A Number of Changes Have Been Announced—Proceedings at Westminster Abbey Curtailed. London, Aug. 8.—A number of important changes in the coronation programme were announced today. The recognition, in which the King is presented to the people by the Archbishop of Canterbury as the "anointed king of the realm," will be performed but once instead of four times as given in official programme. The litany, which was to have followed the recognition, will not be said. The sermon will be omitted and the Te Deum, which was placed in the order of the service after the presentation of the Bible, will not be given at that time, but will be sung during the recess at the close of the coronation office, when the King visits Saint Edward's chapel.

CHAMBERLAIN AND THE FAST SERVICE

HIS ATTITUDE ON THE QUESTION OF SUBSIDY

Redecorating the Canadian Arch for Saturday—The King's Message to the People.

Montreal, Aug. 7.—The Star's London cable says: "It is understood that Mr. Chamberlain has agreed to urge upon the British cabinet the importance of contributing one-half of whatever Canada contributes to the new fast mail service. If he succeeds, it will mean that in the event of acceptance of the offer of the Canadian Pacific railway, the British subsidy would amount to $28,000 and the Canadian to $170,000 per annum."
"Sir Wilfrid Laurier is arranging for the tender of the Elder-Despater-Allen combination is accepted, the proportion will be—Great Britain, £100,000; Canada, £200,000. The statement being put abroad in interested quarters that Mr. Chamberlain has declared he would not assent to one penny of British subsidy being given to the Canadian Pacific is absolutely untrue. It is certain that Mr. Chamberlain's only desire is to see efficiency secured on lines acceptable to the Canadian ministers."
"The Canadian arch in Whitehall is assuming a new dress for the coronation on Saturday next. It will be repainted in crimson and purple, and bear the motto, '(Canada, the free home for millions)'. In order to leave a pleasant impression with the people who, after the accident to Mr. Chamberlain, objected to the arch as causing obstruction of traffic, the Canadian government has given $250 to the police orphanage fund.

THE HAYES CASE.

Some Hot Argument in Court Yesterday Afternoon.

Compliments between learned counsel flew around pretty thick in the police court yesterday afternoon, when motions were made to proceed with the hearing of the third charge laid against Col. Granville H. Hayes by Capt. John Irving, a charge which alleges that accused, by agreeing to his own use of the sum of $24,000, which had been given to him by Capt. Irving to pay to a certain person or persons, to him unknown, in the city of Portland, for shares in the Hayes mine, had been guilty of theft.

The learned counsel engaged on the case are W. J. Taylor, K. C., for the complainant and Fred Peters, K. C., with L. P. Duff, K. C., for the accused. The trouble which has now occupied these gentlemen for nearly two sittings of the court arose over the putting in of a memorandum August 1, 1898, between complainant and accused, which document had already been put in evidence in previous cases against Col. Hayes. Also attached to this document are further agreements between the same parties dealing with the same matter, and while Mr. Taylor desired to put in the first agreement only, and to have same extended on the minutes of evidence, Messrs. Peters and Duff were convinced that such action was contrary to the rules of evidence as well as possibly prejudicial to the interests of the client. Hence arose much heated argument.

Mr. Peters made things so warm all round that even the magistrate did not escape unscathed. "You are acting now," said Mr. Hall to the learned counsel, "as if you were trying to make this inquiry as disagreeable to me as possible."

"Not at all," replied Mr. Peters, "I am here in the interests of my client, and to do that a document containing three agreements is either put in in the proper way or not put in at all. Mr. Taylor is trying to drive me into putting in evidence which he ought to put in himself."

Mr. Hall—Well, if I am wrong there is such a proceeding as a motion to quash commitment. You seem to be under the impression that I am excluding evidence, but I am not. I am simply taking what evidence is offered me. Mr. Peters—But Your Honor has the evidence in your own hands. The other agreements are actually before you, attached to the document which Mr. Taylor wrongly seeks to detach from it.

Mr. Hall—You say that this is one document; but I say that there are three documents.

Mr. Duff—Yes, but Your Honor is here to inquire into the truth of the allegations made against the accused, and you have the right to bring out all the evidence which bears upon the case.

Mr. Hall—You have in your hands a document containing three agreements affecting this case, and my learned friend (Mr. Taylor) should not be allowed to separate them.

After further discussion the magistrate refused to alter his ruling, and the first agreement was ordered to be extended on the minutes.

The next witness called was Harry Rowley, accountant of the Bank of B. N. A., who produced some account books for the purpose of proving whether or not Col. Hayes has on August 30th paid into his account the $24,000 in question.

Then a new argument arose, accused's counsel claiming that as Mr. Rowley had not made the entries himself he could not give evidence about them, and further that entries in bank books were not evidence in a criminal case anyway. The magistrate reserved his decision on this point, and as it was after 4 o'clock the court adjourned, the case being formally remanded until Tuesday next.

SEARCHED IN VAIN FOR THE TREASURE

BLAKELEY'S VOYAGE ENDED FRUITLESSLY

The Brigantine Came Back to Port Last Night With Hard Luck Story of Adventure.

Another bubble has burst. The golden dreams of scores of people in this city have been shattered. The gold ship

The Blakeley started on the return voyage to port. Of their experience on the island, the officers of the expedition speak in more or less reserved terms, for the shareholders have yet to be met and formal communication made to them of the fruitless outcome of the long voyage. The crew are not so guarded, nor so careful to hide their real sentiment. Disgust at the outcome, and scorn for the promoters is manifested without qualification. Most of them are willing to give their leaders credit for sincerity, but their efforts they classify as those of fatuous men, who allowed their reason to be superseded by their misguided enthusiasm and credulous faith in the treasure stories, of many editions and modifications, to which this country has been treated.

THE BLAKELEY, WHICH RETURNED LAST EVENING.

Blakeley, which was fondly expected to bring treasure beyond the dream of avarice, is back again in port freighted only with disappointed men, with musty bread, with salt pork, and—disgust. Seven weary months of toil and danger have been sacrificed to an effort to discover and to secure the gold coin, the precious plate, the silver and gold ornaments and all the other wealth which history, tradition or credulity have attributed to the island of Cocos.

only escaped destruction by Captain Hackett's action in taking advantage of a turn of the wind and running her to a more sheltered portion of the beach. The supplies, which had been estimated for nine months, certainly lasted until their return, but they were in bad condition, and the bread which the crew have been eating for weeks past is so sour as to give even a land-lubber some idea of the hardships they have undergone.

The Blakeley left Victoria on the 6th of January. She was caught in the fierce gale which sprang up a day or two later, and had a narrow call off San Juan at the entrance to the Straits. Thence down to a point off the California coast she made good time, but from this time forward until she reached Cocos island in April her progress was villainously slow. Capricious squalls and calms made navigation very vexatious, and the spreading of much canvas hazardous. When the latitudes of the island were near the chronometer went wrong, and the bearings could not be determined. In this plight the Danish sailing ship Singalese was sighted and the Blakeley bore down upon her. As the Blakeley approached the Singalese asked: "Where are your signals?" Curiously enough, the signal flags had been left at home, and the Blakeley could not reply, but continued to bear

A TRYING EXPERIENCE. Northern Travellers Suffer From Want of Food—Surrounded By Fire.

Special correspondence from Dawson tells of a trying experience of Ambrose Ven and William Stone, who recently arrived at that city from Coldfoot, by way of the Chumley trail and river, after being three days without food and surrounded on all sides by a raging wilderness of flame, and a blinding smoke filling the heavens and shutting off all view at any distance.

"Coming over the trail from Coldfoot, we brought three dogs as companions, and took the big divide leading between the Koyukuk and the Chumley basins, which is largely used by travellers coming out of the Koyukuk country along Front street, were running on different sides as we progressed, and after we got on the divide they began to force us to abandon the regular course. For three days we were off the track, and were compelled to wander about in a blind manner under the obscuring blanket of dense and choking smoke, and to fight our way and guard against the encroachment of the insidious flames as best we could."

"During all these three days off the trail our journey was delayed, and we finally exhausted every ounce of food with which we had started. We had guns and with them managed to kill enough ptarmigan to sustain life. After wandering, we hardly knew where, we struck the Chumley trail, and building a raft descended the river to the Yukon and escaped the fire-swept regions.

"There is no telling how much country was covered by fire, but it seems to me incalculable. Thousands of acres of timber are being destroyed. The Koyukuk is no good, and any man trying to leave that country should be hanged. Only six or eight claims are actually being worked in the whole country. They embrace one claim each on Slate, Myrtle, Emma, Glacier and Hammond creeks, and one on Hammond river are paying no more than dollar for dollar; that is, it costs a dollar to take out every dollar's worth of gold. Gold Beach has been shut down for four weeks. Emma creek is short of water. A good many are becoming discouraged and are leaving the country. Some are going down the Koyukuk to the lower Yukon.

Obstacles to Federation.
Quoting the words of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in a speech delivered in Great Britain in which the difficulties that lie in the way of a commercial federation of the Empire are pointed out, the Colonialist says "It would require a pretty hide-bound partisan to see any advantage of Imperial Federation in these words at all." Now Mr. Chamberlain, the one statesman in Great Britain who has had the courage to take up the question of closer commercial relations with the colonies, has been equally candid in pointing out the difficulties that must be overcome before any practical results can be achieved. Mr. Barton, the premier of the Australian commonwealth, has stated distinctly that the people he represents are not prepared to abate the duties on British goods, because if they did so the greater part of the revenue of the country would be cut off, and the new federation is not prepared to resort to direct taxation. Premier Seddon, of New Zealand, is more impetuous, but he has as yet given no practical evidence of his zeal. He favors a tariff preference on British goods entering the colony. He has not yet persuaded his supporters in the New Zealand legislature to grant such a preference. Is it not a fact that the action of the government of which Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the head in granting a preference to British goods was the first step in the direction of the commercial federation of the Empire? There can be no retracing of steps in that matter. Even if the unexpected should happen and Toryism once more rear its head out of the dust into which it has been trodden by the detested Laurier, the preference would not be interfered with. When South Africa has settled down into the peaceful pursuits of life and Australia and New Zealand have joined her in following the example of Canada, the next important movement in the direction of closer commercial union will have been made.

And what about Britain herself? Is she prepared to abandon her traditional policy and lend encouragement to the colonial advocates of an Imperial policy? If so, why are we not fastidious with the words of one leading public man of the kingdom uttered in support of such a movement? The majority of the chief newspapers have ignored the subject entirely, while those which have dealt with it at all have been very cautious in their remarks. There is good reason for the belief that some of the Liberal leaders in Great Britain would rejoice greatly if they could by some means connect the Conservatives definitely with a policy of protection. To urge that such a policy was designed for the benefit of the colonies would constitute no reason whatever in the minds of the consumers of bread for its adoption. They are ready to point out that the course of the colonies has been consistently selfish from the time they were granted self-government. The words of defiance issued by the Tory party at the time it advocated protection in Canada—"It is NATIONAL POLICY to be inimical to British connection, so much the worse for British connection," have not been forgotten. They are rising up against us at the present day when we are striving to overcome their evil effects and unite that which they drove asunder. One British paper says: "After enjoying the protection of the Mother Country for years, the colonies come blandly proposing that, to suit their convenience, we should anger our foreign customers, disarrange our whole financial system, and raise the cost of living to the British people." It is gratifying to note, however, that in spite of the evil effects of the policy of the Tory party of Canada the cause which was taken up by the present government is making substantial progress. Unless something untoward occurs the sentiments favoring closer union will continue to grow and will take form in practical measures.

A NOTABLE WORK.
A work which is expected to have an important effect upon the industrial situation in Great Britain has just been completed. The last copier stone on the great Nile dam at Assuan has been laid and one of the greatest monuments to the beneficence of British rule over a foreign and "inferior" people is finished. It is said there can be no greater public benefactor than he who makes two blades of grass grow in a place where ordinarily there is sustenance for but one. The immense dam on the Nile will enable wide tracks of land to bear two crops a year instead of one, will bring whole districts into alluvial and will greatly increase the area of cotton and sugar cultivation.

The Manchester cotton manufacturers have of late years, it is said, been feeling the competition of the mills of the Southern States, which have been absorbing the raw material grown in the cotton fields. It is believed that presently, with the assistance of works of various kinds, India, Egypt and the Soudan will be able to make up the shortage. John Bull may not be very "swift," but he usually manages to overcome the obstacles that are raised to his industrial progress. It is sometimes said he blunders over pitfalls. In this instance he seems to have gone about his business systematically, and with some precision.

Very little attention has been paid to the progress of work on this dam by the newspapers. But the scientific and technical journals have had their eyes upon it. The Scientific American has had numerous reports and illustrations upon the dam in its various stages. The contract was signed in February, 1898, with John Aird & Co., on behalf of the Khedive in Council (the Council was the British representative, it is practically the government). It was to be completed in five years, and is finished well within the time limit. It is 1 1/4 miles long, and is pierced by 180 openings, 23 feet wide and 7 feet high, which have steel sluice gates. Continuous employment has been given for the last eighteen months to 16,000 operatives, 90 per cent of whom are Egyptians. From its inception therefore, the work has been beneficial to its influence. Now it will add productiveness to its achievements and will be a permanent source of wealth to the world.

FORCE, WITH DISCRETION.
Mr. R. E. Gosnell, writing to the Colonialist from London, in regard to the functions of which Sir Wilfrid Laurier spoke, says in the speech of the Premier at the Dominion Day dinner was "a model of diction, easy grace and ornate eloquence." At the Constitutional Club feast "many of the speakers tired the audience or were only indifferently or politely listened to, and as soon as the Canadian Premier rose, and his mellifluous tones were audible, every eye was turned and every ear strained towards him. NOT A WORD WAS LOST." These sentences hardly bear out the statement made by our contemporary yesterday that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has not scored in 1902 as he did in 1897." But it would not do to permit the Premier to gain too much credit. That might have an adverse effect upon Toryism in Canada, which is practically without a recognized head and has no policy upon commercial or any other kind of federation. So we are told editorially that "as a representative at a great function, Laurier is all that can be desired and a man of whom Canada may well be proud. He is suave, eloquent and tactful. But he does not possess the force which makes a decisive and permanent imprint upon public opinion, and thus shapes the destiny of nations and empires. He is a political leader who is influenced by public opinion, rather than one who moulds and shapes it." Let us see about this. For a great many years the Tories preached about protection. They passed resolutions annually in Parliament in favor of it. They brought the British government to denounce the Belgian and German treaties which obstructed it. They spoke to these questions for more years than we can remember, with no result. In 1896 the Liberals, under the leadership of Laurier, assumed office. In a couple of years the Belgian and German treaties were denounced and a policy had been inaugurated which not one person in a million in Canada had ever dreamed of—a policy of preferential treatment for British goods. This idea was one of the most popular that has ever been adopted in Canada. It has increased in popularity yearly. Sir Charles Tupper and his followers at first denounced it most bitterly. They predicted that it meant ruin and desolation for Canada. The leader "heard the wail, the miserable wail," of the destitute in all parts of the land. It was prophesied that under the policy the Liberals would not remain in power a year. They have gone on increasing in strength and the country is prosperous. At no period in the history of Canada, before or since confederation, has there been such growth in activity, industry and wealth. As we have said, the fiscal action which preceded these developments was practically undreamt of in Canada until it was announced by the Finance Minister in Parliament. There was no public opinion in favor of it, because the public had not had an opportunity to consider it. Yet we are told with an ignorance of facts that is positively amazing in an organ which assumes to be a teacher, that Sir Wilfrid Laurier "does not possess the force which makes a decisive and permanent imprint upon public opinion, and thus shapes the destiny of nations and empires." There is a force that is destructive and a force that is constructive. Probably if Sir Wilfrid Laurier had taken the stump in Leeds and pointed out to the electors of that constituency what was his duty to do as a constructive candidate because his defeat would inflict a stunning blow upon a government which was in favor of preferential treatment for Canadian wheat, our contemporary would have given him credit for being a strong man, one with sufficient force to shape the destiny of nations. But such an act would have allied Canada with the Conservative party of Great Britain, and would have aroused the Liberalism and resentment of Liberals, as Sir Charles Tupper did when as Canadian High Commissioner he took an active part in a political campaign in Great Britain. Force without discretion is a dangerous thing for a public man to possess. If the commercial federation of the Empire is ever to be accomplished, it must come about gradually, and be developed along the lines laid down in the Canadian preferential scheme. It must also secure the sympathy of both the great political parties of Great Britain if it is to become permanent.

The record of drowning accidents in various parts of the country indicates that the impulses of the human heart are still in the right direction. Many persons have lost their lives in the effort to save others. The most heroic performance of the season is probably that of a little girl in New York state, who, "hearing screams from the cow pasture, arrived just in time to see her baby sister tossed in the air by a vicious bull. Without a moment's hesitation the girl grasped a stick, and springing into the enclosure, rushed at the bull, which was making ready to toss the baby again. At the sight of the newcomer the bull directed his attention from the baby, and with lowered head charged the girl, who calmly invited his coming. As the mad animal dashed up, the child threw her stick, and when the bull was three feet away she poked it directly into one of his eyes. The pain caused the animal to desert from further attacks, and, hastily catching her little sister in her arms, Flora ran from the field, little the worse for her encounter. The baby, while badly bruised, will probably recover."

That man, J. Herrick Duggan, a Canadian, seems to be the greatest designer of small sailing boats that ever lived. The Americans have been running in their fastest craft on the lake for five years now without ever winning a boat. The challenging yacht this year was the swiftest of fifteen or twenty boats built especially to achieve the honor of winning back the Seawanhaka cup from the St. Lawrence Yacht Club. As we remarked last year on a similar occasion, Duggan should be given an opportunity to build a large boat of the same relative speed as his midguts. That appears to be the only chance of taking the America Cup from the New York Yacht Club. Two British challengers for the Seawanhaka Cup have also been vanquished by Duggan's boats.

We have placed during July twenty-four students from our College into offices at salaries which enable them to support themselves. Most of these were girls, in fact we had to fill quite a few positions where boys were wanted with girls, as boys are very scarce, which is rather a pity. We have three positions vacant which we are unable to fill, positions which are undesirable for young ladies.
For example, in one of the C. P. R. offices, vacant now, where now and then night work is demanded, is an undesirable position for a girl, while it is a splendid opportunity for a young man. We filled that position three times before, and the occupant was each time promoted.
Boys find ready employment and most always go out before their course is finished, and have to finish their studies making use of the evening sessions.
Do not forget that when you enter our College you are sure of employment, we keep you and train you till you so know your work that you can make your own living at it.

City News in Brief.

School Opening Sale of Youths' and Boys' Clothing at Fit-Reform Wardrobe.
—Steamer Majestic will make an extra trip Friday, August 8th, arriving and sailing at usual hours.
—The White House will be open on Friday evening, and will close all day Saturday, Coronation Day.
—Thos. Earle, M. P., will commence business again shortly as a wholesale commission agent, with offices in the Burnes block, Bastion square.
—Some special Coronation curtains in Irish Plaid Net are shown by Veller Bros. Every up-to-date housekeeper should at least have a pair of these in remembrance of this great event.
—Puget Sound canners are lamenting a big shortage in the pack this year. The season is said to be about over, and all that has been packed thus far are 255,000 cases, as compared with 600,000 cases a year ago.
—The secretaries of the various fraternal societies are requested to notify the members of their respective lodges that the societies' reunion program will start from the city hall at 1:30 p. m. sharp to-morrow for the Cathedral Park. By order of the committee.
—A large crowd saw Prof. Miller make a very successful parachute jump from his balloon at Oak Bay last night. The balloon, with the aeronaut on the suspended trapeze, was carried by an air current off shore. As his high-flying ship was about to descend the professor left it, his parachute letting him down easily into the water. A boat was lying there in readiness and the aeronaut and deflated balloon were speedily taken ashore.
—The choir of the Metropolitan Methodist church had a very enjoyable outing yesterday, being driven out to Albert Head in the Young Canadian. Mrs. Duke gave them a hearty welcome, and provided them with the very best of meals. Between 30 and 40 went out, and passed away the time in boating, games, etc. One of the special attractions was the orchard. Leaving the city at 9 a. m. and returning about 10:30 p. m., everyone agreed that the outing was one of the best that the choir ever had.

Personal Attention Day and Night.

—That panther, the four-footed Tracy of Cedar Hill, has been seen again. It was discovered by a Cordova Bay rancher yesterday morning, and slunk away in its usual stealthy manner when detected. That panther courts destruction. Like the late desperado, it turns up at frequent but unexpected intervals, just to let the human species know it is still alive. Still it is hardly fair to Tracy to draw a parallel. He carried a burden of many thousand dollars on his devoted head, while the big cat can dance gaily out of sight with a mere $7.50, the government bounty, on its precious hide. If that beast isn't careful it will join its mate who departed this life back of C. E. King's place some months ago.

Got your ticket for the Coronation Ball, Friday? Want to see you.

—In regard to the funes from the Chemical Works, which are at present causing no little discomfort in the city, an official of the establishment says that the whole trouble is caused by the bursting of the pipes, allowing the gas to escape. The place has been closed today for ten days while repairs are being made.
—Rev. R. B. Blyth, pastor of the First Congregational church, who has been on a visit to the East, will return to-morrow night. Rev. Mr. Blyth was one of the principals in a very happy event while away, and when he arrives to-morrow night he will not be alone. He will likely occupy the pulpit next Sunday morning.
—The warm weather is apparently drawing nails out of the plank sidewalks. On some parts of the Yates street walk there are two or three remnants of them protruding with almost military regularity. They are death on patient leather tips, and not a very impressive sight for tourists. In some places it is much safer to walk on the road. There is an opening for a Samaritan with the hammer.
—As tributary to the main trunk line between Victoria and Nanaimo, branch lines are being constructed at intervals into the growing settlements on either side. A line has just been completed to Mount Sicker, and is now open for business. Conversations can be held with Mount Sicker, direct, from any part of the existing telephone system. As a means of quick, reliable communication this will no doubt prove a great convenience to the business public.

Rev. W. D. Barber officiated on Wednesday evening at the marriage of Mr. William W. Gabriel and Miss Sarah Catharine Hitt in St. Saviour's church, Victoria West. The church was prettily decorated, the most prominent feature of the decorations being a wedding bell.
The bride was given away by her father, Mr. T. G. Hitt, and was attended by Misses W. Gabriel, Fraser, and Lovell. She was charmingly costumed and carried a bouquet of roses. The groom was attended by Messrs. T. McDowell, P. Hitt, and R. Johnston. A reception was held in the evening at Mr. C. Hitt's residence, and the newly-married couple left for Vancouver on the honeymoon trip yesterday morning.

The party which came over on the boat included the following: Capt. Charles Newman, Henry Henke, Leonard Disher, Pearson, Johnson, Edward Louder and Roy Hurd. The baseball team is a strong aggregation, and can be depended upon to put up a good game both this evening and to-morrow. The Lavitas suffered somewhat on the trip over and went out for a little this morning. The game will commence at 6 o'clock this evening and 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. The following team will represent the Lavitas: Catcher, Altman; pitcher, Woodruff; first base, Morgan; second base, Sharpe; third base, Green; short stop, Wells; left field, Heagy; centre field, Whitfield; right field, Lane-man.

LAWN TENNIS.
SEMI-FINALS TO-DAY.
The Victoria Lawn Tennis Club matches at Belcher street courts have dwindled down to the semi-finals, which will be contested to-day. The championship matches will be played to-morrow, as will also the finals in the ladies' and gentlemen's doubles.

R. Schwengers, the late champion of British Columbia (Mainland), will play A. T. Goward, who holds the Victorian championship for last year. The finals in the ladies' singles, between Miss A. Bell and the winner of the match in which Miss Morris plays Mrs. Byron-Johnson, will also take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The feature of the day, it is anticipated, will be the finals in the men's singles between the winner of A. T. Goward and R. Schwengers and K. H. Pooley, and the winner of Lieut. Knox and Lieut. Whyte.

The results in the mixed doubles will be played at 5.45, if previous matches have been completed.

The results of yesterday afternoon's play follows:

C. Schwengers beat S. Powell, 6-3, 6-0.
C. W. Gamble and D. M. Rogers beat F. C. Crickman and N. Smith (Vancouver), 5-7, 6-4, 6-3.

Mrs. Hardy and Miss A. Bell beat Mrs. Byron-Johnson and Miss Morris, 7-5, 6-3.
R. H. Pooley and A. T. Goward beat A. P. H. Martin and H. L. Goward, 6-2, 6-4.
N. Smith and Mrs. Byron-Johnson beat Lieut. T. A. Whyte, R. E., and Mrs. Langley, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3.
A. T. Goward and Miss A. Bell beat N. Smith and Mrs. Byron-Johnson, 6-2, 6-1.
F. T. Cornwall and Harvey Combs beat J. B. Winter and B. Clay, 6-2, 6-1.
Lieut. Knox, R. N., and Mrs. Burton beat Capt. Booth, R. E., and Miss Bickford, by default.
C. Schwengers beat C. Schwengers, 6-1, 6-3.

The club dance will be held at the Dallas hotel this evening, and the committee having the arrangements in hand are making every preparation for the success of the entertainment. Tickets can be obtained at the courts, and at the stores of Messrs. T. N. Eldredge & Co. and Cameron & Mitchell. After the dance special cars will be run to all parts of the city.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF.

St. George Coronation Ball, Friday.
—R. M. Armstrong, controller of the railway and steamboat mail service of Canada, is in the city. He leaves for Vancouver and Kootenay tomorrow.

—In a game of baseball at Beacon Hill between the Firemen and B. C. Electric Railway Company's employees, the latter were victorious by a score of 47 to 22.

—Some new patterns of Inland Linoleum just landed by sailing vessel at Welles, among which is an extra fine large pattern suitable for Hotel Dining Room or Saloon.

—The shoot for the Peters cup by the members of the Capital Gun Club will take place on Sunday next at the Gorge traps. A hard fight is expected between Lenfesty, MacIure and Welier, all of whom have won the trophy on different occasions.

—R. M. S. Mowbray which was looked for yesterday to arrive from the Atafu and Honolulu, was not reported from Cornwall up to the hour of going to press. The steamer was a day late in leaving the Hawaiian capital.

—A deserter named George Cannon was arrested by Provincial Constable Campbell at Esquimalt yesterday, and sent on board the Grafton. Cannon deserted five or six months ago, and has recently been working in the dockyards.

—Dwight King Edward left for the Mainland this morning to have longer and more effective spurs and more installed. It will be away but a few days, as the necessary gear for New Westminster will enable the work to be done in short order.

Meet you at the Coronation Ball Friday, A. O. U. W.

—The school trustees, of "The Board of Governors of Kings College, Victoria," if anybody cares to give them so honorific a title, will meet in adjourned session to-night. Quite a lot of business has accumulated during the holidays, and to-night's meeting has been decided upon to polish it off.

—A number of cyclists appear to have the impression that the ordinance requiring lamps to be carried on their wheels at night no longer exists. That by-law was not repealed, and the authorities are continuing to enforce it. Quite a number of summonses were issued yesterday for an offence in this respect. He will pay his three dollars Monday, or possibly before.

—Sir Henry Blake, governor of Hongkong, and party, arrived at Winnipeg on the Imperial Limited to-day, and left in the private car Colombo, attached to the Imperial Limited, for the West. Sir Henry is returning from a trip to England, where they went to attend the coronation, and will probably leave by the Empress of China on her next outward bound voyage.

—The Times has received copies of premium lists of two forthcoming fairs. One is the annual exhibition of the Kamloops provincial fair, to be held at Kamloops, September 24th to 28th inclusive. The other is the New Westminster exhibition prize list. Both are neatly and attractively arranged, and the prizes are such as to attract many exhibitors.

Paul Johnson, manager of the B. C. Copper Company's smelter at Greenwood, accompanied by Capt. Clifford, who recently resigned the management of the Hall Mines, at Nelson, are in the city. They leave for the West. Mr. Johnson, where they will inspect the Crofton, and afterwards the Ladysmith smelter. Mr. Johnson will return tomorrow to spend Sunday in the city.

—The case of the Indian Johnny, accused of throwing a knothman named Matilda out of the Occidental hotel window, was resumed in the police court this morning. The evidence of the two gunners from Work Point, who first picked up the woman, and caught Johnny as he was running away, and Sgt. Walker, who appeared on the scene a short time afterwards, was given. The case was then adjourned until Monday.

Coronation Ball on Friday. Electric Fans. Iced Drinks. Splendid Music. Cool Hall.

—There was a narrow escape from drowning yesterday. A young lady named Miss McGinnis got a log into water outside her depth, and for a time her position was perilous. Fortunately she was seen struggling from shore, and two little girls, Emma Gray and Genevieve Bone, hastened to the scene in a boat, arriving just in time. A lad, Frank Mason, went to their assistance, and the young lady was taken ashore, where restoratives were successfully applied.

—On Sunday near the steamer City of Nanaimo will make two trips to Port Angeles, leaving the C. P. wharf at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. The Fifth Regiment band will accompany the excursions, and add to the general enjoyment by supplying music in their usual proficient manner. The fare for the round trip will be but 50 cents, and no doubt a great many will avail themselves of this opportunity to enjoy the delightful sail across the straits and spend a few hours with their friends at Angeles.

—The Pollard youngsters will open their return engagement on Monday night in "An American Millionaire." Victorians will be interested to learn what the Seattle press thinks of these clever children. The Post-Intelligencer says: "The Pollards returned to the city for a week's run at the Grand opera house, opening last night in the new comic opera, 'The American Millionaire.' Everyone here knows what the company is and what clever people the little people are, but they proved to be revelations even to those who knew their work. The opera is brim full of catchy music, funny dialogue, and amusing incidents. That brought round after round of applause from the big house that heard it. Almost every number received at least three recalls, and some of them many more. The costumes worn have never been seen here before, and some of the cleverest acting I have helped make it a success. Of course the interest was centered around little Daphne Pollard, who played and sang with her usual attractiveness."

—The Fifth Regiment will not take part in the parade at Work Point tomorrow. So many of the men are away camping that the attendances would be extremely small, and in view of this the following regimental order has been issued: "That part of paragraph seven, of Regimental Order No. 1, August 7th, 1902, referring to the parade ordered for the 9th of August next, is hereby cancelled." At the preparatory parade in the drill hall last night the total number of the six companies was only thirty men.

—Supt. Hussey has received a communication from W. H. Higgins, of Beacon Hill, stating that some of his men have noticed an unpleasant smell in a place where Indians have felled trees, and that the Indians say that the place is not safe, as there are deadfalls and traps set there. A suspicion has arisen that the body of Wm. Hussey, supposed to have been murdered by the Indian, Johnny Tackum, lies hidden in this place. Annie, Tackum's knothman, has been observed there about, and the Indians seem very anxious to prevent any white people from investigating the place. It is said that the trees could not have been felled for any other reason than to make a hiding place. The police will examine the suspected spot. Tackum was tried for the murder of Hussey in Vancouver last spring, and was remanded in order to enable a further search to be made for Hussey's body.

COFFEE is king of the Breakfast Table.

It can spoil a good breakfast; it deems a bad breakfast. Food feeds the body; coffee feeds both body and wits. It stimulates and arouses! Six hundred years has found no substitute for it. But unless you drink extra pure coffee you lose the subtle invigoration and might as well drink water. There are many ways of missing pure coffee; there is one sure way of getting it. Ask your grocer for Chase & Sanborn's Coffee and refuse substitutes.

THE--

Dominion Co-operative Home Building Association

Have been accorded a gratifying reception in Victoria. About $75,000 in contracts taken in two days. Had the prospectus been printed, this amount would have been augmented by at least $100,000, proving that people are desirous of owning their homes when the opportunity of doing so (on easy terms) is offered. Our plan is so easy that 25 of 1 per cent. pays your interest. Call at the office, 19 Broad street. Parties having lots, or houses and lots for sale should list them with us. Our contract holders will be looking for properties at an early date.
