PRAIRIE-PACIFIC TRADE RELATIONS

PREMIER SCOTT TALKS OF COMMERCIAL INTERCOURSE

Markets of Saskatchewan are Open for British Columbia Fruit and Lumber.

Hon. Walter Scott, first premier of the new province of Saskatchewan, is an enthusiast in its present condition and future prospects. Though his visit here was largely taken up with inspecting the parliament buildings and interviewing F. M. Rattenbury, the architect, with a view to securing data for the proposed provincial buildings at Regina, he found time to say a few words regarding conditions in the province recently arrived from the old Northwest Territory.

"Saskatchewan has a great future before her," he said yesterday afternoon. "We are prosperous now, but even better times are coming. There is an abundant crop, and as wheat is worth sixty cents a bushel on the farmers' wagon, they are in a position to purchase goods at a very low price. Home-seekers are pouring in. There were 180,000 came to Canada last year, almost evenly divided between Great Britain, the continent of Europe and the Western States, and Saskatchewan is getting her fair share."

"Railroad building is progressing rapidly. The Grand Trunk Pacific is constructing its line across Saskatchewan, south of Prince Albert, and the Canadian Northern has already reached that place. There was some dissatisfaction regarding the inducements held out to the latter line, some people thinking the C. P. R. would throw all its weight to the development of Moose Jaw, but that has all passed and everyone seems pleased with the new line."

"Only the southern half of the province is settled yet, but development will gradually spread farther north. There is ample opportunity for it. Great stretches of the finest wheat land in the world are still open for settlement and the prairie provinces of Canada are capable of supporting a population of millions."

"While I cannot say anything definite as to population until details of the recent census of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan are completed, I am certain the great increase will be surprising. The two new provinces will certainly gain increased parliamentary representation; in fact, I think our quota of the members will be doubled."

Mr. Scott dwelt on the scarcity of labor in Saskatchewan. "We certainly want people to reap and move the harvest," he said, "but I do not think we have any right to discuss the question of Oriental immigration. Some newspapers have stated that I was coming to British Columbia to discuss this matter, but that was an entire mistake. It is a question affecting your province more than any other, and I am averse to discussing anything in an arena of discussion of Saskatchewan is not very much concerned. British Columbia is entitled to secure a settlement of the question in its own way."

"I certainly admire British Columbia. It is a great province and though its resources as a producing province are totally different from those of Saskatchewan that is more a matter for congratulation than otherwise. We want your fruit and lumber, and I think you will admit we are willing to pay good prices for them. I look to a large upbuilding of the province. The growth of Saskatchewan will help British Columbia largely; in fact, I take the position of the 'woolpates' west of the Great Lakes towards the Pacific coast as similar to that existing between Ontario and Quebec and the Maritime provinces. If you do not have a trend of trade westward from the Atlantic and eastward from the Pacific that has almost a natural boundary which I think should be the eastern line of Manitoba."

"And what do I think Saskatchewan can sell in return? For one thing, so far as I am aware, outside possibly the Peace River valley, and only a small portion of that, British Columbia cannot grow hard wheat. This is a necessity nowadays and when your province grows, as it surely will do, Saskatchewan, and Alberta will sell large quantities of wheat stuffs to the population west of the Rockies."

"Living, as I do, in a prairie province, it is a pleasant change to pass through the mountains. Even from a scenic point of view they are a great asset, but I also realize the immense wealth of the mountains. I should much like to spend some time going through British Columbia from one end to the other, but my duties call me back to Regina. I am very satisfied with the object of my visit to Victoria—the inspection of the parliament buildings and with the friendly interest you have shown in the meeting. I am pleased with my visit, but go away with a feeling of surprise. It is wonderful to have that magnificent structure you have in Victoria was built and equipped for less than

ALBERNI NOTES.

Fire in Mrs. Redford's House—One killed From Happy John Mine.

(Special to the Times.)
Alberni, B. C., Sept. 5.—The automobile owned by Mr. Thompson, of Nanaimo, has just reached here with Dr. Proctor and wife, of Vancouver, who are visiting Mrs. Gullied and family.

A most delightful rainy spell has set in. It was much needed. Mrs. J. A. Redford's residence had a narrow escape from being burned down at an early hour this morning, by one of the children lighting matches near a curtain, which took fire. Assistance arrived in time to prevent much damage being done.

A large quantity of ore is being shipped from the Happy John mine, near the well known mine, Happy John.

A number of mining men are in town visiting Joe Drinkwater's mine, the Big Interior.

INSPECTED THE SHOW GROUNDS

EXHIBITION EXECUTIVE VISITED THE BUILDINGS

Nine Hundred Dollars Will Be Spent in Necessary Repairs—Arrangements for Electric Power.

The last two weeks of the present month promise to be one long carnival as far as Victoria is concerned. On Friday, the 14th, the Governor-General will arrive, and for his reception the city will don its gala attire. As stated in the report of the committee meeting held to arrange for a suitable welcome to the distinguished visitor, which appears in another column, not only will flags and bunting be used in profusion, but arches of appropriate and novel design, including several illustrating the agricultural and other resources of Vancouver Island, will be erected. One of these His Worship Mayor Morley announced this morning, in all probability, would be composed of the different kinds of timber available in British Columbia. He had consulted J. Sayward in reference to the matter, and the latter had consented to interview other lumber merchants. This, it is proposed, shall stretch across Yates street, in the neighborhood of the Dominion hotel. While all these decorations are in honor of the Governor-General, they will be allowed to stand until after the exhibition week, so that "Victoria the Beautiful" will wear a holiday garb for over two weeks.

Daily preparations for the forthcoming exhibition, which will be held from the 25th to the 29th of the present month, give better promise of production of the most successful yet accomplished by the British Columbia Agricultural Association. Entries are coming in fast from country points, while the local exhibitors appear to be awakening to the necessity of applying for space without delay so as to secure advantageous locations. The programme of attractions is well in hand, and there is every indication that there will be no lack of competitors for both the bronco busting contest and the horse races which will mark the concluding three days of the fair.

Yesterday His Worship Mayor Morley, Secretary Smart, and members of the executive of the association, visited the exhibition grounds. Their inspection was most thorough, and a definite decision was reached in respect to the repairs needed to place everything in order for the forthcoming show. In all the sum of $900 will be expended in this direction. Of that amount $400 will go towards putting the main and other buildings in proper condition, while the other $500 is the outlay required for the construction of a paddock for the bronco busting competition, the building of a new fence to enclose the race course and the improvements to the track itself.

Arrangements have also been made for the procuring of electric power. Therefore those who wish to display machinery in operation have only to make application. In regard to the lighting of the main building and others in connection therewith, it is announced that no less than 1,500 bulbs are being installed, while last year only 1,200 were used. Thus the exhibition will be much more brilliantly lighted than heretofore.

THE CORINTHIANS

Will Play Two Games in New York Before Leaving for England.

New York, Sept. 6.—The Corinthian Association football eleven, of London, arrived in New York yesterday for a tour of Canada and the United States, will play two matches of the grounds of the Staten Island Cricket Club at Livingston, N. Y. The first game will be played today, the opponent team being men selected from the best University players in America and England, representing Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania and Cambridge. The second contest will take place on Saturday, when a team of the best players in the Association football club in the Metropolitan district will meet the Englishmen.

WELCOME RAIN.

Alberni, Sept. 5.—Forest fires have been doing much damage to power and mine tram lines in the district, but rain is now falling, which will probably extinguish

DATE FIXED FOR LABOR MEETING

IMPORTANT SESSION OF LOCAL TRADES COUNCIL

Brewery Workers Union Will Be Formed Shortly—Labor Party Will Form Adopted.

J. Ramsay Macdonald, M. P., whip of the Labor party in the Imperial House of Commons, will address a mass meeting in Victoria on Thursday evening, September 13th. His round-the-world tour in the interests of labor is arousing great interest throughout Canada, Australia and New Zealand. He spoke in Winnipeg on Labor Day and was accorded a most flattering reception, and his last address in

ADIAN LABOR PARTY.

The proposed candidate's pledge, as introduced last meeting and published in the Times of Victoria, has been discussed at great length, largely round, the necessity of binding all candidates to the pledge. A motion was moved and second, that the pledge be taken under oath, but it was finally decided to adhere to the original idea and accept the candidate's word of honor. All delegates were, however, instructed to urge the adoption of the pledge formulated, or a similar one, before the coming congress.

Several new planks were considered and added to the proposed platform. The most important one dealt with the necessity of the government appointing local officials to carry out the alien contract labor laws. It was urged, and adopted, that such officials be instructed to prosecute all cases of infraction of the law in addition to the present right of unions to take similar proceedings. An animated discussion took place on the question of adult suffrage, but finally the plank was carried almost unanimously.

At the conclusion of the discussion the committee rose and reported the platform completed. The council then adopted it as a whole, and delegates to the congress were instructed to present the various resolutions and planks of the platform to the congress.

Before the meeting adjourned the Plumbers' Union announced the election of C. R. Carter as its delegate to the congress. The proceedings then terminated.

BURGLARS BUSY AT GRAND FORKS

ENTERED DWELLING AND RAILWAY DEPOT

Threatened to Shoot Woman if She Gave Alarm—Did Not Secure Any Booty.

(Special to the Times.)
Grand Forks, B. C., Sept. 5.—Last night about 12 o'clock a tall man, with light soft felt hat and mustache, entered the dwelling of J. W. Collins in the Luckie's addition by taking off the lock from the back door. He then went to Mrs. Collins' bedroom and told her to keep quiet, or he would kill her and pointed a big revolver at her. He had an axe also.

He searched the house and left without taking anything. Early in the morning, presumably the same man entered the Kettle Valley time depot by the window and used an axe on the big safe, completely battering the combination to pieces, but failed to open the safe.

To-day the local authorities are working hard on the case, and there is hope that the burglar will be traced to Spokane to aid in the search. Mr. Collins was away from home at the time of the burglary.

WORKMEN BITTER.

Collapse of Building Under Construction at Ellyn, Ohio—Three Men Reported Killed.

(Associated Press.)
Ellyn, Ohio, Sept. 6.—A section of a big factory building under construction at Ellyn, Ohio, collapsed today, burying a number of workmen. Three men are reported to have been killed and a body injured.

RELATIONS BETWEEN BRITAIN AND SPAIN

NO STEPS TAKEN TOWARD FORMAL ALLIANCE

King Alfonso's Marriage is Expected to Draw the Nations Closer Together.

(Associated Press.)
London, Sept. 6.—Despite various reports to the contrary, it may be accepted as certain that no steps have been taken toward the organization of formal alliance between Great Britain and Spain, and it is very doubtful that anything of the kind is in contemplation. The relations between the two countries are very cordial and their newly created kinship between their royal houses adds another close and intimate bond to their cordiality.

It is very probable that King Alfonso will now look to London with greater frequency for his higher political aspirations, and that under his leadership the Spanish government will be brought into closer working relations with the British government, but nothing in the nature of a written alliance is looked for at present. Spain cooperated with France and Great Britain at Algeiras, and under most circumstances will probably be found similarly aligned in future. There is no reason to believe that France would view the close approach of Spain and Great Britain other than with approval, or that France would object to making the partnership a triangular one. There exists certain differences between France and Spain, but well informed circles here regard them as susceptible to easy adjustment.

TRADES UNION CONGRESS.

Favors Pensions for Everybody at Age of Sixty—Opposes Increased Arrangement.

(Associated Press.)
Liverpool, Sept. 6.—Pensions for everybody at the age of 60 was among the proposals adopted at today's session of the Trades Union Congress. The advocates of the resolution contended that money for pensions could easily be raised from among the wealthy by taxing land values. A resolution in favor of arbitration coupled with an emphatic protest against the increase of armament or insidious attempts to introduce competition in Great Britain was also carried. The congress also instructed the labor members of parliament to insist on trades union rates of wages being inserted in all government contracts and the establishment of a national minimum wage to protect the working people against the evil of "sweating."

PREPARING FOR VISITORS.

Prince Louis Will Entertain Rear Admiral and Officers of United States Warships.

(Associated Press.)
Gibraltar, Sept. 6.—Rear Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg, commander of the British second cruiser squadron, is preparing to entertain on board his flagship the armored cruiser Drake, Rear Admiral W. H. Bronson and the officers of the United States second cruiser squadron, the armored cruisers Virginia, Colorado, Pennsylvania and Maryland, which is bound for the Far East and expected here about September 21st. Prince Louis has a lively recollection of the lavish hospitality shown to the officers and men of his squadron while on their visit to the United States last year, and he is anxious to do all he can to reciprocate the courtesies of the American navy and people of the United States.

NO PLACE FOR IDLERS.

Miss Louise Bert Says Those Born Tired Should Stay Away From Canada.

(Associated Press.)
Liverpool, Sept. 6.—In a letter to the Daily Post-Mercury, Miss Louise Bert, who has just returned from a trip across Canada, warns everyone going to the Dominion that it is no place for those born tired. All work in Canada, she says, from the president of the C. P. R. down.

TUBERCULOSIS.

The International Conference Opened at The Hague.

(Associated Press.)
The Hague, Sept. 6.—The international conference on tuberculosis was opened here to-day with a good attendance in the presence of Prince Henry of the Netherlands. The French foreign minister, M. Bourgeois, was appointed president of the anti-tuberculosis association.

PLEASED WITH VICTORIA.

Assistant to General Manager of C. P. R. Steamship Lines a Visitor to City.
Amongst the visitors in the city is Mr. Duff, assistant to the general manager of the C. P. R. steamship lines, who came across the continent on the "Over-sea Mail" and from Vancouver to Victoria on the Empress of China. In fact, Mr. Duff was on the Empress of Ireland when it was wrecked on this record-breaking trip. This is his first visit to Victoria. He is very much pleased with the city, which to him is a charming combination of the beauty and dignity of a well kept European city and the business activity of the newer West. He was particularly impressed by the imposing introduction to Victoria as one lands in the inner harbor. The beautiful bay, the city, the mountains and the sea on either side of the new C. P. R. hotel will, when the latter is completed, make an entrance such as few cities are fortunate enough to possess and of which any one might well be proud.

THE PACIFIC MAIL-LINER MANCHURIA.

THE MANCHURIA, WHICH STRUCK ON RABBIT ISLAND, ABOUT TEN MILES FROM HONOLULU, A FEW WEEKS AGO, IS STILL FAST ON THE ROCKS THERE, IS ONE OF THE LARGEST LINERS PLYING IN THE WATERS OF THE PACIFIC.

The Manchuria, which struck on Rabbit Island, about ten miles from Honolulu, a few weeks ago, is still fast on the rocks there, is one of the largest liners plying in the waters of the Pacific. She and her sister ship, running out of San Francisco, are the biggest that make that port their headquarters, being each of 15,000 tons. At the time of the mishap she was bound to the Orient with a large crowd of passengers and a heavy cargo. Everything has been done at the Hawaiian port to float her, but in vain. An Associated Press dispatch from Honolulu, dated Wednesday, says that Capt. Metcalf, who is supervising the salvage work on the steamer Manchuria, expects to be ready on September 10th to pull the vessel from the reef. He is hopeful that the effort will prove successful.

THE FAILURE OF TRUST COMPANY

FURTHER ARRESTS WILL PROBABLY BE MADE

District Attorney Declares None of Those Responsible for Crash Will Be Spared.

(Associated Press.)
Philadelphia, Sept. 6.—Rumors of the arrest of directors of the failed Real Estate Trust Company fall to the ground. District Attorney Bell declares emphatically that no man will be spared in the effort to bring to justice those responsible for the disappointment of the depositors. So far as is known, warrants have not yet been issued for the men, but the public is awaiting with breathless interest the arrest of directors who stood high in the community before the crash and exposure came.

President Hipple's plaintive cry from his grave, "Segal got all," has aroused the depositors to a high pitch of indignation. Lawyers representing many hundreds of them are taking an active part in the investigation of the affairs of the company and facts are coming to light almost hourly revealing new forms of duplicity on the part of the men trusted with the depositors' money and the trust funds of large and small estates.

Investigation shows that the looting of the trust company will cost the Presbyterians less than $100,000. The leaders of that church are congratulating themselves that their funds and deposits were to a high degree safe and the trust funds of large and small estates.

Receiver Earle expresses the opinion that President Hipple was "money mad" and there seemed to be no end to the variety of methods by which he juggled with securities which fell into his hands and concerning which he sought to deceive the directors. "He was not content with stealing the same bond or stock certificate once," said Mr. Earle, "but did it several times over." Mr. Earle said that the practices of Hipple had left the notes and papers relating to loans in almost inconceivable confusion.

FARMERS' RETURNS.

The Grain Crops in Northwest Are Very Valuable.

It is estimated that the farmers of the Canadian Northwest will receive $200,000,000 this year from three crops alone—wheat, oats and barley. It is figured this way: Wheat, 91,813,900 bushels at 68c, $62,433,440; oats, 50,854,680 bushels at 25c, $12,714,170; barley, 17,735,790 bushels at 30c, $5,320,470; total, $80,868,080.

When to this amount is added the return to the western consumers from live stock, dairy produce, vegetables, etc., it is safe to say that the total will pass $100,000,000. This is an enormous sum of money to do business with among a comparatively small population, and it is no wonder that outsiders are casting wistful eyes toward the Canadian west.

The crop estimates used were those compiled by John Aird, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Winnipeg. He figures that the three provinces will produce 91,813,900 bushels this season, last year he was about 1,000,000 bushels below the output. Mr. Aird bases his calculation upon reports of the government bulletins—Winnipeg Telegram.

ONTARIO FARMERS AND THE TARIFF

PASS RESOLUTION IN FAVOR OF REDUCTION

Labor Congress Will Be Asked to Cooperate—Optimistic Speeches at Liberal Convention.

(Associated Press.)
Toronto, Sept. 6.—The Farmers' Association of Ontario yesterday passed a series of resolutions to the following effect: That no cabinet minister should be connected with corporations seeking or likely to seek legislative favors; that the federal government is to be commended for putting express rates under railway commission; that the railway commission equalize and regulate express rates upon an equitable basis without waiting for formal complaints; that we endorse federal ownership of long distance telephone and telegraph lines; that we are opposed to any change in the policy of granting bonuses and bounties, either in money or public lands, to corporations; that we are emphatically opposed to an increase of expenditure for military purposes as being unnecessary and demoralizing. The indemnity and pension legislation of 1905 was also condemned. Upon the tariff question a resolution was passed approving the position taken by the executive committee before the tariff commission last November and re-affirming the belief that the tariff should be lowered with a view to wholly eliminating the protection principle. This resolution will be forwarded to the Labor Congress which is being held in B. C., and the congress will be asked to co-operate with the farmers as to presenting the tariff question to the federal government.

(Associated Press.)
Toronto, Sept. 6.—The Liberals of Ontario met in annual convention yesterday. Those in attendance included Hon. G. W. Ross, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Hon. C. S. Hyman, Senator McMullen, Senator Jaffray and Senator Kier. Much hopefulness and a future more bright than for months has been thought possible were revealed in the speeches of the leaders. A significant feature of the speeches was the suggestion that political leaders should more frequently address the people.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—Fifteen hundred harvesters left the Union station yesterday for the Northwest.

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 6.—William Bell, the street railway company's arbitrator in wages question, has been taken ill and has resigned. He and Mr. S. Tudholn, the union's representative, had not been able to agree on a third party. The company has not yet appointed a successor to Mr. Bell and the men are getting uneasy again.

(Associated Press.)
Toronto, Sept. 6.—A number of interesting papers were read at yesterday's meeting of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada, but the principal feature of the proceedings was the pick of Deputy Chief Stark, of Toronto, on behalf of witnesses who suffer at the hands of bullying lawyers. Constable Twiss, of Dundas, dealt with the county constable. He criticized the present system by which constables earned a living at some other vocation. He thought the time had arrived for every county to have a special constable who should be mounted, and in some cases ought to have one or two assistants. The following officers were elected: President, Chief Grassett, Toronto; vice-president, Chief Campbell, Montreal; secretary-treasurer, Deputy Chief Stark, Toronto; executive, Chief Sherwood, Ottawa; Capt. Frenkel, Quebec; Chief Harrison, Westmount, Montreal.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Sept. 6.—Hosson Company's sawmill and plant have been destroyed by fire. The loss is about $100,000, partly covered by insurance.

Wm. J. Bryan, with his wife and daughter, arrived at Lincoln, Neb., Wednesday night, and the home folks welcomed him with every evidence of approval. He will remain in Nelson to-day visiting the fruit ranches, going to the Boundary to-morrow and returning here via Rossland on Saturday. He will visit Kaslo on Sunday, and go to the Coast from here on Sunday night.

CUTTING WHEAT ALMOST COMPLETED

SATISFACTORY REPORTS FROM ALL SECTIONS

Arbitrators Will Settle Hamilton Street Railway Dispute--Federal of Henri Laurier.

Winnipeg, Sept. 5--Agents of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the wheat bearing area reported to-day regarding the progress made in cutting and threshing the wheat crop of the present season. The questions answered by the agents related to the proportion of No. 1 hard for export this year. The weather and the beginning of threshing. The condition of the weather has certainly been very satisfactory. The bright, long days, free from rain, have gone far to compensate for any shortage in the supply of men, all the men available being able to put in long hours every working day. The cutting is pretty well through, almost all the grain being safely in the stook and in preparation for threshing. The quality of the grain is said to be good, and there will be a considerable quantity of No. 1 hard for export this year. The progress of the threshing operations in the country is well indicated by the report of wheat marketed at C. P. R. points yesterday. The total grain receipts amounted to 256,000 bushels, of which 245,000 bushels were wheat, and the balance other grains. Threshing is in active operation in all parts of the country.

WILL NOT OBJECT. Moorish Officials Will Place No Obstacles in Way of United States Authorities.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5--The Moorish authorities will interpose no objection to the removal to America of Paul O. Stensland, president of the Milwaukee avenue State Bank of Chicago. A dispatch to this effect has been received at the state department from Minister Gummere at Tangier dated to-day. The Moorish authorities Stensland is a prisoner in the American legation there.

Wish to Bring Broker Home. Chicago, Sept. 5--States Attorney Healy to-day received a message from Assistant States Attorney Olsen, who is now in Tangier with Paul O. Stensland, the fugitive banker, asking that he and James Keeley, managing editor of the Chicago Tribune, who made the arrest of Stensland, be appointed to bring the ex-banker back to this country. On receiving the telegram, Assistant States Attorney Barbour wired to Governor Dineen at Springfield and the governor has made a written request to President Roosevelt that Olsen and Keeley be delegated to bring Stensland back to the United States. According to States Attorney Barbour, no warship of the United States will pass Morocco for at least fifty days, and if Olsen and Keeley are designated by the president they will either place Stensland on a vessel coming to the United States or they will charter one for the purpose.

WANTED BY POLICE. Wrestler and Prize Fighter Are Accused of Running Sure-Thing Game.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 5--The police of Ogden and Salt Lake are looking for John Willie, the wrestler, and Ed McCoy, the prize fighter, who are charged by Louis Saville, of this city, with being members of a gang of sure-thing men who mugged him of $1,000 in the Seattle hotel, Seattle, between July 5th and 8th. Saville claims the gang numbers ten men, the leader being known as Pointer. They pay all the expenses of their victims to Seattle and have within three months obtained over $150,000 from those they have victimized. By clever acting, they induce the outsider to advance money for betting purposes, claiming they will reimburse him and not until the stranger has been left stranded does he realize that he has been in the hands of a gang of sure-thing men. Saville since he was robbed has had private detectives trailing Willie and McCoy. The men were traced to Ogden, but their present whereabouts are unknown.

ACCUSED OF FRAUD. Three Men Arrested in Philadelphia in Connection with Trust Company Failure.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 5--Charged with having defrauded the depositors of the Real Estate Trust Company, of this city, out of many millions of dollars, Adolph Segal, promoter of many enterprises, Wm. F. North, the treasurer of the trust company, and Marshall C. Collingwood, the assistant treasurer, were arrested to-day at the instance of District Attorney Bell, who has spent nearly a week in investigating the affairs of the wrecked institution. Segal was held in $25,000 bail and the two trust company's officers in $10,000 each. They entered bonds and will be given a hearing to-morrow.

FIGHTING SUSPENDED. And Efforts Are Being Made to Arrange Peace in Cuba.

Havana, Sept. 5--Peace is in the air, and on all sides to-night there is hope that matters will be arranged between the warring factions of the Cuban revolution to avoid further bloodshed. However, there has been no tangible evidence towards any definite arrangement of a basis for negotiation. In the meantime fighting has been practically suspended. Delegates informally chosen by a small group of veterans started for the camp of Pinar del Rio. Col. Asistero, General Guzman and others of the insurgent leaders, with the purpose of learning what will be acceptable to the actual fighting forces of the revolution. A similar committee started for Cienfuegos to consult under a flag of truce with the insurgent leaders in Santa Clara province.

THE STRANDED TRANSPORT. Further Efforts Will Be Made to Float the Sheridan.

San Francisco, Sept. 5--The United States army transport Thomas sailed to-day for Manila via Honolulu. She carries a large quantity of wrecking gear from the ship, the Mary Jane, and other sources of supply, which will be used in an effort to float the transport Sheridan, now on the reef at Barbours Point, Island of Oahu. Superintendent Engineer Donnelly, of the transport service, who will have charge of the wrecking operation, with a diver and five assistants, was aboard the Thomas. The transport, which left Seattle yesterday, carried all the wrecking apparatus obtainable on Puget Sound. Both the Thomas and Sheridan will start by the Sheridan as long as may be necessary.

Vessel Damaged. Honolulu, Sept. 5--Water in fire rooms of transport Sheridan is now up to the level of the ocean outside the stranded vessel. The surf is damaging the vessel considerably. Capt. Peabody and the crew of the Sheridan remain on board. They are using candles for light at night. Twelve cables, containing corpses from the Philippines, have been brought ashore.

CITIZENS WELCOME TO THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL

Seven Elaborate Arches and Brilliant Decorations Arranged at Meeting Last Night.

Mayor Morley occupied the chair at a meeting held last night in the city hall to make arrangements for the reception of His Excellency the Governor-General, who is expected to arrive in Victoria on the afternoon of Friday, September 14th. Dr. Carter was appointed secretary, and among others present were Hon. R. F. Green, Ald. Goodacre, Yates, Douglas and Fullerton, A. E. Maynes, Dr. Verrinder, H. D. Heimcken, K.C., J. A. Bland, A. Peden, R. C. Grant, A. P. Layritz, E. Balne, Herbert Kent, J. D. McEwen, M.P. and R. F. Williams (Trades and Labor Council), A. E. Wallace and Lee Mon Kow.

Before proceeding with the business of the meeting, His Worship outlined the plan proposed by the committee of aldermen. This took the form of the presentation of a civic address at the parliament buildings immediately after His Excellency's arrival; elaborate decorations of the streets; a procession covering part of the route to Government House, and other features.

After considerable discussion many of those present being heard from, it was practically decided that the reception by the citizens will take the following form: Upon his arrival on the D. G. S. Quadra at the C. P. R. dock, Belleville street, about 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Friday, September 14th, His Excellency will be met by a guard of honor provided by Col. Holmes, D. O. C. From the dock to the parliament buildings and thence via the main drive to the James Bay causeway the road on both sides will be lined with pupils of the public schools. Mrs. Adams, who was appointed by the committee to arrange details in this connection.

At the parliament buildings an address of welcome on behalf of citizens of Victoria will be read by the Mayor and patriotic songs rendered by the Art Club, Victoria, Musical Society and School Children. The latter will be arranged by R. G. Grant and E. Balge. Immediately these proceedings have reached a conclusion a procession will be formed and escort His Excellency from the parliament buildings via Government and Yates streets to Blanchard street, where it will disperse, the Governor-General and party continuing up Yates street to Cadboro Bay road and thence to Government House.

As at present arranged, no less than seven elaborate arches will be erected on this route. The J. B. A. A. have been asked to loan a number of the busting city of Winnipeg evidenced a strong desire to locate in this city eventually. Mr. Forman, as a good loyal citizen of Victoria, could not marvel at this, but apart from the fact that his interests are in this city he is of the opinion that throughout the breadth of Canada there is no better location for a home than here. He is satisfied that residents of the city have more favorable conditions in which to live than are possessed in any other part of Canada.

Throughout the Dominion Mr. Forman found a general air of prosperity. In various parts there was a scarcity of labor to carry on all the work intended. This in fact was a general complaint. The interview Mr. Calhoun, a very strong attraction to residents of the east, and the exodus was depicting the eastern provinces of a large number of its young men.

THE 'FRISCO STRIKE. Carmen's Union Voted to Return to Work, but Hitched Delays Settlement of Trouble.

San Francisco, Sept. 5--Although the Carmen's Union voted last night to return to work and submit the question of wages and hours to arbitration, there is still a hitch in the proceedings to bring about peace. A question has arisen whether President Calhoun, of the street railway, appealed to W. D. Mahon, international president of the Carmen's Union, to end the strike.

James Forman and Wife Return From Enjoyable Trip Across Canada. James Forman has arrived home after a most enjoyable trip across the continent, accompanied by Mrs. Forman. The tour was made by easy stages from Victoria to Halifax, Mr. Forman's native city. He also went as far as Sydney, Cape Breton, making the trip a thoroughly transcontinental one. Both going and coming Mr. and Mrs. Forman were met at various centres and enjoyed many side trips. The route by the Great Lakes was taken on the way back, so as to give as wide diversity to the scenes as possible.

In the extreme east Mr. Forman found that there were very many notions prevailing generally with respect to Victoria, Vancouver Island and the Canadian Pacific Coast. Coming westward this changed and at Winnipeg and other prairie cities he found that his eyes were turned towards Victoria. He found that residents of the busting city of Winnipeg evidenced a strong desire to locate in this city eventually.

Mr. Forman, as a good loyal citizen of Victoria, could not marvel at this, but apart from the fact that his interests are in this city he is of the opinion that throughout the breadth of Canada there is no better location for a home than here. He is satisfied that residents of the city have more favorable conditions in which to live than are possessed in any other part of Canada.

San Francisco, Sept. 5--Although the Carmen's Union voted last night to return to work and submit the question of wages and hours to arbitration, there is still a hitch in the proceedings to bring about peace. A question has arisen whether President Calhoun, of the street railway, appealed to W. D. Mahon, international president of the Carmen's Union, to end the strike.

When the committee representing the various unions employed by the company met this morning, the question was brought up and it was decided to send a committee to interview Mr. Calhoun. William P. McCabe was chosen spokesman and sent a message to Mr. Calhoun asking him if he would see other members of the committee. Mr. Calhoun's reply, delivered through his secretary, was that he would not meet the members of the committee, nor confer with them until they declared the strike off and returned to work. It is not known what the next move will be.

OPENING PLAY AT VICTORIA THEATRE

ATTRACTED A FAIR AUDIENCE LAST NIGHT

"On the Quiet" Presented By William Collier and Company Created Much Mirth.

With a fair-sized patronage, the season of 1906-7 was opened at the Victoria theatre last evening, the attraction being "On the Quiet," in which William Collier played the leading role, proving a happy augury of a capital lot of winter entertainments booked for the local house. Manager Ricketts was down from Vancouver for the occasion and during the night was considerably in evidence. In the orchestra S. A. Bantley presided, with Mrs. Denham as the pianist, W. North, cornetist, S. Peck, clarinetist, and E. Anderson at the drum. The orchestra is the same as played last year with the exception that Anderson has been added to the company. There was in attendance a fashionable audience and a pleasing box to the right of the building was occupied by Lieut.-Governor Dunsmuir and family. As they entered the building the orchestra played the customary six bars of the National Anthem.

"On the Quiet" was the right kind of a play to set all in good humor. It has three acts and every one was very heartily applauded. It introduced some splendid scenery, that of a yacht in the concluding act, showing the after-cabin with deck above and main sheet swaying to the breeze (being one of the most effective pieces of stage art seen at the Victoria for some time).

Of this company, nothing need be said in praise of William Collier. Droll, self-possessed and ever placid in his little mannerisms, he appeared admirably fitted for the part. "On the Quiet" portrays one of those romantic entanglements that place in each man all kinds of awkward predicaments. He woos and weds a pretty heiress to an immense fortune. According to the conditions imposed by the girl's father the young man should first attend college. But unawares to the cautious parent he marries her. A sudden sensation follows and then come surprises. Act two shows the student in a very embarrassing situation. At the suggestion of an English acquaintance anxious to bring about reconciliation with an irate father by arousing jealousy, the student arranges a breakfast for a number of smart girls. All goes merrily until the heiress and her girl friend by accident break in upon the scene. The student is put to his wits' end to keep all from being known, but is eventually apprehended.

The third scene, that of the yacht, represented the physical features to ocean travel and a happy and satisfactory conclusion to the matrimonial match.

Mr. Collier as Robert Ragway had the support of three or four very capable artists. In the counter part Miss Mabel Hutton, a Canadian actress and her quaint charm of manner added much strength to the play. She received able support from Grace Hadsell.

Among the male members of the cast was Grant Stewart, who gave a good impersonation of the fiancée's English gentleman. Some interest in their respective roles. Among the other members of the company is Frisco Matsuo, a Japanese.

Georgia Minstrels. The extreme longevity of Richards & Pringle's Georgia Minstrels is the best evidence of its worth. For over a quarter of a century the public has been amused by these dusky entertainers. This year the minstrels present a big new "first part," arranged by Clarence Powell, with bright, new jokes and repartee, lively music, handsome costumes, beautiful scenery and the latest in all songs and music.

Ten new vaudeville acts will be seen in the olio, concluding with the latest absurdity, "Jim Jackson." There will be a ring walk between acts. The curtain will never fall on any act on the programme. There is more fun than a circus. It is what is claimed for the "Georgians." The minstrels will appear at the Victoria theatre on Friday evening.

The New Grand. From the opening ovation to the moving pictures presented at the conclusion of the programme the entertainment at the New Grand this week commands the closest interest. The bill of fare is an attractive one both in respect to the patronage and its power to please.

HEALTH FOR RUN-DOWN WOMEN. From the experience of Mrs. John Panke, Saskatoon, nothing compares with Ferronzo. "At times I was confined to my bed and couldn't do any work. I was run down in flesh, lost strength, my appetite failed, my eyes were pained. Weary and cast down I started a new kind of life in my blood. My nerves, and finally cured my heart and stomach pains." Ferronzo is a re-builder that has special virtue in female ailments. Sold everywhere in 50c boxes; try Ferronzo.

This is 200 feet in height, 28 feet internal diameter, and 34 feet diameter at the base. The steel chimney of the Compañia Minera de Porphyro, Mapina, Mexico, is 200 feet in height, 14 feet internal diameter and 24 feet in diameter at the base.

LANDLADY KILLED.

Victim of Death Trap Which Lodger Had Placed in Trunk.

Seattle, Sept. 5.—Mrs. Dally, wife of E. Dally, proprietor of the Louvre lodging house, was killed in the room of a lodger yesterday by the discharge of a cleverly contrived death trap.

Julius Marsaudille, the lodger, was arrested last night and is held at the city jail without charge, awaiting action by the prosecuting attorney. Developments showed that Marsaudille possessed a valuable concertina, which he feared would be stolen from him. In an old trunk in his room the musical instrument was kept. Marsaudille had rigged up a revolver in the trunk in such a manner that the muzzle pointed upward at such an angle that a person standing in front of the trunk would be shot. To the top of the lid he tied a string and the other end of the string was fastened to the trigger of the revolver. When the trunk was closed the string caught on the trigger.

Mrs. Dally and her friend, Mrs. J. P. Prentice, went into Marsaudille's room to clean it up. They had heard Marsaudille remark in broken English that if anyone went near the trunk Marsaudille would be killed. They thought, however, that Marsaudille meant if he saw anyone bothering with the trunk he would kill them.

Mrs. Dally found a bunch of keys on the dresser. She decided, through curiosity, to see what mysterious secret Marsaudille held in his trunk. Mrs. Dally unlocked the lid and raised it. Instantly there was a report of a revolver and Mrs. Dally fell over, shot through the heart. She died in two minutes.

A police headquarters Marsaudille said in broken English that he had warned the women and everybody in the house to beware of the trunk. He admitted that he set the revolver for the purpose of killing a burglar if the thief attempted to break into his trunk.

THE ORIGIN OF GALL STONES. They are simply dried bile, made up of crystalline constituents of that fluid. Very common is this disease among merchants, clerical men, shop girls and those of sedentary habits. Prevention consists in maintaining correct action of the liver and bowels, which is best accomplished by using Hamlin's Pills. ## TACTICS OF ZULU'S IN WAR.

Their Crescent Formation Adopted by the British Against Boers.

Once more the rising of some of the Natal natives has turned men's thoughts to the famous Zulu tactics. In the minds of most there are associated with the name of Tyaka, the ruthless Zulu conqueror, who welded into the stock of the Amazulu, the people of the heavens, all the young men of the various tribes he conquered, incorporating them into regiments, and thus building up a powerful military nation. Yet it was to Dingiswayo the Wanderer that the inception was due. This man, the son of the chief of the Umkomo, was driven into exile in consequence of an abortive plot to seize the reins of power.

During the exile he lived in Cape Colony, and saw the military methods of the British. With instinctive genius he saw how the ideas could be adapted to his own nation, and on his return and accession to the chieftainship he divided his people into regiments, distinguishing them by names and by a special color of shield for each regiment, though for a time they maintained the umkonto or throwing assegai as their chief weapon. He heard of the great use made by the British infantry of their favorite weapon, the bayonet, and so he replaced the umkonto by the ikwa, or broad-bladed stabbing assegai.

The peculiarity of the Zulu tactics has earned it the name of the crescent formation for attack, and it is noteworthy that, broadly speaking, it was the method employed by the Boers in their invasion of Natal, and adopted by Lord Roberts in his advance through the Orange River Colony; and it was the fear of its success which kept the Boers continually on the run. The best thing which, to compare it is the head of the stag-headed beetle. Horns are thrown out widely on either flank, while the main body forms the head itself. From the main body a small force is detached to engage the enemy, while the horns creep round the flanks.

This force in the days of Tyaka was frequently dispatched with the command: "Go, sons of Zulu, go and return no more," and death at the hands of their fellows was the fate of those who returned. While this force was holding the enemy the horns carried out their task if possible, and as soon as the two horns met, in the rear of the enemy the horns or chest was launched upon the position, and the upshot, as a rule, was the whole force of the foe tasted the assegai; for in that war no quarter was given or asked.—South African Sun.

A Woman in the Case

A woman was at the bottom of it. She said to her husband "Why don't you go to 'The Fit-Reform' and see what kind of clothes they have anyway, instead of paying such high prices to have them made." The man came, doubting at every step. Said he didn't think we could fit him, but just wanted to look around for curiosity. We persuaded him to try on a coat, and, of course, easily convinced him that his ideas of Fit-Reform Garments were all wrong. Fit-Reform Garments are cut to fit all types of men—the Normal man, the Stout man, the Slender man, the Tall man and the Short man, so that it is now the exception for any man not to be fitted at

THE VANCOUVER MYSTERY.

Vancouver, Sept. 5.—The identity of the unknown body found in Stanley park last Friday has been practically established as that of Basil Jones, an English sea captain. Capt. Jones had a brother in Newport, Wash., from whom a telegram was received this morning announcing that he would be here to-night. The clue was given by Mr. James Rutherford, who met Capt. Jones a few months ago when he told him that he was suffering from locomotor ataxia.
W. McLaren, who assaulted A. Daw with a pocket knife, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary by Judge Cornwall at Ashcroft. In view of the circumstances an effort is being made to locate the man.

FURTHER NEWS ON LINE TO MEXICO

PROMOTER'S RETURN FROM TERMINAL CITY

Leaves for England at Once to Arrange for the Establishment of Service.

"I wish you would state that I am extremely thankful to the British Columbia monthly meeting and especially to Hon. Mr. Templeman, for the generous and untiring assistance to the promotion of our line between Mexico and Canada."

So said Col. Worsnop, the man who has completed arrangements for the service between the two countries.

Col. Worsnop returned to the city last evening, and it meeting the minister of inland revenue upon the latter's arrival from Ottawa this evening, he will leave at once for England to carry into effect the negotiations he has just entered into with the Mexican and Canadian governments. As previously mentioned, the contract calls for a monthly service for two years, conditional on the governments' of either country approving of the steamer employed.

Col. Worsnop was asked this morning the name of the syndicate which intended taking hold of the business, but declined to mention it. In the syndicate, he said, are a number of British financiers. The names of these are of course known to the government, but they do not wish that they should be known to the general public. For the Canadian-Mexican business they have not yet organized into a company, this being a matter of detail that has yet to be arranged. It was the request of the government that a separate company be formed for this specific business, and this is what will be done. When the organization has been effected then the name of the company will be made known. The men behind the project, however, are all British capitalists, one being a banker and another a shipbuilder.

Col. Worsnop says that two steamers will be placed on the line within the six months called for by contract, and they will sail one from each end of the route on the same day as possible. The first sailing will be on or about the 31st of March. What steamers will be employed is a matter yet to be decided. They will be vessels of at least 4,000 tons, fitted with passenger and freight accommodation. Should the trade demand others will be added to the fleet.

Of the success of the line Col. Worsnop is quite sanguine. He believes that in time the company will make the seaway a fortnightly one. There is a market in Mexico, he says, for every man behind the project, however, are all British capitalists, one being a banker and another a shipbuilder.

OUTLOOK FOR THE WINTER MONTHS

SPORTS THAT WILL BE POPULAR IN VICTORIA
Association and Rugby Football Contemplated With Enthusiasm—Outline of Programme.

As the fall months continue in their regular course the thoughts of athletes turn in the direction of winter pastimes. What sports are we going to have this winter or what recreation will prove the most popular are naturally queries.

Only one of the pastimes mentioned has yet been given any attention by sportsmen and that is Association football. This must be attributed to the fact that the schedule meeting of the district association is called for the evening of Friday, the 14th inst.

As already stated, it is difficult to say much concerning football at the present time. Doubtless the Victoria players will organize. They should lose no time in doing so.

AT ASSEMBLY HALL
There was a large crowd at the Assembly hall last evening, the skating rink still proving attractive for the sport loving public.

SPORTSMEN JUBILANT
Hunters are jubilant to-day. The rain which they have hoped for ever since the opening of the season has arrived, and it is safe to say that as soon as the weather clears there will be another large school of sportmen to the neighboring resorts.

Allis gave a sudden start. She had not known these particulars of Mortimer's life; but they carried certain explanations of his conduct. Quite casually she had formed an impression that he was penurious; something he had dropped about not being able to afford certain pleasures. That was where the money went—to support his mother and sister. Unwittingly, her mother was pleading the cause of two men.

The mother's talk depressed Allis greatly. Why should this troublesome matter come to her when she had so much to bear, so much to do. It gave her quite a shock to find that as her mother talked she was not thinking of Crane at all. She could not picture his face, even; just the narrow-lidded eyes peeped at her in her thoughts once or twice; it would be horrible to look into them, forever and ever. The face of Mortimer, pale and firm-set as it had been in that day of strife, was always obliterated the other visage. Was her mother right? Was she so heart-whole?

As her thoughts had bearing on her mother's mind, the latter said: "I wouldn't have spoken to you of this matter while your father is so ill if it weren't for the fact that our position is very precarious. I can't understand just how badly off we are, but if anything were to happen to your father, I should know what would become of us."

"And Mr. Crane has promised to help us if—"

"There is no 'if' about it, daughter. Mr. Crane is our friend, your father's friend, and he is going to help us; and he only spoke of his regard for you by way of an excuse—it was delicacy on his part. Thinking in accepting his good offices, all I ask, girl, is that you will try to like Mr. Crane; if you can't, well, you won't find me making you unhappy. But I can tell you this, Allis, change is to come. I can say, your father will lose Ringwood and it will belong to Mr. Crane. Even if the horses were sold off, the money would not clear the debts, besides, I think that even the horses are encumbered."

Allis stood in indecision for a little, thinking deeply; then she went up to her mother, and, taking her face in her hands, kissed her.

"I understand, mother," she said, "you are worrying over the dear old place, over my future, and over father, and it is nothing but worry, worry, worry for you, mother. I hope father will soon be well again and that luck will change; but anyway, mother, I promise you that no matter what effort it costs me you shall not suffer a dear old place."

Mrs. Porter's eyes were wet with tears of gratitude. She was thinking only of the redemption of the place through Crane; but Allis' words had meant far more than she had taken from them. They were inspired by a faith without sacrificing herself to Crane. If not, if she failed, she was brave, she was Porter, and she would keep her word and save Ringwood, even at that price.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Journeying back to New York, Crane reviewed in detail his interview with Mrs. Porter. He congratulated himself upon his wisdom in having instituted his love suit by proxy. With all his masterfulness he was very considerably in awe of Miss Allis. There was a not-to-be-daunted expression in her extraordinary eyes which made him feel that a love suit with her would be a somewhat serious business. He placed himself as an ardent lover, he would cut a droll figure in that role, he knew; emotions were hardly in his line. He might feel such an assertive emotion as love, but could he express himself with faultless consistency? He doubted it. His usual slow-advancing method was certainly ordained of this intricate endeavor, and he made great progress with the mother, the one above all others to be placated; adversely, however, as it promised to be, would probably settle Porter's influence in his favor. His plan of action plainly was to be often with his presence. The acquiring of Diabolo would facilitate that.

"Diabolo—a skate!" he laughed to himself over his purchase. Certainly, Langdon would laugh at him, too; not only of course, Crane wouldn't forget that. What an influence this girl had over him, to be sure! Any man horse would have had a hopeless task; with but a nod of encouragement from Allis he would have bought every horse—all the useless crooks they had; the stable was full of them, Lauzanne among the rest.

The influence was dividing his nature into a dual one, starting into life infantile thoughts of a generous morality, an unrest of great vigor was coming to him, retribution; possibly the power to feel the difference between an aviciousness, fathering dishonesty, and this new recognition of other rights.

On his arrival in New York he sent for his trainer. "I bought a horse at Ringwood, I want you to look after him, Langdon," he said. "Their name, Gaynor, will send him direct to your stables."

The trainer's face brightened. "Did you get Lucretia after all?" "No; I bought a big black, Diabolo." The look of delight faded from Langdon's eyes quickly. "The devil!" he exclaimed.

"That's what I said; that's his name." "But he's the most uncertain brute that ever wore a set of plates. You'll get no good of him, sir; he's bad, clean through. It's come down to him from his second sire, Robert the Devil, without a bit of the good." "He'd break a man that would follow him," he answered. "You're quiet, nor you, either, Langdon—you've got too much sense."

This subtle tribute mollified the trainer. Crane proceeded: "I remember the horse quite well. Four thousand was paid for him as a yearling; as a two-year-old he was tried out good enough to racing he cut it and finished in the rack."

"That's right," commented Langdon. "He owes me a good bit, that same Johnny; his people thought him a lead-belly cinch, and I went down the line on him to my sorrow."

"Just so. You know him as well as I do. It's a great way to get acquainted with them, isn't it, Langdon; put your money on, and have the good thing go down?"

Langdon had the highest possible opinion of his master's astuteness and began to waver in his antipathy to Diabolo.

"You think he's really good, then, sir; did he show you a fast trial?" "I didn't even see the horse," Crane answered, looking dreamily out the window. "I bought him to—"

He paused in reflection; he couldn't tell Langdon why he had bought him, and he hardly cared to have his prestige with the trainer destroyed. As continued, shifting the subject-matter a trifle, "You did John Porter up over Lauzanne last summer, Langdon—"

"Me?" questioned the trainer. Was Crane forgetting his share in the matter? "Yes, you!" affirmed the other, looking him steadily in the eye. "You sold him Lauzanne, and Lauzanne was loaded."

Langdon said nothing. What the devil was coming? "Porter's badly hurt; he's out of the race for some time to come. They're friends of mine."

"Shandy," corrected Langdon. "Yes, that's the name," affirmed Crane, drawing a semicircle in the air with his cigar, and he's a devil on wheels by account. Diabolo's no angel, as you've said, Langdon, and this boy made him a heap worse. You've handled some bad horses in your time, and know more about it than I do; but I'd suggest that you put Webster—he's a patient lad—to look after the black; give him a bit of work, and when you've got him right, try him out with something, and if he shows any form we'll pick out a soft spot for him. Let me see his year-old maiden."

Langdon laughed approvingly. Crane was evidently coming back to his view of the case.

"Well, as I've said, he's a maiden, and we'll try and graduate him out of that class. It will be a great chance for you, killing if we can round him into form; and you can do it, Langdon, if anybody on earth can."

"Now I've got him on his reputation," thought Crane, idly brushing specks of cigar ash from the front of his coat.

"Just as I thought," mused Langdon; "the old man's got a horse after his own heart. Everybody that's out for something, and is on for the biggest kind of a coup."

"How's the Dutchman coming on?" asked Crane, intimating by the question that the subject of Diabolo had been closed out, for the present, at least.

"Great. He cleans up his four quarts three times a day, and is as big as a cart horse. If he keeps well, and I think he will, you'll have a great chance with him for the Brooklyn Derby."

"That's encouraging. There are some good horses in it, though. White Mole and others. However, I'll back the Dutchman to win fifty thousand, and the ten thousand in there for you, Langdon, if it comes off."

The trainer's mouth watered. Money was his god. Horses were all right as a means to an end, but the end itself was gold. He would stop at nothing to stimulate the Dutchman's man, at once to the subject of Diabolo had been closed out, for the present, at least.

"Did you find out anything about Porter's mare Lucretia? I know White Mole's form; both fit and well. The Dutchman, he's his own safe over the Derby journey."

"No; I didn't hear anything about Porter's mare."

"I have," said Langdon, decisively. "I paid a boy to keep an eye on her, and he says she'll be hard to beat."

"Crane nodded. "What boy?" he asked abruptly.

"Well, just drop that; chuck that game. John Porter has his own troubles. If he can win, let him. He can't win, our own horses will keep us fully occupied."

Langdon was dumfounded. If Crane had opened the Bible and read a chapter from St. Luke he would not have been more astonished. It had occurred smart to him that he had expected commendation for his master's interest in looking after his master's interests. This disapprobation of such a trivial matter as the touting of an opponent's horses was another new discovery in his master's character. Where were they at, anyway? Presently Crane would be asking him to give the public a fair run for their money each time out.

All at once a light dawned upon Langdon. Crane was doubling on him. He saw it like a flash. His employer had a bet on the ground himself; that was how he had got next some good performance of Diabolo's. My, but it was clever; he could appreciate it. Crane rose in his estimation again.

Quite humbly he answered: "Very well; it's not my funeral; I'll bring the race of his life; if Lucretia beats him it won't be my fault. I thought perhaps you might want to hedge a bit on Porter's mare."

"I don't think it. I'll stand the Dutchman; there are too many in to start backing them all. Let me know if the black gives you any encouragement, and I'll see about betting him."

After Langdon had gone Crane lighted a fresh cigar and let his thoughts circle about Allis and Diabolo. It would be just like the play of Fate for the Dutchman to turn out good, now that John Porter has got rid of him. When evil man he could do little toward against the wicked god smile, and Porter, even when he was about, was a poor hand at compelling success.

Jaakey Faust learned of Diabolo's transition from Porter's to Langdon's stable. This information caused him little interest at first; indeed, he merely smiled somewhat at two such clever men as Crane and Langdon acquiring a horse of Diabolo's caliber.

Faust's business relationship with Crane was to a certain degree tentative. Crane never confided utterly in anybody; if agents obeyed his behests, well and good; and each transaction was always completed in itself. He when it suited his purpose.

Some time after the purchase of Diabolo, Jaakey, reading his Morning Telegraph, came with much interest upon the entries for the Brooklyn handicap, published that day. They were all the old-fashioned handicaps, his fellow members of the betting ring. As his eye scanned the list he saw a name that struck him as being familiar.

"Here it is," he said, and he put it in his pocket. "This was for a time, thinking. The result was a run-down to Gravesend to pay just a friendly visit to Langdon."

As far as Crane was concerned, the trainer and the bookmaker were like two burglars suddenly coming upon each other; they were somewhat in a condition of armed neutrality toward each other.

Faust hoped that Langdon would talk about Diabolo; but the trainer was like most of his guild generally, somewhat reticent. Jaakey had to make his own running.

"What's the horse going to do with Diabolo?" he asked Langdon. (To be continued.)

HOSTS OF GOOD PEOPLE

All Over This Blessed Land Rise Up and Praise Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines.

Common Gratitude Prompts This Sentiment in Favor of Dr. Pierce's Medicines.

These people, so ready and anxious to recommend Dr. Pierce's Medicines, have themselves been cured, or some friend or loved one has been cured, by these medicines. Naturally, a sense of gratitude prompts such persons to recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to other afflicted ones. Notwithstanding for more than two decades, yet their sale continues to grow as it could not were they not medicines of more than ordinary merit.

What They Cure. People often ask, "What are Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription' cure?" The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent purgative or blood-purifier, and "Favorite Prescription" acts especially favorably upon the mucous lining of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large percentage of catarrhal cases, whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, dyspepsia, bowels (as mucous diarrhea), or the bladder or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or ulcerative stages of these affections, it is generally successful in effecting a cure. In fact, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is without doubt, the most successful constitutional remedy for all forms of catarrhal diseases known to modern medical science. In chronic Nasal Catarrh Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy should be used for washing and cleansing the nasal passages while taking "Golden Medical Discovery" for its blood-purifying and specific healing effects upon the mucous lining membranes. This combined local and general treatment will cure a very large percentage of the worst cases of chronic nasal catarrh, no matter how many years' standing they may be.

As to "Favorite Prescription," it is a powerful, yet gently acting, invigorating tonic and nervine, for weak, worn-out, over-worked women. No matter what has caused the breakdown, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, relieving pain and bringing about a healthy, strong, vigorous condition of the whole system.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American people, abound in most valuable medicinal roots for which they are so richly provided. He has therefore properly investigated them; and in confirmation of this firm conviction, he has found that the most valuable medicinal roots are to be found in the mountains of the West. These roots are the result of a long and arduous search, and have been found to be of great value in curing various diseases. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, biliousness, indigestion, and other ailments. They are a gentle laxative, and two or three mild cathartics, as they are called, are "just as good" as any other laxative. They are the original Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, first put up by Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitations, but never equalled. They are tiny sugar-coated granules—easy to take and easy to digest.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY. This is the age of research and experiment, when all nature, as it were, is ransacked by the scientific method for the comfort and happiness of man. Science has indeed made great strides during the past century, and among these, by no means least important, is the discovery of medicine.

Therapion. This preparation is unquestionably one of the most genuine and reliable Patent Medicines ever introduced. It is a second party to the removal of stones from the bladder, and is used in the treatment of all urinary ailments. It is a most valuable remedy in such matters, including the celebrated "Lithon" and "Koum," by whom it was some time since uniformly adopted, and that it is worthy the attention of those who require such a remedy.

WONDERS OF THE SKIN.

Curious and Interesting Facts About What it is and What it Does.

Did you ever consider the fascinating romance of the human skin? Next to the heart the skin is perhaps the most wonderful part of the human frame. If you were to take a small piece of skin and magnify it many thousand times you would see what is depicted in the accompanying sketch. The little holes marked "A" are the mouths of tubes or pores, and it is through these minute openings that the body ejects a great deal of its impure matter in the form of perspiration. There are about three square inches of these minute pores to every square inch of the skin surface, and the vital influence of the skin upon health may be imagined when it is pointed out that from these tiny tubes about two pounds of solid matter is excreted each day. These pores, moreover, lead to glands, as shown in the diagram, which are in contact with minute blood vessels. It is readily seen, therefore, how dangerous it is to rub anything into the skin containing mineral coloring matters and poisons, and how equally detrimental are mineral ointments containing rancid mineral fats and oils must also be. Nobody would think of so specially refined as to be absorbed completely by the skin. The healing qualities are thus utilized to the full. Zam-Buk has been tested by medical men, hospital nurses, and by the general public, and has been found unequalled for all dis-eased and injured conditions of the skin. In cases of cuts, burns, bruises, etc., its action is really wonderful. Whoever watches the healing of a wound, chronic sore or diseased surface of the skin by Zam-Buk is forced to exclaim that it is the greatest wonder. The antiseptic substances contained in Zam-Buk first attack and kill all microbes or germs that are the cause of inflammation or disease. The healing ingredients contained in this unique balm intend to build up new tissue to replace that which has been damaged or diseased. New cells appear underneath the old skin like a builder replacing an old foundation with a new and more lasting one until the whole of the wounded area is gradually overlaid. The old injured skin then falls off, and in a short time it is hard to say where the injury has been. Mr. Wentworth Lascelles Scott, one of the leading analysts of modern times, has specially investigated Zam-Buk. From special bacteriological tests he discovered that the power which Zam-Buk has of destroying harmful germs is even greater than that of poisonous carbolic acid. Notwithstanding this excessive power to destroy harmful germs, Zam-Buk is so mild in its operation that it may be used, and is daily being used, on the delicate skin of young babies. In Zam-Buk power and healing power to destroy harmful germs, or it may be used on the skin of the aged, and it is without doubt the finest household balm of modern times. Burns, bruises, insect stings, pain and inflammation, diseased, dead, feet, heat rashes, pimples, boils, eczema, chafing, sore throats, baby's sore, scalds, scurvy, neuralgia and nerve pains generally. All druggists sell Zam-Buk at Fifty Cents per box, or it may be obtained post free upon receipt of price by the Zam-Buk Company, Colborne Street, Toronto. Six boxes will be mailed post free upon receipt of two dollars and fifty cents at the company's sent you if you cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it with a one cent stamp to Toronto, Ontario, to the Zam-Buk Company. This offer should not be missed.

those who play the piano or other musical instrument, the white of the hand should be kept in the best of health. It is not so easy to get the hands in the best of health as it is to get the face in the best of health. For very much roughened hands—especially those of pianists—there is no better remedy than a good cosmetic glove-paste. This treatment is especially good, too, for the skin of the hands when the first fall winds roughen them. Use soft, large leather gloves, three or four sizes too large. Rip them open and spread the inside with one of the following preparations. This is the best of the least troublesome, paste to make is this:

Cosmetic Glove Paste.

Ground paper, the white of an egg, a teaspoonful of glycerine and one ounce of honey.

Cosmetic Glove Paste—No. 2.

Home-made soft soap, 1/2 pound; olive oil, 1 gill; mutton tallow, 1 ounce. After boiling these together, add a few drops of perfume, and strain through a cloth. This is a good preparation for the hands when they are very dry.

Cosmetic Glove Paste—No. 3.

Refined pine tar, 1 teaspoonful; olive oil, 1 pint. Melt in a water bath, scented with rose-water or some other perfume. This is a preparation which will not scald.

Cosmetic Glove Paste—No. 4.

The following preparation for use with cosmetic gloves is slightly more elaborate. Yellow wax, 1 ounce; rosewater, 4 ounces. Melt the wax in a water bath, and add the rosewater to it while it is hot. After beating thoroughly, add a few drops of perfume. Water, heat all up and add glycerine to the teaspoonful, you secure a paste which will spread evenly.

Very little leavening acid will be needed if the hands are properly heated and the mixture is stirred with a bit of cotton wool twisted upon the blunt point of a stick. The stick may be dipped into a bleach made of one ounce of oxalic acid to sixteen ounces of water. It is a good idea to have a small quantity of this bleach on hand for use when needed. But the main point to emphasize is the secret of restoring the hands to their prettiest and best is to rub a little cream or a bit of coconut butter or a soft piece of lichen oil into them frequently. The following formula will help straighten out the "kinks":

Anti-Kink Hair Pomade.

Beeswax, 1 ounce; castor oil, 1 ounce; benzoin, 1/2 ounce; oil of lemon, 1/2 ounce; oil of castor, 1/2 ounce. Mix the wax and wax over a slow heat. Add the castor and benzoin and allow to melt. Then add the oil of lemon and oil of castor. Apply to the hair as any other pomade.

Exercises that Lengthen the Waist.

GO TO a doctor and ask him how you can acquire a long waist, and he will probably laugh at you, explaining at the same time that it is a thing impossible to accomplish. And so it is, looked at from the standpoint of physics.

But—go in training, holding yourself just as you go through the few simple exercises pictured on this page—enough in your turn, you've got the effect of a longer waist, and that is practically accomplishing the apparently impossible.

First of all, learn to stand—and to walk—well, straightening out the curves of your back and "standing tall." This one point makes a world of difference in the length from shoulder to waist.

Any simple exercise which brings the hands above the head tends to make you stand better and to hold yourself lally into your clothes. And as the length of your waist increases, its size decreases—you've drawn the superfluous flesh up and away from the waist.

In such exercises as consist of swinging from hanging rings, or parallel bars, in hand-walking, the great point to remember is that there must be no sudden jerks, no feeling of strain. Unless you can practice them without either, they are best left unattempted. Try, instead, of springing up and catching the rings—always attended with a little jar—standing lightly upon a box and swinging of easily without a suspicion of jar.

Another good exercise is walking with a weight on your head, and assisting the weight as you walk, raising your neck and shoulders and the upper part of your body to meet the unaccustomed strain. Or let the weight take the form of a high vase—anything that is tall—and stretch your arms straight above your head, holding on to the tip of the vase to steady it. The same effect will be accomplished as when you swing from bars or swing from rings. And it requires no paraphernalia.

Vary the exercise by raising slowly upon your tiptoes, keeping your arms high above your head and steadying the vase, and when you've got used to the curious balance, walk around the room on tiptoes.

Stand against a jutting corner of the room, with your back directly against the corner. Then stretch your neck, trying to make it straighten so that it will touch the wall all along. Of course, you can't do it, but the attempt will lift the shoulders and chest—and that is what you want.

Breathing exercises help, as does that exercise by which you raise your hands above your head and then bend, trying to touch the floor with your fingertips.

And a good corset helps, if it fits so that it seems almost part of you, and not a thing full of uncomfortable curves and more, uncomfortable straight lines which seem built for any one in the world but you. The way it helps is to help you to stand well, for that is at the root of the whole thing.

I have used the quintessence hair tonic, the formula of which I saw in your paper, with favorable results. It has made my hair grow again, and the leaden color still remains and the leaden color seems to get little better.

First, use this dandruff cure: Dandruff Cure—A mixture of camellia oil, liquid ammonia, glycerine, is one of the best. It is a good remedy for dandruff. Rub the scalp thoroughly with this mixture, and wash it off with warm water. Repeat this treatment several times a week.

I think you can improve the color of your hair without the use of a stain. Continue to wash it every two weeks, using this shampoo: Shampoo—A mixture of camellia oil, liquid ammonia, glycerine, is one of the best. It is a good remedy for dandruff. Rub the scalp thoroughly with this mixture, and wash it off with warm water. Repeat this treatment several times a week.

Yolk of 1 egg, 1 pint of hot water, spirit of rosemary, 1 ounce. Beat the yolk thoroughly and add the water. Strain through a cloth and add the spirit. Use as a hair tonic.

Most important of all, brush the hair a great deal, make a practice of giving it 100 strokes at least once a day. This will stimulate the hair to grow, and the color of your hair that is wrong, but that will stimulate its growth.

Massage is very good for it also. Refuse going to bed rub the scalp gently with the tips of the fingers. The lotion containing camellia would do your hair no harm if you choose to use it.

Would you please tell me what I could do for enlarged pores? Mrs. L. E. M. The following formula will correct this trouble for you. It is very simple, yet often very effective. Lotion for Enlarged Pores—Boric acid, 1 dram; distilled water, 4 ounces. Apply with a piece of old linen or a bit of absorbent cotton. Use three or four times daily.

Would you kindly oblige me by inserting the formula which gives the hair an auburn tint? I have used it with great success, but I have not had the hair grow much to get it again. Part of it consists of camellia oil, liquid ammonia, glycerine, is one of the best. It is a good remedy for dandruff. Rub the scalp thoroughly with this mixture, and wash it off with warm water. SUMMER does play havoc with hands and nails. Somehow, it's hard to keep them up to the pink of perfection in warm weather, and salt water or the rough, though delightful, life of camping leaves its mark in the way of roughened skin, thick or brittle (perhaps both) nails, with the skin grown about the base of the nails.

Instead of the more usual soaking in warm, soapy water for ten or fifteen minutes, an expert manicurist often substitutes a bath of olive oil, slightly warmed, in which the hands are kept for full fifteen minutes. They may be put after wiping the oil off thoroughly, into a bath of warm water and soap. Then dry them carefully.

It is a good plan, by the way, to shave the bits of your favorite soap, when the cake has worn down to too small a size to use any more. Keep the soap-shavings in a saucup or in an empty tin (alum-powder box. A great many manicurists use the powdered soap, but the shaved soap is as good—and is a good way of disposing of those last cherished bits of fine soap.

Marks Left by Smallpox. Will you kindly let me know if there is anything to remove the marks left by smallpox? I never used to mind it, but now it is causing so much trouble about it—making me what is the matter with my face. I am slightly more than the worst part of my face.

I am afraid that treatment by a skin specialist would be the only method of removing scars and pittings. Still, no restraint of your face by personal effort. Try daily massage with which hazel cream, but if your skin has a tendency to oiliness, use only a little of the emollient.

A thorough cleansing of the face each evening with a soap and hair face brush, hot water and soap will prevent the cream from stimulating a growth of hair.

Mislead Recipe. Will you please print your recipe for the orange-flower cream, in the next issue of the "CONSTANT READER."

Orange-Flower Cream. Oil of sweet almonds, 1 ounce; white wax, 1 ounce; rosewater, 4 ounces. Melt the wax in a water bath, and add the oil of almonds and the rosewater to it while it is hot. After beating thoroughly, add a few drops of perfume. Water, heat all up and add glycerine to the teaspoonful, you secure a paste which will spread evenly.

Shampoo for Light Hair. Will you kindly let me have the remedy for restoring gray hair to its natural color? My hair is black in the back and sides, but gray in the front. It would like to restore the color in front, so it would correspond with the back. Mrs. M. T.

Shadows Under the Eyes. Can you give me the address of any good plastic cosmetic operator? Would you react to such a treatment, made in the right way, do you think it safe to use the right sort of work? I want to rid myself of deep sunken circles under the eyes. Have some blackheads and oily skin. Any information on this subject would be greatly appreciated. H. A. B.

Tiny Pimples Under Eyes. Under either eye the skin is very rough, the appearance is the same as any part of the face when one becomes chilled, known as "goose skin." I have used the orange-flower cream for several months. Would you kindly advise me? That is, if I have made it plain to you.

MINISTER EXPECTED TO ARRIVE TO-NIGHT

Hon. Wm. Templeman's Return to Victoria - Will Be Entertained by Young Liberal Club.

Hon. William Templeman, minister of inland revenue, is expected to arrive in Victoria this evening, a passenger from Vancouver by the steamer Princess Victoria. Advantage will be taken of the opportunity during his stay here by members of the Young Liberal Association and different local public bodies to confer with him upon a variety of matters of general interest to the west and receiving the attention of the government.

Arrangements have been made by the Victoria Young Liberal Club for an informal supper in honor of the minister on Tuesday evening at the Victoria hotel. It will be a supper of a strictly informal character. After the delicacies provided have been selected, a programme of musical entertainments, interspersed with speeches, will be introduced. Among those who are expected to deliver addresses are Senator Riley, Ralph Smith, M.P., and the four local members of the provincial legislature.

As the number of tickets issued is limited, those desiring to attend for the night should call on R. J. Fell at the office of Fell & Co., corner Broad and Fort streets, or upon Roland Grant, of Grant & Conyers, View street, at the earliest moment. Members of the committee in charge of the arrangements predict a pleasant and profitable time.

THE CRUISER BOSTON.

Principal Leak is Plugged - Vessel May Leave for Bremerton To-day.

Bellingham, Sept. 5. - The cruiser Boston did not leave this port for Bremerton to-day, but, weather favoring, she will leave to-morrow. The divers succeeded last night in locating the principal leak, and by caulking it with oakum sewed in canvas, using hydraulic jacks, the inflow of water was checked and the pumps made no longer necessary. The principal damage to the vessel is on the port side, and was received when the vessel swung around and settled on the rocks after striking. A plate was rent for three or four feet, and the water which entered worked its way to starboard and filled one of the magazines above.

The gravest fear of the officers was that the bulkheads of this magazine might give way, and it is there, it is said, that the greatest danger threatened. The bow of the vessel was not greatly damaged.

STRIKE DECLARED OFF.

Carmen Resume Work - Demands to Be Submitted to Arbitrators.

(Associated Press.) San Francisco, Sept. 6. - The street railway strike was officially declared off last night and a few cars were put in operation. The strikers consented to work on the terms agreed on, which will secure work and arbitrate their demands for $1 wage and an eight-hour day.

UNKNOWN SCHOONER LOST.

Crew Believed to Have Been Picked Up by Passing Steamer.

Sandusky, O., Sept. 6. - Capt. Griesler, of the Marble Head life-saving station, reports an unknown schooner sunk in Lake Erie at a point five miles north of the Marblehead light, the name of which he was unable to learn. The crew, he believes, were picked up by a passing steamer.

REPLY TO CHARGES BY VOLVA - APPEAL TO FAITHFUL TO AID HIM IN FIGHT.

Chicago, Sept. 5. - In a lengthy printed statement issued from Shiloh House in Zion City John Alexander Dowle replied categorically to charges of immorality, extravagance, misuse of investments, and polygamous teachings made against him by Wilbur-Glen Volva, who deposed him from authority and usurped his place as leader.

Replying to the charge of immorality, Dowle declared that he had demanded of Volva time and again that the charges which Volva made against his moral conduct be made public and that each time Volva had refused to comply. "Before God and man," he said, "I am without fault upon any personal particular charge."

Answering the charge of extravagance, Dowle said that he had never been an apostle of the Christian Catholic church in Zion must necessarily, in his view, be a man of great means, and more than a private individual in Zion. To say that I have made wilful and extravagant use of money in connection with my private affairs can only proceed from an envious and malicious spirit.

After denouncing Volva and leading officials of Zion who joined the revolt as "men who are greedy, covetous, of the rank and dishonest, the basest deception and the most monumental ingratitude," Dowle appeals to those in Zion still faithful to him to aid financially in his fight to regain leadership.

COWICHAN NOTES.

(Special Correspondence of the Times.) The weather is now beginning to remind one of the fall, but the welcome rain of the past two days is well appreciated, as well as getting low and high dries too frequent. The company who have been enjoying themselves on the shores of the bay are now basking themselves in their homes. The fishing, however, continues excellent, and several good catches of salmon have been reported lately.

The list of guests at the Cowichan Bay hotel during the past two weeks included the following: B. Cochrane and wife of Vancouver, N. B. and Mrs. Grealy and Mr. J. Ross and wife of Victoria, E. G. Hirschen, of Bamble, and several Miss Grealy, of Des Moines, Eng. J. D. Williamson of New Zealand, T. J. Whelan, of Berks, Eng.

DIED FROM INJURIES.

Another Death Results From Recent Railway Collision.

Medicine Hat, Sept. 4. - The injuries received by the crews of the two freight trains which collided here on Friday night proved to be more critical than was at first suspected. Engineer Ross died yesterday after suffering terrible agony from the scalds. Engineer Glover is completely paralyzed through injuries to his spine, and Fireman Cornish, whose leg was amputated, has but slight chances of recovering from the shock.
