Our colour palettes

Our colour palettes have been expanded to include all the Wikimedia colour palettes:

- The core palette, (black, white and greyscale)
- The legacy palette (our legendary tricolour) and;
- The creative palette (inspired by the Wikipedia 20 birthday identity).

For more guidance on how to apply our colours head to the Wikimedia brand portal Meta-Wiki

Symbols & Icons

Symbols & icons

For our 20th anniversary, we created a system made up of a wide range of symbols, illustrated by Karabo Poppy Moletsane and Jasmina El Bouamraoui, representing different types of knowledge, cultures, celebrations, the internet, and the Wikimedia movement. These were designed to be temporary to the calendar year 2021.

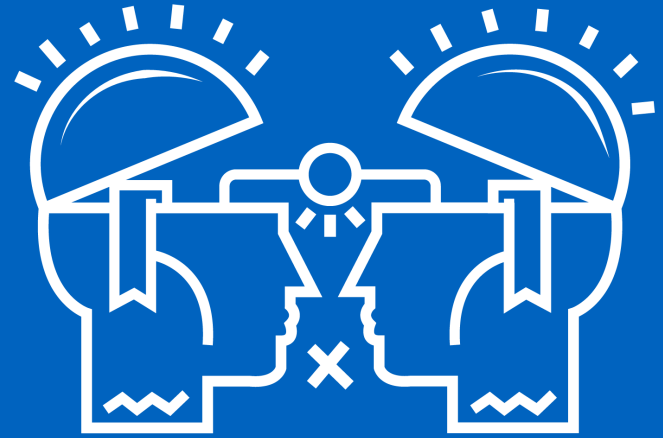

The system grew over the last year, marking several key moments like Black History Month, Women's History Month, and Wikimania.

We are also incorporating some of the most popular icons and illustrations from Wikipedia 20 into the Movement's permanent design guidelines so you can keep using them.

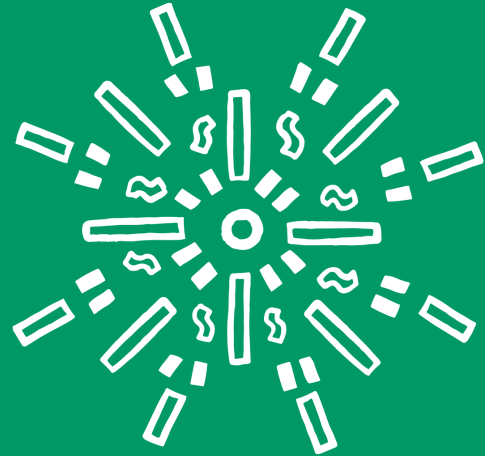

Illustrations can be used over any of our brand colours.

Use an illustration

a split layout.

Use an illustration over a solid background to create divider slides that separate the different sections in your presentation. Do not use an illustration on the main title slide of your presentation.

Or just search “m:brand” on any Wikimedia project

The screenshot shows the Wikimedia brand portal on the Meta-Wiki site. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'English', 'Not logged in', 'Talk', 'Contributions', 'Create account', and 'Log in'. Below this is a search bar containing 'm:brand'. The main content area features a large heading 'Brand' and a sub-heading 'Overview'. The text explains that Wikimedia has a vision of bringing together thousands of volunteers and that the brand portal connects assets, guidelines, and design templates. It also mentions that the portal is maintained by The Wikimedia Foundation Communications Department. At the bottom, there are several colored boxes representing different brand assets: 'Logo' (yellow), 'Typography' (blue), 'Colours' (pink), 'Imagery' (green), and 'Create' (orange).

This close-up shows the search bar and navigation tabs. The search bar contains the text 'm:brand' and a magnifying glass icon. To the left of the search bar are three tabs: 'View', 'View source', and 'History'. Above the search bar, there is a navigation bar with links for 'Not logged in', 'Talk', 'Contributions', 'Create account', and 'Log in'. An orange arrow points from the text 'Or just search “m:brand” on any Wikimedia project’ to the search bar.

A photograph of two women sitting at a table, looking at laptops. The woman on the left is wearing a grey headscarf and a light-colored top. The woman on the right has long brown hair and is wearing glasses and a dark top. They appear to be in a meeting or collaborative work environment. The background is slightly blurred, showing other people and a room setting.
