Save the Surface and You Save All
The "run down" house (there is one near you) is fast going to ruin merely because the owner unwisely neglects to keep it protected with paint.
It costs more not to paint than to paint. Paint saves the surface and protects the building from sun, rain, frost and varying weather conditions that bring destruction.
Prosperity demands the protection of all exposed surfaces with good paint.

WHAT MONEY GIVEN TO CHINA FAMINE FUND WILL DO

- * 3 cents will save one life one day.
- * $1.00 will save one life one month.
- * $5.00 will save one life until harvest.
- * $5.00 will save one family one month.
- * $25.00 will save a family until summer.

THE TIME HAS BEEN EXTENDED

The ingredients of a China famine bowl is bark of trees—elm, ash or willow, corn cobs, ground or crushed—chaff, potato tops—dry leaves of trees or bushes, and the recipe for serving is as follows. Mix with water, mash and form into biscuit shape—bake—or eat raw if there is no fire.

A sad, pitiful plea isn't it? By a little sacrifice, you can fill some real bowls with real food. You can save the lives of Chinese children, women and men. You can save them from agonies indescribable—the agonies of slow starvation. Bark, corn cobs, dry leaves—think of it—they cannot live long on such stuff.

Your money will not wait. It will be cabled to those who are giving their services to this China Famine Fund. Food will be bought quickly and soon there will be in the little bowl—a message of life from you.

Thus far $185 has been subscribed in Sierra Madre. This is a very good showing considering the many donations that are being asked for. Mr. H. E. Allen, cashier of the First National Bank is the chairman for this city in this Chinese Relief campaign and will be glad to receipt you for your contribution.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

The meeting of the C. of C. Monday night was one of the best attended for months. The lecture on Armenia given by Dr. Mottern of Glendale was listened to with close attention and proved most interesting. The very beautiful slides he displayed showed Armenia before, during and after the World War, and gave very clear ideas of the terrible suffering and the fearful destruction resulting from the Turk and German invasions. He also explained the rescue work done by the Near East Relief which in that section takes the place of the Red Cross, that organization being unable to function owing to the bitter opposition of the Turk to its insignia, the cross. The Near East Relief's insignia being a white star in a blue ground is not disliked.

The organization endorsed the establishment of a Junior College of Agriculture in the San Fernando Valley and voted to join the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The membership committee announced the names of nine new members, Miss Alice Tufts, Drs. Chester H. Brown, D. N. Alcorn, and Charles J. Beers, Messrs. John W. Jones, Frederick G. Sealzo, John Skvarla, W. J. Stevenson and Denis J. Sullivan.

The secretary presented a plan for utilizing the building on the city lot for an office and after discussion it was voted to request the Trustees to allow the same to be carried out. The plan suggested involves very little expense and will greatly improve the appearance of the lot, a trellised walk from Central Avenue built to the entrance of the building and flowering shrubs set out on the lot being part of the improvements suggested.

The meeting went on record as being decidedly in favor of using the forty acres owned by the city in Bailey canyon for a public park. A plan has been worked out for the policing of the property and protecting it from fire risk at a very small expense and, owing to the work which was done in the canyon three or four years ago in clearing out brush etc., a considerable area would be immediately available for picnic parties and visitors with very little work. A committee consisting of J. N. Hawks, J. F. Sadler and the secretary was appointed to take up the matter with the City Trustees at the next meeting. The members present agreed to stand back of the project and keep it moving and alive as the need of a park of some sort in this city has been universally acknowledged for a long time and they have no intention of allowing this effort to fail for lack of interest.

The coming bond election was thoroughly thrashed out and plans outlined for co-operating with Firemen's Club to make the majority for the bonds a large one. It is desired to get a full vote out on the 26th and it will greatly help the workers for the bonds if those in favor will let their preference be known to the committees in charge, especially those voters who will find it more convenient to get to the polls if they have a machine sent for them. The entire membership of the Firemen's Club is a committee, of course, so citizens can give their names to any of those eighty-five workers and ask that a machine be sent for them, and will then be listed and they will be taken care of. The special committee as that the friends of the bonds call up any one of the following and say they will vote "yes" and state whether they wish to be sent for and at what time. Earl Topping, J. F. Sadler, J. N. Hawks, M. D. Welscher, and the Chamber of Commerce Office, exch. 2. This voluntary registering will save a great deal of time and work and will greatly facilitate the handling of the election.

FIREMEN'S CLUB NEXT WED.

The Firemen's Club will hold their regular meeting at the city hall next Wednesday night at eight o'clock. Every fireman is asked to be present. There will be matters of vital importance come before the meeting for your consideration especially the matter of the coming bond election. Be there.

O Lord, I have been thinking, and the thoughts within me grow,
Till within Thy gracious hearing I must let them overflow!
I've been thinking of the blossoms Thou hast strewn along my way
That I might not heed the thorn-pricks which beset me day by day.
And the bit of blue—so hopeful—always peeping from the sky,
I had but to look to find it, as the clouds were passing by!
So while pondering on my blessings, grateful prayers to Thee I send Who art my Lord and Savior, and my ever present Friend!

The Jubilee given in honor of Father Woodcuter was a fitting tribute to his 25 years of service.

 In the passing of Mr. Samuel Stork the publisher of the News feels a personal loss. He lived just across the street from us, and while we did not know him intimately, we daily watched for his greeting, the salute of the right hand, the distinctive nod of his proud head and the kindly inquiry in his eye. His physical condition was extraordinary for a man ninety-six years old, and his mind was clear and clear. His counsel was worthy and his advice good. His daily life was an inspiration.

 It is always easy to give advice. Most advice is not needed, but in all fairness to those who have lots to sell and a small amount of capital to invest, can you imagine a more productive field than Sierra Madre. The growth of this city has not been spasmodic. It has been steady, and we want to advise those who can to buy and build. There is an underground rather a wireless connection with the outside world that a big hotel will be built, golf links will be built, apartment houses will be built and acreage plots opened on the south of us. Bunk you say? Perhaps so, but enough of it has been persistently passed along and sufficient money has been paid to warrant at least two of the projects. We are giving you a tip. This town is the coming foothill town in Southern California. Buy and build here.

 Norman Haggood in writing from Washington has these few good things to say concerning the new administration:

"Woodrow Wilson is thus far getting a good deal of entertainment out of the course of his successors. When he was asked if he would like to see advance sheets of Mr. Lansing's book he replied:
 "No. If it suits Lansing it suits me."

The thing Mr. Wilson perhaps felt most keenly in his relation to Mr. Lansing was the Secretary's remaining in office and trying to start a Mexican policy the opposite to Mr. Wilson's when Mr. Wilson was occupied about other things and particularly when he was sick. Also he felt injured by the expressions against the treaty that Mr. Lansing was constantly making while serving under the President. But he takes even these things that he has most at heart with a certain lightness. A good deal of speculation has been caused by one of his remarks. Somebody suggested that the new administration would probably get into war with Mexico. "If it does," said Mr. Wilson, "I shall go to an officers' camp." Of course, this remark cannot be taken literally. The most plausible explanation of what the expression meant is this: "Whatever they may do you need not expect to see me throwing monkey wrenches in the machinery."

The only thing he has said since the inauguration that I know of that has any sting in it is: "I find nothing personally unpleasant in the outlook for the next four years except the prospect of reading President Harding's style."

As a matter of fact, there is no difference at all between the Wilson policy and the Harding policy on Russia except in words. Wilson said he would not play with the Bolsheviks because they were wicked people and ought not to be associated with nations that were safe for democracy.

The present administration, now clearly agreed on its policy, says it will not do business with Russia until it can dictate the extent to which Russia will depart from communism.

Another distinction between mere language and fundamental facts will be brought out pretty soon in regard to Germany. There was a good deal said about a separate peace, but no steps of any kind are being taken and this week it will be necessary to tell M. Viavini something about our attitude toward the dealings of France with Germany. Do we take any position on that subject or do we not? And if we do not, if we wash our hands of the treaty and the relation between France and Germany, what are we going to do about resuming relations with Germany?

There was a little scrimmage in executive session that also brings out the embarrassment about passing from opposition to responsibility. Senator Lodge by no means relished the task that falls on him of proving that the Colombian Treaty, that was a bad treaty under Wilson, has become a good treaty under Harding. Therefore he tried to arrange to have the debate carried on in secret, when the Senate meets. But he was beaten and he will have to make the distinction in the open.

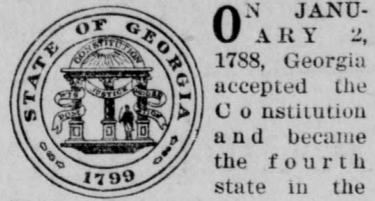

The most amusing case is that of Col. E. Lester Jones. In 1916 Mr. Hughes tried to make a major issue of that appointment. He stuck to it in his campaigning with peculiar pertinacity. He contended that it was a disgrace to fill a scientific post with a horse doctor. One of President Harding's first acts was to reappoint Col. Jones to the head of the Coast and Geodetic Survey and the appointment was confirmed without ever being questioned."

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
 IV.—GEORGIA

ON JANUARY 2, 1788, Georgia accepted the Constitution and became the fourth state in the Union. The settlement of Georgia was conceived as a buffer against the depredations of the Spaniards and Indians, whose invasions of South Carolina had reached a climax in 1715 with a raid in which four or five hundred settlers had been massacred. To protect South Carolina from future invasions James Oglethorpe planned a colony to the south, and in 1732 he obtained from George II a grant of land. The new territory was consequently named Georgia, after the king. The deed stated that the land was granted "in trust for the poor." This referred to Oglethorpe's plan to have as the settlers the insolvent debtors who, according to the laws of that time in England, were cast into prison. Many of these were released from prisons and re-enforced by some Germans and Scotch Highlanders, founded the town of Savannah in 1733 and rapidly spread up and down the coast, where successful plantations of rice and indigo soon became established. Georgia continued to prosper until the population of its 59,265 square miles entitles it to a representation of 14 presidential electors.

ATTEND MEMORIAL SERVICES

Captain and Mrs. Osgood Sow Poppy Seeds

Captain and Mrs. Osgood attended the impressive memorial services in honor of dead heroes in Los Angeles on Wednesday.

A Flanders poppy is soon to bloom for each of the valiant youths who did not return to their Los Angeles homes when the guns ceased firing overseas. Seeds plucked from the pods of the revered flower that cloaks the countless graves of soldier dead in France were sown in Exposition Park Wednesday afternoon during a memorial service in honor of the valiant 600.

Veteran soldier and sailor fighters, clergymen and club women in poems and songs and speeches acclaimed the glorious deeds of the country's dead heroes, but none of these tributes brought those who rest in the poppy-strewn graves so near to home as did the calling of the roll.

The memorial service was in commemoration of the anniversary of the declaration of war upon the German Empire by the United States four years ago. It was conducted by the Friday morning Club, the Army, the Navy, the city, the women's clubs and a citizen throng anticipated.

In his address Dr. James A. Francis, the principal speaker, told of the nation's achievements in the struggle. "Four years ago today the United States reversed itself," he said, "reversed all its traditions and declared war on an Empire across the seas. But I am sure the records of history will justify the United States for so doing. It was not done for conquest, for booty or for plunder. If ever a nation went into war with clean hands it was the United States."

Other speakers were Mayor Snyder, Rev. George Davidson, Mrs. J. A. Osgood, Lieut. Col. James S. McKnight, Capt. E. W. Scott, Mrs. L. J. Selby and W. O. Wheeler.

Following the speaking program, the many hundred spectators marched with solemn step to the freshly turned soil where the poppy seeds were sown. As they moved a regimental band played Chopin's "Funeral March."

In the gardens of Exposition Park, beneath an American flag unfurled at half-mast, the seeds were sown by Mayor Snyder, Mrs. O. Shepard Barnum and Mrs. H. H. Koons. "Taps" was sounded by a bugler and a squad of soldiers fired three volleys over the poppy seeds.

"All your friends, too, will hear of the adventures of this boy and girl. They may not hear of every adventure. They may begin reading about them in the middle of their journey; but no matter; each time I tell of them I will begin by explaining, so all will understand, even if they haven't read any of the adventures before.

"The boy," Daddy continued, "was a fine boy, though he was a wee bit conceited—and the girl the same way. But they were really very fine. Now I must tell you what they said before they started adventuring.

"I have ambition," the boy said, "and so I should succeed. Wherever I go I wish that men should look upon me as their superior.

"I wish them to do what I ask—more, what I command! I shall make myself worthy of commanding, for I shall strive to become strong and powerful and great and good. They will not be able to help but obey me. That is the great desire I have, but I don't know just how to set out to do what I plan to do. I do not know just how I shall become great. I do not know just how I can make others believe I am great. I do not know just how I am to lead."

"I, too," said the girl, "wish to be a leader. What I do will start fashions. Others will copy me. When I am weary of one fashion I shall start another and again I will be followed.

"I shall rule as a queen should rule and all will do my bidding. I shall strive to be beautiful and good and charitable. I shall be kind and all shall love me. But I shall be the ruler, the leader of women. Still, I do not know how I can be all of this, for I do not know how to make others feel this way about me!"

"Let us start out together," said the boy, "and everyone we see we will command. They will be afraid to go against us, so that when I am big I and my riches will be larger than anyone's. Thousands will be under me and they will respect and honor my might and my goodness, and my success."

"I," said the girl, "will be the leading lady of the land, but I am still puzzled as to how we shall go about all this."

"At any rate we must start," said the boy. "We must not waste time. We are using up many moments and we have gone no distance at all so far."

"So they started off, the boy in search of power which would make him a ruler of men, and the girl in search of those qualities which would make her a leader among women.

"They had not gone very far when they heard a sharp whistle coming from the direction of some woods. They listened, and again came the whistle, very clear and strong.

"Let's see," said the boy, "if the creature who is whistling can tell us anything we want to know."

"How do we know if the creature can speak?" asked the girl. "Perhaps it was a bird whistling. We are not sure the voice was a human one."

"They approached the edge of the woods and listened again to hear the clear, keen whistle. After a few moments they heard it again, and as they wandered further into the woods, following the direction from which it came, at last they reached a spot where all around was moss growing over stones and around trees and making a carpet for the earth.

"Hello!" said a voice. "You wanted to find me, I believe. I was whistling for you to come. I couldn't go to you, for I never go to any one. I always wait for them to come to me. That is why so few come."

"Before them, standing on the mossy carpet, stood a little creature who looked something like a man and something like a gnome.

"This is my secret," he said. "I don't grow because I'm never willing to take any trouble. I don't amount to much in any way, and neither will you unless you learn a great deal," he said.

Samuel Stork Passes This Life In His Ninty-Sixth Year

On Tuesday afternoon, April fifth, at his home on West Laurel Avenue, Samuel Stork passed to his rest. His ninety-six years were filled with the love of nature, and he inherited with a family of distinguished connoisseurs, discriminating appreciation of music, art and the drama. An ardent reader of Shakespeare, Dickens and Thackeray, he quoted them at length, until his recent illness. His reminiscences of the great actors and singers of his day were intensely interesting as well as that of the evolution of a century of inventions. The great world movements of the present concerned him deeply. No one more merited the benediction of the Beatitudes, "Blessed are the pure in heart." Rev. E. Burdette Backus conducted private services at the family residence on Thursday morning.

THE NATURE AND POWER OF THOUGHT

A Lecture by Mrs. Annie Rix Miltz

Next Thursday evening April 14, at the Woman's Club House, one of our pioneer citizens, Mrs. Annie Rix Miltz, will deliver a lecture upon the power of the mind which all, who are interested are cordially and freely invited to attend.

Mrs. Miltz has devoted her life to this study and is one of the foremost exponents of the healing power of Divine Mind, being world known as a teacher and healer, author of many books and editor of the Master Mind, a monthly magazine in the eleventh year of its publication.

Mrs. Miltz has traveled and taught throughout the United States and has been twice around the world in this capacity, residing seven months in Japan, four months in India, six months in England, several months in Australia and many other lands. She is the founder of the Homes of Truth, known up and down the Pacific Coast from Victoria, B. C. to San Diego, and has been the principal instructor for the last five years in the University of Christ, 802 S. Union Ave., Los Angeles, a college founded for the training of teachers and healers in the Christian ministry.

For over a quarter of a century, Mrs. Miltz has been a property owner in Sierra Madre and owns a pretty bungalow on N. Auburn and corner of Carter, where she often spends a season of quiet retirement whenever her busy life permits.

It is to be hoped that our citizens will express their appreciation of this favor that Mrs. Miltz is extending to us, and that it may not be said of Sierra Madre that "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country and home town."

EDISON COMPANY HAVE ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Southern California Edison Company stockholders was held at the Edison building in Los Angeles Friday. The News is in receipt of a lengthy report of this meeting and a part of it we think will be very interesting to our readers.

In speaking of future hydro-electric developments, the report says: "Your company's application for a preliminary permit to develop energy from the waters of the Colorado River has been accepted by the Federal Power Commission. Under present conditions there is only 4,000,000 horsepower of water power capable of commercial development in California; 1,000,000 H. P. is already developed, and the remaining 3,000,000 will be exhausted by the normal increase in the state within fifteen years unless the railroads electrify, in which case it will be exhausted inside of ten years; the Colorado River under your company's filings, will produce 2,500,000 horsepower. This development will insure absolute flood control, will make it possible to irrigate an additional 3,250,000 acres and will make 300 miles of the river navigable. The area which may be served with power includes three quarters of the State of California, and the entire states of Arizona, Nevada, and Utah, one-fifth of Idaho and Wyoming. The ultimate result of this development will be an increase in community wealth in an amount equal to the total valuation of California in 1920."

CANYON REALTY SALES

Myers and Goodwin Sell Armstrong and Carter Acres

Myers & Goodwin have sold nine lots belonging to the Armstrong interests to Steve Petzel of Long Beach who has declared his intention of erecting bungalows thereon. They have also sold two and one-half acres of the Carter interests to a Mr. Hoover of Long Beach who will improve the property.

Canyon property is becoming more valuable every day, and many Sierra Madre people do not realize that we have one of the most, if not the most picturesque locations for a mountain resort in United States.

A COMMUNICATION

Editor, Sierra Madre News:

Will you please print a few lines in behalf of the dairymen who are trying to serve the people with fresh, clean milk. No doubt most of the people do not intend to be careless or inconsiderate of the rights of the man who furnishes his milk, and only need to be reminded that the bottles should be washed and returned daily, and not be used for any other purpose. Also your dairy man will be grateful if you do not hand out his bottle to some other dairyman thinking just so you give him a bottle there is no difference. Perhaps some people are not aware that there is a law making it an offence for a dairyman to use another bottle. Hence, if Brown's bottle is given to Mr. White, Mr. Brown must set it aside to be gathered up by the bottle exchange whose business it is to sort them over and return them to their owners, who in turn must pay for them in addition to the first expense of the bottle, which is no small matter. In behalf of dairymen let me urge housekeepers to use more care and thoughtfulness due the milk bottle and I am sure it will be greatly appreciated by all the dairymen.

This is rather a lengthy article but I believe the people should understand and realize the trouble and expense they cause the dairymen by mixing milk bottles.

Very Respectfully,
MRS. W. J. LADD.

TO BE ADMIRER

The man or woman who can attend to their own business is a person to be admired. Many people do many things that do not look right in the eyes of their neighbors or their relatives, and yet the time for explanation is not always at hand or even necessary, but those with a warped mind, a jealous disposition and the "butt-in-itch" must have something unkind to say, and say it to those who are doing their best to be of assistance to humanity, and earn an honest living.

Everyone respects the person who can attend to his own business.

SILVER JUBILEE

Father Woodcutter was ordained to priesthood twenty-five years ago and in appreciation of his years of service a Silver Jubilee was given in his honor, Thursday by his parish, friends and members of the clergy.

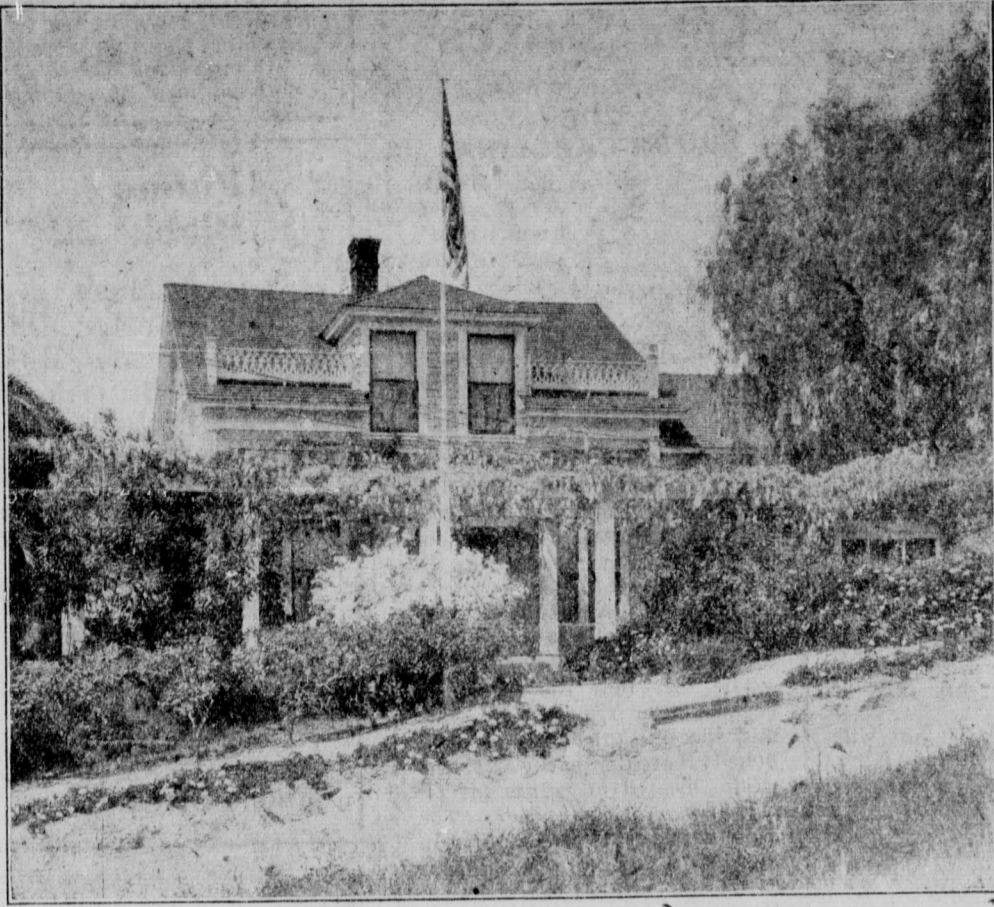

Five and Twenty Years of Silver Lining thy fleecy cloud, Mark the time that thou hast given As the consecrated of the Lord. They have flown on love's sweet pinions, Drawing near and nearer still— Thy great heart unto its Maker Marked with workings of His Will. Five and Twenty silvery dewdrops Borrowing tints from Monday's sun Bring before us many symbols, Of the work for Jesus done, From the Shepherd true and loving, Thou hast borrowed patience, love, Shedding rays of consolation, Striving His sweet love to prove. Five and Twenty silvery pages— Record of thy holy life Tell of many noble actions, Mid the cares of earthly strife. Tell how oft thou'st heal the wounded Taught the erring to do right Raised the fallen, helped the timorous To the darkened souls gave light. Five and Twenty clasps of silver— Seal thy record brave and true; Many bright and noble pages, Lie concealed from human view, But we must not seek to scan them, They were written for God's love, Like so many links of silver, Binding thee to Heaven Above.

IMPORTANT ISSUE

One of the most important issues before Congress when it meets next May is that of taxation. The average man is the fellow whom Congress should have in mind all the time. The interests of the great mass of American families should be conserved in the proposed legislation.

FLOWER FESTIVAL COMMITTEE WILL MEET

There will be a general committee meeting of all the Flower Festival Committees at the Woman's Club House, Saturday night, April 9, at 7:30.

A WISTARIA ROMANCE

To test out the theory of whether or not color vibration can influence human relations, and with the belief that a dominant harmonious color will affect the happiness of those surrounded by it, two young and idealistic persons of Los Angeles were married Sunday afternoon in Sierra Madre under the historic wistaria vine.

They were Miss Marie Fremger and Perry Duncan, who met last summer in the amethyst shadows of the purple mountains ad watched the lavender dusk creep up from the sea. They became friends through discussing their beliefs on occult color theories and found that they both possessed an ardent love of lilac shades. And when their friendship had developed into love they decided on a wistaria wedding. Purple is the highest rate of vibration known to the world," said Mrs. Duncan Sunday after her marriage, "and I believe in it not only as a symbol of everything beautiful and ideal, but that by surrounding oneself with it, the higher motive centers of the brain can be stimulated to degrees of activity as yet unknown."

"Physicians are curing diseases by the ultra-violet ray, which is a strongly condensed purple vibration, and I believe by having enough of the color in all of its various shadings, we can bring ourselves to live on a much higher ethical plane.

"None of us live up to our ideals and we need a constant reminder, a vitalizing stimulus, to keep us striving toward them, and perhaps this color idea of ours is just a more abstract expression of the old cardboard and zephyr mottoes of our grandmothers which hang on the walls reminding us of God, home and mother."

Mrs. Duncan wore a lavender crepe de chine, embroidered in violet, and carried orchids and lilies of the valley. After April 15 Mr. and Mrs. Duncan will be at home in a gray and lavender bungalow in West Fifty-fourth street, Los Angeles.

—Los Angeles Examiner.

OLD MAID'S ASSOCIATION

The Play, Peg O' My Heart has been indefinitely postponed and knowing that all the people of Sierra Madre were planning to attend the play and would be disappointed at being kept at home, a committee waited upon the Old Maid's Association of Sierra Madre and they most graciously offered to allow the public to attend their convention.

FROST NIPS FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Temperatures which ranged between 27 and 30 degrees in various fruit and vegetable-growing sections of Southern California Wednesday morning did considerable damage to peaches, prunes, apricots, walnuts and pears, according to reports from country districts last night.

San Fernando Valley growers estimated yesterday that apricots were nipped 70 per cent, peaches perhaps 40 per cent, prunes and plums from 50 to 75 per cent, and apples about 45 per cent. In the neighborhood of Van Nuys practically all the young potatoes were nipped.

BETHANY

Dr. W. H. Rawlings, Pastor. 9:45 A. M. S. and Bible classes. 11:00 A. M. Morning Service. 6:30 P. M. Senior Young People's meeting. 7:30 P. M. Evening Service. Wednesday evening 7:30 prayer meeting. 6:15 P. M. Wednesday evening, Junior Young Peoples' Meeting. Mr. E. R. D. Moots, Sunday School superintendent. Rev. A. H. Miller, conductor adult's Bible class.

Bethany Church kept in memory on Sunday last the fact that it was the first anniversary of the day when they met on the fine piece of land where the temple is now being built and dedicated it to the Lord. From that time to this date the work has gone on as funds have come in and every working day has seen the building continue until the rotunda School Hall is so far completed as to be used for worship while the Temple is being completed.

Competent architects estimate that if the building as it will be when completed, was contracted for it would cost $25,000 to build, but competent members of Bethany Church have designed and builded the entire handsome structure without a single outside helper and moreover every dollar needed so far has been given so that no debt has been incurred.

When the self-sacrificing of this congregation is known it will surprise the community and for all time this solid and handsome church building will stand not only as a work of art unsurpassed for architectural beauty but as an unanswerable monument to God's faithfulness toward a people who believe and practice true scriptural principles in the carrying on of Christian work.

Again on Sunday last gifts were handed in for the building fund. A lady has handed the pastor, Dr. Rawlings a very lovely and choice piece of hand made lace work such as a lady who could afford it would prize. It would cost twice the amount, this friend mentions toward a purchase of aiding in the completion of the church can secure this exquisite piece of handiwork for $100. Enquiry can be made to Mrs. Rawlings 461 East Grand View Ave. Many people in the community not members of Bethany Church are much interested in the new building. Should there be others that desire as Christians to help, Dr. Rawlings can be addressed as above.

The first Sunday of the month being the time when new members are received into the church, on Sunday last Bethany saw further increase in membership. After the Communion Service a substantial offering was taken for the Near East Relief.

An Array of Beauty—Easter Decorations at The First Congregational Church

The specially designed Easter decorations at the Congregational church Sunday were beautiful. The arch scheme with the cross center, supported by large baskets of flowers and banked with lilies, supported one of the heaviest and most beautiful decorative settings ever placed in this church.

The decorations were planned by Mr. Frank Monroe Smith, assisted by Miss Gertrude Cook and Mr. Roger Lincoln, a nephew of Mr. Smith.

Mrs. F. I. Kinney and children of Corvallis, Oregon, who have been the guests at the A. W. Evans home on North Adams street, went to San Diego Sunday, where they will visit relatives.

FOOD SALE NETS $30

TO CELEBRATE SILVER JUBILEE

Solemn Mass at St. Rita's and Reception to Father Woodcutter.

Next Thursday, April 7, will be jubilee day for Father Woodcutter. It is the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to priesthood.

Bishop Cantwell of Los Angeles will be present as will about fifty priests from over Southern Long Beach.

Father Reardon of Long Beach will preach the sermon at 10 o'clock. There will be solemn mass in the morning and the ladies of the parish will entertain the clergy at dinner at the Mrs. Jennie Schmidt home on Sycamore Place. The evening will be given to a reception at the Club house. There will be an interesting program supported by both local and outside talent. No formal invitations will be issued, but those who know Father Woodcutter are cordially invited.

Father Woodcutter was ordained at Winnepeg, being the first resident of that city to be received into the priesthood. He has been in charge of St. Rita's church since March, 1919, coming here from Lompoc, Cal. He has labored hard and is just beginning to see his way for a new church. The St. Rita's parish is growing and is being blessed under his careful guidance, and the establishment of St. Rita's shrine is one of the great things that Father Woodcutter has brought to Southern California and to Sierra Madre.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IN MONTHLY MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held on Monday, April 4, at the City hall at 8 p. m.

The Rev. R. Warren Mottern of Glendale will give a twenty-minute talk illustrated with lantern slides on "The Record of Armenia—Socially." Mottern is one of the field workers in the Near East Relief movement, is well equipped to give an interesting talk and has spoken before several of the chamber of commerce meetings in Southern California. He wished it emphasized that he would collect no money from those who attend the meeting, but he says so many forget or overlook the fact that Armenia has suffered as she has because of her faith, because she is a Christian nation.

The men, women and children of that most unhappy country suffer persecution, torture and death today for

NOT A DAM WENT OUT

Recent Rains Did Not Affect Dry Rock Dams in Little Santa Anita Canyon

There are 287 dry-rock dams in the Little Santa Anita Canyon. Every one of these dams performs a wonderful part in conserving water for Sierra Madre, and the recent heavy rains tested the construction severely with the result that not a dam went out.

The average height of these dams is 6.05 feet by 28 feet long and were constructed under the supervision of Mr. Harvey Steinberger. It is remarkable that every dam remained intact during the last precipitation, when so many dams in the surrounding canyons went out. There are 36 of these dams in Bailey canyon and every one of them stood the test.

Sierra Madre is indeed fortunate, and this district is particularly fortunate in securing sufficient money to build these dams. Our proportion at the beginning was only $3,300 and by petition and hard work $14,700 more was secured to complete the work.

Mr. Steinberger is of the opinion that underbrush will grow up around these dams and make them flood proof. They are a great asset to our water supply and give us substantial raise in the tunnels that otherwise would mean an expense to the city.

their belief as surely as the early Christians did. The Romans threw the early martyrs to the wild beasts to devour. The Turks of today are less merciful—these Christian martyrs suffer long and horribly before death comes. Pestilence and famine stalk hand in hand through the land in the wake of war. Armenia fought with the Allies and, according to General Ludendorff's statements, by cutting off the oil supply from the Caspian Sea materially hastened the defeat of Germany. The massacres by the Turks go on and this Christian nation is on the verge of extinction yet—they hold the faith!

To Maintain Municipal Park A plan which has been approved by the Directors for the maintenance of a municipal park in Sierra Madre will be discussed in the business meeting. As this will be the last meeting before the fire bonds election, the Chamber will decide on the methods by which it will co-operate with the Firemen's club to carry the bonds by a large majority.
