TREATY MADE KNOWN TO WORLD

Pact Handed to German Delegates To-day at Versailles

TREATY GERMANS ARE ASKED TO SIGN USHERS IN NEW ERA IN WHICH PEACE FOR THE WHOLE WORLD AND JUSTICE FOR ALL RACES ARE GOALS

Arbitration Principle Is Made the Foundation of the First World Society of Nations in History; People of Alsace-Lorraine Re-united With France; A New Future for the Poles, Czecho-Slovaks and Other Races; Militarism Is Banished; Ex-Kaiser Is to Be Brought to Trial; Treaty Is Longest One Ever Drafted

Ottawa, May 7.—The Government this morning received from Paris the following summary of the peace treaty, which was handed to the Canadian Press, Ltd., for publication in Canada:

Paris, May 7.—The treaty of peace between the twenty-seven Allied and Associated Powers on the one hand and Germany on the other, was handed to the German envoys at Versailles to-day.

It is the longest treaty ever drawn. It totals about 80,000 words, divided into fifteen main sections, and represents the combined product of over a thousand experts working continuously through a series of commissions for three and a half months since January 18. The treaty is printed in parallel pages of English and French, which are recognized as having equal validity. It does not deal with questions affecting Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey except insofar as binding Germany to accept any agreement reached with those former allies.

Following the preamble and deposition of power comes the covenant of the League of Nations as the first section of the treaty. The frontiers of Germany in Europe are defined in the second section, European political clauses are given in the third, and extra European political clauses in the fourth. Next are the military, naval and air terms as the fifth section, followed by a section on prisoners of war and military graves, and a seventh on responsibilities. Reparations, financial terms and economic terms are covered in sections eight to ten. Then comes the aeronautic section, ports, waterways and railway sections, the labor covenant, the section on guarantees and the final clauses.

Germany, by the terms of the treaty, restores Alsace-Lorraine to France, accepts the internationalization of the Saar basin temporarily and of Danzig permanently, agrees to territorial changes toward Belgium and Denmark, and in East Prussia cedes most of Upper Silesia to Poland, and renounces all territorial and political rights outside of Europe as to her own or her allies' territories, and especially as to Morocco, Egypt, Siam, Liberia and Shantung.

She also recognizes the total independence of German-Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Germany's army is reduced to 100,000 men, including officers, conscription within her territories will be abolished; all forts fifty kilometres east of the Rhine will be razed and all importation, exportation and nearly all production of war material will be stopped. Allied occupation of parts of Germany will continue till reparation is made, but will be reduced at the end of each of three-year periods if Germany is fulfilling her obligations. Any violation by Germany of conditions as to the zone of fifty kilometres east of the Rhine will be regarded as an act of war.

GERMAN NAVY CUT TO MERE SKELETON

The German navy is reduced to six battleships, six light cruisers and twelve torpedo boats, without submarines, and a personnel of not over 15,000. All other vessels must be surrendered or destroyed.

Germany is forbidden to build forts controlling the Baltic, must demolish Heligoland, open the Kiel Canal to all nations and surrender her fourteen submarine cables. She may have no military or naval air forces, except 100 unarmed seaplanes until October 1, to detect mines, and may manufacture aviation material for a six months' period.

W. HOHENZOLLERN IS TO BE PUT ON TRIAL

She must agree to return to the 1914 most-favored-nations tariffs, without discrimination of any sort; to allow Allied and Associated nationals freedom of transit through her territories and to accept highly detailed provisions as to pre-war debts, unfair competition, internationalization of roads and rivers and other economic and financial clauses.

Germany also must agree to the trial of the ex-Kaiser by an international high court for a supreme offence against international morality and the trial of other nationals for violations of the laws and customs of warfare. Holland is to be asked to extradite the former Kaiser and Germany being responsible for delivering the latter.

The League of Nations is accepted by the Allied and Associated Powers as operative and must be accepted by Germany in principle but without membership. Similarly an international labor body is brought into being with a permanent office and annual convention. Germany must accept full responsibility for all damages caused to Allied and Associated Governments and nationals, and must agree specifically to reimburse all civilian damages beginning with an initial payment of 20,000,000,000 marks, subsequent payments to be made at the discretion of the Reparation Commission. Germany is to pay shipping damages on a ton-for-ton basis by cession of a large part of her merchant, coasting and river fleets and by new construction, and is to devote her economic resources to the rebuilding of the devastated regions.

INTERNATIONAL BODIES SET UP

A great number of international bodies of different kinds and for different purposes are created, some under the League of Nations, and some to execute the peace treaty. Among the former is the Commission to govern the Saar basin till a plebiscite is held, fifteen years hence; the High Commissioner of Danzig, which is created into a free city under the League, and various Commissions for plebiscites in Malmedy, Schleswig and East Prussia. Among those to carry out the peace treaty are the Reparations, Military, Naval, Air, Financial and Economic Commissions; the International High Court and military tribunals to fix responsibilities and a series of bodies for the control of international rivers.

Certain problems are left for solution between the Allied and Associated Powers, notably details of the disposition of the German fleet and cables, the former German colonies and the values paid in reparation. Certain other problems such as the laws of the air and the opium, arms and liquor traffic are either agreed to in detail or set for early international action.

Preamble. The preamble names as parties of the one part the British Empire, France, the United States, Italy and Japan, described as the five Allied and Associated Powers, and Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, China, Cuba, Ecuador, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, The Hedjaz, Honduras, Liberia, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Portugal, Roumania, Serbia, Siam, Czecho-Slovakia and Uruguay, who with five above are described as the Allied and Associated Powers, and on the other part, Germany.

It states that: Bearing in mind the request of the then Imperial German Government, an armistice was granted on November 11, 1918, by the five Allied and Associated Powers in order that a treaty of peace might be concluded with her, and whereas the Allied and Associated Powers being equally desirous that the war in which they were successfully involved directly or indirectly, and which originated in the declaration of war by Austria-Hungary on July 23, 1914, against

Serbia, the declaration of war by Germany against Russia on August 1, 1914, and against France on August 3, 1914, and the invasion of Belgium, should be replaced by a firm, just and durable peace, the plenipotentiaries, having communicated their full power, found in good and due form, have agreed as follows:

From the coming into force of the present treaty, the state of war will terminate. From the moment and subject to the provisions of this treaty, official relations with Germany and with each of the German states will be resumed by the Allied and Associated Powers.

COVENANT OF LEAGUE SET FORTH FIRST

The covenant of the League of Nations constitutes Section One of the Peace Treaty, which places upon the League many specific duties in addition to its general duties. It may question Germany at any time for a violation of the neutralized zone east of the Rhine as a threat against the world's peace. It will appoint three of the five members of the Saar Commission, oversee its regime, and carry out the plebiscite. It will appoint the High Commissioner of Danzig, guarantee the independence of that free city and arrange for treaties between Danzig and Germany and Poland.

It will work out the mandatory system to be applied to the former German colonies and act as a final court in part of the plebiscites of the Belgian-German frontier and in disputes as to the Kiel Canal, and decide certain of the economic and financial problems. An international conference on labor is to be held in October under its direction, and another on the international control of ports, waterways and railways is foreshadowed.

Membership. The members of the League will be signatories of the covenant and other states invited to accede who must lodge a declaration of accession without reservation within two months. A new state, dominion or colony may be (Continued on page 8.)

During the Italian administration a harbor for the Jugo-Slavs will be built at a port lower down the Adriatic coast. The harbor will have communication with Agram and other cities.

Italy, it is understood, also is prepared to make sacrifices of some of her other claims on the Dalmatian coast.

The proposal which induced the Italians to return to Paris was made to them by Camille Barrere, the French Ambassador at Rome.

CONVICTION UPHELD BY APPEAL COURT

Ruling is That Gartshore, Vancouver, Must Serve His Sentence

Vancouver, May 7.—The judgment of Chief Justice Hunter in reversing the verdict against A. L. Gartshore, convicted to six months' imprisonment for selling whisky, was reversed to-day by the Court of Appeal, which sustained the original conviction by Magistrate Shaw. Chief Justice Macdonald and Justices Martin and Gailher sustained the conviction. Justices McPhillips and Eberts dissenting. On the question of law as to whether the Dominion Order-in-Council prohibiting the manufacture and importation of liquor overrules the provincial Prohibition Act, the court unanimously refused a pronouncement on the ground that no authority had been obtained from the Minister of Justice to enable it to do so.

The appeal was argued on behalf of the Attorney-General by C. W. Craig, K.C., Joseph Martin, K.C., and Charles Wilson, K.C. The form in which the case came to the Appeal Court was in an appeal by the Attorney-General against the decision of Chief Justice Hunter in a stated case submitted by Magistrate Shaw at the request of Joseph Martin, K.C., counsel for Gartshore. The first question in the stated case was: "Was I right in holding that there was a sale of liquor?" Three other questions followed on which the magistrate sought the advice of the higher court on constitutional points which had been raised by Mr. Martin at the trial. Chief Justice Macdonald's judgment was very brief. "I find evidence," he said, "sufficient to prove a sale of liquor under Section 10 of the Act. I therefore answer question No. 1 in the affirmative."

DEVELOPMENT OF PRAIRIE INDUSTRIES

Mayor of Medicine Hat Tells Ottawa Members There Should Be Action

Ottawa, May 7.—Industry in the West as a solution of Canada's economic problem, the means of unification of East and West and the development of the country's natural resources, was urged upon a large gathering of members of the House of Commons in the Chateau Laurier last evening by Mayor Brown, of Medicine Hat, president of the Alberta Industrial Development Association.

The occasion was a dinner and the members attended at the invitation of Major-General Sir Sam Hughes. Mr. Brown spoke on the possibilities of industrial development in the West. A great industrial congress is being planned to take place in Calgary this year, and Mayor Brown has canvassed big industrial leaders of Eastern Canada and the United States to attend, and he invited the members of Parliament to be present also.

Hon. J. A. Calder, Hon. Arthur Meighen and Mr. Cowan, M. P., also spoke. Sir Sam Hughes was in the chair. About 200 members were present.

VERNON TAX ARREARS.

Vernon, May 7.—At a meeting of the City Council this week a by-law was introduced providing that all taxes in arrears on December 31 of last year shall be consolidated. Provision is made for payment of such arrears in five annual instalments, providing that the current year's taxes are paid by delinquents at the same time. In default of such payments being promptly met recourse may be had to a tax sale or action through the courts.

RAILWAY MEASURE PASSED BY COMMONS

Bill to Incorporate National Railways Put Through on Division

Ottawa, May 7.—The bill to incorporate the Canadian National Railways, which had rough times in committee and which finally was put through that stage of consideration under the closure rules, failed to secure the usual formal third reading in the commons yesterday, but was put through on division.

The main attack was by Hon. W. S. Fielding who in committee objected to the proposal that the directors should be given control of the revenues of the Government system without reference to Parliament. Maintaining that this system would not give public ownership a fair trial, Mr. Fielding, seconded by A. R. McMaster, of Bromo, moved that the receipts and expenditures of this company should be subject to the provisions of the Consolidated Fund and Audit Act. After a lengthy debate, the amendment was rejected at the evening sitting on a division of 110 to 54. Government majority of 51. The Opposition gave solid support to the Fielding amendment, while the Government members unitedly opposed it.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Fielding said that the bill handed over control of finances to a few gentlemen in Toronto. Sir T. White, Sir Thomas White characterized this as a somewhat unfair argument, because while the officers of the Government system were in Toronto, the board of directors included men from all parts of Canada. He warmly defended the Government's proposal to operate the Government railway system through the agency of a joint stock company.

As to the application of closure, Sir Thomas asserted that the Government had not taken this step until the obstructive tactics had developed to the left of the Speaker. D. D. McKenzie, the Opposition Leader, said Sir Thomas White had played politics in accusing the Opposition of being opposed to Government ownership. The experience of the Maritime Provinces under Government ownership, he said, was that no branch lines had been built in fifty years.

Amendment Rejected.

At a late hour the House on a division of 110 to 60 rejected an amendment moved by Ernest Lapointe to the effect that two members of the board of management should be appointed on the recommendation of employees of the Canadian National Railways.

Mr. Fielding voted with the Government. The Government then insisted on a vote on the motion for the third reading, which was carried on a division, 110 to 56. A Government majority of 54. W. H. White voted with the Government and Mr. Fielding with the Opposition.

Previously an amendment by A. B. Copp, Westmorland, to exclude the Intercolonial Railway from the operation of the bill was declared lost without the formality of a division.

Washington, May 7.—Director-General Hines, in a discussion of recent railroad earnings, last night disclosed that:

"The Government's deficit in operating the railroads of the United States for the first three months this year, or the difference between the net earnings and one-fourth of the sustained annual compensation, was about $192,000,000 for all roads under Federal management. The Government's loss for 1918 was $226,000,000. The entire Government loss incurred in fifteen months of Federal operation was $418,000,000."

Cannery Fees.

Ottawa, May 7.—Second reading was given in the House yesterday to a bill to amend the Fisheries Act of 1914 in such a way as to increase the license fees for British Columbia salmon canneries from $10 to $20. The present fee, Mr. Ballantyne explained, was thought to be too low for the privileges which the canners obtained. The canners had unanimously agreed to the increase.

Mr. McKenzie, Leader of the Opposition, said it was reported from British Columbia that higher license fees would have the effect of driving the ordinary man out of the business. It was stated that the purpose in view was to create a virtual monopoly, as the ordinary man would be unable to pay the fee. The bill was referred to the Standing Committee on Marine and Fisheries.

ANTI-AMERICAN AGITATION IN JAPAN

Tokio, May 7.—The anti-American campaign in the Japanese press continues. No serious overt acts have been committed against Americans or American property, but evidence exists that the newspaper agitation is inciting popular feeling against the United States and thus paving the way to possible open demonstrations. Representative Japanese deplore the press campaign, and have begun to criticize the Government for its failure to check the literary outbursts.

The Yozodzu-Choho says the Americans responsible for attempts at anti-Japanese legislation are nothing better than barbarians. Hypocrite, despot, transformed Kaiser and mar with the voice of an angel, but with deeds of the devil, are some of the epithets placed by the newspapers on President Wilson.

BRITISH EMBARGO ON CANADIAN CATTLE

London, May 7.—Concerning the embargo on the importation of Canadian cattle into the United Kingdom, Mr. Rosecrance, Parliamentary Secretary of the Board of Agriculture, said in the Commons yesterday that Canadian cattle can be imported into this country for slaughter at the port of entry, but legislation would be required to permit their importation as stores. If the imports could be restricted with absolute certainty to cattle born and reared in Canada and leaving Canada for the first time by direct shipment to a British port, it would be impossible to exclude them only on the ground of disease, from which they were exceptionally free, but the board was not of the opinion that importation would be to the ad-

CANADA PRODUCES HELIUM FOR AIRSHIPS

London, May 7.—Professor McLennan, of Toronto University, who was invited by the British Admiralty in 1915 to investigate the possibility of large scale production of helium, found it in large quantities available in natural gas in Ontario and Western Canada, producible at a cost of a shilling per cubic foot. The United States also co-operated, and gave large orders for machinery and plants. Thus the possibility of securing large supplies of helium was assured simultaneously with the practical details of production. Airships inflated with helium have been developed by the British navy, and the progress made warrants the opinion that in another year large quantities of helium will be produced in Canada at a low price and helium-filled airships will be in service.

STEPS IF GERMANY REFUSES TO SIGN

Allied Economic Council Proposes Isolation; Plans for Revival of Trade

Paris, May 7.—The following official communication was issued here to-night:
"The Supreme Economic Council had its sixteenth meeting on May 5 under the chairmanship of Lord Robert Cecil at the Ministry of Commerce. The following business was transacted:
"Proposed blockade measures to be adopted in the event of Germany refusing to sign the peace treaty:
"The Council considered plans which had been formulated to bring about the complete isolation of Germany in the event that the Germans should refuse to sign the preliminaries of peace. The blockade section was directed to draw up and submit for the approval of the Council of Foreign Ministers a plan of blockade measures to be immediately put into effect should the Associated Governments desire to have recourse to economic coercion.
"Removal of final restrictions of trade with Germany:
"Upon recommendation by the Financial Committee the Council decided to make the following relaxations of financial restrictions of trade with Germany pending the signing of the peace treaty:
"First, the financial list to be suspended (if this has not been done already) and announcement to be made that neutrals are entirely free to extend credits of any kind to Germany or to its nationals.
"Second, that German-owned cash balances and bills already in neutral countries are freely available in payment for imports.
"Third, that the proceeds of exports from Germany may be freely available in payment for all kinds of permitted imports.
"Fourth, that the finance section shall have discretion to grant licenses for the export of gold and securities from Germany in payment for imports, on application from the German authorities.
"Fifth, that the above be communicated to the Financial Committee at Versailles and to the committee of neutral financiers and that their suggestions be invited as to what further relaxations are desired by them.
"Control of traffic on the Danube:
"The Council considered again the question of the control of navigation on the Danube, and it was decided that this control should be placed entirely under one authority. A sub-committee was appointed to arrange the details with a view of expediting the reopening of commercial and relief traffic on the Danube."

Particular interest attaches to the tabling showing how the different provinces contributed. The total of 179,933 made available was made up of the following:
Quebec, 55,814; Ontario, 55,145; Saskatchewan, 14,883; Manitoba, 13,521; Nova Scotia, 11,122; New Brunswick, 9,971; Prince Edward Island, 1,739; Alberta, 9,871; British Columbia, 9,717. Total, 179,933.
In all 27,421 disobeyed Registrars' orders to report for duty, and of these 3,492 were apprehended and placed on the military strength. Out of every 100 men ordered to report or voluntarily reporting under the Military Service Act, the following numbers in each province disobeyed such orders: Quebec, 41; Nova Scotia, 17; British Columbia, 19; Saskatchewan, 10; New Brunswick, 9; Ontario, 9; Alberta, 5; Manitoba, 4; Prince Edward Island, 1.
Quebec's Record.
"The province of Quebec," the report observes, "very grievously outstripped her sister provinces in the number of defaulters, for not only is her total of 18,827 considerably more than all the other provinces combined, but her percentage is no less than 40.83, which, to say the least, is a most regrettable state of affairs."
The district of Hull, Que., has the highest percentage of defaulters in the Dominion, viz., 52. Charlottetown, with a percentage of 3.5, has the lowest.
The expenditure by the Justice Department under the Act to the end of January, 1919, was $3,661,417. The per capita cost in each province of the net total of men put into uniform was:
New Brunswick, $15.10; Nova Scotia, $20.66; Manitoba, $31.30; Ontario, $21.64; Prince Edward Island, $24.56; Saskatchewan, $31.29; British Columbia, $35.88; Quebec, $40.78, and Alberta, $42.44.

NET TOTAL WAS OVER 113,000 MEN

Military Service Act Figures; British Columbia's Total 9,717 Men

Ottawa, May 7.—The report of Lieut.-Col. Machin, Director of the Military Service Branch of the Department of Justice, tabled in the House of Commons yesterday, shows that 179,933 men were made available for military service by the Military Service Act, and that of the total of 153,708 men turned over to the military authorities, some 16,018 were returned to the jurisdiction of the Registrars owing in general to their being lowered in medical category. Further, another 24,139 disobeyed orders to report for duty, and at the time of the signing of the armistice were still unapprehended. Making deductions for these, there was a net total of 113,461 bona fide soldiers furnished by the Act.

By Provinces.
Particular interest attaches to the tabling showing how the different provinces contributed. The total of 179,933 made available was made up of the following:
Quebec, 55,814; Ontario, 55,145; Saskatchewan, 14,883; Manitoba, 13,521; Nova Scotia, 11,122; New Brunswick, 9,971; Prince Edward Island, 1,739; Alberta, 9,871; British Columbia, 9,717. Total, 179,933.
In all 27,421 disobeyed Registrars' orders to report for duty, and of these 3,492 were apprehended and placed on the military strength. Out of every 100 men ordered to report or voluntarily reporting under the Military Service Act, the following numbers in each province disobeyed such orders: Quebec, 41; Nova Scotia, 17; British Columbia, 19; Saskatchewan, 10; New Brunswick, 9; Ontario, 9; Alberta, 5; Manitoba, 4; Prince Edward Island, 1.
Quebec's Record.

DOCTOR'S PATIENT GAINED 17 POUNDS ON THREE BOTTLES

Prominent Physician Continues to Use Tanlac in Practice With Surprising Results
One of the strongest and most convincing evidences of the remarkable results being accomplished by Tanlac throughout the South is the large number of letters that are now being received daily from scores of well-known men and women who have been benefited by its use.
Among the large number that have been received recently none are more interesting than the following letter from Dr. J. T. Edwards, of Fayetteville, Ga. Dr. Edwards, it will be remembered, recently gave Tanlac his unqualified endorsement in a public statement, and the testimonial published below was recently given him by one of his patients. His letter follows just as it was written:
Fayetteville, Ga.
Mr. G. F. Willis, Atlanta, Ga.
Dear sir,—I am enclosing you herewith statement I have just received from Mr. T. M. McGough. He has sold out here, and is moving to Turin, Ga. He was here this morning, and came in to tell me what Tanlac had done for him. He says too much cannot be said about Tanlac. It certainly has cured him.
Respectfully,
J. T. EDWARDS, M. D.
Mr. McGough's statement follows:
"I suffered from indigestion and could not eat anything but what would hurt me. Constipation gave me a great deal of trouble also. My symptoms were indigestion, heartburn, and gas on the stomach after eating. My appetite was irregular, and my food failed to nourish me. This trouble caused me to get very poor—in fact I got so thin and weak I was hardly able to go about."
"I bought three bottles of Tanlac on Dr. Edwards' recommendation, and I am now feeling all right again, and am able to attend to business. I gained seventeen pounds in weight and am doing fine. Tanlac did the work."
"I now recommend Tanlac to everyone who is sick like I was, and wishes to take something that will help them."
Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas—Adv.

NOT KIND OF TEST THAT IS NEEDED

British Airmen in Newfoundland Criticize American Trans-Atlantic Scheme
St. John's, Nfld., May 7.—The British aviators, Capt. Hawker and Capt. Frederick P. Raynham are inclined to belittle the coming attempt of United States seaplanes to cross the Atlantic. Hawker declared yesterday he would wager that any fast steamship leaving New York on the same day as the "Nancies" of the navy would beat them to England.
The British airmen here appear skeptical of the ability of the Liberty Motors to stand the test of the long flight. Capt. Charles W. F. Morgan, Raynham's navigator, signing himself "Captain C. W. F. Morgan, R. A. F. P. R. G. S.," announced responsibility for and attached his signature to an article printed in The St. John's Daily Star yesterday afternoon, which asserted that the American navy's flying boats would prove nothing practically or theoretically.
The article said in part: "At no time during the flight will the American planes be out of sight of a ship, as the American navy is putting a ship every fifty miles of the way, which means that the machines never will be more than twenty-five miles from a ship. This will eliminate any risk, and also do away with any need of navigation. The Americans might just as well fly the English Channel fifty times an ordinary exploit these days. The flight will prove nothing practically or theoretically. The personal guidance of the pilot will not rule in the question, as the machine can land at

THE TERMS OF PEACE.

The terms of peace decided at the Paris Conference were presented to the German delegates at Versailles and given out for publication to-day. The instrument is unprecedentedly lengthy and comprehensive, comprising 80,000 words and divided into fifteen principal sections, but the synopsis which has been made public covers all the essential features and clearly defines the principles upon which the chief enemy state and the author of the war must come to an agreement with those whom she sought to crush and enslave. It is the most momentous peace treaty in the world's history.

To those in Germany who still imagine that she emerged from the war on equal terms with the Allies and with any vindication of the Prussian militarism which has commanded her policy for fifty years, a cursory reading of the treaty will bring swift disillusionment. It will bring complete consciousness of defeat, a full realization that the "policy of blood and iron" does not pay, that autocracy founded on the doctrine that might is right cannot prevail when it attempts to impose its will upon democracy.

According to this treaty Germany must abandon aggressive militarism. She must end the reinforcement of her diplomacy against her neighbors by threatening them with the "mailed fist," the "shining armor" and the "invincible Michael." She will be placed in such circumstances that never again shall she be able to intimidate France and Russia with her invocation of the sword, to imperil the existence of small nations adjoining her, to plot and intrigue for the bedevilment of the world.

The wrongs done by her must be righted. Germany must restore Alsace and Lorraine to France. She must compensate France for the wanton damage done to her industrial life by submitting to the internationalization of the Saar basin with its coal and iron resources for fifteen years. She must raze her fortifications for fifty kilometres east of the Rhine and abolish the importation, exportation and production of nearly all her war material. She must reduce her army to 100,000 men, including officers, and put an end to conscription. She must reduce her navy to six battleships, six light cruisers and twelve torpedo boats, all other vessels to be surrendered or destroyed. She must not build any forts on the Baltic, she must demolish the fortifications of Heligoland, and open the Kiel Canal to the commerce of the world. She must possess no more than 100 aircraft.

Germany must agree to the permanent internationalization of Danzig which will become a free port, giving Poland, whose full independence she must recognize, access to the sea. She must cede a part of Silesia, most of Posen and West Prussia to Poland, from whom it was torn more than a century ago. This will isolate East Prussia from Germany proper by the northward extension of Poland. Germany loses 27,680 square miles to the new Polish nation. She must recognize the independence of German-Austria and Czechoslovakia. She must agree to territorial concessions to Denmark and Belgium, thus righting more wrongs done by ruthless militarism in the past at the expense of those small states.

Germany must renounce all territorial and political rights outside of Europe regarding her former territory and the territories of her Allies, especially in regard to Morocco, Egypt, Siam, Liberia and Shantung. She must accept the mandatory arrangement decided upon in connection with her former colonies in Africa and the Pacific. She must agree to numerous economic conditions. She must accept the principle of a League of Nations without membership until she shows herself to be worthy of a place in that organization.

The question of reparation is not finally determined by the treaty. Germany must make an initial payment of $5,000,000,000 to reimburse all civilian damages, the remainder to be paid at the discretion of a Reparation Commission. In this connection Germany must accept full responsibility for all damages caused to the Allied and associated governments and nationals. She must pay shipping damages on the ton-for-ton basis by surrendering a large part of her merchant service.

Finally she must obtain the extradition of William Hohenzollern from Holland and tender him to the international tribunal to be set up by the Allies for trial and punishment, and surrender, as well, all those whom it has been decided to bring to trial under military law for the outrages committed by them and at their instigation during the last four years.

The first provision of the treaty is the convention of the League of Nations. This organization is the corner-stone of the whole peace fabric, for it involves a virtual alliance of the associated powers to insure the fulfillment by Germany of the terms imposed upon her, as well as to safeguard civilization against the evils which have been so prolific of wars in the past. Without such an organization there could be no guarantee that Germany would adhere to the treaty if she should sign it. With it Germany must keep the faith or suffer complete political and economic isolation, and this would involve her in complete ruin.

The submission of the treaty to Germany, however, does not finally dispose of it. It must run the gauntlet of investigation and discussion in the Parliaments and Congresses of the associated powers. For instance, it cannot bind the United States unless it is ratified by the Senate. It should be remembered that it is the product of a Conference which has been conducted in secret and the representative institutions have yet to be heard from. If it is not a People's Treaty it has not served its purpose and it is in this aspect particularly that it must differ from all other treaties.

The treaty is certain to be criticized in many particulars. It will be regarded by some as not being sufficiently drastic and by others as being so drastic that it is incapable of enforcement. The terms of the reparation provision are sure to be denounced in some quarters on the ground that they do not insure absolutely the indemnification of the sufferers from German brutality to "the uttermost farthing." But, after all, this must be a matter for searching examination to determine the amount Germany will be able to pay and the best means of insuring payment.

In France there will be criticism of the provision regarding the internationalization of the Saar valley by those who claim that this region should be permanently annexed for greater security. It will be the duty of the delegates to explain fully the conditions arrived at to their respective peoples and the reasons for their decisions. Until that has been done much of the criticism which may develop will be like the emanations of the "wild men" who have been screaming at the key-hole in Paris—ill-informed and baseless.

In any case it will be months before the treaty has been finally settled and ratified. Sir Robert Borden has informed the Canadian Government that he does not expect final ratification until August 1. Until such ratifications, whenever it may be, a state of war will continue even if Germany accepts all the terms. She may seek to escape some of the conditions by negotiation and by the submission of counter-proposals. Eventually, however, she will sign, for actually she has no other alternative.

THE BRITISH EXAMPLE.

Apparently, the national plan presented by the British joint committee of employers and employees appointed to devise a scheme of alleviating industrial discontent has created an excellent impression in the United States. Numerous references have been made in the press of the United States to what has been more generally described as a timely, practical, if a novel, method of attacking this great problem.

Among the more enthusiastic commentators may be singled out The New York Evening Post, which says: "We have had no finer illustration of the practical genius of the British. Doctrinaire and hurricane reformers have been ruled out, and by a definite concentration on concrete problems a solution has been found. It is this kind of common-sense achievement which lends point to the prediction of a Labor leader that 'Bolshevism will never get a foothold in England.'"

And it is just as reasonable to believe that the work of the Industrial Commission in this country at the present time will go a long way towards subduing any possible serious trouble between capital and labor. It enables all views to be stated without let or hindrance and the case for both sides may then be analyzed impartially. Labor is entitled to ample safeguards and capital can get protection by frank co-operation; when both understand each other the third party known as the Bolshevik has not the ghost of a chance.

TRY THE HOME PRODUCT.

When the Legislature passed the Industrial Act at its recent session it was generally presumed that initiative in making use of its powers would come from the Government itself. But it will be the duty of the Industrial Commissioner and his Advisory Board to weigh every proposal submitted with great care before recommending practical application. Expert examination will be necessary in all cases and that is a course the Government presumably intends to follow in connection with the proposal placed before it by a Seattle smelting concern recently.

While the Industrial Committee of the Victoria Reconstruction Group is to be commended for its energy and interest in behalf of provincial development, we are of the opinion that before pressing the Government to acquire the Seattle furnace it may be as well to consider the plan now being prepared by the Returned Soldiers' Industrial Committee which, according to a communication sent to Premier Oliver, not only possesses merit but also has the advantage of being a home product.

A POOR ARGUMENT.

The Times has already expressed its regret that the Dominion Government does not see its way to extend additional aid to enhance the usefulness of the University of British Columbia in the matter of vocational training for returned soldiers. The announcement made by Hon. J. D. MacLean on his return from Ottawa yesterday not only dispels any hope of a change of heart on the part of the Federal authorities, but it also automatically renders the provincial conditional act inoperative.

The argument advanced by Ottawa that to stretch a point in favor of British Columbia's University would constitute a departure from a uniform policy would be all very well in normal times; but we are a little at a loss to understand a reluctance to go beyond the trodden mile when it has been established that nearly 200 returned soldiers are actually awaiting accommodation for training whereby they may once more become useful members of society in a new calling. The sum of $190,000 was small enough to ask for and it looks like a nickel when one thinks about Argyll House at the same time.

Hull, Que., May 7.—Louis Forget, a farmer ninety years old, of Namur, Labelle County, Quebec, was brought here yesterday afternoon to stand trial on a charge of having murdered his son, Ambrose Forget, aged thirty-five, by pushing him into the Little Rouge River. The body was recovered on May 1 by some river-drivers.

EARL OF ATHLONE AS GOVERNOR-GENERAL

London Report Says Duke of Devonshire Will Retire Shortly

London, May 7.—It is understood that the Duke of Devonshire will shortly retire as Governor-General of Canada, and The Mail says the office will be offered to the Earl of Athlone, brother of Queen Mary, who would have succeeded the Duke of Connaught as Governor-General of Canada had it not been for his duties with the British army.

The Duke of Devonshire was appointed Governor-General of Canada on June 27, 1916, and was installed in office on November 11, 1916.

The Earl of Athlone was born April 14, 1874, the son of the Duke of Teck. He was educated at Eton and later became a General Staff Officer with the rank of brigadier-general. He served in Matabeleland in 1896, and with the Seventh Hussars in South Africa in 1900, being mentioned in dispatches during his service there. He was created Earl of Athlone on July 19, 1917. He was married on February 19, 1904, to Princess Alice, daughter of the late first Duke of Albany.

Washington, May 7.—Secretary Baker announced to-day that by August the last man of the American Expeditionary Forces will have been withdrawn from France. He said this estimate was based on the movement of 200,000 men a month to the United States.

Washington, May 7.—President Wilson issued a call by cable to-day for a special session of Congress to meet Monday, May 19.

GREAT AMMUNITION DEPOT BLOWS UP

Many Killed When ex-German Shells Explode South of Brussels

Brussels, May 6, via London, May 7.—A depot of German ammunition containing shells and bombs of every calibre and many gas shells has been exploding since yesterday morning at the railway station at Groenendaal, six miles south of Brussels, where Canadian troops were inspected by King Albert eight days ago. The depot was under guard of 150 Belgian soldiers and 600 German prisoners were at work near it. It is believed there are many killed and wounded, but the number of victims will not be known for several days.

Many houses in the vicinity have completely collapsed, and windows and roofs for two miles around the scene of the explosion have been shattered. This is especially the case at Hoeylaert and neighboring towns, where there are thousands of hothouses. The movement of trains over the Namur-Luxemburg line has been interrupted.

Detonator Exploded.

It is reported that while workmen were unloading a wagon filled with shells a detonator exploded in the hands of a German prisoner, setting fire to ammunition boxes. After the explosion the German prisoners broke the barbed wire cordon surrounding the camp and fled in all directions through the woods. Only 150 have been arrested since. The Belgian guards at the depot succeeded in escaping in safety.

The explosions are clearly heard in Brussels and may be continued for days.

EIGHTH BATTALION GREETED AT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, May 7.—Winnipeg welcomed home last night its famous 8th Battalion, commanded by Lieut.-Col. Saunders, D. S. O., which first made its name in the original gas attack in the Second Battle of Ypres.

It was recruited entirely from 90th Winnipeg Rifles, christened by the half-breeds in the Riel rebellion of 1885 "The Little Black Devils."

War time construction of shipping which was added to the British Navy stood at over two million tons at a cost of between two hundred and fifty and three hundred million pounds.

BELGIUM ASKING $500,000,000 LOAN

Wants Aid From Allies While Awaiting the German Indemnity

Brussels, May 6.—Via London, May 7.—The Belgian Government has decided to ask the Allies or the United States for an immediate loan of $500,000,000.

Without such aid the country will be lost," said M. Jaeger, Minister of Economics, to a representative of the Associated Press to-day. "This loan will be secured by the German indemnity. It will not suffice for Belgium to receive a prior indemnity to the extent of $500,000,000. This sum will not be forthcoming for a couple of years, and it is impossible for Belgium to hold out that long."

"Even with the removal of the burden of her war debt, Belgium is under an enormous weight, financially and economically. With this sum with an equal sum loaned immediately to Belgium, the country will be able to recuperate otherwise it will be impossible to go on."

SERVED FOUR YEARS ON HOSPITAL SHIP

Capt. D. McLean Commanded Maheno Which Handled 36,000 Military Patients

Capt. D. McLean, veteran commander of the Canadian-Australasian liner Niagara, who is replacing Capt. J. T. Rolls while the regular skipper of the big two-stacker is taking a long-anticipated vacation ashore, has been conspicuously identified with the hospital service afloat ever since the beginning of the war.

For the past four years Capt. McLean has been in command of the Australian hospital ship Maheno, one of the fine passenger boats of the Union Steamship Company, of New Zealand, which was commandeered for conversion into a hospital ship almost at the outset of hostilities.

In relating incidents of his war experience in his cabin last night, Capt. McLean informed The Times that since she was first taken over for the hospital service the Maheno has transported thirty-six thousand military patients from the various fronts in which the Australian and New Zealand forces have been engaged.

Was at Gallipoli.

The Maheno was used in connection with the operations at Gallipoli and also carried thousands of cases between French ports and England and Australia.

The Maheno had the good fortune to escape all attempts to sink her when the German High Command gave the order to the submarine commanders to destroy hospital ships.

While the voyages of the Maheno at this period were full of exciting incidents she managed to escape the attentions of the submarines and continued to perform splendid service right up to the end of the war.

She had several narrow escapes while operating in the Mediterranean, but under the watchful eye of her skipper she eluded the deadly torpedo.

The Maheno was formerly engaged in the Canadian-Australasian passenger service between the Antipodes and British Columbia. The liner Marana, another ship well-known on this route, has also been engaged in the continuous hospital service, according to Capt. McLean.

Wants Aid From Allies While Awaiting the German Indemnity

Brussels, May 6.—Via London, May 7.—The Belgian Government has decided to ask the Allies or the United States for an immediate loan of $500,000,000.

Without such aid the country will be lost," said M. Jaeger, Minister of Economics, to a representative of the Associated Press to-day. "This loan will be secured by the German indemnity. It will not suffice for Belgium to receive a prior indemnity to the extent of $500,000,000. This sum will not be forthcoming for a couple of years, and it is impossible for Belgium to hold out that long."

"Even with the removal of the burden of her war debt, Belgium is under an enormous weight, financially and economically. With this sum with an equal sum loaned immediately to Belgium, the country will be able to recuperate otherwise it will be impossible to go on."

SERVED FOUR YEARS ON HOSPITAL SHIP

Capt. D. McLean Commanded Maheno Which Handled 36,000 Military Patients

Capt. D. McLean, veteran commander of the Canadian-Australasian liner Niagara, who is replacing Capt. J. T. Rolls while the regular skipper of the big two-stacker is taking a long-anticipated vacation ashore, has been conspicuously identified with the hospital service afloat ever since the beginning of the war.

For the past four years Capt. McLean has been in command of the Australian hospital ship Maheno, one of the fine passenger boats of the Union Steamship Company, of New Zealand, which was commandeered for conversion into a hospital ship almost at the outset of hostilities.

In relating incidents of his war experience in his cabin last night, Capt. McLean informed The Times that since she was first taken over for the hospital service the Maheno has transported thirty-six thousand military patients from the various fronts in which the Australian and New Zealand forces have been engaged.

Was at Gallipoli.

The Maheno was used in connection with the operations at Gallipoli and also carried thousands of cases between French ports and England and Australia.

The Maheno had the good fortune to escape all attempts to sink her when the German High Command gave the order to the submarine commanders to destroy hospital ships.

While the voyages of the Maheno at this period were full of exciting incidents she managed to escape the attentions of the submarines and continued to perform splendid service right up to the end of the war.

She had several narrow escapes while operating in the Mediterranean, but under the watchful eye of her skipper she eluded the deadly torpedo.

The Maheno was formerly engaged in the Canadian-Australasian passenger service between the Antipodes and British Columbia. The liner Marana, another ship well-known on this route, has also been engaged in the continuous hospital service, according to Capt. McLean.

Capt. McLean is making his first

IN MEETING PLACE OF BALKANS: SALONICA, THE GATEWAY TO THE TROUBLE CENTRES OF THE NEAR EAST

The pictures in the group shown here were selected from a series of photographs brought home by Capt. B. T. O'Grady, M. C., who has served on special work in Macedonia for a lengthy period. An interview with him appeared in The Times last week. The extraordinary contrasts in architecture, Byzantine, Roman and Saracenic, in this ancient port have been the subject of comment from every writer who has visited the Macedonian theatre during the late war. Turkish minaret and Greek cross symbolize the rival creeds of the peninsula, of the rising side by side throughout that noxious land. The views published were selected to illustrate salient phases of life in Salonica rather than to depict the public buildings and institutions. The flavor of the Levant is noticeable everywhere in the town, where sanitary conditions have greatly improved during the Allied occupation. One picture illustrates the damage done by the fire during the occupation there, in which so many people were rendered homeless. The views are as follows: No. 1—Cross and crescent in close proximity on Greek Church and Moslem mosque in Salonica. No. 2—Scene in city, a cobblestone road leading to country. No. 3—Old well on outskirts of city. No. 4—Street scene. No. 5—Refugees viewing ruin of homes following holocaust caused by great fire. No. 6—Captain O'Grady, with a mascot bear presented to him by Serbians during a special tour in that country. During the retreat bruin had to be left at Monastir. After the enemy evacuated that city, the bear was found alive, and shipped to the captain. Later the animal's curiosity was its undoing, for straying one day into No Man's Land, a machine gun section thought it was a wild beast from the hills, and bruin fell a victim. The Captain is the tallest of the group of officers.

NOW FRAMING A NEW SYSTEM OF LICENSES

Committee Starts Work on Revision of Trades Licenses Regulations

A complete revision of the present system of trades licenses in Victoria will be brought about before the end of June. Having collected a large quantity of information on the subject, a special committee of the City Council will meet to-day to begin the work of drawing up a new schedule setting forth in detail the cost of various licenses. At present in Victoria a small establishment is obliged to pay the same license fee as a large departmental store. In Vancouver and other cities, however, the cost of a license is regulated by the size of the store for which it is purchased. In the Terminal City, too, the civic authorities have drawn up a plan wherein each class of business is classified according to size and so forth. In this way, it is thought, a fairer system than that which prevails in Victoria is obtained. Members of the committee which are looking into the matter have gone carefully over the rules existing in Vancouver, and it is their intention to draw up regulations based in some particulars upon them. The committee's plan will move large business houses pay more for licenses than smaller establishments, and will raise the cost of some licenses to a considerable extent in order to produce badly-needed revenue.

MILITARY DUTIES END

Dr. Walter Bapty a Civilian Physician After Extended War Service

After being in uniform since the beginning of the war, when his unit, Squadron C of the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles, was called out, and having spent two years in France and the time since his return on duty with the hospital service, Major Walter Bapty is back in civilian life. He has just resigned his connection with the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. Previously he had taken a leading part in the care of wounded soldiers as head of the Esquimaux and Reschaven Military Hospitals. Dr. Bapty has resumed his private practice as a physician.

When a Dollar Buys More than a Dollar's Worth

WHEN your dealer advises you to buy a pair of shoes which cost a dollar more, he probably knows what he is talking about. He knows that every shoe in his stock represents good value for the money, but he also knows that some represent better value per dollar than others. A dollar added to the cost of a shoe will sometimes buy much more than a dollar's worth of service.

If you will go to a reliable dealer and be guided by his advice, you will seldom fail to get value for your money. And if you will see that the manufacturer's trade mark is on the shoes you buy, you may feel doubly confident. For the manufacturer's business reputation is behind it.

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and Bunty's Picnic

Copyright, 1912, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
 (By Howard R. Garis.)

"What are you going to do to-day, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Baby Bunty, as she saw the rabbit gentleman sitting in the sun on a bench at the side of his hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"Oh! I'm going to take a little hop through the woods, and perhaps call on Grandfather Goosey Gander, to see if he is well again, after having had a cold in his bill," spoke Mr. Longears.

"Oh, dear!" sighed Baby Bunty, the little rabbit girl, who was hidden in a hollow stump until Uncle Wiggily found her.

"What's the matter?" asked the rabbit gentleman. "Didn't I hop around enough to suit you when I was looking for my glasses and they were on top of my head and the while?"

"Oh! you hopped enough, and you cured your stiffness," said Baby Bunty. "I told you that story last night, if you will kindly remember." "But if you are going to the woods," said the little tot, "can't you take me for a picnic? I haven't had a picnic in ever so long."

"Oh, ho! So you want a picnic?" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Well, I guess we might have one. Tell Nurse Jane to make some carrot sandwiches, and some turnip floppers, and a few lettuce ice cream cones, and we'll go in the woods and have a picnic."

"Oh, goodie! Oh, joy!" cried Baby Bunty, and she clapped her paws together and tried to make her teeny weeny pink nose twinkle as Uncle Wiggily made his. But, of course, it wasn't the same.

"In a little while Nurse Jane had put up a nice lunch in a birch bark basket, and Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty started to hop through the woods."

"Oh! there goes Billie Bushytail, the squirrel boy, and his brother Johnnie is with him," suddenly called the baby rabbit after a while. "May they come to our picnic?"

"Surely," answered Uncle Wiggily. And after that he and Baby Bunty saw Lulu, Jimmie, and Alice Wobble, and Peetle Bow Wow, the puppy dog boys, and Nannie and Billie Wagtail, the goats.

"Bring them all to our picnic!" invited Uncle Wiggily. "We have lunch enough for all." So all the animal children went to Baby Bunty's picnic. Under a tree, on a carpet of green

GONZALES CHAPTER

Will Donate Portraits of King and Queen to Monterey Avenue School.

The regular meeting of Gonzales Chapter was held on Tuesday, May 6, the chief business being the consideration of the various resolutions which will be presented to the National Chapter at their annual meeting. With regard to the most important of these, the educational memorial to men and women fallen in the war, the unanimous opinion of the Chapter was that this should take the form of scholarships.

The Field Comforts Committee reported 6 pairs of socks and 29 garments for the Belgians, and Mrs. Rhodes reported having purchased 30 garments with money voted by the Chapter. Attention was drawn to the fact that the Provincial Chapter had purchased wool in large quantities just before the signing of the armistice, for which payment must be made. This may be purchased by individual members of the Order.

Capt. Mary Flummer acknowledged the receipt of $50 to be spent in games and comforts for Canadian soldiers.

The Secretary of the Tag Day Committee of the W. V. A. proposed to take place on May 24th, made an appeal for taggers. Any members wishing to volunteer were requested to communicate with Mrs. A. W. Stewart, 423 Walter Avenue.

It was resolved to present portraits of Their Majesties to the Monterey School, Oak Bay. An appeal was made for motors to take the soldiers, from Esquimalt Hospital for drives. Members who are able to devote a couple of hours to this, either on stated days or occasionally, are asked to communicate with the Regent or Hon. Secretary.

PREMIER OLIVER BACK FROM TOUR OF PACIFIC GREAT EASTERN RAILWAY

Hopeful of Future for Country Served; Sees Necessity for Change of Location in Northern Section; Wonders if Locators Were Mad

With a large amount of valuable data collected first hand, useful knowledge gained from a personal and exhaustive inspection of the line from its terminal to the end of steel, and an accurate idea of important changes required in location before steel is pushed further north, Premier Oliver returned to the Parliament Buildings this morning after a tour of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway system. Mr. Oliver was accompanied by Mrs. Oliver, and he declares himself to be well pleased with his trip. He is convinced that the Cariboo has great agricultural possibilities, especially for the sheep industry, and while most of the land requires to be cleared he was shown many fire-swept areas that would easily lend themselves to pasturage.

Although the Premier has been absent from his exacting duties of his office for more than a week he has found considerable benefit from his trip. Before he left the Parliament Buildings he was anything but well, but the bracing air of the interior and a general relaxation has apparently braced him up to his usual robustness.

At Squamish.
Arriving at Squamish on Monday afternoon of last week, accompanied by Chief Engineer Procter and Resident Engineer C. C. Worsfold for the Dominion Government, the Premier looked into the question of providing booming grounds for logs originating on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway lines, and came to the conclusion that simple provision could be made, at a moderate expenditure of money, and the necessary piling. The matter of detail is left in abeyance for the moment, and in the meantime the railway engineers will prepare plans and estimates for the journey well worth the expense entailed, in which case it would be provided at once.

Inspection was made of the twelve workmen's dwellings now almost ready for completion, and the locomotives recently purchased from the United States Government. The latter were found to be working satisfactorily, the Premier expressing the opinion that both engines were good value for the money expended.

Green River Falls.
From Squamish the Premier proceeded to the falls of the Green River, situated near Pemberton Meadows. He says that the scenic beauties of the falls are attracting many people and considers the journey well worth the expense entailed. Mr. Oliver is of the opinion that the Pacific Great Eastern could well afford to expend a little money for the erection of stairways, platforms, and bridges, to stop passenger trains to give visitors an opportunity to see what he describes as one of the choicest of Nature's beauty and wonder places.

Proceeding through Pemberton Meadows a number of good farms were inspected, the Premier finding soil of an excellent character strongly impregnated with lime. In some places the soil is not very good, but in other parts he found large open spaces capable of abundant production. The greatest drawback to successful settlement and intensive cultivation, he states, is the occasional overwashing of the Lillooet and tributary streams caused by simultaneous melting of snows and heavy rainfall. Mr. Oliver also discovered considerable bank erosion in some places.

Goitre Overcome.
Many of the settlers in the upper end of the Pemberton Meadows ascribed to the Premier an unique experience. Only two years ago the presence of goitre among their livestock, it being almost impossible to raise horses, cattle or sheep, and the veterinary advice it was possible to get appeared to be of little avail until one of the settlers experimented with iodine administered in the smallest possible doses in the water, salt or feed. So successful did the treatment that fear of loss of stock from goitre in the future has virtually disappeared.

Considerable attention has been directed towards the possibility of improving the water supply in Pemberton Meadows by lowering the waters of the Lillooet lakes and the introduction of dykes and ditches. The problem is a complex one, says the Premier, but capable of solution. As to whether it can be accomplished as a commercial success he is not in a position to judge until he has carefully examined all the factors in the case.

Pemberton to Lillooet.
Accompanied by Mrs. Oliver the Premier proceeded to examine the railway as far as Lillooet from the seat of an automobile lashed to the deck of a P. G. E. flat car. At the headquarters camp at the end of steel the party was joined by Capt. Bright, the resident engineer in charge, and by Mr. Murdoch, the superintendent in charge of the construction company. On Wednesday evening the 112-mile house was reached. Early on the following day the Premier and Mrs. Oliver continued their journey as far as Deep Cove Crossing. Here there is a question to be decided by the Government as to whether the present location of the railway is the best one. There is a hole about 280 feet deep and 1,200 feet wide, and to span it a bridge costing approximately $500,000 would be necessary.

The night was spent at Australian Ranch, the home of J. M. Yorston, M. P. P., and on the following morning the party was amazed at a heavy fall of snow. Visions of sliding wheels were dispelled by the appearance of the sun, the recent moisture laying the dust and enhancing the comfort of auto travel. The motor cavalcade proceeded to Quesnel to inspect the proposed station grounds. The possibility of carrying the railway over the mud slides south of Quesnel, the feasibility of diverting the railway as to connect with steamboats on the Fraser at Quesnel, and a discussion with the Quesnel Board of Trade disposed of the balance of the day.

A careful re-survey and re-examination of the railway situation at Quesnel will be made by the Railway Department before any definite conclusion is arrived at, says the Premier. The crossing of the Quesnel river by a bridge and trestle of over half a mile in length is necessary unless the present location is changed.

A number of questions put to the Premier by the Quesnel Board of Trade occasioned him to inspect the site of the Cottonwood River bridge. The Board

HIGH LIVING COSTS WILL BE ATTACKED

Women's Delegation Confer With Mr. Farris and Discuss Action

For some few weeks past the women of this city have been actively considering the best means of approaching the proper authorities in the hope of reducing the cost of living. On three occasions a small but energetic delegation has waited upon the Hon. J. W. Gell-Farris, Attorney-General and Minister of Labor, for the purpose of interesting him in the subject. And at a further conference held at the Attorney-General's office yesterday afternoon the women took the view that the whole matter was one for the Dominion Government to tackle and tackle immediately.

Mr. Farris was advised that a Victoria delegation would proceed to Vancouver on this evening's boat to confer with the New Era League in the Terminal City, the object being to stage a mass meeting representative of British Columbia women and the various women's organizations throughout the Province. An invitation was extended to the Attorney-General to ad-

JURYMEN DEMAND HIGHER FEES NOW

Chief Justice Refers Request to Parliament Buildings for Redress

When the jury brought in a verdict of guilty in the case of the Hindu Inder Singh this morning in the Assize Court, the foreman after delivering the verdict arose, and addressed Chief Justice Hunter as follows:

"We as jurymen who are summoned here are men of different walks in life. I have been informed by the sheriff that our wages here are to be $3.00 a day.

"Some of us are losing $4 a day and more by coming here, and we would like to see if there is some possibility of getting as much money as we are losing. Some of the men on this jury are getting $5, $6 and $7 a day.

"We are here, citizens of our country, to mete out justice to our fellow-men. We ask Your Lordship for a little of that same justice to be meted out to us in the way of wages for our attendance here."

His Lordship replied: "I regret to say the matter is not within my jurisdiction. A matter of that kind is dealt with in another building. You probably know the location of the building, but in case you do not I might say it is the Parliament Buildings."

"The wages of jurors was fixed many years ago and the Legislature in its wisdom had not seen fit to make any change. It is fixed by Statute and the Parliament Buildings are the place to go for relief.

"Falling to get relief there, there is a small box known as 'the ballot box' that sometimes gives relief." (Laughter.)

EXPRESSES THANKS

Sir Joseph Flavell Personally and Officially Sends Appreciation to B. C. Government

Premier Oliver has received a personal letter from Sir Joseph Flavell in which the latter expresses his personal and official appreciation, as Chairman of the Imperial War Memorial Board in Canada, of the assistance given by the British Columbia Government in the recovery of aeroplane wreckage and fire.

Sir Joseph especially mentions the Minister of Lands and the Chief Forester, under whose specific departments the organization work was so efficiently carried out.

Made Presentation to Teacher.—A very pleasant evening was spent by the girls of the Uno Animo Class, of the Naval and Military Methodist Church, Esquimalt, and their mothers, at the home of Miss Gwen Palmer, 625 Admiral's Road, on Tuesday evening. The following officers were installed by the pastor, the Rev. B. Hughes: Teacher, Mrs. Allen; president, M. Banyard; vice-president, I. Slatford; secretary, A. Raymond; treasurer, A. Smallwood; pianist, Gwen Palmer. After their business meeting had closed the girls presented their teacher, Mrs. R. Hughes (who will soon be leaving with her husband to continue their labors elsewhere) with half a dozen handsome cut glass tumblers, the mothers presenting her with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. The gifts were acknowledged by the recipient in a few well-chosen words. A delightful programme of music was rendered by the girls, after which the young hostesses served delicious refreshments. There are twelve of these girls ranging in age from twelve to fourteen, and under the guidance of their teacher they have raised during the past year $74.85 for church purposes.

ALMOST BLIND FROM HEADACHES

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time. Headache seems habitual with many people; indeed, some are seldom, if ever, free from it, suffering continually, and wondering why they can get no relief.

In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels.

The reason Burdock Blood Bitters makes permanent cures of all cases of headache, is because it starts the organs of elimination acting freely, and the poisons and impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells, and instead of pains and aches there is revived mentality and bodily vigor.

Mrs. Geo. Monck, Arden, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled a great deal with sick headaches, and at times would almost go blind, and have to go to bed. I tried different kinds of medicine without any benefit until I was advised to use Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking it I have not been troubled since."

B. B. B. is a purely vegetable remedy, and has been manufactured for the last forty years by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Nearly Every Girl Can Make Herself Pretty and Attractive

SOME WHOLESOME TRUTHS EVERY GIRL SHOULD THINK ABOUT.

Probably you know just such a girl, Perhaps she is sixteen—good to look at, and pretty—quite interesting because she reflects the graces and charm that give promise of happiness to herself and others. But she is not strong. The color in her cheeks, once so rosy, has faded away—her eyes are listless—the buoyancy of spirit and vigor she once possessed are sadly lacking. Parents, friends, this girl needs Ferronose—needs it that her blood may be renewed—needs it that restore the nerve force that growth, study and the development of her fresh youth have exhausted. This girl will become a queen with Ferronose—which will restore her color—bring back her old-time energy—give brightness to her eyes and vivacity to her spirits. In Ferronose every girl finds strength—then she can do things. In Ferronose there is endurance—that drives away morning tiredness and languor. For the girl or woman that wants to be happy, healthy, winning—who values rosy cheeks, laughing eyes and abundant good spirits, nothing can compare with Ferronose. 50¢ per box, or six for $2.50. ## TREATY GERMAN ARE ASKED TO SIGN USHERS IN NEW ERA admitted provided its admission is agreed to by two-thirds of the Assembly. A state may withdraw upon giving two years' notice, if it has fulfilled all its international obligations.

PERMANENT SECRETARIAT OF WORLD LEAGUE

A permanent Secretariat will be established at the seat of the League, which will be at Geneva.

The Assembly will consist of representatives of the members of the League and will meet at stated intervals. Voting will be by states. Each member will have one vote and not more than three representatives. (Council)—The Council will consist of representatives of the Five Great Allied Powers, together with representatives of four members selected by the Assembly from time to time. It may comprise additional states and will meet at least once a year. Members not represented will be invited to send a representative when questions affecting their interests are discussed. Voting will be by states. Each state will have one vote and not more than one representative. Decisions taken by the Council and Assembly must be unanimous, except in regard to the procedure and to certain cases specified in the covenant and in the treaty, of which decisions will be by a majority.

COUNCIL TO PREPARE DISARMAMENT PLAN

The Council will formulate plans for a reduction of armaments for consideration and adoption. These plans will be revised every ten years. Once they are made with any party to the dispute which complies with it, if a member fails to carry out the award the Council will propose necessary measures. The Council will formulate plans for the establishment of a permanent Court of International Justice to determine international disputes or to give advisory opinions. Members who do not submit their cases to arbitration must accept the jurisdiction of the assembly. If the Council, less the parties to the dispute, is unanimously agreed upon the rights of it, the members agree that they will not go to war with any party to the dispute which complies with its recommendations. In this case a recommendation is made by the Assembly that no members must exceed the armaments fixed without the concurrence of the Council. All members will exchange full information as to armaments and programmes and a permanent Commission will advise the Council on military and naval questions.

MEMBERS PLEDGED TO ARBITRATION

Preventing of war: Upon any war or threat of war, the Council will meet to consider what common action shall be taken. The members are pledged to submit matters of dispute to arbitration or to a quick and not to resort to war until three months after the award.

The members agree to carry out an arbitral award and not to go to war concurred in by all its members represented by the Council, and a simple majority of the rest, less the parties to the dispute, will have the force of a unanimous recommendation by the Council. In either case, if the necessary agreement cannot be secured, the members reserve the right to take such steps as may be necessary for the maintenance of right and justice. Members resorting to war in disregard of the covenant will immediately be debarred from all intercourse with the other members. The Council in such cases will consider what military or naval action can be taken by the

ALL TREATIES TO BE MADE PUBLIC

Validity of Treaties—All treaties or international engagements concluded after the institution of the League will be registered with the Secretariat and published. The Assembly may from time to time advise members to reconsider treaties which have become inapplicable or involve danger to peace. The covenant abrogates all obligations between members inconsistent with its terms, but nothing in it shall affect the validity of international engagements such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine for securing the maintenance of peace.

MANDATORIES FOR BACKWARD NATIONS

The mandatory systems: The tutelage of nations not yet able to stand by themselves will be entrusted to advanced nations who are best fitted to undertake it. The covenant recognizes three different stages of development requiring different kinds of mandatories: (a) Communities like those belonging to the Turkish Empire, which can be provisionally recognized as independent subjects to advice and assistance from a Mandatory in whose selection they would be allowed a voice. (b) Communities like those of Central Africa, to be administered by Mandatories under conditions generally approved by the members of the League, where equal opportunities for trade will be allowed to all members, certain abuses, such as trade in slaves, arms and liquor will be prohibited, and the construction of military and naval bases, and the introduction of compulsory military training will be disallowed. (c) Other communities, such as Southwest Africa and the South Pacific Islands, will be administered under the laws of the Mandatory as integral portions of its territory. In every case the Mandatory will render an annual report, and the degree of its authority will be for a defined period.

FAIR CONDITIONS FOR WORKING CLASSES

General international provisions: Subject to and in accordance with the provisions of international conventions existing or hereafter to be agreed upon, the members of the League will in general endeavor through the international organization established by the labor convention to secure and maintain fair conditions of labor for men, women and children in their own countries and other countries and undertake to secure just treatment of the native inhabitants of territories under their control. They will entrust the League with the general supervision over the execution of agreements for the suppression of traffic in women and children, etc., and the control of the trade in arms and ammunition with countries in which control is necessary. They will make provision for freedom of communications and transit and reference to the necessities of regions devastated during the war, and they will endeavor to take steps for international prevention and control of disease. International bureaus and commissions already established will be placed under the League, as well as those to be established in the future.

AMENDMENTS TO THE COVENANT

Amendments to the covenant will take effect when ratified by the

GERMAN BOUNDARIES CLEARLY SET DOWN

Germany cedes to France Alsace-Lorraine, 5,600 square miles, and to Belgium two small districts between Luxembourg and Holland, totalling 889 square miles. She also cedes to Poland the southeastern tip of Silesia beyond and including Oppeln, most of Posen and West Prussia, 27,880 square miles, East Prussia being isolated from the main body by a part of Poland. She loses sovereignty over the northeasternmost tip of East Prussia, forty square miles north of the River Memel, and the internationalized area about Danzig, 320 square miles, and the Basin of the Saar, 738 square miles, between the western border of the Rhenish Palatinate of Bavaria, and the southeast corner of Luxembourg. The Danzig area consists of the V between the Neugard and Vistula Rivers, made by the addition of a similar V on the west, including the city of Danzig, and the area between East Prussia and the area between East Prussia and the Vistula north of latitude 53 degrees 3 minutes is to have its nationality determined by popular vote. 7,785 square miles, as is to be the case in part of Schleswig, 2,787 square miles.

TERRITORY GIVEN TO BELGIAN NATION

Belgium: Germany is to consent to the abrogation of the Treaty of 1815, by which Belgium was established as a neutral state and to agree in advance to any convention with which the Allied and Associated Powers may determine to replace them. She is to recognize the full sovereignty of Belgium over the contested territory of Moresnet and over part of Prussian Moresnet and to renounce in favor of Belgium all rights, even the rights of Malmédy, the inhabitants of which are to be entitled within six months to protest against this change of sovereignty either in whole or in part, the final decision to be reserved to the League of Nations. A commission is to settle the details of the frontier and various regulations for change of nationality are laid down.

LUXEMBURG FREED OF GERMAN CONTROL

Luxembourg: Germany renounces her various treaties and conventions with the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg; recognizes that it ceased to be a part of the German Zollverein from January 1 last; renounces all rights of exploitation of the railroad; adheres to the abrogation of its neutrality and accepts in advance any international agreement as it is reached by the Allied and Associated Powers.

NO MORE MILITARISM AMONG THE GERMANS

Left bank of the Rhine: As provided in the military clauses, Germany will not maintain any fortifications or armed forces less than fifty kilometers to the east of the Rhine, and will not hold any manoeuvres nor maintain any works to facilitate mobilization. In case of violation "she shall be regarded as committing a hostile act against the Powers which intend to present the peace of the world." By virtue of the present treaty, Germany shall be bound to respond to any request for an explanation which the Council of the League of Nations may think it necessary to address to her.

ALSACE-LORRAINE WRONG IS RIGHTED

Alsace-Lorraine: After recognition of the moral obligation to repair the wrong done in 1871 by Germany to France, the people of Alsace-Lorraine, the territories ceded to Germany by the Treaty of Frankfurt are restored to France with their frontiers as before 1871, to date from the signing of the armistice, and to be free of all public debts. Citizenship is regulated by detailed provisions distinguishing those who are immediately restored to full French citizenship, those who have to make formal application therefor, and those for whom naturalization is open after three years. The last named clause includes German residents in Alsace-Lorraine as distinguished from those who acquire the position of Alsace-Lorrainers as defined in the treaty. All public property and all private property of German ex-sovereigns passes to France without payment of credit. France is to be bound to Germany as regards ownership of the railroads and rights over concessions of tramways. The Rhine bridges pass to France with the obligation for their upkeep.

GOODS FROM ALSACE INTO GERMANY FREE

For five years manufactured products of Alsace-Lorraine will be admitted to Germany free of duty to a total amount not exceeding in any year the average of the three years preceding the war, and textile materials may be imported from Germany to Alsace-Lorraine and re-exported free of duty. Contracts for electric power from the right bank must be continued for ten years. For seven years, with possible extension to ten, the ports of Kiel and Stralsund shall be administered by the Central Rhine Commission. Property rights will be safeguarded in both ports and equality of treatment as respects traffic assured the nationals, vessels and goods of every country. Contracts between Alsace-Lorrainers and Germans are maintained save for France's right to annul on grounds of public interest. Judgments of courts will hold in certain classes of cases, while in others a judicial exequatur is first required. Political condemnations are null and void, and obligations to repay war fines is established in other parts of Allied territories.

FRANCE WILL OWN SAAR BASIN MINES

The Saar: In compensation for the destruction of coal mines in Northern France and as payment on account of reparations, Germany is to cede to France full ownership of the mines of the Saar Basin, with their subsidiaries, accessories and facilities. Their value will be estimated by the Reparation Commission and credited against that account. The French rights will be governed by German law in force at the armistice excepting war legislation, France replacing the present owners, whom Germany is to undertake to indemnify. France will continue to furnish the present proportion of coal for local needs and contribute in just proportion to local taxes. The basin extends from the frontier of Lorraine, as re-annexed to France, north as far as St. Wendel, including on the west the valley of the Saar as far as Saarholzbach, and on the east of the town of Homburg.

In order to secure the rights and welfare of the population and guarantee to France entire freedom in working the mines, the territory will be governed by a Commission appointed by the League of Nations and consisting of five members, viz.—one French, one German inhabitant of the Saar and three representing three different countries other than France and Germany. The League will appoint a member of the Commission as chairman to act as executive of the Commission.

COMMISSION WILL ORGANIZE ASSEMBLY

The Commission will have all powers of government formerly belonging to the German Empire, Prussia and Bavaria will administer the railroads and other public services, and have full power to interpret the treaty clauses. The local courts will continue, but subject to the Commission. Existing German legislation will remain the basis of the law, but the Commission may make modifications after consulting a local representative Assembly, which it will organize. It will have the taxing power, but for local purposes only. New taxes must be approved by this Assembly. Labor legislation will consider the wishes of the local organization and the labor programme of the League. French and other labor may be freely utilized, the former being free to belong to French unions. All rights acquired as to pensions and social insurance will be maintained by Germany and the Saar. Commission. There will be no military service, but only a local gendarmerie to preserve order. The people will preserve their assemblies, religious liberties, schools and language, but may vote only for local assemblies. They will keep their present nationality except so far as individuals may change it. Those wishing to leave will have every facility with respect to their property. The territory will form part of the French customs system, with no export tax on coal and metallurgical products going to Germany nor on German products entering the basin, and for five years no import duties on products of the basin going to Germany or German products coming into the basin for local consumption. French money may circulate without restriction.

TO HOLD PLEBISCITE FIFTEEN YEARS HENCE

After fifteen years a plebiscite will be held by communes to ascertain the desire of the population as to continuance of the existence of the regime under the League of Nations, union with France or union with Germany. The right to vote will belong to all inhabitants over twenty years of age resident therein. Taking into account the opinion thus expressed, the League will decide the ultimate sovereignty. In any portion retained by Germany the German Government must buy out the French mines at an appraised valuation. If the price is not paid within six months thereafter, this portion will pass finally to France. If Germany should buy back the mines the League would determine how much coal should be annually sold to France.

GERMAN-AUSTRIA TO BE INDEPENDENT

Germany recognizes the total independence of German-Austria in the boundaries traced. Germany recognizes the entire independence of the Czechoslovak state, including the autonomous territory of the Ruthenians south of the Carpathians, and accepts the frontiers of this state as to be determined, which in the case of other nations shall follow the frontier of Bohemia in 1914. The usual stipulations as to acquisition and change of nationality follow.

TERRITORY TO BE GIVEN TO POLAND

Germany cedes to Poland the greater part of Upper Silesia, Posen and the provinces of West Prussia, on the left bank of the Vistula. A Boundary Commission of seven members representing the Allied and Associated Powers and one each representing Poland and Germany, shall be constituted within fifteen days of the signing of the peace treaty to delimit this boundary. Such special provisions as are necessary to protect racial, linguistic or religious minorities and to protect freedom of transit and equitable treatment of commerce of other nations shall be laid down in a subsequent treaty between the five Allied and Associated Powers and Poland.

FIXING OF BORDERS OF EAST PRUSSIA

The southern and the eastern frontier of East Prussia, bordering on Poland, is to be fixed by plebiscites. The first in the vicinity of Allenstein, between the southern frontiers of East Prussia and the northern frontiers of Regierungsbereich Allenstein, from where it meets the boundary between the circles of Ostelko and Angersburg, thence the northern boundary of Ostelko to its junction with the present frontier and the second in the area comprising the circles of Stuhm and Hohenburg and the parts of the circles of Marienburg and Marienwerder, east of the Vistula.

In each case the German troops and authorities will move out within fifteen days of the peace and the territories placed under an international Commission of five members appointed by the five Allied and Associated Powers, with the particular duty of arranging for a free, fair and secret vote. The Commission will report the results of the plebiscite to the five powers with a recommendation for the boundary and will terminate its work as soon as the boundary has been laid down and the new authorities set up.

The five Allied and Associated Powers will draw up regulations ensuring East Prussia full and equitable access to and use of the Vistula. A subsequent convention, of which the terms will be fixed by the five Allied and Associated Powers, will be entered into between Poland, Germany and Danzig, to assume suitable railroad communication across German territory on the right bank of the Vistula, between Poland and Danzig, while Poland shall grant free passage from East Prussia to Germany. The northeastern corner of East Prussia about Memel is to be ceded by Germany to the Allied and Associated Powers, the former agree-

Night-Time Time-Pieces

THE movement for the electric clock in the Toronto City Hall was brought over from England 21 years ago. It cost thousands of dollars. And it showed time in the dark.

About the same time very wealthy men were carrying in their pockets another kind of a time-in-the-dark time-piece—a watch that sounded the time for them on a tiny gong when they "pressed the button." This striking watch was known as a "repeater" and cost from $150.00 up.

Now you can buy a guaranteed Ingersoll Radiolite, the modern time-in-the-dark time-piece, for as low as $3.00. Instead of the old expiring striking mechanism to sound the time, the Ingersoll Radiolite glows the time. Genuine radium in the substance on the figures and hands does it.

It's the watch for up-to-the-minute-men, the leaders, the kind of men who get things before the crowd knows they are a necessity. The retailer has a complete line, including the $3 model pictured above. Now is the time to select. Look for INGERSOLL on the dial.

Rowland's Band Concludes Concerts.—The final of a series of ten concerts was given by Rowland's concert band at Pantages Theatre last Sunday evening to a most appreciative audience. The concert was arranged as a spring series which commenced at the beginning of March, it being originally arranged to give only seven, but so popular were the entertainments and in response to numerous requests, three additional concerts were added. At last Sunday's concert two very popular soloists were heard, Mrs. Eick, contralto, and Mrs. Pearce, baritone. Artists were recalled for their well-chosen solos.

Drives for Soldier Patients.—Arrangements are being made to resume the Monday drives for convalescent soldiers from Esquimaux Hospital under the auspices of the Red Cross Military Hospitals Committee. Motor car owners, who are able to devote a couple of hours to this method of showing their appreciation of our brave men's services are asked to communicate with Mrs. Curtis Sampson of Miss Mara.

Terry's Nominating Candidate.—Miss Irene Cloke, of Terry's Drug Store, has consented to allow her name to be entered as a candidate in the Popular Girl Contest of May 24, she being the fifth to enter the field. R. P. McLernan, secretary in charge of the contest arrangements, states that the first ten thousand ballot tickets have proved inadequate to meet the demand, and another order has been sent in to the printer.

Many women's organizations have promised their support to the Canadian Trade Commission's campaign to "buy Canadian-made goods" only, if possible.

Lemons Whiten and Beautify the Skin! Make Cheap Lotion

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier. Just try it! Make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, freshen and bring out the hidden roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful for rough, red hands.
Your druggist will sell three ounces of orchard white at little cost, and any grocer will supply the lemons.

Col. Mulloy Investigating Progress of Soldiers' Re-establishment Efforts on Coast

Colonel L. W. R. Mulloy, who was blinded while serving with the Canadian contingent in the South African war, has returned to the Coast on a visit.
A development of the work of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment which has been engaging the colonel's attention during the past few months in the East is the encouragement of citizens' repatriation leagues. One of these organizations which has been firmly established in Toronto has been enabled to do a great work with regard to solving the many individual problems that surround the question of getting the returned man back into healthy, useful and remunerative service for himself and the community. Another league is being organized at Winnipeg and others are in operation at Hamilton, Galt, Kitchener and a number of other places through the East.

Speaking of these leagues, Colonel Mulloy stated: "At this time has been the different elements and sections of the community should get together to meet the needs of the returned soldier. No situation exists now and no situation can possibly arise which cannot be settled to the benefit of all concerned if the people will. All our industrial, fiscal and social problems yield to co-operative efforts and, above all, we must have co-operation in the effort to pay the great debt of gratitude that we owe to the returned soldier who offered all he had for us."

The Citizens' Repatriation Leagues, said the colonel, are really an adaptation of the Whitley Council to settle questions as they arise between the returned soldier and his prospective or actual employer or between the returned soldier and the Government departments concerned with him, or between the returned soldier and the actual needs that confront him in any enterprise which he might embark upon in order to re-establish his civil position. "The leagues," said Colonel Mulloy, "are a means which we have discovered whereby we can harness the universal goodwill which exists towards the returned men."

In Toronto the Citizens' Repatriation League includes representatives of all organized charities, all the trade and business associations, the veterans' associations, the various citizens' leagues and associations, the Trades and Labor Council and other representative labor bodies, and from all these representatives is built up an executive of voluntary workers who grapple with each individual case as it arises.

ARTILLERY BOYS RETURN
Party of Fifteen Back From St. Lucia, Lieut. Raymond Waterson Also Returns.

After an absence of four years, fifteen soldiers, former members of the 5th Regiment, C. G. A., returned to Victoria yesterday afternoon from St. Lucia, British West Indies. Owing to a misunderstanding in the transmission of news regarding the movements of the troops, there was no one at the docks to welcome the boys. The official information was that they would not return until to-day.
The party, which came in yesterday, consisted of the following:
W. Kroeger, 1199 Fort Street.
C. A. Smith, 1382 Hebble Street.
Victor, 529 Beta Street.
E. J. Gallop, Vernon Hotel.
J. Acreman, 2023 Belmont Avenue.
R. Acreman, 1929 Ash Street.
H. G. Hawkins, 211 Sims Avenue.
Alex. McDonald, 1205 Fernwood Road.
K. F. Roberts, 1955 Duchess Street.
R. M. Roulston.
W. H. Stevenson, 222 St. James' St.
J. Stephens, 2325 Lee Avenue.
A. Garrell, Mt. View Apartments, Bushby Street.
J. Pendray, 111 Gorge Road.
T. O. Chapman.
M. C. Hall, Colwood.

Lieut. Raymond A. Waterson, formerly of the Seventh Battalion, returned to Victoria yesterday afternoon. He is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Waterson, 929 Empress Avenue, and is the first of three brothers to return. Lieut. W. Waterson is serving with the Air Force and Bomb. Fred Waterson is with the artillery in France.

DECREASE SEEN IN LOT CULTIVATION

Lot cultivation in Victoria shows a noticeable decrease this season compared with that of last year. It would seem by the figures now available that local gardeners have not responded as in the past two years. It is hoped, however, that even at this late hour the vacant lot agriculturalists of 1918 will decide to repeat their efforts again this year.
Last year the city attended to the ploughing of 750 lots, whereas this year less than 500 lots have required civic attention. A few more requests for ploughing are expected, but on the whole the general situation is not what the Aldermen had hoped it would be. On the other hand, most of the seed offered by citizens, through ready for sale at a rather late date, has been purchased.

It is reported from London that representatives of the Ethiopian Government in England waited upon the Canadian Trade Mission for the purpose of urging that trade credits be extended to their country. Owing to the unsettled state of that part of Europe, however, no arrangements could be made as yet.

VICTORIAN ORDER TO APPEAL TO PUBLIC
Will Hold Tag Day May 17 to Buy Car for Nurses' Use

The regular monthly meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses was held on May 6 at 2.30 p. m., at 1804 Cook Street. Mrs. Goulding-Wilson, first vice-president, presided, and eight members were present. Mrs. Schofield and Mrs. G. Wilson were appointed delegates to the Federated Service Council. The nursing report showed forty-two cases nursed during the month, 195 nursing visits, child welfare visits, forty-one; total visits, 256.
The chief item of business at the meeting was the forthcoming Victorian Order of Nurses' tag day, May 17, when it is hoped sufficient funds will be raised to buy a motor for the nurses' use. It has been proved in the past that a motor is a very great help in extending the work of the Order. During the recent "flu" epidemic the Order felt a very serious handicap in the lack of a car, and it was only through kind friends offering the use of their cars that patients were able to have the care and attention they needed. In view of the splendid work done by these the Victorian Order of Nurses, and especially the great help which the Victorian Order proved to be to the city during the recent epidemic, the board has made a special appeal to the City Council, for it is felt that Victoria does not hold its own with other cities in the Dominion, which also owe many a life to the services of the Victorian Order of Nurses.

SHOULD NOT USE ROAD AT EMPRESS HOTEL REAR

It has been noticed that there has been a good deal of use by the public, particularly by boys on bicycles, of the private road on the Empress Hotel property, which connects Humboldt Street with Belleville Street. On this road there is constantly a run of trucks on hotel business, and recently a boy on a bicycle was injured there. Mr. Humble, the manager, wishes to point out that the public use of the road absolutely at its own risk, and that, owing to the sharp corners, particularly on Belleville Street, other vehicular traffic is placed in jeopardy by using the private cut-off.
Under these circumstances it is hoped that the use of the road will be left to the legitimate purposes for which it was constructed.

Huns Criminally Prisoner.—Corporal John Day Bell, who enlisted in Victoria in December, 1915, and who was captured by Germans in the following June, and who remained a captive till the signing of the armistice, has returned to Prince Rupert. Corporal Bell recounts a long story of Prussian brutality. For daring to move slightly while undergoing "stand-to" punishment, he received a blow on the knee from a rifle butt in the hands of a guard, which has crippled him since. He suffered influenza twice and also pleurisy. He says the rank and file of the German people, from what he was able to observe, rejoice at the overthrow of militarism, and that the Kaiser were to go amongst them he would be killed. The working people of Germany were fond of saying "if we had gained the whole of France we would have lost more than through victory we have gained in obtaining freedom."

Heart Palpitated Could Count Every Beat

When the heart begins to palpitate, it will beat fast for several seconds, the slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of utter depression will come over your whole system, accompanied by weak, fainting and dizzy spells.
When the heart gets into this condition, you become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social, business or household duties.
Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief to all sufferers from any heart weakness or nerve derangements.
Mrs. Walter Greives, Apsley, Ont., writes: "I had been run down, and doctors told me I was anemic, but did not help me with their medicines. I could not sleep nights, my heart palpitated so, and I could count every beat. I used to have such dizzy spells I would have to go to bed. I was not able to do any work for eight months. A cousin of mine had taken Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and told me what they had done for her. I took eight boxes of them, and now I am able to help every day with the work. I am so thankful to tell others what they have done for me, so that they may try this great and wonderful remedy. I hope this may prove good to some one who is suffering the way I did."
Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

To-morrow We Commence a Big Five Days' Sale to Precede the Tearing Down of the Old Driard Building

The contract for the new building has been let. On May 14th the contractors take charge of the building work, and will proceed to dismantle the Driard building, in which many of our leading departments are established. These departments, until our new building has been completed, will be forced to occupy out-of-the-way positions in the basement and other portions of the store, and the problem with us has been how to keep up sales while the building operations were in progress, and minimize inconvenience to our customers.

After careful consideration it was decided to hold a five days' sale, which will give our many patrons an opportunity to enjoy values such as are seldom offered at this date in the summer, and also enable us to lower the stocks in the departments which have to move, as well as in other departments, where space will, for a time, be crowded. This sale will commence to-morrow morning and continue until Tuesday evening. Exceptional values in all lines will be offered, so anticipate your wants and save money.

TO-DAY'S AMUSEMENTS

"The Bondage of Barbara"

"Breed of Men," the new Artcraft picture in which William S. Hart, the Thomas H. Ince star, will make his appearance at the Dominion Theatre. In one scene Bill had to fight a bunch of real tough ruffians and he chose the toughest looking one in the lot. It was framed that at the word "go," Bill's opponent would fall to the ground after receiving a well-placed uppercut. After a hot preliminary skirmish, during which the camera had taken enough footage to insure a good scene, Bill yelled "go," but the tough kept right on fighting and refused to be downed. Three well-timed blows were required to lay the fellow out on the floor. "Why didn't he stop when I said 'go'?" Bill queried at the close of the mill. "Aw," one of the gang replied, "he couldn't hear a word you said." The next time he stages a fight scene Bill plans to use the semaphore system instead of the word-of-mouth system.

ROMANO

The names of a number of well-known film players are to be found in the cast supporting Harold Lockwood, the star in Metro's screen version of Holman Day's widely-read novel, "The Landloper," which will be the attraction at the Romano again to-day. Pauline Curley, who plays the leading feminine role, has a host of followers gained through her fine work in many important screen productions. She was Mr. Lockwood's leading woman in his recent Metro offering, "The Square Deceiver," and it was because of the pronounced success she achieved on this occasion that she was engaged for "The Landloper."

PANTAGES

Pantages plays an unusual display of novelty acts this week. The headline feature offers an extraordinary appeal. Gaultier's Animated Toy Shop is a turn presenting all the elements of popular entertainment to appeal to young and old alike. The children love ponies which portray with animated realism some of the most cherished remembrances of the nursery days. Willard's Fantasy of Jewels is one of the most unusual acts of the modern theatre. The musical routine of the turn is presented in a resplendent setting, literally ablaze with gems and brilliant lighting effects. Fox and Britt are two stellar entertainers with a fast turn they call "The Staydowns," in which there are abundant comedy situations. Harry Tsuda presents a series of balancing feats which demonstrate a remarkable mastery of the equilibrist's art. Joe and Rosie Moy are a young man and very pretty

VICTORIA KIDDIES ENTERTAIN AUDIENCE

Will Repeat Charming Opera at Princess Theatre To-night; Pretty Affair

With charming grace and sweet little voices that touched the heart-strings of everyone in the audience, the fifty Victoria kiddies forming the Connaught Seaman's Institute Juvenile Choir staged the initial performance of "Queen Flora's Garden Party" at the Princess Theatre last night. For all the effort that these youngsters have expended in an attempt to raise funds for the local sailor institutions and the carrying on of the work of the Boys' Naval Brigade, T. Wright Hill, the director, considers that Victoria should have made a much better response in the way of attendance than was evidenced last night.

Mr. Hill and his faithful group of assistants do not mind the weeks they have spent in training these little tots so long as the citizens of Victoria offer the right kind of encouragement for the development of the younger talent. The youngest performer is only five years of age, while the oldest is sixteen.

The affair is given under the auspices of the Victoria Branch of the Navy League of Canada. It was recently urged that this branch should maintain its own establishments. The Victoria Kiddies' aggregation was the first, since this decision, to come forward with a first-class musical play to help raise funds for the purpose, and Mr. Hill therefore expects that every man, woman and child in the city who wears a Navy League button will be in their seats at the Princess Theatre by eight o'clock to-night, when the performance will be repeated.

MUSICAL COMEDY AT ROYAL VICTORIA

"Going Up" is Attractive Play Bubbling Over With Wit and Satire

"Going Up," the newest musical play produced by Cohan and Harris, which broke all records for nearly two years at the Liberty Theatre, New York, will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre to-night and tomorrow.

Otto Harbach and James Montgomery supplied the book and lyrics that fairly bubble over with the pungent wit and keen satire, and throughout the story Louis A. Hirsch has woven a musical theme, plentifully punctuated with special song numbers that are said to be felicitously fascinating and witty, and its presentation here at the hands of an efficient cast of principals and a large and attractive chorus is awaited with that pleasurable anticipation that invariably follows the fortunes of Cohan and Harris, who have a predilection for presenting entertaining plays wherein the dominant note is cleanliness plus comedy.

The principal member of the company is Bobby Watson, whose droll humor has been exploited in many Broadway hits. His associates are Mary Lane, Bettie Parker, Lillian Raymond, Ethel Dale, Jay Dillon, P. H. Leonard, James H. Manning, Raymond Ellis, Wm. Wadsworth, Arthur Cunningham and others including a chorus background large as to numbers and particularly attractive as to presence and vocal accomplishments.

The story of "Going Up" is all about the author of a book on aviation, though he has never made a flight. His narrative is interesting and his facts so convincing that he is immediately accepted as a real bird-man. What is more natural than that his friends should want to see him perform some of his vividly described stunts in the air, and it is his efforts to avoid the journey that furnishes the fun in this brilliant musical comedy success.

WILL REPEAT PLAY

By special request, the play "Dick Whittington," which was produced on April 24 by the pupils of St. John's Sunday School, will be repeated tomorrow night in St. John's Sunday School. Great success was met with by the school on the occasion of its first production, and it was felt that a second performance was warranted.

No change will be made in the cast, but in addition to the programme as formerly given, a number of interesting musical features will be added tomorrow night by St. John's choir and Sunday School.

VICTORIA KIDDIES ENTERTAIN AUDIENCE

Will Repeat Charming Opera at Princess Theatre To-night; Pretty Affair

With charming grace and sweet little voices that touched the heart-strings of everyone in the audience, the fifty Victoria kiddies forming the Connaught Seaman's Institute Juvenile Choir staged the initial performance of "Queen Flora's Garden Party" at the Princess Theatre last night. For all the effort that these youngsters have expended in an attempt to raise funds for the local sailor institutions and the carrying on of the work of the Boys' Naval Brigade, T. Wright Hill, the director, considers that Victoria should have made a much better response in the way of attendance than was evidenced last night.

Mr. Hill and his faithful group of assistants do not mind the weeks they have spent in training these little tots so long as the citizens of Victoria offer the right kind of encouragement for the development of the younger talent. The youngest performer is only five years of age, while the oldest is sixteen.

The affair is given under the auspices of the Victoria Branch of the Navy League of Canada. It was recently urged that this branch should maintain its own establishments. The Victoria Kiddies' aggregation was the first, since this decision, to come forward with a first-class musical play to help raise funds for the purpose, and Mr. Hill therefore expects that every man, woman and child in the city who wears a Navy League button will be in their seats at the Princess Theatre by eight o'clock to-night, when the performance will be repeated.

Mrs. Lotta Madden to Sing at Friday's Concert; Attractive Programme

More than the usual interest attaches to the concert to be given by the Arion Club at the Empress Hotel on Friday evening by reason of the fact that the soloist of the evening will be Mrs. Lotta Madden, the gifted New York soprano. Mrs. Madden is visiting the coast cities in the course of a concert tour and has been received with acclaim on every hand. Her numbers will be as follows: "Aria from Massenet's 'Herold'; "In the Woods of Pinara" (Burling); "Wait Till An Put On Ma Crown" (Reddick); "The Bitterness of Love" (Dunn) and "Christ in Flanders" (Stevens).

In memory of seven of their numbers who have given their lives for the cause of humanity, the club will sing "In Memoriam," by Dudley Buck. Other numbers to be sung by the Arion Club are: "Hunter's Joy" (Artholz); "Brier Rose," S. Dehols; "Old Folks at Home" (arr. by Colin Coe); "Thuringian Volklied" (Polksong); "Farewell of Hiawatha," Arthur Foote; "In Memoriam," Dudley Buck; "Glory of God in Nature" (Beethoven); "Moonrise," J. Fuchs; "Home, Sweet Home" (arr. by Dudley Buck); "Strike the Lyre," Thomas Cooke.

Mrs. C. C. Warn will officiate as accompanist to their usual custom, the committee of the Arion Club is placing a limited number of tickets on sale to the general public, which can be procured at Kent's Edison Store.

SHILOH 30 DROP-STOP COUGH HALF TINY FOR CHILDREN

Build up for the Spring Attack! Put the body in condition for an invasion of the germs of grip, pneumonia or "Spring fever." At this time of the year most people suffer from a condition often called Spring Fever. They feel tired, worn out, before the day is half thru. They may have frequent headaches and sometimes "pimply" or pale skin and white lips.

The reason for this is that during the wintertime, shut up within doors, eating too much meat and too little green vegetables, one heaps fuel into the system which is not burned up and the clinkers remain to poison the system—a clogging up of the circulation—with inactive liver and kidneys. Time to put your house in order.

For an invigorating tonic which will clarify the blood, put new life in the body, sparkle to the eyes, and a wholesome skin, nothing does so well as an herbal extract made from Blood and Stone root, Oregon grape root and Wild Cherry bark, which has been sold for the past fifty years as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By reason of the nerves feeding on the blood, when the blood is pure the nerves feel the effect, and neuralgia or other nerve pains disappear because such pain is the cry of the starved nerves for food.

Stratford, Ont.—"I can highly recommend Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets. I have used these remedies twenty-five years in my family. Had a very bad case of neuralgia and 'Golden Medical Discovery' completely cured me in a very short time. I have given it to all my family, also to my grand children. I had a grand-child last summer that we thought could not live. We gave him the 'Discovery' and he is strong and healthy as any child could be. I am a great believer in Doctor Pierce's Medicines and would not be without them."—Mrs. A. Bowling, 268 Railway Ave.

Stratford, Ont.—"For many years I suffered with neuralgia. It would affect my head, extending down into my neck and shoulders. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and was completely cured."—W. J. Tans, 272 Railway Avenue.

SPEAKS ON PHASES OF CHILD WELFARE.

Mrs. Geo. W. McMath, of Portland, Addressed Women's Canadian Club

From time to time the members of the Women's Canadian Club have been given opportunity to hear the views of out-of-town speakers, but few if any have given so much pleasure or imparted so much useful common-sense information as Mrs. Geo. W. McMath, of Portland, who yesterday addressed the club on the subject of child welfare.

Rejected Recruits.

Dividing her subject into the three seven-year stages from birth to twenty-one years of age, the speaker dealt with the physical, mental, spiritual and vocational elements of child welfare. Commencing with the physical aspect—the physical phase to be considered in the early years of babyhood—she pointed out that nearly fifty per cent of the men registering for service with the American forces had been rejected on account of physical imperfections—a fact which should provide parents with much food for thought. Such a failure to come up to what was not a high physical standard was of grave import, affecting the very heart of the nation, for it meant that the industrial world was thus impaired by fifty per cent. In that these men could not accomplish what they should along the lines of industry.

Ignorant Parents.

In support of her contention that the physical well-being of the baby was the greatest step to the well-being of the adult, Mrs. McMath cited a number of instances arising out of her experience at the Parents' Educational Bureau in Portland. Since being opened in 1913, 9,000 babies had received genetic tests at this bureau, and the number of questions asked by the parents of these children had revealed the appalling ignorance in the care of children on the part of many of the parents. And this ignorance was not confined to the lower classes alone, but was to be found in apparently well-educated people. In this bureau expectant mothers and mothers of little children heard lectures from physicians who gave their services free, in addition to the examination of babies.

Declaring that the father should share with the mother in the intimate care of infants, Mrs. McMath expressed the opinion that the father who had not grown up with his child from the day of its birth could not step in when that child had attained the age of fifteen or sixteen. Some of the claims levelled at their fathers by boys and girls of sixteen or thereabouts was justly deserved, for the fathers by reason of their absence during the babyhood of their families, often failed to understand their sons and daughters.

Playgrounds vs. Reformatories.

Speaking of the period of seven to fourteen years, Mrs. McMath made a plea for directed play, asserting that much of the evil into which boys of the early teen age fell was due to their falling in with "gangs" on the streets. Few boys were inherently bad, she continued, but because there was no attempt to lead their energy and youthful spirits in the right direction, it found outlet in wrongdoing. She declared that one of the most dangerous features attendant upon boys being left to their own devices in the streets was that it gave them opportunity to sit around and talk, thus leading to mischief. To avert this she strongly advocated the establishment of supervised playgrounds. "It is really cheaper to put your money into supervised playgrounds now than into reformatories later on," said Mrs. McMath, amid applause.

Choosing a Vocation.

Consideration of the vocation into which a boy or girl was to enter was the most important matter in the period from fourteen to twenty-one years, continued the speaker. In this regard she described the practice made by many parents of worrying about the child's future when the boy or girl was at an age when they should be free to enjoy the happy time of youth that never comes again in life. The matter of vocation usually adjusted itself, but to assist in that adjustment there should be established vocational training schools, with specially trained "vocational guidance" teachers who would be able to guide the child's natural bent or aptitude along the right lines.

Appealing to parents not to be guided by the "social position" of the family when choosing vocations for their children, she took the stand that "we must readjust our views and realize that it is perfection in honest work rather than the chase of work that counts. The man who goes out and engineers a piece of manual work is equally wonderful with the doctor or the professional man." The mercenary motive should not be the greatest factor in choosing a vocation. It was better to have a man indulge in work which gave him pleasure in the doing and at the same time earn an honest, comfortable living, than to follow an occupation which, while it paid well, was not along the line of the man's natural bent or inclination.

Referring to the establishment of part-time vocational schools under the Smith-Hughes Educational Act of America, Mrs. McMath pointed out this system was opening a wonderful field for the boy or girl who was forced at an early age to take a share in supporting the family. While learning a trade or profession these children could continue their education, and in education the speaker saw the greatest offset to that ever-growing spirit called "industrial unrest" in America but by another name in Russia. Every child worker entering a factory should be taught that there was room at the top of the ladder and should be encouraged to work for that goal. "We must realize that in our boys and girls lies the strength of our civilization, and that our first duty must be to fit the youth of the country to carry out the work that our boys across the water gave their all for, she concluded.

Mrs. Spofford moved and Mrs. Frank Andrews seconded the vote of thanks to the speakers. Prior to the address, solos were delightfully rendered by Mrs. Lasenby, accompanied by Mrs. Chas. Conyers, and by Mrs. G. Downard.

PNEUMATIC BICYCLE TIRE WAS PIONEER

Broke the Trail for Automobile and Motorcycle; Dunlop Took the Lead

J. B. Dunlop invented the pneumatic bicycle tire in 1888, and it was in 1894 that the Dunlop Company commenced the manufacture of the pneumatic bicycle tire in Canada, so that for nearly a quarter of a century Canada has been vitally interested in this industry. That event is probably the most remarkable thing in the whole history of tire events which followed, because the success of the motorcycle and the automobile have been largely based on the success of the pneumatic tire, which in their case, of course, was at first merely an enlargement of the Dunlop bicycle tire. The success of the bicycle in its present form hinges on the introduction of the pneumatic tire principle, which, as noted previously, undoubtedly has been one of the most beneficial events that man's genius has brought about. This statement ought to clear up a point that does not seem to be appreciated by as many people as it might be: that the automobile itself, as far as the tire proposition is concerned, is not basic, but is an evolution of the pneumatic tire idea, which was brand new with the bicycle. Therefore, in dealing with bicycling people are getting to the bottom of conditions and principles that brought in the use of the pneumatic tire, and which by making riding comfortable immediately made it universally popular.

Previous to 1888, when Dunlop gave to the world his wonderful invention, the pneumatic bicycle tire, cyclists had to satisfy themselves with a then crudely-built solid rubber tire which lacked the vibration-and-shock-absorbing qualities which users of present-day wheels can enjoy from Dunlop tires.

About 1897 bicycling was so tremendous in its influence that streets in Toronto like Yonge and Wellington were altered and brick strips put in so that bicyclists could have a clear space to themselves. It is probably true that in no other phase of sport has such action been inaugurated by any city before or since, and what was true of the Queen City was true of other Canadian cities in a lesser degree.

To get a clear idea of just what a tremendous interest was centred in bicycling in the early nineties one has simply to recall some of the things that happened in the racing end of the sport. When people consider the great amount of time and exertion required in training and that the great interest in the event was largely centred in the personality of the teams, it is certainly amazing to find that thousands of people would walk any distance imaginable to see a bicycle race. In those early years of bicycling it was not unusual for teams to travel one hundred or two hundred miles to Toronto to contest in the Dunlop races.

Public Should Demand Original Nuxated Iron

Physician Warns Against Danger Of Accepting Substitutes—Says That Ordinary Metallic Iron Preparations Cannot Possibly Give The Same Strength, Power and Endurance As Organic Iron—Nuxated Iron

The remarkable results produced by Nuxated Iron and its widespread sale (it being estimated that over three million people annually are today using it) has led to the offering of numerous substitutes, and these physicians mentioned below say that health officials and doctors everywhere should caution the public against accepting substitutes for Nuxated Iron, as these substitutes instead of being organic, often fail to obtain the vital energy, strength and endurance which they seek simply because they have taken the wrong form of iron. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to secure the original Nuxated Iron. See how long you can work or how far you can walk, without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength and see how much you have gained.

Danzig and Thorn

By Hilaire Belloc in The London Morning Post.

Danzig, upon the Baltic, and Thorn, the inland town higher up the Vistula Valley, are united by a main road and a main railway. These two points and the communications binding them together are the test of the present international situation. If Danzig and Thorn remain Prussian, or if one of them remains Prussian in the terms of the Allied Powers, or, at any rate, the European interests of the Allied Powers, have lost the war. They have not only lost the war in the vague sense of that phrase, which is that they have lost the general object of securing a permanent peace, they have lost it in the particular sense that their particular and only dangerous enemy will realize.

The menace imperilling European civilization arose from two things: First, that a great body of various States, of whom about half were German-speaking, but among whom even those had no true organic unity, were combined upon the plausible promise of success under the leadership and organization of one highly distinct and not very German people; secondly, that the not very German thing thus controlling them and launching them to the assault was Prussia.

Now, Prussia was created by an artificial junction between a body of German populace lying to the west of Poland (and in touch with all the other Germanies), and an isolated corner of German colonization, the centre of which was Königsberg. Between the two lay Polish ground. In that Polish ground, in that belt which cut off East Prussia from the territories of the Margrave of Brandenburg, ran the Vistula, and flourish (with whatever guarantee you will) under the sovereignty of Poland. The conception of Danzig as something that would suffer an agony of separation from some imaginary German mother is fantastic. It has never desired to enjoy such. Indeed, this conception of a supposed strictly united-German nation (which never existed and never will) is at the root of half the pedantic folly now threatening us with the loss of all we have won. Danzig would be perfectly content under the new regime; it would flourish, without special subsidy, as it never has in the past century, because it would be the unique port of the new kingdom; it would re-establish those relations which it has lost with the West. But all that is arguing as though one had to be a friend of the enemy. If we keep the main issue alone in view, which is to prevent the resurrection of the evil which nearly killed Europe, and especially to prevent the domination of the Baltic, and with it the discovery of yet another rival at sea, Danzig is the touchstone. On what we do or do not do with Danzig within the next few days the future depends. All the continent of Europe sees that. It is said that many Americans do not see it—and there is no reason why they should. Of instructed England, I think a majority certainly sees it. It is vital to the future of England that this majority should be reinforced by a strong public expression of opinion at this critical moment.

Now, the difficulty with which we are always met when this imperative necessity is presented is that Danzig is a German town. We were never met (oddly enough) by the truth that Thorn is a Polish town. It is true that Danzig speaks German. It has done so since the great massacre of the Fourteenth Century. It is not true that Danzig could not on that account exist

TRANSPORTING CANADA'S SOLDIERS HOME

A Big Task.

A returning soldier on a transport in a Canadian harbor is not expected so philosophically await the facilities of transport. A cheering crowd of an inland town, waiting for troop train to arrive, isn't likely to be perfectly patient either. But a fairly large proportion of the workers of Canada—those engaged in railway service—are putting in long, strenuous days, these times of demobilization, to get the transport back to their homes with the least delay possible.

Just how great that work of rail transport is may be surmised from the fact that from March 17 to April 23, both dates inclusive, this year, from the port of Halifax there have been handled over the rails of Canadian National Railways to interior points 19,009 military passengers. This colossal movement required the utilization of 107 special trains as enumerated in this newspaper from time to time, and it speaks volumes for the self-sacrificing zeal of the rank and file of the roads that this total of almost fifty thousand men have been moved as swiftly and silently as if the total had been but a tenth of those actually transported.

Probably never again will Halifax see such a procession of great ships loaded with soldiers in that magnificent harbor. The list, day by day, is imposing.

On March 17 the Carmania docked at 9:15 a.m. with 2,769 soldiers and 175 civilians. The ticketing was rush through and nine special trains were despatched in six hours. Two days later the Celtic warped in to her berth at 7:40 in the evening. She carried 2,810 troops of all ranks. In less than four hours the soldiers had been forwarded, the actual time for despatching being placed at two hours and a half. The day following, March 20, the Baltic docked. She carried 2,200 returning men, to handle whom five specials were sent out in three hours and thirty-five minutes. There was an interval of four days before the Celtic docked at 8:05 a.m. with 1,802 soldier passengers. Again four specials were moved out in two hours and forty-five minutes. Next day, March 25, the Royal George, with 1,388 troops aboard, docked at 11:45 a.m. Three specials were despatched in one hour and three-quarters.

Then came the giant Olympic with 4,846 aboard. High winds prevented her immediate docking and the troops, or most of them, had to be brought off by tenders. This proved a laborious job for all concerned, but by dint of hard work, special after special was sent forward until the great liner was cleared. This consumed a great deal of time, and, before there was much time to think about it, the Cedric with 3,520 men and the Minnehada with 2,451 reached dock, both on March 27. Eight special trains were utilized to handle the complement. It is at this point in the records that the first prominent mention is made of the large amount of military baggage to be handled. On the same date the Caronia docked at 8:10 p.m. She carried 2,384 passengers and eight specials were despatched in four hours. On April 9 the Megantic arrived in harbor with 1,178 soldier passengers and 200 civilians, a total of 1,378. The Megantic did not dock at once and the disembarkation of troops was carried on by tender, necessarily a slow, laborious process, but three soldier and one civilian special had been despatched in two and three-quarter hours. On the day following the Lapland docked at 5:30 in the evening with 1,974 passengers and in a little more than six hours later four specials were despatched. Eight days later, April 18, the Carmania docked at 7:25 p.m. with 2,600 troops. Six specials were despatched in a little more than six hours. There is also a note in the records in the case of this ship about the quantity of baggage to be handled. Two days later, April 20, the Adriatic arrived at 5:25 p.m. with 1,341 passengers. Four hours after the time of docking four special trains had been despatched.

Then on April 21 the Olympic was back again. She docked at 11:50 a.m. and carried 5,572 military passengers and 300 civilians, a total of 5,872. Eleven special trains were despatched within seven hours and a half, and a civilian special was also sent forward carrying about 200 passengers. There was an unusually large amount of baggage to be handled, but this is regarded as one of the best troop movements since the first of the year. On April 23—the Belgic, with 3,320 officers and troops aboard, came in a day ahead of schedule. Six hundred of these passengers were dispersed from Halifax, but the remainder were moved over C. N. R. rails in seven special trains.

The handling of these 49,009 troops and civilians by special train movement is regarded in Canadian railway circles generally as a highly satisfactory performance, but it reflects special credit upon the staffs of the old Government lines which are now the Maritime Provinces portion of Canadian National Railways. The railway service is keenly responsive to the great obligation of handling such large bodies of troops over long distances by rail. There is also a desire on the part of the trainmen to facilitate the movement of the trains with all possible speed and the men in the operating departments especially are carrying, and will continue to carry, heavy responsibilities until the last troopship with the last body of Canadian troops shall have been cleared from the ocean ports.

Big Work of Y.M.C.A.

Help the "Y" Complete Its Service for Soldiers. Help the "Y" Continue Its Work.

THE Young Men's Christian Association was the one organization of its kind that brought comfort and good cheer for the soldiers right up into the front line trenches. In 1918 the Y.M.C.A. maintained forty-five Red Triangle centres within the "Corps Area," where Canadian soldiers were in action, in reserve, or resting within radius of German shells. Stores and headquarters were moved seventeen times last year to keep up with the troops.

Since the war began in 1914 the Y.M.C.A. has administered the expenditure of approximately $14,000,000 and has accounted for every dollar.

In the last four-and-a-half years, thousands of workers—civilian, military, paid and voluntary, men and women, experienced and inexperienced—have been engaged in Y.M.C.A. work for the soldiers. But the work of the Canadian Y.M.C.A. during the war stands to-day and for all time, a solid, unshakeable record, an achievement which Canada may honestly regard with pride. And Canada led all the nations in this work. Beyond shadow of a doubt, the work of the Canadian Y.M.C.A. for the soldiers has proved worthy of your support, and deserves a continuation of that support.

Help the Y.M.C.A. make the Home-Coming of Canada's Soldiers Happy.

Help the Y.M.C.A. carry Red Triangle Service into Canada's industries.

Help the Y.M.C.A. repair the war wastage of Canada's manpower by developing Canada's Boys.

Help the Young Women's Christian Association care for the soldiers' dependents coming from Overseas.

Let Your Subscription be as Generous as the Work Deserves.

The Public Attitude to the Soldier

The Sydney Record in an editorial under date of April 22 very pertinently says: The soldier will not be and does not desire to be overfed with hero worship; nor can he justly look for any position beyond his ability to fill and here again we know that he does not expect any such pampering.

And, furthermore, he has also the right to the consideration and respect on the part of his fellow citizens that will outlast even a well-earned public reception.

To restore a vast army to civil life is a long and difficult task. But, if we inculcate into the minds of our returned boys the belief that the interest of all our citizens in their future well-being is not a mere transient phase, which begins and ends in a public welcome, we will aid much in removing that bitterness of feeling in the mind of many a returned man who mayhap is too impatient in the case where "Hoop deferred maketh the heart sick."

The manner of our treatment of them depends greatly on our feeling to this to be a pleasure and a privilege, as well as on the degree of personal acquaintance possessed. Common sense is the best monitor. The art of social intercourse is more or less a gift; and, if attempted by some is often apt to be a source of either amusement to the returned man or of an embarrassment to both.

There are numerous ways by which the returned soldier can be assured that he is and will continue to be an object deserving of our gratitude and respect. Such an attitude, intelligently persevered in, will be a great aid to all governments—civil, local and Dominion—in dealing with one of the most perplexing problems of our times.

We are led to these remarks by a timely suggestion delivered from the pulpit of St. Andrew's on Sunday evening that all returned men be met by some volunteer at the station and that save us the reproach of having any war-worn soldier chilled at the very outset by being made to feel that his return was a matter of little moment to any but his near relatives.

IN A MANNER OF SPEAKING. "The Judge seems quite sweet on the young widow." "What you might call legal tender."

Bad Breath IS CAUSED BY CATARRH

Canadians suffer more from Catarrh than from any other disease. On this account Catarrh is dangerous and should be checked at the outset. It isn't necessary to take internal medicine to cure Catarrh. There is a far better method. Doctors now treat Catarrh by sending a purifying, healing vapor through the breathing organs. In this way the germs of Catarrh are destroyed. The only successful vapor treatment is CATARRHOZONE, which is patient breathe through a special inhaler to the real seat of the trouble. The rich, piney essences of Catarrhozone heal and soothe all inflamed surfaces. They effectively treat the nose, throat and lungs with a powerful antiseptic that destroys irritation at once. Catarrhozone brings into the system the balmy air of the pine forest. It cures completely colds, coughs, catarrh, wens, throat and bronchitis. Once tried, Catarrhozone is always used. Nothing so pleasant, so simple, so quick to relieve, so absolutely sure to permanently cure. Accept no substitute. Large size $1.50. Last two months' supply $1.00. Sample size 50c. at all dealers.

Following in the wake of the Arabia Maru is the O. S. K. liner Manila Maru, which is due to make port on Sunday with passengers and cargo from Hongkong, Manila and Yokohama. The Manila Maru has 160 tons of freight for British Columbia ports and total of 297 passengers for disembarkation here and at Seattle. The B. C. passengers are made up of fifty-nine Japanese and thirty-five Chinese in the steerage.

AUSTRALIAN TRAVEL SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Liner Niagara Brought Largest List of Passengers in Many Months

Tourist travel from the Antipodes is on the increase. Among the 500 passengers on the Australian ship arriving here last night were a large percentage of tourists, many of whom are bound for points in Europe. On his way from Sydney to London, Hon. Dugald Thomson, Australian statesman and at one time Minister of Home Affairs in the Reid Administration, arrived aboard the liner Niagara. Mr. Thomson, who has been out of political harness for some years, is bound for England on private business. He is accompanied by his brother, N. M. Thomson and two nieces. Members of the "Chiausqua" company, in charge of C. G. Bradford, were passengers on the Niagara. They are returning to the United States after touring the Australian countries. This troupe of players left here last week on the "Chiausqua" and the tour was not a conspicuous success. Several prominent prohibition advocates returned from New Zealand. Rev. R. B. Hamilton, who has been active in the prohibition campaign in New Zealand, was met at the wharf by George Bell, M.P.P., Mrs. E. Rhodes, and a number of other prominent prohibitionists. J. Sandes, of the Sydney Telegraph, passed through on the Niagara, and is going to London as a special correspondent of an Australian publication. J. Fyfe Smith, a prominent business man, came on the liner, and proceeded to Vancouver.

WHALING ENGINEERS STRIKE IS BROKEN

With the dispatch of three more whalers to the stations it is generally conceded that the strike of whaling engineers has been broken. Since the strike started, three weeks ago, the steam whalers St. Lawrence, William Grant, White, Blue and Black have been manned by certificated engineers having no affiliation with the National Association of Marine Engineers, and dispatched to the whaling grounds.

VETERAN DISGUSTED WITH VLADIVOSTOK

Morbidly Inclined Soldiers Visited Morgue, He Declares

"Vladivostok, well, it is the best place in the world to get away from," was the way one of the men who left from Victoria about six months ago and arrived home on the Montague, commented on the Siberian port. "Every day seemed as long as a week, and the longer we stayed there the more distasteful the place seemed to be. We had nothing to do at all, and wondered why we were there. The monotony became almost unbearable," said the veteran, who has been serving since the early stages of the war, and transferred to the Siberian Expeditionary Force for another journey overseas. "The camp where we were stationed was several miles outside of the city, so we were spared the filth of the port. We visited the city on inspection tours, and it was the dirtiest place I was ever in. No regard at all appears to be paid to sanitary conditions, immorality is rife, and the conditions generally are disgusting." "The Canadian soldiers while he was there were called into positions," stated, or warned to be ready and the stories of wholesale murder and slaughter coming from Russia were not in the neighborhood of the Canadian troops, said. "The morgue, however, did a good business in Vladivostok," he said "although there were no open murders so far as we knew. Some of the morbidly inclined of the troops used to visit the morgue to see the bodies. It was a really full. Bodies were thrown naked across the floor without any evidence of respect for the dead."

AMUSING INCIDENTS

The quarantining of the passengers was not without its amusing incidents. As the last boatload of passengers left the Niagara the ship's bugler played "Goodbye," and as it rounded the stern he sounded the strains of "Over There." Of fifty-eight cases admitted to the hospital on the island, six were of a case of half a dozen others it was doubtful if they had ever had influenza. On the Niagara it is claimed that the infection was not of a highly virulent type.

SEARCH FOR SALE

It is stated aboard that the New Zealand authorities were quite unprepared for the disembarkation of passengers, but no quarrel was sought with anyone save the administrative quarters ready when the decision was reached to put the passengers ashore. The passengers appreciated the steps taken by the Union Steamship Company, and by the ship's staff to ensure their comfort. While the food was plain, it was good and wholesome. The Niagara arrived at Auckland from Sydney on April 2, and was released and allowed to proceed on her voyage here April 19. She touched at Suva and Honolulu and experienced a fair passage.

DROWNED AT SEA

While stemming between Suva and Honolulu a Japanese passenger, Tadashi Okabe, committed suicide by leaping from a port-hole. Okabe, who was declared to be wealthy, is believed to have ended his life in a fit of melancholia. A lifeboat was lowered when the alarm was given, but no trace of the man was seen. The Niagara reached William Head at 6 o'clock last night.

BORROWING

In quaint and simple days of yore A man would lightly borrow A raincoat which stranger owned Without a trace of sorrow.

It was a common form of sport, A widespread sort of fun; But now men borrow motor cars Without the least compunction.

FATAL ACCIDENT CUT OFF POWER YESTERDAY

James Blanshard Killed by Falling Wire at Otter Point

Electric power in Victoria was cut off yesterday afternoon when a heavily-charged wire from the Jordan River plant fell to the ground near Otter Point instantly killing James Blanshard, a logger who was working nearby. Logging operations were being carried on with the overhead system of transporting logs when suddenly, due to some hitch in the manipulation of a donkey engine, a cable took a sudden swing toward the electric wires which ran from pole to pole along the road-side. Blanshard and several other men were working with logs and fastening the hooks and chains around them. Though the engineer, noticing the movement of the cable, gave the alarm, Blanshard in his eagerness to escape with the other men, slipped, and the falling wire struck him. Death, it is believed, was instantaneous. The body was removed from the underbrush by a Hindu who was working at his side, and who also narrowly escaped being killed.

When the Provincial Police were notified of the fatal accident Superintendent William McMynn dispatched Constable Owens to the spot. The remains will be brought to town in order that an inquest may be held. Blanshard applied for work with the Eastern Logging Company only yesterday and was given a job. He was about thirty years old, and had returned from the front where he had served with the Canadians for some time. He is believed to be unmarried but a sister, Mrs. Strong, is a nurse at the Jubilee Hospital. As a result of the accident electric power was shut off and car traffic suspended for more than an hour, the wires being connected shortly after half-past three o'clock. Considerable crowds of people waited for cars on the street corners while business houses and workshops depending upon electrical power for the continuance of work were put to great inconvenience.

WHEN TO GATHER ROOTS AND HERBS. For medicinal purposes, roots and herbs should be gathered when their medicinal properties are at their best. For instance, roots of annual plants should be dug just before their flowering season, and roots of biennials or perennial plants after the tops have dried. All these things are taken into consideration in gathering the roots and herbs, many tons of which are used annually in preparing that most successful of all remedies for women's ills, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A little masculine remembrance often goes a long way with a woman.

DOCKYARD COMES IN FOR MUCH CRITICISM

G. W. V. A. Displeas'd With Way Returned Soldiers Are Treated at Esquimalt

Esquimalt dockyard came in for some scathing criticism at the regular meeting of the Great War Veterans' Association last night. Several weeks ago it was brought to the attention of the association that returned men were not getting the preference at the dockyard, and the matter was immediately taken up with the Dominion secretary, who was requested to interview the authorities at Ottawa. The reply from the secretary was read at the meeting last night, and it stated that the Government was trying out its policy wherever possible of giving employment to the returned boys. "That's some more hot air from Ottawa," stated the speaker, who proceeded to tell of an incident which had just been brought to his attention. A young man who had been liberated in the East during the war returned here and applied for employment at Esquimalt. At the same time many returned men were being discharged owing to lack of work, he stated. "The work at the dockyard can be run by cripples," remarked another comrade. "There are many civilians who have been there since the war started and they time they got out. We must see that our crippled comrades are put into these jobs."

Statements were also made that the authorities at Esquimalt were to blame more than those at Ottawa, whereupon it was decided to have a committee to-day interview Capt. Martin, R. N., who is in charge of the yard, and see if the soldiers cannot be better treated. Endorse: Red Shield Drive. The association decided to endorse and lend its full weight to the Red Shield Drive to be commenced in this city at the end of May by the Salvation Army. In response to an appeal from Adjutant Todd, twenty-one members offered to assist the Army in whatever capacity they could during the drive. The association also offered financial assistance although the sum could not be announced. The financial committee, however, has been empowered to make as large a grant as the funds of the association will permit.

Adjutant Tuttle gave a short address and explained the work which the Salvation Army is doing in Canada in its splendid endeavor to assist returned men. He stated that the work which he was assisting in tracing relatives of the men who had shifted about and had become lost during the war. Then he spoke of the establishment of maternity homes at the ports of landing for the care of soldiers' wives. No one was better able to do this work, he said, than the Salvation Army, through the fact that it had so many women trained in this particular sphere. Many children had been left on the hands of the Army, stated the adjutant, through the death of the mother at home and the sacrifice of the father in France. The Government might expend a lot of money and place these children in the highest homes, but this would not do them any good, which the heart and the soul that the Salvation Army is in a position to do. "This is not a few words for us," explained the adjutant, "the work might be at it for a long time. We are simply putting our efforts in a new line."

Asiatic Employment. Comrade R. Berry was given fifteen minutes in which to speak on the Asiatic question. He stated that there were 300 returned men out of work in the city at the present time. With Asiatics out of their jobs these men could easily be employed. He quoted the instance of a small mill, which had received a number of Government orders, which had 150 Orientals in its employ. In the box factory of this mill there was employment for many one-armed men. It was true that returned men were offered employment there, but only at the Oriental rate of pay.

The statement was made by lumbermen that owing to competition they could not pay higher wages. This contrasted remarkably, stated the speaker, with the fact that the British Columbia, in the past many firms had been mulcted through receiving worthless information. He advised the sending of a man of repute to England by the Government, and the Great War Veterans to select the man. Registration of Veterans. The registration of returned men was discussed fully and it was decided to ask the Government to appoint the following registrars so that the men might be placed on the list immediately they returned. The names to be submitted are as follows: Comrade Duggan, James Bay; Comrade Magarity, Fairfield; Comrade Blair, Victoria West; Comrade R. Berry, Ward 3; Comrade Pearce, Cloverdale; Comrade Food, Oak Bay; Comrade Clark, Esquimalt. The Government will also be asked to make the secretary of the association a notary public.

ASTRONOMERS VISIT SAANICH OBSERVATORY

In order to view the heavens through the giant telescope, the Victoria Centre of the Astronomical Society in a body visited the Dominion Astro-physical Observatory, Saanich Hill, last night. At the invitation of the director, Dr. J. S. Flankett, nearly 100 people were present. At the moon had been viewed by everyone the instrument was trained upon Saturn. As the night was particularly clear the planet was seen to very rare advantage. Among other officers of the Astronomical Society the following were present: J. W. Umbach, vice-president; Dr. Houghton and Shotbolt, members of the executive; J. P. Hudson, treasurer, and K. M. Chadwick, secretary. A. W. McCurdy, a member of the Dominion Royal Astronomical Society executive, was also present. On behalf of the organization W. S. Drewberry, President of the Victoria body, thanked Dr. Flankett for the pleasure which had been afforded.

SOLDIERS AS TEACHERS. In an editorial the Kingston Standard says: "The Hon. Dr. Cody, Minister of Education for Ontario, is working hard at a scheme to obtain soldiers as teachers, and this should be made known as extensively as possible. He considers that no one can teach patriotism or have much good influence upon children as the returned soldier, particularly when children are such eager worshippers as they undoubtedly are. "But it will not only be patriotism which the returned soldier will be able to teach so well; there will be all those other qualities which go to make up both the good soldier and the good citizen; discipline, courage, determination, consideration for others and such like. "Further than that, the soldier's mind will have been broadened and deepened by these adventures and travels abroad, and this will have its effects upon the children's education. "Dr. Cody is also at work upon obtaining salaries for teachers which are worth while and ought to be paid, so the returned soldiers should pay special attention to this new avenue of useful and remunerative employment. What Ontario is doing in this line might be done also by other provinces to the lasting good of Canadian national life."
