TRADE BALANCE NOW AGAINST U. S.

Four Months' Imports $50,000,000 Greater Than Exports
Position Disclosed by Commerce Department Report

Washington, May 16.—The balance of international trade turned sharply against the United States in March and continued so during April, according to estimates made to-day by the Commerce Department, which valued the March imports at $402,000,000 and the exports during the month at $341,162,000.

In a supplementary statement the Department indicated that customs collections from April imports had been equally heavy and added that during the first four months of the calendar year the United States had taken approximately $50,000,000 more in goods and commodities from abroad than it had sent to foreign countries.

The situation, while not entirely unprecedented in the country's trade history and while forecasts in official and economic discussions during recent months, seldom has been encountered, since the United States, except during rare intervals, has always sold more commodities abroad than it has purchased in foreign countries.

Tariff. No mention was made of the tariff controversy in the official study, though President Harding some months ago was said to be expecting a turn in the trade balance against the United States and to consider that the tariff had in no way prevented the purchase of goods by Americans of vast quantities of merchandise.

Gold Supply. It was also said at the time that the turn of the balance of trade against the country would have a final result of bringing about the shipment of a part of the monetary gold stock of the United States, which was swollen, during and after the war, back to the countries from which it came, and this, it was officially declared, would be a benefit to all concerned.

While tending to restore the credit and currency values of the foreign countries, it was asserted, it would also relieve the American monetary supply of an undue quantity of gold, which bankers have asserted to be a force tending towards inflation.

The anticipated gold exportation, however, has not been mentioned in official figures, though the flow of gold into the United States has been diminishing.

SCHOOL CONTEST IN LOWESTOFT

London, May 16.—The locked-out school teachers of Lowestoft who have started unofficial schools for these children are being supported in their attitude of hostility to the education authorities in the matter of reduced salaries as now being threatened with prosecution because they are unwilling to accept these unofficial schools as being held are alleged to be unsanitary.

The parents of seventy of the children who are attending these unofficial schools have been warned that unless the children return to the official schools immediately they will lose their scholarships. However, action in re-consideration by the Education Committee.

THE CONFUSION IN WELAND, ONT.

Weland, Ont., May 16.—Chronologically speaking, in January last the citizens voted daylight saving by a large majority. Three weeks ago a group of business men circulated a document which urged signatories to advance their clocks one hour. As a result, the city's business began to be conducted on daylight saving last week. Citizens in accordance with the will of the electors as expressed at the polls, but further confusion resulted when the school trustees voted to operate the schools on fast time.

ASK MERCHANTS TO DECORATE STORES

The Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is appealing to all merchants to decorate the exterior of their store premises fittingly for the celebration in connection with the May-time Frolic. Special window displays of novelty, sports, holiday and other merchandise would be appreciated, it is said, by visitors from the Mainland and across the line. Every merchant is further asked by the committee to do his share in seeing that Victoria during the Frolic presents a truly gala appearance. Extensive advertising during the Frolic week is advocated by the committee as a sure investment.

INTERNATIONAL ADDRESSES WORKERS

Bases Organization Effort on Assassination of Vorovsky
Moscow, May 16.—The Third International has issued a general appeal to the workers of the world in connection with the assassination of M. Vorovsky, the Soviet representative at Lausanne, in which it says: "It holds Lord Curzon, the British Foreign Secretary, responsible as the inspiration of the Entente effort at Lausanne to prevent a Russo-Turkish rapprochement, and adds with reference to the recent British note: "Curzon demands that we shall not support the movements for liberty in India and Egypt, but such propaganda, by action, as the shooting of Vorovsky has done more for the East than it would be possible for the Third International to do."

ARCHBISHOPS DID NOT RECEIVE SUMS FROM DUKE OF YORK

London, May 16.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The Archbishop of York, whose sermon at the marriage of the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon in Westminster Abbey on April 26 was one of the most notable incidents of the ceremony, has seen fit to deny a story that he profited materially by his part in the royal wedding. In a published statement he says: "I ought perhaps to notice the curious statement which found its way into some of the newspapers to the effect that the Archbishops of Canterbury and York each received £500 for their share in the marriage ceremony. As this statement has given rise to undesirable comment and misunderstanding, I may as well state that there is no truth whatever in it."

Ottawa, May 16.—Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, taking part in the Budget debate in the Commons yesterday afternoon, said he would need an X-Ray in some places to find out where the Progressive amendment differed from the budget. Last year, Progressives had voted against the reductions which the budget contained. In their platform they asked that the British preference be increased to fifty per cent. The Minister of Agriculture read a list of articles and said that twenty-four items which he had read already came in under a preference of fifty per cent. or over.

RESIGNATION DEMANDED

Vancouver, May 16.—A resolution demanding the resignation of Colonel Thompson as chairman of the Board of Pension Commissioners was adopted last night by the O. W. V. at a special meeting of the returned men of Vancouver. The Vancouver branch feels that the Board has no credit fairly with the cases brought before it. The chairman was instructed to appoint a committee to supervise the collecting of a fund to be used in purchasing a gift to recognize the self-sacrifice of the secretary of the Dominion Command, G. G. McNeil.

MOTION TO ABOLISH TITLES DEFEATED

Cape Town, South Africa, May 16.—The House of Assembly yesterday defeated the motion recently introduced by Labor Leader Creswell, requesting the King to refrain from conferring titles on the residents of the Union of South Africa.

ECZEMA COVERED ARMS OF THIS HEALTHY CHILD

Mrs. Alex. Marshall, Sprucedale, Ont., writes:—

"When my little son was three months old he broke out in sores on his chest and arms. We did all we could to heal those terrible sores, but nothing did him much good. Finally I ventured on a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and kept on using it. At last we were rewarded by the steady healing of the sores, and finally he was completely relieved of them. He is now three years old, and has had no return of the trouble since."

British Government Will Discuss Problems With Russian Soviet Spokesman

London, May 16.—The outcome of the eagerly awaited Russian debate in the House of Commons was the announcement last night by Ronald McNeill, Under-Secretary of the Foreign Office, that there would be no immediate break between Britain and Russia, but that negotiations would be started through Leonid Krassin, who was in the gallery listening to the debate.

The Labor Party, in view of the Government's offer to discuss the situation with Krassin, who is the Bolshevik Commissioner of Commerce and Trade, agreed not to press for a division on the motion of J. Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, for a reduction in the Foreign Office appropriation as a protest against the Government's policy.

Attacked Policy. The debate was opened by Ramsay MacDonald with a strong attack on the Government's policy. He attributed all the troubles between Britain and Russia to the failure to recognize the Soviet Government. He invited the Government to produce documentary proofs of its charges against the Soviet, and maintained that the Russian reply opened the

270 CANDIDATES FOR ONTARIO HOUSE

Estimated That Many Will Go Into Contest June 25

Toronto, May 16.—Fifty Conservative candidates have already been nominated in connection with the provincial general election on June 25, as against forty-one Liberals, twenty-six United Farmers and four Independents, or a total of 121, with only 111 seats to go round. With the official nominations not taking place until June 14 it is estimated that at least another 150 candidates will be placed into the field by the various parties.

INCREASED TRADE AND INDUSTRY URGED

Ottawa, May 16.—Taking as his theme "Canada's National Debt," Hon. H. H. Stevens, Vancouver, before the Hull Kiwanis Club yesterday gave an informative address on the country's financial position. Mr. Stevens emphasized that it was the duty of all citizens to help in the task of reducing the burden of the national debt. A means to this end was the development of trade and industry throughout the country. Canada could be developed commercially and industrially through the utilization of financial resources that were now lying idle, he said.

RHINE ARMY COSTS STILL UNSOLVED

Paris, May 16.—The deadlock between the Allies and the United States on a final agreement for payment of the American army costs in the Rhineland remains unbroken. At another session yesterday afternoon the text of the proposed accord was again examined. It was found that the disputed point, whether the Allies will be permitted to abrogate the agreement in case the United States pursues directly the collection of war damages from Germany, must again be referred to the Allied Governments.

Ellet Wadsworth, representing the United States Treasury Department, is understood to have remained firm in demanding liberty of action for the United States on the question of war damages, while the Allied delegates were equally unmoved in upholding their theory that if the United States should proceed to collect war damages from Germany, she could at the same time collect her own occupational expenses.

FRENCH TO PAY MORE FOR BREAD

Paris, May 16.—The price of bread in Paris and the Seine department will be raised. Beginning May 20, the cost per kilo will be one franc, 20 centimes. This is the highest price that bread, which is the chief foodstuff of the French people, has reached since the siege of Paris in 1917.

WAGE CUTS AFFECT 500,000 WORKERS

Sliding Scale for Building Operatives in Old Country

London, May 16.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Reductions in the wages of building operatives, varying from a half-penny to a penny, an hour are fixed by the arbitrator's award on April 13, which provides that the parties to the dispute shall adhere strictly to a sliding scale of adjustments, are to come into effect on May 25. Laborers' wages in connection with the building trades are to be maintained at seventy-five per cent of the craftsmen's wages. The building operatives concerned in the matter number 500,000.

WIDER CHURCH UNION PROPOSAL

London, Ont., May 16.—Bishop Williams, in his charge to the Anglican Synod of Huron, in session here yesterday, declared that the only kind of church union Anglicans would consider would be not only Canadian, but world-wide, broadly recognized by every branch of the Anglican communion throughout the world. The Anglicans had done all they could to secure a conference with the Presbyterians last September. He reported that the Anglicans, Presbyterians, Methodists and Congregationalists had agreed unanimously to petition the Ontario Department of Education for an extension of Bible reading in the public schools.

CASES DISMISSED

Vancouver, May 16.—Dismissal yesterday of cases brought by T. F. Hurley against local firms or their employees under the Employment Agencies Act, ended the agitation against the various concerns which find it necessary to operate employment bureaux in connection with their establishments.

TARIFF PROPOSALS.

The budget amendment of Mr. Forke embodies in concrete form the tariff policy of the Progressive Party as set forth when the new, and now formidable, third political group was being organized.

There is nothing very radical in any of the Progressive proposals, and we are quite satisfied that Mr. Fielding does not view them as extreme.

The Progressive amendment will not be supported by Mr. Meighen's followers, who, of course, will have an amendment of their own.

OUR NEIGHBOR'S DOUBT.

Lord Robert Cecil made an excellent impression upon the people of the United States because he went to them in the right way.

In every instance Britain's unofficial ambassador confined himself to the narrative of the League of Nations—what it has accomplished and what it hopes to accomplish in the future.

But Lord Robert went right to the cause of American lukewarmness about the League when he informed a London audience yesterday that our neighbor to the South doubted whether Europe was really sincere in its desire for peace.

As Lord Robert points out the Old World will never get that sympathy and consideration which the New World could give until it provides a practical guarantee of better things.

PENSIONS DIFFICULTIES.

Most people were under the impression that the recommendations and findings of the Royal Commission entrusted with an investigation into pensions matters would include arguments in favor of some means of dealing with the exceptional case.

It has been pointed out on more than one occasion that there are a number of men in this locality who are apparently as healthy as the individual who was not introduced to the horrors of the trenches and whose mental or physical condition is not subject to periodical recurrences of maladies produced by war service.

pany would take it into consideration and think twice before refusing benefits. That is to say as long as the malady was not included among illnesses for which no compensation may be claimed.

For these reasons it ought not to be difficult for the Pensions Board to receive adequate information in respect of all cases of an unusual and recurrent nature.

THE MOTOR CAMP.

To-day's ceremony at Curtis Point marks another progressive step in Victoria's campaign to reap fuller benefits from the large volume of automobile travel to and from this district.

Meanwhile the Tourist Group is hopeful of obtaining a few more hundred dollars in order that it can give that finishing touch to its work that will assist the camp to earn still more money on its own account.

IMPETUOUS GREECE.

Greece has been told by the Allies that if she chooses to resume hostilities against Turkey she will find herself very unpopular and without any form of assistance from them.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Politics in Ontario are going to be thrown to the winds. Voters from some parts will be carried to the polls by aeroplane.

Communist Newbold has been suspended from the British House of Commons for speaking disparagingly of the chairman when the Assembly was in Committee of the Whole.

The conferees at Lausanne are reported to be on the verge of agreement on the draft treaty. Even at that we are sorely afraid an invitation for them to attend the Maytime Frolic would not spirit them away quickly enough to give them a pleasant change in peaceful surroundings.

Dr. George B. Cutten says that the United States and the white races of this continent are rushing madly on to race suicide and extinction.

Germany's paper money in circulation at the present time represents the trifling sum of 6,720,000,000 marks. We are not worrying so much about the value in dollars and cents of this huge pile; but we shall have to suggest that greater attention be paid to reforestation.

There is no need to import anybody from outside this city to take over the work which was done by Mr. Raymur. Although the late Comptroller was a very efficient official, there is no reason why the duties he discharged should not be performed with equal satisfaction by the present City Hall staff.

EQUIMALT BY-ELECTION.

To the Editor:—In your issue of May 15 appears a letter signed by "Observer" in which he states: "What is wanted at the present time is men who have the courage of their convictions and who are not afraid to get up and speak."

EQUIMALT BY-ELECTION.

To the Editor:—My opponent in the forthcoming by-election, Mr. Brockie, who is my great friend and next door neighbor of the present Reeve, has set forth, as appears in Sunday's issue of the "Observer," a platform.

In doing this, he misrepresents the facts. There was absolutely no friction between the members of last year's Council. The friction which arose was caused solely by the Reeve's refusal to ignore and break down majority rule, and the pitting of the Police Board against the Council, which was deplorable.

My knowledge of financial matters, and this I submit is one of the vital essentials of any good councillor, as a representative of the taxpayers, fits me to serve ably, as my past record proves.

DESTRUCTION OF WILD FLOWERS.

To the Editor:—It is with deep regret we notice the return of Spring bringing with it the usual vandals and our highways are again being stripped of their beauty without the least thought to the harvest of the future.

Surely the time has come, following the extensive education that has been given in our public schools and amongst our public organizations, when we may see a cessation of this wild destruction of the beautiful plants.

It may be necessary to censure the prohibition of the selling of any of these plants, but that does not seem to be the greatest fault, although it is one and may pay for the responsibility for the destruction.

DEFENDS MOVIES.

To the Editor:—The findings of any judicial or administrative body has a widespread effect on the mind of the general public. When such as they conclude in their reports that the cause of the crime is the motion picture, they should give publicity to their conclusions.

Juvenile delinquency has been attributed to various causes, but the most prominent one is the influence of motion pictures. The jury in their report on the subject in a similar suggestion. No positive reasons are given for this conjecture or suspicion regarding the movies.

Let's see if the charges made so frequently by the power are founded on anything like fact. It seems to me the assertions are more along the order of "having to say something," rather than on concrete evidence.

HUNDRED MILLIONS

DR. DOOLITTLE SAYS

B. C. Should Get Something
Like $300,000,000; Cali-

What it will cost to construct the Hope-Princeton loop so as to give a through highway across B. C. will be only a fraction of the direct financial benefit this Province will get from tourist traffic that would come up here and make the complete tour from Coast to Interior, according to

Dr. P. E. Doolittle, president of the Canadian Automobile Association. Dr. Doolittle came to Victoria to see the Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, and urge him to push on the construction of this road, which is the only link in the trans-Canada highway. Tourists spend $300,000,000 a year in California, and although B. C. could not at first get as much business as that, it shows the possibilities there are, and indicates the hundreds of millions that will be spent as soon as the roads are opened and the tourist business developed. Dr. Doolittle said.

Lieutenant-Governor Nichol took Dr. Doolittle over the Malahat to show him the wonderful road and scenery. Dr. Doolittle said that no one needed more than eyes and ears to know that Victoria was the most beautiful city in Canada, and that the growth of Vancouver during the next few years will be faster than that of any other city in Canada. He added that he was not afraid to make such statements publicly in Montreal or even Toronto.

He told how the Drury Government in Ontario has spent $25,000,000 in the last three years on good roads in the old part of Ontario alone. All the main highways are being constructed 88 feet wide and in one case the Premier is considering making the highway 100 feet wide going out of Toronto. None of the Provincial highways are being constructed less than 20 feet wide on the surface. The Government put in 100,000 trees along the highways last year.

SIMON JOHN'S LAWYER CALLS NO WITNESSES

In the case against Simon John, the Indian, the evidence for the Crown was completed yesterday afternoon. The defence announced that it would call no witnesses. His Lordship asked the jury if they would like to proceed and finish before adjournment. The jury, however, thought it would be better to leave the addresses until morning. The evidence taken during the afternoon was as follows:

Varied Evidence.
Johnny Modeste, an Indian boy, about fourteen years of age, told of meeting Simon John on the road. Witness and another boy on bicycles passed Simon John driving on the road. Then something went wrong with witness's bicycle and while they were fixing it, Simon caught up to them.

John Elliott said he was at the dance on the reservation on the night in question, but was there only about half an hour. The dancing had not started when he left, which was about 3.30. He was there to tell the people that he was going to Vancouver on Indian affairs, and wanted money for expenses. He expected Simon John to go with him, and looked around for him, but did not see him.

The Court: Anybody that had wanted to get in touch with you there could easily do it?

Yes.
Witness on going away, passed Previe's place and saw a horse and rig there, but could not recognize it on account of the darkness.

Etienne Pievie stated that he saw Simon at the dance. Witness was invited and did not go into the hall. He was looking through a crack in the outside wall when he noticed Simon beside him.

Johnny Pievie said Simon was stopping at his house. They got some food in the afternoon. After supper, Simon took the team and drove into Duncan. It was Simon's intention to go home next day, February 3.

An Invalid Witness.

The evidence of Godfrey Stephens was then read, as given at the preliminary enquiry. He is now in the hospital at Duncan with sleeping sickness, and unable to attend the trial. The substance of his evidence was that on the night of February 8, when he and Miss Burchett and Miss Gilmore were standing on the street corner he saw a man in the shadow whom he believed to be the accused. Miss Burchett went one way from the corner, while he went the other way with the other girl.

Alfred Lomas, Indian Agent, was arrested and afterwards when the accused was brought into Miss Burchett's room at the hospital when she said "I think that's the man."

Duncan People Impatient.

Provincial Constable Wilson was in charge of the collection and presentation of evidence at the preliminary trial. There was another Indian, besides the accused, with a finger off, he said. Witness investigated and found out where the man had been that night. Then he took the man to Miss Burchett and she said he wasn't the man. The people of Duncan were very impatient and did not take into account that the girl was unable to appear. The preliminary trial was finally held March 5.

Miss Burchett, recalled, identified the purse produced as that which she had with her that night. She declared that she was struggling the whole time except when she was unconscious.

This closed the evidence.

STRAW HAT DAY

Men Becoming Particular About Headgear, These Hatters Say

According to the best meteorological data and a statement distributed by the National Association of Men's Straw Hat Manufacturers, May 15 was to have been the beginning of the straw hat season.

However, nobody was found willing to take a chance with a straw hat owing to the weather looking gloomy, and Napier Denison, the Dominion meteorologist, predicting showers.

"These showers just now are worth millions to the berry men," Mr. Denison said, and by way of consolation to the Summer hat enthusiasts, added, "but the weather changes suddenly and rapidly here."

This year, due to the eagle-eyed observations of the hat makers, the straw cady is to have about it a something which will make its wearer irresistible. They have discovered, these canny hatters, that the careful dresser demands style in his sombrero and that he doesn't want a straw hat merely because it is a straw hat or because the other fellow has one.

The hatters say that men are now becoming critical about the heights of the straw hat's crown and the width of its brim. They are giving attention, too, to what is called good form.

For morning and business wear the careful dresser will insist on a rough and ready sennit. It must be rough and it must be ready or he simply won't have it. In the afternoon or for sporting purposes the same careful dresser won't be seen in anything except a soft Leghorn or a Bangkok. And in the evening when he crawls into his dinner jacket to attend some formal function or play poker with the gang he may expect nothing but sneers from the servants if what he hands over to be checked is not a silk china split straw.

According to the hatters the boys this year are going to be keen about getting straw hats that fit. The last remark they make is that "evidently the idea of the proper straw hat for every occasion is catching on very strongly." Prices, they say, are from same as other years up.

Why we Feel Achey, Stretchy, Indolent & Weary in the Spring

DURING the winter months our bodies are constantly being subjected to sharp and sudden changes of temperature which act as shocks to all of our organs. We rush from the bitter cold and biting winds of outdoors into our over-heated and ill-ventilated homes or places of employment, then back again into chilling snow or cutting sleet.

But the temperature of our bodies remains the same during all the sudden changes that we make from very cold to very hot surroundings, because an even temperature of our blood is absolutely necessary to a normal activity of our organs. So it must be clear that whenever we pass from a hot and poorly ventilated place into the cold fresh air of outdoors, we impose an enormous stress on the delicate mechanism that keeps the temperature of our bodies the same, year in and out. It must also be clear that there is bound to come a time when we will feel the consequences of this stress in one way or another.

So we need not be surprised, then, that when spring arrives and the mild weather tempts us to open the windows and admit an abundance of fresh air or to take walks in the warm sunshine, we feel a bit achey, stretchy, "gappy" and lack energy. These symptoms simply mean that the organs of our bodies are slowly adjusting themselves to the new and more favorable climatic conditions, and that in doing so they are forced to show some signs of the burdens that were placed on them during the long months of sudden and severe changes of temperature. The symptoms that we generally experience when spring arrives are the same symptoms that most people experience when they migrate from one country to another; we have to become acclimated when we move from one climate to another, and during this adjustment to new atmospheric conditions there is bound to be some interference with the functional activity of our organs. In other words, we have to become acclimated to Spring, and this accounts for the fact that we usually feel indolent and weary while the adjustment is taking place.

But sometimes the stress imposed on our organs during the trying months of winter leaves them in a debilitated condition, so the adjustment of the body to its warmer surroundings is inevitably slow. When this is the case, we should assist our organs by taking a good general tonic and restorative. We should take a preparation that enriches the blood, strengthens the nerves and invigorates all the organs of our bodies. A preparation that contains the elements that are necessary in the production of vital forces will hasten the adjustment of the body to the new climatic conditions, and it will flood the body with fresh energy and robustness. Such a preparation is Wincarnis.

For almost fifty years Wincarnis has been used by those who feel achey, stretchy and weary when the mild weather comes. A great many physicians prescribe it for those who lack stamina or feel nervous or debilitated. It is an excellent tonic for men or women who are in a run-down condition.

Begin taking Wincarnis today. You will be surprised how quickly your system will respond to its extraordinary invigorating virtues.

DRAMATIC RECITAL WAS MUCH ENJOYED

Women's Canadian Club Entertained by B.C. Academy Students

Members of the Women's Canadian Club were entertained in pleasing fashion at their meeting yesterday afternoon by a number of the students of the B. C. Academy of Dramatic Art, an attractive programme showing the excellent work being done by this institution in fostering an understanding of the drama as well as correct diction.

The complete programme follows: Miss Peggy Gourlay, "The Shepherdess"; Alice Meynell, and an extract from "The Legend of Sir Launfal"; Miss Kathleen Johnston, "The Two Dolls"; Miss Ella Pottinger, musical monologue, "The Green Eye of the Little Yellow God," accompanied by Miss Ethel Bale; Miss Jeanette Cornyn, "Kitty's Wish"; Miss Edith Lewis, "Ship," by Ella Wheeler Wilcox; Miss Rosemary Naismith, "How They Brought the Good News"; Miss Muriel Elliott and Miss Genevieve McFarland, "The Alarm"; Miss Ella Dobson; Miss Nora Hunter, brief speech; Miss Audrey Ennever, "Aunt Tabitha"; Miss Jeanette Miller, "The Smack in School"; Miss Katherine Moore, "Barbara Freitchle," by Whit-ter; Miss Lorna Lewin, "The Rendezvous," by Allan Sagar; Miss Mary Landley, "The Alarm"; Miss Ella Pottinger, "The Hindu's Paradise," a musical monologue, accompanied by Miss Ethel Bale; Miss Ruth Campbell, "Shadows," by Wesley Martin; Miss Jeanette Miller, "Seen Things," God Save the King.

Miss Nora Hunter, a budding young orator, in a graceful little speech referred to the Little Theatre movement and expressed the appreciation of the students for the encouragement given to their efforts by the Women's Canadian Club. Mrs. Hyndman expressed the thanks of the Club to Major Bullock-Webster and his pupils.

GIRL GUIDES

A Summer training school for Girl Guides is to be held in Vancouver from July 4 to 16, at Crofton House School, kindly lent by the Misses Gordon. The provincial committee urgently request that as many guides as possible take advantage of this opportunity to acquire training in all the ordinary branches of guiding work and especially in campfire work, as the school is to be under the direction of Miss Kay Symes, Blue Cord Diploma Guide and Camp Advisory Secretary from Ottawa. All information as to terms for the course may be obtained from the secretary, Miss Hartshorn, headquarters, Board of Trade Building, Vancouver, to whom all names should be sent as soon as possible.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Codville the Esquimalt Girl Guides have moved into their new headquarters at 429 Lamson Street, where they have a large room at their disposal. On Sunday last the Esquimalt Company attended church parade at St. Paul's Naval Church, where being present Mrs. Kinloch, Deputy Provincial Commissioner; Miss Douglas Crompton, captain of 1st Esquimalt Company, and fourteen guides; many were absent through illness. The guides of this company will hold an out of door sale of work, with competitions and displays, on June 8. Mrs. Kinloch has consented to open it.

CHAPTER TO CONTINUE MILK SUPPLY IN SCHOOL HOLIDAYS

The Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I.O. D.E., at its meeting last evening decided to continue the supply of milk to ill-nourished children during the school holidays. Twenty-seven names have been added to the list of those receiving the milk. Active preparation was made for the chapter's boat in the Maytime Frolic parade, and members are asked to meet for this purpose at the headquarters to-morrow and Friday evening.

The chapter nominated Mrs. Curtis Sampson as its delegate to the national annual meeting in June. Reports were given of the Provincial Chapter meeting and of the soldiers' graves committee. A standing vote of condolence was passed to Mrs. McDonnell, educational secretary, in her bereavement.

During the evening Mrs. J. H. MacGill, of Vancouver, spoke along the lines of juvenile court procedure and the probation system.

Festival of Art—Preparations for the "Festival of Art" are now well advanced, and tickets are on sale at Angus Campbell's, Terry's and Mitchell & Duncan's. It is to be given on the evenings of May 28 and 29, and is in aid of the sunroom for the tubercular patients in the new Royal Jubilee Hospital. Mail orders are now being received.

Mrs. Sidney Child is leaving to-night for Calgary, where she will remain for a few days before continuing her journey to Chicago. After visiting friends in the American city for about six weeks she will return via the Northern Pacific, visiting at various places en route home.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES SHOW REMARKABLE GROWTH IN YEAR

Those in Operation Now 105; Raised $44,000 for Community Purposes

One of the most remarkable growths in the history of the women's movement in British Columbia is that of the Women's Institutes. Although of comparatively recent inception, the Institute movement has progressed so steadily that to-day it numbers in its membership over four thousand of the women of the rural districts and its benefit as a social and educational agency in the isolated communities cannot be over-estimated. Its potential strength may to a certain extent be gauged by the fact that these women by their untiring efforts have raised over $44,000 in the past year, an amazing achievement when it is considered that the money-making undertakings have been staged in comparatively sparsely-settled districts.

111 Institutes
 In 1922 the Institutes in the province numbered 97. At the commencement of the present year, 111 had been organized but of this number about 105 have been actively operating throughout the year. New ones organized during the present year include the following: In the Lower Mainland district, Aldergrove, Cannon, Crescent, Fern Ridge, Hollyburn, Huntington and Northeast Burnaby; Okanagan district, Oliver, Malakwa and Poplar Grove; Kootenay district, Boswell, Castlegar and Passmore; and on Vancouver Island, one at Vimy. Three of the former Institutes on Vancouver Island, at Comox, Oyster and Merville, are temporarily suspending operations owing to the departure of members from the district, but hope to resume their activities before long. In addition about ten districts throughout the province are considering the organization of Institutes.

Raised $44,000
 It is interesting to note that six Institutes raised over $1,000 each, these including Salmon Arm, which raised $2,175 which has been largely used in the erection of an Institute Hall; Vernon raised $2,538.12 and has used much of its money in co-operating with the School Board to pay the salary of a public health nurse; Point Grey, with its $1,790.42 has erected a fine Institute hall; Nelson raised $1,428.20, of which $250 was used for the establishment of a public health nurse in an outlying district; Rutland used its $1,167 in supporting a nurse and in other community work; and the Victoria Women's Institute raised $1,152.11, and has firmly established itself in commodious headquarters, the furnishing of which includes a piano.

Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, secretary for Vancouver where she will address a meeting on matters connected with the Institutes and will then proceed to Aldergrove to complete the organization of that Institute.

W. B. A. CAMP GIRLS PLAN FLOAT
 The regular meeting of the W.B.A. Camp Girls was held on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Bloor, Fullerton Avenue. Fifteen members were present, including Mrs. Ball, camp supervisor, and Miss Reid, president, who conducted the meeting. Much business was planned for the coming season, including a float for the Maytime Frolic. A birthday social will be held at 1230 Government Street on Tuesday, May 29. All members from the three reviews and their friends are invited to attend. A musical programme was enjoyed, following which dainty refreshments were served.

GIRLS' CORNER CLUB.
 The usual supper for business girls will be served in the Corner Club Rooms, Liberal Hall, corner of Government and Broughton streets, on Thursday at 15 p. m., with the kind assistance of the Metropolitan Missionary Society. After supper the girls will have for the Protestant Orphanage, taking with them gifts of clothing, handkerchiefs and candies for the children, whom they will entertain by a short programme of singing and recitations.

Members of the Liberal-Conservative Association were hosts at a most enjoyable card party followed by dancing, in the headquarters, Campbell Building, last evening. Mrs. R. F. ESTEVAN GETTING OVERHAUL ON WAYS

Marine Tender Will Leave This Month for West Coast Lighthouses

Local Shops Doing Work for Union Steamer Chilliwack

Getting a complete overhaul before setting out on her next cruise to the west coast of Vancouver Island the Federal light-house tender Estevan is now occupying the marine ways at the Upper Harbor plant of the Victoria Machinery Depot, Ltd.

The tender is being given a thorough overhaul and it is expected that a week will elapse before she is back in the water. By the latter part of the month, it was announced to-day at the Marine Department, the Estevan will be dispatched with supplies for the light-houses and to carry out buoy work along the west coast.

The tender Berens was at Carmanah Point to-day putting ashore supplies.

Boiler Contract. The Victoria Machinery Depot, Ltd. has been given a contract to provide renewals for the boilers and furnaces of the Union Steamship Company's steamer Chilliwack, and the shops are now busy on this work.

New furnaces and new boiler parts are being cast and when the order is complete the Chilliwack will be brought here to have the parts installed.

This will be in about a month's time. A new smokestack for the steamer Tees has been assembled at the Victoria Machinery Depot, and will shortly be fitted.

INTERNATIONAL CHESS

Carlsbad, May 16.—Completion yesterday of all the games left unfinished from the previous rounds of the international chess tournament in progress here since April 27, brought about an entire change in the leaders.

The New York player, Bernstein, won both his adjourned games from Bogoljubow and Yates. Grünfeld with score of 8½-4½; Maroczy is in fifth place with 8-5, and the sixth and seventh places are held by Cruentfeld and Teichmann with 7½-5½.

All the scheduled games of the first 13 rounds are now completed.

Salvor Again To Attempt Salvage Of Wrecked Cargo

Ship Leaves Port This Afternoon to Resume Salvage of Freight From the Battered Wreck of SS. Tuscan Prince Ashore Off Barkley Sound

The salvage steamer Salvor is leaving to-day to make another effort to salvage freight from the wreck of the British freighter Tuscan Prince, which last February was wrecked on Austin Island, near Village Island, entrance to Barkley Sound.

Some freight was taken off the wreck earlier in the year by the salvor but the operations were suspended owing to continued bad weather. The conditions are now more favorable and the salvor has again been ordered to the scene.

In command of Capt. Leighton Evans, formerly mate of the Algerine, the Salvor, which has been stationed at Vancouver, arrived here from the mainland at 4 a. m. to-day.

During the day she has been taking on supplies and this afternoon will leave for Barkley Sound to resume the salvage of cargo.

The wreck of the Tuscan Prince still contains considerable cargo, consisting chiefly of rails and plate glass, which is considered good salvage.

About 1,000 tons of steel rails are said to be still in the steamer's holds.

Break Amidships. The Salvor is still holding together, according to the latest advices reaching the offices of the Pacific Salvage Company.

It is expected, however, that with heavy weather, she might break asunder immediately forward of the funnel, there being a two-foot gap at the bulwarks of this point.

The Salvor is taking up special gear and her complement is confident the salvage expedition will be successful.

DANISH VESSEL IN DISTRESS. Halifax, May 16.—The Danish steamship "Dor" is ashore on South Point, Northumberland Straits, and leaking badly, according to a wireless message from Grindstone, Magdalen Islands.

The "Dor" is taking up special gear and her complement is confident the salvage expedition will be successful.

Charge a Plot To Split Germany

Political propaganda is getting to be one of the leading industries of Munich, Bavaria is a cradle of political plots and publicity; with mystery man Hitler a disturbing factor, with General Von Ludendorff dominating another group, with people talking monarchy and Fascism, and with former Crown Prince Rupprecht close by, this German state is a whirlpool.

Finding out what the people think is a difficult matter. You hear curses for France, and appeals to America, dismal prophecies of ruin and other forecasts more cheerful.

To get one viewpoint I talked with Dr. Von Knilling, prime minister of Bavaria. I cannot vouch for the accuracy of the interpretation of public opinion in South Germany, but this is what he says:

"If France realizes her aim—to annex the Rhineland and permanently occupy and exploit the Ruhr—it will mean the establishment of French dominance in Europe.

"This policy, if carried out, will weaken Germany economically to such an extent that the German people will be doomed to political destruction and ruin.

Dr. Von Knilling quoted figures to support his assertion that the invasion of the Ruhr had been an economic failure. He believes France hopes eventually to split up the German federation, concentrating particularly in divorcing Bavaria from the other states. This plan, he declares, will fail.

DEVELOPS BOILER TROUBLE AT COMOX

News was received at King Bros to-day to the effect that the S.S. Theben, which is on this coast loading lumber and only recently was loading at the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Mill, had developed boiler trouble. As to whether the trouble is of a serious nature it has not yet been ascertained but the information states that the Theben is not expected to make Genoa Bay before Sunday. She is at present loading coal at Comox and was due at Genoa Bay to complete her lumber cargo for the Atlantic sea-board to-day.

HAURAKI BRINGS FANNING PEOPLE

Motorship Due Friday With Passengers From Isolated Cable Station

The motorship Hauraki, of the Canadian-Australasian Line, will arrive in quarantine at William Head from Australia via Fanning Island by daybreak on Friday, it was reported to-day.

The motorship has aboard six passengers who embarked at the cable station at Fanning Island.

These people are covering a lot of extra marine territory on the Pacific in order to reach their homes in Australia from the Pacific Cable Board's station in the South Pacific. They will take passage home by the Canadian-Australasian liner, Niagara, which is due here May 26, and will sail June 2 for Auckland and Sydney.

The motorship Hauraki, on a previous voyage, brought passengers here from Fanning Island, but they arrived on this side a day after the Niagara sailed, and were forced to sail home from San Francisco. The reason for the long detour is that but few ships touch at Fanning Island.

The Hauraki, which is under the command of Capt. David Todd, has about 1,000 tons of freight for British Columbia discharge and she will load paper and general cargo for the return voyage to Australasia via San Francisco.

YOKOHAMA TO SAIL. The liner Yokohama Maru, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, is leaving port this evening on her outward trip to the Orient.

Dr. Von Knilling, who is a member of the Catholic party, believes the German people have definitely given up all faith in radicalism and are growing more conservative.

"As far as the German people is concerned," he added, "this must surely lead to a general revision of the Weimar constitution—particularly toward a decentralization of power in the hands of the federal government, and the strengthening of the rights of the individual states."

MORE TONNAGE ADDED TO UNION OIL FLEET

Los Angeles Harbor, May 16.—With the arrival here this week of the tanker Deroche, which was recently purchased from the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation, the Union Oil Company of California added another 75,000-barrel oil carrier to its large fleet.

With the addition of the Deroche, the company now owns and operates a fleet of 21 tank steamers and barges with a total carrying capacity of approximately 1,100,000 barrels of oil. Besides these vessels, three chartered steamers are operated with a total carrying capacity of 219,000 barrels of oil, making the entire fleet capacity over 1,300,000 barrels.

The Deroche arrived from New Orleans, where a thorough inspection was conducted before purchase details were completed. The vessel is in charge of Captain Belin and made the trip in 19 days. She will load immediately with a cargo of refining crude for San Francisco.

Specifications of the new tanker are as follows: Length, 485 feet; depth, 32 feet; breadth, 56 feet; gross tonnage, 7,058; net, 4,349; engines, three-cylinder triple expansion reciprocating type; three Scotch marine boilers.

BARGE MENACE TO NAVIGATION

Craft Reported Adrift in Queen Charlotte Sound Danger to Shipping

Reported as a menace to navigation a barge is said to be adrift in Queen Charlotte Sound. This is in the direct line of shipping in the northern British Columbia and Alaska coast service. Notices have been broadcast to the effect that the barge A. C. C. No. 4, which broke loose from a tug off Egg Island, is adrift.

The dismantled schooner Volante, used as a floating fish saltery, got away from a tug in the same vicinity in 1917 and drifted about for six months.

The Volante, after being reported by many masters of vessels, went ashore in a cove on the west side of the Queen Charlotte Islands. She was found by Indian fishermen and taken from them by white men.

The white men ran the Volante into Prince Rupert and there attempted to maintain salvage claims against the vessel, but this was frustrated.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The executive of the Retail Merchants' Association will meet in the Hudson's Bay store to-morrow, at 12.15.

Found on the corner of Vancouver and Courtney Streets on Saturday a wedding ring, is now in the possession of the City Detective Office, and its owner being sought. The ring will be returned to its owner upon the usual proof of identity.

Robert W. Clanton thanks the neighbors, members of the local police force and firemen for the aid rendered at the fire which damaged his premises recently at 639 Monterey Avenue, Oak Bay.

Miss N. Holland, of Toronto, will give an illustrated lantern address on "The Development of Art" before the Island Arts and Crafts Society to-morrow evening at 8.15 in the headquarters, Union Bank Building.

Progressive Conservative Club.—The Women's Conservative Club met last evening in the headquarters at the Balmoral Hotel, when there was a very large attendance. Two new members were welcomed and five gratifying reports were given of the recent silver tea and hearty vote of thanks was extended to Miss Tully for the use of the drawing room and to the artists. Arrangements were made for the Club's participation in the Maritime Frolic parade.

Chapter Met Yesterday.—Mrs. Laundry, the regent, occupied the chair at yesterday's meeting of the Bishop's Chapter, I. O. D. E. held at the home of Mrs. Helmecken, Beach Drive. The Chapter was very grateful for a donation of wool spun by Mrs. Innes. A cash donation was also received from Mrs. Ernest Fleet, England, an honorary member, who still retains an active interest in the Chapter. The maternity work of the Municipal Chapter will also be discussed.

The Liberal Women's Forum listened with a great deal of interest to an address by Mrs. J. H. MacGill, of Vancouver, yesterday afternoon, on the subject of juvenile courts and their operation. She explained the responsibility of the women well-being and urged them to make the fullest use of the ballot privileges to secure necessary reforms. The address was appreciated and a number of questions by the women revealed. Mrs. J. H. MacGill, Mayor, the president, was in the chair. A musical programme enhanced the pleasure of the afternoon.

A garden party on a large scale is being arranged for, in connection with St. John's Church, to take place on Wednesday, June 28, in the grounds adjoining the residence of Mr. Drummond Hay, on the Gorge Road. A committee consisting of delegates from all the organizations belonging to the church met last evening in the Rectory, under the chairmanship of Mrs. F. A. P. Chadwick, when the subject of the forthcoming garden party was fully discussed. The result of this meeting was that plans for stalls such as home-cooking, fancy-work, balloons, candy, etc., were made, besides which a number of side attractions such as the mock art gallery, clock golf, croquet and other forms of amusement were decided on. It is expected this garden party will be the best affair of its kind ever held by the church, as the organizations are cooperating together with that end in view, and no pains are being spared to make it a complete success from all points of view. Mrs. D. R. Keir has kindly consented to act as convener of the affair and under her direction the various organizations will complete the details as outlined last night. The following were present at the meeting: Mesdames Chadwick, Morrison, Townsley, Hawkins, Kirk and Rideout; Misses Carter, G. Fox and I. Fox; Messrs. Clarke, Hallam and S. C. Hawkins.

DETECTIVES TO COLLECT CITY'S OVERDUE BILLS

Will Search Out People Who Fail to Pay Accounts to Corporation

City detectives will collect bills owing to the city under a plan approved by the City Finance Committee, it was announced by members of the committee to-day.

Members of the detective force will be asked immediately to start collecting a large number of outstanding accounts which ordinary bill collectors have failed to turn into cash. It is hoped that the officers will be able to get results where others have failed.

Detectives will be particularly valuable in cases where persons who owe money to the city cannot be located easily. Council members explained to-day that the officers, it is supposed, will be able to trace these people and secure the money due to the city.

Before detectives can start this work, of course, the permission of the City Police Commission will have to be secured.

Alderman W. J. Sargent is the originator of the plan to have detectives collect the city's outstanding bills.

NOVELTY RACE TO BE HELD AT WILLOWS

Bucket, Rogers and Everett to Compete Against Horse in Ten-mile Marathon

A novelty marathon race will be held at the Willows track on May 26 in connection with the Maritime Frolic celebrations, when three well-known local athletes will compete against a horse, which is expected will be ridden by an Indian. The distance of the race will be ten miles, twenty laps around the track.

The local runners taking part in the race are Jimmie Bucket, winner of the 1000 yard race at the Victoria mile marathon; Driver Rogers, of Work Point, runner-up to Bucket, and Laurie Everett, it is expected that the competition will be very keen, and whether the equine will be able to best the city's crack long distance runners remains to be seen.

COURT HEARS OF MANY BOTTLES

Hundred Dozen of Beer Not Unusual in His Backyard, Says Accused

Beer and stout to a value of $34 was acquired by the accused in fifteen days in purchase from the liquor vendor, it was elicited to-day at the trial of Joseph Hoag, charged on remand in the city police court with the sale of beer to police officers. A permit produced by the accused on his own behalf showed that he had bought eighteen dozen bottles in fifteen days, at an average of $2 per bottle. April 21 saw six dozen of beer bought; April 22, five dozen; April 30, six dozen; May 1, a dozen of ale; May 5, three dozen of stout and two of beer, and so the record went.

On cross-examination by C. L. Harrison the Crown accused said it was not uncommon for him to have 100 dozen empty bottles in his back garden. He would not like to be accused of buying beer to sell to a dozen of police officers, but that would not be an impossible feat he thought. The beer had been kept in the drawer of a foldin bed solely because the house was crowded and that was the only place to put it. He had not sold beer to the police constables Casway and Wells. Nor had he taken money as they stated.

Pressed further witness stated he collected bottles. Only on Sunday last he had found five dozen empty bottles on the beach at Esquimalt lagoon and brought them home. These he sold to the brewery.

In summing up for the defence Mr. Lewis held that the accused had told a frank story and one that was consistent with the truth. If there was any doubt the accused should have the benefit of the doubt.

It was a very unusual quantity of liquor and beer to have about a house, commented Mr. Harrison for the Crown. He would urge the court to convict on the evidence of the police officers Casway and Wells. The officers had brought away stout and beer and testified that they paid for drinks at the premises.

Magistrate Jay reserved judgment. James F. Craig charged with committing an indecent act in the presence of boys was fined $50. The accused was arrested by Detectives Phipps and Calwell after a complaint had been made by the parents of the boys. In passing sentence the court remarked on the previous good character of the accused. Complaints about men in a similar manner have been brought to the attention of the police almost daily for the past six months.

COOK, George J., retired, 525 Nelson Street; nominated by George Dunn, seconded by Frederick George James.

POMEROY, Samuel Alfred, 469 Admirals Road, accountant; nominated by Elliott McAndless, seconded by Ellen G. Stewart.

The polling booths to be used on Saturday will be at the Sailor's Club and at the corner of Arm Street and Craigflower Road. Only the voting for the by-election will be held, as the decision to hold a straw vote on the liquor question has since been abrogated.

MRS. LATIMER DEAD

Wife of Ex-Controller, of Winnipeg, Passed Away Here To-day

The death took place to-day at 129 Medina Street, of Mrs. Mary Adela Latimer, wife of ex-Controller James G. Latimer, of Winnipeg. Mrs. Latimer was in her seventy-seventh year. A few years ago she was in a serious street railway accident in Winnipeg, and it was declared then that she would never walk again, but she mustered up courage and eventually recovered the use of her legs. Mrs. Latimer was a native of Ottawa and grew up with the city, where her husband was for many years on the Council as alderman and controller. She was before her accident an active supporter of the Methodist church and associated with many organizations in Winnipeg. She came to Victoria three years ago, wintering in Ocean Park, California, annually.

The family is as follows: Dr. Latimer, Brandon; L. R. Latimer and J. G. Latimer, of Vancouver; B. W. Latimer, of Edmonton; Charles J. Latimer, of Los Angeles; and A. E. Latimer, of Victoria. There are also several grandchildren.

The remains are at the B. C. Funeral Chapel awaiting the arrival of the family from Vancouver, and an announcement will be made to-morrow.

ORDER GRANTED

A writ of habeas corpus was granted to-day by Chief Justice Hunter in Supreme Court Chambers here to Frederick Somers. Somers was convicted and sentenced at Burnaby on October 4 last for an infraction of the Government Liquor Act, a sale of liquor in fact. Gordon S. Wismer, Vancouver, to-day asked for his release. His S. W. appeared for the Crown. The order was made.

How To Sleep ON A BARE FLOOR

It is more a matter of SLEEP, than of bed or board.

Some people can sleep sitting up, standing up, even while walking.

Many people can't sleep in the softest of downy beds; and all of us suffer occasionally from nerve-racking, wearing, tiring wakefulness at night.

There is always a reason for sleeplessness. Usually, it's a "sour" stomach, a liver that has "lain down" on the job, congested bowels, or biliousness.

Then, just before retiring, take Beckham's Pills. They soothe an uneasy stomach, encourage the organs of digestion and elimination to natural activity, and assure restful sleep no matter what!

MAY QUEENS LEFT FOR SIDNEY TO-DAY

Small Crowd Cheers Departure and Wishes Young Ladies Good Luck

The May Queens of Victoria's choice left this morning at eleven o'clock for Sidney, thence to proceed to Mainland points. They were given a hearty send-off by over 200 people, despite the fact that the driver of the heavy Packard, Barney Olson, had some difficulty in starting at all. The fact that this unfortunate gentleman was detained gave the crowd opportunity of making remarks to say that can hardly be made up of the young ladies who made up the party.

After about ten minutes of hard work Barney started the engine and the merry load of Queens was headed off to Sidney. It disappeared around the corner.

Mrs. May Watkins, acting as chaperone, assembled the party of Queens. The young ladies who made up the party were the Misses Dora Rolia, Civil Service representative and Queen of the Frolic; Anna McKinlay, C.P.R. candidate for training at Utilities; Victoria Armail, Hudson's Bay Company's representative and Queen of Commerce by acclamation; Mary Brown, British American Paint Company, Queen of Home Industries; Anna Davies, navy representative, Queen of National Defence, and Mrs. Styles Sehl, Gyro Club candidate, the Queen of Clubs.

TO HOLD UP NEW BORROWING PLAN FOR LEGISLATION

City Cannot Float Overdraft Bonds Until Legislature Approves Plan

The city's scheme to borrow money to cover accumulated bank overdrafts cannot be completed until legislation is passed by the Provincial Legislature, it developed to-day.

As the Legislature will not meet until the Fall the city's bank will have to wait until that time for payment of about $50,000, overdue on the city's current accounts. Arrangements for postponing payment are being made by the city now.

Meanwhile the city will not be able to float bonds to raise the money required by the bank. Tenders will be called immediately, however, for city bonds to the amount of $1,575,000. These are made up as follows:

- $1,400,000 for refunding sinking fund shortages.
- $85,000 for paving Johnson Street from Johnson Street west.
- $25,000 for completing the Johnson Street Bridge.

Tenders for these bonds must be filed at the City Hall on noon of May 23. The $85,000 paving loan will run for twenty years. The $200 bridge loan will be floated for thirty years and the sinking fund loan for twenty years. All loans will bear interest at five and one-half per cent.

Bond men will be able to submit alternate tenders for bonds repayable in England and Canada or in England, Canada and the United States.

OFFICER WITH LONG SERVICE BURIED

Capt. James Trigg Accorded Military Honors Yesterday

With full military honors the remains of the late Capt. James Harrison Trigg were laid to rest yesterday afternoon in St. Luke's Churchyard, Cedar Hill. Rev. W. Carroll performed the last rites. A beaver party of six officers and a firing party were provided from Work Point Barracks, the following immediate friends acting as chief mourners: Lieut.-Col. W. Ridgway, Wing to inspect and James R. Trigg (father); Major E. A. Nash, Major W. J. Clarke, Capt. Hepburn and Samuel Dixon, of Kamloops (father-in-law).

Captain Trigg was the only son of James R. Trigg, of Dedham, Essex, England. He served in the Natal Mounted Police, 1892 to 1895 and in the native rebellion in 1906 in the N.F.P. field force in operations in Natal and Zululand, for which he obtained a medal and clasp.

This officer was well known in the Kamloops district, where he was engaged in farming since 1907, but, like many others, when called to the front he offered his services. He was one of the first to volunteer, and went overseas with the first contingent as a sergeant in the 1st Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, at Valcartier to the Strathcona Horse. He was badly wounded at Festubert, France, in May, 1915. Capt. Trigg was married in Dedham, England, to Miss Nellie Dixon, of Kamloops.

On his return to British Columbia he was given a commission in the 102nd Regiment, and for his service at the internment camps he was promoted to the rank of captain by Major-General Sir W. D. Otter. On demobilization he took up his residence in the Cedar Hill district. Last August he became seriously ill from the effects of his services overseas and never fully recovering, he died on Saturday morning.

In a communication to the Maritime Frolic Committee Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M. P., writes as follows from Ottawa:

"I took up the matter of the entertainment of the American officers and men of U. S. S. Omaha with the Naval Department here. They are communicating with Washington with a view to securing particulars for me to forward to you so that the proper arrangements can be made for the entertainment of the crew and officers of the U. S. S. Omaha.

"I am glad to hear that the old town is going to have a big show, and it is very pleasing to note the energy with which this matter is being taken up. I sincerely hope that it will be a tremendous success and only regret that I cannot be with you."

Dr. Tolmie, as he himself states, is keen to see the Victoria May Day celebrations a success. He is doing all in his power to get the Naval Department to take money from the factory action as the Frolic Committee requested him to do, and it seems that he will meet with every success.

To Keep Within Estimates.

That the Maritime Frolic Committee, in charge of the financial arrangements for the May 24 celebrations, had not money to burn was emphasized at a meeting of that body last night in the City Hall. The impression had got about owing to success of the May Queen contest, it was stated, that the Frolic was over supplied with funds. This was not the case, it was asserted. Receipts had been $12,000 and authorized disbursements $15,000 to date, it was said. Estimated expenses in connection with the Queen contest had been $2,400 up to the present. It was said. Manager Fred Marsh set these facts before the meeting, explaining that he had received $1,000 in money from various sources owing to the erroneous impression having spread. Aldermen Leeming and Ker were appointed to interview the B. C. Coast Service in connection with an excursion boat from Bellingham during the Frolic celebrations. True-

APPLICATION REFUSED

Continuing to-day before His Honor Judge Lamman an application by George Coffin to appeal from a conviction sentencing him to jail for eighteen months and a fine of $1,000 for unlawful drug possession was refused by the higher court. Coffin was arrested by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police recently in a paid premises at 619 Pandora Street and sentenced in the city police court by Magistrate Jay. Through counsel, D. S. Tait, the accused applied for leave to appeal, the legal time for such appeal having already expired. The application was refused, C. E. Harrison acted for the Crown.

tee George Jay reminded the meeting that May 23 was Empire Day, when the schools of the city would hold their annual sports. Speaking as a grant to the school sports Trustee Jay was informed that in the past the City Council had been the donor, and was urged to apply to the donor for the needed support. Gyros E. V. Finland and Archie Muir urged the meeting to change the time of parade until the afternoon of May 24, so that outside visitors could attend. This could not now be done, it was decided, owing to previous arrangements for a gymkhana.

DEFENDANT IN SUIT FOR FREEDOM OF THE AIR.—Radio fans all over the continent are interested in a trial which soon will decide the question of the freedom of the air to radio amateurs. The plaintiff in the suit is Edward McWilliams, broker of Dwight, Ill., and the defendant is C. Wylie Bergman (shown above), also of Dwight, nationally known as an amateur radio broadcaster. The suit is entered to restrain Bergman from operating his station on the ground that it interferes with the operation of other radio apparatus in the town. Bergman is 18 years of age, and is recognized as one of the most expert amateur radio operators on the continent.

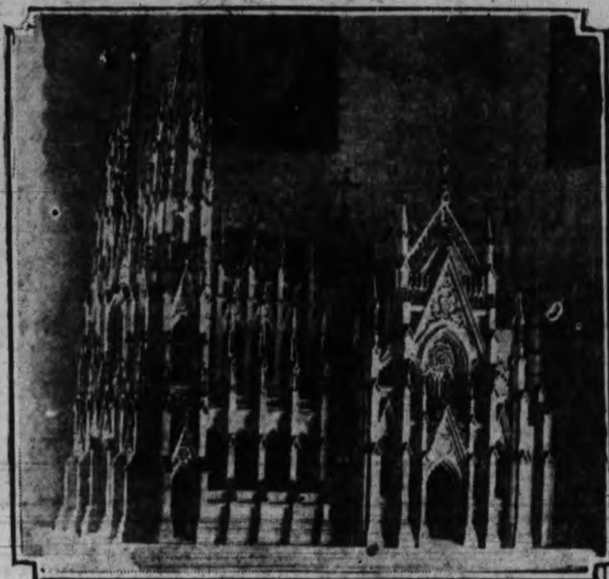

F. G. MORLEY, secretary of the Ontario Associated Boards of Trade, has resigned after many years' service.

JAMES LYON is the Conservative candidate in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, where Sir William Hearst, ex-premier, was defeated by a labor candidate in 1919.

ORPHAN IS CHAMP.—George Flinton, 12-year-old inmate of the Methodist Orphanage at Raleigh, N. C., wasn't known very well until The Raleigh Times started its marble tournament. Then he became famous by beating all orphanage boys and the pick of other schools. George will go to the Atlantic City tourney.

CAPT. PAXTON HIBBEN, of the U. S. army artillery, executive secretary of the American section of the Manson Relief Commission, and vice-executive secretary of the high commission of the League of Nations, was the chief speaker at Toronto's May Day celebration.

COUNTY OF SIMCOE is the first to take up the Ontario Government's reforestation scheme. At the left is shown a young pine, 1,210 of which are being planted to the acre. At the right, a general view of the nursery beds, where a million and a half young pines are being grown.

DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND, U. S. Senator for New York, is mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate for the presidency. His platform, if he runs, will contain a strong "wet" plank.

SCHOOL DAYS By DWIG

DRIVER TOOK A CHANCE.—This car's driver took a chance on racing past a street car in Chicago—but a second auto he hadn't figured on was in the way. One of the passengers in this car was killed.

COLLAPSE AFTER LOSING RACE.—This picture, taken in the estuary at Oakland, Calif., immediately after the University of Washington's oarsmen beat the University of California crew for the Pacific Coast championship, shows the strain of this sport. Three California oarsmen, in the nearest boat, are shown collapsing. Washington won the right to compete at the big Poughkeepsie regatta.

TALKS RELIGION TO THE FELLOW IN THE BARBER SHOP

SHAVES YOUR FACE AS HE SAVES YOUR SOUL.—Instead of talking to his patrons of Jess Willard's comeback or the latest news in baseball, Charles Ault, student-minister-barber, of Evansville, Ind., preaches religion—and he gets away with it. He's the most popular barber in the shop!

OUTLINE OF HISTORY
The Romance of Mother Earth

The Revolution in America
The American State—A Clean Start

From the point of view of human history, the way in which the thirteen States became independent is of far less importance than the fact that they did become independent. And with the establishment of their independence came a new sort
of community into the world.

It was like something coming out of an egg. It was a western European civilization that had broken
free from the last traces of empire and Christendom; it had not a vestige of monarchy left and no
state religion. It had no dukes, princes, counts claiming to ascendancy or respect as a right.

Even the unity was as yet a mere unity for defense and freedom. It was in these respects such a clean start in political organization as the world had not seen before.

The absence of any binding religions is especially noteworthy. It had a number of forms of Christianity, its spirit was indubitably
Christian; but as a state document of 1781 explicitly declared, "The government of the United States
is not in any sense founded on the Christian religion."

The new community had in fact gone right down to the bare and stripped fundamentals of human association, and it was building up a new sort of society and a new
sort of state upon these foundations.

Realized an Ancient Dream.

Here were about four million people scattered over vast areas with very slow and difficult means of intercommunication poor as yet, but
with the potentiality of limitless
wealth, setting out to do in reality
on a huge scale such a feat of construction as the Athenian philosophers twenty-two centuries before
had done in imagination and theory.

This situation marks a definite stage in the release of man from precedent and usage, and a definite step toward the conscious and deliberate reconstruction of his circumstances to suit his needs and aims. It was a large part in the becoming practical in human affairs.

The modern states of Europe
have been evolved institution by institution without any quality of preceding things. The United States were planned and made.

In one respect, however, the creative freedom of the new nation was very seriously restricted. This new sort of community and state
was not built upon a cleared site.
It was not even frankly an artifi-
ciality, like some of the later Athenian colonies, which went out from the mother city to plan and build brand-new city-states with brand-new constitutions.

The thirteen colonies by the end of the war had all of them constitutions either like that of Connecticut
or that of Massachusetts, dating from their original charters (1622) or,
as in the case of the rest of the states, where a British governor had played a large part in the administration, remade during the conflict.
But we may well consider these re-
constructions as contributory essays
in the general constructive effort.

The idea of Equality.

Upon the effort certain ideas stood out very prominently. One is the idea of political and social equality. This idea, which we saw coming into the world as an extreme and almost incredible idea in the age between Buddha and Jesus
of Nazareth, a new assertion in the later eighteenth century, as practical
standard of human relationship,
of Virginia: "All men are by nature equally free and independent," and
it proceeded to rehearse their "rights,"
and to assert that all magistrates
and governors are but "trustees and servants" of the commonwealth. All men are equally entitled to the free exercise of religion.

"The king by right, the aristocrat,
the 'natural' slave, the god king,
and the god have all vanished from
this political scheme—so far as these declarations go."

None of the states produced
similar prelude to government.
The Declaration of Independence
said that "all men are born equal"
It is everywhere asserted in eightteenth-century terms that the new community is to be to use the phraseology we have introduced in an earlier chapter a community of
will and not a community of obedience.

But the thinkers of that time had a rather clumsy way of putting the thing, they imagined a sort of individual choice of assent to citizenship that never in fact occurred—the so-called social contract.
The Massachusetts preamble, for instance, asserts that the State is a voluntary association, "by which the whole people covenant with each citizen and every citizen with the whole people that all shall be governed by certain laws for the common good."

Now it will be evident that most of these fundamental statements
are very questionable statements.
Men are not born equal, they are not born free; they are by a most various multitude enmeshed in an ancient and complex social net. Nor is any man invited to sign the social contract or failing that, to depart

into solitude.

These statements, literally interpreted, are so manifestly false that it is impossible to believe that the men who made them intended them to be literally interpreted. They made them "in order" to express
certain elusive but profoundly important ideas—ideas that after another century and a half of thinking
the world is in a better position to express.

Civilization, as this outline has shown, arose as a community of obedience and was essentially a community of obedience. But generation after generation the spirit was abused by priests and rulers. There was a continual influx of masterful will from the forests, parklands and steppes. The human spirit had at last rebelled altogether against the blind obedience of the common life;
it was seeking—and at first it was seeking very clumsily—to achieve
a new and better sort of civilization
that should also be a community of will.

Every Man a Sovereign.

To that end it was necessary that every man should be treated as the sovereign of himself; his standing was to be one of fellowship and not of servility. His real use, his real importance, depended upon his individual quality.

The method by which these creators of policy in America sought to secure this community of will was an extremely simple and crude one.
They gave what was for the time,
and in view of the circumstances,
a very wide franchise.

Conditions varied in the different States; the widest franchise was in Pennsylvania, where "every" adult male taxpayer voted; but compared with Britain, all the United States
were well within sight of manhood
suffrage by the end of the eighteenth century.

These makers of America also made efforts, considerable for their time, but puny by more modern standards, to secure a widely diffused common education. The information of the citizens as to what was going on at home and abroad they left entirely without any quality of misgiving, to public meetings and the privately owned printing press.

The Sandman Story For To-night

THE CRYSTAL COMB—Part II.

For many days Joel traveled looking for the Crystal Mountain on the top of which the old witch had said
the Crystal Comb could be found and at last one night he came in sight of a gleaming mountain and he knew this must be the one for which he was searching.

But when he came near to the foot
of it Joel found himself separated from the mountain by a white river which sparkled like crystal liquid as it flowed rapidly along.

How should he cross it? There was no boat and he was sure he would be whirled away if he tried to swim to the other side.

As he stood there wondering what to do a small dwarf-like creature in white leaped out of the whirling rapids and stood beside him. "Do
you wish to cross the Crystal River?"
he asked.

"Be warned! There are other dangers," said the small white man
when Joel told him he wished to reach the Crystal Mountain. "I can take you safely across the river,
but I cannot bring you back if you change your mind about climbing
the mountain when you are on the other side."

This Joel told him he would not
do. "I wish to climb the Crystal Mountain no matter what dangers I encounter," he said.

"I am a Mist Elf," said the small white man, "and sometimes I rise

"CAPTAIN BLOOD"

Writer of "Saramacche"
By RAFAEL SABATINI

INSTALMENT NO. 15

Levasseur addressed himself to M.
Ogeron. He spoke at long length.
In the end—
"I trust, monsieur," said he, "that I have made my case plain to you."
"Your ransom is fixed at twenty thousand pieces of eight, and you shall have liberty on parole to go to Tortuga to collect it. This part of the ransom is to be paid in three instalments, the first on your arrival,
and you shall have a month in which to come and go. Meanwhile, your sister remains with me as a hostage. Your father should not consider such a sum excessive as the price of his son's liberty and to provide a dowry for his daughter."

"You are foolish if you refuse," Levasseur spoke without anger. His fingers had been busy tying knots in a length of whipcord. He held it up a moment. "You know this? It is capable of screwing the eyes out of a man's head by way of helping him
to see reason."

He flung the length of knotted
cord to one of the negroes, who in an instant made it fast about the prisoner's brows. Then between cord and chain the black asserted his short length of metal, round and slender as a pipe-stem. That done
he rolled his eyes toward Levasseur.

"I beg that you will spare yourself
and your sister," said the Captain,
"by being reasonable. What, after all, is the ransom to be named?"
"I have been too modest. But since I have said twenty thousand pieces of eight, twenty thousand pieces it shall be."

"And for what, if you please, have
you said twenty thousand pieces of eight?"

"In execrable French, but in a voice
that was crisp and pleasant, that question floated over their heads.

Startled, Levasseur and his officers
looked up and round.

On the crest of the dunes behind them they beheld a tall, lean figure scrupulously dressed in black with silver lace, a crimson ostrich plume
curled about the broad brim of his hat affording the only touch of color.
Under the hat was the tawny face
of Captain Blood.

Levasseur gathered himself up
with an oath of amazement.

Launching himself upon the yielding sand, into which he sank to the level of the calves of his fine boots,
of Spanish leather, Captain Blood came sliding erect to the beach. He was followed by Wolverstone, and a dozen others. As he came to a standstill, he doffed his hat, with a flourish,
to the lady. Then he turned to Levasseur.

"Good-morning, my Captain," said
he, and proceeded to explain his presence. "It was last night's hurricane blew us back. We had no choice, but to ride before it with stripped poles, and it broke us back the way had gone. I was glad to put into a cove on the west of the island a couple of miles away, and we've walked across to stretch our legs, and give you good-day. But you are these?" And he designated the man and the woman.

Levasseur snarled his lip, and changed color. But he controlled himself, and answered civilly.

"As you see, two prisoners."

"Ah! And the names?"

The prisoner answered for himself.
"I am Henri Ogeron, and this is my sister."

"Ogeron?" Captain Blood started.
"Are you related by chance to my
good friend the Governor of Tortu-ga?"

"He is my father."

Levasseur gave aside with an imprecation. In Captain Blood, amazement for the moment quenched every other emotion.

"The saints preserve you! Now! Are you quite mad, Levasseur? First you molest the Dutch, who are our friends; next you take prisoners two persons that are French, your own countrymen; and now, indeed, there's no less than the children of the Governor of Tortuga, which is the one safe place of shelter that we enjoy in these islands."

Levasseur broke in angrily.

"Must I tell you again that it is a matter personal to me?"

"And the twenty thousand pieces of eight? Is that also a matter personal to you?"

"It is."

"Now I don't agree with you at all," Captain Blood sat down on the cask that Levasseur had lately

occupied, and looked up blandly.
"You have fixed their ransom at twenty thousand pieces of eight.
That sum then belongs to your crews and mine in the proportion by the articles established. But what is far more grave is that you have concealed from me this part of the prizes taken on your last cruise, and for such an offence as that the articles provide certain penalties
that are something severe in character."

"Ho, ho!" laughed Levasseur unpleasantly. Then added: "If you dislike my conduct we can dissolve the association."

"That is my intention. But we'll dissolve it when and in the manner
that I choose, and that will be as soon as you have satisfied the articles under which we sailed upon this cruise."

"What do you mean?"

"I'll be as short as I can," said
Captain Blood. "I'll accept the situation as I find it. Yourself you've fixed the ransom of this couple at twenty thousand pieces, and as I gather, the lady is to be your per-quisite. But why should she be your perquisite more than another's, seeing that she belongs by the articles to all of us, as a prize of war?"

Black as thunder grew the brow
of Levasseur.

"However," added Captain Blood,
"I'll not dispute her to you if you are prepared to buy her."

"Buy her?"

"At the price you have set upon her."

Levasseur contained his rage, that he might reason with the man.
"That is the ransom of the man. It is to be paid for him by the Governor of Tortuga."

"No, no. You've perceled the twin together—very oddly. I confess You've set their value at twenty thousand pieces, and for that sum you may have them, and the surf shall be divided among our crews. So that you do that, it is conceivable
that our followers may take a lenient view of your breach of the articles we jointly signed."

Levasseur laughed savagely. "Ah, sacre Dieu! The good jest!"

"I quite agree with you," said
Captain Blood.

"It improved the condition of every one who was constipated"

Recent experiments explain action of Fleischmann's Yeast in relieving this common complaint

In three great scientific laboratories and hospitals, recent experiments were made on over 100 persons—to test the effects of Fleischmann's Yeast on constipation.

It was found that the yeast mixes with the highly-nutritious, concentrated foods which form most of our modern diet, softening them and increasing their bulk. This greater bulk gently encourages the intestinal muscles to act, and at the same time strengthens them by offering just the resistance they need.

That is why, according to the recently-issued report of these tests, Fleischmann's Yeast "improved the condition of every one who had any degree of constipation." It simply assists Nature to restore normal, healthy conditions. Hundreds of thousands of men and women are eating Fleischmann's Yeast today. Physicians and hospitals are prescribing it in place of the dangerous drugs and cathartics which weaken the intestinal muscles and so actually increase the trouble.

Your own physician will heartily endorse this principle of treating constipation by gently encouraging the intestinal muscles to act for themselves.

Be sure you get Fleischmann's Yeast—yeast in its natural fresh form. Recent experiments have shown that yeast corrects constipation only when its cells are alive and active, and that it loses its laxative effect when these cells are "killed" and dried.

Eat at least 2 or 3 cakes a day—plain or dissolved in water, milk, or fruit juices—preferably half an hour before a meal, or the last thing at night.

Get several cakes at a time—they will keep in a cool, dry place for several days. Be sure you get Fleischmann's Yeast. All grocers have it. Send for free booklet, "The New Found Value of Fleischmann's Yeast in Building Health." The Fleischmann Company, 1166 Burrard Street, Vancouver, B. C.

"Though 58 I am feeling like a boy of 20"

"For the last four years I had been suffering constantly with indigestion," writes a broker from Havana. "I could not go to the club at night. I had to give up all my pleasures. But since a friend of mine recommended to me to try Fleischmann's Yeast, I am back again on the same old footing. Though 58 years old I am feeling as if I were only 20—thanks to Fleischmann's Yeast."

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried plain, cheap, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic case, try
the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, or phosphate. But the pure Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either preferred form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or three compressed tablets with a little white sugar, very near meals. You will note a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous harmful acid in the stomach. It also enough your food to ferment and sour,
making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn
and the heaviest, heavy, heavy, heavy
that seems to follow most everything
you eat.

Will find that, provided you take a little Blueated Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger
of pain or discomfort to follow, and moreover, the continued use of the Blueated Magnesia causes no change in the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

Government Pictures of Banff, Wainwright and Jasper, Show Rare Beauty

The information branch of the parks system of the Department of the Interior has sent out a party from Ottawa to spread publicity concerning the Canadian national parks and to expound the beauties and attractions of the national and international highways. Last night J. C. Campbell, director of education and information, spoke to an enthusiastic audience at the Chamber of Commerce rooms of the many wonders of the Banff-Windermere highway, the surrounding districts and the Jasper and Wainwright National Parks.

Capt. F. G. Forster, also of the Government party, gave short talks between the showing of the motion picture films relative to the scenic beauty of the different parts of Canada and the responsibility which rested upon the shoulders of every loyal subject in the developing and advertising of these attractions.

The actual work of the party, J. C. Campbell stated last night to a Times representative, was to bring to the Dominion those of other continents and countries who wished to travel. The influence of this party of publicity agents, as they may be termed, extends as far as Europe and Australia. Pamphlets and folders with views of the beauties of the Dominion are in circulation all over the world and are being distributed free of charge. The Canadian Government has taken many different routes of reaching the tourists of the world. This year will see the opening of the big Canada Building, Wembley Park, London, with thousands of feet of wall space for the artistic genius of the photographic and painting world of Canada. This should prove a great aid to Canada in bringing to her beautiful parks the much-desired tourist.

The titles of the picture films shown to the Victoria people last night will give an idea as to the subjects of the films.

The Norway of America—This film consisted of beautiful views of river and bay, channel and island.

Motoring in Colorado—This film was unique. It shows some of the finest scenes of the Canadian Rockies, and all the while the audience is impressed with the fact that this country is quite accessible by motor cars.

Banff Playdays—This reel was another gem of the photographers' art. Scenes about Banff were featured.

Unblazed Trails—Here the thrilling beauty of the Alpine resorts and the perilous ascents into the land above the clouds both were featured.

Jasper of the Lakes—Perhaps this was the most beautiful of the films; scene about Jasper were prominent. The natural beauty of this great national playground was striking.

All of these films were outstanding in their beauty. Speakers of the evening impressed the audience with the fact that Canadians did not realize the natural attractions which were theirs. They also made it clear that the Dominion Government was interested in only what would benefit the whole of the country and would not let themselves be hampered "by any small-town ideas."

The party is on its way to California, and as J. C. Campbell stated, the Americans certainly appreciate the beauty of the Canadian parks wherever the films are shown.

George J. Warren has been accompanying the party with views of the Vancouver Island points of beauty along the highway. His slides have been well received. The party will leave for Los Angeles this morning there to address the Commercial, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. They will be in Victoria Thursday, and will be entertained at the Rotary Club luncheon where members of the Government party will give interesting speeches, and if possible, show some more of their wonderful films.

ELEVENTH C. M. G. BRIGADE.

The Men's Recreation Room, No. 1 Company, 11th C. M. G. Brigade, will be open to all members of this Unit on Thursday evening next, 17th inst., between the hours of 8 and 10 p. m. As there are vacancies for recruits in the 11th C. M. G. Brigade, the Orderly Room will also be open during the above-mentioned hours every Thursday evening, when those desiring to join can be sworn in.
