FOURTEENTH YEAR

CAMPBELL, SANTA CLARA CO., CAL., FRIDAY, JUNE 18, 1909

LOOKING DOWN YUKON AVENUE.

One of the most traveled highways of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition will be the street to which has been given the name of Yukon Avenue. Yukon Avenue makes its way across the exposition grounds from west to east, and the ends are represented by Klondike Circle near the entrance, and Nome Circle on which fronts the classic Forestry building. It crosses the roaring Cascades on oriental bridges of handsome design, and from its central part the buildings of Hawaii and Alaska, backed by the enormous federal structure, are directly to the north.

Just to the west of Klondike Circle the Pay Streak winds in a general direction from north to south, and at the eastern end the land gives way precipitously to the shores of Lake Washington. It is on this beautiful shore of the lake the natural amphitheatre is located, and nature has so quickly formed this delightful spot, that small effort has been required to transform it into as perfect an exhibition place as is possible. Its curving, sloping sides complete a semi-circle, and from its tiers of towering seats 30,000 spectators may witness the entertainments with no possibilities of occupying a single undesirable seat.

A wonderful variety of architectural display is shown by the many buildings through which Yukon Avenue passes, and during its course the visitor passes from man-made monuments through parts of magnificent forests whose grandeur has never been marred by the destructive craft of Mammon's disciples. From every side the line of horizon is defined by mountains whose lines are delineated in perpetual snow, and stretching away as far as the eye can travel rest the waters of Puget Sound.

SCENE ON THE COURT OF HONOR, A-Y-P. EXPOSITION, SEATTLE.

In constructing its group of five buildings, the United States Government had regard for the type of architecture followed generally in the buildings of the Exposition proper. The Exposition structures are in the modern French renaissance and the Government in the modern Spanish. The two styles tie in nicely together and make an harmonious whole. On the right of the picture is the Alaska building, one of the Government group. In the center is the European Exhibits Palace. On the left is a facade of the Palace of Agriculture. The last two named are in the French renaissance and were completed before December 1, 1908. The Alaska building was completed April 15.

San Francisco.—The probating of the will of Kate O'Hara, widely known as "the queen of Pauper alley," by Judge Graham, brought to light the fact that her once large fortune had shrunk to $300. In the early days she dabbled heavily in stocks, and at one time possessed upward of $100,000.

San Rafael.—It is not often that the Tax Collector is hunted by people who are anxious to contribute their share of the city's expenses, but such was the case when Dr. W. J. The suit was brought by Katherine A. Rivers and Marie Musto to quiet title to the strip, which is claimed by them, although the Mutual Savings Bank projects over it.

HARRIMAN KEEPS HIS EAR CLOSE TO THE GROUND

Railway Magnate Said to Have a Way of Studying Public Sentiment.

Chicago.—Edward H. Harriman, who is absolute master of over 54,000 miles of rail and water transportation, has decided to keep in constant touch with public opinion regarding himself, his railroads and the railroads generally, provided it is possible to do so through things which are printed about them.

Twice each month each general manager telegraphs Kruttschnitt a brief synopsis of public sentiment as reflected by the press. His report also shows the number of publications which are examined, the percentage favorable, the percentage unfavorable and the percentage which is neutral. He quotes, also, from criticisms, complaints, expressions of opinion and from special articles besides giving the trend of opinion as voiced in political and commercial centers.

Harriman regards the reports as valuable bids in detecting causes of friction between his railroads and the public and in applying corrective measures.

Dry Farming Industry Fostered.

Washington.—Secretary of the Interior Ballinger has just designated 270,000 acres of land in New Mexico and 46,000 acres in Montana as coming within the provisions of the 320-acre homestead law.

These lands are semi-arid and while very fertile, if properly cultivated, must be farmed according to "dry farming" methods. The Government's idea in giving these large farms to settlers is to make possible biennial farming.

The "dry farmer" can cultivate 160 acres one year, while he is carefully storing away moisture in the other quarter section. This kind of farming is very successful where the rainfall is only from eight to sixteen inches per annum.

Commission to Hear Rate Cases.

Washington.—It has been decided that the entire Interstate Commerce Commission would go to the Pacific Coast, in accordance with a suggestion made by Commissioner Franklin K. Lane. The commission will start in August or September and hold hearings in Spokane, Salt Lake, Tacoma, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Reno, Los Angeles, Phoenix and perhaps other cities. All questions bearing upon railroad rates between the Coast and the East, and between intermountain points will be threshed out by the commission.

For Japanese Exclusion.

Los Angeles Would Annex San Pedro and Wilmington

Los Angeles.—One of the most comprehensive and advanced plans for municipal expansion and improvement recently promulgated by any American city, and involving the consolidation of the cities of Los Angeles, San Pedro and Wilmington, and the expenditure of $10,000,000 in municipal harbor and railway improvement, was made public with the reports of the Consolidation Commission of the Los Angeles City Council. The committee is composed of fifteen representative business men of the city, and their recommendations have the endorsement of every civic and commercial organization in Los Angeles, all the newspapers and similar commissions in San Pedro and Wilmington.

It is proposed to build at San Pedro and Wilmington "one of the best harbors in the world" by vast improvement of the inner and outer harbors; construction and operation of public docks and wharves, piers, warehouses; municipally owned and controlled land transportation; establishment of municipal ferries between the two harbor cities, and uniting the fare thereon to 2 cents; establishing a municipal fish market at San Pedro; extending the school, police, fire, water, library and other municipal features of Los Angeles to San Pedro and Wilmington.

It is proposed to spend the entire $10,000,000 within the next ten years on harbor improvement.

The Council by unanimous vote adopted the recommendations of the commission.

Present System of Inspecting Meat Scored as Ineffective

St. Louis.—After eighteen months' service as a United States meat inspector in East St. Louis packing houses, J. F. Harms has resigned and has written a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Wilson demanding an investigation of the meat inspection system at the National Stock Yards.

"The inspection at the National Stock Yards is costing the people approximately $100,000 a year, and it is not actually worth $1 to them."

"I have seen from 1200 to 1500 pounds of lard spilled on the floor and which ran down into an open sewer in the floor, the sewer outlet being quickly blocked and said lard taken up from the floor and out of the sewer, both of which were unclean and unsanitary from walking over and the sputum and filth which naturally finds its way into any sewer.

"And your Doctors Clancy and Meaders passed same to the packers over the protest of the inspector on that floor and it went to the public market 'United States Inspected and Passed.'"

May Substitute Printed Leaflets for Children's Schoolbooks

Chicago.—School text-books and other bound volumes, which have caused several publishing companies to wax wealthy, may be barred from the Chicago schools if a proposition officially submitted to the Schoolbook Investigating Committee of the Board of Education is adopted.

The plan to be considered is that of doing away with all books now in use and substituting printed leaflets, with lessons compiled by local educators. If it is adopted by the Board of Education, it is declared that thousands of dollars will be saved to the parents of school children every year.

The average cost of books per pupil in the public schools each year is about $3, according to estimates made by publishing companies. Under the leaflet system of study the cost would be less than $1.25.

Cigarette Smoking Now a Crime in State of Washington

Seattle.—A provision of the new anti-cigarette law, which went into effect last week, is that "every person who shall manufacture, sell, give away or have in his possession any cigarettes, cigarette papers or cigarette wrappers, shall be guilty of misdemeanor."

It is the opinion of the Attorney

General's office that the law means that cigarettes are banished under the law and any person who has them in his possession is subject to fine and imprisonment.

The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition police will enforce the law strictly. No one will be permitted to smoke a cigarette on the grounds.

History of Great San Francisco Fire by Prof. Stephens

Berkeley.—After more than two years of labor on the part of a staff of experts in collecting data on the San Francisco fire and its disastrous results, Professor Henry Morse Stephens, head of the department of history in the University of California, has begun the actual writing of a book which will be a comprehensive

WILL PLACE MANY SHIPS ON THE RESERVE LIST

Only Sixteen Battleships for Atlantic
Fleet in Active Service.

Washington.—In revising the estimates for the expenses of the naval establishment for the fiscal year 1910-11 in accordance with President Taft's instructions to retrench, Secretary Meyer has made provision for taking out of active service all the battleships, with the exception of sixteen to be retained as the Atlantic fleet.

The retired battleships will be placed on the reserve list with small complements of officers and the crews reduced to a skeleton basis. This scheme, it is asserted, will effect a large saving.

Secretary Meyer will recommend, however, that the proposed increase of 3,000 men in the enlisted personnel be granted and that the policy of making appropriations for two battleships be continued. Estimates for the pay of additional men and the cost of building two battleships will be included in the estimated expenses.

To provide for the employment of the additional men and those from the ships in reserve the enlisted strength of every ship in commission will be increased, the battleships getting as high as 1,100 bluejackets.

Campers Warned Against Fire.

San Francisco.—Unusual danger of forest fires exists this year, according to State Forester C. B. Lull, who has sent out a circular letter calling attention to the heavy penalty for those violating the State law about building campfires.

The heavy rains of last winter caused a strong growth of grass and other vegetation, which is now a chance fire starting in this heavy growth would be hard to check. Campfires may be built wherever the owner has not forbidden the same, but a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $500, or imprisonment for not less than 15 days nor more than six months may be imposed if the fire is not fully extinguished.

DEEP DIVES FOR TREASURE.

Extraordinary Performances by Men Who Go Down into the Sea.

The feat performed by a Dutch diver the other day in going down 175 feet to the wreck of the treasure ship Dorthea, on the Tenedos reef, and remaining there for nearly two hours, is a sufficiently remarkable performance. Nevertheless, it is not true, as has been stated in some quarters, that it establishes a record in deep sea diving. This is held by an English diver named Hooper, who descended 201 feet to the wreck of the Cape Horn, lost off the coast of South America, with a cargo of copper worth $30,000. An almost equally wonderful piece of work was that performed by Diver A. Erostarbe, in 1896, in connection with the wreck of the SKYD, off Cape Finisterre in 180 feet of water. After many experienced men had tried and failed he salvaged, by his own exertions, bar silver to the value of $9,000, to get at which he had first to blow the iron deck to bits with heavy charges of dynamite.

Alexander Lambert, another famous diver, now dead, sent up $70,000 in colored gold from the wreck of the Spanish mail steamer Alphonso XII. The wreck also lay in 180 feet of water.

From the hull of the Hamilla Mitchell, lost on the Leuconna rock near Shanghai, Diver Ridyard salvaged $40,000 in four dives. The last of these was the most successful, he remaining below on that occasion four hours, during which time he sent to the surface no fewer than sixty-four boxes of treasure.

He could, he reported afterward, have salvaged much more, but considerable quantities of the coins were lying loose in heaps on the bed of the ocean, the worms having riddled the wooden boxes so that they had fallen completely to pieces.—Pearson's Weekly.

A CURE FOR FITS

The Treatment Is to Accomplish What Science Has Been Struggling to Attain for Centuries

The intense interest that has been manifested throughout the country by the wonderful cures that are being accomplished daily by epileptics, still continues. In order that everybody may have a chance to test the medicine, large trial bottles, valuable literature, History of Epilepsy and testimonials, will be sent by mail absolutely free to all who write to the Dr. May Laboratory, 545 Pearl Street, New York City.

STEALING A SIGN.

That Was the Policeman's Charge, but It Was Not Sustained.

Stealthily the policeman stole out from behind the side door of the saloon and quickly pounced on some Columbia college boys who were carrying a long board sign that had hung over some tobaccoist's shop. The youths protested against the officer's interference, but he told them that they would find it a hard job to turn little old New York into a college town, and off to the lockup they went, college boys, sign and all.

"What's the charge?" asked the sergeant as he looked out at the aggregation of the coming great men of learning.

"Stealing a sign," answered the cop as some of the boys bumped it into the station house, where it reposed against the wall.

"We did not steal it," spoke up one of the youths; "we only borrowed it." The sergeant turned to the cop and told him to call up the owner and find out what the true state of the case was. The policeman read the sign slowly and then turned to the telephone book to look up the owner.

"Hello! Did you lose a sign?" And the answer made the policeman scratch his head.

"What did he say?" asked the waiting sergeant. The reserves were beginning to grin, and the policeman looked very uncomfortable.

"It is all right," he said, scowling at the youths. "The owner says they rented the sign for the night and are to return it tomorrow morning when he is ready to do business again."

A shout went up from the youths as they were ordered out of the station, and they took up their triumphal march and sought out some other unsuspecting cop to dupe, and far down the street came back their triumphal yell:

"Co-u-m-b-i-a!" The cop laughed to himself as he started out again on his beat, and a friend at his side asked him the cause of his merriment.

"The owner of the sign was mad all the way through and wanted me to hold the sign. He had rented it all right, but he said that was the third time he had been called out of bed to fight, for the boys had been pulled in in three other precincts, but as long as I was a goat for him I thought I would let the rah-rah boys have some more fun with some other cop and sent them on their way."—New York Press.

AN UNSOCIABLE LOT.

What Mr. Thomas Thought of the Crowd in New York.

Mr. Thomas crammed a fresh stick of birch into his little stove and closed the door, which John Arnold had left ajar on his entrance. The tiny shoe shop thus became air tight. Then the proprietor replied to John's question of what he thought of New York.

"I can tell ye in 'mazing few words," he said. "It's considerable of a place. Lots of an' splendid big buildings an' schools an' churches an' all that. They think they're some punkins too. An' I ain't saying that there ain't plenty of real smart ones there. Spite of all that, though, I call 'em kind o' ignorant, besides being cold in their manners."

"I want to know!" commented John, visibly impressed by this recital.

"I'll tell ye," continued Mr. Thomas. "Brother Tom's boy's office is down near the big Brooklyn bridge, and I used to go down there and set a good deal while my wife visited with his wife up in Harlem."

"When it come what they call rush hour I used to go down an' stand on the bridge an' watch 'em passing by, hundreds of 'em, on their way home, an' I got to feel real friendly an' to know lots of 'em by sight. But!"

Mr. Thomas paused impressively—"but, although I didn't miss an afternoon whilst I was there, an' that was two weeks, nary one o' them men ever give me a single glance of recognition."

"It wa'n't my place to speak first, me being a stranger an' they home, so to speak. I wa'n't going to push myself; but I tell ye what, John, two or three times I had to hold on to myself to keep from telling of 'em just what I thought of such onfriendly ways."

"Why," says I to Brother Tom's boy, "how long do you s'pose one o' them would be at Tunkett Corners before we knew him well enough to nod to an' found out his name?"—"Youth's Companion."

Tongue Charms.

The tongues of animals have been and are still in some parts of the world favorite amulets. A tongue cut from a living fox is said to ward off disease of all kinds, but as the person carrying one will surely die if he happens to meet a fox at any crossroads the charm is seldom used. The tongue of the vulture plucked out with iron and hung about a man's neck in a new cloth will bring him what he desires, and some East Indians believe that if they do not bite off the tip of the tongue of any wild animal they kill they will not have good luck in hunting.—London Tit-Bits.

A Mean Man.

Review.

Golden Text—With great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus. Acts iv:33.

The following review is planned for all who are taking up these Bible Studies, whether having actually studied the eleven lessons here reviewed or only a part of them. Even if this is the first lesson which has captured a reader's attention it can be made a profitable lesson in itself.

The date and title of each lesson, and where found, the Golden Text and one question for each lesson follow:

April 4—Acts x:1-48. Peter and Cornelius. Golden Text, Acts x:35. In every nation he that feareth Him, and worketh righteousness is accepted of Him.

Verses 1-2—Can you give a good reason why God to-day is not as well pleased with a devout Roman Catholic as he is with a devout Protestant, or vice versa?

April 11—1 Cor. xv:12-28. Easter Lesson. Golden Text, 1 Cor. xv:20. Now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept.

Verses 12—Can you mention a single nation, or tribe, or people in the past, or the present, that has not believed, or does not believe, in life after death in some shape?

April 18—Acts ix:1-30—The Conversion of Saul. Golden Text Acts ix:4. He fell to the earth and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

Verses 1-2—How do you account for Saul's bitter hatred for Christians before his conversion, and that after he became a Christian he showed such a spirit of love toward those who were not Christians? (This question is to be answered in writing by members of the club.)

April 25—Acts xi:19-30; xii:25. The Gospel in Antioch. Golden Text Acts xi:26. The disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.

Verses 29-30—Should the Church of Christ today be a practical brotherhood, caring for one another, and helping each other financially, and in every other way as the need may be?

May 2—Acts xiii:1-12. Paul's First Missionary Journey—Cyprus. Golden Text, Mark xvi:15. Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature.

Verses 3—It is clearly the duty of the present day church to send missionaries to foreign countries and into new districts; is it equally the duty of all men to help support such missionaries?

May 9—Acts xiii:13-52. Paul's First

Poultry Secrets Disclosed!

THERE are secrets in the poultry business, as in any other; the best methods and newest discoveries seldom reach the amateur poultry raiser and the general public for years after they are originated. A new method of absolutely insuring the fertility of setting eggs, for example, has

Enormous Cash Value

and its discoverer is not to be blamed for keeping it to himself. Now, for the first time, the secrets of many of the most successful poultrymen are made public. No confidence has been violated; every secret has been

Obtained in an Honorable Way

(1) by outright purchase; (2) by free permission given the author, Michael K. Boyer; (3) by collating old, valuable, but little known methods; (4) by Mr. Boyer's own experience covering 30 busy years. Since this book was first published four or five months ago, it has been necessary to print eight editions, and many new and valuable secrets have been added to the original book.

Read What Purchasers Say

I received Farm Journal and "Poultry Secrets" in the same issue. The latter is an excellent and very much needed book. It is worth the price in gold. I will take that for my copy if I could not get another. ROBT. F. KINGSLAND, Mountain View, N. C.

Received your book of "Poultry Secrets." It's an exceptionally instructive book, and worth $10 to me for every copy that I could not get another. L. A. RICHARDSON, Marine, Ill.

Your book "Poultry Secrets" received, also the February and March numbers of the Farm Journal. Eminent satisfaction with all three. Got more than my money's worth on any one page of either publication. F. L. VANDERBURGH, Hereford, Texas.

A Few of the More Important Secrets

Boyer's new system for insuring fertility of setting eggs. Wood's ingenious method for saving the weak incubator chicks. I. K. Felch's System of In-breeding without the loss of vitality.

Selecting the laying hens—the central thought of the The Philo System; a brief outline telling what it is and for what it is valuable. Several new food formulas, many of them the same as expensive "patented" foods.

The "15-cent-a-bushel" method of producing green feed. Greiner's Corn Feeding System; and other new rules for feeding corn and grain. Tinslow's Secret of obtaining high market prices for poultry stock.

The Angel method, admirably adapted to the small flock in village or suburb. Grady's method of obtaining bulky food at a cost of 8 cents a bushel. Dr. Wood's Secret of Laying Food for producing eggs. Professor Rice's Fat Hen Secret explaining why lean hens don't lay.

AND MANY OTHERS, NOT ENUMERATED HERE

It would be absurd to expect every bit of this information to be unknown to everyone; it may be known to some. But to the great majority of poultrymen it will be absolutely new, and of great value.

ABOUT FARM JOURNAL—Farm Journal has for thirty years made a specialty of poultry; this department is edited and more valuable than any specialized poultry paper. This is only one section, however, of a remarkable magazine—a monthly with 600,000 subscribers. NOT a dry, technical, farm paper, badly printed on cheap paper, full of medical and trashy advertisements, but a magazine for the home—town, village or country—well illustrated, clean, clear, clever, and always cheerful. Intensely practical, equally as homes as a thousand other illustrated, clean, clear, clever, and always cheerful. Intensely practical, equally as homes as a thousand other on a suburban back garden; and in a dozen ways UNLIKE ANY OTHER PAPER.
