NAMING THE STREETS

CITIZENS DISCUSS QUESTION AT MASS MEETING CALLED BY TRUSTEES

The lamented American humorist, Petroleum V. Nasby, used to write about "amassing a handsome pittance," and one was irresistibly reminded of that clever descriptive phrase in looking over the audience which gathered at the City Hall Wednesday evening to instruct the City Trustees concerning the wishes of "the people" with respect to street naming. "A handsome pittance" is the only kind of a mass meeting Glendale is ever able to amass, whether the subject of debate be a bonded issue or the question so much nearer the heart and farther from the pocket book, the naming of the streets on which we live. However, it was a representative meeting which numbered champions for every variation of opinion. All the champions had their innings in speech and it became evident to the duller ear and eye that no decision could be reached and so, as the audience was thoroughly good natured with a lively sense of humor, the minority party got out from under by making a motion through its spokesman, Clem Moore, to leave the matter for decision to the Board of Trustees, which motion carried unanimously.

The meeting opened shortly after eight o'clock with President Woodberry in the chair and also present Trustees Mubleman, Henry and Shaw. Mr. Woodberry explained the purpose of the meeting and recited the various steps taken in connection with renumbering and naming of streets from the first meeting to consider propositions on February 23d to the report submitted April 4th by the special committee appointed to prepare recommendations to the Board, which consisted of Messrs. C. J. Wolfe, O. A. Lane, Spencer Robinson, Clem Moore and W. H. Bullis. This report, he stated, was embodied in Proposition No. 2 as printed in the dodgers which had been distributed over the city announcing the meeting, and which were circulated among those present. Proposition No. 1 proposed the changing of the names of numbered streets, which would be inconsistent with a numbering system beginning at Brand and Broadway, i. e., First, Second, Third streets, etc., also the changing of duplicated names. Proposition No. 2 would change all names except established thoroughfares like Glendale avenue, Central avenue, Brand, Casa Verdugo and San Fernando Road, and would have new names adopted which would be in alphabetical sequence, as Caesar, Dewey, Evans, etc., and would number north, south, east and west from the central point, which has already been adopted by the Trustees as Brand and Broadway.

W. E. Evans, City Attorney, tried to keep out of the danger zone after having stated it was his understanding that the meeting had been called to accept or reject Proposition No. 2. But he seemed to draw fire from both sides in artillery challenges of his sentimental preference for Orange street. At one time it seemed as though he might be driven to the third line trenches, but after the first fury of fire had expended itself he came to his feet with the remark that he seemed to have been made the goat, but as for the boasted "system" in Proposition No. 2 he couldn't see that it was any system at all. It was too full of exceptions to stand firm along any line. Of individual preferences he said: "There is such a thing as sentiment. We all are"

GLENDALE WIDEAWAKE

Boost Glendale. When the people are coming to Glendale in bunches is the time for everybody to boost. Our well-governed and well-kept city is always on the alert to improve and forge ahead. Fine water and cheap, 2-cent electricity, fine car service, elegant homes are bringing them in. More houses are needed and bungalow courts should be good investments. The H. L. Miller Co., 409 South Brand boulevard, reports renting the past two weeks to the following out-of-town people, most of whom will be permanent residents: Mr. Clohan, 1212 Viola. E. H. Marlett, 1316 Hawthorne. Mrs. Chas. Germain, 1462 Salem. Herbert E. Walker, 120 N. Isabel. E. C. Letts, 1520 Patterson. R. W. Keyes, 1001 Maple avenue. W. H. Roddle, 552 Orange Grove. Elizabeth F. Tyrrell, 1523 Pioneer Drive. H. D. Macon, 710 West 7th St. W. T. Purdy, 1500 Patterson. I. W. W. Brown, 215 East Tenth. W. J. Murray, 443 South Central. Chas. Miller, 823 Glendale avenue. G. E. GERMAN NOT REQUIRED

ACADEMIC SENATE AND PRESIDENT OF U. OF C. CHANGE RULING

As a result of action by the Academic Senate and President Benj. Ide Wheeler of the University of California, matriculation credits in the German language and literature are no longer required for admission to any of the departments, schools, or colleges of the State University. This change in requirements, according to the President's Office of the University, applies not only to the non-technical departments but to the technical schools and colleges where in a knowledge of German heretofore was thought necessary as preparation for thorough study in these departments. Hereafter it will be possible to substitute the French language for the German. The last of the departments of the University to endorse this ruling was the College of Chemistry. Much of the authoritative material in the field of chemistry is written in the German language, but the faculty of this college has now arranged courses of instruction so that a knowledge of German will not be a prerequisite in the future.

FRENCH RELIEF

Will the French Relief Committee see that all food is collected and taken to the Glendale Chamber of Commerce before five o'clock Monday afternoon, May 13th.

All packages should have the contents plainly noted on the outside.

Let as many of this committee who can be present at ten o'clock Tuesday morning, the fourteenth, at the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, kindly offer their services, to sort the food received and place in boxes ready for delivery Tuesday afternoon to the French Relief Headquarters, 224 South Hill street, Los Angeles.

There, all packages will be segregated, looked over and repacked for shipment to France.

Where money is given, checks should be made out to the California French Relief Ship Fund, Los Angeles, and sent to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

MRS. C. B. GUITTARD,
Glendale 805-W.

BOWLING TRIUMPHS

Interesting games were played Monday and Tuesday evenings by bowlers of the Elks' Club who are getting well warmed up to the contest. On the evening first named the Jacks played against the Browns, the latter winning. Tuesday evening two games were played, the Viohs challenging the Clarks and winning from the latter, and the Joes playing against the Macks and, as usual, winning by an excellent score. The scores in detail follow:

EXPRESS COMPANIES MERGE

RAILROAD ADMINISTRATION APPROVES AMALGAMATION OF WELLS FARGO, U. S., AMERICAN AND ADAMS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 9.—A merger of the four leading express companies, the Wells Fargo, the United States, the American and the Adams, with a combined capital of $35,000,000, has been sanctioned by the Railroad administration for the period of the war.

A virtual agreement has been reached between the administration and the companies on a contract giving the railroads fifty per cent of the gross earnings of the express companies and a share of the excess profits.

The government will not take over the amalgamated companies.

PUGILIST HELD ON WHITE SLAVE CHARGE

FRED FULTON IN CHARGE OF FEDERAL AUTHORITIES IN SAN FRANCISCO AWAITING WARRANT FROM L. A.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—Fred Fulton, heavyweight pugilist, is held by federal authorities here pending the issuance of a warrant in Los Angeles charging him with violation of the Mann White Slave Act.

Fulton has been watched by the authorities for several weeks. The warrant will be issued in Los Angeles, as he went there first on entering the state.

SEVENTY-FIVE IN CASUALTY LIST

PERSHING'S REPORT TODAY CONTAINS THE NAMES OF TEN MEN KILLED IN ACTION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Today's casualty list includes ten killed in action; three dead of wounds; six dead from disease; two accidentally killed; thirteen severely wounded and forty-one slightly wounded.

SUCCESSFUL BRITISH COUNTER ATTACKS

HAIG REPORTS ENEMY DRIVEN FROM NEWLY WON POSITIONS BETWEEN LA CLYTTE AND VOORMEZELE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, May 9.—General Haig reported that British counter attacks ejected the Germans from their newly won positions between La Clytte and Voormezele, reestablishing the British in their former positions.

New German attacks north of Kemmel this morning pressed the British line back slightly at one point.

Two British divisions participated in yesterday's fighting in Flanders, both losing heavily.

TROOPS CONCENTRATE OPPOSITE BRITISH

ENEMY BELIEVED READY TO STRIKE NEAR ARRAS, AMIENS AND MONTDIDIER, AND FACING HAZEBROUCK

(By William Philip Simms, United Press Staff Correspondent)

ON THE BRITISH FRONT, May 9.—The British counter attacked stubbornly last night and recaptured their former positions south of Dikebush lake. This morning they were compelled to retire from the extreme right of this small battlefield owing to heavy machine gun fire.

The fight is raging near a small stronghold northeast of La Clytte, which the Germans occupy.

The French have withstood the German shock attack, almost completely stopping the shock troops on the west bank of the Vyvebech river. The French line is intact.

This morning the Germans barraged the region northeast of Amiens, but did not attack the city afterward.

Elsewhere on the front gunfire is ceaseless. The British later were forced to retire slightly to new positions near Bucquay.

One of the biggest troop concentrations of the war is inside the big bulge in the line which is sagging past Arras, Amiens and Montdidier. North of this and facing Hazebrouck is another large German concentration. Both are ready to strike, and the allies are prepared for a blow at either point.

It is believed the German command has shifted again, and that Gen. von Mackensen, Germany's greatest strategist, is in charge of the front opposite the British line.

FAVORS BIG ORDNANCE APPROPRIATION

SENATE NAVAL COMMITTEE, URGED BY DANIELS, VOTES TO INCREASE BIG NAVY APPROPRIATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Senate Naval committee today, at the urgent request of Secretary Daniels, voted to increase the ordnance appropriation in the big navy appropriation bill by $200,000,000. It is believed this will be used for heavy calibre guns for land use.

RED CROSS WAR FUND

ORGANIZATION FOR LOCAL CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS IS COMPLETE

The Red Cross War Fund Campaign for raising $100,000,000.00 for expenditure by the National Red Cross in war relief, will begin May 20th and close May 27th.

The organization for Glendale and Casa Verdugo has been completed. Tropico, unfortunately, can not work with Glendale in this drive. The Tropico Red Cross is an auxiliary of the Los Angeles Chapter and must work with that organization.

Glendale's quota is $6,000.00, and in view of the magnificent success of the Liberty Loan Drive, that amount and much more ought to be easily raised.

Subscriptions will be taken by canvassers on an official form of pledge card and an official receipt will be given for all money paid at the time of payment. The amount subscribed may be paid in full during the drive, or it may be paid in four equal installments—July 1, August 1, September 1, October 1. Twenty-five per cent of the amount of each subscription may be retained by the local chapter; seventy-five per cent goes to the National Society.

A definite plan of campaign has been mapped out by the National Society which can not be deviated from in any manner.

During the first four days of the drive canvassing will be done entirely from lists of names provided by the Committee, and no person will be authorized to canvass a name not assigned to him. Beginning with Friday, May 24th, promiscuous canvassing by authorized canvassers will be permissible.

The week of May 20th to May 27th has been designated by the President as "Red Cross Week."

Sunday, May 19th, has been designated as "Red Cross Sunday" and all ministers of this jurisdiction are hereby requested to preach special sermons concerning the Red Cross, its purposes and its work.

MUSICAL TEA

At the Australian tea to be given at the Jewel City Cafe by the British Ambulance Society Friday afternoon, Mrs. William Lindsay and Mrs. G. O. Levinge of Glendale Heights are to be hostesses. The following musical program will be given, beginning at 3:30.

"Star-Spangled Banner."
Mezzo Soprano, "O Let Night Speak of Me" (Chadwick)—Miss May Lahey.

Dance in Costume, Highland Fling—Miss Divina Woods.

Baritone, "The Boys of the Old Brigade"—Alex Downe.

Contralto, "Until You Came" (Metcalfe)—Miss Lulu Lanterman.

Intermission, during which tea will be served.

"Down in the Forest" (Landon Ronald)—Miss Lahey.

Sword Dance—Miss Divina Woods.

"On the Shore" (Nordlinger)—Miss Lanterman.

Baritone, Selected—Mr. Downe.

Accompanists, Miss Ina Whitaker, Miss Downe.

DEATH OF ELIZABETH CUNNINGHAM

Elizabeth Cunningham passed away at her home, 964 Vernon avenue, Los Angeles, May 8th, 1918, aged seventy years. The deceased had been a resident of California and Los Angeles but six weeks, having come here from the East, where she leaves several brothers and sisters. Funeral services, which will be private, will be held at the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking Company in this city Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock, followed by cremation at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

TO OBSERVE MOTHER'S DAY

By special arrangement, the Young Mothers' Class of the Glendale Baptist Sunday School will have complete charge of the Mothers' Day Service to be held next Sunday evening at the Baptist church of this city. These ladies are preparing a very interesting program to be rendered on that occasion, and a cordial invitation is being extended to the residents of this valley to attend. The service will start immediately at 7:45 and will continue about an hour and fifteen minutes.

The committee in charge of this affair is composed of Mrs. Sanford, chairman, Mrs. Ray Galvin, Mrs. Orin Howard, Mrs. Albert Marple.

MUSICALE "ALL SET"

ANTIQUES LEND ATMOSPHERE TO QUIANT STAGE PICTURE

Heirlooms will figure conspicuously at tonight's entertainment given in the high school auditorium for the benefit of the local chapter of the Red Cross. Grandmother's spinning wheel will of course be in evidence, as will grandfather's clock and mirror, and wonderful family portraits of various grand aunts and uncles. Relics of grand nieces and nephews as well as grand neighbors have also been culled for the occasion—a bit of lace here, a basque there, a brooch or fichu from somewhere else, until the needed quota was reached. Under the intelligent direction of Mrs. Freeman Kelley, the motley collection has been assembled and harmoniously disposed into logical contiguity.

Musical numbers of unusual merit feature the "Old Cranford" program, the best talent of the city having been enlisted, and the proceeds are expected to net the Red Cross a generous sum. Tickets for the event are 25 cents each and may be obtained at the door. The public is urged to assemble promptly at eight o'clock.

VERDUGO CANYON BRANCH

The ladies of the Verdugo Canyon Branch of the Red Cross are to give an afternoon tea Sunday, May 12th, from two to five o'clock p. m. There will be an interesting program and tea will be served.

The present owner of the original Verdugo homestead has given the ladies the use of the picturesque old house for Red Cross work as long as it shall be needed. No more lovely spot has been granted the Red Cross workers than this historic old adobe, whose grey walls are almost hidden in a wealth of clambering roses and honeysuckle. The place, which had been vacant for some time, has been put in repair and made attractive within as well as without by the ladies and some of their friends who kindly donated their services, paint, whitewash and articles of furniture.

War work is conducted here according to the rigid rules of the Red Cross. The U. S. flag that flies above it was presented by Mrs. Bullock, a daughter of the Verdugos. The place can be reached by the Glendale and Montrose cars, and is on Opechee Way, Glendale Heights, Selvas de Verdugo.

PAID FOR BINOCULARS

Some weeks ago the News published a letter of acknowledgment from the Navy department to M. B. Hartmann of the receipt of a pair of binoculars for use in the navy during the war. Today Mr. Hartmann received a check for $1 on the United States treasury accompanied by the following letter:

"The enclosed check payable to your order in the sum of $1 is payment in full for article purchased from you for the navy. However, if practicable at the termination of the war to return same to you the $1 payment will then constitute the rental price.

"A complete record giving your name and address with complete description of the article will be kept at the Navy department. Each article is also engraved with a number which acts as a key to designate where same is to be returned at the termination of the war. In this connection the return will be facilitated if the Navy department is advised of any change of address."

NEWCOMERS

The illness of her children with measles prevented Mrs. L. C. Flutot of 1512 Oak street from attending the wedding of her brother, Ferdinand La Com, which was celebrated in Los Angeles last Saturday, when he was united in marriage with Miss Blanch Heimmler of that city. It was a quiet, church affair, attended by the immediate family only, and the young people came at once to Glendale, where they have established a home at Third and Adams street.

ALL-DAY MISSIONARY MEETING

Tomorrow, Friday, there will be an undenominational all-day meeting in the interest of foreign missions at 1025 Fairview avenue, North Glendale. Rev. H. Goodwin of the Presbyterian Church will have charge of the devotional service at 10 in the morning. Dr. Julius Soper, pastor of the Casa Verdugo M. E. Church, at 1:30 in the afternoon and at 2 o'clock Miss Annie Coope, a missionary among the Indians of the San Blas Islands, will tell of her intensely interesting independent work of faith. All interested are cordially invited.

 GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, MAY 9, 1918

STATE UNIVERSITY GRADUATES MUST SIGN PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

Candidates for degrees to be conferred by the University of California at the Commencement exercises, Wednesday, May 15, 1918, must sign pledges of allegiance to the United States in the present war, according to announcement made from the office of President Benj. Ide Wheeler. Four forms of pledge are to be used and the oaths have been so designed as to leave no doubt regarding the loyalty and sympathy with the government, of every student receiving a degree from the State University. Those who fail to sign the pledge of allegiance will be refused their degrees. Pledges will be required not only of the candidates for bachelor's degrees but of those who expect to receive higher degrees in all departments and schools of the University.

Students who are American citizens will pledge their abiding loyalty to the United States and their "unqualified devotion to the right and the victory of the cause for which she fights in the present war." Citizens of countries associated with the United States in the present war are required to pledge their loyalty and devotion to the cause of the Allies. Students who are citizens of neutral countries are required to state that they are in sympathy with the cause for which the United States is fighting and are further required to promise that they will give no aid or comfort by "sentiment, word, or action" to the enemies of the United States or the powers allied with her. Citizens of countries at war with us are required to sign a pledge identical with that required of a citizen or subject of a neutral country.

In signing the pledges it is being made plain to the students that the conferring of their degrees is conditioned upon the truth of the statement signed by them.

EFFICIENCY

A concrete train designed to avoid the storing of materials in streets has been used successfully by the Denver Tramway Company. Three tracks accommodating sixteen steel ore cars, each with a capacity of 16 cu. ft., are laid on an ordinary flat car, which is attached to a car carrying the concrete mixer. These ore cars are filled at the supply yards with cement, sand and rock in the proportions desired for the concrete to be mixed, and the materials are dumped from the tracks on the flat car directly into the mixer, as it is moved along the street where work is in progress. Two flat cars and two sets of ore cars are used, one set of cars being filled at the material yard while others are being unloaded on the work. This outfit in addition to eliminating the necessity for storing materials in the street, has also effected a reduction in the labor cost of placing concrete.

CHOICE BULBS

Flower lovers will be interested in the following price list of Amaryllis and Crinum bulbs offered for sale by the Glendale Red Cross from the stock of Prof. C. E. Houdyshel, bulb specialist, who has offered a large portion of his valuable bulbs for this purpose. Price lists of Cannas, Day Lilies and Iris will be published from day to day.

Amaryllis

Plant Amaryllis in full exposure to the sun, not too deep. The neck of the bulb should be just below the surface. Give plenty of water when blooming. Occasional applications of fertilizer will increase the size and beauty of the flowers.
 Burbank's Giants—Very large flowers up to 8 inches in diameter. Colors from intense glowing crimson with color or scarlet, to nearly white with light markings. Mixed colors, 50c each.
 Equestre—An old favorite, scarlet, 25c each.
 Johnsonii—A cross between Reginae and Vittatum made by Johnson (an English watchmaker) in 1799. It is a deep red with a white stripe through center of petal. 20c each.
 Mrs. C. E. Houdyshel—The original stock of this variety was selected by me from Mr. Burbank's new sorts, before they were offered to the public, and so named because it seemed to me to be the best in his entire collection of over 200 new varieties. The original 18 bulbs cost $75. It is a pure white, lightly tinted and edged carmine. A most beautiful Amaryllis. $2.00 each.
 Solandriiflora Conspicua—A lovely species, white with rose stripes, very fragrant. Rare. 60c each.
 Solandriiflora Hybrids—Nearly like Solandriiflora in form, but the colors range from almost pure white to nearly self red, crimson, scarlet, etc. Color variations are all in stripes. All are fragrant. Produced during my summer vacation in 1910. 35c each.
 Belladonna Major—The true amaryllis. Lovely pink flowers in August before the leaves appear. The foliage dies in the summer. 20c each.
 Halli (Lycorus Squamigera).—Blooms in the fall like Belladonna, which it resembles. Rosy-lilac flowers. 25c each.
 Sprekella Formosissima.—Jacobean lily or Mexican fire lily. Flowers intense glowing crimson, very beautiful. 15c each.
 Agapanthus Umbellatus.—The Blue Lily of the Nile. Flowers in an umbel, 20 or 30 in number. 25c each.
 Queen Mary (Ismene Calathina).—Lovely fragrant white flowers. 20c each.
 Nerine Sarniensis.—Guernsey lily, one of the most beautiful of the Amaryllis family. Blooms in the fall before the foliage appears. Bright rose pink flowers as delicate and lovely as the Grape Myrtle, very rare though easily grown and a rapid multiplier. 25c each.

 Zephyranthes Candida.—A lovely white little amaryllid, fine for edging borders. 3 for 10c.

Crinums

The Crinum is one of our most beautiful tropical bulbs. It is also one of the most neglected and least appreciated. The bulb grows to an immense size in some species, 8 inches or more in diameter and one to two feet long. When in bloom the flower stem rises to a height of one to four feet and well above the beautiful massive foliage. The flowers are borne in an umbel, from about 5 to 50 in number. The crinum belongs to the amaryllis family and succeeds under similar culture except where noted. The flowers come at intervals throughout the summer.
 Crinum Asiaticum Sinicum—These monster bulbs, sometimes 10 inches thick, make fine ornamental plants even when not in bloom; height 5 feet, leaves 6 inches wide. The flowers, 20 to 50 in number, are white, and in form much resemble an immense spider lily. Rare. Small bulbs only $2.50.
 C. Erubescens—Flowers reddish outside, white within. Resemble Kirkii somewhat. 50c.
 Fimbriatum.—The milk and wine lily, white striped carmine. A very desirable variety. 25c.
 C. Hybridum J. C. Harvey (Moorei x Kirkii).—Rose pink flowers about the color, size and form of Amaryllis belladonna. $2.00.
 C. Hybridum, Burbank's Nos. 1, 2 and 3.—These are very similar in appearance. Immense bulbs with foliage 5 inches or more in width and over a yard in length. The lovely flowers are 6 or 8 inches long, tubular in form and curving slightly toward the end of the petals then reflexed at the tip. Each umbel contains a large number of white, fragrant flowers. A wonderful Crinum, only a few in existence, and well worth the price to a flower lover. $5.00
 C. Hybridum Pauline.—This is my first choice of over 300 hybrids which I obtained in 1913 by crossing long-folium alba and moorei. The leaves are three or four feet long, tapering to a point, and deep glossy green. This hybrid is identical in parentage and appearance with C. Hybridum Powellii except in flower. Pauline has a larger and a much deeper rose-pink flower, the same shade as that shown by J. C. Harvey or Amaryllis Belladonna. Very floriferous. A specimen in bloom can be seen at Glendale High School, on the west side of the Fine Arts Building, just north of entrance. Less than ten of these are in existence and only two are offered at $10.00 each.

C. Hybrids, C. Longfolia Alba x Moorei by C. E. Houdyshel.—These hybrids are similar in foliage to C. Powellii and C. Pauline. The flowers range in color from nearly white to a deep pink and are second in quality only to C. Pauline. $1.00.

C. Kirkii.—Beautiful large white flowers with a reddish purple stripe through the center on the outside of each petal which shows through, giving a very handsome and striking appearance; flowers 12 to 15. The wavy-edged leaves are 4 inches or more in width, 4 feet long and are arranged in a perfect rosette. 35c.

C. Longfolia Alba.—About the only variety commonly grown in California. The hardest of the species in the endurance of cold and drought. Will endure the winters of the middle west if mulched. As grown here it is so often neglected as to become an unsightly clump of half-dried foliage but if good culture is given the grey-green foliage is really attractive and the delightfully fragrant flowers so much resemble the Easter lily as to be very frequently mistaken for it. Owing to its hardiness and prolific production of flowers and seed it is usually chosen as the seed parent in hybridization. 25c.
 C. Longfolia Rosea.—Pink in color, otherwise the same as alba. 30c.
 C. Moorei.—This species from Natal is one of our best. The leaves adhere by a sheaf to the neck of the bulb which extends above the ground, so instead of appearing to come from the ground they leave the neck at intervals considerably above the ground, thus giving the plant an appearance that is distinctive among crinums. The large slightly incurved or bell-shaped flowers are a lovely clear pink. 50c.
 C. Sp. from T.—This variety I have grown for years and it is so exquisitely beautiful that I offer it. It is a small plant no larger than Amaryllis Belladonna. The flowers are light bluish pink with darker markings and produced in profusion. A garden aristocrat. 25c.

C. Powellii Alba.—One of the finest hybrids yet produced and very rare. The flowers and flower stalks are very dainty and graceful. Fine for cut flowers. $1.00.

Collection.—Five varieties of Crinums including J. C. Harvey, small bulbs but will bloom the second year, for $1.00. This is my regular wholesale offer in the eastern trade magazines and is a very special retail offer for this sale only.

NEW THOUGHT PICNIC

The New Thought picnic at La Ramada Park Wednesday was largely attended and was a great success. A draping of flags on the platform made a beautiful rostrum for the speakers, the first of whom was W. Frederick Keeler, who talked on "Master Consciousness or The First Step in Mastery." Harry Gaze discoursed on "Life Abundant or Regenerated Mind," and Dr. Julia Seton gave the open-air poem and led the "silence" service. Miss Wilson of "The Home of Thought" was chairman. A very nice dinner was served at the Inn and the evening service was opened by Ernest S. Holmes, who talked on the "Mastery of Thought or the Divine Awakening." Dr. Julia Seton made a fine address, the theme of which was "God of the Everywhere," and Mrs. Agnes Galer of Washington, D. C., made a beautiful talk on "The Christ Within or Who Am I?" It was a farewell to Dr. Seton, who will soon return to the East, and was greatly enjoyed by all who attended.

Personals

Dwight Stephenson agreeably surprised his parents and friends by coming up from Camp Kearny for the week-end.

Miss Imogene Worswick of Los Angeles was the luncheon guest on Tuesday of Mrs. Thomas Meagher of Tenth street.

Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker is spending several days at the Beach, where she is endeavoring to recuperate from an illness.

Mrs. Hattie Hoopell, who formerly resided at 545 West Tenth street, has leased a house owned by Ernest Morgan at 313 West Palmer avenue.

Mrs. W. E. Lawrence and Miss Helen Wallace of Cedar street left Wednesday for Costa Hot Springs in Inyo county, there they will enjoy a month's outing. Mr. Lawrence drove the ladies to their destination, a distance of 184 miles.

Mrs. Charles A. Barker has received letters from her brother, Dr. Morse, reporting good health and work which is keeping him closely occupied. For many years the doctor was on the staff of the insane asylum at Pontiac, Michigan. When he resigned it to come to California he did not expect to return, but the war has made such drafts on doctors and nurses that the institution suffered with others and he was summoned to help out. He does not know how long he will be detained there.

Mrs. Thomas S. Freeman of 1517 Sycamore avenue has heard this week from her son, Sergeant Hugh Freeman, who is with Company F, California Engineers, 2d Battalion, now in France. Of course his letter contains little exact or detailed information about army affairs, but it does state that he is very well and that he has improved so much in health that he has had to be provided with a bigger coat. He visited the trenches some weeks ago but has not seen active service yet at the front because his division has not been called.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fangman have had letters from both their sons, who are now together at Camp Lewis. Joe has been vaccinated and is now in quarantine patiently awaiting his release and entrance into regular camp life. He writes that he had a pleasant and interesting journey as captain in charge of the squad which went from this district, and that his brother Frank was at the train to welcome him. A new officer's training camp is to be organized there and Frank hopes he can take the course there and remain with his brother at Camp Lewis instead of going to Kenosha.

Edward C. Jennings, whose local address is 1510 Hawthorne street, where his wife and baby now reside, and who is an electrician in the Submarine Service, is now stationed on the east coast at a factory operated by the government and employed in getting out batteries for submarines. He has been in service eight years, four on war ships and four on submarines. His last term will expire in August, when he expects to reenlist in the submarine service, in which he now has the rank of Petty Officer. If he does and continues in his present station, Mrs. Jennings and the baby will go east to be near him. His letters, she says, are interesting but tell no secrets.

Mrs. J. F. Rifenerick of 213 1/2 San Fernando boulevard reports that her grandson, Alonzo Rifenerick, who is in the army, is now in Washington, D. C., doing drafting work for the Aviation Corps. Mrs. Rifenerick is devoting all her time except the very small amount she gives to her simple housekeeping, to Red Cross work. She is the instructor in knitting of the Tropico Branch and has knit and remade countless pairs of socks for the soldiers, has knit sweaters and scarfs, she works with the ladies who are making hospital garments and takes home materials from which she fashions the dearest little garments for refugee children of France and Belgium. A large amount of the work turned out by the Branch is credited to her skill and untiring industry.

Mrs. Rose McGibbon of 343 South Brand boulevard, has gone to Thornycroft Hospital for rest and treatment.

At the meeting of Glen Eyrie Chapter of the Eastern Star, which will be held at Masonic Temple tonight, Thursday, Rev. C. A. Trundell from the Bureau of War Savings Committee will address members on war savings.

John McBratney, proprietor of the Irish Linen Store, who recently took a vacation from merchandising to help a friend in the planting of a bean crop, has returned to his first love and is again handling stock over the counter, though he does not spend much time in Glendale, leaving his local manager, Mr. Moore, to conduct the business here.

Stephen Haviland, who lived at 213 El Bonita avenue, this city, and who enlisted in the Gas and Flame Corps, is now in France. His parents have had many letters from him and last week received in one bunch fifteen which had been held up. He complains that their letters to him reach him at irregular intervals. He gives no details of his employment but writes that he is well and happy and that his work grows more interesting all the time. The Haviland family is now living in Los Angeles.

STREET NUMBERING SYSTEM

If the sentiment expressed at the street-naming hearing at the Council Chamber of the City Hall yesterday evening is a criterion, the people of Glendale are opposed to any radical change of street names, but would all welcome a system of numbering so that a person who has lived here "eleven years" or a stranger here could tell "right off the reel" where he was "at."

This can be done very easily without changing the name of a single street, if you please.

Would advise using 100 numbers to the block, long or short, wherever practicable to work the system out.

Now what would the number 3W416N found on a house by a person dropped into Glendale blindfolded mean? It would this, if the town were laid out on the square and all streets cut through, that he was three blocks west from Brand and in the fourth block north from Broadway. He could go to the street corner and find he was on Columbus avenue. By this system names are not essential, they are just "sentiment." From this you now understand what 2W215S, 4S112E, or 4E112S means.

Preface all numbers on Orange with 1W, on Central 2W, on Columbus 3W, and follow the numbers with N or S, meaning, of course, north or south from Broadway; 1W, 2W and 3W mean one, two or three blocks west from Brand.

Glendale not having all of its streets cut through, such as Orange or Maryland, suggests the use of "hundred numbers" to express distances instead of blocks where a person doesn't know the city thoroughly.

Use 200 numbers between Brand and Central avenue. On Broadway, Fifth and Colorado that would be using 100 numbers to the block, but on Seventh, Lomita and so on 200 numbers to the block would be used. So then any street you take from Brand to Central would mean 200 numbers distance. You couldn't make a universal expression "two blocks" distant, because in some places it is only one block. But two "hundred numbers" distant always catches it. If a house number is 2W615N, Central avenue, it would be two "hundred numbers" west from Brand and six hundred numbers plus fifteen north of Broadway.

This could easily be worked out to fit the whole town and with the desired number in hand you could locate yourself by looking at the number on any house and then proceed to find the number desired intelligently.

If a party wanted to find a certain street, having no number on same, he could quickly find the prefix figure and letter of its house numbers by scanning any telephone directory of future greater Glendale. Having the prefix, he could at once tell its relation to Brand or Broadway.

I thank you,
 S. C. KINCH,
 314 S. Orange St.

 Vice-Chairman, Campaign Manager.

FORUM BANQUET

Members of the classes of Prof. W. D. Root and Miss A. C. Terry of Union High School have organized this year as a "Forum" and will enjoy tonight (Thursday) their annual banquet, which will be served in the High School cafeteria at 6:30 by Miss Lance, Domestic Science instructor, and six of her pupils. The committee of arrangements is made up of W. D. Root, James McCluskey and Guy Bennett, and it is to be an affair of considerable interest and importance. Harlan Durand, last year's oratorical champion and the editor of "Stylus," will be the toastmaster, and will introduce the speakers who will respond to the twelve toasts, viz.: Frank Balthis, Berna Martin, Prof. Moyse, Myron Powers, Miss E. M. Church, N. C. Hayward, Philip Wernette, James McCluskey, Miss A. C. Terry, Percy R. Davis, Clarence Ralston, and W. D. Root.

THE TROPICO BRANCH
 As usual the members of Tropico Red Cross Branch met for an all-day meeting at the city building, corner of Brand boulevard and Tropico avenue. There was work enough for all. In the foreground was a group sitting around a quilting frame with a handsome patchwork quilt of unusual design outspread, which was being neatly quilted by expert needlewomen. In other parts of the room needlewomen were occupied with hospital garments and with leather-lined vests for aviators, the hum of sewing machines mingling with cheerful talk. Practically every woman engaged has some one near and dear who is in the army or navy.
 In an adjoining room was another group manufacturing surgical dressings with neatness and dispatch under the direction of Mrs. William Harvey, Jr. All the work of this Branch, whether from the surgical or the sewing department, is of fine quality, and its members are proud to show the stock accumulating in its store room. Its conservation garments manufactured from remnants of cloth donated by friends and members of the Branch are all pretty and serviceable, and much more neatly made than the majority of ready-to-wear clothing purchased at the stores.
 Ladies who were working in the sewing room under direction of Mrs. Hal Davenport, Chairman, were Mesdames Rifenerick, Copp, Collage, Hibbert, Maxwell, Saunders, J. S. Ripley, Noble Ripley, Glen Craig, Mrs. White, Mrs. Stephenson, Mrs. Gaarder, Mrs. Hobbs, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Berrie, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Barnes.
 Think what the spectacle of cheerful giving means to the enemy.

PASADENA DISTRICT EPWORTH LEAGUE

IN CONVENTION ASSEMBLED, FIRST M. E. CHURCH, GLENDALE, MAY 10, 11, 12, 1918

WELCOME—GREETING

(By Samuel Parker)

When we heard that you were coming,
 Had taken the up-grade trail,
 For a season of rest and roaming
 In our Paradise Glendale,
 Did we muster our fighting resources
 As a cataract rushes and roars,
 And yell, "Here comes the kaiser's devouring forces,"
 And double bolt and lock our doors?

Did we act for an instant so silly?
 Nay, nay, note the size of our smile
 And hear the high notes of our welcome Ring out for many a mile.
 How your coming our hearts gladden,
 Oh, hopeful and happy throng,
 Light hearted yet heavy laden
 With the spirit of prayer and song.

All of Glendale ardently wishes
 That pleasant shall be your stay,
 That only glad memories linger
 When from us you must away,
 And that along all lines uplifting
 Each shall be more forceful and strong,
 More ready to work for the Master
 From this season of worship and song.

No, indifferent you can not be,
 Oh, how your young hearts must abhor
 This scourge now so fiercely raging,
 This God mocking war.
 Oh, Leaguers, beseech the Father

TUJUNGA

The highway is progressing finely and is already past Dr. Spate's place.
 Very soon a new portable crusher is to be installed and the work will progress much faster. The first of the week the road will be uncovered just below Fisher's feed store, where the new road turns off the old, Manzanita drive.

Don't forget the Red Cross sewing bee on Friday. Much help is needed. Miss Benedict and Mrs.
 Dean went to Pasadena for more work and all are anxious to finish the work as rapidly as possible. A two weeks' supply will be brought back each time. Also yarn for knitting. It is desired that all shall finish the knitted work as soon as they can and when finished return to the squad sergeant.

Miss Cora Lewis has joined the army of farm workers and expects to be sent out in the next unit. Miss Lewis is an indefatigable worker and will never be called a slacker on any job she may undertake. Success go with her.

Mrs. A. V. Holmes of Hermosa Beach was in the village on Tuesday with friends, looking after her place.
 A friend will occupy it for a week.
 Mrs. Holmes is actively engaged in the New Thought work with a Truth Center at Hermosa Beach, and also has two days each week at the Majestic building in Los Angeles.

John Green of Glendale was a caller on Saturday. The dry weather has sent many up to irrigate the trees.

David White of San Ysidro road has gone to Los Angeles to live.

Mr. Burger, the demonstrator of the Wearver brand of aluminum ware, spoke before a fine audience of ladies at Bolton Hall. He demonstrated the many uses of this ware, from cooking meat in a dry pan to making a fine cake on top of the stove in a waffle pan very successfully. Mr. Burger agreed to give each lady a souvenir of aluminum, but in some manner mixed his dates and instead gave ten cents for each lady present to the Red Cross. Many were disappointed, but none more so than the officers of the Woman's Club, who engaged him to come and made the agreement. Some forty-one ladies were in attendance.

Mrs. Fisher and family, with Mrs.
 Woodruff motored to Hynes last Sunday and from there to Long Beach.
 The weather was so cold that sea bathing was eliminated and sitting on the sand in the sun far more preferable. Nevertheless they spent a very enjoyable day.

Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin of Glendale were callers on Mr. and Mrs.
 Parcher last Sunday, also Mrs. C. P.
 Jackson and two friends from Canada. The Parchers have just moved to their new home on Stephens Way, where their friends can now find them.

Harry Grosvenor and Ed Foster went to Brawley last week on an investigating tour. Without doubt they found it warm enough.

The ladies of the French Red Cross held an all-day sewing bee at the homes of Mrs. Ludke and Mrs. Spelmeyer, to aid in finishing up garments to be sent on the outgoing ship for France. Many donations of clothing, shoes, groceries, etc., have been sent in and will be sent to Los Angeles this week. About twenty ladies assisted in the sewing. At noon a shawl was raffled off and the proceeds turned over to the ladies. Mr.
 Johnson won the shawl and we are wondering who will wear it. About

To make bare his arm of might,
 Defeating ungodly ambition
 And giving victory to the right.

Far be it from our intention
 To urge you time to devote,
 Or in any way load the Convention
 With matters outside or remote.
 But since the birth of your order,
 Whose banners float in the breeze,
 Have conventions been held if ever
 In times as serious as these?

The mother heart of the Nation
 Is smitten with awful fear
 Lest the son of her love return not
 To the arms and heart so dear.
 And your order has sent numbers
 Across the seas far away,
 Gone to serve God and their country,
 And for these most earnestly pray.

And so in our welcome greeting
 Our pledge of friendship we renew,
 The most considerate treating
 We can give is your due.
 How soon this Convention meeting
 Moves on and reaches its ends,
 But abideth the memory of greeting
 And fellowship of friends.

While you're tenting within our borders
 We will most earnestly call,
 That He without whose orders
 A sparrow cannot fall,
 His protecting power may prove,
 Be shielded from fear and alarm,
 Encompassed by his great love,
 "Beloved, ye shall suffer no harm."

twenty-five garments were finished during the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Whittaker left on Thursday for their home in Ohio.
 They have been in Tujunga for two years and will be greatly missed by all who have come to know them.
 They came here for Mr. Whittaker's health and he has fully recovered and intends to make the trip to his home in his car, going over the Santa Fe trail. We wish them success in their journey and hope the lure will be strong enough to bring them back next winter.

The dreaded aphid is upon us in strong numbers and every one is busy trying to kill the pests. A very good way for rose bushes and small garden truck is to fill a smoker such as the bee keepers use with strong tobacco leaves mixed with a spoonful of sulphur, drop in a live coal or two and puff the smoke under rose bushes and into the foliage of both roses and garden stuff. Now you have treated the disease, get busy and pour oil or gasoline into every ant hill you can find, for they are the kind creatures who distribute the pests everywhere and then fatten on them. No use to treat a disease unless you get after the cause.

full of it. My home on Orange street is the only home I have had in California, and my sentiment for a name applies to every citizen in Glendale. I believe in names rather than numbers for streets, they are more euphonious. I think "Riverdale drive" is the prettiest name in Glendale and I wouldn't like to have Orange moved to some other remote part of Glendale where the letter O would fall in alphabetic sequence under the No. 2 proposition." Warm applause testified to appreciation of his logic.

A. H. Lapham, the first speaker, was emphatically in favor of No. 2 as making for efficiency. Mr. Shank was equally and eloquently in favor of No. 1, declaring that changes should be as little revolutionary as possible and that No. 2 would plunge the city into chaos for an indefinite time. His sentiments were endorsed by applause.

O. A. Lane pleaded for No. 2 as a logical system on which the city could expand, declaring that now is the time to start right and if any satisfactory method of naming and numbering streets is to be adopted, citizens must unselfishly sacrifice personal preferences to the common good. (Applause.)

C. J. Wolfe followed along the same line, describing the difficulties which outsiders have in finding their way about Glendale, saying: "As for partiality to names, did any of you move onto Riverdale, or Orange or Pioneer drive because of those names? No. You bought for the location. If we are ever going to have any system, we might as well start right now. If we wait until we are a city of 30,000 it is going to be a whole lot harder than it is now." Like all the speakers who preceded him, Mr. Wolfe was applauded.

Stephen Packer said: "I am heartily in favor of Proposition No. 1. We are only a little settlement and are never going to be a city like Los Angeles. The distance between the foothills and the river is only a short distance, but the duplication of names should be eliminated and one name should be chosen for the entire length of a street as, for instance, Riverdale drive, Chestnut, Rock Glen, etc., should be one. No. 1 would require only a few minor changes in straightening out the jogs by having the people get together to agree upon one name, and for that reason I am heartily in favor of No. 1."

Emil Fram suggested that the Trustees submit a naming system to popular vote with the proviso that if the names proposed were unsatisfactory the residents could choose others, but President Woodberry reminded him that time is the important element in this matter and that the sooner a decision is reached which will end the present confusion in numbering, the better it will be for all concerned.

Mr. Schwab of Maple avenue urged that some naming and numbering system be adopted before the new telephone directory is published, as it will be in the near future.

T. W. Preston declared there is a strong sentiment against radical changes and said he had heard from sixteen residents of Adams street representing a frontage of 2000 feet objecting to a change in the name of that street.

J. O. Woodward argued for No. 2,
