TWO BLIND PIGS.

The young Frenchwoman who was arrested for conducting a blind pig at the Angel Rooms was sentenced this morning to six months' imprisonment with hard labor, the minimum penalty provided by the law.

The defendant in this case was charged under a different act from that which Slavin and McBride were accused of violating. She was convicted of contravening the provincial liquor law, for which there is a severe penalty, while they were arrested for breaking the provincial elections act, for which they could have been punished with a small fine.

The woman has as much right to exemption from punishment as the men who were guilty of running the blind pig on election day; in fact she has more, because not only did the latter break the provincial elections act but they violated the liquor law as well. Yet the accused in that instance were not even tried; they had political pull behind them; they had the machine with them and that was sufficient.

U. S. AND GERMANY.

The belligerents of the entente group will contemplate the prospect of a war between the United States and Germany with mixed feelings. While undoubtedly the moral effect of such a development upon present European neutrals would be great and it would place at the disposal of the allies the colossal financial resources of the republic, thereby enormously relieving Great Britain and France, there would be grave disadvantages which would outweigh even those important considerations.

THE SPOILS SYSTEM.

The evidence given before the Public Accounts Committee yesterday in connection with the new wing of the parliament building throws much light upon the system under which public contracts have been awarded in this province for the last ten or twelve years. It also explains why the recent addition cost the taxpayers of British Columbia several hundred thousand dollars more than the main building.

The reason given by the Minister of Public Works for his refusal to consider the figure of the Sound Construction Company was that this was an American firm, but we note that the Hon. Thos. Taylor's patriotic zeal did not prevent that company receiving the contract for the new provincial jail. Moreover, we recall that it was the same Mr. Taylor who engaged Colonel Thompson, of Seattle, to superintend the Strathcona Park work at a salary of $15,000 to the exclusion of British Columbia engineers.

The evidence showed the slimy trail of the patronage committee all through the contract. The contractor was compelled to give sub-contracts to people whose chief claim was the inclusion of their names on the patronage list and not the reasonableness of their tender for their superior capacity for doing the work. As might have been suspected, Mr. Price was particularly diligent in this direction; a million dollar contract was bound to be regarded as a veritable Eldorado by "the boys." Sub-contracts were awarded to party friends, in some cases where their figures were more than a third higher than the lowest tenders, while the contract for the excavation was given at a figure 200 times as large as one firm offered to do it for.

THE WOMEN'S FRANCHISE PROPOSAL.

The Premier intends to take no chances. Although he professes to believe that the tide of public sentiment has miraculously turned in his favor since his two ministerial candidates were overwhelmed in Victoria and Vancouver, he feels he must "omit no word or act," to quote President Wilson's historic phrase, that might help to coax it along. His view of that tide is that it is as timorous as a canary bird and would dash away if he made the slightest false step.

him only as far as a referendum, concerning which, however, he does not say how he will cast his own individual vote. So much for Mr. Bowser's change of heart.

As a matter of fact, the Premier's reference to what women have done in the war was merely a pretext for a filmsy evasion of the issue. It was coupled with a request that Mr. Place withdraw his bill. But why should a bill which provides for the extension of the franchise to women be withdrawn in favor of a referendum in the determination of which women would have no voice? Why should a sure thing be abandoned for a palpable evasion? Mr. Bowser's motive is as plain as daylight.

The Kaiser has retreated into the solitude of his palace at Potsdam to ponder over the situation. It is a situation that will bear a good deal of solitary consideration. There is a new complexion on it since the days when his satanic majesty was exchanging congratulations with his "illustrious allies" upon "victory after victory," and thanking the ancient "God of Germany" for them.

We are told that Premier Bowser has the refusal of a seat upon the bench of the British Columbia Court of Appeals. Wonder what the present occupants of the bench of this important court think of the honor that possibly might be forced upon them. If the Times were a judge of the court it would take no chances but promptly nail down its cushion.

The big papers of the United States are all preparing to line up behind Roosevelt as the choice of the Republican party for president. This fact doubtless accounts to some extent for the stiffening that is noticeable in the spine of President Wilson.

At least this can be said of President Wilson in his conduct of negotiations with the assassins of Berlin: in him the quality of patience has not been strained.

"Pigs is not always pigs," at least not when they happen to be "blind pigs." For further information consider two notable cases recently tried in our local police court.

Mr. Bowser's announcement of a referendum for the subject of a women's franchise must have given our contemporary quite a turn. Its views on the question are notorious.

The Premier says the political tide has turned. The Colonist says it saw and marked the turn. It was the worn they saw turning.

We formally announce our withdrawal from the seat of the sceptic. The crisis at Washington, for the present at least, is the real thing.

DOMINION PROFITEERING, LIMITED.

The member for Morrisburg, Hon. Andrew Broder, is probably the member of parliament most nearly representative of public opinion in Canada regarding the government's policy of promoting and defending war profiteering. Mr. Broder is an old-time Conservative. He does not pretend to any of the subtle oratory or sophistry of the corporation lawyers and apologists around him. But he has something more real and enduring and more precious to the new Canada, if Canada is to survive as a nation; he has principle.

ARRIVES FROM SCENE OF MEXICAN TROUBLE

Lumberman From El Paso, Now In Victoria, Describes Conditions

SAYS PUNITIVE FORCE HEAVILY HANDICAPPED

Opinion on Mexican Border Inclines to View That Villa Will Escape

Coming straight from the Rio Grande, where the eyes of thousands of people across the line are turned today, J. E. Paddock, of El Paso, Texas, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon on a pleasure visit, though he will spend some time in dealing with some lumber business in which he has an interest.

"My company, the Mexican North-Western Railway," he said, "is one of those which the American government desires to use for the transportation of supplies from Juarez, across the border from El Paso, to General Pershing's punitive force now in the mountains of the neighboring state. The railway runs to the city of Chihuahua, about 480 miles away in the form of a rough crescent, directed to give access to our timber limits in the mountains of the Sierra Madre range, and thence back to the capital city of the state.

"The line is still open without obstruction to Pearson, in the foothills of the mountains, that town being about 5,000 feet above sea level. From there southward to Chihuahua the line runs in the mountains, and between Pearson and Madera is the section where so much damage has been done by the various revolutions. Some of our tunnels have been destroyed. In one case a passenger train being wrecked in a trap of the revolutionists and every person killed.

"In the last four years on the route of the Mexican North Western 1,600 bridges have had to be rebuilt which have been wrecked by the revolutionists. The rolling stock has been damaged, and the rails displaced. In fact, much of the track is out of operation south of Pearson, and particularly in the Sierras.

Company of four and deals with some of the third degree methods and abuses of prison life. "Number 2634 and the Warden" is the title of this sense playlet which gives Miss Vickroy and the supporting members of her little company a chance to present some excellent emotional work.
Miss Vickroy has a congenial role as the pert daughter of the convict. Elmer H. Fröhling, who gives a most realistic portrayal of the tortured convict, has some telling lines and makes the most of several rather lengthy speeches. Will Craig plays the cruel warden who becomes converted by the convict's eloquent appeal, and Miss Vane Calvert makes the most of a minor role as the warden's housekeeper. There is a lot of sound logic and timely lines in this playlet which the capable company puts over with a punch. "The Collegian and the Girl," is the way Bitter and Well bill their collection of nifty nonsense and sprightly dancing. Both can sing in very pleasing style, and render some of the very latest song hits. But it is in the terpsichorean line that they shine brightest, and the buck and wing dancing of the male member of the team made an especial hit. The Lockhart Sisters have a very varied offering that includes vocal and instrumental selections, while one of the duo whistles and trills in a manner that would make the average small boy ashamed of himself. Charles Hasty, "the Hoosier Boy," who radiates humor from his rotund person, contributes much of the comedy part of the bill. He warbles a fine line of up-to-date parodies and his line of patter is also in keeping with the merry nature of his act. The motion picture part of the programme also runs strongly to comedy this week. The ever-popular Pathé's Gazette shows some of the latest war views. Tonight at 7.30 and 9 o'clock the regular Country Stores will be held.

Several New Bills Introduced
In the House Without Progress on Those Now Down

Legislative Press Gallery,
April 13.

Little work was done to-day on the bills which the government has on the order paper, but on the contrary others were brought down, these being of a departmental and technical nature in the amendments proposed in the acts affected.

In addition to the debate on the women's franchise bill, reported in another column, R. M. Eooley's bill to enable trustees who are on active service to appoint someone in their place during their absence was put through committee. Several amendments were made by the member for Esquimalt to the measure, in the addition of new clauses.

Record of Importations.
Mr. Williams, moving the second reading of his bill to secure a record of all importations of workmen, said its purpose was evident on its face. The bulk of the population of British Columbia were wage-earners. One of the most perishable types of commodity was labor, and the workman was at the mercy not only of economic and industrial conditions which might have had their origin in some far-off country, but to the whims of employers and the manipulations of company promoters. There had been cases where men were brought in from outside on the plea of a shortage of labor and after a few months they were dumped on the charity of the province. At present influences were being brought to bear on the government to allow the use of the aliens in internment camps.

The bill would check the employer recklessly bringing in labor from outside or trying to depress the labor market. It would also put a check on the employment agencies, most of which seemed to be run by men who were a species of moral degenerates. It put into force the bill which compels an employer who wished to bring in alien labor to advertise for a month in the British Columbia Gazette the reasons why, and he would have to get a certificate from the provincial secretary before he could bring them in.

Raised Point of Order.
The premier raised the point of order that in proposing to deal with immigration the bill was ultra vires of the legislature, and this was taken under consideration by the speaker.
The minister of lands introduced bills amending the Companies Act, the Companies Clauses Act, and the Bills of Sale Act. The first deals chiefly with the registration of mortgages and charges by registered companies, adding several new sections to the act, which will become operative on June 1. The amendment to the Companies Clauses Act is made to apply those new provisions to all companies. In the third bill it is provided that no mortgage or charge created by a body corporate, contained in a trust deed, bonds, debentures or debenture stock may be registered under the Bills of Sale Act.

The premier brought down a bill to amend the Moving Pictures Act, taking away from the municipalities the right to examine and license operators and apprentice operators, and places this in the hands of a board of examiners to be appointed.

University Act.
The minister of education and provincial secretary had a bill to amend the U. C. University Act. The first section of this extends the exemption from all taxation, provincial, municipal or school, now enjoyed by all real and personal property being actually occupied or used by the university in the conduct of any part of its educational system to all the property vested in it. Section 46, dealing with the affiliation of theological colleges, is amended so as to make it clear that any incorporated theological college in the province may be affiliated with the university.

A further delay of three years in the selection and reservation of the university land endowment is provided for. In the original endowment act the selector had to be made within six years from April 25, 1907. This was increased to nine years in 1912 and is now increased to twelve years from the date named.

The last section is innocent in its nature so far as the surface goes, but would appear to have a far-reaching effect upon the future of the university, at any rate the immediate future. It re-enacts the section regarding the revenue derived from the sale or disposition of these lands, and says that it shall be devoted to the maintenance by the university of such faculties as may be constituted from time to time.

The section which is repealed and re-enacted directed that this revenue should be devoted to the maintenance of a faculty of arts and science, a faculty of medicine, a faculty of law and a faculty of applied science. It will thus be seen that up to the present the university was obliged by statute to maintain these faculties. The result of the amendment will apparently be that there will be but a crippled institution for many a year as a result of the government's mishandling of the whole business, and that as it is impossible to organize the faculties required by the act the requirement is being legislated out of existence.

To Examine Teachers.—The following principals, teachers and officials of the education department have been gazetted as a board of examiners at the examination of public school teachers for the year 1916: W. K. Beech, Thomas A. Brough, William Burns, John T. Dunning, P. H. Elliott, John S. Gordon, H. P. Hope, David C. Little, S. W. Matthews, D. L. McLaurin, Edward B. Paul, Albert Sullivan, S. J. Willis, David Wilson.

OUR LETTER BOX

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION, ETC.

To the Editor:—As one of the many who have waited patiently to get a fuller view of the much-discussed Compensation act, I should like to say whatever good there may be in the act for the working class, it should be immediately lost to the mind's eye of all honest electors. Is it not more Bowserism, a herring across the trail to retain power at next election and to find three fat jobs for some party hangers and secure jobs at that for a term of years, making it impossible to get at any such cases as the Hamilton or Allison cases? Oh, how much longer and how many more setbacks have the citizens of the province to bump up against before they take a tumble? Where can we find bona fide business men to-day who are making anything like the salaries it is proposed to pay the members of this board, viz., chairman, $5,000; two members, $4,000, and not a nickel invested, with eight, nine and ten year terms?

In conclusion to my friend the workman: Shut your eye, brother, to the bouquet Bowser offers you. Watch his hand, which spends $15,000 per year and office expenses on his party friends, $15,000 on Sir Richard per year, $5,000 on Mr. Turner per year and keeps an incompetent auditor and an inspector who thinks he does right to make a little $2,000 on the side.
DISGUSTED CONSERVATIVE,

THE UNEARNED DECUMENT.

To the Editor:—People are weary of hearing about the unearned increment. I am going to direct their attention for a moment or two to the unearned decument. And to give what I shall call a practical turn I will cite a concrete case. When I came here, seven years ago, the tax we paid on all our properties in the city was somewhat less than $1,000. It continued about the same for the following two years. But last year and the year before the tax on the cathedral site alone amounted to about three times that sum. What have we done to deserve the laying upon us of this added burden—a burden that has now become too heavy to be borne? Absolutely nothing. We have simply stayed where we were, and have continued to do the Father's business at the old stand, where we have done it these 29 years and more. Meanwhile the decrease in net revenue, owing to increase of taxation, has reached such a pass that we can no longer come within measurable distance of making ends meet. This is what I call unearned decument. And ours is but one instance out of many. There are others in the same case, notably the Presbyterians, Methodists, Congregationalists and the Church of England.

A word in conclusion. It is well known that Orangemen and Baptists have votes, and are prepared to cast a solid vote on occasion. It is not so well known, or at any rate not so clearly realized, that others, too, have votes and will use them to secure the immunity of Christian worship from unjust and oppressive taxation.
ALEXANDER MACDONALD,
Bishop of Victoria,

COMPENSATION.

To the Editor:—In spite of all the facts which have been so clearly stated and which in no instance have been successfully denied regarding the supposed claims of the liquor dealers for compensation, the same time-worn arguments are advanced, with the feeble hope that an intelligent public will be misled by them.

We are asked to look at Britain and her method of compensating the traffic. Where is the comparison? Viewing the question from a purely legal standpoint, we will consider a few things. 1st—In Britain the premises are licensed. In Canada, the person, 2nd—In Britain the licenses are renewable during good behavior; in Canada, licenses have been, and are being, discontinued at the end of a twelve month. 3rd—In Britain license-holders are taxed to provide compensation for those who may be deprived of a license; in Canada the law makes no such requirements. Even from the few facts here mentioned it will be plainly seen that conditions in Britain and Canada are entirely different.

There is another side of the question which seems to be ignored by the liquor friends, namely, that a large proportion of the population are already under a form of prohibition. For instance, it is illegal to sell liquor to a minor, any person under 21 years of age; women, whom it is conceded form the greater part of the population, are prohibited from entering a bar and we also find that all but a very small number of persons are prohibited from engaging in the business of selling the stuff. Whoever heard of any of those persons, whose freedom is so restricted, claiming for compensation because they were under prohibition?

It has also been urged by some that millions of British capital have been invested in the liquor business of British Columbia, and the investors are entitled to compensation should prohibition carry. Any person who has used his influence to get British capital invested in the liquor business of British Columbia during the last six years may well be held responsible by said investors for misrepresenting the situation here, for since the year 1910 the law of British Columbia has read as follows with respect to wholesale licenses, paragraph 17, Liquor License Act: "Every wholesale liquor license shall be issued for the period ending on the 31st day of December from the date of issuance then next ensuing, and may be renewed from year to year on payment of the annual license fee for the time being by act of the legislature prescribed; but no licensee shall have any right to demand or receive a renewal of his license as matter of legal claim or vested right, and the business of importing, exporting, rectifying and vending liquor by wholesale is hereby expressly declared to be permitted to be carried on subject always to the intended excuse of further and other restrictions and regulations than those contained and set forth in this act, or to suppression or prohibition, and to other or increased fees, as the case may be.—1910, c. 30, s. 24.

No explanation of these clauses need be made, as it is quite evident that the government of six years ago anticipated the proposed prohibition measure and thereby gave ample warning to the liquor dealers that they would have no claim to compensation.
JANET B. McEWAN,

THE VETERANS' CLUB.
To the Editor:—In the London Telegrams of April 7 we learn that a successful entertainment has been given at the Lyric theatre to help the funds of the Maple Leaf Club for Canadian soldiers on furlough or wounded men from the convalescent homes. Various royalties and Sir George and Lady Perley were present, and a sum of $1,375 was realized for this club, which is said to be chiefly maintained by individual Canadians. Since it is a certainty that a great number of those soldiers now members of the Maple Leaf Club will eventually return to Victoria, the executive committee of the Veterans' Club of British Columbia is writing to extend the privileges of membership of that institution to those so returning, many of whom will be in need of a home for a longer or shorter period, as also those soldiers returning or already returned direct to Victoria from the front. This home is likely to be all the more necessary from the fact that the proposed government scheme for putting returned soldiers on the land cannot become operative for a year or eighteen months, at least, so Dr. Young recently informed the Returned Soldiers' Employment Committee, which waited on him in a body to inquire the government's intentions concerning the men who have done their bit. As Dr. Young at the same time informed the committee that no help could be expected from the government towards the establishment of soldiers' club, as recommended by the Blue Book, it is evidently to private endeavor alone that the returned soldiers or sailor must look for help in the matter, both now and in the future.
The executive committee of the Veterans' Club of British Columbia has already found some, both among private individuals and patriotic public bodies, such as the Legion of Frontiersmen and the Women's Canadian Club, to recognize the fact that the wounded soldier after his return is as worthy of attention and aid as when the Red Cross first helped him in the field. To those many others, however, who have not yet realized that important fact, it is now sought to bring it to their notice, and their help is solicited to build up a club which shall be worthy of Victoria and serve as a memorial to all those British Columbian soldiers who have fallen in the war. All cheques can be made payable to the executive committee, Veterans' Club, A. C. F. HAGGARD, Lieut.-Col., Chairman, SEYMOUR ROWLINSON, Major, Vice-Chairman, 1208 Langley street, Victoria, April 13, 1916.

PITCHING MAIN FACTOR IN BIG LEAGUE RACES

Good Twirling Might Win Pennant for Browns; Dodgers Rank First in National

Other things being fairly equal, it is the club that is strongest in the box that wins pennants, and it is interesting to consider the major league race from that viewpoint. The great struggle is now in progress—there will be no great change in the pitching staffs of the various clubs, due to the acquisition of Federal or minor league talent. With a few brilliant exceptions, the Gilmore circuit twirlers did not show any great class, and the recruit crop this year does not promise anything sensational. Of course, the Mathewsons, Johnsons and Alexanders of the future may be developed this summer, but at the moment of rushing to press they are not visible to the nude eye.

In the American League, the pitching honors seem to belong to past years to the Red Sox. On a paper judgment the world's champions seem to have a considerable margin over the best of their competitors. The Griffith hurling staff, headed by the great Johnson, might be chosen as standing second to the Sox. Rowland's White Sox team forms formidable in other departments than in pitching, and the same is true of the Yankees. With an air-tight defense their pitchers may be classy enough to give the Red Sox a bitter struggle. Great as is the Washington club in the twirling department, it does not look like a pennant possibility. If old Gettysburg Plank can do as well in the American as he did with the Feds, and Davenport and Wellman live up to the expectations, the humble Browns are very likely to lose their taste for humble pie and aspire to pennant cake. The Yankees, Athletics and Clevelanders don't look dangerous in the pitching departments when viewed from the front elevation of the season. Conley's youthful slabsters look promising, but there is little likelihood that the redemption of the promises will occur in 1916.

The National League, now in full away, the one best bet in the pitching department seems to be Brooklyn. There are a lot more "ifs" connected with the Twirlers than how appear in the American League, however. The pitching strength of a majority of the clubs seems very problematical. Dell, Pfeiffer, Rucker, Smith, Coombs, Malla, Colwell, Marquard and Cheney look like a very nice stable for Uncle Wilbert. Marquard, of course, is a perambulating interrogation point, and Cheney and Coombs are also in the "if" class. If Robble's veterans come across with the goods—the triumphant song of the Robins is going to be heard in the land. The Braves have a large "if" in Bill James. If the big California should succeed in getting rid of the kink in his shoulder, Stallings would have a pitching staff almost invincible. Pat Moran's prospects in the pitching division are all sickled over with doubts and misgivings. Alexander was the big noise in winning last year's flag for the Phillies, and if he is as good this year as last all may be well along the Delaware. Without the best services of Grover the Great, it is difficult to see where the Phils will have a chance to repeat. Joe Timmer's outfit includes several good pitchers, but no star of the first magnitude. The Cubs have Vaughn, Pierce, Lavender and Hendrix, McConnell, Seaton and other Feds on their pitching staff. The Giants can put little dependence on their old standby, Christie Mathewson, and will have to depend on Benton, Teece, Peritt, Stroud and Anderson. The Reds look to be considerably improved in pitching, and Callahan has four good men in Maman, Harmon, Adams and Kautleber. The Cardinals will depend on the old staff, which measures up pretty well.

ROSE TWIRLED GREAT BALL AGAINST B. & S.

Seattle, April 14.—Bill Rose pitched a grand game of ball against the Battersby & Smith team yesterday afternoon at Athletic park, striking out eleven and driving over the winning run. In the final gasp his teammates helped him out with a couple more tallies, but they were not needed. Score, Seattle 4, Battersby & Smith 1. With Rose mowing down the enemy at wholesale rates and the last edition showing a 4 to 1 finish, the casual reader would imagine that Seattle did not have much trouble winning the conflict. Those who were at the park have a very definite idea of how Tealey Raymond's young men had to hustle to keep the B. & S. boys from beating them, which would have made the record stand two consecutive years of humiliation for the professionals. R. H. E. Battersby—Rose and Cadman; Rylander and McJanet.

JACKSON LINE UP.

The Sir John Jackson football team will take the field to-morrow for their game with the 103rd Battalion at Central park as follows: Goal, Lomas; backs, Tunncliffe and Taylor; halves, Rennie, Green and Allen; forwards, E. The game was advertised for the Royal Athletic park, but was transferred to the Central park.

WEST SELECTION.

The following team will represent Victoria West for their game with the C. A. S. C. at Beacon Hill to-morrow: Goal, Robertson; backs, Whyte and Jackson; halves, Shakespeare, Pettifer and Church; forwards, McLeod, Heyland, Sounson, Mair and Sherritt.

VIRTUE CUP CRICKET SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Seven Teams Entered in Competition; Opening Fixtures May 6

Last evening the complete schedule of games for the John Virtue Cricket Cup competition was adopted. Seven clubs are entered in the series, which is a very creditable number considering the fact that so many cricketers have joined the colors. May 6 is the date set for the opening fixtures, while the final game of the competition will be held on August 26. Two dates, July 1 and August 5, have been left open, the local association being hopeful of arranging inter-city matches with the Mainland League team for those dates, while the local association are now endeavoring to arrange a post-season series between the local cup winners and the champions of the Mainland League. Owing to the scarcity of grounds in which to stage the matches, the Navy has kindly offered its grounds to the association for cup games. It was the intention of the 88th Battalion to enter the Virtue cup competition, but as they have orders to stand by, they expect to leave shortly for the front, they did not wish to be called away when the schedule was half over, as they figured this would be injurious to the league. The following is the complete schedule of games: Five C's Club. May 6, bye; May 13, Home vs. Victoria; May 20, Army vs. Civil Service;

TWO SOLDIER TEAMS IN WINNIPEG LEAGUE

Winnipeg, April 14.—A three-team lacrosse league is now being talked about by the lacrosse followers of the city. The sportsmen's company of the 184th, the 101st and a city team will likely figure in the proposed series, which will be run by the Manitoba Lacrosse Association, with games in Winnipeg and Camp Sewell. A meeting will be held at an early date to talk this matter over, so as to have everything in shape for the annual meeting of the Winnipeg Lacrosse Association, which will be held on Good Friday. If Ossie Graham, Dad Harding and Sandy Sinclair can bury the hatchet this summer they will get together and form one tip-top senior aggregation to represent the city against the militia lacrosse stars. Leo Mair, who has enlisted with the 184th Battalion, lined up a number of good players while on a recruiting campaign in southern Manitoba this week, and A. L. Jans is after a number of the boys who played in Winnipeg with the Elgin team last summer in the patriotic tournament.

MEETING POSTPONED.

New Westminster, April 12.—The scheduled meeting of the Senior Amateur Lacrosse club of this city, which was to have been held last evening, was postponed for one week.

LOTTERY MEN MUST BE CAUGHT REDHANDED

Finding of Paraphernalia in Chinese Case No Proof of Operation

Apparently from an interpretation given by Magistrate Jay of the code, no charge can be proved against a Chinese lottery unless the operators are caught in the act.

He found, in his judgment delivered in court this morning in the Yang case that the discovery of articles used in a lottery, such as ink and unused lottery tickets, ink and brushes for marking them, and a card showing when the lotteries would be drawn, were not prima facie evidence of a lottery, and that a conviction could not be entered. He therefore discharged the prisoner.

His honor pointed out that "there was no evidence of a lottery being carried on" and while the code gave power to confiscate the paraphernalia, he thought it required amendment in the respect mentioned.

Mr. Moresby, for the prisoner, appealed to have the paraphernalia returned on the ground that it might be used for a lawful purpose, and that the court had discretion to allow that course.

The magistrate, however, ordered the material to be confiscated, under section 641.

TOURISTS COMING

Big Automobile Travel Expected West This Year: Victoria is Put on Route Map.

That Victoria this summer will have the biggest tourist travel from automobile people ever known here is the opinion of Charles L. Harris, secretary of the Island Automobile Association, who has just returned from Seattle where he attended the annual automobile show. It was said there, he states, that this will be the heaviest year for automobile travel west, and that visiting automobile men from the east were speaking of Victoria as one of the well advertised tourist places on the coast.

That there will be many tourists in from the northwest, Mr. Harris says, is certain. He was asked repeatedly about Victoria and the surroundings by visitors to the show from the northwest towns.

COMMITTED FOR DEBT

Offered Lot-Back and Paid Money to His Relatives After Judgment Had Been Signed.

In the county court this morning Judge Lampman committed Harry Kelway, a window cleaner, to jail for fifteen days because he had not paid a judgment signed against him in favor of Herbert M. Fullerton, but had paid away money which he had at the time of the judgment to relatives. The suit was originally brought by Mr. Fullerton to recover money due on the purchase of real estate. The defendant had paid about $500, and when other payments became due announced that he would not pay them, and that the plaintiff could have the lot. He was sued for arrears and judgment given.

When payment of the judgment was not made Kelway was proceeded against as a judgment debtor, and was called on to show cause why he should not be committed. He appeared more than once before Judge Lampman, and was examined by H. C. Hall on each occasion. He admitted having had $200 at the time judgment was given, and then had paid some of it to his mother for household bills, and had given $100 to his brother.

He informed the court that charity begins at home, and that plaintiff could have the lot back. His honor replied that he owned real estate which he would like the former owner to take back, but the former owner apparently did not want it, or he would not have sold it. The same applied to Kelway's case, said his honor, and he felt that as the brother was over twenty-one years and was not an invalid, there had been no reason why the debtor should not have applied some of his money to the payment of the debt.

Mr. Hall said the court order for commitment would lie for seven days, in which time the debtor might want to avoid going to jail by making arrangements to pay.

"GO-TO-CHURCH SUNDAY"

Special Services in Methodist Churches to Be Held on Sunday, May 7.

At a recent meeting of the ministers of the Methodist church in Victoria district it was decided to make special efforts to have all members and adherents of the church in attendance at the services on Sunday, May 7, this day to be known as "Go-to-Church Sunday." An advertising committee has been appointed and arrangements made to secure a record attendance in all the churches in the district. Members and adherents of the Victoria district churches total 6,000. The figures for the Sunday schools are 1,000. There are 29 preaching appointments, and last year $55,748 was raised for all purposes, nearly $4,000 being applied to missionary work.

There is no desire on the part of the ministers to advertise their own branch of the great Christian church unduly, as they appreciate the good fellowship which exists among the clergy and congregations generally, but they do desire to arouse in their own people, particularly at the present time, the need of a deeper spiritual sense and a more intelligent estimate of the value of religion. At the meeting referred to very general regret was expressed at the expiration of Dr. C. T. Scott's ministry at the Metropolitan church. Dr. Scott is chairman of the district and is held in the highest respect and esteem by his colleagues.

According to announcement made from London, Rev. Capt. Robertson of British Columbia, has left England to join the first division as chaplain.

PRAIRIE LABORERS

No Organized Movement From Victoria Yet; Mr. Fitzpatrick Expected to Return.

It is improbable that there will be any organized movement of men from here to the Saskatchewan prairies, but the men who have certificates will move as opportunity offers between this date and May 15. Parties already have left Vancouver for some points, but as the eastern section of the province has not opened up yet on account of the late season, only a limited number are encouraged to move. Mr. Fitzpatrick is expected to be here again in a day or two to issue certificates on behalf of the department of agriculture, although the superintendent of the labor bureau states that he has received no intimation on the subject this week, but has been unable to give any definite assurance when additional certificates can be issued.

The commissioner will remain on the coast till April 22.
