PREFACE.

THIS book has been written with two main purposes. In the first place, it is meant to be a complete guide to a particular set of manuscripts, those in the Fitzwilliam Museum: in the second place, it is meant to serve as a manual for those who wish to make a study of illuminated manuscripts in general. In order to help such students, I have added to this Preface a series of very elementary hints on the description and collation of manuscripts: and to these hints I venture to direct their attention. At present, I have to say something about the history of the Fitzwilliam collection, and the principle on which this Catalogue has been written.

In the year 1816 Richard Fitzwilliam, Viscount Fitzwilliam, bequeathed to the University the whole of his artistic collections and the sum of one hundred thousand pounds to be applied in housing, arranging, and adding to them. Of this gift, which rivals any ever bestowed upon either University, a number of illuminated manuscripts forms part; and it is one object of the present volume to furnish students with a full description of them, and of the additions which have been made to our Founder's original bequest in this department.

Lord Fitzwilliam seems to have formed the whole of his collection of manuscripts between the years 1789 and 1815. One volume (no. 34) had descended to him by inheritance, and he has inscribed in it the date (1768) of its coming into his possession. The rest of his manuscripts he either bought or received as presents. In no case has he recorded the occasion of a purchase, though notes of the price paid remain here and there. We are, however, able to trace his growing interest in the enlargement of his collection by means of the dates of acquisition, which he has written in every volume¹.

Thus, in 1789 he bought four MSS.: then comes a period of inactivity, from 1790 to 1806, during which only seven volumes are added. In 1807, however, he acquired eight; in 1808, eighteen; in 1809, five; in 1810, twenty-one; in 1811, eleven; in 1812, twenty-three; only four in 1813; twenty-two in 1814; and six in 1815. Clearly then, during the years 1808 to 1815 illuminated manuscripts were especially attractive to Lord Fitzwilliam.

I hope that I may eventually succeed in ascertaining at what sales he purchased the various items in his collection; at present I have not seriously undertaken the investigation, nor have I judged it right to defer the publication of my Catalogue until this gap should be filled up.

If we add the Fitzwilliam Missal (no. 34), which our Founder received as an heirloom, to the sum of his acquisitions as detailed above, we get a total of 130 for his collection at the time of his death. But if we turn to his own numbering of his manuscripts, we find that it runs from 1 to 142. The fact is, that he included his printed Horae among his manuscripts. There are eleven of these; and one volume (56) is wanting. Whether it was a printed book or a manuscript, I do not know; but it was wanting in 1876 when Mr Searle's Catalogue was compiled.

The collection, as left by Lord Fitzwilliam, was sufficiently remarkable. The bulk of it consisted of Horae, as must be the case with any collection of illuminated books. There were ninety-seven of these books in the original bequest: there are now one hundred and twelve (nos. 47—158): so that, in respect of the number of Horae which it contains, this library will bear comparison with any in England, saving that of the British Museum. Besides Horae it included a fine Bible (no. 1), a Legenda Aurea (no. 22), a Speculum Humanae Salvationis (no. 29), a Pontifical of extraordinary merit (no. 28), a good Psalter (no. 12), and a Missal of considerable beauty (no. 30), besides a fair number of miscellaneous books. It will be seen therefore that, even without subsequent additions, this library of manuscripts would have been well worth study. But a good number of additions have been made to it.

In the year 1876 Mr Searle found that the 130 MSS. of the original bequest had grown to 159 items. Some of these were single charters, and others were modern MSS. One only had been purchased; the rest had been given or bequeathed. Since then eighty items have been added to the collection, which now numbers two hundred and thirty-nine volumes, documents and fragments. The bulk of these have been purchased between 1887 and 1894: but donations have come in as well. And among its benefactors this department of the Fitzwilliam Museum has known none more conspicuous than the late Mr Samuel Sandars, whose name I have thought it only right to couple with that of Lord Fitzwilliam in the dedication of this book. It is not easy to find words which shall adequately, and yet not effusively, express the unostentatious generosity which characterised Mr Sandars in his dealings alike with the particular department which concerns us here, and with other University institutions.

Among the volumes added to the collection by purchase, since the publication of Mr Searle's Catalogue in 1876, a few are prominent, while all, I think, are interesting. The Decretals (no. 183) and the Romaunt of the Rose (no. 169) came from the Bragge sale in 1876. The Carew-Poyntz Horae (no. 48) was purchased from Mr Quaritch; and in 1889 two exceedingly interesting volumes were bought at the Hamilton sale (nos. 20, 27). A good many fine Horae, Psalters, and fragments have since been acquired.

The collection now contains representative specimens of a fair number of schools, styles, and periods of illumination. The continental Celtic style appears in the Benedictional (no. 27), which is the oldest manuscript we possess. Of English work there are specimens ranging from 1250 to 1500; Italian art of the fourteenth century is represented by the Decretals (no. 183) and by some fragments: but of the later styles there are some gorgeous examples: the Pontifical, which has been variously called Sieneſe, Milanese, and Florentine (no. 28), is the most beautiful. There is a majority of French and French-Flemish books, with a fair contingent of Dutch: Germany is not unrepresented; but of Spanish art there is no good example. Oriental MSS. hardly fall within our scope: Lord Fitzwilliam bought none, and only one of those which we have has been purchased.

It is not, however, my purpose to give details here about the contents of the collection. An account of the raison d'être and method of this Catalogue will be more relevant. Those who have used the Rev. W. G. Searle's *Catalogue of the Illuminated MSS. in the Fitzwilliam Museum*¹ will probably be anxious to know why it was necessary to issue another catalogue of the same books in less than twenty years after the publication of a work so comprehensive and useful as is Mr Searle's. A glance at the pages of the present volume will most likely answer the question for them; but it is indispensable that an explanation of the difference between the two books in regard of their scope and method should be given in this place, and at some length.

In the first place, I wish it to be clearly understood that, save in certain respects, my book is not meant to supersede Mr Searle's work. His Introduction, in which an extraordinary amount of most useful information has been collected, will always, I take it, have a value of its own. No book is known to me which furnishes more practical help to the student of Horae, as showing what they contain, and why and how they differ from one another. Many hints which are of great use are also given on the artistic side of the subject: styles of ornament, and normal cycles of illustration, are specified: and an excellent list of reference-books is appended to the Introduction. When, further, we study the main body of the book, we find that the details are uniformly correct, and such historical and genealogical notices as were required are most accurate. In matters of heraldry, Mr Searle has smoothed my path in a way which I most gladly and gratefully acknowledge; but with sad misgivings that, where I have been left to myself in this department, I shall be found to have erred grievously. In fact, to Mr Searle's Catalogue and his Introduction I owe a great deal; and, the more I study the latter, the more serviceable I find it.

In spite of this, however, I believed, and still believe, that there was room for a new Catalogue; and for several reasons. In the first place, considerable accessions have come in since 1876. In the next, it seemed to me that the collection was of just such a size as to render possible the publication of an unusually full description of all the pictures in all the manuscripts. Here again I may be met by a pertinent question. Would it not have been sufficient to compile an Index on the model of Messrs Birch and Jenner's Early Drawings and Illuminations (Bagster, 1879), which serves as a guide to the contents of an enormous number of illuminated MSS. in the British Museum? Again I must answer that my object would not have been attained by such a course.

To a person who is looking for representations of particular scenes the book I have named is most useful. But to me it seems a more scientific and satisfactory procedure to approach the subject from the other side. The student of the history and development of manuscript illustration or of mediaeval art, wishes, or ought to wish, to know what cycles of pictures are contained in each volume: in what districts variations are found from a normal cycle, or from a normal treatment of a scene, and what those variations are. It is for such students that my book is intended. The collection which I have had to describe contains specimens of nearly all the books which were most commonly illustrated with pictures in mediaeval times; Bibles, Missals, Pontificals, Speculum Salvationis, and, above all, Horae are all represented here, the last named class very copiously; and any one who possesses examples of such books will be enabled, as I think, by this Catalogue to judge whether his specimens conform to an ordinary type or diverge from it. He will, besides, find a very large number of representations of Biblical and legendary scenes, and of saints, described and named, which may help him to identify similar scenes and persons whose meaning or whose attributes have perplexed him. The Catalogue is, moreover, provided with a series of Indices which have been drawn up somewhat on the plan of Messrs Birch and Jenner's. They are intended to be a complete guide to the pictorial and literary contents of the collection: and I hope that their arrangement and contents may commend them to those who use them. They have been drawn up under my direction by Mr H. A. Chapman, Senior Assistant in the Museum, to whom I am most grateful for his trouble in the matter (a glance will show how great the trouble must have been); and they have been revised by myself.

From what I have said, it will appear that this Catalogue has a scope materially different from that of Mr Searle's. There is another material difference between the two books, that of their methods of classification. Mr Searle has adopted the plan of arranging the MSS. primarily according to countries, and, in the case of the French MSS., which are in a majority, of classifying them according to the styles of decoration which they exhibit.

His arrangement runs thus :

- I. MSS. of Italian work (nos. 1—10).
 - II. MSS. of French work (nos. 11—93).
 1. MSS. with no background to the borders.
 - A. MSS. decorated with 'Ivy leaf' pattern (nos. 11—20).
 - B. MSS. decorated with 'line and leaf' pattern (nos. 21—37).
 - C. MSS. decorated with either 'line and leaf' or 'geometrical' patterns (nos. 38—42).
 - D. MSS. decorated with 'geometrical' patterns (nos. 43—55).
 - E. MSS. partly 'geometrical' and partly 'floriated' patterns (nos. 56—61).
 - F. MSS. with 'floriated' borders (nos. 62—71).
 - G. MSS. decorated 'en grisaille' (no. 72).
 2. MSS. with solid backgrounds to the borders, or without borders.
 - A. MSS. decorated with floriated borders on gold or coloured grounds (nos. 73—83).
 - B. MSS. decorated with miniatures for borders (nos. 84 and 85).
 - C. MSS. decorated without borders (nos. 86—91).
 - D. MSS. decorated with direct imitations of natural objects (nos. 92, 93).
 - III. MSS. of Flemish or Burgundian work (nos. 94—107).
 - IV. MSS. of Dutch work (nos. 108—121).
 - V. MSS. of English work (nos. 122—131).
 - VI. Additional MSS.
 - A. European MSS. (nos. 132—136).
 - B. Charters (nos. 137—145).
 - C. Oriental MSS. (nos. 146—149).
 - VII. Books printed on vellum :
 - A. Horae (nos. 1—11).
 - B. Modern books (nos. 12—21).
- Appendix.
MSS. Kerrich and Madden (nos. 150—159).

To this arrangement I have preferred one primarily depending upon the subject-matter of the manuscripts; within that, upon the countries to which they belong; and, within that again, upon their dates. For purposes of comparison I here append my own classification :

Bibles: portions of the Bible, Psalters, Bible History, Lives of the Virgin, of our Lord and of the Apostles, 1—26.

Service-books. I. Public :

A. Episcopal : Benedictional, Pontifical, 27—29.

B. Priestly : Missal, Ordinarium Missae, Breviary, Lectionary, Martyrology, 30—40.

C. Choir-books, Antiphoner, 41—46.

II. Private :

Horae. English, 47—57.

French, 58—134.

Dutch, 135—146.

Italian, 147—156.

German, 157, 158.

Miscellaneous books of devotional character, 159—163.

Poems and Romances, 164—170.

Theology (patristic and controversial), 171—175.

History, 176—182.

Law: Statutes, Diplomas, 183—189.

Recent acquisition, 190.

Fragments, 191—205.

Autographs, 206—208.

Miscellanea, 209—214.

Single Charters and Documents, 215—228.

Greek and Oriental MSS., 229—235.

Modern illustrated MS., 236.

Latest acquisitions, 237—239.

It will be noticed that one of Mr Searle's classes has been entirely omitted here. It is that of Books printed on Vellum, principally Horae. It is undeniable that these last are the direct successors of the manuscript Horae, and that they contain a large mass of iconographic detail. For all that they are printed books, and this is a Catalogue of manuscripts. It would be difficult to show good cause for including them, and excluding the Mer des hystoires or the Hyperotomachia. But it is quite reasonable to exclude all such works on the simple ground that they are printed and not written. However, there is still room for a study of the printed Horae from the point of view of iconography; and perhaps it may be possible in the near future to issue a supplement to the present volume which shall include an attempt in that direction.

There are many topics which might be fitly handled in the Introduction to a work of this kind. But this is a preface, not an Introduction. Such technical details, therefore, as are indispensable I have preferred to place by themselves, between preface and text. There only remain a few matters of general import which I must touch upon here.

In the first place I must call attention to the list of Corrigenda. It is a larger one than I could have wished: but, while I blame myself and my handwriting for its length, I think that those who have experience in the correcting of rather difficult proof will agree with me in saying that it would have been difficult to avoid misprints entirely.

Literary obligations have next to be acknowledged. I have owed much to two books in the compilation of this volume: one is Mr Searle's Catalogue, the other is a small volume, privately printed, which contains a great deal of most valuable matter. It was written, I believe, by the late Mr F. Perkins, and contains a full description of the manuscripts in his collection. The full title is this:

Historical notes and other literary materials now first collected towards the formation of a systematic bibliographical description of mediæval illuminated manuscripts of Hours, Offices, and other books of devotion; and also for ascertaining their completeness or imperfection. To which is added a descriptive Catalogue of a series of illuminated manuscripts, illustrative of the proposed system of collation. London, 1858 [not published], pp. i, ii, 1—17. Printed at the office of Skipper and East, St Dunstan's Hill.

The book is probably not at all common: but I strongly recommend any one who is beginning the study of illuminated manuscripts not to neglect the opportunity of acquiring a copy of it. Though occasionally verbose, it is uniformly correct, and is besides very practical, and interestingly written.

I should like, further, to express my thanks to the Syndics of the University Press for accepting this book, and to the staff of the Press, who have been most patient and painstaking in all matters connected with the printing of it.

The illustrator, Mr Emery Walker, will meet with the praise he merits from every one who looks at the twenty plates which he has produced. I am very glad to be able to thank him myself for his excellent work, and to bear witness to the great care which he has spent upon the reproduction of the selected pictures. These were chosen by Professor Middleton and myself, and form a series fairly representative of the various styles of work comprised in the collection. The number of illustrations of English work is large in proportion to the number of English MSS. in the Library; but we shall probably be forgiven for this piece of favouritism.

I wish to end this preface with an appeal, addressed to those who are the possessors of illuminated manuscripts. I will freely confess, that during the compilation of this book I have more than once been stimulated by the hope that some collector who should make use of my work might be led to think of the Fitzwilliam Museum as a place where his manuscripts would be choicely valued, religiously preserved, and minutely investigated. Now that the work is completed, the same hope recurs to me. I trust that in spite of its mistakes and defects, the book will be useful: and I think it can hardly fail to show that accessions to the Fitzwilliam collection of manuscripts would be as welcome gifts as any that could be made to us. There is no variety of illuminated mediaeval book which we should not prize: duplicates hardly exist in the world of manuscripts (save, perhaps, among the latest Horae): fragments are often most precious; and there are several styles and schools of decoration of which the Museum possesses no specimens at all. Of Byzantine work we have nothing, and of German very little. An illustrated Apocalypse, another thirteenth-century Psalter, a specimen of Anglo-Saxon work, or of Carolingian painting, would be of the greatest value. It is when these works are ranged in their proper "context" that their true worth comes out most strongly. Here, too, they are as secure as in the nature of things they can be, from the accidents of fire, theft, and dispersion by sale. The names of the donors are recorded, and they are remembered with gratitude, as men who have permanently enriched their country.

I am pleading here, as in duty bound, for the Fitzwilliam Museum in the first instance. But, speaking as one in charge of a Museum, I am perfectly sincere in saying that I account the news of donations or bequests to any of our national collections as the best of news. Only, when illuminated manuscripts are in question, I desire to remind the possessors of them that in this Museum there is a collection of those works of art which is exceedingly strong in some respects ; and that additions in certain directions would give it a very prominent place as a centre for the study of mediaeval art.

A glance at the table which shows the dates of acquisition of the various manuscripts will suffice to assure the reader that the Museum does what it can out of its own funds to increase the collection. The sums spent upon this department during the last six years amount to many hundreds of pounds. But the funds available in any one year are not very large ; prices 'rule' high in the market of manuscripts ; and many other departments of art claim their share of attention. I feel justified, therefore, in making my appeal for additions to our collection in this absolutely direct and outspoken fashion.

I shall be very grateful for information on points where I have made mistakes, or failed to notice misprints. The task of writing this Catalogue has been very laborious ; but nothing could better repay me for my trouble than the arrival of so many new manuscripts as to entail the immediate preparation of a new edition.

MONTAGUE RHODES JAMES.

POINTS TO BE OBSERVED IN THE DESCRIPTION AND COLLATION OF MANUSCRIPTS, PARTICULARLY BOOKS OF HOURS.

I. Material, whether vellum, paper, or a mixture of the two.

Vellum, as the student will quickly notice, has two sides to it: an outer, on which the marks of the hairs are traceable, and an inner, which is quite smooth and even. These two sides generally alternate quite regularly. If they do not, there may prove to be a gap in the manuscript: this, however, is not quite necessarily the case. It is often useful, especially in the case of early manuscripts, to note the sequence of the "hair" and "flesh" sides of the vellum.

II. Size of the page, ruling, and number of lines of writing on a full page.

Ruling of lines is done either with a sharp dry point which makes a slight furrow in the vellum, or with a plummet, which makes a faint brown mark. Usually the page is spaced out for ruling with a pair of compasses, and a small puncture marks the end of each line.

III. Binding; material and style: method of fastening the volume up, if any: traces of chaining.

In cases where a book has been chained, and the old cover removed, so that no external trace of the chain is left, there will often be a mark of rust on the first or last leaves of the volume.

IV. Number of leaves in the volume. Collation.

By the word collation, as applied to manuscripts, two things may be meant. One is the comparison of the text contained in a manuscript with the text contained in any other copy of the same work. The other is the ascertaining the composition, or arrangement, of the leaves of which the volume consists. This second meaning of the word collation is the only one which will be used here.

Any vellum manuscript in book-form (as opposed to a roll, or the like) is composed of a number of gatherings or quires. Each quire ought to consist of a number of sheets of vellum, each folded into two leaves, and placed one inside another. A quire of four such sheets, so placed, will therefore make eight leaves or sixteen pages.

The book, as it comes from the hand of the scribe, consists of a number of these quires; and at this stage the sheets of the quires are loose, and the quires are not attached to each other. The binder stitches together the quires, and fastens the sheets of each quire together by a string passing down the middle fold of the inmost sheet. So that, in a quire of eight leaves, we shall find a string passing down the fold between the fourth and fifth leaves; and, if the quire be of ten leaves, the string will be found between the fifth and sixth leaves of it.

But how is the binder to tell the proper order of the quires (otherwise than by reading the book through, which we can hardly expect him to do)? Thus: the scribe will have written on the lower (sometimes the upper) margin of the last leaf of each quire, the first word of the first page of the next quire. Hence, the binder can tell the sequence of the quires by a glance at these two words. The word written on the margin of the last page of the quire is known as the catchword.

Besides this, the scribe will most likely have written a series of letters or numbers on the lower margin of the first page of each quire (in early MSS. we commonly find a number on the last page): e.g. on the first quire, a or I; on the second, b, and so forth. And he will have numbered, furthermore, the first five (or four) leaves of every quire of eight leaves, or the first six (or five) leaves of every quire of ten leaves, in this fashion: a i, a ii, a iii, a iiii, a v. Such numbers and letters are known as signatures; they are commonly found combined with the catchwords, and form the principal guide which the binder has in handling the loose quires.

Now, a person wishing to "collate" a manuscript may begin by looking for the signatures or catchwords. If the volume is quite complete, and of quite regular construction, he will find that they recur after every 8th, 10th, or 12th leaf. But it very commonly happens that both signatures and catchwords, or some of each, have been cut off by the binder. In such cases the collator must look closely between each pair of leaves until he sees a string passing down between them. Then he will know that he has come to the middle of a quire. Let him count the leaves until he arrives at another string. If the book is of regular construction, the number of leaves between the two strings will, naturally, be also the number of leaves of which each quire consists. The accompanying diagram will shew this plainly enough. Here a and b are sections of two quires of eight leaves: at s are the strings, and eight leaves intervene between the strings.

But many manuscripts (I think a large majority) are not of absolutely regular construction. It is rare to find books which have not either lost leaves, or had leaves cancelled and re-written, or which from the beginning were composed of a number of quires of exactly similar construction. Let us examine the methods of dealing with these various cases.

The case of a book which, though complete, is composed of quires of varying numbers of leaves, is the simplest. The fact that the quires vary in size is ascertained by counting the leaves which intervene between the strings or the catchwords; and the reader can easily construct a diagram for himself, on the model of that given above, of three adjacent quires of a book, one of ten, one of twelve, and the third of eight leaves. I may here remark that in all probability quires of vellum will not often be found to consist of more than sixteen leaves; but we may expect to find them quite commonly of two, four, six, eight, ten, twelve, and fourteen.

In Horae (Books of Hours) the Kalendar is usually written on one quire of six or twelve leaves, and has no signature or catchwords. We shall therefore look for a string between the third and fourth, or between the sixth and seventh leaves of it.

Next, let us take the case of a book which has lost some leaves or had some cancelled by the original scribe, and re-written. Say that the book is in quires of eight leaves: the sections of some imperfect or irregular quires will be as below:

Quire a has lost its fourth leaf (a 4); quire b wants its seventh leaf (b 7); and quire c has lost its middle sheet (c 4, 5). In the two first cases the numbers of the leaves on either side of the string will be unequal, and thus rouse suspicion; and, on examining the quire more closely, we shall in most cases find that there is an edge of the lost leaf left between its neighbours. We now look at the text of the manuscript, and ascertain if there is any gap in it at this point. If there is, we shall know that the missing leaf was once an integral part of the book; if there is not, we shall conclude that the leaf in question was cancelled by the original scribe for some defect or error, and the contents of it re-written.

In the third case, that of quire c, we should have to depend entirely on our examination of the text of the book in order to be sure that leaves were really missing, and that the quire had not originally been one of six leaves, as we see it now.

We often find quires of anomalous construction: to some a leaf has been added; in others a leaf or pair of leaves (or even more) inserted, for one reason or another. If a single leaf has been added or inserted, the effect is really the same to the eye as if a leaf had been lost. The diagram of quire a, just above, will shew what I mean. Suppose a to have been originally a quire of six leaves, and suppose that a leaf were added to it between a 3 and a 4. The section would have been exactly what we now see it. The addition of a leaf is often rendered evident by the fact that a quire has one more leaf than its neighbours and yet has no gap in its text.

If, however, a pair or more of leaves has been inserted, not in the middle of the quire, we shall get a section of this form, a and b being the inserted leaves.

Now as to the methods employed in this book to express the various phenomena which I have been describing. The number of leaves in a quire is denoted by a small numeral above the letter which designates the quire: thus "*a*⁸" means that quire a has 8 leaves. The expression "*a*⁸ (wants 5)" means that a has lost, not five leaves, but its fifth leaf: "*a*⁸ (+ 8* quoniam)" means that a has had a leaf added to it after its 8th leaf, and that this added leaf begins with the word quoniam.

The alphabet which I have used to designate the quires runs from a to z, omitting j, u, w, except where the contrary may be definitely expressed.

V. History. Marks of former owners, such as arms, book-plates, notes of sales and prices, and family records on fly-leaves or in Kalendars.

VI. Contents. The contents of manuscripts other than Horae it is not my purpose to treat of here. Most of the Fitzwilliam manuscripts, and of illuminated manuscripts in general, are Horae. French Horae predominate among these, and the majority of French Horae were produced at Paris. In Mr Searle's Introduction to his Catalogue of the Fitzwilliam collection a very great deal of matter will be found which helps in the identification of the localities in which these books were written; and the essential points I shall hope to be able to set forth here. A typical Book of Horae ought to contain the following parts, in this order:

1. Kalendar.
2. Sequentiae of the Gospels.
3. Hours of the Blessed Virgin Mary.
4. Hours of the Cross.
5. Hours of the Holy Ghost.
6. Seven Penitential Psalms and Litany.
7. Office of the Dead.
8. Memoriae or Suffrages to various Saints.

and also, in very many cases after no. 2, two long prayers to the Virgin beginning respectively :

Obsecro te, domina, and O intemerata.

Something may be said of each of these component parts, in respect of their contents and decoration : but in all that I have to say I shall study shortness.

1. Kalendar. Usually consists of a single quire of six or twelve leaves, and contains the Kalendar for each month on a separate page or leaf. The festivals which are specially important are usually written in red or gold. Some of these, such as Christmas, Easter, feasts of Apostles, etc. are common to all Kalendars : but every diocese has also its peculiar saints, and these should be noted. In Paris books we usually find SS. Marcellus, Geneviève, Honorina, Opportuna, specially distinguished. An examination of the body of this book will shew better, I think, than any tables that I could construct, what saints are characteristic of particular localities : but an attempt at such a table will be found in my remarks on the Litany.

When Kalendars are illustrated with pictures, these almost always illustrate the signs of the Zodiac and the occupations which are appropriate to the Twelve Months. Less commonly the pages of the Kalendar have borders containing figures or pictures illustrating the principal feasts of each month. Nos. 119 and 120 in this Catalogue are so decorated.

2. Sequentiæ of the Gospels. These are four passages from the Gospels, each of which is peculiar to the Evangelist from which it is taken ; together they set forth the story of the Incarnation and the departure of our Lord out of the world. They are :

(The Incarnation.)

John i. 1—14. In principio erat Verbum—gratiæ et veritatis.

(The Annunciation.)

Luke i. 26—38. In illo tempore. Missus est angelus—secundum uerbum tuum.

(The Adoration of the Magi.)

Matt. ii. 1—12. In illo tempore. Cum natus esset—regionem suam.

(The last words of Christ and the Ascension.)

Mark xvi. 14—20. In illo tempore. Recumbentibus—sequentibus signis.

These are sometimes accompanied by a short Harmony of the Passion constructed from the four Gospels, which begins :

Egressus est Dominus Jesus.

The pictures illustrating these Sequentiae are usually those of the Four Evangelists writing. But very often only the first, that of St John, has a picture. This usually shews him writing, upon Patmos, or else his 'martyrdom' in the caldron of boiling oil before the Latin gate, whence he escaped unhurt, or, less commonly, his drinking of a cup of poison, which did him no harm. The books written at Rouen very frequently give a picture, divided into four compartments, of the Evangelists writing their Gospels.

The Harmony of the Passion may have a picture of the Betrayal.

3. Hours of the Virgin. The origin of these services is not sufficiently clear, at least to me, to allow me to give any authoritative account of it. That they took form among the Benedictines, and spread from the monasteries to the laity, is a view which has a good deal to recommend it. But we are here concerned more with the books which contain the Horae than with the Horae themselves. It will at least be safe to say that the book of private devotions normally in the hands of both clerical and lay persons in the West before the thirteenth century (and indeed before a late period in that century) was the Psalter. The Psalter contained, besides the 150 Psalms, certain Canticles, both scriptural, as Confitebor (Isaiah xxv.), Magnificat, and several more, and liturgical, as Te Deum, Quicumque uult, and to these the Litany was well-nigh invariably added. To this nucleus additions were made: the Office of the Dead in the first instance; then the Hours of the Virgin, and other devotions. These additions ended by ousting the main body of the Psalter, with the exception of certain selected Psalms which were used separately, as the Seven Penitential Psalms, the Fifteen Psalms of Degrees, and a few others.

In the Fitzwilliam collection there are books which exemplify various stages of this process. Thus, in nos. 12, 13, the Office of the Dead is added to the Psalter, and in no. 238, which is also a Psalter, a fragment of the Hours of the Virgin remains at the end. In no. 48, a very early book of Hours, we have no Psalter, but the Hours are accompanied by a number of single prayers, salutations, and other devotions, such as, in later times, were pruned away.

The Horae are divided into seven services: Matins, Lauds, Prime, Tierce, Sext, Nones, Vespers, and Compline.

Matins and Lauds were said between midnight and 6 A.M.
Prime	”	”	6 and 9 A.M.
Tierce	”	”	9 A.M. and noon.
Sext	”	”	noon and 3 P.M.
Nones	”	”	3 and 6 P.M.
Vespers	”	”	6 and 9 P.M.
Compline	”	”	9 P.M. and midnight.

Matins consists of :

Ÿ. Domine labia. R. Et os meum.
 Ÿ. Deus in adiutorium. R. Domine ad adiuuandum. Gloria.
 Invitatory.
 Hymn.
 Psalms (three or nine) with antiphons.
 Absolution.
 Lessons (three or nine, usually three) with antiphons.
Te Deum.

Lauds consist of :

Deus in adiutorium. Gloria.
 Four Psalms.
Benedicite omnia opera.
 Three Psalms with antiphons or with one antiphon for the three.
Capitulum.
 Hymn.
Benedictus.
 Antiphon.
 Collect.

Memoriae or suffrages to certain Saints : not invariably present. The “use” to which a Book of Hours belongs (or in other words, the diocese or the Archiepiscopal province in or for which it was written) can be usually deduced from an examination of Matins and Lauds. I shall not, therefore, multiply details as to the composition of the other Hour-services, but merely put down the distinguishing points of the principal uses.

The first point is the Hymn in Matins. The Roman use, that of Sarum, and most French uses have the Hymn

Quem terra, pontus, aethera.

In the uses of Sens and Paris the Hymn is O quam glorifica luce coruscas.

Of these two uses, that of Paris is incomparably the commoner.

Next, turn to the Antiphon after the Psalms. In many cases there will be only one Antiphon.

In the Paris use this is :

✓ Exaltata es sancta Dei genetrix.

In that of Chartres :

Dignare me.

In those of Sarum and others :

✧ Benedicta tu in mulieribus.

Next, the Lessons. In most Horae there are three of these :

For Rome, Paris, Bourges, and Limoges :

1. In omnibus requiem.
2. Et sic in Syon.
3. Quasi cedrus.

*Surge te. Sursum
et sacerdotium.*

For Sarum, Rouen, etc. :

1. Sancta Maria uirgo uirginum.
2. Sancta Maria piarum piissima.
3. Sancta Dei genetrix.

For Chartres, Orleans, Lyons, etc. :

1. O beata Maria, quis tibi ualeat.
2. Admitte piissima.
3. Sancta Maria succurre miseris.

For Besançon :

1. O mater uirgo.
2. O stella maris.
3. O fili castae.

The next important point is the Capitulum at Lauds.

Roman use :

Viderunt eam.

Paris :

✓ Te laudant.

Sens :

Felix namque.

Rheims, Châlons-sur-Marne :

✧ Virgo uerbo concepit.

Rouen, Amiens :

In omnibus requiem.

Sarum, Bourges, Tours :

Maria uirgo semper lactare.

Chartres :

Beata es.

Next, the Hymn at Lauds :

For Roman and other uses :

*O gloriosa domina*¹.

For Paris :

Virgo Dei genetrix.

Lastly, the Collect at Lauds: Maria uirgo

In the Roman and most other uses :

Deus qui de beatae M. V. utero.

Sarum :

Concede nos famulos tuos. Paris

Now let us take some specimens of Hours of the Virgin, and go through the process of identification.

Turn to the Matins of the Virgin. The Hymn (which follows the Invitatory Psalm Venite exultemus) is, we will say, Quem terra, pontus, aethera. This shews positively that the use is not of Sens or Paris: but, outside these, it may be almost any other. The shortest way in such a case is to turn to Lauds and look at the Capitulum. If this be Viderunt eam, the use is that of Rome.

Or again, if the Hymn at Matins is O quam glorifica, we know that the use is either that of Sens or of Paris. Again we turn to the Capitulum in Lauds, and finding it to be Te laudant angeli we are sure that we are dealing with a Paris book.

Sarum use is distinguished by the combination of :

Hymn at Matins: Quem terra.

Capitulum at Lauds: Maria uirgo.

Collect at Lauds: Concede nos.

A few peculiar marks of less common uses may be added :

Amiens :

Angers :

Capitulum at Prime : Paradisi porta.

Bourges :

Antiphon (if single) to Psalms at Lauds : Sub tuum praesidium.

Cambrai :

{Antiphon (if single) to Psalms at Lauds : Sancta Dei genetrix.

{Antiphon to Psalms at Tierce : Alma uirgo Maria.

Châlons-sur-Marne :

{Capitulum at Lauds : Virgo uerbo concepit.

{Capitulum at Prime : Quando natus es.

Chartres :

Capitulum at Lauds : Beata es.

Coutances :

Antiphon to Psalms at Prime : Beata mater et innupta.

Langres :

Antiphon at Compline : Rubum quem uiderat.

Le Mans :

Capitulum at Prime : Exaltata es.

Limoges :

Capitulum at Nones : Quasi cedrus.

Meaux :

Orleans :

Antiphon to Psalms at Prime : Post partum.

Poitiers :

{Capitulum at Prime : Virgo uerbo concepit.

The northern half of France, as Mr Searle has recognised, is the district where we may expect to find local uses which vary from one another. In Southern France the Roman use prevailed; and it gradually crept northward, obliterating almost all the others. Still, however, local Horae are distinguished by commemoration of local saints even where the Offices have lost their distinctive features.

Next, as to the pictorial decoration of the Hours of the Virgin. There is a well-defined cycle of pictures, which will be found in most books; but variations from it are not unfrequent. One picture usually stands at the head of each Hour-service.

Matins	The Annunciation.
Lauds	The Salutation or Visitation (Mary and Elizabeth).
Prime	The Nativity: Joseph and Mary adore the Child.
Tierce	The Angel and the Shepherds.
Sext	The Adoration of the Magi.
Nones	The Presentation in the Temple.
Vespers	The Flight into Egypt, or The Massacre of the Innocents.
Compline	The Coronation of the Virgin, or The Death of the Virgin.

The English books perhaps prefer the Massacre of the Innocents to the Flight into Egypt: and in a good many cases they substitute a set of scenes from the Passion for the whole series just described.

When, in addition to the above picture, scenes are introduced into the borders of the pages, they usually illustrate incidents connected with the subject of the large picture. Thus, in several Rouen books in this collection, the story of Joachim and Anne, and the Marriage of the Virgin, in small pictures, surround the Annunciation.

4, 5. Hours of the Cross and Hours of the Holy Ghost.

There is little or no variation between local uses in these services. The pictures illustrating them are in most cases the Crucifixion and the Descent of the Holy Ghost.

6. Seven Penitential Psalms and Litany.

The Penitential Psalms are:

- vi. Domine ne in furore.
- xxx. (xxxii.) Beati quorum.
- xxxvii. (xxxviii.) Domine ne in furore.
- l. (li.) Miserere mei Deus.
- ci. (cii.) Domine exaudi.
- cxxix. (cxxx.) De profundis.
- cxlii. (cxliii.) Domine exaudi orat. meam, auribus.

The picture most commonly represents David in penitence: very frequently also, David and Bathsheba.

The Litany. The invocations of Angels and Saints, which form the bulk of the Litany, should be carefully noted. They afford most valuable help towards identifying the district to which a Book of Hours belongs. And not only are they found in Horae, but in many other service-books, e.g. Psalters, Breviaries, Missals (in the office for Easter Eve), Manuals, and Pontificals. In one instance in the Fitzwilliam Museum, the Litany occurs in a Psalter forming part of a Bible (no. 9). I will therefore call attention here to some points connected with them.

The invocations of Angels rarely include more than the three names Michael, Gabriel, Raphael. The addition of Uriel (who is mentioned in 4 Esdras) bespeaks, I think, English or German influence. I have only very exceptionally found the names of seven angels. In a fifteenth century book of devotions (English; written perhaps for Thomas de Woodstock), sold as lot 1026 in the Bateman sale at Sotheby's in 1893), the four additional names of angels were given as:

Barachiel,
Raguel, Thobiel, Pantecessor.

The next set of invocations is that of Apostles and Disciples of the Lord. In the latter class we normally find Mark, Luke, Barnabas, and sometimes Timothy. The name of St Martial (disciple of St Peter and Apostle of Limoges, Bordeaux, etc.) is found in a good many English books, as well as in those of Limoges and its neighbourhood, Poitiers, and Rouen. The occurrence of St Ursin may be generally taken to point to Bourges, of which he is a patron, or to Lisieux.

Under the heads of Martyrs, Confessors, and Virgins (the last including all female saints), the shortest way of proceeding will be to give a table of the most distinctive names.

The above list is merely the result of my own observations. It does not pretend to be complete: and I have only given such names as seem to me to be specially characteristic of the different localities. For Italy, in particular, I have had very little material to study: and, for the Low Countries, I have not had enough to enable me to distinguish in the least between dioceses. Therefore I quite expect to be criticised both for omissions and positive errors here (as in other parts of my work). The truth is that an individual's influence may at any time import, say, a Southern Saint into a book written at Rouen or at Amiens. Thus in no. 62 (which was written for Isabel of Brittany) we find pictures of the "Saintes Maries" (Maria Salome and Maria Jacobi), whose bodies lie in the Camargue near Marseilles, and in no. 76 (a Rouen book) St Quiteria of Dax occurs. Anomalies such as these cannot be reckoned with. However, the majority of later Horae are books not written specially to order, but are "shop copies": and in them the hagiography is likely to be more representative of true local usage than in the books which were bespoken by individuals.

7. Office of the Dead.

This is not the actual Burial Service, which is found in the book called the Manual, nor yet the Mass of Requiem for the dead, but is the service said in choir over the dead body, and is often known as Placebo and Dirige, or Vespers, and Matins and Lauds of the Dead.

Placebo or Vespers consists of:

 Psalms. Antiphons (the first being Placebo domino in regione iuunorum).
 Magnificat. Antiphon. Pater noster.
 Psalm.
 Collects.

¹ See also Appendix I.

Dirige or Matins contains three divisions, each consisting of Three Psalms with Antiphons.

Three Lessons.

The Antiphon to the first Psalm is Dirige Domine deus meus in conspectu tuo viam meam.

Lauds consists of Psalms (and Canticles) with Antiphons.

Collects.

A similar service called Commendatio animarum is often added especially in English books. It also consists of Psalms cxviii. (cxix.) and cxxxviii. (cxxxix.). Antiphon.

Collect.

The picture to the Office of the Dead is perhaps the most frequently varied of any among the normal pictures of the Horae. All of the following subjects are quite common :

Funeral Service in Choir.
Burial of a corpse.
Raising of Lazarus.
Dives and Lazarus (perhaps suggested by the Raising of Lazarus).
Job and his friends (the nine lessons at Matins are taken from Job).
The Last Judgment.
The 'trois vifs' and 'trois morts,' or three knights meeting three corpses : a modification of this is common in Italian books : St Macarius (or a hermit) shews three corpses to three kings.

The Commendatio usually has a picture of angels carrying souls up to heaven.

8. Memoriae or Suffrages to various Saints.

These follow the order of the invocations in the Litany and the selection of them varies very much in different books. The form, however, is constant throughout. Each consists of Antiphon. Verse. Response.

Oremus. Collect.

A list of the most constant elements in the selection would run as follows :

Suffrages to God .	The Trinity.
	The Father.
	The Son.
	The Holy Ghost.
Angel .	St Michael.
Patriarch .	St John Baptist.

Suffrages to Apostles .	St John Evangelist. SS. Peter and Paul. St James the Great.
Martyrs .	St Stephen. St Christopher. St Sebastian. St Laurence. St George. St Thomas of Canterbury (English). St Denis (Paris).
Confessors .	St Nicholas. St Martin. St Antony. St Claudius (Paris). St Fiacre (Paris).
Virgins, etc.	St Anne. St Mary Magdalene. St Katherine. St Margaret. St Barbara. St Apollonia. St Geneviève (Paris).

All Saints.

These devotions are usually illustrated by small pictures, generally inserted in the text, of the various personages invoked.

The miscellaneous prayers and other devotions which occur in Horae need not be treated at length in this place. The two prayers to the Virgin, Obsecro te, domina, and O intemerata, are usually headed by pictures of the Virgin and Child, and of the owner of the book adoring the Virgin and Child.

The opening words of the devotions most usually met with are as follows :

Psalter of St Jerome	Verba mea auribus.
Psalmi de passione	Deus, deus meus.
Verses of St Bernard	Illumina oculos meos.
Seven Prayers of St Grégoire	O Domine Jesu Christi.
Prayer of St Augustine	Dulcissime Domine Jesu.
Fifteen Joys of the Virgin	Douce dame de miséricorde.
Seven Requests	Biau sire Dieu.
Fifteen Oes (Prayer of St Bridget of Sweden)	O Jesu aeterna dulcedo.
Prayer of Bede on the Seven Words	O Domine Jesu Christi qui septem uerba.

This ends what I have to say about the Horae. To give rules for determining the date of manuscripts from writing or style of ornament, without the aid of numerous facsimiles, is to my mind an impossible task. I am convinced that there is no other way of arriving at the power of forming a judgment on these points but to examine a large number of the books themselves. Certain impressions will gradually form themselves in the mind, and continued study will strengthen or modify these until they acquire an authority more convincing than that of any definite rule. I make this statement with a view to the fact that the Horae, with which we have been more particularly concerned, are mostly late manuscripts. It is no doubt possible to lay down fairly definite rules for the dating of manuscripts of classical and early mediæval times. It is not possible in the case of manuscripts of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries.

Next to the Horae, the manuscripts most frequently met with are Bibles. In the thirteenth century copies of the Latin Bible were made in enormous numbers, in Northern France more particularly. These books are usually illustrated with a series of historiated initials (i.e. initials containing figure-subjects), one to each book of the Bible; and the subjects selected for illustration form a cycle almost as constant as that of the pictures in the later Horae. I append a list of the subjects which I take to be the most normal. It is always worth while to note these pictures, with a view to arriving ultimately at some definite conclusion as to the centres whence they came, and the influences under which the cycle was settled.

Genesis. Initial I, containing medallions of the days of Creation, the Fall, and the Crucifixion.

Exodus. God speaking to Moses.

VII. Illustrations.

To the student of the illustrations of manuscripts, hardly any point is without its significance: but it is not always practicable to make an absolutely complete description.

The size of the picture in inches is not usually important. Its limits can be roughly guessed from the size of the book; and it will be enough to say in most cases what proportion of the page the picture occupies.

The subject of the picture may be stated in the next place, if it is ascertainable, by some short title, e.g. 'The Annunciation.'

Next, if there is an ornamental background to the picture, its colour or scheme ought to be specified, in some such words as 'chequer of red and gold,' or the like. This, more than anything else, serves to suggest the general appearance of the painting.

I should then go on to describe the composition of the scene, "on the left, the angel with a scroll inscribed Aue—tecum (i.e. Aue Maria gratia plena, Dominus tecum): on the right, the Virgin kneeling at a desk with scroll Ecce—tuum (i.e. Ecce ancilla Domini; fiat mihi secundum uerbum tuum).” If the student has not succeeded in identifying the subject of the picture, he must describe it as fully as he can in order to enable others to judge from his account what the scene represented is likely to be.

It will often be found that small figures introduced into the background have a bearing on the main subject of the picture. Thus, in pictures of the Nativity, the angel and shepherds will often appear. In pictures of the Flight into Egypt we shall see the idols falling, or the story of the sower¹. These or similar scenes also appear in the borders of the page.

As to the colours of robes, etc., employed in any picture, it is difficult to say how far it is advisable to note them. I think it is true that there is really no consistent and orthodox scheme of colour appropriated to particular persons. No doubt the Virgin and our Lord very commonly wear blue, and blue and red, respectively: but this is by no means an universal rule. If the scheme of colour in any picture be really remarkable, let it by all means be noted: as a rule, however, I would not recommend that much space should be devoted to this point. Those who are anxious to imitate these ancient pictures will necessarily study them for themselves: the student of iconography has more interest in the subject represented, and in the composition of the scene, than in details of colouring.

In the case of single figures of saints, the attributes they bear should be always noticed. Remarkable articles of furniture (such as book-cases), ecclesiastical vestments, modes of punishment, views of buildings, and the like, will be described as a matter of course.

All lettering upon scrolls, or inscriptions of any sort which occur in a picture, or which are attached to it, should be copied.

¹ This story, which does not occur in the Apocryphal Gospels, is to the effect that Joseph and Mary during their flight met a man sowing corn. Mary asked him to tell any enquirers after them that they had passed by when he was sowing. Immediately upon their departure, the seed sprang up and the crop ripened: so that when Herod's soldiers came and put the question to the husbandman, the answer they got convinced them that it was useless to pursue their journey. The earliest representation of the incident which I have seen is on a thirteenth-century cope of English work now at Anagni, figured by M. Farcy, La Broderie, i. p. 53.

CATALOGUE OF MANUSCRIPTS.

1. BIBLIA SACRA.

Vellum, size $15 \times 9\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 478, double columns, 48 lines to a page, Cent. xiii (1280?). Acquired in 1814.

Contents:

On the fly-leaves, two pages of notes and conjectures about the provenance of the MS in French, cent. xvii, xviii.

Prologue of S. Jerome Frater Ambrosius f. 1

Genesis—Apocalypse f. 4

Interpretationes nominum.

This MS contains 4 Esdras (2 Esdras of our Apocrypha). The arrangement is as follows:

1. Liber Esdre primus = Ezra.
2. Neemias.
3. Liber Esdre secundus = 1 Esdras.
4. Apochrifia Esdre (head-title, Hesdre ii) = 2 Esdras.

Prologue = 2 Esdr. i. 1—3.

Apochriforum liber i... = 2 Esdr. i. 4—ii. 48 in 4 chapters.

„ „ ii = 2 Esdr. iii. 1—xiv. 48 in 39 chapters.

The colophon to this is Explicit apochriforum liber iii. Incipit quartus, but the beginning of a third book is nowhere indicated.

Apochriforum liber iv = 2 Esdr. xv.—xvi. in 9 chapters.

See Bensly, The Missing Fragment of the Fourth Book of Ezra, p. 42: it is C. 12 in his list of MSS.

The book of Tobit follows.

Marks of ownership. A note in a xvth century hand at the end of the prologue, on f. 3^b, has been carefully erased, but is partly legible. It seems to run

Ista biblia est de domo vallis | viridis prope...donum...

The only Vallis Viridis I can find is one near Brussels, founded before 1381.

On the fly leaf is Ex libris de Remond du Cours (?).

There was a Nicolas Rémond des Cours who died in 1716 and possessed a 'riche bibliothèque' (Moréri s. v.). Cours is near Troyes.

The work of this Bible is very fine, though not absolutely of the first class. As is usual in the xiiith century Bibles, the blue and gold are specially beautiful colours.

Collation. In quires of 16 leaves, the catchwords mostly erased; i—iv¹⁶, v¹⁴, vi—xxx¹⁶. 478 ff.

Some of the early quires have the signature Corum.

1. Fol. 1 a, col. 1. Initial to Jerome's letter to Paulinus. St Jerome in black, nimbed, seated; reading at a desk under architecture, on a gold ground.

2—14. Genesis. Col. 1. Initial I, going the length of the column, with 13 miniatures in it, three at each end and seven in the body of the letter. Those at the ends are small circular medallions, the others elongated quatrefoils.

Top. 1. L. Annunciation. 2. C. Virgin and child crowned, seated. 3. R. The magi adoring; forms one composition with no. 2.

Main column. 1. First Day of Creation. Christ holds the globe. 2. Second Day. Christ holds the globe, on which dry land is seen. 3. Third Day. Christ holds the sun and moon. 4. Fourth Day. Christ between two trees. 5. Fifth Day. Christ with beasts on his left, one is green, in his hand he holds a fish. 6. Sixth Day. Christ in blue (elsewhere in blue and red) with raised hands quickening Adam. 7. Seventh Day. Christ seated, blessing; a book in his left hand.

Bottom. 1. L. Scourging of Christ, who is on the further side of the pillar; he wears a purple linen cloth, there are two tormentors.

2. Crucifixion, with the Virgin and S. John.

3. The three Marias at the Sepulchre, the angel with coloured wings. Below, three visors (belonging to the soldiers).

15. Exodus. Initial: red ground: Moses horned, with green rod, leads the people by the hand through the Red Sea. There are three elders with pointed caps; one woman in blue with a wimple.

16. Leviticus. Initial: gold ground: two Jews in hats kneel and offer a lamb at an altar, God's head seen in a cloud.

17. Numeri. Initial: gold ground: Moses horned, holds Tables of Law. Joshua, in a hat, with him. A cloud above, in it Christ with crossed nimbus, hand raised, and book.

18. Deut. Initial: gold ground: Moses horned. Joshua, in a hat, placing the tables in the ark; behind him another man with head uncovered.

19. Josue. Initial: blue ground, dotted with white: Joshua, nimbed, holds scroll; he is bearded. To the R, Christ, a young figure, crossed nimbus, hand raised, book.

20. Judices. Initial: blue ground dotted with red: (?) Gideon in red surcoat and black mail, with sword raised, and shield (scarlet and patterned): Christ to the right, as in no. 19.

21. Ruth. Initial I: gold ground: Above, Elimelech walking with staff over shoulder, on which hangs red drapery. Below, Naomi with similar staff, blue-draped; outside the letter, behind Naomi, are two small figures with a like staff (Mahlon and Chilion). They are journeying to Moab.

22. 1 Reg. (= 1 Sam.). Gold ground: Hophni and Phinehas slain by two mailed knights: a third knight behind carries the ark (red).

23. 2 Reg. (2 Sam.). Gold ground: David crowned, on a throne: Benaiah beheading the Amalekite.

24. 3 Reg. (1 Kings). Gold: Abishag brought by an attendant to David who is in bed.

25. 4 Reg. (2 Kings). Gold: Ahaziah crowned, falling off a tower.

26. 1 Paral. (1 Chr.). Gold: Creation of Eve, usual type. Christ is the creator; the ground has white flowers growing from it and is coloured brown and red.

27. 2 Paral. (2 Chr.). Red with white flourishes: Solomon crowned and throned holding a sword.

28. Esdras (Ezra). Blue ground: Initial I: Below, Cyrus with sceptre and raised hand. Above, two small men carrying stones in wheelless barrow up a slope. Top, a man putting a battlement on to a wall with a gold door.

29. Neemias. Blue: Artaxerxes crowned and throned. Nehemiah kneeling offers a covered cup.

30. 2 Esdras (= 1 Esdr.). Blue, white dots: a man in a hat holding an asperge and vessel of water sprinkles an altar.

Apochryfa Esdre (= 2 Esdras) has only large decorative initials.

31. Tobit. Blue, flourished: Tobit in bed blinded by a black bird which flies away.

32. Judith. Blue, white dots: Judith beheading Holofernes in bed under curtain. (The last paragraph, xvi. 23, has a large decorative initial.)

33. Esther. Blue: Above, Esther crowned kneeling to Ahasuerus throned, with sceptre and crown. Below, Haman stripped and blindfold, his arms bound behind him, hanging on a gallows.

34. Job. Blue, red dots: Job covered with spots, and black, seated on a dunghill. Behind him, a friend; in front of him, his wife and a friend.

35. Psalms. Ps. i. Beatus uir. Red: Below, David on an eminence beheads the kneeling Goliath. Above, David crowned sits playing the harp, another by him.

36. Ps. xxvi. Dñs illuminatio. Pink: Christ puts his hand towards the head of David, who sits crowned.

37. Ps. xxxviii. Dixi, custodiam. Blue, red dots: David crowned kneels pointing to his lips. Christ, with cross-nimbus and book: red clouds above.

38. Ps. lii. Dixit insipiens. Blue: David crowned sits and points at the fool, who holds a green club and bites a round white cake.

39. Ps. lxxviii. Salvum me fac. Blue, red dots: Above, Christ, half-length, blessing, holds orb. Below David, half-length, crowned, naked, in water between two trees.

40. Ps. lxxx. Exultate. Blue, red dots: David sits playing on six gold bells hung to a frame; a harp by him.

41. Ps. xcvi. Cantate. Blue, white dots and gold: Three Priests singing from a book on a lectern, under architecture.

42. Ps. ci. Domine exaudi. Red: David kneeling before a gold book on a black table.

43. Ps. cix. Dixit Dominus. Red and gold: Under architecture, the Father and Son seated, each with a blue crossed nimbus and a green book; the Dove between.

44. Parabole (Prov.). Blue, red dots and red: Under architecture, Solomon teaching Rehoboam (he wears a white loin-cloth and sits on a scarlet robe, with open book on knee). The last chapter has a large decorative initial to Mulierem fortem, v. 10.

45. Ecclesiastes. Gold : Solomon seated as king. To the right a crowned woman (? Wisdom) points to a prostrate youth.
46. Cantica. Gold and red : Under architecture, the Virgin crowned and throned offers an apple to the child : their nimbi are blue.
47. Sapientia. Blue, red dots : Solomon as king, seated, delivers sword to a youth in mail bareheaded.
48. Ecclesiasticus. Blue, red dots : The Church, a crowned female with pink nimbus, holds a spear and a gold chalice.
49. Ysaïas. Blue, red dots : Isaiah nimbed, wearing a loin-cloth, kneeling behind a pillar with his hands bound to it. Two tormentors saw his head with a double frame-saw.
50. Jeremias. Blue, white dots : Two Jews stone Jeremiah nimbed kneeling : two red stones strike his head.
51. Throni (Lam.). Red : Jeremiah with gold book weeping and looking at the temple.
52. Baruch. Blue, red dots : Baruch with red nimbus sits writing at a desk. The Epistle of Jeremy has a decorative initial.
53. Ezechiel. Red : Ezekiel sleeping in bed. The four evangelistic creatures appear from the cloud. The winged-man has coloured wings and gold nimbus : the lion, gold nimbus : eagle and ox, white nimbi.
54. Daniel. Gold : In a red mountain with trees and flowers is a black den, an irregular triangle in shape. In it Daniel with red nimbus, with his hands on the heads of two lions.
55. Osee. Blue (rubbed) : Hosea with red nimbus embracing Gomer : Christ's head in the cloud. ? a seroll behind Gomer.

3. BIBLIA SACRA.

Vellum, size 9 × 6, ff. 553, double columns 46 lines each. Cent. xiii, xiv. French. Acquired in 1808.

Contents:

Prologue of S. Jerome.
 Genesis—Apocalypse.
 Interpretationes nominum.

The last leaf of the Apocalypse is gone.

There are no marks of ownership.

This MS has no figured initials: they are decorative throughout and not very good. The writing is not of the most beautiful type.

Modern French binding of purple morocco richly tooled, cir. 1780.

Collation. In quires of 24 leaves for the most part, the catch-words generally cut off:

1 and 2²⁴, 3¹², 4²⁴, 5—8¹², 9 and 10²⁴, 11¹², 12—15²⁴, 16¹², 17—22²⁴, 23—24¹², 25—26²⁴, 27⁶ (wanting 5), 28—29¹⁶.

[Fw. 139. Scarle 12.]

4. BIBLIA SACRA.

Uterine Vellum, size 7½ × 5, ff. 379, double columns of 52 lines each in quires of 16 leaves. Cent. xiii, xiv. Acquired in 1807.

The text of the books is preceded by a list of the number of chapters in each, and a table of Gospels and Epistles, in a later hand: also by the beginning of a homily on Hosea. These occupy 4 ff.

The last leaf of the Apocalypse is supplied in a later hand.

Marks of ownership are confined to a coat of arms drawn on vellum, coloured, and pasted on a fly-leaf.

Mr Scarle has identified them as being the arms of Antoine Perrenot of Granvelle, who received a Cardinal's hat in 1561 and died Abp of Besançon in 1586.

The arms are surmounted by a Cardinal's hat, and the motto below is DVRATE. The shield is party per fess, in chief, or, an eagle with two heads displayed sable. In base argent three bendlets sable.

The only noticeable feature about this MS is the beauty of the writing, which is very great. There are no miniatures, and only blue and red are employed in the initials.

The volume has been bound by the binder of No. 2.

5. BIBLIA SACRA.

Vellum, size $7\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$, ff. iii + 527, double columns, in quires of 16 leaves, the last leaf gone. Cent. xiii (1290-1300). Purchased in 1892.

Contents:

Index in a fine Roman hand of circa 1490, in red and black	f. 1
Jerome's letter to Paulinus	f. 1
Genesis—II. Maccabees	f. 3—382
[Esdras I., Neemias, Esdras II. = 3 Esdras.]
Matthew—Apocalypse	f. 382 b—482
Interpretationes nominum (3 columns to a page) ending with Zeb	f. 483

The writing has suffered from damp in the earlier leaves.

Marks of ownership a shield (Italian, of xvth cent.) in the border to Gen. i. Party per fess arg. and gules; an olive tree of 3 branches proper growing out of a mount or. Also the name Gio. Maria Colombo (xviith cent.) on f. 199.

Illustrations. These are confined to the initials of the books, and conform to the usual series. The work is of the usual type; if anything it differs for the better.

1—8. Jerome to Paulinus. Under trefoil arch, nimbed man seated, writes at desk.
Genesis. Border on 4 sides. That on l is the initial I. It contains 7 quatrefoils representing the six days of creation and the sabbath, and at the bottom is the Crucifixion, with the Virgin and S. John.

The Days of creation ; 1. Christ, beardless and cross-nimbed, as throughout, holds globe divided horizontally. 2. He holds globe divided into water and land. 3. He holds a tree. 4. He holds the sun and moon. 5. He holds a bird and a fish (?). 6. He creates Eve. 7. He sits blessing. The other 3 sides of the border are Italian work of cent. xv., throughout rather rough, and much damaged. At the bottom, in a wreath supported by gems, are the arms described above.

9. Exod. Moses leads two Jews by the hand ; all in pointed caps.
10. Lev. Moses, horned, offers lamb at altar ; God's head above.
11. Num. Christ speaks to Moses, horned, with tables of Law.
12. Deut. Moses, as above, speaks to a Jew.
13. Jos. 2 Jews kneel : Christ's head in the sky.
14. Jud. as Jos.
15. Ruth. Above, Elimelech with bundle on shoulder ; below, Naomi and her sons with staves, all walk R.
16. 1 Reg. Elkanah (or Eli), and Hannah who kneels at the door of Tabernacle with lamp hanging over altar.
17. 2 Reg. A man beheads the Amalekite.
18. 3 Reg. David in bed ; a man brings Abishag before him.
19. 4 Reg. Ahaziah falls out of a tower.
20. 1 Par. 3 men seated.
21. 2 Par. Solomon kneels at door of tabernacle (as in 1 Reg.).

6. NOVUM TESTAMENTUM.

Vellum, size 9 × 6, ff. 203, double columns. Cent. xii. Purchased 1891 at the Hailstone Sale. ? Italian.

The ornament consists merely of initials to the books: but these are very handsome and of an archaic type. The best is perhaps that to S. Mark's Gospel.

The modern division into chapters, and the initials of the sections, are in red and apparently added by a hand of cent. xiii. The order of the books is Gospels.

Acts.
Apocalypsc.
Catholic Epistles.
Pauline Epistles.

Two hands appear to be employed. The Synoptic Gospels and the first 12 chapters of the Acts are written in paragraphs in a large hand. The rest is written continuously in a smaller hand, with more lines to the column (32 as opposed to 28).

The object seems to be that the whole work, and each group of books, may be got into 100 or 50 leaves respectively.

Collation. A—K⁸, L¹⁰, M¹², N⁸, O⁸, P—R¹⁰, S⁴, T⁶, V—Z¹⁰, AA⁶ (wants a blank) (203 leaves).

7. ÈVANGELIA.

Vellum, size 6 $\frac{3}{8}$ × 4 $\frac{5}{8}$, ff. 125, 27 lines to a page. xiith century. Presented by Samuel Sandars, M.A., Trinity College, Oct. 18, 1892.

Collation. a^{8+1} (Ex testimoniis), $b-p^8$, q^4 . 125 leaves: the quires are marked by a minuscule letter on the last leaf of each, which is often cut away.

The provenance is fully marked. The words liber sc̄e marie de camberone are written in red on the last leaf, and a later hand has written de camberone on the lower margin of at least one leaf in every quire. This monastery is Cambron, in the diocese of Cambrai, near Tournay, a Cistercian house founded in 1148. (Gallia Christiana III. 171.)

The only ornamentation in the volume—apart from the beautiful writing—is the arched framework, divided by columns with rude Corinthian capitals, under which the Eusebian canons are arranged. This is neatly done and, though not rich, produces a good effect. The whole volume is an interesting one, as a humbler descendant of the rich early Gospel-books.

8. EVANGELIARIUM.

Vellum, size $10\frac{3}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 256 + 4, large hand, 16 lines to a page. Cent. xv. Original stamped binding, with brass bosses. Purchased in 1891. Italian (Milanese).

This MS is very finely written, with rubrics and good initials. It contains the Gospels for the year. After f. 204 is inserted a leaf of paper, and after f. 221 is inserted a printed slip Rosarii Virginis. The last lection is: In solemnitate beatissimi patris nostri Bernardi Abbatis. This has, on f. 252^b, a lovely initial, the only historiated one in the MS.

S. Bernard in white standing face R. with open book held in both hands, and pastoral staff. The grounding lilac with gold pattern.

On f. 254 sqq. is the "Benedictio cerei paschalis" noted. F. 259 has in a slightly later hand (a) suffrages at the reading of the Gospel, (b) an enumeration of the parts of the world visited by each of the Apostles, (c) the following colophon, shewing the provenance of the MS:

Iste Liber Euangeliorum est sancte Marie careuallis de Mediolano, quem si quis furatus fuerit uel malitiose retinuerit a Christo in perpetuum anathema sit

Two pieces of a slightly earlier Missal are in the binding of this MS.

Collation. i—xxv¹⁰, xxvi⁴, xxvii⁴. The old foliation is wrong.

9. BIBLE HISTORIAL.

Vellum, size $15\frac{3}{4} \times 11$, ff. 423, in quires of 8 leaves, one blank leaf gone at the end; double columns of 56 lines each. Cent. xiv. Acquired in 1814.

The Latin original of this book was written by Petrus Comestor (Pierre le Mangeur) of Troyes, who died in 1198 at the Abbey of S. Victor in Paris.

The French version contained in this MS is that by Guiart des Moulins, a canon of S. Pierre d'Aire (near S. Omer), made between 1291 and 1294.

It is practically a French Bible, with glosses and supplements to the narrative. There are further several distinct tracts inserted. After 'le grand Job' comes an abridgment of the book, called 'le petit Job.' Tobit is followed by 'Jeremie, ezechiel susanne et daniel,' a narrative of the lives of these prophets, together with the additions to Daniel. Esther has an appendix often called (as here) the 'livre du roi Ochum' (= Artaxerxes Ochus) which briefly recounts the history from Ochus to Antiochus Epiphanes.

In this copy the Psalter is present, though very commonly omitted. It is here followed by the Cantica and Litany.

In the Litany the following saints are to be noted :

Apostle: Ursin; Martyrs: SS. Merri, Lienart; Confessors: SS. Mello, Grant, Romain, Souplice, Seruais, ... Aubin, Maximien, Philibert, Vaast, Vaudrille, Yves; Virgins: SS. Oportune, Genevieve, ... Colombe, Gemine, Anastaise, Becheust.

Ursin belongs to Bourges, Oportune to Paris, Mello and Romain to Rouen, Seruais, Vaast and Vaudrille to the extreme N.-E. of France.

Marks of ownership. On the first and last leaves are written 'Donay.' I cannot identify this name.

On a fly leaf at the end is Donné en 1700 par Mons^r L'Abbé d'henin, aussi recommandable par son mérite, que par son Illustre Naissance.

The illuminated work in this copy, though in good preservation, is decidedly rough and poor.

1—5. Large miniature occupying half a page : gold ground : in five compartments.

1. MATHEUS, seated. A winged man by him with scroll: RECUNBFALI.

2. MARCUS. Winged lion with scroll: CUM NATUS ESSET.

3. LUCAS. Winged ox: scroll: FUIT•IN•DIEBUS.

4. Eagle with scroll, IOHANNES. John with scroll: IN PRINCI•ERAT.

5. On a red and gold diaper: Christ seated. His left hand on a white orb with cross, his right blessing a wafer on a cloth over a gold chalice on a credence. Above, two angels stretching out a diapered cloth.

2. fol. 2 a. Initial. The Abp of Sens receiving this book from the writer. A monk stands by.

3. fol. 2 b. Initial. Gold ground. The writer with a book open before him.

4. fol. 3 a. Genesis. Chequered ground. Creation of Light. Christ stands by a dark globe surrounded by a ring of light.

5. ib. Genesis. Chequered ground. Christ, with compasses, dividing the globe, which is now light.

6. fol. 3 b. Genesis. Gold ground. Christ with book, dividing water from land, on which are trees.

7. fol. 4 a. Genesis. ,, Christ, with outstretched arms, fixes sun and moon in the clouds.

8. fol. 4 b. Genesis. ,, Creation of Fish. Like no. 6, but with the addition of fish in the water.

9. fol. 5 a. Genesis. ,, Christ with book. Before him animals, horse, ox, lion?, dog?, deer.

10. fol. 6 b. Genesis. ,, Christ breathes through a red trumpet into the ear of Adam, seated among trees. By him are five streams.

12. fol. 8 a. Genesis. Expulsion. Angel with sword. Eve. Adam, bearded. Two trees with fruit.

13. fol. 8 b. Genesis. Chequered ground. Conviction of Cain. Christ with book. Cain in red, with spade. Lying behind is Abel in bluish gray, spots of blood on his face.

14. fol. 10 b. Genesis. The Ark, a castellated gray edifice on the water. No figures. Four oars on each side. It has two porches. The tiling is partly red partly blue.

15. fol. 12 b. Initial: Shame of Noah: the usual scheme.

16. fol. 13 a. Initial: Tower of Babel, two figures. One directs, one works with a hatchet.

17. fol. 15 b. Chequered ground. Sacrifice of Abraham (Gen. xv.). He is on the left with two sheep, an ox, and two doves: a beardless head of Christ with crossed nimbus speaks to him out of a cloud.

18. fol. 17 a. The three angels. Abraham at the door of his house.

19. fol. 25 a. Initial: Laban (old) conversing with Jacob.

20. fol. 26 b. Jacob wrestling with a red-winged angel who has gold nimbus.
21. fol. 28 a. Selling of Joseph. Nine of his brothers face R. Joseph a small figure in the midst. Facing L. are four old men (merchants) with covered heads, arguing.
22. fol. 29 b. Gaoler with two keys points to a dungeon. Joseph's head seen at the window.
23. fol. 35 a. Exodus. c. i. Six men talking at the door of a building. Here the folio numbering ceases, the book is paged in pencil from this point.
24. Exodus, c. xxxiv. Moses, horned, receives the tables from Christ in the burning bush. This is a thorough confusion of the two scenes. Christ holds a book and has a cross nimbus. Moses' boots are seen in the foreground.
25. Exodus, c. lxxv. Plan of the camp in red ink.
26. Leviticus, c. i. Gold ground. Five elders, two offer lambs at a draped altar. Christ's bust in clouds above. This picture is slightly larger.

10. THE NEW TESTAMENT IN FRENCH.

Vellum, size $10\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 220, double columns of 29 lines each. Cent. xv (1480). Acquired in 1810.

Contents :

Books i.—iv.	The four Gospels
Book v.	The Pauline Epistles
Book vi.	The Acts of the Apostles

Book vii.	The Catholic ('Canonical') Epistles
Book viii.	The Apocalypse

Each of these 'books' being headed by a miniature.

Marks of ownership. (1) On the last page is this colophon. Explicit l'apocalypse et semblablement le nouveau testament lequel a fait coppier et mettre en ceste forme la tres noble et excellente dame madalene princesse de vienne fille et seur de roys de France. Scriba Anthon de Rivo.

The lady in question was daughter of Charles VII and sister of Louis XI, and married Gaston de Foix. She died in 1486. Her arms occur in some of the borders. She quarters Navarre, Foix, Béarn, Évreux, and Bigorre, dimidiate with the arms of France. (2) Colleg. Flexiens. Soc. Jesu. on the first page. This is La Flèche on the Loire.

This college was founded by Henri IV (a descendant of Madalene) in 1603. (3) In 1706 the rector, De La Fare, gave the MS to Concanet.

The work is very good of its time though rather decadent.

Collation. In quires of 8 leaves, except the first, which is of 4.

1. Matthew sits writing at desk with lectern on it. Angel reads from open book on desk.
 2. Mark writes in room with large window. Lion at feet. Landscape outside.
 3. Luke writes in room at desk under canopied wooden throne: a round desk with books is near, at foot of which lies the ox.
 4. John writes, on a peaked island, with eagle by him. Landscape, bridge and two boats. Arms on border.
 5. Epistles of Paul. Paul in pulpit preaches to crowd, including Peter as pope, with key, Emperor, King of France, Cardinal, Bishop, white and black monks, and doctor in red.
 6. Acts. A nimbed beardless youth in chair, writes on scroll A VN LV DEDHN. By him sits an older bearded capped man, also with scroll.
 7. Catholic Epistles. S. James, half length, seated, with patriarchal cross, open book, mitred and coped.
- Initial: Peter, half length, with key.
8. Apocalypse. Bust of John, nimbed, a good head.

11. BIBLIA FIGURATA.

Vellum, size 6 × 4, ff. 83, 4 rows of pictures on a page. Cent. xv (1490-1500). German work. Presented by S. Sandars, M.A., Trinity College, Oct. 18, 1892.

Collation. a^{10+1} (fly-leaf) $b^{10} c^{10} d^{12} e-h^{10}$; 83 leaves.

The volume belonged in 1828 to Count Peter de Salis of 'Neunbourg in der Schweiz,' and was sold at Ellis's sale at Sotheby's, in Nov. 1885.

* This curious book is a sort of Hieroglyphic Bible. It contains a pictured representation of the contents of every chapter of every book in the Latin Bible, from Genesis to the Apocalypse (not including 2 Esdras). Nearly every page has 10 pictures of a circular or square form. Above each are written, usually in red, the opening words of the chapter, and the picture contains a rudely drawn and coloured illustration of the contents of the chapter. The principal colours employed are green, red, blue and yellow.

An almost contemporary hand has written copious explanations in Latin on the pictures from Gen. i. to 1 Sam. xvii.: after that point they are added much more sparsely.

It would not be worth while to describe each of the pictures. Two books will suffice as specimens of this very curious and interesting volume.

2 Chronicles :

1. Confortatus est igitur Salomon. Solomon's head, and his hands joined in prayer : above on R., rays from a cloud. The Vision of Solomon.
2. Decrevit autem Salomon edificare. Two hands joined in supplication : Solomon's letter to Hiram is indicated.
3. Et cepit Salomon edificare. A green curtain on a pole : i.e. the veil of the temple.
4. Fecit quoque altare encum .xx cubitorum. A large and a small brazen laver.
5. Intulit igitur Salomon omnia que uoverat. Three trumpets : on R. the end of the ark seen in an archway.
6. Tunc Salomon ait: Dominus pollicitus. A hand blessing : on R. a cloud from which fire descends on an altar.
7. Mactavit igitur rex Salomon hostias (vii. 5). A green banner held out of a window in a tower : on R. a cloud shedding rain, i.e. prayer for rain.
8. Expletis autem .xx annis. A walled city, a tower with a crane on it : on R. a river and a ship. Solomon's buildings and commerce.
9. Regina quoque Sabba. Two gold vessels : a steel weapon thrust against a gold shield.
10. Profectus est autem Roboam. A yoke : a hand throwing a stone (at Adoram).
11. Venit autem Roboam in Ierusalem. A walled city : a tower with a crane on it. One of the fenced cities of Judah (xi. 5—12).
12. Cumque roboratum fuisset. A mailed arm (that of Shishak) taking a sack (of treasure) out of an archway.
13. Anno xviii regis Ieroboam. Two green hills : on the R. a lantern and a helmeted head speaking. The speech of Abijah to Israel, in which he mentions the golden lamp.

14. Dormiuit autem Abia cum patribus. A hand (Asa's) laid on an altar : a mailed negro (Zerah) prostrate, pierced with a sword.

15. Asarias autem filius Obed. Two mailed arms with battle axes (Israel and Judah) fighting.

16. Anno autem xxxvi regni eius. A pair of legs in the stocks : those of Hanani who was imprisoned by Asa.

17. Regnavit autem Iosaphat filius eius. A hand holding a cup of money. The tribute of the Philistines.

18. Fuit ergo Iosaphat dives. A head with large iron horns (that of Zedekiah son of Chenaanah) : a green frog (lying spirit) comes out of its mouth : on R. an arrow entering a mailed man's back (Ahab's).

19. Reuersus est autem Iosaphat. Two sceptres crossed. Seemingly this indicates a peaceful interval : it occurs not unfrequently.

20. Post hec congregati sunt. Two mailed men fighting (Judah against Ammon and Moab).

21. Dormiuit autem Iosaphat. A hand with an open letter inscribed Helias regi : Elijah's letter to Jehoram.

22. Constituerunt autem habitatores. A hand (Jehu's) plunging a sword into the roof of a house (Ahab's).

23. Anno autem vii confortatus. A crowned queen (Athaliah) held by the neck and stabbed.

24. vii annorum erat Ioas cum regnare. A hand (Joash's) putting money into a box with a slit in the lid, on the roof of the temple.

25. Viginti v annorum erat Amasias. A hand (that of Amaziah) holding fire towards a calf on a column.

26. Omnis autem populus Iuda filium eius Oziam. A heart on a column (Uzziah's heart was 'lifted up') : a hand (Uzziah's) holding a censer.

27. xxv annorum erat Iotham cum regnare. A trowel and a hatchet, signifying Jotham's building operations.

28. xx annorum erat Ahas. Two altars. Ahas built altars 'in every corner of Jerusalem.'

29. Igitur Ezechias regnare. A hand emptying blood out of a jug with a lid, before a flaming altar (v. 24).

30. Misitque Ezechias ad. A hand with a maniple on the wrist blessing : the word populo beneath it : on R. an altar (idolatrous) full of cracks.

31. Cumque hec fuissent rite. A hand with a raised club : a broken idol on a column, and a cracked altar. Idols destroyed.

32. Postque et huiusmodi ueritatem. A mailed arm holding a letter (Sennacherib's).

33. Duodecim annorum erat. A hand holding a chain attached to another hand (Manassch's) : a hand with trowel touching (restoring) an altar.

34. Octo annorum erat Iosias cum. A flaming altar : an open book (that of the Law).

35. Fecit autem Iosias phase. A man (Josiah) in mail : two arrows in his back.

36. Tulit ergo populus terre Ioachaz. A city (Jerusalem) in flames.

37. ? Prayer of Manassch. Domine deus omnipotens. Two hands joined in prayer.

Epistle to the Galatians :

1. Paulus apostolus non. A beardless head with protruded lips : above, the words Aliter evangelizans, one of the false teachers.

2. Deinde post annos quatuor. The head and hand of Paul, speaking to Peter whose head is on R. Above is a knife, and the words Non Titum (sc. circumcides).

3. O insensati Gallathe quis. A raised hand : on R. a figure on a Tau-cross, above it, two stars. 'Cursed is everyone that hangeth on a tree.'

4. Dico autem quanto tempore heres. A heart : in it a nimbed dove, saying Abba pater. On R. a mountain inscribed Syon : see vv. 6, 26.

5. State et nolite iterum iugo. A wooden tub with a cover : in allusion to the 'little leaven'; it seems to be a vessel full of dough.

6. Si spiritu uivimus spiritu et ambulemus. Non efficiamur (vv. 25, 26). A man with a pack on his back (bearing another's burden) : a face with protruded tongue ('provoking one another') : a hand (Paul's) with a wound in the palm ('I bear the marks of the Lord Jesus').

The whole number of drawings is 1343.

Rota to find Easter	f. 10
Psalter	f. 12 b
Cantica	f. 201
Litany	f. 218
Office of the Dead	f. 224

History. In the Kalendar, a late hand inserts at May 21 'Obitus ffulconis Basset Episcopi Londinensis' (1244-59). The Kalendar inserts SS. Kynceburga, Kyneswitha and Tibba¹, and they are besides invoked in the Litany, as also Guthlac, Botulf, etc. The Feast of the Relics is on Oct. 21. The provenance is most likely Peterborough or its neighbourhood.

The work of the finest kind and of the best period of Anglo-French work. It is only to be regretted that the book is, comparatively speaking, a plain one.

The initials DAR are on the sixth cent. binding.

Collation. In quires of 8 leaves (two leaves lost; sig. B seems to consist of 4 leaves, but possibly has lost some leaves), no catch-words or signatures. A⁸ B¹ C⁸ etc.

1. Fly leaf (recto of Frontispiece to Psalm i.). Crucifixion with the Virgin and S. John. The Ground gold, punctured in patterns: the Cross green: the Sun, flames on a red disc: the Moon, a red disc with crescent on it: the Virgin with book, blue robe under pink and white, white headcloth, leans her head on her hand: S. John, with hands clasped, feet apart, in scarlet, under dark purple and white: Christ's drapery blue with red dots. Three nails are used. The Frame is red, outside blue.

2. Beatus vir. Full page initial B. a. Punctured gold ground. Christ seated, full face, a cloud hides his feet. Chalice in left hand. He is blessing and has cross-nimbus. Robe, blue, over white, gold collar.

b. Two crowned women (probably Mercy and Truth) talking, each with book and flowering sceptre.

3. Dominus illuminatio. Floriated Initial }
 4. Dixi custodiam. Floriated } on ground of burnished gold: very
 5. Quid gloriaris. Floriated } fine work.

6. Dixit insipiens. David and Goliath, a tree between them. Gold ground. David with stones in robe, slinging, Goliath in blue mail, his sword raised over his head, with casque and shield, girdle and scabbard. A leaf gone at Saluum me fac, Ps. lxxvii.

7. Exultate. Floriated on gold ground. Upper half has lion and ox. Lower, David with sword attacking lion. A leaf is gone at Cantate Domino, Ps. xcvi.

8. Dñe exaudi. Plain gold ground. Above, architecture; below, an abbot in blue cope, white inside, and black habit, with pastoral staff approaches an altar draped in pink and white over blue, with cross and candle. He genuflects. Behind him a monk with book. A lamp hangs from roof.

9. Dixit dñs. Initial D: with silver-tailed peacock at the top. The circle has in it a quatrefoil on gold ground. Christ seated on throne, blessing with the right hand, a book in the left: drapery blue and yellow over pink, with gold collar.

A leaf is lost before f. 224.

13. PSALTER.

Vellum, size $8\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 164, 22 lines to a page. Cent. xiii (1280). Presented by Samuel Sandars, M.A., Trinity College, Oct. 18, 1892.

In gatherings of 8 leaves, except the first, which has 6.

Contents:

Kalendar, in red and black	f. 1
Psalter (in an earlier hand)	7
Cantica „ „	126
Litany „ „	138
Vigils of the Dead (in a slightly later hand)	141 b
O intemerata (in a later hand)	163 b

History and Provenances. The Kalendar contains a few noteworthy saints, e.g. Cuthbert, Eutropius, Passio S. Pancratii, Dunstan, Florentia, Consortia, Alban, Martial Ep. Conf., Oswald, Taurinus, Philibert, Geremanus Abb. (Sept. 24 = S. Germer), Firmin, Benedicta, Pancratius, and his Octave, Aquilinus Ep., Quintin M., Valentine and Hilarius (Nov. 3, duplex), Florus Ep. Conf. (Nov. 4), Anianus and Gregorius Epp., Edmund Reg. M., Columbanus, Depositio S. Byrini (Dec. 3).

In the Litany, the preponderance of English saints is greater: we have SS. George, Alban, Amphibalus, Edmund, Kenelm, Oswald (Martyrs): Samson, Augustine, Dunstan, Suithan, Cuthbert, Philobert (Confessors): Columba, Genovefa, Maldrida (Mildred), Fredeswida, Etheldrida, Sexburga, Ermenilda, Athelburga, Editha (Virgins).

The explanation of this difference between Kalendar and Litany lies in the fact that the two are of different dates. The Kalendar points to North France; e.g. Taurinus and Aquilinus belong to Évreux, S. Germer has a great Church near Beauvais: the Litany, on the other hand, points decidedly to England.

On the lower margin of f. 7 is a note in a xivth century hand:

E. 8. h.

iste liber est domus montis sancti ludouici prope nouiomum ordinis carthusiani.

This was a house founded in 1300 by Reginald de Roze and Agnes his wife. The site, near Noyon, was formerly called Mons de Hairimonte. The house was burnt down in 1404. (Le Couteulx Annal. Ord. Cart. iv. 477.)

In later times, the MS was bound in France (cir. 1780): it then passed into the Library of the Duke of Sussex: a description of it will be found in Pettigrew's Bibliotheca Sussexiana I. ciii. Subsequently it belonged to the Rev. J. Fuller Russell, F.S.A., and was bought by Quaritch at his sale at Sotheby's, June 26, 1885. It was exhibited in 1874 at the Burlington Fine Arts Club, and is described in the Art Journal for 1874, p. 138.

The writing is very fine, and the burnished gold-work of the first class: the figure-drawing not so good. Every Psalm, and almost every verse, has an initial in gold. There are only two figured subjects:

1. Beatus Vir. In the initial is King David, seated, playing on a harp; on the throne beside him lies a fiddle, and another hangs by him on L. The rest of the letter contains several animals and grotesques.

2. Dixit Dominus. In the initial is the Trinity: the Father and Son are seated; the Father has an orb divided into three parts, the Son a book; the Dove descends vertically between them from a cloud.

Besides these, there are large initials to the Seven Nocturnes, and to Quid gloriaris and Domine exaudi, and these contain the finest work in the book.

The Kalendar and Vigils of the Dead are in a French hand, as I think, and the ink used here is much blacker than that of the Psalter and Cantica.

14. PSALTER.

Vellum, size $8\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 270 + 2 blank, 16 lines to a page. Cent. xv. Acquired in 1815.

Contents:

Kalendar	f. 1 b
Psalter	f. 14
Cantica, followed by Te Deum , Quicumque vult , and Litany	f. 243

Marks of ownership. On the fly-leaf under the drawing described below is à religieuse de Gesuay pres Bethune.

The style and the saints in the Litany also point to French Flanders as the provenance. In the Litany we have, Martyrs: SS. Gillenus, Johannes, Nichasius, Lambert; Confessors: Aman-dus, Vedastus; Virgins: Aldegundis, Gertrudis.

The binding is original, and remarkable. The stamps on it are: a pelican in piety, a child drinking, a phoenix (?) and a stag.

The work is rather poor and not remarkable, save for the gold grounds, e.g. in No. 1.

Collation. A⁶ B⁸: the remaining quires all of 8 leaves, with catchwords + 2 blank leaves at end.

A late drawing is pasted on the fly-leaf, torn at the bottom. It is a design for the title-page of a life of S. Wautrude, patron of Mons. The following saints are represented on it: S. Wautrude, S. Aubert, S. Guislain, S. Landric, S. Vincent, S. Aldegonde, S. Aldetrude, S. Madelberte; and there is one small scene of four men feasting. The bottom of the drawing is torn off.

1. Psalm i. Half page. Border. King David, throned, playing his harp; fine pattern on gold ground.

2. Psalm xxvi. Dns illuminatio. King David kneels, in a landscape, and points to his eye. His harp lies by him. Christ, with orb and cross, appears.

3. Psalm xxxviii. Dixi custodiam. Similar scene, but smaller. David here points to his lips, and a book replaces the harp. [Quid gloriaris has a border.]
4. Psalm lii. Dixit insipicus. The Fool, with a green branch or club, eats an apple. Christ admonishes him.
5. Psalm lxxviii. Salvum me fac. David, crowned, naked, in water. Christ appearing with globe and flesh-coloured tunic.
6. Psalm lxxx. Exultate deo. Christ above. Below, David in a palace, plays five bells with two hammers. Starred, vaulted roof above.
7. Psalm xcvi. Cantate dno. Four priests singing at lectern. Starred, vaulted roof.
[Psalm ci. Dne exaudi, has a border.]
8. Psalm cix. Dixit dus. Italian Trinity.

15. PSALTER ACCORDING TO THE USE OF ROME.

Vellum, size $7\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 148, 22 lines to a page. Cent. xv (1460?). Italian. Acquired in 1814.

Contents :

The Psalter	f. 1
Canticles, ending with Quicumque vult	f. 137

Collation. In quires of 8 leaves : sig. C wants 4 and 5, G wants 1, N wants 4 : four leaves in all.

There seem to be no marks of ownership. There is a blank space for a shield in the border of f. 1.

The title is : Incipit psalmista secundum consuetudinem Romane curie ad laudem omnipotentis dei patris at filii et spiritus sancti. This, and the rest of the first page is written in dead gold.

1. f. 1 a. Bordered; mainly green arabesques on blue ground. A gold medallion of a female head on R. At bottom, three compositions : (1) in gold on purple, David standing on Goliath's head. (2) Four genii in a landscape; the two inner ones support horns of plenty surrounding a blank shield; the two outer ones play a pipe and some sort of drum (?). (3) coloured as (1) : half-length of David crowned, with scroll and pen.

2. In the text is a miniature of extreme delicacy. David, crowned, in yellow mantle over red robe, seated on a rock, plays a psalter with two plectra. The landscape behind him is of great beauty.

The border to Dominus illuminatio is gone; a slight impression remains on f. 20.

3. f. 34. Dixi custodiam. Coarser border on gold ground, blank medallion below. Initial. Turbaned man walking in a landscape.

The border to Dixit insipicus is gone; just traceable on f. 46 b.

4. f. 59. Salvum me fac. Border of mediocre execution on white ground. Initial. David half-length, standing in water, faces L. and prays.

5. f. 150. Exultate. Border with gold medallion of Roman emperor's head on R. Initial. David, half-length, looking downward, plays on a psaltery.

6. f. 90. Cantate. Border with white ground. Initial. Three youths in caps singing out of one book.

The border to Dixit dominus is gone: impression on f. 104 b.

At least two hands have been at work here. The first and best has done the title-page and the three last initials. A second did the second border and possibly the remaining border also; but these might possibly be inferior work by the first hand, or the work of a third.

Oct. 22. Dedicatio ecclesie de Assherugg (=Ashridge) d. f. in gold, the octave in red.

To this church (or to Berkhamstead Priory) the MS no doubt belonged.

There are no miniatures: but there are at the divisions of the Psalter very fine initials of characteristic English work, pink, blue

17. PSALTER.

Vellum, size $6\frac{3}{8} \times 4\frac{3}{8}$, ff. 225, 22 lines to a page, in quires of 8 leaves, except the last, which has 2: wanting M¹ and six (?) leaves at the end. Cent. xv (1480-90). English writing, and foreign illumination of low quality. Purchased in 1891 from the Trustees of the Brent Eleigh Library (in Suffolk). Binding, English, of cent. xvii: one brass clasp is left.

On the fly-leaf is the name of Fane Edge, a member of the Westmoreland family, and the date 1720: this person was the possessor of all the MSS formerly in the Brent Eleigh Library.

Contents :

Psalter	f. 1
Cantica	202

1. Beatus Vir. Initial, with a blue ground, and border round two sides of the page, with a pattern in pink on dead gold. In the initial is the Agony in the Garden; in front, the three disciples asleep; in the centre, Christ kneels, facing a rock on L; behind, Judas enters through a gate in a railing, followed by soldiers.

2. Dominus illuminatio. Border as before, gold on pink. Initial: Christ faces R. and looks at Judas in yellow, who is held by two soldiers.

3. Dixi custodiam. Border. Initial: Annas in cap and robes, which he reads, is seated on L. Before him Christ, held by two men, one with raised hand.

Quid gloriaris has a larger decorative initial than the rest.

4. Dixit insipiens. Border. Gold on blue and pink on gold. Initial: Christ seated in a room on a long seat. Two men, standing, press the crown of thorns on his head with crossed staves.

Saluum me fac. The leaf containing the initial has been torn out; a corner of the border is left. It must have shown the Crucifixion.

5. Exultate. Border. Initial: Christ, with Resurrection-cross, stands before the tomb. There are four guards, all seated, with their backs turned, in large helmets.

6. Cantate. Border, with daisies on pink ground. Initial: the Ascension. The Apostles and Virgin kneel, facing, in two groups. The mound in the midst. Christ's feet disappearing above.

Domine exaudi (ci.) has larger decorative initial.

7. Dixit Dominus. Border with daisy and strawberries on ground of pink, gold and blue, geometrically divided. Initial: the Last Judgment, Christ seated on the bow, the globe under his feet. Lily on the l. and sword on the rt. in air. Below, seven people rising.

The Psalms are followed by the Cantica, ending with Quicumque vult, and these by a fragment of the Litany occupying two pages, and ending in the prayer Anime famulorum famularumque tuarum etc. Not more than six leaves at most seem to be gone.

18. PSALTERIUM B. V. MARIAE.

Vellum, size $7\frac{3}{4} \times 5$, ff. 53, 21 lines to a page. Cent. xvi (1520). Acquired in 1806. The hand is Roman.

Marks of ownership. On f. 1 a is: 'Ce livre est a Madame Loise de Lorraine, Abbess de notre Dame de Soisson,' the italicised words being written over an erasure. Mr Searle notes from Gallia Christiana in loc. (ix. 447) that Mme de Lorraine was Abbess from 1594–1643, and adds, no doubt correctly, that the erasure probably contained the name of her predecessor Catherine de Bourbon (1539–1594).

The credit of adapting the Psalms to the purposes of devotion to the Virgin has been usually assigned to S. Bonaventura.

The work is poor, the writing very good.

Collation. A⁶ (+ 1a Frontispiece) B⁸—E⁸ F¹⁴ (53 leaves), signatures in upper left-hand corner.

P. 1. No. 1. Full page. Virgin among emblems. She is in white, with joined hands, and surrounded by rays. Blue ground with stars. Half-length of Christ with orb, blessing, above her. 2. Domina illuminatio. Visitation: Virgin, Elizabeth, Joseph, Zacharias by house-gate in landscape.

3. Dixi custodiam. Mary and Joseph, two angels, ox and ass in stable, adore Christ. Three shepherds outside a fence.

4. Dixit insipiens. Three shepherds and woman. Dog, sheep, tree, house. On R. Angel half-length in cloud, with Gloria in excelsis on scroll. Fire in background.

5. Salvum. Magi, Joseph behind, dog, star in sky. Troop of horses wait in background.

6. Exultate. Presentation in temple, with altar, and tables of law over it. Symeon, mitred and nimbed, puts Christ into gold font; he is held by Joseph; Virgin, Priests, and Spectators.

7. Cantate. Massacre of the Innocents before Herod, who sits full face on throne. Nurse brings dead child to Herod. Dead children on floor. Two mothers. Soldiers.

End of f. r.

This flower was guarded by angels: it had been brought from Paradise, from the tree of which Eve had eaten. Abraham (having seemingly found the seed) planted it in his garden, and then came a voice to him, and God appeared in the form of an angel. Abraham was so astonished that he fell to the earth. When he came to himself (1 b, col. 2) God said: You have a tree here on which I shall be crucified: and of this flower a knight shall be born of whom shall come the mother of the maid who shall bear the Son of God. How, said Abraham, can a knight be born of a flower? You shall know hereafter, said God; and He departed. Now Abraham had a daughter of ten years old and very fair, who walked in the garden every morning. One day she came to the holy tree and gathered the flower (fol. 2 a. 1) and smelt it, and by the smell she became pregnant: and when her mother found this out, she reviled her. The girl told her what had happened, and she went and told Abraham. They were in great distress and determined to conceal the matter. But (2 b) there were two servants who had overheard the mother's words, and went and told the Jewish authorities. They held a 'parlement' and sent for Abraham's daughter. They threatened her with stoning, and, as she showed no fear, determined to burn her. So a huge fire was made, and as she was led to it she prayed:

Mais ce nos dist iheremias
Et moyses et elyas
Que tu venras le mont sauuer, etc.

and then entered the fire. Her mother (fol. 3 a) would have followed, but Abraham held her back. Then God turned the pyre to flowers—roses, lilies and eglantine, and the sparks and flames became singing birds. The girl's mother embraced her with joy. The spot was then called 'camp flori' and there God will judge the world. [The meaning of this story is then explained.] The parents then took counsel (f. 3 b) and determined to marry the daughter to a rich knight called Bauduin de Kike, but she scouted the idea. Then a child was born to her called S. Phanuius (Phaniel) who was so much favoured of God that he became a king. He was very charitable. Now he had certain apples (whence, we are not told) which healed every disease. And one day as he sat in his hall on a 'kiolte de sendal,' he sent his seneschal for the apples that he might give some to the poor and sick (fol. 4 a). Three apples and a knife were brought; he cut them in pieces and distributed them; a drop of the juice remained on the knife blade, and when he saw it he wiped it off on his thigh. His thigh swelled and became exceedingly painful; no physician could tell what was the matter. At last he took to his bed, and his thigh brought forth a female child. He was so ashamed that he sent a trusted knight to throw it away in a wood full of beasts. When the knight came to a rock, he was about to cut off the child's head, but a white dove came and sat on his shoulder and told him to hold his hand, for of that child a maid should be born of whom our Lord would take flesh and blood. So (4 b) the knight put the child in an oak tree, and returned to Phaniel and said he had killed her: and Phaniel recovered.

The child grew up in the tree and was fed every day by a beautiful stag for ten years. One day the king, and Joachim his seneschal, went out hunting. The stag met them and they pursued it to the oak-tree; just as Joachim was about to pierce it the child cried out to him not to do so. He looked about and saw a fair maiden in the tree.

Elle ses cheuiaus galounoit
A deus feus dor quele tenoit
Que ihūs cris li ot tramis
Par .i. angele de paradis.

Joachim inquired her name. 'It is Anne,' she said (fol. 5*a*): 'I never saw my father, but I see my mother coming this way. Tell him to come and speak to me.' Phaniel asked her who she was and she told him. Then Joachim asked for her in marriage, and she was given to him:

Ses noches furent moult vaillans
Ce nos thesmoigne sains iehans.

f. 5 a. col. 2. We leave S. Anne and turn to another story—that of Zacharias and Elizabeth and the Birth of John.

The story of Joachim and Anne is resumed on 6 a. col. 1 and continues to the birth of the Virgin.

7 b. At the conception of the Virgin S. Anne was at Nazariel and Joachim at Sanual. When she was born the palace was filled with light. It soon got about that a child had been born with three letters of gold in her right hand. The Jews came to Joachim and said that if the law was (8 a) to be destroyed by this child she must be burnt. Abraham took the child in his arms and looked at the letters. The first signified life and nobility, the second that she should have one child, at once her son and father, and the third that he should be king of the world: she should be called Mary.

She grew up. Joachim died. Mary lived with Anne, who sent her to school and taught her to read her psalter :

Cascun jour aloit au moustier.

S. Anne married baron Solomas and had by him one child, Mary.

8 b. Solomas died. S. Anne married Cleophas and had by him one child, Mary. The sons of the three Maries are then recounted.

9 a seems to begin a new division of the poem.

Or entendes pør dieu amor

The Virgin at 13 years old was in the temple, and had a psalter on her knee, and was just beginning her prayer when Gabriel appeared. The Annunciation. f. 9 b Christ's conception.

The marriage to Joseph. The miracles of the rod and dove.

f. 10 a. Joseph warned by the Angel. The Visitation.

f. 10 b. The naming and preaching of John. Joseph and Mary go to Bethlehem and take up their lodging in a cave. They wanted light.

f. 11 a. Joseph went to the inn for some fire. The landlord said he was a wicked old man and should have none. His wife was kinder. Joseph was not allowed to have any fire unless he carried it in his mantle. This was done and the coals all turned to roses, and then the man turned him out as an enchanter. Meanwhile the angels had come to the cave with tapers. Joseph thanked God and went to look for a woman. He met a girl.

Joseph garde vit vne femme
Vne pucele et vne gemme.
Qi fille a .i. iuis estoit
A .ii. vaissiaus a liaue aloit
La bele nule main nauoit

A cros de fer les soustenoit

f. 11 b. She came. The Virgin said 'biele ana(s)taise' you are welcome, I need your help. Anastasia said 'I have no hands.' 'Then,' said the Virgin, 'do the best you can.'

Anastaise plus ni alent

She recognised the Deity and returned home with joy. Her father was 'arceprestre' and inquired whence she had hands. 'From the Saviour,' she said, 'who is now born of a Virgin.'

Larceprestre fu moult crueus

The angels sang and the prophets in Hades, and Lucifer, heard them. They came to the shepherds (f. 12 a). The three kings, Melchior, Jaspas and Balicazar. They came (12 b) each leaving his kingdom, with Lescherpe au col et son bourdon.

They met, and went before Herod the Emperor of the Hebrews, and were questioned by him. His plan (13 a). The gifts and their meaning (13 b). Their renown.

Encor les voient chil qui vont

They were warned by the Angel.

The Presentation. Herod's anger and his consultation with the Jews (14 a). Bethlehem was guarded by the army. Joseph is warned to go to Pantopolis in Egypt. His flight, with a mule. His dialogue (14 b) with the guard at the gate who let him pass. The Massacre of the Innocents. Rachel (15 a) died of grief. Herod, diseased and angry, at last went out of his mind and strangled his wife and two children in bed. The eldest son, who had escaped, made the seneschal put his father into a caldron of boiling oil and hot wine. When Joseph got to Pantopolis (where —15 b—every one had an image in their chamber) all the images fell down.

The return. Christ and the doctors.

21. LEGENDA AUREA.

Vellum, size $5\frac{3}{8} \times 3\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 260, 23 ll. to a page in quires of 12 leaves: sig. xiii has had 2, 3, 4 cancelled: the last quire wants the 3rd leaf and 2 blank. Cent. xiii, purchased 1890. Binding stamped leather xvth cent. (?) clasps gone. A note at the beginning, in French, states that the MS is of the middle of cent. xiii, because it contains the life of S. Elizabeth of Hungary, canonised 1235, but not that of S. Louis, canonised 1297.

On the fly-leaves are written portions of the Commune sauctorum in a hand of cent. xiv, xv.

22. LEGENDA AUREA.

Vellum, size $15\frac{1}{2} \times 11\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 268, in quires of 8 leaves (one of 4) in French: double columns of 38 lines each. Cent. xv (1480). Acquired in 1803.

This French version is that made cir. 1330 by Jean de Vignay.

On f. 2 are arms, viz. Vairé of or and gules; upon that an escutcheon azure and over all a saltire argent.

On the shield is a helmet, on which is a hound's head, bearing on the ear gules a saltire argent, and on that an escutcheon azure.

The illustration of the book has not been completed. The last picture is on fol. 107, but there are many blank spaces before that. Some of these have marginal notes indicating the subject of the intended picture: see note A.

The work is North East French and very good at its best; but the artist is sometimes extremely unfortunate in his choice of colours.

The work does not contain the whole Legend. It comprises the following portions:

- | | | |
|-----|---|-----------|
| I. | Proprium de Tempore (i.e. the Legends for the seasons) from Advent to Pentecost, followed by the Ten commandments and Twelve articles of Faith | f. 1 |
| II. | Proprium de Sanctis . S. Andrew, Nov. 30 | f. 94 |
| | to S. Valerian (title only given) June 1 | f. 266 b. |

Following this is a statement of the divisions of the complete book on f. 267 and, lastly, a table of legends which would complete the work, none of which legends are given in the MS. This is on f. 268.

Legenda Aurea.

No. 1. Large miniature. Writer in berretta, red gown, blue cape with grey fur, writes at table, looking up. Bookshelves behind. A smaller figure—amanuensis—with scroll on knee, seated on right. Vaulted room. Candlestick and glass bottle on shelf, picture in frame; outside is seen a Landscape: figure looking over a wall into an orchard: dog: Church and town: in the sky Christ surrounded by Bishops and saints.

The border contains eight medallions.

NOTE A.

On f. 30 b (p. 10) is a blank space, which ought to contain a picture for Lent. There are faint traces of a sketch, and the following marginal note:

Coment nostre seigneur fut temple du diable ou desert et voloit quil muast vne pierre en pain et coment il le porta...temple.

In the sketch, the domed temple is seen on L. and a mountain on R.

A faint sketch and illegible note are on f. 33 b (p. 66) at the beginning of the Passion.

A similar sketch of the Resurrection on f. 44 b (p. 88).

A similar one on f. 52 b (p. 104) of a procession (?), for the 'Litanies.'

On f. 62 b (p. 124) a sketch of the Descent of the Holy Ghost (?).

On f. 76 b (p. 152) a marginal note. Comment le pretre prent le platine.

On f. 77 (p. 153). Two notes, (a) l'offrande, (b) le pretre se tourne (?).

f. 78 b (p. 156). comment...comment ly prestre baise lautel.

f. 81 (p. 161). comment il sencline dorman?

— b (p. 162). il ba(t) sa coupe. These five notes refer to the Mass.

f. 101 (p. 201). come st nicolay fu ne et comment il se drecha quant on le lauoit et puis comme il ieta vne masse dor par vne fenestre et puis comment le per des filles sen gligna (s'enclina) deven(t) st nicolay il nestoit point euesque. (These last words are a caution to the artist.)

f. 101 b (p. 202). Comment st nicolay fut fait euesque et comment il sa paru en vne nef qui perissoit.

f. 106 b (p. 212). Balaam le profete qui monstre lestoille. This illustrates the Conception of the Virgin.

In several other places there are traces of a note or of its erasure beside the completed picture.

23. SPECULUM HUMANAЕ SALVATIONIS.

Vellum, size $14\frac{3}{8} \times 10\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 48, cent. xv (1470). Acquired in 1812.

The text is preceded by a table of chapters and preface, occupying ff. 1, 2.

Prayers in French in a hand of cent. xvii have been added in the margin at the picture of the Annunciation and at those of the seven joys.

For a discussion of the Speculum Humanae Salvationis it may be well to refer the reader to Miss Stokes's Essay in Vol. ii. of the English edition of Didron's Christian Iconography. The fourteenth century is probably the true date of the poem, and some of the earliest copies are Italian in origin.

The MS before us is of Flemish work, and compares favourably with many copies of the Speculum in the British Museum, which are exceptionally rude in execution.

The use of burnished gold in this MS is almost confined to the first two leaves, whose decoration is, moreover, of an earlier style than the rest of the book.

There is a good deal of that stippled work in the pictures which seems characteristic of the Flemish style.

The pictures are of arched form, two at the top of each page: save in the description of the first picture it has not seemed worth while to give all the quotations from the Bible which accompany each of them.

It is to be noted that the pictures are arranged in groups of four. The first shews the antitype from the New Testament; the other three are the types prefiguring it.

Collation a⁴b⁸c⁶d¹⁰e⁴f¹⁰g⁶ = 48 leaves.

p. 1. Exquisite border and initial, gold with ivy leaf.

26. LIFE OF CHRIST IN ENGLISH VERSE.

Paper, size 7×5 , ff. 50, cent. xvii (1630–40). Presented in 1887 by S. Sandars, M.A., Trinity College; formerly in the Perry and Heber Collections.

This volume consists of a series of 25 engravings of the Life of Christ, from the Annunciation to the Ascension, interleaved with paper on which are written a series of 25 short poems in English, each describing the subject of a picture, and ending with a 'Meditation.'

The first begins

'See how this winged Messenger is sent ffrom Heaune to Earth, by God Omnipotent.'

They do not seem to have been printed.

The engravings have some of them the inscription 'are to be sould by Robert Peake.' This artist flourished in the first half of cent. xvii. Faithorne was among his pupils. See Bradshaw's Collected Papers, pp. 293–296.

27. BENEDICTIONAL.

Vellum, size $8\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{7}{16}$, ff. 82, 19 lines to a full page, cent. ix–x. Purchased at the Hamilton Sale May 23, 1889. Modern binding by P. Simier, gilt edges, lettered on the back Incipiunt Bnediction Du 12me Siecl(e). The upper corners in the middle and ends of the book are slightly damaged, otherwise the condition is excellent. The hand is a sloping minuscule of the 9th or early 10th century. The MS was no doubt written at an Irish monastery in Switzerland (f. 55 b). The titles are in red rustic capitals, the Amens sometimes in black and red rustic capitals. The opening words of each Benediction are in red uncials filled in with plain dabs or strokes of fluid gold.

The principal point of interest, however, lies in the large and small initials, of which there are a good many throughout the book.

These are of rich interlaced Celtic work, outlined in red and filled in with gold and silver. The latter has turned black, as usual.

Collation. The MS is in quires of 8 leaves, which are marked, on the lower margin of the last leaf in each, with a red capital letter: A—H^s, I^s (+ 2* placabilem), K^s (L)¹; 82 leaves (1–82).

The marks of ownership consist of (a) arms occurring on ff. 1, 135, 253, viz. Quarterly, 1 and 4 argent, three chevronels azure; 2 and 3 or, three pallets gules. These are surmounted by a mitre, and timbered on the sinister side by a pastoral staff: on the dexter side are two keys argent placed saltire-wise. (b) The initials F and R placed at the sides of the shield on ff. 135 and 253.

A terminus a quo for the date is the mention of the Emperor Sigismund in the Coronation office for an Emperor. He was crowned in 1433.

As to the quality of the work; it is less distinctly of the Italian type than is that of the Missal (No. 30). The quality is extraordinarily fine; the touch most delicate, the colouring beyond praise. It is probably the most beautiful MS in the collection.

Collation. Quires of 8 leaves, with signatures and catchwords. I⁶ (Table of Contents) a-z⁸, 9⁸, &⁸, A-F⁸, G⁴ aa-zz⁸, ZZ⁸, ff. 450; (1-6, 1-444).

1. fol. 1. Bordered: at the top, a crowned yhs in gold, on each side of arms; at bottom are trees with birds, one a goldfinch: grass and flowers, ending at the edge in rocks; a boy on each side. The one on the left, with a blue and scarlet cloak flying, plays a pipe: the other in light blue and gold plays a mandolin. Among the many birds in the border are a peacock, a duck, and a crested bird.

The initial to the first service (de crismandis pueris) is a P. The ground is chequered: on L. a Bishop in mitre, dark purple cappa with gold border and gloves, in a chair draped with green and set on an oriental carpet with a design of lions. He is anointing with his thumb the forehead of a boy in scarlet, light blue, and pink, presented by a parent in scarlet liripipe, tunic of green, lined with blue, and scarlet hose. The boy stands on his father's right foot. Another figure in blue holds the ligature. Other people with children fill the picture.

2. 4 a. Preface to ordinations. Init. Q (small), a Bishop, five tonsured men kneel before him. The ground is blue damask.

3. 6 a. Accessories to ordinations. The same ground: on an altar vested in white, with green and red frontal, are a candlestick and candle, two books, a gold chalice and wafer, four keys, two cruetts, and a round gold object (a 'bacile').

29. PONTIFICAL.

Vellum, size $13\frac{1}{2} \times 9\frac{3}{4}$ ff. iv + 390 + 8 of paper; double columns of 20 lines each, cent. xv (1490-1500). Acquired in 1812.

Contents:

Index	f. i
Personarum benedictiones et consecrationes	f. i

Consecrationes et benedictiones aliarum tam sacrarum quam prophanarum rerum	f. 138
Quaedam ecclesiastica officia	f. 267
Prayer to be said by a Priest vesting for Mass, in a later hand (cent. xvi) on paper	f. 391

Marks of Ownership. Arms (passim) Ermine, on a chief gules, an eagle displayed or; timbered with a crozier. Also a badge: a yoke white with gold clasps. On the xviiith cent. binding is, (a) a shield Quarterly, 1 and 4...a chevron or between three crescents of the same, two and one: 2 and 3...on a bend...the sun and crescent moon with a face or, (b) a later crest, a unicorn's head erased, surrounded by an English ducal coronet. These arms are those of Nicholas Richard, treasurer of the Hôtel Dieu in Paris, 1615. Gingard, Armorial du Bibliophile (1890), ii. 410. (J.H.M.)

The Litany (f. 16) invokes three peculiar saints. Martyrs Privatus (twice) and Fredaldus, who are of Mende, and a Virgin Enimia, probably Erimia of the Gévaudan, the district surrounding Mende. Durandus, the compiler of the Pontifical, was Bp of Mende, so that the evidence is not conclusive for assigning the execution of this MS to that district.

The work is rather above the average.

Collation. In quires of eight leaves, with catchwords, but no signatures. I⁴, i–xlvi⁸, xlix⁶, l⁸, 402 leaves.

No. 1, p. 1. De chrismandis pueris. Bishop, seated, signs forehead of kneeling boy; others kneel, and a parent stands behind; assistant on L. holds box. Cherubs with arms in lower margin. Head in initial, of a Priest: the arms also occur in an initial.

2. Ad clericum faciendum. Bishop seated, clips the hair of a kneeling boy. Three others. Two priests assist. Head in initial.

3. De vii. ordinibus. Bishop mitred and coped, stands. Six ecclesiastics, three of a side, one with cross, one with stole on wrist; arms in border.

4. Ordinatio hostiarum. Bishop mitred, seated, gives key (?) to one kneeling surpliced, one other kneels, three others stand.

5. Ord. lectoris. Bishop, as before, gives book to kneeling surpliced man; many others kneel, arms below.

6. Ord. exorcistae. Bishop gives aspergillum to one of four exorcists: a Devil in the air.

7. Ord. Acolyti. Bishop seated in midst gives a cruet to two on his right, and chalice to one of three on his left. Cross-bearer.

8. Ord. Subdiaconi. Six subdeacons in surplices and gold stoles crossed on their bodies, prostrate round the Bishop on their faces. Cross and crozier-bearers.

9. Ord. Subdiaconi. Bishop gives stoles to a kneeling subdeacon on each side already stoled: Cross-bearer on R., crozier-bearer on L., arms on R.

The pictorial decorations of this book are of the finest sort, and unite the beauty of Italian colouring with the delicacy of finish that characterizes a northern hand. The volume was evidently written for a cardinal bishop whose effigy and arms appear in various parts of it, e.g. ff. 148 a, 201 a.

Sixty-five of the initials are illustrated with figures: but there is an infinity of smaller initials which are merely decorative. They are almost all in colours on a burnished gold ground.

The Exultet and the Proper Prefaces are noted.

1. f. vii a. Preparatory prayers. A priest stands full-face with joined hands, in chasuble. Behind him is an altar with gold cross. At his feet kneels an assistant. Blue ground with white scroll-work.

2. f. i. Proprium de tempore, a most gorgeous page, bordered all round with flowers, birds, and many grotesque human heads and figures. In the lower margin are the following arms supported by two Angels kneeling; argent, a lion rampant azure holding a processional or archiepiscopal cross or, on the L. is a cardinal in red kneeling, with red hat over his head, adoring the figure of Christ in the initial.

Initial. Christ full-face $\frac{3}{4}$ length, in blue, green and red, with book, blessing: gold ground.

3. f. 8 a. Christmas Eve, a beardless apostle with open book, face R.

4. f. 8 b. Christmas Day: first Mass. The Flight into Egypt: they go to R.: the child is not in swaddling clothes, he stretches his hand to a palm tree on R. Joseph follows: a building behind.

5. f. 9 b. Christmas Day: second Mass. Two shepherds with dog in rocky country, one shepherd has a pipe: an Angel flies down from R., gold ground.

f. 10, which is gone, would have had a larger picture of the Nativity.

6. f. 11 b. S. Stephen. Throned, vested as deacon with red-cross banner and book. Two stones on his head.

7. f. 12 b. S. John Evangelist. Old and bearded, he writes in a book. By the picture is written 'santi giovanni vangielista,' a direction to the painter, one of several which survive in this book.

8. f. 13 a. Holy Innocents. In two divisions. Above, three half-length figures look over a balcony: archer behind them: below, a crowd of eleven figures (five soldiers, four mothers, two children) represent the Massacre.

9. f. 14 a. S. Thomas of Canterbury. In red cope with mitre, book and pastoral staff: a sword fixed transversely in his head.

10. f. 16 a. S. Silvester. In red cope, with pall, and triple crown, holds a gold reliquary cross (potente and fitch) and a book. Beside the picture 'sante saluest... vole essere mezo,' i.e. S. Silvester is to be (represented) here.

11. f. 16 b. Epiphany. Splendid border on three sides of the page. In the initial under a square red canopy, the Virgin and Child in centre full-face, an angel stands on each side on R. and L., an attendant seems to be putting up hangings. In front kneel the three kings, nimbed, with their offerings on R. and L., an attendant holds other offerings. There are stars in the border. By the picture is 'lastoria de magi.'

f. 71 b. Has in initial a palm branch in margin 'vramo dulivo' (=un ramo dulivo).

12. f. 75 b. Palm Sunday, a border at top and bottom, continued between the columns of writing. Initial. The entry into Jerusalem. Our Lord rides to L., followed by two apostles. Five men with branches and garments meet him, and two more are in the distance by the city-wall. In the margin is: 'ystoria dello vlvio qando cristo ando insvlasin(o).'

13. f. 76 b. Passion according to S. Matthew. S. Matthew, half-length, mending his pen.

14. f. 81 b. Passion according to S. Mark. He stands, writing, the nimbed lion at his feet, by him is 'santo marco.'

15. f. 86 b. Passion according to S. Luke. He stands, shaking his pen: the ox at his feet: by him 'santo lucha.'

16. f. 90 a. Mauunly Thursday. The Last Supper: the thirteen figures round an oval table, Christ at the upper end: by it, 'la ci...degli apostoli.'

17. f. 93 a. Good Friday, First prophecy. A bearded prophet, holding a scroll.

18. f. 94 a. Passion according to S. John. S. John old and bearded with book: the eagle's head on the R.

In the Exullet on f. 102 a., and f. 105 a., are two most beautiful initials with pen-flourishes, filled in with gold.

f. 128, which is gone, must have had a painting of the Crucifixion.

19. f. 133 a. Dominica Resurrectionis: Easter-Day. Bordered on the three sides. Initial. The Resurrection: four guards in plate armour lie before the tomb. Christ with red-cross banner stands on a cloud over the tomb, blessing. He is fully draped. Rock and trees behind: gold ground.

20. f. 144 b. Ascension Day. Bordered on three sides: two half-lengths of prophets with octagonal blue nimbi, holding blank scrolls. Initial. The Ascension: Christ full length, three angels on either side. Below, the Virgin kneels full-face between two bands of apostles.

21. f. 148 a. Whit-sunday. Full border, with kneeling cardinal (on R.) and arms: also two half-length prophets, nimbed, with blank scrolls. Initial. Pentecost. Above the Virgin, full-face, between two bands of Apostles; the Dove above, shedding rays and flames. Below, before a door between two marble panels, a crowd of eight figures, some with turbans, some (Jews) with painted caps. Cf. the representation of this subject on the doors of the Baptistery at Florence. This representation of the wondering nations is a peculiarity of Italian art. A 2nd Initial has the Dove on a black ground.

22. f. 155 a. Trinity Sunday. Bordered on three sides. Initial. An 'Italian' Trinity. The Father seated and crowned holds the crucifix: the Dove hovers over the head of it.

23. f. 156 b. Corpus Christi. Bordered on three sides. Initial. A gold chalice and paten, supporting the Host, on an altar, vested with gold and coloured frontal. Black ground.

24. f. 180 b. Vigil of S. Andrew. S. Andrew, half-length with book and net.
 25. f. 181 b. S. Andrew in green mantle, throned with book and cross: a red hanging behind him.
 26. f. 182 b. S. Lucy, half-length with book and lighted lamp.
 27. ib. S. Thomas, half-length, beardless, with lance and book.
 28. f. 185 b. Conversion of S. Paul. S. Paul, half-length, holds a sword and feels the edge with his L. hand.
 29. f. 188 b. Purification. Border in lower margin. Initial. The Presentation; L. Joseph nimbed; the Virgin faces R. holding doves, R. Simeon mitred holds up the Child facing L. On his R. is a nimbed man. Altar behind: arch above.
 30. f. 191 a. S. Matthias, half-length with book.
 31. f. 192 b. The Annunciation. Border in lower margin. Initial. The angel on L., the Dove flies towards the Virgin, who kneels facing L. in a chamber.
 32. f. 193 b. S. George on white horse, with red cross shield, riding R., pierces a dragon on R., the princess kneels facing L.
 33. f. 194 a. S. Mark in a room sits writing at a press: the lion holds the inkstand.
 34. f. 194 b. S.S. Philip and James. Two full-lengths; James with staff, Philip with book: wall and trees behind.
 35. f. 195 a. Invention of the Cross. L. S. Helena stands between two men: and points to three men who are digging and are covering a cross. Red wall and rocks behind.
 36. f. 198 a. S. John before the Latin gate. L. Domitian between two men: C. S. John old and bearded in a caldron; three men feed the fire. Christ or an angel in air on R.
 37. f. 198 a. S. Barnabas seated holds on his knee a book open to the spectators.
 38. f. 200 a. Vigil of S. John Baptist. Before a vested altar, L. an angel speaks to Zacharias with censer, who stands on a dais: three men on R.
 39. f. 201 a. Nativity of S. John Baptist. Full border, with kneeling Cardinal and arms. Initial. Birth of S. John Baptist. In front he is swaddled and dressed by two women seated on the floor. Elizabeth in bed: one of two female visitors on R. takes her hand. Two maids beyond the bed with drinking vessels.
 40. 2nd Initial. The Baptist, a child in cloak and camel skin, with scroll and banner among trees.
- f. 203, which must have had a painting of the Martyrdom of S. Peter, has been cut out.
41. f. 204 b. S. Paul. Martyrdom of S. Paul, L. stands a woman (Plautilla): S. Paul's body lies prostrate, the blood flows over a cloth (Plautilla's veil): the head lies apart and springs burst out of the ground. The executioner sheathes his sword. Behind are soldiers looking over their shields.
 42. f. 207 b. S. Mary Magdalene, half-length, with casket.
 43. f. 208 b. S. James the Great, half-length with book and burdoun or pilgrim's staff.
 44. f. 209 b. S. Peter's Chains. S. Peter walks L. out of an iron-grated gate.
 45. f. 210 b. S. Dominic, half-length with book and lilies.
 46. f. 211 b. Vigil of S. Laurence. S. Laurence in dalmatic, half-length, with book and gridiron.
 47. f. 212 a. S. Laurence. Full border, with arms, and cardinal's hat: also a blue lion in pink cloak holding a red processional cross.

Initial. Martyrdom of S. Laurence, he is naked on a gridiron: two men feed the fire. Christ or an angel in air on R. Behind are soldiers looking over their shields.

48. f. 214 a. The Assumption. Full border. Initial. The Virgin seated in mandorla supported by six angels: a blue cherub below.

49. f. 215 b. S. Bartholomew, half-length, with book and knife.

50. f. 218 b. Nativity of the Virgin. Full border. Initial. In front one of two women holds up the Virgin in swaddling-clothes to S. Anne in bed, a visitor on R. enters. Beyond the bed, two maids with drinking-vessels.

51. f. 219 b. Exaltation of the Cross. The cross, with title (' $\overline{\text{xpo}}$ '), crown of thorns, lance, and reed and sponge, on a yellow ground.

52. f. 221 b. S. Matthew, half-length with pen and scroll.

53. f. 222 b. S. Michaelmas Day. Border on two sides. Initial. S. Michael in blue mantle over armour, holds sword and balance: in each scale is a naked figure; that on R. is pulled down by a dragon. The dragon lies under S. Michael's feet. Black ground.

54. f. 223 b. S. Francis, half length, holds gold cross and book, and shows a wound in his side.

55. f. 225 b. SS. Simon and Jude. Two fishes in the initial: in the margin is '...simone egiada.'

56. f. 226 b. All Saints. Border on three sides. Initial. The Virgin and child on throne with steps, two angels in front. A circle of saints on L., Stephen with red cross banner, Peter with keys, James with staff. Gold ground. In margin 'ogni santi.'

57. f. 228 a. S. Martin, half-length, mantle, cope, gloves, with book and pastoral staff. In margin 'samartino veschovo.'

58. f. 229 b. S. Catherine, half length, crowned, with palm, book, and wheel.

f. 231 a. In natali apostolorum. Decorative initial: 'apostoli' in margin.

59. f. 234 a. In natali unius martyris. A beardless saint, half-length, in crimson robe with palm. In margin 'umartiro vestito diroso.'

60. f. 244 a. In natali unius confessoris pontificis. A pope, beardless, half-length, in tiara, with gold cross and book, blessing.

61. f. 248 b. In natali unius confessoris non pontificis. An ecclesiastic, half-length, full-face, beardless, with joined hands. Black and white ground.

62. f. 249 b. In natali virginum. A Virgin, half-length, with paten and book.

63. f. 252 b. In anniversario dedicationis ecclesie. A Bishop in scarlet cope, mitre and gloves with white crozier faces R. Through an open door is seen an altar with a cross on it.

Sequences in a later hand	267

There are no miniatures, but on 14 leaves there are elaborate initials of the characteristic English style, of the end of cent. xiv.

In the Marriage Service (f. 246) the question of the priest and answers of the bridegroom and bride are inserted in the margin in English in a hand of cir. 1400-20.

Collation. In quires of 8 leaves. The following are defective or irregular.

i (wants 7), xiv^s (wants 6), xv⁴, xvi⁸ (wants 2).

xxvii (wants 1), xxxvi (wants 1) : of the last quire only one leaf is left. At least one leaf is wanting on either side of it. In all, at least seven leaves are missing, viz. The first leaf of the Proprium de Tempore part i., the first leaf of the Canon of the Mass, first leaf of the Proprium de Tempore part ii., one leaf in the Proprium

Sanctorum (at the Assumption), the first leaf of the Sequences and at least two leaves at the end of them.

34. MISSAL (YORK). THE FITZWILLIAM MISSAL.

Vellum, size $15\frac{1}{2} \times 9\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 234 + 2 blank, in double columns of 35 lines each. Cent. xv (cir. 1470). Preserved in Lord Fitzwilliam's family since that date. The last Lord Fitzwilliam recorded his name on the fly-leaf in 1768, and had the MS rebound (by Simier) in 1807. Paged (not foliated) in a modern hand. In quires of 8 leaves, numbered from 1 to 29, and one sheet of 2 leaves; the quire numbered 19 (really 18) wants its 5th leaf; that numbered 18 (really 19) wants its 7th leaf: both are in the Proprium sanctorum.

Contents:

Benedictio salis, etc. (1)	19
Proprium de tempore	21
Ordinary of the Mass	276
Canon of the Mass	288

Missae votivae s. communes	390
Sequentiae	425
Benedictio salis, etc. (2)	461
Benedictio agni paschalis, ouorum et herbarum in die Paschae	463

This is the present order: formerly, as may be seen from the very clear set-offs on many pages, the order was as follows:

(1) blank fly-leaf, (2) Proprium de temp. and ordinary of the Mass, (3) Portraits and Crucifixion, (4) Canon of the Mass, (5) Benedictio salis, (6) Kalendar, (7) Proprium Sanctorum, etc.

But the numbering of the quires shows that this cannot have been an original order.

Marks of Ownership. (a) on p. 2, the Fitzwilliam arms and portraits of Richard Fitzwilliam and Elizabeth (Clarell) his wife. His surcoat and her mantle are blazoned with their respective arms: (b) Notices in the Kalendar of Fitzwilliams of Sprotborough between 1433-1489 (see Appendix).

The MS was plainly written for Richard Fitzwilliam, who d. 1479.

Mr Searle has constructed an excellent genealogical table of those members of the Fitzwilliam family who are commemorated in the Kalendar.

The pictures in this MS are very typical English work of their time, imposing in general effect, though stiff and even coarse in execution.

1. On a red ground with gold floriations are the Fitzwilliam arms with helmet and mantling, and below them on grass and flowers kneel Elizabeth and Richard Fitzwilliam facing R., on cushions with gold tassels. They have scrolls; hers bears Miserere nobis, his bears Ihū fili dei.

2. The opposite page to (1). The Crucifixion; with the Virgin and S. John, the ground, and grass and flowers as in (1). The title is on the Cross; S. John has a book; and his robe and the Virgin's are lined with ermine. On the lower margin is a Maltese cross, red on blue, intended for the priest to kiss.

Both these pages have elaborate borders in the English style.

3. First Sunday in Advent (p. 21). Initial: Richard Fitzwilliam in armour kneels, facing R. and holding his soul, a little nude figure, in his hands. Christ is seen half-length in a cloud. Red flourished ground.

4. Christmas Day (p. 37). Initial: The Virgin and Joseph adore the Child.

5. Easter Day (p. 173). Initial: The Resurrection. Christ steps out of the tomb, holding a long cross without banner. The lid of the tomb lies across the top: four knights in plate armour surround the tomb.

6. Ascension Day (p. 194). Initial: The Ascension; with the Virgin. The feet and footprints of Christ are seen.

7. Whitsunday (p. 201). Initial: Descent of the Holy Ghost (as Dove); the Virgin kneels in the centre.

8. Trinity Sunday (p. 210). Initial: 'Italian' Trinity, but without the Dove: the Father, blessing, supports the crucifix.

9. Corpus Christi (p. 212). Initial: a gold church-shaped shrine containing the Host, on an altar; slaves for carrying it are beneath it.

10. Dedicatio Ecclesiae (p. 275). Initial: A Bishop with crozier and aspergillum at a church door, which is closed.

11. Canon of the Mass (p. 288). Initial: Vested Priest with wafer between his hands at altar; on which are book and chalice.

12. S. Andrew's Day (p. 293). Initial: S. Andrew in red tunic, crucified on saltire cross.

13. S. John Baptist (p. 317). Initial: he stands, with Paschal Lamb on book between two hills.

14. The assumption (p. 330). Initial: The Virgin in air, rayed, supported by four demi-angels on clouds. She is in scarlet.

15. All Saints (p. 350). Initial: The Father throned, with orb, blessing; a crowd of small nude figures stands in his lap.

35. ORDINARIUM MISSAE.

Vellum, $7\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 12 + 1, 19 lines to a page: cent. xvi (1544).
German. Presented by S. Sandars, M.A., Trinity College, Dec. 1892.

This little volume contains the Ordinary of the Mass.

The gatherings are of 4 leaves.

On f. 11 is the signature (in red):

Frater Johannes Schmajekofer de Bolstat Cenobita, 1544.

On f. 12 b is a shield with a double eagle displayed and charged with a scutcheon, which is inscribed Sixtus Bregell or Bregolt: below is the date, 1544.

The fly-leaf is from a xiiith century MS, the writing erased: the subject not clear.

The rest of the MS is palimpsest, written on fragments of a xvth century Kalendar, reversed.

36. BREVIARY (NANTES).

Vellum, size $7\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 547, double columns of 30 lines each.
Cent. xiv (1390). Acquired in 1813.

Marks of Ownership. On the fly-leaf, in a hand of cent. xv is: le liure de breuiaire appartient au chapitre | de leglise collegial de nostre dame | de Nantes. Et le bailla maistr^e Raoul | trial chanoine de la dite eglise pour | doze liures monnaie de bretagne pour partie | dune fondacion quil a fait en ladite eg | lise.

A later note in French remarks that the MS contains the feast of S. Yves, canonised in 1347, and does not contain that of the Presentation of the Virgin save in a later hand: therefore it must be anterior to 1427, when that feast was first solemnly kept at Nantes.

There are no miniatures here. Each division of the book has a rather coarse border, with grotesques, on its first page: and there is besides a border on p. 493 (All Saints' Day).

The Litany contains almost all the Breton Saints who occur in No. but adds Martyrs: Ignatian, Rogatian, Symphorian, Goliarde (?); Confessors: Clarus, Similianus, Gatian, Gobrianus.

Collation. In quires of 8 leaves: the first leaf (blank) of the last quire has been cut out.

Both these Saints occur in the Proprium Sanctorum of this MS, and Alban is described as 'gloriosus martyr patronus noster.' I conclude that the MS belongs to the Abbey of S. Alban at Mainz.

Among the saints commemorated are: SS. Theobald, Odulphus, Lebuinus, Lambert, John of Bridlington, Malachy of Armagh, Willibrord. Added in a later hand are lessons for: S. Scholastica, Monica, Presentation of the Virgin, S. Anthony, S. Veron, M.

The provenance is undoubtedly Dutch.

There are good borders and initials of outline work in red and blue at the beginnings of the divisions; on f. 1 in the border is a golden pheasant with a scroll in red and blue: Volenti nichil difficile aut intollerabile est. Hec augustinus.

The binding is of xvi cent., stamped leather on boards, with pretty clasps.

Collation. In quires of 10 leaves: but quires achlvxy have eleven leaves and bb (the last) has four (the last attached to the binding): 250 leaves.

39. LECTONARIUM.

Vellum, $8\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 185, 20 lines to a page. Italian hand of cent. xv (1400-1450). Presented by S. Sandars, M.A., Trinity College, Oct. 18th, 1892. In 23 quires of 8, the last leaf gone, + 2 leaves at end.

The use is Roman.

The late prayers at the end are: (1) Rogo te, domine I. C., per guttas sanguinis tui: (2) Oratio S. Thomae Aquinensis ante missam dicenda: (3) Oratio S. Ambrosii ante missam dicenda: (4) Suffrage for the dead: (5) Domine Iesu Christe in Hebrew letters.

The binding is red leather richly tooled in gold, with the initials $\overset{\circ}{\text{YHS}}$ and $\overset{\circ}{\text{XPS}}$ on the sides, and marks of four clasps.

There is no figured work: the writing is good, and there are many good small initials, and a border to f. 1.

40. MARTYROLOGY.

Paper, size $11 \times 8\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 114 + 8 blank, single lines 25 to a page; in quires of 8 and 10 leaves. Cent. xv, xvi (1480–1500). Bequeathed by Mr Kerrich.

A note on the fly-leaf at the beginning (in a hand of cent. xvii) runs as follows:

‘Male inscribitur hoc Martyrologium Praedicatorum cum ad ipsos non magis spectet quem ad Mendicantes alios, imo appellari deberet Franciscanorum.

Est autem vere Vsuardus auctus et interpolatus, quo tamen usus non sum, deceptus, fallaci epigraphæ.’

This is evidently the note of an editor of Usuard, perhaps P. F. Chifflet, or J. B. Sollier.

The title alluded to does not now appear.

At the end is the following note:

Hoc Martyrologium ante annos fermé ducentos conscriptum, emi Bruxellis anno 1639, mense Februario.

Julius Chiffletius.

The name of this Jules Chifflet occurs also in a later MS. He was chancellor of the order of the Golden Fleece in 1648 and wrote the history of that order. The year 1639 was one of several which he spent in study at Brussels. The MS was bought by Mr T. Kerrich in 1827. It may be the Cod. Leydensis S. Ceciliae described in Acta SS. Junii vi. 411. It belonged to some Franciscan house in the Low Countries. There is a marginal note which may throw some light on its origin, viz. on f. 71 b (Aug. 24) is this note in red on the lower margin. Vigilia et festum sancti bartholomei secundum morem patrie pronuncietur ceteris festis in suis diebus remanentibus. On f. 85 a (Sept. 27) is inserted in the margin 'Item Elzearii confessoris; festum solemne;' S. Elzear was Count of Sabran and died at Paris: he is a Franciscan saint.

The MS is in two hands at least, and is very carelessly written in red and black, with occasional attempts at ornament in blue.

41. ANTIPHONER (PARS HIEMALIS).

Vellum, size $19\frac{1}{4} \times 13\frac{1}{2}$, 153 ff. (10 lines of music to a page): in quires of 8 leaves; the last of 2, of which the second is cut off. Cent. xv (1490-1500). Acquired in 1814.

Antiphons (Advent to Easter Eve).

There seems to be no distinct clue to the provenance.

The binding is of xviiith cent. stamped leather over boards, with brass bosses.

Very delicate work, not Dutch, but French-Flemish. Border of flowers, insects, and so forth on a dead-gold ground.

f. 1 b. 1st Sunday in Advent. 1. Aspiciebam in visu noctis. Initial. Daniel, in pink with green tippet. Yellow girdle; pointed cap on ground to right, two lions in front; kneels facing right on grass among trees. Dark sky, buildings at back, on left, hills. In sky on gold half-length of Christ wounded, in mantle, holding his cross, blessing. Good border, dead gold, birds, real flowers and berries, frog.

f. 31. Christmas Day. In principio. 2. Initial. An I broken in the middle. Virgin kneels in a raftered stable. Christ lies in front. Two angels on right adore. Ox and ass with straw about them crouch beyond the Virgin: Joseph enters on left with lantern. View at back. Below in border. Two shepherds astounded at the sight of an angel in sky in glory. Sheep. View and dawning sky at back.

f. 61. Dominica una post octavam epiph. 3. Domine ne in ira. David kneels facing left in pink, ermine and gold. Crown, sceptre and harp on ground; by river, castle on left. God, in imperial crown in sky on left, holds three arrows. Border. Iris, peacock, tiger-moth, etc.

f. 84. Septuagesima. 4. In principio fecit. God in pink cope over blue, Imperial crown and crystal orb, with gold cross, stands among trees, facing right, blessing, surrounded by birds, peacocks, etc. with swans on water (castle at back), ducks, water-wag-tail, &c. beasts, lions, stag, rabbit on R.

f. 96. 1st Sunday in Lent. 5. Ecce nunc tempus acceptabilis. Christ on right, full-face, in purple robe, hands raised. The Devil on the left with cock's feet, a crutch-stick under his arm, horned, in a black tunic offers two stones. Background. Domed building, Christ and Devil with stick on right (tailed, but without clothes), on right, Rock. Christ stands on it. Devil flies away.

43, 44, 45. ANTIPHONERS.

Vellum, size $26 \times 17\frac{1}{2}$, three volumes, of cent. xvii (1596 and 1604). Purchased in 1889.

The second and third of these volumes have the following inscription on the last page in red :

Hunc librum una cum ceteris Ill^{ms} et ecel^{ms} Dominus Fabritius Pignatellus nomine Princeps, grandi pecunia, sed maiori pietate, in Beatam Virginem Sanitatis, Cura et diligentia R. P. F. Dominici guglielmini neapolitani, opera uero ac labore Fratri Johannis Balli fieri mandauit.

mdc iiij.

The provenance is consequently Naples, and the artist's name (Johannes Ballus) is preserved.

The volumes contain a good deal of illumination, though they have lost something by mutilation. The work is careful and imposing in effect, but the decadence of the art is painfully obvious.

43. This volume contains 122 numbered leaves (the 1st is gone) in quires of 8 ; the last is of 2 leaves.

The colophon here differs from those of the other two volumes. It is on f. 121 a and runs thus :

Opus inceptum et absolutum auspicijs et liberalitate Ill^{ms} viri Fabritij Pignatelli Cerchiarij Domini, ob eximiam eiusdem in Beatam Virginem (d)e Sanitate pietatem, gubernante locum R. p. Fratre Dominico guglielmino Neapolitano, characteribus ornauit Fr. Johannes Ballus Neapolitanus 1596.

On the fly-leaf is tacked a part of a leaf from another MS containing the beginning of the office for Quinquagesima Sunday.

It has a historiated initial with a picture of Christ touching the eyes of a blind man, who kneels supported by another.

On L. are two Apostles. Architecture and hills behind. Beside the picture is a label with artist's signature :

I : BAT : ROSE : MINIABAT :

This volume contains the antiphons for :

2nd „ „	89
In festo S. Rose (later addition)	121 b

There are partial borders of illumination on ff. 5, 18, 37, 62, 89.

44. This volume contains 162 leaves, wrongly numbered in the MS; the 30th is gone: they are in quires of 8, the last is of 2 leaves.

Contents:

Antiphons for Trinity Sunday	f. 1
„ „ Corpus Christi	31 (29)
„ „ 1st Sun. after Trinity	61 (89)

„ „ Sun. after Corpus Christi	92 (90)
And following Sundays up to 22nd Sun. after Trinity.
In Dedicatione Ecclesiae	132 (130)

Fol. 1 has a full border, and historiated letter, with a large miniature of the Trinity; the Father and Son are seated on clouds, above them is the Dove, below, a green orb with gold bands. The clouds are of a mauve hue: the Father has a sceptre, and a triangular nimbus. In the border are two miniatures: above, a half-length of S. Dominic with lily and book: below, a half-length of S. Peter Martyr with daggers stuck in his head and body: he holds a slender cross.

There are also two crowned shields: above, that of the order of S. Dominic: below, that of the Pignatelli.

The frontispiece to the office for Corpus Christi (formerly fol. 30) has been cut out.

On f. 132 (130) is a pencilled design for a border, which has never been coloured.

45. This volume contains 133 + 1 leaves, in quires of 8, the last is of 6 leaves.

It contains:

Antiphons for the Decollation of S. John Baptist	f. 1
„ „ Nativity of the Virgin	12
„ „ Exaltation of the Cross	44
„ „ S. Michael and all Angels	71 b
„ „ All Saints	101

Each of these divisions has a full border and initial, with a miniature on its first page. f. 1. Decollation of S. John Baptist. In the initial, the executioner hands the head to Salome, who has the charger; the body of S. John lies in front: columns behind, and sky seen between them.

The border has crowned shields, as in No. 39, f. 1.

In the corners have been four oval pictures of an orange-red hue. The upper right-hand corner of the leaf has, however, gone. The remaining medallions show

- (1) S. John's head in the charger.
- (2) a small reed-cross twined with a scroll, and a scallop-shell, lying on a table.
- (3) S. John at a prison-window.

f. 12. Nativity of the B. V. M. In the initial this event is shown—three women are washing the child; S. Anne is in bed, and a woman attends her, on the R.

In the corners are three medallions of a blue colour, shewing three prophets with scrolls, half-length.

f. 44. Exaltation of the Cross. The initial is illustrated by a picture, done in blue, of a crowned female supporting a cross in a landscape: heavy clouds above.

f. 71 b. S. Michael. This initial is done in mauve. S. Michael stands on the dragon and pierces him with cross-staff: Clouds above.

f. 101. All Saints. In orange: Christ with cross stands: on the L. kneels the Virgin, on R. stands an apostle: other figures behind.

There are partial borders on ff. 6 b, 10 b, 35 b, 47 b, 66 b, 75, 95 b, 105 b, 127 b.

46. MISCELLANEOUS ANTIPHONS, ETC.

Paper, $7\frac{1}{2} \times 6$, ff. 213, in gatherings of 8, some lost at end. Dutch work of cent. xv–xvi. Presented by S. Sandars, M.A., Trinity College, Oct. 18th, 1892. Probably from an Augustinian house in the Low Countries.

The interest of this book lies in the ornaments, which consist largely of scraps cut from earlier MSS (none earlier than the xivth century), and pasted into it. The scribe's own work is neat but not beautiful: the ink has in many places corroded the paper. The rubrics are in Dutch.

The MS ends with the rubric—‘In festo pentecostes ad magnificat antifona.’

There are very few figured initials, and these are coarse xvth century work.

1. f. 1. The Visitation. Elizabeth on L. with scroll: Benedicta tu in mulieribus. The Virgin has a scroll: Magnificat. The ground is coarsely hatched with red lines.
2. f. 37 b. The Virgin seated holds an apple: the Child in brown on her lap. Gold rays surround her.
3. f. 73 b. A monkey in a chair, in green cap, with a bagpipe: a smaller monkey plays with the pipe of it. This is better work.
4. f. 102. Lower margin. The child Jesus nude, covered with wounds, seated in an oblong enclosure, perhaps the tomb.
5. f. 141 b. The child Jesus seated nude in the midst of a red heart, behind which is a cross. He holds two scourges, crossed.

Fifteen psalms (of Degrees) 57
Office of the Dead 60
Prayers (Original) 87 b.
Memoria de passione domini 88

Leaves are lost in the Kalendar (four), before and after f. 21 (Matins and beginning of Lauds), after ff. 24 (Lauds), 33 (Prime), 37 (Sext), 40 (Vespers), 41 (Compline), 43 (Seven Psalms), 57 (Psalms of Degrees), 60 (Office of the Dead), 64 (? ibid.), 86, 87 (Prayers).

The English part of the MS is possibly South English. A rubric (later) on f. 28 seems to be in a south-western (? Somersetshire) dialect. Other rubrics are in French.

In the Kalendar the Transl. of S. Thomas is in gold and that of S. Swithun is also marked. On Aug. 4 a late hand inserts 'le obit la contesse de Warwyk.' The Feast of the Relics is on Sept. 15. The Kalendar is, for the rest, of Sarum use. In Lauds is a memoria of S. Edmund Abp.

In the Litany: Martyrs: SS. Alban, Edmund (1), Leger, Quintin, Edmund (2), Kenelm, Thomas, Oswald, Edward; Confessors: Martial, Swithun, Cuthbert, (Hugo inserted), Dunstan, Oswald, Botolph, Wlstan, Cedda; Virgins: Genevieve, Brigitta, Juliana, (Helena, Dorothea, over an erasure), Fredeswida, Etheldreda, Wenefreda, (Elisabeth over erasure), Saxburga (corrected from Milburga), Sapientia.

In more than one place a xvth century hand has erased all the text of a page and left the initials, writing in new matter, which the old initials do not always fit. Erasures occur on f. 26 b, 28 (where an English rubric is inserted), 36 b, 41, 64 b (a whole page), 77, 87 a (a whole page), signed q(uod) h.k. From f. 44-51 the vellum and writing and line-fillings differ, though the initials do not change. The three last leaves are in the hand of the writer of the erasures.

It is a mere fragment, but a very interesting one. It resembles intimately a Psalter in the British Museum which belonged to Mettingham Priory in Suffolk (MS Egerton 1066). The two books almost must have been written by the same hands. The line-fillings of grotesques, beasts and fishes are precisely similar.

Such pictures as there are in our MS are of the finest style, and in minuteness unsurpassed.

1. July. Two small square miniatures at foot of page. a. Reaping on gold ground. b. Leo, on red ground with white trefoils.
2. August. a. Threshing with flail, gold ground. b. Virgo in blue, on red and white.
3. September. a. Lopping trees with axe, gold ground. b. Man holds scales, Libra in red on blue and white ground.
4. October. a. Man in blue sowing from a wallet with three tassels hanging from it. Gold ground. b. Scorpio on red and white ground.
5. Tierce. Initial, on gold ground with dots. Two shepherds, one sits with pipe and dog; the other, with stick and two sheep, listens to Angel with spread wings in sky, holding scroll. Exquisite work.
6. None. Initial, on gold ground: on R. Herod throned with crown and sword, commanding: on L. Soldier with Child on spear. Soldier, mailed, holding a child by one leg, sword raised, mother struggling. Mother holding up her child's head and looking at it. Grotesques below.

Grotesques in Litany, heads of Saints, Bishops &c. worked into Monsters.

Knight and Dragon on top corner of a page (f. 69) in Officium mortuorum.

Marks of ownership. On f. 85 b is the following inscription in a xvth cent. hand: 'M tomysyn (possibly 'my cowysyn') Carwe I pray you Remember your suster Elizabeth Poyntz.' On the opposite page is the motto 'En bon espoyr.' A notice in Mr Quaritch's catalogue No. 369, p. 3441, takes the view that the book was written for Sir John Carew, who fought at Cressy and was afterwards Lord Deputy of Ireland and died 1363, or for his son Leonard. In Henry VIIIth's time, Sir Edmund Carew married Kath. Huddersfield. Her half-sister Elizabeth married Sir Antony Poyntz, and was the author of the inscription just quoted. But while the style of the book, and the prominence given to S. Martial (see picture 152) agree well with the date and history of Sir John Carew, it is plain that the book was written for a lady. It is a lady who appears in picture 210, and the prayer Sancta et inter sanctos is adapted for a female suppliant. Most probably the book was written for Sir John Carew's wife.

The pictures seem to me decidedly English in style.

f. 1 a. English Prayer, xvth cent., to the Virgin.

1 b. 2 a. Latin Devotions.

2 b. A cross $5\frac{3}{8}$ inches long, green and brown. English writing surrounds it, explaining that it is $\frac{1}{15}$ th of our Lord's height, and setting forth its virtues, recommending also the invocation of SS. Serice (Cyriaeus) and Julice (Julitta).

3 a. Kalendar, gold, red, blue, black: English SS. are Wistan, Brigida, Cedda, Edward, Cuthbert, Richard, Alphege, Fremund, Dunstan, Athelbert, Alban, Etheldreda, Swythun, Kenelm, Oswald, Magnus, Edith, Ethelburga, Fredeswide, Edmund (Abp), Hugh, Edmund (King), Thomas of Canterbury (erased). The word papa is erased frequently.

6 a. A border of ivy leaf (gold) ornament extends down either side of every page throughout the book. In some cases the offshoots almost meet at the top. There is a continuous series of drawings (originally all without grounds) at the bottom of the pages. The earlier and later ones have titles in red, in Norman French.

201. b. Continuation from XLVI. b. L. and R. Rocks with trees. C. Two beardless apostles in a boat, one with paddle, the other pulling in a net. Both are nimbed and face L. towards Christ. The water is full of fish.

82 b. Text. Per hec uerba tuorum preconia gaudiorum.

202. Lower margin. Centre. Either a coffin covered with a white pall, or else a table covered with a cloth. At each end stands an apostle with a book, he on R. beardless. Behind, full face, Christ with a book resting on the table, and held in both hands; cross nimbed.

203. 83 a. Text continued. Centre a rock with a hole in it. Half length standing in this with hands joined in blue over white, nimbed, is S. Mary Magdalene. L. and R. are two lions and beyond them L. and R. an elephant with castle, and a unicorn. In the upper angles, two half length angels, coming out of clouds.

204. 83 b. A church, of which the sides are open. In it the Magdalene lies dead, in shroud, with two lamps hanging over her. Outside on R. facing L. sits a white monk in a chair, bearded, reading from a book on a desk. This is S. Maximin of Aix.

205. 84 a. $\frac{3}{4}$ page. Pale, with gold etc. Facing R. S. Helena in crown stands holding the cross upright. Facing L. and looking up at her is a digger in red tunic, who lifts up a second cross, a third lies by. Pick and spade lie before him.

206. 84 b. $\frac{3}{4}$ page. Same ground. A young ecclesiastic in red chasuble, and dalmatic and alb, with lamb, and cross on book, blessing. Trees L. and R. and on the ground, or in holes in it, three rabbits and an elephant with castle. This should be John the Baptist. There are traces of an earlier outline showing the hairy garment.

207. 85 a. $\frac{3}{4}$ page. Black, with gold. In a rocky landscape full face stands S. George on the dead dragon; in large mantle, red tunic and armour, with lance. Close by him on L. kneels the princess with hands spread. Castle on R. The outline of a crucifix inclined to the L., with lines proceeding from the feet, is visible below the painting. I have little doubt that the princess was originally S. Francis receiving the stigmata.

208. 85 b. $\frac{3}{4}$ page. Red, with gold. S. Catherine of Siena stands with spread hands facing R. In a blue starred cloud appears a six-winged Christ on the cross. Below this is a square table or desk with cloth, and book: an earlier outline below this I cannot decipher.

209. Below. The same saint almost prostrate; with desk and book before her. R. a canopied altar with image.

210. 87 a. Frontispiece to the Hours. $\frac{3}{4}$ page. Matins. Pink ground with gold ornaments. L. a lady kneels face R. in rich haddress (close), ermine bodice with pink sleeves and gold fastenings, and blue skirt and mantle, on a wooden seat: the Virgin crowned in blue lined with scarlet over pink holds the Child, nude, with cruciform nimbus, who blesses the lady. In the border on R. are four little angels playing instruments. The only text is DOMINA in richly ornamented letters.

211. 96 b. Lauds. $\frac{3}{4}$ page. Black, with gold. The Visitation: a towered gate on L. In the turrets, two angels blow trumpets. The Virgin embracing Elizabeth. A tree on R.

Memoriae attached to Lauds. The Holy Ghost. The Trinity. The Cross. S. Michael. S. John Baptist. S. John Evangelist. Epiphany. SS. Peter and Paul. S. Stephen. S. Andrew. S. Laurence. S. Christopher. S. Thomas of Canterbury (name erased). S. Nicholas. S. Leonard. S. Catherine. S. Margaret. S. Mary Magdalene.

212. 118 a. Prime. Blue, with gold. Nativity. The Virgin in bed suckles the Child (in red). Behind, wattled manger with ox and ass, at foot Joseph with stick, asleep.

213. 125 a. Tierce. Pale, with gold, etc. Adoration. The foremost king only kneels. The Child nude. The Virgin on a canopied throne, crowned.

Sext. A leaf gone.

135 b. Vespers. A space left blank.

214. 142 a. Compline. Black with gold. Massacre of the Innocents. Herod L. throned. Two soldiers, three women, four children.

215. 150 b. ½ page. Black and gold. A bishop (S. Edmund of Canterbury) in bed, nude, mitred, with joined hands. At the foot of the bed facing L. the Virgin crowned, with a blank scroll.

151 a. Frontispiece to the Seven Psalms and Litany.

216. $\frac{3}{4}$ page. On a black ground, a lozenge intersecting a quatrefoil, red and gold ground, white frame. In this is Christ on the rainbow, full face, showing his wounds, the R. hand blessing, the L. depressed. On the L. the Virgin, on the R. John the Baptist, both kneeling. In the spandrels, the Evangelistic Emblems with blank scrolls. Below. Domine ne, in large gold letters on white.

Lower margin. A crowd of figures rising from graves, a pope, bishop and king among them. In the upper corners two demi-angels with trumpets.

217. 151 b. Comment nostre dame resuscita saint jorge. L. an angel leads a white horse to R. The Virgin crowned beckons to S. George in shroud, who steps out of an altar tomb between two trees.

218. 152 a. C. Saint jorge monta sus soun destrier tout arme. The angel holds a tunic. The Virgin crowned holds a visored helmet with red crest to S. George, who, armed, in peaked helmet, with lance, sits on a white horse with red trappings.

219. 152 b. C. S. jorge abat de sa lance tous ceus quil encontra. S. George riding to R. with lance pierces the first of five mounted men.

220. 153 a. C. S. jorge tua .i. roy qui estoit enemy a nostre dame et tut son host. He kills a mounted king with his sword; a knight by the king, a second one flying.

221. 153 b. C. nostre dame leua .i. clerc qui la seruoit. The clerk nude in white bed with red pillow. The Virgin crowned, in white over red, with book, arranges the coverlet.

222. 154 a. C. n. d. aporta a manger a .i. clerc. The Virgin in blue dress, crowned, sits on a seat by the head of the bed, holding a basin; the clerk turns to her.

223. 154 b. C. le dyable vint en guise de femme et beisa le pape (erased). An altar with canopied altarpiece of the crucifixion. The Pope, in peaked crown, embraces a woman. Tree on R.

224. 155 a. C. le pape se confesse a .i. saint hermite. Altar on L. with red cross on it, the pope in white seated weeps, the hermit holding his crown kneels, facing L. A red-roofed house on R.

225. 155 b. C. le pape entra en la chapele n. d. et luy cria mercy de soun pecche. Tree on L. The pope kneels, face R. to an altar with an image of the Virgin and child.

226. 156 a. C. le dyable vient au pape ov li chaunta sa messe en guise de fame et luy tempta. Altar with altarpiece of Virgin and Child and two saints. Chalice and host. The pope in blue chasuble bows to a crowned woman with attendant maid.

227. 156 b. C. le pape par grant repentance fit couper sa mein et ardoir en .i. fu et n. d. li aporta lendemein arere. Two clerks sing at a desk. The pope. An altar with chalice. The Virgin on R. of the altar takes his hand.

228. 157 a. C. le pape mercy n. d. de sa bounte. A gate, a woman with crossed hands goes towards it. The Virgin crowned, face R. The pope kneels to her.

229. 157 b. C. n. d. enseigna a .i. moine seculier son aue maria. Altar with image of Virgin and child. A white monk prostrate holds over his head a blank scroll. The Virgin, attended by a red-winged angel.

230. 158 a. C. le moine morut et c. ses freres le uindren' insurer et trouerent vn fleur. Five white monks face R.; the foremost touches a lily with five flowers. A man in tunic digs, facing L.

231. 158 b. C. le dyable noya .i. moine qui estoit sergant a n. d. A stone bridge, rising in the centre, five-arched. On it a brown devil pushes a white monk over headlong.

232. 159 a. C. n. d. sach a le moine de li abbe et le resuscita. The bridge as before; on it the devil, howling. The monk rising out of the water: the Virgin leaning to L. holds his hand.

233. 159 b. C. .i. abbe par entisement du dyable rompy et enporta le tresor de labbe. A green and grey devil with book. The abbot in white strikes a locked chest with the wrong side of a hatchet.

234. 160 a. C. labbe et le dyable romperent les portes de labbe et enportunt le tresor. An arched door, a monk in it, three more outside talk and front R. The abbot follows the devil, who breaks a door on R. with hatchet.

235. 160 b. C. lacouent troua lor tresor emble. Church, red-roofed, on L. Five white monks, excited. The devil goes off on R.

236. 161 a. C. le couent fist mestre labbe v scep et mistrent le tresor deu coste ly. Church, with two monks seen through window. Four monks surround the abbot, whose legs are in the stocks and his hands tied behind. Bags and a cup lie in front: one hits him, one jeers: the stocks have four holes and no lock.

237. 161 b. C. n. d. commanda seint michel qil amenast le diable deuant li qil auoit tempte son sergant. The devil struggles with averted face in Michael's arms, the Virgin standing face L. points toward him.

238. 162 a. C. n. d. hosta le moine hors de scep et mist le dyable en son lu et vn grant pierre en son col. The Virgin faces R. The devil bowed forward, in the stocks (two-holed), his paws tied behind. Michael lays a stone on his back.

The Marks of ownership are few. Perhaps the shield in No. 18 may be one.

The Kalendar is of Sarum use. Inserted are a few obits :

Jan. 15. Obitus Roberti ffyzhewe episcopi Londonie anno domini m^o. cccc^{mo}. xxxv^o. (= Robert Fitz-Hugh, 1431—5). On Feb. 15, Ap. 5, May 27 are erased entries by the same hand.

On June 27 in the same hand is one partially erased: Obitus domini thome epy (? Thomas Rodburn of S. David's; his date of death is not known). I can as yet find no English Bishop named Thomas who died on June 27.

On Oct. 12 Wenfridi is inserted in a late hand, and on Nov. 21 is an erased entry.

In the Litany we have among Confessors : SS. David, Edward, Edmund, Thomas, Boniface, Odulf (of Utrecht), Donatian (of Bruges). Virgins : SS. Brigida, Elizabeth.

The provenance is probably the west of England, but the book has Flemish connexions.

The border and initials of decorative work are good : and the full page miniatures very carefully done : the historiated initials are less successful.

The book is undoubtedly English : it should be compared with No. 51, a later and coarser, but very interesting MS.

The grounds of the miniatures are almost all pink, with a scrolled ornament in gold.

2. Full page. S. George, dismounted, attacks a toad-like dragon with his sword : broken spear with pennon in the dragon's mouth. On a rock on R. kneels the princess with a lamb on a string attached to her hand.

3. Full page. S. Nicholas as bishop with crosier, on a black and white pavement, blessing.

4. Full page. S. John Baptist among rocks and trees, clothed in a sheep-skin, of which the head hangs at his feet : he holds a book with a tiny lamb on it.

5. S. Paul among rocks and trees ; a sword balanced on its point in his girdle.

6. S. Thomas of Canterbury, in a blue chasuble, kneels at an altar draped with a cloth worked with a Paschal Lamb : on the altar is a chalice falling over, and a mitre : there is an altar-piece of the Virgin and Child, in white, with rays all around them : behind, two knights attack him with sword and dagger.

7. Full page. S. James the Great among rocks and trees, holds a curious curved staff, with a white cord wound round it.

8. Full page. S. Mary Magdalene on a pavement, in blue, holds a casket.

9. „ S. Margaret, in blue, a fillet on her head, holding a small red cross, emerges from a green dragon, on a pavement. About her head hover three small blue angels.

10. Hours of the Virgin. Matins. Border, with two monsters. Initial. Annunciation: angel on L. with scroll Aue—tecum: lily-pot in centre.
11. Lauds. Initial: the Betrayal: Christ in black, kissed by Judas: Peter and Malchus on L., three soldiers on R.
12. Prime. Initial: Christ in black between two soldiers, before Pilate in blue with ermine collar.
13. Tierce. Initial: the scourging: three figures.
14. Sext. Initial: Christ in black bearing the Cross, which the Virgin tries to support: three soldiers in front.
15. None. Initial: Christ crucified: the Virgin on L., S. John, bearded, on R.
16. Vespers. Initial: the Deposition: the Virgin and S. John on L.: Joseph supports the body, Nicodemus looses the feet.
17. Compline. Initial: the Entombment: behind the tomb, the Virgin, S. John, and another: Joseph and Nicodemus place the body in the tomb.
18. Vigils of the Dead. Full page. A funeral: the coffin is covered with a green pall, which has two shields on it; one is obscured, the other bears azure a ship or. At the foot stand two mourners; at the head, a priest sprinkling the coffin, and behind him four singers, one with a face absurdly foreshortened.
19. Commendationes Animarum. Full page. Two angels in air bear a cloth filled with souls (nude children). On the earth below are four souls. Above, God the Father, half-length, is seen in the clouds, in a triple crown.
20. Psalterium S. Hieronymi. Full page. S. Jerome as cardinal, seated at a massive writing-table of horse-shoe form, writing on a long scroll, which hangs over the desk:

Domine ne in furore tuo arguas me neque in ira tua corripias me. Miserere mei domine quoniam infirmus sum, sana me domine quoniam conturbata sunt omnia ossa mea in quaternionibus bucina.

Marks of ownership: on the fly-leaf at the end is: Anno domini 1501 sexto die Septembris Thomas Tyrnere de Taplowe optulit beate marie hunc librum in nomine Henrici Aleyn Amici sui; which is twice repeated with other scribblings.

In the Litany we have none but the ordinary Sarum Saints invoked, e.g. 'Swichine' and Editha. On f. 46, in Lauds, a Memoria of S. Thomas of Canterbury has been completely erased.

The picture work is all very rough: it is confined to small historiated initials: there are rough borders to the first pages of the Horae, the Seven Psalms, the Vigils of the Dead, the Commendations, and the Psalms of the Passion.

1. Memoriae. Initial: S. John Baptist standing in a landscape holds a nimbed lamb.
2. — — S. Thomas of Canterbury kneels in blue chasuble by an altar in a vaulted church: on L. two men, one with raised sword.
3. — — S. George, on foot in armour, and white tunic with red cross, pierces the dragon, in a landscape.
4. — — S. Christopher with staff walks to L. through a river: Christ, with orb, on his shoulders: bank and trees behind.
5. — — S. Mary Magdalene, standing in a landscape, holds a gold casket.
6. — — S. Katherine standing on the Emperor Maximian, crowned, holding a sword; a wheel behind her: low wall and arras behind.
7. — — S. Barbara standing, with palm: tower on R.
8. — — S. Margaret emerging from the back of a dragon: her skirt seen in its mouth: low walls and arras behind: cloud above.
9. Lauds. Initial: the Visitation; two figures in a landscape, the Virgin on L.
10. Prime. — The Virgin and Joseph kneel: the Child between them, the Dove over it.
11. Tierce. — Two shepherds look up: sheep between them: rays above.
12. Sext. — The three kings, two stand, one kneels bare-headed: the Virgin and Child on R.
13. None. — The Presentation: the Virgin and Child on L. at an altar: Simeon on R.: a man behind in the centre.
14. Vespers. — The Massacre of the Innocents. On L. a mother holds a child: C. soldier with raised sword: R. Herod seated.
15. Compline. — The Flight into Egypt: the Virgin and Child on the ass led to R. by Joseph. Trees behind.

The abundance of later insertions and curious suffrages in this book makes it convenient to depart from the ordinary plan of this Catalogue, and to describe the written matter and pictures as they occur together.

The work is very rough, but the pictures have the appearance of being copies from good foreign originals.

f. 1 a. Blank except for a line in a hand of cent. xvii Diva fave studiis Virgo Maria meis.

1. 1 b. A so-called ‘wood-cut’ of S. Antony, measuring 4 × 3½ in. and occupying half the page. It is to all appearance a rude drawing on the vellum, coloured with flat tints. There is a rough border: then, on a green ground semée with yellow flowers, stands the saint turning to L. He has a yellow crutched stick, a gold nimbus, brown cloak and black and gold scapular: a book in his L. hand, and fire about his feet: a hog on its hind legs on R.

The rest of the page has his antiphon and collect.

2 a. Memoria of S. Thomas the Apostle in a hand of circa 1500.

2 b. Memoria of S. Eustachius in a hand of circa 1500.

3. Kalendar: this is of ordinary Sarum type for the most part; Cuthbert is inserted in a very late hand.

9 a. Memoria of S. Ninian in the hand of circa 1500 (see above).

2. 9 b. Frontispiece to the ‘Fifteen Oes.’ Full page, bordered. In the centre stands Christ in blue over scarlet with R. hand slightly raised: in L. an open book, inscribed Ego sum via veritas et vita. He stands on a marble pavement: behind him two small angels hold the ends of a blue and gold carpet: above his head hangs a blue canopy of conical form: red ground with gold pattern.

The opposite page has a border and good initial.

2. 15 a. Memoriae of SS. Philip and James (hand of 1500).
3. 15 b. Frontispiece to Memoria of the Trinity. Full page, bordered: ground, red and gold. The Trinity (of the 'Italian' type, i.e. the Father holding the crucifix): the Father in triple crown and blue mantle: the Dove above the head of the crucified Son: two small angels hold a carpet, slate coloured and gold, behind.
16 a. Border and initial.
4. 17 b. Full page. S. John Baptist in landscape with conventional trees and towers. He wears a pink and blue mantle over brown and carries a nimbed lamb.
18 a is bordered, 18 b has four later lines erased.
19 a. Memoria of S. Bartholomew (1500).
5. 19 b. Full page. S. Thomas a Becket on R. in blue chasuble kneels at altar with chalice. The foremost of three knights behind him, in blue surcoat, sticks a dagger into the back of his head. This knight has gold shoulder pieces. The second has silver shoulder pieces and red surcoat, the third a grey surcoat. Walls of church green, roof blue, pavement green and black.
20 b. 21 a. Memoria of S. Matthias (1500).
6. 21 b. Full page. S. George in white surcoat with red cross, and gold shoulder pieces, on a white horse with red caparisons rides R., and pierces a brown dragon. Behind on R. kneels the princess, holding a lamb by a string. Hills and a city with the king and queen on the walls.
22 b. 23 a. Memoriae of S. Matthew and SS. Simon and Jude (1500).
7. 23 b. Full page. S. Christopher wades to L. through stream with rocky shore. The child Christ sits on his shoulders. A hermit with lantern kneels on R. bank. Behind on L. is a windmill, and on R. a town.
24 b. 25 a. Memoria of S. Hugh (1500).
8. 25 b. Full page. S. Anne. Ground as in No. 1. S. Anne in white wimple and green cloak over scarlet, sits with open book. In front of her, full face, sits the Virgin in blue, crowned, holding the Child nude. A small angel on L. kneels and holds a gold vessel.
26 b. 27 a. Memoria of S. Cuthbert (1500) and these words: (?) Gerard Smith is a knaue And a base. 1(?5)90.
9. 27 b. Full page. S. Katherine. Red, and blue ground. She stands on green and black pavement with low stone wall behind. She has mantle of blue and ermine over scarlet and ermine, yellow hair, crown, sword, a half-figure of Maximin with sword at her feet, a wheel behind her.
29 a. Memoria of S. James the Great.
10. 29 b. Full page. S. Mary Magdalene, in landscape with trees, river and town, holds a casket.
31 a. Memoria of S. James the Less.
11. 31 b. Full page. S. Barbara, with book, stands looking L. towards a stone tower with peaked blue roof. A smaller tower stands by it. Landscape as before.
32 b. 33 a. Hymn, etc. for S. Armigilus in a hand later than 1500.

16. 47 b. Initial. S. Michael in white, blue wings, pierces a black devil. Ground red and gold.

17. 48 a. Initial. SS. Peter with key, and Paul with sword. Stone wall, and red ground.

18. 48 b. Initial. S. Andrew with cross on blue and gold ground.

19. 48 b. Initial. S. Laurence in green dalmatic over alb, with gridiron. Stone wall, red ground.

20. 49 a. Initial. S. Stephen in blue dalmatic over alb, stone on forehead, red ground.

21. 49 b. Initial. S. Nicolas. Bishop with pastoral staff. Wall, and blue starred ground.

22. 50 b. Initial. All Saints. Seven nimbcd figures. S. (?) Bartholomew with knife, a bishop, S. Paul.

23. 52 b. Prime. Full page. Christ in dark robe with bound hands (covered with his sleeves). Soldiers on L. Pilate on R. in ermined cap, blue robe, raised hands, wooden chair. Tiled pavement, and vaulted roof.

24. 56 b. Tierce. Full page. The Scourging. Two tormentors. Christ bound back to a green pillar. He stands on the base. Red and gold wall, blue vaulting.

25. 59 b. Sext. Full page. Bearing the Cross. Soldiers precede, one leads Christ by a rope to his waist. S. John and the Virgin follow. Landscape and city.

26. 62 b. None. Full page. Christ crucified. Three nails. Title. S. John supports the Virgin on L. A priest and two others on R. City behind.

27. 65 b. Vespers. Full page. The Deposition (rubbed). One on a ladder carries Christ. S. John and Virgin on L. Another apostle and a man kneeling on R. Title on Cross. City behind.

28. 67 b. Compline. Full page. The Entombment. Joseph (?) at the head, Nicodemus (?) at the foot. The Virgin, another Mary, and S. John stand on the further side of the pink marble tomb. S. Mary Magdalene kneels on the nearer side. City, with chimney-like turrets, behind.

29. 71 a. The Salve Regina, forced with rhyming quatrains after each word or phrase. Initial. The Annunciation. The Angel on L. in red dalmatic, with scroll Aue—tecum.

30. 75 a. O intemerata. Initial. The Virgin and Child on blue ground.

Marks of Ownership. A note on the fly-leaf says: 'This MS was originally brought from Sudley (= Sudeley) Castle in Gloucestershire.' On the silver clasps is a leopard's head erased, on its neck a bend with three crosses crosslet.

The provenance is difficult to settle. The Kalendar is gone, the Litany exactly coincides with that of No. 53 and invokes: SS. Oswald (= Edward), Oswald, Alanus, Lambert, 'Wallepaxe' as Martyrs: SS. Bavo, Audoen, Dunstan, Philibert, Leonard, Botulpe as Confessors: SS. Brigida, Christina, Genouefa, Sexburga, Milburga, Ossatha, Radegundis, Anastasia, as Virgins. I cannot identify S. Wallepaxus.

The style of art is curious, the figures quite weak, but the borders to the principal pictures very rich and good. Possibly the book was written in Flanders, but it has English connexions.

No. 1. De S. Magdalena. Noli me tangere. Christ, wounded, with spade and long robe. The Magdalene with casket.

2. Oratio ad ihm xpm.

Christ stands, blessing, with book Inscr. Ego sum via veritas vita.

Leaves are lost before f. 1 (Jan. Feb.), after f. 9 (xv Oes), after f. 16 (Memoriae?), after f. 88 (Prayers to the Virgin).

The Kalendar is for the most part of Sarum type; each page has a column containing the first syllable of the name of the saint for each day, and these form memorial verses. For instance, July has: Jul. proces. martini. trans. Thome. Benedicque. Serichin. Ken. Arnul. Mar. Prax. Mag. Ap. Crist. Ia. An. Dor. etc. S. Leofridus Abbas (June 21) and S. Wenefrida (Nov. 3) occur. The word 'papa' is erased, but not S. Thomas Becket's name, save in the Litany.

The Litany is almost identical with that of the MS last described. We have: SS. Edward, Oswald, Alanus, Wallepaxe (Martyrs): Bavo, Audoen, Dunstan, Philibert, Leonard, 'Botulpe' (Confessors): and the Virgins are the same as those enumerated above.

In both we have the suffrage 'ut regibus et principibus nostris,' etc.

The work is of a high class: the writing English, and also in great part the ornaments and pictures; the residue are Flemish.

Sometimes, as on ff. 6, 7, an inferior hand has meddled with the borders. Characteristic of the book are the drawings in blue on a blue ground, and in gold on a pink ground, which we find in many of the initials.

Floriated ground. No. 1. Full page. Before Orationes ad proprium angelum. Angel with coloured wings, in white, full face, stands over a grave, with pickaxe and shovel crossed, and white disc, on it; and holds medallion with bust of death. Two scrolls: Omne quod est nichil est preter est deum. Respice quod prodest presentis temporis eum.

2. Full page to Memoriae of apostles. Six compartments. 1. Peter with key. Paul with sword in a room. 2. John with cup. Andrew with cross; floriated ground. 3. James the Great with hat and staff. Jude nothing: in landscape. 4. Thomas with lance, James the Less with club, chequered ground. 5. Simon with saw. Matthias with hatchet in a room. 6. Bartholomew with knife. Matthew a similar knife: in a landscape.

3. Full page. John the Baptist, walking to R, carrying lamb, in landscape. Four medallions in corners. Two gold on pink, two gold on blue. 1 and 2, monks with pastoral staff, 3 with book, 4 with staff.

4. George armed on horse, pierces small brown dragon. Princess with lamb, crowned, kneels behind. City behind on R, by a river. As in No. 3, 4 medallions at the corners. 1 has sword, 2 sword and windmill, 3 sword, 4 mace and ears of corn or arrows.

5. Christopher carrying Christ. Hermit (Dominican) with lantern. Landscape. Four medallions. Monks with pastoral staves and books: one is erased.

6. Catherine kneeling, hailstones fall on breaking wheels. Emperor, and four attendants, astonished. God, crowned, and two angels above, in red.

Medallions 1, 3. Crowned virgins.

2 do. with arrow, Christina, 4 with cross, Helena.

7. Barbara with palm and book by tower. Chequered ground. Corners 1, 2, 4, Virgins. 3 = Apollonia.

Margaret, picture lost.

8. Hours of B. V. M. Matins. Agony. Christ; and three apostles sleeping. Cap on rock. Behind, Judas in pink and yellow, pointing: above, God, as in No. 6: soldiers get over paling. Corners = Angels.

9. Half-page. Matins. Annunciation, scroll. Aue—tecum: lily pot. At corners, Angels. Above, the Father and angels in blue. Dove on ray. Landscape seen through open door.

10. Lauds. Half-page. Salutation. Two figures and good landscape. Elizabeth, old. Corners, Angels.

11. Initial. Memoriae. Of the Holy Ghost. Dove on rainbow'd glory. Floriated ground.

12. Initial. S. Michael in white, coloured wings, with sword and shield stands on devil.

13. Initial. Peter with key. Paul with sheathed sword, on pavement. Wall and floriation.

14. Initial. Andrew, with saltire cross and open book. Landscape.

Leaves are lost after f. 57, at the beginning of Prime, and after f. 68, containing Nones and Vespers and part of Compline.

History. The Kalendar contains several unusual saints, mostly Irish: Feb. 11, Goloneta, V.: Mar. 5, Kyeranus, Ep.: Mar. 11, Senaldus, Ep.: Mar. 17, Patricius, Archiep. in red: Ap. 11, Gullacus, Ep. (= S. Guthlac): May 16, Brandanus, Martyr: June 1, Clarus, Ep.: June 9, Edmundus, Ep. in red: June 10, Patricius, Ep. in black: Sept. 25, Finbarius, Ep. (of Cork): Oct. 15, Wulfrannus, Ep. in red: Dec. 17, Lazarius, M.: and the following English saints are entered in red: Mar., Edward, Cuthbert: Ap., Richard: May, Dunstan, Augustine: June, Richard, Edward, Albinus: July, Thomas Canthuariensis, Swithun: Sept., Cuthbert: Oct., Hugo, Edward: Nov., Edmund Arch., Hugo Ep., Edmund Reg.: Dec., Thomas of Canterbury erased.

The Litany contains no names of Irish saints: it invokes SS. Swithun, Edward, Cuthbert, Edmund, Oswald, Bernardinus, Confessors: Petronilla, Gertrudis, Clara, Ursula, Virgins. There are two notes in English in the Kalendar of late xvth, or early xvith century. At Ap. 15 we read 'barnet the xv. ap^{ll} of Ester day an^o. i. m. [iiii^c] lxxj': and in the lower margin 'The feld of barnet was the xv. day of Ap^{ll} an^o. i. m^l. iii^c. lxxj. and ther was slayn the erll of Warwyk and hys brodr^r marcas montygew and kyng harry the vj^{te} browgth to the tour of London and that day was Ester day.'

On May 4 is the note 'teusbery feld a°. i. m^l. iiij^c. lxxj': and in the lower margin 'Tevysbore felld was the iiiijth day of May an°. m^l. iiij^c. lxxj. and ther was slayn pri[ns] Edwarde Kyng harys sone the vj^{te} and ys buried at Tevy[s]bere.'

In some of the prayers the feminine gender is used, showing that the book was intended to be used by a lady.

On f. 1 is

'Donum Thomae Selbye Arm: 5th May 1719.
Radulpho Thoresby Leod:'

This is Ralph Thoresby of Leeds, the great Yorkshire antiquary, and historian of Leeds. The volume has also the recent book-plate of the Rev^d the Hon. Edward Petre.

1. The xv Oes. Frontispiece. Full-page picture, with border.

Christ stands full-face, under a canopy, in a room with blue vaulted roof, and two windows: He is blessing, holds an open book, with the leaves outwards, and has a golden globe between or beneath His feet. On either side of Him kneels a small angel. Christ wears a blue mantle lined with green over a purple robe.

The opposite page is bordered, in all cases.

2. Memoriae. Of the Trinity. Full-page: in a room like that in No. 1 is the Father, seated, supporting in front of Him the crucified Son. The Dove is absent: the Father wears a triple crown.

3. — Of S. John Baptist. Full-page: he stands full-face holding a book, and on it a nimbed lamb: water, trees, hills, and two towered buildings, all very badly drawn, form the background.

4. — Of S. John Evangelist. Full-page: he stands turned to R., in a room (cf. No. 1), holding a gold cup in which is a small serpent.

5. — Of S. George. Full-page: he is mounted on a white horse with red trappings, has plate-armour, and pierces with his lance a brown and gold dragon. A landscape behind, like that in No. 3: in the R. corner kneels the princess, a lamb by her.

6. — Of S. Christopher. Full-page: the child Christ, with orb, is on his shoulder: he walks to R. through troubled waters: conventional rocks in the foreground, and a landscape behind.

7. — Of S. Anne. Full-page: seated on a high-backed chair, in a room (cf. No. 1): the Virgin, crowned, stands before her and reads from a book on her knee.

8. — Of S. Mary Magdalene. Full-page: as No. 4, save that she holds a palm and a golden casket.

9. — Of S. Katherine. Full-page: crowned, with sword, a wheel behind her; Maximin, with scymitar, lies at her feet: surroundings as in No. 1.

11. — Of S. Margard. Full-page: room as in No. 1, but with barred windows: S. Margaret emerges from the back of a snake-tailed lion: she holds a small gold cross.

12. Hours of the B. V. M. Matins. Full-page: the Agony in the Garden. Within a watted enclosure kneel the three apostles and Christ. He faces R., and on a rock by them is a gold cup. Towers and trees in the background.

13. Lauds. Half-page: the Betrayal. Judas nimbed. Peter and Malchus arc on the R. of Christ: there are three soldiers and two Jews. Landscape behind.

14. Memoriae in Lauds. Small pictures in the text.

Of the Holy Ghost. The Dove, with spread wings, rayed, on a green mound with flowers: starry sky.

15. Of S. Michael. A stone wall, shaped like three sides of an octagon: above it, red and gold ornament. S. Michael, in blue mantle over white, pierces the devil with a golden cross-staff.

16. Of S. Laurence. He wears a blue dalmatic, and has book and gridiron: background as No. 15.

17. Of S. Stephen. As No. 16: he holds stones.

18. Of S. Nicholas. In blue cope, with large crozier: background as No. 15.

19. De tempore. Altar, with blue and gold frontal, and green side-hangings or 'riddles.' On it, a chalice and host; background as No. 15.

20. Tierce. Half-page: the Scourging: Christ is bound with His back to the column: there are two tormentors.

21. Sext. Half-page: the Bearing of the Cross: on R. are two Jews, on L. the Virgin and S. John.

The pictures to Prime, Nones, Vespers and Compline are gone.

22. Salve Regina. In text: the Virgin and Child seated on grass: background as No. 15.

The Seven joys. In text: the Virgin, a young girl, facing R., descends a flight of nine steps in a vaulted hall.

23. Prayer to the Crucifix, etc. In text: two angels kneel in front of the open sepulchre: red and gold background.

24. In text: three tau crosses on a mound: blue and gold background.

25. ,, : bust of Christ with floriated nimbus on blue ground.

26. ,, : the right hand, wounded: red and gold ground.

27. ,, : the left hand, wounded: blue and gold ground.

28. ,, : the heart, wounded, and four other wounds around it: blue and gold ground.

29. ,, : the right foot, wounded: blue and gold ground.

30. ,, : the left foot, wounded: red and gold ground.

31. ,, : the Virgin and Child surrounded by rays, on a red ground, within a blue field.

32. ,, : S. John Evangelist: the cup and serpent by him: background as in No. 15.

33. Prayer of Bede. In text: Christ on the Cross: the blood from His hands flows into two gold chalices.

34. The Seven Psalms. Full-page: David, in blue and ermine mantle over red robe, and peaked hat, surrounded by a crown, kneels facing R. in a vaulted hall: his harp on the ground: above, a bust of God holding an orb, surrounded by clouds.

35. Office of the Dead. Full-page. Five priests in red, blue and green copes, sing at a lectern: in front is the coped bier with blue and gold pall: draped altar on R. with green 'riddles.'

36. Commendationes animarum. Full-page. Two angels kneeling in air, hold between them a cloth in which are three naked souls, of a man and two women: below are three graves: above, two demi-angels with trumpets, and at the top, the bust of God, with golden orb: starry sky.

37. Psalter of the Passion. Full-page. Christ, as the Man of Sorrows, seated on the edge of the tomb: in front are a casket and 30 pieces of gold: behind are the cross, ladder, lance, column, cock, scourges, lantern, reed and sponge, casket.

38. Psalter of S. Jerome. Full-page: he stands, robed as a Cardinal, facing R., holding a book, in a vaulted room: on R. at his feet, a small ridiculous lion.

The work is throughout very conventional and coarse, though it shows the influence of good models.

In gatherings, the first of 6, the rest of 8 leaves.

Provenance. In the Kalendar the Translation of S. Edmund the King occurs twice, on Ap. 29 and June 20. The Litany is not distinctive. The provenance is fixed to East Anglia and more precisely to Norfolk by the remarkable picture of the Rood of Bromholm (f. 57 b).

The writing of the MS is of the long narrow kind characteristic of England in the xvth century. The decorative work is very fair, the figured work coarse but interesting, recalling as it does very strongly the style adopted by the painters of the more ordinary Norfolk screens.

The text surrounding the picture of the Rood of Bromholm runs as follows :

On the frame Ihesus nazarenus rex iudeorum.
 Fili dei miserere mei
 Thÿs cros that heÿr peÿntÿd is.
 Sÿng of the cros of bromholm is.

As background to the rood :

O crux salue gloriosa
 O crux salue preciosa me per uerba curiosa te laudare crux formosa fac presenti carmine.
 Sicut tu de carne cristi sancta sacrata fuisti eius corpus suscepisti et sudore maduisti

 contra fraudes hostium.
 Me defendas de peccato et de sto desperato hoste.....

Adesto nobis domine deus noster et quos sancte crucis letare facis honore eius quoque propetius defende subsidiis. Per.

The text of the commemoration of King Henry VI. is as follows :

A. Rex henricus pauper et ecclesie defensor ad misericordiam semper pronus in caritate feruidus pietati deditus clerum decorauit, quem deus sic beatificauit. Vers. ora pro nobis deuote henrice R. Ut digni. Oremus.

Oracio.

Deus sub cuius ineffabili maiestate vniuersi reges regnant et imperant, qui deuotissimum henricum anglorum regem caritate feruidum, miseris et afflictis semper compassum, omni bonitate clemenciaque conspicuum ut pio (sic) creditur inter angelos connumerare dignatus es; concede propicius ut eo cum omnibus sanctis interuenientibus hostium nostrorum superbia conteratur, morbus et quod malum est procul pellatur, palma donetur et gratia sancti spiritus nobis misericordiam tuam poscentibus ubique adesse dignetur, Qui uiuis.

On f. 139 b are prayers to a group of saints who seem to correspond in some way to the 'Fourteen Need-Helpers' of the Tyrol. The following rhyme gives their names:

Egidi, Christofere, Blasi, lux diuina,
 Dionisi, Georgi, in te medicina,
 Margareta, Barbara, Martha, Katerina,
 Nos ab omni sceleris purgate ruina.

No. 1. Rood of Bromholm (see Horæ above). The cross has no title, but is of this form †, black, white and gold on a gold stand on a green mound: the ground flourished.

2. In text. Psalms of Passion. Three compartments of instruments of the Passion. a. crown, sword, rope, two knives, cup (a square object behind it); b. Tau-cross, column, two whips, three dice, ladder, reed, sponge, drops of blood, tomb, mound; c. pincers, three nails, hammer.
3. In text. S. Erasmus. Bishop in blue and red with open book, and long windlass, in room with two windows and arras: he faces R.
4. In text. Holy face on a cloth, two hands holding it.
5. — Peter, in scarlet, blue and green, two keys, open book, faces to L. in Gothic room, vaulted roof, two windows, arras.
6. Three-quarters of page. Paul, sword, book; vaulted roof, starry sky above.
7. — — — Andrew, saltire cross, open book; vaulted roof, two windows, sky above.
8. — — — James, club, pilgrim's hat, open book, faces R.; arras.
9. — — — John, between two trees, blessing cup, full face; arras. The suffrage is repeated wrongly on verso, which is otherwise blank.
10. — — — Philip, hatchet and book, floriated ground.
11. James 'of Jerusalem.' Pilgrim's hat, short stick with scallop hanging to it. Book.
12. Thomas, with lance and book, faces R.; two windows, arras.
13. Symeon, beardless, fish and book, faces R.: two windows, arras.
14. Jude with boat and oar, faces L. Canopy, curtains, floriated ground.
15. Matthias, long axe, open book, walks R., floriated ground.
16. Half-page. Christopher, with staff, carries Christ, tree on L. Building on R. Stars in sky.
17. Half-page. Crucifixion, between Mary and John. Stars; arras behind.
18. In text. Henry VI. Crown over blue cap, long sceptre, orb; full face, between rock. Birds and stars in sky.

The Litany is not distinctive: it has the suffrage Ut regi nostri et principibus nostris.

This MS is particularly interesting as showing a blend of two styles, English and Flemish. The original MS was a book of Hours written and illuminated in England, containing Kalendar, Hours of the Virgin, Litany of the Virgin, Seven psalms and Litany, Office of the Dead, Commendationes animarum, Psalms of the Passion. To this have been added, finely written and copiously illustrated, portions containing Memoriae and various prayers, and in more than one place the Flemish illuminator has filled in with figures and dull gold ground, the English border.

A good many leaves have been unfortunately lost, viz.:

- After f. 28 (End of a Memoria of S. Pantaleon).

On f. 93, before the Litany of the Virgin, the Flemish scribe has erased two-thirds of the page and re-written it. The Litany is in the English hand. On f. 155 b-156 b the Flemish hand adds some prayers for the Dead. On f. 177 b a different English hand writes the psalm Iudica me, Deus.

No. 1. Orationes de Sancta Trinitate. Initial. Creation of Light. Christ crowned in circle of pink angels, rayed; starry sky; in air before him, a blue orb and cross. Border, blue angels, feathered, one plays the virginals.

2. — — — — Initial. Christ in starry sky, dividing the firmament, dark below, light above.

3. — — — — Christ in meadow, among trees and plants.

4. — — — — Christ creating animals, birds and fish in sea; holds orb: four birds, six beasts, pig, lamb, lion and ox.

5. Memoriae de Sancta Trinitate. Christ cross-nimbed holds gold compasses. Sun and moon in heaven. Beasts and trees in field behind.

6. Oratio: O sancta trinitas. Christ crowned and nimbed creating Eve in field, with trees.

The Passion according to S. John (another hand, 19 lines to page)	196

Collation. The first quire of 12, the second of 10, the rest of 8 up to the last but two, which is of 10, the two last of 4 each : three leaves lost.

The first leaf of the Sequences, the first leaf of Matins of the Virgin, and the first leaf of Compline are gone.

The marks of ownership are, a monogram stamped on f. 1, HBDM. A monogram stamped on the binding seems to consist of the letters AVDM. The use and diocese are alike Sens : les reliques de Sens (7 Jan.) occurs : S. Savinian (19 Oct.) is in gold in the Kalendar, and SS. Savinian and Potentian are invoked next after S. Stephen in the Litany, and S. Columba occurs among Virgins.

The four miniatures in the MS are interesting ; the decorative ornament is mostly ivy-leaf ; each of the divisions has a complete border of it.

The edges are stamped with very dim designs.

1. VII Penitential Psalms. Border. Half-page miniature. Chequered ground. The Father enthroned : on the right, on a credence a chalice and host. On the left the tables of the Law : cf. 60. 17.

2. Hours of the Cross. Border. The Deposition. The body taken down by Joseph and Nicodemus. Two soldiers on R. The Virgin and S. John sit weeping on L.

3. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Border. Descent of the Holy Ghost. The apostles kneel: the dove sheds rays on them. The Virgin is omitted.

4. Office of the Dead. Border. A Funeral. The two priests wear three-tailed prick-eared almuces of grey fur, and black copes. There is a wooden frame (or herse) carrying tapers, about the coffin, and two women on L.

The style of work is very pleasing.

The gatherings are of 8 leaves, except the first, which is of 12, and the last, which is of 10.

On the fly-leaf is Ex libris Caroli Roussel, 1721: on the edge is stamped the motto, 'Spes mea Deus est.'

The use is that of Paris. The provenance is possibly Meaux. The feasts observed as Doubles in the Kalendar are

Feb.	S. Auentin. Chartres.	Aug.	S. Fiacre. Meaux.

In gold are S. Yues, S. Eloy (twice), S. Loys Roy, S. Leu.

The Litany invokes S. Yvo and S. Genovefa.

Requiem eternam dona eis domine &c.

The work is exceedingly fine, more particularly the ivy-leaf ornament, of which the book is full. The ink is noticeably pale. In the figured subjects the touch is soft and not very clear.

1. Hours of the Virgin. Matins. Bordered, half-page miniature. Annunciation. The angel has a scroll Ave Maria and points to the Dove. Architecture, and starry sky.

2. vii Psalms. Half-page, bordered. God the Father seated. Emblems of Evangelists in the spandrels bearing scrolls with their names. Chequered ground.

3. Hours of the Cross. Matins. Crucifixion with the Virgin and St John turning to the Cross.

4. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Matins. Floriated ground. Descent of the Holy Ghost. The Virgin on L. with the Apostles. White rays from the Dove.

5. Office of the Dead. A Funeral. The priests have almuces and black and gold copes. There are three acolytes. Ground, gold flourishes on red.

6. Memoriae 'de la Trinité.' The Trinity in one blue mantle on one throne. The Holy Ghost in human form between them, his arms round the neck of each. The cross behind connecting all three and a book on their knees with Sancta Trinitas.

Marks of ownership. The initials I. R. occur frequently in the borders. Arms in the borders, e.g. f. 81, Quarterly of four pieces. 1st and 4th grand quarters quarterly argent and sable: 2nd and 3rd, or, a chief rayonné sable.

On f. 44 b we have: Party per pale, dexter side, quarterly 1 and 4 gules...

2 and 3 gules semée of fleurs-de-lys: sinister side as above.

Motto in border of f. 21 b, il souffrit qui fait manière.

On the fly-leaf in a hand of cent. xvi:

A Jan Rouxeau procureur fiscal de Clisson. In a later hand Je apartiene... Rouxeau.

Clisson is near Nantes. The MS was certainly written for some lady connected with Brittany. In the prayer Dulcissime domine we have 'me tuam famulam.' The use is Parisian, though the Kalendar much resembles that of No. 62. In the Litany we have many Breton saints, viz. SS. Tudoal, Paul, Paul, Briocus, Paternus, Corentinus, Maclouius, Sampson, Maglorius, Guillermus, Herueus, Armagilus, Confessors. Among female saints S. Emerenciana is unusual in the Litany: S. Anastasia is twice invoked.

The work presents a curious mixture. The decorative part is remarkably profuse and splendid. It mainly consists of the ivy-leaf ornament. A specimen of this, of exceptional beauty, will be found on f. 177 b (p. 354). Silver has been used (as on f. 85 b), but has as usual gone black.

The figured drawing, on the other hand, is grotesquely bad, resembling much of the English work of the fifteenth century; but it has been done evidently with great care.

Collation. In quires of 8 leaves mostly: a^{6+6*}, b⁸, g¹⁰, y (the last)⁸ (wants 8) are exceptions.

1. Hours of the Virgin. Matins. Border: five angels, and grotesques. Annunciation: in a vaulted room: Gabriel kneels on L., the Virgin sits reading: lily-pot on a bed. fol. 8. Border. An archer of centaur-form. Scroll, Il souffit qui fait maniere. f. 21. A smith, forging a spear.
2. Lauds. Salutation: chequered ground, very minute; a mountain behind: Elizabeth on L. kneels: the Virgin has a book.
3. Hours of Cross. Matins. Betrayal. Kiss of Judas. Malchus, in plate armour, healed.
4. 'Hours of Holy Ghost' (sic), really Prime of Hours of Cross. Pilate washing his hands in silver dish. Christ crouching on the ground. The attendants have cloaks with jagged edges.
5. Tierce of Cross. Bearing the Cross. Christ is helped by the Virgin.
6. Sext of Cross. Crucifixion, with the thieves. The sponge offered. The Virgin swoons. A soldier on R. cleaves the leg of the thief near him, another strikes the left-hand thief on the leg with a meat-axe. Longinus is looking up. S. John and the Magdalene represented. Fine chequered ground.
7. None of Cross. Death of Christ on the Cross. Four demi-angels receive his blood in chalices. His side is being pierced by the blind Longinus. The Virgin, the Magdalene. S. John with a book.
8. Vespers of Cross. Deposition. The Virgin and S. John seated on the ground: three men, one of whom strikes the nail out of the feet.
9. Compline of Cross. Entombment. Seven figures: the Virgin holds Christ's hand.

Domine ne in furore n
 tuo arguas me: neq;
 in ira tua corripas me.

10. Hours of Holy Ghost. Matins. Italian Trinity.
11. Prime of the Virgin. Angel and Shepherds. Scroll, "puer natus est." The shepherds are playing hockey.
12. Tierce. Nativity: the Virgin and Salome (nimbed) adore. Joseph has no nimbus.
13. Sext. Presentation: Simeon is behind the altar, which is under a stone canopy. Salome has the doves, Joseph a taper; neither is nimbed.
14. None. Adoration of the Magi. Joseph, a small figure crouching.
15. Vespers. Flight into Egypt. The animal exceedingly ill-drawn. Joseph is nimbed.
16. Compline. Coronation of the B. V. M. A demi-angel crowns her as she kneels before the Son, who is seated on a high wooden throne: a vacant chair on L.
17. vii Psalms. Gold deer in border. Christ enthroned, between the emblems of the Church and Synagogue. He shows the wounds, and wears a blue mantle and triple crown. A hand from above lets down a gold vessel (censer): on L. over the arm of the throne leans an angel holding tall cross, chalice, and host: on R. another angel holds the tables of the Law, and points up to the Father in the sky.
18. Vigils of Dead. A Funeral. The border has a half-figure with scroll, requiem eternam dona eis. Two candles in front: five clerics, one with cross: seven mourners at the head of the bier, one at the foot reading.
19. Oraison à N. D. Obsecro te. The Virgin and Child on cushions on the grass.
20. Memoriae. S. Michael in plate armour, mantle and red-cross shield, smites the Devil (black and shaggy).
21. Memoriae. S. John Baptist carries Lamb with cross.
22. — SS. Peter and Paul: background with grey arabesques.
23. — S. James Major, blue cloak, black habit, hat, scrip, staff.
24. — S. John Evang. Cup with two dragons, his face averted.
25. — S. Lawrence, gridiron and book.
26. — S. Sebastian tied to a pillar shot by two men.
27. — S. Christopher with staff, bears Christ over river.
28. — S. Nicholas, Bp, blesses three boys in tub: the ground is a sort of black trellis-work.
29. — S. Mary Magdalene, has gold box (casket).
30. — S. Katherine, crowned, has half-wheel and sword.
31. — S. "Margarite" emerges from two-legged, hairy, flying dragon.
32. — S. "Yues" (Yvo of Chartres) in white habit tonsured, as Cis-tercian, with open book.

The monogram I. R. occurs in the borders to Nos. 1, 2, 10, 12, 13, 15, 16, 18.

The volume is in quires of 8 leaves, except the first and last, which are each of 6 + 1.

Marks of ownership. We have notices of births and deaths and marriages in the Kalendar belonging to these families:

De Bassy, 1454-1517.

Thezart, 1520-1527.

Dureuze, 1607-1615.

Croismare (Rouen), 1628-1691.

In 1702 (Nov. 13) Mme de Croismare gave the book to Con (?u)-canet, who owned another MS in this collection. The original owner's arms have been carefully erased in several places.

Concanet notes rightly that the Diocese for which the book was written is Coutances. The dedication of Coutances occurs in the Kalendar (12 July), and the 'reliques de Coustances' on Sept. 30.

Besides this we have, in the Kalendar, in gold, S. Clare martir, S. Brendain, S. Yues, S. Lo.

In the Litany, SS. Anthoninus, Helerius, Clarus, Martyrs.

SS. Laudus, Taurinus, Romanus, Audoenus, Julian, Paternus, Sanson, Macutus, Melanius, Ebrulfus, Marculphus, Mello, Humbert, Brendan, Rumpharius, Confessors.

The Memoriae are very copious, and include SS. Maurus, Albinus, Peter Martyr, Brandan, Yuo, Ligier, Seuer, Geremain (Germanus), Lo, Lienart.

The work is rather coarse and monotonous but not careless. Every page has a border on one side of ivy-leaf ornament, mostly in gold, and many pages have a full border.

On the binding is a shield surmounted by a crown, bearing a crowned lion rampant.

The number of French hymns in the book is unusual: probably they would repay examination.

1. Hours of the Virgin. Matins. Annunciation, in a building. The Father and Spirit represented. Angels on R.: scroll: ave—tecum. Lily-pot in centre. In the border, a Cistercian and Dominican embrace or struggle.

2. After Lauds of B. V. M., Matins de Trinite. Christ seated crowned, blessing; dark-coloured orb and cross in L. hand. Rays above.

3. p. 134. Matins of All Saints. The Virgin crowned and Child stand on pedestal in landscape. Sun to left.

4. p. 136. pro defunctis. Matins. Death, a shrouded corpse, smites a man with a dart and holds two more darts: a corpse on the ground. Background: a devil lying on his back: a guardian angel with cross (half-length): a soul ascending received by (half-length) guardian angel above in sky.

5. p. 139. Matins of the Holy Ghost. Pentecost: Twelve apostles, with the Virgin in the centre. Dove crowned.

6. p. 142. Matins of the Sacrament. Supper at Emmaus. Christ between two disciples blessing bread. Knife, bread, etc. on table.

7. p. 145. Matins de la Crois. Crucifixion. Title. Longinus, unarmed except for sword, has scroll vere dei filius erat iste. The side of Christ is pierced: two Marys and John are seen. There seems to be a vessel receiving the blood from Christ's R. hand.

8. p. 150. De conceptione, Sabbato. Joachim and Anne kneel. Gate and trees.

9. p. 238. Compline of B. V. M. Smaller size. Coronation of B. V. M. by two angels, who stand behind the throne. The Virgin is seated by Christ, who is crowned, has orb, and is blessing.

10. p. 365. Penitential Psalms. David (crowned) kneels in landscape. Harp before him. Christ with orb in cloud on R. In border, a woman with distaff chases fox with cock.

11. p. 425. Officium Mortuorum. Funeral service. Blue pall. Mourners in black. Two priests at desk : a number of surpliced assistants on R.

Family Register (1578-1619) of the Isamberts, living in the parish of S. Sulpice at Paris	231 b .

Collation. a¹² b⁶, the rest of 8, except last of Hours of Virgin and last in volume, which are of 6, + 2 fly-leaves.

Marks of ownership. The MS was written for Isabel Stuart, daughter of James I. of Scotland, and second wife of Francis I. Duke of Brittany, whom she married in 1445, dying about 1500.

Her arms, which occur frequently, are these :

(1) ermine ; (2) party per pale on the dexter side ermine for Brittany, impaled by dimidiation with the arms of Scotland (or, a lion rampant within a double tressure fleury contre fleury gules), so that half of either coat is hidden by the other. It is not clear that these arms were not inserted after the book had been bought by or for Isabel.

The MS subsequently belonged to the Isamberts. On the fly-leaf is Heures a Moy appartenans (Isambert...) in a xvth century hand. On the last leaves is a register of the Isamberts from 1578–1619 and of their baptisms at S. Sulpice, Paris.

The use is Parisian. The Kalendar agrees very closely with that of No. 60, but the Litany does not. It contains S. Martial (Limoges) among the Apostles, Firmin (Amiens) among Martyrs, Marcellus, Germanus (Paris) and Severinus among Confessors, Geneviève, Oportuna (Paris), and Martha (Southern) among Virgins. This, with the occurrence of South French saints in the illustrations, points to an admixture of Southern influences.

The pictorial decorations in this MS are more profuse than in any other in the collection. There are no less than 528 figured subjects. Every page has, besides the 'line and leaf' ornament of the border, a small oblong miniature. These form four continuous series of illustrations taken from the 'Three Pilgrimages' (of Jesus Christ, of Man's Life, and of the Soul) of Guillaume de Deguileville (1350), monk of Chaalis¹, and from the Apocalypse of S. John. The remainder of the pages are illustrated from detached legends, or with subjects suggested by the text. Besides this, the ordinary series of pictures is very full.

The work is very skilful, though showing traces of rapid execution. Especially noticeable, and of the most careful and delicate finish, is the full-page picture, No. 307. Several artists seem to have been employed. Possibly we can distinguish between the painters of (1) the large subjects, (2) the marginal pictures, (3) No. 307, (4) Nos. 302–306, (5) No. 61.

Almost all the small pictures have their backgrounds of the chess-board pattern. The binding is of the xviiith century, with gold tooling at the corners, and a stamp of the Crucifixion on each cover.

¹ I have given some references to the English version of the Pilgrimage of Man, printed for the Roxburghe Club, and also for the Early English Text Society.

In quires of 12 leaves, with one exception, which is of 10.

Marks of ownership. Initials k, y united by a cord in the border of No. 24. The binding, of red leather, richly tooled, and stamped all over with fleurs-de-lys, has these arms (gules?) four bars dancette (or?) on a bend (gules?), three fleurs-de-lys (or?).

The use is that of Paris. The Kalendar has S. Yues, S. Marcial, Invention of S. Stephen (Sens), S. Leu (1 Sept.), in gold.

The Litany has Martyr, S. Eutropius (Sens, Saintes, etc.); Confessors, SS. Lupus (Troyes), Yuo (Chartres), which points to some place not far from Sens.

The work is very good indeed. The softness of the figure-drawing recalls the Hours of Isabel of Brittany.

1. Large. Matins of B. V. M. Annunciation: scroll, Aue—tecum. Dove. Father and seraphs in border. The scene in an apsidal building with ?altar.

2. ibid. Border. Initial. Joachim's offering rejected: he kneels at altar with Anne, offering a lamb.

The first quire is of 12 leaves, the rest of 8, except three, which are of 6 (viz. l, m, y).

Marks of ownership, etc. In the beginning are two notes on paper inserted. One, signed by the great Bernard de Montfaucon, merely to the effect that the MS is of the xvth century. The other, signed by M. Boivin, attributes the book to the time of Charles VI.

and conjectures from the binding that it belonged to N. Hurault, Bp of Chartres, whose MSS were bought by Louis XIII.

This binding is of red leather richly tooled, and bearing a stamp of a rayed dove descending, often repeated.

The Kalendar marks the same feasts in gold as does No. 63, except S. Martial. The Litany invokes Confessors, SS. Marcellus, Lupus...Louis, Demetrius, Yvo. Virgin, S. Geneviève.

The use is Parisian.

The Kalendar has a small square picture at the bottom of each page. All the pages throughout are bordered, and have a grotesque figure in the border, or else a half-length prophet, warrior, angel, or apostle, usually without distinguishing mark. The interesting point is the inequality of the borders and grotesques in different parts of the book. All the large miniatures up to No. 37 have some part of the border really well done. After that even these become coarse. The miniatures themselves are never very good. The fact is, that two distinct hands have been employed on the grotesques, of which the better and earlier one executed the Matins, and nearly all the Hours of the Virgin. The later and coarser one has been engaged upon all the rest, and on leaves 1 and 8 of quire g, and 4 and 5 of quire h.

1. January. Man at table, drinks. 2. Aquarius pouring from pitcher into stream.
3. Feb. Man sitting by fire. 4. Pisces in stream.
5. Mar. Pruning vines. 6. Aries in landscape.
7. Apr. A young woman, half-length. 8. Taurus feeding.
9. May. A man, half-length, holds flower by a tree.
10. Gemini nude, half-length, boy and girl holding tablet.
11. June. Half-length, with scythe.
12. Cancer. Gold cray-fish by stream.
13. July. Reaping corn. 14. Leo, gold, séant.
15. Aug. Half-length, winnowing with basket. 16. Virgo half-length with palm.
17. Sept. Treading grapes. 18. Libra held by hand in cloud.
19. Oct. Sowing corn; from apron. 20. Scorpius by water. Rays above.
21. Nov. Half-length: feeds pigs by a wood. 22. Sagittarius. Beardless centaur with bow.
23. Dec. Half-length, puts two loaves into the oven with a bread-peel.
24. Capricornus, ibex-like, half a serpent.
25. S. John writing, on island, with eagle. Rays above, a city in distance.
26. S. Luke writing, scroll on knee under canopy. Desk with book. Ox.
27. S. Matthew in room under canopy. Scroll on knee. Winged man holds ink. Virgin and Child in border.

28. S. Mark in room. City seen outside window. Scroll on knee, a book on a trestle. Seat with cushion. Lion.
29. Horae B. V. M. Matins. Annunciation in room. The Virgin under a canopy. The dove : the angel has no scroll.
(p. 95 has Virgin and Child in border.)
30. Lauds. Visitation, before a city gate. Rays above. S. Elizabeth is represented as very old.
31. Prime. Nativity. Joseph and Mary adore. Rays above. The ass represented.
32. Tierce. Red angel above with scroll : GLORIA IN ALTISSIMIS DEO ET IN. Two shepherds look up : in front sits a third with hose torn at knees playing a pipe to his dog which dances. A woman stands behind him setting a wreath on his head.
33. Sext. Adoration of Magi. Star above. Joseph is not present.
34. None. Presentation. Rays above.
35. Vespers. Flight. Rays above. Fall of Idols.
36. Compline. Coronation. The Virgin kneels on clouds, crowned by an angel, a background of red angels. Christ, throned, on a pavement.
37. vii. Psalms. David kneels at altar, on which is his harp. God (half-length) appears over it.
38. Horae de S. Cruce. Matins. Christ on Cross. Mary and John.
39. Horae de S. Spiritu. Pentecost. Virgin at desk : scene, in a Gothic church.
40. Vigils of the Dead. Job and three friends. He is nude except for a cincture, and sits on a dunghill. This picture is smaller.
41. xv Joys. Virgin (crowned) and Child, on throne. Angels above and in border.
42. vii Requests. The Trinity. Christ with Tau-cross. The Father with orb. They both hold one book. The dove between them, above. Red angels surrounding.
p. 220. In border S. John Baptist, with lamb.
,, 221. — S. John Evang. with cup.
,, 227. — S. Peter.

In the Litany, Martyr, S. Gereon. Confessors, Vedastus, Aman-dus. Virgins, Gertrude. A late memoria of S. Barbara is on f. 89 b.

The pictures are rude and of earlier style than the writing.

No. 1. Matins. Annunciation. Two figures. Angel on one knee. Scroll rubbed (au-e-dn̄s). Virgin stands by screen. Chequered ground. Dove alights on her head from cloud above.

2. Lauds. Salutation, two figures. Virgin on right, touches Elizabeth's chin. Hill behind.

3. Prime. Virgin in bed, stretches out hand to Christ lying in manger, behind which are ox and ass. Joseph in chair with stick at foot of bed asleep. Chequered ground, with pattern of gold on red.

4. 'Tierche.' Two shepherds standing; dog and sheep on hillock to left. Half-length angel in clouds. Scroll, Puer natus est ihs.

5. Sext. Adoration. Floriated gold ground. Star in cloud at top. Christ blesses and takes gold coin out of Gaspar's casket. The third king points to the star.

6. None. Presentation. Virgin supports naked Christ on altar. Maid to left with candle and doves. Simeon to right, stretches out hands covered. He is nimbed. Floriated ground, gold on black.

Vespers-picture gone.

7. Compline. Flight. Joseph with bundle on stick. Starry sky. Christ swathed.

8. Vij Psalms. David with harp, in a chasm in the desert, lifts up joined hands. Clouds above. Floriated ground, gold on red.

9. Officium mortuorum. Service, on pavement, wall behind. Three priests at desk on left, blue and lilac copes. Coffin, four candles. White cross, with small black crosses on a blue pall. Mourners on right.

10. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Virgin below, Peter (with book) and John, and other apostles sit round. Dove descends out of cloud, head down. Ground, wavy with flames and gold.

The use is Roman : the Kalendar marks in gold S. Eloy, Inv. of S. Stephen (the Vigil in red), SS. Loys, Leu, Gile, Denis. The Litany invokes SS. Innocentius, Symphorianus, Martyrs : Germanus, Leonard (twice), Confessors : Clara, Julitta, Genovefa, Radegundis, Virgins. S. Innocent occurs on Mar. 14 in the Kalendar: he seems to have been Bishop of Verona.

The binding is old red velvet with clasps, one of which, in the shape of the letter H, is left.

Every page has a border of ivy-leaf work: the leaves in gold interspersed with coloured flowers or fruits. The miniatures are of a high order of merit, and the condition of the book is perfect.

1. Sequences of the Gospels. S. John. Half-page picture with arched top. S. John seated, writing, on a small island; he wears a scarlet mantle lined with green, over a blue tunic. On his L. the eagle holding inkpot and pen-case. Rays above: background with hills and cities.

2. S. Luke seated with book in a room with arched wooden roof. A canopied bed on R. On L. the winged ox with scroll: S. Luc. Rich arras, and rays from L.

3. S. Matthew sits in canopied chair with desk across the arms: scroll, S. Matthieu. On R., winged man stands holding inkpot and pen-case. Rich arras: silvered windows.

4. S. Mark sits full-face with desk across the arms of his chair: he looks at his pen. On L. the winged lion with scroll: S. Marc. Arras and windows behind.

5. Hours of the Virgin. Matins. The Annunciation: the angel kneels on L. in scarlet dalmatic: scroll...gracia plena dominus. The Virgin kneels at prayer-desk under vaulted portico with arras. Landscape in background on L.

6. Lauds. The Visitation: the Virgin on L. Landscape behind: rays above from a gold sphere.

7. Prime. The Virgin (L.), Joseph, the ox and ass, adore the Child. Stable on L.: landscape on R. Rays above. Joseph has no nimbus.

8. Tierce. Two shepherds and a woman: city in the background. A demi-angel on gold clouds with scroll: Puer natus est nobis.

9. Sext. Adoration of the Magi: the Virgin and Child on L.: the Child puts his hand into the cup of gold pieces offered by the eldest king: the two others stand. None of the three is black. Rays and landscape ut supra.

10. None. The Presentation, in a church with wooden arched roof. The Virgin kneels. Salome (nimbed) holds the basket. Simeon, in peaked hat, behind altar, with cloth over his hand.

11. Vespers. The Flight into Egypt. Three figures only, in landscape: Joseph not nimbed. Rays above.

12. Compline. The Coronation of the Virgin. She kneels face R.: a demi-angel on clouds crowns her. On R. Christ crowned (not cross-nimbed), holding orb and blessing, seated on a wooden throne canopied. Gold ground.

13. Penitential Psalms. David in crown and scarlet and ermine mantle kneels face R. in landscape with river and ships. His harp lies by him. Rays above.

14. Hours of the Cross. The Crucifixion: the Virgin and S. John on L.: on R. centurion and Jew with lance. Two mountains behind: above, title, sun and moon.

15. Hours of the Holy Ghost. In a vaulted portico, the Virgin kneeling at a desk face R.: S. John beside her. Ten other apostles also kneeling. Above, the Dove on rays.

16. Office of the Dead. On L. a priest in black cope, and three clerks, in the porch of a church, blessing a shrouded corpse with a black cross marked on its breast, which two men are laying in the grave. Behind, four cloaked mourners stand under a vaulted portico.

17. The xv Joys. In an arched room the Virgin and Child seated full face. Arras and silvered windows behind them: on either side an angel in white plays a pipe.

There seem to be no marks of ownership. In No. 2 we have a lady kneeling. The provenance is no doubt Besançon. In the Kalendar 'Saint Antidius' is half written in gold. The Invention of S. Stephen is in gold, and the 'dedication S. Estiene' is entered on Oct. 3. The Litany invokes SS. Ferreolus, Ferrucius, Antidius, Mammes, Desiderius, Martyrs: SS. Desideratus, Nicetius, Prothadius, Anatolius, Confessors.

The work is careful, but coarse. For a MS closely connected with this, see No. 70.

The binding is of cir. 1780, an elaborate lozenge pattern of yellow, green, and red.

No. 1. Secundum Johannem. S. John on island writing: half-angel, descending, blows a trumpet in his ear.

2. Prayer of Innocent: Ie te prie. A lady kneels to Virgin crowned, and child, seated under canopy; a wall round.

3. Horae B. V. M. Matins. The Annunciation. Virgin reads under curtained canopy. Father, half-length, with three crowns and orb. Angel with scroll Aue-dns.

4. Lauds. Salutation. Hilly country.

5. Prime. Nativity. Virgin in bed, reading. Joseph with Child, swathed on his knee. The ass bends over him. Ox with bell on neck.
6. Tierce. Angels (two). Scr. annunciatio uobis gaudiū magnū. Two shepherds: hilly country.
7. 'Midy.' Three kings adore Virgin and Child under curtained canopy. Star.
8. Nones. Presentation. Simeon mitred and nimbed. Joseph absent. Attendant with taper. Book on altar.
9. 'Vespres.' Flight. Joseph with knapsack. Hills.
10. Compline. The Virgin crowned by angel descending kneels to the Son, who is seated under curtained canopy.
11. Sept psaulmes. David, with harp before him, kneels in hilly country. Half-length of God with orb in sky. David has a gypciere at his side.
12. Heures de la Crois. Chess-board background. Christ on cross, wounded in side. Title on cross. Mary and John (with book).
13. Heures du Saint Esprit. Pentecost. Virgin seated in midst with book. Twelve Apostles (naturalistic, nimbed). Red ground.
14. Vigil. Mort. Funeral in choir. Bishop sprinkles coffin. Cross-bearer with vessel for water: a crowd of eight mourners on L.
15. Ou temps que saint Gregoire. Mass of St Gregory. Christ in the tomb supported by an angel appears over the altar to S. Gregory.

Given to Lord Fitzwilliam by Io. Fr. de la Marche, Bp of S. Pol-de-Léon (cons. 1772). He was driven from France at the Revolution and died in England in 1806 (Nov. 25. So Searle from Nouv. Biogr. Générale). Lord Fitzwilliam records the gift on the fly-leaf thus:

Ex dono nobilis/ Joannis Francisci de la Marche/
Episcopi Leonensis,/ pii, venerati, dilecti.

There are no miniatures, but 18 pages are bordered and have good initials.

The use is Roman.

In red in the Kalendar are SS. Nichasius, Donatian, and Eli-gius; in black, Amandus, Milburga, David, Patrick, Brandan, Boniface, Basil, Magnus, Bertin, Hubert Bp, Lambert, Livinus.
In the Litany Martyrs, Lupus, Nichasius. Confessors, Bertin, Amandus. Virgins, Juliana, Martha, Elizabeth, Ursula.

North-Eastern France is the source. The writing and vellum are both very good.

In the Litany, Martyrs, Benignus Mammes: Confessors, Medard. Virgins, Genevieve.

From Dijon or Langres.

The work of this MS is extremely curious, rough and careless very often but remarkably clever. Especially noteworthy for their imaginative power are the Infernos which occur more than once. The carelessness of the artist is conspicuous in his repetition of the same subject in the illustrations of the borders.

1. January. Half-length, at table. Fireplace on R.
2. ACARIUS. Aquarius pours from two pitchers on his shoulders. Half-length.
3. Vincent, palm and book, under niche.

 34. December. One kills a black pig on a table. His wife holds a dish.
 35. QVPRICORVRNV, a goat.
 36. The Child Christ lies on his back in a stable with rays descending on him.
 37. Large. John writes. Angel stands by the ink which is on a rock. Seven-headed winged dragon below. Rays descend. Background, a beautiful blue landscape with castles on hills and water.
 The text, as often, is merely a patch—unframed—in the midst of the picture.
 38. Border. John with cup.
 39. — Magdalene. Casket.
 40. Large. Luke writes. Gregory, with tiara and cross-staff, stands by; half-lengths. Ox below text under arch.
 41. Border. GABIER with sceptre (Gabriel) faces R.
 42. Large. Mark writes. Jcrome, as cardinal, stands by; half-lengths. Blue landscape behind. Below, lion under arch.
 43. Border. Christ with globe, as Salvator Mundi.
 44. Border. Christ's feet ascending. Landscape below.
 45. Full. Obscro te, Domina. In a room with window, and open door with view of another house, man in black kneels at a prayer-desk to Virgin and Child seated. Angel hovers above with crown.
 46. Border. Virgin and Child seated.
 47. — Virgin and Child seated, with crown.
 48. — ABRAN, with knife raised over Isaac on altar. Angel above.
 49. — Lamb feeding.
 50. — DAVID, hands joined.
 51. Full (inserted). Matins. Annunciation. Angel kneeling. In air the Dove, rayed. An interesting view of inner chamber. Border of red flowers, &c. A XVIII cent. miniature.

pp. 23—49 have border in two stages. a. A bust of a king, angel, man or woman.

b. A kneeling priest or monk or a standing Virgin, or king, or civilian, sometimes with cross or harp.

The Kalendar has on Feb. 8 S. Stephen of Grandmont near Limoges (d. 1124), in gold, and on Feb. 15 his octave. Also in gold S. Gervais, S. Martial, S. Vivian, S. Romaing. Also in red the Translation of S. Martial. The Kalendar then is most likely of Limoges, but I am almost certain that it is not in the same hand as the rest of the MS but older. The use is of Rouen. The Litany (misbound) has S. Ursin as a disciple. Confessors, Vivianus, Romanus, Mello, Macutus, Albinus, Candidus. Virgins, Austreberta, Honorina, Anastasia. In Lauds is a Memoria of 'S. Katerine de Senis.'

On the whole this points to Rouen. Notice that here as in other Rouen books the four Evangelists are given in one picture. The pictures are mostly very rough.

No. 1. Sequentia of S. John: in four compartments. Four Evangelists seated writing. 1. John on isle with eagle. 2. Mark in room looks at pen; lion by him. 3. Luke at desk in room reading, face R. 4. Matthew at desk on chair. Angel before him.

2. Obsecro te, Domina. Initial. Pietà.
3. O intemerata. Initial. Assumption. Angel under feet, one on each side.
4. Large. Matins. Annunciation. Scr. AVE—PLENA. Angel, coped. Architecture above. In front, lily-pot; lady kneels in border with prayer-book on desk.
5. Lauds. Initial. Salutation. Two figures.
6. Prime. Large. Virgin and Joseph (with guttering candle) and angel and ox and ass, adore the child, who lies in the form of a cross.
7. Tierce. Initial. Two shepherds, one with bagpipe. Angel with scroll.
8. Sext. „ Adoration of three kings. Five figures.
9. None. „ Presentation. Three figures, dado behind.
10. Vespers. „ Flight to R.
11. Compline. Coronation by angel overhead. Virgin seated with Christ, who has orb and blesses her.
12. Large. Vij Psalms. David kneels before throne, harp on table before him, turban on the floor. Christ, half-length, with orb in circle above. Angel in air.
13. Hours of the Cross. Mass of Gregory. Christ in tomb below two angels. Cross, robe, veronica, dice, money, ladder, basin and ewer, pillar, scourge, two acolytes, four cardinals and two priests.
14. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Pentecost with Virgin with book. Dove overhead.
15. Large. Officium mortuorum. Funeral procession in churchyard. Mourners and acolytes with candles, priests. A deadhouse full of skulls behind.
16. 'de son bon angle.' Initial. Woman kneeling, and angel in white.

The use is of Rouen. In the Kalendar, SS. Eloy, Martial, Romanus are in gold. The Litany invokes Confessors, SS. Ursin (Bruges), Candidus, Macutus, Vivianus (Rouen). Virgins, Columba (Sens), Honorina (Paris), Quiteria (Dax), Avia (Normandy and Paris), Austreberta, Geneviève. The Memoriae in Lauds include one of S. Romanus (Rouen).

The borders to the large pictures are usually divided into 'geometrical' patterns, triangles, etc. Good work. The arrangement of the pictures of the Evangelists in a single composition in four compartments (No. 25) connects this with another Rouen book (No. 75). These two books are also much like the later Rouen books, Nos. 78, 79.

- No. 1. January. A round miniature in border. Man at table by sideboard.
2. Aquarius. Full-length. Two pitchers.
3. February. Man warming his hands.

10. Gemini, one body, two heads. Naked.
11. June. Mowing. River behind.
12. Cancer.

13. July. Reaping with serrated sickle. Road behind.
14. Leo.
15. August. Threshing sheaves.
16. Virgo—no attribute.
17. September. Sowing.
18. Libra.
19. October. Treading grapes: holds tumbler of wine.
20. Scorpio.
21. November. Beating oaks for pigs.
22. Sagittarius.
23. December. Killing a pig with an axe.
24. Capricornus, a natural goat.
25. Sequentia of S. John. Four compartments. 1. Top, left, John. Devil upsets ink. Eagle by him. 2. Matthew at desk, angel kneels. 3. Mark sucks his pen at desk. Lion. 4. Luke in cap, beardless. Ox at desk.
26. Horæ B. V. M. Matins. Annunciation. Scr. Ave—tecum. Angel kneels. Dove descends. Lily-pot. Rich architecture.
27. Border. Round miniatures (from bottom, left). 1. Meeting of Joachim and Anna. The gate is golden. 2. Birth of Blessed Virgin Mary. She is swathed. A cradle by the bed. 3. Presentation of the Virgin. Joachim and Anna, no priest. 4. Marriage of the Virgin. High Priest has the πέραλον.
28. Lauds. Salutation, with an angel. City. Memoriae follow, of John, the Trinity, Michael, John Baptist, Peter, Lawrence, Romanus, Nicolas, Catherine, Margaret, All Saints.
29. Prime. Mary and Joseph adore the child. Angel. Ox and ass. Two spectators. Eagle and grotesques in border.
30. Tierce. Three shepherds. Angel. Scr. Gloria in excelsis Deo. City with moat and two swans reflected.
31. Sext. Adoration of the kings. Star above. Castle. No Joseph.
32. 'Nonae.' Presentation. Simeon nimbed, Joseph not nimbed. An ecclesiastic and two maids, one with candle, one with doves.
33. Vespers. Flight. Man sowing stopped by soldiers. Wheat, already grown up, by him. City and swan as in No. 30.
34. Compline. Coronation of the Virgin by angels. The Son crowned under canopy with orb. Angel with Regalls.
35. Vii Psalms. David kneels, having descended from a canopied throne. Table with book and harp. Crown and turban on the ground. Christ in heaven. Angel descends with sword.
36. Horæ de S. Spiritu (Hours of the Cross gone). Pentecost. Virgin. Peter almost prostrate. Dove, with flames proceeding from it.
37. Vigil. Mort. Corpse laid in grave, sprinkled by priest. A guardian angel above delivers the soul to a golden angel.
38. Xv Joys. Virgin and Child, throned, under canopy. Virgin crowned by two angels. A lady kneels to Virgin on her right. Angel opposite kneels with harp.

Marks of ownership. Appliqué labels on the binding have the name Magdalene de Brageloigne.

The use is of Rouen. In gold in the Kalendar, SS. Eloy, Gervais, Martial, Romain.

In the Litany, Apostle, Martial. Confessors, Mello, Victricius, Romanus, Vivianus, Paternus, Hyldevertus, Maturin, Victorius, Lupus. Virgin, Austreberta.

The binding is a very good French one in the Grobei style: it has been rebacked.

The pictures are remarkably good: we notice the Rouen habit of illustrating the sequence of the Gospels with a picture of the Evangelists in four compartments.

No. 1. Four compartments. 1. John on isle. Scr. secundum Joh. on knee. Eagle. 2. Matthew, scroll on desk (s̄cs.) Mattheus. Angel to right. 3. Luke mending pen, ox to right. Scr. Lucas. 4. "S. Marcus," lion to right. Scroll on knee.

2. Matins. Annunciation. Virgin on left. Angel coped, kneels. Scr. Aue—dominus. Dove on ray. Lily-pot. Green pavement. Blue and gold arras.

Medallion in border, Joachim and Anne meet by golden gate. Very delicate work.

3. Lauds. Salutation. Angel holds Virgin's train on left. Landscape with river behind. Virgin has rayed nimbus, Elizabeth none, but a white turban. Blue cloud above, rayed.

4. Memoria. S. Katherine in room, reading, book lies open on bench, sword in hand, wheel on ground. Cusped gold nimbus.

5. Prime. Mary and Joseph adore Christ; ox, ass. Angel behind Virgin. Arras pink and gold. Wattled fence, ruined stable behind. Landscape.

6. Tierce. Two shepherds. Half-length angel, rayed. Scr. Puer natus est. Landscape. Minute work.

7. 'Midy.' Flight to left instead of to right. Christ swathed. Joseph not nimbed. Cattle-driver behind.

8. None. Presentation. Simeon not nimbed, nor Joseph. Simeon has a cope and hat: altar not draped.

9. Vespers. Adoration. Kings, star, no Joseph. Arras and stable.

10. Compline. Coronation. Two angels. God with orb under a green awning. Landscape behind.

11. Vij Psalms. David with turban and harp kneels by canopied throne. God's hand out of cloud (small). Landscape. In border. Medallion of David and Goliath, among sheep. Goliath has sword and spear, David stones in robe.

12. Hours of the Cross. Crucifixion between thieves (who have bleeding legs and arms). Title. Head of God over cross. Virgin swoons, John, Magdalene, soldier on left; on right, Pilate long robe (or centurion). Two soldiers. Sun and moon.

13. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Pentecost. Dove with flames over Virgin, seated, and Peter. John, like these two, has open book. The Virgin faces right. Interior of building with entrance and statue.

14. Officium mortuorum. Shrouded corpse, put into grave. Priest sprinkles holy water. Cross-bearer and mourners to left, a cruciform church behind. To right, the soul in air received by angel with cross, a devil attacks it.

15. Xv Joys. Pietà by cross, with John and Magdalene; on the cross are the title and crown. Sun and moon: on ground in front lie three dice and thirty gold pieces. In the border is a lady in pink with black headdress kneeling, face L.

The use is of Rouen.

In the Kalendar SS. Gervasius, Martial, Romanus, are in gold.

The Litany invokes S. Martial as an Apostle and S. Ursin as a disciple.

The borders have geometrical patterns. The work is careless and late but clever. The pictures are much like those of No. 78.

No. 1. January. At table, hooded.

2. February. At fire, in hat.

3. March. Digging in vineyard.

4. April. Plant in one hand : takes another from a kneeling boy.

5. May. Riding : a girl behind.

6. June. Mowing.

7. July. Reaping.

8. August. Threshing.

9. September. Naked, treading grapes.

10. October. Sowing.

11. November. Beating oaks.

12. December. Killing pig.

13. Sequentie of S. John. John on isle writing. Eagle by him. Christ in sky. Landscape and town.

14. Matins of B. V. M. Annunciation. Angel kneels. Dove enters on a ray. Canopy with statues. Two angels in left border.

15—19, in border. Top, right. Angel appears to Joachim among sheep. (16) Meeting of Joachim and Anne before the golden gate. (17) Birth of Blessed Virgin Mary. Anne reading in bed. (18) The Virgin weaving in the Temple. (19) Marriage of the Virgin. Anne and another man behind.

20. Lauds. Salutation. Two angels. Rays above. Landscape and town.

21. Prime. Mary and Joseph adore the Child. Three angels. Ox, ass and rays above.

22. Border, R. The Sibyl shews to kneeling Octavian the Virgin and Child in sky. Landscape.

23. Border, below. Three angels in air with music. One has Gloria in excelsis on a scroll.

24. Tierce. Angel. Scr. Gloria—Deo. Three shepherds and woman.

25. Sext. Adoration of the Magi. Rays above. Joseph is not present.

26. Nonc. Presentation. Simeon nimbed. Christ lies on the altar. Joseph and the attendant not nimbed.

27. Vespers. Flight, with attendant who has two baskets of doves, one on her head. Rays above.

28. Compline. Coronation, by angel. Son with orb.

29. Vii Psalms. David, bareheaded, kneeling before table, on which is his harp. Christ in sky. Canopy with statues.

30. Border, R. David (three sheep by him) and Goliath, whom the stone has just struck.
31. — below. Bathsheba in a stream. David and two courtiers look from window.
32. Horæ S. Spiritus. Pentecost with Virgin, sitting. Dove with rays.
33. Vigil. Mort. Funeral in choir. Priest at desk.
34. Border, L. Lady in churchyard struck by Death with shroud and dart.
35. Below. Funeral in churchyard. Corpse laid into the earth. Priest with book. Attendant with cross and bucket.
36. xv Joys. Virgin and Child throned under canopy. L. Lady kneeling. R. Angel.

It seems that the Hours of the Holy Ghost and the end of the Mass of the Virgin are lost.

On f. 14 a in the margin is a coat of arms much rubbed. A fess or: between azure, a lion's head or in chief erased facing dexter, and barry of six argent and gules.

The use is Roman. In the Kalendar SS. Eligius (Noyon), Remigius and Bavo, Donatian (Bruges), Nichasius are in red.

In the Litany we have Martyrs : SS. Lupus, Amandus, Donatus. Doctor : Louis. Confessors : Francis, Eligius, Giles, Dominic. Virgins : Amelberga, Ursula, Martha.

The work is remarkable, especially that in the borders, which have been a good deal cut.

The binding is old red velvet.

1. f. 13 b. Frontispiece to Hours of the Cross. A border of complicated ornament extending to the extreme edge of the leaf surrounds this and the opposite page.

Full page. Miniature. The crucifixion with title. Ground of red with gold flourishes. L. S. John supports the Virgin. R. Centurion with scroll 'Vere—iste' talks to a soldier. A skull on the ground.

14 a. Inside the border above mentioned is an inner border of embossed gold and colours, earlier in style. In the lower margin is the shield described above.

2. Front. to Officium Misse B. Marie. Full page, surrounded by border as above. Ground, blue above, mainly red with gold rays. The Virgin, in blue, seated on a vermilion quilt on a cushion holds a fruit toward the child, nude, on her lap. Two blue angels above hold a crown over her.

3. Hours of the B.V.M. Roman Use. Matins. Full page, bordered. Crimson ground with gold ornament. Annunciation. The Father in L. upper corner breathes forth the dove on a gold ray toward the Virgin, who kneels on R. under a green canopy on red pavement. Gabriel in green kneels on one knee on L. and holds scroll Aue—tecum. A lily-pot in font. A low stone wall behind.

4. Lauds. Full page, bordered. Visitation. The Virgin on L. Two figures only. Landscape of trees, hills and wall with frequent towers.

5. Prime. Full page, bordered. Joseph and Mary adore the child. The Virgin kneels L. under the stable. The child nude on the grass. Joseph on one knee with candle. Manger on R. with ox and ass. Above the Father, a bust only, breathes down the dove on a ray. Tree and hills behind.

6. Tierce. Full page, bordered. The angel and the shepherds. In front lie ten sheep. Two shepherds, young and old, with crooks, astonished. A demi-angel with scroll, Gloria—deo. Landscape, trees, hills, and towered wall.

7. Sext. Full page, bordered. Adoration of the Magi. The Virgin sits on L. under the stable. The oldest king kneels bareheaded. None of the three is black. Joseph is absent. The star is above. The landscape as in No. 6.

8. None. Full page, bordered. Presentation. An interior with four windows. R. of the altar is Simeon nimbed, a cloth over his hands. A tonsured assistant R. of him. L. of him Joseph with candle. On L. of the altar the Virgin with the child, and a maid with doves in a basket and candle.

9. Vespers. Full page, bordered. Massacre of the Innocents. Red ground as in 3, and low stone wall and red pavement. L. Herod in chair with raised sword. On the floor lies a nimbed child, and a soldier leans on his sword, driving the point into the child's body. A woman in tall cap behind him tries to hold his arm.

10. Compline. Full page, bordered. The flight into Egypt. The child is swaddled, the ass is led by Joseph. The landscape as in No. 6.

11. Office of the B.V.M. Advent. Coronation of the Virgin. Ground, etc., as in No. 3. The Virgin kneels face R. on the step of a throne made for two people, covered with green carpet. The Son, seated, with crown and orb, blesses her. A demi-angel above holds the crown.

12. The Seven Psalms. The Last Judgment. Crimson and gold ground. L. kneels the Virgin. R. S. John Evangelist. Between them the heads of six men appear out of the ground. Above, Christ on the rainbow, his feet on a globe, shewing his wounds. On either side a blue demi-angel with trumpet.

13. Vigils of the Dead. A funeral in church. The corpse and altar on L. Blue and gold vault. Wooden roof on nave. Green hangings. A coffin with blue pall stands at right angle to the altar. At the R. end three coped priests sing at a lectern. Back to the spectator stand two mourners in black with open book.

(b) On f. 16 b a long inscription in French setting forth that the work was given to Sœur Anne Teresse (Thérèse) Drouhot of the convent of S. Quirinus at Huy (on the Meuse) by her grandmother De Neufville, who died in 1664, aged 98.

The use is not Rome, Paris, or Amiens, but resembles each.

In red in the Kalendar SS. Gislain, Nicaise.

In the Litany, Martyrs: SS. Piatas (Chartres), Lambert.
Confessors: Amandus, Vedastus. A Memoria of S. Dominic.

Curious 'archaistic' work of Flemish origin (?), rather like Searle 104; especially noticeable are the large initials, which might almost be of cent. xiv. The miniatures in the early part of the book are pasted upon guards in many cases. The Hours of the Virgin (exc. Matins) have guards at the beginning of each but no miniatures.

No. 1. Passio sec. Joh. Agony. Chalice and cup. Three disciples. Garden fence and gate.

2. Bearing cross. Veronica with clothes behind. Virgin and apostles seen behind her. A Jew (probably the Wandering Jew) smites Christ with stick. Christ looks at him. A soldier leads Christ. Soldiers behind.

3. Mocking. Christ crowned with thorns by two men with staves: he is blindfold, hands bound, blue robe on floor in front. Two men spit, two mock him.

4. Scourged by two men. Pilate seated, two hooded Jews talk to him. The blue robe lies on the floor to right.

5. Pilate washes hands. Christ crowned and bound, in purple robe among soldiers. Two Jews, one speaks to Pilate.

6. Crucifixion between two thieves, who are nailed through the elbows and thighs. Christ's side is being pierced. Virgin swoons. John, Magdalene on left. Skull by cross. On right, centurion (scr. vere—iste) on horse and soldiers. Gold flourished ground.

7. Deposition. Body supported by man on ladder, hands unnailed, kissed by Virgin on left. R. Another man on ladder. Below, one unnailed feet. John, &c. on left. Bones are strewn on the ground.

8. Entombment, by Joseph and Nicodemus, not nimbed. Virgin, John, and Magdalene (casket) behind. Gold ground with pattern.

9. Resurrection. Christ in blue and red robe and cross. Two trees. Three soldiers sleeping.

10. Matins. Annunciation. Scrolls, Ave—tecum and Ecce—uerbum. Lily-pot in front. Panelled stone wall behind. God, half-length in cloud to left, sends dove on ray.

11. Officium Mortuorum, by a different artist. Pavement below. Two angels in air carry naked soul (its back turned) in a cloth. Half-length of God with orb, blessing, in starry sky, beardless. Rest of the ground gold.

The use is Roman.

The Kalendar has in red Amandus, Transl. S. Thome, Egidius Bp (Dec. 1); in black, Maurice Abbot, Aldegundis V., Brandanus Bp (May 16), Desiderius Bp, Boniface Bp, Donatian Bp, Lambert Bp.

The Litany has Martyrs, Luppus, Amandus, Gereon. Virgins, Martha, Scolastica, Anastasia, Ursula.

There is a strong Flemish element in this: the MS must come from N.E. France.

A leaf is cut out at the end of the Office of the Dead.

The pictures, done very carefully, are hopelessly crude and wooden: they should be compared with those in the two following MSS and in No. 54.

The binding is very good, of early xvi cent.: patterns in white, green, blue and black on a bronze ground.

Collation. a⁶ b⁶ c¹⁰ d¹⁰ e⁶, etc.

No. 1. Hours of the Cross. Full page. Crucifixion: Christ's side is pierced by Longinus, who is pointing to his eye. Virgin swoons. John supports her, on right a centurion with scr. 'vere filius dei erat iste,' and two Jews.

2. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Pentecost: in a church. Virgin in midst. Dove overhead. Peter, John, other apostles round.

3. Missa B. V. Mariae. Virgin crowned and Child, throned in building: on left angel with chalice, on right angel.

4. Obsecro te, Domina. Virgin and Child stand between two angels in a building: one has a guitar; above two angels hold crown. Rays and star.

5. Hours of B. V. M. Matins. Annunciation. Father in sky with orb. Angel with sceptre. Bookcase, lily-pot.

6. Lauds. Salutation by river in landscape.

7. Prime. Mary, Joseph and angel adore the naked child: a curtain behind Virgin.

8. Tierce. Two shepherds. Windmill. Angel with scroll, 'Gloria in.'

9. Sext. Three kings offer a box of gold, a horn and casket; curtain as in No. 7.

10. None. Presentation. Child in arms of Simeon; one nimbed woman by him. On the altar a cloth worked with the words ave—tecum. Joseph with candle. Maid with doves. Two more spectators.

11. Vespers. Massacre of the Innocents. One soldier-group. Herod throned and councillor, in a hall.

12. Compline. Flight in landscape.

13. vij Psalms. Judgment as in No. 83, 13.

14. Officium mortuorum. Raising of Lazarus. He is nimbed and steps out of a brick tomb under a vaulted porch. Christ on L. is followed by three nimbed women and two Jews.

The arrangement of the contents and the collation agree with the supposition of a North-Eastern origin.

The name B. de Saussaye occurs on f. 1 in a hand of cent. xvii.

In the Kalendar no names occur in red that are distinctive: neither among the other saints is a decided line shewn. It is possible that there may be more North-Western saints than others. The hand seems Flemish.

The miniatures are in grisaille (grey and gold), and the borders have a good deal of black and gold work, which throughout is good.

Collation. a² (+ 2*) b⁶ c¹⁰, the rest in quires of 8 leaves.

In red in the Kalendar S. Nicaise. The use is Roman.

In the Litany. Virgins, SS. Brigida, Aldegondis. The character and provenance are North-Eastern French.

The work is of a poor kind: the small square miniatures in the text closely resemble those in English books of the period.

No. 1. Heures de la Croix. Agony. Disciples this side of brook, which has plank bridge. Cup on hillock. Church in the distance.

2. Prime. Small, in Text. Christ before Pilate, two soldiers behind Christ.

3. Tierce. Crowned with thorns. Two stakes are used to press the crown down.

4. Sext. Crucifixion: between Mary and John.

5. None. Crucifixion. Side pierced. Virgin kneels to right.

6. Vespers. Deposition. Two men; one on ladder supports body; the R. hand still nailed.

7. Compline. Entombment by two men. Virgin stands behind.

8. Large. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Pentecost. Virgin in midst, rather in front. Open book on kneec. Apostles kneel on each side. Dove in blue sphere, rayed.

9. Matins of the B. V. M. Annunciation. Virgin kneels to right at desk. Dove in air rayed. Angel kneels on left with sceptre and scroll ave—tecum. View outside door.

10. Lauds. Salutation. Two figures in a meadow. Rays above. Castle behind right.
11. Prime. Mary and Joseph kneel, adore Christ, lying between. Stable behind. View behind that. Ox and ass to left.
12. Tierce. Two shepherds, one stands. Small pink angel and scroll in air.
13. Sext. Adoration. Star outside stable. The third king points to it. Tree over wall on right. Joseph absent.
14. None. Presentation. Simeon on right, with knife. Man behind him. Maid behind Virgin with doves. Altar (round) in centre.
15. Vespers. Flight to R. Three figures. Landscape with castle and hill. Joseph has basket on arm.

A leaf is lost after f. 84 (Hours of the Cross, frontispiece).

Marks of ownership. An erased coat of arms on f. 25.

The use is of Bourges.

In the Kalendar in red, SS. Austregisilus, Eligius, Louis, Martin (twice).

Also in black, Octave of S. Ursin, Sulpicius Severus (Bourges), Montania (Mar. 26), Trans. of S. William of Bourges, Martial Apostle, two more Sulpicii, Transl. of S. Martial, Veranus Bp, Valeria Virgin (Limoges).

Remarkable pictures, hard and ugly for the most part. The small drawings in gold on black are an unusual feature.

No. 1. Sequentia of S. John. John on isle, writes INPR. Eagle. Landscape. Rays above.

2. Of S. Luke. S. Luke at desk, in cap, with white beard, paints the Virgin's picture. She stands before him with clasped hands.

3. Of S. Matthew. Mark in chair, at table with ink. Writes on his knee, looking at books on a round desk. Lion. Niches in wall and figures.

4. Of Mark. Matthew writes on knee from (Hebrew) book on desk. Angel behind.

5. Obsecro te, Domina. Virgin (crowned) and Child. Throned, among many angels. Wall and trees behind.

6. Horæ B. V. M. Matins. Annunciation under architecture with three statues—of Christ and two angels. Wall adorned with niches and figures, as in No. 3.

7. Lauds. Salutation. Two figures. Landscape, town. Rays above.

8. Prime. Virgin and Joseph adore the Child. Ox and ass. Fireplace with fire. Three shepherds outside approach. Rays above.

9. Tierce. Four shepherds, one with pipe looking at three angels (red).

10. Sext. Three kings bring gifts. Joseph. Star. A box of gold pieces is being offered.

11. None. Presentation. Simeon is nimbed, but not Joseph, who has doves. Anna and four others are present: on the architecture AVEMARIA, repeated.

12. Sext. Flight. Man sowing in the background.

13. Compline. Virgin crowned. Angels behind, red angels above. She kneels to Christ, who is on a gold throne, crownless.

14. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Pentecost with Virgin, John, &c. All kneel facing R. Rays come from R. to their heads.

15. Hours of S. Catherine. Her head in foreground and fragments of wheels. Then, her body prostrate. Then, the executioner sheathing his sword. Further off, the wheels, broken. On R. the Emperor and his men.

16. Suspice dñe. Christ on rainbow with orb between. Virgin and S. John Baptist: in front, back to spectator, a crowd of nimbed figures.

17. vii Psalms. In text. David half-length with harp by him in landscape. Grisaille.

18. Hours of Passion. Betrayal. Kiss of Judas. Malchus healed. Peter puts up his sword.

19. Lauds, in text. Flagellation. Three figures, gold and brown.

20. Prime, ,, Crowned with thorns. Blindfold. Recd. Four figures.

du Duc Antoine donné par le R. p. de Trolour de la compagnie de Iesus au D(uc)
a Nancy 14 Juin

CHARLES

1665

We thus have a clue to three owners, viz.

1. Duchess Renée, wife of Duke Antoine of Lorraine; she was born in 1515 and died in 1539.
2. The Jesuit father Trolour.
3. Duke Charles III. of Lorraine, d. 1675.

The use is Roman. SS. Mansuetus and Gerard, invoked in the Litany, are of Toul: S. Desiderius, Martyr, is of Langres: S. Aper, of Geneva. SS. Geneviève, Eloy, and Marcel are in gold in the Kalendar, as also the Inv. of S. Stephen. On the whole the East of France is indicated. The Litany has markedly few saints.

The work is very careful and on the whole pleasing.

No. 1. Hora B. V. M. Matins. Annunciation. Angel good, without scroll. The Virgin under a baldacchino. Dove on rays. God in sky.

2. Lauds. Salutation. Elizabeth at door of house. Stars above; city behind.

3. Prime. Nativity. Mary and Joseph above. Joseph with candle. Star or rays above. City.
4. Tierce. Angel (scr. Gloria—hominibus). Two shepherds by water, one with two pronged instruments for sheep-washing (?) and clothes torn at the knees. City behind.
5. Sext. Adoration of kings. One kisses the feet of the child. Star.
6. None. Presentation. Simeon with nimbus and high mitre. Attendant with candle. Gothic windows in the Temple.
7. Vespers. Flight. Idol falls (town behind). The Virgin has an apple. The ass is feeding.
8. Compline. Coronation, by angel. The Virgin is kneeling to God throned, with orb and three crowns.
9. vii Psalms. David kneeling at altar. Crowned, gypciere at side, harp behind. God with orb and cross over altar.
10. Horae de S. Cruce. Christ on cross. Sun and moon. Title. Virgin and John on the left. On the right Longinus armed approaches, led by one in a long robe. Christ's side is already pierced. Stars in sky and city.
11. Horae de S. Spiritu. Pentecost. Virgin, Magdalene and Peter at desk. Dove and streaming rays.
12. Vigil. Mort. A corpse, swathed, is laid in grave near a lych-gate. Priest with spade and book. Cross-bearer with bucket.
13. Memoriae. S. Sebastian at tree shot by two men. Landscape.
14. S. Christopher carrying Christ across river. Hermit with lantern. City, stars in sky.
15. S. Nicholas, a bishop blessing three children in tub in a building.
16. S. Barbara with book, by a tower, in a landscape. City behind, and stars in the sky.

 Matins of Cross.
 42 (Prime of the Virgin).
 54 (Sext of the Virgin).
 66 (Vespers of the Virgin).
 98 Seven Psalms.
 176 (vii Requests).

The use is Roman.

The Litany (there is no Kalendar) invokes Martyrs, SS. Eutropius, Maurice; Confessors, Maurilius, Maturin, Fiacre, Auer(L. n)tinus, Claudius; Virgins, Gertrude, Avia, Radegund, Geneviève. The provenance is Angers.

The pictures are very good.

No. 1. Sequentiae of S. John. Large. John in oil before a portcullised gate. Three executioners, with arms up to keep off the heat, stir the fire, &c. Four spectators, one Domitian, another a priest holding a gold idol.

2. Hours of B. V. M. Matins. Annunciation. Gabriel kneels with sceptre; outside, a train of angels, two and two kneeling, leads up to heaven. Dove on ray. Statue in the room.

3. Lauds. Salutation. Two angels behind Virgin. Rocky landscape.

4. "De cruce," but really "de spiritu sancto." Pentecost. Virgin and John, &c. all kneel facing left, in the open air. Architecture behind. Dove rayed in air on left. Evening light.

5. Tierce of B. V. M. Three shepherds, one falling backward. Blue angel in sky with scroll. Rocky landscape.

6. None of B. V. M. Presentation. Symeon mitred and nimbed. Circular white altar with centre leg. Two maids, one with doves. A bishop's throne and a vast crowd in the building.

7. Compline. Coronation. Virgin kneels. Christ standing before throne crowns and blesses her. He is crownless. Behind and around the throne are crowds of angels playing on instruments.

After vij Psalms and Litany are prayers to S. Magrina, Virgin and Martyr, in later hand.

8. Officium Mortuorum. Two women and a man prostrate in landscape with wounds in the heart. Black death with dart stands over them. A city in the distance.

9. Memoriae. Michael armed on dragon, smiting it with sword.

10. — John the Baptist, beheaded in front of prison. Executioner puts his head in charger held by Salome. Rays.

A second artist, inferior, begins at this point.

11. Memoriae. Peter and Paul under architecture. Paul with sword and open book. Peter with key.

12. Memoriae. Stephen in white stoned by two booted men. Christ with orb, upright in glory on clouds above.

13. Christopher (called Laurence) carries Christ over river. Hermit on bank. Moon.

14. Nicholas as bishop in room. Three boys in tub.
 15. Magdalene with casket in railed garden. Christ with cross and flag, blessing and shewing wounds.
 16. Margaret with cross in a prison emerges from a lion's bleeding back. Outside in background she is beheaded: an angel above.
 A third artist, superior, begins here.
 17. Full page. The Virgin brings wafer to S. Auoye, a maiden at prison window. Angel follows with gold vase.
 18. Full page. Susanna, hands bound, kneels before standing elder, who holds short staff. In the crowd, Daniel, nimbed, a youth speaking.

Hours of the Virgin	27
Seven Psalms and Litany	112
Office of the Dead	130

Collation. i⁴ (wants 1) ab⁶ d⁸ e⁶ f⁸ g⁸ h⁸, etc.

Marks of ownership. (1) on f. 27 these arms occur: party per pale; on the dexter side, gules, a pale vairé, a chief or; impaling by dimidiation on the sinister side, or three bendlets sable, differenced with a label of three points. One side of this coat is absconded by the former. Supporters, two hedgehogs.

(2) The book-plate of Nic. Jos. Foucault (1643–1721), an eminent lawyer and zealous opponent of the Huguenots.

The use is Roman. The provenance is the diocese of Angers, as noted inside the cover 'Dioc. d'Angers.' The Kalendar marks only the great feasts in red, but enters in Feb. Licinius Ep. Andegav. Mar. Albinus Ep. Andegav., Lupus Ep. Andegav. June, Trans. S. Aniani, Menennius Abb. July, Ded. S. Germani, Sanson Ep. Dolensis. Sept. Maurilius Ep. Andegav. and his Octave. Oct. Lupus Ep. Andegav. Nov. Apothenius Ep. Andegav. Dec. Gatianus Ep. Turon., Perpetuus Ep. Turon.

The work is very beautiful, the scale and the delicacy of touch being particularly notable points in the pictures. No. 18, 19 should be specially remarked. The use of yellow in the glories is unfortunate.

- No. 1. In text. Half-length. John writing. Eagle by him. Sea behind.
2. " " " Luke under canopy. At table, ox's head.
3. " " " Matthew at desk. Angel with book.
4. " " " Mark at desk, looking up. Lion.

6. Large. Matins of B. V. M. Annunciation. Half-length. Gabriel, sceptre and diadem, points up to the dove. Virgin kneels at prayer-stool (arms below), white altar-table behind.
7. Large. Lauds. Salutation. Half-length. Elizabeth kneeling embraces Mary. Cottage on a hill behind.
8. Large. Matins of the Cross. Half-length. Bearing Cross. Young soldier in gold armour touches it. Virgin and another nimbed head. Other soldiers.
9. Large. Matins of the Holy Ghost. Half-length. Virgin with book before her, hands clasped. To the left John, to the right Peter; others appear behind. Dove with straight rays proceeding from it.
10. Large. Prime. Half-length. Mary and Joseph adore the Child, lying on a raised manger. Ox and ass.
11. Large. Tierce. Half-length. Four shepherds, flute, bagpipe and crook. Blue angel with scroll.
12. Large. Sext. Half-length. Adoration of the Magi. Three kings. Gaspar crownless offers an opened gold cup. The third king is beardless.
13. Large. None. Half-length. Presentation. Simeon behind altar mitred and nimbed, with blue stole, holds child. Two candles behind him. Canopy. Joseph with Virgin in front praying. An acolyte holds book for Simeon to read.
14. Large. Vespers. Half-length. Herod throned with sceptre under canopy. A soldier before him holds a child and thrusts it through. Out of window is seen the Flight.
15. Large. Compline. Half-length. Virgin crowned, hands joined, looks up. Rays all round. Two half-angels with crimson wings on each side of her head. The one on left with pipe and harp. The one on R. with mandolin. Below two heads and wings of similar angels, one pointing to her. Exquisite work. Searle calls it the Assumption.
16. Large. vii Psalms. Half-length. Foreground, Bathsheba clothed getting into polygonal marble bath. David crowned embraces her from behind. Background, palace with bell ringing.
17. Large. Vigiliæ Mortuorum. Job naked except for a girdle, hands clasped, seated. Two friends before him point and argue. Hovel and wood behind.
18. Full-page with border. Officium Mort. Half-length. The three knights on horseback, one with hawk on hand, fleeing to L. and looking back with horror.
19. Large. Opposite page. Half-length. Chureyard Cross. Three corpse-skeletons in shrouds stepping swiftly after the knights, one with dart seems arguing. Two others have scythes. Over chureyard wall, a green wood.

Marks of ownership. Arms on f. 47 b etc. Argent, three pallets sable. Two genii support the shield, which has a helmet above it. These arms are here and elsewhere palimpsest. The motto A prier me lie occurs on f. 47 b.

The use is Roman.

In red in the Kalendar, SS. Blasius, Eutropius, Maurice, Saturninus, Gatian (partly). In the Litany, Apostle, S. Martial. Martyr, Eutropius. Confessors, Gatian, Julian, Sulpicius, Guilhermus. Virgins, Rosa, Oportuna.

From Tours or Le Mans.

Very good late work, with some Italian feeling.

No. 1. Passio sec. Joh. Full-page. Foreground. Judas with bag, talks to armed men. Dog; and man spanning cross-bow. Behind, on right, Christ praying; two apostles sleep below. Left, palace, priests. Crowd with torches come out. Night sky. The prevailing colours are brown and gold.

2. In text. John among rocks, scroll on knee SECUNDVM JOHANNEM GLORIA TIBI DNE. Small eagle (gold) to left.

3. In text. Luke, old, in room, writes in book on knee. Ox.

4. Matthew at table. Dips pen in ink held by angel with green wings.

5. Mark at table, writes in book. Lion with topknot puts up paw.

6. Obsecro te, Domina. Pietà with John the Evangelist at Christ's head. Magdalene with casket, weeps.

7. Full page. Matins B. V. M. Annunciation, in hall. Distant landscape seen through a door. Angel has green wings and long sceptre. Statue of Moses with horns and tables over door. Angels (genii) and arms on pink ground below.

8. Full page. Lauds. Salutation. Landscape with rocks. Elizabeth has stick. Below, a tree with tongues of fire in it in a railed plot. Stream comes from root. Scroll, APRIERMELIE.

9. Full page. Prime. Mary and Joseph adore the Child; ruined stable. Ox and ass eat. Star in sky. Three hooded men approach, outside. Arms below.

10. Full page. Tierce. Three shepherds, one with bagpipe, by fire on ground. Dog lies by: castle on rock on R. In air five blue angels, three with scrolls, of which two have Gloria in Excelsis. Arms and genii and flags below.

11. Full page. Sext. Adoration: the first king takes Christ's hand; he is crowned. The others have hats: the third takes his offering from kneeling page. Virgin and Child on draped seat on L. Arms and genii in foreground.

12. Full page. None. Presentation. Simeon, Virgin, Joseph nimbed. Priest waits with knife. Maid with doves. The table is hexagonal, not draped. Canopy over it. Other people entering temple from L. and landscape seen outside.

13. Vespers. Full page. Flight to R. Christ swathed. Joseph preceding. Angel flying down behind helps the Virgin to cover her head with her mantle. Armed troop, the foremost with a banner, advance in background.

14. Full page. Compline. Virgin crowned, kneels full face before Trinity under canopy, held by angels. Father has tables of Law; Son, cross-staff, and mantle only. Dove between.

15. Full page. Matins of the Cross. Crucifixion between thieves (their legs wounded). L. Virgin swoons. John, Magdalene, and Mary Jacobi. On right centurion and soldiers. A nice landscape. Below, the tree as in 8, with two genii and the motto.

16. Matins of the Holy Ghost. Pentecost, Virgin in midst. Apostles seated round (Peter, John). Dove in dome, shedding flames.

17. Officium mortuorum. Raising of Lazarus. L. Lazarus helped out of grave. Jews holding noses (garments covered with illegible writing meant for Hebrew). R. Christ, the Virgin, John, Peter, &c. Arms, motto and genii below on purple ground.

18. vii Psalms. Above, foreground, Bathsheba sitting with feet in stream flowing from tall gold fountain. Behind, a large gold palace, whose aspect is somewhat Venetian. Statues on roof. David (crown and sceptre) and four courtiers, in covered balcony.

19. Below, half-length, Goliath on right, in gold armour with spear, struck and staggering. Left, David, a child with sling raised.

Marks of ownership. The arms and name of Anne Rollin occur in the MS, the arms five times, the name once, on f. 6. Anne Rollin married twice, (1) in 1555 Maximilien de Melun, Viscount of Ghent, governor of Arras; (2) Robert de Melun, Marquis of Roubaix. She died in 1603. (Searle, from Anselme and Moreri.)

The arms are: Party per pale: on the sinister side 7 azure bezants, 3, 3 and 1; or, a chief of the second (for Melun) impaled on the dexter by dimidiation with quarterly 1 and 4 azure, 3 keys or; 2 and 3 azure; three fleurs-de-lis or; over all a bend gules on which are three lions passant argent, so that the first and third quarters of this coat are absconded by the former.

The use is of Rouen. The Invention of S. Stephen, S. 'Cler,' are marked in gold in the Kalendar. S. Lo, S. Taurin (Normandy), Ste. Colombe (Sens) are in the Litany, and this last saint, together with S. Ursin, who occurs as a disciple of the Lord, points to some connexion with Bourges. It is interesting to note the occurrence once more of the four Evangelists on one page in a Rouen book.

The work is rather rough, the later drawings of Anne Rollin and her arms are carefully done but not well.

1. A late xvi cent. picture in a very hard style, with border of natural flowers. In a room, S. Anne seated in a high carved and gilt chair: the Virgin stands at her knees, reading. Anne Rollin's name is in the lower margin.

2. Sequentiæ of S. John. In four compartments.

1. Top, left. John on isle writes. Eagle stands by.
2. Right. Matthew in room writing. Angel kneels.
3. Below, left. Luke in room. Ox by him.
4. Right. Mark. Lion by him.

3. Before the Hours. Coat of arms, full-page. Repeated before the Psalms, also on half-page before Vigil. Mort., half-page before Douce dame, half-page at end.

4. Horæ B. V. M. Matins. Annunciation. Scroll: ave—dominus. Virgin kneels. Lily-pot. Dove on ray. Peacock in border.

5. Lauds. Nativity. Mary (on L.), Joseph, and angel adore the Child. Two spectators.

6. vii Psalms. David kneels bareheaded before a lectern. Harp on ground. Half-figure of Christ in air, in a circle. Angel descending with sword. Throne with blue drapery on L.

7. Horæ de S. Cruce. Christ on cross. Sun, moon. Title. The Virgin swoons. Four Jews on R. consult. Wound in the side of Christ. Landscape behind.

8. Horæ de S. Spiritu. Pentecost. The Virgin and Peter, the latter almost prostrate. Seven other apostles. Dove with streams of fire proceeding from it.

9. Vigil. Mort. Funeral. Corpse laid in grave. Shroud, with black cross on breast. Priest with aspergillum. Cross-bearer. Chapel and cloister behind.

10. Douce dame. Virgin crowned by two angels, throned, under canopy with Child. Angel with harp. Anne Rollin (a later addition), in black, kneeling. The drawing of the picture is rather superior to that of the rest.

5. O intemerata. Initial. Pietà at foot of Cross. Two figures only.

6. Horae B. V. M. Matins. Centre : Annunciation. Angel with sceptre, copied (scr. ave—benedicta). God with three crowns and orb in halo in halo of red angels. Dove.

7. Border. Left from top.

(α) A prophet, three-quarter length.

(β) Two blue angels with a parchment.

(γ) Prophet, three-quarter length.

(δ) At bottom, on left, Joachim's offering rejected. (ε) Angel appears to Joachim, with two shepherds. (ς) Joachim and Anne meet at the golden gate.

(ξ) R. Birth of the Virgin. S. Anne, in bed, holds the child : one attendant : a bath in foreground.

(η) The Virgin weaves in temple.

(θ) Is married to Joseph, old.

8. Lauds. The Visitation near a city gate. Rays. Peacock in border.

9. Prime. Joseph and Mary adore the Child. Star.

10. Tierce. Angel (scr. GLORIA—ETIN). Two shepherds.

11. Sext. Three kings. One kisses Christ's feet. Star.

12. None. Presentation. Simeon is mitred : the maid holds the doves. There are two other figures.

13. Vespers. Flight (or Repose). The Virgin suckling the Child. Tree bows to her. Idol falls : the ass is lying down.

14. Compline. Coronation, by an angel. The Virgin kneels to God throned and nimbed, with orb. Red and blue angels.

15. vii Psalms. Goliath struck and falling, near a city. David with sling, sheep near. Rays above.

16. Horae de S. Cruce. Christ on the Cross. Sun and moon. Title. Wounded side. The Virgin swoons. S. John supports her. Magdalene clasps the cross. Centurion on horse. Three others.

17. Horae de S. Spiritu. Pentecost. Virgin seated under canopy. The dove above sheds flames : at least 30 nimbed figures are shewn.

18. Vigil. Mort. Raising of Lazarus. John ; Mary, who sits on edge of an earth-grave. Five Jews ; one averts his face. Rays above.

19. Douce dame. Virgin and Child throned. Canopy. Two angels hold the curtains. A lady kneels on R.

The Fronts, to all the Hours of the Virgin save Vespers are gone : so is that to the Hours of the Cross.

The use is of Paris. In the Kalendar SS. Eloy (Noyon), Faron (Meaux), Valerian (in Dec. ? Tournus) are in brown ink, perhaps meant for gold. Sept. 3, S. Godegran is marked as a double, the only one. The Litany is very short. S. Leodegar, Martyr : S. Martial, Confessor. The provenance may be Meaux : the writing seems characteristic of N.E. France. The pictures are very good and interesting.

Marks of ownership. In the first and last leaves are entries of ownership: (1) by Anthoine de Bours, demoiselle de Marles. (2) Adrien de Noyelle, given to him by his mother Marie Quyeret, dame de Marles, dau. of Gauvain Quyeret. (3) Adrien's wife, Walleburge de Boetzelar. (4) Adrien de Noyelle, Sieur de Marle, given to him by his mother Walburg de Botzilaar. (5) His wife Marie.

On f. 37 and f. 199 we have arms which Mr Searle identifies as those of the Quieret family of Artois, quartered with Waurin, and one unknown (argent, a lion rampant sable).

Moreover 6 later ff. at the beginning and 4 at the end of the book contain a family register of the Noyelles (of Belgium, related to the Quierets), between 1526 and 1624, and drawings of the shields of families connected with them.

The important feasts are in blue in the Kalendar. SS. Urbain, Potenciane, Ysbergue (May 20), Fuscien, etc. In the Litany, Martyrs, SS. Adrian, Lucian, Quintin. Confessors, Fiacre, 'Luppus,' Salvius. The use is Roman.

From Beauvais (?).

Good delicate work, the figures in camaieu-gris.

No. 1. Four pages, pp. 2, 3, 10, 11, before Calendar, each have five shields—viz. Quieret, Waurin, Quieret-Waurin, Poix, Roubais, Isque, Deule, Noyelle (twice), Fiennes, Laviesville, Poix, Mailli, Mames, Noyelle-Mailli, Rossignol, Caieau.

2. John, on isle. Eagle to right. Castles and rocks. White, brown, and gold.

3. Luke in room. Ox walking in. Writes at table by window.

There seem to be no marks of ownership. The use is of Orleans.

The Kalendar marks in red, SS. Blaise, Crispin, Severin. The Litany invokes SS. Anianus and Evurtius (Orleans).

The borders have geometrical patterns. The work is late and not interesting.

The binding is stamped with the Crucifixion (with a large S in the field) and the Annunciation (cent. xvii).

Leaves are lost after ff. 18, 22, 35, 73, 109. (Matins, Lauds, Sext of the Virgin, Vigils of the Dead and Front. to French Prayers.) The hand is Roman and very good.

Marks of ownership. (a) Initials I. M. on ff. 80, 82 (border), L. on f. 85 (border). (b) f. 93 b. The lady for whom the MS. was written kneeling to the Virgin and Child, who stand on the crescent moon. (c) On the paper fly-leaf these arms occur, on a shield which two genii support: argent, three lizards proper (two and one). In chief a crescent gules. This crescent and lizard occur in the borders.

The use is Roman. In gold in the Kalendar, S. Pol (June 7).

In the Litany. Martyrs, Crespi, Crespinian, Symphorian, Bernardus, Petrus, Acursius and companions. Confessors, Bonaventura, Fiacre, Renatus, Mauritius, Serenedus, Licinius, Lupus, Claudius, Guillermus. Monks, Louis, Paul, John, Nicolas of Tolentino. Virgins, Maria Salome, Avia, Radegund, Geneviève, Martha, Tecla, Gertrude, Clara, Elizabeth. Possibly from Soissons.

It is noticeable that the Kalendar has not, as is usual, each month on a separate page.

Good late work. The Memoriae are illustrated by an inferior artist. Some of the borders are of excellent design.

Marks of ownership. On the fly-leaf is 1732...CK. On the binding are the Duke of Roxburgh's arms.

The use is Roman. In the Kalendar in red SS. Claudius and Pontianus.

In the Litany, Confessors, Maturin, Claudius, Rochus, Gengulfus (Toul and N. E. France), Bonaventura, Bernardin. Virgins, Clara, Eugenia, Elizabeth.

SS. Pontianus and Eugenia are both Italian. Otherwise the provenance is to me not clear.

The lost leaves are at the end of the Passion, Front. to Tierce and Compline of the Virgin, and Front. to Memoriae.

There is a good deal of white ornament on gold in the borders. Both these and the pictures shew strong Renaissance and Italian influence. The book is very remarkable.

The use is Roman.

Memoriae of Franciscan SS. are added on f. 72 b. SS. Marcellus and Geneviève occur.

The work is very bad, except in the case of No. 10, a ghastly and rather powerful picture.

The fronts, to Tierce and Sext of the Virgin, to the Hours of the Cross, and of the Holy Ghost, and to the Memoriae, are lost.

On the last fly-leaves is a prayer in French verse to Christ on the Cross: Vray dieu qui es en croix glorieuse.

In Cent. xvii, xviii, the book belonged to Nicolas Labbé.

- No. 1. John on isle, writing. Eagle by him. Desunt Luke and Matthew.

The hand is Roman.

Marks of ownership: (a) f. 1 has two angels supporting the shields of Portugal and Savoy, surmounted by a French ducal coronet, the whole in a gold border. A landscape forms the background. This picture is later than the rest of the book and is of most beautiful execution.

From this Mr Searle conjectures that the MS may be connected with Beatrice, daughter of Emmanuel, King of Portugal, who in 1520 married Charles III. of Savoy. (b) In the cover at the end is the 'Ex libris de Courgy,' a book-plate with that inscription.

This MS stands alone in the collection in having the 9 lessons in the Office of the Dead illustrated.

The use is Roman.

In the Litany: Apostle, S. Martial: Martyrs, Eutropius, Quintin: Confessors, Marcellus, Julian, Leobinus, Sulpicius, Guillemus.

From Chartres or Angers (?).

Collation: i² a⁶ b⁸ etc.

Fine late work.

Kalendar (black and red, not full)	2
Hours of the Virgin	19
Mass of the Virgin	113 b
Seven Psalms and Litany	118
Litany of the Virgin	149

The book was written in Italy and illuminated in France. The work is careful and good of its time. I can find nothing distinctive either in Kalendar or Litany. The use is Roman.

Collation : a¹² b⁴ (4*) c¹⁰ (+ first leaf) d¹⁰—l¹⁰ m⁸ n¹⁰ (+ first leaf) o¹⁰ q¹⁰ r¹⁰ (10 + *: but seven leaves blank).

No. 1. Front. Full. Two crowned angels in blue hold a tilting shield (blank, gold bordered azure) hanging on tree; red ground. Detached in margin are a hearts-case (a) budding, (b) flowering, (c) a wild strawberry.

2. Matins. Full-page. Annunciation. Dove in gold nimbus, over Virgin's head. Lily-pot. Angel crowned, gold cope and morse, and sceptre. Detail of roof, windows, seats, buffet, etc. very good.

At None a border of vases, eandlesticks, jewels, etc. in niches.

3. Vij Psalms. Full-page. Last Judgment. Sword and lily by Christ's head. Peter, Virgin on L. John the Baptist and ? David on R., one trumpet-angel. A frog-like devil drags the damned among rocks and flames. Good work.

Notice the monkey and sack in border of opposite page.

A leaf is lost after f. 81.

Marks of ownership. On f. 2 is a note. 'Donum honorabilis Domini Domini Thomae Bromley Baronis Montfort de Horseth, Gulielmo Cole A. M. Cantabrigiensi Febr. 14, 1769.' This is Cole the celebrated antiquary. He has also written a note on f. 1 on the word Tiphaine (= Epiphany).

The work is of a good average kind: the binding good red leather with gold tooling.

The use more nearly resembles that of Coutances than any other in France: but agrees often with Sarum use against it. The translation of S. Ursin is marked in the Kalendar. S. Ursin is invoked as a disciple in the Litany: SS. Romanus, Anianus, Philebert, Yvo, Confessors; SS. Radegund, Columba, Oportuna, Honorina, Virgins, are noticeable.

Collation: a⁴ b⁶ c⁶ d⁸ h⁸ i⁶ k⁸ l⁸ m? (leaf lost after 2: ten leaves left).

Fair late work: all the draperies are heightened with gold.

No. 1. Passion acc. to John. Large. Betrayal, Judas's kiss. Malchus in armour, prostrate. Christ stretches hand to him. Peter with sword raised. Soldiers, gate. Landscape.

2. Matins of B. V. M. Annunciation. Virgin and angel kneel, facing. Dove on ray. Virgin on left. Angel with sceptre, green wings, dark red canopy over: arras, blue and gold.

3. Lauds. Salutation. Elizabeth kneels on right, house on hill among trees behind her. Two angels behind Virgin. Landscape with town on left.

4. Hours of the Cross. Crucifixion, between Mary and John. Sun and moon (with face). Title. Landscape as in No. 3.

5. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Virgin kneels between John and Peter. Dove rayed overhead: apparently an octagonal room: long red and green windows.

6. Prime. Mary and Joseph adore; ox by Mary, ass by Joseph. Arras behind, raftered stable. Rays, wattles. Landscape.

7. Tierce. Two shepherds and woman, sheep, half-length angel in sky. Scroll: Gloria in Excelsis. Landscape as in No. 3.

8. Sext. Adoration. Virgin on left, no black king. Offerings. Wattled, arras. Star; landscape.

9. None. Presentation. Christ lies on altar. Simeon nimbed. Mary, Joseph, maid with candle. Room as in No. 5, with arras and canopy.

10. Vespers. Flight towards left. Joseph has stick, followed by maid with basket of doves on head. Landscape as in No. 2.

11. Compline. Coronation of the Virgin; on left she kneels before Christ seated on canopied throne with orb blessing. Two angels, behind, crown her; arras; wall as in No. 5.

12. Vij Psalms. David kneels facing to left. Harp on table, crown on throne, arras. Landscape. Christ's bust in sky.

13. Prayers. Gregory at altar. Chalice, book, paten, and two assistants, two cardinals, two others; Christ in tomb on altar, supported by angel. Cross, rails, column, lance, bag, whip, sponge and reed.

14. Officium mortuorum. Two priests at desk. Acolyte. Coffin, blue pall, four mourners. Arras. Room as in No. 5.

Collation : a⁶ bc⁸ d⁴ e—q⁸ r⁶ s⁸ t⁴ (wants 4 : 3, 4 blank).

The use is Parisian.

SS. Geneviève and Marcel are in red in the Kalendar.

The Litany invokes : Apostle, S. Martial; Confessors, SS. Fiacre (twice), Leobinus, Hubert, Yvo, Marcellus; Virgin, S. Geneviève.

The provenance is perhaps the Meaux side of Paris.

The binding (rebacked) bears the initials F. M., is of cent. xvi., and richly tooled. The writing is good, and the pictures, though late, are interesting and careful. The MS belonged in 1764 to Charles Adrien Picard (whose name is on the last page).

1. Sequentia of S. John. Large. John writing on isle. Eagle with ink-pot. Rays to left.

The use is Parisian.

The Kalendar marks SS. Geneviève and Marcel in red.

The Litany invokes: Martyrs, SS. Julian, Ferreolus, Maurice, Marcellus, Nicasius, Lambert. Confessors, Germanus, Fiacre, Marcellus, Medard, Boniface, Louis, Martial. Virgins, Geneviève, Gertrude, Benedicta, Oportuna, Castitas.

From some place in Normandy not far from Paris.

The work is very careful and elaborate. The borders of the large pictures have very painstaking reproductions of natural objects on a ground of fluid gold. The figure paintings are in many cases very pleasing, but the whole book, though magnificent in its way, shews signs of decadence.

Collation: a⁶ (+ 6* blank) b⁸ etc.

Marks of ownership. A coat of arms (cent. xvii) painted on the fly-leaf bears, azure a star of five points or surmounted by a helmet with coronet.

The use is Roman.

The Kalendar marks the greater feasts in no special colour. The Litany invokes S. Stanislaus. The pictures are most careful and interesting, and in many cases really beautiful work. The geometrical patterns in the border are done with great care, and so are the frequent grotesques, but they are not very pleasing in effect. The MS is a very remarkable one.

Kalendar. Two months on a page. Signs and employments in four compartments at top. One subject (Story of Creation and Fall of Man) in border and below.

- No. 1. January. At table.
2. Aquarius. Naked boy with one pitcher.
3. February. At fire.
4. Pisces.
5. Border. Christ with globe seated. Angels behind praising.
6. Below. Fall of rebel angels. Fire below. Michael armed thrusts them down. He is at the head of four angels praising.
7. March. Pruning vines.

The hand is Roman. A leaf (Front. to Matins of the Cross) is lost after f. 46.

The use is Roman. The Kalendar shews Roman influence. The Litany invokes S. Geneviève, but is very short.

This is undoubtedly the most beautiful of the late MSS in the collection: the execution is perfect. Especially admirable are the illustrations to the Kalendar. The weakest part is the treatment of natural flowers, fruits and insects in the border.

Collation. This is difficult to ascertain owing to the tightness of the binding: the last quire is of 8 leaves: the first probably of 6.

1. January. At table with servant. In cloud at top on right, Aquarius, blue with pitcher.
2. February. A maid with eggs in a basket on her head, and a man with basket on back with stick, walking to town. Pisces, ut supra, top left.
3. March. Two men prune vines in landscape (windmill and church). Aries top, to left.
4. April. On horse in field. Hawk and heron in air. Pollard willow by brook. Taurus, to right.
5. May. Gentleman with lute and lady with wreath on a bench with trellis behind in garden. Gemini to right.
6. June. Woman sits shearing sheep; man superintends with crook. Cancer to right.
7. July. One man mows, one sits and drinks. Pollard willow. Church on hill. Leo to left.
8. August. Woman reaps. Man binds sheaves. Trees standing in the corn. Virgo (with palms) to left.
9. September. A man ploughs a sloping field with two horses, white and brown. Libra to left. A church in the distance.

10. October. Inside house. Man treads grapes: up to the door comes a man with a bound-up head and pack on back, or covered basket of grapes. Scorpio in centre.
11. November. Man leans against a tree with stick. Pigs feed about. Sagittarius to left.
12. December. Man killing pig, he kneels on it, his wife catches the blood. Sheaves behind. Trees over wall. Capricornus (natural) to right.
13. Full-page. John on knoll by sea, in surpris: a book by him. Rays out of cloud.
14. In text. Matthew, scroll on knee, faces left. Angel with book dictates.
15. — Mark, beardless, whitehaired. Scroll on knee, lion by to right.
16. Passio. Full-page. Very skilful. Sunset sky. Jews in centre of group of prostrate men, including Judas with bag; behind, the three apostles. A rocky arch: the garden-gate, etc. Border, columbine.

All in Dutch.

In the Litany Martyrs: Gangolf, Pontian, Herasmus, otherwise as in No. 141, etc.

Careful pictures, interesting, but rather rude.

The binding is a fine stamped one of cent. xv. In the centre the Paschal Lamb with flag, in a circle within a mandorla. Inscription: SIET · DAT · LAM · GOE(DES ·)DAT · BOER · DINE · SONDEN · D · WERL. At the corners the Evangelistic emblems in circular medallions.

No. 1. Matins of the Virgin. Full-page. Annunciation. Virgin on left. Lily-pot behind. Angel in white with sceptre. Three windows. Dove on ray enters through the middle one. Gold vaulting.

2. Opposite Initial. Virgin crowned and Child, half-length on crescent, rayed. Flame-coloured ground.

Round No. 1 in border is a Jesse-tree. At bottom, Jesse seated in chair sleeping. Two branches spring out of his chest and back. The tree contains twelve half-lengths, one is David with harp, one is Virgin and Child: all are crowned. White ground dotted with black.

3. Hours of the Eternal Wisdom. Full-page. Christ in dark mantle, full-face, stands in room, blessing: open book in right hand, with words Ego sum via veritas et vita: Cross-nimbus. Green hangings at end of room, two windows, that on left open shews a view.

4. Hours of the Holy Cross. Full-page. Crucifixion between Mary and John. Coarser work. View behind.

5. Initial, gold ground. Child Jesus in dark robe, cross-nimbed, seated on a green mound, holds cross and two scourges.

6. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Full-page. Virgin in midst. Open book on knee, long hair flowing. Apostles sit round. Dove rayed wavy enters through the middle one of three windows. Pink and gold arras. Gold vaulting. The opposite initial is lovely; it contains two blue columbines.

7. vij Psalms. David kneels in a landscape crowned, harp on ground. Castles, trees and river behind. Christ cross-nimbed half-length with orb, blessing, in red flaming semicircle above.

Opposite Initial. Beautiful border, blue and red, with dragon.

8. Officium mortuorum. Priest at Church porch sprinkles with holy water a shrouded body, put into grave by two sextons: the bier stands by. Acolyte with cross. Black mourners in the porch on left: on right, wall and tree.

9. Shield of Passion at the beginning of other prayers. It has lance, sponge on reed, pillar, ladder, mantle on tomb, on red ground. Above, a helmet, and over it, as crest, a hand blessing.

10. Initial to Prayers to S. Catherina. Crowned head of Virgin.

Prayer of S. John, Memoriae of SS. Jerome, Barbara, etc.	268

A leaf has been cut out before the Prayer of S. John.

All in Dutch.

Marks of ownership. (a) The name Katherina van daernick on the fly leaf. (b) Initials h. d(aernick) and arms: Or an eagle with two heads displayed gules impaled with barry of 8 or and gules. (c) The name Elizabeth van Hooren on the last leaf.

In red in the Kalendar S. Cunibert.

A very beautiful book. The pictures as remarkable as in any of the Dutch MSS. The binding is a handsome one of xvii—xviiith cent.

No. 1. Matins of the Virgin. Full-page. Annunciation. Virgin on left, in blue over pink, kneeling turns full-face. An Angel in white, with blue and gold wings, holds seroll (Aue—tecum) and points down. Notice the desk, the wooden vaulting and fittings. Lily-pot in the border, which is excellent. Shield below.

2. Hours of the Cross. Full-page. Crucifixion (with title) between Mary and John. Skull and shoulder-blade at the foot of the Cross. Christ has three triple rays like fleurs de lys and crown of thorns. John seems to be bearded. Gold ground: four half-length Angels in border, (1) with scourges, (2) with column, (3) with lance, (4) with crossed hands.

3. Hours of the Eternal Wisdom. Full-page. The Father with triple crown. The Son, imperial crown. The Virgin crowned. These are half-length, the Dove is above the Virgin's head. The Father and Son have each one arm over the other's shoulder, and with their other hands are joining the Virgin's hands over a green book. The whole is surrounded by a choir of red angels and a rainbow glory fading into blue sky. In the border are three lozenges with heads and wings of angels.

4. vij Psalms. Full-page. David kneeling in room with light blue and dark blue arras. Harp hangs on wall. Crown and hat on ground. David faces R. Rays enter through the window.

5. Officium mortuorum. Full-page. An angel in air holding a praying soul and carrying it up towards rays in right-hand corner.

Below, souls in flames in green Dragon's mouth. Rocks behind.

Border. Five devils: one drags with rope, one pushes, a barrow with a basket crammed full of souls: a 3rd strikes these souls with a spiked club, and there is one more at each end, mopping and mowing: a very spirited design.

6. Full-page. S. Barbara in blue over pink, open book on knee, facing to R. seated, long hair. Behind her a tower and porch with windows, and a round garden of flowers with stone-work and trees round it.

Leaves are lost after ff. 66 (Hours of the Cross), 138 (Seven Psalms).

In red in the Kalendar (besides those in No. 141) S. Ieron. Pr. M.

In the Litany. Confessors, SS. Maternus, Cunibert, Adelbert, Arnulf, Symon, Ausbert. Virgins, Columba, Benedicta, Affra, Ontkommer (Wilgefotris), Cordula, Cunera.

The pictures and decoration are alike excellent, and especially the birds and beasts, of which there are many in the borders.

1. Matins. Full-page. Annunciation. Angel kneels. Cope with morsc. Sceptre: scroll (Aue-tecum). Dove on ray descends to head of Virgin kneeling by desk. Blue-vaulted room. View outside.

2. Hours of the Eternal Wisdom. Matins. Full-page. Christ throned full face, among seven doctors, on three benches around. Green canopy over him and behind the throne. Vaulted roof, no walls. Rocks and water beyond.

(Hours of the Cross gone.)

3. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Full-page. Virgin in centre, black and gold pavement. Apostles have rayed nimbi. Rayed Dove above. Green floriated arras behind. Vault and architecture above: half-length Angel with scroll in margin.

4. All Saints. Full-page. Above, in double niche, the Father and Son with imperial crowns seated facing each other. Dove below flying down, Apostles, Virgins, etc. (no attributes) kneel and sit in front: below, pink and gold arras bordered with green. Has suffered by contact with opposite initial, as also No. 3.

5. Prayers at Mass. Full-page. Last supper. John on Christ's lap. Judas with bag and no nimbus, in red robe, with covered head and joined hands, sits at end of bench on near side of table.

6. Officium mortuorum. Michael in plate armour and red mantle, blue and red wings. Long cross-staff. Scales in right hand, two souls arc weighed down by a devil. Trees and rocks behind. Architecture above.

In the Litany: SS. Willibrord, Odulfus, Lebuinus, Lazarus, Severinus, Silvanus (twice), Lodewick, Confessors: Walburga, Kunera, Digna, Virgins.

There are no miniatures: the large initials to the different sections occupy more than half the page. Blue, pink and green are the prevailing colours: the work is of a high quality.

Each of the Hours of the Virgin has one of these large initials and a border at the beginning: that for Nones has columbines. Similar initials and borders decorate the Matins of the Eternal Wisdom, of the Cross, and of the Holy Ghost, and the Office of the Dead.

The Kalendar and Litany do not seem to give any clue to the provenance. Leaves are lost at the end.

The pictures and borders are wretchedly bad.

No. 1. Hours of the B. V. M. Full-page. Annunciation. Virgin on left. Angel in centre right, scroll, desk, red bed, arras etc. Window.

2. Initial. Virgin crowned, half-length, her arm round Christ standing on table naked, back view. Offers him the breast. Garden wall and tree. Angels in border.

3. Hours of the Cross. Full-page. John, Virgin kneels left, Magdalene at foot. Two young men on right. Spire behind.

4. Initial. Red ground. Christ half-length, crowned with thorns, holds scourge and column, naked except for loin-cloth, and wounded

5. vij Psalms. (Full-page picture gone.) Initial. David kneels, face right. Harp on ground. Rays in sky to right.

6. Hours of the Eternal Wisdom. Initial. Dark ground. Christ crowned with thorns, naked, girded, bleeding, with hands crossed, kneels: Virgin in red kneels facing L.: rays above.

7. Vigiliae mortuorum. Resurrection. Christ, with red-cross banner, steps from tomb. Three soldiers sit sleeping. Two Marias approach on distance in right.

8. Initial. Brown ground. Souls of Adam and Eve naked kneel in flames. Rays above.

Southern Dutch.

Very delicate soft work.

The binding is of old red leather with double lines crossing one another diagonally: it has two metal clasps.

A former owner notes on the fly-leaf 'the twenty-four paintings that are in it I have no doubt of being by Pietro Perugino, the master of Raphael d' Urbino.'

No. 1. Initial. Matins. Annunciation. Scroll, Ave-tecum. Virgin kneels. Half-length of the Father, and red cherubs, outside, on L. In border on left a kneeling woman in black, scr. O mater dei memento mei. At top and bottom half-length Angels with scrolls: Thesus: on R. a half-length Angel; scroll, Maria.

Lauds has merely an initial.

2. Initial. Prime. Salutation. Elizabeth in red and green at door on left. Rocks and landscape.

3. Initial. Tierce. Nativity. Mary and the Child reclining in bed. Joseph sits on foot of bed by fire. Old man behind. Watted enclosure.

4. Initial. Sext. Two shepherds among rocks, their backs turned; half-length Angel in air. Scroll Gloria—deo: no sheep.

5. Initial. None. Presentation (really the Circumcision). The Virgin holds Christ. Joseph behind. Symeon mitred, assistant in green. Table with white cloth and knife.

6. Initial. Vespers. Adoration. Joseph behind: figures outside on left. There is one beardless king. Good background.

7. Initial. Compline. Presentation and Circumcision. Symeon, nimbed not mitred, holds Christ. Anna nimbed behind him. The Virgin kneels, Joseph stands on left. High priest waits with knife behind table: he holds a pair of doves.

8. Initial. Sunday. Office of the Trinity. Italian Trinity. Father crowned. Christ a corpse, not on the cross. Red and gold ground, chequered.

9. Initial. Monday. All Souls. Hell-mouth. Three souls (one female) tormented by three devils: one pours fire over a female. Christ, half-length, in sky with orb and blue Angels.

10. Initial. Tuesday. Baptism of Christ. John on right, red mantle. Father half-length above, sending down the dove. Trees and rocks.

11. Initial. Wednesday. Betrayal. Judas in red in room receives money of priest. Four others are present; one stands behind a desk.

12. Initial. Thursday. Holy Sacrament. Last Supper. John on Christ's breast. The Sop is put into mouth of Judas, who kneels (in red) on nearer side of table.

13. Initial. Friday. Passion. Christ bearing the Cross. Virgin and two others (nimbed) accompany him. Three soldiers, one behind with club. Christ has crown of thorns. Rocks etc.

Saturday (of B. V. Mary). Gone.

14. Initial. S. Paul. Long white beard. Red robe over gold. Sword. Chequered ground, black and white pavement.

15. Initial. S. George, in dark armour with damascening: full face. Stands on dragon which bites his shield. Sword over shoulder. Broken lance on ground. Beardless, bareheaded. Landscape.

16. Initial. S. Anthony, black mantle, at cell door, with stick and bell, reads. Fire at feet. Hog behind. Diminutive lion? with collar and bell, holds up paw. Landscape.

17. Initial. S. Jerome as Cardinal in red, and hat, holds two books. Lion to left. Landscape.

18. Initial. S. Mary Magdalene. Long hair, blue over gold, palm and casket. Ground same as No. 14.

A leaf (Front. to Matins of the Virgin) has been lost before quire c, Front. to office of the Dead before quire k: the remaining full-page pictures are on leaves inserted before quire i, in quire q, before quire t.

The book is wholly in Dutch.

The binding is of black velvet with silver corners and clasps.

The Kalendar marks in red SS. Pontianus, Gertrude, Pancras, Servatius, Boniface, Odulphus, Lebuin (twice), Visitation of the B. V. M., Lambert, Maurice, Gereon, Willibrord.

The Litany adds S. Walburga, Virgin.

The work is characterised by great delicacy; there is, as often, an excessive use of fluid gold for backgrounds, but the pictures, especially the genre scenes, are interesting.

No. 1. Hours of the Virgin. Matins. Initial. On a red ground S. Peter Martyr in a Dominican habit, with wounded head, open book, and dagger sticking in his breast.

Border. A gentleman in red gown with white fur, and a lady: a man with pole, blowing a horn, runs to R.: three dogs attack a boar, and a hunter on R. also attacks the boar with a spear. In the middle distance on R. is a moated castle with drawbridge down. Trees and bushes.

2. Lauds. Initial. The Visitation, the Virgin on L.: on green ground.

Border. An owl on one leg attacked by three smaller birds.

3. Prime. Initial. Joseph hooded: the Child on a pallet: the Virgin kneeling: ox and ass under stable-roof behind.

Border. A lady with flower, and a gentleman with dagger, facing each other.

4. Tierce. Initial. The Circumcision: the Virgin holds the Child: the priest behind the altar, with a knife: no other figures. Red ground. Birds in the border.

5. Sext. Peacocks in the border.

6. None. Columbines, thistles and insects in the border.

7. Vespers. Monkey and dragon in the border.

8. Compline. Initial. Flight into Egypt, to L.: starry sky. Two men, with sword and bow, fighting in the border.

9. Hours of the Cross. Frontispiece, full-page. Crucifixion. Magdalene embraces the cross: John supports the Virgin, Longinus (blind), on horseback, pierces Christ's side; an attendant guides his spear. On R. centurion on horse, with hand raised: two soldiers and a Jew. Christ is beardless: the title is on the cross. Sunset sky.

Border. Gold ground: columbines etc., cock and monkey, goldfinch and owl.

10. Hours of the Cross. Initial. A Dominican with open book, nimbed: on R. kneels a nude man, the left half of whose body (vertically) is red, the other half white.

Border. Flowers and birds: at the bottom, two children tilting at each other on hobby horses, holding paper whirligigs: on R. two children by a pond, in which a third is bathing.

Each of the Hours has a partial border.

11. Tierce. Border. Two men: between them, a bird, and scrolls MIEALS MN and HESCEZ HOΘH.

12. None. Border. Two men: one holds the handle of a sledge, on which is a basket with a rose-tree in it.

13. Seven Psalms. S. Dominic, his black robe covered with gold stars: he holds crucifix and open book: on L. a dog with a torch supporting a glass ball: under S. Dominic's feet a black devil. Red ground.

Border. Above, hen and chickens: below in a pond, a mermaid with club fighting a merman who has plate-armour, helmet, shield and sword.

14. Vigils of the Dead. Initial. S. Catherine of Siena (?) in black over white habit: at her feet a crown: she holds a slender T-cross, and has the crown of thorns and the stigmata.

Border. Below, two youths; one is kneeling and about to shut a pair of fowling-nets, of which he holds the cords: three decoy-birds in cages on four legs are outside the nets, and several wild birds inside. On R. a lady and gentleman behind a fence look at them.

15. Lauds. Border. A dog chases a monkey, which is getting through a hoop.

16. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Frontispiece, full-page. Pentecost. In a large pillared Church, with closed gates shutting off the Choir, are the twelve Apostles, some standing, some kneeling, in different parts of the building: the Virgin kneels at a prayer-stool in front, three-quarters face, turned to R. In air, in a rayed golden disc, is the Dove.

Border. Below, a seated dog-headed creature with a blue cape; a cat on its lap, a rat in front: flowers and birds.

17. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Initial. The face of Christ, rayed.

18. Sext. Exactly similar to No. 11: the scrolls read NIEAS HN and FE-SCEZ MOΘN.

19. Memoria of the Trinity. Full-page. The Father in red robes and triple-crown, seated full-face under a canopy, holding the wounded body of the Son, from whose side blood flows. Above His head is the Dove in glory: on L. is an angel with a lily, on R. one with a sword. Under the Son's feet is a crystal globe.

Border. Above on L. a hunter with a pole, on which hangs a dead hare, is blowing a horn. Three hounds near him, and, in the background, a stag among trees. Below, a pond in which are a wild duck and three other birds: a drake is flying away: on R. an archer shoots at them: he has a dog. Thistles, corn-cockles, etc.

20. Memoria of the Trinity. Initial. Christ full-face in dark robe stands holding an orb and blessing. Red starred ground.

Border. Below, by a stream, sits a peasant in hood and high loose boots, with basket by him, fishing. A swan and two other birds near. Flowers.

Collation : a¹² b⁸, etc.

In three places of the Hours of the Virgin, at the end of sext (f. 49), none (f. 53), and compline (f. 66), prayers are crossed out: they are in each case addressed to SS. Peter and Paul, and to All Saints, for general protection. In two cases a note is appended (of xvth cent.) 'hec admituntur; hec admitimus'; in the third a prayer to the Virgin is substituted.

The Kalendar is remarkable (see Appendix I), and fixes the MS. as Milanese. In the Litany, Ymerius occurs as a confessor.

The MS. has certain points of resemblance to No. 148, p. 338.

1. Hours of the Virgin. Matins. A bordered page in gold frame, with white ground. The Virgin kneeling. The Child on the ground before her in a landscape. In the lower border a circle with a bust of Christ blessing, on black ground.

2. Lauds. Initial. Half-length of a sainted friar pointing to an IHS. rayed, he has a book: green ground. (?) S. Bernardinus.

3. Prime. Initial. Half-length of S. Paul with sword and book: black and gold ground.

4. Tierce. Initial. S. Catharine, half-length, with a wheel on an axle with handle.

5. Sext. ,, S. Andrew (or Philip), half-length, with gold cross and book.

6. None. Initial. S. Peter, half-length, with gold keys and book.
7. Vespers. ,, S. Clara, half-length, a nun with monstrance or reliquary.
8. Compline. ,, A Bishop, half-length, with scourge of three cords and pastoral staff, in chasuble.
9. Seven penitential Psalms. A husbandman, half-length, praying: a glory above (David, or a Prophet).
10. Litany. A nimbed boy, full-face, half-length, praying.
11. Hours of the Holy Ghost. A dove in glory, nimbed.
12. Hours of the Holy Cross. Christ on the cross; full-length, on blue ground.
13. Office of the Dead. Half-length of John the Baptist with a scroll. ECCE AGNUS DEI.
14. Office of the Dead (in primo nocturno). A coffin, ridged, with a cross on the pall: a bone lies on the ground by it.

The work is good, especially that of the first miniature, where the landscape is noticeable.

Hours of the Virgin (Roman use)	13
Missa B. Virginis Mariae	131
Seven penitential Psalms and Litany	141
Office of the Dead	173
Office of the Cross	243

Collation : a¹² b¹⁰, etc.

Marks of ownership. There are none. A shield in the border of f. 14 has never been blazoned. Some bearings on a fly-leaf at the beginning have been torn off. The provenance is rather difficult to determine. The Kalendar has S. Bernardinus in red, and the Translation of S. Monica. These saints are both invoked in the Litany. Siena may be the source of the MS. There are some noteworthy points in the binding. The cover is original, of red velvet over boards, the insides of which are covered with a white gesso. In this is an incised pattern, filled in with gold, red, and blue. The cover at the latter end of the book is the best preserved of the two.

Guard-leaves of purple vellum are used to protect the miniatures. The first page of most of the services is written in gold.

The work is beautiful and interesting.

1. Frontispiece to Matins. Full-page. The Annunciation, with the Father above. The scene is in a court : a peacock in front.

2. Opposite. Title-page bordered with architecture and genii : a blank shield : two animals. Initial, the Virgin adoring the Child among trees.

3. Lauds. Border. Initial. Bishop with pastoral staff and mitre, half-length.

4. Frontispiece to Prime. Full-page. Joseph and Mary adore the Child on the ground by a river. A star above.

5. Prime. Initial. S. Peter Martyr, half-length, pierced with sword and knife. Border.

6. Tierce. Full-page. Presentation in the Temple. Simeon, Virgin, Child, four others.

7. Initial. S. Lucy ; her eyes in a plate : border round three sides, with a gold-finch.

8. Sext. Full-page. Adoration of Magi. Procession in hills behind. Star above.

9. Initial. S. Katharine with a wheel. Three sides bordered.

10. None. Full-page. Flight into Egypt. Three figures: a hill behind.
11. Initial. A friar with a cross, (?) S. Francis: three sides bordered.
12. Vespers. Massacre of the Innocents in a court before Herod, throned.
13. Initial. A cowed friar with IHS in a medallion; ? S. Bernardinus.
14. Compline. Full-page. Circumcision. Christ is presented: an angel carries a knife, wool, and a bandage on a dish. Two other figures.
15. Initial. S. Dominic holding fire. Bordered.
16. Missæ Beate Virginis. Full-page. Christ and the Doctors, four in number. Christ throned. Trees behind wall.
17. Initial (rather larger). A Virgin with open book. Full border.
18. Penitential Psalms. An angel above holds the text, written in gold and represented as a chart. Below in a landscape is a fawn lying on an island, inside a fence. Swans and ducks in the water.
19. Initial. Same page. David in prayer.
20. Office of the Dead. Bordered. Initial. A skull on ground.
21. Vespers. Three-quarter border. Initial. A skull on green table.
22. Office of the Cross. An angel holds the text as in 18. Below, a leopard with a collar devours the fawn on the island (which is covered with pebbles). Three swans in the water.
23. Initial. Same page. Christ, half-length, standing in the tomb, with wounded side. The cross is behind him.

On the lower margin of the first miniature is a shield within a wreath azure, a bend dancette argent, between the initials L.O.

The Kalendar affords us no clue to locality: in the Litany SS. Gervasius and Protasius do not occur, but S. Bernardinus does. The style of the ornamental and pictured work is bold and good; the impression conveyed is that of Northern Italy.

Office of the Dead	176
Seven Psalms and Litany	237

1. Front. to Matins of the Virgin. Full-page. Border containing birds, butterflies, and shield supported by winged genii. The picture represents Joachim's offering. On L. Joachim, old, nimbed, holding a conical vessel, at the head of a crowd of five men, two of whom also bear vessels. On R. facing L. the High Priest mitred, holds up two fingers. Beyond him is the Temple consisting of an apse with portico supported by four columns, and conical roof. In it is an altar with gold reredos. A red wall on L. over which are seen cypresses and blue sky.

2. Initial. The Annunciation: Gabriel on L. The border consists of genii and flowers.

3. Front. to Prime. Full-page, with frame of purple pen and ink ornament. Joachim's offering rejected. On L. a crowd of five men facing R. In C. Joachim holding the conical vessel walks L. pushed by the High Priest. Behind this last is a man in red with raised hands. Temple, wall, etc. as in No. 1.

4. Initial. David crowned and nimbed, in loin-cloth, stands in water with joined hands, facing R. Border with genii, rabbits, etc.

5. Front. to Tierce. In frame of red ornament. Joachim kneels, face R. in a landscape with eypresses and two hills with buildings on their tops, L. and R.

6. Initial. A female bust with closed eyes, face R. Rays above, genii and bird in the border; very good.

7. Front. to Sext. Frame of purple ornament. Anne, nimbed, in bed, in a loggia supported by spiral columns; on the floor in front are a dog and a woman seated, head on hand. A woman in blue is about to enter on L. (? the maid Judith). On the roof is a large peacock: a cypress seen over red wall on L.

8. Initial. A female bust, face R., in winged headdress. Genii etc. in border.

9. Border to first page of None, with genii and birds.

10. Front. to Vespers. Purple frame. Under a wide arch Anne on L. meets Joachim who is about to embrace her: by her are two white-robed youths; behind him is a man.

11. Initial. Female bust, face R., with fillet. Genii in border.

12. Front. to Compline. Purple frame. Birth of the Virgin. Anne in bed, in a yellow bedstead. In front two women wash the infant Virgin (nimbed) in a basin. At the foot of the bed Joachim enters from R. A nurse looks at him and points to Anne. In a two-shelved cupboard in the wall are seen various vessels. Over the roof appear a cypress, blue sky, and other roofs.

13. Initial. A nun in black, full-face, reading a book: arras behind her. Genii and birds in the border.

14. Front. to Office for Sunday, etc. Purple frame. On L. a bearded man, face R., behind him a figure resembling S. Peter, nimbed: a crowd of men behind him. In C. an altar with gold reredos and lamp hanging above. On R. a nimbed maiden in blue, face L., with raised hand, speaking: behind her a crowd of maidens. Blue sky: no building. Joseph is presented to the Virgin (?). In the border of the opposite page are many genii.

15. Front. to Office of the Cross. In a sepulchre (red) stands Christ as the Man of sorrows, crowned with thorns, and wounded. Behind him are the cross with title, nails, and whips hanging from it, lance, sponge in a cleft stick, and column with bucket on the top. On L. in front kneels the Virgin in black, touching Christ's hand: on R. Mary Magdalene, with long hair, also kneels. In the opposite border are children and birds.

16. Border to Office of the Dead. Children, one riding a stick, dog, and below, an ow in a pink mantle.

17. Front. to Vespers of the Dead. Purple frame. Marriage of the Virgin. On L. Joseph, like S. Peter, nimbed, at the head of a crowd of men: the High Priest, mitred, points him to R. In C. an altar with gold reredos. On R. the Virgin with hands concealed in her sleeves, at the head of a crowd of maidens, looks down. Ground, blue with white ornament. In the border opposite are children and stag.

18. Front. to Seven Psalms. Purple frame. In a landscape David, crowned and nimbed, stands praying in a pit up to his middle. In front lies a stringed instrument of a triangular shape, with 15 horizontal strings: a hand with rays at top on R.

19. Initial. David half-length, nimbed, plays on an instrument like that in No. 18. Genii surround him and also fill the border.

(This prayer, which delivers men from danger and from prison, has much in common with the Litany attributed to S. Brandan. See Moran, Acta S. Brandani.)

Marks of ownership. (a) A shield in border of f. 13 b. Argent, two bendlets gules. (b) 'dignare domine me famulum tuum Leonardum...liberare,' f. 140 b, in the concluding prayer.

The Kalendar and Litany point to Ancona. In the Kalendar we have. Jan. S. Marcellinus of Ancona, S. Felician B.M. (Foligno), S. Gulielmus Abb. May. Kyriacus B.M. (Ancona). Oct. Palacia V.M. (Osimo). Nov. Ansanus M. All in red, while in the Litany, besides the above, we have Confessor Liberius, patron of Ancona, and Virgin Laurencia of Arezzo.

Collation: a¹² b⁸—g⁸ (wants 8) h⁸ i⁸ (8 canc.) k⁸ (1 canc.) l⁸—r⁸ s⁶.

The work is characteristic early Renaissance of a very pleasing type. In the borders there is much of that ornament of white branches intersecting on a coloured ground, which is so common in Italian MSS. of the (late) fifteenth century. A few directions to the illustrator remain (Nos. 33, 35, 39).

The binding is a very beautiful Italian one with gold tooling, skilfully rebaked by a French binder about 1800.

1. Matins of the Virgin. Full page with two miniatures, bordered with arms and genii. The larger represents the Virgin seated holding the Child. Angels hold drapery behind.

2. Below, on the same page. Angel appearing to the kneeling Joachim : sheep and shepherds in a landscape.

3. The opposite page bordered with birds, harpies or mantichores, and genii. Cipher in gold on a blue ground round the text and the lower miniature.

Matins. Initial. The meeting of Joachim and Anne.

4. Same page. The Birth of the Virgin.

5. Lauds. Bordered. Initial. An angel praying.

6. Same page, at the bottom. Left of medallion. An old man before a building offers a crown to a nimbed female with an attendant.

Right of the medallion. Another nimbed female talks to four others and looks apparently at the other scene. Probably the old man is the High Priest. The Virgin and S. Anne are the nimbed females, and the subject is the Presentation of the Virgin.

7. Prime. Bordered. Initial. An angel praying.

8. The marriage of Mary and Joseph. The suitors break their rods.

9. Tierce. Bordered. Initial. The Father, half-length, blessing, in glory, holds an open book.

10. Annunciation in a garden. Gabriel has a scroll with ave, and a lily. Two more angels are present.

11. Sext. Border, with a medallion of an angel in prayer.

12. Initial. An angel, also in prayer.

13. The Visitation, with eight spectators.

14, 15. Nones. Border. Medallion of an angel. Initial. Angel in prayer.

16. The Nativity, with shepherds. Joseph and Mary adoring the Child in swaddling clothes. The ox and ass.

17, 18. Vespers. Initial. An altar, with chalice and wafer, under architecture. Initial. No. 2. Angel in prayer.

19. Presentation of Christ in the Temple.

20. Compline. Initial. A genius. Bordered.

21. The Circumcision.

22. Psalms for Tuesday and Thursday. (Eructavit) Border. A medallion with a star at the bottom, the adoration of the Magi.

23. Psalms for Wednesday and Saturday. (Cantate) Border. Angel in medallion.

24. The Flight into Egypt.

25. (Sabbato ante Dominicam primam adventus.) Bordered. Angel in medallion.

26. The Massacre of the Innocents.

27. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Bordered. Initial. The Dove.

28. Descent of the Holy Ghost, in a landscape.

29. Penitential Psalms. Bordered; half-page miniature. David fully armed standing on Goliath.

30. Next page. Initial. David seated playing.

31. David in the mire; two angels hastening to help him.

32. Office of the Dead. Vespers. Bordered. Angel in medallion. Initial. A genius.

33. Friends round a marble tomb: on the lower edge is written the word sepultura.

34. Matins. Full-page, bordered. A funeral in front of a domed Church. A hooded bearded priest in the midst of other clerics sprinkles the corpse on the bier with holy water.

35. Three gravediggers at work in a landscape. Margin, pri che cātano loffic de morti.

36. Matins. Border. Initial. A skeleton with a scythe.
37. Two men hawking meet a skeleton on a horse: two corpses under the horse's feet.
38. Psalter of S. Jerome. Full-page. Border with angel. S. Jerome with cardinal's hat and lion kneeling in a desert beating his breast with a stone. The drawing of the rocks is striking.
39. S. Jerome seated in a landscape doctoring the lion: in the margin S. Gerolimo.
40. Rubric to the Psalter. Border and initial: each have an angel.
41. S. Jerome, seated, teaches three monks.
42. (Preliminary prayer to the Psalter: Deus Altissimus). Border. Initial. An angel.
43. Christ in a glory borne by angels, adored by six people in a landscape.
44. Prayer. Creator celi. Border. Initial. An angel.
45. Creation of Eve in a landscape: two angels.
46. Beatus vir. Border. Angel in initial.
47. Christ in glory as in 43. Four people kneel with open books.
48. Miscere mei Deus. Border. Angel in initial.
49. The Resurrection. Five soldiers at the tomb.
50. Domine exaudi. Border. Below, two angels watch a man who is scourging himself before Christ on the Cross.

The marks of ownership are plain enough. In two prayers, f. 261 a and f. 272 a, we have the name given. In the first passage it is in full. 'Laurentio Strotio de Florentia.'

The Strozzi arms occur also; once on p. 13 b in the form of an impression from the now defaced opposite page; once on f. 144, where they have not been touched. They are : or a fess gules, charged with three crescents or.

Lorenzo Strozzi died in 1479 at Naples, where he had been established for many years.

Date. The MS. was written at Naples in 1478. There are two colophons.

(1) f. 126 b at the end of the Hours of the Virgin.

Scriptis hoc officium marie uirginis frater Alexander de florentia ordinis heremitarum sancti Augustini.

(2) f. 314. Hoc opus scripsit frater Alexander Antonii Simonis de florentia ordinis fratrum heremitarum sancti Augustini et hoc eum esset bachalarius in sacra theologia in alma ciuitate et studio Neapolitano. Anno nostre salutis 1478. die uero 7 Mensis Septembris hora 23.

The Kalendar has

xvi. Kal. Feb. S. Antonii abbatis solenne generaliter in red.

xv. Kal. Mart. Translatio S. Antonii conf. in red.

non. Apr. S. Vineentii conf. ordinis praedicatorum in blaek.

xvi. Kal. Jun. Translatio S. Bernardini de ordine minorum in red.

In the Litany, S. Reparata, S. Monica.

But there are no particularly Neapolitan saints. Those quoted above are either Ascetic or Florentine (as S. Reparata).

The work is very remarkable, the figures less charming than is the ornament. The employment of dark blue, shading into white, is characteristic.

Collation : a¹⁴ b¹⁰ c¹⁰, etc.

1. Officium B. V. M. Matins. A page surrounded with architecture, genii, musical instruments, bas-reliefs of a man and woman on a dolphin, a genius on a hippocamp, a man on a dolphin, two genii with shields.

Miniature over text. Coronation of the Virgin by the Son. They are seated on a crescent whose horns point down, on a ground of gold angels backed by one of blue.

2. Lauds. A framed page. Annunciation. The Virgin on R. at desk. Gabriel flies down with a lily : the Father among angels above sends the dove on a ray.

3. Prime. A similarly framed page. Joseph and Mary adoring the Child who lies on Mary's robe. Star above. Ox and ass to left.

4. Tierce. Adoration of Magi, with star, a similar frame.

5. Sext. The Resurrection of Christ : four guards, a similar frame.

6. None. The Ascension, with the Virgin. The wounds of Christ are all shewn, and the Apostles and Virgin kneel on the two sides of the composition. Frame ut supra.

7. Vespers. Descent of the Holy Ghost : with the Virgin : half-figures seen over a low wall. Framed.
8. Compline. Assumption of the Virgin : the tomb below. Six cherubs support her. Twelve Apostles are present and kneel, Peter and Paul in front. Framed.
9. Officium Sancte Crucis. Matins. Bordered with architecture, genii, etc. The Betrayal. Judas' kiss, and the wounding of Malchus.
10. Prime. Framed. Christ before Pilate in a windowed hall.
11. Tierce. Framed. Christ bearing the Cross. John, the Virgin and other women (4) follow. Hanging to the frame are two S. P. Q. R. shields and two buckets.
12. Sext. Framed. The nailing to the Cross. Christ's right arm is being stretched : on the frame are flaming balls and torches, hammers, bag, reed and sponge, mace.
13. None. Christ on the Cross. Mary and John stand by : the skull at the cross's foot : on the frame are shields with S. P. Q. R. and lanterns.
14. Vespers. Deposition from the Cross : two men take down the body. St John, the Virgin and two women watch on the right. Framed.
15. Compline. Something between a Pietà and an Entombment : the body is being laid in the tomb by two men, but the tomb is at the foot of the Cross. The Virgin, S. John and the Magdalene lament.
16. Penitential Psalms. Border of architecture and genii. The Strozzi shield. Miniature. David crowned and robed, standing up to his middle in a pit in the desert, prays. Rays in the sky.
17. Office of the Dead. Border, architecture, genii. Bones and skulls. Three kings on horseback, with hawks. A crowned skeleton in front of three coffins by a brick ruin. Two of them contain skeletons. S. Macarius, in a hole in the rock on the right, points to them. A dog smells at the skeleton.
18. Regem cui omnia vivunt. Death with flying hair, a skeleton on a skeleton horse, bearing a scythe, rides over corpses : hills behind.
19. Dominus regit me. Seven naked souls bearing stones climb a mountain to a golden city on the top.
20. Expectans expectavi. Six naked souls plunged in pits up to the middle. Flames round them : three angels console them.
21. Miserere mei Deus. Five naked souls flying up into a starry firmament. The three angels kneel on the ground among the flaming pits.
22. Office of the Holy Ghost. Matins. Descent of the Holy Ghost. Christ, rayed, with cruciform nimbus flies down showing his wounds and breathing out a silver dove. Half-figures of the Virgin and Apostles below.
23. Dulcissime domine Iesu. S. Augustine, full length, as a Bishop, wearing cope and mitre over a black habit, carries a green book, and blesses.
24. Obsecro te, Domina. A different frame, like that of a picture, arabesqued. The Virgin and Child enthroned : she holds a pomegranate. A small angel hovers above with a gold crown. The ground is blue.
25. Verba mea. S. Jerome, his hat and lion by him, kneels near a cave, in front of a bleeding crucifix and beats his heart with a stone.
26. QVI ABITAT. Frame as for 24. S. Raphael in red, leading Tobias, who has his dog and fish.

No marks of ownership are discoverable.

As to provenance, the Kalendar marks S. Zenobius and S. Reparata in red, and SS. Zenobius and Fridianus (Frigidianus) are invoked in the Litany. This points to Florence or its neighbourhood as the source of the MS.

The style of decoration is distinctly non-Gothic. The borders are arabesques containing candelabra, genii, and figured medallions on a plain ground. The execution is very exceptionally fine. Certainly this MS. is the best example of the late Italian style in the collection.

The binding is modern red velvet.

Collation : a¹² b¹⁰ (+ 1* Tract.) c¹⁰ etc.: the three full-page pictures are on inserted leaves.

1. Hours of the Virgin. Matins. Full-page. Bordered. Annunciation, with Dove, in a long hall with a landscape scen through an arch. In the border are three medallions on each side of Apostles: three are beardless, one has a scroll in cipher. In the centre of the upper border is a bust of Christ, with cruciform nimbus, blessing the scene below. On the left are medallions, one of two deer, one of a leopard.

Below is a monogram yhs, gold on blue. There are many genii in the border, most exquisitely modelled.

2. Initial. Joseph and Mary adore the Child lying on the ground. Star, ox and ass. Border. Six Apostles in medallions, three are beardless. At the top a bust of a prophet with scroll, looking down. Monogram xpo. Genii.

3. Lauds. Init. Half-length of a Virgin-saint looking downward.

4. Prime. Init. A similar one.

5. Tierce. Init. „ „ looking before her.

6. Sext. Init. „ „ head inclined.

7. None. Init. „ „ hands joined, in profile.

8. Vespers. Init. „ „ looking up, in profile.

9. Compline. Init. „ „ in profile, hands stretched out (as playing an organ).

10. Penitential Psalms. Full-page. David beheading Goliath in a landscape. Notice the armour. Border. Three medallions of nimbed figures: one at the bottom has a scroll. Monogram Ihs at top.

11. Initial. David, kneeling in a wilderness, prays. Rays above. Border. Four medallions of nimbed figures; one below has a scroll: he is young and wears a cap.

12. Hours of the Cross. Full-page. Crucifixion. On L. the Virgin, the Magdalene, another woman. On R. S. John and another man: the side of Christ is wounded. Landscape.

Border: at the top a pelican in her piety: at the sides two medallions of nimbed figures. Below one with scroll. VERE LAN(guores nostros ipse sustulit) Isaiah liii.

13. Initial, a Pietà with four figures. Border: above, monogram ih̄s. At sides two nimbed busts. Below, Christ standing in the tomb, the Cross behind; wounds in hands and side.

14. Officium sacrat. Passionis. Init. Christ bound to the column: two tormentors. Border. Top corners: nimbed busts. Centre: a cross. Below: at corners, nimbed busts, looking up at rays. Centre: bust of Christ with cruciform nimbus.

15. Office of the Dead. Init. Macarius (or a hermit) kneeling: three kings, one with a hawk, by a cave: inside are three coffins, in one of which a crowned skeleton sits up. Border: above, altar with three crosses on it. Sides: two medallions of crowned skulls on the ground. Below: half-length of a crowned skeleton bearing a scroll MEMENTO MORTIS.

16. Matins. Initial: half-length of crowned skeleton. Rays strike him from the left, and his crown seems falling off.

The Kalendar does not contain many distinctive saints. 26 Feb. Metranus M., 30 Ap. Martianus M., in red, 5 May S. Gotard, 16, S. Vbaldus Ep. Eugubinus, 16 Aug. S. Rochus in red. The months are written continuously. In the Litany SS. Gervasius and Protasius Martyrs: Louis and Julian Confessors: Clara, Virgin, may point to a North Italian origin.

The hand is Roman, and very good. Ornament and pictures are also of a high order of merit. The gold seems impure.

On the fly-leaf is:

Allieri Seraphini Clericus
 accepto die sestente 2 Februari anni 1835
 Selecta memoria avi mei Iovannis, ad
 Allieri Seraphinum.

The hand is Italic: all the ornament very careful and good, though of a late date.

The Litany gives no clue to locality, being of the ordinary Roman type.

Each of the Hours has a beautiful initial, usually with flowers in it, and title on a label.

In quire g is an inserted leaf of purple vellum, being a title-page to the Rosary of the Virgin, with two cornucopiae.

The leaves have signatures like those in a printed book a, a2, a3, etc.

On f. 2a is the set-off of a lost title-page which had a shield within a circle, in a frame.

Bruder Albrecht: (this being the scribe's name).

The Welzers were well known at Augsburg: one of them married Archduke Ferdinand of Austria.

The MS was at one time in the Hamilton Palace Collection. The pictures are careful and interesting, but not especially skilful.

1. Hours of the Virgin. The frontispiece is lost. Initial. Gold ground. S. Anne enthroned with the child Christ on her knee: on R. the Virgin, crowned, in a gold robe, reads a book held by S. Anne.

The page is bordered: in the lower margin an angel holds a shield argent and gules, a fleur de lis gules and argent, counterchanged, party per pale.

2. Lower margin f. 23*b*: on L., the wheel: then S. Katherine crowned and kneeling: the executioner about to behead her: a turbaned Emperor, and a courtier. Landscape behind.

3. Prime. f. 30*b*, lower margin: on L. a nimbed child in blue, starred cloak, with a basket of flowers: R. S. Dorothy kneeling, and an executioner about to behead her. In the background, a high mass of rock, and a town.

4. Office of the Dead. Full-page, bordered. Gold ground with flourishes worked on it. S. John seated on the ground, face L., writing. Above his head the dove, nimbéd and rayed, but black. In the sky on L. the crowned Virgin standing on the crescent, and rayed, holding the Child. Landscape with rocks and trees. The silk guard of this picture remains.

5. Initial. Gold ground. Five souls in flames: two angels flying down to them.

6. Seven Psalms. Full-page, bordered. Foreground: on R. S. Paul in plate armour and red cloak on a white horse which is falling forwards: his L. hand is raised. The air is full of stones. On L. further off, a group of 3 or 4 mounted warriors. A light in the sky. Silk guard.

7. In border of opposite page, S. Mary Magdalene with long gold hair, white turban, and casket.

8. At the beginning of the Litany, f. 122 b. In the border a figure of a Virgin crowned: one hand, with the attribute, is cut off.

9. f. 133. Lower margin. Christ with crown of thorns and purple robe bearing the Cross, urged on by a soldier. On the R. Veronica, facing L. and holding the sudarium with the Holy Face. Silk guard.

10. Frontispiece to Sequence of the Virgin. Full-page, bordered. In front, Thomas facing R. kneels and places his hand, guided by Christ, in the wound in Christ's side. Christ has red robe and resurrection-cross with pennon. Behind stand eight Apostles in two rows 3 and 5. Rafters and door of room visible. Silk guard.

11. Before the Seven Words, f. 152 b. Almost full-page, with border. Gold ground with flourishes. Christ on the Cross, the Virgin on L., S. John on R. At the foot of the Cross kneels S. Dominic in his habit: he has a black cap with a yellow star on the front. By him is a white dog with fire coming out of its mouth. Silk guard.

12. Front. to Memoria of the Holy Face. Full-page, bordered. Gold ground with flourishes. S. Veronica, in blue cloak, white face cloth, and brown dress, full-face, holding the sudarium with the Holy Face.

13. Border to Mem. of S. Barbara, f. 171. In a more careful style, with grotesques. In the border, S. Barbara crowned, in a rich dress, of more German aspect than anything else in the book, holding a chalice and wafer, and facing L.

The hand is Roman.

Binding, red morocco with gold tooling, by De Rome.

Marks of ownership. On the binding is a shield bearing 3 fleurs-de-lys with a bar sinister. Above is a coronet, and around the whole are the collars of the orders of the Holy Ghost and of the Golden Fleece. Behind all, an anchor. Mr Searle conjectures that these are the bearings of Louis Alexandre de Bourbon, illegitimate son of Louis XIV. and Admiral of France in 1683. From Gingard, Armorial du Bibliophile i. 54, it appears that they are the arms of Louis Jean Marie de Bourbon, duc de Penthièvre, Grand Admiral of France, b. 1723, d. 1793, son of the above-mentioned Louis Alex. de Bourbon (J. H. M.).

The Kalendar and use are of Sarum.

Of the provenance of the volume it is difficult to speak with certainty. The miniatures all seem to me of German work. The Litany invokes Saints of England and Cologne: Martyrs, Erasmus, Adrian, Edmund, Gereon: Confessors, Edward, Swithin, Birinus, Erkenwald, Edmund, Dunstan: Virgins, Affra, Edith, Sitha, Fredesvuyda, Wenefreda, Gertrude, Othilia, Ursula, Vuilgefotris.

2. Large. John, with book and pen, looks up at woman in clouds in glory. Rayed; to left, Eagle on stump.

3. Small. Luke at desk. Winged ox (green wings) couches by him.

4. Matthew with book on desk. Angel holds book to right.

5. Mark, book on knee, scroll on desk. Winged lion, pavement in front.

6. Large. Passio. Betrayal. Malchus healed. Peter with hand raised. Judas kisses Christ: soldier with hand on Christ. Many soldiers behind.

7. Small. Stabat Mater. Crucifixion between Virgin and S. John.

8. Matins. Large. Annunciation. Angel flies down with sceptre. Father has imperial crown, in clouds, and sends out the Dove in glory; the Virgin is seated under canopy. Lily pot.

9. Lauds. Salutation, by house door, to which Virgin is nearest. Maid behind, Elizabeth, Joseph(?), nimbed, in doorway.

10. Hours of the Cross. Crucifixion between Virgin and John; Magdalene and skull at foot. Sun, moon, title. Rocky landscape.

11. Prime. Mary, Joseph, ox and ass, adore the Child. Ruined building. Above, on clouds two cherubs, not winged, with music. Shepherd approaches on right.

12. Tierce (MS Prime). Two shepherds on each side of tree. Above, two cherubs on clouds with music. Dog and sheep.

13. Sext. Three kings, one black (and young), Virgin and Child under canopy. Star. Box of gold offered. (Henry VIIIth costume.)

14. None. Presentation. Simeon with mitre. Joseph with candle. Maid at altar.

15. Vespers. Flight to L. Three figures. Christ swathed. Palm tree on right. Rock on left.

16. Compline. Coronation in clouds and glory. Virgin on right, kneels. Crowned by Angel on right. Father, imperial crown, orb, blessing.

17. Vij Psalms. Bathsheba sitting nearly naked on edge of marble and metal fountain. A messenger brings her a billet. Maid with mirror behind: David looks from window.

18. Vigil. mortuorum. Job on dunghill, holding red scroll. Wife on right, richly dressed. Scr. MISEMINI MEI SALTEM VOS AMICI MEI QVIA MANVS. She puts out hand to him: two friends behind. Rays above. Buildings around.

19. Matins of the Holy Ghost. Pentecost. Virgin in midst under canopy, small white dove over her. Rays. Apostles on each side.

20. Memoriae. Large. Trinity. Father, imperial crown. Orb. Book open held by both. Son, with tau-cross, Dove between them. Four cherubs (heads and wings) on clouds.

21. Small. Michael armed, in gold and blue, red shield, cross-staff, stands on devil.

22. Small. John the Baptist with lamb, in woody landscape.

23. — John the Evangelist by tree, blessing cup.

24. Large. SANCTUS GEORGIUS on horse, with sword raised, spear broken in dragon. Princess and lamb to left. King, Queen and courtier look over terrace wall to right.

25. Small. S. Anne, teaches the Virgin; in large seat.

26. Large, on fly-leaf. Invention of the Cross. Foreground, two men dig. Two crosses lie in the hole. Constantine kneels, in imperial crown, before Helena (also crowned); and four others. She holds cross T. A rock marks off the background: where is Heraclius, in shirt and crown, carrying the cross before city gate, followed by courtiers. (The owner's patrons seem to be George and Helena.)

159. A PRIMER.

Vellum, 10 $\frac{1}{4}$ × 7, ff. 8, 11 lines to a page. Cent. xvi (1500–10).
Acquired in 1808.

Contents:

The ABC. Paternoster.

Ave, Creed, Grace before and after meat.

Confiteor. Agnus Dei.

Marks of ownership. The book must have belonged to a young lady connected with the Royal families of France and Brittany, and her patrons were SS. Anne and Claude (see the description of the first and last pictures). The motto Pençon en Dieu occurs frequently. Probably the owner was Claude, daughter of Anne de Bretagne, who in 1514 married Francis, Duke of Angoulême (Francis I.), and died in 1524.

The legends of the miniatures are in an odd barbarous orthography, sometimes wellnigh unintelligible. The dialect seems characteristic of N.E. France.

The work is of very fine quality, the touch often soft and vague, often delicate in the extreme. The MS is on the whole very beautiful, the weakest point being the use of fluid gold.

No. 1. f. 1 b. Full-page. In a room a young girl in gold, kneels at a desk: behind her stand the Virgin (young) and S. Anne: on L. sits S. Claude, a Bishop. The desk is covered with blue cloth, semée with fleurs-de-lys and A's in gold (for S. Anne). On the carpet are these arms: Party per pale, azure, 3 fleurs-de-lys or, impaling ermine.—France impaling Brittany. Margin has AVE—TECV, several times; so has the architecture.

2. Border. p. 1. Mottoes AMON • PROMIE (premier) • COMENCEMEN • SOIT • DIEU • LE • PERE • TOV • PVISSEM • AMEN. Below these lines are emblems of the Passion on blue ground, viz. pincers, hammer, cross with crown, nails, lantern, dice, scourges, whips, columns and rope, cock, ladder.

3. 1. God, seated in air, crowned imperially, holds globe: landscape below. COMENT DIEU LE PERE FIT LECEL&LATE(RRE).

4. 3. God seated, looks up: both hands, palms down, to left of Him against a ground of three circles of angels, blue, brown, and red. Below, angels falling and changing to devils. COMENT DIEU LE PERE FIT LES ANGES.

5. 4. God standing among beasts: R. dog, ox, sheep, horse, deer, ape: L. boar, wolf, goats: birds overhead.

p. 2. 6. 1. COVMENT • DIEU • FIS LES SOLLE ET LA LVNE. He stands by water in which are fish. Sun and Moon overhead with stars.

7. 2. COVMENT • DIEU • FIS ADEM ET VEE, Creation of Eve. God holds a globe: the rest as usual.

8. 3. Stands between Adam and Eve. Adam has girdle of skins, Eve, of linen; [at top of page, PATER—SENTIFICETVR.]

p. 3. 9. 1. COVMENT SAM TEM TANTESVENO (=SATAN TENTE EVE). Garden with railings. Serpent, half human, on tree, arguing. Eve on L. under another tree.

10. 2. COVMENT FVS DESV, DEVE LE FRVIS. Gives pear to Adam, who is white-haired.

11. 3. Adam and Eve girdled with leaves are expelled by red angel, with white garment and blue wings, with sword.

p. 4. 12. 1. COMENT ADEM • LABOVRE • LATERE. Adam, clothed, works in wattled enclosure with mattock. Eve, in blue, at house door, spins.

13. 2. COVMENT ADEM • AMVOYIA • SOM FIS. Adam in bed in large hall, Eve by Seth, a boy, with stick, taking off cap. Adam speaks to him.

14. 3. Seth, baring his head, stands by a moat surrounding the garden. Bridge and castle wall. Red angel comes out of gate on to bridge.

p. 5. 15. 1. COVMENT • ADEMEM MOVRI ET SON FIS. Shrouded body in grave, a son of Adam with spade; Eve and others stand round. Seth drops 3 grains on to the head of the corpse. Castle behind.

16. 2. COVMENT • LPPERES FVRES ES LEMBES. Castle among rocks. Naked figures at door and windows praying. Moat with wooden bridge: on the other side, souls in fire under rock, on top of which sits a black devil: a murky atmosphere characterises this remarkable picture.

17. 3. God seated, with crown and globe. Female in white kneeling on right. Hooded female in white on left (Mercy and Truth). Hooded female in black talks with red cherub with sword, ascending from below, armed (Justice and Peace).

p. 6. 18. 1. COVMENT JEVSTIS ENBRASE MIRERICO (= miséricorde). God. Angels behind. Mercy and Truth embrace, by Him. Peace in white, hooded, lower down, embraces, seated, Justice with sword.

19. 2. COVMENT LEVESQVE DIT ALEMGES (= à l'ange) QVEIL FEROIT. A red-hooded Bishop (= High Priest), seated in a room. Speaks to angel standing before him.

20. 3. Same Bishop in chair with attendants. Enter one with gypciere (a messenger), and one behind with red cap.

p. 7. 21. 1. COVMENT LEMESQES (le messager) VIGNT APOVTER LES. The Virgin seated in a room reads letter. Messenger in front takes off cap: horse outside.

22. 2. COVMENT LEVESQUE AMVOIGA (= envoya) QVERE LA VIEGE MARIE. Bishop seated, as in 20. Enter Virgin with two others: she takes his hand.

23. 3. Youth with red cap on white horse, a crowd, old men etc. Joseph, old, leaning on a stick, talks to him.

p. 8. 24. 1. COVMENT LAVARGE FLVSKRIST A JOSEPH. A church. Enter Joseph as in 23, carrying green rod, other suitors with white rods. Bishop coped and mitred behind altar. A dog in the foreground.

25. 2. COVMENT LAVIEGE MARIE FUS MARIE. The Virgin crowned. Married to Joseph by Bishop, in large church, a crowd behind.

26. 3. Virgin weaving in room. Outside, Joseph with hammer and chisel at bench.

p. 9. 27. 1. COVMENT LEMGE VIENT ALLVERG. Annunciation. Angel with sceptre. Virgin kneels under canopy. A picture (of a saint) hangs on the curtain.

28. 2. COVMENT SACOVRIEVIN LA VIRITE (sa cousine vint la visiter). Salutation. Virgin, Elizabeth, young, kneeling: on her robe is AVEMA. Landscape. An intentional assimilation to the meeting of Mercy and Truth.

29. 3. Virgin sits weeping. Joseph with hat and staff makes gesture of contempt.

p. 10. 30. 1. COVMENT LA VIEGE MARIEE PRIADIEV. She is out of doors, kneeling. Joseph departing, under architecture.

31. 2. COVMENT DIEV DIT ALEMGE (à l'ange). God with globe, against a background of angels in three circles, blue, yellow, red. Angel in white below, kneeling.

32. 3. Joseph asleep before door. Virgin sits inside reading.

p. 11. 33. 1. COVMENT JOSEP • VIENT CRIEME (= cricr mercy). Kneels to Virgin seated in room with book on her knee. Servant within seen through door. Above the text, on a greyish ground, a man with a lamb on his shoulder; a seated woman with one in her lap; a man on R. with stick and dog.

34. 2. COVMENT ILVIN LOVGES ENBELE (=vinrent loger en Bethléem). Joseph and Virgin on an ass, talk to youth before house door in a street. 'There was no room for them in the inn.'

35. 3. Nativity. Joseph and Mary adore Child under architecture. Ox stands by.
p. 12. 36. 1. NOVLISTE TIMERE VAVVTAMENT. Four shepherds and dog. Blue angel with scroll.

37. 2. COVMENT LES PATORAVS VINDRIO (vinrent). Virgin and Child seated, full face: Joseph absent. Shepherds kneel. Bagpipe and flute on ground. Dog.

38. 3. Peace (?), a woman in white, hooded, speaks to souls (in limbus) among rocks.

39. Full-page: the converse of No. 1: a girl in black kneels at a desk; the cloth over it is blue and ermine, semée with fleurs-de-lys and C's (for S. Claude). Here S. Claude presents the kneeling girl to S. Anne and the Virgin. On the carpet are the arms of France.

Other mottoes, over the text, are, p. 6, Penson en dieu bounement sem • malpece • et • maldire: p. 7, Prie Dieu • tous • pour lestre pace • avtem • noempens • en lur: p. 8, loay • me me ne • point de malice. Vellum, $5\frac{1}{2} \times 3$, ff. 106, 20 lines to a page. Cent. xvi (1520–30).
Acquired in 1812.

The hand is Roman: in quires of 8 leaves, the last of 10?

The title, written in capitals on f. 1 in the form of a cross, is:

Méditations très dévotes sur chascune partie de L'oraison
Dominicale, recueillies par frère Claude Viveneti Augustin Docteur en théologie et confesseur de mes seigneurs les Dautphin de France et Duc d'Orléans, pour attirer le coeur du Chrestien à pitié e(t) toute religion Chrestienne.

The meditations are followed by

2. La vie et passion de nostre saulueur et redempteur en qui(n)ze oraisons	f. 65
3. A prayer: 'seigneur dieu eternel'	f. 101

In the picture to this last, there is a lady represented; probably the owner of the work.

From the comparative goodness of the pictures I should be rather inclined to believe that the princes alluded to on f. 1 were sons of Francis I. than of Henri IV.

- No. 1. a. Prodigal drinking at table with woman, another at each end.
b. Foreground. Prodigal kneels, in shirt, by father at door. Elder brother stands by. Behind. Prodigal seated in grove among pigs, his hand to his mouth.
2. p. 129. Half-page. Entry into Jerusalem. Man spreads garment before gate, boy over gate with palms; a man inside, Peter, John etc., follow.
3. Small. Last supper, with chalice, John, Judas, Peter.
4. — Agony. Chalice and wafer on rock. Three Apostles, garden enclosed.
5. — Judas' kiss. Malchus healed. Peter with sword, three soldiers on ground.
6. — Christ before Annas who rends his clothes. Christ bound.
7. — Christ with officers before Pilate.
8. — At pillar, scourged by three. Full face.
9. — Seated, purple robe, bound hands. Crowned by two with staves in their hands.
10. — Ecce Homo. Pilate, Christ, in purple, bound; crown and reed: Barabas bound. Below, Priest and Jew.
11. Small. Bearing cross, followed by horsemen.
12. — Nailed to cross by feet, pulled with rope. The tunic lies on the ground.
- R.* Virgin and John watching.
13. Small. Crucifixion. Virgin, John, etc., on left. Centurion and soldiers on right.
14. — Reed and sponge offered by man on left. Soldiers on right, Virgin, John and centurion.
15. Small. Pierced by Longinus on left. Soldiers on right, Virgin swoons, John, Magdalene, etc.
16. Small. Pietà by Cross, John, Magdalene, two men with hats (Joseph and Nicodemus).
17. A lady in black, with gold rosary and red under-sleeves, kneels face R. in room. Christ as Salvator mundi stands full face blessing her.

161. PRAYER-BOOK. (Dutch.)

Paper, 8 × 5 $\frac{5}{8}$, ff. 360, 2 columns, late xvth cent. Purchased 1891.

Original stamped leather binding: clasps gone. Has the stamp of the Bibliothèque Nationale (cir. 1800). In quires of 8 and 10 leaves: the last of 4.

The ornamentation of this book is coarse and strange, but effective. The principal sections have each a bordered page at the beginning, and an initial filling half the space of the text.

The gold employed is very base: yellow, green, pink and orange, are the main colours used. There is some attempt at naturalism in the representation of flowers. The grounds of the borders are plain, save for ink-dots.

The MS is throughout in Dutch.

162. HYMNI GLOSSATI.

Vellum, 7 × 5, ff. 38, 17 lines of text to a page. Cent. xiv.
Purchased in 1890.

Collation : a⁸—c⁸ d¹⁰ e⁴.

Contents :

Hymns for the days of the week and the greater Festivals, and Common of Saints ; also for a few special Saints, viz. SS. Agatha, Benedict, and Francis.

The occurrence of x for s occasionally, e.g. extate (= aestate) and confexor (in an added hymn on the last page), suggests a Spanish origin. The hand might be Italian.

The gloss begins :

Quia tractaturi sumus de ymno.

163. EPISTOLAE IN VIGINTI LINGUIS TRANSLATAE.

Vellum, $18\frac{1}{4} \times 12\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 62, double columns. Cent. xviii (1700–21). Acquired in 1815.

This volume contains the Epistles for three feasts :

Christmas Day,
Easter Day,
SS. Peter and Paul, translated by the pupils of the College de propaganda fide into 20 languages, and dedicated to Pope Clement XI. (1700–21).

The scribe was Constantinus Basilei (f. 1).

The writing is well done, and the title-page and the ends of each Epistle are ornamented.

The languages are : Latin, Greek, Italian, French, Spanish, Portuguese, German, Belgian, English, Irish, Illyrian, Polish, Hungarian, Brazilian, Chinese, Turkish, Persian, Arabic, 'Chaldee,' Syriac.

Marks of ownership. On fly-leaf at the end is this distich in a hand of cent. xv.

Car qui pourra vivant et ne vourra
Quant il vourra mourant il ne pourra
Le Begue le begue ph begue.

The date 1468 occurs on f. 3 b and has been altered to 1268.

The author was Frère Jehan de Castel, a Benedictine and chronicler of France, f. 3 b.

The Specule des pecheurs is a macaronic poem (French and Latin) in stanzas of 7 lines.

The Exortation des mondains is all in French in six 'Balades' in stanzas of 12 lines each.

The Exemples des Dames, in stanzas of 4 lines.

The work is of very fine quality, but the pictures are most terrifying and repulsive.

No. 1. Three-quarters page. a. (Upper half.) Moses horned, in landscape with castle. Christ, half length, in clouds, gives him long blank scroll.

b. Preacher in black with berretta in pulpit in room, addressing a king and queen (crown on peaked head-dress), a lady and four men.

2. A death-bed: preacher in foreground. A red-canopied bed, with a gold disc hanging over the pillow. A monk in black, with cross, touches the lips of the dying man, who has no clothes save a night-cap. Death, a skeleton, points a dart at his mouth. Three mourners, two women and one man.

3. Corpse in a shroud is laid into the earth by two men before a church porch. A priest is reading from a book held by an acolyte. A cross-bearer in cope, seven mourners, three in black. Two tapers with shields.

4. A vestibule. Preacher enters from R., arguing with a doctor in pink. Room has book desks, man reading at one, two men with books in hands, standing: one stands listening: two with books are ecclesiastics, one in black, one in white over black. 'scienciam satis multiplicat' are the opening words of the text.

5. A birth. Mother in bed. A nurse is taking the baby. To right preacher and pupil: the preacher points to L.

6. Preacher in front of houses, on pavement, addresses four youths, two in long gowns, two in short doublets.

7. a. Left. Preacher, a feast, three gentlemen, two ladies at table, two minstrels with pipe and lute. b. Right. Hell among mountains; two men and women up to their middles in fire. Two devils, one with a flail, one with two forks.

8. Preacher to left, looking at corpse in shroud on ground, covered with worms: in air, soul with chain round waist and neck, in the clutches of five devils.

9. Preacher to left. Last Judgment. Christ in elliptical glory, his feet on globe, shewing his wounds. In air, two trumpet angels; Virgin and John the Baptist three-quarters length on clouds, praying. Three men, two women rising below.

10. Preacher to left. Heaven gate, yellow light inside it. Righteous enter, ushered in by Peter in blackish robe, followed by angel. R. a tall devil with spiked club; another devil drags a batch of souls with chains round them into flaming Hell mouth.

11. Preacher to left. Hell, three souls on a gallows hanging respectively by hands, neck and feet. Devil on gallows ties one. Below, two souls in yellow fire, one is a Pope. Foreground, two souls prostrate, hammered by a devil with a sharp steel hammer, bleeding: behind, three souls in the water, among rocks.

12. Preacher addressing four ladies, seated, and four men (three standing behind) in a hall. Above, the Trinity, the Holy Ghost as Dove between the Father and Son. Male SS. on L. Female on R. Two angels. Small figures.

13. Balade pour auoir paix a dieu et au moude etc. Preacher to left. Foreground, one man cutting another's throat (Murder). On L., two warriors entering house or church porch, with candles (Theft). Behind, on R., man and woman on bench embracing: a hearth behind (Adultery).

14. 'Joyes de paradis.' On clouds, under canopy, the Trinity; open book. Ego sum alpha et O O. Father has tiara and orb. The Son, robed, is crowned with thorns. Virgin to right with angels. Apostles (Paul with sword) and angels to left.

15. Preacher on left; on R., soul chained by neck, pointing to mouth. Five devils surround and torment him, one looks up from flames below. Among rocks.

16. Miroir des dames. Eight ladies seated in a garden: to left a corpse of a woman with shroud, decaying, stands.

165. L'INSTRUCTION DUNG JOSNE PRINCE, ETC.

Vellum, 12 × 8 $\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 60, 35 lines to a page. Cent. xv (1470-80).
Acquired in 1814.

Contents:

i. L'instruction d'ung josne prince pour se bien gouverner envers Dieu et le monde.

In 8 chapters; written in the xiiith cent. by the Chevalier Feuillant de Joual for the benefit of Rudolf, King of Norway.

ii. Petit traictie dentre lame devote et le coeur, lequel sappelle lamortifiement de vaine plaisance.

By René of Anjou (1408-80). It is a moral allegory written in the king's later years, and dedicated to Archbishop Jean Bernard of Tours. The text is to be found in M. de Quatrebarbes' edition of King René's works (vol. iv.) together with copies of miniatures from a MS of this work at Paris. In a catalogue of Messrs Ellis and Elvey (No. 67, Nov. 1891) another MS is described, and some miniatures reproduced which coincide in subject and style with those of our copy.

Collation: i⁴ (blank) a¹⁰ (10 canc.) b⁸ c⁸ || d⁸—g⁸ h⁴ ||.

Marks of ownership. (a) A monogram and shield in miniature No. 1: possibly the monogram is that of Bourgoignes. (b) In the beginning, the inscription sans vous ne puis Bourg(oig)ne, and notices of the family of Herman de Bourgoigne between 1593 and 1687. They lived at Fallez, near Namur.

The binding is old red velvet, with two brass bosses on each cover, and two clasps, and the titles of the two treatises are inscribed on slips of vellum protected by horn, on the cover: L'instruction dun prince. Et lame....

The pictures are exceedingly good, of North-East French work.

There is a pretty unfinished drawing of a woman's head on the fly-leaf (cent. xvi).

I. Instruction dun Josne Prince.

No. 1. Author kneeling on left presents book to Prince on throne, full face. Coronet, sceptre, pink and ermine mantle, ecclesiastics, knights and steward on right and left. Steward has gold wand, one other has sealed roll, and wears boots and spurs.

II. Petit traictie dentre lame deuote et le cuer.

2. c. 1. The soul, a naked female, with coloured wings, seated on the brink of a stream flowing from rocks. Columbines and buttercups growing in the grass. She holds a heart. A rabbit near: town with church, and bridge and trees behind.

3. 2. The soul, standing. Talking to her are Crainte, a lady with sword horizontally suspended in air over her head, holding hand of Contricion in dark blue mantle. They stand in a courtyard. Trees, and view seen over low wall behind.

4. 3. In a room the soul, holding heart, sits on a red curtain. Crainte holds her hand and talks. Contricion, standing in front of a long cushioned settle, talks; a rich arras at end of room behind. Three windows; a cushioned stool to left.

5. 4. Lady in a covered cart, drawn by two horses, one blindfold, the other (in front) looking back under its eye-bandage. A rider on the blinded one, with whip, looking back: they are on winding road. A house on each side: further on a rock, trees and fields, distant hills.

6. 5. A watermill, with uncovered wheel, sluice, and yard with man and horse. In foreground, a plank-bridge over millstream. A woman crosses it with sack on back, another woman follows. A man watches them. Dog on the bridge.

7. 6. A fortified town, with gates and towers. In foreground a collared dog drinks at a pool; its armed man, with shield and sword, has one foot on a scaling-ladder (second step). Three smaller men fight from the towers.

8. 7. Soul stands with heart, which Crainte is feeling: Contricion still argues. Rabbit and columbine on left. Behind, a green causeway between waters. A castle on right, and bridge and rocks.

9. 8. Four ladies, crainte, foy, vraye amour and grace, with hammers and nails. Two are nailing a heart on to a T cross on the ground, the others are watching. In background a castle surrounded by water.

10. 9. The soul, kneeling on L., supports cross with heart on it. Crainte supports it with one hand on right. Contricion stands by. Building to right.

166. LE CHEVALIER DÉLIBÉRÉ, by Olivier de la Marche.

Vellum, $9\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 62, varying numbers of lines to the page. Cent. xv (1490). Purchased by the advice of the late Rev. T. Kerrich, at the sale of Dr E. D. Clarke's Library.

Collation: a^s—g^s h^t.

The MS is an allegorical romance in French, in 8-lined stanzas. The hero is Charles the Bold, Duke of Burgundy.

The author, Olivier de la Marche, was 'premier maître d'hôtel du duc Charles de Bourgogne.' He was born about 1421, wrote this poem in 1483, and died at Brussels in 1501.

Marks of ownership. The arms of Albret occur on the lower margin of f. 1.

They are: quarterly 1 and 4 azure, 3 fleurs-de-lys (for France), 2 and 3 gules (Albret).

The writing and painting, which is very good, are characteristic of N.E. France.

The volume is bound in white parchment, and interleaved with white paper.

No. 1. p. 1. Knight armed, halbert, book, sword, visor. Tent behind a palisade. Inscr. round. Ce livre fist messire Olivier de la Marche, serviteur et premier maitre dotel du duc charles de bourgogne. Arms below, in border.

6. p. 21. The hermit brings knight into a chamber hung with arms. Comme lermite entendement môstre ses reliques a lacteur et lui deuise des oeuvres de messire accidēt et de son pouvoir.

7. p. 30. Cy commence la 2nde partie de ce liure et deuise comme entendement doña au porter a lacteur la lâce de regime. Knight on horse in full armour before a chapel or cell. The hermit gives him the lance Regime.

8. p. 35. Cy se combat lacteur a lencōtre de age et comme lacteur se rendit prisonier. The knight unhelmed kneels and gives a gauntlet to a grey-bearded knight in dark armour: armour and broken spears on the ground, and the shield bon espoir.

9. p. 44. Comme lacteur cest fourvoye et est venu deuant le palais damours ou desir vouloit qil entrast mais souvenir len destourna et de ses aduétudes. Knight on horse, desir and abus before a castle speak to him. In a gallery of the castle are trumpeters and ladies: souvenir leads his horse away.

10. p. 57. Cy monstre fresche memoire a lacteur les sepultures des anciens tres-passez et par les escriptures voit ceulx qui ont estez desconfiz par debile ou par accidēt et comēce la tierce partie de ce liure. The knight and fresche memoire (a young female, her name on her dress) stand before a porch in a churchyard. She points to a number of altar tombs with recumbent effigies of knights: a cross stands in the midst.

11. p. 80. Cy deuise la bataille entre mess^r debile et le duc phelippe de bourgogne (et comence la quatrieme part de ce liure). Lists are set up. Inside, before a tent with a standard, the duke, in armour blazoned with his own bearings, fights a warrior in black armour who has two glaives, consomation and persecution. An arrow sticks in the duke's shield. His adversary's tent is black, embroidered with tears. In a gallery, between the spectators, is Death with a dart.

12. p. 87. Comme le duc charles de bourgogne combatit messire accident. In the foreground the duke on horseback, his lance breaks, and horse falls. Accident on dark horse in dark armour. In background, they are seen in lists on foot. Acc. strikes the duke with a glaive maladventure. Castles on hills in landscape.

168. ROMAN DE LA ROSE, by Guillaume de Lorris and Jean de Meun.

Vellum, 11 $\frac{7}{8}$ × 8 $\frac{3}{8}$, ff. 104, in double columns of 42 lines each: cent. xiv. Purchased in March, 1890, at Sotheby's, at the sale of the Library of R. How, of Aspley, Bedfordshire. It has also the book-plates of Gilbert Burnet, Bp of Salisbury, and of "Ames of Norfolk" (the historian of printing).

Collation: a⁶ (wants 2—5) b⁸ (wants 2—5) a⁴ (wants 2, 3) b⁴ c⁸ (wants 2, 3) d⁸ e⁸ (wants 7) f⁸ (wants 3) g⁸ (wants 6, 7) h⁸ (wants 3) i⁸ (wants 3) k⁸ l⁸ (wants 3, 4, 6) m⁸ (wants 8) n⁸ (wants 8) o⁸ (wants 8) p⁶ q⁴ r² (wants 2 blank): 23 leaves gone.

The majority of the quires have catchwords.

For some account of the Romance see Catalogue of Romances in the British Museum by H. L. D. Ward, vol. i. p. 874 sqq.

The lost leaves in this MS probably had miniatures on them. The upper half of f. 1 is cut away: the remaining portion has a border, and at the bottom four trees and a hound chasing a deer. The name duudas is written in several places, e.g. at the end of the poem.

On the verso of the last leaf is written :

Cest lyure costa ou palas de parys
Quarante coronnes dor sans mentyr.

An inserted note at the beginning says :

“This appears to be a very early MS: and the text follows pretty closely that established by Méon from the best MSS in France: sometimes it appears to be earlier.” The annotator then quotes the entry of price just given; and adds that from this “it may be imagined to have been made ‘for the Trade’ during the first tide of popularity of the Romance. The artistic finish of the initial letters contrasted with the marks of haste and unintelligent copying in some parts of the text confirms this view.”

To me the style of the initials and the one border, which is not very good, strongly suggest an English artist.

Warton must have seen this MS. He quotes the substance of this entry of price (Hist. of Engl. Poetry, Diss. ii., quoted in Catt. Vett. Dunelm., p. xxviii).

169. ROMAN DE LA ROSE.

Vellum, $11\frac{7}{8} \times 9\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 140, in double columns of 39 lines each. Cent. xiv (1398?). Purchased in 1876 at the Bragge sale. Bound in green velvet.

Collation: a^s (wants 1 blank, 4) b^s (wants 2, 3, 4, 6, 7) c^s (wants 1, 8) d^s (wants 1, 2, 4, 5) e^s f^s (wants 4) g^s h^s (g, h are transposed) i^s o^s p^s (wants 5) q^s r^s s^s (wants 6) t^s (wants 7) v² x⁴ (4 gone, but supplied): 16 leaves gone.

There is no old mark of ownership nor modern book-plate.

The last leaf is supplied in a hand of cent. xv.

The miniatures are in a good style, with soft stippled work: some of them have been rather coarsely retouched. They should be compared both for their original character and for that of the retouching with the pictures in the Carew-Poyntz Horae.

1. f. 1 a. The page is bordered with ivy-leaf pattern, and there is a good initial of that style with burnished gold ground.

A picture in four compartments occupies half the page.

(a) On L. the author, nude, in a bed with red coverlet and fleecy valance, leans his head on his hand (indicating sleep). A wooden chair with semicircular back is on the R. Floor of yellow and black tiles : background of lozenges with a vine-pattern.

(b) A white-bearded man (the author) in a grey gown and close white cap sits in a chair cross-legged, fastening his shoe. On R. a towel hanging on a roller : a brazen jug hanging over a brass basin set on a tall, slender white stand. Background red, patterned.

(c) The author, younger, bearded, in white gown and cap with loose peak, stands on the further side of a stream : on R. and L. the ground rises, and there are trees. Background red with gold flourishes.

(d) The author in scarlet cloak and hood over grey gown. On R. a pinnacled gate with portcullis. Above it, behind battlements, are two men and a woman looking at him. Background plain gold.

2. f. 1 b. Comment lamant va cousant ses manches parmy •i• bois jouxte vne riue. He is beardless in a purple gown fitting close at his neck, with necklace ; stream on L., trees on R. Blue patterned ground.

2. f. 2 a. Comment hainme est ci pourtraite. A woman in blue, with white cap, with raised club assaults another in purple with white cap : red ground.

4. f. 2 b. The lover in purple looks at Vileinie, a woman in scarlet with white cap, pointing to her mouth : blue ground.

5. Ibid. Conuoitise, a woman in blue with hanging sleeves lined with white, over purple, holds a purse in one hand, and holds up her robe with the other to put the purse away. Red ground.

6. f. 3 a. The picture of Envy was on a lost leaf preceding this. Villesce in blue, walks to R., supporting herself on two sticks. Red ground.

7. f. 3 b. Papelardie in black kneels at desk, with book : on R. is an altar with cross and gold retable in three divisions, in which are indications of figures. Blue ground.

8. f. 4 a. Pouurce in tattered purple robe with red and black patches, old and barefooted. Red ground.

9. f. 4 b. In the middle is a gate, seen sideways : on L. (outside it) is the lover in purple raising the ring-shaped knocker : on R. is Oiseuse, a maiden in pink with curly yellow hair, about to open it : she holds a round mirror with coloured frame. Blue and gold ground.

10. f. 6. A rather larger picture. On L. the lover leans his back against the side of the picture : a damsel in a gay robe of pink semée with s and y speaks to him ; she holds one end of a white band or scroll (a 'karole'), of which another lady in blue holds the other end : a youth and two women are behind. In the centre walks Deduit (Sir Mirthe) with yellow hair curled, green tunic, hanging white sleeves, white hose, gold cross-belt and gold-hilted dagger. He is preceded by four musicians, two with trumpets and two with pipes. Red ground with white pattern.

11. f. 6 b. Courtoisie, in scarlet semée with m, gives the white band to the lover, in purple semée with s : she is inviting him to dance. Black and gold ground.

12. f. 8 b. Narcissus in scarlet, with yellow hair, bends over a square stone tank in which his face is reflected : on R. is a horse. In front a stream flows out of the bottom of the tank, through grass. Rock on L. : tree and sky behind.

13. f. 9 b. The lover, dressed as in No. 11 : on R. the God of Love, crowned and winged, in long white robe with bands and lines of gold and red, holding a bow and arrow in L. hand, speaks to him. Red and gold ground.

14. f. 15. On L. stands Bel acueil, a young man in scarlet cap, purple gown with gold belt, and scarlet robe below it, holding a green handkerchief. In C. the lover speaks to him. On R. in a wattled enclosure is the Rose-tree. Black ground with gold flourishes.

15. Houte and Paour, two old and ugly women in blue and green, speak to Dangier in yellow tunic, scarlet head-dress and hose; he is also old and ugly, and leans on a club (or reelines): behind him is the Rose in its enclosure. Red and gold ground.

16. f. 18. On L., behind, is a pink castle with blue and scarlet roofs, surrounded by a moat, to which a small man with rough hair is pointing. In front three small men are working at blocks of stone and wood with picks and hatchets: Jalousie, a tall old woman in grey and scarlet, directs them. Ground blood-red and scarlet. She is building a tower to guard the Rose.

17. Ibid. Comment Jalousie fait faire vne tour dedanz le chastel dont Dangier a vne clef.

A square stone keep with towers, and various buildings inside, green, blue and pink; outside on R. Danger in yellow and red, with a club: sky behind.

18. f. 19*b.* Comment maistre Jehan de Mehun parfait le Romant de la Rose. He is seated in a wooden chair, clad in blue gown and hood, and writing at a wooden desk of ordinary form.

19. f. 32. Comment la maison fortune est en vne montaigne dont lune partie pent et lautre est droite et est fortune dedanz et la droite partie est doree et lautre non.

Two rocks, brown and green, surrounded by a moat: on the brown rock on L. is a house with scarlet roof, on the other a gold house.

20. f. 33. Comment noison (Nero) fist saignier son maistre seneques en vn bain pour le faire morir.

On L. stands Nero, bearded, armed, with sceptre, in blue, with scarlet sleeves semée with y; in C., under a white awning, in a wooden tub, is Seneca, beardless and tonsured: a man on R., in black tunic, red hose, blue hood, is bleeding his L. arm. Red and gold ground.

21. f. 35. The lover in purple with scarlet hose is consoled by the friend in scarlet gown. Trees and rising ground on R. and L. Chess-board background.

22. f. 43. King Cyrus, in red and blue, and three other men. In C. Croesus, nude, with bound hands, is led to R. by a rope attached to his hands, towards a fire burning at the base of a column. The man who is leading him is rough-haired, and holds a mace. Gold ground.

23. f. 44. Croesus, nude and crowned, with bound hands, is hung to a wooden gibbet: the executioner is on the ladder. Black and gold ground.

24. f. 44*b.* Charlemagne in plate armour, closed visor, and crown on helmet, with raised sword, rides to L. on a brown horse. Under the horse lies the body of King Manfred, in armour: his sword and head with helmet and crown lie in front. His horse (dark brown) is behind Charlemagne's horse, going to R. Trees. Blood-red ground.

25. f. 52*b.* Lucretia, yellow-haired, in scarlet gown with hanging sleeves, and green head-dress, plunges a dagger into her breast. Her husband, a beardless youth, with curly yellow hair, in green, supports her on L., and her father, old, in blue and scarlet, on R. Tree on R. Black and gold ground.

26. f. 57*b.* Comment le vilain Jaloux bat sa femme et la tient par les tresces. She is prostrate, in red; he in purple. Trees behind. Blood-red ground. Retouched.

27. f. 62. Comment lamant trouua Richesse avec son amy en vn bel champ desoubz vn orme joute lequell passoit vne tres belle fontaine. The fountain, resembling that in No. 12, is in front. The lover on L., cap in hand. Richesse, in scarlet, holds a gold chaplet and sits on the grass: her face is repainted: on R. the friend in blue doublet with hanging sleeves, and pink head-dress. Trees behind. Red ground.

28. f. 64*b.* The God of Love, crowned and winged, in long white robe with red pattern. On L. two men and two women: on R. three figures, a woman, a person in Dominican habit with crutch and book, and one in black robe and hat, with rosary. Chess-board ground.

29. f. 68*b.* Faussamblant, in Dominican habit, in a wooden pulpit (approached by a short ladder), preaches to the God of Love and five others, one of whom, a little old man in scarlet, sits on the ground. Trees. Blue sky.

30. f. 76*b.* Faussamblant as Dominican, tonsured, bare-headed, with book in scarlet bag-binding hanging from a stick on his shoulder, walks to R. He is followed by Abstinence in black gown and white head-dress, with wallet and rosary. Trees. Red ground with black trellis.

31. f. 77. Faussamblant with open book. Abstinence, with book, stick and wallet, speaks to Mallebouche, bearded and rough-haired, in scarlet doublet and hose, seated on a wooden bench before a porch. Tree behind. Blue and gold ground.

32. f. 79. Mallebouche kneels. Abstinence standing over him cuts his throat with a small knife. Trees behind. Blue and gold ground.

33. f. 79*b.* Abstinence. Faussamblant, bare-headed, gives a red chaplet to an old woman in scarlet. Trees. Black and gold ground.

34. f. 95. A small castle in a meadow. Over the gate are seen the busts of Bel acueil and the lover, dressed as in No. 14. Trees on R. Red and gold ground.

35. f. 95*b.* Inside the walled enclosure of the Rose-tree stands Dangier with club raised to smite the lover, who walks away to R. Trees. Gold ground.

36. f. 99. Franchise, a woman in scarlet with shield and spear, resists Dangier in yellow tunic and mailed neck-armour and helmet, with shield and raised scimitar. Trees. Blue and gold ground.

37. f. 99*b.* A similar picture. Pitie takes the place of Franchise; she is in purple, with high casque, shield and sword. Red and gold ground.

38. f. 100*b.* Engagement between Bien celer and Honte. The former is a youth in mail over a scarlet tunic, ordinary head-dress of blue, shield and sword: the latter, an old woman in blue with shield and scimitar. Trees. Black and gold ground.

39. f. 101. Scurte in mailed helmet, with sword and shield, fights with Dangier. Trees. Red and gold ground.

40. f. 102. L. a group of warriors in mail and plate. Venus, crowned and winged, in scarlet robe with yellow and white pattern, talks to Cupid, armed and winged, in cuirass and mail, with plate-armour on his feet, and light blue tunic under his armour. A small figure by him brandishes a cresset. A castle with moat in the R. corner. Black ground with yellow stars.

41. f. 102*b.* Nature, a woman in scarlet, with white head-dress, is forging an image of a child on an anvil. Behind her is a wooden tank, oblong, on four legs, and behind that a forge with fire burning. Trees and sky.

42. f. 105*b.* Nature kneels and confesses to Genius, in surplice over red habit, with prick-eared almuce of fur on his head: he sits on a seat and lays his hand on Nature's head. Trees. Black ground with patterns in red, white and yellow.

On f. 134*a* is the set-off of a miniature on the preceding leaf, which is lost.

43. f. 136*b.* Venus, armed and winged, in purple, with long yellow hair, holds a burning brand: on R. a castle in flames. Tree. Red ground.

At the end is $\tau\epsilon\lambda\omega\acute{\sigma}c$.
4. Index of first lines, in red, with a blue initial to each division	f. 168

The title, on two opposite pages, is inscribed on a stèle with gold pediments (rounded) and base: grass grows along the bottom. On the L. page is a plant with gold flowers, in a pink urn: on the R. a swan in a pool.

The portrait is a bust three-quarters full, turned to R.: the poet is beardless, and wears a black close hood lined with red, and a laurel wreath. The ground (oval) is gold, with red and gold spandrels; the frame represents a marble panel with arched top and a disc of green marble on gold ground, in the head of the arch. Below, in red, on gold ground is FRAN : PET : EFFIG :

171. S. AUGUSTINI CONFESSIIONUM LIBRI XIII.

Vellum, 13 × 9, ff. 88, in double columns of 40 lines each : cent. xv (1490). In a Flemish hand. Bound in dark blue velvet. Purchased in 1891 at the Hailstone sale. It has book-plate of John Trotter Brockett, F.S.A.

Collation : a⁸—l⁸.

There is one miniature, on f. 1 a, occupying half a column, and arched at the top. Below, S. Augustine kneels, facing R., in a pink cope over a black habit. Before him is a table covered with a blue cloth with gold pattern, on which are a white and gold mitre and an open book, with flapped binding : his crosier leans against the table. A mound, with trees, and a city, are in the background. Above, on R., in a blue sphere, on a canopied throne, against a background of red angels, are the Father and Son with the Dove between their heads. The Father (on R.) has tiara and orb ; the Son is crowned with thorns, and is blessing : both have cross nimb and support one open book : one pink mantle covers them : they are robed in white. The execution is fair, but has all the characteristics of decadent French-Flemish work, draperies heightened with fluid gold, etc.

The page is bordered with flowers, foliage and grotesques on a background of fluid gold. Each of the thirteen books has a partial border and initial of similar character.

172. S. HIERONYMI EPISTOLAE.

Vellum, 11 $\frac{3}{4}$ × 8 $\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 194, double columns of 39 lines each : cent. xv. Purchased in March, 1891, at the Crawford sale. Bound in stamped leather with cable-pattern (Venetian) over boards, formerly fastened with four clasps.

On the lower margin of f. 1 a, partly erased, is the inscription (of cent. xvii) Monasterij S^{ti} Benedicti fabriani.

Collation: i⁴ a¹⁰—t¹⁰.

f. 1. Table of contents.

ff. 3, 4. Blank.

f. 5. The beginning of the text, surrounded by an exquisite border, which alone among the MSS of this collection is signed by its artist. On a scroll near the upper left-hand corner we read OPVS IACOBI • D • FABRIANO.

The ground of the border is white: in the middle of the lower margin is a shield supported by two nude genii wearing wreaths: or a mountain with triple top azure: growing on it one or two daisy-buds proper, and between them a cross with medallion in the centre, much rubbed: surmounted by a mitre argent. On either side of this shield is another: barry of six azure and or, bearing three estoilles of eight points of the second, one and two.

In the right margin are five elliptical medallions:

(1) A bearded man, and two children playing a trumpet and drum; all three sit on the ground.

(2) Three children playing lute, drum and harp.

(3) S. Jerome in a grey habit kneeling and beating his breast with a stone: a small gold cross on R. Tree and rocks behind: on the ground are books, a scroll, a black scorpion and a cardinal's hat.

(4) Two children, one in red eap, the other plays a fiddle.

(5) Two children wrestling.

At the top are (1) a head in profile, (2) a child and a goldfinch.

Initial. S. Jerome in red, full-face, sits writing on a scroll which lies on a sloping desk, placed on a four-legged trestle-table. On R. are a small cardinal's hat and a lion.

The initials throughout the book are handsome, but not particularly good.

The last leaf is blank.

The first leaf of a xivth cent. copy of the Rationale diuinorum officiorum is pasted on to the last cover.

173. CONFESSIOALE S. ANTONINI.

Vellum, 9¹/₈ × 6¹/₈, ff. 72; single lines, 37 to a page. Purchased 1891. Cent. xv. Binding, original boards with stamped leather coverings and brass studs.

Collation: i² (1 attached to the binding) a² b¹⁰—h¹⁰ (10 attached to the binding): text ends on f. 70 b.

Contents :

The Confessional of S. Antoninus, Archbishop of Florence (14..—14..), called from the opening words of the text 'Curam illius habe.'

It is in Italian.

This volume is an exquisite specimen of late Italian writing.

It comes from a (? monastic) Library, being marked on the fly-leaf as Codex cxi.

174. S. BERNARDINI DE SENIS

LIBRI DE CHRISTIANA RELIGIONE.

Vellum, $7\frac{1}{8} \times 5$, ff. 321, in double columns of 40 lines each. Cent. xv. Purchased in 1890.

On the fly-leaf is the inked impression of an elliptical seal inscribed COMES HERCULES SILUA.

The hand is exceedingly clear and neat.

Collation: i¹⁰—xiv¹⁰ xv⁸ xv¹⁰ xvi¹² (1 canc., 12 is half a leaf in another hand) xvii¹⁰—xxv¹⁰ xxvi¹² xxvii¹⁰—xxxii¹⁰.

Also there is a note :

Tabula huius libri est circa finem.

Prologue. Inc. :

Nunc manet fides spes Caritas.

Sermo 1. Dom. in Pentecoste :

Prima igitur christiane fidei firmitas.

Followed by sermon for 2nd and 3rd feriae after Pentecost, In die Cinerum, for the whole of Lent, and the Paschal Season. The last is De prelio dato ad celestem yerusalem per milites christi.

In the middle occurs a long rhymed poem: it follows the sermon for the Saturday after the 1st Sunday in Lent, and occupies from f. 73 b—78 a.

O Christi Vicarie, monareha terrarum,
Vir matris eeclesie, flos patriarcharum,
Sacrarium gratie, eella scripturarum,
Minister iusticie et meta causerum,
Mee querimonie aurem prebe parum.

It is a very spirited dialogue between Religio (apparently) and the Roman Curia, pleading for the Friars: and is decided by the Pope in favour of the latter.

175. EPISTOLAE DUO M. LUTHERI ET HENRICI OCTAVI.

Vellum, $7\frac{3}{8} \times 4\frac{7}{8}$, ff. 44, 19 lines to a page. Cent. xvi (1530). In a fine hand. Purchased in 1892. It has the book-plates of Charles Savile Roundell and A. H. Percival Granville. Binding, vellum, stained purple, with gold tooling.

At the bottom of f. 1 is an erased inscription, and the date 1633 followed by the words "Tempore Suedici Regiminis."

Collation: a⁶ (wants 1, 2, blank) b⁶—f⁶ g⁴ h⁴ i⁴ (wants 3, 4 blank).

176. CHRONICLE OF THE WORLD IN ROLL-FORM.

Size, 56 ft. 6 in. long by 1 ft. 8½ in. Cent. xv (1450). Acquired in 1876, at the Bragge sale.

This is a fair specimen of a very numerous class. These rolls, originally meant, no doubt, to be hung in large halls of castles or private houses, were subsequently replaced by folding plates bound in book-form or else by books (notably the 'Fasciculus Temporum') containing essentially the same matter and similar pictures.

The pictures of this are rough: it comes probably from N.E. France. It begins with the Creation and goes down to the Battle of Agincourt. Illustrated with medallions.

No. 1. Coment dieu crea le ciel et la lune et les estoillez. Floriated ground. Christ in brown, handling blue globe, with dark spot in centre, gold sun, moon and planets.

2. Com. d. crea la terre les herbes et les abres. Stands in park with trees. Rocks in water. Rays above.

3. C. d. cr. les caues et les poissons. In brown and blue, stands on water with fish. Grass and trees, red floriated ground.

4. C. d. cr. les bestes et les oyseauz. Stands between birds and beasts. Rays.

5. C. d. cr. les anges. Stands. Angels on right kneel to him, red floriated ground.

6. C. d. trebucher les mauuaises anges. Four half-length angels in clouds. Four half-length angels falling, growing black, wings, claws. A complete devil falls below. Rays above.

(I omit the titles from this point.)

7. Creation of Eve, red floriated ground. Christ in brown and blue. Adam sleeping, small trees.

8. The Prohibition : by the tree. Christ in brown and blue on right.

9. Temptation. Adam and Eve with apples. Serpent, human-headed, in tree, rays ; two more trees at sides.

10. Conviction. Christ on left, by tree without fruit ; more trees, rays.

11. Expulsion : before a golden gate. Angel, blue over white, with sword. Coloured wings, path, trees.

12. Angel in red over white, with gold wings, clothes Adam with skin coat (dark). Eve already dressed.

13. Eve seated with distaff spins. Adam with mattock tills patch of ground.

14. Noe qui fit larche. Kneels and bores a beam with an auger. Ark behind.

15. Tower of Babylon. Cylindrical, white and windowless. Rays above. Trees and sky.

16. Abraham, in gown, fur tippet, furred cap, scimitar in sheath. Isaac, a boy, in blue gown, with faggots. Mountain and trees behind.

17. Josue premier preulx (i.e. first of the nine worthies). Crowned knight with visor on horseback, in landscape. Red surcoat, shield with two birds.

18. Dauid le preulx. Blue and white mantle, crown, books on desk. Red arras.

19. Troy, a burning city.

20. Aeneas in gold armour walks up gangway into ship, holds flag.

21. Priamus, armed, in ship, holds sword.

22. Turtus with sword in ship of war.

23. Helenus, embarking, with sword ; two ships. All these ships are full of men.

24. Comment bruit (Brutus) occit les geans. One prostrate with head and leg off, one with club in armour. Brutus attacks with sword and shield.

25. Samarie fired by two men with torches : one wears enormous boots. A crowned man commands.

26. Ezechias, crowned in room, holds sword.

27. Nebuchadnezzar's corpse in shroud, crowned, one leg off. Evil-merodach crowned, by table, holds a piece of the leg, which an attendant cuts up with a hatchet ; birds sit on arras behind.

28. Two knights in black armour give orders to mason bearing stones, an unfinished city wall behind. (Building of Sincambre by the Trojans.)

29. Romulus and Remus, two young knights, bare-headed in dark armour, give orders to a mason : one inside wall with plummet. A beacon and ladder within. (Founding of Rome.)

30. Balthasar. a. At table ; hand with pen writes on wall. Daniel (young) points up. b. Outside. Balthasar attacked by two crowned knights.

31. Rape of the Sabines. Three women in peaked head-gear surrounded by six knights ; to R. a priest or doctor in red and ermine. Arras.

32. An unfinished gate with pulleys and ladder. (Paris.)

33. Vashti, between two men, led away from Ahasuerus crowned on throne under canopy.

34. Alexandre, 4th preux, in surcoat with lion, gules and or armour, crown, sword, landscape.
35. Judas Maccabaeus, 6th preux, crown, shield with dragon, lion, sword, long coat.
36. Nativity. Joseph and Mary adore the Child, before stable; railing, trees.
37. Crucifixion between Mary and John. Title; hills, trees.
38. Resurrection. Three soldiers.
39. Julius Caesar in gold armour, surcoat, imperial crown and sword, falls from a throne, stabbed by four men.
40. New Troy. Wall and gates: lo(n)dres is written over the door.
41. Battle of Sincambrians and Romans; knights on horseback.
42. Constantine on throne, with crown, sceptre, and a bishop with cross staff, and a bishop with pastoral staff before him.
43. Le duc Priant, banner with three bees, armed, arras.
44. Conain of Bretagne, crown, sceptre, mantle, arras, faces right.
45. Pharamond, crown, sceptre, mantle, arras, faces left.
46. Clovis, nude, baptised by Remigius in quatrefoil font. Angel, behind arras, holds shield azure with three fleurs-de-lys or.
47. 'Anghist,' armed, crown, sword, kills thirty Britons en traïson.
48. 'Dangobert,' crown, sceptre, ermine, blue robe with fleurs-de-lys, directing the building of S. Denis. Mason hews stones, some arches built.
49. 'Artur,' in dark armour with visor, pierces prostrate Mordred.
50. A knight, three soldiers, firing, and pulling down a city. Great Britain destroyed by the "Auffrigoys," who gave it to the Saxons.
51. Pepin, crown, sceptre, robe, blue and red, fleurs-de-lys, stands on a lion in a hall.
52. S. Gregory, tiara, crozier, cope, gloves, stands in landscape.
53. William the bastard, in surcoat of fleurs-de-lys on blue, banner gules with three lions or, in a hall.
54. 'Hue cappel,' in crown and royal robe of France, in a hall.
55. Godefroy de bouillon, armed, embarks in a ship full of armed men.

64. Charles VI., crown, etc., in the open air.

177. CHRONICON MUNDI.

Paper, $16\frac{1}{2} \times 10\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 400, varying numbers of lines to a page. Cent. xv (1480). Written perhaps in Germany, in a clear hand. Bequeathed by the Rev. R. E. Kerrich, M.A., Christ's College, in 1873: it formerly belonged to the Rev. T. Kerrich.

Collation : a¹⁰—d¹⁰. The first leaves have suffered from damp.

It is a chronicle of the same kind as the Fasciculus temporum, and extends from the Creation to 1475. On the verso of the last leaf a later hand has continued the series of Popes to Julius II., 1504. The Prologue begins:

Generatio et generatio laudabit opera tua.

A few drawings and plans, neatly executed and coloured with red, green and brown, occur : they are as follows :

1. Arca Noë : a battlemented turret ; two flags surmount it.
2. Turris babel, with inclined planes leading up to portcullised gates.
3. Nineve magna, towered and domed.
4. Templum Domini, with green scaled roof.
5. Roma : a few towers, a wall and a river.
6. The Second Temple : a vertical section of a circular domed building.
7. A ground-plan of the same.
8. The Church : a circular city with twelve gates bearing the names of the Apostles and Prophets, and their clauses of the Creed, and corresponding prophecies. In an inner circle are the names of the Evangelists : and round a central blank medallion is written in red Christ's commission to the Apostles. Data est michi omnis potestas, etc.

There are occasional references to the Speculum Historiale, and a few xvth cent. additions to the text.

[Searle 151.]

178. LIBER DE TEMPORIBUS.

Vellum, 11 $\frac{1}{8}$ × 7 $\frac{7}{8}$, ff. 82, 30 lines to a page : cent. xv (1490). Binding, modern maiolesque, well executed, with the arms of Leo X., and a papal tiara in the centre. Presented by S. Sandars, M.A., Trinity College, in 1891.

Collation : a¹⁰—g¹⁰ h¹².

The treatise is a chronicle of the world, from the Nativity to 1448.

The Dedication is addressed to Peter (de Medici, 1464) son of Cosmo I.

It begins :

Animis nostris innatum esse constat.

The Preface begins :

Querenti mihi sepenumero.

The last event mentioned in 1448 is the re-taking of Lodi by the Milanese.

The hand is Italic, and very good.

The artistic interest of the book is confined to the first and last pages. On the first page is a two-sided border of exquisite work, coeval with the text. The ground is blue, dotted with white, on which are white interlacing boughs and leaves enclosing patches of green and red similarly dotted with white. At the bottom of the page is a band of later ornament with large flowers on a gold ground; in the centre of it is a wreath enclosing the shield of the Medici surmounted by the papal tiara for Leo X.

On the last page is a tail-piece of the same lovely execution as the main border on the first page: it is a wonderfully good specimen of a not uncommon form of Italian ornament.

179. LEONARDI ARETINI COMMENTARIORUM PRIMI PUNICI BELLI LIBRI III.

Vellum, $9\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 60, 27 lines to a page. Cent. xv. In a Roman hand, well written. Binding, old red leather, with "Harleian" gold tooling. Purchased in 1892.

Collation: i^s (blank paper leaves), a¹⁰—c¹⁰ d¹⁰ (wants 7) e¹⁰ f¹⁰ g² (2 cancelled, blank) ii^s (blank paper leaves).

Each book has a good initial of burnished punctured gold, with white interlaced work enclosing spaces of pink, blue or green, dotted with white. There is a similar border on one side of f. 1 a, and some smaller initials to chapters.

The prologue begins:

Vereor ne qui putent antiqua nimium consecrari.

Lib. i. begins:

Origo primi punici Belli.

There are a few marginal notes.

On the first fly-leaf is Bibliotheca Palmeriana, 1747, and in the same hand a note to the effect that it was supposed by Jovius and others that this book was written by Procopius, and that Aretin published it in his own name.

He died at Florence in 1443.

180. VITA CAROLI MAGNI A DONATO ACCIAIOLO FLO-RENTINO COMPŌSITA.

Vellum, $9\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 26, 26 lines to a page. Cent. xv (1490?).
Italian. Acquired in 1814.

Contents :

f. 1 b. Dedication to Louis XI. of France, written in capitals in alternate lines of gold and blue, enclosed in a circle of ornament supported at sides and below by three genii : above, two genii flying support the arms of France, crowned. Two smaller genii kneel above.

AD LOIS|IVM REGVM | PRINCIPEM DIVI|NO NVMINE CHRIS|TIANISSIMVM FRAN|CORVM
REGEN DONA|TI ACCIAOLI FLORE|NTINI IN VITAM CA|ROLI MAGNI PR|OHEMIVM
INCI|PIT.

f. 2. The title again, written in gold, and the opening of the Preface. This has a very beautiful border of white arabesques interlacing on a ground of blue, green, and pink. At the bottom are the crowned arms of France supported by two draped angels and four nude genii, and in the border are many genii, heads, birds and horses, etc.

ff. 4 b and 5 are blank.

f. 6. Beginning of the text. This page has a similar border, with the arms and genii and beasts as before, but the execution is less good in respect of the figures.

There are six blank leaves at the end of the MS : a few marginal notes are added.

The binding is purple morocco richly tooled, by Bozerian jeune.

The author, Donato Acciaiuolo, served as ambassador from Florence to Louis XI. He was born in 1428, died 1478. See the careful account in Searle's Catalogue.

181. ATLAS OR PORTOLANO.

Vellum, $7\frac{1}{4} \times 10$, ff. 15. Cent. xvi (cir. 1560). Acquired in 1814.

Contents :

There is a small compass let into the binding.

The date is estimated by Mr Searle at 1567. He judges by the name of the reigning sovereigns, which, with their portraitures, are in some cases inscribed on the maps. They are, the King of Scotland, Queen of England, King of Portugal, Philip of Spain, and Suleyman fsach, Emperor of the Turks. The first and last give a terminus ad quem, since there was a separate king of Scotland after 1567, and Suleyman died in 1566. A king Philip of Spain, again, points to something after 1555. A sufficiently probable date is 1560.

Mr C. Y. Oldham, M.A., University Lecturer in Geography, tells me that it is undoubtedly the work of Baptista Agrese, whose earliest and latest maps are dated 1536 and 1564 respectively. A shield at the beginning of this MS has been further identified by Mr Oldham as that of the Peretti of Montalto, of whom Sixtus V. (1585) was one¹.

[Fw. 69. Searle 132.]

182. PORTRAITS OF THE POPES.

Paper, 14½ × 9½, ff. 60. Date 1612. Acquired in 1808.

This book contains coloured portraits (busts in ovals with large frames of ornament) of all the popes from S. Peter to Leo V. (905), 118 in number.

The following inscription on f. 1*b* gives particulars as to the owner.

ICV SVVANTSONT en peinture tous les Papes Commenchant a St Pierre Fait par Ordonnance de Treshault et Puissant Prince Messire Charles Duc de Croij et D'Arshot, l'an 1612.

The binding has gold tooling and a stamp with the Crucifixion in the centre, not identical with that on the Hours of Isabel Stuart (No. 62), but resembling it.

¹ See further, the Note on this Atlas.

The Croy arms and motto on f. 1 a. Barry of 3 argent and gules, and motto Je maintiendray Croy.

Charles de Croy lived from 1560–1612, so that this book must have been one of the last works done for him.

The pictures are extremely bad.

The book is Italian, probably Florentine.

The writing is considerably better than the pictures, which are rough though clever, and show in a very striking way the inferiority of Italian work to that of France or England in the xiiith century.

Fol. 1. 1. On the top margin. L. Gabriel nimbed, with budding rod, perhaps a lily; he is in motion, with R. arm outstretched; on a large label is ae gracia. Centre, a large polygonal wooden desk on a square base standing on the larger painting below. Three gold discs about it: to R. of it sits the Virgin, head covered: rays come to her from (effaced) figure of God in vesica. In R. corner Joseph nimbed on one knee whittles a green bough with an axe on a block.

2. Large painting, gold ground. Christ among the Doctors, cross-nimbed, on a high throne in centre expounding: on each side four doctors in stalls with books dispute and listen; nine more on a bench across the front: one stretches up both arms; one shouts into another's ear; one turns and dashes down his book; at the R. hand corner Mary and Joseph lead out Jesus: she seems to hold his ear. The painting is held up by three nimbed figures, two beardless with gold breastplates, one bearded man, shorter, with pink tunic and scarlet hose.

3. Initial. L. a man in black writes at a desk, blue ground.

4. Smaller initial. A beardless tonsured bust, in scarlet robe.

Each of the 101 chapters in Pars Prima, and a large number of the subdivisions in the rest of the volume, have small initials with busts of bishops, priests, monks, and laymen: occasionally a whole figure, kneeling or prostrate. These, which number some three hundred, are not worth describing separately; the work is rough and mechanical in many of them. Only those pictures will be described which stand at the heads of the main divisions.

5. Capitulum primum (f. h 8 b). Gold ground. A father pays ten pounds for the admission of his infant son to a monastery. On L. a group of seven figures, viz. a nurse bending over to support a small child who is running about, a bearded man and two other persons: the father in blue cloak with white fur: the little boy in red, in front of him. The father gives a bag of money to the abbot, who stands by altar on R. with two monks: a roof above.

Initial. A Bishop half-length in red.

6. Cap. ii. (f. l 1 a). Gold ground. On L. an Archbishop in mitre and red cope, throned: a church behind him: before him a crowd consisting of a Bishop (accused of carnal sin), two women, a deacon in rich dalmatic, five monks, and a layman.

Initial. Bust of Bishop with book.

7. Cap. iii. (f. m 8 b). Gold ground. Metropolitan throned as in 6, with book: accused Bishop in blue cope before him, and seven ecclesiastics (his accusers?): a vacant seat on R. covered with dark blue pall: all under a roof.

8. Cap. iv. (f. n 6 b). Gold ground. Metropolitan throned under canopy, with open book, lays hand on head of kneeling figure, tonsured: another kneels. An accused Bishop, bareheaded, and four ecclesiastics on R.

9. Cap. v. (f. n 9 a). Gold ground. Metropolitan with open book: one kneeling presents a scroll (of accusation): the accused Bishop and three others on R. R. of this a canopied wooden desk, with a man seated writing a scroll: another bends over and talks to him: probably we have here the accuser getting a professional scribe to write for him.

10. Cap. vi. (f. o 1 b). Gold ground. In centre, throned, Metropolitan with book: two accusers on L. with scrolls: Bishop and three ecclesiastics on R.

11. Cap. vii. (f. o 6 b). Gold ground. Metropolitan throned, on L.: before him a Bishop and two ecclesiastics on R., a bearded Bishop sits up in bed, a doctor and ecclesiastics with him. Buildings R. and L. This is the case of a sick Bishop who has a successor appointed, and afterwards recovers.

12. Cap. viii. (f. o 9 b). A similar picture, with the addition of the mitre being put on the head of the successor in presence of the sick Bishop.

13. Cap. ix. (f. p 2 b). Metropolitan, throned, ordains two kneeling men: on R. a Bishop in chasuble between two clerks. The Archbishop had been excommunicated, but continued to ordain.

14. Cap. x. (f. p 5 a). Archbishop throned on L. speaks to a man: on R. two clerks talk to a throned layman in blue gown with white fur collar over red. The layman had dedicated a church, and then claimed it from the Bishop.

15. Cap. xi. (f. p 8 a). Bishop throned on L.: clerk in black cloak with scroll before him: on R. two clerks before a civil judge with white fur collar. Case of a priest who would bring a cause before the secular court.

16. Cap. xii. (f. q 8 a). Bishop, clerk with scroll. Mitred Bishop in bed, in black: three clerks attend him. He bequeathed church property to others in his will.

17. Cap. xiii. (f. r 8 a). Warrior on L. in green and blue, with spear and pointed red shield. On R. a mother and child, and two beardless men who offer ears of corn and a lamb at an altar at which stands a priest. They are paying tithe to a new diocese, having been driven out of their own in war.

18. Cap. xiv. (f. s 2 a). L. two clerks, one with scroll: C. Bishop: R. layman in white furred cloak, and another.

19. Cap. xv. (f. s 5 a). L. a priest in a tunic smites a fallen man with a jagged stiek, his head bleeds: R. priest, Bishop throned, woman accusing. The priest had sinned carnally, gone mad, and killed a man.

20. Cap. xvi. (f. s 9 b). L. two monks with folded arms face R., a priest in red chasuble elevates the host; chalice on altar: R. a Bishop sprinkles an altar with asperge: a monk holds a bowl. Question if a monk may officiate in a parish church.

21. Cap. xvii. (f. v 2 a). L. two monks: three more bend over a sick man, bearded, in bed: one takes his hand. A sick priest became a monk: recovered, and retracted.

22. Cap. xviii. (f. v 6 a). L. two deacons: Bishop with asperge: altar with chalice: red curtain behind it. An abbot made Bishop. What are his rights over the monastery?

23. Cap. xiv. (f. v 8 b). L. Bishop throned, two clerks before him: R. before a door two monks put a cowl over the head of one of two kneeling clerks. To what extent ought seculars to become regulars?

24. Cap. xx. (f. v 9 b). A picture closely resembling No. 5. The parent is not giving money to the monks. Two boys, one willing, one unwilling, enter a monastery.

25. Cap. xxi. (f. x 2 a). L. Bishop throned: C. priest (archipresbyter) in chasuble with gold stripe down the front, between two clerks: R. a secular judge. The arch-priest held two fracposituræ and dressed magnificently.

26. Cap. xxii. (f. x 3 b). L. Bishop throned: R. priest (archdeacon) in blue swears on a book: priest on R. The Bishop had forsworn himself in ignorance, and the arch-deacon would not obey him.

27. Cap. xxiii. (f. x 10 b). L. Metropolitan throned: a Bishop swears on a book: two priests with him: on R. two heretics, above two catholics. May a Bishop fight to defend his flock?

28. Cap. xxiv. (f. z 7 b). L. Bishop throned, two priests before him: R. priest with scroll before a Bishop. The first Bishop had fallen into heresy, and deprived some of his priests.

29. Cap. xxv. (f. 9 7 b). C. Pope in red over white, nimbed, throned, gives with each hand a long scroll to a kneeling priest (?) on L. and a kneeling monk (?) on R. Two standing ecclesiasties by each. Full tithes are granted to a certain church and exemption from tithes to a monastery in that diocese.

30. Cap. xxvi. (f. & 1 a). L. Bishop throned, one priest kneels before him, three stand : on R. facing R. a priest sits on a curious curved seat, with joined hands, and looks up at the stars. He practised magic, and was corrected by the Bishop.

31. Cap. xxvii. (f. & 7 a). L. man with book : man and wife standing together : another man and wife : a Bishop throned on R. One who had vowed chastity, married : his wife left him and married another man : the first reclaimed her.

32. Cap. xxviii. (f. A 4 b). R. a man in a cap (to signify that he is a pagan) takes the hand of a woman. L. a Bishop ordains him : a priest holds a book. The pagan marries, is converted, his wife leaves him, he is ordained.

33. Cap. xxix. (f. A 7 b). L. a lady in red standing : a curtain behind her : a man kneels to her : R. she takes a man's hand : a priest on R. She accepted a nobleman, and an ignoble man afterwards personated her lover and married her.

34. Cap. xxx. (f. A 9 a). L. two women, one with a baby : a bearded man : a woman takes in her arms a baby from a square font with round basin : the baby is handed to her by a priest in red on R. Case of a confusion of children arising from crowds present at the baptism.

35. Cap. xxxi. (f. B 2 a). L. a woman and man embrace : two couples on R., the second are joining hands.

36. Cap. xxxii. (f. B 4 a). L. a couple embrace : R. two parents facing : in front of each is a child : these last join hands.

37. Cap. xxxiii. (f. C 2 b). Six figures : two couples, each with one third person beside them. Case of separation ; the wife marrying a paramour.

38. Penitential (f. D 1 a). A Bishop in wooden pulpit with curtain behind it addresses five seated people : on R. a penitent in black cloak and hood sits with hand to head.

39. Cap. xxxiv. (f. F 10 a). Bishop on L. : woman with scroll, man behind her : man and woman embrace on R., a tower with a man in the window. A husband taken prisoner : his wife hears that he is dead and marries again.

40. Cap. xxxv. (f. G 1 b). L. Bishop throned : R. four people stand behind a tomb, in which two more are laying a dead woman. A widower marries again, within the prohibited degrees.

41. Cap. xxxvi. (f. G 7 b). A man and woman at a table, on which are bottles, glasses, and dishes, etc. : C. they embrace : R. they marry.

42. Cap. de consecratione (f. H 1 a). Under two arches. L. a Bishop with asperge, before an altar, attended by priest in blue with bowl, and another. On R. priest in red chasuble (on which are seen faint black letters) elevates the Host : chalice on altar : two assistants behind : one kneels with taper.

There are several interesting notes of the copyist marking the limits of the pecie (the unit of payment) into which the book was divided, e.g. on f. H 4 a we have Finis xiiij pecie; on H 9 a Finis xv pecie; on I 4 a (col. 1) Finis xvi pecie, whence it appears that 10 pages of this MS are approximately a pecia. I have not detected any more of these notes.

184. REGISTER OF THE 'SCHUOLA DE MADONA SANTA MARIA DEGLI SONATORI,' AT VENICE.

Vellum and paper, $8\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{7}{8}$, ff. 162; the oldest part has 22 lines to a page. Cent. xv—xix (1476—1805). Presented by S. Sandars, M.A., Trinity College, Oct. 18, 1892. The binding is of red velvet, with gilt ornaments and clasp: the volume has a leather case of cent. xviii, inscribed: Mariegola (= Matricola) rinouada sotto la gastaldia di Pre Giacomo Caito anno 1500. In reality according to a note on f. 2, the renovation should have been dated Jan. 25, 1514.

On paper:	Entries, 1648, 1618, 1561	38
On vellum:	Entries, 1633—1644	42

The rest of the volume is almost all paper, with occasional vellum insertions; and carries on the entries to 1805.

The leaves after f. 142 are blank. Two documents are wafered in at the end of the volume.

The original statutes, dating from 1340 to 1476, were apparently written by Leonardus de manis, notarius officii to Philip Bedrannio, a 'provisor': his name occurs on f. 21 b.

The last Italian possessor of the book seems to have been M. Gherardo Molza: it afterwards belonged to Mr William Bragge, of Sheffield, and while in his possession was exhibited at the Derby Public Museum. It was bought by Mr Sandars from Quaritch.

There are two full-page paintings occupying ff. 9 b, 10 a. These are of a high order of merit, though they have suffered somewhat from thumbing.

1. The Crucifixion. The ground is blue with very delicate arabesques in gold. The cross is of burnished gold, with the title (VNRI) erected on a peg stuck into the top of the upright beam. Christ has cross-nimbus and crown of thorns, and His side is pierced. The blood runs down into the eye, ear and mouth of Adam's skull, which lies at the foot of the hillock on which the cross stands. On the L. is the Virgin in blue mantle (covering her head) over red robe: her hands are loosely joined but not raised. On the R. is John in scarlet robe lined with blue over white: he points to the skull with L. hand and leans his face on his R. hand. Behind are two city gates joined by a pink wall. Two spired campaniles coloured pink, white, green and gold rise behind. Small trees occupy the middle distance.

2. The Assumption. The ground is blue with gold stars. The Virgin, full length, in a mandorla, stands on a silver crescent, her hands joined, her head bare, surrounded with rays, wavy and straight. The Son, half-length, bends out of a background of red cherubs and places a crown on her head. The mandorla is coloured like the rainbow. The field outside it is full of half-length angels, four of whom, at the corners, blow trumpets, others support the mandorla, and others adore.

Below is a line of landscape with tiny trees, hills, and cities.

185. KAISER LUDWIG'S LANDRECHT VON BAIERN.

Vellum, $13 \times 8\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 66, 32 lines to a full page: cent. xiv. Purchased in 1893. Binding, old stamped leather with brass central ornaments, double clasps, and covers: these last are inscribed O: mater: dei: misereri: m; these ornaments are of good style.

Collation: a⁶ b⁸—h⁸ i⁴.

On f. 1 b is the name Nicolaus Winzurn Constantinus 1538, and these words:

Questio Recht weret lanng.

Responsio Man brucht das selten.

Tertius Vnnser sündnd ist schuld.

Homo Domine ne in furore tuo etc....iniquitatem ego cognosco.

Wir Ludweich von gotes genaden Margraue ze Brandenburch, etc.

Blank spaces are left for illumination at the beginning of each Titulus: none have been filled.

The text has been printed at least twice: in 1747, and in 1834 by Fryburg.

There is only one piece of figured ornament in the book, and this is if I mistake not by an Italian hand. It is on f. 7 b. The page is bordered with the winged ornament in pink, green, red, blue, black: the border contains five shields: (1) top R., sable a lion rampant or, (2) or an eagle displayed sable, (3) argent an eagle displayed gules, (4) or quarterly four lions rampant sable and gules, (5) checks of argent and azure.

The initial W, on a burnished gold ground, represents in the centre, the Emperor beardless and smiling, in an imperial crown, of which the ornaments have been effaced, with sceptre in R. and orb in L. hand: he wears a blue dalmatic and a stole crossed on his breast, yellow, with nine black eagles on it. His feet rest on two lions, and an eagle stands on the head of each. On each side are two men bending their knees and looking up to him. They all wear gowns and capes with hoods attached, ending in long liripipes.

186. STATUTES.

Vellum, $8\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 357, 29 lines to a page. Cent. xv (1460). Presented in 1820 by the Rev. William Clayton, of Saffron Walden.

187. BOOK OF THE ORDER OF THE GOLDEN FLEECE.

Vellum, $11\frac{3}{4} \times 8$, ff. 145, of which 37 are blank. Date 1563. Acquired in 1814. In a good binding of cent. xvi. with gold tooling, stamped with the badge of the Golden Fleece.

The book belonged to Julius Chifflet, made Chancellor of the order in 1648 by Philip IV. of Spain; No. 40 also belonged to him. A chronogram of the date of his election is inside the cover.

IVLIVs a Chifflet prae Digno ab rege CreatVr orDInIs aVgVstI bene CanCeLLarIVs acqVVs

but by mistake the second C in Cancellarius is written small, which makes the date wrong.

On f. 47 (title-page) is what seems to be the artist's signature in a small frame, 'Fait en (?) valen(ciennes) par Jacques Bourg.'

Inside the cover is an old printed label with the number 831. Also pasted to the cover is a strip of finely executed ornament, apparently a part of an illuminated border of late xvth cent. It bears the initials C. M., the mottoes of Charles the Bold: Je lay enprins: Bien en auiengne: and the device of the order, two steels with a flint between them. Above it is written (in Chifflet's hand).

Chronicon Distichum, auctore Domino Thoma Varino Toparcha de Aduit, Vesontino.

There are two or three borders with peacocks, armorial bearings and natural flowers, mostly on a yellow ground: they are carefully executed, as is all the volume. Mr Searle mentions another and somewhat earlier copy of the Statutes resembling this, in the British Museum (Harl. 6199). But there are only two figured subjects:

1. Portrait of Philip the Good. Half length, three-quarters full, turned to right : in a broad black headdress and black gown with furred collar : the chain of the order on his neck : he holds a small roll in his hands. Dark blue ground : arched gold frame. The miniature and four shields which surround it date from about 1480. It is a remarkable and interesting work.

2. Chapter of the order held in 1473 at S. Paul de Valenciennes. Charles the Bold seated on a canopied throne, full face, at the upper end of the hall. His shield, surrounded by the chain and badge of the order, hangs over him on a green ground. He wears the scarlet robe and headdress of the order and has a book. On R. and L. are six knights of the order in their robes. At the lower end is a table with four richly bound books on it : a fifth book is in the hands of a Bishop in red mitre, blue chasuble, and alb : he stands back to the spectator : on L. is a bareheaded young man in long dark robe, on R. a courtier in short cloak and plumed hat, and also a man in short scarlet cloak of the order, green hose and black boots, with sword. The execution is very fairly good.

188. VENETIAN DUCALI, ETC.

Vellum, $9 \times 6\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 220, varying number of lines to a page. Cent. xvi—xviii. Acquired in 1806.

Contents :

1. On the fly-leaf a coloured drawing on vellum (of cent. xviii.) dead gold on purple, the Lion of S. Mark holding the red cap of a doge.

2. Petri Barrocii Patritii Veneti in Ioannis eius Patru Patriarchae Venetiarum primo adventu ad illustrissimum B. Christoforum Maurum (Moro) Ducem Venetiarum oratio feliciter habita.

This title is written in gold capitals on a red ground, on a marble monument of classical design ; behind a niche is a landscape touched with gold. The execution is very careful.

The opposite page is bordered. It has a good initial and the arms of Moro at the bottom.

The hand is Roman. The speech was delivered between 1462 and 1471.

3. Commission granted by Doge Andrea Gritti (1523-9) to Filippo Basadona, for the command of ships going to Beyrout in 1523.

The first page is bordered with flowers on a blue ground. In the border are three medallions. a. The Lion of S. Mark. b. A landscape. c. Basadona's (?) arms in a landscape, an oval shield divided into eight triangles of or and azure alternate.

Above the text is a miniature of five half-length figures. Centre, the Virgin and Child seated. On R. Basadona kneels to them, presented by S. Philip with gold cross, on L. a Bishop with crozier and book and blue cope with fleurs-de-lys. S. Louis of Toulouse (?). Not very good work.

4. Appointment to the government of Vicenza issued in 1522 by Doge Ant. Grimani (1521-23) to Franc. Barbarigo. Title-page. a. Above the Lion of S. Mark. b. A medallion ; Barbarigo, in red gown, kneels to the Virgin and Child throned in a landscape. c. The opening of the text in gold capitals on red ground. d. The Barbarigo arms supported by genii. The ground is blue. Better than No. 3.

5. Appointment to the government of Raspureh in the Chersonese, issued in 1574 by Doge Aloysius Mocenigo (1570-77) to Paolo Correr.

f. 1 b. A full-page picture; R. Correr, half-length in red, presented by S. Paul with sword to Christ who appears nude showing His wounds, in glory, over an altar with chalice and host upon it, the date below.

The opposite page has, a. Lion of S. Mark. b. Opening of the text in gold capitals on blue. c. Arms of Correr.

Mediocre work.

6. Appointment to be Podestà of Bergamo, issued by Doge Nic. Sagredo (1675-6) to Nic. Pasqualigo.

The first leaf only is given. It has a border of tulips, roses, pinks, etc., and the four cardinal Virtues at the corners. Also the Lion of S. Mark in the centre. A most uninteresting piece of work.

7. Diploma of the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, granted by Camillo Peltravi, Bishop's Vicar of Pavia, for that University, to Gasparo Despotini of Venice, on Ap. 18, 1603.

In Roman hand, all proper names in gold capitals: p. 1 has a border with a medallion at top of the Virgin and Child in clouds, and a coat-of-arms at the bottom. Neat but uninteresting work.

8. Appointment to the office of Bailo at Constantinople, issued in 1713 by Doge Giov. Cornaro (1709-22) to Andr. Memmo.

Without ornaments.

9. A coloured drawing on vellum, by the same hand as No. 1, of a coat-of-arms with coronet supported by cherubs.

The arms are those of Moro(?): party per fess, counterchanged or and azurc, six mulberries, three and three.

189. SPANISH PATENT OF NOBILITY.

Paper and vellum, $12\frac{1}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$, 12 ff. of paper, and 44 of vellum, 36 lines to a page. Cent. xvi (1579). In a fine stamped binding. Given by S. Sandars, M.A., Trinity College, Nov. 28, 1887.

It is a patent of Nobility granted by Philip V. to Bernal Ramirez, very handsomely written, with one illumination, on the verso of the first vellum leaf, protected by a pink silk guard. This represents, in the upper half, BERNAL RAMIREZ, in black, girt with a gold-handled sword, kneeling, hat in hand and looking up at a vision of the Virgin and Child seated on a cloud: on R. is a tree, and buildings and hills are behind.

In the lower half are the arms of Ramirez.

190. ANTIPHONER (ITALIAN).

Vellum, 19 × 13½, ff. 251, 6 lines of music and 6 of words to a page: cent. xiv. Purchased in 1893. Original boards, fastened by four clasps, two of which remain.

Collation: a¹⁰—f¹⁰ g¹⁰ (wants 2) h¹⁰—z¹⁰ aa¹⁰ bb¹².

Contents:

Antiphons and Historiae for the year from Saturday before Sexagesima to Advent (not inclusive).

The last Antiphon is Aspice domine quia facta est desolata ciuitas.

A good example of Italian work.

The writing is very fine and bold: the decorative work consists (a) of a multitude of red and blue initials with rather rough green ornament, (b) of a certain number of illuminated initials (perhaps thirty) marking the greater feasts. These are of good quality and remarkable in design. The best will be found on ff. g 10, i 4, k 10 b, m 8, n 5 b (Easter Sunday: one of the two best in the book) q 6, r 8 (Ascension Day: this initial (P) contains a half-length figure of Christ, cross-nimbed, blessing: He is dressed in scarlet over blue, and holds a green book: pink ground with white pattern), s 7 b, t 9 b, z 5 b, z 10, aa 5, bb 4 b.

191. FRAGMENTS (ENGLISH).

i. Two single leaves, 9½ × 6, 21 lines to a page. Cent. xiii (1280). English work. From the Lawrence sale; presented by S. Sandars, M.A., Trinity College, in 1892.

(1) Recto. End of Ps. cxx. Et non dixerunt qui praeteribant.

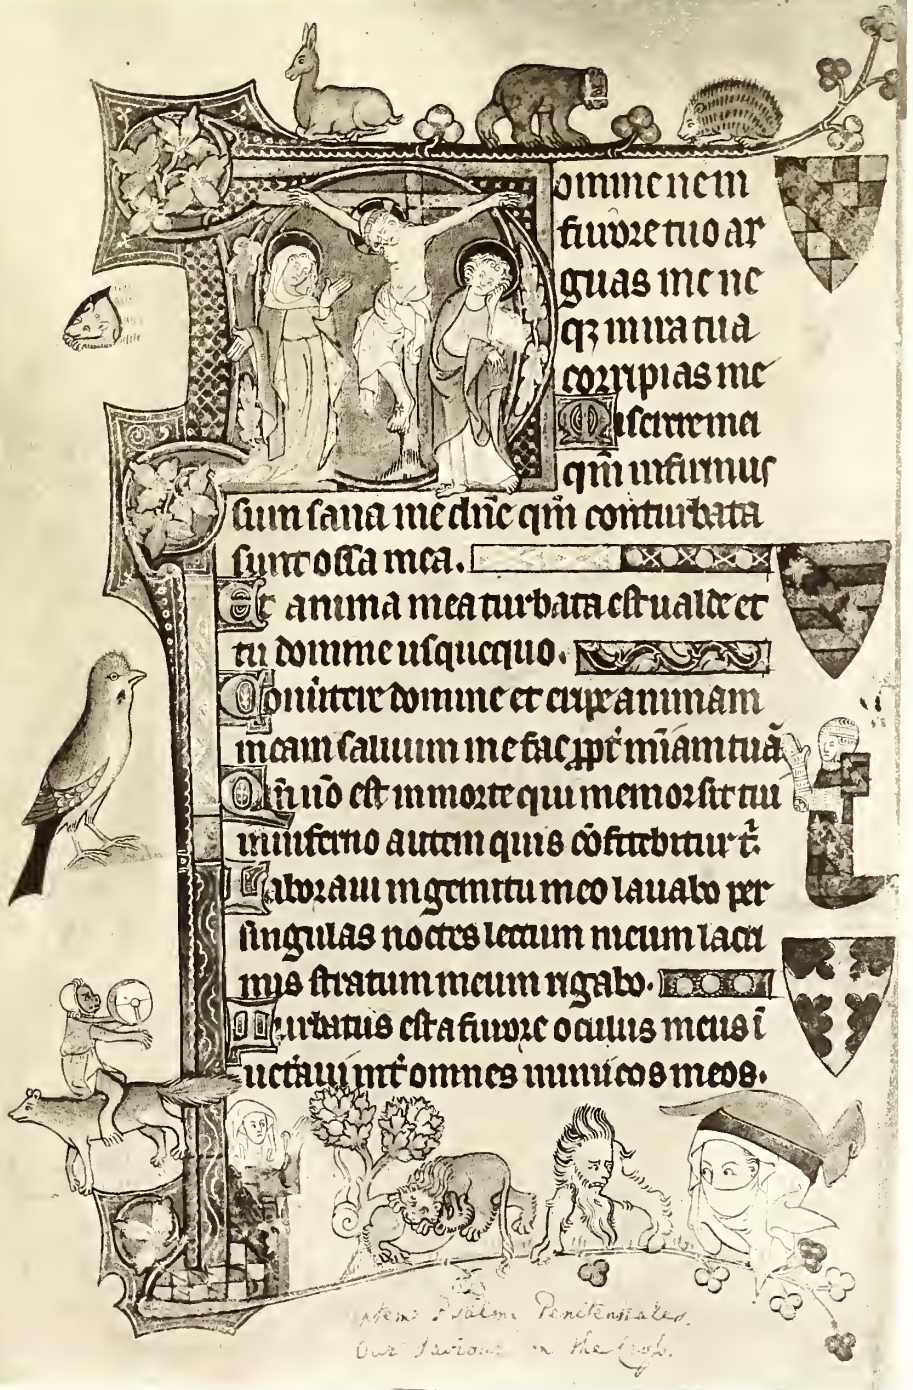

— Gloria. Sicut erat.

Gratia domini nostri. Deo gratias. Veni creator. Confirma hoc. Sancti spiritus corda nostra mundet infusio.

Domine exaudi. Et clamor. Benedicamus domino. Deo gratias.

Verso. Bordered. A large initial, with punctured gold ground, of the Crucifixion; the Cross is green; there are three nails. On L. is the Virgin with hands outspread, on R. S. John with book, and hands to face. On the top of the border, a deer, a bear with muzzle, and a hedgehog. On L. a beast in a burrow, and a jay, and a monkey riding a fox, face to tail, and drumming.

At bottom is a lady praying, in a dress blazoned with her arms, then a lion fighting a dragon under a tree, a male head on two legs and a large female head, the mouth covered.

On R., a shield, gules a cross engrailed or; a knight in mail and blazoned surcoat, praying: a second shield, of his arms, barry of six argent and azure, on a bend dexter gules bearing three mullets of five points or, for Grey: above this is a third shield, of the lady's, checky or and azure, a bend dexter gules with three lioncels argent (Clifford of Frampton). Text. Domine ne in furore, to ver. 7.

All this work is very fine.

(2) Recto. Bordered, with a large female head in the initial and a grotesque at bottom.

Text. Et filium cum sancto spiritu. Benedictus es...Et laudabilis. Domine exaudi. Et clamor.

Deus qui per eternam sapientiam.

Domine exaudi. Et clamor. Benedicamus. Deo gratias.

Deus in adiutorium. Domine ad adiuuandum. Gloria. Sicut.

Qui trinus ante secula et simplex ante omnia

.....tuam ca<na>mus gloriam. Amen.

Verso. Te unum in substantia.

Qualis pater talis filius. Et tamen non tres domini sed unus est dominus. Gloria. Te unum in substantia—confitemur.

Gratia domini nostri—amen. Benedictus es domine.

The volume to which this belonged was sold at the Fountaine sale at Messrs Christie's in 1894, to Mr William Morris. It is of early date for a book of private devotion, not being a Psalter. Writing and decoration are of the best English sort.

192. MISCELLANEOUS FRAGMENTS (FRENCH).

ii Part of a leaf, 5 × 4. Cent. xiii. xiv. of the finest French work. From the Lawrence sale; presented by S. Sandars, M.A., Trinity College, in 1892.

The page is divided into four compartments with delicately floriated gold grounds. The names of the subjects are written above and below, alternately in red and black. The leaf may very well have been one of several pictured leaves placed at the beginning of a Psalter: it is a most beautiful piece of work.

1. (Top L.) Equite. A crowned lady in dark grey mantle over pink, a white kerchief on her head. She stands on the back of a crouching wolf, and holds in her R. hand a plummet (in a triangular frame), and in her L. a medallion of a lamb on red ground, standing on green grass.

2. (Top R.) Felounie. Cain, beardless, in blue mantle lined with scarlet, over pink, smites with a pointed spade the head of Abel in grey, who kneels on one knee by a tree on R.

3. (Below L.) Larche Noel. The ark, a spherical edifice with red tiled roof and timber bottom, in water. In the lower tier are six square openings, in which are seen the heads of a hare, stag, ram, lion, bull, goat, boar. Above this are two rows of four open windows, the shutters of which, with their ornamental iron hinges, are most cleverly drawn. In each is a figure of some kind. In the lowest row, from L. we have a small white dog with long drooping ears: Noah's wife, half-length, with hands apart, as if excited or arguing: she faces R.: Noah, in red, blue and brown with peaked cap, head on hand: a dark grey cat. In the upper row from L. are an eagle, a cock and hen facing each other, and a green parrot.

4. Moses. Two bearded elderly men, bareheaded, contending with raised sticks: he on L. has blue and green mantle over scarlet, he on R. a pink and scarlet mantle over blue. In centre Moses horned, in grey and green over brown, separates the disputants.

193. MINIATURES FROM HORAE.

iii. A set of 12 Miniatures and borders, the text excised, which have been cut out of a French MS Horae of cir. 1500, and are now pasted on vellum and bound up in a volume. Purchased at the Hailstone sale in 1891.

Size of border $5\frac{3}{4} \times 4$.

1. Hours of the Virgin. Matins. Annunciation, in a room with open window at back and green canopied bedstead on R. L. the angel kneels in cope with sceptre. The Dove on a ray enters through the window. The Virgin in blue over red sits on R. with book on lap and hand on heart.

Border, dead gold ground with natural flowers (roses, strawberries, currants, iris, columbine, etc.) and peacock.

2. Lauds. The Visitation. Through a classical portal with pilasters at the back are seen other buildings and a paddock. In front on a pavement the Virgin stands on L., Elizabeth kneels on R.

An intermixture of arabesque in the border.

3. Prime. The Virgin and Joseph adore the Child. In a paved stable with arched openings on each side, and open end out of which is seen a landscape. A shepherd looks in. The Virgin kneels on L. and Joseph on R. Between them, adoring the Child, are many little angels in orange robes. The ox's head seen through an arch on R.

Arabesques occur in the border.

4. Tierce. The Angel and the shepherds. Four shepherds in various astonished attitudes. Dog and sheep. Two angels in air, in orange, hold a noted scroll. A pretty landscape behind.

5. Sext. Adoration of the Magi. The same stable apparently as in No. 3. A bed on R. at the foot of which sits the Virgin. L. All the kings kneel, one is beardless and of negro aspect, though not black. Through the open end of the building are seen woods, a moated building and the star.

6. None. Presentation in the Temple. A round altar in the middle. Green hangings on the wall behind it, and three windows, on either side of the central one is a statue on a bracket.

On L. stand Joseph (nimbed) and a maid, R. two spectators, one a priest. Round the altar the Virgin L., Anna nimbed C., and Simcon nimbed R., who holds the nude Child in a white cloth. A small white terrier is beside him.

Peacock and cornflower in the border.

THE RESURRECTION AND APPEARANCES OF CHRIST
(FRAGMENT N° IV.)

7. Vespers. The Flight into Egypt. Joseph nimbed leads the ass to R. On a hillock behind is a gold idol on a gold column, bending to fall. A city on L. and mountains behind.

Two monkeys (one winged) in the border.

8. Hours of the Cross. Christ on the Cross nailed with four nails. On L. kneel the Virgin, S. John and another Mary. On R. S. Mary Magdalene and another woman, all nimbed. Mountains behind.

9. Hours of the Holy Ghost. In a vaulted and aisled church (looking west) are kneeling round the Virgin, who has a small desk before her, four holy women, and the Apostles. From above on L. come rays and fiery tongues.

Grotesque monster in border.

10. Seven Psalms and Litany. On the grassy terrace of a moated building King David in red mantle kneels facing L. and looking up. Harp, sceptre, book and crown lie round him on the ground. In air a gold demi-angel with three darts.

11. Vigils of the Dead. The Raising of Lazarus. Background of buildings, water and hills. In front a grave dug in the ground. In it stands Lazarus white and shrouded, supported by S. Peter. On L. of grave Christ, S. Mary Magdalene kneeling, S. John and three Apostles standing at head of grave. S. Martha nimbed. On R. five spectators, among them a nimbed woman, S. Marcella (?).

12. A prayer to Christ. In a church with green hangings and one end open (at R.) kneels a young man in a black gown, furred, looking R. By him kneels S. Francis with the stigmata, and points him to the Vision of Christ as a fiery seraph seen in air outside. Behind, kneels a lady in slate colour. By her stands S. Adrian in armour and pink mantle, holding anvil and sword.

The names of the owners were, then, François and Adrienne.

FRAGMENTS (ITALIAN).

194. iv. Single leaf of a choral book, 18 × 13; cent. xiv. Purchased in 1891, with fragments v—xii, xiv, xv. Italian work.

In the centre a framed picture, 10½ × 8¼, in two tiers.

Above. The Resurrection; Christ in white robe over yellow, with gold border, holding red-cross banner on cross-staff, and surrounded with rays, stands on the closed tomb: rays descend from a cloud above. On R. and L. lie four soldiers, two on each side: their armour is mail on the arms and plate on the legs, and they have coloured leather tunics. On R. and L. behind are rocks and trees, and two small birds sit on the trees flapping their wings.

Below. The Angel with fiery red face and hands and scarlet wings in white, with gold bands and border and sceptre, sits on the edge of the tomb, now open. The three women on L.; one with casket kneels, two stand, one shading her eyes. Rocks and trees as in the other picture, and the two birds, singing.

In the border are eight medallions with blue grounds.

1. Christ enters from L. to his mother, who kneels. Scarlet curtain.
2. Christ blesses the Magdalene, who kneels. Rocks and trees behind.
3. Christ stands full face between Peter and John, who kneel.

4. Christ takes the hand of S. James: on R. is a table with bread and two glasses of wine: a fireplace behind.

5. Christ in hairy garment stands full-face between two nimbed disciples, who turn to him. (The journey to Emmaus.)

6. Christ in hairy garment seated at table, full-face, between the two disciples. The white cloth has (here and in 4) crossed lines on it. Christ is about to break bread.

Below this is a kneeling figure of a man in blue.

7. Christ stands full-face, blessing: six apostles kneel on L. and five on R. Here and elsewhere is a good deal of green in the flesh-tints.

8. On R. Christ faces L. with raised R. arm. Thomas (beardless), behind whom stand ten Apostles, puts his finger to Christ's side.

Below this is a kneeling figure of a lady.

There is a border on the R. side of the page, with a peacock.

195. v. Fragment of a leaf, $8 \times 5\frac{1}{2}$; Italian, cir. 1300 (Florentine).

The Maries at the Sepulchre: on L. the three Maries, the Magdalene in front with casket, looking back. In a cave-mouth is the tomb, of blue-green marble, veined with white: on it sits the Angel in white with gold borders at neck and wrists, and white stole with red crosses, crossed on his body: below, three soldiers, prostrate. Blue ground with white patterns.

196. vi. Single leaf, 22×15 ; Italian, cent. xv, with music. Border with genii and birds.

Initial, 9×8 . Christ in blue mantle over pink, seated in air surrounded by red cherubim, shows the wounds in his hands. On L. five saved souls in white with yellow hair adore him. On R. below, a black devil with green wings and pitchfork drives a crowd of naked souls into hell-mouth, a black cavern; they are dragged in by devils with hooks, and serpents attack them.

Text. Domine ne in ira tua.

197. vii. Single leaf, 23×16 ; Italian, cent. xv. Border with vases, out of which spring conventional plants. At the bottom two genii support a wreath of laurel enclosing a shield. Party per pale, dexter, sable a lozenge or, bordered gules, and having a four-petalled flower of the last; sinister, party per fess or and gules (repainted, the original charge obliterated).

Initial I ($9\frac{1}{4} \times 3$) on gold ground.

Painting in frame ($9\frac{1}{4} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$): above, God the Father half-length bends out of a ring of red cherubs and lays his hand on a sphere of eleven concentric circles below : the outermost contains the twelve signs and the fixed stars, the next six the sun, moon and planets : the centre has land with green streams, in a green sea.

The spandrels have foliage on a gold ground.

Late and rather coarse, but effective work.

The recto has the Venite and Responses.

K. Memor fui nocte nominis tui etc.

R. Et custodiui legem tuam.

Half the page is blank.

The text on the verso is : In principio fecit deus celum et ter. |

198. viii. Single leaf, 23×16 ; Italian, cent. xv. Bordered in the style of no. 3.

Initial D, on gold ground, $7\frac{1}{4} \times 7$. King David, in pink mantle over blue, crowned, white-bearded, throned, holding short plain sceptre and gold orb. Under his feet an armed man in gold and blue lies on his back. The throne is covered with a green pall, and on either side stands a handsome page : the one on L. has a sword.

Good work : probably from the same source as no. 196 (vi).

On the verso are two lines with music : Alleluia. Evoc. Dixit Dominus. Evoc.

On the recto are twelve lines without music of Ps. cix (cx) : Dixit dominus, to v. 3 : virgam virtutis tue emittet.

199. ix. Initial letters ; Italian, cent. xv.

1. E, $4\frac{5}{8} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$: the letter is pink, covered with white letters, mostly nonsense. REGINA CE(li) is visible. There are also jewels (pearls, emerald, and amethyst) in gold settings. Blue ground. The Virgin full-face in blue robe over red shirt with gold, surrounded by six red cherubs in air.

On gold ground.

2. G, $3\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$: pink, with white letters on it, which seem incoherent. The Visitation, with a wood and sky behind : the Virgin is on L., taller than Elizabeth, who is in purple. On gold ground. From the same book as no. 1.

3. A, 3 in. square. The Virgin in dark blue mantle covered with gold crosses holds the Child, nude : sky with clouds, resembling that in no. 2.

4. D, on gold ground, $4\frac{1}{2} \times 5$: the Baptism of Christ : on L. stand two angels, in blue and pink, holding white clothes over their folded arms. Christ in centre, in the river, which flows down the centre : the dove over his head : John with cross-staff, and purple cloak over hairy garment. Two green mountains behind. Careful and minute work.

5. S, on gold ground, $4\frac{1}{3}$ in. square. Green letter with lighter green sham writing on it: jewels (pearls and ruby) at top and bottom. S. Philip, old and bearded, in purplish-white mantle with green lining over blue robe, holds a heavy wooden cross. Blue ground.

From the same hand as no. 1.

6. N, $2\frac{1}{2}$ in. square, on gold ground. The Trinity, one figure, half-length, in dark blue cope with red and gold lettered border, over white: holds book and blesses: there is a triangular gold nimbus, and three faces (one full and two in profile), grey-bearded. Red ground, with gold rays.

7. C, $2\frac{3}{4}$ in. square, on gold ground: a group of Apostles: half-length. In front S. Peter in yellow mantle over blue, with keys and book: S. Paul to L. of him, with sword: the rest have no attributes. Blue sky with gold clouds.

8. C, same size as no. 7, similar group: S. James the Great with staff, S. Cosmas? beardless, with sword and palm, S. Damian?, another Apostle. Sky as in 7.

9. M, 3 in. square, on gold ground. The Visitation: two half-length figures. The Virgin on L.: rays proceed from her body. Crimson ground with gold dots. Elizabeth has yellow mantle over blue.

The letter is composed of green leaves, and has apples on either side. Probably nos. 6—9 all came from one book.

MISCELLANEOUS FRAGMENTS (GERMAN).

200. x. Single leaf, $8\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$, 11 lines of text and 11 of music; cent. xi, German (?).

A handsome initial S, red and blue; the gold of the ground much gone.

Text. Statuit ei dominus testamentum pacis etc.

Gloria. Evovae.

Kyrie. Epistola. Dedit dominus confessionem.

Gradual. Iuravit dominus.

Tract. Beatus uir qui timeat.

K. Gloria et diuitie.

Sint lumbi uestri.

Magna est gloria.

Musie on a four-line stave, the lines in brown, green, red, black.

201. xi. Fragment of a leaf, cent. xiv, $7 \times 3\frac{3}{8}$.

Ground blue, powdered with white wings: on R. a dark red hexagonal tower with a green band of foliated ornament half-way up: conical top, with cross. On L. of it stands S. Peter, face R., in scarlet and blue mantle over green: he holds two white keys and a book, and stands on a dark pavement. Fair execution.

202. xii. Fragment of a leaf, $4\frac{7}{8} \times 3\frac{7}{8}$, cent. xv.

A medallion in the centre with red ground, enclosing a half-length of the Virgin, crowned, the crescent below her: she is surrounded by yellow rays, and wears a blue mantle with yellow stars and a red necklace: the Child in her arms plays with it.

The spandrels contain the Evangelistic symbols.

Exceedingly coarse ugly work. Verso blank. Round the medallion in red is written Mulier amicta sole—stellarum duodecim: stella maris, ora pro omnibus nobis.

203. xiii. Double leaf, $9\frac{3}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$, double columns of varying lengths; cent. xv. From the Lawrence sale, presented by S. Sanders, M.A., Trinity College, in 1892.

From a Speculum Humanæ Salvationis, of German execution, very hard, but not ineffective. There are two miniatures on each page, in outline, washed with brown, green, and pink.

(1) Samson fortissimus dilaceravit leonem.

On L. a tree, the lion sits by it on his haunches: Samson with flowing hair and beard, in pink doublet and hose and white cloak round his middle, seizes the lion's jaws.

(2) Ayoth perfodit egelon pinguisimum.

Egelon rex in green mantle sits full-face on a throne with a richly crested back: Ayoth ambydexter (Ehud) on R., a small man in green tunic, runs a sword into his body with both hands.

(3) Maria superavit dyabolum hostem nostrum.

The Virgin in pink over green, holding a scourge(?) and lance in one hand, and a whip in the other, stands on a prostrate devil. On her shoulders is the cross, on R. the column, surmounted by a bowl with three nails in it: on L. are a torch, a whip, and a hand receiving money.

(4) Iudith decollavit holofernum hostem filiorum israel.

Judith with long hair and raised sword: Holofernes, beardless, in bed with green coverlet, trees on R. and L.: his throat is wounded.

(5) Iahel perforavit sysaram per tempora hostem filiorum israel.

Jael in green, with flowing hair, drives the nail into the head of Sisera, who sits on the ground in black plate armour, with spurs, and white shield. Trees on R. and L.

(6) Regina Thamaris.....

Cyrus, in armour like Sisera's, lies on the ground headless: Tomyris stands holding his head and a sword, on R. Tree on L.

(7) <liber> antur de inferno.

Christ on R. (facing R.) with resurrection-cross and banner holds the hand of Adam (nude and bearded): under the gothic portal of a castle on L. stand Iohannes (John Baptist, draped) and Eua, nude. Flames and demons are seen on the building.

(8) filiis israel liberantur de egypto.

On R. Moses in peaked cap, with staff: behind him, under the arch of a gate with three towers over it, stand three Jews in peaked caps: two more outside.

Text (p. 1) begins: Sicut mirifice (?) interfeicit occurrentem sibi leonem.

(p. 2). In precedenti capitulo audiuimus quomodo christus uieit dyabolum per passionem.

(p. 4). In precedenti capitulo audiuimus quomodo dyabolus est superatus.

204. xiv. Single leaf, $15\frac{1}{2} \times 9\frac{7}{8}$, double columns of 62 lines; cent. xv, German (?). On the verso is only one column of 43 lines, ending Explicit postilla super librum ecclesiastici ny(cholai) de lyra. The second column is blank, and on the space has been drawn a rude figure of a female saint, 8 inches high, in purple over red, with yellow nimbus: she holds a leaved stalk with red flower in R. hand, and points down with L.

205. xv. Single leaf, $18 \times 12\frac{3}{4}$, 11 lines of text and 11 of music; cent. xv, German.

A good initial H, of gold work on blue ground. In it is a picture of the Virgin standing bareheaded in a landscape holding the Child: immediately behind her is a low brickwork structure, shaped like a semi-hexagon, of which the top is a flower-bed. Behind that are two friars in brown habits and darker hoods: on the heart of each is a vertical band with a red and white Maltese cross. Trees and birds behind.

There is a good border on L. with a child and a bird, and at bottom, very finely drawn, are two knights in gold and black armour respectively on horseback; the one in gold is riding down the other, and his lance strikes him in the neck and bends: the other's lance is broken and his horse falling: by them is a bird with a scroll gelr^e hogen moit.

Text. Antiphons etc. for the Nativity of the Virgin.
Hec est regina uirginum, etc.

The first page is written in gold and neatly ornamented.

229. LIBANII, DEMOSTHENIS, ETC., QUÆDAM GRÆCE.

Paper, 9 × 6, ff. 329, varying numbers of lines (30 to 21) to a page: in several hands: cent. xiv and xv. Binding, original wooden boards covered with stamped leather: the stamps used are two circular ones of a dragon and another animal: an interlaced border on the obverse cover: each cover formerly had nine metal bosses: there were also four clasps. Bequeathed by the late Rev. T. Kerrich.

A notice of the text of Demosthenes contained in this MS was contributed by the late Mr F. A. Paley to the Journal of Philology for 1874 (vol. v. p. 28), accompanied by facsimiles of a few lines on pp. 139, 589, 493, 19, of the MS. His description of the volume may be quoted here.

“The MS is a small, but rather thick quarto of 657 pages, the size being about nine inches by six. Though a good deal stained by damp, and a little injured by the book-moth, it is for the most part in fair condition, and, though full of contractions, everywhere legible. It is on paper, of the thick glossy kind used in the fourteenth century, and bearing, among other paper marks, a kind of triple leaf, which Professor Wright, a high authority, as one conversant with the MSS in the British Museum, tells me fixes the date at about 1360. The water-marks however vary, and so does the handwriting, of which at least six, if not seven, distinct kinds may be traced; some of them, especially the part containing the grammatical works at the beginning, perhaps not earlier than the commencement of the fifteenth century.

“On examining this MS a little more closely, I found with equal surprise and satisfaction that it contained a large number of the Orations of Demosthenes in a perfect state. The Leptines, the Androtion, the De Corona, and the De Falsa Legatione, are the largest and perhaps the most important of these. But it also contains the earlier orations; viz. the Olynthiacs, Philippics, De Pace, περὶ Ἀλοννήσου, περὶ τῶν ἐν Χερρονήσῳ, πρὸς τὴν ἐπιστολὴν, περὶ συντάξεως, ἐπιστολὴ Φιλίππου, περὶ τῶν συμμοριῶν, περὶ τῶν πρὸς Ἄλ. συνηκῶν, περὶ τῆς Ῥοδίων ἐλευθερίας, and ὑπὲρ Μεγαλοπολιτῶν. I have collated the greater portion of the De Fals. Leg., and can pronounce the MS to be of a high character, very carefully and accurately written; occasionally, chiefly in the earlier orations, with marginal scholia, and frequently with varieties of readings recorded also in the margin by the usual formula γρ. so-and-so. I have found so many varieties, notably in the inverted order of words, not recorded by Bekker, that I cannot doubt the MS would well repay a complete collation. It seems to have been well thumbed in ancient times; but I believe that, for editorial purposes, it has never yet been critically used.

“It seemed to me, at first glance, probable that leaves had been lost at an early period from different parts of the Orations, and supplied by later hands, as occasion presented itself. This, of course, would make it likely that the readings did not always follow one family or class of MSS; and the difference in the paper-marks, or water-marks—of which I have made out twelve, and I think there are still more—points to different periods as well as the marked and frequent changes in the handwriting. On the other hand, there are reasons to think that the work was rather slowly carried on, and by a succession and interchange of transcribers, or if chiefly by the same, then at intervals sufficient to account for considerable variations in the style of writing.

“The text of Demosthenes begins on p. 124, with the first Olynthiac. From p. 59 preceding we have the introductions of Ulpian and the arguments and catalogue of the extant speeches by Libanius. This portion, up to p. 118, is all in one hand (No. 1), very small, neat, and closely contracted, and written in a brown ink, apparently at the close of Sæc. XIV. The paper-mark in all these pages is the same. At p. 119 is Libanius' Preface to the Orations, and this, with the handwriting of the Olynthiacs (nearly to the end of the second), is the same as far as p. 139 (2), where a leaf is interposed by another hand (3), and again another begins at p. 141 (4), and there are alternations of these three styles (all of which are of Sæc. XIV, though very distinguishable), the third predominating, as far as p. 367, where apparently a fourth hand commences (though not certainly different from the first) and continues for five pages; then No. 3 resumes the work, and continues to p. 423, or περὶ Στεφ. p. 283. Here, up to p. 434, we have a new and very inferior hand (No. 5), which at first sight I was disposed to regard as somewhat later, but p. 434 is written by two hands, the latter half in this, the former half in No. 3; and therefore both are, probably, at least nearly coeval. This inferior hand continues as far as p. 494, or De Fals. Leg. p. 356, getting more and more slovenly and irregular, when No. 3 continues for five pages, and then again No. 5 commences and on the back of the same page (viz. 500) with No. 3; and is therefore contemporaneous. From p. 495 to 499 No. 3 takes up the work. From p. 500 to 504 we again have No. 5. Again at p. 505 No. 3 recommences, again taken up by No. 5 at 511 to p. 519, when another one, viz. the hand that wrote the Olynthiacs, commences again and goes on to p. 568. I think we have here even a 6th hand, though it is not unlike No. 3 as far as 587, when again a lighter ink and finer handwriting begins, though I think it is by the same hand as the last. Then at p. 590, where the Leptines begins, we have yet another hand, the same as that which wrote Libanius in the first part of the MS, and in the same light-coloured ink. There follows (p. 628) a short treatise on ῥητορικῇ by the same hand, and at p. 631 is a Πασχάλιον or Easter table, full of symbols and years of indiction, very difficult to make out, but probably tending to throw a light on the exact age of the MS. At p. 461 to the end is some ecclesiastical treatise which I cannot identify, and have not had time to decipher, the writing being extremely difficult, especially as the last few pages are very tattered and damaged by damp. As far as I can judge however, the MS is entire except the loss of one page at the beginning."

Mr Paley proceeds to give specimens of the readings of this MS in the De Falsa Legatione, and adds, "I think I have given sufficient evidence that this really is a MS of very considerable interest, not to say importance."

ORIENTAL MSS.

230. LIBER PRECATIONUM HEBRAÏCE.

Paper and vellum, 4 × 5, ff. 199, 20 lines to a page. In quires of 12 leaves mostly, of which 1, 6, 7, 12 are vellum, the rest paper. Cent. xv, xvi (written in Italy).

Bequeathed in 1873 by the Rev. R. E. Kerrich, M.A., Christ's College.

Contents :

Services for the New Year and the Day of Atonement according to the Roman use, being the second volume of a Machazor.

[Searle 153.]

231. THE KORAN.

Paper, $10\frac{1}{8} \times 6$, ff. 908, in two volumes; cent. xviii(?).

Given in 1840 by Col. Richard Burney, M.A., Christ's College.

It has an interlinear translation in Persian, and a few Persian notes. The first two pages of each volume are very beautifully illuminated, and the next two have borders of gold flowers without background. All this work is of the most delicate kind.

[Searle 146.]

232. DIVANI KEMAL-UD-DIN ISFAHANI.

Paper, $5\frac{1}{4} \times 9$, ff. 172 + 62, on red and green paper. Cent. xiii(?)

Presented in 1826 by the Rev. John Orman, M.A., Trinity College, Chaplain to the Cambridge Union. In black leather binding with flap.

The contents are poems by Kemal-ud-Din Ismail of Ispahan (cent. xiii).

It is mutilated at both ends.

[Searle 147.]

233. AMULET.

Paper roll, 11 ft. 6×3 in., in a cylindrical silver box, made in England.

Presented in 1861 by Miss J. C. Burney, sister of Col. Richard Burney.

Contains the whole Koran, arranged in the form of the aiyat al kursi (Koran ii. v. 256).

[Searle 148.]

234. AMULET.

Paper roll, 14 ft. $9 \times 2\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Presented in 1849 by the Rev. Dr Harvey Goodwin, Gonville and Caius College, late Bishop of Carlisle.

Contains prayers and passages from the Koran, arranged in the form of the asma c husna or holy names of God.

[Searle 149.]

235. SANSKRIT MS.

Paper, $5\frac{1}{4} \times 3\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 190, in quires of 10 leaves. Binding, yellow silk, with flap.

Purchased in 1891.

The following account has been kindly furnished by Professor Cowell.

A MS copied in Nāgarī characters by Rāmpandit of Kashmir, in Saṃvat 1860 = A.D. 1803. It contains several episodes of the Śānti-parvan (bk. xii.) and the Bhīshma-parvan (bk. vi.) of the Mahābhārata.

a. The Bhagavad-gītā, or dialogue between the hero Arjuna and his charioteer (who is the incarnate god Kṛishṇa) on the higher Pantheism. They discourse just before the battle begins. This is the treatise which Dr Lorinser has attempted to explain as a reflex of St John's Gospel. It is translated in vol. viii. of the 'Sacred Books of the East' (it fills 18 ch. of the Bhīshma-parvan), ff. 1—108.

b. The Stavarāja of Bhīshma or his 'prince of hymns,' addressed to Kṛishṇa. It is taken from the Śānti-parvan (bk. xii.) of the Mahābhārata, ff. 1—41.

c. Prayers and Praises addressed to Kṛishṇa, the 'Anusmṛiti' from the Śānti-parvan, ff. 41—51.

d. Gajendra-mokshaṇa, or the legend of an elephant's liberation from the evils of transmigration through worshipping Kṛishṇa. It is an extract from the Śānti-parvan, ff. 52—74.

These are popular extracts used by the sects of Hindus especially devoted to the worship of Kṛishṇa.

There are several pictures in the MS not always easy to identify.

1. Fol. 1. Represents two Hindu warriors in chariots, each with two white horses and a charioteer meeting in the great battle of the Mahābhārata story.

2. Fol. 10. The goddess Śrī rising from the ocean? She has a ring, a fish, and two cornucopias, all three symbols of abundance.

3. Fol. 21. The goddess Śrī worshipped by the four-headed Brahma and the monkeys. She sits on a lotus.

4. Fol. 27. The god Viṣṇu as the boar avatār kills the demon Hiranyāksha and lifts up the earth with his tusks out of the waters. He has four arms.

5. Fol. 33. This represents two female figures standing and worshipping the four-armed goddess Lakshmi or Śrī, Viṣṇu's wife. She has a demon prostrate under her. I think she has two cornucopias behind her.

6. Fol. 38. A man and a woman worshipping Kṛishṇa and his wife, who are seated in a summer house.

7. Fol. 45. The god appearing to a female worshipper, "wielding all weapons in his countless hands."

8. Fol. 49. Rāma (an avatār of Viṣṇu) killing the ten-headed Ravana, the king of Ceylon, and rescuing his wife Sitā.

9. Fol. 54. Perhaps the birth of Kṛiṣṇa.
10. Fol. 59. Viṣṇu with his blue colour and four arms, worshipped by two women.
11. Fol. 65. Kṛiṣṇa in his yellow dress preparing to attack some demon king.
12. Fol. 75. Some princess (? the goddess Lakṣmī with her two cornucopias) leading a war-horse.
13. Fol. 78. The cows in the pastures worshipping Kṛiṣṇa.
14. Fol. 1. This seems to be Viṣṇu's wife Lakṣmī lying on the great Serpent Śeṣha. Viṣṇu sleeps on this serpent during the four months of the rainy season.
15. Fol. 24. The old hero Bhīṣma lying wounded on his bed of arrows, where he uttered moral discourses for many days, preserved in the Mahābhārata. His two grand-nephews, Arjuna, and Bhīma with his favourite club, are watching over him.
16. Fol. 42. Śatānka asks the sage Śaunaka to repeat to him the prayers and praises formerly addressed by the divine sage Nārada to the god Viṣṇu. This forms the third treatise in the ms.
17. Fol. 51. The elephant is represented as worshipping Kṛiṣṇa. The latter is easily recognised by his blue body and yellow dress. The elephant has been seized by a crocodile while bathing in a lake and implores the god's help, who comes mounted on Garuḍa, the king of birds. Garuḍa is here idealised as a winged figure bearing a throne on his head, and waiting behind Kṛiṣṇa, who has alighted.

Some of the pictures, as 1, 15, 16, 17, are connected with the text, but others are only so far connected with it as illustrating the history of the god Viṣṇu or Kṛiṣṇa.

236. "THE KNIGHT OF THE BLAZING CROSS," AN AUTOGRAPH POEM IN IRREGULAR BLANK VERSE BY J. FLAXMAN.

Paper, 9 $\frac{3}{4}$ × 7, ff. 26 + 3 blank. Purchased at Christie's, Feb. 26, 1883.

1. Title. "The Knight of the Blazing Cross," underneath, a scutcheon and feathers and the date MDCXCVI. On this page is written at top on R. "Presented to my beloved nephew Thomas John Denman by his Aunt Maria Denman, March 4th 1857."

2. Dove with olive-branch.

3. Dedication "To Ann Flaxman," supported by two lovely angel figures; underneath, hands clasped inside a wreath, the following inscription:—

"The anniversary of your birth-day calls on me to be grateful for Fifteen Happy Years passed in Your Society: Accept the tribute of these Sketches, which were produced at Your desire; under the allegory of a Knight Errant's Adventures are indicated the trials of Virtue, the Struggles and Conquest of Vice preparatory to a happier state of existence; after the Hero is exalted to the Spiritual World and blessed with a Cælestial Union, he is then armed with the power of the Elements for the exercise of his ministry in the dispensations of Providence, he becomes the Associate of Faith, Hope and Charity, and his Universal Benevolence is employed in the Acts of Mercy.

October the second. I. F."

4. 3 designs. Knight and Squire setting out; proceed to explore enchanted castle.

5. 2 — Find castle haunted by and expel goblins.

6. 2 designs. Release prisoners from dungeon; ride away amid the thanks of the released.
7. 2 designs. Asleep beside their horses, summoned to rescue; pursue two armed ravishers, each carrying a woman.
8. 2 designs. Ravishers overthrown; rescued ladies become a temptation.
9. 2 — Knight falls down symbolic precipice; the gulf of sin; angels pitying him.
10. 1 design. Knight mocked by fiends, hovering above him.
11. 2 designs. Fiends disappear, Knight kneels before apparition of the Cross; angel leads him out of pit.
12. 2 designs. Knight and Squire assailed by goblins of Fear; flee before goblins of Envy.
13. 2 designs. Knight and Squire asleep, comforted by angels; encounter death and are not afraid.
14. 1 design. Knight stands on a cliff gazing at Cross, Behemoth and legion gnash below.
15. 2 designs. Knight accompanied by beneficent powers in female form; dismounts and walks behind.
16. 1 design. Knight welcomed by celestials.
17. 1 — A similar picture.
18. 2 designs. Knight has power over storms and tempests; flies through air, slays ravening lion.
19. 2 designs. Knight monarch of the mountains; entertained by Faith, Hope and Charity.
20. 2 designs. The winds obey him; fire obedient to his voice.
21. 1 design. Knight has authority over the Naiads.
22. 2 designs. Knight defends a mother from dragon; appals the powers of darkness.
23. 2 designs. Instruct the ignorant; feed the hungry.
24. 2 — Clothe the naked; comfort the afflicted.
25. 2 — Go to the house of mourning; open the prisons.
26. 1 design. A star.

Fastened in front of this book is the following autograph letter:

"Sir Walter Scott returns kindest thanks to Miss Flaxman. He is a very indifferent judge of the fine arts, but will be happy to avail himself of an opportunity to see the chef d'œuvre of the late Mr Flaxman, providing his prolonged stay in London gives him an opportunity to profit by Miss Flaxman's goodness.

"6 May.

"24 Sussex Place."

237. NOVUM TESTAMENTUM.

Vellum, $7 \times 4\frac{5}{8}$, ff. 383, 23 lines to a page. Cent. xii. Italian. Purchased in 1893. Has suffered from damp: in a modern binding.

Contents :

Jerome's Prologue to Damasus	f. i
Prephatio	iii
Capitula to the Gospels	v b
Canons, under ornamental arches	x b
ff. xvi, xvii are blank.
Euangelia	i r
Actus	xiv 8
Epistolae Canonicae	xviii 6
Apocalipsis	xxi 7
Epistolae Pauli	xxiii 6
Rom. Cor. Gal.—Col. Thess. Tim. Tit. Philem. Hebr.

Collation: a¹² b⁶ (5 cancelled) || i⁸ ii⁸ iii¹²—xiii¹² xiv¹⁴ (+ 8*) xv¹²—xix¹² (1 replaced by blank leaf: xx omitted in numbering) xxi¹² (3, 4 replaced by blanks) xxii¹²—xxiv¹² (1 replaced by blank) xxv¹²—xxviii¹² (3, 10 replaced by blanks) xxix¹²—xxxii¹² (4 replaced by blank) xxxii¹² (12 blank, gone).

The lost leaves are the beginning of 1 Peter, 2, 3 John, beginning of Romans, Gal., Eph., Titus.

The book is a very interesting example of Italian ornament and writing: the best pages are those which contain the Canons, under arches supported by columns: the colours employed here are red, blue and yellow. The large initials have white, red, blue, yellow and green; they are of interlaced work, sometimes containing dragons, and the stalks of the letters are panelled. Acts has the heading Incipit Actuum Apostolorum; and at the end, the only stichometric note in the book, EXPLICIT LIBER ACTVVM APOSTOLORVM HABET VERS̄ .IIIDC.

238. PSALTERIUM CUM CANTICIS.

Vellum, 8½ × 6, ff. 137, 19 lines to a page. Cent. xiii (early). Binding, white skin over wooden boards, wormed: strap and pin fastening gone. Purchased in 1894 at Sotheby's, at the Howell Wills sale.

Collation: a⁸—e⁸ f⁸ (wants 5) g⁸—i⁸ k⁸ (wants 1) l⁸ m⁸ n⁸ (2 canc.) o⁸—r⁸ s⁸ (wants 1, 6, 7, 8).

The book is German, fairly well written, and with interesting initials to the main divisions of the Psalter.

1. Beatus uir. Full page B, blue, red and pink on gold on green, in light coloured frame.
2. Dominus illuminatio. Small initial in coarse gold.
3. Dixi custodiam. Almost half page, with dragon.
4. Quid gloriaris. Three-quarter page, mostly red on green, with dragon.
5. Dixit insipiens. Half page, red and blue on gold on green on red.
6. Saluum me fac. Almost full page. Large dragon, light brown on gold on red.
7. Exultate. Half page, red on gold on blue.
8. Cantate. A very similar design, yellow on gold on green on red.
9. Domine exaudi. Full page : a good design. The letter is mostly light brown, with red, blue and green ornaments, on gold on green on red.
10. Dixit Dominus. Half page : blue on gold on red.
11. Cantica. Confitebor. A small letter, very like 7, 8.
12. Matins of the Virgin. Half page initial, green and red on gold on blue. The smaller initials are for the most part gold or blue. The gold is throughout poor in quality.

The contents of the book are

1. Table to find Easter, cent. xv	f. 1 a
2. Psalter, Cantica and Litany	1 b
3. Hours of the Virgin (one leaf only)	137

The Litany has lost a leaf which contained the invocations of Martyrs and Confessors ; but some of the Virgin Saints remain : Margaret, Ottilia, Elizabeth, Brigida, Barbara, Petronilla, Eulalia, Verena, Elena, Mary of Egypt.

Ottilia and Verena point to Germany as the birthplace of the MS.

239. PSALTERIUM CUM CANTICIS.

Vellum, $6\frac{1}{8} \times 5$, ff. 166 + 35, 16 lines to a page. Cent. xiii (late). Binding of cent. xvii, with two clasps. Purchased in 1894 at the Howell Wills sale, at Sotheby's.

Collation : 15 leaves of paper || a² b³—x⁸ y² z² || + 20 ff. of paper.

Contents :

Antiphons and hymns de Tempore and de Sanctis, including one for S. Bernard. Cent. xvii, xviii : on paper	f. i
Two leaves with paintings	1
Psalter, Cantica, Credo, Quicumque vult	3
Two leaves with paintings	165
Antiphons and hymns, with music, on paper, including those for S. Bernard and S. Stephen, abbot. Cent. xvii, xviii	xvi

S. Stephen is probably the Abbot of Citeaux, 1134.

The book is of German origin, the hand pointed and fairly good, the pictures and ornaments coarse but not ineffective. The prevailing colours are red, blue, green and silver.

Quires r and s are palimpsest.

The four pictured leaves ought to form one gathering of four leaves, z being placed inside a. They will be described in their proper order. Each is enclosed in a red frame.

1. Annunciation. Two figures, standing, the angel on L.: the dove flies down to the Virgin's head. Silver ground on green: a lily rudely sketched in white between the figures.

2. Nativity. The Virgin reclines on a mattress across the front. Joseph in pointed hat, with stick, white hair and beard, sits at her feet. The manger behind, supported on three tiers of three round-headed arches: the child in it. Heads of ass (L.) and ox above: the star between them. Ground, silver and green, as throughout.

3. Adoration of the Magi. Two stand, one kneels: one of the standing ones holds a casket and points to the star: the kneeling one holds a globular vessel. On R. the Child in green stands on the Virgin's knee, who is crowned and throned: her footstool has four arched openings.

4. The Scourgings. Christ full face with blue loin-cloth, and covered with wounds, stands bound to a slender red pillar. A scourger on either side: the one on R. holds birch and whip.

5. Crucifixion. Christ on a green cross, nailed with three nails. The Virgin on L., S. John on R. with book.

6. Resurrection. In front, two soldiers in mail, one with shield and helmet, both in surcoats, recline: three lances upright behind them, the third being on the further side of the tomb. Christ, fully clothed, holding red banner and blessing, steps out of the tomb. The lid of the tomb is laid cross-wise.

7. Ascension. In front, the mountain, brown, with the two foot-marks on it. On L. the Virgin, on R. S. John. Nine apostles in two rows behind, all full face. Above, the feet and drapery of Christ ascending into a blue and white cloud.

8. Christ in glory. He is seated blessing, with book; on a rainbow in a mandorla; another rainbow beneath his feet. In the spandrels are the heads of the four Evangelistic creatures, with blue nimbi.

The following Psalms have large initials:

Beatus uir.

Dominus illuminatio, with a figure in red.

Dixi custodiam.

Quid gloriaris, with dragon.

Dixit insipiens.

Saluum me fac.

Exultate.

Cantate.

Domine exaudi.

Dixit Dominus.

II.

On the Atlas by Baptista Agnese (no. 181), Mr H. Y. Oldham, University Lecturer in Geography, has very kindly communicated to me the following additional particulars:—

‘There are in the British Museum two atlases by Baptista Agnese, dated 1536 and 1564 respectively. These are the earliest and latest maps by him which exist anywhere, as it seems, though there are many whose dates lie between the two years in various continental libraries. Of these, one of the finest (now at Venice) has been reproduced in photographic facsimile by M. Fischer. It is dated 1554.

The Fitzwilliam atlas shews an advance on the geographical knowledge displayed by the atlas of 1536, and is not marked by the deterioration in skill of execution which is noticeable in that of 1564. It is, in fact, almost identical with that of 1554 in regard of its execution and the knowledge it displays. The atlas of 1554 has, like the Fitzwilliam specimen, a number of kings represented on the maps of Europe. This is not a common feature in Agnese’s maps.

In Mr Searle’s catalogue an attempt has been made to determine the date of the atlas by these kings. As I felt this method was liable to error (for the figures might have been inserted after the maps were made), I examined the 1554 maps carefully, and found “Philippus rex Hispaniæ rex Angliæ.” Now, though Philip became King of England in 1554, he did not succeed to the Spanish throne till 1556. Another more pertinent inscription is “Ferdinandus Rex Romanorum.” This title became in the 16th century that of the Emperor-designate, during the reigning Emperor’s lifetime. Now Ferdinand became Emperor-designate on Charles V.’s abdication in 1556, and Emperor-elect in 1558. I should say therefore in this case that though the map is dated 1554, some at least of the kings were inserted between 1556 and 1558.

As regards the Fitzwilliam map “Phylipus rex Ispaniæ” would shew it to be possibly later than 1556, and, as there is not the addition "rex Angliæ," possibly later than 1558, in which year Elizabeth ascended the throne. The absence of "Ferdinandus rex Romanorum" would also point to its being later than 1558, the year in which he became Emperor, but, as I have pointed out, these royal figures may have been later additions.

More certain evidence is to be found in Suleyman's name as "imperator turcarum."

As his reign ended in 1566, it must be earlier than that date.

In the catalogue 1567 is suggested, apparently because there is a "Rex Scotiæ," and James' reign began in that year.

When I first saw this it struck me that the Italian cartographer would not be much troubled as to whether so small and out of the way a country as Scotland had a king or queen, and I found that the 1554 map, which is certainly earlier than 1558, as shewn above, had a "Rex Scotiæ," though Mary Stuart reigned from 1542—1567. The error might have arisen from Mary being the wife of Francis II. of France from 1558—1560.

Briefly therefore the case lies thus; in point of geographical knowledge your map agrees with the 1554 map; in point of execution it does not shew the falling off in that of 1564.

Quâ kings, it must be earlier than 1566 and is probably later than 1558. I think therefore c. A.D. 1560 would be a fair description.

The arms are those of the family of Peretti of Montalto, whose most distinguished member was Pope Sixtus V., by whom, according to Litta, they were invented. He was elected Pope in 1585, but this has no particular bearing on the date of the maps.'

ADDENDUM.

The strange legend of the birth of S. Anne, which occurs in MS no. 20, where I have given an analysis of it, is apparently very rare. Dom Morin of the Abbey of Maredsous, the well-known scholar, and discoverer of the Latin Version of Clement's Epistle to the Corinthians, has most kindly put me in the way of finding out what has been already written on the subject. Leroux de Lincy in his Livre des Légendes (Paris, 1836, pp. 24—29) gives an analysis, with extracts, which he also communicated to the authors of the Histoire littéraire de la France (tom. xviii.), pp. 833—837.

From these sources we gather that the MS he used was of cent. xiii, and came from the "ancienne bibliothèque de Cluny." It contained:

1. Image du monde, by Osmont.
2. Chronique, from the Creation to 1279.
3. Les questions, a moral poem.
4. Le livre des preuves, prognostics in a metrical form.
5. The Bible en vers of Herman the priest, in which the legend of S. Anne is intercalated. It is in octosyllabic lines, while the rest of the poem is in Alexandrines. It has a separate title, De Notre-Dame Sainte Marie, and begins

Se vos volez que je vos die
 De Dieu et de Sainte Marie
 Or faites pais...

Apparently it only goes down as far as the Massacre of the Innocents.

Hence it would appear that the Fitzwilliam MS is a more complete copy of the poem, and would be worth editing on all accounts. In 1836 there was no MS of the poem in the Bibliothèque Nationale.

A misprint has survived on p. 36, l. 14 from the bottom: for .xiii^o read xxiii^o. The date of MS 20 is 1323.

INDICES.

I. INDEX OF HISTORICAL SCENES.

This Index includes all historical and legendary scenes and personages, Biblical and otherwise, but does not include Saints.

II. INDEX OF OBJECTS.

This Index includes representations of birds, beasts, ecclesiastical and domestic furniture, arms, and the like.

III. INDEX OF SAINTS.

All pictures of Saints, and invocations or other mentions of noteworthy Saints, are included in this Index.

IV. INDEX OF NAMES AND PLACES.

Names of places, of owners and scribes of MSS., and of persons mentioned, not being authors, are in this Index.

V. INDEX OF LITERARY CONTENTS.

Including names of authors and treatises.

NOTICE.

The numbers in blacker type are those of the MSS. : those in smaller type refer to the pictures in the MSS. Thus the entry, 39 29, 57, means that a certain subject is found in the 29th and 57th miniatures of MS. no. 39.

A simple reference in black type (e.g. 52) usually means that the subject is mentioned in the account of MS. 52, not in the list of its miniatures.

References to particular pages of a MS. are made thus : 48 f. 3.
