SOUTH GLENDALE TO BOOST FOR BONDS NEXT TUESDAY

Report of Committee Which Conferred With School Board Is Adopted

A FULL EXPLANATION

Letter From the Board Gives Promise of Many Needed Changes at Cerritos

At the meeting of the South Glendale Improvement Association last night in the branch library building, interest centered in the report of the committee delegated to interview the board of education relative to needs of the Cerritos avenue school. The report was accepted and the organization voted to support the bond issue at the polls next Tuesday.

Ernest Morgan, chairman, on behalf of his associates, Dr. William C. Mabry and Kemper Campbell, presented results of their negotiations in a letter from the board of education which says:

"We are in receipt of your letter of Sept. 29, and have also held a conference with your committee consisting of Messrs. Morgan and Campbell and Dr. Mabry.

"In the first place we wish to assure you of our desire to co-operate with you in anything pertaining to the welfare of the Glendale City Schools, and of our appreciation of your sending a committee to consult with us in the matter.

"We have made and are making a thorough investigation of all of the points mentioned in your recent letter and have already given orders covering the following: (1) Flooring over of the well; (2) installing more drinking fountains; (3) changing doors; (4) installing fire hose; (5) installing east and west exits from the building on the first floor in addition to the north exit already there; (6) opening a door in the partition between the two south rooms on the second floor.

"In addition to this an immediate investigation is to be made of the wiring and a proper remedy applied. With reference to permanent improvements, the board will make an earnest effort to build with the funds provided by the coming bond election, a two-room permanent unit on the Cerritos avenue school grounds. We regret that we are unable to make this pledge in a more positive form, but we assure you that as it stands it

ACCEPT RESERVOIR VERDUGO CANYON LAST NIGHT

At last the city council has accepted the Verdugo Canyon reservoir and decided that it shall be painted with waterproofing. The matter was discussed last week and no action was taken as the council wanted time to consider the advisability of waterproofing and to inspect other reservoirs so treated.

Several councilmen made a trip to the Whittier reservoir and after inspecting the work, held a long consultation with the officials of that city.

The matter came up for final action last night and, after more discussion and advice from engineers, it was decided to cover the inside of the reservoir with waterproof paint. The reservoir is to be filled slowly with water before painting in order to test for cracks, and after the test the water will be drained and the waterproofing applied.

Superintendent of Plant and Production P. Diederich reported that several cracks were found but that they had been caused by the structure settling, which occurs in every reservoir construction job. These cracks will be repaired before the test.

Peter L. Ferry, contractor who erected the reservoir, filed the three bonds required before the acceptance of the contract. One bond was to guarantee the work, another bond for $34,400 was to protect the city against the work for either labor or materials, and the other was maintenance bond to be on file six months.

All of the bonds were filed in accordance with the law covering such bonds, with the exception that the bondsmen on the maintenance bond had failed to qualify. This error was corrected at the meeting of the council last night, and all of the bonds were accepted.

BALDWIN SISTERS BUY MORE LAND

As a result of the sale and exchange deal covering $60,000 worth of property between Mr. and Mrs. John W. Lawson and the Baldwin sisters, consummated last week, the Lawsons were left with ten eastbound lots on North Brand and East Broadway.

One of the pieces of property the Lawsons received in trade was a lot in Alhambra for which they have already received an offer amounting to three times the price at which they acquired it. The Princeton apartments on Harvard, which the Lawsons transferred to the Misses Baldwin, will be retained by them as income property.

What Your Dreams Mean Is Discussed by Dr. Frank Crane

Dreams mean nothing. Absolutely healthy people do not dream.

A dream is an eruption of the sub-consciousness—merely idle visions, emotions which are present in us, but of which we are not conscious, come up during our sleep. Dr. Frank Crane analyzes dreams this evening in his article on the editorial page.

James W. Foley in "The Listening Post," also on the editorial page, tells about the workman who has a job that he takes an interest in. He writes about the man who loses himself in his work. "The task is the important thing," says Mr. Foley. "The result in fame or money or distinction is only an incident."

Henry James in his comments speaks of a million-dollar gift that awaits a young man on his wedding day. Where the million is coming from is what interests Mr. James. It will interest you also. Turn to the editorial page and you will find these things discussed in an able and entertaining manner. You will find editorials with a punch, a bit of verse with a human appeal, wise sayings of men who lived centuries ago, comment from eastern newspapers and clever paragraphs.

You get the habit of reading the editorial page of this paper every evening you will get inspiration and knowledge.

CITIZENS ASKED FOR RETURN OF FUNDS

Mrs. J. C. Wolff communicated with the city council last night in a letter in which she asked that the $2 donated by her sometime ago to the fund for building a swimming pool in the proposed city park be returned to her.

Mrs. Wolff said that her request was not made because she wanted the money or because she was not willing to do anything in her power to aid in improving the city, but that she believed she had paid sufficient taxes to cover her share in the cost of erecting the pool.

Mrs. Wolff further stated that she had called at the office of former city treasurer, J. W. Stauffacher, who had refused to return her money, saying that it had been turned over to the public fund and could not be returned except by act of council. The council agreed to return her money. It was reported that several others had requested money contributed for the swimming pool returned to them.

CADMAN TRIO WILL BE HEARD HERE THIS EVENING

Margaret Messer Will Be One of the Pleasing Artists Who Will Take Part

The Cadman Trio which is to give the program tonight at the concert with which the Glendale Music club is opening its season, at the high school, will be warmly welcomed in Glendale where Mr. Cadman is known and loved for his charming personality and wonderful creations.

It is considered highly fortunate that the lyric numbers which will feature the program will be interpreted by Miss Margaret Messer, who has achieved such renown in that connection in the East.

Mr. Sol Cohen who is the third in the trio, has been delighting his audiences at the Friday Morning, Ebel, MacDowell, Wa-Wan and Matinee Musical clubs of Los Angeles the past season with his violin with which he has pronounced ability to touch the heart and arouse tremendous enthusiasm. In fact he may be said to have created a furor wherever he has appeared.

Members of the club and its Junior and Juvenile auxiliaries who are in good standing will be admitted free of charge on their membership tickets. To the general outside public there will be a charge of $1 a ticket. Officers of the club will be on hand to receive any unpaid dues which may be handed in or to enroll new members.

HOME HOST MOVIES TO GUARD MEMBERS

Glendale members of the National Guard were the guests of W. A. Howe at the Glendale theater last night. Mr. Howe sent a special invitation to all officers and members of the National Guard to be his guests and instead of the weekly "squads right and left" the boys spent the evening laughing at the antics of Harold Lloyd and witnessing the drama, "No Woman Knows."

Honoring the members of the guard, the organist played the "Guard's March" as the company filed into the theater. The members of the guard enjoyed every minute of the show and many thanks were tendered Mr. Howe, the proprietor of the theater, for the spirit that prompted the invitation.

Howe made many lasting friends by issuing the invitation to the guardsmen not only among the boys of the companies, but among the citizens of Glendale who have a warm spot in their hearts for the boys who are always ready to answer the country's call.

CITY TO INSTALL NEW WATER MAINS

Last night was the time set for opening bids to install water mains in Municipal Improvement district No. 4.

As there were no bids offered the work will be done by the city and superintendent of plant and production. R. Diederich, was ordered to start the necessary proceedings to do the work. The contract for furnishing the city with one 150-ampere, 3 phase automatic induction regulator was awarded to the Westinghouse Electric Manufacturing Co., whose bid was $2,756.50. There was one other bid submitted by the General Electric Co., for $2,758.

Several bids for supplying one carload of poles for use in the public service department were read and referred to City Manager Reeves for checking and a later report.

AMERICANISM IS THE REGENT'S THEME IN TALK TO D. A. R.

Richard Gridley Chapter of This City Holds First Session of Fall Season

PLANS ARE OUTLINED

"Mile of Pennies" for Benefit of Hospital is Given Added "Footage"

After a summer vacation, members of the General Richard Gridley Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution yesterday had their first meeting at the home of the regent, Mrs. John Hyde Braly.

Reports of work done by the chapter's active philanthropic committees were given, Miss Ida Myers telling of contributions to the Americanization work carried on by the Albion street school in Los Angeles, among foreigners, of the clothing bestowed and other help given, also of aid to the Maternity Hospital. Mrs. H. R. Rathbun supplemented Miss Myers' report, and urged the chapter to complete the "mile of pennies" it undertook to donate to the hospital, reminding the ladies the mile represents $844.50 of which more than $600 has been given. A collection was then taken by Mrs. Addison.

Mrs. Rathbun also urged the completion of the layette promised the hospital, and asked the chapter to give jars of canned fruit or jam at the next meeting so it would be available for the Thanksgiving season.

Mrs. Strong reported for the regent committee, and Miss Myers accepted the chairmanship of the conservation and thrift committee.

C. H. Houston asked all who expected to attend the D. A. R. tea at the Ambassador Hotel, October 9, to give her their names.

Mrs. Braly made her annual address and took the theme of "Americanism."

ARBUCKLE ARRESTED ON FEDERAL CHARGE IN SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle was arrested today by Federal agents on a charge of violating the prohibition law.

The arrest was made just as Arbuckle stepped out of the court room where his arraignment had been continued until October 13.

Bail for Arbuckle's release on the prohibition law charge was immediately arranged. The prohibition charge against Arbuckle accused him of having liquor in his possession at the Labor Day party following which Virginia Rappe died.

BUSINESS WOMEN FORM CLUB HERE

The initial meeting of the Glendale Business and Professional Woman's Club was held last night in the office of Mrs. Margaret I. Biggs, room 6 of First National bank building. Dr. Laura Brown acted as chairman of the meeting while Miss Sarah Pollard served as secretary.

The business women attending were Mrs. Yarbrough, Mrs. Baxter, Mrs. Quackenbush, Miss Cross, Dr. Hurt, Miss Orth, Dr. Caroline Paine Jackson, Dr. Hukill, a recent arrival in Glendale, Mrs. Margaret I. Biggs, Miss Pollard and Dr. Laura Brown.

A committee on by-laws was appointed consisting of Mrs. Biggs, Miss Cross and Miss Pollard. It is the intention of this committee to consult with Miss Kellogg, of the Professional and Business Women's Clubs. A committee on nomination today started putting in evidence in behalf of the accused minister.

KARMODE HELD FOR INVESTIGATION IN LIQUOR RING

Another Former Policeman in Net of Government Dry Agents

GIVES BOND FOR $1,000

Karmode Accompanied the Officers in First Raid Here Several Weeks Ago

Al Karmode, former member of the Glendale police department, was arrested Thursday and put under $1000 bonds for his appearance at the trial of the members of an alleged booze ring said to have been in operation in this city. The date of the hearing will be set later. Karmode secured bail.

Another arrest in connection with the alleged activities of the ring was made Wednesday night in Los Angeles when operatives from the prohibition enforcement agent's office arrested Paul Schutzi, who is believed to have been the head of the alleged ring and the "go-between" of members in Los Angeles and Glendale. The arrest was made at First and Main streets.

When the first raid on the alleged "booze ring" was made here several weeks ago, Karmode, who was at that time a member of the Glendale police force, was asked by the prohibition agents to accompany them on a raid as a witness. It was alleged that Karmode had acknowledged some of the alleged operations of the gang and after the raid, the next morning at the county jail Guy Walls, another former Glendale policeman, said to have made a written confession and implicated Karmode. The alleged confession said that Karmode had taken part in one of the gang's jobs where a sum of money had been extorted from a man as "hush money" to prevent his arrest for having intoxicating liquor in his possession.

The day after the raid Karmode was dismissed from the police force by former Police Chief Lampert.

GIANTS OVERWHELM YANKS TODAY IN THIRD GAME

Giants	13	20	0
Yanks	5	8	0

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 7.—Rising suddenly to life after a 48-hour trace, the Giants of John McGraw rose up and battered the cocky Yankees almost to a pulp in the third game of the world series. With murder in their eyes, the National league champions slew four Yankee pitchers and won in a rout by a score of 13 to 5.

It took a Yankee rally in the third inning when the American league champions scored four runs to break the spell under which McGraw's men lost the first two games.

Jess Barnes, the trail rightfielder who had been brushed to the recove before when the ponderous Fred Toney had been knocked out of the box, started the festivities which brought out the previously paralyzed power in the Giant's bat bag. Barnes singled to right and Bancroft followed with another safe rap. Bob Shawkey blew to the skies then and lost every semblance of control.

Shawkey went to the showers and Jack Quinn, who relieved him, found his spitball effective till the seventh, when the Giants held a carnival on the bases. Eight runs were scored on eight hits. Quinn was batted out of the box and Collins was treated in the same fashion. It fell to Tom Rogers, the Buffalo recruit, to come in and stop the massacre. Rogers lost his footing ways in the eighth inning.

Frank Snyder, the catcher, and George Burns, the veteran outfielder, were the leaders in the carnival, each getting four hits.

As Barnes started all the excitement for the Giants, so did Bob Shawkey start out to win his game. Schang and Shawkey singled in the third. Miller singled, scoring Schang and Peck walked to fill the bases.

The great Babe Ruth then stepped up and crashed a single to right and two more runs were over. That ended Toney and Jess Burns came in. The slim righthander proceeded to take the punch out of the Yankee's row when a pass to Ruth, an infield out and a single by Ward scored Chick Wewster, who ran for Ruth.

DEFENSE OF SPENCER IS OPENED TODAY

LAKEPORT, Calif., Oct. 7.—Attorneys defending Rev. John Spencer on a charge of murdering his wife, today started putting in evidence in behalf of the accused minister.

Late yesterday the prosecution closed after the introduction of the sensational letter Spencer was alleged to have written to Mrs. E. D. Barber, also known as Mrs. Dunks, his supposed "affinity."

"We will see each other and confess our love just the same," one part of the letter read.

CLIFFORD E. NEALE

Introducing Clifford E. Neale, of the hardware firm of Neale & Gregg, to the people of Glendale.

Clifford Neale, or "Cliff," as he is known, came to Glendale three years ago from El Paso, Tex., where he was office manager for a wholesale hardware company. Since that time hardly a day has elapsed that Mr. Neale has not written to friends in the East, telling them of the wonders of Southern California and Glendale. Mr. Neale says that the only complaint he has against Glendale is that it is too healthy. He has gained 55 pounds since coming here. He is a member of the Glendale lodge of the Elks, all Masonic orders, including the Shrine, and of the Glendale chamber of commerce.

C. O. PULLIAM DIED SUDDENLY TODAY AT HOME HERE

One of Glendale's Oldest and Best-Known Citizens Answers Final Call

END WAS NOT EXPECTED

Was Member of Local High School Board for Past Twelve Years

C. O. Pulliam, prominent figure in the business and social life of Glendale for 16 years, died suddenly at 9:45 o'clock this morning at his home, 320 North Central avenue.

He had been in poor health for a long time but concealed his disabilities under a cheerful exterior. None of his business associates had warning that the end was so near. For 12 years Mr. Pulliam served as a member of the high school board of trustees, part of the time as its president. He was a 32nd degree Mason and was loved in all Masonic bodies—particularly in the Commandery, and Glen Eyrie Chapter, O. E. S. He was a charter member of the local Elks' lodge, a Past Noble Grand of the Old Fellows' lodge, and was a member of the Fraternal Brotherhood of Pacific Homestead and of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen. He was also a member of the chamber of commerce.

His advice was always sought in civic undertakings as that of a man of conservative judgment but devoted to the best interests of Glendale and ambitious for its advancement. He was one of 11 men known as the water commission who investigated the water situation and recommended the purchase by the municipality of the holdings which have become such a valuable civic asset.

Soon after coming to Glendale he secured the present site of the business which he so long conducted as the pioneer undertaker of this city.

He was born December 18, 1869, at Columbia, Mo. For 20 years he was a resident and business man of Kansas City. He leaves a widow, Elizabeth Pulliam, and two daughters, Mrs. John Allen Legge and Miss Myrtle Pulliam, also a brother, Gus H. Pulliam, 311 Ivy street, this city.

HIGH SCHOOL SITE IS RECOMMENDED BY LOCAL CHAMBER

The proposed new high school site on Broadway, Verdugo road and Colorado boulevard received a favorable decision by the committee of the chamber of commerce, last night. The report follows:

"We, the committee appointed by the chamber of commerce has investigated the several sites suggested for the new Union High school and have after several meetings and much time being spent in investigating the various sites, unanimously agreed to recommend the site submitted and located on Broadway, Verdugo road, and Colorado boulevard, containing about 2 1/2 acres and at a price of $77,500. Opinions have been secured on this property.

"The reasons for selecting this site are because it is most centrally located in the Union high Glendale, Earle Rock, Casa Verdugo, Verdugo Woodland, La Crescenta, Glorieta, etc.; is located on three principal streets or highways, namely: Broadway, Verdugo road and Colorado boulevard; its accessibility and transportation facilities, having two street car lines and two bus lines.

The street improvements being already in, makes this cheaper than any of the other sites offered."

After being discussed by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce next Tuesday this report will be forwarded to the high school trustees.

Options secured in connection with the site recommended by the committee include, 2 1/2 acres having a frontage on Broadway of 1040 feet, on Verdugo road of 1135 feet, approximately the same number of feet on a new street which would have to be opened on the east side of the property between Colorado and Broadway, and an outlet on Colorado of 224 feet, owned by Mr. Leggett.

The options are for the following amounts: J. P. Lukens, $50,000; J. Lewis McOmber, $13,000; George Misher, $5,500; Mr. Leggett, $5,000; total, $73,500.

This leaves out a frontage of 624 feet on Colorado, 193 feet deep, which the board would have to get by purchase or condemnation proceedings. It could be obtained for approximately $40,000, Mr. Peters estimated, and would include the George Misher Colorado frontage. This addition would bring the cost of the purchase to approximately $118,500 for 26 acres. The Colorado frontage is divided into six different parcels, Mr. Peters says.

MRS. AFFA WICKERD PASSED AWAY HERE

Mrs. Affa Wickerd is dead at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. R. Sinclair, 245 Sinclair avenue. She was a native of New York and was 84 years old. She had resided in Glendale for more than 40 years.

AMERICANIZATION IS REGENT'S THEME

home-made cake were then served. Ladies present were: Mrs. John Hyde Brady, the regent; Mesdames T. H. Addison, R. D. Goss, Gertrude Foliansbee, C. W. Houston, T. W. Preston, H. R. Rathbun, Sarah Thompson, Wayland Chapman, E. H. Butterfield, Albert D. Pearce, J. R. Mitchell, H. A. Strong, Carrie B. Wilson, Mabel F. Ocker, E. W. W. Hayward, J. H. Franklin, Maude L. Pringer, Herbert H. Mann, W. M. Brown, Miss Sophie Goff, Miss Ida Myers, and two guests, Mrs. John W. Beard and Mrs. Blanchard, of Iowa.

The regent's address follows: "The dominating thought for our national society, for all the chapters of the D. A. R. in the United States, is 'teach and talk Americanism,' not only to the aliens, but in your daily intercourse with the citizens with whom you come in contact." Therefore, I have gathered for you a small bouquet from the thoughts of celebrated writers, and feel you will appreciate my efforts on a subject so vital to our life as American citizens and with such a sacred heritage as we possess.

"We are apt to think that, because of our having been born in America, we have a right to think and act impulsively on the subject of our privileges, with very little contemplation on what 'liberty' means. Ralph Waldo Emerson says: 'Liberty is a slow fruit; it is never cheap; it is made difficult because freedom is the accomplishment and perfection of man.' James Gordon Bennett said: 'America has reached the age when she should take counsel of her memory and keep ever in mind the advice of those who wrought in thought, deed and sacrifice to bring her to her high station, to safeguard her liberties and make her ideals and institutions enduring throughout mortal time. The fight for the preservation of our ideal and institutions is not over, and to prove that 'there is a divinity that shapes our ends,' there are thousands of stalwart Americans who are neither afraid nor ashamed to stand for 'Americanism first,' and admonish the people that American institutions must be preserved by devotion to the same principles which operated to uphold, and give strength and stability to our Republic."

"This is a genuine democracy; no nation in which there has not been general debate on all vital subjects among the people, is a democracy, because it is lacking in the very fundamentals of real popular government. In America, public decisions are handed down, not from thrones, but from the hearts and minds of millions of people!"
"Theodore Roosevelt said: 'Patriotism should be an integral part of our every feeling, at all times, for it is merely another name for those great qualities of soul which make a man, in peace or in war, by day or by night, think of his duty to the nation, through which his loftiest aspirations must find their fitting expression.'"
"William McKinley said: 'Interest in public affairs, national, state and city, should be ever present and active, not abated from one year's end to the other.'"
"Stephen A. Douglas said: 'The first duty of an American citizen is obedience to the Constitution and laws of his country.'"
"James A. Garfield said: 'Liberty can only be safe when sufrage is illuminated by education.'"
"There is our lesson for the aliens; let us insist on their having a comprehensive knowledge of our laws before we give them the ballot."

"The strength of our country is rooted in the cradle of our patriotism, and rank anarchism will fly away like a bird to the desert of oblivion before the army of devoted patriots who compose the big majority of our American fellow countrymen."

COUNCIL PURCHASES CAST IRON PIPE WATER MAINS

Adopts Ordinance to Widen Raleigh Street and Other Necessary Changes

The city council last night agreed to appropriate $7200 from the recent water and light bond issue fund to purchase a quantity of cast iron pipe. The pipe will be used in replacing water mains.

A communication from the library board requesting a loan from the public service fund to cover the salaries of library employees, the loan to be paid when the taxes have been collected and the new budget made up. The Kelly Water company requested the city to purchase the stock of the water system operated by them. They asked the city to pay $860 for the system and to cancel a bill of $234.20 against the company for water furnished by the city. The council agreed to purchase the stock of the company on condition that a large tank on the property be removed and that the city have the use of all water that accompanies the stock until next spring.

The appeal from J. E. Walker in regard to changing certain assessments on Arden avenue was read and the assessment was ordered amended in accordance with the plea.

An ordinance of intention to open and widen Raleigh street was adopted as was a resolution ordering certain improvements work done on a portion of Orange Grove avenue.

An ordinance fixing the time and place for meetings of the city council and an ordinance changing the name of Sixth street to Glenwood road were introduced.

GLENDALE ELKS TO PICNIC SUNDAY

Glendale Elks are notified of the picnic to be given near Newhall Sunday and are further notified that all "Brother Elks" who have no company and wish to attend the picnic must be at the Elks' club by 9:30 on Sunday morning and all brothers who are interested to be on hand at the same time to assist those requiring transportation.
Plans are being made by the committee in charge of the picnic to make this one of the best outings that has ever been attempted by the local lodge. Several special entertainment features have been planned for the day and a "Bill" who has ever attended an affair of the Glendale Elks' lodge has announced that special features have been arranged to guarantee a day filled with fun.

ANNEXATION NOW ASKED GLENDALE

Gorge A. Ray appeared before the council last night with a petition signed by a majority of the voters in the section northwest of Glendale requesting annexation of that territory and asking that a special election be held. The petition was accepted and referred to the city manager for checking and a report ordered for next Thursday night. Mr. Ray was told unofficially that when the report is made the council would in all probability grant the request for an election.

Unofficially Mr. Ray reported that Burbank is still circulating a petition, apparently ignoring notices to the effect that Glendale started previous proceedings for the annexation of the disputed territory.

CLEAN-UP URGED BY MANAGER REEVES

Governor Stephens' proclamation setting Monday, October 10 as clean-up and fire prevention day, is a warning to the people of Glendale to clean up their vacant lots and reduce the fire hazard in the city by removing all trash and dried weeds from property.

At present Glendale has no ordinance empowering the city to clean up a lot, remove the weeds and rubbish and charge it to the owner. There is an ordinance whereby the city can post a notice on a lot that is a fire hazard on account of weeds and rubbish, and can prosecute the owner of the lot on a misdemeanor charge. This ordinance is not practical in that it discriminates against property owners living in Glendale. They can be prosecuted for their neglect but the property owner living in another state or city who neglects his property here cannot be prosecuted on a misdemeanor charge.

City Manager Reeves says that the most practical plan to handle this matter is for the city to adopt an ordinance whereby the city can clean up a lot and charge same to the owner. After this ordinance is passed the city could take the tractor purchased last night by the council and plow up the weeds on all lots assessing the owner for the work.

If the weeds are burned off a lot there is a chance that property will be destroyed and the lot is an unsightly blot on the street for months. At present the business district of the city is protected against fire hazards by an ordinance preventing the collection of rubbish but the residential section of Glendale has no protection whatever and the proposed ordinance would prevent the increasing growth of weeds and the rubbish that is gathering on lots in that section.

YOU MAY BE THE NEXT VICTIM—

Play Safe---Insure Your Car

Having your car stolen is but one of the things that may suddenly cut short your present enjoyment of it, and hardly a day passes but that someone here in town has a head-on collision with pedestrian or fellow driver, a garage burns, tires are stolen, etc. YOU MAY BE LUCKY TO ESCAPE TODAY, BUT WHAT ABOUT TOMORROW?

An insurance policy on your car stands between you and financial loss, calamity and trouble. It substitutes certainty for uncertainty. When your car is insured YOU PLAY SAFE.

We can give you all this protection and adjust your loss at once. We can give you scores of local references from people in Glendale who have suffered loss. We will write your policy in an OLD LINE insurance company.

NOT exchange insurance, NOT co-insurance, NOT assessment insurance, but genuine OLD LINE. And if we can't save you money we don't want the business. Let's talk this over and compare prices.

AUTOMOBILE THEFT

In the last nine months 1800 automobiles have been stolen in Los Angeles. The value of these cars was approximately $2,000,000. In the month just closed, 224 machines were stolen from their owners.

Indicating the progress made by the car theft industry despite all efforts taken to prevent theft, it may be noted that in the month of September one year ago only 160 were taken and but 1120 during the first nine months of last year, as compared with 1800 in the corresponding period of the present year. This indicates an increase of 680 machines over last year's steal.

An illegitimate industry involving the theft of $2,000,000 a year takes on a more or less serious aspect. There is reason to believe that stealing automobiles is a better organized, private enterprise than the public is accustomed to believe.

READING CIRCLE ENJOYS MEETING

Are you a round peg in a round hole? Do your mind and body accord, like a piano in perfect tune? These were the queries which constituted the general theme of the meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle held Wednesday at the city library, with Mrs. A. A. Barton presiding.

The ladies did not entirely agree with the ideas set forth in the book which they are now studying: "All the Children of All the People," of which a chapter was read, and considerable discussion followed. A letter from Mrs. Lombard of Washington, who has charge of the extension course of Home Reading, was read by Mrs. Barton. It was discovered that in the new course recommended are eight books of the list compiled by the circle, and it was voted to get in closer touch with the extension work through our own southern branch of the University of California.

Mrs. L. T. Rowley gave a fine review of Helen Southwick's article, "A Plea for Organized Play," which advocated the education of boys and girls through play. Discussion followed as to why children wanted to "ditch" gym and why it cannot be made interesting.

The meeting was very well attended, and several new members were welcomed. In adjourning, the circle quoted in unison "Seekers for Truth and Understanding and Wisdom, may we help and bless all those with whose lives we come in contact."

WEDNESDAY CLUB WITH MRS. HEARNSHAW

Members of the Wednesday afternoon Club were delightfully entertained yesterday at the home of Mrs. J. F. Hearnshaw, 358, West Lomita avenue. A very delicious luncheon was served and the afternoon was spent socially.

Two members of the club who have been absent, have returned and were present. They were Mrs. H. Lee Clotworthy and Miss Clara Rinker. Two guests of the club were Mrs. John Roßan and Mrs. Wm. Farlander.

DRAMA SECTION IN FIRST SESSION

The first meeting of the drama section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, yesterday afternoon, at the home of the curator, Mrs. R. E. Chase, was a delightful affair.

The hostess welcomed members old and new and thanked the former for their loyal support and splendid work, and told them of the big things she expected of them this year. Three one-act plays are to be given by the section in the Glendale Theatre on Friday, November 11.

Mrs. W. F. Nash, historian, submitted a report of last year's work, and the curtain committee reported. The section last year started a fund for the purchase of a curtain for stage purposes. Mrs. Charles A. Parker stated that the music and Shakespeare sections wished to join in the enterprise, and the section gratefully accepted the offer. A committee is soon to be appointed to make the curtain.

The list of plays to be studied was enumerated as published yesterday, with the addition of "Miss Lulu Betts," by one Gale, and "Beyond the Horizon," by Eugene O'Neill. Mrs. Chase read a history of the drama which was wonderfully comprehensive in its general survey. She declared that the drama is one of the oldest and most democratic of the arts, and that for 3000 years it has been to the world one of its chief sources of culture and education, as well as entertainment. Mrs. Chase referred to the use made of incidents in the life of Jesus for the early religious dramas. England, she said, had a drama as early as the twelfth century of which the mystery play formed the first stage. This was displaced by the morality play, the first one being "Everyman," which has been produced in recent years by the Ben Greet players. She briefly referred to the drama of Shakespeare, Moliere and Ibsen. There was no national drama in America, she said, until 1820, when it was founded by Clyde Fitch. The rise of comedy she pronounced the most encouraging single fact in the twentieth century theater. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting, the ladies present being: Mesdames J. Roger Bentley, A. E. Bode, Colin Cable, P. L. Galvin, Alma Gibbs, A. M. Hunt, Roy L. Kent, W. F. Nash, L. V. Sherman, R. K. Snow, C. H. Temple, Harry C. Wilcox, Andrew Findlay, W. H. Verdity, W. F. Nash, Jr., M. Parker, C. A. Parker, Harry Lockwood, Chas. Meadows, Frank Arnold, Mrs. Charles Hutchinson, president of the club; the sister of the hostess, Mrs. Chas. E. Parrish, and Mrs. G. P. Cook, both of Los Angeles.

CENTRAL AVENUE P-T. A. MEETING

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Central Avenue Parent-Teacher association was held at the school yesterday, with Mrs. C. H. Crawford presiding.

Miss Annie McIntyre, principal, welcomed the ladies and spoke appreciatively of what the P-T. A. has done for the school.

Superintendent R. D. White urged support of the school bond issue to be voted upon Tuesday, showing the urgent need of relief for the present school congestion and explaining the proposed distribution of the $260,000 issue if voted.

Mrs. C. L. Viereck sang most beautifully Chadwick's "Nocturne," and "Song from the Persians," also "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," by Tate. Mrs. R. Cartier was the accompanist.

The room mothers selected for the various grades were: Kindergarten, Mrs. Van Hoorebeke; B1, Mrs. H. H. Harris; A1 and B2, Mrs. Care; A2, Mrs. Blankenship; grade 3, Mrs. C. M. Taylor; grade 4, Mrs. Agosoa; grade 5, Mrs. Dods; grade 6, Mrs. Oliver Logan.

The room was decorated with a wonderful collection of rare dahlias from the garden of Mrs. D. F. Reichard on Valley View road. The meeting was preceded by a social half hour, during which tea and cakes were served.

CHRISTMAS BAZAAR BY ST. MARK'S GUILD

St. Mark's Guild was entertained yesterday by Miss Ellen Williams of 321 East Dryden street. The president, Mrs. P. C. Holbrook, called the meeting to order at 2:30, and important business was transacted. Plans were started for a Christmas bazaar, to be held in November.

Mrs. J. L. McArthur, chairman of the committee in charge of this month's food sales, completed plans for a sale to be held Saturday, October 8, at the Neale & Gregg hardware store.

The rest of the afternoon was spent in a social way, and at 5 o'clock tea was served. Twenty ladies were present.

Next Thursday, October 14, the organization will meet in the guild hall of the church and the afternoon will be given to the entertainment of friends of guild members, who will be privileged to bring one guest each. There will be a special musical program and refreshments will be served.

ADELAIDE SIMMONS TO BE ENTERTAINER

Mrs. Evelyn Labadie, of the Glendale School of Dramatic Art, East Broadway and Cedar streets, reports that instead of the regular students' recital next Saturday night, Miss Adelaide Simmons of Georgia, who specializes on "Uncle Remus" and "Mammy" stories, will be the entertainer. She has quite a reputation in the East and comes direct from Chicago.

The program will occupy an hour and refreshments will be served at its conclusion. Attendance will be by invitation and invitations may be secured by telephoning the studio.

Miss Helen May Steele, who will be the hostess of the evening, will be assisted by Miss Margaret Shuck.

"BABY" CHAPTER WITH MRS. BARTON

Chapter A. J. the "baby" of the P. E. O. organizations of Glendale, held its first meeting of the season Thursday at the home of Mrs. A. A. Barton, 630 North Howard street, Mrs. E. D. Yard assisting as hostess. Following a business session a delicious luncheon was served at noon by the hostesses, the afternoon being devoted to sewing for charity and a parliamentary drill was conducted by Mrs. Barton.

The chapter joined the Glendale Welfare Council and each member brought a donation of groceries or clothing to be dispensed by the council.

The next meeting will be held on October 20 with Mrs. Myrtle Brown.

JUNIOR MEMBERS MUSIC CLUB MEET

An interesting Russian program is to be given by the Junior Auxiliary of the Glendale Music Club on Saturday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Richardson, 1856 South Brand boulevard. This will be the club's first fall program.

The program will include a violin duet "Cantabile" (Tschaikowsky), by Dorothy Watson and Lucile Allen with piano accompaniment by Winifred Parker. Glen Hurd will give on the violin typical Russian melodies which he heard while in Siberia. The Junior orchestra will play two Tschaikowsky numbers, and a vocal duet will be sung by Dorothy Thompson and Helene Richardson, Miss Ruth Goldborough, accompanying on the piano. Josephine Booth will read an essay on Russian music.

All Junior members in good standing will be admitted without charge to the Cadman concert that is being given tonight by the senior club, and the secretary and treasurer will be at the door to receive the half-yearly dues of 75 cents, and to enroll new members.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready to use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair. Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

SOUTH GLENDALE TO BOOST FOR BONDS

represents our intention in the matter. Furthermore, it is the hope of the board to replace the Cerritos and Columbus avenue two-story frame buildings with permanent buildings within 12 to 18 months.

"In closing, permit us to assure you that we are endeavoring to the best of our ability to meet the needs of the Cerritos avenue school and of all the other schools of Glendale and that we appreciate and shall always appreciate any aid and co-operation given us by the patrons of the schools."

Mr. Morgan said that while the promises would not satisfy some who had hoped for early replacement of the present building, he believed the board was doing the best it could do under the circumstances.

Dr. W. C. Mabry paid a warm tribute to the honesty and integrity of purpose of the board of education and the committee of nineteen. He showed that the allotments under the proposed budget of $260,000 covered an emergency plan to relieve congestion in the most efficient and economical manner.

From that view point, he did not believe they could be better. Had the board undertaken to secure a bond issue large enough to replace the Cerritos and the Columbus avenue buildings it would have practically exhausted the bonding capacity of the city, leaving no financial resources for emergencies, he said.

Abandonment of the present board proceedings in favor of a larger bond issue which might give the southern district the school replacement asked for, would cause a delay of 90 days to five months and work a hardship on the whole school system. He told the board if it could show this section that it had an earnest desire and real intention to replace this school, they could safely leave it to the good sense of our people to carry the bonds.

Stuart Street said he fully approved the attitude taken by the committee. The report of the committee was accepted with expressions of appreciation.

On motion of Mrs. W. R. Blair, Ernest Morgan was appointed to represent the organization on the advisory committee of nineteen.

When Dr. Mabry was asked by the president to make recommendations to the association as a member and not as a committeeman, he said he believed the association had done more for the Tropico part of the city schools this week than has been done in several years before. If the association has done nothing else, its existence has been justified, he declared.

Mrs. Blair said she would like the association to go on record as in favor of the bond issue, and moved the adoption of Dr. Mabry's recommendations. Mr. Morgan seconded the motion which carried without a dissenting vote. The association then discussed the collection of dues and the inauguration of a membership drive.

Hallowe'en Party—The big social event of the month-end will be the Hallowe'en ball or benefit dance for the Monte Vista home for undernourished children. It will be given the evening of October 28 in the Pearl Keller hall, with the most prominent matrons in the city acting as patronesses.

NEW TRACTOR IS BOUGHT BY CITY

Bids for a tractor for the city were opened last night by the council and the contract was awarded to the Union Tool company of Torrance, for a Union Sure Grip tractor.

This bid was awarded after the bid of a local firm had been opened. All of the councilmen wanted to give the contract to the local firm but as there was a difference of $300 in price, the award went to the lowest bidder.

According to the bids, the local firm was low bidder on the actual cost of the tractor, but made a separate estimate of the price on the accessories that the city would require in order to use it. The Union Tool company included this item in the one bid.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC WORKS
PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the Council of the City of Glendale on the 29th day of September, 1921, did at its meeting on said day adopt a Resolution of Intention No. 1243 to order the following improvement to be made on a certain tract of certain in Block 12, Town of Glendale. That the public interest and convenience require, and it is the intention of the Council of the City of Glendale to close up, vacate and abandon for street and alley purposes, all of that certain portion of that twenty (20) foot alley in Block 12, Town of Glendale, as per map recorded in Book 21, Pages 89 and 90, Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles County, California, more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at the intersection of the northerly line of Broadway and the westerly line of Lot 8, Tract No. 711 as per map recorded in Book 17, Page 163 of Maps, Records of aforesaid County; thence northerly along the westerly line of said Lot 8 to the northwesterly corner thereof; thence westerly along the westerly prolongation of the northerly line of said Tract No. 711 to the easterly line of Lot 20, Block 12, Town of Glendale, as per map recorded in Book 21, Pages 89 and 90, Miscellaneous Records of aforesaid County; thence southerly along the easterly line of Lots 20, 22, 24 and 26 of said Block 12, Town of Glendale, to the northerly line of Broadway; thence easterly in a direct line to the point of beginning.

The district to be assessed to pay the damages, costs and expenses for the described improvement is described in and reference is hereby made to Resolution No. 1243 for further particulars of said work.

NEW INVENTIONS FOR WAR TRIED OUT

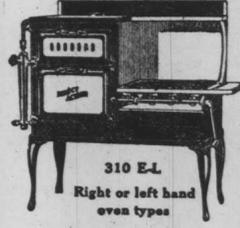

ABERDEEN, Md., Oct. 7.—New and improved engines of war today turned the Aberdeen proving grounds into a veritable battlefield of red wrath, earth shaking concussion, biting, acrid palls of gas and smoke.

To the north terrors of war were added the 35-mile gun which hurls 16-inch projectiles; airplane bombs weighing from 2,000 to 4,000 pounds; machine guns spitting bullets twice as heavy and twice as far as Browning gun used during the war; flashless powder; a one man tank bat, "crawls or swims" new principles in anti-aircraft designed to make war more destructive than ever before.

Leading the list of weapons is the 16-inch 50-caliber gun which throws 2400 pound projectiles a distance of 35 miles. It hurls much heavier projectiles than the German long distance gun which shelled Paris.

The time to get out of business you are in is when the clock becomes as important as the pay envelope. Shop at pre-war prices. See page 6.—Advertisement.

SINGS PRAISE OF VERDUGO SECTION

A. E. Main of the real estate firm of Main & Reiland, with offices at 221 North Brand boulevard, has confidence in Glendale and particularly the northwest section and the section on the other side of Verdugo wash.

Speaking of the future of Glendale Mr. Main said: "The young man who comes to Glendale with the determination to settle down is bound to succeed. All that he has to do is settle down here and apply himself to business, become a member of the chamber of commerce, boost the town, and his success is practically assured. Of course, he will experience difficulties as any will, but if he is a stickler and will not give up he will win out. As soon as possible a young man coming to Glendale should buy some property here and assume the responsibility that accompanies the purchase of property.

"There are a lot of people who object to buying property on the other side of Verdugo wash but the day will come, as it did in Pasadena, when property on the other side of the wash will be desirable. Pasadena had a wash to contend with and people contemplating the purchase of property in that city objected to crossing the wash. Today the property in the once shunned section of Pasadena is at a premium. The wash has been beautified and is at present one of the show places of that city.

"In another five years the section of Glendale north of Verdugo wash will be the most popular residence section of Glendale. It has as aids to this future growth the fact that it is the highest section of the city and located as it is, near the mountains, offers scenic beauty that cannot be surpassed. A view of the mountains back of Glendale is the view that tourists have traveled miles to see, and when they learn that this view is theirs for 365 days in the year if they have their home on the north side of the wash, that section of the city will have an unexcelled boom.

"In the past three or four months property in that section has increased in value and the demand for homes is increasing. I am for Glendale first, last and always, and a strong booster for the north side of Verdugo wash as the future residence section of Glendale."

SPECIALTY SHOP ENJOYS GROWTH

In order to take care of its rapidly-growing business, the Sherrod's Specialty Shop, 207 East Broadway, has been compelled to turn over the entire storeroom for display purposes. The fitting rooms are now located at the extreme rear of the room.

The space made available by moving the fitting rooms back is being taken up by several departments. At the right is the department containing a beautiful line of crepe dresses in various colors and styles, while in the rear-center of the room is a very attractive line of tiny tot corduroy dresses and rompers. Wash rompers are also carried by this establishment.

A full line of children's knit underwear is being put in, in connection with the children's hosiery line. The shipment of Madame Grace's corsets has just arrived and is now being placed.

C. C. Sherrod, the proprietor, and his family have taken possession of their new home at 622 North Maryland avenue. They are delighted with Glendale and call it home.

"THE OLD NEST" HAS PECULIAR APPEAL

"The Old Nest" now being shown at the T. D. & L. Palace Grand theater, is a series of dramatic episodes that reveal the life of an American family. The theme is mother love, and the audience is privileged to look into the home and into the hearts of a typical family. All the little joys and sorrows that every one of us remembers are flashed on the screen, and bring tears and laughter in quick succession.

In the story, the mother lives to see her family of six children gradually drift away from the old home. But in the end, they remember the old nest and come home to roost. There is no plot, any more than there is a plot in life itself. Things happen, no one knows why and no one questions. A reproduction of life is "The Old Nest."

Buster Keaton's latest comedy scream, "The Playhouse," adds plenty of laughs to this fine program.

SCHOONER RACE TO BE HELD DURING PRESENT MONTH

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—Whenever men of the sea foregather along this section of the New England coast it is safe to say a deal of their conversation has to do with the event scheduled for October 22 on the stormy waters off Halifax.

Thus far four American vessels are scheduled to compete in the elimination race October 12 to decide the American defender. Three of the schooners are out of Gloucester, and the fourth hails from Boston.

The Bluenose is considered the most probable Canadian challenger. Her skipper, Captain Angus Walters, is now overhauling the vessel; tightening up, rigging and making changes in her sheet.

Barring of the Boston schooner Mayflower by the trustees of the trophy has stirred up a veritable hornet's nest. She was built by a group of Boston men with a view of entering her in the race.

The men who will sail the fishermen laugh at the international yacht racers. They laughed heartily when a stiff wind postponed one of the yacht races last year.

The trophy was offered by Wm. H. Dennis, owner of the Halifax Herald, for the dual purpose of encouraging better construction of fishing craft and promotion of friendly relations between Canada and the United States.

Capital and Labor Representatives Meet at Unemployment Conference

Here are two of the notables who attended the National Unemployment Conference which was opened in Washington by President Harding. At the left is Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; with him is Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate, and one of the largest employers of labor.

ICE MAN YODLER IS HAILED TO COURT

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7.—That old saying "the early bird catches the worm" doesn't always apply, O. B. Shaw, an ice peddler, will "tell the world."

Shaw drove his ice wagon through the exclusive South Side residential district at 1 o'clock in the morning loudly shouting "Ice!"

More than that, witnesses against him in police court testified they were awakened from their slumbers during the still hours by hearing him singing in lusty voice, "Cool off the corner where you are."

The judge, while commending Shaw for his "early bird" idea, released him with a warning not to start ice peddling until breakfast time.

When you find a beautiful murderess who is also a beautiful actress, a beautiful bathing girl and the beautiful third in a love triangle, what a beautiful new combination she makes!

NAUGHTY PARROTS LANDED HERE IN A PROFANE CHORUS

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Ninety-nine Orinoco parrots left Manaos, Brazil, unsophisticated, green in color and green in linguistic knowledge. They arrived recently in this port aboard the Booth liner Justin, sophisticated and post-graduates of profanity.

There were eighteen shocked passengers aboard and a crew which habitually wore cotton in its collective ear, conversed by signs and jumped nervously at irregular intervals.

It was all blamed on Jack O'Brien, who, until this voyage, was one of the most popular seamen who ever ate a biscuit.

One parrot is a great deal of company anybody will admit. But when you multiply that parrot by ninety-nine and then turn them loose the result is anything but company.

Jack O'Brien established a primary school for parrots aboard the liner soon after the ship left Manaos. Every parrot in the school of sea jargon was doing post-graduate work in profanity with a single-minded devotion when the ship arrived here.

At first the crew was angry and sought to quiet the parrots by cursing them out. Then the men learned that cursing out a parrot is about as profitable as cursing a man.

There are three shifts on duty and each shift will spend a portion of the time off duty at drill and target practice. These drills will be held at the target range used by the Glendale companies of the California National Guard.

Captain Loving served as an officer in the United States army during the world war and was discharged with a captain's commission. He knows military drill and tactics and the training under him will be of much benefit to the police department.

Members of the department have been trying for some time to have someone appointed who would give them the military training that is a part of the training of police officers in almost every city.

Although the world war has ended there are a score or more matters being fought in various sections of the world every day, with perhaps another score being fought by antagonistic savage tribes.

There is always "something doing" in the world however, and while wars are not majoring in the news, a glance at recent disasters and natural phenomena shows that Mother Earth's crust has its troubles.

Two million Koreans starving in Manchuria, owing to drought-ruined crops. Three hundred buildings wrecked and many killed by hailstorm and waterspout at Baez, Cuba.

Three volcanoes, Villarica, Llaima and Lanin, spout flames more than a thousand feet from craters. Drought kills fish in River Seine and France suffers most severe drought in 47 years.

Rhine and Moselle rivers do great damage in highest flood in 136 years. Cloudburst and hailstorm damage Rome, Italy. Mount Vesuvius shows activity and earthquake shock is felt from Leghorn to Lake Lugano.

Italian destroyers carry inhabitants to safety as volcano Stormboll resumes activity. Damages of several million drachmas done in Genoa by severe hailstorms.

Earth slide blocks Cornith Canal. Cyclone devastates three towns in Hawaii. Volcano Kilauea in Hawaii spouts immense fountains of lava.

Activity of the volcano Popocatepetl in Mexico increasing. Earthquake shakes Vera Cruz and four other cities. Lightning strikes oil wells, causing millions of dollars damage in Tampico and other districts.

Mexicans pray to "water goddess" to end drought. Volcano Colima in Jalisco is in eruption. Many lives lost in waterspout which destroyed part of Tangier, Morocco.

Volcano Masaya in Nicaragua in eruption. Typhoon and floods in Philippines, and especially on Island of Luzon, do great damage. Six new craters opened in Mount Izalco, Salvador.

Waterspout in Maladura, providence of Spain, damages crops and villages. Heat in the Alps causes glaciers to shrink and nine mountain climbers are killed. Seventy-five dead in tornadoes, which swept Southern United States. Flood inundates Pueblo, causing $10,000,000 property loss.

Forty-seven perish in San Antonio, Texas, flood.

Three Men in Row Boat Try for $81,000 Prize in Nova Scotia to Panama Race

Wallace Scott, J. T. Day and James Campbell, three daring Nova Scotians are now on the Atlantic with their sixteen foot row boat enroute from Pictou, N. S., to the Panama Canal Zone.

BELIEVE BANDITS IN HIDING WILL SOON BE CAPTURED

DOWNIEVILLE, Calif., Oct. 7.—Mahoney and McLain, the two bandits who held up the Bank of Loyalty Monday and escaped in a hired automobile with between $20,000 and $25,000 are surrounded in the Sardine Valley, between Verdi and Loyalton, according to word received by the sheriff's office from the posse scouring the mountains.

The posse are closing in on the place the men are believed to be in hiding. It is believed that these men, who spent sometime around Loyalton prior to the robbery, previously selected a stronghold in the Sierras to make a stand.

Accidental shooting was the verdict in the inquest over Charles Biek, 45, prominent Loyalton citizen, who was mistaken for one of the bandits and was shot by members of another posse. Biek's horse was also shot.

Medical Men Meet in Kansas City. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 7.—Kansas City will act as host to all branches of the medical profession during the latter part of October.

SUMMARY GIVEN OF PROGRAM FOR ARMS LIMITATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—An authoritative summary of the programs of the big powers expected to stand by in the conference on limitation of armaments was obtained today by the United Press.

The programs indicated that big difficulties lie ahead of the conference and that this country must steer the parley through a maze of conflicting aims and prejudices.

The summary of the programs follows: UNITED STATES—This government sincerely desires an agreement among the nations for limitation of naval armaments. It would also limit armament, if this is found to be practicable and wants the new agencies of warfare controlled as far as possible.

The United States also wants to reach a frank agreement with the powers on principles and policies to govern its actions in the Far East. GREAT BRITAIN—This nation wants a satisfactory solution of the question of renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, one that will satisfy the opposition of the United States to this pact.

GREAT BRITAIN also would like to have the question of the Allied debt of $11,000,000,000 to the United States settled. This is a question which France and Italy also would like to see taken up at the conference, but the United States has no intention of letting this become a problem to be settled by the conference.

JAPAN—This empire does not intend to have her "place in the sun" in the Far East dimmed by the conference and will be wary of any action which would take away her present advantageous naval position among the powers or her favorable opportunity of wiping out the present naval superiority of the United States and Great Britain.

FRANCE—This country wants to trade her agreement to a limitation of land armaments for some guarantee by the powers for her security against another attack by Germany. ITALY—Italy is in close harmony with the international policies of the United States.

CHINA—Aside from the individual ambitions and schemes of her statesmen, China is expected to make a great effort to shake off the foreign control that, through the decades, has kept it in the administration of her country.

The pace never gets so hot that there isn't somebody that could make it hotter.

KRAUSS RUNS HIS OWN POLICE COURT

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7.—Edward G. Krauss, of East Cleveland, a suburb, occupies perhaps an unusual position. He holds the dual roles of Chief of Police and Police Prosecutor. Krauss has been chief of police of the city for six years. A few months ago he was appointed police prosecutor.

"It works fine," he said today. "The two jobs go hand in hand. My men go out and bring in the prisoners, and I see that the prisoners get what is coming to them—if they're guilty."

Krauss was graduated from a law school and was admitted to the bar while working as chief of police. Shortly afterward he was appointed police prosecutor by the city manager.

STAINED WINDOWS CATHOLIC CHURCH

Mr. McRae, Los Angeles contractor who built the new house of worship for the Holy Family Catholic church, corner of Elk avenue and Louise street, says that the stained glass windows ordered from Tiffany's are here and will be installed next week Wednesday.

The new organ donated by Harry Girard, who is being made by the Van Nuys Organ Company, is nearing completion and will soon be ready for installation. The motor is already in. If all goes well, Father James S. O'Neill promises that even if the bishop is unable to come, an informal service will be held in the church on Sunday, October 16.

SOMETHING "KICKY" GETS TOY IN JAIL

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 7.—"It's got something in it resembling an awful kick," exclaimed Sergeant Howard Bennett, "but it isn't alcohol."

"Tastes funny," commented Corporal James W. Baker. These members of the local police liquor and vice squad were sampling a specially-prepared Chinese "punch" during a raid on Tom Toy's tea store, 115 East Spring street.

"That's a Chinese medicine to cure rheumatism. It's not made for Americans," was the explanation volunteered by Toy.

Toy insisted the "whiskey" contained lizards, a severed rattlesnake and two rats. Although he was not slated as an alleged violator of the dry laws, Toy was charged with illegally possessing opium found in his place along with lamps and opium pipes.

FOLLOWED WOMAN TO POLICE COURT

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 7.—She was a good-looking young woman. She tapped Emory Snyder, 38, of Hilliards, on the shoulder, saying: "Come with me!"

"I'll go anywhere with you," Snyder responded, as he walked away from Rich and Front streets accompanied by the young woman, who took him by the arm.

Just prior to the arrival of the young woman Snyder, witnesses said, had been "telling the world" that he could lick anybody near his size.

The young woman called a municipal taxi. She and Snyder took a ride. It was not until they arrived at the police station that Snyder learned the young woman was Mrs. Dollie Fisher, one of Columbus' two new police-women.

WORLD'S CRUST HAS ITS OWN TROUBLES

Two million Koreans starving in Manchuria, owing to drought-ruined crops. Three hundred buildings wrecked and many killed by hailstorm and waterspout at Baez, Cuba.

Three volcanoes, Villarica, Llaima and Lanin, spout flames more than a thousand feet from craters. Drought kills fish in River Seine and France suffers most severe drought in 47 years.

Rhine and Moselle rivers do great damage in highest flood in 136 years. Cloudburst and hailstorm damage Rome, Italy. Mount Vesuvius shows activity and earthquake shock is felt from Leghorn to Lake Lugano.

Italian destroyers carry inhabitants to safety as volcano Stormboll resumes activity. Damages of several million drachmas done in Genoa by severe hailstorms.

Earth slide blocks Cornith Canal. Cyclone devastates three towns in Hawaii. Volcano Kilauea in Hawaii spouts immense fountains of lava.

Activity of the volcano Popocatepetl in Mexico increasing. Earthquake shakes Vera Cruz and four other cities. Lightning strikes oil wells, causing millions of dollars damage in Tampico and other districts.

Mexicans pray to "water goddess" to end drought. Volcano Colima in Jalisco is in eruption. Many lives lost in waterspout which destroyed part of Tangier, Morocco.

Volcano Masaya in Nicaragua in eruption. Typhoon and floods in Philippines, and especially on Island of Luzon, do great damage. Six new craters opened in Mount Izalco, Salvador.

Waterspout in Maladura, providence of Spain, damages crops and villages. Heat in the Alps causes glaciers to shrink and nine mountain climbers are killed. Seventy-five dead in tornadoes, which swept Southern United States. Flood inundates Pueblo, causing $10,000,000 property loss.

Forty-seven perish in San Antonio, Texas, flood.

Truths in Epigram

When I was young, I used to say good-natured things, and nobody listened to me. Now that I am old, I say ill-natured things, and everybody listens to me.—Samuel Rogers (1763-1855).
We can only reason from what is: we can reason on actualities, but not on possibilities.—Viscount Bolingbroke (1678-1751).

IN GOOD FAITH

It is to be hoped that every country represented at the disarmament conference will be acting in perfect faith. There is an assurance in the minds of all Americans that the United States desires just that which is indicated by the call to the others to participate. A long step in the direction of disarmament will be taken unless a sinister diplomacy shall prevent. There are no definite fears of this; only a lurking suspicion that such a course may be possible. Great Britain is expected to introduce the subject of the Anglo-Jap pact. With a complete understanding among the nations such as hoped for, it is difficult to see the utility of the pact in question, to discern the slightest need for it. Japan, divorced from its ambition for conquest would need no help, for no people would assail. Japan, clinging to the scheme of conquest, would deserve no help. It is incongruous to think of England as allied with Japan in the effort of the latter to subjugate China. Perhaps England may introduce the subject of the allied debt of some eleven billions of dollars to the United States. How this could figure legitimately as a topic for the conference is not clear. The United States has no thought of collecting any part of this sum under military or naval pressure. It is equally absurd to believe that the debtors desire to evade payment through display of armed strength. To forgive the vast debt with the powers of Europe in mood to devote the money to increase of armament, would of course be outside all consideration. A sum equal to the debt, immense as the obligation is, could in a short time be expended in the upkeep of armies and navies. France seems to have an idea that it must be guaranteed safely from Germany. Junkerdom remains a bugbear to the French. Germany is harmless to injure them through any military aggression. Italy appears to be in harmony with the ideas of the United States. Japan is the highly dubious equation. It is expected to relinquish with reluctance, if at all, its notion of dominating the Pacific, or of ceasing to expand by annexing the occupied property of its neighbors. China will be on hand to seek nothing but justice, a quality that mostly has been absent from the transactions of other powers involving Chinese interests. If China gets all that it will ask, there is certainty that Japan will have to accept less than its own full desire.

AN HONORABLE CAREER

General Wood has been retired from the army that he may take up his duties as governor-general of the Philippines. In order to accept the latter post it was necessary for him to hold in abeyance an urgent offer to become chief executive of the University of Pennsylvania, a lucrative and highly important position. The career of General Wood throughout has been one of devotion to duty, and in every emergency he has demonstrated the possession of fine qualities. He brought order in Cuba quickly when a less able man would have deemed the outlook hopeless. He won such a name in the Philippines shortly after they had become an American possession, that the natives welcome him back with enthusiasm. The administration knows that it has picked the best man available for the place. There was much indignation that General Wood failed to get a command in Europe in the world war. There was outspoken opinion that he should lead the American forces abroad. He remained in this country preparing troops for overseas, and thus was enabled to do as great a service as in any other line of activity. The general chosen to lead the expeditionary forces made a brilliant success. General Wood, commanding a department at home showed himself the thoroughbred soldier, by not repining. The work that General Wood now undertakes is of first importance. To have been selected for it was a distinct honor, and to witness the popular approbation of the choice, must be a great satisfaction to him. In the islands he will need tact, courage, quickness, discernment. These are qualities he is known to have in abundant measure.

FOR PUBLIC SAFETY

The Safety Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California favors stringent rules. It advocates jail sentences for drivers who pass to the left of a street car, or who pass a street car that is loading or unloading passengers. Drivers who are intoxicated also are on the list of unfavored. Doubtless the public is ready to give approval to each of these suggestions. The daily list of dead causes sorrow to many, and indignation to all. Readers of the daily papers have ceased any attempt to keep track of fatalities. They view with horror the official totals appearing at the end of every month, each showing an increase over the list preceding. Magistrates are deserving of reprimand for not treating the drunken driver as guilty of a felony. The statutes declare his offense to be a felony punishable by imprisonment. The courts got off wrong in the first attempt to deal with an offender under the terms of the law. The offender happened to be a woman, ready with abundant tears. She was let off with a $500 fine. That exemption from prison seems to have established a precedent. The drunken driver is not penalized for drunkenness, but as any other transgressor against minor traffic regulations. Another thing worth mentioning is the dazzling headlight. Its use is distinctly forbidden. Drivers who blind beholders by the brilliancy of flashing lamps are subject to arrest, theoretically. All of them ought to be arrested. None of them is arrested. The dimmed headlight stipulated by ordinance is seen so seldom that it almost is a curiosity.

REGISTRATION OF MINORS

There is a state law requiring the registration of minors. This is for the benefit of the children themselves. Such registration is required in relation to all between the ages of three and eighteen years. The child of three should be of record because soon to be added to the list of pupils. The one under eighteen comes within the compulsory law. The information sought covers a wide range. It embraces sex, age, residence, nativity, nationality of parents, degree of scholastic training, and occupation, provided the subject is employed. All this information is necessary. It serves as a guide to the educator, making possible constructive education adapted to varied wants and conditions. If schools know in advance exactly the material with which they are to deal, naturally they may deal with it more effectively. The child's environment, its outlook on life, its character as indicated by its station, are essential equations in the process of instructing it to best advantage. Parents and guardians will see readily the advantage of such registration. It will indicate in advance the size and type of school demanded. When a boy or girl is engaged in gainful occupation, and forced by circumstances so to continue, the school will be adapted to fit the individual case as to hours and methods of study. School authorities everywhere desire that registration be complete. They would thus be given a hint as to how to shape their courses, and be made aware of much concerning future development of facilities.

Dreams

By Dr. Frank Crane.

A dream is simply what may be called an eruption of the sub-consciousness. That is to say, ideas, visions or emotions which are present in us, but of which we are not conscious, come up during our sleep as submerged bodies rise to the surface of the sea.

If we would keep in mind that we can dream no stuff that is not already in our minds, though hidden somewhere, we should be saved much superstition.

Recently scientists have been making a careful study of dreams as a guide to the treatment of neurosis. For dreaming is, in a way, a symptom of disease. It is a species of morbidity. Absolutely healthy people do not dream. As very few of us, however, are 100 per cent normal, there are very few who never dream. From this it has arisen that people have from remote antiquity had an idea that dreams "mean" something; that they foretell events, and that they are the result of spirit communication.

Previous to the era of modern science the "interpretation" of dreams was a recognized profession. As a matter of fact dreams mean nothing and they furnish nothing to interpret except the physical condition of the dreamer.

The whole mass of arbitrary dream signs and symbols is pure hosh.

The most generally accepted theory now among intelligent persons is that a dream is merely the outlet for some desire that has been suppressed.

In the lives of all of us there are subjects that for one reason or another we repress. Sometimes it is a longing which we are not able or not willing to gratify.

In the period of adolescence, for instance, the body is full of the rising tide of virility. Nature is equipping the youth with the powers of reproduction. The natural desires that accompany this stage of development are quite properly held in subjection by the moral inhibitions. The result is often distressing dreams.

Many young people are alarmed at this and are tempted to think they are very wicked. This self-despisal often leads to unfortunate results.

But they should give themselves no uneasiness. The dreams will disappear in time. And if they are not dwelt upon in waking moments they will become less and less annoying.

A reliable authority states as follows: "Dreams are never prophetic except by accident. To dream the winner of a horse race no more proves the prophetic value of your dream than the chance picking of a winner in your waking consciousness proves the prophetic value of your conscious thought. It is merely a fortuitous coincidence.

"Nor is that horse's victory the origin of your dream beforehand. More likely the origin is a possibly unconscious wish that something like that result might happen.

"Neurologists for the most part rule out telepathy in connection with dreams.

"If you dream of a man you have not consciously thought of for years and unexpectedly meet him the next day you are not to conclude that your dream was influenced by his near neighborhood or even by his thinking about you at the time.

"The meaning of a dream is seldom what it appears to be on the surface; the obvious interpretation is not often the correct one. And for that reason the attempt to interpret dreams by people other than those who have qualified by long and patient study on scientific lines is likely to result in nothing but ignorant and totally misleading guesswork."

THE LISTENING POST

A man was making something. It matters not what it was. It might have been a horse-shoe, or a pair of shoes or a bit of jewelry. It is enough to know he was making something.
He was making something in which he was interested. He was a workman with a job. That is an admirable human being. A workman with a job.
And a still more admirable human being is a workman with a job that he likes. That is the greatest combination of all. It makes for usefulness and happiness. The world needs many workmen with jobs that they like.
The workman with a job that he likes is up with the dawn. Because he is anxious to get at his work. And he comes home gladly. Because he has done his work.
He sleeps well. Because he knows he has earned the right to sleep well with good work well done. And he does not dread the morrow. Because he will have something to do that he likes.
He is not nervous, neurasthenic or fretful. Because he is wholesomely interested in his work. And that makes for stable nervous system, good appetite and normal reactions. Few of us understand the nature of the reactions of the parts of the human economy. Industry and happiness are the oils that lubricate the bearings and keep them from running hot.
The idle and discontented man is like the engine that is running without lubrication. It runs hot. And parts of it burn out. After all, the things that make for happiness and efficiency are within us.
But to get back to the man with a job at which he was working: The man who was making something. He was interested. To such an extent that he forgot that time was passing.

The clock struck three, four and five, but he did not hear it. Other men put by their tools and left the shop. Until he was left alone. Making something.
And at last some one came and touched him on the shoulder and said: "It is six o'clock." And he looked from his work with a start of surprise. For he had forgotten himself in his work.
And he was stimulated and in a happy frame of mind. His pulses beat strongly and his eye was bright and the blood coursed merrily through his system. He was made happy with work.
And he had been intensely happy because he had forgotten himself. He had not worried that his heart was not beating just right. He had forgotten all about digestion. He was merely the agency by which work was being done.
In other words he was living for the time being naturally. Doing what he had to do with interest and cheer. Inspired by his labor to forgetfulness of himself.
Which is after all the great secret. Someone asked a famous man one time how it felt to be famous. And the man replied that he had been so busy doing his work that he had never stopped to think whether he was famous or not. So he could not say how it felt.
Fame is an incident. Those who have it never think of it. Those who merely crave it never achieve it. Because they are too busy thinking of the results of labor to do the work itself.
So it is well to remember that that man is marked for preference and distinction and fame, who has learned to forget himself in his work. The really great men of the world have learned the lesson. The task is the important thing. The result in fame or money or distinction is only an incident.

SONGS OF THE POETS

To Rose.—By Sara Teasdale.

Rose, when I remember you, Little lady, scarcely two, I am suddenly aware Of the angels in the air. All your softly gracious ways Make an island in my days Where my thoughts fly back to be Sheltered from too strong a sea. All your luminous delight Shines before me in the night When I grope for sleep and find Only shadows in my mind.

Rose, when I remember you, White and glowing, pink and new, With so swift a sense of fun Although life has just begun; With so sure a pride of place In your very infant face, I should like to make a prayer To the angels in the air: "If a baby ever brings Me a baby in her wings, Please be certain that it grows Very, very much like Rose."

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

NOT WHOLLY WICKED
[Detroit Free Press]
If a man goes to sleep on the streets of Detroit, and he is a well-dressed, prosperous looking person, one would say that his chances of being robbed constitute a risk that would not be taken by the most reckless insurance company that ever was organized. Nevertheless a man on Michigan avenue in front of the Cadillac hotel the other night and woke up with 40 cents in the hat which he had rested upon his knees. Instead of falling in with thieves he had been mistaken for a blind man by various kind-hearted people who gave nickels to him and passed on with hearts full of pity. The wickedness of great cities is too often dwelt upon. The humanity of great cities is worth thinking about once in a while.
DIGNIFIED REPROOF
[Brooklyn Eagle]
It may be that the Rev. Dr. Straton can maintain himself as a sensational preacher in Calvary Baptist church in Manhattan, but it is significant that there is already a substantial number of withdrawals from his congregation. Dr. McArthur's protest against the conduct of his successor is a dignified and temperate reproof from one who adheres to the old-fashioned but still perfectly sound idea that preaching is primarily the exposition of the Divine Word as a guide to right living, and not a series of highly colored diatribes on the scandals of the day. Many people may go to hear Dr. Straton, but we do not believe they will constitute that permanent and substantial congregation which is indispensable to the usefulness of every church.
PROPER ETHICAL SENSE
[Washington Star]
The action of motion-picture managers in withdrawing the films in which an actor charged with serious crime appears shows proper ethical sense and a willingness to forego exceptional pecuniary advantage. The moral status of the player would not prevent crowds from flocking to see him, as a matter of curiosity, regardless of any opinions as to his professional art or his personal morals. There is an evident recognition of the fact that there is a limit to the manner in which notoriety can be capitalized.

Comment on the News

By HENRY JAMES

An interesting story is told about a million dollar gift that awaits a young man on his wedding day. It is an interesting not only because of the magnitude, and the fact that it comes from a benevolent, not stated to be a relative. The woman whose lavish generosity takes this form is described as the widow of one of the Moores, who had been a figure in the Rock Island group of financiers. Here is another quite interesting tale. The Moore crowd got possession of the Rock Island road by methods little understood outside of financial circles. It was a great and splendid property, in fine shape and earning dividends. They played with it and manipulated it awhile, and then retired, leaving it a wreck ready for a receiver. But it was notable that the members of the group, individually considered, were far from being wrecks. On the contrary they may be said to have had money to burn. This Moore has passed on, but his money remains, and the process of conflagration seems still to be in evidence.
The wrecking of the Rock Island, as the wrecking of the New Haven, was a shocking episode. It went far toward shaking public faith in railway management and integrity. It caused losses to many innocent investors. Probably it accounted for a demand that railroads be taken over by the government, or at least gave stress to such a demand. It really is more important that a railway be honestly conducted than that any lucky bridegroom should receive a check for a million dollars.

Restaurant men in convention seem to agree that there is business acumen in having good looking girls to wait on tables. They advocate harmony in all the surroundings of the patron, even to the color of the walls. It will be admitted that a good looking girl bearing food is a touch of harmony.
Members of the United States chamber of commerce just returned from Europe, express the opinion that America will have to lend a hand in rehabilitation over there. Recent memory, and a glance at the present, serves to convey the impression that America has not been backwards in the respect mentioned.

Senator Borah objects to an appropriation of a million dollars for an exhibit at the Brazilian exposition in 1922. Probably this is due to his habit of objecting rather than to serious consideration of the matter. The placing of an exhibit there would be a courtesy worth more than could well be measured in cash, while refusal to participate would be certain to be construed as an affront.
Commander Booth Tucker of the Salvation Army is responsible for the statement that if England withdrew from India, that country would be overrun by Japanese. Even agitators among the Indians would not enjoy such a change. The commander's words shed light on a phase of the yellow peril that to most people doubtless will be novel.

A married man of this state eloped with a sixteen-year-old girl. They roved the country as long as they cared to and then came home. Public condemnation of the man is pronounced. There is but one person who clings to him. This is his wife. She is within her rights of course, but the inclination to admire her attitude is repressed without difficulty.
London is having trouble with its unemployed. There has been occasion for clubbing the heads of some of them. They were hungry and quite naturally, were not in good humor. However, the necessity for using violence is to be deplored. A police club may influence the individual who feels its impact, but after all, it is incompetent to solve any economic problem, sustain the famished, or make an unsatisfied appetite less clamorous.

A union official of Chicago says that despite the votes favoring a strike he does not believe there will be a strike. He says that such a course would make scabs of half the men and tramps of the other half. There is small wisdom in electing to go hungry.

Some weeks ago a statement purporting to be the full confession of one Burch, accused of murder, was printed under the signature of a Hearst reporter. It is fair to say that whatever the general reader thought of it, newspaper men discredited it utterly. Now, seemingly, evidence is coming to light showing that the document lacked even the elements of veracity that a shrewd reporter easily could have wrought into a fancied confession of a crime concerning which many details were known.

BISHOP NICHOLSON AT CONFERENCE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—The eighty-second session of the Rock River conference of the Methodist Episcopal church began today in the Thoburn Methodist Episcopal church here. The sessions will continue until October 11. The Rock River conference is the second largest of the Methodist churches in the United States.

Bishop Thomas Nicholson is the presiding officer of the session, assisted by District Superintendent Polemus H. Swift, and Rev. John H. DeLaney, pastor of the Thoburn church and the conference host. Important changes in the pastorates of Methodist churches will be announced by Bishop Nicholson on the closing day of the conference.

One of the outstanding features of the seven-day program will be a course of lectures by Prof. Harry F. Ward of the Union Theological Seminary on the topic, "The Future of the Church in Modern Industry." They will be delivered on three days, starting tomorrow and will be open to the public.

Participation of laymen in the conference this year was expected to be larger than ever before, because of the growth of the Centenary movement. Meetings of the laymen's association, the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary societies have been arranged.

A visit to the Union stockyards, where the ministers will be guests of Swift & Co., and partake of a luncheon given by the packing company, is one of the entertainment features of the conference.

Miss Pauline Lucille Mayo, of Omaha, reader and impersonator, has been engaged to give a program Sunday afternoon, October 9. Evening sessions will be featured by the singing of various church choirs.

The annual memorial service and ordination of deacons and elders will be held Sunday, October 9. Bishop Nicholson will deliver the sermon at the morning session and Rev. Charles M. Sturt, president of the Garrett Biblical Institute, will be the speaker at the memorial service at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

PRESIDENT TO WALK AT HEAD OF PARADE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President Harding and the members of his cabinet will walk at the head of the procession that escorts the American unknown dead from the Capitol to Arlington National cemetery on Armistice Day. The decision to pay this tribute to the memory of all the men who lost their lives and identify overseas was reached today at the cabinet meeting.

When the body of the American soldier brought back from France for burial at Arlington cemetery is placed in the rotunda of the Capitol on the night of November 9, it will lie in state on the same catafalque that was used for Presidents Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley.

INDETERMINATE LAW HELD TO BE GOOD

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—A decision upholding the state indeterminate sentence law and a dissenting opinion holding the law unconstitutional, were returned by the District Court of Appeals here in the case of Joe Sama of Oakland, convicted on a charge of attempting robbery, who attacked the constitutionality of the law. According to Sama's appeal the law in his case sentenced him to a term of "one-half of his natural life." This he held to be so indefinite that the law was futile.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS AS TRAFFIC COPS

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 7.—Ten boy pupils at the North high school have been assigned to act as traffic officers in front of the school at dismissal hour, when 1500 boys and girls leave the school. The boys have been trained in traffic signals under the direction of a police sergeant, and each day a few minutes before the session closes, two of them control automobile and street car traffic while their fellow scholars pass.

Congressional "Blocs" Powerful as Soviet Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Politicians and political leaders in the capital are beginning to wag their heads and predict dire things for these United States unless there is found some way of checking the growth in number and influence of the legislative "blocs" that have sprung up in congress during the last few months and have played merry hob with party control and discipline.

These blocs are beginning to seriously worry the older heads of both parties. The members of the blocs won't stay put, they are not amenable to party control when one of their pet projects is up, and, in short, they give their allegiance to their bloc rather than to their party.

Hence the worry of the leaders. They see in the continual growth of these blocs the breaking down of party control and discipline and the substitution therefor of a system which is suspiciously Russian in its organization along industrial and class lines rather than along geographical and political lines.

Blocs draw no party lines. Both Republican and Democrats belong to them and all are welcome.

Just now the biggest and most powerful of the blocs is the Agricultural bloc, composed of some thirty senators and a greater number of representatives who hail from agricultural states. Both Democrats and Republicans are in it. They sacrifice political alignment at the necessary time for the advancement of legislation affecting farmers and agricultural projects. Threats of party leaders have so far been unavailing. Members of the bloc, Democrats and Republicans alike, have pursued their own way whenever matters affecting agriculture are up, and party leaders have been in a quandary.

It has been pointed out that the formation of blocs along industrial and occupational lines is closely akin to legislative Sovietism. The Russian political system embraces representation along these class lines, rather than along geographical lines, as does the American and British systems. But even this comparison has not worried the members of the blocs to any noticeable extent.

"Necessity," they say, "is the mother of invention." Members of congress from agricultural sections saw their bills and measures for agricultural relief being smothered in the crush of other things and they declare they formed the bloc out of the realization of a common need.

The accomplishments of the agrarian bloc to date have really been astonishing. They have put through every measure they fought for, and their record includes such bills as: The Copper-Incher Anti-Grain Gambling bill to regulate grain exchanges and boards of trade.

The War Finance Corporation bill, providing for a billion dollar credit relief for farmers.

The Packers' Control bill, placing the packing industry and the stockyards under Federal supervision.

The Kenyon bill, increasing to 5 1/2 per cent the interest on bonds of the farm loan banks.

The Curtis bill, appropriating $25,000,000 as a revolving fund for the farm loan banks.

These are the principal accomplishments of the agrarian bloc. It has had a finger in many other legislative pies, including the Emergency Tariff bill, which was passed with the primary purpose of aiding the farmers.

"We may be criticized," say the members, "but we are getting things done."

TULSA KIWANIS TO GIVE TOURISTS AID

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 7.—Automobile tourists passing through Tulsa can camp amid all the comforts and luxuries of home in a short time, if the plans of the Kiwanis Club are consummated. The members of the Kiwanis Club have already subscribed $2,000 toward building a tourist house in the city park.

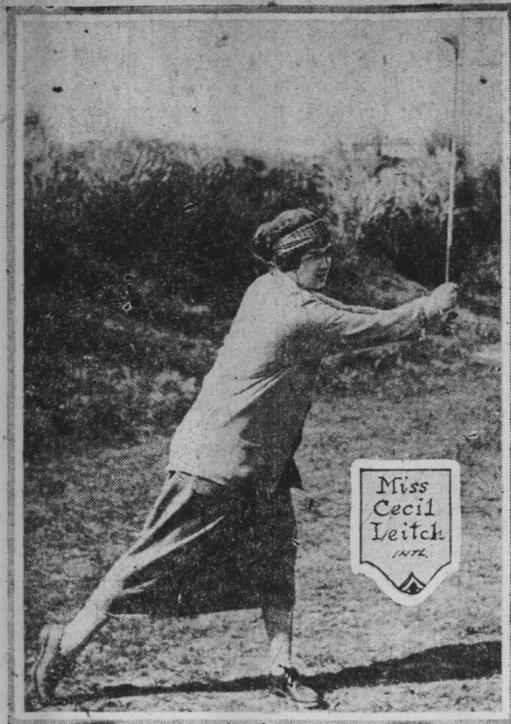

Such conveniences as hot and cold running water equipment, gas connections for heating and cooking purposes, shower baths and many others are planned for the tourists who avail themselves of the accommodations of the camp.

LARGE FAMILY IS OBJECT OF ATTACK

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 7.—Large families are mixed blessings, it would appear. Not long ago an Eastern family of 16 received the official commendation of President Harding. But the head of Berkeley's largest family received no commendation. He received a blackhand letter. Mr. and Mrs. Hendrik Abenth, parents of 11 healthy children, received a threatening letter, accusing them of being responsible for "the slavery, misery and suffering that over-population brings."

She has defeated Miss Alexa Stirling, the defending champion, three times this year.

BEEES USE THEIR OWN TELEGRAPH SYSTEM

DETROIT, Oct. 7.—Bees have a language and a system of telegraphy, according to Prof. Francis Jager, chief of the division of bee culture at the University of Minnesota farm. Wonderful progress has been made in bee culture, but their means of communication still remains a mystery.

Prof. Jager has conducted many experiments in an effort to learn something of the bee's mysterious form of communication. In one of them he took the queen bee out of a hive, which was four to five feet high. As soon as the working bees discovered their leader was missing they began crying.

The crying was audible four or five feet from the hive. Within 36 seconds after the queen bee had been replaced at the bottom of the hive the crying subsided at the top of the hive and they showed their joy by standing on their heads.

NOVEL SCHEME PUT CONVICTS TO WORK

RENO, Nev., Oct. 7.—Reno's new chain gang, composed of "come-backs" at the city jail, started functioning recently. Al Pfeffer, special officer, is in charge of the gang, and his answer to predictions that he cannot get the men to work is a system whereby a certain amount of work is allotted in a certain time, the men to be allowed to loaf if they finish inside the limit.

The result is that the men speed up their assault on weeds and debris in back streets and alleys, and then sit in the shade, roll cigarettes and discuss economical conditions.

Also, they get three squares a day instead of the two served to inmates of the city jail who do not work.

The gang will be maintained until the streets and alleys are cleaned up, at least, and Chief of Police Kirkley proposes to find other "work for idle hands to do."

The Barton Bedtime Stories

HOW THE WICKED BROOK SAVED CHIPS

By JOHN BARTON

(Copyright, 1921, by The Associated Newspapers)

"Ow-wow-wow!" wept old Tad Coon up in the willow tree. That wasn't the way he had talked when the two foxes took after him when he was fast asleep in the thicket at its foot with Chips Beaver. He said "Gr-r-r-raw!" then. And that's the way he acted. For Tad is as ugly a customer as you wouldn't want to meet when it comes down to actual fighting.

But the fight was all over now. Once he could climb, all the foxes in the Deep Woods and the Marsh beyond couldn't come up after him. So he had time to feel dreadfully sorry for himself. And the pitiful sound made Chips feel terribly ashamed of blee-eeing where I can't lick. And they tore my furry trousers, too—my new fall suit! I'll look as mouse-eaten as Snoot Woodchuck did, all winter! "Mff, mff," he sniffled. But not for long. The next minute Chips heard him squall, "Yah-yah! You smarty foxes. You thought you had us. Now, what are you going to do about us?"

And the biggest fox growled between his teeth: "Starve you out. We're going to dig out this one beneath us—did you forget we had paws? And we'll live on him till you have to come down and fight us. Yah-hah, yourself!"

Chips heard them start in to dig in the very spot where Tad and Thunderpaws the Skunk, and Nibble Rabbit had tried the same trick on him. But they'd given it up because the willow roots were such hard digging.

NEXT STORY: TAD COON WAS FOXIER THAN THE FOXES.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally if You Eat Meat Regularly

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

And the Biggest Fox Growled Between His Teeth: "Starve You Out."

being safe in his burrow while the foxes might be killing his friend. He poked out his nose and saw the one he had dragged into the Little Dark Pool just scrambling up the side of his brand-new dam that the Wicked Little Brook had spoiled.

"Cheer up, Tad! I'm coming to help!" he called, bravely.

"Stay where you are. Stay where you are!" Tad screamed back at him. "I'm all right. You pulled the biggest fox off me and I broke away from the little one."

"Where are you?" Chips wanted to know. He felt much better now that he heard Tad could stop his kittenish squawking and speak out like a grown-up again.

"Up in the tree. Where are you?" Tad called again. He sounded almost triumphant.

"Safe in my hole. The water stole my pond, but I don't care. Right now I'd a heap rather have a place to hid in." You see, the Wicked Little Brook couldn't try to harm Chips Beaver without helping him. That's Beaver luck. Just as it's Tad Coon's luck to have his jokes always come back on him. "Did they hurt you very much?"

"No-no!" Tad's voice grew whiny again. "But they slit my ear and it's

Great Britain Reacts In Favor Arms Parley Idea

LONDON, Oct. 7.—This part of the world doesn't know yet just what to make of the Washington disarmament conference. There is no disputing the fact that the eventual meeting is being approached with a considerable degree of skepticism.

The permanent staffs of foreign offices are inevitably "old diplomacy" pure and simple. The experiments of the old and time-tried methods fail to see how anything at all can come from a conference of premiers or foreign ministers on a brand new subject like disarmament—it is, for all practical purposes brand new—unless there is a "caucus" beforehand to arrange the stage setting, so to speak.

The stage setting arrangements should be arranged in London. Perhaps France wants the stage settings arranged in France.

And possibly Japan would like to do the arranging in Japan. It doesn't seem quite "cricket" to start anything that might sound like "knocking" the first big international affairs conference the United States of America has had, all on its own, since conferences to arrange international affairs become the fashion.

But, soaking in impressions in London, which involves a certain amount of seepage of impressions from contiguous territory across the channel, anyone is bound to conclude that some folk are going into this thing with fingers crossed, all are going in to it very much on their guard, and a sundry few go for the distinct purpose of getting all they can out of it.

England isn't wanting anything very badly at the moment, internationally speaking, except, first, money from Germany with which to balance her budget and save the government's face before unrestful voters, and, second, a less ambitious and less troublesome France.

High Court Idea Troubles. Otherwise certain other parties may try to use it for ulterior purposes. France, for instance, which wants many things—mostly things which Germany has—may want to turn the disarmament conference into a general court of highest appeal on all outstanding international questions. The Hughes invitation has left just that opening for a general revisory estimate on all the affairs of the world, in which, if lucky, Europe might be able to angle American "sanction" on several questions in which Uncle Sam, since sometime previous to the period of the recent presidential election, has refused to put a finger. There are those who fear that making the disarmament conference a review of all recent high court decisions in Europe—including the Treaty of Versailles and various supreme council cogitations—is the thing at the back of the presidential mind. That the prelude to disarmament must be the settlement of all war inherent questions, that the settlement of war-provoked questions involves creation of the Harding-favored "association of nations"—another remaking of the world by international conference. Washington dispatches regarding preparations for a two months' conference do not tend to dispel this impression.

Remaking the world isn't very popular just now. It isn't popular with the man in the street because he's seen so many miserable failures. It isn't popular with the Old Guard of the diplomatic world, because they have been through the process of late, and, having gotten certain things out of the shuffle, do not want to see those things disturbed in any way. As for the things which they want and haven't got—so far as England is concerned—they doubt if another form of the same international conference, in a new setting, will deliver these things into their hands.

But this thing in Washington is a disarmament conference. How about disarmament?

In the abstract, that has everybody's vote, from the premier to the man in the workhouse.

Forsees Parade on Wants. In the concrete all classes included in the above paragraph want disarmament on the basis of retaining for England leadership in the affairs of the world. It is tradition. Nobody wants to have to pay for the leading navy of the world, but all want it.

When the disarmament question swings to the land side you may be sure that there are special and extraordinary circumstances proving that France should have the largest army in the world.

We may hear that the fact that the British Empire has become virtually a society of free commonwealth entities those commonwealths, viz., the dominions, to maintain sturdy separate navies.

It is likely that the programme now laid down in Japan should be expected from any agreement regarding "future" status or armaments. The old diplomats, of the class that was functioning long before making the world safe for democracy because an issue, are being selected over here to attend to disarming the world. They are men who have had some enlightenment in world outlook of late years, but nevertheless this conclave will more nearly resemble a pre-war roundtable than did the Paris sessions.

Daring Girl Challenges Male Steeplejacks

The London Times, the only daily, except the labor newspapers, to comment on the Harding invitation during the week after its publication, suggested that at Washington we should have a welding of the old and the new diplomacy. But it was a very carefully worded "leader," and between the lines the accent was on the old diplomacy.

If the session is "new" diplomacy, open as to the press, and unbounded as to subject matter, officials here freely declare it will be a session of bombastic speeches, resultless, while so many of what are here considered extraneous subjects will be dragged in to it as a hopeless deadlock.

They do not explain what would be the result if, as desired, there should be a preliminary informal conference at which the stage would be set and the outlines of discussion carefully made.

If the state of mind here is distinctly skeptical, but none contends that the conference should not be held. Quite the contrary. There should be a disarmament conference. It must come sooner or later. The sooner the better.

Miss Louise Higgins

Bring on your more men steeplejacks! Miss Louise Higgins, daring New York girl, is ready to duplicate all their stunts and then go them one better. Miss Higgins was all set to hang by her toes from the roof of a New York skyscraper when officials of the building interfered and chased her down to terra firma. The higher the building the better she can work, says the venturesome young woman.

DEER HUNTER DIES; SHOT BY MISTAKE

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., Oct. 7.—J. Swartz, an oil worker residing in Bakersfield, was accidentally shot and killed this morning on Cedar Creek near Glendale, by "Red" Hall, who mistook Swartz for a deer which they had wounded and were following. The men were lifelong friends and worked together for years on the Dr. West lease in the Kern River oil fields.

Falling mortally wounded with a shot in his back, Swartz yelled a warning to his friend to be more careful, and died before Hall and the others who had heard the shot could reach him.

The evening frocks introduce the contrast of the mature black lilted and jetted frocks and the youthful dance types, rather than the formality of the entire robe combinations of aprons or panels of jet with side drapings of black chiffon, at the same time combining grace and brilliancy.

INDIANS TO TRAIL TWO BANK BANDITS

LOYALTON, Oct. 7.—The search for the two bandits who Tuesday held up and robbed the Bank of Loyalton of between $20,000 and $25,000 today entered the fourth day with the bandits still at large. Sheriff Julius Johnson and his posse spent all yesterday combing the mountains. Officers still were searching the hills in the Sardine Valley between Loyalton and Verdi. Mont Berg, president of the bank, said Indians from Genesee will be placed on the trail of the bandits today.

THE AMPICO IN THE KNARE. Piano, as it may be seen at the BARNES-SHUCK MUSIC CO. of 211 N. Brand Blvd., differs in no way from the familiar grand or upright piano. The mechanism of the marvelous reproducing instrument is so skillfully designed that it occupies the minimum of space and is concealed inside the instrument. There is no unsightly box or cabinet to disfigure the instrument or encumber the room, as is the case with so many mechanical players! The case is neither lengthened nor thrown out of proportion in any way, and there is no distortion of the mechanism of the piano itself, and although it contains the wonderful Ampico, it may be played by hand in the usual way, giving forth the same exquisite tones as its predecessor, the electric motor which operates the pneumatic pump is very small, one-tenth horsepower, to be exact, and consumes less current than the ordinary carbon filament incandescent electric light bulb! It is mounted in the piano by a patented method which entirely absorbs all noises and magnetic vibration! The Knabe Ampico combines all of the skill of generations of trained workmen in the Knabe factory, with the phenomenal genius for mechanics which has made Charles Fuller Stoddard, the inventor of the Ampico, one of our foremost men of science, today! It is an instrument whose absence in the home life leaves a great void which can never be filled to advantage from another source! Stop in at the BARNES-SHUCK Music Company and ask to hear some of the great artists on the Ampico—I know you will thoroughly enjoy it!

YOUR MOTHER, YOUR GRANDMOTHER, yes, and even perhaps her mother, have all been users of the famous Hollow Ware in their time. "The Best to cook in" has been said about this favorite mainly because it is porous and will absorb and can easily be seasoned in; then too, foods cooked in it will not stick, scratch or burn as they will in any kind of hollow ware that is not porous, will not absorb and cannot be seasoned in! There are, you see, several generations backing the Hollow Ware which NEALE & GREGG'S HARDWARE STORE of 107 North Brand Boulevard is featuring this week. And I know that once you have started buying favorite Hollow Ware you will not rest content until you have replaced, with all other kinds of cooking ware, your roasting nothing equals a Favorite Dutch Oven. Favorite Waffle Irons will bring delight to every member of the family, while Favorite Gem and Pop-Over Pans and Corn Bread Stick pans will impart variety and success to your menus, and really nothing can equal pancakes cooked on a Favorite Griddle! The various pans, pots and kettles and skillets may be found in very desirable size and shape at Neale & Gregg's.

WASHER WILSON OF 140 NORTH Brand boulevard, says, in speaking of the new A. B. C. Electric Washer: "We know how swiftly and thoroughly this distinctive double washing action removes the dirt from all soiled things: flannel faces to heavy blankets and rugs, lace to heavy wear, or wadding, without heating, even without strong chemicals! We also know how reliably the simple, sturdy spring mechanism continues to operate, producing the effective washing action without noise, jar, shaking, or racking,—so smoothly that one's hand on the tub cannot detect the frequent change of action within! We know the makers, a big, successful firm, pioneers in this industry, we know that Good Housekeeping and sections of users have endorsed the A. B. C. Electric Washer for years!" And because of these reasons, Washer Wilson is recommending this washer, for the average family, for it is a machine that spells satisfaction! He has the full cabinet enclosed model, with its patented gear features, and quite easy running motor. He carries the A. B. C. in three styles and will at range terms to suit anyone. For cash you can buy them as low as $113.50 and $118.50—stop in and ask to have them demonstrated next time you are down town.

"OH! WHAT AN ATTRACTIVE HOME!" How much we enjoy hearing someone remark thusly about our own home—and how simple it is to have a home about which people will be won't to make such remarks! HARRY MOORE of 304 East Broadway holds the magic key to it all—an attractive colored roof and a fresh, new coat of paint! You would never think of wearing the same hat and overcoat season after season—year in and year out, would you? Well, then you must realize that even the house must sometime have a fresh costume—or it will show the effects of storm and weather! Harry Moore carries the Sunset Paint Co.'s paints and varnishes—and it is Sunset House Paint that you need for your home. It comes in a wide diversity of colors—and above all, it is a paint of incomparable quality and unusual durability! For your roof, I would recommend the Asbestos Roof Covering—the for it is not only exceptionally attractive but fireproof and waterproof in the bargain! You may have your choice of colors, red, green or black—all smart and good-looking colors for the roof of the modern house or bungalow! And, when it comes to the interior of the house, there again, Harry Moore is in a position to fill the bill to a T, for he handles the Hyantz varnishes and enamels, for floors and re-finishing furniture! Just stop in at his store, and Mr. Moore will be glad to show you how you can practically go over your entire home, rejuvenating and touching up the shabby places—and lo! the first thing you'll know it will be just like new—and for such a small amount of money, too!

One of the new color notes is struck in a coat dress in cardinal shade of Canton crepe, with embroidery of darker red making wide and narrow stripes on skirt and the flaring sleeve.

REALLY YOU'VE NOT AN IDEA how very fortunate are we Glendaleans in having, right here in our midst, such a store as NUSSBAUM'S GROCERY and MEAT MARKET, 244 N. Brand boulevard! Mr. Nussbaum offers special prices—mostly marked lower than his city competitors—and always of the first quality, for he believes in giving the very best quality possible for the least amount of money. For instance, this week at Nussbaum's there is a ten-pound sack of sugar offered at only 60¢. Imagine it—in this day of high prices on everything, and at a time when sugar is being marked up for the preserving season! Mr. Nussbaum comes to the front with an offer of ten pounds for only 60¢! Then there is a large bottle of Premier Salad Dressing selling as low as 40¢! For lunches for the kiddies during these cool autumn days try a tin of sardines, put up in pure olive oil, the sort that is usually the 15¢ value—but only 9¢ at Nussbaum's! And, always a pleasing and refreshing drink is Sunbeam Grape Juice—you should most certainly lay in a supply for the holiday season at only 35¢ per pint!

In their Meat Department, Mr. Neale is offering—(oh! how can I ever describe its delicious flavor?) the most tempting and satisfying Veal Loaf that I've ever tasted! Just the thing to serve cold for a hasty supper or luncheon—and you may be sure that it's absolutely pure and fresh for he makes it himself—only 35¢ per pound. Then, for 22¢ you'll find the Eastern Smoked Picnic Hams; while Eastern Bacon, in either the whole or half is 21¢ a pound. For 25¢ there is an excellent selection of legs of lamb—wonderfully tender and full of flavor for roasting! If you're unable to go down yourself—you may feel perfectly confident that your telephone order will receive instant and expert attention from Mr. Nussbaum himself—and they deliver twice daily, too, you know!

The coat dress is cut with a curve and slight drape to the left side opening and is bordered with a wide band of fabric fur which also appears in the flare sleeves.

DON'T! OH, WHATEVER YOU DO—Don't forget the opportunity which MR. VANDENHOFF of 205 North Brand boulevard is offering you to at last become independent and—own a home of your own! He is offering several attractive, small homes as low as $500 down—and the balance may be easily arranged in small monthly payments. See him today!

MADE OF THE VERY PUREST and finest of materials and baked fresh every day in their own shop by the most up-to-date and sanitary process, Quality Doughnuts seem to conjure visions of a rosy kitchen in a pleasant old farm-house, where just such wonderful doughnuts were turned out under Mother's skillful guidance! Yes, indeed, they simply "melt in your mouth!" Call the QUALITY DOUGHNUT SHOPPE, at 104 West California avenue, or phone Glendale 220-J, and order a dozen today!

A WOMAN'S NATURAL CHARM AND BEAUTY is but enhanced with the wearing of such delightfully fascinating crepe house dresses as Mrs. Quackenbush is now showing at SHERROD'S SPECIALTY SHOP FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN, at 207 E. Broadway. There is a wide variety of nifty styles in a perfect riot of lovely color combinations! The prices on these gowns range from $2.95 up to $6.50—and they are made in all sizes, too! Wearing one of these crepe dresses, the housewife may always feel neat and trim—ready to answer her doorbell at any hour, morning, noon or night—and always confident that she is looking her best!

THE GLENDALE PHARMACY, 538 East Broadway, is offering an excellent substitute for alcohol in a preparation medicated according to the government formula—Creendale Grain Alcohol. This Creendale Alcohol is an antiseptic, and a refreshing and invigorating rub-down you may buy it for only $1 per pint—and even less in bulk quantities!

IF YOU WOULD HAVE AN ATTRACTIVE home—one to be the envy of all your neighbors, have those splintery old wooden floors taken up instantly and let the GLENDALE HARDWOOD FLOORING CO. of 304 East Broadway lay a modern hardwood floor! I know that you'll be simply amazed at the difference it will make—and although the quality of their work is excellent, the prices are most reasonable!

FOR INDIVIDUALITY AND DISTINCTION IN DRESSMAKING call at "BROOKS' SHOPPE," 123 North Brand boulevard. Mrs. Brooks is now prepared to serve her many customers in the making of their NEW FALL GARMENTS: PLEATING of sports skirts in all the new plaids and stripes; HEMSTITCHING and COV-ERINGS; fancy buttons. She has had years of experience and you are assured of satisfaction. Call and see her before the fall rush.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS ARE synonymous with White Rose Spring Water, bottled daily at the springs and delivered fresh to your door by the Independent Ice Co., 106 East Broadway, Cal Glendale 217 and leave your order!

In speaking of ribbons the cre and novel finish cre effects are important, but they figure most often as trimming rather than whole hats.

SERVING TIME FOR 'BUDDY' IN PRISON SAVED HIS LIFE

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Oct. 7.—Housed within the four walls of the United States disciplinary barracks is a prisoner known as General Prisoner No. 22,102, who, according to his story, is serving another man's sentence. He declares he is paying a war debt which was contracted on the battlefields of France. He is known as Thomas G. Jones, but in a statement to the officers of the institution he has declared Jones is not his right name.

"Jones," who says his correct name is Harry W. Haley, is serving a six months' sentence for desertion. The man who should be serving the sentence was a former "buddie" of Haley, and saved his life in France. According to Haley, the real "Jones" is in Canada. He is ill and has a wife to support.

Haley divulged the foregoing facts recently when he became afraid his identity would be recognized in Washington when his fingerprints are scrutinized and classified there.

Haley's statement follows: "I am not the Thomas G. Jones who is supposed to be committed to these barracks under the general court-martial order. I am Harry W. Haley, who enlisted in 1913 at Fort Slocum, New York.

"My reasons for serving the sentence of Thomas G. Jones are that in the World War, in France, Jones saved my life on the battlefield. He faced heavy machine-gun fire, carrying me from the battlefield wounded. I subsequently encountered Jones in Canada, where he told me he was a deserter from Fort Slocum, N. Y. He was ill and married. To pay my indebtedness to him for having saved my life, I told him I would return to the United States and pretend to be Thomas G. Jones, pleading guilty to a charge of absence without leave, all of which I did."

Prison officials have taken the case up with Washington officials. His fingerprints have been sent there to be compared with those of the deserter, Jones, also with Haley's, if a record of such a soldier serving at Fort Slocum exists.

HOME OF COLUMBUS SOON TO BE WRECKED

GENOA, Oct. 7.—The ancestral home of Christopher Columbus, in Via Ponticello, at Genoa, where both he and his father were born, is soon to be pulled down.

The house, being located in a very old, dirty street in the center of the town, is seriously preventing construction and is interfering also with the possibility of certain existing facades being lengthened.

Should the Columbus house be left standing this would involve a large area surrounding it having to be kept free, and this would represent a big loss for the municipality, which owns the ground. A special commission has been nominated to study affairs and it appears that it has decided on a compromise, viz., to pull down the house, which is really a poor sight and could not stand by itself, and then keep the area free, planting it with trees and surrounding it with railings.

The matter, however, is still under discussion, though little hope is entertained that the old building can be saved.

FIND LOST JEWELS OF GOVERNOR'S WIFE

JEROME, Ariz., Oct. 7.—On July 4, last, while attending a Wild West tournament in Prescott, Mrs. Campbell, wife of Gov. Campbell, had stolen from her a handbag containing jewels. She has just been returned the most valuable of the jewels lost, inclusive of a diamond lavallere. They were found near the Prescott Park in brush beside the road by Alexander Bish, 10-year-old son of Jerome residents.

CRANK NARROWLY ESCAPED ARREST

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 7.—An alleged plot to blow up the beautiful home here of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace unless $200 was paid for immunity, collapsed, and persons making the threat narrowly escaped arrest on the night of September 23, when they went to collect the money. The threatening note is said to have been written on a piece of wrapping paper. Authorities believe it to be work of a crank or insane person.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

THE HUMAN HEART
The human heart's a harp always in tune,
In many a different melody played upon
By Joy and Sorrow, Grief, Pleasure and Pain

Its echoing strings vibrate continuously,
Now grandly glad its music where deft Joy
Caresses it, and now sublimely sad
Where grief plays on; and be it doleful dirge
Or be it joyous carol that throbs out
'Tis perfect of the hand that strikes the strings.

And of the heart, 'tis well the different players
Shall rouse its various chords. For Joy alone,
Or Grief alone, some strings failing to find,
Disuse would soon make unmelodious.

The treble shrill of joy and the deep bass
Or sorrow must alike be played upon,
Else it is not a perfect instrument.

INDIANS MADE SAWS MANY CENTURIES AGO

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—The Indians of Central California made saws before Columbus ever visited America. James A. Barr has made a hobby of collecting prehistoric implements and he has made a collection of 158 Indian saws. Three of these, possibly used to skin game or fish, were fragile implements of soapstone; all of the rest are of hard, black obsidian.

The Indians not only had no metal of which to make their saws but they had no metal tools with which to make them. Each saw had to be slowly chipped or ground or polished with other bits of stone until it was shaped for use.

Some were serrated on the outer edge; some on the inner, and some on both; most of them were also notched near one end, as for a handle. Considering the difficult conditions under which they were made, they show remarkable craftsmanship and skill in manufacturing.

In a single tomb were found 31 of these saws, distributed in a semicircle around the feet of an Indian, who may in life have been either a wealthy chief of a professional saw maker.

In the same tomb were found many pieces of obsidian ready for shaping.

DEEP SECRETS MAY BE HELD IN MURDER

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A trail of international secrets involving secret service of at least two foreign powers, is believed to lie behind the mysterious murder of Nitara Yasuhara, Japanese, found strangled in the hotel Empire yesterday. A general alarm has been sent out for another Japanese, who is believed to have lured the dead man to his doom. Evidence that the murder was committed according to the best scientific principles of ju jitsu led to the theory that a fellow countryman committed the crime.

WOMAN JUROR DID NOT ASK TO SERVE

HACKENSACK, N. J., Oct. 7.—Among the women called to serve as petit jurors in the Bergen County circuit court was Miss Leah DeMott, of Englewood. She was the only one of five women called who asked to be excused from jury duty. When asked her reason, she said: "I didn't ask to be selected as a juror."

"Neither did the men called," observed Judge Culper. "Is that your only reason?"

"Well, I don't feel like serving," she said.

IF YOUR WIFE MAKES HOOTCH, YOU LOSE

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 7.—The Michigan supreme court today laid down the rule that a husband is master in his own home and is guilty of law violation if his wife, with his knowledge, transacts illegal business in the home. The decision was given in confirming a lower court verdict convicting John Sydlos of violating the prohibition law. Testimony was introduced at the trial to show his wife purchased a still, installed it in the basement of the home and sold the liquor.

ROOSEVELT NOTE CASE IS ON TRIAL

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Edith Kermit Roosevelt, widow of Theodore Roosevelt, is a witness in the trial of Mrs. Emma Richardson Burckett of Hillsdale, Ind., on a charge of forgery. Mrs. Burckett is charged with having placed Col. Roosevelt's name on a note for $69,300, made out to herself.

Mrs. Roosevelt was accompanied by her cousin, George Emilen Roosevelt. He managed Roosevelt's business affairs and is an executor of his estate.

Mrs. Burckett was indicted in July and extradited from Indiana. Her story of the note relates that Col. Roosevelt signed it at the time of the Republican convention at Chicago in June, 1912, when the Bull Moose insurrection was about to start.

Last year she presented her claim to the Roosevelt executors and they denied it. When she presented the note to a bank an investigation followed.

Mrs. Roosevelt was shown the note, which is indorsed by "Col. Theodore Roosevelt." She pronounced it to be clearly a forgery, adding that throughout his life, Roosevelt never used any signature but "Theodore Roosevelt."

Mrs. Roosevelt said she was with the ex-President during the Chicago convention of 1912 and never heard him speak of Mrs. Burckett or any loan she might have advanced him. She further testified that "a friend" of her husband told him, in her presence, that he need not worry about money with which to carry on his campaign in case a break with the Republican organization came; that money would be supplied from the friend's pocket.

George Emilen Roosevelt said he was the ex-President's business manager; that Roosevelt was too busy with the affairs of his public life to attend to business matters, and that these were watched for him by the witness.

RED RACER SNAKE TOUR IN AUTO HOOD

PUEBLO, Colo., Oct. 7.—J. H. Welsgarber, a telegraph operator, while touring the country in an automobile recently, had an exciting experience with a red racer snake.

The snake, which was five feet and a half long, crawled under the car after having bitten into the tire. The car was stopped but no trace of the snake could be found. Eventually, it was discovered in the battery box only to be lost again in the mechanism of the machine. When finally located in the dust pan, it was killed.
