ENTHUSIASM GROWS FOR MONSTER PARADE

Civic Organizations Rally to Greater Glendale's Demonstration

By RALPH A. LYND
Of The Evening News Staff.
Enthusiasm over the Greater Glendale parade that is scheduled for Saturday, January 5, to celebrate the attainment of the $10,000,000 building total for 1923 and to arouse interest in the passage of the $1,600,000 issue of bonds to construct the Glendale sewer system, is rapidly reaching fever heat, according to L. H. Myers, chairman of the Glendale Realty Board's advertising committee, who is one of the men working to make the demonstration a success.

Indications this morning are that close to 1,000 automobiles will be in line when the parade starts, and the various civic bodies are lending every possible aid to make the monster parade one of the biggest events in the history of Glendale.

It is planned to divide the parade into divisions, each division to be composed of representatives of some particular organization. The police department will be represented, the contractors, the city engineering department, the fire department, water department, Kiwanis, Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, Glendale Merchants' association, Glendale Realty board, and others whose names will be added to the list between now and the day of the parade. Citizens who do not belong to any particular organization are invited to fall in with the immense mass of those who will form a part of the giant procession that will wind all over the city, through the business and the residential sections, boosting Glendale's progress and working for the passage of the sewer bonds.

Two More Bands
The city engineering department and the contractors have informed the officials in charge of the parade that they will endeavor to secure two more bands that will be incorporated in the procession, furnishing additional music for the marchers and stirring the enthusiasm of the thousands of spectators who are expected to turn out, not only from Glendale but also from all the other towns in the San Fernando valley, as well as from Los Angeles, Pasadena, Hollywood and other adjacent cities.

Pictures that will be taken of the parade will be distributed throughout the country by one of the leading producers of weekly newsmagazines, and it is desired that everyone bring flags to decorate their cars during the parade.

MT. LASSEN CALM AFTER OUTBURST

Observers Watch Volcano For Further Eruptions as Activity Subsides

REDDING, Cal., Dec. 28.—Observers today were closely watching Mount Lassen for further volcanic activity.
Late yesterday for three hours the only live crater in the United States belched forth smoke and ashes in its greatest burst of activity since 1914, when the volcano awakened from 200 years' quiescence.
While only telescopic observation is possible, due to the heavy snow on the slopes of the peak, it is believed that the eruption came from what is known as the "new Crater" which developed during the 1914 period of action.
The snow today was blackened for many miles with volcanic ash and during its height the smoke cloud was visible over the greater part of northern California. The erupting over, observers said.

CLIMAX NEAR IN LIQUOR SCANDAL

Polish Diplomat Involved In Dry Agents Probe Of Whisky Supplies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The national capital's latest liquor row, involving the mysterious disappearance of a list of bootleggers' customers said to contain the names of many important personages, moved toward a climax today.

Diplomatic Liquor
The recent raid on an apartment house, resulting in the discovery of bonded liquor valued at $25,000 and claimed by Dr. V. The Polish government at Warsaw is said to have cabled the Polish minister here, demanding a full report on the incident, and Representative Newton of Minnesota wrote a letter to Secretary of State Hughes requesting information as to the status of so-called "diplomatic liquor" when it was not held in the personal possession of the owner.

ADMIT LOSS OF GIANT AIRSHIP

Captain of Dirigible Found Off Sicilian Coast In Fishermen's Nets

By HARRY FLORRY
For International News Service.
PARIS, Dec. 28.—The tragic fate of the giant French dirigible Dixmude was related today when official announcement was made that it had been lost in the Mediterranean.
The body of the commander—Lieutenant Commander Duplessis—was picked up near Sicily.
It is feared that all the fifty persons on board were drowned. French, Italian and British destroyers are searching for the missing bodies.
Report Stirs Hope
News of the loss of the great airship followed a report that it had been sighted 250 kilometers south of In Salah, in the Sahara desert. Hope that the crew and passengers might be safe was turned into sorrow by news from Naples that the body of the commander had been found. This news made it certain that the Dixmude, helpless from lack of fuel and a disabled motor, had been forced down into the sea.
The ministry of marine issued a communique, saying: "The French naval attaché at Rome has been informed by the Italian naval authorities that the body of Lieutenant Duplessis de Grenadon of the French airship Dixmude was found by Italian fishermen."
Hope that some of the fifty passengers on board may have escaped death has not yet been abandoned. It was pointed out that the Dixmude carried parachutes and that some of them may have attempted to reach safety through use of them.

Body Caught in Net

ROME, Dec. 28.—Baron Russo, mayor of Sciacca, Sicily, telegraphed today to the French ministry of marine that the body of Lieutenant Commander Duplessis de Grenadon of the French airship Dixmude was found accidentally by fishermen. It was floating beneath the surface of the water and was brought up by fishing nets.
The sea was searched for six miles around, but no more bodies nor any wreckage of the Dixmude were discovered.
According to the Messagero, the commander of the steamship Alessandretta on Sunday picked up an "S. O. S." from the Dixmude, which at that time, caught in a gale, was being driven before the wind at the rate of 125 miles an hour. Another Italian destroyer has been placed at the disposal of the French to help search for bodies and wreckage.

PARIS, Dec. 28.—Minister of Marine Raiberti held out hope today that parachutes on board the lost dirigible Dixmude may have saved the lives of some of the passengers and crew. If others on board used parachutes they may have been picked up by passing steamships or reached shore.

DEATH HOAX COUPLE GET SENTENCE

Sunshine Girl and Man Who Robbed Grave Receive Four Years Each

SUPERIOR, Wis., Dec. 28.—While Edward J. Sallstad and his "Sunshine Girl," Dorothy Anderson, tried to choke their soba, they were sentenced today to four years' imprisonment each for arson in connection with their famous grave-yard hoax. Both pleaded guilty.
Tears glistened on Sallstad's cheeks as he heard the court order him committed to the state reformatory at Green Bay. By his side, shaking with sobs, stood Miss Anderson. She was ordered sent to the Wisconsin industrial home which he fired.
Sallstad confessed that, with the knowledge of Miss Anderson with whom he was apprehended in California, he dug up the body of a friend from its grave and placed it in the Sallstad summer home which he fired.
Girl Near Death
His plan had the desired effect for he was presumed to have died in the fire, for his wife subsequently married.
Miss Anderson is so ill with tuberculosis that physicians fear she has not long to live. Time and again since her arrest she has professed her love for Sallstad which he returns.
Obviously the most crushing thing to him about their sentence today was the fact that they would be separated to be sent to different penal institutions.

Irving Kasden was the first man arrested. A severe grilling elicited from him information that led to the arrest of the other men.

Tells Bank's Policy
Herman Nelson, vice-president and manager of the Glendale avenue branch, said that the growth and expansion of the branch had made their former banking room wholly inadequate, and that his banking force would be immediately enlarged in order to render more efficient and quicker banking service, particularly the tellers' service for the daily patrons. Mr. Nelson stated that it was the announced and strict policy of the Pacific Southwest banking group to discourage speculative or unsound promissive ventures. He said further, that it was the policy of the Glendale avenue branch, which is operated as a separate unit, with its executive board composed of conservative and substantial Glendale citizens, to encourage the development of that district by offering adequate banking facilities through the loaning power of an organization with resources in excess of $249,000,000.

AUTOS TO CARRY VOTERS TO POLLS

Realty Board Making Plans To Handle Enough Cars On January 8

Reports that have been turned in to the office of the Glendale Realty Board by the precinct captains who, with their assistants, are making a canvass of the entire city, indicate that the sewer bonds will go over with a sweeping majority on election day, January 8, according to Cameron D. Thom, chairman of the board's sewer committee. Precinct meetings are being held all over the city, and the workers are maintaining close personal touch with the voters, listing them on the cards that have been provided for that purpose.
Transportation Ready
Arrangements that are now almost completed indicate that there will be plenty of automobiles available to carry the voters to the polls on election day, says Miss Winnifred Traver, executive secretary of the Glendale Realty Board, who is listing the cars that are being offered by supporters of the bond issue daily.
A close inspection of the reports turned in by the precinct workers indicates that what opposition there is to the bond issue is not assuming dangerous proportions, but the workers are discounting any tendency to ill-founded optimism by securing pledges from practically everyone on whom they call that they will turn out and vote for the bonds on January 8.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—The Famous Players-Lasky motion picture studio in Hollywood, which has been closed for several weeks, will re-open again on January 7, it was announced today by Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president of the organization.
In his statement Mr. Lasky also declared that "Los Angeles, the ideal motion picture producing center, not only is in no danger of losing its supremacy, but will become even more firmly established in that supremacy during the new year."
When the studio is re-opened, on January 7, three productions will be started and additional pictures will be started weekly. By the middle of February ten units will be at work on new pictures, Mr. Lasky said.
"Sanity" Is Watchword
Mr. Lasky also expressed great optimism for the coming year, and declared that the temporary closing of the Famous players-Lasky studio here accomplished the desired results. Mr. Lasky has just returned from New York, where the re-organization of the Paramount production department was completed.
Reckless extravagance must give way to sanity in production, he said.

NEW RECORD PUTS CITY IN CLASS BY SELF

'Wonder Total' In Glendale Construction Work In Past 12 Months

Glendale's dream of a ten million dollar building permit year is realized.
At noon today James F. Green, 702 East Colorado street, appeared at the office of H. C. Vandewater, municipal building superintendent, at 610 East Broadway and made application for a permit to construct two four-room dwellings at 1168 and 1172 Alameda street, to cost $2500 each. The permits were granted by Assistant Superintendent Fred Nicholas.
This brought the total for the year to $10,004,687, of which December is credited with $782,528.

Plans for the parade to celebrate this achievement may now go forward to make it the greatest public demonstration ever witnessed in Glendale.
Four months of 1923, January, February, March and November, contributed largely to this wonderful record. In each of these periods permits exceeded one million dollars, November being the largest with $1,132,562. The smallest month was July, with $565,036.

Following is a complete resume of the building activity, month by month, for 1923:

January	$ 1,024,336
February	1,019,613
March	1,036,475
April	582,098
May	573,687
June	900,051
July	565,036
August	931,693
September	660,244
October	805,506
November	1,132,562
December	782,528
Total	$10,004,687

The permits issued during the past year are approximately $4,000,000, or 66 2-3 per cent, over those granted in 1922, almost double those in 1921, and three times the amount issued in 1920. Previous to this year, only one month had ever witnessed the granting of over a million dollars—April, 1922.
With a population of 50,000, and permits issued exceeding $10,000,000, Glendale may now rightfully claim its position in the rank of the leading cities of the United States. No other city of proportionate size has ever attained anything like this amount, and "The Fastest Growing City in America" surpasses in this respect cities of (Continued on Page 3)

HIROHITO DELAYS CABINET ACTION

Jap Regent Seeks Advice of Elder Statesmen On Resignations

By DUKE N. PARRY
For International News Service.
TOKIO, Dec. 28.—Prince Regent Hirohito today withheld action on the Yamamoto cabinet's resignation pending advice from the elder statesmen.
It is understood a majority of the regent's advisers are insisting acceptance of the resignations is imperative while others claim the cabinet must remain in power until after the wedding of the regent.
Ruins Goto's Career
One of the most tragic results of the young college boy's attempt to assassinate the regent today is the ruin of the meteoric career of Viscount Shimpei Goto, home minister and liberal, who was apparently destined for the premiership. Assuming responsibility as home minister, Goto was the first cabinet member to offer his resignation.
Today twenty anti-reds attacked policemen guarding his home. They succeeded in breaking into the house and doing considerable damage claiming Viscount Goto was blamable for yesterday's attack.

Local Lodge Host To I. O. O. F. Encampment
Glendale Odd Fellows were hosts last night to the San Fernando Valley encampment. According to reports it was one of the finest meetings the local lodge has held during the year. To 7, in 1920, and to Penn State, 21 to 7, in 1921. Gonzaga also was a loser in its only attempt, West Virginia winning, 21 to 13, last year. Occidental, beaten by Syracuse in 1915, and Arizona, which lost to Centre College in 1921, were not representative teams.

Class Has Party
Mrs. J. Roger Bentley of 555 Cumberland road was hostess to the members of the R. T. W. class of the First Baptist church, of which she is class president, at a delightful Christmas party yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bentley have just recently moved into their beautiful new home in Kenneth Heights. The rooms of the home were artistically decorated in the holiday season's colors, a beautiful Christmas tree in one corner of the living room being the center of attraction. At the foot of the tree were numerous gifts which were distributed to the forty members present.

During the afternoon a number of lovely and dainty gifts were presented to a member of the class who has just announced the arrival of a son.

Late in the afternoon refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Endicott and her assistant hostesses, Mesdames Bert Marple, Rene Olin and J. W. Headlee.

The next regular meeting of the class will be held at the home of the class teacher, Mrs. Jennie B. Dossie, 360 Salem street, during January.

Christmas Hosts
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Parker of 221 North Central avenue were hosts on Christmas day, entertaining a group of relatives and friends at a turkey dinner at 1 o'clock.

Featuring the day were the beautiful decorations, sent from the mountain home of a cousin in the north. Mistletoe, sugar pine and other mountain greenery were effectively used in the scheme of decoration.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. A. St. Clair and son George of Walnut; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Zickert and daughter of Long Beach; Mrs. Alice Lemasters of Los Angeles, and Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Lyman of Santa Barbara.

COAST FOOTBALL IS STILL YOUNG
But Intersectional Record Not Bad; While Idea Is New in Places
NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Considering the fact that collegiate football on the West Coast is still in its adolescence, the Far West can look back on its intersectional record against the East, Middle West and South with pardonable tranquility. Its record since the intersectional idea was first introduced in 1899 is seven victories, twelve defeats and two ties, and it is no Masonic secret that many of its defenders were not always representative outfits.

Only when such teams as California, Oregon Aggies, Southern California, Washington State and Oregon were involved was the Coast showing its best hand.

In those instances a Coast victory was usually the result, California scoring a cataclysmic decision, 28 to 0, over Ohio State, featuring Harley and Stinchcomb, in 1921; Washington State beating Brown in 1916; Oregon outscoring Pennsylvania over Penn State last season.

California, perforce, has been the foundation rock against which the invaders have been torn and scattered. In the first East-West game in 1899 the Bears finished second to the Carlisle Indians by the mere margin of a safety.

Scoreless Tie
They did not return "to the races" again until 1921, when they ran amuck through Ohio state. The following year they played a scoreless tie with a great Washington and Jefferson team.

Washington State has also shown a fair record with victories over St. Louis University in 1907 and Brown in 1916, and Oregon, after beating Pennsylvania in 1916, lost to Harvard in 1920 by the margin of a single point. The Oregon Aggies got away auspiciously in 1915 by scoring a 20 to 0 decision over Michigan Aggies, but later in the same season lost to Syracuse and the following year were beaten by Nebraska.

Stanford's performances were even less impressive, the Palo Alto school losing in 1902 to Michigan by 4 to 0 the largest total computed since the start of the intersectional series, and being beaten by Pittsburgh last year.

Montana, in its lone start, held Syracuse to a 6 to 6 tie in 1915, but Washington failed to make the grade on two occasions, losing to Dartmouth, 28 to 7, in 1920, and to Penn State, 21 to 7, in 1921. Gonzaga also was a loser in its only attempt, West Virginia winning, 21 to 13, last year.

Insects Cause Heavy Damage Over State
SACRAMENTO, Dec. 28.—Crop losses in California for 1923 due to disease and insect pests aggregated a sum in excess of $51,409,000 according to G. H. Hecke, head of the state department of agriculture.

Federal, state and county departments and growers spent more than $10,000,000 in combating this destruction, Hecke declared.

More than half the total loss, $26,032,000, was sustained by grape growers. Mildew, root knot, crown gall, red leaf and little leaf inflicted severe damage.

Other crop loss estimates are as follows: Deciduous Fruits, Almonds, $327,863; Apricots, $2,680,000; Apples, $339,000; Cherries, $154,800; Figs, $90,000; Olives, $167,500; Peaches, $199,000; Pears, $2,187,000; Plums, $230,000; Prunus, $398,000; Walnuts, $472,000.

Citrus Fruits—Grapefruit, oranges, $4,207,000; Lemons, $450,000.

The balance represents losses in garden truck, forage and grain crops and nursery stock.

Wyoming to Conduct Petroleum Research

LARAMIE, Wyo., Dec. 28.—The University of Wyoming is to be the seat of a petroleum research laboratory to be established by the federal government, it was announced here, and the university plans to establish a department of petroleum engineering in its curriculum.

Wyoming will be the third university in the United States to offer a course in petroleum engineering.

Announcement of the new course was made by President A. G. Crane of Wyoming university, following confirmation of the government's intention by E. C. Finney, assistant secretary of the interior, and H. Foster Bain, director of the Federal Bureau of Mines.

In making the announcement Dr. Crane said the government planned to open the petroleum bureau here early next spring.

Establishment of the research laboratory here will fit in with the plans of the university for its new department of petroleum engineering, and will further the study of petroleum conditions in the Rocky Mountain region.

Ten Million Dollars For Building Permits

twice, or even three times, the population. When Mr. Vandewater predicted at the first of the year that the permits would reach $10,000,000, many scoffed at the idea. But his prophecy has been fulfilled. A glance at the record by months will show the activity has been steady, normal and healthy. While several large permits, notably the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, have been issued, the greater part of this amount represents residences not exceeding in value $7500. It indicates that Glendale is essentially a residential city, although boasting growing business and industrial sections.

Another pleasing feature of the record is the fact that it was unnecessary to force the realization of the total. Many large projects that are planned will be held over now until the first of the year. If personal solicitation had been attempted, the goal could have been reached some time ago.

Just what 1924 will bring no one at this time dares to foretell. The building superintendent is silent on the matter. The issuance of this amount of permits in a city the size of Glendale is an unheard of feat heretofore, and is just cause for a municipal celebration on January 5, 1924.

The following permits were issued recently:

Coolidge Answer To Clarke Not Revealed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—President Coolidge today sent Edward Young Clarke, imperial giant and former wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, a letter of acknowledgment and thanks for Clarke's offer to co-operate with federal authorities in "cleaning house" in the Klan. The president's letter was not made public. It was understood, however, the president did not comment on the grave charges against the Klan made by Clarke in his letter yesterday, nor indicate what action, if any, would be taken by federal authorities.

Evidence Too Strong, Drop Firearm Charge

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 28.—Because the evidence was "too strong" to be produced in court, the case of Carl Jensen, charged with discharging firearms in the city limits today was dismissed by Police Judge Anderson.

Antonio Hesse, the complaining witness, declared in court he had the "evidence" in the corridor of the city hall to prove his charge that Jensen used his shotgun within the city boundaries.

Meantime court habitues had deposited a dead pigeon in the garbage can and the odor penetrated the courtroom.

Judge Anderson then dismissed the case with a warning to defendant not to discharge firearms in the city area.

R feeds those OIL STARVED FORDS

STANDARD OIL COMPANY'S new oil for FORDS

It is safe to say that 50 per cent of the Fords now running are oil-starved. Not that the average Ford owner doesn't keep the oil in his crankcase at the proper level. He does. But a crankcase full of oil doesn't help unless that oil gets to the bearings—especially those crucial points in Ford lubrication: the wrist-pin bearings and the upper half of the cylinder walls.

The Ford splash system is an excellent system, but its success is dependent upon the use of an oil which will distribute properly to the bearing surfaces.

Our research laboratories have been experimenting with Ford lubrication for years. They have embodied the results of their experiments in Zerolene "F" for Fords—a new oil which represents a big step forward in Ford lubrication.

We make the following specific claims for Zerolene "F" for Fords—claims which we have demonstrated repeatedly in the laboratory and on the road, and which you can readily demonstrate for yourself:

That Zerolene "F" for Fords gets to the bearings and actually lubricates where many oils fail because not properly adapted to the special conditions encountered in the Ford motor.

That Zerolene "F" for Fords deposits so little carbon that your Ford will be able to go considerably farther before valve-grinding or carbon-removal operations are necessary.

That Zerolene "F" for Fords, because of the superior lubrication it gives, will enable your Ford to deliver better gasoline mileage than you have been getting.

That because it lubricates consistently better, the use of Zerolene "F" for Fords will lessen friction and wear, reduce up-keep costs and lengthen the life of your Ford.

Zerolene "F" is a clear, bright golden oil that looks its quality. Yet its price at service stations, garages, and other dealers is not more, but less than any of the special Ford oils hitherto offered to the public.

A Ford, well treated, is an A-1 transportation investment. Protect YOUR investment by proper lubrication.

FACTS AND FIGURES PROVE GLENDALE'S BIG NEED OF COMPLETE SEWER SYSTEM

Officials Point Out Why City Must Vote Bond Issue to Secure Health Protection and to Continue Great Growth and Full Prosperity; Project Is Much Cheaper Than Annexation

Glendale must either vote the $1,600,000 sewer bonds or face annexation to Los Angeles, declares Councilman Sam Davis, who, with Mayor Spencer Robinson and the members of the City Council and other forward-looking Glendaleans, have sponsored and pushed this movement from the start.

With an adequate, up-to-date sewer system assured, the city will attain a population of 100,000 in three years, experts predict. Without such a system, Glendale must ultimately be absorbed.

Therefore, the sewer bond campaign, Councilman Davis asserts, must meet the annexationists on their own ground and defeat them with cold facts. At a recent meeting held by the Glendale Foothill Improvement Association in the Grand View school, he produced a series of arguments backed up by figures that were so conclusive debt, with a great deal higher tax rate than at present, and without the very sewer system they are certain to get under the present plan.

Judging from the numbers of questions asked and from the satisfaction expressed over the clear replies, it can be safely stated that when Glendale people understand the sewer matter in its various angles, they become heartily in favor of it. On the night of December 18, the occasion of the public mass meeting called to explain the sewer project to all Glendale, it is urged by Mayor Robinson and Councilman Davis that every resident of the city who does not thoroughly understand every angle of this great forward-looking project be present as a civic duty and obtain the enlightenment that will make his vote a sewer bond issue.

Chester A. Smith, engineering expert for the firm of Burns & McDonnell, who are making Glendale's preliminary sewer survey, addressed the meeting of the Foothill Improvement Association Tuesday night of this week, declaring that his organization had never before experienced a city of Glendale's size totally without a sewer system and stating that generally it is considered a serious enough matter when a community reaches 10,000 population without adequate disposal facilities.

Taking up each of the five Lippencott proposals of a year ago, Mr. Smith analyzed them and showed why they were not practical for Glendale.

Going into some detail on Pasadena's sewer farm problem, he showed that the system was unsatisfactory at the present time and giving a great deal of trouble, in addition to requiring constant large outlays of capital to maintain.

The fact that cities so located as Glendale must ultimately form metropolitan sewer districts, as is done in Boston and other eastern cities, was stressed by Mr. Smith, who pointed out that Fullerton, Anaheim and a number of surrounding communities have already formed such a district, with Santa Ana as their consolidation point, while Linwood, Watts and communities in that neighborhood are forming such a district at the present time.

The Pacific ocean is the one and only natural sewage outlet for Southern California, Mr. Smith told his audience. All other arrangements were makeshifts, he said, and would in the end prove costly, insufficient and unhygienic.

Future Growth

The impossibility of predicting the future growth of such centers as Glendale was stressed by Mr. Smith, it being pointed out that three years ago it was believed by experts that the city would attain a population of 40,000 by 1940.

It was for this reason, he said, that the present plan calls for a system, connecting with the Los Angeles outfall, of such capacity as to care for a population of 1,000,000 in Glendale and surrounding communities, while allowance is made for 20 per cent in excess of an ultimate Glendale population of 240,000.

The election called for January 8 to authorize the $1,600,000

Description of Sewer

The following description of the proposed Glendale sewer system is given by the firm of Burns & McDonnell, noted sewer engineers:

The accompanying map shows the nine proposed intercepting lines or mains which are planned to bring the sanitary sewer system within reach of every home in the city of Glendale. The heavy lines shown on the map and marked "Main No. 1," etc., indicate the location and size of the mains to serve the city.

Main No. 1—Varies from 8-inch to 12-inch in diameter and connects with the main outfall sewer at Tyburn avenue and Hollywood drive, and follows Tyburn avenue to Gardena avenue, thence to Los Feliz road, thence on Los Feliz road to San Fernando, thence on San Fernando to Magnolia.

Main No. 2—Varies from 8-inch to 18-inch in diameter and connects with the main outfall sewer at Parkdale avenue and west of San Fernando road and follows Parkdale to San Fernando, thence on San Fernando to Palmer, thence on Palmer to Glendale avenue, thence on Glendale avenue to Elk avenue.

Main No. 3—Varies from 8-inch to 12-inch in diameter and connects with Main No. 2 at Los Angeles street and Parkdale and follows Los Angeles street to San Fernando road, thence on San Fernando road to Elk avenue.

Main No. 4—Varies in size from 8-inch to 15-inch in diameter and connects with Main No. 2 at Palmer and Glendale avenue. This main follows Palmer avenue, Adams, Acacia and Verdugo road to Colorado street.

Main No. 5—Varies from 8-inch to 22-inch in diameter and connects with the main outfall sewer on Colorado and west of San Fernando road. This line follows Colorado, Glendale, Harvard, Sycamore Canyon road and Sierra avenue to Scholl drive near the head of Scholl canyon. This main will take care of the principal commercial district of Glendale.

Main No. 6—Varies in diameter from 8-inch to 15-inch and connects with Main No. 4. This line follows San Fernando road, Salem and Chester to Patterson avenue.

Main No. 7—Varies from 8-inch to 24-inch in diameter and connects with the main outfall sewer at Aviation drive and west of San Fernando. This line follows Aviation drive to San Fernando, thence on San Fernando to the northwest city limits of Glendale.

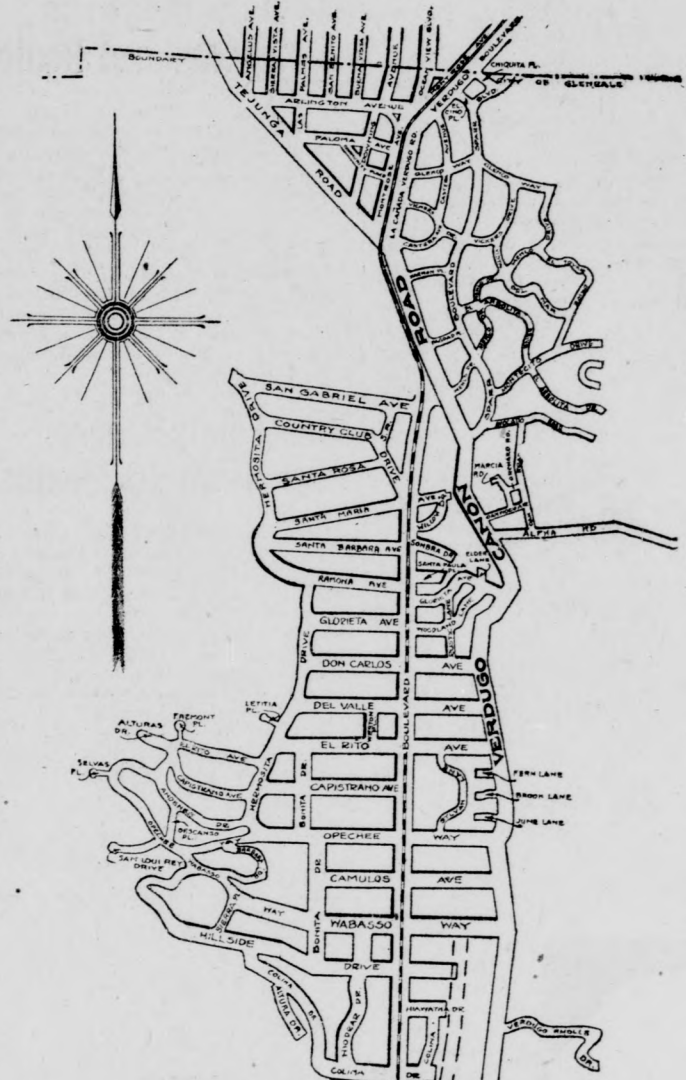

Main No. 8—Varies from 12-inch to 18-inch in diameter and connects with Main No. 6 on San Fernando road. This line follows along Palm drive and Dryden street until it comes to the point on Verdugo road where it will connect with the present sewer system which is already constructed in Verdugo canyon but has no outlet.

Main No. 9—Varies from 8-inch to 12-inch and connects with Main No. 6 at San Fernando and Grand View. This line follows Grand View to Glenwood road, thence on Glenwood road to Virginia avenue.

*These nine mains listed above connect with the main outfall sewer which follows approximately the line of the Los Angeles river to Sixth and Utah where it connects with the outfall sewer of the city of Los Angeles, a distance of approximately ten miles. The cost of construction of the nine mains in Glendale is $277,968 and the cost of the main outfall sewer is estimated at $1,250,000.

Exact location of the main trunk line and nine intercepting lines of Glendale's proposed sewer system are shown below in the map of the city, prepared by Burns & McDonnell, sewer experts of Los Angeles and Kansas City, who are making the preliminary survey.

NEED HARD WORK IN BOND ELECTION

Resolutions Won't Pass Issue, Is Warning Given by Councilman Davis

By RALPH A. LYND
Member of The Evening News Staff.

"You can't win elections by eating at banquets nor by passing resolutions. You have got to get out and gather in the voters that are working at their duties in their homes, in the backyards, and elsewhere, and you've got to lean over the backyard fences and get in your work for the sewer bonds before you can get the people out to vote."

So declared Councilman Sam Davis in a speech before the members of the Glendale Realty board at a recent luncheon in the Glendale Tavern. Davis quoted in detail from the figures he has compiled from official sources, showing that Glendale, in the event of annexation to Los Angeles, would be compelled to assume its share of the bonds that Los Angeles has issued amounting to $71,155,550, or $35.81 per capita, as against the assumption of $26.67 per capita that would be assessed in the event that the city of Glendale builds its own sewers through the bond issue of $1,600,000. These figures are based on an estimated population of 60,000 people in Glendale by the time the sewers are completed.

Mr. Davis quoted from a copy of the minutes of the Los Angeles City Council of November 15 and of November 17, showing, by direct answers to persons here who favor consolidation, that, in the event of annexation, Glendale would have to float bonds to pay for whatever sewers would be necessary and to bear the cost of connecting with the outfall sewer, or that it would have to form a local bond district and assess such district or issue bonds to build sewers in the business section of the city. "And even then, the minutes state that it would be at least twelve months after annexation had been decided upon before such a sewer system could be installed," Mr. Davis declared.

Will Boost Value

"It would pay the people of Glendale to build these sewers if they never ran a drop of water down them," asserted Mr. Davis. "The sight of constructive work being done in the streets of the city would be the greatest inducement to newcomers to settle here that could be devised, and the advance in property values would more than take care of the cost of the entire system."

In introducing the men who were to speak on the sewer proposition President Peter Hanson paid a tribute to Mayor Spencer Robinson and the members of the council who have worked so hard to secure the contract between Glendale and Los Angeles, pledging the support of the Glendale Realty board to pass the bonds at the coming election.

Declaring that Glendale will have a population of 60,000 people by the first of 1924, Manager

W. H. Reeves stated that during the past year, $101,650 had been expended in Glendale to build 2033 cesspools, money which, he asserted, had been practically wasted. And septic tanks that were a bit cost an immense amount in addition to the cost of the cesspools, he declared.

Praises Agreement

"The sewer system as planned now, will be big enough to take care of Glendale for the next fifty years, Mr. Reeves asserted, "and if this city is annexed to Los Angeles the system will cost double what it will cost if built from the proceeds of our own bond issue. The agreement Glendale has made with Los Angeles gives us what we want, and we should go ahead and pass these bonds by a sweeping majority."

Chester A. Smith, representing Burns & McDonnell, the engineers who have made the survey and drawn the plans for the sewer system, showed on his maps just where the various mains and lateral sewers would run, stating that the sewers had been planned on a basis that would take care of the requirements of the entire San Fernando valley up to a population of 1,000,000 people.

In answer to a question Mr. Smith stated that Burbank could not connect with the sewer system as planned at this time without first being annexed to Los Angeles, as the contract provides that only such territory as now is included in Los Angeles or that may later be annexed to it can discharge its sewage into this sewer. "It cannot hook on to Glendale's sewer without paying for that privilege and in the event of its annexation to Los Angeles, also paying its share of the cost of the sewer connection through Los Angeles to the ocean.

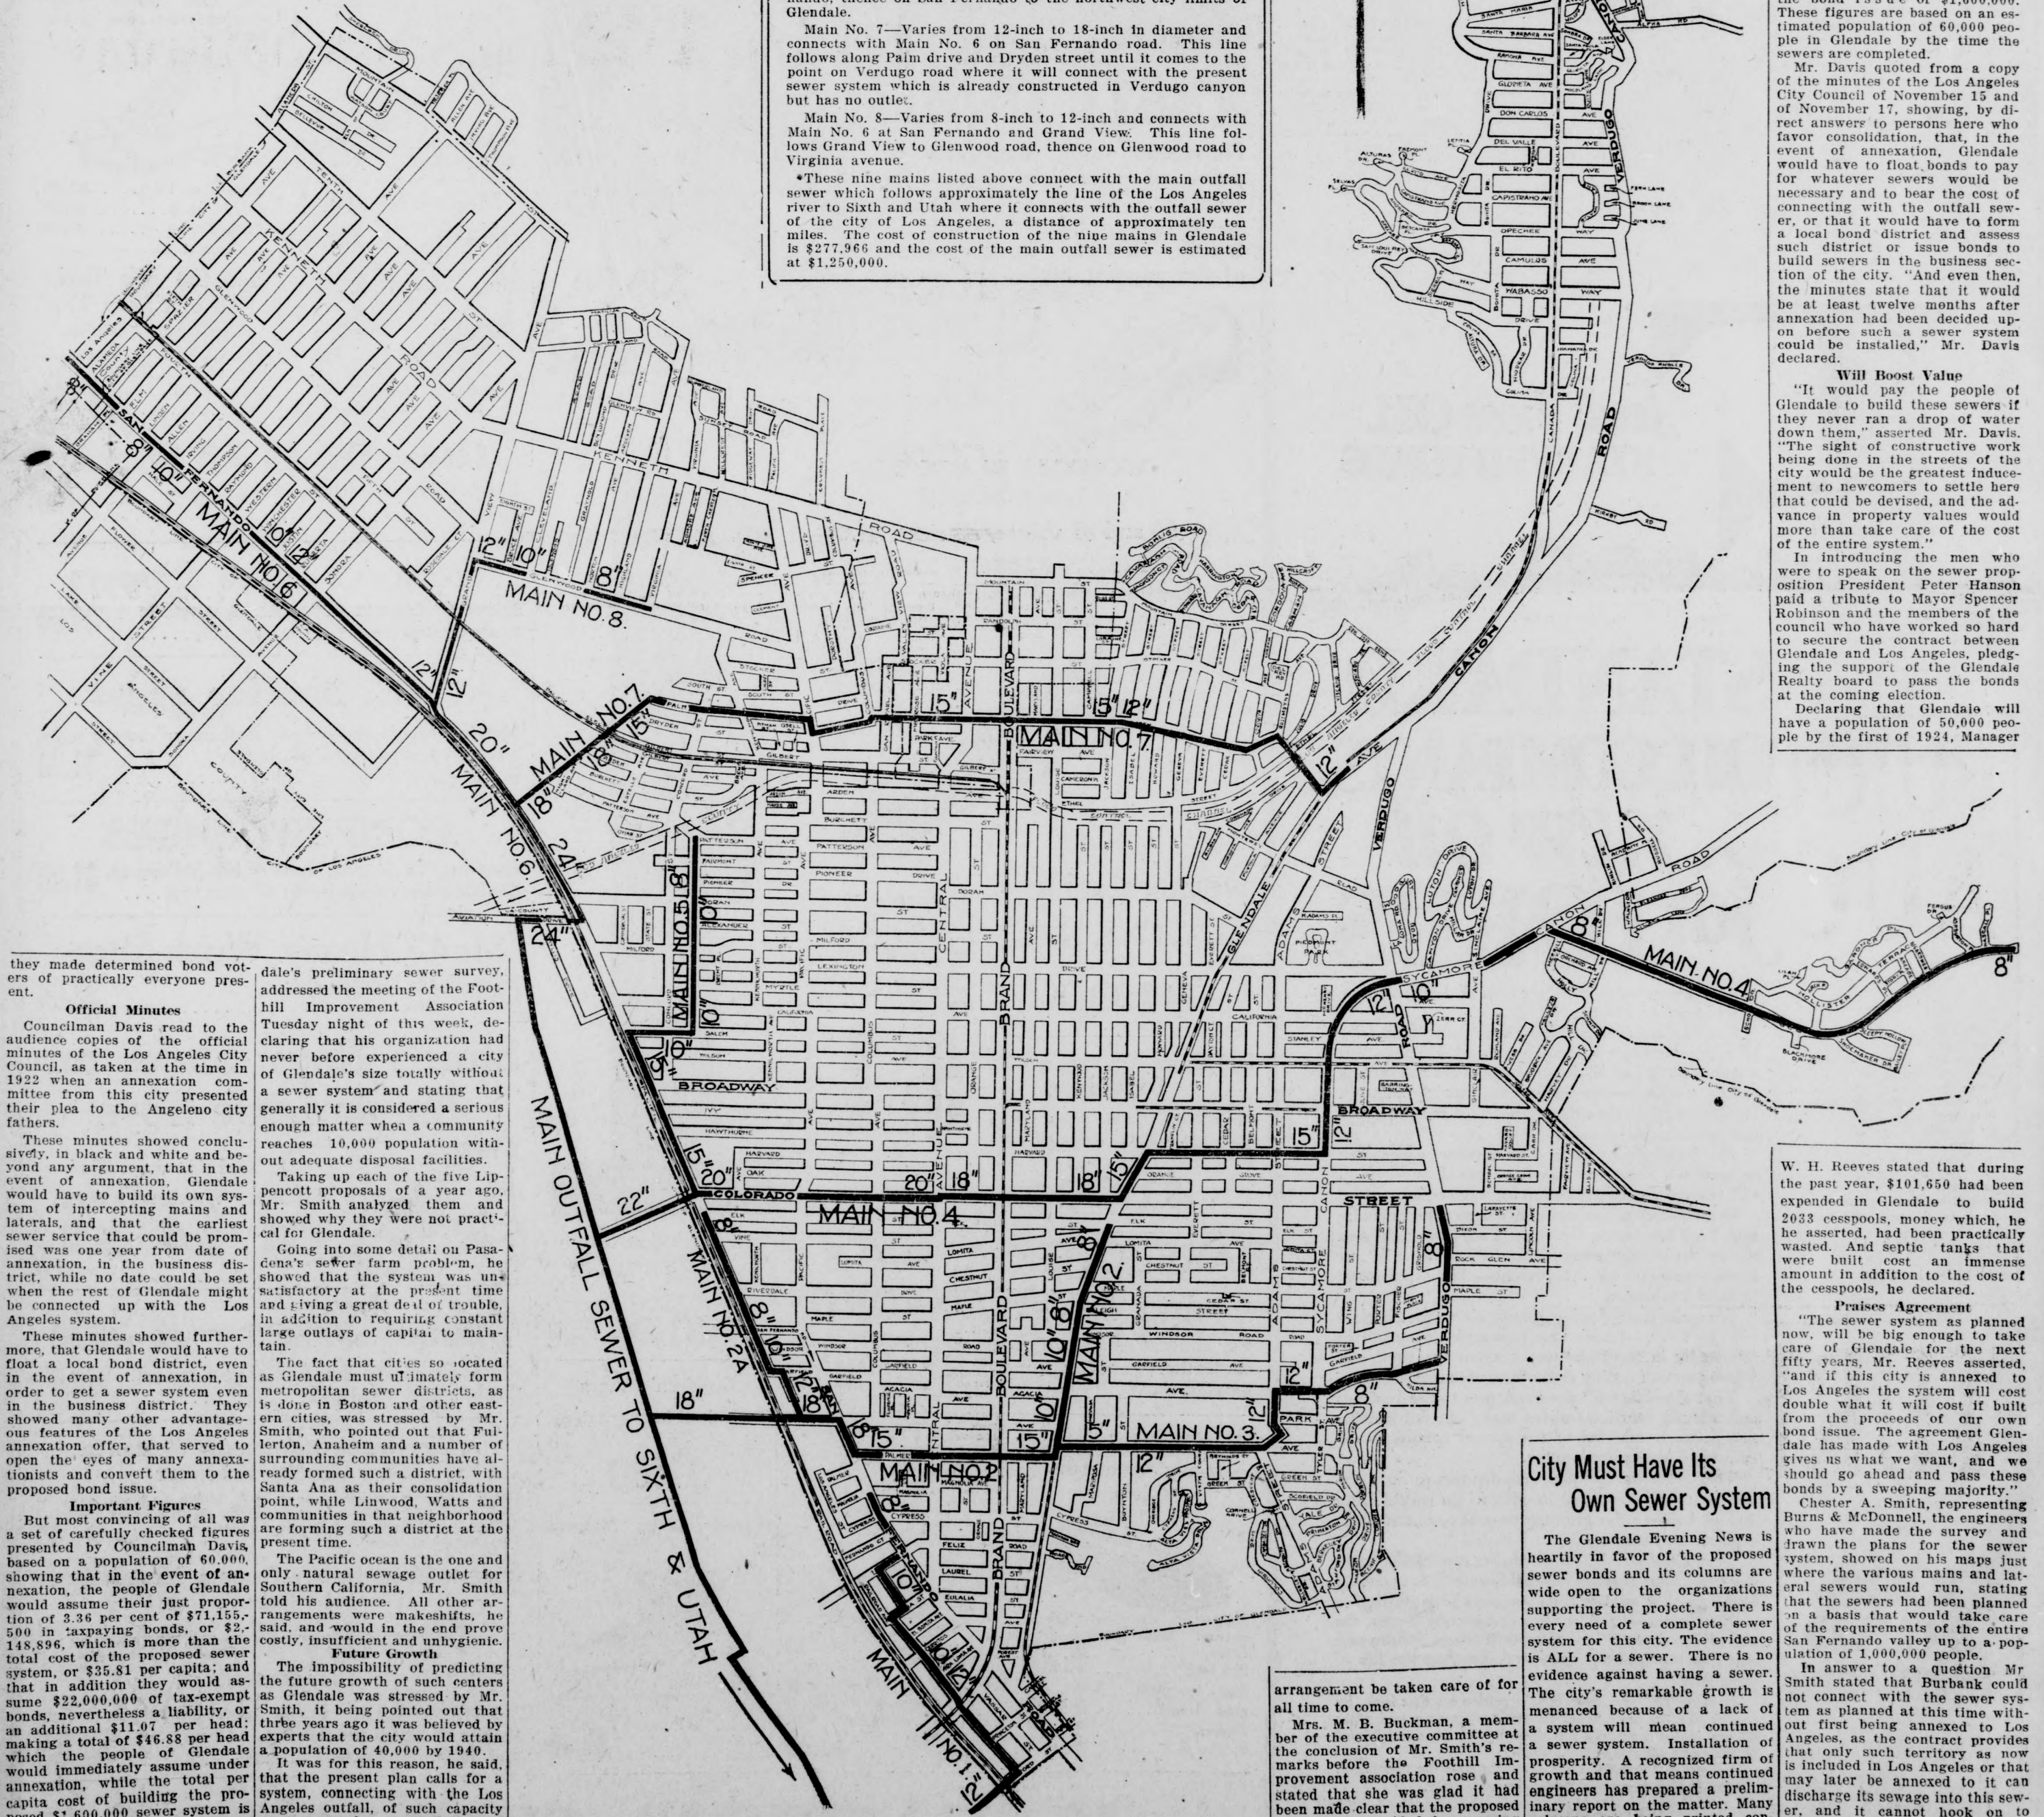

City Must Have Its Own Sewer System

The Glendale Evening News is heartily in favor of the proposed sewer bonds and its columns are wide open to the organizations supporting the project. There is every need of a complete sewer system for this city. The evidence is ALL for a sewer. There is no evidence against having a sewer.

The city's remarkable growth is menaced because of a lack of a system will mean continued a sewer system. Installation of prosperity. A recognized firm of growth and that means continued engineers has prepared a preliminary report on the matter. Many columns are being printed concerning the project. The election will be held on January 8, 1924. Let's tell the world Glendale is unanimous for a complete sewer system.

they made determined bond voters of practically everyone present.

Official Minutes

Councilman Davis read to the audience copies of the official minutes of the Los Angeles City Council, as taken at the time in 1922 when an annexation committee from this city presented their plea to the Angeleno city fathers.

These minutes showed conclusively, in black and white and beyond any argument, that in the event of annexation, Glendale would have to build its own system of intercepting mains and laterals, and that the earliest sewer service that could be promised was one year from date of annexation, in the business district, while no date could be set when the rest of Glendale might be connected up with the Los Angeles system.

These minutes showed furthermore, that Glendale would have to float a local bond district, even in order to get a sewer system even in the business district. They showed many other advantageous features of the Los Angeles annexation offer, that served to open the eyes of many annexationists and convert them to the proposed bond issue.

Important Figures

But most convincing of all was a set of carefully checked figures presented by Councilman Davis, based on a population of 60,000, showing that in the event of annexation, the people of Glendale would assume their just proportion of 3.36 per cent of $71,155,550 in taxpaying bonds, or $2-148,896, which is more than the total cost of the proposed sewer system, or $35.81 per capita; and that in addition they would assume $22,000,000 of tax-exempt bonds, nevertheless a liability, or an additional $11.07 per head; making a total of $46.88 per head which the people of Glendale would immediately assume under annexation, while the total per capita cost of building the proposed $1,600,000 sewer system is only $26.67 per capita; and these figures proved to be compelling, and upon conclusion of Councilman Davis' remarks many who had been more or less antagonistic in tendency saw that by going in with Los Angeles they would be shouldering a heavy debt, with a great deal higher tax rate than at present, and without the very sewer system they are certain to get under the present plan.

Going into some detail on Pasadena's sewer farm problem, he showed that the system was unsatisfactory at the present time and giving a great deal of trouble, in addition to requiring constant large outlays of capital to maintain.

The fact that cities so located as Glendale must ultimately form metropolitan sewer districts, as is done in Boston and other eastern cities, was stressed by Mr. Smith, who pointed out that Fullerton, Anaheim and a number of surrounding communities have already formed such a district, with Santa Ana as their consolidation point, while Linwood, Watts and communities in that neighborhood are forming such a district at the present time.

The Pacific ocean is the one and only natural sewage outlet for Southern California, Mr. Smith told his audience. All other arrangements were makeshifts, he said, and would in the end prove costly, insufficient and unhygienic.

Future Growth

The impossibility of predicting the future growth of such centers as Glendale was stressed by Mr. Smith, it being pointed out that three years ago it was believed by experts that the city would attain a population of 40,000 by 1940.

It was for this reason, he said, that the present plan calls for a system, connecting with the Los Angeles outfall, of such capacity as to care for a population of 1,000,000 in Glendale and surrounding communities, while allowance is made for 20 per cent in excess of an ultimate Glendale population of 240,000.

Judging from the numbers of questions asked and from the satisfaction expressed over the clear replies, it can be safely stated that when Glendale people understand the sewer matter in its various angles, they become heartily in favor of it. On the night of December 18, the occasion of the public mass meeting called to explain the sewer project to all Glendale, it is urged by Mayor Robinson and Councilman Davis that every resident of the city who does not thoroughly understand every angle of this great forward-looking project be present as a civic duty and obtain the enlightenment that will make his vote a sewer bond issue.

Chester A. Smith, engineering expert for the firm of Burns & McDonnell, who are making Glendale's preliminary sewer survey, addressed the meeting of the Foothill Improvement Association Tuesday night of this week, declaring that his organization had never before experienced a city of Glendale's size totally without a sewer system and stating that generally it is considered a serious enough matter when a community reaches 10,000 population without adequate disposal facilities.

Taking up each of the five Lippencott proposals of a year ago, Mr. Smith analyzed them and showed why they were not practical for Glendale.

SAWTELLE COMES TO PLAY OFF TIE

Arnold's Pastimers Appear
On White Sox Diamond
On Holiday Bill

Larry Arnold's crew of ball tossers from Sawtelle, who invaded Glendale last Sunday to play an eleven inning tie with the White Sox, will make their appearance here on New Year's afternoon when the draw will be played off. Mike Donlin and Larry Arnold got together at Los Angeles yesterday afternoon and the place was decided by a flip of the coin, and Mike won.

According to the latest dope, Whitaker, who saved the day for the White Sox, and Barnaba, who had the locals eating out of his hand for the last five innings, will start on the mound. Arnold has added Chuck Leathers to his aggregation, but otherwise the teams will probably line up the same as on last Sunday, when they staged the best game witnessed this season in the Triple A league.

With the Pacific Electric and the N. O. Nelson company fighting it out for the Major Industrial league championship on Saturday, George Walsh, the White Sox, with Palms-Culver City on Sunday, and Sawtelle here on Tuesday, local fans have a holiday bill of fare that will be the best in southern California.

And by the way, don't make the mistake that we did. The first time we saw George Walsh out on the lot in a ragged old undershirt and his hair hanging down his back, we inquired of Grant Leisner who the "farmer" was. When informed it was George Walsh letting his hair grow to play the heavy in Ben Hur we stole silently away to the shadows of the press box. George, who is a former big leaguer, has been working out with the White Sox for several weeks, as he is fond of the game and takes this method to keep in condition.

Cobb Announces He Will Warm Bench
Much of Next Year; Here's His Outfield

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The time has come when Tyus Raymond Cobb, super-player and outfielder, feels that he can step out of the Tiger outfield gracefully.
 And as a result he may bench himself most of next season and confine his activities to managing the club in general and prepping his youngsters, in whom he places considerable confidence right now.

This is the word from Cobb, wintering in his home town of Augusta, Ga.

The Tiger outfield will be Harry Hellmann, Henry Manush and Bob Fothergill, with "Red" Wingo perhaps alternating with Ma-nush.

This doesn't mean that the Georgia Peach thinks he is through. Cobb makes it plain that he isn't. "I can still hit over .300 and my legs aren't stiff yet," says Cobb. "But the outfielders I have are set for a big year and should have the chance.
 It would be unjust to keep Ma-nush and Fothergill on the bench much of the time."

Hellman needs no introduction, as the after dinner pest says. He has led the league in batting two different years.

Bob Fothergill was slated to take Cobb's place a year ago by some experts. He lacked seasoning, however, and was sent to the International league. Now he is ready to go. He is fleet footed and a sure fly catcher.

Henry Manush, the western leaguer, is not only a beautiful outfielder but a good hitter.

The fourth member, "Red" Wingo, is a youngster, but a good hitter and, what is better yet, a left-hand batter. This gives Cobb a batting shift in his outfield to meet right and left hand pitching. Wingo probably will alternate with Manush against righthand-ers. Cobb himself will be ready to step into the breach also when strategy demands it.

Incidentally, Cobb is enthusiastic over the prospects of the Tigers for next year. The rumors that he was disgusted with his efforts and lacked the co-operation of the players and fans worries him not.

"My outfit was playing the best ball in the league at the close of the season," says Cobb. "What is more to the point, the youngsters were showing the results of a season or part of a season of training. They were using their brains."

Cobb realizes that the greatest need of the Detroiters is a good second baseman.

"In Blue at first, Rigney at short and Jones on third, we've some infield—one that any big league manager would like. If I can get a second baseman who can keep pace with them I'll have the sweetest infield in the big leagues. One or two utility men are the only other needs of the club.

"As the club stands now you'll hear from it."
 Which places Tyus in the front ranks of the prophets. But he has reason to enthuse.

 of his real estate activities in Culver City, Calif.

A novel experiment is being tried with the latest heavyweight boxing sensation in New York.
 The gen referred to is Joe Stoessel.

Two wealthy New York Italians, Marco Tosti and J. P. Baroni, friends of the giant mauler, have taken him in charge and to prevent his being rushed to the slaughter by some avaricious manager or promoter they have hired a manager for him and put both the manager and Stoesssel on a salary. This may envelope the fat enough to carry both men along comfortably while Stoessel is getting a toe hold, so to speak.
 He is to be matched carefully and with no regard for purses.

The idea may not work out—due to human frailty and Stoessel's failure to show. But it is a worthy experiment.

Too often are young, inexperienced fighters thrown into the arena to be chewed up by a wild man or a clever boxer to boost that person's game or earn a few extra nickels for the unscrupulous manager of the beginner.

Pirpo was a victim of this money madness. Had he waited a year the result of his meeting with Dempsey might have been different.

Boxing enthusiasts and experts are searching every nook and cranny in Great Britain for heavyweight boxing prospects.

For the British Isles are face to face with the situation of having no man worthy of being called a heavyweight fighter. Joe Beckett, the last of the heavy race, is done. Never got very far. Bombardier Wells fizzled. Gunner
 Moir failed to get near the top.
 And a score of others tried to emulate the glorious deeds of little Charlie Mitchell without success.

Where are the fighters of bygone days?
 They move around a bit, of course, but here is what some of them were doing at last reports:
 Jess Willard is living a life of ease in Los Angeles, keeping one eye on his Kansas farming interests and the other on his bank-roll, which it is said the oil sharks once grabbed.

Ad Wolgast, grand little fighter in his day, is on the coast, broken in health and spirit.

Billy Papke, former middleweight champ, owns an orange grove in Altadena, Calif.

Leach Cross, former lightweight favorite, is dabbling in oil and real estate on the coast.
 Kid McCoy is in the movies.

GAME OF CARDS ENJOYED BY ALL

Christmas and New Year's Uncle Sam Deals Many Good Hands-Full

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.
Now that the flow of Christmas cards has stopped with the morning's mail (we hope) the ebullient New Year's greeting takes its place and from all over the land the best of wishes clog the lock boxes, overburden the mail carriers and otherwise give us cause for rejoicing in numerous friends, business acquaintances and former associates.

If we had time to interview Captain D. Ripley Jackson, postmaster, or rather if some of his carriers had time to tell us their thoughts on the subject no doubt the senders of cards would resolve next Tuesday to be more sparing of the postage, although if there is any profit in first class mail the Christmas and New Year season is a "knock-out."

Locks of Good Licking
One of the dealers in cards in Glendale confides that he sold something like 22,500 this year and no doubt the total sent from here was close to a quarter million. That is not such an astounding figure when you stop and consider that the writer readily admits sending 104 cards this season. Think of licking that much potato paste from stamps and envelopes in this little game of cards!

And we got 'em in return from New York, Chicago and other points east, not to mention cities in the immediate vicinity. Verily, there is a sizable basket full of the blessed little cherries churning around the house and office. They are of every size and character, from the ridiculous to the sublime.

What is there more thrilling, however, than receiving a card from far away—and as you tear open the envelope guess who it is that has thought of you here in Glendale?

Gosh, ain't it the grand and glorious feeling? We'll say so!

Expect Big Audience at Musical Recital

A large attendance is expected tonight at the recital to be given at the Congregational church by Miss Lilla E. Litch, organist, assisted by Helen Graham Cole, soprano.

The concert will be given at 8 o'clock and there will be no admission charge nor offering.

Both Miss Litch and Mrs. Cole are well known in Glendale musical circles, and their many friends are looking forward to hearing them tonight.

House With Mansard Roof Is Landmark Dating Back To Former Ranching Days

By "OLD TIMER"
Of The Evening News Staff.
The tall yellow house with the mansard roof which stands just off San Fernando Road in the heart of the business district between Central avenue and Los Feliz Boulevard, is somewhat peevish at the attention received by "the house of the open shutters" which stood at one time where the Gateway Theatre now stands.

The tall yellow house lays claim to even greater antiquity as well as having suffered the equal indignity of being torn from its foundations amid the picturesque surroundings of tall eucalypti and swaying pepper trees.

It was removed farther to the west and deposited in a section which was soon occupied by business houses which effectively concealed it from the passerby. To this is added the further indignity of being used as a lodging house and the front lawn is the site of a Jap market.

After living within two blocks of this landmark for over two years and being entirely ignorant of its existence, the writer's attention was called to it with the request to "tell about that."

Seeks Landmark
The balmy air of that glorious afternoon of the day before Christmas enticing for a walk and wishing to purchase some Japanese persimmons, a search was instituted both for persimmons and for the old-time landmark of the early days.

With only a glimpse of its upper story and mansard roof possible at a certain angle, the clue was followed and the open gate of a feed and fuel yard invaded, and the old house stood revealed.

It is full two stories with a mansard roof above that, with green shutters thrown back from the windows, reminding one of the old New England houses, although there is nothing colonial about it. It is of the construction and architecture of the middle eighties. A long ell increases the size of the ground floor, and it must have been an imposing structure, standing in suitable surroundings.

It is of the type of house that is to be seen along the boulevards on the fruit ranches near Pomona and Ontario and other inland towns when every house had its five or ten acre home place.

It was before the bungalow type had been found to be more adapted to California climate, where sunshine reaching to every room was a desirable asset.

The tall yellow house used to stand on what is now the site of the bungalow home of C. L. Tiedaker, the agent of the Southern Pacific, at 338 El Bonito street. A street, the name of which is disputed by the residents of the section, ran by the house, leading over to Los Feliz, thus accounting for the regularity of the line of big trees in the yards of the modern homes. More likely it was one of the drives through the

Richardson's Home
The house was built in the "eighties" by the late W. C. B. Richardson and was occupied as the family home for two years or more, but it is said that Mrs. Richardson did not like it, and so the gray house with the cupola and gables on San Fernando road near Cerritos, "the house of the open shutters," which now stands at the corner of Eulalia and Gardena streets, was erected and became the family home for many years.

The mansard roof house was later the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Richardson and was one of the most hospitable homes in the valley.

The two houses mentioned, with a brick house still standing, are the three landmarks in a tract bounded by Los Feliz, San Fernando road and the Southern Pacific tracks.

The brick house is known as the Jellison place, but that, too, is another story.

ASKS MINISTERS TO ATTEND PLAY

Manager of Stock Co. Invites Glendale Pastors to See 'Pollyanna'

The ministers of Glendale have been invited to witness "Pollyanna," now being presented nightly at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre by the Royal Stock company.

Charles E. Royal, manager of the company, who makes this announcement, states that such wholesome, moral plays as "Pollyanna" have a good influence on a community, and that the church should work hand in hand with the theatre for the betterment of the public.

"The goodness of Pollyanna, the little 'glad girl,' leaves an impression one never forgets," says Mr. Royal, "and makes real boosters for the spoken drama of all who see the play."

"Pollyanna" will show tomorrow and Saturday nights, at 8:20 o'clock, with a 2:30 o'clock Saturday matinee.

The entertainment last night was a postponed meeting of the Rotary club scheduled regularly for Wednesday noon. The directors of the club met at the Egyptian Village to take care of visitors who were here to make up their attendance.

ROTARIANS MEET IN XMAS FROLIC

Rotariannes Give Dinner and Program for Memebrs Of Local Club

Santa Claus was several hours late in visiting the Glendale Rotary club, but, judging from the amount of cheer "he" spread when "he" did arrive, there was ample cause for the delay. It was last night's Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse that the notable event took place, in the form of a Christmas party for Rotary members by the Rotariannes.

Starting with the dinner at 7 o'clock, the program provided by the women lacked no detail to qualify them as hostesses of the highest order. Rotariane Araba Hunter was chairman of the entertainment, and Rotariane Margaret Kirkman was Old Santa "himself," with presents for all.

Mrs. Charlotte Busby distributed the gifts, reading to each Rotarian a specially composed verse concerning the various members.

The program wouldn't have been complete without a Christmas tree, and this feature was taken care of in splendid fashion. A beautifully decorated tree far too tall for Santa to reach its topmost branches was arranged at a side of the dining room. Amidst the lights and colored balls on the tree, hung the gifts for the Rotarians.

Foreign Greetings
Following the banquet several of the Rotariannes were called upon by Chairman Hunter to bring greetings from Rotary International in foreign countries, and the following responses were made: Lillian Newton, Scandinavian; Elizabeth Johnson, France; Kathryn Ford, Japan and China; Mary Cooper, Hawaii. Francis J. W. Henry was called upon to represent Scotland.

A contest in making animals of peanuts, toothpicks and chewing gum revealed a wealth of hidden talent among the Rotariannes and Rotarians, many unique and ingenious "animals" being made from these scant materials.

An interesting part of the entertainment program was the contest in which all the guests were required to write the names of songs played in a pianologue. Harry Webb won first prize by naming twenty-eight songs out of thirty-four, while the second prize went to Frankie Webb, Mr. Webb's mother, who named twenty-five.

Mrs. Helen Sawyer was at the piano during the contest.

Kitchen Orchestra
One feature of the entertainment that met with an enthusiastic reception was the Rotariane "kitchen" orchestra, with Alma Kelly as conductor. The instruments ranged from an egg-beater to a "pipe" organ, the latter being a combination of a child's toy piano with three joints of stovepipe to qualify as a pipe instrument. Other members in the orchestra were Belle Newton, Mary Cooper, Roberta Olin, Florence Eastman, Louise Bentley and Elizabeth Downing.

Event Tomorrow Will Mark Beginning of Work on New Boulevard

The mammoth steam shovel which will do the excavating work on the new Glen Oaks boulevard connecting Glendale and Pasadena will arrive at the junction of Brand boulevard and San Fernando road tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock. There it will be met by representatives of the various organizations of the city, and a parade to go up Brand to Broadway, thence east on Broadway to Glendale avenue, will be formed.

John R. Powers, one of the partners in the Glen Oaks, who is constructing this $100,000 highway which later will be presented to the city, stated this morning that in all probability William G. McAdoo, prominent Democratic leader who is mentioned as a strong presidential candidate possible, would be present at the exercises in connection with the beginning of operations.

Many other notables will be on hand for the occasion.

Among the former officers taking part will be Dale Peet as high priest, Ross Hook, Roy Masters and others.

'Support Sewer Bonds' Is Message Kirk Sends From Italy on European Tour

Hearty support of the sewer bonds is urged by W. B. Kirk, formerly secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, who is now traveling abroad and writing to Glendaleans through the columns of The Glendale Evening News. The letter from Mr. Kirk today was written in Rome November 29, 1923, and he says:

"Yes, this is Rome, that sat on her seven hills and from her throne of beauty ruled the world. Why, in that elder day to be a Roman was greater than a king! It is such 'explosions' as these that came to mind as we entered the 'Eternal City' on Tuesday evening, and as we taxied to our hotel we could see enough to know that even yet there is at least some semblance of the ancient glory, which was hers."

"Our thoughts, however, were first centered on the fact that Rome was one of our mail points, where very important letters were expected (but not more eagerly than the friendly ones), so early yesterday morning I was at the American Express office and was not disappointed in receiving a large number of letters and a larger number of copies of The News, which had been accumulating for a month or more."

"The girls in the mail department at the office drew a sigh of relief when they heard my name because our stuff had been blocking their pigeon holes. But you may be sure we were more glad to get it, especially the one advising us that we would find an extension to our letter of credit at the Credito Italiano bank. 'What is home without a mother' has a good second in 'what is travel without money?'"

Mourns Fire Heroes
"Our minds are relieved as to the extent and damage of the big fire of October 13, but our hearts are saddened at the cost in the loss of life, sacrificed in line of duty. Clarence Edwards have known and always as a likable boy, trustworthy and optimistic. The citizens of Glendale, as always, responded splendidly in making up a fund of appreciation, in which I surely want to be counted."

"Of course I am delighted to hear that the sewer question for Glendale is finally worked out and I trust that the bond election for carrying out the same will 'go over' by a large majority; surely it will."

"I must not forget to tell you something about Florence before passing too far. This old, medieval city, called 'Firenze' in Italian, has been a great seat of art and learning for hundreds of years. It lies along the Arno or Lugarno (long Arno) river, which flows through its center more prominently than in most cities."

"Nearly all the big cities of the world, however, are situated on a river, did you ever think of it? Even in coast cities, with fine harbors, the river plays a prominent part."

"Here many of the hotels and large buildings face the river on both sides, although it is quite wide, and, at the present time, a yellow flood and anything but beautiful."

"They say that the climate here is good and that October was a beautiful month, but it has been very rainy in November and was cold till the last day of our stay, when it moderated very perceptibly."

"The business section is on the north side of the river and is closely confined so that it is a more compact city and easier to get to important points than is usually the case. There are several bridges, the main one being very wide and called Ponte Vecchio ('Old'). On it are shops, both sides, for its entire length."

In Small Compass
"Doesn't it seem strange that with all the space there is, people found it necessary to confine business and residence to such narrow streets and to use a bridge for shop purposes? Yet this bridge was so constructed in the 13th century. I presume the main reason for the congestion in narrow streets and high flat buildings was because of inadequate transportation, or none at all. The

ZANTIPPE PLANS POLITICAL COUP

Presidential Possibility May Run on Pawn Ticket To Spite Ford

With the Meal ticket shot full of holes by Henry Ford's announcement that he will support Calvin Coolidge for re-election Glendale's own candidate, Professor Xavitus Zantippe has left for Detroit, in spite of his bronchitis, to implore the "father of the flivver" to consider his candidacy.

Professor Zantippe has been making a strenuous fight to clear the field between here and Tullahoma to rid the voters of the Laundry ticket which he claims is stiffly starched already by Ima Kurlosky, the white hope of Admless Eden in the olive groves of Sunland.

Indeed, the learned professor says August September might do well in the primaries, but he would be frozen out in the November election.

Leaves Via Subway
"If I cannot get the vote of the Ford owners on the Meal ticket," said the professor last night as he departed from Glendale over the inverted subway to San Bernardino where he will hop off for a flying trip east, "there is only one alternative."

"It will be necessary for me to desert my party ranks, without a thin dime left in the Meal ticket for my opponents to punch at, and I will be forced to run on the Pawn ticket. If I can obtain two words against my character, veracity, candidity or something from Henry himself there is no question but what I would have the undivided backing of the Pawnbrokers on the Pawn ticket."

Auto Show Ought to Show
Oh yes, Professor Zantippe will visit New York to see the international automobile show with a view of learning whether or not the French have succeeded in making a better automobile in the Ruhr than the Germans formerly made in Alsace-Lorraine.

"In my opinion France will have to demonstrate its ability to operate the plants at Essen before the United States will establish a World Court to give Europe something more to fight about," concluded the professor as he flung out a fond "Au revoir" for his Glendale friends until another Friday rolls around.

"Up Helly Aa" is the name given a festival recognized by the Shetlanders every year on the last Tuesday in January, that is similar to the great Julefest of the north in the days of the Vikings.

TODAY—English Revue Coming to U. S.
By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—English theatrical folk are holding their fingers crossed and praying for success for the latest theatrical expedition from England to America.

Andre Charlot, England's successful revue producer, is opening in New York with an all-star London revue.

The question is whether New York, blasé to big spectacle productions, will take kindly to an intimate London revue, in which success depends upon the art of the performers and not upon the beauty of the scenery, the costumes or the chorus girls.

London's best revue artists have been selected for Charlot's venture.

Jack Buchanan, probably the best of the English dancing men, leads the male portion of the cast. Buchanan is a remarkably agile dancer and has a keen sense of humor, and while he makes no claim to being a great singer, he has a voice which is not unpleasant. Incidentally, Buchanan is the author of the musical comedy, "Dancing Time," which is now playing in the United States, after having had great success in England under the name, "Battling Butler."

The feminine honors in the revue will rest between Beatrice Lillie and Gertrude Lawrence.

New York is bound to applaud Gertrude Lawrence, for her artistry is ever evident and undeniable. Not only does she sing pleasantly, but she dances beautifully, and she is regarded as one of the best light comedy actresses upon the English stage. Moreover, she is charming to look upon. St. John Ervine, the erudite writer of dramatic criticisms and plays, says Gertrude Lawrence is one of the most beautiful women of the stage today. Broadway ought to learn to love Gertrude Lawrence.

Beatrice Lillie is as great an artist as Gertrude Lawrence, but her art is subtle, and there are some doubts as to whether she will get her just recognition along Broadway. Beatrice Lillie hasn't a voice, except for a squeaky little piping voice that she uses to

THREE MEN PLAN TRIP TO MOON

Will Start Long Ride On Huge Skyrocket

Prof. Robert H. Godard and the artist's conception of the journey to the moon

BERLIN, Dec. 28.—"Rub-a-dub-dub. Three men in a tub—" But the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker, had an unenviable voyage compared to the one the three souls who are intrepid enough to volunteer to ride to the moon in a skyrocket will have.

Herr Oberth, German engineer, is now discussing actual plans for the rocket with German engineers and scientists. These plans have reached the stage where the propellant power is being studied thoroughly. If Oberth carries out his idea, the rocket, driven by power supplied by alcohol or by hydrogen in a liquid state, burned with oxygen, will "take off" within the next few years, with its crew of three, for its non-stop run to some place.

The idea isn't new. It is one of hundreds learned men have

Who's Who in the Day's News

"DISCOVERY OF SYSTEM OF SELF-GOVERNMENT WOULD BE GREATEST BOON"

"Since the discovery of radiant matter, scientists have generally considered that the most useful and important of all inventions or discoveries would be one to enable the practical release for the use of man of the stupendous interatomic energy stored in matter," said Hudson Maxim, famous inventor, recently.

"But there is one invention or discovery which would far transcend even this in value. It is a system of self-government whereby the greatest good might be attained and the best united welfare of the people served, instead of the people being overwhelmed and made underwhelms of government officialdom—robbed lean in civil life and exploited and bled white in useless wars.

"The fathers of our country kicked out kingship and yoked up neck and neck to democracy to secure and safeguard the inalienable rights of man—life, liberty, ownership and the pursuit of happiness—and we have done much shouting about our triumphant democracy. But now our throats are parched, our lips are dry and our tongues rattle, and we can no longer shout as we did for democracy, unless we do as did the ancient mariner who hit his arm and sucked the blood and cried: 'A sail! A sail!'

"We, the voting classes, spend large sums of money and an enormous amount of valuable time, in fighting political battles to elect to office men to protect our interests, but who, in turn, largely become parasites and prey upon us, and sacrifice our liberties, just as others have always done.

"At the present time, in the United States the head of the taxpayer is bowed and his shoulders are bent under the weight of government and paternalism as actually as were the head and shoulders of old Atlas in the fable."

REAR ADMIRAL WILLIAM L. RODGERS

Rear Admiral William L. Rodgers, chairman of the general board of the United States navy and senior officer of that service, recently denounced the "Law now war" movement and pacifism generally.

The admiral minimized the value of the League of Nations as a factor for peace, except in cases where the desire for peace actually outweighed the causes for war.

Justifying war, he declared that the use of armed forces was necessary to uphold law in the world as it exists today. He urged this country to keep itself armed against outside aggression, and cited the trip of the fleet around the world in 1907 and the sending of the battleship Arizona to the Mediterranean in 1919 as displays of force which protected the interests of the United States and served to promote peace.

Admiral Rodgers was born February 4, 1869. He was graduated from the U. S. naval academy in 1878. He advanced steadily until becoming a captain in 1909. He became a rear admiral in 1916. He was commander-in-chief of the Adriatic fleet during the latter part of the war. He gave up his command in 1919.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

For Christmas Dottie Flufftail, the little lamb girl, was given a wonderful doll. That was not the only present Santa Claus left for Dottie, but the doll was the present the little lamb girl liked the best of all.

For, not only could the doll open and close her eyes, but she had real golden hair, and Dottie could take off the doll's clothes and put them back on again.

Most wonderful of all, though, was this: Dottie's doll could walk! Yes, really, she could! When Dottie wound up a spring in the doll's back, and set the doll down on the floor, the doll walked along almost like a real baby.

"An odd thing more," Dottie's doll could talk! Yes, really she could! When Dottie wound up another spring in the back of the doll, the little creature would say: "Mamma! Papa!" And it sounded very natural—almost like a real baby.

"I love my doll best of anything in the world!" murmured Dottie, rocking her Christmas present in her arms. "She is wonderful!"

So Dottie'd play with her doll during the week after Christmas, and then, one day, something dreadful happened. Dottie wound up the doll's walking spring, and the little lamb girl wound up the doll's talking spring.

But nothing happened. Dottie's doll didn't walk and Dottie's doll didn't talk.

"Oh, dear!" cried Dottie. "My Christmas doll is broken! Will you fix her for me, Daddy?"

Mr. Flufftail shook the doll. He turned her upside down and right side up, and he even jiggled her. But Dottie's doll would not walk and Dottie's doll would not talk.

"Oh, dear!" sighed the little lamb girl again. "What can we do, Daddy?"

"We must send for Uncle Wiggily," said Mr. Flufftail. And so the old rabbit gentleman was sent for.

"Um! Ah!" murmured Uncle Wiggily, as he twinkled his pink nose and looked at Dottie's doll. "Do you think you can mend her so she will walk again and talk again?" asked Dottie anxiously.

"I think so," answered the bunny. "I'll take her to my hollow stump bungalow and fix her. I think her springs need oiling as Todde's tooter did. Leave it to me."

So Uncle Wiggily hopped home to his hollow stump bungalow, taking Dottie's doll with him. And, as the rabbit gentleman hopped along, carrying the doll, the Bob Cat had chap that he was "looked out from behind a bush. Curling his whiskers and showing his teeth, the Bob Cat said to himself:

"Ah, ha! Uncle Wiggily is taking home some company. He'll be so busy talking to his company and looking at Dottie's doll, I think her springs need oiling and nibble his ears. That's what I'll do."

So the Bob Cat followed along behind the rabbit gentleman as Uncle Wiggily hopped to his bungalow with Dottie's doll under his paw.

"Let me see, now, what is the matter," said Uncle Wiggily to himself, for Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy had gone to the movies and the rabbit gentleman had the bungalow to himself. "First, I will oil the springs, then I will wind them unwind, and then I will wind them again. This may start the doll working."

So Uncle Wiggily oiled the springs inside the doll. Then he let them unwind, and then he wound them up by means of the keys in the doll's back. The bunny gentleman waited, but the doll did not walk and the doll did not talk.

"This is queer!" said Uncle Wiggily. "Perhaps I did not use the right kind of oil. I'll try some olive oil on the doll." Leaving Dottie's doll in the parlor, Uncle Wiggily went into the kitchen to get the olive oil. And, just as the bunny went out, in through the parlor window climbed the Bob Cat.

"Now I'll nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears," snickered the Bob Cat. Then he saw Dottie's doll lying on a chair, but the Bob Cat did not know it was a doll.

"Hello, little girl!" cried the Bob Cat. "Where did Uncle Wiggily go?"

But the doll did not answer, of course.

"Come, you are not very polite!" snapped the Bob Cat. "You should speak when you are spoken to. Where is Uncle Wiggily?" But the doll did not answer.

Then the Bob Cat most impolitely became angry and he hit and jiggled the doll and snarled: "Answer me!"

And then, all of a sudden, the springs inside the doll began to work. Up she rose and she not only walked, but she ran straight at the Bob Cat. And the doll cried: "Mamma! Papa!" and the Bob Cat was so frightened that he cried:

"Oh, don't call your father! Don't call your mother! I'll go out! I won't nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears today!" And out of the window jumped the bad chap.

When Uncle Wiggily came back with the olive oil, the doll was walking and talking as she had done at first.

"Ho! Ho!" said the bunny, who had seen the Bob Cat running away, "the bad chap is a better doll doctor than I am."

So Dottie's doll was mended, perhaps by the oiling Uncle Wiggily did, and perhaps by the blow the Bob Cat gave, but, anyhow, she was mended. So all was well. And if the rubber ball doesn't bounce out of the window and tickle the hand organ monkey's tail, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Sammie's skates.

This convenient litter for taking eggs and vegetables from boiling water is in the form of pincers with hoopsnap jaws that slip over the surface of the object to be grasped.

Where did Uncle Wiggily go? cried the Bob Cat.

NEW G. & M. CARS RECEIVED BY CO.

Rolling Stock to Be Used In Improving Service After New Year's

The new cars for the Glendale & Montrose railway have arrived, and after being carefully unwrapped from their burlap coverings are housed in the Montrose car barns. The cars are a brilliant vermilion in color and are quite a change from the worn-out looking old ones.

It is expected the new service will be in effect after the New Year, half hour service during the day and twenty-minute service during the early morning and evening business hours.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Foy and family of Piedmont street spent the Christmas holidays with their married daughter, Mrs. Lovejoy of Long Beach.

The rain the other evening was apparently responsible for a serious accident which occurred on Michigan state highway, when a Studebaker car driven by a brother of T. P. Savellano, the owner, skidded on the damp pavement, turning around twice and finally landing in the ditch. Mr. Savellano, who was driving, had both arms fractured and his brother suffered from lacerations and bruises on his head and chest. The third member of the party was unhurt and was able to give directions for taking the brothers to their home in Pasadena, though he left no address at Jennings Young's garage, where the car is lodged.

The hood of the Studebaker is a total wreck, the fenders are badly smashed up, while the steering wheel and windshield were practically demolished.

An Oakland was also found on the highway upside down, but nothing further was learned of this car, which was shortly removed, presumably by the owners.

Party for Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown entertained at a Christmas party last evening for their daughter Margaret. The auditorium where the party was held was decorated in keeping with the season, the greens and reds predominating, while a spray of mistletoe held a prominent place over the doorway.

Songs, games and dancing were enjoyed by the young people while solo dances were given by Mary Ann Howard and Elizabeth Talbot Martin.

Small cakes and punch were served, Mrs. Brown being assisted at the punch table by Mrs. Mary B. Darrow.

Guests present were: Florence Peterson, Irene Murdock, Dorothy Potter, Mildred Maranville, Mildred Fanny Clark, Charlotte Foy, Mary Ann Howard, Elizabeth Talbot Martin, Virginia and Helen Haskins and Lollie Hopkins, Robert Potts, Laurence Potter, Harold Swanson, Jack Brown, Leland and Homer Mead, Willie Clark, Frank Hopkins, Paul McAsker, Gregg Haskins, Philip, Billy and Donald Brown.

Mr. Collins, as president of the Improvement association, asks everyone with any complaint or suggestion in regard to the telephone service here, to write him a letter. Phone service and its betterment will be the subject of Thursday night's business meeting.

The phone service here is said to be below par and it is hoped that in three months it not only may be improved, but that we may have our own central station if the number of phone users warrants it.

Those who wish to have a telephone installed either in their place of business or their residence will get quicker attention if they write a letter stating their wants to Mr. Collins, La Crescenta, who is working on this question.

Mrs. Turner has returned from San Francisco where she underwent a serious operation. She is very much improved in her health.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Hansen and son John spent the Christmas holidays in Huntington Park.

Mr. Meyers' new residence, which is being erected on his acreage just off Ramsdale, is quite a picturesque type of house—with an English roof of the curved edge type.

The shingles on the roof are vari-colored and look very attractive under the oaks.

The Glendale Evening News is becoming quite a traveler, as Mrs. Findlay purchased extra copies of the issue containing the story of the Community church's presentation of "The Other Wise Man" to send back to Scotland.

Assistant Librarian Ousted by Officials

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 28.—The state civil service commission has ordered that Miss Ruth McLaughlin, assistant state librarian in charge of the Sutor branch, San Francisco, be ousted for insubordination. Miss McLaughlin was suspended by State Librarian Milton J. Ferguson several months ago when she is alleged to have refused to comply with an order transferring her from San Francisco to the main library in this city.

A society in Japan is seeking to eliminate from the text books in the public schools some of the 20,000 Chinese words now used in their printed language, for it claims they are difficult to learn and retard the children.

CONFESSIONS OF A BABY

A Holiday Tragedy
We had a wonderful time at our house, over the holidays, for my beloved Grammie came to visit us. I have grown to be such a big boy now she hardly knew me! Six months old!

Grammie has not seen me since I was a little shaver only four months old, for she has been at Aunt Sue's home, far away. You remember Aunt Sue and Uncle Louie? They are married now. I brought them together after some trouble; I don't know what it was, but I guess it had not been for me I would not have had any Uncle Louie. You remember I told you about it in one of my letters, so I won't repeat it today, for I want to tell you about Grammie and about the tragedy of our meeting.

You know how passionately devoted I am to my Grammie—how next to my mamma I love her better than any other woman in the world. Well—I am ashamed to tell—I did not know her! Wasn't that terrible, terrible! "My darling boy! Grammie's darling boy! Come to Grammie, darling," she said, with her arms outstretched to me, and I—did—not—put—out—my—arms—to—go—to—her!

I cuddled a tiny bit closer to mamma and looked at Grammie very gravely. I felt a great bond of sympathy between us, but oh, it grieves me to tell, I did not recognize her.

But, do you know, my wonderful Grammie was not offended at all! And she did not try to take me, and when mamma chided, "Why, Sockums, don't you know your Grammie?" she took my part just as usual! She protested, "Of course he doesn't, Anna." (That's my mamma's name—isn't it lovely?) "We mustn't expect babies to remember so young," and then she began to visit with mamma and ask all about me and commented on how I had grown and how lovely I was, and lots of other things.

Meanwhile I watched her seriously, feeling myself drawn to her more and more, and later when she asked me to come to her, up went my little hands quick, for I knew she belonged to me. How happy we both were! I could see she had actually suffered from being separated from me, and to have her arms around me eased her aching heart. Isn't she wonderful? I'll try never to forget her again.

The little lesson you are to get from my experience, you mamas and all others who are interested in babies and children, is never to try to force us babies to come to you until we feel acquainted with you. My Grammie knows everything, and you can profit by her example.

I want to tell you about my Christmas dinner, too. Up to now I have had nothing to eat except my orange juice and one bottle of modified milk a day and my own precious milk made for me by my dear mamma. I have told you

I wonder why the average home woman is oblivious to the decorative possibilities of the scrap basket? I know of countless well-furnished homes which do not contain even one dainty or artistic waste basket.

Perhaps the secret of this condition lies in the fact that one cannot very easily find pretty scrap baskets in the shops. The metal and wooden ones are preferable to the wicker ones—but the best of them frequently refuse to harmonize with the color schemes of our rooms. The clever home-maker, however, can overcome this diffi-

Feminist Opposes Marriage Of Convenience

Mlle. B. Bretty

PARIS, Dec. 28.—There are now more than 300,000 women in France who were forced to marry men chosen by their parents and required to turn over their dot in cash to be spent or used as their husbands saw fit. This is the statement of Mlle. B. Bretty, who is the leader of a movement to suppress the French marriage of convenience and obligatory "dot."

FINE, BUT WHAT IS IT?
During the course of our varied and rather exciting career we have received several hundreds of tons of bunk in the mails. We have slender and as fantastic in shape as you please.

For the Dining Room: It is often convenient to have a waste basket in the dining room—especially if a small window desk is a part of the furnishings. The dining room scrap basket need not be quite as severe as those in living room, music room or library. It may be cretonne-covered to match the window overdrapes, or burlap-covered in the same shade as the portieres or rug.

For the Child's Bedroom: An appropriate scrap basket for a child's room can be made by cutting four square panels out of stiff cardboard, covering these with linen on which you have applied colored Mother Goose cutouts, then lacing or tying these panels together (with ribbon) to form a box-like structure. Put in a bottom piece, and the work is finished.

BEAUTY CHATS

By EDNA KENT FORBES

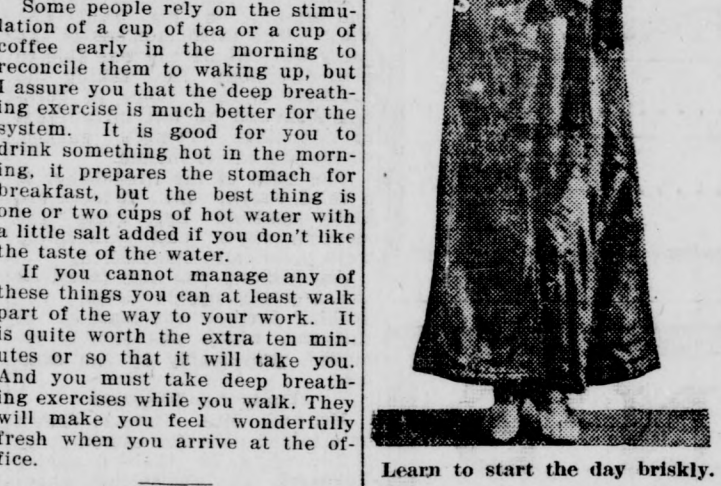

DO YOU FEEL FRESH?
Do you feel fresh when you wake up in the morning? I am afraid very few people do; nervous people never do. Their night's rest only relaxes them enough to make them feel tired, and it requires a little stimulation and excitement to make them feel really fresh.

To feel well first thing in the morning you must have had a good night's sleep. A great many people believe in a cold bath in the morning. I'll admit this is excellent if one has the courage and the strength. I would suggest as a substitute for the less courageous a quite hot bath in a hot bathroom, followed by a quick spray with cold water either from a shower bath, or, if you are fortunate enough to have one, from a hose attached to the cold water faucet. This produces what doctors call a beneficial reaction and does away with the possibility of catching cold.

If you haven't the opportunity for this, or if you prefer your bath later in the day, roll yourself up well when you get out of bed, go to your open window, breathe deeply twenty times. If possible, do arm exercises at the same time. If you do other exercises daily, as you should, this is the best time to take them.

Some people rely on the stimulation of a cup of tea or a cup of coffee early in the morning to reconcile them to waking up, but I assure you that the deep breathing exercise is much better for the system. It is good for you to drink something hot in the morning; it prepares the stomach for breakfast, but the best thing is one or two cups of hot water with a little salt added if you don't like the taste of the water.

If you cannot manage any of these things you can at least walk the way to your work. It is quite worth the extra ten minutes or so that it will take you. And you must take deep breathing exercises while you walk. They will make you feel wonderfully fresh when you arrive at the office.

A tested bread case for peas is not difficult to make. It serves the more elaborate patty shell and the materials are always at hand. Cut a square block of white bread and hollow out the center. Cover the case with melted butter and toast a golden brown. Place a tablespoonful or more of peas in the cavity, and garnish with parsley. Peas should be served with lamb.

COMMENT
That's All
Refreshing Recollection
Written Write Written
Business Needs Vision
Fear—Man's Great Foe
By Gil A. Cowan

There are certain old timers about Glendale who lay claim to only a richness of recollection. And they are the ones who get a great deal of "refreshment," so to say, out of the "Ten Years Ago" column found in the feature pages of The Glendale Evening News.

In one paragraph we note a potato patch growing at the corner of Louise street and Broadway! But an old timer will recollect what a good stand of corn could be seen along Brand boulevard only four or five years ago! That's the way with Glendale—always growing, potatoes, corn, population or buildings.

Fact, this city is fast developing a skyline. The six stories of the Security bank block, with a couple of other buildings in the offing to match it; the tower of the Presbyterian church, as well as several others not so high; the homes on the hillslopes—all combine to make Glendale look vast. And believe me you, (as Nina Wilcox Putnam puts it), Glendale is getting vast. Why, you can write it, talk it, sing it right out loud, if you wish, that Glendale has 50,000 people conservatively estimated. Truth is, this town of ours is growing faster than human comprehension.

Almost five years ago this writer started writing predictions. They were written, written, written, or something like that, according to the boy who carries out the old files. But they were written and some believed we were in earnest and bought property and sold it again and bought more and made a heap o' money while we kept on writing and never written matter for local consumption.

Why, we thought we had a vision of Glendale in 1925 as a city of 50,000 several years ago. And by golly 1923 hasn't faded out yet when the good news comes that 50,000 are here and more coming every day. Likely we will be far short of the actual figure if we say 75,000 will be living in Glendale in another twelve months. It sounds impossible, we will admit, but everything else we have written in the way of predictions were worse.

To be perfectly truthful we have yet to find the man, woman or child who over estimated Glendale. That is, since the war. However, it is difficult to look into the future without getting eyestrain, or something. And nobody yet has been able to see over the horizon of tomorrow.

The Chicago Tribune recently said: "For the business men with vision and courage we believe that era of unparalleled prosperity is opening. Business is as good as we make it."

There's a mouthful of wisdom that Glendale merchants must masticate while taking inventory this week.

Business is just WHAT YOU MAKE IT.

In Tulare the other day a home town booster pointed out a particular store to the writer, saying: "There's a fellow who has one of the most famous small town big stores in America. It has been written up in the Saturday Evening Post and all the trade journals."

Now what do you know about that? Best mercantile establishment of its type in America at Tulare. Why not Burbank or Glendale?

It can be done, but not overnight. It takes plan. It takes confidence. It takes financing. If you have a plan and the confidence the financing is not such a big problem.

The chances are few merchants plan their course a year ahead. They are afraid of their own shadow.

To the Stetson Shoe company we are indebted for this little story showing that lack of confidence and fear is the greatest foe anyone can have. Read of Mickey Doolan:

Mickey Doolan and his small bunch of cohorts stopped on a street corner on their way to school. There were two ways to finish the trip: a short way and a long way. Mickey was for the short way but two of his more timid followers reminded him that Terry Hoolan's gang might be waiting for them and stood out to take the longer route as the one of greater safety.

"Those who have the nerve, follow me," said "strong heart," Mickey.

Two of almost equal courage fell in behind; the others sought the "safety" route.

Mickey and his companions reached the school without trouble and waited to greet the deserters whose fears had been anticipated by Terry Hoolan who had lain in wait on the longer and surer way and taken physical toll of the more fearful members of Mickey Doolan's gang.

Betrothal of Prince Wins King's Approval
COPENHAGEN, Dec. 28.—Official announcement was made yesterday that King Christian has approved the nuptial engagement of Prince Erik Frederick Christian Alexander to Miss Lois Booth of Ottawa, Ontario. Miss Booth is a granddaughter of J. R. Booth, a multi-millionaire lumber man.

CLAIMS GLANDS RESTORE HEALTH
Gains New Lease On Life After Operation

Katherine Snieder
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—Mrs. Katherine Snieder, aged 73, plunged her youthful arms in a dishpan at the San Francisco relief home—"poor farm"—and merrily twirled the soap about. As she washed dishes she talked:

"Seems to me people don't do much nowadays here 'cept eat. But, then, I like to eat, too. I've had a terrible appetite since the doctor made me young again."

Then Mrs. Snieder told of undergoing an operation more than two years ago—an operation of gland transplantation. It was one of the first of a number of successful gland operations performed at the home.

Before the operation Mrs. Snieder suffered from melancholia. The world was black to her and often she said she wanted to die.

"But after the operation everything looked different to me," said Mrs. Snieder. "I felt so much younger and happier right after the operation—just like I feel today. I like to work and I can work now. I have dreams—happy ones—and it seems like there's hope in the future. No more blues for me now. I'm young feeling and happy."

OAKLAND AGENCY OPENS NEW HOME
Thos. E. Ricketts Will Be Host at East Colorado St. Quarters Tonight

The new sales and service building of Thos. E. Ricketts at 420 East Colorado street will be opened to the public tonight at 8 o'clock, at which time there will not only be a display of the newest Oakland six models on the floor but there will be music and other appropriate entertainment.

The opening of this new motor step in the commercial advance of Glendale, because while the building expresses a new note in architectural beauty and modern equipment it means even more, it represents another success among Glendale enterprises. Ricketts came here less than a year ago and secured the agency for the Oakland and set to work to put himself and the car on the Glendale map. The completion of his building and its formal opening mark the achievement of that goal.

Also the building of this imposing motor car home on East Colorado in the very heart of the new motor car row is an indication of the rapid growth and expansion of business in general in Glendale. Instead of remaining in a congested locality, huddled and groped, the motor car agencies are spreading out and East Colorado seems to be the logical center of that phase of business within a very short time.

"From the very first day that I started to handle the Oakland in Glendale I have made advances in business," says Mr. Ricketts. "I was thoroughly familiar with the Oakland before I arrived here and I knew that it was a wonderful piece of merchandise and all that was required was to let the people know it and selling would be easy. The car was more than made good here and with the new 6-54 now well under way, I seriously wonder if I haven't made a mistake in not building a much larger home for the Oakland than my new place is."

One feature of the new Ricketts establishment is that devoted to the used car department, in which there are at present several jobs that have been made over until they represent, Mr. Ricketts declares, surprising motor car values at the prices he is asking for them.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE
The residents of Visalia, a prosperous Northern California town of 9,000 population, assisted in the filming of "A Noise in Newboro," Viola Dana's new Metro starring picture, produced by Harry Beaumont, now showing at the Glendale Theatre.

Visalia was selected as the location for many of the exterior scenes of this Edgar Franklin story. Miss Dana and her company of twenty people spent ten days in the town and found every one so cordial that it was decided to stage the big scenes for the picture there instead of doing them in and about Los Angeles.

"A Noise in Newboro" was adapted to the screen by Rex Taylor and was photographed by John Arnold. Among those in Miss Dana's supporting cast for this entertaining photoplay are: Betty Francisco, Alfred Allen, Eva Novak, Allen Forrest, Joan Standing and Bert Woodruff.

THE GATEWAY
"The Mail Man," dedicated to the postal workers of the United States by its author, Mrs. Emilie Johnson, the feature picture showing at the Gateway theatre, is the first photoplay of its kind ever produced. It is a story of love, romance, humor, pathos and adventure, and is a vehicle for depicting the rather obscure mail man in a new and creditable light.

Starring in the picture is Ralph Lewis, who takes the title role of "The Mail Man." His characterization of this part endears him to the hearts of all who see the picture.

Ahly supporting Lewis are Johnnie Walker, Virginia Boardman, Marthy Sleeper, David Kirby, Josephine Adair, Taylor Graves, Hardee Kirkland, Richard Morris and Rosemary Cooper.

The Glendale's postal clerk's hand is appearing with this picture at The Gateway, while Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson is a vocal soloist on the program.

Pies By Temperature
BY LORAIN

Start with a good recipe for pastry and bake by temperature, and the problem of pie-making is solved. To make an excellent plain paste, sift together one and one-half cupfuls of pastry flour with one-half teaspoonful of baking-powder and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Work in with the tips of the fingers or cut in with two knives one-third cupful of shortening. Then add cold water gradually until enough has been added to make a stiff dough—about three to four tablespoonfuls will be needed. If there is time it is always well to chill the pastry at this stage. In warm weather this precaution is almost a necessity. In any case, the chilling hardens the paste and renders its manipulation easier. This pastry is suitable for both the under and upper crusts of ordinary pies. It is always tender, crisp and delicious. If, however, a more flaky crust is desired for the upper crust of the company pie a little more shortening can be added. Use the paste as made for the under crust. Then roll out the rest of the paste to one-fourth inch in thickness, spread over half of it one tablespoonful of

Tax Returns Reveal Prosperity of State
California corporations reported more gross income for the business year 1921 than the combined gross income returned by the corporations of sixteen big western states.

More income tax was paid by California corporations than the combined tax paid by similar business concerns in sixteen western states, with Delaware, Iowa, Vermont, New Hampshire and Hawaii added.

These were the two outstanding features of a survey of corporation returns for 1921, the first figures of which became available yesterday and were made public by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodell.

The federal chief's report showed that for one year California corporations reported gross income of $3,544,332,721, which exceeded the combined total gross income returned by Arizona, Alaska, Arkansas, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. California corporations paid income tax of $32,527,304, which was greater than the combined total tax paid by the sixteen western states with Iowa, Delaware, Vermont, New Hampshire and Hawaii added. The total for these states was $31,324,000.

The number of California corporations reporting net incomes was 7,397, and 7,784 filed returns showing no net income. Gross income of $816,108,871 was reported by California corporations who returned no net income and deductions of $924,653,590 were claimed, leaving a deficit of $108,549,719.

Deductions of $2,534,639,568 were claimed by corporations reporting net incomes which left a total net income subject to taxation of $194,184,282.

Realtors Urge Board Members to Use Term
Realtors of the national capital are increasing strongly the use of the term "realtor," a letter to the National Association of Real Estate Boards from the Washington Real Estate Board states.

Practice of clipping all advertisements of members where neither the term "realtor," nor the phrase "Member of the Washington Real Estate Board" appears, and of sending the clipping with a letter drawing attention to the omission, has been adopted to secure a 100 per cent co-operation in the placing of the meaning of "realtor" before the public.

Consistent use of the terms by members benefits both the members so advertising and the board, the board points out in the letter which its vigilance committee is using.

The Tulsa, Okla., Real Estate Board is among the boards urging constant use of "realtor" in newspaper advertising, letterheads, signs and billboards.

DRIVER HELD IN MOTOR ACCIDENT

Pedestrian Dragged 30 Feet
When Struck by Auto
Without Lights

M. Fernandes, of Montrose, while driving along Honolulu avenue in Montrose last night at 6:30, ran into and seriously injured Tom Travski of that city. According to the report made by Detective Sergeant Blake, who investigated the accident, Travski and Charles Smith, employes of Fletcher Ford of Montrose, were walking down the street when Fernandes approached, driving without lights. He apparently did not see the men until he struck Travski, who was knocked down, run over and dragged 30 feet before the car could be brought to a stop. The Jewel City Undertaking company's ambulance was called and the injured man removed to the Glendale Hospital and Sanitarium. He was suffering from a deep gash on the leg, severe body bruises and numerous small cuts. Sergeant Blake placed Fernandes under arrest. He will be turned over to the sheriff's office today.

Kansas College Men To Boycot Taxicabs

LAWRENCE, Kan., Dec. 28.—Higher education is being made altogether too high, taxicab tolls absorbing a large part of the allowance, is the realization of University of Kansas fraternity men. So it has come to pass that a code now exists in local "frat" circles by which members shall refrain from transporting "dates" in taxicabs, unless the weather be bad, or the affair formal. The code was approved at a meeting of interfraternity council, representing sixteen national societies, and was received with smiles by sorority girls, who have expressed their desire to make the ruling effective.

town is full of antique shops, art stuff of all kinds, sculpture, etc.

"From the English directory I gathered that there are about 700 or 800 English and American residents in Florence. The number of visitors, however, from both these countries is very large and their stay is usually extended. "An American lady we met there is making only four or five months' stay in Europe, but is spending a month there. I met an American gentleman there Saturday who has been there about two years, for the climate and art.

"The weather was so rainy on Friday, Saturday and Sunday that we were not able to get out much. King Alfonso of Spain, with his queen, was making a visit to Italy and they were in Florence on Saturday. The town was quite upset over it. There were crowds and lots of excitement. We had a glimpse of him, but the view of the military and crowds was much more interesting.

"Their police wear black Napoleonic hats and long capes, or cloaks, so they are very imposing, and there are a lot of them. The military are in different kinds of uniforms, most of them in the Fascist black, but some of them in green-gray, some wearing caps, some metal helmets, and many the round bowl-shaped caps with a big bunch of coque (rooster) tail feathers adorning them. We saw them in all Italian towns, but Florence is full of them.

Soldiers Everywhere "Italy is teeming with the military. One can easily see that all these countries are bristling with arms. What they are so well prepared for they are very apt to get. So, unless the United States, which is the only nation that can do so, steps in, or forces itself in, and the same was numbered Resolution No. 2236 and adopted.

Councilman Davis introduced a resolution entitled, "A Resolution of the Council of the City of Glendale ordering to be closed up, vacated and abandoned for alley purposes, that certain alley lying southerly of, and contiguous to the southerly line of Lot 16, Tract No. 250, as per map recorded in Book 15, Pages 130 and 131 of Maps, Records of Los Angeles County, California, in the City of Glendale," which was read, and on his motion seconded by Councilman Kimlin, the same was numbered Resolution No. 2237 and adopted.

Councilman Horn introduced a resolution entitled, "A Resolution of the Council of the City of Glendale declaring its intention to improve portions of Palmer Avenue, Central Avenue and San Fernando Road within said City," which was read, and on his motion seconded by Councilman Kimlin, the same was numbered Resolution No. 2238 and adopted.

On motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, duly carried, meeting was adjourned.

finds some way out of all this reparations turmoil, a new alignment and a real annihilating war will not be many years coming. "The uniform is carried to the most ridiculous extremes in all these countries. Every subaltern connected in any way with the government or a public utility corporation wears some kind of military-looking outfit. The railroad men at the stations frequently have very gorgeous ones, and even the section gang wear caps like an American conductor. Such tawdry display seems to appeal to the European. A reform in such things would be a good starter toward the real cutting down of the military and of putting out the military idea. More of Florence will be described in the next Kirk letter to appear shortly in The Glendale Evening News.
