CONGRESS AT GLASGOW CHOKES OFF DEBATE ON DIRECT ACTION SCHEME

Development Came After Delegates to Big British Labor Gathering Had Spent Three Hours at Today's Session Discussing Plan

Glasgow, Sept. 11.—(Associated Press).—The British Trades Union Congress at today's session, after three hours' debate on the subject of direct action by labor to enforce its political demands, choked off further discussion of the subject by adopting the previous question by a small majority.

Earlier in the session, by a comparatively close vote, the Congress voted down a resolution declaring against the principle of direct action. The vote was 2,255,000 against the resolution and 2,086,000 in its favor.

The vote was on a resolution of Thomas Shaw, a Labor member of the House of Commons, reading:

"The Congress declares against the principle of industrial action in purely political matters."

Nationalization.

London, Sept. 11.—The Labor Congress at Glasgow is proving that the whole labor movement is solidly behind the miners' demands for nationalization, indicating a stiff fight with which labor will confront the Government when the Parliament re-assembles in October. The trade union leaders intend to inaugurate a big campaign throughout the country preaching nationalization.

Popular Support.

James Henry Thomas, general secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen and a Labor member of Parliament, thinks the Prime Minister will still refuse his consent for nationalization of the coal mines. Other trade unionists are of the opinion that the Government will be bound eventually to yield, because, unlike the question of direct action, which is strongly opposed by all the moderate elements of the country, the nationalization of public services has very strong popular support and the Government in relating the demands to nationalize the mines is credited with doing so in deference to capitalistic interests.

Election.

Many labor leaders believe nationalization will prove the rock on which the coalition will split and a general election come out. As increasing evidence of the continued rise in prices of commodities, the Food Controller to-day fixed new milk prices for the winter at a substantial advance over the prices of the preceding year. This continual rise in the cost of living tends to make the Government unpopular.

GERMANS TRYING TO GET SHIPS NOW

Two Interested Teutons Visit Wilhelm Hohenzollern at Amerongen

Amerongen, Sept. 10.—Via London, Sept. 11.—Philip Heintken, director of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, and ex-Baron von Thiele-Winckler motored from The Hague to Amerongen yesterday and had a few hours' conference with W. Hohenzollern, former Kaiser of Germany. In The Hague, where he is negotiating with brokers of several nationalities for the purchase of ships, Heintken declined to discuss the object of his visit to Amerongen. He asserts, however, that Hohenzollern now holds no stock in the Hamburg American Line nor the North German Lloyd Line.

A Combination. Heintken said he believed that the United States, which had ships without being able to run all of them, would make some shipping combination with Germany, although Germany had no expectation that any of the seized German liners would be returned. He added that he already had been offered some ships in the United States, Britain and France, but that the prices were too high, owing to the exchange rate.

Turkey Is Given Another Warning By United States

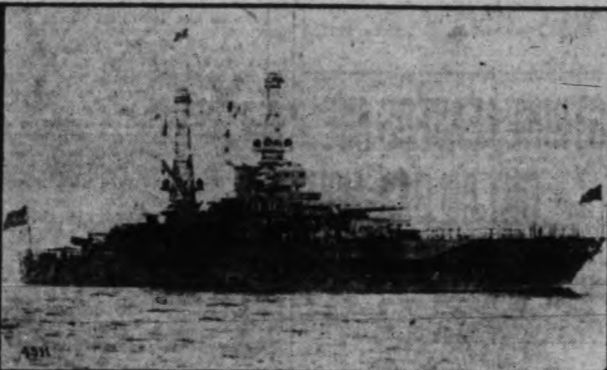

Athens, Sept. 11.—The Constantinople correspondent of The Patria says that the American Mission has handed a note to Turkey declaring that "in the event of a renewal of massacres of Christians in Asia, the fifth article of President Wilson's programme dealing with the security and integrity of purely Turkish territory will be suppressed."

Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the United States Navy since 1913, was born at Washington, N. C., on May 18, 1852. At the age of eighteen years he became editor of The Wilson Advocate at Wilson, N. C. In 1885 he was admitted as an attorney, but did not practice, and two years later became state printer for North Carolina, holding that post until 1893, when he was made Chief Clerk of the Department of the Interior, relinquishing that position two years later. His newspaper career included the editorship of the Raleigh (North Carolina) State Chronicle, and in 1894 consolidated The State Chronicle and The North Carolinian with The News and Observer, of which journal he became the editor. Mr. Daniels has been a member of the Democratic National Executive since 1895.

BRITAIN WANTS 2,250,000 TONS OF GERMAN SHIPPING

London, Sept. 11.—That Great Britain intends to insist upon having 2,250,000 tons of the 3,000,000 tons of German shipping to be divided among the Allies by the Reparation Commission after the ratification of the peace treaty was a statement made to The Daily Mail by an official of the Ministry of Shipping, who added that the position was delicate and complicated and that intricate negotiations were yet to be completed. Nevertheless he was confident that Great Britain ultimately would obtain approximately what she demanded.

AMERICAN FLEET PRESENTS AN IMPOSING SIGHT SWINGING TO ANCHORAGE OFF OUTER HARBOR

Warships of U.S. Fleet Arrive

The United States dreadnoughts New Mexico and the Arkansas, accompanied by the destroyer squadron, slipped through the haze off the Race Rocks about 1.30 p. m. and quickly negotiated the run to the anchorage off this port. As soon as the fleet was sighted, Captain E. H. Martin, C. M. G., R. G. N., put out from Esquimalt in the naval barge and headed for the fleet.

Leviathan Dreadnoughts New Mexico and Arkansas Reached Canadian Shores to Accompaniment of Thundering Guns; Fleet Entertained Here

SPECIAL MESSAGE TO THE TIMES

Mr. Daniels radiographed the following message to the Editor of The Times this morning from the United States dreadnought Arkansas, replying to a message of welcome from this newspaper:

"The close co-operation and comradeship between the people of the United States and Canada during the world war has served to strengthen the ties between the people of common aims and a common brotherhood. The mutual sacrifices in war will give us a mutual understanding in peace. I am happy to be privileged to come to Victoria with two of the American dreadnoughts that served with the British Grand Fleet during the war. We have always felt like brothers to Canadians. Their splendid courage and immortal achievements deepen our regard and admiration."

Reverberating across the waters of the Gulf, echoing and re-echoing along the mountain-girt shores to the westward, twenty-one guns—the Royal salute in honor of the British navy—volleyed into space announcing early this afternoon the arrival of the pride of the United States Pacific fleet.

Straining eyes picked out through the mist the looming bulwarks of the super-dreadnought New Mexico in the lead, with the Arkansas following a few cable lengths astern. The New Mexico came in under the command of Admiral Hugh Rodman, while on board the Arkansas was Hon. Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the United States Navy.

The resounding detonations from the guns of the American warships had hardly ceased to echo when the guns of the Work Point battery replied with the Royal salute and subsequently fired nineteen guns in honor of the arrival of the visiting fleet.

To the guns of Work Point fell the honor of giving the first Canadian welcome to the crack ships of the American fleet since its return from the serious business of war.

It was an imposing sight as the splendid fighting units of the United States navy deftly manoeuvred for position and anchored broadside on off the mouth of the harbor with units of the British Empire in convoy formation. Victorians lined the shores to get a first glimpse of Uncle Sam's fleet.

The eager curiosity ashore was reflected aboard by the hundreds of American tars scanning the friendly coastline of an Allied nation. It so happens that Victoria, the most western outpost of the British Empire, is in the fortunate and strategic position of being the first port outside of the United States to extend a welcome to the American squadron. It is not the first time that an American fleet has visited these waters, but it is the largest and most modernly equipped.

Forging slowly ahead under the power of her electric engines the dreadnought New Mexico, flying the Admiral's blue flag with its quartette of white stars from the giant cage-foremast of the British Empire, is in the mainmast, steamed silently and gracefully to her mooring station.

Grim and forbidding, her twelve 14-inch rifles protruded from her double-decked turrets. The 28,000-ton battleship Arkansas, following in line, presented a scarcely less imposing appearance to the watchers ashore.

After the warships had been safely anchored the first visitor to go aboard was Captain Edward H. Martin, C. M. G., R. C. N., captain superintendent of the Esquimalt Dockyard, who extended a welcome to Admiral Rodman and Secretary Daniels on behalf of the Navy. Later, H. M. C. S. Restless took over the official reception party headed by Premier Hon. John Oliver, acting not only as the head of the Provincial Government, but also as representative of Lieut.-Governor Sir Frank Barnard, who is at present on a cruise to northern British Columbia waters.

They extended an official welcome to Secretary Daniels and Admiral Rodman. In addition to the Premier, the official reception party included several Cabinet Ministers, Mayor Robert Porter and aldermen, R. B. Misher, diplomatic representative of the United States Government, and John Cochrane, President of the Canadian Club.

After an exchange of courtesies aboard, Admiral Rodman paid a return call upon Captain Martin at Esquimalt and Mr. Daniels and the members of his party, also the Admiral.

STRIKE LEADERS ARE OUT ON BAIL NOW

Eight Men Awaiting Trial at Winnipeg Are Released

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—After twenty days' imprisonment the eight strike leaders who have been in the Provincial Jail here, pending their trial on charges of seditious conspiracy, were granted bail at 5.20 p. m. yesterday. Chief Justice Mathers, who together with Mr. Justice Macdonald and Mr. Justice Metcalf heard the arguments of counsel, read the decision of the court.

Bail was granted in the sum of $4,000 each and two sureties of $2,000 each.

The court found that it had not been proved that the accused would sit with Mr. Justice Macdonald and Mr. Justice Metcalf in the decision of the court.

"The court would not be justified in refusing bail on the sole ground that public safety might be endangered by permitting the accused to be at large."

The decision was read by Chief Justice Mathers also stated:

"Because of the great public interest involved in this prosecution because bail has once been refused by a brother judge. I asked my brothers Macdonald and Metcalf to sit with me in hearing this application, and had the satisfaction of knowing that both concurred with me in the views herein expressed."

"I think it is unfortunate that the accused be admitted to bail in the sum of $4,000 each and two sureties of $2,000 each."

As soon as the court had adjourned, the eight men, together with the bondsmen, left for the Provincial Jail, where the formal proceedings preceding the release of the accused were completed.

William Ivens was the first of the eight leaders to be released. His appearance in the doorway of the jail was the signal for cheers from a crowd of workers numbering more than 1,500 who had gathered to greet their leaders. Some one in the crowd started singing "For he's a jolly good fellow," and the song was immediately taken up. Ivens was "chained" and carried about the square.

"I've gained eight pounds in the time I've been here," said Ivens, "and I think I'll have a bank to get back, they've treated me so well."

Ald. John Queen was the next to appear. He, too, received the same greeting from the crowd. The remainder of the men, Ald. J. Heaps, George Armstrong, R. E. Bray, W. E. Pritchard, R. J. Johns and R. E. Russell, came out together. They were immediately seized by their friends and chained.

There will be no strike on September 17, now that the eight men arrested in connection with the recent strike have been granted bail. This was the information given out by James Law, secretary of the Dominion Labor Congress, when interviewed.

ANOTHER RUSSIAN WILL BE DEPORTED

Vancouver, Sept. 11.—Canada was not such a bad country to John Kelt, but he will have to leave. He entered Canada with $30 eight years ago, and offered to show the special immigration Board here which yesterday ordered him deported, $1,000 if his solvency were questioned.

Kelt's case was the twelfth of those Russians now being examined on the charge of being members of an organization teaching disbelief in and the overthrow of responsible government, and the finding of the Board that he had to leave Canada was unanimous.

A strenuous attempt was made by Counsel Lyons and Captain Bird to break down the case against Kelt built up by the Mounted Police, but the evidence was held to point too strongly to Kelt as the encourager of a dangerous agitation among foreigners.

He is an Estonian, born in Reval, at one time a sailor in the Russian fleet, is paralyzed on one side and has been the operator of the Hampton Poolroom on Powell Street.

INCOME TAXATION.

BANKS VETERANS IN THEIR DEMAND

Ontario Government and Liberal Party Stand For Cash Aid

Hamilton Tells of Wife's Remarkable Improvement Since Taking Tanlac

Walkerton, Ont., Sept. 11.—The Ontario Government has raised itself behind the returned soldiers in their request to the Dominion Government for an increased gratuity.

Mr. T. W. McGarry stated that the case clearly yesterday afternoon in addressing the convention of the South Bruce Liberal-Conservative Association here.

The Provincial Treasurer, who spoke following the unanimous nomination of W. D. Cargill, of Cargill, the sitting member, whose name was the only one placed before the convention, declared that the situation presented by the request of the men was not one that could not be met.

"I am convinced," he said, "that we are all anxious to do everything in our power to show the returned men that we appreciate their great accomplishments in the war. I do not believe it is impossible to reach a solution which will be satisfactory to the returned men and the Ontario Government, and we are both men to be considerate with their requests."

Bracebridge, Ont., Sept. 11.—H. H. Dewar, Provincial Liberal Leader, addressed the convention of the Muskoka Reform Association yesterday afternoon. With regard to the returned soldiers, Mr. Dewar roused great enthusiasm when he read to the convention a letter from him to D. McKenzie, to be read on the floor of the House of Commons.

"We propose," he said, "speaking for the Liberals of Ontario that the money should be received from those who made unjust profits during the war."

Mr. Dewar's letter was as follows:

"D. D. McKenzie:

"Be good enough to express on the floor of the House of Commons today the emphatic protest of the Liberals of Ontario against Sir Robert Borden's refusal of the Veterans' just request for a Royal Commission to deal with war service gratuities and our entire support of their demand for immediate action. Ontario Provincial Liberal Party stands united in support of the resolution on August 7, moved by Colonel Ralston, declaring for the adoption of a system of cash grants to the soldiers and to the dependents of those who have fallen as a consequence of war and effective means of civil re-establishment, in addition to present gratuities and pensions for disabled veterans. Ontario money will back Ontario's men who backed Canada and the Empire."

Currie's Attitude.

Hamilton, Sept. 11.—General Sir Arthur Currie, who was received with open arms by this city yesterday, that while he sympathized with the veterans in their effort to secure a more liberal allowance, he thought the $2,000 gratuity asked would prove too great a burden for the country to bear. The veterans' plea to have a commission appointed to arbitrate their claims was reasonable, he said, and should receive consideration. He was in favor of generous pensions, and said the present pension regulations would have to be readjusted.

Regina Men.

Regina, Sept. 11.—The resentment of the Regina Branch of the Great War Veterans' Association resulting from the Government's refusal to appoint a joint commission to consider the question of a further re-establishment grant is growing stronger each hour. According to officials of the branch, telegrams were sent from the Provincial offices here yesterday to every Cabinet Minister and to every member of Parliament representing a Saskatchewan constituency.

The wires were signed by Lieut.-Col. James McEars, provincial president, and John Cameron, provincial secretary. The danger of the present unrest and "unhinged" developments was pointed out in the wires.

Manitoba Men.

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—Reconsideration of the refusal of the Federal Government to grant a commission to act in conjunction with the Great War Veterans' Association in determining a policy of further re-establishment of returned soldiers was demanded yesterday by the Manitoba command of the Great War Veterans' Association.

The secretary of the Manitoba command sent telegrams to Sir Robert Borden, all the cabinet Ministers and the Manitoba members of the Dominion House, asking them for a favorable reconsideration of the decision against a commission. The telegram to Sir Robert Borden was as follows:

"This command, representing sixty-five branches and 22,000 members of this Association, respectfully urges the appointment of a commission as requested by the Dominion command of this Association. Veterans of the Province present a united front on the question. Refusal of a commission causing great dissatisfaction. Re-consideration necessary if unrest is to be allayed. Request is considered reasonable here. Strongly urge your favorable action."

Sydney Men.

Sydney, N. S., Sept. 11.—The Sydney branch of the Great War Veterans' Association yesterday sent a drastically worded telegram to Sir Robert Borden relating to his refusal to grant a royal commission to consider a further cash grant to the returned soldiers. The resolution in part is as follows:

"Whereas, the Prime Minister of Canada, Sir Robert Borden, has seen fit arbitrarily to refuse the commission asked for by the Dominion command of the G. W. V. A., be it resolved that we, the Sydney branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, demand that the Government reconsider its decision with regard to this commission and take such immediate steps as may be necessary to have a commission appointed."

THIN, NERVOUS FOLKS SHOULD TAKE BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Women Need it to Bring Pink Glow to Cheeks and Firm, Stall Tired Lines of Age. Men Need it to Make Strong, Vigorous Bodies and Steady Nerves.

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wreckers; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that one of the best things for the nerves is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal, and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug. Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing. By strengthening known nervous over-tired people regain energy and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health. It is sold by Cyrus H. Bowes in Victoria, all good druggists.

CAUTION—Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so, that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. Those taking it who do not desire to be put on flesh, should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

WITNESS COLLAPSED AT GUELPH INQUIRY

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—Captain Macaulay, the military officer who was in charge of the raid on the Guelph Jesuit Novitiate, collapsed at the inquiry here yesterday afternoon after completing his lengthy evidence on the witness stand. He had to be assisted to the judge's chambers in a fainting condition. Later he recovered. Subsequently it was explained to the court by Sir Sam Hughes that Captain Macaulay had been suffering from tuberculosis and had come to court in a weakened condition.

Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, called to the stand a few minutes before adjournment, also showed signs of much emotion when testifying as to the health of his son, who was in the Guelph Novitiate at the time of the raid and who had been examined by Dr. Falour and other military doctors in Montreal and pronounced in military category "E." The health of his son, Mr. Doherty explained, was the source of much anxiety to his family.

With the evidence of Colonel E. J. Chambers, Chief Press Censor for Canada, the prosecution closed its case, Mr. Doherty being the first witness called by Mr. Newcombe, representing the Department of Justice.

BRITISHER URGES AID TO RUSSIANS

London, Sept. 11.—(Reuters'—Colonel John Ward, a Labor member of Parliament, who has returned from Russia, in the interview said that to desert the Russians "who have been our standard will make our name sink in the nostrils of every non-Bolshevik Russian."

"We went to Russia to present the Germans from transiting to the western front," he declared. "Are we now to say to those who rallied around us, 'You have served our turn, and we are going to wish you luck?'"

"That," said Colonel Ward, "is unthinkable. It would be black treachery to leave them to face the enemies they have made for our sakes without anything more substantial than our good will."

WINNIPEG CARMEN GET HIGHER PAY

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—Although no official statement will be made until the end of the week, it has been learned from an authoritative source that wage increases to the extent of $400,000 must be made by the Winnipeg Electric Railway, according to a decision reached by the Men's Board, which recently sat to investigate the men's grievances. The increases may be made retroactive, it is stated. The increases will affect carmen, conductors, motormen, trackmen, repairmen and inspectors.

REPORT DENIED.

London, Sept. 11.—It was declared in official quarters here yesterday that there was no truth in the report printed yesterday morning that a party of Sinn Feiners on a recent night had boarded a monitor off Cork, overpowered the skeleton crew and raided the vessel. The report, printed in The Daily News, added that the raiders escaped with a quantity of rifles, munitions and valuable instruments. Cognizance was taken of the report yesterday by the Government and an official denial made.

MINISTER HEARD AT RAID INQUIRY

Mewburn Testifies at Investigation Into Novitiate Incident at Guelph

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—Col. Godson-Godson and Major-General the Hon. S. C. Mewburn were the principal witnesses at yesterday afternoon's session of the inquiry here into the incident connected with the Guelph Jesuit Novitiate search or raid, as it has been variously described. From the standpoint of tenacity the session was the most interesting yet held.

General Mewburn, called by Mr. Newcombe, and partly cross-examined at some length by Mr. Ferguson, counsel for the complainant, and Sir Sam Hughes, testified as to the instructions sent from his office to the Militia Department to Major Hirsch, Assistant Provost-Marshal of the London district, relative to the Guelph visitation, and, to the general surprise of those in court, he appeared to possess but a limited knowledge of the instructions issued from his office.

The now celebrated "S.C.M." memorandum was identified by General Mewburn in the form in which it left his office en route to the department of Colonel Godson-Godson, but as to the form in which it was alleged to have been received by Major Hirsch, and as to the covering letters from Staff Captain Burroughs containing the suggestion that the Guelph Novitiate should be cleaned up, the Minister had no knowledge.

Apology.

General Mewburn and Lieut.-General Sir Sam Hughes had a rather sharp time over the matter of the letter of apology sent to the Rector of the Novitiate by the Minister of Militia. Sir Sam asked the witness why he had written it, as it had been written before he had received the report of Captain Macaulay, the officer who made the raid.

"I considered it the mainly thing to do, though you might regard it differently," replied the Minister.

"Since you put it that way," rejoined Sir Sam, "I can say I never wrote an apology like that to any one."

Col. Godson-Godson was questioned, particularly regarding the removal of the Burroughs letter and the "S.C.M." memorandum from Major Hirsch's file at London. He said he had removed some papers from that file and believed they were the ones referred to. Major Hirsch was not in his office at the time and he did not tell Major Hirsch the letters had been removed. His omission in that respect being "intentional."

Investigation

Col. Godson-Godson also testified at length concerning the investigation he conducted at the Jesuit College into the conduct of Captain Macaulay on the night of the raid. He blamed Captain Macaulay for visiting the institution in plain clothes instead of in uniform, and also for not producing the authority to search when it was demanded by Rev. Father Hingston.

Major Hirsch, in conversation with Col. Godson-Godson, took full responsibility for Captain Macaulay's conduct at Guelph and expressed the opinion that Macaulay had followed the instructions given him. Col. Godson-Godson was still under cross-examination when the session was adjourned until this morning.

At the morning session yesterday the witnesses examined were Captain Macaulay, Colonel Chambers, chief press censor for Canada, and Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice. Captain Macaulay was under considerable strain while on the stand, and, after completing his evidence, collapsed and was taken to the judge's chambers. Later Sir Sam Hughes explained to the court that Macaulay had been ill and had come to court in a weakened condition.

Mr. Doherty showed considerable stress of emotion while testifying as to the poor health of his son, who was in the Guelph Novitiate at the time of the raid. Once the Minister of Justice appeared on the verge of collapse and had to pause in his evidence to choke back sobs when telling that his son's physical condition was the cause of much anxiety to his family.

TEN KILLED IN RIOT AT SILESIA

Berlin, Sept. 10.—Via London, Sept. 11.—Ten persons were killed and eleven injured in a food riot in Glogau, Silesia, to-day. Troops used machine guns and hand grenades against the rioters.

The trouble started when a threatening crowd gathered before the shops and protested against the dearth of food. The situation became serious and troops were called out. A crowd attacked the soldiers, and one soldier was shot. Thereupon the order to fire was given, and the streets were cleared by the use of machine guns and hand grenades. The town is now quiet.

SEATTLE POLICE ON LOOKOUT FOR CROOKS

Seattle, Sept. 11.—"Crooks must go," Chief of Police Joel F. Warren declared in outlining police plans for the protection of the public during the coming visit of President Wilson and the United States Pacific Fleet.

"Our information from secret service men and from the police of other cities is to the effect that an army of crooks of all kinds is headed this way. They will be dealt with severely if we get our hands on them."

THUGS IN VANCOUVER WOUNDED JANITOR

Vancouver, Sept. 11.—L. W. Terry was shot and slightly wounded and an attempt of robbers to blow up the safe of the Western Canada Power Company in the Carter-Cotton Building here was foiled at an early hour this morning. Terry, who is janitor of the building, frustrated the robbers when he went to investigate a noise on the fifth floor of the building and was shot when he grappled with one of the men. The robbers escaped. Terry is not seriously wounded.

LEMEUX SPOKE ON THE PEACE TREATY

Fears Canada About to Surrender Control of Military Forces

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—Debate on the peace treaty continued in the House throughout yesterday afternoon and last evening.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, who took up the major portion of the afternoon, agreed that the covenant of the League of Nations was useless without Article 10, but by ratifying the treaty, he asked, was Canada not surrendering full control over her military and financial powers?

He described the Dominion Government's war policy as one of exploitation, extravagance, profligating and waste. There had been an utter disregard of statecraft, with an abject surrender to party needs. He thought, too, that the Irish Home Rule Bill should be enforced and "King Carson silenced."

W. F. Cockshutt, Brantford, was critical of the League, although declaring he would vote for ratification. He predicted that the time might come when Germany, admitted to the League, would largely constitute its voting power, and he was convinced that the last shot had not been fired, nor the last battleship sunk.

Owing to the illness of the Prime Minister, presentation of certain Government legislation is being somewhat delayed and it is probable that the House will not hold evening sittings throughout next week.

Correspondence.

Mr. Rowell read correspondence which passed between Sir Thomas White, then Acting Prime Minister, and Sir Robert Borden, at the time in London, in regard to Canadian representation at the Peace Conference. The correspondence opened with a cable from Sir Thomas White to Sir Robert Borden on December 4, 1918. It emphasized that the Cabinet Council was strongly of the opinion that Canada should be represented at the Peace Conference. In view of Canada's war efforts, the cable continued, the Council was of the opinion that the Dominion was entitled to representation, that the character of the British Commonwealth composed of Great Britain and other nations under one sovereign, should be recognized and that provision should be made for special representation of these nations.

Sir Robert Borden replied on January 2, 1919, recounting the steps he had taken and how he had brought the matter up before the Imperial War Cabinet, which had accepted the recommendation made.

CANADA URGED TO SEND SUPPLIES TO KOLCHAK'S FORCES

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—Kolchak and Denikin must have ammunition and Red Cross supplies if the menace of Bolshevism is to be swept from Russia, in the opinion of Lieut.-Colonel Douglas D. Young, who went to France with the Royal Canadian Dragoons and who was a member of the British military mission in Siberia. Colonel Young laid the facts about Russia before members of the Commons yesterday.

What Canada can do to help the down-trodden Russian people is to send Red Cross supplies, said Colonel Young, who stated that the men were being brought down from the line with their wounds bound up in dirty rags and there was an entire absence of medical and surgical needs in the country.

VICTORIA'S GUESTS.

The visit of the Hon. Joseph Daniels, United States Secretary of the Navy, Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander-in-chief of the American Pacific Fleet and the officers and men of the fine ships scheduled to arrive here to-day, is symbolical of the friendly feeling which has long existed between this Dominion and her great neighbor, and which was cemented afresh by the common struggle against Prussian autocracy. It reminds us again of the unique circumstance that although these two countries have shown that when the occasion arises they know how to use the sword and shield of Mars with deadly effect, along the whole boundary line between them of nearly four thousand miles there is not the slightest suggestion of force in their relations with one another; there is not a solitary fort or gun and the only uniforms to be seen are those worn by immigration and customs officers who, at some points, operate in almost common stations.

No similar condition exists between any two other nations on earth and the example presented by Canada and the United States, therefore, is an object lesson for the world. Thus, while these two branches of the English-speaking race may develop their measures and weapons of defence until they are assured that war has followed the duel to the limbo where both belong, they exclude one another from the list of possible foes and each leaves the only points where it is vulnerable absolutely unguarded in perfect confidence in the other's good-will.

Mr. Daniels has every reason to be proud of the achievements in the great war of the arm of his country's service of which he is the head, and the United States Navy, and the nation as a whole, has good reason to be proud of its naval chief. During the first few years of his term of office the Secretary was subjected to the criticism which usually is the lot of a navy head in time of peace. The innovations he introduced were declared by opponents of the old school to be disastrous because they conflicted with mass-covered tradition and hoary precedent, while his political opponents insisted that under his direction the "navy was going to the dogs."

We hear no more of that now. The critics have long since been disarmed, for, when the United States entered the war, it was found that the navy was in a high state of efficiency. Like the British Navy it vanished into the mist of secrecy and very little information of what it was doing was available to the public; but enough was disclosed to show how effectively it had been organized for war and how skillfully it was conducted.

Secretary Daniels figuratively vanished with the navy. That is to say, he kept clear of the lime-light and the head-lines. He made very few speeches and participated in no controversies. He was busy working and the fruits of his efforts were quickly visible. The responsible positions in the American naval service were given to the ablest technical men, who were left untrammelled by captious interference from headquarters. Admiral Sims was sent to London to co-operate with the British Admiralty. Admiral Mayo was placed in charge of all the American naval forces in European waters. Admiral Rodman commanded the battle-squadron which served with the Grand Fleet under Admiral Beatty, while Admiral Benson was head of the American Bureau of Naval Operations.

Under these auspices the co-operation between the British and United States navies was immediate and whole-hearted. The spirit which inspired the crew of the doomed American war vessels in the harbor of Apia, thirty years ago, to line their decks and cheer the superb seamanship of the sailors of the British ship Calliope in taking her through a terrific hurricane to the safety of the high seas, dominated the relations between the two navies in the great war against the common enemy at sea. How intimate and effective was that co-operation was shown by the warm tribute paid by Admiral Beatty to Admiral Rodman and the officers and men of the American battle-squadron under his command which, by the way, embraced the New Mexico and Arkansas, visiting Victoria to-day. Admiral Sims, also, was signally honored by the British people for his invaluable services.

The selection of Admiral Sims to co-operate with the British Admiralty spoke volumes for the judgment of those in charge of the American naval service. Apart from his high technical qualifications, he was singularly adapted in other ways to this highly important post. He was born in Canada and, although he left the Dominion in his early boyhood, he retained a close personal interest in the maintenance of friendly relations between the two English-speaking peoples. He was a strong admirer of the British Navy, with whose development he was intimately acquainted, and nothing could have been more gratifying than his striking eulogy of the decisive part played by that navy in the war in the speech given by him on the eve of his departure from London. Mr. Daniels made no mistakes in the appointment of the technical heads of the service under his care.

Our visitors of to-day can feel that in calling at Victoria, for so many years associated with

British naval power and tradition, they are renewing, in spirit at any rate, their connection with the Grand Fleet, while that association adds warmth to the city's welcome and increases its appreciation of the sentiment which prompted Secretary Daniels to arrange for the visit.

SUPREMACY IN THE AIR.

According to a recent announcement by the Air Ministry commercial flying in Great Britain is to be made practical in every sense of the term. An aeroplane competition has been arranged, to commence in March next, officially described "to advance the development of aviation and add to the safety of flying." Regulations governing the event prescribe that the large type of machine must have accommodation for fifteen besides the crew and travel ninety miles an hour. The small type of craft must carry two, including the pilot, and its speed must reach 100 miles an hour. Sea planes must carry four, exclusive of the crew, and travel eighty miles an hour.

It looks as if Britain is aiming to lead the world in the air and this should not be very difficult of accomplishment if she intends to utilize even half of her trained airmen. Some remarkable flights have been carried out recently, and a good deal of the scepticism as to the feasibility of commercial aviation has vanished. Once the general public becomes interested and convinced that there is about as much safety in a heavier-than-air machine aloft as in some agencies of locomotion on terra firma, aerial transportation will take its place as a recognized means of travel for all purposes. There are enormous possibilities in Canada for expansion in this connection and the Aerial League deserves every possible encouragement.

FOR NATIONALIZATION.

Robert Smillie, "direct actionist," socialist, President of the British Miners' Federation, friend of the Bolshevik, seven times unsuccessful aspirant for parliamentary honors in the British House of Commons, and apparently anti-everything which stands for constitutional Government, succeeded in carrying the Trades Union Congress in favor of the nationalization of Britain's coal mines. No surprise has been occasioned by the result of the ballot. Among the people as a whole the proposal will be sure to get a very large measure of support. Whether the country is in a position to go into the coal business on a national basis or not is an altogether different matter. One thing appears to be certain; no Government can afford to ignore such an overwhelming expression of opinion from organized labor.

It is interesting to speculate upon Mr. Lloyd George's next move. He does not favor nationalization. His recent speeches on the subject have been a sort of compromise between his pre-war day attitude towards the resources of the state and his latter-day political position—with one eye on his actual and potential parliamentary support. Either he will influence Parliament to disregard the decision of the Glasgow Congress—he might not have much difficulty in doing that—and take the consequences, or he will go to the country with the nationalization of the vital industries of the nation as the issue paramount.

Obviously Labor would prefer a general election. It would provide the workers with a test of public sentiment through the ballot. Even the moderate element, led by Arthur Henderson, has hinted at a Labor Government at an early date. For that reason he has persistently advised the workman of Britain to qualify by refusing to countenance the advice of extremists. The next few weeks may be fraught with momentous events for the nation.

OFFICERS OUT OF WORK.

Germany is not the only former belligerent country in which erstwhile military officers are finding it difficult to fit into the commercial niche of peace time. Nobody will worry very much about the grey-caped individuals who virtually "swept" the pavements of any German city before the war. But it is a different matter in Britain and in other parts of the Empire.

Officers in the British army—except, of course, the originals—for the most part were new to military life. They went from the office and the workshop in response to the call of the flag. But in many cases neglected businesses disappeared altogether. Lawyers, dentists, doctors, and scores of professional men who enlisted in the ranks and fought throughout as privates, or won commissions, are walking the streets in the Old Country in search of employment. Reference is made to these men in the British press for the simple reason that they are fitted neither by temperament nor physical ability to take the pick and shovel or turn a lathe.

No less than 15,000 British officers are idle in England. Particular attention is now being drawn to the fact that an Ex-Officers' Union has come into being for the purpose of assisting some of the idle 15,000. Published articles relating the experiences of a number of the Union's members tell of University graduates trying to get work as chimney sweeps. One Oxford man with a brilliant military career applied for a hotel waiter's job but his inability to develop a Cockney accent disqualified him. Canada in common with all the nations involved in the war has officers who in many cases may find it difficult to get back into civil life when the fairly plentiful supply of official positions in connection with repatriation are no more.

Mildred Lincoln, a Montreal girl of eleven summers, broke from the crowd on Lookout Mountain, grabbed the Prince of Wales unawares and kissed him. It is to be hoped that Mildred won a substantial bet because we can quite imagine the official frown—not from the Prince—that would follow her youthful Royal "dash." We are informed that arrangements are to be made to prevent a repetition of Mildred's example. We will wager the Prince is not inspiring them.

CITY HALL EMPLOYEES

SEEK INCREASED PAY

Prepare Demands to Be Made on Council Before Next Budget Comes Up.

Increase, averaging more than fifteen per cent, and in the case of lower paid men running much higher, are to be demanded from the City Council by the civic employees as a result of discussions at last night's meeting of the members of the Civic Employees' Protective Association at the Knights of Pythias Hall, North Park Street.

Speakers at the meeting declared that the present scale of pay at the City Hall was totally inadequate, as living costs are mounting continually and the remuneration of the civic employees has never and is not keeping pace with the scale of wages outside.

The demands for increases, covering every department of the city service and detailed for every class of work, will be formulated at a meeting next week, which will be attended by representatives of every department and every class of work.

The meeting last night was of the opinion that a flat rate of a fifteen per cent. increase all round, as has been suggested, would be totally inadequate to meet the situation. A fifteen per cent. increase in the salaries of the higher officials would be satisfactory for the higher paid officials, but would not mean much to the lower paid men. Accordingly provision is to be made to demand flat increases of so many cents or dollars a day for these men.

Plans were made by the meeting to formulate any possible move of the City Council to shelve the demands when they are made or postpone them as has been the practice of former City Councils. To this end arrangements are being made to complete the wage demands and have them presented to the Council by October. As the estimates for next year will not be formulated until December, members of the Association said that the Council will this time not be able to fall back on the excuse that the demands were made too late to be considered, as they would involve a complete revision of the estimate.

AMENDMENTS ARE DECLARED AGAINST

U. S. Senate Receives Treaty Report From Foreign Committee Minority

Washington, Sept. 11.—Rejection of the peace treaty with its proposed amendments, would mean the sacrifice by the United States of all concessions obtained from Germany under a dictated peace, minority members of the Foreign Relations Committee declared in a report presented to-day to the Senate.

The report, prepared by Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, ranking Democratic member of the Committee, urged speedy ratification of the treaty without amendments or reservations. It deplores "the long and unnecessary delay to which the treaty has been subjected, while locked up in the Committee, whose recommendations were from the start a foregone conclusion," and asserts these recommendations could have been made in July.

Both partners enjoyed good practices before going overseas, and the prospects of the new firm are considered exceedingly bright.

B., has announced herself as a candidate in the coming federal bye-election in Carleton-Victoria. Mrs. Perry's card, published in the Carleton county papers, says she will support the Union Government, but stands for reduction in the cost of living and eradication of corruption and profiteering from Canadian public life, besides a fuller measure in the recompense for returned soldiers.

PLAN ONE UNION FOR ALL EMPLOYEES
 No More "Slinking Back Into Kennels" When Aldermen Disapprove

An amalgamation of all civic employees into one big municipal union under a directing council on which will sit representatives of each of the present unions, was taken up again at last night's meeting of the Civic Employees' Protective Association in the Knights of Pythias Hall. Steps were taken to further the amalgamation.

Present plans propose an amalgamation of the civic employees with the firemen's and police unions. Eventually the promoters of the scheme hope to bring in the school teachers' association.

The whole move, those who are working for it explain, is to form such a strong organization that the interests of civic employees of all classes will be adequately protected. Divided into small groups as they are at the present time, they say they can never hope to achieve a betterment of their conditions, as the demands of each group in turn can be refused and little headway made.

"The time has gone by," one of the civic employees said, "when we come forth and bark for our demands and then turn and slink back into our kennels the minute an Alderman turns around and even looks at us." Ever since the strike, they have been into the association last night. Other applications were considered and passed over to the next meeting.

ARMED TROOPS IN STREETS OF BOSTON

Richard D. Reemts, a striking policeman, was shot and dangerously wounded this morning. At the hospital he said that he had been shot by Police Sergeant J. D. McDonald. According to the sergeant, the shot was fired by Abraham Karp, a store-keeper in the South End, who explained that he thought someone was attempting to break into his shop, and, going out to investigate, saw Karp rushing toward him and fired. Karp was arrested. Arthur D. Shea, a striking policeman and the alleged companion of Reemts, was arrested, charged with robbery.

General Parker set under way an investigation of the shooting in the South Boston district, in which two persons were killed and many injured.

Striker Wounded
 Richard D. Reemts, a striking policeman, was shot and dangerously wounded this morning. At the hospital he said that he had been shot by Police Sergeant J. D. McDonald. According to the sergeant, the shot was fired by Abraham Karp, a store-keeper in the South End, who explained that he thought someone was attempting to break into his shop, and, going out to investigate, saw Karp rushing toward him and fired. Karp was arrested. Arthur D. Shea, a striking policeman and the alleged companion of Reemts, was arrested, charged with robbery.

General Parker set under way an investigation of the shooting in the South Boston district, in which two persons were killed and many injured.

NOT WISE TO TRY TO ALTER TREATY

Wilson Says Any Parliament Making Attempt Is Proceeding Wrongly

Billings, Mont., Sept. 11.—Laying his appeal for the peace treaty before the people of Montana to-day, President Wilson declared the question of its ratification was a question whether the United States would fulfill its pledges to its people and to the world.

There were two addresses on his day's programme. Mr. Wilson speaking at the Billings Auditorium before noon so that he could reach Helena in time for a meeting at night. He arrived here from Bismarck, N. D., only a short time before the hour for his address and was taken for an automobile ride through the principal streets. He was cheered by the crowds as he passed along and at the auditorium he found all of the 8,000 seats taken and many standing.

"Consulting."
 Mr. Wilson said he had come west to "consult" with the people in the light of circumstances which affected the whole world. Everywhere the human heart beat the same and on both sides of the ocean there was a sincere desire that there should be no more war.

It was a mistake, therefore, the President continued, to debate the peace treaty as if it were an ordinary any treaty. It was not merely a treaty with Germany, but a treaty affecting a settlement of the affairs of the world.

"And it is this treaty or no treaty," he added. "It is this treaty because there can be no other."

No Alteration.
 "This settlement is the first international settlement that is based upon the happiness of the average people throughout the world. It is a people's treaty, and I venture the prediction that it is not wise for Parliaments and Congresses to attempt to alter it."

"It is a severe treaty," the President went on, "but must be so. Some of the same men who now called it unduly harsh, he said, were criticizing the administration a year ago because they thought the United States would be too easy with Germany."

"They were pitiless then," he said. "They are pitiful now."

IRRIGATION PLAN IN SOUTH ALBERTA

Edmonton, Sept. 11.—"There are several things to be settled between the Dominion Government and us in connection with this matter, but I say go ahead with your schemes and we will not hold you up." This was the assurance given by Premier Stewart to a big deputation of land-owners from Southern Alberta who are interested in the promotion of irrigation in the south country and to ascertain its attitude in the matter.

Fined for Assault—Peter Briseois was fined $15 in the police court this morning by Magistrate Jay, who found accused guilty of an unprovoked assault.

WANTED--MORE ICE

Cold Storage Idea for Jokes and Phrases.

By Oliver Poynings in The London Daily Chronicle.

"Strawberry, please," said Van, with the dreamy, far-away look which softens her eyes when a sunset over the sea or a sundae is in prospect. It was her third, so I know her return to earth was at hand.

"Do you know, I've been reading about cold storage somewhere or other. It's a business man who says that it wasn't the guns or the tanks, or the Navy that won the war, it was ice."

"Ice?" I gasped. "But I thought the—"

"Don't be childish, though you are demobbed in the infantry," commanded Van. "Anyway, they invented sundaes and sundaes mean ice, and if there hadn't been ice to keep the meat and butter and bacon and things from going bad, we should have been starved out, and if we had had more cold storage we should have won sooner."

"The battle of Armageddon," I murmured, "has been won on the mountains of Greenland."

"In the refrigerators of Europe," corrected Van. "I bought one a fortnight ago for my kitchen. It's so jolly—you just put in the cutlets or your 'best Dosses' and in a few minutes or it is, and they'll keep perfectly good for ages."

"Ice for the Curate's Egg." Domestic economy induces an enchanting seriousness in vanity. No other woman but Van could look so enraptured by a refrigerator. But knowing her I, so to speak, loosened the safety pin of a Mills.

"I should have thought," I challenged, "that one of your famous impersonations of an iceberg would have been sufficient."

"She was too interested to heed the thrust."

"What you writing people want," she continued, "is cold storage. There ought to be a huge refrigerator in Fleet Street."

"What for? Why, to ice words and jokes, and phrases which are simply going rotten through exposure. The story of the curate's egg—"

"Not bad in parts," I completed.

"Even you repeat it," she exclaimed wearily, almost angrily. "Bad? Why it's absolutely septic. (Van was a V.A.D.) That egg ought to be slammed into a refrigerator and kept there for months. When it was released as the cinema people say, it would be quite enjoyable again."

"Don't you see that there are heaps of words and things that once were funny which want putting on ice just as we women send our furs to cold storage for the summer so that they come out quite new for winter."

"Take 'camouflage' and 'kammerad' and 'getting the wind up.' They were quite fresh once, but they're absolutely rancid now. Doesn't it make you sick to meet people still mouthing them? And 'gesture.' It's only a month since a Frenchman first showed us the word, but already it's moth-eaten."

"There ought to be an inspector of verbal nuisance to seize words which are being used in an unsound condition. It's mentally disgusting to see the putrid state words get into through repeated handling. Think of 'wait and see' and 'adumbrate,' and the way people repeat and repeat and repeat that they've 'done their bit.' Why the phrase has been keeping company with all sorts of people for five years, and has never taken its clothes off or had a bath the whole time. And now Ireland is to the fore again, the 'Celtic' ought to be shoved into a refrigerator in the interests of literary decency."

"Refrigerator for Proverbs."

"Proverbs? Oh, yes, I'd intern the lot. That's why the refrigerator would have to be so huge. It would be tremendously healthy for people to speak for themselves instead of using dusty, grimy old sayings."

"For funnyisms, I'd have a special temperature-below-zero cell. You know that one about 'all men being liars, and that if Job lived now he could say it at his leisure. Think of the mental condition of a man who harbors such gangrened stuff in his brain. Unwashed, palsied jokes like that ought to be scrubbed and isolated."

"But my dear Van," I interposed, "do have mercy on the Bench. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Sententiousness would intervene."

"The judges. Why, their brains and vocabulary ought to be spring-cleaned three times a year. And so ought the politicians. As for novelists, most of them would have to go through the septic ward. They'd need thoroughly sterilizing and deodorizing."

"Why increase the unemployed?" I asked.

"Um," said Van. Why, yes—when you got their minds thoroughly cleaned they'd have precious little left. Would they?"

THE STORY OF ROBIN ADAIR.

Is the famous old song, "Robin Adair," which we have sung from childhood, Scottish or Irish? Scottish, undoubtedly, will be the general reply. Yet authentic history seems to point otherwise.

Hanging in the great hallway of the present mansion of Sir Robert Gordon, at Hollybrook, Kiltbride, Co. Wicklow, where Robin lived, played, and sang verses, is his harp, while, attached to a small building near by, is a brass plate bearing the inscription—

Here Robin sat, and sang, and quaffed the bowl.
Degenerate days! how fallen the ancient line!
How science bids ascending waters roll,
And fountains gush, where once flowed genial wine.

Robin, according to the latest researches, was a successful wine merchant in Dublin, with, however, Scottish ancestral connections. Hence the confusion. He is who built Hollybrook, where he entertained lavishly, the original song of "Robin Adair," which goes back to the year 1720, being written to commemorate a visit he paid to some sporting friends at Puckstown, near Artane, Co. Dublin, commencing—

"You're welcome to Puckstown, Robin Adair."

Robin, in spite of his convivial habits, lived to a green old age, and ultimately died in Dublin in 1727. In addition to his harp, two of his wine glasses, which held a quart of wine each, are still preserved.

ONE OF UNCLE SAM'S PACIFIC FLEET

U. S. S. NEW YORK

U.S. FLEET PRESENTS IMPOSING SIGHT

 Admiral and his staff officers, paid an official call upon Premier Oliver at the Parliament Buildings.
 During the afternoon Secretary Daniels and the visiting naval officers were taken on an automobile tour of the city and its environs.
 When the formal courtesies had been concluded the visiting warships were open to the general public and many Victorians went out to the ships on the steamer Island Princess, which was operated at half-hourly intervals from the Outer Docks.
 From the moment the giant ships let go their gigantic anchors and the fathoms of chain rumpled through the hawse pipes, crowds of Victorians who had lined the shores of Beacon Hill, the Dallas Road front and the breakwater, were eager to set foot on the glistening decks to inspect the capsterns of Uncle Sam's Pacific fleet. Every facility had been provided to handle visitors to and from the warships, but all Victorians seemingly wanted to see the American super ships and the afternoon dragged on the congestion grew more acute.

Launches Help Out.
 A profitable field was opened up by enterprising launch operators. Power boats were towed into line and by this method of water transportation the press of traffic was relieved. Raucous voiced speliars commended the wharves and many succumbed to their aggressive incantations.

Favorite Ship.
 The favorite ship for visitors was the New Mexico. Mayhap they had visions of getting a glimpse of the Admiral, or his two canines, or perhaps, which is more likely, they wished to size up the electrical equipment of the first electrically-driven battleship, but the fact remained that the initial rendezvous was the New Mexico. The visitors were met at the top of the boarding gangway by an officer of the watch who delegated a member of the ship's crew to show the segregated parties around and initiate them into the mysteries of a modern fighting unit. The sailormen were dressed in their privilage. These American sailor-boys are courteous and entertaining and do their best to make the visitors feel at home aboard ship.

Visitors Unfettered.
 There are few places aboard where the visitor may not put his foot and also some places where the men folk have to discard their cigars, but officious sailormen are stationed to impart this information to those who are not aware of the regulations. For instance, the Admiral's bedroom and the intimate quarters of the officers are not open for general inspection to the curious inquirer, nor is his office where he stores the secret codes and confidential documents. Precocious youngsters are not permitted to crawl into the nozzles of the big guns in an effort to survey the rifling at close quarters, and if you wish to escape a reprimand leave the breech-blocks and the triggers severely alone.
 Gentlemen will not expectorate on the beautifully scrubbed and laboriously holly-stoned decks nor help themselves to a tempting sandwich or a piece of electrically-cooked pie from the ship's galley.
 Apart from these few regulations the visitors are permitted to peer into and do practically anything they like.

The super-dreadnought New Mexico, Admiral Hugh Rodman's flagship, is the first completely electrically-driven fighting craft of its kind. This applies to only the propulsion of the great warship, but also to the food served aboard, which is electrically cooked. In fact, virtually everything aboard the ship is actuated by the simple process of moving an electric lever.
 The New Mexico weighs 32,000 tons and requires 28,000 horsepower to drive her, nearly one horsepower for every ton of weight.
 She is of oil burning type with a total oil capacity of 3,400 tons, or 6,800,000 pounds, or about one million gallons.
 The oil burners heat nine steam boilers, each of which can deliver 4,000 horsepower at a pressure of 250 pounds to the square inch. The steam from these boilers operates two turbo-generators which constitute the power plant, each capable of producing 14,000 horsepower. The current generated from the turbines operates four motors—one for each propeller. The motors are twelve feet in diameter. They are operated from a central switchboard or control station where the engineers on receipt of instructions from the ship's bridge can start the ship forward or backward, run the propellers at different speeds in either direction. They can run all four motors from one turbo-generator or they can run the two port-motors from one generator and the two starboard motors from the other generator.

Flexibility of Control.
 If one of the propellers breaks down, by simply disconnecting the motor circuit, the power of the two power plants can be used to operate the remaining three propellers. These are only a few of the various combinations of control and operation which form one of the main features of the electric ship.
 Besides utilizing electricity for propulsion purposes, there are many auxiliary uses to which the current can be put. Current from the main generators, however, is not used for such purposes.

Captain de Steigner.
 The power plant of the New Mexico has been described by the builders as the most powerful ever designed to drive a giant battleship. While the New Mexico is the pioneer battleship with electric drive, the United States naval department began its first experiments with the collier Jupiter in 1904.
 The success of the dreadnought New Mexico has been so marked that the United States will soon have others which also will be equipped with electrical machinery. They are the California, now under construction at Mare Island, the Maryland and the West Virginia. In addition there are now being built 35-knot battleships which will have power plants six times as powerful as that of the New Mexico.

Huge Dimensions.
 The New Mexico is 565 feet in length and has a beam of 95 feet. Her armament consists of twelve 14-inch guns, twenty-one 5-inch 50-caliber guns and four torpedo tubes. The battleship carries a total complement of 1,550 officers and men. The vessel which is the last word in battleship construction, cost $7,800,000 to build.

Witnessed Surrender.
 The Arkansas was one of the four American vessels which witnessed the historic surrender of the German fleet at Scapa Flow. The others were the New York, the Admiral Rodman's flagship; the Wyoming and the Texas.

The Pacific fleet of the United States navy made the trip from Hampton Roads to San Francisco in three weeks, as compared with the four months required by the sixteen battleships which visited the Pacific Coast in the summer of 1908 under the command of Admiral R. D. Evans.

Commands New Mexico.
 Captain Nathan "Rock" Twining, of the New Mexico, is chief of staff of the Pacific fleet. He was born in Wisconsin in 1870 and was appointed to the Naval Academy in 1889. He was commissioned an Ensign in 1901 and became a Junior Lieutenant in 1908, a Lieutenant in 1909, a Lieutenant-Commander in 1910, a Captain in 1915 and a Rear-Admiral in 1918.
 From 1904 to 1906 Admiral Twining served with the Bureau of Ordnance. For three years afterward he was aboard the Kearsarge, and in 1909 he was transferred to Boston as commandant of the navy yard. In 1911 he became chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, and for the temporary rank of Rear-Admiral.
 For a time he was aide on the staff of the president of the Naval War College at Newport, and for a time he commanded the Takoma.

Had a Very Bad Attack
 OR
Bowel Complaint.
 IT WAS CURED BY
DR. FOWLER'S
EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY

Any one suffering from bowel complaints such as diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and pains in the stomach, summer complaint, etc., will find that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry will give quicker and more permanent relief than any other remedy on the market to-day.

The old tried and proven medicine has been on the market for the past 74 years. You don't experiment when you buy it. Surely the test of time proves this.

Mrs. Daniel Hartwick Mountain Grove, Ohio, writes: "I used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and have found that it is a good remedy. When my little girl was 2 1/2 years old she had a very bad attack of bowel complaint. Nothing prescribed by the doctor seemed to do her any good. She got worse, until we thought we would lose her. I got a bottle of 'Dr. Fowler's' and she soon found relief. Every one who has children should not be without it in their home. Price 25 cents a bottle; put up only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

At the outbreak of the war Twining went with Admiral Sims to Europe. He was chief of Admiral Sims' staff aboard the Melville and as a member of the Allied Naval Council. After the signing of the armistice Twining was assigned to command the Texas, relieving Rear-Admiral Victor Blue, who became chief of the Bureau of Navigation.
 Admiral Twining was detached from the Texas to become chief of staff of the Pacific fleet and became again a Rear-Admiral, after having reverted to the rank of Captain during the war.

Captain de Steigner.
 Captain Louis Rudolph de Steigner, commanding the dreadnought Arkansas, was born in Ohio in 1867 and was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1889. He became an Ensign in 1891, a Junior Lieutenant in 1898, a Lieutenant the next year, a Lieutenant-Commander in 1905, a Commander in 1910 and a Captain in 1916.

Captain de Steigner has served on the Mohican, the Baltimore, the Philadelphia, the Portsmouth, the Thetis, the Monterey, the Constellation, the Michigan, the Katahdin, the Montgomery, the Connecticut, the Maine, and the Kearsarge.
 He commanded the naval training station at New York for a time. During the period he was chief of staff to the Commandant of Third Fleet and in the Philippines below. He commanded all vessels of that district afloat. Captain de Steigner assumed command of the Arkansas in August, 1918.

Neatness Everywhere.
 The ships compare with the British men-o-war in neatness and order on deck and in the staterooms below. One is mightily impressed by the power that lurks behind the mammoth twelve-inchers which project their muzzles from revolving turrets before and aft. The destructiveness of these modern machines of warfare is at once apparent even to the most casual observer. The powerful armament of the capital ships New Mexico and Arkansas was undoubtedly the chief object of interest of visitors who explored every point that could be negotiated with safety.
 Neatly uniformed and immaculate officers, sailors and marines who had not been granted shore leave, hastened about the decks on various missions, while the blue-jackets in charge of the roving parties did their best to answer satisfactorily the persistent and varied questions that were hurled at them. Impressionable darts went into ecstasies over the turrets, the formidable guns, the complements of the quarters, the ditty boxes, and all the other terrific weapons and things which bring joy or otherwise to the life of a sailor. The more sober men folk took a keen interest in everything and appeared to take particular interest in the wonderful electric propelling machinery which drives the New Mexico.

Would Go Aloft.
 Some of the more venturesome essayed to tackle the climb aloft via the towering cage-masts, but the highest point reached by the majority was the navigation bridge. There were dozens of inviting doors about and commanding ladders reaching to the upper decks and guns, and beckoning inducements. Into and up these, inquisitive people cheerfully strayed, with the uniformed guide in the lead. In the immediate vicinity of the well-ordered galley, manned by a detachment of white-clad cooks, eager matrons flocked and nibbled each other in bargain-sale style and with equal familiarity. Satisfied to give exhibitions of their ship's galley the visitors wandered on.

Men's Quarters.
 The men's quarters attracted considerable attention, with the mess tables slung overhead. Here is a sample of the conversation that might be overheard:
 "We lower 'em this way, Miss," explained the genial sailorman. "And he lowered it."
 Eyes agape, the party clustered around and marveled.
 "One bright eyed little daughter, however, broke the impassable silence. "What ducky little rims they've got!" said she. "I suppose that's to catch the coffee when it spills."
 "Sure!" agreed the polite and resourceful guide.
 Then he opened the hammock locker that runs along the side and laboriously dug out his own hammock, because it is not naval etiquette to give exhibitions of otherwise monkey with another fellow's hammock.
 Then he slung it overhead. It hung away high up, nearly touching the deck overhead.
 "Oo-oo!" exclaimed a very tiny little lady.
 "Hush, dear," bade her sister.
 "The next hammock is slung on these two hooks," explained the sailor man.
 Everybody looked. On every face sat an expression of amazement.
 "I suppose you've step-ladders like the sleeping cars?" suggested one. The sailorman grinned.

"No, miss. We just hop up!" The hammock came down. All moved to the ditty boxes—the boxes of impenetrable mystery wherein are contained the cherished personal possessions of every man-o-warman. They are nearly square little boxes, about eighteen inches long and are stacked in racks along the bulkheads. "Those are the men's ditty boxes, miss!"

"Ah!" Everybody had a h'ard of the ditty boxes—these treasure shrines wherein of the very name breathes poetry—and wherein are hidden the romances of all the true-blue hearts that ever sailed the sea.

"How lovely! And what do you keep in them?" came the coy question.
 "Aw! Bibles and toothbrushes and things," again explained the ever-truthful sailor man.
 And so the party passed on.

Other doors opened on other vistas. Some of them, on paradises forbidden the non-elect, were labeled "Visitors not allowed. Officers' Quarters." Similar notices barred entrance to the heavenly insides of the gargantuan turret whence the big guns are fired.
 But there were smaller guns all over the place with kindly gunners in charge. And these men explained all their deadly mechanism, and allowed fortunate folk to squint through the telescope sights, through which, marvelous to relate, things could actually be seen. And while these things were happening, adjacent groups went into rhapsodies over objects they could better understand. As for example: "And those are the bullets!"—as a lady explained when showing her companion the racks of five-inch shells. Whereat a marine, nodded his head gravely, and said, "Some bullets!"

The salvage ship Algerine, gally bedecked with flags, left the harbor about 3 o'clock with a private party aboard and cruised around the anchored warships.
 Special arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the sailors of the visiting warships. The Knights of Columbus undertook to welcome and entertain the liberty men as they came ashore in the ships' barges. Approximately 1,500 men were allowed leave. The sailors landed at the Causeway, where they were served with cigarettes and chocolate and then loaded into automobiles and shown the city.

Later in the evening the American Jack Tars will through the principal thoroughfares of the city, and at 7:30 they will be assembled at the Royal Victoria Theatre, which has been reserved by the Knights of Columbus for the entertainment of the sailors.
 Special pictures will be filmed for the occasion and appropriate musical selections will be rendered by the Royal Victoria orchestra. At 11 o'clock the sailors will re-assemble at the Causeway steps and will be conveyed back to their respective ships by midnight.

Twenty-five million boxes of Cascarets were sold last year to folks who wanted relief from Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Gases, Colds and Sick Headaches without being shaken up and sickened all the next day. Cascarets work while you sleep, removing the toxins, poisons and sour, indigestible waste without gripping or inconvenience. Cascarets regulate by stimulating the liver and strengthening the bowel muscles. They never weaken or upset you like Salts, Calomel or violent Pills. Cascarets cost so little too.

Comedy relief, a necessity to sombre drama, abounds in "The Fear Woman." Pauline Frederick's latest Goldwyn masterpiece, which will be shown at the Royal Victoria for the last time to-night.
Two newly-rich personages, a doting mother, Mrs. Honora Farwell (Lydia Yeaman Titus), and her fat lubbering son, Percy (Walter Hiers), furnish the comedy motive in "The Fear Woman." Mrs. Farwell is the sort of person who receives her bank account late in life, and whose conception of social savior faire is correspondingly limited. She, as this ridiculous form of solicitous maternity. Her son, on the other hand, is the sort of person who would be normal if given half a chance; whose desires are natural, but whose action is cramped by too tight a drawing of the maternal checkrein.

Mrs. Farwell, a mother who strenuously objects to her son's marrying Helen Winthrop (Pauline Frederick), a well-bred young woman who has been placed in a bad light through her efforts to save her friend from disgrace, is best shown at the tennis tournament, which takes place in "The Fear Woman." She is the donor of the championship cup, which is won by her son's objectionable matrimonial choice. At the banquet which follows the tourney, the cupid awarded Miss Winthrop, whereupon Mrs. Farwell promptly shows her bad manners by abruptly leaving the dinner table. Percy, on the other hand, is a big-stomached, big-hearted chap with a desire to be popular, and whose chief claim to comedy lies in his own paunchy self, and his efforts at love-making. The subtlety of the situation has been thoroughly sustained by Izola Forrester, who, in "The Fear Woman," constructed a play which promises to be Pauline Frederick's greatest screen success.

DOMINION

Fairbanks' latest Arcraft film, "The Knickerbocker Buckaroo," which is being shown at the Dominion Theatre this week, after a unique, allegorical opening, has an attractive episode in a New York club at which time Douglas' reason for seriously considering the Horace Greeley bromide, "Go West, Young Man," is explained.

This Fairbanks-Arcraft release should be labeled a "hand-made picture," because of the weeks of time devoted to developing the story. Each episode was carefully constructed by Doug's staff which included Elton Banks, Joseph Henaberry, Ted Reed, Frank Condon and Saturday Evening Post fame and Albert Parker, who directed.

VARIETY

"Florence Reed," says an interviewer, "is the strangest combination of woman and child. One minute a gorgeous creature looking as if she had stepped from the mystic East, and the next, second a wistful little girl looking as if she had been denied a second piece of cake. Not that this chameleon-like change is due to any disorder in costume or any seeming outward change. It is all effected, or rather perfected, by the Reed eyes, which are deep, dark orbs, reminding one vaguely of the eyes the Eastern women possess and which one sees peeping from discreetly covered face. Miss Reed's New York home is filled with works of art from the Orient. Miss Reed is starred on the Variety screen this week in "Her Code of Honor," a fascinating photodrama of the Latin Quarter in Paris and New York society life.

ROMANO

Imagine an entomologist wrapping one of his sacred bugs in a highly important letter—a letter that several people were moving Heaven and earth to secure. This is only one of the many things that happens to this particular letter in "Three Green Eyes," the remarkable new World Picture, which will be presented at the Romano to-day and for the balance of the week, with an all-star cast. Think of it, all these famous stars in one picture—Carlyle Blackwell, Montagu Love, June Elvidge, Evelyn Greeley and Johnny Hines! Yes, you'll see them all in this production and other film favorites, too. "Three Green Eyes" is a corking good screen entertainment. It's the sort of a picture you will remember for a long time. Be sure to see this production.

COLUMBIA

Two famous stars, Carlyle Blackwell and June Elvidge, are both seen in the newest World Picture, "The Way Out." This masterly production, telling a modern story with a peculiar twist, will be shown at the Columbia to-day and for the remainder of the week. Both Mr. Blackwell and Miss Elvidge have splendid roles in this production. The story has been superbly staged, and some of the views are of really exceptional beauty.

This surprising new story has a tremendous climax on a European battlefield, and the incident that occurs on this battlefield has a direct bearing on the happiness of a charming and beautiful American girl.

The problem presented in this story is a novel one, and the title of the drama is taken, of course, from the manner in which the problem is solved—the way out. Many remarkably interesting and beautiful scenic effects are seen in the production, and "The Way Out" is an altogether satisfactory screen entertainment.

PANTAGES

Chisholm and Breen, who offer a comedy turn entitled "Her Cave Man" at the Pantages Theatre this week, based the act upon actual fact. Mr. Chisholm, telling of the instance which gave him his plot, declared: "The actual locale for the piece is in Wisconsin, and the man is really a heavy, husky youth of Swedish origin. The woman was a waitress in a quick lunch in Chicago. She was the flippiest think in skirts. She had a smart, wistful answer for anything the man projected her way. She had to lie that way because of the wise birds who frequented the eat-house where she worked. When she went up to the Wisconsin town for a holiday she thought she'd go to grave yard at midnight. The only male of eligible dimensions in the town was the healthy Swede. And he knew it. He just kept following her around. Finally she told him off, declaring he was of the hick variety, that he could never step in her traces—the pace was too fast, opined that his mate would have to be of the Helen Keller brand. But the boy has ambitions. He knew what he wanted when he saw it. So he tried the cave man stuff and got over with it."

When Alice came back from having her hair cut she told her father she had been to the bobber. "Barber, you mean," corrected her father. "No, I mean bobber. You know, the man who bobbed my hair."

Too Ill to Work

Scores of Women

in homes, stores, offices and factories are not fit to be at work. They toil on day after day and year after year suffering with distressing weaknesses and derangements, hoping against hope that they will soon feel better, but how can they hope to do good work or escape permanent invalidism?

Such women are in danger of derangement of women's functions. They owe it to themselves to try that good old fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring Women to health and strength.

Here is a Notable Example

St. John, N.B.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for bladder and kidney troubles and backache and find it the best medicine I ever took. I used many other remedies with very little result. I had two miscarriages and would have been in my grave ere this if it had not been for your medicine. I always keep a bottle of Vegetable Compound in the house, and I feel fine to do my work for five in the family. I have recommended your Compound to many people, and you may use this testimonial if you like. It may help some other woman."

And Another

Regina, Sask.—"I was going through the Change of Life and suffered two years with headaches, nervousness, sleepless nights and general weakness. Some days I felt tired and unfit to do my work. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and found good results. I also find it a very helpful spring tonic and useful for constipation from which I suffer much. I have recommended Vegetable Compound to several friends and am willing you should publish this."

GAME ASSOCIATIONS FORMED BY OFFICIAL

R. E. Hose, of Game Board, Returns From Successful Northern Trip

After an inspection tour covering that section of the Province traversed by the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Cariboo Road, R. E. Hose, Secretary of the Game Board of British Columbia, returned to his office in the Parliament Buildings yesterday. During the course of his trip Mr. Hose was able to promote the organization of the Omineca District Rod and Gun Club at Smithers and at Prince George the Fort George District Game Protective Association came into being through his instrumentality. Public meetings at both places were well-attended by sportsmen and those interested in the preservation and proper protection of game. Discussing the need of proper organization and the results of his mission with the Times representative this morning, Mr. Hose stated that with the addition of these two active bodies to the Association already in existence—the Prince Rupert Rod and Gun Club—the northern portion of the Province will now be properly represented. The Omineca organization intends to enrol members from all the towns in the Omineca district and the association at Fort George will include members of the fur trade and trappers, whose interests, he observes, are very considerable in this particular district. Many matters of local interest were discussed at the meetings referred to and Mr. Hose promised to place before the members of the Game Conservation Board such questions as the fur trade, the close season for bear, predatory regulations governing the placing of poison and so on. The fur dealers, said Mr. Hose, are unanimously in favor of further legislation to provide better regulation of the fur trade in general. Officers appointed to control the destinies of the Omineca and Fort George associations are as follows: Omineca—President, C. Reid, Smithers; vice-president, H. McLean, Telkwa; secretary-treasurer, W. Galbraith, Smithers; the executive will be chosen from the surrounding district. For George—President, Judge H. E. A. Robertson; vice-president, H. Porter; secretary-treasurer, W. P. Ogilvie; the executive will be composed of five members. Mr. Hose did not find it feasible to form an association among the towns along the Cariboo Road, the distance separating them precluding the chance of getting together representative meetings. He explains, however, that there is a Trappers' Association at Harper's Camp.

The remains of the late Mrs. Carrie Rochon were laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery this morning, the cortege leaving the Thomson Funeral Chapel at 8:45. Mass was celebrated at St. Andrew's Cathedral at 9 o'clock by the Rev. Father Wood, assisted by Rev. Father Macdonald. There were many friends in attendance and the following acted as pallbearers: Frank Sehl, P. L. O'Connell, P. Donaherty, Dr. J. Thompson, E. W. Nolte and H. J. Hartnett. The Rev. Father Macdonald, officiated at the graveside. The hymns sung were "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "Nearer My God to Thee." There was a large attendance of sorrowing friends and the hearse was filled with lovely floral tributes. The pallbearers were G. A. McNutt, C. H. Hardie, A. J. Daniels, W. Turpie, L. Tait and G. Monteith.

MORE REGISTERED FOR EIGHT MONTHS THAN IN LAST YEAR

New Companies For 1919 So Far Number 385; All Last Year 347

One of the best proofs that British Columbia has taken a new lease on her industrial and commercial life is to be found in the increasing number of new concerns incorporated from week to week. According to statistics handed to The Times representative by the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies this morning there were no less than sixty-one companies registered in the month of August, in July the number did not exceed forty-one, although July's total this year is in excess of the corresponding month in any year since 1912. Usually Lowest.

August is usually regarded by the Registrar as the slackest month as far as company registrations are concerned. This year, however, the generally accepted holiday month has outstripped any previous August record. The Registrar says the following are the corresponding August registrations back to the boom year of 1912: 1912, twenty-eight; 1913, twenty-nine; 1914, twenty-nine; 1915, twenty-six; 1916, twenty-three; 1917, twenty-eight and 1918, forty-nine.

It is also interesting to note that for the first eight months of the present year no less than 285 new companies have been incorporated. In the whole of the year 1918 the total incorporations were 347. With four months to be taken into the reckoning, therefore, there is already an increase for two-thirds of the year over the previous twelve months of thirty-eight.

Below follows the registrations for the week ending next Monday, official notification of which will be made in this day's issue of the British Columbia Gazette:

- Superior Lumber Company, Limited, private, authorized capital $40,000; registered office of the company, Victoria.
- London Pacific Exploration and Development Company, Limited, private, authorized capital $25,000; registered office of the company, Victoria.
- Artistic Bungalow Constructors, Limited, private, authorized capital $10,000; registered office of the company, Vancouver.
- Dominion Lumber Sales, private, authorized capital $10,000; registered office of the company, Vancouver.
- Ferguson Higman Motor Company, Limited, private, authorized capital $10,000; registered office of the company, Vancouver.
- Hayes-Anderson Motor Company, Limited, private, authorized capital $25,000; registered office of the company, Vancouver.
- Looper Club, Limited, private, authorized capital $10,000; registered office of the company, Vancouver.
- National Shingle Company, Limited, private, authorized capital $25,000; registered office of the company, Vancouver.
- Overseas Commissions, Limited, private, authorized capital $10,000; registered office of the company, Vancouver.
- B. C. Stevedoring Company, Limited, private, authorized capital $50,000; registered office of the company, Vancouver.
- Munro & Kerr Timber Company, Limited, private, authorized capital $50,000; registered office of the company, Vancouver.
- The Commercial Credit Company of Canada, Limited, is now licensed to do business in British Columbia; authorized capital $1,000,000; head offices in Toronto and Vancouver.

ROTARIANS MOVE TO SECURE WATER FOR GORDON HEAD

Appoint Committee To Take Up Irrigation Proposal

SIX MILLION GALLONS WASTED DAILY BY CITY

The Rotary Club, at its luncheon at the Pantages Theatre to-day, decided to take steps immediately in conjunction with the municipality of Saanich and the Gordon Head fruit-growers, to have a water service installed throughout the Gordon Head and Cadboro Bay districts.

This action was taken when J. C. Pendry pointed out to the club the seriousness of the shortage situation throughout Gordon Head during a dry season. He said this district was one of the great industrial assets of Victoria, as all the money made there was spent in Victoria.

"But while the fruit-growers were going short in their water supply and in some seasons facing an absolute failure of the fruit crop, 6,000,000 gallons of water was going to waste daily at Victoria's waterworks out in the Sooke Hills," said Mr. Pendry. He added that Mayor Porter informed him that with an expenditure of $1,000 the city could have a surplus of another 3,000,000 gallons a day. "The good old water falls us, but the rain we can't depend on," said Mr. Pendry. "Every year the strawberry growers are flirting with fate."

Mr. Pendry suggested that Victoria should give Saanich free for ten years the surplus water that is now going to waste. Saanich could lay mains throughout the districts most needing water and pay for this work out of the income from the water services.

Reeve's Opinion.

Reeve Jones, of Saanich, told the club that his municipality was already taking action in the matter. He said it would be a waste of money for Victoria if it turned over to Saanich the 6,000,000 wasted gallons of water used to stimulate the agricultural industry of Saanich.

A motion was immediately passed that the Rotary Club take action along with representatives of the fruit-growers and the municipality authorities. A committee to take charge of this work was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Carl Andray, Wilkerson, Albright, McKay and A. G. McGee.

During the luncheon a film of the attractions of Victoria was run. Commissioner McAdam, of the Victoria and Island Development Association, then told of the objects of his organization.

"All the world is our field," he said. "Those people who visit our association comprise three classes: First, business men looking for investments. It should be mentioned that several business enterprises have availed themselves of our services during the last few months, and that we have been instrumental in retaining for British Columbia a large sum of money which was expended in stock for the Orient. This purchase involving $18,000 would otherwise have gone to the American side."

Second, intending settlers who desire a thorough knowledge of economic, social and political conditions and information as to the different cities and districts of Vancouver Island.

Third, the large tourist class who need advice and direction in order to plan their itineraries so as to best see all of the attractions of this Treasure Island.

"There were between 3,000 and 4,000 visitors at the Association rooms during the last eight weeks, many of whom have remained as permanent residents of Victoria and the Island, more are planning to return to this part of the country and settle, and the rest declare that henceforth they will Westernize themselves and advise their friends to do the same."

Adviser in Turkish Hands.

Lieut. Paul Edmunds, R. F. A., said he was glad to be back in Victoria after five years' absence.

"The lesson I learned during our stand at Kut and Capiti was the value of optimism. If it had not been for our extraordinary optimism I don't think we could ever have stuck it out," he said.

Home Products Fair.

A. B. Clarke said that the Home Products Fair gives an opportunity of making the Victoria product known to the local consumer without the chance of outside competition.

"The object of the Fair is to encourage the local producer," said G. I. Warren. "Our policy is practically all taken up. But the lumber and coal mining industries on the Island are not exhibiting because they say they are too busy."

The Rotary Club Cup for the championship seed-growing team in the public schools of the city was displayed and introduced by Past President J. D. O'Connell.

WOULD USE TRACK FOR AUTO SERVICE

New Proposal For Victoria & Sidney Railway Line

There is a project afoot, the promoters of which will endeavor to dissuade the Receiver of the Victoria & Sidney Railway Company from the possible disposal of the steel rails which connect Victoria with the Canadian National intersection, about a mile and a half from Sidney. And to interest the Premier in a proposal to institute a motor service between the two points by using the existing tracks, P. A. Pauline, M.P., will head a delegation to Mr. Oliver's office at the Parliament Buildings in a day or so.

The Sidney Board of Trade and realtors of both Sidney and Saanich are interested in the continuation of a service along the old route. It is therefore proposed to develop a scheme for the maintenance of a frequent service by the use of a large motor vehicle fitted with flange wheels. It is proposed also that such a conveyance would be provided with accommodation for forty persons, with a trailer attached for freight, the plan following very largely that in active operation in Oregon and California.

As the situation stands at present the Receiver of the road has received an offer to purchase the steel rails of that section, not including the Victoria & Sidney line, for $1,000,000. C. N. R. in the event of the national road taking over the metals from the intersection into Sidney itself. The Receiver is understood to be disposed to close the offer, while Mr. Hanna already has instructed his engineers to compute an estimate of the mile and a half of track incident to prospective Federal acquisition.

without a moment's hesitation by nearly twenty-five members, while others promised that they would send cars as soon as they could make arrangements after the luncheon.

Mr. O'Connell announced that arrangements had been made to supply the sailors not fortunate to get shore leave to see Victoria, with cigarettes on the warships as they lie off Victoria.

As the boats with sailors came in the harbor on their way to the Causeway the coming was announced to Victoria, by blasts from the whistle at the B. C. Paint Works. J. C. Pendray made this arrangement so that the motorists would know of the arrival of the sailors.

Special arrangements were made by the Knights of Columbus to provide accommodation at the theatre.

THERE IS DANGER IN TENDER GUMS

To preserve healthy teeth the ordinary tooth-paste is futile. You must first care for the gums, on which tooth health depends.

How many people think of this? Yet four out of five people over forty suffer from gum-decay, or Pyorrhoea (Riggs' Disease).

At first the gums become tender, though actual gum-shrinkage is imperceptible. But in time receding gums will surely loosen, scale them, then only a dentist can save them. The tender, bleeding gums of Pyorrhoea also act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infected joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's (For the Gums) prevents gum-shrinkage, gum-tenderness, gum-bleeding. So, automatically, Forhan's prevents tooth loosening. Brush your teeth with it. It scientifically cleans the teeth—keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for treatment $5c and 60c tubes. All Druggists.

ROTARY CLUB SUPPLIES CARS FOR SAILORS AT MOMENT'S NOTICE

Twenty-five motor cars for taking 1,500 sailors from the United States warships around Victoria this afternoon were mobilized by the Rotary Club without a minute's notice at the luncheon at the Pantages Theatre to-day. J. D. O'Connell, who is in charge of the arrangements for the entertainment of the sailors explained that at 11:45 o'clock arrangements that had been made for a supply of other cars had broken down, and he was forced to fall back on the Rotary Club. The cars were volunteered

FOUNDATION STICKHANDLERS PLAY EDMONTON AT WINNIPEG TO-DAY

Alberta Champions Defeated Lawson Yesterday — Victoria Boys Regarded as Favorites

(From a Times Correspondent.)

The Foundation team makes an initial appearance in the Winnipeg lacrosse series for the ten-men-aside championship of Canada to-day, writes a Times correspondent from Winnipeg, and Ed-Brynjolfson's boys have no doubt as to the result. Drawing a bye in the first round they are now opposed to Edmonton, the Alberta champions. The Edmonton boys looked good from the way they cleaned up the men from Lawson by thirteen to three. They have both speed and stamina, but no anxiety is eating out the hearts of the far westerners in this neck of the woods. Winnipeg beat Toronto to it in a whirlwind last period by eight goals to seven, and the Winnipeg supporters were on their toes during the whole of the battle. It is declared to be the most spectacular exhibition of stickhandling ever played before the Winnipeg fans, Lester Patrick, of Victoria, and Harry Scott, of Calgary, referred, and their calls evidently gave complete satisfaction.

Until the last minute it was either team's game, and the Toronto men had a big disappointment. They took the lead in the first stanza by two to nil, but before half time the home team had crept up on them four to three. The end of the third period saw them tied five-five and the Toronto boys got ahead again in the last spell, but a desperate onslaught on the Toronto hemp proved effective.

It was great lacrosse and the Victoria boys realize that they have to show all they know in any game of the series to bring home the bacon, but they have just enough edge to obtain the decision.

The Foundation team are favorites in the series here and it is anticipated that four-rounds will be a big crowd to see them in action when they open to-day. The news of how they ran through to the Mann Cup in the West has created a lot of interest and the boys are determined to live up to their reputation. They are adhering to the strict training rules that Cotton is firm about and will be in fine shape when they take the field. It is expected that there will be fifteen thousand spectators at the final game Saturday.

WILLOW SEASON OF TWO WEEKS ANNOUNCED

Sportsmen will hear with pleasure that a change had been made by the Game Conservation Board, by which the open season for willows stands as originally announced, from September 13 to September 25. This decision was arrived at as the result of strong representations from the north of the island. The blue grouse season has been extended to October 17, as previously announced.

ARMY AND NAVY SOCCER MEN ARRANGE PRACTICES

At a well attended meeting of soccer enthusiasts it was unanimously decided to enter teams in the senior and intermediate leagues. Plenty of material for a well-balanced team is in view, and if the enthusiasm shown at the meeting is any augury, success is assured.

Comrade P. Reeve, who so ably managed the former navy team, was chosen to manage the team, with Comrade P. Brogan as trainer. Secretary H. J. Young will look after the secretarial work until a capable man can be found.

The colors of the team have not yet been definitely decided, but in all probability will be red, white and blue. A practice match will take place some time next week with the Harbor Marine eleven.

Another meeting will be held next week, of which due notice will be given.

Babe Ruth's Record.

The new record of twenty-six home runs held to-day by Babe Ruth was made at the expense of twenty-two American League pitchers.

The great slugger of the Red Sox his left and right-handers alike and only on four occasions has he made two homers off the same pitcher. These pitchers are Jim Johnson, George Daus, Bob Shawkey, Urban Shocker. The other pitchers who have felt the vengeance of Ruth's murderous bat are McGriddle, Davenport, Perry, Morton, Robertson, Danforth, Jasper, Myers, Ehmke, Leonard, Kerr, Mayer, Ayers, Love, Cunningham, Shaw, Noyes and Thomathlen.

Ruth made eight of his home runs at Boston and eighteen on the road.

Who is Champion.

The question is now raised in Pacific Coast tennis circles as to who is the Northwest ranking tennis player. It's a difficult proposition.

Mercer, of Vancouver, beat Allen in the British Columbia clay court championships; Mercer beat Rhodes, also of Vancouver, in the same tournament; Rhodes beat Milne in the finals of the Mainland tournament; Milne beat Mercer in the finals of the British Columbia grass court championships at Victoria; Allen beat Milne in both the Vancouver and international meets. How do they stand comparatively?

The marvellous volleying of the four, with the terrific overhead smashes of Patterson and the delicacy of the touch of Brookes' master-hand, were the most noticeable features of display.

Kimberley Situation

Information comes from Kimberley, B. C., that the two-mile tunnel has reached its objective, and a raise has been started in the Sullivan Mine.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

After being idle for 13 months owing to the death of one of the partners, J. P. Miller, the Panams' dry-silver property, at Bear Lake, in the Lardreau, was reopened recently by H. Giegerich of Kalso, who is now sole owner.

The work being undertaken is a continuation of the long drift on the ledge which is designed to get under the showings above. The tunnel is now in a distance of 370 feet and it is estimated that it still has about 200 feet to go to get the ore body.

GETTING HIS CORNER READY

For some little time the lady artist who had recently arrived in a little fishing village was in earnest conversation with the blue-jerseyed individual who was known to his intimates as "Young Bill," and when she had gone he smiled complacently.

WILL HAVE TO GO EASY ON FINANCES

School Board Must Watch Expenditure; Much Business on Agenda

"We will have to go easy on every item of expense if we are going to come out on the right side in our accounts at the end of the year," cautioned Trustee Deaville last night when the City School Board was considering expenditures.

Trustee Perry received a shock when it was disclosed that the lowest of six tenders for the construction of a four-room frame building to be erected at Mass Street School, according to plans by J. C. M. Keith, was $3,100. Mr. Perry was of the opinion that about four schools of that size could be built for about $30,000. The contract was awarded to T. M. Matthews.

The suggestion of purchasing seven lots for $3,500 to provide for the erection of a four-room addition to the Oaklands School brought Mrs. Andrews to her feet with the declaration that the lots were not worth more than $50 apiece. Trustee Deaville intimated that "when you wanted a thing badly it was sometimes policy to pay for it."

High Prices. The Building and Grounds Committee had recommended the purchase, but they had also just previously recommended giving a contract to local concerns for brick and boiler work in one of the schools which raised the Board's anger on account of the large prices quoted.

Therefore, when the suggestion was made that the purchase of the seven lots be referred back to the committee Mrs. Andrews remarked: "I think in view of what the Building and Grounds Committee has brought before us to-night that the business had better be done by this Board."

Trustee Perry moved that the addition be built on the present school grounds and Mrs. Andrews promptly seconded the motion. After listening to a forceful argument by Trustee Deaville to the effect that the matter should be referred to the Building and Grounds committee, Mr. Perry remarked that he would amend his motion to suit Mr. Deaville's intentions.

"As a seconder of that motion I refuse to allow you to change it," said Mrs. Andrews.

"I move an amendment that it be referred to the Building and Grounds Committee," said Trustee Deaville, and the amendment was carried.

Holiday Declared.

The Board voted in favor of making Wednesday, September 24, a public school holiday in order that the children might meet the Prince of Wales. The lawn in front of the Parliament Buildings was favored as the most suitable place for the children to gather for whatever exercises are decided upon. F. Westley-Newton, secretary of the Royal Week Committee, addressed the Board on this subject.

It was stated that there were over 5,000 children attending the schools at present and probably 3,000 of these would attend the affair. Failing to secure space on the Government lawn, it was suggested that possibly the children could be massed in front of the new High School sometime in the Thursday of Royal Week, and the Prince asked to address them there.

A minimum fee of $5 will be charged for the night school classes, which will open here October 1, this charge being adopted by the Board on the recommendation of Mr. Binns.

A letter was received from the National Conference on Moral Education in the Schools in Relation to Canadian Citizenship, outlining the programme of the conference which will be held in Winnipeg October 20-22.

Miss M. A. Hearnice Pope was granted leave for the rest of the school term to permit of her taking a special course in Household Economics.

Miscellaneous.

The Y. W. C. A. asked for the use of the High School Gymnasium one evening a week, but the request was refused. Trustee Deaville said that if such a precedent were established it would result in sixty or seventy applications of a similar nature being made.

The Board decided not to send any delegates to the B. C. School Trustees Association's fifteenth annual convention to be held in Vancouver September 16, 17 and 18.

Hon. Dr. MacLean, Minister of Education, wrote to the Board acknowledging receipt of a copy of the City Solicitor's opinion respecting the illegality of the expenditure of public money for the institution or maintenance of a dental clinic in connection with the public schools stated that the matter would receive the careful consideration of the Government.

J. F. Salloway wrote to the Board to say that he had tried to have a fire drill at the Quadra School, but discovered that there was no proper fire alarm system, only a gong on the outside of the school which the teachers could not hear. The matter was referred to the Building Committee.

The offer of a piece of property at 1146 Rockland Avenue for $13,000, to be used as a school for the mentally deficient, was tabled.

HAVE THREE MEN WILLING TO OPPOSE

HON. S. F. TOLMIE

Prominent Leaders Willing to Run as Protest Against Government

A labor candidate is to run in Victoria to oppose the Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie in his bye-election as Minister of Agriculture, it was announced to-day following the meeting of the Federated Labor Party at the Knights of Pythias Hall last night. The candidate is to be nominated at a meeting next Wednesday. Money for the campaign is already flowing in, it was announced.

Last night's meeting was secret, as many matters of a confidential character in connection with the local political situation were dealt with. As soon as the meeting was called to order the newspaper reporters were expelled on the motion of Dan W. Poupard.

Choice of the Labor candidate, it was announced to-day, is to be left to the rank and file, following a big meeting here on Sunday that it is proposed to hold. Three possible candidates will likely be put up, and from these the choice will be made.

These three men who are being considered are: Thomas Barnard, president of the New Westminster branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, who is an energetic leader and a practical thinker as well as a returned soldier; Tom Richardson, of Vancouver, who for eight years was a member of the British House of Commons for Wiltshire, Cumberland; W. E. Pierce, one of the leading radicals of Victoria.

It was announced that Mr. Barnard had telegraphed accepting conditionally the nomination for Victoria, but he wants to come to Victoria and talk over the situation here before finally accepting the nomination.

Some speakers at the meeting were very emphatic over the promising prospects for the election of the Labor candidate, in view of the dissatisfaction they said existed over the failure of the Union Government to combat rising living costs.

It was also reported that practically all the labor organizations in Victoria would be solidly back of the candidate. One organization, it was announced, has already made an advance contribution of $100 to the campaign fund.

These committees were formed: Publicity—W. E. Pearce, Dan Poupard and Mrs. N. Norton. Finance—A. Watchman, Norton, Hill, M. Thomas and Mrs. Hayward. Organization—A. Pike, R. Donachie, E. MacLeod, E. W. Ellis, H. Hudson, W. E. Hodges, F. Graham, J. Eva, F. Curtis and Mrs. Litchfield. Entertainment—Mrs. Bell, convener.

WOULD-BE VOTERS MUST REGISTER

Women's Independent League Reminds Victorians That Voting Lists Cancelled

Called together for the specific purpose of drawing attention to the necessity for would-be voters in the coming Dominion by-election to register next week, the Women's Independent Political League met in the Victoria Club, Campbell Building, last night. In the unavoidable absence of Miss Willis, the president, and the illness of Mrs. Graves, the vice-president, the meeting elected Mrs. Gordon Grant to the chair.

Voting Lists Cancelled

Mrs. Grant explained the object of the meeting. The announcement by the authorities at Ottawa that all existing voting lists had been cancelled meant that no man or woman could vote in the forthcoming by-election without first registering. This registration must be made between September 15 and 20 inclusive at the advertised places of registration. Any man or woman neglecting to register next week will find themselves unable to vote, irrespective of the fact that they may have voted in previous elections.

In an endeavor to bring this matter before the public, the members of the League will conduct a publicity campaign, and a committee was formed for this purpose with Mrs. Gordon Johnston as its convener.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain. How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any of our druggists a few ounces of Blurred Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Blurred Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy light meals with no more fear of indigestion.

To Ex-Servicemen—Comrade J. W. Taylor, late of the First Canadian Pioneers, cordially invites all ex-servicemen to attend a meeting in the large hall, Belmont House, on Friday, September 12, at 8 p. m.

Among the various suggestions for publicity were the distribution of literature and an appeal to the clergy to announce the need for registration from their pulpits, while the committee will also approach local firms for inclusion of a reminder in their advertising space and will ask for a notice to be run on the screens at the local theatres.

At the meeting last night it was decided to postpone the annual meeting of the league until September 26.

It takes 2,300 silkworms to produce 2 lbs. of silk.
