Baron Munchausen.

The "Adventures of Baron Munchausen" was a work written several years ago, for the purpose of putting to shame a class of writers who, in giving to the world accounts of their adventures in foreign lands, told all sorts of improbable stories in order to render themselves famous as travelers. The book which professed to give the travels of the renowned Baron, was, of course, a work of fiction, and the statements it contained so far outstripped those of all other travelers that it served as a severe satire upon them. When, therefore, persons on returning from abroad were detected in telling lies, or giving greatly exaggerated accounts of what they had seen or done, they were accused of being disciples of Baron Munchausen.

Perhaps the reader has never seen the Baron's book. If so, he will be amused with one or two specimens from its marvelous pages:

One evening the Baron declares that he was overtaken by a snow-storm. So much snow fell that he was obliged to dismount, and tie his horse to what he thought was a stump of an old tree, while he wrapped himself in his cloak, lay down on the snow, and fell into a deep slumber. When he awoke in the morning, his horse was missing. He couldn't see him anywhere. At length looking up towards the sky, he espied the animal suspended to the cross of a church steeple. There had been a free thaw during the night, the snow had melted away, and what he had taken to be a stump of a tree the evening before, proved now to be nothing less than the cross of a church steeple. One hundred and fifty feet of snow had fallen and disappeared in twenty-four hours. The Baron took out his pistol, fired at the horse, shot it in two, and when the horse fell to the ground, his master at once mounted him and went on his journey.

On another occasion he was passing under a gate, which fell down by accident, and cut his poor horse asunder just behind the saddle. The Baron didn't know of his loss till an hour afterward, when passing over a brook, the horse took a drink, and hearing something gushing out like water behind him, Munchausen turned around and saw to his amazement that, for the last four or five miles, he had been riding on half a horse instead of a whole one. The Baron turned back, got the hind quarters of the animal, and sewed the body together with willow twigs, which afterwards grew to be fine trees, and proved a fine shelter to him from the sun, when he was on his journeys.

Travelers with all their desire to excite the admiration of lovers of the marvelous, were taught a lesson by this book, and, no doubt, since its publication, many a writer has been forced to keep the story of his adventures within the bounds of truth, by the exaggeration and cutting sarcasm of Baron Munchausen.

MARRIAGE IN HIGH LIFE.--Alluding to the marriage of Mademoiselle Victorie Balfé, the vocalist, to Sir John Fienness T. Crampton, K. C. B., formerly British Minister at Washington, and now in the same capacity at St. Petersburg, the Philadelphia Press has the annexed:

Sir John's father, Dr. Phillip Crampton, had been Surgeon General to the British forces in Ireland, and also had the most extensive practice in Dublin, for half a century. In 1839 he was created a baronet, whereby he became Sir Phillip Crampton. Dying in 1858, his title descended to his son, who had previously been created Knight Grand Cross of the Bath, to console him for being sent home by President Pierce on account of his complicity in enlisting recruits for the British army, on American soil, during the Russian war of 1854. Sir John, by his father's death, succeeded not only to the baronetcy, which is an hereditary though not a noble rank, and also to immense landed and other property in Ireland. Born in Dublin, in 1807, the happy bridegroom is now 53 years old. The present is the first plunge out of single blessedness.

Lady Crampton, who is a remarkably pretty woman, is twenty-three years old, having been born in Rue de la Victoire, Paris, on the 1st September, 1837. Her mother is a French prima donna, (Mademoiselle Sona Rezer), who married Michael William Balfé, the well known Irish composer and singer. His operas are well known everywhere, from "The Siege of Rochelle" and "The Bohemian Girl" down to "The Rose of Castile" and "Satanella," his latest productions. Last year the young lady accepted an engagement at the Opera in St. Petersburg, where the event has occurred which converts Victorie Balfé into Lady Crampton. As Sir John Crampton resided for several years in Washington, we have gone a little into detail for the information of his friends and acquaintances there.

To speak harshly to a person of sensibility, is like striking a harpsicord with your fist.

TO COAT IRON WITH BRASS.--There are two processes by which this operation may be accomplished. One is to cleanse the surface of the iron perfectly from grease and oxyd, and then to plunge it into melted brass. The cleansing is best done first with a ley of soda, or potash and water; when placing the iron for a short time in weak sulphuric acid and water, the metal being bright, may then be dipped into the fluid brass, and the thin coating of brass, thus adhering to iron, afterwards polished and burnished. The electrotyping process is however, now mostly adopted by manufactures. A solution of brass is first made thus:--Three quarters of a pound of cyanide of potassium, one and a half ounces of cyanide of copper, and three quarters of an ounce of cyanide of zinc, dissolved in one gallon clear rain water, to which finally add one and a half ounce of muriate of ammonia (sal-ammoniac). This liquid is then to be used hot (not scalding, say 180° Fah) in this manner; the iron to be coated is attached or connected with the zinc end of a battery of moderate power, and a piece of good brass is fastened in like manner to the opposite pole; both the metals are then to be immersed in the hot brassy solution, and there undisturbed for such time as is deemed necessary, and the iron will become coated with brass of a thickness according to the time it is left in the solution. Burnishing and polishing are afterwards required, according to the particular nature of the work. The texture and tone of color of the brass vary with the temperature of the solution and quantity of materials employed, &c. By a small jet of gas or other contrivance, the liquid must be kept hot during the whole process.--Septimus Piessé.

THE OIL WELLS.--A correspondent of the Erie (Pa) Gazette states that among all the hundreds of wells which have been commenced in the oil region, not one has been abandoned as hopeless. The oil sites are usually leased, the owner receiving a certain proportion--from 1/4 to 1/2 of the fluid, and sometimes a bonus in money. The first part of the operation of sinking a well is to dig a shaft about 8 feet in diameter down to the rock, the distance varying from 10 to 40 feet. A wooden conductor made of plank, with a chamber of some five or six inches square, is then set down on the rock, reaching to the surface of the ground, when the work of boring is ready to commence. Some bore with a steam engine and some with a spring pole. The boring generally goes on at the rate of from two to six feet per day, and, to sink a shaft of four inches, probably costs about $2 per foot. After the rock is ground to sand beneath the drill, it is drawn up by means of a sand pump. The quantity of oil flowing from what is called "the Crosby well" is still held to be almost incredible, though the figures are not now held as high as they were in the first outbreak of the excitement. It is estimated that the well yields 60 barrels a day of 40 gallons each. Another yields nearly pure oil, the amount of water not exceeding one-tenth of the whole. A stream of pure and transparent fluid, far superior to the ordinary petroleum, flows incessantly into a mammoth oil vat, whose capacity is 8,000 gallons, and which yields 25 barrels a day.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S INTEGRITY TOWARDS HER FATHER'S CREDITORS.--The scrupulousness with which Victoria paid the debts of her father, (who was at one time so poor as to be unable to afford to transport his family from Germany to England), is not so well known as it deserves to be. The author of the "Woman of Beauty" thus alludes to the trait in the Queen's character: One of the first measures of Victoria was to pay from her own private purse the remaining debts of her father--those which she and her mother had been unable by their united economies to liquidate. The people contrasted the Queen's conscientious application of her resources with the conduct of her grandfather, George III, under similar circumstances. His father Frederick, Prince of Wales, left behind him numerous obligations, not one farthing of which did George, on coming to the throne, think proper to discharge.

"OWE NO MAN."--A writer in the Atlantic religious paper, while decanting on the religion of paying debts, says; "Men may sophisticate as they please. They can never make it right, and all the bankrupt laws in the universe cannot make it right for them not pay their debts. There is sin in this neglect as clear and as deserving of church discipline as stealing or false swearing. He who violates his promise to pay, or withholds the payment of a debt, when it is in his power to meet his engagements ought to be made to feel, that in the sight of all honest men, he is a swindler."

They are never alone that are accompanied with noble thoughts.

SUCCESSFUL MEN.--Who are they? They are those who, when boys, were compelled to work, either to help themselves or their parents; and who, when a little older, were under the stern necessity of doing more than their legitimate share of labor; who as young men, had their wits sharpened by having to devise ways and means of making their time more available than it would have been under ordinary circumstances. Hence, in reading the lives of men who have greatly distinguished themselves, we find their whole youth passed in self denials of food, and rest, and sleep, and recreation. They sat up late, and rose early, to the performance of imperative duties, doing by daylight the work of one man and by night the work of another.

Said a gentleman, the other day, now a private banker, of high integrity, and whom we know had started in life without a dollar. "For years together I was in my place of business at sunrise and often did not leave it for fifteen and eighteen hours."

Let not, therefore, any youth be discouraged if he has to make his own living, or even to support besides a widowed mother, or sick sister, or unfortunate relation, for this has been the road to eminence of many a proud name. This is the path which printers and teachers have often trod; thorny enough at times, at others so often beset with obstacles as to be almost impassable; but the way cleared, sunshine came, success followed, then the glory and renown!

SCIENTIFIC CONVENTION.--Preparations are being made in England for a re-union of scientific men from all parts of the world, to take place in August; and is understood that, in addition to many of the continental savans, very many of the scientific men of Great Britain and this country have enrolled their names. It is intended that this meeting shall be held annually, in one of the capitals of the world. By the co-operation of the potentates of the various countries of Europe, Asia and America, the arrangements regarding traveling will be such as hardly to debar, as often the case, the poorer follower of science from mingling in the brilliant throng of the aristocracy of intellect; it being one of the principal aims of the congress that the rising young men of the day should be by that means introduced to public notice and the great masters of science; drawing out from their obscurity in the nooks and corners of the world--the Linnauses, Cuviers, Newtons, Koenigs, Owens, Marchisons or Browns. The chairman protomptore is the celebrated Professor Simpson, of Edinburgh.--Scientific American.

Great wonder is excited throughout the country of the performances of Dr. Windship, the famous gymnast. Among other feats of strength, it is said that he raised 1200 lbs with his hands. An English exchange tells of a man in Dover who raised 3,500 pounds with a piece of paper and carried it out of the kingdom!

An anecdote is told of an English barber, who observed to his customer, that there was "cholera in the hair." "Then I hope you are somewhat particular about the brushes you use." "Oh," said the barber, "I don't mean 'air of the head, but HAIR of the atmosphere."

An Irishman traveling on his way to Manchester, New Hampshire, arrived at the fork of a road where there stood a sign board, which read--Manchester 4 miles. Man chased her four miles! be Saint Patrick, I could have caught her meself in half the distance!

The foreman of a grand jury in Missouri, after administering an oath to a beautiful woman, instead of handing her the bible, presented his face and said, "Now kiss the book, madam." He did not discover his mistake until the jury burst into a roar of laughter.

A MAN was taken up for stealing some valuable fancy ducks, and after a description of them, the prisoner's attorney said, "Why, they cannot be such a rare breed, for I have some of them in my own yard." "Very likely," replied the complainant; "I have lost a good many lately."

"How old did you say your sister was?" "Twenty-five." "You must be mistaken. I was under the impression that she was only twenty." "She wears hoop-skirts, doesn't she?" "From appearances I should say that she did." "Well, then, twenty-five springs at least have passed over her head."

"Wife, I don't see, for my part, how they send letters on them 'ere wires, without tearing them all to bits." "La me, they don't send the paper; they just send the writing in a fluid state."--Exchange.

LADY MONTAGUE observed that in the whole course of her long and extensive travels, that she had found only two sorts of people--men and women.

Arrival of the Overland Mail!
Three Days Later.

From the Telegraphic Report of the Union. KING'S RIVER, June 6th.—7 P. M. The Overland Mail, with St. Louis dates to May 17th, and nine passengers, passed here at 5:30 P. M. The following is a summary of the news.

ST. LOUIS, May 17th. The Ocean Mails of April 20th arrived May 13th. The Overland Mail of the 27th arrived May 16th at Springfield.

HALIFAX, May 16th.—The steamer Europa, from Liverpool, May 6th, via Queenstown. May 6th, arrived at 11 o'clock last night.

The Reform Bill had passed a second reading in the House of Commons.

Lord John Russell had stated that the English proposition for the settlement of the San Juan difficulty had been rejected by the American Government, and future action depends upon Secretary Cass' reply to the last English dispatch.

There is no change to note in the aspect of continental politics.

Rumors were current of renewed troubles in the interior of Sicily. Spain grants a general amnesty.

The King of Sardinia was at Belonga, and had an enthusiastic reception. Arrests continued at Messina.

Garibaldi has not gone to Sicily, Cavour having dissuaded him therefrom. The Governor General of Hungary is said to have given great offense to the Hungarians by the arrogance of his course.

PARIS, Saturday, May 5th, P. M.—Mazzini has issued a proclamation to the Sicilians, urging them to unite with Victor Emanuel.

The Paris Bourse says no decision has yet been taken as to the evacuation of Rome.

The Patagonian missionary steamer Allen Gardner has been captured by the natives, and all hands killed except one.

Republican National Convention. CHICAGO, May 16th.—The Republican National Convention assembled today at the Hall of the Wigwam. The doors were opened at eleven o'clock, but long before that hour a large concourse of people had gathered around the entrance, numbering many more thousands than could gain admittance.

As soon as the doors were opened the entire body of the wigwam and the seats in the galleries were densely crowded. The interior of the hall is handsomely decorated, and not less than ten thousand persons were in the building.

At twelve o'clock the Convention was called to order by Governor Morgan, of New York, Chairman of the National Committee, who in an appropriate address, nominated David Wilmot, of Pennsylvania, as temporary Chairman, which nomination was received with great applause.

Mr. Florany then addressed the Convention. He read the call issued by the National Committee for a National Convention, to be held at Chicago on Wednesday, the 16th of May, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President.

Governor Morgan then moved that David Wilmot be temporary President, which was carried unanimously.

Judge Marshall, of Maryland, in conducting Mr. Wilmot to the chair, introduced him as a man who dared to do right, regardless of consequences. With such a man there is no such word as fail.

Mr. Wilmot briefly returned thanks for the high honor conferred upon him. Mr. Spooner, of Ohio, moved the selection of the following gentlemen as Secretaries: Frederick Hanssenaek, of Ohio; Thomas Pomeroy, of New York; and Henry I. Blow, of Missouri.

Rev. Mr. Humphreys, of Illinois, then delivered the opening prayer.

Mr. Judd, of Illinois, moved that a Committee of one delegate from each State and Territory be appointed to report officers for the permanent organization of the Convention which was adopted.

As each Southern State and Territory was called loud cheers were given.

Delegates from the absent States were called—Alabama, Mississippi, and South Carolina being received with hisses.

Horace Greeley, delegate from Oregon, moved that when the roll of States be called the chairman of each delegation present their credentials and if there be any contest the same be referred to the Committee on Credentials.

Mr. Ashman of Massachusetts, took the chair, and was greeted with immense applause, and made a brief speech.

Judge Inners, on the part of C. J. Thomas, a worthy Republican of Chicago, presented the Chair with a handsome gavel. He said it was not wood, ivory, or silver that made it valuable; being a piece of the oak from the flag-ship of the gallant Lawrence. [Cheers] It was an emblem of the Republican party, strong but not noisy. The motto it bore was one which need not be urged upon the Republicans, "Don't give up the ship." He hoped that at the end of this conflict the Republicans would be able to say with another great commander—"We have met the enemy and they are ours." [Immense applause.]

Mr. Tracy, of California, moved that a Committee of one be appointed from each State and Territory on resolutions, and that all the resolutions be referred to said Committee without debate. Adopted. The Convention then adjourned till ten o'clock to-morrow.

News of the Pony Express.

The following dispatch was received by W. W. Finney, at Strawberry Valley from C. H. Ruffin, Road Agent of the Pony Express: which we copy from the Bee.

"MILLER'S STATION, May 31. I have just returned from Cold Springs—was driven away by the Indians, who attacked us night before last.

The men at Dry Creek station have been killed, and it is thought the Roberts Creek station has been destroyed. The Express turned back after hearing the news from Dry Creek. Eight animals were stolen from the Cold Springs on Monday. Hamilton is at the Sink of the Carson, on his way in with all the men and horses. He will get to Buckland to-morrow."

The Pony Express will be drawn off for a time. It is impossible to get an Express through to Salt Lake, unless the route is protected by troops. The Company hope to be able to resume the Express in two or three weeks.

Another Fight with the Indians.

From the Union's Telegraphic Report. VIRGINIA CITY, June 4th. The Army Express from Camp Fletcher, ten miles from Pyramid Lake, arrived here late last night.

On Saturday, June 2d, Colonel Hays, sent out a scouting party of forty-five men, who, when near the scene of the former fight with the Ormsby party, were attacked by the Indians and pursued till near the camp, where they made a stand.

An accident occurred in camp on the evening of the 1st. Private Fletcher, of the Virginia Rifles, went to take his gun from the stack, when another gun fell on the hammer of his, which caused it to go off.

The latest news of Captain Story's condition, in twenty hours after receiving the wound, reports him better, and there are some hopes of his recovery.

THE MONO INDIAN EXCITEMENT A HUMBUG.—We copy the following dispatch, dated at Genoa, June 6th, from the Bee:

The expressman, J. N. Parker, from Monoville, Walker river, has just arrived here, he having left Monoville at seven o'clock yesterday morning. He reports the cause of the late Indian excitement—on or about the 31st of May—to be altogether different from what was at first supposed.

Times are lively on Walker river, and the miners are generally doing well.

A singular marriage took place in this city last evening, says the Cincinnati Gazette of the 24th April. A negro, a shade darker in hue than the ace of spades is represented to be, led to the hymenial altar a young and not bad-looking white girl.

KNIGHT'S LANDING NEWS.

TRADE BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA.—The trade between this country and Canada in 1859, showed an increase over 1858. The tolls on the Welland Canal fell off, but there was a largely increasing trade on the Chamby Canal. The value of the principal articles imported via the St. Lawrence, during the year 1859, is $11,549,068, against $10,705,077 for the previous year. The free goods imported from the United States, under the reciprocity treaty, were of the value in 1858 of $5,564,115, and in 1857 of $7,106,116. The goods passing through the United States in bond were of the value of $4,546,491; the produce of the United States, including free goods $12,237,541; and goods not the produce of the United States were of the value of $5,351,865. The aggregate imports from Great Britain, North American Colonies, British West Indies, United States and other foreign countries was $33,555,161, against exports to the amount of $23,102,378. The American inward and outward tonnage engaged in the commerce was about double that of the Canadian.

ONE EXCEPTION TO RULE.—The Knickerbocker Magazine has a good anecdote of a man who rarely failed to go to bed intoxicated and disturb his wife the whole night. Upon his being charged by a friend that he never went to bed sober, he indignantly denied the charge, and gave the incident of one particular night in proof.

"Pretty soon after I got into bed, my wife said:

"Why husband, what is the matter with you? You act so strangely!"

"There's is nothing the matter with me," said I, "nothing at all."

"I'm sure there is," said she "you don't act natural at all. Shan't I get up and get something for you?"

"And she got up, lighted a candle and came to the bedside to look at me, shading the light with her hand.

"I knew there was something about you," said she, "why! you are sober."

"Now, this is a fact and my wife will swear to it so don't you slander me any more by saying that I haven't been to bed sober in six months, 'cause I have."
