"The action of Cosgrave's Government in arresting President De Valera and preventing him from addressing his constituents in County Clare shows that their pretence for free speech and free elections is as hollow as their pretence that they represent the people of Ireland in whose name they have dragged Ireland in the mire.

GEDDES MAKES DISAPPROVES OF FOR ELLIS ISLAND

U. S. Station for European Immigrants Lacks Proper Facilities

Pungent Odor of Unwashed Humanity Pervades the Buildings

London, Aug. 16.-Specific recommendations for the improvement of conditions at Ellis Island, the principal gateway into America for European emigrants, are contained in a report to Foreign Secretary Marquis Curzon, from Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to sensibility. The medical and board rooms he terms unsuitable and inadequate. All the arrangements for handling admitted immigrants, however, are efficient and reflect high credit upon those concerned.

Heart of Tragedy

Sir Auckland thinks that the very heart of the tragedy of Ellis island concerns those temporarily detained, but says this is nobody's fault, and cannot be avoided unless a plan be put into effect whereby the immigrants could finally be approved for admission into the United States before they leave their own lands.

"As a matter of fact," he asserts,
"what Ellis island needs, in my judgment is to be relieved of the presence of about one-half of the people who are poured into it."

VICTORIA EXCHANGE 9 YEARS CLOSED.

Brokers Will Again Trade in Stocks Here Because of Business Improvement

Improved business conditions here resulted in the announce ment that the Victoria Stock Exchange will be reopened next Monday. The Victoria Stock Exchange was organized in 1911 and did a big daily business until it was closed at the outbreak of war.

Forty-six local stocks, including mines and oil companies, have been listed for trading in. The demand for-local trading has come as a result of increased interest in stocks of companies operating on the Island and in B. C. generally, because of the greatly ingreased activities in mines, timber and industries here, it was explained.

There has always been a heavy investment and stock business here. Investigations by financial firms show that one-half the trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange is now Victoria business. With the reopening of the trading floor here this business will be brought back to Victoria.

W. Kelly Describes Situation in Municipality Regarding Employment

Pleads for Boys of Vancouver Island; Supports Apprentice System

William Kelly spoke at the Rotary luncheon to-day on the industrial situation in Esquimait and the manner in which it influenced the lives of so many of the young men of Victoria and the surrounding communities. He stated that the municipality had some of the most active and prosperous industries of the Island in its precincts. Mr. Kelly stated that in Esquimait there was a great opportunity for the boys of this lower portion of Vancouver Island, but owing to the fact that apprenticeships are seldom countenanced here now, there is a scarcity of employment for the younger and less experienced men of the communities.

Referring to the country's finances, the premier said the tide had now turned. He dwelt on the importance of the economic conference to be held shortly in London. Applause greeted this declaration. The South African delegates would make the utmost use of the economic conference, the Premier announced.

EMBARGO REMOVAL GIVES CATTLE TRADE NEW LEASE OF LIFE

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—"The removal of the embargo has given the cattle trade in Canada a new lease of life," said Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agricultyre, when asked about the working of the new regulations. "We are very glad to get into the market, but we think some of the regulations still leave too much to the judgment of the veterinary inspector in England.
"It is on the judgment of these officers that the decision rests whether the animal is to be classed as a stocker or as fat. If he classes an animal as fat, it means that it will have to be slaughtered within ten days, and this affects the market so as to make a reduction of $20 in an animal's value."

The Minister said that the questions to come before the economic conference will include the admission of pedigreed breeding animals.

Duncan, Aug. 15—The monthly meeting of the Cowichan Women's Institute was held in the rooms on Tuesday afternoon, the President. Mrs. W. H. Fleming, in the chair. Mrs. Whidden reported as to what her committee had done re serving tea at the Fall Fair. The Agricultural Society wish the Institute to manage this phase, and after some discussion it was left to the appointed committee with the directors of the Institute to go ahead and make arrangements as they see fit, it was thought that if served in the grounds it would be much more satisfactory in every way, and this will most likely be done.

Institute Exchange

The monthly report of the Women's Institute Exchange in the Hudson's Bay Co.'s store. Victoria, was read. Although July is supposed to be a quiet month, over $82 was taken in. There is a great demand for babies' jackets, and any institute member who makes these for sale is asked to communicate with Mrs. Neal. County Club, Duncan, Secretary of the Cowichan Women's Institute. Mrs. R. M. Palmer, Cowichan Bay, has kindly invited the institute to hold the September meeting at her beautiful home, but as this date is so near the Fall Fair, it was decided to visit. The treasurer's report was then

PLANT DISPUTES

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 16.—The plant councils plan for the settlement of disputes within the Sydney plant of the British Empire Steel Corporation, which is practically the same as submitted to the men by the company some months ago and voted down by a large majority, goes into effect immediately.

The principal features of the plant are:

A general works committee to consist of about 38 representatives selected from among the employees.

A central works committee, of, say from five or seven, appointed by the 38 representatives from their own number.

Alifs. Palmer on Thursday, September 6, if convenient to her.

The treasurer's report was then given, and showed the finances at a low ebb. In view of this, it was moved and seconded that the institute serve afternoon feat the Dog Show or August 31 and September 1 as a means of raising money. Considerable discussion followed, many thinking that with the Fall Fair coming so soon after, it would be too great an undertaking. However, as this is to be the first Provincial Dog Show ever held in Duncan, it was felt that a special effort should be too make.

INFANT MORTALITY

British Columbia has reason to be proud of the bad and must continue to live under almost its health at all times; but it may be excused if it hideous conditions. And they knew that de more than ordinarily indulges its satisfaction in Valera is largely responsible. the infant mortality statistics that were issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics yesterday. The figures quoted give British Columbia a very substantial lead over Saskatchewan, the next lowest, with 72.9—on the basis of one thousand living births—and 93.5 respectively. Other provinces, fared as follows: Prince Edward Island, 92.7; Nova Scotia, 125.3; New Brunswick, 142.4; Ontario, 115; Manitoba, 115.4; Alberta,

The foregoing comparisons speak for them-selves and will not be lost sight of by people who are looking to British Columbia as a Province that offers healthy conditions. Their advertising value to this part of the country goes without saying and the wonderfully clean bill of health which they so obviously imply must eventually be an important factor in the general movement of peoples that will be in full swing before very long. And the excellent showing in itself indi-cates the efficacy of provincial and municipal sanitary ordinances—without which not even our favorable climatic conditions would be able to roduce such results as those above quoted.

PRAISE FOR MR. WADE

There is more than one reason why British Columbia's Agent-General in London will be gratified to read the genuine tributes that were paid to his labors in an official way and to his bearing in general by the Vancouver Board of Trade delegates who recently toured the Old Country. At Tuesday night's banquet in the Terminal City Mr. Wade's services, not only to this Province but also to the Dominion as a whole, furnished each speaker with material for eloquent comment and ample advantage was taken of the opportunity thus afforded.

We observe that a number of the speakers at Tuesday's affair declared that the Agent-General is not receiving the support he deserves from the Government and businessmen of British Columbia. Should there exist ground for complaint it can be taken for granted that such faults as may be revealed will be promptly repaired. For it is in the interest of the Province as a whole that Mr. Wade obtain all possible support and co-oper-

GOOD FOR B. C. JOURNALISM

Journalism in British Columbia will gain by the entrance of Messrs. William Southam and Sons, Limited, into the newspaper publishing business of this Province. In the various exies in Canada in which this important institution is represented it has established a reputation for itself that reflects the greatest credit upon those who have here responsible for the discrete who have been responsible for the direction of its numerous interests. The name of Southam stands for a clean and wholesome newspaper. It is the op-ponent of sensation and never hits below the belt, It sanctions no departure from the fair and fearless course that marks its policy.

It is also particularly pleased that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will continue to retain an active interest in the journal which he has nourished from a very small undertaking into what the newspaper realm of the country regards as one of the finest Canadian dailies. From the outset of his venture Mr. Nichol has demonstrated a capacity for newspaper organization in every sense of the term. That capacity and its prac-

He may be hoping it will succeed as a bid for martyrdom on the eve of the elections; but the Government could not have ignored the incident without exposing itself to the charge of weakness or fright.

Most people will argue that de Valera has bobbed up altogether too late in the day to inspire sympathy with the people outside his own immediate following. It has already been pointed out to the electorate that his campaign and measures of protection already have cost the country £25,000,000. This means that if the exchequer had not been tapped to this extent 40,000 dwellings could have been provided and the same number of hovels could have ceased imitating As it is the workers are that much to ENFORCE THE LAW.

How necessary it is to enforce traffic regulations in general and speed regulations in par-ticular is emphasized in statistics just assued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. These figures indicate that there were 235 automobile fatalities last year as against 197 in the previous year. While it can be taken for granted that the increase in the number of cars and drivers is to some extent responsible for the larger toll, the fact remains that there are still many people whose thoughtlessness is a constant danger to them-selves and to everybody else. To save these from the consequences of their own folly and impart a greater assurance of safety to motor travel there should be no hesitation to enforce the law.

Note and Comment

After a perusal of the programme of the Irish Labor Party we have come to the conclusion that we have heard a similar story before.

If anybody wants to know anything about the health of British Columbia we can commend an inspection of the infant mortality figures that the Bureau of Statistics issued yesterday. Here is a real clean bill of health.

In the occupation of Turkey Great Britain spent £29,115,000. This only goes to show what it costs the taxpayer while people do not realize what could be done by their own support to the League of Nations. For that amount of money many houses could have been built and the lot of Suggestions of a trade boycott are being advanced by some Frenchmen as retaliation for the recent note which the British Government has sent to France and Belgium. This is surely nonsense. There should be a more tolerant attitude between friends. Why should the Entente be considered dead? Great Britain objected to the French occupation; but relations were not strained in consequence. Friends, that is good friends, as Britain and France are, always use the strongest expletives when they fall out.

STUPIDITY

To the Editor—You have taken up the cudgel in good style for the full six days of business, and, in addition, permit me to point out the fact that, with the opening of the stores at 8 a.m. standard time, there is almost no business done before 9 a.m. standard time, and with the closing at 5 p.m. standard time there are many tourists, returned from day trips, who would like to shop—but the stores are shut in their faces. Asinine stupidity!

Have had tourist friends here for the past five days, and I know whereof I write.

EARLY CLOSING

To the Editor—Re early closing and in reply to Lieut.-Col. C. E. Patterson: I should like to ask whether the lieutenant-colonel ever worked for a living and if see, at what?

I am perfectly sure by his letter that he knows nothing whatever about store life or he would not agitate for stores to open-any longer hours than they do at present. On the contrary, I have no doubt but that he would advocate shorter hours even, if he had to earn his living serving the public in this capacity. With the stores closing at seven oliock each evening and ten o'clock each evening and recreation. It, is very seldom the clerks get away for some minutes after the stores close, then if they have to take the street car home to supper this also occupies a few minutes more, and by the time supper is eaten it would be $3.0 at the earliest any evening. With the majority of the stores open at eight o'clock in the mornings, the clerk has to be up by $3.0 to be on time. Allowing the prescribed eight hours for sleep, you see two hours remain each day for study and recreation or ten hours per week, against sky-six working shours.

This surely does not look like a fair proportion and is liable to result in producing some of the dead ones we hear are leaving this country for the United Stores are better than in any other country in the worth in the surely was a servent of the dead ones we hear as the surely does not look like a fair proportion and is liable to result in producing some of the dead ones we hear are leaving this country for the United Stores are better than in any other country in the worth was the leavenant-colonel wants to take us back, to conditions existing fifty years again and I would suggest that he is one of the dead ones we have to eliminate before Victoria becomes a fit place for live white men to live in.

In conclusion, I maintain that, just as he banks are open certain hours of the lay and people wishing, to transact business with them make a point of cetting to the bank during these hours, to if the stores were open the same number of hours people would have to lot their purchasing the same way. The tores could do as much or more business, while the store clerks, whom the general public does not consider for a moment, would be enabled to get the same time for recreation as other workstres more favored at the present time. more favored at the present time.

To the Editor:—Mr. Milne thinks I "labor the point I wish to make." If I do it is because I am axious to prove that labor is the only thing human beings contribute to "results," and therefore should be the only thing they should pay for. In that way only do I see it possible to prevent some form charging others for the "collective results" which both Mr. Milne and I agree are a common heritage.

THERE'S a marked difference in the way and gasolines explode. And it's important that you know.

One kind explodes instantaneously—detonates. It depends on a single crash for the power to drive the piston.

Union Non-Detonating Gasoline explodes in a different way. It thrusts the piston by a long, sustained impulse. It has a "follow through"-exerts a steady pressure throughout the entire stroke.

Detonation Less Efficient

A crashing explosion is less efficient than one that's prolonged.

It limits the compression because of the tendency to explode prematurely. It causes vibration, which means wear and tear.

The Sustained Explosion

The prolonged explosion of Union Non-Detonating Gasoline provides progressive, sustained impulse.

It permits increased compression in your motor, for compression, as all authorities know, is limited by the tendency of fuels to detonate.

Increased Efficiency

Increased efficiency is dependent on compression, the complete burning of the fuel and smooth impulses.

Therefore Union Non-Detonating Gasoline gives a new "lift" on the hills, more speed on the straightaway and a smoother, stronger rush in the "pick-up."

And there's less wear and tear because vibration is reduced.

This higher efficiency means economy also. Union Non-Detonating Gasoline is always uniform. It doesn't disintegrate, thus doesn't deteriorate in storage. It has all the power when you use it that it has when it leaves the Union plants.

So there are several reasons for Union Non-Detonating Gasoline.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Nichol, accompanied by Mrs. Nichol, accompanied by Mrs. Nichol's sister, Mrs. Kilbourn, of Montreal, received their guests in the vicinity of the Summer house. Mrs. Nichol wore a striking "magpie" creation of black and white Canton Crepe, with becoming picture hat of black lace. Mr. H. J. S. Muskett was in attendance.

Following the roception the guests repaired to the lower lawn where tea was served buffet fashion, from a huge marquee, while the band of the 16th Canadian Scottish, under the direction of Bandmaster Miller, rendered popular airs.

Many of the guests seized the opportunity of wandering through the loyely grounds which, with their line old trees, velvety lawns and magnificent view, form an ideal retreat on a Summer's day.

The collection of flowers showed some fine dahlias, gladioli and other seasonable blooms.

In this building was the handicraft section, where interest centred in a model yacht, for which a special prize was given. In the children's division the number of entries was disappointing, as much good work is done by the Esquimait boys and girls, and it is felt a bigger display could be made. The little girls acquitted themselves best, showing some very creditable needlework, and the cooking shown was remarkably good.

ally to earn their livelihood should be the same as the rights of the citizens of the most favored nations in Canada. The Japanese complained to the Ottawa Government that the action of this Province in excluding Japanese from working on Crown lands or timber, or on public works, contravened this treaty. Questions were thereupon submitted by the Dominion Government to the Supreme Court of Canada asking the court if our legislation was valid. The Supreme Court of Canada asking the court if our legislation was valid. The Supreme Court of Canada decided against us and the Dominion disalowed our legislation.

With a view to re-enacting the same law, an appeal was taken by the Province to the Privy Council. The Privy Council upheld the Supreme Court of Canada. In this argument, Mr. Farris stated he was associated with Sir John Simon, whom he considered the greatest lawyer in England. Everything possible was done to have the Judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada reversed, but without success. The matter was of such serious importance to the Province Ind Mr. Farris thinks the Provincial Government would have been recreant in its duty if it had not pressed this case.

As the matter now stands, the If you are the mark-and argued the case along with Mr. Farris

Mr. Farris pointed out that the Privy Council has not yet delivered its reasons for judgment, but so far as an opinion could be formed from the course of the argument, their lordships were influenced larkely by the view that a decision favorable to the Province would enable the Province by nationalizing all industry, to completely defeat the power of the Dominion to impose customs duties for the regulation of trade and for the collection of revenue. Therefore they were disposed to say that the imperial Parliament in exempting provincial property from taxation Former Attorney-General

British Columbia's treasury is to be enriched by several hundred thousands of dollars as a result of the victory won before the Privy Council in London by J. W. deB. In London Mr. Farris made a name for himself, was entertained by the Prince of Wales and won two out of his four cases.

yesterday afternoon at Langford Lake under the auspices of the a number of actions brought against various bonding companies upon bonds given to secure to the Province the payment of succession duties. Many of these bonds were given in boom times, when property was valued very high. When property dropped in value executors found there were not assets to pay the duties.

The insurance companies contested the claims of the Province on the ground that the companies only tuaranteed that the executors would have over moneys which came into he hands of the executor and not an ibsolute guarantee to pay when the executor had no funds. The Supreme fourt of Canada divided equally on he question.

The scoond case the Province was a least hits for the many couples, and this entertainment was indulged in until the early hours of the morning. When everybody agreed the day's when everybody agreed the day's programme had been a huge success.

Committee he case which need to much money was a test case from number of actions brought against clous bonding companies upon dis given to secure to the Province payment of succession duties.

Court of Canada divided equally on the question.

The second case the Province won was a dispute against the Dominion regarding what is known as bons vacantia. That is property left by a person dying without heirs. The English law has always been that such property reverts to the Crown In Canada there is the Crown Dominion and the Crown Provincial. The judgment in this case declares that all such property belongs to the Province and not to the Dominion. This decision will from time to time be of great financial benefit to the Province.

The Notre Jame D'Fourier, which was scheduled to arrive next Tuesday, will not dock until the following Tuesday, August 28. She will take out 1.076,000 feet of lumber, comprised of shipments from all the mills. Some 320,000 feet of lumber has already been shipped from Victoria to Port Alberni and placed aboard the Elswick Park, which was loading lumber there.

At Nanocse

The Canadian Britisher, which is at present loading lumber at Nanocse for Bombay, India, has already taken out some 400,000 feet from Victoria, but will return here next week to load some 1,440,000 feet of lumber.

The Circanus, which is due to load 1,500,000 feet of 'umber here, will make port on Monday and will sie up in the Inner Harbor. The Skagway, which is by no means new to Victoria millmen, will also tie up in the Inner Harbor, being due here the latter part of next week. Large List Being Brought

Government Will Call Tenders For Stadacona

Historical Steam Yacht, Now Dominion Government Fishery Boat, Will Be Sold Soon; Vessel Had Varied Career; Was Bought For Twice the Original Cost; Used As Patrol Boat During War.

The Dominion Government fishery patrol boat Stadacona is to be sold soon. It was learned at the Marine Department this morning that the Stadacona, which has been at the Esquimalt dock for the past two years, will be placed in the market soon, and tenders called for the vessel.

The Stadacona came to this coast four years ago with the Givenchy, Thiepval and Armentieres. She was placed in the Government fishery patrol service, and plied the British Columbia coast waters in this capacity for two years. She was then laid up at the Esquimalt docks. It was proposed to use her in the hydrographical survey work last year, but the scheme was abandoned. Th vessel is of the yacht pattern and was built in Philadelphia in 1893. She is 779.88 gross tons, and has a length of 168 feet, a breadth of 30.05 feet and depth of 15.07 feet.

Memorable Career

Memorable Career

She arrived at Esquimalt on August 3, 1919, from Halifax. She left Halifax on March 13, and came via the Panama canal. She had an eventful trip. In a hurricane off Cape Blanco the fleet got mixed, and the Stadacona shipped a heavy sea over her stern, and was compelled to put into San Francisco for repairs.

The vessel has had a memorable career. It was alleged at the time that the vessel was bought for double the amount of the original cost. The steamer was first built for J. H. Lader, New York millionaire, and sold in 1915 to the Canadian Government. She was used as a patrol boat on the Atlantic seaboard during the war. When not otherwise engaged she was used for inspection cruises by Admiral Kingswell. Commander Thomas brought the vessel out to Esquimalt.

decision of the Federal Court at Brooklyn that foreign craft atempting to smuggle liquor into though they are beyond the three-mile limit is not likely to ause any change in the general customs and prohibition officials might-proceed against them.

Secretary Hughes has proposed to Great Britain that American authorities in their effort to break up rum smuggling be given the right of search within twelve miles of American shores. This proposal was referred to a sub-committee of the British fóreign office, which has made a report, to the Cabinet, but so far as is known here that body has not acted upon it.

Other foreign governments inferested in the question appear to be waiting the action of Great Britain, although it is conceivable that before reaching a final decision the London foreign offices may consult other foreign offices.

It is indicated that Great Britain's view with regard to the "hovering acts" is that they are old and out of date and at variance with international law. This view is held to square with British practice. Great Britain having "suppressed" its "hovering acts" in 1876 when-certain customs regulations were drafted and consolidated.

The Islander was on her way from Skagway to Victoria with 200 passengers and 101 members of the crew when she struck an iceberg at 1.38 on Friday morning, August 16, 1301. She sank within twelve minutes. The Islander was historical inasmuch that she was the first British steamer to dock at Skagway with miners for the Klondyke gold fields. She left on July 30, 1897 for Skagway, and reached there on August 4. She had 600 miners aboard with horses, mules, dog trains and supplies.

this country may be seized even Ship to Shore Record Set By Union Steamship; Distance 6.855 Miles three-mile limit is not likely to cause any change in the general pelicy of the Government against making such seizures outside of American territorial waters.

While the question has not come up for final decision, treasury officials having to do with the enforcement of the customs law under which an amber of British craft were captured last year while operating beyond the three-mile limit, expressed the opinion yesterday that there would be no change of policy, at least until after the Supreme Court has passed on the constitutionality of the seizures were made.

Although no announcement has been made there have been indications that treasury and justice despartment officers have been made aware of the view of the state department officers have been made aware of the view of the state department of the view of the state departs would further complicate efforts to clear up the whole ship liquor situation through diplomatic negotiations. The present policy of the Government was determined by President Harding after the seizures of last year ahd after he had discussed fully all of the questions involved with the medium of their own boats and crews customs and prohibition officials might proceed against them.

Secretary Hughes has proposed to Great Britain that American authorities in their effort to break up rum ber of stations working in the long distance and the great number of stations working in the proceed against them.

to him and say: "O.K. received. Your signals strong."

This achievement constitutes a record for ship to shore communication, and it is all the more remarkable and speaks well of the efficiency of both the ship and coast stations when it is known that the apparatus used was:

Maunganui: 1½ K.W. Marconi set, with an "Expanse" type P1 receiver using one "Expanse" B valve. San Francisco: 5 K.W. Radio Corporation Transmitter and Receiver, the latter using two valves.

The Maunganui transmitted to San Francisco on a wave-length of 450 metres, and San Francisco (KPH) replied on a wave-length of 600 metres.

When the long distance and the great number of stations working in each vicinity is considered, equal praise is due to both Mr. Taylor on the Maunganui and the operator at San Francisco.

Viking and Santa Inez Finished on Close Terms at San Pedro

San Pedro

San Pedro, Cal., Aug. 16.—Arrival of the schooners Viking and Santa Inex from Everett, Wash., a scant haif hour apart late Tuesday, was not a coincidence, it was revealed today, but the nip and tuck finish of a race that evoked memories of old-clipper days when sailing ships held all speed records of the sea.

Skippered by Captain Chris Bergerson, the Viking put out from the northern port an hour and a half ahead of the Santa Inez, but 180 miles from San Pedro Captain E. C. Lancaster waved his hand from the bridge of the Santa Inez as it overtook the Viking and from then on the two vessels fought a see-saw battle for the lead, the Viking making port a half hour ahead of its rival. The sailing time of less than five days is considered wonderfully good.

Local Champions Confident They Will Trim Miners; May Play Double-Header

Victoria's chances for a baseball cham-pionship this year are pionship this year are still as rosy as ever. The C.P.R. ball team, local champion, has been training hard the last few nights, and is in the pink of condition for the battle with the Nanaimo nine at the Stadium on Sattle with boys fully realize they have their backs to the wall and that nothing but a victory will stave off the still be stadium of the sattle with the sattle with the stadium on Sattle with the sattle with the nothing but a victory will stave off defeat.

Word has not yet been received as to whether a double-header will be played here in the event of Victoria winning, and as a result, the time of the game has not been arranged.

The local squad is not worrying any over the hard luck it struck last week in Nanaimo. Last year the local champion ran into the same jinx on the opening game and then turned around and trimmed every team it stacked up against and won the British Columbia title. The boys claim to have shaken Father Jinx forever from their midst and are ready to go. Look to Fans pace as last week it is expected that another, pitchers' battle will result. Both burlers hall from the A1 class, and are capable of chucking excellent ball. Forbes claims to be in the best of form and will be right out after blood and the scalps of the coal miners. Art Minnis, the old reliable, will be on the other end of the battery, and Art sure caught a neat game in Nanaimo, and with the boys on their home grounds there will be no holding them. The field in the coal city had a lot to do with the playing of the locals, as the diamond is one of the worst on the Island, there not being much room for the catcher and the first baseman, while the left field is very short.

The fans will have a chance to see one of the slickest infielders in amateur ball in action on Saturday, when Harry Copas gobbles up the hot ones at shortstop. Harry is a regular, bear on line drives and has a fine throwing arm.

Has a player the right to ascertain whether his opponent's ball is out of bounds or not before his opponent can compel him to play? In a recent match between two rivals, which was decided by one stroke, one of the players insisted on finding out whether his opponent's ball was out of bounds before he shot, claiming such information would influence his style of play, determining whether he should take a chance or play safe. Section three of rule 23 says a player has the right to ascertain whether his epponent's ball is out of bounds or not before being compelled to play his next shot.

Player is acting as his own caddie. Driving into casual water on the fairway he lifted his ball in accordance with the rules. In dropping the ball over his shoulder it came into contact with his person and was deflected into his golf bag, which he was carrying over his other shoulder. Has the player the right to re-drop the ball without penalty or does he suffer a stroke penalty because in first dropping the ball it was deflected into his bag?

Player has a perfect right to redrop the ball without penalty. The fact that in dropping the ball it first came into contact with the person of the player and was then deflected into the caddle bag receives no consideration. The player should simply remove the ball from the bag, and repeat the operation of again dropping it over the shoulder as hear as possible to the spot where the ball lay. Player is acting as his own caddie

It was at least demonstrated that no better place for regatts of the sort could be found than Elk Lake.

For some time rowing clubs of Portland, Vancouver and other coast cities, have been looking for an alternatives sheet of water, other than Shawnigan Lake, in which to hold contests. There have been investigations and enquirles made as Elk Lake lately, with a view to ascertaining the advisability of blasting a passing between the main lake and Beaver Lake, though there is already a channel, making a perfect run for racing crews. Apparently this scheme would be very feasible.

Existing Conditions

Already there is over a mile of clear water on the lake, in a straight line from shore to shore, and a course set diagonally from the entrance of Beaver Lake to the bigger sheet would be almost long enough for the ordinary water course. There is one small island which is a slight obstruction in the channel between the two lakes, but there is no doubt but that this could very easily be removed. The only other thing which might impede the passage of oarsmen are the reeds and water likes. The former are not profuse, but the thick stalks of the latter would prove most annoying. In fact, until these are removed there would be little chance for any number of boats to row abreast through the channel from Beaver to Elk Lake, or in the opposite direction.

A Fine Course

A Fine Course

A Fine Course

It is estimated that with a few weeks of work spent in clearing the course suggested on Eik Lake, and blasting away a part of the shore of the diminutive island, a course might be obtained second to none in the Pacific Northweest. There is ample room at Eik Lake for such events as rowing races, with fours, singles, or even eights. The water is always of an even temperature, and not in the least chilling. It is deep, though in partis there is excellent sandy bottom. For diving and swimming events a better place could not be found anywhere about Victoria. The J.B.A.A. regatta there, August 25, will test the place as an oarsmen's ground for regattas. The results of the J.B.A.A. reports will be watched with interest by many.

Galgary, Aug. 16.—Fifteen hundred fans welcomed the revival of lacrosse to Calgary last night, when the local team defeated Medicine Hat, 4 to 3. The visitors were leading 3 to 2, until the last ten minutes, when superior passing accounted for two Calgary goals. Jake Curliss featured for the locals with all four goals to his credit, while Barney Holen, one time Winnipeg star, excelled in the nets for the visitors. It was the first lacrosse game here against an outside club since 1917.

wasn't very much—but he got it. He got it himself or went without.

To-day the conditions of nature have not changed, but we have developed such an elaborate system of production that a man not only does not produce all he requires, but he does not even produce one thing. He simply acts like a cog in a vast machine that does the producing of all the things.

We are all producing all we want, and there would be plenty for all if nothing was charged for but the labor that each individual puts in to the process.

Charging for "natural resources"—for the materials that nature supplies free—is just as fatal to the human race as a whole as it would be to charge for air. That is the point I want to drive home.

Mr. Milne's definition of his proposed "unit" of currency is not very lear. He says. "It is an undertaking to deliver things on demand which embody a specified number of the energy units available in the community."

I am afraid we need a Soloman to replace what that means. If his thir was the report of the relate what that means. If his thir was the report of the means and the resource of the energy units available in the community."

Married ladies' seventy-five yards was short that means. If his thir was the report of the relate what that means. If his thir was the relate that means are short that the society and the members and friends of the yesterday at Mount the members and friends of the yesterday at Mount Douglas Park, when the members and friends of the yesterday at which emergy units available in the community."

I am afraid we need a Soloman to explain what that means. It his unit of currency means "a specified number of energy units," how is that energy going to be measured? Perhaps he can give us a practical illustration.

In any case, what is energy but "work," and as human work is the only thing that can be paid for, his only the sum of the community to the same that it fails to distribute sufficient purchasing power to enable members of the community to buy the output which it is capable of giving."

Married ladies' seventy-five yards —Married ladies' seventy-five yards —Married won by the single ladies, and the married men won against the single six of the consumed this can be remedied by cutting the price in half and making up the loss to the manufacturer by the issue of a national credit.

"This would enable the community to consume all that had been produced and so permit the manufacturer to produce still more." Even supposing that things would work supposing that things would work series it would and as M. Millos axis at the work and the mass as may in word than the one wa are now in worse than the one wa are now in worse than the one wa are now in worden to the community can produce all that is required by all of us, and that this proportion is rapidly diminishing as other improvements are made. Therefore it is best to allow the "few" to do the necessary work and permit the balance to live on "dividends."

The logical outcome of that would be that society would be divided into two classes more clean cut than they are to-day. The "few" who did all the work, and the "many" whose particular interest would, be to see that the "few" did not loaf on the job.

For my part I would not want to be in either class. I do not recognize the correctness of the Major's starting point. Why is it necessary for us to consume all that is produced? If we can consume all we want that is enough—and our wants ought to be supplied by our own efforts, not comebody else's. Only in that way can we expect to build a civilization worth while.

How much easier—and how much better—to adopt the natural rational way of starting out with the proposition "Every man is entitled to all he produces and ought, to produce all he consumes."

Winnipeg. Aug. 16.—(Canadian Press—Since the harvesters' excursions commenced from the Old Country and Eastern Canadian points, about two weeks ago, the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways have brought into Winnipeg and distributed to Western districts a total of 26,596 men, according to official figures obtained from the railway offices here to-day. This is approximately half of the total required, but there are many more en route, arfiving here within the next fourty-eight hours and on Saturday and Sunday. Up to this morning the local passenger department of the C.P.R. handled 13,464 harvesters from Eastern Canada and approximately 1,500 from Great Britain, and report an additional 3,800 to arrive within the next forty-eight hours, and 2,250 British workers are scheduled to arrive over the week-end.

Saved from an Operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

I had been sick for seven years, but not so bad until the last eighteen months, and had become so rundown that I cared for nobody, and would rather have died than live. Life is full of hope. I do all my housework and had a large garden this year. I never will be without the Vegetable Compound in the house, and when my two little girls reach womanhood I intend to teach them to take it. I am never too busy to tell some suffering sister of my help, and you can use my name and letter to spread the good news of Lydis E. Pinkham's medicines."—Mrs. IDA M. COVPMAN, R. B. 2, Sidell, Ill.

Earlier Closing Would Benefit Fruitgrowers at Critical Time

City Students Would Profit Wage Winning Opportunity

rowers of British Columbia, Chairgrowers of British Columbia, Chairman Holloway last night won the unanimous support of the Sannich School Board to a proposal that the provincial school system should close for Summer vacation two weeks earlier than at present, to enable pupils to aid in theserry fields. "We closed this year, unofficially, some of our schools, and it would be advisable that official recognition of this new condition be obtained," he said.

A Convention Matter
Trustees considered that the question should be laid before the Trustees Convention, but also feared that little success would accrue, as city interests would be in opposition and, even if the convention gave support, the Government was believed to pay more attention to the views from city schools than to those of the rural districts, and would refuse to act.

School Year Not Cut
Despite these forecasts, the Board was unanimous as to the value which a two-week advance of the school year ending and re-opening would be to Saanich and other berry growing areas, and will press for support at the convention.
Trustees G. McWilliam and J.
Cheetham were unanimously elected as Saanich delegates to the School Trustees' convention.

Miss Bassett of the Tillicum school staff wrote the board from California, asking leave of absence until January. The trustees declined to grant this privilege, but decided to offer Miss Bassett priority for any vacancy existing upon her return.

Consequent upon Miss Bassett's absence, the following changes were made in appointments to the schools gazetted last week: Miss Huidlestone will go to Tillicum, Miss Mc-Kinnon to Tolmic and Miss Elliott will be given a post at McKenzie Avenue in place of having prior post on the substitute list.

Stewart is situated at the terminus

This route passes through the famous Groundhog Coal Fields, some ninety miles from Stewart and covering an area about thirty miles wide and seventy miles long. A railway has already been built from Stewart eighteen miles in this direction.

The growth of the Stewart District has increased from sixty residents in the Winter of 1916-17, to about 1,200 at the present date, and with the already completed wharfs, ore-bunkers, concentrating mills and tram lines, the development of other large mining properties now under option to the Granby Company and other large mining interests, and other large mining interests, and other reduction mills which will be necessary to handle the class of ore mined in the district, it is only reasonable to believe that within the next few years the population of both Hydes and Stewart will be many times its present number, it is stated.

Mr. Clerk started his trip with four new tires, They have toured the North American highways in almost every direction, first starting for Duluth, after driving from Montreal to Buffalo, and arriving in that town after a voyage, by boat, of 1,100 miles.

Stopping wherever they saw fit, the party continued to press on towards St. Paul, Minneapolis and other points, eventually picking up the Yellowstone Trail, which they followed to Billings, Montana. It was in this state that they found the worst roads of the whole journey. Branching off the main trail at Billings, Mr. Clerk then proceeded to Cody, Wyoming, and entered the Yellowstone National Park, a place where seenic grandeur and natural seauties abound, and where many thousands of tourists gather every year.

At a seaside concert some pretty girls were acting as attendants. One approached an old gentleman.

"Shall I show wou to a seat?" she murmured, with a bashful blush.

The old man stared at her, and the girl repeated her question, feeling rather abashed.

"Can I show you to a seat?" she said in bouder tones.

"Eh, what—what?" exclaimed the old man, who was very d'aaf.

That finished the poor girl.

"Shall I sew you to a sheet?" she acreamed, wildly.
