There is ample time for sweet potatões to mature. and there is no better way to add to the winter food stock of the family than by growing this ro t crop. Late cabbage is another profitable erop to grow for winter use. Beets, squash and curumbers may be planted now with good chances of SUCCESS.

There is, of course, considerable variation within the region for which this advice is given. It may well be that the possibility for planting successfully certain of the crops mentioned has passed in the more southerly sections. The advice is based on the latest frost dates for the section, and the variations in weather conditions from year to year also may influence planting periods.

Now is the time for every gardener to cultivate his garden thoroughly. If weeds have been allowed to start they should be destroyed at of needed moisture, Work the ground until a fine soil mulch is ure for the use of the crops like a soil mulch. Neither the coalition cabinet nor the newly appointed commission to regulate the difficulties between capital and labor has yet found a way to end the industrial crisis,

The commission is composed of ministers of finance trade and industry and labor, but since there is a wide divergence of views between the minister of finance and the new Socialistic minister of labor, it seems probable this commission will be confronted with the same difficulties which attended previous efforts at reconciliation. ,

An investigation of the factory conditions in Petrograd leads to the alarming conclusion that unless the government soon finds a means of adjusting the present difficulties, most of the industrial enterprises working for national defense will be comprelled to close within a few months. The outstanding features of the labor situation are as fo'lows:

Virtually the same difficulties prevail in all the big factories of Petrograd, and apparently authenticated reports from the Moscow, Donetz and Ura! districts indicate general disorganization.

In many of the factories the demands by the workmen for inreased wages actually are greater than the entire profits of the factories under the best conditions of production. The workmen, through their committees, virtually are in command of the factories, and all business has to be submitted to them for approval. Wages in a majority of the facfories already have been increased from 100 to 150 per cent, but there yet has been no offset by an advance in the prices of the output.

In one of the works in Petrograd the workmen recently demanded the immediate payment of 13,000,000 rubles -normally $6,500,000 -to cover an increase of fifteen kopeks an hour for each workman since the beginning of the war. The directers communicated with the government and asked to be placed under voluntary arrest as protection against the threats of the workmen. which, as usual, accompanied the demand. The directors for two days were housed in the ministry of justice. The government finally informed the directors that the matter would be considered and with the demand of the workmen held temperarily in abeyance, the directors returned to the factory.

An eight-hour day has become effective in all factories. According duction not met the advance in wages, but payment has been so slow that industry is in urgent need of working capital. The dealers as the banks naturally are not eager to extend credit to factories which are in control of workmen's committees. As a result, some of $:05 the factories, according to this information, will be compelled to close within a month.

An ironical feature of the difficulties confronting the employees is the fact that, although suffering serious loss, they do not dare to close the establishments, owing to threats of vengeance. The power of the workman's committees so far has superseded the authority of the owners. No man in a factory can be dismissed without the consent of the committee. There is no way of enforcing discipline, one manufacturer said, and idleness is preva-
