ASAHI EIGA SEISAKU K.K.

Counter-Evidence of Organization (Company).

The Asahi Motion Picture Production Company.

This was a small company with a paid-up capital of ¥ 250,000. It was established in August, 1937 and dissolved in November, 1943.

In view of the fact that the company has recently been published as a designated company based upon the purge directive, we would like to establish the fact that the company will not fall under any of the 11 items shown in the directive. We would appreciate for your screening.

1. The company was originally established as a subcontract company for production. The company at first offered its cameramen for the production of "Asahi News" to the Asahi Newspaper Office. It was equipped with facilities for developing and recording and technicians thereof. The cameramen merely worked under the responsibility and direction of the motion picture section of the editorial department of the Asahi Newspaper Office. The company only filmed, and the recording technicians merely recorded the "Asahi News Reels" by the direction of the Asahi Newspaper Office.

At the end of every month the company submitted a bill to the Asahi Newspaper Office relating to expenses used for cameramen and other expenses such as developing and recording. Thus, the company gained its profits. In order to maintain its management, the company increased its income by undertaking such kind of work for government offices, organizations and other companies as it did for the Asahi. Thus, the contents of business, when the company was established, were consisted of offering production technics to producers outside the company.

2. From about 1939 the company employed its own producers and began to undertake production of cultural and educational films. As independent films of the company produced during the designated period, the list annexed hereto contains all the films produced by the company during the same period. We presume that any of the films in the list will not come under the 11 items of the purge directive.

Prime Minister Katayama.
