IN THIRTY-TWO STATES

CHARLES S. FEE OF S. P. COMPANY FINDS CONDITIONS IMPROVING

Charles S. Fee, passenger traffic manager of the Southern Pacific Railway Company, who recently returned from a trip throughout the East and Middle West, says: "I have visited many of the principal cities in thirty-two states since I left California on the 19th of September last. My route east was over the Sunset line to El Paso and through the South, with a detour via Phoenix and the 'Apache Trail' to Roosevelt Dam and the copper cities of Miami and Globe. This auto trip of 120 miles, embracing the Salt River and Gila Valleys, as well as Roosevelt Lake and Dam, is absolutely unique and without a parallel in the United States. Two thousand travelers have availed themselves during the past summer of the opportunity of taking this soon-to-be famous auto trip. The United States Fish Commission is making further distribution of bass in Roosevelt Lake, now a body of water averaging a mile in width and thirty miles in length, where the fishing is already excellent and the necessary facilities provided. Raymond & Whitcomb, the Boston tourist agents, told me that all their trans-continental parties coming west this winter will be routed via the 'Apache Trail,' where the traveler can see Indians to his heart's content as well as the deserted homes of the ancient cliff-dwellers. "Conditions in the South appear to be steadily improving. Cotton prices are gradually growing better but the most hopeful sign is in the evidence that the one crop plan will soon be thrown into the discard. The severe lesson of the past year or two has not been in vain as evidenced in many sections of the South. Cotton may remain king for years to come but his subjects will be far more cosmopolitan than ever known before south of the Mason and Dixon line, all of which will spell a steadier and more rapidly growing prosperity. "Business conditions in the Central and Eastern States are certainly far better than when I was in the East last May. At that time there did not seem to be a silver lining to any of the clouds that shut out the view in all directions. There is no boom present or in sight so far as I could judge, although in certain directions it has this appearance, but even in these lines the fact is being brought home that European conditions may not and it is hoped will not continue another twelve months. Back of all this, however, there is a far better feeling and while in certain lines and in certain sections business, railroad and otherwise, is picking up slowly the general opinion seems to be that the worst is over and an upward turn fairly on the way. "The great bulk of Exposition travel has come and gone but with it our visitors have taken back a knowledge of the great West, California and the Pacific Coast States that will prove an active and potent factor in the growth and development of all this region, the good effects of which will last for many years to come. Exposition visitors practically everywhere I found had returned enthusiastic over the California Expositions and even as early as the coming winter we will see the results in an increased travel which will not only include the leisure class seeking sunshine and flowers in winter, but the homeseeker and homebuilder, for whom we have almost unlimited room and boundless need."

AT SOMERSET FARM

Happy were the children bidden to a birthday party by Mrs. C. E. Parker, honoring her little daughter Katherine, who was just nine years old on Saturday, the thirteenth day of November. The merrymakers were entertained at "Somerset Farm," home of the J. C. Sherrers, an aunt of the young hostess. Cut flowers were used throughout the rooms, in which games were enjoyed. At a late hour all assembled in the dining-room and to the beholder it seems that real fairies had been at work. The table was beautifully arranged, in the center rested a large mound of wee daisies and Cecil Bruner roses, silver candelabras with pink candles and shades at either end. After a real "grown-up" supper little Miss Katherine cut and served her birthday cake, lighted with nine pink tapers. Bouquets of the same dainty flowers used on the table marked places for Mrs. Richard Laurett, Mrs. Carlota Vanatta, Mrs. C. E. Parker, Mrs. F. Sherer and Jane Nichols, Alice and Gertrude Gewire, Wilma and Frances Culp, Anna Smith, Marion Kent, Dorothy Head, Marion Mitchell, Merle Laurett, Caroline and Carl Gummell and Edmond Parker.

DEATH ACCOUNTS—TREAT FOR MUSIC LOVERS COMING CHURCH ASSOCIATION

FRANK OGIER KILLED

Glendale and Burbank friends of Thomas Frank Ogier were shocked at the news of his sudden and untimely death, which occurred Saturday near Calexico, where he was engaged in ranching. The automobile which he was driving crashed into the rear end of a cotton wagon four miles east of Calexico, on the Border road, causing Mr. Ogier's death. A man named Elliott who was riding with him was uninjured. Mr. Ogier formerly resided in Glendale, having been proprietor of the Glendale stables for a number of years. He was well and favorably known here and was a member of the Glendale lodge of Odd Fellows. Following his residence here he lived at Burbank for several years before moving to the Imperial Valley. He was deputy constable of Burbank township and also deputy sheriff for a time. He is survived by a wife. The remains were brought to Burbank this morning, where they lie in state at the Masonic Temple, Mr. Ogier having been a member of that order in Burbank. The Pulliam Undertaking company is in charge of the funeral, which is to be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Christian Church in Burbank. Burial will be in the family lot in Forest Lawn cemetery.

FAMOUS DANCER DEAD

By the rather sudden death of Miss Charlotte Gray McLain, who passed away at her home, 1524 Lorraine street, Saturday evening at 11:30 o'clock, Glendale lost an artist of some note. Miss McLain was a danseuse of considerable experience and had attained a height in her profession that caused her services to be in demand. Not much more than a year ago she appeared in public in Glendale, in connection with a High School entertainment. Miss McLain was the only daughter of Mrs. Alice Gray McLain, 1524 Lorraine street. She is survived by her mother, brother and uncle, Dr. Hauks of Los Angeles. Her age was 29. Funeral services will be at the Los Angeles Crematory, Tuesday, at 2 p. m. The Rev. Dr. Pritchard of Los Angeles will officiate.

TREAT TO MUSIC LOVERS

When the members of the Music Section of the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon club met Friday afternoon, at the home of the curator, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, 1223 W. Seventh street, they were afforded a great treat. The meeting, which had been arranged in honor of Mrs. Bessie Bartlett Frankel, music curator of the Hollywood Woman's club, was enlivened by an interesting program of McDowell music. The life of the great American composer was expounded by Mrs. Eva J. Cunningham. Mrs. Calvin J. Whiting sang several songs in excellent style and with great expression. Mrs. Vivian Webb charmed the gathering with piano music and Miss Frances Payne won golden opinions by her tuneful violin solos. Mrs. Edna Adell acted as accompanist with great taste and tact.

DIED WHILE ON TOUR

While on a tour of California and the Pacific Coast, which he had undertaken chiefly for the purpose of visiting his son, Mr. John H. Springer, of 1630 W. Oak street, Mr. Lewis Springer of Windsor, Col., died suddenly. The deceased was 74 years of age. Up to the time of his death he had been in excellent health and was enjoying the novel experiences of his visit with great zest. The cause of his death was heart failure. It occurred Friday at 3 p. m. Funeral services were held at the Jewel City parlors Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. The Rev. H. Jackson Hartsell and the Rev. E. E. Francis officiated. The body will be shipped today to Windsor, Col.

CONGREGATIONAL ASSOCIATION

There was a large attendance at the opening session of the annual meeting of the Los Angeles Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers, at the Venice Union Congregational Church today. The meeting was opened by the Rev. Charles W. Huntington. The report of the National Council was read by Mr. E. F. Hahn. The Rev. E. H. Willisford, of Glendale, is registrar of the association.

SAW NATIONAL HISTORICAL RELIC

MANY THOUSANDS CHEER AS LIBERTY BELL PASSES THROUGH LOS ANGELES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—How deep is the interest taken in things national on the Pacific coast might have been seen in the crowds that waited patiently for the arrival of the Liberty Bell in Los Angeles this morning. The streets were thronged with many thousands of people, who waited without a murmur for the parade, which was somewhat late. The people were 20-deep along the whole route of the parade. Arrangements made by the committee in charge gave places in front to the children, who were thus enabled to see the bell to best advantage. The police, the mayor, Sons of the Revolution, Spanish and Civil war veterans attended the Bell, which was the cynosure of all eyes. The Bell was taken out to Exposition park and afterward sent on its way to Philadelphia, the first stop being at Yuma, Arizona.

PLEA FOR BELGIANS

MISS MINNIE PENN, FORMERLY OF GLENDALE, ASKS AID FOR WOUNDED SOLDIERS

Many people in Glendale will remember the Penn family, that used to live at the corner of Fifth and Adams. Two years ago or thereabout Mrs. Penn, with two sons and two daughters, lived there. Circumstances led them to move to England, where they now have a pretty home at Five Ashes, in the county of Sussex. This home they call "Pasadena." Shortly after going to England Mrs. Penn died. The Misses Penn were great favorites in Glendale and the following letter will be read with much interest: Editor Glendale Evening News:

Having so many, many old friends and acquaintances (made during a residence of over 20 years) in dear old Glendale and neighborhood, I am venturing to write an open begging letter, hoping that you may find a corner for it in your interesting paper, a copy of which paper we, "The Penns," were enjoying with our coffee and toast this morning at the breakfast table. My sister and I feel particularly interested in working for and helping the wounded Belgian soldiers, who are sent in "drafts" to a convalescent hospital in our village—they are sent over here (direct from the trenches) to our "base" hospitals, and later to convalescent hospitals, some of which are privately and others publicly supported.

The small hospital near us is a private one, that is to say, offered to the War Office for use of Belgian wounded, but supported entirely by the owner, a lady of Belgian nationality who has herself suffered severe financial losses.

Knowing as I do of old, how energetically "Glendaleans" entertain any scheme of "help for others," I do most earnestly and brazenly beg for the Belgian soldiers now in the hospital, for the men we know who have returned to, and for others in the trenches of whom our plucky wounded guests have told us.

May I suggest to the old-time friends a "confab" together, resulting perhaps in a rattling good Belgian Evening! A social, dance, cafeteria supper (where people don't realize how much they are spending), or some of the many money-conjuring affairs which the people of Glendale know so well how to engineer and make go.

The two or three sentences below are copied from letters which I have received from some of the men who write from the trenches. In reference to some little gifts which I sent out, one writes:

"That which us has particularly struck are those two little flags, English and Belgian, which stick, the one to the side of the other, like they are here on the front—are united as brothers which will never flinch before the barbarism of the Germans—We reciprocate the good wishes which you have made for our 'good luck,' and when the great victory sounds, English and Belgians will be brothers, never to disunite." Again—"We the Belgian soldiers in all circumstances wish to help each other and though we have been through great battles we have a good moral and are certain that it will be a final victory for the Allies. As I told you in my last letter, we were shortly to have khaki uniforms. I have good news for you now, the last few days we have been dressed in khaki and we are so like that any one would take us for our allies, the English. We were very glad to receive such beautiful costumes, though also very sad at losing our old uniforms, for it was a little something of our very own which we were losing forever, above all our cap of police with the national colours."

I think the above sentences illustrate the brave spirit "still undaunted" of King Albert's great little army and the men are so appreciative of any little thing we can do to make life more tolerable for them that it is a pleasure as well as a great privilege to do what we can.

I would beg for money rather than work, as I can buy warm materials and wood and make it up, and beg the woolen underwear, etc., which will be such a luxury and comfort during the bitter months to come, and any stray postal order, large or small, which may happen to float across to me from individual sympathizers will be most gratefully accepted and acknowledged.

The "Wounded Allies Relief Committee," London, send across by special couriers every day, parcels right to the trenches free of charge, so that I only have postage to town and can send 4 1/2 lbs. at a time.

I am afraid your "censor" will scratch some of this long letter, but please squeeze in all you can!

DISEASES OF PIGEONS

R. L. PHISTER, PIGEON EXPERT, GIVES ADVICE ON SOME COMMON TROUBLES

"Fortunately for the pigeon breeders of Glendale there is very little disease among their stock and that it to be attributed in great measure to the fact that breeding stock has been healthy when secured. It may also be attributed to cleanliness in the pens, flyways and yards. In my own case I keep my yards and pens scrupulously clean and see the seed is not allowed to become mouldy or allowed to lie on the damp ground."

"I have a very hardy breed of pigeons, the 'Birmingham Rollers,' which is one of the best of flying birds, strong and healthy. They have been known to fly for two hours at a stretch. With a stock of this kind disease is very rare and proper precautions eliminate it altogether."

"Naturally there is danger of disease among any kind of stock. There is very little chance of making money from squabs unless pigeons are kept comparatively free from disease and insect parasites. Sick birds should be removed at once from the breeding pens. The house should be kept dry, clean, well-ventilated and free from drafts. The yards should be kept clean either by scraping the surface and adding fresh gravel or by cultivating the land and planting it to grain if possible."

"I believe the pigeon breeders of Glendale are as expert in their own line as any in the country. They do not need advice. There are, however, many amateurs who doubtless will be glad to get a few directions. It is a good thing to spray frequently with whitewash containing a little crude carbolic acid, or with a coal-tar disinfectant; the nests and boxes should be examined for mites, especially in hot weather, and sprayed with kerosene oil or some commercial preparation, which will kill mites if any are found."

"Pigeons are subject to many of the diseases that attack poultry and should be treated in similar fashion. One of the common diseases is 'going light,' which attacks pigeons even more than it does poultry. Cancer appears as sores or patches in the mouth and throat and can usually be prevented by providing good, sanitary conditions and feeding only clean, sound grain and clean water."

"This disease may be treated by swabbing the mouth and throat with a solution of equal parts of hydrogen-peroxide and water or using dry sulphur. Potassium permanganate may be added to the water until it has a wine color. Carbolic acid, epsom salts, sulphate of copper and venetian red may be added to the water."

"Pigeons that develop ulcers on the head, eyes, mouth or bill should be killed at once. 'Going light' is developed by filthy conditions or unsound food. The pigeons gradually lose flesh and are sometimes afflicted with diarrhoea. Give the pigeons their freedom and they will get better. Extra males or unmated males often are the cause of dead squabs; rats or mice may kill them; weakness in the breeding stock may be the cause. With care a strong, healthy stock may be developed and similar care will keep it in a condition that will defy disease."

BARACAS VS. BAIRDSTOWN

Quite an interesting American football game was played Saturday afternoon, on the grounds of the Third street school, between the team of the Los Angeles Military Academy of Bairdstown and team of the Baraca boys of the Glendale Presbyterian Church. The game was interesting from the kickoff. Four quarters were played and while the Bairdstown boys made a gallant struggle the Baracas played a faster and cleverer game and prevented them from scoring. The game ended 7 to 0 in favor of the Baracas. The feature of the game was a fine run of 70 yards by Glazier, for a touchdown, from which a goal was kicked. Following was the lineup:

ECLECTICISM IN JAPAN.

In many ways Japan is one of the most wonderful countries the world has ever known. There is, of course, a great deal of jealousy abroad among other nations with regard to Japanese success in commercial affairs. Ultimately all disputes between nations resolve themselves into a question of commercial supremacy. Japan has rivaled and is rivalling Britain, Germany and the United States in the commercial contest in the Far East and naturally those countries do not look on ancient Nippon with a great deal of favor.

However, apart from national prejudice great credit is due Japan for the marvelous manner in which she has adapted herself to modern conditions. In war she has been able to cope with the best European troops successfully—beating Russia in 1905-06 and Germany in 1915.

Japanese naval men have proven themselves the equal of any nation. Admiral Togo extinguished two Russian fleets and kept the seas around his native islands free from foreign intrusion. It was by choosing the best in all national systems of offense and defense that Japan measured up to Russia and finally passed her in national efficiency. Japan is eclectic in everything. She chooses out the best features in all systems and welds them into a whole.

It is the same in religion. Just now at the coronation of the Emperor of Japan, the religious ceremonies followed the traditions of Shinto; but the Buddhists were permitted to be present. This was a radical change from ancient usages and it was further accentuated by the acceptance of an English Bible by the Mikado. This Bible was presented to Yoshihito, the emperor, by the Christians of America to commemorate the day of the coronation.

There was a world-wide charity in the acceptance of the present that speaks well for the true religion that dwells in the heart of Japan. In similar fashion the coronation ceremonies were accompanied by Japanese music, the first day; on the second by Chinese music; on the third by Italian, French and German music. It was the same with the banquets—Japanese, Chinese and Western cooking were all in evidence.

All this is illustrative of the spirit of eclecticism that characterizes all that Japan does. To examine all systems and choose the best is the ideal of the islanders in politics, economics, philosophy and religion. This system has sent them far ahead in the race of the nations and has given them a wideness of outlook that is by no means characteristic of some nations that sneer at them.

NEW CENTER OF WAR INTEREST

All eyes are now turned on the Balkans. In the little dominion of Serbia great events are taking place. Baffled in his attempts to break through the entrenched cordon that shuts him away from the goal of his first desire, Paris; equally blocked in his second choice, Calais, where the British have effectually held him off also; Kaiser Wilhelm has turned toward Serbia as the road he must travel if he wants to break the iron ring that has surrounded him. Thitherward, therefore, he has directed his steps, sending Field Marshal Von Mackensen forward to batter through the little kingdom that so boldly offers its bosom to shield the world from the Teutonic ambition.

It has been no easy task to force a way through the Servians. As fighters they have proved themselves unequalled in the story of this great war. When broken to a certain extent and their capital in the hands of the Austrians they rallied again and contrary to all precedent of war drove the Austrian invaders from their land.

Now they are confronted with the Germans who are not like the Austrians. The Germans are thorough. They know what they want and they come prepared to get it. That they don't get it is simply because they don't rise above the mechanical and material and never take into account the spiritual and immaterial forces that dwell in humanity. According to Teuton rules the Servians should have succumbed at once when confronted with the German troops; but they not only did not do so, but even drove back the Germans in places and inflicted on them enormous losses. With the Bulgarians treacherously attacking them in rear they still presented two fronts to their enemies and have fought their way into something like a defensible position among the mountains. If anything were needed to show how different the Servians are from the Russians it may be noted that during all this fighting, with Von Mackensen calling every day for fresh troops to supply those put out of action by the Servians, the Germans have only succeeded in capturing about 7000 Servian troops and of these a considerable portion is said to be disaffected Albanians and non-combatants, and the balance the devoted Servians who remained to fight the rear guard action that has saved the main Servian army for further operations.

The significance of the Teuton-Bulgar operations in Servia lies in the fact that through that country is the direct road to Constantinople. Supplies of food and ammunition are even now said to be reaching the Turks and the road to British India may be threatened at any moment. Had the British and French closed the Servian gate with a sufficient army three months ago there would probably have been an end to the war in a short time. As it stands now there is likely to be a great deal of hard fighting before any side will cry "Hold, enough!"

Kaiser Wilhelm has been graciously pleased to interfere in the courtmartial sentences on Countess Jeanne de Belleville, Mme. Louise Thulize and Louis Severin, Belgian patriots, sentenced to death by a courtmartial for espionage. After this let no one deny the value of publicity. Had it not been for the publicity given the case of Miss Cavell, the English nurse shot for assisting prisoners to escape, the countess and her companions in misfortune would er now have faced the German firing squad. Yet it may be doubted if penal servitude for life in a German prison is not worse than the quick medicine of the rifle.

SEEDS VERSUS WEEDS

Editor Glendale Evening News:
According to Mr. Marek's statement this is the time to plant. Would it not be possible to plant all those vacant lots that were permitted to constitute those dreadful eyesores all last summer. To something productive.

Instead of charging property owners for the work of clearing the lots why not try to keep the lots looking attractive all summer? Besides producing something of value for the deserving poor of our beautiful but struggling city of Glendale, should any property owner claim the crop he would surely be willing to reimburse the city for the slight outlay.
A. LOWINSKY.

Concentration is one secret of the wonderful success and the vast amount of resultful work done by Thomas A. Edison. He has the well developed faculty of single mindedness. When he gathers the embryo idea for an invention he excludes everybody and everything but this idea and spares neither his body nor his mind until he has brought his germ thought to fruition in an invention. He exemplifies the Carlyle definition of genius—"an infinite capacity for taking pains." And he puts, as he says, 98 per cent of perspiration into his inventive labors. The process that makes the Edison genius so successful in great things, contributes to success of the common person in smaller things.

CROWDS TO HEAR CONSTANTINO

The coming of Florencio Constantino, world famous tenor, Friday evening, Nov. 26, to the Palace Grand Theatre, promises to be the most important social event that has ever taken place in Glendale.
This prediction is based on the happenings of the last few days, since the sale of tickets was announced by Mrs. E. W. Kinney, curator, and the members of the music section. Dozens of letters, telephone messages and personal calls have been made, and those handling the sale of tickets have been fairly swamped by the demand. There is every reason to believe that the Palace Grand Theatre will be packed to capacity with the best society element of Glendale and neighboring towns.
Constantino, who has just returned from San Diego, where he sang before 12,000 people and scored a great success, is to give a program consisting of selections from operas in which he has won great fame.
In addition to Constantino, Marguerite Buckler Stevenson, the beautiful coloratura soprano, and Signor F. Allemand, baritone, both well-known to music lovers of California, will be heard.
As the tickets are being rapidly disposed of those who wish to take advantage of this exceptional opportunity should reserve their seats now.

TROPICO

Many members and visitors were present Friday afternoon to witness the annual inspection of N. P. Bank's W. R. C., as conducted by Miss Adelaide H. Imler, corps president. At the conclusion of the beautiful ritualistic work Mrs. Mary Hartwell, assistant department inspector, complimented the president and her corps of efficient officers in the splendid work which was presented. Mrs. Hartwell spoke of the harmony, love and peace that prevails in N. P. Bank's corps, and that this corps is known and recognized throughout the department for its harmony and the exemplification of the beautiful teachings of the order. This corps has always borne aloft the banner of Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty and has done much to aid not only the needy veterans and their dependent ones, but many others who require the assistance of these loyal and patriotic women. Mrs. Nannie Neil, department patriotic instructor, who has but recently returned from Washington, D. C., where she attended the National Convention of the W. R. C., was present and gave a most interesting talk of the convention and of the great review. Mrs. Neil also eulogized Mrs. Imler and her officers upon the excellent work they presented in exemplifying the ritualistic work. At the close of the ceremonies, dainty refreshments were served in the banquet room, which was beautifully decorated in chrysanthemums.
A number of Los Angeles Pythian Sisters are to be in attendance at the Christmas bazaar, supper and dance, to be given in K. P. hall Thursday evening by the local Temple.
William M. Crawford, of North Central avenue, who has been ill for the past week, is reported as very much improved.
Mrs. Glen Craig and daughter, Mary Pauline Craig, of Saugus, are enjoying a few days' visit as the guests of Mrs. Craig's parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hough and Miss Mary Jane Evans Hough, of West Tenth street.
Charles E. Patterson, instructor in Manual Arts High, in Los Angeles, who spent last week attending the Teachers' Institute in San Diego, has returned to his home on Paloma avenue.
There was a large exodus of members of Visor Lodge and Pythian Temple, who attended the picnic at Anaheim yesterday. The trip was made in private motor cars.
S. A. Robertson, who received a number of very painful injuries recently, while in the discharge of his duties as superintendent of this division of the Southern Pacific railway, is reported as improving. The left ankle bone was broken and the flesh from the palm of the left hand was torn away. Under the care of Dr. Thompson of Burbank Mr. Robertson will soon be around again.

KOREAN BOYS LOOK LIKE GIRLS
What the Korean boy needs more than anything else is for somebody to come along and teach him to look like a boy, according to a writer for Boys' Life. He has been the image of his sister for a thousand years. His hair is just like a girl's—parted down the middle of the head and made into a braid behind—and he wears balloon-like skirts. He wears his hair in a braid until he marries; then he wads it up in a topknot under his horsehair bonnet.
Kite flying is a national sport. Another favorite is shooting with bow and arrow. Swinging is considered great sport. Hardly a big tree anywhere near a village that has not its swing of straw rope. A popular game is one played with the feet. A shuttlecock is made by wrapping a few copper "cash" in paper and leaving a "tail" to the wrapper to keep it always in proper position. This is then passed back and forth between two, but exclusively by kicks and back-flaps of the feet.
Caller—"How much for a marriage license?"
Town Clerk—"One dollar."
Caller—"I've only got fifty cents."
Town Clerk—"You're lucky."—Ex.

PERSONALS

Mrs. E. Smith of 1471 West Broadway has been spending the last few days with friends in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Paul Mertens, 1021 Melrose spent Saturday in Los Angeles visiting some of her numerous friends in that city.

Mrs. Edith Elrod, 1095 San Rafael, who has been dangerously ill for more than a week, with angina pectoris, is improving slowly.

R. H. Wells of 1504 West Broadway returned Sunday from Barstow, where he spent the latter part of the week on official business.

Mrs. R. A. Balesterof, Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, has arrived in Glendale on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Gardner.

Mr. John E. Boyles of Chillicothe, Illinois, watch and clock inspector for the Santa Fe Railway, spent the Sabbath with Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Tooker of 117 Adams St., Glendale.

Miss Harriet Williams of 310 Cedar street was the week-end guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Colburn, formerly of Glendale, now residing in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex M. Beamon and son Charles were guests on Sunday at Long Beach when the parents of Mrs. Beamon, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Du Bois, entertained with a "bungalow dinner" party, complimenting their house guest, Mrs. M. Langham of Meadville, Pennsylvania.

F. D. Titus, of the H. L. Miller Realty Co., left Friday morning of last week with a party of twelve for the Palo Verde Valley, for which acreage the H. L. Miller Co. is agent. The land seekers are expected to return to Glendale on Wednesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gaylord, 134 E. First street, spent last week visiting friends at Hemet and Beaumont. Mrs. J. M. Parsell of Flint, Mich., who has been visiting at the Gaylord home for the past two weeks, accompanied them. They say that the weather was very cold, and that snow was indicated as likely before long. They think themselves fortunate in having made the trip in a Maxwell runabout, which gave them no trouble. They were visitors at the home of A. J. Burdick, editor of the Gateway Gazette, Beaumont, Cal.

BROKE INTO SCHOOL

Three boys whose names are as yet unknown, broke into the intermediate school, yesterday afternoon. It is believed that they intended to regale themselves on the canned fruit that has been put up by the girls of the Domestic Science class. They were observed and an alarm sent in to the police. Chief Herald and officers Laurence and Hollenbeck investigated the case but the boys had got away before the officers arrived on the scene. It is likely that they will be discovered.

FROM WASHINGTON STATE

Whether from indifference or from the fact that there are not many representatives of Washington state in Glendale only two names have been handed in as representatives of that state in Glendale. It is hopeless to conjecture as to the reasons for this small showing but it is possible that there is not much change of domicile from Washington to California or at least to Glendale. Following are the names:

Mr. Fred H. Nichols, 223 Adams, North Yakima.

Mrs. B. H. Nichols, 223 Adams, North Yakima.

Tomorrow is Oregon day and it will be interesting to learn if there are any Oregonians in this city. Send in your names.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The pastor, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, preached to a large congregation Sunday morning from the text, John 6: 12, "Gather up the broken pieces which remain over that nothing be lost."

The speaker stated that to those who accept the inspiration of the Bible, there is no difficulty about accepting the miracles, that the argument which asserts that miracles cannot happen because they are contrary to the law of God, is of no avail as the same power that makes the laws is also able to make other laws that may abrogate them. The story of the loaves and fishes conveys to us other lessons besides that of faith, it teaches that God cares for us and has an interest in and will supply our daily needs if we trust him. The boy who gave up his small store of loaves and fishes to feed the multitude, gave in the spirit of worship without thought of reward, but his reward would be great. God does not need our gifts but we do need him. At the end of the service an appeal was made to the congregation for additional funds to pay off the debt of the church in addition to the pledges given last Sunday, and the remainder needed, over $500 was quickly pledged.

THE REAL THING

"I must congratulate Jack on his golden wedding." "Golden wedding? Why, he's only just married."

"I know, but the bride is worth a million."—Boston Transcript.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Blue and gold with fern greenery was the color scheme used in the Dodge home at 101 South Central avenue on Saturday evening, Nov. 13, when they most charmingly entertained friends in celebration of their 20th wedding anniversary. The spacious living-room where the light fantasies were tripped, resembled a garden bower, so profusely had the "Nippon land" blossoms of yellow and fern fronds been used. Yellow chrysanthemums in baskets and tall crystal vases adorned the walls and the long table in the banquet room where a most elaborate course supper was served. The blue and gold almond cups with tiny china nut clipper covers for the host and hostess and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Jeffery, Mr. and Mrs. Will Jeffery, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith of Owensmouth, Mr. and Mrs. John Tweedy of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Page of Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Page of Conejo, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson of Glendale, and Miss Kathleen Dodge, only daughter of this gracious hostess, who assisted her parents in receiving, was gowned most fetchingly in a dance frock of palest pink messaline. Master Fred Dodge, son of the genial host, and their nephew, Maxwell Tuttle, assisted in furthering the comforts of the gentlemen present.

At the meeting tonight in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Mr. Benjamin F. Pearson will be the speaker. Mr. Pearson is one of the well-known business men of Southern California. He is superintendent of the Southern California Edison company. He is also well known as a Christian worker and is in much demand as a speaker at conventions and specially at men's religious gatherings. He is a direct, forceful speaker. His messages always carry "the punch." The service begins promptly at 7:30 p. m. Tomorrow evening the speaker will be T. C. Knowles of the University of Southern California.

LITERARY SECTION TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

Tomorrow is poetry day at the literary section of the Tuesday afternoon club and a most interesting program will be presented at the home of Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson of 200 Orange street, at 2:30 o'clock.

PROGRAM

"Little Book of Modern Verse" . . . J. B. Rittenhouse Mrs. O. W. Tarr "Philip, the King and Other Poems" . . . John Masefield Mrs. Blake Franklin

"Bread and Circuses," H. P. Eden, to have been reviewed by Mrs. G. H. Rowe, could not be procured; in place, Mrs. C. E. Harlan, curator of the section, has been requested to review Lady Gregory's lecture, "Laughter in Ireland," which was recently given before the Friday Morning club. The ladies of the section feel that they have scored a triumph in persuading their modest curator to give what they believe will be a most interesting addition to the afternoon's program. Section meeting open to all club members.

A TALENTED READER

It is seldom that a Glendale audience has the privilege of listening to a program of so high merit as that given at the First Congregational Church Sunday evening by Mrs. E. H. Willisford, assisted by Miss Carol Willisford.

"Robert of Sicily," by Longfellow, was the reading rendered. This beautiful story offered a splendid opportunity for Mrs. Willisford to demonstrate her remarkable interpretive powers, range of voice and expressive rendition. The reader made her audience see the king in his rebellion and despair and the people were led to rejoice when the king came into his own.

The reader's charm of character, earnest yet unassuming manner, contributed to the impressiveness of the reading.

The musical accompaniment was an original arrangement and was beautiful and appropriate to the theme of the story. The reader and the musician were the recipients of many sincere and hearty compliments. Mrs. W. D. McRae contributed much to the reading by her chanting of the responses of the monks. Mr. Ralph W. Beers was heard to great advantage in his splendid singing of "Jerusalem." The choir sang with much effect the anthem, "Savior, Blessed Savior."

The pastor was greeted with an unusually large audience at the morning service. "Doing and Suffering for Christ's Sake" was the theme of the sermon.

AS THEY SAY IN 58

Mr. Wood and Mr. Stone passed on the street of Glendale the other evening and Mr. Wood sung out: "Hello, Stone! How's Mrs. Stone and all the little pebbles?" "Fine," answered Mr. Stone, "how's Mrs. Wood and all the little splinters?"

WHEN FOLKS GET FRESH

"What have you got fit to eat?" asked the fresh young man of the waiter at a first-class restaurant. "Everything, sir." "Everything?" sneeringly. "Have it served at once." "Hash for one!" yelled the waiter.

THE ROWDY!

A small hen-pecked little man was about to take a medical examination to join the Mystics. "You don't dissipate, do you?" asked the physician as he made ready for tests. "Not a fast liver, or anything of that sort?"

The little man hesitated a moment, looked a bit frightened, then replied in a small, piping voice: "I sometimes chew a little gum."

CHARITY BALL

The ballroom of the Masonic hall will, on the evening of December 2, be a blaze of light and animation, for the Knights Templar will give its annual charity ball in the interest of sweet charity.

One of the most enjoyable and worthy causes for philanthropically-inclined men and women of Glendale is the maintenance of its own unfortunate, hence this entertainment, which promises to be the most brilliant of the winter's social season. Entire Glendale should assist these kind men as patron and patroness for your assistance financially will help fill the wee kiddies stockings as well as the replenishing of larders.

Press men and merchants alike have been most liberal in their donations, which means that every dollar taken at the door will be spent for charity and as far as possible all purchases will be made in our city stores. Each ticket purchased bears a duplicate number and every person present has the same chance of drawing one of the beautiful gifts. In the name of "Sweet Charity" remember the date, December 2.

BENJAMIN F. PEARSON TONIGHT

At the meeting tonight in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Mr. Benjamin F. Pearson will be the speaker. Mr. Pearson is one of the well-known business men of Southern California. He is superintendent of the Southern California Edison company. He is also well known as a Christian worker and is in much demand as a speaker at conventions and specially at men's religious gatherings. He is a direct, forceful speaker. His messages always carry "the punch." The service begins promptly at 7:30 p. m. Tomorrow evening the speaker will be T. C. Knowles of the University of Southern California.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Both services of yesterday at the Baptist church found live and large audiences coming more and more under the gracious influence of revival fervor. The converted violinist, Prof. Lowinsky, is making a profound impression with his instrument and testimony to the saving power of Jesus Christ. After playing his violin for forty years in leading theatres he is now determined to consecrate his talents to the service of his Lord. Many others are finding the light and it is expected that special services will soon be under way. An effort is now being made to secure the services of Paul Taylor, the coming Sankey, to assist the pastor with song.

A gospel service is announced for Wednesday evening of this week. Testimonies by the recent converts will be expected.

Next Sunday evening Pastor Troy has promised to preach on, "Is the Automobile a Device of the Devil?" A timely message with plenty of punch and warning.

NOT EXTRAVAGANT

"The manager of my store," declared the merchant to a little coterie of friends, "is a peculiar genius. Why, would you believe it, when he draws his weekly salary he keeps only $1 for spending money and sends the rest to his wife in Indianapolis."

His listeners—with one exception, who sat silent and reflective—gave vent to loud murmurs of wonder and admiration.

"Now, it may sound thin, added the speaker, "but it's true, nevertheless." "Oh, I don't doubt it at all," quickly rejoined the quiet one; "I was only wondering what he does with the dollar."—Chicago News.

ON HONEYMOON TRAIL TO COAST

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McShane, of Barstow, Cal., found the touring route from Detroit to California a real honeymoon trail. They have just finished the tour in a Dodge Brothers' motor car, but declare that the honeymoon is by no means over.

Mr. McShane has been a resident of California for some time, but the lady of his choice resided in the east. When they decided to be married they arranged to meet in Detroit, where the knot was tied. Mr. McShane had already purchased his Dodge Brothers' car in Los Angeles, but had made arrangements for its delivery to him in Detroit.

This was done and the happy young couple started from Detroit for their California home. A camping outfit was carried and they took in the numerous scenic points on the way. Both are enthusiastic over the journey and over the performance of the Dodge Brothers' car. They averaged slightly more than 20 miles to the gallon of gas during the trip.

LONDON IN AUTUMN

Autumn goes wandering—wandering on her way
Down the mild slope that shortens day by day
Under these quiet skies.
Here, as the green leaves fade, the gold leaves fall,
A still enchantment widens over all,
Painting the streets with vague autumnal dyes
Like ancient tapestries;
Touching to fantasy unfelt before
The motley hoarding's many-colored lore;
The long, barge-laden stream
Bears on the rosetate haze, the golden gleam;
The leaves go hurrying at the light wind's call
As to some festival.

LA CRESCENTA

Improvements at Onondacka

At Onondacka Rancho, owned by Mr. Baldrige, a number of improvements are being made. What is said to be the largest garage to be built in the valley is being constructed on the ranch, at a cost of $500. The new structure will be able to house six cars and have rooms for chauffeur in the rear. Up in Baldrige canyon a dam is being placed to conserve the water supply of the ranch. Ed. Polteau is doing the carpentering on the garage.

Mrs. Ethel Ely and Mrs. Roy Garland of Los Angeles were visiting their relative, Mrs. Joe Hawkins, Monday.

Mr. Benjamin, of the Oakdale tract, has had lumber delivered on his lot for the immediate construction of a $600 home, which will be an attractive improvement in the new subdivision. It will consist of three rooms and kitchen. T. H. Addison of Glendale is the general contractor.

School Notes

The La Crescenta Grammar school building is taking a completed appearance, which can be noted from all points in the valley. In an interview with Mr. T. H. Addison of Glendale, who is the general contractor, with the Tri-City Progress reporter, he stated the roofing is being placed on the structure this week, after a slight delay by wet weather. Mr. Addison has had twelve men actively at work on the school and plans its completion by the first of the year. The total cost of the general contractor's work will be $13,167.

The Misses Brown and Haugh, teachers, are spending the week at the San Diego teachers' meeting and the fair.

Mrs. Reynolds visited her ranch here Sunday. The Reynolds have been away from Southern California some time, having been visiting in San Francisco at the fair and with relatives.

At San Francisco Fair

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Scherb, accompanied by their son Louis, are spending two weeks at the San Francisco Exposition. During their absence Mrs. Anne Davies Thomas and son Frank are overseeing the care of the ranch.

E. Tietsworth, a newspaper representative in the valley, is having a $250 addition put on his house, James Manning, local contractor, is doing the work and the job will be complete by the latter part of the week.

Growing Valley

La Crescenta—a growing valley, has two meanings to R. Toschke, one of the prosperous ranchers in this section. When Mr. Toschke came to La Crescenta in 1902 there were only three houses in sight and brush was the principal growth. There were only trails between the ranches and when the rains set in the traveler had to take to the brush.

While the valley has been growing in wealth and population, Mr. Toschke has been growing grapes on a twenty-acre ranch. This year's crop, he reports, is in fine condition and he will have the second crop ready for the market by Christmas. The rain, he declares, will do but little injury to the overripe bunches of the first crop and these will all be cared for before the heavier rains set in. Mr. Toschke has the Cornichons and wine varieties. The first crop off of seven acres was between 1500 and 2000 boxes. Incidentally, the land purchased by this grape grower in 1902 has grown in value from $100 to $150 an acre to nearly $1200, for the majority of the property faces the county highway.

In speaking of growing things in La Crescenta it might be well to mention the apple crop harvested by Joe Hawkins. He has picked seven boxes of apples and has had a great plenty for eating and cooking off of five three-year-old trees of different varieties.

F. D. Hanger, of the Fairmount Hotel, wasn't to be outdone in growing line, so he told the Progress reporter of his field of "spuds." He planted the potatoes less than two weeks ago. Now they are sprouted and out of the ground and new potatoes will be on the hotel menu before Christmas.

All these stories tend to prove that La Crescenta not only has the finest climate, the finest scenery and the finest people found anywhere, but it has the finest soil for growing things one could demand.

TYPHOID FEVER CONTROLLED

Three years ago the field men of the Geological Survey, as well as some of the office force, took advantage of the offer of the War Department to supply official antityphoid serum, and practically the entire force of men was inoculated. Since that time, as far as reported, there has been no serious case of typhoid fever among those inoculated. Two cases of typhoid among the topographic engineers indicate the great effectiveness of this inoculation. In both these cases the men simply felt "off feed" for a couple or three days and refused to go on the sick list; in fact typhoid would not have been suspected in either case except that in one of them somebody suggested the possibility, and an exhaustive hospital examination, blood-test, etc., showed that the engineer had a theoretically well-developed case of typhoid, the practical results of which, however, failed to incapacitate him, so that he did not even go to bed for one day.

EMPLOYEES' HOSPITAL FUND

The state labor bureau here today was interested in the report of Deputy State Labor Commissioner John S. Blair, who says he has discovered many cases wherein employees are failing to comply with the new law requiring them to make a monthly report of fees collected from employees for the hospital fund, and which provides that money put into this fund must remain intact and not be used for other purposes.

THAT UNERRING EYE OF FATHER

"Do you know, George," said the fluffly girl, "papa thinks you are a literary person."
"Where did he get that idea?" asked George.
"I don't know, but he said you looked like a bookmaker."

The decorations were great bunches of chrysanthemums beautifully arranged and the glow from the great fireplace cast radiance and warmth that added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. Music by the Monte Vista Valley orchestra and merry games pleasantly enlivened the evening. Refreshments were served by the young ladies of the society. A business session preceded the social hour.

Town Meeting

At the town meeting last Tuesday night the executive committee of the colony made an extensive and elaborate report as to the condition, resources, etc., of the colony, which was very interesting to those present. The report is too long to be published in these columns, but if desired, a synopsis of the more important parts may be submitted later. The report was read by Mrs. Wm. Miller, who kindly officiated in the absence of Mr. C. H. Clark, who is clerk of the town meeting.

Mr. Lamson, chairman of the industrial committee, also was ready with a report from his committee. This report offered some suggestions along lines of interest as to the available products found growing on the mountain sides and in the canyons, such as holly, mistletoe and bay leaves. These are a. in demand in the markets of the city.

The silk worm culture is another industry, the possibilities of which may be very important to the valley. It has been suggested by Mrs. D. C. Dean, who has had some experience in this industry, that it would be wise and advisable to plant the mulberry tree quite extensively at once, as the leaves of this tree are the natural food of the silk worm. Another industry suggested was a concrete plant for the manufacturing of corner posts, gates, urns, flower pots, building blocks and many other articles useful and ornamental. A printing press was also spoken of for the job printing that these different industries would require. Another industry was a summer camp to be established in the mountains.

Last Saturday, owing to the wet weather, of which we have had considerable lately, the men did not turn out to clear the weeds from the highways, as had been arranged for. However, Mr. George H. Maxwell, who had volunteered his services in this cause, was "Johnny on the Spot." He said he never let the weather interfere with his engagements and anyway he felt the need of the exercise, so he put in the whole afternoon pulling weeds along the way opposite the clubhouse lot.
