REPORT
OF
THE LIBRARIAN OF CONGRESS

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
Washington, D. C., December 6, 1909

SIR: I have the honor to submit herewith my report as Librarian of Congress, for the year ending June 30, 1909. The report of the Superintendent of the Library Building and Grounds (and Disbursing Officer) follows, beginning at page 63.

SERVICE

The death of Doctor Spofford on August 11, 1908, which took from us the service and prestige of the Dean among American librarians, was recorded in my last report; as also the promotion to the Chief Assistant Librarianship of Mr. Appleton P. C. Griffin. The volume there referred to, incorporating the addresses at the memorial meeting of November 12, 1908, was subsequently privately printed, under the auspices and chiefly at the expense of the District of Columbia Library Association, in an edition which sufficed for its members and for a limited distribution to institutions and to relatives and intimate friends of Doctor Spofford.

The recent death of another official of the Library who, though a member of the Superintendent's staff, held an office which involved close relations of influence and of service with the Library proper, is mentioned in the report of the Superintendent. This was Dr. George N. French, chief clerk to the Superintendent and Disbursing Officer; a veteran in the service of the Government, and an admirable example of a modest, loyal, and devoted official, exact and thorough in his own work and considerate in his relations with that of others.

SERVICE:
Resignation of
W. C. Ford

The most notable loss to our staff by resignation was that of Mr. Worthington C. Ford, who on January 1, 1909, left us to become editor for the Massachusetts Historical Society. Mr. Ford brought to the conduct of our Manuscripts Division not merely a precise knowledge of the sources of American history, which made him for certain periods a leading authority, but also a long experience in the scientific treatment of such material. Combining with these qualifications skill in "locating" new material and enterprise in the pursuit of it, his presence with us aided greatly in the enlargement of the manuscript collections, which during the six years of his incumbency more than doubled in extent and importance. Within this period, for instance, occurred the transfer to the Library of the great bodies of manuscripts—such as the Washington and other presidential papers, and the papers of the Continental Congress—formerly in the State and other federal departments. Within it also have occurred such important private gifts to the Library as those of the Jackson, the Van Buren, and the Breckinridge papers; while in the consideration of material procurable only by purchase, his judgment as to scientific as well as commercial values could be accepted as safely decisive. On the other hand, his certainty and rapidity of decision combined with a prodigious industry effected notable results in the administration and utilization of the collections. His crowning service was indeed as editor, this including not merely the planning and supervision of conventional catalogues and calendars, and the supervision and direction through the press of the Records of the Virginia Company, but the personal editing and similar direction of the first fifteen volumes of the Journals of the Continental Congress, a truly monumental labor for which he was concededly the best equipped person in the country, and his performance of which has won enthusiastic praise from exacting critics. That his departure prevents his completion of it is indeed a misfortune; but the portion completed establishes the plan, scope, and standard for the whole; and Mr. Ford's generous transfer to his successor of his notes, accumulated during a long period of private study in preparation for the work, and his readiness to give particular counsel where this may be needed, combine with the actual competence of his successor to assure that the future volumes will show little, if any, diminution in efficiency.

For the gentleman who succeeds him, Mr. Gaillard Hunt, is also familiar with the material and expert in the manner of work. He comes to the Library after twenty-one years' service in the Department of State—not, it is true, as custodian of its archives, but in a proximity to them which his scholarly tastes induced him to utilize. On his departure from the department a letter was addressed to him by the Secretary, which, though it belongs rather to the records of the department than to those of the Library, I can not forbear to reproduce here, not merely as significant of the particular man who has come to our service in a responsibility so important, but also as suggestive of the quality of men that the Government is so fortunate as to secure and retain.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Washington, November 16, 1908

MY DEAR MR. HUNT: It is with great regret that I accept your resignation as Chief of the Bureau of Citizenship of the State Department, to take effect on the 1st of January next.

Were it not that the position in the Library of Congress to which you are going affords a better opportunity for the kind of work to which you wish to devote yourself, I should urge you to reconsider your determination. Your work in the State Department has been of a very high quality and most devoted and efficient. You have dealt satisfactorily with some of the most important subjects involved in our foreign relations and you have been absurdly underpaid. Your labors have been inconspicuous and of a character to attract little public attention, and you can not expect much public appreciation of them; but they have been appreciated by everybody in the State Department and by many members of both Houses of Congress and by all who have had occasion to become familiar with the workings of the Bureau of Citizenship; and they should be for yourself a basis of enduring satisfaction. We are all sorry to lose you, and I think I am most sorry of all.

With sincere esteem, regard, and good wishes, I am
Always faithfully yours

ELIHU ROOT

The position of Assistant Register of Copyrights, created on July 1, 1908, but because of an inadequate salary not then filled, has, now that the salary has been put upon the recommended basis ($3,000), been filled by the appointment of Mr. Ernest Bruncken. Mr. Bruncken, a lawyer by training and original profession (with practice at Milwaukee, Wis.), has for the past four years been legislative librarian in the state library of California.

*Subordinate
service*

The routine work of other divisions has been embarrassed by the usual number of resignations of subordinate employees. Where, as in the Catalogue and Classification Division, this work is technical, requiring special training and fully efficient only after a considerable period of service here, an increasing difficulty is met in filling the vacancies. As the Chief Classifier remarks in his annual report:

“The men and women preparing to enter the library profession appear to be training more and more exclusively for purely executive positions. The multiplication of libraries and the reorganization of older ones into centralized and complex library systems is creating a demand in that direction to which attention has been called repeatedly and prominently of late in the organs of the American library world. As in these cases the scientific and technical problems are not under consideration, it is natural that no reference should be made to them and that the high order of executive ability necessary for the general administration of such institutions should alone be dwelt upon. Cataloguing, classification, reference work, and other such services are, however, vital functions of the library organism. The tendency of aspirants for library honors to confine their efforts to the acquisition of administrative training and experience, and to look upon the other functions with indifference, if not disdain, may be due to the greater emphasis placed upon the former in current professional discussions; not that the executive is held in greater honor, but the others in less. Cooperative cataloguing and classification on the other hand demand comprehensive knowledge and great efficiency. They also involve problems of organization and require constant effort toward improvement in methods and simplification of processes. The value of this service has received recognition by appropriate rank in a few instances, but unless such recognition is granted less grudgingly the technical departments of library work will not attract men of the education and ability requisite to success in them."

FINANCE

Included also are the appropriations for the equipment and care of the building and grounds, expended by the Superintendent. Statistics

The report of the Register of Copyrights appears in full as Appendix II. It brings to date the record of the proceedings in Congress resulting in the new general copyright act which became effective on July 1, 1909, and supersedes all of the previously existing laws. It includes also a report of the International Congress held at Berlin October 14 to November 14, 1908 (primarily of the members of the Union of Berne), but at which the United States, though a non-signatory, was represented by the Register, together with the text of the new convention adopted November 13 embodying its agreements.

The principal statistics of the business done are as follows:

The fees from copyrights are covered into the Treasury and not applied directly to the maintenance of the Copyright Office. They form a regular revenue of the Government, however, and a net revenue over the direct expenses of the Office, as appears from the following comparison:

COPYRIGHT OFFICE	RECEIPTS
Receipts and Fees covered in during the fiscal year 1908-9, as above		$83, 816. 75
expenses
	EXPENSES
Salaries as stated .....	$77, 586. 52
Stationery and sundries .....	1, 067. 18
	78, 653. 70
Net cash earnings .....		5, 163. 05

The amount expended for salaries ($77,586.52) includes the sum of $4,680 paid in salaries to certain employees who have been classifying and crediting the old deposits received prior to 1897. This expenditure is chargeable to arrears. The current expenses of the Office are therefore considerably more than met by the current receipts.

The above statement includes all disbursements except the cost of furniture, of printing, and of binding, but only cash receipts. In addition to cash fees the copyright business brings each year to the Government, in articles deposited, property to the value of many thousands of dollars. During the past fiscal year 217,869 such articles were received. The value of those drawn up into the collections of the Library far exceeded the amount of net cash earnings.

The work of the Copyright Office is divided into two parts: (1) The current business, covering applications received since the reorganization of the Office under the Register in 1897; (2) the arrears, the classification, crediting, and indexing of the entries and deposits prior to 1897 (i. e., from 1870, when the copyright business was first placed under the Librarian of Congress).

On the 9th day of July, 1909, when the report of the Copyright Office was submitted, the remittances received up to the third mail of the day had been recorded and acknowledged; the account books of the bookkeeping division were written up and posted to June 30, and the accounts rendered to the Treasury Department were settled up to and including the month of June, while earned fees to June 30, inclusive, had been paid into the Treasury. All copyright applications received up to and including June 30 had been passed upon and refunds made. Current copy-right business

The total unfinished business for the full twelve years from July 1, 1897, to June 30, 1909, amounts to but $81.66, against a total completed business for the same period of $858,422.75.

At the close of business on July 9, 1909, the titles for record had been dated, classified, and numbered to July 2 (inclusive) for books and periodicals and to July 1 for all other classes. All titles had been indexed up to and including June 30.

The articles of all classes deposited during the year had been stamped, catalogued, and credited up to the receipts of June 30, inclusive.

The Catalogue of Copyright Entries, which since the transfer of its publication from the Treasury Department to the Library of Congress (see Appendix II) has been issued in four separate parts, had been brought forward, in the new series, to Part 1, Group 1, books, etc., Vol. 6, No. 25, June 24; Part 1, Group 2, pamphlets, leaflets, etc., Vol. 6, Nos. 22-25, June; Part 2, periodicals, Vol. 4, Nos. 22-25, June; Part 3, musical compositions, Vol. 4, Nos. 22-25, June; Part 4, engravings, cuts, and prints, etc., Vol. 4, Nos. 22-25, June.

The certificate and noncertificate entries had been recorded to June 30, inclusive, and certificates and notices of entry to the same date made, revised, and mailed.

Credited articles to the number of 21,962 had been filed away under year and number, those desired by the Library being forwarded to the shelves for use. In the case of 562 articles, identification and credit could not be made, and they were accordingly indexed and (except those desired by the Library) filed for convenient reference.

Copyright business prior to July 1, 1897

Titles to the number of 106,738, being the remainder entered prior to July 1, 1897, but heretofore filed only in rough bundles, had been collated, arranged, and permanently filed.

During the past twelve years the business done by the Office shows the following:

Total number of entries.....	1, 232, 529
Total number of articles deposited.....	2, 153, 919
Total amount of fees received and applied.....	$858, 422. 75
Total expenditure for service.....	$729, 468. 07
Net receipts above expenses for service.....	$128, 954. 68

During the thirty-nine years since the copyright work became a business of the Library of Congress the total number of entries has been 2,113,385.

The new copyright act will considerably increase the burdens of the Office. There may be expected a larger volume of business under it; and there is certain to be a great and difficult labor in interpreting and in making clear to the public its novel requirements. The burden can be met efficiently only by a considerable increase of the staff: On the other hand, the receipts of the Office are equally certain to increase so as fully to cover the additional expenditures for service.

INCREASE OF THE LIBRARY

Adopting the count of printed books and pamphlets made in June, 1902, as being accurate, the total contents of the Library, inclusive of the Law Library, at the close of the past two fiscal years were as follows:

Contents of the Library June 30, 1908, and June 30, 1909

The only collections purchased during the year (reserving for mention under "Music" the Schatz collection of opera librettos) were one of African linguistics (about 500 pieces), formed by Mr. Wilberforce Eames, and one of early English plays (about 2,000 pieces), which strengthen a department still meager (for a research library) in original editions of the early English dramatists. Among individual items of importance were, however, sets of Liebig's and of Poggen-dorf's Annalen; a set of the linguistic publications of Prince Louis Lucien Bonaparte; a set (171 volumes) of the "Inventaire sommaire des Archives Départementales," issued by the French Government; and the great edition (101 volumes) of the sacred books of Tibet (The Kanjur) in the Dergé print, secured through Mr. Rockhill, our minister to China (now ambassador at St. Petersburg). Included also was a selected collection (nearly 700 pieces) of Hungarian publications to form a foundation in the general literature of Hungary, of which the library had up to that time scarcely any examples.

The most momentous gift of printed material was from the Chinese Government, a set of the great Chinese encyclopedia (The Tu Shu Tsi Cheng), comprising over 5,000 (Chinese) volumes. This was brought to Washington by the special ambassador charged with the acknowledgments of China to the United States for the remission of the "Boxer indemnity." Its significance is indicated in a letter on behalf of the Library, which I append:

Gifts:
CHINESE EN-CYCLOPEDIA

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

Washington, December 29, 1908

Mr. SECRETARY: It is with high gratification indeed that we have received the communication from the Acting Secretary informing us of the gift to the United States by the Chinese Government, through His Excellency T'ang Shao-Yi, its ambassador on Special Mission, of a complete set in 5,041 volumes of the great encyclopedia, the Tu Shu Tsi Cheng, and stating that it is destined for the Library, as an addition to its collection of Chinese literature.

This collection, already comprising over 10,000 volumes—due chiefly to the interest, learning, and generosity of Mr. W. W. Rockhill, now American minister at Peking—is now one of the largest outside of China. The addition of the encyclopedia will make it one of the most notable.

As you are well aware, the term "encyclopedia" expresses very imperfectly the scope of this work. "Encyclopedias," so called, are profuse in the Occident, each attempting an epitome of knowledge and varying in dimensions from one to several score of volumes. But each such an encyclopedia represents but a particular private undertaking, the product of a small group of writers whose selection is conditioned by circumstances and who as a whole constitute but a fraction of the knowledge within the community. China alone—the Government itself of China—has attempted to embody in a single literary record the entire knowledge of an epoch. She has done this on two different occasions, in the early fifteenth century and again in the early eighteenth.

The first attempt (under the Ming dynasty), involving the concentration upon the task of over 2,000 of her foremost scholars, under an elaborate directorate, resulted in a compilation of over 22,000 volumes. But this, although copied for printing (by blocks), was never printed, and of two hand copies, made a century and a half later, only fragments survive.

The second attempt (in 1726), similar in its initiative, purpose, scope, and direction, was for posterity more fortunate in that its results were embodied in print. The edition printed (from movable copper types) seems, however, to have been a very small one. A copy, secured in 1877, forms a prized possession of the British Museum.

A copy for our own National Library has been for some time past one of our chief desires. As, however, the work is not in any way upon the market, and the copies in the possession of the Chinese Government are almost exhausted, we had feared that this desire could not be satisfied.

That the generosity of the Chinese Government has now satisfied it is a matter of hearty congratulation. We beg that you will express to the ambassador our sense of this, and (since the volumes have now been delivered) our acknowledgment—in behalf not merely of the institution, but of American scholars—for the addition to our collections of this notable work—record of unique learning, and of enduring interest to learning in every land.

Very respectfully

HERBERT PUTNAM

Librarian of Congress

To the Honorable THE SECRETARY OF STATE

Washington

Among the gifts of individual material having special Gifts interest were over a hundred (printed) volumes from the library of George Bancroft, presented by Mrs. J. C. Bancroft Davis. These included an extra-illustrated copy of Doctor Bancroft's own history, and a unique copy of the plates illustrating the stained glass in St. John's Church, at Washington.<sup>a</sup>

A manuscript, also from Mrs. Davis, is, like other gifts of manuscripts (including notable ones from the Hon. Francis Burton Harrison, of New York, from Mrs. William Reed, of Baltimore, and from Mrs. Wm. H. Schaefer, of Boston), noted under "Manuscripts;" and Mrs. H. Carrington Bolton's gift of the large collection formed by Doctor Bolton of portraits of scientists is noted under "Prints." Mention belongs here, however, of the additional valued gift by Mrs. Bolton of the copy of Poggendorf's Biographisch-literarisches

<sup>a</sup> In making this gift Mrs. Davis writes: "I want all these books and Richard Doyle letter to be marked or known as a gift from Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bancroft Davis, for it was my husband's wish that they should go to the Library of Congress, and I am only carrying out that wish in my lifetime instead of bequeathing them."

Handwörterbuch, which Doctor Bolton had extra-illustrated with over 800 portraits of the persons treated.

Transfers and exchanges

As the tables indicate, receipts from transfers have continued, notably from the State, Treasury, Post-Office, and Interior Departments. The opportunities of the Library for distribution are enhanced by the following provision of the appropriations act for 1909-10:

The Librarian of Congress may from time to time transfer to other governmental libraries within the District of Columbia, including the Public Library, books and material in the possession of the Library of Congress in his judgment no longer necessary to its uses, but in the judgment of the custodians of such other collections likely to be useful to them, and may dispose of or destroy such material as has become useless.

The continuance of exchanges under the system heretofore pursued (of printed lists of "Offers" and "Wants") requires more service and a greater space for sorting and listing than we have recently had at our command. Lists of our "Wants" will of course continue; but itemized lists of "Offers" must for the present be more limited. Descriptive lists may take their place—indicating in a summary way material of a certain nature offered in bulk, and invitations may be extended to libraries of importance to send representatives to examine our collection of duplicates and make selection here. A fundamental difficulty is that of dealing fairly with the great number of remoter libraries individually. An arrangement should be possible by which we could deal directly with a few central institutions which would in turn attend to the distribution within the geographical areas to which they owe a particular duty. The institutions to which this task—and privilege—logically belongs are the state libraries. We are not without hope that they may realize and undertake it.

DIVISION OF MANUSCRIPTS

(From the report of the Chief, Mr. Hunt)<sup>a</sup>

The more important manuscripts accessions are described <sup>Mss:</sup> in detail in Appendix III of this report. <sub>Accessions</sub>

The collections have been enriched by several notable gifts during the past year, among which may be mentioned that of Mr. J. P. MacLean, of Franklin, Ohio, of a large number of papers illustrating the progress of the Shaker movement in Ohio, comprising letters from and to the community at Union Village, records of the village, biographical notebooks, music, prayers, and journals, the whole forming a valuable historical record of the rise of Shakerism in the Middle West; that of Hon. Francis Burton Harrison, a Representative in Congress from New York, catalogued as "The Burton Harrison Collection," being letters to his father, Burton N. Harrison, his grandfather, Jesse Burton Harrison, and his great-grandfather, Samuel Jordan Harrison, from Thomas Jefferson, Henry Clay, R. R. Gurley, N. P. Trist, Jefferson Davis and others, all, especially the Jefferson Davis letters, throwing important light upon historical events; that of Dr. Ellery C. Stowell of the original manuscript report, written by Louis Renault, on the subject of Contraband of War adopted in 1908-9 by the London International Naval Conference; that of Mrs. William Reed, of Baltimore, being the private diary (2 volumes) kept by Hon. William B. Reed during his mission to China in 1857-1859; and that of Dr. Stuyvesant Fish Morris of the certificates of election as President and Vice-President of the United States, of Andrew Jackson and Martin Van Buren, in 1833, and the certificate of election, as President, of Martin Van Buren, in 1837.

The transfer of manuscripts heretofore in other government offices has given the Division several important accessions. The Department of State transferred all the Applications for Office during the administration of George Washington, and the journal and minutes of the Electoral Commission of 1877; the Treasury Department, the original vouchers and accounts of General Washington's expenses during the whole period of his command of the army during the Revolution; the Interior Department, the rich collection of historical documents filed in connection with the Revolutionary pension claims, and papers pertaining to the slave trade and negro colonization, 1862-1872; the Post-Office Department, certain miscellaneous papers, being drafts of letters, opinions of Assistant Attorneys-General and applications for office from 1825 to 1875.

The wisdom of these and similar transfers is apparent. Historical papers which are rarely or never used in a government department are apt to be forgotten, to be stored in inaccessible places or even lost. In the nature of things, their importance is estimated by present-day needs, and, although they may have great value from an historical standpoint, their uselessness in the transaction of the current business of the department causes them to suffer a want of care in their preservation. On the occasions when investigators desire to consult them, they are not readily accessible, and sometimes can not be found at all; and the search for them takes up the time of clerks which can ill be spared from current official work. The accommodations for the student are not well adapted for his purpose, and his presence in a busy office is an inconvenience. In the Library, on the other hand, provision is made especially for historical papers, they are readily accessible, they are in charge of those whose business it is to take proper care of them, and the arrangements for students leave nothing to be desired.

The more important purchases of the year include the letter and log books of Admiral Sir George Cockburn (1772-1853) in 54 volumes, covering the years 1788 to 1847, embracing a narrative of the proceedings of Lord Nelson's squadron in the cruise from Gibraltar and the Battle of the Nile, 1798-1804; Cockburn's mission from Spain to her American colonies in 1811; the orders and movements of the British squadron in American waters in 1814; and the voyage to St. Helena, whither he carried Napoleon in 1815.

The Bozman papers: John Leeds Bozman (1757-1823), Bozman papers historian of Maryland, lived near Easton, Md., on the Eastern Shore of Chesapeake Bay, where he conducted a large estate and pursued the life of an antiquarian and historian. He left his library and papers, upon his death, to his nephew, John Leeds Kerr, who was a Representative in Congress from December, 1825, to March, 1829, and from December, 1831, to March, 1833, and they were sold by descendants of the latter to the Library. They contain matter concerning the economic history of the Eastern Shore from the beginning of the eighteenth century, fragmentary data relating to John Pope and his estate, "Rome" (now Capitol Hill), and other valuable papers; but the most valuable items of the collection are the manuscript copies of the speeches delivered by two of the Maryland delegates, Luther Martin and James McHenry, in 1787, in the Maryland legislature, concerning the proceedings in the Constitutional Convention of 1787. The substance of Martin's speech was published by him; but up to this time McHenry's speech had been utterly lost.

The Jefferson and Hamilton collections have been added to by the purchase of additional letters; and an interesting contribution to the history of South Carolina federalism has been obtained in a number of letters from Hamilton, Timothy Pickering and John Quincy Adams to William Loughton Smith, a Representative from South Carolina in the First Congress.

Mss:
Calendars

The preparation of additional calendars of the manuscript collections has been continued, and has progressed as satisfactorily as could be expected, when the small force employed in the Division and the length of time which the preparation of a calendar always takes, are considered.

The calendar of the Andrew Johnson papers was half completed when the assistant who was preparing it resigned, and it will be continued as soon as his place has been filled.

The calendar of the Military Correspondence of George Washington during the Revolution, compiled by Mr. J. C. Fitzpatrick, will, it is confidently hoped, be ready for publication before the close of the next fiscal year. The magnitude of this work will be realized when it is stated that the last calendar prepared by the Division, that of the Correspondence of George Washington with the Continental Congress, comprised 741 printed pages, and that the calendar now being prepared will be twice as voluminous.

The State Department published, in 1901, a calendar of the Applications for Office during Washington's Administration, and transferred the remaining copies of the edition to the Library, with the papers.

Calendars of the Van Buren, Jackson, and John Fitch papers and of the Jefferson accessions are in progress.

The calendar of the New Mexico papers, which Miss Elizabeth H. West is preparing, now covers from the year 1621 to 1805, about 9,260 cards having been written.

British
transcripts

The transcripts of historical documents relating to American colonial affairs in the Public Record Office and British Museum, in London, and the Bodleian Library, at Oxford, continue to be received at intervals, and now aggregate about 67,500 folios of foolscap size. They are being catalogued in the Division, and the catalogue is partially completed.

The Journals of the Continental Congress

The editing of the Journals of the Continental Congress is a work peculiarly identified with my predecessor, Mr. Ford, the method of arrangement and annotation being the result of many years of study on his part. His system was so carefully worked out in all essential particulars that, in the continuation of the work, the only difference in the result will arise from such involuntary variation of judgment as may be an unavoidable consequence of the change of editors. The copy of Volumes XVI, XVII, and XVIII, covering the year 1780, will have gone to the press before this report has been sent to Congress.

DIVISION OF DOCUMENTS

(From the report of the Chief, Mr. Thompson)

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909, the accessions to the Library through the Division of Documents were as follows:

In addition to the above, 641 maps and charts and 35 atlases have been received by official donation.

While the total number of volumes and pamphlets handled by the Division of Documents during the year is slightly less than the corresponding total for the previous fiscal year, it may be noted that the accessions by transfer of documents from other government libraries are fewer than in the twelve months ended June 30, 1908, by about 10,000. As the latter material consists largely of publications already in the Library and the greater part is, in consequence, discarded as duplicate, comparison of the above statistics with those reported last year shows that the net increase of the collection is larger this year by over 20 per cent.

Foreign documents

The preparation of want lists of foreign documents was continued along the lines indicated in the report for 1907, until all countries on the international exchange list, with the exception of Hungary and Russia, were included in the compilation. Statements of wants thus prepared have been sent during the year to the following countries and municipalities: Alsace-Lorraine, Austria, Baden, Belgium, Bremen, Canada, Colombia, Cuba, Imperial German Government, Haiti, Hamburg, Grand Duchy of Hesse, Government of India, Bengal and Assam, Burma, Central Provinces of India, Coorg, Madras, Jamaica, Malta, Mexico, Norway, Nova Scotia, Panama, Paraguay, Portugal, Prince Edward Island, Prussia, Roumania, Saxony, Department of the Seine and City of Paris, Spain, Sweden, Tasmania, Transvaal, Uruguay, Venezuela, City of Vienna, Kingdom of Württemberg, and the London County Council. These lists have been forwarded to the appropriate offices mainly through the Smithsonian Institution. A few, however, have been sent direct to the distributing centers or through the Department of State.

In response to requests outstanding a year ago, and from some of those above mentioned also, special shipments of documents have been received as follows: Baden, 80 volumes and pamphlets; Belgium, 79; Bolivia, 24; Budapest, 66; Bulgaria, 126; Ceylon, 66; Chile, 126; Cuba, 36; Denmark, 549 volumes and pamphlets and 73 maps; Egypt, 311 volumes and pamphlets and 13 maps; Hesse, 101 volumes and pamphlets; Iceland, 33; India, 67; Japan, 473; Jamaica, 78; the London County Council, 32; Malta, 15; Netherlands, 71; Newfoundland, 62; Salvador, 95; Siam, 103; South Australia, 176; Spain, 42. Gifts from foreign governments also include the complete set (already mentioned) of the great encyclopedia, the Tu Shu Tsi Cheng, in 5,041 volumes, presented by the Chinese Government through its ambassador on special mission, His Excellency T'ang Shao-Yi, in December last. In May a further consignment of 291 volumes of Chinese books and 4 maps was received from the Shanghai Taotai in exchange for the United States documents forwarded to the Bureau of Foreign Affairs at Shanghai since the establishment of international exchange relations with China.

The Kingdom of Servia, which was one of the signatories to the Brussels International Exchange Convention of 1886, not having established a bureau of exchanges or otherwise complied with the terms of that convention, the Smithsonian Institution, in February, 1907, requested the Department of State to bring the matter to the attention of the Servian Government. A reply was received through the Department of State from the foreign office at Belgrade in January last to the effect that the different departments of Servia had been directed to send to this Government their official, scientific, and literary publications. Servia has accordingly been added to the list of countries receiving full sets of United States documents, and the first shipment of volumes accumulated since 1901 was made through the Bureau of International Exchanges immediately on the receipt of this communication.

exchanges*

Exchange relations with Alsace-Lorraine were established in April, 1909, on the basis of a partial set of United States documents.

State documents

The want lists of the journals and documents of the various state legislatures and of the reports of state officers, which were printed in galley form and sent out to other libraries, have been instrumental in adding to our collections, by inter-library exchange, much of the material that was wanting in the sets of these publications. It is proposed to reprint a revised want list for this class of documents in pamphlet form shortly.

Municipal documents

Special attention has been given during the year to the development of the collection of municipal documents, and the accessions under the heading "Gifts from local governments" are, in consequence, about four times as numerous as in the preceding report.

The sets of reports of chambers of commerce have also been brought up to date, about 300 volumes and pamphlets having been added to the collection of these publications.

During the year 9,279 volumes were sent to the bindery.

LAW LIBRARY

The more noteworthy accessions have been:

LAW LIBRARY:
Accessions

"Laws of Georgia, 1755-1770, printed by James Johnston, 1763-1770," all bound in one volume, of which only four copies are known to exist. This volume, extremely valuable from both a legal and an historical standpoint, completes the Library's collection of all the Georgia laws prior to 1775 that were printed.

"Louisiana Laws, 7th Leg., 1st Sess. 1864, Shreveport, 1864," a very rare Confederate session.

INDEX TO THE STATUTES AT LARGE

In the fall of 1908 there was distributed by the Government Printing Office Volume I of the Index to the Statutes at Large, authorized by the act of June 30, 1906. This volume covers the general and permanent law contained in the Revised Statutes of 1873 and in the Statutes at Large thereafter enacted down to 1907 (volumes 18-34), together with a table of express repeals and amendments, and a list giving the popular names of acts and resolutions.

The force is at present engaged in indexing the general and permanent law in the first seventeen volumes of the Statutes at Large, in accordance with the plan approved by the Judiciary Committees of both Houses of Congress under the act of March 4, 1909. The appropriation for this is in terms as follows:

“Index to the Statutes at Large: For continuing the preparation of an index to the Statutes at Large of the United States, ten thousand dollars, to be expended by the Librarian of Congress for the salaries of the persons whom he employs to prepare the index and for incidental expenses; the scope, classification, and style of the index to be such as the Judiciary Committees of the two Houses of Congress shall direct or approve.” (35 Stat. L., 858.)

CHARTS:

The increase in the number of accessions for the fiscal year 1907-8 was due to purchases made in Europe, in the summer of 1907, by the Chief of this Division.

The preceding tables do not include the total number of sheets in the Sanborn insurance collection. During the past year 912 maps in 9,510 sheets have been added. This entire collection now comprises 19,763 maps in 161,389 sheets.

There have been added to the British Ordnance Survey maps 1,339 sheets, making a total of 15,376 sheets, which also are not included in the above tables.

The efforts of the staff in this Division have during the past year been largely concentrated upon the work of seeing through the press the "List of Geographical Atlases" in the Library, the compilation of which has been in progress for many years past, and the publication of which has just taken place. The two volumes (aggregating 1,659 pages), though primarily a catalogue of our own collection, form a unique contribution to cartography, whose scientific value to investigators and whose economic value to institutions will, it is hoped, justify the great labor of preparation and the considerable cost of issue.

Music:
Gifts

The bulk of the gifts (guitar, etc., music, some of it of historical value) came from Mrs. Jane C. Hitz. Among the individual gifts should also be mentioned that by Mrs. Ethelbert Nevin of the autograph of her husband's "Rosary." Shortly before the close of the fiscal year the generous offer was made by the firm of J. Fischer & Bro. to present to the Library of Congress more than two hundred original manuscripts of noteworthy compositions owned by them. It is gratifying to see the repeated appeals to possessors of the original manuscripts of American composers gradually becoming effective and it is hoped that other firms will concur in Messrs. Fischer & Bro.'s view that the Library of Congress is the proper depository for such manuscripts.

Noteworthy ac-

The purchases during this fiscal year have been so numerous that it would be impossible to describe them properly in a few lines. For instance, we have practically completed our collection of modern orchestral scores; we acquired since publication of the catalogue of dramatic music in January, 1908, about 400 orchestral scores of operas, including more than forty transcripts of old works; our collection of books on music printed since 1800 is nearing completion; the collection of older books has been materially strengthened; and fortune favored us in acquiring a remarkable lot of early American music. Among single purchases may be mentioned, more or less at random: Ornitoparchus' Micrologus (1517), Bonaventura's Breviloquium (15—), Paduani's Institutiones (1578), Aaron's Compendiolo (1550?) and Trattato (1525), Ganassi dal Fontego's Fontegara (1535), Gaffurio's De harmonica (1518) and Apologia (1520), Spataro's Tractato (1531), Wollick's Opus aureum (1504), João IV.'s Difesa (16—), Robert Tailour's Sacred hymns (1615), Forbes's Cantus, songs and fancies (1682), Sternhold & Hopkins's Whole book of psalmes (1612), John Gamble's Ayres and dialogues (1656), Lawes's Treasury of musick (1669), Locke's Psyche (1675), Purcell's Amphitryon (1690), Dioclesian (1691) and King Arthur (James Bartleman's copy), Richardson's Collection of new songs (1701), Eccles's Collection of songs (ca. 1710), Fraser's Delightful Musical companion (ca. 1730), Lampe's Dragon of Wantley (1738), Balet comique de la Royne (1582), Caccini's Nuove musiche (1601), Vivaldi's L'estro Armonico, Veracini's Sonate, op. 1 (1721), Senaillié's Sonates à violon seul (1710-1721), Telemann's Quatuors pour flutes and Essercizii musici (ca. 1730), Marcello's oratorio Il pianto e il riso delle quattro stagioni dell'anno (Mss., 1731), Rinaldo da Capua's La Bohemienne (1753), Rossini's La cambiale di matrimonio (1810), Weigl's L'Imboscata (autograph score), Carvalho de Sousa's Everardo Secondo and Testoride Argonauta (autograph scores), Portogallo's Demofonte (1808 version in autograph), Bishop's Ninetta (1830, autograph score), Halévy and Bizet's Noé, Kistler's Kunihild (autograph score), Daniel Read's American singing book (1785), Billing's Psalm singer's amusement (1781), Democratic songster (Baltimore, 1794), National songster (Hagerstown, 1814), four Ephrata hymn books (ca. 1750) partly hand-illuminated.

Music:
Purchases

The most important purchase of the year was that of the famous Albert Schatz collection in Rostock of more than 12,000 (principally opera) librettos, of which about 500 belong to the seventeenth and more than 4,000 to the eighteenth century. The comprehensiveness of this collection is astonishing, the presence of such coveted treasures as the Dafne and Euridice librettos of 1600 appearing to be a matter of course. It is too soon to attempt an adequate description, though the use of the collection is made possible by an excellent catalogue compiled by Mr. Albert Schatz himself. It has not yet been decided whether the Library of Congress shall publish this catalogue, or one based thereon incorporating the several thousand (principally English and American) librettos already in the Library and happily supplementing (for instance, by the Longe collection of minor English dramatists) the Schatz collection. Having become the custodian of a collection of such acknowledged importance to musical historians, the Library of Congress necessarily desires to make the contents of the Schatz collection accessible to scholars as soon as possible and to take up Mr. Schatz's labors where age compelled him to rest after forty-two years of enthusiastic, patient, and expert collecting.

To permit for the first time a fairly comprehensive review of the Music Division's present resources and partly in honor of the convention of the Music Teachers' National Association at Washington in December, 1908, a collection of old and modern music and books on music was exhibited in the main Exhibition Halls of the Library of Congress. A brief description may be found in the Proceedings of the M. T. N. A., 1908, appended to an address by the Chief of the Music Division, to which address those seeking quasi-official information on the "methods, policies, and resources" of the Music Division are referred.

The Catalogue of Dramatic Music, 1908, has not as yet been followed by other catalogues of the Music Division's special collections. Instead, the Chief of the Division, acting on instructions received in December, 1907, compiled an elaborate "Report on the Star Spangled Banner, Hail Columbia, America, and Yankee Doodle," finished and printed in this fiscal year, but not published until the latter part of the calendar year 1909.

DIVISION OF PERIODICALS

(From the report of the Chief, Mr. Guittard)

The following comparative table, covering six fiscal years, shows the accessions of serials from various sources:

How acquired	1904	1905	1906	1907	1908	1909
Gifts and transfers.....	3, 128	3, 850	4, 471	5, 016	5, 647	6, 051

Total (titles, not volumes).....	7, 277	9, 216	10, 468	11, 646	12, 828	13, 597

During the past fiscal year there were sent to the bindery from the Periodical Division 7,393 volumes of periodicals and 3,514 volumes of newspapers, making a total of 10,907 volumes, or an average of 909 volumes per month.

Notable additions to our files of Richmond and Charleston war papers were made by purchase. While in no case have we absolutely complete files of these papers, most of them were so nearly completed as to justify binding them in permanent form. They are bound in a style similar to that used for our eighteenth century papers, each issue being mounted on a guard and the volume so arranged that missing numbers can be inserted without difficulty whenever secured. Another important accession was by the transfer from the War Department of a large number of papers published in Porto Rico and the Philippines during and shortly after the Spanish-American war. These files were strong where ours were weak, in the first few years of American occupation. The combination of the two secures to us a collection of extreme interest and value. One item worthy of special mention is an almost complete file of El Heraldo de la Revolucion, the organ of the Aguinaldo government at Malolos.

A Check list of eighteenth century newspapers is nearly ready to print.

DIVISION OF PRINTS

(From the report of the Chief, Mr. Parsons)

The increase of the collection of prints has been: By copyright, 13,736; by purchase, 6,438; by transfer, 1,968; by gift, 1,326; by exchange, 1; total, 23,469. The collection of prints now numbers 305,084.

PRINTS:
Gifts

Among the gifts of the year were the following:

From Mrs. H. Carrington Bolton, Washington, D. C.: 381 engraved portraits; 805 portraits of scientists in extra-illustrated edition of Poggenorf's
"Biographisch-literarisches Handwörterbuch."

From the Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C.: Paintings in their collection. 17 photographs.

From the Massachusetts Historical Society, Boston,
Mass.:

26 book-plates.

From Mr. F. D. Millet, Washington, D. C.:

7 bronze army service and merit medals.

- From Mr. J. B. Millet, Boston, Mass. :
Collection of 163 engravings.
- From Mrs. David Murray, New Brunswick, N. J. : 268 original drawings by Japanese artists.
- From Mr. A. J. Parsons, Washington, D. C. : 65 lithographs.
- From Miss J. Scudder, New York City :
10 photographs of her sculptural works.
- From Mr. James D. Smillie, New York City :
13 original engravings.
- From Mr. G. W. V. Smith, Springfield, Mass. :
160 photographs of his art collection.
- From the Society of Iconophiles, New York City :
12 photogravures. (Picturesque New York.)
- From the University Art Shop, Evanston, Ill. :
12 lithographs of architectural subjects by Jules Guérin.
- From Mr. Henry Winslow, New York City :
18 original etchings, and 9 original etchings of C. H. White, New York City.

Especial mention and acknowledgment must be made of another gift of signal interest and value, though received since the close of the last fiscal year. It is that by the Italian Government of a set of the copper-plate engravings forming the Regia Calcografia of Italy. As listed in the published catalogue of the Calcografia this comprises nearly 2,500 items. Of these all but 746 have already (October 15) been received. The gift was made "in acknowledgment of the generous action of the American Congress and Nation in behalf of the sufferers from the earthquake."

A similar generosity on the part of France and of Germany had already endowed the Library with sets of the prints issued by the Government Calcographies of those countries, and the Library is now, therefore, rich in the possession of three superb collections which are so important to the student of art.

Hubbard bequest

The will of Mrs. Gardiner Greene Hubbard, of Washington, D. C., whose death by a lamentable accident occurred on October 20, 1909, contained the following bequest:

“For the purpose of adding to the Gardiner Greene Hubbard Collection of engravings heretofore given by me to the United States of America and now in the Library of Congress, I give and bequeath to the trustee hereinafter named, the American Security and Trust Company, its successors and assigns, the sum of twenty thousand dollars, to be set apart out of my real estate, stocks, bonds, or other securities, and to be invested and held by it upon the following trust, viz: To pay over during each year the net income therefrom to the Librarian of Congress, said income so paid over as above to be used exclusively for the purpose of engravings and etchings to be added to said ‘Gardiner Greene Hubbard Collection.’

“If any lawful or binding arrangement or contract can be made whereby the United States of America will be bound to pay interest on said investment at an annual rate of not less than four per cent, to be perpetually used for additions to said collection, I then further direct that my said trustee, the American Security and Trust Company, shall thereupon turn over and deliver the entire principal of said fund to the Treasurer of the United States upon that condition and for that purpose.”

The Gardiner Greene Hubbard Collection, already a rich one, will thus gain further enrichment by continuing additions.

PRINTS:
Purchases

The most important purchases of the year have been:

(a) Collection of 4,200 photographs of paintings in collections at Dusseldorf, Frankfort, Brugge, and Madrid; of subjects in Egyptian, English, and Swiss architecture, and of sculpture in the British Museum.

(b) Facsimile reproductions (25) of the works of the old and modern masters published by the Medici Society of London.

(c) Facsimile reproductions (85) of the works of the old masters published by Fischer and Franke of Berlin.

The following exhibitions were put in place during the year: PRINTS:
Exhibitions

(a) Commemorating the centennial anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln (Feb. 12, 1909), 169 prints, 86 books, 16 manuscripts, 118 medals, 25 broadsides, and 22 copies of sheet music.

(b) One hundred and twenty-one Japanese prints from the Crosby S. Noyes and the Library collections illustrating the costumes of women as shown in the works of Japanese artists of the seventeenth, eighteenth, and nineteenth centuries.

(c) History of Painting and Architecture (264 photographs).

The Lincoln Centennial exhibit was of great interest to the public. It comprised material drawn from several divisions of the Library, so that a representative collection was presented illustrating the life and characteristics of Lincoln.

The portraits, including those of his family, numbered about 130, made up of photographs taken at different periods of his life from 1848 to 1865, and of reproductions of portraits painted by Carpenter, Healy, Hunt, Huntington, Marshall, and Volk.

The 118 medals and campaign badges (1860 and 1864) afforded an interesting study in the portraiture of Lincoln.

Lincoln in caricature was shown by cartoons published in this country (1861-1865) and by foreign periodicals such as "Punch," "Fun," and also "Vanity Fair" (published in New York), for the same period.

The other subjects presented were "Some of his reading" (53 volumes); "Speeches" (11); "Works recommended by Lincoln for the study of law" (8); "Favorite songs" (4).

Of special interest among the manuscripts exhibited was his copy of the celebrated Gettysburg address, through the courtesy of Prof. Wm. J. A. Bliss, of Baltimore, and of the papers and drawings covering his patent granted for buoying vessels, from the United States Patent Office.

The remaining portion of the exhibition was made up of—

- (a) Some of the musical compositions relating to Lincoln, published during the Civil war;
- (b) Broad­sides, campaign silk badges and literature.

BINDING

The number of books bound during the year was 41,965 as against 34,275 for the year preceding. The output of the Library bindery alone amounted to 27,355 pieces. The total includes 3,611 volumes of newspapers.

Difficulty in securing materials requisite for special work can be met only by a change in the law which will exempt the Library in such cases from the limitations imposed on government binding in general.

CATALOGUING

(From the report of the Chief, Mr. Hanson)

The total number of volumes catalogued amounted to 121,640. In addition, 960 parts of volumes were added on the serial record and shelf lists and 6,280 volumes were, after careful search and comparison, rejected as duplicates and turned over to the Order and Documents divisions.

The losses sustained by this division through resignations and transfers, and the increasing difficulty of the work on catalogues and classification as the collections grow larger, no doubt account in a measure for the fact that only 121,640 volumes were catalogued as against 123,828 during the preceding year. The increase in the number of volumes classified (162,475 in 1908-9 as against 145,889 in 1907-8) has also had something to do with the decrease in the number of volumes catalogued, certain new assistants having been assigned to classification and shelf listing rather than to cataloguing.

As for losses through resignations and transfers, they have been so heavy during the past five or six years, and the problem of securing new assistants with proper qualifications and training at the salaries now available has become increasingly so difficult that this may now be considered as one of the most serious questions with which we shall have to deal during the remainder of the work upon the arrears. The many resignations and the difficulty of securing expert help may be in part accounted for by a greater demand for trained librarians and assistants in other institutions and a resulting general improvement in salaries, which the Library of Congress has been unable to meet; in part also by the great difficulty of the work on which this division is now engaged, viz, reclassification and recataloguing, in addition to handling annual accessions which have at times exceeded 100,000 volumes a year.

Cataloguing

The only remedies that might be suggested for a condition of affairs which must needs interfere with the progress and efficiency of the work are:

1. To increase the salaries for assistants engaged on highly technical work, so as to enable the Library to compete with other institutions in bidding for the service of persons of proper capacity and training.

2. To vary the duties of those engaged on cataloguing and classification, so as to give them at times less exacting work and particularly an occasional opportunity to come into direct contact with the public through reference work.

It is, however, difficult to see how the latter remedy can be applied to any considerable extent until the present reorganization of the collections has been in the main completed.

While the constant change of personnel referred to no doubt causes great loss of time and retards progress, the fact that so many of the assistants are called to other libraries is not without its compensating feature. This fact should in course of time prove of material assistance in furthering the cooperative work which tends to center about the Library of Congress. Intimate knowledge of the methods and equipment of the Central Library on the part of librarians and assistants of other institutions will no doubt prove of mutual advantage in carrying on the various cooperative activities.

Cards filed

There were 725,329 cards filed in the various catalogues of the Division, exclusive of the general Union catalogue and the Catalogue of Early Americana, for which no record has been kept. The record of cards filed during 1907-8 was 704,907.

Recataloguing

The following classes were completed during the year: American and British family histories (CS); Seals (CJ); Family, Marriage, Woman (HQ); Associations, Secret societies, Clubs, etc. (HS); Social Pathology, Philanthropy, Charities and Corrections (HV); Socialism, Communism, Anarchism (HX); Political Science. General works (JA); Theory of the State (JC); Civil government, American other than United States (JL); Fine Arts. General (N), except folios and books in Prints Division; Manufactures (TS); Trades (TT); Domestic science (TX).

General periodicals (AP) completed to letter O; Philosophy (B); Heraldry (CR); Genealogy, except American and British families (completed) (CS); Constitutional government, General and Comparative (JF); Civil government, United States (JK); Civil government, Europe (JN); Colonies and colonization, Emigration (JV); Fine Arts (N).

Recatalogued in part and under way

As indicated in the report of last year, the completion of the Rules for author and title entry seemed likely to open the way for the printing, at least in tentative form, of our list of subject headings. What has tended to hasten the decision to print has been the unsatisfactory state of the present interleaved lists which, besides breaking down in a number of places, required an undue amount of time and labor for insertion of new headings. The preparation of copy was begun in January and it was decided:

*Catalogue
rules and guides*

(1) To print a tentative list of the headings as they now stand, exclusive of names of persons and places, societies, institutions, and bodies of various kinds, treaties, conventions, and the like, scientific names of individual chemical substances, and systematic names of genera, species, and subspecies in Botany and Zoology.

(2) To print at more or less regular intervals cumulative <sup>a</sup> lists of additions and changes supplementing the main list.

The plan of subjects now being adopted is to some extent tentative. The present list can not, therefore, be accepted as in any sense final. Changes in many of the headings represented are bound to occur during the progress of recatalogu-ing. In many instances a more minute system of subdivisions than that now provided will be called for. Particularly in Philosophy, Religion, Philology, and Literature, the main classes still to be recatalogued, the majority of subjects are yet to be definitely decided upon.

<sup>a</sup> For various reasons the printing of the supplementary lists has preceded the issue of the main list. Three numbers have been issued covering additions and changes from December, 1908, to date.

There are various reasons, therefore, in favor of restricting the use of this "Advance edition" to the Library of Congress. Nevertheless, owing to the great increase in the use of the printed cards, and the constant demand for information in regard to the plan of subjects in part represented on our entries, it seems advisable that libraries which subscribe to the cards should have access to some guide, no matter how imperfect, to the subject headings now being developed by the Library of Congress. It is therefore recommended that any library which is a regular subscriber to the printed cards may have a copy of the Advance list, free of charge, on application to the Publication Section, Library of Congress. In addition a number of copies should be placed with the Superintendent of Documents, from whom they might be purchased at a price to be determined upon.

The preparation of copy has been completed for the letters A-D, letters E and F being in preparation. Owing to pressure of other work, the Branch Printing Office has been unable so far to print more than a few galleys of the letter A.

The following supplementary rules have been printed on cards:

As in previous years, the Catalogue Division has been called upon to furnish copy for catalogues of special collections. The first and most important were titles of books on music printed prior to 1800, to be utilized in a new revision of Eitner's Biographisch-bibliographisches Quellen-lexikon der Musiker und Musikgelehrten der christlichen Zeitrechnung. Leipzig, 1900-1904. Two of the assistants have given a great deal of time to these entries, the compilation, revision, and proofreading being entrusted almost entirely to them.

In response to a request from the National Library at Lisbon, a sample catalogue of books in the Library of Congress on the Peninsular war and related subjects was prepared. It was intended to form a part of a Biblio-iconographic exhibition contemplated by the National Library of Portugal in connection with the celebration of the centenary of the Peninsular war. Owing to the fact that the subject catalogue of the Library of Congress has not as yet been completed, it was impossible in the limited time at our disposal to present more than a selection of the titles bearing on this topic.

The card catalogue of early Americana has also been continued according to the plan outlined in previous reports.

Some modifications have been made in the items added to the catalogue entry as follows: (a) wherever the information has been supplied by the publisher, the price of the book is now added in a note; (b) in addition to the copyright number and year of entry, which have been regularly added to the catalogue cards since May, 1907, the Copyright Office now supplies information in regard to name of copyright proprietor and actual date of entry, all of which is printed in a note near the bottom of the card.

CLASSIFICATION

(From the report of the Chief Classifier, Mr. Martel)

The number of volumes classified was 150,410 <sup>a</sup> (1907-8, 145,889; 1906-7, 144,948); reclassified, 71,751 (including 3,510 transfers; 1907-8, 76,273, transfers 8,824); new accessions, 78,659 <sup>b</sup> (1907-8, 69,616); shelf listed, 132,690, <sup>b</sup> of which 64,449 were new accessions (1907-8, shelf listed 119,119, new accessions 51,302).

The reclassified portion of the Library now contains in round numbers 846,000 volumes as follows: Class A (Polygraphy), 53,000; B-BJ (Philosophy), 9,000; C-D (History), 90,000; E-F (America), 65,000; G (Geography), 16,000; H-J (Social sciences), 184,000; L (Education), 38,000; ML-MT (Music, literature, and theory), 14,000; <sup>b</sup> N (Fine arts), 17,000; PZ (Fiction), 38,000; Q (Science), 111,000; R (Medicine), 34,000; S (Agriculture), 32,000; T (Technology), 61,000; U (Military science), 13,000; V (Naval science), 11,000; Z (Bibliography), 56,000; Congressional reference library, Incunabula, etc., 4,000.

Arrears

Class B (in part), Religions, Theology, 50,000; class P, Language and literature, 70,000; Various remainders, 50,000; Law, 130,000.

This is exclusive of (1) copyright and other duplicates reserved for future incorporation in the classified collection; (2) duplicates in the exchange collection; (3) special collections: Orientalia, Hungarica, etc.; (4) Yudin collection and other Slavica; (5) Booksellers' catalogues and similar unbound material; (6) Newspapers.

<sup>a</sup> This number does not include the Schatz collection of librettos, 12,065, shelf-listed in the Music Division, which if counted would bring the total to 162,475.

The reclassification during the past year covered the following subjects: Class B, Philosophy, 8,000; C, Genealogy, Heraldry, Numismatics, 6,000; H-J, Social and political science, 36,000; N, Fine arts, 9,000; and various remainders of other classes, 10,000. A few volumes were reclassified in class P, Language.

An increasing number of requests for the L. C. classification schedules are received from other libraries. The stock of the printed schedules (E-F, Q and Z) is exhausted. Schedules of class Z, Bibliography, have been prepared for reissue with many additions and a few modifications, and are now in the hands of the printer; copy for a reissue of schedules Q, Science, also is ready. The additions to class E-F, America, however, are very extensive and the transfer of material from other old classes to American history is not yet completed, making it desirable to defer a reissue until the schedules shall cover all the subjects eventually to be included. A set of typewritten schemes of the other classes is in almost constant circulation among other libraries; a few of these libraries have gone to relatively heavy expense in copying them, and the correspondence and other matters connected with sending out the schedules involves a not inconsiderable expenditure of time on our part. It may become possible during the current year to devote some time to the preparation of one or more of them for the printer, without retarding progress in reclassifying the arrears.

DISTRIBUTION OF PRINTED CATALOGUE CARDS

(From the report of the Chief of the Card Section, Mr. Hastings)

During the year the number of subscribers has increased from 1,128 to 1,220.

The cash sale of cards, including subscriptions to the proof sheets, amounted to $24,450.23, an increase of about 10 per cent over the sales for 1907-8. Sale of cards

The sale of cards to the libraries of the departments of the United States Government, paid for by transfer of credits, amounted to $722.25.

The total of the deposits received in payment for catalogue cards was $24,222.74. The refunds made during the year amounted to $36.37.

Cards for about 43,000 different titles were added to the stock during the year. The whole number of different titles now represented in the stock is approximately 390,000, including about 19,000 "Unrevised" cards not represented in the depository sets.

Depositories

The library of the University of Iowa has been added to the list of depositories for a complete set of the L. C. cards, but the cards have not been selected because that library was not ready to receive them.

The depository set located at the Carnegie Library of Atlanta has been transferred to the Library of Syracuse University.

As the six libraries which are "proof sheet depositories," i. e., have a complete record of the printed cards in stock at the Library of Congress, either in the form of cards or entries clipped from the proof sheets, are for all practical purposes depositories, they are included (with asterisk prefixed) in the complete list below, which comprises in all 43 libraries:

Partial depository sets have been assigned during the year to four libraries in the departments of the United States Government, viz:

BUREAU OF LABOR:

Dictionary-catalogue depository. Cards on the social sciences (excluding finance), labor legislation and public hygiene.

HYDROGRAPHIC OFFICE:

Cards for works on nautical astronomy, nautical surveying, navigation and related topics.

NATIONAL MONETARY COMMISSION:

Cards on finance and commerce.

UNITED STATES WEATHER BUREAU:

Cards relating to meteorology and climatology.

Revised editions of Bulletins 14 and 15, which deal with cards for publications of the United States Department of Agriculture and the United States Geological Survey and a pamphlet on "L. C. Printed Cards; how to order and use them," have been issued. The latter seems fairly to meet the demand for a popular statement.

There has been an increasing demand for cards for United States documents, especially for cards for the publications of the Department of Agriculture, the United States Geological Survey, and the United States Bureau of Education; and substantial progress has been made in printing cards for the back files of the publications of these offices as well as for books in their libraries. The majority of the series of publications issued by the Department of Agriculture are now covered by cards in stock, and for the remainder it is planned to have cards in stock by the end of 1909. The entire publications of the present United States Geological Survey (except maps), of the earlier United States surveys, of the state surveys, and of the national surveys of Canada, Norway, and Sweden are represented by cards in stock. The state surveys of Australia are for the most part represented. All of the publications of the United States Bureau of Education, except the annual reports of the Commissioner previous to 1907, are now covered by cards in stock.

Substantial assistance in the matter of supplying cards for current children's books and current noncopyrighted books of a popular character has been obtained from the cards printed from copy supplied by the Washington Public Library. The cards for current military publications printed for the Library of the Military Information Division of the War Department also enable us to meet a demand for cards which could not otherwise be supplied.

Titles of books within the field of the cooperating libraries for which cards are ordered and found not to be in stock are regularly referred to the library interested with a query as to the prospect of the book being obtained and catalogued by that library. In many cases the book is reported already received or ordered. The recording, filing, and checking processes necessitated by this cooperative work are proving to be less difficult than appeared at first.

It seems not too much to say that this cooperative work with other United States libraries in Washington has been an unqualified success. This success is due in a large measure to the fact that the librarians of these libraries have cooperated actively and generously.

Owing to the fact that no depository sets were supplied during the year and that less work than usual was needed on the stock and traveling catalogues, considerable spare time was available for work not closely connected with the regular work of the Card Section. The Third Official Catalogue has been kept up to date throughout the year by assistants in the Card Section and about one-third of the work of preparing and arranging the accumulation of cards for the "Union Catalogue" has been completed.

This Union Catalogue when completed will contain entries from the libraries named below:

BOSTON PUBLIC LIBRARY:

Nearly a complete set of all the cards thus far printed by the Boston Public Library, also a few entries in manuscript and a few in the form of mounted entries clipped from lists of accessions.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY LIBRARY:

Nearly a complete set of the cards printed since 1894; entries clipped and mounted on cards for the "more important" accessions to the library as listed in the Harvard University Bulletins between 1875 and 1894.

JOHN CRERAR LIBRARY:

Complete set of the cards thus far printed by the John Crerar Library; also a copy of each Library of Congress card used by the John Crerar Library with the shelf marks of the latter library added.

THE NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY:

Practically complete set of all the cards printed or "Schapirc-graphed" by this library since 1901.

LIBRARY OF THE UNITED STATES BUREAU OF EDUCATION:

Cards printed by Library of Congress from copy prepared by the Library of the Bureau of Education, comprising (1) cards for accessions to the Library of the Bureau of Education since January, 1908, excluding books also in Library of Congress; (2) analytical cards for many of the publications of the Bureau of Education.

LIBRARY OF THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE:

All cards printed by Library of Congress from copy prepared by the Library of the Department of Agriculture, covering (1) accessions to the Library of the Department of Agriculture since 1902, excluding such books as are also in the Library of Congress; (2) analytical cards for most of the publications of the Department of Agriculture.

LIBRARY OF THE UNITED STATES GEOLOGICAL SURVEY:

All cards printed by Library of Congress from copy prepared by the Library of the Survey, representing (1) accessions to the Library of the Survey since 1904, excluding books also in Library of Congress; (2) publications of the present and previous United States surveys, the state surveys, the national surveys of Canada, Norway, and Sweden, and most of the publications of the state surveys of Australia.

LIBRARY OF THE MILITARY INFORMATION DIVISION (U. S. WAR DEPARTMENT):

Cards printed by Library of Congress from copy prepared by the Library of the Military Information Division for accessions since 1907, excluding books also in Library of Congress.

WASHINGTON PUBLIC LIBRARY:

Cards for accessions since 1906, excluding books also in Library of Congress.

To prepare the cards for this Union Catalogue, it was necessary to mount the 32° size Harvard cards on 33° size cards, trim the Boston Public cards to 33° size (first copying back and above letters which would be unavoidably clipped off), mount entries clipped from the Harvard Bulletin, and stamp all cards with the name of the library from which the entry was received. The mounting of the cards and slips was done so satisfactorily by the Library bindery that curling was almost entirely avoided.

All the entries received from the libraries named above are being filed for the present regardless of duplication, as variations in form of entry are of interest to the Catalogue Division. The percentage of duplication is found to be surprisingly small. Less than 7 per cent of the titles are in two of the libraries, while only a fraction of 1 per cent are in three or more libraries. This small percentage of duplication is probably accounted for by the following: (1) These nine libraries are to a large extent specializing along different lines; (2) the accumulation represents the accessions of these libraries for periods which correspond in part only; (3) some of them during the period covered have been building up collections, while others have been merely keeping up and strengthening their collections. About 20 per cent of the titles in the Union Catalogue are duplicated by printed cards in the catalogues of the Library of Congress.

The catalogue when completed will contain about 600,000 entries. Taken with the present accumulation of between 600,000 and 700,000 entries in the public catalogues of the Library of Congress, it will constitute the closest approximation now available to a complete record of books in American libraries.

The report of the Card Section is, as usual, given in full because the work which it describes is one of direct economic concern to other institutions, whose efficiency as a whole depends upon the efficiency of its details. It is also a work whose character can readily be explained and whose volume can be expressed in statistics.

In this it differs from that large service of the Library which is intensive rather than extensive. The possibility of setting forth this latter within the compass of such a report as this seems to diminish as it increases in volume, in variety, and in importance.

The knowledge of it is, however, spreading rapidly among our own students and investigators, who evidence it by their increasing use of the facilities offered, and notably abroad in those countries given to the study of library administration, and active in the establishment or improvement of libraries. The building is, as a matter of course, visited and inspected by commissions charged with the construction of reference library buildings abroad, upon important recent examples of which its plans and equipment have had obvious influence. And no comprehensive treatise upon the larger aspects of the service of a research library with a duty to the general public now omits a reference to the operations of this one. In a recent such treatise by M. Eugène Morel, "Bibliothèques," Paris, 1909, it is characterized as a "Department" (Ministère) with four main functions:

"Nous signalons seulement ces points sur lesquels nous aurons tant à revenir. Ils suffisent à nous faire concevoir leur Bibliothèque nationale non comme un musée, ou une bibliothèque de quartier, ou une bibliothèque spéciale historique, conceptions diverses que les journalistes et historiens se font de la nôtre, mais comme un ministère, où sous une direction unique sont groupés tous les services concernant la propriété artistique et littéraire, les bibliothèques, les livres, l'établissement enfin et la diffusion d'une bibliographie générale."

OF THE LIBRARY BUILDING

OF
THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE LIBRARY
BUILDING AND GROUNDS

---

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
Washington, D. C., December 6, 1909

SIR: I have the honor to submit my annual report on the custody, care, and maintenance of the Library Building and Grounds for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909.

This duty includes all work pertaining to the upkeep of the condition of the building and grounds, the maintenance and operation of all apparatus and machinery, all heavy manual labor of handling and moving, mechanical supplies, furniture, warming, ventilation, sanitation, repairs, policing and guarding the building and its extensive and valuable contents. It includes also the planning, devising, and execution of all modifications, readaptations and new construction of furniture and mechanical equipment to keep pace with the constantly advancing collections of library material and the new problems of care, preservation, economical arrangement, and accessibility constantly arising. The duty further includes the disbursement of the various appropriations for the numerous classes of purchase and employment for the Library proper, as well as those for the maintenance, operation, and custody of the building as indicated in the tables and statements below.

Naturally a large part of the labor and operations of the fiscal year were of a routine character, similar in quality and kind, though increased in quantity, to those of the previous years. The details are indicated in the tables of expenditures below, while Appendix Ib of the Librarian's report, in connection with which this is printed as usual, sets forth the classes of personal service throughout the Library and shows that all service of the more strictly mechanical and physical order is rendered by the Superintendent's department. The main object throughout is to so aid and supplement physically the administration of the Library as to simplify and facilitate the economical accomplishment of all its operations and undertakings.

The duties are therefore of an unusually diversified, delicate, and responsible order. They have steadily grown in number since the reorganization of the Library and its occupation of the new building twelve years ago.

Owing to the greatly increased extent of material, furniture, and equipment to be cared for, it has become well-nigh impossible to maintain throughout the building the degree of cleanliness and good condition requisite for the preservation and handling of the collections, and it is evident that a material increase in the force of employees and apparatus for cleaning will be found indispensable next year. During the past year the usual good showing has been made to the public eye and a fair condition maintained in the clerical working spaces, but not generally in such places as the book stacks and storerooms and the cases they contain.

DEATH OF CHIEF CLERK

Since the close of the fiscal year (on September 8, 1909) this office, and the whole Library as well, sustained a well-nigh irreparable loss by the death of the late chief clerk of the disbursing office, George Norris French.

It is a duty to the government service as well as to the memory of the individual that the rare value of the work and influence of this faithful servant should here be noticed.

The Government has at all times many faithful and valuable servants; but seldom one possessing the full measure of ideal characteristics of this man.

He died in the house in North Sandwich, N. H., where he was born in June, 1841. In 1862 he enlisted in the Civil war, and at its close entered the service of the Treasury in the Second Auditor's office, transferring a few years later to the loan division of the Treasurer's office, where he remained until he became chief clerk of this office on October 1, 1902. His government service was thus continuous for forty-seven years. Through it all he was ever progressive, watchful, thoughtful, and singularly efficient, so that when he came to the Library he brought a wealth of experience, knowledge of accounting, and financial method of the greatest value to the institution. This was especially felt in assistance at devising accurate and effective systems of accounting for the several peculiar purposes of the Library with the necessary checks to insure valuable record and responsibility.

One of his strongest though less conspicuous faculties was mechanical invention, through an industrious exercise of which he was ever effecting economies within the field of his labors and observations. At the time of his death he had nearly perfected a most ingenious machine for economically assorting catalogue cards.

His most conspicuous and appreciated characteristics in the Library, as elsewhere in life, were his faithfulness and efficiency in every duty however small, his sweet, helpful, modest, and considerate disposition toward all with whom he came in contact, and his constantly indefatigable and assiduous performance of duty.

Few men pass away at threescore and ten leaving a more general sense of loss than did Doctor French.

FURNITURE, INCLUDING PARTITIONS, SCREENS, SHELVING, AND ELECTRICAL WORK PERTAINING THERETO

The appropriation for these purposes was $40,000. Under a ruling of the Treasury an existing specific appropriation like this must alone bear all expenses pertaining to the class. No furniture therefore may be repaired or recruited from the appropriation for fuel, lights, repairs, and miscellaneous supplies. This makes the former appropriation somewhat larger and the latter smaller than it would otherwise be.

The expenditures for the year were as follows:

Steel map and atlas cases and framework .....	$13, 454. 00
Steel card tray cases and framework (Card Section) .....	13, 051. 00
Adjustable stop blocks for steel card trays .....	1, 346. 30

Steel shelves for books.....	240. 00
Freight, expressage, and drayage.....	10. 51
Total.....	39, 915. 31

The two larger of the above items—the storage cases for cards and the map and chart cases—form in each class two-tier stacks in steel, dust-tight, and of original design, conveniently accessible and fireproof.

The whole outfit of steel map cases contains 2,752 drawers that are 41 inches long, 24 inches deep, and  $3\frac{1}{8}$  inches high, and that of the storage card cases contains 36,096 catalogue card trays  $19\frac{1}{4}$  inches long.

NEW STACK IN SOUTHEAST COURT

Properly to be classified as furniture, but, owing to its special magnitude and location, made the subject of independent consideration and appropriation by Congress, the new stack of shelving in the southeast court, mentioned in the last annual report, is approaching completion. Its purpose is the shelving of bound newspapers and books, and its construction and equipment are similar, though more complete and effective mechanically in this later day, to the original book stacks of the building. Since the end of the fiscal year the roof and the greater part of the interior structure have been finished. Full completion of the stack is expected by January next. Unanticipated delay of a few months has resulted from the unusual difficulty of working in a dark court with very restricted access from the exterior of the building.

The cross section and typical plan of this stack which appeared in the last annual report are repeated herewith.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9, 1909

SIR: The copyright business and the work of the Copyright Office for the fiscal year from July 1, 1908, to June 30, 1909, inclusive, are summarized as follows:

A Fees, etc. balance of $1,876.63, representing trust funds and unfinished business, was on hand July 1, 1908, making a total of $88,962.16 to be accounted for. Of this amount the sum of $2,715.46, received by the Copyright Office, was refunded as excess fees or as fees for articles not registrable, and $154.50 was applied for subscriptions to the Catalogue of Copyright Entries, leaving a net balance of $86,092.20. The balance carried over to July 1, 1909, was $2,275.45 (representing trust funds, $2,193.79, and total unfinished business since July 1, 1897—twelve years—$81.66), leaving for fees applied during the fiscal year 1908-9, $83,816.75.

EXPENDITURES

The appropriation made by Congress for salaries in the Salaries Copyright Office for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909, was $77,800. The total expenditure for salaries was $77,586.52, or $6,230.23 less than the net amount of fees earned and paid into the Treasury during the corresponding year. The expenditure for supplies, except furniture, including stationery and other articles, and postage on foreign mail matter, etc., was $1,067.18.

The copyright fees received and paid into the United Copyright fees States Treasury during the last twelve years, from July 1, 1897, to June 30, 1909, amount to $858,422.75, while the sum used of the appropriations for salaries during that period was $729,468.07, leaving an excess of fees over appropriations used for service for the twelve years of $128,954.68.

*Copyright

In addition to the actual money fees received during these same twelve years, the articles deposited amount to the grand total of 2,153,919 pieces. An itemized statement of these articles is given in Exhibit G. During the fiscal year 1,146 separate works were deposited under the act of March 3, 1905, to secure an ad interim term of protection of one year in the case of books printed abroad in foreign languages.

The index now numbers a total of over 1,720,000 cards.

Index cards

The publication of the Catalogue of Copyright Entries as required by law has been continued. Since January, 1909, Part I of the Catalogue has been issued in two sections, Group 1 containing mainly the titles of books for which printed catalogue cards are issued by the Library of Congress, and Group 2 containing titles of pamphlets, leaflets, contributions to newspapers or periodicals, etc., including also local directories and annuals.

Copyright catalogue, new series

The numbers printed for each of the four parts of the Catalogue are so prepared that they may be bound at the end of the year into separate volumes, which are separately indexed according to subject-matter. Subscriptions are taken by the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, for the year 1909 for each part, as follows: Part I, Books, pamphlets, dramatic compositions, and maps and charts, $1.50; Part II, Periodicals, 75 cents; Part III, Musical compositions, $1.50; Part IV, Engravings, cuts and prints, chromos and lithographs, photographs, and the descriptions of original works of art—paintings, drawings, and sculpture—75 cents. House Committee's bill.<sup>a</sup> This bill was reported by Mr. Currier from the House Committee on Patents on February 22, and bill and report were ordered to be printed.<sup>b</sup> On the same day Mr. Smoot, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Patents, introduced the same bill in the Senate, where it was read twice and referred to the Committee on Patents.<sup>c</sup> This bill was reported by Mr. Smoot without amendment, on March 1, and the report was ordered printed. The Senate report itself is very brief, reading as follows: "The Committee on Patents, to whom was referred the bill (S. 9440) to amend and consolidate the acts respecting copyright, having carefully considered the same, beg to report it back with the recommendation that it do pass." The House report was adopted, however, as part of the Senate report and reprinted with it.<sup>d</sup>

On Tuesday, March 2, 1909, Mr. Currier, under a motion to suspend the rules, submitted certain committee amendments<sup>e</sup> to the bill, which were read and printed in full in the Congressional Record. On Wednesday, March 3, Mr. Currier moved again to suspend the rules, agree to the committee amendments, and to pass the bill. After some discussion, participated in by Mr. Currier, Mr. Sulzer, Mr. Washburn, Mr. Chaney, Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin, Mr. Wilson of Pennsylvania, Mr. Olmsted, Mr. Driscoll, and others, the bill was agreed to and passed, to go into effect on July 1, 1909. Later on the same day Mr. Smoot, in the Senate, proposed to substitute the House bill (No. 28192) as amended and passed for the Senate bill (No. 9440), and this, after some little discussion including support of the bill by Senator Kittredge, was agreed to and the bill was passed.

The bill as enacted was printed in the usual large type, folio form, for signing by the President, who affixed his signature on the morning of Thursday, March 4. It was then printed in the usual manner as an act (Public—No. 349).<sup>a</sup> An edition (of 3,000 copies) with marginal notes and full index was promptly printed by the Copyright Office. A second impression of 3,000 copies was issued on April 7, 1909, and a third impression of the same number on June 25. This last has as an appendix the Rules for Practice and Procedure under section 25, promulgated by the Supreme Court on June 1.<sup>b</sup> (For full text, see Addenda, No. 1.)

In addition to the consolidated copyright bill Mr. John H. Stephens, of Texas, on December 7, 1908, in the second session of the Sixtieth Congress, introduced a bill, which was referred to the Committee on Patents and ordered to be printed.<sup>c</sup> This bill, in revised text, was reintroduced in the first session of the Sixty-first Congress on March 15, 1909, again referred to the Committee on Patents, and ordered to be printed (H. R. bill 78). It was a third time presented by Mr. Stephens on March 29, 1909, referred to the Committee on Patents, and ordered to be printed (H. R. bill 5882). It differs materially from the other bills, and provides as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That (a) before any letters patent shall be issued by the United States on any article, commodity, compound, device, mechanical appliance, or

No further action by Congress has been taken in relation to either of these bills.

II. International copyright relations

The Berne Convention creating the International Copyright Union for the protection of works of literature and art was signed on September 9, 1886, and went into force on December 5, 1887. The Additional Agreement formulated at the first conference of revision, which met in Paris, was signed on May 4, 1896, and went into effect on December 9, 1897. This modified articles 2, 3, 5, 7, 12, and 20 of the convention, and Nos. 1 and 4 of the "Protocole de Clôture." A declaration interpreting certain provisions of the Berne Convention of 1886 and the Additional Agreement of Paris of 1896 was also signed on May 4, 1896, to go into effect on September 9, 1897.

<sup>a</sup> 1909 (March 29).—A bill requiring any citizen of a foreign country who may apply for a copyright registration or for letters patent from the United States for an invention to pay to the United States for such copyright or patent the same amount of fees and be subject to the same laws, rules, and regulations relating to the registration of copyrights and the issuance of letters patent, and relating to the issuance and maintenance of copyrights and letters patent, as the government of such foreign country exacts by its laws and regulations from citizens of the United States in such cases. Presented by Mr. Stephens. H. R. bill 5882 Printed, 4 pp. 4°. [Referred to the Committee on Patents.]

A second conference of revision was held in Berlin from October 14 to November 14, 1908, and a new text to take the place of the three documents cited above was formulated by the representatives of the following fifteen countries: Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Liberia, Luxembourg, Monaco, Norway, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and Tunis.

Representatives from the following nonunion countries were also present at the conference: Argentina, Chile, China, Colombia, Ecuador, Greece, Guatemala, Mexico, the Netherlands (Holland), Nicaragua, Peru, Persia, Portugal, Rumania, Russia, Siam, the United States, Uruguay, and Venezuela.

Designated by the Secretary of State as Delegate from the United States, I attended the Berlin Conference instructed to "observe and report," with no authority to take part in the discussions beyond making an explanatory statement relative to my attendance. Mr. Arthur Orr, Third Secretary of the United States Embassy at Berlin, was also present at the sittings of the conference.

The convention was signed on November 13 and the conference closed on November 14. Article 28 of the convention provides that it shall be ratified, and the ratifications exchanged at Berlin, not later than the 1st of July, 1910. To give prompt publicity to the proposed treaty the official text was, by resolution of the conference, published in the organ of the International Copyright Bureau at Berne, "Le Droit d'Auteur," for November 15. This French text of the treaty is reprinted here, together with an English translation from the text as published in "Le Droit d'Auteur." The new convention can not go into effect until ratified by the various countries of the Copyright Union, and it will not wholly supersede the previous Conventions of Berne (1886) and Paris (1896). These texts, therefore, are also printed in an English translation. (See Addenda, Nos. 1 and 2.)

THE PROTECTION OF LITERARY AND ARTISTIC WORKS,
SIGNED AT BERLIN, NOVEMBER 13, 1908

[English Text]

ARTICLE 1

ARTICLE 1

Les Pays contractants sont constitués à l'état d'Union pour la protection des droits des auteurs sur leurs œuvres littéraires et artistiques.

The contracting countries are constituted into a Union for the protection of the rights of authors in their literary and artistic works. Union to protect literary and artistic works

ARTICLE 2

L'expression "œuvres littéraires et artistiques" comprend toute production du domaine littéraire, scientifique ou artistique, quel qu'en soit le mode ou la forme de reproduction, telle que: les livres, brochures, et autres écrits; les œuvres dramatiques ou dramatico-musicales, les œuvres chorégraphiques et les pantomimes, dont la mise en scène est fixée par écrit ou autrement; les compositions musicales avec ou sans paroles; les œuvres de dessin, de peinture, d'architecture, de sculpture, de gravure et de lithographie; les illustrations, les cartes géographiques; les plans, croquis et ouvrages plastiques, relatifs à la géographie, à la topographie, à l'architecture ou aux sciences.

The expression "literary and artistic works" includes all productions in the literary, scientific or artistic domain, whatever the mode or form of reproduction, such as: books, pamphlets and other writings; dramatic or dramatico-musical works; choregraphic works and pantomimes, the stage directions ("mise en scène") of which are fixed in writing or otherwise; musical compositions with or without words; drawings, paintings; works of architecture and sculpture; engravings and lithographs; illustrations; geographical charts; plans, sketches and plastic works relating to geography, topography, architecture, or the sciences. Definition of "literary and artistic works"

Sont protégés comme des ouvrages originaux, sans préjudice des droits de l'auteur de l'œuvre originale, les traductions, adaptations, arrangements de musique et autres reproductions transformées

Translations, adaptations, arrangements of music and other reproductions transformed from a literary or artistic work, as well as compilations from different works, are protected as original works Translations, arrangements, and adaptations protected d'une œuvre littéraire ou artistique, ainsi que les recueils de différentes œuvres.

Les Pays contractants sont tenus d'assurer la protection des œuvres mentionnées ci-dessus.

Works of art applied to industry

Les œuvres d'art appliqué à l'industrie sont protégées autant que permet de le faire la législation intérieure de chaque pays.

without prejudice to the rights of the author of the original work.

The contracting countries are pledged to secure protection in the case of the works mentioned above.

Works of art applied to industry are protected so far as the domestic legislation of each country allows.

ARTICLE 3

Photographic works to be protected

La présente Convention s'applique aux œuvres photographiques et aux œuvres obtenues par un procédé analogue à la photographie. Les Pays contractants sont tenus d'en assurer la protection.

ARTICLE 3

The present Convention applies to photographic works and to works obtained by any process analogous to photography. The contracting countries are pledged to guarantee protection to such works.

ARTICLE 4

Authors to enjoy in countries of the Union the rights granted to natives

Les auteurs ressortissant à l'un des pays de l'Union jouissent, dans les pays autres que le pays d'origine de l'œuvre, pour leurs œuvres, soit non publiées, soit publiées pour la première fois dans un pays de l'Union, des droits que les lois respectives accordent actuellement ou accorderont par la suite aux nationaux, ainsi que des droits spécialement accordés par la présente Convention.

ARTICLE 4

Authors within the jurisdiction of one of the countries of the Union enjoy for their works, whether unpublished or published for the first time in one of the countries of the Union, such rights, in the countries other than the country of origin of the work, as the respective laws now accord or shall hereafter accord to natives, as well as the rights specially accorded by the present Convention.

No formalities required

La jouissance et l'exercice de ces droits ne sont subordonnés à aucune formalité; cette jouissance et cet exercice sont indépendants de l'existence de la protection dans le pays d'origine de l'œuvre. Par suite, en dehors des stipulations de la présente Convention, l'étendue de la protection ainsi que les moyens de recours garantis à l'auteur pour sauvegarder ses droits se règlent exclusivement d'après la législation du pays où la protection est réclamée.

The enjoyment and the exercise of such rights are not subject to any formality; such enjoyment and such exercise are independent of the existence of protection in the country of origin of the work. Consequently, apart from the stipulations of the present Convention, the extent of the protection, as well as the means of redress guaranteed to the author to safeguard his rights, are regulated exclusively according to the legislation of the country where the protection is claimed.

Est considéré comme pays d'origine de l'œuvre: pour les œuvres non publiées, celui auquel appartient l'auteur; pour les œuvres publiées, celui de la première publication, et pour les œuvres publiées simultanément dans plusieurs pays de l'Union, celui d'entre eux dont la législation accorde la durée de protection la plus courte. Pour les œuvres publiées simultanément dans un pays étranger à l'Union et dans un pays de l'Union, c'est ce dernier pays qui est exclusivement considéré comme pays d'origine.

Par œuvres publiées, il faut, dans le sens de la présente Convention, entendre les œuvres éditées. La représentation d'une œuvre dramatique ou dramatico-musicale, l'exécution d'une œuvre musicale, l'exposition d'une œuvre d'art et la construction d'une œuvre d'architecture ne constituent pas une publication.

ARTICLE 5

Les ressortissants de l'un des pays de l'Union, qui publient pour la première fois leurs œuvres dans un autre pays de l'Union, ont, dans ce dernier pays, les mêmes droits que les auteurs nationaux.

ARTICLE 6

Les auteurs ne ressortissant pas à l'un des pays de l'Union, qui publient pour la première fois leurs œuvres dans l'un de ces pays, jouissent, dans ce pays, des mêmes droits que les auteurs nationaux, et dans les autres pays de l'Union, des droits accordés par la présente Convention.

The following is considered as the country of origin of the work: for unpublished works, the country to which the author belongs; for published works, the country of first publication, and for works published simultaneously in several countries of the Union, the country among them whose legislation grants the shortest term of protection. For works published simultaneously in a country outside of the Union and in a country within the Union, it is the latter country which is exclusively considered as the country of origin.

By published works ("œuvres publiées") must be understood, according to the present Convention, works which have been issued ("œuvres éditées"). The representation of a dramatic or dramatico-musical work, the performance of a musical work, the exhibition of a work of art and the construction of a work of architecture do not constitute publication.

ARTICLE 5

Authors within the jurisdiction of one of the countries of the Union who publish their works for the first time in another country of the Union, have in this latter country the same rights as national authors.

ARTICLE 6

Authors not within the jurisdiction of any one of the countries of the Union, who publish for the first time their works in one of these countries, enjoy in that country the same rights as national authors, and in the other countries of the Union the rights accorded by the present Convention.

If not adopted; Laws of country to govern term

Toutefois, dans le cas où cette durée ne serait pas uniformément adoptée par tous les pays de l'Union, la durée sera réglée par la loi du pays où la protection sera réclamée et elle ne pourra excéder la durée fixée dans le pays d'origine de l'œuvre. Les Pays contractants ne seront, en conséquence, tenus d'appliquer la disposition de l'alinéa précédent que dans la mesure où elle se concilie avec leur droit interne.

Term for photographic, posthumous, anonymous or pseudonymous works

Pour les œuvres photographiques et les œuvres obtenues par un procédé analogue à la photographie, pour les œuvres posthumes, pour les œuvres anonymes ou pseudonymes, la durée de la protection est réglée par la loi du pays où la protection est réclamée, sans que cette durée puisse excéder la durée fixée dans le pays d'origine de l'œuvre.

ARTICLE 8

Exclusive right of translation for entire term

Les auteurs d'œuvres non publiées, ressortissant à l'un des pays de l'Union, et les auteurs d'œuvres publiées pour la première fois dans un de ces pays jouissent, dans les autres pays de l'Union, pendant toute la durée du droit sur l'œuvre originale, du droit exclusif de faire ou d'autoriser la traduction de leurs œuvres.

ARTICLE 7

The term of protection granted by the present Convention comprises the life of the author and fifty years after his death.

In case this term, however, should not be adopted uniformly by all the countries of the Union, the duration of the protection shall be regulated by the law of the country where protection is claimed, and can not exceed the term granted in the country of origin of the work. The contracting countries will consequently be required to apply the provision of the preceding paragraph only to the extent to which it agrees with their domestic law.

For photographic works and works obtained by a process analogous to photography, for posthumous works, for anonymous or pseudonymous works, the term of protection is regulated by the law of the country where protection is claimed, but this term may not exceed the term fixed in the country of origin of the work.

A l'exclusion des romans-feuilletons et des nouvelles, tout article de journal peut être reproduit par un autre journal, si la reproduction n'en est pas expressément interdite. Toutefois, la source doit être indiquée; la sanction de cette obligation est déterminée par la législation du pays où la protection est réclamée.

With the exception of serial stories and of novels ("romans-feuilletons et des nouvelles") any newspaper article may be reproduced by another newspaper if reproduction has not been expressly forbidden. The source, however, must be indicated. The confirmation of this obligation shall be determined by the legislation of the country where protection is claimed.

La protection de la présente Convention ne s'applique pas aux nouvelles du jour ou aux faits divers qui ont le caractère de simples informations de presse.

The protection of the present Convention does not apply to news of the day or to miscellaneous news having the character merely of press information.

ARTICLE 12

Adaptations, etc., considered as infringements

Sont spécialement comprises parmi les reproductions illicites auxquelles s'applique la présente Convention, les appropriations indirectes non autorisées d'un ouvrage littéraire ou artistique, telles que adaptations, arrangements de musique, transformations d'un roman, d'une nouvelle ou d'une poésie en pièce de théâtre et réciproquement, etc., lorsqu'elles ne sont que la reproduction de cet ouvrage, dans la même forme ou sous une autre forme, avec des changements, additions ou retranchements, non essentiels, et sans présenter le caractère d'une nouvelle œuvre originale.

Among the unlawful reproductions to which the present Convention applies are specially included indirect, unauthorized appropriations of a literary or artistic work, such as adaptations, arrangements of music, transformations of a romance or novel or of a poem into a theatrical piece and vice versa, etc., when they are only the reproduction of such work in the same form or in another form with non-essential changes, additions or abridgments and without presenting the character of a new, original work.

ARTICLE 13

Les auteurs d'œuvres musicales ont le droit exclusif d'autoriser: 1° l'adaptation de ces œuvres à des instruments servant à les reproduire mécaniquement; 2° l'exécution publique des mêmes œuvres au moyen de ces instruments.

Authors of musical works have the exclusive right to authorize: (1) the adaptation of these works to instruments serving to reproduce them mechanically; (2) the public performance of the same works by means of these instruments.

ARTICLE 13

Each country to regulate for itself the manner in which Convention shall apply

Des réserves et conditions relatives à l'application de cet article pourront être déterminées par la législation intérieure de chaque pays, en ce qui le concerne; mais toutes réserves et conditions de cette nature n'auront qu'un effet strictement limité au pays qui les aurait établies.

The limitations and conditions relative to the application of this article shall be determined by the domestic legislation of each country in its own case; but all limitations and conditions of this nature shall have an effect strictly limited to the country which shall have adopted them.

La disposition de l'alinéa 1<sup>er</sup> n'a pas d'effet rétroactif et, par suite, n'est pas applicable, dans un pays de l'Union, aux œuvres qui, dans ce pays, auront été adaptées licitement aux instruments mécaniques avant la mise en vigueur de la présente Convention.

Les adaptations faites en vertu des alinéas 2 et 3 du présent article et importées, sans autorisation des parties intéressées, dans un pays où elles ne seraient pas licites, pourront y être saisies.

ARTICLE 14

Les auteurs d'œuvres littéraires, scientifiques ou artistiques ont le droit exclusif d'autoriser la reproduction et la représentation publique de leurs œuvres par la cinématographie.

Sont protégées comme œuvres littéraires ou artistiques les productions cinématographiques lorsque, par les dispositifs de la mise en scène ou les combinaisons des incidents représentés, l'auteur aura donné à l'œuvre un caractère personnel et original.

Sans préjudice des droits de l'auteur de l'œuvre originale, la reproduction par la cinématographie d'une œuvre littéraire, scientifique ou artistique est protégée comme une œuvre originale.

Les dispositions qui précèdent s'appliquent à la reproduction ou production obtenue par tout autre procédé analogue à la cinématographie.

ARTICLE 15

Pour que les auteurs des ouvrages protégés par la présente Convention soient, jusqu'à preuve contraire, considérés comme tels

The provisions of paragraph 1 have no retroactive effect, and therefore are not applicable in a country of the Union to works which, in that country, shall have been lawfully adapted to mechanical instruments before the going into force of the present Convention.

The adaptations made by virtue of paragraphs 2 and 3 of this article and imported without the authorization of the parties interested into a country where they are not lawful, may be seized there.

ARTICLE 14

Authors of literary, scientific or artistic works have the exclusive right to authorize the reproduction and the public representation of their works by means of the cinematograph.

Cinematographic productions are protected as literary or artistic works when by the arrangement of the stage effects or by the combination of incidents represented, the author shall have given to the work a personal and original character.

Without prejudice to the rights of the author in the original work, the reproduction by the cinematograph of a literary, scientific or artistic work is protected as an original work.

The preceding provisions apply to the reproduction or production obtained by any other process analogous to that of the cinematograph.

ARTICLE 15

In order that the authors of the works protected by the present Convention may be considered as such, until proof to the contrary,

All infringing works may be seized by the competent authorities of the countries of the Union where the original work has a right to legal protection.

Dans ces pays, la saisie peut aussi s'appliquer aux reproductions provenant d'un pays où l'œuvre n'est pas protégée ou a cessé de l'être.

ARTICLE 17

ARTICLE 17

Each Government to exercise supervision as to circulation, representation or exhibition of works Les dispositions de la présente Convention ne peuvent porter préjudice, en quoi que ce soit, au droit qui appartient au Gouvernement de chacun des pays de l'Union de permettre, de surveiller, d'interdire, par des mesures de législation ou de police intérieure, la circulation, la représentation, l'exposition de tout ouvrage ou production à l'égard desquels l'autorité compétente aurait à exercer ce droit.

The provisions of the present Convention may not prejudice in any way the right which belongs to the Government of each of the countries of the Union to permit, to supervise, or to forbid, by means of legislation or of domestic police, the circulation, the representation or the exhibition of every work or production in regard to which competent authority may have to exercise this right.

ARTICLE 18

La présente Convention s'applique à toutes les œuvres qui, au moment de son entrée en vigueur, ne sont pas encore tombées dans le domaine public de leur pays d'origine par l'expiration de la durée de la protection.

Cependant, si une œuvre, par l'expiration de la durée de protection qui lui était antérieurement reconnue, est tombée dans le domaine public du pays où la protection est réclamée, cette œuvre n'y sera pas protégée à nouveau.

L'application de ce principe aura lieu suivant les stipulations contenues dans les conventions spéciales existantes ou à conclure à cet effet entre pays de l'Union. A défaut de semblables stipulations, les pays respectifs régleront, chacun pour ce qui le concerne, les modalités relatives à cette application.

Les dispositions qui précèdent s'appliquent également en cas de nouvelles accessions à l'Union et dans le cas où la durée de la protection serait étendue par application de l'article 7.

ARTICLE 19

Les dispositions de la présente Convention n'empêchent pas de revendiquer l'application de dispositions plus larges qui seraient édictées par la législation d'un pays de l'Union en faveur des étrangers en général.

ARTICLE 20

Les Gouvernements des pays de l'Union se réservent le droit de prendre entre eux des arrangements particuliers, en tant que ces arrangements conférerait aux

ARTICLE 18

The present Convention applies to all works which, at the time it goes into effect, have not fallen into the public domain of their country of origin because of the expiration of the term of protection.

But if a work by reason of the expiration of the term of protection which was previously secured for it has fallen into the public domain of the country where protection is claimed, such work will not be protected anew.

This principle will be applied in accordance with the stipulations to that effect contained in the special Conventions either existing or to be concluded between countries of the Union, and in default of such stipulations, its application will be regulated by each country in its own case.

The preceding provisions apply equally in the case of new accessions to the Union and where the term of protection would be extended by the application of Article 7.

ARTICLE 19

The provisions of the present Convention do not prevent a claim for the application of more favorable provisions which may be enacted by the legislation of a country of the Union in favor of foreigners in general.

Duties of International Bureau

Le Bureau international centralise les renseignements de toute nature relatifs à la protection des droits des auteurs sur leurs œuvres littéraires et artistiques. Il les coordonne et les publie. Il procède aux études d'utilité commune intéressant l'Union et rédige, à l'aide des documents qui sont mis à sa disposition par les diverses Administrations, une feuille périodique, en langue française, sur les questions concernant l'objet de l'Union. Les Gouvernements des pays de l'Union se réservent d'autoriser, d'un commun accord, le Bureau à publier une édition dans une ou plusieurs autres langues, pour le cas où l'expérience en aurait démontré le besoin.

The International Bureau brings together, arranges and publishes information of every kind relating to the protection of the rights of authors in their literary and artistic works. It studies questions of mutual utility interesting to the Union, and edits, with the aid of documents placed at its disposal by the various administrations, a periodical in the French language, treating questions concerning the purpose of the Union. The governments of the countries of the Union reserve the right to authorize the Bureau by common accord to publish an edition in one or more other languages, in case experience demonstrates the need.

Le Bureau international doit se tenir en tout temps à la disposition des membres de l'Union pour leur fournir, sur les questions relatives à la protection des œuvres littéraires et artistiques, les renseignements spéciaux dont ils pourraient avoir besoin.

Le Directeur du Bureau international fait sur sa gestion un rapport annuel qui est communiqué à tous les membres de l'Union.

ARTICLE 23

Les dépenses du Bureau de l'Union internationale sont supportées en commun par les Pays contractants. Jusqu'à nouvelle décision, elles ne pourront pas dépasser la somme de soixante mille francs par année. Cette somme pourra être augmentée au besoin par simple décision d'une des Conférences prévues à l'article 24.

Pour déterminer la part contributive de chacun des pays dans cette somme totale des frais, les Pays contractants et ceux qui adhéreront ultérieurement à l'Union sont divisés en six classes contribuant chacune dans la proportion d'un certain nombre d'unités, savoir:

1 <sup>re</sup> classe .....	25 unités
2 <sup>me</sup> classe .....	20 unités
3 <sup>me</sup> classe .....	15 unités
4 <sup>me</sup> classe .....	10 unités
5 <sup>me</sup> classe .....	5 unités
6 <sup>me</sup> classe .....	3 unités

Ces coefficients sont multipliés par le nombre des pays de chaque classe, et la somme des produits ainsi obtenus fournit le nombre d'unités par lequel la dépense totale doit être divisée. Le quotient donne le montant de l'unité de dépense.

The International Bureau must hold itself at all times at the disposal of members of the Union to furnish them, in relation to questions concerning the protection of literary and artistic works, the special information of which they have need.

Will furnish information as to copyright

The Director of the International Bureau makes an annual report on his administration, which is communicated to all the members of the Union.

Annual report of Director of International Bureau

ARTICLE 23

The expenses of the Bureau of the International Union are shared in common by the contracting countries. Until a new decision, they may not exceed sixty thousand francs per year. This sum may be increased when needful by the simple decision of one of the Conferences provided for in Article 24.

Expenses of the International Bureau to be shared by contracting states

To determine the part of this sum total of expenses to be paid by each of the countries, the contracting countries and those which later adhere to the Union are divided into six classes each contributing in proportion to a certain number of units, to wit:

Method of sharing expenses

1st class .....	25 units

To take place successively in the countries of the Union

Les questions de cette nature, ainsi que celles qui intéressant à d'autres points de vue le développement de l'Union, sont traitées dans des Conférences qui auront lieu successivement dans les pays de l'Union entre les délégués desdits pays. L'Administration du pays où doit siéger une Conférence prépare, avec le concours du Bureau international, les travaux de celle-ci. Le Directeur du Bureau assiste aux séances des Conférences et prend part aux discussions sans voix délibérative.

Changes require unanimous consent

Aucun changement à la présente Convention n'est valable pour l'Union que moyennant l'assentiment unanime des pays qui la composent.

ARTICLE 25

Les États étrangers à l'Union et qui assurent la protection légale des droits faisant l'objet de la présente Convention, peuvent y accéder sur leur demande.

ARTICLE 24

The present Convention may be subjected to revision with a view to the introduction of amendments calculated to perfect the system of the Union.

Questions of this nature, as well as those which from other points of view pertain to the development of the Union, are considered in the Conferences which will take place successively in the countries of the Union between the delegates of the said countries. The administration of the country where a Conference is to be held will, with the cooperation of the International Bureau, prepare the business of the same. The Director of the Bureau will attend the meetings of the Conferences and take part in the discussions without a deliberative voice.

No change in the present Convention is valid for the Union except on condition of the unanimous consent of the countries which compose it.

ARTICLE 25

The States outside of the Union which assure legal protection of the rights which are the object of the present Convention, may accede to it upon their request.

Cette accession sera notifiée par écrit au Gouvernement de la Confédération suisse, et par celui-ci à tous les autres.

Elle emportera, de plein droit, adhésion à toutes les clauses et admission à tous les avantages stipulés dans la présente Convention. Toutefois, elle pourra contenir l'indication des dispositions de la Convention du 9 septembre 1886 ou de l'Acte additionnel du 4 mai 1896 qu'ils jugeraient nécessaire de substituer, provisoirement au moins, aux dispositions correspondantes de la présente Convention.

ARTICLE 26

Ils peuvent, à cet effet, soit faire une déclaration générale par laquelle toutes leurs colonies ou possessions sont comprises dans l'accession, soit nommer expressément celles qui y sont comprises, soit se borner à indiquer celles qui en sont exclues.

Cette déclaration sera notifiée par écrit au Gouvernement de la Confédération Suisse, et par celui-ci à tous les autres.

ARTICLE 27

La présente Convention remplacera, dans les rapports entre les États contractants, la Convention de Berne du 9 septembre 1886, y compris l'Article additionnel et le Protocole de clôture du même jour, ainsi que l'Acte additionnel et la Déclaration interprétative du 4 mai 1896. Les actes conventionnels précités resteront en vigueur dans les rapports avec les États qui ne ratifieraient pas la présente Convention.

This accession shall be made known in writing to the Government of the Swiss Confederation and by the latter to all the others.

To be made known by Switzerland

Such accession shall imply full adherence to all the clauses and admission to all the advantages stipulated in the present Convention. It may, however, indicate such provisions of the Convention of September 9, 1886, or of the Additional Act of May 4, 1896, as it may be judged necessary to substitute provisionally, at least, for the corresponding provisions of the present Convention.

May substitute provisions of previous conventions

Accession for colonies or foreign possessions

They may, for that purpose, either make a general declaration by which all their colonies or possessions are included in the accession, or name expressly those which are included therein, or confine themselves to indicating those which are excluded from it.

This declaration shall be made known in writing to the Government of the Swiss Confederation, and by the latter to all the others.

ARTICLE 27

The present Convention shall replace, in the relations between the contracting States, the Convention of Berne of September 9, 1886, including the Additional Article and the Final Protocol of the same day, as well as the Additional Act and the Interpretative Declaration of May 4, 1896. Union to protect literary and artistic works

ARTICLE II

For works published in incomplete parts ("livraisons") the period of ten years commences from the date of publication of the last part of the original work.

For works composed of several volumes published at intervals, as well as for bulletins or collections ("cahiers") published by literary or scientific societies, or by private persons, each volume, bulletin, or collection is, with regard to the period of ten years, considered a separate work.

In the cases provided for by the present article, and for the calculation of the period of protection, the 31st of December of the year in which the work was published is admitted as the date of publication.

Public performance of musical works

ARTICLE X

Unauthorized indirect appropriations of a literary or artistic work of various kinds, such as adaptations, arrangements of music, etc., are specially included amongst the illicit reproductions to which the present Convention applies, when they are only the reproduction of a particular work, in the same form, or in another form, with non-essential alterations, or abridgements, so made as not to confer the character of a new original work.

Adaptations, etc., considered as infringement

It is agreed that, in the application of the present article, the tribunals of the various countries of the Union will, if there is occasion, conform themselves to the provisions of their respective laws.

Courts of the various countries to conform to their own laws

ARTICLE XI

In order that the authors of works protected by the present Convention shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be considered as such, and be consequently admitted to institute proceedings against pirates before the courts of the various countries of the Union, it will be sufficient that their name be indicated on the work in the accustomed manner.

Author's name to be indicated on work

"The seizure will take place conformably to the domestic legislation of each country."

ARTICLE XIII

Such accession shall be notified in writing to the Government of the Swiss Confederation, who will communicate it to all the other countries of the Union.

Such accession shall imply full adherence to all the clauses and admission to all the advantages provided by the present Convention.

ARTICLE XIX

Accession for colonies or foreign possessions

Countries acceding to the present Convention shall also have the right to accede thereto at any time for their colonies or foreign possessions..

They may do this either by a general declaration comprehending all their colonies or possessions within the accession, or by specially naming those comprised therein, or by simply indicating those which are excluded.

By the terms of paragraph 2 of Article II of the Convention, the protection granted by the aforementioned Acts depends solely on the accomplishment in the country of origin of the work of the conditions and formalities that may be prescribed by the legislation of that country. The same rule applies to the protection of the photographic works mentioned in No. 1 b), of the modified "Protocole de Clôture."

2. By published works must be understood works actually issued to the public in one of the countries of the Union. Consequently, the representation of a dramatic or dramatico-musical work, the performance of a musical work, the exhibition of a work of art, do not constitute publication in the sense of the aforementioned Acts.

3. The transformation of a novel into a play, or of a play into a novel, comes under the stipulations of Article X.

The countries of the Union which are not parties to the present Declaration shall be allowed to accede thereto at any time on their request to that effect. The same rule shall apply to countries which may accede either to the Convention of the 9th September, 1886, or to this Convention or to the Additional Act of the 4th May, 1896. It will be sufficient for this purpose if a notification be addressed in writing to the Swiss Federal Council, who will, in turn, notify this accession to the other Governments.

The present Declaration shall have the same force and duration as the Acts to which it refers.

It shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Paris, in the form adopted for those Acts, as soon as possible, and within a year at the latest.

RULES ADOPTED BY THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE UNDER SECTION 25 OF AN ACT TO AMEND AND CONSOLIDATE THE ACTS RESPECTING COPYRIGHT, APPROVED MARCH 4, 1909. TO GO INTO EFFECT JULY 1, 1909

I

The existing rules of equity practice, so far as they may be applicable, shall be enforced in proceedings instituted under section twenty-five (25) of the act of March fourth, nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act to amend and consolidate the acts respecting copyright."

A copy of the alleged infringement of copyright, if actually made, and a copy of the work alleged to be infringed, should accompany the petition, or its absence be explained; except in cases of alleged infringement by the public performance of dramatic and dramatico-musical compositions, the delivery of lectures, sermons, addresses, and so forth, the infringement of copyright upon sculptures and other similar works and in any case where it is not feasible.

Upon the institution of any action, suit, or proceeding, or at any time thereafter, and before the entry of final judgment or decree therein, the plaintiff or complainant, or his authorized agent or attorney, may file with the clerk of any court given jurisdiction under section 34 of the act of March 4, 1909, an affidavit stating upon the best of his knowledge, information, and belief, the number and location, as near as may be, of the alleged infringing copies, records, plates, molds, matrices, etc., or other means for making the copies alleged to infringe the copyright, and the value of the same, and with such affidavit shall file with the clerk a bond executed by at least two sureties and approved by the court or a commissioner thereof.

Such bond shall bind the sureties in a specified sum, to be fixed by the court, but not less than twice the reasonable value of such infringing copies, plates, records, molds, matrices, or other means for making such infringing copies, and be conditioned for the prompt prosecution of the action, suit or proceeding; for the return of said articles to the defendant, if they or any of them are adjudged not to be infringements, or if the action abates, or is discontinued before they are returned to the defendant; and for the payment to the defendant of any damages which the court may award to him against the plaintiff or complainant. Upon the filing of said affidavit and bond, and the approval of said bond, the clerk shall issue a writ directed to the marshal of the district where the said infringing copies, plates, records, molds, matrices, etc., or other means of making such infringing copies shall be stated in said affidavit to be located, and generally to any marshal of the United States, directing the said marshal to forthwith seize and hold the same subject to the order of the court issuing said writ, or of the court of the district in which the seizure shall be made.

The marshal shall thereupon seize said articles or any smaller or larger part thereof he may then or thereafter find, using such force as may be reasonably necessary in the premises, and serve on the defendant a copy of the affidavit, writ, and bond by delivering the same to him personally, if he can be found within the district, or if he can not be found, to his agent, if any, or to the person from whose possession the articles are taken, or if the owner, agent, or such person can not be found within the district by leaving said copy at the usual place of abode of such owner or agent, with a person of suitable age and discretion, or at the place where said articles are found, and shall make immediate return of such seizure, or attempted seizure, to the court. He shall also attach to said articles a tag or label stating the fact of such seizure and warning all persons from in any manner interfering therewith.

A marshal who has seized alleged infringing articles, shall retain them in his possession, keeping them in a secure place, subject to the order of the court.

Within three days after the articles are seized, and a copy of the affidavit, writ and bond are served as hereinbefore provided, the defendant shall serve upon the clerk a notice that he excepts to the amount of the penalty of the bond, or to the sureties of the plaintiff or complainant, or both, otherwise he shall be deemed to have waived all objection to the amount of the penalty of the bond and the sufficiency of the sureties thereon. If the court sustain the exceptions it may order a new bond to be executed by the plaintiff or complainant, or in default thereof within a time to be named by the court, the property to be returned to the defendant.

Within ten days after service of such notice, the attorney of the plaintiff or complainant shall serve upon the defendant or his attorney a notice of the justification of the sureties, and said sureties shall justify before the court or a judge thereof at the time therein stated.

The defendant, if he does not except to the amount of the penalty of the bond or the sufficiency of the sureties of the plaintiff or complainant, may make application to the court for the return to him of the articles seized, upon filing an affidavit stating all material facts and circumstances tending to show that the articles seized are not infringing copies, records, plates, molds, matrices, or means for making the copies alleged to infringe the copyright.

Thereupon the court in its discretion, and after such hearing as it may direct, may order such return upon the filing by the defendant of a bond executed by at least two sureties, binding them in a specified sum to be fixed in the discretion of the court, and conditioned for the delivery of said specified articles to abide the order of the court. The plaintiff or complainant may require such sureties to justify within ten days of the filing of such bond.

11

Upon the granting of such application and the justification of the sureties on the bond, the marshal shall immediately deliver the articles seized to the defendant.

12

Any service required to be performed by any marshal may be performed by any deputy of such marshal.

13

For services in cases arising under this section, the marshal shall be entitled to the same fees as are allowed for similar services in other cases.
