

RED CROSS MEETING

GLENDALE BRANCH MAKES PLANS FOR BIG CAMPAIGN THIS WEEK

At the home of the Chairman of the Glendale Branch of the Red Cross an important executive committee meeting was held last evening at eight o'clock. Reports were received from the various committee heads and quite the most important item discussed concerned the development of the plans of the Membership Committee under the leadership of Mrs. R. E. Chase.

The whole of Glendale and Casa Verdugo has been divided up into districts following the election precincts and each district is under a captain who has ten or more assistants. Every person is to be invited to join the Red Cross this week; and a special attempt is being made to increase the membership to 1000. It was pointed out that the chance for arranging for the establishment of a local chapter in Glendale, instead of continuing the somewhat unsatisfactory branch relationship as at present, would be much better with the increased membership, and this will be a greater incentive to the teams to work hard.

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, who is in charge of the purchasing for the local branch, was asked to secure six sewing machines as soon as possible and opportunity is taken here to ask if there are not those in this vicinity who would donate or lend a sewing machine for this worthy cause. If you can help in this special way call Mrs. Bartlett, Glendale 1426W.

A generous offer of Mr. Francis Booth to prepare free of charge iced tea for the refreshment of those listening to the Saturday evening band concerts was submitted through Dr. Harrower and the matter was turned over to the refreshment committee, who will doubtless see that this convenient manner of raising additional funds is made good use of.

A report was made by Dr. Henry R. Harrower, who has charge of the Entertainment Committee, regarding the forthcoming Ellen Beach Yaw Garden Party to be held next Friday afternoon at the Chas. H. Toll residence on Kenneth Road. Announcements have been sent out to the surrounding towns and the prospects are good for an excellent affair. The admission is to be 25 cents and children with parents will be admitted free. The important duty of caring for the refreshment of the big crowd that is expected is in charge of Mrs. Herman Paine (Glendale 340), who was elected to take the place of Mrs. Guthrie, who is leaving the city for a time. Mrs. Paine would be glad to hear from ladies who will bake a cake as a friendly and patriotic duty.

Mrs. C. M. VanDyke of West Third street was nominated as Chairman of Decoration to take the place of Mrs. Glenwood Jones, who is leaving for the East.

The beautiful two-color banners prepared under the direction of Mr. A. M. Beamon were shown by the secretary, who urged the display of these banners on local automobiles. They can be obtained from Mrs. Ocker (Glendale 918J or Mrs. A. M. Beamon (Glendale 451) or at the News office.

From the spirit of the meeting it was plain that "things are doing" here in Glendale and as a result of this concerted work there can not but be much good result, both to those who are working as well as to those for whom we are working.

Let us make RED CROSS WEEK a huge success and see to it that Glendale does its full share.

HOOVER URGES FOOD CONTROL

DEMANDS PASSAGE OF BILL TO REGULATE EXPORTS AND PREVENT SPECULATION IN FOODS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, June 19.—Herbert Hoover warned the Senate this afternoon that food control alone will prevent tremendous increases in food prices.

"We now have a living cost beyond the ability of thousands to meet," Hoover said. He urged the passage of a food control bill "because the control of exports is necessary and food speculation must stop." "Somebody is taking $5 a barrel now for flour that belongs to the people," said Hoover. "We must save our supplies now even from our Allies lest we be short in the spring. The present high cost of living is such that laboring people are not properly nourished at the present wage level. All this must change or there will be a great social disturbance."

SCOUT CAR ON JAUNT

LONG TRIP UNDERTAKEN BY AUTO CLUB ROAD INSPECTION CREW.

A scout car of the Automobile Club of Southern California has just started on one of the longest jaunts, entirely within this State, ever undertaken by a road inspection crew. If no unforeseen mishaps occur, this car will travel, before returning to Southern California, more than 2000 miles, and it is expected that the crew will be on the road something like three weeks.

The members of this particular scouting crew of the club are R. W. Coane, representative of the club for Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo counties, and Robert Gunn, who for the past several years has been a member of the touring bureau at the headquarters of the club in Los Angeles. It is the intention of this crew to take notes of every foot of the roadway covered, so that upon the completion of the trip the club will be able to give the motorists of Southern California first hand information as to the condition of the roads covered.

The decision of the officials of the club to send a scout car over this extensive route came as a result of the many conflicting reports which have been received during the past few weeks as to the condition of the roads leading in the various prominent "play grounds" of this State. While many of these reports were received from supposedly reliable sources there was a little uncertainty in the minds of the club officials and it was to remove this that the trip was decided upon. Upon the return of the crew the motorists of Southern California will be immediately made acquainted without charge, with the information gathered, the collecting of which necessitated considerable financial outlay. The route that is being covered takes in, among others, the following points of interest: Sequoi National Park, Grant National Park, Yosemite National Park, Huntington Lake, The Pines, Mariposa Grove of big trees, California big trees, Mono Lake, Stockton and Santa Cruz.

The route that is being covered by this scout car is as follows: Starting from Los Angeles the scout car is going through Saugus, over the Ridge Route, past Bailey's Ranch and on to Bakersfield. At this place the route will leave the Valley Highway from Los Angeles to San Francisco and will branch northeastward, passing through Elmer to Glennville, thence on to and through White River, California Hot Springs and northwest over the Ridge to Porterville. From this point the car will run east to Globe, Mild and on to Exeter and from there through Otincove, Lemoncove, Three Rivers and on to the Sequoi National Park. Returning to Lemoncove the car will hit north through Auckland and Badger to Grant's National Park and on to Hume. It will then travel back through Grant's Park and out to Grangecove via the Sand Creek road, striking the Valley Highway again at a point a few miles north of Selma and continuing north along this road to Fresno.

From this point the car will hit northeast through El Prade, Sharpville, The Sentinel, the Tollhouse, Pincridge and on to Huntington Lake, thence across to the Pines and Craneville Lake, and on through Fish Camp to Wawona. Returning to Fresno by the Coarse Gold road the car will run up to Miami Lodge via Madera, Raymond, Grub Gulch, etc. From there it will continue on to Merced, via the Mariposa road, and thence over the Coulterville road to the Yosemite National Park, from which point the crew will go over the Tioga Pass road, if it is not still blocked by snow, to Mono Lake. Returning to Yosemite Valley the crew will continue northwesterly to Stockton, this stretch being made over the Big Oak Flats road, thence across to San Francisco, and down over the new coast route to Half-Moon Bay and Santa Cruz. From this point the route lies down the Coast through Watsonville, Castroville and on to Monterey, thence across to Salinas and down the coast through King City, Paso Robles, San Luis Obispo, Santa Maria, Santa Barbara and Ventura into Los Angeles.

During the past two months scout cars of the Automobile Club of Southern California have covered all the roads in Imperial Valley, the cross-roads in the San Joaquin Valley, the roads in the back country of San Diego County, the Coast and Inland Routes to San Francisco and San Diego, and the National Old Trails Route between Los Angeles and Kansas City, in addition to in-

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

SENIORS TO CELEBRATE CLASS DAY WITH DINNER, IVY PROCESSION AND PROGRAM

In all probability to-day (class day) will be enjoyed more by the seniors than will any other day of commencement week. It will be the last time, except at the graduation exercises on next Thursday evening, at which the entire class will be together, and for this reason much preparation is being made to give them an excellent evening's entertainment. The affair will also be more exclusive than any other of the week, a fact which will do more toward making the young people happy.

The first part of the evening's program will be an exclusive senior dinner, to be served in the high school cafeteria. This will take place at 5:30 o'clock, and will be followed by short toasts by several of the more popular members of the class, after which (6:30) they will all adjourn to the front lawn, where the customary ivy procession will take place. Kenneth Belden, the literary and journalist friend of the class, will deliver the Ivy Oration, and it is assured that it will be one of the features of the evening. The public is invited to attend this part of the services.

At eight o'clock the annual class day exercises will commence in the high school auditorium, the class itself entering in a body, and supervising the program. In order to be present at these exercises one must obtain a ticket from some member of the class, and no one will be admitted without the "little paste-board." Following is the program:

ROY KENT'S NEW HOME

One of the recently completed new dwelling houses in Glendale is the Roy L. Kent house at 222 North Central avenue. The interior of this neatly built structure is unique, convenient and modern in all particulars. It has been built with the view of getting necessary light, ventilation and restful effects. Mr. Kent is a professional architect and builder and has exhibited very plainly the marks of an expert in the planning of this beautiful house which he has built especially for himself and family.

R. C. SMITH CRITICALLY ILL

Jesse E. Smith, manager of the local Ford motor car agency, is momentarily expecting word that his father, R. C. Smith, is at the point of death.

R. C. Smith was in Glendale some six weeks ago, from his home in Detroit, Mich., for his health. It was later decided to have an operation performed at the Mayo Bros. sanitarium in Rochester, Minn., but the treatment was not successful and the heads of the institution telegraphed Jesse Smith that he should hold himself in readiness to come to Rochester on a moment's notice, as no hope was entertained as to the recovery of the father, who is 57 years of age. Mr. Jesse Smith's mother is at the bedside of the father.

DINNER PARTY

Miss Laura Stone of San Francisco, who is the house guest of Mrs. G. H. A. Goodwin of Hollywood was complimented Monday evening by a delightful dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Goodwin of West Tenth street. The perfectly appointed table was centered with a low bowl of pink Dorothy Perkins roses, pink and blue larkspur and mignonette while the favors were old fashioned corsage bouquets. The soft glow of pink shaded candles added to the effect. The guests were out of town people.

numerable stretches of highway in Southern California that are not on any particular and prominent routes. It may conservatively be said that during the past 60 days scout cars of the Auto Club have covered better than 90 per cent. of the travelable roads of Southern California.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, JUNE 19, 1917.

A SERIOUS BUSINESS, THIS. YOU ARE ASKED TO HELP THE RED CROSS!

First of all you are asked to enroll as a member, pay a dollar (or more) and get busy. You are to understand that membership in the American Red Cross carries with it no more obligations than you care to put upon yourself and, contrary to the ideas of some, membership has nothing to do with the work of the United States Army or the Red Cross Ambulance or Nursing Corps.

Then you are asked to keep the work and aims of the Red Cross well to the front in your life, to speak of it, to work for it and to sacrifice for it, if need be.

Some of your fellow citizens in Glendale are WORKING every day in the week to accomplish their microscopical part in the cooperative job that falls upon the Red Cross. Why not help them? Why should "the willing horse do all the work"?

You can sew? Then arrange to co-operate with Mrs. W. E. Evans' Committee on Hospital Garments and Supplies. She will be delighted to co-operate with you and to learn that you are willing to help in this direction. Her telephone number is Glendale 602J.

You can spare some time for odd jobs—there are a score of them each day. Then let the local secretary know of your willingness. Phone to Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, Glendale 918J, and say "Call on me when you want help!"

You have not joined yet? And this is Red Cross Week, set apart for a great drive for new members. Get in at once. Call Mrs. R. E. Chase, the chairman of the Membership Committee, and tell your wishes. Her numbers are Glendale 1 and Home 864. She will see that you are signed up very soon.

You are poor, maybe, but cannot allow your countrymen to die for the lack of a bandage or some dressings—surely not. The present motto is "Give until it HURTS!" It is voluntary giving here in sunny Southern California; were you in overridden Belgium you would have to give.

Again, we repeat: "YOU are asked to help the Red Cross!"

AFTER THE WAR IS OVER

What stories the world will hear when the war is over, when the veil of censorship has been lifted, when the genius that has been too busily engaged to write is permitted to direct its energies to the recording of history and to the describing of the great events that are now occurring. Each surviving individual participant in the strife has a tale to tell, a tale quite different from any that ever has been told; and there are many things the world has been waiting to know, mysteries that some day will be cleared.

The secret of the French victory has never been fully revealed. Details of the Kitchener tragedy are lacking. The Deutschland's fate is as a closed book. What is England doing to the German U-boats? Even in our own brief war experience, how did the Root commission get to Petrograd, and where is the American fleet?

A retrospect of the events of the past three years will bring to mind many important occurrences about which little is known. The introduction to a thrilling story is all that is granted to us. The imagination must fill in the rest, or we must be content to wait for the successive chapters and the climax.

When the blinds are lifted, and the whole panorama of the war is laid before the eye, bewilderment may result for the time being, and years of study may be necessary for a full understanding of what has happened.—Santa Barbara Press.

PATRIOTISM IN THE KITCHEN

"Each housewife who dons her national uniform, the kitchen apron, and starts in with the proper determination to do her bit toward the great food conservation campaign is as much a patriot as the man who runs a plow or carries a gun," said Miss Bab Bell of the Missouri College of Agriculture recently in discussing the housekeeper's part in the war.

"However, most housewives are becoming alarmed and confused at the numerous warnings on all sides—'eliminate waste,' 'substitute inexpensive foods for expensive ones,' 'use left overs.' If the women representing the 20,000,000 homes of this country are to accomplish anything they must stop talking and begin work now in a sane and systematic manner," said Miss Bell.

"The first logical step for every housewife is to make a thorough study of food values. For the last 15 years home economics specialists have been preaching food values but very little attention was given this subject until recent years. Now when we stand face to face with the present great food shortage every woman sees the absolute necessity of having this knowledge. She sees that without it she is helpless to make the proper selections and the proper substitutions."

Suspicion in Berlin that the Anglo Saxon race is to absorb the Germans gives the situation an interesting ethnological aspect. Even in the midst of war the Teuton has time for abstruse philosphic research.

The Glendale Evening News should be delivered at your home by the carrier not later than 4:30 p. m. every day except Sunday, and usually much earlier than that time. Subscribers who have not received their paper at 4:30 o'clock, should notify the office by phone: Glendale 132, Home 2401.

HOARDING IS NOT ECONOMY

Business is activity. Economy is efficiency. Economy is not slowing down. Economy is speeding up and finding new uses for everything. Throughout the war the wise men of England have striven to maintain the industrial structure of the Empire intact despite all difficulties, and their slogan is "Business as Usual."

Now America has entered the war. The hope of the world is on us. That hope from without and our hope from within must be realized by a true conception of what is meant by economy. Remember the parable of the man who buried his master's money so it would be safe and whose fellow used his master's money to make an increase.

Economy is doing the best you have with what you have in yourself, in what you own, and what you can influence.

It means a joining of hands, figuratively, of every man, woman, and child in this great country so as to work together that our great resources shall be activated and moved by our common patriotism.

It means more doing; more intelligent spending; more distribution of information of how, where, and when goods may be had of all kinds to meet every human requirement. It does not mean hoarding: it means sowing, spending; for the business soil of the American nation has been scarcely touched.

HELP REMOVE CORRECTIBLE DEFECTS

Many thousands of our young men will soon be undergoing a thorough physical examination to determine their fitness to enter the army, says the recently published report of the State Board of Health. The majority will be accepted and Uncle Sam will thereafter see that they get any necessary medical, surgical, or dental care. Thousands, however, will be rejected because of physical defects, many of them correctible. They will leave the examining room feeling that they are discarded and that they can not measure up to other men. It remains to be seen whether or not the rejected men whose defects can be corrected, will be given an opportunity to free themselves of their handicaps and so take their places in the ranks at the next draft, or at least play the part of sound, strong men in agriculture or manufacturing or business. It will be a shame indeed if no good comes to the discarded recruits from the large number of physical examinations which will need to be made. The surgeons, physicians, oculists and dentists of California should see to it that no one lacks the opportunity of having a correctible physical defect removed. In this way, thousands of sound soldiers can be produced out of ineligible material and many of those who stay at home can be made more useful to the nation.

Many of the physical defects of these young men are present because parents, physicians, teachers, and employers failed to notice them and to make possible their correction. The best time to correct most defects is early childhood, so that their removal may be more complete and the benefit extended over a long life. The next generation will have fewer correctible physical defects, because our children are receiving better supervision through physical school-inspection, and more attention is being paid to school hygiene and physical development. We are beginning to realize that to save one child from ten years of headaches due to eyestrain, or to open one pupil's obstructed nostrils is worth the whole year's salary of a qualified school nurse or school physician. The disgrace of allowing a child to struggle to maturity under a removable physical handicap rests upon parent, family physician, teacher and physical school inspector. The blame should be definitely placed in every case of criminal or stupid neglect so that there will be keener observation and more opportunities for correction.

TOO MUCH MONEY OUT OF TRADE

The State Controller estimates that by June 30, the state government will have a surplus of $8,000,000 or more. In a recent address he said: "This surplus, in my opinion, represents to a large extent unjustifiable taxation. The state should have a surplus to meet emergencies, but in my judgment $1,500,000 or $2,000,000 at the outside would be sufficient to protect us. Anything in excess of that sum is money diverted from the avenues of business, and money taken in the shape of taxation from the pockets of the people."

A number of Glendale people are planning on spending the first part of the summer vacation at some of the fruit drying establishments of Southern California, where a splendid healthful vacation can be enjoyed at the same time one is earning wages. The crop is extraordinarily large this year and there will be room for a large number of workers at every camp. Most of the dryers will begin work in earnest next Monday, which is an earlier date than has ever been begun on before.

THOUGHTFUL GOVERNMENT

It was before the war, and the brawny, flapping A. B. was showing a small party of visitors over the great battleship, says London Tittles.

Miss Phyllis' eyes were speedily drawn to a squad of men near the fore barrette, and she gazed at them with an interested though puzzled expression on her face.

"What are those soldiers on board for?" she asked at last, turning to the ruddy-necked A. B.

"Them?" answered the A. B., with heavy casualties in his grammar. "Oh, them's the marines, miss, them is."

"Marines? Oh, and what are they for?" pursued Miss Phyllis.

"Don't ask so many silly questions, you ignorant girl," broke in her father, adding pompously: "Everybody knows, of course, that those gentlemen are employed by the government for the sailors to tell stories to."

A MARVEL

"Who are these men gathered about the prisoner seeking an interview? I understand they are not reporters."

"No. They are professional economists who are combating the high cost of living. The prisoner is charged with having kept up three domestic establishments at the same time. They want to find out how he did it."

STILL GUESSING

Little Lemuel—Say, paw, did you know ma long before you married her?

Paw—No, my son, and as a matter of fact, I am not very well acquainted with her yet.

OPPOSITE EFFECT

"The Gadder girls soon got tired of doing settlement work."

"What discouraged them?"

"They hoped to arouse the envy of their friends, but when they began receiving condolences they quit."

FEMININE CHARITY

Omar—Your friend Hazel claims to be a girl of eighteen summers.

Aimee—And so she is. But she was about seven years old before she began to have any summers.

SOUL VERSUS SYMMETRY

"She probably thinks so, but if she didn't have a darned good figure, her soul wouldn't help her much."

CHOPPED HAM AND CORN PATTIES.

One-half cupful cooked corn cut from cob, three cupfuls chopped ham, one well-beaten egg, dash of pepper. Form into patties and fry in butter or ham grease. Drained canned corn may be used.

FORESTRY REGIMENT IN THE MAKING.

The plan of organization of the forestry regiment and instructions for listing applicants have been received from Maj. W. B. Greeley...

All applicants should understand that this is a military organization, that they must undergo the customary military drill and discipline of United States soldiers...

It is not yet known just the number of men that will be chosen from California. Those qualified, however, will be listed as fast as they apply by the District Forester until orders are received from Maj. Greeley to discontinue...

The regiment will consist of two battalions with three companies to each. The companies will be organized in three platoons each, the operating unit. There will be one logging crew and one portable sawmill crew to each platoon...

As soon as sufficient selections to complete the regiment have been made by the Forest Service from those listed, arrangements for recruiting will be made and accepted applicants notified of the time and place for enlisting...

The grades, qualifications and pay of enlisted men will be in accordance with the customary army scale. The base pay for privates is $36 a month, while in foreign service...

DISCOVERING COLUMBUS.

A mid-Westerner is exhibiting to his friends a $5 "greenback" which his father gave him thirty-one years ago. He has been offered many times its face value for the bill, but he has no desire, so he says, to part with it...

MISPLACED SYMPATHY.

A Jersey man of benevolent turn of mind encountered a small boy in his neighborhood, who gave evidence of having emerged from a severe battle.

"I am sorry," said the man, "to see that you have a black eye, Sammy. Whereupon Sammy retorted: 'You go home and be sorry for your own little boy, he's got two.'—Everybody's.

DEEP LAID SCHEMES.

"I fancy I'll get rid of that parrot at last," said Mr. Meehton.

"But your wife won't let you hurt him."

"I'm not going to hurt him. I'm going to teach him to sing the 'Wacht am Rhein' and then hang him out the window when the boys are going home from school."

Those who have been wondering if they would be entirely safe this year in visiting summer resorts on the Atlantic Coast of the United States, anywhere from 3000 to 5000 miles away from the war zones, may be interested in the announcement that Dagmar Casth Anderson, a tiny Norwegian child, who had voyaged all the way from Christiania, arrived in Boston with smiles and dimples on her face a day or two ago...

At a party one evening a very pretty girl said to Sargent, the famous painter:

"O, Mr. Sargent, I saw your latest painting and kissed it because it was so much like you."

"And did it kiss you back?" asked the artist, gravely.

"Why, no; of course not!" was the astonished reply.

"Then," said Mr. Sargent, "it was not like me."

There is one thing that is stronger than armies, and that is an idea whose time has come.—Victor Hugo.

THE FIGHTER.

Our Uncle Sam is slow to fight, no war-like bluff he tenders; he first makes sure that he is right, then busts his best suspenders. So loath is he to mix in scraps, he is so mild a fellow, that Bill and other bone-head chaps imagined he is yellow.

"We'll sink his ships," said Kaiser Bill, "we'll drown his gents and ladies; he is too ladylike to kill or start in raising hades." But when our uncle sees that peace won't dovetail well with glory, he sharpens up his trusty creese and things are looking gory. Since first our starry flag arose, by war-worn soldiers greeted, our uncle's met all kinds of fces and never been defeated. For when he draws his shining blade defeat must never dim it; and though in carnage he may wade, he'll always go the limit. That's what his shining sword is for, to knock a foe-man silly, and this will be no wrist-tap war; write that down, Kaiser Willie. Oh, there'll be grief in German lands and dark and gloomy weather, now Uncle Sam spits on his hands and cracks his heels together. WALT MASON.

HOLE IN THE DOUGHNUT WAS INVENTED HALF CENTURY AGO

When are we to hear the last of the stupid hole-in-the-doughnut joke? My memory goes back to 1840 and earlier, and my boyhood experience extended over a good part of Fairfield, Litchfield and New Haven counties, Connecticut, and Westchester county, New York, up to 1850. Our mothers at that time are to be regarded as the best authority on old-fashioned American cookery.

The doughnut of that period consisted of bread dough raised overnight, with hop meal cakes, or "emptins," sweetened with brown sugar, shortened a little, and fried to a rich brown in leaf lard and were somewhat larger than a goose egg and about the same shape. These were known among the old Dutch New Yorkers and are described in Barber's "History of New York," published about 1840.

"Wonderful cakes" were similar, with a little more shortening and sweetening. The dough was rolled about three-quarters of an inch thick, cut into squares of three inches, three slits, which were pressed apart into a fantastic shape, and were the idolized Sabbath day lunch, eaten under the maple tree or the horse shed between the morning and afternoon services.

I first remember crullers twisted and with holes when I came to New York in 1854. The very name of doughnut is suggestive of a round or oval-shaped article. An imitation of the original doughnut is issued by the chair lunches, of about half the size now.—C. P. Benedict, in New York Times.

AD ASTRA.

An unstable patron of Broadway's gay places was tacking his way northward the other night when he came upon the telescope man at Columbus circle, who lets you look at the stars for a nickel. The bibulous one looked at the telescope in amazement.

"Sh-a-gun!" he said, thickly.

He put his fingers to his ears, and watched. Presently a shooting star fell from the sky. The happy one smiled broadly, took his fingers from his ears and patted the telescope man.

"Sha good shot, old boy!" he said, and wobbled out into the park.—New York Evening Post.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

BOLD ENOUGH.

"I used to think women had no personal bravery," remarked the observant man.

"Yes?"

"But that was before I noticed how a woman with a subscription list in her hand will force her way into the private office of a capitalist while ten or twelve masculine visitors of more or less prominence feverishly await an interview in an anteroom."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

WORK FOR ALL

Every University president in the West has been asked by the Red Cross War Council to make a personal appeal to undergraduates and alumni to subscribe and work for the Hundred Million Dollar War Fund, fifteen million dollars of which must be raised in the States west of the Mississippi...

Equally important is the canvas of the labor unions and the entire labor situation. The draft of ten million young men will leave a serious gap in the ranks of union labor, and organized labor is ready to "go the limit" in providing funds which will ensure for its representatives the "doctor, nurse and bandage," which is the slogan of the Red Cross War Council's campaign. The most experienced and thoroughly trusted men in the labor movement are behind the fight for the Hundred Million, and they have promised that the wage-earner will do "his bit" as quickly as the college-bred man or the capitalist or any other man in any walk of life.

Slowly but surely it has crept into the consciousness of the nation that this is a war in which all factors must take part, and the early response has not only been encouraging but inspiring and conducive to optimism. It takes a lot of nerve to raise a Hundred Million, particularly after the Liberty Bond campaign, but the spirit of the people, according to the campaign workers for the big donation, is that the entire amount will be swiftly subscribed without that perfectly good American sentiment.—"Let George do it."

One of the best indications of the aroused spirit of the nation, according to reports of the Western headquarters, is the remarkable showing from the Red Cross chapter organizers of the growth of the movement in their territories. An average of ten chapters a day is reported in every one of the five districts in the Western section, and this means that, wherever a chapter is organized, there is instantly put into service a fighting organization, which commands the services of all the men in that community, whether it be to enlist or to subscribe.

As a shining example of the work done by these vigorous Western chapters of the Red Cross, there is Tucson, delegated to raise $25,000 for the Hundred Million Fund. The Arizona town has raised the entire amount before Red Cross Week, raised it and stood ready for a further appeal. So impressed was the Western Committee that it not only sent a congratulatory telegram, thanking the town for being the first city in the West to raise its quota, but it issued a statement, calling on the rest of the communities of the West to emulate the example of the Tucson citizens, but to go further and make the Arizonans "sit up and take notice."

CHEERING SOMEONE ON

Don't you mind about the triumphs. Don't you worry after fame; Don't you grieve about succeeding. Let the future guard your name.

All the best in life's the simplest, Love will last when wealth is gone;

Just be glad that you are living, And keep cheering someone on.

Let your neighbors have the blossoms, Let your comrades wear the crown; Never mind the little setbacks Nor the blows that knock you down.

You'll be here when they're forgotten, You'll be glad with youth and dawn,

If you just forget your troubles And keep cheering someone on.

There's a lot of sorrow 'round you. Lots of lonesomeness and tears; Lots of heartaches and of worry Through the shadows of the years.

And the world needs more than triumphs, More than all the swords we've drawn;

It is hungering for the fellow Who keeps cheering others on.

Let the wind around you whistle, And the storms around you play; You'll be here with brawn and grit—

When the conquerors decay, You'll be here in memories sweetened

If some souls you've saved from pawn, If you put aside the victories And keep cheering someone on. —Baltimore Sun.

WHY GIVE HER A SEAT?

"I don't believe men are as chivalrous toward women as they used to be."

"Maybe not. There is a growing impression among men nowadays that the woman who clamors for equal rights is rather proud of her ability to hang on a strap in a trolley car."

In the daily routine of life you ask of those with whom you come in contact both honesty and fairness of treatment.

More so, than ever, do you need such help during the sorrows of bereavement. Then, as at no other time, you ask and have a right to expect conscientious service—the kind "you" yourself would give were you able to do so.

You ask and expect an impressive service, free of needless expense, yet fitting the occasion.

In using Scovern-Letton-Frey Co. service either in our mortuary, at the church or in your own home, you will find all these requirements met—quietly, restfully and in good taste.
