Dr. George D. Darby to Have a Boat for Service on Waters of Rivers Inlet. New Diesel Engine for the Thomas Crosby. Hosts and Hostesses of Victoria Thanked as Conference Nears the End.

Marine missions came in for the most enthusiastic comment and endorsement at the B. C. Methodist Conference Tuesday. The Church is committing itself to this work with growing confidence in its usefulness.

The resignation of the secretary of Conference, Rev. R. M. Thompson was reluctantly accepted. It was accepted with the greater reluctance since it means the severance of the connection of Mr. Thompson with the church in British Columbia.

Wesley Church, Vancouver, has anticipated the first meeting of the conference in the city which will be held in October, by an invitation that it be held there.

Conference had one of its happiest and most enthusiastic occasions on Tuesday when Rev. J. P. Hicks introduced Dr. Clem Davies of the City Temple, who came to bring the greetings of himself and the Temple congregation.

"Big hold-ups that involve thousands of dollars worth of jewelry and bank notes are not undertaken in the casual manner of the old highwayman who held up his victims as they passed by and took their money."

Colwood, May 20.—A meeting of unusual interest was held in the Colwood Hall Monday night under the auspices of the Metchosin Farmer's Institute, when John D. The slides were greatly enjoyed and were instrumental in bringing home to many a realization of the beauties of our own surroundings.
Mr. Galloway's address was listened to with keen interest. The present activities in mining and the advertising of the many mining companies which has caused the mining industry to become more or less a topic of the day, made Mr. Galloway's address and sound advice doubly appreciated.

FROSTS DAMAGE PRAIRIE WHEAT

Grasshoppers and Caterpillars Busy Already in Interior of British Columbia
Winnipeg, May 20.—With wheat seeding nearing completion on the prairies, the excellent progress on the land this season has been offset in some districts by slow germination and slight damage by night frosts, according to the weekly crop report issued yesterday by the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway.
At points where wheat has shown above ground, reports indicate that the cold weather has materially retarded growth, but generally the frosts are believed not to have caused serious or extensive damage. Early sown oats and barley are also up, but some sections report that frost has set the crops back considerably.
Weather conditions have materially improved in British Columbia during the last week with the frost danger apparently passed. Grasshoppers and tent caterpillars have appeared in large numbers in the Vernon district and at Kamloops. Measures of extermination have been taken.

Europe Discussing Union of Churches

Brussels, May 20.—The Libre Belgique prints a letter received by Cardinal Mercier, Primate of Belgium, announcing the arrival at an early date in Malines of a delegation of British theologians. The delegation, which will be under the patronage of the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, will meet a group of Catholic theologians with a view to studying together in a friendly spirit the problem of a union of churches.
London, May 20.—The London Morning Post, discussing the departure of a party of English theologians for Brussels to resume the discussions with a Roman Catholic group of ecclesiastics under Cardinal Mercier, Primate of Belgium, says that unlike to the earlier talks, which were described by the Archbishop of Canterbury as "conversations, not negotiations," the character of the present delegation renders it impossible to regard any conversation in which it may be engaged as other than of great import, possibly of serious outcome.
The British delegation includes men of national reputation. The Post points out. They include Very Rev. Dr. J. Armitage Robinson, Dean of Wells; Rev. Dr. B. J. Kidd, Warden of Keble College, Oxford,

The bill embodies Winston Churchill's budget insurance plan for granting pensions to widows,

PLAGUE OF MICE IN AUSTRALIAN AREA

Special to The Times
Melbourne, Australia, May 20.—Victoria wheat farmers are growing alarmed at what threatens to be a repetition of the mice offensive under which they suffered so heavily some years ago. The enemy, whose strength grows with such mysterious rapidity, is attacking on two fronts, of ninety-eight and forty-six miles, along a railway where the wheat is stacked.
Australian farmers can easily imagine what the plagues of Egypt were like. The mice appear as suddenly as if Pharaoh's magicians had called them forth. The soil seems to breed them, and they are soon seen in countless numbers even in the farmhouses, where they attack everything eatable—even the noses of sleepers. What combination of natural conditions causes the plague is still unknown, and the only hope lies in the fact that the breeding ceases as quickly as it begins.

CIRCUS SPECTATORS HAD BRIEF THRILL

Special to The Times
Wellington, N.Z., May 20.—The audience at a circus performance at Eltham had a thrill if had not bargained for when a lion and lioness made a dash for liberty. The trainer was putting both animals through some tricks when the lioness leaped up the side of the enclosure and clawed at the roof, which was made of net. There was a gasp of terror from the spectators as they saw the animal force its huge body through the hole it had made.
Just then the trainer also made a leap, and swinging on the lioness's tail, contrived to drag it down and back into the enclosure. Enraged, it turned on him, followed by the lion, but, while attendants hurriedly re-fastened the net, the trainer cowed the animals with his whip and slip of the cage.

SENT TO PRISON
Paris, May 20.—Pierre Michaut and Jan Herbert, former employees of the Reparations Commission, were sentenced yesterday to eighteen months and two years imprisonment, respectively, for the theft of confidential documents belonging to the commission which were later sold to Dennis T. Myers, a United States citizen. The missing documents were stenographic reports of the international conferences at Spa, Boulogne and Cannes. It was declared Myers desired the archives for an American publishing firm.

A NATIONAL INDUSTRY

DURING A DISCUSSION on the subject of this country's tourist business in the House of Commons at Ottawa yesterday Hon. Charles Stewart made the following among other important observations:

"I think the time has nearly come in Canada, in view of the increasing importance of the tourist business here, and the large amount of money it is bringing into the country, when there should be some co-ordination throughout the Dominion."

The people of British Columbia will welcome this apparently official expression of view by a member of the Dominion Cabinet. They know what the tourist business means to this Province already and they know how much more business could be done if it were gone after in a really ambitious and concerted fashion.

Under the present arrangements all over this country the appeal to holidaymakers which is sent outside the Dominion no doubt overlaps in many important particulars and carefully husbanded financial resources are not always utilized to the best advantage.

But if the Government at Ottawa, in conjunction with the various provinces, were to impart a departmental status to this valuable revenue producer, it follows that instead of an annual turnover now rising to something like $160,000,000 it would soon grow to double that amount.

The various publicity bodies in this Province have done excellent work with the somewhat meagre funds at their disposal. All the large cities in the Coast area for some years past have recognized how important is the revenue from the tourist and it will not be long, merely waiting for the completion of the transcontinental highway, before the interior cities will considerably increase their share of the traffic.

HE KNEW THE APPEAL

SOME PEOPLE WHO ARE strangers to honesty have novel means of obtaining money. The confidence man and the card sharer are familiar types. With us always is the purveyor of things which are sure to make other people's fortunes. But the man who makes a house to house canvass for money because he requires financial assistance for treatment of tuberculosis is a new type. Such an individual "did" quite a number of people in the City of Kamloops recently. He was not a genuine case and he suffered the penalty usually meted out to people who break the law.

There is a little more in this case than meets the eye. The medicament in question was familiar with at least two things. He knew that the people of Kamloops understood something about tuberculosis—the lack of adequate means of dealing with it in this Province. It was also apparent to him that that knowledge would produce the necessary assistance to anybody supposedly in need of it. It was, in fact, quite easy money; but, like most people who are not genuine, he gave himself away.

There are four thousand cases of tuberculosis in British Columbia at the present time. Four hundred die of this complaint in the Province every year. No such condition need exist if the general public would authorize the Government to spend the necessary money to prevent it or at least considerably improve it. The Government does not get that instruction because there is no spectacular demand for the bettering of the lot of these four thousand. Tuberculosis is not a "flash in the pan." It is with us always.

TRUTH'S LIVER

WHENEVER LONDON Truth thinks about Canada or anything Canadian it grabs its editorial axe and begins to slash at the Dominion from whatever angle appeals to it at the moment. Just a little more than forty years ago it figuratively laughed its editorial sides out at the mere suggestion of taking the Canadian Pacific Railway all across the continent to the Pacific Ocean. It had never heard of a crazier thing. At frequent intervals since that time the early Labourer conception of this part of the Empire seems to have undergone but very little change. Not more than twenty months ago it informed its readers how the harvesters flooded the West, how a large body of these men were left to their own resources in Nanaimo, how the whole movement had turned out a fiasco. It was quite astounded to discover that seven harvesters "flooded" Nanaimo and promptly "jumped" the town when work was as much as suggested to them. Now it complains because our contribution to Empire naval defence is not as much as that of Australia or New Zealand. But it makes no mention of this country's contribution to the Allies' cause in men, money, food, munitions, and other supplies. Happily Truth does not speak for the people of Britain when it ignores these things. They know what Canada did and appreciate the great financial burden which this country is carrying in consequence. It may well be said that this well-known weekly lost much of its influence—as well as its wit—in its founder's day.

BAD THINKING

FOLLOWING CLOSELY upon the strictures of such stalwart Conservative journals as The Montreal Gazette and The Mail and Empire, both of which are telling the preachers of blue ruin that it is time to call a halt, comes the statement of Mr. John D. Hayes, a prominent manufacturer in Eastern Canada, before a convention of the leaders in the biscuit, confectionery, and chocolate industries in Toronto. He declared that business depression was the result of bad thinking or perhaps an absolute lack of thought. As a Canadian he emphatically said that blue ruin should find no place in the vocabulary of the businessmen of this country. What is more, Mr. Hayes proceeded to back up his assertions with facts and figures in order, as he pointed out, that he might not be accused of what some people nowadays term "blind optimism."

Another speaker at the same convention laid emphasis upon the importance of developing the potentialities of the Canadian market for an industry which now has a total capitalization of about $37,000,000, which pays out more than $11,000,000 in wages. He argued that with certain assistance in publicity greater markets could be created "that would well-nigh surpass belief." What a contrast to the stuff and nonsense which Mr. Meighen and his followers utter upon every conceivable occasion!

Bad thinking and lack of thought are undoubtedly responsible for a good deal of all sorts of trouble these days. Our preachers of blue ruin are political thinkers and they seldom look beyond the end of their political noses. They have a right to criticize policies in which they do not believe. That is part of the political business of this and every other country. But there ought to be a limit to the range and nature of the arguments they employ to gain their political points.

In endeavoring to convince the present Government, for instance, that certain lines of effort in this country would be better under proposals which they would advocate if they were in office, there is no need to bolt from elementary reason into the depths of gloom and there flounder to their own and everybody else's discomfort.

This is the sort of bad thinking which Sir John Willison some time ago considered was not far short of absolute disloyalty to country. It is an argument which has expanded to the point at which it serves, and serves uncommonly well, that element, both inside and outside of Canada, which is seemingly sparing no efforts to make this Dominion the country of gloom which our Conservative pessimists would have us believe it already is.

The Lord Chief Justice of England gets $50,000 a year. He has just written an article for the press for which he has been paid. He is being called to task for "butting" into journalism. We hope he was not in need of the money.

DR. FRANK CRANE'S GOOD AND EVIL

Few people speak of humility, thoughts, few chastely of charity and few doubtfully of doubt.

No truer word has been penned than this. Those who speak the most of chastity are of questionable repute in their virtue. Indeed the most chaste are those who are the most unconscious of it. As for those who doubt, there is quite as much of a dogmatical nature among them as among those who believe. Attention has often been called to the cocksureness of doubters.

It is certainly to be expected that those who give themselves up to doubt should doubt their own doubts, but, as Pascal says, we are so composed of duplicity, contrariety and untruth that, in our very attack against beliefs we use a belief that is quite as dogmatical and intolerant.

It is a question whether those who have any virtue at all are not those who are unconscious of it and that those who attack us are not themselves guilty of the very thing which they attack.

Those who set themselves up to criticize the frailties of mankind should either be above them or below them, at least he should be removed from the argument to quique. Solomon and Job, again says Pascal, knew best the misery of man and have spoken the best of it; the one the happiest of men and the other the most unhappy; one knowing the vanity of pleasure by experience and the other the reality of evil by experiencing evil.

In both cases the judgment of the world is true because they were removed from participation in pleasure, the one by overfeeding and the other by a knowledge of evil.

Nothing, indeed, has the possession of some power which can with any certainty discover what at the bottom is true character of any man.

Every man rejoices twice when he has a partner of his joy.

Every man living shall assuredly meet with an hour of temptation, a certain critical hour, which shall more especially try what matter his heart is made of.

Man is a thinking being, whether he will or no. All he can do is to turn his thoughts the best way.

Every moment may be put to some use, and that with much more pleasure than if unemployed.

Time is the surest source of truth.

Perhaps human nature meets few more sweetly relishing and cleanly joys than those that derive from successful trials.

Truth is the object of our understanding, as good is of the will.

Recollect every day the things seen, heard or read which makes any addition to your understanding.

It is no point of wisdom for a man to beat his brains about things impossible.

Talk often, but not long. The talent of haranguing in private company is insupportable.

Bad thinking and lack of thought are undoubtedly responsible for a good deal of all sorts of trouble these days.

MASSED CHOR GREATST IN NORTHWEST

Unique Festival at Arena Sunday Attracts Great Interest Proceeds to Help Equipment of Treatment Room at Jubilee

The selections which will be sung by the great massed choir of 400 singers at the Arena Sunday afternoon is published in the souvenir programme of the Victoria Day musical festival. With a handsome picture of the beloved queen on the cover the programme makes an admirable souvenir and through the sale between now and Sunday, both days inclusive, it is hoped to raise a considerable sum for the completion and equipment of the Queen Victoria Memorial Treatment room. Since the programme was printed many commendations have been showered upon the committee on the happy thought of using the excellent reproduction of Queen Victoria on the first page.

The choir will be under the direction of Dr. J. E. Hodson, F.R.C.O., who will undertake the difficult task of leading what is believed to be the greatest choir that has ever sung in the Northwest. The massed choir which will accompany the singers will be directed by J. N. Miller. The selections will be as follows: "O Canada," March; "Symphonic March (Mabein), band; "Up to the Hills Around Do I Lift Up," chorus; "The Heavens Are Telling (Haydn), trio; Mrs. Edmunds, Mr. Roberts and Mrs. Rowley; orchestra; "Unfinished Symphony" (Schubert), by request; chorus; "Souls of the Righteous" (Noble); overture, "William Tell" (Rossini), band; chorus; "Comrades Song of Hope" (Adam); patriotic fantasia, "King and Country" (Ord Hume), band; song and chorus; "Land of Hope and Glory" (Elgar), voices by soloists of the High School choir, audience joining in the chorus; military fantasia, "Military Tattoo" (Rogan), band; hymn, "O God Our Hope in Ages Past"; chorus, "Hallelujah" (Handel).

The programmes are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce, Diggon's and Mitchell and Duncan's, whose reservations for the musical festival can also be made.

HEALTH & DISEASE USES OF BLOOD TRANSFUSION

While we all recognize that blood is essential to life, that it is the "vital fluid," a few words as to what it is and its uses assist in understanding how the transfusion of blood does good.

The blood is a suspension of tiny cells—the red cells—in a fluid, known as the plasma or serum. There are two principal kinds of blood cells, the red blood cells, and the white blood cells. The former are much the more numerous, and have to do chiefly with the conveying of oxygen, the substance so essential to animal life, from the lungs to the body generally, and the return of the tissues, the lungs, of carbon dioxide, a waste product of bodily activity. The white blood cells are concerned chiefly in protecting the body against infection with germs. The body contains about one-twentieth of its weight in blood, which in a person weighing 150 pounds would amount to about 1 1/2 pints.

Blood-loss, within certain limits, is replaced by the blood-forming organs, very quickly, but hemorrhage beyond a certain point becomes immediately dangerous to life, in proportion to the amount of blood lost. So it is in conditions of grave hemorrhage that blood transfusions have proved most useful in saving life.

It could be tedious to enumerate the various conditions in which blood-loss has endangered life, but many of our readers will recall the all too anxious wistful face, the drooping eyelids of a comrade struck down in the line. The needs of modern industry, lessened by a watchful Compensation Board, but still with us; the injuries incidental to modern street traffic, all these are opportunities for the saving of life by blood transfusion.

Serious and even fatal bleeding may occur in sicer of the stomach; during or after child-birth; in typhoid fever; and in many other conditions. In these emergencies a blood transfusion will often prove life-saving.

There are a group of blood diseases, the anemias, which are characterized by impoverishment, in one respect or another, of the blood. In these, much help may be had from the transfusion of blood, and in certain of them, characterized by a tendency to spontaneous bleeding, the transfusion helps by lessening this tendency to bleed, as well as building up the patient's blood.

In cases of general blood-poisoning, as a means of building up the sufferer's powers to resist disease, and in conditions of great debility, from other causes, much help may be had from the transfusion of blood.

MINING IN B.C.

The mining industry dates back to the early ages of man's history on the planet. It has always attracted the adventurous and progressive types of men. In the aggregate it has been and will be in the future, a highly profitable business.

Development In the course of a brief outline of the general development of British Columbia he pointed out: "In 1855 alluvial or 'placer' gold was found in British Columbia at the mouth of the Pend d'Oreille river and in 1857 at Lytton. In 1858 discoveries were made on the lower Fraser River and hardy and adventurous prospectors followed the stream up, and in 1860 and 1861, on the headwaters of the river, they discovered the exceedingly rich 'placers' of the Cassiar District, which have produced gold to the value of $50,000,000. Within the next ten years the Province produced about $35,000,000 worth of 'placer' gold, the greatest production in any one year being in 1862, and amounting to about $4,000,000. All of this gold was obtained with pick and shovel, without the aid of machinery.

Lode mining in British Columbia began to be productive in 1893, when the value of the production of the lode mines of the Province rose to $4,000,000 since which time there has been a steady increase, until 1901 the output from this class of mining had reached a value of $13,533,444. In 1912 the production of lode gold was $17,462,766 and in 1924 it had risen to $35,538,247; the total production to the end of 1924 amounted to $477,507,222.

PRODUCTION

The total production of lode gold to date has been $138,472,193, of which $5,120,525 was produced in 1924. The total output of lead to date amounts in value to $70,548,578 to which total the year 1924 contributed $12,415,917. All the lead ore mined in the Province carries silver in varying amounts, and in many of the mines the silver is of greater value than the lead, which it is found; hence the output of these two metals is closely related.

The production of copper is getting to be one of the most important factors in the mineral output of the Province. To date the total production has had a value of $187,489,378, the output for 1924 being valued at $8,442,876.

The total production of zinc to date has had a value of $22,171,497, of which there was produced in 1924 $4,266,741. The total production of miscellaneous minerals also has been small—largely on account of distance from markets—amounting only to $1,431,349. The production of building stone, cement, brick, pottery, etc., to date has had a value of $42,233,814 amounting in 1924 to $2,910,580.

Following this summary of the mineral development of the Province, the speaker gave the valuable information regarding prospecting and mining promotion, marketing, prominent mining areas, and mining speculation.

ILLUSTRATIONS A number of interesting lantern slides illustrating the address given by Mr. Galloway, and the hearty applause of the interested audience testified to their appreciation of the information and advice so well delivered. Formerly, a vote of thanks was moved to the speakers by H. G. Pierce of Metehoon, and seconded by J. Stuart Yates of Langford. A vote of thanks was also moved by the ladies of the Colwood Women's Institute who so kindly provided and attended to an excellent supper.

is being amply demonstrated this week in "The Lady Bugs," the current musical comedy appearing at the Playhouse. Gladys Vaughan is seen in the early part of the bill as a petite nurse, appearing later in a travestied dramatic bit entitled "Cleopatra." Roy Earl doubles a young physician, and an eccentric egomaniac, with Dave Dumbleton doubling "Spareriba" and "O. I. Gettem." Frank Morton, in blackface, is a comedy treat in "The Lady Bugs," has one of the best laughing bits of the season. Hilda Cooke, The Bennett Sisters and Gretta Macarney offer attractive musical specialties in addition to those presented by the acting principals. "Nobody," a dramatic take of modern society life, is the screen feature.

MACK SENNETT STARS MEET IN PARAMOUNT FILM AT DOMINION

A quartette of former Mack Sennett players have been brought together by Paramount's "The Night Club." They are Raymond Griffith, Vera Reynolds, Wallace Beery and Louise Fazenda.

After serving their apprenticeship in comedies all entered the field of dramatic productions and rose to coveted positions as featured players. Their appearance in "The Night Club" marks the first time in years that all have played together. In "The Night Club" all play the type of role in which they have won their popularity. Griffith is a handsome, rich young man; Vera Reynolds is a winsome miss with whom Griffith falls in love; Beery is a villain, but one whose deeds are more humorous than wicked, and Louise Fazenda is the amorous sweetheart of Beery, who loves men only when they are angry.

"The Night Club" was adapted from William de Mille's stage play, "After Five." It was directed by Paul Iribe and Frank Urson, who made "Forty Winks."

MAJ.-GEN. RYERSON DIED IN TORONTO

Dr. Ryerson's initial military experience was gained in the Fenian Raid of 1870. One of his proud possessions was the General Service Medal and Clasp, which he received for his services in that, his first military exploit. He served in the Northwest Rebellion in 1885 with the Toronto Grenadiers, of which regiment he was surgeon. In 1878 he had experience as an assistant surgeon in the Austrian army of occupation of Bosnia, and the knowledge gained there was of much use to the South African war, 1900-02. Col. Ryerson was Red Cross Commissioner in South Africa. His energy, enthusiasm and varied experiences proved of great value to the Allied cause in the Great War.

VARIED EXPERIENCES

Colonel Ryerson took part by invitation in the military display in connection with Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee in London in 1897. Following up his military bent, Colonel Ryerson founded and became president of the Association of Medical Officers of the Canadian Militia. He was founder of the St. John Ambulance Association in Canada, of which he was general secretary for fifteen years, and was founder and past president of the Canadian Red Cross Society. He was knighted in 1918 and was a member of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem.

HONORARY GENERAL

After the Great War Dr. Ryerson was appointed an Honorary Major-General and Colonel-in-Chief of the Canadian Army Medical Corps. Retiring from his medical and surgical practice, which he had begun in Toronto in 1880, Dr. Ryerson in 1920 went to Niagara-on-the-Lake to reside. At the time of his retirement from active practice he was president of the Sterling Realty Corporation and vice-president of the Merchants' Fire Insurance Company.

BORN IN TORONTO

Born in Toronto January 21, 1855, a son of Rev. George Ryerson and Isabella (Sterling) Ryerson, George Sterling Ryerson was educated at the Galt Grammar School, Trinity College and Victoria College, Toronto, and Edinburgh University. He was a nephew of Dr. Egerton Ryerson, "Father of the Ontario School System." He was twice married. His first wife, Mary A. Crowther, daughter of the late James Crowther, was lost on the Lusitania. Four sons and one daughter were born to them. His second wife, Elizabeth Thomas, daughter of the late Thomas Thomas, N.Y., he married in 1918.

TURNS DYSPEPTIC WHAT TO EAT

Avoid indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic acid stomach is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things. Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excessive acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Disburled Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Disburled Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a laxative. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-cent tablets taken with a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthily without need of special pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Disburled Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or effervescent. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

FRENCH ARMY BILL NOW ABANDONED

Paris, May 20.—The bill calling for reorganization of the French army introduced by General Nollet during the last hours of the Herriot Government's tenure of office has been abandoned by the Painleve Cabinet and has become a dead issue.

The work of experts at the Ministry of War during the past two years provided for a gradual decrease of French effective until the twelve months' military service could be definitely installed.

Marshal Poch was reported to have been an opponent of the bill from the start and his opposition, parliamentary experts say, was what finally killed the bill before it was even reported upon by the army committee of the Chamber.

Until another system is adopted French military service will remain at eighteen months and the effective of the troops in peace time at 618,000.

CANADA IS AMPLY PROTECTED IN NEW POWER EXPORT PLAN

Federal Government Does Not Intend to Proceed Too Fast, Says Premier King

Ottawa River Development Scheme Debated in House of Commons

Ottawa, May 20.—The Government has already stayed its hand for many months in this matter, and does not intend proceeding with any haste whatever," said Premier King at the close of a debate in the Commons last evening on the proposed exportation to the United States of electrical power from the Carillon Rapids on the Ottawa River.

Hon. H. H. Stevens had asked the Premier to promise the House that the Government would do nothing about the proposed contract with the Carillon Industrial Corporation of Ottawa for another year, until Parliament could meet again and pass legislation as would absolutely safeguard the interests of Canada in the matter of exportation of power.

"I have already taken that position," said the Premier.

The unsigned draft contract had been tabled in the House on Monday. The discussion yesterday afternoon started when the House went into committee of supply on estimates of the Department of Trade and Commerce.

Sir Henry Drayton, Conservative, West York, Ont., said the papers tabled showed two revised drafts of a contract or lease had been forwarded to the Government under date of October 23, 1924. The latter had been signed by the Carillon Industrial Corporation Limited, per Lila Brennan, as secretary-treasurer, and the address given was 19 Elgin Street, Ottawa.

Sir Henry charged Miss Brennan was a stenographer in the law firm of McGivern, Haydon and Ebbs of Ottawa, and the gist of the Conservative objections to the contract was that partners in his law firm, which "promoted the whole scheme," were Hon. H. B. McGivern, Minister without portfolio in the present Government, and Senator Haydon, who was appointed to the Upper House by this Government.

NOT MINISTER THEN.—As Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen was speaking later, Hon. G. P. Graham remarked that Mr. McGivern was not a member of the Government when the application was made.

Sir Henry Drayton said that under the proposed lease, it was desired to export power in the first instance to the United States, with the right to the Canadian municipalities to obtain the balance of 100,000 horsepower.

When questions were asked the other night, little information could be obtained, he said, but it was now revealed that the Government had an application for the export of power. The plain object and intention was to export power in a large volume.

Under the leases as drafted, he said, there was a provision after its termination at the end of forty years for a renewal from January 1, 1964, for twenty-one years. There were also two further provisions for renewals for a further twenty-one years from January 1, 1985, and for forty years from January 1, 2006.

"Does my honorable friend think the Government will entertain any such absurd request?" Premier King sharply queried.

NOT BY A MINISTER.—A statement made by the Premier on Thursday last that so far as he was aware no application had been made to the Government for export of power from Carillon, was mentioned. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen said that when the Premier made that statement "an application as astounding in its audacity as any ever presented had been before the Government for months."

PREMIER KING REPEATED that no application had been brought before the Government by a Minister, and that was the meaning he had meant to convey.

NOT CONSIDERED.—Hon. Graham reviewed the history of the Carillon power development. The papers under discussion had been in the Railway Department, but had not been considered, he said.

CRERAR'S OPINION.—Hon. T. A. Crerar, former leader of the Progressive Party, was opposed to the development of power by private concerns. It should be on record at Washington, he added, that the Canadian Government reserved the right to withdraw the export of power when it was needed for Canadian needs. He did not favor the bringing in of extensive United States capital. He thought Canada was being rapidly mortgaged to the United States, and those who held a mortgage ultimately called the tune.

Adelaide, Australia, May 20.—Not many years ago Adelaide tram travellers handed theiroppers to a young conductor without suspecting that to check the ticket numbers was not much easier for him than to decipher the cartouches of Pharaohs older than Tut. His name was Allen Rowe, and local occultists conclude that he is a reincarnated Egyptian from the way he swallowed at a bite masses of archaeological knowledge that professors could merely nibble at.

While working as a tram conductor Rowe wrote a guidebook on the Adelaide Museum and its Egyptian exhibits. He was summoned to Melbourne to advise the Australian War Museum on a mosaic it had received from Palestine. This former ticket collector has turned out to be the Allen Rowe who, after getting to

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Little Airships

Copyright, 1925, by McClure News-Paper Syndicate

(By Howard R. Garis)

Once upon a time there were three little Squirrel Buns named Snip, Snoop and Snoop. They lived in a little house of bark on the side of a tree in the green forest and were happy and contented together.

One day Snoop said to the other two little Squirrel Buns:

"Let's fly away together and see what adventures we may have in the big world. There is an old rabbit gentleman, named Uncle Wiggily, who has an adventure nearly every day and he seems very happy."

"Well, Snip and Snoop wanted to be happy, so they flew off with their brother Snoop to seek adventures."

"Perhaps," buzzed Snoop, "we may meet Uncle Wiggily."

"Wouldn't that be fun!" cried Snip. Along they flew in the bright sunshine, flitting their wings and stretching out their long, thin legs in the air. At last, down below them, Snoop saw something red on the ground and he cried to the others:

"I think that is an adventure! Let's go down and see!"

But when they reached the red object on the ground they found it was only a red flower growing on a bush and they were disappointed. However, Snoop said:

"Perhaps there is an adventure in the red flower. Let's look. Being a bold little bug, he flew up first. But instead of their being an adventure each seed was a tuft of fluffy white stuff, lighter than a feather, so that it floated like an airship.

Taking several of these little fluffy seeds Uncle Wiggily fastened to them his baskets woven of dried grass. He made three grass baskets on three little dandelion seeds, and in each basket he put a Squirrel Bun.

"Now," said the bunty gentleman, "I will loose these ships in the air, and the wind will blow you safely to your home tree in them." And surely enough, so light were the fluffy dandelion seeds that they rose up at the slightest breath, and away on the breeze they floated to the green forest.

When the Squirglers reached home their mother washed the sticky flower juice from Snoop. She combed the tangled cobweb from Snoop and then she gave Snip a bath in warm water, so that all three little bugs were all right again.

"And we had an adventure, after all," they buzzed. And if the fountain pen doesn't start drawing funny pictures in the night to make the face of the clock laugh, I'll tell you about it. Uncle Wiggily and the tangled vine.

London, May 20 (Associated Press).—Home to the memory of the founder of Lloyd, who kept a little hole-in-the-wall coffee shop in Tower Street 237 years ago where British merchants began to meet for the transaction of shipping business, is to be paid by King George himself and numerous others of note on May 23. Then the King will inaugurate the foundation stone for Lloyd's new building which is to cost $6,000,000 and will require several years to build.

The Lloyd's of those days—that is, the coffee shop—occupied but one small room, kitchen and all, and the rent was but a few shillings a week. In Londonhall Street, where the new structure is to be erected, stood the old offices were demolished to make room for a new headquarters for the Lloyd's of to-day. The new building is to be one of the largest ever constructed in England.

In 1625 the business of the shipping merchants took a more definite form, and it was decided to form a society for the purpose of insuring the ships against the risk of sea perils. The name of the old coffee shop keeper known to shipping men in every quarter of the globe. The business grew rapidly and again in 1774 new offices were set up in the Royal Exchange in Cornhill, where they have been ever since.

Although the business originally was confined to the insurance of shipping risks, Lloyd's to-day deals in nearly every kind of risk. A dozen or more insurance companies are members, against a wet day for a picnic, crop failure, against twins, or bet against almost any sort of adventure or misadventure which might fall a human being at sea, on land or in the air during the flight of an aeroplane. And to this day, as a memorial to Eddie's humble little coffee shop, the underwriting room is called "The Room."

The room is called—being arranged in the style of an old-fashioned coffee shop, in which there are bulletin boards with notices of shipping arrivals, departures, casualties and other notes of interest to the shipping world. The new headquarters, too, is to have its "coffee room" as a continued reminder of Old Eddie.

In the underwriters' room also there hangs the famous "Lloyd's" globe, a good news such as when a ship-long overdue is announced, as having reached port safely. Two of the bell signifies wreck at sea, or some other news of misfortune.

The bell is from H.M.S. Lutine, a warship wrecked in 1793, and one of the most interesting of the relics of Lloyd's. It is to be carried with care and reverence to the new headquarters when complete.

"Oh, dear! this is the end of us!" sadly cried the three bugs. "And we have had no adventure at all."

"Ha! Who is speaking of adventures!" cried a jolly voice, and a rabbit gentleman, with a pink nose that twinkled, hopped out from behind a bush, close to where the bugs had fallen. "Hello, Squirglers!" cried Uncle Wiggily, for he was it. "You seem to be in trouble."

"Then Snip, Snoop and Snoop told what had happened, and Uncle Wiggily laughed and said:

"Don't worry. Some of you Squirgler Buns often helped me in the past, and now I will help you. I will send you back to your home in the green forest."

"How can you send us?" asked Snoop. "Snoop and Snip can't fly, and I am so covered with mud that I can't carry them. And I don't want to go home alone."

"I will send you all home together—each in a little airship," said Uncle Wiggily. "Just wait a moment."

Near him grew some large dandelion flowers, which had gone to seed. On

FRENZIED FINANCE IS TO BE FILMED

Special to The Times Melbourne, Australia, May 20.—C. J. de Garis, who was in the United States some time ago arranging for a developmental loan is generally regarded by Australians as their leading "wizard of finance."

In the middle of an extraordinary business career he disappeared recently, leaving letters intimating his intention of committing suicide. He was brought back from Auckland to answer a charge (which was later waived) of obtaining money by a valueless cheque, and on the voyage back succeeded in selling a couple of blocks of land to the detective who had him under arrest.

De Garis' latest venture is to sign a contract to appear as lead in an Australian film production, "The Boomerang." It is being arranged by Sydney syndicate, which, for its present operations, at least, will be known as the De Garis Film Syndicate.

The objects of the film, it is stated, are to give de Garis an opportunity of explaining the facts behind the Kenehan finance and also to justify his recent escapade.

NO SPECIAL COURT SESSION FOR WONG Vancouver, May 20.—Mackenzie Matheson, Crown attorney, declares that in his opinion there is little possibility of a special session of the Assize Court being summoned to deal with the murder charge upon which Wong Fook Sing was committed for trial in connection with the death of Janet Smith. Considerable time will probably be required at any rate to prepare the case for presentation to a jury, and at the present juncture it appears highly probable that the Chinese houseboy will be held at Oakalla until the Autumn sitting of the Assize Court.

Defending Champ Wins Medal Round In B.C. Tourney

Mrs. Hutchings, with a 79, leads field in qualifying round at Oak Bay

Next Best Seven Strokes Behind Medalist; 99 or Better Qualified

Mrs. Harold Hutchings, of Winnipeg, shot a round of golf yesterday at the Victoria Golf Club that makes it look as though she intends to retain her laurels as British Columbia women's open golf champion.

In the qualifying round of 18 holes she broke the seventies and was the only lady to do so. She had a 79, and this was seven strokes better than her nearest competitor, Mrs. Gellatly of Vancouver, and Mrs. Hutchinson of Victoria, who were tied with 88 for second place.

Mrs. Hutchings played beautiful golf all the way, and was at the top of her game. She is drawn to-day in the first round with Miss Tidmarsh of Seattle, the only American in the championship. Miss Hurley, the other American from Tacoma, only succeeded in making the third hole.

All ladies who kept their scores under the century, qualified. Three ladies tied with 99, and all squeezed in to the championship flight.

ALL CLUBS REPRESENTED.

All Victoria golf clubs are represented in the championship flight, while Vancouver, Seattle, Calgary and Winnipeg still have their hats on the green. The home clubs had the most survivors, six of the Oak Bay players qualifying. The Uplands Golf Club qualified through Colwood had one. Calgary, Seattle and Winnipeg had one apiece.

Mrs. Philbrick of Oak Bay, the city champion, was tied for third place in the qualifying round with Miss Sparrow, Calgary's lone entrant, and Miss Hayward, the Colwood captain.

The ladies commenced play this morning in the first round. The second round will be played to-morrow, the semi-finals on Friday and the finals on Saturday.

The scores in the qualifying round were as follows:

Johnson's Home Run in Ninth, With One On, Beat Cleveland

Walter, Sent in as Pinch-Hitter, Delivered Terrific Wallop and Champs Won

Winning Streaks of Athletics and Giants Halted; Sisler Bangs Another Hit

New York, May 20.—Walter Johnson has once again proved his ability to shine as he did in last year's world series at the crucial moment. With the champion Senators trailing Cleveland 3-2 and a man on base, Johnson yesterday hit a home run. Victory carried Washington within a single game of first place.

A homer helped end another champion club's winning streak of eight games. A smash by Stutz opened a Chicago batting rally that ended in the New York Giants' defeat by the Cubs, 8-2.

At Brooklyn, during the celebration of the golden jubilee of the National League, Dazzy Vance received $1,000 as the league's most valuable player and the Robins beat Pittsburgh 9-5.

Cincinnati recovered from a five-game slump by beating Boston 7-3, behind Luque's strong pitching, but they failed to overtake the Phillies.

Fletcher's club took the second game of the St. Louis series, 8-4.

The Athletics suffered another reversal from Chicago 4-1 and were saved from a shutout by Miller's home run in the ninth with two on bases.

The Yankees retreated further in the depths under heavy Detroit batting, 11-5.

George Sisler's hitting streak was safe at the hands of weak Red Sox pitching. He extended his record to 34 games as St. Louis won 8-2.

Opening Lacrosse Matches Will Be Held in Two Weeks

Intermediates to Open June 4 and Seniors on June 6; Schedule Drafted

Victoria and Sidney in Each League; Garrison and Esquimalt Enter

Arrangements have been made to hold the opening matches of the Victoria and District Lacrosse League in the first week of June. At a meeting of the league last night the delegates got down to real business and drafted a schedule.

The Intermediate League will celebrate its opening first by staging a game on Thursday evening, June 4, while the seniors will cross their sticks on Saturday, June 6.

Three teams have entered in each of the leagues, Sidney, Victoria and the Garrison will field teams in the Senior League, and Sidney, Esquimalt and the Sons of Canada will frolic in the Intermediate League.

It was the desire of the officials to have four clubs in each league, but Esquimalt found it impossible to form a senior club and a fourth team could not be located for the intermediates, so it was decided to put over the summer game with a trio of clubs in each league.

The lack of teams will mean that the lacrosse will be of a better calibre, owing to the fact that the good players will not be spread so far. There should be some fine games this season, and it is hoped that the public will patronize them. Each club will be allowed to register eighteen players.

IMPROVE THE GAME

The lack of teams will mean that the lacrosse will be of a better calibre, owing to the fact that the good players will not be spread so far. There should be some fine games this season, and it is hoped that the public will patronize them. Each club will be allowed to register eighteen players.

Two prominent supporters of the Canadian national game are being asked to assist in the opening ceremonies of the league. His honor the Lieut.-Governor may face off the ball in the first senior game, while J. A. Virtue, one of the fathers of the game here, may set the intermediates in action.

Leonard Tait, president of the league, was appointed as delegate to represent Victoria at a meeting of the B.C.A.L.A., which will be held in Vancouver to-night. Whether or not Victoria will affiliate with this body is still in doubt. Plans for the formation of a team to represent Victoria are being made by the provincial body, and these will be presented to-night.

The schedule for the early games follows:

SENIOR

Saturday, June 6—Sidney vs. Garrison at Work Point Barracks.

Victoria vs. Sidney at Sidney.

Garrison vs. Victoria in Victoria. The date of the last two mentioned games will be set later.

INTERMEDIATE

Thursday, June 4—Sons of Canada vs. Sidney at Sidney.

Sons of Canada vs. Esquimalt at Esquimalt.

Sidney vs. Esquimalt at Victoria.

The playing grounds this year will include the Royal Athletic Park, Esquimalt Barracks and the Canteen grounds.

DANNY ARRIVES ON THE SCENE TO-DAY

The Oakland colored featherweight arrives in Victoria to-day all keyed up and ready to go fifteen rounds with Al Davies in the much talked of fifteen-round argument at the Caledonia Hall Friday night. Most of the preliminary boys are on the spot, the house is nearly sold out and everything points to one of the biggest nights in the boxing game for a long time here.

First Division Championship is Won By Veterans

Defeated Esquimalt 1-0 in Playoff Last Night; Clarkson Scored Lone Goal

First Division League Finished After Long Season; Fair Crowd Attended

After one of the longest football seasons on record the First Division was brought to a close last evening, when the Veterans defeated Esquimalt in the playoff game for the title by the score of 1-0. The game was played at the Royal Athletic Park before a fair crowd.

All season these teams have been great rivals, and have put on good exhibitions whenever drawn against one another. They led the First Division from the start, and at the end were all square on points, which made a play-off necessary. Esquimalt and the Veterans have each carried off two trophies, the former winning the premier honor in the Jackson Cup and a minor trophy, the Combination Cup. The Vets won the First Division title and the Brown Cup.

Very little good soccer was seen in the first half, both teams resorting to individual playing rather than combination. They had good openings on several occasions, but erratic shooting prevented any scoring. Twice the Vets looked like going through, but their shots went wide of the posts. Clarkson came near to scoring when one of his centres just missed the goal by inches. John Watt passed up a good chance to put the Dockers in the lead, but Bridges came out his goal and made a splendid save. After a half-time interval Stewart of Esquimalt was injured, and had to retire from the game.

CLARKSON BOOTS A GOAL

After the interval the Vets were continually on the offensive and Nicol, the Esquimalt goalie, saved two hot shots from Merfield and Clarkson. The only goal of the match came after a neat bit of work by Clarkson. He carried the ball down the right wing from centre, and shot a daisy that beat Nicol easily.

For the remainder of the half Esquimalt tried hard to even up, and just before the end Davidson came close to tying up the score. Bridges making a fine stop.

Hewison refereed, and the teams were as follows:

Veterans—Bridges, Petch, Meredith, Roe, Preston, Brown, Merfield, Kelman, Southern, Smith and Clarkson.

Esquimalt—Nicol, Joe Watt, Meaher, Homer, Edwards, Hay, Steuart, John Watt, Warren, Davidson and Duncan.

Cobb Anxious To Quit But Rookies Not Good Enough

Ty Has Been Grooming Youngsters to Take His Place

Detroit, May 20.—Ty Cobb, often regarded as the greatest ball player that ever lived, is ready to end his playing days as soon as the youngsters are ready to take his place as centerfielder for the Detroit Tigers. And yet, although Cobb is thirty-eight years old, the prospect seems almost as remote as it was a decade ago.

Cobb, told the Associated Press yesterday that he had intended to play in not more than 100 games this season. Age, he knew, plays no part in his decision, but he has foreseen that the time is nearing when he will have to leave the place he has held in the Detroit outfield for more than a score of years.

NOT READY YET

So, he explained yesterday, he has been preparing for that day by grooming younger players to take his place. The complication that has arisen, however, is that the pupils have not as yet shown themselves equal to the task of outplaying their teacher.

It was pointed out to Cobb that it was not likely that a player who has hitting over 400 would be giving much consideration to ending his playing days soon to which Cobb replied that his present average actually is higher than he degrades. "My batting average will drop down where it belongs soon," he said.

But in yesterday's game he made a three-run homer that scored two men ahead of him.

Joyce Wethered Beats Glenna Collett, 4 And 3

British Champion Easily Disposes of America's Best in British Women's Golf Championship; Joyce Played Par Golf or Better on Every Hole Except Fourth and Eighth

Troon, May 20.—Miss Joyce Wethered, defending her title of British woman-golf champion, defeated Miss Doris Chambers in the fourth round of the championship tournament here this afternoon 5 and 4.

Miss Wethered this morning eliminated Miss Glenna Collett, former United States woman champion, in a third round match 4 and 3.

The champion played invincible golf this morning, turning in fours for fifteen holes and setting her opponent a superb standard which made everyone of the latter's errors fatal.

Miss Collett lost the match in a series of slips on the ninth, tenth and eleventh holes. After being all square at the eighth she topped her drive at the ninth, sliced her drive and topped a mashie shot on the tenth and was caught in a bunker on the eleventh green.

Miss Wethered played par golf or better on every hole except the fourth, of 450 yards and the eighth of 120 yards. Nevertheless, it would not have been too hot a pace for Miss Collett had she made the same figures on the homeward journey that she got yesterday.

Professional critics expressed the opinion that Miss Wethered played better golf to-day than she ever played before. On two greens, the fourth and eighth, she took three putts, but otherwise her play throughout was perfection itself.

Other results in to-day's third round follow:

Miss D. Fowler defeated Miss J. Winn at the 19th hole.
Miss Cecil Leitch defeated Miss H. Hirsch, 5 and 4.
Miss G. Bastin defeated Miss S. Fowler, 5 and 3.
Miss D. Chambers defeated Mrs. R. Rowan, 6 and 5.
Miss M. Gourlay defeated Mrs. King, 4 and 3.

The Olympic officials even disqualified Denosa, a Filipino runner, for fouling Note yesterday. Note's claim for this foul was refused immediately after the event.

The Philippine team defeated the Chinese to-day 12-9 in a baseball game.

New York, May 20.—Though loss of weight and pallid face betrayed his six weeks' illness, Babe Ruth unexpectedly motored to Yankee Stadium yesterday and rattled long drives into the right field bleachers to prove that he was still the batting king.

At the close of the practice, Ruth, his face wreathed in smiles and satisfaction, declared he was ready and "taring to go" that in a few more days he would set out to tick up the trial of the long ball.

Wall Street TO-DAY

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, May 20 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—As was to be expected some profit-taking made its appearance in the market early. This was absorbed in rather impressive fashion and the list generally speaking resumed its advance. Specialties were again features on the upside and was also the general run of steel stocks and the iron.

We continue to adhere to the belief that the major trend of the market will continue in an upward direction and are particularly friendly toward the rail shares.

New York, May 20 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Wire)—The Wall Street Journal's stock market edition this afternoon says: Great Britain's notable accomplishment in bringing sterling back to within a quarter cent of parity was the outstanding feature of today's financial markets.

Both Iron Age and Iron Trade Review, the leading authorities, reported improvement in sentiment and increased buying of steel products.

Another important influence was the unchanged levels of finished steel prices. After a steady decline up to three weeks ago quotations have stabilized and appear to be at bottom.

Insiders were reported to be out of sympathy with the idea that DuPont's rise was basically connected with rumors that DuPont interests sought control of Mack Trucks.

Seaboard advices stated that export sales yesterday were 150,000 bushels and 500,000 early this morning.

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal; if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may be used for both a horizontal and a vertical word. The definitions for the correct words will fill the form as found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form. One letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words linking with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved a puzzle correctly it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions. The correct solution of to-day's puzzle will be printed in the next issue of The Times.

"The Circular Staircase"
By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

If Thomas had suspected, he had never fold. When she found the hand Arnold had injured was growing worse, she gave the address of Lucien at Richfield to the old man, and almost a hundred dollars. The money was for Lucien's board until she recovered. She had sent for me to ask me if I would try to interest the Armstrongs in the child. When she found herself growing worse, she had written to Mrs. Armstrong, telling her nothing but that Arnold's legitimate child was at Richfield, and imploring her to recognize him. She was dying; the boy was an Armstrong, and entitled to his father's share of the estate. The papers were in her trunk at Sunnyside, with letters from the dead man that would prove what she said. She was going; she would not be judged by earthly laws; and somewhere else perhaps Lucy would plead for her. It was she who had crept down the circular staircase, drawn by a man in a nightgown, who had been waiting for her. Pursued, she had fled madly, anywhere—through the first door she came to. She had fallen over the clothes chute, and been saved by the basket beneath. I could have cried with relief; then it had not been Gertrude, after all. That was the story. Sad and tragic, though it was, the very telling of it seemed to relieve the dying woman. She did not know that Thomas was dead, and I did not tell her. I promised to look after little Lucien, and sat with her until the intervals of consciousness grew shorter and finally ceased altogether. She died that night.
CHAPTER XXXIII
As I drove rapidly up to the house from Casanova Station in the back, I saw the detective Burns loitering across the street from the Walker place. So Jamie was putting the screws on—lightly now, but ready to give them a twist or two, I felt certain, very soon.

SCHOOL DAYS By DWIG

The depression due to my visit to the hospital left me at the prospect of seeing Halsey again that night. It was about five o'clock when Laddy left me for a nap before dinner, having put me into a gray silk dressing gown and a pair of slippers. I listened to her retreating footsteps, and as soon as she was safely below stairs, I went up to the trunk-room. The place had not been disturbed, and I proceeded at once to try to discover the entrance to the hidden room. The openings on either side, as I have said, showed nothing but perhaps three feet of brick wall. There was no sign of an entrance—no levers, no hinges, to give a hint. Either the mantel or the roof, I decided and after a half-hour at the mantel, productive of absolutely no result, I decided to try the roof. I am not fond of a height. The few occasions on which I have climbed a step-ladder have always left me dizzy and weak in the knees. The top of the Washington monument is as impossible to me as the elevation of the presidential chair. And yesterday I climbed out on to the Sunnyside roof without a second's hesitation. Like a dog on a scent, like my bearskin prolegator, with his spear and his wild bear, to me now there was the lustre of the chryse, the frenzy of pursuit, the dust of battle. I got quite a little of the latter on me as I climbed from the unfinished ballroom out through the window to the roof of the east wing of the building, which was only two stories in height. Once out there, access to the top of the main building was rendered easy—by a small vertical iron ladder, fastened to the wall outside of the ball-room, and perhaps twelve feet high. The twelve feet looked shorter from below, but they were difficult to climb. I gathered my silk gown around me, and succeeded finally in making the top of the ladder. Once there, however, I was completely out of breath. I sat down, my feet on the top rung, and put my hairpins in more securely, while the wind blew my dressing-gown out like a sail. I had torn a great strip of the silk hose, and now I ruthlessly finished the destruction of my gown by jerking it free and trying it around my head. From far below the smallest sounds came up with peculiar distinctness. I could hear the paper whistling down the drive, and I heard something else. I heard the thud of a stone, and a spit, followed by a long and startled yelp from Beulah. I forgot my fear of a height, and advanced boldly almost to the edge of the roof. It was half-past six by that time, and growing dark. "You boy, down there!" I called. The paper boy turned and looked around. Then, seeing nobody, he raised his eyes. It was a moment before he located me, when he did, he stood for one moment as if paralyzed, then he gave a terrible yell, and dropping his papers, bolted across the lawn to the road without stopping to look around. Once he fell, and his impetus was so great that he turned an involuntary somersault. He was up and off again without any perceptible pause; and he leaped the hedge—which I am sure under ordinary stress would have been a feat for a man. I am glad in this way to settle the Gray Lady story, which is still a choice morsel in Casanova. I believe the moral deduced by the village was that it is always unwise to throw a stone at a black cat. With Johnny Sweeney a cloud of dust down the road, and the dinner-hour approaching, I hurried on with my investigations. Luckily, the roof was flat, and was able to go over every inch of it. But the result was disappointing; no trap-door revealed itself, no glass window; nothing but a couple of pipes two inches across, and standing perhaps eighteen inches high and three feet apart, with a cap to prevent rain from entering and raised to permit the passage of air. I picked up a pebble from the roof and dropped it down, listening with my ear at one of the pipes. I could hear it strike on something with a sharp, metallic sound, but it was impossible for me to tell how far it had gone.

WILL COMMISSION FAVOR CHANGES IN HIGH SCHOOL?

Chairman of Esquimalt Board Sets Colleagues Wondering High School and Technical Course Discussion Given One Week's Hoist

A very pointed hint that the Putnam report of the Provincial Education Commission may contain drastic changes in the grade and high school systems of B.C. was given last night by Chairman James Elrick, of the Esquimalt School Board.

The board had met to vote on high school, manual training, and domestic science courses in relation to the abolition or retention, under Esquimalt teachers.

Advising delay in reaching a decision on the high school matter Chairman Elrick made three references to the anticipated report of the B.C. Commission.

"If the commission were to recommend that the Provincial Government take over the High School system our problem would be solved," was his first reference to the matter. "I feel that it would not be advisable for us to move now, in return for which the municipality takes over the improvements and gets title to Lot X, and the by-law which Oak Bay sells its reverted lands to Oak Bay Lands Limited, were given final readings."

By their agreement with Oak Bay Lands Limited the municipality will turn over all its reverted properties with the exception of a few lots which will be kept for municipal purposes such as road improvement. It is the plan of the local syndicate to state, at an extensive advertising campaign and a number of the selected lots will be auctioned off from June 17 to June 26. The sum of $12,454 has been paid to the municipality by the Oak Bay Lands Limited. The balance of the purchase price will be paid in four equal annual instalments.

The Oak Bay-Uplands agreement, which went before the ratepayers at the polls on May 9, was passed by a majority of 161 votes in a poll of 892. This by-law is one to "validate" the agreement between Uplands Limited and the Corporation of Oak Bay, and to provide for the assessment of lands therein."

Oak Bay will grant Uplands Limited a blanket or average assessment of $800 per acre for a period of ten years, commencing with January 1, 1925, and will remit the sum of $27,431, total tax arrears that the company owes the municipality, which covers the company's taxes for the past two years. The municipality secures clear title to Lot X and everything that goes with it, namely, sewers, roads, water, light, etc., which were installed in Uplands by the company at a cost of over $500,000. The municipality has received the sum of $10,000 which will be applied to this year's taxes of the company. The agreement also provides that the improvements which Oak Bay receives from Uplands Limited must be maintained by the municipality in the same standard as in the past.

Trustee Carver favored abolition of the Esquimalt High School and the technical classes outright. Trustee Parkinson favored their retention in full. Trustee Dalway supported the chairman in counseling delay on reaching a decision. Trustee Mrs. Lohster said she was not prepared to decide the questions out of hand but would favor a motion to table all matters for one week. This action was taken yesterday.

Chairman Elrick gave the casting vote which brought about the tabling of the high school discussion for a further week. The vote to table decision on the technical course and have a committee report carried three to one, with Trustee Parkinson asking to be recorded in the negative.

Little active discussion took place last night, trustees contenting themselves with a reiteration of their views as expressed at the ratepayer meeting held recently. The school board will meet on Tuesday in next week to give further time to all three questions.

OAK BAY BY-LAWS FINALLY PASSED

Oak Bay-Uplands and Land Deal By-laws Ratified by Municipality

Two important by-laws were finally passed by the Oak Bay Council last night. The Uplands-Oak Bay by-law, whereby Oak Bay gives Uplands Limited a blanket or average assessment on their lands and permits two years' unpaid taxes, in return for which the municipality takes over the improvements and gets title to Lot X, and the by-law which Oak Bay sells its reverted lands to Oak Bay Lands Limited, were given final readings.

The by-law which authorizes the sale of the reverted lands to Oak Bay Lands Limited was passed by a majority of 161 votes in a poll of 892. This by-law is one to "validate" the agreement between Uplands Limited and the Corporation of Oak Bay, and to provide for the assessment of lands therein."

Theodore Eggers And Joseph O'Brien In San Francisco

San Francisco, May 20.—Theodore Eggers and Joseph O'Brien, sought for months in connection with the escape of Milo Eggers and the slaying of Ariel C. Eggers here, were brought back from Philadelphia yesterday and turned over to United States Marshal Fred E. Sola.

Eggers and O'Brien were apprehended in Philadelphia nearly a month ago and were held there until extradition proceedings could be carried through. They are named in two indictments on the secret file in the federal court here, charging interference with a government official to rescue a prisoner and the other charging conspiracy. Another defendant named with the two is Mrs. Emma Brown, Eggers' sister, who is in San Francisco but at liberty on bail.

  11. Bay of Quinte—Bridge St. Church, Belleville..... June 4

Toronto, May 20 (By Canadian Press).—Dates of Methodist Annual Conference have been set this year with regard to the imminence of the first general conference of the United Church. All conferences must complete their work in time to report to the new body on June 10, so as to enable a meeting of the General Conference to be held in Toronto on the morning of June 9, when an all-day conference of Methodist leaders is scheduled preparatory to the inauguration of the new church the following day.

The final sessions of the twelve annual conferences will do their usual work, even to electing officers for the ensuing year, in case the conference, as at present organized, are instructed by the General Conference to continue to exercise any functions pending the organizations of conferences and presbyteries of the United Church of Canada in this country. The program is to be provided against and any slackening of activity or discipline averted. It is anticipated that the General Council will meet for the assembling and constituting of the new conference early in the fall.

The present annual conferences are the last since the final re-unification of Methodism in 1853, when the earlier conferences had their boundaries rearranged and their constituent elements combined into various Methodist bodies. It is not thought that the Methodist Conference of May and June, 1925, will ever meet again. The next conference to be held will differ considerably in composition and powers, and possibly in boundaries. For the final sessions a number of conferences have selected places at a meeting of historic and sentimental interest.

The keynote was struck on May 14 by the first conference, that of British Columbia, which met in the Metropolitan Church, Victoria, home of the first congregation on the Western Coast. The next in Edmondston met in McDougal Memorial Church, the shrine of Methodism in Alberta, built in recognition of the tragic death of a pioneer missionary. The first Methodist church built in the Red River country, Grace Church, Winnipeg, will entertain the Manitoba Conference for the last time.

Conferees met at Amherst, Saskatchewan, to propose to hold one joint commemorative session this year at their university. Montreal Conference met in its most famous church—St. James' the church of its president; and the Bay of Quinte Conference in the historic Bridge Street Church in Belleville. Carlton Street Church, Toronto, once known as the cathedral of the Primitive Methodist denomination, is the regular meeting place of the Toronto Conference.

STAMP TAX RULING IS BEING OPPOSED

Ottawa, May 20.—The Retail Merchants' Association is vigorously protesting against the recent ruling that tax stamps must be placed on all documents showing payment of money exceeding $10, as debated in the House of Commons last Monday night, it is announced by the executive committee of the association. Claiming that in almost every instance this would mean a duplication of the tax, as it is necessary at the present time to place stamps on all receipts showing the payment of similar amounts, the association is arranging to send a delegation to the Government to ask that the ruling be changed so that it will be necessary only to place stamps on statements showing credits when receipts have not been issued for the same amounts.
