CANADIAN TROOPS QUITE AT HOME

SPENDING ENJOYABLE TIME IN METROPOLIS

Col. McLean and Officers of Contingent Entertain Distinguished Party

London, June 15.—To-day is another day of glorious sunshine tempered by a fresh breeze, and those who have not been tempted away by the Gold Cup day at Ascot find London in her gayest mood. Perhaps the happiest of Canada's visitors are the boys of the coronation contingent. Men from almost every corner of Canada are to be found each night under the canvas tents, which cover the grounds of the Duke of York's school at Chelsea, where soldiers' children for generations past have been trained to fight the Emperor's battles. For the last few nights, the small hours have been unaccountably frosty, especially for those who have not recovered fully from their Quebec vaccination trials. But Col. McLean, Col. V. Williams, Col. Roy, Commissioner Perry and all the members of the contingent have nothing but the warmest words for the anxious and kindly care for their comfort of General Lord Chelmsford and the British staff.

Last night was a gala occasion for Col. McLean and the officers of the contingent entertained a distinguished English company to dinner and the subsequent sing-song and speech-making was kept up with great zest till a late hour. Sir Frederick Borden was absent, owing to acute recurring attacks of indigestion which are greatly curbing his share in coronation happenings. Sir Wilfrid Laurier also excused himself on the ground of state business, but the guests included Prince Leopold of Battenberg, who as ship-mate of the contingent in crossing the Atlantic, evidently made himself most popular. General Lord Chelmsford, General Sir Henry Pollard, and other distinguished British officers; Paenler Hazen, who made a glowing imperialistic speech; Hon. W. P. A. Purdon, of Stratford, who as a former New Brunswick premier for Arcadian Canada as well as the Canadian west; Max Atkin, M. P.; Donald MacMaster, and Sir Henry Pollard.

With the hourly influx of visitors the streets of London exhibit extraordinary scenes of life and bustle. All the places of amusement are filled nightly. Public vehicles and sidewalks are crowded with people watching the preparations for the coronation, the decorative schemes being sufficiently advanced to attract attention. Field Marshal Lord Kitchener yesterday inspected the Indian contingent encampment at Hampton court. It was a brilliant scene, recalling the gorgeous East.

The interior decoration of the Abbey is well advanced. Priceless Persian carpets, rare tapestries and other hangings have been lent by Lord Curzon, the Earl of Dalkeith, the Earl of Buccleuch and others, while the King and Queen have been presented with exquisitely embroidered altar cloths.

SUFFRAGETTE PARADE

Demonstration Will Be Held in London on Saturday.

London, June 15.—Suffragettes of seven nations, members of the international section, are making arrangements for a coronation parade next Saturday. American women will have the places of honor in the parade, and will lead all organizations. This is because Wyoming was the first government to give the right to vote to women. Miss Mary Freeman, of New York, organized the American division of 250. Among those who assisted her, and will ride at the head of the parade, are Mrs. Mitchell, of Boston; Miss Inez Mulholland, of New York; Miss Mary Winter, of Indianapolis; and Mrs. Huxley, of New Orleans.

MISSING BOY FOUND.

Edmonton, Alta., June 15.—After the neighbors had searched all day for the four-year-old son of Chas. Johnston, Alberta avenue, the militia and citizens turned out last night and started to beat the entire bush of the Hudson Bay reserve, into which the lad had strayed Tuesday afternoon. He was located early this morning sleeping in a clump of bushes undisturbed. The grief-stricken condition of the mother had roused public sympathy and many prominent citizens turned out to assist in the search.

SALE OF RESERVE.

Gleichen, Alb., June 15.—Only ten thousand of the thirty thousand acres of the Blackfoot reserve was disposed of at the sale to-day, the bidding being weak. The only good price was $40 an acre paid for a section of land with a spring on it. The consensus of opinion was that the reserve prices named in the list were too high.

RECEIVE DEGREE.

London, June 15.—Cambridge university yesterday conferred the degree of LL.D. on Earl Minto, and Premiers Morris of Newfoundland, Botha of South Africa and Ward of New Zealand.

ASSEMBLY CONDEMNS "NE TEMERE" DECREE

RESOLUTION PASSED BY PRESBYTERIANS

Vote of Church Members on Question of Union to Be Taken on March 15

Ottawa, June 15.—The Presbyterian General Assembly continued the discussion on Church Union to-day, it being decided that the vote of members and adherents be taken on March 15 and presbyteries up to March 15.

A strong pronouncement was made against the Ne Temere decree and a warning to the people of the Church to abstain from mixed marriages till the situation be cleared up.

Dr. Duval of Winnipeg, in moving the resolution, said there was danger of conditions such as existed in Italy, where the government had to step in and forbid priests to have anything to do with marriage contracts. In the province of Quebec the decree had been upheld, but he added, "Thank God in every other province British law stands and bona fide marriages are recognized and supported by the civil power with the whole of the British Empire behind it."

Assurances of loyalty and devotion to His Majesty King George and the Empire were conveyed in addresses passed by the assembly to be forwarded to His Majesty King George and His Excellency Earl Grey.

An address of welcome will also be prepared for H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught.

On the suggestion of Principal Forrest of Halifax, copies of the resolution on arbitration will be sent to His Excellency Earl Grey and to President Taft.

GOLD CUP DAY AT ASCOT RACES

King and Queen Again Present at Meeting—Willenx Winner of Trophy

Ascot Heath, June 15.—This was another gala day at the Ascot races, King George and Queen Mary attending in full state. The gold cup, valued at five hundred sovereigns, with 3,500 sovereigns in specie added, for three years and upwards, distance two miles and a half, was won by Willenx. Charles O'Malley was second and Declare third. Six horses started.

RETIRING FROM SERVICE.

Ottawa, June 15.—A. E. H. Lakehinger, assistant deputy postmaster-general, has tendered his resignation, to take effect at the end of the month. Mr. Laschinger, who is one of the most capable officers of the service, is going to Toronto to be business associate of Caytura Mulock.

WHITE STAR LINE GRANTS INCREASE

Concedes Half Amount of Advance Demanded by Striking Seamen

London, June 15.—It was announced this evening that the White Star line and the seamen's union had arranged a settlement of their differences, the White Star conceding an advance of $2.50 a month in wages to all employees involved.

SCHEDULES CHANGED.

Southampton, June 15.—The coal porters' strike, while it lasted, so interfered with sailing schedules of ships of the International Mercantile Marine Companies that a rearrangement of dates has been made necessary. The New York, due to sail Saturday, and the White Star liner Majestic, scheduled to leave on June 21, have been withdrawn.

OVERLOOKED ORDER.

Winnipeg, June 15.—The Canadian troops from Fort Francis and Rainy River for the camp at Sewal, Man., were delayed in getting to their camp by the United States government regulations which prohibited the passing of an armed force of foreign nation through American territory. The commandant of the detachment had overlooked the order. The Canadian Northern railway over which the troops were to have travelled runs through the state of Minnesota. The troops took the steamer down the Lake of the Woods to Kenora and a C. P. R. train thence to their camp.

INSTRUCTING AN INNOCENT IN "PLAYING THE GAME."
 PREMIER MURRAY—You see, Balfour, "the thing is to get in, and after you are in to stay in."
 RT. HON. A. J. BALFOUR—Yes, quite so. In our case, however, the thing is to get Asquith and that popular idol, Lloyd George, out. Ay, marry, there's the rub.

JAMES J. HILL ON RECIPROCITY

SAYS FARMERS DO NOT OPPOSE PACT

Declares Group of Politicians Are Trying to Arouse Opposition

New York, June 15.—"It's a ghost dance," said James J. Hill, the railway magnate, in speaking of the opposition to Canadian reciprocity in the northwest. "It's a ghost dance, that is all it is," said Hill. "The farmers of the northwest are not opposed to reciprocity with Canada."

"A group of politicians up there, who are being pulled by strings that lie beyond their domain, are trying to excite the farmers just as the medicine men, or snake doctors, used to do among the Indians when devilment was afoot."

"These snake dancers would get the Indians around a camp fire and start a ghost dance that worked them up into a frightful fury. Then the Indians would go out and ravage the white settlements. But these snake doctors who are now trying to raise the devil in the northwest are finding out that the dance can't be worked on the pale-faces up there."

HAYTIEN REVOLUTION.

Desperate Fighting Reported in Northern Section of the Country.

Kingston, Jamaica, June 15.—Advices received here by mail describe conditions in northern Hayti as serious. Fighting there has been desperate. The government forces have been scattered and the rebels have things their own way. General Montplazir, one of the federal commanders, has taken refuge in a consulate.

Supporters of General Antenor Firmin, formerly Haytian minister to Great Britain, and leader of the revolution of 1902, are jubilant over the prospects of placing Firmin in the presidential chair.

REPORT DENIED.

Winnipeg, June 15.—H. E. Burbridge, a stores commissioner of the Hudson Bay Co., emphatically denies to-day that his company has purchased or intends to purchase a site at Regina, Sask., for the erection of a departmental store, as stated by the evening papers here yesterday. The denial is even more emphatic than that made by the company when it was rumored here that they had bought a block on Portage avenue on which they will shortly erect their departmental store.

RUMORED MUTINY OF PORTUGUESE TROOPS

Government Ready to Attack Monarchists If They Try to Cross Border

Madrid, June 15.—Telegrams received to-day from Vigo state that a monarchist revolution has broken out at Chaves, Portugal, and that the Portuguese garrison mutinied and killed its commander. The monarchists stormed and raided the office of the Republican newspapers in the Plaza Braga.

Vigo, Spain, June 15.—Reports from Chaves of the mutiny of two regiments of Portuguese troops are not confirmed. The rumors are probably unfounded, since it is learned from other sources that Royalist plans on the Portuguese frontier did not develop as had been expected.

It was supposed here that the Royalists at Chaves planned to mutiny on the approach of Captain Couceiro, the monarchist leader, who is said to be at the head of the forces near Braga.

Lisbon, June 15.—The provisional government learned on Monday that the monarchists, who have reneged their activity to overthrow the republic, were approaching Chaves in great numbers.

The Republican troops were immediately concentrated there. Royalist leaders thereupon moved their forces into the territory near Braga, which is the weakest point along the frontier. The government hastily dispatched troops to Ponte De Barca and Montalegre.

The general opinion is that the Royalists will not attempt to force their way into Portugal. Captain Couceiro, with several hundred men armed, and other groups of monarchists have been observed all along the frontier. The leaders in the movement are making constant visits in automobiles to the advance posts. The government has concentrated troops in the territory opposite the Royalist position and posted artillery in the hills. Confidence is felt that any attack of the invaders can be easily repulsed.

IMMIGRATION SCHEME.

Ottawa, June 15.—Immigration Superintendent Scott says the Australian scheme for securing immigrants from Canada is not feasible. He declares the attraction of this country are too great to draw people away to Australia, where the opportunities are no greater, if as good.

ASSOCIATED BOARDS MEET.

Lethbridge, June 15.—The convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Western Canada opened this morning with 35 delegates present from towns from Fort William west to Calgary.

WORK ON THE SIDE STRICTLY PROHIBITED

MAYOR MORLEY ISSUES NOTICE TO EMPLOYEES

Must Not Work for Other Than City Either in or Out of Office Hours

Work on the side on the part of city employees will be strictly barred in the future, if it is possible to carry out the instructions of Mayor Morley to the letter. Quite recently Wm. Scowcroft undertook to print copies of the new assessment roll, to be sold to real estate agents and others who might desire a copy at a fixed rate of $25. As Mr. Scowcroft is a city employee, however, objection was taken to his undertaking, and the city itself will have the assessment roll printed for outsiders. It is not intended that the sale of the roll shall be profitable, and therefore only the cost of printing will be charged.

The Scowcroft example may be an isolated instance, but in case it should not be so Mayor Morley has put his strong objection to it in the form of a memorandum to the heads of the various departments of civic work. The latter is in the following terms:

"Since the council has decided against Mr. Scowcroft longer following the old custom of providing corporation information or copy for which personal remuneration is allowed, it has been suggested to me that other members of other departments have possibly been following the same custom. Be it distinctly understood that henceforth no servant of the corporation in your department, or any other, shall do any work, either in or out of hours, connected with corporation affairs for which remuneration is received other than from the city corporation."

The notice has been communicated to the heads of departments and has been stuck up in prominent places for the benefit of those concerned.

PRINCE IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Berlin, June 15.—Crown Prince Frederick William was in an automobile accident to-day, but escaped injury. He was driving to the home of Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg when his car struck the curb, smashing a wheel. The crown prince was thrown to the sidewalk, but not with great force. The chauffeur was thrown out, and striking against a lamp post was slightly injured. The crown prince continued his trip in an ordinary cab.

FIRE DESTROYS RIVER STEAMER

COOLNESS OF CAPTAIN AVERTS DISASTER

Runs Burning Vessel on Shore and All Passengers Make Their Escape

Paducah, Ky., June 15.—Quick work on the part of Captain John L. Lowery of the river steamer John L. Lowery, saved the lives of 65 persons early to-day when the boat burned opposite Smithland, Ky., in the Ohio river.

Crowded with fifty excursionists and the crew of fifteen, the craft was slowly making its way up the river in midstream when fire broke out near the furnace. Roused from their slumbers the passengers crowded on to the decks in a near panic, and only the coolness of the boat's crew averted a heavy loss of life.

Several barrels of oil exploded, but miraculously no one was hurt. Seeing the fire was about to consume the craft, Capt. Lowery made for the Illinois side with all speed. By the time the nose of the steamer touched shore the fire had gained great headway, but the passengers got off without injury.

A roll call of passengers showed every one present and none injured. It had not been determined this morning whether any of the negro deckhands had been burned, but it is believed they escaped.

The John L. Lowery was trading between this city and Evansville. At this season excursion rates are put on for the round trip, hence the large number of persons aboard. The boat, owned by John L. Lowery, is a total loss.

First reports reaching here were that many persons had been drowned, and relief boats were sent out.

GERMAN AEROPLANE RACE.

Hamburg, June 15.—Lindenpainter and Buechner arrived here to-day from Schyern, concluding the third stage of the national aviation circuit race. They were troubled much by a heavy fog, frequently losing their bearings. Wiencklers had not arrived. He is reported as having completely lost his direction after leaving Schyern.

SHOCK PROVES FATAL.

New York, June 15.—The wife of Jas. T. O'Neill, assistant corporation counsel of Brooklyn, died suddenly to-day at their summer home near Babylon, L.I., from apoplexy, caused by fright when a screech owl, with a loud cry, flew against the window of her room. Mrs. O'Neill had lived in fear of the bird for two days, as it followed her around the grounds of her home when she and her husband were walking. She regarded it as an ill-omen.

MURRAY CABINET AGAIN SUSTAINED

NOVA SCOTIA STILL TRUE TO LIBERALISM

Government Holds 27 Out of 38 Seats, Some by Increased Majorities

Halifax, N. S., June 15.—After twenty-nine years of capable and clean government at the hands of the Liberal party Nova Scotia yesterday afternoon declared for a continuance of it for another period of five years. Of the 38 seats in the provincial legislative the Murray government has carried 27. Every seat was contested this election, whereas at the last four Liberals were returned unopposed.

The opposition, which was in the last house six, five Conservatives and one Independent, has been increased to eleven.

Premier Murray is re-elected in Victoria by a large majority.

Halifax remains true to its political faith, returning three Liberals by immense majorities. Pictou returns two Liberals and one Conservative instead of two Conservatives and one Liberal. In Inverness, Lunenburg, Hants, Shelburne, Kings and Annapolis the Liberal majorities have very largely increased.

Three ministers were defeated—Hon. Christopher P. Chisholm, commissioner of works and mines, in Antigonish; Hon. B. F. Pearson, without portfolio, in Colchester; and Hon. H. S. Leblanc, without portfolio, in Yarmouth by a small majority.

The vote so far as received in all counties but Cape Breton and the number of seats in each is as follows: Halifax—(3) Faulkner (Liberal), 6,234; Logan (Liberal), 6,391; Finn (Liberal), 5,883; Bligh (Conservative), 5,178; Smith (Conservative), 4,835; O'Mullin (Conservative), 3,914; Joy (Labor), 2,593.

Inverness—McClellan (Liberal), 1,915; McDonald (Liberal), 1,899; McMillan (Conservative), 1,243; Gallant (Conservative), 1,331.

Victoria—Hon. Premier Murray (Liberal), 1,045; Bachmann (Liberal), 991; Bethune, 663; McDonald, 587.

Guyaburo—(2) Ellis (Liberal), 139 majority; Torrey (Liberal), 179 majority; Ritchmond—(2) Joyce and Bissett (Liberals), leading with small majorities.

Pictou—(3) McGregor (Liberal), 3,833; Tanner (Conservative), 3,660; McKay (Liberal), 3,657; Bailey (Conservative), 3,593; Robertson (Conservative), 2,355; McKenzie (Liberal), 2,240; Cosgrove (Liberal), 877.

Cumberland—(2) Ralston (Liberal), 4,148; Carter (Liberal), 4,104; Gilroy (Conservative), 4,033; Smith (Conservative), 3,634.

Digby—(2) Comeau (Liberal), 1,896; Wall (Liberal), 1,851; Marshall (Conservative), 1,610; Deveau (Conservative), 1,578.

Antigonish—(2) Gilroy (Conservative), 4,311; Trotter (Liberal), 1,285; McDougall (Conservative), 1,081; Hon. C. P. Chisholm (Liberal), 1,067.

Yarmouth—(2) Armstrong (Liberal), 1,631; Corning (Conservative), 1,564; Hon. H. S. Leblanc (Liberal), 1,498; Drenthmont (Conservative), 1,145.

Hants—(2) Parsons (Conservative), 2,394; Reid (Liberal), 2,061; Fielding (Conservative), 2,023; Wilson (Liberal), 1,792.

Shelburne—(2) Irwin (Liberal), 1,245; Nickerson (Liberal), 1,203; Fisher (Conservative), 1,120; Phillips (Conservative), 1,119.

Colchester—(2) Stanfield (Conservative), 2,689; Kennedy (Conservative), 2,524; Hill (Liberal), 2,479; Hon. B. F. Pearson (Liberal), 2,215.

Kings—(2) Wickwire (Liberal), 2,456; Covert (Liberal), 2,294; Eaton (Moral Reform), 1,873; Parker (Conservative), 1,660; Campbell (Moral Reform), 1,016.

Lunenburg—(2) Hon. A. K. McLean (Liberal), 3,392; Margeson (Conservative), 2,971; Mader (Liberal), 2,676; Zwickler (Conservative), 2,303.

Queens—(2) Hall (Conservative), 1,083; Smith (Liberal), 1,058; Kempton (Conservative), 935; Purney (Liberal), 883.

Annapolis—(2) Daniels—(Liberal), 2,691; Phinney (Conservative), 1,942; Davidson (Conservative), 1,291; Hall (Liberal), 1,264.

Proportion of bank's reserve to liability this week is 52.52 per cent; last week was 52.54 per cent.

OFFERS FUNDS FOR UNIVERSITY.

Frankfort-On-The-Main, June 15.—It is stated that Jacob H. Schiff, the New York banker, has announced his readiness to give several million marks for the foundation of a university at Frankfort-On-The-Main, his birthplace, provided certain conditions concerning the matter of religion and professors are made. The Lord Mayor is conferring with the Prussian minister of education, Herr Van Troit Solz, on the subject of the proposed gift.

PASSING SHOW

At the Gorge Park. The Gorge park in attracting large crowds nightly, the moving picture entertainment shown there by Manager Clifford Denham being one of the best offered. The Gorge park orchestra plays nightly. Six striking films are being shown this week. The first "The Two Brothers" is a picture-drama with much interest, and there is much to laugh at in the comedy picture which follows, entitled "Willie's Boats." Chas. Reed's well-known dramatic story "Reg. Woffington" is shown in a tabloid picture drama, the scenes of the well-known "Carman" follow. "Too much Protection" is a laugh-provoking film, and the last picture is another dramatic one, "In the Watches of the Night." The Gorge orchestra is playing the following programme: March, "Four of a Kind"; selection, "Motor Girl"; waltz, "Chocolate Soldier"; cello solo, "Winning Way"; ideal, "Wistaria"; selection, "Anona"; waltz, "Pink Lady," and a two-step, "Irish Beauties."

Empress Grand Theatre. The success of French's trained lions at the Grand theatre is immense, and as a new feature for all the children, an arrangement has been made to have the wild animals fed with eggs and milk on Saturday afternoon at the matinee. The feeding is done during the last show at night also. The act, with the Ricardos performing among the lions in the cage, will be positively withdrawn after Saturday night. A marvellously executed turn at the Grand is Al. White's four dancing horses, the never-stopping-always-stepping foot artists. The big humor dispenser this week is the irresistible "Jackson's Honey-moon," with those laugh-making Tillie Storke and Perrin Somers in charge. Caron and Herbert in athletics, and Pearl and Roth in "Forcing an Opportunity" are the other acts. The Four Londons show themselves, but do not act as the stage will not take their apparatus. It was on this account that the trained lions were brought from the French manager.

ST. JOHN'S GUILD.

Presentation to Mrs. D. R. Ker in Recognition of Long Service.

The ladies of St. John's Guild held their annual summer sale on Tuesday, from three to six in the afternoon. The sale, which was a most successful one, was opened by the Venerable Archdeacon Scriven with a few helpful, cheering words. He congratulated the workers on their new church and rectory. The rector of St. John's, Rev. Percival Jenks, presented Mrs. D. R. Ker with a life membership in the Diocesan Women's Auxiliary to Mission, as a mark of appreciation for her long and faithful service as president of St. John's Guild. Mrs. Ker has been president of the Chancel Guild since its formation eight years ago and president of the St. John's Serving Guild for many years more. Mrs. Roche Robertson, St. John's oldest Ladies' Guild president, pinned the little gold cross on Mrs. Ker, and Mrs. Jay, vice-president of the Chancel Guild, read a short address of congratulation to Mrs. Ker. Mrs. Townsley, vice-president of the Ladies' Guild, on behalf of that body, presented Mrs. Ker with a beautiful bouquet of old rose carnations, the color of the Columbia Diocese.

MANCHURIAN SITUATION.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—The Novoe Vremya is devoting much attention to reported plans of American agricultural interests to invade Manchuria. In a leading article it bitterly attacks American representatives in the Far East, and asserts that the recent loan to China, was a covert re-annexation of Secretary Knox's proposal for the neutralization of the Manchurian railways. The paper says that Manchuria has an open door for the commerce of the nations, but that its door is closed against political enterprises of all except Russia, China and Japan.

VUJOVICH AWAIT'S PRISON SENTENCE

Found Guilty of Shooting With Intent to Kill in Prince Rupert Strike

At 7.30 last night the Vujovich jury returned to court with a verdict of guilty against the prisoner, who was charged with shooting with intent to kill Constable L. A. Miller at Kelly's cut, Prince Rupert, on April 6 last. Vujovich was remanded for sentence. Mr. Justice Murphy in summing up early in the afternoon, gave much attention to the situation of the police in connection with the trials then closing from Prince Rupert. That policemen were being commonly treated in criminal trials as criminals and perjurers, he said, was a fact. They were looked on as scoundrels and perjurers when giving evidence. He saw no reason why this should be so, and said that it is because of policemen doing their duty that people are able to live in peace and safety. In the case before the jurors, however, there were other witnesses for the crown than policemen, and all the evidence for the prosecution was direct and positive. The evidence of the defence, he thought, was a pre-arranged story on which in the main particulars all the witnesses agreed.

The Vujovich case was one where the prisoner was charged with discharging a revolver point-blank at a police officer. He had fired and a man named Watson had his Vujovich across the back of the neck with a pick handle, felling him to the ground, where he lay like a log for some time. This case ended the Prince Rupert strike cases. Of the fourteen men charged ten have been found guilty and await sentence, while four were acquitted.

THREE MURDERS.

Indictments Against Alleged "Gun Men" at Chicago.

Chicago, June 15.—Fourteen indictments against nine men whom the police characterize as "labor slugs" and "gun men," among them being Maurice Enright, business agent of the Plumbers' Union, who confessed to shooting and killing William Gentleman, a union labor agent, were returned yesterday by the grand jury. With Enright the men indicted are John McCabe, Walter Stevens, Peter Connors, Edward Storegard, Joseph Kane and Arthur O'Connor. Three separate murders which have resulted from a factional fight between separate organizations of the United Plumbers and Steamfitters, are charged in the indictments. Enright already was under indictment for killing Gentleman, whom he recently shot in a downtown saloon. All of the men were held on bonds of $25,000 each.

OUR LETTER BOX

PLEA FOR A NEW THEATRE. To the Editor:—Will you allow Miss Marlowe and myself to offer through your paper a prayer to those whom it may concern that they will provide a new theatre for this beautiful city of Victoria. The difficulty of producing a play in the present building is almost insurmountable. All the "drops" have to be folded up each time they are used, instead of being hauled up to mention one technical difficulty, and the enthusiasm of the audience and the fervor of the actor wanes while the mechanics strive to overcome impossible obstacles. Please say a good word for this cause and gain the gratitude of actors and audiences. E. H. SOTHERN.

ALBERNI ROADS.

To the Editor:—I was considerably surprised at reading a letter over the signature of John Best, in which he refers to the bad condition of the roads leading out of Alberni. I, with a party of eight persons, went into Alberni by stage, returning to-day, and it was a matter of favorable comment by all the passengers that such excellent roads were to be found in what was comparatively a new district. One of the worst features in our life is the allowing of our party feelings to run away with our better judgment, for what one would like to see things changed in some instances, it is not fair to label a road, or those responsible for its construction, when hundreds of travellers find the said roads in most excellent condition. J. W. ROBINSON, 523 Colinton St., June 14, 1911.

AN ENUMERATOR'S PROTEST.

To the Editor:—Why does your morning contemporary always endeavor to make himself ridiculous by "rushing in," like others of his class, "where angels fear to tread"? Personally, it is of indifference to me if he strangles himself on the reciprocity question, in which he appears to have become entangled. About three weeks ago his ponderous intellect throbbed over a paragraph disparaging the questions contained in the census schedules, with the effect of setting his few supporters up in arms against every thing connected therewith, and in some cases giving them a considerable scare at the thought of the ordeal facing them. During the twelve days of enumerating, the remarks passed over, after playing the question, as to his veracity and reliability, have been a slight compensation for the additional labor entailed in re-assuring the deluded believers of his irresponsible statements. His publicity fun, ought in common fairness to be drawn upon to recompense the eighteen who have had this unnecessary task to perform. To see his paper progress it is imperative that he deals with matters on which he has, at least a faint glimmer of understanding and cut out future attempts to increase the difficulties of the hard worked enumerator. POTTER IS ON THE HORNS OF DILEMMA

Liquors Running Out and License Due for Renewal, Without Knowing Fate

A letter from Mr. Potter, the owner of the Lion saloon, situated on the site of the proposed new city yard, had the effect of titillating the city council's collective palate when read at the meeting the other evening. Of course, the city has decided to expropriate the property in question and the by-law in connection therewith will be submitted to the people at an early date, but up till now no intimation of the council's intention has been forwarded to Mr. Potter, with the inevitable result that he does not know where he is getting off, so to speak.

Mr. Potter's letter reminded the council of the time that has elapsed since he applied for a permit for his proposed hotel, and suggests that he be informed as a matter of courtesy as well as of business whether he is going to get the permit which was found to be legal, or whether he is going to be expropriated. He also explains that his stock of liquors is running out and that his license will have to be renewed by the 15th July. In view of these trying circumstances it will be seen that Mr. Potter was on the horns of dilemma.

However, the city council kindly decided to relieve him of further anxiety on the point by informing him of the existence of the by-law and of their intention to expropriate his property.

CARRIE NATION'S CAREER.

Remarkable Individuality of Famous Anti-Liquor Crusader.

Carrie Moore Nation, whose death took place last week at Leavenworth, Kansas, was born near Versailles, Ky., nearly 45 years ago. In 1875 she was married to a Dr. Lloyd and lived for a year at Holden, Mo. Her husband died of delirium tremens. After ten years of widowhood she married David Nation and for a time lived in Warrensburg, Mo., where she was the editor of a paper. They later moved to Richmond, Texas, where Nation conducted such a strenuous reform campaign that they kept the Lone Star state in constant turmoil. In the national campaign of 1884 the Nations incurred the enmity of a certain class and one night twenty men gave Nation a severe beating. Then they moved to Medicine Lodge, Kansas.

Mrs. Nation has long fostered the anti-liquor sentiment, and in 1901 she began her sensational crusades of physical violence against saloons. Following minor episodes in Iowa and Wichita, Kansas, she went to Topeka and in March, 1901, threw a hatchet across the mahogany bar of the Senate saloon, near the state capitol, breaking the mirror into a thousand pieces, and smashing the glassware. The crusade was then on in earnest. Kansas had a state-wide prohibition law, but in those days it was flagrantly violated. Mrs. Nation visited many cities in Kansas preaching the doctrine of down-with-rum, both in words and deeds.

In August, 1901, her husband obtained a divorce and is now said to be living a retired life in Ibera, O. Then followed many memorable trips by the crusader in many states of the Union, lecturing on the evils of drink, and in many cases following her speeches with practical demonstrations in joint-smashing. She was arrested several times for destroying property but always escaped very easily.

By the sale of souvenirs, by lecturing and other profitable exhibitions of herself, Mrs. Nation is said to have accumulated a fortune of nearly $150,000. Many melodramatic and fatal incidents occurred during her tours but the one that first broke the warlike spirit of the turbulent crusader occurred in one of the lowest dives in Chicago, when she found her grandson, Riley White, serving drinks to human wrecks and painted-faced girls. Her spirit was broken and since then she has never been the aggressive, disturbing Carrie Nation of old.

On February 13 last she suffered a nervous collapse in Eureka Springs, and never recovered from its effects. After living with her sister at Eureka Springs for a while she was removed to Evergreen hospital, Leavenworth, where she was in a very feeble condition for some time previous to her death.

UP-TO-DATE.

"Mr. Cleaver, how do you account for the fact that I found a piece of rubber tire in one of the sausages I bought here last week?" "My dear madam, that only goes to show that the motor car is replacing the horse everywhere."—New York Evening Times.

REGULAR TRAIN SERVICE INAUGURATED

Hundred Miles of Road East From Prince Rupert Now in Operation

Prince Rupert, June 15.—At noon yesterday the Grand Trunk Pacific inaugurated regular train service over the first 100 miles of the railway to Copper River. The train is to be run out every Wednesday and Saturday after the arrival of the steamer from the south. It will connect with river steamers at Mile 100 for Hazelton. The following day it will come back so as to connect with the steamers going south. An immense crowd gathered yesterday to see the first regular train off. Shipping in port whistled salutes as the train pulled out, and these were answered by blasts from the locomotive. The company takes our regular standard coaches, including colonist and standard first class coaches. The company will serve on board the train hot lunches to all passengers until restaurants along the route are established.

NEW SUBWAYS FOR GREATER NEW YORK

Scheme Now Being Considered Involves Expenditure of $257,000,000

New York, June 15.—Five months of talk and controversy over new subways in Greater New York came to a head in a plan which Mayor Gaynor declares "is the largest matter before any government in the world, national or local." The magnitude of the project is made most emphatic in dollars—$257,000,000, which will be expended if the entire programme is carried out—or more than three times the amount spent on the present subway system. The Interborough Rapid Transit Co., which operates the present subway, and the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co., which has control of the most of the business in Brooklyn, must make concessions to the city. The Interborough will have to permit the Brooklyn company's invasion of Manhattan, and the Brooklyn company will have to give New Yorkers a five-cent fare to the great pleasure grounds at Coney Island. It is intimated that the company may not accept, but should this corporation refuse, all the favors will go to the opposition, according to the plan.

RECIPROCITY IN COINAGE.

Canadian Gold Will Be Current Value in United States.

Reciprocity with the United States in the matter of gold coinage is the latest outcome of negotiations between Ottawa and Washington. Five and ten dollar gold pieces are to be coined at the Ottawa branch of the Royal Mint, of the same weight and fineness as the five and ten dollar gold coins issued by the United States.

At present American gold coins are legal tender in Canada, and must be accepted in payment of public and private debts. While there is no corresponding provision in the American statute it is understood that an executive order will be issued requiring all sub-treasurers, national banks and other fiscal agencies of the United States government to receive the new Canadian coins at par. This will have the effect of making such coins current without change for exchange in all parts of the United States, and relieve Canadian visitors of the inconvenience they now suffer from having their Canadian money refused.

WILL TRY TO SCALE PEAK.

Explorer on Way North for Third Attempt to Climb Mount McKinley.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 15.—Dr. Herschel Clifford Parker, vice-president of the Explorers' Club, from which Dr. Cook, once its president, was expelled, is in Los Angeles for a few days before starting on his third attempt to reach the top of Mount McKinley. On his second of his former attempts Dr. Parker disavowed the claims of Dr. Cook that he had planted the American flag on the summit, and of the expedition about to begin. Dr. Parker said he had hopes of being successful in reaching the top of the mountain.

Unless it is determined that Mrs. Parker, a bride, will be able to stand the trip, there will be only four members of the exploring party. Besides Dr. Parker, they will be: Belmont Browne of Tacoma, Merle Lavozy and Arthur Aiter, all of whom were members of an Arctic expedition last summer, when Dr. Parker made his second attempt to scale Mount McKinley. Dr. Parker will start north soon to arrange for supplies, dogs and Indians, and meet the other members of his party. He intends to go along the coast to Seward, near Valdez. From there he intends to go to Sunitna, thence to Toketna station, and then follow the Chulitna river to a point where he expects to find a passage across the Alaska range within 50 miles of Mount McKinley. He plans to make the climb toward the summit next April or May. Dr. Parker said his expedition is solely for exploration purposes. Three sides of Mount McKinley have already been explored, and it was his intention to complete that work. He declared that Mount McKinley was one of the most difficult peaks in the world to climb.

FORTUNE FOR SHOEMAKER.

Burlington, Vt., June 15.—Joseph Miller will quit his bench in a local shoe factory following the receipt of news that he is the sole heir of a fortune of more than $200,000 left by Miss Monchese, a cousin, who died intestate in New York city a few weeks ago.

THINKING THEMES

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

While engaged in the composition of "Tristan and Isolde," Wagner wrote to Liszt: "I have just played my first half of Act I, and I must say to myself what der lieb Gott said when He had finished part of the world—It is good! I have no one to praise me—just as it was in the case of the Creator 6,000 years ago—and so I say to myself, Richard, you're a great fellow!"

Again while writing this same opera, his masterpiece, in which he gave full vent, unafraid, to his musical convictions, he says, "I find the world less and less necessary to me; I could work on if I never had a thing published." There is a glimpse of the supreme joy I believe in his work—Robert Louis Stevenson said once that, dearly as he loved his wife, he could conceive of living on without her, should she die, and so of all other things dear and pleasurable, but that he could not at all conceive of any existence apart from his work.

The older I get the more it is borne in upon me that this notion of Stevenson is right—and that—the highest, noblest, most permanent form of joy, in this world or in the next, is to feel within one's self the ability to do something, to have the chance and health to do it, and actually to do it. It is not the Pay nor the Praise of it, it is the Work itself that counts. "My father worketh hitherto, and I work," said the Master; and our divinest joy therefore is work-joy. Schopenhauer that "the highest joy is the consciousness and use of one's forces."

UNABLE TO AID HOUSE COMMITTEE

Secretary of Sugar Company Says He Knows Nothing of Its Inner History

Washington, D. C., June 15.—Five hours were spent yesterday by Charles H. Helke, for several years the secretary of the American Sugar Refining Company, in telling the House sugar investigating committee that he knew nothing about the policies or inner history of the company, particularly in the years when H. O. Havemeyer was its president. The witness described his position with the company as that of a "stock transfer man, book-keeper and letter writer." He ridiculed the idea that he was the confidential agent of President Havemeyer, saying he was not big enough a man for that. He declared that the government had picked him out as the "mischievous maker," in the alleged customs frauds charged to the American Sugar Refining Company, simply because it had to have someone to fasten them on.

The matters the committee tried to find out about, but concerning which Mr. Helke claimed to know little, were many. One was the interest of the American Sugar Refining Company in the National Sugar Refining Company. The former owned $5,000,000 preferred stock in the latter, or a little more than one-half, but he had no idea of why just a little more than one-half was purchased. Neither did he know whether the American Sugar Refining Company was cognizant of the claim now under litigation that $10,000,000 common stock in the National was in existence at the time it purchased the preferred stock.

Little of the inner history of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company deal was obtained from the witness. He admitted that the American Sugar Refining Company loaned to Adolph Segal, through Gustave A. Kissel, of whom Mr. Helke spoke as Segal's agent, $1,250,000, and that a majority of the stock of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company, with the voting power thereof, was given as collateral security.

Mr. Helke was unable to explain why President Havemeyer had such a control over the American if he only held in his own name a comparatively few shares. Again Mr. Beck interrupted to suggest that probably more shares were held in the name of brokers, as was sometimes done in New York. The stockholders were apparently satisfied to re-elect the directors from year to year, said Mr. Helke in explanation of Mr. Havemeyer's power. Did he secure the proxies of stockholders? Inquired Mr. Garrett. The witness responded that he did, and when asked the manner in which the proxies were collected, said: "I sent out notices every time to each stockholder. I would say, 'The terms expire of three directors. If you please, be present to vote. If you have not time to come we will vote for you, and unless otherwise directed we will vote for the three whose terms expire.'" "And they always wrote you to go ahead and do that?" "Precisely." Then forgetting, seemingly, the reserve which had characterized his testimony, Mr. Helke launched forth into a defence of the corporation.

BELOU'S NEW CABINET.

Brussels, June 15.—The cabinet formed by M. De Broqueville to succeed the Schoofart ministry, is announced as follows: Premier and minister of the interior, M. De Broqueville; minister of justice, M. De Berlier; minister of foreign affairs, M. Davignon; minister of finances, M. Lenoir; minister of war, Gen. Hollbaert; minister of colonies, M. Rankin; minister of science and arts, M. Pouillet; minister of railroads, M. Carton Dewaele; minister of agriculture and public works, M. Van Derveer; minister of labor, M. Hudert.

CROPS IN WEST IN FINE CONDITION

Outlook Bright for Bumper Yield in Wheat on the Prairies

Brandon, June 15.—The crop conditions in Brandon are ideal, and farmers are already talking of immense yields. Never before in the history of Western Canada have crops looked as well as this time of the year. The recent heavy rains followed by warm sunshine were just what they needed. Spring wheat is well advanced. Some slight damage was done to garden produce by sand blowing, but roots and vegetables are very hardy.

HEAVIEST POLICEMAN IN STATES.

New York, June 15.—A great weight is about to be taken off the police force of Brooklyn. Patrolman Frank Link has put in an application for retirement. He weighs nearly 400 pounds, and is said to be the heaviest policeman in the United States. He has been on the Brooklyn force for 23 years.

THE BUSINESS ASPECT.

In discussing the matter of the orders-in-council of April 3 and May 11, the latter regarding the retroactive provisions of the former in its reference to the price of public lands, the Times selected from among several cases of equally serious gravity, the case of the Fraser Land Company because of its opportune synchronism with the events which we had under review.

It must be apparent that the advertising in the United Kingdom of an option on 42,800 acres of land the purchase value of which had been doubled by the order-in-council of April 3—if there was any knowledge of the fact that such order-in-council was to be rescinded—was an example of business methods which cannot do the province anything but harm.

NOVA SCOTIA ELECTIONS. Liberal governments have held the reins of power in Nova Scotia continuously for twenty-nine years. There was an election in the province yesterday, and the result will be to extend the term of the Murray administration for another four years.

QUAKES RECORDED. Seattle, Wash., June 15.—An earthquake shock, beginning about 9:20 o'clock last night and continuing for 15 minutes, was recorded by the seismograph of the University of Washington.

EXPLOSION IN MINE. Goldfield, Nev., June 15.—Several persons are reported to have been killed and a number injured by an explosion in the Mary mine at Blair, Joseph Best of Butte, Mont., is the only one known to have perished.

G. T. P. HOTELS. Winnipeg, June 15.—Charles M. Hayes returned to-day from the coast. He predicts a 200,000,000 bushel wheat crop, and says tenders for Grand Trunk Pacific hotels at Winnipeg and Edmonton will be called for at once.

DIES SUDDENLY. Winnipeg, June 15.—Charles Lewis Shaw, the well-known Canadian magazine and newspaper man, but who recently has been practicing law here, died suddenly to-day shortly after noon.

GRAND TRUNK LUMBER. The morning paper returns to its attack upon the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway because the latter is said to import largely of lumber from the mills of Puget Sound. It affects to be greatly grieved that this should be the case, and incidentally suggests again that the Dominion government is in some way responsible.

are about to pay for them. In the second instance we have the same government reversing this order—which makes these land double in value—and losing to the province a clear quarter of a million dollars.

The Times reverts to its previous contention, made at the time the Thunderbolt order was passed, that the government should have discussed the matter of doubling land prices during the sessions of the legislature. The assembly prorogued during the second week in March, and within less than three weeks the rush order was passed.

needs in its business a hundred tons of paper. Suppose, further, that it cannot procure an undertaking from any Canadian mills that the required amount of paper will be delivered when required. Suppose, also, that the lowest quotation the Colonist receives for this paper from Canadian mills is $200 higher than the offer of the foreign mill with the additional failure to contract for delivery. What would the Colonist do?

If tariff walls on lumber going into the United States have failed to protect the industry on the Sound and the mills must offer lumber cheaper than Canadian mills, we should think the rational procedure would be to adopt reciprocity, let trade and commerce flow along natural lines, unhampered by artificial conditions, and then let every mill take its chance in the mart of commerce.

Paper bag cookery is conducting a whirlwind campaign in England. Even nobility succumbs to its succulence. Judging from the news reports of court proceedings for judicial separation and divorce a great many English women must have married unhappily.

VANCOUVER WILL AID ROYAL VICTORIA CLUB

Terminal City Yachtsmen to Share Expense of Coming Regatta

Vancouver, B. C., June 15.—The Royal Vancouver Yacht Club members last night at a general meeting, decided to give the Royal Victoria Yacht Club the sum of $250 towards the expenses of the "international" regatta. Owing to the action of the American clubs in the Northwest International Yacht Racing Association, in refusing to contribute towards the expense of a regatta this year, it remained with the Vancouver and Victoria clubs to finance the affair, and many members at last night's meeting were not inclined to do so.

The regatta is to be held in Victoria on July 1 and all the clubs in the association were asked to contribute towards the expenses. Seattle promised to send $100 but has not done so; Port Townsend and Tacoma notified the Victoria club that they would not contribute; Bellingham and Everett ignored the request, while the Vancouver club sent $150. The regatta club asked for further assistance. If the regatta is held there will be a big showing of Vancouver boats, twenty owners declaring for the jaunt last night. However, in the event of the regatta the Vancouver club will attend the regatta to be held at Cowichan on July 1, following it up by a cruise to Nanaimo and other points, and the Victoria club will be asked to join it.

JOHN DREW IN "SMITH"

An excellent company, one of the finest yet sent out by Charles Frohman, will be seen in support of John Drew when he appears in "Smith" at the Victoria theatre on Friday evening of next week. Each playlet has been carefully selected, with the result that there is an excellent all round performance. That the ladies of the company will make an elaborate display of gowns goes without saying. Aside from Mr. Drew the cast comprises Mary Boland, Isabel Irving, Sybil Thorndyke, Jane Laurel, Morton Sellen, Hascard Short and Lewis Casson.

HIGH PRAISE FOR THE SCHOOLS OF VICTORIA

An Exhibit of Pupils' Work Asked for Toronto Exhibition—School Business

A high tribute was paid to the school board last evening by W. L. Richardson, director of educational exhibits, Toronto, who wrote to invite the local board to send exhibits from Victoria's schools to the Canadian National school exhibition.

He stated in his letter that all he had heard in regard to the school system and administration in Victoria had been of such a flattering nature that he was anxious to see for himself and to let others see the results of this much-praised method of school government.

The matter of sending exhibits was referred to a committee composed of Chairman George Jay and E. B. Paul, city superintendent.

Two communications were received from Chief Davis. The first censured the board for not acting on his recommendation that a fire escape be placed on the east end of the Girls' Central school. In his second letter the chief informed the board that the escape had been constructed and that it was satisfactory to him.

H. S. Pringle, of the High school staff sent in his resignation, which was accepted. High school principal Caroline A. Dowler wrote to the board in recognition of the kind letter of condolence sent her, after the death of her mother. She declined the leave of absence which had been offered to her, as this month was the most important one of the year for school children.

J. G. Brown and Gideon Hicks notified the board of their willingness to act as judges at the approaching musical contest of the schools.

A communication from J. F. Salloway, principal of the Victoria West school, asking that his teachers' room be furnished and a piano be installed was referred to the finance committee. To the same committee was referred a letter from S. J. Willis, principal of the High school, who complained that the signal bells for the changing of classes were out of order in some of the rooms.

A petition signed by Principals W. N. Winsay, J. F. Salloway, J. M. Campbell, E. Campbell and H. B. McLean, recommended that one additional teacher be added to each of the city schools where there is an entrance class, in order to lighten the work of the principal, who had often to neglect his pupils under the present system. This matter was referred to the city superintendent.

Trustee Riddell moved that the secretary be instructed to call for tenders for school sites at James Bay, Burnside road and Oaklands. This was carried.

Trustee McNeill gave it as his opinion that the board should visit the sites before accepting any. He made motion to that effect, which carried. The secretary was also instructed to write to Dr. Lewis Hall, chairman of the Spring Ridge site committee, that the new High school would front on Grant street, according to the original decision of the board.

BOARD OF TRADE.

Annual Meeting July 15—Committee Will Report on Lighting Problem.

Unless something unforeseen occurs there will be but one meeting of the board of trade council prior to the annual meeting, which will be held on Friday, July 14. The usual annual report is now in course of preparation. It is expected that the committees, and in particular the one appointed to investigate the cost of gas and electric lighting in other cities, will have some important reports to make.

The British Campers will hold a meeting to-night at 8 o'clock at the A. O. F. hall, Broad street. After the meeting a smoking concert will be held at which the members of No. 24 company of the Imperial Veterans' Association will be guests.

ROYAL VICTORIA YACHT CLUB GETS WARRANT

Is Now Authorized to Fly Blue Ensign—Pigott Cup Race Saturday

The Victoria Yacht club has received the official warrant from the British Admiralty to fly the blue ensign of his majesty's fleet with the club's distinctive marks, a monogrammed V. I. in white surmounted by a crown of yellow.

is lent, for hire or otherwise, to any person not being a member of the club, is not a natural-born or naturalized British subject."

Warrants can only be issued to registered vessels and must be returned to the Admiralty for cancellation in the event of the vessel being sold or the owner ceasing to be a member of the club.

of the yachts which were undergoing repairs were unable to enter. It will be held, however, on Saturday and practically every sailing boat belonging to club members has been entered.

CRICKET

The Albion teams for Saturday are as follows:
Second eleven vs. Garrison C. C. at Work Point—F. W. Ashby (captain), H. D. Kirkham, J. Spain, H. J. Wickes, H. E. Southern, R. Winter, W. W. Foster, J. Gerrard, M. B. Ledy, D. Hallam, R. White.

It is a subject for general regret by the participants in the Pacific coast tournament that the affable and capable J. C. Barnacle, through press of school duties, will be unable to fill the office of secretary for this year.

REALTY MEN DEFEAT PRESS.

Wild throws and three hits in the fifth inning gave the real estate men a 9 to 3 victory over the newspaper nine at the Royal Athletic park yesterday afternoon. Up to that inning "Tudle" Sargison had been pitching almost shut-out ball and had been receiving good support, but when the Realty players began to stir things up in the fifth the support tottered and went all to pieces, six runs being counted by the victorious team in that inning.

Frank Moore pitched good ball, the sum total of the hits annexed by the "press" being four and three scattered. The newspapermen pulled off one double play and their opponents one. The score was:

Victoria and Vancouver Broke Even—Belford and Lane Batted Freely

Vancouver and Victoria broke even in yesterday's double-header, the Beavers taking the afternoon affair, 8 to 1, and losing in the evening, 3 to 2, after having the game apparently stowed safely away. With the score 2 to 0 against them, three hits and a couple of close decisions gave the Islanders 3 runs in the seventh, just enough to win.

INDIANS SNOWED UNDER.

With the score 12 to 0 in favor of the Pippins at Portland yesterday and a whitewash in sight, Tonneson slowed down and allowed four hits in a bunch in the eighth, when the Spokane Indians scored both their runs. Bonner went to pieces in the second and after that the Pippins batted him at will, the fifth and eighth being the only innings thereafter in which they did not score.

GIANTS HARD HITTING.

The Giants defeated the Tacoma Tigers at Seattle yesterday by a score of 18 to 9, rugged playing on both sides marked the game. Twenty-four hits compiled by the Giants is certainly some record, when it is considered that five of them were home runs. The poor old Tigers thought they were going some when they rapped out three four-baggers.

SCHWEITZER WON THE STEEPLECHASE

Had the Lead From the Starting Post—Yesterday's Results at Minoru Track

Vancouver, June 15.—The inaugural steeplechase was the feature event yesterday at Minoru Park. The track was in perfect condition and a good crowd witnessed the races.

The grey horse Schweitzer, owned by P. E. Harris, with Captain Read up, won the steeplechase in easy fashion. Right from the never questioned. He took every jump with ease, and in the home stretch he had such a lead he appeared to be the only horse in the race. There were eight starters, but only three completed the course. At one stage Nigger Joe overcame the winner, but threw his rider at the third jump. The results:

First race, four furlongs, for two-year-olds; Big Ike 1st, Annuity 2nd, Ah Moon 3rd. Time 49 4-5.

Second race, five furlongs, for three-year-olds and upwards; Redan 1st, 2nd, Minnedocia 3rd. Time 1:01 4-5.

Third race, five furlongs, for three-year-olds and upwards; Cannapa 1st, W. V. Brumby 2nd, Irish Mall 3rd. Time 1:02 1-5.

Fourth race, six furlongs, for three-year-olds and upwards; Dr. Dougherty 1st, Seth 2nd, Pride of Lismore 3rd. Time 1:14 4-5.

Fifth race, one mile, for three-year-olds and upwards; Nettie Travers 1st, Capewell 2nd, Trapping 3rd. Time 1:41 3-5.

Sixth race, one mile and 70 yards, for three-year-olds and upwards; Colinet 1st, Miss Roberts 2nd, Salali 3rd. Time 1:45 2-5.

Seventh race, Inaugural Steeplechase about 2 1-8 miles; Schweitzer 1st, Judge Mc 2nd, Golden Crest 3rd. Time 5:46.

ABOUT BASEBALL

There is nothing the matter with the Portland club except the lack of good pitching, and McCredie has promised to remedy that defect right away. If Portland can hook Spokane at Portland this week while Seattle is taking Tacoma down the line a few games, it will make the race more interesting.

SPORT NOTES

The Seattle fans do not like to lose Fred Weed, the outfielder whom it was proposed to trade for Householder. A Seattle paper says: Fred Weed had a field day both in the field and at the bat on Monday. He got two line singles and a double, and he pulled off the feature catch of the game when he robbed Bassey of a good hard slam in the sixth inning with the bases full. The hit would have scored two runs and maybe three, for there was plenty of power behind it. Fred leaped like a man making a high dive and butted right into the ball. He knocked the ball into the air and caught it on the rebound, and the cheering lasted two minutes and thirty seconds. One enthusiast in the right field bleachers tossed Fred a dollar and the veteran caught that, too, thus giving him a perfect average on the day. A couple of Weed's admirers in the grand stand took it very hard when they read that Fred might be traded for Householder or some other man in this league, and every time Fred did anything yesterday, they yelled in chorus: "That's right, trade Weed; get rid of all your good ball players."

BASEBALL RESULTS

The Cleveland American League Baseball Club will educate Joe Jackson, the outfielder recruited from the New Orleans team of the Southern League. President Somers, of the Cleveland club, has notified Memphis relatives of Jackson that he will put Jackson in college at the close of the American League season in October. President Somers considers Jackson one of the greatest ball players in the game, and believes the mental training of a college course will make him more valuable to the team.

President Russell, of the Boston Nationals, announced last night that Johnny Kling, recently acquired from the Chicago Nationals, would be appointed manager of the Boston team.

Getting down to the mercenary end of baseball, the interesting question of what a star player is worth to a club has come up for discussion again. Such pronounced cases as Ty Cobb, Hans Wagner, Napoleon Lajoie, Christy Mathewson and other famous players have been studied, and figures show almost conclusively that their value runs into the thousands. The falling off of the box office receipts is one means of finding out how much money those men bring to the club owners. Right now the Cleveland club is experiencing how much to the box office Lajoie's presence in the game means. The receipts of the Naps since the big Frenchman has been on the hospital list has fallen off on an average of $1,000 a game. Hundreds of visitors and regular fans pay their admissions to a game for the sole purpose of seeing one of these stars in action. Sporting Life is out with a statement that Ty Cobb is worth a cold $100,000 to the Detroit team per season. This sum might be considered exorbitant unless one takes into consideration the "Georgia Peach's" drawing powers. Ping Bodie is also getting to be a card for the White Sox, but we would hardly appraise his value at $100,000 just now.

INTERMEDIATE LACROSSE

The third match of the intermediate lacrosse series between the Wests and the Oak Bays, scheduled to take place to-night at the North Ward park will in all probability be postponed owing to the fact that several of the Wests men, including the captain, are out of town. Oak Bay and Victoria West have so far one game each to their credit, the former having defeated the Wards while the latter won a contest from the same team by default.

NATAL DAY NAMES

Policeman John Lhots, of Pittsburg, has become the father of a tenth child, born, as were all the others, either on a legal or a church holiday. He promptly named the baby Memorial Day Lhots. Now he announces the calendar is filled with Policeman Lhots is the seventh son of a seventh son. His first born arrived on Christmas, and was named Christmas Lhots. The family consists of a sturdy lot of children, three girls and seven boys, of the lines, past Thanksgiving, Labor Day, St. Anthony, St. Patrick and St. John, to George Washington and the little church holidays.

Not only were the ten children born on holidays, but each has been named for its natal day.

OUTPUT OF LOGS MUST BE CURTAILED

Loggers Will Discuss Methods of Relieving Situation on Puget Sound

Seattle, Wash., June 15.—What it is expected will be one of the largest meetings of loggers ever held in the northwest will be held this afternoon in the assembly hall of the Henry building. The meeting has been called for the purpose of enabling loggers to discuss trade conditions in the hope that some methods for relieving the demoralized condition of the log market may be worked out. Invitations to practically all the loggers in the northwest, as well as a large number of millmen, were sent out by E. P. Blake, manager of the Washington Loggers & Brokerage Co. The meeting, however, is not an association meeting. Mr. Blake merely took the initiative stand that the loggers and mill men should come together to discuss conditions.

Loggers, both in and out of the association, declare that the surplus of logs on Puget Sound is excessive, and that inasmuch as logs deteriorate rapidly in salt water, steps must be taken to cut down the supply until the demand improves.

A man in close touch with the logging situation stated that there is a surplus of 100,000,000 feet of logs on Puget Sound at present, and that the camps now in operation are dumping logs into the water much faster than can possibly be consumed by the mills.

Loggers are now preparing for the annual suspension of logging operations around July 4. It is expected that instead of keeping the camps closed for one week—a longer suspension will be inaugurated. The recent curtailment campaign by the lumbermen has cut down the output of lumber more than 12,000,000 feet per week.

MOTORISTS TO MAKE TRIP TO VANCOUVER

First Run of Season Under the Auspices of Seattle Club, Leaving Saturday

Seattle, Wash., June 14.—Yellow banners advertising Seattle's motor potlatch will flutter from at least forty or fifty motor cars of Seattle men, which will appear in Vancouver next week. At least this number of motorists are expected to make the trip, the first run of the season under the auspices of the automobile club of Seattle. A large motor party from this point to the British Columbia mainland city is encouraged by the reports of several who have recently made the trip, stating that the roads are in excellent condition.

Those who have had a run will find no trouble in keeping to the routes, as the Pacific Highway signs mark every road crossing the international boundary. From that point there is only one main road, which marks directly into Vancouver.

A. E. Todd of Victoria, made the trip last week, and W. D. Wallace of Seattle, drove to Vancouver Monday. Both have sent back reports that the highway is in good condition.

Many of the motorists are leaving Saturday afternoon, stopping at Belingham over night and spending Sunday at Blaine, where a big all-day entertainment has been arranged for their benefit.

Others will go early Saturday, arriving in Vancouver the same day and returning to Blaine Sunday morning for the entertainment. Blaine autostets will escort the entire caravan of visitors into Vancouver Sunday morning.

PLACES BLAME ON HAYTIAN GOVERNMENT

Germany Disclaims Responsibility for Movements of Vessel Which Carries Castro

Berlin, June 15.—The German government disclaims all responsibility for the steamer Consul Grotzuck, which is reported as flying the German flag, and announces that the blame for any complications that may result from the landing of Cipriano Castro, the exiled president of Venezuela, will rest with the Haytian government.

It is stated emphatically that the steamer has no right to display the German colors. It was formerly the Italian cruiser Umbria and was purchased from Italy by Hayti, which latter country is the one now properly concerned with the movement of the vessel.

American Ambassador Hill called at the foreign office to-day, presumably to discuss the situation brought about by the reported presence of Castro on the Consul Grotzuck.

The steamer recently arrived at Port De Paix, Hayti, and according to advices received at Washington from John B. Terres, the American consul at Port Au Prince, has on board the exiled Castro, who is supposed to be attempting to return to Venezuela. In the hope of being able to rally his erstwhile followers and so regain the presidency from which he was deposed after he left the country for a visit to Europe in 1908.

Former President Discredited.

New York, June 15.—Prince Lazzarovich Hrehelinovitch of Roumania, who arrived to-day from Venezuela, says that former President Castro is completely discredited and has no influence in Venezuela.

The prince visited Venezuela to study the manners, customs and the condition of the country. He said the people are tired of civil war and are bent on improving their material condition. The internal conditions are good, economic and political security exist and there is no likelihood of any disturbance during the constitutional presidential term of President Gomez, who possesses the confidence of the people.

CARUSO'S LOVE AFFAIRS.

Statement by Famous Italian Tenor of His View of Case.

It is now reported on good authority that a Milan shop girl has really commenced proceedings against Signor Enrico Caruso, the world's greatest tenor, for $10,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage. The amorous correspondence is voluminous. A copy of it has just been secured by a prominent New York daily newspaper, through the medium of its representative in Rome. The originals are now in the hands of the lawyers.

Signor Caruso, who was seen at his London flat by one of the representatives of the Pall Mall Gazette, made a statement giving his version of the affair.

At the outset he explained that the Italian law in regard to couples who are "fiance" is quite different from the English or American law. The letters referred to are fifty or sixty in number, and were written by him during a period of two or three months.

"This is the fourth time that she says she does this," exclaimed the great singer indignantly. "About two years ago I offered to engage this girl as housekeeper, but she did not accept. That was when I was in Milan. After that I came here, and while in London I received a cable from her saying 'I love you.' My answer was 'I have no time because of my tour in England, but after that a correspondence began, and it became a little 'intime.'"

"After two months I thought 'What are you doing?'—because the correspondence was so 'intime' so affectionate. I said, 'I want to know the girl, and I propose to follow you. Come and fetch me.' My answer was 'I have no time because of my tour in England, but after that a correspondence began, and it became a little 'intime.'"

"After that she stayed five days in Berlin. Then I left Berlin for America. She left Berlin. I gave her 2,000 marks. After that I wrote her a letter from Bremen and I say, 'I am very sorry to tell you what I go to say. Our correspondence was 'intime.'"

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Young Lover Falls in Effort to End His Life After Quarrel With Sweetheart.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 15.—Frank Marshall, 19 years old, is under arrest here to-day on a charge of attempted suicide. He called on his fiancée, Miss Tryer, Tuesday night and left downhearted after a lovers' quarrel. He stood outside for a time and finally decided to get his revenge by committing suicide on the porch of the young lady's home. He picked up a rope in the yard nearby, and after the household had retired, fastened the rope to one of the porch posts and climbed into the noose from a box which he planned to kick out from under his feet when all was ready. The box caught on a board and would not budge. Meanwhile Marshall made such a racket endeavoring to complete his attempt at suicide that the girl's brother was aroused and proceeded to investigate. He cut the young man down and called in a pair of policemen, who made the arrest.

THE SEVEN SEAS

British Residents of Tacoma Will Take Part in a Courty of July Celebrations.

Tacoma, Wash., June 15.—Planning to give Tacoma a glimpse of something similar to the coronation ceremonies in Great Britain, British residents of Tacoma met on Tuesday at the carnival headquarters and decided on features for the week. A float typifying the dominion of Great Britain to be called "The Seven Seas" will be entered in the parade July 4. Following the float, former subjects of King George will march, clad in uniform. F. H. P. Rogers, who is in charge of the display, has requested all British residents to take part in the ceremonies. The Welsh society has appointed a committee to arrange for a float typical of their country. The society will march in the parade, headed by a Welsh band.

Stratford, of the William Jolliffe, has been given command of the steamer Salvor, and Capt. T. Thompson, of the Dominion, Government lighthouse tender Quadra, will pace the helms of the big towboat.

During her northbound passage the Princess May encountered strong southeast gales and heavy rain. The wind did not blow at any great velocity although in the big seas stirred up the vessel, she rolled about considerably. Coming south the steamer ran into a heavy fog in Lantz Passage, but the remainder of the passage was void of any dirty weather and no startling incidents were recorded during the trip. Officers of the May report that there is now a great rush of miners and prospectors into the Alaskan and Yukon gold fields. The Yukon River and the northern lakes are making the runs between Dawson and other points with regularity. They are unable to handle the great passenger and freight traffic and many of the gold seekers have to wait for the next boat. Outside of the great preparations being made by the miners the town of Skagway is practically dead. To-morrow night the Princess May will sail for northern ports. She will take a large number of passengers and is to-day loading a big cargo of general merchandise, including a large quantity of stores and supplies.

Word has been received here that the mails aboard the gasoline launch Ganex, which has been used in carrying the letters and papers between Sidney and the Islands, and which was burned on Monday night at Ganges Harbor, were destroyed. (Additional Shipping on Page Ten).

Following a carousal at the Balmoral cannery, which is situated on the Skeena river, two Japanese, employed by the cannery company, became involved in a heated debate on the opinions of one another, which resulted in a fight and the killing of one of the little brown men. Knives were used when the two had exhausted their vocabulary, and before any of the other employees could separate them one of the sharp blades had pierced the flesh of one of the Japs and touched a vital spot. This was the news brought south by the Boscowitz steamer Vadso, Capt. LeBlanc, which returned to port from northern British Columbia points last evening. The murder occurred last Thursday night and the Japanese who did the killing is now behind the bars at Prince Rupert. Both men were intoxicated at the time, having been drinking heavily early in the evening. At the Goose Bay mines one man was asphyxiated and another nearly overcome just before the Vadso reached there. She took the dead man to Prince Rupert, while the other had recovered from the effects of the gas. The officers of the Vadso state that the mine has been closed down as a result and that the inspector will shortly visit it. This morning the Vadso, moored at the Michigan Puget Sound Lumber Company's wharf to load 20,000 feet of lumber for Prince Rupert. Before sailing to-night the steamer will take an additional freight at Evans, Coleman & Evans' dock for northern ports. Many passengers will take passage on her and there will be little accommodation left when she leaves Vancouver.

MARINE NOTES The Allan liner Scotian, from Glasgow, arrived at Quebec Sunday, and at Montreal Monday. The British steamer Saint George has completed her cargo of 1,500,000 feet of lumber and sailed from Tacoma yesterday for San Francisco and Europe. The management of the Canadian-Australian Royal Mail line in New Zealand and Australia is now inviting applications from shippers for cold storage space for frozen meat, butter, rails, etc. As all applications must be filed by shippers not later than July 1, 1911, it is necessary for importers to communicate promptly with their shippers. The steamer Victoria arrived at Nome from Seattle yesterday, having made a quick passage. When she landed her 700 passengers the scene on the waterfront resembled that of 1900, when the big stampede to Nome was in progress. The steamer Senator will be the first vessel to leave Behring Sea for the south this year. She is expected to sail for Seattle to-morrow. Lumbermen estimate that an average of 2,000,000 feet of lumber every month is being shipped from Tacoma to different points in Canada, this successful competition against the Canadian mills being made possible by the overproduction of lumber in the northwest which has forced the mills to sell at almost cost. Among the mills making recent shipments into Canada are the DeLancey, Newbegin, Pacific, Lindstrom & Hanford and the lumber agencies of Centralia. The shipments made recently all consist of rough lumber, for which several large Canadian firms are in the market. When the work of unloading the San Francisco cargo of the steamship Melville Dollar began yesterday at Seattle it was discovered that while on her way up the coast the vessel's oil tanks had sprung a leak and nearly 100 tons of cargo had been damaged as a result. The Melville Dollar was en route to the Sound to take up a charter with the Alaska Steamship Company which intends to send her up the Kuskokwim river as far as Bethel. The cargo of hay was poorly stowed, having been placed on top of the fuel pipes to the tanks, which furnish the vessel fuel. These pipes were forced down into the tank, which sprung a leak, and when the Seattle cargo was taken out this morning it was found that the vessel's holds were flooded with crude oil. Nearly fifty tons of hay and a similar amount of general cargo had been damaged by the oil.

Princess May Brings Word That Yukon Steamers Are Doing Big Business Alaska Steamship Co. to Build $500,000 Vessel—To Make Fifteen Knots Seattle, Wash., June 15.—To be prepared for the increasing traffic between Seattle and Alaska ports, which it is believed will be more than doubled within the next two years, the Alaska S. S. Co. yesterday completed arrangements for the enlargement of its fleet and requested bids for the construction of a large freight and passenger steamer which will cost approximately $500,000. It is expected that bids will be submitted by the Moran Company of Seattle and a number of eastern shipbuilding concerns. The new steamship will be the largest passenger carrier ever constructed for this coast and if plans do not miscarry she will be launched in time for service between Seattle and the north next summer. Although details of the plans have not been made public the new vessel it is understood, will be a double bottom twin screw steamship, equipped with the latest type of engines and capable of making 15 knots an hour. Word has been received here that the mails aboard the gasoline launch Ganex, which has been used in carrying the letters and papers between Sidney and the Islands, and which was burned on Monday night at Ganges Harbor, were destroyed. MISINTERPRETS SIGNALS.

County of Linnithgow was not in distress—Captain Well—No Potatoes.

Fort Townsend, Wash., June 15.—A mistake in signals was responsible for the ferry that reached here on Tuesday that Captain G. Muller of the four-masted ship County of Linnithgow was seriously ill and that the vessel was in distress in the strait. Captain Muller was merely flying the customary signal when he passed Tatoosh and was never in better health when he arrived yesterday morning.

Proof of this fact is that he sailed into port taking advantage of the strong westerly gale that had been blowing in the strait during the past few days. The County of Linnithgow was sixty days out of Valparaiso but was short of no provisions except potatoes.

She will load with lumber in Tacoma for Valparaiso but before going to that port will be placed in drydock.

GEORGE SAILS WITH BIG PASSENGER LIST

G. T. P. Steamer Takes Many of Witnesses of Riot Back to Prince Rupert

Taking a large number of the witnesses, who have been in this city attending the trial of the Prince Rupert rioters, back to their place of abode, as well as many other passengers, the Grand Trunk Pacific steamer Prince George, Capt. Saunders, left port this morning for Prince Rupert and Stewart.

The local agents of the company booked one of the largest lists of passengers that has fallen in their path for some time.

Those who sailed on the George included the following: A Helmo, who is bound for Ikeda Bay, where he will survey the copper mines; Thomas Stedham, of the Pacific Coast Construction Company, who with his family will reside at Prince Rupert while the new marine and buoy project is under construction; W. E. Williams, who defended the rioters at the trial here accompanied by his wife, C. de B. Green and a party of seven, who are going to Massett on a survey cruise; William Manson, Chief Justice and Mrs. Hunter, P. C. Gamble, R. P. MacLean, J. A. McMaster, Geo. T. Stewart and J. James.

With the return of the Prince George from Seattle it was learned that the repair work on the Prince Rupert at Fox's Boiler Works was being rushed with all speed, but that it will be a week or more before she is again ready for service.

FAULKNER TRIAL HELD PRIVATELY

IF HE IS FOUND GUILTY AN APPEAL MAY FOLLOW

H. A. Maclean, K. C., for Accused Contends Indictment Was Irregularly Preferred

An application to have the indictment preferred against G. E. Faulkner, the Vancouver real estate operator who is charged with rape and on three other counts, quashed was made to Mr. Justice Murphy in the assize court yesterday afternoon by H. A. Maclean, K. C., who appears for the accused, on the ground that the indictment is preferred by Hon. W. R. Ross, "acting attorney-general," whom Mr. Maclean contends has no authority and that even if he had authority he had not directed the indictment to any particular person but to "counsel acting for the crown" at the spring assizes. There are two crown counsel at the spring assizes, Mr. Maclean said.

Mr. Maclean supported his contention that Hon. W. R. Ross as acting attorney-general has no authority to prefer an indictment, the only person having the right being the attorney-general, by reference to a case in the courts of Saskatchewan recently heard, in which the deputy attorney-general had undertaken to prefer a bill to the grand jury. The courts there held the deputy had no authority and the Supreme Court of Canada had upheld the decision.

Mr. Justice Murphy asked whether if Hon. W. R. Ross was gazetted, he was not attorney-general, but Mr. Maclean claimed there could be one attorney-general only in a province.

following Monday. The girl told of the assault hesitatingly and said that while she resisted she pleaded with the accused to let her alone, he had said, "When people love one another it doesn't matter what they do." His Lordship told the "little girl" to speak up, as no one blamed her, because she was only a little school girl.

On the way back to town he had asked her to see him on the next day and she refused, but said she might see him on the following day.

Mr. Maclean cross-examined the girl as to her acquaintance with others and as to an instance or two of having run away from home and played truant from school. She had been willing to go out with Faulkner on the Sunday as promised and again on Monday.

She told her mother when questioned that she obtained the ring from a school girl friend.

The girl's adopted mother gave evidence of having discovered that she played truant and of questioning her, and of the steps she took subsequently. James M. Miller, from the registrar-general's office, proved the age of the girl. She was born on October 23, 1885.

Her age was given as the largest of Mr. Maclean's evidence to admit the age of the child as that set out in the charge.

Dr. Eliza Henrietta Richardson Paterson Denovan, duly qualified practitioner, gave medical testimony in support of the crown charge.

The jury consists of W. S. Shields, J. E. Gray, Nevitt Stannard, Fred Theriault, John Telfer, John P. Young, H. C. Dhillon, W. J. Rennie, Chas. Holmes (foreman), Robert J. Land, Saul Kirkham and Robt. Kerr.

JURY AWARDS $17,500. Verdict at Second Trial of Action Against the B. C. Electric Railway.

Vancouver, June 15.—A verdict of $17,500 damages, easily the largest of the kind ever given in British Columbia, was awarded yesterday by the jury in the case of J. D. Taylor against the British Columbia Electric Railway Company. The verdict was the more remarkable as this is the second time the case has been tried, and it was sent back for second trial by the court on the ground that the verdict of $17,500 awarded at the first trial was excessive.

It was urged that the medical testimony and Taylor's own condition all showed that he was in a much worse state at the second than at the first trial.

Taylor, a man over fifty years of age, was a truck driver by trade, and was injured in the Lakewood accident in the fall of 1909. As a result of his injuries he was afflicted with thrombotic neurasthenia, which has completely incapacitated him from doing any work whatever. In the witness box he gave his evidence trembling and sobbing in a pitiable manner.

DARING HOTEL ROBBERY. Eight Men Loot Safe—Two Taken Into Custody.

New York, June 15.—An automobile containing eight men pulled up in front of the Hotel Roy on West 35th street, near Broadway, about 1 o'clock this morning, and the men all lined up before Charles Simmons, the night clerk. Each man held a revolver, and their leader ordered the clerk to stand back while he explored the cash drawer of the open safe. There was nothing else for the clerk to do, and the intruders quickly scooped out $100 in bills. Then they fled out and the last one covered the clerk with his revolver until all were outside.

As soon as he was free, the clerk grabbed his own gun from a drawer and fired five shots to call the police. He got a response from a Broadway patrolman before the robbers could crank their machine and get started. The patrolmen captured the last two of the men and found in the pockets of one of them a roll of bills twice the size of that which the hotel clerk had lost.

"OPEN SHOP." Vancouver Contractors Endorse Action of Builders' Exchange and Master Builders' Association.

Vancouver, June 15.—At a meeting of the building contractors of the city, at which all contractors, whether members of the Master Builders' Association or not, were present, the exchange of working entirely separate from both of these organizations, an agreement and a resolution were passed, both of which will have an important bearing on the strike situation. The agreement was signed by thirty-two contractors and reads as follows:

"That this meeting of the building contractors endorse the action of the Builders' Exchange and the Master Builders' Association in their dealings with the Carpenters' Union and pledge ourselves to maintain the principle of the open shop, but not to discriminate against union mechanics, and also agree to pay as a standard rate of wages $4.25 a day of eight hours."

The following resolution was also passed practically unanimously: "Whereas, our men are being intimidated, abused and assaulted by pickets assembled in large numbers on the streets and in and around buildings in course of construction in the presence of police officers; "Resolved, that we bring this matter to the attention of the police commissioners and urge them to issue the necessary instructions to the police to keep the streets clear in the vicinity of such buildings and to prevent interference with workmen employed on the same."

SAILS FOR ALASKA. Glory of the Seas Will Work as Floating Salmon Cannery.

Seattle, Wash., June 15.—The once famous clipper ship Glory of the Seas sailed for southeastern Alaska today fully equipped as a floating salmon cannery, capable of canning and stowing away 20,000 cases of fish in a season. The salmon, thrown alive from the deck of the ship, will be cleaned, sliced, cooked, canned, and stored in boxes by elaborate machinery operated by white labor, and when the ship returns to Seattle next fall the product will be ready to be transferred to the steamers that will carry it to Europe.

DETERMINED TO END LIFE. Fresno, Cal., June 15.—With throat cut from ear to ear and the arteries of both wrists completely severed, the body of Carl Boutell, an oil field laborer, about 30 years of age, was found this morning dangling from a bed-post in a bunk house a few miles southwest of Coalinga. Despondency over an uncle's recent death is supposed to have led Boutell to take his own life. He is survived by a wife and two small children.

NATIONAL REFORM CONGRESS. Pittsburgh, June 15.—The executive committee of the National Reform Association held a meeting here last night and arranged details for the world's convention to be held on the Pacific coast in 1912.

PAPER BAG COOKERY.

London Chronicle Gives Luncheon at Which Couriers Sit In.

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating." That is the homely proverb drawn from the homely art. Most of the wisdom of the past that has taken its place in the proverbial philosophy of the present drew its illustration from war and the sports of the field, which were the occupations of men, or the domestic arts, which were the occupations of women.

And there is no more useful proverb to read, mark, learn and inwardly digest for our guidance in the general concerns of life than the one which bridges with golden common sense the passage of the pudding from the pot to the palate.

Recognizing that the proof of the value of paper bag cookery lay in the extent to which the result would appeal to the consumer, the proprietors of the London Daily Chronicle recently gave a "paper bag" luncheon, and invited a small party of the "men who know" to assist in a practical test of the Soyer system for reforming the kitchen, and making cooking, for the ordinary woman, a pleasant pastime instead of a trying task.

The result was declared to be in every way satisfactory. In every item on the menu of the experimental luncheon all the shades of flavor, if one may use the expression, were preserved.

The preservation of flavor is one of the great points in paper bag cookery. Men, as a rule, make better cooks than women—I am writing of professional cooks—because no man goes in for cooking as a career unless he is really interested in the art, and has a taste for it, whereas thousands of women take it up because there is more money to be earned by calling oneself a good plain cook, than there is by going into domestic service as a scrubber of floors, a dustier of furniture, or a hander round of dishes.

By the ordinary home method of cookery all the "disagreeables" attending the process are increased, and it is a method which has proved so unsatisfactory that the saying "God sent the meat and the devil sent the cooks" is sure of a cordial reception in the average household.

Paper bag cookery will lighten the labor of the ordinary woman cook enormously. As her own kitchen maid she will be relieved of many of the sorrows of the sink, and the cleaning and polishing of pots and pans will no longer occupy so large a portion of her time. Alike to the paid cook and to the humble housewife, who has to prepare all the family meals herself, the saving of time in the Soyer system will come as a boon and a blessing.

This is the broad general view that will be taken of cookery in the paper bag. But we must come back to the first great principle in arriving at the value of cooked articles of food, and that is the eating.

And it is in this connection that we have to consider the preservation of what I have called "the shades of flavor."

It must have occurred to most men who think occasionally, as dogs always do, with their noses, that the more or less powerful fumes and perfumes which are given off by various foods in the process of cooking must affect to some extent the other foods which are in the sphere of their influence.

That is exactly what happens. How often in the old-fashioned eating houses when the various joints and the poultry were served with their juices and sauces and seasonings from the same "hot plate" has the customer found the mixed flavors of half a dozen items on the bill of fare in the one dish he has selected, and that the meat or poultry he is eating has in the process of acquiring all the other flavors lost its own.

In paper bag cookery not only is the natural flavor of every article of food preserved, but all alien, or shall we say undesirable, flavors are kept at bay.

Paper bag cookery, provided that the proper and suitable paper be used, will mean in many home not only a revolution, but a revelation. Thousands of men and women who have never known what really good cooking means to the palate and the appetite will be in the position of the young American girl who arrived for the first time in England on a lovely May morning.

Looking out of the window of the train that was tearing through the green pasture lands of rural England towards the great city, she suddenly turned to her mother and exclaimed, "Oh, mother, now I know what green is!"

When in the homes of modest resource the contents of the paper bag that has passed through the culinary process are placed upon the table, and the savory smell has been succeeded by the delicious flavor, husband and children will join in the cry of homage to the new method of the menagerie, and exclaim: "Oh, mother, now we know what cooking is!"

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss N. Tagg and Miss J. Johnston are spending two weeks at Shawnigan.

Hugo Victor, travelling passenger agent for the Santa Fe railroad, is in town.

Sir Edward R. Murray is at the Empress on a short visit from the 'old country.'

Mrs. Irving Archer, 1216 Basil avenue, will not receive to-day, nor again this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stewart are spending a few days at the Vancouver hotel, Vancouver.

Mrs. Frank Stevenson, 852 Pemberton road, will not receive to-day nor again this summer.

Miss Gulland, 1311 Stanley avenue, will receive as usual on Saturday, but not thereafter until notice.

Sir Joseph Turner Hutchinson, chief justice of Ceylon, and Lady Hutchinson are guests at the Empress.

The marriage of Miss Margery Sherburne to Mr. A. E. Mitchell will take place at Christ Church cathedral on June 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Reid, Guelph, Ont., are spending a month with Mrs. Reid's aunt, Mrs. H. Nicholson, Alderman road.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Blyth, Auckland, New Zealand, are spending a month's vacation at the Shawnigan Lake hotel.

Mrs. A. J. Taylor and Miss Edna Taylor, who have been spending a two months' vacation at the Shawnigan Lake hotel, returned to Vancouver Tuesday.

Miss Daisy Jones, daughter of H. H. Jones, Michigan street, who has returned home for the midsummer holidays, has successfully passed her examinations at Toronto University.

Among the week end visitors registered at the Shawnigan Lake hotel were Miss H. M. Stannard, K. E. Loomis, Miss Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Robertson, R. A. Davis and wife, and Mrs. Woods, all of Victoria.

Last evening, at the First Presbyterian manse, Rev. Dr. Campbell invited in marriage Mr. Mar Chan Quon, Sun Ming, China, and Miss Hor Shee, Canton City, China. The bride was gowned in the finest silk and carried a bouquet of roses. Mr. and Mrs. Quon will reside here.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Shakespeare left yesterday afternoon for Seattle, where they will join a special train bearing eastern delegates and proceed to San Francisco, to attend the International Sunday School convention. From there they will go on to New York and sail for Liverpool on the Cunarder Mauretania on July 5. Mr. Shakespeare will visit his birthplace at Brighthelm, Yorkshire, for the first time since 1882.

The marriage of Mr. William R. Bell, Everett, Wash., and Miss Bessie E. Elderkin, Anherst, N. S., took place at noon yesterday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Goggin, 1926 Southgate street. The bride was given away by her twin brother, Mr. J. Elderkin. Rev. T. E. Holling officiated. After the ceremony Mrs. Goggin served a dainty lunch. Mr. and Mrs. Bell left on the afternoon boat for Seattle and will shortly take up their residence in Everett.

THE ADVANCE MAN

Nance O'Neil.

David Belasco's adaptation of "The Lily" from the French of Pierre Wolff and Gaston Leroux, a powerful and impressive play dealing with a subject of vital human interest that occupied the stage of Mr. Belasco's own theatre in New York for over one year, will be the attraction, at the Victoria theatre on Saturday night, June 17, with the now famous Belasco company, headed by Nance O'Neil and Charles Cartwright, and which includes Julia Dean, Alfred Hickman, Oscar Eagle, Elliott Dexter, William C. Holden, Antoinette Walker, Ethel Gray Terry, etc.

The mammoth production will be disclosed with genuine Belasconian fidelity to locale, association, etc. The engagement is limited to one night.

Chevalier the Great.

Albert Chevalier's tour of Western Canada in the near future is arousing tremendous interest and enthusiasm. Chevalier appeared in Winnipeg about five years ago, when he was greeted by a house which broke all records for the city up to that time, but he has never been farther west. Frederic Shipman, the Canadian impresario, has prevailed upon Chevalier to devote four weeks to Western Canada. Incidentally it may be mentioned that Mr. Shipman's persuasive powers were materially heightened by the offer of a weekly salary of three thousand dollars.

Chevalier occupies a position peculiarly and positively his own and without parallel on the stage. The songs and character creations of Chevalier which the public has come to know and love should be as nearly immortal as anything can be in this world, for in these we see the eternal simplicity of human nature, the brave goodness of common lives and the queer loveliness of humble love.

Beneath the humor of "My Old Dutch" and the "Little Nipper," the mirth of "Right as Nineteen" and all the many creations that Chevalier has made to live, is the bond of soul and sympathy, of human smiles and human tears, the sense of universal brotherhood. Dickens makes us feel this warm flood of human nature, and Burns does, and Chevalier does, and we feel the better for their doing of it.

On the coming visit here Chevalier will be heard in a number of new impersonations and all the old favorites are promised. The engagement at the Victoria theatre is for two nights, Thursday and Saturday evenings, June 22 and 24. The tour opens with three nights at the Walker Theatre, Winnipeg, starting May 22.

TROWEL FOR KITCHEN USE.

There are evidences that the trowel was an implement devised by the ancient masons and was in all probability, made use of in the construction of the pyramids, but only recently this

The Evening Chit-Chat
By Ruth Cameron

I have been rebuked. My offense is using the expression "middle class," several times in a recent article.

My censor tells me that he is surprised that such a democratic person as I have seemed to be, should speak so much of "classes." He reminds me that according to a certain very good authority all people are born free and equal, and that the possession or lack of money does not make one man better or worse than another and that there is no such thing as class.

I accept the rebuke.

But I do not entirely agree with the gentleman.

I admit I was at fault in the article cited because when I referred to the middle class, I did mean those with a moderate amount of the world's goods, and in so doing I went back on my own conviction that class is not founded on money.

But I very heartily disagree with the gentleman when he says there is no such thing as class.

There most certainly is such a thing. The most radical, the most democratic, the most socialistic or anarchistic person living must admit that there are persons to whom he looks up and other persons to whom he instinctively feels himself superior.

I am sure my censor himself if he would be entirely honest would admit having felt that same way.

And in looking up he admits the existence of a higher class. In looking down he concedes a lower.

But what is this class distinction that we all feel founded on?

Well, there are some crude people who make the possession of money their sole class criterion.

To them the millionaire, no matter how ignorant, how coarse, how common, how futile he may be, is of the upper class.

And the man of poverty, no matter how refined, how well bred and well educated, is to them of the lower class.

But that is only one point of view. My censor objects to it. I do myself and I know you do.

But what then is our sense of class distinction founded on?

What should we mean when we refer to the "upper class"?

Well that's just what I want you to tell me, my friends.

It is a subject on which I have often thought I had my own idea, but I'd like to know what yours is.

The forum is open to you. I hope that besides my old friends some of those who haven't yet joined us will speak this time.

Remember not more than one hundred words, preferably less; so that when I hold the symposium on this subject, I can include many points of view.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION.

The annual convention of the provincial W. C. T. U. will open in First Congregational church, Pandora Ave., on Tuesday next at a large gathering of delegates is expected and every thing is being done to make it the most successful convention in the history of the provincial union.

Rev. Dr. Matthews, Seattle, a speaker of international reputation, has been secured for a mass meeting on Tuesday evening, for which special musical attractions have been arranged among others the Fifth Regiment band. The business sessions of the convention will be held in the First Congregational church, Pandora street, which has been kindly placed at the disposal of the society by the trustees, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, but an adjournment will be taken over Thursday for the coronation festivities. On Wednesday evening these ladies of the Victoria Union will tender a banquet to the visitors.

SILK AND LACE.

Lace will be extensively used this season, and some stunning gowns made for spring weddings use lace profusely. One that impressed the writer most forcibly had a skirt foundation of old gold satin, over which was a skirt of ceru Russian lace. Similar lace was used for a V front and back of bodice and for sleeves, which were made over self-tone net. The bodice in, surprise effect and the tunic, which opens on left side, as shown, was made from dark blue satin striped taffeta and the buttons on tunic were jet.

Braid Trimmings

Braid trimming is tremendously popular for coat suits this season, and especially is this so in serge, where invariably one sees braid of some sort. A modish example of this is given in to-day's model, which illustrates a suit for diagonal serge, with rather wide black silk souché braid, generously used on coat and skirt in connection with braid-covered buttons. The front of this coat is particularly pretty and the length ideal for a young girl.

A Page for Misses

PONGEE, linen and light weight serge suits are very necessary for the summer outfit of the young girl. Dainty flowered muslins and simple white frocks are very charming and becoming, but they are not always practical, and the well dressed girl of to-day finds it requisite to have several pretty frocks on the tailor made order. Such frocks are not smart made in anything but the heavier materials; that is to say that the sheer textures, as voile, must have a lining if it is desired to make them into coat and skirt suits, although coat effects in batiste, lawn or muslin may be carried out to be extremely pretty in one or two piece gowns.

According to whether the summer is to be spent in the mountains or at the seashore, in the cooler parts of Canada and the Northern States or in the warmer resorts in the interior, much depends in ordering the correct number of heavy and light weight frocks, but there are sure to be days in every climate when the temperature will call for a smart coat and skirt or waist and skirt costume of pongee, tussor or pretty linen. There are exquisite shades to be found in these textures this year and all colors of the rainbow, from palest pastel tones to the deepest and most brilliant so-called "Paul Poiret" colors, are at the height of their perfection in linen and its sister crash. Cerise, raspberry, old rose, scarlet, even red, are exceptionally smart, and then there are the blues and the tans and yellows that with just a small touch of black at the belt or neck are so very effective.

A FAVORITE model in pongee and linen, so simple that a girl could herself procure a pattern, could make it herself with ease, is built on the old redingote lines. Waist and skirt are attached together by a two inch stitched belt and then both are fastened all the way down from collar to hem by large crochet or linen covered buttons. The buttons are placed at one side, not directly in front. The flap if finished with a border of hand scalloping will be more attractive than if simply having a plain row of stitching.

Finishing the bodice at the throat is a little square collar of Irish lace or of fine batiste embroidery with a bow knot of black satin or velvet or of the color of the material of the gown. Cuffs at the elbows or wrists as preferred give a touch of white on the sleeves and form the only trimming necessary. Since there is so little lace or trimming of any kind upon this frock the materials used should be of the best there is, nor does it often pay to make up a piece of linen of too cheap grade.

There is a Buster Brown style of dress that is being made for grown-ups this summer which is extremely attractive in colored as well as in white linen. The skirt can be made in any straight becomingly hung model, while the jacket is literally on the lines of the familiar Russian blouse with square sailor collar of white linen or pliqué and wide patent leather belt of black or color. This suit is effective in white with pink, light or dark blue, red or green collar and cuffs, and equally attractive in any shade with white at neck and finishing the sleeves. If the collar is cut sufficiently high no waist need be demanded beneath the jacket, but such a style of dress will look better with shirt waist and high collar worn under the jacket. Flat pearl buttons and the linen covered ones are equally popular for the linen gowns.

If the summer is to be spent in foreign travel there are certain dresses which are essential, while there are many gowns with which a girl is apt to provide herself on her first trip to Europe which she will have no call to wear at all. There must be at least one heavy, really quite warm coat of a skirt costume of a weight of wool which is the first essential in selecting an outfit for abroad. This suit should also be dark in color, since it is designed first and foremost as a useful dress. It is not a bad plan to have a cloth waist of its own texture to wear occasionally without the coat and take the place of a two piece serge or chevrot dress. A one piece frock of lightest weight serge fashioned with greatest possible simplicity is also an excellent investment for a summer of travel.

Warm days will, of course, be encountered even in the most northern countries, and an essential in the outfit is a pretty gown and coat of tussor, silk or pongee which is sufficiently light or bright in hue to answer when a more elaborate costume than the cloth suit is needed, and which is yet not too perishable. There should be a lining in the coat, which will be worn only when a small degree of warmth is necessary, but the dress must be a smart little frock without it, so that it can be the useful skirt waist dress when such a gown is called for. Pongee in its natural color is practical and so light as to look cool and comfortable on the warmest days.

Tadetta batiste is still a favorite material for the demi-elaborate dress, and this, like pongee, is specially attractive in the bright colors, while also equally charming in white. For coat and skirt costumes this fabric is, perhaps, smarter than linen, although not so wonderfully serviceable. This taffeta batiste shows up well the smallest pattern of hand embroidery, and with its silklike finish it makes a suitable gown for any, even the most formal, afternoon entertainment.

THERE is considerable warmth in a good heavy quality of linen, and a linen dress made with collar, yoke and deep cuffs of batiste, with a coat of linen to be worn when desired, makes a most serviceable dress and one which even a very young girl will find it difficult to do without. Quite small girls can have their coats so loose and long that they can wear the jacket with either the skirt with which it is originally made or else as a separate dust jacket over any weight or material of frock.

Unfortunately, the present style of short jacket precludes the possibility of this bit of economy once a girl is sufficiently old to wear a tailor made dress, but if she is really economically bent she will have several separate skirts and perhaps one or two gowns throughout, made all from the one piece of material, so that she can wear with them at will the one jacket which never has half or one-tenth the wear that is given the skirt of a summer dress.

Separate waists for the cloth, linen and pongee suits are exceptionally attractive this summer. Again, for the girl who must do always the most economical thing, the new bodice of voile and cotton crepe is splendid to purchase, for if she has her own laundry bill to pay out of her allowance many a penny can be saved for pin money by washing out her waists of this material, which call for no starch or ironing. Bands of baby Irish lace make altogether the best trimming for the cotton and crepe waists, since Irish lace washes so very satisfactorily and does not absolutely change in character, as does Valenciennes.

Very young girls, if their throats are pretty full, look charming in the low cut collars, but this style of dress should be reserved for the country, and in the train a dark jacket with the color directly against the neck is far from becoming. For the tennis court or golf links a waist finished at the throat with a narrow square collar of embroidered linen or batiste is an almost universal fashion at the moment. For this collar both the open English embroidery, the French or the fine Swiss work are all in vogue.

PATENT leather belts are smart with a certain severe style of linen or pongee gown, and in Paris young girls are wearing their belts unusually loose and of fancy striped patent leather. This belt may be any width from three to five inches.

BASKETS FOR PLANTS.

GROWING plants lend more charm to a living or dining room than any other sort of simple decoration, and with the approach of milder weather it is a matter of slight expense to always have a number of these about the house. Hyacinths, shamrock, daffodils, tulips and May blossoms are only a few of the spring plants which keep fresh for a long time, but to look really well the earthen jars which contain them should be set into fancy baskets. Among the inexpensive yet artistic shapes are the baskets of coarse willow stained dark brown, green or gun metal. One shape, with slender handle and legs, suggests a wasp's nest; another has a trellis work over which a vine might be trained, and a third is a boat with a centre tub for a jar and end dishes for holding moss or ferns.

Finer baskets made of wisteria twigs from Japan are cleverly woven into odd shapes and nearly all of these have handles by which they may be hung up or over which vines may be trained. Decidedly more expensive than the willow and twig baskets are those of French gilt. If the wicker is white enamelled these baskets accord perfectly with a Louis Quinze furnished drawing room and may be rendered even more elaborate by the addition of big bows and straps of cloth or gold ribbon.

the wider being the smarter if smart for the wearer's figure. The buckle may be of metal or of the leather.

The length of the skirt of a young girl's frock should be carefully studied. While there is nothing uglier than too long a skirt, at the same time too short a one is neither becoming nor good style. Very often a girl when she first puts on long skirts and turns her hair up thinks she must have her frock made to just escape the ground. This is never becoming nor graceful, and the ankle length is by far the best to select. For all such frocks as have been described the ankle length is correct. For the more elaborate pongee frock an inch or two may be added, but the so-called half length short skirt will never be satisfactory.

This season there are a number of new designs in linen and pongee, new weaves of material, and there are some very good figured lines, but the plain ones are still the smartest, and if there is any wish to break the monotony of the plain surface it can easily be carried out with the flappings or narrow folds edged with black or some contrasting color. But again conservative taste declares in favor of the plain effects with bias bands or folds that do not have to be edged with anything. The black belt and the black tie or the colored belt and tie are all that could possibly be desired in the way of trimming.

Stripe linens with plain collars are very smart for coat and skirt costumes, and the rows of little buttons that have been again in favor. The curious fad of trimming wash materials with black velvet or black satin which last season was popular with older women is now popular with young girls, and the velvet or satin against the thin materials is certainly effective and becoming.

Trifles of Interest to the Young Girl

For Summer Hours on the Porch.

If any girl wants to undertake some rather elaborate but beautiful summer work, an absorbingly interesting kind is the very fashionable bead bag; also purses and card cases of the same kind. Of course most people who have these charming things buy them and think it would be far too much work to make them. But it is not too much work for a clever girl, nor is it too difficult. Even the inveterately "sporty" girl takes a rest now and then from active amusements, and if she once learns to do this bead work she will become more and more fascinated by it. She need only give her formerly idle hours on the porch to it, and before long she will have a beautiful bag or purse.

It is necessary to take a few lessons if one has never done any of the work, but the fancy work shops that sell the materials give the lessons, too. Some of the designs used are most artistic, some are quaint and suggestive of the days of our grandmothers. One can choose between flowers and more formal and conventional designs and between those that match certain gowns and those that are neutral enough to go well with several. Newer than the bags (but not any more attractive) are the flat card cases covered entirely with bead designs. The girl who makes one of these during the summer has a most beautiful Christmas gift ready for her mother or elder sister.

A Welcome Gift for Travellers.

AT this season, when so many people are starting for a European trip, almost every girl has some friends who are going, and she probably has one or more to whom she would like to make some little gift for them to use while travelling. One of the really desirable things to give is a new kind of very flat brush that comes in a soft leather case. These brushes take up hardly any space and can be packed flat against the side of a satchel or steamer trunk. The brush itself is only about half an inch thick and the leather of the case amounts to very little, so it is much easier to carry in travelling than any ordinary clothes brush. The case may contain only one

New Stationery.

FOR a young girl's use there is no stationery more suitable than the fabric finished surfaced French dainty which comes in white, gray and stone blue square sheets of correspondence and hasty note size, with envelopes of matching dimensions. Of an equally refined and dainty character are the linen lawn papers in solid tints of aeroplane, dawn pink, Baltic blue, willow green, orchid and cream—the hemstitched fabric crossbar in white bordered with a pale shade of color, and the diagonally striped fabric in two tones of mauve, blue or buff.

A fad of the hour, and one permissible only as a joke when a note passes between two very intimate young girls, is the red edged, tan colored "Chanticleer" paper, which has a crowing rooster embossed at the top of each sheet.

The Girl That is Ready.

KEEPING one's clothes and small belongings in order in a systematic way is always worth while and a great saving of trouble, but especially is this true when starting off for a visit or an automobile tour. There are many times when a girl may actually miss the pleasure of such a trip merely because she has not everything ready when a sudden invitation comes with a short allowance of time for preparation.

The Girl That is Ready.

It is not the gowns that usually make this trouble; it is far more apt to be the little accessories that are not ready or are not clean.

The wise girl will think this all out beforehand and see that she has the right collars, bows and belts for each skirt waist, a gumpie that is clean and in order for each dress that needs one. Then there are gloves, handkerchiefs, shoes, slippers, stockings and all the little things one is constantly using. The well dressed girl wants them all to correspond with the gown she uses them with, and yet so often she will find at the last moment that she has not the right one and, even if she is not obliged to miss the trip, is not at all satisfied with her own appearance.

Another way in which one can save much time on one of these trips is by using the same kind of forethought in packing one's suit case or trunk. Frequently, when visiting, a girl will have to dress hurriedly. She may get in from a motor ride only a little before dinner time or want to rush off soon after luncheon for a sail or a game of tennis. If she has to hunt for the right thing she will probably be late and she will surely lose her temper. To avoid this bother she should plan to pack her trunk and for each skirt waist have a collar and bow or stock pinned to it by the fancy pin that is to be used for the collar, and a belt also with it. With each pair of shoes or slippers roll up separately the stockings that belong to them and put one stocking in the toe of each shoe. This is not only a great convenience, but it also helps to keep the shoe (and especially thin slippers) in shape while packed.

PRACTICAL TALKS BY THE APRIL GRANDMOTHER

AUTOMOBILE eyes are getting to be a characteristic of the well born American girl, and it is not an attractive one," declared the April Grandmother to her youngest granddaughter as they slowly paced upper Fifth avenue. "Before the day of motoring a similar expression, and one only occasionally seen, was known as the 'staring eye look.' Sometimes it was due to the fact that the owner of the eyes was very near-sighted and too vain to wear glasses, or fancied that to affect a stare as though absorbed in meditation marked her to the masses as belonging to the classes.

"The automobile stare is not an affection. It is a habit unconsciously acquired by girls who persist in motoring without wearing an adequate protection for their eyes. Instead of shading them from the sun with goggles or a veil, they endeavor to gaze unwinkingly at it, with the result that a glassy wide stare becomes a habitual expression. Riding bare eyed in a motor is one of the reasons for so many pink edged lids. The dust and the wind and the sun rays cause a sort of mild inflammation which may easily be aggravated into a serious condition to the setting of the eyes, if not to the optic themselves.

constantly adopts goggles or a face veil, she should, on reaching her room, devote as much attention to her eyes as to her complexion and her hair. First of all, she should bathe her eyes with tepid water, in order to remove the accumulated dust and grime; then, filling an eye cup with a solution of boric acid, she should drench each eye separately, starting with a rather warm bath and gradually cooling the water until it is almost chilly. Witch hazel is another excellent lotion, especially if the eyelids show signs of inflammation, as it is cooling and healing. Another point in its favor is that it is supposed to promote the growth of hair on the lids, and long lashes are of vast importance to the motoring girl, as they go far toward protecting the eyes from the dust and glare of white country roads. Therefore, if long lashes are a natural beauty, it is wise to preserve them by seeing to it that no particle of dust remains among their roots, as dust usually harbors germs destructive to hair growth.

"Nearly always there are clusters of fine wrinkles at the outer corners of a pair of automobile eyes," continued the April Grandmother, "and that is why so many girls still in short skirts have a curiously wizened expression utterly at variance with their pink and white, round faced bloom. They actually are acquiring wrinkles three decades before they are due—if there is any excuse for acquiring them at all. A very little pure cold cream lightly applied with the finger tips to the outer corners of the eyes will ward off these incipient wrinkles, but the treatment must be repeated after each motor excursion else the work of the previous day will be undone.

"The girl who, because of excessive motoring, is scorched the brightness out of her eyes must take exceptional care of them at all other times. She cannot afford to read late at night or on a moving train or when facing a strong light. If she should use her eyes at all when very tired or when she has a headache, for then the strain on the optic nerves is most severe.

"Of all modern diversions there is none so wholly satisfactory as motoring," concluded the April Grandmother, "and, of course, the girl who rides about the streets of a city in a car does not wish to disfigure herself with goggles or obscure her vision with a veil. But to adopt one or the other of these protections is better than to acquire a red lidded automobile glare which so detracts from the charm of a youthful face. The prettiest girl on earth cannot afford to meet old age half way and the merely nice looking girl cannot afford to take any chances whatever."

DESPONDENT MAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

inflicts Nasty Wound in His Throat Before He is Overpowered

Prince Rupert, June 14.—G. W. Fraser, a young machanic from Vancouver, is lying in the hospital with a nasty cut in his throat, inflicted upon himself in a moment of temporary madness with a razor. Fraser who lost a lot of blood in his struggles before he was put safely under control at the hospital, is now very weak in consequence.

Fraser, who only came up from Vancouver a few days ago to accompany his brother, J. D. Fraser on a trip to California, went to bed with his brother in their cottage on Eighth avenue near Cotton street. The men were to leave town the following morning, and their trunks had been sent away the night before.

At six in the morning they were awakened by George Mackenzie, who was one of the party, and the men started to get ready. When Mr. Mackenzie went into the room a few minutes later he was horrified to find Fraser kneeling before the mirror with a razor in his hand and blood running from his throat.

COTTAGE HOSPITAL

Lillooet, June 14.—The construction of the Lillooet cottage hospital has commenced in earnest under the supervision of W. Duguid and W. Page. The water main is also being extended to the above.

CLERGYMEN'S SALARIES

Conference after conference meets, synod and assembly, union and association. The preachers talk about evangelism and missions, church and theology. They rejoice in the new-born missionary enthusiasm amongst the laymen. They study the problems in church extension which the flood of immigration has made vital. But rarely, if ever, do they complain of the salary schedule. Occasionally some special case comes to their attention, the story of a married man, perhaps, who has been forced to maintain a wife and child with say $100 a year. But no general plaint arises, although the average salary of a Methodist clergyman falls for short of $1,000 a year.

The Laymen's Missionary Movement is highly commendable, but one cannot help thinking of the man who sent sheep to the poor when his own children had none. What are the organized laymen doing to raise the salaries of their own clergy? It is ridiculous to assert that the churches pay all they can. Church members too often model their giving from the poor widow who cast in two mites. They find little favor in the example of Zaccheus who gave one-half of his goods to the poor. Indeed, a basis for criticism of the churches has rested in the fact that money for necessary expenses must needs be pried out of reluctant pockets by "socials," "bazaars," "tea meetings" and other forms of wheedling entertainment. Every time some man gives a dollar they seem to think that society should send up a skyrocket.

It is not creditable to the churches that the hard work of the ministry should be rewarded in so paltry a manner. Children must be educated, books must be bought, the parsonage or the manse must be open house to the congregation. To accomplish these things clergymen have become expert economists. Their wives have learned how to make $1.50 do two dollars' worth of work. But that is a painful and wearing task. Scarcely any of the ministers can be said to be at ease in Zion. Of course, salvation is free, but there are legitimate transportation charges—Toronto News Editor.

MAKES BEE'S HIS FRIENDS

An employee of the Maverick apary, San Antonio, Tex., named Charles Potchermick has unusual control over bees. He handles them with as much apparent ease as one would in playing with kittens or a harmless pet. He is used to do their ways and appears absolutely oblivious to the fact that they are stinging. While working with them he goes bare-armed and barefaced and pays no attention to the insects as they crawl over his exposed hands and arms or pile up in great clumps on his face. Recently he had a picture taken holding a small limb in his teeth on which a swarm had settled. The bees formed a kind of long beard hanging below his waist, and his entire face was covered with those that crawled from the limb. Old bee-keepers say that his feats in handling bees are the most remarkable in the world. He claims that he has not been stung in two years.

Had to Wear Rubber Gloves

"Fruit-a-lives" Completely Cured the Eczema

"Grande Ligne, Que., Jan. 2, 1910.
My wife was troubled for three years with Eczema on the hands which made her hands almost useless. The use, none of which had any effect. He also advised her to wear rubber gloves (she wore out three pairs).
'I persuaded her, as a last resort, to try 'Fruit-a-lives.' The effect was marvellous. Her hands were now cured. We both attribute our present health to 'Fruit-a-lives.'

CORONATION CELEBRATION

Kamloops, June 14.—At a general meeting held here to receive the report of the special committee, the proposed site of events was taken up. It recommended the laying of the corner stone of the new hospital at 10 a. m. on the morning of Coronation Day, if such meets the approval of the hospital board. That the mayor and council be asked to attend divine service in St. Paul's church at 11 o'clock on Coronation Day. That the school children assemble at Central park at 1 o'clock and that coronation medals be distributed under the supervision of the board of school trustees and teachers. That a procession be formed after the distribution of the medals and a parade to Riverside park in the following order: The band, children, militia, mayor and council, hospital board, fraternal societies, citizens in general. That the dedication of the park by the mayor take place on the arrival of the procession, by giving it an appropriate name. Rev. Akhurst to act as chaplain. That the coronation address be delivered by Judge Swanson, followed by the National Anthem. That the balance of the afternoon be devoted to sports, athletic and otherwise.

NELSON STREET RAILWAY

Nelson, June 14.—Power for the street railway by June 29 is definitely assured, this statement being made on the authority of J. E. Taylor, president of the Nelson Street Railway company, who in turn quoted as his authority Mayor Selous. President Taylor understands that the contract test of the second unit of the city's power plant at Upper Bonington will terminate on June 19, and that the city will then force a position to guarantee the power. The system will be open to the public on June 21, and this means the entire system, both old and new, and both cars. Every inch of the track has been gone over, re-ballasting has been done wherever necessary and all the safety split-rail derailling switches are being installed. The cars as now equipped are of the most modern safety type.

NANAIMO'S BOY SCOUTS

Nanaimo, June 14.—An important meeting of the Nanaimo District Boy Scouts was held in the vestry of the Wallace Street Methodist church, at which it was decided to hold a demonstration of scout craft on the Green on Coronation Day. The programme is in charge of a small committee of scoutmasters and the chairman of the council, Rev. Canon White. The demonstration will be held from 1.30 to 3 o'clock and from now until Coronation Day the troops will be busy preparing for the big event. On Sunday the 25th the three local troops will hold a joint church parade to the Wallace Street Methodist church. Scoutmaster Bradford will be in charge, and the address will be delivered by Rev. S. J. Thompson.

LEAPS INTO RIVER

New Westminster, June 14.—Wong, a young Chinaman who has been living in this district for a number of years, made a desperate attempt to commit suicide by jumping into the Fraser river at the C. P. R. wharf. Fortunately he was noticed by some lads who were present, and word was sent to the police station. Chief Bradshaw and Sergeant Stanton, armed with grappling irons, were quickly on the scene, but on their arrival the half-drowned Celestial had been unceremoniously hooked from the cold and unclean waters.

SNATCHED FROM DEATH IN RAPIDS

Man, His Wife and Child Rescued by Number of Quarrymen

Nelson, June 14.—Caught in the rapid, at Grohman creek, S. Smythe, of the Canada Drug & Book Company, Mrs. Smythe and child, out for an afternoon's trolling in a Peterborough row-boat, were buffeted about by the tossing waters, whirled this way and that on the surging currents, passed down past the island as in a mill race, and when hope seemed gone and the Kootenay falls at the C. P. R. bridge apparently their destination, were brought by a strong current hurrying within reach of the bank where the quarrymen employed at the C. P. R. quarry at that point snatched the boat from its mad career.

Mr. Smythe trolled past the dangerous spot on the opposite side, but did not observe its import. It was after five o'clock when he suddenly found the boat in the grip of the current, and next minute they were in the rapids. Pulling on the oars with all his strength, Mr. Smythe found himself almost powerless even to guide the boat. He first tried to reach the further bank, but was swept out of the rough water into a broad patch of apparently calm water, in a bay on this side, but this was boiling with currents, and the boat was promptly shot down stream against the rocks with a crash. The boat was carried over the falls, and the man and his wife and child were hurled into the water. Mr. Smythe was the first to be rescued, and the others were rescued shortly after.

PENTICTON'S NEW WHARF

Penticton, June 14.—Work is in progress on the superstructure of the wharf to be constructed this summer by the Kettle River Valley railroad. This wharf is being built midway on Penticton's waterfront, and will be the largest on Okanagan lake, 440 feet in length with a deck of 40 feet. An apron will be constructed at the end to handle the cars brought in on barges for fruit shipments, and will be in operation by July 1, the date set for the completion of the wharf.

Adjoining the wharf a big pre-cooling depot for fruit will be constructed by the Canadian Pacific railway and turned over to the Okanagan Fruit Union, which handles a large proportion of the ranchers' output in Vernon, Peachland, Summerland and Penticton. A number of improvements are planned for Penticton this summer. One of the finest electric light, power and domestic water systems in the interior is being installed, granolithic sidewalks are being laid in the business district, and two big departmental stores are under construction.

ZAM-BUK SAVED THIS BABY
Mrs. M. Barrett, 604 Marine St., Montreal, says:
'A horrid rash came out all over my baby's face and spread until it had totally covered his scalp. It was itching and painful, and caused the little one hours of suffering. Wetried soaps and powders and salves, but he got no better. He refused his food, got quite thin and worn, and was reduced to a very serious condition. I was advised to try Zam-Buk, and did so. It was wonderful how it seemed to cool and ease the child's burning, painful skin. Zam-Buk from the very commencement seemed to go right to the spot, and the pimples and sores and the irritation grew less and less. Within a few weeks my baby's skin was healed completely. He has now not a trace of rash, or eruption, or eczema, or burning sore. Not only so, but cured of the tormenting skin trouble, he has improved in general health.'
Zam-Buk is sold at all stores and medicine vendors, 50c a box, 60c post free from Zam-Buk Co. Toronto. Retail price, 6 boxes for $1.00. A certain cure for all skin diseases, cuts, burns, etc., and for piles.

NOTES ON POULTRY RAISING FOR MARKET

NO X.

Upon the subject of poultry houses, there is no finality—the ideal house which everyone would recognize as such has not yet been devised.

On one or two points in the site and construction of the house there is general agreement. As to the site, it must be dry and well drained. Ground which slopes down to a stream generally affords a good site for the fowl house. The birds like to hunt in the lower ground during the day, especially if it is a little wet, so that the grasses are green and there is more animal life to be found than on the higher ground. If the fowl house is built on the high ground well above the stream all will be well, but if too close to the water the hens will not lay. The writer has seen many instances in South Africa where farmers have been tempted to put their fowl houses in the shade of trees through which ran a stream. In every case it was found that the fowl house was damp and the hens would not lay an egg. Directly the house was moved to higher ground egg production began. The writer believes that this phenomenon is universally found, but he has only had opportunity to actually verify it in South Africa.

Abelia, in a climate like that of Victoria and the neighborhood it will be generally agreed that open front houses must be used. This is a very great advantage to the industry here, as poultry houses can be erected far more cheaply if an open front is possible.

There is generally a scratching shed and roosting shed combined in the houses which the writer has seen in the island. This seems a doubtful economy. The writer believes that fowls should roost in a compartment which has been little used during the daytime. This necessitates making the scratching shed separate from the roosting compartment, and more room is required. The writer believes that in constructing permanent houses two compartments twelve feet square—one a scratching shed and the other the roosting and laying house—is a good plan for fifty hens. The run attached to such a house should be 100 feet long by the width of the house, twenty-four feet. If the perches are put at the back of the scratching litter in the same compartment there is always a danger that effluvia from the litter will be blown directly on to the hens at night. The writer has recently seen a case where diarrhoea in a flock of hens was traced to this cause. As soon as the litter was all got out of the house and the whole floor and sides of the house thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, the trouble with the hens ceased. Housing hens in an evil-smelling house will often produce diarrhoea in the flock.

If from motives of economy the scratching shed is combined with the roosting shed in one compartment, the writer believes that the litter should be frequently renewed. One way out of the difficulty is to raise the floor of the roosting shed and have a scratching place underneath. If the fowl house be built ten feet high four feet could be given to the scratching compartment and the other six feet would represent the height of the roosting and laying house. If the ground has a considerable fall to the front of the house it will be found that a scratching shed four feet high will be easily cleaned. The writer has just erected a temporary fowl house thirty feet long and seven feet wide on these lines. The walls may be covered with roofing paper or strapped with 3 in. by 1 in. lathes to keep the draught out. Great care must be taken that the back and sides of the house are draught-proof, as otherwise the birds will be seriously affected. A through draught will often produce roup and ruin an entire flock. The roof—must of course be weather-proof.

The nest boxes can be attached to the front of the house, the entrance to the nest facing the back of the house. A strip may be hinged in the back of the nests so that the eggs can be removed without going into the fowl house. If the fowl house has a hood in front to break the force of the wind and rain, the space between the hood and the front of the house may be utilized to hold broody hens.

The perches, which should be two inches wide with the edges bevelled off should not be more than eighteen inches or two feet from the ground and all perches should be on the same level. If one perch is higher than another the birds will fight for the top perch and get injured from being kicked off. The floor of the house must be dry and warm. If a concrete or wooden floor is used a coating of dry earth or sand should be put over it and renewed periodically. The writer believes that the nest boxes should be filled with earth in preference to straw, as less liable to harbor vermin.

AUSTRIAN ELECTIONS.

Nearly Three Thousand Candidates Contested 516 Seats.

Vienna, June 14.—The Christian-Socialists, who are badly beaten in the local elections for the Reichsrath yesterday, made a better showing outside the capital, and to-day's returns put them in the lead with a total of 63 deputies out of a total of 244 definitely elected. The German Liberals claim 44 candidates, the Social-Democrats 45, the Czechs 24, and the Southern Slavs 24. The other successful candidates are scattered among eight smaller parties. There were 516 seats contested by no less than 2,987 candidates. In many instances rebalotting will be necessary. Violent scuffles occurred in Vienna. Finally the police dispersed the rioters with a sabre charge.

TWO PERISH IN WELL.

London, Ont., June 14.—Two brothers, Elias and Warren Hicks, were asphyxiated yesterday at the bottom of a 75-foot well in Westminster township. Both were dead when they were discovered. It was evident from the position of the bodies that Warren was overcome first and Elias lost his life in an attempt to save him.

MYCOLISINE CURE FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Hospital for Experiments in Canada Opened in Montreal—Relief for Poor

Montreal is to be the scene of a scientifically equipped dispensary in which the new cure for tuberculosis which has wrought marvels throughout Europe, will be tried here. A means of combatting the white plague. Dr. Roger Doyen, son of the eminent Prof. Doyen of the Institute Doyen of Paris, has arrived in Montreal and will himself make the preliminary arrangements for experiments in the cure by which his father has to a great extent revolutionized the treatment of tuberculosis in the older world. The intention is that the new dispensary will be free, and Dr. Doyen, who arrived in Montreal from New York, stated that he wished the poorer people to benefit by one of the latest discoveries of his father, being an effective cure of tuberculosis and nearly all infectious diseases. The discovery is the completion of what Professor Metschnikoff and Professor Koch had previously discovered.

The name given to the discovery is Mycolisine, which, to the student, reveals that the fluid is a composition of organic arsenic, of colloidal and of a natural ferment. Inside of two years over 100,000 experiments were made in France, Belgium and Switzerland, with 99 per cent. cures as a result.

In coming to Montreal, Dr. Doyen, junior, intends to start a dispensary as quickly as possible, after which he will leave for France. All that he has to do here is to persuade the local medical men to adopt Professor Doyen's treatment. As soon as the dispensary is established, the composition, which is prepared by the Institute Doyen in Paris, will be supplied free to the dispensary, no matter what is the expenditure.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

Woman Shoots Railway Conductor and Ends Her Own Life.

Milton Station, Ore., June 15.—A tragedy was enacted yesterday in this city upon the arrival of the first inter-urban car from Walla Walla when Conductor Joe Harper of the Walla Walla Valley Railway Company, was fatally shot by Mrs. Nannie Kyle. The car arrived in Milton at 7 o'clock and the conductor was engaged in turning the seats for the return to Walla Walla when Mrs. Kyle boarded the car and fired three shots, each taking effect in the back. She then turned the gun on herself, and died within a few minutes. Conductor Harper was taken to the hospital at Walla Walla and died soon after.

Mrs. Kyle was in Walla Walla on Tuesday and came home on the 10

EXPRESS OPINIONS

OF EVANGELISM

London Conference Methodist Ministers Speak After Years of Sad Experience

The report of the conference evangelists committee presented to the Methodist Conference at Stratford provided for the engagement by conference of a special evangelist to assist in the weak fields during the conference year of 1911-12. It is stated that Rev. W. E. Millson has been named to fill the place. Conference had a divided opinion on this matter.

Rev. Dr. McDonagh, of Brantford, an honorary member of the conference, having spent 58 years in the work, was opposed to such a course. "Methodism is true evangelism, if properly worked," stated the speaker, "and what is needed is more preaching of the gospel truths." He was of the opinion that the more machinery you try to organize, the less success is accomplished.

Dr. Manning, of London, and Rev. E. W. Edwards, of Springfield, expressed their belief that every minister can be his own evangelist. Each minister needs to sanctify himself and the members of his charge, and when that is faithfully persevered in, there would be a revival without the aid of an evangelist.

At the afternoon's session the report was discussed in detail, and adopted. A committee of six was appointed, with power to appoint a conference evangelist.

Rev. W. Currie, of Hardwick, and Rev. F. J. Gaten, of Brussels, spoke this afternoon, both in favor of such a movement.

Rev. A. McKibbin, of London, the evangelist of last year, pointed out strongly the need of an evangelist in the weaker fields and smaller circuits. He gave a few of his experiences during his term of office.

This evening the reception services were conducted. A resolution moved by Rev. F. W. Hollingshead, D. D., seconded by Rev. William G. Houston, that the young men be now admitted into full connection with the conference and ordained into the Methodist ministry on Sabbath next, was adopted.

Dr. Parker, of Toronto, addressed the gathering this afternoon on systematic giving, and the necessity of getting church members thus supporting the church.

Cheers greeted the comment of Rev. Dr. Manning that "the last thing to do to improve the spiritual life of a congregation is to take such evangelists into it. I would not have them at all. I do not see what we have to do in encouraging this business."

Rev. F. E. Malott vouchsafed the opinion that the trouble with Methodism in Canada, as with Methodism in England and Lutheranism in Germany, was the number of unconverted members in the church.

Rev. Stephen Dow raised a veritable storm by the declaration that "the ritual of admission to the church was now frequently unused, and prayer-meetings are no longer worthy of being called prayer-meetings. Only in rare cases," he proceeded, amid cries of protest, "does a Methodist preacher preach true, experimental religion."

"There has Brother Bond been worshipping of late?" queried Rev. Dr. T. T. George.
Rev. James Livingstone wanted to know if the preacher was expected "to work the penitent bench at every service." He and his people were heartily sick of these itinerant evangelists, "with their poor stories and their sickly invitations. I was glad when they got away, and so were my people."

"Irritating and nauseating," were the terms Rev. Dr. George applied. "Evangelism without instruction is the most fruitful source of Methodist backsliding," he added, directing attention to the fact that the years immediately following the largest number of visitations from so-called revivalists were the most spiritually impoverished in the church's history. "They pander to the excited mind and appetite of the people with their sensationalism," he added, "and I trust we are on the threshold of a reaction from such methods."

Rev. Dr. Bond considered that the pulpit was straying from spiritual into ethical teaching. He thought many of the church announcements in the Saturday newspapers were a disgrace.

Rev. John Currie said personally he "would not be bothered with an evangelist," but urged the conference to appoint a regularly ordained man as conference evangelist, to aid the weaker stations. The church was overrun with spurious evangelists, in his opinion.

DR. JOWETT HONORED.

New York, June 14.—Hundreds of Americans departed yesterday for London on the Adriatic. Among the number was Rev. Dr. J. H. Jowett, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, who was called here from Birmingham, England, two months ago. Dr. Jowett went to London at the special invitation of King George, who has established a precedent in English history by reserving for him a chair among the dignitaries in Westminster Abbey and thus honoring a clergyman not of the Established Church of England.

BRAKEMAN SAVES BOY'S LIFE.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 15.—A race between a train and a boy being swept down the swollen Susquehanna river by the swift current was on when the train overtook and passed the boy and Fred Stoker, a brakeman, was enabled to plunge into the river and save him. The trainmen heard the boy cry for help and could see his head bobbing in the water as he struggled to keep afloat. Stoker said he would go in after him, and the engineer put on steam. When the train was 25 yards ahead, Stoker plunged in and got the youngster ashore. The frightened boy stammered out his thanks and ran home.

OBITUARY RECORD

News has been received by Mrs. F. H. Mayhew of this city, of the death of her mother, Mrs. J. Day Smith, on Tuesday, June 13, at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Forster of Brantford, Ontario. Deceased was a native of London, England, and was 78 years of age.

The death occurred at the Jubilee hospital on Tuesday evening of Mrs. Annie Moore, aged 89 years, a native of Ireland. Deceased had been a resident of this city for many years and was largely engaged in charitable work. Her husband, Michael Moore, who predeceased her, came to Victoria in 1856, going into the drug business with Mr. Curtis. His partnership with Mr. Curtis continued for many years and after its dissolution the work of the firm was carried on up to seven of the late Mrs. Moore's sons. The late Mrs. Moore is survived by one son, John Moore, who is engaged in the whaling business on the west coast of Vancouver Island. The funeral has been arranged to take place tomorrow morning at 8.45 o'clock from the Hanna chapel and at 9 from the Roman Catholic cathedral.

The death occurred at the St. Joseph's hospital of Stephen Conley, a miner who came down from Prince Rupert a short time ago. Deceased was a native of Jamestown, Pennsylvania, and was 43 years of age. Friends in Prince Rupert have been wired by the Victoria Undertaking company concerning funeral arrangements.

The funeral of the late Aaron Tophan took place at 10.30 o'clock this morning from the B. C. Funeral Parlor, where services were conducted by the Rev. F. W. Gladstone. The pallbearers were H. E. Osborne, R. Dennison, W. Hignam and B. Pinner. Interment was made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

Edward Morris, a driver who had been in the employ of the J. Hooney Truck Company and who was killed in the stomach by one of his horses on Tuesday, died at the St. Joseph's hospital last night. He was 35 years of age and came here from Morris, Minn., U. S. A. The remains have been removed to the Hanna Undertaking parlors pending funeral arrangements, which will be made as soon as word is received from his relatives in Minneapolis.

The remains of William Hocking were laid to rest in the Ross Bay cemetery this afternoon. The funeral took place at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence, 474 Superior street, where Rev. A. N. Miller conducted services. There were many friends present.

HIGH GRADE OIL STRUCK

Canadian Pacific Oil Co.'s First Well Flowing.

Telegraphic despatches received from Santa Barbara by Andrew Jack Gray from his father, Andrew Gray, convey the pleasing intelligence that on Sunday the first well of the Canadian Pacific Oil Co. of British Columbia, at Midway, had begun to flow at a rate of between 20,000 and 25,000 barrels a day. It is now flowing steadily at between 4,000 and 5,000 barrels a day.

The oil is of a very high grade, 27 degrees Beaume, and is already being marketed. The company has started work on the sinking of a second well, and the directors are understood to be highly pleased with the flow of their first well and the outlook for their property.

There are a great many shareholders of the company in Victoria.

GRAND JURY'S PRESENTMENT.

At 2.45 p. m. to-day the grand jury returned its presentment requesting that recommendations be sent to the Minister of Public Works regarding the unsatisfactory state of the provincial jail and possible danger to life arising therefrom. The grand jury finds in its presentment that the cell doors unlock one at a time and that 20 minutes would be required to release all prisoners. It is recommended that the lever system be introduced. The absence of a fire alarm system in and from the jail to the fire station is mentioned, and an installation recommended. The jail being lit with gas, which is in many places escaping, an electric system is recommended.

The grand jury also finds that the fire hose in the building is defective and that the cells, floors, walls, stairs, and balconies are of wood. These, the jury recommends, should be of concrete and steel. Two hand chemical engines have been supplied and found to large to pass through the doors of the jail.

In conclusion the grand jury refers to the fact strongly that for two years past grand juries have directed attention to the matters requiring attention at the jail in two past presentments, and no attention has been paid to them. The grand jury recommends that the provincial government at once provide a new building. The members were then discharged.

William Abbis, who elected to take a speedy trial for wife-beating, came before Judge Lampman in the county court yesterday. He was fined $10 and advised to keep his hands off his wife.

CHARLIE MITCHELL HAS "COME BACK"

PRISON WILL BE HIS HOME FOR TWO MONTHS

A Common Assault With Uncommon Ideas—Brutal Treatment of Rabbit

Charlie Mitchell. What a name to conjure with in the world of fistic thought and reminiscence. Visions of the great English fighter fluttered like shadowed imagery around the sombre setting of the police court this morning, when the cherished name was allowed to filter from the lips of the police clerk to challenge a namesake of the famous pugilist. And such a namesake, too. Association, however, lends a significance to the meekest objects, and the "reincarnated" Charlie was not one of the least of these. Nor was he entirely without signs of his fighting quality; for his left eye was heavily draped in bruised, bluish flesh which contrasted rather unpleasantly with the glaring cochineal to which the iris had been transformed. Alas, poor Charlie!

Common assault was the charge levelled against him, but the hearing of the evidence went some distance to prove that it was no common affair. Charlie fairly went for his man, a rather dapper little fellow with perhaps more courage than executive capacity. They met in the evening as perfect strangers, and Charlie endeavored to create a sociability between them at once by demanding fifty cents. The friend who can borrow is a friend indeed. At least he was so according to Charlie's understand of the code, so he made the demand as peremptorily as possible.

The stranger, who did not recognize the signal of the cult, declined to be friendly on the terms stipulated, so Charlie took the only honorable course open to a gentleman. He knocked him down good and hard and marched off. The stranger, however, evinced spirit and pursued Charlie and the latter was forced to threaten him with a knife in order to shake him off. In shaking him off he shook the police on, for the stranger immediately went to the police station and made his complaint. Charlie pleaded guilty. In view of his unique record as an idler around Chinatown the magistrate thought it would be advisable to send Charlie away for a bit, so he gave him leave of absence for two months.

Richard Higgins, a young man of prepossessing appearance, was seen speaking to several people on the street by a police officer with a high ly developed sense of criminology and was immediately taken into custody for "vainging." Of course he may have been begging—a match. No one in court heard his conversations, not even the officer, and the evidence against him was therefore nothing more than insinuation. The magistrate declined to accept it and Higgins was dismissed.

In flattering contrast to Higgins came the next alleged vagrant, Edward. It was no use for him to deny his creed. It was marked all over him. Edward was a vagrant of long standing; his record testified to that fact with undeniable forcefulness. Not long ago he went down for three months, but somehow or other he did not appear to have enjoyed himself for he begged the magistrate to be lenient with him. The magistrate was lenient. He returned him to prison for four months.

The bunch of teamsters who were remanded the other day on charges of obstructing the thoroughfares were further remanded to-day in view of the fact that one of the cases will be looked upon as a test for the others. In the event of a conviction being obtained in this particular case it is understood that all the others involved will plead guilty, as the circumstances are practically similar.

The admiralty case involving Spratt, Houston, Day and Richards was adjourned till to-morrow.

Roy Alexander, a colored boy, was sent to prison yesterday for three months for stealing a bicycle and then selling it. Howard Daniels, his accomplice, who also stole a bicycle, was severely reprimanded and allowed to go on suspended sentence.

A case of unbounded cruelty was heard when Thomas Blair was charged with setting two dogs to retrieve a rabbit in the Dallas hotel. Blair had the rabbit in his possession when the dogs came into the bar with their owner. As his indignation the dogs were loosed and the rabbit dropped on the floor. Immediately poor bunny was caught he was rescued from mercurial death in order to provide an official run. This form of exquisite torture went on two or three times, although other people in the bar requested that the horrible performance be closed. After the rabbit had sustained broken legs in the unequal contest the accused killed it. Magistrate Jay imposed a fine of $25.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN.

Port Arthur, June 15.—The National Council of Women opened here to-day. Mrs. Peter McNaughton, president of the Vancouver Local Council, moved the vote of thanks to the hostesses of Port Arthur and Fort William. Many leading society women of east and west, from Montreal to the Pacific Coast, took an active part in the proceedings, both business and social.

—Mrs. F. F. Johnston 1004 Linden Ave. will receive to-morrow and not again till the 3rd Friday in October.

Valencia, Spain, June 15.—The great entrance of the cathedral here was shattered by a bomb explosion in the plaza to-day. So violent was the shock that several buildings were damaged. No one was injured.

CABLE QUESTIONS BEFORE CONFERENCE

Declaration of London Will Be Introduced in Commons After Coronation

London, June 15.—The Daily Mail says that the declaration of London will be rushed through parliament in the slack week following the coronation, unless Sir Edward Grey's present plans are upset. The imperial conference spent to-day discussing cable questions.

The Standard, discussing the all-red cable project says: "We need an all-British North Atlantic cable carrying a land line through Canada, if possible at such a distance from the frontier that it could by no possibility get itself involved in American strategic telegraph or economic system, for it must be remembered we need independent communication for other besides military reasons. As things stand there is danger that Canadian land lines may become mere subsidiaries to the enormously powerful and wealthy organizations of the United States."

The Times, commenting on Sir Wilfrid Laurier's attitude towards the inter-continental cable project, says: "The fact of Canada having liberty to choose her own course in peace and war does not alter the fact that her liberty in every other respect is guaranteed to her by the strength and security of the Empire as a whole, and whether or not she does her share in maintaining that security is a matter purely for her own choice."

RECIPROCITY BILL

Minnesota Senator Contends President Had No Authority to Undertake Negotiations With Canada.

Washington, June 15.—Senator Nelson of Minnesota spoke to-day against Canadian reciprocity. He contended that the president had no authority to undertake negotiations with Canada, and charged that the president had usurped the treaty-making power of the senate. Disaster for the farmers of the country, he declared, would follow the passage of the reciprocity bill.

Referring to that section of the constitution authorizing the president to make treaties only with concurrence of two thirds of the senate, Mr. Nelson said: "In the case under consideration the president has, through the state department, made an agreement or treaty which he seeks to ratify not by a two-thirds vote of the senate, but by a mere majority of the senate supplemented by a mere majority of the house of representatives or by a mere legislative act and in this way he evades the treaty-making provision of the constitution."

Insisting that the president had no authority nor right to "bargain with a foreign country or to promise, if that he could use his influence to get congress to enact certain agreements," Mr. Nelson said, "the conduct of the president in this case is not novel and without precedent, but to me it seems of such serious moment and of such dangerous consequence that I have felt it my duty to bring it to attention of the senate. It seems to me that the president is depriving the farmers of this country of their constitutional protection in a two-thirds vote of the senate. The agreement would not be ratified if it were submitted to us for ratification pursuant to the spirit of constitution."

Lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

WM. W. NORTHCOTE, Building Inspector.

SAIIS ON FIRST ALASKAN CRUISE

MANY PASSENGERS LEAVE ON SPOKANE FOR NORTH

Many People Are Taking in Trips—Bookings Heavy for Next Excursions

About one hundred and fifty excursionists sailed this morning on the Pacific Coast steamship Spokane, Capt. Guptill, which left the outer wharf at 11 o'clock on the first of her five trips between Puget Sound and Alaskan ports this summer. The vessel arrived here in the earlier hours and the passengers who joined her at Seattle were permitted to come ashore and view the beauties of Victoria, and, needless to say, carriages, automobiles and tally-hos were well patronized by the sightseers.

The accommodation of the Spokane was not all taken, as there were a number of vacant berths and staterooms. The officials of the Pacific Coast Company, however, state that nearly all the rooms on the Spokane for the next four trips have been sold and that unless those contemplating a trip make their reservations early they will be disappointed. Numerous letters are received daily by the agents of the company making applications for berths on the ship and some difficulty is being experienced in providing accommodation for them.

For two weeks the excursionists will cruise through British Columbia and Alaskan waters and will be given every opportunity to see the magnificent scenery along the coast. Many stops will be made in Alaska and the relics of bygone days prized by the residents of the north, will be disclosed to the passengers' view. Under the guidance of Mrs. Mary E. Hart, of San Francisco, who is also to give lectures during the trips, the excursionists will be taken on their sight-seeing jaunts ashore.

The gathering of passengers on the Spokane to-day was a representative one. There were some from London, England, although the majority were from the States, coming from various cities between San Francisco and New York. Bankers were much in evidence on the Spokane, and several officials of the line are taking in the first trip.

C. P. Murphy, a banker at San Francisco, accompanied by Mrs. Murphy, were among the passengers who left on the vessel. At the outer wharf they were met by R. P. Rithet, of this city, who is an old acquaintance of Mr. Murphy's, and taken for a spin in an automobile around the city during the time the steamer was in port. Piers Wilboux, of Wilboux, Mont., president of the First National bank, and one of the leading citizens of that state, is also making the trip. Having heard of the picturesque nature of this city, Mr. Wilboux decided that he would see for himself whether the town deserved the reputation it had received. He returned to the ship wrapped in the charms and beauties of the city of the Golden West and believes that its fame has not been spread in large enough letters.

C. D. Dunann, of San Francisco, general passenger agent of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, is making the trip on the Spokane. Frank Powers, one of the prominent bankers of Santa Cruz, with his daughters, Miss Josephine and Miss Stella, are aboard the steamer. Miss Mary Ford, daughter of President Ford, of the Pacific Coast Company, has as her guests on the trip, Miss Martha Mealey, of Oelwein, Iowa, and Miss Nellie Kennedy.

DIED.

SMITH.—At St. Joseph's hospital, on the 14th inst., Bessie, youngest daughter of Mr. Phil R. Smith, aged 23 years, wife of B. C. C. Smith.

The funeral will take place on Friday from the residence, 211 Mary street. Funeral private. No flowers, by request.

of Seattle. Dr. Annie Russell, of Seattle, and Mrs. A. P. Beach, of the same city, are among the passengers. The London passengers are the Misses L. C. and A. J. Marshall.

CAPITALIZATION OF THOUGHT WAVES

Psychic Fakel Elopes With the Secretary Leaving Thousands of Dupes

"Professor" A. Victor Segno, oracle and high priest of the Segno Success Club, and Mrs. Irene Weitzel, his young and beautiful private secretary, who was the bride ten months ago of Fred. W. Weitzel, have eloped, and the thousands of followers of the cult, both in this country and Canada, will now be forced to realize that they have been hopelessly duped, says a Los Angeles, Cal. despatch. Segno left here five weeks ago with the ostensible object of establishing a Canadian branch of the Segno Success Club at Toronto. At the same time his secretary left on what was supposed to be a visit to friends in Chicago.

It has been learned that Segno actually did go to Toronto, and his secretary accompanied him. But they did not remain in Toronto many days, going direct to Montreal, whence they sailed for Europe.

What part Segno's theories of mentalism play in the romantic flight of himself and Mrs. Weitzel to Europe could not be learned, but there is no question that she is with this "professor," who succeeded in forming a chain of clubs in this country and in Canada, the members of which numbered thousands, each of whom believed in Segno's system of simultaneous thought vibration as the key to success.

"Professor" Segno's scheme for uplifting the world was unique, but apparently found believers to an astonishing degree. All the organizing of his thought circles was by mail and in this he seems to have differed from the average professional occultist and mystic.

Segno's cult was founded and operated upon peculiarly business lines, and his scheme presents to the casual observer an inspiring scene. Here it is:

Twice every day, at the same minute, the Segnoites throughout the world are supposed to "go into silence." In other words, find some quiet spot and assiduously repeat the "harmony key" supplied by Segno—price 41 per month or $5 per year. The aggregate mental utilization of the Segnoites each day at the same time is supposed, according to the Segno theories of mentalism, to generate a flow of thought waves that bring success to the members of the clubs—membership $5 a month or $5 a year.

One of the recent harmony keys was: "I will become a thinker; I will exercise my brain and create successful ideas." Segno has modestly admitted that "after years of close study he touched a chord in nature that responded and revealed to him the law which governs all intelligence—life and the change called death." This invaluable information he reveals in turn to the devotees of his cult—price $1 a month or $5 a year.

Segno directed the thought waves of his followers from his elaborate and ornate home on North Belmont avenue, and it is understood that he amassed a large fortune through his capitalization of thought waves. He maintained an extensive publishing plant, published a magazine for the propagation of his teachings and did a copious mail order business in the sale of his magazines and books, chief of which was "The Law of Mentalism." Incidentally he wrote a book entitled, "How to Live a Hundred Years."

MOTHER DESERTS CHILDREN.

Left on Long Journey and Has Not Since Been Seen.

The pathetic story of a woman, deserted by her husband, and unwilling to face the world with her misery and poverty, was revealed in the police court at Toronto when the three children of Mrs. Teresa Gibson were made wards of the Children's Aid Society.

The charge on which they were committed was that they were "deserted by their mother," but no official mention was made of the sorrow and sufferings of the little family and the grief that goaded the mother to desperation.

It was on November 12 of last year that the first act in this domestic tragedy occurred. On that day the mother came late in the evening to her little home in the Berkeley apartments, and with eyes streaming with tears kissed her little ones good-bye. With the last few pennies she bought them some candy, and then turned to leave.

"Where are you going, mother?" the eldest asked, with eyes wide open in surprise at her unusual emotion.

"I'm going on a long journey," she whispered with faltering lips, and with another outburst of tears, passionately kissed her loved ones again and passed from the room. Since then no trace of her has been seen. It seems that she has completely disappeared.

The following morning the children were taken to the Children's Aid Society. Mr. William Duncan, the superintendent, notified the police and the official drag-net was thrown out over the city for her, but their efforts were in vain.

The children are also in ignorance of her fate. They do not know where she is, but believe that she is in the country and will soon return to them. They do not comprehend, and kind friends conceal the fears that are entertained from them.

It was ascertained that the woman had been ill for some time, and as her children said, "she was sick." She often said so and that she was also often tired. But some day she will come back to us, and we will again be happy.

The children are Archie, aged 10; Nell, aged nine; and Edna, aged eight. All were kept, the officials say, with the greatest possible care that the mother could give them, and when taken to the shelter, were clean and neat. They are well mannered, good-

Selling Poor Goods Is A Lie

GOODS SHOULD BE GOOD---OURS ARE

WHY Is selling poor goods a lie? That is an easy one to answer. The dealer who has poor goods is bound to tell you they are good, and that you are getting a bargain. Therefore, the selling of these goods is a lie. Just about this time of the year is when you get stung, especially in buying furniture. There are usually a lot of bargains offered, but if you are a careful buyer you will see the big difference between these bargains, and the ones offered at this store. We do not advertise bargains—the bargains we give are the same all the year around. There are three potent reasons why it pays to deal here—

Quality---Price---Economy

We are too busy to talk "idle gossip"; what we give you is good store news. And when you come to the store to enquire further into what we have already told you, you are soon convinced that what we say is true. When you come to this store after reading our advertisement, you don't get a disappointment when you see the goods; you get a surprise at the wonderful values we say so little about.

This store has neither baits nor trash—but has QUALITY and VARIETY. This is not the dumping place for the mistakes of the wholesale trader. So look out for these bargain sales.

Worthy Goods at Worthy Prices

HERE ARE SOME VALUES THAT CONVINC

What you save on quality here is a great item. We have received a shipment of some very handsome new furniture which we are at present busy pricing. When viewing these new arrivals, take a look at the following SPECIALS. When you think of economy, these are the natural things to buy. You need one of these? Well, you'll never regret your purchases made here. Talk with us by phone, if you can't come. But certainly try and see these few pieces we are offering to-day.

OVERTHROWING OPIUM TRAFFIC.

China Earnest in Fight Against National Curse.

A correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, who had travelled some 7,000 miles in inland China, says:

"This travel has enabled me to watch the eradication of the poppy and if I were asked whether China is doing her part in uprooting opium from the national life, I should unhesitatingly national life, I have never seen or heard of a national crusade against a national curse being carried on with such vigor or at a greater national expense.

"In Szechwan two years ago the ground which I have covered recently was almost entirely given up to the cultivation of the poppy; now there is not a single poppy patch. I have twice passed across Yunnan by different routes, and all the time I saw but one patch of poppy, and that was subsequently raked up by the officials before harvest time.

"On one occasion I passed through a small town on the border of Kweichow and Yunnan, where the poppy was in full bloom (this was in October
