Coverage of invasion forces and ground action at Okinawa was obtained on L plus 1 day, 2 April 1945, by Lieut. G. H. CONOVER, USNR, flying a Squadron photo-Liberator carrying special correspondents and photographers.

CONOVER had flown from Guam to Iwo Jima on 1 April. Take-off for Okinawa was made from Iwo's Central Field at 0648 King. Weather en route west was from 6 to 10 tenths overcast, but Okinawa was found, on approach at 1030 Item, to be nearly open. Good low obliques were made of our ships, the island's airfields, numerous fires and ground action including tanks, shattered villages etc.

En route to target and also on his return, CONOVER passed over Kita Daito and Minami Daito, receiving 7 or 8 bursts of ineffectual heavy AA fire from the former. Planes, believed operational, were observed on Minami Daito's strip.

On return to Iwo, CONOVER transhipped to another waiting FB4Y-1P and landed, Guam, at 2330 King.
