen of Pasadena are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lilly of Louise street. Mr. Bergen, who has been one of the leading photographers of Pasadena, has recently sold his business there and may locate in Glendale.

Simon Price and wife of Yankton, N. D., are here to spend two or three months and get acquainted with our Sunny Salubrious Southern California. They are living at 1435 West Colorado boulevard. Mr. Price is a brother to Mrs. E. A. Hoskyn and the brother and sister had not seen each other for thirty-six years.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnston of 335 Everett street, with Mrs. W. M. Johnston and Miss O'Brien, spent Monday at the beaches, visiting in Venice, Santa Monica and Ocean Park and viewing the damage done by the high waves. All of these towns, as well as Playa del Rey and the Standard Oil pier at El Segundo, have suffered considerably from the huge breakers which have been pounding that part of the shore for several days.

The services at the First Methodist church were in charge of the Woman's Home Missionary society on Sunday morning. This was the annual thank offering day. Mrs. E. L. Miller, Pasadena conference secretary, was the speaker and gave an excellent address. The auxiliary and the Queen Esthers met in the social hall and all marched in together, the officers being seated on the platform. In the afternoon Mrs. Miller gave an address to the Queen Esthers and the young girls of the church.

The Ladies' Aid of the First M. E. church met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. S. Learned, 137 South Maryland avenue. There was a fine attendance in spite of the unpropitious weather, and one of the best meetings of the year was held. After the usual business routine, refreshments were served by the committee. Mrs. Gertrude Beveridge rendered a very beautiful piano solo and encore and there was a most interesting talk by the pastor, after which the ladies enjoyed a social chat.

Mrs. W. E. Evans of 113 Orange street entertained at 1 o'clock luncheon on Tuesday in honor of the birthday of her sister, Mrs. F. W. Pigg. Pink Enchantress carnations and violets were used in decoration. The luncheon table was centered by a bowl of violets and ferns, out of which rose a few long stemmed carnations. The favors were tied with pink, green and violet ribbon and the different courses carried out the same color scheme. Place cards marked places for the honoree, Mrs. Fred Pigg, Mrs. Frank Hester, Mrs. Howard Martin, Mrs. Lucius Phillips of Los Angeles, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and the hostess.

The Priscilla club met Tuesday with Mrs. H. E. Stecker of 1455 Salem street. The decorations were red, carnations and ferns being used with excellent effect, while red shades on the lights cast a rosy glow over everything and at each place was a small red candle. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock and the afternoon spent in music, sewing and chatting and cake and tea were again served at five. The members present were Mrs. H. W. Yarrick, Mrs. W. H. Vandenberg, Mrs. Raymond P. Foss, Mrs. R. E. Peters, Miss Coral E. Griffith and Mrs. H. E. Stecker. The club will meet next Tuesday with Mrs. Raymond P. Foss of 1460 Salem street.

A FAIR EXCHANGE

The terrible hardships of winter campaigning elicited from Judge W. H. Moore, the famous New York horseman, the following story:
"A pourparler was being held," he said, "between two opposing armies on a windy promontory during a severe snowstorm."
"You have captured our commander-in-chief," so the pourparler began. "Yes, that is true."
"We will exchange three generals for him."
"No."
"Three generals and a colonel."
"No, I tell you."
"Then six generals, three colonels, and—"
"No, no, no! You can't have him back for anything short of a suit of all-wool underwear in good condition!"

Irritable Old Man—"Say, does this car always make this racket?"
Chaufeur—"No, sir; only when it is running."—American Boy.

THE RIGHT SCENT

A certain English humorist, visiting America, was spending the week in a town on Cape Cod. One afternoon he boarded a trolley car and found the only available seat next to a roughly dressed, hale and hearty down-Easterner. The Englishman's jaunty cane and neat outing clothes incidentally attracted and amused the workman, for after a minute or two of inspection and with a quick look at his friends across the car, touched a finger to his cap.
"Excuse me, sir," he inquired, "but don't you come from Manchester-by-the-Sea?"
The Englishman adjusted the well known monocle, exaggerated his stare, and replied: "Bah Jove! How did you surmise it? Am I wrong in thinking that you are from Gloucester-by-the-smell?"—Exchange.

There is one type of man whose genius has been overlooked—the husband who can and does match dress goods exactly to suit his wife.

ONE DAY AT A TIME

Did you read the story in a Los Angeles paper Saturday about the man that found he need only live one day at a time? One day at a time, just think how many things that answers, how it clears up future fears and past regrets, how it makes the rough places smooth and the dark places light. One of our big brains has said that there are two days we need never worry about, "yesterday" and "tomorrow." No matter how long or hard the day may be, or how vexatious or trying it may seem, there comes the twilight, "God's interval for peace making," and then the night and the rest when day closes. Unborn tomorrow, why fret about that, and dead yesterday is over and gone and cannot be recalled. Chas.

Kingsley said that the men whom he had seen succeed best in life had been cheerful and hopeful men, who went about their business with a smile on their faces, and took the chances of this mortal life like men, facing the rough and smooth places alike as they came. Yesterday with all its trouble is gone, tomorrow looms up bright and fair, and today gloriously our own to make or mar as we will.

FEEDING FARM ANIMALS

Feeding stuffs contain three groups of components of special importance in the feeding of farm animals: (1) Protein, (2) carbohydrates and fat, (3) mineral matter.

Protein is required by the animal for making muscle and body substances of similar composition.

Carbohydrates and fat supply energy for the production of body heat and fat and for work.

Mineral matter is necessary for the building of the bone structure and for supplying ash materials in milk and other animal products.

Farm animals should receive rations containing all three groups of feed components, but the proportions of each will vary according to the kind and age of animals kept, and the character and cost of the available feeds.

Young or growing animals, cows, sheep and poultry require a larger proportion of protein in their feed than full-grown, fattening or working animals.

The feed requirements of the animal body for maintenance must be met before production can begin; liberal rations containing a considerable proportion of feed available for production, therefore, yield the largest and the most profitable returns.

A portion of the feed of heavy-producing animals should be in concentrated form.

The more important protein feeds in this state are alfalfa, clover, peas, beans and various oil meals.

The more important carbohydrates or starchy feeds are mild mixed or grain hay, cereal grains, sorghums and dried beet pulp. The mill feeds and many other factory by-products contain a medium amount of protein.

Succulent feeds are beneficial to milk secretion.

Alfalfa is best supplemented by corn silage and grain feeds, or both, in feeding dairy cows or fattening steers.

Grain hay is best supplemented by a mixture of mill feeds, oil meals and similar protein feeds.

FACTORS OF GOOD FARMING

Soil preparation, tillage, drainage, a good supply of organic matter in the soil, and applications of mineral fertilizers, including lime, enhance the yield and the quality of the crops.

Crops and animals bred for high production and quality lessen the cost per unit of production.

Good crops and animals generally make for better men; they increase man's appreciation and broaden his sympathies.

Rotation of crops tends to promote the crop-producing power of the soil, to equalize labor distribution, to destroy pests, and to balance animal and crop production.

A legume should be grown upon land at least one year in every four.

The judicious use of mineral fertilizers combined with manures (both green and yard) will, under proper culture and tillage methods, maintain the crop-producing power of the soil.

With crop-producing power maintained, a proper balance between crops produced for sale and for feed, and animals fed, brings the largest returns per labor unit.

Man and horse labor should be employed constantly throughout the entire year.

A proper balance should be maintained in each type of farming between building, implement and working livestock equipment and land area.

Location and receptivity of the market are factors to be considered in planning and executing a cropping system.

An adequate system of cost accounting power and maximum yields and quality per unit of labor expended should be the aim rather than these maxima per unit of area.

BIG CITRUS EXPOSITION

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 3.—The three great tents that are to house the fifth national orange show on February 17 to 24 are going up, and with the opening of the exposition two weeks away, hundreds of men will now work day and night on the construction.

The exhibits of oranges, lemons and other citrus fruits are perishable, and their installation is therefore delayed until the last possible moment, but the hundreds of displays have all been planned in minute detail and their construction will be rushed.

Practically every citrus fruit district in California has secured space and will be represented in the array of the state's choicest fruits, in the effort to impress the thousands of easterners and even Californians who are not thoroughly posted on the magnitude of the citrus fruit industry, with the beauties and importance of the golden harvest.

Every feature of the citrus fruit industry has been provided for in the exposition.

An orange orchard, that is to form the natural scenery of the exposition, is now being transplanted. The streets of San Bernardino have been strung with a canopy of electric lights and the preparations for the exposition that have been under way for six months are reaching a tangible form.

Miss Grace Stewart of Long Beach has been spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. A. A. Ward of 1716 Vine street.

HUMOROUS AND ENTERTAINING

The clever comedy, "Mr. Bob," was given Tuesday night in the high school auditorium by an all-star cast from the Baraca-Philathea classes of the Christian church under the direction and tutelage of Miss Bertha Jackson, who took the part of "Patty," the maid, who had a very high opinion of Mr. Shakespeare's writings. She aspired to the high plane of a ballet dancer and her special aversion was cats.

The action of the play was very lively and it was a constant succession of humorous situations. Ezra Mosher as Jenkins, Miss Helen Mosher as "Mr. Bob," Miss Birdie Shropshire as Katherine, Miss Laura Wilford Brown as Aunt Becky, Roger Baker as Philip, and Charles Shropshire as Mr. Brown, the man of mixed identity, were all cleverly played, the actors comporting themselves as veterans.

Miss Jackson was easily the star performer, but the others were not far behind in real merit. So good was the play that there is an insistent demand for a repetition. The opening and closing selections by the orchestra and the duet between acts by Mrs. Orth and Mr. Jordan were very good. The singers voices blended perfectly and the beauty of the song was greatly enhanced by the finished performance of the accompanist, Miss Gertrude Champlain.
