1. Capt. Delbert W. Smith, 01297440, Hq. Kyushu Military Government Region, APO 24-5, has discussed quite thoroughly, with me, the domestic problems related to his request for release from active duty. Though there seems to be no physical or financial problems involved there is a situation that a long period of seperation from his family may prove very harmful to Capt. DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. [illegible]

NAGASAKI MILITARY GOVERNMENT TEAM - Like the legendry pheonix, Nagasaki has risen from the ashes of war to assume again an important position in the economy of post war Japan. Blasted by the atomic bomb, Nagasaki was a shambles, and the economic and cultural life of the people were in a state of utter disruption. It was due to the magnificant effort of Lt Col Victor E. Delnore, 34 Almont Ave, Worcester, Mass., that the Japanese in this Prefecture were able to pick up the threads of their former life again.

When Lt Col Delnore assumed command of the Nagasaki Mil Govt Team two and a half years ago, he found that the Japanese were too stunned by the sudden termination of the devastating war to do anything beyond ekeing out a bare existance.

Their industries were almost at a standstill and their cultural aspirations, were in the doldrums. Their public health services were in a slip-shod state of affairs and public utilities were almost non-existent.

Government officials were not really interested in their jobs and everything was allowed to drift without any strong guiding policy which could put Nagasaki on the map again.

Col Delnore, who had fought through the French and German campaigns following D-Day in Europe, soon effected order out of chaos. With a soldier's thoroughness, he carried out his assignment as Military Governor of this prefecture so well that few can hope to equal his achievement. The people of Nagasaki are genuinely grateful for he has been their friend and always has had their interests at heart.

In his efforts to get the prefecture on its feet again, he began first by orientating his subordinate officers in the importance guiding the Japanese officials in their efforts to get their plans for recovery working smoothly. Periodic conferences with the highest Japanese officials ensured that programs initiated were carried out according to plan.

He never used coercion in his methods. A keen student of practical psychology he worked on the theory that compulsion achieved nothing. Rather, he assumed the role of an advisor, suggesting ways and means of overcoming stumbling blocks which hampered projects.

Governor Sugiyama of Nagasaki prefecture with whom he has worked in close liaison has a great admiration for Col Delnore. He has no end praises for this officer who unstintingly gave all his time and energy towards the well-being of the people of the prefecture.

One of the many tributes which have been paid to Col Delnore was made by Governor Sugiyama who in a message recently stated, "Nearly three years have passed since he (Col Delnore) arrived here as the Commanding Officer of the Nagasaki Military Government Team and during that period his guidance and achievements were great in democratizing the 1,600,000 feudalistic minded people of Nagasaki prefecture by working with governmental offices and schools, reorienting and developint labor unions and democratic organizations such as youth and women's organizations, in introducing the new and modern way of living to the people, and in stabilizing industry and economics."

Col Delnore was deeply concerned about whether the Japanese were getting enought to eat and this interest has elicited gratification from all the people. Mr. N. Okamoto, chairman of the prefectural assembly, summarized the gratitude of the people saying, "The

Commanding Officer has been especially concerned with increasing the production of foodstuffs and introducing relief foods to this prefecture.

"He has shown kind leadership in the affairs concerning all the prefectural administrations. At the time when the food situation in theprefecture was felt most acutely by early in the occupation, the Commanding Officer immediately implemented plans to remedy the situation. His consideration is still fresh on our minds."

But perhaps the sincere admiration of the average Japanese is succinctly and most aptly expressed by Mr. M. Yoshioka who says, "With Col Delnore as Military Governor here, I've always felt at ease."

There are many reasons why the Japanese have had this confidence in him. It is because he's done everything with the aim of speeding complete rehabilitation. And he accomplished this by seeing that the Japanese would help themselves to reconstruct their nativeland. For instance, at the end of the war much property was seized because it belonged to the war machine or else could be used by them. But when Col Delnore saw that this property could better be utilized by the Japanese instead of lying idle, he released more buildings and lands faster than the rest of the occupied areas in Japan had done. Consequently the Japanese were able to immediately use lands for agriculture and buildings for homes, institutions and small manufactories to hasten recovery.

Today, Col Delnore's name is a household word known far and wide throughout the prefecture. In mansions and in humble hutments along the heavily indented coasts of the prefecture, the name of

"DERUNO" (the Japanese nipponicize the English) is mentioned with respect for they all know that here was a man who understood their problems and was Making a genuine effort to solve their postbellum problems. And these problems were many.

In his leaving Nagasaki for reassignment in the States, the people of Nagasaki have lost a true friend for Lt Col Victor E. Delnore has won innumerable friends among the highest and the lowest of the varied population of Nagasaki.

Perhaps the greatest tribute to Col Delnore's achievement in this part of Japan which suffered the ravages of the Atomic bomb is the fact that Nagasaki prefecture can today boast that it is contributing mightily toward the reconstruction of Japan through her economic as well as her cultural efforts.

Before he left Nagasaki on the Morning of April 2, the citizens of Nagasaki through their Mayor extended to Col Delnore the freedom of the City and made his daughter, Patricia Ann an honorary citizen. The Road where he lived was Named after him. It is now known as Delnore Road and is part of a main highway.

Col Delnore was given the key to the city and his picture was given a place of honor in the Nagasaki Chamber of Commerce and Industry. A plaque in his honor was also placed in the Nagasaki Assembly Building, so that future legislators may be reminded of the man who helped to get Nagasaki on its feet again.

Testimonials extolling the ability of Col Delnore were given him by officials of the Prefectural Government as well as prominent industrialists who have had an opportunity to work with him.

Crowds of admirers were at the station to see him off to Yokohama from where he will leave on May 2 for the United States for reassignment.

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 770015

Col Delnore has been on active duty since 1940. After assignment to the Second and 13th Armored Divisions, he was given command of the 46th Tank Bn. After a training period in the States, he took the 46th to Europe where the battalion saw service through the Rhineland and Bavarian campaigns. He has been Commanding Officer of the Nagasaki Military Government Team since September 23, 1946.

Control branch for officers of the aforementioned sections will mainly consist of:

(a). The arm or service into which detailed by Department of the Army at time of appointment or recall of officer to active duty status, or

(b). In the case of those officers of the aforementioned sections who were in an active duty status prior to or on the date of publication of Circular 244, War Department, 1947, the control branch will be determined as the arm or service into which detailed in accordance with provisions of previously mentioned War Department Circular and as outlined on the individual's Officer Qualification Record (DA AGO Form 66).

3. In no case will the control branch of an officer be recorded as the detail made by authority of the Commander-in-Chief, Far East. SUBJECT: Re Lieutenant-Colonel Victor E. Delnore.

TO : General Headquarters, Supreme Commander for Allied Powers.

THROUGH: Diplomatic Section.

1. The Chinese Mission in Japan has received a report submitted by its Consular Affairs Branch Office in Nagasaki as follows:-

"A. In the past year and half this office has been receiving valuable co-operation from the Nagasaki Military Government Team. Its commanding officer, Lieutenant-Colonel Victor E. "B. Furthermore, Lieutenant-Colonel Delnore and members of his Team have contributed much to the improvement of relations between Chinese residents and the natives, thus bringing about better understanding and closer co-operation between the two peoples.

"C. As Lieutenant-Colonel Delnore is departing for the United States for his reassignment, this office begs to submit this report to the Mission."

SUBJECT: Extension of Tour of Temporary Duty

THRU : CHANNELS

TO : COMMANDING GENERAL, 24th Division Artillery,
APO 24 Unit 4

1. I am presently on temporary duty to Saga Military Government Team at Saga, Kyushu, Japan, for a period of ninety days effective 15 January 1949. I request an extension of this duty until such time as my foreign service tour is completed. The reasons for this extension are as follows:

a. I am well satisfied with all conditions relating to assignment at this station. I am familiar with the duties I am performing and feel that I would be of more value to the service by remaining here rather than leave and train another officer in these duties.

b. My estimated date of departure from the Far East Command is 7 July 1949, which is little more than four months from this date. Upon completion of the present tour of TDY on or about 15 April 1949, I will have little more than two months to serve in the theater.

c. I am settled in adequate quarters with my family and if the move back to the 24th Division Artillery were to be made, it would be necessary for me to move my household goods and then after a short period, again pack them for return to the ZI. I am not assigned quarters in the 24th Division Artillery area and considering the time to be spent on duty there it does not appear justified to accept quarters and thus delay some other family from being settled. However, it would be necessary for me to obtain suitable quarters for my wife and three month old son.

d. If the request is approved, it would be possible to have my personal effects and household goods shipped from this Artillery. This would relieve the strain of making another move from my family.
