Story Telling.

CHARACTERS--Mrs. Green--Mr. Bunker--Mrs. Bunker--Miss Betsey Bunker--Aunt Sarah Jones

Mrs. Green--Well, there; that reminds me of a little story about old John Elkins, that used to live--

Mrs. Bunker (eagerly)--Law, sake! why, I knowed John Elkins as well as I did anybody in the world. He was a second cousin to my darter Susan's second husband's first wife's mother's uncle.

Mr. Bunker--What! John Elkins that used to live up on the Ridge? By George! John was a fine fellow. Best hand at wrestling that ever I seed; threw a man twice his left, at back hugs, quicker'n you could say scat. Why, he and I--

Mrs. Green--Well, as I was about to say, Mr. Elkins that lived up on the Ridge, one night he--

Mrs. Bunker--Yes, I've heard my Aunt Barker tel about him. Master still, all of you, and let Mrs. Green tel her story

Miss Betsey Bunker (pertly)--Do keep still, all of you, and let Mrs. Green tel her story

Mrs. Bunker (indignantly)--Law, Bets, you needn't flare up; can't a body have liberty of speaking? Things have come to a queer pass, now a days, when an old person hain't allowed to speak without some little upstart's taking of um off!

'Twarn't so when I was a gal! If I'd a spoke a word when my marm was talking, I would have got my ears cut off!

Aunt Sarah Jones--Sarved you right, too! What right has a youngster to meddle, I'd like to know? My folks was dreadful strict with their children. We didn't none of us dare to say our souls was our own! We was all fetched up never to interrupt nobody that was a talking, on no account! It's the biggest piece of onmannerism in the world!

Mrs. Bunker--That's a fact, Aunt Sarah--so 'tis. If there's any thing on a irth I despise, it's a person that's allers getting in a word to put you out in something you are trying to tell. Now, there's Miss Pray; you can't begin to tell nothing afore her, but what she'll break in, and go to telling some of her long-winded rignaroles about nothing.

Aunt Sarah--So have I. Now, there's Belindy Smallcorn; the greatest case to stick a word into everybody's discourses, that ever I heard tell of! You can't git the last word with her, no more'n you can git the pot of money at the end of the rainbow. I tried to once, and hollered back to her for a quarter of a mile after I'd left her, but she beat me, and hollered the longest--I was all out of breath.

Mr. Bunker--I'll warrant it. Now I went down there the other day, to borry a piece of terbacker--terbacker is awful high, hain't it, Aunt Sarah? (feeling in his pockets) and by George! I hain't got a crumb about me, to save my life. Do lend me a pipefull, Aunt Sarah.

Aunt Sarah (reluctantly)--I hain't got none worth speaking of, Jonathan, but I'll divide. (She gives him a small piece.)

Mr. Bunker (filling his pipe)--I hain't had none for two days, and I'm just like a fish out of water, without my terbacker. I tell I'dly I'd rather go with ut two meals a day, and have my smoke, than live on plum pudding and apple dumplings without it. But as I was saying, I didn't set out to stay down to Belindy's more'n five minits; and I was sartainly there full two hours! She's the master talker that ever was raised! Why, she went all round Robin Hood's barn, and clear to tother end of the univarse, to tell me that their Southdown had two lambs with a black leg! I shouldn't have got away at all, if Seth Brewster hadn't come in, and told her that old Granny Watson was dead, and that sot her rite up. She thought she should git a chance to go to a funeral.

Aunt Sarah--She's the awfulest creeter to go to funerals. I do believe she thinks nobody can be berried decently, unless she's there to see after it. She's nigh about crazy when she hears anybody's dead, for fear it will storm, so she can't go to the funeral.

Mrs. Green (desperately)--Well, as I was going to tell about Mr. Elkins, that lived up on the Ridge. One night he looked out of the window, there warn't no curtains--

Mrs. Bunker--The land sakes! no curtains? Wall, it's strange to me how folks can go to bed with no curtains to their widows! I should have a hydro-pathic fit, if I had to sleep in a room where the windows was all naked! I should inspect, every minit, to see some awful apparatus looking in through the glass! Lawful heart! I should be soarit to death!

Aunt Sarah--Dear me, so should I! Why, I would sooner think of going to bed in a barn, than in a room without curtains! I should expect to be robbed of everything I possessed afore mornin'.

Betsey--More like you'd be afraid somebody'd see you without your wig.

Aunt Sarah (with great indignation) Without my wig, indeed! Betsey Bunker, you're on the broad road to ruin. Don't you know that the Bible says that them as makes fun of old people, shall have their eyes picked out?

Betsey--La, Aunt Sarah, I thought you was only thirty four! That's not old, of course.

Aunt Sarah (snapping her knitting-needles)--You're a sassy girl, Betsey Bunker, and you'll come to some bad end, yet. Polly, your darter is in a dreadful way.

Mrs. Bunker (sadly)--I know it, Sarah. And it takes my flesh off more'n my work does. She's been going on so ever since that young scamp from Boston was here, playing on the catarrh, and driving honest folks out of their senses with his tuting on the bass bottle. He's fairly turned her ideas upside down.

Mr. Bunker (throwing down his pipe) I'd cane him if he should ever set foot on my premises again.

Aunt Sarah--And sarve him right, too. Oh, the folly of gals to listen to the flatteries of menfolks. I'd sooner go in my grave than be as credible to it as some gals is Betsey (tartly)--You'll be likely to have the chance of it for all the men, I guess.

Aunt Sarah--Bets, you're an impudent huzzy. I've had more offers, I'll let you know, than you could shake a stick at; but I refused 'um all. It's a wicked, awful, dreadful thing to marry.

Betsey--I don't doubt it, but it must be still more awful, dreadful, to want to, when you can't!

Aunt Sarah (innocently)--Wall, I should think like enuff it might be, I don't know

Mrs. Green--Well, Mr. Elkins that lives up on the Ridge, one night he looked out of the winder, there warn't no curtains, and out in the garden he seed--

Mrs. Bunker (eagerly)--Oh, I've heard that story afore. It's about the strawberries and Mrs. Pringle's speckled turkey gobbler, I'll bet.

Mrs. Green--No, it is about--

Mr. Bunker--Less see. Who was Elkins' wife? Warn't she a Bliss? or was she a Chubbuck? Ter'ble odd name, any way. Any how, I know she was a sister to Miles Hudson's wife's grand-mother; and she was the best hand to make molasses gingerbread that ever I seed undertake it.

Mrs. Bunker (in an injured tone)--Now, Bunker, I allers thought that my gingerbread was not to be sneezed at.

Mr. Bunker (patronizingly)--By no means, Polly, by no means; yours is nice, very nice, but you generally git too much saltratus into it.

Mrs. Bunker--Humph! that's all you know about it. Wall, any how, Simon Spratt says my gingerbread can't be ekalled by any woman

Mr. Bunker--Spratt don't know. And, besides, he used to be an old sweet heart of your'n. Licks his wife liky all creation, they say.

Aunt Sarah--I'd like to see a man undertake to lick me! I'd show him which way the wind blowed. I'd show him which side his bread was buttered on, afore I got through with him.

Betsey--Spratt don't use butter. Afraid it will make him humory. Uses molasses, altogether.

Mrs. Bunker--Who told you to speak, Miss Impudence?

Betsey (rudely)--Nobody, I only thought I would.

Mrs. Green--Wall, Mr. Elkins that lives up on the Ridge one night he looked out of the winder, there warn't no curtains, and out in the garden he seed a turnip-top wiggling.

Aunt Sarah--There, that makes me think;--did you raise any turnips this year? We should have had a fine parcel, but Simpson's cows got in and devoured the whole of 'um. I hain't been so mad for forty year.

Aunt Sarah--Do keep still. Of course, no one thinks of confining themselves to fact in cases when they're mad.

Mrs. Green (with desperation)--Mr. Elkins that lives up on the Ridge, looked out of the winder, one night, into the garden, there warn't no curtains, and he seed a turnip-top wiggling. Says he to himself "by jolly, there is something at the bottom of that! I'll be at the root of it. He jumped out of bed, and ran out, and lo and behold! his curly tailed pig had got at the root of it first, and eat it all up.

Mrs. Bunker--Wall, I declare! seems to me I've heard the same story.

Aunt Sarah--Oh, that's nothing new to me.

Mr. Bunker--I've either heard it, or else I dreamt it.

Betsey--I think it's in the dictionary, every word of it.

A short practical sermon.

My tex', bretherin an sisterin, may be found in the Bible, though I'm not goin' to tell you where 'bouts, cause I want you to sarch the scripiter for yourselves. Sarch faithfully, my bretherin and sisterin; and you'll find the subjee' of my discourse:

"For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of things in the sea, is tamed and hath been tamed of mankind; but the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly pizen."

Firstly, we'll consider what has been tamed.

Secondly, what hasn't.

Firstly, accordin' to my tex', every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of things in the sea, is tamed or has been tamed. The great high-potamus and the boy constructor, the whale and the sea serpent, the eagle and the hummin'-bird, the lion and the polecat, have all been tamed, ah. And if there's any doubtin' Thomas here, let him go to Barnum's and believe, ah. For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of things in the sea, is tamed and has been tamed, ah.

Secondly, what hasn't.

Bretherin and sisterin, my tex' says: "But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, and full of deadly pizen."

Bretherin, how many of you have tried to tame your wife's tongue and found it an unruly evil?

Sisterin, how many of you have got into trouble and got your neighbor into trouble with that unruly evil full of deadly pizen? Full of a pizen so deadly that lives have been blasted, friendships killed, characters murdered, and the days made to drop one by one like withered apples, ah. You try to tame one another's tongue, ah. Better not, my bretherin; better not, my sisterin; you only stir up the wildest natur, the pizenest venom of that unruly evil, ah. Better to keep your own securely caged, ah. It'll break loose when you least 'spect it, ah. It isn't as trusty as a fox, ah. It's dangerouser than a wild beast, ah. For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of things in the sea is tamed, and hath been tamed of mankind; but the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly pizen, ah. While we sing, "To-gether let us sweetly live," the deacon will please pas the hat; and if the bretherin and sisterin are pooty liberal, I'll preach here again two weeks from to-day, ah. Ha-men!

From wealth without charitee, from pride without cense, from pedigrees worn out, and from all rich relashuns, Good Lord deliver us.

From newspaper sels, and from pills that ain't fisick, from femails who faint, and from men who flatter, Good Lord deliver us.

From virtue without fragrance, from butter that smells, from nigger camp meetings, and from cats that are courtin', Good Lord deliver us.

From other folks' secrets, and from our own, from mormons, and megiums, and wimmin committees, Good Lord deliver us.

"Dear W---, send me a shilling-- Yours B---. P.S.--On second thoughts make it two." To which his friend replied:

"Dear B---, I have but one in the world.--Yours W---. P.S.--On second thoughts, I want that for dinner."

In the illness of Coleman, the doctor being late in appointment, apologized to his patient, saying that he had been called to see a man who had fallen down a well. "Did he kick the bucket, Doctor?" groaned poor George.

JOHN BROUGHAM'S "Tread light, for my heart is under thy feet, love," is more than equalled by a lover who thus goes skating on his ladies heart:

"Her heart is like a frozen lake,
On whose cold brink I stand;
Oh, buckle on my spirit's skate,
And take me by t' e hand;
And lead thou, loving saint, the way
To where the ice is thin,
That it may break beneath my feet
And let a lover in."

ARTEMUS WARD ON THE NEGRO--

Feller Sittersens, the Afr'can may be our brother. Sevril hily respectable gentleman and some talented females tell us so, and for argment sake I might be enjoined to grant it, tho I don't b'lieve it myself. But the African isn't our sister and wife and unkle. He isn't sevril of our brothers and all our fust wife's relashuns.

He isn't our grand father and grate grand father, and our aunt in the country. Scarcely. And yit numeris persons would have us think so. It's troo he runs Congress and sevril other public grosserys, but he ain't everybody.

But we've got the African, or rather he's got us, and now what are we going to do about it? He's a orful noosauce. P'raps he isn't to blame for it. P'raps he was created for some wize purpis, like the measles and New England rum, but it's mighty hard to see it. At any rate he's here, and as I stated to Mr. What-is-it, it's a pity he coudn't go off somewhere quietly by hisself, where he cud wear read weskits and speckled neckties, and gratify his ambition in various interesting wayse, without haven a eternal fust up about him.

P'raps I'm bearin' down too hard on Cuffy. Cum to think of it, I am. He wouldn't be sich a infernal noosauce of the people would let him alone. He mite, indeed, prove interestin'. And now I think of it, why can't the white people let him alone? What's the good of continually stirring him up with a ten foot pole? He isn't the sweetest kind of peotomery when in a natral stait.

PARTINGTONIAN.--"What makes the gas light so vacinating?" said Mrs. Partington, endeavoring to tread her needle as the gas-light rose and fell, now springing up to a brilliant flame, and now almost going out. It became steady at last, when Ike emerged from the cellar.

"Where have you been?" inquired she, looking around at him.

"Been to try the metr-wrench," he replied.

"What!" she screamed, in a tone that raised the cap off her head, "meet a wench! you disgraceful boy, how dare you say such a thing? I am almost tempted to take eor sive measures, and punish you within an inch of your skin. Such a fragrant outrage I never knew in one so young. Boys that show such moral turpentine never come to any good end."

She ceased, suddenly, like a horse-car brought up by a draw bridge, and rocked back and forth much excited.

"I didn't do nothing," said Ike, "only tried this long thing on the gas the man gave me," and he held out to her a small wrench used to turn the gas off, which he had been trying in the cellar.

Mrs. Partington blushed just like a maple-tree in October; and putting the boy on the head, she sent him out with a three-cent piece, that he had for an hour been teasing for in vain.

AN ANECDOTE.--There has been so little pleasant news from America, lately, that Mr. Punch feels four fold dilight in the following elegant anecdote:

A handsome young Englishman, making a call at a house in Washington' where there resided several of the loveliest young ladies in all Federalia, suddenly discovered that he had come out without his purse. The prettiest of the ladies said:

"Shall I loan you a dollar?"

"Would you?"

The dollar was produced from the most charming portemonnaie, and the beautiful American said, laughingly:

"I must have interest, you know, when you return it."

The handsome Englishman called next day, repaid the dollar, and placing a couple of exquisitely-cut bottles of perfume on the table, added:

"And there is the interest--two cents."

Such graceful courtesies do honor to both countries.--English paper.

DON'T LET HIM DIVE.--We overheard a young man the other evening, whisper to the girl by his side, "Come, let me dive into your beautiful eyes."

The girl has swimming eyes; but our advice to the young woman is, for divers reasons, don't you let William do it. He might go over a "cataract."

It was not Snook's wife who "loved to make bread because it cleaned her hands so beautifully," or who wanted a dark colored tea set that "wouldn't show the dirt." It was a base slander on Mrs. Snooks, and we are happy to record the fact.

Two tourists observing a pretty girl in a milliner's shop, one of them proposed to go in and buy a watch ribbon in order to get a nearer view of her. "Hoot mon," said his Scotch friend, "there is no occasion to waste siller. Let us gang in and speer if she can give us two sixpences for a shilling."

THE Knight's Landing News.

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1863.

BALL.—A Ball will be given by W. G. Seely, at the Union Hotel, on Friday, the 23d inst.

TAXES FOR 1863.—We would call attention to the advertisement in another column of C. H. Gray, Sheriff, in regard to the collection of taxes for 1863.

NEWSPAPERS.—We are under obligations to Stratman & Co., San Francisco, for full files of Atlantic papers and pictorials.

A FOOT RACE for $1,000 a side will be run at Knight's Landing on Friday, the 23d instant, between John Forbes and George Adams. Distance 100 yards.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—On Monday next the Board of Supervisors will meet at Woodland for the purpose of examining the bids for building two bridges—one across Cottonwood slough, and the other across Willow slough.

CHIEF CLERK OF ASSEMBLY.—We are informed that the Rev. O. C. Wheeler will be a candidate for Chief Clerk of the Assembly. We hope he will be successful, for he is just the man for that position.

VESSELS OF WAR.—Three Spanish men-of-war left Panama the 26th August, and are now due at San Francisco, one of them in fact having arrived. A French corvette, a British frigate, and several Russian vessels are also on the way, one of which, the Novick, was wrecked at Point Reyes. The Lancaster, one of the finest American frigates, is now there, and will probably remain some time.

New Mines.

The new mines recently discovered near Cow Creek, Shasta county, are attracting considerable attention in this neighborhood. Several parties have been up there and report very favorably on their general appearance. Numerous assays have been made and indicate the existence of minerals of all descriptions, the principal known are gold, silver, copper, zinc and blismuth. The surrounding country, we are informed, is plentifully supplied with good wood both for building purposes and for fuel; also fine water power, which is a great desideratum to the successful working of machinery with economy. Good wagon roads are found throughout the entire district, and all the necessary requisites to make up a prosperous mining region, should the mines prove to be rich and pay for working. As yet all is enveloped in doubt, and we warn our neighbors not to get flushed with excitement, as we fear from present indications, till the country is more fully opened and the mines more successfully developed to assure their richness beyond a doubt.

WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.—The San Francisco Call, in alluding to this road, says:

"The Western Pacific Railroad is to run from San Jose to Stockton, and thence to Sacramento. The work of surveying and locating the route from San Jose to Stockton is being energetically prosecuted, under the direction of the Chief Engineer, Colonel Lewis. The survey from San Jose to Valero's Mills, Alameda county, seventeen miles, is completed, and the Company expect enough iron within the next five weeks to lay the track that distance. Judge Dame, President of the road, is pushing the work forward with his characteristic energy, and has already got matters in trim for a vigorous and quick completion of this great work. He is determined to have San Francisco in railroad communication with the best part of the State in two years, and if the President of the Central Pacific Railroad pushes forward his work with as much energy as Dame does his, in three years cars will be running direct from San Francisco to Virginia City, and perhaps Reese River."

C. P. RAILROAD.—On the bank of the river, just south of the south line of I street, the Central Pacific Railroad Company is having constructed a fine, solid double track, as a convenience for landing their material and running stock. The tracks rest on solid trestle work, made of six inch square timber firmly fastened and bolted together. In accordance with what all other parts of the road will be, it is a substantial structure—one calculated to do much real service in its day and generation. At the upper end of this double track there will be placed a turning-table. He who views the intersection of I and Front streets will see that a good deal of earnest work has been done and is being done there.—Bee.

STATE FAIR.—On Friday evening last the State Agricultural Society closed its Tenth annual Fair with a ball, which was a brilliant affair, about 170 couples being present. The music was excellent, the supper was good, and the managers did their best to make every one content. The ball was kept up till about 5 o'clock Saturday morning.

ABUSES ON OCEAN STEAMERS.—The Panama Star and Herald, talking of Vanderbilt's line between New York and Aspinwall, says:

"The Ocean Queen, on her last trip, had 300 kegs of butter on freight stored in the passengers' berths, while those persons holding tickets for them had to sleep on deck. The North Star, on her last trip, had 300 packages of butter also stowed in passengers' berths, but the kegs breaking away, endangering the lives of steerage passengers, Capt. Jones threw them overboard, and now claims from the underwriters.—One hundred cases of ordnance stores were also stowed under the berths, 17 cases of which, consisting of bombs, fixed ammunition, etc., were thrown overboard.

BY OVERLAND TELEGRAPH.

New York, October 6th.—The Post says: By the arrival of the steamer Fulton from Charleston we have a report, apparently on good authority, that the headquarters of General Gilmore have been removed from Morris Island to Folly Island. The continued sinking of the beach of Morris Island rendered the removal of Headquarters and the main body of the troops and material a measure of convenience. While there are sanitary reasons which would ultimately be controlling, it is said there are other causes for the change, among them being the consideration that the troops will not be less available in operations against Charleston, while they will be entirely out of range of any batteries the rebels have or can put on James Island.

The recent firing from Gilmore's batteries, of which we have already published accounts, was directed almost exclusively against efforts that were making, and which the rebels do not disclose, to erect new batteries within the ruins of Sumter. It appears that our reconnoitering boats, which pass near the walls of Sumter nightly, discovered that the garrison was carrying on extensive operations, and the indications were that the rebels, who were working in large numbers, would erect batteries inside the ruins, with the intention of using them when the works should be sufficiently advanced to justify the removal of the broken walls and debris which protected the workmen and concealed their operations from view. The rapid and heavy firing of our guns, it is expected, will not only stop this work, but render further rebel occupation of Sumter precarious if not impossible.

Gilmore's operations on Morris Island are actively prosecuted. The battery on Cummings Point now shields our troops perfectly, while the condition of Wagner is such as to protect the troops from all hazard of casualties. There are, however, occasionally some casualties, traceable to unnecessary exposure.

The battery which is designed to throw Greek fire is nearly completed. Recent experiments show that the fire may be speedily and effectively used; Charleston is within easy range of the guns already in position in such numbers as will insure the destruction of the city when they open. This event will not take place until other plans are complete, and the navy is ready to co operate with the army. There are considerable complaints against Admiral Dahlgren. Officers and sailors believe Farragut will soon command the fleet in Charleston harbor.

The New York Commercial's Washington correspondent states that the President has prohibited the further enlistment of the Maryland slaves in the army, and also that the Government will not allow correspondents to telegraph any news relative to Rosecrans' army—although the said news be extracted from that published in the columns of the Washington newspapers.

Nashville (Tenn.), October 5th.—Four or five thousand rebel cavalry, under Wheeler, with artillery, attacked McMinnville on Saturday afternoon, October 3d, capturing the town and garrison, consisting of the Fourth Tennessee Infantry. Our forces were without any artillery, and the town was without defences or fortifications. The rebels burned a train of cars and destroyed the railroad and telegraph. They are believed to be advancing on Manchester. Several prominent Union citizens are supposed to have been captured.

Part of the same force destroyed a train of two hundred wagons on Friday, October 2d, between Bridgeport (Ala.) and Chattanooga, and captured an ammunition train of twelve wagons. Portions of the rebel cavalry are scattered along the road near and south of Murfreesboro, designing to destroy the railroad, telegraphic communication, capture stockades, etc. Our troops are closely pursuing them.

THE ALMADEN MINES.—The New York Herald, of September 2d, in its financial article, says:

The protracted and expensive litigation between the Almaden and Quicksilver Mining Companies, of California, was yesterday brought to a close by a compromise, under which the Almaden mines passed this morning into the exclusive possession of the Quicksilver Mining Company. The first money payment covenanted to be made under the compromise, was made last evening at the office of A. Belmont & Co. It is pretty generally known that the Almaden mine is the greater quicksilver mine in the world, and controls the price of quicksilver in all the markets. The product of the mine has hitherto ranged from 35,000 to 40,000 flasks annually, which yielded a net profit of from $1,000,000 to $1,200,000, and there is reason to believe that the old Company rather concealed than exaggerated its receipts. It will be safe to expect that Quicksilver stock will now become one of the most active, as it ought to be one of the most substantial, of the securities dealt in on 'Change.

So many people are being killed over in Nevada Territory that the papers there begin to clamor for a law to prevent persons carrying concealed weapons. Is they cannot have that, they talk of having a Vigilance Committee.

STOCK JOBBING AND FAILURES IN NEW YORK.

Phew! what a grand smash we had in stocks the past week. I told you in my last I expected soon to witness such a catastrophe. The "bulls" had been so successful for weeks and weeks in forcing funds up, sometimes leaping worthless stocks upwards at the rate of 20 per cent a day, and making instantaneous fortunes for bold speculators, that they had fairly gotten the public mind insane with a passion for stock-gambling. Everybody rushed in to buy, who had a dollar to spare, or had credit enough to raise one. Outsiders, who are called "innocents" in Wall street, bought up hundreds of shares at the instigation of their broker "friends," putting up as a "margin" all the funds they could raise, and leaving the stock as collateral security. Harlem stock, not worth a dollar, in fact, run up to one hundred and eighty. Southern Michigan and Northern Indiana ran up from four dollars to one hundred and fourteen. Millionaires were becoming as abundant as blackberries. But last week came the crisis. On Monday stocks were weak; on Tuesday they were shaky; Wednesday they went down "kerslap." Harlem fell sixty four a share; Michigan tumbled twenty-eight a share—in two days. All the "margins" were swallowed up. Thousands of persons were completely ruined. Hundreds were suddenly reduced to worse than beggary. It was a regular "slaughter of the innocents." So much for stock gambling.

Some of these people who had become rich so unexpectedly in stocks, had taken elegant brown-stone mansions, and set up carriages, in which they turned out in grand style every afternoon, at the Central Park. Nothing was so gorgeous as their turn outs. They took the shine out of all competitors; and as for diamonds, how their parvenue wives glistened with gems from Tiffany's, from Ball, Black & Co's, and so on! Last week ended their short career of glory.—Brown-stone houses must be abandoned. The red flag of the auctioneer is at their doors, selling off their extravagant furniture, carriages and horses. Instead of attracting ayes at the Park, they are being scrutinized by the crowd at Leeds', where the man with the hammer is saying: "Going, going—and am I offered no more than this for so dashing and superb a turn-out? Going! did I hear a bid over in the corner, sir? Going for only such a ridiculous sum? Going—gone! Mr. John Smith takes the carriage and horses; and Mr. Smith, you have got a great bargain. May you hold on to it a little longer than the former purchaser." Such is life.

United States Lottery.

Some facetious fellow has perpetrated the following. The points need no explanation:

United States Lottery! Great inducements!! Brilliant Schemes!!! All Prizes and no Blanks!!!! Tickets for this Lottery for either Classes I or II, distributed GRATIS.

- 1 new, highly finished musket;
1 bran new suit of clothes;
1 pair shoes and stockings;
1 elegant blanket;
1 nice haversack and knapsack;
1 nice cartridge box, with sixty rounds of ammunition;
1 nice tin plate, tin cup, knife, fork and spoon.

In addition to this, the holder of the lucky number will have a regular income of $13 per month, and "when this cruel war is over," will receive a capital prize of $100.

With such inducements, the manager hopes to be largely patronized by an appreciating public. This is no humbug, catch penny institution, but a genuine lottery, in which the managers will fulfill all they promise.

Legalized by act of Congress, approved March 3, 1863.

All prizes cashed by Provost Marshals of the different districts.

Time of drawing will be duly announced, and any one drawing a prize will be immediately notified of the fact.

COL. J. B. FRY, Manager.

IN CALLING ATTENTION TO DOCTOR Guysott's Improved Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla, we feel confident that we are doing a service to all who are afflicted with Scrofulous and other disorders, originating in hereditary taint, or from impurity of the blood. We have known instances, within the sphere of our acquaintance, where the most formidable distempers have been cured by the use of Guysott's Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla alone.

It is one of the few advertised medicines that cannot be stigmatized with quackery, for the "Yellow Dock" and the "Sarsaparilla" are well known to be the most efficient, (and at the same time, innoxious) agents in the whole Materia Medica, and by far the best and purest preparation of them is Dr. Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla.

Article 2121, section 11.—For the purpose of voting, no person shall be deemed to have gained or lost a residence by reason of his presence or absence, while employed in the service of the United States, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of this state or of the United States or of the high seas; nor while a student at any seminary of learning; nor while kept at any almshouse, or other asylum, nor while confined in any public prison.

Article 2122, section 12.—No idiot or insane person, or person convicted of any infamous crime, shall be entitled to the privileges of an elector. Article 2123, section 13.—Absence from this state on business of the state, or of the United States, shall not affect the question of residence of any person. Article 2136, section 27.—Any person offering to vote may be challenged as unqualified by the inspector, or either of the judges, or by any legal voter, and it shall, in all cases, be the duty of the inspector and of each judge to challenge any person offering to vote whom he shall know or suspect not to be duly qualified as an elector.

Article 2137, section 28.—When any person offering to vote is challenged, it shall be the duty of the board of judges to declare to him the qualifications of an elector. Section 29.—If such person shall insist that he is entitled to vote, and the challenge shall not be withdrawn, he shall not be entitled to vote unless he takes the following oath, to be administered by the inspector or one of the judges, viz: "You do swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that you are a citizen of the United States, that you are of the age of twenty-one years, according to the best of your knowledge and belief, that you have resided in this State six months next preceding this election, and that you have not voted this day."

Upon taking which oath, he shall be entitled to vote for all State officers, and if he offer to vote for any district, county, or township officer, he shall, in addition thereto, make oath that he has resided in such district, county or township, (as the case may be,) thirty days. Proceedings to be observed in conducting Elections: Act of April 20, 1863, section 35.—As soon as all the votes are read off and counted, a certificate shall be drawn up on each of the papers containing the poll list and tallies, or attached thereto, stating the number of votes each person voted for has received, and designating the office to fill which he was voted for, which number shall be written in words at full length. Each certificate shall be signed by the clerks, the judges, and inspector. One of said certificates, with the poll list, and tally paper to which it is attached, shall be retained by the inspector, and preserved by him at least six months. The ballots shall be strung on a cord or thread by the inspector during the counting of the ballots, in the order in which they are entered upon the tally list by the clerks, and said ballots, together with the other of said certificates, with the poll list and tally paper to which it is attached, shall be sealed up by the inspector in presence of the judges and clerks, and indorsed "Election Returns," and be directed and delivered or sent by the inspector to the County Clerk of the county in which the election is held, and the said ballots shall be kept for at least six months by said Clerk; and if any person be of the opinion that the vote of any precinct shall not have been correctly counted, he may appear on the day appointed for the Board of Supervisors to open the returns, and demand a recount of the vote of said precinct, and the Board of supervisors shall proceed to recount the vote of the precinct that is so claimed to have been incorrectly counted.

Article 2131, section 22.—At all elections the polls shall be opened at 8 o'clock in the morning, and shall continue open until sunset, at which time the judges shall close the polls; provided, that the judges of the election may take a recess of one hour at any time they may think proper during the day, before three o'clock in the afternoon.—[Am. April 23, 1851; R. s. st. 1850, 103.

Article 2132, section 23.—The board of judges, before they commence receiving ballots, shall cause it to be proclaimed aloud at the place of voting that the polls are opened. Article 2133, section 24.—The voting shall be by ballot. The ballot shall be a paper ticket containing the names of the persons for whom the elector intends to vote, and designating the office to which each person so named is intended by him to be chosen.

Article 2134, section 25.—Whenever any person offers to vote, the inspector shall pronounce his name in an audible voice, and if there be no objection to the qualification of such person as an elector, shall receive his ballot, and in the presence of the other judges put the same, without being opened or examined, into the ballot-box.

Article 2135, section 26.—The name of each elector whose ballot has been thus received, shall be immediately entered by each clerk, in the column of his poll list, headed "names of voters," numbering each name in the additional column, as it is taken down, so that it may be seen at any time whether the two lists agree.

Article 2137, section 31.—If the vote of any person be challenged on the ground that he has been convicted of an infamous crime, or disfranchised by any court of competent jurisdiction, he shall not be required to answer any questions respecting such alleged conviction; and in the absence of any authentic record of such facts, it may be competent for two disinterested witnesses upon oath to prove the same.

Article 2138, section 32.—When the polls are closed, proclamation thereof shall be made at the place of voting, and no votes shall be afterwards received.

Article 2139, section 33.—As soon as the polls are closed on the afternoon of the day of election, the judges shall open the ballot-box and commence counting the votes, and in no case shall the ballot-box be removed from the room in which any election may be held, until all the ballots are counted; the counting of ballots shall in all cases be public.

The ballots shall be taken out carefully, one by one, by the inspector or one of the judges, who shall carefully open them, and read aloud the name of each person contained therein, and the office for which every such person is voted for. Each clerk shall write down each office to be filled and the name of each person voted for for such office, and shall keep the number of votes by tallies, as they are read by the inspector or judge. The counting of the votes shall be continued without adjournment until all are counted.

Article 2140, section 34.—If two tickets are found folded together, they shall both be rejected; and if more persons are designated on any ticket for any office than are to be elected to such office, such part of the ticket shall not be counted for any of them; but no ticket shall be lost for want of form, if the board of judges can determine to their satisfaction the person voted for and the office intended. [Statutes of 1850, Wood's Digest, page 377.

The attention of Inspectors and Judges is especially referred to Act of April 22, 1863, Statutes of 1863, pages 398 and 399. By Order of the Board of Supervisors, GILES E. SILL.

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties.

Invigorate the System.

Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutritious blood, and nutritious blood a healthy frame. Does the victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver desire to know how the digestion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system, regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the animal juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthy play.

Strengthen the System.

The best means of imparting vigor to the broken-down frame and shattered constitution, which has yet been invented or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Debility, from whatever cause arising, may be cured; strength, in whatever manner it may have been wanted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthful invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.

A Word to the Aged.

In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, and acts like a charm upon the spirits.

For Females.

Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances & derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and enlightens the oppressed mental powers, as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any reaction.

Dr. Guysott's Improved

Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla

Will Cure without Fail

Scrofula or King's Evil, Cancers, Tumors, Eruptions of the skin, Erysipelas, Chronic Sore Eyes, Ringworm or Tetter, Scald Head, Rheumatism, Pains in the Bones and Joints, Old Sores and Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Diseases of the Kidneys, Loss of Appetite, Disease arising from the use of Mercury, Pain in the Side and Shoulder, General Debility, Dropsy, Jaundice, Lumbago, &c.

These poisons may occasionally remove disease, but they so vitiate the blood and impregnate the whole system with their baneful effects, that the first cold or the first attack of disease, prostrates the patient's strength and subjects him or her to the most excruciating torture, and renders another cure almost impossible and hopeless. Let all poisonous sarsaparilla preparations alone, and use Guysott's Improved Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla, which is thoroughly efficacious, perfectly harmless and purely vegetable. All kinds of diseases yield to its genial influence.

Caution.—Beware of counterfeits. All genuine Dr. Guysott's Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla has the name of JOHN D. PARK, Present Proprietor, Cincinnati, O., on the label.

Remember this fact when buying, all without the name of "JOHN D. PARK, Cincinnati, Ohio," on the label are counterfeits.

Sold by all Druggists.

PATENT COMBINED GANG PLOW,

SEED SOWER AND HARROW.

We have purchased the right this great labor-saving implement for the State of California, and are having a number made in the Atlantic States for this market.

With this combined Machine one man, with six horses, can do the work of three twelve inch plows, besides sowing the grain, and harrowing it in as he proceeds, thus finishing his work in the best manner possible, without being obliged to travel over the plowed ground. This Machine was very thoroughly tested by the farmers of Santa Clara county, where some eighty are now in use; also, by the Messrs. Hensel & Kethley, of this county, and Messrs. Hoppin Brothers, near Cacheville, Yolo county.

It is made very substantial; is not liable to get out of order, and being on large truck wheels, the Gang Plow, Seed Sower and Harrow, runs lighter than three plows would, cutting the same amount of land.

We are desirous of having these plows generally introduced throughout the State, and are therefore prepared to offer very favorable inducements to farmers and the trade. The following are some of the names of our customers who have used them for the past two seasons:

Sacramento county—Hensel & Kethley.
Yolo county—Hoppin Brothers, L M Curtis, Caleb Davis, C Travers, A J Scroggins.

Sutter county—M Boulware, A L Chandler.
Colusa county—James Timothy, J Crouch.
