410.2

2 May 1949

SUBJECT: Special Report on Hand-Paper Manufacture

THRU: Commanding Officer
Tokai-Hokuriku Military Government Region
APO 710

TO: Commanding General
Eighth Army
APO 343

1. Gifu prefecture was, prior to the war, the largest producer of hand-paper and a large producer of other type papers. The barks of the Kozo and Mitsumata trees which constitute the basic raw materials of the hand-paper industries, however, were not grown in Gifu prefecture, but were purchased from Kochi, Aita, Tochigi, Ibaragi, Gumma and Nagano prefectures at a volume of approximately 400,000 kan yearly.

2. Inspections made by this headquarters have revealed that operations of hand-paper producers have been so severely curtailed that practically all producers are faced with bankruptcy. (See Extract from the Chubu Nippon Shimbun - April 21 issue - Inclosure 1.) Through conferences with hand-paper producers it was learned that the exceedingly high costs of Kozo and Mitsumata barks rendered the costs of production so high that the finished product could not be marketed at prices which would cover the cost of production. Consumers refuse to pay a price for hand-paper which would permit profitable operation by producers; therefore the output of hand-paper in this prefecture has been greatly diminished. The demand for hand-paper at a lower price, however, would be sufficient to permit operations by producers at a level far above that which prevails at present.

3. The prefectures wherein Kozo and Mitsumata trees are grown, in an effort to foster the growth of their own prefectural hand-paper industries, have apparently curtailed shipment of these barks out of their prefectures. The Gifu Prefecture Commerce and Industry Section is of the opinion that in some of the prefectures, prior permission of the governor must be obtained in order to transport shipments of the barks out of the prefecture. Although some bark has been received by this prefecture, the amount has been negligible.

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 775013

GMGT 410.2 2 May 1949
Subject: Special Report on Hand-Paper Manufacture

4. Gifu prefecture's producers, however, are able to purchase as much of the barks as they desire, if they go to the prefectures in which they are grown and make their purchases from blackmarketeers at blackmarket prices. Some producers have stated that even if a shipper has secured the governor's permission to ship a quantity of the barks out of the prefecture, he will not do so unless he receives a blackmarket price. During 1948 about 200,000 kan of Kozo and Mitsumata barks were received by Gifu prefecture hand-paper producers - almost 100 percent of it having been purchased at blackmarket prices.

5. This prefecture's producers declare that if the restrictions on inter-prefectural shipments of Kozo and Mitsumata barks were abolished, and the barks permitted to be sold without restrictions and at no fixed price level, they would be able to secure the barks at prices which would enable them to produce at costs far lower than the present costs of production. In this event, output could be increased, facilities and labor more fully utilized, and the consumer would be able to purchase hand-paper at a price far less than that which it costs him today.

6. Recommendations:

a. Investigation be instigated to determine whether or not a ban of interprefectural shipments of Kozo and Mitsumata barks actually exists, and if it does, whether or not such a ban is in restraint of trade and detrimental to the whole hand-paper industry.

b. The blackmarket activities of dealers of Kozo and Mitsumata barks be investigated in Kochi, Aita, Tochigi, Ibaragi, Gumma and Nagano prefectures.

EXTRACT FROM THE APRIL 21 ISSUE OF THE NAGOYA NEWSPAPER "CHUBU NIPPON SHIMBUN"

HAND-MADE JAPANESE PAPER MAKERS MET AND CONFERRED ON HOW TO COPE WITH THE DEPRESSION

More than 200 hand-made Japanese paper makers in Mugi-gun have already closed their workshops due to difficulties in management caused by tax collection offensive, high cost of materials and bad sales of products. If this condition continues, it is feared that all the makers in the district will close their workshops.

The Pref. Hand-made Japanese Paper making Industrial Cooperative Association April 18, held a general meeting and a round-table conference on the measures to overcome the crisis and decided never to buy materials on the blackmarket, to reduce the output by 50 percent and save materials.
