Just Before the Battle, Mother.

Just before the battle, mother,
I am thinking most of you,
While upon the field we're watching,
With the enemy in view.
Comrades brave around me lying,
Filled with thoughts of home and God,
For well they know that on to-morrow,
Some must sleep beneath the sod.
Cho.—Farewell, mother, you may never
Press me to your heart again,
But you won't forget me, mother,
If I'm numbered with the slain.

Would that I were with you, mother,
And the loving ones at home,
But I can't desert our banner
Till in honor I can come.
Tell the traitors all around you,
That their cruel works we know,
In every battle kill our soldiers,
By the help they lend the foe.
Cho.—Farewell, mother, &c.

Hark? I hear the bugle sounding,
'Tis the signal for the fight,
Now may God protect me, mother,
As he ever does the right.
Hear the battle cry of freedom,
How it echoes through the air,
Yes, we'll rally round our standard,
Or we'll perish nobly there.
Cho.—Farewell, mother, &c.

A Speech not Bargained For.

At a Copperhead meeting in Illinois, after the big guns had exploded, the Cops, called on a young soldier of known loyalty to make a speech—thinking to have some fun out of him. He made a few brief remarks as follows which we find in the Cincinnati Gazette:

Gentlemen: The great cry that I have heard to-day, has been peace, peace. I tell you that there is no man in the nation who desires peace more than I do, a permanent, lasting peace. [Cheers.] And, gentlemen, I will tell you how we can get it. Fight this war out. Take every negro in the rebel States and exterminate every d—d rebel, no matter where you find him. [Hisses.] Gentlemen, you need not try to hiss me down, for I am an old soldier and have faced as mean a looking crowd as is now before me. I mean the thieves and bush-whackers of Tennessee. I know that I was called upon to make a speech out derision, and I intend to tell you what I think of you. When God said he would save Sodom if one righteous man could be found there, I have no doubt he would have done it, and to-day, if you all stood upon the brink of hell, and he were to say that he would save you if one loyal man could be found among you, I have not the least doubt but that there would be a great many strange faces in hell for supper.

I will tell you something more before I leave you. The Baltimore Convention has nominated Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Johnson, and we intend to elect them and end the war, too. We will subjugate every infernal rebel in the country, no matter whether North or South, for when the armed rebels on our front are whipped, these old soldiers who have been through the Southern Confederacy will come home and walk right through your infernal Copperhead party, just like Abe run his rail through the rotten canker of the old Democratic party.

Gentlemen, when you wish to hear from me again, you have only to call upon me. I am always at home.
Wm. Woodard is a resident of Ohio, and, I believe, of Cincinnati, has been adjutant of an Indiana regiment. We consider him sound.

REMARKABLE FEATURE OF THE RECRUITING MOVEMENT—Persons Physically Disqualified for Service "Marked" by the Surgeons.—The N. Y. Post of 12th August remarks:

Some of the surgeons attached to the Provost Marshal's offices in this city have devised a new and exceedingly effective scheme for the treatment of persons who propose to enlist, but are found physically incompetent to endure the hardships of the service. Such persons are "marked" upon their backs. It is understood that the surgeons object to the use of the word "branded." It is alleged on behalf of the surgeons that this "marking" is done for their own convenience and protection; that it is a private arrangement of theirs; that the Provost Marshal General's Department has nothing to do with it, and has no knowledge of the facts; and that the result is a positive benefit to the service, because it obviates the possibility of accepting a man who has been pronounced physically incompetent to do duty. The abuse at which this measure is aimed is extensively practiced by the brokers, who take men rejected at one office to another one, and if again rejected, to still another, and so on, in the hope that they may find a surgeon who will overlook the cause of disability, and accept the recruit.—If successful in his efforts the broker gets a high compensation. The process of "marking" men is not publicly known, and the physicians do not divulge their secret. The work is done during the examination, and so quietly, it is said, that the person does not know when the operation is performed upon him.—The mark is sometimes in the form of a cross.

ONE of our exchanges says: We lately met a grammarian, who has just made a tour through the mines, cogitating thus: "Positive, mine; comparative, miser; superlative, minus."

THE PARSIMONIOUS CLERK.

"Dimes and dollars, dollars and dimes—
An empty pocket the worst of crimes,"

"Weston," said Mr. Dayton to one of his clerks, as they were alone in the spacious counting-room, which was attached to the large store of which Mr. Dayton was proprietor, "give me leave to say, that I do not think your dress sufficiently genteel to appear as clerk in a fashionable store." A deep blush suffused the face of the young man, and in spite of his endeavors to repress it a tear glistened in his full, black eyes.

"Did not I know that your salary was sufficient to procure more genteel habiliments, I would increase it."

"My salary is amply large, sir," replied Weston, with a mortified air, but with that proud independence of feeling which even poverty had not been able to divest him.

"Oblige me, then, by changing your apparel, and presenting a different appearance in the future. You are wanted in the store."—Weston turned and left his employer, who muttered to himself, as he took up his paper, "how I detest these parsimonious fellows."

Mr. Dayton was a man of immense wealth. He was a widower, and had but one child, a daughter, who was the pride of his declining years. She was as good as an angel and as beautiful as she was good. She was simple in her tastes and appearance. Such was Laura Dayton when Weston May first became an inmate of her father's house, and what wonder was it that he soon learned to love her with a deep and ardent affection.—Though their tongues never gave utterance to what their hearts felt, yet the language of their eyes was too plain to be mistaken.—Weston was the very soul of honor, and although he perceived with pleasure that he was not distasteful to her, still he felt that he must conquer the passion which glowed in his heart.

"I must not win her heart," he said to himself; "I am penniless, and her father would never consent to our union." Thus he reasoned and thus he manfully endeavored to subdue, what he considered an ill-fated passion. Laura had many suitors and some who were worthy of her, but she refused all their overtures with decisive yet gentle firmness.

Her father wondered at her conduct, but would not strive to alter her inclinations.—He was in the decline of life, and wished to see her happily settled ere he departed this world. It was not long before he surmised that young Weston was the cause of her indifference to others. The pleasure which she took in hearing him praised, the blush which mantled her face when their eyes met, served to convince the old gentleman that they took more than a common interest in each other. He forbore to make any remarks upon the subject, and was not so displeased at the thought as Weston had imagined he would be.

Weston May had now been three years in his employ. Mr. Dayton knew nothing of his family; but his strict integrity, good morals, and pleasing manners, conspired to make him esteem him highly. He placed unbounded confidence in him. He wished him to dress as well as others, and had often wondered at the scantiness of his wardrobe; for although Weston dressed with the most scrupulous regard to neatness, his clothes were almost threadbare, which Mr. Dayton thought proceeded from a niggardly disposition, and, accordingly, he addressed him upon the subject, as before related. Soon after his conversation, Mr. Dayton left home on business. As he was riding through a pretty village he alighted at the door of a cottage and requested a drink of water. The mistress, with an ease and politeness which told that she had not always been the humble cottager, invited him to enter. He complied, and a scene of poverty and neatness met his gaze which he had never before witnessed. The furniture consisted of nothing more than was actually necessary, and was so clean and neat that it cast an air of comfort all around. A venerable old man sat by the window with his staff in his hand.—His clothes were whole, but so patched that they seemed a counterpart of Joseph's coat of many colors.

"This is your father, I presume," said he, addressing her.

"It is, sir."

"He seems quite aged."

"He is in his eighty-third year, and has survived all his children but myself."

"Have you always resided here?"

"No, sir; my husband was once wealthy, but endorsing ruined him, and we were reduced to this state. He soon after died and two of my children followed him."

"Have you any children living?"

"One, sir, who is my only support. My own health is so feeble that I cannot do much, and father being blind and deaf needs a great deal of attention. My son will not tell me how much his salary is, but I am sure he sends me nearly all of it."

"Then he is not at home?"

"No, sir; he is a clerk in New York."

"Indeed! Pray what is his name?"

"Weston May."

"Weston May! Is it possible. Why he is my clerk. I left him in charge of my store only two weeks ago."

Explanations followed, and Mr. Dayton soon left promising to call some other time.

"Noble fellow," said he mentally, as he was riding slowly along, and ruminating upon the call. "Noble fellow. I believe he loves my girl, and he may have her and part of my money, too. Let me see," here he fell into a thinking mood, and by the time he reached home, he formed a plan which he determined to execute. How it terminated we shall see. Full of his new plan, he entered the breakfast room where Laura was awaiting his appearance.

"So, Weston is going to England," said he carelessly.

"Sir!" said Laura, dropping her coffee cup; "going to England?"

"To be sure; what of it, child?"

"Nothing—only—I—we shall be rather lonesome," replied she, vainly endeavoring to repress her tears.

"Come, come, Laura, tell me, do you love Weston?" You never deceived me, don't do it now."

"No; well I—I love him most sincerely."

"I thought so! I thought so," replied he, as he left the room.

"Weston," said he as he entered his store, "you expect to go into the country shortly, do you?"

"Yes, sir, in about four weeks."

"If it would not be inconvenient I wish you would defer it a few weeks longer," said Mr. Dayton.

"I will, sir, with pleasure, if it will oblige you."

"It will oblige me greatly, for Laura is to be married in about six weeks, and I wish you to attend the wedding."

"Laura married! said Weston, starting as if shot; "Laura married!"

"To be sure. What ails the boy?"

"Nothing, sir, only it was rather sudden—unexpected."

"It is rather sudden; but I am an old man and wish to see her have a protector before I die. I am glad you can stay to the wedding."

"Indeed, sir, I cannot stay," said Weston, forgetting what he had just said.

"You cannot! Why you just now said you would."

"Yes, sir; but my business requires my presence, and I must go."

"But you said you would with pleasure."

"Command me in anything else, sir; but in this I cannot oblige you."

"Weston, tell me frankly, do you love my girl?"

"I do, sir."

"Will you give me your mother for her?" Mr. Dayton spoke earnestly.

"My mother! What do you know of her?" Mr. Dayton repeated the incident already related, and in conclusion said:

"And now, boy, I have written to your mother and offered myself and she has accepted; what have you to say?"

"That I am the happiest fellow on earth, and proud to call you father," replied the young joyful face.

A few weeks after a double wedding took place at Mr. Dayton's mansion, and soon after a sign went up over a certain store, bearing the inscription of "Dayton & Co."

Young man, you may learn from this that it is not fine clothes that would win for you the esteem of those around you.

THE COPPERHEADS PHOTOGRAPHER.—John Cassa, of Bedford (Pa.), long and widely known as a leading Democrat, in a recent speech described a kind of people whom he had observed in southern Pennsylvania:

There are unfortunately those among us who cannot discuss the question a single moment without showing that they are at heart foes of the Government and enemies of their race. The people soon learn to find out and know these men. Human skill and ingenuity and all of a traitor's cunning cannot long succeed in concealing their real sentiments.—They hang back or skulk away from our public gatherings on our National holidays; they disparage Union officers and soldiers and encourage the rebels. All Union victories are insignificant—of little account; rebel victories are of incalculable value and importance.—Good news is never credited—bad news often originated, believed and circulated long before verified. Taxes are obnoxious and oppressive, drafts are unconstitutional and odious; war is bloody and desolating, and the nation ought at once to stop it. For nearly four years everything has been wrong; nothing excellent, nothing even praise worthy or passable has been done by their Government—only mistakes, wrongs, wicked acts of tyranny, and earnest appeals are made to the people to arise in their might and prevent the establishment of military despotism. During all this time they have never been known to utter a word of denunciation against the rebellion, or see an improper act south of the rebel lines. These are unmistakable ear-marks of the traitor. He may renege; he may write down beneath the picture in large letters the word "patriot;" he may, in very noisy and earnest words, insist that he is a "strong Democrat," and that every man of his party who sustains the war is an "Abolitionist;" yet, after all he is neither a patriot nor a good Democrat.—You may turn him upside down and inside out, and cleanse him and wash him with all the pure waters of America, and can make nothing out of him but a poor, miserable traitor—just such a one as Gen Jackson would have strung up for treason in his day, and looked for the authority afterward.

BLACK AND WHITE.—There are phenomena which baffle science. No body has yet been able to tell us—though many have tried to do so—why a negro is black and the Caucasian fair. The French philosophers have a good deal to say about the varieties of colors in the human family, but their theories are mere fancies, unsubstantiated by any sufficient data. Foissac attributes the ebony hue of the native of Guinea to the large quantity of carbon he derives from his vegetable food; but the complexions of our vegetarians do not bear out this theory. They are almost invariably the most milky-faced of men. Again your blubber-eating Esquimaux imbibes as much carbon with his walrus-steaks as the Guinea-man with his rice and yams and plantains, yet it does not give him a charcoal hue. The smoke of carbon will certainly blacken the skin; but the substitution of coal dust for pepper, as a condiment would not change a blonde into a brunette. In fact we have known little girls with unhealthy appetite to eat coal whenever they had an opportunity without turning black in the face. Nitrate of silver, however, if taken in sufficient quantities, will speedily darken the cuticle; but we have yet to hear of a tropical race who subsist upon that kind of diet. Some ethnologists are of opinion that the blacks and browns of the human pattern book all came of excessive heat. But this hypothesis is disposed of by the fact that the darkest shade of color is not found among the peoples living directly under the equator.

The inhabitants of Van Dieman's Land, for example, are much dingier than the natives of the tropical region of New Holland. There are abundant proofs that color depends upon race and has nothing to do with locality. The full-blooded descendants of the Spaniards who settled in South America two centuries ago are as white as the people of old Spain, or if anything whiter. Among the Berbers of North Africa there is a distinct race with light skins, blue eyes and red beards, and the North American Mandans, a small tribe of Western Indians destroyed some twenty five years ago by the small-pox, were very nearly as fair as the Anglo-Saxons. The proofs that varieties of climate were not the cause of the differences of color in the human species seem to be incontrovertible. How, when, or why those differences were brought about the philosophers know no more than we do. [It is one of God's unsolvable problems.] Let it alone.

LIMBERGEN CHEESE.—This long smelling substance, considered such a luxury by many, is prepared in this State by making ordinary cheese and burying it under heaps of manure, till the odor of the pile has been thoroughly imparted to the cheese. The more rank and offensive the odor the more delicious is the cheese considered by epicures. There is no accounting for taste, particularly for such a taste.

A MAN carrying a crate was stopped by an old woman, and thus accosted: "The sinners have got some of the fruit of matrimony?" "Softly, old lady," said he, "you mistake; this is merely the fruit basket."

STONEMAN'S GRAVE.—Stonewall Jackson's grave is described as a plain mound, with a wooden headboard, and nothing to mark it from the common grave save a pine flag staff, upon which each morning at daybreak the cadets elevate the rebel flag and remove it at dark, each ceremony being accompanied by music from their band.

An exchange, noticing the marriage of Mr. James Hogg and Miss Ella Beane, says pork and beans form a natural union, but thinks that one bean to a single hog is a very small allowance.

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER.
SATURDAY, OCT. 1st, 1864.

J. J. Knowlton & Co., are our authorized Agents for receiving Subscriptions and Advertisements. Office—Cor. Montgomery and California streets, opposite Wells, Fargo & Co., San Francisco.

As an apology for the scarcity of reading matter this week, we refer our readers to the advertising columns. Several advertisements which are omitted will appear next week.

The net receipts of the Fair of the Ladies' Sanitary Association of Suisun and Fairfield, are $1,866.

The Mechanics' Fair closes to-day. The receipts will amount to about forty thousand dollars.

There are already at the Agricultural Park, for the purpose of training, a large number of horses, designed by their owners for exhibition at the State Fair.

J. P. OLMSTEAD, of Sacramento, has been commissioned by the Governor to raise a company to form a part of the new regiment. Olmstead is a printer.

HUGE.—Mr. Johnson left in our office a few days ago several large specimens of sweet-potatoes, one of which measured twenty inches around, and weighed five pounds. They were raised on his ranch near Knight's Landing.

Our friend J. Levison has purchased the store formerly owned by Jone Lane, and is now prepared to supply his customers and public generally with fresh confections, fruits and anything in his line. Those who are fond of sweetmeats should give him a call.

FOREIGN GRAPES.—On Wednesday last we received from Anthony Gaffanesech, of the Sacramento Nursery, on 20th street, a large box of the finest quality of Foreign Grapes, containing forty different varieties. As far as our judgment goes, we pronounce them the best we have seen in the State, and we would advise all those who doubt us to go to the Nursery and examine for themselves.

CHANGE OF PROPRIETOR.—We notice that the Rail Road House, San Francisco, has lately changed landlords. The house is now under the exclusive control of C. L. Ross, Esqr., well known to old Californians as one of the Pioneer San Francisco merchants. Mr. Ross of late years has made hotel keeping his business, and has for sometime been landlord of the United States Hotel, at Virginia city. Since the present well known hotel came under his charge, he has had the building thoroughly renovated throughout, and it is now beyond question one of the most convenient, quiet and ably conducted public houses in the Bay city, and we have no doubt but that the traveling public will fully appreciate the efforts of Mr. Ross to make them comfortable at moderate rates.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—Met Sept. 26th.—P. McManus made application for an estimate and allowance on his contract for building Court House and Jail; ordered that said McManus be allowed the sum of $1000, to be drawn on the County Building Fund.

On motion, James McClintock was appointed Constable to fill the vacancy in Grafton township.

On motion ordered that the County warrant of Sacramento co., for payment of expenses of trial and execution of Williams, being No. 2820, date Aug. 24, 1864, for $380 60, without interest, be placed in care of County Treasurer for safe keeping.

On motion, the Board adjourned till October 17th.

STATE FAIR.—We received from I. N. Hoag, Secretary of the State Agricultural Society, the Transactions of the Society for 1863—a volume of 272 pages, issued by the State Printer, and with it a complimentary ticket to the "Horse Fair" to be held on the 17th of October inst. The Secretary, in his circular, says: "The drought of the present season has been so depressing to our agricultural and mining interests as to render it improbable that a general Fair could be made a success, or even a creditable exhibition; hence, to comply with the law and retain all the property and privileges of the Society, the Board have decided to hold exclusively a Horse Fair, and they are assured that this will be rendered one of the most interesting exhibitions of the kind ever held in the United States, by the presence and performance of all the best horses on the coast."

STRICIDE.—Justice Hoagland, of Washington, says the Sacramento Union of September 26, held an inquest yesterday over the body of Charles Urquhart, who committed suicide on Saturday. The deceased occupied a small ranch adjoining that of Dr. Curtis, about a mile from Washington, on which he lived alone. In consequence of failure of crops and pecuniary losses, the deceased had become low spirited. On Saturday morning a neighbor called at his house and found him in a condition of stupor. It was soon ascertained that he had taken a large dose of laudanum. Dr. Curtis and one or two physicians from the city were called, and used every exertion practicable to counteract the effects of the poison. Their efforts failed, and Urquhart died at 11 o'clock on Saturday night. The deceased was a native of England, and aged about sixty-five years. He owned the ranch on which he lived, and for which he last year paid eleven hundred dollars, and was also interested in a ferry near Stockton. The following note was found in the room in the handwriting of the deceased: "O, Dr. Curtis, let me not, I pray you, be put under the ground until there are unquestionable signs of sure and certain death. God bless you all. My misfortunes are greater than I could bear."

The Political Contest.

From present indications the approaching Presidential election will hardly be dignified by the name of contest. But even if we are certain that Lincoln is to be elected, still the election returns will doubtless have not a little influence upon our National difficulties. Should the North cast nearly a unanimous vote for Lincoln, and for a prosecution of the war until the last rebel should lay down his arms and sue for mercy, Rebellion's cause would appear to traitors, if possible, even more hopeless than now; and the result would inevitably be a speedy peace. The Nation not alone has a duty to perform, but each State, each county, each precinct, and each voter must be vigilant. We fear that the loyal citizens are not organized as they should be in order to secure a full vote at the coming election; and that Yolo county is no better organized than others. If inactivity be an indication of a lack of interest, then is not so much interest felt in the approaching election as its importance demands. It would not be a great task to determine within a very few votes what the majority would be for Lincoln in each county.

Will some Union man in each Precinct in Yolo County make a thorough canvass of the precinct in which he resides? Make an accurate minute of the number of votes that will be polled in the Precinct, the number that will be in favor of the Government, and the number that will be favorable to traitors.—If the precinct be large, let two or more be engaged in making the canvass. Let each canvasser report to the County Central Committee, who will report to the State Central Committee, the manner in which Yolo county will acquit herself on the 8th of November.

All this will be but little trouble, and why should it not be attended to? Let us hold political meetings in each precinct. If we cannot obtain speakers from abroad, let us find them at home. We should all be ashamed to acknowledge that there were no speakers in Yolo capable of making an argument in favor of our Government and civil liberty, and against the villainy of traitors. We would all dislike to acknowledge that our public speakers in Yolo county, who have for years passed spent months in canvassing upon the stump, have lost all interest in our governmental affairs, and would refuse to respond to a call from their fellow citizens.

Traitors are in earnest, not only in the battle field, but those who occupy a meaner position by giving aid and comfort to rebels in arms. We hope to see a continued increase of vigilance amongst Union men from this time till election morning, and from daylight until the going down of the sun on the 8th of November.

A NEW NORTH AMERICAN CONFEDERATION.—An important movement is now on foot, having for its object the establishment of an independent Confederation of all the British Provinces on this continent, upon the same basis as that upon which our own Confederacy is founded. Both the Canadian and Columbian journals appear to think well of the movement, and admit that it is both widespread and powerful. The British Colonist published at Victoria, August 30th says that it meets with general favor among the masses and further adds, as follows: "It would not surprise us in the least if within the next four years we had another republic on this continent, formed of the same materials as those that originated and said the foundation for our own glorious Government.—Mining and Scientific Press.

GENERAL SCOTT'S MOTHER.—In the opening paragraph of his autobiography, Gen. Scott says the following beautiful tribute to his mother:

"According to the family Bible, I was born June 13, 1786, on the farm which I inherited, some fourteen miles from Petersburg, Virginia. My parents, William Scott and Ann Mason, both natives of the same neighborhood, intermarried in 1780. In my sixth year I lost my father, a gallant lieutenant, captain in the Revolutionary army, and a successful farmer. Happily, my dear mother was spared to me eleven years longer, and if, in my now protracted career, I have achieved anything worthy of being written, anything that my countrymen are likely to honor in the next century, it is from the lessons of that admirable parent that I derived the inspiration.

BRUTAL MURDER.—Information has just been received of a brutal murder, says the Visalia Delta of Sept. 21st, committed last night in the vicinity of Woodville. A Mr. H. Air, a stranger in these parts, was found by a farmer this morning with his head severed from his body, and other marks of violence about his person. The farmer states that when he found him life was extinct. The perpetrator of this foul deed is as yet unknown, but we hope that our efficient officers will soon have him in charge.

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE CHANGES. The Union State Central Committee, says the Bee, held a session in San Francisco yesterday and elected Messrs. Wm. Sherman and James Laidley to fill the vacancies occasioned by the resignations of M. Rosenbaum and G. W. Beaver, one of whom was the Treasurer and the other the Secretary of that Committee. Charles Westmoreland is acting as Secretary in place of Rosenbaum, though not a member of the Committee.

GOLD 190.—The Bulletin, of Tuesday says: "There seems to be a panic in Wall street. Private dispatches quote gold yesterday at New York at 180@190, closing at the latter figure. The rate of discount at the Bank of England is given at 9 per cent., with an expectation of its being immediately raised to 11."

Notice.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN TO THE following purchasers of Public Lands, and their assignees, that the said lands hereinafter described are in arrears for the amount of interest following each description; that said amount of interest has been due more than thirty days; and that if the sum due on each parcel of land so described is not paid to the County Treasurer of the County of Yolo within ten days after the last publication of this notice, (this notice to be published for three successive weeks, commencing on the 1st day of October, and ending on the 22nd day of October, 1864), then the certificate of purchase, or other evidence of the purchase of said lands, will be annulled, as is now provided by law, and the land held subject to be re-entered by other parties, as though the same had never been taken up.

PATENT COMBINED GANG PLOW,
SEED SOWER AND HARROW,

At Reduced Prices.
We have purchased the right of this great labor-saving implement for the State of California.

With this combined machine one man, with six horses, can do the work of three twelve inch plows, besides sowing the grain and harrowing it in as he proceeds, thus finishing his work in the best manner possible, without being obliged to travel over plowed ground. This machine has been very thoroughly tested. It is made very substantial; is not liable to get out of order, and being on large truck wheels, the Gang Plow, Seed Sower and Harrow, runs lighter than three plows would, cutting the same amount of land.

We are desirous of having these plows generally introduced throughout the State, and are therefore prepared to offer very favorable inducements to farmers and the trade.

Important Medical Notice!

THE ELECTROPATHIC INSTITUTE, 645 Washington street. Below Kearny St., SAN FRANCISCO.

Established February, 1860, by an Association of Scientific Gentlemen, FOR THE CURE OF DISEASE! And for the Suppression of Quackery!

The one great object of the establishment of the Institute was to assure to the afflicted scientific and honorable treatment, where they would be safe from the wiles of empirics, who not only rob them of their money, but fill their systems with poisonous minerals, thereby destroying what little of the constitution was left from the ravages of disease.

The result thus far has greatly exceeded the most sanguine expectations of its founders.—So liberal has been the patronage of the public that the Resident and Consulting Physician, J. H. JOSSELYN, M. D., Has been enabled to reduce the prices of cure very materially.

The Institute combines with its practice both the use of Vegetable Medicines and the Electropathic System; that is, the use of Electricity and the Celebrated Electro-Medical Bath,—the most powerful auxiliary in the removal of virus from the system yet discovered.

It is not necessary to enumerate all the diseases treated at the Institute. All diseases—no matter what may be their name or nature—will be treated in the most scientific manner. Venereal. This terrible scourge can be eradicated by the system practiced at the Institute in a much shorter time than it has hitherto been accomplished by any other Physician in this country, and so entirely is the disease removed that no taint is left in the blood to break out at some future time.

The Resident Physician would advise any one who has been afflicted, and who may have any fears that a cure was not effected, or that there is some of the virus still remaining, to call or write and consult him, and they can at once have their mind relieved, and should there be any trouble, a cure can be warranted.

To Females. Ladies afflicted or in trouble will find at the Institute one who can understand and sympathize with them in their afflictions, and one who will render them their prompt assistance, no matter what may be the trouble or disease, with the utmost dispatch and secrecy. Irregularities attended to promptly, and by the most approved methods.

Seminal Weakness. That soul-destroying disorder can be cured in a very short time by the system practiced at the Institute, and a perfect cure warranted. Medicines sent to all parts of the State, Oregon, Nevada Territory, and, in fact, everywhere within the range of Express facilities.

All letters answered promptly and with pleasure, when directed to J. H. JOSSELYN, M. D., Resident Physician, ELECTROPATHIC INSTITUTE, 645 Washington street, San Francisco.

Dr. J. H. JOSSELYN has no connection with any other establishment in California. Remember the No.—645 Washington Street. aug 20 3m

IF YOU ARE SICK, READ THIS!!

MODERN CHEMISTRY has given to the world many new and valuable compounds, and the physician should have a proper knowledge of the chemistry of life, that he may with safety prescribe that which is best suited to meet the wants and supply the demands of animal economy, thereby arresting disease, and effecting a cure much sooner, without injury to the constitution.

DOCTOR A. BALL has accepted the proffered aid of science in isolating and concentrating active principles in rendering medicinal agents safe, prompt, efficient, and pleasant; the old, usual nauseating, and bulky drugs he discards altogether.

DOCTOR BALL has been engaged in the general practice of medicine for forty years, and having had great success in the treatment of the following diseases, has determined to advertise for the benefit of suffering humanity. Syphilis and Gonorrhoea—In all their complications and stages. Dr. BALL has a new and valuable remedy, which will radically cure in one-fourth the usual time. Potassium, Mercury and Balsams discarded.

Spermatorrhoea—And its complications, Dr. BALL has a specific. Rheumatism.—Dr. BALL has a specific for this terrible disease, which will give relief in a few hours, and cure in ten days. Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Pustules, Piles, &c., Skillfully treated, and permanently cured in one-fourth the time usually required in such cases.

Leucorrhoea—And the thousand and one diseases with which woman is often afflicted, Dr. BALL has successfully treated by discarding all the old unsatisfactory remedies and substituting pleasant and efficient medicines, which act like a charm; in a few days the cheek begins to bloom like the rose, and in two or three weeks cheerfulness, activity, and health is the inevitable result.

Dr. BALL has correspondents in London, Paris, and Boston, who supply him with all the new and valuable medicinal agents as soon as approved by the great Medical Lights. Dr. Ball is no Quack. He is a regularly educated physician of forty years standing, and has a diploma, which he will be pleased to exhibit to those who may wish to see it.

Persons living at a distance, by sending a description of their complaint can have their medicines put up in a package and sent by mail or per express in such a manner as not only to insure safety in transit, but so that no one would suspect what are the contents. Reference will be sent by mail to those who may wish to inquire as to the Doctor's ability, before placing themselves in his charge. Address, A. BALL, M.
