On 4/20/61 FRED BOBBI, 1520 Lincoln Ave., New Kensington, Pa., (protect per request) advised SA THOMAS C. FORSTER, III as follows:

He and 20 other business and professional men, all residents of New Kensington, Pa., have formed a group known as the "Volunteers for Good Government," with the purpose of defeating New Kensington Mayor RICHARD GIBSON and his associates in the forthcoming primary elections.

He said on April 7, 1961, they issued a twelve point program for press publication in New Kensington, showing changes and innovations in local government for the benefit of the public. The third point in the twelve point program states that "The police departments, ----, and other government agencies will be returned to their rightful position of efficiency, dignity, and self-respect so that they might honestly do the job for which they were created." The last of the twelve points sets out that "With the help of the people, we shall remove the brand of a racket run city. Curbing of vice will be placed in the hands of elected officials whose every desire is honesty, morality and proper government, not government by submission to others."
