The Standard Psalmist; Arranged for

Four Voices, with Organ or Pianoforte Accompaniment.

By W. H. Birch, Organist of St. Mary's, Amersham.

This work is intended as a Companion to the Rev. W. J. Hall's "Selection of Psalms and Hymns," and also as a means of effecting a revival of congregational singing; each psalm and hymn has a tune, selected from the best authors, suited to the words, which are printed, by permission, underneath it; will be found a great boon to the choir-master, and a musical treasure for private devotional singing.

Parts I. and II. are now ready, price 1s. 1d. each.

"This work, even in the present age of cheapness, may be considered a marvel—32 pages of music for less than as many half-pence, consisting of church melodies, which breed devotion by their sacred tones, and these the best of this class of composition. They are very tastefully arranged, so that the work will doubtless become standard as a church work, or for the family circle. The typography, by Broadwater, of Amersham, is well executed."—Illustrated News.

London: Hall, Virtue, and Co., 25, Paternoster-row; and Jewell and Letchford, 17, Soho-square.

NEW MUSICAL WORK.

On the 1st of July, 1853, it is proposed to publish, Price One Shilling, and continue monthly, a New Musical Work entitled—

The Organists' Remembrancer. — The

Twork is intended to be a guide and companion to all Organists, particularly when plain chanting and Psalm singing alone is adopted. The work will comprise, every month, the music or suggestion of music that may be used on Sundays in the month. The following will serve as an outline of the work, viz:—MORNING—Voluntary, "Holy, Holy," (Handel); Venite Chant, (Hayes in F); Te Deum Chant, (Jackson in Bb); Jubilate Chant, (Boyce in F); Psalm, "St David's," (Ps. verses); Sanctus, (Gibbons in F); Responses, (Beethoven in F); Psalm, "Mount Ephraim," (Ps. verses); Voluntary, "Gloria in Excelsis," (Mozart). EVENING—Voluntary, "What tho' I trace," (Handel); Magnificat, Chant, (Cooke in Bb); Nunc Dimittis, (Mornington in Eb); Psalm, "Manchester," (Ps. verses); Psalm, "St. James," (Ps. verses); Voluntary, "Be not afraid," (Mendelssohn); and the work will contain a leading article on the Authors whose compositions are inserted or suggested, and the object will be to bring our English musicians into notice, many of whom are too much in the back-ground. It is to be hoped that the work will be of great service and assistance to Organists. Of course all the music will not be inserted, but chiefly the Chants and Psalm Tunes: The insertion of the whole would make the work too expensive, and the low price of One Shilling will place it within the reach of every musician. The music will be carefully selected and arranged, and contributions from English musicians of their own compositions or otherwise will be received for insertion; also, any suggestions for the work will be thankfully received. Advertisements will be inserted at the usual charges. Subscribers' Names and Advertisements will be received by Messrs. Addison and Hollier, 210 Regent-st.
