ELECTORS OF VICTORIA REGISTER THEIR VOTES

Liberals Confident Hon. Mr. Templeman Will Have Majority When Polls Close This Evening--- Two Personators Arrested

After a campaign of exceptional importance, in which the keenest political debaters on both sides have been engaged, the electors of the city of Victoria were called upon today to cast their votes for the representative of the Capital City of the province at Ottawa.

The personality of the candidates, the memory of the forged telegram of three years ago (which it is admitted defeated the Minister of Mines and Inland Revenue), and the great issue (reciprocity) all contributed to this end, and a record vote was certain. The morning opened dull and cold, with prospects of rain, but as the time wore on for the opening of the polls at nine o'clock the sky cleared, and the sun was shining brightly by the time the first vote was polled.

The returning officer, A. M. Bannerman, had made admirable arrangements, and for the first time the electors at a federal election had an opportunity of voting by wards instead of at a central polling station.

As there are about 8,200 names on the register, an advance from the figures of 1908 due to the normal growth of population, the work of the party agents was vastly increased, and as a quite 90 per cent. were expected to exercise the franchise the work of the deputy returning officers was considerable. Special arrangements had been made by the city, and also employers of large numbers of men, to enable them to exercise their vote before the close of the polls at five o'clock. The civic workmen received two hours' leave with full pay.

The candidates, three in number, were working throughout the city, and were fully supplemented by their assistants. Several attempts at personation were made early in the day, but were frustrated owing to the activity of the Liberal scrutineers.

Both sides were well supplied with automobiles. Vehicles and every kind of traction machine were pressed into service to secure a record vote. So far as the Liberal side is concerned, Gordon Brown, was concerned, his candidature was regarded merely as a test of strength of the Socialist element in the city, and was not taken seriously. As it has been the rule to put up a Socialist in the city on each occasion since the last, the position of the candidate was not unusual. About 300 votes were conceded him as a maximum.

The interest in the city is much deeper than the superficial observer would believe. The announcement of Mr. Templeman that the Dominion Government would take the hand in an effective and comprehensive scheme for the city, to place the harbor among the first ports of the Pacific coast, in preparation for the opening of the Panama canal, had impressed the public and raised the enthusiasm of many who were otherwise apathetic. Others friendly to the Conservatives were dissatisfied by the tactics of the Liberal newspaper during the campaign, and anxious to show their resentment by voting at the polls against the Conservative candidate, Mr. Barnard.

whom they also considered should, in common decency, have resigned when he discovered how the electorate had been duped in 1908 with a forged telegram.

The campaign had produced a deeper interest in politics with the recognition that the elector had a chance to vote something for himself, and enter an emphatic protest against the high price of living on this coast.

The deputy returning officers will commence the count immediately after the close of the poll, and progress announcements will be made while the figures are being enumerated.

Polling Early

A tour of the polling booths at noon showed that while the bulk of the vote would not come in till after three o'clock, when the working men would be freed from their labors, the morning work had been satisfactory. At twelve o'clock at the five booths about 1800 had voted, and more were coming in with the dinner hour.

At convenient intervals to the stations, old stores and buildings being pressed into service, while one Conservative committee room was a tent with boarded floor on a vacant lot. At ward one station, the W. C. T. U. rooms, Store street, about 300 had voted at noon, and polling had proceeded without incident.

At ward two Meaton's carriage works, Broad street, there was very brisk business at the tables, and the largest polling in the city was anticipated. Mr. Templeman was here making personal investigation of the progress of the poll and expressing his confidence in the result. The number who had exercised the franchise here at twelve o'clock was 520.

The electors of ward three were slow in voting, and only about 250 had been to the polls at mid-day. The rush was anticipated here from 3 p. m. onwards.

Ward four electors, whose polling station was at the new Jameson building, Broughton street, had exercised the franchise to the number of 234 at noon. No incident had occurred.

At the drill hall, where the electors of ward five were voting, 403 having attended at the mid-day hour, voting proceeded very quietly, though there were a good many cars busy round the James Bay district bringing in men.

Personators Arrested

By 2 o'clock two arrests had been made for personation at the polling booth at ward two, and also an attempt had been unsuccessfully made at the drill hall, where ward five electors were voting.

The precautions taken seem to have acted as a useful deterrent to the more venturesome of the candidates, who were afraid of hearing the army of officials in the booths.

Election Returns

Anyone desirous of learning the results of the election as the returns are telegraphed to Victoria this evening will be able to obtain satisfaction on ringing up "central" election bureau after 6.30--but not before.

has been successful in heading off anything like a general suspension of industrial activity which might develop into a revolution.

Dispatches from Valencia, Ferrol, Coruna, Seville and Saragossa describe those places as tranquil to-day.

Fire on Rioters

Jativa, Spain, Sept. 21.—A battalion of troops which arrived here from Madrid to-day was received with volleys of stones from rioters. The troops responded by firing, killing one townsman and wounding four others. The soldiers occupied the place.

Will Resume Work

Bilbao, Spain, Sept. 21.—The local strike committee, having, as they affirmed, proved the solidarity of labor, decided to-day that work should be resumed to-morrow.

Industry at Standstill

Gijon, Spain, Sept. 21.—Suspension of work was complete to-day. All the business houses and industrial work with the exception of the gas and electric plants were closed.

FOUND DEAD IN BED

Well Known Mining Man Dies Suddenly at Ketchikan

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 21.—Samuel Lichtenstader, resident member of the Arctic Club, principal stockholder of the famous Mount Andrew copper mine on Prince of Wales Island, and a mining man of world-wide renown, was found dead in bed of heart disease yesterday morning at the Steadman hotel in Ketchikan, Alaska.

Mr. Lichtenstader left Seattle on August 1 last to inspect his property, which recently had been placed under contract with the United Smelting & Refining Company for $2,500,000. He was in the best of health at that time. He was one of the original participants in the great Klondike rush. He wintered in 1897 at Fort Yukon. It was there that he got the information which led him to seek out and later develop the property on Prince of Wales Island, which he named Mount Andrew.

Mr. Lichtenstader was born June 10, 1857, in Wiesenfeld, Bavaria, Germany.

TROOPS CONTROL CAPITAL OF SPAIN

MORE MEN OBEY ORDER TO STRIKE

Prompt Action by Authorities Prevents General Suspension of Work

Madrid, Sept. 21.—The men employed in the building trades of this city obeyed the strike order and quit work to-day. Thirty thousand men are involved.

The military holds the capital in a close grasp and acting under the authority of the imperial decree suspending the constitutional guarantees the government is maintaining a firm attitude toward the labor leaders who, it is said, are being used by revolutionary agents to further a campaign of violence against the state.

The streets had their usual appearance to-day, except for the presence of soldiers doing picket duty and the absence of cabs. No disturbances were reported at police headquarters up to early afternoon. The strikers have seriously interfered with the publication of the newspapers. El Pais, Correspondencia de Espana and La Manin were not issued to-day. El Imparcial and El Liberal appeared, but with less than their usual number of pages.

Dispatches from the provinces reporting the general situation throughout the country are closely censored, and the news is determined to appear that the prompt and fearless course adopted by the government

BIG VOTE IS BEING RECORDED

POLLING IN PROGRESS THROUGHOUT CANADA

Electors in Large Cities in the East Go Early to the Polls

Montreal, Sept. 21.—Canada is polling today the heaviest vote in its history to register its decision as to whether the government and reciprocity are to be endorsed or defeated. In all the provinces—polling booths were opened at 7 a. m. and closed at 5 this afternoon. The Australian ballot system prevails throughout the Dominion. Even in the smallest constituencies an hour will be required for the counting of votes, so no result will be known here before six o'clock. As many ridings are very large and the population is widely scattered, the results in them will not be learned until after midnight. However, unless the decision is very close, enough constituencies probably will have been heard from before 10 o'clock to indicate accurately the general results.

To-day's vote is being taken in 214 of the 221 constituencies. Seven are not voting. Three Ontario counties gave their decision on a previous day, a week ago, returning Liberals by acclamation. In the remaining four, owing to wilderness conditions which retard official election preparations, voting has been deferred two weeks.

When the polls were opened this morning there were crowds of electors at all the city booths, waiting to cast their votes.

Ready for Trouble

Chief Campeau, anticipating more or less rioting, and especially between Nationalist and Liberal adherents, has requested the controllers to provide him with three automobiles to convey police reserves to any point where trouble breaks out. The controllers have voted a necessary sum.

Bourassa Mobbed

Montreal, Sept. 21.—(Later.)—Dispatches from all over the Dominion indicate one of the largest votes ever cast at a general election in Canada. Workers on both sides were early in the field and long before the hour for the opening of the polls long lines of voters were standing in line, eager to cast their ballots. This was particularly so in Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Halifax and the larger cities.

The interest in the rural districts was not less than that in the centres of population, and it is upon the heavy farmer vote that the government is chiefly depending for success. From all points come reports of everything progressing quietly and orderly.

One of the closing incidents of the campaign was the mobbing of Henri Bourassa, leader of the Quebec Nationalists, at St. Hyacinthe, Que., where he was billed to speak last night. A crowd of about 2,000 persons attacked him on his arrival and pelted him with stale eggs and stones, ruining his clothes, but doing no other damage. The incident is supposed to be in retaliation for the booting of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Montreal by a crowd of Bourassa sympathizers the night before last. St. Hyacinthe is the district now represented by Bourassa in the provincial parliament, and it was supposed to be solid for the Nationalist party.

A Montreal French newspaper has devised a novel scheme for letting the people of this city know the result of the election. It has arranged with the public lighting company to shut off all lights in the city at 9 o'clock for an interval of ten seconds if Laurier wins and for two intervals of ten seconds each if Borden is the victor. Inasmuch as more than 90 per cent of the houses of Montreal are lighted with electricity, the citizens will be able to know which way the count goes without leaving their homes.

A unique feature of to-day's polling was the voting of 300 Chinamen in a district otherwise almost wholly French. They enjoy the right of franchise because they were born in Hongkong and therefore are British subjects.

Leaders Vote

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—Among those who deposited their ballots early were Sir Wilfrid Laurier and R. L. Borden. Sir Wilfrid voted in Quebec at 10 o'clock, and about the same hour Mr. Borden cast his vote in Halifax.

In Toronto

Toronto, Sept. 21.—The battle of the ballots is on and reports from all parts of the province indicate that an exceptionally large vote will be polled. The weather is dull and threatening, with rain in some places.

In Toronto every rig and vehicle of all sorts have been commandeered by one or the other of the parties and it looks as if every vote will be polled in Centre Toronto particularly, where it is thought the Liberal candidate, Alderman Alfred Maguire, has a better chance than any of his political confederates. The workers are doing everything to ensure victory.

In order to prevent any crooked work as many as possible of the polling booths are being watched by the police. To make their services available all the cases in the courts in which detectives and police are connected were postponed. In the police court the same procedure is being followed. So that everyone will have a chance to exercise his ballot, many city manufacturers will close their works at 3.30. The city hall will close at 3.

BULLETINS TO-NIGHT

The election returns will be bulletined in detail by the Times this afternoon and to-night as they come in. Returns from the East will begin to come in soon after 3 p. m.

The count of the city vote will begin soon after 5 p. m., and the figures will be bulletined at frequent intervals as the count progresses.

In Quebec

Quebec, Sept. 21.—Not in many years has such keen interest been manifested in the city and district of Quebec elections as is evidenced to-day in all quarters. The number of voters polled is large and everything is proceeding peacefully.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is resting here at the Chateau Frontenac, where he will receive the returns of the election to-night.

In New Brunswick

St. John, Sept. 21.—Perfect weather prevails in this city and vicinity and a very heavy vote is being polled. Everything is progressing quietly and so far no disturbances have been reported.

The country poll is reported to be unusually strong.

POPULATION MAY EXCEED 8,000,000

CENSUS RETURNS STILL COMING IN

It is Expected Figures for Whole of Canada Will Be Completed Next Week

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—Census returns for the whole of the Dominion of Canada ought to be completed very shortly now, probably next week. Returns are still coming in and it is impossible to judge what the population of Canada will be. Employees of the census department, however, who have an interesting contest to be decided by the publication of the census. The favorite figures are around 8,000,000 although they go even higher. It is expected by employees that the population will prove to be well over the eight million mark.

MOROCCAN NEGOTIATIONS

French Cabinet Will Meet To-morrow to Consider Germany's Latest Suggestions

Paris, Sept. 21.—The cabinet will meet to-morrow and examine the latest suggestions from Berlin, which it is expected, will be delivered by courier to-night.

The interview that French Ambassador Cambon had with the German minister for foreign affairs, Herr von Kiderlin-Waechter, yesterday, confirms the French impression of the conciliatory disposition of the German movement and heightened the prospects of an early arrangement regarding Morocco.

Berlin, Sept. 21.—The German minister for foreign affairs, Herr von Kiderlin-Waechter, and the French ambassador, M. Cambon, conferred again to-day on the compromise proposals regarding the economic status of Morocco, further progress toward the settlement of which is reported.

The newspapers are highly optimistic.

SENT TO ASYLUM

San Jose, Cal., Sept. 21.—Rev. Father Thomas E. Sherman, son of General William Tecumseh Sherman, was committed to the state hospital for the insane at Agnew to-day, following an attempt at suicide yesterday at Los Gatos. Rev. Father Sherman, accounted one of the most brilliant orators in the Jesuit Order, came west from Chicago a few months ago in an endeavor to regain his health, his nervous system having suffered a severe breakdown. While here he has delivered lectures in many coast cities. Lately he has been resting at Los Gatos, but his condition has been growing worse. Yesterday he procured a revolver and threatened to kill himself. He was brought to this city and described his condition rationally to the examining physicians. He agreed that he would be more likely to regain his health under special treatment at the asylum and was committed.

COLORADO TRAGEDY

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 21.—In the absence of any clue to substantiate a motive for the murder of Mrs. Alice Burnham, her daughter Alice, aged 6, and her son John, aged 3, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Wayne, found dead in their homes here yesterday, authorities here hold the theory that the crime was committed by some enemy of one or both families. The two families, who lived in adjoining houses, were murdered with an axe while they were asleep in their beds, indications pointing to the night.

PERSONATORS ACTIVE AT PRAIRIE CAPITAL

Liberals Cause Twenty-five Arrests—Six Prominent Conservative Workers Arrested Charged With Aiding Personation

Winnipeg, Sept. 21.—Up to noon to-day the Liberals had arrested 25 personators and six prominent workers of Haggart's committee were arrested for aiding and abetting personation.

Among the workers arrested were: "Dusty" Holden, proprietor of the notorious Moose Club; A. M. J. Johnston, chief license inspector for Manitoba; Charles Gerrie, inspector of the court house; W. Veitch, wholesale liquor merchant, and Ralph Glube, proprietor of the Belmont hotel.

The weather is bright and a tremendous vote is being polled. Dozens of people were standing all morning in front of the booths. There are 25,000 names on the list.

Election day was ushered in with a heavy fog, following the rain of yesterday. It is impossible for farmers to carry on their threshing operations, and for this reason a heavy vote is being polled in the country.

In this city 600 provincial constables, 200 Dominion constables and a vigilance committee of 1,200 Liberals are guarding the polls to prevent personation and "plugging."

More Arrests

Winnipeg, Sept. 21.—(Later.)—Sixteen Conservatives arrested to-day for perjury and personation in connection with the elections, and a booze joint discovered funneling full blast above the Conservative committee rooms at 903 Main street, were sensations made in north Winnipeg, where Hon. Robert Rogers has his coat off directing the work of his machine.

Several more arrests followed this afternoon, for despite every warning there appears to be a wholesale attempt at personation.

M. STOLYPIN'S LIFE SACRIFICED

VICTIM OF INTRIGUES IN OFFICIAL CIRCLES

Many Arrests in Russia as Result of Inquiry Into Tragedy

St. Petersburg, Sept. 21.—Full exposure of the scandalous criminal intrigues in high governmental circles leading to Premier Stolypin's assassination, are forbidden, says the Novoe Vremya, for patriotic reasons.

The paper says that only a mere fraction of the findings of the minister of justice, who is investigating the assassination of Premier Stolypin at Kiev, can ever be published. Only General Trepoff's prompt measures in thwarting a coronal about the secret police, says the Vremya, prevented the escape of Bogroff from the hands of justice. Col. Kullabako made a strenuous but unsuccessful effort to have the prisoner kept at the secret police headquarters, instead of in the fortress.

Had Trepoff surrendered Bogroff to Kullabako, the paper declares, few details of the crime would ever have become known. The inquiry into the assassination of Stolypin with particular reference to revolution and the police involved is being conducted personally by the minister of justice. Greater sensationalism than those so far published is expected. Kullabako, director of the department of police, Verigin, is under strong suspicion by the authorities who hold that he is in a measure responsible for the outrage.

The protection of the emperor and the cabinet ministers at Kiev formed the subject of departmental discord. Governor-General Trepoff demanded general oversight of the protective measures, but was overruled by the minister of justice. Trepoff then tendered his resignation, which was not accepted. Kurloff, Verigin, Lieut.-Col. Kullabako, chief of the secret police, organized the protection which cost $100,000. While Verigin and Kurloff were at Kiev on the eve of the emperor's visit, Dmitry Bogroff was consulted and given the responsible position of guarding the premier, as he promised to track suppositious Terrorists, Nina Alexandrovna and Nicholas Jacovitch.

It is incomprehensible to those engaged in the inquiry how a subordinate as Verigin dared to disregard Stolypin's circular regarding revolutionary suspects and allow Bogroff, a boy and informer, to follow the premier, without even setting other agents to watch him.

Verigin was Kurloff's right hand man and maintained close relations with Kurloff's family. Kurloff against Stolypin's most determined opposition married the divorced wife of a young adjutant. Stolypin made the matter one of personal confidence to the emperor, but Kurloff's influential supporters at court overruled the premier.

Many alleged accomplices have been traced to the revolutionary side and a vast number of arrests are being made throughout Russia. The police have been searching in vain in St. Petersburg for a Terrorist bearing the nick-name of Hergmann.

A domiciliary search has been made of the rooms of the correspondent of a London newspaper and his brother residing in the lodgings of the Liberal authoress, Mme. Tyrkova.

She was arrested on the frontier while re-

BORDEN PROBABLY DEFEATED IN HALIFAX CITY

Rathwell, Conservative, is slightly in the lead at Moosejaw, and McLean, Conservative, in Saskatoon, but outside votes are pulling down the city majorities in the Liberals' favor.

In Manitoba the Liberals have the following seats:

Dauphin, Cruise.

Provencher, Molloy.

Conservatives are leading in Minnedosa, Brandon and Portage in Prairie by the city vote.

TWO THOUSAND INSURGENTS SLAIN

Force Besieging Cheng Tu Suffers Heavy Loss—Foreigners Unable to Leave

Cheng Tu, Sept. 21.—It is estimated that a total of 2,000 insurgents besieging Cheng Tu have been killed. The foreign residents have not yet been able to leave the capital.

To Protect Americans

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—For the protection of Americans in the disturbed province of Szechuan, China, the United States gunboat Helena has sailed from Hankow for I-Chang, the highest point on the Yangtze river. American war vessels can go. The Helena will be reinforced by the gunboat Samara, now at I-Chang.

PERU'S RAIN TREE

Attention has been called from time to time to natural curiosities in various corners of the globe, but the following contribution from Peru deserves a place among the most curious of all.

Peru has a rain tree which affords protection against drought. This tree is supplied with large leaves which have the property of condensing the moisture of the atmosphere and precipitating it in the form of rain. When the rivers are at their lowest, during the dry season, and the heat is intense, the condensing capacity of the tree appears to attain its maximum, the water falling from the leaves and forming a continuous stream, flowing over the surrounding soil and nourishing the parched ground.

It is stated that a single tree will yield an average of nine gallons of water per day, and it has been estimated that if a plot of ground a kilometre square be planted with 10,000 trees, a daily yield of about 30,000 gallons would be available for irrigation, after making all allowances for evaporation, etc. The rain tree appears to be indifferent as to the soil in which it grows, can withstand extreme fluctuations of climate, needs but little care in its cultivation and grows rapidly.

Under these circumstances one is inclined to believe that it would provide a simple and effective method of reclaiming the desert, and that the cost of widespread cultivation of the rain tree would be amply repaid, inasmuch as there are vast tracts of country in all the five continents which at present have no economic value, owing to absence of water supplies. For irrigating the soil, which might easily be secured by the systematic culture of the rain tree, would be secured by irrigation by means of ditches.

BANK OF ENGLAND RATE

London, Sept. 21.—The Bank of England raised its discount rate from 3 to 4 per cent to-day, a week later than last year, in order to protect its reserve against possible unexpected demands before the usual autumn gold shipments are thoroughly under way.

Curiously enough, money remains remarkably cheap and plentiful, but a measure of protection is considered necessary in view of the continental political situation and the advanced bank rates at Berlin, Belgium, Sweden and Denmark, with early rises possible at Vienna and Paris.

DANGER OF FAMINE

Manila, Sept. 21.—Danger of a famine in the Philippines on account of the failure of the rice crop has become so threatening that Governor-General Forbes decided to-day to order the purchase by the government of an entire shipload of the cereal in Rangoon. The cargo will be sold to the people at cost. The price of the staple on the markets here has advanced away above all previous records, with only a small supply in sight.

TWO STEAMERS AGROUND

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 21.—The steamer Rosedale, of the Inland Lines, Ltd., is ashore near Iroquois, and the steamer Pallat, of the Merchants' Mutual Line, is aground in Lachine Lake. Both vessels were wrecked on Monday night, Sept. 18, after lightening grain barges.

HUNDREDS THROWN INTO PRISON

DRASTIC STEPS TO CHECK TROUBLE IN SPAIN

Troops Are Moving Toward Town Which is Held by Revolutionaries

Madrid, Sept. 21.—The government, acting under the decree of Tuesday, suspended the constitutional guarantees because of revolutionary activity, has ordered the arrest of workmen's committees and political agitators in the disturbed districts. Three hundred persons were imprisoned in this city Tuesday night.

Among those arrested here was Senor Largo Caballero, general counsel for and vice-president of the General Union of Labor. His offices were closed.

The general strike in this city called for yesterday was prevented by the action of the authorities and the railways are running as usual.

Thirty thousand men of the building trades received an order this morning to strike.

The military is taking extra precautions. Detachments of troops are stationed at the principal points of the city: at every station, public buildings, schools, convents, and markets. The military has taken into its keeping arms and munitions of every description which were on sale.

Complete quiet reigned at the capital yesterday.

Similar military measures have been taken in other cities. The whole army is under arms. The soldiers are doing police duty.

Arrests were made during the night in several provincial cities. At Barcelona 158 persons were apprehended and many were taken into custody at Bilbao, Seville, Valencia, and Saragossa.

The revolutionaries apparently are still in possession of Jativa, toward which troops are marching from Valencia. At Jativa and Carcasente, rioters set fire to the public buildings and tore up the railroad tracks.

VILLAGERS AND TROOPS CLASH

Eights Follow Attempts to Take Inventory of Church Property in Portugal

Lisbon, Sept. 21.—Notwithstanding the recognition of the Republic by the Powers and the apparent tranquility of the country, the general situation is far from settled.

The Diario Noticias says state officials Tuesday proceeded to Penacova, eight miles from Coimbra, to make an inventory of the church property to be confiscated by the state. The inhabitants, advised of their approach, sounded the church bells and gathered to the number of more than 1,200.

The vanguard was formed entirely of women, armed with pitchforks, knives and shotguns. The women numbered 300 and the local military forces were unable to resist the onslaught and fled ignominiously.

Strong reinforcements were dispatched to the scene and a fierce fight followed, the inhabitants being forced to give way. The officials burst the doors of churches only to find the edifices empty. Paintings, statuary, tapestries, etc., had been removed and hidden.

The same thing happened in the churches of neighboring villages and the officials were forced to abandon the district.

BARNARD WINDS UP THE CAMPAIGN

Premier McBride Prophecies a "Solid Seven" Conservatives From the Province

In a great round-up of flamboyant speechmaking Premier McBride escorted G. H. Barnard, the Conservative candidate for the city of Victoria, through the last phase of the battle last night and placed him high and dry on the amiable shores of hope, with the assurance that the flowing tide of Liberalism would not rise so high as to dislodge and drown him.

Despite that friendly announcement Mr. Barnard did not appear willing to take things for granted and therefore once more displayed his stock of political knowledge for the benefit of those few in his audience who might know less, and by virtue of their lack, be induced to believe that he knew the whole business.

It was the premier, however, who attracted the most attention. The meetings which were held in the Broad street hall and the Crystal theatre—he addressed both of them—and were received most cordially at each—were very largely attended and when the premier rose to relieve the "supers" who had held down the fort pending his arrival his personal popularity received its full mark of distinction.

Having just returned from a tour of the mainland, where he had made his very bustling groan heard, the Liberal government and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, it was natural that he should have something to say concerning the prospects of the election so far as the province was concerned. In this respect he did not disappoint his hearers. He claimed that a "solid seven" of Conservatives would be returned to Ottawa to protest against the introduction of the reciprocity pact, and he endeavored to substantiate his claim by referring to the historic prophecy which he made in regard to the last provincial election on that occasion, despite the fact that and erroneous report of Conservative newspapers of the province, they had carried every seat but four; this time they would carry the whole business.

Having thus disposed of the need for going to the polls to-day the premier turned his attention to local matters, and the thing which first came to his mind was and not unnaturally either, in view of the situation, the Hon. William Templeman. He attacked Mr. Templeman on his public record and endeavored to show that he was a promise-breaker. He drew back the curtain of time and showed Mr. Templeman three years ago advocating the harbor improvements, and drew the gratuitous inference from that episode that in the interval the hon. gentleman had been idle in regard to that important matter. A political bribe was what he described the promise of the breakwater as. He asserted that Mr. Templeman had been forced to the extremity of offering that bribe to the electors of Victoria in the hour of his desperation (or something like that). In his death throes, that is his political death throes, Mr. Templeman had realized that nothing but the promise of a breakwater could save him from the wrath of the electors on this occasion and it was not to be wondered at therefore that the premier should be averse to seeing him escape the whipping he deserved and get the votes instead. As a public man he thought that Mr. Templeman should have been above such tactics, and as a minister of the crown he certainly should not have been guilty of it. Furthermore he asked them to consider the breakwater scheme from another point of view. The work was admitted to be necessary. It should have been done years before when Mr. Templeman promised it; but in the event of Mr. Barnard being returned to Ottawa did they imagine that the work would not go on? He had no hesitation in saying that after looking over the situation it would be a Conservative government which would construct that breakwater which had been promised so long.

After deprecating the attitude of Mr. Templeman in regard to the future of Victoria as reflected in the alleged language of dodgers concerning work, he came back to where he should have started (but did not)—reciprocity—and wound up his speech with the simple little illustration of eight millions of Canadians going into the melting pot with ninety millions of Americans and blindly hoping that the result of the fusion would be half and half. The more the question was studied—in that way—the more preposterous did it appear, he said, and he could not understand how any sane man, even a Liberal, could be induced to vote for such a proposition. His last word was to the effect that Canada was not for sale, a statement which roused the house to a pitch of great enthusiasm.

G. H. Barnard, the candidate, reiterated his well-known views about the reciprocity pact, which he now understood is a plank in the government platform, and while he did not devote his whole attention to an elucidation of its principles he endeavored to illuminate it with a last attempted burst of pyrotechnical language. Having achieved that end (with the kindly indulgence of his hearers) he took the cue from his leader, and transposed himself some three years nearer to the forgotten era to which he belongs, and for the remainder of his speech he handed out historic instances and examples of government duplicity, unfaithfulness, and the sundry other offences which only Liberal governments can be capable of committing, according to his political faith.

Hon. A. E. McPhillips delivered a short speech in about an hour and a half and five columns. The opening paragraph contained the speech and thereafter he had to "peddle" against an interesting little text which he took from the "Solid Seven" speech, which what hackneyed but nevertheless useful habit of repetition. He condemned Sir Wilfrid Laurier and lauded Sir John A. Macdonald; vituperated the reciprocity treaty and commended the national policy; protested against the

Every Other Treatment Failed But "Fruit-a-lives" Cures

Grande Ligne, Que., Jan. 2nd, 1910.

"My wife was greatly distressed for three years with chronic Eczema on the hands, and the disease was so severe that it almost prevented her from using her hands. The doctor gave her several ointments to use, but none of them did any good. He also advised her to wear rubber gloves and she wore out three pairs without getting any benefit. As a last resort, I persuaded her to try "Fruit-a-lives," and the effect was marvelous. Not only did "Fruit-a-lives" entirely cure the Eczema, but the Asthma, which she suffered from, was also quickly cured.

We both attribute our present good health to "Fruit-a-lives."

N. JOUBERT.
"Fruit-a-lives" will always cure Eczema of Salt Rheum because "Fruit-a-lives" purifies the blood, corrects the Indigestion and Constipation, and tones up the Nervous System.

"Fruit-a-lives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices and valuable tonics, and is the greatest of all blood-purifying remedies. 50c a box—6 for $2.50—or trial size, 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-lives Limited Ottawa.

annexation of Canada by the United States; and held out as a counter attraction the annexation of the United States by Canada. In concluding he used slight variant of the "imperial peroration" with great effect.

Hon. D. M. Eberts, speaker of the provincial house, was the other "turn" on the card. His speech consisted largely of quotations from American and American newspapers, showing that the sentiment on the other side of the line was certainly in favor of annexation. He was privileged to use the copyright peroration of the premier concerning the flag, the crown, and the empire.

The meeting closed with cheers for the three "Ds."

PRISON TRAGEDY.

Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 21.—Although the prosecution of Jacob Oppenheimer for the murder of Francisco Quijada at Folsom Prison comes within the jurisdiction of Sacramento courts, District Attorney Wachhorst has announced that Oppenheimer will not be tried unless he wins his appeal to the United States supreme court.

"Oppenheimer is now under a death sentence and has a stay of execution until the supreme court in October passes on his case," said Wachhorst. "It would take time to try him for the murder of Quijada and before he could be hanged for the crime, the decision of the supreme court would be rendered. I do not see how a trial on yesterday's crime would hasten his death. Should the lower court be reversed, he would be tried immediately."

SUCCUMBS TO WOUND.

Vancouver, Wash., Sept. 21.—Harry L. Jewell, 25 years old, a member of Company A, First Infantry, was shot by Police Officer D. L. Burkhart early yesterday and died on the operating table at the Post hospital, Vancouver barracks.

Jewell had been arrested for alleged disorderly conduct and was being taken to the police station, handcuffed. Just as the officer and the soldier reached the barracks, Jewell broke away and ran. Burkhart drew his pistol and fired at the fleeing soldier, the bullet entering the right kidney.

HEARING OF ACTION WILL SET RECORD

Presentation of Case for Railway Company Will Occupy Thirty Days

Nelson, B. C. Sept. 21.—According to affidavit by A. H. McNeil, of Vancouver, solicitor for the Great Northern railway, produced in chambers here the presentation of the case of the defence in the famous action, Clarkson Bros. vs. Nelson & Fort Shepard railway, in which between $500,000 and $600,000 is claimed by the plaintiffs for damages to timber by fire for which courts have declared the railway company to be responsible, will occupy at least 30 days.

During this time McNeil states that he will call at least 51 witnesses and the exhibits will number 1,650. The case for the plaintiffs will occupy about ten days.

The action, which is to decide upon the amount of damages due the plaintiffs, will therefore provide what will be the longest hearing on the records of the British Columbia courts.

Last March, after four days hearing here, Mr. Justice Morrison, of the Supreme Court, decided that liability for fire which destroyed timber on the land in question, which consists of 208 forty-acre tracts, lay with the Nelson & Fort Shepard Railway Company, a branch of the Great Northern railway.

Presentation of Mr. McNeil's affidavit arose during an application by C. R. Hamilton, K. C., for the plaintiffs, to have the date for trial, which will be a special one, fixed. The settlement of the date of the trial was referred to the Chief Justice or to a Supreme Court judge. Mr. Hamilton also asked that the case be heard at the special trial by judge and jury, but McNeil opposed on the grounds that the case could be more satisfactorily determined by a judge without the assistance of a jury.

Mr. McNeil suggested March next as a suitable date for hearing.

Of 1,650 exhibits at least 150 contain an average of 45 pages of printed matter and figures and about 800 contain more than one page of similar matter.

Large staffs of surveyors, cruisers and loggers have been engaged practically all summer on the burn-over and the completion of statistics of the loss caused by the fire will occupy several months.

The plaintiffs in question are: E. R. C. Clarkson, of Clarkson Brothers, of Toronto, and John Ryan and Felix Donnelly.

BANK ROBBERS MAY BE IN SEATTLE

Two Men Suspected of Being Implicated: Pass Through Everett

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 21.—Three men who roomed for several months at the Cecil hotel at Aberdeen are suspected of the New Westminster bank robbery by private detectives who are now at Aberdeen. A special dispatch to a Seattle morning newspaper from that place Tuesday gave details of the case, which developed from a letter-head bearing the hotel name found in the robbed bank after the crime. This scrap of paper gave the name of Mrs. Nellie C. Reynolds, who is the proprietor of the Cecil, which is at 71 West Heron street, in Aberdeen. Detectives telephoned to Mrs. Reynolds Saturday night, and Monday Pinkerton men from Seattle arrived to question her about three mysterious lodgers. They were idle while at the hotel and non-communicative. When they left Aberdeen a month ago they told Mrs. Reynolds they were going to Vancouver to get work.

Two men whose description and actions identify them with the New Westminster robbery, passed through Everett Tuesday night and are thought to be in Seattle.

A special dispatch says that a sleepy passenger in the Great Northern station was aroused about midnight by two men quarrelling in the station washroom. He told the police and ticket agent that one of the men wanted to continue the journey south, the other wanting to go north.

From the dispute their conversation branched into a discussion of the Westminster robbery and they made such statements that aroused the ticket agent, who is sure they had had a hand in the robbery. Finally one of them inquired of the ticket agent when a train for New Westminster would be along. When he was told, he said he believed they might as well wait for the Owl. While at the window the speaker produced a roll of crisp new Canadian bills. Both men left the station and strolled about on the platform. The startled ticket agent telephoned for the police. Before the Everett patrolmen arrived, the southbound train for Seattle and the northbound Vancouver train rolled in and the men disappeared. The station agent says the two men went down the stairs to the lower track and he is convinced they took the southbound train for Seattle.

Bank cashiers of Seattle have adopted every precaution in handling Canadian bills and money that they think may be of assistance to the officers seeking to solve the mystery of the Bank of Montreal robbery at New Westminster.

Local cashiers have always in view a list of the numbers and serial marks in circulation they think it likely that some of this money will show up at banks in a short time.

THINKING THEMES

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

What I write is my tombstone. I have lately been going about in Rome and its environs. It is preeminently the land of the Tombstone. Rome should be called that, if it ever changes its name, and if the title had not been pre-empted by a town in Arizona. There are tombs everywhere.

tombs in the church floors, in the wall, under the high altars. All about are tombs of emperors and kings. All futile. All pillaged, empty, like eyeless sockets.

The poor faded dust of the magnificent ones has been sifted to find their finger-prints.

The only real Tomb is a Book. Men of letters are the only genuine aristocracy; kings and thrones in the landscape of history, are only located by their relation to the men who write. Napoleon, it has been said, will be remembered as a contemporary of Goethe. The glory of Julius and Augustus is ashes; the golden house of Nero a subterranean cavern, damp and mossy; "the boast of heraldry, the pomp of power" are swept aside; but Horace with liquid syllables built himself "a monument more lasting than brass;" and Homer, Dante, and Shakespeare live on, green as perennial trees.

As for me, let my bones and flesh be burned, and the ashes dropped in the moving waters, and if my name shall live at all, let it be found among Books, the only garden of forget-me-nots, the only human device for perpetuating this personality.

ATTACKED BY DEER.

While hunting grouse in the woods, about three miles from Albern, Geo. Paterson was attacked by a wounded deer. He heard something rushing through the bush behind him, and no sooner had he turned to satisfy his curiosity than a buck knocked him down. The hunter, retaining his gun, climbed in his feet and jumped behind a tree. The deer charged, struck and got the contents of the gun in its neck which settled the struggle. On examination of the carcass Mr. Paterson discovered that the buck had been shot before, and that part of one of its fore legs was torn.

AN EDUCATIVE CAMPAIGN.

Apart from the decision of the voters of Canada to-day upon the reciprocity agreement, the educative results of the campaign, which has lasted for eight months, will be immensely beneficial to the people of the Dominion. It has brought into strong contrast the ethical principles underlying present-day systems of political economy and has clearly defined the essential differences in the application of a policy of protection as opposed to that of free trade. Never within the life of the present generation has the distinction between the two great political parties in the various Dominions of the British empire and the heart of the empire itself been so sharply drawn.

The position of Canada has been unique; there is no other part of the empire similarly situated. Her closeness to the United States, to a people of the same race and with many similar ideals and certainly with the same standards of civilization, has made the recent political conflict peculiar as bringing to the fore-front of the discussions the ethics of international relationships. The United Kingdom and every other overseas Dominion have all been free from the complication of such close trade and other relationships with contiguous nations in the devising of their trade policies with other countries. The problem that has had to be solved is somewhat similar to the one facing Canada when it was proposed to abolish the duties between the several provinces before confederation. For all practical and commercial purposes—barring the customs duties—the United States and Canada have been a unit already. Their interlaced trade, commerce and manufacture had already removed all distinctions excepting those of systems of government, empire reality and sentimental considerations attaching to the forms of government in each.

None of these have been touched or affected by the decision that has been pronounced by the people of Canada to-day; she is still a part of the British empire and as such so ever.

For the first time in the life of the present generation the people of Canada have learned that there is an essential—irreconcilable—difference between the two great political parties which have alternated in the governments of the country. That difference has been emphasized in a manner that has not been wholly comfortable to the student of political economy and the lover of equal rights. It has demonstrated that what has long been the curse of other nations, particularly the older nations, has already obtained a foothold in this country. It has demonstrated that the idea of class privilege is already very much alive in Canada as a heritage from the Mother Land; that there is in Canada a political party whose theory of government is that the masses must be ruled and it is the claimed privilege of the "wisdom" classes to do the ruling. The people have learned that true democracy is endangered by the assertiveness of that party which claims the divine right to rule. The essential class distinction between those who think that the masses should be hewers of wood and drawers of water for the remnants of aristocracy and those who think that one man may be as good as another if he will has been emphasized. The distinction between the spirit of the landed aristocrat and the industrial magnate has been discovered to be not very great or marked. Each believes it his right to fatten upon the products of the energies of those in so-called humbler walks of life. It was the old story of those who are served insisting that the others shall continue to serve, or, in plainer words, that one section of society has a right to prey upon the other by reason of class distinction.

In the older nations which tolerate a real aristocracy the battle has ever been against traditions and established usage. In our own country with its artificial and self-constituted aristocracy of wealth—always without blood—the battle has been between the contending parties over the methods by which the one is sustained at the expense of the other. Traditions do not hold for much in a country where brain, muscle, genius, pluck and endurance win the day, and these are the factors which have—rightly or wrongly—established a pseudo-aristocracy in Canada and upon the American continent.

The only divinely established aristocracy is that established by the laws which are based upon the principle when they have equal right of application in the affairs of life. Our native aristocracy has been corrupted by the assumption of class privilege, and that has been fostered by our system of political economy, which has, undoubtedly, prospered one class in society at the expense of the other. Whereinsoever the people of any country have broken away from the control of class-privileged aristocracy they have reached toward the realization of truest nationhood, and it makes no difference by what method or upon what theory of political economy that predatory system was founded or by what it was upheld.

Perhaps these are, after all, the most valuable lessons that have been learned in the contest that has closed. Whatever may be the immediate effect of the changing political system in the minor details of tariff regulations the deep and abiding distinction between free men and the slaves of legalized privilege has been brought into relief and the people of Canada as well as those of the United States have learned the distinction in a way that will never be forgotten. There has been no revolution; the abuses of the privileged classes have not gone so far as to entail that necessity. It has been a struggle which has brought out the best and the worst that is in men and the difference between those who think they were born to rule and those who they have thought were born to serve has been somewhat dispipated.

THE PARTY PRESS.

In no single feature of the campaign has the morale of the two parties been brought more strongly into contrast than in the conduct of the party press. The comparison is wholly to the credit of the Liberal papers, though it must be conceded that these have had always the advantage of reason, righteousness and the tremendous influence of past political history on their side. The nearer and more completely they have adhered to the truth the more powerful have been the weapons of their warfare; there has been not even a temptation to resort to deceit. The whole strength of their case lay in the truth.

Unfortunately, with the opposition the case has been somewhat different. The sudden reversal of the historic policy of the Conservative party by Mr. Borden has made the conflict embarrassing from the first. More than this, the desperation of the plutocrat oligarchy which has tied itself up to the Conservative party has forced upon the party press a campaign of mixed tactics which we fancy could never have been contemplated by those newspapers who bargained with the masters to sell their support at the commencement. Should we be compelled to believe that the opposition organs were willing partners in such a conspiracy of lies as has undignified the Fourth Estate during the past four months we should feel shame for many of our contemporaries.

It is not so much in their appeals to false sentiment and the charging of disloyalty to their fellows that we object. We feel the same as was expressed by a discredited contemporary respecting the matter of disloyalty. Our contemporary said: "When we hear an American talking annexation we smile, and when we hear of an Englishman doing it we consider it ignorance." That has been the consistent thought of the Liberal press throughout Canada, and we can scarcely have such a sentiment as even contempt for the newspapers which, confessedly, have seen no better thing in the electors to appeal to than foolishness on the part of one and ignorance on the part of the other. Yet there has not been a fair statement of the case from any Conservative paper in Canada. The imputation under which each must lie is that the campaign has been discredited by misrepresentation and each paper has resorted to this in kind and quality that seemed to it most adapted to its circle of readers and its sphere of influence.

What is after all most to be deplored is the slanderous campaign against the American people and the persistent misrepresentation of the motives which have prompted them in the reciprocity negotiations. They were not damned with faint praise; they have been abused, maligned, slandered and vilified to a degree that is a reproach on the common amenities between friendly nations. They have been represented by the opposition press as the sum of all villainies and the concentrated aggregation of all the qualities commonly associated with harpies. The most vile and contemptible of these calumniators in Canada have been men who have sworn out declarations of intention to become American citizens or men who have volunteered their services for the work of slaughter under the direction of the American army and under the American flag. In some cases they have been American citizens, native to that country, renegade to their country and flag or else flitting from its friendly shelter between the coming and going shadows and very much for their country's good. It is upon insinuations of people of this class that the heads and bosses of the opposition press have rendered willing service, but the country knows them better now that the conflict has revealed them.

THE COMFORT OF HOME

Depends largely on warmth. No house can be cheerful unless it is well heated. No house can be well heated unless good fuel is used.

People who use our coal find it always satisfactory, because it is the cleanest, highest grade of coal mined.

Hon. Frank Oliver scored great personal triumph at a big meeting in Edmonton last Saturday night. Speaking of the ballot box slander for which Griesbach has been served with a ten thousand dollar writ by Returning Officer May, the minister of interior produced an order given Ross Bros., a local dealer from W. J. Clegg, president of the Edmonton Conservative Association for the making of the bogus box produced at the Conservative meeting the previous Monday night. The disclosure caused a great sensation and was the climax of rumors on the streets for several days that the Conservatives had the box made in order to throw suspicion on the Liberals.

The Montreal Gazette, discussing the recent vote on prohibition in Maine, congratulates the forces which won the contest for a dry state. The prohibitionists won in the Maine election to decide whether the state should retain the anti-liquor law that has made its name famous. The majority was a small one, about 200, it appears. There were some curious combinations in the contest. The prohibitionists, who are convinced that the liquor traffic is an evil that should be suppressed, had the support of the boot-leggers, who made their living by illegally selling what they call whisky. The brewery interests, which are worst hit by prohibition laws, in their efforts to repeal the famous enactment, had the help of temperance advocates who know that the state prohibition law is a failure and would sooner have licensed sale or local option than the present order. The Gazette says: "The victory of the prohibitionists was hardly as well as barely won. It may not be lasting."

The facsimile of a letter appearing on the front page of the morning paper and signed by Geo. W. Dean has excited some comment. In his letter Rev. Mr. Dean asserts that he will vote against reciprocity though a life-long Liberal. As recently as two months ago Rev. Mr. Dean gave the Times quite a different explanation of his present political attitude. He regretted that other considerations would force him to vote against a candidate whose policy (reciprocity) was in the best interests of the whole of Canada. Why did not Rev. Mr. Dean in his letter to the Colonist state frankly and honestly as a man wearing his ensignia should do that his so-called break from Liberalism is wholly on account of his inability to manipulate the postal department of Canada so as to obtain a mail contract for a company evidently behind him and using him in the matter? Not even Mr. Dean's closest personal friends have known him as a life-long Liberal, and the propriety of the claim by Mr. Dean is exceedingly doubtful. The Times does not care to publish Rev. Mr. Dean's letters, as they could only do that gentleman harm in the community in which he lives, but the Times thinks that if Mr. Dean wants to monkey with politics he should conduct himself so as to warrant the confidence of his friends.

Not even religion is spared from the alimy clutches of the opponents of reciprocity—a post card bearing the postmark of Halifax—Mr. Borden's constituency—is being mailed to the editors of Canadian newspapers. It reads as follows:

Financial disturbances and social unrest is coming over Europe and America. Its effects on Canada will largely depend on you, the editors, as public teachers. If you condone corruption and propagate falsehood, whether through fear of men or for gain to yourself or party, you are a blind leader of the blind. Honor God in your paper, and He will shelter the country, for your sake, in the coming storm. Righteousness, not riches, exalts the nation. What shall it profit a country if it gain the trade of the whole world and lose the soul of its best ideals? By thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned. And yet we are assured by the Tories that Canada was never so wealthy, while her wealth is to increase and she will become more prosperous if we only continue to tax ourselves more for our food. Blue ruin, they say, stares us in the face if we enlarge our trade. Sic!

The Celebrated "ZAMBRENE" Weather-Proof Coats for Women

No woman who wants a smart coat can afford to overlook the merits of these distinguished looking garments. "Zambrene" weatherproof quality is obtained by treating the yarn by a special process before and after weaving. With "Zambrene" garments there is none of that cold, clammy feeling you associate with rubberized fabrics. On the contrary they keep you warm and are snug and dry inside. Further, they can be dried at a fire without injury to the fabric. Almost any fabric can be "Zambrene" treated, so naturally you will expect to find tweeds prominent, and you would be correct. They're here a plenty in rough Harris tweed effects, also in smoother weaves almost bordering on a worsted. Come in greens, greys, browns, fawns and tans. Every coat is full length, loose fitting, made with a raglan sleeve, turned or strapped cuff and usually a collar that buttons close up to the neck. Excellent coats, are marked at $25, $30, $35 and ..... $40.00

The coats are wonderfully light, are quite transparent and will not stick. They are lined with soft silk and are, without doubt, one of the best raincoats for women. You can have your choice from colors fawn, green and black, and complete with hoods at $25 each.

PASSING SHOW

Empress Theatre. Getting a living by making people laugh is the avocation Herbert Hodge, the immensely funny yokel comedian now at the Empress Theatre, has chosen, and that he is successful is testified to by audiences who have applauded him in the chain of Sullivan and Considine theatres from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

In Victoria there has been no exception to the public appreciation accorded him. Hodge prepared himself for his vaudeville appearance when he was accidentally compelled to live for some months in the country. There the habits and manners of the yokel struck him as absurdly funny and kept him laughing. To reproduce the manner which appear so absurd to city dwellers appeared to Hodge to be a money-making plan and he at once commenced business by studying faithfully the many characters he met.

The result is seen in his laughable performance, but Hodge's best effort is where he loses his voice.

The Empress show this week is very good indeed. There are the celebrated banjoists, George De Alona and Ethel May; Sheek, a strong man, and Miss D'Arville, a character change artist and singer; John R. Gordon and his company of four in "What Would You Do?"; and Kramer and Ross, two experts in dancing.

Princess Theatre. Capacity houses have been the rule at the Princess all this week. The play is not unlike that which drew large crowds all through last week and Miss Pinkie Mullally as Tennessee in "Tennessee's Partner," has a part which suits her capitally.

There are many striking scenes, while avoiding the melodramatic, and the house warmly greeted her on its first performance, for a sympathetic rendering of the part.

The "partner," Calsb Swan, was in the hands of W. S. Van Dyke, who carried through his work most carefully, and with expression. Geo. Whittier Hay was in charge of George Robertson, who added the comedy section most successfully. His fondness for quoting the past greatly pleased the audience. George L. Sweatman and Byron L. Alden each made good use of their roles. Arthur Cyril appeared as Barlow, and Fred Horn as Spike. The female parts were sustained by Miss Oro Wolf and Miss Marguerite Doyle, and added much to the success of the play.

HEARTY WELCOME FOR CAPTAIN J. C. HARRIS

Leader of Successful Team in British Artillery Test Reaches Home and is Welcomed

Officers of the Fifth Regiment Canadian Garrison Artillery, No. 3 company, headed by Col. A. W. Currie, met Captain J. C. Harris yesterday afternoon in an informal way when he landed from the Vancouver boat on his return from England. The formal reception at first proposed was abandoned on account of the fact that his assistants in the test, Sergt. Gordon, Gunners Penketh and Staden, were not with him, Staden having remained some time longer in the Old Country, and Gordon in Ontario, visiting friends, while the third, Penketh, has already arrived. It was just as well as events proved, as the boat being nearly two hours late, any formal gathering would have been spoilt in the drizzling rain.

On the wharf to receive Captain Harris were noticed, in addition to Col. Currie, Major Ridgway Wilson, Captain Clark, Lieuts. F. A. Robertson, A. E. Robertson and J. G. Smith from the Fifth. Major Christie was also present. Mrs. Harris, the captain's mother, was the first to greet him on landing.

The officers proceeded to the drill hall, and there Captain Harris gave a succinct account of his trip. He acknowledged his indebtedness to the men he took with him from this city, and they entered into the Royal capital artillerymen. Throughout the three weeks he was in England he had received the most cordial welcome from all sections, and particularly from old army officers who at different periods had been stationed at Esquimalt.

They crossed on the Royal Edward and they entered in plenty of practice before the big contest at Cliff End. They competed at various points for the Londonderry, Canada, and Prince of Wales trophy, and he brought back the personal trophy won in the last competition. The officers were treated to dinner and the last evening they had a great function at the Connaught rooms, with the Duke of Connaught, Lord Strathcona, and many prominent men present.

The party visited Windsor Castle, Eton, and other show places, and took part in many social entertainments during the time they were in England. At Montreal, on their return, they were also entertained.

Speaking generally, he was of opinion that the garrison artillery did better work than the field sections because they took their trip more seriously, and did not regard it as a jaunt.

The test for the Prince of Wales trophy, which gained the approbation of the greatest artillery officer in the British Army of modern times, Lord Roberts himself, was conducted under very considerable disadvantages on the Isle of Wight, from a fort at the entrance to the Solent. As one of the guns went out of commission early in the competition, the Canadian competitors were severely handicapped, but even with this they made the highest total on the two sixteen round competitions, namely, 19 and 13 respectively. The ranges were too long for the guns and several shots fell beyond the target. The British detachment's shooting was more rapid than the Canadians, but not so effective, and therefore the premier awards fell to the Fifth. The ranges varied from 4000 to 5000 yards, and after the close of the competition, the umpire, Major A. S. Jenour, R. A., staff officer at the school of gunnery, Golden Hill, announced the results as follows:

Table with 4 columns: Company, First Series, Second Series, Merit Position. Rows include Canada, Sussex, North Scottish, East Riding, Dorset, Glamorgan.

ESQUIMALT ELECTORS HEAR ARGUMENTS

Enthusiastic Meeting Held in Interests of Ralph Smith—F. J. Stacpoole, Present

The Liberals wound up their campaign on behalf of Ralph Smith, so far as the southern end of the Nanaimo constituency is concerned, with a fine rally, which took the form of a smoker at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, Esquimalt, last evening. The president of the local association, J. C. McIntosh, occupied the chair, and the principal speakers were Lieut.-Col. Currie and F. J. Stacpoole, K. C.

Interspersed with the musical selections were the musical selections were made by Messrs. McAdam and West on the reciprocity issue and the advantages which would flow from a reduction of prices in natural products, and then Lieut.-Col. Currie spoke.

The colonel submitted that with the removal of the taxation from foodstuffs the cost of living would fall and the consumer would consequently benefit. If a person now possessed one hundred customers he must do increased business with double the amount. The increase by throwing open the American market would be much greater, however, than that. A comparison of prices showed that the farmers would get a great deal more for their wheat under reciprocity than at the present time.

The removal of the duty on fish would also immensely benefit this province, which was suffering from the one-cent a pound duty imposed by the United States, and open a wide field for the sale of halibut and other fish which required an enlarged market. He drew the distinction between the relaxation of the immigration regulations and the Alien Labor law, which had been willfully confused by the opposition speakers, and showed that the statute had never been abrogated, and that only temporary relaxation of the regulations governing immigration had been permitted to enable the railways to secure laborers.

The speaker was confident, in a brief review of the naval situation, that ships for use on the Pacific would be built here, and while the Canadian navy was only a beginning, the inception of the idea was excellent.

F. J. Stacpoole, K. C., made another effective speech in favor of reciprocity. To the western farmers who needed cheap agricultural implements, the agreement would be of the greatest value. For the Pacific province the agreement must be of great value, as British Columbia imported half its foodstuffs annually. He attacked the opposition speakers, and showed the absurdity of the opposition fears of annexation.

Cheers were given for Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Smith, and the proceedings concluded with the National Anthem.

Owing to election day the city police court was over in ten minutes this morning, no summonses having been made returnable. The only business that was done was that of the terms pleaded guilty, and were assessed the customary penalties.

A "rally day cruise" is planned by the First Baptist Sunday school for next Sunday afternoon. The programme is being prepared and printed in a unique manner, the "Serious Hums" being named corresponding to the terms used aboard ship. A special offering will be taken for missions. The platform will be decorated with emblems of the sea. Rev. J. B. Warnicker will preach appropriate sermons, and in the evening will conduct a special young people's service.

At last night's meeting of the Trades and Labor Council, it was suggested by several of the delegates that as the lease of the present Labor hall would soon expire and the new Labor Temple could not possibly be built for some years, a temporary, wooden

Two Canadian artists, Frank M. Armington and Mrs. Armington, have reached the city. Their visit to the province is due to an order from the London office of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to prepare plates for etchings of Canadian scenery, especially of the Rocky Mountains, and coast scenes for reproduction in publicity work for the railway. Mr. and Mrs. Armington commenced their art careers in Toronto, but in recent years they have been in Paris pursuing their studies under the best French influence. Works have been accepted at the Paris salon, the international exhibition at Brussels, and the collection at the Petit Palais and the Luxembourg in Paris, and Sir Sydney Colvin has also invited them to contribute to the collection of etchings at the British museum. Mr. Armington is a member of the London, Societe de la Gravure en relief, Paris, and similar artistic organizations. They are registered at the Dominion hotel.

"PRO" SOCCER TEAM IS NOW CERTAINTY

Prominent Business Men Promise Their Support — D. Dougan Appointed Delegate

David Dougan will represent the Victoria Professional Football Club at the meeting of the B. C. Professional League which will be held in Vancouver in the near future. This was the principal item of actual business before the meeting last evening of a number of representative football players of this city, who are engaged in the work of organizing a local team to enter for the B. C. professional championship. Sid Thompson kindly presided.

Much enthusiasm was shown throughout the meeting, and if the football fans show the same spirit as the actual players last evening there is no possible doubt that the aim of the club "to produce a better class of football in Victoria than has been seen in the past" will be realized. A considerable discussion on the means of financing the club to begin operations took place, it being finally decided to issue subscription lists and make a canvass of all those interested in the project of forming a "pro" team.

From the report of the committee appointed to ascertain the attitude of the players in regard to the proposition, it was plainly seen that no difficulty will be met in that direction. There will in fact be more than enough candidates for the team. As to the public support, several of the most prominent business men of the town have promised that if the club is organized on a bona fide basis their aid may be depended upon.

The secretary has written to Con Jones for a copy of the B. C. Professional League constitution, and expects an answer to-morrow. Those present at the meeting were: Sidney Thompson, president; John Sullivan, secretary; A. Muir, Dave Dougan, A. McCollie, Harry Ray, E. A. Watkins, J. Young, J. Wilson, W. Malcolm and P.weeney (as a guest of honor).

ISLANDERS WON A SLOW BALL GAME

Brennan's Fielding and Bunting and Ten Million's Catch Were Features

Spokane, Sept. 21.—Victoria won a lull game from Spokane yesterday, 9 to 8. The contest was marked by ineffective pitching and hard hitting. Brennan's fielding and bunting was the only individual feature, barring a brilliant running catch by Millon. The score:

WELLS WON HANDILY

Britisher With His Weight and Cleverness Had Attail Going From Start.
Madison Square Garden, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Abe Attail, the featherweight champion, tried the impossible last night by conceding about 13 pounds in weight to the English lightweight champion, Matt Wells. Wells, being as clever as the American in every ring move, had the Californian going almost from the start and won handily. Attail is given credit for the game stand he made against his heavier and cleverer opponent.

CHALLENGES WELLS

New York, Sept. 21.—James Coffroth, of San Francisco, telegraphed today to George McDonald, manager of Matt Wells, the English lightweight champion, offering Wells $5,500 for a bout with him. McDonald has declined the offer. Coffroth is a former world champion and has defeated all comers in the world.

SPORT NOTES

Brennan grabbed four hits yesterday and not only that but fielded a great game. His arm must be all right now.

The report from Portland says that Ten Millon's running catch was one of the features of the game. He has a habit of doing things like that if the fans will remember.

Al Furchner says he will not play ball again in the Northwestern League and gives as his reason that the estimate does not agree with him. He will ask to be sold or traded.

By winning yesterday from St. Louis, while Chicago was splitting even with Philadelphia, the New York Giants acquired what looks like a sure grip on the National League pennant. The standing of the first division teams in both the National and American leagues, follow:

Club	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	86	46	.652
Chicago	81	53	.606
Pittsburg	81	60	.574
Philadelphia	74	61	.548

Club	W.	L.	Pct.
Philadelphia	91	45	.669
Detroit	82	56	.594
Cleveland	72	65	.525
New York	72	67	.518

The James Bay Athletic Association will hold a smoker on Tuesday evening, September 28. Included in the programme will be boxing and wrestling matches. J. Currie and Peter McCarter are already matched to wrestle and it is expected that many other local boxers and wrestlers will consent to take part. A selection of musical pieces will conclude the entertainment. The following officers were last evening appointed to take charge of the affair. Manager, W. H. Davies; assistant manager, A. Jeff; second, J. F. Fletcher, C. Brown, F. Kinlock, C. Tomlinson; secretary, S. Skuce; committee, M. Brubaker, M. Scott, K. McCarter, G. Chugranes, D. Harrison, C. Brown.

Boston baseball fans owe James McAtee a debt of gratitude for rescuing the city from the haphazard control of the Red Sox' owner, John I. Taylor. Mr. T. was what one might call impetuous. If he owned Ty Cobb and suspected that, when Tyrus laid off, instead of cycling he was really suffering from a previous lurid evening, he would trade him on the spot for a can of beans or anything else offered. He put his finger into the pie his manager was supposed to make so often that his leaders were little more than messenger boys. He never let one set of players remain together undisturbed long enough to acquire that unity and team work necessary to a truly great organization.

A Philadelphia dispatch says that the Phillies have asked for waivers on Ed. Kippert, the outfielder secured from Spokane, before turning him over to the Vancouver club of the Northwestern League. Kippert is one of the best outfielders in the Northwest and has been with Spokane for several seasons.

Vancouver's two champion teams, baseball and lacrosse, are arranging for what should prove to be the biggest novelty in the sporting line of the year for Monday, October 2. On this day the Vancouver lacrosse players will play the basketball boys. About five innings of baseball will be played and then four quarters of lacrosse of about eight minutes' duration each. The lacrosse players will let the ball players have "Bun" Clark for goal and also a home man; while the ball team will turn over a battery to their opponents for the baseball game.

Rumors in San Francisco that Maurice E. McLoughlin, whose brilliant playing in the recent national tournament won him a place on the American team for the coming Davis challenge cup tournament in Australia, would not make the trip, were set at rest last night when he announced that he would sail October 4. The matches will be played late in November or early in December and McLoughlin plans to get in a month's practice on Australian courts.

The standing of the Northwestern League teams is:

Club	W.	L.	Pct.
Vancouver	94	58	.618
Spokane	87	69	.557
Seattle	82	71	.536
Portland	79	73	.519
Tacoma	73	75	.513
Victoria	40	115	.258

LINDSAY RESIGNS.

President of Northwestern League Will Not Be Candidate For Re-election.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 21.—Judge Robt. M. Lindsay, president of the Northwestern League, will not be a candidate for re-election. Baseball has interfered with his law practice, and he does not care to give up the profession in which he has attained eminence to hold a job that is a thankless one at the best.

The judge sent a letter last evening to the different directors tendering his resignation, to take effect at the coming annual meeting. It would not be much of a surprise if Judge Lindsay was elected to a position on the King County Superior Court bench at the next election.

Several candidates have been sprung for the presidency of the Northwestern League for 1912, Joe Cohn being reported to be grooming Fielder Jones, of Portland. If Judge McCredie would take the position he would probably have no opposition, although it has never been the policy of the league to have a club owner as president. The Portland papers have been booming Mayor Kiggins, of Vancouver, Wash., but it is not thought any serious intention on the part of Kiggins to attain the position is being entertained by him.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Morden, Man., Sept. 21.—Brown, the prisoner being held here in connection with the Snowflake kidnaping affair, last night attempted suicide on Tuesday by taking a dose of strychnine.

COMES TO ANCHORAGE WITHOUT AID OF TUG

Barque Olivebank Sails Up Straits Through Dense Fog to Royal Roads

By sailing up the Straits of Juan de Fuca during a dense fog and coming to an anchorage in the Royal Roads without the assistance of a tug, Capt. George, of the British barque Olivebank, which arrived here yesterday morning from Santa Rosalia, established a record which few skippers have ever before performed. With no tugboats available at the entrance to the straits early yesterday morning Capt. George decided to bring his vessel to port under her own sail despite the fact that there was a heavy mist hanging over the waters. About 9 o'clock a four-master, with all sails set, was seen swinging around the only salter due shippingmen soon came to a conclusion as to her identity. She called at the quarantine station and after getting her bill of health came to an anchorage in the Roads. The barque had a fair trip up the coast being out about thirty-five days from the southern port. The weather experienced while out of the best did not meet with much complaint by the officers and crew of the ship. The Olivebank is owned by the Weir line and brought a cargo of coal from the United Kingdom to Santa Rosalia. While lying at the southern wharf discharging her cargo fire was discovered in her hold and before the blaze was subdued the vessel had sustained much damage. It was thought at first judging from reports received here that the barque would be a total loss but after Capt. W. H. Logan, representative of the London Salvage Co., had completed a survey of her it was found that it would not be too costly a job to repair her. Temporary repairs were effected at the southern wharf and she left for the Royal Roads to receive orders. Nothing has been received here yet as to whether the Olivebank will be repaired at Esquimalt or will be towed to the Sound to be placed in her former staunch condition. It is thought most likely that she will be taken to Seattle. Capt. George is now waiting word from the owners and expected to be informed as to his vessel's future movements within a few days' time. The Olivebank is one of the few remaining sailing vessels which now ply the sea. She is also one of the finest types of British Merchantmen that can be found for with all sails spread before a spanking breeze she can make the time of a tramp steamer. Time is gradually forcing the old windjammers to the boneyard as one of the big freighters, which now engage in the work formerly commanded by sailers, are able to stow away in their capacious holds quantities of cargo which would fill two or three good sized barques.

FACTS ABOUT PANAMA CANAL

Is Fifty and One-half Miles Long From Deep Water to Deep Water—Twelve Locks. The length of the canal from deep water to deep water will be fifty and one-half miles. Length on land forty and one-half miles. There will be twelve pairs of locks. Bottom width of channel (maximum) 100 feet; bottom width of channel (minimum) 300 feet through the nine miles of the Culebra cut. Time of transit through the completed canal, ten to twelve hours. Canal zone area owned by the United States, about 22 square miles. Canal force actually at work, about 20,000; of which force the Americans number some 5,500, mostly in some executive capacity. Cost of canal, estimated, $375,000,000. Work began by Americans May 4, 1904. Canal expected to be finished January 1, 1915. In passing through the canal a ship will enter a channel with a bottom width of 500 feet, follow this for seven miles to Gatun, where it will be by locks. The locks will be lifted eighty-five feet to the level of Lake Gatun. It will steam at full speed through this lake for a distance of twenty-four miles to Bas Obispo, where it will enter the Culebra cut. It will pass through the cut, a distance of about nine miles, in a channel with a bottom width of 300 feet. At Pedro Miguel it will enter a lock and be lowered thirty feet to a small lake, on the other side of which it will enter two locks and be lowered to the sea level, passing out into the Pacific through a channel eight miles long, with a bottom width of 500 feet.

'FRISCO'S SAILING FLEET NOW SMALL

Few Ships Operate in Sugar Trade to Hawaiian Islands—Steam Doing Business

It will not be a long time before the last windjammer wings its flight from the Golden Gate to the Hawaiian Islands. The inland traffic, which was once so great, is dying out, and it is believed that in a few months will see the passing of the sailing vessel from the old route entirely. The number of sailing craft now operating between Honolulu and San Francisco in the sugar and merchandise trade could be counted on a man's hand. Not many more voyages under canvas are before the crack barque R. P. Rithet of the Matson company, which left Tuesday for Honolulu. This and many of her fellow craft are for sale, but there are no buyers and in the end the old-time sailers will probably be cut down into barges. The barque Annie Johnson and the barkentine Coronado, which have made many passages between San Francisco and the islands, are now being used as sugar storage ships at Crockett. The principal traffic of the sailers from here to Honolulu and other Hawaiian ports in the transportation of coiled oil for the Standard Oil company and fertilizer and food-stuffs for which there is no hurry. Returning the vessels bring sugar, but five times their cargoes could be brought in a part cargo of any of the big steamers now in the service. It is understood that the Standard Oil Company will get a couple of tank steamers to transport coal oil in bulk in the near future and case it at Honolulu, which would do away with the best freights of the sailing craft. Completing a slow passage of 213 days from Liverpool via Newcastle, England, the British barque Battle Abbey, Captain Marsters, has arrived at 'Frisco bringing 1,530 tons of coal and 500 tons of pig iron to the order of Hind, Rolph & Co. Off Cape Horn the windjammer encountered a succession of gales for 30 days, during which her main topmast back stays were carried away and considerable damage done about the decks.

'FRISCO'S MARINE NEWS

Waterfront at Golden Gate Quiet Yesterday—Hecla Leaves for Tacoma. San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 21.—The schooner Golden Shore, which has just arrived at Gray's Harbor from Valparaiso, has been chartered by the S. E. Slade Lumber Company to load from Gray's Harbor for Antofagasta. The steamer Virginian arrived Tuesday from Salina Cruz and the steamer Sierra and Wilhelmina from Honolulu. The latter left for Hongkong, the Serrano for Shanghai, the San Juan for Panama and the City of Puebla for the Sound. The barque Hecla sailed for Tacoma Tuesday in tow of the tug Dauntless. She had just finished discharging her salmon cargo and will load lumber for Australia for the American Trading Co.

FISHING CO'S COMBINE

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 21.—Three of the largest wholesale fishing companies on Puget Sound are involved in a combination of interests which is being worked out following the sale of the control in the stock of the Occidental Fish Company to Edward Pares of St. Paul. The plan is to utilize the planted and working forces of the Occidental, the San Juan Fishing & Packing Company, and the Choieck Fish Company to considerably increase the market for Alaska halibut and for Puget Sound fresh fish products in New York, Boston and cities of the east. The British steamer Queen Amelle left yesterday for Australia via San Francisco. The vessel finishes her cargo at San Francisco.

ASTORIA PILOTS AND TUGS GET HARD KNOCK

Puget Sound Towboat Company Starts Opposition—Will Reduce Rates

Astoria, Ore., Sept. 21.—The long-expected opposition tugboat and pilotage service at the mouth of the Columbia river has developed into a certainty and now is an established fact. The new organization which has entered the local field is the Puget Sound Towboat Company, which is the same as the Merchants' Tugboat Company of San Francisco, a concern that is controlled by Pope and Talbot, the millionaire shipowners, and is by far the strongest company, financially, of its kind on the coast, having 24 tugs, which are operated at San Francisco, on Puget Sound, and in British Columbia. Three of its tugs are to be sent here.

The ocean-going tug Gollah will be here in a few days and the plan is to keep her outside the bar both day and night with pilots on board. This vessel is suitable for such service as she has ample accommodations and can carry fuel for 30 days. One more tug is also to be stationed here, making three in all, but her name has not been announced.

Superintendent Plummer of the Puget Sound Company is now in Portland arranging for the charter of a sternwheeler that will be used for towing on the river.

Several pilots are to be employed and while their names are not given, it is known that the company is negotiating with Captains George W. Wood, Gus Anderson and A. C. Cann, and it is more than probable that they as well as others, may enter the service.

The officers of the company do not hesitate to announce that they are here to stay and although no official statement has been made to that effect, it is understood that in the future Astoria will be given a much better towage rate than she has had in the past. Heretofore the rate from the sea to Astoria has been 10 per cent of the rate to Portland and that is expected to be materially reduced.

MARINE NOTES

The Allan liner Sicilian from London and Harve arrived at Montreal on Tuesday night. With a cargo of lumber from Gray's Harbor, the Norwegian steamer Torndenskjold is reported arriving at Sydney, Australia.

ARRANGE HOMEWARD BOUND SCHEDULES

Harrison Line Believe Business Between Sound and Europe as Good as Other Way

Announcement has been made by the Harrison line, which now operates a fleet of steamships between Antwerp, London and Swans, Victoria, San Pedro, San Francisco, Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle, that they will establish a service between the Sound and European ports. About three months ago the Harrison Company inaugurated the outward service, but the steamships which have so far arrived have only been engaged by them to bring freight from Europe, and the boats homeward bound have generally been chartered by different companies to take cargoes direct to some English port. Now, however, the Harrison people intend to have a monthly service each way. The officials have seen that lumber, salmon, grain and flour offer heavy tonnage from Puget Sound and 'Frisco, and have decided to begin the new service. Victoria will most likely be included in the ports of call of the homeward bound ships, although nothing definite has yet been announced in regard to this. Twelve vessels will be employed in the service and each will have a speed of thirteen knots. Until the completion of the Panama canal the steamships are coming via the Straits of Magellan. The Harrison Company has established this service in order to get a good footing in the business by the time the canal opens, and this will place them in a strong position to compete with the many other steamship companies which will commence to operate over the run. The latest schedule of the Harrison boats shows that the Chancellor will sail from Seattle for Europe on October 28. She will be followed by the Director on November 15 and thirty days later will be the Crown of Galicia.

BACK AT ESQUIMALT FROM ANNUAL CRUISE

H. M. S. Algerine's Patrol of Bering Sea Was Uneventful—Leaving Soon

After being away from port for nearly two months "parrying" out her annual cruise in the Bering Sea, H. M. S. Algerine, Commander Jones, has returned to Esquimalt. The little warship had an uneventful trip and experienced no trouble with the sealers while patrolling the northern waters. During the whole time she was in Bering Sea not once did she sight one of the local schooners. She spoke a number of Japanese vessels, which appeared to be having a very successful season, having made good catches. Towards the end of July the Algerine left Esquimalt and was out only a few days when she encountered heavy weather and was forced to find an anchorage. Following the abating of the gale she proceeded on her trip, and when entering Alaskan waters experienced much fog and rain. On August 13 the sloop-of-war reached Unalaska, after having conducted her first patrol of the Bering Sea. Her second cruise was practically a repetition of the first, the Jack Tars having no exciting scenes to combat with. According to orders, the Algerine is to proceed to Comox next Monday to commence her annual firing practice. All the sailors aboard feel that they will beat their rival ship, the Shearwater, in the tests this year. These are the only two British warships on the Pacific now, and as each is equipped with practically the same armament, keen rivalry exists between the crews of each vessel. Each feels confident of defeating the other, and the shooting this year will be of the best. The Shearwater will leave later to carry out her gun practice.

SIR R. HART PASSES AWAY IN ENGLAND

Held Important Positions in China—Was Director-General of Customs

London, Sept. 21.—Sir Robert Hart, former dictator general of customs in China, died yesterday. Sir Robert had been living in England since his retirement from the Chinese service on account of ill health.

Sir Robert Hart was born at Milltown, County Armagh, Ireland, in 1835. He received his education at Queen's College, Taunton, Wesley College, Dublin, and Queen's College, Belfast, getting his B. A. degree in 1853. In 1854 Sir Robert entered the consular service in China, being appointed superintendent interpreter and superintendent of trade at Hongkong. After holding many minor offices he was appointed inspector general of Chinese customs in 1863. He received high orders and decorations from Britain, from China and from many European countries. He was further entrusted by the Chinese imperial government with the inspector-generalship of posts and was finally made director general of customs. In 1905 he retired because of ill health.

When he was appointed inspector general of maritime customs that organization was in a bad state, but step by step, with patience and perseverance he built it up so that it became the equal of any government department in Europe. The Chinese not only gave Sir Robert Hart a free hand, but they placed a trust in him unknown in any other country.

In the course of an article in T. P.'s Weekly, T. P. O'Connor gave a striking account of the impression Sir Robert Hart made on him at their first meeting.

Was this the man, then, I said to myself, as I gazed across a long table at him—it was at a luncheon given in the House of Commons to Mr. Balfour—was this the man who had played a part so gigantic in the history of one of the greatest, most ancient, and most powerful of empires—the empire that has within its borders 400,000,000 of people? Was he the obscure poor Irish lad who, leaving his grim Ulster home

—a home of Puritan. Wesleyans—had risen step by step until he was one of the chief rulers and one of the most audacious and successful revolutionaries that the most ancient and the most conservative of civilizations has ever seen in its thousands of years of history? Could a spirit so lofty, so daring—I had almost said, so terrible—dwell within that tiny frame? And even the tinniness of the frame does not exhaust the things in the physical appearance of the man that suggest the importance to which the biographer of Sir Robert Hart bears testimony: The hands are tiny, the feet are tiny, the chest is tiny. The expression of the face, again, in as far as could be from that impressiveness which one would associate with a spirit so daring, so masterful, and so extraordinarily potent. For it is the expression of a detachment, of a meekness, of a certain intense reflectiveness and self-absorption that would suggest the mediaeval saint, intent only on the agencies of a soul trying to be saved, rather than a mighty man of action; the type of Thomas a Kempis rather than of Cortes, or Pizarro, or Cromwell, or Danton. If Sir Robert Hart were not taken for a Christian and a European saint, he might well pass for a priest in that great school of thought and resignation which was founded by Buddha; or perhaps he might even pass for one of those clerical souls who in China began their great political careers by mastering all the lore of all the Chinese sages, and had in the quietude of his student's cell learned to look to his own inner thoughts rather than to the glare and tumult of the outside world.

The very way the man holds his hands confirms this idea of the gentle student rather than that of the man of action. They are held together beneath his legs as though he had never known what was to raise them, not merely to hold a sword, but even to handle any but the lightest feather pen. The voice, again, is just like the appearance; very soft, almost inaudibly so, very slow, very gentle. If it were not for the large, dark eyes, which, in spite of their "sharpening" the gentleness of expression of the rest of the figure and face, are brilliant and stand out and haunt you—if it were not for these wonderful eyes you might well sit opposite Sir Robert Hart for many hours and yet be unconscious that you were in the presence of one of the greatest men of your time. These eyes, too, suggest to you something different; they could not belong to a commonplace man. And to me they made an especial appeal: they are just like the eyes of one of the most brilliant men I have known—Mr. T. Sexton, the well-known Parliamentarian of the nineties. And Sir Robert Hart is like Mr. Sexton grown old.

UNPUBLISHED LETTERS OF GEORGE ELIOT

George Eliot is one of the geniuses of an earlier generation whose lamp has not been dimmed by the years that have elapsed since it was first lighted; and though she does not, perhaps, inspire her readers with those warm personal sentiments that Scott and Dickens and Thackeray used to draw forth, her character was none the less a fascinating one. A few days ago a collection of her letters, the existence of which had been known to only a very few persons, was presented to the British Museum, and may now be read by anyone who is interested in the great woman and her work. The letters number fifty-five, and were donated to the museum by Mr. Ronald Stuart, to whose mother, Mrs. Alma Stuart, most of the letters were written. The letters reveal one of the author's most intimate friendships, and it is curious that in J. W. Cross' "Biography of George Eliot," in which much of her diary is reproduced, there is only a single reference to Mrs. Stuart—the words "Mrs. Stuart came."

Mrs. Stuart was moved to write to George Eliot in admiration for her work, and, receiving a cordial reply, presented her with some beautiful wood carvings. Other gifts followed, and the correspondence was kept up. Of course, Mrs. Stuart wanted to meet her heroine, but George Eliot seems to have rather discouraged the idea, though her objections may have been playful. "At present," she writes, "I have the charm of a 'Yarrow Unvisited.'" She also wrote to say that her photograph was not a truthful likeness, and continued: "Imagine a first cousin of the old Dante's—rather smoke-dried—a face with lines in it that seem a map of sorrows. These portraits seen beforehand are detestable introductions, only less disadvantageous than a description given by an ardent friend to one who is neither a friend nor ardent." The visit was paid, however, and there is no evidence that either was disappointed. Indeed, George Eliot writes: "I love you better for having seen you in the flesh, and shall always for the brief time that I shall last be, with motherly interest, your affectionate friend."

From this time forward the letters became more affectionate in tone, George Eliot calling Mrs. Stuart "My dearest Alma" or "My dearest daughter Alma," and signing herself, "Your faithfully affectionate mother," "Ever your loving mother," and sometimes

"Your faithful" and tender mother. In one of the letters she wrote: "To me it seems that a year could never bring anyone a more substantial good than the certitude of having helped another to bear some heavy burden—of having lessened pain and given the sweetness of fellowship in sorrow. That is just the one good which seems the more worth having, the more our own life is encompassed with shadows. Does this sentence sound like a moan—as if I were thinking myself an object for pity? I should deserve an extra whipping for such ingratitude. I have no sorrows of my own beyond a rickety body and the prospect of the great parting. But the ruinously rainy weather and the threat that mortals may make fresh miseries for each other by rushing into war are a dark curtain around us all at this ending and beginning of times. . . . We have only seen our new country house (at Whitley, near Godalming) once, and that by the finest weather, so that I rather tremble to take another view. And we both of us like to live undisturbedly in our ideal world, where furniture and tradespeople are an inexpensive comedy—rather than to see about our own wants and give orders. In fact, we don't like our own business, in the external sense. But these are the grievances of people who have more than their share in the world."

In her grief at the death of George Henry Lewes the great author seemed to find much consolation in the letters of Mrs. Stuart, although she does not appear to have attempted to describe the pangs of that parting. It was on November 25, 1878, that George Lewes died, and on December 22, 1880, George Eliot followed him. Four days before the end came she wrote a short gossipy note to Mrs. Stuart, making no mention of her state of health. A few days earlier, however, she wrote a letter that is one of the most interesting in the collection. She wrote in reply to a letter in which Mrs. Stuart deplored the approaching entry to the Roman Catholic church of a friend. The passage is worth quoting: "After reading ———'s letter, I wonder that your acute penetration and habit of reflection are so beclouded by your emotion (with which I sympathize to a certain extent) that you can think this is a case for reasoning or remonstrance. How can you, by reasoning overturn what is not based on reasoning, but on a sense of need which Catholicism seems to supply? I for my part would not venture to thrust my mind on hers as a sort of omnipotent dictatrix, when in fact I am very ignorant of the inward springs which determine her action. That she has not spoken to you of her intention till now is no proof that it has not been long ripening, and in fact I see in her letter the expression of a long-felt dissatisfaction and yearning—a thirst which has found the longed-for water. To insist on ideas or external reasons in opposition to such deeply-felt inclinations is no more effective than the swallowing of a paper prescription. . . . You speak of 'Protestant sects' as if their ideas were superior to Catholicism, but surely you would have been equally pained if she had united herself with any fanatical Protestant sect which might easily have prompted some line of action inconsistent with practical attachment to you."

THE MOTHER-IN-LAW.
Magisterial Reflections on a Domestic Problem.
Magisterial comments on the influence of mothers-in-law were a feature of a case heard at Old street police court, London, when John Thomas Blackett, of Great Chart street, Hoxton, was summoned by his wife who alleged persistent cruelty and asked for a separation. The wife, a young woman, gave evidence of assaults committed on her, she said, "after rows." She admitted that her husband had complained of her constantly being out with her mother, or of her mother being constantly in their home.

E. H. Eickerzall, the magistrate, said that a man should honor his mother-in-law, that his days might be long in the land, but some mothers-in-law were best honored from a distance—for the same reason. Why could not the defendant get on with his wife's mother? Defendant—She takes my wife out of the home for hours together, and then she is mixed up with other women, and there is too much drinking. I have tried to stop it and I can't. The magistrate said he thought it was a good cause of complaint. A man could usually get the better of one woman or half a dozen men, but not of two women if one was the mother-in-law. Two were company but three a mob if one was a mother-in-law out to make trouble. He thought the court missionary might induce the wife to go back and the mother-in-law to keep away. The Wife—He's broken up the home and taken the furniture to his mother's. The magistrate said that altered the case, as showing that the husband did not want the wife. He made an order of separation, the husband to pay $5 a week, the wife to keep the children.—London Times.

The number of women employed in Germany, according to the latest statistical reports, is 5,400,000; in France, 6,800,000; in Austria, 5,800,000; and in England, 5,000,000. The women are employed in manufactures and trade.

New Building Company for Victoria, with Well Known Business Men of Vancouver and Victoria as Directors

British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd.

With an authorized capital of $500,000 in $1 shares has been organized to fill a much felt want in Victoria.

It sells its capital stock at par, and with the proceeds builds homes which it sells for cash, or on the instalment plan. British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., does not ask its customers to make monthly payments for one, two, three, or more years before building for them, but commences building immediately on agreement as to plans and terms.

British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., has its own building department, draws its own plans, builds its own houses; gets the profit from the insurance on every house it builds, and by paying cash for everything gets the benefit of every discount known to the trade.

Everyone knows the profit there is in building houses for cash and selling on the instalment plan and Victoria certainly offers a grand field, as there is a marked scarcity of houses.

Seldom is an opportunity offered the public of buying shares in a going concern at the same price as the insiders and promoters. British Canadian Home Builders is one of the exceptions in this respect and the people of Victoria are certainly showing their appreciation of the chance afforded.

There are No Promotion Shares

The directors and all connected with the company paid $1 per share for their holding; one director subscribed for 10,000 shares.

One of the first questions asked regarding a new company is "Is it safe?" A company that pays cash for everything and contracts no heavy obligations without money in sight cannot be anything but safe.

It buys nothing on credit and consequently pays no interest. It discounts all current bills, thereby saving thousands of dollars per year.

Shares in British Canadian Home Builders Limited, at $1 Each Offer a safe and at the same time remunerative investment for either the small or large investor, and may be purchased for cash, or on the instalment plan, 10 per cent cash, and 5 per cent monthly. For example, $10 cash and $5 monthly purchases 100 shares.

Purchasers on the instalment plan will receive dividends on the amount paid in at time dividends are declared.

No well informed person aiming to be abreast of the times, will dispute the statement that Victoria and vicinity will have at least 125,000 people in 1920; this means an increase of 75,000 in population, or 18,750 families needing homes built.

British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., will surely build its share of these.

Embrace this opportunity of investment in a perfectly safe and profitable enterprise with headquarters in your own city where you know that values are increasing daily.

The Directors of the company are C. H. Topp, of C. H. Topp & Co., Victoria, B. C.; John Armstrong, Vancouver, B. C.; Ernest Kennedy, Victoria, B. C.; J. L. G. Abbott, of Abbott & Hart McHarg, Vancouver, B. C.

RAIN MAKES ROYAL'S PASSAGE UNPLEASANT

C. P. R. Steamer Encounters Rain From Q. C. S. North-bound and Return

From the time the C. P. R. steamer Princess Royal, Capt. Norrington, left the shores of Vancouver Island astern on her last northbound trip to Skagway until she was again in Johnson strait southbound she experienced nothing but rain. Some of the officers say it came down in drops as big as buckets around Prince Rupert while in Alaskan waters it simply came down in sheets. Anyone who wished to get a breath of fresh air had to don a sou'wester and an oil skin before he dared venture out on the deck.

The trip completed last night by the Royal was the most disagreeable she had since entering on the Skagway run last spring. At times heavy fogs enveloped the ship and aided to make the trip more dreary. About sixty passengers came south on the steamer, the majority of whom disembarked at Vancouver. She had about one hundred thousand dollars worth of gold aboard, which was discharged at the Terminal city.

The fall rush of freight up the Yukon river is now on and from the present until the close of navigation, all the available river steamers of the White Pass company will be in commission according to the officers of the Royal. The new steamer Casca got away on her maiden voyage to Dawson on the 15th. The Canadian was the last to leave on and from the present until the close of navigation, all the available river steamers of the White Pass company will be in commission according to the officers of the Royal. POLITICAL ECONOMY IN JAPAN.

Count Okuma Describes Tariff Effects on Farmers. Count Okuma has been lecturing on the subject of local improvement and education. The following summary of the lecture is given by the Japan Mail: During the past forty years the community has undergone a wonderful transformation. The metamorphosis has been worked so rapidly that the people have scarcely had time to stop and study the advantages and drawbacks of the old customs. The result is that both good and evil customs are eliminated without distinction. For instance, the abolition of Buddhist temples was at one time so vehemently advocated that not only the temple grounds were confiscated, but many Shinto shrines were destroyed. The devastation of the precincts of the Buddhist temples and Shinto shrines left causes of trouble which continue to the present day. As these temples and shrines are closely associated with the development of the localities in which they are located, their conservation has an important bearing on the national character. Local improvements are of a twofold character. One is to accelerate the improvement of the present conditions, while the other is to conserve what is good and desirable among the old customs. Due consideration must be paid at these two phases of local improvement. Agricultural profits show a tendency towards gradual decrease which has brought about a decline of the number of farming villages all over the world. Impelled by the necessity of protecting the peasants, Germany has in recent years imposed heavy protective duties on imported cereals, etc. The result is a general enhancement in the price of all products harder than ever, and thus

Wanted—'The Pessimist'

All this week, we will be looking for and expecting you to call at this office.

We are after "The Man from Missouri."

It's a feature pre-eminent in the proposition—that every man shall be shown.

There is nothing to hide—absolutely no secrets. It's the people's own proposition—a public enterprise, and being organized for the benefit of the public, by public-spirited men.

So much depends on coal that it may be quite truthfully stated here that a nation's welfare is directly to her coal wealth.

This is the period of "Coal Development."

More money will be spent in proving up coal fields, and opening up and developing our coal lands this year, than in any other form of national resources.

It's a "Coal Age."

Your banker will tell you that coal shares are the standard security of today.

Do you know that right here in British Columbia many millionaires have been made through the rapid rise of values of shares in coal companies?

Do you know that, in one case out of many, a lady received profits amounting to $3,000,000 for her interest in one coal property, and that this enormous sum represented only part of the profits made during a period of ten years?

The Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company is another instance among others of the profits to be made by purchasing stock in coal mines operating in proven coal fields. The shares in this company, originally sold at 10c and 25c each, were subsequently acquired by the Great Northern railway at the price of $380 per share.

If you had purchased 100 shares at the ground floor price of 10c you could in a few years have sold out for $38,000, the amount of your original investment being $10 only.

Another great coal mine in every way as promising as any of the most profitable coal mines of Canada is about to be opened up and placed on the market.

The American-Canadian Coal Company, Limited, has been organized by shrewd business men.

This Company owns by DEED from the government more than 1,500 acres of coal lands on the north shore of Graham Island, fronting on salt water.

The Company OWNS oil, coal, timber, rich farming lands, townsite location, and all mineral rights.

It possesses absolutely the highest and most perfect title that can be granted.

It's a chance of your lifetime at 20 cents per share.

It's a ground floor offer to you; and is only for a few days.

Now, if you're a pessimist, come in—don't hang back—you haven't got to buy simply because you call—but you owe it to yourself to see—hear—to read and examine—before you turn it down.

Come in.

We have at our very door the unlimited markets of the Pacific Coast. The proper development of the coal areas of British Columbia will make it unnecessary to import coal from Japan and Australia as is the case to-day.

The property of the American--Canadian Coal Company, Ltd.,

has an ideal situation from a transportation point of view, and a splendid land-locked harbor at Masset Inlet affords water transportation to all points on the coast.

Those residing at a distance should immediately avail themselves of this opportunity by writing to the Trustee, and making reservation of a block of this stock before it is too late.

All that is required is 10c per share with the application, the balance payable in two equal monthly instalments.

Don't delay, for to make money you must invest.

By investing in the natural resources of British Columbia, you are simply safeguarding the future.

The Office of the Trustee, Capt. Wilbur Johnston, is situated at 604 Broughton Street, Victoria, B.C., and is open until from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

the end the customs tariff had in view has been defeated. In such a new country as the United States of America, small farms are gradually being absorbed by bigger ones and the development of farming villages is at a standstill.

The progress of the material side of modern civilization and of industrial development will inevitably lead to a decline of the farming villages in this country. Moreover, the local expenditure, which stood at 90 or so million yen two decades ago, had now risen to 250 million yen, which means so much increase in the burden of local taxation. Direct taxes have also witnessed a considerable increase and the rise in the price of commodities is a sort of indirect tax on the people. Improvements in the mode of life consequent on the spread of education tend to increase the expense of living among the peasants. Inasmuch as their productive power does not show a corresponding increase, labor and social problems will inevitably present themselves for solution in future. While the material prosperity of Western countries is to be envied, its attendant evils are undesirable. It is all-important to adopt a social policy which will nip these evils in the bud. A few comments are necessary on the education of youths. The majority of people can ill afford to let their children receive a college education. The youths have therefore to stop their school life after they emerge from the elementary schools. This state of things is very unsatisfactory from the point of view of national education. Count Okuma proposed to fill this gap by publishing a magazine containing treatises on popular science with a view to bringing it within the easy reach of students at home and thus ensuring the universalization of national education.

Fort George

It will be one of Canada's largest cities. Because it is the geographical and strategic commercial centre of British Columbia.

The junction of 1,000 miles of navigable waterways. So situated that all railroads building through Central British Columbia—north, south, east or west—must build to Fort George following the waterways.

Fort George is on the line of eleven railroads chartered—some building. British Columbia is Canada's largest and richest province.

The best part of British Columbia is tributary to Fort George.

When comparing Fort George to any prairie city it is only necessary to point out that Fort George has all resources of any of the prairie cities in the way of agricultural possibilities of the country tributary to it. In addition it has an immense timber area, assuring the development of the lumber industry.

Coal has been discovered within ten miles of Fort George and it is the supply point for the great Cariboo gold district which has produced one hundred million dollars to date.

A 7,000 horse power water-power is within sixteen miles, thus insuring cheap power for manufacturing purposes.

No city in Western Canada can claim with Fort George in regard to richness and extent of natural tributary resources.

In making your investments don't overlook the fact that all the new cities cannot be Winnipeg or Vancouver.

There will be a repetition of Winnipeg's growth of Vancouver's financial triumphs.

In casting around for the next young giant among cities you cannot get by Fort George.

The more you compare Fort George with other cities made and in the making—the more you will be convinced of Fort George's future greatness.

The "big" money is being made by those who get in at the beginning of a big city.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

REPORT PRESENTED ON CALGARY CONGRESS

Delegate Sivertz' Report to Trades and Labor Council—Labor Hall Site

A lengthy report on the recent sessions of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress at Calgary, made by Delegate Christian Sivertz, was the principal feature at last night's session of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council and the concise statement of what had been done by that important body was greatly appreciated by the Council, and Delegate Sivertz was warmly thanked. President J. C. Waters was able to be in the chair for the first time in several weeks.

Delegate Sivertz's report was as follows:
Friends and Fellow-Workers:

In presenting this report as your delegate to the 27th annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, I desire to congratulate you on your consistent attitude of loyalty to the labor movement of our country as expressed in the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, by your unwavering support, both moral and material, of that institution. I feel justified in saying that our central body of the fair city of Victoria has earned for itself a Dominion-wide reputation as one of the strongest links in the chain of fraternal unity which is gradually but surely drawing the working people of the land into closer relationship.

This convention, which adjourned last Saturday, was the greatest in every respect in the history of the Congress; the number of delegates, the volume of business and the decisions arrived at on the many important and diverse subjects, marks it as the most important gathering of workmen that was ever held in the entire Dominion.

There were in attendance close on 200 delegates. Some 125 resolutions were introduced besides the many interesting and important reports from officers, provincial executives and organizers.

The convention was opened in due time on Monday, the 11th, and continued in sessions from day to day till Saturday the 16th, when all business had been disposed of; Thursday, was set apart as a day of recreation and social intercourse, the delegates were introduced to the city.

SIX MURDERED IN THEIR HOMES

Bodies of Victims Terribly Mutilated—Slain While Asleep

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 21.—Murdered in their own homes by some unknown persons, the bodies of six persons, three in each of two neighboring houses, were found here yesterday afternoon. The heads of all the victims had been smashed with an axe. The appearance of the bodies indicated that they had been dead several days and that death came while they slept.

The axe, which had been loaned to Mrs. Henry F. Wayne, one of the victims, by J. R. Evans, a neighbor, last week, was found by Mrs. Evans on Monday near the back door of the Wayne home. The implement was blood-stained. No attention was paid to this fact, however, it being thought that the axe had been used for killing chickens.

The dead: Mrs. Alice May Burnham, wife of A. J. Burnham, cook of the Modern Woodmen sanitarium; their two children, Alice, aged six, and John, aged three; Henry F. Wayne, a consumptive, until recently a patient at the Woodmen's sanitarium; Mrs. Wayne and their one-year-old baby girl.

The Burnham home is back to back with the Wayne home, and close to it is that of Evans.

The discovery of the bodies was made by a neighbor, who called at the Burnham home to spend the afternoon, sewing. Not getting any response and noticing a strong odor, she forced an entrance. The bodies of Mrs. Burnham and those of her two children were found in their beds, which were covered with blood. The walls and ceiling were also splattered. The woman rushed to the street and gave the alarm. Instinctively a dozen persons went to the Wayne home, where there had been no signs of life since Sunday, and the same terrible scene was presented. As though in their natural sleep, were the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne and their babe, all horribly mangled, as in the case of the bodies in the Burnham home.

Not even a footprint was found on the floor of either house, and not a person could be found who had seen the bodies, or who all the murdered persons at different times were in a neighboring grocery store.

There is no known motive for the crime. Both the Burnham and the Wayne families were of moderate means.

Burnham was placed under arrest soon after the discovery of the crime, but there seems to be nothing to implicate him with the tragedy. His employers say he was at work when the crime must have been committed. He was last seen at his home on Sunday afternoon, and is said to have left there about 5 o'clock.

Little is known of the Wayne family here, except that Wayne came to the Modern Woodmen sanitarium about ten months ago from Indiana as a patient. One month ago, his term in the institution was up, and he brought his wife and child to this city and rented the house in which they were murdered. Neither has any relatives here.

When brought into the morgue the bodies were almost unrecognizable. The head of every one of the six victims was either cut or smashed open and in almost every case the number of the wounds indicated that the murderer had cut and smashed until he was sure that he had destroyed life.

A Berlin beggar who stated on his board that he was blind, lame and a nervous wreck, has been arrested for assaulting a beggar who stood on the other side of the road with a board on which was written the words, "Only blind."

Conduct is the great profession. Behaviour in the perpetual revealing of us. What a man does tells us what he is.—P. D. Huntington.

DICING FOR BIBLES

A very curious custom is observed at St. Ives in Cornwall, England. Dr. Robert Wild, who died in August, 1878, bequeathed $250, the interest of which was to be expended annually in six Bibles, not exceeding the price of 7s. 6d. each, which should be "cast for by dice" on the communion table every year by six boys and six girls of the town. For nearly 250 years this singular custom has been observed, but the practice of throwing the dice on the communion table has long been discontinued, and the raffling takes place on a table erected at the chancel steps.

CLOTHING FROM SEAWEED.

The day may not be far distant when suits made from seaweed will be as common as that from wool or cotton. Seaweed is really a most useful commodity. It forms a cheap barometer and holiday memento for the children; it provides the farmer with a somewhat odoriferous manure; certain varieties of the weed have been turned to account in the manufacture of photographic materials and now it promises to supply us with summer garments. The weed used for this purpose comes from Australia and is more a fibre than a seaweed proper. It is dredged from the bottom of the sea. During the past few months several mills in Yorkshire, England, have been experimenting in the hope that cloth could be made from it. At first it was thought too coarse for the manufacture of suitings, but the results are said to have been very satisfactory and beyond all expectation. It is light brown in color, as soft as wool and will readily take wool dyes.

WILL BUILD SAWMILL AT PORT ALBERNI

Company is Preparing to Erect Modern Plant at Cost of $50,000

A sawmill with a cutting capacity of 75,000 feet per day is to be established by the Canadian Pacific Lumber Company in Port Alberni, says the Alberni Pioneer Press. The machinery is under order and will begin to arrive within three weeks.

Twenty experienced millwrights and a staff of helpers will arrive with the first installment, and work will be prosecuted vigorously in order to have the new mill in operation before the first of February next. A shingle factory, with three machines, will also be operated by the same company.

This announcement is on the authority of K. W. Gibson, who is associated with M. Carlin and Thomas Meredith in control of the manufacturing concern which operates big mills at Port Moody and Vancouver, and recently acquired the Barclay Sound cedar mills in this town.

The present Barclay Sound mill, which is slightly out of date, will be almost entirely removed. The plant and buildings will cost the company $50,000. When the mill is in operation, running a single ten-hour shift, per day, its pay roll will amount to $2,000 per month. In addition to this there will be paid out for logging operations in the immediate district $12,000 per month.

If the demand calls for it the mill will be run on double shift, doubling the town pay roll. The Canadian Pacific Company has a ready market for the output of its Port Moody and Vancouver mills, and is assured of a market for the proposed additional output in Port Alberni. "We will cater particularly to the local trade," said Mr. Gibson, "and the surplus of our output will go with the products of our other mills."

There is no shingle mill attached to the company's plant in Vancouver, and shingles for the Vancouver trade are to be manufactured in Port Alberni. The Vancouver mill has a sash and door factory, and part of the output of this will be shipped to Port Alberni and stocked by the company there.

REVELSTOKE HOSPITAL

Revelstoke, Sept. 20.—The tenth annual meeting of the Revelstoke Hospital Society was held in the city hall. R. Gordon, first vice-president, in the absence of the president, Mr. Kilpatrick, read the address to the board, which was in part as follows: "I cannot speak too strongly on the accommodation of our present hospital. Notwithstanding the completion of the new wing and general repairs to the old building, the capacity of the hospital has been taxed to its limit during the past year, and as all indications point to a season of great activity in this district it will be well in the near future to discard the old means for the erection of an up-to-date building on the site of the old hospital, as this building has quite outlived its usefulness. As will be seen from the treasurer's report, there has been a surplus of $3,961.18 over expenditure, which has been placed, to capital account. A meeting of the board of directors was held immediately after the adjournment of the annual meeting, when the following were elected as officers: President, T. Kilpatrick; first vice-president, G. Gordon; second vice-president, A. E. Kincaid. Arrowhead board of trustees, Messrs. Lachmund and Cooper, Board of trustees, Messrs. Haylock, Sawyer, Ackers and Underwood. Secretary-treasurer, W. D. Armstrong. Executive, Messrs. T. Kilpatrick, R. Howson, McCarter, McClenaghan and the secretary."

INJURIES PROVE FATAL

Prince Rupert, Sept. 20.—George Benson, aged 56 years, died at the Prince Rupert hospital as the result of injuries sustained at the Oceanic cannery, where he was employed. On August 5 he sustained a severe fall, injuring his ribs and an arm. He came west from St. John, New Brunswick.

DEATH AFTER A SCRATCH

Morris Quatim, an eleven-year-old Windsor boy, fell off his bicycle and scratched his wrist. He thought nothing of the injury, but blood poisoning set in and he is dead.

Such incidents as these—by no means infrequent—ought to make people realize the danger that may lie even in the smallest flesh wound. A knife, a rusty needle, a splinter of dirty wood, a barbed wire fence, or a thorn, scratches the hand, the latter is inoculated with germs, of which the air about us is full.

The way to avoid serious results is to cleanse the wound and apply Zam-Buk. Zam-Buk is a powerful, yet painless germ-killer, and when applied to the tissue, instantly destroying the germs that spread disease and stopping the pain and smarting. That is why Zam-Buk is so popular with children.

The flesh thus soothed and purified, the wound is made perfectly healthy, and all poison and cause of festering removed. Having done this, Zam-Buk then proceeds to heal the wound or sore, and new healthy tissue is built up in a quick, painless and perfect manner.

Zam-Buk must not be confused with ordinary ointments. Zam-Buk is a unique preparation, possessing an antiseptic, soothing and healing qualities that are not to be found together in any other preparation. It is not only a unique healing balm, but it is also a skin food. For all skin diseases and injuries—cuts, bruises, burns, eczema, chafing, ulcers, ringworm, etc., it is without equal. It is also used widely as a specific. All druggists and stores sell at 50 cents a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, or price. Refuse harmful imitations.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Midgie Station, N. B.—One can hardly believe this as it is not natural, but it was my case. For ten months I suffered from suppression. I had tried different doctors, tried different medicines, but none helped me. My friends told me I would go into a decline. One day a lady friend told me what your medicine had done for her, so I wrote you for advice and received your reply with pleasure.

I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and at the second bottle showed improvement. Now I am regular and never was so well in my life, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's medicine.

Please publish my letter for the benefit of others.—Mrs. JOSIAH W. HICKS, Midgie Station, N. B.

Indian Head, Sask.—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is indeed a boon to women who suffer from female ills. My health is better now than it has been in my five years of married life and I thank you for the good your advice and medicine have done me. I had spent hundreds of dollars on doctors without receiving any benefit.—Mrs. FRANK COOPER, Box 438, Indian Head, Saskatchewan.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

CITY ENGINEER PREPARING ESTIMATES

Vancouver Official Will Probably Ask for $2,000,000 for Next Year's Work

Vancouver, Sept. 20.—That the city engineer will ask for the submission of by-laws for at least $2,000,000 for next year's work in his department is believed in city hall circles. Engineer Fellows stated that a large amount of money would be required for sewer, street and waterworks construction, but he declined to mention any specific figure, explaining that his estimate had not yet been made up. For work last year, including waterworks, sewers and street improvements, by-laws to the amount of approximately $1,500,000 were passed. It is anticipated that this figure will be exceeded in 1911 by at least $500,000, if not more.

City Engineer Fellows stated that estimates were now being prepared in connection with a general statement of work to be carried out by his department during the present year. He proposes to devise an improvement in the method of allotting sums for various projects and instead of dividing money out of general by-laws up among the city wards, he will try to have it loosely imposed in the present year. He found that frequently one ward would have a surplus which it refused to surrender while another would urgently need improvements. By means of a tentative allocation the engineer considers that it would be easy to take sums from one project for use in another without any objections. In this way the improvements most desired could be carried out without delay.

In addition to the estimates being prepared the city engineer will submit a general statement of all the sewerage, street improvement and waterworks extensions which are at present more or less inoperative. From the list he will select those most imperative and have the estimated by-laws upon them.

ACTIVITY AT GOOSE BAY.

Prince Rupert, Sept. 20.—O. B. Smith, of the Granby Company at Goose Bay, says good progress is being made in the work on the Hidden Creek project. About 25 men are at work, part clearing the proposed smelter site.

Mr. Smith was asked if it had been definitely settled that the smelter would be erected at Goose Bay, and he replied the matter was still under consideration and not definitely settled, although preparations for the clearing of a site were proceeding at Goose Bay. The outlook for mining was very good.

RESCUES COMPANION.

Prince Rupert, Sept. 20.—A boy of nine, Luke Mazer, who fell into Donald's creek, was rescued by Gilbert Donaldson. Though he only learned to swim about four weeks ago and was so much younger and smaller than the boy he rescued, Gilbert never hesitated for a moment in plunging into deep water after the drowning boy.

MANAGER RESIGNS.

Nanaimo, Sept. 20.—E. O. Black, manager of the Nanaimo Gas Company, has tendered his resignation to the company to take effect November 1, when Mr. Black and family will leave to take up their residence in California. Mr. Black has been in charge of the works for two and a half years, when the present company took charge.

A pretty wedding took place at First Presbyterian manse on Wednesday afternoon when the Rev. Dr. Campbell celebrated the marriage of Mr. Thomas Murhead of "Stirlingshire, Scotland, and Miss Mary Margaret Jessiman, eldest daughter of Mr. James Jessiman of Aberdeenshire, Scotland. The bridegroom was accompanied by Mr. John Kern and Mr. Walter John Singer. The bridesmaid was Miss Mary McQueen Nichol. The bride wore her travelling gown of cream serge with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of flowers and white heather. The bridesmaid was gowned in grey serge with hat to match, and carried a handsome bou-quet of white heather, patriotic emblem of Old Scotia, "the land of the hill and the heather." Mr. and Mrs.
Murhead left by the evening boat and will spend their honeymoon in Vancouver and the Sound cities, after which their home will be on Glasgow avenue.

Mrs. John Pigott was hostess at a smart and well-attended "At Home" yesterday afternoon in the beautiful rooms of the Alexandra Club. Mrs.
Pigott received in a handsome gown, trimmed with jet. The foyer was most artistically decorated with masses of bronze and white chrysanthemums and yellow dahlias. In the second drawing room were six bridge tables. The decorations in the card room were white Japanese popples, and the prizes for games were potted plants. Tea was served in the first drawingroom, where a most effective color scheme was carried out, by means of pink and mauve sweet peas. Pot plants and ferns adorned the balcony. During the afternoon Archibald Hunt's orchestra rendered a splendid programme of music, and Miss Eugenie Fox gave several recitations. A much appreciated feature of the occasion was the exhibition of the paintings of Miss

A pretty wedding took place on Monday evening at the residence of the Rev. A. N. Miller, Menzies street, where Miss Calena Levy, youngest daughter of Mrs. J. Levy, was united in marriage to Mr. John Frederick Hanson. The bride wore a blue silk taffeta dress overlaid with brussels
net, and a veil with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of carnations and bridal roses. Miss Anderson, the bridesmaid, was becomingly gowned in blue satin. The Groom was attended by J. A. Whitefield. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home, 1022 North Park street. A dainty supper was served in the dining room, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion with evergreen, ribbons and Chinese lanterns. The many valuable and beautiful gifts received by the young couple testified to their popularity. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson left on a tour of the Sound cities on their return from which they will take up their residence at 1028 Mason street.

COLLAPSIBLE ROASTER.

Folds Up Into Small, Flat Space When
Not in Use.

For use on gas and oil stoves the colapsible roaster designed by a New York man and shown here will be found a great convenience. Not only will it toast four pieces of bread at a time and in such a way that you can see the operation and prevent the bread from burning, but when not in use it can be folded up into small compass and take up little room. A square metal plate has perforations in the centre and two wires hinged along each side.

These wires are bent at right around which one end of the piano wire is wound, and it can be turned continuously until the proper pitch is attained.
The handle, of course, cannot turn farther than the handle on the old-style instrument, but by means of a spring plunger it can be disconnected from fixed position with the shank and brought back for another stroke without removing the shank from the peg.
The ratchet permits this.

A CONVICT'S BRIDE.

A pathetic wedding was celebrated three weeks ago in a wretched garret in the Trastevere quarter of Rome between a handcuffed convict and a young woman in the last stages of consumption.

The convict was sentenced eight years ago to twelve years' imprisonment in a Sardinian penitentiary for killing a man in a street fight. On learning of his sweetheart's serious state of health he presented a petition to the minister of justice to be allowed to marry her. The petition was granted, and after the wedding the convict husband took a passionate farewell of his bride and was driven off to prison.

Great interest has been taken in the case by the public, and several newspapers started subscriptions to enable the wife to spend her last days in a sanatorium. The queen of Italy has also interested herself in the case and has induced the king to sign a pardon.
The announcement of her husband's pardon was such a marked improvement in the woman's condition that the doctors believe she will be able to see her husband before she dies.

The Evening Chit-Chat
By Ruth Cameron

Some topic of six came up the other day, and a young engaged girl detailed to us her fiance's views on the subject.

A sweet little old lady leaned forward and listened most intently to the young girl's words, and when she had finished, cried out in evident wonder:
"But you don't really mean you talked over all that with him?"

"Why, yes," said
the girl. "We feel that it is false
modesty to be afraid of talking about such real vital things, and so if they happen to come up, we aren't afraid to speak out." Of course, we always talk about them in a perfectly nice way."

The little old lady shook her head.
"Of course, it's all right, my dear, or I know you wouldn't do it, but I'm sure we never did. Why, just imagine John's telling me about—about—the old lady's lips refused to name the subject—about things like that," she finished, "before we were married.
Well, well, I suppose times have changed."

It was twilight, but even in the semi-darkness I could see that the little old lady was blushing.

Times have changed in this particular.

The pendulum has swung from the extreme of an ultra-modesty that attempted to ignore the existence of sex, and that fled from any frank speech on that subject as from a plague and that either produced or assumed a ridiculous ignorance of vital things, instead of a fine, fearless innocence.

And this, I think, is very, very good.
But like all pendulums, I am afraid this one is inclined to swing too far the other way.

The girl of to-day is very anxious not to be a prude.

I wonder if in her anxiety to stand erect instead of with the drooping posture of her grandmother's day she does not sometimes bend too far backward.
She wants to be sensibly frank—
Isn't she sometimes foolishly so?"

She thinks she talks of all these matters merely to be sensible, and to show that she is not afraid to call a spade a spade.

But I wonder does no other motive creep in?

Does the excitement, the intimacy,
the thrill of confiding in the forbidden ground hand-in-hand with him have nothing to do with her desire to be frank?

Understand me, I do not mean that this is a deliberate conscious motive.

Rather one of those deeply hidden springs of action whose presence can only be revealed even to ourselves by a trip to the bottom of our hearts.

Indeed, I do not mean to be harsh nor to impugn your modesty, dear honest, frank, little girls of the twentieth century.

I hate prudishness as much as you do.

But I want you to stand on this matter neither drooping forward nor bending unreasonably backward, but finely and splendidly erect.

So you will try to be sure you are doing that, won't you?

CHALLENGE TO CLERGYMAN. Workman Offers to Swap Jobs, But Later Withdraws. The result of an agricultural laborer's challenge to "swap jobs" for a day with a clergyman is recorded in the following notice which, says the Eastern Daily Press, was found posted in the porch of St. Margaret's church, Titchmarsh St., Margaret, Norfolk. "Mr. Reuben Wehsdal, agricultural laborer, of Titchmarsh St., Margaret, leaving challenged the Rev. A. C. Mackie to 'swap jobs' for a day. Mr. Mackie accepted the challenge and delivered the accompanying letter to the challenger's hands at 12.30 p. m. on Thursday, August 24, in the presence of many witnesses; the day mutually agreed upon was the following Saturday. The challenger backed out at the eleventh hour, to Mr. Mackie's keen regret and disappointment. In his letter Mr. Mackie, pointing out that the challenger was not licensed to officiate in church, said: 'I propose we 'swap jobs' next Saturday; this will be all in your favor, as that is generally a slack day with me. The terms of our wager might be that the loser pays the winner his own week's wages. If I were by chance to win I should give the winnings to the sick and poor fund of the parish. In consideration of the fact that I have oftentimes done such work as yours, whereas you have probably not had any experience of mine, I will give you two hours' start on Saturday morning.' Mr. Mackie enclosed a time-table of the sort of day's work he did on a Saturday. It included: 9.30 to 10—Retranslation of English into Greek. 10 to 11.30—Ecclesiastical documents of the faith. 12.30 to 1—The 'Lapax legomena' of the Apocalypse. 2.30 to 4—Prepare two sermons and a children's address. The time-table appears to have elicited much interest. The challenger withdrew.

WIRELESS EMPIRE UNION. Plan of British Admiralty for Empire Air Cables. A plan for bringing the whole British Empire into touch with Whitehall, London, by means of wireless telegraphy is being perfected. Recent tests show that messages could be got from the Admiralty to most stations abroad very expeditiously, with the exception of Australia. To link up the latter continent with the rest of the Empire powerful wireless stations are being erected in Australasia, and others are to be made at Norfolk Island and Fiji. High-power instruments have also been installed at Malta, this it is understood, being in connection with the plan for putting all parts of the Empire into wireless touch with London. This is a very bold statement of an important fact—a fact of arresting interest to everyone who grasps the significance. Before the Admiralty Lords sitting round a table in London and discussing the movements of the British fleets in all parts of the world; transmitting orders to vessels thousands of miles away as easily as to ships in the Downs. Yet this is not an overdrawn picture. Wireless has prohibited distance, and the Admiralty are taking full advantage of it.

PIONEER KILLED IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT James Pooley Succumbs to Injuries Sustained When Team Bolts Nicola, B. C., Sept. 21.—James Pooley, a well known rancher of Nicola and a resident of the valley for many years, lost his life in an accident yesterday. He was driving along the steep road at the back of the Pooley ranch and on applying the brake the handle slipped, throwing him forward and out of the rig. The team ran down the hill, dragging him along the road for a considerable distance. On being picked up it was found that his thigh and pelvis were smashed and his body feebly bruised. Dr. Tutthill, of Merritt, was called, but the injured man died at 3 o'clock this morning. The funeral will take place here at 3 p. m. to-morrow.

ORDERED TO TESTIFY. Bellingham, Wash., Sept. 21.—An unusual ruling was made by Superior Court Judge Hardin yesterday under which George H. Westcott, a citizen of Blaine, must repair to Vancouver, B. C., and give testimony before the court in this country. Deputy Sheriff Plannigan left for Blaine yesterday to advise Mr. Westcott of the ruling. Alfred Black, Jr., an attorney of this city, was deputized as a special notary by the crown to take Westcott's deposition in a civil action. Westcott refused to make a deposition before Black, and the petition to the local court that he be required to give testimony or be declared in contempt of court was granted by Judge Hardin. The ruling of Judge Hardin was made under a statute of 1910, which authorizes superior judges to order witnesses to appear before other courts. Judge Hardin interprets the statute to mean that the state of Washington and friendly nations to obtain testimony in actions at law.

ALLEGED SMUGGLERS. Four Men Arrested at Seattle—Thousand Dollars Worth of Opium Seized. Seattle, Wash., Sept. 21.—One thousand dollars worth of opium and four alleged smugglers, Rem Goldsmith, S. Winngrass, Henry Mueller and Morris Waland were taken in custody by United States customs officers and special agents last night. The first three were taken at the Lexington hotel, and Waland just as he stepped from the Princess Adelaide. The men believe the capture of the men will effectually break up what is the last remnant of the old Brown gang which made Seattle its headquarters for a number of years. Five tins of opium were found in Goldsmith's room. Goldsmith's room was entered by the officers last night and five tins of the contraband found therein. His trunk, with a false bottom but containing no contraband, was located at Pier One. He protested volubly against the proceeding and more so when he was taken to the city jail for safe keeping. With him at the time of his arrest were Winngrass and Mueller. Winngrass is believed to have been a member of the Brown gang and Mueller is also associated with it by the inspectors.

NORTHERN NAVIGATION. Seattle, Wash., Sept. 21.—Slush ice is forming in the tributaries of the Yukon and Tanana rivers, and the big streams will be closed to navigation about the end of September, except the upper Yukon, between White Horse and Dawson, which will be open probably until the middle of October. The last boat left Fairbanks for Dawson 16 days ago. The boat from Dawson for Fairbanks will depart on the 25th. The last boat from Dawson for White Horse will probably sail October 10. The usual fall exodus from the Yukon is now in full swing. The present season has been very prosperous for the steamboats. Great quantities of freight are being rushed to Dawson over the White Pass road to carry the Yukon camps through the long winter.

ALL-STAR BASEBALL TEAM. Chicago, Sept. 21.—The all-star team chosen by James McAleer to battle with the Philadelphia American League club, the world's champions, prior to their struggle with the pennant winners in the National League, includes four members of the Chicago team, five from Washington and one each from New York, Boston and Detroit American League teams. The batting order as announced to-day follows: Milan, centre field; Cobb, left field; Eberhart, second base; McBride, short stop; Chase, first base; Sullivan and Street, catchers; Walsh, White and Johnson, pitchers.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH. Spokane, Wash., Sept. 21.—While 25 men escaped from an early morning fire in the Austrian lodging house here, Mrs. Stona Kosonovich, was burned to death. The woman arose at 5.30 o'clock in the morning and used kerosene to start the fire. The can exploded in her hands. Liquid fire was scattered over the woman's clothing and, screaming with pain and fear, she ran to the room where her husband was sleeping. Kosonovich burst through the door, pushing children out of the window and escaped, but was unable to do anything for his wife.

THIRTEEN INJURED. Toulon, France, Sept. 21.—A gun on the French armored cruiser Gloire burst yesterday and thirteen members of the crew were injured.

PREMIER FISHER ON EMPIRE TRADE Overseas Dominions Will Have Widest Latitude of Freedom London, Sept. 21.—Premier Fisher of Australia, discussing Canadian trade conditions, says that the future relations of the Home and Overseas governments will assume the widest latitude of freedom with respect to status with affectionate bonds of freedom for the common good of all. "The best parallel I can give is the solar system, where each planet has its own untrammelled orbit and the world of itself, yet is indissolubly bound up with every other planet," said the premier.

SANTA ROSA WRECK. Inspectors Seeking Further Light on Wireless Messages Sent to Captain. San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 21.—Further inquiry by the supervising trade inspector, John Birmingham, into the wreck of the steamer Santa Rosa off Point Arguello on July 7, was begun to-day by United States inspectors Bolles and Bulger, with a view of obtaining further light on the messages sent by the Pacific Coast Steamship Company to Captain Francis. The ship was examined at length regarding the messages and said that he had used his own judgment, acting independently of orders. Captain Hilsbarr, the general manager, and George Higbee, the local manager, both denied on the stand that they had anything to do with sending the wireless messages. J. H. Cooper, the assistant manager, who was to have been called to-day, is out of the city. According to the previous testimony, Cooper was the author of the messages.

AMERICAN CHAMPIONSHIP. Games Between B. C. and California Rugby Teams For International Honors. Palo Alto, Cal., Sept. 21.—An all-star rugby fifteen, chosen from the crack players of the Victoria and Vancouver teams, will play Stanford and the University of California for the American championship in November.

AVIATOR KILLED. Losses Control of Machine, Which Falls Fifty Feet. Dewitt, Iowa, Sept. 21.—John Al. Rosenbaum, of Chicago, was killed here yesterday afternoon, when his aeroplane fell from a height of 500 feet. Rosenbaum was in the air only twenty minutes when he lost control of the machine. Rosenbaum was making a trial flight in a Curtiss biplane when he met death. Other aviators previously had failed to make successful flights in the same machine, and this afternoon Rosenbaum declared he would prove that the machine could fly. He had just started a descent when he lost control.

FIGHTING IN CHINA. Pekin, Sept. 21.—The French legation has received a dispatch from Sui Fu that the prefect's yamen at that place has been attacked and burned by the rebels. Many persons were killed. The Chinese foreign board has reports of an attack on the yamen at Kiating Fu, but details are lacking. The board also has been advised that the yamens have been looted in five towns near Chengtu.

GIRL DROWNED. Woodburn, Ore., Sept. 21.—Alice White, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Rev. H. White of this city, was drowned in a small lake near here to-day. With two girls, she was playing in a boat along the shore of the pond, when her small brother shoved the boat out and the girls fell overboard. The other girls were rescued as they fell in shallow water.

BANK ROBBERY. Aberdeen, Wash., Sept. 21.—With additional evidence, together with photos of two of the three men whom Aberdeen and Seattle police officials believe were implicated in some way in the robbery of the bank of Montreal New Westminster last Friday morning, Detective L. C. Calhoun of the Thiel Detective Agency left here for Seattle this afternoon.

ASHORE IN THE COLUMBIA. Astoria, Ore., Sept. 21.—The steamer Golden Gate, which plies between Portland and Tillamook, is aground in the Columbia river on a sandspit at the mouth of Hunter's Island. The craft is in no danger, and it is expected she will drift off the spit at high tide to-morrow morning.

SOUTH AFRICAN DEFENCES. London, Sept. 21.—Lord Methuen will remain commander-in-chief in South Africa until the government has definitely adopted some scheme of defence. It is expected that a plan for small regular striking forces and a reserve of irregulars for the population will be initiated in February.

OUTBREAK OF SMALLPOX. Chatham, N. B., Sept. 21.—Another outbreak of smallpox is reported from Nazare and that vicinity, there being forty cases at present. The whole trouble is due, it is said, to the lack of harmony among members of the county board of health. The chairman of the board has found it impossible to get money to pay the guards and as a result has been so hampered that quarantines have been a farce and the disease has spread in all directions. He has resigned his position in consequence.

ALLEGED SMUGGLER DEPORTED. San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 21.—Norman B. Smith, who was arrested here on a cable warrant from Honolulu was deported yesterday to that city, where he will answer a charge of selling smuggled opium. The $3,499 in gold which Smith carried in a bag, and his correspondence, said to incriminate others engaged in opium smuggling, will be held in San Francisco by U. S. Marshal Elliott.

AUSTRALIAN NAVY. Lord Dudley Says It Is Difficult to Find Men for Ships. London, Sept. 21.—Lord Dudley, Governor-General of Australia, announces difficulty was encountered by the Australian navy to find men to man ships. He gave it as his opinion that the British government would have to help Australia in this respect for a number of years.

GERMAN ARMY AT WORK. Air Scouts Take a Prominent Part in Manoeuvres. Dispatches from New Brandenburg, Mecklenburg-Strelitz, say that operations in the German army manoeuvres, in which 119,000 men are taking part, were occupied in the energetic efforts of two invading armies to close in and capture the advance division of the army defending Berlin. Before Field Marshal Baron Von Der Goltz could bring his main force, by forced marches, into the field, Emperor William and a staff of distinguished generals acted as umpires. The defenders for a time completely deceived the scouts on foot and in aeroplanes, by dummy lines of stones representing men, but the trick later was discovered and the advance vigorously pressed. The operations showed that, not even the German officers have fully learned the war game; cavalry and infantry regiments marching in closed columns within easy range of concealed batteries.

ENGLAND'S COAL SUPPLY. Scientist Predicts Will Be Exhausted in 175 Years. An alarming prophecy was made by Sir William Ramsay when delivering his presidential address to the British Association at Portsmouth. He forecasted the exhaustion of Britain's coal supply in the comparatively short period of 175 years. "We have in the British Isles," he said, "a very limited supply of coal. For the last forty years the rate at which this supply is being exhausted has been steadily increasing."

SEEK AID FOR STARVING CHINESE

Appalling Conditions in Yangtze Valley as Result of Recent Floods

New York, Sept. 21.—An appeal for immediate contributions for a fund for the relief of the famine sufferers in China was sent out broadcast in New York to-day by the Red Cross.

The appeal says of the situation in China: "Official reports from China state that the Yangtze river is flooded from Hankow to Shanghai; that the river cities are under water and that rains have submerged other great areas in many of the provinces."

"Great distress has followed and the rice has reached an abnormal figure. Twenty-seven countries in Northern Anhwei and Kiang Su have been devastated by the floods, and latest reports indicate an appalling condition throughout the Yangtze Valley."

"The official statements by press reports to the effect that practically the whole of the Yangtze Valley is under water and most of the crops gone. This catastrophe has come at the very time when the people had hopes of recovering from the great famine of last year. The river from Hankow to Shanghai is dotted with the bodies of human beings and animals, and the fields are converted into an inland sea. Even should the flood subside in time for the planting of a second crop of rice, the destitution must be enormous."

The population effected is a large one. It is estimated that between three million people live in the region devastated last year and the present disaster covers many times the former area. The Chinese government is taking steps to relieve the distress and has appropriated $2,000,000, but this sum will be inadequate.

RESCUED BY FISHERMEN

York, Maine, Sept. 21.—An adventure in seamanship nearly cost the lives of the three children of H. H. Munson, a wealthy lumber dealer of Chicago, whose family is spending the summer here. Without telling their parents, the children put out in a 24-foot sloop to go to Portsmouth, N. H., to meet an elder brother. A fisherman's powerboat picked up the trio just as their boat was being driven on the rocks off Portsmouth harbor. The children were exhausted by their struggle against a head wind and a rough sea.

"The House Next Door"

J. Hartley Blum's delightful comedy, "The House Next Door" produced by Cohen and Harris at the Gaiety Theatre, New York, last season, where it had an eight months' run to capacity houses and public as the play of the year, and one of the most enjoyable and thoroughly consistent comedies that Broadway has seen in many seasons, will be the offering at the Victoria Theatre this evening.

The success of the New York engagement of the play—and the vast amount of publicity it gained through whose pride in birth made the story of the play—familiar to theatre-goers from coast to coast. It is said that more than two-thirds of the people who go to see it know its "melting pot" motive, the narrative of the rapidly rising Jew in conflict with the opposition of an effete, starchy old nobleman, whose pride in birth has warped even his instinctive sense of courtesy. The Jew enjoys a rare sense of humor sufficient, not only to see the result of his own financial success, but to see also the natural pride of the older man who has lost all and surrendered all through a gradual weakening of character and the beginning of the end. The Jew's "melting pot" is over the fire there must be a certainty that the portion of pure good will not be ruined by the dross. This is shown in "The House Next Door" by the introduction of characters far below the highly-cultivated Israelite.

William V. Wong has succeeded J. E. Deaton in the role of the irascible old baronet, and his portrayal of the difficult role is notable for its absolute consistency, its rare technical finish and its rich manifestation of dry humor.

Messrs. Rowland and Garlick, under whose direction the play is now on tour, have surrounded Mr. Wong with a cast of exceptional merit and the staging of the play has received careful attention.

COURTING A VOICE

Telephone Girl Pursued by Lover Who Finally Married Her.

A romantic story of the courtship and marriage of a telephone girl comes from St. Louis, where Mr. William McCalpin married Miss Viola Kortkamp, a young lady employed at the St. Louis telephone exchange. The marriage was the result of a courtship induced by the sweet voice of Miss Viola.

Mr. McCalpin, who is one of the managers of the Waters Pierce Oil Company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Trust, whilst telephoning from his office was fascinated by the voice that answered his call, and after several unnecessary calls, for the purpose of listening to her enchanting voice, he introduced himself and asked to be allowed to visit her and "get acquainted." Miss Kortkamp was taken aback by such "rapid" methods, and invariably "rung off" when her admirer persisted, and at length, to escape the chaff of her fellow operators, she obtained her transfer to another exchange. Not to be beaten, her admirer set himself to hunt her down, and after a lapse of over two years he was successful.

Calling up a client on the telephone, he heard the long-sought voice from the exchange. He did not waste any time, for in response to the request, "Number, please," he said, "I am William McCalpin. Don't move. I am coming out to get you, and I am coming right away." The sweet, but astonished voice asked for enlightenment, and Mr. McCalpin repeated his former proposal. Persistence of this sort was bound to impress the lady, and after a moment's consideration the voice gave her name and address and permission for her admirer to call upon her father for an orthodox introduction.

Mr. McCalpin immediately went to see the father, who was the chief of the fire brigade of University City, and he consented to introduce Mr. McCalpin, with the happiest results. The "Voice" was quite up to expectations, and the oil man gave an equally good impression. He insisted upon immediate marriage, as he declared that he had been courting her for two years, and again his persistence won, and the young couple were married.

LABOR EVANGEL

New Zealand Minister to Lead a New Party.

The unexpected announcement that Mr. Fowlds, the minister of education, immigration and customs, has resigned has caused excitement in parliament and some consternation in ministerial ranks, says the London Times correspondent in Wellington.

Mr. Fowlds said he believed that since the last election the Premier had paid too little attention to the opposition and too little to the forces that had been developing in advance of the Liberal party. His own views were widely divergent from those of his colleagues in many respects, and he had resigned for two years, because of the justifiable spirit of unrest now prevailing amongst the masses throughout the civilized world. This would not be pacified until social justice was established. It he could do

The term "a warrior in dressing gown and slippers" used to be deemed one of opprobrium, but it can no longer be so, at least in France, where the ministry of war has equipped the French cavalry with felt slippers as a part of the field kit. Perhaps the dressing gown will come later. The French war office has, it is said, proved by experiment that nothing rests the soldiers so quickly after a hard drill as to take off their boots and go about in loose slippers.

slip this rising tide of new democracy into the right channels he would be repaid for his present sacrifice.

Mr. Fowlds' resignation on the eve of a general election is embarrassing to the government, and may eventually alter the course of New Zealand politics by the establishment of a third party, composed mainly of prohibitionists, and organized labor, under the leadership of Mr. Fowlds.
