GEORGE RICHARDSON ANSWERS LAST CALL

Pioneer of Pioneers Dies at Age of 96

Came to Victoria on Norman Morrison in 1850

George Richardson, one of the last of the pioneers of Victoria, who came to this city on the Norman Morrison, which brought out the first party of settlers from the Old Coast by way of Cape Horn, died at his residence here, 115 Government Street, at 6.30 o'clock last evening.

The late Mr. Richardson was born at Kent, England, on March 15, 1826, and he was therefore ninety-six years three months and three days old when he died.

During the voyage from England there was an outbreak of small-pox aboard the vessel, and had it not been for the medical skill of the late Dr. John Sebastian Heilmann, who was the ship's surgeon, many of the party would never have reached here.

Sun Yat Sen's Ships Bombarded City

London, June 19.—Sun Yat Sen, former head of the South Chinese Government, who fled from Canton upon the occupation of the city by the forces of Chen Chiang Ming, was on one of the warships which shelled Canton Saturday, according to a Hongkong dispatch to The Times dated Sunday.

After the firing had ceased, Chen's troops robbed the people in the streets on the pretext of searching for arms and ammunition. The streets shortly became practically deserted, whereupon the soldiers looted the shops.

An earlier dispatch from Peking said the military forces of Sun Yat Sen, leader of the Canton or Southern Government, have been crushed by the forces of Gen. Chen Chiang Ming, formerly Civil Governor of Kwangtung Province, and the former Canton President himself is a fugitive.

Canton City was bombarded Saturday afternoon by five gunboats, under the command of Sun Yat Sen. There were only a few casualties.

HOME BUILDING TO BE SUBJECT OF EXPERT STATEMENT

Chamber of Commerce to Bring Authority Here

Transportation Questions Occupy Directors

Home-owning communities are the most successful, and therefore Victoria should take an interest in promoting more home building. Alfred Carmichael reported to the Chamber of Commerce Home Building Committee.

A great home building campaign is under way in the United States, and all interests connected with home building are endeavoring to work out a scheme whereby this important industry can be more easily financed, he remarked.

Professor Haymaker made an excellent address at the San Francisco convention of realtors, and arrangements have been made for him to address a meeting in the Empress Hotel ballroom at 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning. There are a few seats left, and tickets can be secured at the Chamber offices.

The directors will be on hand to greet the Empress of Canada on her arrival here on Thursday in the trans-Pacific trade.

"We are more and more being treated as a way port, and unless we persist and back up the recommendations of C. P. W. Schwenger to get the steamship and railway companies to concentrate on Vancouver Island we are bound to go backward," said J. W. Spencer when a letter was read from the C. N. R. stating it would be impossible to have G. T. P. steamers call at Victoria on northbound voyages from Seattle, as suggested by the directors.

The directors will ask the Canadian Pacific Railway to have the morning boat from the mainland dock here at 7 o'clock daylight saving time, and it was also decided to ask for better mail service whereby logging camps on Cowichan Lake could make better connections with the motor mail cars plying between Duncan and Cowichan Lake.

The directors will also insist on the return of the post office inspector's office to Victoria.

Sidney Celebration.

The Sidney Amateur Athletic Association invited the directors to attend the celebration at Sidney on July 1 Dominion Day. A number of the Chamber members it is hoped will be able to take advantage of the invitation.

The Memorial Avenue Committee will meet shortly to lay out a plan of just what is to be expected of each of the municipalities interested in Memorial Avenue, in order that they may look after their respective responsibilities.

The directors agreed that everything possible should be done to assist in carrying out the purpose of the resolution adopted by the Canadian Legion to secure work for disabled ex-service men. Quite a number of minor details also were dealt with.

ONTARIO PROGRESSIVE POLICY SEEKS EQUAL OPPORTUNITY FOR ALL

This new party intends to do what it says it will do.

"The one great principle behind the Ontario Progressive movement is the demand that the affairs of our country shall be carried on in a business-like way for the best of Canada, in internal and external affairs. There may not be much sentiment in it, but it is the sentiment of the business man based on the desire of Canadians for a thoroughly Canadian and business-like administration of affairs."

Mr. Drury told of the rise of the Progressive movement in Canada was explained to the traditional parties that was that for two generations there had been a "settling down" into fast party lines.

He said that the former organizations had no ambition to enter the political field, but without anyone knowing just how it happened, the last election found conventions being called, and men put behind them were party funds behind them, but the people who were interested put up the money for the "new" party. They had no new type of program, but they were not called on to meet their own expenses.

Tired of the Past.

But even with such an apparently casual start, out of 65 men who were thus put up 55 were elected. There was no slogan, there was no great central principle, only the people seemed to have tired of unbusiness-like government.

Mr. Drury pointed out that practically all the men elected were Canadians. His cabinet is composed of five of United Empire Loyalist stock, one of early Irish descent and two of early English descent and two of early Scottish descent.

"Canadians of Canadians."

"That is a sample of the men that we elected on. They are men who were Canadians of Canadians and men who represent Canadian thought through two and three generations of Canadian life."

Mr. Drury explained that these men did not come in with any idea of a new order of society and had no communist ideas, although they were represented as having such. He pointed out that the eleven members of his cabinet have 48 children among them and own 4,500 acres of land.

"These are not the kind of men who want to turn anything upside down," he said.

When they were called to power they immediately found allies, and strange to say, these were men of the labor party. Mr. Drury went on to say that the men elected from the smaller cities, men who in their own towns had filled positions of trust and of public service there.

Value of Labor.

"Don't get the idea that a man who is a labor man is out to turn the world upside down," he continued. "The best thing to do is to alienate the same element of the labor movement, which is the element that can be used and used mightily to build up a great Canadian nation."

The movement that made England what she is in the world, a leader of freedom and international justice, came from the common people, the very common people. Don't let us be afraid of these men, but let us be men who are seeking to better the lot of the average man."

Mr. Drury said that these two classes, the farmer and the laborer, came together easily in Ontario. It was found in the past that from them a party which thought of the good of the people generally, and not only of farmer or laborer.

"There are some people in Canada who are in the progressive movement who profess to see the remodelling of our parliamentary system," he went on. "They would have a parliament of all groups and cabinets of men of all groups."

Danger of Class Control.

"I would oppose anything which would set up a group government in our parliaments. Just as soon as you get parties that think not in terms of citizenship, but in terms of classes, just so soon you get the introduction of an incurably selfish element."

The thing that would happen is that there would be a series of selfish alliances to obtain particular ends. There would be no stability and no thought for the thing that ought to be the supreme thought, that is the welfare of the whole as distinguished from the welfare of particular classes. Men sent to represent particular classes would represent those classes first and their country second. I believe that would ruin the country. In the government of the province or the nation, if you had no opposition and a government comprised of many groups, you would have a government so irresponsible that you would have the most inefficient government this country has ever seen.

New Alignment

"The thing that has taken place is a re-alignment of certain forces in the country. The fact is that we have had men of similar opinions that were separated by the old political ties. Many of them have had the same views on national policy, and they have had the same views on provincial policy. Under the new conditions resulting from the shake-up in the war, these men said, 'What is the use of us standing apart? Let us get together.' This sort of thing is not new. It has been the history of party government in British countries for hundreds of years.

Rev. W. Leslie Clay, D.D., president of the Canadian Club, presided.

Hon. John Oliver, Premier of British Columbia, and W. J. Bower, K.C., leader of the B.C. opposition, moved and seconded the vote of thanks.

result in inducing more settlers to come to this part of the world.

After pioneering here for about eight years, he made his first trip back to England via the Horn and returned again to the coast with his bride, arriving back here in 1878. During his latter residence in Victoria he led a retiring life, and was content to enjoy life among his friends and the members of his family. His death is keenly regretted by his many friends by whom he was held in the highest regard.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday from the family residence, 115 Government Street and the remains will be conducted to the Reformed Episcopal Church, where services will be held. Further announcements of the funeral arrangements will be made later.

MACHINE GUNS CAUSE OF TRIALS

leged to have carted the shipment from Culhane's storehouse to the East Side.

Made in Connecticut

The guns were made by the Colt Patent Arms Company of Hartford, Conn., and are alleged to have been sold by the Auto-Ordnance Company.

Their inventor is said to be General John T. Thompson, father of Colonel Thompson.

There was considerable mystery about the guns after their seizure, and an investigation was started by the United States Shipping Board and the Department of Justice. Frank Williams claimed ownership of the guns through the Auto-Ordnance Company and stored them in a warehouse. He said they had been stolen from the warehouse and asserted he did not know how they got on the ship.

To Strangers

Rorke later was arrested, and was released on $3,000 bail. He is said to have admitted that he sold the guns to a group of strangers.

The indictments were returned by the January grand jury, which concluded its work in April. Information concerning the indictment was withheld, it was indicated, because of the inability to reach some of those indicted.

The technical indictment against the men as a body charged them with conspiracy to set on foot and procure the means for military enterprise to be carried on against the territory of a foreign power with whom the United States was at peace.

DELOIRME TRIAL TO LAST A WEEK

Hearing Continued in Montreal To-day

Montreal, June 19.—Adelard Delorme's fight to have himself adjudged medically unfit to be tried on the charge of having murdered his half-brother, Raoul, promises to occupy the entire week. Judge Monet having this morning discharged the entire petit jury panel which remained after the Delorme jury had been selected.

The proceedings to-day opened with the cross-examination of Dr. J. A. Handfield, an immediate neighbor of Delorme, on his observations of the prisoner's general behaviour during the years of their acquaintance.

The examination resulted in a colorful duel between J. C. Walsh, crown prosecutor, and the witness, Gustave Monet, chief counsel for the defence, occasionally came to the rescue of the witness when the question was raised as to whether Delorme alleged furious pursuit of the money god should necessarily be interpreted as a symptom of insanity.

Crowd There.

The courtroom was again crowded to suffocation, each available inch of standing room being occupied by eager, curious spectators, the great majority of whom were women.

Delorme appeared to be in the best of health, his former high color having fully returned.

As usual, he appeared uninterested in the proceedings and reclined in his chair, frequently closing his eyes as in a light doze.

Mr. Justice Poullet, of the Superior Court of Quebec, was on the bench with Mr. Justice Monet.

PLEASANT EVENT AT METCHOSIN

Under Auspices of Boy Scouts and Girl Guides

(Times Correspondence) Metchosin—A very successful event was held at Metchosin Hall on Friday evening under the auspices of the local Boy Scouts and Girl Guides. Ross Sutherland, Provincial Commissioner of Boy Scouts, was present and addressed the gathering on the aims and objects of the Boy Scout movement and those of the Girl Guides, alluding to the latter as the "sister movement," and paying tribute to Tyrell Godman and her colleagues, with regard to their work in the district in respect to the organization of a Girl Guide patrol.

Mr. Sutherland touched upon the splendid work accomplished by the Boy Scouts during the war, when they shouldered their responsibilities like men, following this up by saying that what was taught in the schools regarding civility and gentlemanly conduct, availed them nothing if not put into practice.

The Boy Scout movement was for the purpose of putting into practice the ideals of British chivalry, as well as aiding to a very great extent in the physical development of the boys. Mr. Sutherland concluded his address with the remark that the people of Metchosin, who had always been to the front in any good work or movement, would not fail to support and help along to the best of their ability the move to better and help along the boys and girls.

How to Have Good Gardens

One of the gardener's greatest difficulties has been overcome. It has been almost impossible recently to obtain good manure. When it was to be had it has been of poor quality and full of weed seed. At last science has produced a convenient tablet called Stim-U-Plant which is rich in highly concentrated plant food. Its effect is shown promptly on all flowering plants in pots, boxes or beds, rose bushes, peonies, iris, shrubs and everywhere else about the garden and lawn. It makes the flowers larger, richer in color and perfume and more profuse in quantity. These tablets are simply pushed into the soil, according to directions or can be used to make liquid manure. They are odorless and stainless. Vegetables develop more quickly and are of better color and flavor. Fruits of all kinds are improved, likewise, are trees benefited by their use. Lawns quickly improve when treated with Stim-U-Plant. The fact that florists, nurserymen and market growers are using them in constantly increasing quantities proves their value. Once tried means constant use. Order by name, Stim-U-Plant, the big tablets in the wax wrapper. Price delivered: 35 cts., $1.00, $4.50. Order from your seed dealer or United Distributing Co., 228 Pemberton Bldg., Victoria, B. C.

TWO WOMEN LOST LIVES IN A FIRE IN MINNESOTA

Minneapolis, Minn., June 18.—Two women lost their lives early Sunday morning when fire swept through Lafayette Club at Lake Minnetonka, burning it to the ground. A dozen guests and employees were burned severely while escaping from the building. The loss is estimated at $250,000. The fire started in the spacious ball room. A smouldering cigarette is believed to have been the cause.

There had been a dance at the club Saturday evening, but the dancers left at midnight. About 150 persons were sleeping in rooms at the club. John Bergman, house detective, was notified by a passing automobile that the ball room was in flames.

Bergman got the night clerk and they sounded the alarm. A panic ensued as guests and employees scrambled outside. They scattered over the lawn and watched the big club house turn into a cauldron. Mrs. Martin Koon and her companion, Mrs. Lucy Gilbert, both of Minneapolis, were burned to death. They had been aroused by employees, but were late in leaving the building. Their bodies were found charred in ruins near where the main stairway had stood.

Is interviewed at Montreal on Way to England

Montreal, June 18.—"A clear and definite statement on the attitude of the Canadian Government will assure the Western Provinces of an increasing immigration of the finest type of Britisher, who is both willing and eager to come here when he knows that his welcome will be permanent." This assertion was made by Major William H. Hayward, former member of the British Columbia Legislature, who left Montreal to embark on the Scandinavian at Quebec for his home in London. He was born in Dover, England, but for many years he made his home in British Columbia and represented Esquimaux in the Legislature of that Province from 1900 to 1904 and Cowichan from 1907 to 1918. He had a great deal to do with the development of agriculture in Western Canada, especially as a member of the Commission on Agriculture which toured Europe some years ago. A gentleman farmer by himself, Major Hayward's experience proved of the greatest value to the commission, and his reports to the B.C. Legislature aided agricultural development throughout that Province and more particularly on Vancouver Island, where he had his home.

Circulation of American Magazines in Canada Debated in Commons

Ottawa, June 19.—A debate on the importation of American magazines into Canada took place in the House of Commons on Saturday. H. C. Hocken, Conservative member for Toronto West, started the discussion when an item in a budget resolution providing for a reduction of 2½ per cent. in the British preference on books and paper and coated paper for use in publication of books and magazines came up.

Mr. Hocken declared he had no objection to the duty, but wished there could be some protection for Canadian magazine publishers against the flood of American magazines which were finding their way in here and which made it impossible for Canadian magazines to publish. There should be an impost on American magazines coming across the border, he thought.

George W. Kytte, Liberal, Cape Breton, South and Richmond, declared the people had a right to choose their own literature. If they wished American magazines, it was unfair to keep these periodicals out of Canada. Such a proposition was "protection gone mad."

Robert Forke, Progressive, Brandon, declared Canadian literature should be encouraged in order to develop the national sentiment in Canada. At the present time even the Sunday school papers available here set forth American men of note as examples for the growing generation.

Sir Henry Drayton read a telegram from the Canadian magazine publishers protesting against "continuance of present conditions. Unless a change was made, some of them faced ruination, they declared."

This was a serious problem affecting the national life and national spirit, Sir Henry declared. He favored a tax of 15 per cent. on American magazines similar to that placed against advertising matter. Some of the magazines were chiefly advertisements any way. Replying to Sir Henry, Mr. Fielding, Minister of Finance, said there was an anomaly in that advertising matter was not taxed when it came into the country in magazines.

Hon. T. A. Crerar said he had received representations from the majority of publishers of Canadian weeklies, asking for a reduction in the duties on these papers coming into Canada. There was no duty charged on United States advertisements coming into this country, but the Canadian publisher was forced to pay a duty on coated paper coming from the United States in the way he was placed at a disadvantage in competition with the American publications. Fielding said there might be a number of items to which the same reasoning would apply. He thought, however, that it would be good policy for Canada to "stand pat" on the tariff question and see what the United States proposed to do.

Without losing its identity or endangering the advertising value of its central and conspicuous location this Province should benefit by the addition of the Canadian High Commissioner to the tenantry of British Columbia House.

calitrants will use the oath as a pretext for further agitation. But this journal correctly points out that these people are really making war against Ireland.

These opinions, which reflect the views of the great bulk of the American people, should finally convince Eammon de Valera that he is fighting for a forlorn hope.

MINISTER COMING WEST.

After the present session of the Dominion Parliament the Hon. Charles Stewart proposes to tour the West for the purpose of holding conferences with the various provincial governments and representatives of the railway companies.

WATER RATES.

To the Editor—I was very interested to read in last night's Times that the City Council intend attacking the B. C. E. Railway Company for a cheaper light rate in common with Vancouver.

CAUSES.

To the Editor—it is now almost three weeks since I asked through your columns if "Ajax" would give me the chapter and verse where he found any reference to a "fourth day of creation," but have not yet received an answer.

THE CANADIAN LEGION.

To the Editor—For the benefit of the men in remote parts of the Province and in hospitals, I will thank you for space in your columns to briefly recount the activities, objectives, and personnel of the Canadian Legion, the post of which in Victoria—with its eight hundred members is an astonishing result of the recent amalgamation movement.

BARREN GROUND.

Bolshevik propaganda in Great Britain does not seem to be producing anything like the returns that had been expected by those who are providing the "ideas" and the wherewithal to scatter them in allegedly likely quarters.

individual will not lose any sleep over a fantastic programme of this kind. Bolshevism is dead on its own doorstep; it is wasted effort to transplant its corpse.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Eammon de Valera has cancelled his engagement to visit Scotland. Does he see the writing on the wall?

According to The London Saturday Review the rumor is current that Mr. Lloyd George will soon get the support of The Times. We shall wait and see whether the age of miracles has passed or not.

their all—more than life itself, and whose joyless lives are known only to themselves and the few who seek them out.

The Canadian Legion will take its place in history beside the United Empire Loyalists and the pioneers who built this Dominion, and do the work which lies before all citizens of this country, recognizing no Provincialism, or sectarianism.

It would be well for returned men organization until there is only one and then be proud of it; and read carefully the undemonstrated names of the Advisory Council:

ACTION COMMENCED AGAINST REGISTRAR OF LAND TITLES

Sum of $25,000 Claimed for Damages for Alleged Wrongful Issuance

Of unusual interest in legal circles is the action commenced in the Supreme Court here to-day before Mr. Justice McDonald by L. D. Chatham and Lee Mong Kow, who jointly sue the Registrar-General of Titles for damages to the extent of $25,000 and costs for alleged wrongful issuance of a title to a subdivision of several lots near the terminus of the Hillside car line.

The land in question passed through several hands. Lee Mong Kow, a well-known Chinese millionaire, formerly of this city, secured an indefeasible title in 1910. The land was purchased later by L. D. Chatham. In 1915 some of the property, stated Mr. Taylor for the plaintiffs, was taken away by an order of the court, on an action instituted by the B. C. Electric Railway Company, in connection with the Hillside extension.

The title had been issued to Lee Mong Kow, held counsel; after representations that the land was unencumbered, from information alleged to have been received at this registry department in this city. A title of this plaintiffs were forced to give up a section of the property in question to the B. C. Electric Railway Company. It was therefore claimed that $25,000 damage had been suffered by the plaintiffs, and that amount, with costs of this action and such other relief as the court might deem expedient, was sought by plaintiffs in this hearing.

STUDIED BRITISH CATTLE SITUATION

Miss Cora Hind, Agriculture Editor of the Manitoba Free Press, Winnipeg, returning on the Canadian Pacific "Montrose," reached Quebec on Saturday morning, June 16, and Montreal the same evening. Miss Hind is a journalist of repute, and was sent to Great Britain by her chief, Mr. J. W. Duffoe, to study the cattle embargo, and agricultural conditions generally throughout the United Kingdom. She was retained to discuss the embargo, saying that a very important conference will be held on June 12 to discuss matters. Miss Hind stated that conditions were gradually approaching a normal state throughout England and Scotland. The approach of the Ascot season has livened up London, which promises to be a most interesting event.

Miss Hind studied the present agricultural situation, and will publish her impressions on returning to Winnipeg. I am especially interested in cattle-breeding, and inspected many of the finest herds in Great Britain. Everywhere the utmost kindness and courtesy was shown me. Prominent among the herds visited were the King's at Windsor, those of the Duke of Westminster, the P. and G. Hughes cattle at Crews, the Balcarran and Marshalls at Stairness, the biggest short-horn herd in the British Empire. While having enjoyed her trip overseas, Miss Hind declared that she was delighted to be back in Canada and was anxious to see the broad Prairies once more. She is a lady of marked personality, and a very able conversationalist.

GRANDMOTHER ON HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Mrs. Blair Explains Secret of Perennial Youth

Perhaps if George Bernard Shaw could see Mrs. Margaret Josephine Blair he would say, "Ah, now you see that 'Man and Superman' and 'Back to Methuselah' are not all imagination." For Mrs. Blair is past sixty years and she feels younger than sixteen and she puts the 16-year-old flapper to shame.

Until she was 45 years old Mrs. Blair had never been well. Like Mark Twain, when he began to look up his symptoms of illness one day, she said everything but housemaid's knee. Then she got sick of being sick and to-day there is no woman in the country who is in better health. No one in the world would guess that she has a son 38 years old, and she is a grandmother. Since she discovered the font of eternal youth she has resigned her chair as head of the domestic science department of the University of Minnesota, and has travelled over all parts of the world, giving her health lectures.

"A woman is as old as her knees," is one of Mrs. Blair's favorite axioms. "There is nothing wrong with her knees even though she is past sixty because she eats, sleeps and exercises properly."

Health Commissioner Copeland, of New York, was present at the lecture given by Mrs. Blair on the Hotel Waldorf roof recently. She danced like a young girl, she did exercises that would baffle a person 40 years younger, and she talked all the time she was speaking. When she was through, Dr. Copeland rushed up to her to test her heart—there wasn't an extra beat to make up for all the exertion. Turning to her he said, "Perfectly normal! I'm for you. You've got the secret of eternal youth."

The diet followed by Mrs. Blair is interesting. She rarely eats meat and never beef. She prefers nuts and uncooked prunes soaked in water for 24 hours. She eats 16 olives a day and drinks a quart of milk and at least two quarts of water. "You will never get stiff knees if you eat olives and drink lots of water," says Mrs. Blair.

She is a pleasure to look at. She stands erectly, with perfect gracefulness; her cheeks are unlined even though her hair is snow white. Her flesh is as firm as a child's and pink with the flush of health. She is the living exponent of right living.

Turning to her, she has been lecturing at Hudson's Bay Company's store, is now holding health classes each morning this week at 10 o'clock in the Empress Hotel.

MORE PICKERS NEEDED

With the strawberry season approaching its zenith and the logan and raspberry crops nearing maturity, berry picking is now in full swing throughout Vancouver Island. There is still an urgent demand for girls and women for the berry picking, and the Provincial Labor Bureau on Langley Street is prepared to register pickers until the middle of the present week.

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Mary's Church, Metehosin, on Saturday, June 17, when Elsie Rising, of Metehosin, became the bride of the Rev. F. Conley officiated, and the church had been prettily decorated by the sister and friends of the bride, who, looking in a lovely dress of cream soft silk and a beautiful silk lace veil caught up with orange blossom, was given away by her brother, Paul Rising, and sister, Phyllis, acted as bridesmaid dressed in a pretty blue georgette frock with cream sash and a large cream hat with small roses forming a pretty trimming, and Mr. Devine supported the bridegroom. The hymns, "Love Divine" and "O Perfect Love" were sung. Mrs. Rising, the mother of the bride, attired in a graceful dress of mole colored silk, held a reception at her home, Metehosin, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Hiekstowe. After a delightful luncheon, served on the lawn, the bride and groom, with the bridesmaid and best man, left for the bride's home, where a reception was held. A message from the Dean of Columbia was read, wishing the pair much happiness, and a little later Mr. and Mrs. Vernon, amid a shower of rice, confetti and good wishes left en route for the Cariboo District, where for the present their home will be made.

CHRISTENING AT SCOTTISH DAUGHTERS' LEAGUE CEREMONY

A large gathering of members of the Scottish Daughters' League, with their invited guests, were present at the Sailors' Club, Esquimalt, on Friday evening last, when the christening of Baby McBeath, the first child born to a member of the League since its inception in September, 1921, took place. The name given the baby was that of the League's organizer and president, Jean Margaret Nicol, and the Sacrament of Baptism was performed by Rev. T. Menzies, M.P.F.

After the impressive ceremony all assembled around the banqueting board, where an excellent repast was served at tables prettily decorated with choice June roses and other floral decorations.

Rev. T. Menzies, in a happy speech, proposed the health of Baby McBeath and her parents. To this Mr. McBeath responded, and the little guest of honor was presented by the members of the League with a beautiful silver mug, suitably inscribed, and also by Nurse Corbett with a bouquet of tiny baby roses and a sterling silver baby spoon.

Mr. Jas. Nicol then proposed the toast to the King, and Mrs. J. Wise, in a very witty speech, proposed the toast to the Scottish Daughters, telling of the good work being done by them in Esquimalt. This was responded to by the president, Mrs. James Nicol, who, in charge of the evening's programme.

Mrs. Butler then gave a well rendered Scottish selection, with community chorus. The floor space, after then speedily cleared and a jolly dance indulged in by all. Mr. James Nicol ably performed the part of floor manager, with Miss Thelma and J. Dobble supplying excellent dance music. Rev. Mr. Menzies also contributed one or more appreciated Scottish hymn numbers to the evening's programme.

NEED FOR PROPER CARE OF CHILDREN'S TEETH IS URGED

Under the auspices of the Child Hygiene Council of Esquimalt, Dr. A. Poyntz, on Friday afternoon at the Parish Hall, gave a most interesting and instructive address on the care of the teeth of both children and adults, dealing more especially with those of the pre-school age child. He showed that the mouth was the gateway of disease such as diphtheria, influenza, pneumonia and inflamed stomach almost invariably came from above the collar, or literally diseases of the teeth, and that the practice of killing the nerve and filling such cavities very often caused absorption of poison from which often drained into the blood. Dr. Poyntz recommended rancinating hard food thoroughly rather than using soft, sticky, and sticky foods, and early looking well to the care of children's first teeth. Many suitable lantern slides operated by Mr. R. H. Huxtable graphically illustrated the lecturer in making the various points clear to his listeners. Mrs. Booth, the president presided, and a very hearty vote of thanks was extended to Dr. Poyntz by the interested audience of mothers present.

Appetizing refreshments under the supervision of Mesdames Merry, Brooker and Sanders were served at the close, and all who sent donations for this are thanked by the society.

FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

SEVEN GOLD BUTTONS Part I.

By a forest in a far-off land there dwelt a woodchopper named Arlos and his wife Salla. They had two sons, Robert, a big strong boy, and Zatio, who was as frail as a girl and could not chop down a tree, as could his father and brother.

The three were very poor, and Zatio knew as he grew older that he was no help to his parents. Instead he felt they would be better off without him. But he knew that Salla would never hear of his going away, for his very frailness made him dearer to his mother's heart than was her big strong son.

One day while Zatio was alone in the woods chopping up a tree that his strong brother had cut down he was startled by hearing someone say, "I can't find it, I can't find it, and he will pull my nose. Oh, dear, what shall I do?"

Zatio dropped his axe and ran to a rock from where the voice seemed to come. Climbing up, he looked over, and there on the ground was a little dwarf that, frail as he was himself, Zatio felt like a giant beside him.

He was still saying in a whining voice, "I can't find it," and did not see Zatio until he asked, "What is it you cannot find?"

The little man did not seem to be

"I can't find it," a bit afraid when he looked up and saw Zatio. "The golden button that belongs on the coat of the Ogre," he answered, "and he will pull my nose if I go back without it."

"I will help you look for it," said Zatio jumping down beside the little dwarf. "Did you lose it here?"

"He dropped it in this forest last night when he was riding over with old Witch Mumbo, who lives in the middle of the forest," said the dwarf. "How could an ogre ride with a witch? He must be very large," said Zatio as he searched for the gold button.

"Oh, she changes him to the form of a big bull," said the little man, "but he always wears the coat with the seven gold buttons on it and last night he dropped one. I wish he had dropped himself and never returned, for we dwarfs were happy until he came and made us all his slaves."

"Why do you go back to him if you do not find the button?" said Zatio.

"Oh, he would be sure to ask the help of Witch Mumbo and if she did not find me there are all my brother-dwarfs who are in his power. His home is over our cave and he makes us all his slaves."

"If I do not return he might do something terrible to them, for he would think I had found the gold button and kept it. I must go back and if I do not find it my nose may be pulled right off."

Zatio almost laughed when he looked at the tiny spot which was the nose on the face of this little creature, and he wondered how the ogre, if he had big hands, could pull such a tiny nose.

"Here it is!" cried Zatio suddenly, and he picked up the gold button that was as large as a dinner plate.

The little man began to dance about and clap his tiny hands and at the same time he gave a long shrill whistle.

Zatio was wondering how the small creature had expected to carry

The One Unwanted

By RUBY M. AYRES INSTALMENT No. 20

I kissed Mr. Alberry, too (I dare say mother would have been scandalized), and then I got into the car beside Mr. Champion, with my oox strapped in behind, and presently we were driving away down the uneven lane to the main road below the farm.

I looked back when we reached the bend, Mr. and Mrs. Alberry were both at the door, and Ned with the two dogs, but I only saw them as a blur for the tears in my eyes.

A moment later I heard a deep rut in the lane and into the main road.

I clasped my hands tightly in my lap. We had to pass Mr. Anderson's house before we were quite out of the village, and I felt the blood rising to my face, and I did not dare to turn my head as we sped by.

A moment later it was over! And I gave a long breath of relief. I hoped wildly that I should never see him again, and yet all the time there was almost a prayer in my heart that I might see him once more before Langton was left behind, perhaps forever.

Well—I did, for Mr. Champion, it appeared had left something at the hotel in Langton where he had stayed overnight, and he stopped the car to fetch it, and I was left outside alone.

Langton was only a small, straggling sort of town, but the Alberrys always spoke of it as if it were of great importance, and I was thinking how enormous London would seem by contrast, when I heard the cllop-cllop of a horse's hoofs, and half turning in the seat I saw Mark Anderson riding up the road behind me.

He did not see me till he came abreast with the car, when he casually turned his head and our eyes met.

I was as pale as a ghost, I know, and I saw the blood rush to his face as his hand went involuntarily to his hat; but I gave no acknowledgement, and the next moment he had passed on.

Mr. Champion came out from the hotel, climbed in beside me, and turned the car about.

"Now for home," he said lightly.

I nodded; I could not trust myself to speak; he might call "home"—London, and my own people to whom I was going; but I knew that all I was ever likely to know of real love or happiness lay behind me, in that sleepy little town.

It seemed a long, interminable ride, though I was quite warm and comfortable, and the car was the last word in luxury.

We had lunch at one of the big towns—I forget which—and went on again through the closing afternoon.

"Are you tired?" Mr. Champion asked once, and I shook my head.

"No, thank you; but I should think you are, driving all the time."

"Oh, I am used to it."

We seemed very formal, both of us, and I wondered what he had heard about me and what he was thinking.

It seemed like a tangible presence between us, the consciousness of my broken engagement, till at last I could stand it no longer, and said, "Well, you can do what you like with the old mortgage, after all you see!"

The color deepened in his face, and for a moment he did not answer.

"Did you hear?" I asked. I felt nervous and on edge.

"I knew that you had broken your engagement," he answered.

"Then you knew wrong?" I snapped.

"I didn't break it," Mr. Anderson said. "I shan't tell anybody else that, but I tell you so that you shan't blame me for anything that happens."

He looked down at me.

"What do you mean? Anything that happens?"

"If I marry anyone else or anything," I explained flippantly.

"If you marry me, for instance," he said.

I moved a little further from him. "I didn't mean that at all," I answered, but, of course, I had.

"I hope you will marry me," he said. "I hope very much that you will."

I laughed hysterically.

"What on earth would mother say, if she could hear you?" I said.

He made no answer, and I went on.

"I'm going to behave like my sisters when I get home. I'm going to spend pounds on clothes and have the time of my life, and get myself talked about, and enjoy myself—and I'll have my photograph in all the papers, and—set the Thames on fire generally."

He looked amused.

"I think you are quite capable of it," he said. "But if, in the meanwhile, you can find a moment in which to consider me as a possible husband, I shall be well, to put it mildly, extremely grateful to you."

I looked at him curiously.

"Do men like you always propose in this sort of way?" I asked, and I thought of the way in which Mark Anderson had taken me in his arms and kissed me before a word had been said.

"In what sort of way?" Mr. Champion asked.

"In this—well—this matter-of-fact sort of way," I explained.

"I imagined that you would not care for me to put my arm round you or kiss you," he answered grave-

"But if you would prefer it . . ."

"Of course not! I never meant that. Don't be so silly!"

He laughed again.

"I can make love quite passably, I promise you," he said.

"I suppose you've had a lot of practice," he answered.

"It won't suit me at all then," I said. "I should like to be a man's first and last love."

"The day of miracles has passed," Mr. Champion said dryly.

"What do you mean?"

"Only that few men marry their first love—fortunately."

"Fortunately for—which of them?" I asked.

"Both," said he.

There was a little silence.

"Well, you ought to know," I told him.

Speed and Hitting Is Deciding Factor

New York Giants and St. Louis Browns, Major League Leaders, Show Great Supremacy In These Departments; Detroit Tigers Coming On With Unexpected Rush; Yankees' Pitchers and Hitters Crumble; Williams Hits Another Homer

New York, June 19.—The combination of speed and batting punch looms as the decisive factor at this stage of the major league pennant races. The runaway pace of the New York Giants during the last week which left them five and a half games in the lead yesterday, after a defeat by St. Louis, and the sudden rush of the St. Louis Browns to the top as the Yankees faltered, can be laid largely to supremacy over their rivals in these departments. The Browns increased their margin to a game and a half yesterday by defeating Philadelphia, while the Yankees lost to Cleveland.

The Giants, whose winning streak reached eight games before it was stopped and included four in a row over Pittsburgh was aided by a brace in their pitching staff, but it was timely hitting that turned the tide in favor of the Giants at critical moments. Proof of this is the fact that every Giant regular, outside of Stengel, veteran of many a campaign, won two games practically single-handed with home runs.

As a result of New York's rampage the National League resolved itself into a struggle for second place. Pittsburgh meeting disaster at Boston and a rout against the Giants, lost its advantage and St. Louis was runner-up yesterday, although the Cardinals have as yet failed to hit their real stride in the east.

Brooklyn, with better pitching but still handicapped by poor fielding, retains fourth place. The Chicago Cubs spurred, and backed by effective hitting, took the last two games of the Brooklyn series, stopped the winning streak of the Boston Braves and drew ahead of Cincinnati to the leadership of the second division. The Reds continued in the slump again when they lost four in a row to the Giants, while the Phillies braced and showed a winning percentage for the first time in many weeks.

Browns and Tigers Show. The Browns and Detroit Tigers, meanwhile played the leading roles in sensational upsets that marked the week in the American League. St. Louis after breaking even in four games with the Yankees, out-hit Washington and went into the lead while New York, with Babe Ruth and his wrecking crew, in a dismal slump, was humbled four straight by Ty Cobb's dashing Tigers.

Sunday's setback was the seventh straight New York have suffered after getting away to a good start in their western invasion the week before. The Tigers, who hit New York's all-star hurler without mercy, beat Detroit in the first division while Chicago surrendered to a brief jennacy of fifth place to Washington, when Walter Johnson outpitched Faber in a one to nothing duel.

Williams Hits Another. Kenneth Williams, of the St. Louis Americans, knocked his seventeenth home-run of the season yesterday, which gives him a club record of 20 smashes on Roger Hornsby, of the St. Louis nationals, in the race for the home run honors this year.

Rainbow Cup Will Be At Stake Again. Oak Bay Golfers Are to Compete for Trophy Saturday; Burton Present Holder

The annual competition for the Rainbow Cup will be played at the Oak Bay links on Saturday, June 24. The competition is made up of 36 holes against bogey; put handicap to be reduced by seven strokes and three-quarters of the reduced handicap allowed.

Eric Burton Last Winner. The Rainbow Cup was presented to the Victoria Golf Club by the officers of H. M. C. S. Rainbow in 1912, to be kept as a club trophy and to be played for each year, in June. Last year the cup was won by Eric Burton with Art Beasley second.

Qualifying Round for British Open Golf Championship Started To-day

Sandwich, Scotland, June 19.—Qualifying play in the British open golf championship tournament was started this morning under ideal weather conditions. More than 200 contestants, including Jack Hutchison, who won the open last year, is defending his title. Jim Barnes and Walter Hagen are among the contestants. Hagen turned in a card of 75. He went out in 37, taking the first six holes in fours. He came back in 38, despite hard luck with several long putts.

Eighty players will qualify and half of the 127 competitors are playing one round over the Royal St. George's course and the remainder one round over the 17th hole's course. Tuesday the order of play will be reversed so that each competitor will have a round over each course in the qualifying competition.

Both courses are in excellent order, being improved by recent rains. Later—Sandwich, Eng. June 19.—Other scores were: Prince's Course—Captain Carter, 77; Arnaud Massey, of France, 78; W. L. Hunter, 80; George Dupon, former British open champion, 81. Royal St. George's Course—Roger Wainman, of Oxford, 72; A. J. Miles, 73; William Watt, 73; Alex. Herd, 76; James Braid, 79.

School Lacrosse Teams Play In Final Matches This Week

Arrangements have been completed for the play-off for the Gyro Cup, emblematic of the public school lacrosse championship. Tomorrow afternoon the semi-finals will be staged at the Royal Athletic Park between Esquimalt and South Park. On Friday the winners of this game will meet Oaklands for the championship. Each section staged its own schedule. South Park emerged victorious in the South Section, Esquimalt in the West Section and Oaklands in the North Section.

Interest is keen. Much interest has been aroused over the final games. Each district is backing its champion, and there is bound to be plenty of excitement. The three winning schools have all shown remarkable ability, and it is hard to pick a winner. Oaklands have a strong following, but South Park is looked upon as the king-pin in the James Bay district, while over in Esquimalt the followers believe that the International League through the promise of players and financial backing by Mr. Klepper. The league attaches importance to Mr. Klepper, of the Tacoma club. The unhappy situation which has arisen was unforeseen at the time of the arrangements between Mr. Klepper and Tacoma parties.

Second.—The fact that patronage in all four cities, even with high class ball and tennis, is dropping, has unexpectedly been far below the mark of previous years, and receipts were so totally inadequate to meet expenses, that club backers were facing heavy financial losses in a year of unusual hardship.

Third.—The fact that two clubs were unable to raise sufficient funds to post the required guarantee deposit with the league that they would finish the season.

GOLFERS BEGIN PLAY FOR CANADIAN TITLE

Hamilton, Ont., June 19.—Play in the qualifying round of the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship tournament began this morning at 6:30 o'clock on the links of the Hamilton Golf Club at Ancaster. Eighteen holes were to be played this morning and eighteen this afternoon at medal play. The thirty-two low scores qualified players to enter the first round at match play beginning tomorrow.

Great interest is manifested in the series this year on account of the presence of the Canadian amateur champion, Frank Thompson, Toronto, and such distinguished players as George Lyon, ex-champion, Toronto; Fritz Martin, Hamilton, and William McLuckie, C. B. Grier and G. H. Tuppin, all of Montreal, as well as a number of golfers from Western Canada and the United States in the tournament.

W. I. LEAGUE DOES THE BLOW-UP ACT

Vancouver Only Club That Wanted to Carry On; May Organize Prairie Loop

Edmonton, June 18.—The Western International Baseball League is no more. It ceased Saturday evening so far as Edmonton is concerned, and on Sunday so far as Tacoma and Vancouver are concerned. Last night the Eskimos and Bronks played a game at Diamond Park and they may continue to play several more games. President White has secured permission from Secretary Farrell for the clubs to hold their players for a couple of weeks while an effort is made to reorganize a new loop.

President White issued the official notice of the termination of the league on Saturday. The following clubs have decided to discontinue after June 18. Only one club was definitely in favor of continuing, namely, Vancouver. The Calgary and Edmonton clubs considered it the part of wisdom to dissolve on the following grounds:

Depended on Klepper.—"First.—The fact that the Tacoma club's fortunes were bound up to such a considerable extent with Mr. Klepper, who has been suspended by Commissioner Landis from participating in organized baseball in any way whatsoever until 1925. The

Champions Win in Overtime Thriller

Homer Alexander Scored Goal Which Defeated Vancouver Stick-Handlers; Game Was Replete With Thrills and Several Mix-ups Got Players Going As Fast As Antelopes; Mainlanders Evened Score In Last Quarter By Whirlwind Scoring Bee

Meet Homer Alexander, hero of Saturday night's lacrosse match with Vancouver, and then shake hands with Allie McGregor, the peppery inside home man, who gave the pass that brought the winning goal. When this pair staged their rush in on the Vancouver goal and scored after four minutes of play in the overtime period, the crowd went wild with delight and the toughest lacrosse game that has been staged here since New Westminster came over in 1919 and tried to lift the Mann Cup came to a most happy conclusion. The score was 3-2.

VINCENT RICKARDS DEFEATS BILL TILDEN IN GRUELLING GAME

Hartford, Conn., June 19.—Wm. H. Tilden II, of Philadelphia, male tennis champion, went down to defeat on Saturday in the final round of the court tennis tournament on the grounds of the Hartford Golf Club, losing a bitterly contested five-set match to Vincent Richards, of Yonkers, N. Y. The score was 6-8, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4 and 6-3, the champion taking the first two but losing the last three sets.

FREE-FOR-ALL AT END OF BIG GAME

Vancouver and Westminster Get Back Into Old Form and Batter One Another

Vancouver, June 19.—Vancouver and New Westminster lacrosse fans warmed up in real old-time form Saturday at Athletic Park. Terminals walloped their rivals from the Fraser Valley borough 7-3—the first time they succeeded in turning the trick this season. There were several old-fashioned chopping bees, a couple of honest-to-goodness scraps, some Graeco-Roman wrestling stunts and some really good lacrosse. In fact, better play was on tap than in the preceding encounters. Vancouver played better lacrosse all through and deserved the decision.

Regular Free For All. The game ended in a regular free-for-all. The fracas started when Jack Gifford dropped his club heavily on Lalonde. The latter, who was trying to get through the Roys' defence, dropped the ball and clipped half a dozen more hairs off Jack's tatch. Both started club swinging exercises and appeared not a bit particular where they landed. Hugh Gifford invited him into the scrap and started wielding a mean club. Lalonde battled the pair until half a dozen more players climbed in, but hostilities soon ceased. The combatants banished for the remainder of the game, exactly one and a quarter minutes.

Previous to the Lalonde-Gifford attack, Vancouver and Westminster staged a pugilistic exhibition near the Vancouver dugout. They had a merry mix but little damage resulted. In the fourth quarter Painter and Nelson got excited and started a war of their own. They got the hood from Referee Johnny Howard. Altogether there were twelve penalties handed out.

ENGLAND WINS FIRST DAVIS CUP TUSSELE

Rochampton, Eng., June 19.—England won from Italy in the first match of the Davis Cup tennis series between the two countries, played here to-day. F. Gordon Lowe, of Englewood, Swanton, and Count Di Robesco, of Italy, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1.

Copenhagen, June 19.—France yesterday won the doubles in the Davis Cup tennis matches against the two Danish players. Cochet and Borotra defeated Tegner and Wurm, 3-6, 2-6, 10-8, 6-2.

DEPARTMENTAL STORE ELEVENS TO MEET IN KEEN GAME TO-NIGHT

To-night will see a keen cricket match at the Jubilee Grounds when at 7 o'clock the Hudson's Bay and D. Spencer's elevens will meet on the Jubilee Grounds.

The keen friendly rivalry which exists between the big stores, greatly assists in making any athletic event one of great excitement. Both teams are out to win to-night and spectators are always assured of an interesting time.

The Spencer's elevens have been giving a good account of themselves lately and have been playing exceptionally good cricket and it will require a good team to secure a victory from them.

The Hudson's Bay elevens have also been rapidly improving and the last few matches have proved the value of several of their players and to-day they certainly possess a splendid team and to-night the match should be an exceptionally fast one.

F. Smith, Capt. of the Spencer's elevens, has been keeping his team in splendid shape, while the Spencer's elevens have been playing exceptionally good cricket and it will require a good team to secure a victory from them.

A meeting will be held at the Empress Hotel in the near future at which a prominent advocate of the movement from the United States will be the speaker. VICTORIANS AT MOUNT RAINIER

Participate in Opening of Park for Summer

J. C. Pendray, president, and Geo. I. Warren, Publicity Commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, arrived in Victoria last night after attending the annual opening of Mount Rainier Park. Both gentlemen were given a great reception in token of the popularity in which Victoria stands with the people across the border.

Mr. Pendray took his car, in which the party traveled, via the Victoria-Anacortes ferry, returning the same way. In Seattle and Tacoma there were great parades held in honor of the opening, and the Pendray car was the only one from Victoria in the procession.

The grand opening of the park was held Saturday night, when the Governors of the States of Washington and Oregon were among the speakers. James H. Beatty, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was among the Canadian guests who met at the famous Summer resort.

An urgent invitation to remain over Sunday for the great snow battle and a number of other interesting features was extended to Messrs. Pendray and Warren, but time would not permit of accepting. Both were struck with the warmth of the evening toward Victoria and Vancouver Island and displayed by people everywhere in the American cities.

LACK OF CLEARANCE CAUSED ACCIDENT

Two Cars on Proper Side of Road, But Hubs Met in Centre

Failure to estimate the amount of clearance necessary was responsible for an automobile accident on the Saanich Road in front of Little's refreshment stand on Sunday evening when two cars came together without damage to their occupants, but with some damage to the cars. The accident took place between a north-bound McLaughlin car driven by Miss Knott, of Keating, and a Ford car, southbound, owned by Mr. Richardson, Quadra Street. Both cars were traveling on their own side of the road, but the hubs came together in the centre. The front wheel on the inside was torn off the Ford and the front axle buckled, while the McLaughlin was wrenched out of its driver's hands and made a complete turn around the Ford and ran over the bank on the left side of the road into a sharp declivity. None of the passengers were hurt.

TO ENTERTAIN VISITORS WEDNESDAY

Anacortes Will Welcome Citizens With Luncheon and Drive

Anacortes is making plans for a wonderful reception to the two hundred Victorians who will participate in the Victoria-Anacortes motor-ferry excursion on Wednesday, J. C. Pendray, president of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau and Publicity Commissioner George I. Warren report on their return from Anacortes last night.

When the Gleaser arrives at Anacortes at noon Wednesday all the guests will be invited to a luncheon by the Anacortes Chamber of Commerce. Everyone will then be taken for a two- and a half-hour drive around the beautiful and productive Skagit Valley, visiting Pleasant Ridge, Mount Vernon, Burlington and other places.

Light lunches will also be available at reasonable rates on the ferry boat. The Gleaser will carry the party, and will leave Sidney at 9 o'clock. Tickets are available at the Chamber of Commerce Rooms, Belmont Building.

EAGLE CRAFT STRIKES REEF ON SAN-JUAN. Vessel Reported to Be Pounding on Rocky Ledge Across Gulf. Seattle, June 19.—Lives of naval militiamen from Seattle and Tacoma were endangered and the Eagle Boat No. 57, U. S. N., was badly damaged when the vessel plowed onto a rocky ledge at Cattle Point, San Juan Island, at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. Late last night the vessel was reported still hard ashore and pounding heavily on the rocky ledge with the naval tug Mohopac and the coast guard cutter Snohomish both standing by. It was planned to make an effort to float her at midnight with the coming of high tide. The naval vessel was bound for the open sea with a party of four naval militiamen from Seattle and Tacoma aboard when she went ashore under a heavy smoke screen that shrouded the Strait early yesterday morning. The vessel left Seattle at 6.30 p. m. Saturday, with Commander W. B. Allison in charge, and after picking up the Tacoma men at that city headed for the open sea to spend the week-end. The Eagle Boat was built on the East Coast during the World War. She is a steel vessel resembling both a submarine and a destroyer. Her officers and men are in no danger, according to wireless dispatches from the scene of the wreck.

THOMAS MEIGHAN STARS AT DOMINION

"The Bachelor Daddy" is Story of Unselfish Man Who Adopts Five Children

A picture which radiates happiness and which will undoubtedly help many to see the finer and truer side of life is "The Bachelor Daddy," at the Dominion Theatre all week, starting to-day. It is a picture which demonstrates the power of child love and no better selection for the starring role therein could have been made than Thomas Meighan, famous as the "Good Luck Star."

The story is of a man who unselfishly adopts the five motherless children of his dying pal, despite the fact that his own wedding day is but a week distant. He does not know it at the time, but the little ones bring him to the realization of a greater love than he thought was possible.

The work of the star in this Paramount picture is wonderful, while Leatrice Joy as leading woman acts her part with warmth and charm. Of the five kiddies—Charlotte (Peaches) Jackson, Barbara Maier, Bruce Guerin, and the de Brise Twins—top much cannot be said.

The choice of locations, photography and performances of the remaining members of the cast all deserve praise, and in its entirety the picture is one of the happiest and most wholesome productions of the year.

HISTORIC PIANO SHOWN IN FILM

Noted Instrument Portrayed in Capitol Offering

One of the most historic musical instruments in the world figures in George Fitzmaurice's Paramount production "The Man From Home," which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre all week.

The piano, which occupies a prominent position in the closing scenes was designed by the late Sir Lawrence Alma-Tadema, R.A., and was one of the great classical artist's most treasured possessions, for inside the lid are velvet panels bearing the autographs of such musical celebrities as Tschalkowsky, Boito, Clara Schumann, Paderewski, St. Saens and Mello.

The instrument is constructed of polished oak with ivory enrichments of carved foliage and diaper patterns inlaid in ebony and ivory. The body is supported by column or rosewood and ebony, and the end of the case is decorated with a silver bas-relief of Orpheus by G. B. Amendala. The music seat is made to correspond, the painting on the back in oils, showing Roman figures dancing to the music of a flute-player, being the work of Sir Alma Tadema himself.

"The Man From Home" is a forceful and faithful adaptation of Booth Tarkington's famous novel of the same name and is interpreted by a superlative cast including James Kirkwood, Anna Q. Nilsson and Norman Kerry. Ouida Bergers did the scenario.

COMEDY DRAMA OPENS AT ROYAL

Katherine MacDonald Exhibits Striking Versatility

Katherine MacDonald, the "American Beauty," carved even deeper her niche in the Hall of Fame this afternoon at the Royal Victoria Theatre by her superb acting in "The Beautiful Liar," her latest starring vehicle for Associated First National.

By successfully playing a dual role alternating between a Wall Street broker's secretary with a ballroom salary and a musical comedy queen with gowns in abundance, she once more demonstrated her remarkable versatility.

B. P. Schulberg, who presents this Ambassador comedy-drama, has not alone depended upon his star's magnetism, personality and dramatic artistry to attain success in this picture. He has given her for a leading man Charles Meredith, who will be remembered for his work as a matinee idol with the Morisco theatrical enterprises and who is rapidly becoming one of the screen's favorites. Numbered in the supporting cast are such film notables as Joseph J. Dowling, Wilfred Lucas, Kate Lester and Charles Wildish.

The story deals with this office girl, who, in order to save a Summer resort hotel manager from losing his job and to give herself a vacation among the Four Hundred at the same time, consents to pose as the musical comedy queen while the latter is absent in Honolulu.

While masquerading as the foot-light favorite at a society benefit she attracts the attention of a young Gotham millionaire, who immediately falls in love with her. The romance starts at rehearsals and continues at a lightning-like pace to a satisfactory conclusion despite numerous complications en route.

Unusually elaborate settings will be found in this production, and those interested in taking a peek at how the upper ten act when at play—which is most of the time—will find a keen delight in this picture.

"The Beautiful Liar" was directed by Wallace Worsley from the adaptation by Ruth Wightman of George Marion's original story.

STARRING AT ROYAL

Katherine MacDonald in "THE BEAUTIFUL LIAR"

"OMAR, THE TENTMAKER"

It is good to know that distinguished merit is sometimes recognized and rewarded. A case in point is the engagement by Richard Walton Tully of James Young to direct the spectacular screen version of "Omar, the Tentmaker." Tully's wonderfully popular Oriental drama, produced nearly a decade ago. On the very day that Young turned over to Tully the marvelous finished negative of "The Masquerader," starring Guy Bates Post—which film, by the way, marked the double debut into screen land of Tully as a producer and Post as a star—Tully invited Young to direct "Omar," the second picture in which Post is to appear. Young, after four strenuous months on "The Masquerader," was anxious for a vacation, but Tully insisted he was the one and only director in the world to whom he would entrust the complicated and enthralling scenario of "Omar," and so Young capitulated.

It was a spontaneous tribute to the genius of the veteran director from one of America's greatest dramatists and theatrical magnates.

HOOT GIBSON TO APPEAR TO-DAY

Columbia Will Present "The Bearcat"

"You ain't half so bad as you think you are!" That was what the sheriff said to the hero of "The Bearcat," the Universal photoplay of the West coming to the Columbia Theatre to-day. The hero professed to be a "bad" man. He sang many "new" verses every day that indicated he quit cutting notches in his gunstock to save time for more serious business and to save gunstocks.

"In fact," went on the sheriff, "I don't think you're a bad man at all. I think you're a plain, ordinary, good man that has been roughly handled by a bad woman."

With that situation to build around, F. R. Buckley wrote a story for the Western Magazine which was used by George Hively in the preparation of a scenario for Hoot Gibson's starring vehicle.

Hoot Gibson stars in the role of the non-civilized, poeticizing hero, Lillian Rich impersonates the unbelieving heroine and Charles French, the cynical sheriff. Others in the cast are Harold Goodwin, William Buckley, Fontaine LaRue, Joe Harris, Alfred Hollingsworth, Jim Alamo and W. J. Allen. Edward Sedgwick directed the production.

Billy Bevan, with Mildred June playing the feminine lead, will complete his next two-reel Mack Bennett comedy, to be known as "Oh, Daddy!" this week. Roy Del Ruth is directing.

The picture is a fast moving, typical Bennett comedy, in which Teddy, the wonder dog, does an almost human bit aided by several young children and babies.

There is something of the mutual understanding between Jimmy Aubrey and his company of "The Burgomaster of Silemonde," the last piece he played while in Victoria last year, will be interested to know that he has resumed his profession following his illness by taking that play on tour in England. This is what a Worcester (England) paper says of the production there:

There was a select audience at Worcester Theatre Royal to witness the performance by Sir Martin Harvey and his company of "The Burgomaster of Silemonde." It included some who remembered Mr. Martin Harvey coming to Worcester thirty years ago as one of Irving's young men, with Mr. Haviland. It included a younger generation who in recent years have seen Sir Martin at the theatre in several distinguished matinees; and it included some whose sense of bereavement by the world war, still bitterly painful, wanted to see what light this play would throw on the remorseless, merciless methods of the Germans, for whom some of our great sentimentalists have such a pious tenderness. The performance was an artistic delight to those who

SIR MARTIN HARVEY RETURNS TO STAGE

Back on Tour in England With Belgian Play He Produced Here

Those who admired Sir Martin Harvey in his production of "The Burgomaster of Silemonde," the last piece he played while in Victoria last year, will be interested to know that he has resumed his profession following his illness by taking that play on tour in England. This is what a Worcester (England) paper says of the production there:

There was a select audience at Worcester Theatre Royal to witness the performance by Sir Martin Harvey and his company of "The Burgomaster of Silemonde." It included some who remembered Mr. Martin Harvey coming to Worcester thirty years ago as one of Irving's young men, with Mr. Haviland. It included a younger generation who in recent years have seen Sir Martin at the theatre in several distinguished matinees; and it included some whose sense of bereavement by the world war, still bitterly painful, wanted to see what light this play would throw on the remorseless, merciless methods of the Germans, for whom some of our great sentimentalists have such a pious tenderness. The performance was an artistic delight to those who watched Mr. Harvey climb to the highest rank in the profession, and to those who have known him only in his later years of highest distinction. It was a delight; if but a bitter one, even to those who wanted to know the truth about the German atrocities in Belgium in 1914. For it told sad truths that have been elicited and published by various commissions, horrible truths that stamped Germans as worse than barbarians (which was what the Kaiser exhorted them to be). But it told them dramatically and not too revengfully. Wherefore many eyes were moistened by the recall of ineffaceable memories.

"The Burgomaster of Silemonde," which was written in French by Maeterlinck and translated by de Mailla, is not really a great drama indeed, if it were not founded on truths which have anguished the whole world it would not rank high. But it is so full of poignant truths that it affects the emotions more than every day dramatic declamation. Sir Martin Harvey himself effectively played the part of the Burgomaster, who gives his own life to save his town from the Hun's vengeance rather than suffer his poor but noble spirited gardener to pay a pitiless price for a crime never committed by a citizen. It is a part full of noble sentiment and of parental goodness, and therefore it touches deeply. It is in strong theatrical contrast with the jackbooted major (Mr. F. Grove) and lieutenant (Mr. Walter Pearce), who have to mouthe the mercilessness of the world's enemy. In other days the gods of the theatre would have hissed these devils. Mr. Pearce, who had a fine part as the son-in-law, who vainly seeks to save his father-in-law at the expense of the gardener, and who then contemplates the consequences of refusing to command the party to shoot the father-in-law. There was strong emotionalism in this latter scene, where his wife (Miss N. de Silva) contemplates facing the firing party side by side with father and husband. It was very affecting to various sections of the audience from varying points of view, and there were many complimentary curtain calls for the principals.

Wilfred Buckland, chief art director for Douglas Fairbanks in his latest screen classic, "Robin Hood," was the first art director to be given credit on the silver-screen. Prior to Mr. Buckland's ascendancy to prominence, it was the habit of picture producers to give credit to action directors only, leaving the public without information as to the name of the man who provided the scenic beauty of a production. Mr. Buckland's work became so outstanding that he was finally given due credit. Now, the art director is officially recognized in most all photoplays.

"The Beautiful Liar"

Katherine MacDonald fans can't help but love this picture. "The Beautiful Liar" will give them the opportunity to see her play two entirely different roles in the same picture—a dizzy, dashing Follies star and a poor, little, prim stenographer. There is no villain to mussy things up. This is a delightful comedy-drama chock full of good romance and high-class comedy. This is the honest truth about "The Beautiful Liar."

ROTARIANS GO NORTH ON GEORGE

G.T.P. Vessel Will Have Capacity List for Prince Rupert

When the steamship Prince George, Capt. Morehouse, goes north from Vancouver to-night she will have all her accommodations taken up by New York Rotarians who are returning home from the convention at Los Angeles. On board the Prince George when she called here yesterday on her way to Seattle was W. G. Cassels, district passenger agent, Canadian National Railways, Vancouver, and W. A. White, district freight agent, who proceeded to Seattle to complete arrangements for the embarkation of the Rotarians, who are routed East via the Canadian National Railways. The movement of Rotarians means that the Prince George will be a full ship northbound. Reservations for this sailing have had to be refused. The Prince George is due to leave Vancouver at 8 o'clock to-night for Prince Rupert and Anzac via Ocean Falls.

ENJOYED PICNIC AT GOLDSTREAM

Victoria Steam Laundry Holds Outing

It required five large Cameron & Calwell sightseeing cars and a number of smaller automobiles to accommodate the happy throng of staff members and friends of the Victoria Steam Laundry, which drove out to Goldstream Saturday afternoon for the annual picnic. The conditions were delightful for a pleasant outing, and after an excellent programme of sports held amid the charming scenery of the Goldstream section, the entire party voted the event one of the most successful and enjoyable they had ever attended.

The big cars pulled out for the picnic grounds at 12:30, and the adults as well as the kiddies thoroughly enjoyed the drive of eleven miles to Goldstream. On arrival there the "supply" wagon opened its doors, and the youngsters and grown-ups were treated to all sorts of good things to eat and drink. Tables were prepared in shady nooks and luncheon was soon served.

The sports created an immense amount of fun. There were events for even the tiny tots, who made a fine showing in their football and amusement. Tug-of-war events caused keen excitement, the married women and the married men proving more proficient at "tugging" than their single opponents. It was the home-cooking that did it, the married folks declared. A number of the party enjoyed a fine game of rounders, while others played football or indulged in other sports while the entire afternoon was occupied with a series of interesting events.

Manager Pleased.
Manager Mark W. Graham was delighted to see his staff so enjoying themselves. He noticed among the picnicers quite a number of girls now married who were former employees and others who have been with the company for a good many years, and find the work congenial. There was a splendid atmosphere of friendliness and a feature of the picnic was the manner in which everybody took off their coats and rolled up their sleeves for a good time.

Supper was served just before the cars left the picnic grounds at 3:30 o'clock for the drive home. All the way to the parties in the various cars engaged in community singing.

The Committee.
The management and staff of employees both expressed their satisfaction with the outing. A laundry is a pretty busy place, particularly the Victoria Steam Laundry, and it took a good deal of additional time for the members of the committees to work up the affair. The committees are deserving of great praise for the proceedings, and everything went off in fine shape.

The committees in charge of the affair were as follows:
Tea committee—Messrs. Crawford, Jones, England and Cromack.
Sports committee—Messrs. Ward, Wallace, Bussey, Tye and Martin.
Refreshments committee—Messrs. Jones, Gibson and Scott.

GIRL'S GARDEN PARTY

A pretty garden party was held on Saturday afternoon in the grounds of The Precincts, Burdett Avenue, under the auspices of two girls' classes of Christ Church Cathedral Sunday School. Many visitors watched the scenes of activity, and the games managed by the girls.

The sale of work was opened by the Dean of Columbia, who congratulated the girls and their teachers, Miss Mildred Chrow and Miss Nash, on their initiative and enterprise in promoting the effort.

Articles of fancy work were displayed on a table in the centre of the grounds, in charge of Edna Barton, Gwendolyn Dawson, Dorothy Jones and Vivienne McGinley. Home-made candy in attractive containers was sold by Miss Mabel Hardman, Eleanor Jesse and Jane Wilson. The ice cream stall was in charge of Connie Chrow and Kathleen Welburn, assisted by Margaret Carter and others. "Whistle" was in popular demand from a stall decorated by Doris Brown and Kathleen Wootton. Muriel Topp and Charlotte Axhorn conducted a fish pond for children, and tennis and ladder golf were arranged by Peggy Schofield, Betty Schofield and Dorothy Officer. Tea tables on the veranda were served by the following girls: Marjorie Edwards, Inez Green, May Hole, Kathleen Martin, Grace Moss, Ena Norrington, Doris Patrick, Phyllis Press, Bessie Westcombe and Marjorie Wilfren. Mrs. Chrow and Mrs. Hopkin kindly prepared the tea and assisted throughout the afternoon.

The garden party proved a very happy one, and its success is due to the cooperation of the teachers, Miss Chrow and Miss Nash, and to the hearty co-operation of the girls of both classes. The proceeds amounted to $50, which will be added to the New Cathedral Buildings' Fund.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY AT ST. JOHN'S YESTERDAY EVENING

A memorial tablet to the honor of 230 members of St. John's Church who served in the late war, of whom 26 paid the supreme sacrifice was unveiled at evening service yesterday by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, assisted by Premier Oliver and General J. M. Ross, C. M. G., Colonel Commandant. The service was attended by relatives and friends of those who had served, the edifice being filled to capacity.

The Bishop of Columbia performed the dedication. The service, fully choral, was conducted by the Rev. F. P. Chadwick, assisted by others. Special music was rendered during the service, including an anthem by the choir, "I am the Alpha, and the Omega," in which Ernest Patch took the bass solo. Dr. Jennings Burnett at the organ played the Dead March in Saul, and at the close of the service the congregation joined in the National Anthem. The unveiling took place during the service, when the Rector read the names of those on the honor roll. The church was decorated fittingly for the occasion, with the pulpit, reading desk and tablet being draped in the colors.

The tablet, a handsome piece of work of beaten brass, is the outcome of excellent work on the part of a committee of the Men's Society of the church which raised funds first for the Rector, then for the tablet itself. This committee has been active at work on the project for some time. The names of those who have been named on the tablet are: A. W. Hawkins and Alfred Hallam (secretary-treasurer).
Accompanying are the names on the tablet:

LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE IS QUIESCENT BUT WATCHING EVENTS

Summoned to this city by the news that the prosecutions under the Lord's Day Act had been thrown out of court, the Rev. Dr. C. H. Huestis, of Red Deer, Alberta, filed secretary for the Lord's Day Alliance in Western Canada, arrived in this city yesterday to consult with the local branch of the Alliance. Dr. Huestis declined when questioned by The Times to make any announcement of what is planned, and stated that he had nothing to say at present.

Look to Mayor.
From the Rev. William Stevenson, secretary of the local branch of the Lord's Day Alliance, however, it is learned that he body consider that as the Mayor and Board of police commissioners instituted the prosecutions under the Lord's Day Act, an appeal if such be taken, should be entered by the latter. In view of this it is certain that no further action will be taken until Mayor Marchant returns to this city from his Western tour.

Alliance Will Meet.
While no action will be taken at the moment, it is understood that the local branch of the Lord's Day Alliance has the whole question of Sunday observance under advisement. The executive committee of the Alliance will meet to-night, when it is expected Dr. Huestis will give his views on what course should be reported to in the present impasse.
