

BUSINESS POINTERS

BUSINESS POINTERS BY CONTRIBUTOR—FIGURING STOCK TURN-OVERS

"Business is a tank of profits and capital is a myriad of sponges. The sponges should be constantly put into the tank, one at a time, then taken out and squeezed dry."

A shoe dealer bought ten pairs of shoes at $2 a pair, and sold them at $3 a pair, costing him $20 and selling for $30. He turned his capital once, at 33 1-3 per cent gross profit on the selling price.

An implement dealer bought a wheelbarrow at $2 and sold it for $3. Then he bought and sold another and another and another until he had sold ten, costing him $20 and selling for $30.

He turned his capital ten times at 33 1-3 per cent on the selling price at each turn.

One merchant makes 33 1-3 per cent on his investment. The other makes 333 1-3 per cent, gross. The difference is that one man invests $20 once. The other man invests $2 ten times. Both do a gross business of $30.

If both had $20 at the start, the implement dealer could have invested his other $18 in a dozen different items. By the time the shoe dealer had sold his whole ten pairs of shoes the implement dealer would have sold ten each of the other twelve items.

Capital is turned once when it is invested in stock and all the stock is sold.

In practice, this becomes very complicated, because a part of the capital invested is released almost immediately and put back into additional stock.

This has the apparent effect, on the books, of increasing the investment. The purchase records show stock purchases very much in excess of the capital invested. Sales records show, however, that this stock has been sold.

A dry goods man doing $100,000 business a year on a $10,000 investment, for instance, probably puts $60,000 to $70,000 into stock—that is, he re-invests his $10,000 capital from six to seven times.

Knowing the amount of money originally invested the average amount of stock on hand and the total amount of the purchase, the retailer can arrive at the number of times he has turned his capital without reference to the gross amount of business. Whether he has turned it at a profit each time is another matter.

We have purchased $30,000 worth of goods. Our stock averaged $5,000 and our original investment was $5000.

We have re-invested our money six times. We still have the same amount of stock we had in the beginning. So we have invested our capital six times.

The hardware man who has $10,000 worth of stock when he takes his inventory needs to know the amount of the purchase and the average stock on hand to arrive at the number of turn-overs.

When he tries to figure the number of turn-overs on the gross business, he must allow for the profit on each turn of his capital before he can know the number of turn-overs. He is working without a starting point.

If he knew the amount of purchases and the average amount of stock on hand, it would be an easy matter to see that he has re-invested the amount represented by his stock a certain number of times.

Suppose you had a gross business of $10, had stock on hand worth $1, and knew that you averaged $1 worth of stock during any given period, how many times would you have turned the stock investment of $1?

Most retailers would jump to the conclusion that you had turned it ten times.

Now, let's see. Suppose you made 50 per cent gross profit (based on selling price) at each turn-over. Fifty per cent of $10 is $5, so your total stock investment represented in the $10 gross business was only $5.

You turn your capital once when you sell all the goods you have purchased, regardless of the price at which the goods are sold.

The countries now involved in the great continental struggle are: Germany, France, England, Russia, Austria, Serbia, Belgium, Montenegro and Japan, with a total fighting force of 20,000,000.

DAY OF PRAYER

The emperor of Germany today proclaimed this a universal day of prayer throughout Germany. The clergy was asked to invoke the divine blessing upon the imperial army.

Sir Edward Goschen, the British ambassador, was handed his passports and will leave at once. While the German embassy is closed, James W. Gerard, American ambassador, will act for the British interests while the war is on.

The official Lokal Anzeiger, in announcing that Germany had accepted the gauntlet thrown down by members of the triple entente—England, Russia and France—said editorially: "We begin today our final fight, which shall establish forever our great position in the world."

SHE TOLD THEM WHY

Antelope Valley Register-Gazette: Among the visitors in Lancaster early in the week was Mrs. Ella F. Meeker of Glendale. Mrs. Meeker has the distinction of being the first of her sex to ask the support of the people of this end of the county to help elect a woman to represent them in the legislature, and she gave so many reasons why she should be the representative that many were forced to capitulate.

Besides being a practical rancher, Mrs. Meeker is a prominent club woman and has always taken a deep interest in civic affairs, many of the improvements in Glendale being directly traced to her exertions.

While Mrs. Meeker cannot attend the big pow-wow of Republicans to be held in Lancaster Saturday, she proposes making a "follow-up" trip, when she may be expected to shoot holes through some of the arguments her opponents advance.

DECLARING WAR

The fact that men who declare war are not required to engage in the actual warfare tends to weaken the anxiety of brave men to take up arms and go to war. If the leaders of the European countries who are declaring war would be required to endure the actual hardships of war, probably terms of peace would be agreed upon.

LOCAL SHORT STORIES

READ THESE AND YOU'LL UNDERSTAND WHY GLENDALE GROWS

OFF FOR VISIT IN EAST

Mrs. R. H. Beveridge, little son and daughter, have gone east for a visit. Their time will be spent in Chicago, Wheaton and Youngstown, Ohio, returning in six or eight weeks.

ENLARGE SERVICE

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company has an estimate approved for the installation of three more sections of switchboard. This will provide facilities for three hundred additional individual telephones or six hundred two-party telephones.

3000 TONS OF APRICOTS

Three thousand tons of dried apricots, forming a new record for the Pomona dry yards, will be turned out by the big Waters cannery of that city this season, according to the figures given out. In addition, there will be in the neighborhood of 100,000 quarts of this same fruit canned.

NEGOTIATE LARGE DEAL

W. F. Deardurff of the local real estate firm of Deardurff, Eshom & Ward, who have offices at 409 Brand boulevard, returned Monday from San Francisco, where he closed up a deal on an $200-acre stock ranch in Tehama county. The purchasers will stock the same with a blooded herd and will run a high-class stock ranch. The local firm is to be congratulated on negotiating such a large deal in San Francisco.

TO GIVE PASTORAL PLAYS

Members of the Woman's Twentieth Century Club of Eagle Rock are preparing for unique entertainments when the Ellen Galpin players will give a series of pastoral plays at the home of Mrs. Loomis on Hill avenue on August 11, 12, 14 and 15. The plays to be given are Hans & Gretel and Mignon and Mignonette, and will be given out of doors. They promise to be distinctly unique and entertaining.

PULMOTOR SERVICE

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company maintains a pulmotor, a mechanical apparatus for automatically restoring respiration, invaluable for resuscitation from apparent death resulting from electric shock, drowning or suffocation, for the use of its employees and the public generally.

The pulmotor will be dispatched promptly, day or night, with an experienced attendant, upon request. Call pulmotor service.

OUTING AT MALIBU RANCH

A happy party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Oswald, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McKeever, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Cullen, all of Glendale, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Soule and Mr. and Mrs. Al Muff of Los Angeles, motored on Saturday afternoon to the Malibu ranch, where they camped near the water's edge. Bathing, fishing and campfire stories were indulged in. They returned Sunday evening tired, sunburned and happy, all agreeing it to have been the time of their lives.

CAMPAIGNING FOR HUSBAND

Mrs. Frank W. Blair, wife of the deputy district attorney, spoke at the Gardena Baptist church on Tuesday evening on a number of important issues to be voted on at the coming election. Mrs. Blair emphasized the necessity of every voter carefully scrutinizing the ballot and voting only for good men and measures. She said extreme care is necessary on account of the unusual length of the ballot.

Other measures discussed by Mrs. Blair included California "dry" and the 1915 red-light abatement act and the proposed new measure.

Mrs. Blair is secretary of the juvenile court committee of the Los Angeles Federation of Parent Teachers' associations and is an active church worker. She is a splendid campaigner for her husband, who is a candidate for judge of the superior court.

In the novels the husband strolls into the conservatory for a little smoke before dinner. In real life he strolls into the kitchen and raises blue blazes with the light of his life because dinner isn't ready.

Kerosene is a bad explosive if it goes up in price.

SALE OF SCHOOL BONDS

WAR SCARE CAUSE OF DELAY IN THE SELLING OF SCHOOL BONDS

Several months ago the Glendale school district voted to issue $87,000 of bonds with which to obtain money to erect school buildings and buy additional school ground. The day of the sale of the bonds was set for Monday of this week and there was only one buyer, and he wanted only $16,000, that being the amount voted to build a school in the northeastern part of Glendale. Work will likely be commenced on the new school building for that part of the district at once.

It is necessary to advertise the sale of the remaining $71,000, which will cause a delay of several weeks, even if buyers can be found. Bond dealers say the European war troubles are the cause of their not buying the bonds in the instance referred to above.

THAT ANNIVERSARY NUMBER

The anniversary number of the Glendale Evening News that will be published in the next few weeks will contain 64 pages, printed on book paper stock. The size of the pages will be six columns wide and twenty inches deep. There will be 5000 copies printed.

There has been an urgent demand for a special publication of this character and the optimistic citizens, organizations and business firms of Glendale and vicinity are supporting the enterprise in a judicious and liberal manner.

We are making arrangements that all extra copies will be mailed out to such persons as will be pleased to receive them. For reservation of space phone Sunset 132, Home 2401.

IS THERE TO BE ANOTHER BATTLE OF NATIONS?

A few days ago the newspapers carried what purported to be a copy of a prediction, made by the late Count Tolstoi in 1911, which in the light of this week's events in Europe takes on an interest that is more than ordinary. According to the story as related Kaiser Billy through one of his royal relatives requested from the pen of the great Russian philosopher an original article. Before granting the request, Tolstoi had gone into a semi-conscious state in which he saw visions and dreamed dreams, during which he dictated to the deliverer of the Kaiser's request a description of what he saw taking place between 1911 and 1914, and immediately thereafter.

The description tallies so closely with what has taken place in Europe between those two dates that additional interest, not to say dignity, has been given the part of it which is still unfulfilled. Still greater significance would be attached to it, no doubt, had the so-called prediction, or second sight vision been made public in 1911 or before any of the predictions had been fulfilled. Predictions that come to light after their fulfillment are rarely of more importance than some babbling old man's "I told you so."

But to the last chapter of the prediction, which is the part with which the public will take the more interest if it take any interest at all. Count Tolstoi said that growing out of those Balkan eruptions all Europe would be involved, and that out of the north was to come a man by whom the map of the entire continent would be changed. There were other predictions concerning republics, the "United States of Europe," mingled with other phrases more or less trite.

INFORMAL AFTERNOON FOR HOUSE GUEST

Miss Helen Meserve, who is visiting in Glendale from the North, was the complimented guest Tuesday afternoon at a thimble tea given by her hostess, Mrs. Purse Curtis, of 1424 Oak street.

The entire affair was very informal and wholly delightful, the early hours having been spent in needlework and supplanted by dainty buffet refreshments. Other than a few bright summer blossoms effectively arranged about the house, no extra preparation had been made.

Guests who enjoyed Mrs. Curtis' hospitality were the following members of the Triple K Club: Mrs. Goodman Phillips, Mrs. E. S. McKee, Mrs. Plummer Van Sant, Mrs. Geo. Purser, Mrs. John Lyons, Mrs. Andrew Wightman, Mrs. William Goodrich, Mrs. Buchanan and Miss Eva Daniels, all of whom, together with their husbands, will be entertained at cards and dancing Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Wm. Goodrich, 1430 West Colorado boulevard.

TROPICO NEWS NOTES

LAKE VISITORS HOME—SHORT SOCIETY AND PERSONAL ITEMS OF INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chandler and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weston, who motored with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Chandler to Elizabeth lake, where they were the over-Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Chandler, have returned home and report a most delightful trip. Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Chandler were former residents of Tropic, but at present are the proprietors of a large wayside inn, which proves to be a Mecca for many automobilists. Mr. Chandler is quite fortunate in having a fine stream of water flowing through his grounds, which eventually flows into Bouquet canyon. Mr. Chandler is contemplating building a large cement swimming pool, which, when completed, will add to the many attractions of the Chandler hotel, as well as prove a luxury to the many wayfarers who stop at the Chandler caravansary.

The stork while making his rounds Tuesday morning very kindly left a dear little baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tiffany in Pasadena. Mrs. Tiffany will be best remembered by her maiden name, Miss Elsie Vance, daughter of Mrs. William Tiffany of Tropic. As Mrs. William Tiffany and Mrs. Richard Tiffany, mother and daughter, married brothers, Mrs. William Tiffany, with the birth of her grandson, also becomes its aunt by marriage. Mr. William Tiffany becomes the step grandfather of his own nephew.

Edward H. Weston, the Tropic photographer, who has long since become a noted artist in his line of work, was in attendance at the Photo-Pictorialist Society of Los Angeles Monday evening, the only organization of its kind on the Pacific coast. The membership of this society, of which Mr. Fleckenstein of Los Angeles is director, is limited to fifteen, each member being obliged to achieve something of especial credit before becoming identified with the society.

Mrs. Charles A. Barker, president of the Tropic Thursday Afternoon club, entertained the building committee of the club at her home on South Glendale avenue Tuesday afternoon. Several plans were submitted and each was thoroughly explained and discussed. The ladies are working untiringly to begin the erection of their new clubhouse.

Miss Margaret Meyers of Los Angeles is spending a few weeks as the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Ayres of Central avenue.

Arthur L. Fryer of Gardena avenue is enjoying a pleasure as well as a business trip at Ocean Park, where he is erecting a residence for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Findley.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffin Hughes of Santa Ana canyon are the house guests of Mr. Griffin's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Webster of Central avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Pollock will be the guests Thursday of Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Custer of Los Angeles on a motor trip to Venice.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Peters of Columbus street are entertaining as their guest their niece, Miss Mabel Kerston of Chicago.

Percy De Gaston of Glendale avenue is enjoying a pleasant visit at Venice.

YES! OR NO!

Are there any other two words in the English language that play as important a part in the drama of life? Fortunate, indeed, is he who has always been clear visioned enough to say "yes" to that which was right and "no" to that which was wrong. But what of the poor unfortunate ones whose visions were clouded and wills were weak? From the majority our courts hear the same worn excuse, "drink!" Now remember on the third of November every man and woman will have a chance to answer the important question of whether California shall be voted "dry." Here is a glorious chance for a big "y-e-s!" Here is a chance to help our great state to extend the protecting arm of its law between "old John Barleycorn" and the tempted ones! A chance towards delivering our boys from temptation! A chance to say that the broad, sun-kissed slopes of our great vineyards shall produce a product more beneficial to mankind than wine!

A NOTABLE GATHERING

LOCAL REBEKAHS ARE TO HOLD HOUSEWARMING AND RECEPTION

Carnation Rebekah lodge, No. 257, of Glendale, will hold a reception and housewarming in the new I. O. O. F. hall, corner Third and Isabel streets, tomorrow evening.

A number of grand officers will be present, including, probably, Grand Master A. J. Johnson of San Diego, W. P. Schlosser of Los Angeles, grand warden; Fannie M. Lacy of Santa Ana, president of the Rebekah assembly; Adele Stockwell of Los Angeles, vice-president; Ada Madison of Los Angeles, past president, and Gertrude Baldwin of Los Angeles, inside guardian.

Representatives from several of the city lodges will be present. A good program will be rendered, consisting of an address of welcome by the mayor of Glendale, music, readings and speeches by grand officers, after which a grand march to the banquet room, where refreshments will be served.

All Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and those interested in the order are cordially invited to attend.

ONE O'CLOCK LUNCHEON

Mrs. Harriett M. Dow of 141 Orange street was surrounded by a number of very old and dear friends in her home Tuesday, when in compliance to her sister and house guest, Mrs. M. F. Lockett, who is visiting here from Pekin, Ills., she entertained with a prettily appointed luncheon at high noon.

Everything was carried out in a color scheme of crimson and gold, with just enough greenery to furnish a pleasing contrast. A shower of carnations blazed from a fern-lined basket in the center of the table and the luncheon courses, together with individual menu and place cards, were done in tones of yellow and gold.

Those present who afterwards enjoyed a social afternoon were Mrs. Sobieski and daughter, Mrs. Gilhouse of Los Angeles, the former a girlhood friend of the honored guest; Mrs. Adamson, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Mary Remick, Miss Lockett, of Glendale, and Mrs. Paddock of Los Angeles, a girlhood friend of the hostess, who was charmingly assisted by Miss Jenny Cornwell of Glendale.

BURTON WANTS FAIR PLAY

J. W. M. Burton, superintendent of the Glendale and Montrose railway, appeared before the board of trustees Monday evening asking that the company he represents be given fair play in the traffic business. He stated that his company has been required to apply for a franchise, pay taxes and pay four per cent of their earnings to the city, all of which the company does with pleasure.

However, Mr. Burton thinks it is not fair to allow automobile hacks to carry passengers from Glendale to Montrose and the owners of these auto hacks not be required to pay taxes in Glendale or a license of any kind.

Mr. Burton asked that the city give the question fair consideration and place all common carriers on an equal basis. The question was referred to the city attorney, who will report later.

HOME FROM OUTING

The Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Field and daughter, Miss Bessie Field, of 239 South Kenwood street, are home again from Mt. Herman, where they enjoyed a wonderful two weeks' outing at one of the most popular and beautiful resorts in California.

Mt. Herman, which is ideally located about one and one-half miles from the big trees at Santa Cruz, covers a wilderness territory of over 400 acres, with over 200 private cottages besides the hotel and accommodations belonging to the association in charge. The grounds are entirely wired with electricity and are fitted up with every conceivable means of sport and recreation, including swimming and boating pools and plenty of glorious shade trees.

During their sojourn at this wonderful retreat, Rev. and Mrs. Field counted 1500 people there at one time, many of whom had come from the near vicinity for the day.

The weather, while cool, was decidedly pleasant and even though these delighted tourists love their Glendale home, Mt. Herman has found such a great big cozy corner in their hearts that they hope to go back soon.

The senate regards its twenty cents a mile allowance for traveling with almost as much veneration as if it were a thirty-year franchise.

FILLING THE PUPIL'S LEISURE

During the school year or during vacation time that pupil's interests are best cared for, we imagine, whose leisure hours are the object of some measure of reasoned thought.

Somewhere in between the discipline of the formal educational process and the aimless drifting of the loafer there is a via media of leisurely living which, while it rests, also inspires. So important is this borderland between work and play, toll and abandon, strict regimen and license, that some thinkers make it the real test of any person or institution that is being judged. What a man, a community or a nation does usually within the minutes, hours or days when neither the necessities of subsistence nor the calls of moral duty enforce action, is by some moralists rated as the surest index of personal, communal or national culture.

As educators are coming to take this point of view, they are showing a corresponding sense of obligation toward pupils during periods of the day that hitherto have been deemed not at all subject to school influence. In but few instances has the theory of education, as a process covering the waking hours of the child, been carried as far as it is in Gary, Ind. Special conditions favor that experiment, which is deservedly attracting much attention. But the number of cities and states where educational officials do take into account "the leisure hour pursuits" of school children is increasing. Music, photography, wireless telegraphy, skill in the manual and fine arts, oratory and dramatic readings, aptness in domestic science, skill in gardening, love of literature for literature's sake, are all coming to be recognized as only a few of many creditable ways that a school pupil may blend cultural avocation with practical vocation during hours of leisure, and this not only spontaneously or with parental approval, but also with direct supervision and sympathetic counsel of the schoolmaster. Indeed, sensible school officials are crediting this avocational achievement won without the school as worthy to put with the vocational record of the class-room and shop, and providing a basis for ranking and for promotion of pupils.

Here the high school is copying the state university in its more direct contact with the whole life of the pupil and its affiliations with home, recreation centers, and the daily pursuits of people. Boys and girls who, from the school, get aid for the avocational as well as the vocational phases of life, who are shown how to be leisurely in a rewarding way, who are given credit for what they like to do as well as for what they must do, will probably come along into the higher grades of education far better equipped to make those choices as to use of spare time which college or university students face. One explanation of the mounting attendance at summer schools and chautauquas and of the annual exodus to other lands is the coming on the scene of persons for whom the school stands as the kind guide to a wiser use of leisure as well as the stern preceptor in modes of earning a living and mastering systematized knowledge of the world. With a broad conception of education, both as to its scope and its duration, the new generation is to be at it steadily rather than intermittently.—Christian Science Monitor.

The Germans have crossed into France in two different places, according to French dispatches. Germany has declared war on Belgium and has attacked. German cruiser Breslau bombarded Bona, Algeria, a French naval coaling station, this morning.

Today's sailings of the Lusitania from New York under American government contract to carry mails, has been canceled. This is the first delay of mails to Europe. If La Lorraine of the French line sails tomorrow she will carry the Lusitania's mails.

Is it not a mistake to provide Swiss costumes for the hotel help in Glacier national park? Tourists go there to get a taste of the atmosphere of Montana. They know where to go when they want a taste of the atmosphere of Switzerland. Common sense first.

Regardless of what Colorado may do, it nevertheless remains likely that woman in the future is not going to be as far away from the United States senate as the United States senate has been from woman in the past.

It must be put down as wonderful in itself that Marconi's statement: "No ship ever called by wireless for help without getting an answer," stands up to this time without contradiction.

It seems queer that congress has never done anything about the weather when it has been in one of those fits for regulating things.

Like some other things, rain can be so common that it ceases to be properly esteemed. A million dollars is the valuation placed upon a rain that came to the Middle West a few days ago.

The United States is doing no better than private concerns even when it reduces the rate upon money orders payable abroad. It is not, in fact, doing as well. But it is doing better than heretofore.

NORTH GLENDALE

Rev. T. H. Wilkinson, pastor of the First M. E. church of Brawley, with Mrs. Wilkinson and children, are spending a month in their bungalow at 1637 Ruth street, having motored from Brawley to North Glendale by way of San Diego, going over the Petrograde, some twelve miles long, making the grades without any trouble, the machine being driven by their son, Mr. Eugene Wilkinson. The party stopped at San Diego several days, enjoying the delightful sea breezes, the temperature being when they left Imperial Junction 125 degrees in the shade. From San Diego they motored to Fullerton, where they were the guests of Mr. Wilkinson's brother, who has an extensive orange grove there, finally reaching North Glendale, where their neighbors and friends were delighted to greet them, the family having for the summers previous spent several weeks in this community.

Mrs. William Alston of Ruth street and her daughter, Mrs. George Vradenburgh of North Central avenue, with Mrs. Howard Alston, were guests at the initial musical recital given by Miss Josephine Large of Hull House, Chicago, director of music in the University for Girls, at the Woman's Club house, 940 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles. Prof. Calvin Brainerd Cady gave a talk upon education and music education, which was greatly appreciated. This musical is one of a series of eight that will be given during the season by Miss Large and will, of course, be greatly enjoyed by the music lovers who will be privileged to attend.

A merry party of North Glendale friends motored to Griffith park on Tuesday. A delicious picnic luncheon was enjoyed and a most delightful time was spent viewing the wild animals there and hiking to the various points of interest. Among those who had the pleasure of the occasion were Mrs. T. H. Wilkinson, Miss Wilkinson, Mrs. George Marsh, Messrs. George Marsh, Eugene Wilkinson, Ray Wilkinson, Robert Wilkinson, Baby Douglas Wilkinson, Frank and Jack Marsh.

Dr. Herbert C. King has leased his residence property on Ruth street to Mr. O. S. Sampson, who for the past five years has occupied one of the Walton houses on Melrose avenue. Mr. Sampson will move, with his family, the latter part of the week.

Several houses on Dryden street are being occupied by the employees of the county, who are working on the roads in North Glendale, and their families, the main camp being established on North Pacific avenue near the wash.

Mr. Ray Galvin of Viola street looks very uncomfortable these hot days, as he is going about with his face in bandages. It is understood he is suffering from a superficial abscess, very disagreeable, to say the least.

Mrs. Charles Tyrrell of Ruth street enjoyed a fishing trip last Sunday, going to Redondo with several of the employees of the Colyear Van and Storage Company of Los Angeles, with which firm he is associated.

Dr. and Mrs. King of 1600 Ruth street, with their children, Master Herbert and Miss Edna, will spend several months at Ocean Park, going there about Friday.

Mrs. Edward Spychalski of 102 West Second street was the luncheon guest of Mrs. E. A. Josselyn of 1641 Ruth street Tuesday.

REFORM WHITE SAUCE

Wet the amount of flour to be used with cold milk to dissolve it, then add the milk needed. Put over a slow fire and stir constantly until thick. Cook for twenty minutes. If in a double boiler, the stirring is not needed after the flour has swollen all it will. Take from the fire and add butter. The salt should be added at the beginning, and the other seasonings may be.

Butter contains an acid that is not improved by cooking. The cream soups which may be so wholesome, are unwholesome when made with a poorly cooked white sauce. They may be made of thick purees of vegetables thinned with milk and then thickened with an egg yolk or only the least bit of butter. At present prices two or three egg yolks will cost less than the amount of butter used in making a cream sauce basis of a cream soup for six people.

Excellent cooks who are not dietitians recommend the white sauce because it adds food value to the vegetables, but even so, its food value in this respect can in no sense counter-balance the fact that it is indigestible. No matter how much food value it has, it amounts to nothing if it cannot be utilized fully by the digestion and for this reason its effects on the health are anything but desirable.

1915 BUICK HAS ARRIVED

The first 1915 Buick has arrived in California. Hunchberger & McFadden, the local Buick dealers, who have been facing a shortage of the 1914 models for the last couple of months, are now taking orders for the new 1915 line, with promises of early deliveries.

The phenomenal success of the Buick during the last season has made history in the motor car industry. And a goodly portion of the output of the Buick factory has come to the Pacific coast. Comparing the total of 1914 Buicks sold with the selling period of the same year, shows that a Buick was sold every 38 minutes for each working day of eight hours during the entire eleven months that the coast agencies were able to fill orders—figures that will attract the eyes of the motor industry to the most prosperous motor market in the world—the Pacific coast.

Of special interest to the motor public is the sweeping reduction in price that affects the entire line. The new prices range from $1010 for the 28 horse power roadster to $1800 for the new seven-passenger six-cylinder car.

The new Buicks come clothed in the latest of stream-line bodies. This popular and artistic body design has been refined to the greatest possible degree. Side lamps, which have heretofore been the stumbling block to the designers who have striven to keep unbroken the sweep of the body from the hood to the blunt French curves of the tonneau back, have been eliminated, and dimmers for the headlights take the place of the unsightly side lamps. The joint where the hood and body meet, as well as the doors, with their concealed hinges, are but hairlines in the rich finish of the cars.

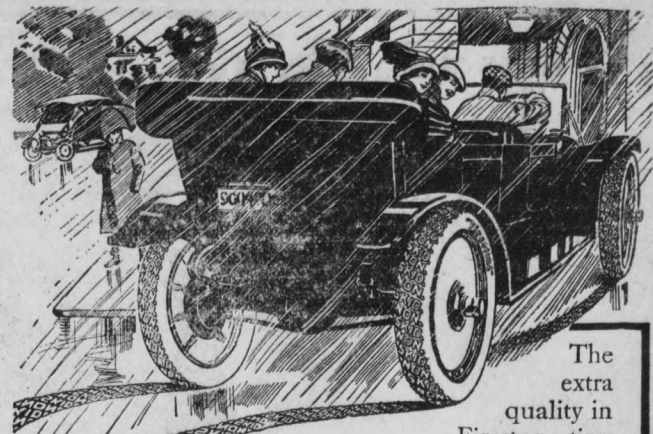

Engineering skill has taken even more responsibility from the mind of the driver. Automatic spark advance is a feature of the new models, thus eliminating a puzzling duty for the inexperienced driver.

Control buttons, etc., have been centered on an instrument board convenient to the driver's hand. This instrument board is complete, even to an extension trouble lamp, which may be carried to all parts of the car.

It may well be said that the most arduous duties of a driver of the new Buick is to push a button, the car being started, the lights lit, the horn blown, etc., all by this simple method.

Over forty distinct improvements are found in the six new Buick models. Refinement of detail has been carried out to the smallest detail. As an example, such screws that are exposed are copper plated to prevent rust.

Forty-five thousand cars will be the output of the Buick Motor Company for the 1915 season. Despite the fact that the Buick announcement of their new models is but a few days old, the immense factory, with its millions of dollars' worth of expensive machinery, is fast supplying the entire country with sample cars. Many carloads are already rushing to the Pacific coast, and many of the new models may be expected on the roads before the year is much older.

BIG MEETING OPENS

The Seventh Day Adventist camp-meeting now in session in Alhambra is drawing the adherents of the faith as well as many others from a long distance. More than 2500 delegates are on the scene. The large auditorium tent, seating 5000, is surrounded by five hundred smaller ones. The large dining tent, accommodating 1500 guests, the large book tent, information tent, and postoffice are all popular.

Many Glendale Adventists have announced their intention of attending as many meetings of the conference as possible.

WHY JOHN C. CLINE SHOULD BE SHERIFF

He has lived in Los Angeles 45 years and everybody is familiar with his clean public record.

In 1894 as sheriff he handled the great American Railway Union strike without the aid of the militia, by appointing special deputies from the ranks of labor, to prevent disorder and the destruction of property. Thus in his wisdom demonstrating that men in any walk of life, put upon their honor, will observe their trust. Adv. 304-tf

A western professor of history predicts that the United States will own all the baseball leagues in the country inside of twenty-five years and that congress will make regular appropriations for the pay of professional ballplayers. Government ownership of the baseball leagues, or government control of baseball in general, has occurred as a possibility, no doubt, to many others who have been reading of the controversies growing out of private ownership and control of this branch of athletics. But it remains to be seen whether the conditions twenty-five years hence will warrant taking the matter so seriously.

The opening of the Panama canal to commerce on a large scale next month will not interfere with the formal opening of the great waterway in March, 1915, and from all appearances will not interfere with the attendance. It is not even now too early to make reservations.

WOMEN IN LINCOLN HIGHWAY

When the history of the Lincoln highway comes to be written, it will be found, we believe, that the project both in conception and prosecution has received not only valuable, but indispensable aid from women. We find it related, for instance, that at the first woman's good roads convention in Chicago, Mrs. Philip N. Moore of St. Louis, then president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Emmons Crocker of Fitchburg, Mass., through all these years head of the conservation department of the General Federation, were present. At this meeting the subject of building a national ocean-to-ocean highway was introduced, interesting these ladies greatly, and it was Mrs. Moore, it is claimed, who recommended the co-operation of the General Federation with the movement. That movement led to the organization of the Lincoln highway project.

Since then women have given intelligent and substantial aid to this enterprise; all along the actual and prospective route of the great thoroughfare, speaking broadly, groups of women have been ready to assist in arousing public interest in or planning for the beautification of the road. This devotion of women to the undertaking has found recognition in the appointment of Mrs. E. E. Kendall as director of the work of tree planting along the way. She is at the head of a committee that is already working, we are told, on a comprehensive plan for the entire distance from the Atlantic to the Pacific, with the purpose of having each state adopt a style of gardening of its own—something distinct, that is, and characteristic.

The influence of the federated women's clubs in awakening and maintaining public interest in this magnificent project cannot well be over-estimated. It is eminently proper, we think, that this influence should be recognized and appreciated.—Christian Science Monitor.

EAGLE ROCK

Dr. Carl Phinney of Fairmont avenue left last week for Philadelphia, where he will spend some time studying clinical and hospital work.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeter of Indiana are visiting with their daughter, Miss Beryl Jeter of Myrtle avenue.

Mrs. W. Vince and daughter Evalyn spent Saturday and Sunday at Huntington Beach attending the camp-meeting there.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Connaway, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. House and children and Misses Alice Kolbe and Cleo Wilson have returned home after a ten days' stay at camp meeting down at the beach.

Miss Stella Hustis of Mariposa avenue has as her guest Miss Barber of Omaha, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Schaff of Eagle Rock, Mr. and Mrs. McClellan and children of Glendale and Mrs. Kilpatrick of Los Angeles enjoyed a fishing trip to Redondo Beach one day last week.

West Eagle avenue, which is one of the poorest and most ill-kept of the streets in this city, will soon be graded and oiled. This will be a decided improvement.

Last Monday evening the members of the Eastern Star held a very pleasant business and social meeting in the Masonic hall. A fine program was rendered and various games indulged in. Delicious refreshments were served.

The first of the "old-fashioned" gospel tent meetings was held Sunday evening, with quite a large attendance. Mr. Linsweaver conducts the services and they are undenominational. These meetings will continue indefinitely.

Mrs. Weir of Kenilworth avenue will open her home Wednesday afternoon to the Women's Twentieth Century club. A silver offering will be taken for the benefit of the clubhouse fund. The ladies will bring their fancywork and a very pleasant time is expected by all.

More than twenty-five new telephones have been put in the past two weeks in homes and business places, with the promise of about that many more to follow.

The Parent-Teacher Association meets this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Kinney of Occidental park. Much business will be transacted and a social time will follow.

The Presbyterian prayer meeting will be held at Mrs. Mason's on Ridgeway avenue this evening, with Mr. Harry Lane as leader. His topic will be "The Confidence of God In Us."

Miss Irene LaPorte is enjoying her vacation now.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Cowan and son of Ridgeway avenue returned to their home Monday after having spent a week in the mountains.

Mrs. Elbert Buck and son of Rowland avenue returned home this week from a short visit with Harold Buck on his ranch at Cypress.

Mrs. Myrtle Phinney and two little daughters of Fairmont avenue are spending several weeks in Oakland visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Hemstreet.

Last Tuesday at the library board meeting it was decided to open a branch of the county library immediately and already the county librarian has put in several hundred books in Miss Swan's store on Colorado boulevard and Castle avenue. Anybody desiring books may have them on two days only of each week. That is, until the new Carnegie library is completed and ready for occupancy of the books, as well as all the leading magazines and newspapers, which will be a great benefit to our citizens, we hope.

INDIANS AS CITIZENS

It was the dream of the late Senator Dawes, often skeptically received, that the Indians might give up their tribal organization and become citizens. A long step toward the fulfillment of this dream was made when on July 1 the Cherokee nation ceased to exist. Community property has been turned into cash and each member has received his allotment, except for a balance of some $600,000, which will soon be distributed, about $15 for each member. The Cherokee ceases to be a ward and becomes a citizen, and in time the assimilation will be complete. In the South there is no prejudice against intermarriage with Indians and Senator Owen is one of many who are proud of Cherokee blood. This is the largest of the five civilized tribes of the Southwest, and the others are preparing to follow the same course. Their native culture will be lost and they will be merged in the dominant race—a pity, but necessary in a continent which has no isles of refuge for primitive races. At least before disappearing the Cherokees have "made good," and it may be believed that many Indian tribes by just and humane treatment might have made an equally good showing.

This Happened in Glendale

Owner painting his own house, was approached by the manager of the Glendale Paint and Paper Co.

Manager—"Good morning, sir. I see you have some good paint there."

Owner—"Yes, but I'm not going to have enough of it. What will you folks charge me for enough to finish out the job?"

Manager—"Two dollars a gallon."

Owner—"Well, I'll be horns-nog-gled! I paid $2.25 for this."

Manager—"Yes, and you bought it in Los Angeles and paid the freight on it, too. You lost just about $6 by going away from home for your goods. I guess you'll know better next time."

Owner—"You bet I will, and I'll let my neighbors know it, too."

EXTRAS MEANINGLESS

"Those Los Angeles extras don't catch the people, even when they have an unusual subject, like this general war," said a business man of the Angel City who was here yesterday, as he observed the newsboys shouting the war headlines to sell their copies of the latest extras, says the Santa Monica Outlook. Continuing, the city man said:

"Those big papers up there kill themselves by putting out meaningless extras, using some comparatively trivial subject as an excuse for them. To such an extent have they carried that idea out that city people, at least, will not fall for them. They take no stock in the authenticity of the things printed in such special editions, as they have frequently been stung by them—and it is the city people, more largely than anybody else, that patronize the papers, regular and extra."

YOU CAN'T PLEASE 'EM

A story of a man who was traveling tells that he was sitting directly in front of a lady in the car. He was smoking an old pipe which was offensive to her. She said: "Mister, will you kindly do me a favor?" "Certainly," he replied. "Then kindly put away your pipe." He did so and removed his shoes, presumably to rest his feet, and immediately the lady began to sniff again. "Mister," she said, "will you do me another favor?" "Certainly," he replied. "Then please light your pipe again."
