

FROM MIDDLE WEST

W. B. KIRK CONTINUES INTERESTING TRAVEL LETTERS TO NEWS READERS

Wichita, Kans., Oct. 1, 1914.
Dear News: I have been making no long jumps lately, so have had no chance to send you a letter, which I always write on the train.

One of the principal objects of my trip to the mid-west was to look at a section of land in Western Nebraska in which I have an equity and which I had never seen. I came from Denver to McCook, where I have an old customer and friend, whom I persuaded to drive me over to this farm—fifty miles northeast—in his Carter car. There are natural good roads in that section and we had a fine trip, which I enjoyed very much. This part of Nebraska has better crops this year than for five years past, and the tenant of our farm has seventy acres of corn which will run twenty bushels to the acre, and sixty-five more which is not quite so good.

Twenty bushels of corn at sixty cents, on $20 land, isn't so bad, is it? This so-called semi-arid section is better this year than some of the land further east which sells at $100 to $120 an acre, and on which they have very little corn this year. This land lies eleven miles north of Curtis, a division point on the Cheyenne branch of the Burlington. At Curtis the state has recently established an experimental station and agricultural college, with an appropriation of $200,000.

The fine cattle and hogs grown in Nebraska are certainly a pleasure to see, their average quality not being surpassed on earth. The large quantity of registered live stock at the state fair this year I was told was immense, and it is a shame that the attendance was kept down to the minimum by continual rains of a total of seven inches for the week.

Fall plowing and the sowing of wheat is in progress. The weather is fine and the trees are just beginning to take on their beautiful fall tints.

Of course I am meeting a number of old-time travelingsmen, with whom I have been associated in days gone by, and after I have been with them for a few minutes I seem to be living over the old days of fifteen or twenty years ago. The towns have grown a little, but look just the same, except that the Burlington has put up new brick stations at nearly all important points on the main line. I can never feel as much at home on any railroad as on the Burlington. I grew up in a Burlington town and lived for fifteen years in Lincoln, which is a great Burlington headquarters.

I got into Lincoln Saturday night, and it was a great pleasure to visit a number of my old friends among the business men, if only for a brief time.

Lincoln is a very desirable residence city, and its educational advantages are unsurpassed. Its streets are very wide, and it has many beautiful homes. Lincoln derives its principal reputation, however, from the fact that it is the home of the great "Commoner." I am glad that I have lived long enough to see him overcome the narrow prejudice and jealousy of a very strong Republican community, so that now he occupies the position there to which by worth he is entitled.

My stay in Omaha was also very short, for I had to arrange my time so as to see my old grandmother in Missouri. She is nearly 89 years old and lives with my bachelor uncle, who has taken care of her for nearly fifty years. The old farm is twenty-two miles northwest of St. Joe, where I was raised. I found her very feeble, unable to walk any more, and, on borrowed time, awaiting the final summons. She enjoyed my visit greatly. Her memory of people and events in the long past is clear and distinct, but things of the present she forgets in an hour. I staid all night at the old homestead and met the others of my uncles, aunts and some of the cousins. They are all prosperous, and the telephones and automobiles look very odd to me, when I remember the slow means of communication they had when I was a boy.

The clearing of the timber and the growing of alfalfa were the changes in that country which I noted most distinctly. Only a few years ago it was thought that alfalfa wouldn't grow in the Missouri river bottom or east of there, but now it has supplanted clover and other kinds of hay nearly altogether. On a farm just across the road from grandmother's a man has sixty-five acres of alfalfa on rolling ground. With four cuttings per year, without irrigation, averaging two tons per cutting, and a price of $12 to $16, on land worth $150 an acre, it is easy to see that all the profits in farming

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
The Sunday school broke its own splendid record of attendance by seven. Sunday's attendance was 144. The net enrollment is 170. The school began just three years ago with twelve, all of whom were present Sunday. Mrs. Geo. Adams, Miss Emma Adams and Mrs. E. D. Yard, who began that first Sunday to teach, have taught ever since.

The morning audience was very large. The pastor gave the right hand of fellowship to nine new members as follows: Mrs. Lena English and Mrs. Ethel Oliver, 311 Central avenue; Dr. H. V. Everly and Mrs. H. V. Everly, 1414 West Broadway; Mrs. Svenson and daughters, Helen and Mildred, 1209 Lomita avenue; Mr. Herbert H. Brown, Sixth and Grand View; Mr. John T. Jenkins, 1468 Arden.

A large number partook of the communion, Rev. William Sloan assisting the pastor.
In the evening Dr. Willisford gave an interesting and strong temperance address. He especially showed the folly and absurdity of the circular, "Prohibition Versus Temperance," by Rev. Baker P. Lee. So well received was the address by the large audience that Mr. Willisford has been urged to repeat the address, if possible, at the high school.
The Christian Endeavor Society will occupy the time on Sunday evening, October 18.

Wednesday evening the proposed amendments to be voted on Nov. 3 will be discussed by Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson and Mr. Frederick Baker and others. The public is cordially invited to this meeting.

BELDIN VS. REV. WILLIAMS
There will be a discussion on the eight-hour law by our townsman, J. C. Beldin, and Rev. Thomas W. Williams of Los Angeles, in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock Friday evening, October 9.
Mr. Beldin belongs to the old school that believes that judicious manual labor, even if for a greater period than eight hours per day, never harmed anyone, and of course will talk against the eight-hour amendment.

Let's protect the wild life of California against ruthless slaughter.
Enough tears have been shed over this great war to float a navy.

Abuse is more justified in politics than it is in any other field of human relations or endeavor.

EDITION IS GOING FAST

TRAVELS OF THE ANNIVERSARY NUMBER OF THE NEWS FOR FIRST OF THIS WEEK

The anniversary number of the Evening News has found its way into hundreds of homes in this city, and many copies have been sent East. If there is a paid-in-advance subscriber for the Evening News or the Tri-City Progress who failed to receive a copy of the special number, notify this office at once and a special will be sent to you without delay.
A new three months' subscription for the News or a year's subscription for the Tri-City Progress will entitle the subscriber to a free copy of the anniversary number.

This special number is an expensive publication, worth a dollar instead of 25 cents, and this being true the publisher is not likely to distribute copies carelessly.
In the meantime a lively sale of copies is going on, and there will come a time when persons asking for them cannot be supplied.

The first of this week the anniversary number of the Evening News started on a trip to homes outside of Glendale as follows:

SEMI-MONTHLY MEETING

MEMBERS OF N. P. BANKS POST TO ENTERTAIN CANDIDATES—OTHER ITEMS

At the close of the semi-monthly meeting of N. P. Banks Post at G. A. R. hall Saturday afternoon, a political meeting will be held, at which some of the most prominent judges and candidates of Los Angeles county will be present and make short speeches on some of the political issues of the day. This will be a non-partisan meeting, and every voter of this community is invited to be present. The meeting will begin promptly at 3:30 o'clock. W. J. Ford, chief deputy district attorney, who is a Spanish war veteran, will be present. Also Sheriff Will A. Hammel, Judges Grant Jackson and Willis I. Morrison, Sons of Veterans; Judge Elmer McDonald and our own Judge George Melrose. This is the first political meeting of the campaign year to be held in Tropic. Let every man and woman who is interested in the coming election be present and hear and meet these candidates. A reception will follow the meeting.

Samuel Parker of South Glendale avenue left for Imperial valley Monday morning, where he will remain a week or more looking over his property and business interests.

Dr. A. O. Conrad and his sister-in-law, Mrs. George Roper, and son, motored to Newhall Monday, where they spent the day as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conrad.

Mrs. Frank I. Marsh was the over-Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Davis of Pasadena.

Miss Cora Hickman, who was the guest of Mrs. W. A. Hammel at her beautiful home on Magnolia avenue Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Hammel entertained with a smart luncheon, was also the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hammel at La Ramada Saturday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Hammel entertained with a motor party, which later enjoyed the festivities of La Fiesta given by the ladies of the Tuesday Afternoon Club. Other guests included in the Hammel party were Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Brain, Mrs. George Pillsbury, Miss Aileen Brain and Miss Phyllis Hammel.

Victor Mollere arrived from New Orleans Saturday and will spend a few days here as the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Frank E. Peters, of Glendale avenue.

Mrs. Samuel Parker of South Glendale avenue has received word from her brother, Gregg Wilbur, who with his father, W. H. Wilbur, left about two weeks ago in Gregg Wilbur's car for a motor trip of three months to Kansas, that they have reached New Mexico and are enjoying the trip very much.

KILLED BY AUTO

Deepest sympathy is being extended to Mr. Ora Martin, assistant agent at the Glendale Pacific Electric station, who is mourning the loss of his thirteen-year-old son Percy.
Last Sunday evening the lad was riding a bicycle in the street near his home in Uplands when he was struck and instantly killed by a large machine, without lights, and traveling at a terrific rate of speed.

Instead of stopping, the driver speeded on, leaving the limp young body to be picked up by an approaching car owner, who witnessed the accident from the rear.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Martin are prostrated over the heartless carelessness that has filled their home with sadness.

COVERS FOR FOURTEEN

Among the enjoyable informal affairs of the first of this week was the 2:30 o'clock dinner presided over by Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Dodge in their attractive home, 101 South Central avenue. Roses and fern lent an enchanting pink and green motif to the table setting and tiny cards marked covers for Mr. and Mrs. John Tweedy, Mr. and Mrs. John Brice and Miss Catherine Chipman, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dryden, of Porterville; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Dodge, Miss Kathleen Dodge and Master Fred Dodge of Glendale.

MASS MEETING CALLED

All those who are interested in preventing a repetition of the damage caused by the floods last winter are urged to attend the mass meeting at the high school Monday evening, October 12. This meeting is called by the board of trustees and all those who are included in the Verdugo Storm Protection District are especially urged to be present.

COMPLETE PROGRAM

MASS MEETING OF CITY BEAUTIFUL ASSOCIATION AT HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT

Presentation of plans for activity—Mrs. Frank Grosvenor, chairman public buildings; Mr. J. F. Lilly, chairman streets and parkways; Mr. Jas. W. Pearson, chairman vacant lots.
Suggestions by the city manager, Mr. Thomas Watson.
Violin solo, Miss Thelma Stanton, "Airs from Martha" (Plotow).
Two-minute talks by prominent citizens—Messrs. J. R. Barrows, J. H. Braly, A. M. Brooks, W. J. Clendenin, A. B. Comstock, H. H. Farles, L. N. Rudy, J. C. Sherer, J. R. White, F. P. Wilson; Mmes. J. H. Braly, J. W. Durham, Mary W. Edwards, C. H. Heinen, R. W. Meeker, C. E. Russell.

Male quartette—Messrs. Marvin, Jones, Culver and Colcord, in arrangements of favorite old airs.
Illustrated lecture, "Gowning a City in Green," Dana W. Bartlett.

The above program will begin promptly at 8 p. m. Come early and hear patriotic selections on the high school Victrola before the program. Admission free.

SONOMA COUNTY FOR GOOD ROADS

Sonoma county is conducting a lively campaign for a bond issue of $1,600,000 for the improvement of its main county roads. In an endeavor to carry the bonds, Sonoma county has appealed to all classes of its citizens and sent out appeals to Los Angeles county to help in the effort to carry the bonds.

To all those who have good roads at the present time Sonoma county has sent out an appeal through its publicity department at Santa Rosa and members of the Sonoma County Good Roads Club are aiding in boosting the efforts of the club to build up the county roads.

COUNTRY STORE NIGHT PROVING POPULAR AT GLENDALE THEATER

Tonight, as usual, groceries will be given away at the Glendale theater, which combined with excellent pictures will draw a big crowd. The pictures are now changed at the Glendale theater every night, with the exception of Thursday.

On Wednesday and Thursday the big three-reel feature picture, "The Mystery of Wickham Hall," will be shown.

INTERMEDIATE P. T. A. MEETING

At 3:15 o'clock Friday afternoon, Oct. 9, the Parent-Teacher Association of the intermediate school will hold their first regular meeting of the year. A number of prominent speakers will take the platform to discuss the propositions to be voted on November 3. This meeting is open to the general public and a large attendance is desired.

INVITATIONS OUT

The St. Margaret Girls have issued invitations for a large dancing party to be given in the Masonic temple, 532 South Brand boulevard, Friday evening, Oct. 16. On Friday evening of this week the same young ladies will entertain at cards in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Crampton, 1011 Chestnut street. As usual a jolly good time is anticipated at both affairs.

MARKETING DISTRICT

The property owners who reside in the vicinity of the Bentley-Schoeneman lumber yards on West Broadway and Maryland were present at the city trustees' meeting Monday evening emphasizing their protest against the lumber yard being allowed to remain at its present location.

The board of trustees instructed the city attorney to draft an ordinance that will prohibit the conducting of a business of this class in specified residence portions of the city.

COUNSEL OF PRESIDENTS

The following Glendale Parent-Teacher Association presidents were guests of the Federation president, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, at the counsel of presidents of the Parent-Teacher Association, held in Los Angeles the latter part of last week: Dr. Jessie A. Russell, president of Intermediate P. T. A.; Mrs. E. A. Bayley, president of West Sixth street P. T. A.; Mrs. H. W. Yarik, president of the Columbus avenue P. T. A.; Mrs. N. C. Kelley, president of the Central avenue P. T. A., and Mrs. A. C. Anderson, president of the Broadway P. T. A.

BIRTHDAY TEA PARTY

LITTLE MAN CELEBRATES THIRD BIRTHDAY ENTERTAINING HIS YOUNG FRIENDS

Master Curtis McFadden has just cause to remember his third birthday, as Monday afternoon, October 5th, his mother, Mrs. C. W. McFadden, entertained with a beautifully appointed tea party in the family home, 1446 Hawthorne street.

Everything was pink and white, enchantress carnations having been used in abundance about the house, wherein the dotting mothers sat and talked while the little tots scampered about in the yard.

About 4 o'clock the immense dining table, centered with a shower of the chosen blossoms and laden with all sorts of pink and white goodies, served as a refuge for Curtis and his little guests, who found their places by means of tiny sunbonnet baby-cards and toy-favors that filled their hearts with gladness and the rooms with lots of noise. In addition to this, each one seated had individual pink and white cakes with three tiny tapers that blazed beneath striped opera-stick tripods, to call their very own.

Those who witnessed and partook of the feast were Mrs. A. W. Tower, Mrs. W. E. Evans, Mrs. Charles L. Evans, Mrs. George Moore, Mrs. R. Z. Imler, Mrs. Lawrence Ellis, Mrs. Charles Homer Temple, Mrs. John G. Hunchberger, Mrs. Walter Stamps, Mrs. Harry Goodwin, Mrs. J. W. McFadden and the little Misses Virginia Hunchberger, Doris and Barbara Stamps, Elizabeth Evans, Catherine Evans, Ruth Tower and Masters Robert Imler, Charles Temple, Jr., Chas. Ellis, George Moore, Jr., and the proud little honoree, Master Curtis McFadden, whose gracious mother was assisted during the afternoon by his aunt, Mrs. J. W. McFadden.

LA FIESTA A SUCCES

As at all club doings, another large crowd gathered at La Ramada Monday evening to witness the delightful program given by the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon Club members, who in their usual way please with everything. The dramatic part of the program given was in charge of Miss Bertha L. Jackson, who personally directed all performances, which were creditably handled by each and every participant. The principals were particularly clever and the costumes worn were especially attractive.

Special mention is made of the special vocal numbers that were offered by Mrs. William Herman West, Mrs. Frank Arnold, Mrs. Greeley Kolts and the music section quartet, Mesdames Arnold, Kolts, H. D. Goss and Fred W. Pig. Also of the music furnished by Mrs. E. V. Lawton, Mrs. John R. Barrows and Miss Gertrude Champlain, three of the well-known musicians of local worth.

The booths, in charge of club members, were well patronized and the delicious Spanish dinner was the kind that made one want to "come again."

Owing to the inclement weather Saturday evening many were noticeable by their absence, yet Monday night proved the success of this great undertaking, which was given by the club as a "fund increaser." Between fifty and sixty persons were served to dinner by the La Ramada management, but many many more thronged the stage door and grounds, all of whom received the thanks and appreciation of the club for their kind and liberal patronage and for the general interest manifested in this great and successful undertaking.

VISITOR COMPLIMENTED

In compliment to Mr. W. Eunge-witter of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Keleher of 228 North Louise street entertained Mrs. Katherine Hunt, Miss Ida Jordan and Mr. Boylan at dinner in their home. All the appointments were in yellow and white and conclusive of an elaborate repast a most enjoyable evening was spent.

The following local tennis fiends appropriated the court at Thornycroft farm Sunday, where they spent the entire day: Mr. and Mrs. William W. Kirkby, Mr. Heacock, Mr. Harry Goodwin, Mr. Henry Hainert, Mr. William Brunton, Mr. H. L. Miller and Dr. Nelson, of Glendale; Mr. Sawyer of Los Angeles, and Mr. Julius Bensabott of Chicago.

FIRST METHODIST BARACAS

The regular monthly business and social meeting of the First M. E. Baraca class will be held this evening at the church. The entertainment committee has promised a good time and all members are requested to be present.

Mrs. Ralph Bourne, Miss Rae Davis and Miss Ruth Browne, all of Glendale, enjoyed the day Monday in Los Angeles.

Mrs. W. A. Echols and daughter Della have returned after a delightful visit at Pocatello, Idaho, and Salt Lake City.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schuyler of 1430 Ivy street had as guests in their home on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. W. Hollister of Venice.

Miss M. Cosgrove of Colton is spending a few days in Glendale as a guest of her sister, Mrs. M. G. Jackson, 1446 West Third street.

Mrs. Fannie Yantis Stockbridge, well known in professional circles, is again domiciled in her attractive bungalow on Lomita avenue.

Remember the all-day meeting tomorrow in the Guild hall, corner Fifth and Louise streets, all ye members of St. Mark's Women's Guild.

Prof. and Mrs. Francis Morris of Los Angeles were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ellis, 541 South Kenwood street.

Cottage prayer meetings are being held throughout the city daily on behalf of the special services now being held at the Glendale Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fulmer of South Bend, Indiana, are visiting in the T. A. Wright home, 305 South Louise street. Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Fulmer are sisters.

Mrs. Nanno Woods has opened a studio at her residence, 1222 Milford street, for pupils desirous of learning to play and sing popular music, dance music, drawing-room ballads, etc. Sunset 394.

Mrs. George W. Peters, Jr., has been removed from her home, 1712 West Broadway, to Dr. Thompson's sanitarium at Burbank, where she is now lying in a critical condition as the result of pneumonia.

Mr. E. D. Goode has returned from Holtville, Imperial valley, and will spend a few days in his home, 329 Cedar street with Mrs. Goode, who met him at San Diego, where a five days' visit was enjoyed.

The chairman of the emergency committee of the Parent-Teacher Associations of the different schools in Glendale, together with Mrs. E. D. Yard, emergency chairman of the Glendale Parent-Teacher Federation, and Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Parent-Teacher Federation, met with the chairman of the Los Angeles P. T. A. emergency committee at the Friday Morning Club house in Los Angeles at 10 o'clock this morning. Many important matters were brought up and discussed.

Mrs. Frank Adams was among those who attended the Presbyterian held in Los Angeles Monday.

The Misses Ethel and Mable Mattoon of Huntington Park, together with Miss Marion Henry of Tropic, were entertained at dinner Saturday last by Miss Dorothy Lee in her home, 106 Cedar street.

Mrs. Andrew Robertson of 925 Stocker street, assisted by Mrs. L. D. Oliver, will entertain the Foothill Club in her home Friday afternoon, Oct. 23, and has requested her guests to bring their needlework.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lusby of 111 Cedar street entertained as dinner guests today Mrs. J. H. Humphrey and daughter Bethel of Corona. Mrs. Humphrey is the wife of the former pastor of the Methodist church here.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tenney and daughter, Miss Eliza Tenney, who are visiting on the coast from Sand Point, Idaho, were guests over Sunday in the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McIntyre, 315 Cedar street.

Mrs. M. L. Tight of 423 West Third street has returned from a business trip to Coachella valley, bringing with her the thrills and excitement of the Sunset train hold-up near Colton. Mrs. Tight was among the passengers.

The Thursday afternoon section of the Mary Howard Gridley Shakespeare Club will meet at 2:30 o'clock the second and fourth Thursday afternoons of each month, with the Misses Maybelle Douglass and Edith Tyler, of 205 North Maryland avenue.

There will be a meeting of the Campfire Girls in the high school gymnasium at 7:15 o'clock tonight, this hour having been chosen in order to allow those attending plenty of time for business transactions before the lecture at 8 o'clock by Dana W. Bartlett.

A delightful automobile trip to Santa Barbara and return was enjoyed one day last week by Miss Ruby Bensabott of Thornycroft farm and her brother, Mr. Julius Bensabott, who is visiting here from Chicago. Mr. H. L. Miller, also of the farm, enacted the role of chauffeur and official conductor.

A large number of Glendale women attended the Women's Civic Club in Los Angeles Monday to hear Mrs. Estella Lawton Lindsey speak on the "Red Light Abatement Act." Mrs. Lindsey is the candidate for the legislature from the sixty-first district and is the only woman candidate in Southern California.

Dr. A. B. Pritchard, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of Los Angeles, will speak on the interesting topic of "Personal Work" at the Glendale Presbyterian church tonight in connection with the special meetings now being held nightly this week, preceding the communion service next Sabbath morning at 11 a. m.

WAR PRICES AND ADVERTISED PRICES

Talk about the economic effect of advertising!

The way that the good old staples, popularly supposed to vary little more than fractions of a cent year in and year out, did "hit the high spots" like a youngster taking his fling at Coney Island, was exciting to see. Sugar shot up to seven dollars from four dollars—until sugar was a very sour subject with householders! The same is true of flour and almost all of the other so-called basic staples—excepting those that are trademarked and advertised! Probably no more remarkably interesting test had ever come to the economic solidity of trademarked and advertised goods than the European war crisis. Increased cost of materials and the other disturbing factors, such as the danger of shutting off supplies of foreign ingredients, were all just as operative upon trademarked and advertised goods as upon others. Yet in spite of loss and justification for raise in price, the advertisers of trademarked goods have almost without exception bowed right to the line and not added a cent or a fraction of a cent to their prices.

In fact, several have widely advertised this fact and made it a claim to public attention.

Now why? The answer is very searching—it goes to the root of advertising value. They did it because they desired to maintain the reputation for uniformity and dependability which their previous advertising had fostered. Nor was it entirely unselfish, for they knew that the public would revolt against an increase in price of staple, widely-advertised commodities.

Again I ask, why would the public resent a raise in price? And again the answer is the same, that the value and place of advertising is based upon the foundation stone of uniformity and dependability.

It may be over-enthusiastic to say that the unlovely speculation and unpublic spirited juggling of prices of food commodities would not have been possible, or at least not selfishly advisable, had they all been branded and upheld by trademark reputation.

Hurrah for our patriotic advertisers.—Advertising and Selling.

NORTH GLENDALE

Word was received from Mrs. M. N. Barnett of North Glendale, who has been attending the annual conference of the M. E. church of Southern California that the appointments were opened Monday evening and in all probability the new pastor for the Casa Verdugo M. E. church will occupy the pulpit next Sunday morning.

Mrs. Henry Lehman and children of 1604 Stocker street are spending a few days with friends in Corona.

Mr. William Rising of 1652 Ruth street made a business trip to Long Beach Monday.

Mrs. I. C. Rice of 1632 Ruth street was the luncheon guest of Mrs. A. L. Fox and daughter, Mrs. Abbie Childs, of 4510 Homer avenue, Los Angeles, Monday.

Mr. Hermon Berner and family of 1117 Remington street left Monday for Corona, where they expect to locate permanently, Mr. Berner having acquired extensive ranch property at Corona and Colton, which he will oversee the cultivation of.

Mr. Nat Browne of 1620 Stocker street entertained the following tennis enthusiasts last Sunday. Several exciting games were played during the day and a jolly good time was enjoyed. Those who participated in the games were Mr. Lawrence Turrentine of Los Angeles, Mr. Gerold Blue, Mr. Bowers, Mr. Frank Littell, Miss Rae Davis, Mrs. Will Raitt and son, Mr. Will Raitt, Jr., Mr. Nat Browne and Miss Ruth Browne. During the evening the following friends were added to the party and music, song and social conversation whiled away the happy hours. The guests for the evening were Miss Marjory Duncan, Miss Barbara Mitchell, Mr. Leland Duncan, of North Glendale; Miss Marie Inda and Mr. Hunter Graham of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bierbower of 922 Fairview avenue spent the weekend at Azusa, where they were guests of Mr. Bierbower's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Bierbower at their ranch home. During their stay there several pleasant trips were enjoyed, one of which to the San Gabriel canyon was filled with intense excitement, caused by the party encountering a huge rattler that was on a ridge by the road even with the bed of the buggy the friends were in, which of course frightened the ladies of the party very much, their screams bringing help, who assisted in the effort to kill the dread reptile, but to the regret of all it got away among the great boulders, making it utterly impossible to get it. Certainly the experience was one that Mrs. Bierbower at least will not soon forget.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl R. Bertens of 1109 North Louise street entertained as their house guests for the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hammond and little son, Master Edward Newton Hammond of Gardena, who were charmed with the delightful scenery of the Verdugo hills and extensive perspective of the valley.

FROM MIDDLE WEST

are not made in California.

The dry seasons of the past two or three years, however, have made serious inroads on the trees in that section, and many fine specimens, both in parkways and pasture, have died from lack of moisture. The unkempt condition of the lawns, both in city and country, shows the value of having an available water supply, such as we have.

I am surprised at the large amount of cannabis grown in the yards and parks of all this section. I don't believe they used to raise them here to any extent. Both the red and yellow varieties seem to flourish and grow about as rank as they do with us. The orchards are loaded with apples and pears on the trees which have not died.

St. Joe looks about as sleepy as ever, and is unchanged except that the Corby estate has put up a fine ten or twelve story office building on Fifth and Felix. That is only a little of what they should do, however, because that estate has done more than all else to keep the town back.

I stopped at old Atchison, the home of the celebrated Ed Howe and John J. Ingalls (also of the Santa Fe railroad). They say the colored population of the town is increasing faster than the white, and as the ratio of the two races is about 'alf and 'alf, it will soon be nearly as bad off as if it were in Mississippi. But this is already too long.

Faithfully yours,
W. B. KIRK.

TAXES DUE

Notice is hereby given that all taxes levied and assessed against property within the City of Glendale for the tax year of 1914-15 will be due and payable from and after the 5th day of October, 1914.

That all taxes due will become delinquent upon the last Monday of December, 1914, at 5 o'clock p. m., and that unless paid prior to that time, ten per cent will be added to the amount thereof.

The place of payment of said taxes is in the office of the City Tax Collector in the City Hall, No. 575 W. Broadway, in the City of Glendale, between the hours of 9 and 12 a. m. and between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m.

NEW FACES

The common remark on the streets these days is "How many strange faces." The time is already here when visitors from various parts of the United States are finding their way to Southern California and Glendale is getting her share of them.

May it be our disposition to treat these visitors kindly, not with a view of winning them our way, and then extracting from them every cent possible. The people who are here from the East are people from good homes. They have been in the habit of getting fair treatment. When the gasman and the telephone man say a deposit of $5.00 is required, they begin to wonder if they have gotten into a settlement of hold-ups. The Glendale Evening News will ask only for the payment of the actual subscription, and will not require a deposit of $5.00 as a guarantee you will remain in the country over night.

COTTAGE PRAYER MEETINGS

Thomas, 311 North Louise street, and Mrs. Minnie Kinnaman, 240 South Louise street.

U. OF C. FARM COURSES WORTH $2000 BOND EACH?

Dean Thomas F. Hunt of the college of agriculture of the University of California has written the following open letter telling of the value of this fall's six-weeks' courses at the university farm:

"To the Farmers of California: "There are few states where dairying and breeding of pure-bred live stock has been brought to such perfection as in Wisconsin. It is more than thirty years since Prof. Henry started short courses at the University of Wisconsin. The progress of agriculture in Wisconsin can be definitely traced to their influence. Thousands of individuals in that state have had their earning capacity permanently increased.

"The same opportunity exists in California. Never was there a better program of farmers' short course lectures than those which are offered at the university farm, Davis, beginning Oct. 5. No man or woman of whatever age over eighteen who is producing or expects to produce wealth from the soil in California can afford to miss taking one of these courses. The enrollment is already twice that of last year at the same date.

"Conservatively estimated, a six-weeks' course, conscientiously pursued, is equal in value to the income from a two thousand dollar bond. Is it worth fifty to sixty dollars for room and board and six weeks of earnest study? It is an expenditure of permanent value. You can wear out a suit of clothes or a set of tires, but you cannot wear out an education. It will grow."

California is prepared to entertain the whole American people next year—provided they do not all come at once.

Wall street might close up shop and the rest of the country hardly know that anything unusual had happened.

Americans will not spend their usual three hundred millions in Europe next year.

LOS ANGELES REALTY BOARD IS WISE

If city and county consolidation is a good thing for everyone concerned, why did the Los Angeles Realty Board reject the proposition when asked to endorse it?

The Realty Board is made up of sound business men. They have suburban land to sell. They know that consolidation would injure the sale of that land. They know that taxes on suburban property would be greatly increased.

If business men living in Los Angeles realize these facts, how can any resident of a suburban town reconcile himself to the thought that consolidation would be a good thing for him?—South Pasadena Record.

POLICEWOMEN

Police matrons have been useful adjuncts for many years in attendance at lock-ups and have softened the seamy-sides of life as endured by the unfortunates of her own sex in a manner that a policeman could not and did not do.

From this has grown the new venture, "policewoman," with full police powers to arrest or in any way work for peace and good order in the community.

This movement is the outgrowth of the enlarged activities of women in all avenues of labor and business, social and educational lines, and more especially because of her unlimited access to the ballotbox.

Women are best calculated to deal with women, at any angle, and it should not be long before women judges, sheriffs, bailiffs, constables, juries and attorneys run down and out the bear-eyed dead-beats and scoundrelmongers that infest our police courts.

If great benefits do not come to society from this new condition of things, it will be because women were bold in creating a grand opportunity and then suddenly became too timid or cowardly to work it.

HOW BIG WAS ALEXANDER, PA?

(This subjoined poem was in the "readers" of the schools over sixty years ago, and would grace the programs of school "show-offs" of today, over the "senseless twaddle" to which too oft we are compelled to listen. It is being generously republished at the present time, as pertinent to the present European war. Pa could not answer his son, nor can anyone give a reasonable excuse for the human slaughter going on over there. The author is said to be unknown.—S. P.)

How big was Alexander, pa,
 That people called him great?
 Was he like old Goliath tall,
 His spear a hundred weight?

Was he so large that he could stand
 Like some tall steeple, high,
 And while his feet were on the ground
 His head could touch the sky?

Oh! no, my child; about as large
 As I or Uncle James.
 'Twas not his stature made him great
 But greatness of his name.

His name so great? I know 'tis long,
 But easy quite to spell;
 And more than half a year ago
 I knew it very well.

I mean, my child, his actions were
 So great he got a name
 That everybody speaks with praise
 And tells about his fame.

Well, what great actions did he do?
 I want to know it all.
 Why, he it was that conquered Tyre,
 And leveled down her wall.

And thousands of her people slew,
 And then to Persia went,
 And fire and sword on every side
 Through many a region sent.

A hundred conquered cities shone
 With midnight burning red;
 And strewed o'er many a battleground
 A thousand soldiers' blood.

Did killing people make him great?
 Then why was Abdel Young
 Who killed his neighbor training day
 Put into jail and hung?

I never heard them call him great.
 Why, no—'twas not in war,
 And him that kills a single man,
 His neighbors all abhor.

Well, then, if I should kill a man,
 I'd kill a hundred more;
 I should be great, and not get hung.
 Like Abdel Young before.

Not so, my child, 'twill never do.
 The gospel bids be kind.
 Then they that kill and they that praise
 The gospel do not mind.

You know, my child, the Bible says:
 That you must always do
 To other people as you wish
 To have them do to you.

But, pa, did Alexander wish
 That some strong man would come
 And burn his house and kill him, too,
 And do as he had done?

And everybody called him great
 For killing people so—
 Well, now, what right had he to kill,
 I should be glad to know.

If one should burn the buildings here
 And kill the folks within,
 Would anybody call him great
 For such a wicked sin?

What Mr. Hospers of Los Angeles saw in Milford Valley

following letter was written by a practical farmer, Mr. P. Hospers of 3015 Budlong avenue, Los Angeles, who has just returned from a thorough investigation of Milford Valley lands. Mr. Hospers was kind enough to permit us to use this letter which was written to a friend (F. P. Gallagher) of Armour, S. D. In this letter Mr. Hesper tells the story of Milford Valley in plain, convincing, straightforward language. It is a practical man's opinion of a practical farm land offering. If you are in the market for the best fruit, potato, grain and alfalfa land in the west—read this letter carefully.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 28, 1914.
 F. P. Gallagher,
 Armour, S. D.
 Dear Friend:
 I want to tell you about my trip to Milford Valley, Utah, last week. I found one of the finest valleys I have even seen—the finest hogs and cattle and I know that is what you like. Climate is just right—nothing like it in the middle west. A man can work outside every day here. Milford is a live town of 1500 people and has a payroll of $50,000 a month. These lands are from two to six miles from the center of town. The railroad is the main line of the Salt Lake. You asked me several times to let you know when I found a good place. I am sure this is just what you want. You had better come at once and see. I expect to move to Milford in the spring. This land is selling very fast and I would advise you to act quick. The cost is only $30 per acre, and the water right is sold at $70 per share, with 12 years' time to pay for it if you wish. This is the cheapest land of this nothing like it in South Dakota, Montana, Colorado or Texas, and you know I've been all over those places, having bought and sold land there.

These Milford lands have an extra fine soil and plenty of the best water, mighty cheap, too, for this western country. It is a fine fruit, grain and stock country. I saw the finest wheat, oats and alfalfa. Saw wheat that threshed 55 bushels to the acre. Saw oats 100 bushels to the acre weighing 55 pounds to the bushel. This is a fact. Saw alfalfa fields that cut three tons to the acre and they cut it three times, so you see they got some hay, and it is of the best quality. Saw fields of potatoes that will go 500 bushels to the acre. You can raise anything you want here. I saw some of class I've seen out here. With best wishes, I am

 Yours truly,
 P. HOSPERS,

INGERSOLL ON NAPOLEON

By Samuel Parker

R. G. Ingersoll was an orator with few equals, and no superiors, and his off-hand speeches often were the equals of his studied efforts.

It was frequently said of him: "When Bob opens his mouth, out comes an oration," and this fact accounts for the large audiences at any event where he was to speak.

His speech at Indianapolis nominating Blaine for the presidency, "The Plumed Knight"; his address extolling the G. A. R., "Cheers for the living, tears for the dead," and his denunciation of the liquor traffic, "the scourge of the race more terrible than war," are rare specimens of vigorous yet eloquent speech.

Nor was he lacking in ability with the pen, and one of the best things he ever wrote and pertinent to the present situation in Europe, was his description of the tomb of Napoleon Bonaparte, which is herewith presented:

"A little while ago I stood by the grave of the old Napoleon—a magnificent tomb of gilt and gold, fit almost for a diety dead—and gazed upon the sacophagus of rare and nameless marble, where rest at last the ashes of that restless man. I leaned over the balustrade and thought about the career of the greatest soldier of the modern world. I saw him walking upon the banks of the Seine, contemplating suicide. I saw him at Toulon. I saw him putting down the mob in the streets of Paris. I saw him at the head of the army in Italy. I saw him crossing the bridge at Lodi with the tri-color in his hand. I saw him in Egypt, in the shadow of the pyramids. I saw him conquer the Alps and mingle the eagles of France with the eagles of the crags. I saw him at Marengo, at Ulm and at Austerlitz. I saw him in Russia, when the infantry of the snow and the cavalry of the wind blast scattered his legions like winter's withered leaves. I saw him at Leipsig in defeat and disaster—driven by 1,000,000 bayonets back upon Paris—clutched like a wild beast—banished to Elba. I saw him escape and retake an empire by the force of his genius. I saw him upon the frightful field of Waterloo, where Chance and Fate combined to wreck the fortunes of their former king. And I saw him at St. Helena, with his hands crossed behind him, gazing out upon the sad and solemn sea. I thought of the widows and orphans he had made, and of the only woman who ever loved him pushed from his heart by the cold hand of ambition. And I said I would rather have been a French peasant and worn wooden shoes; I would rather have lived in a hut, with a vine growing over the door and the grapes growing purple in the amorous kisses of the autumn sun; I would rather have been that poor peasant, with my wife by my side, knitting as the day died out of the sky, with my children upon my knees and their arms about me; I would rather have been this man and gone down to the tongueless silence of the dreamless dust than to have been that imperial personification of force and murder known as Napoleon the Great."

INFORMATION REGARDING TAX PAYING

In accordance with sections 3746 and 3749, political code of California, the state and county taxes for the year 1914 become due and payable at the office of the county tax collector, fifth floor hall of records, Los Angeles, as follows:

First installment includes all taxes on personal property secured by real property, and one-half the taxes on real property, and becomes due and payable on Monday, October 12, 1914. The second installment consists of the remaining one-half of taxes on real property, and becomes due and payable on Monday, January 4, 1915.

Total taxes may be paid when first installment is due if desired.

The first installment if unpaid becomes delinquent at 6 o'clock p. m., November 26, 1915.

The second installment if unpaid becomes delinquent at 6 o'clock p. m., April 26, 1915.

Fifteen per cent penalty is added to the first installment if not paid before delinquency.

Five per cent penalty is added to all unpaid taxes at 6 o'clock p. m., April 26, 1915.

A further charge of fifty cents for every lot, piece or parcel of real property and every separate extension of personal property accrues if not paid on or before May 17, 1915.

Protection district taxes for the year 1914 on all properties embraced within the boundaries of the San Antonio, Fair Oaks, San Fernando, San Gabriel and Rubio No. Protection districts become due and payable on October 1, and all such taxes remaining unpaid at 5 o'clock p. m. January 4, 1915, become delinquent, and five per cent penalty will be added thereto.

Should taxpayers not receive bills on any or all properties upon which they desire to pay before October 20, 1914, such bills must be obtained at the county tax collector's office in the usual way, and taxpayers should not further delay in obtaining them.

Mail remittances must be by bank draft, postoffice or express money orders, or by certified personal check only.

Before remitting, carefully check all tax bills and see that all property upon which you desire to pay taxes is listed and correctly described.
