VICTORIA, B. C., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1911

NO. 89

PLEGGED TO WORK FOR BREAKWATER

BOARD OF TRADE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE

Many Speakers Urge Immediate Action to Provide for Future of Victoria Shipping

The improvement of Victoria harbor and the construction of a breakwater to form an outer harbor for the purpose of providing facilities deemed necessary, as advocated by Hon. William Templeman, was supported yesterday afternoon at the quarterly meeting of the board of trade by a report of the harbor improvement committee, and by E. P. Rihet and speeches by Capt. W. H. Logan, representing the Salvage Association of Lloyds; F. A. Pauline, W. Blakenore, J. H. McGregor, Capt. Curtis, R. N.; Senator Macdonald, G. H. Barnard, member-elect for Victoria, and H. F. Bullen. The outcome of the meeting was the unanimous adoption of the report and the fact that Mr. Barnard stands pledged to carry forward Mr. Templeman's work in this connection at Ottawa. The attendance was fully representative of the large commercial and shipping sections of Victoria.

While slight differences of opinion existed in the speeches as to the means of securing the necessary harbor improvements quickly—J. H. McGregor suggesting the appointment of a harbor board and other speakers the appointment of experts by the government—all were unanimous that great improvements are required and should be urged upon the Dominion government at once to have the port of Victoria in keeping with increased requirements by the time the Panama canal is opened.

Capt. Logan aroused enthusiasm when he said that whatever the cost the expenditure would be well repaid and that no one could at present imagine the business that will be done in Victoria ten years hence.

The report of the harbor committee was read and its adoption moved by F. A. Pauline and seconded by W. Blakenore. The mover expressed pleasure at the presence of Mr. Barnard, who, he said, would now have a full opportunity of acquiring the views of the board on harbor improvements, and Mr. Pauline felt quite sure that Mr. Barnard would support any reasonable request from the Dominion government.

JUSTICE HARLAN WAS LONG ON BENCH

Distinguished American Jurist Dead—Thirty-Four Years in Supreme Court

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—Associate Justice John Marshall Harlan, the oldest member of the Supreme Court of the United States, for years conspicuous in politics, once candidate for the Republican nomination for the vice-presidency, a foremost constitutional attorney and prominent in the councils of the Presbyterian church, died at his home in this city at 8:15 a. m. to-day. He was 78 years old last June.

Justice Harlan had been ill with acute bronchitis less than a week. He sat on the bench last Monday, when the court heard arguments on the so-called anthracite coal trust case.

Justice Harlan's great ambition of late was to have served until next June, when he would have exceeded the service of any other man who sat on that bench. On Nov. 29 next he would have been thirty-four years on the bench himself.

DELUGE OF OFFICE SEEKERS

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 14.—There is some uneasiness in the government service as to the fate of some of the officials, but while there is no definite announcement on the subject some of the ministers have stated privately that efficiency will be the basis of qualification and that officials who have not been partisan in the discharge of their duties will not be interfered with.

The local members, A. E. Fripp and Dr. Chabot, have received over a thousand applications for government positions.

APPLAUDED MINISTER

Mexico City, Mex., Oct. 14.—Continued that the provisional government is guilty of no irregularities in the mustering out of the revolutionary army and in the maintenance of a part of its members of the chamber of deputies applauded Minister of Interior Garcia Granados, when he concluded a detailed report of the government funds expended.

Granados said the mustering out of a part of the revolutionary forces and the maintenance of the army had cost the government approximately 5,500,000 pesos in the last four months.

MAYOR INDICTS CITY ENGINEER

THREATENS SUSPENSION IF COUNCIL REFUSES

Will Make Administration of Department Test Question at Next Election

As was anticipated, there was great interest taken in the proceedings of the city council last evening when Mayor Morley filed his indictment against City Engineer Smith. Nothing, however, was done with it, at his worship's own request, it being resolved that the city engineer should be allowed to reply in writing.

In brief, the mayor threatened Mr. Smith's suspension on October 21, and if the council did not approve of it to make the issue a test question at the annual election in January next.

Except that Ald. Bishop interjected that the aldermen would reinstate the engineer whatever happened, the reading was allowed to proceed without interruption.

When the mayor's communication was about to be read Alderman Langley rose and said if they were going to hear about the city engineer let them remember they had a lot of business, which should be got through first, and have the fireworks afterwards.

The mayor remarked that he had the report of the proceedings of the council, not the aldermen.

Ald. Langley: Very well, your worship, I bow to your decision.

The mayor's indictment of Mr. Smith follows:

"I beg to inform you in conformity with the tenor of my communication of October 6th, the council having failed meaningfully to take or suggest any action towards strengthening the executive service of the works department at this time, I hereby notify you that unless the council takes action to adequately relieve the situation, I shall suspend the city engineer, Mr. Angus Smith, on Saturday, October 21, as being wholly inadequate for the executive requirements of his department.

"In taking this action, I repeat that I do so with no intention of preventing the retaining of Mr. Smith's services in any other capacity in which he may succeed. Neither do I infer that Mr. Smith is not qualified for other less trying duties or to withhold from him credit for having done a great deal of work under serious disadvantage. Neither is it my wish to create a temporary chaos in the city work which, as I before suggested, would be the result of a long-drawn-out formal investigation. I consider, however, that which can be proved or disproved without a formal investigation, coupled with the personal knowledge and expressed opinion of aldermen individually, and previous official action is evidence sufficient that the council cannot, in justice to the people and in maintenance of its own integrity, engineer to allow Mr. Smith to exercise sole jurisdiction over the works department.

"If, however, the council decided, after weighing this matter carefully, to reinstate Mr. Smith, the responsibility of the service of the department must rest entirely upon the aldermen of the board, and the mayor will take no further action until the annual election, when he will endeavor to make a clear-cut issue with the electors to stand or fall on the people's warrant or otherwise for obtaining an adequate executive for carrying on the enormous work which the city is now pledged to.

"I have to remind the aldermen that in August of 1910, the council unanimously authorized the mayor to seek a stronger executive for the works department (see letter of August 8, 1910) as a result of which Mr. Rust, engineer of Toronto, offered his services. Owing to outside pressure the council reversed this action, gave Mr. Smith six months on probation (see letter August 9, 1910). That on the council of this year decided to strengthen the executive department, and by resolution offered Mr. Astley of Winnipeg, the position of construction engineer, which Mr. Astley could not then accept in fairness to Winnipeg, but informed the mayor that he would be in a position to take effect not later than November 1st.

"That Mr. Astley's services were available to the council when he was in Victoria last month, on which occasion the council again reversed its position and refused to avail itself thereof, with what justification it is difficult to say, the city being faced with far more work and need of service than the former occasion, when the council offered Mr. Astley the position. Mr. Astley has suffered a grave injustice at the council's hands, inasmuch as having been led to expect that the council of Victoria desired his services, he was induced to place himself in the difficult position in which he now stands with Winnipeg, on account of having placed his services at the disposal of this city.

"Mr. Smith has from the first failed to grasp the magnitude of the work, and his own limitations, and has throughout shown a marked lack of practical executive ability, both in office and field work. First, as to office system, I refer you to the following communication of the mayor of June 7, 1910, and later of January 21, 1910, set out at the end of his tenure of office.

OTTAWA ACCORDS A ROYAL WELCOME

THIRTY THOUSAND MET DUKE ON HIS ARRIVAL

His Royal Highness Reiterates His Desire to Be of Service to Canada

Ottawa, Oct. 14.—The capital gave his Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught a royal welcome this afternoon, rivaling that accorded on the visit of the King, then Prince of Wales, ten years ago. Parliament Hill, where the official civic welcome took place, was packed with fully thirty thousand cheering people and the Duke got to the platform as he drove through the ovation created at the foot of the main entrance to the parliament buildings, where the official ceremonies were held.

The cabinet ministers, all the high functionaries of state, civic representatives and every person of any prominence in the capital were present. Half a dozen addresses of welcome were presented to their Royal Highnesses from the city council and various other representative bodies. The Duke replied briefly and graciously to each address.

The royal party arrived by special train from Quebec at 2:35 and were met at the station by the cabinet ministers. The whole city was gay with flags and all the public buildings were elaborately decorated. One thousand troops lined parliament hill. The weather was ideal.

The Duke was met by Premier Borden and his ministers who had returned to Ottawa from Quebec on an early special. Accompanied by the military escort the Duke and party proceeded through the streets to parliament hill.

The Duke, who was received with enthusiasm, repeated the statement made by him at Quebec, that his wish was to serve Canada and to make his home in this country and do all he could to promote that connection with the Empire which is of so much importance to the Dominion.

After presentation of the addresses the vice-regal party was escorted to Rideau Hall.

The decorations on Parliament Hill were profuse, the striking feature being two large porches erected over the gates to the parliament grounds, bearing the Duke of Connaught's coat-of-arms, surmounted by hundreds of flagstuffs from which floated Union Jacks.

Welcome at Quebec.

Quebec, Oct. 14.—Replying to an address from the province yesterday, his Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught said:

"Mr. Prime Minister and gentlemen: I thank you for the hearty and loyal welcome which in the name of the province of Quebec you have extended to the Duchess and myself. Your province, rich in historical memories, is usually the first to welcome the new governor-general, and to bid him God-speed at the end of his tenure of office.

REBELLION IN EVERY PROVINCE

CHINESE TROOPS GO TO AID OF THE REBELS

Manifesto to All Friendly Nations is Published by Reformers

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 14.—Cable advices from Shanghai to the local Chinese daily paper, Chung Sai Yat Po, state that the revolution has now spread throughout every province of China; that large numbers of troops of the imperial army are going over to the rebels' aid; that many imperial cities have been captured by the rebels.

The rebels captured last night, it is stated, an imperial warship near Hankow.

The revolutionists, the Chung Sai Yat Po's informant says, occupied this morning the city of King Chow, province of Huph; I-Chang, province of Szechuen, and Yo Chow, province of Hunan. The provinces of Hunan, Hon Ten and Hupah are now said to be fully controlled by the rebels.

Wire communication with these provinces is now interrupted.

London, Oct. 14.—Cabling from Shanghai, the Times correspondent says:

"A reform government has been proclaimed at Hankow. There is general sympathy here, both in foreign and Chinese circles, for the rebel aims, and among foreigners a serious desire that the powers do not interfere."

The Times' Peking correspondent describes the composite force sent against the rebels as largely Chinese whose loyalty is doubtful. He says the sympathies of the educated Chinese in Peking are with the revolutionaries and that little sympathy is expressed for the corrupt and effete Manchu dynasty.

WESTERN MEMBERS ON C. M. S. BOARD

Annual Meeting of Anglican Body Was Held in Toronto Last Evening

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 14.—At the annual meeting of the Canadian Church Missionary Society last night the following officers were appointed on the board to represent the northwest and British Columbia: Ven. Archdeacon McKay, Rev. R. B. McElheren, C. C. Owen and A. E. O'Meara.

LEADING ENGINEER DEAD.

Winnipeg, Oct. 14.—The death took place in St. Boniface hospital at 3 p. m. to-day of S. R. Poulin, chief engineer of district F of the National Transcontinental railway. He had undergone an operation during the night, which seemed to have assured his recovery. He had been ill about fifteen months. He leaves a widow and two children.

NEW YORK WINS FIRST GAME OF WORLD SERIES

Two to One For the Giants—Collins' Fumble Gave Them One Run—Was a Pitchers' Battle.

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 14.—The second game of the world's series began with one of intense animation. The vast crowd filled every available seat of the stadium and overflowed to the remotest sections of the grounds, while further back, from house-tops, galleries, poles and windows, a fringe of excited enthusiasts thronged the field. Great crowds were still streaming through the gates as the men took their positions for the play. The police arrangements had been so well managed that there was no disorderly move at any time.

"Giants vs. Athletics at the Polo Grounds" was the talk that drew men to the game between the New York National team and the Philadelphia American team—the pennant winners of 1911 in their organizations.

A few camped out all night against the fences of the polo grounds to obtain the coveted bleacher seats placed on sale this morning. Downtown speculators reaped a harvest and charged fabulous eleventh-hour prices for chairs in the grandstand.

Forty thousand persons is the New York club's estimate of the number that packed the new Brush stadium to see the game. Scores of persons appeared at the grounds with counterfeit tickets, which they had purchased from speculators. They were turned away by the police.

The Giants ruled favorites in the betting. The October sun beamed in a sky veiled by a thin cloud.

The batting order of teams follow:
Giants—Devore, l.f.; Doyle, 2b.; Snodgrass, c.f.; Murray, r.f.; Markle, 1b.; Herzog, 3b.; Fletcher, s.; Meyers, e.; Mathewson, p.

Athletics—Lord, l.f.; Oldring, c.f.; Collins, 2b.; Baker, 3b.; Murphy, r.f.; Bender, p.

Umpires—Klem and Brennan, National League; Connolly and Dineen, American League.

Batteries, Bender and Thomas; Mathewson and Meyers. Umpires, Klem behind the bat and Dineen on the bases; Brennan went to right field and Connolly to left field.

First Inning.
Athletic—Lord struck out. Mathewson's control was perfect and Oldring fanned. Collins fled out to Devore. No runs.

New York—Devore out. Bender to Davis. Doyle got a hit to right; Snodgrass struck out. Doyle stole second as Thomas' throw was low. Murray struck out. No runs.

Second Inning.
Athletics—Baker singled to right, Murphy sacrificed, Mathewson to Merkle. On a passed ball Baker took third. Bender out on Davis' single to left. Barry out, Mathewson to Merkle. Davis takes second. Thomas out, Herzog to Merkle. One run.

New York—Merkle out, Collins to Davis. Herzog, who took Fletcher's place in the batting order, went out when Barry threw him out at first. Fletcher struck out. No runs.

Third Inning.
Athletics—Bender out, Mathewson to Merkle. Lord fled out to Murray. Oldring doubled to left. Collins walked. Baker struck out. No runs.

New York—It was Indian against Indian when Meyers faced Bender. Meyers fled out to Oldring. Mathewson fanned. The Indian's pitching was beautiful to see, his curves breaking over the edges of the plate. Devore walked. Doyle fled to Lord. No runs.

Fourth Inning.
Athletics—The game so far has resolved itself into a pitcher's battle, and while the play was in progress there was long moments of intense silence. Only when a hit was made or there was some brilliant playing did the crowd start its enthusiasm. Murphy fled out to Meyers. Davis went out, Fletcher to Merkle. Mathewson worked his famous fade-away and mixed it up with a big drop and high fast one. Barry popped up to Fletcher. No runs.

New York—Snodgrass took his base on balls when Bender had gotten two strikes on him. The fourth ball hit Snodgrass on the wrist. The crowd let loose and there was a pandemonium of sounds. Murray out, Collins to Davis. Snodgrass took second on the play. It was an attempt at the hit-and-run play. Bender's blinding speed was too much for Merkle and he struck out. Collins made a mess of Herzog's grounder and Snodgrass scored. Collins tried to nail Snodgrass at the plate, but the throw was a trifle wide on the play. Herzog took second. Fletcher struck out. One run.

Fifth Inning.
Athletics—Thomas drove a long fly to left, which Devore captured after a smart run. Bender singled solidly to centre. Markle took Lord's grounder and threw to Fletcher, forcing out the Indian. Oldring doubled to right, Lord taking third. It was Oldring's second two-bagger. With Collins at bat the Philadelphia crowd went wild. Merkle took Collins' grounder and touched him out. It was a close play and saved a couple of runs from being scored. No runs.

New York—Collins took Meyers' grounder and shot it to first. Mathewson shot a single to centre. It was the second hit made against Bender. Devore could not reach Bender's fast ones and fanned. It was Bender's seventh strike out. Thomas made a beautiful stop of what should have been a wild pitch by Bender. Doyle was out by the Collins-Davis run. No runs.

Sixth Inning.
Athletics—Baker caught a fade-away on the end of his bat and sent it to centre for a single. It was the sixth hit made against Mathewson. Baker started to steal, but Murphy spoiled the play by fouling into the grandstand. Murphy sent a high fly to Snodgrass. Baker out, stealing. Meyers to Doyle. Herzog threw out Davis. No runs.

Giants—Bender hit Snodgrass on the arm, the batter taking first. Murray sacrificed Snodgrass to second. Murray's bunt was taken care of by Baker, who got it to Davis just ahead of the runner. Merkle struck out. Snodgrass stole third, Baker dropping the ball. Baker was spiked in the arm in the play. The game was delayed while Baker had his arm attended to. The official scorer gave Baker an error and did not credit Snodgrass with a stolen base. Thomas getting an assist. Herzog walked on four wide ones. An attempt was made on a double steal but Snodgrass was caught at the plate. Thomas threw to Collins, who snapped the ball back to Thomas, who touched Snodgrass out as he slid on to the plate. No runs.

Seventh Inning.
Athletics—Barry struck out. Thomas fled out to Snodgrass. Bender went out, Fletcher to Merkle. No runs.

Giants—Murray fled to Lord. Merkle beat out a bunt. Herzog fanned. Fletcher fled to Murphy. No runs.

Devores' double to left. Doyle walked. Snodgrass fanned. One run.

Eighth Inning.
Athletics—Lord fanned. Oldring fled out to Devore. Collins out, Mathewson to Merkle. No runs.

Giants—Murray fled to Lord. Merkle beat out a bunt. Herzog fanned. Fletcher fled to Murphy. No runs.

Ninth Inning.
Athletics—Baker grounded out to Merkle. Murphy fled to Meyers. Davis out, Fletcher to Merkle. No runs.

Final score—New York, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

HONOR PAID TO THE OUTGOING SPEAKERS

Hon. Charles Marcil and Hon. J. K. Kerr Made Members of Privy Council

Ottawa, Oct. 14.—By virtue of an order in council passed on October 6 by the late Liberal administration, Hon. Charles Marcil, former speaker of the House of Commons and Hon. J. K. Kerr, late speaker of the senate, were named privy councillors. This is in accordance with traditional practice, and gives them the right to the prefix honorable for life.

The only time this custom of appointing the speakers privy councillors at the close of their term was ignored was by the Tupper government before going out of office in 1894. The late Hon. Peter White, speaker of the House in the seventh parliament, was one of the Conservative members who were opposed to the Tupper government's remedial bill, and on this account, it has always been believed, he was subjected to the slight. Mr. White was appointed a member of the privy council the year following by the Laurier administration.

Dawson, Y. T., Oct. 14.—J. D. Craig, in charge of the Canadian division of the international boundary survey party, running the line between Alaska and Canada, who has arrived here from the scene of operations this summer on the Porcupine river, said:

"The line was carried practically to the shores of the Arctic ocean, and the other departments of work were advanced so far that no trouble is anticipated in completing the Yukon-Arctic Ocean section next season.

"Contrary to expectations, timber and horse food were found in practically all the valleys to within five miles of the Arctic circle. The stock came through the season in splendid condition.

PASSING SHOW

Empress Theatre.

At the Conservative solicitation Thursday night Will Lochrane outdid Premier McBride in popularity, in fact the Conservatives assembled refused to hear the premier till the Scotch comic who is convulsing the patrons of the Empress theatre had satisfied them with frequent encores.

The chairman announced that the Empress theatre entertainer would be followed by Hon. Mr. McBride, but for once when the premier's turn came the audience did not want him. They were out for a justification as per invitation and considered Lochrane the last thing in that regard. Premier McBride had to wait. This is one of Lochrane's greatest triumphs since he started on the circuit. The premier has had many triumphs and gracefully allowed Lochrane to have his.

At the second house of the Empress last night Lochrane's local compatriots turned out in a huge body and accorded him one of the finest receptions of his life and one that could have done credit to a king. They applauded his efforts to the echo and would not let him quit the stage. When at last he was allowed to retire the audience was accompanied by Donald Cameron's pipes.

MINIMUM WAGE FOR WINCH COMPANY ALL CITY LABORERS BUILDING BLOCK

Committee Reports in Favor of Straight Rate of $3 a Day Heated Arguments

There was a hot argument at the meeting of the city council yesterday evening, which was not surprising considering the heated atmosphere of the council chamber throughout the debates. The immediate subject which led to the display of great feeling between the mayor and Ald. H. M. Fullerton was the rate of wages to be paid cement workers.

Two reports were submitted, one that the cement workers should receive $3 a day to date back from a resolution of July 14, and another that the minimum rate for all city laborers should be $3 a day. Speaking to the former motion (Ald. Bishop having asked why it was that the cement workers were not kept steadily on cement work instead of being turned to sidewalk and other labor, an arrangement having been adopted on July 14 to pay the cement workers $3 a day when so doing?)

It has transpired since that the council resolution of that date only enabled the men to be paid $2 when actually on cement work, and therefore the report now came up recommending that the wages of $3 a day should be made retrospective to July 14 for all cement workers, whether on that particular work or not.

The mayor's remarks were along the line that while a man was worth $3 a day for laying cement, when engaged in other labor he should not be paid at the higher wage, unless there was an all-round advance.

The solicitor's advice was that unless the wages at a rate of $2.75 a day had been charged against the local improvement accounts, he doubted if the council could make the increase retrospective.

Ald. H. M. Fullerton did not mince matters. If the mayor, he said, by tying the hands of the engineer, had prevented the money being paid, it was robbery, and if the mayor ever suggested a charge against local improvement work, let it come out of general revenue.

The Mayor—it is unfair to say that the mayor has done something or other to oppose or to block this motion of getting $3 for the men. That I also have done something or other to block it, is a charge against local improvement work, let it come out of general revenue.

Ald. Humber—you voted against the rise of wages.

Ald. H. M. Fullerton interjected a remark about the use of language for the galleries, when he inquired how he would not allow the alderman to misrepresent him, "I am not playing for votes," he said.

After more breezy arguments it was decided to charge the extra 25 cents a day up to the local improvements, and when this could not be done to pay it out of general revenue.

After the report favoring the minimum wage was read, the mayor declined to accept it as a resolution until notice of motion had been posted in the regular way in the city hall, and appealed to the city solicitor.

Mr. McDiarmid supported the ruling, and thereupon Ald. W. E. Fullerton took exception to the attempt to quibble. They were merely adopting the report of a committee.

The mayor said they had never been in the habit till this year of voting money till they had a statement from the finance committee that it would be forthcoming.

Ald. W. E. Fullerton rose again, and made a remark about the advice of the solicitor not always agreeing with itself, whereupon Mr. McDiarmid said if any man wished to call him a liar he would be pleased to meet him outside.

After this denouement things cooled off a little, until the mayor, in referring to the tax procedure adopted in council business, said they had come to the position very often of "bulling" things through.

This brought Ald. H. M. Fullerton to his feet, and he charged the mayor with preventing the amicable transaction of business by his methods.

The mayor protested against the cheering from the public benches, and said he was not there for a campaign meeting.

Ald. H. M. Fullerton—we have campaign meetings right along here with the mayor in the chair at every meeting.

Ultimately the whole matter was left with the finance committee for a report, and probably due notice of motion will be posted before the next meeting on Tuesday, when by-laws will be taken under consideration.

As matters stand the principle of a minimum wage of $3 has not yet been established.

In Winnipeg Sir Andrew addressed the Canadian Club with the same subject which proved highly interesting to the large assembly which gathered to hear him.

Cochrane's Drug store and Messrs. Fitzpatrick & O'Connell have tickets for the luncheon on Tuesday, and members of the club are reminded that they have the privilege of taking only one guest to the luncheon with them, and that the guest must have attended a luncheon of previous date at the same club.

—The members and friends of the First Presbyterian church choir to the number of forty were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Hall at their home on Catherine street, Victoria West, last evening, the occasion being the presentation of a handsome silver mounted carrying set to Mrs. Kennedy (nee Miss Field) to mark the occasion of her recent marriage and her long and faithful service in the choir; also to receive the gifts of the past and present lady members of the choir in the form of a shower of dainty articles of linen. The presentation in each case was accompanied by an address, the one from the choir being read by the choir master, Mr. J. G. Brown, and the other from the ladies of the choir by the organist, Mrs. Lewis Hall.

—This week there have been placed on the walls of the lower hallways of the North Ward school thirty framed pictures, illustrating to some extent the history and nature taught in the school. Most of these pictures were obtained in England, and in selecting them the staff had the valuable assistance of Miss Mills, the art supervisor of the public schools. These pictures have been purchased out of the proceeds of a school concert given last December and cost some $35.

—The monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church will be held on Monday at 2 p.m. in the lecture room. The programme is: "Current Events," by Mrs. R. A. Brown; "The Religious Life of China," by Miss Lillian Smith; "Christian Missions in China," by Miss Margaret Leitch; and "The Work of the Canadian Presbyterian Church in China," by Mrs. Jno. S. Gordon. Tea will be served after the meeting.

—The Canadian club will have a guest at luncheon next Tuesday at the Alexandra Club, Sir Andrew Fraser, K. C. S. I., former Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal. He is to deliver an address and his subject will be "British Rule in India." CONFERENCE IS SENT MESSAGE FROM DUKE

First Greeting to Public Assemblage From New Governor-General

Toronto, Oct. 14.—A telegram of greeting from the Duke of Connaught surprised and gratified the delegates attending yesterday's session of the Ecumenical Methodist conference. "On landing in Canada," said the message, sent shortly after the duke's arrival at Quebec in the morning, and just before his installation as governor-general of the Dominion, "I wish to send the Ecumenical Methodist conference warmest greetings and hope you have had a successful meeting."

Following the reading of the message, the delegates rose and sang the National Anthem, and a suitable communication of acknowledgment and greetings was sent.

The power of laymen in the church and in social service, and world-wide helpful results to come from further extension of the so-called "laymen's movement" was the subject of attention at the meetings of the conference. In a paper on woman's claims and responsibilities, Mrs. Joseph Johnson of London, England, wife of Rev. Mr. Johnson, superintendent of the South-east London Mission, said the equality of sexes was Biblical teaching, which she assumed all members of the conference recognized.

"A spiritual wind is blowing on the world of women," said Mrs. Johnson, "in the east it is lifting the curtains of the harem and opening the doors of the zenana, while in the west it is manifesting itself by widespread unrest, rebellion against established customs and demand for women's suffrage."

The speaker agreed with the writer, who said: "The real task of the feminist is to devise education for girls so that they shall be capable of earning their living and sharing in the world's work and yet remain fit for future husband and motherhood."

SHE HAD CONSTANT PAIN

Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DeWittville, N.Y.—"Before I started to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered nearly all the time with headaches, backaches, and bearing down pains, and had a continuous pain in my left side. It made me sick if I tried to walk much, and my back was so weak that I was obliged to wear braces all the time. But now I do not have any of these troubles. I have a fine strong baby daughter now, which I did not have before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Miss A. A. GILES, Route 44, DeWittville, N.Y.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

THINKING THEMES
BY DR. FRANK CRANE

Of all snobbery, perhaps the most loathsome is snobbery in letters. I mean the lugging in of great names to furnish a dish of most tasteless and common place ideas. I confess to an impulse to fall from a stage and say naughty words when I pick up a magazine and find an article on Mr. Tatt's self-playing, or how Mr. Roosevelt buttons his collar, or Mr. Carnegie's family, or Mr. Morgan's traits. This, I confess is no base envy of the great, for I bear them, no ill-will, and only such of them, like Diogenes, to stand out from between me and the sun.

It would not be bad if these grand personages, when they step into a printed page, such, for instance, as that of the Outlook, which, like Lord Shaftesbury, "scarce quotes an authority under an ambassador," would only say something grand. But it would seem as if the prize plattitudes of speech were reserved for their magnificences.

When a man has nothing to say, let him salt his writing with famous names. Napoleon once said, "Two is more than one! The Duke of Argyll, dining at a peasant's house, because he had been caught in the rain, remarked, 'Potatoes sometimes are good with a little salt! And great Caesar said this, Mahomet that, and George Washington the other thing, all of which, had we said them, would have led our wives to remark, 'Aren't you feeling well?'"

What a flood of backstairs gabble has been loosed upon the world about Bonapart! And still, to this day, with all our democracy, we roll great names under our tongues. Truckling and fawning upon the fortunate was bad enough in the good old days when men rose by kings' favors, but snobbery to-day, in literature meant to be read by honest common folk, is snobbery for the love of the thing; snobbery squared and cubed.

COBEL MURDER TRIAL

Olympia, Wash., Oct. 14.—While the jury was out of the room yesterday Dr. George Cathey, of Portland dictated into the records of the trial of George H. Wilson, accused of murdering Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cobel as they were on the night of July 19, a statement that the defense would probably present. He mentioned the name of the alleged offender, but said that he would prove that a mill worker on the night of July 19 went to the Cobel home on horseback, and that next morning the stirrups were covered with blood. He also announced that he would prove that a bloody shirt had been found in the Des Chutes river. He said the mill hand was the murderer.

His statement furnished the sensation of the day, but were dictated in the presence only of the court and the attorneys for both sides. The audience did not know what was being done.

Mrs. Wilson, wife of the man on trial, took the stand to-day. She said she was jealous of him and got him into trouble by reason of it.

Prosecuting Attorney John M. Wilson was also put on the stand to tell about the confession which the prisoner made, but later repudiated.

MISSIONARY CONVENTION

Winnipeg, Oct. 14.—Rev. H. C. Priest of Toronto, secretary of the interdenominational missionary educational movement, who for eight years was a missionary in the Teluga country, Madras, India, under the Canadian Baptist missionary board passed through Winnipeg yesterday on his way to Vancouver, where he will take part in the missionary convention.

DRUNKENNESS CAN BE CURED

Old Fallacy That Drunkenness Cannot Be Cured Exploded

Many men drink who desire to stop the habit. Whiskey, however, has undermined the constitution and created a craving that is not to be denied, and the man must have whiskey or something that will remove the craving and build up the system and restore the nerves.

Samaria Prescription stops the craving, steadies the nerves, builds up the general health and actually acts as a distasteful and nauseous. It is tasteless and odorless, and can be given with or without the patient's knowledge, in tea, coffee or food. It is used regularly by Physicians and Hospitals. It has cured thousands in Canada, and restored happiness to hundreds of homes.

Read what Mrs. G., of Hull, says of it and what it did for her:

"It is four months to-day since I started to use your Remedy. I followed the directions, and had the best of results. One week after I started using your Remedy the patient stopped drinking, and has not drunk a glass of liquor since. I hope you will accept my heartfelt thanks. Hoping God will bless your remedy. I remain,

"Mrs. G.—, Hull, Que."
(Name withheld by request.)

Now, if there is anyone in your town who needs this Remedy, tell them of it. Practical philanthropy can take no better form. If you have a husband, father, brother or friend who drinks, help them help themselves. Write to-day.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samaria, with booklet giving full particulars, directions, testimonials, price, etc., will be sent in a plain sealed package to anyone mentioning this paper. Correspondence strictly confidential. The trial package alone has often cured. Write to-day: The Samaria Remedy Company, Dept. 75, 49 Colborne Street. Also for sale at Hall & Co.'s drug store, corner Yates and Douglas streets, Victoria.

LACOMBE STATION WRECKED BY BOMB

Baggage man Killed by Exploding Trunk—Its Owners Arrested

Lacombe, Alta., Oct. 14.—At 7:40 last evening a terrible explosion wrecked the C. P. R. depot here, killing E. G. McLeod, baggage man and injuring his assistant, Wallace Bickford. The baggage man was moving a trunk in the baggage room when the explosion occurred. The roof and sides of the building were blown out and the station totally wrecked. Detectives were at once out on the case, and two travelling photographers, whose trunk, it is alleged, exploded, were placed under arrest. They were about to board a train south. They admit having chemicals in their trunk, but the police have other theories, as they consider photographic chemicals could not have wrought the destruction. By their names and appearance the men are suspected of being Black Handers.

The names of the men are Nelson and brother.

McLeod had been a resident of Lacombe for several years, and in his business capacity made many friends. He was one of the most highly respected citizens of the town. He came originally from the maritime provinces.

Bickford, the injured man, is in a hospital suffering terribly from shock and burns. The explosion was so great that windows in the business portion of the town were shattered, and houses half a mile away were shaken.

UNABLE TO LAND STORES

Ottawa, Oct. 14.—Word has been received by the comptroller of the mounted police, that the steamer Arcturion, which had been chartered to deliver winter stores to the Hudson Bay posts of the police, has been driven back. The vessel discharged her freight for Churchill, but on endeavoring to make Fullerton encountered bad weather and had to leave Hudson Bay. The goods which will have to wait delivery until next year comprise coal and similar stores. Fullerton has supplies for the winter, however. The Ladde sent word by wireless from Battle Harbor, and is proceeding to Newfoundland.

London was the largest market for home-grown wheat last year: 10,985 qr. being sold, and Norwich ranged second with 128,577 qr. The latter headed the list for barley with 32,341 qr., which is more than one-tenth of the total supply, mainly owing to the Burton brewers buying at Norwich. This town also takes first place for oats, with 2,471 qr. London being second with 29,313 qr.

Madrid's famous bull-ring is situated a mile or so outside the city. It was built in 1874 at an estimated cost of $200,000.

SAILORS RUN DOWN

San Francisco, Oct. 14.—Run down by a gasoline launch last night, a cutter from the flag ship California of the Pacific fleet, which was returning to the ship with the 25 members of the band aboard, was upset in the bay, and J. R. Charlet, one of the bandmen, was drowned. Launches from the fleet rescued all the other men, but their instruments, valued at several thousand dollars, were lost.

The band took part yesterday in the reception to President Taft at Oakland. When the ship's boat in which they were returning to the California in tow of a steam-launch was within a few hundred yards of the fleet the gasoline launch crashed into its side, turning it completely over and throwing the occupants into the water. About 40 men were struggling to retain a hold upon the overturned craft, and it was not until roll call aboard the ship that the officers were certain that Charlet was the only man lost. No one saw him after the boat capsized.

THE CIVIC SPIRIT.

With the prospect of increasing commercial importance before Victoria as the inevitable result of the development of Island resources, what is needed perhaps more than anything else at the present time is the cultivation of the civic spirit. This should be manifested, by the offering of themselves for civic government, of the best qualified and most public-spirited men the city numbers among its residents. It should be followed by their election to the offices of trust in the city from the chief magistrate down, through the aldermanic board, to the least place of public responsibility. The interests of the city cannot be conserved by the committal-of-its-temporal-affairs-to-men who have axes to grind or any personal interest to serve. No partisan rule or clique dominance should be tolerated at the present opportune time in civic advancement. The ratepayers should become qualified to take an intelligent part in the settlement of every question that will affect the future of the city, and there are many of these which must receive the attention of the ratepayers if the city is to take her place in twentieth century progress.

The Times makes these remarks without any desire to reflect upon the past. It is because of the wide-spread awakening that is taking place throughout Canada and over the American continent with respect to the municipal problems that confront modern society that we think Victoria should join the ranks of those who have caught the spirit of the age and resort to a study of scientific methods in the development of civic character and municipal life. It need scarcely be pointed out that this is more the work of the citizen than of the official. It is the citizen who to the extent of his influence makes the city, and his character finds its expression in the men he elects to transact the official business of the city according to these ideals.

The last meeting of the delegates of the United Canadian municipalities had this theory of civic life forcibly enunciated in an address delivered before the convention by Hon. Henry B. F. Macfarland, who was former president of the commissioners of the District of Columbia. In his admirable address Mr. Macfarland said:

"As in the man, so in the city, the spirit is the most important. As a city thinks in its heart so is it. Its spirit determines its life. We are all ready to confess now that in the nineteenth century the spirit of most cities was not right. As a rule, it was undeveloped, unintelligent, lacking in conscience and in will power. The civic awakening, of which we naturally speak in terms of religion, roused and revived the spirit of the city, and indeed often brought about a regeneration so that practically there was a new spirit. The city more and more is repenting and beginning a new life. The old standards common to city and country and to all men alike, have been displaced by higher standards and more important still is the religious enthusiasm of civic endeavor. Civic patriotism has come to many cities. The men and women have learned that they are responsible for their city and can make it what they will. They know that only the purely official work can be delegated. They know that it was they that made the professional politicians what they were by their neglect and also that putting business men in office is not the cure-all that it was thought to be. They have learned that in the duties of citizens, as in the duties of officials, inefficiency is dishonesty; that selfishness is the root of all civic evil; that justice is better than charity; and that they must know their city to learn the causes of municipal ills and knowing the causes, they have found that most of the ills are not only curable, but preventable.

"This is the warrant of the new optimism or meliorism of cities. We are sure of making everything better; so that the new word is 'the city better' rather than the 'city beautiful,' unless we comprehend all under 'the beauty of holiness' that is of wholeness, of health, of perfection in all things.

"This means that all the city's work shall be done by citizens and officials not only without graft, but with efficiency under a comprehensive plan of harmonious development through a long period, a wider city planning. This requires better fiscal provisions, more equitable and rational tax laws, more clear and comprehensive budgets, uniform municipal accounting according to cost, keeping and other modern methods, and expenditures according to true economy, not parsimony and not extravagance. It requires also proper management of public utilities and proper regulation of public service corporations.

"It may seem strange to speak of these strictly business affairs as essential to the spirit, but as they are essential to the city's proper growth, they depend entirely upon its spirit. It is certain that a lack of necessary funds or a waste of money or the wrong incidence of taxation is as bad in its immediate effect as official embezzlement. Citizens and officials are trustees and will execute their trusts according to the spirit that is in them."

In his enunciation of these comprehensive principles Mr. Macfarland elucidated their application to all of the public utilities and the various corporate forces allied to accomplish the grand result.

It needs no captious critic to realize how far short of such ideals the city of Victoria has permitted her affairs to drift. It is unnecessary to be specific when so much that might have been achieved with the civic spirit, wholesomely nourished and developed, has been unrealized. The accomplishment of such reforms as stare one in the face is a task to which the noblest may worthily commit himself. Were this spirit everywhere in evidence in the affairs of the city the temporal and moral improvement would soon become so marked as to be remarkable. But the regeneration, if it is to take place, must begin with the citizens. Indifference to the personnel of the city authorities or subservience to any partisan organization can do nothing but evil in the future. Men of high mind and unselfish life must combine and vie with each other to accomplish such a desirable purpose.

And there was never a time in the history of the capital city when its prospects and possibilities called for so much earnest consecration in study, effort, and attention to the sublime purpose of joining the procession of those cities which, by devotion to the good of their citizens, are taking front rank in attraction as desirable places in which to live or even die.

BORDEN'S BOSSES.

G. H. Barnard, M. P., may be very clever in raising a laugh by adverting to the criticisms of the Times in his public glorification of the Conservative election and Mr. Borden's already discovered subservience to corporation control. But what Mr. Barnard can not so easily do to conjure the risibilities of the thoughtful people of Victoria with is the attitude of the ultra-Conservative press of Canada. Witness these paragraphs from the Toronto Telegram, an organ which detests Liberalism and unscrupulously opposed the Laurier administration:

"Canadians, irrespective of party leanings, will be glad to see Hon. W. S. Fielding in parliament. Their joy is not inspired by any share in the Globe's opinion that Mr. Fielding's presence in the House of Commons will be necessary to protect the country from the results of Mr. W. T. White's inexperience in public life or his lack of ability as prospective head of the finance department.

THE COMFORT OF HOME

Depends largely on warmth. No house can be cheerful unless it is well heated. No house can be well heated unless good fuel is used.

"Mr. W. T. White does not lack ability. He does not lack integrity. What Mr. White does lack is sympathy with the ideals of progress, public ownership and public rights. The character of W. T. White is rich in the elements of great ability, high integrity and unswerving fidelity to any trust which he accepts. The crowd of W. T. White is hopeless from the standpoint of every Canadian who wishes to see this country governed at Ottawa in harmony with the spirit of progressive ideals and in freedom from trucking to the trusts and corporations that have this country by the throat. The best that Canadians in addition with the Conservative party can do is to recognize Mr. White as an enemy they can respect—Mr. White cannot be recognized as a friend whom they can accept—to the just principles and ideals that in almost every school-house in Ontario were promised recognition in any government that Hon. R. L. Borden might be called upon to form."

If Mr. Barnard will read these paragraphs at his next "smoker" and raise a laugh the public will begin to have some confidence in his sincerity.

The Turkish soldier makes a good fighter because he believes that he will be rewarded with six wives for eternity if he dies fighting against the Christians in a holy war. The last state of that man is worse than the first.

There are many words in English which have no rhyme, among them: ab, amongst, bulb, couch, cusp, fifth, eighth, month, morgue, mouth, ninth, pork, puss, sauce, scarf, sixth, scyph, tenth, twelfth, volt, warmth, wasp, wharves and wolves.

The Toronto World (Ultra Tory) calls upon the Liberals to awake, arise, shake off their depression and prepare for "greater things ahead." It proposes to "give them every kind of fair play, and a little better if they start in to make good." Better than fair play means the World's support. It looks as though the Maclean had abandoned all hope of any other than a corporation-dictated policy from Premier Borden.

A Toronto man has presented to R. L. Borden the arm chair that Sir John A. Macdonald used. The Hamilton Herald says: No doubt Mr. Borden can fill it; and it will probably be found that he can fill Sir John's shoes also. We are quite prepared to admit that Mr. Borden can fill the chair, but no other Conservative paper in Canada is quite so sanguine about the shoes.

The Toronto Mail and Empire remarks: "As a student of British Constitutional practice, Sir James Whitney must realize that a strong and aggressive Opposition is necessary to a perfect working out of the party system. In falling to build one up he is perhaps open to censure." Nothing in this reflecting on Hon. Richard McBride, not even mention of the fact that he has been a "student of British Constitutional practice."

It is doubtful if complete church union is possible. Certainly it could not be permanent for new sects would be sure to spring up as new religious convictions gained headway. As far as foreign missions are concerned, however, church union is both possible and desirable. There ought to be some sort of religious esperanto upon which all Christian bodies could agree in their dealings with heathendom. This is the sensible conclusion of the Toronto Mail and Empire.

The Liberals of Halton are forming Young Men's Clubs in the town of that constituency. Their example should be followed all over the country, not only in the cities and towns, but in the rural districts. Stripped of power and patronage, the Liberal party will no longer attract the element to whom public office is the supreme goal. But it will attract the increasingly large number of young Canadians who are proud of their native land, who are in politics for their country's good, and who have a keen desire to study public affairs that they may the better exercise their franchise as citizens.—Toronto Globe.

The fact that the steamers plying between Victoria and Vancouver had their bars open for the sale of liquor on Dominion election day was brought to the attention of the Victoria lodge of the International Order of Good Templars, at their recent session. A letter was ordered sent to the president of the C. P. R. to respectfully call his attention to the matter. A return reply was received last night by the body, from Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, who expressed entire sympathy with the matter, and informed them that he had given instructions that would cover all future occasions.

Y. M. C. A. WORK AMONG THE COUNTRY'S YOUTH

E. M. Robinson, Member of International Committee, Visits City

An interesting visitor to the city yesterday was E. M. Robinson, secretary of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A. and the member who has special charge of the work among the boys on the North American continent. He was on his way south, having travelled through from New York, where the international headquarters are situated, and called off in Victoria to see the handsome new premises of the association.

Mr. Robinson, who met the boys' committee, and others interested in the work among the younger members at a tea table conference last evening, had an interesting talk with a representative of the association about the work of the association among the boys. Having inquired what the population of Victoria was, he estimated from the experience of other cities that 1,000 boys ought to be obtained, and said there was much work before the present boys' membership of that association was equal to what it ought to average. He had been informed that it was the intention of the board of directors to sell the adjacent site, and if this was the case he greatly deplored it, as the site was ideal for a boys department, and they must provide a separate building before long, however much the board might need money at the present time.

He quoted instances at Hamilton, Ont., and Detroit, where large boys' buildings had been constructed, and paid for when apparently there was no prospect of finding the money, through the benevolence of philanthropists, when the managing boards had shown the courage to take a risk.

The boys' work throughout the American continent was enormous, and over 150,000 members between the ages of 12 and 18 were embraced within the folds of the association. Over 800 associations had boys' departments attached to them, and all were doing good work.

The importance of the boys' section could not be exaggerated, for it served to catch the youth at the period of adolescence, when he was in the greatest danger of drifting away. Every possible arrangement was made in the association to attract the growing boys and keep them interested in the work of the association. Frank T. H. Ritchie was now in charge of the work among boys in Canada, and had more branches under his charge than there were in the whole of North America ten years ago. All through the United States and Eastern Canada large buildings for boys were in course of erection, the provision of dormitories, helping towards making them self supporting, although boys' buildings he remarked could never be entirely independent and must remain partially philanthropic in their origin if the poorest class, and the class which most needed their assistance, was to be embraced in the fold.

Mr. Robinson left for the evening for Seattle, and will visit Portland, San Francisco, and other cities, proceeding through Arizona, and Texas, and returning to New York by way of the Southern States.

There was a large attendance at the Y. M. C. A. business meeting held at the mission on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Willisroff, the president, presided. The members present were asked to bear in mind two important events soon to take place, a reception to be given on Tuesday evening, Oct. 24th, to the new members, in the Assembly hall at the new Y. M. C. A., and the concert in aid of the mission, to be given by Mr. Frederick Waddington and several well known artists, the same to take place at the new Assembly hall at the Y. M. C. A., November 8. A parlor meeting is to be held on October 25 at the home of Mrs. Kirby on Gorge road.

REFERENDUM UPON CIVIC CENTRE SCHEME
Pandora Avenue Gore Site Abandoned—Separate Proposals to Be Voted On

The mayor sent a letter last evening to the city council with reference to the civic centre idea stating that it was unwise to proceed further with the scheme for a civic centre at the head of the Pandora avenue gore, and to submit Alderman Ross's proposal, namely to present the different locations at the annual election in the form of a referendum, and to submit a by-law by the council to provide the necessary money to cover anyone which might be chosen, and which will enable the council to dispose of such portion of the present property as is not required for public purposes.

The mayor supplemented his remarks in the letter by saying that many leading citizens were unwilling to sign the application for the proposed site, while on the other hand prominent citizens had assured him about the matter that they would aid the carrying of the project. The people did not seem educated up to the proposal, and it was better not to press the matter.

Ald. H. M. Fullerton said he believed the people had made up their minds. He thought the people would approve the present site, or one further up Pandora avenue.

OCTOBER 23 A BIG DAY FOR SWIMMERS

Vancouver Entries Expect to Receive Premier Honors at Swimming Gala Here

According to a Vancouver exchange the eyes of the swimmers in Vancouver are fixed with confidence on the championships to be swum off here on October 23. It is expected that a great impetus will be given to aquatic sports in British Columbia by the gala. The latter statement is quite sensible, but the former seems a little over-drawn in view of the results of past inter-city meets. However that may be the 23rd will undoubtedly be the day which will accrue to the winner has attracted the best talent in the province. Among the entries are Miss Griffin, of Victoria, a former B. C. championship holder; Miss Dorothy Haye, of Victoria, present holder of the British Columbia 50 yards championship and record; Miss E. J. Rayment, of Victoria, and Miss Hilda Hadman, of Kitimat, who swam second to Miss Haye for the championship at English Bay earlier in the year.

The local ladies have been practicing three times a week at the Y. M. C. A. tank and expect to be in grand form for the race.

The officers selected for the day are as follows: Starter, A. Cotter, Van-

ICE HOCKEY CLUBS FORM ASSOCIATION

Meeting Called to Arrange for Amateur Series—2 Clubs for Coast League

It was mentioned in the Times a few days ago that there was a possibility of there being an amateur ice hockey association in Victoria this winter. Subsequent events have proved the truth of that statement and a meeting has been called for Tuesday night at the J. B. A. A. for the purpose of forming the organization.

All the clubs which intend to enter the league will send representatives and it is not at all unlikely that Lester Patrick will be there to confer with the clubs regarding arrangements for placing the rink at the Shamrocks. A newly organized club, the Shamrocks, and the J. B. A. A. are entering and possibly a team from the Y. M. C. A. At least one other club will be secured to make it possible to arrange a convenient series. No difficulty is apprehended in this connection as once the association is placed on a working basis there are bound to be other teams formed, which will be only too anxious to enter.

The meeting will commence at 8 o'clock.

Zealandia—May Go Straight Through to Vancouver

H. W. Stevenson, the English Billiard champion, will arrive in the province next week on his way from Australia to London. He is returning for the big annual series in the Old Country, after having played a number of matches with Fred Lindrum, the 35-year-old Australian champion, whom he "spotted" 4000 points in a game of 18,000 and defeated.

He will reach Victoria on Tuesday on the Zealandia, but whether he will stop over for a few days or go straight on to Vancouver, where he has a number of exhibition matches booked, is not known. It depends entirely upon whether or not any inducement is held out.

SPORT NOTES

Either on the 20th or 21st of this month the New Westminster indoor bowlers will arrive in Victoria with the object in view of annexing the scepter of the Victoria bowlers. Recently Westminster played a series of three matches against Vancouver, out of which they won one.

A Westminster sport writer says that the Tecumseh lacrosse team did not add to its reputation on its western trip although it enriched its exchequer to some considerable degree. What more does he want? The Tecumseh team received $4,800 as their share of the receipts in the two games at Vancouver and in addition $300 for the exhibition game at Victoria. Their net profits were $2,000.

The meeting of the Victoria Hockey Club, which was to have been held last evening, has been postponed until Thursday night next. It was thought better to leave it over until after the B. C. League meeting, which takes place in Vancouver to-day, so that all plans for the season might be made to fit in with those of the provincial body.

Mr. Page Ford, secretary of the local club, left for Vancouver last evening to represent the city clubs.

The second game in the world's baseball series will be played in Philadelphia on Monday.

Ad-Wolcott, lightweight champion of the world, and Matt Wells, lightweight champion of England, will fight ten rounds at the Madison Athletic Club, New York, November 3, for a purse of $10,000. The men will weigh in at 123 pounds.

There is a possibility that the Vancouver Lacrosse Club will take a trip to Toronto next spring for a series of two games before the opening of the season in British Columbia. President Col. Jones had a talk with Manager Charlie Querie of the Tecumsehs, regarding the plan, before the latter left for the east, and Charlie suggested that the Mingo club holders should play two games in the Queen City on May 4 and 11, one each with the Torontos and the Tecumsehs. That would enable the Vancouver team to arrive back on the coast in time to open the regular British Columbia season as usual on Victoria Day, May 24.

At the meeting of the registration committee of the B. C. A. A. U., held last evening, the application of Pickering for reinstatement as an amateur was considered and, as the football player proved to the satisfaction of the meeting, that he committed the offence which, professionally speaking, unknown-ly he was again placed in good standing. Pickering is an Old Country man and, coming out of this province

AERIAL SIGNALLING.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—Experiments at the army aviation school at Coleman Park are to be made with an aerial signalling apparatus devised by Lieut. Roy Kirkland, the army aviator, and Charles L. Thompson, a specialist in the department. The apparatus is based on the crude semaphore methods. The Morse code will be used, the signals being shown by smoke emissions from a caldron. The caldron is shaped like a teapot and controlled by a valve. The smoke will be generated by a chemical mixture. With this device it is planned to spell out words against the sky.

LIFE SAVING SOCIETY BRANCH IN VICTORIA

Resolution Adopted at Tuesday's Meeting—P. R. Pomfret on Aims and Objects

On the occasion of the formation of a Victoria branch of the Royal Life Saving Society, on Tuesday evening last, P. R. Pomfret, honorary representative of the R.L.S.S., who has taken a great interest in the work here, made an interesting address on the objects and work of the society throughout the world. After thanking those present for their attendance and expressing his gratification that the meeting had been so well attended, he proceeded to detail the steps taken to put into effect the suggestion made by Lord Desborough, as president of the society, that a branch of the society be established for British Columbia. When here recently Lord Desborough, who was probably Britain's greatest all-round sportsman, was greatly impressed with the need for such a branch in Victoria. He therefore asked Mr. Sheridan-Bickers, an old neighbor and friend, to see what could be done to form a branch for the province, and also wrote to the press offering to present a challenge cup for competition each year should a society be formed. Mr. Bickers at once got into touch with him on learning that he was a representative of the society, and had since worked hard to help him in bringing about this meeting.

The Royal Life Saving Society owed its inception to the oft-expressed desire for organized education in the art of life-saving and resuscitation of the apparently drowned, to minimize the great loss of life which occurs each year from drowning. The founder of the society was William Henry, the world's acknowledged sea-life champion swimmer, and since its foundation, in 1881, the society had been doing a great and humane work in all parts of the world. No attempt, however, had hitherto been made to form a branch in British Columbia, although he as one of the Royal Society's honorary instructors, had been doing what he could to further education in life saving in the city, as well as previously in South Africa. He was already conducting classes in the Y.M.C.A., Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, and had examined a number of candidates for the various awards of the society. Since he had come to Victoria he had examined and recommended for awards eleven persons for proficiency certificates and medals, two for instructorships and four for the award of merit, as well as keeping in touch with Vancouver swimming clubs.

The society that it was proposed to form to-night was, he ventured to think, no ordinary society, but one which would do a practical and valuable work in promoting the physical development and life saving in the city and province. The society's work had been recognized, both by His Majesty the King and his illustrious father, the late King Edward VII. had been patron of the society and had always exhibited very lively interest in its work. Of this interest, the King Edward International Challenge Cup, competed for by members of affiliated clubs throughout the world, was a lasting memorial. Both as Duke of York and later as Prince of Wales, his son, the "Sailor King," had honored the society, being its active president, and was now the patron. The society now has as president the Right Honorable Lord Desborough, K.C.V.O., who was admittedly one of the greatest all-round athletes of our time.

In forming a branch here, he wished to emphasize the desirability of getting ladies to become members. In all its branches, members of ladies' swimming clubs had shown the greatest possible interest and distinguished themselves by winning the society's highest awards. The highest award of the society was its diploma, for which a very severe practical and theoretical examination was required. Out of 12,000 awards granted by the society since 1882 only 74 diplomas had been granted. Of these no less than 50 had been won by ladies. He hoped that this fact would encourage many lady swimmers to become members of the British Columbia branch of the Royal Society.

After giving particulars of the various competitions held each year by the parent society, Mr. Pomfret said that it was with pleasure and pride that the conveners asked their support to-night in the formation of a live branch of the only society in the world that existed for the purpose of providing instruction in the art of human salvage. Confucius was wise in his philosophy when he said "that he that saveth a human life is greater than he that taketh a city."

Capt. H. Jarvis then moved the following resolution: "That this meeting hereby resolves itself into a British Columbia branch of the Royal Life Saving Society, and pledges its members to use every effort in their power to promote the following objects of the society:

1. Technical education in life saving and resuscitation of the apparently drowned.
2. The general adoption of swimming and life saving as a branch of instruction in schools, colleges, etc.
3. Arrangement of public lectures, demonstrations and competitions and formation of classes of instruction so as to bring about a widespread and thorough knowledge of the principles which underlie the art of natation."

In doing so he expressed his pleasure that Lord Desborough's suggestion had borne fruit so quickly. The terrible fatalities that had occurred around our coast were in themselves the best evidence of the usefulness and nobility of the work which the Royal Life Saving Society was doing in all parts of the world. Nowhere could there be a greater need for a branch than on our coast, and he was certain that it would be the means of saving many valuable lives in disaster that would inevitably occur in the future. He was glad, moreover, to find that so general an interest had been awakened in the branch they were met together to form that night.

COMING TO LOAD BIG CARGO OF WHALE OIL

Bellerophon Returning Here
Beginning of Next Week—
Salmon Shipment for Her

Coming here to load a large shipment of whale oil, together with considerable fertilizer and salmon, the big Blue Funnel liner Bellerophon (Capt. Collister), will arrive at the outer docks on Monday morning. For the past week she has been at the Vancouver discharge part of her Vancouver cargo, and left that port to-day to load bunker coal at Union Bay for her return voyage to Liverpool. It is expected that she will clear from the coaling port to-morrow night and be here to make an early start on Monday morning.

At the outer wharf there are 4,000 barrels of whale oil to be lowered into her holds, besides several thousand cases of salmon and a couple of hundred sacks of fertilizer. The Bellerophon will sail from this port on Tuesday afternoon for Seattle and Tacoma to complete her outward cargo. She will have in all 11,000 tons of general freight valued at a million dollars, including the Sound ports being examined full of merchandise to be shipped to the old country. At Vancouver the steamship loaded a shipment of salmon and she will receive additional consignments at the Sound. It is estimated that she will have aboard over 80,000 cases of British Columbia and Alaskan canned salmon.

The Bellerophon will visit this port again homeward bound for Liverpool. She is scheduled to sail on Wednesday, November 1. Next of the Blue Funnel liners to reach here from the old country will be the Cyclops, which is due to arrive two weeks from to-day. This will be the first trip that she has made to this port for several years, having been engaged in the China service for some time. When she was on route to Oriental ports from the old land about eighteen months ago the Cyclops crashed into a rock in the Red Sea and was badly damaged—she is to be used in the service between here and Liverpool, permanently replacing one of the old vessels of the fleet. The Cyclops is the latest of the Blue Funnel's big twin-mast vessels.

Message From Liner 1,300
Miles Away—Spoke Maru

Several trans-Pacific steamships' last night came within the radius of two of the west coast wireless stations—Estevan and Triangle. The Canadian-Australian liner Zealandia, Captain Phillips, from the Antipodes, and the H. M. S. Empress of Japan, Captain Robinson, from Yokohama, were spoken by Triangle while Estevan was in communication with the Osaka Shosen Kaisha steamship Mexico Maru, from the Orient, and the Bank liner Orteric, Captain Findlay, bound for the Far East.

The wireless operator at Triangle picked up the Zealandia 1,300 miles southwest at midnight. Shipowners are expecting that the Australian steamship will arrive here late on Tuesday afternoon. She cleared from Honolulu last Tuesday, and is making her first trip from Sydney, N. S. W., via Auckland, N. Z. She is bringing a large passenger list to Victoria and Vancouver, including nearly 150 first class passengers, together with an equal number as second class and steerage. Her cargo amounts to 1,500 tons, consisting of frozen mutton, oils, lumber and general merchandise.

Another good long distance wireless message was received last night, when the Estevan operator held communication with the steamship Mexico Maru, 1,215 miles from that point. She gave her position as being lat. 48.40 north and long. 156.00 west at 8 p.m. The Maru should reach William Head early Tuesday night, and be at the outer docks the following morning. About 3,000 tons of cargo is being brought from the Far East by the vessel, and she also has a large number of passengers. The vessel is carrying a full cargo of general freight, including Vancouver, Portland and Seattle ports, and a number of passengers, including several tourists.

The Bank liner Orteric was 95 miles from Cape Flattery, she passed out at 10:30 yesterday afternoon with a full cargo of general freight, including Vancouver, Portland and Seattle ports, and a number of passengers, including several tourists.

Chancellor Reaches Port From Europe With 200 Tons of Cargo for Victoria

Items contained on the manifest of the Harrison liner Chancellor, Capt. Smith, which arrived at the outer wharves this morning, were consignments of good old English ales, wines and claret and the celebrated Scottish whiskies. Several hundred cases of the beverages were discharged here, and the Victoria stock of liquors has been substantially increased.

Just after daybreak the Harrison steamship tied up at the docks and commenced to discharge her European cargo for this port. While the vessel was at San Francisco the Crown of Castile, of the same line, was also there, and in order to save one of the ships from calling here, the latter discharged the Victoria freight and the Chancellor took it aboard. The Chancellor brought here over 200 tons, and she will not get away for Vancouver until to-morrow night, as she has considerable freight to load when she finishes discharging.

For Victoria the Chancellor has besides her liquor cargo, household goods, window glass and cement. There is now awaiting at the outer docks for shipment to England by the Harrison vessel 50,000 feet of lumber and several thousand cases of sawn lumber. The company is now operating a fleet of steamers homeward bound from Victoria and the Sound.

Capt. Smith reports having had a fair passage from the Old Land. A little heavy weather was encountered crossing the Straits of Magellan. Light winds were experienced during her run from Peking, which put her out on Wednesday afternoon.

ADMIRAL SAMPSON DAMAGED IN GALE

Deckhouse and Railing Are Smashed—Curacao to Enter
Alaskan Run This Winter

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 14.—Sailing from Seattle Nov. 11, for Skagway and way ports, the steamer Curacao, now being operated between San Francisco and Mexican ports, will be put in the Alaska service by the Pacific Coast Steamship Company. The vessel will replace the steamer City of Seattle, which will take sailings on October 16 and 28 and on her return to Seattle will be laid up for the winter. The Curacao is scheduled to make five sailings from Seattle, on Nov. 11, Nov. 23, Dec. 5, Dec. 17 and Dec. 29.

The Curacao is now making regular sailings between San Francisco and Mexican ports. Her place on the southern route probably will be taken by the steamer Senator, now bound from Seattle for Nome on her last voyage to the Far North this year, with a passenger list of 400, of whom ninety were from Vancouver, B. C.

A wireless message yesterday from the steamer Victoria en route from Nome for Seattle, reports a passenger list of 641. The wireless message was received at Averah while the Victoria was passing at Tatooch on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock but was delayed in reaching quarantine as no tugs were available and it was too thick to sail up the Straits, so she dropped anchor at the entrance.

The Le Piller has made an exceptionally long passage, being out 156 days to-day from London. There is a good reason for the lengthy trip of the vessel, the barque being French, is, of course, a bounty earner, French merchant ships getting a government subsidy for every mile sailed. Consequently they take the longest route and the Le Piller, instead of shaping a course via Cape Horn, steered for Hobart, Tasmania. She left there on August 1, and has taken 72 days to bring up of Cape Flattery.

After the vessel has completed discharging her cargo at Vancouver she will proceed to Tacoma to load a cargo of wheat for the United Kingdom. Outward bound from England the Le Piller had fair weather but was delayed at times by head winds—and calms. It is expected that she will clear from the Sound about the end of November.

Mohars, R. V. Winch & Co., have another ship bringing cement. This is the British ship Wiscombe, 2075 tons (Captain Jones), which sailed from London on October 6, but was in collision in the English channel and anchored off the Isle of Wight.

FRENCH BARQUE AT QUARANTINE TO-DAY

Le Piller Passes Up to Vancouver With Cargo of Cement—Completes Trip

Early this morning the French barque Le Piller (Capt. David) arrived at the William Head quarantine station in tow of one of the Sound tugs. After obtaining her pratique she proceeded on to Vancouver for which port she has a full cargo of cement consigned to R. V. Winch & Co. The vessel is reported as passing in at Tatooch on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock but was delayed in reaching quarantine as no tugs were available and it was too thick to sail up the Straits, so she dropped anchor at the entrance.

From Australia		The Allan liner Ionian from Glasgow will arrive at Quebec Sunday morning and Montreal Monday morning.
Zealandia	Oct. 17	Both the C.P.R. steamers Princess Mary, Capt. Brown, from Comox and Nanaimo, and the Queen City from the east coast, will arrive in port to-morrow.
Cyclops	Oct. 28	Up to September 18, 940 tons of concentrates have been shipped by the Portland Canal Mining Company, giving an average assay showing value of 32 ozs. gold, 127 ozs. silver and 19.9 per cent. lead.
Hinley	Oct. 28	Returning from a trip to the Gulf Islands, the C.P.R. steamer Joan, Capt. Gilchrist, arrived in port this morning with a number of passengers and some freight. She will sail again to-morrow morning.
Director	Oct. 29	If the time of her departure from Honolulu is reported correctly in coast shipping journals, the schooner Robert Searles has completed a remarkably smart voyage from the islands to the Sound. She is reported passing in at Tatooch island Thursday, and according to a coast shipping paper has been but 14 days on the voyage. The Searles has made a smart round trip, having sailed from Everett for the islands August 19. She was 17 days on the passage to Honolulu.
From the Orient		The schooner A. M. Baxter, now at Santa Rosalia, has been chartered for another voyage from the Sound to that port.
Empress of Japan	Oct. 22	The British steamer Bell of Scotland, under charter to G. W. McNear & Co., will bring down a part cargo of coal from Comox, and on arrival here will load general cargo for Salina Cruz.
Yuba Maru	Oct. 23	The British steamer Mina Brook, recently added to the Olin McAllister line between Takara Bay, South America, and this port, will be here early in November to load a return cargo. Three large steamers are now actively engaged in this business, in addition

"In all cases where occur difficulties beyond the decision of your department, it will be in order for you to consult legal talent, and before doing so I think it would be well for you to obtain the instructions of the council through the chairman of the legislative committee, Ald. must state clearly the work to be done and all changes that are to be made.
"In order that we may run no further risk it will be necessary for you to arrange for Mr. Adams, or someone equally qualified to take all existing by-laws, upon which the work has not been completed, and, in the order in which you intend to do the work to carefully inspect them with the object of having them amended by the streets committee, and the council, with as little delay as possible.
"In all cases where occur difficulties beyond the decision of your department, it will be in order for you to consult legal talent, and before doing so I think it would be well for you to obtain the instructions of the council through the chairman of the legislative committee, Ald. Langley, as to who you should obtain an opinion from until our new city solicitor is installed and in a position to give it.

"January 21, 1911.
"City Engineer,
"Angus Smith, Esq.,

"Dear Sir: It will be in order for you to submit all specifications to the city solicitor and city controller and obtain their initials, and O. K. the same, and finally submit the said specifications to the board of works for the council, for approval, which ever may prove most expeditious, prior to the calling for tenders.
(Sgd.) "A. J. MORLEY,
"Mayor."

I further beg to refer you to an important communication addressed by the city solicitor to the engineer, on August 23, 1911, on this subject, showing that, notwithstanding the mayor's communication, and the constant reminders in verbal and committee meeting and council complaints of the city solicitor, made openly in council meeting, the engineer has failed utterly to meet requirements, not only making complete organization and co-operation of the departments impossible, but placing the council in the position of having to meet uncalled for costs out of general revenue in connection with local improvement works, making it almost impossible for the city solicitor to protect the city on the legality of its assessment collections.

The Economy of the "GOOD CHEER" Circle Waterpan Furnace is more than an economy of fuel, though that is important enough. It's the saving of your family's health.

The "GOOD CHEER" saves coal, because its humid air is delightfully comfortable at a temperature at least 5 degrees cooler than is necessary with the over-dry air from the ordinary furnace.
The "GOOD CHEER" saves the sore throats, lung troubles and doctors' bills which are directly caused by parched, over-heated air.

This big Circle Waterpan, holding 4 to 6 gallons, and running right around the fire pot, evaporates plenty of water to keep the air naturally humid, refreshing and healthy.

Before you decide on your furnace write for our booklet which explains more fully the advantages of the "GOOD CHEER" Furnace with its Patented Circle Waterpan.

Angus Smith, Esq.,
City Engineer, Victoria, B. C.

"Sir—Your action in connection with plans and specifications and your joint report with the assessor in connection with local improvement matters makes it a necessity that there shall be a distinct and complete understanding arrived at once more between yourself and myself. I do not propose to stand by and allow you to put the local improvement matters in such shape that the city will be absolutely incapable of collecting any moneys from the property owners after you have gone ahead under so-called arrangements, satisfactory to you only, and done what you wished to do without any reference to what the law is. This is the same matter that we had some difference of opinion about last year, and which would up by you promising to take my advice on these matters and before you took any action that would seriously compromise the city. You have seen fit by your instructions to Mr. Adam, to reverse all this policy and ignore the instructions which you received from the council, and to instruct Mr. Adam, not to do what I had insisted on Mr. Adam doing in every case, namely, to specify the exact width of the sidewalk, boulevard, road that you proposed to put down. I am not dictating to you what width you shall make; I am only insisting that you shall stand and shall be part of the record taken to the local improvement property owners for their sanction and confirmation and when they have sanctioned and confirmed it, that you shall not afterwards alter your mind and make something else which the contract between the city and the local improvement property owners does not call for. This you have undertaken to do on Courtenay street, and in order to facilitate your so doing, there has been a deliberate forgery committed in your office, and also in the office of the city clerk, because there is no other word to call the action of changing a part of the report which had received the sanction of the ratepayers. I want to point out in the strongest way I can, that until the report is made up you are the absolute sole judge, subject to the approval of the council, of the width of the street, of how it is to be laid out, and of everything else connected with the construction, but once that you do this, and put it on a report, and that report is accepted by the property owners, neither you, nor the council, nor any person else can change it, and to change it surreptitiously in your office and in the office of the city clerk, is just as much forgery as if you changed an agreement for sale that had been signed between two parties, and to do any work which is not called for by your report and plans and specifications or to alter the character of the work that is being done under these documents is absolutely to vitiate the whole of the local improvement and make it impossible to collect. The trouble with you is that you do not pay enough attention to these matters at the beginning. You seem to think that it is only necessary to pay attention to them before you construct the work, not before you put it to the ratepayers. If you would give the matter as much attention before you submit it to the ratepayers as you do when you go to do the work there would be no trouble at all.

"What your report shall contain as a matter of construction is absolutely your business, and I do not want to interfere with it, but what your report shall contain as a matter of giving information to the ratepayers as to what you propose to do is altogether my business, because in the last analysis if you cannot collect the assessment it will be my fault, and I must insist that I shall check this over, and that what I shall say as to what the thing shall contain along that line must be already ordered by your office. This is already the order of the council, and if you do not propose to live up to it you had better let me know, so that we can thresh the matter out before the only tribunal which is boss over both of us.
"I regret exceedingly having to write to you this, but the time seems to me to have come for very frank talk. In my opinion it is much more necessary that we be able to assess for the local improvements after they are done than it is to make the local improvement, and after the experience that the city has had in Rockland avenue, Richardson street and other streets, it seems to me that you ought to recognize without my talking at all the fact that the council never intended that these matters should be done at the general expense of the city, and for you to go ahead and to haul up the proposition and that is the only ultimate result is going to reflect a great deal of credit upon the local department which has been specially charged by the council to look after this, and the only way that I can look after them is with your co-operation and for you not to give any instructions to your draughtsmen over my head, and for you yourself to let me be as much in control of the legal situation as I propose to leave you in control of the engineer's work.
"I will be glad to hear from you at once, that you do not propose to persist in your instructions, otherwise I shall have with a good deal of regret, to take the matter up before the council.
"I am returning now two reports which do not give adequate information to the ratepayers, and which have been advertised and by-laws have to be drawn. I cannot draw by-laws because I could not hold the assessment by-laws when they came through. Courtenay street is absolutely indefeasible. It seems to me that your sole desire has been to do the work, utterly regardless of the financial or the legal situation.
"When I am in this strain I might as well make an end of it. Your book-keeping department is absolutely incapable of handling its job. Every place I strike I cannot get the information. The Smith Ledger will not go on, and the chances are the city will lose all the price of these drums, because, notwithstanding that I have had every man that there is in connection with the matter up into this office, I cannot get any adequate information on which to base a law suit, and this is all stuff that your books ought to show, and under any proper system of book-keeping would show. It is about time that your department learnt that they are not the whole city, and that all our other offices are not subsidiary to yours and existing only for the purpose of pulling you out of a hole after you get into it, but we are entitled to some consideration before you go into the hole so as to save the city on the financial end, an end which you apparently do not care anything about, being interested only in getting the work done. You have got to take care of both ends of the game and not only one. Yours truly,

(Signed.) F. A. McDIARMID,
"City Solicitor."

"To the same source is due the collapse of the large retaining wall during the present engineers term of office, on Douglas street, near Garbally road, due to no plans being prepared or definite instructions being given. Also apparent failure of ability to organize the work with Mr. Bryson's assistance (see mayor's letter of March 5th, 1911).
"Also his decision, contrary to the mayor's advice to carry on his department without a fully qualified assistant engineer, after Mr. Bryson left the city service; also of his placing Mr. Donovan, having the qualifications only of a foreman of works, in the position of general superintendent of works; again contrary to the mayor's advice, and in the face of the faulty material construction of the Smith's Hill reservoir under Donovan's supervision.
"Also the permitting continuously of the building of stone retaining walls on private property, the cost of which could not be collected in connection with the local improvements, the same being contrary to legal advice, and the non-policy of the council.
"Also in connection with the Dallas Road sewer, wherein the contract was entered into and consequently the plans and specifications were changed (see mayor's letter March 6th, 1911), and during the investigation, it appeared that the city engineer gave Mr. Steadham a blank order form signed Angus Smith, City Engineer, for Mr. Steadham to fill out, with instructions purporting to be from the city engineer to Mr. Forman, the city's inspector, on the works. Mr. Smith being present, did not deny the charge, but excused himself on the grounds of his being in a hurry to leave his office at the time.
"Also as to his appointment and retaining the service of Mr. Case as engineer of construction on the Ross Bay sea wall, knowing Mr. Case to be a member of a contracting firm, having a contract with the city on similar work; it further appearing that after Mr. Case's appointment as engineer of construction of works, Mr. Smith appointed another inspector to report over Mr. Case's head to the city engineer.
"Also of the large discrepancy between the estimated and actual cost of the local improvements paying on View, between Government and Douglas. The original estimated cost of the work was $8,340.00, expenditures to date, cash, $10,071.79, accounts unpaid, $2,346.80; total $12,828.59, with the sidewalks between Broad and Government not yet constructed.
"I understand Mr. Smith himself made this estimate, but cannot vouch for it, only that it was not made by Mr. Adam in the usual way.
"Also of the issuing of a permit to Messrs. Challoner and Mitchell on May 19th, 1911, which enabled them to excavate the whole of the sidewalk on their property on Yates street, west of Plimley's, blocking traffic, no permit having been granted by the building inspector for the erection of a building at that point to this date, the engineer failing in this matter to co-operate with other departments, and creating nuisance and a loss of business to other parties, concerned, covering a period of over four months.
"Also on the present large and important sewer extension, where plans and estimates were presented to the council as complete, upon which tenders were called for the sewer pipe and for materials and construction, and for which contracts were awarded; it now transpires that the plans not having been approved by the government, could not have been considered complete, the actual results being that the government engineer, the known expert on sewer work, who planned the city's main sewer system, has called the attention where a very large saving of cost can be made on the reduction of the diameter of sewer mains, which have been figured largely in excess of requirements, and of a further change in the outlet works. Also shown by too apparent ignorance of the work of the department, which caused the engineer in July last to appeal to the city solicitor to have more by-laws passed through the council for local improvement work in order that he might at once proceed with the construction of another batch of concrete sidewalks, the solicitor pointing out to the engineer that any quantity of such work was lying in the engineer's office, waiting to be done (see mayor's letter, July 13, 1911).
"Also the failure to make provision under local improvement for the intersection on Yates street and Cook whereby the cost will have to be met out of the general revenue.
"By allowing Charles Gregg, news reporter, to take up daily a large share of his official time, contrary to the mayor's orders, and still further permitting him to do so after the mayor and Alderman Bannerman, then chairman of the streets committee, had again protested. That during the whole of that time the engineer permitted Mr. Gregg to poison his mind against the mayor, the engineer has not attempted to deny when charged with it. In this connection, it is worthy of note that this same reporter was lately appointed one of the inspectors on paying contracts at $5 per day, but owing to the strong disapproval expressed from all quarters of placing a man on the work of no experience, he was let out after three days' service, for which an attempt was made to collect 15 days' pay (see office record). In this connection it is worthy of note as (Concluded on page 11.)

MONTEREY Place Addition

If you hurry you might still secure one of these three desirable lots which remain in Monterey Place Addition at the original prices.

The lots that remain are all good ones. In fact, there is very little choice in these Monterey Place lots. They are all the same kind of garden property. The only difference in nearly every case being in size.

Two of these lots are 48x117 feet. Both of them are cleared and have been under cultivation. They could make splendid homesites.

The price of each is $700

Terms—Quarter Cash, 6, 12, 18, 24 and 30 months

The other lot left is an exceptional investment. It is large, 54x131 and fronts on a good street. A good class of homes is going up around it. In fact all the improvements going on in this vicinity will have a tendency to enhance values quickly. You can't make a mistake on this lot.

Price $800

TERMS—1/4 CASH, 6, 12, 18, 24, 30 MONTHS

ments were partaken of at the hands of the social committee. Missionary Night.—At next Monday evening's meeting the missionary committee will provide the evening's fare, when it is expected the Rev. Newton E. Bowles, B.A., D.D., missionary from China, will present some interesting remarks.

Sunday's Preachers.—Two prominent men will occupy the pulpit at the services to-morrow morning and evening. Rev. N. E. Bowles, B.A., D.D., mentioned above as a returned missionary from China, will preach in the morning and Rev. J. P. Westman, field secretary for Western Section of Young People's Societies and Sunday Schools, will be the preacher at the evening service.

W. M. S. Rally.—The annual rally of the Metropolitan auxiliary of the W. M. S. will be conducted on Monday afternoon in the school room, when a large gathering is anticipated. The auxiliary has met with a most gratifying and unprecedented increase of members during the last few months and hope to make many more on Monday and Tuesday when every lady of the congregation is invited to make an effort to be present.

Evangelical Services.—Evangelist Sampson will be given by large audiences last Sabbath at the corner of Belmont and Broadway streets, when he opened a series of revival services at the Belmont avenue Sunday school. The meetings have been carried on during each evening of this week and a good degree of success has attended the effort.

Delegation.—A large delegation has been appointed from Metropolitan church to attend the Laymen's Missionary Convention in Vancouver next week. All expect to be present, leaving Victoria on Tuesday evening of Wednesday afternoon.

Centennial. Anniversary Services.—To-morrow services will be conducted commemorative of the founding of the church and also partaking of harvest thanksgiving nature. At the morning service a former pastor in the person of the Rev. J. P. Westman will preach. A large congregation is expected as Mr. Westman is popular for his preaching and his Christian agencies are at work in Tripoli, now being fought for and over by Italy and Turkey.

St. Andrew's. Home. Home.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the congregation will be held last Tuesday evening and their wives last Tuesday evening, and participated in by a very large number.

enthusiasm was evoked last Sunday and Monday when the harvest celebrations were held with an unqualified success. The church decoration was a work of art, almost every native product being used in the scheme.

Sunday School Rally.—In the afternoon a very successful rally was held in connection with the Sunday school. The attendance was somewhat smaller than usual, but it was said for the school that almost every enrolled scholar is fairly regular in attendance, so that in a rally it takes new scholars to make much of an augmentation.

Concert.—The first concert held since organization of the church was given last Monday evening in continuation of recitations and instrumental music and a very high order and thoroughly appreciated by an audience which filled the building. Mrs. McAdams, president of the Ladies' Aid Society, presided. To this society belongs the credit of the efficiency of the concert.

Presbyterian. Special Preacher.—The Rev. J. Anderson, a visitor to the Laymen's Missionary Convention in Vancouver, will visit this city and preach to-morrow evening at 7.30 o'clock.

St. Andrew's. Home. Home.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the congregation will be held last Tuesday evening and their wives last Tuesday evening, and participated in by a very large number.

Knox Church. Banquet.—The Ladies' Aid Society were more than pleased at the measure of success, socially and financially, of the banquet given by them last Wednesday evening. A number of tests were offered in which high sentiment, fervent appreciation and unqualified good wishes were expressed.

Ladies' Aid.—On Wednesday evening last the Ladies' Aid of Knox Presbyterian church tendered a banquet to all the members and friends of the congregation. A substantial though dainty supper was served, after which toasts in connection with the church were proposed and responded to.

THE LEANING TOWER, Pisa, Italy. This noted and interesting landmark in this interesting country was begun in the year 1174 and was built to rival the famed Campanile of Venice. MAYOR'S INDICTMENT OF CITY ENGINEER showing the lack of system in the department at this period, that those inspectors were permitted to give in their own time without any check over them.

"Also as to the deplorable mix up on Courtney street, mentioned in the solicitor's letter.

"I do not think it necessary for me to go into minor details as to lack of efficiency at the office end. As to field service, I would call your attention to the following:

"By failure to systematize the work of the big paving contracts at the start, so as not to impede traffic. Although the mayor warned the engineer on different occasions (see mayor's letters of March 14, 1911; July 14, 1911; July 21, 1911, and Sept. 1, 1911) of the need of the utmost care in this matter, it was only on repeated complaints from the fire chief and forcible enjoiners from the mayor that any attempt was made to restrict the company's operation, so as to leave some possibility of traffic accommodation, and enable the fire chief, by the exercise of extraordinary care to maintain the fire service. This did not prevent the engineer from further permitting the company to dump its supplies of sand and gravel and thereby blocking the street ends, or partially blocking all over the city, in many cases months before the material could possibly be used.

"In many cases, proper orders, according to the requirements of the specification, were not given to the company for entering upon the work, only a partial order being given, whereby the city's interest could not be legally safeguarded.

"On Quadra street, for three blocks, the concrete base is four inches where the specification calls for five inches (see letter, AUG. 29, 1911). This is also the case, I am informed, on Yates street, between Blanchard and Cook, although in the latter case, I can only personally vouch for this at certain points at the western end of the work, while, in the former case it was proved before me throughout the length.

"The council, at the beginning of the Canadian Mineral Rubber contract approved of the appointment of H. Worswick as general overseer of underground construction work to hurry up the installation of all mains and pipes, in order not to retard the work of paving. A short time later the engineer changed Mr. Worswick's position to general inspector of paving, notwithstanding the engineer was aware he would be placing Mr. Worswick in an untenable position of dealing with his own and his father's interests, the Worswick Company having at the time contracts with the city.

"As a result, the officials of the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company demanded an investigation on the complaint that, while their company was being forced to live right up to the specifications by measuring gravel and sand in separate quantities by box measurement, under a full corps of inspectors, with Mr. McEachern as a special all-round inspector, and Mr. Worswick as a general inspector, the Worswick Company were being permitted to bring in a conglomerate mixture of gravel and sand from Mount Tolmie, and use direct, contrary to the specification, and that Mr. McEachern, who was most active in enforcing the requirements of the specifications upon their company, to the limit, was kept from inspecting the Worswick contract.

"On investigation this was found to be the fact, and the engineer was instructed to immediately return Mr. Worswick to his former position, and to extend Mr. McEachern's inspection to the Worswick contracts.

"Notwithstanding Mr. Smith has repeatedly assured me that he considered Mr. McEachern invaluable on this particular inspection work, as being absolutely thorough and reliable, it is worthy of note that Mr. McEachern has been relegated to a new position as foreman over a sewer gang.

"What I consider the most serious shortcoming of the work of the engineer department is, that, although the citizens are spending willingly an enormous amount of money for what has been represented to them as permanent paving improvements, the base of which at least should last for all time, and while, with the exception of some errors in thickness, the class of work is known to be what is recognized in Europe to-day as the standard of permanent paving, actual evidence warrants me in fearing that the work is not permanent, and that in the coming years the citizens will be obliged to again spend large sums of money for repairs and renewals sufficient to pay many years salary of the highest priced engineer of any city on the continent.

"I refer to the inadequate tamping of the material returned to the numerous excavations on the paved streets. (See letter of March 29, 1911.) On the corner of Cook and Pembroke, for the space of a block, a water main flooded the surface of the thoroughfare after it had been left by the department as ready to turn over to the company. Wherever the water settled in the fills they dropped a foot below the grade of the street. At Blanchard and View, after the road had been rolled, ready for paving, an excavation dropped 18 inches below grade. From personal observation, and from reliable information, I am justified in fearing that in most of the paved areas, as to many of the excavations, this same condition of inadequate filling and tamping exists.

"Only yesterday my attention was called to the excavation for gas main on King's road not being wet at all or thoroughly tamped.

"The Johnson street conduit trench was only tamped on the surface of the entire fill, no water being used.

"That, although reminded of the necessity, the matter of the use of a rougher material surface on the Yates street grade was overlooked until late, the engineer admitting he had forgotten it.

"An investigation of the pay sheet will show that, notwithstanding what has transpired in regard to having practical men for inspectors, within the last few days, an inspector has been put upon the work at big pay, who has had no previous experience, practical or otherwise, of the materials or the work. The cost of inspection for paving to date is $7,978.55.

"Also by lack of discrimination in planning and carrying out the improvement of the business part of Vancouver street with a narrow roadway, and an extraordinary width of boulevard; also his attempt to narrow the roadway on Douglas street, between Figuard and Humboldt, by widening the paving to an abnormal width of 29 feet, only defeated by the determined protest of the property owners; also by planning for a boulevard on Esquimalt road, between Bridge street and Point Ellice bridge; also by the laying of a 16-inch drain on Quadra street this year, notwithstanding a similar drain had been laid on this thoroughfare some twelve months previous, and evidently forgotten.

"A similar work of duplication of a large main was begun on King's road, some 200 feet of trench for a 16-inch pipe being already excavated before it was stopped by a private citizen informing that a drain had already been laid on that thoroughfare.

"Also by permitting the gas company to lay pipes all over the city, without any definite location on each street being given by the engineer department.

"Also by the lack of ability and extraordinary delay exhibited in connection with the planning and construction of the public conveyance at the north end of the Causeway.

"Also by the serious neglect of Point Ellice bridge, wherein notwithstanding the engineer's attention was called to it in council meeting, by resolution of the council at the early part of the year, no action was taken until the bridge showed marked deterioration from rust, the painting being delayed until the end of September.

"Also as to the delay in the grading of the High school site after the engineer had requested the council to permit him to do the work by day labor, promising it could be done expeditiously.

"In closing, I beg to refer to all communications from the mayor to the engineer during tenure of office, as evidenced that the mayor has at all times endeavored to save the engineer from difficulties in the city's interest, and to assist him in every manner possible, and has never allowed his judgment of the engineer's ability at any time to interfere with his so doing, and to further assert, that at no time has the mayor refused assistance or advice, when solicited.

"The Mayor would again call the aldermen's attention to the fact that he has not, nor does he wish to act hastily or arbitrarily on this matter, any more than he is compelled to do by his official position, and has, with that end in view, afforded the aldermen a further week in which to carefully reconsider their decision taking all matters herein cited into careful consideration, affording ample time in which to verify or discredit before the mayor takes final action, as herein set forth.

Gentlemen, you rated me last week because I did not make any allegations, I will not say charges, in regard to this matter, and I thought I would give you something to consider, I hope you will not attempt to discuss it to-night, but think it over coolly.

Ald. H. M. Fullerton moved, and it was seconded in several quarters, that the city engineer should make a written report in detail.

Ald. Peden remarked that the matter was a serious one, and he asked for copies of the letters referred to in the communication, and was accordingly promised them by the mayor.

The matter then dropped, after all had agreed that the written reply should be made.

The finance committee reported that it was desirable to raise the salary of the city engineer by $100 a month if sufficient funds were available.

The mayor declined to accept it as a report, but stated it was merely information which the controller could give them, independent of the committee. The communication was received and filed, no further action being taken.

"There is no question the board has had before it for many years," he continued, "that is so important. The entire energies of the board should be centred in making the harbor sufficient for the accommodation of large ships that will be greatly increased by the completion of the Panama canal in three and one-half years..."

"The harbor is a national question, and it should be constructed to provide for all ocean-going vessels. The views of the committee are set out in the report and there remains 3 1/2 years in which to complete the work. Therefore it is necessary to have something done now. The government should be asked to provide the best expert to say how the undertaking should be carried out..."

and make Victoria a popular port, J. H. McGregor said it was pleasant to see optimism in a hard-headed business man like Capt. Logan, and his letter should be issued in pamphlet form. Mr. McGregor advised that a specific plan of what was wanted should be put to the government. He foresaw competition by Vancouver and believed the Terminal City would receive more consideration than Victoria in harbor matters. He advocated the appointment of a harbor commission on lines similar to those at Montreal. He told of greatly increased land values in the city of Montreal as a result of harbor improvements. The harbor commission should be advocated and the salaries of its members pledged and help should be demanded from both provincial and Dominion governments. (Applause.)

Capt. Curtis, R.N., said $700,000 was being spent in dredging the Thames to 32 feet, and $3,000,000 for Victoria was a flea bite in comparison. Many ships ought to come right into the inner harbor. Captain W. H. Logan remarked that he had been at sea all his life and had travelled to all parts of the world. He recalled the waterfronts of Sydney, Melbourne, and Adelaide, Australia, as they were years ago and as they are to-day, and spoke of the immense improvements that had been made in harbor works there and the consequent increase in business. New Zealand, Callao, ports in the Mediterranean were mentioned by the speaker, who said there was a harbor in Greece which would make Victoria harbor look like 30 cents, and yet the harbor had not one-tenth of the business possibilities that are apparent for Victoria. At Bate, in the Adriatic sea, he told of a breakwater one-third of a mile long built of concrete, and in comparison said the improvements for Victoria should be an easy matter of construction.

"There is one reason," said Capt. Logan, "why this should be a good harbor. All large ships that come here. It has been shown over and over again that large ships are the easiest to operate. There are 8,000-ton ships now where there were 1,000-ton ships a few years ago. Those that come here are all large, and the harbor in a few years will not be large enough to hold them. The population is coming into the west as it never before went into any country in the world. When captains of vessels are asked by owners who kind of harbor Victoria can answer, on the Capt. Logan's reports will depend whether the owners will accept charters. No matter what you spend it will be cheap. If you make a good job of it, docks or harbor, or whatever it is you build, make plenty of room. Give a capital plenty of room. Being the ship."

Capt. Logan then spoke of the matter from the view of the underwriter, or one who insures a ship. He said the Belpo-phony and the Titan come here. They are the largest ships entering our harbor. If one of these went here, our salvage company could not lift her and we could not dock her here. There is no dock here but at Brementon. We are depending on the United States for large docking facilities. If such a thing should happen that there was a ship in Brementon dock at that time, all we could do would be to drop the ship we had raised into the ocean again.

Capt. Logan told how 140 miles of river had been dredged at Montreal and docks built with a guard pier down the river. White Star liners can get up and down the river. As a result, really, values had advanced tremendously. He had seen the same thing occur in other parts of the world. Speaking of the work of construction Capt. Logan said there were practically no difficulties to contend with, and the outer harbor for Victoria should be constructed cheaper than in other parts of the world. The 60-mile passage into Victoria made it the best natural harbor on the coast. "No one can imagine," he concluded, "the business that will be in Victoria in ten years' time."

H. F. Pullen endorsed these views. G. H. Barnard was called upon by the chairman of the board. He said that for seven years he had taken an interest in Victoria harbor improvements as far as he had been able. Two years ago on going into the tonnage comparisons east and west he had been astounded with the excess of the west over the east. Large sums had been spent by the government on eastern harbors, and it was not at all unreasonable to suppose that similar treatment would be accorded Victoria. He had been endeavoring during the last few days since the harbor board had become a live event to familiarize himself with matters in connection with the harbor board at Montreal. He believed it was a statutory appointment. (Hear, hear.) He thought the constitution of that board might be obtained by the board and decided if it is advisable to follow the same lines.

Personally, Mr. Barnard said he was in sympathy with the wishes of the board. He was glad to have the report as it would fortify him at Ottawa, and he was pleased that an expert had been asked for. He promised to urge the appointment of that expert at once, so that it could be found what is exactly needed and what appropriation is required to commence the work. Meantime he advised that the inner harbor improvements commenced through Mr. Templeman's influence at Ottawa be proceeded with. He thought the Songhess point rocks should be cut off entirely, and that the plant now in use is not as adequate as it should be. Mr. Barnard ended with the remark that he is endeavoring to the best of his ability, consulting with those who know, to get at the best means of systematically handling the matter. He did not think the board should be dismayed at asking for two and a half to three million dollars, as that sum is nothing to what is appropriated for similar work in the east. He had every hope of being able to assist in doing something to further the wishes of the board. Senator Macdonald said he had supported the matter for years, and it had been uphill work. Good information had been obtained from Mr. Keefe, whose estimate was $3,000,000. Senator Macdonald believed that the work can be done for less now and gave his unqualified approval to the report of the board's committee. "If $10,000,000 is spent in St. John and it pays half the revenue we pay," he said, "surely half that amount can be obtained for work on this harbor." The necessity of looking after the increasing China trade, and promising to lend all possible aid were mentioned by the speaker.

Committee's Report. The committee report follows: Gentlemen: In the annual report of the board, presented on 14th July last, attention is directed to the necessity of immediately commencing work on ocean docks to provide for the probable requirements of the port of Victoria upon the opening of the Panama canal, in the year 1915. Your committee on harbor development therefore beg to submit the following:

In November, 1904, the board asked the Dominion government, through the Hon. William Templeman, "to appoint an experienced engineer to report upon the best plan of extending the docking accommodation for ocean-going vessels, either by the construction of a breakwater between Holland Point and Brodie Ledge, or in such manner as may be deemed advisable, and prepare an estimate of the cost of the same." On the 8th day of that month Mr. Templeman, in acknowledging that communication, approved the board's request and promised to press the matter upon the attention of the government, with the consent of Mr. G. A. Keefe, Dominion government engineer, was instructed to examine a plan and estimate of cost of a breakwater between Brodie Ledge and Holland Point, prepared by Mr. T. C. Sorby. Mr. Keefe, in his report dated 10th August, 1906, states that "the design for the breakwater should be submitted to one or more engineers versed in the practical construction of such work" and the object of this quotation is to support the board's application for an "experienced engineer" to report fully upon the situation. We will proceed with some reasons why the appointment should be made without delay.

During the past five years the tonnage of vessels engaged in foreign trade at Victoria has increased sixty per cent. The tonnage of vessels engaged in the coasting trade has increased slightly over one hundred per cent in the same period. The vessels of nine companies engaged in British; oriental, Australian and Pacific Coast freight and passenger business, now make Victoria a regular port of call. Already the representatives of other companies are examining local conditions with the view of an extension of their business to this port. The present outer wharves and warehouses are private property and, to accommodate increasing business, have been enlarged during the past few years. The evidence of the testimony to the enterprise of the owners when making their original plans. Some of the vessels which dock there are 9,000 tons and over 480 feet in length, and rank with the largest now engaged in these waters. With the opening of the Panama canal the size of vessels on this coast will be much larger than now, made practicable by the greater width and depth of water in the Panama canal in comparison with the Suez canal.

Last week it was the pleasure of your committee to hear the views of Admiral Lord Charles Beresford on this subject. His Lordship's acquaintance with Victoria and the harbor dates from the year 1862. In offering suggestions in respect to the change of conditions upon the opening of the Panama Canal he prefaced his remarks by stating that he made them "because I can see it is impossible to overrate the importance which this place (Victoria) has in the Columbia, and what I may call the Canadian nation, will occupy in the future." He recommended that "When you make your docks do please be careful that you make the sills deep enough and broad enough so that you do not have to make alterations and go into extensive expense afterwards." In continuing his remarks upon the possibilities of business, he stated: "You have not developed your resources, you have not scratched this country yet, you have barely commenced to scratch it for what it is to come."

Lord Beresford, chairman of the Thames Conservancy board, who was in this city last week, also took great interest in Victoria harbor extensions and stated that he was "profoundly impressed with the necessity of devising sufficient depth of water at low tide to provide for the ever increasing bulk of ships. He recommended that those responsible for the opening and extension of the harbor of Victoria should provide for a minimum depth of water between 32 and 40 feet, and stated that "A fundamental rule of all harbor extension and dock construction is to be sure that your sills are deep enough and your docks long enough." Your committee take much pleasure in directing attention to the views of Mr. R. F. Rithet upon the probable growth of business at this port, and indicated in the memorandum accompanying hereto. Few citizens can fully appreciate the extent of their indebtedness to Mr. Rithet for having provided, for many years, suitable wharves and warehouses for overseas vessels at this port. Mr. Rithet's close study and long experience qualify him to speak with authority on this subject. All the principal ports on this coast are preparing for the prospective changed conditions upon the opening of the Panama Canal. The extensions and improvements of the harbors of San Pedro, in lower California, and San Francisco, alone, now under construction or contemplated, amount to fourteen million dollars. Having in view the natural advantages at this port your committee believe that for an expenditure of one-fifth of that sum accommodation could be provided here second to none on the Pacific coast.

It will be necessary also for the engineer to report upon connecting the wharves with the railways. At present we have the Canadian Pacific, Great Northern and Canadian Northern railway systems in sight and it will probably not be long before all-rail connection will be made between Vancouver Island and the mainland. Your committee attach much importance to the development of this port as a factor in hastening the construction of all-rail connection. In the meantime with efficient ferry services between Vancouver Island and the mainland the prompt despatch of water borne goods landed at Victoria to all eastern points on the continent is assured.

It is desired to emphasize the importance of selecting an engineer of the highest repute to report upon and estimate the cost of this needed harbor extension, even if it is necessary to look beyond the Dominion of Canada for such an authority. In a work of this importance mistakes are too costly to contemplate and can best be avoided by acting on the advice of the government engineer, Mr. Keefe, to submit the requirements "to one or more engineers versed in the practical construction of such work." Your committee cannot too strongly urge expedition in this matter and recommend:

That a very strong appeal be made to the government of Canada to immediately appoint one or more engineers to prepare plans and estimate the cost of a comprehensive scheme of harbor extension at this port, with railway connection available to any company wishing to use it.

That the work should be completed within a few months and all the preliminaries disposed of in time to include in the federal estimates of next year a suitable appropriation for actual construction on a scale that will ensure completion three years hence, upon the opening of the Panama Canal.

A lengthy opinion from that veteran shipping man, R. P. Rithet, was incorporated in the report and will appear in Monday's issue of the Times.

COLWOOD ACCIDENT. To the Editor:—Your report of the accident on the Canadian Northern Pacific railway cut near Colwood conveys an erroneous impression. It states that this work was laid by the time-keeper and engineer. This is not true, as the foreman of each gang is responsible for the laying and firing of charges on his work. The fact that the engineer's timekeeper had passed the place where the accident occurred just previous to the explosion may account for the wrong impression you gave the public.

Evenly Heated Homes

The air-tight feature embodied in the Original Air-Tight Wood Heater makes it possible to control the burning of wood, first to charcoal, charcoal makes a clean, hot fire and leaves very little ash. This means a saving of at least 50 per cent in the saving of gas as compared to stoves with gas burners or side door heaters which have both cast iron and steel joints. It is a perfect heater of heat, giving out all the heat possible. When the burner is burning, the single newspaper can be felt across the room. It holds the fire over night with light wood, coals or trash. The fire is never out and by simply putting in a little fresh fuel in the morning, you can heat the room from zero to 70 degrees in five minutes time. We have been in all sizes and styles. Price $2.50 and up. (R-34)

CONSULTING ENGINEER FOR BURRARD BRIDGE

Sir John Wolfe-Barry is Appointed by Board to Super-Visor Work

North Vancouver, Oct. 13.—At a meeting of the board of directors of Burrard Inlet Tunnel & Bridge Company, Sir John Wolfe-Barry, K. C. B., F. R. S., V. D., of London, England, was appointed consulting engineer in connection with second narrow bridge, in which undertaking there will be associated with him the local firm of Cleveland & Cameron, civil engineers.

Sir John Wolfe-Barry will bring to the commission to which he has been appointed, the practical knowledge and ripened experience of practically 50 years' practice in his profession during which time he has been associated with many undertakings of the greatest magnitude from an engineering standpoint. He has attained to the highest eminence in engineering circles both from the practical viewpoint and as an author, and is considered one of the leading British authorities upon engineering matters.

Sir John Wolfe-Barry was born in London on December 7, 1836, and is the youngest son of Sir Charles Barry, K. C. B., who was educated at Trinity College, Glenalmond, and King's College, London. He was created a K. C. B. in 1887. He was a member of the senate of the University of London and governor of the Imperial College of Science and Technology. He represented Great Britain on the international technical commission for the Suez canal.

Inasmuch as the directors of Burrard Inlet Tunnel & Bridge Company consider him as of the greatest importance with respect to the project at the present juncture and knowing the very many claims which are laid upon the services of a famous consulting engineer such as Sir John Wolfe-Barry, the appointment was made contingent upon his being in a position to leave England immediately and to assume his duties here at the earliest possible date of arrival, and a cable was dispatched in pursuance of that resolution. At the same meeting of the board of directors an application for shares was received from the city council of Vancouver, accompanied by a cheque as initial payment thereon. The application was accepted and Vancouver is now fully identified with the company.

QUARTER CENTURY SPENT IN THE NORTH

Pioneer Missionary Has Wealth of Information About Vast Territory

Prince Rupert, Oct. 13.—An interesting passenger going north on the Princess Royal was Rev. J. Hawkesly, who has been 25 years of missionary pioneering on the McKenzie river and in the Yukon district.

On the McKenzie one steambot from Fort Smith connected with a steambot from Edmonton and that was all the communication with the outside world enjoyed for the year. The arrival of the steambot was an event. The white men subsisted like the Indians on fish and fish.

The Indians were always kindly. At Fort McPherson Mr. Hawkesly first met Archdeacon McDonald, who is now living at Winnipeg after spending 50 years in the service.

About 420 miles from the mouth of the McKenzie river Mr. Hawkesly came in touch with Eskimos. They are very interesting. The men and women dress alike except that the woman's coat is a little longer than the man's. The Eskimos are experts in the use of their kayaks or canoes. A man pushes himself forward in one in a sitting position and a waterproof covering is tied up around the waist. He can be upset as often as may be, but will always come on top.

They can kill whales in these boats. Stone spear heads are shot into the whale, which is followed and harassed till he dies from exhaustion. An Eskimo brave is never fully admitted to the freedom of the tribe till he has distinguished himself in killing either a seal or a whale and then two holes are punched one in each side of his lower lip. In these holes a button made of walrus tusks is inserted.

These Eskimos smoke. They buy the tobacco from the Hudson Bay Company and swallow the smoke. They can dress a board with a knife and axe with marvellous precision.

Mr. Hawkesly is on his way to Dawson. Mrs. Hawkesly and family he has left behind him at Winnipeg.

Mr. Hawkesly has a wealth of interesting information that would fill a volume of life in the north and in the Yukon in the early days of the great stampedes.

KILLED BY GRIZZLY.

Nicola, Oct. 13.—Bob Whitehoar, a negro prospector, who has made his headquarters for some years at the Potatoes-Ilahie, on the lower Nicola, is reported to have met a tragic fate on the Hope summit near the head of the Coldwater river.

Whitehoar, who was about fifty years of age, was out on a prospecting trip and had become separated from his companion, who engaged the services of the Coldwater Indians to search for him.

These reports that they found an arm and some clothing, and the supposition is that the unfortunate man had either been killed by dynamite or that he had been killed by a wounded grizzly, a theory that is not altogether improbable.

GOOD CHARACTER FOR ROYAL CITY'S WATER

Engineers Report That Alleged Defect Was Merely Result of Heavy Rains

New Westminster, Oct. 13.—New Westminster water supply is all right. Such is the opinion of Hon. W. W. Cory, Dominion deputy minister, formed on reports of experts, and expressed in a telegram sent in reply to a lettergram despatched to him by Acting Mayor J. J. Johnson.

The telegram from the deputy minister was read at the last meeting of the council. It was addressed to the acting mayor, and acknowledged the receipt of the lettergram voicing a complaint that the purity of the water supply to the city was being impaired by the operations of the Vancouver Power company at Coquitlam lake.

The discoloration of Coquitlam water had been reported on to the department by Consulting Engineer John F. Freeman, an eminent authority on water supply, by Department Engineers Stronach and Johnston, and by Chief Engineer Conway, of the Vancouver Power Company.

Mr. Freeman advised the department and the deputy minister advises the city council that the alleged danger to the New Westminster water supply was simply a case of temporary discoloration due to heavy rains and floods following extreme low water, and that there was no occasion whatever for alarm. The department on every occasion, on making every possible precaution to protect the water supply of the city of New Westminster.

LOGGING CAMP FATALITY.

Killed Outright. Levi Spurling, Caught Between Logs.

Cranbrook, Oct. 13.—A sad fatality occurred at the East Kootenay Lumber company's No. 9 camp whereby a well known lumberman and an old employee of the company lost his life.

The victim of the accident was Levi Spurling, a native of Ontario, aged about 45. Spurling was assisting in righting a car loaded with logs, which had got off the track. He was between two loaded cars at the time, when the engine backed up and he was caught at the back of the head between projecting logs on both cars, his skull being completely crushed, death being practically instantaneous.

Coroner Dr. J. M. Bell was immediately called to the scene of the fatality and after investigating the cause thereof found that no formal inquest was necessary.

The remains were brought into town by Undertaker Beatty and prepared for shipment to the old home of the deceased at Warthon, Ont. Levi Spurling had worked for the East Kootenay Lumber company for the past seven years. He came west at the time of construction and had announced his intention of returning to his old home at Warthon this fall to visit his parents. The remains were sent east.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Merritt, Oct. 13.—Acting under instructions from the provincial police the city authorities proceeded with an action against Charles Falconer, of Merritt, on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Joseph Strling, of Coldwater, who died about a week after the fall fair, September 7, on which date he is said to have received injuries while in Merritt that contributed to his demise. The preliminary case was heard before Magistrates Morgan and Body, M. L. Gimmet, city solicitor, appearing for the prosecution, and H. Colin Clarke for the defendant. On the evidence produced the accused was held for trial at the fall assizes at Kamloops which will commence on October 23. Bail was accepted at $2,000, consisting of $1,000 personal bond and two sureties of $500 each.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

"It is more important that a person should be a good gossip and talk pleasantly and smartly of common friends and the thousand and one nothings of the day and hour, than that she should speak with the tongues of men and of angels, for awhile together by the fire happens more frequently in marriage than the presence of a distinguished foreigner to dinner."

—Robert Louis Stevenson. "What a gossip she is," commented the author man's wife lately. "The lady who received this assurance had just taken her leave after conveying to us a gist of news."

She had told us that the Burgesses were going south for the winter; that the Lothrop's were building a garage; that Mrs. Miller might have to have her arm amputated and that the Quincy's oldest son was going to marry a girl he had met on his trip abroad.

Not one ill-natured word had she spoken. Not one suggestion of scandal had she conveyed. She had simply passed along all the bits of news she had been gathering.

The author man's wife called her a gossip. I call her a public benefactor. She left me with more to think about than I had had when she came. She brought me into closer touch with the lives of my friends and neighbors. She did no harm in any way.

It seems to me that many people have this strange notion that to talk about one's friends and neighbors and what they are doing, no matter how charitably, is gossip and to be avoided. Myself I can't see it that way.

People are much the most interesting things on earth, and the people you know the most interesting of the most interesting. If you do not speak ill-naturedly why should it be thought undesirable to talk about them?

One of the most pleasing persons to talk to whom I have ever known is a woman who taught herself to observe everything new and pick up every possible bit of information to interest her bedridden mother. The little mother died years ago, but the daughter has never lost the habit, and to talk with her is to hear a witty but always kindly chronicle of the news of the neighborhood.

Everyone knows folks like her who are always brimming with news, and everyone knows other people who never have anything interesting to relate, who never even notice that a new house is going up in their neighborhood or that a new family have moved on to their street until some more observing person tells them.

And whatever anyone else may think, I, for my part, prefer the "gossip." I quote the word because I mean it in the kindly sense of news gatherer, and not the harsh sense in which the author man's wife used it and which it usually carries.

I believe it is everyone's duty to be as interesting as he can, and that those who keep their eyes and ears open and are generous with the fruits of their observation fulfill that duty.

Just Austin has a splendid description of the right kind of gossip. May I add my feeble note of commendation to hers.

"She (Nurse Rourke in Persuasion) is a shrewd, intelligent, sensible woman. Here is a line for seeing human nature and she has a fund of good sense and observation, which as a companion, make her infinitely superior to thousands who, having only received the best education in the world, know nothing worth alluding to. Call it gossip if you will, but when Nurse Rourke has half an hour's leisure to bestow on me, she is sure to have something interesting to relate, something that is entertaining and profitable; something ley has been on an extended tour through Great Britain and Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelser are at home after a short trip to Spokane, Wash. Mr. Kelser is a member of the Canadian Rubber Company, the big paving concern doing the greater part of the paving of the city.

Hon. and Mrs. W. J. Bowser were returned to their home in Vancouver. Mrs. Bowser has been the guest of friends in the city for the past week, and Hon. Mr. Bowser returned with her for the week-end.

Harold Smith of Calgary, Alta., is a visitor in the city. Mr. Smith has several interests in the most westerly of Canada's prairie provinces. He is deeply impressed with this end of the Northwest, and the temptation to become more closely connected with it is very strong. He is on a business and pleasure trip combined.

A NOVEL IRON. Held Upright on Table Edge and Goods Passed Over It.

A novel type of iron has been devised by an Illinois man for use particularly on ruffles, gathers, sleeves, tucks, flounces, baby clothes, etc. Pieces of this nature are difficult to get around with the old-style iron, so that every wrinkle is smoothed out. The implement shown in the illustration has a noiler which clamps to the edge of the kitchen table. The iron proper resembles nothing so much as a door knob, having a round head and a stem which fits into the holder and is held in an upright position. The goods are then drawn back and forth over the iron instead of the iron being pressed over them, with the result that they can be smoothed out much better and without any danger of tearing laces or other delicate parts. The device is made with two iron heads to every holder, so that one can be heated while the other is being used.

MANCHU DYNASTY IN CELESTIAL EMPIRE Cured of Shingles and Eczema

Three Centuries of Revolution and Riot Mark Alien Race on China's Throne

While the armies of Cromwell and the Royalists were fighting at Marston Moor and Cropredy bridge events were shaping themselves in China which meant the extinction of the Ming dynasty, and the advent of the Manchus, which race has since ruled in the Celestial Empire. Like the invitation of the Saxons to England the Manchus were called into Pekin to assist in quelling a domestic revolution, and like the Saxon chieftains, they liked the land so well that they decided to stay. The armies of the northern race dispossessed the rebel Le Tse-ehing from the capital, and routed his force, proclaiming the ninth son of Tseung, the Manchu sovereign, as Emperor of China under the title of Shun-che, and adopted the name of Tsing-ning as emperor at Nanking, and by the end of 1644 were in complete possession of the country. The accession to the throne, however, by no means restored peace to the country. Guerrilla warfare continued, and the pirate Ching Che-tung made determined resistance. However, the temptation of a general's command captivated him, and he was prevailed on to visit Pekin. Once there he was seized, thrown into prison, and died there. His son, Koxinga, obtained possession of Formosa, driving the Dutch out of the island. Here he held sway for some years, ultimately surrendering his principality.

A prince of the Ming dynasty raised the standard of revolt in Kwang-se, but was defeated, taken prisoner, and strangled. Then was introduced the practice of the shaved head and pig-tail, which only in our own day is being abandoned. It then represented submission to the reigning dynasty, and was generally adopted by the conquered Mongolians.

Shun-che came of age in 1651, and received the first Russian embassy, but as the envoy declined to bow low before the emperor he was not admitted to an audience. In 1681 Koxinga, his son, succeeded him, and became a celebrated monarch. He received much valuable instruction from the Jesuits, and administered the affairs of state indefatigably. He reigned till 1722, and added Tibet to the empire. A terrible earthquake in which 400,000 are said to have perished, occurred in his reign. To him succeeded Yung-ching, who only reigned "sixty days" and passed the place for his son, Keen-lung, in 1735. He extended Chinese conquests to eastern Turkistan, and invaded both Burmah and Cochinchina. The Mahomedan standard was raised against him in Kan-su, but the followers of the prophet were beaten into submission, and their armies dispersed. The warlike emperor ordered all his mandarins should be executed in 1784, and a few years later subdued the Nepalese. He was beaten in Formosa, and in his reign there was a great deal of guerilla warfare with hill tribes in Kwai-chow and Kwang-se. After a reign of sixty years he abdicated in favor of his son, Kea-king, surviving till 1798, when he died at the ripe age of eighty-eight.

Keen-lung received an embassy from George III, with regard to the cruelties practised against British traders, and though Lord Macartney was well entertained, little practical use came from the visit. Kea-lung's reign was broken up with insurrections and disturbances. Pirates infested the coast, and rebellion devastated the interior provinces. The exactions against the British merchants continued, and another embassy was sent in 1816, under Lord Amherst. He declined to bow low, and was dismissed from the palace on the day of arrival.

Kea-king died in 1820, and was followed by Taou-kwang, who devoted himself to pleasure and amusement. Insurrections were the rule everywhere. Lord Napier was sent out in 1842 to superintend the foreign trade at Canton, but he died soon afterwards at Macao of anxieties produced by the action of the Chinese mandarins. The latter were bitterly opposed to the importation of opium, and in 1839 came the surrender of all the opium held by English merchants, over 20,000 chests, which were destroyed by the authorities. The following year as a result of this seizure, or forced surrender, a number of ports were opened by treaty, and Hongkong Island was surrendered. These ports thus became available for European trade. In 1859 the emperor was succeeded by his son, Hien-fong, and his slack and tyrannical rule provoked serious discontent, open revolt breaking out. While the cause of rebellion was languishing Hung Sew-tseuen presented himself as a leader in Kwang-su, won victory after victory, and in 1852 he secured Nanking, and declared himself the first emperor of the "T'ai-ping" dynasty. Great Britain, incensed by the boarding of the British ship, "The Arrow," declared war, and in 1858 secured the Taku forts. The French joined, and a united expedition was successful in securing satisfactory terms of peace. The T'ai-ping rebellion was crushed by 1864, through the splendid work of General Gordon, who made of the imperial troops a disciplined army from a rabble.

Meanwhile Tung-che had succeeded to the imperial throne, and peace was gradually restored, the Mahomedan rebels in Yun-nan province being crushed in the early seventies. The foreign ministers were ultimately permitted to have audience of the emperor for the first time in June, 1873, and eighteen months later the emperor died, Kwang-su, a minor, not in the direct line of succession, was chosen. The supreme power naturally fell into the hands of the dowager empress, the Junior empress Tsu shi, a woman of great ambition and force of character, becoming soon the predominant partner.

The Indian government wished at that time to re-establish the old trade routes between Yunnan and Burmah,

By Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Chest Raw, Bleeding and Itchy.

"I just want to say a good word for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In November, 1909, I had what the doctors call shingles and eczema. My chest was raw and bleeding and itchy. I was that way all winter. It was not as if the summer, in September, it got worse. I had the best doctors treating me, but did me no good, and I was all run down in health. In November, 1910, it got worse again. I sent you for a sample cake of Cuticura Soap. You sent it to me and I got a box of Cuticura Ointment. I have used two boxes and on the third one it has cured me of shingles and eczema. I am delighted with them and do feel pleased to think I have something I have confidence in. Should anyone be suffering as I did, I hope that they will do as I did, and am sure of the results, I am recommending them from experience." (Signed) J. H. Jarvis, 7. Ann St., Kingston, Ont., May 30, 1911.

For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have afforded the speediest and most economical treatment for itching, burning, scaly and bleeding skin and scalp humors, of young and old. A single set is often sufficient. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, but to those who have suffered much, and are without faith in any treatment, a liberal sample of each with 32-p. booklet on the skin care of the face, sent free from The Poter Drug & Chem. Corp., 27 Columbus Ave., Boston, U. S. A.

Interrupted by the civil disturbances, and sent an expedition. A. R. Margery, a member of the consular service, was sent forward in advance of the main party, and was murdered by Chinese. Eleven savages were produced to the enraged British government as the perpetrators, although evidence was clear that the murder was authorized by the Yunnan government, and as the result of the negotiations the Chefoo convention was signed, as a guarantee of good faith, and to prevent further murders. Next year Kashgar was captured as the result of the first expedition financed by a foreign loan, and the country became practically pacified after so many years of turmoil. Troubles with Russia and Japan about the frontiers began to be serious in the early eighties, the former with regard to the frontier in Mongolia, and the latter, the latter concerning Corea. The latter expressed in 1881, and thereafter Tsu Tai had undisputed authority. In 1884 came the war with France, in which China held her own against a European power. In 1894 came the war with Japan, the utter defeat of the Chinese, the surrender of Formosa, and part of the Liaoting peninsula. The next three years Chinese affairs were of great importance to European powers, when partition was talked of, but nothing was done, save that Germany seized the Kiaochow district in November, 1897, and has never been dispossessed.

"The open door" and "equal opportunity" agitated the chancelleries of Europe in the closing years of the century, the reforming influences of the young emperor being suddenly checked by the coup d'etat of 1898, when the reactionaries again secured recognition. Manchus replaced Chinese in many of the principal positions at court. The last decade has seen the slow development of the reform movement, accelerated at last by various political outbreaks, like the present.

The government of China is described as a patriarchal despotism, investing the emperor with power to slay and keep alive, but the doctrines of Confucius were clear that a ruler who by injustice and oppression forfeited his right to rule should be rebuffed against, and all through the ages the Chinese have certainly kept that article of faith, revolt and insurrection being the record of every dynasty and sovereign.

JULES VERNE AS PROPHET.

If Jules Verne were still alive, he would be but 82 years old, and would rank as the greatest living prophet. He lived long enough to see many of his dreams come true, including the submarine boat, the automobile and the striding of the world in 80 days, a feat which the late globe-trotter, a Frenchman, has reduced to a trifle. Since his death the North Pole has been discovered, and very much as he pictured it. Some of his inventions have been improved upon, but others are still to be brought up to the mark. For example, the submarine is a far more thing compared with the Nautilus of "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea." But a much closer approach is to be made by the proposed Russian submarine cruiser, an account of which is given by the London Standard. It is designed by a Russian naval engineer named Shuryeff. It is, properly speaking, a submersible rather than a submarine, and its points of distinction are its size and the rapidity with which, if the designs work out, it can be sunk to a point of safety. Its tonnage will be 5,435, which is the size of a substantial ocean liner of the minor sort. Its length will be 400 feet, its surface draught 22 feet. On the surface it will use 18,000 horse-power, with a speed of 25 knots. It is hoped that it can be submerged in three minutes. Such a vessel, with 30 torpedo tubes, would be well on paper, but it will prove so satisfactory in the actuality.

In the Mathematical Section of the British Association Conference, at Portsmouth, Professor H. H. Turner gave an address on "The Characteristics of the Observational Sciences." He said they were led to believe that the true aim of science should have some of the qualities of the hero of fiction, Sherlock Holmes. Such qualities would be the man of science no possible harm; indeed, they would be of the utmost value to him.

PROBLEMS OF THE AGES.

Historical Manuscript of Elizabethan Age Found Interesting.

The difficulty that housekeepers experience nowadays in keeping and managing servants, and the gradual increase in the wages that they have to pay, make the account of the organization of an Elizabethan household, quoted at length in the report on the manuscripts of Lord Middleton that was recently published by the Historical Manuscripts Commission especially interesting. The household was that of Sir Francis Willoughby, of Wollaton Hall, Nottinghamshire; and the document is prefaced by one of his descendants, Cassandra Willoughby, sister of the first Lord Middleton, with the remark that "Sir Francis Willoughby was very exact in keeping the account of his income and his expenses, and was very regular in his family."

The document, which dates from about 1572, sets out "the orders that were to be observed" by the servants at Wollaton. "Item," it reads, "that Foxe supply the place of the usher, whose office is first of all to see that the hall be kept clean, and that his groom sees no dogs come there at all. He is diligently to have good regard to every person that comes into the hall, to the end that if they be of the better sort, notice may be given to the master, or some head officer that they may be entertained accordingly. If of the poorer sort, then to know the cause of their coming, and to give advertisement over, to the end that they may be dispatched and answer'd of their business, provided always that no stranger be suffered to pass without offering him to drink, and that no rascal or unseemly person be suffered to tarry there."

Meat and drink were regarded no less seriously then than they are now, and most of the "orders" concern the conduct of the meals that were served. "Upon intelligence given from the clerk or the cook that the meat is ready to be served," the document prescribes, "the usher is with a loud voice to command all gentlemen and yeomen to repair to the dresser. At the nether end of the hall he is to meet the service, saying with a loud voice, 'Give place, my masters, albeit no man be in the way, and so to go before the same service until he come to the upper end of the hall, carrying a little fine rod in his hand, which at all other times he is to carry in his bosom, whereby he is to be known to all strangers to be the usher."

"All disorders in the hall are by the usher to be reformed, and if there be any stubborn persons, he is to expell them from the hall, and to command all men at dinner and supper time (if any great noise shall be) to keep silence, saying with a loud voice, 'Speak softly, my masters.' His part is also to walk up and down the hall, and especially in the time of the first dinner or supper, and only to call and to command the butler, the waiter, and such as be attendants to bring or fetch any thing that shall be wanting, but not in any wise to doe any service himself, otherwise than diligently to look to the tables."

"The servants of less trust and credit," however, had the duties defined with equal minuteness. For instance: "Penne being appointed for the buttry, his office is ever to keep clean and sweet his buttry, and likewise his plate and cups, making sure every day to have fresh and clean water, and for the most part twice a day to wash the same withal. His jackets appointed for the hall are to be kept from furring and unweet savour," and he is bound "to cover the boards (—tables) and cupboards, having very good regard to the cleanness of his linen, and likewise to provide for cards and dice, whereof he is to have the profit."

Further instructions to the butler serve as an indication of the times at which the Elizabethan gentleman was accustomed to take his meals. "The buttry door ought not without special cause to be set open till eight of the clock in the morning, and then so to stand till breakfast, or breakfast, no doubt,—and from thence to be shut again till between ten and eleven, and then to remain open till all dinners be done, and so after dinner and supper be done to be shut again till between two and three, and then after half an hour or thereabouts to be made fast till five, and so to remain open till nine, and after that by no means to be opened that night without special cause. The discretion of that officer is to foresee that no fliching of bread or beer be suffered, nor yet any want where reason doth require may be greatly both for his master's profit and worship."

The staff of servants at Wollaton Hall was a very large one; but, even allowing for the difference between the purchasing power of money then and now, its cost seems to have been small enough to drive the modern housekeeper to despair. A book of accounts, showing Sir Francis Willoughby's household disbursements for fourteen months, from November, 1572, to December, 1573, shows a total of £1,394 18s. 8½d.—as Cassandra points out, he was "exact in keeping the account"—although a "list of servants which did belong to Sir Francis Willoughby and his Lady, A.D. 1572, and their wages for a quarter of a year" contains forty-six names, and, even then, "makes no mention of any belonging to the nursery," and groups the "muskettiers" together, without detail as to their number, under one lump payment of £5 for the quarter. "It is interesting to note, though, that Sir Francis's chief gentleman, one Henry Willoughby, whom Cassandra believes was "of the Eresby family," enjoyed a stipend of £4 13s. 6d. a year; that Mrs. Willoughby—presumably the house-keeper—had an annual salary of £13 6s. 8d.; that Penne, "appointed for the buttry," only received ten shillings for his quarter's work; and that "the boy in the kitchen was, apparently, content with threepence and fourpence a year. Tempora mutantur. . . .

TEN WEARY YEARS

OF STOMACH & LIVER TROUBLE Cured by MOTHER SEIGEL'S SYRUP!

People whose stomachs are disordered, or whose livers or bowels are sluggish and irregular often suffer for years for the need of such a gentle aid as the herbal tonic, Mother Seigel's Syrup. Moreover, for the lack of so simple and sure a remedy, they often suffer the most cruel tortures—severe pains after eating, splitting headaches, violent bilious attacks, dangerous and prolonged attacks of indigestion and many kindred complaints. "For ten years or more," says Mr. Clannon, Point Michaud, Richmond Co., Nova Scotia, "I suffered from severe constipation. I had terrible pains after eating and always a nasty taste in my mouth. I lost flesh, and my skin was very yellow. I had violent pains in my back and loins, and my head would swim so badly that I could scarcely stand up. This went on for a long time and I tried various remedies to get relief, but nothing seemed to do me any good."

"At last I was advised to try Mother Seigel's Syrup, which I did. After the first few doses I felt relief. My food seemed to agree with me, and I lost the dreadful pains in my back. I continued the medicine for about six months, and am now completely cured, and have had no return of the old trouble."

In his case Mother Seigel's Syrup, through its special combination of herbal extracts, regulated the flow of bile fluid from his liver, toned up and strengthened the stomach, and gently assisted the action of the bowels. In other words, the medicine assisted the organs of digestion, so that they could do their natural work. That is all that Mother Seigel's Syrup ever does—no forcing of Nature—simply helping Nature. It will help you! Try it to-day!

The National Commission announced that the paid attendance was 38,281 persons, with gross receipts, $77,359. Of the gross receipts, the National Commission received $7,735.90. The players get $41,773.86, and each club, $13,242.62.

The attendance was divided as follows: 13,523 admissions at $1; 14,917 admissions at $2; 8,500 admissions at $3; 1,364 in boxes.

found worthy of this confidence, he can be informed of the many thousands of dollars, justly owing to the Sisters and the hospital for treatment, food, shelter and medicine, and which still stand unpaid on their books.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I will say for myself, all credit is due to the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital for their display of broadmindedness and kindly spirit in proposing to divide the proceeds of collections with Saint Joseph's.

Should the one of these in writing to the Times editor, who will perhaps, knowing I feel strongly on the subject, forgive the liberty I take in suggesting how proper it would have been, if in a footnote, he had disclaimed the sentiments contained in Mr. Scott's letter, and may I also say, "It is never too late to mend."

The Daily Chronicle publishes to-day a three-column statement which purports to give the inner history of the Chinese revolutionary movement.

It shows that Dr. Sun Yat Sen for many months has been engaged in secret journeys to England and the United States, endeavoring to raise $2,500,000 to start the revolution, and names and dates of letters, with the $2,500,000 copies of many letters, which names and dates suppressed, which Sun Yat Sen wrote in an endeavor to secure financial assistance.

These letters partly reveal his hopes and plans for the revolt, on which to start a republican form of government. He claimed to possess guarantees from a large Chinese bank and some substantial Chinese merchants.

OBITUARY RECORD

The funeral of the late Mr. John Gibson Smith will take place from the family residence, 1809 Cook street, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Services will be conducted by the Rev. T. E. Holling. The remains will be removed from the Hanna & Thomson chapel to-morrow morning. Interment will be made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

The funeral of the late James J. Griffin took place from the Victoria Undertaking parlors this morning at 8:45 o'clock. Mass was said at the Roman Catholic Cathedral by the Rev. Father Leterns. There was a large attendance of friends and many floral offerings received. The pall bearers were H. Klossow, R. Ryan, G. R. Ferry and W. J. Smith. Interment was made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Rachel Hommslow will take place on Monday afternoon from the Hanna & Thomson chapel at 2 o'clock, and from St. Barnabas church at 2:30. Services will be conducted at the church by the Rev. E. G. Miller. Interment will be made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

EAMES AND GOGORZA

A brilliant audience assembled in the Victoria theatre last night to pay tribute to two world-famed vocal artists, Madame Emma Eames and Signor Emilio de Gogorza.

For the nonce the theatre was transformed into a hall of glorious song, and the privileged auditors enjoyed the exquisite sensations attendant upon the change. Munificence vied with the magnificence of the performance, which, when the curtain finally dropped upon the scene, left the audience limp from the spontaneous and exhausting attention demanded from it by the artists.

Besides bringing credit to the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club, under whose auspices the concert was given, inexpressible joy to the audience, and satisfaction to the singers, the concert was notable for the appearance of M. Henri Gilles, a young and gifted pianist whose contributions placed him in the very forefront of his art.

A more extended notice of the concert will appear in Monday's issue.

TAG DAY IN CITY

Collectors Busy With Boxes in Downtown Section.

To-day is Hospital Day in the city, and many girls have given up their day under the chaperonage of Mesdames F. S. Barnard, C. J. Fagan, M. F. Griffith, C. W. Edwards, E. S. Howell, and H. S. Robertson, to collect for the three institutions, among which the contributions are being divided, namely, the Provincial Royal Jubilee hospital, St. Joseph's hospital, and the Tranquille Sanatorium. Tags were distributed to prevent the collectors being a nuisance to the people on the streets, and the result, with the unexpected fine weather, will be assuredly satisfactory.

SUNDAY LABOR ON SEA WALL

Reasons For Necessity of Working Continuously on Dallas Road.

At last night's meeting of the city council it was decided after hearing the explanation of D. Gillespie, manager of the Pacific Coast Construction Company, who have the contract for the sea wall on Dallas road, that it was a matter of great importance to rush the work so as to complete it before the coming of the heavy winter seas, which would jar the concrete before it is properly set, and therefore Sunday labor was imperative.

It was also pointed out that owing to the formation of the foreshore it would be very dangerous to the men if excavations were left open and allowed to air-dry before the cement was put in place.

Impressed with the greater opportunities of Victoria, C. R. Davidson, who formerly carried on a successful real estate business in Toronto, has settled in the city and opened an office at 1109 Hillside avenue, where he will be pleased to make the acquaintance of prospective lot purchasers and others interested in real estate.

BONNYCASTLE DALE FOUND "NOT GUILTY"

Judge Describes Informant as Young Blackguard and Declines to Believe Him

Bonnycastle Dale, of Sooke, was yesterday afternoon found not guilty of the charge preferred against him by a young blackguard whose evidence he could not believe. He preferred to believe the statement sworn to in his defence by the accused, that he was innocent of the action charged.

Two other charges against Dale were mentioned in county court chambers this morning. The charges are similar to that which he was discharged yesterday. H. D. Helmecken, K. C., asked for a trial date to be set and applied for bail on behalf of his client.

Both applications were granted, bail being set and later secured on each charge at $1,500 in accused's security for the full amount, and the bonds of two other sureties for $750 each. The trial was set for October 20.

THROUGH THE KINDNESS OF H. WORSWICK THE CAPITAL ATHLETIC CLUB HAS SECURED THE USE OF THE FERRWOOD HALL, CLADSTONE AVENUE. The hall is an ideal one for an athletic club, containing as it does gymnasium, shower baths, reading rooms, etc. The club has adopted brown and white as its colors. During the winter months the members intend to hold a series of smokers and dances. Membership tickets can be secured from any of the members of the Capital Baseball Club.

FOLLOWING THE DISCUSSION OF TUESDAY OVER THE SCHOOL BOARD EXCEEDING THEIR ESTIMATES ON CONSTRUCTION WORK, MAYOR MORLEY HAS PLACED A NOTICE OF MOTION ON THE BULLETIN BOARD AT THE CITY HALL INSTRUCTING THE BUILDING INSPECTOR NOT TO PASS ANY PLANS FOR NEW BUILDINGS, ADDITIONS, EXTENSIONS OR REPAIRS TO SCHOOL BUILDINGS BEFORE HE IS SATISFIED THAT THE WORK CAN BE DONE FOR THE ESTIMATED AMOUNT. This is to prevent the board spending more on works than their estimates allow, and when coming to the council to make them pay the difference.

SUPPORT OF HOSPITALS.

To the Editor:—In the Times of yesterday appears a letter signed by John C. Scott. The statements therein are so much at variance with the reality that I know Mr. Scott must have written on his case without any personal knowledge of its facts, which I take pleasure in making known to him.

1. I have known Saint Joseph's hospital for 34 years. Ceaselessly during that time, day and night, the good Sisters of Saint Ann have stood on guard, waiting for the call to relieve and care for suffering humanity, without regard to race, color, creed, or nationality, wealth or poverty, and never has a case been turned away.

2. No public gain has ever been given to Saint Joseph's. It is entirely and absolutely an uncontrolled public charity.

3. The hospital is not operated for profit in the sense mentioned in Mr. Scott's letter. Every penny gained has been put back into the institution. Nothing has been sent away. The evidence of this is glaringly apparent. Look at the noble buildings, the accessories and the land on which they stand. All obtained for and devoted to the sick and suffering, through the efforts and unpaid work of the devoted and faithful women of the Sisterhood, many of whom have lived and died at their posts. They receive their clothes, food and shelter only. They work and eat wage, and they die and are buried in a nameless grave, without reward other than their consciousness of a good heart's work done for pure love and charity.

4. The hospital is in no sense under the control of the Catholic Church. Its nurses are of all creeds. Its doctors are of all. Its property belongs to the Sisterhood and is dealt with as they think proper.

5. The Sisters from the very nature of their unselfish calling cannot speak of their good deeds. Their responsibility is a moral one and stands on a plane higher than any public audit can call for. If it can do any good incontestable proof can be laid before Mr. Scott and his associates, which must cause them an entire change of opinion and action. I know personally of the case of a friendless lad who suffered from black diphtheria (so called). Taken to Saint Joseph's hospital, the Sisters admitted him, cared for him, fearlessly and without reward risked their lives in nursing him, and sent the lad away cured and strong. Could any brother, sister, mother, friend or Orangeman do more? And they never said a word.

6. I know of another case, a wounded Jap. He was taken to Saint Joseph's, without money and without friends. He was admitted, cared for, cured and set free. He had no money to pay, but the grateful foreigner returned to the hospital and asked to be allowed to work in any way until he could repay the Sisters for their kindness.

7. The corporation of the city of Victoria, through its officers, can testify to the numerous calls made on the Sisters of Saint Joseph's in cases of accident or sudden sickness; they will say that in no case has aid ever been withheld, pay or no pay, being an after consideration.

8. If Mr. Scott desires, and he be

EUROPEAN AERIAL POST.

The last of the aeropost mailbags was carried from Hendon to Windsor by Mr. Hamel, and already the promoters have a more ambitious scheme in view. Lewis Poole, in an interview, said he had another scheme of far greater magnitude, which would embrace a European international post, but it was too early yet to enter into any details.
