NEW CHAIRMAN NOT YET SELECTED

Judge Lennox and J. L. Staunton Mentioned in Connection With Vacancy

Ottawa, May 9.—The matter of the appointment of a successor to the late Judge Mabey, as chairman of the railway commission, has not as yet engaged the attention of the government. Two names mentioned in connection with the vacancy are those of Judge Lennox, recently appointed to the Ontario bench, and J. Lynch Staunton, the well-known Hamilton lawyer. Mr. Staunton is at present acting on the commission which is inquiring into the cost of the National Transcontinental railway. He has frequently represented the Ontario government in questions before the railway committee of Commons affecting the question of provincial rights. The name of Sir William Meredith is also being mentioned, but it is not believed he would accept.

RETURNS FROM CHINA.

San Francisco, May 9.—Partially paralyzed and nearly blind, Lieutenant Homer Lea arrived from China on the liner Shinyo Maru. He was accompanied by his wife and Jue Wn, personal representative of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, first president of the republic of China, who was assigned by the leaders of the Young China Association to accompany General Lea to his home in Los Angeles and afford him proper care and protection.

Previous to the revolution in China, Lea was with Dr. Sun Yat Sen in London, and went with him to China by way of Singapore. Mrs. Lea accompanied the two revolutionists on the trip.

General Lea says that the rumor that the new government in China is in dire need of financial aid is unfounded, and that it was probably circulated by certain London, Paris and New York financiers who desired to lend money to the new republic. For many years General Lea has been an authority on military matters in China.

ACCUSED OF STEALING JEWELS.

San Francisco, Cal., May 9.—Through the arrest of Mrs. Marjorie Smith on Tuesday on a charge of grand larceny, local police hope to obtain a clue as to the whereabouts of the $50,000 jewels of Mrs. Eugene De Saba, stolen from her apartments at a downtown hotel February 21, after a ball in the hotel. Mrs. Smith is charged with having stolen $143 from the residence of Mrs. Ethel Davis of this city. On the night the jewels were stolen, Mrs. Smith was employed as maid in the hotel. After the woman had been examined by a half dozen detectives it was announced that Mrs. Smith was not believed to be guilty of the theft but that she was believed to know the present whereabouts of another maid who has been under suspicion for several weeks and left the hotel shortly after the theft.

TWO BOYS INJURED.

Plaster Rock, N. B., May 9.—Stanley Turnbull, aged 16, and Clarence Turnbull, aged 14, were terribly injured Tuesday as the result of an explosion of a 25-lb. can of blasting powder, with which they were playing. The lads found the powder, and began amusing themselves by dumping small portions on the ground and setting it on fire. While shaking out some, an explosion followed, throwing the lads twenty feet apart. They were fearfully burned about the face, the flesh being torn from their hands, and it is feared they will lose their sight.

TURKS CLAIM VICTORY.

Chicago, May 9.—Mrs. Lizzie Buchanan was arrested yesterday charged with the murder of Mrs. Jostie Rice, thirty years old, on May 6. Mrs. Rice was shot while in Mrs. Buchanan's home and died in a hospital. In an ante-mortem statement she accused Mrs. Buchanan of the crime. She said she and Mrs. Buchanan had had words over a man and that Mrs. Buchanan drew a revolver and fired several shots at her. Mrs. Buchanan denied the shooting.

GUARDING AGAINST GLANDERS.

Ottawa, May 9.—An order-in-council has been passed prohibiting for three months the importation into Canada of any hay, straw, fodder or foodstuffs, accompanying horses from Continental Europe. The transportation into Canada of cattle from Great Britain, Ireland and the Channel Islands, on steamers carrying horses from the continent is also prohibited. Fear of glanders has led to these orders.

ELECTRIFICATION OF RAILWAYS.

PROPOSED NATIONAL SERVICE RESERVE

Veterans Meet at New Westminster and Pass Several Resolutions

New Westminster, May 9.—The lead was taken in this city in a movement for forming a national service reserve along the lines of the movement which is meeting with considerable success in Great Britain. A meeting was held in the Board of Trade rooms and, in addition to taking the initiative in this movement it was decided to form a United Services Club for the city and district. Captain L. C. Haines presided over about a score of service veterans and a series of resolutions were passed upon which those in attendance will base their future work.

The resolution relating to the national reserve was as follows: "That we, a representative gathering of former soldiers and sailors who have served His Majesty in the Royal Navy or Royal Navy Reserve, the regular army, Canadian militia, yeomanry, volunteer, territorial forces or other military units throughout the British Empire, now living in the district of New Westminster, heartily endorse the scheme of organizing a branch of the national reserve on the lines already adopted with signal success in Great Britain."

Mayor Lee will be asked to issue an appeal to those eligible to join, to notify the militia department of the steps taken and to take charge of the roll of names.

Mr. Hugh Savage acted as secretary of the meeting.

STATE OWNERSHIP OF GRAIN ELEVATORS

Experiment in Manitoba Proves a Failure—Statement by Premier

Winnipeg, Man., May 9.—Premier Roblin announced last night that the Manitoba government had decided to go out of the government ownership of elevator business at the close of the crop year, August 31. All employees have been notified that their services will be dispensed with between now and that date.

Negotiations are under way to sell the elevators to the Grain Growers' company, in which the province has invested two million dollars. Premier Roblin says his reason for selling is that he is tired of losing the people's money in the enterprise. Last year a hundred and fifty thousand dollars was lost and it will be equally as heavy a loss this year. The farmers refused to patronize the elevators after demanding them at conventions and continue to load directly from their wagons into cars.

SHRINERS' CONCLAVE.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 9.—The business session of the Shriners now in annual convocation in this city ended yesterday, after adjournment of the imperial council and until the close of the convocation Friday night, the entire time of the visitors will be given over to fun and frolic.

William J. Cunningham, of Baltimore, former imperial deputy-potestate, was elected imperial potestate, succeeding John Frank Treat, of Fargo, N. D. William S. Brown, of Pittsburgh, and Benjamin W. Rowell, of Boston were re-elected imperial treasurer and imperial recorder respectively. Ernest A. Cutts, of Savannah, Ga., was elected imperial outer guard. Dallas, Texas, was chosen for the 1913 convocation.

CONTRACTOR KILLED.

Fargo, N. D., May 9.—Frank Roban, aged 33, a prominent contractor of Waverly, Minn., was crushed to death of a crew of men who were raising an old elevator when the walls collapsed and he was instantly killed.

PREMIER M'BRIDE ON NAVY POLICY

Has Assurances From Mr. Borden That Question Will Receive Early Attention

London, May 9.—At the Canadian Club dinner last night, at which Sir E. R. Rose presided, the Lord Mayor of London and Sheriff Hanson and Briggs were the chief guests. Among those present were: Hon. R. McBride, Sir Frederick Borden, Hon. C. Campbell, John Howey, Sir Hugh Graham, Donald McMaster, Hon. J. H. Turner, the Bishop of Saskatchewan, Major Malcolm Murray, Colonel Burland, General Elliott, Captain Hansen and Sir T. Skinner.

Hon. Mr. McBride, in responding to the toast of the "Dominion," referred to the wonderful success of the Duke of Connaught as governor-general. It was a gratification, he said, that His Royal Highness intended to make a western journey through Canada. Mr. McBride suggested that the Lord Mayor should pay Canada a state visit on the lines of his Continental visits.

"The loyalty and patriotism of Canada has never been questioned," continued the speaker, "but lately it has been intensified by political agencies which it is perhaps unfitting that I should deal with here."

Proceeding to discuss the navy question, Mr. McBride said: "I assure you of the intense interest being taken in British Columbia on this question. We have assurances from Mr. Borden that the government proposes to take up the question at once and deal with it effectively. We in British Columbia are reminded day by day of all that a navy means. I have every confidence that when the premier proposes, as he will very shortly, a strong policy making for the active efficiency of the Canadian navy, he will have the entire Dominion behind him."

STRIKERS HAVE DESERTED YALE

Ordered to Return to Work or Leave Town - Message From Contractor

Vancouver, May 9.—The strike at Yale was completely broken yesterday. All the strikers were cleared out of the camp that was formerly the haunt of two hundred idlers. The police gave the men notice that they must either go to work immediately or leave town. Within half an hour very few of the strikers were in sight. This information was received in a telegram received last night by R. J. Cromie, of Messrs. Foley, Welch & Stewart, from Messrs. Burns, Jordan & Welch, at Yale.

The telegram received by Mr. Cromie follows: "The Industrial Workers of the World at Yale were completely routed to-day. Camp here, formerly the hang-out of two hundred men, entirely disbanded this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The provincial police took the situation in hand this afternoon and gave all the vagrant strikers the option of going immediately to work or leaving the town. Half an hour later there were very few strikers left. Great credit is due the police for the vigorous and effective manner in handling the strike situation. Quite a number of men are arriving here now looking for work. The railway men and contractors are greatly pleased with the outcome."

TRAGEDY AT PUGET SOUND NAVY YARD

Assistant Dockmaster Killed - Dockmaster Wounded and May Die

Seattle, Wash., May 9.—Chas. Britton, aged 30, assistant dockmaster of the Puget Sound navy yard at Bremerton, was shot and killed, and George W. Trahey, aged 40, the dockmaster, was shot and fatally wounded yesterday by J. Haley aged 45, who had been declared insane by physicians, but had been permitted to go about under surveillance.

Haley had been employed at the navy yard twenty years. Lately he was possessed by a delusion that the United States government owed him a large sum of money, and that there was a conspiracy to prevent him from getting it. Haley yesterday went to a store and purchased a pistol and then proceeded to the dockmaster's office and began firing at Trahey and Britton. Trahey received one bullet in the lung and two in the shoulder. Britton was shot once in the right lung. Physicians say there is only slight hopes of recovery of Trahey.

BULLET LODGED IN JAW

San Bernardino, Cal., May 9.—S. Shraeder, a mine foreman, is here recovering from an operation performed to remove a .35 calibre revolver bullet which had imbedded itself in his jaw after knocking out two of his teeth. The bullet was fired by B. S. Skidmore, a prospector, who said he was trying to drive a party of miners off a prospect he had located in the Gold Roads district. The bullet struck Shraeder in the mouth, knocking his two front teeth down his throat and lodged itself so firmly in the cavity that the man had to be taken to a dentist before the bullet could be removed.

PRESERVATION OF FORESTS.

Ottawa, May 9.—The conservation commission met yesterday afternoon and drew up a series of proposed ameliorations to be recommended to the railway companies. Most of these dealt with the preservation of forests. A strong recommendation was passed insisting that, especially in British Columbia, all locomotives should use only oil, and that this should take effect before 1914. It was stated that the C. P. R. had already expressed its willingness to do so, and it was urged that other companies should be compelled to do the same.

BABY FELL ON STOVE

Postmaster Says: "Zam-Buk Acted on the Burn Like Magic."

Whenever you—or the children—sustain a burn apply Zam-Buk! Takes the fire out of burns like magic! Mr. A. Summers, Postmaster of Gledhow, Sask., writes: "I would like to bear testimony to the wonderful healing properties of Zam-Buk. I have used it for some considerable time for cuts, bruises, etc., with excellent results, but the most wonderful cure in my experience happened recently when my little boy (two years old) fell from his chair on to a red-hot heater. "One side of his face and his ear were just frizzled. I dressed the burns liberally with Zam-Buk every day, and within two weeks the burns were healed. I was afraid my boy would be disfigured permanently, but the skin has grown beautifully, and there is no scar left. I always recommend Zam-Buk to my friends, and would advise everybody to keep a box handy." The general staff again entered a sweeping denial of the many stories of the receipt of orders from Washington for the entrainment of troops for the Mexican border.

SICK DAUGHTER NOW WELL

Mrs. C. Cole Tells How Her Daughter Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Fitchville, Ohio.—"I take great pleasure in writing to thank you for what your medicine has done for my daughter."

"Before taking your medicine she was all run down, suffered from pains in her side, could not walk but a short distance at a time, and had severe pains in head and limbs. She came very near having nervous prostration. She had begun to cough a good deal and seemed melancholy by spells. She tried two doctors but got little help. "I cannot find words to express my gratefulness for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for my daughter. She feels and looks like another girl since taking it, and I shall always feel that I owe you a great debt. "You can use this letter for the benefit of others if you wish, as I shall always recommend your medicines for female troubles."—Mrs. C. COLE, Fitchville, Ohio.

Hundreds of such letters from mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Young Girls, Heed This Advice. Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FATE OF GOMEZ HANGS IN BALANCE

Will Be in Embarrassing Position if He Fails to Make Peace With Orozco

Juarez, Mex., May 9.—The provisional government established here last Saturday by Emilio Vasquez, hangs in the balance. The repudiation of the civil legislature, which Gomez as provisional president created to govern the destinies of the Republic, is worrying him terribly. Gomez and his associates declare a misunderstanding has been the cause. A messenger from Gomez left yesterday to place before Orozco certain documents calculated to make him understand. It is generally admitted now that while General Orozco invited Gomez to come from San Antonio, Texas, to participate in the direction of the revolutionary affairs, the invitation did not extend to the assumption of executive authority such as a provisional president might have. Should Orozco and Gomez fail to agree eventually Gomez probably will find himself in an embarrassing position. The Mexican government will arrest on a charge of treason should he venture into federal territory. In Juarez, or the rebel zone, he is virtually under the control of Orozco and rumors that he is actually a prisoner of Orozco have been numerous in the last few days. To return across to the United States, friends of Gomez believe impossible, and it is reported that American special agents now have gathered evidence charging Gomez with fomenting a revolution against Mexico while on American territory. Much depends upon the military achievements of Orozco in the next few days.

Gomez has a strong following in the south, but has little popularity in the north, where Orozco is dictator. Should Orozco be defeated, it may mean the rise of Gomez or a new military chief. A rebel victory, it is believed, spells a complete dictatorship by Orozco and perhaps the downfall of Gomez. Likewise a revolutionary triumph at this moment would present a serious situation for the Madero government, as agents of the latter in El Paso declare that the federal government has concentrated nearly all its military strength for a decisive blow at the insurgents.

Few Americans in Peril. Washington, D. C., May 9.—The plight of Americans on the west coast of Mexico appears to have been exaggerated, says the report received at the war department from Quartermaster Ely, in command of the transport Buford, which was sent to that coast to pick up distressed foreigners. In a telegram dated at Mochoise, Sinaloa, via Nogales, the officer reports: "Best information received is that less than one dozen Americans will embark there. The best of feeling shown toward the Buford. Took aboard one typhoid patient at Mazatlan. Am informed that about sixty-five Americans will embark at Mazatlan on our return."

The general staff again entered a sweeping denial of the many stories of the receipt of orders from Washington for the entrainment of troops for the Mexican border.

KAISER DESIRES TO IMPROVE RELATIONS

New Ambassador to London is Germany's Leading Diplomat

Berlin, May 9.—High hopes of a radical improvement in Anglo-German relations have followed the announcement that Baron Marschal Von Bieberstein, Germany's famous ambassador at Constantinople, is to become the Kaiser's representative at London. The baron has arrived in Berlin to confer with the imperial chancellor prior to accompanying him for an audience with the Emperor on His Majesty's return from Corfu on Sunday. The Kaiser intends the appointment to be a demonstrative manifestation of his desire for friendship and an understanding with Great Britain and has chosen the cleverest and most forceful man in the German diplomatic service to give effect to his wishes and plans.

NEW AMBASSADOR.

Tokio, May 8.—M. Ishii, secretary-general of the foreign office, has been appointed ambassador to France, succeeding Viscount Shinticho Kurino. M. Kurah, the local representative of the general office, has been appointed vice-minister of that department.

The Secret of Strength

Do you wonder why you are not as strong as others and why you can't put through the day without a great loss of vitality? It is because you lack a full supply of Electricity. Electricity is life itself. It is the foundation of muscular, nerve and mental energy. Lack of electricity is shown in weakness of any organ of the body in Backache, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Nerve Weakness, Indigestion, Stomach, Kidney and Bowel troubles. Why? Because control the organs and muscles and electricity supplies to the nerves the power to control. Electricity is nerve food. When the supply is less than is necessary the nerves become weak and the organs perform their functions in an irregular manner. The secret of strength, then, is plenty of electricity in the human body. Keep it full and every organ will do its duty; pain and weakness will disappear. Our Electro-Vigor does this while you sleep. It pours a steady stream of soothing electricity into the nerves and organs all night long and is taken up by them just as a sponge absorbs water. It restores strength to every part that is weak.

Electro-Vigor is not an Electric Belt. It is a dry-cell body battery and makes its own power. There is not charging of any kind to both with.

Vancouver, B. C. March 26, 1912 Dear Sirs,—The Electro-Vigor has relieved me of all rheumatic pains in the shoulders and arms, also feel better every way. I will use it a while longer as the batteries are still strong. Thanking you for your kind inquiry, I remain, yours truly, ROY HOOA

CANADA AS AN "ADJUNCT."

The riotous jubilation of the opponents of reciprocity found its logical culmination in the interrogation of Premier Asquith in the British House of Commons on Monday. It was only natural that the defenders of the integrity of the empire—as the high tariff parties in both Great Britain and Canada call themselves—should find a sweet morsel in the private correspondence between Roosevelt and Taft which the perfidy of one compelled the other to publish. The triumphant self-flattery and justification for the "I told you so" revelry of the Conservative press in both countries was to be expected from the party which preaches Britain's decadence in England and rebashes it for protective purposes in Canada. Now that the storm is over the greatest surprise of the Tory press is exhibited over the fact that no one seems to have taken the heat lightning at all seriously. No one in Canada is disturbed by the so-called proofs of a monstrous conspiracy entered into between Taft, Roosevelt, et al, and to which the alarmists allege Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the members of his cabinet succumbed. It all sounds so hollow. No one thinks any differently about reciprocity now than he did before the vote of September 21 last year unless it should be those who have discovered by the conspiracy of more recent circumstances how much they have lost by the restriction of the market for their produce and the inevitable rise in the cost of living. It is no wonder that Mr. Asquith "manifested some impatience" when he was interpellated in the House of Commons respecting the honor of Ambassador Bryce. It sounds so empty.

Not only was there nothing in the letter of President Taft which could have any political significance, but there was nothing in it which could move persons endowed with ordinary intelligence in the laws of economics and commerce which puts any different phase on the possible commercial relations between Canada and the United States had reciprocity carried.

Had reciprocity been endorsed by the people of Canada this country would undoubtedly have continued a commercial adjunct of the United States. So would the United States have become a greater commercial adjunct of Canada. That was exactly what was sought in the reciprocity pact, as it was realized by the advocates of this measure on both sides of the line that two countries lying so related—geographically, continentally and commercially—should naturally be adjuncts of each other. Had not President Taft committed a very common blunder in the syntax of his sentence it would have been robbed of its sting. Had he said: "Of course this would only make Canada an adjunct of the United States" he would have more clearly expressed his meaning, and it was this evidently intended construction of his language which made him deny the construction put upon it by Mr. Roosevelt.

While we are speaking of "adjuncts," it is no harm to point out that the corporations, banking and fiduciary institutions of Canada have no scruples about making Canada an adjunct of the United States when it will increase their interest earnings, by denying the Canadian borrower necessary loans in order to place money in the New York markets on short calls at a higher rate than the business of Canada will stand. In this way both countries become adjuncts of each other. The United States affords the Canadian money lenders an opportunity for a financial harvest and the Canadian banks are valuable "adjuncts" to the United States banks. No harm comes of this, of course, because there is no duty on money, and besides the corporations—knowing no country and no flag when gains can be made—are never disloyal.

How many more times it will be necessary for Canadian commercial interests to be brought to a standstill because large sums of Canadian money are loaned in New York and not available when the pinch comes in Canada—before Canadians will learn that they are now only a financial "adjunct" of the United States we do not know. We do know that no amount of flag-waving, no amount of screeching and frenzied accusations of disloyalty, no thundering denunciations by the Canadian and British advocates of higher tariffs, will ever convince the sober thinking men of Canada and the United States that both would not be much better off commercially and no worse off politically had they larger markets and better prices for their products. No effort of the "interests" can ever persuade the people of Canada that the empire is safe only so long as the people lie with docility rocked in the great cradle of the trusts, combines and corporations whose practical methods are becoming the greatest crime in modern economic history.

With the swelling of the tide of business between Canada and the American republic, with the extension of railways running north and south, with appeals to the Americans to suspend the operations of their transportation and commercial regulations in order to help Western Canada out of the slump into which she was plunged last autumn by her restricted markets, it requires no very great presence of foresight that the public is awakening to the facts of the situation. If we are to be "partners in the development of this great continent which we possess," the time is not far distant when the shareholders in these two joint-stock concerns will have something to say to their directors about the economic policy upon which the business is to be continued. In Saskatchewan the Tory politicians are alive to this and are promising the farmers that Mr. Borden will give them reciprocity if they will defeat the Liberal government. Even here Conservative members of the provincial legislature have admitted to the Times that "under some new form" Mr. Borden must give the people of Canada freer trade with the United States. It is the unwavering confidence of the public in the belief that the days of protection for the "interests" are about over that makes the wisest men in both countries say reciprocity is not dead.

A SILVER DOLLAR.

The late Liberal government established the mint at Ottawa in response very largely to the views of British Columbia, which at the time of the decision of the Laurier administration was the first mining province of the Dominion. The government decided upon the coinage that would be issued. It made arrangements for the issuance of silver coins of the value of 5c., 10c., 25c., 50c. and $1, and of gold $5, $10 and $20 pieces.

There has been delay in the coinage of gold, due principally to the incompleteness of the mint in respect of its refining equipment, a deficiency which is now being remedied. The gold coins will therefore, it is expected, be in circulation at an early date. All the silver coins, with the exception of those of the dollar denomination, have been coined and have been in circulation for several years. Now we are informed by Finance Minister White that the silver dollar will not be coined, as some eastern bankers have told him that they are not needed and would not be used by the public.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, guided by representations from British Columbia, where there are more American dollar pieces in circulation than in any other part of Canada, agreed to issue the silver dollar. This coin is used very largely in making payments to Indians employed in canneries and in other industries, and the American silver dollar has been found very useful and convenient for that purpose. It never was contemplated to issue more coins of that denomination than would be readily absorbed by the public. The fact was recognized that the silver dollar would be restricted in its use and confined to special purposes. But it was demanded by business interests in this province because of a realization that the United States silver dollar has served a useful purpose. No one conversant with local conditions can gainsay the fact that there was a reason for the circulation of the American coin. To substitute a Canadian silver dollar for every American dollar in circulation was sufficient justification for the decision of the late government in the matter of coinage. It is therefore obvious that Finance Minister White in departing from the policy of his predecessor in office has been ill-advised.

wives is far worse in principle than the exclusion of the men themselves, for God made men and women to dwell together. It is a greater slight upon the race affected and a greater mischief to society. We cannot see how the principal of law can be ignored that a woman's domicile is that of her husband. A law that pretends to assail that principle assails the foundations of society.

We think ourselves that the appeal of the Hindus to the Colonial Secretary was a judicious procedure. The questions involved are of sufficient imperial importance to warrant an appeal to the highest court. We hope the interference of no Canadian politician will succeed in preventing the necessary steps being taken to bring the conflict to a satisfactory issue.

INDIANS AND BETTER TERMS.

It will be gratifying to those who are interested in the settlement of the Indian land question in British Columbia to know that the arguments presented before the Borden ministry on Tuesday were sufficiently impressive to secure the promise from Hon. Robert Rogers that immediate steps will be taken to have the dispute adjudicated and finally settled. We do not know whether the reference is to be to the Privy Council, as the Indians desire, or to the Supreme Court of Canada, but the promise of Hon. Robert Rogers, if adhered to, will settle a grievance of long standing. On the last occasion in which the matter was presented to Sir Wilfrid Laurier the then premier said "we must find some way of bringing the province of British Columbia into court," and it is satisfactory to know that—whatever foundation the claims of the Indians may have in historic and constitutional facts—the color of right is of sufficient importance to warrant the judicial procedure proposed.

It is the more satisfactory to many people in British Columbia because Hon. R. L. Borden and Hon. Robert Rogers, after a full hearing of the arguments of Rev. A. E. O'Meara and Canon Tucker, have apparently arrived at the same conclusion as Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Frank Oliver in the previous government.

An interesting quarrel has occurred between the Globe newspaper of Toronto and the Borden government, as a result of which the people of Western Ontario have been deprived of special postal privileges enjoyed during several years. The Globe inaugurated a special fast train service for the distribution of morning newspapers in the western sections of the province. The train arrived at London in time to catch all the outgoing mails to the rural centres, placing the morning paper on the breakfast tables of its subscribers. It also had an arrangement with the postal authorities by which an early letter mail was carried, thus securing quicker communication than by the ordinary train schedules. The Toronto News initiated a row over some alleged discrimination in the last election campaign, with the result that the government will send no more letter mail by the special. Someone in Hamilton has been mean enough to suggest that the government thought the discontinuance of the tritling subsidy paid for carrying the letter mail would end the Globe special delivery. This is not to be the case. Subscribers will still get their papers on their breakfast tables while their business letters will arrive several hours later. Only the general public will suffer from the petty jealousy and spite of the Conservative organ of Toronto.

Claim Resisted.—The B. C. Hardware Company is suing L. M. Hagar for recovery of money due on a promissory note.—The case is being heard this afternoon before Judge Lampman. The defendant claims that there was misrepresentation on the part of the plaintiff and that plaintiff failed to keep a contract entered into with the defendant. The action arises out of the sale of a cream separator and other dairy implements, part of which the defendant claims was not delivered by the company.

Development League.—A letter received at the office of the Vancouver Island Development League this morning is from the principal of the Astoria high school. In the future study of geography in that school Vancouver Island is to receive special attention, for the principal asks for maps of the island and of the various districts in it, for the use of the geography mistress. Of a different nature is a communication from Calgary, a young man who intends to go in for poultry and truck farming, and ask for prospects in that particular branch. The owner of a men's furnishing store in Saskatchewan intends opening a similar business in this city.

Reception to Superintendent.—The Rev. Luther Hoghead, assistant superintendent of missions for the general council and superintendent for the western section was accorded a reception at Grace Lutheran church last evening by the members of the congregation. The chair was taken by Rev. W. C. Drohn, and a delightful programme of tableaux and songs was provided. Among those who assisted in this were J. H. Griffiths, Mrs. Sidney Thompson, Mrs. Barlow, Miss Myrdal and Miss Westcott. One of the features of the evening was the address given by the guest of honor on the subject of mission work, and reflecting optimistically on the splendid spirit which the workers had demonstrated in the past. The greatest credit for the successful nature of the reception is due to the organizers, Messrs. Mead, Murray, Keeney and McDougall.

ISLAND ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB.

Interesting Addresses on Architecture at Last Night's Meeting.

The Island Arts and Crafts Club held the last meeting of the winter season yesterday evening in the Alexandra Club, the president, Dr. Hasell, in the chair. Paul Phipps, who was to have given a paper on "Architecture in the Modern House," was unable to come, his place being taken by Mr. Shallcross and Mr. Street. The former gave a delightful impromptu address on the subject of architecture, the main idea emphasized being that all architecture must carry out the wants of the age; otherwise it is an anachronism or exotic. The best architecture is that which satisfies the necessities of the age in the most beautiful manner. The speaker gave examples of the Moorish houses which had a courtyard in order to give seclusion to the inmates; to the Arab houses which had small windows in order to give protection to the inmates; to the early English houses which had a large banquetting hall in order to give accommodation to the wayfarer, who was always given a welcome and free board; and to the Adams houses of the eighteenth century which had large reception rooms in order to provide room for the "drums" of the period. Mr. Shallcross further amplified his remarks by pointing out that the buildings of a country should, as far as possible, be constructed from the materials of that country, in order that they should not be suggestive of an affected effort. The small lots in Victoria, he added, demanded houses with a back and front but no sides; it also demanded that the dining-room and the kitchen should be close together. The necessity of heating the modern house conveniently has encouraged the building of the two-story houses rather than the bungalow—and the business of the architect is to produce an effective building without sacrificing the necessities of the time. Mr. Street, who also spoke, gave some very interesting remarks on town planning. There was an unusually good attendance of members, an announcement being made that the first out-of-doors meet of the Sketch Club would meet on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock off the cliff at the end of Cook street.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK.

Dr. W. Russell Will Be New President—Union Picnic Proposed.

Miss Helen Stewart gave an address before the annual convention of the Victoria district of the International Sunday School Association last evening, the general superintendent, Rev. J. W. Williamson, presiding. Her subject was "The Value of a Sunday School Library and How to make it Popular," and the remarks of the assistant librarian were heartily appreciated. The chairman spoke on "How to Stimulate Spiritual Growth in Junior and Intermediate Grades," and among the other speakers were the Rev. J. P. Westman, of Calgary, field secretary of the Sunday schools and Young People's work in the provinces of B. C. and Alberta. Resolutions passed included the following: "That the matter of organizing an international Sunday school athletic league be referred to the incoming executive in consultation with H. G. Beale, physical instructor at the Y. M. C. A." "That the holding of a union picnic for the Sunday schools of the Victoria district be referred to the favorable consideration of the executive." Dr. Russell will be the next president.

BABY BOY DROWNED.

Infant Son of Charles Smith Found in Yard Pond Too Late to Prevent Death.

The death occurred yesterday afternoon, by drowning, of Cyril Smith, aged 2 years and 3 months, the son of Charles Smith, 2827 Cedar Hill road, who, on returning home from his employment found the body of his child in a pond of water in the garden. The child had evidently fallen into the water while playing on the edge, and being unable to attract attention was drowned. Dr. O'Neill was sent for but the child was dead before the discovery was made. There will be no inquest, the facts of the child's death being evident. Great sympathy has been expressed for the bereaved parents. The funeral will be held to-morrow.

New Books.—This week, in all probability, will see the arrival of a large consignment of new books for the shelves of the Carnegie library. These volumes have been on order for some time, and were expected earlier, so that any hour may see their arrival.

Y. W. C. A. Social.—The Y. W. C. A. will hold an informal social in the society's headquarters, Courtney street, this evening, arrangements having been made for a short musical programme to be contributed by Miss Edgeworth, Miss Griffiths, Miss Collins and Messrs. Frame and Dalsell, in addition to which Miss Stelmets will give some recitations. Mrs. Adams, president of the association, will preside, and a very interesting feature of the evening's proceedings will be the plans for the new building which will be submitted by Mr. Frame, architect for the society. The entertainment will be most enjoyable, and all interested are cordially invited to be present.

Dickens Club.—At the meeting of the Dickens Club held last night at the Alexandra Club, the president, Dr. Hands, in the chair, it was decided that this should be the last meeting of the season. It was reported that the entire membership of the society is now thirty-four. The evening was devoted to the further study of "Black House," several of the members contributing readings, among them being Mrs. Thom, Miss Fox, Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Teaching, Miss Ross and Mr. Bassler. In deciding not to resume the meetings until September, when the "Pickwick Papers" will be the study first taken up, a vote of thanks was passed to the press and the various officers of the society.

LOCAL GOLFERS ARE MAKING GOOD SHOWING

Yesterday's Competitions Were Characterized by Some Dramatic Finishes—Men's Semi-Finals Scheduled for To-morrow.

Some excellent golf was witnessed on the Oak Bay links in the championship games yesterday, under ideal conditions, a light breeze tempering the heat while the skies, though overcast in the early morning, soon cleared and King Sol once more reigned his sway.

As early as 8.30 the first golfers drove from the tee near the club-house, and onward until dusk a continual stream of devotees of the great game started from thence on the round of the links. Fortunately there was none of the interruptions and congestion that was noticeable on the first day; everything passed off well and without a hitch the whole day through.

The first match played off was the tie of the qualifying round of the previous day, which was won by His Honor the Lieut.-Governor, who therefore entered the competition proper. In the first round, however, he encountered Mr. Ricardo and succumbed by 6 up and 5 to play. D'Arcy Martin had an easy victory in the first round over W. F. Pemberton by 8 up and 7 to play. C. J. B. How, the young Scotch golfer, went out in the morning in 35 strokes, which is the lowest score which has been accomplished for that half up to the present stage of the competition. He beat C. H. Hughes by 4 up and 3 to play. L. R. Hargreaves had a tough fight with G. R. Talbot, whom he just managed to defeat at the last hole. T. A. Yellowlees, the captain of the Vancouver club had also a struggle to win over A. T. Goward, who succumbed at the nineteenth hole. Harvey Combe, the local secretary went down to Mr. Hincks by 3 up and 2 to play.

In the second round, which was played in the afternoon, there were several very close matches, one of those between Mr. Hincks and Mr. Gourlay only ending at the 22nd hole. The finish was dramatic in the extreme, the winner holing out a twelve-foot putt when it looked as if the hole would again be halved. The struggle between E. J. B. How and D'Arcy Martin furnished some of the best golf of the afternoon, and was replete with interest from start to finish. In the early stages of the game Mr. How was in excellent form and was one up at the seventh. At the eighth Mr. Martin drove a ball out of bounds and the hole fell to Mr. How. At the ninth the latter got into trouble through a short drive, but atoned with a superb mashie shot on the green. The eleventh and twelfth were halved, and with Mr. How three up at the thirteenth hole it looked as though he was to win just as he liked. From this point, however, Mr. D'Arcy Martin made a surprising recovery. He won the fourteenth hole, and at the next Mr. How drove two balls right out of bounds before he could get in a straight drive. At the sixteenth the players were all square, and Mr. D'Arcy Martin won out on the seventeenth green.

Mr. Garratt put up a great fight against Mr. Matterson, who headed the list in the qualifying round, and the latter only won by one hole. A feature of the afternoon was the success of the local golfers, and out of the eight men still left in the championship seven belong to the Victoria club, Mr. Yellowlees, the Vancouver captain, being the only visitor left in the competition.

The draws for the third round of the men's championship to be played to-day are as follows:
D'Arcy Martin vs. Ricardo.
Hincks vs. Matterson.
Yellowlees vs. Arbuckle.
Mills vs. Wilson.

The four winners will compete in the semi-final to-morrow morning and the close games will be forthcoming in every instance. Probably the most interesting match will be that between Hincks and Matterson, both of whom have done particularly well in this competition.

The qualifying round for the ladies' northwest championship took place yesterday morning, and the first sixteen qualified for the competition proper. Mrs. Ricardo returned the best card with a score of 92, with Miss Combe second with a total of 95 strokes. Miss Pooley also played excellent golf and returned the same score. The following ladies returned cards for the qualifying round:

Ladies' Qualifying Round.

Mrs. Mellin	139
Mrs. A. Stewart	144
Mrs. Senkler	149
Mrs. Pearce	160
Mrs. Carr	178

The first round of the ladies' championship did not provide the same excitement as the corresponding round in the men's tourney had done, the only match providing a close finish being that between Mrs. Irving and Mrs. Skinner, which the former won by one hole. Mrs. Ricardo had an easy victory, defeating Mrs. C. Gore by 7 up and 6 to play. Miss Pooley and Miss Combe also won their games and it looks as if the championship will go to one of those three ladies. The results of the first round are given below:

Ladies' Championship—1st Round.

Miss Combe beat Mrs. Langley by 2 up and 1 to play.
Miss Pooley beat Mrs. Mills by 3 up and 2 to play.
Miss Hilton beat Miss Mara by 5 up and 4 to play.
Mrs. Keene beat Mrs. Holland by 3 up and 1 to play.

Mrs. Ricardo beat Mrs. C. Gore by 7 up and 6 to play.
Mrs. Bird beat Mrs. Curran by 4 up and 3 to play.
Mrs. Huiskamp beat Mrs. Carstens by 3 up and 2 to play.
Mrs. Irving beat Mrs. Skinner by 1 up.

In the second round which is to be played to-day, the match of most interest is that between Miss Combe and Miss V. Pooley who each tied for second place in the qualifying round. Mrs. Ricardo is opposed to Mrs. Bird and should have no difficulty in getting into the third round if the early scores are any indication of form. The full draw is appended:

Ladies' Championship—2nd Round.

Mrs. Ricardo v. Mrs. Bird.
Miss Combe v. Miss V. Pooley.
Miss Hilton v. Mrs. Keene.
Mrs. Irving v. Mrs. Huiskamp.

The winners of these four heats will compete in the semi-finals, which will begin at 10.30 to-morrow morning. While the championship matches were in progress the competition for prizes in the different flights were also being carried out. In the club-house there is a goodly array of silver cups and goblets and these are all to be won, so that those who are no longer in the championship race have still chances of winning a trophy or trophies in the tourney. The putting competition in particular is exciting a tremendous amount of interest and scores of ladies and gentlemen may be seen each day on the putting green, which has nine holes. To enter, a fee of one dollar is paid and a card taken out. The event will be decided by taking the best eight players making the best score during the week. Already over 300 cards have been taken out and the competition has proved most popular.

FIGHT PROMOTER DROPS INTO TOWN

THOUGHT OF HOLDING BOXING MATCHES HERE

Mark Shaughnessey Who Has Handled Johnson, Jeffries, et al, Attracted to the City

Mark Shaughnessey, who has mixed in the fight game, chiefly in an executive capacity, ever since he can remember and who has handled at different times every fighter of importance in the country, dropped into Victoria yesterday. Wearing a smile that would draw confidence from a sphinx, he stepped into the Times office and for the benefit of the sporting editor gave his view on the several pugilistic issues coming up for settlement in the near future, and, incidentally, made known his mission in Victoria.

Mr. Shaughnessey has been running the Tacoma Athletic Club, but finding that the coin of the realm is none too plentiful in the City of Destiny, and hearing that it was so copious as to be going to waste in Victoria, he decided to come across and look over things with a view to gathering some of it in if possible. He was, by the way, tipped off concerning the prosperity of this city by Lou Nordyke, the Bees' new playing manager, whom he ran across down in Tacoma. Lou told him that one baseball game here drew as much of the necessary stuff as did two or three in Mike Lynch's stamping ground, and that settled it. Mark instantly decided that he had overlooked something and was on the job without any delay. Sad to relate he has departed no richer than he came. His line of endeavor comes into direct conflict with the settled convictions of Victoria's city fathers, and Mark would be like a fish out of water here.

The fight impresario's intention was to buy into a good cafe business and to establish an athletic club by which would be held boxing and wrestling matches on the same lines as is done in many of the American towns. This, of course, would cause a terrific uproar in these days, and most certainly Mr. Shaughnessey would get burned before he was through if he was so foolish as to attempt it.

Pugs He Has Handled.

In his time Shaughnessey has managed such fighters as Abe Attell, Kid Lavigne, Jack Johnson, "Duke" Kid Billy Woods, Stanley Ketchel, Al Kaufman, Jim Jeffries and a score of other notables too numerous to mention. Asked what he thought about Attell's ability to "come-back" he went off on a line of talk on matters fistie—past, present and future—that jarred the office boy from his seat and propelled him across to the "bee" with mouth gaping and ears twitching like a setter dog on the scent of a covey.

In the opinion of Mark Shaughnessey, Abe Attell had never gone anywhere and therefore he did not have to come back. The speaker said he had never seen a championship won so tamely as that won by Kilbane when he got the decision over Attell. The Jew was not even marked and was as fresh at the finish as when he entered the ring. True, Kilbane showed cleverness, and was quick as a cat, but none of the many blows he landed was damaging, and had clinching been discounted the Cleveland boy wouldn't have had a look in. Hit and clinch were Kilbane's long suit, and his persistency in following up this method of fighting won him the title.

Kilbane Going Up.

Shaughnessey thought that Kilbane would soon pass into the lightweight class, and in that case the featherweight crown would revert to Attell.

Albert Davies.

J. B. A. A. Boy Who Won the Pacific Northwest, 165-pound championship by default.

unless some other "feather" was developed capable of beating him to it. Looking at it any way one liked it was just about time Attell quit, anyway, and gave some one else a change.

That it was a joke pure and simple was what the fight promoter had to say about the coming Johnson-Flynn battle. Flynn never was of championship calibre, and as regarded the talk that the negro had undermined his stamina by fast living, as one traveled a faster pace than did his opponent to be the Puebla fireman. The logical successor to Johnson's laurels was either Joe Jeaneite or Sam Langford, with chances favoring the former. Jeaneite was coming all the time, while Langford was going back. The two had met a number of times and Langford had won easily at first, but Jeaneite had turned the tables on the last occasion, showing a wonderful improvement over his form in previous engagements with the Boston Tar Baby.

Might Be Cooked.

Switching from heavyweights to lightweights, Shaughnessey commented on the coming mill between Champion Ad Wolgast and Joe Rivers, the Mexican, in this line. He could see no reason at all why Wolgast should not win without any trouble. Rivers had never beaten anybody of much account and had yet to show that he was in a class with the title-holder. But if the two were rematched for another contest later on, and there was talk that they would be, there was a good sized chance that the July 4 fight might be cooked. That is, the boys would go along the full twenty rounds without any decisive result. The champion would be excused for his poor showing because of lack of proper training and also because of his recent operation.

Has White Hope in Hand.

Mark Shaughnessey at present has Jack Leon, the Russian Giant, better known as a wrestler than a boxer, in tow, and is touting him as the only "white hope" who stands a chance to wrest the world's championship from the tribe of negroes who now seem to have a mortgage on it. Leon had fought, said his manager, in six engagements and won them all. His aspirations to become a pugilist received a set-back about a year ago when he killed Bill Dunning in a bout at Maine. Leon has the longest reach of any fighter at present in the ring. Eighty-four inches it measures, and in comparison to the reach of that other and much talked-of "white hope," Al Palzer, which is 72 inches, is that of a dwarf. Johnson's reach is 84 inches. Speaking about Palzer, Shaughnessey said he showed signs of some day being a good man. He had a lot to learn but was young and might some day make good.

OLYMPIC MARATHON NOT A STRAIGHTAWAY

Contestants in Race at Stockholm to Run Twelve Miles and Return

New York, May 9.—The Olympic Marathon at Stockholm this year will not be over a straightaway course, but twelve miles out and back over the same road, starting from the stadium and going almost due north to the village of Sollentuna and back to the track. The competitors will make two circuits of the track at start and a fraction of a lap at the finish.

American representatives who have examined the course say it is a good road, running the entire way through practically wild country, with considerable variety of scenery and some hills, which, especially toward the finish, will be trying.

VICTORIA BANTAM WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Albert Davies Gathers in Another Title—Goes to Portland To-day

Victoria's clever little 105-lb. amateur boxer, Albert Davies, has taken another step upwards in his climb to fame. So far his rise has been rapid, but it cannot be said that it has been without difficulties. His latest feat is the winning of the Pacific Northwest championship.

Not along ago he entered the British Columbia championships, but upon making his appearance at the scene of the contests at Vancouver he found that there was no one to meet him. Consequently he entered to himself a title. Then he gathered the Pacific Northwest championships to be held in Portland to-day and to-morrow, and his friends were sure that this time he would be given a chance to show the stuff he is made of. But no, again the honors fell to him by default. No doubt there are some other exponents of the manly art of the local boy's weight on this side of the continent, and the only conclusion that can be arrived at, which satisfactorily solves the mystery of their sudden absence, is that they saw Davies coming. Just before Davies boarded the boat for Portland yesterday he received a wire informing him that no opponent could be found for him, and that therefore he was awarded the championship without competition.

He had abandoned all idea of making the trip when a second wire informed him that in order to get the title he must weigh in at Portland tonight or to-morrow night at 105 lbs. And not to be done out of his championship young Davies left for the Rose City to-day, accompanied by his brother, W. H. Davies. If the management will permit the two brothers will go on in an exhibition bout.

Davies Going East.

Albert Davies will be one of the party of B. C. boxers going east under Chet McIntyre's supervision to compete in the Canadian and American championship tournaments in Toronto and Boston. Others in the party are: (Ill) Martin, 155 lbs.; E. Barrieau, 135 lbs.; F. Barrieau, 145 lbs.; C. Patten, 145 lbs.

Inter-City Tourney Off.

The inter-city tournament at Vancouver this week, in which several local boys were to compete, has been called off.

The New Westminster senior amateur lacrosse team has elected Willis Patchell as captain. George Grinston will be manager and a strong effort will be made by the Royals to land the Mann cup.

MASTERS DEFEAT BOYS.

Yesterday the University school were to play the Garrison on the school ground, but the latter were unable to play and so the return match between the Boys and the Masters was played in glorious weather, the masters winning. Whitmore was the eleventh man for the Masters. The Boys batted first and were given a splendid start by York and Wyld, the score reaching 65 before the latter was caught for a very useful 15. York eclipsed his score of the previous Saturday, getting 54 runs before he was dismissed by Mr. Sparks, who was bowling at a fast pace. Mr. Sparks had the remarkable bowling average of 5 wickets for 5 runs, which shows the doggedness which was required by York to compile his 54. York wins the bat given to any boy who makes 50 runs in a match. Mr. Sparks was as useful also with the bat, making 73 before he was caught in the long field by Tatlow.

Victoria came into her own again yesterday when Narveson pitched almost shut-out ball against the Pippins. Only one effective hit was made off the former Twilight leaguer, that being a home run by Strait. Lamline, who started for Portland, was wild, and the Beavers ran in four tallies in the first three innings. Then Klein replaced the opposing heavier and held Victoria in check.

LAJOIE WORKED FOR $65.

Mobile, May 9.—Prosperity was not always Nap Lajoie's portion of the things handed out in this world.

There was a time in the long ago when the great Frenchman was willing to work for an entire year for about half what he receives for a month now.

Mique Finn, noted minor league manager, scout for the New York

Giants last year, and now engaged to manage the Mobile club, told the story which he claims has never been published.

Mique was manager of the Waltham club back in the '90s. With the close of the season of 1895 the Waltham team was switched to Newport, R. I. In the spring of 1896 Mique received a lengthy letter from Larry, asking for a job as catcher, mentioning a party named Costello, baseball writer of Newport, as reference, and stating that he would work for $45 a month.

Tommy Connolly, who was then umpiring in the New England League, advised Finn to look into the matter. A letter to Costello brought back the brief answer, "He won't do." Finn didn't answer Larry's letter.

Early in the spring Providence was scheduled to play the Fall River club. Connolly, who had been on the scene for three or four days, awaited the arrival of Finn with glowing tales of Larry's prowess. Finn was on hand the day of the game. Larry was at second.

"Never saw any hitting like his before or since then," declared Finn in relating the story.

Along about July 4 of that year Larry went to the Philadelphia club, Finn's treasury would have been vastly increased if he had listened to Larry's plea.

NO TRAP-SHOOTERS GOING FROM HERE

Rules Governing Competition Not Satisfactory to Local Club

No effort will be made to have Victoria represented in the trap shooting competition at the Olympic games. It was the intention of the Capital Gun Club to send their best marksmen to the trials, but some of the conditions governing the competition are not satisfactory to local trap shooters.

The secretary of the club has received a copy of the rules, and one which is taken exception to is that which says the competitor must not shoulder his gun or take sight or rest the butt against his shoulder before the clay pigeon has appeared in sight. The butt of the gun is to be held between the hips and the armpit, but under no condition rest against the shoulder. When spoken to this morning the secretary stated that this was utterly at variance with the rules prevailing all over the States and in most parts of Canada, in Victoria at any rate. Again the "rise" at the trials is to be at 17 1/2 yards, whereas the distance to which the local club is accustomed to is 16 yards.

The provincial trials will be held in Vancouver at the Richmond traps next Saturday. Trials are also being held in Calgary, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax, and the winners in these contests will shoot off at Montreal on May 24 and 25. The Canadian Olympic team is due to sail from Montreal on June 15, but the trap shooters will probably leave on May 30 in order to compete in the British championships in London on June 11.

GREAT DEVELOPMENTS COMING IN TOO LATE AT TOWNS UP COAST TO PASS AT STATION

Venture Comes in With News of Great Rush of People to North—May Sails Sanuki Will Have to Wait Until Morning—Nothing From Other Ships

Glowing reports of the great awakening of the coast towns as far north as Bella Coola within the past weeks were brought south by the Boscowitz steamer Venture, Capt. Parks, which arrived in port yesterday afternoon. The officers of the vessel spoke enthusiastically of the great developments which were taking place at the towns all along the coast, and state that the residents of these ports are looking for one of the best years that has ever been witnessed.

The summer schedule of the Venture gives her very little time at this port, and she cleared for the north again last night shortly before 12 o'clock. She is taking north a large shipment of supplies for the canneries, which very shortly will be running full swing. The officers of the Venture also state that the packers on the coast expect one of the largest runs of salmon in the past ten years.

Coming south the Venture has very light passenger lists, but on her last few voyages north to Bella Coola her saloon accommodation, as well as the steerage, has been filled to its capacity. It is surprising the number of people that are leaving for the northern towns, and the rush, which has only started, is expected to develop into the greatest of the past decade.

Too late to pass quarantine this evening the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Sanuki Maru, Capt. Teranaka, will have to remain at William Head until daylight to-morrow morning, when she will be inspected by the officials there and permitted to come up to this port. The steamship reported from sea last night and the local agents have been advised that she will drop her anchor off the Head about 10 o'clock to-night.

This is the second trip of the Sanuki in the trans-Pacific service, and it is understood that it will be her last, as the company has decided to withdraw her and the Kamakura Maru, replacing them with the two new steamships now building. She is not as fast as the other vessels operated by the Nippon line and is a day late getting in this voyage. According to the advice received by Mr. Dale, of the Great Northern, the liner is bringing 111 Chinese and 56 other passengers for Victoria, and 450 tons of general cargo.

Neither of the west coast stations so far, has been able to communicate with the Blue Funnel liner Bellerophon, Capt. Bebb, or the R. M. S. Empress of India, Capt. Beetham, both of which are due in port at the end of the week. The white liner should have

EXPECTED BACK FROM GUN PRACTICE TO-DAY

Rainbow Due in Port to-day—May Leave to Protect Fishing Interests

According to letters received here, H.M.C.S. Rainbow, Commander Rose, will return to Esquimalt late to-night. She has been absent from port for about a month and has spent the greater part of that time in the vicinity of Comox carrying out gun-laying tests and firing. Reports coming from Comox state that the gunners on the Canadian cruiser have done remarkably well in their shooting, running up excellent scores at every range.

The Rainbow upon her return will moor at her buoy in the harbor, and it is not known what assignment she will receive next. There is at present very little work for her to carry out, with the exception of making short cruises up the inside passage. She may be sent out to chase off the poachers, reported to be stealing fish from the West Coast fishing grounds. A sight of the Rainbow is enough to put a scare into the fishermen, and for a long time after she captured the Edrie not a boat ventured inside the limit. Since the new government took over the reins of office they have been lax in guarding the fisheries of this coast, and as a result the American boats are taking advantage of the easiness of stealing the fish.

It is expected that the warship Shearwater, Commander Vivian, will leave San Francisco almost any day now for Esquimalt. She has been lying there for over two months awaiting the arrival of her new propeller from the Old Country.

STARTS SEMI-WEEKLY SERVICE TO RUPERT

Prince Rupert Cleared This Morning for North—Has Good Passenger List

Starting on her first trip to Prince Rupert, after a two months' lie up, and inaugurating the semi-weekly service of the Grand Trunk Pacific Steamship Company, the steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Barney Johnson, left port this morning at 10 o'clock. She cleared with a good list of passengers, both for Vancouver and Prince Rupert. Among those who left for the north were the following: H. A. Porter, H. E. Holliday, John Moffat, H. Shaw, F. W. Banks, Miss Chavel, J. M. Spencer, Mrs. S. A. Spencer, G. M. Williscroft, W. A. Williscroft, Geo. Geal and Geo. Reid.

W. A. Williscroft, who is read superintendent of the provincial government in the district of Hazelton, took north with him eight horses, which will be used in general work there. George Williscroft, a former high school boy, left with his father to put in the summer working on the road. Mrs. Spencer is going to Prince Rupert and will spend about three weeks touring the coast and interior in that vicinity.

When asked this morning how things were working on the Prince Rupert, Capt. Johnson said that his ship was never in better condition since the day she was launched. The engines of the big three-funnel ship are in perfect condition and the officers expect in the near future to demonstrate the real speed of the steamer. Capt. Johnson believes his command will make nineteen knots with her six boilers blowing off.

Several changes have been made in the officers of the Rupert. With Capt. Johnson are the following: Chief officer, L. R. Roberson; first officer, R. McKenzie; second officer, W. Ballies; third officer, J. Thompson; chief engineer, D. G. Forrier; second engineer, A. G. Munroe; purser, S. Miller; chief steward, P. J. Hamilton, and wireless operator, J. Cannon.

WILL TRY TO FLOAT KNIGHT STEAMSHIP

Sydney Syndicate to Attempt to Free St. George From Reefs in South Seas

Attempts were made by the syndicate of Sydney, N. S. W., shipping men, who have just completed negotiations for the purchasing of the wrecked steamer Knight of St. George, to float the vessel and take her to Auckland, N. Z., for repairs. A most modern salvage plant is to be dispatched to the scene of the wreck, near Nukunono, Tonga, and high hopes are held out of her being refloated. The syndicate paid but a small sum for the wreck, and if they are successful in getting her off they will have negotiated a good bargain.

Many are doubtful that the Knight of St. George can be floated, as her master, Capt. Stephens, did not discontinue her until he had made a careful examination of her and found that she was so tightly wedged on the reef that it would be impossible to pull her off. However, with an up-to-date salvage plant it is possible that the well-known steamer may be floated off and taken to Auckland for repairs.

It will be remembered that the Knight of St. George was en route from Puget Sound to Australia with general cargo when she struck on the treacherous reef in the southern seas. Capt. Stephens succeeded in salvaging all of the cargo, which consisted mostly of lumber. The salvaging operations on the St. George will be watched with interest as the freighter is well known here.

FRENCH BARQUE GENERAL FAIDHERBE

To this windjammer belongs not only the honor of having made the fastest passage between the Sound and England of the 1911-12 grain fleet but also that of having beaten two English barques in one of the longest sailing races ever known. The

The freight now offering is so great that steamers have been forced to clear from the Terminal City without taking all that has been booked for them. The C. P. R. steamer Princess May, Capt. McLeod, will sail for Prince Rupert and Skagway to-night at 11 o'clock. The May is taking out a large number of passengers, and also will have her holds filled with general freight.

The French barque Amiral Cecille left Shields, Eng., on May 1 for San Francisco with general cargo.

The schooner Eric arrived at Tocopilla May 1, 106 days out from Grays Harbor, with a cargo of 607,000 feet of lumber.

The French ship La Perouse, 140 days out to-day from the Tyne for Oregon, was spoken on March 3, in lat. 47 S., long. 63 W.

The British barque Harold, 70 days out to-day from Cardiff for British Columbia, was spoken on May 17 in lat. 5 S., long. 31 W.

The barquentine James Tuft sailed from Antofagasta for Puget Sound last Friday. She arrived at the former port on March 17 last with a cargo of lumber.

The French barque Jules Gomme arrived at Cork on Saturday, 128 days out from the Columbia river, with a cargo of 73,394 cents wheat, valued at $102,751.

With a cargo of 570 tons for Victoria the Pacific Coast steamship Umattila, Capt. Harris, will arrive in port to-night from San Francisco. She is bringing a good list of passengers north.

The French barque General Faidherbe, Capt. Ragout, which unloaded cargo at this port and which loaded grain on the Sound, has been declared the winner in the long ocean race from Cape Flattery to England. She left thirteen days after the Olivebank and ten days behind the Springbank. The Olivebank arrived at Limerick three days before the General Faidherbe, and the Springbank has not as yet appeared.

Local agents expect that the Kosmos liner Abessinia will arrive in port to-night from San Francisco. She will dock at the outer wharves and discharge 300 tons of nitrate for the Victorias Chemical Works. It will take her a little over a day to discharge the cargo. After coaling at Comox she will proceed to Seattle to load general freight for Hamburg.

R. T. Rodd, of Stuart Lake, Returns to Coast After Season's Work. R. T. Rodd, the officer in charge of the Dominion hatchery at Stuart Lake in the Cassiar country, has returned to the coast on the conclusion of the season's work there. He reports that 7,200,000 eggs were taken, and six and a half million sockeye fry released.

WESTHOLME COMPANY WILL RETAIN CONTRACT

Council Returns to Position Prior to Cancellation
—Mayor and Alderman Beard Do Not Concur
In Retention By Original Tenderers.

The city council decided yesterday to leave the contract for the Sooke Lake waterworks with the Westholme Lumber Company, at any rate for the next three months, after which the city can step in, and return to the position they adopted in the present instance. The specifications call for work to be done at the end of six months equal to 15 per cent of the whole, or about $155,000, and if the contractors are to assure this amount being carried through, it will be necessary to augment the staff on the works, although it was explained that the company has put more men on the work recently, and with the better weather should be able to hustle the portion in hand.

This decision was arrived at after a private and public conference, the other proposals of the contractors mentioned at Monday's meeting being read but not considered.

Public or Private.
There was a preliminary discussion downstairs as to whether the meeting should be open to the press, the aldermen and officials having already talked the matter over in committee, and the desire to resist the presence of the press was negated through the activity of Alderman Cuthbert, who pointed out that the council had adjourned to the hour set, and, therefore, the press or public must be admitted.

City Solicitor Robertson went upstairs to look up the authorities, and determine the law on the subject. While he was away the council decided to adjourn the meeting upstairs, and accordingly did so, thereby settling the matter.

To Retain Contract.
On taking their seats in the council chamber Alderman Cuthbert rose and moved that the council should allow the Westholme Company to continue on the field, and receive and file the communication advising the receipt of correspondence from the contractors. He pointed out that their duty as aldermen was difficult whatever the council determined upon, and they must expect criticism. They had to face litigation, and a possible loss of $400,000 of the city's money. If they did not take this course they must call for fresh tenders, and therefore have to submit a by-law which would be in danger of being defeated through the combination of opponents of the Sooke scheme.

They might not then have Sooke lake water brought into the city at all. If the by-law was defeated they would then have many thousands of dollars worth of expropriated lands on their hands which would not be required. He thought the maintenance of matters in the way they stood was the best method of dealing with one of the most unfortunate things which had been before the city of Victoria.

Should Stand Pat.
Aldermen Beard and Dilworth were on their feet together, and the mayor gave the floor to the former. Alderman Beard thought the council had given every latitude to the contractors, and they should not have rescinded their former action to remove the company from the work. The aldermen were men of experience, and having decided to remove the contractors they should have stood by their action adopted in the first place. They had the report of their officials that an unnecessary delay had occurred, and by it they should stand. He, therefore, moved an amendment that the council stand by its original action.

Alderman Dilworth, on seconding Alderman Cuthbert's motion, was told by the mayor that it had lapsed through the want of a seconder, whereupon he declared he had been unfairly treated by the chair.

Alderman Baker rose to second the amendment, when the same objection was taken by Alderman Cuthbert, who observed hotly: "I will not stand for this favoritism which is shown by you."

The Mayor: "I am not going to allow you to fool away the time of the council any longer."

His worship, therefore, indicated that he would ask the council to sustain him in a point of order, whether the chair had rightly declared the motion of Alderman Cuthbert dead for want of a seconder.

Mayor Loses.
The ruling was not sustained, Aldermen Stewart, Humber, Cuthbert, Dilworth and Porter voting against, and the motion to sustain only receiving four votes.

A New Motion.
Thereupon his worship said he would treat the matter afresh, and Alderman Stewart took up the debate, moving to receive the commissioner's report, and to leave the contract with the Westholme company. He thought, the alderman said, that they had acted somewhat hastily, and the company should be tried out for another three months. This action would not be any reflection on the officials for their report and recommendations to the city council.

Alderman Cuthbert seconded this, which was the only motion before the council. Alderman Gleason took the line that the whole question was to secure water as quickly as possible, and while he believed the contractors had not accomplished what they should have done, if some of the contractors now tendering were prepared to bring water in from Sooke in 12 months, they could afford to wait till July before letting a new contract, should that course be essential. The reservoir repair would be shortly completed, and the temporary inconvenience of blocks downtown would then be relieved.

Alderman Dilworth, while thinking that the council was taking the right course under the circumstances, feared a recurrence of the present position when the next three months were up.

Danger of Delay.
Alderman Okell doubted if they were adopting the right course in shilly-shallying the question, and thought that having arrived at a course of action they should stay by it. The question resolved itself into how much was the council prepared to pay for getting water in, and getting it quickly?

Alderman Beard wanted some evidence that the company were purchasing material, and that they showed a bona fide attempt to deal with the situation.

Alderman Baker asked the city solicitor if this action proposed would be without prejudice, and Mr. Robertson thought it would tie up the council as to notifying the contractors through the water commissioner at any time during the next three months.

The mayor deprecated any desire to see the company left on the work without materials, and in a position to tie it up indefinitely. He did not concur with the motion.

Would Aid Company.

Alderman Humber leaned over and spoke if this action proposed would be without prejudice, and Mr. Robertson thought it would tie up the council as to notifying the contractors through the water commissioner at any time during the next three months.

The water commissioner said several applications of this character had been made to him by contractors.

His worship: "If you begin to assume their financial obligations you will then be committing yourself."

The resolution was then submitted, the mayor and Alderman Beard voting in the negative, and the meeting adjourned.

IDEAS OF A PLAIN MAN BY DR. FRANK CRANE

Joy is vastly more wonderful than sorrow. It is deeper, higher, fuller of mystery and awe. Tragedy is a dramatic thing. Grief and calamity are mainly stage affairs, and belong to that order of unusual and extraordinary things that make the ignorant or a crowd gape. The playwright seizes these black themes for effect simply because his audience cannot understand the greatness of joy.

There are but few pains in the world. You can run them over on your fingers; sickness, torture, deception, disappointment, love lost, and so forth. And almost any fool, any ignoramus, any least developed nature can feel them.

But joy is complex, infinite, endlessly varied. There are the pleasures of art, of literature, of scientific pursuits, of problem solving, of music, of intellectual creation, which are caviars to the general. Then there are the delights of virtue, of work, of perseverance, of unselfishness, of making others happy, of the worship of God, and of these a very large portion of mankind is skeptical or ignorant. Add to these the enjoyment of Nature, the love of woods and streams, mountains, oceans and flowers, of which many persons know little. Also the fine ecstasy of great ideas and of noble dreams. "Often," writes a philosopher, "the sorrow of the wise resembles the sorrow of any other man, but his happiness is no sort of kin to that which fools call happiness. There are more unknown regions, more undiscovered country, in joy than in sorrow. To understand the joy of great souls you must be great as they."

During the last forty years the population of France has only increased by 2,000,000.

That Will Play on Your Talking Machine and Give You at Least EIGHTY-FIVE CENTS' worth of music?

We have prepared a "sample" Columbia Double-Disc Record—on one side a selection by the Columbia Male Quartette that is not included in the catalogue lists and that you ought to hear; on the other side a certain story that we would tell you here if type could tell it, which it can't.

Things that cost you little are usually just worth that. Here is one extraordinary exception. The Columbia Phonograph Company has never dealt in "bargains"—and everybody knows it; but are always ready to give any interested inquirer the best catalogue that can be prepared.

Do not hesitate just because it costs only ten cents. This ten cents is charged merely to cover the cost of handling and the whole purpose in issuing it is to get in touch with as many Talking Machine owners as possible.

Hon. H. E. Young left yesterday for the east for the purpose of studying the systems of administering educational affairs prevailing in the provinces. He will be away three or four weeks.

J. D. Cobbold, of the Holywells, Ipswich, Eng., a son of a former member for the borough, and himself a past high sheriff of the county of Suffolk, arrived in the city yesterday accompanied by E. H. Burton.

Frank Kermode, curator of the Provincial Museum, and Mrs. Kermode, have left on an official tour which will include Chicago, New York and Washington, after which he will sail for the Old Country. He will be present at the convention in New York of the American Association of Museums, which will be held from June 1 to June 7. During Mr. Kermode's absence the affairs of the provincial museum will be administered by E. M. Anderson. Results advantageous to the administration of the museum are expected from Mr. Kermode's visit.

Two interesting engagements were recently announced. One was the engagement of Miss Morna Bate, eldest daughter of the late Lieut.-Col. H. Allen Bate and Mrs. Bate, and granddaughter of Sir Henry Bate, K.C.M.G., to Mr. William Coristine, of Montreal. The marriage will take place on Saturday, June 1. The other is the engagement of Miss Dorothy Walters, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. McDonald Walters, to Mr. Llewellyn Bate, youngest son of Sir Henry Bate. The marriage will take place on Monday, June 1.

Hon. W. R. Ross returned yesterday afternoon from a six weeks' visit to Ottawa, Washington and other points. His trip had principally to do with forestry matters. At the present time the railway commission has under consideration the recommendation of the federal commission on conservation that Dominion controlled railways in this province be compelled to use exclusively on and after April 1, 1914, Mr. Ross opposed this recommendation, urging that ample protection for the forests was provided for under the regulations in the provincial forestry and Dominion railway acts, and that if the exclusive use of oil was made compulsory it would severely handicap the British Columbia coal producers and throw the business into the hands of the California oil people. In this connection a press dispatch was yesterday received from Ottawa as follows: "The conservation commission met this afternoon and drew up a series of proposed ameliorations to be recommended to the railway company. Most of these dealt with the preservation of forests. A strong recommendation was passed insisting that, especially in British Columbia, all locomotives should use only oil, and that this should take effect before 1914. It was stated that the C. P. R. had already expressed its willingness to do so, and it was urged that other companies should be compelled to do the same."

While in the east Mr. Ross also took up the question of the transfer of the administration of water rights in the railway belt from the Dominion to the provincial authorities upon which an agreement between the two governments has been arrived at. In this connection it has been found necessary for increases of staff and the securing of the best and most authoritative technical and expert advice and assistance. In order that the system adopted may be the very best. In this connection Hon. Mr. Ross counts himself fortunate in having been able to secure the co-operation and active aid of Dr. Samuel Porter, chief of irrigation investigations in the experimental stations branch of the United States department of agriculture.

In the presence of a gathering of friends and relatives who assembled in Christ Church, Vancouver, at noon yesterday, the marriage took place of Miss Mabel Ellen Springer, daughter of the late Mr. Benjamin Springer, one of the early residents of Vancouver, and Mr. Watkin St. John Boulton, of Winnipeg, son of Mr. and Mrs. St. John Boulton, of Eitham, Kent, England. The rector, Rev. C. C. Owen, performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given away by her brother,

Mr. Hugh Springer, wore a handsome directoire suit, the skirt of cream Bedford cord finished with tailored knots of cream braid and the smart coat of white satin with a broad side rever and deep cuffs of heavy lace, knots of silk braid marking the waist line. With this was worn a blouse of delicate silver lace over white satin and a wide hat of white tagel straw faced with black velvet, and bearing a wreath of silver roses, the rim turned back in front and ornamented with a sweeping ostrich feather overlaid with a slender feather in black and white. Her flowers were bride's roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Isabel Wilson as bridesmaid wearing a gown of pale pink silk veiled with blue nylon and richly trimmed with Brunswick point lace. Her hat was of the same lace trimmed with pink rosebuds and she carried a shower of pink roses. The groom was supported by Mr. Humble of Vancouver, and the ushers were Mr. A. St. J. McIntosh, Mr. J. C. Ross and Mr. Hart McHarg. At the conclusion of the ceremony the bride and groom returned to the home of the bride on Gilford street, where a luncheon was served. Miss Eva Springer's gown was of sage blue satin with an overdress of Dresden chiffon and her hat was of the same shade of blue with roses. Mrs. Bauer, another sister of the bride, wore a handsome Parisian model, a skirt of cerise satin and a black satin directoire coat opening over a Persian vest. A large black picture had completed the costume. Mr. Hugh Springer was gowned in champagne colored poplin with collar and cuffs of cream lace and a black plumed hat. Mr. and Mrs. Boulton left for Victoria for a short visit and will return to Vancouver for a few days before going on to their future home in Winnipeg. Mrs. Boulton travelled in a tailored broadcloth suit in a soft shade of violet, her hat being fashioned of harmonizing violet satin, the rolling rim caught with a beaded ornament in tones of green and purple and a graceful plume falling to the back. The blouse was of violet hued silk with white lace yoke.

The Evening Chit-Chat
By Ruth Cameron

Two mothers were comparing notes on the habits of their respective sons. Said one mother with a sigh: "Oh, I do wish Philip were as tidy as your boy. I never saw anything neater than your boy's room. And those dainty curtains and that nice rug. I should 'n't any more dare have things like that in Philip's room. They'd be ruined in no time. Why Philip—"

For several minutes the other mother listened to a category of Philip's sins of untidiness—how he tracked mud into his room, put his feet upon the chairs, kept his bureau perpetually littered, his shoes scattered about the room and his clothes draped over the furniture. Finally, at a slight pause, she managed to put in, "Mark used to be just like that."

"Why I thought he was naturally orderly."

"He certainly was not. His room used to be such a sight that I dreaded to go into it. I'd lecture him almost every day, but it didn't do the slightest good."

"Well, what on earth did you do then?"

Mark's mother smiled. "You know you just spoke of the dainty curtains and nice rugs in Mark's room," she said. "Well, they are part of the secret. You thought I put them there because Mark was neat and careful. As a matter of fact, it's more the other way around. He is neat and careful because they are there."

"You see, I went up into my boy's room one morning to clean up after he had gone to school, and it was in such a state of disorder that I was really discouraged. 'He ought to live in the barn instead of the house,' I said to myself. And then, as I cleaned it, somehow I got to thinking, and I looked around the room and realized it wasn't so unlike a barn either. I had had the girls' room carpeted twice since his was done because I thought a boy didn't care. And yet, that paper was dirty and faded and altogether hideous. Instead of the pretty hangings like the rest of the house, I had put cheap saak curtains in his room. The carpet was threadbare, the furniture was cheap and old. In fact, I realized that there was really nothing to inspire the boy with a desire to keep the place neat and tidy.

"My husband and I had a conference that night, and the next day I started to make Mark's room as pretty as the girls'. And positively it hurt me to see how pleased he was. You see, I had always been foolish enough to think that boys didn't care. Well, to make a long story short, Mark lives up to his room now just as he lived down to it before. Of course the change didn't come all at once—that was four years ago—but you can see it's pretty complete now.

"I wonder," said Philip's mother dubiously, "if that would ever work with Philip?"

"There's one very good way to find out," said the wiser lady briskly.

STRIKE SITUATION IN PENNSYLVANIA

Threats Against State Troops Who Are on Duty in Coalfields

Philadelphia, May 9.—The situation in the anthracite coal regions is believed to be growing more serious hourly. Yesterday's shooting of three foreign-speaking miners at Minersville by state troops has had the effect of embittering the foreigners.

At a meeting last night at Minersville, at which all Americans were barred, threats were made against the troops and the miners assembled say they are determined to prevent work being done at any of the collieries in the Minersville section to-day. It is feared that if the troopers attempt to carry out their avowed intention to search the foreigners' homes for firearms to-morrow it will mean a day of bloodshed.

At Shenandoah, the state troopers were called out last night to disperse a crowd of several thousand which had assembled because of some trivial incident, but there was no violence.

Tracks on the Natalie branch of the Reading railroad, near Shamokin, were dynamited late yesterday, several rails being torn from the ties. The road leads to the Natalie colliery, which has been idle since the suspension of work April 1.

Dynamite fastened to the Erie tracks, near Scranton, was found yesterday in time to prevent the blowing up of a freight train.

Attempt to Wreck Train.
Pottsville, Pa., May 9.—The mountains about Minersville were dotted to-day with pickets representing idle miners who hid behind bushes and rocks and who stopped many workers on their way to the collieries and warned them not to go to work. No trouble was reported.

Lehigh Valley and Centralia police dispersed pickets near Mount Carmel and arrested one man after a sharp fight, for throwing stones at company lands.

An unsuccessful attempt was made at North Gap during the night to wreck a Reading freight train.

Special policemen and trackwalkers have been distributed along the road.

MUST SERVE SENTENCE.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 9.—Walter S. Dibley, convicted of murdering Stanley Ketchell, middleweight champion fighter of the world, must serve his sentence in the Missouri prison, according to a decision of the superior court to-day.

Goldie Smith, convicted and serving a life-term as an accessory of Dibley, was discharged from prison by the court which reversed the judgment against her. The court held the evidence was not sufficient to convict her.

SEVEN PERISH.

Launch Capsized During Storm and All Occupants Are Drowned.

Fox Lake, Ill., May 9.—The body of Mrs. Mabel Hanson, of Chicago, who, with a party of seven persons, was drowned in a storm which swept Fox Lake last night, was recovered to-day. Searching parties have been dragging the lake since daylight for the bodies of the other victims.

The party started to cross the lake in a 16-foot steel gasoline launch. Five minutes after the launch left persons on the shore heard cries for help and a boat was rushed out, but no trace of the launch or the victims were found.

DRILL CONTESTS.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 9.—Business and the more serious tasks before the imperial council, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, has disappeared with yesterday's session. To-day was spent by the visiting thousands to the thirty-eighth annual Shriners' conclave on social enjoyment. With thousands of local residents, the Shriners watched the drill teams of the various patrols at work in their annual contest at Lucky Baldwin's famous racetrack at Arcadia.

San Diego, monopolized the street parade to-day with "Admission Pageant," which contained twenty-one floats representing early days in California. After the drills at Arcadia, the Shriners were taken to a local hotel, where they attended a banquet, and in the evening they will be guests at a vaudeville entertainment. In the last of the electrical parades will be given this evening and the conclave closes to-morrow.

AMASSADOR RESIGNS.

Berlin, May 9.—The retirement of Count Paul Wolffe-Metterlitch from the post of German ambassador at London, was semi-officially announced to-day and the name of Baron Marbach von Bieberstein, Germany's foremost diplomat, has been submitted to the government as his successor.

Cologne, May 9.—The nomination as ambassador to London of Marschal von Bieberstein, according to an inspired dispatch from Berlin to the Cologne Gazette, shows the importance that Germany attaches to its relations with Great Britain. The dispatch states that the new ambassador will initiate a somewhat altered policy toward Great Britain.

ALBERTA APPEAL.

Ottawa, May 9.—In the supreme court to-day appeal was heard in the case of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co. vs. Alfred and Wickham. The appeal is from the judgment of the supreme court of Alberta affirming the judgment of the chief justice of Alberta, at the trial by which, on the verdict of the jury, respondents were awarded $55,148 damages for breach of contract on construction of about 40 miles of the G. T. P. westward from McLeod-river. The railway company seeks to have the judgment set aside or a new trial ordered. Argument is proceeding.

ITALIAN REVERSE DENIED.

Turkish Governor of Rhodes Reported to Be a Prisoner.

Rome, May 9.—An official note issued to-day declares false the Turkish dispatch received from the governor of Rhodes to the effect that the Turkish troops had won a great victory there and captured 1,000 Italians. On the contrary, it is said the Turkish governor in Rhodes and his secretary are prisoners of the Italians, and will be sent to Italy.

WILL VISIT OTTAWA.

Ottawa, May 9.—Premier Borden has received to-day a dispatch that Sir Ralph Williams, governor of Newfoundland, would this month pay an official visit to Canada.

This announcement of this news has started a rumor that annexation between the two countries may be opened shortly. The story has it that while Governor Williams visit is mainly to pay his respects to the Duke of Connaught, it is hoped that it will lead to a more friendly understanding between the two countries to be followed by closer trade relations and annexation.

MAY DIE FROM WOUNDS.

Chicago, May 9.—The police are endeavoring to solve the mystery surrounding the probable fatal stabbing of George Thompson, 33 years of age, a stationary fireman of Seattle, Wash., who was found unconscious to-day in a West Side street suffering from six wounds in the neck and body. He is in a critical condition. Thompson told the police he was attacked by two negroes, but detectives say that he invented the story to shield his real assailant.

DEMANDS OF ENGINEERS.

New York, May 9.—Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, the arbitrator chosen by the Eastern roads, and P. H. Morrissey, former president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, chosen as arbitrator by the locomotive engineers, expect to meet to-day to appoint five other arbitrators to form with them a board of seven to consider the demands of the engineers.

BOND ISSUES.

London, May 9.—The British Columbia Telephone Company offered £400,000 debentures at 94½, and £15,000 preference at 98½. The Bank of Montreal offered last night the Quebec Lake & St. John railway £163,258 first mortgage four per cent. The debentures are due in 1962 at 98½, unconditionally guaranteed by the New Brunswick government.

THE NAVY QUESTION.

London, May 9.—Right Hon. Lewis Harcourt, the colonial secretary, has informed J. Morton Griffiths, the Unionist member for Wednesbury, that unless Canada wants a conference representing all the dominions on the navy question, he thinks it unnecessary to ask others to send representatives.

APPRECIATION OF WILLIAM T. STEAD

O'Connor in T. P.'s Weekly Eulogizes the Dead Journalist

Mr. T. P. O'Connor, the noted journalist and parliamentarian, writing in the London Daily Telegraph, pays a notable tribute to the memory of his old friend and fellow-worker, the late Mr. W. T. Stead. As will be seen, he is by no means oblivious to the faults and idiosyncrasies of the famous journalist, but he is ready to acknowledge Mr. Stead's honesty of purpose and unswerving devotion to what he believed to be right. Mr. O'Connor writes:

"A strange, a familiar, a very complex figure disappeared from the life of London with the lamented death of Mr. Stead. He had a genius and perhaps even a little of a passion for keeping well in the public eye. Whatever he did, he did resolutely; knowing neither fear nor hesitation nor false shame. A vehement, ardent, audacious and dramatic nature, he pursued any course on which he entered with such blowing of loud trumpets, with such determinations, sometimes with such recklessness, and such honest self-forgetfulness that he never ceased for many years to fill the public eye and public ear. He attacked powerful causes and powerful personalities; he achieved many things; he failed in many things; he was at times the idol of large sections and the abomination of other sections of the countrymen. There were many moments in his life which were glorious; there were some that were open to question on the ground of taste or of that genial indulgence for human frailty which public opinion in this country likes to see extended even to the sinner. But at the end of it all there remained for Mr. Stead a general esteem; he was never charged with anything but the best motives; when he erred, he erred through a fanatical desire to relieve a human wrong which he loathed; he remained, with all his strong international and humanitarian sympathies, the typical English Puritan, with the bigotry, the over-confident sense of intimacy with Divine powers and of Divine inspiration, with the reckless and self-sacrificing courage which has played so great a part—sometimes so good and sometimes so mischievous a part—in the great affairs of England."

"William Stead came from the North of England, and from the home of a Nonconformist clergyman. And he looked the Northern to the end of his days; the Northern with something of the Viking, in coloring as well as in character. When first he came to London he was a red-haired, shaggy man, with the light gleaming blues-grey eyes that are Scandinavian rather than English."

Mr. O'Connor proceeds to tell of Mr. Stead's work on the Pall Mall Gazette, first as assistant to John Morley, now Lord Morley, and later as editor himself. "He was always on the move, always inaugurating some new campaign, always finding some new sensation. He was undoubtedly one of the chief agencies in producing the expedition of General Gordon to Khartoum. With all their tremendous differences of character and career, there was a certain sympathy between the two men. They were both mystics, both Puritans, both students of the Scriptures, and both fearless visionaries. Stead always defended Gordon as the ideal Christian hero to the end of his days, and no man ever said a word against Gordon without eliciting a vehement and even furious reply from Stead."

there, and he demeaned himself, to the combined horror and amusement of the staid and courtly diplomatists there—accustomed to all the stiff shackles of their hierarchical life—as if he were the ruler who had summoned it and the omnipotent plenipotentiary who controlled all its proceedings. He often must have made himself something of a nuisance to these courtly gentlemen; but he went on, demanding with insistent voice impossible decisions, and convinced that the conference had only to say Peace, and that universal peace would immediately follow.

The Boer war brought him once more into brilliant limelight, and into one of those cyclones of personal unpopularity through which he so often passed in his restless and chequered career. He wrote violent articles, addressed meetings, created an organization, and published a periodical to bring the war to an end; and now and then he had to submit to very violent manifestations of outraged patriotic sentiment. His periodical suffered largely, because people ceased to read it in large numbers, and the advertising revenue fell with the falling circulation. But this man was absolutely disinterested, and even reckless where his pecuniary and personal interests were concerned; and he went on his way, cheerfully and even smilingly. He had fierce convictions, but he never had any personal animosities.

He was drawn to the German Emperor by certain common qualities of restlessness and dreams, and was one of those who took an active part in promoting the exchange of visits between the journalists of England and Germany. Stead would be in his element in such gatherings. Getting up without hesitation and without a trace of embarrassment, he would deliver with extraordinary fluency a speech half English, half ungrammatical, but intelligible German, amid roars of laughter and applause.

In later years there was a good deal of mellowing of the sterner features of his earlier days. He could join in a good dinner, and his stern tectotalism had disappeared. He remained restless to the end, and full of visions and campaigns, and movements to bring about some mighty change in the world. He had an abiding and inflexible optimism which made him always hopeful and energetic in his purposes. But there had come over his face—especially in the last year or two—a certain change. The beard and hair were still shaggy, but they were grey, not red; and the eyes, though glistening, had a certain look of fatigue; and the last time the writer of these lines dined with him there was a certain suggestion of a man that was tired, and even a little saddened. One could fancy there was a look of that second sight in which he believed, for one of his many aberrations was a belief in spooks and immediate communication between this world of reality and the world of spirits. His end is, in some sense, fitting, for his was a career and a character too dramatic to end in a common way. And, with all his faults and mistakes, he is, in grateful memory to him, that his faults were generous, and his mistakes came from narrow beliefs and ideals in his early life. And so peace be with him in his grave in the ocean."

Los Angeles, Cal., May 9.—Peter Walker, a wealthy contractor who recently completed a large part of the government work at Yuma Irrigation dam, was shot and killed by Mrs. Anna Dewey, of Haskell, Okla., said to be the daughter of a former congressman. Mrs. Dewey committed suicide. The tragedy occurred in the apartments of the woman, probably last Saturday, but the bodies were not found until yesterday.

BANK EMPLOYEES
SENT TO PRISON

Young Men Who Pleaded Guilty to Theft and Forgery Are Sentenced

Vancouver, May 9.—Three years in prison for the Imperial Bank clerk, two and a half for the receiving teller in the Merchants' Bank, and two years for the paying teller in the Merchants' Bank, were the sentences imposed by Magistrate Shaw in the police court this morning on three young men who pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of thefts from the banks as well as of forgery and conspiracy.

The cases were called shortly before 11 o'clock, when the three young men, standing side by side in the dock, faced the magistrate. The youngest man looked with downcast eyes at the magistrate's bench in front of him, while the others, pale-faced, gazed pensively at the magistrate.

"Have you anything to say why I should not pass sentence on you?" asked His Worship.

"No, sir," replied all three.

Speaking in a low and deliberate voice the magistrate said: "It is a sad thing for me to be compelled to pronounce sentence on three young men who are just starting out in life. You have been shown to be guilty of a most serious offence, but you have only yourselves to blame in the matter. It is necessary for me to inflict punishment on you in order that it may be a deterrent to others who are going along the same road as you were going. It is my duty to punish crime."

Turning to the elder of the men the magistrate said: "You were to some extent responsible in leading this other man astray. I propose to give you the shortest sentence that it is my power to do. You will then have a chance of living a good and clean life, and I trust you will lead a better life at the expiration of your sentence. I sentence you to three years in the penitentiary."

Turning to the receiving teller, the magistrate sentenced him to two and a half years, and dealing with the third man, he said: "Your case is slightly different to these others, but it is none the less serious. I sentence you to two years in the penitentiary."

The exact amount of the purchase price was not disclosed. Delivery to the purchasers will be made next week.

By this transaction, it is said, some already wealthy persons and estates in California and the east will add materially to their bank accounts. The Crocker, of California; the Leland Stanford, Jr., University; and Edward F. Scaries, of Methuen, Mass., the decorator, will be benefited, according to report. A fourth owner is General Thomas H. Hubbard, of New York.

The Guatemala Central Railway Company has approximately 225 miles of road and extends from San Jose, Mexican Pacific ocean port, to the city of Guatemala. There are several branch lines.

About 27 years ago the late Collis P. Huntington and his associates built the Guatemala line. The new purchasers intend to complete a fourteen-mile gap and complete connection with the Pan-American road and arrange connections with Mexican lines.

GOMEZ A PRISONER.

Held in Juarez Customs House, Which is Surrounded by Rebels.

Washington, D. C., May 9.—Emilio Vasquez Gomez is held a prisoner in the customs house at Juarez, according to advices to the state department to-day. A heavy guard has been thrown about the building. The department is further advised that Orozco probably will not confirm Gomez as president. The reports indicate the rebels have been defeated in the mountain passes El Puerto Del Carmen, between Monteclova and Cuatro Chenes, Coahuila.

FISHERIES QUESTIONS.

Series of Conferences Between Representatives of Canada and United States.

Washington, D. C., May 9.—The series of conferences which, it is hoped, will result in a mutually satisfactory agreement between the United States and Canada regarding regulations for the Atlantic fisheries, as well as for the government of the inland fisheries, began yesterday at the state department.

WRECK ON GRAND TRUNK.

Sarnia, May 9.—A Grand Trunk passenger train, westbound from Toronto to this town, ran into an open switch and the engine and two cars were overturned in a gravel pit about a mile from Blackwell station. The three remaining cars were derailed, but no one aboard was badly injured. A news agent, Ben Penton, was bruised about the body and several passengers were shaken up. The train was travelling slowly at the time. The line was cleared in a few hours.

Toronto, May 9.—Under the leadership of Rev. R. Moffatt Cautrey, president; William Ward, general secretary; and R. J. Harry, international secretary, all of the English National Council of the British Brotherhood Federation, a delegation from the British Brotherhood now working in Ontario, will go west on May 14, being due to arrive in Port Arthur and conduct a meeting in St. Paul's Presbyterian church there on May 16. They will arrive in Winnipeg on May 18 and leave for Portage la Prairie on May 20. Arrangements are being made for a conference by the delegation with the organizations of Regina, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver and Victoria.

Thomas Howell, immigration commissioner of the Canadian Northern railway, will accompany the brotherhood party west.

SPRING SEEDING ON THE PRAIRIES

Large Increase in Acreage in Saskatchewan and Alberta

Winnipeg, May 9.—Seventy per cent. of the spring wheat seeding is finished in Manitoba and eighty-five in Saskatchewan and Alberta according to W. A. Matheson, head of the wheat department of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company. The acreage seeded to the prime cereal will show an increase of 35 per cent. in Saskatchewan and 15 per cent. in Alberta, but there will be no increase in Manitoba, though more coarse grains will be sown. Recent heavy rains have done a lot of good throughout the country and though they have checked seeding operations Mr. Matheson considers the season yet early and looks to the conclusion of wheat seeding by May 30. Farmers last year seeded until the middle of June.

SERVICE LIKELY TO BE REORGANIZED

Number of Changes Will Be Made in Canadian Trade Agencies

Ottawa, May 9.—The minister of trade and commerce is contemplating a thorough reorganization of the trade commissioner service throughout the world. The vacancies in Great Britain and on the European continent will not be filled until Hon. G. E. Foster has an opportunity of looking over the field personally when he goes across next month to attend the Imperial trade conference. It is possible that there will be a complete shifting round of the various agencies and that more attention will be paid in future to the industrial centres which are chiefly interested in direct trade with Canada, and that some of the present agencies will be eliminated. Richard Grigg, the new chief of the commissioner service, is preparing a comprehensive plan of reorganization which will be considered by the minister before final action is taken.

INJURED BY EAGLE.

San Francisco, Cal., May 9.—Two policemen were sent to a local hospital yesterday as a result of attempting to capture an American eagle near Golden Gate park. The bird all but won the struggle, but was finally overcome and carried to the station house and placed in a cell. The policemen were badly scratched by the eagle's talons and their uniforms torn to shreds.

TAILORS' STRIKE SPREADS.

London, May 9.—The tailors' strike has now extended to the East Side and workers, six thousand of whom will cease work at once. The men demand an advance in wages and better working conditions. It is estimated that the strike will throw 50,000 men out of work.

SEEK INCREASED WAGES.

Montreal, May 9.—The Grand Trunk firemen all over the system are sending deputations to Montreal next week to demand a 20 per cent. increase of wages. The demand is inspired by the ten per cent. increase recently granted the company's engineers.

EDMONTON ALDERMAN RESIGNS.

Edmonton, May 9.—Ald. Dr. H. L. McInnes has resigned his seat, having technically violated his oath of office by accepting $36,000 from the city for a piece of property necessary to the improvement of a street.

ANOTHER OLD-TIMER CROSSES THE DIVIDE

Mr. John Doran Passed Away Last Evening—Had Resided Here Fifty Years

There passed away last evening at the family residence, "Derravaragh," Esquimalt road, Mrs. John Doran, another member of the rapidly thinning band of pioneers who settled in this city half a century ago.

Mrs. Doran, whose maiden name was Miss Margaret Walsh, was born in the little village of Main, County West Meath, Ireland, and upon coming to America made her home in New York, where she resided for four years. She then journeyed to this province, via the Panama Canal route, and arrived here in 1861. She married here John Doran, and in 1869 they moved to Esquimalt, where the family has resided ever since. Mr. Doran, who died about fifteen years ago, established the New Inn, which was one of the old landmarks of the district.

Mrs. Doran had an interesting fund of reminiscences of Esquimalt in the hey-day of its importance as the headquarters of the North Pacific squadron. She could recall the names of many young officers who served on this station whose names have since become illustrious. She has seen the gradual diminution of the squadron and the decreasing importance of the station, until it was finally abandoned by the Imperial government altogether.

Mrs. Doran, who was 74 years of age, was survived by nine children. Miss M. E. Doran, Mrs. H. W. Pauline, Mrs. Owen Birch, and Stephen Doran reside at Esquimalt; Mrs. Penn and Mrs. Cassidy are living in San Francisco; Miss Helen Doran is in Montana and E. F. Doran, formerly a teacher in the Boys' Central school, is in Dawson City, where he has lived for fifteen years.

There were two other sons, both of whom were drowned, one on the west coast and one at San Francisco. Mrs. Doran having been an invalid for the last eleven years was never told of the fate of the two sons, as it was feared the shock of the disclosure would prove fatal.

The funeral will take place on Saturday morning at 8.30 o'clock from St. Joseph's church, Esquimalt.

OPEN-AIR SCHOOLS.

Effect on the Slum Children of Great City of London.

The effect of open-air life on the children taken from the slums of London is shown in a report issued by the education committee of the London county council from the school medical officer, Dr. W. H. Hamer, on the Birley House and Shooter's Hill open-air schools in 1911. Speaking of Birley House, the medical officer states that in spite of the inclement weather in the early portion of the year, when the children took shelter in the Doecker shed during the blizzards of snow it was noteworthy that, although they were brought from homes where closeness of atmosphere and closed windows were the rule, none of them suffered any harm from the sudden change of hygiene. Several contracted ordinary colds in the head, but in no case was the school attendance interfered with on that account. The subsequent heat had a somewhat enervating effect, and during that period it was found necessary to curtail the amount of physical exercise and dancing. Nor were there any ill-effects from exposure during the abnormally wet period which followed.

On admission, the children presented a miserable and uncared-for appearance. Many came from very poor districts, and most of them were badly clothed and dirty. They were badly nourished and anaemic, and had bad teeth. A majority were suffering from lung conditions. Efforts were made to obtain treatment for all these children at the earliest possible date. The throat and ear conditions have all been remedied. The vision has also been attended to and glasses obtained in all except one or two cases. The children were taken for dental treatment in batches. Twelve went to the Deptford clinic and forty to St. George's dispensary. The first treatment was obtained in June and July, and now there are thirty-one children who require further dental treatment. Some of these cases are marked "urgent."

There was a weekly gain in weight during thirty-six weeks' attendance at school, Dr. Hamer adds: "There can be little doubt as to the beneficial results to the children from attending the school. A person has only to see the brightness and general contentment of these children now, as compared with their former apathy and often sullen resentment towards the open-air life, to realize that such an experience as this is for them of great educational value. They are taught to take a healthy interest in the free, open-air life, which to them is quite a new experience. In the slums from which they come there is nothing of this nature, and their attendance at the open-air school enlarges their mental outlook, for in the ordinary way they would have been attending some school in their own cramped and sordid atmosphere, from which for them there would be no escape. Though it is only a short car-ride from the slums from which they come to this school in a comparatively rural district, yet to them it means a translation from the town into 'the country,' with all the associations connected with such a change.

"The experience of the Shooter's Hill open-air school has repeated the experience of the previous year, and it is found that the more unhealthy and debilitated a child is at entrance and the more room there is for improvement, the greater the rate of return to health."

THE AUTOMOBILE IN AND AROUND VICTORIA

ISLAND HIGHWAY MARINE DRIVE BC ENG. CO.

From sea to sea. From mountain top to bottom land, and every yard of the journey full of new life and special interest, containing scenery unparalleled, roads like city paving; with varying town life while stopping for meals and gasoline the route to Al-berni from Victoria will afford a mag-nificent climax for automobilists in the future when the great Canadian Highway has been completed. Stretches of country on the mainland and in the eastern provinces there may be that will ensure to the motorist, but the 132 miles between the shore of the straits of Juan de Fuca and the Al-berni canal will cause the humblest to pause and wonder, for in the distance there is everything from mountain top to bottom land; there is mineralized land, magnificent sea views breaking

Wellington. In the country between the copper and the coal mines lies pro-ductive farms, now green in their productivity combining with the mineral in the centre and the timber of the north in making a wealth produc-ing area, and a variety of interest for the touring automobilist that he will go far, very far indeed, and not find equalled in a journey of 132 miles. Scenic grandeur meets the eye al-most at every point of the journey. In the vicinity of Ladysmith, however, the automobilist can do much more exclamation work and free himself of the newest expressions of disgust at the road, which is lumpy and bumpy and rutty and holey, and stoney and either dusty or muddy and always dirty. But yet the motorist, reach-ing his way to the west, having read his guide book before his trip, will re-

From the railway past Hirat's hotel at Parkesville there is a clear stretch of road before approaching Cameron lake and the overhanging cliffs at the foot of the Beaufort mountains. But once in the mountains all thought of the former part of the trip vanishes as the traveler is held spellbound at the tremendous pines, the great depths and the enormous heights. The mas-siveness of the cliffs on the Cameron lake shore, the colorings in the woods, the astonishing beauty of the cloud effects, the snow caps on the moun-tains, the reflections of the mountains in the lake below, offer a vista undesc-ribable. Through the pine forest there are places where an automobile can barely get through the trees without touch-ing, and places where the sky light is all but shut out from below. Gurgling of the sixty-mile Alberni canal, where the first stake of the great road was driven on Saturday. It was a strange coincidence that at this history making event the address of welcome given on the most westerly point of the great highway, should have been read by a man from the most easterly point, Rev. J. Caruthers, who is a native of Halifax, N. S. As the miles are reeled off from shore to shore they are indicated throughout the trip by the mile signs posted by Thomas Plimley of the Plimley Motor Company, and as far as Duncan the sign posts of the Vic-toria Automobile Club guide the vis-itor. After passing these the vis-itor telegraph poles run directly to Port Alberni, the end of the run, and the automobilist can follow the route with the greatest of ease. A. E. Todd has written in reference to the statement appearing in the Times on Monday last regarding the unimposing style of the post used in the celebration, and says that the people of Alberni were not the origin-ators of the post, but that it was the product of the Canadian Highway As-sociation, and that that body would not allow any other than the post planted to be used for the celebra-tion. In connection with the matter it may be said that the simplicity of the post has perhaps formed its chief attrac-tion, for the rival townships of Port Alberni could not resist borrowing it after it had been planted.

being able to shake the dust as well as the rain. Therefore the original price is not, after all, so much to be con-sidered. The hat is in the toque shape, and is trimmed with a flat ornament of peacock feathers. More picturesque but not so durable looking in the Quaker poke bonnet of straw trimmed with a flat band of em-broidered ribbon across the front. Purple and brown are the most attractive colors in these hats. Less expensive and very attractive also are the blue and white straw toques with peacock ornaments. The pongee bonnets with a dust shield that extends over the face are both picturesque and durable. Among the coats for wear in the motor the English gabardine raincoat is extremely smart in cut and most useful, for it is rainproof and can be worn as an ordinary raincoat as well breathed, some of them very full and suitable principally for motoring and others scantier in the skirt, to be used generally as an all-round ulster. Some of the coats of two colors in checks or mixtures are trimmed with cloth in plain colors, one such coat being a yellow and black checked tweed coat which was trimmed with plain biscuit color cloth. Here and there are to be found coats with even brighter touches of color in the trim-mings, as in the case of a black and white checked coat finished with large white buttons and the buttonholes edged with red. In motor vells the popular shot silk tones of the moment are duplicated in chiffons. These shaded vells come in all the tones that may be found among the taffetas, and are especially attractive when worn with the silk hats.

AROUND THE GARAGES

Wood Motor Company.
The requirements of the trade caused by increasing business in sales and car storing is responsible for the an-nouncement by the Wood Motor Com-pany of an auxiliary garage the firm is about to build for storing one hundred cars. The new garage is to be built close in on a lot 90 by 110 feet, to be absolutely fire proof and modernly equipped. The business attaching to the Broughton street garage has in-creased beyond the space in the three-story building.
The Ford Company for which the Wood Motor Company is agent, has received an order for 1,000 cars for England. The firm has sold sixteen cars to the Canadian militia and one of these, a 1912 model, has been deliv-ered to the military barracks at Work Point. These cars for the militia department have been equip-ped by special order with all the latest equipment and have the Canadian coat of arms.
A 1912 model Ford has been sold this week by the company to Ed. North, McClure street, and the firm has sold one of their Chalmers cars to A. B. Steele.
Almoure Agency.
The Almoure agency reports that his cars on the trip than of any other two makes.

Two cars of model 59 and 60 Over-lands have just been delivered to the garage and sales made last week were as follows: Mr. Mahle, Ladysmith, an Overland torpedo; Mr. Bishop, Union Bay, a Russell; The Shaw Realty Com-pany, 30 h.p. Overland; Dr. Allen, Es-quimalt, 30 h.p. Overland roadster; Mr. Chandler, a 30 h.p. touring car; R. F.

as for automobiling and travelling. It is a light weight coat, but is of wool, so there is more warmth in it than might be thought from its appearance although it is more suitable for mo-toring in the south this season of the year than in the more northern cli-mate. Later on, during the summer months, it will be an ideal coat for touring in all parts of the country, says the New York Herald. The model is single breasted with a high collar and Raglan sleeves. The white coats are extremely attractive and the most interesting thing about them is that they can be washed by the ordinary laundress with perfect safety to their looks.
Vicuna cloth in two tones is very smart and warm enough even for cool spring days in the motor. In the im-portant coats they are quite expensive, however, as are the white English Shetland ulsters, which are double faced and also extremely warm.
Less expensive and very attractive also are the London coats of heavy tweeds, some with the Raglan shoul-der and others with the sleeve set in, a noticeable change from the kimona style, which has been so prevalent in these heavy top coats and which is still seen in many new coats. These coats are both single and double

ROADS IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Governor Tener, of Pennsylvania, whose advocacy of good roads is well established, propounded a question and supplied its answer in Pittsburg recently at a banquet in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Pennsylv-ania Motor Federation, which for the sixth time elected to its presidency Robert P. Hooper, who is also head of the American Automobile Association.
"The question that now confronts us," said the governor, "is shall we be content to apply from year to year such amount of the ordinary revenues of the state as can be spared for the purpose and build and maintain a few miles at best annually, with only a future generation to enjoy them, or shall we provide, as has been proposed, such an amount as will enable the state highways department to pro-ceed the work to the best advantage, and to the end that you of to-day as well as those who come after may en-joy improved roads, reaching into every county and into the remotest corners of our state.
"When it is understood by all our people that such a debt when created will not add a single penny of tax other than is now levied for state pur-poses (Continued on page 15.)

through the scenery at frequent inter-vals; stretches of forest and wood-glades of fern by swiftly running creeks; and agricultural activity be-neath the towering mountains that stand like silent sentinels of destiny. There are pasture lands forming dili-gent and progressive farming and poultry raising communities; there is every form of life and of the northland, and almost continuously there is that necessity of the automobilist—good roads.
Overlooking the stretch to the north is the snow peak of Mount Arrow-smith shining like an opal in the sun-light. There is the contrast of the cold in the upper heights with the pleasant warmth of the low lands, and the pilgrim after scenic adventure, has his vision gratified in one hundred ways, and by no means least of these there is the magnificent timber country between Cameron lake and Alberni.
Planting civilization in the wilder-ness, the organization of the Salvation Army is busy at Coombs where a model settlement is in progress of formation, and is passed by the motor-ist, south of Cameron lake. Between 800 and 900 acres are undergoing a rapid transformation, the timber being replaced by modern dwellings and centering twenty-acre farms which in another six months will show the har-vest ready for delivery to market.
Far to the south, about twice the distance from Victoria as the Salvation army settlement is from the canal, is an entirely different example of the hand of man wresting treasure from the earth. Towering above the fertile Cowichan valley, Mount Sicker is yielding its wealth. Tunnels are bur-rowed into its midst and machinery brings to daylight copper ore for the smelters. North again with its bowels beneath both sea and land are the coal mines at Ladysmith, Nanaimo, and call that Ladysmith is one of the three towns of heroism of Vancouver Island. Grim tragedy has done its work in the coal mines on more than one oc-casion, and at all times the manhood of the people has stood the test. Tourists wonder at the sight of coal-blackened men walking the streets, each home-ward bent with his dinner pail and candle cap. Significant are they of what goes on underground, and al-though the streets of this first coal town the tourist meets are not con-gested with traffic, it is to be remem-bered that, as in Nanaimo and Well-ing-ton, the towns' industry is under the street, in which the automobilist is bumping and splashing. Those who are not beneath ground are sleeping preparatory to going on shift when the miners below come to the surface.

Open undulating country lies between Ladysmith and Nanaimo and gives re- lief to the eye of the motorist. Trees border the roadway on either side, the road is good and puts the tourist into an expectant frame of mind as the sea, and then the chimneys of Nanaimo come into view. The winding, hilly streets of the old coal town, though somber, are attractive. The people are genial, entertaining and courteous, and the coal town, provides a good stopping place in mid afternoon.
From Victoria to Shawanigan is found the pick of the road, the Mill Bay highway standing alone in all the journey as the nearest approach to the automobilist's heaven, but after leav-ing Nanaimo there is a wonderful strip of twenty-five miles, that on the high gear passes all too soon. This, however, loses by comparison with the Mill Bay highway in the point of beauty, but the speed bug achieves his heart's delight, and can make forty to fifty miles an hour with comfort and joy.

brooks and straight trunked pines that some day will fall before the advance-ment of civilization and deliver them-selves into most unpoetical wooden boards and timbers, are standing ex-amples of nature's grandeur and ma-jesty. Mighty and magnificent for 16 miles, the road now on the heights, and now in the valleys, winds down to the plain approaching the town, with its 600 inhabitants on the shore there will be another convertible car delivered here next week for use in its freighting and passenger business, and that applications have come from dif-ferent parts of the province for suf-ficient work to employ one dozen freighters. The Sooke automobile stage recently put into operation by the company has proved a success and is working to its full capacity. There is, says the manager of the agency, a de-mand for freighting cars on the Cad-boro Bay road and other main routes which the company desires to fill as soon as the operations will permit. The freighting car now working in the city has been taxed to its capacity, and the truck to arrive next week will be fully employed as soon as it arrives.

The new freight car is a Garford three tons rating with about four tons capacity and of 60 horse-power. With a view to keeping in touch with the demand that is increasing the agency has ordered a fourth truck to be deliv-ered as soon as possible. The company is doing a successful business, says the manager, and will pay a dividend as a result of the first three months' busi-ness.

Western Motor Company.
The demand for Buick cars is as great as ever, according to reports of the Western Motor Company. An- other carload of Model 49 cars has ar-rived for this firm and two were sold on Tuesday and one yesterday. The purchasers were C. S. Clarke, William Oliphant, sr., and Howell, Payne & Co. The previous carload of these had been sold out, and there are but four of the last carload remaining.
SPRING MOTORING OUTFITS.
Most interesting among the hats now shown for spring motoring is a hat of waterproof taffeta, which is quite as smart as the usual taffeta hat for wear in the street, and has the advantage of being extremely durable. The hats are quite expensive, but they give promise of keeping fresh looking under all sorts of hard usage and of Pennsylvania this fall will vote upon the $50,000,000 good roads referendum providing for a bond issue of this amount to give the Keystone state a comprehensive system of highways and inter-related roads. The state highway commissioner, Mr. Bigelow, predicts the day is near when it will be possible for one to breakfast in Pittsburgh and dine in Philadelphia, such a journey being comfortably made possible by the essential improvement of the cross state road connecting Pennsylvania's largest cities.

EXIT THE HANSON.

About a month ago the crowds hurrying through the streets of western London on their way to business had their attention arrested by long lines of cabs, almost without an exception of the hansom type, proceeding at a walking pace in the direction of the central district. There was a total absence of gaiety in the general aspect of erected with decision the motor-cabs which were being introduced. They quite forgot that everything must crawl before it can run, so when they saw that the mechanically propelled cab was coming to grief at frequent intervals they felt certain that there was nothing to fear from competition with a vehicle which was forever breaking down. Already the carping critic finds that his own occupation is gone, taxis having completely replaced the vehicle which had been for nearly eighty years the favorite, not only of Londoners, but of all visitors to the metropolis, who have swarmed here from every quarter of the globe. From the day when Joseph Aloysius Hansom, about the year 1823, introduced his patent safety cab, what designer has not revelled in a drive about London in the familiar vehicle? No where else on earth was to be found such a smart turnout, such an ideal driver and such a moderate charge for the excellent accommodation provided while doing the sights of the great city. To Americans, in particular, an excursion in the wonderful "gondola" was a source of endless delight, as it was steered with amazing accuracy on the best all around players in the American and National Leagues, it has been announced that a Chalmers "Thirty-Six" will be given also to the best all around player in the Pacific Coast League.

Three of the leading Chalmers dealers in the west—E. P. Brinegar, of the Pioneer Automobile Company, of San Francisco; C. E. Anthony, of the Western Motor Car Company, of Los Angeles, and H. L. Keats, of the Automobile Company of Portland, Ore.—have combined to make the same award for playing ability in the Pacific Coast League that is made in the National and American Leagues.

the turn-out—it was, indeed, a lugubrious funeral march. Not one of the vehicles carried a passenger; there was not a bow or a ribbon on horse or whip.

"The cabmen are having an outing on this beautiful day" was the opinion ventured by some. "No," said others, "this must mean a cabmen's strike, and they are all off in a body to hold a demonstration in the Park." But as the procession kept steadily on its course it dawned upon the onlookers that the silent drivers, perched up in the dicky, were not the orthodox, cheery cabmen, but staid men, many of them in their working clothes. Every indication that the cabs were for hire was absent, and it became manifest that the public were witnessing what was practically the removal of the its tortuous course through the labyrinth of London. The vehicle was light in construction, the passenger had an unrestricted view of everything in front, and the charge made was only a fraction of what a drive over the same distance would cost in New York, or Washington, or Chicago. No doubt "cabby" sometimes transgressed the strict letter of the law when he asked for more than was his due, but as a servant of the public he was, taking him all round, a good fellow, full of mirth and jollity, who, having to estimate the distance covered, was most naturally prone to calculate in his own favor rather than in that of his fare—especially if the fare was a lady.

hansoms from the streets of the metropolis, for this unusual display of unlicensed cabs was wending its way to a well known establishment in St. Martin's lane to be disposed of at public auction. The procession was significant of the passing away of one of London's great institutions, known from our youth up. In Berlin it has been determined that, as horse-drawn cabs or droshkies have all but disappeared from the streets, the licences of the few that still ply for hire should be cancelled, compensation being given to the holders of licences which ran beyond March 31. Fortunately, Berlin ways are not London ways, and it is not likely, therefore, that Scotland Yard will prohibit the presence in the streets of horse-drawn cabs so long as the vehicles are fit for use and there are men who can make a living by driving them. Of clarences or four-wheelers there are still large numbers on the streets because the public find them more convenient than taxi-cabs when there is a considerable amount of luggage for transport.

But while the horse-drawn four-wheeler may still be found to meet a public want for some years yet, the doom of the hansom has already been sealed. Since the beginning of March it has been difficult to discover one, either on a cab rank or "prowling" about the streets. The few that are met with are owned probably by the drivers, who have been able to purchase the vehicles at low prices. No company or private individual will now invest money in the business of hansom cabs, and the day has arrived when it is no longer profitable to build any more of this class of carriage. It is only five years ago that the cabmen cabmen, as a class, due prominence in any work dealing with the metropolis and its varied life, while "cabby's" special type of humor has been availed of to a very large extent to enrich the pages of the comic papers. This humor is now destined to fade out of existence. The pace at which hansoms and four-wheelers have moved along has been, comparatively speaking, such a jog-trot that the drivers could chaff each other and the drivers of all other vehicles without any difficulty. Mechanically-propelled vehicles, on the other hand, pass at such a rapid rate that the drivers will never be able to do more than nod to each other. It is interesting to observe that London has had horse-drawn vehicles for hire through close upon three hundred years, hackney coaches having been introduced by one Captain Bailey in the year 1625. By the year 1815 the number had increased to 1200. The modern four-wheeler, however, was not introduced until 1823, when the first licences were issued, and ten years later hansoms were placed on the streets. We have now arrived at the age of mechanical traction, and the progress already achieved is amazing. Thus far we have not reached the limit of what is possible in the matter of passenger transport in the streets of the metropolis. We are only just beginning to improve on our primitive methods, launching forth on the changes which are the natural result of modern progress in locomotion, and bidding farewell to the hansom cab, which has in its time afforded us an infinite amount of pleasure.

Irvine Place

Are Features That Appeal to Investors in These Lots

"Irvine Place" lies high and level, about 300 yards beyond the Mount Tolmie post office and stores. The Cedar Hill road passes it on one side and the Gordon Head road on the other. Two streets intersect the property and these are being graded now. Allowance is made for the extension of Shelbourne street through the subdivision. Every lot is as clear as a billiard table; the soil is rich deep black loam, and there isn't a piece of rock on it. No lot is less than a quarter of an acre in size and every lot is well located. Beyond the property lies Mount Douglas and the new public park. To the rear is Mount Tolmie, about three-quarters of a mile away, with the street car line and the University and Normal schools. Here is your chance to

Have a Pretty Home With a Good Garden

And, at the same time assure yourself of a certain rise in values. Any "Irvine Place" lot will sell at a good advance six months from now. Many of them will be turned over by first buyers in less time than that. Victoria is spreading out very rapidly and there is not one offer of subdivision property on the market to-day that has the advantages of "Irvine Place."

Note the Opportunity Here

Active efforts are being made to have Shelbourne street carried through to the new public park at Mount Douglas and there is good reason to expect that these efforts will succeed. If the extension is made, Shelbourne street will run right through "Irvine Place." Shelbourne street is, admittedly, the logical right-of-way for the street car line to the new park. It offers the most direct route and the best grade and there is every likelihood that it will be selected. In any event it cannot escape running close to "Irvine Place," and when the work is carried out

"IRVINE PLACE" Values Will Soar

The strong possibility of this improvement adds special attraction to these lots as a speculation; but, in any event, they are the most desirable buys on the market either for home purposes or purely as investments. The very easy terms make them appeal strongly to the small buyer.

ASSIST EMIGRANTS TO COME TO CANADA

NAVAL AND MILITARY LEAGUE IS ACTIVE

Five Hundred Ex-Service Men Sent Overseas in Two Years by Organization

The assisted emigration of ex-service men to the overseas states which has been carried on for about two years from the offices of the Naval and Military Emigration League, at 14 Great Smith street, S. W., has provided homes and employment for 173 men during the past eight months. The secretary of the league, Mr. E. T. Scammell, F.R.G.S., gave a London Standard representative an insight into the work. "We receive thirty or more inquiries a day," said Mr. Scammell, "and when the men who are due to come out of the army this year are added to the ex-service list, we shall no doubt get more."

Only men whose "characters" range from "good" upwards through the regulation phrases are taken into consideration. Yet the letters that had arrived yesterday revealed the necessities in which the best ex-service men are found. One man, whose captain had endorsed a paper that his condition and character while with the colors had been exemplary, stated that after serving eight years he now, at the end of his second year out of service, had been out of all employment for four months. "I am aged 35, and have been for 21 years in the Royal Engineers," wrote another. "I wish to go to Australia, and have been trying to sell my pension to the government for a lump sum, so that I may take my wife and children. I have been the coxswain of submarine mining vessels, and I have passed by instruction in oil engines for coast defence electric lighting."

"My time expires on June 1, and I should like to leave England on the first possible opportunity after that date," was another demand. Again a man who had been six years in the Coldstream Guards, and held two medals and six clasps for the South African war, put as his case that he was totally destitute, a married man with two children, and had been out of employment for the last three months.

Mr. Scammell interviewed some of the inquirers. A strapping, fine-looking man entered with a pen behind his ear. "We are employing him for the moment as a clerk," said Mr. Scammell, "and he is going into the Canadian army. Captain Acland, the adjutant at Quebec, has been over here the last fortnight, selecting a dozen or so for the Royal Canadian Artillery, and we have an application from Canada for another 150 men, whose fares will be paid by the Dominion government, our league has been in existence for less than two years, and we have already placed nearly 500 men. Hardly any of them have turned out to be failures."

Even in rather sooty civilian dress the military training of these men is apparent. "Down on your luck?" queried Mr. Scammell to a hale applicant over forty. "Yes, sir," the answer was rapped out smartly. "Where do you want to go?" "Anywhere, sir." "What have you been doing since you left the service?" "Engineering laborer."

The method of the league's working was explained. "When a selection has been made we advance something on the fare, say £7 or £8 to Canada. The men have, first, to do the best for themselves that they can, through friends and so on. Then they give us orders for repayment. I suppose about 50 per cent is punctually repaid, and this sum goes towards the emigration of others. Canada is most generally favored, Australia next, and a very few go to New Zealand and South Africa, there being practically no emigration policy in South Africa. Our league gets no profit out of the men, and in dealing with the colonial governments it takes care to avoid all taint of commercialism. When the men arrive they find our informed representatives, and are put to whatever work is to be had. In Canada there is employment in almost every industry during the summer months.

fare, running to £15 5s. each, will have to be provided. Here is an immediate expense which calls for attention. We have, besides, as you have seen, hundreds of other sound applicants, and if our appeal were patriotically answered we believe that a really good Imperial work would be done."

SEEKING TO REDUCE COST OF LIVING Proposal Being Considered by Vancouver Markets and Industries Committee

Vancouver, May 9.—According to the report of the market clerk presented at the meeting of the markets and industries committee, the difficulty in obtaining produce was in respect of the transportation. It was arranged that the chairman of the committee and the market clerk should look into the feasibility of providing motor cars to receive the produce from the cars and the boats at New Westminster, and bring the same into the city.

The market clerk reported that on his recent visit up country, nothing but satisfaction had been evinced at the way the goods had been dealt with in the city. The difficulty was how to market the produce. He stated that as much as $89 per seven tons had been paid for potatoes from Knott's Hill. The committee decided that the chairman and the market clerk should consider the feasibility of employing motor cars to meet the boats at New Westminster to bring the produce into the city, which would do away with the intervention of the B. C. Electric Company and the big rates.

Capt. Cochrane wrote suggesting that if the committee would endorse his application for a license to sell produce he would be prepared to offer herrings at the city market at 2 1/2 cents a pound. The committee decided to endorse the application subject to the whole proceeds of the catch being first placed at the disposal of the city market.

MEN WILL NOT STRIKE I.W.W. Organizers Visit Hazelton But Fail to Secure Support

Hazelton, May 9.—Present indications from the best information obtainable here, are that the I. W. W. has found it impossible to bring on a strike on the Grand Trunk Pacific grade.

Organizers for the I. W. W. called a "mass-meeting" of workers, when the proposal to strike was to be fully arranged. Only three men, and these Russians, attended the meeting.

News of the failure of the Hazelton meeting spread along the grade, where the workmen seemed to agree that the I. W. W. had fallen down on the job. There is now no talk of strike, and the indications are that there will be no cessation of work by the 6,000 men employed mostly east of this point, especially between here and Tete Jaune Cache.

BOUNDARY ORE SHIPMENTS Grand Fork B. C., May 9.—The Boundary district mines shipped 25,752 tons of ore to the smelters last week, the properties shipping being the Granby, 23,469; Mother Lode, 5,799; Rawhide, 5,799; Jack Pot, 498 tons; sundry small shippers, 416 tons.

During the first four months of the year there has been shipped to the smelters 76,915 tons of ore from these properties. The smaller treatment for the week was, Granby, 24,372 tons, 949 of which came from other mines than the company's own, and giving this smelter a total treatment for the year to date of 468,398 tons.

The British Columbia Copper Company's smelter at Greenwood treated 11,249 tons of ore last week, giving this reduction works a total treatment for the year of 294,849 tons. The total smelter treatment for the Boundary reduction works for the year so far has been 612,157 tons.

Last week the Granby sent east to the refineries 440,000 pounds of blister copper, making a total shipment for the year of 7,458,000 pounds.

The Big Copper mine in Deadwood camp, near Greenwood, has resumed operation, and will shortly be shipping ore to the Granby.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL NEEDED. Prince Rupert, May 9.—Dr. Reddie, medical health officer, at a meeting of the city council submitted a report on the advisability of at once putting up an isolation hospital. A communication had been received from the G. T. P. saying that Wolf Island and all of the water frontage available had been applied for for commercial purposes, and none could be granted for the purpose proposed. Dr. Reddie recommended the erection of the hospital necessary on city reserve No. 23 at a cost of $320.

Dr. Clayton said that a substantial building was necessary. A man had only recently been admitted to the general hospital suffering from measles and had been placed in the isolation tent provided on the ground, where he had contracted pneumonia. He did not suggest any blame attached to the authorities but a suitable building should be at once provided. He moved and Ald. Kerr seconded that the matter be referred to the finance committee for a report.

WANTED IN KANSAS. Kamloops, May 9.—Charles Mason, who was committed to 60 days' imprisonment by P. E. Maunder, J. P., sitting at Field on April 18, on a charge of fraud, is wanted for the murder of an entire family of five persons at Ellsworth, Kansas.

Sheriff Bradshaw, of Ellsworth, reached Kamloops on Tuesday, and yesterday morning interviewed and identified Mason at the jail. Mason subsequently expressed his willingness to waive extradition formalities and to return at once to Kansas with Sheriff Bradshaw and face the charge against him.

ACCUSED OF ARSON.

New Westminster, May 9.—Joseph Drouin and his son-in-law, Philomen Drouin were committed for trial by Stipendiary Magistrate Stillwell Clute on the charge of arson. The case presented for the crown was that Trotter and his son-in-law lived at a house near Fraser Mills, which was insured for $3,000, the furniture being insured for another $1,000. On the evening of April 24, about ten or twelve minutes after Drouin was seen going towards the house, it was discovered to be on fire, and while it was burning Drouin is alleged to have given excuses to those around not to enter the house, saying there was dynamite there. Finally some of the spectators did go into the house and were successful in extinguishing the flames. The fire was burning underneath a stairway, where there was a lot of firewood that appeared to have been sprinkled with oil—in another room a couch was burning and showed signs of oil, and in a third place flames were also seen.

KILLED BY EXPLOSION.

Vancouver, May 9.—Mangled almost beyond recognition, Edward Brown met a horrible death as the result of a premature discharge of a large quantity of dynamite, in North Lansdale. Brown had a contract from George Wagg for clearing some land of the stumps on it, and was supervising the blowing up of a stump at the time of the accident.

The two holes in the stump had been loaded with dynamite and Brown gave the word to fire the shot. The fuse was lighted and as the explosion took place a large quantity of dynamite which was lying on the ground near by exploded. Brown had been standing near this loose explosive, and as it went off he was blown for some distance, and when picked up was dead. Brown, who was unmarried, was a well-known sub-contractor.

DIAMOND DRILLING IN SIMILKAMEEN

Phoenix, May 9.—According to a statement recently made, E. E. Warren, general manager of the British Columbia Copper Co., the company's prospective holdings in Voigt camp, Similkameen, are all showing up most favorably; the recent development work conducted there having been of such a promising nature that the management have definitely decided to install a compressor and test the ground with a diamond drill.

Improvements have also been planned at the Rawhide mine, here in Phoenix, and to facilitate the taking out of ore the company are about to install motor, with the object of providing electric power for the haulage from the lower levels.

Mr. Warren, who has just returned from a visit to the Similkameen properties, expressed himself as being highly pleased with the general progress of the company's operations, both at Greenwood and elsewhere. He emphatically denied the recent newspaper stories that the company had enlarged its Greenwood furnaces. They had, however, rebuilt a couple of them, but their capacity had not been altered. Questioned as to whether his company intended to commence operations, such as diamond drilling, on the Brooklyn mine property, Mr. Warren said that "they had not thought of it."

HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

North Vancouver, May 9.—Completely exhausted and having given up the struggle for life, Miss Gertrude Brady, 16 years, who resides with Captain Heritage and his wife, on the converted ship "Ivy," anchored off Moodyville, was rescued from drowning just as she was going down for the third time. In the excitement following the rescue, no one learned the name of the man who saved the young girl's life.

After being revived Miss Brady informed Captain Heritage that she intended boarding a launch anchored near the hulk in which Capt. Heritage lives. Procuring a small dinghy she rowed out to the launch. While attempting to board the craft she lost her hold and fell between it and the dinghy. Owing to the strong tide she was unable to reach either craft. Screaming for help the girl struggled in the water. She was unable to swim, and, although fighting desperately for her life, she went down for the first time. Rising to the surface she barely had breath or strength sufficient to send out another call for help. She sank again and but dimly remembers coming to the surface for the second time. For a fraction of a second before sinking the third time, she says, she became apparently conscious. By that time, however, her strength had given out and she could not keep the struggle up any longer.

OIL FUEL IN SCHOOLS.

Vancouver, May 9.—The members of the delegation sent by the Vancouver school board have returned after inspecting the oil burning plants in the schools of Seattle. Trustee Dyke declared that the use of oil for fuel is a success from every point of view and that plants will be installed in all the new schools erected in this city from now on.

"An oil burning plant," he said, "is clean, sanitary and economical, and there is not the slightest doubt but that such plants will be generally used in school buildings here. We found the Seattle schools the acme of cleanliness from top to bottom, particularly at the bottom. The basements were spotless."

"It was decided while there in Seattle, H. W. Howes, our head janitor, to Seattle to study methods employed there. We have now a force of 55 janitors and want to introduce all the system possible into their work."

VANCOUVER PIONEER DEAD.

Vancouver, May 9.—A pioneer resident of Vancouver passed away at the Vancouver General hospital in the person of Mr. Charles Peersall, who conducted a wholesale jewelry manufacturing business in this city for many years. Deceased, who was 57 years of age, leaves a wife, four sons and one daughter to mourn his loss. He had been ill for the past two months.

EMPRESS BLOCK WILL HOUSE NEW HOTEL

Seattle Men Take Lease—Hostelry Will Probably Be Known as "Strathcona"

The hotel accommodation of the city is shortly to be added to by the addition of an hotel in the Empress block, on the east side of Douglas street between Broughton and Courtney, which is rapidly approaching completion.

The lease for five years has been taken by two Seattle men, William Wood and J. E. Smart, and Mr. Wood has gone east to purchase the necessary furniture. It is the expectation that the hotel will open in about six weeks. The whole of the premises will be taken up except two stores on the ground floor, and as there are over 100 rooms in the building, the accommodation will be a material advance on the space available for guests in the city.

As the name "Empress" is already in use, another name will be chosen, probably the "Strathcona." There will be an attempt made to cater for all good classes of trade, and a cafe will be maintained. Mr. Wood is a prominent business man of Renton, Seattle, and Mr. Smart a practical hotel man of many years standing, having at various times been associated with the Hotel Seattle, and the Cecil hotel in that city.

CONVENTION OF EQUALITY LEAGUE

B. C. MEMBERS ARE NOW MEETING IN CITY

Mrs. Gordon Grant Was Re-Elected President—Various Reports Were Submitted

The second annual convention of the British Columbia Political Equality League met yesterday morning in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A., the president, Mrs. Gordon Grant, in the chair. During the forenoon a considerable amount of routine business was transacted, including the reading of the treasurer's report, which showed a satisfactory balance. Attention was called to the need of members taking some suffrage paper regularly, several being recommended by members for this purpose. The address of welcome to the visitors, read by Mrs. Baer during the morning, was one of the much appreciated features of the morning's proceedings. In this, after welcoming the delegates, the speaker went on to point out the significance of the woman movement which is going on throughout the world at the present time. A new quality was, she said, being generated which would make possible the coming of a grander race of men. People to-day were recognizing generally that it would be impossible to separate the interests of the two sexes; to man had been given dominion over the people of the earth through their material position.

After the luncheon interval, during which the delegates adjourned to the James Bay hotel to lunch as the guests of the Victoria branch of the league, the afternoon session opened with the reading of the minutes of the forenoon session. A question arose on the reading of the report of the resolution committee, which was that of the woman movement which is going on throughout the world at the present time. A new quality was, she said, being generated which would make possible the coming of a grander race of men. People to-day were recognizing generally that it would be impossible to separate the interests of the two sexes; to man had been given dominion over the people of the earth through their material position.

President's Address. The president's address summarized in an excellent manner the progress which had been made in the movement during the past year, and outlined the principal objects of the society, which were, she said, after the question of the suffrage, the protection of children and the country generally from the social and economic evils which were ever working.

Awakening of Womanhood. The awakening of womanhood during the last decade had not been alone on the question of the power of the ballot, but had been also an awakening of her responsibility in lifting burdens from other overburdened women, in trying to protect child life, in getting better housing for the poor, in the work that has come to the women of nearly all countries where they were taking keen interest in all big public questions in which humanity was concerned. The advance had been not only surprising, but encouraging. In Sweden the women had secured the parliamentary ballot; in Galicia an impetus had been given to the movement by the Polish Democratic Union declaring for woman suffrage; in the Netherlands more than a thousand members had joined during the winter, and a petition had been presented to Queen Wilhelmina signed by 27,000 men and 9,000 women; in France rapid progress was being made; in Italy the suffrage organization had succeeded in having the question of woman suffrage discussed, with the result that the commission had brought the matter before the chamber; in Denmark eight women had been elected on the municipal council; in Russia, even, the women were keenly alive to the disabilities resting upon them, and the women have put up a vigorous fight to be allowed to practice at the bar; in Egypt the daughter of the vice-president of the Haute Tribunal has already made a plea for women's rights; China, the most conservative of countries, had proclaimed that the women should enjoy the same conditions as men, this making the seventh country which has extended the ballot to its women on the same footing as to men.

"In undertaking the work during the coming year," the speaker concluded, "we must not forget that we are a part of the world-wide movement and every victory in any land is another link in the chain of political freedom for women." The committee on plan of work submitted a report of their deliberations during the afternoon, the convention accepting several of the suggestions and further deciding that petitions should be circulated for signatures during the forthcoming months. The following officers resulted in the following: President, Mrs. Gordon Grant; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Bromley-Jubb; treasurer, Mrs. Morrow; organizer, Mrs. Lashley Hall; chairman of legislative committee, Mrs. C. B. Townley; literature, Mrs.

Graves; press, Miss Benson; finance, Mrs. Baer.

Evening Session.

The convention resumed in the evening, meeting in the Alexandra Club, an excellent attendance of members of the organization and their friends being present. Mrs. Baer received once more the address of welcome, and this was augmented by a few words of greeting from the president, Mrs. Grant, who occupied the chair. Mrs. Lashley Hall also spoke, her address being followed by one from the Rev. Wm. Stevenson, who congratulated the society on having accomplished such excellent work during its brief existence. "No movement in history where there has been a struggle for popular rights can show a parallel to this for the rapidity of its progress," said the speaker. "A large number of countries and states have already granted the franchise. Progress in this respect is marvellous, when it is considered that it has all taken place in the last 15 years. This must be attributed to the awakening of millions of women to the realization of the disabilities under which they have been silently suffering, and which have hampered the womanhood of the nations and formed the basis of a vast number of social and domestic evils. One of the most important factors in the propaganda movement should be the education of the people. Victor Hugo said, 'You can stop the invasion of an army, but not the invasion of ideas.' This movement is founded on the principles of right and justice. It also recognizes the changes which have come over the status of women in society; it is the outcome of that revolutionary process which is continually changing the social order. Ex-continually concluded the speaker, "has already proved that we need have no fear that women will become lowered in any sense or the home suffer in any way through her enfranchisement."

Objections to Woman Suffrage.

Mrs. Townley gave a cleverly humorous talk in which she alluded to the frequent objections which she encounters among those to whom she mentions the subject of woman suffrage. "One of the most often heard," she said, "is that of the husband and the children taking up so much of the woman's time. When a woman says to me, 'I have no time to be interested; my home and my children take all my attention,' then I have the satisfaction of pointing out the very thing to which she is blind; that she has no home; that the children are not hers. Both belong to the husband and may be taken away from her by him at almost any time. The vote will not take us away from our homes, but when we have it we will be in a position to devote more leisure to looking after our children instead of holding meetings in order to persuade the legislators that we are determined to have the ballot."

A number of the delegates returned last evening to the mainland, several, however, remaining over in order to visit for a few days longer.

NEW GERMAN AMBASSADOR.

Kaiser's Representative to Great Britain Entrusted With Special Mission.

London, May 9.—Baron Marshal von Hieberstein, German ambassador at Constantinople, who, it is reported, is to be transferred to London, will be entrusted here with a mission of a special character rather than an ordinary ambassadorial power, according to to-day's Pall Mall Gazette. It is understood, says the paper, that Baron von Hieberstein will be charged with the arrangement of the final settlement of the Bagdad Railroad problem and with the economic partition of the Portuguese colonies in East and West Africa between Germany and Great Britain, by which means each will be enabled to develop commercially its respective sphere under the Portuguese flag, since Portugal is unwilling to sell the 150,000 square miles of territory it possesses in those regions.

At the British foreign office, it is said, no official notice has been received of the appointment of Baron von Hieberstein, the German ambassador to Great Britain, is about to retire.
