PROGRESS MADE AT SEVERAL POINTS

ALLIES' POSITION IS SATISFACTORY WITH BATTLE UNFINISHED

Temporary Lull in Fighting Between Nieuport and Ypres—Struggle Now in Fourteenth Day; Germans May Change Attack and Make Boulogne Their Objective

London, Oct. 29.—The fourteenth day of the battle of West Flanders, being fought over an area probably no greater than a large-sized farm found the allies holding their ground to the west of the Yser and the Germans apparently bringing up more reinforcements to repeat their furious attempts to break through and reach the coast of France.

All dispatches seem to agree that there was a temporary lull yesterday in the fighting between Nieuport and Ypres, but the reports are far from unanimous as to whether this was due to an armistice to bury the dead and remove the wounded, which must cover the field, or whether it was caused by the exhaustion of the contending forces or the German lack of ammunition.

The London press hazards all three guesses, and contends at any rate that the position of the allies is satisfactory. The public is warned, however, that the struggle in this quarter is not yet over, for the Germans, if they find the northern route to Dunkirk and Calais impassable, may shift to the south with Boulogne as an objective.

It was at Boulogne that Napoleon waited in vain for his troops to embark for England, and the taking of this city by the Germans would stir the German people as nothing else could.

Berlin Admits Great Army is Checked.

Berlin claims that there has been no recent progress in the struggle in Flanders, and in explaining this, says sixteen British warships are operating on the coast. This number never has been confirmed from the British sources, but a dispatch from Dover reports that a battleship equipped with twelve-inch guns has gone to the assistance of the British monitors which have been shelling the Germans on shore.

Other reports speak of heavy firing in the North Sea, as if a big naval engagement had taken place, but the admiralty here is silent. Taken as a whole, the British interpretation of the news this morning was cheerful.

From South Africa came a statement that General Botha had inflicted a sharp defeat upon General Beyers, the latest recruit to the revolutionary movement in the Union of South Africa.

In the eastern arena of the war in Europe, the Russians appear to have driven in the German right wing, as a fortnight ago they shattered the left before Warsaw. In confirmation of this is the German official admission that their troops, together with the Austrians had retreated in Poland.

Mourning for Prince of Battenberg.

Beginning to-day the British court goes into mourning for three weeks for Prince Maurice of Battenberg, the first member of the royal family to be sacrificed in the war. The prince was a cousin of King George and a son of Prince Henry of Battenberg. He held a commission in the King's Royal Rifle Corps and died of wounds received in battle. Royal condolences already have been sent to his sister, the Queen of Spain, who but a few days ago gave birth to a son. The London papers to-day devote considerable space to the death of Prince Maurice, saying that although a boy, he was a gallant sportsman.

There are recurring reports that the Germans are constructing sheds on the Belgian coast for the housing of Zeppelins. A local paper is offering subscribers free insurance against Zeppelins. There is no confirmation of the reported invasion of Portuguese West Africa.

Holland is still on edge as regards a possible violation of her neutrality.

CANADIAN MILITARY HOSPITAL FILLED UP

London, Oct. 29.—The Canadian military hospital at Shorncliffe remains filled. A certain number of patients are now convalescent but the directors of the institution are in some difficulty, for if they discharge these to convalescent homes they are liable to lose the war office grant for the patients' maintenance. Many offers of such homes have been made but so far there has been no general provision for the patients' maintenance.

HEAVY GERMAN CANNON EXPLODES KILLING 150

Paris, Oct. 29.—The Journal publishes a Madrid dispatch credited to the Imparcial, which alleges that one of the German 42-centimetre cannon on the right wing in France exploded as the result of excessive powder charge and that the gunners and 150 men were blown to pieces.

CANADIAN BUSINESS IS SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

London, Oct. 29.—Speaking at the annual meeting of the Western Canada Investment company to-day, the chairman said that although there had been considerable financial stringency in Canada, reports indicated that the harvest this year was, on the whole, satisfactory. The general impression appeared to be that in the industrial and commercial centres business was slowly improving, he said, but while there was continued expansion and development of the Dominion's resources are bound to be more or less restricted.

BRITAIN AND RUSSIA TO EXCHANGE FORCES

London, Oct. 29.—A Petrograd dispatch to the Times states that the British and Russian governments have agreed to a mutually advantageous exchange of combatant and technical forces, the details of which will be announced later.

EMDEN, DISGUISED SINKS DESTROYER AND RUSSIAN SHIP

Tokio, Oct. 29.—11 a. m.—The British embassy hears that the German cruiser Emden, flying the Japanese flag and disguised by the addition of a fourth smokestack, entered Panama a British possession in the Straits Settlement and fired torpedoes which sank the Russian cruiser Jemtchug and a French destroyer.

The Emden's entrance into the waters of Penang was audacious. She came in under the guns of the forts and after sinking the cruiser and the destroyer escaped through the Strait of Malacca. The fate of the crew on board the Jemtchug is not yet known here.

Merchant vessels belonging to the belligerent nations are taking refuge at Colombo, Ceylon.

The Russian cruiser Jemtchug was a boat of about 3,100 tons and was laid down in 1902. Her main battery consisted of six 4-inch guns and she had a speed of twenty-four knots. She carried a crew of 324 men. After the battle of the Sea of Japan, during the Russo-Japanese war in 1905, the Jemtchug was interned at Manila. The Emden, after her exploits in the Indian ocean around India, where she sank a score or more of British steamers, apparently shifted her scene of operations more to the eastward to the vicinity of the Straits Settlements. Tuesday she was reported as having sunk a Japanese passenger steamer bound for Singapore.

SEATTLE CANADIANS RAISE RELIEF FUNDS

H. Sheridan-Bickers Addresses Meeting Held at Metropolitan Club Last Night.

Seattle, Oct. 29.—A largely attended meeting of the Canadian club, held in the Metropolitan club last night, appointed a committee to raise funds to relieve sufferers from the war, in connection with the British-American Relief association after an address from H. Sheridan-Bickers, formerly proprietor and editor of the Spokesman of Victoria.

L. G. Pattullo spoke of the work of the British-American Relief association and appealed for the co-operation of the Canadian club. Other short speeches were made by G. V. Holt and Prof. Sider of the University of Washington. Following the meeting a musical and social evening was spent and "It's a Long Way to Tipperary" was sung with enthusiasm.

BRITISH NAVY IS IN STATE OF EFFICIENCY

Notice Sent to Canada That No More Reservists or Volunteers Required for Service at Sea.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—The British navy has its full complement of men and is in a state of thorough efficiency. Such is the conclusion to be gathered from an intimation received at the naval department here, to the effect that no more naval reservists or naval volunteers are required. One of the first calls made upon Canada by the imperial authorities when war broke out, was for the sending to England of all naval reservists. The intimation is considered here to be a most gratifying proof of the tremendous efficiency of the British fleet.

GENERAL BOTHA GAINS VICTORY OVER REBELS

London, Oct. 28.—It is officially announced here that General Louis Botha, commander-in-chief of the Union of South Africa forces, has routed the commander of the rebels, General Christian Beyers, and captured 80 prisoners.

SEVEN DAYS FURLOUGH FOR WOUNDED GERMAN

Amsterdam, Oct. 29.—The Cologne Gazette says it has learned from Berlin that soldiers of various German units, which have become exhausted and weakened owing to the long stay in the trenches, are being sent home on a furlough lasting from five to seven days.

NEW BRUNSWICK PAYS RELIEF GOODS FREIGHT

St. John, N. B., Oct. 29.—The provincial government yesterday decided to pay the freight on all contributions of supplies for the Belgians and to arrange for delivery. Members of the local Belgian relief committee consulted with the government regarding the formation of a provincial organization to unite efforts of the various committees, but the arrangements were not completed.

BRITISH IN BERLIN RIGOROUSLY TREATED

German Authorities Preparing to Adopt Drastic Measures Immediately

London, Oct. 29.—What the London press describes as reprisal in Berlin in the matter of the rigorous handling of the British there, are related in a Reuter dispatch from Berlin by way of The Hague, under date of Wednesday. "The German police authorities," the message says, "are preparing to take more drastic oppressive measures against the British. The authorities are taking a revised census of British residents with a view to facilitate arrests. Word has gone forth that a clean sweep will be made and it is considered possible that every Britisher in the German capital will be under arrest in a short time."

The Germans, it is stated, are taking additional precautions against spies and are curtailing the privileges of the British civilians already interned. In some of the concentration camps in Germany, the British, it is said, are forced to sleep on straw.

TOWNS IN GERMANY FILLED WITH WOUNDED

Transfusion of Blood at Lyons Hospital Saves Lives of French

Paris, Oct. 29.—A member of the Swedish diplomatic corps, who has just arrived in Paris after a journey across Germany, gives the following impressions of his trip, which included a stay in Berlin:

"The thing that struck me most was the number of wounded. It was the same in every town. At Berlin it was really terrible. Six out of every ten people I saw were wounded. From conversations I had with officers I formed the opinion that Germany had come to the end of her resources. Now she can only count upon next year's conscripts and they will number about 500,000. They will probably be called out very soon, and after two months' instruction in camp will be sent to Belgium."

"I understand that in Brussels the town hall, the Royal Palace and several monuments have been undermined, as well as the whole of the Boulevard Anstach. If the Germans have to leave the Belgian capital, they will blow up everything before they go."

Paris, Oct. 29.—The military medical authorities at Lyons have issued this appeal to the population: "There are wounded who are so exhausted from the loss of blood that the only chance of saving their lives is by prompt transfusion from the veins of healthy and strong men or women. Those who wish to offer their blood for such transfusion are invited to give their names at the Hotel Dieu."

No sooner had this notice appeared in the local press than volunteers presented themselves and Dr. Alexis Carrall, the famous surgeon from the Rockefeller institute, who is now at the head of one of the Lyons hospitals, was able immediately to save several patients. Three days ago there were 120 names at the Hotel Dieu, representing rich and poor and all classes of society.

GIFT FROM QUEEN MARY.

London, Oct. 29.—Queen Mary has sent a handsome gift of clothing to Queen's Canadian military hospital.

ANOTHER STEAMER IS SUNK BY MINE OFF IRISH COAST

Fleetwood, Eng., Oct. 29, via London.—Word has been received through a trawler which arrived here Wednesday night that another steamer had been sunk off Maline Head, off the north coast of Ireland. There are no details of this new shipping disaster.

The Times in an editorial suggesting that the mines off the coast of Northern Ireland have been dropped by North Sea trawlers flying a neutral flag says: "The Germans have so flagrantly violated the precepts of international law that the only safe precaution seems to be to close the North Sea to all neutral maritime traffic in order to prevent any further dangerous abuse of neutral flags."

"We do not at present advocate this extreme measure, but it is for the admiralty to say whether such a development is practicable and desirable."

The steamer Olympic, which left New York October 21 for Glasgow, was warned by wireless telegraphy that there were German mines off Tory Island, on the north coast of Ireland, and was put into Lough Swilly. Her passengers were sent by special train to Londonderry. Lough Swilly is in County Donegal.

Stockholm, Oct. 29.—via London.—The Swedish steamer Ornen, from Port-auval, for Gothenburg, Sweden, hit a mine Monday, in the North Sea and sank off Cuxhaven. Five members of her crew were drowned.

UNITED STATES ORDERS EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS

Large Quantities of Goods Being Bought for British and French Governments.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—To date it is said that foreign orders for clothing, trucks, harness, tinned meats and the like in the Chicago and neighboring markets amounts to between seven and eight million dollars. Purchasing agents of the British and French governments are in the field and the farmers have $3,000,000 gold in a local bank to be used against purchases. The meat packers are said to have enough European orders on hand to keep them running full time for a year.

William G. Bruce, secretary of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' Association, is authority for the statement that the knitting mills of the state are swamped with military orders. Coarse fur coats, harness, shoes and light touring automobile trucks are among other Wisconsin commodities being sold abroad, he said.

TREMORVAH TAKES BIG BELGIAN RELIEF CARGO

Goods to Value of About $400,000 Sent From Halifax at Noon To-day.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 29.—The steamer Tremorvah, with her cargo for the relief of the Belgians, left at noon to-day, and as she steamed down the harbor many people assembled on the wharves to bid her farewell. Never before has a ship left a port where so many people were directly interested in her cargo. She was filled to the hatches and the value of her cargo is in the vicinity of $400,000.

PRESIDENT POINCARÉ EXTENDS CONDOLENCES

Paris, Oct. 29.—President Poincaré has telegraphed his condolences in connection with the death of Prince King George, to King George, to King George's mother, to King Alfonso of Spain, whose wife is a sister of Prince Maurice.

FIGURES LOSSES BY WAR OVER EIGHTEEN MONTHS

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 29.—If the European war is maintained with its present violence for 18 months, the loss of life will be four million, and the property loss thirty-five billions of dollars, E. H. Gary, president of the American Steel & Iron Company, said to-day in addressing the annual meeting of that organization. Mr. Gary admitted the present depressed state of the steel trade, but was optimistic of the future. "Without particularizing it would seem safe to predict that in many important respects business conditions in the United States for the next three months at least will be better than they have been for the last three months," he declared. "I don't hesitate to say with emphasis that the opportunity for success and progress in this country is greater than ever before."

GERMANS GO BACK PARTICULARLY AT YPRES AND ARRAS

Two Hundred Thousand Troops Drawn From Other Parts of Line Being Sent North on Kaiser's Order to Push Down Coast to Calais

Paris, Oct. 29.—The French official announcement given out in Paris this afternoon says that yesterday the French troops made progress at several points on the line, but particularly around Ypres and the south of Arras.

The text of the communication follows: "During the day of yesterday we made progress at several points along the line of battle, but particularly around Ypres and to the south of Arras."

"There is nothing new on the front between Nieuport and Dixmude."

"Between the Aisne and Argonne we took possession of some trenches occupied by the enemy, and not one of the partial attacks undertaken by the Germans resulted successfully."

"We advanced also in the forest of Apremont."

Warship Attack to Be Avoided.

Paris, Oct. 29.—Reliable reports are that heavy reinforcements are on their way and that when the German lines are strengthened by these forces, said to aggregate more than 200,000 men, the fighting will go on with renewed fierceness. The reinforcements, it is declared, have been drawn from all the other battle-lines, both in the east and west, in pursuance of the order of Emperor William that the French ports must be taken at all costs.

Reports say that the next German onslaught will be undertaken further away from the coast, in order to avoid the devastating fire of the British and French warships which have thus far taken a prominent part in the battle in Flanders.

There was a resumption to-day of interest in the operations in the Woevre, at least in the vicinity of St. Mihiel, where the French offensive is said to have met with fresh successes.

SENDING SUBMARINES TO THE BELGIAN COAST

Amsterdam, Oct. 29.—A dispatch from Sluis, Holland, to the Handelsblad asserts that parts of several submarines have been sent from Germany by railway to Zeebrugge, on the Belgian coast, where they will be put together and the boats then sent against the British fleet off Ostend. Strict secrecy, according to the Sluis correspondent, surrounds the German movements in Belgium, and all railway communication to Zeebrugge, Knocke and Bruges is interrupted. Bicycle and motor traffic is also forbidden. A map in the office of the German commander at Bruges shows a straight line from Mariakerke, running south, beyond which civilians are not allowed.

GERMANY THINKS WAR WILL BE LONG ONE

London, Oct. 29.—"The German semi-official press has now changed its mind and admits that the war is likely to last longer than it was originally thought," says Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent. "The North German Gazette," the correspondent continues, "publishes a long article regarding the maximum prices of provisions, urges the necessity to husband the wheat resources. The newspaper estimates that Germany has sufficient corn for bread for the army and the population until the next harvest, but adds that the war may last longer and that the Germans must be able to hold out until a lasting peace is secured."

TORPEDOES SINK GERMAN STEAMER IN ADRIATIC

Paris, Oct. 29.—A squadron of British torpedo-boat destroyers has sunk in the Adriatic a German steamer which had been converted into a cruiser, according to a dispatch from Barcelona to the Havas agency. The Barcelona correspondent explains this news appeared in Publicidades, a Spanish newspaper published at Gibraltar. The British destroyers rescued 86 members of the crew of the German vessel.

EIGHT AIRSHIPS SEEN FLYING FROM HASSLT

London, Oct. 29.—Eight airships passed over Hasselt, on the German-Belgian frontier, going westward and evidently making for Brussels and Antwerp, where it had been previously stated Zeppelin sheds were being constructed, according to a Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily Mail.

GRECIAN TROOPS MOVE FORWARD TO ALBANIA

Paris, Oct. 29.—A dispatch from Athens to the Havas Agency says that the forward march of the Grecian troops who are going to assist in the occupation of Southern Albania, proceeded in perfect order but amid great enthusiasm of the people. Queen Sophie has been named as honorary commander of the first regiment of the National Guard.

COUNT DIRECTING FIRE AGAINST OWN CHATEAU

Says It Gives Him Great Pleasure to Watch Piece After Piece Come Down.

Paris, Oct. 29.—The Countess de Chambrun, formerly Miss Clara Longworth, of Cincinnati, a sister of former Representative Nicholas Longworth, has received a letter from her husband, who at one time was the French military attaché at Washington and is now an officer of an artillery company at the front. In his letter Count de Chambrun says: "I am now having the great pleasure of directing the artillery fire against our own chateau, and I take great enjoyment in seeing piece after piece come down."

"The de Chambrun is near St. Mihiel, where a stubborn struggle has been going on for six weeks, since that point has been occupied by the Germans."

SAYS REINFORCEMENTS HAVE GONE TO BELGIANS

Washington, Oct. 29.—To-day's official wireless from Berlin to the German embassy supplements last night's official announcement of the retirement of the German-Austrian troops before new Russian forces, and says the Belgians have been reinforced in the fighting between Nieuport and Dixmude, which continued on the 28th.

LATE NIGHT WAR NEWS

BAD NEWS WHISPERED

OF GERMAN REVERSES

Gloom Increases With Each Succeeding Report of Terrible Losses in Battles

Amsterdam, Oct. 29.—Germany's gloom increases. The boisterous gaiety of the earliest stages of the war is being replaced by a subdued sobriety intermingled with the lowest depths of depression. Bad news travels quickly and now something of the truth of the position is beginning to dawn upon the kaiser's subjects. The retreat of the German armies in France is known everywhere besides in the capital, and the comments of the more independent newspapers, cautious as they are, can leave no doubt in the minds of those who read between the lines.

The elaborate organization created by the German government to disseminate distorted news for their own purposes is not efficient enough to conceal all the facts from all the German people. So many tens of thousands have received a notification from the military authorities of the death of some distant battlefield of a son or a husband; so many hundreds of thousands have learned that one of their family has been wounded in action. The wounded soldiers, too, have come home, and they have talked, in whispers perhaps, but still they have made their meaning clear. There are countless channels through which information has come into the interior of Germany, notwithstanding all efforts to conceal the real situation.

The losses of the German armies have been appalling in their immensity. One of the features of the losses has been the proportion of killed as compared with the number of wounded. While the allied armies have five or six wounded men for every soldier killed, the proportion of those killed among the German casualties is nearly one-half the total.

After a careful examination of all the available lists of German casualties, and after comparing and weighing up information derived from specially well informed quarters in Germany, it seems easy to estimate that about a quarter of a million of the pick of Germany's men have perished on the battlefields of Belgium and France, of East Prussia and Galicia.

The killed and wounded together doubtless exceed half a million, and probably fully six hundred thousand. These may appear startling figures, but the slaughter has been so relentless and the sacrifice of German soldiers so utterly callous that there is little reason to doubt that they are substantially accurate. There were places in the retreat from Marne where the German troops marched over heaps of their own dead; there were fields which were quickly strewn with the German victims of the war; there were trenches filled to the brim and overflowing with the bodies of the kaiser's finest warriors. Along one stretch of road north of the Marne the bodies of Germans lay so thickly clustered together that their artillery and military wagons dashed right over and through them in the mad haste of the retreat.

In advancing and in retiring I am told the Germans suffered losses unprecedented in the annals of warfare.

It is a curious fact that the disposal of the bodies has given rise to ominous mutterings of rebellious discontent in many German families. One would imagine that the fact of being killed in itself sufficient to make the relatives forget the details of the burial. But it is not so. It has become known to many German fathers and mothers and wives that huge bonfires were kindled in which hundreds and thousands of the bodies of Germany's soldiers were cremated wholesale, and the crude yet eminently scientific treatment has excited deep resentment. It has been useless to argue that wholesale cremation was the only possible sanitary method of procedure.

But nothing has caused so much surprise in Germany as the inactivity of the great German fleet. For many years the power of the German navy has been extolled by all the orators in the country, from the kaiser to the pan-Germanic teachers in elementary schools; its great value to Germany has been asserted, its menace to Great Britain extolled. The great masses of the German people fully expected that it would at least hold the British navy in check, and many of them expected sensational maritime victories over the traditional rulers of the waves. Many experts reckoned with certainty that Great Britain would never send a substantial expeditionary force to France so long as the German fleet was in being. The national chagrin at the failure of the grand German fleet to do little more than conceal itself in German fortified harbors is almost pathetic.

If the kaiser and his general staff had been successful they would have carried the nation with them. The malcontents and the doubters would have been swept along in the wave of patriotic enthusiasm raised by the aggressive pride of victory. But the Germans are beginning to feel that they have been duped and misled by their rulers, and signs are beginning to manifest themselves that they will voice their resentment vigorously.

It is rumored here that unemployment in Germany increases and distress grows. The murmurs of the people, however, are not yet articulate and hardly audible; they resemble the first low, ominous growl of a savage dog.

KING GEORGE'S COUSIN DIES ON BATTLEFIELD

London, Oct. 28.—Prince Maurice of Battenburg, a cousin of King George and a son of Princess Henry of Battenburg, has been killed on the battlefield in France. He was an officer of the King's Royal Rifle corps.

SEVERE REVERSE FOR

AUSTRO-GERMAN ARMY

Petrograd Officially Announces Victory Which is Admitted at Berlin

Petrograd, Oct. 28.—The following official communication was issued today from general headquarters: "In the battle which has been in progress for four days south of the Pilitza river, in the forests on the line extending from Hlalogara (Bialobrzeg) to Glowaczow, Policzna, and Janowice, our troops have inflicted upon the Austro-German forces a severe defeat. Between the Pilitza and Glowaczow, the heroic efforts of our troops definitely broke down, on October 26, the resistance of the 20th corps and the reserve guard corps of the German army.

"On the centre, after fighting of a desperate character, we succeeded in establishing a firm foothold in the region of the villages of Adamoff, Zverinoff and Marsanoff.

"On the left wing we captured by assault a defensive position established at Policzna, and enveloped a portion of the Austrian troops near Berdiczeje.

"On the night of October 27, the enemy's corps fell back in disorder to wards the line between Edlinak, Radom, and Ija. We captured both cannon and prisoners.

"On the right bank of the Pilitza, to the front between Iejaff and Novo Mlasto, the fighting continues with the same desperation.

"In Galicia the battle is raging along the whole front of the river San. We have taken an additional ten officers and 500 men.

"South of Przemyśl our troops are advancing at certain points.

"In East Prussia the enemy has violently bombarded our positions in the operations in the region of Bakalarjevo. Repeated attacks have all been repulsed.

"The success we have won to the south of the Pilitza, and the result of which was the retreat of the enemy on the main front, is of the very greatest importance."

London, Oct. 29.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Mail sends the following regarding the fighting in Russia:

"The Germans are astonished and disheartened to always find themselves pitted against fresh troops full of energy. The secret of this lies in the Russian plan of compelling an immense reserve for every army, changing regiments frequently and never leaving the same men on the firing line long enough to become stale.

"In this way the vastness of the Russian emperor's army of 8,000,000 men is beginning to show a marked influence on the campaign."

London, Oct. 29.—A Petrograd dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Co., says the number of Austrian prisoners brought to Kiev since the commencement of the war has reached a total of 100,000.

Berlin via Amsterdam, Oct. 29.—The German and Austrian troops in Poland, according to an official announcement issued in Berlin to-day, have been forced to withdraw before fresh Russian forces advancing from Ivangorod, Warsaw and Novo Georgievsk, after having repulsed all former Russian attacks.

The official statement continued: "At first the Russians did not follow, and the withdrawal of our troops took place without difficulty. The reserve troops will change their formation according to the situation."

WILDING WINS RANK OF LIEUTENANT IN FRANCE

London, Oct. 29.—A dispatch received here says that A. F. Wilding, the tennis champion, has been promoted to a lieutenantcy for gallantry on the battlefield. It is believed he was with a detachment of cavalry which, after repulsing a German attack, started a game of water polo in the Oise. As the enemy was near by, the horses were left harnessed. The approach of a patrol of Uhlans was signalled, and the British, having no time to dress, jumped on their horses and charged the enemy, who fled.

Much Pain From Kidney Disease

Doctored in Vain Until Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Were Used. Kidney derangements are often associated with disorders of the liver and bowels, and under these conditions ordinary kidney medicines usually fail to effect cure. It is because of their unique, combined action on the liver, kidney and bowels that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so generally successful, even in the most complicated cases.

Mr. Emanuel Bernard, farmer, St. Paul's, Kent county, N. B., writes: "About eighteen years ago my wife was bad with kidney disease, and suffered greatly from headaches, pains in bowels and stomach, and her heart was affected. For a year she was treated by her doctor, with no apparent benefit. She then used five boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with most satisfactory results. This gave me such a good opinion of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills that we always keep them in the house to be used for all derangements of the kidneys, liver and bowels." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, 25c. a box, 5 for $1.00, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

HOLLAND IS FEELING

GREAT WAR PRESSURE

Belgian Refugees Flock to Towns Often Outnumbering the Inhabitants

Rosendaal, Holland, Oct. 28.—Holland is feeling the pressure of the war almost as much as if she were engaged in it. The report that the Germans are massing large numbers of troops on the eastern border is causing great uneasiness throughout Holland. The alleged discovery of a tennis court with cement nine feet thick on the property of a German in the vicinity of Arnhem, and statements that German spies have been active near Arnhem and other points close to the German border, seems to intensify the anxiety of the Hollanders.

A Dutch army of more than 300,000 trained men is scattered at strategic points along the Belgian and German borders. Rosendaal is the principal troop centre, as it is the only railway gate to Belgium that is now open. Hundreds of military motor cars leave here daily with messages and supplies for the border troops.

The mouth of the river Scheldt and all the canals are heavily guarded. A large garrison at Flushing is guarding the docks and railway stations in order to prevent any attempt to violate the neutrality of the Scheldt. The river is heavily mined, and Dutch cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers are lying at its mouth to give any necessary co-operation to the land forces. The Dutch army is in fine condition. Unfortunately it is just changing its uniforms from blue to gray, and consequently the troops make a poor appearance, because all the men have not received their new equipment.

The horrors of war have been forced on virtually all the cities, towns and country districts by the Belgian refugees, who are estimated to aggregate 800,000. The Dutch government is paying to the cities thirty cents daily for food for the each refugee. The cities bear the other expenses connected with the influx. The strain of attending properly to the refugees is hard on Rosendaal, with its 15,000 population, Flushing, with 7,000, and other towns with lesser numbers.

In these places there are more refugees than inhabitants.

Amersfort, with a population of about 16,000, has now 16,000 Belgian refugees and interned Belgian soldiers combined. In Groningen there are 2,000 British marines interned.

Holland depends upon the United States and Canada for her wheat. At present the supply is very short.

The refugees are unwilling to return to Belgium, although Holland has offered free transportation to them. The appearance of scarlet fever among the refugees at Flushing is causing alarm owing to the crowded conditions there. There is no compulsory vaccination law in Belgium, and the Hollanders therefore are alarmed by reports that there is smallpox among the refugees.

JAPAN PROVIDES ONLY FOR HER OWN DEFENCE

Next Budget Will Not Contain Provision for Battleship Construction.

New York, Oct. 28.—The East & West News Bureau issued this afternoon the following statement which was received by them from Tokio under date of to-day: "Mr. Yukio Ozaki, minister of justice, who has heretofore consistently advocated the disadvantage of Japan's entering into the race of armament expansion with the great powers, makes the following statement with regard to the navy and army budget to be presented before the coming diet: 'In the next budget no proposal for the construction of battleships will be made. It will only provide for the building of submarines and torpedo-boat destroyers, with the sole purpose of placing the defence of Japan's adjacent seas on a safe basis. This will set at rest any suspicion some naval power may have harbored toward Japan.'

"At the present moment, again Russia places her faith in Japan and China relies upon us for the maintenance of its territorial integrity. Consequently the increase of the army hitherto so far discussed will be undertaken so far as the people can easily bear the burden, and to the extent of ensuring peace in the Far East."

THOUSAND TONS OF FOOD SHIPPED TO BELGIUM

London, Oct. 29.—The Dutch steamer Coblenz sailed last night for Rotterdam with the first thousand tons of food purchased by the American commission for the relief of the Belgian people. Coincident with the departure of this shipment, the Belgian government has announced that hereafter all arrangements for supplying Belgium with food must be conducted through the American commission, which is the sole body authorized by all governments concerned, both belligerents and neutrals, to perform this task.

DUKE OF WURTEMBERG'S ARMY SUSTAINS LOSSES

EXPRESS GRATIFICATION AT CANADA'S EAGERNESS

Fifty Thousand Books Asked for Dominion Soldiers on Salisbury Plain.

London, Oct. 28.—The greatest gratification is expressed here in the reports from Canada of the desire to enlist in the second contingent and comment is frequent. In fact, Canada is doing better terms of enlistment than those offered for the home army.

The Liverpool Courier says, "Canada has spent enormous sums on emigration propaganda and perhaps she is a little nervous lest the attractions of the old world should prove too strong for her new sons when they find themselves back amongst English friends and relatives."

Promising response is being made to Sir Edward Ward's appeal for gifts of books for the troops at Salisbury Plain. Fifty thousand volumes are asked for and are certain to be quickly obtained. Col. Ward has been appointed by the war office to advise Lord Kitchener in regard to matters affecting the overseas contingent. His idea is to organize a lending library at Salisbury Plain. Already the Canadian contingent has received a most little anthology of patriotic poems and songs beginning with the Maple Leaf and ending with Rudyard Kipling's Recessional.

SHACKLETON SENDS HIS FAREWELL MESSAGE HOME

London, Oct. 28.—Sir Ernest Shackleton cables to the Daily Chronicle his farewell message from Buenos Ayres: "I send you my last cable as we start for the Antarctic. We are leaving now to carry on our white warfare. Our farewell message is, 'We will do our best to make good.'"

"Though we shall be shut off from the outer world for many months, our thoughts and prayers will be with our brothers fighting at the front. We hope in our small way to add victories in science and discovery to that certain victory our nation will achieve in the cause of honor and liberty."

NAVIGATION MADE SAFE ON HUDSON BAY ROUTE

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—The navigation of the Hudson Bay route will be much safer than formerly. Owing to the installation of buoys and other aids to navigation steamers and lighter ships have traveled to and fro in the straits and bay without a single mishap. Next year navigation conditions will be even better. The steamers Minto and Aranmore have just returned from the bay after having constructed ten light-houses which will be ready for next year's navigation. Seven of these are on the straits and three of them on the bay.

REINFORCEMENTS ON WAY TO ASSIST MAYTORENA

Washington, Oct. 29.—Several carloads of reinforcements for Governor Maytorena at Nogales, Sonora, are expected hourly to arrive from Ensenada, according to a report to the war department to-day from Brigadier-General Bliss. The reinforcements are understood to include 120 men, 75 mules and 15 mountain guns. The situation at Naco is reported unchanged. The Carranza garrison at Aguas Prietas is being reinforced from Naco.

SYRIAN ARMY IS BEING RECRUITED TO STRENGTH

New York, Oct. 28.—The steamship San Georgia, to-day from Naples, brought as passengers a number of Syrians who said they had escaped serving in the Turkish army by means of forged passports which they bribed officials into giving them. Among the passengers were O. P. Joseph, of New York; Joseph Haddett and his uncle, Frank About, of Fernie, B. C.

"I have been in Syria for the past three months," said Mr. Joseph. "The army is being recruited to its fullest capacity. There is a shortage of uniforms, but the soldiers are marked by having attached to the sleeve a band bearing the Turkish coat-of-arms. To remove this sleeve band is equivalent to desertion, and the offender is likely to be shot."

FIRE WAS TOO HEAVY TO REMOVE WOUNDED

Never-Ending Rain of Shrapnell-Fell on Nieuport All Yesterday

Paris, Oct. 28.—The Germans have made no progress and only succeeded in passing the Yser in small numbers which have been easily dealt with by the Belgian and French artillery. Meanwhile Nieuport is being subjected to a terrible bombardment from heavy howitzers.

Shrapnell shells in a never-ending stream are searching every street and doing vast damage. During the morning it was impossible to enter, and waiting ambulances could not bring away the wounded.

Further to the southeast along the line of the Yser between Manneker-vere and Rosscappelle the firing is also tremendous. It became evident that the Germans are taking advantage of the mist prevailing by pressing home the attack on a grand scale. Throughout the afternoon numbers of wounded began coming in from the front.

Firing was tremendous throughout the afternoon and there seemed no cessation to the continuous roar of the guns. About 5 o'clock the situation changed for the worse. The road leading to the town was blocked by a crowd of wounded soldiers who had been forced by the severity of the German fire to leave their badly-constructed trenches.

For six days these men gallantly held their position, and during this time their losses had been very heavy. Now had come the moment when human nature could stand no more of this continuous strain. The batteries of artillery also retreated with several machine gun sections. The retirement became perfectly orderly directly the outskirts of the town were reached, and the units rapidly rallied.

About 5.20 o'clock the Germans again began to shell Nieuport. Many inhabitants had ventured out from cellars owing to the cessation of the bombardment and were caught before they could regain shelter. Several were killed and others wounded.

JAPANESE LOSE 600 BY EXPLODING MINES

Two Steamers Blown Up and One Damaged in Vicinity of Kiau Chau

Peking, Oct. 29.—Dispatches from Tsing Tau state that the Japanese left wing suffered heavily when it was attacking the northeast position of the Germans between Ching Yan and Lantsun. Having received information that ground over which they had to go was mined, the Japanese drove herds of cattle over the fields. The mines not being of the contact variety, failed to explode and presuming their information incorrect the Japanese continued to advance in two extended lines.

The Germans resisted with rifle fire and retreated slowly, so as to encourage their opponents to advance. When the Japanese reached a base of a long range of hills the Germans exploded the mines with an electric current, killing 600 men and then turned the machine guns on the retreating forces.

The dispatches confirm the report that the Germans have heavily mined all approaches to the town.

Tokio, Oct. 26.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) Two steamers have been blown up thus far and a third has been damaged while engaged in removing German mines. Several thousand of which were laid off the German possession of Kiau Chau. As reported by cable the loss of life was relatively small.

The first vessel to suffer was the small steamer Wakamaya Maru, which with others, was clearing mines from the Gulf of Paosan, northeast of Tsing Tau off the point where the second Japanese expeditionary force was landed. Water rushed into the engine room and extinguished the fires. Realizing that she had struck a mine, the captain ran his vessel full speed into shallow water, closed the watertight compartment and finally beached the ship. The explosion killed one man and injured seven.

Another mine drifter, Magato Maru, witnessed the accident, and was hurrying to render assistance, when her nose touched a mine. Her bow leaped into the air in a column of smoke. Falling to the water, the ship settled and sank. Three seamen were killed by the explosion and eight men, including two officers, were wounded. The others jumped and were rescued.

The loss of the Koyo Maru, October 1, occurred in about the same manner. A detonation shook the engine rooms. All officers and sailors on the upper deck were thrown overboard by the force of the explosion. Everybody in the engine rooms was either killed or wounded. The bow of the vessel rose in the air and the ship sank in three minutes, stern first. Two other ships hurried to the rescue. They picked up the wounded first and then the commander and other officers and men. The casualties numbered nine.

TEN ARE INDICTED BY GRAND JURY AT SEATTLE

George E. Stillings and Others Charged With Fraudulent Loan Scheme.

Seattle, Oct. 29.—George E. Stillings, president of the National Mercantile Company, Ltd., of Vancouver, B. C., and nine other defendants, are named in two secret indictments returned by the federal grand jury, charging the defendants with conducting a lottery, obtaining money under false pretences and using the mails to defraud.

The men indicted with Stillings were, Charles Merrill, Seattle agent of the National Mercantile Company, Ltd.; Orlando K. Fitzsimmons, of Vancouver, B. C.; R. C. Oeder, Tacoma; John Das Penelon, Aberdeen, Wash.; A. D. Baker, Portland, Ore.; C. H. Nellist, Vancouver, B. C.; John H. Sears, H. P. Sage and C. O. Smith. The last three were said to have been solicitors employed by Stillings.

The government alleges that the men obtained large sums of money by means of a fraudulent loan scheme.

CARMANIA SHOWS MARKS SCARS FROM GUN FIRE

Attempt to Steal $15,000 in Tin Pail Stopped on Board Carpathia at Naples.

New York, Oct. 28.—Passengers who arrived from Italy to-day on the Carpathia said that at Gibraltar they saw the converted cruiser Carmania. She appeared to have been badly used, wounds and battle scars showing plainly on her hull and upper works.

The officers of the Carpathia reported that an attempt to steal $15,000 consigned to an American express company had been made while the ship was at Naples. An Italian was discovered going down the gangplank with a tin pail. When the police opened it they found it was filled with United States bank notes.

STARVATION THREATENS PEOPLE OF JERUSALEM

New York, Oct. 28.—One hundred thousand inhabitants of Jerusalem are facing starvation, according to Samuel Edelman, American vice-consul in that city, who reached here to-day on the steamer Ancona. Two-thirds of the residents of Jerusalem are Jews, Mr. Edelman said. For many years they have depended upon their earnings from tourists and upon charity for support and the war has cut off subsistence.

There are no industries in the city and little cultivation of the surrounding territory. The cold and rainy season is now approaching and indications are that the suffering soon will be intense, Mr. Edelman said.

CANADIAN NORTHERN RAISES $15,000,000

INSPECTOR REID MOVED TO AN EASTERN OFFICE

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—Immigration Inspector Malcolm R. J. Reid, of Vancouver, who had charge of the operations which prevented the landing of 400 East Indians from the steamship Komagata Maru at Vancouver, has been transferred to an eastern post.

The government decided, it is said, that Mr. Reid's life was in danger as long as he remained on the Pacific coast, as several attempts to assassinate him have been reported.

THE WAR.

Reading between the lines of the cautious French official bulletin it becomes evident that during the last few days the allies have made marked progress along the entire front from Neuport to the Vosges. The Germans have failed to break through the line from the coast to Dixmude in spite of their success in crossing the Yser, and not only have they made no progress between Dixmude and Ypres, but the allies have gained considerable ground north and east of the latter point, as well as southwest of Lille and in the region of Arras. Thus the German right wing is still being bent backward with its northern extremity constantly under fire from the British fleet.

It is the part played by the fleet which evidently has stung the Kaiser to frenzy, and we may look for a series of blundering operations in which his unhappy troops will be slaughtered by thousands. The only hope of success in a turning movement lay along the coast and there progress was stopped by the devastating fire from British and French warships. And while the allies' vessels were forming the left flank of their battle line the Kaiser's High Sea fleet, upon which the German people have lavished millions of dollars, and concerning which they have been bragging for several years, was cooped up at the mouth of the Kiel canal!

The Kaiser and his army staff now realize what it means to throw the gauntlet down to a combination of which the British Empire forms a part. On the sea his ships are blocked by the British fleet. On land he finds a strong British army at every strategic point in the allied line. He finds British soldiers at Craonna, around Lille, at Ypres and along the coast, and they are coming still. Yet the British army in France and Belgium is merely an advance guard. There are a million and a half more to come, with another million and a half behind them if they are required. Under the circumstances the extent and importance of the German hatred for Great Britain can be readily understood. But childish outbreaks by the Kaiser and the princes the Prussian system has imposed upon the German armies do not help in the determination of battles. Cool heads are required for this game, but the Kaiser seems to have deposed all of them for failing to perform the impossible tasks to which he set them.

It is reported that reinforcements are being rushed to the north from other points on the German battle front in both west and east. This, of course, means that the Germans will not be able to maintain their position along the Aisne. Their whole western campaign will be devoted to acquiring a foothold on the Belgian and northwest coasts of France. Thus the capture of Paris, which was to behold the triumphant entry of a million men goose-stepping along its spacious avenues and squares, no longer is the piece de resistance of the programme. Although the war is only three months old, the entire German campaign in the west has undergone a transformation.

We cannot credit the report that reinforcements are being hurried from the eastern front, unless the Kaiser, in a pale emulation of Frederick the Great, is prepared to allow the Russians to overrun East Prussia, where the delectable junkers of Potsdam have their country seats, and perform the spectacular entrance to his capital that he intended to make in Paris. We imagine that the populace of Prussia and contiguous states would have something to say to that. They are not likely to follow their imperial will-of-the-wisp against the stone-wall in Belgium while Berlin, Frankfurt, Breslau, Dresden and Leipzig are under Russian occupation.

The German and Austrian offensive against Russia has collapsed. Berlin admits the withdrawal of German forces in Russian Poland. Vienna has nothing to say. The retreat of the German corps which marched upon Warsaw has been followed by the retirement of the whole line in Poland and the weakening of the Austrian front in Galicia. This process will continue with growing acceleration and a large portion of the armies which we are told, are under the direction of the Kaiser, never will regain their entrenched frontier. The advances made by the Russians in Galicia are being carried out with the definite purpose of forcing the Austrians over the Carpathians and opening the way for a march upon Cracow and Silesia. Russia now has an abundance of men, so many, in fact, that she uses them in relays, which enables her to keep a large supply of fresh reserves constantly on hand. She must have more than three million men in the fighting line, and they seem to be splendidly equipped and very capably led. The Russian military authority who declared they would be in Berlin before Christmas may not have been very far out in his calculations after all.

EQUIPPING OUR TROOPS.

Some of our eastern contemporaries object to the government giving any orders for military equipment outside of Canada. We have no doubt that the authorities will keep the business within the Dominion as far as possible, but in view of the extraordinary urgency of the situation it would be folly to delay the dispatch of our contingents to Europe until our factories could catch up with the demand. Canada's duty is to send men across the Atlantic with the utmost expedition. If our armament industries are unable to supply all the equipment, some of it should be obtained elsewhere. Great Britain, France, Russia and Japan have placed orders in the United States for hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of military supplies beyond what their own overtaxed factories are turning out, for the crisis which confronts them is too vital to permit of its utilization for leisurely expansion. They know that if the war went against them they would lose more than their industries. Canada is in a similar position. As a part of the British Empire she is engaged in a life-and-death struggle which before it is over may compel her to put several hundred thousand men under arms and strain her resources to an extent compared with which the present pressure is mere child's play. We must mobilize and equip our men at once.

HOLLAND AND SWITZERLAND.

The position of the smaller powers which stand in the way of the German campaign has become critical. Holland is reported to be in hourly apprehension of a breach of her neutrality by Germany. Her efficient, well-equipped army of three hundred thousand men has been concentrated at strategic points. The Scheldt has been mined and is strongly guarded. Her sturdy patriots have their hands upon the machinery which controls her dykes. Her eyes are directed across her eastern frontier, where Germany has massed a large number of troops. She is not going to be caught napping. Her suspicions have been increased, not lessened, by the German assurance that as far as Berlin was concerned Holland's neutrality was quite safe. She recalls that Germany officially assured Belgium to the same effect two days before Brussels received an ultimatum from Berlin.

Switzerland is in a similar position. Her splendid little army is at its strategic stations. She is ready to protect her neutrality to the last gasp. The war has imposed a terrific drain upon her resources, but she is facing the situation unflinchingly. Her army is vastly superior in every detail to any force the Germans can throw into her territory, and she would have no fear of the outcome of a clash between the finest marksmen in Europe and the German landwehr.

Under ordinary circumstances we would say that after her experience in Belgium, Germany would not dare to violate the neutrality of either Holland or Switzerland. If von Moltke were still in chief command of the German army we still would adhere to that view. But a madman is now directing Prussian policy, who orders his armies here, there and everywhere without regard to military values or colossal sacrifices. Like a Dyak who has run amok, he strikes blindly in all directions, indifferent alike to the interests of friend or foe. Falling in his frenzied dash upon Dunkirk and Calais, he is likely to forget the existence of the Holland boundary line, just as he forgot the existence of a Russian outflanking army which waited at Soldu for his incompetently led forces to appear before Warsaw. Relations between Holland and Germany have been immemorably cordial. But Holland, whose very lifeblood is her trade with her colonies, would not think of conceding any breach of her neutrality. As one prominent Dutch statesman said, she can protect her country but not her colonies. Nor has she been terrorized by the Huns' treatment of Belgium, the object of which to a considerable extent was to overawe the Netherlands state.

The Spanish general, Alva, tried the same game at Antwerp three centuries ago, but found that its effect was only to make the Dutch resistance more dogged. Both Holland and Switzerland, however, and probably Denmark, must enter the fray before long. The drain upon their resources is so exhausting that a prolonged war would ruin them. It is to their interests to do what they can to bring the struggle to an early end.

THE EMDEN.

British newspapers generously pay tribute to the enterprise and resource of those in charge of the German cruiser Emden, while urging that there be no relaxation in the efforts now being made to run that troublesome predator into a corner and sink her. Her latest exploit, according to a dispatch from Tokio, was unusually audacious. Flying the Japanese flag and disguised by the addition of a fourth funnel, she entered a British port in the Straits Settlements and torpedoed a Russian cruiser and a French destroyer.

This incident explains a great deal of what has been somewhat mysterious. The Emden evidently has resorted to numerous disguises in her irritating operations in the Indian Ocean. She probably has disarmed the suspicion of merchantmen by posing as a British, French or Japanese cruiser and has been able to get within gunshot of her unsuspecting prey without difficulty. She even may have deceived those who were endeavoring to catch her. It is a backyard species of naval warfare, but when we reflect that there are a score of hostile ships on the lookout for her we are forced to admit that from her standpoint unique methods are imperatively necessary. Methods equally novel will be required before she is rounded up. Some day, however, she will have to limp along with crippled engines, for she has no base where repairs can be made. A broadside then will put her away and one of our most important trade routes will be safe.

A LAND POLICY.

The Attorney-General announces that one of the most important matters to be dealt with at the forthcoming sessions of the legislature will be the question of land settlement and aid to agriculture. If a practical, common-sense policy, such, for instance, as that which has worked wonders in New Zealand, is adopted, the most pressing need of this province will have been supplied.

But no effective policy is possible as long as political expediency continues to be the main factor in the administration of provincial affairs. One of the biggest spokes in the machine which has almost wrecked this country must be removed. Not only must the speculator no longer have his "chance" with the public domain under conditions described by courts and admitted by the ministry to be a fraud upon the provincial law, but a considerable proportion of the land, illegally obtained, will have to be reclaimed. More than $13,000,000 are outstanding to the province on this account alone, and, as far as we are aware, no serious attempt has been made to collect either the principal or the interest. The redemption of this land by the province should preface whatever policy the government may have in view.

The Attorney-General's announcement is a complete vindication of the campaign waged by Mr. Brewster and his party as well as by the opposition press for years. In the legislature and out of it they have been demanding the adoption of a policy which they saw would be necessary if this province was to enjoy any permanency of prosperity. They were called hard names by the government and its faithful organs and the bitterest epithets fell from the lips of the Attorney-General, who was the proud father of the sentiment "let the speculator have his chance."

TO-DAY'S SUMMARY.

From the west and from the east German reverses are reported. Germany acknowledges a check in Russian Poland, but concerning the great battle in Flanders she preserves her silence. The only official word received by midday to-day was from the French, who again made claims to further progress.

Not since the struggle along the North Sea began a fortnight ago has Germany made a statement upon which may be based judgment as to the course of events. The best information available indicated that, notwithstanding their ferocious attacks and heavy sacrifices of life, the Germans are farther from the coast than when the battle began.

The great factor upon which the allies build their hopes of an eventual triumph is beginning to tell. It is the almost inexhaustible supply of men that may be drawn from the vast reaches of the British and Russian empires, which are relied upon in time to crush the Germans by overwhelming numbers.

In the east this influence already is being felt, and to it is ascribed the German reverse in Russian Poland.

The secret of the Russian victory, writes a British correspondent at Petrograd, lies in the vastness of the Russian emperor's army, which he estimates at eight million men. This enabled the Russians to keep an immense reserve for every army, changing regiments frequently and never leaving the same men on the firing line long enough to become stale.

Meanwhile the British, who describe their forces now on the continent as merely an advance guard, are training at home an army of 1,500,000 men, besides thousands from the dominions.

To the south and east, along the battle line across France, successes are reported by the French to the south of Arras, between the Aisne and Argonne, and in the forest of Apremont. None of the German attacks, it is said, has been successful.

The German cruiser Emden, whose remarkable exploits have fairly earned a place in history, is reported to have performed the most daring feat of all. Disguised with a fourth smokestack, and flying the Japanese flag, the Emden is said to have sailed boldly into the waters of Penang, a British possession in the Straits Settlement, and to have sunk a Russian cruiser and a French destroyer. The Emden was reported yesterday to have sent to the bottom a small Japanese passenger steamer.

The long list of losses on the sea continues to grow. Another steamer is reported to have been sunk off the north coast of Ireland. Off Cuxhaven a Swedish steamer was destroyed by a mine with the loss of five men.

The New York Sun in its financial review of Saturday last says German Marks have fallen to the lowest point within the memory of the oldest financiers. The decline in Mark exchange, the same paper says, is all the more startling in view of the sensational advance in Sterling exchange since the beginning of the war, and which has reached only recently. Nothing could indicate more clearly the views of men of affairs respecting the prospects of Germany in the war. Possibly they think that there may be no Fatherland, or at least an altogether different Fatherland, after the affair is over. Hence there is a good deal of uncertainty respecting the value of German securities.

PASSAGES FROM THE POETS.

Right in the van,
 On the red rampart's slippery swell,
 With heart that beat a charge, he fell
 Forward, as fits a man;
 But the high soul burns on to light
 men's feet
 Where death for noble ends makes dying
 sweet;
 His life her crescent's span
 Orbs full with share in their undarkening days
 Who ever climbed the battalious steeps of praise
 Since valor's praise began.

Ah, when the fight is won,
 Dear land, whom triflers now make bold
 to scorn,
 (Thee! from whose forehead Earth awaits her moon)
 How nobler shall the sun
 Flame in thy sky, how braver breathe thy air,
 That thou bred'st children who for thee
 could dare
 And die as thine have done! —Lowell.

DEADLY SCIENCE.

Dr. G. B. Abbott, of Los Angeles, says in the California Electric Medical Journal, May, in part:
 "Cancer was practically unknown until cow-pox vaccination began to be introduced. It is certainly about time to study out the possible connection between the two."
 "I have had to do with many cases of cancer, and I never saw a case of cancer in an unvaccinated person."
 "And the filthy old practice is compulsory"

Dance Was Enjoyed.—A very enjoyable dance was held last evening at the Elks' club, Campbell building, about forty-five couples being present to participate in the proceedings. Ozard's orchestra provided an excellent programme of music, and refreshments were served by a committee of the ladies. Dancing continued until 1 o'clock, when the National Anthem brought the delightful event to a close.

Conference Postponed.—C. C. Chapman, chairman of the joint committee of development leagues, who called the conference at Seattle to consider the Southern Pacific arbitrary fare to San Francisco for the exposition and the proposed methods for bringing more tourist travel via the Pacific Northwest in 1915, announces that conditions are unfavorable for holding the conference at this date. It has been postponed until a more opportune time. This is the gathering for which the Victoria and Island Development association appointed the industrial commissioner as a delegate.

For Poor Clare Sisters.—Both enjoyable and successful was the social held by the Children of Mary on Tuesday evening in the Y. M. I. hall, the event being in aid of the Poor Clare Sisters at the Willows. A delightfully informal entertainment was provided, the Dolly Varden orchestra furnishing a very good musical programme and the Misses Rivers and Sagan giving vocal and instrumental numbers. Games were played by the guests, and during the evening delicious refreshments were served, the ladies in charge of this part of the proceedings being the Misses Hagan, Lawless and O'Neil, Miss Sharte, president of the Children of Mary, was in charge of the proceedings, assisting her being the Misses Beeton, Grey and Lawless, while the programme of music and games was arranged by Miss Belleau, Miss Rivers and Miss Sagan.

Lodge Entertains.—Sir Edward Carson Orange lodge last evening celebrated the second anniversary of its foundation with a concert, social and dance, over 250 members and friends being present. Leonard Talk, Worshipful master, addressed the gathering briefly, thanking those present for their attendance, and the lodge for the distinction which it had conferred on him in placing him in his office. The excellent programme provided included various amusing numbers by J. W. Davis, P. T. Neve, A. Haines, J. Lea, W. Cobbett, P. Baker, T. Obee and J. Webb, Miss Hobday and the Misses Tait. Mr. Dougal and Jack McVilvie also entertained in their inimitable way, and before dancing commenced refreshments were served by the ladies of the L. O. B. A. No. 104.

IMPORTANT TO INSURERS.

If it is considered good business and in the best interests of the policyholders of the Prudential Insurance Company of America to buy out the stockholders' even at the huge cost of $18,000,000, then it must surely follow that it is good business to carry a policy in the Mutual Life of Canada where there are no stockholders to be bought out. Especially is this the case when it is considered that the Mutual Life of Canada has the largest ratio of net surplus to liabilities of any Canadian company, and holds a reserve of over $19,000,000, every dollar of which belongs exclusively to its policyholders. It pays to insure in the Mutual Life of Canada. R. L. Drury, Manager; Fred. M. McGregor, Special Agent; Offices, 918 Government Street.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Great improvements have been made at the naval yard. Recently there has been added a two-storey brick building for the storage of torpedo apparatus. The cost of the work is about $15,000. The naval wharf is to be extended, the wharf to be utilized by a mammoth steam crane of 60 tons, to be laid on a concrete foundation. Other improvements are planned.

The steamer Maude on her recent trip to the north took on board several large totém poles and brought them to this port. Dr. Beaz has sent them to a museum at Berlin, Germany. The poles are massive, so that they had to be cut into two parts. The carvings are rare from an Indian point of view, and a rough guess places their age at 50 years.

Professor Oliver's first masquerade of the season took place last night, and was a great success. The attendance of spectators was large, and the masquers were out in force, representing various characters.

Home Investment Company.—Chief Justice Hunter, sitting in Vancouver, has granted an order, directing the Dominion Trust company to pay over to the Standard Trusts company the trust and loan account of the Canadian Home Investment company amounting to some $33,000.

Court of Appeal.—The November term of the court of appeal will open in Vancouver on Tuesday. There are number of appeals entered for hearing from the Victoria courts. Among the judgments expected to be rendered at the opening of the term is that in the Spanish Banks case, settling the right or otherwise of the Dominion government to grant the right of taking sand from the banks, which are within the harbor of Vancouver.

Bible Study Examination.—Some time ago Noah Shakespeare, with his characteristic interest in Sunday school work and Bible study, launched a scheme for encouraging the systematic study of the Life of Jesus Christ on the part of the elder members of the Sunday schools. With the assistance of a number of business men in the city he was able to draw up a prize list of considerable value. The subject selected for this year's work is the Life of Jesus Christ as contained in the gospels with Dr. Stalker's work as textbook. A large number of candidates have entered and the examination is to be held on Friday, November 20 at the Y. M. C. A. at 7 p. m. It is hoped that the examination will become an annual event and although Mr. Shakespeare is now domiciled in Vancouver it will undoubtedly have his hearty support.

Organ Recital Given.—Under the auspices of the organist and choir of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church a very enjoyable recital was given last evening, this being the first of a series which is to be given during the next few months in various churches in the city. Several members of the 50th Highland regiment were present in the audience, which nearly filled the big auditorium. Jesse Longfield, the organist, gave, as usual, excellent accompaniment for the various choruses provided by the choir, perhaps the finest of these being Mendelssohn's "Hear My Prayer," and the closing number, "Praise Ye the Father," by Gounod. Miss Hastie played with Mr. Longfield in a variation of the National Anthem which opened the programme, and J. I. Smith also furnished organ numbers during the evening. J. I. Quirk's magnificent bass was heard with great effect in Handel's "Arm, Arm Ye Brave" and Mrs. Macdonald Fahey gave a finished rendering of Hayden's "With Verdure Clad." A collection was taken in aid of the organ fund before the close of the proceedings, which were a delightful foretaste of the concerts which are to follow.

HELD ANNUAL BANQUET

Men's Own Bible Class Entertain at Pleading Function at First Congregational Church.

The annual banquet of the Men's Own Bible class, held last evening at the First Congregational Church schoolrooms, was as successful as this function always is, the president, James Ferris, presiding. Several excellent speeches were delivered after the sumptuous banquet provided by the ladies of the church had been partaken of.

In the unavoidable absence of Rev. Dr. Matthews, of Seattle, who was unable to come for the event owing to the death of his father, Rev. J. G. Inkster, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was the principal speaker of the evening, his interesting address being on the subject of "the duty of a church organization to civic morality." He mentioned Calvin's contribution to the spiritual life of the Western hemisphere, and in emphatic manner reminded his hearers of the omnipotence of God during these dark days, quoting the familiar phrase of Robert Browning's "Gods in His Heaven, All's Well With the World." He also spoke of Satan as a power in the world at the present time.

J. Ferris followed with an address of an elevating nature, in which he suggested the ultimate development of the Men's Own. W. Bosworth gave a short speech on behalf of the Bible Federation, and referred to the forces which make for the moral uplift of the city as well as to the Social Service league. Toasts were made as follows: "The Church," Mr. Howell; "The Ladies of the Church," Harold Davis, Mrs. Wiseman responding; the "Men's Own," H. M. Hillis; and "Our Guests," George Agnew. Mr. Stewart responded to the last.

A feature of the proceedings was the presentation of a beautiful piece of silver-ware to Mr. and Mrs. H. Hillis, in recognition of their late work as teacher and leader. Mr. Wiseman on behalf of the class making the presentation, which was gratefully acknowledged by the recipients.

The programme included songs by N. Collins, a vocal solo by Miss Morrison, and a pianoforte solo, "The March to Delhi," by Harold Davis. "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem closed the proceedings.

BUY BLANKETS NOW!

All the world is demanding blankets, and European governments are coming to Canada to place orders for immense quantities. That means business. It also means short stocks and the possibility of higher prices. It emphasizes the fact that now is the time to obey the buying impulse and lay in supplies for the cold days ahead.

The advertising columns of the Times are a daily index to the stores where the blankets can be purchased with certainty as to quality and assurance of fair prices.

WARNING TO JURORS.

Must Answer Call to County Court on Pain of Fine For Willful Abstinence From Public Duty.

It has become a practice of late for jurors summoned to sit in county court civil cases to be rather careless in their attendance.

This morning two of the men out of ten summoned to hear a damage action failed to respond to their names when these were called, and the deputy sheriff stated that they had been served in ample time and had sent no excuse.

"The court will have to begin to fine jurors who fail to answer the call to do their duty here," said his honor. "We cannot have the disregard for the call which has developed lately among jurymen. It is, besides, unfair to those who do their duty by attending."

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

Congregation of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Unites in Commemorating Foundation of Church.

St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Victoria West, is this week celebrating its twenty-third anniversary, and on Tuesday evening an excellent entertainment was given, the pastor, Rev. Dr. MacLennan, presiding, and the opening address being delivered by Rev. Dr. MacLennan. Those who assisted on the splendid programme of songs, recitations and instrumental selections were A. Semple, the Misses MacKay Hamilton, Platt, Stewart, Miller, MacGowan and Messrs. Macdonald, Youson, Olson and Stewart. The audience joined heartily in the singing of "Tipperary." Messrs. McMillan and Corbett gave a violin selection, and the choir did full justice to Annie Laurie. Mandolin numbers were given by Messrs. Watt, Gilham and Miss Mornington. At the close of the proceedings the "Ladies' Aid of the church served delicious refreshments, and a collection, netting $40, was taken, a packed hall enjoying the entertainment.

The celebrations were commenced last Sunday by special services. Rev. S. J. Thompson, of Wesley Methodist church, preached in the morning and in the evening Rev. R. A. Macdonnell, of St. Columba church, conducted the services, taking for his text Isaiah 40: 29 and 31. A strong choir, under the leadership of William Macdonald, led the service of praise, the soloists being Messrs. Grenson and Olson.

SUCCESSFUL SALE

Bazaar Held Yesterday in Aid of Fowl Bay Church Fund; Bishop Was Present.

The Bishop of Columbia at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon opened the very successful sale of work held in Christ Church Cathedral schoolroom under the auspices of the Women's Guild and the Guild of St. Agnes with the very worthy object of augmenting the funds for the proposed Fowl Bay church.

In declaring the sale open, the bishop spoke of his own earnest wish that sufficient funds would soon be on hand to permit of the new church being opened and wished the organizers of the bazaar every success in their undertaking. The Very Rev. Dean Doull was also present, and added a word of congratulation to the ladies on their enterprise and energy, other clergy present being the Rev. G. H. Andrews and the Rev. W. H. Dawe.

At the close of the evening most of the stalls were completely sold out. The room was very prettily decorated with ivy, autumn flowers and pendants, which, combined with the individual decorations of the various stalls, made for a very attractive general effect. At the back of the hall a tea-room was screened off with trellis and flowers, this department, under the direction of Mrs. Clowes, president of the Women's guild, and her committee composed of mesdames Taylor, Plummer and Exham, and the Misses Hudson and Allen, doing a big business. The guild fancy work stall was in charge of Mesdames Fowler and Harrison; the plain sewing in charge of Mesdames Atkinson, Davy and Mitchell; and the home-cookery stall in charge of Mesdames Drury, Williamson, Binns and Bevan. The Guild of St. Agnes was active in helping the undertaking, and needlework stall being under the direction of the Misses Brown; home-made candy, the Misses Exham and Fatt; plants and flowers, Miss Ellie Exham and Master Arthur Exham, and competition, Miss Clowes and Mrs. Gregory Allen. CLUB REPORTS SHOW PROGRESS FOR YEAR

Women's Canadian Club Held Annual Meeting Yesterday; Membership of 405

Mrs. Jenkins, president of the organization, presided at the annual meeting of the Women's Canadian Club, which was held yesterday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. rest room. In her opening remarks she referred to the gratifying nature of the work carried on by the society last year, which was one of the most successful seasons in the history of the club, the membership having grown considerably, and a splendid spirit of co-operation being shown among the members.

This allusion to the successful year just passed was re-emphasized in the very thorough and comprehensive report read by Mrs. Thomas Nicol, whose statement, as secretary of the society, was listened to with keen interest. The club had added 162 active and six honorary members to its numbers during the year, she stated, this bringing the total membership up to 405. The foundation of the Canadian History Study class last November had been productive of many interesting lectures during the season, the speakers being in the order of their appearance before the club, Mrs. H. E. Young, M. A., who spoke of the early explorers of the Dominion; Mrs. F. A. McDiarmid, Mrs. A. C. Burdick, and Miss Andrew, who dealt with the French explorers of early days; F. Wood, B. A., who spoke on Frontenac and the French regime; Mrs. Suddaby, with a paper on the fall of Quebec; F. A. McDiarmid and Mrs. H. C. Hanington, on the United Empire Loyalists; Mrs. W. G. Fortune, on Western Explorers; Mrs. J. D. Gordon, on the war of 1812; Mrs. A. E. McPhillips, on British Columbia; and Colonel McIlree, the Northwest Mounted Police.

Many distinguished visitors had been entertained by the club during the year also, among the number being Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quinlan, Mrs. Arthur Murphy, Rev. Dr. Mackay, of Vancouver; Rev. Dr. Pollock, of Belfast, Ireland (at the same meeting). A number of the delegates from the eastern provinces who were visiting Victoria following the convention of Associated Canadian Clubs held in Vancouver had been entertained by the Men's and Women's Canadian Clubs of this city at a luncheon at the Empress hotel. The club had also presented a bouquet to Miss Margaret Anglin, the talented Canadian actress, on the occasion of her visit here; also to Miss Helen Keller, who addressed the club during the year. A letter of congratulation had been sent by the club to Sir Charles Tupper on his birthday, and from Dr. Anderson had been received a letter of appreciation for a Christmas hamper sent by the club to the men of the Stefansson expedition. A word of thanks was expressed in the closing paragraph of the report to Hon. Dr. Young; to the Men's Canadian Club; to the Natural History Society, and others who had assisted in various ways.

The report was adopted by standing vote, the president commenting that it was one of the finest reports she had ever heard.

A concise statement was made by the treasurer, Mrs. Frank Andrews, whose report shows that the total receipts for the club year has been $88.33; expenditure, $88.33; balance in hand, $95.45. The Kermess fund, with interest to date of $14.71, amounted to $113.53.

The business of electing officers for the ensuing year resulted in the following being chosen for office: President, Mrs. Jenkins (re-elected); first vice-president, Mrs. H. E. Young; second vice-president, Mrs. A. E. McPhillips; and committee, Mesdames E. C. Hart, D. C. Ker, F. A. McDiarmid, W. J. Roper, W. J. Bower and L. H. Hardie and Miss Mary Lawson. Mrs. Thomas Nicol and Mrs. Frank Andrews were re-elected by acclamation to the offices of secretary and treasurer respectively.

In an appeal of touching eloquence Mrs. H. E. Young asked the club to support Father Macdonnell's scheme for bringing out Belgian orphans to this country and placing them in his training school at Ladysmith. Mrs. Mary Ritter Hamilton had very generously given a picture of a Belgian priest to be raffled in aid of the fatherless children who were day by day increasing in numbers as the result of the war. Could not the Women's Canadian club do something to help these little ones? Unless feeling crystallized into action the children could not be helped, and the character of the womanhood of this country would be injured.

The Women's Canadian club knew neither race, religion, nor politics. Father Macdonnell had at Ladysmith a home which was already partly equipped, where good secular education could be given children. Belgian children mostly came from Roman Catholic families, and if the children were to be brought out to this country why should they not be treated as citizens here would wish their own children to be, and be given the religious upbringing which their parents would have chosen for them?

Referring to the cost of bringing out children to the island Mrs. Young explained that Father Macdonnell had been able to land the Scottish children already at the home for $35 each. For $100 the Canadian Club could bring out one child to this country, and even if it did nothing more it would be doing a good thing.

The matter together with several suggestions for relief made by Mrs. Young, was discussed at some length, among those who spoke being Mrs. Jenkins; Mrs. T. W. Patterson, who endorsed all that Mrs. Young had said; Mrs. J. D. Gordon, who worded a resolution to the effect that the subject should be considered at a special committee meeting by the club, Mrs. Frank Andrews and Mrs. W. J. Roper.

Mrs. A. E. McPhillips asked that the members should continue making socks and mitts for soldiers and sailors.

The meeting concluded late in the afternoon with the singing of "O God Our Strength," and the "National Anthem."

"TRIAL BY JURY" IS GIVEN REVIVAL HERE

Heard at Royal Victoria as After-Piece to "Pinafore," With De Wolf Hopper

Lovers of the Gilbert and Sullivan classics—and they are legion in the English-speaking world—are under deep obligations to W. A. Brady for the revivals of these favorite works that he has been making during the past couple of seasons. They are, too, owing thanks to De Wolf Hopper and his associates for the faithful and inspiring interpretations afforded of works that will long live.

This season there are two revivals of operettas that are infrequently heard or seen, and one of these, "Trial by Jury," was put on at the Royal Victoria last evening as an after-piece to the more familiar "H. M. S. Pinafore." The other, "Iolanthe," which antedates "The Mikado," will be seen to-night.

It is well on to forty years since "Trial by Jury" was produced at the Royal Victoria, one of the very earliest of the joint works of composer and librettist. A most commendable performance was given of both pieces on last evening's bill. In all respects, it may be repeated, the company is an admirable one, and in the presentation of the classics its absolute fidelity to the text and the traditions are as marked as on the last visit.

Mr. Hopper had a part in "Trial by Jury" in which he had some scope as the judge, and a fine figure of an irascible old jurist he made. In the low comedy of the part of the usher Mr. Cunningham seemed to revel quietly. Gladys Caldwell was so dainty and bewitching a plaintiff in the breach of promise suit that no one could blame the jury for finding for her without hearing evidence or the judge for marrying her. Mr. Aldridge was a handsome lover, but neither that nor his excellent voice availed him anything with the court.

To tell the story of "Pinafore" would be but a repetition of a familiar tale. Little Buttercup, the gallant captain and his daughter, the stalwart sailor who loves her, and is loved, the embittered Dick Deadeye, the first lord who rose to that high station from polishing the handle of the front door and without any knowledge of the sea—all these are household names, and have been for thirty-five years.

It was an appreciative audience which heard the opera last night, and it could not get enough of the favorable numbers—"Buttercup's song," Ralph Rackstraw's first song, Sir Joseph Porter's introduction, the duet between Rackstraw and Josephine, the duet between the captain and Buttercup, Bobstay's "He's an Englishman," the round of the three sailors and Deadeye's "Important Information." Mr. Hopper's part as Deadeye is, of course, but a small one, but he gets from it all that is in it. The star part is that of Sir Joseph, splendidly portrayed and sung by Mr. Cunningham. That gentleman has done much good work, but he will always be associated with this character as one of its chief interpreters. Idelle Patterson was a charming Josephine, Jayne Herbert was perfect as that "plump and pleasing person," Buttercup, Mr. Aldridge made a likable Rackstraw, Herbert, Waterous' fine bass had but limited chance as Bobstay, John Willard looked and sang well as Captain Corcoran and Anabel Jourdan, as Hebe, led a group of sisters and cousins and aunts equally lovely with herself.

Not long since the proprietors of some public baths in a small Midland town were in want of a lad to attend to the requirements of their patrons. Among the many applicants was a lad who was well-known in the town, and who had for a considerable time worked for a leading butcher. This lad they decided to engage, and sent for him for a final interview before commencing his new duties. After his arrival, and one or two preliminaries had been settled, one of the proprietors offered him eight shillings per week, and asked him if that would satisfy him. "Well," replied the lad, "it isn't quite as much as I had at the butcher's; there I had eight shillings a week and a joint, sir." "And what was the joint worth, as a rule?" "About three shillings." "All right, then," responded the partner who had so far been the only one to speak. "I don't think we should fall out over that; so, to put you on the same terms as the butcher, you can have your eight shillings and take three shillings out in hot baths."

"I AM GOD'S SWORD."

An extraordinary proclamation, only comparable, the Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail says, to the ravings of a megalomaniac in an asylum, is said to have been issued by the kaiser to his army in the eastern theatre of the war. A translation of it taken from the Warsaw Journal, Gazetta Poranny, has been sent by M. Lenarski, a Polish student of the University of Grenoble, mobilized at the beginning of the war, to his friends in France.

"Soldiers," it begins, "remember that you are the chosen people! The spirit of the Lord has descended upon me because I am the emperor of the Germans. I am the instrument of the Most High. I am the sword, His viceroys."
"Woe and death to all those that resist my will! Woe and death to all those who do not believe in my mission! Woe and death to the cowards!"
"Let all the enemies of the German people perish."
"God demands their destruction: God who, by my mouth, commands you to execute His Will!"

COSSACKS Great Soldiers and Receive Fine Training.

Get Splendid Work Out of Their Horses, Which Are Well Treated—All Male Cossacks Bound to Serve the Czar—Men Possess a Reckless Bravery Coupled With Their Skill.

Of all the mounted soldiers of the world the Cossacks of Russia are perhaps the most famous. Certainly as horse soldiers they have no superior, if any equal, among the mounted arms of any army. It has been said of the Cossacks that they are born to the horse. Now that the Russian armies in countless thousands are advancing to the frontiers of Germany and Austria-Hungary, the newspapers daily report some action in which these famous mounted soldiers of the Czar have played an important part.

The Cossack population of the Russian Empire is scattered, being divided into military groups and distributed along or in proximity to the frontiers. The distribution is purely for strategic purposes. On a war footing the Cossacks number about 182,000 men, of whom about 4,200 are commissioned officers.

Practically every male Cossack who has attained the age of 18 years and is physically fit—and a Cossack is generally fit—must serve the Czar in a military capacity for the period of twenty years, by far the longest enlisted period enforced in any army on earth.

Horses a Dear Possession. Of this term of service for the Czar, three years are spent in a probationary stage, twelve on active duty wherever required, and five in the army reserve. The government furnishes their own horses and saddles, for to a Cossack, next to his own family, his horse is his dearest possession, and he would be insulted if anybody suggested that he ride any horse other than the one he himself owned and had personally trained.

"The military organization of the Cossacks," says Army and Navy of London, "dates a long way back in history. Their first service took the shape of garrisoning certain forts erected by the Muscovy Czars and Kings of Poland in combination as a safeguard against invasion by hostile tribes over the frontier. The Cossacks of that time enjoyed many unique privileges in return for this. They paid no taxes, and no one was allowed to pass through their territory without permission. Nominally they were Russians and adherents to Christianity; practically, they were Tartars and favored no religion in particular. As may be imagined, they were a constant source of diplomatic embarrassment. When the Sultans of Turkey complained that they had ravaged his borders, the Czar would reply that he was not responsible for them, with the result that strained relations would immediately ensue between the two countries.

Early Cossacks Loyalty. "As for their early loyalty, it may be mentioned that when Peter the Great was at war with Sweden, one of the most powerful of their communities—the Cossacks of the Dnieper—disbanded them, which the remainder were deprived of their independence. This had an excellent effect, and even since then the whole of the Cossack population, extending in one long line from the Sea of Azof to the Caspian, have proved loyal and worthy subjects of the 'Emperor of all the Russias.'"

As Army and Navy points out, the Cossack regiments are, as a rule, composed of six squadrons, or sotnias, of 125 men each. There are also Cossack infantry and artillery detachments, operating with the mounted Cossacks. The mounted force of this wonderful organization has been described "as a body of men who ride like a Centaur, shot like a Boer, and possess a red Indian's eye for country."

"Every man among them," says Army and Navy, "is a potential Buffalo Bill."

No mounted men in the world get such splendid work out of their horses as do the Cossacks. They are horse-masters to the manner born, and such a thing as a sore back or a saddle chafe is practically unknown among Cossack horses, even after weeks of hard campaigning. Quick and sure is the punishment that follows a discovery that a Cossack has neglected his mount. The horses are of what is known as the cob variety, shaggy and not pretty to look upon, yet for Cossack purposes the ideal animal. All Cossacks carry a rifle, a bayonet, and a sword. They are like the American cavalry in that they do not use the lance. They also carry a long whip which they can use in wonderful fashion, and which at close fighting has more than once proved to be a useful weapon.

"In battle," adds Army and Navy, "Cossacks' feats of horsemanship are often exceedingly disconcerting to the enemy. This is due to the remarkable sympathy which exists between man and horse. When charging an enemy, for instance, the Cossack frequently leans over the outside of his horse, thereby using the animal, to a certain degree, as a shelter and a cover. As an example, in a recent engagement, the entrenched Austrians were somewhat surprised to see what appeared to be a mass of riderless horses on a wild stampede. The Austrian cavalry and infantry rushed forward, hoping to make rich captures, but they received a rude surprise.

"The Austrians were met with a hail of lead fired by the riders from their strange positions. The Austrians had no time to recover from the shock. The Cossacks resumed their normal riding positions immediately, and, drawing their sabres, dashed among the discomfited enemy, cutting them down right and left.

Are Good Fighting Men.

As fighting men the Cossacks are demons. Their bravery is of that reckless character which stops at nothing. They are not in the least perturbed by overwhelming odds. The story of the Cossacks' Kriutchoff, who was the first fortunate recipient of the Order of St. George for military service in the present war, is typical. There was a wild melee and desperate hand-to-hand fighting between German cavalry and the Cossacks. Griutchoff hacked his way through the enemy, and with his own hand cut down no fewer than eleven of his opponents. As may be supposed, neither the horse nor the rider escaped unscathed. The Cossack received sixteen wounds and his horse eleven.

"But the Cossack is not purely and simply a man of war. He is equally skilled in the arts of peace. Popular education stands at a higher level among the Cossacks than throughout Russia. Moreover, they are successful farmers and stock raisers."

A country politician in New Jersey was elected school commissioner. One day he visited a school and told the teacher he desired to examine the boys and girls. A spelling class was performing, so the commissioner said he would inquire into the proficiency of that organization. The teacher gave him the spelling book, and the students lined up in front of the mighty educator. He thumbed the book. Then, pointing at the first boy, he said: "Spell 'eggs'." "E-g-g-p-i-t," slowly spelled the boy. "Wrong," said the commissioner, and pointing to the next boy: "You spell 'eggs'." "E-g-g-p-i-t," spelled the boy. "Wrong. You spell it." The next boy spelt it the same way, and the next and the next. "Bad spellers, these," commented the commissioner to the distressed teacher. "Why, Mr. Commissioner," she protested, "they have all spelled 'eggs' correctly." "They have not." "Will you let me see the word in the book?" the teacher asked tearfully. "I am sure they have." "Here it is," said the commissioner, and he pointed to the word "Egypt."

SHERIFF AS RECEIVER

Asks to Be Appointed in British Canadian Home Builders Case; Application Adjourned.

The sheriff as a receiver and liquidator would be the new role of that public functionary if the courts were to grant an application made to Mr. Justice Gregory yesterday by C. G. White on behalf of Sheriff Richards.

What the sheriff wants is to be appointed as receiver of the estate of the British Canadian Home Builders Limited, with power to receive all monies due to it and to be vested with sufficient title in certain lands to be able to give title to purchasers or assignees of agreements for sale on behalf of the defendant company.

The affidavit put in by Mr. White in support of his application set forth that the sheriff is now in possession of the goods of the company under a writ of execution issued at the instance of a creditor to the extent of some $3,500. Included in the goods are twenty-two agreements for sale, on which there is due an aggregate of $18,000 odd. It further stated that since the execution Ernest Kennedy, managing director of the company, had collected about $900, although notified by the sheriff not to receive any monies.

H. W. R. Moore, for the company, objected to the application, and filed an affidavit which recited the recent antipathy between the sheriff and Kennedy, the latter's arrest and the dismissal of the charge brought against him by the sheriff. In the affidavit it was claimed that the sheriff is not a fit and proper person to have charge of the somewhat complicated transactions involved in disposing of real estate. As receiver the sheriff would be really liquidator, but the company was considering going into voluntary liquidation.

The court gave two days' delay to Mr. White to produce authorities in support of his application.

A War Talk to Canadian Manufacturers

There seems to be a feeling of uncertainty among some Canadian manufacturers—a question as to the advisability of advertising—due to the present unfortunate situation in Europe. Some manufacturers have curtailed their advertising appropriations. Others have adopted a policy of "watchful waiting." Still others have increased—even doubled—these appropriations, and it is the latter who will reap the big rewards.

This is not a time for advertising curtailment.

For many manufacturers it is big opportunity—a time for real business development. Granting that there has been a little commercial grogginess, there is no reason for a business depression. The home market in Canada shows larger possibilities because of an end—even though temporary—to foreign competition.

DURING 1913 CANADA IMPORTED MERCHANDISE FROM GERMANY ALONE TO THE EXTENT OF $15,000,000

Just think of that for one moment.

Can you imagine a more opportune time to supplant the Canadian market with YOUR goods to the exclusion of foreign-made products—and upon a PERMANENT BASIS?

This is a time for big things in commercial institutions—a time for hard thinking—a time for serious investigation. There was never a time in history when Canadian manufacturers could get so close to the hearts of the Canadian people. Never has such an opportunity to permanently establish a relationship with our people been offered the Canadian manufacturer.

Never has there been so many reasons for the "Made-in-Canada" propaganda.

The Canadian people are a fair, broad and far-seeing people. They appreciate the fact that they owe support to Canadian industries. They know that advertised goods MUST be superior to non-advertised products because advertised goods must live up to a standard.

Unquestionably, loyal Canadians are looking to Canadian manufacturers to tell them about Canadian goods.

All the argument is in favor of the Canadian manufacturer. The opportunity is apparent. It remains for you to grasp it.

ARRANGE NOW FOR THE CO-OPERATION OF THIS AGENCY

REVISITS SCENE OF HIS OLD TRIUMPHS

John Grant, ex-M. P. P. for Victoria City and Old-Time Mayor Visiting in City

To few men it is given to play so many varied and interesting parts on the stage of life as have fallen to the lot of John Grant, Victoria pioneer and Yukon miner, who arrived in the city last night for a short stay.

Seen by the Times' man at the Dominion hotel this morning, Mr. Grant talked with his usual intensity of the changes he has noticed. It was 14 years ago when he last trod Yates street.

"The chief thing I noticed," he said with a gesture that was meant to embrace the whole city and its environs, "is the extraordinary number and elegance of large buildings. City blocks I think you call them. Another thing is the fine surface and the breadth of the streets, and I am particularly glad to spend an hour or two this morning in inspecting the Empress hotel."

"For you know when I was mayor the Dominion government owned that magnificent site where the hotel now stands. There was no hotel then, nor anything but mud flats which were covered with oozy water at high tide. The government had control of all lands under water at high tide. As mayor of the city I was instrumental in getting the government to deliver over the flats to the city, and in fact we contemplated filling them-in at that time."

"But perhaps the most wonderful change of all is in the people themselves, the busy traffic on the streets, the thronging of automobiles and wagons. You are perhaps suffering a little under the depression now, as Vancouver is. But I tell you it will all come right. I have seen Seattle wear the same aspect, but the years bring their changes always."

Robbery Alleged.—What is known in police circles as "strong arm robbery" is believed to have been practiced this morning in the bar of a well known hotel in town. People in Small Boats Run Risks if They Approach Rifle Ranges; Canadian Lead for Bullets.

It is announced by the acting minister of militia and defence that the bullets to be fired by Canadian troops in the war will be made from Canadian lead, so far as it will go, which will mean a great deal for this province, where there was produced last year some 55,000,000 pounds of this mineral.

The militia authorities again warn the public regarding the danger of passing Clover Point range at the present time, when there is continuous firing at the targets by the soldiers. Those who venture off the point in motor-boats or other small craft and within range of fire are taking long risks. The men on the range keep an eye out themselves, and cease firing when a boat is noticed to be inside the danger line, but it is possible that a small boat may get within range without being noticed, and it is advisable for them to keep away or else make sure that their presence is known to those on the range.

AN AMBITIOUS PLAN

Rotary Club to Arrange for Excursion of Canadians to San Francisco During the Fair.

There was launched this afternoon at the luncheon of the Rotary Club a scheme which is likely to have far-reaching consequences in the advertising of Canada. It is proposed that the Rotary Clubs of Canada, with a number of prominent public men as their guests, should assemble in this city and from here proceed by special steamer to San Francisco, where the convention of Rotarians of the continent will be held during the fair.

The scheme was placed before the club by President Frank Higgins, the support of the Vancouver Rotarians was pledged by A. R. Kelly, of that city, and the following gentlemen were named as a committee to arrange the plans and enlist the co-operation of every club in the Dominion: Joshua Kingham, Q. C., Deaville, W. S. Terry, and Jesse Warren.

Sergt. G. Bevan Pritchard, of the 50th Regiment, spoke of the moral effect on an enemy of the weapon used and the efficiency with the weapon of the man behind it. The size of a country and the number of men it could throw into the field from its regular army was nothing compared to the ability of a nation to fight where every man was a trained soldier.

This moral effect would be found valuable in all the relations of life, and the business man who was at the same time a trained soldier would find his experience of great value in business. To obtain and preserve peace there was nothing like the knowledge among other people that every man of a nation was a trained soldier, ready with his rifle to take his place in the firing line—and ready to shoot to kill.

In the organization of the business men's corps, and in recruiting generally, it meant much to have the confidence of the Rotary Club. It would be an excellent thing if the club was able to say that it had the first company of trained soldiers.

James L. Hunter led the way in volunteering, and 30 other members followed in their names as recruits for the business men's corps.

A salesmanship contest engaged in by C. B. Deaville, K. T. Hughes, P. B. Scourah and W. S. Terry resulted in the award to Mr. Terry by the judges, who were J. O. Cameron, J. Elford and Jesse Warren.

STREET RAILWAY IS SUED FOR DAMAGES

Bicyclist Who Was Hit by Car Asks That He Be Compensated for Injuries

That it is the duty of employees of the B. C. Electric Railway company to pay attention to other traffic on the streets and be in a position to stop their cars at an instant's notice, was the proposition laid down by W. H. Langley in an action which is being heard before Judge Lammiman and a jury in the County court to-day.

Richard Birch, a wharfinger, seeks damages from the company for injuries received by him through what he alleges to have been the negligent running of one of its cars. For the company it is denied that there was any negligence or any liability. H. E. Robertson is acting for the foreman of the jury is Fred B. Warren.

The accident, outlined by counsel to the jury, occurred on May 22 last about 7 a. m., while Birch was riding south along Government street on his wheel. Between Queen's and Princess avenues he overtook some dump-wagons and turned out on the devil's-p to pass them. Crossing a diamond at Princess avenue his bicycle wheel caught the end of the track, skidded and wobbled, and for some moments he kept the seat trying to get control of the wheel. A car approaching him struck him on the shoulders, as he lay where he had fallen, and smashed his wheel.

Mr. P. F. Houghton, who saw Birch at the Jubilee hospital at noon on the day of the accident, said the man complained of a severe pain in the right shoulder, and this was so bad that it was impossible to make a complete examination. Later he found that there was no fracture, but a serious bruising of the muscles and bone. An examination of the shoulder this morning showed a wasting of the muscles of the right arm and shoulder, which would, however, disappear in time.

The plaintiff bore out his counsel's statement as to the accident. After five days in hospital he returned to work at Birch's wharf, but found himself unable to lift heavy weights. He had had to hire men to lift for him, and in this way paid out about $25.

To Mr. Robertson he said his wheel had skidded two or three times and he had then fallen in front of the oncoming car, and just had time to roll clear before he was struck. He admitted that the company had offered him $25.00 as compensation for his wheel, which he had had for seven years. The street car was going about the ordinary speed.

Alex. Rainville, a teamster, stated that he was on the point of turning out ahead of Birch when he noticed the latter was having trouble with his wheel, and so he remained as he was driving, partly on the south-bound track. Birch had been wobbling for some little distance and suddenly the wheel turned toward the north-bound track, throwing the rider to the ground in front of the car.

Mr. Robertson asked for a non-suit on the ground of lack of any negligence on the part of the company or of any evidence that the motorman had seen Birch. Mr. Langley remarked that this appeared to be one of those cases where the company thought that if anyone was on the tracks he must either get off or be run over, and that the wheels turned to other traffic on the street, and cars must be kept under such control that they could be stopped quickly. The Ontario courts had held that where an accident happened in broad daylight the company was liable.

His honor considered that the jury should hear the case, and let the court afterwards deal with the application for a non-suit.

Edward N. Horsey, assistant engineer, stated that the tracks at the point are flush with the roadway in between and at the outer edge there is a guard rail which is half an inch above the surface. The motorman and conductor were examined to prove that the car was running at ordinary speed.

INJURED IN UPSET.

Member of Boyle's Detachment Seriously Hurt in Auto Smash This Morning.

Three members of Boyle's detachment from the Yukon came to grief in a motor-car upset this morning at the corner of Superior and Menzies streets. Two were able to go back to headquarters after being treated by Dr. Sinclair, but the third, Buck Taylor, is now lying in a very serious condition at St. Joseph's hospital. His external injuries include a fractured nose, injured wrist and swollen eye, but the internal effect is what is feared most. Dick Wood, of Victoria, the driver, was also injured, having his shoulder dislocated. He was put under an anaesthetic immediately on arrival at the police station and the shoulder was set at once.

It appears that the party was turning from Superior into Menzies street when one of the back tires went suddenly flat, and the car turned completely over, throwing out the four occupants. Barney McGinley, one of the Yukoners, received a cut on the head, his elbow, ear and hand also being lacerated. Hugh Stewart was only slightly injured.

The police patrol went out in charge of Constable Duncan, and the men were brought back to the station where Dr. Sinclair attended them immediately.

EARLY BREAK DRAWS BUYERS FOR WHEAT

Corn and Oats Move Up With Wheat Following First Dip

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
Chicago, Oct. 29.—It was not difficult to break wheat this morning. The trade was without Liverpool quotations. North-west receipts were considerably under last year, which gave a little better turn to prices on first trades, and an export house bought a little December as high as 114. An hour before the close four different houses had orders to buy small round lots of December and this had the desired effect of bringing about a rally of one cent or more from low point.

Liverpool corn quotations were 1/2 higher at the close. Considerable covering in this market influenced by the rally in wheat. Many southwest reports claiming larger country offerings. No shipping sales of any importance reported as yet.

Oats market now about Wednesday's closing figures. There was liquidation on early decline. Estimates were for 300 cars. Oats taken largely by cash houses, and some resting orders to buy with brokerage firms around better figures.

CONSTRUCTIVE TALENT NOT APPARENT TO-DAY

Prevailing Uncertainty Checks Buying in Local Issues; Oil Stocks Quiet

Best price for Portland Canal at the close of the market was 1c. bid, offers at 2c. There was no business in the shares, neither was bidding brisk in face of general offers. Reports from the camp show no change in the tenor of development work and undoubtedly mineral findings are good. Constructive talent was well-nigh absent again in the list.

Prices range now the lowest for a long time, but speculative enthusiasm is checked by prevailing uncertainty.

Some demand centred in Glacier Creek stock and Coronation Gold straightened up moderately with sellers reducing their offerings.

No new feature in the oils, and bidding was conspicuous for its absence throughout the morning session.

WHEAT HAS BREAK ON MARKET AT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Oct. 29.—Wheat prices opened 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, oats were unchanged to 1/4 higher, and flax 1/4 to 1/2 higher.

Following the opening there was a sharp break to the east on No. 1 and No. 2, and other months, caused by heavy selling in Chicago and Minneapolis and a heavy primary movement.

The cash trade in all lines is discouraging. Offerings are heavy, farmers are more inclined to sell and the demand is off for all nearby stuff. Exporters on the break are buying futures in view of future sales.

Local receipts while not heavy are improving. 375 cars were inspected yesterday as against 1,200 last year, and in sight were 200 cars.

The decline at noon was 1/2 to 1/4 from opening points. Later it was claimed considerable export sales had been worked on the break, one firm doing around 150,000 bushels and other houses a similar quantity. Flax options made a gain of two cents to 2 1/2, which is a feature price of this commodity, having been on the down trend for some weeks.

Winnipeg a lower for contract grades. Oats closed irregular and flax was unquoted.

PRZEMYSL GARRISON SOON WITHOUT FOOD

Russian Repulse of Germans Partly Due to Enormous Reserves.

London, Oct. 29.—The German retirement from Poland and the resumption of the offensive by Russia all along the eastern battle-front is generally ascribed in London to the enormous reserves brought up by the Russian commanders. Instead of two completely exhausted armies facing each other along the Vistula, as has happened frequently on the banks of the Aisne, the Russians make daily changes, bringing regiments from the rear and thus allowing the fighters in the trenches to retire and rest.

This operation is said to have been repeated so often that virtually every Russian soldier within striking distance of the invaders is now a veteran. While this German retirement may not be a rout, it is nevertheless held here to be true that the retreat has progressed so far that Warsaw is to-day free of the menace of investment, and with the pressure on their centre relieved, the Russians are now devoting more attention to the campaign in Galicia.

Petrograd reports that the garrison of Przemyśl is defending with extraordinary obstinacy. The forts are well armed and thousands of workmen are employed in strengthening the fortifications. The supplies of ammunition are large. The weakness of the fortress is reported to be found in the scarcity of provisions. Enormous quantities had been collected by the Austrians in outlying villages, but the unexpected speedy advance of the Russians resulted in the seizure of these supplies.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Official dispatches made public by the French embassy here to-day announced that the Germans retreating before the Russian armies in Poland are now basing on Edlinsk, Radom and Iza. The Germans are said to have lost prisoners and ammunition.

The dispatch added: "In Galicia the combat continues on the entire front with success for the Russians."

"In a series of operations along the frontier between the Moselle and the Vosges, we were able to dislodge some of the outposts of the enemy. Prisoners were captured almost everywhere."

GREAT EASTERN LOAN HAS NOT BEEN MADE

Statement That Dominion Government is Providing $6,000,000 for Railroad Denied.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—The announcement that the government is making a loan of $6,000,000 to the Pacific & Great Eastern railway, which is under construction from Vancouver to Fort George, no doubt has its origin in the fact that under the legislation of last session the government may make advances in Dominion notes to banks upon approved collateral. The securities of this road are guaranteed in principal and interest by the government of British Columbia, so no question could arise as to their soundness as collateral when presented by a bank. So far no application has been made to the treasury board for a loan upon such securities, nor has any agreement been entered into covering such a loan.

This road is in the final stages of construction. It is quite possible that the backers of the road might ask for advances on the bonds they hold as collateral, so that advances could be made to finish construction. If they do it will be for a sum much less than the amount mentioned.

GREECE MAY NOT GAIN ALLIED POWERS' SUPPORT

Rome, Oct. 29.—The report that Greece has landed 1200 soldiers at Santi Quaranta, thus taking possession of the southern part of Albania, which gives it entire control of the Corfu channel, is causing a profound impression in Rome. As this step on the part of Greece was strongly opposed by the London conference, it is generally believed in Italian political circles that Greece will not be supported by Great Britain and France.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 29.—Lieut.-Governor Wood has announced that the report of the royal commission into the Dugal charges against Premier Flemming in connection with the administration of the crown timber lands and the Valley railway will be laid before the provincial government at their next meeting, two weeks hence. Premier Flemming was in the city yesterday, and several other leaders of the party

BERLIN DENIES THAT ANGOLA IS INVADED

Berlin, via London, Oct. 29.—It was announced officially here to-day that nothing was known concerning the report that German troops had entered Angola, the Portuguese colony in West Africa. The statement was given out by the Wolff Bureau.

The dispatches relating that German troops had forcibly invaded Angola came by way of Lisbon, Madrid and Paris, through French news agencies, and were received here October 27. The same message said that preparations were being made at Lisbon for the immediate dispatch of warships and troops from Portugal to Angola.

REBELS ARE ACTIVE AT PORT AU PRINCE

Port au Prince, Hayti, Oct. 29.—A serious revolutionary outbreak occurred at Port au Prince last night as a result of the landing here of Charles Zamor, a brother of the president of the republic.

There was shooting in the streets of the city throughout the night and the encounters continued to-day. The members of the minister have taken refuge in the foreign consulates.

The Netherlands steamer Prins Willem came into Port au Prince yesterday evening at 10 o'clock. On board were President Zamor and his brother Charles. Charles came ashore and his landing was the signal for the outbreak. The government forces opposed the rebels, but were driven back and compelled to evacuate their positions.

A force of rebels under Davilmar Thodore, leader of the present rebellion and the man who has been proclaimed president by the revolutionists has occupied Mirabalais, thirty miles northeast of Port au Prince and is now marching on the city.

WINDING-UP ASKED FOR DOMINION TRUST

Petition Filed in Vancouver;
Application Will Be Heard
This Week

Following upon the decision of the directors of the Dominion Trust Com-pany to voluntarily wind up the affairs of the company, notice of a petition to the same end but de-manding a winding-up by the courts has been filed in the supreme court registry in Vancouver, and the appli-cation is to be made to Chief Justice
Hunter in chambers there this week.

The petition is filed by J. B. Mathers, Vancouver, who happens to have been the first president of the Dominion Trust Company and was succeeded by the late W. R. Arnold, acting as the attorney in Vancouver of Albert Maxton, of Calais, France, a customer and creditor of the company. Tupper, Kitts and Wightman are acting in the matter as counsel.

The papers filed in support of the petition set out that the company was incorporated by Dominion and pro-vincial statutes with a share capital of $5,000,000 of which $2,500,000 is subscribed and $2,000,000 paid up for the purpose of acting as a trustee of deposits and investments, and as such had head offices at Vancouver and branch offices and advisory boards at Victoria, Nanaimo, New Westminster, Calgary, Regina, Win-nipeg, Montreal, Charlotte Harbor,
E. I. London, and Antwerp.

It is set forth that the Dominion
Trust Company, as trustee for the pe-
-tioner sold in 1912 to George E. Drew,
New Westminster, certain land and premises for the sum of $130,000, and that though the petitioner had de-manded a conveyance of the lands and premises, an assignment of the agreement and an accounting and payment of the moneys due under the agreement, these requests had not been accorded to and action had been com-menced in the Supreme Court on September 29, 1914.

The petition alleges that the com-pany had received from the public up to December 31, 1913, deposits and trust funds amounting to $1,392,- -744.23, and that since the death of W. R. Arnold, its managing director on Oct. 12, cheques of its depositors had been dishonored and its depositors refused payments and it had failed to pay over moneys collected from mort-gages to its cestui que trust. The petition continues:

"The whole substratum of the Trust Company is gone, and it is not possible to carry on the essential purpose for which the Trust Company was inter-
-alia, constituted, viz., the adminis-tration of trust funds, which on December, 1913, are alleged to have grown to $1,392,744.23.

"Questions of considerable diffi-culty will arise in the winding up of the Trust Company, and the assis-tance of the court will be required;
one of the main objects of the com-pany has become absolutely im-practicable, and that in justice to its members it ought not to be allowed to continue."

The petition sets out that the com-pany has closed its doors and suspen-ded payments to its depositors, ac-knowledged its insolvency, and at a special meeting of directors on Octo-ber 22, resolved to go into voluntary liquidation.

A request is made that the court
appoint the Standard Trusts Company or George E. Winter of Riddell, Stead, Hodges & Winter, auditors, or some other fit and proper company as pro-visional liquidator of the estate and assets of the Dominion Trust Com-pany.

Amongst the present directors of the Dominion Trust Company there is a movement on foot to go into voluntary liquidation with John Pittblado, a stock-broker of Montreal, and a director, in charge. The petition on behalf of Mr.
Maxton, however, asks for public winding up under the court.

Mrs. Smith was on her first voyage.
"What's that down there?" she asked of the captain. "That's the steerage, madam," he replied. "Really," exclaim-ed the woman in surprise, "and does it take all those people to make the boat go straight?"

Staging a Trial. "Do you think you have sufficient counsel for my boy?"
"Yes; we have a spread eagle orator, a sob specialist, an insanity expert, and a little cuss who knows the law if we need any law."

LOCAL RESIDENT'S SUIT

Mrs. Weeks Has Action Pending Against City of Saskatoon for Damages.

Major W. S. Weeks, colonel of the Victoria Volunteer Guard, and Mrs.
Weeks have received notice of an im-portant judgment handed down by Mr.
Justice Newlands at Regina last week.
The court, reversing a decision of Judge McLog, found that Mrs. Weeks, may proceed with her suit against the city of Saskatoon for $50,000 damages claimed to have been done to her prop-erty in Richmond Park through the construction by the city of a sewer through the property along the river bank.

The contention of the city solicitor was that her only recourse was to take arbitration proceedings, but the decision of the court is that there are certain requirements which should have been complied with by the coun-cil before taking possession of the land. These were not complied with, hence the action for trespass will lie.
At the time the sewer was constructed the city authorities thought they were on a city street, and it was only sub-sequently discovered that the property belonged to Mrs. Weeks.

Mrs. Weeks thereupon brought ac-tion in the supreme court for $50,000 damages. H. L. Jordan, for the city, obtained from Judge McLog, local master, an order to set aside the ac-tion on the ground that the only pro-ceedings open to Mrs. Weeks were un-der the provisions of the city act re-specting the ascertaining of compensa-tion by arbitration. The appeal then followed.

LEGEND OF HOLY GRAIL

Rev. William Stevenson Addresses
Young People of St. Saviour's
Church on Subject.

"The Legend of the Holy Grail" was the subject of a scholarly paper read on Tuesday evening before the Young People's society of St. Saviour's church, the lecturer, Rev. William Stevenson, having presented the narra-tion of his theme much thought and care. Most people, he said, were ac-quainted with the Legend of the Grail from Tennyson's beautiful work, "The Idylls of the King." Reference was made to Mallory's works on King Ar-thur and his Knights, in which the "Grail" played an important part, and the speaker delved still further back into the history of the legend as traced through many sources. He thought the story had its roots in the Celtic folk-lore, although traces of it were also to be found in the folk-lore of Germany and Brittany and even as far east as Persia. It was a splendid ex-ample of that class of legend which was taken over by the Christian church and transformed to act as a vehicle of high moral and spiritual teaching.

Mr. Stevenson briefly reviewed vari-ous works which have existed from ancient times having reference to the Holy Grail, and special attention was called to the French verses of King Arthur, a composition of Twelfth Cen-tury origin which contains sixty thou-sand verses, and is known as the High
History of the Holy Grail. In con-cluding, the lecturer gave an exposi-tion of Tennyson's more familiar poem on the subject, explaining, as he dis-cussed it, its ethical teaching and value. A warm vote of thanks was accorded the speaker at the end of the evening.

Jimmie: "How did you know I was going to call?" Her Little Sister: "I saw Nell taking the pins out of her belt."
