

NARBERTHITES PLAY IMPORTANT PARTS IN AD MEN'S CONVENTION

President Durbin Leads Host of Live Wires And Is Assisted By Many of His Neighbors

Beginning next Sunday, and continuing for one week, Philadelphia entertains the world's largest business convention—that of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

Narberth is the home town of Mr. R. H. Durbin, president of the Poor Richard Club (which acts as the host club to the 10,000 men and women who will come from all corners of the continent to swap ideas), and Narberth is also the home of many of the live-wire members and associates of Poor Richard, who include Messrs. Edgar S. Taylor, Roy E. Clark, H. C. Gara, W. Arthur Cole and W. F. Haist as members and Messrs. Walter Brown, Frank J. Wisse, J. Howard Jefferies, S. T. Zooks, Chas. Verna, E. A. Muschamp and Robert Durbin as associates.

Mr. W. H. Cohic, chief passenger car distributor of Pennsylvania R. R., and another resident of Narberth, has been delegated by his company to plan and supervise the twenty-eight signal men who will assist in directing the movements of the mammoth pageant on Broad street on Monday night, June 26. This is the first big parade that has been conducted by automatic signals controlled from a central point, and Mr. Cohic is to be congratulated upon being selected as the organizer of a method that is bound to revolutionize present methods of direction if the system works on this occasion—and tests thus far made promise entire success.

Mr. Frank J. Wisse, secretary of our Civic Association, is in charge of press arrangements for Monday night.

Mr. H. C. Gara is serving on committee in charge of buildings and grounds and on committee in charge of speakers for churches, it being the unique practice to open this great convention on Sunday with sermons in many churches by laymen and clergymen who talk on the relation of business ethics and the teachings of the church. It is the usual thing to have some of the country's greatest preachers as speakers in the pulpits on the opening Sunday.

Lay Sermon in Narberth by Ad. Club Leader

It is expected that Narberth will have the pleasure of listening to a lay sermon by Mr. James MacMartin, of Minneapolis, who is one of the powerful personalities that lead and inspire this big educational movement. If he arrives in Philadelphia in time, he will be the speaker at the Union meeting at the Methodist Church, Sunday evening, June 25.

Mr. W. Arthur Cole is serving on committee which is preparing the "Poor Richard Dictionary," a unique guide book given to each delegate who registers, on the committee in charge of printing, on the committee in charge of the national exhibit of advertising literature and on the reception committee which meets all delegations as they arrive, escorts all dignitaries and supervises grandstands on the evenings of the three big, spectacular events. Mr. Cole also is to read a paper before the Graphic Arts Departmental on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Roy E. Clark has charge of the "retail" division in the big exhibit which will be staged in Houston Hall at the U. of P.

This convention was brought to Philadelphia largely as a result of the work of our townsman, Mr. Durbin, whose able executive direction and eloquent and thorough presentation of Philadelphia's claims as the convention city at Chicago last year, defeated all other contenders to a standstill, Philadelphia being unanimously elected the 1916 convention city on the first ballot. Mr. Durbin has worked day and night during the year that has ensued—and the prodigious amount of detail has been carefully woven into a perfected plan because of the foresight of Mr. Durbin in the selection of his lieutenants—the members of the convention committee.

No convention of the Ad Clubs has been in such a state of readiness as is that to start in Philadelphia next week. The delegates might have begun their influx ten days ago just as well as on next Sunday. The Poor Richard Club had all meeting places arranged for even before they sought the honor of being hosts to the Ad Clubs and their entertainment plans have been perfected for months. Many of the twenty-nine different departmentals of this convention are as large numerically as the average convention.

Many Narberthites have manifested their desire to register as participants in the meetings of this great business school and as observers of the big, spectacular events. The privilege is open to men and women and costs $2.50 each person. Registration may be made at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel or at Houston Hall, U. of P., beginning Saturday, June 24.

POOR RICHARD WOMEN-FOLK ALSO BUSY

The wives and other womenfolk of the households of members of the Poor Richard Club will be as busy as the men. They will act as hostesses to the women who accompany the various clubs. It is expected that there will be about two thousand out-of-town women who are to be entertained each day and evening during the stay of the Ad Men in Philadelphia.

PLYE-LATCH WEDDING.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Latch, Hagys Ford road, east of Narberth, when their daughter, Eva G. Latch, was married to Mr. Ellwood Baker Pyle, of Phoenixville, Pa. The ceremony took place on the spacious veranda in a nook embowered with mountain laurel. The bride looked very charming beneath the folds of her bridal veil. She was attended by her sister, Miss Emma Latch, while another sister, Miss Anna Latch, played the wedding march. The best man was Mr. George Klenk. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Van Ness, pastor of the Narberth Presbyterian Church. A wedding dinner followed, served under the shade trees of the lawn. A large company of relatives and invited guests were present.

Lay Sermon by a Famed Advertising Man—Methodist Church Union Meeting.

Nearly ten thousand men and women from many parts of the world meet in Philadelphia next week to consider the ethics of business and to help establish new standards for its practice.

These folk are earnest men and women who are trying their best to apply the practice of practical Christianity to the world of commerce—and they have made much progress in the decade of their career.

To start its week of proceedings with sermons in the churches of the convention city is one of the unique things introduced by these advertising folk, and Narberth is honored by being the only suburb to have a lay preacher this year.

Mr. James MacMartin, president of MacMartin Advertising Service, Minneapolis, Minn., has consented to come to Narberth to give a lay sermon Sunday evening, June 25, at the union service at the Methodist Church.

Mr. MacMartin is one of the big personalities behind this movement and will be well worth hearing.

Every loyal citizen of Narberth should attend this union meeting as a personal tribute to the president of the Poor Richard Club, Mr. R. H. Durbin, who is one of our fellow townsmen and who heads the local army of hosts to the members of this mammoth educational force.

SOME RELIGIOUS BEGINNINGS IN NARBERTH

Dear Editor:

I have been repeatedly requested to furnish in some permanent form, the historical data presented during the celebration of our twenty-fifth anniversary. In compliance with that request I venture to send you some extracts from my historical address delivered on the morning of June 4, in the hope that it may be of interest to your large circle of readers and also afford an opportunity for those who so desire, to preserve these historical facts.

Sincerely yours,

John Van Ness,

Pastor of the Narberth Presbyterian Church.

Historical Address

On the evening of June 2, 1891, the Narberth Presbyterian Church was organized—just twenty-five years ago last Friday night. It might seem to some an event of such recent origin would hardly demand a celebration. Ours is one of the youngest churches in the Presbytery. We have erected our building almost within the shadow of an old Quaker Meeting House whose antiquity is more than two hundred years greater than ours. But still we will do well to pause and reflect upon the passing of the first quarter of a century of our church life. It is more than likely that many who are here this morning will not have the privilege of celebrating the passing of another twenty-five years, although there are some of these little ones who may

JULY 4th, 1916

Some day for Narberthites has been planned by the committee. A whole day of fun for the kiddies and grown-ups, too.

A big brass band is ours for the day.

A wonderful display of fireworks on the ball field in the evening.

Big parade in the morning, in which the school children will participate. Every boy and girl in line will be given a flag to carry.

The members of this Fourth of July Celebration Committee are all busy. Avenues have been assigned to each one, and every house will be visited. You are asked to give your mite to make this day a "big success." If you are not at home or missed by these collectors, do not be overlooked, just send your contribution to any member.

Don't forget to decorate your porch and hang out the "Good Old Stars and Stripes."

Route of parade and full day's program will be published in next issue of "Our Town."

ST. MARGARET'S LAWN FETE

The annual lawn festival for the benefit of St. Margaret's Church will open this Wednesday evening, June 21st, and will continue every evening for the balance of the week, weather permitting. The closing is scheduled for Saturday evening, when a popularity contest for the most popular baby boy and girl will be decided and prizes awarded the successful contestant. The prizes are on exhibition in Fiedler's drug store window.

OLD-TIME RESIDENT VISITS NARBERTH

Perhaps one of the oldest former residents of this section now living is Mr. Adolphus Edler, of Millville, N. J. Mr. Edler was in Narberth recently and one of the reporters for "Our Town" had the pleasure of an interview with him. More than fifty years ago Mr. Edler lived in the house now occupied by John A. Mowrer at Montgomery and Woodbine avenues. At that time the Philadelphia and Columbia Railroad, which was a narrow gauge track built with rails laid upon square stones, many of which are still in evidence within the limits of Narberth, ran directly through the orchard which belonged to the property occupied by Mr. Edler. Many times, the old gentleman said, he would stand by the tracks with a basket or pan of apples and hand them to the passengers as the trains went by. He was asked if the trains did not go too fast, and replied that the fast line traveled about as rapidly as he could run, and it was not difficult to hand apples to the passengers on the accommodations.

The building occupied by Mr. John R. Kernan at the corner of Essex and Montgomery avenues, was at that time a station, the name of which was Libertyville. The engines on this interesting railroad were all named for certain prominent persons, so that in speaking of the arrival of a train, they would usually say, "How soon will be Bill Jones be due?" When desiring to stop one of these "fiers," the engineer or brakeman would put his foot on an iron rod which extended down to the track. By pressing his whole weight on this brake, he would be able to bring the train to a stop at short notice.

We hope on some future occasion to have Mr. Edler come to Narberth and tell our citizens about the interesting days when he was a resident of this place.

EVANS' SINGLE IN TENTH INNING BEATS NARBERTH

Berwyn Downs Narberthites, 3-3—Ensinger and Lewis in Pitchers' Battle—Fleck's Throw in Ninth Staves Off Defeat For An Inning

It required ten innings for Berwyn to down the Boroughites at Berwyn Saturday. To start the tenth inning, Fleck Stites poked Kelly in the ribs, and he stole second, and advanced to third on L. Davis' fly to centre field, and scored the deciding run of the game, when Joe Evans batted out a single over Mellon's head.

It was evident from the start of the game, that it was going to be a pitchers' battle, between Ensinger and Lewis. Our own Ed, stood the pace until the ninth inning, when the first three hit safely, and during the excitement, Lewis was run down between third and home.

Fleck's Throw Makes Game Go Extra Inning.

E. Hayman, the fast flying centre gardener of Berwyn, flew out to Fleck, and McLees tried to score, but Fleck's throw beat him to it, completing a fast double play.

Berwyn scored the first run of the game in the fourth inning, when Ensinger passed three men in succession, filling the bags; Hayman then scored their first and only run of that inning, when Evans was safe on Walter Humphries error. Ensinger then fanned L. Davis, and caused G. Hayman to fly out to Colwyn Humphreys and Lewis grounded out to Davis on first.

Berwyn then made the count and none when in the sixth inning they tallied their second run of the game, Kelly singled, but was forced out at second by Watson, who immediately stole second, and scored on L. Davis' single.

Narberth Evens Up the Score.

It was then the seventh inning and things looked badly for Narberth, but things turned about and Fleck and Gene Davis both singled, and Davis stole second, but Fleck was held on third. Gilmore then scored Fleck on his fly to Evans in right field, which, by the way, was a very close play.

Colwyn Humphreys then did the unexpected, when with two strikes, he cracked out a single over Watson's head. Colwyn, however, was put out of the game for disputing the umpire's decision when trying to steal second, necessitating Charlie Humphreys to finish out the game as catcher.

With two out in the tenth inning, Bill Simpson singled, and the faithful rooters were howling for Walter Humphreys to clout one, but he was out via 6-3—shortstop to first.

Then Berwyn scored the winning

Our attention has been called to the fact that some person or persons have wantonly mutilated one of the finest trees in Narbrook Park, by cutting out a large piece of the bark. We cannot too strongly condemn such acts of vandalism, and trust the offenders will be strictly held to account. Efforts are being made by the Park Development Committee to find out who the offenders are, and we believe it is their intention to offer a reward for the arrest and conviction of anybody who trespasses in this manner, either on any of the lots held in private ownership, or on that part of the tract held for the public. In this particular instance, the damage may have been done thoughtlessly by children; in any event, it must be understood that any further destruction of this kind will be punished.

The stereotyped phrase, "Every one present had an enjoyable time and voted the affair a big success," is often used when it is only half or less true, but the old-fashioned complimentary write-up never fitted an affair better than it does the commencement exercises of the Narberth High School of 1916.

The invocation was delivered by the Rev. Andrew S. Burke.

There were three good songs by the Girls' Chorus, and one by the Senior Girls' Quartette, all acceptably rendered.

Commencement addresses are often rather labored affairs, and of a character, it must be confessed, that are not especially interesting to an audience, but our old friend, the Rev. Dr. Abbott, now of Albany, N. Y., who by a happy thought was invited by the graduating class to speak to it, proved that an address of this kind can be made interesting and educational to any listener. It is not too much to say that Dr. Abbott's talk, the subject of which was "The Three Grades of Thinking," and delivered in the masterly fashion of which Dr. Abbott is capable, kept all the audience deeply interested, word for word, sentence for sentence, from the beginning to the end—in fact, like all good things, it seemed much too short. It is unfortunate that the address cannot be printed here verbatim for the sake of those who were prevented from hearing it. Suffice to say, it was a classic and most peculiarly appropriate to the occasion.

The short talks given by Mr. McCarter, President of the Board; Mr. Melchior, the Principal, and Mr. Downes, one of the Directors, were well chosen and well delivered. A feature that deserves special mention is the little speech made by the Class President, Carroll Downes, in which he surprised the Board of Directors by presenting the latter with a check for $100, the gift of the Class of 1916, to be used toward furnishing equipment for the physics class. The speech itself is worthy of a great deal more than passing mention. Carroll goes to Dartmouth in the fall, and some day may be a great lawyer. Surely there is no apparent reason why he should not be. He certainly has a big start on his prospective fellow-students when it comes to making a speech with all the word "speech" implies.

Narberth may rest content that it has a high school to be proud of. That is an indisputable assertion and might be contradicted only by those not familiar with the true situation. The class graduating on the 16th is the largest senior class in the history of the school. Proof is not lacking that if any one of our graduates is not properly equipped to enter any college in the land, it is positively not the fault of the school. No college entrance examinations are more difficult to pass than those of Bryn Mawr. Two of our 1916 class, Jean Justice and Agnes Rose, have taken these examinations successfully and with no special preparation.

Now as to how the graduates were dressed. Well, the girls swore—at least the girls wore some light things that looked like wedding garments, but for further details, please refer to one of the lady editors.

While definite plans have not been made in all cases, our graduates will pursue their studies in various colleges, conservatories, etc., depending upon the career each has mapped out for himself or herself.

The Honor Roll is as follows: President, Carroll Downes, Jr. Vice-President, Jean G. Justice. Secretary, Alice H. Smedley. Treasurer, Agnes M. Rose. Marion F. Haws. Madeleine V. McCoy. Augusta B. Witherow. J. Estelle Cohic. Marion E. Trotter. Chas. H. McCarter, Jr. Franklin J. Foster.

Narberth, you may well be proud of your school. You will have occasion to also be proud of the children you send there, but see to it that as the town grows, the school facilities are increased correspondingly.

There was just one fly in the ointment on Friday evening—the weather—but as everything else was marked 100 per cent., we will let it go at that, and forget the long walk up the hill in a driving rain storm.

The week's exercises were brought to a fitting close by the Senior Dance on Saturday night at Elm Hall.

It was a treat to the uninvited to take a peep at the dancers. Right here the question of clothes crops up, but as our lady editors are not writing this, a mere man's description of the dress proposition will have to suffice, but even so, mere man knows enough of the subject to say definitely that the array of gowns was stunning. Just paste this in your hat—our girls know how to dress and need no coaching from anybody. Of course, they have one great advantage, in that they are such a good-looking bunch that anything they may happen to wear looks beautiful. When it comes to dad's pocketbook—but let that pass.

The dance started at 8.30 and stopped at 11.59. A mighty good natured and overworked orchestra responded to all encores, and that means that there were few chances to rest between dances. The whole affair was refined and very enjoyable and quite on a par with the previous successful functions of the week.

The Class of 1916 may be heartily congratulated on the very happy "send off" given it. Narberth's best wishes for a bright and happy future go with each graduate. They are a credit to "The Year Round Home Town."

UNION TWILIGHT SERVICE

The regular Union Twilight services will be held as usual in July and August, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Plans are already under way and it is hoped that interest in these meetings will be greater than ever.

Owing to a recent real estate deal the lot at the corner of Windsor and Forrest avenues, our usual meeting place, has been sold. However, we have been exceedingly fortunate to secure a place which in some respects is better. Mr. W. D. Smedley, who has purchased the Justice property on North Narberth avenue, has willingly granted us the use of that lot and house for our meetings. Watch for later announcements.

Silence makes a bluff that's hard to call.

WHAT'S HAPPENED TO THE COLLECTORS OF ASHES?

To the Editor of Our Town: Christopher Columbus, it is assumed, discovered America in 1492. Can any of our esteemed citizens, with occult powers prognosticate when the ash collecting brigade of Narberth will be discovered gathering ashes in our classic precinct? It is almost five weeks since the last collection and no signs indicate they will be gathered at an early day. The only favor, outside of paying taxes, a great many of our citizens have been granted is the collection of ashes. For goodness sake do not take that privilege way of the citizens might issue a "Declaration of Independence" of their own.

As a number of our citizens still persist in carrying ashes from their cellars, their trim lawns are "beautifully" decorated with old boxes, tin cans, etc., which beyond a doubt do not add to the beauty of this pretty little town. Besides, these receptacles are the breeding-places for mosquitoes, and as this up-to-date borough has declared a war of extermination on the pesky insects it behooves the borough officials to act promptly in the matter and insist on the regular two weeks' collection in summer.

By the way, the pile of ashes accumulating in the rear of the fire house were promptly removed by the energetic attendants, but the collection of slops, refuse, etc., on the Y. M. C. A. property is a disgrace to the town, a menace to health and a source of annoyance to the neighborhood. Why not be public-spirited and follow the example of the fire house attendant? Cannot the Board of Health take action? Get busy. Clean up!

tarry to participate in the centennial celebration of this church.

I also remind you that the first twenty-five years in the life of a church are exceedingly important years. Especially is this true in a community as young and as changeable as is this one. This church is one of the oldest things in Narberth; in fact, it is older than Narberth itself, for the little village that clustered around the little railway station called Elm, twenty-five years ago, did not receive officially the name of Narberth until some time after this church was organized.

Within what is now the corporate limits of Narberth, this was the first church to be organized. Previous to that time there had been religious meetings held in private homes and elsewhere. A Sunday school had been started in the dwelling house now occupied by Mr. Bowman, on Elmwood avenue. Ministers also from various denominations came at times and conducted public worship in the same house. This continued for a year or so when it was thought best by many that a regularly organized church should be established. And so those inclined toward the Presbyterian faith sent a petition to the Presbytery of Philadelphia, north, for the appointment of a committee for the purpose of organizing a Presbyterian church. This committee was duly appointed and consisted of Gen. Louis Wagner, Rev. J. E. Wright, D. D., Rev. E. J. Levingood, William H. Scott, J. C. McCurdy and Rev. C. R. Erdman. This committee met at the home of Mr. Charles E. Kreamer at Elm Station on Tuesday evening, June 2, 1891. Dr. Wright presided, and Mr. Erdman, of the Overbrook Church, acted as clerk of the meeting. The petition was read and after full discussion the request was granted and the organization was effected. The following nine persons were received as the charter members of the new church, the first two of whom are still members: Mrs. Anna M. Owens, Mrs. William Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman S. Belcher, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Yardley and the Misses Blanche and Grace Yardley, and Miss Laura E. Smith. Messrs. Belcher and Yardley were elected Ruling Elders, and Mr. Erdman was appointed Moderator of the Session. The following were elected trustees: J. Alexander Simpson, Charles E. Kreamer, Joseph Mullineaux, Jr., F. S. Belcher and Edward Forsythe. It is indicative of the liberal spirit manifested by other denominations toward this new born church, that only one of the members of the Board of Trustees was a Presbyterian.

During the autumn of that same year a modest church building was completed at the corner of Windsor and Grayling avenues, and was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies on November 24, 1891. The sermon of that occasion was delivered by Rev. Charles Wood, D. D., of Germantown. Others who participated in the exercises were: Dr. Patton, of Wayne; Dr. Miller, of Bryn Mawr; Rev. C. R. Erdman, of Overbrook, and Rev. Thomas C. Trotter, and Rev. P. L. Jones, of Narberth.

On November 7, 1892, Rev. W. Y. Brown, D. D., was called as pastor and was duly installed on February 11, 1894.

In the early morning of Saturday, January 11, 1896, a disastrous fire completely destroyed the church building. That same evening it was decided to erect a temporary chapel and within less than a week, the building was erected and occupied the following Sunday. That Sunday morning at a meeting of the Session the following interesting resolutions were recorded: "The Session records with deep sorrow, yet with humble submission to Divine Providence, the destruction by fire of our beautiful chapel, and all its contents at about 3.30 o'clock on the morning of January 11, 1896. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at about $6000, on which there was an insurance of $5000. The Session further records its gratitude that on the morning of the fire the Methodist Church, through Mr. C. E. Kreamer, president of the Board of Trustees, and the Baptist Church, through Rev. Harold Kennedy, its pastor, tendered to our church the privilege of sharing with them the use of their church edifice at such times as might be agreeable to us. We return our profoundest thanks to these dear brethren for their expression of sympathy and love in this hour of loss and affliction. It is with profound thankfulness that the Session is permitted to state also, that on Saturday evening, January 11, at an informal conference with the Board of Trustees, and some members of the congregation, it was determined to build a temporary place of worship on one side of our own church lots, to be used by the congregation, pending the rebuilding of our chapel—that Mr. John K. Ketcham was directed to proceed with the erection of a temporary frame building 20 x 40 feet, boarded and double lined with felt paper, and that he has completed it within the space of five days and that to-day we are permitted to occupy it and to resume all the stated means of grace. For all of which we thank God and take courage.

(Signed) Freeman F. Belcher, Clerk.

That temporary chapel was used for nearly two years and then removed to Cook's Coal Yard, where it now stands used as a storage building. At present the only churchly thing about it is the colored glass windows in the gable ends.

Dr. Brown closed his pastorate in June, 1896, and at a Congregational meeting held the following November, Rev. Loyal L. Graham, Jr., was called to the pastorate. Mr. Graham accepted the call and was ordained and installed on December 22, 1896. The sermon on that occasion was delivered by Dr. Alexander Henry, the charge to the pastor was given by his father, Dr. L. Y. Graham, and the charge to the people by Rev. C. R. Erdman.

On January 28, 1897, the cornerstone of the present church building was laid with appropriate ceremonies and the building was completed by the following autumn, when the opening service was held September 9, 1897. In the meantime the Sunday School had been keeping pace with the growing church. There is no record of the beginning of the school, but in April, 1894, the school is reported as having fifty-three members. Among those who acted as superintendents in those early days of the life of the Sunday School were Mr. Samuel McConeghy, Mr. Richard Wallace, Mr. J. George Bucher, Mr. E. S. Haws and Mr. Loder. In November, 1904, Mr. Haws was elected treasurer and has continued in that office up to the present time. At that time the following teachers were in the school:

Dr. J. Berg Esenwein, Mr. W. D. Ross, Mr. C. N. Beddall, Mr. J. G. Bucher, Mrs. Mary E. Marcelle, Miss Florence B. Ketcham, Miss Elizabeth Shand, Miss Marguerite Kirk and Miss Florence Kirk. Mrs. E. S. Haws was placed in charge of the primary department in 1904, and has been the efficient superintendent of that department ever since. On June 18, 1905, the Session elected as superintendent of the school Mr. R. L. Beatty, who has served in that capacity up to the present time, and to his wise administration is due much of the success of the school. Mr. Graham resigned as pastor in June, 1910, in order to accept a call to the First Presbyterian Church of Rahway, N. J. The following October the congregation issued a call to the Rev. John Van Ness, of Germantown. This call was accepted and Mr. Van Ness was installed as pastor November 16, 1910, which pleasant relationship has continued up to the present time.

This in briefest outline is the story of the beginnings of this important work. As in the days gone by, so may it be in the days that are to come, and even with more emphasis, that the Narberth Presbyterian Church may stand out in this community as a Beacon Light, shining for Truth and Righteousness, and lighting up the pathway of the Kingdom of God.

"CAMP TOHICKON"

The following item concerning the life of Tohickon will doubtless be of considerable interest:

As far as possible, the small group idea or family unit is the standard for classification. Each tent accommodates seven boys and an adult leader and this same grouping is carried throughout the round of daily activities.

ideal is constructive, and every effort is made to secure men who will uphold this ideal. With few exceptions, they are recruited from the schools and colleges near Philadelphia.

The disciplining of the camp is not too strict, but does insist upon the observance of a few regulations that are for the camper's safety and enjoyment. Every boy is expected to act as a gentleman and is on his honor. The use of tobacco in all forms is ties. In the dining room they sit at their separate table and are served as a family by their leader. This arrangement enables the grouping of boys of like age and secures a close supervision, as well as helpful influences through contacts with pickled men of strong personality. Parents need not fear to place their sons under Tohickon influence, for the camp absolutely forbidden at Camp Tohickon.

The following Narberth boys are already signed up for part of the season: Carl Metzgar, Ned Morgan, Baird Caldwell, Richard Compton, Richard Odiorne, Herbert Krell, Edward Odell and Francis Wipf. We are adding to this list daily. How about your boy?

Mr. and Mrs. William Livingston on Saturday evening entertained the following at cards: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Llewellyn, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Verna, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar H. Cochran and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Moore.

The police authorities of Lower Merion Township are determined to stop automobile speeding in the community of Merion where the "speed laws" have been flagrantly violated. Hereafter motorists driving at an unreasonable rate and disregarding the signs will be fined, and continual offenders will be deprived of their licenses.

The garden and card party given by the Narberth branch of the Woman Suffrage party Wednesday was a great success. The porches of Mrs. John Sylvester Ketcham's and Mrs. William Silfridge's homes were used for the card tables a which bridge and "500" were played. The tallies and decorations were yellow butterflies and the prizes carried out the same idea. An accordion band added to the attractions. The affair was in charge of Mrs. Ketcham, Mrs. Silfridge, Miss Edna Silfridge, Mrs. Arthur Cole, Mrs. Edward Muschamp, Mrs. William Baily Goodall, Mrs. William Horner, Miss Fanny Loos, Mrs. Charles Verna, Mrs. Edgar Cockrill, Mrs. Clarence Fowler and Mrs. Robert Dothard.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK A GREAT SUCCESS

Every Day Brought Something Worth While—School Spirit Ran High—Did You Miss It? It's All Over Now But the Memory of a Happy Week

Yes, vacation is here for the throng of boys and girls who have found joy and hard work intermingled on "The Hill" for the past ten months. Tired, but enthusiastic teachers have bidden farewell to Narberth for several months' sojourn in their homes. The principal and secretary alone remain, engaged in office work.

The prosperous school year was brought to a close by a week of school activities that shall long live in the minds of those who had the pleasure of being associated directly or indirectly with the school.

Baccalaureate Exercises.

Commencement week was ushered in by the baccalaureate service, held in All Saints' Episcopal Church on Sunday evening, June 11th. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Andrew S. Burke, who took for his text, Rom. xii, 11, "Not slothful in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord."

The sermon was practical and impressive. The class, faculty, Board of Education and friends who packed the church felt the hour to have been one deep with significance.

Field Day.

Narberth School field day was the attraction on Tuesday afternoon. The day was ideal and hundreds of parents and friends turned out to participate in the exercises of a gala day on Shand field. The little tots' races always are a feature of keen interest to the mothers. They were not disappointed at the pretty sight of the little white clad racers as they sprinted across the new smooth field.

Much credit is due Carroll Downes, Jr., chairman of the committee of arrangements, and to the junior class which had charge of the refreshments. The gross receipts were $39.48.

A full account of the field meet with events and winners is published elsewhere in this issue as is also a full account of class day and commencement.

Alumni Night—Second Annual Alumni Reunion.

This was the evening that brought to the school the old students. It was Tuesday and Cupid did not interfere, but rather aided in getting out all the "singles." Of course, the married members were all there.

After a private business meeting held in the office, at which time Miss Ruth Prescott was elected to succeed Mr. Paul Carter as president, the members of the association adjourned to assembly hall, where an audience awaited the program of the evening.

Needless to say, school spirit ran high. The school yells and song greeted President Carter, Speaker Kratz and President of Board of Education McCarter as they passed to the platform. After brief words of greeting by the president of the association, Mr. Carter responded in words of appreciation of what the association is doing, and urged a continuance of the work. He pointed out some things that the association might do to help the school.

The speaker of the evening was Maxwell Kratz, Esq., of Philadelphia an alumnus of Princeton. He was perfectly at home in an alumni meeting and his delivery and sacred advice and words of encouragement and congratulation won for him the admiration of the audience.

He strongly emphasized the need of play grounds and athletic activities, of adequate equipment and room, and urged the members of the association to do their part in influencing citizens to support advancement. He said he spoke authoritatively when he said "The next ten years will not find school worth while that does not have adequate grounds adjoining the buildings."

The alumni history, written by Miss Prescott and read by Miss Mary McCarter, was indeed interesting. It put the audience in touch with every member of the association. (A card index in the school office keeps the school in close touch with the members.)

Watson Owings did not fail to "deliver the goods" to the seniors in his advice to them prior to their "taking the degree." Each member of the Class of '16 had to come to the platform and face the audience. They were "permitted" to remain close to

Watson, but many "preferred" to get to the far end of the platform.

A short sketch by Carroll Downes, Jr., and Ruth Prescott brought the program to a close.

The alumni roll, by classes, was responded to by the old class yells. This was an interesting feature.

Vocal selections by members of the association which interspersed the other numbers added greatly to the success of the happy hour.

After outbursts of school and class yells, the audience enjoyed refreshments and a social hour.

Promotion Exercises.

Wednesday morning marked another milestone for 375 boys and girls. Pupils measure life not so much in terms of years, as in terms of "grade." This was promotion day and eager faces turned toward the principal, who held in his hand long rolls of "promotions."

The first grade was first called. What an applause burst forth from the student body! Everybody realized this was the last time the little ones of the first grade should please them with their happy faces and splendid reciting as "first graders." The principal seemed to realize this more than any one. He has always shown a particular love for the wee tots. At the call of each individual's name, one after the other arose amidst hearty applause. The grade then quoted appropriate lines from Lowell's Vision of Sir Launfal and passed into the mysteries of second gradehood.

As promotions continued on up through the grades, here and there there was a disappointment, but Mr. Melchoir tried to save feelings where possible. Of course, no reference was made to those not promoted.

The exercises were closed with the beautiful little prayer of the grade now dubbed second.

Class Day.

The exercises on Thursday afternoon were a big drawing card. No one was disappointed. An hour in length and full of spice was the program. Humor but no wit, roasting but not singeing added to the interest.

The faculty members say they are all the wiser for the advice given them. It remains a question whether they will "mend their ways." The under classmen of course never profit by the advise of seniors—so how could they this day? 'Tis hoped they will.

Senior Chapel.

An entirely different atmosphere pervaded Assembly Hall on Friday morning on the occasion of the last devotional exercises after term. The services were in charge of the seniors. Each member took some part in making this an hour long to be remembered by the faculty and student body.

Awarding of Prizes and "N's."

At 10.30 the pupils again assembled for the awarding of prizes and "N's." The principals first announced that several classes had conducted spelling and composition contests. The successful pupils were then named. Prizes will later be given.

Particular emphasis has been placed upon the matter of attendance records. Announcement was made that many pupils missed no days, others were not tardy, and others had no early dismissals, but only five held a perfect record. No tardiness, early dismissal or absence. To these pupils was awarded a school ribbon. But as they came to the platform they heard an applause that spoke more loudly than words, the opinion of the faculty and fellow students.

High School—Quincy Yowell.
Seventh Grade—Bennie Yowell, Adeline Smith.

Fourth Grade—William Fink.
Third Grade—Annette Melchoir.

Coach Eshelman then presented the official "N's" to the boys of the basket ball and base ball team fellows, making interesting comments as he proceeded.

Mr. Melchoir followed, and in words of appreciation of Mr. Eshelman's services and exemplification of a man of clean athletic and personal life, presented him with an "N."

The girls of the basket ball team were now called to the platform for their letters. "Truly our girls have done their part toward making this a great year for Narberth athletics."

Lastly, a beautiful bouquet of white roses and streamers of school colors were presented to Miss Wilson as a token of appreciation of her untiring efforts in behalf of athletics in the Narberth schools. Unselfishness has stamped itself upon the pupils as one of Miss Wilson's virtues. Undoubtedly no teacher has been more busy with school duties, yet she always found time to be on hand to cheer for the boys and girls. The long continued applause and call for "speech" was no more than she deserves.

The prizes for the Field Day winners were now awarded. Needless to say this was a big event. (See list of winners.)

Closing Exercises.

And now we are ready for the closing exercises! Last year!—?—! Ask anyone what happened.

Some one thought he had planned the exercises just right. So he had for the non-emotional. But alas for the calamity howlers! By the time the first verse of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" had been sung the teachers and pupils were making a sudden exit. Overshoes and hacks were in demand as people fled from before the flood. A few have not been seen in Narberth since.

Well! this year all was different. It is said wise people are apt students. The "weepers" who remained away missed a great treat. The new Philadelphia orchestra had been engaged for the occasion. Upon signal, its members, forty in number, equipped with the latest invented instruments fell into line, Director Haws leading. Such "musick!" The audience is still wondering whether the tune was "God Be With You," "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" or "Narberth School Song." At any rate, it was something, and everybody remained.

Then followed a few short but appropriate remarks from the retiring teachers, Miss McCarter and Messrs. Eshelman and Kebler.

Now came the dreaded moment the next song. But all fear of floods was dispelled when the orchestra struck up, "Put Away Your Books and Papers."

"Now we turn our faces homeward right merrily." A pause—and then together was given the Mizpah—and school was "out."

Commencement Exercises a Great Success—Seldom, if Ever, Surpassed—A Crowded House Greeted the Class and Speakers—Rev. Alexander H. Abbott's Address Masterful.

Rain and wind could not combat the throng of people who wanted to go to commencement. Promise had been given that this would be the "best ever." Although extra chairs had been procured, many persons had to stand.

Promptly at 8 P. M. the forty girls of the chorus entered the auditorium, followed by the class, Board of Education and speakers. By 9.15 the benediction brought to a close one of the best commencement programs rendered in Narberth. Nowhere was there a break nor moment lost. Every one who spoke was brief and to the point. The music was, as always, an attractive feature. The audience was attentive throughout.

Mr. C. Howard McCarter, president of the Board of Education, presided.

The program as announced in last week's issue of Our Town, was followed throughout.

Although every feature deserves comment, undoubtedly the big feature was the address of Rev. Alexander H. Abbott. We shall endeavor to present a synopsis of his address in a subsequent issue of Our Town.

Principal Melchoir, in a few words, presented the class to the president of the board, President McCarter, in his usual pleasing and practical way, addressed the class and audience. No one hearing him could but appreciate the keen personal interest that he takes in the Narberth School. Again it became his pleasant duty to present the diplomas.

No less forceful and sincere were the remarks of Vice-President Downes, upon whom President McCarter called for a short address. It is hoped that citizens will ponder over his frank talk with them. He spoke as only one can who has lived close to school life for years.

A pleasing surprise came to the board, faculty and student body when the president of the Class of 1916, Carroll Downes, Jr., presented to the school a marble bust of Shakespeare, and a check of one hundred dollars ($100). The biggest "hit" of this innovation, however, was, perhaps, not the gift, but the rendition of the presentation speech. The class could well be proud of this representative of the class. The gifts were accepted by President McCarter in behalf of the school.

The final word before the benediction was a cheery word from the president, who said he was speaking for the five men on the board.

"Pupils and faculty of the Narberth schools, to each and every one of you do we wish a happy vacation. We further wish to extend our urgent invitation to you to return to this school next fall, September 5th."

The hour that followed the close of the program saw the Narberth School spirit not only bursting forth from pupils, but parents and friends alike. Everybody was happy. Why not?

The class consisted of the following who shall pursue their studies as follows: Few high school classes have so great a percentage of its graduates go to college: Carroll Downes, Jr., Dartmouth; Charles Howard McCarter, Jr., University of Pennsylvania; Franklin Foster, a medical college; Jean Justice, Bryn-Mawr; Agnes Rose, Bryn-Mawr; Marian Haws, Wilson (will probably take a post-graduate year at Narberth before entering); Hilda Smedley, Sargeant School; Estelle Cobic, School of Industrial Art; Marian Trotter, Banks' Business College; Madeline McCoy, a university and musical conservatory; Augusta Witherow, Cornell.

Class Day Makes Big Hit With Audience.

The program rendered by the Class of 1916 on the occasion of this Class Day was original. There was nothing monotonous or tiresome. Lots of pep and get up to the whole affair. Yet there was nothing "simple." Just what people mean when they say class days are "simple" we do not mean. Although many are worse than nothing. But "1916" set a pace for future classes. There was real get up to the performances.

The platform, decorated as a farm yard, gave a true ring to chanticleer's crows. Yes, a real live rooster, caught in some alley by Estelle Cobic and Hilda Smedley, was there as the mascot. The boys were dressed as farmers. (They were out of their element however); the girls as milkmaids, (they were still more lost.)

Just what significance the lemon

The program closed with another class song, quickly followed by a beautiful farewell song sung by the students and faculty.

Although class days are not as popular as of yore, and rightly so, yet the type of program rendered by "1916" is worthy of future classes to consider.

The senior dance on last Saturday night brought to a close the social season for the young people, who care for dancing. Elm Hall was artistically decorated in the class colors—blue and gold. All those present declared it a most enjoyable and elaborate affair. Three cheers for the Class of 1916!

Carroll Downes, Jr.'s, Presentation Speech.
In brief his address was as follows: "Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen, as a token of the Class of 1916's appreciation for the hearty co-operation and many things you have done for us during our course in the Narberth High School, I want to present to our school this marble bust of William Shakespeare. As this is the 300th anniversary of this, our greatest poet, we think his bust will make a suitable beginning for our Hall of Fame, which we hope the future classes will help to complete. Also, I wish to tender this check of $100 to the physics department to be used for the better equipment of that department. Now, as representative of the Class of 1916, I want to thank all the people of Narberth, our school board, Mr. Melchoir and our faculty, and I hope these slight tokens and our future actions may in measure repay the great debt we owe to this our school."

Pupils who have been neither absent, tardy nor had early dismissals: High school, Quincy Yowell; seventh grade, Bennie Yowell, Adeline Smith; fourth grade, William Funk; third grade, Annette Melchior. Clinton Show deserves honorable mention.

Spelling contest results: Fifth grade—Wayne Bond, 98 per cent.; David Casey, 98 per cent.; seventh grade—Several tied on first trial, making 100 per cent: Mildred Chamblay, Alice Maltby, George Stanley, Helen Keim, Adela Smith, Janette Walton. Finally Janette Walton won out.

Composition contest — Elizabeth Harsh.
Spelling—Eighth grade: Elizabeth Harsh, 100; James Artman, 96.
