

Boston. July 20th

Tuesday evening

Dear Sir

I do not mean that you should have been so long without advice from my father has written it to. I have a full sheet of your case containing however nothing at all - up to a week ago - tomorrow - & then I stopped for a very good reason - we had held the meeting of the Boston General & I being the President presided with great dignity 15 persons were present - but we transacted some business - just as I got home about 5 o'clock on Monday for me to go to Weymouth. Mr. [Name] was sick & I knew as soon as I saw him the Mrs. [Name] early in the morning with cholera of the most violent kind - & was in great danger - the worst was over before he [Name] for me - Aunt Mary was with me all the time - & Aunt Bynthin & Mrs. [Name] & the [Name] you may know how it was when I tell you that the Dr. was there all the morning - that though the day was [Name] hot - she was surrounded with hot flannels - & rubbed with hot Brandy - Mustard pastes on the bowels & hot water at the feet - there was great difficulty in keeping any thing on the stomach the brandy was twice rejected - finally oil.

took effect - then opium - & at last she kept down Soda - - all this time the circulations were unimpeded she being as cool as ice - & in a profuse & cool perspiration - you may imagine the dis may in which I went home fearing she might have had a relapse - she had not however - & I found her going on well - I dismissed my school & staid at home till Sunday - she continuing to improve all the time Sat night - Hervey came over - & on got left by a accident, & Sunday - Miss Mary came to stay with me - & Hervey brought me to town & carried on sub - since which I have not heard from them - Henry grows weaker - I think very slowly - & suffers much - but no great change - things go on smoothly here - the children are well - Aunt & Lucia I expected to-day but they have not come I shall look for them till they do - I did not write to them of Chris illness - for as it was over so soon - I thought it hardly worth while - & expecting them so soon - in the confusion of Chris's illness poor Warren was forgotten & nobody wrote to him for steam boat I have a letter from Chari March - a letter from Mrs Smith of Stingham - a letter from Gibbons - nothing of great consequence in either of them - No body especial has been here - your letters have been the greatest events - of the day - Emma left with me your orders about the bonnet - of course Mrs illness took us up to that we thought of nothing else - but I have determined to make a Portuguese bonnet like Maria's - such a bonnet as I would wear myself - I send it to you & if you don't like it - I will take it - I would not if I were you yet one of those little straws - the house is full of them now - I could make 3 with ones while I was buying one of the straws

- I should have gone about it this afternoon but have been ill* & unable to stir tomorrow I will go about it in earnest - Great Mrs the pleasure & surprise here that the other day Joy & Charlotte Austin - March in & announced themselves - to be Mary & Wife - it is a good & sensible match also Mrs Frances Whipple the long be Franklin is married - I have not time for a word more, but will from the last week's paper - & they letters by the first opportunity - The little pink bonnet came my way - & I hardly knew it to school - I think I must have ac knowledg'd it before - With all your adventures - Emma wants her gown as soon as you have done with it as soon - I suppose she & Lucia will go to Duxbury - directly - Wendell & Anne are at Lynn -

Miss Deborah Weston.

& Foster & Beach in goal at Salem - James Mott was here yesterday on his way to Cran tucket - his wife is not coming to Boston but goes home via Long Island the Mr Whittemore story is all true - I am Sincerely - I am ever yours in love
