Three-day Camping Trip, Ventura County

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Fuelscher and daughters, Misses Annie and Alice Fuelscher of 622 North Isabel street, returned to Glendale late Tuesday night from a three days' camping and outing trip to Lyon Springs and other points in the mountains north of Ventura.

They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Owens and daughter, Miss Jewel Owens of Pasadena, the entire load of seven people and a half ton trailer being transported by Mr. Owens' Chevrolet touring car. They report that they were almost "pinched" on several occasions for endangering the road foundations with excessive weight.

Upon their arrival at Lyon Springs, which is located about ninety miles north of Glendale, they were joined by a number of friends from Los Angeles and Long Beach, making a total of twenty-two persons in the camp.

The outing was enjoyed chiefly in hiking and fishing, several of the members of the party catching limits of mountain trout.

Greedy Chicken Attacks Soldier; Dies at Sunrise

Lieut. Colonel P. J. Lauber learned long years ago that it is a major offense to "rush" the mess line in the army.

He stepped into the poultry yard the other morning with a cup containing the maternal cereal, a greedy young cockerel, of jolliest broiler age, flew up and lit on his hand and made a dive into the cup.

This called to mind that there was a chicken dinner scheduled, with the result that the greedy one lost not only his breakfast, but his head as well.

"Kismet," comments the Colonel.

GUARANTORS SIGN FOR CHAUTAUQUA

Seven-day Program Ends Successfully; Audiences Well Satisfied

A pleasing program by the Gilvan Opera company brought the seven-day Ellison White chautauqua in Glendale to a successful close last night.

Guaranteed ticket sales amounting to $1750 were oversold by about $250, according to Mrs. T. B. Thatcher, manager of the event, who goes from here to Lodi. A great deal of praise is due Mrs. Thatcher for conducting the chautauqua without any dissatisfaction on the part of anyone.

While the single admissions this year did not compare with those of 1921, there was no loss entailed. It is understood, and the Ellison-White people will return next year, the list of guarantors being headed by L. A. Hart, well-known real estate dealer with offices at 113 East Broadway.

Sign as Guarantors
Besides Mr. Hart, president of the organization, E. S. McKee, vice president, and G. E. Leaton, secretary and treasurer, the following have signed the 1922 guaranty:

Wet Day in June to Dampen Tourists

As usual, it's unusual, this misting rain on the first day of June. Not that it hasn't done so before, but it doesn't rain very often this late in the season.

CONVENTION FUND IS INCREASED BY PROGRESSIVES

System of Fines Is Put Into Effect and Members Cheerfully Pay Up

So asserted Captain W. B. Kelly of 106 West Colorado street, president of the newly organized Glendale Progressive Business Club, yesterday noon at 223 South Brand boulevard, at its weekly luncheon in the banquet room of Ye White Inn.

Then, as a joke, on a slight pretext, a motion was carried that Mr. Kelly should be fined $1 for "being asleep at the switch."

This caused considerable amusement, but the fine was paid on the spot.

To raise more money for "the convention fund" Dr. James A. Belyea of 920 South Central avenue was fined $2 for not having been present at the recent outing.

Upon motion of Fred S. Hill of 121 South Brand boulevard, Attorney G. H. King of 106A East Broadway was fined $1 for engaging in conversation while a speaker had the floor. Both fines were paid cheerfully.

Plea by President
"Let's make this organization a live one," urged Captain Kelly. "Let's all put our shoulders to the wheel and go to it. We have the pep and we are going to do it. Every member must take it upon himself to do as much for this club as his officers."

Reports were made by Dr. Henry R. Harrower and James Harrower, both of 920 East Broadway, of a dinner of the Progressive Club of San Francisco which they attended last week.

The club's picnic last Sunday at Live Oak, Sunland, came up for favorable comment.

Among those present at the luncheon, besides those already mentioned, were: George H. Thomas, 104 North Brand boulevard; George A. Whittaker, 400 East Broadway; Fred E. Hoyt, 205 East Broadway; A. Gelmor, 128 South Brand boulevard; Henry Walsma, 142 North Brand boulevard, and Robert Jensen.

Spring Is Here! Flood of Poems Now Threatening

A spring poets' contest is to be staged this month in Glendale. Decision to this effect was reached yesterday noon at the weekly luncheon of the newly organized Glendale Progressive Business Club.

The subject was brought up by Captain W. B. Kelly, president of the organization, who offered a silver loving cup for the best original "pome" recited by a member of the club.

"Spring poems got any relation to spring chickens?" inquired Robert S. Jensen.

"Is there a representative of an accident insurance company in our membership?" inquired Fred S. Hill of 121 South Brand boulevard. "Perhaps we could drum up a little business for him."

The contest was unanimously endorsed by those present and Dr. Henry R. Harrower, H. G. Wadsworth, 1318 East Harvard street and E. C. Waring of 291 South Brand boulevard were named a committee to round up the poets. It was decided to honor some especially selected women with the business of judging the "potry."

TEA AND CONCERT ENDS SEASON OF MADRIGAL CLUB

Members Wearing Colonial Costume Entertain for Number of Friends

At one of the prettiest of the social affairs of the week, the members of the Madrigal Club entertained their friends yesterday at tea in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce building. The soft tones of the rooms furnished the lovely background for the bright Colonial costumes in which the club members were attired and the wonderful acoustic properties of the rooms are proving a great satisfaction to this as well as other music organizations.

Their guests were entertained with a very pleasing program, with numbers by the club ensemble, and some very beautiful solos by different members. A special feature was a group of child impersonations by Mrs. Eustace B. Moore. Another especially enjoyed was the minuet in which the last measures were danced in stately fashion with fascinating grace by a quartet of the singers.

Show Appreciation
At the close of the program, Mrs. John W. Cotton, the club president, with a few brief words, expressed the appreciation of the club for the splendid work of their director, Mrs. C. A. Parker, and presented her with a beautiful rose, with an unusually long stem, with a suggestion that she use it as a baton. Mrs. Parker was a little bit nonplussed for a moment until she discovered that the green leaves were concealing a handsome silver mounted, ebony baton, a gift from the club. Refreshments were served to eighty.

Complete Program
The entire program was as follows:
A Madrigal in May (Salter), by the club.
The Quest (Eleanor Smith).

HEAD OF SCHOOLS TALKS AT CIRCLE

Richardson D. White Tells About Pan-American Educational Meet

The "United States' responsibility of rehabilitating the world as discussed at the recent Pan-American Educational conference held at the University of Southern California was the theme of the talk given before the members of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle yesterday by Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools. In giving his impressions of the conference, which he attended, Mr. White stated:

"My first impression on entering the auditorium the first day of the conference was that here was a gathering of people from all parts of the western hemisphere at an educational conference. The idea gained from hearing some of those who spoke was that the United States with her neighbors had upon her shoulders the great burden of rehabilitating the world. European civilization has almost broken down and it seemed to be the feeling that if the European countries are to recover will be only through the aid of America.

"The United States has as neighbors a number of Latin countries, and they are going to be to us exactly what we make them. In this job America has on her hands of restoring civilization to others, she will find these countries either a help or a liability, according to the attitude taken towards them. They are now reawakening to the meaning of education and the realization that future harmonious relationships between nations are dependent on education. Especially is this reawakening very marked in Mexico.

Exchange of Professors
"One thing that was particularly brought out at the conference was the matter of exchange of students and professors between the institutions of higher learning in the Latin-American countries and the United States. I believe that nothing could bring us closer together if it were carried on on a large enough scale. This would bring about a spirit of unity which would preserve peace in this hemisphere and practically the one step at least in establishing peaceful relations and friendly neighborliness between this country and our Latin-American brothers and marks a new era not only from an educational standpoint but from every other.

"The sentiment of those attending the conference was that, if there were to be friendly relations between the countries, economically, socially and politically, we had to first have the education and although there is much we can give our darker-skinned brothers to the south, we are going to find that they have a great deal to bring to us."

Mrs. A. A. Barton, president of the circle, announced the purchase of a memorial picture for the late Mrs. R. T. Burr, a plate for which is being engraved, and which will probably be exhibited at the Reading Circle picnic June 14.

Report on Convention
Mrs. E. B. Moore, Mrs. E. W. Evans, Mrs. F. G. Hartman and Mrs. R. C. Horner, delegates from Glendale to the state convention of P.-T. A., recently held at San Diego, told of their trip.

In the afternoon the study of the book "The Religious Nurture of a Little Child" (Langford) was concluded, and another topic taken up, "Table Talk in the Home," with Mrs. H. V. Henry reading.

The next meeting of the circle will be the last of the season to meet at the library.

The annual picnic will be held June 14 at La Ramada park and an interesting program is being planned for that time.

AMERICAN LEGION POST SELECTS COMMITTEES TO FURTHER PLAN FOR REALTY DEAL AND BUILDING

Tentative Program For Procedure Presented At Meeting Last Night; Subdivision Ideas And Architectural Projects Outlined

Lines were drawn tighter last night at a meeting of the general building committee of Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, for attack on the most tremendous program ever attempted in a commercial way by a group of former service men seeking a home of their own. Colonel James W. Everington, retired, was named business manager of the proposition.

In order to obtain a valuable site, provide the necessary club rooms and erect an auditorium seating no less than 4,000 people, which is deemed a civic necessity, the building committee has developed the idea of purchasing and subdividing the Glendale sanitarium block on East Broadway between Jackson and Isabel streets.

Dr. William C. Mabry, who presided at last night's session, presented a tentative plan for procedure, including a resolution authorizing the committee to proceed, an organization of committees within and without the general committee, and a general scheme for subdivision and architecture.

May Sell Six Lots
The details, insofar as the buildings are concerned, remain to be worked out. Dr. Mabry's plan calls for the sale of six business lots on Broadway with immediate construction by the American Legion of a building in the center of these six. On Isabel and Jackson streets additional frontage must be sold, some of which would be ideal for hotel purposes.

Under the option the Legion cannot build its proposed auditorium in the center of the group before eighteen months elapse as the Seventh-day Adventist Hospital association desires to maintain its sanitarium until replaced by the new institution on East Wilson avenue. However, this will not prohibit business blocks being built on three sides, connecting the center with arcades.

Select Committees
It is a vast project which necessarily must be pictured to be thoroughly understood and this work will be in the hands of the architectural committee. Following is a list of committees named for carrying out the detail work. Executive committee—Charles B. Guthrie, chairman; Dr. William C. Mabry, vice-chairman, and James W. Everington, business manager.

Legal committee—Owen C. Emery, chairman; Dwight W. Stephenson, Frank Weller and James F. McBryde.

Realty and sales committee—E. P. Hayward, chairman; W. B. Kelly and A. H. Jones.

Finance committee—Robert Plume, chairman; Frank Weller, W. H. Reeves, M. Frug, Jesse E. Smith, Dr. H. Nicoles, Emil O. Kiefer, Gil A. Cowan and Dwight W. Stephenson.

Architectural—Earl Goodspeed, chairman; A. H. Jones, W. H. Reeves, H. D. Charton and C. M. Westburg.

Auditing—T. D. Watson, chairman; H. Prussing and M. Frug.

Attendance—Clarence Edwards, chairman.

General Officers
Post Commander James F. McBryde was named general chairman of the entire committee. Owen C. Emery is general secretary and Chalmers D. Day is general treasurer.

Mr. Guthrie was authorized by the committee to receipt for money and contract sales and the executive committee are ex-officio members of all other committees, it was agreed.

Sub-committees will meet on call of their chairman or each Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock while the general committee will go into session at 8:30 o'clock.

LOCAL SQUAD HARD HIT BY COVINA'S YEARLINGS

Glendale Freshmen Lose by Score 17 to 1; Slaughter On Hometown Lot

By HOWARD M'GILLIS. Sporting Editor The Evening News. After playing throughout the season without a single defeat and being tied for first place in the Central "Freshmen" league, the Glendale high school first year baseball squad yesterday afternoon completely went to pieces, and were submerged by the Covina high peacocks to the tune of 17 to 1. The game, which was staged on the local diamond, ceased to be a contest after the third inning, the score at that time being 5 to 0.

The overwhelming defeat of the local yearlings may be somewhat overlooked due to the fact that the Haypitcher squad was composed of no less than five members of Covina's first team entry in the recently closed Central league race. The "arsity" players who also happen to be freshmen are Wine, pitcher; Maurer, catcher; Sloan, second base; Armet, third base, and Welch, left field.

The visitors proceeded to make things hum from the very beginning, scoring two runs in the opening round. Maurer, their leadoff man, reached first on a walk and fanning out the Welch was fanning out. Mulrooney, the Haypitchers' clever shortstop, then waited out four wild ones, during which time the speedy Maurer managed to pilfer third. "Homerun" Armet, their slugging third baseman, then connected for a long double scoring both runners. Sloan popped out to shortstop.

Too Much to Bear! Covina was presented with their third run in the second inning on an error at shortstop by Johnny Lovell. At this juncture Bradbury, Glendale's ventral hard hitter, was "jerked" and told to take the shortstop position. The humiliation of being under-rated right before the very eyes of his best girl was too much, however, and he made a bee-line for the dressing room where he could conceal his troubles. Lovell was sent in from shortstop to take up the mound duty, Rendle was switched from left field to short and Beaman was sent to left field. Although Johnny started out on his pitching career in flawless fashion, retiring the side without a run, his trouble, which seemed to come in bunches of from one to six, was still in the brewing stage. In only one inning, the fifth, did the Covinates fail to cross the platter at least once—twice in the third, five times in the fourth, one in the sixth and six in the seventh; making it, roughly speaking, a game of "progressive" baseball. It would be useless to attempt to relate the manner in which all of the runs were scored, as one of the policies of this paper is to refrain from serials.

How It Came About. However, we will take time to explain how Glendale made its total score. "It" came in the fifth round when Muff (who never does) received a life on Rightfielder Starr's error. The peppy backstop then stole second and scored in rapid succession and landed on Lovell's infield out. Glendale total—Glendale: Wilson and Caffey were the umpires. The score:

The classless Tigers made 13 hits but lost to the Browns again, this time by a score of 7 to 5. The old hit in the pinch was missing.

Although the contest was declared a draw by the referee, friends of the local fighter asserted that he beat his opponent quite badly.

Norma Talmadge In 'Smilin' Through'

Norma Talmadge in a fine dramatic vehicle is the magnetic screen attraction at the T. D. & L. theatre today for the last times. The production in which she appears is "Smilin' Through," screen version of Allen Langdon's famous play that gained new laurels for Jane Cowl on the speaking stage.

Norma is at her histrionic best in the dual role that this powerful drama gives her. She is seen first as the fair Monyeen, who is slain on her wedding day by a jealous suitor. Then she is the young and beautiful Kathleen, who is the image of her deceased aunt, Monyeen.

Kathleen falls in love with Kenneth Wayne, son of the man who killed Monyeen, and the obstacles placed in the way of the young lovers by John Carteret, who was to have made Monyeen his wife, form the nucleus of a most absorbing plot with a charming romance.

In this production Miss Talmadge does some of the very best acting of her career. The photoplay itself is the finest she has yet made.

Report on Patients, Glendale Hospital

Mrs. G. W. Blanche of 506 West Colorado street is getting along nicely at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital following a major operation there yesterday.

Miss Lois Christian of Denmark, who is visiting with her aunt, Mrs. C. E. Kimlin at 219 North Isabel street, was operated upon yesterday at the hospital.

Londrev Gibbon, son of Mrs. Betty Gibbon of Phoenix, Ariz., who is visiting at 327 Ivy street, had his tonsils removed yesterday.

John Swearingen, who was taken ill preparatory to the opening of the new City Department store, is leaving the hospital today for his apartment at 329 North Brand boulevard.

A minor operation was performed yesterday upon Mrs. C. A. Cole of 132 North Kenwood street.

City's Slogan Wins Dentist to Glendale

"Glendale—the fastest growing city in America." That slogan attracted Dr. W. R. Crowell, dentist, from Minneapolis to Glendale and he is opening offices this week in the Central building, 111-A East Broadway. He intends to bring his mother here to keep house for him and has purchased a home with that in mind.

Dr. Crowell states that practically every one in the middle west will answer Glendale when you ask the question, "What is the fastest growing city in America today?"

As a slogan it is a winner, he says.

Man Slain by Thugs; 12 Cents Is Taken

Cold blooded murder of Lester T. Shedenhelm of 122 South Hope street, Los Angeles, occurred at Los Feliz Road and Griffith park entrance last night when robbers took 12 cents from him and fled in his machine, probably through Glendale.

Miss Eva Stokley, a friend of the dead man, reported the killing to the Hollywood police and Dr. R. L. Young of 1007 South Brand boulevard, who chanced upon the scene, pronounced Shedenhelm's death as instantaneous with a bullet in his heart.

Police of all southern California are searching for the car as a clue to the slayers. Several Glendale people passed by the place within a few minutes after the tragedy occurred, little realizing what had happened.

How One Neighbor Ended Barking Dog

Regarding the disturbance of crowing roosters, we might also pass a word about barking dogs, and here I submit an occurrence in Kansas City.

Some years ago a family residing across the street from me had a Newfoundland dog who would begin to run on the street at dark and bark all night long. One of my next door neighbors said to me:

"You will see what will happen to that dog."

One evening we heard a shot and the yelping of the dog. That neighbor had gone to a vacant lot, shot the dog and rushed back home, came out on his front porch as all the neighborhood had done, and we called out:

"Did some one shoot that good dog?"

This ended one nuisance. Now, coming back to roosters, why should people who do not set the eggs keep roosters? The eggs are more healthful and keep longer when laid by hens without roosters and the cost of feeding the roosters is a useless expense.

Expresses Thanks to Memorial Day Aids

As Patriotic Instructor, I wish to tender my hearty thanks and sincere appreciation to those who so kindly and ably assisted in preparing and carrying out the Memorial services, both at Grand View Memorial park, and those who participated in the parade to Forest Lawn. I also wish to thank the various organizations for their hearty co-operation, particularly the Elks' band, which so graciously and ably assisted, also those who worked with me on the various committees, or others rendering assistance of any kind. Last, but not least, do I thank the public press for its courteous consideration.

Flood of Radio Inventions Coming

By GEORGE VAN SANDS
Radio Editor The Evening News

Improvements in radio are being put on the market so fast that it is almost impossible to keep track of them. This can be easily understood when you take into consideration that there are approximately a million and a half potential radio inventors constantly at work in the effort to advance this new and mysterious science.

Just bear in mind that the most authentic figures indicate that there are actually this million and a half radio fans with home receiving sets in operation and there is this certain fascination about radio that in practically every case there is this same desire to tinker with a set in the effort to in some way or other improve it. And that startling and wonderful improvements are not in store for radio, and that nothing further much in the way of improvement will be accomplished, is to absolutely deny the intelligence and mechanical ability of these million and a half American citizens.

Also bear in mind that this vast army of radio fans is being constantly increased, and there is not the shadow of a doubt but what in a very short time practically everybody will have a home set.

Now your name does not have to be Edison, Marconi or de Forest to obtain a life membership in the hall of fame of radio, as the patent office at Washington is being flooded with applications for patents as pertains to radio by hundreds of other just such plain American citizens as Smith, Jones, Murphy and Johnson, and many other just such ordinary names, and here last week, the papers all over the country announce one of the greatest discoveries in radio since the time Marconi flashed that single letter "S" across the Atlantic back in 1900. This wonderful improvement is a device that absolutely eliminates static, the one thing that has been the greatest drawback to radio since its inception. And who do you suppose gets the credit for this discovery? An army major by name of Mauborgne, and a civilian by the plain, unadorned name of Cohen. Nobody ever heard of either one of them before, and while I can not vouch for the truth of it, I read one report that claimed this fellow Cohen never even saw a radio set up to six months ago. How do they do it?

Here last Sunday a friend of mine who is really a very good mechanic, and myself, who even admits to being one of these so-called "experts," went to work and made one of these simple little receiving sets, the instructions for the making of which are issued by the government. We finally got it hooked up and it really did work. But to be strictly honest, its operation and receiving qualities were nothing to write home about, and it happened that same afternoon I ran across a 12-year-old kid that I know, and he had made a set the same way that really worked better

A COMPACT REGENERATIVE RECEIVER

The regenerative receiver illustrated is made by one of the oldest manufacturers of radio equipment, and although very moderately priced is guaranteed to do all that many of the higher priced, will.

The following are the specifications: The panel is of condensed site, a very satisfactory insulating material, and is rubbed to a dull finish and machine engraved. The engraving is filled with a permanent white, which will not rub off. The cabinet is of solid mahogany, not a soft wood with a mahogany finish, and is highly polished. Within the cabinet there is space for a B battery, although this battery can be placed outside if desired. If placed inside the cabinet there are just two less wires to be run from the cabinet. The condenser is of the balanced type and has three stationary and two rotary plates. The dials are all of metal, finished in black, with white figures.

The simple, single tuned circuit is used, regeneration being secured by means of a tickler coil in the plate circuit of the detector tube. The antenna inductance, which is wound upon a formica tube, can be varied by means of the fan switch marked "ANT. IND." The capacity of the antenna series condenser is varied by rotating the knob and dial marked "Condenser." The tickler coupling is controlled by the knob and dial marked "Tickler." All of the adjustments are very simple. A hole in the panel allows the brilliancy of the detector tube filament to be observed.

RADIO EXPLAINED

By E. H. LEWIS
INSTRUCTOR NEW YORK Y.M.C.A. RADIO SCHOOL.

DISTRIBUTED COIL CAPACITY

A length of wire parallel with another length of wire or a turn of wire in a coil parallel with another turn produces an effective capacitance between the lengths or turns. In the case of the coil energy is stored in an electrostatic field between adjacent turns, whenever oscillations flow in the circuit containing the coil. The effect is that of a small condenser, although the principal property of a coil is self-inductance. The coil thus has inductance in comparatively large measure and capacity in small measure, and the effect produced is the same as though the coil had no capacity but a condenser was shunted across it. The coil itself is an oscillatory circuit, with a wave length, depending upon its inductance and effective capacity.

Suppose that a certain coil has a total of fifty turns of wire and that only twenty turns are in the antenna circuit when the latter is tuned to a certain wave length. The thirty remaining turns are unused, but there may be sufficient capacity distributed between those unused turns to cause that portion of the coil to be in resonance with the antenna circuit. We have a case where the antenna circuit induces oscillations of some frequency in the unused turns, and energy is transferred from the antenna to those turns. Of course, considerable energy is also induced in the secondary circuit of the receiver, which possibly is inductively coupled to the antenna and tuned to resonance. The fact of the matter is, however, that the energy induced in the unused turns of the antenna coil is lost to the secondary circuit, and there is less energy to operate the detector. The result is decreased signal strength in the head telephones when this condition is present. It is thus seen that distributed capacity in a coil is something which should be eliminated as far as possible.

than ours. It sure made us both smile that this kid had us beat and it is just from this vast array of radio fans, young and old, experts and people who know practically nothing about it, from whom we can look for the advancement of radio. Rest assured that this advancement and improvement will come, just as sure as the sun will shine. So when you see some radio fan here in Glendale fooling around and tinkering with a radio set, who can say but in another six months he will be taking lunch with Marconi and Edison?

If the unused portion of the coil in the above case were removed the effect would be removed, of course. But, since it is usually impractical to do this, a switch might be placed so that half of the unused thirty turns could be disconnected from the circuit. The switch is called a "dead end switch."

Another disadvantage of distributed coil capacity is that some loss of energy may and usually does occur in the dielectric, which in this case is the material which separates the copper wire of one turn from that of another. The dielectric thus depends upon the insulation of the wire, as does also the loss. The arrangement of the coil winding may be such that capacity effects are to a great extent eliminated. This is the reason, largely, for the dualateral type of coil winding. In this type of winding a large amount of inductance can be secured in a small sized coil, while at the same time the distributed capacity is kept low.

Questions on Radio and Their Answers

Question: What is considered the best kind of mineral detector for a crystal set?—T. R. E., Glendale.

Answer: It is pretty well recognized that Galena is the best for this purpose.

Question: Please tell me what properties a piece of crystal has whereby it can receive radio messages.—G. M., Eagle Rock.

Answer: The answer to this would require a long technical discussion not suitable for this column, but, briefly and in understandable terms, these unseen radio waves are flowing in a current, pulling just as hard one way as the other, and if this current was hooked up direct to the telephone receiver it would pull on the diaphragm of the telephone just as hard one way as the other, and the result would be that the diaphragm would remain stationary and there would be no sound. But the crystal, for some reason that no one knows, has the quality to allow this current to flow in just one direction. In other words, it lets this current flow in just the one direction and doesn't let it pull back again, the result being that when this current, flowing in just the one direction, hits the diaphragm of the telephone it makes it vibrate and you hear the sound.

Question: Can you tell me whether a letter would reach Marconi?—L. M., Glendale.

Answer: I don't know. Understand that Marconi has a yacht called the "Electra" in which he cruises around, and on board of which he carries on his experiments. He is the head of the telegraph company that bears his name, the home office of which is in London, and a letter addressed to him in care of this company at London would, I imagine, eventually reach him.

Birthday Gathering In Honor of Three

Mrs. H. M. O'Connor of 115 North Central avenue entertained with a party at her home Tuesday afternoon in celebration of the birthday anniversaries of her daughter, Miss Mavis O'Connor, and the latter's friend, Miss Mollie Jenkins, who is visiting here from New Zealand, and also of her little daughter, Paddy O'Connor, all of whose birthdays occur near the same date. Games were enjoyed on the lawn and music in the house until 5 o'clock, when they assembled at a beautifully appointed table where dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. O'Connor.

Havana, Cuba, has a new hotel that will accommodate 1,000 guests.

Relief Corps Plans For Benefit Bazaar

The members of the Women's Relief Corps, G. A. R., are planning to hold an all-day bazaar Saturday, June 3, at Masonic Temple. Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshe, chairman of ways and means, will have general supervision. The dinner at 6 o'clock will be in charge of Mrs. Tina Hammond. The bazaar will be for the benefit of the repair work on the G. A. R. hall on South Glendale avenue.

INTEREST RATE IS CUT

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The federal farm loan board has ordered interest rates on government loans to farmers reduced from six to five and a half per cent, effective immediately.

Taena Conference Plans Arbitration

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The Taena conference called to settle the long standing boundary dispute between Peru and Chile, is considering arbitration between the governments as a means of reaching a complete settlement, the International News Service learned.

The following methods of arbitration were considered: First: By the United States alone.

Second: By the United States in company with Argentina and Brazil.

Third: By the United States in company with either Argentina or Brazil.

It is estimated that one-half of the globe is composed of iron.

Local Tennis Stars Shine in Tourney

Glendale Union High school was unusually well represented at the Southern California Inter-scholastic Tennis tournament played on the courts of the L. A. Tennis club last Saturday. Morgan Glendale was the star of the tournament.

However, Morgan was somewhat handicapped because he had played two hard matches previous to his final encounter with Bryant.

Although it is rather unsafe to make predictions, it appears that Morgan stands a wonderful show to win the championship next year.

It requires nearly 150,000 of some of the screws used in the manufacture of watches to weigh a pound.

Pythian Memorial Service on Sunday

The meeting of the Glendale Lodge No. 331, Knights of Pythias, held at the Castle Hall, corner of Brand Boulevard and Park Avenue, Tuesday night, was of special interest to all Pythians. A record crowd was present and the auspicious occasion was graced by the presence of visiting Knights from several sister States.

The Page rank was conferred in a most impressive manner by the officers of the Glendale Lodge who have the reputation of being second to none other in the Grand Domain of the state of California.

A most interesting report of the grand lodge proceedings recently held at Chico was submitted by F. C. Peters, K. R. & S., who was one of the delegates at the convention.

Plans were completed at this meeting for a special ceremonial on Tuesday night, June 13, when the Knight rank will be conferred by the Vice Chancellors of the Lodges of the City of Los Angeles and Los Angeles County, after which an interesting program and banquet are scheduled.

Announcement was made of the annual Pythian Memorial Service which will be held Sunday, June 4 at 2:00 p. m. in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Fifty-seven Knights of Pythian Lodges of Los Angeles and surrounding territory will participate. Prominent Pythians, including the new Grand Chancellor Counselor Jesse W. Carter and officers of the Grand Lodge will speak.

The Pythian Order has a most beautiful plot in this park dedicated for the use of the Pythians and their families. At this ceremonial all Pythians' graves in this plot will be decorated. To this "Memorial Service" the public is invited.

Just a TIZ for Aching, SORE, TIRED FEET

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, blunion-tortured feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wiggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions. There's nothing like "TIZ." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

A few cents buy a box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel.—Advertisement

Just a TIZ for Aching, SORE, TIRED FEET

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, blunion-tortured feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wiggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions. There's nothing like "TIZ." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

A few cents buy a box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel.—Advertisement

ART DISPLAY AT HIGH SCHOOL SHOWS PROGRESS OF STUDENTS

Exhibition Not Elaborate, Yet Clearly Proves Practical Education Is Being Presented

A YEAR of accomplishment in manual art as well as the finer arts is to be found today and tomorrow at Glendale Union high school.

In the Manual Arts and the Household Arts buildings displays worthy of every patron's attention, are in neat array. The following information on what your boys and girls are doing is furnished by the heads of the departments:

Colorful Exhibition Features Batik Work

By MARY BETH ABBOTT
The art exhibition this year is a display of the every day work done in the department. There is no attempt to put on an elaborate affair. A large part of it consists of structural design problems and foundational work which is essential to all art courses.

It will be seen that almost every finished product can be traced through its various steps of development. First, the motif is developed into interesting spottings of black and white—then worked out into three or four values of gray. These gray tones are translated into corresponding values of harmonious colors and finally applied to a problem.

These have been applied to pillows, lamps, scarfs, sachets, purses, trays, telephone book covers, boxes and any number of other interesting articles. A most valuable lesson to the student was the making of a kodak book. He not only designed the cover and carried it out in batik, but learned a great deal about kodak binding and good craftsmanship in addition. This particular problem involved so many others within itself.

Beautifully Executed
The batik blouses and scarfs by the applied design classes are beautifully executed. A lampshade in batik and representing the story of a Russian's fairy tale is one of the most elaborate and elegant pieces on display. It is the work of Ralph Van Hoorbeeke.

There are any number of other interesting problems developed in wood blocks, stick prints and stencil which will repay the visitor interested in art.

The drawing classes, too, have done some beautiful work. The charcoal and pastels of the second year class are very effective. Not far behind them in interest are the works of the first year classes. A large part of their work has been lettering as well as drawing. The commercial art class is represented by some pen and ink work and posters for the Senior class play. In one corner of the display room are a few originals of the Stylus cuts and their proof.

The costume design class is new this year and certainly has done some excellent work, a whole wall being devoted to plates developed in this class.

The teachers in the art department are Miss Abbott, Miss Akel

Surprise Awaits You In Boys' Shop Rooms

By A. R. OLIVER
In the Mechanical Arts department one may begin with the drawing rooms 224-229, upstairs, and a surprise and pleasure awaits those who will spare the time to visit these rooms. The many drawings which are placed on exhibit are evidence of what can be attained when a standard of excellence is demanded. You will see, if you are a parent of a boy, work gotten out by your son you never thought he was capable of. The machine shop has been kept busy all year on many projects and you will see on display some very accurate work, down to 1-1000 of an inch. So do not fail to see these machines doing such fine work in operation. They require brains, steadiness of nerve, concentration and seriousness of thought and purpose.

The forge shop is a busy place, and who could pass a smithy and not look into the open door? This work is of a different nature and requires special treatment. Having no machines to work for him, the student must work up his product through a refractory iron medium, a truly efficient training for the eye, and hand at the same time; providing him with a sense of real proportion which he would otherwise not have received. Spare a few moments to see this exhibit.

Variety of Work
The auto shop has experienced a variety of work this year. As most people are aware, the automotive industry of today is most extensive and it is a great necessity for persons owning or operating cars to know as much of them as they can. With the boys they take to the work very readily and evidence keen delight in locating trouble. A visit to their work room will give you a clear understanding as to what is being accomplished in this direction.

The woodworking shop, though handicapped for lack of space, has gotten through the school year very well and on exhibit will be found hall trees, smoking stands, cedar chests, library tables and numerous other articles too numerous to mention. To the citizens of Glendale I extend a cordial invitation to view these exhibits from 9 to 4 and 7 to 9, today and tomorrow.

and Miss Crandall. The work will be on display from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Thursday and Friday of this week.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

More Opportunities Ahead What Mathilde Might Do Facts on Sugar Industry Learning to Be Happy

By Gil A. Cowan

WHILE May building closed with a light record, it was comparatively good and the prospects for the balance of the year were never brighter at any season.

The fact that close to $400,000 followed the month of April in which more than a million was rolled up in permits would show that the growth is constant.

The Glendale Sanitarium's new plant, the Union high school group, several office and building blocks of three or more stories are all in the offing, ready to go at an early date.

And, when building prospers, all of the other lines of endeavor are successful if conducted properly. This means opportunity for bigger and better business in Glendale.

Mathilde McCormick probably will not wed Max Oser, the Swiss riding master. The childish heir-ess should now set about her books or play and learn to love some many American, not too old, not too silly and not too poor.

Also, Mathilde ought to forget that she has any money, for it cannot buy happiness. She might endow several institutions with her fortune and spend one day a month inspecting each. Or she might buy a park where kiddies of the city of Chicago might play. From all reports, Mathilde is a nice girl who has been kept away from about everyone of intelligence. Naturally, she "fell" for the wooing of the riding master. But, thanks to the newspapers, a real favor was done her by giving Max and his relatives so much publicity that even Grandpa Rockefeller and other members of the girl's family objected.

It is only right and proper that they should. Max is no match for her millions; her youth or her philosophy of life, any mother would say. That is the impelling reason for Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick asking the court to restrain her husband from consenting to Mathilde's marriage.

Here are some facts about the beet sugar industry which are interesting to every Southern Californian, for the use of beet sugar will make better business here where it is made:

There are seven factories in Southern California having a total capacity of working 10,000 tons of beets per twenty-four hours, or more than 1,300,000 tons per season.

One factory is in Ventura county, one in San Bernardino county and five in Orange county. These factories can handle the beets produced from 130,000 acres of land.

They could turn out 4,000,000 bags of sugar per season if they had full runs.

Four million bags at $6 per bag would be $24,000,000.

These seven factories with their by-product processes represent an investment of over $25,000,000. Under conditions as they are this year, these factories will handle beets from about 75,000 acres. They will work up about 750,000 tons of beets, and will produce about 2,100,000 bags of sugar.

Under present conditions these factories will pay out to beet growers about $6,000,000; to labor, salaries and commissions $3,000,000; to supplies, most of which are purchased in Southern California, $3,250,000; total $12,250,000.

Under the caption, "Learning to Be Happy," the San Diego Union prints the following editorial which particularly merits attention of Glendale readers:

"Appreciation is the chief element in the art culture of every community, and appreciation comes from knowledge. It is quite as important in this age, under the influences of civilization with which the world is now concerned, that the general public should be educated in the technique of all art forms as it is that the individuals shall be trained for the vocation in which they shall procure their livelihood. The pursuit of happiness is the real purpose of life, but happiness cannot be achieved until the pursuer has safely provided for his sustenance and maintenance.

"Hence our first concern is to fit our youth for the struggle in which mere existence is the dominant object.

"In the pursuit of life's main chance we often neglect the pursuit of happiness, and when we are at leisure to enjoy life in its esthetic beauty we realize that we lack appreciation of it because we have not learned the technique and theory of the best art standards. We find that our true pleasure lies in the crudest imitations of art—we prefer jazz to the harmonies of oratorios and the music of grand opera; we enjoy the obvious buffoonery of slapstick farce to the intellectual appeal of classic and enduring comedy; the comic supplement is more to our taste than the art exhibits that occasionally come to our towns; we read and enjoy the 'best seller' class of fiction because we have not learned to appreciate real literature; we insist on 'the happy ending' in all things because we do not know the philosophy of life sufficiently to detach ourselves from our personal petty tragedies, finding our consolation in contemplation of the cosmic tragedy constantly manifesting itself in the lives of our fellow beings.

"Every community needs education in the better processes provided by modern civilization, enabling us to pursue our happiness

Charles Weeks to Talk at Men's Club

The Men's Club of the Tropico Presbyterian church will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday night to which women have been especially invited.

"A program out of the ordinary has been provided," declared H. E. Fry of 333 West Cerritos avenue, president of the club, yesterday. He said:

"Charles Weeks, founder of the Rannymede poultry colony of over 200 families located at Palo Alto, will tell of his experiences of the past fifteen years, using his own moving picture films and lantern slides. He will also give readings from James Whitcomb Riley.

"Mr. Weeks has recently decided to organize a similar poultry colony in the San Fernando valley, inside the corporate limits of the city of Los Angeles, where men or women may study the poultry game under his supervision, or get a parcel of land and go into the business seriously and scientifically. He is a great believer in intensive cultivation, and says no one has a right to more than one acre of land until he has gotten the very best returns from his first acre.

"The club feels most fortunate in being able to secure Mr. Weeks for its monthly program, and because of the unique character of the meeting is inviting ladies. With one exception, all of the club's monthly meetings have been confined to men."

Lots of Thrills In 'A Virgin Paradise'

Thrills abound in "A Virgin Paradise," the William Fox special written by Hiram Percy Maxim, which is at the Glendale theatre. It is a story of the jungle and of civilized hypocrisy. Lions and other wild beasts prowl through it, the only companions of a half savage young woman with no knowledge of civilization. She is the daughter of a missionary who, with the entire population of the South Sea island where he labored, excepting his infant daughter and a native nurse, met death in a volcanic eruption.

The half savage young island girl falls heir to an immense fortune, and searchers go to the island in a steamer to bring her home.

Gratia Latham does not take kindly to civilization as she finds it, and least of all to the purpose of a young man of the family to marry her for her money. Her jungle nature manifests itself in sensational fashion. You will enjoy Pearl White in this role.

Giants Defeated by Henline—Himself

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 1.—Walter Henline, Philadelphia catcher, defeated the Giants single-handed yesterday afternoon, 3 to 1. His homer in the fifth tied the score and his single in the eighth led to a batting spree which netted the winning runs.

wisely and with permanent satisfaction—the satisfaction that results from knowledge of the thing that conduces to our happiness in its achievements."

Gladden the Heart of a GRADUATE

From the cradle to second childhood, there are only two or three events of such paramount importance as to stand out like beacon lights above all the others in one's memory.

The first of these is graduation. After fifty years a man or a woman remembers commencement night with peculiar and pleasurable clearness.

This month some young man or woman you know will graduate. You can let the occasion go by unheeded, or you can make glad the heart of that graduate with a gift that will be remembered and appreciated.

The Glendale Book Store will be the place to buy it.

Because in the selection of their gifts for graduates they have used that same rare good taste that has kept their store popular through the years.

Books, Cards, Folders, Memory Books, Gold and Silver Pens and Pencils, Beautiful Stationery, Writing Pads, and so on to include endless other articles, both appropriate and useful.

BETTY AND HER DADDY—

It's two in the morning and the house is cold. Out of the darkness comes the cry— "Daddy! Daddy! Oh, Daddy!" And Daddy is up. He doesn't mind the cold if the little hand that pats him is warm.

That was ten years ago, happy short years, working for the baby and her mother. It is two in the morning again—and out of an awful darkness comes the cry— "Daddy! Daddy! Oh, Daddy!" But Daddy will never jump up again—and he does not know that Betty's hands are warm over his cold ones.

It's two years later and the little cash balance is gone. Mother is a forewoman in an overall factory. Betty is a cash girl. She will be an uneducated woman. "Daddy" and Mother had planned college, music, travel, and a happy life for her. The cash balance would have paid for an income for life for wife and daughter. Go, story from life, and save other fathers from making the same economic mistake!
