Paris Newspapers Say Other Allied Delegates Will

Herron For the United States

Paris, Feb. 8.—The following delegates of the Allied Powers have been appointed to confer on Princes' Island with delegates of the Bolshevik Government, according to French newspapers: Sir Robert Borden, Prime Minister of Canada, and a military delegate, for the British; M. Conty, the French Minister to Denmark, and General Rempon, for France; Marquis Della Torretta, former Ambassador at Petrograd, for Italy, and William Allen White and Professor George Davis Herron, for the United States.

Nicholas Tchaikovsky, President of the Provisional Government of North Russia, arrived in Paris to-day to confer with the delegates to the Peace Conference regarding the future of his country. He spent the day in conference with delegates. M. Tchaikovsky is the only head of any Russian Government now in Paris.

SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE IN LONDON IS REPORTED NEAR

London, Feb. 8.—Apparently the announcement made by the Board of Trade shortly after midnight that a settlement had been reached with the labor union executives and that railway service would be resumed as soon as possible was premature. According to a statement made by the strikers' committee at noon to-day, both sides were very near a settlement early this morning but in further discussions drifted apart again.

The negotiations are continuing and the differences have so narrowed down that the members of the strike committee express the opinion that a settlement will be reached before evening.

Scenes similar to those of the past days were witnessed in London and the suburbs to-day, although hundreds of motor lorries hired by the War Office greatly relieved the situation. In many cases the usual Saturday half-holiday was turned into a full day of rest from business.

Settlement Was Announced.
London, Feb. 8.—Sir Albert Stanley, President of the Board of Trade, announced at 2.30 o'clock this morning that an arrangement with union executives had been reached and that railway service would be resumed as soon as possible. This announcement followed a conference in which Sir Albert, Sir Edward Short, Secretary for Home Affairs, and other Government officials discussed the situation with the executive of the National Union of Railwaymen and representatives of the managements of the underground railways. The conference lasted through the whole evening.

Acting Secretary Hudson, of the union, subsequently declared that he was satisfied with the agreement reached. He said that accredited representatives would be appointed by the union to care for the physical needs of the men pending arrangements which would be made in preparation for the establishment of an eight-hour day. He said he expected that the trains would be running normally at noon to-day.

PLAN TO REGISTER MANITOBA ALIENS

Premier Announces Commission Will Start Work in Province Monday

Winnipeg, Feb. 8.—Official announcement of the commission which will conduct a registration of aliens of enemy nationality in Manitoba was made in the Legislature yesterday afternoon by Premier Norris, who stated that Judge R. H. Myers, of the County Court, had accepted the position of chairman. The commission, which will start work on Monday, will include two other members, one selected by the returned soldiers and the other by the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council. A. E. Moore having been named as the returned soldiers' representative. The representative of labor is expected to be selected by the council at its meeting on Tuesday night.

On the question of demobilization of farmers and farmers' sons, Premier Norris said that he had made representations to the Dominion Government, and the War Department, and he confidently expected an early return of these soldiers to civilian life.

REPORT FOR FIRST NINE MONTHS GOOD; THE HON. JOHN HART

Legislative Press Gallery,
February 7.

HON. JOHN HART NOW MILLION DOLLARS UP

Comptroller-General's Report Shows Surplus for Nine Months of $1,019,000

Somewhat of a sensation was created in the House this afternoon when the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, tabled the Comptroller-General's report for the first nine months of the fiscal year showing a surplus of $1,019,294.99 for the period mentioned. This is the first time any Minister of Finance in the province of British Columbia has had the satisfaction of bringing to the Legislature such satisfactory tidings since the year 1910-1911.

The estimated total revenue for the current year was set at $2,900,655.13 and the actual revenue for the nine months ending December 31 last reached the total of $2,242,295.44, showing the actual difference for the lesser period between the estimated figures for the year at $657,259.69. The total estimated expenditure for the year was set at $1,161,694.08, whereas the actual outlay for the nine months ending December 31 last has reached only $522,091.35, or a difference, for the lesser period, between the year's estimated figure of $3,388,692.73.

Healthy Prospects.
It will be patent from the above figures that the estimated deficit of $1,711,638.95 covering current and capital accounts for the present fiscal year has already been translated during the first nine months of the period into a surplus of $1,019,294.99. The Hon. Mr. Hart observed this morning that his hopes are running high in anticipation of a surplus at the end of the fiscal year. At any rate, should it develop, through circumstances which no Finance Minister is in a position to forecast, that a deficit is unavoidable, its size will be exceedingly small.

Best Answer to Critic.
It was a useful coincidence that Mr. Hart should have chosen the close of this afternoon's sitting for the presentation of the Comptroller-General's report, as his Department and himself in particular had been the butt of the Prince George member's mirthful satire a few minutes prior to the tabling of the document.

Despite Mr. Ross's belief in the alleged concern of the Premier over the Department of Finance and its Minister, the Hon. Mr. Hart was happily in the position to give the honorable member a prompt and excellent account of his stewardship and disposition of the Cabinet.

The figures already quoted above bear mute testimony to the efficient manner in which the Victoria member has husbanded the finances of the Province during the nine months under review, knowing as he does the heavy demands that will soon be made on the Treasury.

PROHIBITION PLAN IN STATES MAY BRING ON STRIKES

New York, Feb. 8.—The Central Federation Union, representing 300,000 New York laboring men, decided unanimously last night to submit to the affiliated unions the question of whether or not they shall strike in opposition to nation-wide prohibition.

Toronto, Feb. 8.—"I do not believe wages will ever return to their pre-war level in Canada or elsewhere," said Sir John Willison in the course of an address to the Toronto Women's Canadian Club last evening on "The New Era in the Business World."

Sir John said the country was on the eve of better conditions.

CONSPIRACY CHARGE

Montreal, Feb. 8.—Arthur Eremont, ex-M.P. and a notary, charged with conspiracy to rob Michael Connolly, a contractor, of $25,000 under an alleged gambling scheme, must face his accuser in the courts of Montreal.

Judge Cousen yesterday dismissed the contention of the defence that the courts of Canada had no jurisdiction.

CITY JITNEY SERVICE IN SEATTLE AND TROOPS AND POLICEMEN KEEPING ORDER

Seattle, Feb. 8.—The starting of a city automobile "jitney" service, with plans to extend it; operation of cars on all the city-owned lines and a threat made by Mayor Ole Hanson to run cars over the lines of private companies unless they should attempt to resume operations, and a more general attempt by restaurant owners and others to resume normal business marked the beginning of the third day of Seattle's general strike, in which 55,000 workers of all crafts are idle.

The general strike began in a strike of 25,000 metal trades workers in local shipyards and contract shops, who demanded higher wages. A sympathetic strike affecting approximately 30,000 union men then was called.

Up to 10 a. m. to-day virtually no case of strike disorder had been reported to the police during the entire day. The city's streets present the usual appearance, however, of being guarded by some 600 soldiers in uniform wearing special police stars, and by more than 400 regular policemen, large number of whom are equipped with carbines. The general conference committee continues to keep its own men on police duty, with the announced intention of co-operating with the regular authorities.

Ordered by Mayor.
The "jitney" service was inaugurated to-day to break the strike in compliance with the Mayor's ultimatum that the strikers would have to call off their sympathetic strike at 8 o'clock this morning or he would operate all essential industries.

Mayor Hanson, who gave out the statement that the "jitney" service had been started, said plans were under way to extend it. He said cars on all city lines were operating and that unless the private car companies should be ordered to run over the private lines "with or without their consent."

"I furthermore," Mayor Hanson said, "have ordered all union exemption signs on trucks and cars of any kind torn off. We're going to operate without the consent of any labor union."

BRICKLAYERS IN STATES TO STRIKE

New York, Feb. 8.—All the union bricklayers and lodging engineers employed in various cities throughout the country on contracts held by members of the Building Trades Employers' Association of this city will be called out on a sympathetic strike Monday morning in an attempt to enforce the demands of carpenters employed by the association for a dollar a day increase in wages.

W. L. Hutchison, President of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, announced shortly after noon to-day.

GERMANS CONSIDER FORM OF CABINET

National Assembly Delegates Debate Size and Composition of Ministry

Weimar, Germany, Feb. 7.—Via London, Feb. 8.—The composition of the Cabinet appears to be the principal problem commanding the attention of the German National Assembly meeting here. The original proposition was to form a Ministry of fifteen members, seven of whom should be Majority Socialists, four Centrists and four Democrats. The Majority Socialists, however, are now understood to be contending that they should be certain of a majority which the Independent Socialists could not disturb by any political movement. Participation of the Centrists in the formation of the Cabinet was assured by the action taken at their meeting yesterday, when they decided to work with the new Government.

The constitution was again discussed at a meeting attended by representatives of the various German states to-day at which Dr. Hartmann, the Austrian Minister to Germany, was present.

"Imperial" Ministers.
The title of each of the new Ministers probably will be "Imperial Minister," instead of "State Secretary." Several of these will be without portfolios, even though additional portfolios be created.

The Finance Ministry will be divided into two departments, one for special technical details and to deal with loans, and the other to be the Department of the Imperial Treasurer for the administration of socialized public works. It is possible that a Labor Ministry will be created. An Economic Ministry is to be formed, in addition to the reformation of the Imperial Treasury Department.

BOLSHEVIK AGENTS BEING DEPORTED FROM BRITAIN

London, Feb. 8.—The Government is quietly arresting and deporting "undesirable" aliens who are believed to be Bolshevik propagandists in Great Britain, according to The Daily Sketch, which says that several recently were sent out of the country, including one Soernus, a Russian violinist who had been touring South Wales and who is alleged to have been interspersing his recitals with Bolshevik propaganda work. He is a son of a wealthy Russian landowner.

Constantinople, Feb. 6.—The Turkish Government has arrested about forty members of the Party of Union and Progress who are charged with plotting and massacring Armenians, deportation and spoliation of Greeks and ill-treatment of Allied prisoners of war. Those under arrest include Pasha Djalil Bey, the Vall of Adrianople; Ismael Dambolab, former Minister of the Interior; Kamal Bey, former Minister of Food and Supplies, and several former Deputies.

CONGRESS COMMISSION FINISHING DRAFT OF LEAGUE CONSTITUTION

Paris, Feb. 8.—When the Peace Conference Commission on the Society of Nations started its session at 10.30 a. m. to-day the expectation was that it would complete its task before adjournment this evening. When adjournment was taken last night two-thirds of the draft of the project had been completed.

The Commission reported a substantial agreement on the chief points discussed last night, according to an official statement issued to-day.

The Commission, it is added, is of the opinion that certain clauses of the draft should be referred to sub-committees for clarification.

ALLIES AIDED ARMY OF KING OF HEDJAZ

Paris, Feb. 8.—A semi-official denial has been issued with regard to intimation that the King of the Hedjaz had received subventions from Great Britain for taking part in the war. It is stated that any payments made to the King of the Hedjaz by the Allies were purely for military purposes in order to sustain the King's power, which had a great part in the overthrow of the Turkish forces and the defeat of the German troops. The financial arrangements, the statement says, did not include any emoluments for the King of the Hedjaz or his son, Prince Feisal.

FARE IN VANCOUVER TO BE FIVE CENTS

Street Car Change In April; School Teachers' Salaries Increased

Vancouver, Feb. 8.—As the first move to secure a return to the former five-cent fare on the street cars in Vancouver when the existing agreement with the B. C. Electric Railway Company providing for a six-cent fare for a period of nine months has expired, the City Council yesterday afternoon unanimously passed a resolution to cancel and abrogate the existing agreement with the B. C. Electric Railway Company to collect a six-cent fare on its cars at the expiry of the nine-month agreement dating from July 2, 1918.

Teachers' Salaries.

Salary increases extending to all departments, but relatively larger in the lowest paid positions, were granted yesterday by the Board of School Trustees to all teachers in the schools of Vancouver. The increases are retroactive to January 1, 1919. The teachers asked for a minimum of $1,000 and an increase of twenty-five per cent. on all salaries up to $1,500 and of twenty per cent. on all salaries above that amount.

It is estimated that the increases voted yesterday average at least fifteen per cent. on the whole, and that they will raise the salary appropriation from $610,000 of last year to approximately $700,000 this year. The minimum wage was fixed at $950, which means that while the average increase is only about fifteen per cent., the increase to the lowest paid teacher is close to twenty per cent.

BRITAIN'S TRADE.

London, Feb. 8.—The Board of Trade's figures for the month of January show that the imports increased by £25,522,000 of which £23,000,000 represented food and £10,000,000 raw materials, including £1,500,000 in cotton. The exports increased £5,877,000, mostly manufactures, of which £1,225,000 represented cotton textiles.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN SOCIETY AT WORK

Improving Relations Between British and Russians, Says Correspondent

Vancouver, Feb. 8.—A mail dispatch from W. E. Playfair, Canadian Press correspondent with the Canadian force in Siberia, dated December 24 at Vladivostok, has been received by the Canadian Press here. It says: During the Christmas period Canadian officers and men have been entertained at a concert and ball by the Anglo-Russian Society, an organization devoted to bringing about better understanding and more cordial relations between Russians and British. The programme at the concert was half Russian and half Canadian, and at the dance the one-step and other figures familiar to North Americans were introduced. It was an international evening of sorts.

This society, organized last spring at the instigation of several young Englishmen who have spent years in Russia, and passed through the late troublous period, has a broader function than one merely social. It has already done a great work, and is still at the commencement of its task. Under its auspices, for instance, there is about to be launched here an English-Russian daily newspaper, which aims to be a useful introduction of the Russian viewpoint to the British resident, and vice versa.

Balance of Power.

Those aware to any extent of the colossal natural wealth of Siberia, its fine natural harbors and unrivalled inland waterway system, will understand the superlative importance of maintaining the balance of power in the Russian Far East. The Russian Far Eastern ports provide the outlet to all the world for the trade of half a continent.

The task assumed by the Allies in their present intervention must be looked upon as largely diplomatic. The rehabilitation of Russia is the one means of providing a strong buffer state in this rich and sparsely settled country against the aggression of any envious power which might be aiming at domination here.

Years Must Pass.

In the unsettled period which has elapsed since the revolution the Russians have been divided to the extent that some regard as almost hopeless. In any event it is admitted by Russians themselves that many years must pass before the Russians will be in a position to stand upon their own feet, either politically or commercially. The Maximalist doctrine, commonly known as Bolshevism, is rampant among the working class, and only bitter experience of the manner in which the Bolsheviki principles react upon their adherents will serve to discredit and stamp them out. In the meantime the Germans and other exploiters, taking advantage of Russia's weakened conditions, have lost no chance of trade penetration. They are using, for instance, the mortgage system and advancing capital, sorely needed for Russian business enterprises, through second and third parties of various nationalities. Thus, while Russia is slowly progressing through the baby stage of democratic government, it will be necessary for the Allied countries to act as guardians.

Objects.

From the British point of view, then, the Anglo-Russian Society aims at performing some such service. A few of its projects may be listed as follows:

The establishment of Anglo-Russian clubs in all the larger centres of Siberia—Chita, Khabarovsk, Irkutsk, Tomsk, Omsk and the like—and the publication of an English-Russian newspaper in each place.

The introduction of sport in all the towns and schools, so as to develop discipline of a voluntary nature.

Development of closer commercial and social relations between the British and Russians.

Introduction of British teaching into the schools, and of Russian teaching in the British colonies scattered about in the towns.

Establishment of a trade information bureau and an Anglo-Russian chamber of mines.

Organization of members' tours from Russia to British countries and vice versa, for the purpose of studying social and commercial problems.

Big Possibilities.

The possibilities of such propaganda at the present stage of Russian development are regarded by Britons here as enormous. To-day, due to political ferment and the almost complete breakdown of rail transportation, foreign trade with Siberia is at a standstill. What will come in the future must be built anew, and the Society desires to lay early and secure foundations for legitimate international commerce as against the commercialized exploitation from which Russia, east and west, has suffered for years.

NOT USING VERY LARGE SHIPS NOW FOR CANADA'S TROOPS

London, Feb. 7.—The Canadian Associated Press has learned that in order to secure the greatest dispatch in the handling of troops after their arrival in Canada it has been decided that the monster ships will no longer be used. It is stated that while this will facilitate the handling of troops after arrival in Canada and prevent delay, it will greatly increase the difficulties here in finding the necessary transport. The number of ships is limited, and great competition is taking place to secure them among different parts of the Empire and the United States. Even when the Canadian authorities have secured ships there are labor troubles and other difficulties which often mean that the ships are not dispatched on the arranged dates.

It is suggested, therefore, that the question of arrivals in Canada should be considered not by the results of any one week, but on the average for a month.

The Canadian Associated Press is assured that the steady homeward flow of 30,000 men monthly after February 1 will be maintained, but it is impossible to parcel this number into regular weekly sailings of 7,500.

CANADIAN GOODS INTO ARGENTINA AS GOODS FROM STATES

Ottawa, Feb. 8.—That many Canadian products are finding their way into Argentina credited as exports from the United States is an opinion expressed by B. S. Webb, Canadian Trade Commissioner in Buenos Ayres, in a report to the Department of Trade and Commerce. Mr. Webb believes that neither Argentine nor Canadian Government statistics are of much value as indicating the volume of exports from Canada to Argentina. He states that prospects for future trade in manufactured goods are reasonably bright.

WESTERN POSTAL EMPLOYEES NOT IN SATISFIED MOOD

Winnipeg, Feb. 8.—The Federation of Western Postal Employees has received the report made to the Government by the Civil Service Commission in connection with the investigation held by Dr. Roche into the conditions which led to the postal strike of last July. The body also has received a statement of the Government's decisions, and after full consideration has declared these far from satisfactory and disappointing on the whole.

A convention of representatives of all branches from Saskatchewan, Manitoba, and after full consideration has declared these far from satisfactory and disappointing on the whole.

WAR ON TOO SCANTY EVENING GOWNS IN THE UNITED STATES

New York, Feb. 8.—Asserting that the designers of women's evening gowns have led fashion to the extreme limit of indecency, which is having a most demoralizing influence upon the youth of the country, the New York Federation of Women's Clubs at a meeting yesterday adopted a resolution calling upon women to dress modestly, and on designers and shopkeepers to control indecency in dress. A committee was appointed to push the war on scanty evening gowns.

CLYNES SAYS HASTY STRIKES A MISTAKE

London, Feb. 8.—(Canadian Press Dispatch from Reuters.)—Addressing a large meeting of the postal workers in London yesterday afternoon at which resolutions favoring shorter hours and higher wages and full civic rights were adopted, former Food Controller Clynnes emphasized the desirability of formulating and discussing demands before striking in order to keep the sympathy of the public. He declared a far higher standard of living must be obtained before there would be a peace in Great Britain, but these things could not be settled by mob law. The workers' wish must be translated by trusted delegates.

C. P. R.'S PROGRAMME IN SASKATCHEWAN

Winnipeg, Feb. 8.—D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the C. P. R., called attention to-day to an item which he said had appeared in Saskatchewan newspapers purporting to be the actual construction programme of the C. P. R. in that province for the current year. Mr. Coleman said he had authorized no such statement, that the programme for this and succeeding years had not been determined, and that the only basis for the story was that notice had been given in The Canada Gazette of application for charters for certain lines in Saskatchewan, the possibilities of which were under consideration.

CHARGED WITH BIGAMY.

Brandon, Man., Feb. 8.—James L. Monahan, alias John Lee Monahan, charged with bigamy, was committed to the magistrate here yesterday afternoon for trial. Monahan, it is alleged, and the magistrate considered there was sufficient evidence to submit-married Mrs. McLeod, of Charlottetown, P. E. I., in 1915, and went through a form of marriage with Lena Smith in Brandon on October 19, 1918. After his first marriage he went overseas. His return he came west. He has been undergoing treatment in a sanatorium at Ninette, and came from there to Brandon, where the second ceremony was performed.

GRAVE ALLEGATIONS AGAINST OFFICIALS

Fishermen's Counsel Makes Serious Charges in Alberni Investigation

Port Alberni, Feb. 7.—Charges of favoritism in granting of canneries licenses and of aiding the big packing corporations in an attempt to choke competition were laid against officials of the Federal Department of Fisheries by J. Edward Bird, acting for the Barkley Sound Fishermen's Protective Association, in the present investigation proceeding here. The officials accused are Col. P. H. Cunningham, Chief Provincial Inspector; Edward G. Taylor, Inspector for Section 4, embracing most of the Island Coast waters, and J. B. Wood, sub-inspector for Barkley Sound.

Mr. Bird alleged that the applications of Capt. Magnusen for a cannery license were unreasonably refused, and that the officials acted with partiality and favoritism, and even circulated rumors that he was trading with enemy. He also charged that Christian Olsen, an independent fisherman, was prevented from purse sealing in the Uchelet Harbor because the Wallace interests had exclusive rights to fish there for dog salmon, but was told that he could co-operate with the Wallace canneries.

Inspector Taylor is accused by Mr. Bird of moving forward the legal stakes indicating the boundaries for fishing so as to enable the Wallace and other large cannery interests to operate their seines within illegal districts at the mouth of the Nahmint River. Mr. Taylor having remarked at the time, it is said, that it was "not right that these people with large investments should be taken care of."

Mr. Bird alleges that Inspector Taylor took Col. Cunningham's instructions, prosecuting John Kendall, of Port Alberni, and his fishermen for encroaching on the packers' territory, and causing their illegal imprisonment. Kendall is said to have suffered again when a trap seine license, promised by Col. Cunningham, was afterwards refused. Mr. Bird states that the reason for this was that Wallace fishermen did not want Kendall in competition, and that personal antagonism prevailed between the fisherman and the officials.

Again, the counsel for the fishermen alleges that licenses have been issued in "wholesale lots" by Col. Cunningham to the big canneries, and have subsequently been given to unnaturalized Japanese fishermen.

Further evidence was heard to-day about purse seine operation which, it is alleged, are depleting the herring and salmon of the coast. Mr. Bird asserted that the packers were guilty of "negligence, carelessness and wanton closing of eyes."

Mr. Bird admitted, on the demands of H. Cowan, that it was impossible for him to specify names, the exact time and place.

"Frankly, I cannot understand how any man could put into writing such charges without being in a position to prove them true," declared Mr. Cowan. "You can't go gunning a man behind his back."

The inquiry was adjourned until Tuesday, February 18.

THE MOUNTED POLICE VETERANS' ASSOCIATION

Vancouver, Feb. 8.—A canvass of the whole world will be made shortly by the Royal Northwest Mounted Police Veterans' Association, which has its headquarters in Vancouver, in a campaign to locate as many ex-members of the force as possible. The purpose of the campaign has as its foundation the romantic traditions of the early police, and it will make far closer relations between the men who once patrolled the weary vastness of the Northwest prairies. One of the earliest traditions of the force that will tend to bind the men in this big association is that nothing whatever has alienated the Royal Northwest Mounted Police from the paths of duty. It is felt that the organization, extending as it does throughout the British Empire, could do useful work in establishing a feeling of security among law-abiding citizens.

BELGIUM IN NEED OF INDEMNITY AT ONCE

Paris, Feb. 8.—The financial claims of Belgium against Germany are most urgent, Baron Van den Heuvel, a member of the Belgian peace delegation and of the Peace Conference Committee on Reparation, said yesterday.

Belgium, he declared, has not time for an agreement to be reached as to the exact figures of the indemnity which is due her before obtaining at least partial reparation. A percentage of the indemnity should be paid immediately. Belgium, he added, needed food and machinery at once. Her workmen would die, her industries were at a standstill or working at a loss, and her foreign trade would go to other markets unless something was done without delay.

BOLSHEVIK ARMY REPORTED PREPARING TO RAVAGE POLAND

Warsaw, Feb. 7.—Via London, Feb. 8.—General Shepitsky, Chief of the Polish General Staff, says it will be necessary for the Poles, if the Allies do not do so, to open a route to Danzig, in order to bring into Poland the army of General Haller, as well as food supplies destined for Poland.

German soldiers who have arrived here from Russia express the belief that a great Bolsheviki army is preparing to sweep over Poland.

It is reported that General von Esleroff, formerly a member of the Russian General Staff, has captured Khar'kov and is advancing into the Ukraine. The "black plague" is reported to be raging in Kovel, in the Ukraine, because of lack of soap.

COL. E. B. EDWARDS DIES. Edmonton, Feb. 8.—The death occurred last evening of Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards, one of the best known military men and lawyers of this city. He was sixty-eight years old.

ALLIES FIGHTING TYPHUS IN SIBERIA

Send Train From Vladivostok to Stamp Out the "Cootie" Pest

Vancouver, Feb. 8.—W. E. Playfair, Canadian Press correspondent with the Canadian forces in Siberia, says in a mail dispatch, dated at Vladivostok on December 25, which has reached here: To-day the first "anti-typhus" train equipped by the Allied forces to fight the dreaded disease along the trans-Siberian Railway, left Vladivostok on its long journey westward. It is in charge of Dr. Joshua Ross, of the American Committee on Public Information, loaned to the civilian branch of the American Red Cross for the purpose. Although equipped and supported by the Allies generally, the train will be in charge of the American Red Cross.

"Train of Death." The journey of the anti-typhus train is a sequel of the arrival some weeks ago at the junction point of Nikolai-Ussurisk, a few miles from here, of the now famous "train of death." Railway men stationed at that point reported to Vladivostok that there was a mysterious train in the yards at the junction from which numbers of dead were carried each day. Dr. Ross and an assistant were sent up to make inquiries, and they found that the train, on which were hundreds of prisoners and refugees, was infested with typhus. It had come all the way from Samara, in European Russia, probably leaving disease in its wake at various points en route.

Acting on the report of the investigators, as well as on news received from many parts of Siberia of the prevalence of typhus in prison camps and other congested centres, the Allied command decided to open a campaign against the plague. It is now likely that other trains will follow that for the laboratory and for the personnel complete the equipment.

"Fight Cootie." The battle against typhus is a battle against the "cootie." Scientists have decided that the louse carries the germs of typhus from one person to another, so the elimination of the louse is the object sought in this instance. The refugees on the "train of death" were in a pitiable condition from vermin and it is feared that they infested others by spreading the disease-bearing "cootie." The anti-typhus train is equipped for the delousing of as many cootie-infested persons as it may find on its journey. Its capacity is placed at from 4,000 to 5,000 persons per day.

The train has no definite itinerary and no schedule. When it has finished with the population of one place it will move on to the next. Its first operations are being carried out at stations adjacent to Vladivostok, but in time it will reach Omsk and other points in western Siberia. It carries a small laboratory and dispensary, but its main purpose is neither scientific nor medical. It aims to slay the cootie.

As in France. The general principle of the delousing scheme is the same as that applied by the Allied armies in France during the war. Those afflicted with lice are assembled and made to cleanse themselves carefully while their clothing is put through a process which destroys the vermin by subjecting them to intense heat.

Eighteen of the old Russian third class passenger cars have been fitted for the anti-typhus campaign by tearing out the partitions, cleaning and painting the woodwork and putting in galvanized iron flooring. The cleaning of the cars was an achievement in itself, much time and verminicide being required to get rid of the millions of cockroaches which were concealed about the woodwork. A number of cars were fitted up as

Mrs. Hoarding Makes a Cake

The other day one of our girls went to a house and found the lady making her first cake with Pacific Milk.

The cake was just at the stage where the "wetting" was to go in. Mrs. Hoarding was going to use Pacific milk just as it comes from the tin. The young lady explained that it should be diluted at least a half with water.

Then she waited and talked until the cake came from the oven. It looked fine and Mrs. H. was good enough to say it looked better than usual.

BUYING OF WHEAT IN CANADA FOR BRITAIN

Ottawa, Feb. 8.—Representatives of the British Wheat Export Company are due in Ottawa soon to discuss with the Government a resumption of wheat purchasing in Canada. Although there is no indication as yet when buying will be resumed, every hope is expressed in official circles that the 1919 crop will be disposed of without any necessity on the part of the Government to implement its guarantee.

The exportable surplus of the 1918 crop is stated to amount to from 60,000,000 to 70,000,000 bushels.

SPEECHES ON THE ADDRESS.

In the brave days of old the representatives of the people carried swords or clubs, according to their respective stations in life, and they occasionally felt moved to talk pretty bluntly to the throne or its advisers.

But those are the "dear, dead days beyond recall." When a modern member is impelled to express his views, the worst he has to fear is that his party friends will write letters while they should be listening, or will go into the corridor to have a smoke.

As a consequence of this mitigation of constitutional practice, the Address in Reply has been shorn to some extent of its importance. It still, however, serves a useful purpose in our scheme of government. It gives new members a chance to explain why the electorate has sent them to the Legislature—a point not always perfectly clear—and it helps them to shake off the nervousness with which they are naturally affected.

The mere statement of these purposes, however, shows that the Address in Reply is not properly an occasion when the supporters of an Administration are called upon to take the floor in any large numbers or at any great length.

The Provincial Government, therefore, this Session has adopted a wise plan in persuading its followers to keep their seats and remain placid while the Opposition oratory flows over them.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN AND GREECE.

When Sir Robert Borden is asked to be one of an international committee to delimit the frontiers of Greece, a compliment is paid to him and to the country which he represents.

His proposal to get together the leaders of the various Russian factions may not yet have produced the results hoped for, but it had at any rate the merit of trying to do something while others were merely gazing in helpless wonder at the bewildering chaos in Eastern Europe.

On the Grecian problem the Prime Minister will bring to bear a calm temper and a clear intellect. He will have, moreover, the inestimable advantage of knowing that it is entirely possible to devise systems of government under which different races, by safeguarding the rights of minorities, can live together in peace.

COST OF LIVING.

The January issue of The Labor Gazette says: "Seasonable changes and the effect of the change from war conditions on some markets caused some movement in prices in several commodities, but the general movement showed little change. In retail prices meats tended lower, while butter, eggs and cheese tended higher.

The family budget of staple foods averaged slightly higher in the fifty-eight cities, standing at $13.63 at the middle of December as compared with $13.49 in November, $12.24 in December, 1917, and $7.95 in December, 1914.

There have been some decreases in certain commodities since this report was issued, but the downward tendency is yet a long way from being in any degree radical.

The weekly budget of $13.63 for staple foods tells only part of the story. To this should be added $7.98 per week for rent, fuel and light, which makes a total of bare necessities amounting to $21.61. This takes no note of the numerous other necessary charges incidental to domestic life, such as clothing, transportation, school books, medical attention and so on, which add at least twenty-five per cent. to the weekly budget as estimated in The Labor Gazette.

THAT RESOLUTION.

Freedom of speech as authorized by the statutory laws of this country is not restricted by the resolution adopted by the City Council last Monday evening on the motion of Alderman Patrick.

The delegation from the Federated Labor Party, which protested against that resolution, must be aware that the Criminal Code of Canada prohibits the making or uttering of statements of a seditious character or calculated to foment lawlessness, under pain of severe penalties. In other words, the Code under this and other heads forbids abuse of free speech when its consequences might be injurious to the public interest.

Alderman Patrick's resolution urged the prevention of gatherings and speeches calculated to undermine constitutional government and to encourage sedition and discontent. We cannot see how any element which desires to propagate lawful political views in a lawful way, as has been done for many years, can reasonably object to the spirit and intent of that resolution, which expresses the will of nine out of every ten people in this city.

THE OLD GAME.

German spokesmen on international matters have been so in the habit of trying to intimidate the rest of the world that even the collapse of their country in the war has not been able to divorce them from their customary style and practice. Hence, we find Chancellor Ebert at Weimar declaring what Germany will do to the Allies if they make the terms to be submitted to her too stiff.

From other sources in Germany come the same tune, all of which is intended to influence the Paris Conference which, as the Germans know, is now considering the terms to be imposed upon the authors of the war, and the punishment to be meted out to the perpetrators of the most hideous barbarities that ever stained nation or tribe in history.

DOMINION FINANCES.

The current revenue of the Dominion Government for the ten months ending January 31, was $247,072,657, and the expenditure, including war charges, was $174,736,208. There was thus a surplus of current revenue over all expenditure, with the exception of what was spent in the war, of $74,336,449.

The war expenditure in the same period was $244,813,536, so the surplus of current revenue over other expenditure reduces this addition to the national debt by more than thirty per cent., the largest contribution yet made by the proceeds of taxation to the cost of the war.

An analysis of the revenue is illuminating. Customs taxation for the ten months accounted for fifty per cent. of the total of $249,072,657. Excise taxes yielded $24,973,121, the Post Office $16,600,000, public works, including railways and canals, $34,066,053, and "miscellaneous" $49,121,703. It is in the "miscellaneous" that we must look for the yield of the income and war profits taxes, along with the various taxes which touched the humbler pocket.

We shall have to await the detailed statement to ascertain the contribution of these taxes to the general revenue, but we know that for the year 1917-18 it was only about eleven per cent. of the total. There is no reason to expect that it will be proportionately greater this year, so it may be estimated at something like $30,000,000 for the ten months. In Great Britain the proportions are reversed. Property and income contribute eighty-one per cent. to the revenue and customs and all other taxation nineteen per cent.

HIS DARKEST HOUR

How I loved thee, Earth! scenes that I leave, Gardens of musing walled in laurel white; Eve's bowers, whence the vesper-bird would grieve In plaintive numbers for the waning light.

The matin-bird, that hurried his clear flute, The swift unfolding glories of the day To praise, has now departed, or is mute; The feathery birches of the woodland way Whose leaves, like to a thousand lamps of light,

And thou has ta'en my flowers, conspiring Death! That Love and I had chosen for our speech; Roses for ardor, with a passioned breath; Lilies for Love's own soul; and unto each Sweet blossom we had given qualities;

So seems it now, 'dried soul! But from Death's seed Rise Spring; translated Love; a hero's crown; God's face indeed! —John Stuart Thomson, "Canadian Poems of the Great War"

A BEDTIME STORY

UNCLE WIGGILY'S HAT SHAMPOO

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate
(By Howard B. Garis.)

"You are going out, I see," spoke Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper, as she saw Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, take his tall silk hat down off the piano one morning.

"Yes, I think I'll go out and see if I can find an adventure," he answered. "It has stopped snowing and the sun is shining. But first I must brush my silk hat. It is looking quite scruffy like."

Uncle Wiggily took a brush and began dusting it over his tall, shiny silk hat, but the more he brushed the more the hat seemed to look scruffy like.

"This will never do!" exclaimed the bunny rabbit. "I cannot go out looking for adventures in a hat like this, and I have no time to buy a new one. I know what I'll do."

"What?" asked Nurse Jane. "What will you do?"

"I'll get my silk hat a shampoo with soap, the same as I get at the barber's shop when I'm shaved," went on the bunny rabbit gentleman. "A silk hat has fluffy fuzz on it, almost like that I have. And if a shampoo is good for me, it ought to be good for my silk hat."

"I never heard of such a thing," said Nurse Jane. "Neither did I," spoke Uncle Wiggily.

"But I am going to try. Some soap, some hot water and a little scrubbing brush, if you please, Nurse Jane. My shampoo, or wash with soap, is my tall silk hat."

"I hope you don't spoil it," said the muskrat lady.

"I hope so, too," spoke Uncle Wiggily, a bit dubious like, as he twirled his shiny silk hat. Uncle Wiggily made Nurse Jane brought the bunny rabbit gentleman a basin of warm water, some white soap and a little scrubbing brush.

"You had better put one of my bungalow aprons on in front of you, to keep the soap suds from getting on your vest," said Nurse Jane, for Uncle Wiggily wore a very fancy red vest.

"Thank you, I will put on an apron," said the bunny, and he did. Then he dipped the brush in water, rubbed it on the soap and then rubbed the soap on the fluffy black fur of the tall, shiny silk hat. Uncle Wiggily made a bit of lather, almost as much as the barber made when he shaved the bunny.

"This shampoo will make my silk hat clean and as good as new," said Uncle Wiggily, "and will save me buying a new one. Even if the war is over we must be careful."

So he scrubbed and polished away, making a great deal of lather, and his hat was just a mass of white foam when, all of a sudden, a voice cried: "That will do. You may stop that Monday washing and come with me. I am hungry for noise."

"Who—who are you?" asked Uncle Wiggily, looking over the top of the silk hat he was shampooing. "Who are you?"

"The Pipsisewah, of course," was the answer, and out from under the sink, where he had been hiding, came the unpleasant creature. "Souse I want an souse, must have it," he cried. "So stop scrubbing your paw nails and come with me!"

"I am not scrubbing my paw nails," cried brave Uncle Wiggily. "I am shampooing my silk hat and you are just in time to have a shampoo yourself! I'll give you a nice, soapy, lathery shampoo, and it won't cost you a penny! My hat is finished now, and I can go home!"

Then, with the brush all covered with white soap suds and his paw nails covered, too, Uncle Wiggily put on his tall silk hat down on it, and made a dash for the Pipsisewah.

But did the bad creature stay there to be shampooed? Indeed, he did not! Tucking his tail between his legs the unpleasant creature ran out of the hollow stump bungalow as fast as his boot run, crying:

"Oh, don't shampoo me! Don't shampoo me! I'll be good!"

You see, a Pipsisewah, above every thing else, hates to be shampooed or have his face washed, and when Uncle Wiggily said he was going to do that, the Pip, as I call him for short, ran away as fast as he could.

"Well," said the bunny, as he washed the lather off his paw, "it's a good thing I shampooed my tall silk hat, and so it was for, when the hat was dry, it was almost as good as new, and Uncle Wiggily wore it out and had a most surprising adventure. I'll tell you about it in the next story which will be called 'Uncle Wiggily and the Tin Pie.' That is, I'll write that story if the little mouse doesn't gnaw a hole in the leg of the rag doll so all her sawdust runs out."

A New Blood Food Has Been Discovered That Works Wonders

SAID TO PUT NEW LIFE INTO PEOPLE THAT ARE RUNDOWN

For years doctors have been searching for a combination that would enable them to inject into thin blood the elements it lacked. This can now be done, and any weak-blooded person can quickly be made strong and well.

Already a small army of ailing people has proved the merit of taking after each meal with a sip or two of water, two chocolate-coated Ferrozone Tablets. This is easily done, and even one week's use of this wonderful blood-food will prove how nourishing and strengthening and flesh-building the treatment is.

Just think of it—Ferrozone uplifts the entire nervous system, removes the blood, makes it rich and red—gives the sort of aid that's needed in throwing off weakness and languor.

Tens of thousands enjoy the advantages of renewed health through Ferrozone—if you'll only use it, you'll surely grow strong too. Its beneficial action is noticed even in a week. You see it goes right to work, removes the causes of the trouble and then quickly makes a cure.

In tiredness, nerve exhaustion, in tiredness, nerve exhaustion, the power of spring fever and debility, the power of Ferrozone is known from coast to coast and universally used with grand results.

Let Ferrozone build you up, let it win you back to robust health—it will do so quickly if you give it the chance. Sold by all dealers. 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50. Remember the name Ferrozone.

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

Miss Taylor, of Victoria, is visiting in Vancouver as the guest of Miss Weld at Glencoe Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Brown left last evening on the steamer Governor for Anchorage Park, Riverside, California.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. MacDonald have arrived in the city from Regina, and are staying at the Stratcona Hotel.

From the Vancouver Province: "Major and Mrs. McGuire, who are spending the winter in Vancouver, have leased the residence of C. W. Sawers, Barclay Street, Mrs. Sawers having left to spend the winter in California."

The engagement is announced of Miss Elsie M. Perrin, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Perrin, "Tay Dens," Woolston, Southampton, Eng., to James A. R. Eddie, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Eddie, 1601 Bank Street, Victoria B. C. The marriage will take place shortly in Southampton, England.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wilson and family, of Elcho, Man., have taken up their residence at 743 Vancouver Street. Mr. Wilson, who was for a long time principal of the Industrial School at Elcho, has now joined the staff of representatives of the Victoria branch of the Great West Life Assurance Co.

The recent issue of Canada contains a photograph taken at the Royal Overseas Club in London, England, and showing the Canadian V. A. D.'s from the 2nd London General Hospital, Chelsea, at their Christmas festivities. Included in the happy party are the Misses Haper and Ross, of Victoria.

An interesting wedding took place at Christ Church Cathedral at noon on Thursday, when the Bishop of Columbia celebrated the nuptials of Phyllis, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Wollaston, of 1415 Oak Bay Avenue, and Lieut. O. St. P. Aitkens, 34-1/2, late of the 48th Battalion, now adjutant of Rothemann Military Convalescent Hospital. The ceremony was witnessed only by a few intimate friends of the young couple, George Pauline presiding at the organ. After a brief honeymoon trip Lieut. and Mrs. Aitkens will take up their residence at Resthaven.

The many local friends of Mrs. Alfred Watt, M.A., O.B.E., will be interested to hear that the recent issue of Canada contains an excellent photograph of Mrs. Watt and her two sons, Lieut. Robin Watt and Sholto Watt, taken as they were leaving Buckingham Palace after her investiture with the Order of the British Empire. Referring to Mrs. Watt's work, Lady Isabel Margerson writes: "Mrs. Watt's gifts have been lavishly spent in building Women's Institutes, and they will always bear in Great Britain the mark of her genius and vision. She has cemented the already strong link that binds the women of the Empire together, and in years to come we shall remember her gratitude the debt that we owe her."

WHAT SHOULD BE DONE IF FLU GERM APPEARS

Disease May Often Be Conquered Easily by Prompt Treatment in Early Stages

Symptoms Which Indicate That the System is Being Attacked By the Disease

The force of an attack of "flu" is largely determined by the manner in which it is treated during the early stages of the disease. In the epidemic days, when the country recently wave which swept the country warded it is certain that many people warded off violent attacks by prompt home treatment. This lesson should be borne in mind by the public in view of the reports as to the recurrence of the disease.

The initial symptoms of the "flu" are similar to those of a heavy cold in the head. There is a running at the nose, a feverish and heavy condition of the head and a general soreness of the muscles. When these appear the sufferer should at once start taking Grip-Fix, a remedy which exactly meets the conditions. It contains the ingredients in convenient capsule form for relieving the feverish condition, keeping the system open and overcoming the muscular soreness. It is remarkably quick as to action, a severe cold being generally cured in 24 hours and a case of grippe in two days. The preparation has a record of years, and in view of the return of the "flu" in many places is something which should be kept on hand in every home. Sold at all drug stores at 50c per box, or mailed to any address at the same price, post-paid if your druggist cannot supply you. There is no substitute for Grip-Fix—recommended by many physicians.

Fatal Mistake to Ignore Nature's Danger Signals

Slight Kidney Troubles Soon Develop into Chronic Complaints

You Can't Neglect Nature's Warnings and Remain Healthy

Danger cannot always be seen—and because of this fact many people have entirely ignored Nature's danger signals—until the result that day-by-day troubles are suffering unnecessarily from chronic kidney and bladder troubles.

It is the old story. You feel that something is wrong in the region of the kidneys and bladder, but because you don't suffer acute pain right at the start you conclude that there is nothing very serious the matter and fail to remedy the defect. That is the fatal mistake.

care a living for two years, and spent all my savings trying the hot springs, with little relief. At last I bought a trial tin of Gin Pills, and now as I am able to continue my work.

A Remarkable Case.
Here is the case of a man, Mr. Indore Thomas, who had given up all hope of ever regaining health and strength again. Gin Pills did more for him than he believed possible, and in a short time he was not only better, but had gained 50 pounds.

Translation of Indore Thomas' letter in part.

"I beg you to publish my letter, so that people may know what Gin Pills did for me. My case was very serious. I was so sick everybody expected my death any day. Finally, on advice from friends, I tried Gin Pills, and in a short time was well again, and soon had gained 50 pounds."

Make Grateful Friends.
Have you a friend or neighbor suffering from Gravel or Stones in the Bladder? If so, think how grateful to you they would be if you were instrumental in helping them regain their former health and vigor. Tell them about Gin Pills and what they have done. It's no secret.

Hear what Mr. Brechley, of New Westminster, B.C., did.

After Gin Pills had relieved his sufferings he heard from his sister in England that she was confined to bed with sciatica and that many others in the neighborhood were afflicted with the same dread disease. His faith in Gin Pills was so great that he sent a number of boxes to her and asked her to distribute them among her friends also. Is this not the proper spirit of "Do unto others and bring them relief?"

The Premier Remedy.
The wonderful results obtained by Gin Pills have placed them in the forefront among the standard remedies for the relief and prevention of kidney and bladder disorders. Hundreds of testimonials from people in all parts of Canada tell us the same story—that Gin Pills help by first removing the cause.

Kidney disorders are the cause of great suffering and prolonged agony. Don't hesitate when that pain in the back warns you that your kidneys are affected—use Gin Pills and be sure of safe, sure and speedy relief.

The Danger Signals.
Here is a list of Danger Signals that warn you of Kidney and Bladder Derangements:

A dull ache or pain in the back, pains in the sides and groin, Brisk, Dark Urine, Frequent Urination, Discomfort, Constipation, Spasms, Itching in front of the eyes, general feeling of listlessness, swollen ankles or joints, Headaches, Pains, Symptoms of Rheumatism, Lumbago, etc.

Any of these warnings should convince you that your kidneys need assistance. That congestion must be removed at once or grave results will follow. Don't hesitate and think you will be better to-morrow—you won't! Time, unassisted, never remedies kidney derangements. In cases like this Nature needs Nature's Remedy, and that is found in Gin Pills.

A sample free on request. Gin Pills are sold everywhere for 50¢ a box. A free sample will be sent to you if you write us for it.

WARNING

That pain in the back is a danger signal.

Pain in the back is one of the commonest symptoms of kidney trouble. It is Nature's way of telling you that your kidneys are tired, congested and need immediate assistance, or they cannot keep the blood stream purified.

You know the rest. Once the blood stream is poisoned, a chain of diseases follows, and you probably become an invalid. Be warned.

GIN PILLS

and free yourself from the ravages of all Kidney or Bladder Affections, Brisk Dark Urine, Painful Urination, Headaches and constant Headaches.

Gin Pills have brought relief to thousands—they will do the same for you. Try them.

BAKING POWDER MADE FROM WESTERN LARCH

Chief Forester Grainger Receives a Sample; Large Business Expected

From the C. F. Burgess Laboratories, Madison, Wisconsin, comes the information to the Forest Branch of the Department of Lands that one of their latest scientific developments is the manufacture of baking powder from western larch. M. A. Grainger, chief forester, has received a small sample and from the ordinary culinary tests it appears to answer quite as well as any other regular baking powders.

The Department is of the opinion that further successful progress in this particular experiment may lead to a very large and profitable absorption of larch wood waste. To discover what mills in British Columbia would be interested in this connection the Chief Forester has taken up the subject with the Secretary of the Mountain Lumber Manufacturers' Association, at Nelson, B. C.

Howard F. Weiss is the chemical engineer responsible for the original discovery and he has conducted this development work in co-operation with the Weyerhaeuser Lumber Company. He states that it is hoped to put in a plant at an early date to manufacture this product on a large scale.

WILL HEAR VIEWS OF HARBOR AUTHORITY

Public Will Profit by Advice of Chairman of Montreal Harbor Board

Harbor improvement and operation will be the subject of an address by W. G. Ross, Chairman of the Montreal Harbor Board, at a special meeting of the Board of Trade and all interested persons to be held in the Board Rooms on Tuesday evening next at eight o'clock. Mr. Ross is now in this city as the Dominion President of the Navy League, and the Council of the Board of Trade at its meeting yesterday decided to seize the opportunity offered by his short stay.

Mr. Ross will, it is expected, describe the organization of the Montreal Harbor Board, the powers given it and the results obtained. Everyone interested

The subject is invited to attend, and a general discussion will be allowed at the close of the address. Mr. Ross's advice to local men on harbor questions should prove of the greatest value, and various public bodies, among them the City Council, will be asked to be represented in order to profit by his views.

In a letter to the Council in reply to a protest from that body against the building of a temporary Johnson Street bridge, Mayor Porter denies that the Council entertains any such idea. "I am to inform you," the letter reads, "that the City Council entertains the same views as expressed in the resolution of the Council of your Board, and has no intention of approving of the construction of any temporary bridge, or bridges, at this point."

TO DISCUSS UNIFYING OF PATRIOTIC EFFORT

Local Organizations to Meet on Thursday Next; to Obviate Overlapping

The provisional committee elected at a recent meeting of representatives of the women's organizations of the city to take the preliminary steps towards a suggested unification of the various patriotic endeavors met at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon and discussed the matter. As a result it has been decided to call a public meeting in the interests of the federation of patriotic work of the city on February 13 at 8 p. m. in the assembly rooms of the Comrades of the Great War home.

A letter has been sent to every organization in the city asking the body to send two delegates to this meeting, and should any association have been inadvertently missed the officers are asked to accept this intimation through the press.

Aims of Movement.
The communication covers the broad outline of the possible character of a service Council as follows:

"The aim is to set on foot a movement of co-operation in all patriotic work. (1) By endeavoring to ascertain what organization will be ready to join in certain spheres of work, such as hospitals, widows and orphans, returned men, and disabled men, etc. (2) To provide a clearing house for the distribution of relief, and make the public alive to the extent of the work. This need in no way binds any organization to secure its funds in any but its own way, nor does it purpose to interfere with the local autonomy and responsibility of the various organizations. Central control of the finances is not for the present deemed advisable, but may be considered at any meeting as the need arises.

This committee recommended that committees be appointed to report on policy, finances, organization and constitution, and also recommends that the name of this central organization be called the Federated Service Council, that a chairman for the year be elected, that representation of two members from every organization interested compose the council, that an officially paid secretary (preferably a returned man) be appointed with a card index system at his disposal, that a small executive be empowered to deal with the details of the business.

This committee urges close co-operation with the Reconstruction Group in this city, especially with the Pension Committee of that group, believing that united efforts alone on the scale of pension will receive favorable hearing. This Committee also urges a like co-operation with the "Soldiers Civil Re-establishment."

To give thoughtful consideration to a movement of such magnitude as this, the Committee further recommends that all represented organizations be free to send in to the Execu-

HOW TO SOLVE IT

The above squares hold the answer. It is one sentence of nine words, containing forty letters. Each letter is represented by a number, and that number is the position of the letters in the alphabet. For instance, A is represented by the figure 1, as it is first in the alphabet, and so on. Now, to help you get started, we will tell you that the first letter in the puzzle is 'W', because W is the 23rd letter in the alphabet. Get to work and figure out the words in the sentence, and try to find the answer to the great question, 'When will the war be over?' It is not easy, but it is worth while trying for.

CHILDHOOD CONSTIPATION

Constipation is one of the most common ailments of babyhood and childhood and unless it is promptly cured will undoubtedly lead to disastrous results. To cure this trouble nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild laxative which instantly regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, thus banishing constipation, colic, colds, etc. Concerning them Mrs. Eugene Vallancourt, St. Mathieu, Que., writes: "When my baby was constipated I gave her Baby's Own Tablets and I am well satisfied with the result. I would strongly recommend them to all mothers for this trouble." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

INDIAN LANDS FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS.

To the Editor.—Will you kindly permit a few words in reply to Mr. Glisma as reported in the proceedings of Parliament on Thursday, with regard to the settlement of our returned heroes. We can all appreciate Mr. Glisma's desire to do the best thing possible for the noble men who have given their best for us and our Empire, but to take the small portion of land included in the Indian reserves from a harmless, helpless people, would be but a repetition of Germany's illegitim, the very thing that our men went overseas to suppress.

I have lived among the Indians in this Province for the past forty-nine years, and I can testify, without fear of contradiction, that more loyal, law-abiding and long-suffering people are not to be found within the radius of His Majesty's Dominions.

When the Hudson's Bay Company came to this coast the Indians not only welcomed them, but helped the invaders to build their houses and establish their forts, supplying them with food and timber necessary. Some of the services of this company, realizing the possibilities of this coast, asked settlement privileges of Sir James Douglas, Governor of the colony, but this permission was not granted until the Indian title had first been extinguished. A few blankets distributed among the tribes was the purchase price, but an amicable agreement was arrived at, and proper title deeds, signed, sealed and delivered, were placed in the hands of the Governor by the various Indian chiefs.

This included the site of Victoria city, and thirteen other parcels of land in the vicinity. Seeing that the extinguishing of the Indian title was such a simple matter, the Colonial Secretary was instructed to write to England for sufficient funds to extinguish the native title throughout the whole of British Columbia. The reply came from Downing Street that inasmuch as the colony would profit by the sale of said lands, it was deemed advisable that the colony should cover their own funds in the acquisition of this title. This would have been done if Sir James Douglas had remained in office, but when another Governor was appointed the matter was held in abeyance where it remains to the present day, and the only land legally held in the Province is that which was purchased from the Indians in early colonial days.

Ignoring any claim that the Indians have to the lands of the Province, each succeeding Government has sold and given away to prospectors, settlers, and speculators, setting aside for the use of the people to whom the whole country legally belongs, small reserves, which are not adequate for the sustenance of the Indians to whom they are assigned. Now, the very British, not to say un-Christian, proposition is put forward to take even these fragments of territory from these suffering people and hand them over to men who are deserving of a present less ignoble, in the name of all that we stand for as a righteous nation, let us consider well such a proposition before any further action is taken.

Our Government is afraid to acknowledge the Indian title, lest the Indians should demand extortionate

RESPONSIBILITY OF SOLDIERS IN JOBS

Member of G. W. V. A. Points Out Where It Lies; Gives Some Advice

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—Incidentally in connection with the work of the Soldiers' Aid Commission some good advice given by Harriet Turner, editor of Turner's Weekly, is well worth quoting. Mr. Turner went overseas as a private with the Princess Pats and lost his sight through being wounded. He is a prominent western member of the G. W. V. A. and his opinion of this will be respected by all returned men.

Mr. Turner says:

A great responsibility rests on the soldier who gets a job through this agency. If he falls down on the job he has accepted it makes it harder for every returned man who comes after him. When he does not do his best he is penalizing his comrades who have not yet returned. If he does his best, he makes it easier for all those who come after him. If he is not prepared to do his utmost to fill the position he secures through the agency of the commission, he should keep away from the commission for he will kill it. If he shows himself in sufficiently large numbers.

If a man realizes that all the agencies and schemes in the world will not bolster him up when he is not prepared to do what he can, the question of the difficulties surrounding the demobilization of the men will be much easier to answer than it is now. Discharged men will lose their positions from time to time. If they lose them unjustly the matter should be brought home forcibly to the employer who committed the injustice, but if the dismissal of the veteran was the veteran's own inability to fill the duties of the job satisfactorily, then he is hurting the entire cause of the returned soldier unless he keeps his mouth shut. As a general rule, an employer does not hire a man unless he wants one and it is just as general a rule that an employer does not fire a man unless he fails to do the work satisfactorily. If a man is sacked, let him take a good look at his own end of the deal before he lays a complaint against his employer. If he does not carry on properly on his job, gets fired, and then raises a horrible row about the way returned soldiers are treated, he is ultimately bringing discredit upon everyone who tries to help him. If, on the other hand—and there have been such cases—a man is given just treatment he brings credit upon himself and upon all organizations which have tried to help him.

sums for town sites and lands that have been made valuable by settlement, but from my intimate knowledge of the Indians, born of my long experience as missionary among them, I can safely say that if such title were acknowledged the people to whom the lands rightfully belong would give a quit claim to all the town sites in the Province, and in their generosity would hand out to the returned soldiers just as liberally as either the Provincial or the Dominion Governments.

The Indians are becoming educated, and some of them are studying law, with the object of getting their deferred land question settled, and every year that the question is further deferred will make the settlement all the more difficult. The matter has been before the Dominion Government for many years, and prominent lawyers throughout the Dominion give it as their judgment that inasmuch as the Indians have not surrendered their title to the lands of the Province, this title is still good, and will remain good until a proper settlement is made.

A closing word with regard to our returned soldiers. There are hundreds of thousands of acres of the best lands in the Province held by speculators which might be expropriated for the use of our worthy soldiers without doing an injury to anyone.

DISPROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION.

To the Editor.—In an editorial a short time ago you published an abstract of the electoral vote in Great Britain, which showed very clearly the imperfect results in the present system of election. You quoted The London Times as authority for the figures presented:

Coalition (all units)	5,096,233
Non-Coalition (all units)	4,593,376

As this is only a partial return, the results cannot be taken too literally, but it is presumable that the above is a true indication of the whole of Great Britain.

The Coalitionists secured 461 seats, and their opponents secured 192 seats. The former polled an average of 11,054 votes each, and the latter an average of 45,933 votes each. The election in Ireland is still more illuminating. The Sinn Feinners polled 485,105 votes, and won seventy-three seats, or an average of 6,645 votes, and their combined opponents polled 583,555 votes and won thirty seats, or an average of 19,452 votes each. In common justice and fairness, ought not the representation to bear a true proportion to the votes cast?

Applying the principle of proportional representation to the late civic election, it is clear that a grave injustice has been done. Two soldier-voters each, and their combined opponents polled 583,555 votes and won thirty seats, or an average of 19,452 votes each, yet neither was elected. Three women polled an aggregate of 3,145, yet found no place in the City Council.

NO CONSTIPATION NO PILES

We think, without a doubt, that constipation is the most prevalent, and at the same time, one of the greatest troubles human nature is afflicted with, and causes more sickness than anything else.

Unless a free action of the bowels occurs at least once a day, constipation is sure to ensue, then comes the sore and uncomfortable piles, sick and bilious headaches, coated tongue, obnoxious breath, sour stomach, heartburn, water brash and many other ailments.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus removing the constipation and its allied troubles.

Mr. Dan Doucette, Eel River Crossing, N. B., writes: "Having been troubled for years with constipation and trying everything I knew of, a friend advised me to use Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I used four vials and am completely cured. I can gladly recommend them to anyone who suffers from constipation."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have been on the market for the past 25 years, and have been used with the best results by thousands of people in that time, and we have yet to hear of a complaint as to their curative powers.

Price 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WARNS CANADIAN WOMEN TO ORGANIZE TO EXERCISE VOTE

Women's Independent Association Hear Strong Address by Mrs. H. C. Hanington

Declaring that unless the women of Canada organize to exercise their franchise, not as the wives of their husbands but as citizens of Canada, the vote of the foreign-born women would prove a menace to the country, Mrs. H. C. Hanington, of Toronto, gave an address before the members of the Women's Independent Political Association last night. Mrs. Graves took the chair in the absence of Mrs. Williscroft, the president.

Her words were the outcome of a resolution sponsored by Mrs. Gordon Grant, calling upon the Federal Government to appoint an early date for the registration of the women enfranchised at the last session of the Dominion House. In the not unlikely event of a Dominion election in the near future, said Mrs. Grant, with the women unregistered they would lose their opportunity to vote at a time when the women all over the country were awakening to the big questions needing re-adjustment after the war.

A Federal "Lullaby."

Mrs. Hanington expressed herself as amazed at the apathy of the women of the Dominion in regard to the big question of the vote, for which a few enlightened women had fought so long and strenuously. While the Canadian-born women had contentedly folded their hands, after helping to elect the Union Government to power, the hundreds of thousands of foreign-born women throughout the Dominion, and especially in the northwest, were prepared to vote said the speaker, warning the women of the serious consequences of such a situation in the event of a general election.

She deprecated that attitude which contented itself with "passing resolutions and then chasing its tails," scornfully asserting that "resolutions were just like a lullaby to the Dominion Government, and soothed them into comfortable rest." The speaker appealed to the women to bestir themselves and organize, not only into party lines, and not only through the women's present organizations for in the National Council of Women the old war-horses of that Council have got down to rigid party lines and would fight anything which sought a divergence from such.

The fact that the present big organizations were not coming up to standard, said Mrs. Hanington, emphasized the need of the women to educate themselves in the duties of citizenship and to solidly organize into a big national body, so that there could be some clearing house in which to settle the pressing questions demanding the attention of the women. For many years past, she continued, resolutions appealing for the consideration by the Federal Parliament on such vital matters as the establishment of a Dominion Health Bureau, the marriage and divorce laws, the inheritance law, conservation of life and the care of the feeble-minded had made their never-ending appearance. The Criminal Code deserved the attention of every woman, for with the equality of citizenship should come the equality of laws, and Mrs. Hanington made a special plea for the elimination from the Pension law "of that perfectly damnable clause of previous chaste character."

Condemnation of Virtue.

Declaring that more women were driven down to the gutter through the virtue of their sisters than through the conduct of the men, Mrs. Hanington urged that the women work to eliminate the stigma of illegitimacy from any child and to "remove the hideous limitations at present imposed upon our sisters and stand up for the dignity of motherhood." If the women would unite solidly, they could force such matters to a head, but nothing could be achieved unless strong leverage was asserted, concluded the speaker.

The vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by Mrs. Gordon Grant, and seconded by Mrs. J. D. Gordon, the latter taking opportunity to give notice of motion concerning the proposed dismissal of girls from the banks to make room for returned soldiers.

Mrs. Johnston reported for the committee on the new Municipal Act, stating the City Solicitor had been in-

MILITARY MIGHT DIRECT BUILDING OF BIG PROJECT

Canadian National Highway Could Be Built by Engineers

RECONSTRUCTION BODY IN FAVOR OF SCHEME

That the Canadian National Highway across Canada which it is proposed should be built as a war memorial, with one of its chief aims that of furnishing work for returned men in the scheme of reconstruction, the Canadian Reconstruction Association offers the proposal that the men of two hundred thousand Canadian soldiers are returning to Canada. The problems of getting these men back to civil employment is one of the greatest questions that Canada has to deal with in reconstruction. It is safe to say that a very large percentage of our returning soldiers are men who were formerly employed at what might be termed manual labor. It is also safe to say that a large percentage of the men who left positions in factories, stores, or even offices, in cities, will want to carry on in some other kind of open-air work. Further, the open air and roughing it during the war is most likely to have the effect of fitting these men for real outdoor constructive work of some kind.

Their views are expressed in the following words:

"Now that the war is over, upwards of two hundred thousand Canadian soldiers are returning to Canada. The problems of getting these men back to civil employment is one of the greatest questions that Canada has to deal with in reconstruction. It is safe to say that a very large percentage of our returning soldiers are men who were formerly employed at what might be termed manual labor. It is also safe to say that a large percentage of the men who left positions in factories, stores, or even offices, in cities, will want to carry on in some other kind of open-air work. Further, the open air and roughing it during the war is most likely to have the effect of fitting these men for real outdoor constructive work of some kind.

Government Should Start

In support of the above arguments, would it not be an opportune time for the Dominion Government to start upon the work of building a great National Highway. That no other form of work could be undertaken that would appeal so much to the masses as good road construction seems to be the consensus of public opinion through Canada. Such a plan would, if rightly organized, keep many of our returned soldiers in employment until they found occupation in civil life, and the movement would be backed by farmers and business men generally throughout the whole country. From the engineering point of view it is safe to say that there are sufficient enough experienced men in the Engineering Corps of the returned Canadian army to superintend such a national undertaking with the best possible results.

Military Supervision

Advocates of good roads claim that such a system covering a main trunk highway, built under military supervision and maintained by the Government, is the only sane and logical course to pursue in the development of better facilities for the farmers, cities, towns and villages of the country. It is claimed that a main trunk National Highway can be constructed to serve with provincial feeders 70 per cent of Canada's population. Branch feeders could be constructed in all provinces under Provincial Good Roads Associations and Highway Organizations, as are at present in force throughout Canada. By the construction of a great National Highway to all good road association work in providing for all time a trunk line for their branch feeders reaching out to serve the settled parts of their respective provinces.

All Would Benefit

"From an 'All-Canadian' point of view every province would form a link of this great National Highway, and all would benefit by it. Little by little during the past five to ten years the movement for better highways all over the American continent has been growing rapidly, until to-day the question of a great highway from coast to coast in Canada is one of national thought and study. The farmer knows best the value of good roads in increasing the comforts and conveniences of his home-life and in cities of his children. Residents in cities know that good roads mean cheaper and more regular supply of farm products to the city. Business men, cities, towns and villages are fully alive to the important part that good roads play in trade development between city and country. The auto owner and dealers are naturally strong supporters of better highways and every town and village in Canada has had demonstrated to them what good roads mean to business—from a tourist's standpoint. The benefits of a National Highway would be felt from coast to coast.

LOSS OF MAGNETOS A BLOW TO GERMANY

War Has Deprived Huns of Control of Spark-Giving Appliance

The automobile world generally is interested in the loss of the magneto industry to Germany. Before the war Germany had a corner on the manufacture of magnetos, the Bosch being in use wherever cars were made and operated. Practically the only magneto known or used, in England, for instance, was the Bosch. For a time when the supply was cut off the situation was in danger of becoming serious. British makers had to start the industry under the worst conditions, but they succeeded perfectly and in the last four years 300,000 magnetos have been made in England for war service alone and they are in all respects as good as the Bosch magneto. This is one more instance of an industry which Germany has lost through deciding to go to war. If peace had not been broken it would never have occurred to British manufacturers to enter into competition with the German magneto. There will be no going back and the day of the Bosch magneto is over in England. There is also the matter of carbons for arc lamps. Before the war these were largely imported from Germany and Austria, the British manufacture in this as in many other instances having been ruined through unemployment in the industry also has been recovered and England is now self-supporting in this direction.

In United States

On December 7, 1918, the alien property custodian of the United States took the entire property holdings, assets and patent rights of the Bosch Magneto Company to the highest bidder. The American Bosch Magneto Corporation was founded and has taken over the entire holdings and organization of the old company, including the great factory at Springfield, Massachusetts, which comprises 250,000 square feet in buildings alone and employs 1,600 operatives; also the complete service and selling system throughout the United States, and the entire ownership of all the United States and foreign patents and trade marks under which the old company operated.

CADILLAC'S SHARE IN WINNING WAR SHOWN

Begg Motor Company Has Received Statement Showing Great Company's Effort

The Begg Motor Company, agents for the Cadillac cars, have received an interesting statement from the manufacturers showing what that company has done in the supply of equipment for the United States army.

Value Appreciated

Cadillac performances had already demonstrated the superior advantages of the standard Cadillac car for army motor transport, previous to the participation of the United States army in the war. The Government had been using a number of them in the earlier stages. The British and Canadian Governments had also used a large number of Cadillac chassis and found them adaptable to their needs, particularly for ambulance service at the front. When it came time to adopt a standard seven-passenger car, the certainty of the Government in its selection of the Cadillac was due directly to the outcome of a competitive motor test held at Mera, Texas, in July, 1917. Under the observation of U. S. army officers a 2,900-mile run under the most severe conditions brought honors to the Cadillac. In addition to this, the Cadillac completed a 5,000-mile test under similar circumstances in excellent shape.

A number of Cadillac cars were used to relieve the railroad on a French mail route out of Paris. The runs varied from 150 to 200 miles in length. These cars effectively demonstrated their endurance in making the runs day after day and month after month, averaging 35 miles per hour.

The cars used by the United States army are standard Cadillac seven-passenger cars except that they are painted olive-drab and carry auxiliary fuel tanks in the running boards. A very considerable number of these seven-passenger cars were used by the Government.

A Rough and Ready Limousine

An interesting piece of Government motor equipment was the special type of Cadillac limousine developed and manufactured for army use overseas. In exterior appearance this limousine, except for its olive-drab finish, resembled the car in which mildly good shogging, but the interior was especially adapted to the rough and ready uses of war. It is upholstered in leather instead of mohair velvet, the curtains are canvas instead of tulle, the floor is covered with a rough coconut mat and the passenger compartment is provided with a desk intended for the use of the officers in referring to their maps and charts while traveling from one part of the war zone to another. These special limousine bodies are mounted on the standard chassis.

PLAN CONVENTION HERE THIS MONTH

Good Roads Movement in British Columbia to Urge Large Programme

A good roads convention is planned in Victoria to take place on Monday week. A meeting, at which Mr. Mayor Gold attended, was held under the presidency of Mayor Gale at Vancouver on Wednesday to discuss details. It is the intention to hold a public session, and follow it with a deputations to the Minister of Public Works. The plan to be urged at the meeting is that the Provincial Government borrow $5,000,000 from the Dominion Government, which is pledged to supply public works of productive nature. The money could be obtained, it was urged, at a low rate of interest. By earmarking current revenues from automobiles to cover the interest on this fund on this money it would be possible to place this burden where it rightfully belonged, and in other words, the automobile owner who receives the fullest enjoyment of good roads would be the man to pay the piper.

The programme includes a demonstration of the fact that British Columbia is shut off from the balance of the continent by two gaps in the highway systems. One is a gap of sixty-three miles on the Hope-Princeton route, the other gap of approximately fifty miles on what is known as the Fraser River route. Strong representations will be made for the linking up of one or other of these connecting stretches of highway. Further representations will also be made to the Provincial Government, urging the paving of a highway from New Westminster to Blaine, to connect with the ninety-five mile stretch to Seattle. This would also serve to tap the industrial districts of the Fraser Valley, and be of great service to the producing farmer, it was asserted.

MANIFOLD HEATER FOR FORDS ECONOMICAL

Reasons for Using Economy Saver of Gasoline; National Motor Company Agents

The National Motor Company, 831 Yates Street, are the sales agents for the Powerlight Manifold Heater for Ford cars. It is claimed for the heater that it will show an average saving on each gallon of gasoline used of ten miles, or over 40 per cent. The Powerlight Manifold Heater for Ford cars will save from 25 to 40 per cent on gasoline, which means more mileage, it is claimed.

It heats the gasoline after it leaves the carburetor and as it enters the manifold intake, so that it will enter into the cylinder in a dry, intensely hot state. Every cylinder will receive the same quality gas, for every particle of the gasoline has been thoroughly vaporized and will cause a much better mixture. In consequence, more power is secured.

It will reduce by 50 per cent, the carbon deposits in the cylinder walls, valves and spark plug, for where there is no heating device of any sort the gasoline enters the cylinders in a semi-liquid state, causing a red, smoky flame. This is especially true of the low grade gasoline of to-day. Result, perfect firing is obtained.

It will do away with spark plug and valve trouble, and lessens the chances of leaky valves, doing away with the necessity of grinding valves or burning out the cylinders, and causes a much smoother running of the engine, therefore, longer life for the engine.

It can be installed in a few minutes without interfering or altering any part of the Model T Ford car. It consists of two cup-like iron pieces which clamp together where the intake joins the manifold, making a practically

A Pleasure in Answering Your Call

There are between 5,000 and 6,000 automobile owners on Vancouver Island, and every one of them, not so much through civic pride, but for their own benefit, should be on the subscription list of their home motor magazine. A subscriber is entitled to the bureau of information this journal has established, and furnishes maps, logs and generally offers all an autoist desires in motor lore.

The Motorist has been established five years and has proved from a publicity point of view one of the Island's greatest assets. The subscription price for 1 year is $1.00. Phone in your order to 1710 L, or 220. Address P. O. Box 358, of 410 Permanent Loan Bldg.

heat-tight chamber with a little asbestos packing between the two pieces. Two bolts hold the heater in place, and the heat is obtained by drilling and tapping a 1/2-inch iron pipe size hole into the exhaust pipe of the manifold. Into this hole is screwed a street-elbow and connecting with this elbow and the top of the heater is a flexible steel tube which causes the heat from the exhaust to enter the heater at the top, and from the lower part of the heater is a similar flexible steel tube carrying away all the heated gases. In a few minutes the entire lower end of the manifold is very hot and the gas coming from the carburetor is vaporized to a high degree. Power is even and strong; there is little noise because the carbon knocks are eliminated; spark plug and valve troubles are unknown, and the life and efficiency of the engine is greatly increased. There is no attempt made to improve the Ford engine, and no part of it is altered. By actual results Ford cars have been tested to run as high as 35 miles to the gallon and the price of the heater will be saved in a short time.

SAVES FARMER TIME AND CUTS EXPENSE

Tractors and Motor-Driven Vehicles Fast Replacing Horses

"The farm tractor and the truck will play a bigger part this year in the development of rural districts and go further toward closely linking up the central markets of the city with adjacent productive districts than ever before in the history of this country," said Tom Plimley in discussing the season's outlook. Backing up his faith in the prospects, Mr. Plimley has placed in stock one of the most complete lines of tractors to be found on the Pacific Coast. The city lot gardener can be supplied with a small-type to suit all purposes, and do many little odd jobs around the home, such as sawing wood, operating the washing machine and other things of a useful nature. The man with a small farm can secure a little larger machine, which has special features to fit the work it

Intended to do, while for large farms a still larger machine is offered.

The smaller of the three is the Heenan, the next the Avery, and the largest the Heider, and all three are destined to become exceedingly familiar to producers of Victoria and the surrounding district. Demonstrations of the Heenan garden tractor were given the strawberry growers at Gordon Head to-day, and Captain Hagar, in charge of Plimley's tractor department, expects to place a number of these handy little machines as a result of the satisfactory exhibition. The farm tractors, too, have won favor in the district and already a number of various types have been sold.

The use of a tractor does away with the necessity of growing feed for horses or of the considerable expense of importing feed, the high cost of which has proved a big check on agricultural development in all parts of Vancouver Island. In clearing land they are of great assistance, and in all other work about a farm they are so efficient that it is possible by the use of horses.

In the same way, the motor driven vehicle is fast taking the place of the slower horse drawn wagon method of hauling produce to market. Passenger cars using trailers, converted cars and light trucks are the favorite means of transport for all purposes between farm and city.

COMPLETES FORTY YEARS IN MINISTRY

Rev. Joseph McCoy's Congregation Recognizes Long Association With Pastor

During the past week the congregation of Knox Church and their friends joined heartily in doing honor to their minister, the Reverend Joseph McCoy, M. A., on his completion of forty years in the active work of the Christian ministry.

Reverend Dr. Colin Fletcher, the Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, traveled from Toronto to be with his old and beloved friend, the pastor, at the celebration of the anniversary. Friends they have been since their college days; and when student days were over, they were examined together, by the Presbytery of Huron on February 3, 1879, and on the same day Mr. McCoy was ordained to the ministry. Seventeen days later, Dr. Fletcher was ordained, and inducted into the charge of Thames Road congregation in the same presbytery.

There were present also Rev. Dr. J. K. Wright, of Vancouver, another fellow student, and Rev. John L. Campbell, B. D., of Collingwood East. Dr. Fletcher preached excellent sermons to large congregations on Sunday morning and evening. These were particularly appropriate, the subject of the morning being "The Christian's Heritage," and of the evening being "The Pre-eminence of Christ." In the afternoon Dr. Wright gave a very interesting account of the translations of the Bible, grouping these in the four periods: First, from early times to the conversion of Constantine; second, to the fall of Constantinople; third, to the founding of the British and Foreign Bible Society, and fourth down to the present, the most prolific period of all.

On Monday evening there was a mass meeting in the church at which addresses were given by Rev. Dr. Campbell, of Victoria, who was also a college friend; Rev. T. S. Baynes, of St. Columba Church, and Rev. D. A. Smith, of St. Aidan's Church. Rev. J. L. Campbell, B. D., presided.

On Wednesday evening the ladies of the church tendered a banquet when one hundred sat down to tables laden with all good things. Later a very happy time was spent. Speeches and songs interspersed filled out a good programme. Piper Cameron did honor to his compatriots with a skirl of the pipes. Among those expressed their good wishes were Messrs. J. A. McIntosh, M. Nutrie, A. S. Huxtable, W. D. Kinnaird, W. A. Jameson, L. Partridge, Dr. Fletcher and Rev. Joseph McCoy. Songs were sung by Mrs. R. Wilson, Mrs. W. A. Jameson and F. J. Mitchell. Miss Wheeler rendered some beautiful piano selections. The music at all the services was of a high order, rendered by the choir under the efficient leadership of F. J. Mitchell.

After singing "Auld Lang Syne" and the Long Metre Doxology, the friends parted with good wishes.

MILLIONAIRES WON BY ONLY SCORE IN EXCITING BATTLE

Aristocrats, With Two Men on Sick List, Did Everything but Score

One goal hanged in by McKay when there was less than two minutes to play in the second period proved to be the winning tally and the only counter in the game against the Millionaires last night. It was a good goal for Vancouver. The rover maneuvered until he was a few yards in front of Murray's goal and then made sure with a shot that it was impossible for the home custodian to get to Lester Patrick had Laughlin out of his line, the defence man being in the doctor's hands, and at the last minute he lost the services of Genge, who was not well enough to take the ice for last night's battle. Lester himself stepped into the breach and played with Moose Johnson on the defence line.

Swift From the Start

The first period was swifter than the fans thought possible for the second, but with the first goal to be scored the players on both sides were working like Taylor and McKay were down the ice and towards Murray just about as often as the home scoring men were trying out Lehman in the first two periods. In the last period the players gave Lehman the busiest time he has had against the Victoria team, and Hughie was like a stone wall. With Victoria fighting for a tally he was bombarded for the greater part of the last period, while Murray at the other end had things fairly easy, but for the last five minutes of the play Duncean relieved the pressure at several critical times by skating away with the puck to safety. Tommy Murray had a dozen to save in a little over five minutes before the whistle blew, and Lehman only got his stick to the puck twice.

McKay, Stanley Taylor and Harris were working with clocklike precision and the Vancouver men were feeding their centre well. The Cyclone made a great effort to recover his standing in the individual scoring record, but Tommy Murray showed greater form than he has ever shown since he came to the Aristocrats.

Dunderdale's Shots

Dunderdale was off the ice for a part of the first period in the surgeon's hands as the result of a crack in the side of the head, but Tommy was back for the second with a bandage around, and tearing into the game every second. He gave Lehman more trouble than any other Aristocrat and tried every variety of shot in an effort to work out Vancouver's lone marker. Oatman and Dunderdale seemed to be in every movement and have never appeared to such great advantage on home ice before this season. Judging from the way he mixed it last night the Aristocrats' captain is back into the shape he was before the "flu." He was on the ice the whole of the time and was playing as hard as the last second of the bell as when he started the game. Marples worked hard, but did not show up so brilliantly as he did in his game last Friday.

Busy Lehman

In the first period Murray did not have nearly as many to handle as his partner in the same position at the other end of the ice, but he had some hot ones from Taylor and McKay to stop, and got a ringing cheer for the way he protected his net. Before Vancouver had made their first point the home players were in several movements in front of Lehman that looked certain to end in a goal. At one time Oatman got past Cook and Duncan, and gave Tobin a pass which he promptly hanged in. Hughie just got his stick to it in time before he had been able to clear properly. Eddie slammed it back at him, but he was safe again, and Duncan relieved the pressure just in time. Marples got in a shot right after, and then Dunderdale and Oatman and Tobin were working together again in a way that looked like goals. Mixing it right in Lehman's territory the Aristocrats were battling all the time and putting in those close range shots from the angles that spell counters. After the Moose had skated up to carry the puck towards goal he gave a pass to Oatman which the captain put right across the goal mouth.

Playing Leapfrogs

Johnson skating back to his defence was running into Tobin, who was on the floor and opening his legs-jumped clear over the wing man leaping in fashion, instead of sparing the time to skate around him. Stanley, McKay and Taylor made for the Aristocrats' goal in a perfect line, and passing beautifully finished the movement with a pass to the Cyclone which enables him to put the last shot for a goal before the period closed.

McKay Dangerous

In the only period in which a goal was scored the pace was just as swift as in the first period. Dunderdale came back after his injuries had been attended to and replaced Barbour and the center man showed that the crack had not taken any of the fight out of him. He was right into every piece of play as soon as the puck had been faced, and had more attempts to score than any other man on the side, although some of the long ones that he put in although they had lots of pep, did not worry the Millionaires' net guardian much. Tobin and Oatman, working together in front of Lehman, once had him right out of his goal after he had saved one, but he was back in his position before they could get to the puck to put another shot in. McKay was dangerous every minute, and had to be well watched. The Millionaire was showing more speed than any man on the ice wearing the Vancouver colors. Lester Patrick got a good reception from the crowd as he was off towards Lehman in one or two efforts the local boss preferred to stick close to the goal most of the time, and helped Johnson to put up the stubborn resistance which with Murray's fine work held the Millionaires down to one goal. He was at the other end of the ice after one of his clearances combined with an attack on goal when McKay hung up the first counter.

Everything But Goals

The Aristocrats had the edge on the Millionaires until the last five minutes of the last period, but could do everything but score. Oatman and Dunderdale got home some that deserved success, and Tobin was in a lot of close up work with the captain. A little struggle all on their own for possession of the puck between the two veterans Taylor and Johnson was watched with excitement, and the Victoria fans let forth a ringing cheer for their favorite as he got away with the puck and carried it to the other end.

CAPTAIN LANCE WARN HAS DIED IN ENGLAND

Capt. Lancelot Rodney Warn, brother of C. C. A. Warn, 1141 Rockland Avenue, and of Stanley Warn, captain of the swimming section of the Vancouver Island Athletic Association, who as announced yesterday was seriously ill, has passed away, his death, it is thought, having been due to typhoid fever. The captain, who went away with the 30th Battalion as a private, won his promotion on the field, and had also been recommended for the Order of the British Empire. He fought in France with the 16th Canadian Scottish, and for the last two years had been in charge of the gymnasium school at Bramshott. Before going overseas he was with the Warn Land Investment Company at Nanaimo. His brother Stanley, who fought with the 29th Battalion in the early part of the war and was badly wounded, had been decorated for bravery.

GOAL GETTERS HAVE TO WORK HARD TO WIN HOCKEY CROWN

Dunderdale Among the Men Fighting for Position in the List

Will "Cyclone" Taylor retain his title as champion scorer of the Pacific Coast League, or will a new scoring king be crowned when the curtain goes down on the 1913 series?

Those who have followed Taylor's puck-chasing activities during the past few years are inclined to string along with the Vancouver veterans, but there are other fans and critics on the circuit who believe that there is every chance of a new champion coming to the front. The race for scoring honors is not the least of a season of lively happenings in Pacific Coast hockey circles. Whether the desire for goals on the part of the speed kings of the ice sport militates against the success of a team's combination play is a contentious point, says A. T. Gavin, the official scorer of the P. C. H. A. Some believe that it has a tendency to bring out more individual effort than team play, but sizing it up from all angles we believe that to crown on the goal-getting aspirations of the athletes would be to serve up hockey nowadays with a lot of seasoning missing. Keen competition and rivalry among the star scorers tends to spur them on to greater effort, it provides excitement for the fans and creates no end of speculation. Let the race for individual scoring honors continue, but at the same time players should remember that team work is a potent factor in their success.

Lalonde First Champion Scorer of Coast League

In seven years of hockey on the coast four players have shared the scoring honors. The title went to "Newsey" Lalonde in 1912, the first year of hockey. He scored twenty-nine goals in fifteen games. Tommy Dunderdale, of Victoria, led the league in 1912-13, but since then, with the exception of one season, "Cyclone" Taylor, Vancouver's scoring wizard, has been the big noise. In 1916-17, when he was stricken with appendicitis and only got into half of the games played, Bernie Morris, the Seattle centre, topped Taylor's scoring wizard, has been the big noise. In 1916-17, when he was stricken with appendicitis and only got into half of the games played, Bernie Morris, the Seattle centre, topped Taylor's scoring wizard, has been the big noise. In 1916-17, when he was stricken with appendicitis and only got into half of the games played, Bernie Morris, the Seattle centre, topped Taylor's scoring wizard, has been the big noise.

Bobby Rowe Sets Fast Pace For Defense Men

This season fans believe that the honors will rest between Taylor and Mackay, of Vancouver, Dunderdale, Oatman or Tobin of Victoria, or Morris, Foyston and Walker of Seattle. Bobby Rowe may continue to pick off a lot of goals, but with the exception of Frank Patrick, who a few seasons ago established marks for defense men to shoot at, no defense man has made much of a showing in goal getting. Rowe may prove another Patrick this season, but his chances of scoring do not come as often as they do with the other players on the scoring division. Taylor Holds Record For Aggregate Goals in Six Seasons.

Taylor holds the record for aggregate points in six seasons, but Doc Roberts, formerly of Vancouver and Seattle, set the high water mark for goals scored in one season. When a member of the Vancouver team in 1915-17 he finished second in the race, scoring forty-three goals, but Morris was the leader with thirty-seven goals and seventeen assists. Roberts was only credited with ten assists. But one point separated the men at the finish. Frank Foyston had a great run in 1916-17, finishing third with thirty-six goals and twelve assists to his credit. Barney Stanley during the same season ran through twenty-eight goals and eighteen assists were recorded against his name, but before and since then the Vancouver man has been woefully weak on gathering in markers. Mickey Mackay proved a scoring wizard in 1914-15 when he was runner-up for the championship, finishing but a point behind Taylor. Their standing was: Taylor twenty-four goals and twenty-one assists; Mackay thirty-three goals and eleven assists. The records of this season's contenders for scoring honors since they broke into the Coast League will be of interest to Pacific Coast fans-at this time:

WANT CONTROL OF GAME AND FISH TO BE UNDER PROVINCE

Sportsman's Claims to Be Presented to Ottawa This Month

The Dominion Game Preservation Board in Ottawa will be asked by British Columbia sportsmen to put the control of the shooting of migratory birds, and the control of sporting fish entirely under the provincial authorities instead of under the dual control practiced at present. A resolution to this effect was passed at the annual meeting of the Vancouver Angling and Game Association, and will be presented to a conference of sportsmen to be held in Ottawa this month.

Duck Shooting. The dissatisfaction among British Columbia sportsmen with the present laws for the fixing of the dates for seasons by the Dominion authorities was caused mainly by the fact that the season for duck-shooting ended too late for the northern ducks, which are just now in this district. Members agreed that authority had been denied British Columbia to make her own game laws. This, they thought, was wrong, inasmuch as the various states in the American Union were permitted to make their own rules and regulations governing hunting and fishing.

Dr. A. E. Baker, on behalf of the Game Board, pointed out that although it was popularly believed that the Supreme Court had declared the Migratory Birds Act as constitutional, it was wrong, and no such ruling had ever been made. He produced a letter from the United-States Government to prove this statement.

Migratory Birds. On July 13 of last year President Wilson signed a treaty with Great Britain for the protection of migratory birds. Under this treaty three and one-half months of the year could be declared as open season for the shooting of migratory birds. In the United States, Dr. Baker continued, states were permitted to choose their own seasons. In Canada, however, the Dominion Government set aside a period from September 1 to February 28, leaving provinces the right to choose which months should be declared open season. Dr. Baker contended that British Columbia was entitled to name her season from any month in the year, under the treaty, so long as the open period was restricted to three and one-half months. His views were supported by the meeting, and by a unanimous vote he was delegated to set them before the coming conference at Ottawa.

Favor Protection. A movement was made to decide whether or not the meeting was in favor of extending the hunting season to six months, but upon being put to a vote it was defeated by a definite majority. Members expressed themselves as desirous of seeing the sport of duck and pheasant shooting last for many years, and believed that an extension of the season would cause great inroads to be made into the flocks of birds coming here, and in time might kill them off completely. One member declared, "We are sportsmen, not game hogs!" Other members in favor of an extension of the time limits, however argued that restrictions should be put on the bags in which case "the sport could be made to last forever."

DUCK SHOOTING CLOSED WITH BIRDS NUMEROUS

After three months' sport, generally satisfactory to the hunters, duck shooting on the Island closed yesterday. From November 2 the hunters have been having good average bags, although the season opens a little too early for the ducks to be plentiful. A couple of weeks after the opening date the birds were driven inland, and the season closed with the ducks easier to get than at any other time.

the time, found opportunities to make several visits to a settlement worker to the lowly home.

But to show that charity is like bread on the waters, Miss Bara found, in filming "When a Woman Sins," that she would have to portray the role of a girl who becomes a settlement worker. From her experiences in New York, she was able to give to the part an accuracy of detail and an atmosphere that would have baffled any other actress.

For the last time also Charlie Chaplin will be seen in what is considered to be one of his funniest comedies entitled "Work." It is one of Chaplin's best and keeps the audience in roars of laughter from beginning to end.

DOMINION

One of the most striking features of "The Caillaux Case," the thrilling photoplay of real life which is appearing at the Dominion Theatre is the remarkable casting of the various characters.

Since the picture is a reproduction of the historical events associated in France and America with the public careers of former President Caillaux, his beautiful wife, and Bolo Pasha, the traitor, William Fox, the producer, was especially desirous of engaging players who were physical "doubles" of the famous persons portrayed.

The finished picture is flattering proof of his success. Not only have the principals in the story been duplicated in appearance, but their whole bearing and even their little mannerisms have been studied and reproduced on the screen. One who has seen photographs of the originals can almost imagine that they are actually coming before his eyes the sensational acts that have stirred the whole world.

COLUMBIA

The latest addition to the list of notable characterizations of Mary Pickford, which in recent months have made more secure her fame as the greatest of all screen stars, is Bret Hart's Western masterpiece, "M'Liss," which was adapted by Frances Marion and produced under the direction of Marshall Neilan. "M'Liss" with America's sweetheart in the stellar role is delighting big audiences daily at the Columbia, where it will be screened for the last time to-day. The play is filled with strong dramatic action and the best appeal is irresistible. Supported by an excellent cast of players, Miss Pickford's characterization in "M'Liss" will doubtless rank as one of the best she has essayed since "Tess of the Stormy Country."

ROMANO

At the time Lin McLean saw her, Katy was a biscuit shooter in a Denver railroad restaurant. It was not a delicate job for any woman and Lin's big heart went out to the dissatisfied girl immediately. Had he known that she had a husband acting as an assistant to a professional rainmaker and a curly-headed boy earning his own living by selling newspapers, and sleeping on doorsteps, he would have been more cautious. As it was, he offered Katy a home in the great and hospitable West. The events that follow provide interesting action in "A Woman's Fool," the picture in which Harry Carey plays the role of Lin McLean, with Molly Malone as the leading lady. "A Woman's Fool" will be shown at the Romano for the last time to-day.

VARIETY

Dr. Zell Hunt, the genius of mental telepathy and hypnotism, is the headline attraction at the Variety to-day and will give performances continuously from 2 to 11 o'clock. This afternoon's matinee should be very attractive to parents and children alike, as they will find much wholesome entertainment in the big double programme, while the evening performance will also offer an hour and a half of riotous fun and laughter, for in addition to Dr. Hunt's demonstrations of mental telepathy and his scientific hypnotic power, the Triangle photodrama, "The Children in the House," starring beautiful Norma Talmadge, will be shown, also a K-B comedy.

Dr. Hunt has been held over for all next week at the Variety and will offer new feats, new faces and new fun every night. The doctor will make you forget your ills, bills and pills.

PANTAGES

Next week's bill at the Pantages is a gala combination of wit, music and song. It is mainly composed of these three essential elements of entertaining vaudeville. Elaborately-Stage'd Pantomime to Be Produced at Royal Victoria Theatre

Under the capable direction of Mlle. Barber Fay, the rehearsals for the big pantomime, "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves," to be produced at the Royal Victoria Theatre on February 24, 25 and 26, are rapidly nearing that standard of perfection essential to the success of any production.

The Royal Victoria Theatre was chosen for the staging of the pantomime, as the scenic effects are on such a gigantic scale, and the company is so numerous that no other stage in the city was large enough to carry the production. The pantomime is built around the old Arabian Nights fairy story, and the Oriental setting gives every opportunity for the lavish display of pretty girls, beautiful costumes and elaborate scenic effects.

The principals in the cast include J. W. Davis as Ali Baba, Miss H. Barr as Morgiana, the slave, Miss Isabel Taylor as Fatima, B. Hudson as Abadulla, G. Menelava as Hasserac, and W. Cobbett as Mrs. Cassim.

A series of unusually beautiful ballets has been arranged by Mlle. Fay, while the libretto sparkles with humor. The music is particularly attractive and will be rendered by the Royal Victoria orchestra under the direction of Mr. Bullough, and with Mme. Kate Webb at the piano.

The pantomime has been arranged in aid of the funds of the Red Cross and the organizers hope to raise a goodly sum by this means.

MUSICAL SHOW OF HIGHEST ORDER WILL BE AT ROYAL NEXT WEEK

Richard Carle in "Furs and Frills" is announced as the attraction for the Royal Victoria Theatre for two days on Monday and Tuesday. This is a production which can be especially recommended for theatre parties. The name of Carle is always a guarantee for the fitness of a production and in "Furs and Frills" there is no exception. There is plenty of good, sparkling Carle comedy, there is a typical Carle beauty chorus, there is tuneful music, attractive costumes, pretty stage pictures and all that goes to make a musical show of the highest order. Mr. Carle has a role which shows him in slightly different lines from any heretofore essayed by him and he is proving an even greater laughing success than ever before. The cast includes besides Mr. Carle, Harriet Burt, Martha Craver, Hattie Fox, Jay Elwood, George Bogues, Milt Dawson, William Wolf, Joseph McNamee, Edward Meredith, the violin girls, and the Carle far-famed beauty brigade.

Land and Loans—to Help Soldiers Become Farmers

IT is anticipated that a great many soldiers who have served with the Canadian, British or Allied forces may want to become farmers in Canada. The vital need to-day is to increase production and the acreage under cultivation. It is thus in Canada's best interests to give these soldiers every assistance. The Government has therefore been developing a programme that includes the providing of land, the granting of loans and the training and supervision of those inexperienced in farming.

When these new proposals for land purchase become effective the Board will be able to loan the soldier settler up to a total of $1,500 for the purchase of livestock and equipment in addition to the loan for the purchase of his land. It will be granted on practically the same terms as the loans now allowed.

As the soldier improves his farm the Board may advance him a further $1,000.

Who May Apply
 The Act applies to any one who has served with an honourable record in the Canadian or Imperial forces in the present war, or to any Canadian who was on active service with the Allied forces, or the widow of any such person who died on active service.

The Board will loan money only to those who have had sufficient experience or training in farming. Each applicant may be required to appear in person before the Qualification Committee in his district.

Training
 Those soldiers who have had insufficient experience in farming will be helped by the Board to secure the necessary training to qualify them for the loans.

Special instructional courses are being arranged with the agricultural schools and experimental farms.

Farmers will be asked to co-operate in giving the soldier practical training and knowledge.

Expert Assistance
 The work of the Soldier Settlement Board is carried out by Supervisors in each of the provinces.

These supervisors have under them a staff of land appraisers to value the land, and, farming advisors or practical farmers in the community to advise the soldier after he has definitely settled on his farm.

Qualification Committees are being appointed in each Province to advise the Board as to the qualifications of each applicant.

Results
 Loans, amounting to over 1 1/2 million dollars, have already been granted to over one thousand returned soldiers.

Since the regulations were completed last July, over eight hundred soldiers have made entries on Dominion Crown Lands under the Soldier Settlement Act.

The amount of the land purchased by this plan, if it is approved by Parliament, will be limited in value to $5,000. Interest will be charged at a low rate of five per cent.

The lands so bought will be re-sold to the soldier at cost price. It is suggested that the purchaser be required to make a cash payment of one-tenth of the purchase price. The balance will be payable in equal annual instalments extended over twenty years or longer.

It is now proposed that the Provincial Governments co-operate with the Soldier Settlement Board in acquiring suitable lands at present held uncultivated by private owners. The Dominion Government has announced its intention of introducing necessary legislation along these lines at the opening of the next Session.

Offices of the Soldier Settlement Board are located as follows: Post Office Bldg., EDMONTON, Alta.; Post Office Bldg., WINNIPEG, Man.; Fernberion Bldg., VICTORIA, B.C.; McCallum Hill Bldg., REGINA, Sask.; 32 Adelaide St. E., TORONTO, Ont.; Drummond Bldg., MONTREAL, Que. In New Brunswick the Board is temporarily represented by the Secretary of the Provincial Farm Settlement Board, St. John; in Nova Scotia, by the Secretary of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, Halifax, N.S.; and in Prince Edward Island by the Minister of Agriculture, Charlottetown.

FORCED TO SEEK SHELTER AT NOOTKA

Nitinat, With Princess Maquinna in Tow, Expected Here Monday

Unable to face the strong southeast gale razing off the West Coast the C. P. R. tug Nitinat with the disabled steamship Princess Maquinna alongside was this forenoon tied up at the wharf at Nootka.

The Princess Maquinna, which earlier in the week was left helpless by stripping her propeller at Easy Creek, left Kruquot Sound early yesterday morning for Victoria in tow of the tug Nitinat which had been dispatched from Union Bay to her assistance.

Last evening she encountered heavy weather, and the Nitinat was forced to put into Nootka for shelter.

Departure from Nootka will not be made until the gale has abated. It is not expected that the Princess Maquinna will arrive here before Monday.

The steamship Princess Mary, which was sent from Victoria to take off the Maquinna's passengers, mails and freight and take them on to destinations on the West Coast, was this morning reported at Winter Harbor on her return trip from Quatsino Sound.

Sailing Cancelled. Owing to the heavy weather outside the sailing of the steamer Island Princess, scheduled this morning, for the Gulf Islands, was cancelled. She will leave to-morrow and the auto-stage will leave the Belleville Street wharves at 8.30 a.m. to make connection with the steamer at Sidney.

The Island Princess will again leave Victoria Wednesday morning for Gulf ports, departing from the Inner Harbor at the scheduled hour. There will be no stage service to Sidney on Wednesday.

The O. S. K. liner Africa Maru arrived at Kobe, Japan, February 2, from Seattle and Victoria. The liner Panama Maru arrived at Yokohama, February 3.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE IN ORIENTAL WRECK

E. K. Howe, Manager for Dollar Line at Shanghai, Quantic Survivor

News of the miraculous escape from death of E. K. Howe, general manager of the Dollar Line Company at Shanghai, in the wreck of the American Shipping Board steamship Quantic, lost recently on Tablas Island, Philippine coast, was brought by the O. S. K. liner Arabia Maru, in port yesterday from the Far East.

Fourteen persons, two of whom were Americans, perished in the wreck. Mr. Howe, with forty-eight others who were rescued, were taken to Manila on a coast guard steamer. After seeing five people crushed to death between the Quantic and the jagged reefs in attempting to swing themselves to safety by a cable struck from the wreck to nearby rocks, Mr. Howe waited until the ship had been driven high on the reefs. He was knocked unconscious after he had succeeded in reaching a coral reef. When daylight came he and other survivors were picked up and taken to the home of a cocoanut planter and later conveyed to the Philippine General Hospital at Manila.

Mr. Howe sustained badly lacerated feet and hands, and was otherwise seriously bruised about the body. The storm which wrecked the Quantic was one of the worst experienced on the Philippine coast in several years.

Over fifty people were killed, hundreds of houses were damaged, several vessels were lost, and nearly $2,000,000 in damage was caused by plantations in the area swept by the typhoon. Samar, Albay, Camarines, Leyte and the northern coast of Mindanao, suffered greatly from the storm.

The Quantic, formerly a German ship, is reported to be a total loss.

SPEAKS HIGHLY OF FRENCH SHIPS BUILDING HERE

Isle de Beauchaine, Bureau Veritas Inspector, Impressed With Type of Construction

On his way to China to inspect vessels building at Taku for French registry, G. Isle de Beauchaine, naval expert and inspector for the Bureau Veritas, is now in the city awaiting the departure of the liner Kashima Maru for the Far East.

In conversation with a representative of The Times to-day M. Beauchaine stated that he was under instructions to proceed to Taku to inspect the first batch of a fleet of twenty-two steamers which are being built there for French and Chinese capitalists. Manchurian oak is the wood being used in the construction of these vessels which are of 2,000 tons register.

While in Victoria, M. Beauchaine took the opportunity of looking over the Foundation plants here where twenty 3,000-ton wooden steamships are being built to the order of the French Government.

Like Ships Here. "I am particularly struck with the type of vessel under construction here," he said. "They are strongly built ships, and have graceful lines."

"The Foundation Company is a capable concern which has turned out highly in Victoria. M. Beauchaine took the opportunity of looking over the Foundation yards, and speaks highly of the organization governing this contract.

He proposes to sail from this port on February 14 by the steamship Kashima Maru, and will spend several months in the Orient before returning to France.

Speaking of the shipping situation in Europe, M. Beauchaine stated that the steel yards are gradually getting back to normal conditions. In his opinion there will be strong competition for tonnage in the near future.

British After Ships. As recently as December last he says, English shipbuilders offered a proposition to French ship-owners to build steel tonnage at $140 a ton, which clearly indicates that the British yards are after the business.

M. Beauchaine says there is practically no difference in the cost of steel construction in France and the United States and Canada. When he left Paris the quotations on steel ships was anywhere from $180 to $200. This compares favorably with steel vessels building on the North Pacific coast at varying prices up to $195 per ton.

NAVAL POLICY OF CANADA OUTLINED

Dominion Council of Navy League Lays Down Its Programme

LARGE FUND APPORTIONED THROUGHOUT EMPIRE

Resolutions Passed Dealing With Various Important Matters

The Dominion Council of the Navy League of Canada at its meeting here this morning went on record that "the Navy League of Canada is in favor of a Naval Policy for Canada which will have regard to the needs of the whole British Empire, and in deciding upon such policy political exigencies should be disregarded and the opinion of the most eminent naval strategists alone considered."

"And the fundamental idea shall be Empire-wide defence and that the fleet units may be either acquired or built and that the Dominions shall retain control of their ships, and that there shall be a complete standardization of personnel, ships and equipment, and that the whole shall be of the best, and that in times of war all the fleets shall be under one supreme command."

The preamble to the above resolution set out that the time had come for Canada to join the other British Dominions in relieving the over-burdened British taxpayer of a portion of the immense obligation which he now carries, and should assume her full and fair share of the cost and responsibility of maintaining a united naval defence; and that the naval policy of Canada and its administration should be determined on broad lines and in co-operation with Great Britain and the Overseas Dominions.

Concluded To-day. The Dominion Council concluded its session in Victoria this afternoon by the passing of important resolutions dealing with the establishment of a Canadian navy and other matters.

An item of particular interest is the information issued by the Council that this city will have the pleasure of hearing Capt. Carpenter, V. C., the hero of the M. S. Vendictive in New Brunswick, and the wonderful pictures that have been taken of naval actions. Capt. Carpenter will tour Canada, and is expected in Victoria in about a month's time.

The large sum of $900,000 will be sent to England in connection with work among the sailors and their dependents. Grants will be made to the dependents of seamen in Canada on the same basis as the men in the Canadian navy. The League will continue paying them until such time as a Merchant Seamen's Pension Act is enacted in Canada, and that there are funds permitting.

Appropriations. The distribution of the fund collected during 1918 will be made as follows: Overseas, King George's Fund for Sailors, £100,000; Navy League of Canada, £25,000; New Brunswick Sailors' Institutes Endowment, $55,000; Port Arthur, Ont., Royal Army Sailors' Institute, $12,000; Institutes at Montreal and Quebec, $200,000; British and Foreign Sailors' Society, $7,500; relief of Canadian Seamen and their dependents, $100,000; Prince Edward Island Sailors' Home, $25,000; for education throughout Canada, $20,000, which, of course, is in addition to what the provinces will subscribe themselves.

It was resolved that in the opinion of the Navy League of Canada the great educational importance of moving pictures and the effect they have from a patriotic standpoint, on the minds of the young, more rigid supervision by the public censors should be exercised in relation to the exhibition of foreign troops or navies being represented as occupying a greater place in the great world's war than that of the British navy or army.

The League expressed hearty appreciation of the splendid and inspiring message delivered here and throughout Canada by Peter Wright and of the loyalty and bravery rendered by the seamen to their country.

A vote of sympathy to Lady Wolley in her recent bereavement was passed and a letter will be forwarded to her by the Dominion Council.

It was resolved that the Council of the League should strongly recommend that provision be made in the Soldiers' Settlement Act of Canada that men engaged during the war in the naval service of Canada equivalent to that provided for soldiers of the Canadian Expeditionary Force and that all men so employed in the Atlantic, Pacific or Overseas Divisions of the R. N. C. V. R. shall be regarded for this purpose as having been engaged in the theatre of war.

A resolution was passed that the League strongly impress upon the Government the absolute necessity of permanently maintaining the Naval Colleges in Canada.

The Council considered the complaints in connection with the administration of the Department of Naval Service put before it, and resolved as an instruction from the Dominion Council to the Dominion President that he proceed to Ottawa and there present to the Government the complaints and grievances accompanied by the evidence, with a view to securing prompt remedial action.

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-made

Here's an easy way to cure it, and get the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth); then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill the bottle. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you 16 ounces of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for five times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy cures a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seizes and penetrates through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, breaks the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

MAKURA TO ARRIVE HERE ON WEDNESDAY

Delayed Liner Will Be Closely Followed by the Niagara

After experiencing a series of delays in the South Seas the Canadian-Australian liner Makura, Capt. R. Crawford, will arrive here from Sydney and Auckland on February 12, according to the latest information received by the agents here.

Three months have elapsed since the Makura was last on this Coast. On arrival at Sydney, N.S.W., she was held in quarantine for several weeks with influenza cases on board, and subsequent to her release she was further delayed by the seamen's strike at the New South Wales port.

Among the saloon passengers aboard the Makura is George Bell, M. P., who is returning from New Zealand after conducting a campaign in the cause of prohibition.

The disruption of the service in the South will have the effect of bringing two of the Canadian-Australian liners in together. On February 14 or 15 the liner Niagara, Captain J. T. Rolls, is due here from Sydney. Prominent among the travelers on board the Niagara is General Paul Paul, the famous French military strategist, who has been on a mission to Australia.

AT LAST! Finds Cure for Rheumatism After Suffering Fifty Years

Now 83 Years Old; Regains strength and Laughs at "URIC ACID"

Goes Fishing, Back to Business, Feels Fine! How Others May Do It!

HOW IT HAPPENED. "I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army over fifty years ago. Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called cures, and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain; my hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can sleep with ease or sit all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change."

HOW OTHERS MAY BENEFIT. These statements may seem strange to some folks, because nearly all sufferers have all along been led to believe in the old "Uric Acid" humbug. It took Mr. Ashelman fifty years to find out this truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders, and recover his strength from "The Inner Mysteria," a remarkable book that is now being distributed free by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of The Times wishes a copy of this book that reveals startling facts overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a postcard or letter to H. P. Clearwater, 225 D Street, Hallowell, Maine, and it will be sent by return mail without any charge whatever. Cut out this notice lest you forget! If not a sufferer yourself, hand this good news to some afflicted friend.

SAYS RESOLUTION IS MISUNDERSTOOD

Suppression of Free Speech Was Not Aimed at; Explains Alderman

"I fail to see that there is any such intention expressed in the resolution passed by this Council on motion of Alderman Patrick," said Alderman Sargent yesterday afternoon, when a deputation from various labor bodies waited on the Streets Committee of the City Council to object to the resolution aiming at sedition and inciting speeches on the grounds that it aimed at the repression of free speech.

Genuine or Assumed?
Alderman Sargent continued that he did not know whether the misunderstanding was genuine or assumed. He wished to emphasize again that there was nothing in the resolution that would interfere with free speech so long as it was consistent with the interests of the British Empire, and was not seditious or calculated to incite the people. In peace or war such things were contrary to law. Therefore he failed to see that there was any contention between labor interests and the Council. He was perfectly satisfied that the majority of the laboring people would just as quickly take steps to put a stop to disloyal utterances. That was all the resolution aimed at.

James Dakers, president of the Metal Trades Council, opened the discussion and reviewed the situation as he saw it. A reference to conditions in Russia, where, in the opinion of local labor, the Bolsheviks represented labor, called forth the remark from Alderman Clark: "We are dealing with our own affairs, not with Russia."

W. E. Peirce, for the Federated Labor Party, stated that all labor demanded was the right to hold its meetings and he contended that the authorities had all the machinery at their disposal to check anything that might be objectionable.

Joe Taylor, on behalf of organized labor, also protested against the resolution, stating that by passing it the Council had placed the members in a position where their personal right must be placed under license. Every man, even if his opinion conflicted with others, should be allowed the British privilege of free speech.

Depreciated Interruptions.
E. S. Woodward, speaking for the Trades and Labor Council, wished to remove any impression that the body which he represented had been responsible and they strongly disapproved the interruptions and proceedings that marked last Monday's Council meeting when a deputation waited on the City Council to protest against the passing of Alderman Patrick's resolution.

If Alderman Patrick had been given a chance to make his case clear a different light might have been thrown on the whole situation. However, he wished the Council to consider the consequences of suppressing free speech, and instanced the freedom of England, where men of all shades of thought were permitted to voice their opinions freely in Hyde Park and other places.

What was legal in one generation was considered illegal in the next, he said. The Salvation Army had been persecuted and its members thrown into prison, but who would think of treating this splendid organization in that manner today? Even Christ's disciples had been cast into prison, but they had been liberated later and allowed to speak freely and, as it has proved, for the benefit of mankind.

Alderman Patrick had been given when he moved the resolution it was with not the slightest intention of interfering with free speech so long as it did not create discontent and sedition. In answer to a question from Mr. Dakers, he stated that any suggestion that he had been influenced by the authorities or anyone else to move the resolution in question was absolutely false.

Some of the deputation insisted on an interpretation of Bolshevism being given by Alderman Patrick, or the Council members, but Alderman Sargent, chairman of the Streets Committee, which is formed of the entire Council, informed the deputation that they did not wish to discuss the question as to what constituted that troubled organization.

Alderman Patrick also indignantly refused to be placed in the position of witness to be cross-examined by every man who might choose to come into the council chamber.

Alderman Sargent informed the deputation that their representations would be given due consideration by the Council.

BIG BUILDING FOR VANCOUVER VETERANS

Vancouver, Feb. 8.—If the 7,000 odd veterans of the army and navy were resident in Vancouver will but display a get-together spirit and will amalgamate, a group of local gentlemen will have the new Y. M. C. A. building completed and hand it over to them, absolutely free of debt, on the day it is formally opened. The cost of this is estimated at about $485,000, and the funds already have been assured.

Initiative in the amalgamation proposals has been taken by the executive of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association, a communication having been sent to the Great War Veterans' Association and other associations in the city. The amalgamation is to include not only the veterans of this and other wars, but it is proposed to take in the veterans of the Royal North-west Mounted Police and the various battalions associations which have been sent are being formed in Vancouver.

EXERCISE MADE EASY.

An officer on board a warship was drilling his men. "I want every man to lie on his back, put his legs in the air, and move them as if he were riding a bicycle," he explained. "Now commence." After a short effort one of the men stopped. "Why have you stopped, Murphy?" asked the officer. "If ye please, sir," was the answer, "O'm coasting."

FOR HEAVEN'S SAKE

"Tell Me Where There is a Single Vacant House to Be Found," Begs Mrs. Smith.

The Streets Committee of the City Council was startled yesterday afternoon by the abrupt appearance before them of Mrs. Smith, a lady who wanted to know if there was any gentleman in the Council, or anywhere else who could tell her where the 407 vacant houses in Victoria were. She had read in the papers that such was the case, and she had become weary and footsore in her search for a domicile where she and her husband could settle down to rest after he returned from his day's work. "For heaven's sake will you tell me where there is a single one to be found," she exclaimed. Mrs. Smith gave a lengthy and animated address, although cautioned by the Chairman, Alderman Sargent, to be brief. Her discourse covered a multitude of subjects, personal and impersonal, and she also touched on matters which she considered of vital interest to the public at large.

She criticized the conditions where Chinese lived in hovels of filth, which they used as headquarters for the distribution of vegetables. The owners of these houses should either make them decent habitable dwellings, or put the Chinamen out.

"I see you are worrying yourselves to death about the animals in the park, but here the human animal has to dance all over the place to find a place to live in," exclaimed Mrs. Smith, who was informed that if she would read the article again she would see that the report was based on water connections, and the city authorities could not see what condition the houses were in. However, she will be aided in finding a suitable house.

CONSERVATION OF HEALTH AN IMPORTANT DUTY

CARE IN DIET SAVES BOTH FOOD AND HEALTH

The Use of a Tonic to Keep the Blood Built Up and the Nerves From Being Under-nourished Strongly Recommended at This Season

Nature is always fighting to keep us well. Under normal conditions the forces of health within our bodies keep the disease germs in subjection. They are not expelled entirely, but they are kept harmless. Some indiscretion in diet and the digestion is upset; overwork and worry disturbs the nervous system, the blood gets thin and watery and the ever-present disease germs assert themselves. The blood fights the body's battles, but the blood can only keep you healthy when it is rich, red and pure. That is why it is of the greatest importance that thin-blooded people, people with pale faces, or those troubled with skin blemishes, or indigestion, or rheumatism, or any of the other ailments due to poor blood, should fortify themselves with a safe and effective tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills purify and strengthen the blood and bring good health and efficiency to weak, ailing men, women and children.

PALE AND WEAK The blood is responsible for the health of the body. If it is bad disease is bound to appear. One person may be seized with rheumatism and sciatica, another with anaemia, indigestion, heart palpitation, headaches or backaches, or unstrung nerves. There is just one certain, speedy cure—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make new, rich blood, and this good blood strengthens the whole system and brings good health and happiness. Miss Devina Laiberti, St. Jerome, Que., says: "Last year I seemed gradually to grow weak and run down. I did not sleep well, had a poor appetite, and grew pale and generally languid. I consulted a doctor, who told me I was anaemic, and gave me a tonic. This I took faithfully for some time, but it did not help me, and I appeared to be growing worse, and finally I was hardly able to go about the house and almost wholly incapacitated for work. While in this condition a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got several boxes. It was not long after I began their use when I could see an improvement, which first manifested itself in an improved appetite and better rest at night. From this on the improvement was rapid and I was not long in regaining perfect health. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a real blessing for all weak girls."	NERVOUS BREAKDOWN Nourish your nerves—that is the worst misery—nervous exhaustion. The fits of depression and irritation, the prostrating headaches, the weakness and trembling of the legs, the unsteady hand and the imperfect digestion that mark the victim of nerve weakness, must end in nervous breakdown if neglected. Your nerves are crying out for pure blood, and the mission of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to make new, rich blood. This explains why these pills have proved successful in so many cases of nervous disease that did not yield to ordinary treatment. For example, Mr. Wilfrid Donald, West Flamboro, Ont., says: "Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was in a serious condition. I was not only badly run down but my nerves seemed to be completely shattered. I slept badly at night, and when I got up in the morning was as tired as when I went to bed. I seemed to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown. At this stage I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the course of a few weeks I felt much relief, and continuing the use of the pills, they completely restored my health. I can now sleep soundly, eat well, and am enjoying complete freedom from the old nervous troubles."	INDIGESTION CURED Thin, pale people who complain of indigestion must improve the condition of their blood to find relief. The most active blood builder in such cases is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make the rich, red blood which quickly restores the digestive organs to their proper activity, and the dyspeptic who has hated the sight and smell of food now looks forward to meal time with pleasure. Miss Edith M. Smith, R. R. No. 4, Perth, Ont., says: "I can honestly say I owe my present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My stomach was terribly weak and I suffered from indigestion and sick headaches, and was always very nervous. I was troubled this way for nearly three years, and in that time took a great deal of doctors' medicine, which, however, did not help me. I could not eat anything without experiencing the most agonizing pain. My sick headaches were most violent and I could not rest night or day. I was asked one day by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and consented to do so. After taking them some time I found they were helping me, and I continued to take them steadily for several months, until I found that I was completely cured. While taking the pills I gained both in strength and weight, and I feel it impossible to praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly."

Do not be persuaded to take a substitute. See that the full trade mark name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is printed on the wrapper around the box. If you cannot get these Pills through your dealer they will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SIXTH EX-SERVICE ORGANIZATION IS FORMED IN CITY

"Ex-Service Men, Dependents and Relatives" Outline Platform

NATIONALIZATION OF ALL INDUSTRIES

With the motto of "United We Stand, Divided We Fall," as proposed by Roger Berry, its first president, an organization was formed at a meeting of ex-service men last night at the Princess Theatre, which it is proposed shall embrace all service organizations now in existence in the city.

The platform of the organization, which will follow was provided for in the following resolution, which was passed unanimously:

"Resolved that we organize ourselves into a party of ex-Service Men, Dependents and Relative of Sailors and Soldiers, to cause legislation to be enacted along the following lines:

"1. That widows or other dependents of fallen sailors and soldiers be granted the same war gratuity payable to returned men.

"2. That the pensions of widows and dependents be increased to an amount that will enable them to live in the degree of comfort to which their sacrifices entitle them; enabling them to house, clothe, feed and educate their children, and that special provision be made for any emergency that may arise and which is not considered when individual pensions are awarded; the State to assume absolute responsibility for the proper care, schooling and technical education of orphan children.

"3. That disabled sailors and soldiers be furnished with employment suited to their disability, and that they receive not less than the average recognized union wages in the district in which they live. That the Government, failing to furnish such employment, shall pay the men eighty per cent of such wages.

"4. That the total disability pension shall be the same as the average union rate of pay, and that partial disability be based on same, pensions for all ranks to be the same.

"5. That all returned men be insured by the Government against unemployment.

"6. That sailors and soldiers desirous of taking up land as bona fide settlers be given a free grant, acreage to be determined according to locality, and that sufficient financial assistance be granted to ensure success.

"7. That all profits in excess of eight per cent, made during the period of the war, be immediately conscripted.

"8. That railways, mines, electric power, water power, cold storage plants, grain elevators, flour mills, lumbering and fishing industries be immediately nationalized with the ultimate aim of democratic control of industries.

"9. That all land, including railway land, not in use be heavily taxed.

"10. That all banks be nationalized.

"11. That the maximum working hours for all classes of labor be forty-four hours per week, and in the event of unemployment reaching a critical stage the hours be reduced to thirty-four.

Pensions inadequate. Major Monk acted as Chairman and R. G. Duggan introduced the resolution in brief, making explanatory remarks respecting the purpose of forming such an organization and the merits of the platform, as outlined in the resolution.

He stated that if anyone was entitled to the war gratuity surely the fallen soldier's widow was entitled thereto, the majority of people being so situated that the pension is entirely inadequate.

With regard to the request for increased pensioning, it was not unreasonable to ask that the wife, the mother and the children who had been bereaved should not be allowed to suffer pecuniarily as well. "Who should be responsible for the things we ask for, but the state?" Mr. Duggan asked.

Referring to clause four, respecting pensions, he said:

Referring to clause four, respecting pensions, he said:

total disability pensions, he stated that some people might object that the soldier would not work, "but I have never heard it said that a volunteer would not fight," he declared.

Not Backing Idera. Mr. Duggan emphasized the point that they were not standing behind any man who would not work if capable of doing so, but that the state should only fair and right that the returned men should be given employment according to their disability.

"What in the name of common sense is the use of training a man if in the end you have not a job to suit his disability," Mr. Duggan stated.

All ranks should receive the same pension, he contended. Service levelled them all, and in fact there were private boys before the war who were much better positions in life than many of the O. C.'s.

The proposed insurance is against unemployment, not against illness. We soldiers only expect those who are willing to work to be benefited," declared the speaker.

With respect to settling soldiers on the land Mr. Duggan felt that the entire responsibility should rest with the Government and the settler not worried with any mortgages or other encumbrances.

The present Government was elected on the very clause, observed Mr. Duggan, referring to the one providing for conscription of war profits amounting to over eight per cent!

Patriotic to Core? With regard to the clause providing for the nationalization of public utilities and resources, Mr. Duggan said this issue was forced upon the people by the greed of the men who were patriotic to the core so long as their profits were coming in.

The price of coal was ridiculous and unwarranted, while meat was still going at a country price, it is now publicly declared is over-stocked with pork, said Mr. Duggan.

The banking system required fixing, as at present, is firmly based in time of crisis, which pinches the whole body finally devolved upon the consumer and the working man, Mr. Duggan observed.

Character of Body. Joe Taylor said that while he was not an Ex-Service man, he could say that at the front during the war, and he objected to including labor or any other distinctive organization as it would begin to make the newly-born association look like a political organization.

Roger Berry spoke very strongly in favor of the resolution, and was of exactly the same opinion as Mr. Duggan on the points mentioned therein.

Messrs. Food and Beer, the other speakers, the former criticizing the Government for not carrying out its promises. "They never will so long as this party is in power at Ottawa. We must band ourselves together with the people of Canada who are with us and make them," Mr. Food said.

Mr. Best spoke on the educational feature of the situation. "If it is as a result of the war, the unfit and the misfits, what about the children who are dependent upon the mother only and the children who have no parents at all?" he asked.

Roger Berry was elected President, and R. G. Duggan, Vice-President of the organization, and a committee of eighteen comprised of equal numbers of men and women will direct the destinies of the body, which headquarters for the time-being will be in the Belmont Block.

WOMEN IN BUSINESS. Woman's power in America is well illustrated by the thousands of women who entered almost every line of business to replace men who were drafted during the war. Health proved their strongest asset. Many women,

TEACHERS' STRIKE WILL CLOSE SCHOOLS

Members of Profession Determined to Stand by Demands

SITUATION GRAVE IN VIEW OF TIME LOST

Ask for Ten Per Cent. Increase; Little Hope of Immediate Settlement

The High and Public Schools of Victoria will be closed for an indefinite period commencing on Monday, according to present indications. Little hope is entertained by either side of the present controversy that the salary question will be adjusted by the time the teachers are determined to stand by their decision to strike with the coming of next week. The situation is generally deemed extremely unfortunate in view of the time already lost by the pupils during the recent epidemic.

At a meeting of the Board last evening a deputation fully empowered by the other teachers of the city waited upon the Trustees and laid their claims before them. The teachers asked that a ten per cent. increase in salaries should be granted to take effect from January 1 to June 1, and that a scale should be drawn up at a conference between both sides of the argument. They refused the Board's offer to grant a bonus of five per cent. for the same time and the resulting deadlock will in all probability prevent the resumption of classes in any Victoria public school on Monday.

Waited Upon Minister.
Following the unsatisfactory result of the meeting last night, the committee of the teachers dealing with the salary problem waited upon the Minister of Education this morning and laid before him their official version of their action and explained their determination to strike, failing an adjustment.

The teachers' side of the question as related to The Times by members of that deputation is as follows:
The School Board of last year bequeathed to its successor the proposed salary schedule compiled by the teachers and the latter never called in for consideration with the Board. The latter, too, adopted a resolution advising that the new Board should give favorable consideration to this schedule. When the new Board met, however, the schedule was considered unsatisfactory and the Finance Committee was instructed to prepare another one based upon that of 1912 and also that prepared by the teachers. The Finance Committee drew up a new schedule without any reference to the teachers' committee, again ignoring any mutual arrangement.

Report Unsatisfactory.
The report of the Finance Committee was submitted to the Board at the meeting last night, and was considered most unsatisfactory by the teachers, as it provided for less than they had requested. The Committee also reported in favor of granting no increase whatever over the January pay schedule until the Board's scales would be adopted. This measure was not acceptable to the teachers, as they objected to the increased scale in January, as the scales in former years had done. As the schedule prepared by the teachers and that compiled by the Finance Committee differed so widely, a vital compromise had been tried, and they informed the Board at the meeting that they would agree to the following solution of the problem:
That the teachers should be granted a ten per cent. increase in salaries for the period between January 1 to July 30 of this year and that the Finance Committee should meet in conference and draw up a scale which would be mutually satisfactory. This schedule, the teachers proposed, should go into operation on July 1, 1919.

Object to Bonus.
After some consideration of this recommendation the Board decided to offer the teachers a bonus of five per cent. from January 1 to June 30, after which time the Board's scales would be adopted. This measure was not acceptable to the teachers, as they objected to the bonus.

R. L. NEWMAN DEAD AT VIRGINIA HOME

Former Well-Known Marine Architect Had Done Important War Work

The death of R. L. Newman, formerly a well-known marine architect of this city, will cause much regret among Victoria people who knew him here. Mr. Newman's death took place at West Point, Virginia, on January 26, at the age of fifty-four years, as the result of complications following an attack of influenza. At the time of his death Mr. Newman was President of the New York River Ship Building Co. and had built up a very large organization.

Mr. Newman during the war was engaged on a number of important missions which took him to Russia and other parts of the world; in fact his special knowledge of his profession was availed of by several of the Allied Governments on matters of delicacy and particular tact.

Mr. Newman was for some time connected with the Victoria Machinery Depot and later practiced his profession here.

Mr. Newman was identified with ship designing here in 1908. He first designed the hydrographical steamer Lilhoote, also the Hon. James Dunsmuir's steam yacht Dolaura, and later designed the G.T.P. steamships Prince Rupert and Prince George, built at Newcastle, Tyneside, England, which cost $200,000, was completed in the shipyards of Messrs. Fleming & Ferguson at Paisley, Scotland.

As once the head of Cramp's shipyard at Philadelphia, Mr. Newman designed every class of vessel, including battleships and cruisers. He spent three months in Paisley superintending the construction of the Dolaura.

Mr. Newman acquired an estate on the West Road, Saanichton, which had been developed by W. Radcliffe during the last few years, and is now one of the finest berry farms in the Keatinge district. He had visited Victoria at intervals at such times that he could spare from his pressing business engagements, and looked forward to the time when he would be able to settle in this district.

jected to a bonus and desired an increase in salary. They held that as a bonus was not an addition to salary, in any future adjustment or transfer to a home school the bonus would be deducted before such transfer was made. In the second place, the teachers would not agree to the Board's suggestion, as they were not satisfied with a ten per cent. increase. Again, they were dissatisfied, as the proposal made no mention of any arrangement for a future salary schedule.

How Much Would Cost.
The teachers represented to the Board that an increase of ten per cent. as demanded by them would require an increase of $12,500 in the estimates, and should the Board's suggestion be adopted the additional cost would be $6,300. It was thus clear that only the $6,300 difference stood in the way of a settlement, as that sum would satisfy the claims of 170 teachers for the next six months.

In taking this stand the teachers hold that the public of Victoria will not support the action of the Board in refusing their request when so much is at stake.

Fully Empowered.
The teachers' deputation were careful to emphasize to The Times that the committee acting had been fully empowered by a full meeting of the Teachers' Association. The teachers had agreed to abide by the decision of this committee, and in the event of a failure to reach a mutual agreement some ninety per cent. pledged themselves to absent themselves from duty until such an agreement had been reached. In accordance with this agreement, unless an agreement is effected before the meeting on Monday morning none of these teachers will be present to conduct the classes. The teachers express the utmost regret over their action, but they are pledged themselves to absent themselves from duty until such an agreement had been reached. In accordance with this agreement, unless an agreement is effected before the meeting on Monday morning none of these teachers will be present to conduct the classes.

The situation as summed up by School Board officials is as follows:
The teachers demand an increase of ten per cent. over the January payroll, which is $23,214. If requested increase is granted the total for the year over the amount paid for salaries last year would be an amount in excess of $50,000. Now the increment granted by the scale the Board proposes to bring into effect is less than ten per cent. on the January payroll. The scale would thus be entirely confused.

The total expenditure for this year on the basis of the January payroll will be $230,919. Added to this would be the allowance for additional teachers and emergencies, which will amount to some $7,500. In addition to this, the increment affected by the establishment of the scale next September, amounting to $5,634. The total expenditure will thus be $244,044 for teachers' salaries during the year, as against $207,000.43 in 1918.

PRESENTATION MADE TO RETIRING CHIEF

Dominion Council of Navy League Holds Election; W. G. Ross Honored

Following the resignation of W. G. Ross as Dominion President of the Navy League of Canada at the Empress Hotel, this meeting was presided over by Commodore Amelius Jarvis, of Toronto, in a neat and appropriate speech, presented to Mr. Ross, on behalf of the Council a handsome loving cup on which was inscribed: "To William G. Ross, from the Navy League of Canada, in appreciation of his services as founder and first Dominion President of the League, Victoria, B. C., February 8, 1919."

In accepting the gift Mr. Ross expressed his very deep appreciation of this evidence of good fellowship. The praise which had been given him for the work accomplished in Navy League interests was not altogether due to his own efforts, but rather to the work he had so faithfully labored in the cause. In his opinion the work of the Navy League of Canada had only just begun, and there was a great responsibility that should in no way be shirked.

Mr. Ross expressed pleasure that the League had decided to extend his connections with the organization by electing him President, and expressed his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him by the Council.

W. R. Allen, of Winnipeg, and Mrs. A. E. Gooderham, National President of the I. O. D. E., were elected Vice-Presidents.

Hon. Secretary-Treasurer M. F. Fennell, jr., of Montreal, stated that he found it impossible to stand for reelection owing to the great call on his time in connection with the Harbor Bill which will be submitted to the Legislature before the session closes.

Dr. A. L. Damman, a Vancouver veterinarian surgeon, is responsible for the above forecast in the Terminal City, and he says that the gist of the Bill will be that all animals slaughtered for human consumption must be inspected by a qualified veterinary surgeon. It will also provide that all refuse resulting must be destroyed by tanking or quicklime on the premises where the slaughtering takes place.

Although the Doctor believed the conditions in Vancouver were better in respect of minor inspection than in other parts of British Columbia, there was still great need for improvement.

Very Quarrelsome Neighbors

MAY PRESENT BILL TO GET MEAT INSPECTION

Mrs. Ralph Smith's Speech Said to Be Its Forerunner

Legislative Press Gallery, February 8.

According to a Vancouver dispatch and gossip in the corridors; the remarks of Mrs. Ralph Smith made in the Legislature on Wednesday last, with regard to the inspection of meat, were practically the forerunner of a Bill which will be submitted to the Legislature before the session closes.

Dr. A. L. Damman, a Vancouver veterinarian surgeon, is responsible for the above forecast in the Terminal City, and he says that the gist of the Bill will be that all animals slaughtered for human consumption must be inspected by a qualified veterinary surgeon. It will also provide that all refuse resulting must be destroyed by tanking or quicklime on the premises where the slaughtering takes place.

HER FIVE CHILDREN Had Whooping Cough At The Same Time.

Whooping cough is one of the most dangerous diseases of children, especially to those under five years of age. It first starts with a fever and cough, sneezing, watering of the eyes and an irritation of the throat. Later the coughing increases, the child becomes livid in the face, the eyes appear as if they would burst from their sockets, and suffocation seems imminent till relief is brought by the "whoop."

On the first sign of whooping cough we would advise the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. This famous remedy will clear the bronchial tubes and collect mucus and phlegm, and in this way ease the racking cough and in a short time make it disappear entirely.

Mrs. Walter McGaughey, North Hatfield, Sask., writes: "I have five children, the eldest thirteen and the baby two years old. They all had the whooping cough at the same time. I tried two or three cough remedies, but none gave the same satisfaction as Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. A home where there are young children should never be without it. I will highly recommend it to those who want a quick cure."

There are many imitations of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; so be sure you get the genuine by insisting that the package is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. and manufactured by the Milbura Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

On the outbreak of the Fenian Raid his regiment was called to the scene of the trouble and he served on the gunboat Arrol operating on the Great Lakes. SIX MONTHS GIVEN ON LIQUOR CHARGE

For having liquor for sale in the Gordon Hotel, George B. Shaw was sentenced to six months in prison by Magistrate Jay in the Police Court this morning.

The case was the outcome of the activities of the police in searching for liquor, and of the finding of a certain demijohn which was produced as evidence. In dealing with the testimony of one witness the Magistrate expressed strong doubt as to its veracity.

Counsel for the defence claimed that if the liquor were for sale it would not have been left in an exposed position, and he thought that it might have been left there by other persons who were in the habit of using the room.

MEMBER FOR PRINCE. GEORGE AMUSED THE HOUSE WITH HUMOR

Verbal Excursion Round Government Benches Was Excellently Conducted.

DECLARES 1920 WILL SEE GOOSE STEP INNOVATION

Legislative Press Gallery, February 7.

Kindly satire of the sort that provokes good humored repartee characterized the speech of W. R. Ross, member for Prince George and ex-Minister of Lands, which lasted over two hours this afternoon. Mr. Ross repeated his programme of last year and scarcely a member of the administration escaped the accusing finger as the ex-Minister went on his verbal peregrinations round the Government benches. From "soup to nuts" he toyed with the Bill of Fare, now the popular translation of the Speech from the Throne, to the debate on the address in reply to which the Prince George member was contributing.

The genial Minister of Mines was again reminded of his policy which Mr. Ross has styled one of "get by," while numerous references to the "Red Chamber" at Ottawa sent the House into roars of laughter. The Prince George member had already made up his mind that Premier Oliver was about to depart from the bridge and to the care of the Attorney-General he was alleged to have decided to entrust the ship of state.

Oiling Steam Roller.

Mr. Ross wanted to know from the Premier if the Government notice of night session on Tuesday would go into effect and did it mean oiling up the steam roller to flatten out the Opposition, close of discussion and get out of the Legislature with as little trouble as possible. His own opinion was that an election might be considered in the not distant future, particularly when it was to be noted that the Government intended to bring in a million dollar emergency appropriation this session.

He joked the Liberals for talking so little part in the debate on the Address, reminding them that back in 1917 they were on their feet almost all the time. Since Premier Oliver took charge, however, they became more reticent and the word had apparently gone forth that they were not to talk. Probably in 1920 they would be taught the goose step by their master.

That Senatorship.

Mr. Ross asked if the change in the position of Liberal whip and the failure of J. E. W. Thompson to be elevated from deputy minister to the position of Minister of Lands, had quit the post because he was dissatisfied with his leader. Did it mean that Mr. Thompson let the advancement go by because he was lying in wait for the job of Minister of Mines as soon as the Liberal Cabinet could wish Hon. Mr. Sloan out of their midst and into the Senate at Ottawa.

Mr. Ross charged the Government with dallying with the soldier question and "passing the buck" to Ottawa. He approved of the principle of buying the Southern Okanagan but said they should be for soldiers only. The Government apparently was trying to do as little as possible for the returned men and doing it at the last minute. This was evident when it did away with the old Government's two million acres soldier reserve and substituted a reserve of only sixty thousand acres.

He urged the extension of the P. E. to Pouce Coupe as soon as possible. If the provincial administration would make a genuine effort to fight Ottawa in connection with provincial rights he would give his aid, he promised.

Prohibition.

Dealing with the Prohibition Act the member said that the best way to repair it would be to cut it off at the end of the first "whereas" in the first preamble. "It was your Act," said a Government member.

"But your administration of it," came the reply. "The administration of the Act has been failure. For my part I think the policy of the moderate party would be acceptable at the present time."

He asked the Premier about the new year that he would become head of the Public Utilities Board. "Rumor is proverbially a lying jade," the Premier told him.

Mr. Ross went on to remark that Premier Oliver appeared to be a stop gap. He had certainly never been confirmed by vote of the people. "There are others," said the Premier. "But they had the courage to go to the people sometimes," said Mr. Ross. "And they never came back," was the swift rejoinder from Mr. Oliver. The speaker opined that the Premier had only been chosen in caucus by the casting vote of a man who had been pledged to another candidate.

Chipping 'Em All.

He described Hon. Dr. King as fulfilling a mission in life of throwing out the lifeline to M. A. Macdonald to keep him within the House and within the party. Throughout his speech Mr. Ross paid a good deal of attention to the senior member for Vancouver urging him to enlighten the House as to what he really thought of the Government and of the proposal that Mr. Cowper go into the caucus.

and Burning.

"I had eczema so bad I could not sleep. It first started on my arm, then I had it on my body so that I could hardly wear my clothes, and I had to stay in bed. My flesh was dark red with water blisters, and burning and itching. "Everything I tried seemed to make me worse, and I had the trouble for nearly two years. I read about Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and I got them. They did me good right away, and now I am entirely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Peter McIntosh, French River, Ont., April 10, 1917.

THIRD APPLICATION FOR NEWS RELATIVE TO ELUSIVE DOLLAR

Major J. W. McIntosh, Soldier-Leader, Takes Up Debate on Address

APPROVES OF MUCH OF NEW LEGISLATIVE FARE

Legislative Press Gallery, February 7.

Recapitulating some of the circumstances which had caused him to be more or less standing aloof from the members under whose banner he sought and secured election in the fair city of Vancouver, Major J. W. McIntosh, Leader of the Soldier Party in the Legislature, added his desire to-day to that of his colleagues to know where the notorious half-million P. G. E. dollars had gone.

He claimed that if the Leader of the Opposition had acceded to members of the Liberal party it was his duty as an accredited representative of the people to give up that information, if any member of the Cabinet had privileged information of a like character they, too, should promptly disclose. Dr. McIntosh declared that the temper of the people was becoming more insistent and if the Legislature were to be purged of agencies which condoned silence on matters of that kind, the example was far from that conducive to good government.

Checked By Speaker.

Going back to the days of his election as a member for Vancouver, the soldier leader had thought at that time that he was a member of a party which pledged to a certain procedure and, as such, that he would be welcomed with open arms. It was not so, however; welcome was dependent upon an ability to give the blind eye to certain things, indeed the Doctor.

He had been surprised that the Leader of the Government should have risen in his place and suggested that an endeavor to discover what had become of that half-million dollars was a matter of no public importance.

Mr. Oliver—"I made no such statement, either on the floor of this House or elsewhere."

Mr. Speaker—"The honorable gentleman is in error; I ruled that the matter was not one of sufficient urgency that demanded the waiving of the customary notice of motion."

Repeated It.

Proceeding, Dr. McIntosh gradually veered back to the subject and by the employment of a little different phraseology said the same thing again, which brought forth rebuke number two from Mr. Speaker.

Dr. McIntosh was forced, then, to believe that the lack of action in twenty months was tantamount to condoning the whole business. He was also apprehensive about the future if the present administration were to remain in power, because he could see nothing to prevent it from continuing that course.

Corroborating the statement of the member for Alberni yesterday, the Soldier Leader declared that the returned men in the House did not sit in opposition. Their mission from the people was to see to it that legislation introduced was of a kind that would be good for the people as a whole and possess the necessary provision for the men whom they particularly represented in the Legislature. He had to confess that he was much pleased with a good deal of the legislation passed by the present Parliament.

HE HOPED THAT IN THE TIME THAT MUST ELAPSE DURING THE PROGRESS OF THE DEVELOPMENT WORK, CARE WOULD BE TAKEN TO EMPLOY THE RETURNED SOLDIER, WHO WOULD AFTERWARDS HAVE A MORE DIRECT INTEREST IN THE LAND ON WHICH HE WOULD BE GOING TO SETTLE.

Town Planning.

The Soldier Leader would like to see the Legislature pass a Town Planning Act so that its benefits would not only follow in connection with the newer settlements that would eventually dot the province, but also in connection with the older communities, small and large. As a medical man he could not speak too forcibly on this subject, understanding the value of properly laid out communities.

From his own observations in the Old Country and in Eastern Canada it was apparent to the Doctor's mind that people were intending to flock to British Columbia. In view of this fact he urged the Government to do everything in its power to prepare for the new citizen in an adequate fashion.

Health Legislation.

Major McIntosh dealt with matters of public health from the point of view of an expert and his advice to the Government was the passage of such constructive legislation as would conserve the health of the province. Interlocked with his arguments for more effective health legislation was the Doctor's corroborative remarks on the subject of meat inspection, to which the lady member for Vancouver had alluded earlier in the debate.

From more intimate knowledge of the effects of tainted meat, Dr. McIntosh went a good deal further than did Mrs. Smith in urging upon the Government the necessity for action in this regard.

W. R. Ross, member for Port George, continued the debate.

FORTY-FOUR HOURS OF LABOR PER WEEK

J. H. Hawthornthwaite Introduces His Hours of Labor Bill

Legislative Press Gallery, February 7.

If the Bill cited as the Hours of Labor Act passes through the Legislature during the present session, power will be vested in the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to give effect to any of its provisions, with the full force and effect of law, after one publication of such recommendations in The British Columbia Gazette.

This is to say the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council will be guided by the advice of the Minister of Labor, who will require to show that his recommendations are in the public interest. That being the case the Act in detail provides for the fixing and defining the weekly and daily hours of labor in any class of industry and the fixing of maximum and minimum penalty for any breaches or infractions.

The measure also makes provisions for dealing with accidents, the saving and protecting of life and preventing the destruction of property. Power is also to be taken to limit the hours of labor to forty-four hours in any one week, notwithstanding any Act to the contrary.

The Bill is fathered by J. H. Hawthornthwaite, Socialist member for Newcastle, and was introduced to the House by him this afternoon.

"HE'S MY LANDLORD"

Why Mr. Ross Did Not Suggest South Vancouver's Honorable Member for a K. C.

Legislative Press Gallery, February 8.

It was not very often that Government interpolations during the address of W. R. Ross, member for Prince George, yesterday found the Opposition's first lieutenant at all lacking in his repartee.

Considerable amusement was afforded the members, however, when the honorable gentleman enumerated a large number of well-known legal luminaries, both in the House and out of it, who had failed to "nose into" the lucky ten recently announced by the Legislature had been passed over by the Prince George member, while his process of elimination had apparently been noted by the Leader of the Opposition who had detected no mention of J. W. Weart's qualifications.

Mr. Bowser reminded his henchman of the omission.

Mr. Ross replied: "Oh, I haven't say anything about him; he's my landlord."

"And what about W. B. McInnes?" queried Mr. Ross. "He has always been a faithful follower of the 'White Plume'."
