AMUSEMENTS.

THE ACADEMY.—Miss Lucile Western had the pleasure, last night, of appearing in her favorite role of Lady Isabel in "East Lynne" before a crowded and appreciative audience. Miss Western was thoroughly at home, and although not as well supported as she might have been, she proved herself more than equal to the occasion. The applause she received was well deserved, and many of those who saw her last night will crowd the theatre with themselves and families at the matinée, to-day.

THE ST. CHARLES.—The performance last night was the same as on Wednesday. In the farce Miss Louise Arnot monopolized all attention. In "Richard the Third" Mr. Fiske was undoubtedly the leading character.

BULLARD'S NEW YORK CITY.—This work of art has been exhibited at Lyceum Hall every afternoon and night the past week to fine audiences. The Hall was packed and jamed yesterday, and two or three hundred more applied for admission but could not be admitted. Probably our citizens will never have so good an opportunity to view the wonders, the business, the hustle and confusion of New York city as is now afforded them. The panorama takes the spectator through the streets of New York, showing him Stewart's Marble Palace, the leading hotels, Barnum's Museum as it was in the days of its glory, Bands of Music, horses and carriages, processions, military turnouts, miles of shipping at the wharves, the Crystal Palace on fire, thousands of the citizens of Gotham, and all things which conspire to make New York the Babel of America.

It exhibits every day and night next week at 2 and 7½ o'clock. See the advertisement.

(Correspondence Baltimore Gazette.)

Washington, Jan. 8.—To-morrow promises to be a great day in both Houses of Congress. The President will communicate copies of the Mosley correspondence to the Senate, in response to the call introduced by Mr. Sumner; and Mr. Banks will, as he has given notice, begin the San Domingo dance in the House at the earliest practicable moment.

It is understood that Mr. Sumner is fully prepared, and may possibly, at once, elaborately denounce the whole shilly-shally foreign policy of the Government; but this is hardly possible. The "correspondence," which is represented to be exceedingly spicy, will, in all likelihood, be referred to the appropriate committee, Mr. Sumner's, and perhaps without a word of comment upon its merits. This is the usual course in such cases. An effort may possibly be made, however, to refer to a special committee, and if so, a notable debate may be expected.

Mr. Banks expressed himself to-day (as I learn) quite sure of a two-thirds vote in the House upon the Morton resolutions to-morrow, and relies upon the "previous question" to carry them through, without scarcely a word of explanation. But the Democrats will hardly stand such tactics, and it is in their power, by dictatory motives, to prevent their success. I have never doubted, as previous letters will show, of the final passage of these resolutions. But hopes are entertained that the terms of the "Commission" to be appointed under them may be delayed, so that its report will not be received in time to learn to the passage of the projected joint resolution of annexation during the session. If this can be effected, there is a possibility of defeating the swindle altogether.

There can be no better proof of the tremendous "cohesive power of public plunder" these days, than is afforded by the facts connected with this Dominican job. At the last session of this very Congress a joint resolution for annexation could no more have been passed a majority in either branch of Congress than the annexation of Ireland at the instance of the Fenians imprisoned in our own bastiles. Yet an iota of favorable evidence has since been adduced. Yet the sublime impudence of General Grant, in effect admitting the pure jobbery of the treaty, and boldly flinging its rascalities in the face of Congress as a party test, has united the Radical leaders almost as one man. The Republican's definition of a "party test" is simply this:

"Use good tart deserves another. I have a job on hand, with money in it, which I demand of Congress to help me realize, as well as whitewash the whole affair. I have also abundance of patronage, and likewise hold in my individual hand the veto power. Now, not a man who votes for my job shall ever receive a farthing; I want no official drippings from me; and I will veto every bill on which any personal scamping have a single cent's worth of interest."

This precisely way of dealing "brought down the house." And well it might. For, as Horace Greeley, the prudish tutor of Greeley, the politician of large colored afford, at times, to attend their private dealings, "corruption can be had by no means purely for money," and "self" is frequently an item in the calculation.

Who wonders, then, at the extraordinary zeal in favor of the annexation of the Dominican Republic? Who wonders at the money and the more seemingly disinterested zeal which have raised a storm of opposition in the press of the country, and in the halls of Congress, against the annexation? Why, Grant, Babcock, Sumner, Fish, Cameron, Conkling, Morton, Chandler, Boutwell, Rawlins, Belknap, Creswell, Cameron, Jr., and the whole Cabinet, are directly engaged upon the "job."

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

Supreme Court—The following cases appealed from the Fifth District Court have been argued by counsel:

1. The Third Ward School District of New Orleans, appellee, vs. City Board of School Directors, appellants. Argued.

2. Van Norden, treasurer, &c., appellee, vs. Thomas W. Conway, State Superintendent, &c., appellant. Argued.

3. Thomas W. Conway, State Superintendent of Public Education, appellee, vs. City Board of School Directors, appellants. Argued.

4. State of Louisiana ex rel. Van Norden, Treasurer City Board of School Directors, Appellant vs. Thomas W. Conway, State Superintendent, etc., appellee.

First District Court.—H. Kleinfeller, charged with publishing a counterfeit order for $75, in which the name of Gen. J. R. West was forged, was discharged on a nolle prosequi by the jury had been empannelled and one witness for the State had been heard.

John Henry, charged by Eugene George with embezzlement, was convicted.

James Flynn, proprietor of No. 98 St. Charles street, charged with keeping a disorderly house and tippling house, did not appear, and Edward C. Duffy, another proprietor of the house, who signed his bond before Recorder Houghton, was notified to pay $250.

In the case of Officers John B. Savage and J. Fricke, of the First Precinct, charged with false imprisonment of John Moore, the jury could not agree, and a mistrial entered.

James Logue, charged with wounding James Kiernan, was found guilty, and recommended to the mercy of the court.

Second District Court.—In the succession of James W. Fitzgerald, in partition, etc., the Court decided in the matter of rule of December 31, 1870, in case of W. E. Fitzgerald vs. Mrs. Maria Cesney. Rule was entered ordering the two pieces of property to be sold to the highest bidder, and was accordingly sold by the Sheriff, March 19, 1870, to Dr Gustavus Doron, for the sum of $6000. On the day following, Mrs. Powers and Mrs. Doron, (Wife of Gustavus Doron,) obtained an ex parte order from the Court, notifying the Sheriff that in case either or both pieces of property should be adjudicated to Mrs Powers or Doron, the said Sheriff shall not receive compliance with the original order, to the extent of their property. That under such order obtained without knowledge of the Sheriff, he required them to pay only $1109 20. Plaintiff became aware of such order on April 11, 1870, and by his counsel filed a motion to rescind and annul such order, and the Court accordingly ordered the ex parte order, and that the defendant be and is compelled to comply with original adjudication—compliance of same was demanded in the sum of $6244 69 and refused. Thereupon the Court ordered that defendant, Dr. G. Deron, be given five days in which to comply with command, or to be imprisoned until it should be done.

Randolph, Singleton & Browne for plaintiff.

Fourth District Court.—The following decision was made yesterday by Judge Theard in the case of William Mithoff vs. Auguste Bohn:

It is ordered, adjudged and decreed that the plaintiff do have and recover judgment in his favor against the defendant, recognising the judicial mortgage resulting from the inscription in the office of the Recorder of Mortgages, for the parish of Orleans, on the 7th of May, 1866, of the judgment rendered in favor of plaintiff against Byrne, Vance & Co., by the Sixth District Court of New Orleans, No. 17,283, of the docket of said court; and that it be ordered that the real estate described in the plaintiff's petition, on which said judicial mortgage bears, be seized and sold according to law, to satisfy the said judgment, claimed by said plaintiff against Byrne, Vance & Co., and the individual members of said firm, amounting to the sum of seventy-two thousand nine hundred and fifty dollars ($72,950) with legal interest thereon from the 31st day of December, 1869, until paid, together with costs of said suit, amounting to the sum of two hundred and thirty-five 50-100 dollars, ($235 50) said costs of the suit.

Fifth District Court.—D. W. C. Campbell vs. City of New Orleans—This case, on final hearing before this court, was a suit for damages occasioned by accident having injured himself through falling into a hole in the plank sidewalk, on the night of December 30d, 1869. Injuries set forth in resulting in spraining petitioner's ankle and breaking his left arm near the shoulder.

In consequence of the same he has been confined to his house for several weeks, suffering from his wounds, and that the injuries arising will last during life, and caused without fault of the petitioner, and therefore prays for judgment in his favor in the sum of $5,000.

Answer of defendant sets forth a general denial, and claims that if petitioner did suffer, from any cause whatsoever, they were caused by his own negligence and contributory.

T. S. McCay for plaintiff.

Seventh District Court—A Memento of the Great Rice Fraud Brought before R. E. Lee and Nobles. There was filed yesterday in the above court a petition by D. L. Sedam against J. W. Cannon—representing the steamboat R. E. Lee—in which plaintiff seeks to recover the sum of $900 for alleged breach of contract. The facts, as set forth in the petition, are as follows: On the 17th October, 1870, said D. L. Sedam, owner of steamer Belfast, entered into a verbal contract with John W. Cannon, master of steamer R. E. Lee, to take on board the Belfast, October 18, certain freight, etc., then under charge of said R. E. Lee, and destined for the port of Natchez, in the State of Mississippi—the price agreed upon for such conveyance, etc., to be the sum of $900.

Cannon in his answer claims that he made a concert with steamer Belfast, as above mentioned, with the proviso that said steamer was to load said freight and depart from New Orleans on the evening of October 17, as by the terms of said Cannon's mail contract with the Government of the United States he was obliged to leave New Orleans every Tuesday evening for the penalty of forfeiture of $950.

Having waited for the Belfast until 6 P. M. of that day, and that steamer not then being prepared to receive said freight (being then, in fact, engaged in taking on a cargo of salt below the city) and he, Cannon, well knowing that the Belfast could not, at that hour, take on said freight and leave the city according to terms of contract, and not wishing to forfeit the $950 on the leave the large quantity of freight already there, he engaged the steamer Belle Lee to convey the same to the city of Natchez for the agreed price of nine hundred and fifty dollars, and he now files a suit in reconvention in the sum of $600. Two hundred and fifty dollars for forfeiture of terms of mail contract, and $350 for excess of price of charter paid to Belle Lee.

Eighth District Court—The new famous habeas corpus cases, created by act 96, seem to be going the rounds of the courts, there having been one come before the above court.

Parties in this case are Sam Wilson, John Riley, John Rogers and Richard Littleton. They were remanded to the Workhouse until to-day, when the cases will be tried.

The celebrated case of New Orleans School of Medicine vs. New Orleans Natural Insurance Company will come up before this court to-day.

Deputy Sheriffs vs. Thieves.—Two well-known thieves, "Dago Frank" and Dave Cunningham, succeeded to escape from the Parish Prison yesterday. They cut through the door of the cell in which they were confined, reaching a door at which they met Mr. Boutte, he did not order them back; meeting Mr. Sofield afterwards, they were ordered back. Mr. Sofield claiming them as prisoners. The fact that there is some collusion between the thieves who infest this city and the Deputy Sheriffs is a matter to which we call the attention of Sheriff Massicot.

A Sneak Thief.—One of this numerous tribe found his way, on Thursday, through a side-door into the residence of Mrs. Isabella O'Connor, on Carondelet, near Perdido street. The rogue was satisfied with stealing and safely carrying off two pair of window curtains, two brooches, twenty-five yards of cotton, six dresses, seven yards of poplin and sundry articles found in the trunk of a lady absent from the city.

Death from Intemperance.—Coroner Creech held an inquest yesterday on the body of Michael Waters, an Irishman, 40 years old, who was found dead in bed at 146 Magazine street, early in the morning. The verdict of the jury was "death from intemperance."

Successful Burglary.—Mr. Robert Roberts, residing at 675 St. Charles street, Fourth District, was the victim of a burglary on Thursday night, of a visit from a party of uninvited burglars, who entered his house by the rear door, without disturbing the presence known, retired with six napkin rings, thirty dollars in currency, and a gold watch and chain valued at two hundred and twenty-five dollars.

Inquest.—Coroner Jackson held an inquest, yesterday, on the body of Mrs. Josephine Barres, who died suddenly on Thursday night, at 166 St. Ann street. The verdict of the jury was "died from apoplexy of the heart. Deceased was fifty-five years of age and a native of Maryland.

A Shooting Case.—Alex. Newton has been arrested for shooting and passive killing one O. W. Rockwell. The affair occurred on the 9th inst., on Common and St. Charles street. Rockwell was shot in the right side of his back, the ball penetrating the intestinal canal, and probably inflicting a mortal wound.

Colds and Coughs.—Spring Blossom will eliminate from the system all impurities and cure Colds and Coughs. Price 25 cents. Brownfield, agent of Common and St. Charles street, has in his possession evidence proved that simple remedies have been taken in the early stages of the disease, and a cure effected. Read "Truth," for the Cold, Cough, or Consumption of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this timely and simple means a more serious attack may be averted.

Owing to the good reputation and popularity of the Tonsorial Parlor of Clark and Dauphine streets, it is always crowded. Be sure to call on Clark & Brooks' Tonsorial Rooms. Hair cutting a specialty.

CHEAP AND BEST.—Mrs. Wentworth's Syrup for children is used by thousands. It will relieve a baby of all disagreeable symptoms in two hours. Sold by druggists.
