HELEN CONNER AND RODNEY E. NERN WED IN CHURCH

Elaborate Ceremony Takes Place on Sunday at the Central Methodist

At a wedding taking place Sunday afternoon, June 25, 1922, at the Central Avenue Methodist church at 1224 South Central avenue, Miss Helen Isabel Conner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Conner of 611 East Chestnut street, became the bride of Rodney E. Nern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Nern of Fort Wayne, Ind. The church auditorium was filled with relatives and friends to witness the ring ceremony performed by Rev. V. Hunter Brink, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. T. H. Allen of Burbank and Rev. C. W. Jennings of Azusa.

White and green were the colors combined in decorating the church, a profusion of white roses, fern and other greenery being used to bank the chancel and to form an arch under which the bridal party stood during the reading of the ceremony. Preceding the service Mrs. Lorna Foster of Glendale sang Carrie Jacobs Bond's "I Love You Truly." She was accompanied by Mrs. Gertrude West, pianist, who later played the Lohengrin march to announce the entrance of the bride party and after the service the Mendelssohn march.

Those in the Bridal Party. The first members of the bridal party to enter were the maid of honor and bride's maids, Miss Helen Indelude of Glendale, who served as maid of honor, was gowned in orchid taffeta, worn with a heart-shaped silver lace hat. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and sweetpeas.

Following her came the four bridesmaids, Miss Marie and Alta Bowen, Jewell Garner of Glendale and Pauline Allen of Burbank, gowned in pastel shades of organdy and carrying bouquets of roses and soft shaded sweetpeas. Then came Mary Estelle Leonard of Burbank, in a dainty organdy frock, scattering rose petals in the pathway of the bride. By the side of the little flower girl (Continued on Page 8)

Auto Falls 250 Feet Into Canyon, Four Persons Hurt

TRIO OF GLENDALE RESIDENTS TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Occupants of Car Escape Death on Ridge Route Through Miracle

A miracle stalled off death yesterday noon on the Ridge Route, six miles beyond Newhall, following an automobile accident. As a result, Charles Garrison, Mrs. Olga Boehme and Miss J. M. Mumma, all of 344 North Belmont street, and John Bell of Los Angeles, today are suffering from injuries.

Mr. Garrison was driving his touring car to Kelly's garage on the Ridge route. A few miles from Glendale the party picked up Mr. Bell, who was going about forty miles up the line, also. While on a curve, Mr. Garrison observed a machine coming down. His car was moving very slowly and he pulled over to the outer edge of the road and prepared to stop in order to allow the other car to pass. Instead of putting his foot on the brake, he accidentally touched the accelerator.

The car spurred forward—overtopped the embankment of the curve ahead and rolled sideways over and over to the floor of the canyon 250 feet below. The screams of the women added to the horror. As quickly as a telephone could be reached and ambulances could reach the scene, members of the party were brought to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital. Mrs. Olga Boehme, who is a nurse at Thornycroft hospital, was found to have a severe cut on the left leg and a dislocated right shoulder.

"The time has come," the walrus said, "to speak of many things—of shoes, and ships, and sealing wax, and cabbages and kings, and why the sea is boiling hot and whether pigs have wings!" That's "potry"! It's very famous "potry"! too, and has been quoted for a great many years. It was written by Charles Dodson whose "trick name" was Lewis Carroll. Hospitality of the real, honest-to-goodness variety, overflowed at the housewarming Saturday night of the new postoffice quarters on West Broadway by members of the local postal family and their friends. Postmaster Ripley D. Jackson expressed his appreciation for the continued loyalty of the postal employees. He said that it was a pleasure to have such men and women under him. He paid a high compliment to Assistant Postmaster George Hallett, when he remarked that all of them should be glad to work under such a man. Postmaster Jackson declared that the policy of treating the postal employees as "human beings" had paid abundantly.

Several selections were sung by Postmaster Jackson and Oscar Wright, all of which were much appreciated by those present. Music for dancing was provided by the Glendale Postoffice orchestra, consisting of the following employees: A. C. Holcomb, clarinet; C. J. ### PARADE, SPEECHES HELP PLANS OF LOCAL LEGION

Hold Patriotic Celebration and Membership Drive Starts With Bang

An "echo of the war" was staged Saturday night by the Glendale post of the American Legion to start its membership drive. The intersection of Brand boulevard and Broadway was a bustle of confusion. Red and green fire flared into the night. A martial file and drum corps stirred the echoes. Officers strutted about and buck private stood at ease. There was oratory, too. It was furnished by James F. McBryde, commander of Post 127, American Legion. The celebration started at 8:45 o'clock with a parade which started from in front of the Elks' club. This was led by an automobile containing among others Commander McBryde and Col. E. A. Everington. It was followed by a truck belonging to the Page Furniture company of 308 East Broadway.

A file and drum corp had been brought over from the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle by Frank Lowe of the Jesse E. Smith Ford agency. Its four members were veterans of the Civil war with enviable records. W. D. Palmer was a member of the Tenth Minnesota infantry and went with it from the headwaters of the Mississippi to Mobile, Alabama. He was with Grant at the siege of Vicksburg. F. M. Howell, who played the bass drum, is a celebrated Indian fighter, and had many an episode with the Redskins. Thomas H. Howe marched as a soldier in the Army of the Potomac. Frederick Reitman marched with Sherman to the sea. A machine gun, which was mounted on the truck, was guarded by a detail of the post.

MINER MASSACRE BLAME PLACED ON COMPANY

Jury Holds Officials of Coal Concern Caused Deaths Of Score

By JAMES T. KILGALLEN
For International News Service.
HERRIN, Ill., June 26.—Bitter resentment for the outside world smoldered in bloodstained Herrin today.

Having "fittingly" buried its dead, fixed to its own satisfaction responsibility for the wholesale slaughter of lives last Thursday and having determined that its own people are blameless and shall not be punished, grim little Herrin is becoming more and more convinced that the world "doesn't understand" and Herrin resents it.

Herrin, which, according to its mayor, A. T. Pace, courts an "open and fair investigation," blames "Lester."

On all sides Lester—William J. Lester, president of the Southern Illinois Coal company—is referred to most bitterly, in terms of extreme hatred. The coroner's jury, rendering its report in the deaths of the twenty-one known dead, expressed the community sentiment in the following verdict:

"We, the jury, find from the evidence that the deaths of the deceased were due to the actions, direct and indirect, of the officials of the Southern Illinois Coal company. We recommend that an investigation be conducted for the purpose of fixing the blame personally on the individuals responsible."

They Know Nothing
The inquest was an illustration of Herrin's position toward punishing the guilty. Of the dozen witnesses called none of them knew anyone who took part in the massacre. The aged and weather-beaten coroner, William McGowan, constantly referred to the slaughter as the "circumstances."

On one occasion he said to a witness, "Of course, you don't know who fired the shots." The witness promptly said he did not.

Chief of Police Robert Herring, like other witnesses, "only knew what happened by hearsay."

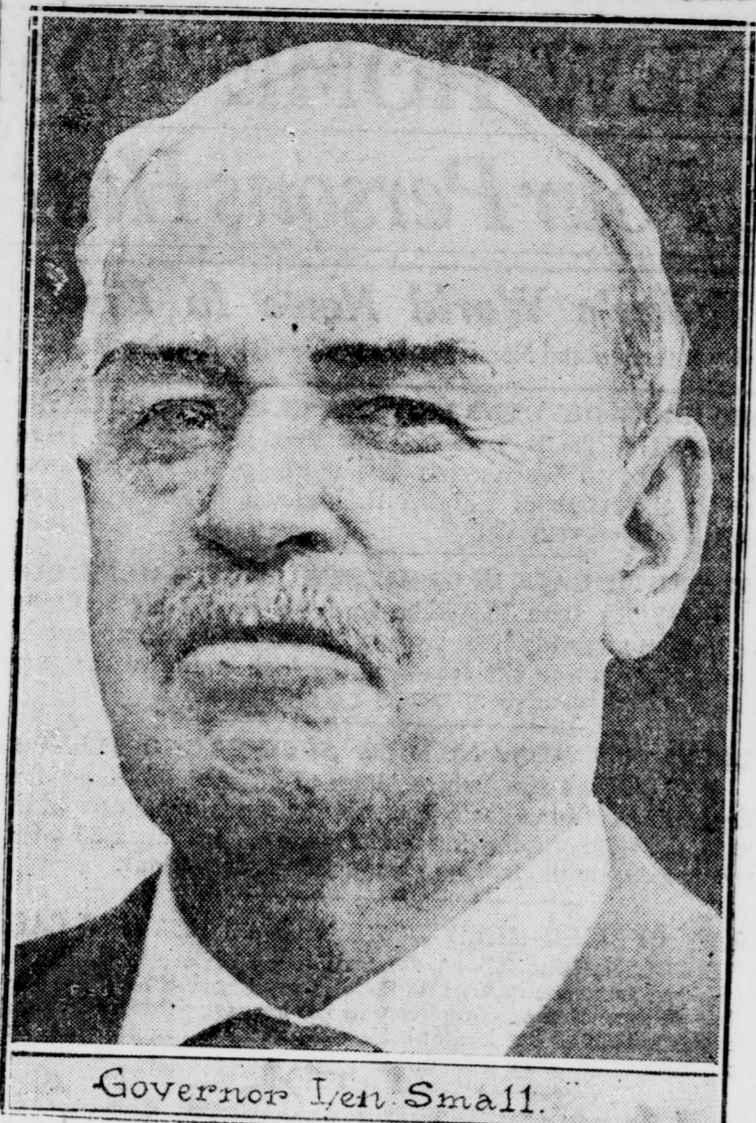

Some surprise was occasioned by the fact that the coroner did not subpoena Sheriff Melvin Thaxton, who had insisted that he could control the situation without outside help.

Colonel Samuel Hunter, Governor Small's personal representative, was the most important witness. He told of how he had been sent five days before the massacre to investigate the reported menacing situation; how he had been halted by armed guards on the public highway near the Southern Illinois Coal company mine; how he had informed C. K. (Peg) McDowell, superintendent of the mine, that the guards were inciting trouble; how he had searched the premises and found many guns and much ammunition, but no machine guns, as reported. He said he reported the situation to the attorney-general's office.

The jury found that George Henderson, striker, first man to be killed in the conflict, "met death from gunshot wounds at the hands of C. K. McDowell, Murderer."

Few Attend Inquest
Less than a dozen spectators attended the inquest. The public, likewise, displayed little interest in the burial Sunday morning of

MRS. SMALL, WIFE OF ACQUITTED GOVERNOR, DIES FROM APOPLEXY

Governor Len Small.

Stricken Saturday Afternoon, Soon After Her Husband Is Declared Not Guilty

KANKAKEE, Ill., June 26.—Mrs. Ida Moore Small, wife of Len Small, governor of Illinois, died at her home here today.

Mrs. Small was stricken late Saturday with an attack of apoplexy and paralysis resulting from the bursting of a blood vessel in the brain. The attack followed her return home from Waukegan, where a jury Saturday afternoon had acquitted Governor Small of charges of conspiracy to embezzle state funds.

Physicians attributed her death directly to the strain under which she labored during the indictment and trial of Governor Small.

Governor Small and their children were at the bedside when death came. Physicians feared that the shock of his wife's death, following the order of his trial, might also prove too great for the governor to endure.

Governor Small's case went to the jury at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. The jury read over the long instruction delivered by Judge Claire C. Edwards. Then they took two ballots. On the first there were eleven votes for "not guilty." On the next it was unanimous.

When the verdict was returned the courtroom was in a tumult. About 100 relatives, friends and the sixteen slain non-union miners. The miners in town watched indifferently the moving of the bodies from the morgue. When the plain, black caskets, numbered from 1 to 16, as were the graves, were taken from the ambulance trucks at the cemetery, there were only about 125 per-political supporters of the governor had crowded toward the rail beyond which at his counsel's table sat the defendant with his wife and his sister, Miss Susanne Small. Nearby, were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Small, with their children and Mrs. A. B. English, the governor's daughter.

As the clerk read the words, "We, the jury, find the defendant, Len Small, not guilty," the crowd at the rail let out one loud, jubilant yell and surged forward, swamping the entire court-ward. Confusion followed. Cheers resounded and arms waved in the air. One hat went almost to the ceiling of the courtroom.

The governor and members of his family enthusiastically, almost tearfully, shook the hands of the jurors and thanked them.

The governor in a statement said: "The verdict of 'not guilty' is a result I was always sure would follow in the trial of the case against me for the reason that I knew there was no guilt."

Attorneys for the prosecution said they would issue no statement. Shortly after Mrs. Small was stricken. Following her death today the governor collapsed and physicians are in attendance.

sons grouped about the freshly dug graves. Mayor Face and State Senator W. J. Sneed, who dug grave "No. 1," directed the burial.

On each coffin was a metal plate bearing the words "at rest." Just before the coffins were lowered to the graves four of Herrin's protestant ministers, the Rev. P. R. Clorfeley, Rev. I. E. Lee, Rev. William McCoy and the Rev. S. F. Spainhower, read briefs from the Bible. Then, together, they sang "Nearer My God to Thee" and the ceremony was over.

As the ministers hastily left in their automobile and the little crowd began to melt, a number of miners who "were getting paid for it by the county," lowered into their graves the victims of the "Bloody Williamson county."

Playgrounds Open On First of Month
Listen, kids, you can start going to school the first of July—if you want to.

Now, don't get "all het up," because you don't have to go. The high school board of trustees recently decided to keep the high school gymnasium and athletic field open during July and August. They will be in charge of Albert T. Blanford, head of the physical education department in the grammar schools, Norman R. Whytock and Manning L. Alvas, members of the faculty of the intermediate school last term.

The matter was brought up by the local community service committee. Among the members of this committee are: L. T. Rowley, attendance officer of the school district; R. Eastman, Mrs. W. Q. Widdows, Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, and Dr. Jessie Russell.

The matter was endorsed by the Federated Parent-Teachers' Association and presented to the city council by a committee consisting of Mrs. John Robert White, Mrs. H. A. McPherson and Mrs. Mary Bowls.

There is no record where a girl laced so tight she couldn't eat $3 worth after the show.

DOUBLE PROGRAM, PICTURE STARS AT GLENDALE

Preview Included on Big Bill; Only One Show Is Given Tonight

Preview! One hundred motion picture stars in attendance! Double bill in one show only, starting at 7:30! That is the Glendale Theatre's announcement which should fill the house to overflowing tonight. "Fools of Fortune," with Russell Simpson and Marguerite De La Motte, a five-part comedy-drama directed by Louis William Chaudet, is the added attraction.

An enthusiastic reception was accorded the showing of Gus Edwards' "School Days," featuring the freckle-faced movie star, Wesley Barry, at the Glendale Theatre. The picture will be shown again today.

The appeal of "School Days" is irresistible, because it serves to bring back to the older generation the days when they were a couple of kids; to the youngsters it will serve as a treat because they can witness one of their own kind going through all the pranks, the disappointments and the joys of boyhood.

There is the familiar swimming hole, the familiar pal, a dog, and the familiar little shanty, the schoolhouse, big enough to take care of a band of youngsters.

There are many other interesting high lights in the picture, and the large cast does some splendid work in support of Wesley.

News, Topics and Chats also are interesting for the young and old alike.

DR. D. WINLOW HUNT
 Dr. D. Winslow Hunt of 644 W. Myrtle street passed away at his home last night, Sunday, June 25, 1922, at the ripe old age of 76 years, after a life fraught with excitement that went with the Civil war, pioneering and early day surgery.

Since 1901 he had lived in Glendale in peaceful practice, and he had celebrated his birthday on June 11. Twelve weeks ago he took ill, but seemed improved recently, so his demise was a decided shock to members of his family and many close friends.

Dr. Hunt could be considered a pioneer of Glendale, being influential in municipal affairs in the early days, serving then as health officer. He was an active member of the Episcopal church and served as medical physician of the Fraternal Brotherhood of Los Angeles. He also was a member of the Fraternal Union, the Y. P. O. E. and Masonic order, G. A. R. and school affairs interested him a great deal.

Born in New Hampshire, Dr. Hunt came to California some years after the close of the Civil war. He engaged in the drug business at Redlands and practiced medicine in the cities of Claremont and Anaheim before locating in Glendale. Here he immediately became identified with public affairs and was the vice-president of the first bank established in Glendale.

A widow, Susan C. Hunt, and one daughter, Dorothy Hunt, survive. He also leaves four brothers, the Rev. Theodore Hunt of Riverside, the Rev. Sherman Hunt of Minnesota, Dr. F. N. Hunt of Fairmont, Minn., the Rev. Eugene Hunt of North Dakota; two sisters, Mrs. William Milligan of Oakland and Miss Etta Hunt of Boston.

Pulliam, Klofer & Eyerick, undertakers, have charge of arrangements and the hours for the services is pending until the sister from Oakland arrives.

DR. FUNK SPEAKS ABOUT DIVINE ENTHUSIASM

Says All Children Not Dedicated or Baptized Must Be Heathen

"Divine Enthusiasm" was the subject of the sermon yesterday morning at the First Lutheran church.

"Who are heathen?" inquired Dr. H. C. Funk. "I would say that all children who have not been dedicated or given to God in holy baptism, are heathen.

"To illustrate: There is a man living in California who has no use for the church. His wife is just like him; so in that respect they make a good pair. But they had a child. The father and mother did not go to church and refused to have the child baptized. Now, what kind of a baby was that? I will say that it was a heathen baby.

"And, moreover, if the child is a heathen, how about the parents? If these people lived in Africa or India, no one would raise the question. Because they are living in America, some folks think it is awful to call such nice people heathen. The fact is that they are worse heathen than those unfortunate people who live in India or Africa. They have repeatedly heard the invitation and are either neglecting or rejecting the terms of peace and pardon.

"Includes Nice People "Again, we hold that all adults, who have not confessed Christ in holy baptism, are heathen—and that includes some mighty nice people. Remember, that Aristotle and Plato, the most learned men of their day, were heathen. Alexander the Great was a heathen. Nicodemus, who came to Jesus by night, was a member of the Supreme court and a ruler of the Jews—but he was a heathen.

"The enthusiasm which God puts in the hearts of men is the need of the hour. Because Martin Luther was filled with divine enthusiasm 20,000 to 30,000 people came to hear him preach from the balcony of a hotel. Moses had a stammering tongue. God made him the leader of a mighty nation and a law-giver for the ages to come.

"Divine enthusiasm is a patient and persistent force. Paul said: 'This thing I do,'—and with divine enthusiasm he did it."

Makes Prize Winning Radio Set

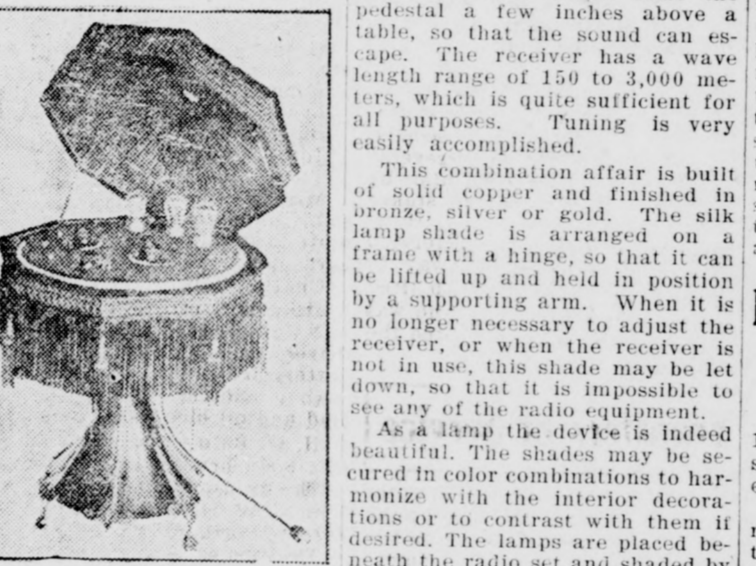

Sterling G. Sears, called "the most ingenious radio fan," and the specially constructed motor generator which his ingenuity won him in a radio contest. The set is a completely self-contained vacuum tube outfit. It is shown attached to a loop antenna of flat construction.

NEW APPARATUS AND DEVICES By RALPH BROWN

RADIO ENGINEER, CUTTING AND WASHINGTON RADIO CORP

A RADIO RECEIVER AND LIBRARY LAMP COMBINED The person who wishes to combine a radio receiving set with a library lamp and "camouflage" the receiver when it is not in use and a loud speaker. The horn of the loud speaker is very novel, in that it is inside the lamp base. There are feet which raise the pedestal a few inches above a table, so that the sound can escape. The receiver has a wave length range of 150 to 3,000 meters, which is quite sufficient for all purposes. Tuning is very easily accomplished.

This combination affair is built of solid copper and finished in bronze, silver or gold. The silk lamp shade is arranged on a frame with a hinge, so that it can be lifted up and held in position by a supporting arm. When it is no longer necessary to adjust the receiver, or when the receiver is not in use, this shade may be let down, so that it is impossible to see any of the radio equipment.

As a lamp the device is indeed beautiful. The shades may be secured in color combinations to harmonize with the interior decorations or to contrast with them if desired. The lamps are placed beneath the radio set and shaded by the silk fringe which hangs down. Now that our telephones are being camouflaged by ladies with flaring skirts and otherwise covered up, it is quite probable that a camouflaged radio receiver will appeal to a number of people who object to the radio receiver in its customary cabinet.

RADIO EXPLAINED BY E. H. LEWIS INSTRUCTOR NEW YORK Y.M.C.A. RADIO SCHOOL

EFFECT OF ALTERNATING GRID VOLTAGE ON PLATE CURRENT

With a certain positive potential on the plate and a certain current through the filament of the vacuum tube a certain plate current flows which may be called the normal plate current. We will assume this is not a saturation value, which would be produced if the plate were attracting electrons just as fast as they were being emitted from the filament. If we then apply a certain negative potential constantly to the grid the plate current will be reduced a certain amount, and there will be a new value of normal plate current. The plate current may now be increased or decreased accordingly as the negative grid potential is either decreased or increased. The negative potential applied to the grid may be called the normal grid potential.

With conditions normally as above, let us suppose that a generator of very small and alternating voltage is connected into the circuit of the grid, so that this circuit comprises the tube space between grid and filament, the grid battery with its negative terminal connected to the grid, the alternating voltage generator and the connecting wires. Let us also assume that the generator voltage never reaches exactly the same value as the grid battery voltage. When the generator applies positive voltage to the grid its constant negative potential is reduced, but not wiped out, even when the peak of the positive generator potential is reached. As the grid becomes then less and less negative the plate current increases above its normal value. When the generator voltage of the generator voltage in this direction is reached, plate current increases to a maximum value. After the peak generator voltage is passed this voltage decreases, the grid becomes more and more negative, and the plate current decreases until, when the generator voltage is momentarily zero, the grid potential has returned to its normal value, as has also the plate current. The generator then reverses its voltage and a negative potential is applied to the grid. As this negative generator voltage increases the grid becomes more and more

W. A. HORNE IS AGAIN CHOSEN CLASS HEAD

Men's Bible Organization Holds Election, Hears Keith L. Brooks

The Presbyterian Men's Bible class, which meets each Sabbath morning in the council chamber at the city hall, yesterday unanimously re-elected W. A. Horne of 221 North Louise street, who is now in the east, president; G. F. Snyder, 324 North Isabel street, vice-president, and Glen B. Portier, 344 Salem street, treasurer.

"The Dawn of a New Day" was the subject of Rev. Keith L. Brooks, class teacher.

"There is no record of any unkindness to our Lord from women," he stated. "There are many records of their loving ministries. They had made their way to the very cross. They had clung to Christ when His cause seemed forever dead and buried and now they are the first at tomb.

"Since the death of Jesus there had been night in the disciples' hearts. Their lives were waste and desolate until suddenly they were confronted with the resurrected Christ.

Complete Triumph "As the women came in the early dawn to the sepulchre there was an earthquake and angels descended from heaven. The strong heavenly and the weak earthly lovers of Jesus met. The angels rolled back the stone from the door not to let Jesus out of the tomb but to show the women that He was not there. The angel sat upon the stone. What a picture of God's easy and complete triumph over Satan and his hosts!

"The women were bidden to go quickly and tell the disciples. The sight of the risen Christ gives Christians something to say. It compels them to go to others with the message. If there were a dead Christ, the gospel would have no such power and impetus.

"We read that the chief priests gave much money to the soldiers to explain away the resurrection. For thirty pieces of silver Jesus had been betrayed. It cost much more than that to hush up the messengers, which is paying soldiers to utter lies could not overbalance such a stupendous event. The best testimony given us against the resurrection of Christ was that of soldiers who testified of what took place while they were asleep."

Glendale Merchants Lose to Los Angeles Squad, By 2 to 0 Score

In a battle that came rather near to resulting in a scoreless tie, the Glendale Merchants yesterday suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Talbert & Whitmore team, from Los Angeles. The game ended 2 to 0 in favor of the visitors.

Kerns, pitching for Glendale, allowed nine hits, and Steinberger of the Los Angeles team allowed six.

Both teams played fast and close and only two errors were chalked up for the entire game. For five innings not a runner reached home, but in the sixth and seventh the visitors put across the two runs which won the game.

ORGANIZE SQUAD TO PLAY BALL IN VALLEY

C. E. Kimpel of Tujunga Heads Team; Notes of Nearby District

C. E. Kimpel of Tujunga last night gathered together the faithful flock of baseball players in the Monte Vista valley at the Sunland Chamber of Commerce hall and organized the "M. V. V." ball team for the summer.

F. L. Goldsborough, a Los Angeles builder, is recuperating at his cabin in Tujunga as the result of a tumble he took from a kitchen table.

Egie M. Ashmun, who has been engaged in Red Cross work overseas and at San Francisco for more than five years, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Morgan in Tujunga, having been the former's secretary when he was city manager of Bakersfield.

Fourteen members of the Christian Endeavor society of Tujunga, of which Robert Smallie is president, were guests last night of the Epworth League of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church.

The Casa Verdugo Epworth League has planned to meet with these young people at Tujunga, Sunday night, July 23.

High School Pitcher May Join Cardinals

WALTHAM, Mass., June 26.—Jim Hanney, left-handed pitcher, a graduate of the Waltham high school, may wear a St. Louis Cardinal uniform this summer.

Manager Branch Ricker while at Braves Field sent him a contract and terms and it is likely he will sign it and join the Cardinals on the road.

Hanney has pitched some fine games while at Waltham under the coaching of Jack Leary, former big league catcher. Hanney weighs about 170 and is 5 feet 10.

The finish was a smashing surprise to the thousands who jammed the famous course. Morvich, the long-legged, was up to the stretch and it seemed that the Block entry would reverse the defeat administered him by Whiskaway in the Carlton stakes at Aqueduct last Saturday.

The bodies of the dead were brought here today. The driver of the stage, N. J. Ferrand, said he had turned out of the road for a passing automobile and drove close to a high bank, the rear wheels being in the drain.

Three Persons Killed, Five Others Are Injured

REDDING, Calif., June 26.—An inquest will be held this afternoon to probe the death of three persons and the injury of five others when a Pickwick stage carrying ten passengers southbound from Portland skidded at a turn 40 miles north of Redding late yesterday, rolled off the grade and turned bottom side upward.

Charles Calwels, Toronto, Cal., driver, back blistered hot oil and battery acid.

The uninjured passengers are Mrs. E. W. Hall and Mrs. Fina Sargorsky, Portland.

The bodies of the dead were brought here today. The driver of the stage, N. J. Ferrand, said he had turned out of the road for a passing automobile and drove close to a high bank, the rear wheels being in the drain.

PASTOR DECLARES BIT OF HEAVEN OFFERS HERE

Rev. Harley G. Preston In Sermon Tells About Angels and Others

"There's a lot of doubt about being able to transmit messages to Mars," declared Rev. Harley G. Preston yesterday morning in his sermon at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church. "But to the Christian there is no doubt about heaven being inhabited."

"Why should we not enjoy a bit of heaven here and now? We want to know about heaven as well as about God. Such information must be largely given in figures of speech because of a lack of human vocabulary adequate to the full expression of spiritual truths. In the Scriptures Heaven is likened to a country where 'sweet fields beyond the swelling flood stand dressed in living green.' Also to a city with 'golden streets and gates of pearl.' A city, which hath foundations whose builder and maker is God."

"But there is no portrayal of Heaven that so appeals to homesick pilgrims as that of Jesus: 'In my Father's house are many mansions. I go to prepare a place for you.' Home sweet home!"

Concerning Angels "God's great family are gathering here. Have you ever seen a great family gathering. What joy over the late comer? 'As to the angels—it is little we know of them but we know as much as need be. One thing is clear—they are deeply concerned in the affairs of this world of ours. At its creation they shouted for joy. At the incarnation they sang, 'Glory to God in the Highest, peace on earth and goodwill to men.' His sepulchre was encompassed by legions of them, one of whom rolled away the stone. And when He ascended from Olivet they thronged His chariot and bore Him aloft."

"The doctrine of guardian angels is not mentioned much nowadays but it yields great truth and comfort to those who rightly hold it. There is rejoicing among the saints over all who return from sin. They sit as honored guests at the great jubilee."

J. L. Grey Leases Quarters for Bakery Another bakery is announced for Brand boulevard. The store room at 128 North Brand boulevard now occupied by the real estate office of John L. Grey has been leased to the Perfect System of Window Bakesies.

The manager of the new establishment is now on his way to California from Hutchinson, Kan., according to Mr. Grey, who has been informed that the electrical equipment is on its way, also. His business is expected to be opened about the middle of next month.

"I look forward to having a better fall than any we have had yet," declared Realtor Grey with enthusiasm, Saturday afternoon. "There is a demand for stores and I believe we will succeed in keeping them filled up without much reduction in rent, if any at all."

Thomas & Thorniley Report $49,900 Sales Report of the sale of $49,900 worth of Glendale property by the realty firm of Thomas & Thorniley, 314 South Brand boulevard, made today by Lee Thomas, indicated that activities in Glendale real estate are continuing unabated. Among the recent sales made by this realty firm are:

291 feet on East Broadway for $26,700; house in 500 block on Cypress street from Patterson to Jencks for $8,500; house at 561 West Vine street for $3,200; house at 514 Raleigh street from Lyons to Robertson for $5000; 50-foot lot on North Brand from William LaFontain to Ortiz, for $6500.

JULIAN REFUSES TO ACCEPT YOUR MONEY UNLESS YOU CAN AFFORD TO LOSE!

Widows and Orphans, This Is No Investment For You!

I cannot conscientiously tell you that there is no element of chance in my project for I have learned through my fifteen years of drilling that sometimes they do go wrong.

I don't tell you I am offering you a "Gold Bond" backed by a ten-million-dollar deposit in the Bank and if you are drawing out little savings account that you cannot afford to lose, to support me, my advice to you is, leave it in the Bank.

My appeal is addressed to the people who can legitimately afford to take a chance. "And, Mr. Thoroughbred," I have tried to offset this element of risk, in my offer to you, by laying my cards face up upon the table and offering you the cleanest, squarest opportunity that any human ever made to another.

WHAT HAVE I GOT?

Santa Fe Springs

4 acres in the very heart of the biggest production in the greatest oil field in America, bounded on four sides by the Standard Oil Company, The Petroleum Midway, The Dutch Shell and the General Petroleum Corporation and practically offsetting the big 4000-barrel Agee well of the latter Company, which came in two weeks ago today, and since when I have refused

$100,000.00 for My Lease

And where do you come in? I am calling for $175,000.00 to insure the completion of this well and my incentive in asking this amount is to be in a position to protect your investment no matter what conditions may arise. And for your support I am assigning 70% of my total net production to you from this well together with one-third of my holdings at Santa Fe Springs, and this assignment to be held in trust by one of the leading Banks of Los Angeles for a period of 25 years. They will receive the proceeds of this 70% of my production direct from the Pipeline Company and same will be distributed to you pro rata every thirty days by this Bank.

Every $100.00 you shoot with me will bring you an assignment, legally executed, of one 1750th part of 70% of my total net production and should bring you a return of not less than 100% each month. I am not asking you to place a bet on something that I have not already bet mine on. For I want to tell you here and now that when I stepped up and laid $30,000.00 cash on the "Come Line" to the Globe Petroleum Corporation, it took every dime that I could beg, borrow and scrape together.

I have fifteen husky drillers, every one a picked man, all drawing top wages and a $2000.00 cash bonus to have my well on production 90 days from July 1st. And I want to tell you that each and every one will stand behind me, like a stone wall, to make good my promises to you.

My rig is up. My sump holes are dug. My boilers will be set up Monday. My brand new Rotary drilling machinery is ready to be delivered, but all this costs real money.

I have to be spudded in by July 4th. If you feel I am worthy of your confidence and support I want to here promise you that until my well is on production, I will extend every ounce of energy and ability that I possess to protect your investment, and will stick by you until the last "dog is hung."

DOROTHY DALTON IN FEATURE FILM

"The Crimson Challenge" is Offering Today on the T. D. & L. Screen

Dorothy Dalton in her late Paramount picture, "The Crimson Challenge," heads a cast of really popular players. She has for her leading man Jack Mower, who played one of the principal parts in Cecil B. De Mille's "Saturday Night."

Frank Campeau, one of the most experienced players in the profession, has the part of a villain so black that he makes snow like snow. Clarence Burton, who has popularized Mexican bandit roles, also plays a villainous role, and the trio of villains—an unusual feature of a picture—is completed by George Field.

The picture, which was adapted from Vingie E. Roe's popular novel, "Tharon of Lost Valley," by Beulah Marie Dix, will be shown at the T. D. & L. theater today.

Ralph Allan, manager, announces some big features are in store for T. D. & L. patrons, including Rex Beach's "Fair Lady," "Out of the Dust," "The Barnstormer" with Charles Ray, and Griffith's "Orphans of the Storm." That is but a part of a long list which keep the crowds coming.

The parade was accompanied by Officer Ralph Baugh and Officer Frank Conners of the Glendale police department.

"We have set our hopes on making this one of the largest posts of the American Legion in America," declared Commander McBryde with enthusiasm during the speech of the occasion. "The Legion has been doing much for every ex-service man throughout the United States. This year we are putting on a campaign for the ten million dollar bond issue. That will be a great benefit to all ex-service men. It will not cost the American people one cent because it is simply a loan to every ex-service man that he may buy a home or buy a farm and have forty years to repay."

"The American Legion has been advocating a great many great principles which have been accepted by congress. We advocated that immigration should be limited to some degree. "We are doing all we can for Americanism. We are preaching it and teaching it. There have been too many isms in this country. You see it on every hand. "We have many problems before us today in the city of Glendale. We have been attempting to own our own home and we have a great many problems because we have to finance it from young men who came back from the war and many of whom gave all they had in the war. "The American Legion is not a military organization. It does not fight labor unions. It is in sympathy with all things which are progressive."

W. D. Palmer of Sawtelle then spoke of some of his experiences in the Civil war and Frank Weller, candidate for the legislature, made a patriotic address.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

What Others Think Nearnness of Mars Undesirables Unwanted What Causes Crime?

By Gil A. Cowan

What others are thinking sometimes furnishes food for comment. Day in and day out one's mind may grow stagnant with the circumscribed subject to be found in a community such as this.

So, instead of taking a trip and getting inspiration from that which is seen, today, for a change, we shall read the papers from over the state and glean thoughts from the editorial sanctuaries.

There are many good papers in California, other than those published in Los Angeles, not forgetting The Glendale Evening News, if you will pardon our pride.

And the editors have high thoughts on current subjects. Possibly the highest comes from the Pasadena Star-News which comments on the nearness of Mars. Following is what it says:

"Nearness of Mars to the earth and the widespread comment on the phenomenon directs attention to the lull in the progress of astronomical science. This great planet is called 'near' when it comes within more than 40,000,000 miles of the earth. Forty million miles! Who can conceive of such immensity of distance. And yet that distance is the span from front door to kitchen door compared with the circumference of the earth, when comparison of 40,000,000 miles is made with the immensity of distance some of the stars are from the earth.

"There is something awesome, thrilling and enthralling about astronomy to the studious layman. He may know little, technically, about the science. But let him gaze through the giant telescope on Mount Wilson and see Jupiter as large, under the magnifying glass, as the earth's full moon, and see Saturn and its wondrous rings, and the moons of these planets, as large, under the telescope, as the planets themselves are to the naked eye—then one is thrilled beyond expression. In truth, trying to express one's feelings is a cheap, tawdry presumption in such circumstances. "Who can behold these majesties and sublimities of the heavens without feeling to the very depths of his soul that there must be—that there verily is, an omnipotent, omniscient and omnipresent God, who created the universe and who rules it with His almighty hand?"

The San Francisco Journal, a financial sheet, points out that undesirables are not wanted in this country, saying:

"There is no room in America for undesirable people to be imported from abroad. We do not want them, either for citizens or visitors. The immigration laws have been revised horizontally by cutting off all admissions above a certain percentage. This law may be good enough for a temporary expedient, but it does not touch the root of this trouble. It is not so important and is not permanently desirable to shut all comers out as it is to shut out those who will not make good American citizens.

"It is not too late to correct the mistakes of the past. The power to create citizenship implies the power to withdraw it. If there is no warrant in the law, as it stands at present, the law should be amended so as to make it possible to revoke citizenship at any time the person proves himself unworthy of it. Armed with such a law, the government would have no excuse to continue to harbor these foreign trouble-makers in our midst.

"Could statistics be compiled to show the total cost of all the crime committed in this country by persons of foreign extraction, of no further value than one generation, the result would stagger the imagination. It would prove beyond question the economic necessity of damping the flood of poison which has been flowing into the melting pot. Unless we do this, our citizenship will be further degraded and polluted until it becomes a thing totally unlike the ideal which we have always cherished for it."

The Hollywood Daily Citizen discusses the causes of crime, as follows:

"Police chiefs assembled at San Francisco for the International Police Chiefs' convention are trying to answer the question, 'What causes crime?' "And they all seem to have a different answer.

"There is just one thing back of all crime, in our opinion, and that is selfishness—the willingness of men and women to sacrifice the interests of others for their own gain.

"The violation of the spirit of the golden rule is the real crime. "But it isn't crime as we understand it.

"Crime, as we understand it, is the violation of a law and getting caught at it.

"Selfishness dictates the violation of law, and the only reason the most of us don't get caught in crime is that a wiser selfishness keeps us out of it.

"More money was stolen from the government during the war by business men with war contracts than has been stolen by all the criminals in all the jails in the country.

"The same spirit prompts both types of men—the spirit of selfishness. "The war grafter, however, used his brain in connection with his selfishness and kept from getting caught. "In hundreds of ways do men do injury to their fellow men—

HELEN CONNER AND RODNEY E. NERN WED IN CHURCH

Bride Pleasing Picture

The bride presented a most pleasing picture as she entered on the arm of her father. She wore a bridal dress of white shaw-dow lace over pearl, chamoisee satin, trimmed in chenille and pearls. A bandeau of orange blossoms and pearls held her embroidered silk net veil in place and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and maiden hair fern.

At the altar the party was completed by the officiating ministers, the groom, the best man, Eugene F. Conner, of An Arbor, Mich., a brother of the bride, and Elwood Ingledue, Albert Hewitt of Glendale, Ray Fisher of Burbank, and Edward Clawson of Ontario, a-ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony the bridal party, relatives and invited guests motored to the young people's new home at 611 East Chestnut street, where an informal reception and bridal luncheon was enjoyed.

White roses and ferns were used also in the decoration at the home and in the dining room the centerpiece of the table was the large wedding cake, trimmed with roses and fern encircling miniature statues of a bride and bridegroom.

Leave for Old Mexico

Early in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Nern left for a trip to San Diego and Old Mexico. For travel Mrs. Nern wore a navy blue canton crepe dress, trimmed with mulberry over-lace, with hat in harmonizing shade. They expect to remain in the south ten days, when they will return to their new home, which is to be shared for the present with Mrs. Nern's parents.

Mrs. Nern and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Conner, have many friends throughout Southern California, where they have taken a prominent part in church affairs as members of the Conner Evangelistic trio. Mrs. Nern is also well known as a talented reader and vocalist.

The Conners formerly lived in Ohio, but for the past twelve years have traveled all over the United States and Canada engaged in singing evangelistic work. Mr. and Mrs. Conner recently purchased a lot on Kenneth Heights where they are to build a bungalow home, which is to be their permanent headquarters. Their son, Eugene F. Conner, who has been attending the university at Ann Arbor, Mich., is to remain in California and complete his work at the University of Southern California.

Mr. Nern is a local realtor. His parents, who were in attendance at the wedding, plan to make a summer visit in California before returning to Indiana.

greater injury, at times by far, than that done by those we place in our jails. "And the reason those who do the injury are not classed as criminals is because they are clever."
