THE Bible, strictly speaking, is not a book, but a library of brief writings, some of which contain histories, some codes of laws, some prophecies, some collections of religious songs and proverbs, and some epistles.

This library is divided into two parts, the one containing records of the history and religious development of the Jews before the time of Christ,—the other the distinctive Christian literature produced by the followers of Our Lord during the first century after His appearance on earth.

Compared with all other literary productions, the Bible stands singularly and peculiarly alone. The earliest part of it is the oldest record in the world which lays any claim to being a trustworthy history. It traces that history back to its very beginnings, and develops it from the religious standpoint, throwing a Divine light upon it all. As a whole it bears the impress of Inspiration, by which its authors were divinely guided to tell the Divine shaping of events.

The Jews were the chosen people of God. From the very earliest times, He was in constant communication with them. Individual and tribal responsibilities were the ever-present and dominating ideas; and while all were not invested with the prophetic gift, He chose, from among them, such as were fitted to receive the Divine communication, and they became the real teachers of the race.

This process of revelation culminated in Jesus, in whom the indwelling of the Divine Spirit was perfect, unchecked by any sin or imperfection of His own being, so that every act and word of this Light of the World became a word of God to men, and His whole being was the Word of God.

The proof that this collection of literature is the Word of God is that it possesses the qualities and powers that belong to such a Word. It is true; and being true, it appeals to our sense of the truth, and approves itself to us. The truth that the Bible conveys being of the highest order, it kindles the minds that speak it to high and great expression; and the minds that receive it, to respond to its greatness. But above all, being moral and spiritual truth coming from God Himself, it is an instrument by which the Spirit quickens those “dead in trespasses and sins,” and imparts spiritual life to men.

It tells its own story best when it says:—“God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son.”

In this new edition of the large type Holman Self-Pronouncing quarto Bible, the same plan of syllabification and accentuation has been carried out which caused our Sunday-School Teachers’ Bibles to be so universally popular. Every proper name in the text is syllabified and accented, and the many variable vowels and consonants are diacritically marked according to the most reliable modern standards of pronunciation.

The large, readable type, the clearness of the page, the admirable arrangement of its myriads of references, its size, convenience, and durability, combine to render it superior to all other editions of the Sacred Word for handy reference and daily use.

The text used conforms to that of the edition of 1611 commonly known as the Authorized or King James Version. Although this translation has now been before the people well-nigh three hundred years, and though the language and spelling have changed, it still possesses an undeniable charm for the great majority of English-speaking people, which no subsequent rendering has been able to obliterate.

Neither time, labor, nor expense has been spared to render this edition worthy of the confidence of the people; and it is our earnest hope that many a one who has not hitherto found attractions in the pages of the Bible will be able to say, “Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.”

AN INTRODUCTORY HISTORY

OF

THE MANUSCRIPT AND EARLY PRINTED EDITIONS

OF THE HOLY BIBLE

THE books composing the Holy Bible were written in different ages, from Moses to John (B. C. 1650 to A. D. 90—a period of more than seventeen hundred years), by men who were specially prepared for the work by direct inspiration from the Divine Source of all knowledge.

The several books bear a uniform and unvarying testimony in support of each other by quotations, by the express recognition of the prophets, evangelists, apostles and the Lord Jesus himself, thus convincing us that in all ages, from that of Moses to the present, the best men have believed in its Divine origin, and have acted accordingly.

The Hebrews were exceedingly careful about these writings, as an examination of their very complete system for their preservation and interpretation will show.

There are references to the writing and reading of the law in the Old Testament, in every age, beginning with Moses. It was read for instruction publicly in the desert of Sinai, at Kadesh, at the crossing of Jordan, at the great assembly on Ebal and Gerizim, at Shiloh, at the dedication of Solomon's temple, the reform under Hezekiah, and more particularly in the case of the collection of the whole Old Testament by Ezra, who arranged it in the order that is still preserved.

This settlement of the canon in its present form is dated from the close of the captivity in Babylon.

While the Hebrews were in Assyria, captives, their language fell into disuse, being neglected for the Chaldean in popular use. This made it necessary to appoint teachers of the law of Moses, whose duties were to preserve a knowledge of the Scriptures and the language in which they were written. Ezra was the chief of this class in the later years of the captivity. He returned to Jerusalem from Babylon with the exiles, where he completed his great work of compiling, or rather arranging in chronological order, the sacred books, for which service he was called the second Moses, and was dignified with the title of Scribe (in Hebrew Sofer).

When Nehemiah formed the Great Synagogue, the Scribes were recognized as a distinct order in the nation, and seats were given to a number of them in the general assembly among the ruling elders.

The work of this body of learned and devout men was: 1. To make the only copies of the sacred Scriptures that were allowed to be used; 2. To count the letters in every book, and the number of times that each letter occurred in each book and in all the books; 3. To read the "law" in public on the Sabbath and festival days; 4. To lecture to their disciples (students of the law) on the meaning of the Holy Scriptures; 5. To arrange the liturgy for public worship; 6. To form the traditions; 7. To protect the law by by-laws which directed how to copy, keep and interpret the holy writings; 8. To correct any accidental errors in the original text; and 9. To add to the sacred canon the books of the prophets and of the poets.

The writings were not added to the text of the Scriptures, but were put on the margin, near the text which they explained or corrected.

Their rules may be judged of from two specimens: 1. Except every one do keep them (the Scriptures) whole and undefiled, without doubt he shall perish everlastingly; and 2. Except a man believe them faithfully, he cannot be saved.

This order of learned and devout men continued as a distinct class from B. C. 458, the end of the captivity in Babylon, to B. C. 300, when the order became extinct at the death of Simon the Just.

A parallel historical witness is found in the sect of the Samaritans, who separated from the Jews after the captivity (being composed of Jews and Chaldeans), built a temple on Mount Gerizim, made a new creed, and copied the Pentateuch only out of the law for their own use. The mutual hatred between the Samaritans and Jews rendered it impossible to suppose that there could have been a collusion between them to add to or change a single word or letter of the sacred writings, and both parties strove to convince the world that their particular copy of the law was the more ancient. They differ but in a very few particulars, which may all be accounted for chiefly as errors of the copyists.

Succeeding the Scribes were certain teachers of the law, who were called Sages, Wise Ones, Elders and Doctors (Tanaim). Their duties were almost identical with those of the Scribes whom they succeeded.

So from age to age, as society changed or new circumstances arose, the interpretations of the Scriptures were changed to suit the new state of things. The writings of the Scribes were explained by the Doctors, and these by later teachers, when a vast mass of writings accumulated, which formed what is called the Talmud. The Talmud is composed of two parts, the Mishna, which is the oral law, and the Gemara, the traditions.

The Doctors were very important and influential in the nation. It was among them that Joseph and Mary found the child Jesus explaining the simple truth of the Scripture in contrast to the misty and almost blind superstition of the commentators. The order of the Doctors continued as a distinct body from B. C. 200 to A. D. 220.

The Pharisees were a sect of patriotic and devout Jews, whose idea was to make Israel a nation of priests in fact, as well as it was in their law as written by Moses, and it was the duty of each member to strive, by religious study and preparation for the office of a Rabbi (teacher), to become a priest in spirit, although not of the house of Levi, believing that "God had given to all men alike the kingdoms, priesthood and holiness." They assumed the duty of special guardians of the Holy Scriptures.

The Essenes were simply intensified Pharisees, adding to their duties and professions the self-denial of a life of celibacy, and their example and influence were most beneficial to the nation. They also were jealous custodians of the Scriptures.

These various orders of learned men cared for the Holy Books during a period of more than seven hundred years, ending about three hundred years after Christ. Since that time the Jews have continued the care of their sacred writings with the same zealous watchfulness, believing that the Messiah has not yet appeared, and that his coming may possibly be near at hand.

These writings so carefully preserved were in the Hebrew tongue, and it is interesting to know how they have been translated into other languages, and especially into English.

The first translation from the Hebrew into any other language, that is recorded, was in Chaldee, which was made at the time the law was read to the king of Persia. The original of this has been lost. The oldest which has been preserved is that which was made at Alexandria in Egypt, B. C. 260, and is called the Septuagint, from a supposition that it was made by seventy translators.

The next in order of time was made by Onkelos, in Chaldee, A. D. 150. The same author, whose name in Greek was Aquila, also translated the Old Testament into Greek, A. D. 160. This work was evidently intended to correct the errors of the Septuagint, which was made by several persons, some of whom were not equal to the task; besides, the state of public opinion at that period permitted the translators to give the general sense of the original instead of following the literal text.

The Septuagint was also corrected by Theodotion, and about the same date (second century) Symmachus made a version in Greek for the use of the Ebionites, which is correct, pure and elegant in style and diction.

In the time of the Apostles there were many copies of the Gospels for the use of the Church in the different cities, in the languages of the localities—Greek, Latin, Hebrew, Syriac, Coptic, Ethiopic and Arabic—but the authors of these works are now unknown.

The Ethiopic version was written in the sacred Jeez, the dialect of Axum, in the fourth century. The Coptic and Memphitic versions were made soon after, and the Coptic is now in use in Egypt.

The Syriac (called Peshito, single, literal) was made from the Hebrew and Greek about A. D. 200, and had become almost obsolete as early as the fourth century. The work included the whole Bible, with the Apocrypha.

Paul of Tela made a version of the Septuagint at Alexandria, A. D. 617, which was extremely literal, every Greek word being rendered by one in Syriac.

The Thebaic version in the common dialect of Egypt was made in the third century, but soon fell into disuse, especially among scholars, who preferred the more elegant Coptic.

The Gothic version was finished about A. D. 370 by Bishop Ulphilas. Of the original 330 leaves, comprising the four gospels, 177 are still in existence and are preserved in the Museum in the University of Upsala, Sweden.

The great works of Origen consumed twenty-eight years of his life, and consist of homilies and commentaries, written with every evidence of scholarship and untiring research, extended into all Bible lands. He first arranged four versions on the same page for comparison of the text of each with the others as to correctness, as follows:—

1. Septuagint; 2. Aquila; 3. Symmachus; 4. Theodotion. Afterward he added two others, making what is known as the Hexapla (six parts). Some portions of the Gospels were in eight versions. The whole work comprised nearly fifty volumes folio, of which only a very few pages are in existence now.

The Veneto Greek version is dated A. D. 875.

The extensive influence of the Scriptures in the early ages may be gathered from the remark, so often repeated, that the whole Bible could be gathered from the writings of the early centuries, so copious were their quotations.

The great scholar who above all others succeeded in making the most valuable version of the Scriptures in the Latin tongue was Jerome, whose name as written in Latin was Eusebius Hieronymus Sophronius (born A. D. 329 at Stridon, died 420 at Bethlehem). He was a student and a traveller from his youth, and a patient gatherer of knowledge serviceable in his great undertaking in all parts of the Christian world. His version was for more than eight centuries the great bulwark of the Church in the west of Europe, as the Septuagint was of the Church in the east. His work has not come down to us entire, for the present Vulgate (Douay Bible) has in it the work of many hands.

The translation of the Bible in Germany was begun by Otfried of Weissenburg about the year A. D. 860, in a metrical version of the Life of Jesus, the Psalms, Canticles and Genesis.

Luther's version was made by the assistance of Melancthon, Aurogallus, Bugenhagen, Jonas and Creuziger, although the greater part of the work was done by himself, from A. D. 1522, when the New Testament appeared, to 1534, when the whole Bible, including the Apocrypha, was published.

There are also versions in Low German (1533), Danish (1550), Swedish (1526), Icelandic (1540), by Thorlak Skuleson (1644), Dutch (1648) and Pomeranian (1588).

The Reformed Church of Switzerland published a translation in the Swiss dialect of all the canonical Books of the Old and New Testaments as early as 1531; another in 1665, and the Synod of Dort one in 1637.

INTRODUCTORY HISTORY OF THE HOLY BIBLE

The Vulgate was translated into German at Leipsic in 1527.

Christopher Sower printed a Bible in German at Germantown, Pa., in 1743, which was the first Bible printed in America next to Eliot's Bible in the Indian language.

The first recorded translation of the Bible in the English tongue was the work of Cædmon, who rendered the whole Bible, from Genesis to Revelation, into alliterative verse, A. D. 680. Soon after this Aldhelm, Bishop of Sherborne, rendered the Psalms into verse. Bede translated John's Gospel (A. D. 735), and Alfred the Great (died A. D. 901) wrote or published the four chapters of laws from the book of Exodus, because he desired that "all freeborn youth of his kingdom should be able to read the English Scriptures" (as well as be educated generally). He had a book of extracts from the Psalms and other books made for use in his family.

The oldest version of the Anglo-Saxon Gospels is called the Durham Book, of which a specimen copy is now extant, dated A. D. 688.

The Normans were no friends to education in the English tongue, and did not translate the Scriptures, but tried to educate the people in religious matters by the use of miracle-plays and pictures. Only a few works on the Scriptures are dated in their age, of which we have still remaining three versions of the Gospel, and the Ormulum, a metrical paraphrase of the Gospel history in alliterative verse.

In the thirteenth century there occurred a religious revival, when the Bible was translated into Norman-French.

The reformer Wycliffe (born 1324, died 1384) rendered into English almost the entire Bible, "So that for Cristen men may some dele know the text of the Gospel, with the comyn sentence of olde holie doctores." This great work was an important element in opening the way for the Reformation.

Tindale devoted his whole life and his great learning and eminent abilities that "a boy that driveth a plough" might know more of the Scriptures than the great body of the clergy then knew (A. D. 1520). He said that "The properties of the Hebrew tongue agree a thousand times more with English than with the Latin." This work of translating the Bible into English was bitterly opposed by the Roman Catholics as long as they had any power in England or influence in Europe, and their wishes were seconded by King Henry VIII., who threw Tindale into prison, when, after several years of confinement, he was condemned to death by the Emperor Charles V., and was put to death at Villefort, near Brussels, in 1536, and his body burned to ashes.

Tindale's idea was that every part of the Scriptures had one sense only, and he kept that always in view, translating from the original Hebrew and Greek. Even his enemies have admitted that his work was excellent. Its language is pure, appropriate and clear to the understanding. Evidences of great learning and research give it a pre-eminent position among the enduring monuments of human intelligence and skill. Tindale has been justly honored with the title of the father of our English authorized version.

It is mournfully interesting to record in memory of his learned and faithful assistants that one of them, John Fry, was burned at the stake for heresy, on account of his share in this work of translation, at Smithfield, London, in 1552, and another, the Monk William Roye, was put to death for the same offence, in Portugal, in 1553, while a third, Miles Coverdale, a priest, barely escaped death, and even while in prison, for this same matter, edited an edition of the Bible in 1535, which was dedicated to the king of England. In his preface Coverdale declared that he "had not changed so much as one word for the benefit of any sect, but had with a clear conscience purely and faithfully translated out of the foregoing interpreters, having only before his eyes the manifest truth of Scriptures." This was the first edition of the entire Bible that was printed in English, and was also the first authorized version. It was published in six volumes, folio, with marginal notes and cross-references, and illustrated with many wood-cuts.

Lord Cromwell, secretary to Henry the Eighth, vicar-general in church affairs, favored this edition, and by the king's authority published a decree, commanding, "Every person or proprietary of every parish church within the realm should, before the first of August, 1536, provide a book of the whole Bible, both in Latin and English, and lay it in the choir, for every man that would to look and read therein."

Tindale's version was edited by the martyr John Rogers, who prudently assumed the name of Thomas Matthewe as a disguise, because of the enemies of Tindale, whose intimate friend he was. This edition followed Tindale's version as far as the end of Chronicles, and that of Rogers for the rest. Many wood-cuts embellished both the Old and New Testaments, the book of Revelation having one to each chapter.

Cranmer presented a copy of it to Lord Cromwell in 1558, asking his intercession with the king for the royal authority, which was granted. A royal proclamation also informed the people that it had pleased the king to permit and command that the Bible, printed in the English language, should be used for instruction in every parish church.

The Roman party still opposed the printing of the Bible in English with all their might, and especially its free distribution and use by the people, but the friends of the Reformation were encouraged, and the people all over England attended in crowds to hear the book read.

Henry the Eighth sanctioned an edition, and asked permission from Francis the First to print it in France, and this having been granted, the work was forwarded under the care of Coverdale, until the enterprise was defeated by the Inquisition, and the whole edition of 2500 copies was ordered to be burned. A few copies were saved, with the type and presses, and the work was completed in England in 1539.

Henry the Eighth's supremacy and freedom in church matters from the Pope of Rome was settled by Parliament in 1534, the year in which the Church of England was established, and from that time the work of translating and printing the Bible in the English language has been a powerful aid in the work of the great Reformation.

Although the Roman party, led by Gardner, Bishop of Winchester, opposed the measure, both in public and in private, yet the king favored it, on account partly of the great influence of Queen Ann Bullen. An edition was printed by Whitchurch and Grafton, with a frontispiece of great beauty, designed by Holbein.

A corrected reprint of Matthewe's Bible was issued by Richard Taverner in 1539, under the patronage of Lord Cromwell, to whom the king granted the exclusive privilege of printing English Bibles for five years.

After the death of Lord Cromwell, in 1540, the Roman party gained such strength that Parliament was influenced to pass a law abolishing Tindale's version, because it was said to have been "full of errors and to produce many evils, heresies and mischiefs, destructive of the harmony and peace of the realm." Under this act Grafton was imprisoned, fined a large sum, and released only under a heavy bond that he would not print or sell English Bibles.

The king's proclamation also prohibited the having or reading Wycliffe's, Tindale's and Coverdale's versions.

Under Edward the Sixth the restrictions against having and reading the Bible in English were removed, and it was ordered that parsons and others in the church service should have read Scriptures in both Latin and English, with the paraphrase of Erasmus in English, and also that the mass should be said in English.

The Liturgy was completed and established by act of Parliament in 1549.

Romanism was restored to power by law under Queen Mary in 1553, John Rogers was burned at the stake, and many Protestant scholars and divines were driven into exile, when they went to Geneva, where they entered into the spirit of translation with an increased vigor in 1539.

An edition of the whole Bible (omitting the Apocrypha) was printed at Geneva in 1560, in English, which is called the Geneva Bible, and it held the popular favor for sixty years, giving way only to the authorized version of King James. A Bible Dictionary was added to it in 1578. A curious feature in it was an attempt to give the Hebrew names of persons in English letters, as Heva for Eve, Izhak for Isaac, Jeremidhu for Jeremiah.

Matthew Parker, Archbishop of Canterbury, published the "Bishop's Bible" in 1568, in one volume folio, in which there were a number of wood-cuts, maps and copper-plate engravings of interesting places and things, both in the Old and the New Testaments, and the Apocrypha.

At length, in 1582, the Roman Church yielded to the popular demand for the Scriptures in English, and issued the Douay (doo-à) version, translated from the Latin Vulgate, and not from the original Greek. The historian Fuller said that "the Douay Bible was a translation which needed to be translated," and also that "its editors by all means labored to suppress the light of truth under one pretence or another."

The Old Testament was translated by William Allen (Cardinal), Gregory Martin and Richard Briston, and published at Douay in 1610, the New Testament having been published at Rheims in 1582. The notes were supplied by Thomas Worthington, and the whole has continued until the present time in favor and authority in the Roman Church as its standard version in English.

King James the First, in 1604, on the motion in Hampton Court Conference having been made by Dr. John Reynolds, a Puritan, selected fifty-four scholars and divines, of whom forty-seven served in making a new translation.

There were among them men of various parties, as of the High Church, Andrews, Barlow, Montague, Overal and Saravia; of the Puritans, Reynolds, Chaderton and Livlie; and of those who were of no church party, Henry Saville and John Boyse. These men were all distinguished for piety and eminent learning in Oriental languages.

There were no records of the meetings of the translators preserved, so far as known, but their rules for proceeding with their work were published.

When each company had met together to examine and agree upon the readings of the text, "one of the party would read the translation, while the others held in their hands some version of the Scriptures in either one of the learned tongues, and if any error or fault was noticed they spoke; if not, he read on." The work was completed in three years. The introduction and argument of each book were written by Thomas Bilson, Bishop of Winchester, and Dr. Smith. The preface was the work of Dr. Miles Smith, who was afterward Bishop of Gloucester. In this he says, "We, building upon their foundation that went before us, and being holpen by their labors, do endeavor to make better that which they left so good, no man, we are sure, hath cause to mistake us. They, we persuade ourselves, if they were alive, would thank us." And he also said that "it was their aim, not to make a new translation, nor yet to make of a bad one a good one, but to make a good one better, or out of many good ones one principal good one."

The work was completed and published in 1611, with the following title:—

"The Holy Bible, conteyning the Old Testament and the New, newly translated out of the Originall Tongues, and with the former Translations diligently compared and revised by his Majestie's Speciall Comandement. Imprinted at London, by Robert Barker, Printer to the King's most excellent Majestie. 1611."

The only pay these men received for their long and faithful service was thirty pounds to each one of the six editors who made the last revision, by the Company of Stationers. The king would not pay out of his own treasury, and only gave a shadowy promise of 1000 marks (about $4000), by an invitation to the archbishops and bishops to collect money from those willing to contribute; but nothing came of it.

The Authorized Version, published under the sanction of King James the First in 1611, from which this Bible is a copy, without change, except in a few cases of orthography, such as original for "originall," as it stands in the title of 1611, has been everywhere commended for its faithfulness to the original Hebrew and Greek Scriptures, its pure and forcible English, its plain but dignified forms of expression, and its idiom, true to the genius of our tongue, as all that can be desired.

Its chief value to the English-speaking world is its pure English, which dates from a time before the introduction of the vast number of words from the modern languages, which more often obscure the meaning than help to a clear idea of what is in the mind. Addison, the eminent critic, says, "The translators of the Bible were masters of the English style, far fitter for that work than any we see in our present writings." The best writers, from that day to this, have clothed their choicest thought in its pure idiom, so that its influence may be traced all through English literature.

AMERICAN EDITIONS OF THE BIBLE.

PRIOR to the Revolutionary War the English Bibles used in this country were obtained in Europe, and at the time of American independence but two editions in any language had been printed in the United States.

The first Bible published in this country was a translation into the Natick Indian dialect by the Rev. John Eliot, a missionary, and printed by Samuel Green and Marmaduke Johnson at Cambridge, Mass., in 1663. The book was a small quarto, and five years were required to print the first edition. The tribe of Indians for whom this translation was made has long been extinct, and of course the language is dead. It is claimed that there is no one now living who can read it. The very few copies of this Bible in existence are in the possession of the larger American and European libraries.

The first Bible printed in this country in a European language was that published in the German by Christopher Saur, at Germantown, Pa. (now a prominent section of the city of Philadelphia), in 1743. Luther's translation was used for copy, and it was printed in large quarto size from type obtained in Germany. Nearly all the sheets of the third edition were destroyed during the battle of Germantown. Copies of the first edition of the Saur Bible are now extremely rare, and are held at a very high value by their possessors.

According to Isaiah Thomas, a publisher in Worcester, Mass., about the time of the Revolutionary War, the first edition of the Bible in English published in America was printed about 1752, with great privacy by Kneeland & Green, in Boston. It was printed for Daniel Henchman, and had the London imprint on the title-page, to avoid detection by the officers of the Crown. It was an unlawful enterprise, as Great Britain did not allow the Bible to be printed either at home or in the colonies, except by royal license.

The first Bible printed in America in the English language was published in a small duodecimo form and brevier type by Robert Aitken, at Philadelphia, in 1782. The paper was made in Pennsylvania, and the printing and binding were done in Philadelphia. These Bibles are now hard to find.

The first folio edition, and also the first royal quarto edition, of the Bible in English published in America came from the press of Isaiah Thomas, Worcester, Mass., in 1791.

A King James Bible, in quarto size, was published by Isaac Collins, Trenton, N. J., in 1791. This Bible was bound in two volumes, and the first edition consisted of three thousand copies.

Hodge & Campbell, New York, published in 1792 a self-interpreting Bible, by Rev. John Brown, in forty numbers folio. The name of George Washington, President of the United States, heads the list of subscribers.

Matthew Carey, Philadelphia, published his first edition of the quarto Bible in 1801. This was known as the "Standing Edition," from the fact that Carey had sufficient type to set up the entire Bible at once.

Samuel Etheridge published a quarto edition of the Bible, with engravings, in Charlestown, Mass., in 1803.

In 1805, Gottlieb Yungman issued at Reading, Pa., a German edition of the Bible, in quarto size, that in typography and general appearance was a counterpart of the Saur Bible.

Kimber, Conrad & Co., Philadelphia, later Kimber & Sharpless, were extensive publishers of Bibles. Their first Bible was printed in 1807, and in 1823 a quarto Bible was published, which they continued to reissue for twenty-one years, when the plates were sold to Jesper Harding. Their first edition of the Bible in German appeared in 1827, and its publication was continued through nearly a quarter of a century.

In 1808, Jane Aitken (a daughter of Robert Aitken) published, in four volumes octavo, a version of the Bible in English, translated from the Greek by Charles Thomson, the secretary of the first Continental Congress.

Ezra Sargent, New York, published in 1811 a quarto edition of the Bible, "with a Commentary and critical notes, designed as a help to the better understanding of the Sacred Writings, by Adam Clarke, LL. D." This was the first edition with Clarke's notes that appeared in the United States.

The first Bible printed in this country from stereotype plates cast in the United States came from the press of D. & G. Bruce, New York, in 1815.

In 1819, Johann Baer published at Lancaster, Pa., a German Bible in folio that was probably the first folio edition in German printed in the United States.

An 8vo edition of the Bible, "with amendments to the language by Noah Webster," was published by Durrie & Peck, New Haven, Conn., in 1833.

Jesper Harding, Philadelphia, afterward succeeded by his son, William W. Harding, published his first edition of the quarto Bible in 1843, and continued to publish edition after edition, with and without illustrations, for more than thirty years.

In 1872, the first edition of the HOLMAN quarto Bible appeared, published by A. J. Holman & Co., Philadelphia, who succeeded to the Bible-publishing business of William W. Harding. The first HOLMAN Bible issued became immediately popular, and the success attained has been increased by the addition of new electrotype and stereotype plates from time to time, until at present the HOLMAN Bibles are printed from fifteen different styles of type, including editions in the German, Danish, Swedish, Norwegian, and Finnish languages.

The oldest version in any language of which there is a record is the Septuagint, written in Greek, at Alexandria, Egypt, B. C. 286-280. The oldest known copy of this version is written on thin vellum, contains the whole Bible, and is dated in the fifth century; now in the British Museum, and is called

The Codex Sinaiticus was found in the Convent on Mount Sinai, and belongs to the sixth century, but is a copy of one of an earlier date. Besides the Old and New Testaments, it has the Gospel and Epistles of Barnabas and the Epistle of Hermas. Fragments of the Gospel are contained in a palimpsest MS. in a library at Wolfen-buttel, Germany, where the ancient Greek letters have been scraped off, and a modern text written

The oldest Hebrew MS. known is dated A. D. 489; is a roll, and was found in the Karaite Synagogue in the Crimea. The specimen given here is from a Pentateuch, written originally on a roll of leather, preserved in Odessa, and was brought from Darbend, in Daghestan. It was corrected in A. D. 580, and was therefore written before that time. The text is from Malachi iv. 6.

As a specimen of the ancient Hebrew letter used about the time that Paul was a pupil of Gamaliel, here is a copy from a gravestone in the Crimea, of the year A. D. 6. This style of letter is like that on the coins of the Maccabees, B. C. 139, and other coins down to A. D. 130.

The oldest printed Hebrew Bible (Old Testament) was issued at Soncino, Italy, A. D. 1487, in folio. The Complutensian Polyglott was published at the expense of Cardinal Ximenes in 1514-1522, in 6 vols. folio, and sold at fifteen dollars. The last specimen on this page is Greek, from the text of John i. 1, 2, and is dated A. D. 995. The initial letter is in blue and red colors, and is very

THE TEMPLE LIBRARY AND SCHOOL AT NIPPUR, BABYLONIA

(Copyright 1903, By A. J. HOLMAN & CO.)

THE early Babylonians, who excelled all other ancient nations of the same period in their lofty religious conceptions, in the depth of their sentiment and in the scientific character of their investigations, did not suffer anything in their schoolrooms that would tend to distract the minds of the pupils and to interfere with their proper occupation. The temple library of ancient Nippur was eminently a place of study and a seat of learning, where

The "books" required for instruction, reference and general reading as a rule were unbaked clay tablets stored on shelves, or sometimes deposited in jars. The shelves were made either of wood, — as ordinarily was the case also in the business houses on the western side of the Chebar, — or of clay, for which rooms Nos. 1-3 on the accompanying plan of the "Northeast Portion of the Temple Library" offer appropriate examples. These clay ledges were built up in crude bricks to a height of nearly twenty inches from the apparent floor level, and on an average were about one and a half feet wide. Two of the rooms (Nos. 1 and 3) yielded tablets and fragments by the thousands, and are among the largest thus far excavated in "Tablet Hill." To preserve the fragile "books" from dampness, the clay shelves were probably covered with matting or with a coating of bitumen. According to the report of the architects, traces of the last-mentioned material seem to have been disclosed on the ledge of the large hall (No. 1).

To judge from the contents of more than twenty-four thousand tablets hurriedly examined, it is almost certain that the vast complex of houses buried under the triangular mound was used by the Babylonians for at least two distinct purposes. Though literary tablets in small numbers occurred almost everywhere in the hill, the large mass of them was found within a comparatively small radius in and around the central rooms of the northeast portion. On the other hand, there was not a single business document unearthed in that general neighborhood, while more than one thousand dated contracts, account lists and letters came from the southwest rooms of the mound. It would therefore seem natural to conclude that in view of the doubtless large traffic carried on by boats on the Chebar, the business and administrative department of the temple was established on the bank of "the great canal," and the educational department — the school and the technical library — in the rooms nearest to the temple. Tablets were doubtless frequently taken out of the one section and placed temporarily in the other, while certain works of reference seem to have been deposited in both.

The character of the northeast wing as a combined library and school was determined immediately after an examination of the contents of the unearthed tablets and fragments. There is a large number of rudely fashioned specimens inscribed in such a naïve and clumsy manner with old-Babylonian characters, that it seems impossible to regard them as anything else but the first awkward attempts at writing by unskilled hands, — so-called school exercises. Those who attended a class evidently had to bring their writing material with them, the attention of all those who assembled for work was concentrated upon but one subject, — the infusing or acquiring of knowledge. In accordance with an ancient Oriental custom even now universally prevailing in the East — in the great Mohammedan university of Cairo as well as in the small village schools of Asia Minor — we should imagine the Babylonian students of the time of Abraham being seated on the floor with crossed legs, respectfully listening to the discourses of the priests, asking questions, practising writing and calculating on clay tablets, or committing to memory the contents of representative cuneiform texts by repeating them in a moderately loud voice.

receiving instruction not only in inscribing and reading cuneiform tablets, but also in shaping them properly, for not a few of the round and rectangular tablets were uninscribed. The contents of these interesting "scraps" of clay from a Babylonian "waste basket" are as unique and manifold as their forms are peculiar. They enable us to study the methods of writing and reading, and the way in which a foreign language (Sumerian) was taught at Nippur in the third pre-Christian millennium.

The very first lesson in writing that the children received is brought vividly before us. I refer to several large tablets comparatively neatly inscribed. They contain the three simple elements of which cuneiform signs are generally composed, in the order here given and repeated again and again over three columns. Or I mention a much smaller table showing nothing but the last given wedge dozens of times inscribed in horizontal lines upon the clay. When the first difficulties had been mastered by the student, he had to put those three elements together and make real cuneiform signs. As we do in our Assyrian and Babylonian classes to-day, the easiest and most simple characters were selected first. The pupil was then told to group them together in different ways, generally without regard to their meaning, simply for the sake of fixing them firmly in mind. There are a good many specimens preserved which illustrate this "second step" in the study of Babylonian writing. We have, e.g., a large fragment with two identical columns, in which every line begins with the sign ba: 1. ba-a, 2. ba-mu, 3. ba-ba-mu, 4. ba-ni, 5. ba-ni-ni, 6. ba-ni-a, 7. ba-ni-mu, etc. Another fragment deals with more difficult characters placed alongside each other in a similar manner: 1. za-an-tur, 2. za-an-tur-tur, 3. za-an-ka, 4. za-an-ka-ka, 5. za-an-ka-a, 6. za-an-ka-mu. A fragment of the easier sort of exercises offers, 1. an-ni-si, 2. an-ni-su, 3. an-ni-mu, etc. A fourth one is of additional value, because it contains no less than four mistakes in a comparatively small space. Let me correct the exercises of this young Babylonian who lived prior to Abraham and transliterate what he has to say: 1. shi-ni, 2. shi-ni-mu, 3. shi-ni-da-a, 4. shi-tur, 5. shi-tur-tur. It would be interesting to know how such apparent carelessness or stupidity was dealt with by the professors in the great Bêl college and university of Calneh.

But it is impossible for me to go through the whole prescribed "college" course, which possibly even at those early times lasted three years, as it did in the days of Daniel (Dan. 1:4, 5). After the student had been well drilled in writing and reading the simple and more complicated cuneiform signs, he began to write words and proper names. At the same time lists were placed before him from which to study all the difficult ideographic values which the Sumerians associated with their numerous characters. These syllabaries and lexicographical lists are of the utmost importance for our own scientific investigations, and will greatly help us in extending and deepening our knowledge of the Sumerian language. I remember having seen hundreds of them among the tablets which I cleaned and examined in Nuffar and Constantinople. Even in their outside appearance, as a rule, they are easily distinguished from tablets dealing with other subjects. They generally are long but very narrow, rounded on the left edge and also at the upper or lower end, or both at the same time. The right side, on the contrary, is always flat, as if cut off a large tablet, which while wet was divided into several pieces.

There are also grammatical exercises, exhibiting how the student was instructed in analyzing Sumerian verbal forms, in joining the personal pronouns to different substantives, in forming entire sentences, in translating from the Sumerian into the Semitic dialect of Babylonia and vice versa. His preparations look pretty much like those of the modern student who excerpts all the words unknown to him from Caesar's "Gallic Wars" or Xenophon's Anabasis for his work in the class room.

Special attention was paid to counting and calculating. Even instruction in drawing, and surveying lessons were offered. There are a few tablets which contain exercises in drawing horizontal and inclined parallel lines, zigzag lines, lines arranged in squares, lozenge forms, lattice-work and other geometrical figures.

The course in art led gradually up to free-hand drawing from nature, and probably included also lessons in clay modelling and in glyptics and sculpture (seal cylinders, bas-reliefs and statues). Several fragments of unbaked tablets exhibited portions of animals and trees more or less skilfully incised in clay. One bird was executed very poorly. A lioness, two harnessed horses and a chariot—the latter two pieces doubtless from the upper strata—showed decided talents on the part of those who drew them. Ground plans of fields, gardens, canals, houses, etc., were found more commonly. As according to my knowledge the horse appears in Babylonia first shortly before the middle of the second millennium, without hesitation we can fix the date of the drawing of those harnessed horses as being about a thousand years later than the school exercises previously treated. That art in general was greatly esteemed and cultivated by the priests of Nippur may be inferred from the considerable number of clay figurines, terra-cotta reliefs and even fragments of sculpture discovered in the ruins of the temple library. Apart from several new mythological representations of the earlier time, I refer briefly to two fine identical reliefs of the later period made from different moulds and exhibiting a hog, the animal sacred to the god Ninib, son of Bêl; or to an exquisitely modelled buffalo walking slowly and heavily, and holding his mouth and nose upward in a manner characteristic of these animals. There is another well executed bas-relief which shows Bêltis adorned with a long robe. In her left hand the goddess has the same symbol which we often see with Bêl, while with her right hand she leads a richly dressed worshipper to her shrine. Lastly I mention a much earlier terra-cotta relief depicting a somewhat poetical pastoral scene. A shepherd playing the lute has attracted the attention of his dog, who is evidently accompanying his master's music by his melodious howlings, and another unknown animal (sheep?) is likewise listening attentively. The whole scene reminds us of certain favorite subjects of the classical artists.

A KEY TO THE CORRECT PRONUNCIATION

OF THE

SCRIPTURE PROPER NAMES

CONTAINED IN

THE 20TH CENTURY EDITION

OF THE

SELF-PRONOUNCING BIBLE

EXPLANATION

It is well known that the Scriptures are filled with many words of obscure derivation and meaning, and that it is difficult to determine their correct pronunciation. This difficulty is now removed, as the new self-pronouncing feature has been specially prepared to overcome it.

In the proper names the syllables are separated by hyphens (-), and the accented syllable is marked with the vertical accent (´). The quantity of the vowel sounds, whether long, intermediate, or short, and their quality, whether broad, obtuse, obscure, or otherwise, as well as the value of the consonants, are shown in the following tables. By paying attention to this explanation, and applying it to the proper names in the text, the reader will easily learn to pronounce all of them correctly.

LONG, INTERMEDIATE, AND SHORT SOUNDS.

16 AND I SAW ANOTHER ANGEL FLY IN THE MIDST OF HEAVEN, HAVING THE EVERLASTING GOSPEL TO PREACH UNTO THEM THAT DWELL ON THE EARTH, AND TO EVERY NATION, AND KINDRED, AND TONGUE, AND PEOPLE, SAYING WITH A LOUD VOICE, FEAR GOD, AND GIVE GLORY TO HIM; FOR THE HOUR OF HIS JUDGMENT IS COME: AND WORSHIP HIM THAT MADE HEAVEN, AND EARTH, AND THE SEA, AND THE FOUNTAINS OF WATERS"—REVELATION XIV. 6. 7.

GENESIS

THE First Book of Moses is called "Genesis," because it gives an account of the "generation" or origin of all things. Nothing is more certain than that Moses wrote it, but at what time is uncertain. It is a record of a period of 2369 years.

It has an interest and an importance to which no other book or document of antiquity can pretend. It is the oldest book in the world which lays any claim to being a trustworthy history. If the religious books of other nations make any pretensions to vie with it in antiquity, in all other respects they are immeasurably inferior. The earlier portions of the work, so far as the eleventh chapter, may be properly termed a history of the world: the latter is a history of the fathers of the Jewish race. But from first to last it is a religious history. It is very important to bear in mind this religious aspect of the history if we would put ourselves in a position rightly to understand it. But if we would judge of the work as a whole, we must not forget the evident aim of the writer. It is only in this way we can understand, for instance, why the history of the Fall is given with so much minuteness of detail, whereas of whole generations of men we have nothing but a bare catalogue.

That a distinct plan and method characterize the work is now generally admitted. Genesis is, after all, but a part of a larger work. The five books of the Pentateuch form a consecutive whole; they are not merely a collection of ancient fragments loosely strung together, but a well-digested and connected narrative.

The Book of Genesis (with the first chapters of Exodus) describes the several steps which led to the establishment of the Theocracy. It is a part of the writer's plan to tell us what the divine preparation was, in order to show, first, the significance of the call of Abraham; and, next, the true nature of the Jewish Theocracy. He begins with the Creation of the World, because the God who created the world and the God who revealed himself to the fathers is the same God. The Book of Genesis has thus a character at once special and universal.

Five principal persons are the pillars, so to speak, on which the whole superstructure rests—Adam, Noah, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

THE BOOK OF EXODUS.

THE title of this book is derived from the Septuagint version, and is significant of the principal transaction which it records, namely, the exodus or departure of the Israelites from Egypt. The book comprises a history of the events which took place during a period of one hundred and forty-five years, from the year of the world 2369 to 2514 inclusive, from the death of Joseph to the erection of the tabernacle. Twenty-five passages are said to be quoted from Exodus by our Saviour and his apostles, in express words, and nineteen allusions to the sense are made in the New Testament. That Moses was the author of this book there can be no doubt, although the period at which it was written cannot with certainty be determined. As, however, it is a history of matters of fact, it was doubtless written after the giving of the law on Mount Sinai and the erecting of the tabernacle; for events cannot be historically related until they have actually taken place, and the author of this book was evidently an eye and ear witness of the events he has narrated.

The Book of Exodus records the cruel persecution of the Israelites in Egypt under Pharaoh-Rameses II.; the birth, exposure and preservation of Moses; his subsequent flight into Midian; his call and mission to Pharaoh-Amenophis II.; the miracles performed by him and his brother Aaron; the ten plagues also miraculously inflicted on the Egyptians; the institution of the passover, and the departure of the children of Israel from Egypt; their passage across the Red Sea, and the destruction of the Egyptian army; the subsequent journeyings of the Israelites in the desert, their idolatry and frequent murmurings against God; the promulgation of the law from Mount Sinai, and the erection of the tabernacle. This is, of course, on the supposition that the sojourn of the Israelites in Egypt was for 215 years, the 430 being computed from the giving of the promise to Abraham.

The scope of the Book of Exodus is to preserve the memorial of the departure of the Israelites from the land of Egypt, and to represent the Church of God afflicted and preserved, together with the providential care of God toward her, and the judgments inflicted on her enemies. It plainly points out the accomplishment of the Divine promises and prophecies delivered to Abraham, that his posterity would be very numerous, and that they would be afflicted in a land not their own, whence they should depart, in the fourth generation, with great substance.

Further, in Israel passing from Egypt through the Red Sea, the Wilderness and Jordan, to the promised land, this book shadows forth the state of the Church in the wilderness of this world until her arrival at the heavenly Canaan—an eternal rest. St. Paul, in 1 Cor. x. 1, etc., as well as in various parts of his Epistle to the Hebrews, has shown that these things prefigured and were applicable to the Christian Church.

THE BOOK OF LEVITICUS.

LEVITICUS, the third book of the Pentateuch, is not so entitled because it treats of the ministry of the Levites, strictly so called (of which we have a further account in the Book of Numbers), but because it principally contains the laws concerning the religion of the Israelites, which chiefly consisted of various sacrifices, the charge of which was committed to Aaron, the Levite (as he is termed in Exodus iv. 14), and to his sons, who alone held the priestly office in the tribe of Levi, which St. Paul therefore calls a "Levitical priesthood." (Heb. vii. 11.) In the Babylonish Talmud it is called the "Law of the Priests," which appellation is retained in the Arabic and Syriac versions.

It is universally admitted that Moses was the author of this book, and it is cited as his production in several books of Scripture. By comparing Exodus xl. 17 with Numbers i. 1, we learn that this book contains the history of one month, namely, from the erection of the tabernacle to the numbering of the people who were fit for war, that is, from the beginning of the second year after Israel's departure from Egypt to the beginning of the second month of the same year, which was in the year of the world 2514, and before Christ 1490.

THE BOOK OF NUMBERS.

THIS book is so called because it contains an account of the numbering of the children of Israel, related in chapters i.-iii. and xxvi. The scope of the Book of Numbers is to show how faithfully Jehovah fulfilled his promises to the patriarchs Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, in the rapid increase of their posterity, and also in his providential care of them during their journeyings in the wilderness, and finally conducting them to the land of Canaan, together with his impartial severity against their murmurings and corruptions, for which many of them perished in the wilderness after their deliverance from Egypt, "so that they could not enter into his rest because of their unbelief." The method pursued in this book is precisely that which would be adopted by the writer of an itinerary; the respective stations are noted, and the principal occurrences that took place at each station are related, omitting such as are of comparatively less importance. This circumstance is an additional internal proof that Moses was the author of the Book of Numbers, which is cited as his work in many parts of Scripture.

The book contains a history of the Israelites from the beginning of the second month of the second year after their departure from Egypt to the beginning of the eleventh month of the fortieth year of their journeyings; that is, a period of thirty-eight years and nine or ten months.

THE BOOK OF DEUTERONOMY.

DEUTERONOMY, which signifies the "Second Law," or "The Law Repeated," is so called because it contains a repetition of the law of God given by Moses to the Israelites. From a comparison of ch. i. 5 with xxiv. 1, it appears to have been written by Moses in the plains of Moab, a short time before his death.

The period of time comprised in this book is five lunar weeks, or, according to some chronologers, about two months, viz.: from the first day of the eleventh month of the fortieth year after the exodus of Israel from Egypt, to the eleventh day of the twelfth month of the same year, A.M. 2553, B.C. 1451. From the account of Moses' death, recorded in the thirty-fourth chapter of this book, and the insertion of some explanatory words in other parts of Deuteronomy, it has been insinuated that Moses could not have been the author; but the following remark will clearly prove this notion to be unfounded. The words of Moses evidently conclude with the thirty-third chapter: the thirty-fourth was added to complete the history; the first eight verses, probably, immediately after his death, by his successor, Joshua; the last four by some later writer, probably Samuel or Ezra, or some prophet that succeeded him.

The scope of the Book of Deuteronomy is to repeat to the Israelites, before Moses left them, the chief laws of God which had been given to them; that those who were not born at the time when they were originally delivered, or were incapable of understanding them, might be instructed in these laws and excited to attend them, and consequently be better prepared for the promised land upon which they were entering. With this view, the sacred historian recapitulates the various mercies which God had bestowed upon them and their forefathers from their departure out of Egypt; the victories which, by divine assistance, they had attained over their enemies; their rebellion, ingratitude, and chastisements. The moral, ceremonial, and judicial laws are repeated, with additions and explanations; and the people are urged to obedience in the most affectionate manner.

The Jews divide this book into ten parasches or chapters: in our Bibles it consists of thirty-four chapters, the contents of which may be arranged as follows: Part I. is simply a repetition of the history related in the preceding books, comprising—1. A relation of the events that took place in the wilderness, from their leaving Mount Horeb until their arrival at Kadesh (ch. i.). 2. Their journey from Kadesh till they came to the land of the Amorites, and the defeat of Sihon their king, and of Og, king of Bashan. 3. An exhortation to obey the divine law and to avoid idolatry, founded on their past experience of the goodness of God (iv.) Part II. is a repetition of the moral, ceremonial, and judicial law. Part III. contains the confirmation of the law; for which purpose the law was to be written on stones, and set up on Mount Ebal. Part IV. contains the personal history of Moses until his death, and his appointment of Joshua to be his successor.

THE BOOK OF JOSHUA.

THE Book of Joshua, which in all copies of the Old Testament immediately follows the Pentateuch, is so called because it contains a narration of the achievements of Joshua the son of Nun, who had been the minister of Moses, and succeeded him in the command of the children of Israel.

From the absence of Chaldee words, and others of a later date, some are of opinion not only that the book is of great antiquity, but also that it was composed by Joshua himself. This opinion was held by several of the Fathers and Talmudical writers, as well as by many modern eminent biblical scholars.

The objections to this idea are founded chiefly on the clause, "unto this day," which occurs several times, (ch. iv. 9; viii. 28.) But this, at least in the case of Rahab, is no valid reason for rejecting the idea of his authorship; for assuming, what is most probable, that this book was composed towards the close of Joshua's long career, or compiled from written documents left by him, Rahab might have been still alive. A more simple and satisfactory way of accounting for the frequent insertion of the clause, "unto this day," is the opinion, that it was a comment introduced by Ezra when revising the sacred canon; and this difficulty being removed, the direct proofs of the book having been produced by a witness of the transactions related in it; the strong and vivid descriptions of the passing scenes, and the use of the words "we" and "us," (ch. v. 1-6,) viewed in connection with the fact, that, after his farewell address to the people, Joshua "wrote these words in the book of the law of God"—all afford strong presumptive proofs that the entire book was the work of that eminent individual. Its inspiration and canonical authority are fully established by the repeated testimonies of other Scripture writers. As a narrative of God's faithfulness in giving the Israelites possession of the promised land, this history is the most valuable, and bears the same character as a sequel to the Pentateuch, that the Acts of the Apostles do to the Gospels.

The Book of Joshua comprises the history of about seventeen years, or, according to some chronologers, of twenty-seven or thirty years. "It is one of the most important documents in the old covenant, and it should never be separated from the Pentateuch, of which it is at once both the continuation and the completion." The Pentateuch contains a history of the acts of the great Jewish legislator, and the laws upon which the Jewish church was to be established; the Book of Joshua relates the history of Israel under the command and government of Joshua, the conquest of Canaan, and its subsequent division among the Israelites.

The scope and design of the inspired writer of this book were evidently to demonstrate the faithfulness of God, in the perfect accomplishment of all his promises to the patriarchs Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and also to Moses, that the children of Israel should obtain possession of the land of Canaan.

THE BOOK OF JUDGES

Is the title given to this book, from its containing the history of those non-regal rulers who governed the Hebrews from the time of Joshua to that of Eli, and whose functions in time of peace consisted chiefly in the administration of justice, although they occasionally led the people in their wars against their public enemies. The date and authorship of this book are not precisely known. It is certain, however, that it preceded the Second Book of Samuel, (cf. ch. ix. 35, with 2 Samuel xi. 21,) as well as the conquest of Jerusalem by David, (cf. ch. i. 21, with 2 Samuel v. 6.) Its author was in all probability Samuel, the last of the judges (see ch. xix. 1; xxi. 25,) and the date of the first part of it is fixed in the reign of Saul, while the five chapters at the close might not be written till after David's establishment as king in Israel, (see ch. xviii. 31.) It is a fragmentary history, being a collection of important facts and signal deliverances at different times and in various parts of the land, during the intermediate period of three hundred years between Joshua and the establishment of monarchy. The inspired character of this book is confirmed by allusions to it in many passages of Scripture, (cf. ch. iv. 2; vi. 14; with 1 Samuel xii. 9-12; ch. ix. 53, with 2 Samuel xi. 21; ch. vii. 25, with Psalms lxxxiii. 11; cf. ch. v. 4, 5, with Psalms vii. 5; ch. xiii. 5; xvi. 17, with Matt. ii. 13-23; Acts xiii. 20; Heb. xi. 32.)

Among the many internal proofs of the genuineness and fidelity of the history contained in this book, we would refer particularly to the account of Jephthah, who vows inconsiderately that if he should return conqueror of the Ammonites he would offer up whatever should first come forth out of the door of his house to meet him; in consequence of which, his only daughter is immolated by a cruel father, acting contrary to the Mosaic law, which forbids human victims.

The first part embraces the history of the Elders, who ruled the Israelites after the death of Joshua. The second part contains the history of the Judges from Othniel to Eli; and the third, which narrates several memorable actions performed not long after the death of Joshua, is thrown to the end of the book, that it might not interrupt the thread of the narrative.

In this, as in other books of the Bible, the reader should bear in mind the principle that the Scriptures do not sanction many acts therein recorded

THE Book of Ruth is generally considered as an appendix to that of Judges, and as an introduction to that of Samuel; it is therefore, with great propriety, placed between the books of Judges and Samuel. In the ancient Jewish canon of the Old Testament, Judges and Ruth formed one book, because the transactions which it contained happened in the time of the Judges. The book derives its name from Ruth the Moabitess, whose history it relates, and whom the Chaldee paraphrast supposes to have been the daughter of Eglon, king of Moab. This conjecture, however, is wholly unsupported by Scripture; nor is it at all likely that a king's daughter would abandon her native country to seek bread in another land, and marry a stranger.

Like the Book of Judges, Ruth has been ascribed to Hezekiah and also to Ezra; but the most probable and, indeed, generally received opinion is that of the Jews, who state it to have been written by the prophet Samuel. From the genealogy recorded in ch. iv. 17-22, it is evident that this history could not have been reduced into its present form before the time of Samuel.

The scope of this book is partly to show the genealogy of King David through the line of Ruth, a heathen proselyte to the Jewish religion, and the wife of Boaz, whose adoption into the line of Christ has generally been considered as a pre-intimation of the admission of the Gentiles into the Christian Church. It had been foretold to the Jews that the Messiah should be of the tribe of Judah, and it was afterward further revealed that he should be of the family of David; and therefore it was necessary, for the full understanding of these prophecies, that the history of the family in that tribe should be written before these prophecies were revealed, in order to prevent the least suspicion of fraud or design. And thus this book, these prophecies and their accomplishment serve to illustrate each other. A further design of this book is to evidence the care of Divine Providence over those who sincerely fear God, in raising the pious Ruth from a state of the deepest adversity to one of the highest prosperity.

THE FIRST BOOK OF SAMUEL.

IN the Jewish canon of Scripture the two books of Samuel form but one, termed in Hebrew the Book of Samuel, probably because the first book was written by that prophet, whose history and transactions it relates. The books of Samuel appear to have derived their appellation from 1st Chron. xxix. 29, where the transactions of David's reign are said to be "written in the book of Samuel the Seer." In the Septuagint version they are called the First and Second Books of Kings or of the Kingdoms. In the Vulgate they are designated as the First and Second Books of Kings, and by Jerome they are termed the Books of the Kingdoms, as being two of the four books in which the history of the kings of Judah and Israel is related.

Jahn is of opinion that the books of Samuel and the two books of Kings were written by one and the same person, and published about the forty-fourth year of the Babylonish captivity; and he has endeavored to support his conjecture with much ingenuity, though unsuccessfully, by the uniformity of plan and style which he thinks is discernible in these books. The more prevalent, as well as more probable, opinion is that of the Talmudists, which was adopted by the most learned fathers of the Christian Church (who unquestionably had better means of ascertaining this point than we have), namely, that the first twenty-four chapters of the First Book of Samuel were written by the prophet whose name they bear, and that the remainder of that book, together with the whole of the Second Book, was committed to writing by the prophets Gad and Nathan, agreeably to the practice of the prophets who wrote memoirs of the transactions of their respective times.

The First Book of Samuel contains the history of the Jewish Church and polity, from the birth of Samuel, during the judicature of Eli, to the death of Saul, the first king of Israel—a period of nearly eighty years—namely, from the year of the world 2869 to 2949.

THE SECOND BOOK OF SAMUEL.

THE Second Book of Samuel contains the history of David, the second king of Israel, during a period of nearly forty years, namely, from the year of the world 2948 to 2988; and, by recording the translation of the kingdom from the tribe of Benjamin to that of Judah, it relates the partial accomplishment of the prediction delivered in Gen. xlix. 10. The victories of David, his wise administration of civil government, his efforts to promote true religion, his grievous sins and deep repentance, together with the troubles and judgments inflicted upon him and his people by God, are all fully described. This book consists of three principal divisions, relating the troubles and triumphs of David, and his transactions subsequent to his recovery of the throne, whence he was driven for a short time by the rebellion of his son Absalom.

This second book bears an exact relation to the preceding, and is likewise connected with that which succeeds. We see throughout the effects of that enmity against other nations which had been implanted in the minds of the Israelites by the Mosaic law, and which gradually tended to the extirpation of idolatry. "This book," says Bishop Gray, "as well as the first, contains intrinsic proofs of its verity. By describing without disguise the misconduct of those characters who were highly revered among the people, the sacred writer demonstrates his impartial sincerity, and, by appealing to monuments that attested the veracity of his relations when he wrote, he furnished every possible evidence of his faithful adherence to truth. The books of Samuel connect the chain of sacred history by detailing the circumstances of an interesting period. They describe the reformation and improvements of the Jewish Church established by David; and as they delineate minutely the life of that monarch they point out his typical relation to Christ." In the falls of David we behold the strength and prevalence of human corruption, and in his repentance and recovery the extent and efficacy of Divine grace. The two books of Samuel are of very considerable importance for illustrating the Book of Psalms, to which they may be considered as a key. No mention of the author's name is made in the book of Kings, nor in any other of the sacred writings, nor in the Apocrypha.

THE FIRST BOOK OF KINGS.

IN the ancient copies of the Hebrew Bible, the Books of Kings constitute one book. Various titles have been given them; in the Septuagint and the Vulgate they are called the Third and Fourth Books of Kings. Their inspired character was acknowledged by the Jewish Church, which ranked them in the sacred canon; and, besides, is attested by our Lord, who frequently quotes from them, (cf. 1 Kings xvii. 9; 2 Kings v. 14, with Luke iv. 24-27; 1 Kings x. 1, with Matt. xii. 42.)

The two books of Kings are closely connected with those of Samuel. The origin and gradual increase of the united kingdom of Israel under Saul and his successor David having been described in the latter, the books of Kings relate its height of glory under Solomon, its division into two kingdoms under his son and successor Rehoboam, the causes of that division, and the consequent decline of the two kingdoms of Israel and Judah until their final subversion, the ten tribes being carried captive into Assyria by Shalmaneser, and Judah and Benjamin to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar.

Concerning the author or authors of these books, the sentiments of learned men are extremely divided. Some have been of opinion that David, Solomon and Hezekiah wrote the history of their own reigns; others that Nathan, Gad, Isaiah, Jeremiah, and other prophets who flourished in the kingdoms of Israel and Judah, undertook the office of historiographers. We know that several of the prophets wrote the lives of those kings who reigned in their times, for the names and writings of these prophets are mentioned in several places in the books of Kings and Chronicles.

The First Book of Kings embraces a period of one hundred and twenty-six years, from the anointing of Solomon and his admission as a partner to the throne with David, A. M. 2989, to the death of Jehoshaphat, A. M. 3115. It relates the latter part of David's life, his death, and the accession of Solomon, whose reign comprehended the most prosperous and glorious period of the Israelitish history. It prefigured the peaceful reign of the Messiah; Solomon's erection and consecration of the temple at Jerusalem (the beauty and perfection of which was a type of the beauty and perfection of the Church of God); his awful defection from the true religion; the sudden decay of the Jewish nation after his death, when it was divided into two kingdoms, under Rehoboam, who reigned over the kingdom of Judah, comprising the tribes of Judah and Benjamin, and under Jeroboam, who was sovereign of the other ten tribes that revolted from the house of David, and which in the sacred writings are designated as the kingdom of Israel.

THE SECOND BOOK OF KINGS.

THE Second Book of Kings contains the contemporary history of the two kingdoms of Israel and Judah, from the death of Jehoshaphat, A. M. 3115, to the destruction of the city and temple of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar, A. M. 3416, a period of three hundred years.

The last three verses of the preceding book have been improperly separated from this. The history of the two kingdoms is interwoven in this book, and presents a long succession of wicked sovereigns in the kingdom of Israel from Ahaziah to Hoshea, in whose reign Samaria was captured by Shalmaneser, king of Assyria, and the ten tribes were taken captive into that country.

In the kingdom of Judah we find some few pious princes among many who were corrupt. Sixteen sovereigns filled the Jewish throne from Jehoram to Zedekiah, in whose reign the kingdom of Judah was totally subverted, and the people carried captive into Babylon. During this period numerous prophets flourished—Jonah, Joel, Amos, Hosea, Isaiah, Micah, Nahum, Jeremiah, Habakkuk, Daniel, Ezekiel, etc.

We have here the acts of Elijah and Elisha portrayed. Chap. ii. v. 11, Elijah is carried up to heaven in a fiery chariot. Like Enoch, he was translated, that he should not see death; Elisha pathetically laments the loss of the great prophet, but attends him with an encomium. He was possessed of Elijah's mantle, the badge of his office, which, we may suppose, he put on and wore for his master's sake.

The Second Book of Kings comprises twenty-five chapters, which may be divided into two parts, containing—1. The history of the two monarchies until the end of the kingdom of Israel; and, 2. The history of Judah alone until its subversion. The two books of Kings, particularly the second, abound with impressive and lively narrations; and the strict impartiality with which the author of each book has related events and circumstances dishonorable to his nation affords the most convincing evidence of his fidelity and integrity. They delineate the long-suffering of God toward his people, and his severe chastisements for their iniquitous abuse of his mercy and goodness; at the same time, they mark most clearly the veracity of the Almighty, both in his promises and in his threatenings, and show the utter vanity of trusting in an arm of flesh, and the weakness and instability of human kingdoms from which justice and piety are banished.

Considering the conciseness of the narrative and the simplicity of the style, the amount of information which this book conveys of the characters, conduct, and manners of kings and people during so long a period is truly wonderful.

THE BOOKS OF CHRONICLES.

THE ancient Jews comprised the two Books of Chronicles in one book; but in the Hebrew books now printed for their use they have adopted the same division which is found in our Bibles, apparently (Calmet thinks) for the purpose of conforming to our mode of reference in concordances, the use of which they borrowed from the Romish Church.

The Jews entitle these books "The Words of Days," or "Annals," probably from the circumstance of their being compiled out of diaries or annals in which were recorded the various events related in these books. The appellation of Chronicles was given to these books by Jerome, because they contained an abstract, in order of time, of the whole of the sacred history to the time when they were written.

These books were evidently compiled from others, which were written at different times, some before and others after the Babylonish captivity. It is certain that the Books of Chronicles are not the original records or memorials of the transactions of the sovereigns of Israel and Judah, which are so often referred to in the Books of Kings. Those ancient registers were much more copious than the Books of Chronicles, which contain ample extracts from original documents, to which they very frequently refer.

Concerning the author of the Books of Chronicles we have no distinct information. Some have conjectured that he was the same who wrote the Books of Kings; but the great difference, Calmet remarks, in the dates; narratives, genealogies, and proper names, strongly militates against this hypothesis. The Hebrews commonly assign the Chronicles to Ezra, who, they say, composed them after the return from the captivity. There are various marks, however, about these books which prove conclusively that Ezra did not compose them.

The authenticity of the Chronicles is abundantly supported by the general mass of external evidence, by which, also, their divine authority is fully established, as well as by the indirect attestations of the Lord and his apostles.

The principal scope of these books is to exhibit with accuracy the genealogies, the rank, the functions and the order of the priests and Levites, that after their captivity they might more easily assume their proper ranks and re-enter on their ministry. The books are also an abridgment of all the sacred history, but more especially from the origin of the Jewish nation to their return from the first captivity. The First Book traces the rise and propagation of the people of Israel from Adam, and afterwards gives a circumstantial account of the reign and transactions of David. In the Second Book the narrative is continued, and relates the progress and dissolution of the kingdom of Judah to the return of the Jews from the Babylonish captivity.

INDEPENDENTLY of the important moral and religious instruction to be derived from the two Books of Chronicles, as illustrating the Divine dispensation toward a highly-favored but ungrateful people, the Second Book is extremely valuable in a critical point of view, not only as it contains some historical particulars which are not mentioned in any other part of the Old Testament, but also because it affords us many genuine readings which, by the inaccuracies of transcribers, are now lost in the older books of the Bible.

The discrepancies between the Books of Kings and Chronicles, though very numerous, are not of any great moment, and admit of an easy solution, being partly caused by various lections and partly arising from the nature of the books, which, being supplementary to those of Samuel and Kings, omit what is there related more at large and supply what is there wanting. It should further be recollected that after the captivity, the Hebrew language was slightly varied from what it had formerly been; that different places had received new names or undergone sundry vicissitudes; that certain things were now better known to the returned Jews under other appellations than under those by which they had formerly been distinguished; and that, from the materials to which the author had access, he has selected those passages which appeared to him best adapted to his purpose and most suitable to the time in which he wrote.

As the Books of Samuel, Kings and Chronicles relate the same histories, they should be constantly read together, not only for the purpose of obtaining a more comprehensive view of Jewish history, but also in order to illustrate or amend from one book what is obscure in either of the others.

Chapter I. First Book of Chronicles has Adam for its first word, and Abraham for its last. Between the creation of the former, and birth of the latter, were 2,000 years; almost the one half of which time Adam himself lived. Adam was the common father of our flesh, Abraham the common father of the faithful. By the breach which the former made of the covenant of innocency, we were all made miserable; by the covenant of grace made with the latter, we are all, or may be made happy. We all are, by nature the seed of Adam, branches of that wild olive. Let us see to it, that, by faith we become the seed of Abraham (Rom. iv. 11, 12,) that we be planted with the good olive, and partake of its root and fatness.

The Second Book of Chronicles, portrays minutely, King Solomon's preparations for building the second temple at Jerusalem, and the only portion of King Solomon's life rehearsed at length, are those, in connection with the erection and dedication of that magnificent sanctuary, which formed the most glorious epoch of his reign.

THE BOOK OF EZRA.

THE Books of Ezra and Nehemiah were anciently reckoned by the Jews as one volume, and were divided by them into the First and Second Books of Ezra. The same division is recognized by the Greek and Latin Churches, but the third book, assigned to Ezra and received as canonical by the Greek Church, is the same in substance as the book which properly bears his name, but interpolated. The fourth book, which has been attributed to him, is a manifest forgery, in which the marks of falsehood are plainly discernible. It was never unanimously received as canonical either by the Greek or Latin Church, although some of the fathers have cited it, and the Latin Church has borrowed some words out of it. It is now extant in Greek, but was never extant in Hebrew. It is evident that the author of the Book of Ezra was personally present at the transactions recorded in it, the narrative being in the first person. It also bears upon the face of it every character of natural simplicity, and contains more particulars of time, persons and places than could have been introduced by any other individual.

That the last chapters of this book were written by Ezra himself there can be no doubt, as he particularly describes himself in the beginning of the seventh chapter, and likewise frequently introduces himself in the subsequent chapters.

The Jews, indeed, ascribe the whole of this book to Ezra, and their opinion is adopted by most Christian commentators. But as the writer of the first six chapters appears, from ch. v. 4, to have been at Jerusalem in the reign of Darius Hystaspes, and it is evident, from the beginning of the seventh chapter, that Ezra did not go thither until the reign of Artaxerxes Longimanus (a distance of sixty years), some persons have ascribed the first six chapters to a more ancient author. This, however, does not necessarily follow, and we think there can be no doubt that these chapters were written by Ezra as well as the last four.

THE BOOK OF NEHEMIAH.

THE book of Nehemiah, we have already noticed, is in some versions termed the Second Book of Ezra or Esdras, from an opinion which anciently obtained, and was adopted by Athanasius, Epiphanius, Chrysostom and other eminent fathers of the Church, that Ezra was the author of this book. In the modern Hebrew Bibles it has the name of Nehemiah prefixed to it, which is also retained in our English Bibles. The author of this book was not the Nehemiah who returned to Jerusalem from Babylon with Zerubbabel. That Nehemiah, whose name this book bears, and who was cup-bearer to Artaxerxes Longimanus, was the author of it, there cannot be any reasonable doubt, the whole of it being written in his name, and, what is very unusual when compared with the preceding sacred historians, being written in the first person. The insertion of the greater part of the register in chap. xii. 1-26 (which is supposed to militate against this generally-received opinion) may be accounted for by supposing it either to have been added by some subsequent author, or perhaps by the authority of the great synagogue, for it seems to be unconnected with the narrative of Nehemiah, and, if genuine, must ascribe to him a degree of longevity which appears scarcely credible. According to some writers, Nehemiah was of the tribe of Levi, while others are of opinion that he was of the royal house of Judah.

This book may be divided into four parts, namely: I. The departure of Nehemiah from Shushan, with a royal commission to build the walls of Jerusalem, and his first arrival there (ch. i., ii. 1-11). II. An account of the building of the walls, notwithstanding the obstacles interposed by Sanballat (ch. ii. 12-20; iii.-vii. 4). III. The first reformation accomplished by Nehemiah (ch. vii. 5; xii. 47). IV. The second reformation accomplished by Nehemiah on his second return to Jerusalem, and his correction of the abuses which had crept in during his absence (ch. xiii.). The administration of this pious and truly patriotic governor lasted about thirty-six years, to the year of the world 3574.

THE BOOK OF ESTHER.

THIS book, which derives its name from the person whose history it chiefly relates, is by the Jews termed Megillah Esther, or the volume of Esther. The history it contains comes in between the sixth and seventh chapters of Ezra. Its authenticity was questioned by some of the fathers, in consequence of the name of God being omitted throughout; but it has always been received as canonical by the Jews, who hold this book in the highest estimation, placing it on the same level with the law of Moses. They believe that, whatever destruction may attend the other sacred writings, the Pentateuch and the Book of Esther will always be preserved by a special providence. Concerning the author of this book, the opinions of biblical critics are so greatly divided that it is difficult to determine by whom it was written. Augustine and some of the fathers of the Christian Church ascribe it to Ezra. By other writers it is ascribed to the joint labors of the Great Synagogue, who, from the time of Ezra to Simon the Just, superintended the edition and canon of Scripture. The transactions recorded in this book relate to the time Artaxerxes Longimanus, the same who reigned during the time of Ezra and Nehemiah. They commence about the year of the world 3544, and continue through a period not exceeding eighteen or twenty years. The Book of Esther relates the elevation of a Jewish captive to the throne of Persia, and the providential deliverance of herself and people from the machinations of the cruel Haman and his associates, whose intended mischief recoiled upon themselves, thus affording a practical comment on the declaration of the royal sage: "Though hand join in hand, the wicked shall not go unpunished; but the seed of the righteous shall be delivered." (Prov. xi. 21.)

The scope of Esther is clearly to describe the historical occasion and origin of the Purim festival, and the writer probably wrote in Persia. At the Feast of Purim this book is read through in the synagogues.

THE BOOK OF JOB.

THIS book has derived its title from the venerable patriarch Job whose prosperity, afflictions and restoration from the deepest adversity are here recorded, together with his exemplary and unequalled patience under all his calamities.

The Book of Job undoubtedly contains the history of a real character, the point to be considered is the age in which he lived, a question concerning which there is as great a diversity of opinion as upon any other subject connected with this venerable monument of sacred antiquity. Thus, some think that he lived in the days of Moses, from a supposed resemblance between the style of Moses and that of Job; others, in the time of the Judges, from an expression in Job xxvii. 12, because at that time all was vanity, and every man did that which was good in his own eyes. Grotius thinks the events of the history are such as cannot be placed later than the sojourning of the Israelites in the wilderness. Bishop Warburton, in like manner, admits them to bear the marks of high antiquity.

The subject of this book is the history of the patriarch Job, who at the period in question was an emir, or Arab prince, of distinguished wealth, eminence and authority, resident in the country of Uz, or Idumæa. The principal object offered to our contemplation in this production is the example of a good man, eminent for his piety and of approved integrity, suddenly precipitated from the very summit of prosperity into the lowest depths of ruin, who, having been first bereaved of his wealth, his possessions and his children, is afterward afflicted with the most excruciating anguish of a loathsome disease, which entirely covers his body. He sustains all with the mildest submission and the most complete resignation to the will of Providence. Independently of the important instruction and benefit which may be derived from a devout perusal of the Book of Job, this divine poem is of no small value, as transmitting to us a faithful delineation of the patriarchal doctrines of religion.

THE BOOK OF PSALMS.

IN the Hebrew this book is entitled Sapher Tehillim, which signifies the "Book of Hymns or Praises," because the greater part of them treat of the praises of God, whilst the remainder consist either of the complaints of an afflicted soul, or of penitential effusions, or of the prayers of a heart overwhelmed with grief. In the Roman edition of the Septuagint version, printed in 1587, which professes to follow the Vatican manuscript, the book is simply denominated the "Psalms;" and in the Alexandrian manuscript, preserved in the British Museum, it is entitled the "Psalter with Odes or Hymns." The Syriac version, in Bishop Walton's polyglot, styles it the "Book of Psalms of David the King and Prophet," and the Arabic version commences with the "First Book of Psalms of David the Prophet, King of the Sons of Israel."

The right of the book of Psalms to a place in the sacred canon has never been disputed; they are frequently alluded to in the Old Testament, and are often cited by our Lord and his apostles as the work of the Holy Spirit. They are generally termed the Psalms of David, that Hebrew monarch being their chief author. Many of the ancient Fathers were of opinion that he was their sole author, while others equally eminent held contrary views. An attentive examination of the Psalms will at once prove them to be the compositions of various authors, in various ages, some much more ancient than the time of David, some of a much later age, and others evidently composed during the Babylonish captivity. At what time and by whom the Psalms were collected into one volume we have no certain information. That they were collected together at different times and by different persons is very evident from an examination of their contents. "The hearts of the pious in all ages have felt the value of the Psalms as helps to devotion, and many have labored for expressions in which to set forth their praise." All the Fathers of the Church are unanimously eloquent in their commendation of the Psalms. Athanasius styles them an epitome of the whole Scriptures; Basil, a compendium of all theology; Luther, a little Bible and the summary of the Old Testament; Melancthon, the most elegant writing in the world. How highly the Psalter was valued subsequently to the Reformation we may estimate by the numerous editions executed in the infancy of printing, and by the number of commentators who have undertaken its illustration.

THE BOOK OF PROVERBS.

THE Book of Proverbs has always been ascribed to Solomon, whose name it bears, although, from the frequent repetition of the same sentences, as well as some variations in style which have been discovered, doubts have been entertained whether he really was the author of every maxim it comprises. Dr. Mason Good says: "The latter part of it, from the beginning of the twenty-fifth chapter, evidently forming an appendix, was collected after his death, and added to what appears to have been more immediately arranged by himself." The proverbs in the thirtieth chapter are expressly called "The words of Agur the son of Jakeh," and the thirty-first chapter is entitled "The words of King Lemuel." It seems certain that the collection called the Proverbs of Solomon was arranged in the order we now have it by different hands; but it is not therefore to be concluded that they are not the productions of Solomon, who, we are informed, spoke no less than three thousand proverbs. (1 Kings iv. 32.) As it is nowhere said that Solomon himself made a collection of proverbs and sentences, the general opinion is that several persons made a collection of them, perhaps as they were uttered by him—Hezekiah, among others, as mentioned in the twenty-fifth chapter. Agur, Isaiah and Ezra might have done the same. The Jewish writers affirm that Solomon wrote the Canticles, or song bearing his name, in his youth, the Proverbs in his riper years, and Ecclesiastes in his old age. The scope of this book is "to instruct men in the deepest mysteries of true wisdom and understanding, the height and perfection of which is the true knowledge of the Divine will and the sincere fear of the Lord." To this end the book is filled with the choicest aphorisms, infinitely surpassing all the ethical sayings of the ancient sages, and comprising in themselves distinct doctrines, the duties of piety toward God, of equity and benevolence toward man, and of sobriety and temperance in all things; together with precepts for the right education of children, and for the relative situations of subjects, magistrates and sovereigns.

A proverb is a pithy sentence, concisely expressing some well-established truth, susceptible of various illustrations and applications. The word is of Latin derivation, literally meaning for a word, speech, or discourse, i. e., one expression for many. The Hebrew word for proverb (mashal) means a comparison. Many suppose it was used because the form or matter of the proverb, or both, involved the idea of comparison. Most of the proverbs are in couplets or triplets, or some modification of them, the numbers of which correspond, in structure and length, as if arranged to be compared one with another. They illustrate the varieties of parallelism, a distinguishing feature of Hebrew poetry.

THE BOOK OF ECCLESIASTES.

THE title of this book in our Bibles is derived from the Septuagint version, Ecclesiastes signifying a preacher, or one who harangues a public congregation. In Hebrew it is termed "The Preacher," by whom may be intended either the person assembling the people or he who addresses them when convened. Although this book does not bear the name of Solomon, it is evident from several passages that he was the author of it.

The beautiful descriptions which this book contains of the phenomena in the natural world and their causes, of the circulation of the blood (as the late Bishop Horsely thought), and of the economy of the human frame, all show it to be the work of a philosopher. It is generally supposed to have been written by Solomon in his old age, after he repented of his sinful practices, and when, after having seen and observed much, as well as having enjoyed all that he could wish, he was fully convinced of the vanity of everything except holiness toward God.

The tendency of the book is excellent when rightly understood; and Solomon speaks in it with great clearness of the revealed truths of a future life and of a future judgment.

The design of this book is to contrast the vanity of all mere human pursuits, when made the chief end, as contrasted with the real blessedness of true wisdom, i. e., religion. The immortality of the soul is dwelt on incidentally as subsidiary to the main scope. Moses' law took this truth for granted, but drew its sanctions of rewards and punishments, in accordance with the theocracy, which was under a special providence of God as the temporal King of Israel, from the present life, rather than the future. But after that Israel chose an earthly King, God withdrew, in part, his extraordinary providence, so that under Solomon temporal rewards did not invariably follow virtue, and punishment vice.

We may therefore consider it as an inquiry into that most important and disputed question, What is the sovereign good of man, that which is ultimately good, and which, in all its bearings and relations, is conducive to the best interests of man? This is the object of the preacher's inquiry, and, after discussing various erroneous opinions, he finally determines that it consists in true wisdom.

The scope of the whole argument, therefore, is the praise and recommendation of wisdom as the supreme good to creatures responsible for their actions—that wisdom which is from above, and which is holy, spiritual and undefiled, and which, in the writings of Solomon, is but another word for true religion.

THE SONG OF SOLOMON.

FEW poems have excited more attention, or have found more translators and commentators, than the Song of Songs; but the learned are not yet agreed respecting its arrangement and design. The majority consider it as an inspired book, and certainly on the best evidence, while others affirm it to be merely a humane composition. In addition to other Divine compositions of Solomon, we are informed (1 Kings iv. 32) that his songs were a thousand and five, of which the present book is supposed to be one. In the first verse it is called, by way of eminence and distinction, according to the Hebrew idiom, Shir Hashirim, that is, a "Song of Songs," or "The Most Beautiful Song."

By the unanimous voice of antiquity, the author of this ancient poem is asserted to have been Solomon, and this tradition is corroborated by many internal marks of authenticity.

If the canon of the Hebrew Scriptures was settled by Ezra (which we have seen was most probably the case) there can be no doubt that the Song of Solomon is a sacred book. To use the strong language of Bishop Warburton, "Ezra wrote, and we believe, acted, by the inspiration of the Most High, amid the last blaze, indeed, yet in the full lustre of expiring prophecy. And such a man would not have placed any book that was not sacred in the same volume with the law and the prophets." In addition to this evidence, various other considerations authorize us to infer that the Song of Solomon was from the most early period deemed a sacred book, and ranked with the Hagiographa or holy writings of the Jews, and hence was received among the canonical books of the Old Testament.

Origen and Jerome tell us that the Jews forbade it to be read by any until he was thirty years of age. It certainly needs a degree of spiritual maturity to enter aright into the holy mystery of love which it allegorically sets forth. To such as have attained this maturity, of whatever age they be, the Song of Songs is one of the most edifying of the sacred writings. Rosenmuller justly says, the sudden transitions of the bride from the court to the grove, are inexplicable, on the supposition that it describes merely human love.

THE BOOK OF ISAIAH.

CONCERNING the family and descent of the prophet Isaiah nothing certain has been recorded, except what he himself tells us (i. 1), namely, that he was the son of Amos, and discharged the prophetic office in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, who successively flourished between A. M. 3194 and 3305.

The name of Isaiah, as has been remarked by several commentators, is in some measure descriptive of his high character, since it signifies the salvation of Jehovah, and was given with singular propriety to him who foretold the advent of the Messiah. Isaiah was contemporary with the prophets Amos, Hosea, Joel and Micah.

He is uniformly spoken of in the Scriptures as a prophet of the highest dignity. Bishop Lowth calls him the prince of all the prophets, and pronounces the whole of his book to be poetical, with the exception of a few detached passages. Until the latter part of the eighteenth century Isaiah was universally regarded both by Jews and Christians, as the sole author of the book which bears his name.

Isaiah has, with singular propriety, been denominated the "evangelical prophet," on account of the number and variety of his prophecies concerning the advent and character, the ministry and preaching, the sufferings and death and the extensive permanent kingdom of the Messiah.

No one, indeed, can be at a loss in applying them to the mission and character of Jesus Christ and to the events which are cited in his history by the writers of the New Testament. Bishop Lowth says: "This prophet abounds in such transcendent excellences that he may be said to afford the most perfect model of prophetic poetry. He is at once elegant and sublime, forcible and ornamental. He unites energy with copiousness and dignity with variety. In his sentiments there is uncommon elevation and majesty; in his imagery, the utmost propriety, elegance, dignity and diversity; in his language, uncommon beauty and energy."

The expectation of Messiah is so strong in Isaiah, that Jerome, ad Paulinum, calls his book, not a prophecy, but the gospel: "He is not so much a prophet as an evangelist." Messiah was already shadowed forth in Gen. xlix. 10, as the Shiloh or tranquilizer: also Psalms ii., xlv., lxxii., cx. Isaiah brings it out more definitely; and, whereas they dwelt on His kingly office, Isaiah develops most His priestly and prophetic office. Psalms cx., also, have set forth His priesthood; but His kingly, rather than, as Isaiah, His suffering priesthood.

THE BOOK OF JEREMIAH.

THE prophet Jeremiah was of the sacerdotal race, being (as he himself records) one of the priests that dwelt in Anathoth (ch. i. 1), in the land of Benjamin, a city appropriated out of that tribe to the use of the priests, the sons of Aaron (Josh. xxi. 18), and situate, as we learn from Jerome, about three Roman miles north of Jerusalem. Jeremiah appears to have been very young when called to the exercise of the prophetic office, from which he modestly endeavored to excuse himself by pleading his youth and incapacity; but being overruled by the Divine authority, he set himself to discharge the duties of his function with unremitting diligence and fidelity during a course of at least forty-two years, reckoned from the thirteenth year of Josiah's reign. The idolatrous apostasy and other criminal enormities of the people of Judah, and the severe judgments which God was preparing to inflict upon them, though not without a distant prospect of restoration and deliverance, form the principal subjects of the prophecies of Jeremiah.

The style of Jeremiah, though not deficient in elegance or sublimity, is considered by Dr. Lowth as being inferior in both respects to that of Isaiah. Although the sentiments of Jeremiah are not always the most elevated, nor his periods uniformly neat and compact, yet his style is beautiful and tender, especially when he has occasion to excite the softer passions of grief and pity.

THE BOOK OF LAMENTATIONS.

THAT Jeremiah was the author of the Elegies or Lamentations which bear his name is evident, not only from a very ancient and almost uninterrupted tradition, but also from the argument and style of the book, which correspond exactly with those of his prophecies. Josephus, Jerome, Junius, Archbishop Usher, Michaelis and other eminent writers are of opinion that the Lamentations of Jeremiah were the same which are mentioned in 2 Chron. xxxv. 25 as being composed by the prophet on the death of the pious King Josiah, and which are there said to have been perpetuated by "an ordinance in Israel." But whatever may have become of those Lamentations, it is evident that these cannot be the same; for their whole tenor plainly shows that they were not composed till after the subversion of the kingdom of Judah. The calamities which Jeremiah had foretold in his prophecies are here deplored as having actually taken place, namely: the impositions of the false prophets who had seduced the people by their lying declarations, the destruction of the holy city and temple, the overthrow of the state and the extermination of the people.

THE BOOK OF EZEKIEL.

EZEKIEL, whose name imports The Strength of God, was the son of Buzi, of the sacerdotal race, and one of the captives carried by Nebuchadnezzar to Babylon, with Jehoiachim, king of Judah. It does not appear that he had prophesied before he came into Mesopotamia. The principal scene of his predictions was some place on the river Chebar, which flows into the Euphrates, about two hundred miles to the north of Babylon, where the prophet resided; though he was occasionally carried in vision to Jerusalem.

Ezekiel was contemporary with Jeremiah and Daniel. The former had prophesied for thirty-four years before Ezekiel, and continued to do so for six or seven years after him. The call of Ezekiel followed the very next year after the communication of Jeremiah's predictions to Babylon (Jer. 51, 59), and was divinely intended as a sequel to them.

Daniel's predictions are mostly later than Ezekiel's, but his piety and wisdom had become proverbial in the early part of Ezekiel's ministry (ch. xiv. 14, 16; xxviii. 3). They much resemble one another, especially in the visions and grotesque images. It is a remarkable proof of genuineness, that in Ezekiel no prophecies against Babylon occur among those directed against the enemies of the covenant people.

Probably he desired not to give needless offence to the government under which he lived. The effect of his labors is to be seen in the improved character of the people towards the close of the captivity, and their general cessation from idolatry and return to the law.

The events of his life, after his call to the prophetic office, are interwoven with the detail which he has himself given to his predictions, but the manner of his termination is nowhere ascertained.

Until of late years the prophecies of Ezekiel have always been acknowledged to be canonical, nor was it ever disputed that he was their author. Most Biblical critics concur in the opinion as to the excellency and sublimity of Ezekiel's style. Grotius observes that he possessed great erudition and genius; so that, setting aside his gift of prophecy, which is incomparable, he deserves to be compared with Homer, on account of his beautiful conceptions, his illustrious comparisons and his extensive knowledge of various subjects.

THE BOOK OF DANIEL.

DANIEL, the fourth of the prophets, if not of royal birth (as the Jews affirm), was of noble descent. He was carried captive to Babylon at an early age, in the fourth year of Jehoiachin, king of Judah, in the year 606 before the Christian era. Having been instructed in the language and literature of the Chaldeans, which at that time was greatly superior to the learning of the ancient Egyptians, he afterwards held a very distinguished office in the Babylonian empire. He was contemporary with Ezekiel, who mentions his extraordinary piety and wisdom. (Ezek. xiv. 14, 20.) Daniel lived in great credit with the Babylonian monarchs, and his uncommon merit procured him the same regard from Darius and Cyrus, the first two sovereigns of Persia. He lived throughout the captivity, but it does not appear that he returned to his own country when Cyrus permitted the Jews to revisit their native land. The pseudo-Epiphanius, who wrote the lives of the prophets, says that he died at Babylon, and this assertion has been adopted by most succeeding writers; but as the last of his visions of which we have any account took place in the third year of Cyrus, about 534 years before the Christian era, when he was about ninety-four years of age, at Susa, on the Tigris, it is not improbable that he died there.

Although the name of Daniel is not prefixed to his book, the many passages in which he speaks in the first person sufficiently prove that he was the author. Josephus accounts Daniel one of the greatest of the prophets, and says that he conversed familiarly with God, and not only predicted future events, as other prophets did, but also determined the time of their accomplishment. The book of Daniel may be divided into two parts. The first is historical, and relates various circumstances that happened to himself and to the Jews, under several kings of Babylon; the second is strictly prophetic, and comprises the visions and prophecies with which he was favored, and which enabled him to foretell numerous important events relative to the monarchies of the world, the time of the advent and death of the Messiah, the restoration of the Jews and the conversion of the Gentiles. Of the genuineness and authenticity of the Book of Daniel we have every possible evidence, both external and internal.

The period of Daniel's prophecies is that from the downfall of the theocracy at the captivity till its final restoration—yet future,—the period of the dominion of the world powers, not set aside by Christ's first coming, (John xviii. 36, for, to have taken the earth-kingdom then, would have been to take it from Satan's hand, Mat. iv. 8-10,) but to be superseded by His universal and everlasting kingdom at His second coming, (Rev. ix. 15.)

THE BOOK OF HOSEA.

CONCERNING the family of Hosea we have no certain information except what is furnished to us by the first verse of his prophecy, which states that he was the son of Beeri, whom some Jewish commentators confound with Beerah, a prince of the Reubenites who was carried into captivity with the ten tribes by Tiglath-pileser, king of Assyria. He prophesied during the reigns of Uzziah, Jotham and Ahaz, and in the third year of Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and during the reign of Jeroboam II., king of Israel. It is most probable that he was an Israelite, and lived in the kingdom of Samaria or of the ten tribes, as his predictions are chiefly directed against their wickedness and idolatry.

His first prophecy foretells the overthrow of Jehu's house, fulfilled on the death of Jeroboam, Jehu's great-grandson, (2 Kings xv. 12,) in Zachariah, Jeroboam's son, the fourth and last from Jehu, conspired against by Shallum. This first prediction was doubtless in Jeroboam's life, as Zachariah, his son, was only suffered to reign six months; thus the inscription is verified that "the word of the Lord came unto him in the days of Jeroboam." Again, in ch. x. 14, Shalmaneser's expedition against Israel is alluded to as past—i. e., the first inroad against King Hoshea, who began to reign in the twelfth year of Ahaz; so that as Ahaz's whole reign was sixteen years, the prophecy seems to have been given about the beginning of Hezekiah's reign.

Messianic references are not frequent; but the predictions of the future conversion of Israel to the Lord their God, and David their king, and of the fulfillment of the promise to Abraham, that his spiritual seed should be as the sand of the sea, clearly refer to the New Testament dispensation.

Rosenmüller and others are of opinion that the title of this book is a subsequent addition, and that Hosea did not prophesy longer than from forty to sixty years, and that he died, or at least wrote his predictions, previous to the year 725 before the Christian era. His writings were originally, without doubt, in a metrical form, although that arrangement is now, perhaps, irrecoverably lost. The design of this book is—1. Partly to detect, reprove and convince the Jewish nation generally, and the Israelites in particular, of their many and heinous sins, especially of their gross idolatry; 2. Partly to denounce the imminent and utter rejection, final captivity, and destruction of the Israelites by the Assyrians, if the former persisted in their wicked career; and, 3. To invite them to repentance, with promises of mercy; predictions of the future restoration of the Israelites and Jews, and their ultimate conversion to Christianity.

THE BOOK OF JOEL.

THERE is great diversity of opinion among learned men concerning the family, condition and pursuits of this prophet. Although several persons of the name of Joel are mentioned in the Old Testament, we have no information concerning the prophet himself, except what is contained in the title of his predictions (ch. i. 1)—that he was the son of Pethuel. According to some reports collected and preserved by the pseudo-Epiphanius, he was of the tribe of Reuben, and was born at Bethoron, a town situated on the confines of the territories of Juda and Benjamin. The celebrated Rabbi Kimchi and others place him in the reign of Joram, and are of opinion that he foretold the seven years' famine which prevailed in that king's reign.

THE BOOK OF AMOS.

AMOS is the third of the minor prophets, according to the order adopted in our modern Bibles. He is supposed to have been a native of Tekoah, a small town in the kingdom of Judah, situate about four leagues to the south of Jerusalem. There is, however, no proof of his being a native of this place, except his retiring thither when driven from Bethel by Amaziah, the high priest of Bethel. We have more certain information of his rank and condition in life, for he himself tells us that he was "no prophet, neither a prophet's son;" in other words, that he was not educated in the schools of the prophets, but was called to the prophetic office from being a herdsman and a gatherer (or cultivator) of sycamore fruit. That he prophesied during the reigns of Uzziah, king of Juda, and of Jeroboam II., son of Joash, we are not only informed from the first verse of his predictions, but we also have internal evidence of it from the argument or subject-matter of his book.

THE BOOK OF OBADIAH.

THE time when this prophet flourished is wholly uncertain. Jerome, with the Jews, is of opinion that he was the same person who was governor of Ahab's house and who hid and fed one hundred prophets whom Jezebel would have destroyed. Some other critics think that he was the Obadiah whom Josiah constituted overseer of the works of the temple, mentioned in 2 Chron. xxxiv. 12. Dupin refers him to the time of Ahaz, in whose reign the Edomites, in conjunction with the Israelites, made war against the tribe of Judah, because his prophecy is almost wholly directed against the Edomites or Idumæans. Grotius, Huet, Dr. Lightfoot and other commentators, however, make him to be contemporary with Hosea, Joel and Amos.

THE BOOK OF JONAH.

THIS book is by the Hebrews called Sepher Jonah, or the Book of Jonah, from its author, Jonah the son of Amittai, who was a native of Gath-Hepher, in the tribe of Zebulun, which formed part of the kingdom of Israel and afterwards of Galilee. According to Bishop Lloyd, he is supposed to have prophesied to the ten tribes toward the close of Jehu's reign, or in the beginning of Jehoahaz's reign, though Witsius, Blair, Bishop Newcome and others, with greater probability, place him under Jeroboam II., about forty years later. With the exception of his sublime ode in the second chapter, the Book of Jonah is a simple narrative. It is very probable that at the time Jonah promised the restoring and enlarging of the coasts of Israel in the days of Jeroboam II. (2 Kings xiv. 25), when both the king and people were exceedingly wicked, he also invited them to repentance and reformation. But the Israelites still continuing impenitent and obdurate, God took occasion to send him to Nineveh, the capital of the Assyrian empire, to denounce the impending Divine judgments against its abandoned inhabitants. Jonah, declining the commission, was cast into the sea from the vessel in which he was sailing to Tarshish, and was swallowed by a large fish. The time of Jonah's continuance in the belly of the fish was a type of our Lord's continuance in the grave. (Luke ix. 30.) The fame of the prophet's miraculous preservation was so widely propagated as to reach even Greece.

THE BOOK OF MICAH.

MICAH, the third of the minor prophets according to the arrangement in the Hebrew and all modern copies, as well as in the Septuagint, was a native of Morasthi, a small town in the southern part of the territory of Judah. As we learn from the commencement of his predictions, he prophesied in the reigns of Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of that country, consequently he was contemporary with Isaiah, Joel, Hosea and Amos. The time, place and manner of his death are unknown. The genuineness of his prophecies relating to the complete destruction of Jerusalem and of the temple is supported by the testimony of Jeremiah (ch. xxvi. 18, 19). The prophecy of Micah is perhaps the most important single testimony in the Old Testament, and the most comprehensive, respecting the personal character of the Messiah and his successive manifestation to the world.

THE BOOK OF NAHUM.

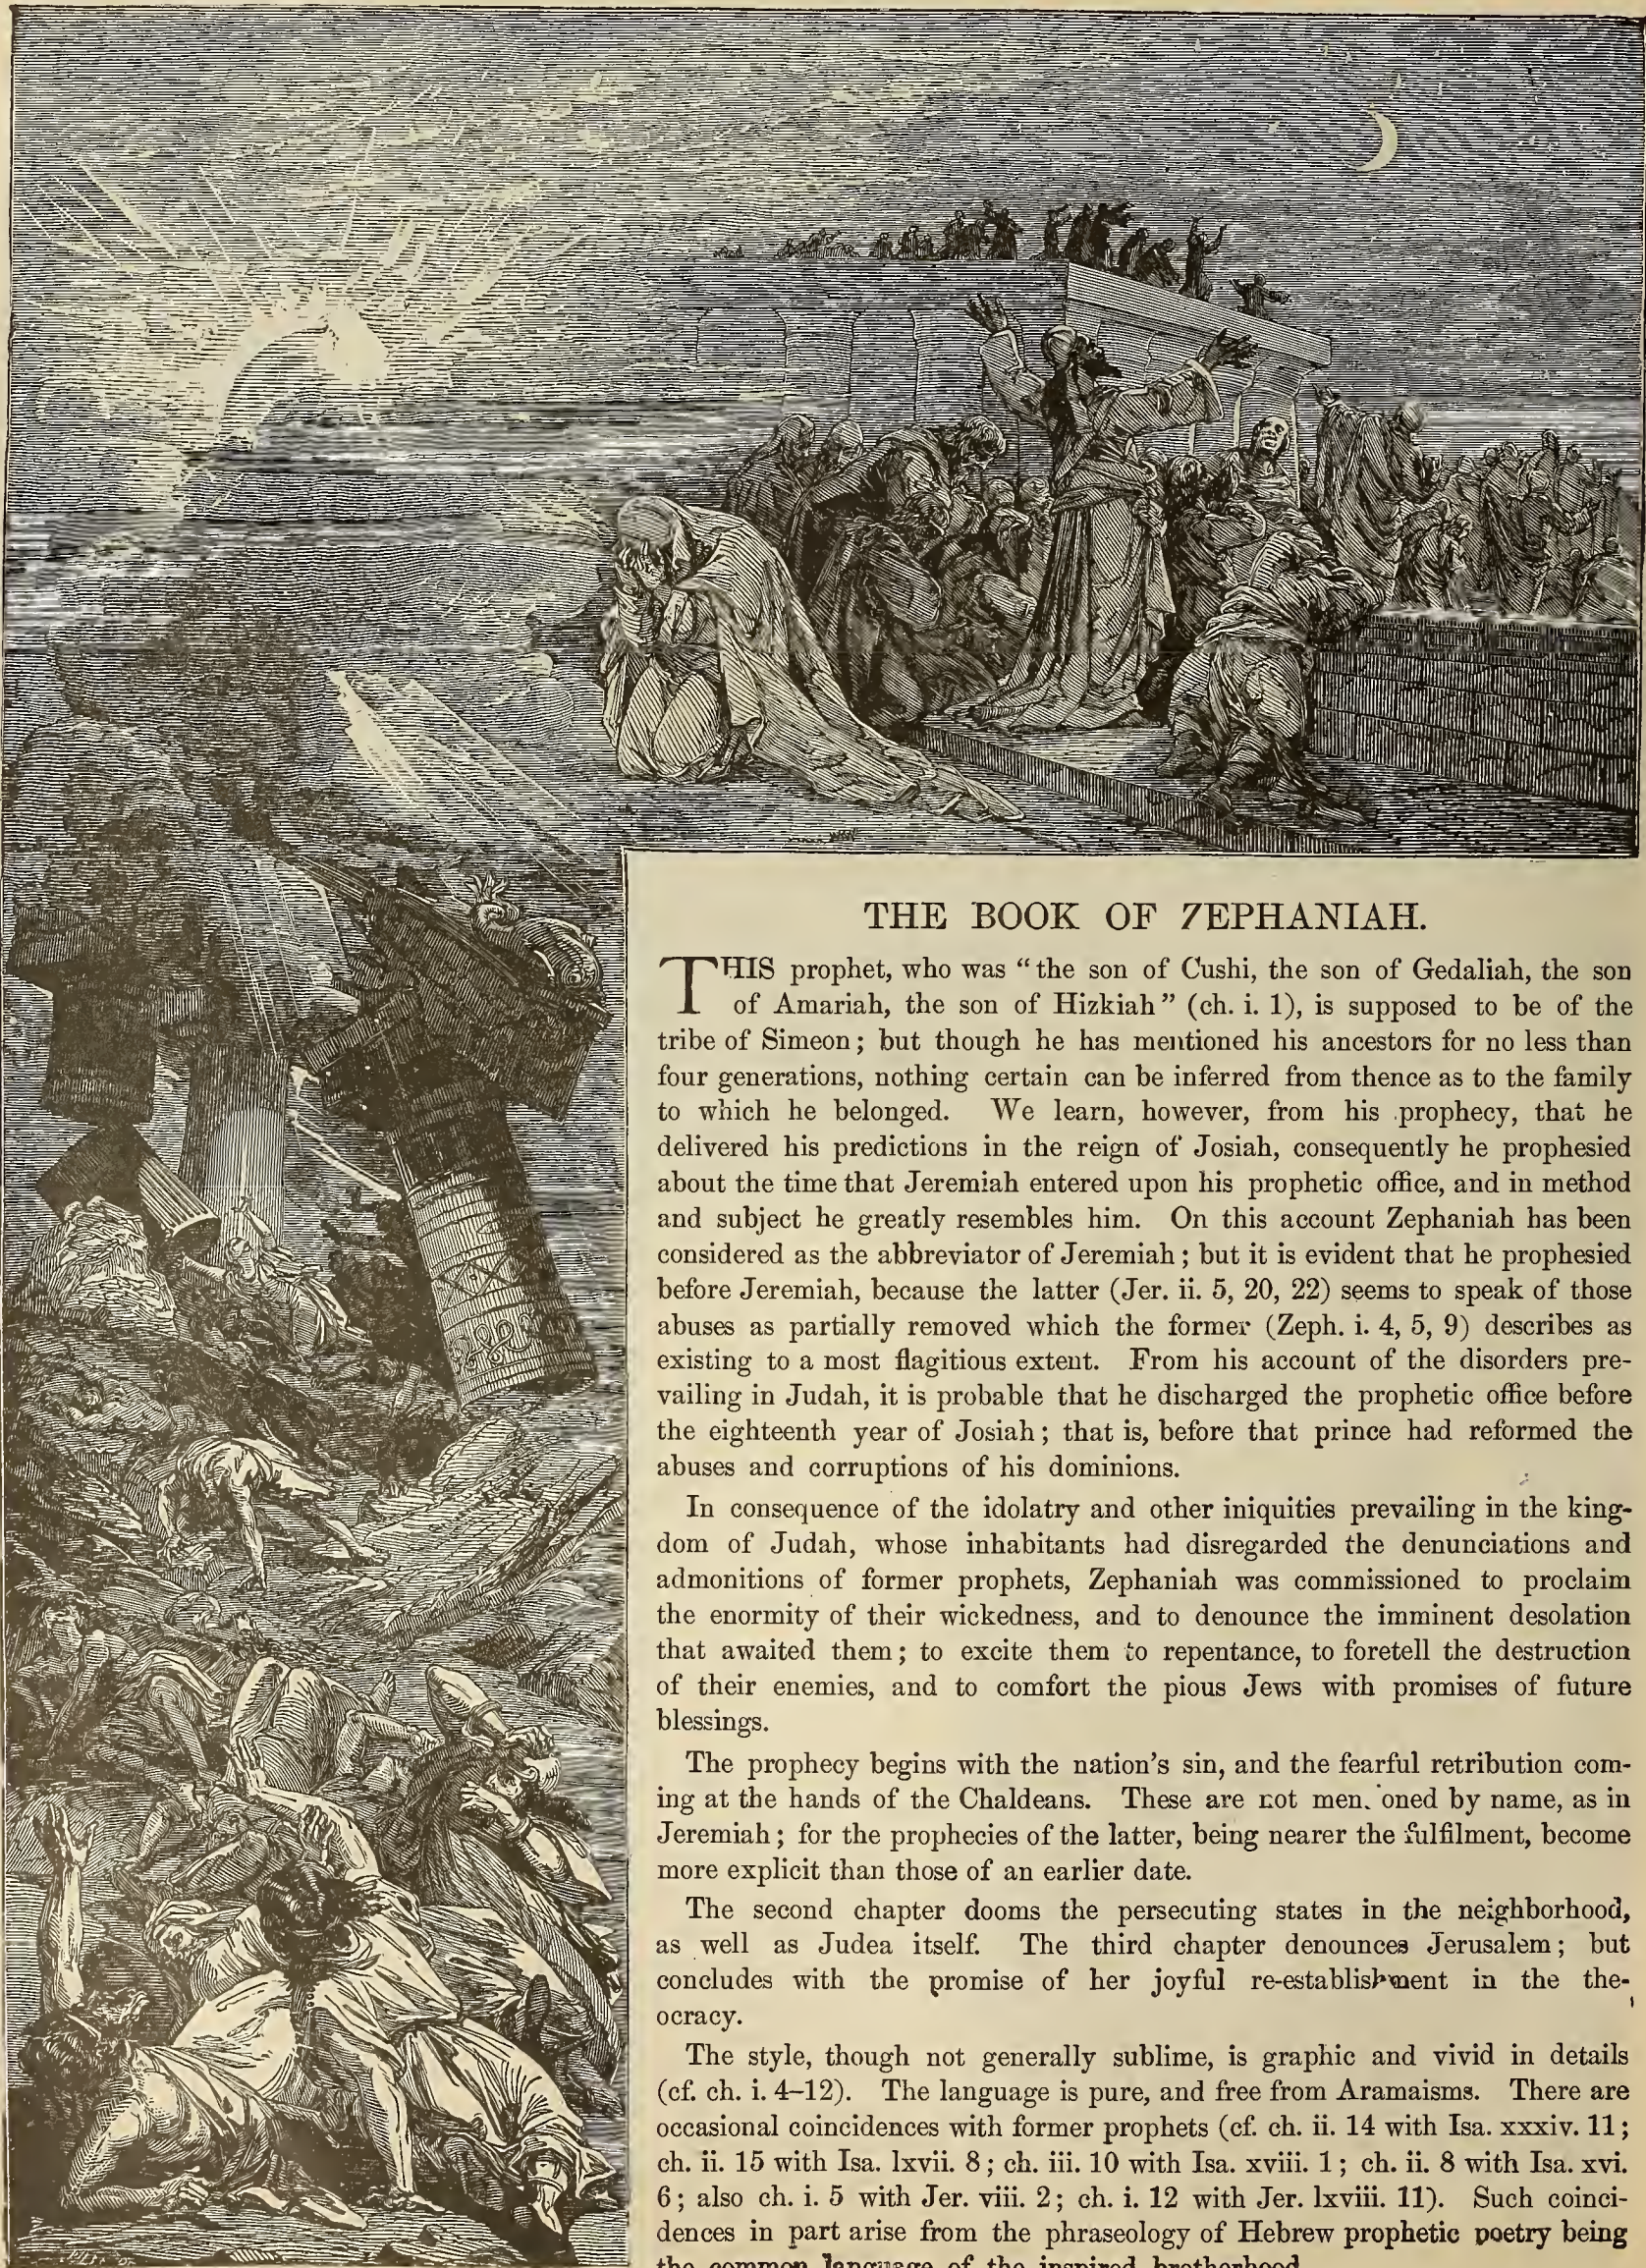

NAHUM, the seventh of the minor prophets, is supposed to have been a native of Elkosh or Elkoshah, a village in Galilee. The scope of this prophecy is to denounce the certain and imminent destruction of the Assyrian empire, and particularly the inhabitants of Nineveh, its metropolis, who, after a transient repentance in consequence of Jonah's preaching, had relapsed into their former sins, which were even more aggravated. With this denunciation the prophet introduces consolation for his countrymen, whom he encourages to trust in God. In boldness, ardor and sublimity, Nahum is superior to all the minor prophets. The preparation for the destruction of Nineveh, and the description of its downfall and desolation are expressed in the most vivid colors, and with images that are truly pathetic and sublime.

THE BOOK OF HABAKKUK.

WE have no certain information concerning the tribe or birthplace of Habakkuk. The pseudo-Epiphanius affirms that he was of the tribe of Simeon and was born at Bethcazar. Some commentators have supposed that he prophesied in Judea in the reign of Manasseh, but Archbishop Usher places him, with greater probability, in the reign of Jehoiakim (compare Hab. i. 5, 6), consequently this prophet was contemporary with Jeremiah. Several apocryphal predictions and other writings are ascribed to Habakkuk, but without any foundation. His genuine writings are comprised in the three chapters which have been transmitted to us, and the subject of them is the same with that of Jeremiah, namely, the destruction of Judah and Jerusalem by Chaldeans for the heinous sins of the Jewish people, and the consolation of the faithful amid all their national calamities.

The prophecy of Habakkuk consists of two parts. The first is in the form of a dialogue between God and the prophet, and the second is a sublime ode or hymn, which was probably intended to be used in the public service. In the former he humbly expostulates with God for punishing the Jews by the instrumentality of the Chaldeans. In answer to this complaint, God replies that he will in due time perform his promises to his people of deliverance by the Messiah (implying also the nearer deliverance by Cyrus). The destruction of the Babylonish empire is then foretold, together with the judgment that would be inflicted upon the Chaldeans for their covetousness, cruelty and idolatry. In the latter the prophet implores God to hasten the deliverance of his people, and takes occasion to recount the wonderful works of the Almighty in conducting his people through the wilderness, and giving them possession of the promised land.

THE BOOK OF ZEPHANIAH.

THIS prophet, who was "the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hizkiah" (ch. i. 1), is supposed to be of the tribe of Simeon; but though he has mentioned his ancestors for no less than four generations, nothing certain can be inferred from thence as to the family to which he belonged. We learn, however, from his prophecy, that he delivered his predictions in the reign of Josiah, consequently he prophesied about the time that Jeremiah entered upon his prophetic office, and in method and subject he greatly resembles him. On this account Zephaniah has been considered as the abbreviator of Jeremiah; but it is evident that he prophesied before Jeremiah, because the latter (Jer. ii. 5, 20, 22) seems to speak of those abuses as partially removed which the former (Zeph. i. 4, 5, 9) describes as existing to a most flagitious extent. From his account of the disorders prevailing in Judah, it is probable that he discharged the prophetic office before the eighteenth year of Josiah; that is, before that prince had reformed the abuses and corruptions of his dominions.

In consequence of the idolatry and other iniquities prevailing in the kingdom of Judah, whose inhabitants had disregarded the denunciations and admonitions of former prophets, Zephaniah was commissioned to proclaim the enormity of their wickedness, and to denounce the imminent desolation that awaited them; to excite them to repentance, to foretell the destruction of their enemies, and to comfort the pious Jews with promises of future blessings.

The prophecy begins with the nation's sin, and the fearful retribution coming at the hands of the Chaldeans. These are not mentioned by name, as in Jeremiah; for the prophecies of the latter, being nearer the fulfilment, become more explicit than those of an earlier date.

The second chapter dooms the persecuting states in the neighborhood, as well as Judea itself. The third chapter denounces Jerusalem; but concludes with the promise of her joyful re-establishment in the theocracy.

The style, though not generally sublime, is graphic and vivid in details (cf. ch. i. 4-12). The language is pure, and free from Aramaisms. There are occasional coincidences with former prophets (cf. ch. ii. 14 with Isa. xxxiv. 11; ch. ii. 15 with Isa. lxvii. 8; ch. iii. 10 with Isa. xviii. 1; ch. ii. 8 with Isa. xvi. 6; also ch. i. 5 with Jer. viii. 2; ch. i. 12 with Jer. lxxviii. 11). Such coincidences in part arise from the phraseology of Hebrew prophetic poetry being the common language of the inspired brotherhood.

THE BOOK OF HAGGAI.

HAGGAI, the tenth in order of the minor prophets, but the first of the three who were commissioned to make known the Divine will to the Jews after their return from captivity was born at Babylon, and was one of the Jews who returned with Zerubbabel in consequence of the edict of Cyrus. He was buried at Jerusalem among the priests and was supposed to be of the family of Aaron. After the return of the Jews to Jerusalem from their captivity in the first year of Cyrus, they commenced the rebuilding of the temple, (Ezra ii., iii.,) were interrupted by the neighboring satraps, who prejudiced the Persian monarch against them, until the second year of Darius. Discouraged by these impediments they ceased for fourteen years to prosecute the erection of the second temple. But God, disposing that sovereign to renew the decrees of Cyrus, raised up the prophet Haggai, about 520 before Christ, and in consequence of his exhortations they resumed the work which was completed in a few years. They were further encouraged to proceed in this undertaking by the prophet assuring them from God, that the glory of this latter house should far exceed the glory of the former.

THE BOOK OF ZECHARIAH.

ALTHOUGH the names of Zechariah's father and grandfather are specified (ch. i. 1) it is not known from what tribe or family he was descended, nor where he was born. He was one of the captives who returned to Jerusalem after the decree of Cyrus, and was contemporary with Haggai. The prophecy of Zechariah consist of two parts, the first concerns events then taking place, namely, the restoration of the temple, with predictions relative to the advent of the Messiah; the second predictions of remote events, particularly the coming of Christ, and the war of Romans against the Jews.

THE BOOK OF MALACHI.

THE name of Malachi, the last of the minor prophets signifies, "my angel," or "my messenger" was contemporary with Nehemiah. He predicts "the Son of righteousness shall arise with healing in his wings," before whom shall go a forerunner, John the Baptist, in the spirit of Elijah. The Old Testament closes with predictions of Messiah's coming, and the New Testament opens with the record of their fulfilment. "Prophecy has been the oracle of the Mosaic and Christian dispensations, to uphold the authority of the one, and reveal the promise of the other; and its last admonitions were like those of a faithful departing minister embracing and summing up his duties. Resigning its charge to the personal precursor of Christ, it expired with the Gospel on its tongue."

THE OLD AND THE NEW DISPENSATIONS UNITED IN CHRIST.

IT has often been a matter for contemplation to the thoughtful mind why the salvation offered to man by Jesus Christ was so long in preparation, why so many centuries must have passed before the Saviour could appear. God has not rested in his work of redeeming love. The Old Testament was, indeed, stern and severe, but it was a glorious preparation for the coming of the Redeemer. The infancy of fallen humanity was rude and barbarous; through the blackest darkness the rays of truth had to cleave their way; only a rigorous discipline of law could mortify the pride of the Jew, and lead him heart-broken and trembling to the promised Redeemer. And when we turn to heathendom a still more mournful sight greets us. Having "changed the glory of the uncorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and four-footed beasts, and creeping things," they were given up to uncleanness, bound by it, hand and foot. And yet, for these many centuries, among the heathens as well as among God's chosen people the Jews, there were dim longings, and blind gropings, for a Deliverer; the fingers of the soul had never, even in the deepest degradation, ceased to reach forth, though trembling, towards the DESIRE OF ALL NATIONS. And at last, after the decay of Judaism, and after the rolling away of Paganism, was heard the voice of one crying in the wilderness—"Prepare ye the way of the Lord!" For four hundred years no prophetic voice had broken the almost agonizing silence. Malachi had been the last to utter words of warning and of comfort, and the world has waited almost hopelessly. But all things were now ready, the FULNESS OF THE TIME was come; and this rough man, with coat of camel's hair, and leathern girdle, and feeding on the rudest desert fare, was the forerunner of Him for whom the world had waited. The Messiah came—came to turn men from their idols to serve the living God; to break down the wall of partition between Jew and Gentile, and to declare the universal brotherhood of man and fatherhood of God. Thus, were the ancient prophecies fulfilled; thus, were the longings of heathendom satisfied. "The testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy," says the Apostle; meaning that all the rays of light, streaming from prophetic sources for the enlightening of the moral darkness of the race, converge to and are centred in Jesus Christ. He is the bond of union between the past and the future, the elder dispensation and the younger. The ancient Temple and all its magnificence of ritual have passed away; thus the sceptre departed from Judah, for Shiloh was come.

THIS Gospel has been received by the Christian Church from the apostolic age as written by St. Matthew, whose call to be an apostle is recorded by himself, by St. Mark and St. Luke. He was previously a publican, or collector of taxes, at Capernaum, and his name, according to narrative is generally subordinate, presenting, more briefly, the substance of fuller accounts in the other Gospels, especially that of St. Mark. This accounts for some striking deviations from the chronological sequence of events observed by the other Evangelists.

This Gospel is also remarkable for its frequent and copious citations from the Old Testament, more especially from the Messianic prophecies. The great object of the Evangelist was undoubtedly to prove to his countrymen, in the first place, that Christianity was the perfect development of Judaism, and that the announcements on which the national hopes of a deliverer rested were fulfilled in Jesus, the true King, Priest and Prophet foretold in their Scriptures. He is at the same time careful to show that this fulfillment included the conversion of the Gentiles and the communication of all religious blessings and privileges to the whole race of man.

St. Jerome seems to say that this Gospel was written by the Evangelist in Hebrew. It is, however, certain that the early Christians had little knowledge of any other copies than the Greek; and it is most probable that it was at least rewritten in Greek by the apostle, or under his guidance, with some additions to the narrative, together with interpretations and explanations, by which it might be adapted to the use of converts from heathenism. The date of publication is not certain: the narrative has expressions which indicate an interval of some years after our Lord's ascension, but there is no doubt that the entire Gospel was published long before the overthrow of the temple and final dispersion of the Jewish nation. All internal indications are in accordance with the statement of Irenæus that St. Matthew published his Gospel while St. Peter and St. Paul were founding the church at Rome.

Mark and Luke, was Levi, son of Alphæus. It is uncertain whether the Evangelist bore two names originally, or took that of Matthew when he relinquished his previous occupation; either supposition is in accordance with the customs of his countrymen. Little is known of his after-life; he is said to have preached the gospel in Macedonia, Greece and Ethiopia, and to have died at an advanced age.

He seems to have kept an accurate record of our Lord's public discourses, which he relates far more fully than the other Evangelists; such as, for instance, the Sermon on the Mount, several parables, the discourses on John the Baptist, the denunciations against the Pharisees, and the prophecies concerning the destruction of Jerusalem and the second advent. These discourses form, indeed, the most important portion of the Gospel; to which the

THE GOSPEL OF ST. MARK.

MARK was not, like Matthew and John, an apostle of Jesus Christ, but he had the advantage of the friendship and knowledge of Peter, who (1 Pet. v. 13) calls him his son, probably from having been the means of his conversion. Mark was sister's son to Barnabas (Col. iv. 10) and the son of Mary, a woman of Jerusalem, at whose house was held at least one notable prayer-meeting (Acts lxii. 12). His Hebrew name was John, and Michaelis supposes that he adopted the surname of Mark when he left Judea to preach the gospel in foreign countries, according to the custom of the Jews to adopt a name more familiar to the Gentiles whom they visited than their Hebrew appellations.

After Peter's deliverance (Acts xii. 11, 12), Mark went from Jerusalem with Paul and Barnabas, and soon after accompanied them to other countries as their minister (Acts xiii. 5); but, declining to attend them through their whole progress, he returned to Jerusalem, and kept up an intercourse with Peter and the other apostles. Afterward, however, when Paul and Barnabas settled at Antioch, on the termination of their journey, we find Mark with them, and disposed to accompany them in their future journeys. At this time he went with Barnabas to Cyprus (Acts xv. 37-39), and subsequently accompanied Timothy to Rome, at the desire of Paul (2 Tim. iv. 11), during his confinement in that city, whence Mark sent his salutations to Philemon (24) and to the church at Colosse (Col. iv. 10). "From Eusebius, Epiphanius and Jerome," continues Horne, "we learn that Mark, after he had written his Gospel, went to Egypt, and having planted a church at Alexandria, Jerome states that he died and was buried there in the eighth year of the reign of Nero. Baronius, Cave, Wetstein and other writers affirm that St. Mark suffered martyrdom; but this is not mentioned by Eusebius or any other ancient writer, and is contradicted by Jerome, whose expressions seem to imply that he died a natural death."

St. Peter having publicly preached the Christian religion, many who were present entreated Mark, as he had for a long time been that apostle's companion, and had a clear understanding of what Peter had delivered, that he would commit the particulars to writing. Accordingly, when Mark had finished his Gospel, he delivered it to the persons who made this request.

Regarding the date of this Gospel nothing certain is known. If the tradition reported by Irenæus can be relied upon, it was written at Rome, "after the departure of Peter and Paul;" and if by that word "departure" we are to infer their death, we may date it somewhere between the years 64 and 68; but, in all likelihood, this is too late.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO S. LUKE

LUKE first appears historically at Troas with Paul, going with him into Macedonia (Acts xvi. 9, 10), and writing his history after that as an eye-witness.

It is supposed that Luke was descended from Gentile parents, and in his youth had embraced Judaism, from which he was converted to Christianity. The Hebraic-Greek style of writing, and the accurate knowledge of Jewish doctrines, ceremonies and usages, which characterize him in his Gospel and in the Acts of the Apostles, evince the author to have been a Jew; whilst his Greek name and his intimate knowledge of the Greek language are thought to be sufficient proof that he was of Grecian birth and education. His Gospel has been divided into five divisions:

I. Birth of Christ, with the circumstances that preceded, attended and followed it (ch. i.; ii. 1-40).

II. Christ's infancy and youth (ch. ii. 41-52).

III. Preaching of John, and baptism and genealogy of Christ (ch. iii.).

IV. Discourses, miracles and actions of Christ during his ministry (ch. iv.; ix. 50).

V. Christ's last journey to Jerusalem; his passion, death, resurrection and ascension (ch. ix. 51-62; x.-xxiv.).

Horne says: "If St. Paul had not informed us (Col. iv. 14) that St. Luke was by profession a physician, and consequently a man of letters, his writings would have sufficiently evinced that he had had a liberal education; for, although his Gospel presents as many Hebraisms perhaps as any of the sacred writings, yet his language contains more numerous Græcisms than that of any other writer of the New Testament. The style of this evangelist is pure, copious and flowing, and bears a considerable resemblance to that of his great master, St. Paul. Many of his words and expressions are exactly parallel to those which are to be found in the best classic authors; and several eminent critics have long since pointed out the singular skill and propriety with which St. Luke has named and described the various diseases which he had occasion to notice. As an instance of his copiousness, Dr. Campbell has remarked that each of the evangelists has a number of words which are used by none of the rest; but in St. Luke's Gospel the number of such words as are used in none of the other Gospels is greater than that of the peculiar words found in all the three Gospels. There is also more composition in his sentences than is found in the other three Gospels, and consequently less simplicity."

The time and place of the publication of his Gospel are alike uncertain. But we can approximate to it. It must at any rate have been issued before the Acts, for there the "Gospel" is expressly referred to as the same author's "former treatise" (Acts i. 1). Now, the book of the Acts was not published for two whole years after Paul's arrival as a prisoner at Rome.

THE GOSPEL OF ST. JOHN.

JOHAN was the son of Zebedee, a fisherman of the town of Bethsaida, on the Sea of Galilee, and the younger brother of James the elder. His mother's name was Salome. It is supposed from his account of the disciples of John the Baptist becoming followers of Christ, that he was one of the two (ch. i. 35-40), but of this there is no certainty.

According to Lampe, there are three degrees in the call of John, viz.: 1. His call to discipleship (John i. 37-42); after which he continued for a short time to follow his business; 2. His call to be one of the immediate companions of Christ (Matt. iv. 21, 22); and, 3. His call to the apostleship, when the surname of Boanerges was given to him and his brother (Mark iii. 17). He is supposed to have been the youngest of the twelve, but this is mere conjecture. He was certainly admitted to intimate intercourse with the Saviour, and is described as the disciple whom Jesus loved (John xiii. 23; xix. 26). He was an eye-witness, in company with Peter and James only, to the resurrection of Jairus's daughter to life (Luke viii. 51), to Christ's transfiguration (Luke ix. 28), and to his agony in the garden (Mark xiv. 33). He was also present at the crucifixion—though we have no right to say, as some do, that he was the only one of the apostles present at that awful event—and received the mother of Jesus as a precious legacy from her dying son (John xix. 26, 27). He had several interviews with Christ after his resurrection; and our Saviour is supposed to have intimated John's continuance upon earth until after the destruction of Jerusalem (John xxi. 22), but the text appealed to does not warrant this interpretation.

After the ascension of Christ, and the effusion of the Holy Spirit on the day of Pentecost, John became one of the chief apostles of the circumcision, and exercised his ministry in Jerusalem and its vicinity, as narrated in the Acts of the Apostles (ii. 1-11; iii.; iv. 1-22, and viii. 5-26). Ecclesiastical history informs us that after the death of Mary, the mother of Jesus, John proceeded to Asia Minor, where he founded and presided over seven churches in as many cities, but resided chiefly at Ephesus. Thence he was, probably toward the close of Domitian's reign, banished to the Isle of Patmos, where he wrote his Revelation (Rev. i. 9). On his liberation from exile by the accession of Nerva to the imperial throne, John returned to Ephesus, where he wrote his Gospel and Epistles, and died in the hundredth year of his age, about the year of Christ 100, in the third year of the reign of the emperor Trajan, and about thirty years after the destruction of Jerusalem. John's Gospel is supposed to have been written about the year 97, or three years before the evangelist's death.

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

THE title of this book is very ancient, being found in all the oldest copies, though with some variety of form. Dr. J. Addison Alexander, in his Introduction to the Acts of the Apostles, says: "The title does not mean, nor is the book in fact, a history of the twelve apostles, most of whom are barely named in the first chapter. It is not the biography of Peter and Paul, as apostles by way of eminence; for each of them is prominent in one part only, and the whole life of neither is recorded in detail. It is not a general history of the apostolical period as distinguished from the ministry of Christ himself; for many interesting facts belonging to that subject are omitted, some of which have been preserved in the Epistles. But the book before us is a special history of the planting and extension of the Church, both among Jews and Gentiles, by the gradual establishment of radiating centres or sources of influence at certain salient points throughout a large part of the empire, beginning at Jerusalem and ending at Rome. That this is really the theme and purpose of the history any reader may satisfy himself by running through it with this general idea in his mind. While the Greek of this book is comparatively classical and pure, it has certain peculiarities of language, not the less real because slight and unimportant in themselves, distinguishing its style from every other except that of the third Gospel, which, besides bearing a general resemblance not to be mistaken, coincides with it in some of its most striking singularities of thought and diction. This remarkable coincidence creates, of course, a strong presumption that the two books which exhibit it are works of the same author. This presumption is still further strengthened by the fact that the two together make up an unbroken history, the one beginning where the other ends, to wit, at the Ascension. It is further strengthened by the latter book's purporting on its face to be the sequel or continuation of another, the contents of which as there described (Acts i. 1) exactly correspond to those of the third Gospel. It is still further strengthened by the circumstance that both books are ascribed to Theophilus, and seem to have been primarily meant for his instruction. All these considerations go to confirm, and are themselves confirmed by, the unanimous tradition of the ancient church, that the third Gospel and the Acts of the Apostles are works of the same author. The remarkable dearth of information as to Luke, beyond his name, profession, and the general fact that he was one of Paul's most intimate associates and perhaps for many years his medical attendant, gives the more importance to the uniform tradition of the early church, not only that he wrote these books, but that he wrote them under Paul's direction and control, thereby imparting to them, in addition to the common seal of inspiration, the specific stamp of apostolical authority."

EPISTLE TO THE ROMANS.

THE epistle to the Romans, though fifth in the order of time, is placed first of all the apostolical letters, either from the pre-eminence of Rome, as being the mistress of the world, or because it is the longest and most comprehensive of all St. Paul's epistles. A great variety of opinions have been held as to the precise date when this Epistle was written. The most probable date is that which assigns it to the end of 57 or the beginning of 58, at which time St. Paul was at Corinth, whence he was preparing to go to Jerusalem with the collections which had been made by the Christians of Macedonia and Achaia for their poor brethren in Judea (ch. xv. 25-27). That this Epistle has always been acknowledged to be a genuine and authentic production of St. Paul is attested not only by the ancient Syriac and Latin versions, and by the express declarations and quotations of Irenæus, Theophilus of Antioch, Clement of Alexandria, Tertullian, Origen, and by all subsequent ecclesiastical writers, but it was also cited or alluded to by several of the apostolic fathers, and by the churches of Vienna and Lyons.

In perusing this Epistle, it is desirable to read uninterruptedly at least the first eleven chapters, as every sentence, at least in the argumentative part, bears an intimate relation to and is dependent upon the whole discourse, and cannot be understood unless we comprehend the scope of the whole. And in order to enter fully into its spirit, we must enter into the spirit of a Jew in those times, and endeavor to realize in our minds his utter aversion for the Gentiles, his valuing and exalting himself upon his relation to God and to Abraham, and also upon his law, pompous worship, circumcision, etc., as if the Jews were the only people in the world who had a right to the favor of God. Attention to this circumstance will show the beauties of the apostle's style and argument, and that this Epistle is indeed "a writing which, for sublimity and truth of sentiment, for brevity and strength of expression, and, above all, for the unspeakable importance of the discoveries which it contains, stands unrivalled by any mere human composition."

FIRST EPISTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS.

CHRISTIANITY was planted at Corinth by St. Paul himself. He resided there for a year and six months, between the years 51 and 53. The church consisted partly of Jews and partly of Gentiles, but chiefly of the latter. Hence the apostle had to combat sometimes Jewish superstition and sometimes heathen licentiousness. On St. Paul's departure from Corinth, he was succeeded by Apollos, "an eloquent man, and mighty in the Scriptures," who preached the gospel with great success.

We learn that St. Paul maintained a constant intercourse with the churches which he had planted, and was thoroughly acquainted with all their circumstances. They applied to him for advice in difficult cases which their own understanding could not solve, and he was ready on all occasions to correct their mistakes and give them counsel.

SECOND EPISTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS.

THE preceding Epistle, we are aware, was written from Ephesus, about A. D. 57, previous to St. Paul's departure from that city. On quitting Ephesus he went to Troas, which place was situated on the shore of the Ægean Sea, in expectation of meeting Titus, and receiving an account of the success with which he hoped his former Epistle had been attended, and of the state of the Corinthian church. Not meeting Titus at Troas, Paul proceeded to Macedonia, where he obtained the desired interview, and received satisfactory information concerning the promising state of affairs at Corinth. From this country, and probably from Philippi, the apostle wrote his second letter (ch. viii. 1-14, ix. 1-5), which he sent by Titus and his associates, who were commissioned to hasten and finish the contribution among the Christians at Corinth for the use of their poor brethren in Judea.

EPISTLE TO THE GALATIANS.

CHRISTIANITY was very early planted in Galatia by St. Paul, and it appears from the Acts of the Apostles that he visited the churches in that country more than once. Two distinct visits are clearly marked, namely: the first about the year 50 (Acts xvi. 6), and the second about the year 54 or 55 (xviii. 23). There is great diversity of opinion among learned men concerning the date of the Epistle to the Galatians. Theodoret who is followed by Dr. Lightfoot and others, imagines that it was one of those epistles which St. Paul wrote from Rome during his first imprisonment; but this opinion is contradicted by the apostle's silence concerning his bonds, which he has often mentioned in the letters that are known to have been written at that time. The genuineness of this Epistle has never been doubted. It is cited by the apostolic fathers, and is declared to be authentic by many subsequent writers. It is worthy of remark that this Epistle was acknowledged to be genuine by the heretic Marcion, who reckoned it the earliest written of all St. Paul's letters, and accordingly placed it first in this Apostolicon, or collection of apostolical writings.

His purpose, then, in writing this epistle was (1.) to defend his apostolic authority, (ch. i. 11-19; ii. 1-14;) (ii.) to counteract the evil influence of the Judaisers in Galatia, (ch. iii. and iv.) and to shew that their doctrine destroyed the very essence of Christianity, by lowering its spirituality to an outward ceremonial system; (iii.) to give exhortation for the strengthening of Galatian believers in faith towards Christ, and in the fruits of the Spirit, (ch. v. and vi.) He had already, face to face, testified against the Judaising teachers, (ch. i. 9; iv. 16; Acts xviii. 23;) and now that he has heard of the continued and increasing prevalence of the evil, he writes with his own hand (ch. vi. 11—a labour which he usually delegated to an amanuensis) this epistle to oppose it. The sketch he gives in it of his apostolic career confirms and expands the account in Acts; and shews his independence of human authority, however exalted. His protest against Peter in ch. ii. 14-21, disproves the figment, not merely of papal, but even of that apostle's supremacy; and shews that Peter, save when specially inspired, was fallible like other men.

There is much in common between this epistle and that to the Romans on the subject of justification by faith only, and not by the law. But the epistle to the Romans handles the subject in a didactic and logical mode, without any special reference: this epistle, in a controversial manner, and with special reference to the Judaisers in Galatia.

THE EPISTLE TO THE EPHESIANS.

THE apostle Paul is universally admitted to be the author of the Epistle to the Ephesians. It is expressly cited as his production by Ignatius, who has no fewer than six distinct allusions to it, and, as he was contemporary with Paul, his testimony alone is sufficient to determine its genuineness. The subscription to this Epistle states that it was the first in order of those written from Rome, and sent to the Ephesians by Tychicus, who was also the bearer of the Epistle to the Colossians, the similarity of which in style and subject shows that it was written at the same time. St. Paul's first visit to Ephesus is recorded in Acts xviii. 19-21. That this Epistle was written during St. Paul's first imprisonment at Rome is evident from its allusions to his confinement (ch. iii. 1; iv. 1; vi. 20); and as he does not express in it any hopes of a speedy release (which he does in his other epistles sent from that city), we conclude, with Dr. Lardner, Bishop Tomline, and others, that it was written during the early part of St. Paul's imprisonment, probably in the year 61, soon after his arrival in Rome.

The style of this Epistle is exceedingly animated, and corresponds with the state of the apostle's mind at the time of writing. Overjoyed with the account which messengers had brought to him of their faith and holiness (ch. i. 15), and transported with the consideration of the unsearchable wisdom of God displayed in the work of man's redemption, and of his astonishing love toward the Gentiles in making them partakers, through faith, of all the benefits of Christ's death, he soars high in his sentiments on these grand subjects, and gives his thoughts utterance in sublime and copious expressions. "No true Christian," says Dr. Macknight, "can read the doctrinal part of the Epistle to the Ephesians without being impressed and roused by it, as by the sound of a trumpet."

THE EPISTLE TO THE PHILIPPIANS.

CHRISTIANITY was first planted at Philippi, in Macedonia, by St. Paul, A. D. 50, the particulars of which are related in Acts xvi. 9-40; and it appears from Acts xx. 6 that he again visited both places in 57, though no particulars are recorded concerning that visit. Of all the churches planted by St. Paul, that at Philippi seems to have cherished the most tender concern for him; and though it appears to have been but a small community, its members were particularly generous toward him. When the gospel was first preached in Macedonia, no other church contributed anything toward his support except the Philippians, who, while he was preaching at Thessalonica, the metropolis of that country, sent him money twice, that the success of the gospel might not be hindered by its preacher becoming burdensome to the Thessalonians.

It appears, from St. Paul's own words, that this Epistle was written while he was a prisoner at Rome; and from the expectation of soon being released and restored to them, as well as from the intimations contained in this letter that he had then been a considerable time at Rome, it is probable that he wrote the Epistle to the Philippians toward the close of his first imprisonment, at the end of A. D. 62, or perhaps at the commencement of 63. The genuineness of this book has never been questioned. The scope of this Epistle was to confirm the Philippians in the faith, to encourage them to walk in a manner becoming the gospel of Christ, to caution them against the intrusion of Judaizing teachers, and to testify his gratitude for their Christian bounty. It is remarkable that the Epistle to the church of Philippi is the only one of all St. Paul's letters to the churches in which not one censure is expressed or implied against any of its members; on the contrary, sentiments of unqualified commendation and confidence pervade every part of this Epistle.

We have here an account of the life and death of blessed St. Paul; his life was Christ, and his death was gain. Observe 1. It is the undoubted character of every good Christian, that to him to live is Christ. The glory of Christ ought to be the end of our life, the grace of Christ the principle of our life, and the word of Christ the rule of it. The Christian life is derived from Christ, and directed to him. He is the principal Rule and End of it. 2. All those to whom to live is Christ, to them to die will be gain: it is great gain, a present gain, everlasting gain. Death is a great loss to a carnal, worldly man; for he loses all his comforts and all his hopes; but to a good Christian it is gain, for it is the end of all his weakness and misery, and the perfection of his comforts, and accomplishment of his hopes.

THE EPISTLE TO THE COLOSSIANS.

BY whom or at what time Christianity was planted at Colossæ we have no certain information. Dr. Lardner, Bishop Tomline, Bœhmer and others are of the opinion that the church at Colossæ was founded by St. Paul, and this they arrive at from a variety of considerations. That Paul, however, did not plant the church at Colossæ is evident from his own declaration in ch. ii. 1, where he says that neither the Colossians nor the Laodiceans had then "seen his face in the flesh." But though it is impossible now to ascertain who was the founder of the church at Colossæ, the Epistle itself furnishes us with a guide to its date. In Col. iv. 3 the apostle alludes to his imprisonment, from which circumstance, as well as from its close affinity to the Epistle addressed to the Ephesians, it is evident that it was written nearly at the same time. Accordingly most commentators and critics refer it to the year 62. Its genuineness was never disputed.

The style is peculiar; many Greek phrases occur here found nowhere else, cf. ch. ii. 8, "spoil you;" "making a show of them openly" (ch. ii. 15); "beguile of your reward," and "intruding" (v. 18); "rule" (ch. iii. 15); "comfort" (ch. iv. 11). The loftiness and artificial elaboration of style correspond to the majestic nature of his theme; the majesty of Christ's person and office, in contrast to the beggarly system of the Judaizers; the discussion of which was forced on him by the controversy. Hence arises his use of unusual phraseology. On the other hand, in the epistle to the Ephesians, subsequently written, in which he was not so hampered by the exigencies of controversy, he dilates on the same glorious truths, so congenial to him, more at large, freely and uncontroversially, in the fuller outpouring of his spirit, with less of the elaborate and antithetical language of system such as was needed in cautioning the Colossians against the particular errors threatening them. Hence arises the striking similarity of many of the phrases in the two epistles written about the same time, and generally in the same vein of spiritual thought; whilst the peculiar phrases of the epistle to the Colossians are such as are natural, considering the controversial purpose of that epistle. The spirit of the great apostle of the Gentiles breathes in every sentence of this pithy and earnest composition. Ardor undamped by imprisonment, interest unchilled by distance, zeal for the purity and simplicity of the gospel, uncompromising to all who introduce rash speculation or vile and unscriptural vagaries, whether under the shape of higher wisdom or superior sanctity, are indubitable traits of Paul's character, and unmistakable features in the Epistle to the Colossians.

THE FIRST EPISTLE TO THE THESSALONIANS.

CHRISTIANITY was first planted at Thessalonica by St. Paul, A. D. 50, who formed a church composed of both Jews and Gentiles, though the latter were most numerous. (Acts xvii. 2-4.) The unbelieving Jews, however, having stirred up a persecution against him and his company, they were forced to flee to Berea, and thence to Athens, from which city he proceeded to Corinth. The First Epistle to the Thessalonians is generally admitted to have been one of the earliest written, if, indeed, it be not the very first of all St. Paul's letters, and we find that he was anxious that it should be read to all the Christian Churches in Macedonia. The genuineness of this First Epistle has never been disputed. The immediate occasion of Paul's writing this Epistle was the favorable report which Timothy had brought him of the steadfastness of the Thessalonians in the faith of the gospel. He therefore wrote to confirm them in that faith, lest they should be turned aside from it by the persecutions of the unbelieving Jews, and also to excite them to a holy conversation becoming the dignity of their high and holy calling. The Epistle concludes with various practical advices and instructions.

SECOND EPISTLE TO THESSALONIANS.

THE Second Epistle to the Thessalonians was evidently written soon after the first (A. D. 52), and from the same place, for Sylvanus or Silas and Timothy are joined together with the apostle in the inscription of this Epistle, as well as of the former. The Epistle was occasioned by the information communicated to Paul by the person who had conveyed his first letter to the Thessalonians respecting the state of the church. Among other things he was informed, from some expressions in it, that many of them expected that the day of judgment would happen in that age, and that such of them as thought the advent of Christ and the end of the world was at hand were neglecting their secular affairs, as being inconsistent with a due preparation for that important and awful event. As soon, therefore, as the state of the Thessalonians was made known to Paul, he wrote this Second Epistle to correct their misapprehension, to rescue them from an error which (appearing to rest on apostolical authority) must ultimately be injurious to the spread of the gospel, and to recommend various Christian duties.

Although this Epistle is the shortest of all St. Paul's letters to the churches, it is not inferior to any of them in sublimity of sentiment and in that excellent spirit by which all the writings of this apostle are so eminently distinguished. Besides those marks of genuineness and authority which it possesses in common with the rest of the apostolical epistles, it has one peculiar to itself in the exact representation it contains of the papal power, under the characters of the "man of sin" and the "mystery of iniquity."

THE FIRST EPISTLE TO TIMOTHY.

TIMOTHY, to whom this Epistle was addressed, was a native of Lystra, a city of Lycaonia, in Asia Minor. His father was a Greek, but his mother was a Jewess, and a person of excellent character. The pious care taken in his education soon appeared to have the desired success, for we are assured by St. Paul that from his childhood Timothy was well acquainted with the Holy Scriptures. It is generally supposed that he was converted to the Christian faith during the first visit made by Paul and Barnabas to Lystra. From the time of his conversion,

Timothy made such proficiency in the knowledge of the gospel, and was so remarkable for the sanctity of his manners, as well as for his zeal in the cause of Christ, that he attracted the esteem of all his brethren in those parts.

The date of this Epistle has been much disputed, and considerable discussion has taken place on the subject. From a careful examination of the evidence, we think it is safe to conclude that it was written about the end of the year 64. But whatever uncertainty may have prevailed concerning the date of this Epistle, it has always been acknowledged to be the undisputed production of St. Paul. Both the First and Second Epistles to Timothy are cited or alluded to by the apostolical fathers, Clement of Rome and Polycarp, and the First Epistle by Ignatius, and by all subsequent ecclesiastical writers. Timothy having been left at Ephesus to regulate the affairs of the church in that city, St. Paul wrote this Epistle chiefly to instruct him in the choice of proper officers in the churches, as well as in the exercise of a regular ministry. Whoever carefully and impartially examines the style of this Epistle will find that the language and genius of the apostle of the Gentiles pervades it throughout, and that the animating, urgent and affecting motives which it presents are such as proceeded from the heart.

THE SECOND EPISTLE TO TIMOTHY.

THAT Paul was a prisoner when he wrote the second Epistle to Timothy is evident from ch. i. 8, 12, 16, and ch. ii. 9, and that his imprisonment was in Rome appears from ch. i. 17, and is universally admitted. But whether he wrote it during his first imprisonment, recorded in Acts xxviii., or during a second imprisonment there (which was the uniform tradition of the primitive church), is a point that has been much disputed. The former opinion is advocated by Drs. Hammond, Lightfoot, Lardner and Hug, and the latter by Drs. Benson, Macknight, Paley and others. From various considerations, we are inclined to believe that the last-mentioned opinion is correct, and that this Epistle was written by Paul at Rome, during an imprisonment different from that recorded in Acts xxviii. Paul was released from his confinement A. D. 63, and, after visiting various churches, returned to Rome early in 65, where, after being confined rather more than a year, it is generally agreed that he suffered martyrdom A. D. 66.

It is generally supposed that Timothy was at Ephesus when Paul wrote his Second Epistle to him. This opinion is advocated by Drs. Lardner, Benson and Macknight, but is opposed by Michaelis, who has shown that Timothy was most probably somewhere in Asia Minor when Paul sent this letter to him, because the apostle, toward the close of the first chapter, mentions several persons who dwelt in that region, and also because (2 Tim. iv. 13) he requests Timothy to bring with him the cloak, books and parchments which he had left behind him at Troas, and because Troas does not lie in the route from Ephesus to Rome, to which city Timothy was desired to "make haste to come to him before winter" (ch. iv. 21). Michaelis concludes, therefore, that Paul, not knowing exactly where Timothy was at that time, wrote to him this Epistle, which he entrusted to a safe person (whom Dr. Benson supposes to have been Tychicus) that was traveling into Asia Minor, with an order to deliver it to him wherever he could find him.

As this Epistle was written to St. Paul's most intimate friend under the miseries of a jail and the near prospect of death, and was not designed for the use of others, it may serve to exhibit the temper and character of the apostle, and to convince us that he was no deceiver, but believed the doctrines he preached.

THE EPISTLE TO TITUS.

TITUS was a Greek (Dr. Benson thinks he was a native of Antioch, in Syria), and one of Paul's early converts, who attended him and Barnabas to the first council at Jerusalem, A. D. 49, and afterwards on his ensuing circuit (Tit. i. 4, Gal. ii. 1-3, Acts xv. 2). Some years after this we find that Paul sent him to Corinth, to investigate and report to him the state of the church in that city, and particularly to report what effect had been produced by his First Epistle to the Corinthians. The intelligence brought to the apostle by Titus afforded him the highest satisfaction, as it far exceeded his expectations. And as Titus had expressed a particular regard for the Corinthians, the apostle thought proper to send him back again, with some others, to hasten the collection for the poor brethren in Judea (ch. viii. 6). After this we learn nothing further of Titus, except that he is mentioned in this Epistle as having been with Paul in Crete.

THE EPISTLE TO PHILEMON.

PHILEMON was an inhabitant of Colossæ, as appears from Paul's mentioning Onesimus in his Epistle to the Colossians (ch. iv. 9) as one of them, and also from his saluting Archippus in this Epistle (ver. 2), who appears, from Col. iv. 17, to have been a pastor of that church. Philemon was most probably a converted Gentile, and a person of great worth as a man and of some note as a citizen in his own country. It appears, from verses 1, 10, 13 and 23 of this Epistle, that Paul was under confinement when he wrote it; and as he expresses (v. 22) his expectation of shortly being released, it is probable that it was written during his first imprisonment at Rome, towards the end of A. D. 62 or early in 63, and was sent, together with the Epistle to the Ephesians and Colossians, by Tychicus and Onesimus. Stronger external testimony to the authenticity of any part of the Bible does not exist than that which we have for the Epistle to Philemon. The whole of this Epistle is a most beautiful composition. Such deference and respect for Philemon, such affection and concern for Onesimus, such distant but just insinuation, such an admirable address pervade the whole, that this alone might be sufficient to convince us that Paul was not unacquainted with the world, and was not that weak and visionary enthusiast which the enemies of revelation have sometimes represented him to be.

THE EPISTLE TO THE HEBREWS.

THE nature and authenticity of this Epistle have been more controverted, perhaps, than any other book of the New Testament. Who the Hebrews were to whom this letter was addressed learned men are by no means agreed. The most ancient opinion, however, and the one best corroborated by the contents of the Epistle itself, is, that it was directed to the Hebrews in Palestine, and probably to the church of Cæsarea. As to the language in which this Epistle was written, there have been two principal opinions; one, that it was originally written in Hebrew, and translated into Greek by Luke or Barnabas; and the other, that it was written in Greek. The point is a much litigated one, but Horne "feels compelled to draw the conclusion that the original language must have been Greek." The question is one, however, which by no means affects the genuineness and authenticity of the gospel. The authorship of this Epistle has been ascribed to different persons, but the Christian Church generally believe it to be the genuine production of the great apostle to the Gentiles. As to the time when this Epistle was written, the majority of commentators place it between A. D. 61 and 64. This Epistle is considered by the most eminent Bible critics a finished model of didactic writing. The internal excellence of this Epistle, as connecting the Old Testament and the New, is most convincing and instructive.

THE EPISTLE OF JAMES.

CONSIDERABLE doubt has existed respecting the author of this Epistle. Two apostles of the name of James are mentioned in the New Testament. The first was the son of Zebedee, a fisherman upon the Lake of Galilee, and the brother of the evangelist John; and as he is uniformly mentioned by the evangelists before John (except in Luke ix. 28), he is supposed to have been the elder of the two. As he was put to death by Herod Agrippa A. D. 44 (Acts xii.), it is evident that he was not the author of the Epistle which bears his name. The other James was the son of Alphaeus or Cleopas. He is called the brother or near relation of our Lord (Gal. i. 18, 19), and is generally termed the Less, partly to distinguish him from the other James, and probably because he was lower of stature. There is no doubt that this was the apostle who wrote this Epistle. The time when this Epistle was composed is uncertain; some place it early, A. D. 45, others think its date later, perhaps 61 or 62 A. D. Some writers think this Epistle does not harmonize with the Epistles of Paul. On this topic little can be said. The two apostles had each his own aspect of a cardinal truth, and their expressions have reference to the special need of those they respectively addressed. Paul vindicates the power of a living faith, James shows that if it be not a living faith it is worthless. The two are not at variance. On account of his distinguished piety and sanctity he was named James the Just. Notwithstanding the high opinion that was generally entertained of his character, his life was prematurely terminated by martyrdom. According to Hegesippus, an ecclesiastical historian who flourished about the close of the second century, this event took place about A. D. 62. This Epistle is one of the most pathetic and instructive in the New Testament. Its style possesses all that beautiful and elegant simplicity which so eminently characterizes the sacred writers.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PETER.

SIMON, surnamed Cephas or Peter (which appellation signifies a stone or rock), was the son of Jonas or Jonah, and was born in Bethsaida, on the coast of the Sea of Galilee, following the occupation of fisherman on that lake until called by Jesus to be his apostle. In the evangelical history of this apostle the distinguishing features in his character are signally portrayed, and in no small degree enhance the credibility of the sacred historians, that they have blended without disguise several traits of his precipitance and presumption with the honorable testimony which the narration of facts affords to the sincerity of his attachment to Christ, and the fervor of his zeal in the cause of his blessed Master. After our Saviour's ascension, Peter took an active part in the affairs of the infant church. It was he who proposed the election of a successor to the traitor Judas (Acts. i. 15-26), and on the ensuing day of Pentecost he preached Christ so effectually that three thousand souls were added to the church. After laboring zealously for many years in the cause of Christ, he was finally crucified at Rome, A. D. 63, during the reign of the Emperor Nero. The design of this Epistle was to support the Christians under afflictions and trials, to which they were subjected, and to instruct them how to behave in the midst of the opposition and cruelty with which they were treated, submissive to civil authority, attentive to their duties in their several stations, and leading blameless and exemplary lives. This Epistle is sparing in words, but full of sense, majestic, and one of the finest books of the New Testament. The genuineness and canonical authority of this Epistle have never been disputed.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PETER.

SOME doubts were entertained by the primitive churches respecting the authenticity of this Epistle, which has been received as the genuine production of Peter ever since the fourth century, except by the Syrian Church, in which it is read as an excellent book, though not of canonical authority. We have, however, most satisfactory evidence of its genuineness and authenticity. Clement of Rome has three allusions to the second and one to the third chapter of this Epistle, and it is twice referred to by Hermas, once by Justin Martyr, and also by Athenagoras. Various reasons have been assigned why this Epistle was not earlier acknowledged as the writing of Peter. Jerome informs us that the difference in style between this and the former Epistle was in his day the principal cause of its authority being disputed, and the same objection has been adopted by other modern writers. No objection, however, can be drawn from this circumstance, as it is well known that different subjects suggest different styles. Both external and internal evidence show that the Second Epistle of Peter is unquestionably the production of that apostle, and claims to be received and studied with the same devout care and attention as the other inspired writings of the New Testament. That Peter was old and near his death when he wrote this Epistle is evident from chap. i. 14; and that it was written soon after the First Epistle appears from the apology he makes (ch. i. 13, 15) for writing this Second Epistle to the Hebrew Christians. The scope of the Epistle is to confirm the doctrines and instructions delivered in the former, to establish the Hebrew Christians in the faith of the gospel, to caution them against false teachers, and to warn them against those profane scoffers who should make a mock of Christ's coming to judgment. He warns them to prepare for that great even by a holy and unblamable conversation.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF JOHN.

ALTHOUGH no name is prefixed to this book, its authenticity as a genuine production of the apostle John is unquestionable. It was almost universally received as his composition in the Eastern and Western Churches, and is declared to be genuine by many of the most eminent ancient and modern ecclesiastical writers. The Epistle is characterized by artless simplicity and benevolence, blended with singular modesty and candor, together with a wonderful sublimity of sentiment. It is not properly speaking an epistle, but rather a didactic discourse upon the principles of christianity in doctrine and practice, opening sublimely with the fundamental topics of God's perfection, and man's depravity, and Christ's propitiation, perspicuously propounding the deepest mysteries of our holy faith maintaining the sanctity of its precepts with energy of argument, and exhibiting in all its parts the most dignified simplicity of language. With regard to the date of this Epistle, there is a considerable diversity of opinion, but the most probable of these various opinions is that which assigns to it an early date, namely, before the destruction of Jerusalem and the subversion of the Jewish polity. From all the evidence before us, we conclude that St. John wrote his First Epistle in A. D. 68, or at the latest in 69; though it is impossible to ascertain from what place he sent it—whether from Patmos, as Grotius supposes, or from some city in Judea, as Dr. Macknight supposes, or from Ephesus, as Irenæus and Eusebius relate from ancient tradition, which has been generally received. The style of the Epistle is pure, clear and flowing, and an affectionate spirit prevades the whole.

SECOND AND THIRD EPISTLES OF JOHN.

IN the fourth century, when Eusebius wrote his ecclesiastical history, these two epistles were classed among the books which were received by the majority of Christians, though some doubts were entertained by others respecting their authenticity. Testimonies are not wanting, however, to prove that they were both known and received as genuine productions of the apostle John. The Second Epistle is cited by Irenæus, and received by Clement of Alexandria. Origen mentions all three epistles, though he says that the second and third were not allowed to be genuine by all persons. Dionysius of Alexandria mentions them as being ascribed to St. John.

The Second Epistle is an epitome of the first, and touches, in few words, on the same points. The "Lady Electa" is commended for her virtuous and religious education of her children, and is exhorted to abide in the doctrine of Christ, to persevere in the truth, and carefully to avoid the delusions of false teachers. But chiefly does the apostle beseech this Christian matron to practice the great and indispensable commandment of Christian love and charity.

The Third Epistle of John is addressed to a converted Gentile, a respectable member of some Christian church, called Caius, but who he was is a matter of uncertainty, as there are three persons of this name mentioned in the New Testament. Michaelis and most modern critics suppose the person to whom this Epistle was addressed to be the Caius of Corinth, as hospitality was a leading feature of his character. His hospitable temper, particularly toward the ministers of the gospel, is strongly marked in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth verses of this Epistle. The scope of this Epistle is to commend his steadfastness in the faith and his general hospitality, especially to the ministers of Christ; to caution him against the ambitious and turbulent practices of Diotrephes, and to recommend Demetrius to his friendship, referring what he further had to say to a personal interview. Commentators are by no means agreed as to who this Diotrephes was. Bede, Erasmus, Michaelis and others suppose him to have been the author of a new sect, and that, as he delivered false doctrines, he objected to those who propagated the true faith. The character of Demetrius, on the contrary, was in every respect conformable to the precepts of the gospel, and St. John recommends him as an example to Caius, and the other members of the church.

THE EPISTLE OF JUDE.

JUDE or Judas, who was surnamed Thaddeus and Lebbeus, and who was also called the brother of our Lord (Matt. xiii. 25), was the son of Alpheus, brother of James the Less, and one of the twelve apostles. As he continued with the rest of the apostles after our Lord's resurrection and ascension (Acts i. 13), and was also with them on the day of Pentecost, it is not unreasonable to suppose that, after having received the extraordinary gifts of the Holy Spirit, he preached the gospel for some time in Judea, and performed miracles in the name of Christ. He is said to have propagated Christianity in Arabia, Syria, Mesopotamia and Persia, and suffered martyrdom in the last named country. The Syrians still claim him as their apostle. When and where this epistle was written, and to whom it was addressed, are uncertain and immaterial. The design of the Epistle is to guard believers against the false teachers who had begun to insinuate themselves into the Christian Church, and to contend with the utmost earnestness and zeal for the true faith.

THE BOOK OF REVELATION.

THIS wonderful book stands alone among the sacred writings of the new dispensation, and occupies a place among them in many respects analogous to that of the Book of Daniel in the Old Testament. It has been very generally ascribed in all ages of the Church to the apostle and evangelist St. John. We learn from the book itself that the visions which it records were seen by the writer while he was in Patmos, a small island in the Ægean Sea, as a prisoner "for the testimony of Jesus Christ" (chap. i. 9); and Irenæus fixes the date of the visions, and therefore (as may be assumed) that of the composition of the book, about the end of the reign of Domitian, in or shortly before A. D. 96. No book has been more commented upon or has given rise to a greater variety of interpretations than the Apocalypse, which has ever been accounted the most difficult portion of the New Testament. Although many parts of the Apocalypse are necessarily obscure to us, because they contain predictions of events still in the future, yet enough is sufficiently clear to convey to us the most important religious instruction. The book is to us precisely what the prophecies of the Old Testament were to the Jews, nor is it in any degree more inexplicable. "No prophecies in the Revelation can be more clouded with obscurity than that a child should be born of a poor virgin—that a mortal should not see corruption—that a person despised and numbered among malefactors should be established forever on the throne of David. Yet still the pious Jew preserved his faith entire amidst all these wonderful and apparently contradictory intimations. He looked into the holy books in which they were contained with reverence, and with an eye of patient expectation 'waited for the consolation of Israel.'"

EXPRESSIONS FOR SOCIAL PRAYER.

ADORATION.		Psa. cviii. 4.
Jer. x. 6, 7.	Forasmuch as there is none like unto thee, O Lord; thou art great, and thy name is great in might: who would not fear thee, O King of nations?	— cxiii. 2.	For thy mercy is great above the heavens, and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds.
Psa. cxliv. 30.	All thy works shall praise thee, O Lord, and thy saints shall bless thee. They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power.	— cxiii. 3.	Blessed be the name of the Lord from this time forth, and for evermore.
— lxxv. 2.	O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come	— 5, 6.	From the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same, thy Lord's name is to be praised.
CONFESSION.		2 Cor. ix. 15.
Dan. ix. 5.	We have sinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts and from thy judgments.	— 7.	Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins according to the richness of his grace.
1 John i. 8.	If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.	1 Pet. i. 2. 4.	Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled, and that fadeth not away.
Isa. lxiv. 6.	We are all as an unclean thing.	Eph. i. 3.
SUPPLICATION.		Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in Christ.
Psa. lxxvii. 1.	God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us.	DEDICATION.
— lxxxv. 7.	Wilt thou not revive us again, that thy people may rejoice in thee?	Isa. xxvi. 13.	O Lord our God, other lords besides thee have had dominion over us; but by thee only will we make mention of thy name.
— 8.	Show us thy mercy, O Lord, and grant us thy salvation.	— lxiii. 19.	We are thine.
INTERCESSION.		DOXOLOGY.
— lxxvii. 3.	Let the people praise thee, O God; let all the people praise thee.	Phil. iv. 20.	Now unto God and our Father be glory for ever and ever. Amen.
— vii. 9.	Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end; but establish the just.	Rev. vii. 10.	Salvation to our God which sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb.
THANKSGIVING.		— vi. 12.	Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honor, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.
— cvii. 15.	Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, for his wonderful works to the children of men!

EXPRESSIONS FOR PRIVATE PRAYER.

ADORATION.		Gen. xxxii. 26.
Psa. cxviii. 1.	I will love thee, O Lord, my strength.	Prov. xxx. 8.	I will not let thee go, except thou bless me.
— 2.	The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower.	— 9.	Remove far from me vanity and lies; give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me.
— lxxii. 1.	Truly my soul waiteth upon God; from him cometh my salvation.	Joh. xvi. 22.	Lest I be full, and deny thee, and say, Who is the Lord? or lest I be poor, and steal, and take the name of my God in vain.
— 2.	He only is my rock and my salvation; he is my defence; I shall not be greatly moved.	Psa. xxxix. 4.	When a few years are come, then I shall go the way whence I shall not return.
CONFESSION.		Lord, make me to know mine end, and the measure of my days, what it is, that I may know how frail I am.
— li. 3.	I acknowledge my transgression, and my sin is ever before me.	INTERCESSION.
Rom. vii. 18.	For I know that in me, that is in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing; for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not.	Eph. vi. 24.	Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity.
— 24.	O wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me from the body of this death?	Psa. cxxxv. 4.	Do good, O Lord, unto those that he good, and to them that are upright in their hearts.
Job xi. 4.	Behold, I am vile; what shall I answer thee? I will lay my hand upon my mouth.	Isa. lxiv. 1.	Oh that thou wouldst rend the heavens, that thou wouldst come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy presence.
SUPPLICATION.		Psa. cxliii. 3.	Oh send out thy light and thy truth.
Luke xviii. 13.	God be merciful to me a sinner.	— lvii. 11.	Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens; let thy glory be above all the earth.
Psa. li. 10.	Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me.	— lxxii. 18.	Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel, who only doeth wondrous things.
— li. 1.	Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving-kindness; according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies, blot out my transgressions.	— 19.	And blessed be his glorious name for ever; and let the whole earth be filled with his glory. Amen and Amen.
— xxv. 11.	For thy name's sake, O Lord, pardon mine iniquity, for it is great!	THANKSGIVING.
— xxv. 7.	Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions; according to thy mercy remember thou me for thy goodness' sake, O Lord.	— xl. 1.	I waited patiently for the Lord, and he inclined unto me and heard my cry.
— 11.	Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thy holy spirit from me.	— 5.	Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered.
— 12.	Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, and uphold me with thy free spirit.	— cxxxix. 17.	How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! how great is the sum of them!
— 15.	O Lord, open thou my lips, and my mouth shall show forth thy praise.	— cxxxix. 18.	If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand: when I awake, I am still with thee.
— xvii. 7.	Hold up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not.	— ciii. 1.	Bless the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within me, bless his holy name.
— cxix. 149.	Hear my voice according unto thy loving-kindness; O Lord, quicken me according to thy judgment.	— 2.	Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits.
— 175.	Let my soul live, and it shall praise thee; and let thy judgments help me.	— ciii. 3.	Who forgiveth all thine iniquities, who healeth all thy diseases.
— 176.	I have gone astray like a lost sheep; seek thy servant, for I do not forget thy commandments.	— 4.	Who redeemeth thy life from destruction: who crowneth thee with loving-kindness and tender mercies.
— cxxxix. 23.	Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me, and know my thoughts;	— cxvi. 12.	What shall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits toward me?
— 24.	And see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting.	— 13.	I will take the cup of salvation and call upon the name of the Lord.
— xxv. 4.	Shew me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths.	— cxlv. 10.	All thy works shall praise thee, O Lord, and thy saints shall bless thee.
— 5.	Lead me in thy truth, and teach me, for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day.	— cxlix. 4.	For the Lord taketh pleasure in his people, he will beautify the meek with salvation.
— cxix. 18.	Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.	DEDICATION.
1 Chron. i. 10.	Oh that thou wouldst bless me indeed, and enlarge my coast, and that thine hand might be with me, and that thou wouldst keep me from evil, that it may not grieve me!	— cxvi. 16.	O Lord, truly I am thy servant; I am thy servant, and the son of thine handmaid: thou hast loosed my bonds.
Psa. li. 9.	Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities.	— 9.	I will walk before the Lord in the land of the living.
		DOXOLOGY.
		1 Tim. i. 17.	Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honor and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Dionysius, bishop of Corinth, A. D. 170, says that Peter and Paul went to Italy, preached together there, and suffered martyrdom about the same time. Caius of Rome, in the 2d century, names the grave of Peter on the Vatican, and of Paul on the Ostian Way; and others, as Eusebius, Tertullian, and Jerome, agree in this account. The locality around Paul's grave is now used as a cemetery for strangers who die in Rome.
Barnabas and Silas sent with Paul to Antioch . . . " " 36	Agabus prophesies Paul's danger at Jerusalem . . . " " 11	The principle which harmonizes all the acts, and preaching, and letters of Paul, was a belief in Jesus as the Divine Spirit — a living Master, intimately related to every living soul, of whose Gospel he was the special Messenger. This purified his love of his own people, and opened his heart toward all mankind.

PROPHECIES IN OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS LITERALLY FULFILLED.

TEXT.	THE FULFILLMENT.	TEXT.	THE FULFILLMENT.
Gen. 9: 25, 27.	The descendants of Shem and Japheth are "ruling" and "enlarged," but the descendants of Ham are still "the servants of servants."	Nah. 1: 3.	Nineveh is completely destroyed, and for ages its locality was unknown.
Gen. 16: 10, 12. Gen. 17: 20. Gen. 49: 10.	The posterity of Ishmael have "multiplied exceedingly," living like "wild men," "their hand against every man," free in "the presence of all their brethren," and of all their enemies. "The sceptre has departed from Judah."	Isa. 13: 14.	Babylon has been swept with "the besom of destruction," is made "a desolation for ever," "a possession for the bittern and pools of water," "a dwelling-place for dragons, an astonishment and hissing, without an inhabitant."
Lev. 26: 38, 39. Deut. 28: 62, 67. Ezek. 5: 10, 15. Hos. 3: 4.	The Jews have been "led away into all nations," "Jerusalem has been trodden down by the Gentiles," the people have been "plucked from off their own land," "removed into all the kingdoms of the earth," "scattered among the heathen," "among all people," "sifted among all nations," have "become a proverb," have found "among these nations no ease, and the sole of their foot had no rest," have "been many days without a king and without a sacrifice."	Ezek. 26: 4, 5.	Tyre has become "like the top of a rock, a place for fishers to spread their nets upon."
Num. 23: 9.	The Jews "dwell alone," and are not "reckoned among the nations."	Ezek. 29: 14, 15.	Egypt became "a base kingdom," tributary to strangers, and never able to "exalt itself above the nations."
Num. 24: 20.	"The remembrance of Amalek" is "utterly put out from under heaven."	Dan. 11: 37, 39.	The fourth and last of the four great kingdoms was divided into ten kingdoms, and among them has arisen a power with a triple crown, "diverse from the first," "with a mouth speaking very great things," "wearing out the saints of the Most High," "changing times and laws," ruling "over many and dividing the land for gain."
Ps. 2: 8. Mal. 1: 11.	The Lord has given to the Messiah "the heathen for his inheritance," and the progress of the gospel is hastening the time when "from the rising of the sun, even to the going down of the same, his name shall be great among the Gentiles."	Luke 21: 24.	The Jews have been led into all nations, and Jerusalem has been trodden down of the Gentiles.
Jer. 49: 17, etc. Ezek. 25: 12, etc. Joel 3: 19. Amos 1: 11, etc. Obad. 10: 18, etc.	The family of Esau has become extinct, "cut off for ever," so that there is "none remaining of the house of Esau." The "palaces of Bozrah" have been "devoured by fire." Fire was "kindled in Rabbah and in the palaces thereof," and Ammon was destroyed as in "the day of the whirlwind."	1 Tim. 4: 1-3.	The apostasy here predicted has taken place. The Roman Church has forbidden the priesthood "to marry," and commanded "to abstain from meats."
		Rev. 2: 3.	The decay of the seven Asiatic churches and their fate have been literally foretold.
		Rev. 13-17.	The rise, power and fury of the mystical Babylon are here set forth, and Rome built on seven hills is pointed out as the seat of this tyranny.
			The omniscient Lord of all, who seeth the end from the beginning, could alone have foretold these events, which have already come to pass.

1 SAMUEL. The story of the nation during the judgeship of Samuel and the reign of Saul.

2 SAMUEL. Story of the reign of David.

1 and 2 KINGS. The books of Kings form only one book in the Hebrew MSS. They contain the history of the nation from David's death and Solomon's accession to the destruction of the kingdom of Judah and the desolation of Jerusalem, with a supplement of the liberation of Jehoiachin from his prison at Babylon, twenty-six years later; they comprehend the whole time of the Israelitish monarchy, except the reigns of Saul and David.

THE TEMPLES. The Temples are so called as being the record made by the appointed sanctifiers of the kingdoms of Judah and Israel; they are the official history of those kingdoms.

EZRA. The story of the return of the Jews from the Babylonish captivity, and of the rebuilding of the temple.

NEHEMIAH. A further account of the rebuilding of the temple and city, and of the obstacles encountered and overcome.

ESTHER. The story of a Jewess who becomes queen of Persia and saves the Jewish people from destruction.

JOB. The story of the trials and patience of a holy man of Edom.

PSALMS. A collection of sacred poems intended for use in the worship of Jehovah. Chiefly the productions of David.

PROVERBS. The wise sayings of Solomon.

ECCLESIASTES. A poem respecting the vanity of earthly things.

SOLOMON'S SONG. An allegory relating to the Church.

ISAIAH. Prophecies respecting Christ and his kingdom.

JEREMIAH. Prophecies announcing the captivity of Judah, its sufferings, and the final overthrow of its enemies.

LAMENTATIONS. The utterance of Jeremiah's sorrow upon the capture of Jerusalem and the destruction of the temple.

EZEKIEL. Messages of warning and comfort to the Jews in their captivity.

DANIEL. A narrative of some of the occurrences of the captivity, and a series of prophecies concerning Christ.

HOSEA. Prophecies relating to Christ and the latter days.

JOEL. Prediction of woes upon Judah, and of the favor with which God will receive the penitent people.

AMOS. Prediction that Israel and other neighboring nations will be punished by conquerors from the north, and of the fulfillment of the Messiah's kingdom.

OBADIAH. Prediction of the desolation of Edom.

JONAH. Prophecies relating to Nineveh.

MICAH. Predictions relating to the invasions of Shalmaneser and Sennacherib, the Babylonish captivity, the establishment of a theocratic kingdom in Jerusalem, and the birth of the Messiah in Bethlehem.

NAHUM. Prediction of the downfall of Assyria.

HABAKUK. A prediction of the doom of the Chaldeans.

ZEPHANIAH. A prediction of the overthrow of Judah for its idolatry and wickedness.

HAGGAI. Prophecies concerning the rebuilding of the temple.

ZECARIAH. Prophecies relating to the rebuilding of the temple and the Messiah.

MATTHAI. Prophecies relating to the calling of the Gentiles and the coming of Christ.

NEW TESTAMENT.

GOSPEL OF ST. MATTHEW. A brief history of the life of Christ.

GOSPEL OF ST. MARK. A brief history of the life of Christ, supplying some incidents omitted by St. Matthew.

GOSPEL OF ST. LUKE. The history of the life of Christ, with especial reference to his most important acts and discourses.

GOSPEL OF ST. JOHN. The life of Christ, giving important discourses not related by the other evangelists.

ACTS OF THE APOSTLES. The history of the labors of the apostles and of the foundation of the Christian Church.

EPISTLE TO THE ROMANS. A treatise by St. Paul on the doctrine of justification by Christ.

FIRST EPISTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS. A letter from St. Paul to the Corinthians, correcting errors into which they had fallen.

SECOND EPISTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS. St. Paul confirms his disciples in their faith, and vindicates his own character.

EPISTLE TO THE GALATIANS. St. Paul maintains that we are justified by faith, and not by rites.

EPISTLE TO THE EPHESIANS. A treatise by St. Paul on the power of divine grace.

EPISTLE TO THE PHILIPPIANS. St. Paul sets forth the beauty of Christian kindness.

EPISTLE TO THE COLOSSIANS. St. Paul warns his disciples against errors, and exhorts to certain duties.

FIRST EPISTLE TO THE THESSALONIANS. St. Paul exhorts his disciples to continue in the faith and in holy conversation.

SECOND EPISTLE TO THE THESSALONIANS. St. Paul corrects an error concerning the speedy coming of Christ the second time.

FIRST AND SECOND EPISTLES TO TIMOTHY. St. Paul instructs Timothy in the duty of a pastor, and encourages him in the work of the ministry.

EPISTLE TO TITUS. St. Paul encourages Titus in the performance of his ministerial duties.

EPISTLE TO PHILEMON. An appeal to a converted master to receive a converted escaped slave with kindness.

EPISTLE TO THE HEBREWS. St. Paul maintains that Christ is the substance of the ceremonial law.

EPISTLE OF ST. JAMES. A treatise on the efficacy of faith united with good works.

FIRST AND SECOND EPISTLES OF ST. PETER. Exhortations to a Christian life, with various warnings and predictions.

FIRST EPISTLE OF ST. JOHN. Respecting the person of our Lord, and an exhortation to Christian love and conduct.

SECOND EPISTLE OF ST. JOHN. St. John warns a converted lady against false teachers.

THIRD EPISTLE OF ST. JOHN. A letter to Gaius, praising him for his hospitality.

EPISTLE OF ST. JUDE. Warnings against deceivers.

THE REVELATION. The future of the Church foretold.

COINS OF ALEXANDER AND HIS SUCCESSORS.

Before the time of Alexander the Great of Macedonia there were no portraits on coins, except of Gelon and Hiero at Syracuse in Sicily (108). Philip, the father of Alexander, left no portrait, his coins bearing a head of Zeus (Jupiter) or Hercules. The local deity of the country was honored on the coins of each—as Minerva at Athens (84), Arethusa at Syracuse (107), the Minotaur in Crete (142), Apollo and Diana in many cities, and nearly every other divinity, hero or heroine, or deified ruler, including also animal forms and mythical figures, mentioned in the ancient classics.

The Greeks were the earliest people to make and use coins with an image stamped on them, and also to make them depositories of portraits and figures of persons and objects which have become of great value to the historical student, adding much to our knowledge of antiquity.

No. 3.—ANTIOCHUS I. SOTER (280-261 B. C.).

The kingdom of Alexander was too vast to hold together under any other ruler, and his generals assumed royalty after his death, and each seized a portion. Seleucus, who had been made satrap of Babylonia, founded the Syrian monarchy; Ptolemy (see DICTIONARY, p. 80), a half-brother of Alexander, founded the dynasty of Greek Ptolemies in Egypt; Lysimachus obtained Thrace;

Antipater and Craterus jointly had Macedonia and Greece. Antiochus I. was son and successor of Seleucus I., and was honored with the title Soter (saviour) for his military successes. Antiochus II., his son, was called in flattery Theos his military genius, although defeated by the Roman general Glabrio at Thermopylæ in Greece, and again by Scipio at Magnesia in Asia Minor, when he lost a great territory and paid fifteen millions to the Romans for the expenses of the war.

The custom of the Seleucid kings of Syria was to adopt the names Seleucus or Antiochus alternately in succession; so the son and successor of Antiochus the Great was called Seleucus IV., and his brother, who succeeded him, was Antiochus IV. Epiphanes (see his coin in DICTIONARY, p. 8); and the student will find many incidents of the history of these kings in the Apocrypha, in Maccabees, and in Josephus. The likeness of Antiochus V. is here, and of the Sixth in the Dictionary, p. 8. Mithridates VI. was the last of a line of kings of Pontus, said to have had a Persian origin, about 337 B. C. He was the most powerful enemy the Romans had to contend with next to Hannibal, as estimated by Cicero. He was father-in-law to Tigranes. (See DICTIONARY, p. 92.)

Demetrius II., son of Demetrius I. (No. 8), was taken prisoner by Mithridates VI., and held nearly nine years, who gave him his daughter for a wife, during which time his brother, Antiochus VII., held the throne of Syria, and espoused Cleopatra, wife of Demetrius, but was deposed on his return. He is mentioned in Maccabees (1 Macc. x., xi., xii., xiv.) and in Josephus (Ant. xiii. 9, 3) as a friend to the Jews, reducing their tribute. He wore a beard after the Parthian fashion, while nearly every other Syrian king in that age shaved, as appears on their coins. Nearly all of these kings were occupied in wars and intrigues to the exclusion of any measures for the improvement of the condition of their people.

Tryphon was a usurper named Diodotus, from near Apamea, and was an officer of the court of Alexander Balas, who pretended a friendship for the young king Antiochus VI., son of Alexander, and who usurped the throne after killing him. He put his name on the coins of the young king, as seen in the DICTIONARY, p. 8. (See 1 Macc. xi., xiii., etc.)

Antiochus VII. expelled Tryphon and took his brother's wife. He made concessions to Simon, "high priest and prince of the Jews" (1 Macc. xv.; Jos. Ant. xiii. 7, 3). He afterward besieged Jerusalem, but made honorable terms with John Hyrcanus (133 B. C.), who accompanied him against the Parthians, where he was killed. This coin was struck at Tarsus. The shrine on the reverse of this coin contained a figure of the Greek goddess Hera (Juno in Rome) standing on a lion, holding in the left hand two palm-branches; the right hand extended, holding a staff or sceptre. She was called "Queen of heaven" in Jeremiah (vii. 18; xlv. 17; etc.). On each side of the lion is a vase or cup for the drink-offerings mentioned by Diodorus; a star over her head refers to the planet which was sacred to her. She was called the "Goddess of Syria," and had a great statue in her honor at Hierapolis (Dan. xi. 38). Called also Astarte, Ashtaroth, Mylitta, and Alitta.

Alexander II. was a purchased slave (zebina) and a pretender to the throne; favored by Ptol-

The coin of Cleopatra and Antiochus VIII. presents the heads of mother and son. She is entitled "goddess" on the reverse (THEAS). See coin 9 for an earlier portrait of Cleopatra. This king does not appear in Scripture, but was an active man—sometimes called Illustrious (epiphanes), and also Grypus (hook-nose). He was a man of energetic character.

Antiochus IX. was named Cyzicenus from the city where he was educated (by Craterus), and his coins add the title Patriot (philopatoros). He was a son of Antiochus VII. (13), and born while Demetrius was a prisoner among the Parthians; his mother was a Cleopatra. He shared the kingdom with his brother, Grypus (15), having Coele-Syria and Palestine, with his residence at Damascus. His wife had been repudiated by Ptolemy Lathyrus of Egypt, and brought him an army as a dowry. She was killed by order of her sister, Tryphena, at the altar of a sanctuary in Antioch. Besides his own head, he put on the coins those of Hercules, Zeus, Eros, Pallas and Apollo, Tyche, Dionysus, and Artemis, besides the anchor and various emblematic figures. This coin was struck at Sidon.

Demetrius III. Philopator (patriot) was a son of Antiochus Grypus (15). He was also flattered on his coins with the titles "savior," "god," and "thunderer." On the reverse is a figure of Demeter, called Ceres by the Romans.

Tigranes (DICTIONARY, p. 92), was son-in-law to Mithridates VI. (10), and after some extensive conquests assumed the title "King of kings" in Armenia. In 83 B. C. he conquered Syria and founded Tigranocerta. After submitting to the Romans, he was kept by them on the throne of Armenia until he died, 55 B. C. He made captive and tributary kings his house-servants.

After Cæsar's death, Asia and Egypt were allotted to Antony, and with the famous Cleopatra he indulged in luxury and repose, neglecting state affairs. He was defeated at Actium, when Octavius became sole emperor and augustus. Cleopatra, the last of the Greek dynasty in Egypt, was celebrated for her personal charms and various accomplish-

Arsaces also assumed the title of "King of kings," and warred with the Romans after his father, Mithridates, died. His grandson, called tions, and during his absence his brother, Antiochus VII., confirmed the decree. The first coin was made by them 139 B. C. It is called the shekel, and was valued at sixty cents. The inscription is read "Shekel of Israel" around, and A for year 1 over a cup on one side, and on the other, "Jerusalem the Holy" around a triple lily. The half-shekel is on page 66 of the Dictionary, and the copper shekel on page 67. The next coins were by John Hyrcanus, son of Simon.

No. 22.—JOHN HYRCANUS (135-106 B. C.).

He was with Antiochus in Parthia, conquered the Idumæans, destroyed Samaria, and built Arak el-Emir, east of Jordan. His coins were not called shekels, and the inscriptions and devices differed from the shekel. On this we read "Johanan the high priest and the Jews' Union" in an olive-wreath, and see two horns of plenty on the other side.

Judas Aristobulus struck coins only in bronze, with a similar inscription to that on his brother

John's, calling himself "high priest." He also assumed the title of "king," putting an end to the theocracy and establishing the monarchy (Jos. Ant. xiii. 11, 1) for one year.

Alexander Jannæus, his brother, succeeded, and reigned twenty-seven years, issuing many coins. Ptolemy Lathyrus, king of Cyprus, invaded Judæa, and was defeated by Jannæus, assisted by Cleopatra, queen of Egypt, mother of Lathyrus. His coins have for devices a rose,

Herod Philip II. was son of Herod and Cleopatra, and was made TETRARCH (governor of a fourth part) of the Hauran, etc. (Luke iii. 1). He married Salome, daughter of Herod Philip I. and Herodias. He built Cæsarea Philippi (Paneas), and named Bethsaida Julias (Luke x. 10), where he was buried under a monument

In earnest a Jew, he lived at Jerusalem, kept the laws, and improved the country by building or repairing public works and instituting games.

No. 31.—HEROD OF CHALCIS (41-48 A. D.).

Herod of Chalcis was son of Aristobulus and Berenice, and brother of Agrippa. He was made king by Claudius (who at the same time gave Agrippa II. Judæa and Samaria), and resided at Chalcis in Cœle-Syria, and he was also given the appointment of the high priest, the superintendence of the temple, and regulation of the sacred treasury.

No. 33.—CHALKOUS OF AGRIPPA.

The chalkous is supposed to have been the only money that the poor Jews were able to bring to the synagogue weekly in the year 73 A. D., as it is dated when the temple was in ruins.

Coponius was the first procurator of Judæa, and was assigned to duty after Archelaus was banished, 6 A. D. He came with the prefect Quirinus (Cyrenius, No. 58). The procurator was the governor in Judæa, collector of revenue and general regulator of financial affairs, and in later times was supreme in both civil and military duties (Matt. xxvii.; Luke iii. 1; Acts xxii.; etc.). The second was Ambivius; the third, Marcus Rufus, in whose term the augustus died.

No. 35.—VALERIUS GRATUS (16 A. D.).

Felix was a slave of Antonia, mother of Claudius, was advanced in the army and appointed to Judæa in 52 A. D. Tacitus says, "He wielded the sceptre of a monarch with the soul of a slave."

No. 37.—FELIX, UNDER NERO (54-68 A. D.).

He married Drusilla, sister of Agrippa. His first wife was Drusilla, daughter of Juba; his third also a princess.

FIRST REVOLT OF THE JEWS.

The Jews were so oppressed by the Romans that they broke out into revolt several times, but were put down easily, except when, under Gessius Florus, they suffered unbearable tyranny.

No. 38.—ELEAZAR (65 A. D.).

The first revolt began under the emperor Nero, A. D. 60, and one of the first war-measures was to issue money to pay soldiers and for the use of the people, who detested the coins of the Romans as blasphemous and badges of servitude. The most capable leader was Eleazar, son of the high priest Ananias before whom Paul was tried. (Acts xxiii. 3.) His coins have the words "Eleazar the high priest" and "First year of the Redemption of Israel." The types he used were various, being vase, harp, treasury (for sacred books), fruit, palm tree, and others.

The only true shekels were those made by Simon the Maccabee (No. 21), all coins after his death having some other name, although writers usually call any piece of Hebrew money a shekel. The sizes of the various pieces were made to conform to those of the Greek and Roman standards. The stater (Nos. 9, 135, 140) was equal to sixty cents and Simon's shekel (No. 21); the double stater (Nos. 14, 10, 139, etc.) was equal to two shekels; the mite (Nos. 31, 33) of copper was about a quarter of a cent.

No. 40.—SIMON, SON OF GAMALIEL.

Simon, son of Gamaliel, chief of the Sanhedrin, called "Nasi" (prince), struck coins after Eleazar's death, and also Ananus, son of Ananus. The Sanhedrin authorized bronze coins to be issued, with the legend "Year 2" around the vase, and "Deliverance of Zion" around the vine-leaf.

No. 41.—SANHEDRIN.

On some coins the name Zion stands for Jerusalem. During the siege by Titus Cæsar (who was afterward the emperor Titus) the Jews used Greek or Roman coins to strike their own devices on, as appears on many coins of that time, as also on those of the second revolt. (Nos. 46, 47, 48.)

The Romans did not permit their provinces to strike coins of gold or silver; therefore, the only coins of Herod and his successors are in bronze. The tribute-money was of necessity a Roman coin, bearing the head of "Cæsar" or the emperor, and was valued at sixty cents, the sum required for two persons.

JERUSALEM CAPTURED.

The revolt was suppressed, and Jerusalem captured by the Romans under Titus, his father, Vespasian, being emperor. A great number was struck by the Romans to commemorate the event—by Vespasian, in gold, silver, and bronze, and also by Titus. One of Vespasian is shown on page 98 in the Dictionary. This bronze (42) coin of Titus is read, "The emperor Titus Cæsar Vespasian, Priest, Tribunal Power, Consul second time." On the reverse is a palm bearing dates, with a Roman soldier (Titus) armed, and a woman for Judæa weeping, seated on arms; S. C. for Decree of the Senate.

No. 43.—TITUS (73 A. D.).

No. 43 is described, "Titus standing, his right foot on the prow of a vessel, holding a 'Victory' and a spear; at his feet are two Jews in supplication, and near a palm." Dated 73 A. D. No. 44 is a coin in honor of a naval victory, and is supposed to refer to the one described by Josephus (Wars, iii. 9).

When the war began, Nero sent Vespasian with the army to Palestine, and he took his son, Titus, with him as his lieutenant; and when Nero died, A. D. 68, Vespasian became emperor, returned to Rome, and left Titus in command at Jerusalem. Vespasian was proclaimed emperor at Alexandria, Egypt, July 1, 69, and at Jerusalem, in the camp of Titus, July 3. Jerusalem was taken September 8, A. D. 70.

Titus was honored with the title of "emperor" (which was equal to commander-in-chief) on the fall of Jerusalem. He had served under his father in the siege and capture of the cities Tarichæa and Gamala, described by Josephus. In the triumphal procession of Vespasian at Rome, Titus was associated with his father and with his brother, Domitian; he was also nominated a cæsar—that is, an heir to the throne of Rome. A triumphal arch, the "Arch of Titus," was erected at Rome, and is still standing, bearing sculptures in memory of the trophies and victory over the Jews. It is the oldest arch of the kind in that city, and one of the most interesting monuments in the world. Besides the coins of Vespasian and Titus, those of Domitian bore devices recording the capture of Jerusalem. The Romans evidently regarded it as an important event, for they stamped it on their coins during twenty-six years.

No. 44.—TITUS.

THE SECOND REVOLT OF THE JEWS.

From the time of the first Cæsar, Julius, the Jews, when at peace, had a certain amount of liberty and many privileges. Some Jews had the Roman franchise at Ephesus and elsewhere, and Seneca said of them, "Though conquered, they gave laws to their conquerors." After the revolt which was put down by Titus, they paid tributes fixed by Vespasian, but under Nerva these were abolished, and coin No. 45 was struck to commemorate the event. But Jewish hatred to Rome could not so easily be quieted, and after a few years a second revolt broke out, in 115 A. D., in Cyrene, Egypt, Asia Minor, and Cyprus. In 117 A. D., Hadrian sent a colony of veteran soldiers to Jerusalem, and the revolt broke out there, aided by the cry, "The Messiah has come!" referring to the new leader, Simon Barkokab, called "Son of the Star" (Num. xxiv. 17-24), but the war did not begin until 131 A. D.

No. 45.—NERVA (115 A. D.).

No. 47.—SIMON BARKOKAB.

It was an ancient custom of the Syrian kings and Egyptian Ptolemies to honor a successful general or a patriotic king and general of the army with the title "SAVIOR"—in Greek, SOTER—as seen on coin No. 3; the first Ptolemy was a Soter, also the first Demetrius. The Romans honored their emperor or general with the title "Father of the Country" for similar services. The Hebrews were very jealous of permitting any human image on a coin, and therefore we read only the name of the high priest or other person in chief authority, and the pious sentence, "The Deliverance of Jerusalem," as on No. 47, and "The Deliverance of Zion" on others. These coins were issued at the mint under the authority of the Sanhedrin or senate, with a new device on the accession of each high priest, king, or ethnarch. The coin No. 48 is probably the last coined by the Jews as a people.

The leader Barkokab struck Hebrew devices over silver coins of Titus, as in this case, and over those of Trajan (No. 47) and of Domitian, and of copper over various types, as in 48, where the letters on the margin show that the original coin was of Trajan.

No other Roman coins of a later date struck at Jerusalem have been found. The next coinage of that city is of the Arabs, who made many varieties, No. 57 reading "Mohammed is the Apostle of God" in Cufic letters, and Elagabalus was a Syrian, named Bassianus, but known by his title as priest of the sun-deity, which was worshiped at Emesa under that name. He was an Oriental in habits, tastes, and training, and had no sympathy for Roman laws, discipline, or its religion. His reign was cut short by the mob, his successor being Alexander Severus, his cousin.

No. 55.—TRAJAN (249-251 A. D.).

Caius Messius Quintus Trajan Decius was urged to accept the throne of Rome much against his inclination. Under his rule the Goths first made their appearance in the empire as enemies. Decius entered the field against them, leaving Valerian in Rome to rule with the title of Censor. He was the first of all the Roman emperors to fall in battle with the enemy. The coins struck in Jerusalem with his head and titles were honorary, as it is not recorded that he ever visited the city. His wife, Herennia Ætruscilla, is honored on the coin with the title Augusta (the venerable), and with a fine bust-portrait, set in a crescent moon in reference to her purity of character. The figure on the other side of the coin is of the goddess Modesty, and is also in honor of the queen. These religious honors were decreed by the Senate, and have been the means of perpetuating the memory of the noble woman in the absence of other records.

No. 57.—ARABIAN.

The caliph Omar captured Jerusalem 637 A. D., and struck coins in honor of the event, one of a long series, during over 400 years, being given here. Their inscriptions are always in monogram, often artistically constructed. The soil in and around the Holy City contains many buried treasures of coins, vast numbers of which are brought to light every year. The people in the villages of Palestine, in digging up old foundations or cellars for new houses, find deposits of ancient coins, mostly of bronze, a few silver, and only now and then gold. At Sidon three different deposits have been found of gold coins of Philip and Alexander the Great—in all over 20,000 pieces, of from $10 to $50 each in value.

No. 58.—CYRENIUS, PREFECT OF SYRIA.

The coin of Cyrenius (Quirinus) recalls the mention of the census made for Cæsar Augustus in Luke (ii. 2), when "all the world" was taxed, about the time of the birth of Jesus. The portrait shows a character in accord with the accounts given by historians of the cruel and inhuman exactions of the tax-gatherers of that time. He was so detested that the Senate of Rome refused him the honors of a public funeral, although requested by the emperor Tiberius.

Herod Archelaus (59 and 28) was ruler in Palestine when, it is supposed, Paul was "at the foot of Gamaliel," Antipas governed Galilee and Peræa, and Philip (29) Trachonitis, Auranitis, and Batanæa. When Archelaus was banished, Judæa, etc. became a Roman province; Coponius was procurator when Cyrenius was prefect; he was succeeded by Ambivius, 10 A. D., and Annius Rufus, 13 A. D.; then Valerius Gratus, 14, and Pontius Pilate, 25; Marcellus, 35; Marullus, 37; and in 38 Agrippa I. was made governor of Judæa until 44; then Cuspius Fadus, Tiberius Alexander, 47, Felix, 52, and Festus, 60, Annas, 62, Albinus, 62; and the last one was Gessius Florus, in A. D. 65, who was the great cause of the first revolt.

No. 60.—AMBIVIVS.

The general policy of Augustus as to the government of Judæa was, as advised by Mæcenas, to continue the prefect in office three or five years. Augustus died 14 A. D., after a reign of fifty-seven years, at the age of seventy-seven, and was succeeded by his adopted son, Tiberius, son of his wife Livia, who was a less active and more luxurious ruler, and who adopted a new line of policy, which was to change the rulers of provinces as seldom as possible, so as to avoid plundering the people by new and hungry officials. In a reign of twenty-two years he changed the procurator of Judæa only once. The first procurator under Tiberius was Valerius Gratus, in whose time Joseph, also called Caiaphas, was made high priest. After ruling eleven years he made way for Pontius Pilate, in the seventh year of whose rule (33 A. D., April 2d) the Gospel narrative makes Jesus of Nazareth appear before him for trial before crucifixion. Recent discoveries have enabled the student to follow the entire history of that age from one ruler to another, with nearly every detail supplied from antiquities.

Paul was a native of Tarsus, which was a metropolis, and had a famous idol-shrine (as shown here, and more distinctly on No. 13). These idol-shrines are scattered throughout Phœ-nicia, and are now tumbling into ruins. Hera is standing on a lion, holding emblems in each hand, a conical object each side of the lion, and an eagle on the apex; garlands decorate the front and sides. The inscription is "(Money) of King Antiochus the Benefactor." Some of the coins of Tarsus have a figure of a woman as an emblem of the city, and of another for the river Cydnus, on which the famous Cleopatra made a magnificent display in entering the city. (See coin of Tarsus in DICTIONARY, p. 103.)

No. 63.—CITY OF ANTIOCH.

The coin of Antioch has an emblem of the river Orontes beneath the feet of a woman personifying the city, the inscription reading, "Of Antioch the Metropolis." This city was founded by Seleucus I., 300 B. C. (See DICTIONARY, p. 7.) The coinage includes many of the Greek kings and Roman governors of Syria. We have coins of the Roman governors—P. Q. Varus, dated B. C. 7-6, and Volusius Saturninus, prefect from 4-5 A. D.; and he was followed by Quirinus (Cyrenius; No. 58).

The coin of Damascus is supposed to refer to the fountains or rivers that water its gardens in the Greek word PEGAI. The device is an emblem of the city, a woman holding fruit and a horn of plenty, seated in a court surrounded by a market, a temple with a statue of a deity above, the sun and moon on either side. The head is of Julia Aquila Severa, wife of the emperor Elagabalus.

No. 65.—ARETAS.

Aretas was the title of the rulers of the Nabatheans of Arabia, who built Petra and many other cities little known. There were several kings with this title, one of whom is here called "Bacchius the Jew," and on the other side of the coin is the name of a Roman general, Plautus. The head is an emblem of the city of Petra. (See No. 143.)

On coin 66 we read, "Tiberius Claudius Cæsar Augustus" around a grain-measure; and on the other side, "Elected Consul the second time, High Priest, Tribunal Power, Emperor," around Josephus says the great famine occurred under the procurators Fadus and Tiberius Alexander, 44 to 48 A. D. It was the custom of the Jews in all countries to send money to Jerusalem to relieve the distress of their brethren there. The custom is in full force now.

under Cominius Proclus, Proconsul." The head is of the emperor Claudius. The coin of Paphos refers to a temple of Venus, now in ruins. The temple-ruins at Paphos have not yet been examined; but another temple to Venus—also called Aphrodite and Astarte—was exhumed at Golgos, near the centre of the island, when 1000 marble statues came to light, some colossal, others life-size, and many smaller. These are now in the Metropolitan Museum, New York. Pausanias says in his ancient history that Agapenor, a general of the Greeks under Agamemnon, returning after the close of the siege of Troy, was wrecked on the coast of Cyprus, landed, and built the town of Paphos and its temple to Venus, which was much later in time than the one at Golgos. The people of the island at that time are said to have numbered seven millions.

No. 69.—PERGA IN PAMPHYLIA.

Mark, the cousin of Barnabas, Paul's companion, left them at Perga, whose coin, shown here, bears the image of the goddess Diana, a stag, and other religious emblems, with the inscription, "Of Diana of Perga." (See PERGA in the DICTIONARY.) Diana is named on this coin Artemis.

The coin of Iconium, shown here, is inscribed "Nero Cæsar Augustus" around a head of the young Nero; and on the reverse, "Poppæa Augusta of the Claud-Iconians," around a seated figure of Poppæa, wife of Nero. Iconium was made a Roman colony by Claudius, and named Claudia. (See ICONIUM in the DICTIONARY.) Xenophon says it was a city in Phrygia, as in his history of the Expedition of Cyrus he says, "he came to Iconium, the last city of Phrygia," but Cicero, Strabo, and other ancients say it was in Pamphylia. It is a very ancient place, for Xenophon wrote about 360 B. C.

No. 71.—ATTALIA.

The coin of Attalia is of the emperor Commodus (180-192 A. D.), who required his subjects to salute him as Hercules the god. The place was originally called Corcyrus, and Attalus II, Philadelphus (see Nos. 127, 128), king of Pergamus, added a new town and built a wall around the whole, giving it his name.

The coin of Troas is of Alexander Severus, emperor of Rome, 222-235 A. D. The city was founded by Antigonos (No. 137), and named by him Antigononia, but enlarged by Lysimachus, who named it Antigononia Troas. It became a Roman colony under Augustus, and had many immunities and privileges. The port was artificial, with two basins, outer and inner, and it was an important commercial centre for many centuries. The antiquities found by Dr. Schliemann in his search for the Troy of Homer indicate great wealth and culture among the people in some early age. (See coin of Troas in DICTIONARY, p. 94.)

No. 73.—SAMOTHRACIA.

The island of Samothrace lies about halfway between Troas and Macedonia; it is eight miles long, six wide, and has lofty mountain-ranges, the highest being 5250 feet. From the top, or even high up on the sides, of the mountains of this island one can see the plains of Troy, as is said in Homer's Iliad. This is a very interesting confirmation of the accuracy of Homer as to geography and minute observation.

on page 62 in the DICTIONARY; one of the second (74) is here; none is known of the third; but of the fourth there are several, besides this one, No. 75, which bears the mark of the emperor's legate (LEG). The chief cities were—

Amphipolis, capital of the 1st district; Thessalonica, of the 2d; Pella, of the 3d; and Heraclea, of the 4th. The peoples of the several districts were kept wholly distinct, not even being allowed to marry those of another or have any dealings in houses or lands. The proconsul over the whole country resided at Thessalonica; the Roman roads were excellent throughout the country, uniting the capitals. The chief seaport eastward was Neapolis, the coin of which bears an archaic head of Diana with a peculiar style of hair-dressing, and the letters in Greek NEOP, for Neapolis; on the reverse a head of the fabulous monster called Gorgon. The road from Neapolis to Philippi leads over the river Zygactes (break-pole), about which the Greeks tell this legend: Proserpine was gathering flowers by the river, when Pluto fell in love with her and took her into his chariot, the pole of which broke as he tried to cross the river. The whole country is poetically dotted with similar legends and names.

The coin of Philippi shows that it was a Roman colony, the inscription being, "Tiberius Claudius Cæsar Augustus, High Priest, Tribunal Power, Emperor," around bust, and "Colony of Julia Augusta of Philippi" around statues of Julius Cæsar and Augustus, standing on a pedestal inscribed "The Deified Augustus." The city was first called Crenides, or Fountains, afterward Datum; but when Philip, father of Alexander the Great, fortified it, he named it after himself. The gold-mines of the vicinity were very productive, yielding a million a year. The famous battle between Octavius (afterward Augustus) and Antony (No. 18) on one side, and Brutus and Cassius on the other, was fought here 36 B. C. The remains of the earthworks used on that day can be traced now for long distances, and there are remains of a triumphal arch near the modern city. (For Thyatira in Asia, where Lydia, found by Paul at Philippi, resided, see coin No. 123.)

No. 78.—BRVTUS AT PHILIPPI.

The coin of Brutus commemorates his victory at Philippi, showing trophies.

Philippi was then the capital of the province, instead of Amphipolis (see under 75), and had the "Italian right," which included exemption from martial law and its hasty punishments, and from certain taxes, and also being favored with peculiar privileges. The Roman citizen, or any other person having the "Italian right," could not be condemned and punished without a trial, and he also had the right of appeal. The scourging was done in the public square of the city, before the assembled people. Some were tied to a post; others were stripped and had their hands tied behind the back.

No. 80.—THESSALONICA.

On the coin of Thessalonica, we find "Caius (Caligula), son of Augustus," around the portrait of Caius, and "Of the Thessalonians" (money) around a head of Augustus. Caius was an adopted son. He was one of the assessors when Archelaus and Herod Antipas and Philip were heard before Augustus prior to the death of Herod the Great. (Jos. Ant. xvii. 9, 5; see THESSALONICA in the DICTIONARY.)

The poetical allusions of Paul are cited as evidence of his acquaintance with, and keen relish for, their beauties. For instance, in his address to the Athenians there is an allusion to the poems of the Cilician poet Aratus in this line:

"For we are also his offspring" (Acts xvii. 28); and when he rebukes the Cretans, he quotes from their own writer, Epimenides:

"The Cretans
Are always liars, evil beasts, slow bellies" (Tit. i. 12); and for the Corinthians he selects a line from the comedy of "Thais," a word of the excellent writer Menander:

"Evil communications corrupt good manners."

The poet Aratus was a Cilician, born at Soli, and a fellow-countryman with Paul. He was at the court of Antigonus Gonatas many years, where he wrote the astronomical Greek poem, called "Phenomena," from which Paul quoted in Acts xvii. 28, on which Hipparchus wrote a commentary, and of which Cicero made a Latin version. Ovid said, "Aratus will always be associated with the sun and moon in the minds of men, for his excellent qualities."

No. 82.—MENANDER (b. 341 B. C.).

Menander, the Greek tragic poet, was the originator of the New Comedy, and had the highest reputation, being eulogized by Julius Cæsar, Plutarch, and other ancients. Paul quoted from his comedy of Thais in 1 Cor. xiii. 33. The portraits of Socrates and Plato are from an ancient gem now in the possession of Mr. John Taylor Johnston of New York City. They are introduced here because Socrates was accused of viohas a plan of the port, where a circular row of warehouses end in an office, or perhaps a temple, on either side, and in the centre stands a statue of Neptune, while ships in full sail are in the harbor, with the initials of "Colonia Laus Julia Corinthos." (See in the DICTIONARY.)

There are perhaps more coins of different types of Ephesus than of any other ancient city. The political and religious characteristics of the city and of the age are illustrated on them, which have many allusions to the Diana-worship, and bear the names and official titles of various public officers referred to in the New Testament. The one below (87), with the head of Nero, is dated about the time assigned to Paul's visit. We learn from the coins that there were many temples to Diana and other deities (117)—one of Apollo at the head of the port; one opposite the great theatre; another of Diana near the theatre. One of the Diana temples has four columns; another has columns all around it; a third (the great temple), eight columns in front (114). The theatre was the largest structure ever built by the Greeks, and would hold 50,000 spectators. In this were displayed the public games by the Asiarch—running, wrestling, feats of strength, boxing, horse-racing, gladiatorial contests, and fights with wild beasts (1 Cor. xv. 33); one of the latter is presented on the coin No. 88. (See 1 Cor. ix. 24, 25.) The emperor Claudius died during the time Paul was at Ephesus, 54 A. D.

The inscription on coin No. 87 is "Nero Cæsar," around a portrait of the emperor on one side, and on the other, "Of the Ephesians Neocori, Aichmocles Aviola, Proconsul," around a temple of Diana, on each side of which are EPH in Greek letters. The neokoros was a conductor of the public-worship; we have no such officer now. The city also had the privilege of building a temple in honor of the reigning emperor; and on coin No. 117 the four temples suggest that one or more may have been of that class.

The inscriptions on the coins of Colossæ show that the name of the city was written differently in most ancient times. The place is now entirely deserted, while Xenophon says (Anab. ii. 2) it was a great, populous, and flourishing city; and Pliny says (v. 41) it was one of the most celebrated towns in Phrygia. Laodicea and Hierapolis were near, and were included in the circuit of labors of the apostle and his assistants (Col. iv. 13). These three towns were all in the valley of the river Mæander, within a circuit of fifteen miles. Hierapolis is included among the illustrious cities of Asia by Tacitus. It has been shaken by earthquakes in successive ages, but is still a fine city, called by the Turks Pambook Kalessi. The hot springs near are the resort of invalids and curiosity-hunters, who examine the deposits of lime from the waters, which have formed vast masses in fantastic shapes. Among the ruins of the ancient city the theatre and the gymnasium are the most noted. The Stoic philosopher Epictetus was a native of Hierapolis, where he was sold in his youth as a slave to a freedman of the emperor Nero; which became the means of his good fortune, for he was taken to Rome, where he found means of gaining an education and his freedom.

No. 91.—NERO.

On coin No. 91 there is a front of a provision-market, called in Latin MACELLUM (MAC on the coin), which is interesting in connection with the text of 1 Cor. x. 25. The legend is, "Nero Claudius, Cæsar Augustus Germanicus, Tribunal Power, Emperor, Father of the Country," around a bust-portrait of Nero on one side, and on the other, "Provision-Market of Augustus, (struck by) Decree of the Senate."

The emperors supplied the poor people of Rome under Augustus, to the number of 200,000, with grain for bread. This free gift continued in practice until the time of Alexander Severus, 222 A. D., when it was abolished.

The island of Chios is named in Acts (xx. 15)

as on Paul's route to Judæa, and coins Nos. 92, 93 are from it. On the larger one we read, either side of a water-bottle. This was the farthing-piece or half a cent; two mites were equal to one of these.

Earthquakes have recently caused a great loss of life and a destruction of many houses in the cities and villages of Chios (now called Scio). The island is 32 miles long by 8 to 18 miles wide. Its fertility and the excellent quality of its wine, mastic, figs, and other products have been the theme of writers in all ages. This was one of the seven places that claimed the honor of Homer's nativity, the other six being Smyrna, Rhodes, Colophon, Salamis, Athens, and Argos. They show a sepulchre in Chios which is called Homer's, near the ruins of an ancient temple to Apollo.

No. 94.—SAMOS.

Samos was the capital of an island of the same name. We read on the coin No. 94, "Hegesianax, of the Samians," above a head and shoulders of an ox; the head of a lion is without inscription. This is a very ancient place, and mentioned in the earliest history.

No. 95.—MILETUS.

The coin of Miletus has a head of Apollo bound with a wreath of laurel, and on the reverse a lion looking back at a star, with the monogram of Miletus and the name of Theodorus, who was a chief magistrate. (See DICTIONARY, pp. 65, 66.)

No. 96.—COS.

The island of Cos was called the garden of the Ægean Sea. It was mentioned in the book of Maccabees (1 Macc. xv. 23) and in Josephus (Ant. xiv. 7, 2) in connection with the war with Mithridates. Herod the Great conferred many favors on the Jews in Cos.

For coin of Rhodes, see DICTIONARY. It has a head of Apollo radiated as the sun on one side, and "Amynias (a magistrate) of the Rhodians" on the other, around an opening rose.

No. 97.—PATARA.
(Rhodes, Dict., p. 85.)

Patara was the port of Xanthus, the capital of Lycia, and stood eight miles east of the Yellow (xanthus) River. It is now a ruin, and its port is filled up with sand. On the coin a head of Apollo in a laurel-wreath is on one side, and a head of Diana on the other, with the words "Of the Patareans." Ruins of a theatre, baths, and a triple arch which was once a city-gate mark the site.

Lycia was south of Asia, and had its Lysiarchs as Asia had its Asiarchs. It was a part of the Persian dominions before Alexander (Herodotus vii. 91, 92), then under the Greek kings to the time the Romans took it from Antiochus. It is mentioned in 1 Macc. xv. 23, and was made a Roman province under Claudius. On the coin is a head of Apollo and a lyre, with "Of the Lycians, Year 8."

No. 99.—ACRE PTOLEMAIS.

Acre was a city of Phœnicia, and was invested by the Romans with the privileges of a colony, as appears on this coin of Claudius, with the legend, "(Claudius) Cæsar, High Priest, Consul 4th time, Emperor 13th year" (47 A. D.), around a portrait, and "The Deified Claudius, Ptolemais, Claudian Colony, Citizens Saved," around two oxen and driver, with four standards of the legions—6, 9, 10, 11.

No. 100.—ADRAMYTTIUM.

The coin of Adramyttium reads, "Antinous the Bacchus," around portrait of Antinous (who was deified in the reign of Hadrian), and "Dedicated by Egesias of the Adramyttians," around a figure of Ceres. This place was settled in the time of Crœsus by the Lydians, 590 B. C.

On the coin of Sidon we find a head of a king or emperor without name, and a group of the fabled Europa and the bull, with the words "Of the Sidonians." This myth of Europa was recorded on many coins of different nations. (See SIDON in the DICTIONARY.) The name Europe means "the west" when applied to the country, but it means on this coin a deified daughter of Agenor, king of Phœnicia, of whom it is fabled that Jupiter was enamored, and she became the mother of the heroes Minos, Sarpedon, and Rhadamanthus, and after that married Asterius, the king of Crete; the Cretans deified her and built shrines for her worship.

No. 102.—CNIDUS.

Cnidus was known to the Jews in the second century B. C. (1 Macc. xv. 23), and was passed by Paul (Acts xxvii. 7). It must have been of great importance and magnificence. It was formerly on an island of the same name, but is now connected with the mainland by a causeway. The coin presents a head of Venus with many ornaments, and a lion's head, with Ethbolo, the name of a magistrate. This place has been named Triopia, Pegusia, and Stadia, because founded by Triopas. The chief deity worshiped there was Venus, whose temple was famed for its marble statue of that goddess, the work of Praxiteles. The mathematician Eudoxus, the philosopher Agatharcides, the historian Theopompus, and the physician Ctesias were natives of Cnidus. It is now a mass of ruins. The historian Theopompus is quoted by several ancient authors, and is favorably compared with Thucydides and Herodotus, but was more satirical and illiberal. His works are lost, only the passages quoted by others being extant. Ctesias wrote a history of Persia in twenty-three books.

No. 103.—CNOSSUS.

Crete is rich in the early mythology of the Greeks; Cnossus was its chief city, and Gortyna second. (See DICTIONARY.) The famous Labyrinth is presented on this coin and on No. 142. The head of Diana has an ornamented cap, and she has earrings and necklace of pearls or hollow gold beads; the word is "Of the Knossians." The Cretans are named among those who witnessed the gift of tongues (Acts ii. 11). The strange fables of the Gnostics were received on the island. A natural cave is shown to travelers near Gortyna as the original Labyrinth; it has many rooms and passages, with stalactites, and may have suggested the poetic idea which the ancient poet crystallized in the tale of Theseus and the Minotaur.

The coin of Syracuse (No. 106) is of Gelon, 485-478 B. C., and presents the head of a girl, hair waved in front, one lock hanging over the ear, the rest braided and folded or gathered in a net, bound with a wreath of olive; earring,

Coin No. 107 is of Hiero of Syracuse, 470 B. C., and bears a head of the goddess Arethusa, with earring, necklace, band, and hair in a net; four dolphins swim around, two meeting before the face, indicating, as is supposed, that the island on which the fountain of Arethusa is located was there united to the mainland by a causeway, built after the former coin was struck. The chariot and four horses commemorate victories won by King Hiero in the Olympic Games, which were celebrated by the poet Pindar in his Odes. Besides Pindar, his court was frequented by Æschylus, Simonides, and Epicharmus—all well-

Nero was made emperor through the management of his mother, Agrippina, wife of Claudius, in 54 A. D., when he was seventeen years old. The portrait of the young man appears beardless on many coins (see 70), and his advancing years can be traced to the last (in 68 A. D.) on various specimens, No. 91 or 111 marking the greatest age. He was not old when he died (by his own hand), aged thirty-one. It is said his chief passion was to sing with a thin, shrill voice to the sound of a guitar, although he had talents in painting, sculpture, and poetry. It is said that he became a monster of crime and cruelty. Seneca, one of his advisers in state affairs, was the most elegant scholar of the age. He instituted games, called Juvenilia, in honor of his first beard. Coin No. 110 is inscribed, "Nero Clau-

Coin No. 109 has this legend: "Nero Claudius, Cæsar Augustus Germanicus, High Priest, Tribunal Power, Emperor, Father of the Country," around a youthful head of the emperor; and on the other side a figure of Nero playing on a lyre or cithara.

THE SEVEN CHURCHES OF ASIA (Rev. i. 4).

Of Patmos there are no coins. Of the cities of the seven churches in Asia, some are a heap of ruins, and others, like Ephesus, have been lost, and only recently restored by the explorer's shovel. The city was originally named Smyrna (Strabo xiv. 1, 4). The Diana-worship was peculiarly Oriental, and included magic, charms, amulets, soothsaying, and pretended miracles. The image of Diana in the great temple was of immense height, carved in ebony, ivory, and gold, and probably formed like those on the coins. The moon was symbolized behind the head and shoulders; the signs of the Zodiac were carved on the drapery of the breast, and animals or monstrous forms were distributed over the drapery of the lower limbs; in each hand was a trident. It was asserted that the image fell from heaven (or Jupiter) complete, as is also said of the Kaaba Stone in Mecca. Diana was worshiped in three characters—as the moon (Luna) in the heavens, Diana on earth, and Hecate in Hades. One month was named Artemisia from the annual festival in honor of the goddess (called Artemis), the record of which in a decree, engraved on a marble slab, was found near the temple, corroborating the text of Acts xix. 35. During the month of revels various scenes were enacted in which the gods were represented: a man as Jupiter the May King, who was appointed by the emperor or his legate; one as Apollo, and another as Mercury. The Jupiter wore a robe glittering with gold, white as snow, and a crown of carbuncles, pearls, and other precious stones (Malala, lib. xii.). Ephesus was the great market of the region, buyers and sellers flocking there in great numbers; thus religion, business, and pleasure combined to make the festival-month a success. It was in that month that Paul's visit was timed. The expenses of the games were paid, all or a part, by the Asiarch (see ASIARCH in the DICTIONARY), who superintended the exhibition. The great image was copied in small sizes for use in private families, shops, etc., and for travelers.

but honorably, and it enjoyed the proud title, "The Ornament of Asia." The most popular deity of the ancient city was the god Bacchus; other gods were Apollo, Diana, the Nemesis, the father of the gods (Zeus), the mother of the gods (Hera), the city of Rome as Roma, and peculiarly, Dionysus, who was fabled to die by violence and be resuscitated every year. It had a large public library and a museum, dedicated to Homer, who was claimed as a countryman, an Odeum, and other public buildings, including a hall of justice, where appeals from other cities were heard under the Roman laws. It is now a city filled with ruins built into modern walls, which include many fragments of sculptures and other works of art. Herodotus described a statue which was near the city, cut on the face of a rock, seven feet high, Egyptian in style, with this inscription across the breast: "I conquered this country by the might of my arms." (See Dan. xi.) This city was founded by Alexander the Great after the battle of Granicus.

Pergamus, the third church in the list, was in a city which was the capital of a district of the same name. The city was founded before the Trojan war, when Pergamos, son of Pyrrhus, deposed

No. 123.—NERO AT THYATIRA.

Thyatira was mentioned fourth in the Apocalypse. (See in the DICTIONARY.) The coins bear the heads of Apollo (Tyrimnas), Hercules, Athene, Roma, Cybele, and the reigning emperors. The remains of antiquity are numerous, but ruinous, such as fragments of sculptures and inscribed stones giving an account of the various labor-guilds of that age. (Acts xvi. 14.)

No. 124.—THYATIRA.

The city of Thyatira was founded by Seleucus I (322), as one of the many Macedonian colonies which were among the results of the partition of Persia by the successors of Alexander the Great. It had been a city from remote times, called Pelopia, Semiramis, and Euhippia, after various rulers in different ages, and under the Persian rule from the time of Cyrus the Great, 546 B. C. A very curious superstition is said to have been introduced there by the Jews in the worship of the sibyl Sambatha. (See Rev. ii. 20-24.)

No. 125.—SARDIS.

Sardis was the fifth in the list, and the capital of ancient Lydia, which Homer called Mœonia, the "Queen of Asia," whose earliest king was Candaules, 716 B. C., and the last Crœsus, 560-546 B. C. The golden sands of the Pactolus furnished metal (electrum) for the money of that age, which assisted in developing the manufactures and trade of the city. (See in the DICTIONARY.) Two massive columns (6 feet 6 inches thick and 40 feet high) of the once magnificent temple of Cybele remain among a heap of ruins. It was of the same age as the temple of Zeus in Ægina and of Hera in Samos. An earthquake in the time of Tiberius very much damaged the city, when its tribute to Rome was remitted for five years. Its theatre was nearly 400 feet in diameter, and the stadium adjoining it was 1000 feet long. The ancient name of the city was Hydè, under the rule of Omphale, a wife of Hercules. The modern name is Sart Kalessi, but the place is deserted; only heaps of ruins remain of the once famous city, which was full of temples, theatres, factories, and commodious dwellings, all of stone.

Xerxes passed near the site of the city, and Herodotus speaks of the sorghum as in successful cultivation then (485-465 B. C.). The valley of the Hermus is one of the most extensive and fruitful in Asia. The coins of the later rulers are not very numerous. Attalus II. on coin No. 128 is reprehis sister, Laodice. The aqueducts are constructed with a knowledge of hydraulics equal to ours, the theatres have seats numbered and lettered, and the place abounds in evidences of a high state of civilization. This city under the Roman rule was a place of importance for its trade and manufactures. In the Christian age it was a populous and wealthy city where the great councils of the Church met. The ruined site is called Denislu.

Cappadocia was founded by Pharnaces 744 B. C.; conquered by Perdiccas of Macedonia 322. The Romans first encouraged the formation of cities. The king Ariarathes mentioned in 1 Macc. xv. 22 was the sixth of that name. The last king of Cappadocia was Archelaus, who was favored by Augustus, but died at Rome A. D. 17, when the country was made a Roman province, under Tiberius.

Pontus was originally a part of Cappadocia, near the Pontus Euxinus, and made an independent nation by Artabazus, under Darius of Persia, 487 B. C. Mithridates VI. (No. 10) conquered Scythia, Bosphorus, Colchis, and Cappadocia. The kingdom ended in the death of Mithridates, 63 B. C., and it became a Roman province under the emperors. Ptolemy was made Asia as a province dates from B. C. 133 (see Coin No. 121); before that it had been from the time of Alexander under the Seleucid kings, until it became a Roman province. The Greeks and Persians contended for centuries for supremacy in Asia until Alexander's time, since when it was under the Seleucid kings (except Pergamus, which was given to the Romans by will 133 B. C.), until it became a Roman province 15 A. D., under Tiberius.

The Orthodox Greeks have a legend that St. Nicolas was born at Patara, buried at Myra, and his bones now rest, having been moved to St. Petersburg recently. (See No. 69.)

The Egypt of the Bible, so far as the coins present it, dates from Alexander the Great, 332 B. C. (No. 1). The Ptolemies continued from 323 (see DICTIONARY) to Cleopatra, 30 B. C., when it became a Roman province. Hadrian

COINS, MONEY AND WEIGHTS OF THE BIBLE.

By F. W. Madden, M. R. A. S.

General Remarks.—Ancient money was of two kinds, uncoined and coined. By uncoined may be understood pieces not issued under an authority, though they may have borne some stamp or impress of their value. By coined may be understood ingots, of which the weight and fineness are certified by the integrity of designs impressed upon the surfaces of the metal (Prof. Jevons, Money, p. 57).

The first mention in the Bible, after the Flood, of uncoined money is when Abraham came up out of Egypt "very rich in cattle, in silver, and in gold" (Gen. xiii. 2; comp. Gen. xxiv. 35). Though this passage does not imply anything more than "bullion," yet we soon find a notice of the use of money (Heb. silver) as the price paid for a slave (Gen. xvii. 13). The first actual transaction of commerce is the purchase by Abraham of the cave of Machpelah for 400 shekels of silver, current [money] with the merchant (Gen. xxiii. 16); and silver as a medium of commerce appears to have been in general use among the nations of the Philistines (Gen. xx. 16; Judg. xvi. 5, 18; xvii. 2, seq.), the Midianites (Gen. xxxvii. 28), and the Syrians (2 Kings v. 5, 23). By the laws of Moses, men and cattle (Lev. xxvii. 3, seq.; Num. iii. 45, seq.), the possessing houses and fields (Lev. xxvii. 14, seq.), provisions (Deut. ii. 6, 28; xiv. 26), all fines for offences (Exod. xxi. 22; xxii. 26), the contributions to the Temple (Exod. xxx. 13; xxxviii. 26), the sacrifice of animals (Lev. v. 15), the redemption of the first-born (Num. iii. 47-50; xviii. 15), were estimated and regulated by money value. It is probable that a fixed weight was assigned to single pieces, so as to make them suitable for the various articles presented in trade. The system of weighing (though frequent mention is made of the balance and the weighing of money, Exod. xxii. 17; Lev. xix. 36; Deut. xxv. 13, 15; 2 Sam. xviii. 12; 1 Kings xx. 39; Jer. xxxii. 9, 10; Prov. xi. 1, etc.) is not likely to have been applied to every individual piece. In the large total of 603,550 half-shekels accumulated by the contributions of each Israelite (Exod. xxxviii. 26), each individual half-shekel could hardly have been weighed. Money was sometimes put into a chest, which when full was emptied by the high priest, and the money was bound up in bags, and then told, perhaps being weighed in the bags (2 Kings xii. 9, 10; comp. 2 Chron. xxiv. 8-11). That there were pieces of different denominations is evident from the passage in Exod. xxx. 13, where the half-shekel is to be paid as the atonement-money, and "the rich shall not give more, and the poor shall not give less" (Exod. xxx. 15). The third part of the shekel is mentioned in Persian times (Neh. x. 32), and the fourth part must have been an actual piece, for it was all the silver that the servant of Saul had to pay the seer (1 Sam. ix. 8, 9). Iron and lead bars of constant form and weight circulated in Egypt; in Greece, bars of iron; in Italy, bars of copper; in Britain, in the time of Julius Cæsar, bars of copper and iron; and from the earliest times gold and silver in the same shape were employed in general traffic in the East. This explains the mention of a wedge (Heb. tongue) of gold found by Achan at Jericho (Josh. vii. 21) [see Talent under WEIGHTS], as well as the different payments which are mentioned in the O. T., and which presuppose with certainty the currency of single pieces of metal according to weight.

It is also probable that a system of "jewel currency" or "ring-money" was in vogue. The case of Rebekah, to whom the servant of Abraham gave "a golden ear-ring of half a shekel weight, and two bracelets for her hands of ten shekels weight" (Gen. xxiv. 22), proves that the ancient Hebrews made their jewels of a specific weight, so as to know the value of these ornaments in employing them for money. That the Egyptians kept their bullion in jewels is evident from their monuments, where they are represented weighing rings of gold and silver, and is further illustrated by the fact of the Israelites having at their exodus from Egypt borrowed "jewels [vessels] of silver and jewels [vessels] of gold" (Keli keseph, Keli zahab), and "spoiled the Egyptians" (Exod. xii. 35, 36; comp. Exod. iii. 22; xi. 2). So too it would appear that the money used by the children of Jacob, when they went to purchase corn in Egypt, was an annular currency (Gen. xlii. 35). Their money is described as "bundles of money," and when returned to them was found to be "of [full] weight" (Gen. xliii. 21). It was therefore of a form capable of being tied up, which receives corroboration from the passage in Deuteronomy (xiv. 24-26), where directions are given as to the payment of the tithes to the sanctuary: "Then shalt thou turn it into money, and bind up the money in thy hand, and shalt go unto the place which the Lord thy God shall choose." The account of the sale of Joseph to the Midianites affords another instance of the employment of jewel ornaments as a medium of exchange (Gen. xxxvii. 28), as we gather from the account in Numbers (xxxii. 50, 51) of the spoiling of the Midianites, that they carried their whole wealth in the forms of chains, bracelets, ear-rings, and tablets. The friends of Job gave him, in addition to "a piece of money" [KESITAH], "an ear-ring of gold" (nezem zahab, LXX. tetradrachmon chrusou kai asemou—tetradrachm of uncoined gold, Job xlii. 11). Now had these ear-rings of gold not been intended as representing money, all the friends of the patriarch would not have given him the same article, and that in conjunction with a piece of silver.

From these statements, it is evident, firstly, that if the Hebrews became learned in "all the wisdom of the Egyptians" (Acts vii. 22; comp. 1 Kings iv. 30), they did not learn from them the use of money; and secondly, that nowhere in the Pentateuch is there any mention of money that was coined. Nor do the passages in Joshua, Judges, and Job imply an actual coinage, any more than the "piece of silver" [AGORAH] mentioned at the time of Samuel (1 Sam. ii. 36). The reigns of David and Solomon were an era of prosperity for Judæa—"Silver was in Jerusalem as stones; it was nothing accounted of in the days of Solomon" (1 Kings x. 21, 27; 2 Chron. ix. 20, 27); still, it is certain that there were no real coins—namely, pieces struck under an authority—before the Exile. On the other hand, the Hebrews, as I have shown, must have employed pieces of a definite weight; but the excavations in Palestine have never brought to light an example, any more than the excavations in Egypt, Assyria and Babylonia. It may, however, be observed that when the pieces of silver were collected for the treasury they were melted down before reissue. It is recorded (2 Kings xxii. 9; comp. 2 Chron. xxxiv. 17) that Shaphan the scribe came to King Josiah, and said, "Thy servants have gathered together (Heb. melted) the money that was found in the house;" and the same plan was also followed by the Persian king Darius (B. C. 521-485), who melted the gold and silver into earthen vessels, which when full were broken off, leaving the metal in a mass, from which pieces were broken off as necessity required.

The oldest coins extant are certain electrum stater of Lydia, probably about B. C. 720, which, issued on different standards, continued in circulation till the time of Cræsus, who, on his accession in B. C. 568, reorganized the Lydian coinage, abolished electrum, and issued instead pieces of gold and silver. Before the introduction of coined money into Greece, there was a currency of obeliskoi, "spits" or "skewers," probably of iron or copper, six of which made a handful (drachmê), and which were of a considerable size. The first Greek silver coins were struck at Ægina in B. C. 670-660.

The earliest coins mentioned in the Bible are the coins called drams, B. C. 538 [DRAM]. It is supposed by some that the Jewish silver shekels and half-shekels were introduced under Ezra, about B. C. 458 [SHEKEL]; but it is more probable that they were issued under Simon Maccabæus, B. C. 139 (1 Macc. xv. 6), and copper coins were struck by the Asmonæan and Herodian family.

The N. T. history falls within the reigns of Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula, Claudius, and Nero, but only Augustus (Luke ii. 1), Tiberius (Luke iii. 1), and Claudius (Acts xi. 28; xviii. 2), are mentioned; but Nero is alluded to in the Acts from chapter xxv. to the end, and in Phil. iv. 22. Coins of all these emperors would therefore be in circulation.

The following list embraces all the denominations of money mentioned in the Old and New Testaments:

Agorah. See Piece of Silver.

Bekah (Exod. xxxviii. 26). Literally "a half," "half a shekel," about 1s. 4d. Extant half-shekels weigh about 110 grains. [HALF A SHEKEL and SHEKEL.]

Brass [Money]. (1) In the O. T. a passage in Ezekiel (xvi. 36, Heb. nechosheth, LXX. Chalkos, Vulgate æs, A. V. filthiness) has been supposed to refer to brass money, but with no probability, as this was the latest metal introduced into Greece for money. The Hebrew word probably means something worthless, like "base metal" (comp. Jer. vi. 28; Ezek. xxii. 18). (2) Chalkos, pecunia (Matt. x. 9). The brass coins current in Palestine in the N. T. period consisted of Roman copper and Greek imperial coins, of the coins of Alexander Jannæus, of the Herodian family, and of the procurators of Judæa. See Farthing and Mite.

Didrachm. See Shekel and Tribute-money.

Drachm, Drachmê, drachma (2 Macc. iv. 19; x. 20; xii. 43; Tobit v. 14). It is of various weights, according to the use of the different talents. The drachms here mentioned are of the Attic talent, which became almost universal on Alexander's succession (B. C. 338), and weighed about 67.2 grains. In later times (about B. C. 27), the drachm weighed only 61.3 grains, and thus became very nearly equal to the Roman denarius [PENNY], the average weight of which was 60 grains. The earliest Attic drachm contained about $\frac{1}{10}$ of the weight of alloy, and there remain 66.1 grains of silver to be valued. Our shillings weigh 87.2 grains, and contain 80.7 grains of pure silver. The earliest Attic drachm is therefore worth $\frac{66.1}{80.7}$ of a shilling, or 9.82 pence, which is $9\frac{3}{4}d. + \frac{2}{10}$ of a farthing. The later Attic drachm, deducting also $\frac{1}{10}$ of the weight of alloy, is worth $\frac{60.1}{80.7}$ of a shilling, or 8.93 pence, which is $8\frac{3}{4}d. + \frac{7}{10}$ of a farthing; and hence the value of the latest drachm or denarius may be taken at about 8d. [PIECE OF SILVER and PENNY.]

Dram. The translation in the A. V. of the Hebrew words Adarkon and Darkemon (Ezra ii. 69; viii. 27; Neh. vii. 70-72; 1 Chron. xxix. 7). Though there are several opinions concerning the origin of these words, it is agreed that by them a gold coin or stater—the Persian daric—is intended. The origin of the term has been sought in the name of Darius the Mede, but on no sure grounds, or of that of Darius, son of Hystaspes. In consequence of the type of the coins being "an archer" (by which name—toxotai—they were sometimes called), some have thought that the Hebrew words were derived from darak, "to bend the bow," whilst others suggest a connection with the Persian words dashtan, "to have, to hold, to possess," or dara, "a king," which latter would be a likely derivation, as the figure represented is not any particular king, but the king of Persia in a general sense. Though the passages in Ezra and Nehemiah would seem to show that coins of similar name were current during the reigns of Cyrus, Cambyses, and Darius Hystaspes, it is a question if the coin called "daric" is intended by those mentioned during the reign of Cyrus, B. C. 530 (Ezra ii. 69). The daric proper was not in circulation till the reign of Darius, son of Hystaspes (B. C. 521-485), who issued a new coinage of pure gold, though the actual name of daric stater was not in vogue till the time of his successor, Xerxes (B. C. 485-465); and the drams mentioned under the reign of his son, Artaxerxes Longimanus (Ezra viii. 27; Neh. vii. 72), are certainly the coins called darics, which at this period extensively circulated in Persia. It is probable that the stater of Cræsus, king of Lydia, continued in circulation from after the capture of Sardis in B. C. 554 to the time when Darius reformed the coinage; and if so, the Lydian stater would be those alluded to during the reign of Cyrus. The ordinary Persian daric is a thick gold piece, bearing the figure of a king kneeling, holding in left hand a bow and in right a spear or a dagger (comp. Ezek. xxxix. 3; Isa. lxvi. 19), and has an average weight of 130 grains. The English sovereign weighs 123.4 grains, which, after deducting $\frac{1}{2}$, leaves 113.12 grains of fine gold; but the daric is $\frac{1}{4}$ finer than our gold, and reckoning it at 130 grains in weight, contains 124.6 grains of pure gold; therefore in value it equals $\frac{124.6}{113.12}$ of a sovereign, or about £1 2s. Double darics, weighing about 260 grains—but rare—and perhaps half-darics, weighing 60 grains, are also in existence. With reference to the mention of drams at the time of David (1 Chron. xxix. 7), it must be remembered that the writer, who in all probability was Ezra, wished to express in language intelligible to his readers the value of the gold subscribed, and therefore translated the terms employed in his documents, whatever they were, into terms that were in use in his own day (Speaker's Com., vol. iii., p. 271).

Farthing. This word occurs four times in the A. V. of the N. T. Two names of coins are rendered by it. (1) Assarion (Matt. x. 29; Luke xii. 6), the Greek name of the Roman as or assarius. From the fact that the Vulgate substitutes the word dipondius (= two asses) for the two assaria of the Greek text, it is more than probable that a single coin is intended by this latter expression—an idea fully borne out by the copper coins of Chios, on which are inscribed the words assarion, assaria duo or duo, and assaria tria. The assarion of the N. T. must be sought for among the Greek imperial coins, and the second brass coins of Antioch in Syria seem to furnish us with probable specimens. One of these coins, with the counter-mark GAD (in Greek letters), proves that it was lawfully current in Gadara of Decapolis. These coins, from the time of Augustus, consist of two series—(a) with Greek legends, and having the name of the town and the date of the era of Antioch; and (b) with the name of the emperor in Latin, and on the reverse the letters S. C. (Senatus consulto). After the reign of Vespasian (A. D. 79) the two sets become amalgamated, and form one series. The second brass coins of these series average in weight 143 grains, and are specimens of the as, which, at 10 to the denarius [PENNY], would be equivalent to $\frac{3}{4}$ d. of our money. (2) Kodrantēs (Matt. v. 26; Mark xii. 42), or quadrans, the fourth part of the Roman as, originally equal to the chalkous, weighing 67.2 grains. The copper currency of Palestine in the time of Augustus and Tiberius consisted partly of Roman and Jewish coins and partly of Græco-Roman or Greek imperial. In consequence of the reduction of the weight of the as, the quadrans became reduced to just half the weight, or 33.6 grains, and the Roman coins and small copper coins of the Herodian family of this weight represent the farthing of the N. T. The as being equivalent, as we have shown above, to $\frac{3}{4}$ d., the quadrans would be equal to about $\frac{3}{8}$ d. or $\frac{3}{4}$ of an English farthing. According to St. Mark, "two mites make a farthing;" but on this question see Mite.

Gerah (Exod. xxx. 13; Lev. xxvii. 25; Num. iii. 47; xviii. 16; Ezek. xlv. 12). The twentieth part of a shekel, about 1½d. [SHEKEL.]

Gold [Money]. (1) There is no positive mention of the use of gold money among the Hebrews (see Isa. xlvi. 6; Job xxviii. 15) [PIECE OF GOLD; SHEKEL], though gold constituted part of the wealth of Abraham (Gen. xiii. 2), if we exclude the "600 shekels of gold" paid by David for the threshing-floor and oxen (1 Chron. xxi. 25; comp. 2 Sam. xxiv. 24, "shekels of silver"), and it was generally employed for personal ornaments and for objects in connection with the Temple (2 Chron. iii. 9, etc.). (2) Chrusos, aurum (Matt. x. 9; James v. 3); Chrusion, aurum (Acts iii. 6; xx. 33; 1 Pet. i. 18). The gold coinage current in Palestine in the N. T. period was the Roman imperial aureus, which passed for 25 denarii, and was worth about £1 1s.

Half a Shekel (Exod. xxx. 13, 15), about 1s. 4d. [BEKAH; SHEKEL.]

Keseph. See Money, Silver, and Silverling.

Kesitah. See Piece of Money and Piece of Silver.

Mite (Mark xii. 42; Luke xii. 59; xxi. 2). The rendering of the Greek word lepton, which was a small Greek copper coin $\frac{1}{16}$ of the obol, weighing 33.6 grains, and hence half of the original chalkous or quadrans. St. Mark states "two mites, which is a farthing;" but he probably meant "two small pieces of money," the smallest pieces then extant, and the words "which is a quadrans" have been added to show that the quadrans, weighing about 33.6 grains, was then the smallest piece struck. The mite alluded to was a Jewish coin, for the Jews were not permitted to bring any but Jewish money into the Holy Place, and for this cause money-changers [MONEY-CHANGERS] stood at the entrance to the Temple in order to give Jewish money in exchange for foreign; and it is probable that the small coins of Alexander Jannæus, ranging in weight from 30 grains to 15 grains, are the pieces in question. Their value would be about $\frac{3}{16}$ d., or $\frac{3}{4}$ of an English farthing. If, however, the pieces of 15 grains are the half of those of 30, and not examples of the same coin of light weight, then two would equal a quadrans, and their value would be $\frac{3}{8}$ of an English farthing. But this conjecture is by no means sure.

Money. (1) In the O. T. the general expression is Keseph. (2) In the N. T. money is rendered as follows:—(a) Argurion, pecunia, "silver" (Matt. xxv. 18, 27; xxviii. 12, 15; Mark xiv. 11; Luke ix. 3; xix. 15, 23; xxiii. 5; Acts vii. 16 [argurion]; viii. 20 [pecunia]. In Matt. xxvi. 9, the phrase is "much [money]"). (b) Chalkos, æs, "brass" (Mark vi. 8; xii. 41). (c) Chrēma, "a thing that one uses or needs," pretium (Acts iv. 37; pecunia, viii. 18, 20; xxiv. 26). (d) Kerma, "anything cut small," æs (John ii. 15). [SILVER and MONEY-CHANGERS.]

Penny. Dēnariūn, denarius (Matt. xviii. 28; xx. 2, 9, 10, 13; xxii. 19; Mark vi. 37; xii. 15; xiv. 5; Luke vii. 41; x. 35; xx. 24; John vi. 7; xii. 5; Rev. vi. 6). Its standard weight in the reign of Augustus, and to the time of Nero, was 60 grains. Deducting $\frac{3}{8}$ of the weight for alloy, there remain 58 grs. of pure silver, and the shilling containing 80.7 grs. of pure silver, we have $\frac{58}{80.7}$ of a shilling, or 8.6245 pence = about 8½d. In the time of Nero the weight was reduced to 52.5; and applying to this the same method of reckoning, the penny of Nero's time would equal about 7½d. There is no doubt that most of the silver currency in Palestine during the N. T. period consisted of denarii, and "a penny" was the tribute-money payable by the Jews to the Roman emperor [TRIBUTE (money), 2]. "A penny" was the day's pay for a laborer in Palestine at the time of our Lord (Matt. xx. 2, 9, 10, 13; comp. Tobit v. 13), as it was the pay of a field-laborer in the Middle Ages; and the term denarius is still preserved in our £ s. d. [DRACHM and PIECE OF SILVER, 2.]

Piece of Gold. This phrase occurs only once in the O. T., in the passage respecting Naaman the Syrian (2 Kings v. 5). In several other passages of a similar kind in connection with gold, the A. V. supplies the word "shekels" [SHEKEL]; and as a similar expression is found in connection with silver, and as there is not much doubt that a weight is intended, the word understood in this passage would also probably be "shekels."

Piece of Money. (1) Kesitah (Gen. xxxiii. 19; "piece of silver," Josh. xxiv. 32; Job xlii. 11). From the translation by the LXX. of "lamb," it has been assumed that the kesitah was a coin bearing the impression of a lamb or a sheep, but the coins so frequently quoted as examples belong probably to Cyprus, and were not struck till after B. C. 450. The real meaning of kesitah is "a portion," and it was in all probability a piece of rough silver of fixed weight. (2) Stater (Matt. xvii. 27). The word stater means a coin of a certain weight, and hence a standard (comp. shekel and pondo), and was a term applied by the Greeks to coins of gold, of electrum, and of silver. The name was applied first to the didrachm (two drachms), and then to the tetradrachm (four drachms). During the first and second centuries, the silver currency of Palestine consisted of tetradrachms of Antioch on Orontes, of Tyre, etc., and of Roman denarii of a quarter their weight. The Attic tetradrachm was called stater, as the standard coin of the system, and no other stater was current in Palestine at this time. The great cities of Syria and Phœnicia either ceased to strike tetradrachms, or debased their coinage before the close of the first century A. D. Antioch continued to strike tetradrachms to the third century, but gradually depreciated them, the commencement of which cannot be determined. It was carried so far as to destroy the correspondence of the stater to four denarii by the time of Hadrian (A. D. 117). Other cities, if they issued staters towards the close of the first century, struck them of such base metal as to render their separation from copper money impossible. On this evidence, the Gospel is of the first century. The tetradrachm of Antioch (stater) is a specimen of the "piece of money" that was found by St. Peter in the fish's mouth (Matt. xvii. 27). It represents the tax for two persons—for our Lord and for St. Peter [TRIBUTE (Money), 1]. It is equivalent in weight to the shekel, averaging 220 grains, and to about 2s. 8d. of our money. [PIECE OF SILVER, 2.]

Piece of Silver. This phrase occurs in the A. V. of both the O. T. and N. T. (1) The word "pieces" has been supplied in the A. V. for a word understood in the Hebrew. The rendering is always "a thousand," or the like "of silver" (Gen. xx. 16; xxxvii. 28; xlv. 22; Judg. ix. 4; xvi. 5; 2 Kings vi. 25; Song of Solomon viii. 11; Hosea iii. 2; Zech. xi. 12, 13). In similar passages, the word "shekels" occurs in the Hebrew [SHEKEL], and there is no doubt that this is the word understood in all these cases. There are, however, some exceptional passages where a word equivalent to "piece" or "pieces" is found in the Hebrew. The first occurs in 1 Sam. ii. 36, Agorah keseph, "piece of silver," and the agorah may be the same as the gerah (q. v.). Both are translated in the LXX. by obolos. The second is in Ps. lxxviii. 30 (Heb. 32), Rutsee keseph, "pieces of silver" (LXX. [lxvii. 30] argurion), and the word rats from ratsats, "to break in pieces," must mean a fragment or piece broken off. The third, the kesitah, to which I have already alluded [PIECE OF MONEY, 1]. (2) Two words are rendered in the N. T. by "piece of silver." (a) Drachmē, drachma (Luke xv. 8), and here correctly rendered, as the Attic drachm was at the time of St. Luke equivalent to the Roman denarius [DRACHM; PENNY]. This accounts for the remark of Josephus (Antiq. iii. 8, 2), who says that "the shekel . . . equalled four Attic drachms," for in his time the drachm and denarius were almost equal to the quarter of a shekel [SHEKEL]. Value about 8d. or 7½d. (b) Argurion, argenteus, denarius. This word occurs in two passages—(A) the account of the betrayal of our Lord for "thirty pieces of silver" (Matt. xxvi. 15; xxvii. 3, 5, 6, 9). These have usually been considered to be denarii, but on no sufficient ground. The parallel passage in Zechariah (xi. 12, 13) is translated "thirty [pieces] of silver," but which should doubtless be read, "thirty shekels of silver," whilst it is observable that "thirty shekels of silver" was the price of blood to be paid in the case of a servant accidentally killed (Exod. xxi. 32). The passage may therefore be explained as "thirty shekels of silver"—not current shekels, but tetradrachms of the Attic standard of the Greek cities of Syria and Phœnicia. These tetradrachms were common at the time of our Lord, and of them the stater was a specimen [PIECE OF MONEY, 2]. In the A. V. of St. Matthew the prophecy is ascribed to Jeremiah instead of to Zechariah. Many suggestions have been made on this question, but it may be observed that the Syriac version omits the proper name, and merely says "the prophet;" hence a copyist might have inserted the wrong name. (B) The price of the conjuring books that were burnt (Acts xix. 19). The Vulgate has accurately rendered the phrase denarii, as there is no doubt that these coins are intended. [MONEY and SILVER.]

Pound. Mnā (Luke xix. 13–25)—money of account. At this time the Attic talent obtained in Palestine. Sixty minæ went to the talent (q. v.). The "pound" contained 100 drachms. The drachm of the Gospel period being equivalent to about 8d., the value of the pound would be £3 6s. 8d. The Greek name mnā was probably derived from the Hebrew maneh (q. v. under WEIGHTS).

Shekel. A word signifying "weight," and also the name of a coin, either silver or copper. It only occurs in the O. T., where it signifies the weight of certain objects, or where it is employed for a piece of silver of fixed value. The word "shekel" occurs in the Hebrew and the A. V. in the following passages: Gen. xxiii. 15, 16; Exod. xxi. 22; xxx. 13, 15; xxxviii. 24–26; Lev. v. 15; xxvii. 3–7; Num. iii. 47, 50; vii. 13, 19, 25, 31, 37, 43, 49, 55, 61, 67, 73, 79, 85, 86; xviii. 16; Josh. vii. 21; 1 Sam. ix. 8; xvii. 5, 7; 2 Sam. xiv. 26; xxi. 16; xxiv. 24; 2 Kings vii. 1; xv. 20; 1 Chron. xxi. 25 (gold shekels); 2 Chron. iii. 9 (gold shekels); Neh. v. 15; x. 32; Jer. xxxii. 9; Ezek. iv. 10; xlv. 12; Amos viii. 5. It is supplied in the A. V. in connection with "silver" in Deut. xxii. 19, 29; Judg. xvii 2–4, 10;

2 Sam. xviii. 11, 12; 1 Kings x. 29; 2 Chron. i. 17; and in connection with "gold" in Gen. xxiv. 22; Num. vii. 14, 20, 26, 32, 38, 44, 50, 56, 62, 68, 74, 80, 86; Judg. viii. 26; 1 Kings x. 16; 2 Chron. ix. 15, 16 [see Maneh under WEIGHTS]. Three kinds of shekels appear to be mentioned—(1) the shekel, (2) the shekel of the sanctuary, and (3) the shekel of the king's weight. The "shekel of the sanctuary," or "holy shekel," a term generally applied to the silver shekel, but once to the gold (Exod. xxxviii. 24), was probably the normal weight, and was kept by the priests. The "shekel of the king" was connected with the Assyrio-Babylonian maneh of the king, as marked on the monuments from Nineveh [Talent under WEIGHTS]. The LXX. translate the denominations in silver by didrachmon and siklos. The shekel as extant corresponds in weight to the tetradrachm or didrachm of the early Phœnician talent in use in the cities of Phœnicia under Persian rule. It is probable that the Alexandrian Jews adopted the term "didrachm" as the common name of the coin which was equal in weight to the shekel. The value of the silver shekel is about 2s. 8d. The gold shekel, as derived from a passage in Josephus, must have weighed about 253 grains [see Pound under WEIGHTS], a very little lower than the 60th of the Assyrian mina in gold, which weighed 260 grains; and when he says in another passage (Antiq. iii. 8. 10; comp. Num. vii. 14) that ten gold shekels equalled ten darics, he must mean the double darics, weighing about 260 grains. The gold shekel was worth about £2. None have ever been discovered. (See General Remarks.) Fifteen shekels of silver, each weighing about 224 grains, were equal in value to one shekel of gold [Talent under WEIGHTS]. The divisions of the shekel mentioned in the O. T. are the half (bekah), the third part, the fourth part (rebah) and the twentieth part (gerah), q. v. In the reign of Artaxerxes Longimanus (B. C. 458) a special commission was granted to Ezra "to do what seems good with the rest of the silver and the gold" (Ezra vii. 18); and it has been suggested that this was virtually permission to the Jews to coin money; and the silver shekels extant, dated of the years 1 to 5, and the half-shekels of the years 1 to 4, weighing about 220 and 10 grains respectively, are considered to be of this period. As regards the "shekels of silver" mentioned in Nehemiah (v. 15; comp. x. 32), these may perhaps refer to the silver coin circulating in the Persian kingdom called siglos, of which 20 went to one gold daric, and weighing 84 grains, but having no connection with the siklos (weighing about 220 grains), excepting in name. These coins are, like the darics, impressed with the figure of an archer [DRAM]. In the year B. C. 139, Antiochus VII. (Sidetes) granted special permission to Simon Maccabæus to coin money with his own stamp (1 Macc. xv. 6), and the silver shekels and half-shekels most probably belong to Simon, and perhaps the copper pieces ($\frac{1}{2}$ shekel, $\frac{1}{4}$ shekel, and $\frac{1}{8}$ of shekel), dated in the fourth year; but there is great uncertainty as to the latter.

The Asmonæan dynasty continued to issue a copper coinage, gradually showing Greek tendencies, to the time of Antigonus, the last prince of the Asmonæan dynasty, (B. C. 40-37), and the numerous coinage of Alexander Jannæus (B. C. 105-78) doubtless circulated even to N. T. times [MITE]. The Idumæan princes, commencing with Herod I. (surnamed the Great), continued a copper coinage with only Greek legends, which circulated in Judæa (as well as a procuratorial coinage, A. D. 6-59) till the death of Agrippa II. (Acts xxv. 13; xxvi. 2, seq.) in A. D. 100. The national coinage, consisting of silver shekels and $\frac{1}{4}$ shekels, as well as of copper, with old Hebrew inscriptions, was revived during the first revolt (May, A. D. 66-September, A. D. 70), and during the second under Bar-cochab (A. D. 132-A. D. 135), at which time many of the Jewish $\frac{1}{4}$ shekels were struck over Roman denarii.

Silver [Money]. (1) Keseph in O. T. (q. v.); (2) in N. T. arguros, argentum (Matt. x. 9; James v. 3), or argurion, argentum (Acts iii. 6; xx. 33; 1 Pet. i. 18). The silver coins current in Palestine in N. T. period consisted of the tetradrachms and drachms of the Attic standard, and of the Roman denarius. [MONEY, 1 and 2, and PIECE OF SILVER, 2.]

Silverling. Keseph (Isa. vii. 23). The word silverling occurs in Tyndale's version of Acts xix. 19, and in Coverdale's of Judg. ix. 4; xvi. 5. The German silverling is found in Luther's version (Bible Word-Book). The same word is also used in Cranmer and Tyndale for the money stolen by Micah (Judg. xvii. 2, 3)—"the leuen hundredth syluertlyngs" (Bible Educator, vol. iv., p. 210).

Stater. See Piece of Money, 2, and Tribute-money, 1. Sum [of Money]. (1) Kephalaion (Acts xxii. 28), i. e. in classical authors capital as opposed to interest or income (cp. "principal," Lev. vi. 5; Num. v. 7). In Mk. xii. 15 epikephalaion, "poll-tax," is used in the place of the ordinary word kēnsos. [TRIBUTE (Money), 2.] SUM OF MONEY. (2) Timē arguriou, pretium argenti (Acts vii. 16), i. e. price in silver. [MONEY.]

Talent. Talanton, talentum, a sum, not a coin. (1) In O. T. the rendering of the Hebrew keccar [see Talent under WEIGHTS]; (2) in N. T. this word occurs—(a) in the parable of the unmerciful servant (Matt. xviii. 23-25); and (b) in the parable of the talents (Matt. xxv. 14-30). At this time the Attic talent obtained in Palestine; 60 minæ and 6000 drachmæ went to the talent. It was consequently worth about £200. [POUND.]

Third Part of the Shekel (Neh. x. 32), about 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. See Shekel and Tribute [Money].

Tribute [Money]. (1) The sacred tribute, didrachma (Matt. xvii. 24). The sacred tribute or payment of the "atonement-money" was half a shekel (Exod. xxx. 13, 16), and was originally levied on every male of twenty years old and above when the Israelites were first numbered. In the reign of Josiah the same sum was demanded for the repair of the Temple (2 Chron. xxiv. 4-14). After the return from the Captivity, the annual payment "for the service of the house of God" was one-third of the shekel (q. v.), and was voluntarily contributed (Neh. x. 32). The amount of tribute was again restored to the half-shekel (q. v.), which the Jews when dispersed throughout the world continued to pay toward the Temple. It is to this tribute that St. Matthew refers, and the stater found in the fish's mouth was an Attic tetradrachm, and at this time equal to a shekel [PIECE OF MONEY; SHEKEL]. Many commentators, both ancient and modern, have entirely missed the meaning of this miracle by interpreting the payment as a civil one. That it was the sacred tribute is plain from our Lord's reason for exemption: "Of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children or of strangers?" (Matt. xvii. 25, 26), and further, from His reason for payment, "lest we should offend them," which shows that the Jews willingly paid the tribute; indeed, it was not enforced by law even in the earliest times, being in this respect unlike the civil tribute. (2) The civil tribute, nomisma tou kēnsou, kēnsos, phoros (Matt. xxii. 17, 19; Mark xii. 14; Luke xx. 22; xxiii. 2). This was a tax paid to the Roman emperor, and was doubtless established when Judæa became a Roman province. The sum paid annually is not known; but after the capture of Jerusalem and destruction of the Temple, Vespasian ordered the Jews, in whatever country they might be, to pay the sum of two drachmæ to the temple of Jupiter Capitolinus, as they had previously paid to the Temple at Jerusalem. Under Domitian the tax was enforced with great severity, but upon the accession of Nerva it was abolished. Numismatic records establish this fact; coins are extant with the legend, Fisci Judaici calumniam sublata (comp. syco-phantia—false accusation—Luke xix. 8). After the revolt of Bar-cochab, Hadrian renewed the tax, and in the reign of Alexander Severus (A. D. 226) the Jews continued to pay the didrachm. This civil tribute was paid in denarii. "Show me the tribute-money; and they brought unto Him a penny" (Matt. xxii. 19; comp. Mark xii. 15; Luke xx. 24). "And He saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? They say unto Him, Cæsar's." The title of Cæsar is common to all the Roman emperors, and the name of Tiberius, who was the Cæsar alluded to, is abbreviated on the coins, TI., while the title CÆSAR is at length. The answer may further be illustrated by the small brass coins issued under the procurators Coponius, Ambivius, and Rufus, circulating in Judæa at this time, on which is simply the legend Kaisaros—of Cæsar. [PENNY.]

Twentieth Part of the Shekel; about 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. See Gerah and Shekel.

The two following terms bear direct relation to money, and are worthy of illustration:

Money-Changers. Three distinct terms are employed in the N. T. to express this class—(1) Trapezites, numularius, A. V. "exchanger" (Matt. xxv. 27), from trapeza, "a table," a word employed for

"tables" (mensæ) of the money-changers in Matt. xxi. 12; Mark xi. 15; John ii. 15, and for the "bank" (mensa) in Luke xix. 23. Trapezites was the ordinary name for the banker at Athens. His principal occupation was that of changing money at an agio. He was a private banker, like the argentarii at Rome, who must be distinguished from the mensarii or mensularii and the numularii, who were public bankers appointed by the state on various emergencies, the latter of whom seem to have been permanently employed. Hence the Vulgate has rendered their name in all cases correctly. As the Greek word trapezites is from trapeza, "a table," so our English word "banker" (French, banquier) is derived from the French banc, "a bench," on which the person sat to do his business. (2) Kollubistes, numularius, A. V. "money-changer" (Matt. xxi. 12; Mark xi. 15); A. V. "changer" (John ii. 15), from kollubos or kollubon, sometimes designated as "the changing of money," or "rate of exchange," sometimes as "a small coin" or "a kind of money." A passage in Theophrastus shows us that the kollubos must have been a silver piece ranging between the lepton [MITE] and the $\frac{1}{4}$ obol, and therefore $\frac{1}{2}$ of an obol, weighing about 1.4 grains. It would thus be the silver equivalent of the chalkous, which was the copper $\frac{1}{2}$ of an obol. (3) Kermatistes, numularius; A. V. "changer of money" (John ii. 14), from a Greek word signifying "to cut small," which is from kerma, "money," John ii. 15 [MONEY]. Money-changing was called kermatismos. No coin was called by this name. The money-changers, of which perhaps the "goldsmiths" who repaired the vessels of the Temple (Neh. iii. 8) are prototypes, sat in the courts of the Temple on the 25th of Nisan for the purpose of exchanging foreign money for Jewish, as the Temple tax could only be paid in this latter coin. They also seem to have acted as bankers, money being placed in their hands for the purpose of increasing it, and on which interest was paid (Matt. xxv. 27; Luke xix. 23). Though the system of "lending" was not altogether objected to in the O. T. (Exod. xxii. 25; Lev. xxv. 36, 37; Deut. xxiii. 19, 20; Prov. vi. 1; Ps. xv. 5; Jer. xv. 10; Ezek. xxii. 12; xviii. 13, etc.), yet after the Captivity the Jews were compelled to leave off usury (Neh. v. 11, 12), whilst in the N. T. period it was sanctioned, provided it was done "hoping for nothing again" (Luke vi. 35; comp. Matt. v. 42). The system, however, pursued by the money-changers in the Temple must have been a vicious one, as is apparent from our Lord's denunciation of their doings (Matt. xxi. 13; Mark xi. 17; Luke xix. 46; comp. Isa. lvi. 7; Jer. vii. 11).

Treasury or Treasure. This term is used in the A. V. of the N. T. as the translation of three different words—(1) Gazophylakion (Mark xii. 41, 43; Luke xxi. 1; John viii. 20), from gaza, "a treasure," and phulassō, "to keep." The word gaza (Heb. ganza), which occurs in this sense in Acts viii. 27, is employed frequently in the O. T. for "treasures" or "treasure-house" (Ezra v. 17; vi. 1; vii. 20; Esth. iii. 9; iv. 7; Ezek. xxvii. 24; 1 Chron. xxviii. 11). It is not a Hebrew word, but probably a Persian. The term gazophylakion or gazophylacium occurs in various passages of the Maccabees, and the Vulgate uses it as the term for the "chest" (Heb. arun, LXX. kibōtos) in which Jehoiada collected the money for the repairs of the Temple [see General Remarks]. The treasury-chamber appears to have been a place where people came to offer their charity-money for the repairs and other uses of the Temple, and consisted of 13 brazen chests (Heb. trumpets, because the mouths were wide at the top and narrow below), which stood in the outer court of the women. (2) Korbanas, corbōna (Matt. xxvii. 6), the sacred treasure of the Jews, and explained in Mark vii. 11 as a gift (dōron), and by Josephus as "a gift to God." Korban in the O. T. is principally employed for unbloody sacrifices" (comp. Lev. ii. 1, 4, 5, 6). Dōron in the N. T. principally means "gifts in general" (Matt. ii. 11), "sacrificial gifts" (Matt. v. 23, 24; Heb. v. 1; xi. 4), "gifts of God to man" (Ephes. ii. 8), "of man to man" (Rev. xi. 10); but it is also used of gifts to the "treasury" (Luke xxi. 1), and in one case appears to mean the "treasury itself" (Luke xxi. 4). (3) Thesavros, thesaurus. (a) As the "treasure-house" (Matt. ii. 11; xiii. 52); (b) as the "treasure" (Matt. vi. 19, 20; xii. 35; xiii. 44; xix. 21; Mark x. 21; Luke vi. 45; xii. 33; xviii. 22; 2 Cor. iv. 7; Col. ii. 3; Heb. xi. 26). The word is used in the LXX. as the translation of the Hebrew otsar, meaning either "treasures of God," "store-house for corn," "treasury for gold and silver," etc. (Deut. xxviii. 12; xxxii. 34; 1 Chron. xxvii. 27; Josh. vi. 19; 1 Kings vii. 51, etc.).

WEIGHTS.

The following weights are mentioned in the Bible: Bekah (Gen. xxiv. 22), "half," "half a shekel." This word occurs only in the Pentateuch. See Bekah under MONEY.

Gerah. Properly a "grain" or "bean," the smallest silver weight, $\frac{1}{20}$ th part of the shekel. See Gerah under MONEY and Shekel.

Litra. See Pound.

Maneh (LXX. mnā; Vulgate, mina). "A portion or part;" A. V. "pound," sometimes called stater—standard; a word owing its origin to Babylon, and which, as the weight was employed by the Egyptians, Phœnicians, Hebrews, and Greeks, has the same meaning in the language of all these nations. The weight of the golden targets made by Solomon for the Temple is stated to have been 300 [shekels] of gold each (2 Chron. ix. 16), whilst in the parallel passage the amount of gold employed for each shield is given as three pounds (manehs, 1 Kings x. 17). It would thus appear that the maneh of gold was equal to 100 shekels, but it must be observed that in the Chronicles the Hebrew is "300 of gold," the word shekels being supplied in the A. V.; and it has consequently been suggested by some that the Chronicles was written in the Macedonian period, and that consequently one should reckon what is here meant as "100 drachms to the maneh," as in use among the Greeks. The passage, however, is obscure, and in any case the calculation of 100 shekels to the maneh is not likely. That in Ezekiel (xlv. 12) relative to the maneh is also difficult of explanation [SHEKEL; TALENT]. The word maneh further occurs in Ezra ii. 69; Neh. vii. 71, 72; comp. 1 Esdras v. 45.

Pound. (1) Mnā, mina (1 Macc. xiv. 24; xv. 8). Here large sums are weighed by this standard, and it refers to the Attic talent. (2) Litra, a word used by the Greeks of Sicily in their system of weights and money, sometimes called stater—standard—and equivalent to the Latin word libra or as, the unit of weight among the Romans. Josephus says that the Hebrew maneh of gold equalled $2\frac{1}{2}$ litra. The libra or Roman pound = 5059 grains, consequently $2\frac{1}{2}$ Roman pounds = 12,647 grains; and as the Hebrew gold shekel was the fiftieth part of the maneh, it must have weighed about 253 grains [SHEKEL under MONEY]. The word libra occurs in the N. T. in John xii. 3 and xix. 39.

Shekel. A word signifying "weight," according to which numerous objects were weighed, especially the metals. The passage in Ezek. xlv. 12 is confusing, and cannot be satisfactorily explained, but it must be remembered that it is prophetic. 50 or 60 shekels equalled a maneh [MANEH; POUND]. 3600 or 3000 shekels equalled a talent [TALENT]. See Shekel under MONEY.

Talent. Kikkar, properly "a circle" or "globe;" hence kuklos, circus. The largest Hebrew weight for metals. First occurs in Exod. xxv. 39, "a talent of pure gold." It is also specially spoken of as "talent of silver" (2 Kings v. 22), "talent of lead" (Zech. v. 7), "talent of brass" (Exod. xxxviii. 29), and "talent of iron" (1 Chron. xxix. 7). A talent of silver bound up in a bag, and one change of garment, were about as much as one man could carry (2 Kings v. 23), and weighing was probably avoided by the sealed bags containing a certain weight of silver. The Hebrew talent was derived from Assyria and Babylonia. Of the talents current in these countries, the heavy or Assyrian talent passed through Mesopotamia and Syria to the Phœnician coast-towns, and to Palestine, where we find it in use among the Israelites. In Nineveh, as well as in Palestine, besides the weights talent of the king of 3600 sixtieths of the maneh for valuing precious metals, a special reckoning was made by talents of 3000 gold and silver units; but when it was found convenient to reckon 3000 shekels instead of 3600 to the talent is not known, nor when a deviation was made from the sexagesimal division of the maneh, and it was limited to 50 instead of to 60 units. The sum-total of the taxes to the sanctuary paid by the people is stated to be (Exod. xxxviii. 25) 100 talents, 1775 shekels, to which 603,550 men each contributed a half shekel, so that, according to this, 3000 shekels are reckoned to the talent; and as the talent is always divided into 60 manehs, 20 shekels went to the maneh; which is corroborated from the fact that the taxes for persons of various age and sex commence at a maximum point of 50 shekels (Lev. xxvii. 3, 16), and that Achan found a wedge of gold of just 50 shekels' weight, and not 60 (Josh. vii. 21). [See General Remarks.]

The shekels of the weight talent "of the king" and the gold talent are identical, the latter talent having been formed from the former, which appears to have been used for weighing other materials than the metals ("king's weight," 2 Sam. xiv. 26). [SHEKEL.] The weight of 9 "holy" silver shekels (224.7975×9) thus equals 8 sixteenths of the "weight" maneh (252.9165×8), and the value of 15 "holy" silver shekels equals that of 1 gold shekel—i. e. £2. Some, however, have taken the silver talent as weighing 660,000 grains [$114\frac{7}{8}$ lbs. troy], and, on the basis of the shekel being equivalent to 3s., equalling £450, and the gold talent (with a shekel of about 132 grains) as weighing double the silver, 1,320,000 grains [$229\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. troy], and equalling, at £4 per oz. troy, £11,000 (Smith, Student's O. T. Hist.). As to the copper talent, which is supposed by some to have had a shekel of four times the weight of the gold shekel, though only 1500 to the talent, and therefore equalling 792,000 grains, it is impossible to speak with certainty; but in all probability the copper talent did not contain a fewer number of shekels than that of the silver.

The amounts of talents mentioned in the Bible during the reigns of David and Solomon are almost incredible (1 Chron. xxii. 14; xxix. 4, 7). The annual income of Solomon is said to have been 666 talents of gold (1 Kings x. 14; 2 Chron. ix. 13), which, taking the estimate of some that the gold talent was double the silver, would be equivalent to £7,780,000, a sum more than the revenues of the whole Persian empire under Darius, which has been calculated at about three millions and a half. But if we take 15 shekels of silver as equalling one shekel of gold, and 15 talents of silver as equalling one talent of gold, then 666 talents of gold were exactly 10,000 talents of silver, or £4,000,000. It is, however, difficult to hazard any safe conjecture, and most likely the figures in all these passages have been corrupted.

Roman Money, mentioned in the New Testament, reduced to the English and American Standard.

MINING AND METALLURGY OF THE BIBLE.

The graphic account in Job xxviii. is a striking description of mining operations in olden times: "Surely there is a source for the silver, and a place for the gold which they fine. Iron is taken out of the earth, and he [i. e. the miner or workman] poureth forth stone as copper. He hath made an end of darkness, and he searcheth to every extremity [i. e. to great depths and with diligent care] for the stone of darkness and of the shadow of death. He breaketh through a shaft away from those who tarry above; there, forgotten of every foot, they hang and swing far from men. The earth, from it cometh forth bread, and beneath it is upturned like fire: its stones are the place of the sapphire, which also hath dust of gold. A way that no bird of prey knoweth, and the eye of the hawk hath not seen it; which the proud beasts of prey have not trodden, nor the lion passed along. He layeth his hand upon the stone, he turneth up mountains from the root. He cutteth channels in the rocks, and his eye seeth all rare things. He bindeth fast the rivers that they leak not, and that which is hidden he bringeth to light" (Job xxviii. 1-11).

There are, as we have already seen, traces of ancient mining in Egypt, in the desert of Sinai, in Palestine, and in the adjoining lands, and this poetic description must be held as applying to some of these operations. The writer sketches the vast labor and dangerous enterprises which men will undertake in order to win from the earth its treasures, and then passes on to the question: "Where shall wisdom be found, and where is the place of understanding?" These shall baffle the skill of the miner, and are more difficult of attainment than the precious treasures of the earth. For "the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding" (vs. 12, 28).

It may be well here briefly to summarize what is known concerning the mines of biblical antiquity. Clearly, gold, silver, and tin were brought to the lands of the Bible mainly by commerce, though there are traces or records of gold-working in Egypt, and of both gold and silver in Arabia and Edom. Copper and iron were both native products of Palestine, and were worked also in the island of Meroë, at the mouth of the Nile and in the peninsula of Sinai. The island of Cyprus is also mentioned as a source of copper, and there is every probability that both iron and copper were worked in other districts likewise, though there is no distinct and explicit proof. There were lead-mines in Egypt, near the coast of the Red Sea, and also near Sinai, and it is not improbable that these lead-mines may have yielded small quantities of silver also.

Diodorus Siculus gives a minute description of the method of mining and refining gold. Shafts were sunk into what Diodorus calls veins of marble of excessive whiteness (evidently quartz-rock), from which day-and-night relays of convicts extracted the auriferous quartz. This was then broken up with picks and chisels, and further reduced by iron pestles in stone mortars to small fragments. Then it was ground to powder, spread upon a broad inclined table, and washed with water and fine sponges until the gold became pure from earthy matter. Finally, it was put, with a little lead, tin, salt and bran, into earthen crucibles closed with clay, and subjected for five days and nights to the fire of a furnace. From this description it may be seen that gold-mining in these ancient times did not radically differ from that of one hundred years ago.

Concerning the arts of metallurgy in ancient times we are left in much ignorance. These arts must have existed in considerable excellence amongst the Egyptians and Assyrians; and the accounts given in the Bible of the buildings of David and Solomon show that the Israelites, and especially the Phœnicians, were accomplished metal-workers. Situated between the great ancient empires of the East and West, Palestine was alternately the prey of each, and the carrying away of metal-workers into captivity shows the esteem in which they were then held. See 1 Sam. xiii. 19; 2 Kings xxiv. 14, 15; Jer. xxiv. 1; xxix. 2. The book of Ecclesiasticus (chap. xxxviii. 27, 28), in the Apocrypha, gives an account of a smith's workshop which those who are used to factories and foundries will fully appreciate: "So every carpenter and workmaster, that laboreth night and day; and they that cut and grave seals, and are diligent to make great variety, and give themselves to counterfeit imagery, and watch to finish a work: the smith also sitting by the anvil, and considering the iron-work, the vapor of the fire wasteth his flesh, and he fighteth with the heat of the furnace; the noise of the hammer and the anvil is ever in his ears, and his eyes look still upon the pattern of the thing that he maketh; he setteth his mind to finish his work, and watcheth to polish it perfectly."

In the Bible are references to casting (Ex. xxv. 12; xxvi. 37; 2 Chron. iv. 17; Isa. xl. 19); soldering and welding (Isa. xli. 7); hammering into sheets (Num. xvi. 38; Isa. xlv. 12; Jer. x. 4, 9); gilding and overlaying with metal (Ex. xxv. 11-24; xxvi. 37; 1 Kings vi. 20; 2 Chron. iii. 5; Isa. xl. 19; Zech. xiii. 9). But perhaps the most interesting of all such allusions are those to the melting and separation and refining of metals (Ps. xii. 6; Prov. xvii. 3, etc.; Isa. i. 25; Jer. vi. 29; Ezek. xxii. 18-20). Malachi (iii. 2, 3) makes use of a striking metaphor derived from the metallurgy of silver. Before the discovery of quicksilver, lead was used for the purification of the precious metals. How far the ancients were acquainted with what is now known as "Pattison's method" of obtaining silver from argentiferous lead-ore is uncertain, but Pliny apparently hints at something of the kind in these words: "When submitted to the action of fire, part of the ore precipitates itself in the form of lead, while the silver is left floating on the surface."

Clearly, however, the passage from Malachi above named refers to the process of "cupellation." "He [the Messiah] shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver; and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness."

CHAPTER 1.

¹ The creation of heaven and earth. ¹⁴ Sun, moon and stars are created. ²⁶ Man is made in the image of God. ²⁹ The appointment of food.

IN ^athe beginning ^bGod created the heaven and the earth.

² And the earth was ^cwithout form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. ^dAnd the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.

³ ¶ ^eAnd God said, Let there be light: and there was light.

⁴ And God saw the light, that it was good: and God divided ¹the light from the darkness.

⁵ And God called the light ^fDay, and the darkness he called Night. ²And the evening and the morning were the first day.

⁶ ¶ And God said, ^gLet there be a ³firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters.

⁷ And God made the firmament, and divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above the firmament: and it was so.

⁸ And God called the firmament Heaven. And the evening and the morning were the second day.

⁹ ¶ And God said, ^hLet the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear: and it was so.

¹⁰ And God called the dry land Earth; and the gathering together of the waters called he Seas: and God saw that it was good.

¹¹ And God said, ⁱLet the earth bring forth ⁴grass, the herb yielding seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit ^jafter his kind, whose seed is in itself, upon the earth: and it was so.

¹² And the earth brought forth grass, and herb yielding seed after his kind, and the tree yielding fruit, whose seed was in itself, after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

¹³ And the evening and the morning were the third day.

¹⁴ ¶ And God said, ^kLet there be lights in the firmament of the heaven to divide ⁵the day from the night; and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and years:

¹⁵ And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so.

¹⁶ And God made two great lights; the greater light ⁶to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also.

¹⁷ And God ^lset them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth,

¹⁸ And to rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness: and God saw that it was good.

¹⁹ And the evening and the morning were the fourth day.

²⁰ And God said, ^mLet the waters bring forth abundantly the ⁷moving creature that hath ⁸life, and ⁹fowl that may fly above the earth in the ¹⁰open firmament of heaven.

²² And God blessed them, saying, Be fruitful, and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let fowl multiply in the earth.

²³ And the evening and the morning were the fifth day.

²⁴ ¶ And God said, ⁿLet the earth bring forth the living creature after his kind, cattle, and creeping thing, and beast of the earth after his kind: and it was so.

²⁵ And God made the beast of the earth after his kind, and cattle after their kind, and every thing that creepeth upon the earth after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

²⁶ ¶ And God said, ^oLet us make man ^vin our image, after our likeness: and let them have ^qdominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

²⁸ And ^tGod blessed them, and God said unto them, Be ^ufruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that ¹¹moveth upon the earth.

²⁹ ¶ And God said, Behold, I have given you every herb ¹²bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; ^vto you it shall be for meat.

30 And ^wto every beast of the earth, and ^xto every fowl of the air, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is ¹³life, I have given every green herb for meat: and it was so.

31 And ^yGod saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

CHAPTER 2.

¹ The first sabbath. ⁸ The garden of Eden. ²¹ The making of woman. ²⁴ The institution of marriage.

THUS the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them.

2 And ^aon the seventh day God ended his work which he had made; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made.

3 And God ^bblessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God ¹created and made.

4 ¶ These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the LORD God made the earth and the heavens,

5 And ^cevery plant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew: for the ^dLORD God had not caused it to rain upon the earth, and there was not a man to till the ground.

6 But ²there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.

7 And the LORD God formed man ³of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul.

8 ¶ And the LORD God planted a ^egarden eastward in E'dĕn; and there he put the man whom he had formed.

9 And out of the ground made the LORD God to ^fgrow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food; ^gthe tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil.

10 And ^ha river went out of E'dĕn to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads.

11 The name of the first is Pi'son: that is it which compasseth the whole land of ⁱ*Hāv'ī-lah*, where there is gold;

12 And the gold of that land is good: there is bdellium and the onyx stone.

13 And the name of the second river is Gī'hon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of ^j*E-thī-ō'pī-ā*.

14 And the name of the third river is ^k*Hīd'de-kel*: that is it which goeth ⁵toward the east of Ās-sūr'ī-ā. And the fourth river is Eū-phrā'tēs.

15 And the LORD God took ⁶the man, and put him into the garden of E'dĕn to dress it and to keep it.

16 And the LORD God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden ⁷thou mayest freely eat:

17 But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof ⁸thou shalt surely die.

18 ¶ And the LORD God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him an help ⁹meet for him.

19 And out of the ground the LORD God formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air; and ^kbrought them unto Ād'ām to see what he would call them: and whatsoever ¹⁰*Ād'ām* called every living creature, that was the name thereof.

20 And Ād'ām ¹¹gave names to all cattle, and to the fowl of the air, and to every beast of the field; but for Ād'ām there was not found an help meet for him.

21 And the LORD God caused a deep ^lsleep to fall upon Ād'ām, and he slept: and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof;

22 And the rib, which the LORD God had taken from man, ¹²made he a woman, and ^mbrought her unto the man.

23 And Ād'ām said, This is now bone ⁿof my bones, and flesh of my flesh: she shall be called ¹³Woman, because she was taken out of ¹⁴Man.

24 Therefore ^oshall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife: and ^pthey shall be one flesh.

25 And they were both naked, the man and his wife, and were not ^qashamed.

CHAPTER 3.

NOW the serpent was more subtil ^athan any beast of the field which the LORD God had made. And he said unto the woman, Yea, ¹hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?

2 And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden:

3 ^bBut of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.

4 And the serpent said unto the woman, ^cYe shall not surely die:

5 For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil.

6 And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was ²pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her; ^dand he did eat.

7 And the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked; and they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves ³aprons.

8 And they heard ^ethe voice of the LORD God walking in the garden in the ⁴cool of the day: and Ād'ām and his wife ^fhid themselves from the presence of the LORD God amongst the trees of the garden.

9 And the LORD God called unto Ād'ām, and said unto him, ^gWhere art thou?

10 And he said, I heard thy voice in the garden, and ^hI was afraid, because I was naked; and I hid myself.

11 And he said, Who told thee that thou wast naked? Hast thou eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldest not eat?

12 And the man said, ⁱThe woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat.

13 And the LORD God said unto the woman, What is this that thou hast done? And the woman said, The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat.

14 And the LORD God said unto the serpent, Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed above all cattle, and above every beast of the field; upon thy belly shalt thou go, and ^jdust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life:

15 And I will put ^kenmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; ^lit shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel.

16 Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy conception; ^min sorrow thou shalt bring forth children; and thy desire shall be ⁿto thy husband, and he shall rule over thee.

17 And unto Ād'ām he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, of which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it: cursed is the ground for thy sake; ^oin sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life;

18 Thorns also and thistles shall it ^pbring forth to thee; and thou shalt eat the herb of the field;

19 In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground; for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and ^qunto dust shalt thou return.

20 And Ād'ām called his wife's name ^rĒ'vê; because she was the mother of all living.

21 Unto Ād'ām also and to his wife did the LORD God make coats of skins, and clothed them.

22 ¶ And the LORD God said, ^sBehold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil: and now, lest he put forth his hand, ^tand take also of the tree of life, and eat, and live for ever:

23 Therefore the LORD God sent him forth from the garden of Ē'dĕn, to till the ground from whence he was taken.

24 So he drove out the man; and he placed ^uat the east of the garden of Ē'dĕn ^vChĕr'u-bĭmš, and a flaming sword which turned every way, ^wto keep the way of the tree of life.

9 ¶ And the LORD said unto Cāin, Where is Ā'bĕl thy brother? And he said, I know not: Am I my brother's keeper?

13 And Cāin said unto the LORD, ^{ai}My punishment is greater than I can bear.

14 Behold, thou hast driven me out this day from the face of the earth; and from thy face shall I be hid; and I shall be a fugitive and a vagabond in the earth; and it shall come to pass, that every one that findeth me shall slay me.

15 And the LORD said unto him, Therefore whosoever slayeth Cāin, vengeance shall be taken on him sevenfold. And the LORD ^{aj}set a mark upon Cāin, lest any finding him should kill him.

16 ¶ And Cāin went out from the ^{ak}presence of the LORD, and dwelt in the land of Nōd, on the east of Ē'dĕn.

17 And Cāin knew his wife; and she conceived, and bare ^{al}Ē'nōch: and he builded a city, ^{am}and called the name of the city, after the name of his son, Ē'nōch.

18 And unto Ē'nōch was born Ī'rād: and Ī'rād begat Mĕ-hū'ja-el: and Mĕ-hū'ja-el begat Mĕ-thū'sa-el: and Mĕ-thū'sa-el begat ^{an}Lā'mech.

19 ¶ And Lā'mech took unto him two wives: the name of the one was Ā'dah, and the name of the other Zil'lāh.

20 And Ā'dah bare Jā'bāl: he was the father of such as dwell in tents, and of such as have cattle.

21 And his brother's name was Jū'bal: he was the father of all such as handle the harp and organ.

22 And Zil'lāh, she also bare Tū'bal-cāin, an ^{ao}instructor of every artificer in brass and iron: and the sister of Tū'bal-cāin was Nā'a-mah.

23 And Lā'mech said unto his wives, Ā'dah and Zil'lāh, Hear my voice; ye wives of Lā'mech, hearken unto my speech: for ^{ap}I have slain a man to my wounding, and a young man ^{aq}to my hurt.

24 If Cāin shall be avenged sevenfold, truly Lā'mech seventy and sevenfold.

25 ¶ And Ād'ām knew his wife again; and she bare a son, and called his name ¹⁵Sěth: For God, said she, hath appointed me another seed instead of Ā'běl, whom Cāin slew.

26 And to Sěth, to him also there was born a son; and he called his name ¹⁶Ē'nos: then began men ¹⁷to call upon the name of the LORD.

¹ The genealogy and age of the patriarchs. ²⁴ Translation of Enoch.

THIS is the ^abook of the generations of Ād'ām. In the day that God created man, in ^bthe likeness of God made he him;

2 Male and female created he them; and blessed them, and called their name Ād'ām, in the day when they were created.

3 ¶ And Ād'ām lived an hundred and thirty years, and begat ^ason in his own likeness, after his image; and called his name Sěth:

4 And the days of Ād'ām after he had begotten Sěth were eight hundred years: and he begat sons and daughters:

5 And all the days that Ād'ām lived were nine hundred and thirty years: ^cand he died.

6 And Sěth lived an hundred and five years, and begat Ē'nos:

7 And Sěth lived after he begat Ē'nos eight hundred and seven years, and begat sons and daughters:

8 And all the days of Sěth were nine hundred and twelve years: and he died.

9 ¶ And Ē'nos lived ninety years, and begat ¹Cā-ī'nan:

10 And Ē'nos lived after he begat Cā-ī'nan eight hundred and fifteen years, and begat sons and daughters:

11 And all the days of Ē'nos were nine hundred and five years: and he died.

13 And Cā-ī'nan lived after he begat Mā-hā'lā-lē-el eight hundred and forty years, and begat sons and daughters:

14 And all the days of Cā-ī'nan were nine hundred and ten years: and he died.

15 ¶ And Mā-hā'lā-lē-el lived sixty and five years, and begat ³Jā'red:

16 And Mā-hā'lā-lē-el lived after he begat Jā'red eight hundred and thirty years, and begat sons and daughters:

17 And all the days of Mā-hā'lā-lē-el were eight hundred ninety and five years: and he died.

18 ¶ And Jā'red lived an hundred sixty and two years, and he begat ^dĒ'nōch:

19 And Jā'red lived after he begat Ē'nōch eight hundred years, and begat sons and daughters:

20 And all the days of Jā'red were nine hundred sixty and two years: and he died.

21 ¶ And Ē'nōch lived sixty and five years, and begat ⁴Mē-thu'se-lah:

22 And Ē'nōch ^ewalked with God after he begat Mē-thu'se-lah three hundred years, and begat sons and daughters:

AND it came to pass, when men began to multiply on the face of the earth, and daughters were born unto them,

2 That ^athe sons of God saw the daughters of men that they were fair; and they ^btook them wives of all which they chose.

3 And the LORD said, ^cMy spirit shall not always strive with man, ^dfor that he also is flesh: yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty years.

4 There were giants in the earth in those days; and also after that, when the sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men which were of old, men of renown.

5 ¶ And ^eGOD saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that ¹every ^fimagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil ²continually.

6 And ⁹it repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it ^hgrieved him at his heart.

7 And the LORD said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; ³both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them.

8 But Nō'ah ⁱfound grace in the eyes of the LORD.

9 ¶ These are the generations of Nō'ah: Nō'ah was a just man and ⁴perfect in his generations, and Nō'ah walked with God.

10 And Nō'ah begat three sons, Shēm, Hām, and Jā'pheth.

11 The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence.

12 And God ^jlooked upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth.

13 And God said unto Nō'ah, ^kThe end of all flesh is come before me ; for the earth is filled with violence through them ; and, behold, I will destroy them ⁵with the earth.

14 ¶ Make thee an ark of gopher wood ; ⁶rooms shalt thou make in the ark, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch.

15 And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of : The length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.

16 A window shalt thou make to the ark, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above ; and the door of the ark shalt thou set in the side thereof ; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.

17 ^lAnd, behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven ; and every thing that is in the earth ^mshall die.

18 But with thee will I establish my covenant ; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.

19 And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee ; they shall be male and female.

20 Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive.

21 And take thou unto thee of all ⁿfood that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee ; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them.

22 ^oThus did Nō'ah ; ^paccording to all that God commanded him, so did he.

CHAPTER 7.

1 Noah enters the ark. 17 The flood upon the earth.

AND the LORD said unto Nō'ah, ^aCome thou and all thy house into the ark ; ^bfor thee have I seen righteous before me in this generation.

2 Of every ^cclean beast thou shalt take to thee by ¹sevens, the male and his female : and of beasts that are not clean by two, the male and his female.

3 Of fowls also of the air by sevens, the male and the female ; to keep seed alive upon the face of all the earth.

4 For yet seven days, and ^dI will cause it to rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights ; and every living substance that I have made will I ²destroy from off the face of the earth.

5 And Nō'ah did according unto all ^ethat the LORD commanded him.

6 And Nō'ah was six hundred years old when the flood of waters was upon the earth.

ark, the male and the female, as God had commanded Nō'ah.

10 And it came to pass ³after seven days, that the waters of the flood were upon the earth.

11 ¶ In the six hundredth year of Nō'ah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month, the same day were all ⁹the fountains of the great deep broken up, and the ^hwindows of heaven were opened.

12 And the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights.

13 In the selfsame day entered Nō'ah, and Shēm, and Hām, and Jā'pheth, the sons of Nō'ah, and Nō'ah's wife, and the three wives of his sons with them, into the ark ;

14 They, and every beast after his kind, and all the cattle after their kind, and every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth after his kind, and every fowl after his kind, every bird of every ⁵sort.

15 And they went in unto Nō'ah into the ark, two and two of all flesh, wherein is the breath of life.

16 And they that went in, went in male and female of all flesh, as God had commanded him : and the LORD ⁱshut him in.

17 And the flood was forty days upon the earth ; and the waters increased, and bare up the ark, and it was lift up above the earth.

18 And the waters prevailed, and were increased greatly upon the earth ; ^jand the ark went upon the face of the waters.

19 And the waters prevailed exceedingly upon the earth ; ^kand all the high hills, that were under the whole heaven, were covered.

20 Fifteen cubits upward did the waters prevail ; and the mountains were covered.

21 ^lAnd all flesh died that moved upon the earth, both of fowl, and of cattle, and of beast, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth, and every man :

22 All in ^mwhose nostrils was ⁶the breath of life, of all that was in the dry land, died.

23 And every living substance was destroyed which was upon the face of the ground, both man, and cattle, and the creeping things, and the fowl of the heaven ; and they were destroyed from the earth : and ⁿNō'ah only remained alive, and they that were with him in the ark.

24 ^oAnd the waters prevailed upon the earth an hundred and fifty days.

CHAPTER 8.

1 The waters assuage. 4 The ark rests. 18 Noah goes forth. 21 God promises to curse the earth no more.

AND God ^aremembered Nō'ah, and every living thing, and all the cattle that was with him in the ark : ^band God made a wind to pass over the earth, and the waters asswaged ;

2 ^cThe fountains also of the deep and the windows of heaven were stopped, and ^dthe rain from heaven was restrained ;

3 And the waters returned from off the earth

¹continually: and after the end ^eof the hundred and fifty days the waters were abated.

4 And the ark rested in the seventh month, on the seventeenth day of the month, upon the mountains of Ār'ā-rat.

5 And the waters ²decreased continually until the tenth month: in the tenth month, on the first day of the month, were the tops of the mountains seen.

6 ¶ And it came to pass at the end of forty days, that Nō'ah opened ^fthe window of the ark which he had made:

7 And he sent forth ^ga raven, which went forth ³to and fro, until the waters were dried up from off the earth.

8 Also he sent forth a dove from him, to see if the waters were abated from off the face of the ground;

9 But the dove ^hfound no rest for the sole of her foot, and she returned unto him into the ark, for the waters were on the face of the whole earth: then he put forth his hand, and took her, and ⁴pulled her in unto him into the ark.

10 And he stayed yet other seven days; and again he sent forth the dove out of the ark;

11 And the dove came in to him in the evening; and, lo, in her mouth was an ⁱolive leaf pluckt off: so Nō'ah knew that the waters were abated from off the earth.

12 And he stayed yet other seven days; and sent forth the dove; which returned not again unto him any more.

13 ¶ And it came to pass in the six hundredth and first year, in the first month, the first day of the month, the waters were dried up from off the earth: and Nō'ah removed the covering of the ark, and looked, and, behold, the face of the ground was dry.

14 And in the second month, on the seven and twentieth day of the month, was the earth dried.

15 ¶ And God spake unto Nō'ah, saying,

16 Go ^jforth of the ark, thou, and thy wife, and thy sons, and thy sons' wives with thee.

17 Bring forth with thee every living thing that is with thee, of all flesh, both of fowl, and of cattle, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth; that they may breed abundantly in the earth, and ^kbe fruitful, and multiply upon the earth.

18 And Nō'ah went forth, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him:

19 Every beast, every creeping thing, and every fowl, and whatsoever creepeth upon the earth, after their ⁵kinds, went forth out of the ark.

20 ¶ And Nō'ah builded an altar unto the LORD; and took of ^levery clean beast, and of every clean fowl, and offered burnt offerings on the altar.

21 And the LORD smelled ⁶a sweet savour; and the LORD said in his heart, I will not again ^mcurse the ground any more for man's sake; ⁷for the ⁿimagination of man's heart is evil from his youth; ^oneither will I again smite any more every thing living, as I have done.

22 ⁸While the earth remaineth, seedtime and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and ^pday and night shall not cease.

1 Noah blessed. 8 The covenant established. 13 The rainbow. 25 Canaan cursed.

AND ^aGod blessed Nō'ah and his sons, and said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

2 ^bAnd the fear of you and the dread of you shall be upon every beast of the earth, and upon every fowl of the air, upon all that moveth upon the earth, and upon all the fishes of the sea; into your hand are they delivered.

3 ^cEvery moving thing that liveth shall be meat for you; even as the green herb have I given you all things.

4 ^dBut flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat.

5 And surely your blood of your lives will I require; ^eat the hand of every beast will I require it, and ^fat the hand of man; at the hand of every ^gman's brother will I require the life of man.

6 ^hWhoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: ⁱfor in the image of God made he man.

7 And you, be ye fruitful, and multiply; bring forth abundantly in the earth, and multiply therein.

8 ¶ And God spake unto Nō'ah, and to his sons with him, saying,

9 And I, behold, I establish my covenant with you, and with your seed after you;

10 And with ^jevery living creature that is with you, of the fowl, of the cattle, and of every beast of the earth with you; from all that go out of the ark, to every beast of the earth.

11 And I will establish my covenant with you; neither shall all flesh be cut off any more by the waters of a flood; neither shall there any more be ^ka flood to destroy the earth.

12 And God said, This is ^lthe token of the covenant which I make between me and you and every living creature that is with you, for perpetual generations:

13 I do set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth.

14 And it shall come to pass, when I bring a cloud over the earth, that the bow shall be seen in the cloud:

15 And I will remember my covenant, which is between me and you and every living creature of all flesh; ^mand the waters shall no more become a flood to destroy all flesh.

16 And the bow shall be in the cloud; and I will look upon it, that I may remember ⁿthe everlasting covenant between God and every living creature of all flesh that is upon the earth.

17 And God said unto Nō'ah, This is the token of the covenant, which I have established between me and all flesh that is upon the earth.

18 ¶ And the sons of Nō'ah, that went forth of the ark, were Shēm, and Hām, and Jā'pheth: ^oand Hām is the father of ¹Cā'nāan.

19 These are the three sons of Nō'ah: ^pand of them was the whole earth overspread.

20 And Nō'ah began to be ^aan husbandman, and he planted a vineyard :

21 And he drank of the wine, ^rand was drunken ; and he was uncovered within his tent.

22 And Hām, the father of Cā'nāan, saw the nakedness of his father, and told his two brethren without.

23 ^sAnd Shēm and Jā'pheth took a garment, and laid it upon both their shoulders, and went backward, and covered the nakedness of their father ; and their faces were backward, and they saw not their father's nakedness.

24 And Nō'ah awoke from his wine, and knew what his younger son had done unto him.

25 And he said, ^tCursed be Cā'nāan ; ^ua servant of servants shall he be unto his brethren.

26 And he said, ^vBlessed be the LORD God of Shēm ; and Cā'nāan shall be ²his servant.

27 God shall ³enlarge Jā'pheth, and ^whe shall dwell in the tents of Shēm ; and Cā'nāan shall be his servant.

28 ¶ And Nō'ah lived after the flood three hundred and fifty years.

29 And all the days of Nō'ah were nine hundred and fifty years : and he ^xdied.

CHAPTER 10.

NOW these are the generations of the sons of Nō'ah, Shēm, Hām, and Jā'pheth : and unto them were sons born after the flood.

2 ^aThe sons of Jā'pheth ; Gō'mer, and Mā'gōg, and Mād'a-ī, and Jā'vān, and Tu'bal, and Mē'shech, and Tī'ras.

3 And the sons of Gō'mer ; Āsh'ke-nāz, and Rī'phath, and Tō-gār'mah.

4 And the sons of Jā'vān ; Ē-lī'shah, and Tār'shish, ¹Kīt'tīm, and ²Dōd'a-nīm.

5 By these were the isles of the Ġen'tileš divided in their lands ; every one after his tongue, after their families, in their nations.

6 ¶ And the sons of Hām ; Cūsh, and Mīz'ra-īm, and Phūt, and Cā'nāan.

7 And the sons of Cūsh ; Sē'bā, and Hāv'ī-lah, and Sāb'tah, and Rā'a-mah, and Sāb'te-chah : and the sons of Rā'a-mah ; Shē'bā, and Dē'dan.

8 And Cūsh begat Nīm'rōd : he began to be a mighty one in the earth.

9 He was a mighty hunter before the LORD : wherefore it is said, Even as Nīm'rōd the mighty hunter before ^bthe LORD.

10 And the beginning of his ^ckingdom was ³Bā'bel, and Ē'rēch, and Āc'cād, and Cāl'neh, in the land of Shī'nār.

11 Out of that land ⁴went forth Ās'shur, and builded Nīn'e-veh, and ⁵the city Rē-hō'both, and Cā'lah, 12 And Rē'sen between Nīn'e-veh and Cā'lah : the same is a great city.

13 And Mīz'ra-īm begat Lu'dīm, and Ān'a-mīm, and Lē'hā-bīm, and Nāph'tu-hīm, 14 And Pāth-ru'sīm, and Cās'lū-hīm, (^dout of whom came Phī-lis'tīm,) and Cāph'tō-rīm.

19 ^eAnd the border of the Cā'nāan-ītes was from Sī'dōn, as thou comest to Ġē'rār, unto ⁷Gā'zā ; as thou goest, unto Sōd'om, and Gō-mōr'rah, and Ād'mah, and Ze-bō'im, even unto Lā'shā.

20 These are the sons of Hām, after their families, after their tongues, in their countries, and in their nations.

21 ¶ Unto Shēm also, the father of all the children of Ē'bēr, the brother of Jā'pheth the elder, even to him were children born.

22 The ^fchildren of Shēm ; Ē'lām, and Ās'shur, and ⁸Ār-phāx'ād, and Lūd, and Ā'ram.

25 ^hAnd unto Ē'bēr were born two sons : the name of one was ¹⁰Pē'leg ; for in his days was the earth divided ; and his brother's name was Jōk'tan.

CHAPTER 11.

AND the whole earth was ^aof one ¹language, and of one ²speech.

2 And it came to pass, as they journeyed ³from the east, that they found a plain in the land of ^bShī'nār ; and they dwelt there.

3 And ⁴they said one to another, Go to, let us make brick, and ⁵burn them thoroughly. And they had brick for stone, and slime had they for mortar.

4 And they said, Go to, let us build us a city and a tower, ^cwhose top ⁶may reach unto heaven ; and let us make ^dus a name, lest we be ^escattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth.

5 ^fAnd the LORD came down to see the city and the tower, which the children of men builded.

6 And the LORD said, Behold, the people is one, and they have all one language ; and this they begin to do : and now nothing will be restrained from them, which they have ^gimagined to do.

7 Go to, ^hlet us go down, and there confound their language, that they may ⁱnot understand one another's speech.

8 So the LORD scattered them abroad from thence ^jupon the face of all the earth: and they left off to build the city.

9 Therefore is the name of it called ⁷Bā'bel; ^kbecause the LORD did there confound the language of all the earth: and from thence did the LORD scatter them abroad upon the face of all the earth.

10 ¶ ^lThese are the generations of Shēm: Shēm was an hundred years old, and begat Ār-phāx'ād two years after the flood:

11 And Shēm lived after he begat Ār-phāx'ād five hundred years, and begat sons and daughters.

12 And Ār-phāx'ād lived five and thirty years, ^mand begat Sā'lah:

13 And Ār-phāx'ād lived after he begat Sā'lah four hundred and three years, and begat sons and daughters.

14 And Sā'lah lived thirty years, and begat Ē'bēr:

15 And Sā'lah lived after he begat Ē'bēr four hundred and three years, and begat sons and daughters.

16 ⁿAnd Ē'bēr lived four and thirty years, and begat ⁸Pē'leg:

17 And Ē'bēr lived after he begat Pē'leg four hundred and thirty years, and begat sons and daughters.

18 And Pē'leg lived thirty years, and begat ⁹Rē'u:

19 And Pē'leg lived after he begat Rē'u two hundred and nine years, and begat sons and daughters.

20 And Rē'u lived two and thirty years, and begat ¹⁰Sē'rug:

21 And Rē'u lived after he begat Sē'rug two hundred and seven years, and begat sons and daughters.

22 And Sē'rug lived thirty years, and begat Nā'hôr:

23 And Sē'rug lived after he begat Nā'hôr two hundred years, and begat sons and daughters.

24 And Nā'hôr lived nine and twenty years, and begat ¹¹Tē'rah:

25 And Nā'hôr lived after he begat Tē'rah an hundred and nineteen years, and begat sons and daughters.

26 And Tē'rah lived seventy years, and ^obegat Ā'brām, Nā'hôr, and Hā'ran.

27 ¶ Now these are the generations of Tē'rah: Tē'rah begat Ā'brām, Nā'hôr, and Hā'ran; and Hā'ran begat ^pLōt.

28 And Hā'ran died before his father Tē'rah in the land of his nativity, in Ūr of the Chāl'dees.

29 And Ā'brām and Nā'hôr took them wives: the name of Ā'brām's wife was ^qSā'rāi; and the name of Nā'hôr's wife, ^rMil'cah, the daughter of Hā'ran, the father of Mil'cah, and the father of Īs'cah.

30 But ^sSā'rāi was barren; she had no child.

31 And Tē'rah took Ā'brām his son, and Lōt the son of Hā'ran his son's son, and Sā'rāi his daughter in law, his son Ā'brām's wife; and they went forth with them from Ūr of the Chāl'dees, to go into ^uthe land of Cā'nāan; and they came unto ¹²Hā'ran, and dwelt there.

32 And the days of Tē'rah were two hundred and five years: and Tē'rah died in Hā'ran.

CHAPTER 12.

1 The call of Abram. 4 Departure for Canaan. 10 Visit to Egypt. 14 Pharaoh and the plagues.

NOW the ^aLORD had said unto Ā'brām, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee:

2 ^bAnd I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing:

3 ^cAnd I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: ^dand in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.

4 So Ā'brām departed, as the LORD had spoken unto him; and Lōt went with him: and Ā'brām was seventy and five years old when he departed out of Hā'ran.

5 And Ā'brām took Sā'rāi his wife, and Lōt his brother's son, and all their substance that they had gathered, and the souls that they had gotten ^ein Hā'ran; and they went forth to go ^finto the land of Cā'nāan; and into the land of Cā'nāan they came.

6 ¶ And Ā'brām passed through the land unto the place of ¹Sī'chem, ^gunto the plain of Mō'reh. And the Cā'nāan-īte was then in the land.

7 ^hAnd the LORD appeared unto Ā'brām, and said, ⁱUnto thy seed will I give this land: and there builded he an ^jaltar unto the LORD, who appeared unto him.

8 And he removed from thence unto a mountain on the east of Bēth'-el, and pitched his tent, having Bēth'-el on the west, and ²Hā'ī on the east: and there he builded an altar unto the LORD, and called upon the name of the LORD.

9 And Ā'brām journeyed, ³going on ^kstill toward the south.

10 ¶ And there was ^la famine in the land: and Ā'brām ^mwent down into Ē'g̃ypt to sojourn there; for the famine was ⁿgrievous in the land.

11 And it came to pass, when he was come near to enter into Ē'g̃ypt, that he said unto Sā'rāi his wife, Behold now, I know that thou art ^oa fair woman to look upon:

12 Therefore it shall come to pass, when the Ē-g̃ypt-īans shall see thee, that they shall say, This is his wife: and they ^pwill kill me, but they will save thee alive.

13 Say, ^qI pray thee, ^rthou art my sister: that it may be well with me for thy sake; and my soul shall live because of thee.

14 ¶ And it came to pass, that, when Ā'brām was come into Ē'g̃ypt, the Ē-g̃ypt-īans beheld the woman that she was very fair.

15 The ^sprinces also of Phā'raōh saw her, and commended her before Phā'raōh: and the woman was taken into Phā'raōh's house.

16 And he entreated Ā'brām well for her sake: and he had sheep, and oxen, and he asses, and menservants, and maidservants, and she asses, and camels.

17 And the LORD ^tplagued Phā'raōh and his house with great plagues because of Sā'rāi Ā'brām's wife.

18 And Phā'raōh called Ā'brām, and said, "What is this that thou hast done unto me? why didst thou not tell me that she was thy wife?"

19 Why saidst thou, She is my sister? so I might have taken her to me to wife: now therefore behold thy wife, take her, and go thy way.

20 And Phā'raōh commanded his men concerning him: and they sent him away, and his wife, and all that he had.

CHAPTER 13.

1 Abram and Lot part. 12 Abram dwells in Canaan. 14 The promise renewed. 18 An altar built.

AND Ā'brām went up out of Ē'gypt, he, and his wife, and all that he had, and Lōt with him, into the south.

2 And Ā'brām was ^avery rich in cattle, in silver, and in gold.

3 And he went on his journeys from the south even to Bēth'-el, unto the place where his tent had been at the beginning, between Bēth'-el and Hā'ī;

4 Unto the place of the ^baltar, which he had made there at the first: and there Ā'brām called on the name of the LORD.

5 ¶ And Lōt also, which went with Ā'brām, had flocks, and herds, and tents.

6 And the ^cland was not able to bear them, that they might dwell together: for their substance was great, so that they could not dwell together.

7 And there was ^da strife between the herdmen of Ā'brām's cattle and the herdmen of Lōt's cattle: and the Cā'nāan-ite and the Pēr'iz-zīte dwelled then in the land.

8 And Ā'brām said unto Lōt, ^eLet there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee, and between my herdmen and thy herdmen; for we be ¹brethren.

9 Is ^fnot the whole land before thee? separate thyself, I pray thee, from me: ^gif thou wilt take the left hand, then I will go to the right; or if thou depart to the right hand, then I will go to the left.

10 And Lōt lifted up his eyes, and ^hbeheld all the ⁱplain of Jōr'dān, that it was well watered every where, before the LORD ^jdestroyed Sōd'om and Gō-mōr'rah, even as the garden of the LORD, like the land of Ē'gypt, as thou comest ^kunto Zō'ar.

11 Then Lōt chose him all the plain of Jōr'dān; and Lōt journeyed east: and they separated themselves the one from the other.

12 Ā'brām dwelled in the land of Cā'nāan, and Lōt dwelled in the cities ^lof the plain, and pitched his tent toward Sōd'om.

13 But ^mthe men of Sōd'om were wicked and ⁿsinners before the LORD exceedingly.

14 ¶ And the LORD said unto Ā'brām, after that Lōt was separated from him, ^oLift up now thine eyes, and look from the place where thou art ^pnorthward, and southward, and eastward, and westward:

15 For all the land which thou seest, to thee will I give it, and to thy ^qseed for ever.

16 And I will make thy seed as the ^rdust of the earth: so that if a man can number the dust of the earth, then shall thy seed also be numbered.

CHAPTER 14.

1 Battle of the kings. 12 Lot is captured. 14 Abram rescues Lot. 20 Abram gives tithes to Melchizedek.

AND it came to pass in the days of Ām'ra-phel king of ^aShī'nār, Ā'rī-ōch king of Ē'l'la-sār, Chēd-ōr-lā'ō-mēr king of ^bĒ'lām, and Tī'dal king of nations;

2 That these ^cmade war with Bē'rā king of Sōd'om, and with Bīr'sha king of Gō-mōr'rah, Shī'nāb king of ^dĀd'mah, and Shēm'e-ber king of Ze-bōi'im, and the king of Bē'lā, which is ^eZō'ar.

3 All these were joined together in the vale of Sīd'dim, ^fwhich is the salt sea.

4 Twelve years they served Chēd-ōr-lā'ō-mēr, and in the thirteenth year they rebelled.

5 And in the fourteenth year came Chēd-ōr-lā'ō-mēr, and the kings that were with him, and smote the Rēph'a-īmṣ in Āsh'tē-rōth Kār-nā'im, and the Zū'zimṣ in Hām, and the Ē'mīmṣ in ¹Shā'veh Kīr-ī-ā-thā'im,

6 And the Hō'rītes in their mount Sē'ir, unto ²Ēl-pā'ran, which is by the wilderness.

7 And they returned, and came to Ēn-mīsh'pat, which is Kā'desh, and smote all the country of the Ām'a-lēk-ītes, and also the Ām'ōr-ītes, that dwelt ^gin Hāz'e-zon-tā'mar.

8 And there went out the king of Sōd'om, and the king of Gō-mōr'rah, and the king of Ād'mah, and the king of Ze-bōi'im, and the king of Bē'lā (the same is Zō'ar;) and they joined battle with them in the vale of Sīd'dim;

9 With Chēd-ōr-lā'ō-mēr the king of Ē'lām, and with Tī'dal king of nations, and Ām'ra-phel king of Shī'nār, and Ā'rī-ōch king of Ē'l'la-sār; four kings with five.

10 And the vale of Sīd'dim was full of ^hslimepits; and the kings of Sōd'om and Gō-mōr'rah fled, and fell there; and they that remained fled to the ⁱmountain.

11 And they took all the goods of Sōd'om and Gō-mōr'rah, and all their victuals, and went their way.

12 And they took Lōt, ^jĀ'brām's brother's son, ^kwho dwelt in Sōd'om, and his goods, and departed.

13 ¶ And there came one that had escaped, and told Ā'brām the Hē'brew; for he dwelt in the plain of Mām'rē the Ām'ōr-īte, brother of Ēsh'cōl, and brother of Ā'nēr: and these ^lwere confederate with Ā'brām.

14 And when Ā'brām heard that his ^mbrother was taken captive, he ³armed his ⁴trained servants, ⁿborn in his own house, three hundred and eighteen, and pursued them ^ounto Dān.

15 And he divided himself against them, he and his servants, by night, and smote them, and pursued them unto Hō'bah, which is on the left hand of Dā-mās'cus.

16 And ^phe brought back all the goods, and also brought again his brother Löt, and his goods, and the women also, and the people.

17 ¶ And the king of Söd'om went out to meet him after his return from the slaughter of Chöd-ör-lā'q-mēr, and of the kings that were with him, at the valley of Shā'veh, which is the ^qking's dale.

18 And ^rMēl-chīz'e-dēk king of Sā'lem brought forth bread and wine: and he was the priest of ^sthe most high God.

19 And he blessed him, and said, Blessed be Ā'brām of the most high God, possessor of heaven and earth:

20 And blessed be the most high God, which hath delivered thine enemies into thy hand. And he gave him tithes ^tof all.

21 And the king of Söd'om said unto Ā'brām, Give me the ^upersons, and take the goods to thyself.

22 And Ā'brām said to the king of Söd'om, ^v"I have lift up mine hand unto the LORD, the most high God, ^wthe possessor of heaven and earth,

23 That I ^wwill not take from a thread even to a shoelatchet, and that I will not take any thing that is thine, lest thou shouldest say, I have made Ā'brām rich:

24 Save only that which the young men have eaten, and the portion of the men which went with me, Ā'nēr, Ēsh'cōl, and Mām'rē; let them take their portion.

CHAPTER 15.

1 Abram's vision. 4 Seed is promised. 7 The covenant renewed. 12 A vision.

AFTER these things the word of the LORD came unto Ā'brām in ^aa vision, saying, ^bFear not, Ā'brām: I am thy shield, and thy exceeding ^cgreat reward.

2 And Ā'brām said, Lord GOD, what wilt thou give me, seeing I go childless, and the steward of my house is this Ē-li-ē'zēr of Dā-mās'cus?

3 And Ā'brām said, Behold, to me thou hast given no seed: and, lo, one born in my house is mine heir.

4 And, behold, the word of the LORD came unto him, saying, This shall not be thine heir; but he that shall ^dcome forth out of thine own bowels shall be thine heir.

5 And he brought him forth abroad, and said, Look now toward heaven, and ^etell the stars, if thou be able to number them: and he said unto him, ^fSo shall thy seed be.

6 And ^ghe believed in the LORD; and he ^hcounted it to him for righteousness.

7 And he said unto him, I am the LORD that ⁱbrought thee out of Ūr of the Chāl'dees, to give thee this land to inherit it.

8 And he said, Lord GOD, ^jwhereby shall I know that I shall inherit it?

9 And he said unto him, Take me an heifer of three years old, and a she goat of three years old, and a rām of three years old, and a turtledove, and a young pigeon.

10 And he took unto him all these, and divided them in the midst, and laid each piece one against another: but the birds divided he not.

CHAPTER 16.

1 Sarai deals hardly with Hagar. 7 An angel speaks to Hagar. 15 Ishmael is born.

NOW Sā'rāi Ā'brām's wife ^abare him no children: and she had an handmaid, an Ē-gyp'tian, whose name was ¹Hā'gar.

2 And Sā'rāi said unto Ā'brām, Behold now, the LORD ^bhath restrained me from bearing: I pray thee, go in unto my maid; it may be that I may ²obtain children by her. And Ā'brām hearkened to the voice of Sā'rāi.

3 And Sā'rāi Ā'brām's wife took Hā'gar her maid the Ē-gyp'tian, after Ā'brām had dwelt ten years in the land of Cā'nāan, and gave her to her husband Ā'brām to be his wife.

4 ¶ And he went in unto Hā'gar, and she conceived: and when she saw that she had conceived, her mistress was ^cdespised in her eyes.

5 And Sā'rāi said unto Ā'brām, My wrong be upon thee: I have given my maid into thy bosom; and when she saw that she had conceived, I was despised in her eyes: ^dthe LORD judge between me and thee.

6 But Ā'brām said unto Sā'rāi, Behold, thy maid is in thy hand; do to her ³as it pleaseth thee. And when Sā'rāi ⁴dealt hardly with her, she fled from her face.

7 ¶ And the angel of the LORD found her by a fountain of water in the wilderness, by the fountain in the way to ^eShûr.

8 And he said, Hā'gar, Sā'rāi's maid, whence camest thou ? and whither wilt thou go ? And she said, I flee from the face of my mistress Sā'rāi.

9 And the angel of the LORD said unto her, Return to thy mistress, and ^fsubmit thyself under her hands.

10 And ^gthe angel of the LORD said unto her, ^hI will multiply thy seed exceedingly, that it shall not be numbered for multitude.

11 And the angel of the LORD said unto her, Behold, thou art with child, and shalt bear a son, and shalt call his name ⁵Īsh'mā-el ; because ⁱthe LORD hath heard thy affliction.

12 And he will be a wild man ; his hand will be against every man, and every man's hand against him ; and ^jhe shall dwell in the presence of all his brethren.

13 And she called the name of the LORD that spake unto her, ^kThou God seest me : for she said, Have I also here looked after him that seeth me ?

14 Wherefore the well was called ⁶Bē'er-lā-hāi'-roi ; behold, it is between Kā'desh and Bē'rad.

15 ¶ And Hā'gar bare ^ābrām a son : and ^ābrām called his son's name, which Hā'gar bare, Īsh'mā-el.

16 And ^ābrām was fourscore and six years old, when Hā'gar bare Īsh'mā-el to ^ābrām.

CHAPTER 17.

1 Renewal of the covenant. 5 Abram's name changed. 10 Circumcision instituted. 15 Surra's name changed.

AND when ^ābrām was ninety years old and nine, the LORD appeared to ^ābrām, and said unto him, I am the Almighty God ; ^awalk before me, and be thou ^bperfect.

2 And I will make my ^ccovenant between me and thee, and will multiply thee exceedingly.

3 And ^ābrām ^dfell on his face : and God talked with him, saying,

4 As for me, behold, my covenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a father of ²many nations.

5 Neither shall thy name any more be called ^ābrām, but thy name shall be ³ābrā-hām ; for a father of many nations have I made thee.

6 And I will make thee exceeding fruitful, and I will make nations of thee, and kings shall come out of thee.

7 And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations for an everlasting covenant, ^eto be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee.

8 And I will give unto thee, and to thy seed after thee, the land ⁴wherein thou art a stranger, all the land of Cā'nāan, for an everlasting possession ; and ^fI will be their God.

9 ¶ And God said unto ^ābrā-hām, ^gThou shalt keep my covenant therefore, thou, and thy seed after thee in their generations.

10 This is my covenant, which ye shall keep, between me and you and thy seed after thee ; Every man child among you shall be circumcised.

11 And ^hye shall circumcise the flesh of your foreskin ; and it shall be a token of the covenant betwixt me and you.

12 And ⁵he that is eight days old shall be circumcised among you, every man child in your generations, he that is born in the house, or bought with money of any stranger, which is not of thy seed.

13 He that is born in thy house, and he that is bought with thy money, must needs be circumcised : and my covenant shall be in your flesh for an everlasting covenant.

14 And the uncircumcised man child whose flesh of his foreskin is not circumcised, that soul shall be ⁱcut off from his people ; he hath broken my covenant.

15 ¶ And God said unto ^ābrā-hām, As for Sā'rāi thy wife, thou shalt not call her name Sā'rāi, but ⁶Sā'rah shall her name be.

16 And I will bless her, and ^jgive thee a son also of her : yea, I will bless her, and ⁱshe shall be a mother of nations ; kings of people shall be of her.

17 Then ^ābrā-hām fell upon his face, and ^klaughed, and said in his heart, Shall a child be born unto him that is an hundred years old ? and shall ^lSā'rah, that is ninety years old, bear ?

18 And ^ābrā-hām said unto God, O that Īsh'mā-el might live before thee !

19 And God said, ^mSā'rah thy wife shall bear thee a son indeed ; and thou shalt call his name Īṣaac : and I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant, and with his seed after him.

20 And as for Īsh'mā-el, I have heard thee : Behold, I have blessed him, and will make him fruitful, and will ⁿmultiply him exceedingly ; ^otwelve princes shall he beget, and I will make him ^pa great nation.

21 But my covenant will I establish with ^īṣaac, which ^qSā'rah shall bear unto thee at this set time in the next year.

22 And he left off ^rtalking with him, and God went up from ^ābrā-hām.

23 ¶ And ^ābrā-hām took Īsh'mā-el his son, and all that were born in his house, and all that were bought with his money, every male among the men of ^ābrā-hām's house ; and circumcised the flesh of their foreskin in the selfsame day, as ^sGod had said unto him.

24 And ^ābrā-hām was ninety years old and nine, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin.

25 And Īsh'mā-el his son was thirteen years old, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin.

26 In ^tthe selfsame day was ^ābrā-hām circumcised, and Īsh'mā-el his son.

27 And all the men of ^uhis house, born ^vin the house, and bought with money of the stranger, were circumcised with him.

CHAPTER 18.

1 Abraham entertains angels. 10 Sarah promised a son. 23 Intercession for Sodom.

AND the LORD ^aappeared unto him in the plains of Mām'rē : and he sat in the tent door in the heat of the day ;

2 And he lift up his eyes and looked, and, lo, ^bthree men stood by him : and when he saw them, he ran ^cto meet them from the tent door, and bowed himself toward the ground,

3 And said, My Lord, if now I have found favour in thy sight, pass not away, I pray thee, from thy servant :

4 Let a little water, I pray you, be fetched, and ^dwash your feet, and rest yourselves under the tree :

5 And I will fetch a morsel of bread, and ¹comfort ye your hearts ; after that ye shall pass on : for therefore ²are ye come to your servant. And they said, So do, as thou hast said.

6 And ³Ā'brā-hām hastened into the tent unto Sā'rah, and said, ³Make ready quickly three measures of fine meal, knead it, and make cakes upon the hearth.

7 And ³Ā'brā-hām ran unto the herd, and fetcht a calf tender and good, and gave it unto a young man ; and he hasted to dress it.

8 And he took butter, and milk, and the calf which he had dressed, and set it before them ; and he stood by them under the tree, and they did eat.

9 ¶ And they said unto him, Where is Sā'rah thy wife ? And he said, Behold, ^ein the tent.

10 And he said, I will certainly return unto thee according to the time of life ; and, lo, Sā'rah thy wife shall have a ^fson. And Sā'rah heard it in the tent door, which was behind him.

11 Now ³Ā'brā-hām and Sā'rah were ^gold and well stricken in age ; and it ceased to be with Sā'rah after the ^hmanner of women.

12 Therefore Sā'rah laughed within herself, saying, ⁱAfter I am waxed old shall I have pleasure, my ^jlord being old also ?

13 And the LORD said unto ³Ā'brā-hām, Wherefore did Sā'rah laugh, saying, Shall I of a surety bear a child, which am old ?

14 Is any thing ^ktoo hard for the LORD ? At the time appointed I will return unto thee, according to the time of life, and Sā'rah shall have a son.

15 Then Sā'rah denied, saying, I laughed not ; for she was afraid. And he said, Nay ; but thou didst laugh.

16 ¶ And the men rose up from thence, and looked toward Söd'om : and ³Ā'brā-hām went with them to bring them on the way.

17 And the LORD said, 'Shall I hide from ³Ā'brā-hām that thing which I do ;

18 Seeing that ³Ā'brā-hām shall surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth shall ^mbe blessed in him ?

19 For I know him, that he ⁿwill command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the LORD, to do justice and judgment ; that the LORD may bring upon ³Ā'brā-hām that which he hath spoken of him.

20 And the LORD said, Because the ^ocry of Söd'om and Gō-mōr'rah is great, and because their sin is very grievous ;

21 I will go down now, ^pand see whether they have done altogether according to the cry of it, which is come unto me ; and if not, I will know.

22 And the men turned their faces from thence, and went toward Söd'om : but ³Ā'brā-hām stood yet before the ^qLORD.

23 ¶ And ³Ā'brā-hām drew near, and said, ^rWilt thou also destroy the righteous with the wicked ?

27 And ³Ā'brā-hām answered and said, ^wBehold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the Lord, which am ^xbut dust and ashes :

28 Peradventure there shall lack five of the fifty righteous : wilt thou destroy all the city for lack of five ? And he said, If I find there forty and five, I will not destroy it.

32 And he said, ^bOh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak yet but this once : Peradventure ten shall be found there. And he said, ^cI will not destroy it for ten's sake.

CHAPTER 19.

¹ Lot entertains angels. ¹⁸ Lot's escape to Zoar. ²⁴ Cities of the plain destroyed. ³⁷ Birth of Moab and Ammon.

AND there came ^atwo angels to Söd'om at even ; and Löt sat in the gate of Söd'om : and Löt seeing them rose up to meet them ; and he bowed himself with his face toward the ground ;

2 And he said, Behold now, my lords, ^bturn in, I pray you, into your servant's house, and tarry all night, and wash your feet, and ye shall rise up early, and go on your ways. And they said, Nay ; ^cbut we will abide in the street all night.

3 And he pressed upon them greatly ; and they turned in unto him, and entered into his house ; and ^dhe made them a feast, and did bake unleavened bread, and they did eat.

4 ¶ But before they lay down, the men of the city, even the men of Söd'om, compassed the house round, both old and young, all the people from every quarter :

5 And ^ethey called unto Löt, and said unto him, ^fWhere are the men which came in to thee this night ? bring them out unto us, that we may know them.

6 And ^gLöt went out at the door unto them, and shut the door after him,

7 And said, I pray you, brethren, do not so wickedly.

8 Behold now, I have two daughters which have not known man; let me, I pray you, bring them out unto you, and do ye to them as is good in your eyes: only unto these men do nothing; for ^htherefore came they under the shadow of my roof.

9 And they said, Stand back. And they said again, ⁱThis one fellow came in to sojourn, and he will needs be a judge: now will we deal worse with thee, than with them. And they pressed sore upon the man, even Löt, and came near to break the door.

10 But the men put forth their hand, and pulled Löt into the house to them, and shut to the door.

11 And they smote the men that were at the door of the house ^jwith blindness, both small and great: so that they wearied themselves to find the door.

12 ¶ And the men said unto Löt, Hast ^kthou here any besides? son in law, and thy sons, and thy daughters, and whatsoever thou hast in the city, ^lbring them out of this place:

13 For we will destroy this place, because the cry of them is waxen great before the face of the LORD; and the LORD hath ^msent us to destroy it.

14 And Löt went out, and spake unto his sons in law, which married ⁿhis daughters, and said, Up, ^oget you out of this place; for the LORD will destroy this city. But he seemed ^pas one that mocked unto his sons in law.

15 ¶ And when the morning arose, then the angels hastened Löt, saying, Arise, take thy wife, and thy two daughters, which ^qare here; lest thou be consumed in the ^riniquity of the city.

16 And while he lingered, the men laid hold upon his hand, and upon the hand of his wife, and upon the hand of his two daughters; ^sthe LORD being merciful unto him: and they brought him forth, and set him without the city.

17 ¶ And it came to pass, when they had brought them forth abroad, that he said, ^tEscape for thy life; ^ulook not behind thee, neither stay thou in all the plain; escape to the mountain, lest thou be consumed.

18 And Löt said unto them, Oh, not so, my Lord:

19 Behold now, thy servant hath found grace in thy sight, and thou ^vhast magnified thy mercy, which thou hast shewed unto me in saving my life; and I cannot escape to the mountain, lest some evil take me, and I die:

20 Behold now, this city is near to flee unto, and it is a little one: Oh, let me escape thither, (is it not a little one?) and my soul shall live.

21 And he said unto him, See, I have accepted ^wthee concerning this thing also, that I will not overthrow this city, for the which thou hast spoken.

22 Haste thee, escape thither; for I cannot do any thing till thou be come thither. Therefore the name of the city was ^xcalled ^yZō'ar.

23 ¶ The sun was ^zrisen upon the earth when Löt entered into Zō'ar.

24 Then ^athe LORD rained upon Söd'om and upon Gō-mör'rah brimstone and fire from the LORD out of heaven;

28 And he looked toward Söd'om and Gō-mör'rah, and toward all the land of the plain, and beheld, and, lo, ^zthe smoke of the country went up as the smoke of a furnace.

29 ¶ And it came to pass, when God destroyed the cities of the plain, that God ^aremembered Ā'brā-hām, and sent Löt out of the midst of the overthrow, when he overthrew the cities in the which Löt dwelt.

30 ¶ And Löt went up out of Zō'ar, and ^bdwelt in the mountain, and his two daughters with him; for he feared to dwell in Zō'ar: and he dwelt in a cave, he and his two daughters.

33 And they made their father drink wine that night: and the firstborn went in, and lay with her father; and he perceived not when she lay down, nor when she arose.

34 And it came to pass on the morrow, that the firstborn said unto the younger, Behold, I lay yesternight with my father: let us make him drink wine this night also; and go thou in, and lie with him, that we may preserve seed of our father.

35 And they made their father drink wine that night also: and the younger arose, and lay with him; and he perceived not when she lay down, nor when she arose.

36 Thus were both the daughters of Löt with child by their father.

37 And the firstborn bare a son, and called his name Mō'ab: the same ^fis the father of the Mō'abites unto this day.

38 And the younger, she also bare a son, and called his name Bën-ām'mī: the ^gsame is the father of the children of Ām'mōn unto this day.

CHAPTER 20.

1 Abraham denies his wife. 2 Abimelech takes her. 9 Abraham reproved. 17 Abimelech healed.

AND Ā'brā-hām journeyed from thence ^atoward the south country, and dwelled between Kā'desh and Shūr, and sojourned in ^bGē'rār.

2 And ^cĀ'brā-hām said of Sā'rah his wife, She is my sister: and Ā-bīm'ě-lech king of Gē'rār sent, and took ^dSā'rah.

3 But God ^ecame to Ā-bīm'ě-lech in ^fa dream by night, and said to him, Behold, thou art but ^ga dead man, for the woman which thou hast taken; for she is ^ha man's wife.

4 But Ā-bīm'ě-lech had not come near her : and he said, Lord, ^h wilt thou slay also a righteous nation?

5 Said he not unto me, She is my sister? and she, even she herself said, He is my brother : in the ² integrity of my heart and innocency of my hands have I done this.

6 And God said unto him in a dream, Yea, I know that thou didst this in the integrity of thy heart ; for I also ⁱ withheld thee from sinning against me : therefore suffered I thee not to touch her.

7 Now therefore restore the man his wife ; for he is a prophet, and he ^j shall pray for thee, and thou shalt live : and if thou restore her not, know thou that thou shalt surely die, thou, and all that are thine.

8 Therefore Ā-bīm'ě-lech rose early in the morning, and called all his servants, and told all these things in their ears : and the men were sore afraid.

9 Then Ā-bīm'ě-lech called Ā'brā-hām, and said unto him, What hast thou done unto us? and what have I offended thee, that thou hast brought on me and on my kingdom ^k a great sin? thou hast done deeds unto me that ought not to be done.

10 And Ā-bīm'ě-lech said unto Ā'brā-hām, What sawest thou, that thou hast done this thing?

11 And Ā'brā-hām said, Because I thought, ^l Surely the fear of God is not in this place ; and they will slay me for my wife's sake.

12 And ^m yet indeed she is my sister ; she is the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother ; and she became my wife.

13 And it came to pass, when God ⁿ caused me to wander from my father's house, that I said unto her, This is thy kindness which thou shalt shew unto me ; at every place whither we shall come, say of me, ^o He is my brother.

14 And Ā-bīm'ě-lech took ^p sheep, and oxen, and menservants, and womenservants, and gave them unto Ā'brā-hām, and restored him Sā'rah his wife.

15 And Ā-bīm'ě-lech said, ^q Behold, my land is before thee : dwell ^r where it pleaseth thee.

16 And unto Sā'rah he said, Behold, I have given thy ^s brother a thousand pieces of silver : behold, he is to thee a covering of the eyes, unto all that are with thee, and with all other : thus she was reproved.

17 ¶ So Ā'brā-hām ^t prayed unto God : and God healed Ā-bīm'ě-lech, and his wife, and his maid-servants ; and they bare children.

18 For the LORD had ^u fast closed up all the wombs of the house of Ā-bīm'ě-lech, because of Sā'rah Ā'brā-hām's wife.

5 And Ā'brā-hām was an hundred years old, when his son Ī'saac was born unto him.

6 ¶ And Sā'rah said, ^f God hath made me to laugh, so that all that hear will laugh ^g with me.

7 And she said, Who would have said unto Ā'brā-hām, that Sā'rah should have given children suck? for ^h I have born him a son in his old age.

8 And the child grew, and was weaned : and Ā'brā-hām made a great feast the same day that Ī'saac was weaned.

9 ¶ And Sā'rah saw the ⁱ son of Hā'gar the Ē-gŷp'-tĭan, which she had born unto Ā'brā-hām, ^j mocking.

10 Wherefore she said unto Ā'brā-hām, ^k Cast out this bondwoman and her son : for the son of this bondwoman shall not be heir with my son, even with Ī'saac.

11 And the thing was very ^l grievous in Ā'brā-hām's sight because of his son.

12 ¶ And God said unto Ā'brā-hām, Let it not be grievous in thy sight because of the lad, and because of thy bondwoman ; in all that Sā'rah hath said unto thee, hearken unto her voice ; for ^m in Ī'saac shall thy seed be called.

13 And also ⁿ of the son of the bondwoman will I make a nation, because he is thy seed.

14 And Ā'brā-hām rose up early in the morning, and took bread, and a bottle of water, and gave it unto Hā'gar, putting it on her shoulder, and the child, and ^o sent her away : and she departed, and wandered in the wilderness of Bē'er-shē'bā.

15 And ^p the water was spent in the bottle, and she cast the child under one of the shrubs.

16 And she went, and sat her down over against him a good way off, as it were a bowshot : for she said, ^q Let me not see the death of the child. And she sat over against him, and lift up her voice, and wept.

17 And ^r God heard the voice of the lad ; and the angel of God called to Hā'gar out of heaven, and said unto her, What aileth thee, Hā'gar? fear not ; for God hath heard the voice of the lad where he is.

18 Arise, lift up the lad, and hold him in thine hand ; for ^s I will make him a great nation.

19 And God ^t opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water ; and she went, and filled the bottle with water, and gave the lad drink.

20 And ^u God was with the lad ; and he grew, and ^v dwelt in the wilderness, and became an archer.

21 And he dwelt in the wilderness of Pā'ran : and his mother took him a wife out of the ^w land of Ē'gŷpt.

22 ¶ And it came to pass at that time, that ^x Ā-bīm'ě-lech and Phī'chol the chief captain of his host spake unto Ā'brā-hām, saying, ^y God is with thee in all that thou doest :

23 Now therefore ^z swear unto me here by God ¹ that thou wilt not deal falsely with me, nor with my son, nor with my son's son : but according to the kindness that I have done unto thee, thou shalt do unto me, and to the land wherein thou hast sojourned.

24 And Ā'brā-hām said, I will swear.

25 And Ā'brā-hām reproved Ā-bīm'ě-lech because of a well of water, which Ā-bīm'ě-lech's servants had violently ^a taken away.

26 And Ā-bīm'ě-lech said, I wot not who hath done this thing: neither didst thou tell me, neither yet heard I of it, but to day.

27 And Ā'brā-hām took sheep and oxen, and gave them unto Ā-bīm'ě-lech; and both of them ^b made a covenant.

28 And Ā'brā-hām set seven ewe lambs of the flock by themselves.

29 And Ā-bīm'ě-lech said unto Ā'brā-hām, ^c What mean these seven ewe lambs which thou hast set by themselves?

30 And he said, For these seven ewe lambs shalt thou take of my hand, that ^d they may be a witness unto me, that I have digged this well.

31 Wherefore he ^e called that place ² Bē'er-shē'bā; because there they sware both of them.

32 Thus they made a covenant at Bē'er-shē'bā: then Ā-bīm'ě-lech rose up, and Phī'chol the chief captain of his host, and they returned into the ^f land of the Phī-lis'tīneš.

33 ¶ And Ā'brā-hām planted a ³ grove in Bē'er-shē'bā, and called there on the name of the LORD, the ^g everlasting God.

34 And Ā'brā-hām sojourned in the Phī-lis'tīneš' land many days.

CHAPTER 22.

AND it came to pass after these things, that ^a God did tempt Ā'brā-hām, and said unto him, Ā'brā-hām: and he said, ¹ Behold, here I am.

2 And he said, ^b Take now thy son, thine only son Ī'saac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land ^c of Mō-rī'ah; and offer him there for a burnt offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

3 ¶ And Ā'brā-hām ^d rose up early in the morning, and saddled his ass, and took two of his young men with him, and Ī'saac his son, and clave the wood for the burnt offering, and rose up, and went unto the place of which God had told him.

4 Then on the third day Ā'brā-hām lifted up his eyes, and saw the place afar off.

5 And Ā'brā-hām said unto his young men, Abide ye here with the ass; and I and the lad will go yonder and worship, and come again to you.

6 And Ā'brā-hām took the wood of the burnt offering, and ^e laid it upon Ī'saac his son; and he took the fire in his hand, and a knife; and they went both of them together.

7 And Ī'saac spake unto Ā'brā-hām his father, and said, My father: and he said, ² Here am I, my son. And he said, Behold the fire and the wood: but where is the ³ lamb for a burnt offering?

8 And Ā'brā-hām said, My son, God will provide himself ^f a lamb for a burnt offering: so they went both of them together.

9 And they came to the place which God had told him of; and Ā'brā-hām built an altar there, and laid the wood in order, and ^g bound Ī'saac his son, and laid him on the altar upon the wood.

10 And Ā'brā-hām ^b stretched forth his hand, and took the knife to slay his son.

11 And the angel of the LORD called unto him out of heaven, and said, Ā'brā-hām, Ā'brā-hām: and he said, Here am I.

12 And he said, ⁱ Lay not thine hand upon the lad, neither do thou any thing unto him: for now ^j I know that thou fearest God, seeing thou hast not withheld thy son, thine only son from me.

13 And Ā'brā-hām lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns: and Ā'brā-hām went and took the ram, and offered him up for a burnt offering ^k in the stead of his son.

14 And Ā'brā-hām called the name of that place ⁴ Jē-hō'vah-jī'reh: as it is said to this day, In the mount of the LORD it shall be seen.

15 ¶ And the angel of the LORD called unto Ā'brā-hām out of heaven the second time,

16 And said, 'By myself have I sworn, saith the LORD, for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son:

17 That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the ^m stars of the heaven, and as the ⁿ sand which is upon the sea ⁵ shore; and thy seed shall ^o possess the gate of his enemies;

19 So Ā'brā-hām returned unto his young men, and they rose up and went together to Bē'er-shē'bā; and Ā'brā-hām dwelt at Bē'er-shē'bā.

20 ¶ And it came to pass after these things, that it was told Ā'brā-hām, saying, Behold, ^r Mīl'cah, she hath also born children unto thy brother Nā'hôr;

24 And his concubine, whose name was Reṽ'mah, she bare also Tē'bah, and Gā'hām, and Thā'hāsh, and Mā'a-chah.

CHAPTER 23.

AND Sā'rah was an hundred and seven and twenty years old: these were the years of the life of Sā'rah.

2 And Sā'rah died in Kīr'jath-ār'bā; the same is Hē'bron in the land of Cā'nāan: and Ā'brā-hām came ^a to mourn for Sā'rah, and to weep for her.

3 ¶ And Ā'brā-hām stood up from before his dead, and spake unto the sons of Hēth, saying,

4 I am ^b a stranger and a sojourner with you: give me a possession of a ^c buryingplace with you, that I may bury my dead out of my sight.

5 And the children of Hēth answered Ā'brā-hām, saying unto him,

6 Hear us, my lord: thou art ¹ a mighty ^d prince among us: in the choice of our sepulchres bury thy dead ; none of us shall withhold from thee his sepulchre, but that thou mayest bury thy dead.

7 And Ā'brā-hām stood up, and bowed ^ehimself to the people of the land, even to the children of Hēth.

8 And he communed with them, saying, If it be your mind that I should bury my dead out of my sight ; hear me, and intreat for me to Ē'phron the son of Zō'har,

9 That he may give me the cave of Māch-pē'lah, which he hath, which is in the end of his field ; for ²as much money as it is worth he shall give it me for a possession of a buryingplace amongst you.

10 And Ē'phron dwelt among the children of Hēth : and Ē'phron the Hīt'tite answered Ā'brā-hām in the ³audience of the children of Hēth, even of all that went in at the ^fgate of his city, saying,

11 Nay, ^gmy lord, hear me : the field give I thee, and the cave that is therein, I give it thee ; in the presence of the sons of my people give I it thee : bury thy dead.

12 And Ā'brā-hām bowed down himself before the people of the land.

13 And he spake unto Ē'phron in the audience of the people of the land, saying, But if thou wilt give it, I pray thee, hear me : ^hI will give thee money for the field ; take it of me, and I will bury my dead there.

14 And Ē'phron answered Ā'brā-hām, saying unto him,

15 My lord, hearken unto me : the land is worth four hundred shekels ⁱof silver ; what is that betwixt me and thee ? bury therefore thy dead.

16 And Ā'brā-hām hearkened unto Ē'phron ; and Ā'brā-hām ^jweighed to Ē'phron the silver, which he had named in the audience of the sons of Hēth, four hundred shekels of silver, current money with the merchant.

17 ¶ And ^kthe field of Ē'phron, which was in Māch-pē'lah, which was before Mām'rē, the field, and the cave which was therein, and all the trees that were in the field, that were in all the borders round about, were made sure

18 Unto Ā'brā-hām for a possession in the presence of the children of Hēth, before all that went in at the gate of his city.

19 And after this, ^lĀ'brā-hām buried Sā'rah his wife in the cave of the field of Māch-pē'lah before Mām'rē : the same is Hē'bron in the land of Cā'nāan.

20 And the field, and the cave that is therein, were ^mmade sure unto Ā'brā-hām for a possession of a buryingplace by the sons of Hēth.

12 And he said, ^oO LORD God of my master Ā'brā-hām, ^vI pray thee, send me good speed this day, and shew kindness unto my master Ā'brā-hām.

16 And the damsel was ^uvery ⁴fair to look upon, a virgin, neither had any man known her : and she went down to the well, and filled her pitcher, and came up.

17 And the servant ran to meet her, and said, ^vLet me, I pray thee, drink a little water of thy pitcher.

g verse 40.

o I walk, will send his ^pangel with thee, and prosper thy way ; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of my kindred, and of my father's house :

41 Then ^qshalt thou be clear from this my oath, when thou comest to my kindred ; and if they give not thee one, thou shalt be clear from my oath.

42 And I came this day unto the well, and said, ^rO LORD God of my master Ā'brā-hām, if now thou ^sdo prosper my way which I go :

43 Behold, ^tI stand by the well of water ; and it shall come to pass, that when the virgin cometh forth to draw water, and I say to her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water of thy pitcher to drink ;

44 And she say to me, ^uBoth drink thou, and I will also draw for thy camels : let the same be the woman whom the LORD hath appointed out for my master's son.

45 And ^vbefore I had ^wdone speaking in mine heart, behold, Rē-bēk'ah came forth with her pitcher on her shoulder ; and she went down unto the well, and drew water : and I said unto her, Let me drink, I pray thee.

46 And she made haste, and let down her pitcher from her shoulder, and said, Drink, and I will give thy camels drink also : so I drank, and she made the camels drink also.

47 And I asked her, and said, Whose daughter art thou ? And she said, The daughter of Bēth-ū'el, Nā'hōr's son, whom Mīl'cah bare unto him : and I put the ^xearring upon her face, and the bracelets upon her hands.

48 And I ^ybowed down my head, and worshipped the LORD, and blessed the LORD God of my master Ā'brā-hām, which had ^zled me in the right way to take my master's brother's daughter unto his son.

49 And now ^aif ye will deal kindly and truly with my master, tell me : and if not, tell me ; that I may turn to the right hand, or to the left.

50 Then Lā'ban and Bēth-ū'el answered and said, ^bThe thing proceedeth from the LORD : we cannot speak unto thee bad or good.

51 Behold, Rē-bēk'ah is ^cbefore thee, take her, and go, and let her be thy master's son's wife, as the LORD hath spoken.

52 And it came to pass, that, when Ā'brā-hām's servant heard their words, he worshipped the LORD, bowing himself to the earth.

53 And the servant brought forth jewels ^dof silver, and ^ejewels of gold, and raiment, and gave them to Rē-bēk'ah : he gave also to her brother and to her mother ^fprecious things.

54 And they did eat and drink, he and the men that were with him, and tarried all night ; and they rose up in the morning, and he said, ^gSend me away unto my master.

55 And her brother and her mother said, Let the damsel abide with us ^ha few days, at the least ten ; after that she shall go.

56 And he said unto them, Hinder me not, seeing the ⁱLORD hath prospered my way ; send me away that I may go to my master.

57 And they said, We will call the damsel, and enquire at her mouth.

58 And they called Rē-bēk'ah, and said unto her, Wilt thou go with this man? And she said, I will go.

59 And they sent away Rē-bēk'ah their sister, and her ^hnurse, and Ā'brā-hām's servant, and his men.

60 And they blessed Rē-bēk'ah, and said unto her, Thou art our sister, be thou ⁱthe mother of thousands of millions, and let thy ^jseed possess the gate of those which hate them.

61 ¶ And Rē-bēk'ah arose, and her damsels, and they rode upon the camels, and followed the man: and the servant took Rē-bēk'ah, and went his way.

62 And Ī'saac came from the way of the well ^kLā-hāi'-roi; for he dwelt in the south country.

63 And Ī'saac went out ^lto meditate in the field at the eventide: and he lifted up his eyes, and saw, and, behold, the camels were coming.

64 And Rē-bēk'ah lifted up her eyes, and when she saw Ī'saac, she lighted ^moff the camel.

65 For she had said unto the servant, What man is this that walketh in the field to meet us? And the servant had said, It is my master: therefore she took a ⁿveil, and covered herself.

66 And the servant told Ī'saac all things that he had done.

67 And Ī'saac brought her into his mother Sā'rah's tent, and took Rē-bēk'ah, and she became his wife; and he loved her: and ^oĪ'saac was comforted after his mother's death.

CHAPTER 25.

1 Abraham's sons by Keturah. 7 Death of Abraham. 24 Birth of Esau and Jacob. 29 Sale of Esau's birthright.

THEN again Ā'brā-hām took a wife, and her name was Kē-tū'rah.

2 And she bare him ^aZīm'rān, and Jök'shan, and Mē'dan, and Mīd'i-an, and Īsh'bāk, and Shū'ah.

3 And Jök'shan begat Shē'bā, and Dē'dan. And the sons of Dē'dan were Ās-shū'rim, and Lē-tū'shim, and Lē-ūm'mim.

4 And the sons of Mīd'i-an; Ē'phah, and Ē'phēr, and Hā'noch, and Ā-bī'dah, and Ēl'dā-ah. All these were the children of Kē-tū'rah.

5 ¶ And Ā'brā-hām ^bgave all that he had unto Ī'saac.

6 But unto the sons of the concubines, which Ā'brā-hām had, Ā'brā-hām gave gifts, and ^csent them away from Ī'saac his son, while he yet lived, eastward, unto the ^deast country.

7 And these are the days of the years of Ā'brā-hām's life which he lived, an hundred threescore and fifteen years.

8 Then Ā'brā-hām gave up the ghost, and died in ^ea good old age, an old man, and full of years; and was ^fgathered to his people.

9 And his sons ^gĪ'saac and Īsh'mā-el buried him ^hin the cave of Māch-pē'lah, in the field of Ē'phron the son of Zō'har the Hīt'tite, which is before Mām'rē;

10 The ⁱfield which Ā'brā-hām purchased of the sons of Hēth: there was Ā'brā-hām buried, and Sā'rah his wife.

11 ¶ And it came to pass after the death of Ā'brā-hām, that God blessed his son Ī'saac; and Ī'saac dwelt by the well ^jLā-hāi'-roi.

12 ¶ Now these are the ^kgenerations of Īsh'mā-el, Ā'brā-hām's son, whom Hā'gar the Ē-gŷp'tian, Sā'rah's handmaid, bare unto Ā'brā-hām:

13 And these are the names of the sons of Īsh'mā-el, by their names, according to their generations: the firstborn of Īsh'mā-el, Nē-bā'joth; and Kē'dār, and Ād'bē-el, and Mīb'sam,

14 And Mīsh'mā, and Du'mah, and Mās'sā,

15 ^lHā'dār, and Tē'mā, Jē'tūr, Nā'phish, and Kēd'e-mah:

16 These are the sons of Īsh'mā-el, and these are their names, by their towns, and by their castles; ^ltwelve princes according to their nations.

17 And these are the years of the life of Īsh'mā-el, an hundred and thirty and seven years: and he gave ^mup the ghost and died; and was gathered unto his people.

18 And they dwelt from ⁿHāv'i-lah unto Shûr, that is before Ē'gŷpt, as thou goest toward Ās-sŷr'i-ā: and he ^odied in the ^opresence of all his brethren.

19 ¶ And these are the generations of Ī'saac, Ā'brā-hām's son: Ā'brā-hām ^pbegat Ī'saac:

20 And Ī'saac was forty years old when he took ^qRē-bēk'ah to wife, the ^rdaughter of Bēth-ū'el the Sŷr'i-an of Pā'dan-ā'ram, the ^ssister to Lā'ban the Sŷr'i-an.

21 And Ī'saac ^tintreated the LORD for his wife, because she was barren: and the LORD was ^uintreated of him, and Rē-bēk'ah his wife ^vconceived.

22 And the children struggled together within her; and she said, If it be so, why am I thus? And she went to ^wenquire of the LORD.

23 And the LORD said unto her, Two nations are in thy womb, and two ^xmanner of people shall be separated from thy bowels: and the one people shall be stronger than the other people; and the elder shall serve the younger.

24 ¶ And when her days to be delivered were fulfilled, behold, there were twins in her womb.

25 And the first came out red, all ^yover like an hairy garment; and they called his name Ē'sau.

26 And after that came his brother out, and ^zhis hand took hold on Ē'sau's heel; and ^ahis name was called Jā'qob: and Ī'saac was threescore years old when she bare them.

27 And the boys grew: and Ē'sau was a ^bcunning hunter, a man of the field; and Jā'qob was ^ca plain man, ^ddwelling in tents.

28 And Ī'saac loved Ē'sau, because ^ehe did ^eeat of his venison: ^fbut Rē-bēk'ah loved Jā'qob.

29 ¶ And Jā'qob sod pottage: and Ē'sau came from the field, and he was faint:

30 And Ē'sau said to Jā'qob, Feed me, I pray thee, ^gwith that same red pottage; for I am faint: therefore was his name called ^hĒ'dom.

31 And Jā'qob said, Sell me this day thy birthright.

32 And Ē'sau said, Behold, I am ⁱat the point to die: and what profit shall this birthright do to me?

33 And Jā'cōb said, Swear to me this day ; and he sware unto him : and he ^gsold his birthright unto Jā'cōb.

34 Then Jā'cōb gave Ē'sāu bread and pottage of lentiles ; and ^hhe did eat and drink, and rose up, and went his way : thus Ē'sāu despised his birthright.

CHAPTER 26.

¹ God's promise to Isaac. ⁶ Dispute with Abimelech. ²³ God appears to Isaac of Beer-shebo. ²⁶ A covenant.

AND there was a famine in the land, beside ^athe first famine that was in the days of Ā'brā-hām. And Ī'sāac went unto ^bĀ-bīm'ē-lech king of the Phī-līs'tīneš unto Gē'rār.

2 And the LORD appeared unto him, and said, Go not down into Ē'g̃ypt ; dwell in the ^cland which I shall tell thee of :

3 Sojourn ^din this land, and ^eI will be with thee, and ^fwill bless thee ; for unto thee, and unto thy seed, ^gI will give all these countries, and I will perform ^hthe oath which I sware unto Ā'brā-hām thy father ;

4 And ⁱI will make thy seed to multiply as the stars of heaven, and will give unto thy seed all these countries ; and ^jin thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed ;

5 Because ^kthat Ā'brā-hām obeyed my voice, and kept my charge, my commandments, my statutes, and my laws.

6 ¶ And Ī'sāac dwelt in Gē'rār :

7 And the men of the place asked him of his wife ; and he said, ^lShe is my sister : for ^mhe feared to say, She is my wife ; lest, said he, the men of the place should kill me for Rē-bēk'ah ; because she was ⁿfair to look upon.

8 And it came to pass, when he had been there a long time, that Ā-bīm'ē-lech king of the Phī-līs'tīneš looked out at a window, and saw, and, behold, Ī'sāac was sporting with Rē-bēk'ah his wife.

9 And Ā-bīm'ē-lech called Ī'sāac, and said, Behold, of a surety she is thy wife : and how saidst thou, She is my sister ? And Ī'sāac said unto him, Because I said, Lest I die for her.

10 And Ā-bīm'ē-lech said, What is this thou hast done unto us ? one of the people might lightly have lien with thy wife, and ^othou shouldst have brought guiltiness upon us.

11 And Ā-bīm'ē-lech charged all his people, saying, He that ^ptoucheth this man or his wife shall surely be put to death.

12 Then Ī'sāac sowed in that land, and ^qreceived in the same year an ^rhundredfold : and the LORD blessed ^shim.

13 And the man ^twaxed great, and ^uwent forward, and grew until he became very great :

14 For he had possession of flocks, and possession of herds, and great store of ^vservants : and the Phī-līs'tīneš ^wenvied him.

15 For all the wells ^xwhich his father's servants had digged in the days of Ā'brā-hām his father, the Phī-līs'tīneš had stopped them, and filled them with earth.

16 And Ā-bīm'ē-lech said unto Ī'sāac, Go from us ; for ^vthou art much mightier than we.

17 ¶ And Ī'sāac departed thence, and pitched his tent in the valley of Gē'rār, and dwelt there.

18 And Ī'sāac digged again the wells of water, which they had digged in the days of Ā'brā-hām his father ; for the Phī-līs'tīneš had stopped them after the death of Ā'brā-hām : ^wand he called their names after the names by which his father had called them.

19 And Ī'sāac's servants digged in the valley, and found there a well of ⁴springing water.

20 And the herdmen of Gē'rār did ^xstrive with Ī'sāac's herdmen, saying, The water is ours : and he called the name of the well ⁵Ē'sēk ; because they strove with him.

21 And they digged another well, and strove for that also : and he called the name of it ⁶Sīt'nah.

22 And he removed from thence, and digged another well ; and for that they strove not : and he called the name of it ⁷Rē-hō'both ; and he said, For now the LORD hath made room for us, and we shall be ^yfruitful in the land.

23 And he went up from thence to Bē'er-shē'bā.

24 And the LORD appeared ^zunto him the same night, and said, ^zI am the God of Ā'brā-hām thy father : ^afear not, for ^bI am with thee, and will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for my servant Ā'brā-hām's sake.

25 And he ^cbuilded an altar there, and ^dcalled upon the name of the LORD, and pitched his tent there : and there Ī'sāac's servants digged a well.

26 ¶ Then Ā-bīm'ē-lech went to him from Gē'rār, and Ā-hūz'zath one of his friends, and Phī'chol the chief captain of his army.

27 And Ī'sāac said unto them, Wherefore come ye to me, seeing ye ^ehate me, and have sent me away from you ?

28 And they said, ⁸We saw certainly that the LORD ^fwas with thee : and we said, Let there be now an oath betwixt us, even betwixt us and thee, and let us make a covenant with thee ;

29 ⁹That thou wilt do us no hurt, as we have not touched thee, and as we have done unto thee nothing but good, and have sent thee away in peace : ^gthou art now the blessed of the LORD.

30 And ^hhe made them a feast, and they did eat and drink.

31 And they rose up betimes in the morning, and ⁱsware one to another : and Ī'sāac sent them away, and they departed from him in peace.

32 And it came to pass the same day, that Ī'sāac's servants came, and told him concerning the well which they had digged, and said unto him, We have found water.

33 And he called it ¹⁰Shē'bah : therefore ^jthe name of the city is ¹¹Bē'er-shē'bā unto this day.

34 ¶ And ^kĒ'sāu was forty years old when he took to wife Jū'dith the daughter of Bē-ē'rī the Hīt'tīte, and Bāsh'ē-māth the daughter of Ē'lon the Hīt'tīte :

35 Which ^lwere ¹²a grief of mind unto Ī'sāac and to Rē-bēk'ah.

CHAPTER 27.

1 Isaac sends for venison. 6 Jacob deceives Isaac. 23 He obtains the blessing. 41 Esau threatens Jacob.

AND it came to pass, that when I'saac was old, and ^ahis eyes were dim, so that he could not see, he called E'sau his eldest son, and said unto him, My son : and he said unto him, Behold, here am I.

2 And he said, Behold now, I am old, ^bI know not the day of my death :

3 Now ^ctherefore take, I pray thee, thy weapons, thy quiver and thy bow, and go out to the field, and ¹take me some venison ;

4 And make me savoury meat, such as I love, and bring it to me, that I may eat ; that my soul ^dmay bless thee before I die.

5 And Rē-bēk'ah heard when I'saac spake to E'sau his son. And E'sau went to the field to hunt for venison, and to bring it.

6 ¶ And Rē-bēk'ah spake unto Jā'cob her son, saying, Behold, I heard thy father speak unto E'sau thy brother, saying,

7 Bring me venison, and make me savoury meat, that I may eat, and bless thee before the LORD before my death.

8 Now therefore, my son, ^eobey my voice according to that which I command thee.

9 Go now to the flock, and fetch me from thence two good kids of the goats ; and I will make them savoury ^fmeat for thy father, such as he loveth :

10 And thou shalt bring it to thy father, that he may eat, and that he ^gmay bless thee before his death.

11 And Jā'cob said to Rē-bēk'ah his mother, Behold, ^hE'sau my brother is a hairy man, and I am a smooth man :

12 My father peradventure ⁱwill feel me, and I shall seem to him as a deceiver ; and I shall bring ^ja curse upon me, and not a blessing.

13 And his mother said unto him, Upon ^kme be thy curse, my son : only obey my voice, and go fetch me them.

14 And he went, and fetched, and brought them to his mother : and his mother ^lmade savoury meat, such as his father loved.

15 And Rē-bēk'ah took ^mgoodly raiment ⁿof her eldest son E'sau, which were with her in the house, and put them upon Jā'cob her younger son :

16 And she put the skins of the kids of the goats upon his hands, and upon the smooth of his neck :

17 And she gave the savoury meat and the bread, which she had prepared, into the hand of her son Jā'cob.

18 ¶ And he came unto his father, and said, My father : and he said, Here am I ; who art thou, my son ?

19 And Jā'cob said unto his father, I am E'sau thy firstborn ; ^oI have done according as thou badest me : arise, I pray thee, sit and eat of my venison, ^pthat thy soul may bless me.

20 And I'saac said unto his son, How is it that thou hast found it so quickly, my son ? ^qAnd he said, Because the LORD thy God brought it ^rto me.

7 Or, supported.

21 And I'saac said unto Jā'cob, Come near, I pray thee, that ^aI may feel thee, my son, whether thou be my very son E'sau or not.

22 And Jā'cob went near unto I'saac his father ; and he felt him, and said, The voice is Jā'cob's voice, but the hands are the hands of E'sau.

23 And he discerned him not, because ^rhis hands were hairy, as his brother E'sau's hands : so he blessed him.

24 And he said, Art thou my very son E'sau ? And he said, ^sI am.

25 And he said, Bring it near to me, and I will eat of my son's venison, ^tthat my soul may bless thee. And he brought it near to him, and he did eat : and he brought him wine, and he drank.

26 And his father I'saac said unto him, Come near now, and kiss me, my son.

27 And he came near, and kissed him : and he smelled the smell of his raiment, and blessed him, and said, See, ^uthe smell of my son is as the smell of a field which the LORD hath blessed :

28 Therefore ^vGod give thee of the ^wdew of heaven, and ^xthe fatness of the earth, and ^yplenty of corn and wine :

29 Let ^zpeople serve thee, and nations bow down to thee : be lord over thy brethren, and ^alet thy mother's sons bow down to thee : cursed ^bbe every one that curseth thee, and blessed be he that blesseth thee.

30 ¶ And it came to pass, as soon as I'saac had made an end of blessing Jā'cob, and Jā'cob was yet scarce gone out from the presence of I'saac his father, that E'sau his brother came in from his hunting.

31 And he also had made savoury meat, and brought it unto his father, and said unto his father, Let my father arise, and ^ceat of his son's venison, that thy soul may bless me.

32 And I'saac his father said unto him, Who art thou ? And he said, I am thy son, thy firstborn E'sau.

33 And I'saac ^dtrembled very exceedingly, and said, Who ? where is he that hath ^etaken venison, and brought it me, and I have eaten of all before thou camest, and have blessed him ? yea, ^dand he shall be blessed.

34 And when E'sau heard the words of his father, ^ehe cried with a great and exceeding bitter cry, and said unto his father, Bless me, even me also, O my father.

35 And he said, Thy brother came with ^fsubtilty, and hath taken away thy blessing.

36 And he said, ^gIs not he rightly named ^hJā'cob ? for he hath supplanted me these two times : ^hhe took away my birthright ; and, behold, now he hath taken away my blessing. And he said, Hast thou not reserved a blessing for me ?

37 And I'saac answered and said unto E'sau, ⁱBehold, I have made him thy lord, and all his brethren have I given to him for servants ; and ^jwith corn and wine have I ⁱsustained him : and what shall I do now unto thee, my son ?

38 And E'sau said unto his father, Hast thou but one blessing, my father? bless me, even me also, O my father. And E'sau lifted up his voice, ^kand wept.

39 And I'saac his father answered and said unto him, Behold, ^lthy dwelling shall be ⁸the fatness of the earth, and of the dew of heaven from above;

40 And by thy sword shalt thou live, and ^mshalt serve thy brother; and ⁿit shall come to pass when thou shalt have the dominion, that thou shalt break his yoke from off thy neck.

41 ¶ And E'sau ^ohated Jā'cob because of the blessing wherewith his father blessed him: and E'sau said in his heart, ^pThe days of mourning for my father are at hand; ^qthen will I slay my brother Jā'cob.

42 And these words of E'sau her elder son were told to Rē-bēk'ah: and she sent and called Jā'cob her younger son, and said unto him, Behold, thy brother E'sau, as touching thee, doth ^rcomfort himself, purposing to kill thee.

43 Now therefore, my son, obey my voice; and arise, flee thou to Lā'ban my brother to ^s*Hā'ran*;

44 And tarry with him a few days, until thy brother's fury turn away;

45 Until thy brother's anger turn away from thee, and he forget that which thou hast done to him: then I will send, and fetch thee from thence: why should I be deprived also of you both in one day?

46 And Rē-bēk'ah said to I'saac, ^tI am weary of my life because of the daughters of Hēth: ^uif Jā'cob take a wife of the daughters of Hēth, such as these which are of the daughters of the land, what good shall my life do me?

3 And ^bGod Almighty bless thee, and make thee fruitful, and multiply thee, that thou mayest be ¹a multitude of people;

4 And give thee ^cthe blessing of Ā'brā-hām, to thee, and to thy seed with thee; that thou mayest inherit the land ²wherein thou art a ^dstranger, which God gave unto Ā'brā-hām.

5 And I'saac sent away Jā'cob: and he went to Pā'dan-ā'ram unto Lā'ban, son of Bēth-ū'el the Sūr'i-an, the brother of Rē-bēk'ah, Jā'cob's and E'sau's mother.

11 And he lighted upon a certain place, and tarried there all night, because the sun was set; and he took of the stones of that place, and put them for his pillows, and lay down in that place to sleep.

12 And he ⁱdreamed, and behold a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven: and behold ^jthe angels of God ascending and descending on it.

13 And, ^kbehold, the LORD stood above it, and said, ^lI am the LORD God of Ā'brā-hām thy father, and the God of I'saac: ^mthe land whereon thou liest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed;

17 And he was afraid, and said, How dreadful is this place! this is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven.

18 And Jā'cob rose up early in the morning, and took the stone that he had put for his pillows, and set it up for a pillar, and poured oil upon the top of it.

CHAPTER 29.

1 Jacob meets Rachel. 15 Jacob serves Laban. 21 Marries Leah and Rachel. 31 Leah's children.

THEN Jā'cob ¹went on his journey, ^aand came into the land of the ²people of the east.

2 And he looked, and behold a well in the field, and, lo, there were three flocks of sheep lying by it; for out of that well they watered the flocks: and a great stone was upon the well's mouth.

3 And thither were all the flocks gathered: and they rolled the stone from the well's mouth, and watered the sheep, and put the stone again upon the well's mouth in his place.

4 And Jā'qob said unto them, My brethren, whence be ye? And they said, Of Hā'ran are we.

5 And he said unto them, Know ye Lā'ban the son of Nā'hôr? And they said, We know him.

6 And he said unto them, ^{3b}Is he well? And they said, He is well: and, behold, Rā'chel his daughter cometh with the sheep.

7 And he said, Lo, ⁴it is yet high day, neither is it time that the cattle should be gathered together: water ye the sheep, and go and feed them.

8 And they said, We cannot, until all the flocks be gathered together, and till they roll the stone from the well's mouth; then we water the sheep.

9 ¶ And while he yet spake with them, Rā'chel came with her father's sheep: ^cfor she kept them.

10 And it came to pass, when Jā'qob saw Rā'chel the daughter of Lā'ban his mother's brother, and the sheep of Lā'ban his mother's brother, that Jā'qob went near, and ^drolled the stone from the well's mouth, and watered the flock of Lā'ban his mother's brother.

11 And Jā'qob ^ekissed Rā'chel, and lifted up his voice, and wept.

12 And Jā'qob told Rā'chel that he ^fwas her father's brother, and that he ^gwas Rē-bēk'ah's son: and she ran and told her father.

13 And it came to pass, when Lā'ban heard the ⁵tidings of Jā'qob his sister's son, that ^hhe ran to meet him, and embraced him, and kissed him, and brought him to his house. And he told Lā'ban all these things.

14 And Lā'ban said to him, Surely ⁱthou art my bone and my flesh. And he abode with him ⁶the space of a month.

15 ¶ And Lā'ban said unto Jā'qob, Because thou art my brother, shouldest thou therefore serve me for nought? tell me, what ⁷shall thy wages be?

16 And Lā'ban had two daughters: the name of the elder ⁸was Lē'ah, and the name of the younger ⁹was Rā'chel.

17 Lē'ah ¹⁰was tender eyed; but Rā'chel was beautiful and well favoured.

18 And Jā'qob loved Rā'chel; and said, ¹¹I will serve thee seven years for Rā'chel thy younger daughter.

19 And Lā'ban said, ¹²It is better that I give her to thee, than that I should give her to another man: abide with me.

20 And Jā'qob ¹³served seven years for Rā'chel; and they seemed unto him ¹⁴but a few days, for ¹⁵the love he had to her.

21 ¶ And Jā'qob said unto Lā'ban, Give ¹⁶me my wife, for my days are fulfilled, that I may ¹⁷go in unto her.

22 And Lā'ban gathered together all the men of the place, and made a ¹⁸feast.

23 And it came to pass in the evening, that he took Lē'ah his daughter, and brought her to him; and he went in unto her.

24 And Lā'ban gave unto his daughter Lē'ah Zil'pah his maid ¹⁹for an handmaid.

AND when Rā'chel saw that ^ashe bare Jā'qob no children, Rā'chel ^benvied her sister; and said unto Jā'qob, Give me children, ^cor else I die.

2 And Jā'qob's anger was kindled against Rā'chel: and he said, ^dAm I in God's stead, who hath withheld from thee the fruit of the womb?

3 And she said, Behold ^emy maid Bīl'hah, go in unto her; ^fand she shall bear upon my knees, ^gthat I may also ¹have children by her.

4 And she gave him Bīl'hah her handmaid ^hto wife: and Jā'qob went in unto her.

5 And Bīl'hah conceived, and bare Jā'qob a son.

6 And Rā'chel said, God hath ⁱjudged me, and hath also heard my voice, and hath given me a son: therefore called she his name ²Dān.

7 And Bīl'hah Rā'chel's maid conceived again, and bare Jā'qob a second son.

8 And Rā'chel said, With ³great wrestlings have I wrestled with my sister, and I have prevailed: and she called his name ⁴Nāph'ta-lī.

9 When Lē'ah saw that she had left bearing, she took Zil'pah her maid, and gave her Jā'qob to wife.

10 And Zil'pah Lē'ah's maid bare Jā'qob a son.

11 And Lē'ah said, A troop cometh: and she called his name ⁵Gād.

15 And she said unto her, ⁿIs it a small matter that thou hast taken my husband? and wouldest thou take away my son's mandrakes also? And Rā'chel said, Therefore he shall lie with thee to night for thy son's mandrakes.

16 And Jā'cōb came out of the field in the evening, and Lē'ah went out to meet him, and said, Thou must come in unto me; for surely I have hired thee with my son's mandrakes. And he lay with her that night.

17 And God hearkened unto Lē'ah, and she conceived, and bare Jā'cōb the fifth son.

18 And Lē'ah said, God hath given me my hire, because I have given my maiden to my husband: and she called his name ⁸Īs'sa-char.

19 And Lē'ah conceived again, and bare Jā'cōb the sixth son.

20 And Lē'ah said, God hath endued me with a good dowry; now will my husband dwell with me, because I have born him six sons: and she called his name ⁹Zēb'u-lun.

21 And afterwards she bare a daughter, and called her name ¹⁰Dī'nah.

22 ¶ And God ^oremembered Rā'chel, and God hearkened to her, and ^popened her womb.

32 I will pass through all thy flock to day, removing from thence all the speckled and spotted cattle, and all the brown cattle among the sheep, and the spotted and speckled among the goats: and ^aof such shall be my hire.

33 So shall my ^brighteousness answer for me ¹⁴in time to come, when it shall come for my hire before thy face: every one that is not speckled and spotted among the goats, and brown among the sheep, that shall be counted stolen with me.

34 And Lā'ban said, Behold, I would it might be according to thy word.

35 And he removed that day the he goats that were ringstraked and spotted, and all the she goats that were speckled and spotted, and every one that had some white in it, and all the brown among the sheep, and gave them into the hand of his sons.

36 And he set three days' journey betwixt himself and Jā'cōb: and Jā'cōb fed the rest of Lā'ban's flocks.

37 ¶ And ^cJā'cōb took him rods of green poplar, and of the hazel and chesnut tree; and pilled white strakes in them, and made the white appear which was in the rods.

38 And he set the rods which he had pilled before the flocks in the gutters in the watering troughs when the flocks came to drink, that they should conceive when they came to drink.

39 And the flocks conceived before the rods, and brought forth cattle ringstraked, speckled, and spotted.

40 And Jā'cōb did separate the lambs, and set the faces of the flocks toward the ringstraked, and all the brown in the flock of Lā'ban; and he put his own flocks by themselves, and put them not unto Lā'ban's cattle.

41 And it came to pass, whensoever the stronger cattle did conceive, that Jā'cōb laid the rods before the eyes of the cattle in the gutters, that they might conceive among the rods.

42 But when the cattle were feeble, he put them not in: so the feebler were Lā'ban's, and the stronger Jā'cōb's.

43 And the man ^dincreased exceedingly, and ^ehad much cattle, and maidservants, and menservants, and camels, and asses.

CHAPTER 31.

1 Jacob leaves Laban. 22 Laban pursues. 43 Their covenant.

AND he ^aheard the words of Lā'ban's sons, saying, Jā'cōb hath taken away all that was our father's; and of that which was our father's hath he gotten all this ^bglory.

2 And Jā'cōb beheld ^cthe countenance of Lā'ban, and, behold, it was not ^dtoward him ¹as before.

3 And the LORD said unto Jā'cōb, ^eReturn unto the land of thy fathers, and to thy kindred; and I will be with thee.

4 And Jā'cōb sent and called Rā'chel and Lē'ah to the field unto his flock,

5 And said unto them, ^fI see your father's countenance, that it is not toward me as before; but the God of my father ^ghath been with me.

6 And ^hye know that with all my power I have served your father.

7 And your father hath deceived me, and ⁱchanged my wages ^jten times; but God ^ksuffered him not to hurt me.

8 If he said thus, ^lThe speckled shall be thy wages; then all the cattle bare speckled: and if he said thus, The ringstraked shall be thy hire; then bare all the cattle ringstraked.

9 Thus God hath ^mtaken away the cattle of your father, and given them to me.

10 And it came to pass at the time that the cattle conceived, that I lifted up mine eyes, and saw in a dream, and, behold, the ²rams which leaped upon the cattle were ringstraked, speckled, and grisled.

11 And ⁿthe angel of God spake unto me in a dream, saying, Jā'cōb: And I said, Here am I.

12 And he said, Lift up now thine eyes, and see, all the rams which leap upon the cattle are ringstraked, speckled, and grisled: for ^oI have seen all that Lā'ban doeth unto thee.

13 I am the God of Bēth'-el, ^pwhere thou anointedst the pillar, and where thou vowedst a vow unto me: now ^qarise, get thee out from this land, and return unto the land of thy kindred.

14 And Rā'chel and Lē'ah answered and said unto him, ^rIs there yet any portion or inheritance for us in our father's house?

15 Are we not counted of him strangers? for ^she hath sold us, and hath quite devoured also our money.

16 For all the riches which God hath taken from our father, that is ours, and our children's: now then, whatsoever God hath said unto thee, do.

17 ¶ Then Jā'cōb rose up, and set his sons and his wives upon camels;

18 And he carried away all his cattle, and all his goods which he had gotten, the cattle of his getting, which he had gotten in Pā'dan-ā'ram, for to go to I'saac his father in the land of Cā'nāan.

19 And Lā'ban went to shear his sheep: and Rā'chel had stolen the ³images that were her father's.

20 And Jā'cōb stole away ⁴unawares to Lā'ban the Sŷr'i-an, in that he told him not that he fled.

21 So he fled with all that he had; and he rose up, and passed over the river, and ^uset his face to-ward the mount Gīl'e-ād.

22 And it was told Lā'ban on the third day that Jā'cōb was fled.

23 And he took his ^vbrethren with him, and pursued after him seven days' journey; and they overtook him in the mount Gīl'e-ād.

24 And God ^wcame to Lā'ban the Sŷr'i-an in a dream by night, and said unto him, Take heed that thou ^xspeak not to Jā'cōb ⁵either good or bad.

25 ¶ Then Lā'ban overtook Jā'cōb. Now Jā'cōb had pitched his tent in the mount: and Lā'ban with his brethren pitched in the mount of Gīl'e-ād.

26 And Lā'ban said to Jā'cōb, What hast thou done, that thou hast stolen away unawares to me, and ^ycarried away my daughters, as captives taken with the sword?

27 Wherefore didst thou flee away secretly, and ⁶steal away from me; and didst not tell me, that I might have sent thee away with mirth, and with songs, with tabret, and with harp?

28 And hast not suffered me ^zto kiss my sons and my daughters? ^athou hast now done foolishly in so doing.

29 It is in the power of my hand to do you hurt: but the ^bGod of your father spake unto me ^cyesternight, saying, Take thou heed that thou speak not to Jā'cōb either good or bad.

30 And now, though thou wouldest needs be gone, because thou sore longedst after thy father's house, yet wherefore hast thou ^dstolen my gods?

31 And Jā'cōb answered and said to Lā'ban, Because I was afraid: for I said, Peradventure thou wouldest take by force thy daughters from me.

32 With whomsoever thou findest thy gods, ^elet him not live: before our brethren discern thou what is thine with me, and take it to thee. For Jā'cōb knew not that Rā'chel had stolen them.

33 And Lā'ban went into Jā'cōb's tent, and into Lē'ah's tent, and into the two maidservants' tents; but he found them not. Then went he out of Lē'ah's tent, and entered into Rā'chel's tent.

34 Now Rā'chel had taken the images, and put them in the camel's furniture, and sat upon them. And Lā'ban ^fsearched all the tent, but found them not.

35 And she said to her father, Let it not displease my lord that I cannot ^frise up before thee; for the custom of women is upon me. And he searched, but found not the ^gimages.

36 ¶ And Jā'cōb ^hwas wroth, and chode with Lā'ban: and Jā'cōb answered and said to Lā'ban, What is my trespass? what is my sin, that thou hast so hotly pursued after me?

37 Whereas thou hast ⁸searched all my stuff, what hast thou found of all thy household stuff? ⁱset it here before my brethren and thy brethren, that they may judge betwixt us both.

38 This twenty years have I been with thee; thy ewes and thy she goats have not cast their young, and the rams of thy flock have I not eaten.

39 That ^jwhich was torn of beasts I brought not unto thee; I bare the loss of it; of ^kmy hand didst thou require it, whether stolen by day, or stolen by night.

40 Thus I was; in the day the drought consumed me, and the frost by night; and my sleep departed from mine eyes.

41 Thus have I been twenty years in thy house; I ^lserved thee fourteen years for thy two daughters, and six years for thy cattle: and ^mthou hast changed my wages ten times.

42 Except ⁿthe God of my father, the God of Ā'brāhām, and ^othe fear of I'saac, had been with me, surely thou hadst sent me away now empty. ^pGod hath seen mine affliction and the labour of my hands, and ^qrebuked thee yesternight.

43 ¶ And Lā'ban answered and said unto Jā'cōb, These daughters are my daughters, and these children are my children, and these cattle are my cattle, and all that thou seest is mine : and what can I do this day unto these my daughters, or unto their children which they have born ?

44 Now therefore come thou, ^rlet us make a covenant, I and thou ; and ^slet it be for a witness between me and thee.

45 And Jā'cōb ^ttook a stone, and set it up for a pillar.

46 And Jā'cōb said unto his brethren, Gather stones ; and they took stones, and made an heap : and they did eat there upon the heap.

47 And Lā'ban called it ⁹Jē'gar-sā-hā-dū'thā : but Jā'cōb called it ¹⁰Gāl'ē-ed.

48 And Lā'ban said, ^u"This heap is a witness between me and thee this day. Therefore was the name of it called Gāl'ē-ed ;

49 And ^v11 Mīz'pah ; for he said, The LORD watch between me and thee, when we are absent one from another.

50 If thou shalt afflict my daughters, or if thou shalt take other wives beside my daughters, no man is with us ; see, God is witness betwixt me and thee.

51 And Lā'ban said to Jā'cōb, Behold this heap, and behold this pillar, which I have cast betwixt me and thee ;

52 This heap be witness, and this pillar be witness, that I will not pass over this heap to thee, and that thou shalt not pass over this heap and this pillar unto me, for harm.

53 The God of Ā'brā-hām, and the God of Nā'hōr, the God of their father, ^wjudge betwixt us. And Jā'cōb ^xsware by the fear of his father Ī'sāac.

54 Then Jā'cōb ¹²offered sacrifice upon the mount, and called his brethren to eat bread : and they did eat bread, and tarried all night in the mount.

55 And early in the morning Lā'ban rose up, and kissed his sons and his daughters, and ^yblessed them : and Lā'ban departed, and returned unto his place.

17 And he commanded the foremost, saying, When Ē'sāu my brother meeteth thee, and asketh thee, saying, Whose art thou ? and whither goest thou ? and whose are these before thee ?

18 Then thou shalt say, They be thy servant Jā'cōb's ; it is a present sent unto my lord Ē'sāu : and, behold, also he is behind us.

19 And so commanded he the second, and the third, and all that followed the droves, saying, On this manner shall ye speak unto Ē'sāu, when ye find him.

20 And say ye moreover, Behold, thy servant Jā'cōb is behind us. For he said, I will ^uappease him with the present that goeth before me, and afterward I will see his face ; peradventure he will accept ⁵of me.

21 So went the present over before him : and himself lodged that night in the company.

22 And he rose up that night, and took his two wives, and his two womenservants, and his eleven sons, and ^vpassed over the ford Jāb'bok.

23 And he took them, and ⁶sent them over the brook, and sent over that he had.

24 ¶ And Jā'cōb was left alone ; and there wrestled a man with him until the ⁷breaking of the day.

25 And when he saw that he prevailed not against him, he touched the hollow of his thigh ; and ^wthe hollow of Jā'cōb's thigh was out of joint, as he wrestled with him.

26 And ^xhe said, Let me go, for the day breaketh.

And he said, ^yI will not let thee go, except thou bless me.

27 And he said unto him, What ^zis thy name? And he said, Jā'cōb.

28 And he said, Thy name shall be called no more Jā'cōb, but ^aĪṣ'ra-el: for as a prince hast thou power ^bwith God and ^cwith men, and hast prevailed.

29 And Jā'cōb asked ^dhim, and said, Tell me, I pray thee, thy name. And he said, ^eWherefore is it that thou dost ask after my name? And he blessed him there.

¹ Meeting of Jacob and Esau. ¹⁷ Jacob settles at Succoth. ²⁰ Erects an altar.

AND Jā'cōb lifted up his eyes, and looked, and, behold, ⁱĒ'sāu came, and with him four hundred men. And he divided the children unto Lē'ah, and unto Rā'chel, and unto the two handmaids.

2 And he put the handmaids and their children foremost, and Lē'ah and her children after, and Rā'chel and Jō'ṣeph hindermost.

3 And he passed over before them, and ^jbowed himself to the ground seven times, until he came near to his brother.

4 And ^kĒ'sāu ran to meet him, and embraced him, and fell on his neck, and kissed him: and they wept.

6 Then the handmaidens came near, they and their children, and they bowed themselves.

the children ^{are} tender, and the flocks and herds with young ^{are} with me: and if men should overdrive them one day, all the flock will die.

14 Let my lord, I pray thee, pass over before his servant: and I will lead on softly, ⁵according as the cattle that goeth before me and the children be able to endure, until I come unto my lord ⁶unto Sē'ir.

15 And Ē'sāu said, Let me now ⁶leave with thee some of the folk that ^{are} with me. And he said, ⁷What needeth it? ¹let me find grace in the sight of my lord.

16 ¶ So Ē'sāu returned that day on his way unto Sē'ir.

17 And Jā'cōb journeyed to ^mSūc'coth, and built him an house, and made booths for his cattle: therefore the name of the place is called ⁸Sūc'coth.

18 ¶ And Jā'cōb came to ⁿShā'lem, a city of ⁹Shē'chem, which ^{is} in the land of Cā'nāan, when he came from Pā'dan-ā'ram; and pitched his tent before the city.

19 And ^ohe bought a parcel of a field, where he had spread his tent, at the hand of the children of ¹⁰Hā'mor, Shē'chem's father, for an hundred ¹¹pieces of money.

20 And he erected there an altar, and ^pcalled it ¹²Ēl-e-lō'hē-Īṣ'ra-el.

AND ^aDī'nah the daughter of Lē'ah, which she bare unto Jā'cōb, ^bwent out to see the daughters of the land.

2 And when Shē'chem the son of Hā'mor the Hī-vīte, prince of the country, ^csaw her, he ^dtook her, and lay with her, and ¹defiled her.

3 And his soul clave unto Dī'nah the daughter of Jā'cōb, and he loved the damsel, and spake ²kindly unto the damsel.

4 And Shē'chem ^espake unto his father Hā'mor, saying, Get me this damsel to wife.

5 And Jā'cōb heard that he had defiled Dī'nah his daughter: now his sons were with his cattle in the field: and Jā'cōb held his peace until they were come.

6 ¶ And Hā'mor the father of Shē'chem went out unto Jā'cōb to commune with him.

7 And the sons of Jā'cōb came out of the field when they heard ^{it}: and the men were grieved, and they ^fwere very wroth, because he ^ghad wrought folly in Īṣ'ra-el in lying with Jā'cōb's daughter; ^hwhich thing ought not to be done.

8 And Hā'mor communed with them, saying, The soul of my son Shē'chem longeth for your daughter: I pray you give her him to wife.

9 And ⁱmake ye marriages with us, and give your daughters unto us, and take our daughters unto you.

10 And ye shall dwell with us: and ^jthe land shall be before you; dwell and ^ktrade ye therein, and get ^lyou possessions therein.

11 And Shē'chem said unto her father and unto her brethren, Let me find grace in your eyes, and what ye shall say unto me I will give.

12 Ask me never so much ^mdowry and gift, and I will give according as ye shall say unto me : but give me the damsel to wife.

13 And the sons of Jā'cōb answered Shē'chem and Hā'mor his father ⁿdeceitfully, and said, because he had defiled Dī'nah their sister :

14 And they said unto them, We cannot do this thing, to give our sister to one that is uncircumcised ; for ^othat were a reproach unto us :

15 But in this will we consent unto you : If ye will be as we be, that every male of you be circumcised ;

16 Then will we give our daughters unto you, and we will take your daughters to us, and we will dwell with you, and we will become one people.

17 But if ye will not hearken unto us, to be circumcised ; then will we take our daughter, and we will be gone.

18 And their words pleased Hā'mor, and Shē'chem Hā'mor's son.

19 And the young man deferred not to do the thing, because he had delight in Jā'cōb's daughter : and he was ^pmore honourable than all the house of his father.

20 ¶ And Hā'mor and Shē'chem his son came unto the ^qgate of their city, and communed with the men of their city, saying,

21 These men are peaceable with us ; therefore let them dwell in the land, and trade therein ; for the land, behold, it is large enough for them ; let us take their daughters to us for wives, and let us give them our daughters.

22 Only herein will the men consent unto us for to dwell with us, to be one people, if every male among us be circumcised, as they are circumcised.

23 Shall not their cattle and their substance and every beast of theirs be ours ? only let us consent unto them, and they will dwell with us.

24 And unto Hā'mor and unto Shē'chem his son hearkened all that ^rwent out of the gate of his city ; and every male was circumcised, all that went out of the gate of his city.

25 ¶ And it came to pass on the third day, when they were sore, that two of the sons of Jā'cōb, ^sSīm'ē-on and Lē'vī, Dī'nah's brethren, took each man his sword, and came upon the city boldly, and slew all the males.

26 And they slew Hā'mor and Shē'chem his son with the ^tedge of the sword, and took Dī'nah out of Shē'chem's house, and went out.

27 The sons of Jā'cōb came upon the slain, and spoiled the city, because they had defiled their sister.

28 They took their sheep, and their oxen, and their asses, and that which was in the city, and that which was in the field,

29 And all their wealth, and all their little ones, and their wives took they captive, and spoiled even all that was in the house.

30 And Jā'cōb said to Sīm'ē-on and Lē'vī, ^uYe have ^vtroubled me ^wto make me to stink among the inhabitants of the land, among the Cā'nāan-ites and the Pēr'iz-zites : and ^xI being few in number, they shall gather themselves together against me, and slay me ; and I shall be destroyed, I and my house.

CHAPTER 35.

1 Jacob moves to Beth-el. 6 Builds an altar. 16 Benjamin is born. 19 Rachel dies. 28 Death and burial of Isaac.

AND God said unto Jā'cōb, Arise, go up to ^aBēth'-el, and dwell there : and make there an altar unto God, ^bthat appeared unto thee ^cwhen thou fleddest from the face of Ē'sāu thy brother.

2 Then Jā'cōb said unto his ^dhousehold, and to all that were with him, Put away ^ethe strange gods that are among you, and ^fbe clean, and change your garments :

3 And let us arise, and go up to Bēth'-el ; and I will make there an altar unto God, ^gwho answered me in the day of my distress, ^hand was with me in the way which I went.

4 And they gave unto Jā'cōb all the strange gods which were in their hand, and all their ⁱearrings which were in their ears ; and Jā'cōb hid them under ^jthe oak which was by Shē'chem.

5 And they journeyed : and ^kthe terror of God was upon the cities that were round about them, and they did not pursue after the sons of Jā'cōb.

6 ¶ So Jā'cōb came to ^lLūz, which is in the land of Cā'nāan, that is, Bēth'-el, he and all the people that were with him.

7 And he ^mbuilt there an altar, and called the place ¹Ēl-bēth'-el : because ⁿthere God appeared unto him, when he fled from the face of his brother.

8 But ^oDēb'q-rah Rē-bēk'ah's nurse died, and she was buried beneath Bēth'-el under an oak : and the name of it was called ²Ā'l'lōn-bāch'ūth.

9 ¶ And ^pGod appeared unto Jā'cōb again, when he came out of Pā'dan-ā'ram, and blessed him.

10 And God said unto him, Thy name is Jā'cōb : ^qthy name shall not be called any more Jā'cōb, ^rbut Īṣ'ra-el shall be thy name : and he called his name Īṣ'ra-el.

11 And God said unto him, ^sI am God Almighty : be fruitful and multiply ; a ^tnation and a company of nations shall be of thee, and kings shall come out of thy loins ;

12 And the land ^uwhich I gave Ā'brā-hām and Īṣ'āac, to thee I will give it, and to thy seed after thee will I give the land.

13 And God ^vwent up from him in the place where he talked with him.

14 And Jā'cōb ^wset up a pillar in the place where he talked with him, even a pillar of stone : and he poured a drink offering thereon, and he poured oil thereon.

15 And Jā'cōb called the name of the place where God spake with him, ^xBēth'-el.

16 ¶ And they journeyed from Bēth'-el ; and there was but ^ya little way to come to Ēph'rāth : and Rā'chel travailed, and she had hard labour.

17 And it came to pass, when she was in hard labour, that the midwife said unto her, Fear not ; ^zthou shalt have this son also.

18 And it came to pass, as her soul was in departing, (for she died) that she called his name ⁴Bēn-ō'nī : but his father called him ⁵Bēn'ja-min.

19 And ²Rā'chel died, and was buried in the way to ^aĒph'rāth, which is Bēth'-lē-hēm.

20 And Jā'qōb set a pillar upon her grave : that is the pillar of Rā'chel's grave ^bunto this day.

21 ¶ And Īš'ra-el journeyed, and spread his tent beyond ^cthe tower of Ē'dār.

22 And it came to pass, when Īš'ra-el dwelt in that land, that Reu'ben went and ^dlay with Bīl'hah his father's concubine : and Īš'ra-el heard it. Now the sons of Jā'qōb were twelve :

23 The sons of Lē'ah ; ^eReu'ben, Jā'qōb's firstborn, and Sīm'e-on, and Lē'vī, and Jū'dah, and Īs'sa-char, and Zēb'u-lun :

24 The sons of Rā'chel ; Jō'seph, and Bēn'ja-min :

25 And the sons of Bīl'hah, Rā'chel's handmaid ; Dān, and Nāph'ta-lī :

26 And the sons of Zīl'pah, Lē'ah's handmaid ; Gād, and Āsh'ēr : these are the sons of Jā'qōb, which were born to him in Pā'dan-ā'ram.

27 ¶ And Jā'qōb came unto Ī'saac his father unto ^fMām'rē, unto the ^gcity of Ār'bah, which is Hē'bron, where Ā'brā-hām and Ī'saac sojourned.

28 And the days of Ī'saac were an hundred and fourscore years.

29 And Ī'saac ^hgave up the ghost, and died, and ⁱwas gathered unto his people, being old and full of days : and ^jhis sons Ē'sau and Jā'qōb buried him.

NOW these are the generations of Ē'sau, ^awho is Ē'dom.

2 ^bĒ'sau took his wives of the daughters of Cā'nāan ; Ā'dah the daughter of Ē'lon the Hīt'tīte, and ^cĀ-hō-lib'ā-mah the daughter of Ā'nah the daughter of Zīb'e-on the Hī'vīte ;

3 And ^dBāsh'ē-māth Īsh'ma-el's daughter, sister of Nē-bā'joth.

4 And ^eĀ'dah bare to Ē'sau Ēl'ī-phāz ; and Bāsh'ē-māth bare Reu'el ;

5 And Ā-hō-lib'ā-mah bare Jē'ūsh, and Jā-ā'lam, and Kō'rah : these are the sons of Ē'sau, which were born unto him in the land of Cā'nāan.

6 And Ē'sau took his wives, and his sons, and his daughters, and all the ¹persons of his house, and his cattle, and all his beasts, and all his substance, which he had got in the land of Cā'nāan ; and went into the country from the face of his ^fbrother Jā'qōb.

7 For ^gtheir riches were more than that they might dwell together ; and the land ^hwherein they were strangers could not bear them because of their cattle.

8 Thus dwelt Ē'sau in ⁱmount Sē'ir : ^jĒ'sau is Ē'dom.

9 ¶ And these are the generations of Ē'sau the father of ²the Ē'dom-ites in mount Sē'ir :

10 These are the names of Ē'sau's sons ; ^kĒl'ī-phāz the son of Ā'dah the wife of Ē'sau, Reu'el the son of Bāsh'ē-māth the wife of Ē'sau.

12 And Tīm'nā was concubine to Ēl'ī-phāz Ē'sau's son ; and she bare to Ēl'ī-phāz ¹Ām'a-lēk : these were the sons of Ā'dah Ē'sau's wife.

13 And these are the sons of Reu'el ; Nā'hāth, and Zē'rah, Shām'mah, and Mīz'zah : these were the sons of Bāsh'ē-māth Ē'sau's wife.

14 ¶ And these were the sons of Ā-hō-lib'ā-mah, the daughter of Ā'nah the daughter of Zīb'e-on, Ē'sau's wife : and she bare to Ē'sau Jē'ūsh, and Jā-ā'lam, and Kō'rah.

15 ¶ These were dukes of the sons of Ē'sau : the sons of Ēl'ī-phāz the firstborn son of Ē'sau ; duke Tē'man, duke Ō'mar, duke Zē'phō, duke Kē'nāz, 16 Duke Kō'rah, duke Gā'tam, and duke Ām'a-lēk : these are the dukes that came of Ēl'ī-phāz in the land of Ē'dom ; these were the sons of Ā'dah.

17 ¶ And these are the sons of Reu'el Ē'sau's son ; duke Nā'hāth, duke Zē'rah, duke Shām'mah, duke Mīz'zah : these are the dukes that came of Reu'el in the land of Ē'dom ; these are the sons of Bāsh'ē-māth Ē'sau's wife.

18 ¶ And these are the sons of Ā-hō-lib'ā-mah Ē'sau's wife ; duke Jē'ūsh, duke Jā-ā'lam, duke Kō'rah : these were the dukes that came of Ā-hō-lib'ā-mah the daughter of Ā'nah, Ē'sau's wife.

19 These are the sons of Ē'sau, who is Ē'dom, and these are their dukes.

20 ¶ ^mThese are the sons of Sē'ir the ⁿHō'rīte, who inhabited the land ; Lō'tan, and Shō'bal, and Zīb'e-on, and Ā'nah, 21 And Dī'shon, and Ē'zēr, and Dī'shan : these are the dukes of the Hō'rītes, the children of Sē'ir in the land of Ē'dom.

22 And the children of Lō'tan were Hō'rī and ⁴Hē'mam ; and Lō'tan's sister was Tīm'nā.

23 And the children of Shō'bal were these ; ⁵Āl'vān, and Mān'a-hāth, and Ē'bal, ⁶Shē'phō, and Ō'nam.

24 And these are the children of Zīb'e-on ; both Ā'jah, and Ā'nah : this was that Ā'nah that found ^othe mules in the wilderness, as he fed the asses of Zīb'e-on his father.

25 And the children of Ā'nah were these ; Dī'shon, and Ā-hō-lib'ā-mah the daughter of Ā'nah.

26 And these are the children of Dī'shon ; ⁷Hēm'dan, and Ēsh'ban, and Īth'ran, and Chē'ran.

27 The children of Ē'zēr are these ; Bīl'hān, and Zā'a-vān, and ⁸Ā'kan.

28 The children of Dī'shan are these ; Ūz, and Ā'rān.

29 These are the dukes that came of the Hō'rītes ; duke Lō'tan, duke Shō'bal, duke Zīb'e-on, duke Ā'nah, 30 Duke Dī'shon, duke Ē'zēr, duke Dī'shan : these are the dukes that came of Hō'rī, among their dukes in the land of Sē'ir.

31 ¶ And ^pthese are the kings that reigned in the land of Ē'dom, before there reigned any ^qking over the children of Īš'ra-el.

32 And Bē'lā the son of Bē'or reigned in Ē'dom : and the name of his city was Dīn'hā-bah.

33 And Bē'la died, and Jō'bāb the son of Zē'rah of Bōz'rah reigned in his stead.

34 And Jō'bāb died, and Hū'sham of the land of Tēm'a-nī reigned in his stead.

35 And Hū'sham died, and Hā'dād the son of Bē'dād, who smote Mīd'i-an in the field of Mō'ab, reigned in his stead: and the name of his city was Ā'vith.

36 And Hā'dād died, and Sām'lah of Mās're-kah reigned in his stead.

37 And Sām'lah died, and Saūl of Rē-hō'both by the river reigned in his stead.

38 And Saūl died, and Bā'al-hā'nan the son of Āch'bōr reigned in his stead.

39 And Bā'al-hā'nan the son of Āch'bōr died, and Hā'dār reigned in his stead: and the name of his city was Pā'u; and his wife's name was Mē'hēt'abel, the daughter of Mā'tred, the daughter of Mēz'a-hāb.

40 And these are the names of the dukes that came of Ē'saū, according to their families, after their places, by their names; duke Tīm'nah, duke Āl'vah, duke Jē'theth,

41 Duke Ā-hō-līb'ā-mah, duke Ē'lah, duke Pī'non,

42 Duke Kē'nāz, duke Tē'man, duke Mīb'zar,

43 Duke Māg'dī-el, duke Ī'ram: these be the dukes of Ē'dom, according to their habitations in the land of their possession: he is Ē'saū the father of ¹⁰the Ē'dom-ites.

CHAPTER 37.

1 Joseph's dreams. 18 Conspiracy of his brethren. 26 He is sold to the Ishmeelites. 36 Sold into Egypt.

AND Jā'qōb dwelt in the land ¹wherein his father was a stranger, in the land of Cā'nāan.

2 These are the generations of Jā'qōb. Jō'sēph, being seventeen years old, was feeding the flock with his brethren; and the lad was with the sons of Bīl'hah, and with the sons of Zīl'pah, his father's wives: and Jō'sēph brought unto his father ^atheir evil report.

3 Now Īš'ra-el loved Jō'sēph more than all his children, because he was ^bthe son of his old age: and he made him a coat of ²many colours.

4 And when his brethren saw that their father loved him more than all his brethren, they ^chated him, and could not speak peaceably unto him.

5 ¶ And Jō'sēph dreamed a dream, and he told it his brethren: and they hated him yet the more.

6 And he said unto them, Hear, I pray you, this dream which I have dreamed:

7 For, ^abehold, we were binding sheaves in the field, and, lo, my sheaf arose, and also stood upright; and, behold, your sheaves stood round about, and made obeisance to my sheaf.

8 And his brethren said to him, Shalt thou indeed reign over us? or shalt thou indeed have dominion over us? And they hated him yet the more for his dreams, and for his words.

9 ¶ And he dreamed yet another dream, and told it his brethren, and said, Behold, I have dreamed a dream more; and, behold, ^ethe sun and the moon and the eleven stars made obeisance to me.

B. C. 1796.

10 And he told it to his father, and to his brethren: and his father rebuked him, and said unto him, What is this dream that thou hast dreamed? Shall I and thy mother and ^fthy brethren indeed come to bow down ourselves to thee to the earth?

11 And ^ghis brethren envied him: but his father ^hobserved the saying.

12 ¶ And his brethren went to feed their father's flock in Shē'chem.

13 And Īš'ra-el said unto Jō'sēph, Do not thy brethren feed the flock in Shē'chem? come, and I will send thee unto them. And he said to him, Here am I.

14 And he said to him, Go, I pray thee, ³see whether it be well with thy brethren, and well with the flocks; and bring me word again. So he sent him out of the vale ⁱof Hē'bron, and he came to Shē'chem.

15 ¶ And a certain man found him, and, behold, he was wandering in the field: and the man asked him, saying, What seekest thou?

16 And he said, I seek my brethren: ^jtell me, I pray thee, where they feed their flocks.

17 And the man said, They are departed hence; for I heard them say, Let us go to Dō'than. And Jō'sēph went after his brethren, and found them in ^kDō'than.

18 And when they saw him afar off, even before he came near unto them, they ^lconspired against him to slay him.

19 And they said one to another, Behold, this ⁴dreamer cometh.

20 Come ^mnow therefore, and let us slay him, and cast him into some pit, and we will say, Some evil beast hath devoured him: and we shall see what will become of his dreams.

21 And ⁿReū'ben heard it, and he delivered him out of their hands; and said, Let us not kill him.

22 And Reū'ben said unto them, Shed no blood, but cast him into this pit that is in the wilderness, and lay no hand upon him; that he might rid him out of their hands, to deliver him to his father again.

23 ¶ And it came to pass, when Jō'sēph was come unto his brethren, that they stript Jō'sēph out of his coat, his coat of ⁵many colours that was on him;

24 And they took him, and cast him into a pit: and the pit was empty, there was no water in it.

25 And ^othey sat down to eat bread: and they lifted up their eyes and looked, and, behold, a company of ^pĪsh'mē-el-ites came from Gīl'e-ād with their camels bearing spicery and ^qbalm and myrrh, going to carry it down to Ē'gypt.

26 And Jū'dah said unto his brethren, What profit is it if we slay our brother, and ^rconceal his blood?

27 Come, and let us sell him to the Īsh'mē-el-ites and ^slet not our hand be upon him; for he is ^tour brother and ^uour flesh. And his brethren ⁶were content.

28 Then there passed by ^vMid'i-an-ites merchantmen; and they drew and lifted up Jō'sēph out of the pit, ^wand sold Jō'sēph to the Īsh'mē-el-ites for

CHAPTER 38.

1 Sons of Judah. 13 Tamar deceives Judah. 27 She brings forth twins.

AND it came to pass at that time, that Jū'dah went down from his brethren, and ^aturned in to a certain Ā-dūl'lām-īte, whose name was Hī'rah.

2 And Jū'dah ^bsaw there a daughter of a certain Cā'nāan-īte, whose name was ^cShū'ah ; and he took her, and went in unto her.

3 And she conceived, and bare a son ; and he called his name ^dĒ'r.

4 And she conceived again, and bare a son ; and she called his name ^eŌ'nan.

5 And she yet again conceived, and bare a son ; and called his name ^fShē'lah : and he was at Chē-zīb, when she bare him.

6 And Jū'dah ^gtook a wife for Ē'r his firstborn, whose name was Tā'mar.

7 And ^hĒ'r, Jū'dah's firstborn, was wicked in the sight of the LORD ; ⁱand the LORD slew him.

8 And Jū'dah said unto Ō'nan, Go in unto ^jthy brother's wife, and marry her, and raise up seed to thy brother.

9 And Ō'nan knew that the seed should not be ^khis ; and it came to pass, when he went in unto his brother's wife, that he spilled it on the ground, lest that he should give seed to his brother.

10 And the thing which he did ^ldispleased the LORD : wherefore he slew ^mhim also.

11 Then said Jū'dah to Tā'mar his daughter in law, ⁿRemain a widow at thy father's house, till Shē'lah my son be grown : for he said, Lest peradventure he die also, as his brethren did. And Tā'mar went ^oand dwelt in her father's house.

forted, and went up unto his sheepshearers to Tīm'nath, he and his friend Hī'rah the Ā-dūl'lām-īte.

13 And it was told Tā'mar, saying, Behold thy father in law goeth up ^pto Tīm'nath to shear his sheep.

14 And she put her widow's garments off from her, and covered her with a veil, and wrapped herself, and ^qsat in ^ran open place, which is by the way to Tīm'nath ; for she saw ^sthat Shē'lah was grown, and she was not given unto him to wife.

15 When Jū'dah saw her, he thought her to be an harlot ; because she had covered her face.

16 And he turned unto her by the way, and said, Go to, I pray thee, let me come in unto thee ; (for he knew not that she was his daughter in law.) And she said, What wilt thou give me, that thou mayest come in unto me ?

17 And he said, ^tI will send thee ^ua kid from the flock. And she said, Wilt ^vthou give me a pledge, till thou send it ?

18 And he said, What pledge shall I give thee ? And she said, Thy ^wsignet, and thy bracelets, and thy staff that is in thine hand. And he gave it her, and came in unto her, and she conceived by him.

19 And she arose, and went away, and ^xlaid by her veil from her, and put on the garments of her widowhood.

20 And Jū'dah sent the kid by the hand of his friend the Ā-dūl'lām-īte, to receive his pledge from the woman's hand : but he found her not.

21 Then he asked the men of that place, saying, Where is the harlot, that was ^yopenly by the way side ? And they said, There was no harlot in this place.

22 And he returned to Jū'dah, and said, I cannot find her ; and also the men of the place said, that there was no harlot in this place.

23 And Jū'dah said, Let her take it to her, lest we ^zbe shamed : behold, I sent this kid, and thou hast not found her.

24 ¶ And it came to pass about three months after, that it was told Jū'dah, saying, Tā'mar thy daughter in law hath ^{aa}played the harlot ; and also, behold, she is with child by whoredom. And Jū'dah said, Bring her forth, ^{ab}and let her be burnt.

25 When she was brought forth, she sent to her father in law, saying, By the man, whose these are, am I with child : and she said, ^{ac}Discern, I pray thee, whose are these, the signet, and bracelets, and staff.

26 And Jū'dah ^{ad}acknowledged them, and said, ^{ae}She hath been more righteous than I ; because that ^{af}I gave her not to Shē'lah my son. And he knew her again ^{ag}no more.

27 ¶ And it came to pass in the time of her travail, that, behold, twins were in her womb.

28 And it came to pass, when she travailed, that the one put out his hand : and the midwife took and bound upon his hand a scarlet thread, saying, This came out first.

29 And it came to pass, as he drew back his hand, that, behold, his brother came out : and she said,

⁷ How hast thou broken forth? this breach be upon thee: therefore his name was called ⁸ Phā'rēz.

30 And afterward came out his brother, that had the scarlet thread upon his hand: and his name was called ⁹ Zā'rah.

AND Jō'sēph was brought down to Ē'gŷpt; and ^a Pōt'ī-phar, an officer of Phā'raōh, captain of the guard, an Ē-gŷp'tian, ^b bought him of the hands of the Īsh'mē-el-ites, which had brought him down thither.

2 And ^c the LORD was with Jō'sēph, and he was a prosperous man; and he was in the house of his master the Ē-gŷp'tian.

3 And his master saw that the LORD was with him, and that the LORD ^d made all that he did to prosper in his hand.

4 And Jō'sēph ^e found grace in his sight, and he served him: and he made him ^f overseer over his house, and all that he had he put into his hand.

5 And it came to pass from the time that he had made him overseer in his house, and over all that he had, that ^g the LORD blessed the Ē-gŷp'tian's house for Jō'sēph's sake; and the blessing of the LORD was upon all that he had in the house, and in the field.

6 And he left all that he had in Jō'sēph's hand; and he knew not ought he had, save the bread which he did eat. And Jō'sēph was ^h a goodly person, and well favoured.

7 ¶ And it came to pass after these things, that his master's wife cast her eyes upon Jō'sēph; and she said, ⁱ Lie with me.

8 But he refused, and said unto his master's wife, Behold, my master wotteth not what is with me in the house, and he hath committed all that he hath to my hand;

9 There is none greater in this house than I; neither hath he kept back any thing from me but thee, because thou art his wife: ^j how then can I do this great wickedness, and ^k sin against God?

10 And it came to pass, as she spake to Jō'sēph day by day, that he hearkened not unto her, to lie by her, or to be with her.

11 And it came to pass about this time, that Jō'sēph went into the house to do his business; and there was none of the men of the house there within.

12 And ^l she caught him by his garment, saying, Lie with me: and he left his garment in her hand, and fled, and got him out.

13 And it came to pass, when she saw that he had left his garment in her hand, and was fled forth,

14 That she called unto the men of her house, and spake unto them, saying, See, he hath brought in an Hē'brew unto us to mock us; he came in unto me to lie with me, and I cried with a ^m loud voice:

15 And it came to pass, when he heard that I lifted up my voice and cried, that he left his garment with me, and fled, and got him out.

16 And she laid up his garment by her, until his lord came home.

CHAPTER 40.

¹ Pharaoh's butler and baker imprisoned. ⁵ Joseph interprets dreams. ²⁰ His word comes to pass.

AND it came to pass after these things, that the ^a butler of the king of Ē'gŷpt and his baker had offended their lord the king of Ē'gŷpt.

2 And Phā'raōh was ^b wroth against two of his officers, against the chief of the butlers, and against the chief of the bakers.

3 And ^c he put them in ward in the house of the captain of the guard, into the prison, the place where Jō'sēph was bound.

4 And the captain of the guard charged Jō'sēph with them, and he served them: and they continued a season in ward.

5 ¶ And they dreamed a dream both of them, each man his dream in one night, each man according to the interpretation of his dream, the butler and the baker of the king of Ē'gŷpt, which were bound in the prison.

6 And Jō'sēph came in unto them in the morning, and looked upon them, and, behold, they were sad.

7 And he asked Phā'raōh's officers that were with him in the ward of his lord's house, saying, Wherefore ¹ look ye so sadly to day?

8 And they said unto him, ^a We have dreamed a dream, and there is no interpreter of it. And Jō'sēph said unto them, ^e Do not interpretations belong to God? tell me them, I pray you.

9 And the chief butler told his dream to Jō'sēph, and said to him, In my dream, behold, a vine was before me;

10 And in the vine were three branches: and it was as though it budded, and her blossoms shot forth; and the clusters thereof brought forth ripe grapes:

11 And Phā'raōh's cup was in my hand: and I took the grapes, and pressed them into Phā'raōh's cup, and I gave the cup into Phā'raōh's hand.

12 And Jō'sēph said unto him, ^fThis is the interpretation of it: The three branches are three days:

13 Yet within three days shall Phā'raōh ^{2 g}lift up thine head, and restore thee unto thy place: and thou shalt deliver Phā'raōh's cup into his hand, after the former manner when thou wast his butler.

14 But ^{3 h}think on me when it shall be well with thee, and ⁱshew kindness, I pray thee, unto me, and make mention of me unto Phā'raōh, and bring me out of this house:

15 For indeed I was stolen away out of the land of the Hē'brews: and ^jhere also have I done nothing that they should put me into the dungeon.

16 When the chief baker saw that the interpretation was good, he said unto Jō'sēph, I also was in my dream, and, behold, I had three ⁴white baskets on my head:

17 And in the uppermost basket there was of all manner of ⁵bakemeats for Phā'raōh; and the birds did eat them out of the basket upon my head.

18 And Jō'sēph answered and said, This is the interpretation thereof: The three baskets are three days:

19 Yet within three days shall Phā'raōh ⁶lift up thy head from off thee, and shall hang thee on a tree; and the birds shall eat thy flesh from off thee.

20 ¶ And it came to pass the third day, which was ^kPhā'raōh's birthday, that he ^lmade a feast unto all his servants: and he ^mlifted up the head of the chief butler and of the chief baker among his servants.

21 And he ⁿrestored the chief butler unto his butlership again; and he ^ogave the cup into Phā'raōh's hand:

22 But he ^phanged the chief baker: as Jō'sēph had interpreted to them.

23 Yet did not the chief butler remember Jō'sēph, but ^qforgat him.

2 And, behold, there came up out of the river seven well favoured kine and fatfleshed; and they fed in a meadow.

3 And, behold, seven other kine came up after them out of the river, ill favoured and leanfleshed; and stood by the other kine upon the brink of the river.

4 And the ill favoured and leanfleshed kine did eat up the seven well favoured and fat kine. So Phā'raōh awoke.

5 And he slept and dreamed the second time: and, behold, seven ears of corn came up upon one stalk, ¹rank and good.

6 And, behold, seven thin ears and blasted with the east wind sprung up after them.

7 And the seven thin ears devoured the seven rank and full ears. And Phā'raōh awoke, and, behold, it was a dream.

12 And ^gthere was there with us a young man, an Hē'brew, ^hservant to the captain of the guard; and we told him, and he ⁱinterpreted to us our dreams; to each man according to his dream he did interpret.

13 And it came to pass, ^jas he interpreted to us, so it was; me he restored unto mine office, and him he hanged.

14 ¶ Then ^kPhā'raōh sent and called Jō'sēph, and they ^lbrought him hastily ^mout of the dungeon: and he shaved ⁿhimself, and changed his raiment, and came in unto Phā'raōh.

15 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'sēph, I have dreamed a dream, and there is none that can interpret it: ⁿand I have heard say of thee, that ^othou canst understand a dream to interpret it.

16 And Jō'sēph answered Phā'raōh, saying, ^pIt is not in me: ^qGod shall give Phā'raōh an answer of peace.

17 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'sēph, In my dream, behold, I stood upon the bank of the river:

18 And, behold, there came up out of the river seven kine, fatfleshed and well favoured; and they fed in a meadow:

19 And, behold, seven other kine came up after them, poor and very ill favoured and leanfleshed, such as I never saw in all the land of E'gypt for badness:

20 And the lean and the ill favoured kine did eat up the first seven fat kine:

21 And when they had ⁴eaten them up, it could not be known that they had eaten them; but they were still ill favoured, as at the beginning. So I awoke.

22 And I saw in my dream, and, behold, seven ears came up in one stalk, full and good:

23 And, behold, seven ears, ⁵withered, thin, and blasted with the east wind, sprung up after them:

24 And the thin ears devoured the seven good ears: and ^aI told this unto the magicians; but there was none that could declare it to me.

25 ¶ And Jō'sēph said unto Phā'raōh, The dream of Phā'raōh is one: ^rGod hath shewed Phā'raōh what he is about to do.

26 The seven good kine are seven years; and the seven good ears are seven years: the dream is one.

27 And the seven thin and ill favoured kine that came up after them are seven years; and the seven empty ears blasted with the east wind shall be ^sseven years of famine.

28 This is the thing which I have spoken unto Phā'raōh : What God is about to do he sheweth unto Phā'raōh.

29 Behold, there come seven years of great plenty throughout all the land of Ē'gÿpt :

30 And there shall arise after them seven years of famine ; and all the plenty shall be forgotten in the land of Ē'gÿpt ; and the famine shall ^tconsume the land ;

31 And the plenty shall not be known in the land by reason of that famine following ; for it shall be very ⁶grievous.

32 And for that the dream was doubled unto Phā'raōh twice ; it is because the thing is ⁷established by God, and God will shortly bring it to pass.

33 Now therefore let Phā'raōh look out a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Ē'gÿpt.

34 Let Phā'raōh do this, and let him appoint ⁸officers over the land, and take up the fifth part of the land of Ē'gÿpt in the seven plenteous years.

35 And let them gather all the food of those good years that come, and lay up corn under the hand of Phā'raōh, and let them keep food in the cities.

36 And that food shall be for store to the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Ē'gÿpt ; that the land ⁹perish not through the famine.

37 ¶ And the thing was good in the eyes of Phā'raōh, and in the eyes of all his servants.

38 And Phā'raōh said unto his servants, Can we find such a one as this is, a man ^uin whom the Spirit of God is ?

39 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'seph, Forasmuch as God hath shewed thee all this, there is none so discreet and wise as thou art :

40 Thou shalt be over my house, and according unto thy word shall all my people ¹⁰be ruled : only in the throne will I be greater than thou.

41 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'seph, See, I ^vhave set thee over all the land of Ē'gÿpt.

42 And Phā'raōh ^wtook off his ring from his hand, and put it upon Jō'seph's hand, and arrayed him in vestures of ¹¹fine linen, and ^xput a gold chain about his neck ;

43 And he made him to ride in the second chariot which he had ; and they cried before him, ¹²Bow the knee : and he made him ruler over all the land of Ē'gÿpt.

44 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'seph, I am Phā'raōh, and without thee shall no man lift up his hand or foot in all the land of Ē'gÿpt.

45 And Phā'raōh called Jō'seph's name ¹³Zāph-nath-pā-a-nē'ah ; and he gave him to wife Ās'e-nāth the daughter of Pō-tī'-phe-rah ¹⁴priest of Ōn. And Jō'seph went out over all the land of Ē'gÿpt.

46 ¶ And Jō'seph was thirty years old when he ^ystood before Phā'raōh king of Ē'gÿpt. And Jō'seph went out from the presence of Phā'raōh, and went throughout all the land of Ē'gÿpt.

47 And in the seven plenteous years the earth brought forth by handfuls.

48 And he gathered up all the food of the seven years, which were in the land of Ē'gÿpt, and laid up the food in the cities : the food of the field, which was round about every city, laid he up in the same.

49 And Jō'seph gathered corn ^zas the sand of the sea, very much, until he left numbering ; for it was without number.

50 And ^aunto Jō'seph were born two sons before the years of famine came, which Ās'e-nāth the daughter of Pō-tī'-phe-rah ¹⁵priest of Ōn bare unto him.

51 And Jō'seph called the name of the firstborn ¹⁶Mā-nās'seh : For God, said he, hath made me forget all my toil, and all my father's house.

52 And the name of the second called he ¹⁷Ē'phrā-īm : For God hath caused me to be fruitful in the land of my affliction.

53 ¶ And the seven years of plenteousness, that was in the land of Ē'gÿpt, were ended.

54 And ^bthe seven years of dearth began to come, according as Jō'seph had said : and the dearth was in all lands ; but in all the land of Ē'gÿpt there was bread.

55 And when all the land of Ē'gÿpt was famished, the people cried to Phā'raōh for bread : and Phā'raōh said unto all the Ē-gÿp'tians, Go unto Jō'seph ; what he saith to you, do.

56 And the famine was over all the face of the earth : And Jō'seph opened ¹⁸all the storehouses, and sold ^cunto the Ē-gÿp'tians ; and the famine waxed sore in the land of Ē'gÿpt.

57 And ^dall countries came into Ē'gÿpt to Jō'seph for to buy corn ; because that the famine was ^eso sore in all lands.

CHAPTER 42.

¹ Jacob's sons sent to Egypt for corn. ¹⁶ Imprisoned as spies. ¹⁸ Joseph's treatment of them. ²⁴ Simeon kept for a pledge.

NOW when ^aJā'cōb saw that there was corn in Ē'gÿpt, Jā'cōb said unto his sons, Why do ye look one upon another ?

2 And he said, Behold, I have heard that there is corn in Ē'gÿpt : get you down thither, and buy for us from thence ; that we may ^blive, and not die.

3 ¶ And Jō'seph's ten brethren went down to buy corn in Ē'gÿpt.

4 But Bēn'ja-min, Jō'seph's brother, Jā'cōb sent not with his brethren ; for he said, ^cLest peradventure mischief befall him.

5 And the sons of Iṣ'ra-el came to buy corn among those that came : for the famine was ^din the land of Cā'nāan.

6 And Jō'seph was the governor ^eover the land, and he it was that sold to all the people of the land : and Jō'seph's brethren came, and ^fbowed down themselves before him with their faces to the earth.

7 And Jō'seph saw his brethren, and he knew them, but made himself strange unto them, and spake ¹roughly unto them ; and he said unto them, Whence come ye ? And they said, From the land of Cā'nāan to buy food.

8 And Jō'seph knew his brethren, but they knew not him.

9 And Jō'seph ^gremembered the dreams which he dreamed of them, and said unto them, Ye are spies; to see the nakedness of the land ye are come.

10 And they said unto him, Nay, my lord, but to buy food are thy servants come.

11 We are all one man's sons; we are true men, thy servants are no spies.

12 And he said unto them, Nay, but to see the nakedness of the land ye are come.

13 And they said, Thy servants are twelve brethren, the sons of one man in the land of Cā'nāan; and, behold, the youngest is this day with our father, and one ^h*is* not.

14 And Jō'seph said unto them, That is it that I spake unto you, saying, Ye are spies:

15 Hereby ye shall be proved: ⁱBy the life of Phā'raōh ye shall not go forth hence, except your youngest brother come hither.

16 Send one of you, and let him fetch your brother, and ye shall be ²kept in prison, that your words may be proved, whether there be any truth in you: or else by the life of Phā'raōh surely ye are spies.

17 And he ³put them all together into ward three days.

18 And Jō'seph said unto them the third day, This do, and live; for ^jI fear God:

19 If ye be true men, let one of your brethren be bound in the house of your prison: go ye, carry corn for the famine of your houses:

20 But ^kbring your youngest brother unto me; so shall your words be verified, and ye shall not die. And they did so.

21 ¶ And they said one to another, ^lWe are verily guilty concerning our brother, in that we saw the anguish of his soul, when he besought us, and we would not hear; ^mtherefore is this distress come upon us.

22 And Reu'ben answered them, saying, ⁿSpake I not unto you, saying, Do not sin against the child; and ye would not hear? therefore, behold, also his blood is ^orequired.

23 And they knew not that Jō'seph understood them; for ^phe spake unto them by an interpreter.

24 And he turned himself about from them, and wept; and returned to them again, and communed with them, and took from them Sim'e-on, and bound him before their eyes.

25 ¶ Then Jō'seph commanded to fill their sacks with corn, and to restore every man's money into his sack, and to give them provision for the way: and ^qthus did he unto them.

26 And they laded their asses with the corn, and departed thence.

27 And as ^rone of them opened his sack to give his ass provender in the inn, he espied his money; for, behold, it was in his sack's mouth.

28 And he said unto his brethren, My money is restored; and, lo, it is even in my sack: and their heart ^sfailed them, and they were afraid, saying one to another, What is this that God hath done unto us?

32 We be twelve brethren, sons of our father; one is not, and the youngest is this day with our father in the land of Cā'nāan.

33 And the man, the lord of the country, said unto us, ^sHereby shall I know that ye are true men; leave one of your brethren here with me, and take food for the famine of your households, and be gone:

34 And bring your youngest brother unto me: then shall I know that ye are no spies, but that ye are true men: so will I deliver you your brother, and ye shall ^ttraffick in the land.

35 ¶ And it came to pass as they emptied their sacks, that, behold, ^uevery man's bundle of money was in his sack: and when both they and their father saw the bundles of money, they were afraid.

36 And Jā'cōb their father said unto them, Me have ye ^vbereaved of my children: Jō'seph is not, and Sim'e-on is not, and ye will take Bēn'jā-min away: all these things are against me.

37 And Reu'ben spake unto his father, saying, Slay my two sons, if I bring him not to thee: deliver him into my hand, and I will bring him to thee again.

38 And he said, My son shall not go down with you; for his ^wbrother is dead, and he is left alone: ^xif mischief befall him by the way in the which ye go, then shall ye ^ybring down my gray hairs with sorrow to the grave.

CHAPTER 43.

1 Benjamin sent to Egypt. 31 Joseph feasts his brethren.

AND the famine was ^asore in the land. 2 And it came to pass, when they had eaten up the corn which they had brought out of Ē'gypt, their father said unto them, Go again, buy us a little food.

3 And Jū'dah spake unto him, saying, The man ¹did solemnly protest unto us, saying, Ye shall not see my face, except ^byour brother be with you.

4 If thou wilt send our brother with us, we will go down and buy thee food:

5 But if thou wilt not send him, we will not go down: for the man said unto us, Ye shall not see my face, except your brother be with you.

6 And Īš'ra-el said, Wherefore dealt ye so ill with me, as to tell the man whether ye had yet a brother?

7 And they said, The man ²asked us straitly of our state, and of our kindred, saying, Is your father yet alive? have ye another brother? and we told him according to the ³tenor of these words: ⁴could we certainly know that he would say, Bring your brother down?

8 And Jū'dah said unto Īš'ra-el his father, Send the lad with me, and we will arise and go; that we may live, and not die, both we, and thou, and also our little ones.

9 I will be surety for him; of my hand shalt thou require him : °if I bring him not unto thee, and set him before thee, then let me bear the blame for ever :

10 For except we had lingered, surely now we had returned ⁵this second time.

11 And their father Īs'ra-el said unto them, If it must be so now, do this ; take of the best fruits in the land in your vessels, and ^dcarry down the man a present, a ^elittle balm, and a little honey, spices, and myrrh, nuts, and almonds :

12 And take double money in your hand ; and the money ^fthat was brought again in the mouth of your sacks, carry it again in your hand ; peradventure it was an oversight :

13 Take also your brother, and arise, go again unto the man :

14 And ^gGod Almighty give you mercy before the man, that he may send away your other brother, and Běn'ja-min. ⁶If I be bereaved of my children, I am bereaved.

15 ¶ And the men took that present, and they took double money in their hand, and Běn'ja-min ; and rose up, and went down to Ē'gypt, and stood before Jō'seph.

16 And when Jō'seph saw Běn'ja-min with them, he said to ^hthe ruler of his house, Bring these men home, and ⁷slay, and make ready ; for these men shall ⁸dine with me at noon.

17 And the man did as Jō'seph bade ; and the man brought the men into Jō'seph's house.

18 And the men were afraid, because they were brought into Jō'seph's house ; and they said, Because of the money that was returned in our sacks at the first time are we brought in ; that he may ⁹seek occasion against us, and fall upon us, and take us for bondmen, and our asses.

19 And they came near to the steward of Jō'seph's house, and they communed with him at the door of the house,

20 And said, O sir, ¹⁰we came indeed down at the first time to buy food :

21 And ⁱit came to pass, when we came to the inn, that we opened our sacks, and, behold, every man's money was in the mouth of his sack, our money in full weight : and we have brought it again in our hand.

22 And other money have we brought down in our hands to buy food : we cannot tell who put our money in our sacks.

23 And he said, Peace be to you, fear not : your God, and the God of your father, hath given you treasure in your sacks : ¹¹I had your money. And he brought Sīm'e-on out unto them.

24 And the man brought the men into Jō'seph's house, and ^jgave them water, and they washed their feet ; and he gave their asses provender.

25 And they made ready the present against Jō'seph came at noon : for they heard that they should eat bread there.

26 ¶ And when Jō'seph came home, they brought him the present which was in their hand into the house, and ^kbowed themselves to him to the earth.

27 And he asked them of their ¹²welfare, and said,

¹³Is your father well, the old man of 'whom ye spake? Is he yet alive?

28 And they answered, Thy servant our father is in good health, he is yet alive. ^mAnd they bowed down their heads, and made obeisance.

29 And he lifted up his eyes, and saw his brother Běn'ja-min, ⁿhis mother's son, and said, Is this your younger brother, °of whom ye spake unto me? And he said, God be gracious unto thee, my son.

30 And Jō'seph made haste ; ^pfor his bowels did yearn upon his brother : and he sought where to weep ; and he entered into his chamber, and ^qwept there.

31 And he washed his face, and went out, and refrained himself, and said, Set on ^rbread.

32 And they set on for him by himself, and for them by themselves, and for the Ē-ğyp'tians, which did eat with him, by themselves : because the Ē-ğyp'tians might not eat bread with the Hē'brews ; for that is an °abomination unto the Ē-ğyp'tians.

33 And they sat before him, the firstborn according to his birthright, and the youngest according to his youth : and the men marvelled one at another.

34 And he took and sent messes unto them from before him : but Běn'ja-min's mess was ^tfive times so much as any of theirs. And they drank, and ¹⁴were merry with him.

CHAPTER 44.

AND he commanded ¹the steward of his house, saying, Fill the men's sacks with food, as much as they can carry, and put every man's money in his sack's mouth.

2 And put my cup, the silver cup, in the sack's mouth of the youngest, and his corn money. And he did according to the word that Jō'seph had spoken.

3 As soon as the morning was light, the men were sent away, they and their asses.

4 And when they were gone out of the city, and not yet far off, Jō'seph said unto his steward, Up, follow after the men ; and when thou dost overtake them, say unto them, Wherefore have ye rewarded evil for good?

5 Is not this it in which my lord drinketh, and whereby indeed he ²divineth? ye have done evil in so doing.

6 ¶ And he overtook them, and he spake unto them these same words.

7 And they said unto him, Wherefore saith my lord these words? God forbid that thy servants should do according to this thing :

8 Behold, ^athe money, which we found in our sacks' mouths, we brought again unto thee out of the land of Cā'nāan : how then should we steal out of thy lord's house silver or gold?

9 With whomsoever of thy servants it be found, ^bboth let him die, and we also will be my lord's bondmen.

10 And he said, Now also let it be according unto your words : he with whom it is found shall be my servant ; and ye shall be blameless.

11 Then they speedily took down every man his sack to the ground, and opened every man his sack.

12 And he searched, and began at the eldest, and left at the youngest: and the cup was found in Bēn'ja-min's sack.

13 Then they ^crent their clothes, and laded every man his ass, and returned to the city.

14 ¶ And Jū'dah and his brethren came to Jō'seph's house; for he was yet there: and they ^dfell before him on the ground.

15 And Jō'seph said unto them, What deed is this that ye have done? wot ye not that such a man as I can certainly ³divine?

16 And Jū'dah said, ^eWhat shall we say unto my lord? what shall we speak? or how shall we clear ourselves? God hath found out the iniquity of thy servants: behold, ^f*we are* my lord's servants, both we, and he also with whom the cup is found.

17 And he said, ^gGod forbid that I should do so: but the man in whose hand the cup is found, he shall be my servant; and as for you, get you up in peace unto your father.

18 ¶ Then Jū'dah came near unto him, and said, Oh my lord, let thy servant, I pray thee, speak a word in my lord's ears, and ^hlet not thine anger burn against thy servant: for thou art ⁱeven as Phā'raōh.

19 My lord asked his servants, saying, Have ye a father, or a brother?

20 And we said unto my lord, We have a father, an old man, and ^ja child of his old age, a little one; and his brother is dead, and he alone is left of his mother, and his father loveth him.

21 And thou saidst unto thy servants, ^kBring him down unto me, that I may set mine eyes upon him.

22 And we said unto my lord, The lad cannot leave his father: for ^l*if* he should leave his father, his father would die.

23 And thou saidst unto thy servants, ^mExcept your youngest brother come down with you, ye shall see my face no more.

24 And it came to pass when we came up unto thy servant my father, we told him the words of my lord.

25 And ⁿour father said, Go again, and buy us a little food.

26 And we said, We cannot go down: if our youngest brother be with us, then will we go down: for we may not see the man's face, except our youngest brother be with us.

27 And thy servant my father said unto us, Ye know that ^omy wife bare me two sons:

28 And the one went out from me, and I said, ^pSurely he is torn in pieces; and I saw him not since:

29 And if ye ^qtake this also from me, and mischief befall him, ye shall bring down my gray hairs with sorrow to the grave.

30 Now therefore when I come to thy servant my father, and the lad be not with us; seeing ^rthat his life is bound up in the lad's life;

31 It shall come to pass, when he seeth that the

CHAPTER 45.

¹ Joseph makes himself known. ⁹ Sends for Jacob. ²¹ Provides for their journey.

THEN Jō'seph could not refrain himself before all them that stood by him; and he cried, Cause every man to go out from me. And there stood no man with him, while Jō'seph made himself known unto his brethren.

2 And he ¹wept aloud: and the Ē-gŷp'tians and the house of Phā'raōh heard.

3 And Jō'seph said unto his brethren, ^aI am Jō'seph; doth my father yet live? And his brethren could not answer him; for they were ²troubled at his presence.

4 And Jō'seph said unto his brethren, Come near to me, I pray you. And they came near. And he said, I am Jō'seph your brother, ^bwhom ye sold into Ē'gŷpt.

5 Now therefore ^cbe not grieved, ³nor angry with yourselves, that ye sold me hither: for ^dGod did send me before you to preserve life.

6 For these two years hath the famine been in the land: and yet there are five years, in the which there shall neither be earing nor harvest.

7 And God sent me before you ⁴to preserve you a posterity in the earth, and to save your lives by a great deliverance.

8 So now it was not you that sent me hither, but God: and he hath made me a ^efather to Phā'raōh, and lord of all his house, and a ruler throughout all the land of Ē'gŷpt.

9 Haste ye, and go up to my father, and say unto him, Thus saith thy son Jō'seph, God hath made me lord of all Ē'gŷpt: come down unto me, tarry not:

10 And ^fthou shalt dwell in the land of Gō'shen, and thou shalt be near unto me, thou, and thy children, and thy children's children, and thy flocks, and thy herds, and all that thou hast:

11 And there will I nourish thee; for ^gyet there are five years of famine; lest thou, and thy household, and all that thou hast, come to poverty.

12 And, behold, your eyes see, and the eyes of my brother Bēn'ja-min, that it is ^hmy mouth that speaketh unto you.

13 And ye shall tell my father of all my glory in Ē'gŷpt, and of all that ye have seen; and ye shall haste and ⁱbring down my father hither.

14 And he fell upon his brother Bēn'ja-min's neck, and wept; and Bēn'ja-min wept upon his neck.

15 Moreover he kissed all his brethren, and wept upon them : and after that his brethren talked with him.

16 ¶ And the fame thereof was heard in Phā'raōh's house, saying, Jō'seph's brethren are come : and it⁵ pleased Phā'raōh well, and his servants.

17 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'seph, Say unto thy brethren, This do ye ; lade your beasts, and go, get you unto the land of Cā'nāan ;

18 And take your father and your households, and come unto me : and I will give you the good of the land of Ē'gypt, and ye shall eat^j the fat of the land.

19 Now thou art commanded, this do ye ; take you wagons out of the land of Ē'gypt for your little ones, and for your wives, and bring your father, and come.

20 Also⁶ regard not your stuff ; for the good of all the land of Ē'gypt is yours.

21 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el did so : and Jō'seph gave them wagons, according to the⁷ commandment of Phā'raōh, and gave them provision for the way.

22 To all of them he gave each man changes of raiment ; but to Bēn'ja-min he gave three hundred pieces of silver, and five changes of raiment.

23 And to his father he sent after this manner ; ten asses⁸ laden with the good things of Ē'gypt, and ten she asses laden with corn and bread and meat for his father by the way.

24 So he sent his brethren away, and they departed : and he said unto them, See that ye fall not out by the way.

25 ¶ And they went up out of Ē'gypt, and came into the land of Cā'nāan unto Jā'qob their father, 26 And told him, saying, Jō'seph is yet alive, and he is governor over all the land of Ē'gypt. ^kAnd Jā'qob's heart fainted, for he believed them not.

27 And they told him all the words of Jō'seph, which he had said unto them : and when he saw the wagons which Jō'seph had sent to carry him, the spirit of Jā'qob their father revived :

28 And Īṣ'ra-el said, It is enough ; Jō'seph my son is yet alive : I will go and see him before I die.

CHAPTER 46.

1 Jacob moves to Egypt. 8 His family. 29 Joseph meets him.

AND Īṣ'ra-el took his journey with all that he had, and came^a to Bē'er-shē'bā, and offered sacrifices unto^b the God of his father Īṣ'aac.

2 And God spake unto Īṣ'ra-el^c in the visions of the night, and said, Jā'qob, Jā'qob. And he said, Here am I.

3 And he said, I am God, ^dthe God of thy father : fear not to go down into Ē'gypt ; for I will there make^e of thee a great nation :

4 ^fI will go down with thee into Ē'gypt ; and I will also surely^g bring thee up again : and ^hJō'seph shall put his hand upon thine eyes.

5 Andⁱ Jā'qob rose up from Bē'er-shē'bā : and the sons of Īṣ'ra-el carried Jā'qob their father, and their little ones, and their wives, in the wagons which Phā'raōh had sent to carry him.

6 And they took their cattle, and their goods, which they had gotten in the land of Cā'nāan, and came into Ē'gypt, ^jJā'qob, and all his seed with him :

7 His sons, and his sons' sons with him, his daughters, and his sons' daughters, and all his seed brought he with him into Ē'gypt.

8 ¶ And ^kthese are the names of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, which came into Ē'gypt, Jā'qob and his sons : ^lReu'ben, Jā'qob's firstborn.

9 And the sons of Reu'ben ; Hā'noch, and Phāl'lū, and Hēz'ron, and Cār'mī.

10 ¶ And ^mthe sons of Sim'e-on ; ¹Jē-mū'el, and Jā'min, and Ō'hād, and ²Jā'chin, and ³Zō'har, and Shā'ul the son of a Cā'nāan-īt-ish woman.

11 ¶ And the sons of Lē'vī ; ⁴Gēr'shōn, Kō'hath, and Mē-rārī.

12 ¶ And the sons of Jū'dah ; Ēr, and Ō'nan, and Shē'lah, and Phā'rēz, and Zā'rah : but ⁿĒr and Ō'nan died in the land of Cā'nāan. And ^othe sons of Phā'rēz were Hēz'ron and Hā'mūl.

13 ¶ And the sons of Īs'sa-char ; Tō'lā, and ⁵Phū'vah, and Jōb, and Shīm'ron.

14 ¶ And the sons of Zēb'u-lun ; Sē'red, and Ē'lon, and Jāh'lē-el.

15 These be the sons of Lē'ah, which she bare unto Jā'qob in Pā'dan-ā'ram, with his daughter Dī'nah : all the souls of his sons and his daughters were thirty and three.

16 ¶ And the sons of Gād ; ^pZīph'ī-on, and Hāg'gī, Shū'nī, and ⁶Ēz'bōn, Ē'rī, and ⁷Ār'ō-dī, and Ā-rē'lī.

17 ¶ And ^qthe sons of Āsh'ēr ; Jīm'nah, and Īsh'u-ah, and Īs'u-ī, and Bē-rī'ah, and Sē'rah their sister : and the sons of Bē-rī'ah ; Hē'bēr, and Māl'chī-el.

18 These are ^rthe sons of Zīl'pah, whom Lā'ban gave to Lē'ah his daughter, and these she bare unto Jā'qob, even sixteen souls.

19 The sons of Rā'chel Jā'qob's wife ; Jō'seph, and Bēn'ja-min.

20 ¶ And ^sunto Jō'seph in the land of Ē'gypt were born Mā'nās'seh and Ē'phrā'im, which Ās'e-nath the daughter of Pō-tī'-phē-rah ⁸priest of Ōn bare unto him.

21 ¶ And ^tthe sons of Bēn'ja-min were Bē'lah, and Bē'chēr, and Āsh'bel, Gē'rā, and Nā'a-man, ^uĒ'hī, and Rōsh, ^vMūp'pim, and ⁹Hūp'pim, and Ārd.

22 These are the sons of Rā'chel, which were born to Jā'qob : all the souls were fourteen.

23 ¶ And ^wthe sons of Dān ; ¹⁰Hū'shim.

24 ¶ And ^xthe sons of Nāph'tā-lī ; Jāh'zē-el, and Gū'nī, and Jē'zēr, and Shīl'lem.

25 These ^yare the sons of Bīl'hah, which ^zLā'ban gave unto Rā'chel his daughter, and she bare these unto Jā'qob : all the souls were seven.

26 ^aAll the souls that came with Jā'qob into Ē'gypt, which came out of his ¹¹loins, besides Jā'qob's sons' wives, all the souls were threescore and six ;

27 And the sons of Jō'seph, which were born him in Ē'gypt, were two souls : ^ball the souls of the house of Jā'qob, which came into Ē'gypt, were threescore and ten.

28 ¶ And he sent Jū'dah before him unto Jō'seph, ^cto direct his face unto Gō'shen ; and they came into the land of Gō'shen.

29 And Jō'sēph made ready his chariot, and went up to meet Īṣ'ra-el his father, to Gō'shen, and presented himself unto him; and he fell on his neck, and wept on his neck a good while.

30 And Īṣ'ra-el said unto Jō'sēph, Now ^dlet me die, since I have seen thy face, because thou art yet alive.

31 And Jō'sēph said unto his brethren, and unto his father's house, I will go up, and shew Phā'raōh, and say unto him, My brethren, and my father's house, which were in the land of Cā'nāan, are come unto me;

32 And the men are shepherds, for ¹²their trade hath been to feed cattle; and they have brought their flocks, and their herds, and all that they have.

33 And it shall come to pass, when Phā'raōh shall call you, and shall say, ^eWhat is your occupation?

34 That ye shall say, Thy servants' trade hath been about cattle ^ffrom our youth even until now, both we, and also our fathers: that ye may dwell in the land of Gō'shen; for every shepherd is ^gan abomination unto the Ē-gŷp'tians.

CHAPTER 47.

¹ Jacob presented to Pharaoh. ¹¹ He settles in Goshen. ²⁸ Jacob's age.

THEN Jō'sēph ^acame and told Phā'raōh, and said, My father and my brethren, and their flocks, and their herds, and all that they have, are come out of the land of Cā'nāan; and, behold, they are in the ^bland of Gō'shen.

2 And he took some of his brethren, even five men, and ^cpresented them unto Phā'raōh.

3 And Phā'raōh said unto his brethren, ^dWhat is your occupation? And they said unto Phā'raōh, ^eThy servants are shepherds, both we, and also our fathers.

4 They said moreover unto Phā'raōh, ^fFor to sojourn in the land are we come; for thy servants have no pasture for their flocks; ^gfor the famine is sore in the land of Cā'nāan: now therefore, we pray thee, let thy servants ^hdwell in the land of Gō'shen.

5 And Phā'raōh spake unto Jō'sēph, saying, Thy father and thy brethren are come unto thee:

6 The ⁱland of Ē'gŷpt is before thee; in the best of the land make thy father and brethren to dwell; in ^jthe land of Gō'shen let them dwell: and if thou knowest any men of activity among them, then make them ^krulers over my cattle.

7 And Jō'sēph brought in Jā'cōb his father, and set him before Phā'raōh: and Jā'cōb blessed Phā'raōh.

8 And Phā'raōh said unto Jā'cōb, ^lHow old art thou?

9 And Jā'cōb said unto Phā'raōh, The ^mdays of the years of my pilgrimage are an hundred and thirty years: ⁿfew and evil have the days of the years of my life been, and have ^onot attained unto the days of the years of the life of my fathers in the days of their pilgrimage.

10 And Jā'cōb ^pblessed Phā'raōh, and went out from before Phā'raōh.

ren, and gave them a possession in the land of Ē'gŷpt, in the best of the land, in the land of ^rRā-mē'sēs, as ^qPhā'raōh had commanded.

12 And Jō'sēph nourished his father, and his brethren, and all his ^rfather's household, with bread, ²according to their families.

13 ¶ And there was no bread in all the land; for the famine was very sore, ^sso that the land of Ē'gŷpt and all the land of Cā'nāan fainted by reason of the famine.

14 And ^tJō'sēph gathered up all the money that was found in the land of Ē'gŷpt, and in the land of Cā'nāan, for the corn which they bought: and Jō'sēph brought the money into Phā'raōh's house.

15 And when money failed in the land of Ē'gŷpt, and in the land of Cā'nāan, all the Ē-gŷp'tians came unto Jō'sēph, and said, Give us bread: for ^uwhy should we die in thy presence? for the money failed.

16 And Jō'sēph said, Give your cattle; and I will give you for your cattle, if money fail.

17 And they brought their cattle unto Jō'sēph: and Jō'sēph gave them bread in exchange for horses, and for the flocks, and for the cattle of the herds, and for the asses: and he ³fed them with bread for all their cattle for that year.

18 When that year was ended, they came unto him the second year, and said unto him, We will not hide it from my lord, how that our money is spent; my lord also hath our herds of cattle; there is not ought left in the sight of my lord, but our bodies, and our lands:

19 Wherefore shall we die before thine eyes, both we and our land? buy us and our land for bread, and we and our land will be servants unto Phā'raōh: and give us seed, that we may live, and not die, that the land be not desolate.

20 And Jō'sēph bought all the land of Ē'gŷpt for Phā'raōh; for the Ē-gŷp'tians sold every man his field, because the famine prevailed over them: so the land became Phā'raōh's.

21 And as for the people, he removed them to cities from one end of the borders of Ē'gŷpt even to the other end thereof.

22 Only ^vthe land of the ⁴priests bought he not; for the priests had a portion assigned them of Phā'raōh, and did eat their portion which Phā'raōh gave them: wherefore they sold not their lands.

23 Then Jō'sēph said unto the people, Behold, I have bought you this day and your land for Phā'raōh: lo, here is seed for you, and ye shall sow the land.

24 And it shall come to pass in the increase, that ye shall give the fifth part unto Phā'raōh, and four parts shall be your own, for seed of the field, and for your food, and for them of your households, and for food for your little ones.

25 And they said, Thou hast saved our lives: ^wlet us find grace in the sight of my lord, and we will be Phā'raōh's servants.

26 And Jō'sēph made it a law over the land of Ē'gŷpt unto this day, that Phā'raōh should have the fifth part; ²except the land of the ³priests only, which became not Phā'raōh's.

27 ¶ And Īṣ'ra-el ¹dwelt in the land of Ē'gŷpt, in the country of Gō'shen; and they had possessions therein, and ²grew, and multiplied exceedingly.

28 And Jā'qob lived in the land of Ē'gŷpt seventeen years: so ⁶the whole age of Jā'qob was an hundred forty and seven years.

29 And the time ^adrew nigh that Īṣ'ra-el must die: and he called his son Jō'seph, and said unto him, If now I have found grace in thy sight, ^bput, I pray thee, thy hand under my thigh, and ^cdeal kindly and truly with me; ^dbury me not, I pray thee, in Ē'gŷpt:

30 But ^eI will lie with my fathers, and thou shalt carry me out of Ē'gŷpt, and ^fbury me in their buryingplace. And he said, I will do as thou hast said.

31 And he said, Swear unto me. And he sware unto him. And ^gĪṣ'ra-el bowed himself upon the bed's head.

CHAPTER 48.

¹ Joseph visits Jacob. ⁹ Jacob's blessing. ²¹ He foretells a return to Canaan.

AND it came to pass after these things, that one told Jō'seph, Behold, thy father is sick: and he took with him his two sons, Mā-nās'seh and Ē'phrā-īm.

2 And one told Jā'qob, and said, Behold, thy son Jō'seph cometh unto thee: and Īṣ'ra-el strengthened himself, and sat upon the bed.

3 And Jā'qob said unto Jō'seph, God Almighty appeared unto me at ^aLūz in the land of Cā'nāan, and blessed me,

4 And said unto me, Behold, I will make thee fruitful, and multiply thee, and I will make of thee a multitude of people; and will give this land to thy seed after thee ^bfor an everlasting possession.

5 ¶ And now thy ^ctwo sons, Ē'phrā-īm and Mā-nās'seh, which were born unto thee in the land of Ē'gŷpt before I came unto thee into Ē'gŷpt, are mine; as Reu'ben and Sim'e-on, they shall be mine.

6 And thy issue, which thou begetteth after them, shall be thine, and shall be called after the name of their brethren in their inheritance.

7 And as for me, when I came from Pā'dan, ^dRā'chel died by me in the land of Cā'nāan in the way, when yet there was but a little way to come unto Ē'phrāth: and I buried her there in the way of Ē'phrāth; the same is Bēth'lē-hēm.

8 And Īṣ'ra-el beheld Jō'seph's sons, and said, Who are these?

9 And Jō'seph said unto his father, ^eThey are my sons, whom God hath given me in this place. And he said, Bring them, I pray thee, unto me, and ^fI will bless them.

10 Now ^gthe eyes of Īṣ'ra-el were ¹dim for age, so that he could not see. And he brought them near unto him; and he ^hkissed them, and embraced them.

11 And Īṣ'ra-el said unto Jō'seph, ⁱI had not thought to see thy face: and, lo, God hath shewed me also thy seed.

12 And Jō'seph brought them out from between

14 And Īṣ'ra-el stretched out his right hand, and laid it upon Ē'phrā-īm's head, who was the younger, and his left hand upon Mā-nās'seh's head, guiding his hands wittingly; for Mā-nās'seh was the firstborn.

15 ¶ And ^jhe blessed Jō'seph, and said, God, before whom my fathers Ā'brā-hām and Ī'saac did walk, the God which fed me all my life long unto this day,

16 The Angel ^kwhich redeemed me from all evil, bless the lads; and let ^lmy name be named on them, and the name of my fathers Ā'brā-hām and Ī'saac; and let them ²grow into a multitude in the midst of the earth.

17 And when Jō'seph saw that his father ^mlaid his right hand upon the head of Ē'phrā-īm, it ³displeased him: and he held up his father's hand, to remove it from Ē'phrā-īm's head unto Mā-nās'seh's head.

18 And Jō'seph said unto his father, Not so, my father: for this is the firstborn; put thy right hand upon his head.

19 And his father refused, and said, I know it, my son, I know it: he also shall become a people, and he also shall be great: but truly his ⁿyounger brother shall be greater than he, and his seed shall become a ⁴multitude of nations.

20 And he blessed them that day, saying, ^oIn thee shall Īṣ'ra-el bless, saying, God make thee as Ē'phrā-īm and as Mā-nās'seh: and he set Ē'phrā-īm before Mā-nās'seh.

21 And Īṣ'ra-el said unto Jō'seph, Behold, I die: but ^pGod shall be with you, and bring you again unto the land of your fathers.

22 Moreover ^qI have given to thee one portion above thy brethren, which I took out of the hand of the ^rĀm'ōr-ite with my sword and with my bow.

CHAPTER 49.

AND Jā'qob called unto his sons, and said, Gather yourselves together, that I may ^atell you that which shall befall you ^bin the last days.

2 Gather yourselves together, and hear, ye sons of Jā'qob; and ^chearken unto Īṣ'ra-el your father.

3 ¶ Reu'ben, thou art my firstborn, my might, ^dand the beginning of my strength, the excellency of dignity, and the excellency of power:

4 Unstable as water, ^{1e}thou shalt not excel; because thou wentest up to thy father's bed; then defiledst thou it: ²he went up to my couch.

5 ¶ Sim'e-on and Lē'vī are ^fbrethren; ^{3g}instruments of cruelty are in their habitations.

6 O my soul, ^hcome not thou into their secret; ⁱunto their assembly, mine honour, be not thou united: for in their anger they slew a man, and in their selfwill they ⁴digged down a wall.

7 Cursed be their anger, for it was fierce; and their wrath, for it was cruel: ^jI will divide them in Jā'cōb, and scatter them in Īṣ'ra-el.

8 ¶ Jū'dah, thou art he whom thy brethren shall praise: thy hand shall be in the neck of thine enemies; thy father's children shall bow down before thee.

9 Jū'dah is a lion's whelp: from the prey, my son, thou art gone up: ^khe stooped down, he couched as a lion, and as an old lion; who shall rouse him up?

10 The ^lsceptre shall not depart from Jū'dah, nor a ^mlawgiver from between his feet, ⁿuntil Shī'lōh come; ^oand unto him shall the gathering of the people be.

11 Binding his foal unto the vine, and his ass's colt unto the choice vine; he washed his garments in wine, and his clothes in the blood of grapes:

12 His eyes shall be red with wine, and his teeth white with milk.

13 ¶ ^pZēb'u-lun shall dwell at the haven of the sea; and he shall be for an haven of ships; and his border shall be unto Zī'dōn.

14 ¶ Īs'sā-char is a strong ass couching down between two burdens:

15 And he saw that rest was good, and the land that it was pleasant; and bowed his shoulder to bear, and became a servant unto tribute.

16 ¶ ^qDān shall judge his people, as one of the tribes of Īṣ'ra-el.

17 ^rDān shall be a serpent by the way, ^san adder in the path, that biteth the horse heels, so that his rider shall fall backward.

18 ^tI have waited for thy salvation, O LORD.

19 ¶ ^uGād, a troop shall overcome him: but he shall overcome at the last.

20 ¶ Out of Āsh'ēr his bread shall be fat, and he shall yield royal dainties.

21 ¶ Nāph'tā-lī is a hind let loose: he giveth goodly words.

22 ¶ Jō'sēph is a fruitful bough, even a fruitful bough by a well; whose ^vbranches run over the wall:

23 The archers have ^wsorely grieved him, and shot at him, and hated him:

24 But his ^xbow abode in strength, and the arms of his hands were made strong by the hands of the ^ymighty God of Jā'cōb; (from thence ^zis the shepherd, ^athe stone of Īṣ'ra-el:)

25 Even by the God of thy father, who shall help thee; and by the Almighty, ^bwho shall bless thee with blessings of heaven above, blessings of the deep that lieth under, blessings of the breasts, and of the womb:

26 The blessings of thy father have prevailed above the blessings of my progenitors unto the utmost bound of the everlasting hills: they shall be on the head of Jō'sēph, and on the crown of the head of him that was separate from his brethren.

27 ¶ Bēn'jā-min shall ^cravin as a wolf: in the morning he shall devour the prey, ^dand at night he shall divide the spoil.

CHAPTER 50.

1 Burial of Jacob. 15 Joseph comforts his brethren. 22 Joseph's age and death.

AND Jō'sēph ^afell upon his father's face, and ^bwept upon him, and kissed him.

2 And Jō'sēph commanded his servants the physicians to ^cembalm his father: and the physicians embalmed Īṣ'ra-el.

3 And forty days were fulfilled for him; for so are fulfilled the days of those which are embalmed: and the Ē-gŷp'tians ^dmourned for him threescore and ten days.

4 And when the days of his mourning were past, Jō'sēph spake unto ^ethe house of Phā'raōh, saying, If now I have found grace in your eyes, speak, I pray you, in the ears of Phā'raōh, saying,

5 My father made me swear, saying, Lo, I die: in my grave ^fwhich I have digged for me in the land of Cā'nāan, there shalt thou bury me. Now therefore let me go up, I pray thee, and bury my father, and I will come again.

6 And Phā'raōh said, Go up, and bury thy father, according as he made thee swear.

7 ¶ And Jō'sēph went up to bury his father: and with him went up all the servants of Phā'raōh, the elders of his house, and all the elders of the land of Ē'gŷpt,

8 And all the house of Jō'sēph, and his brethren, and his father's house: only their little ones, and their flocks, and their herds, they left in the land of Gō'shen.

9 And there went up with him both chariots and horsemen: and it was a very great company.

10 And they came to the threshingfloor of Ā'tad, which is beyond Jōr'dān, and there they ^gmourned with a great and very sore lamentation: ^hand he made a mourning for his father seven days.

11 And when the inhabitants of the land, the Cā'nāan-ites, saw the mourning in the floor of Ā'tad, they said, This is a grievous mourning to the Ē-gŷp'tians: wherefore the name of it was called ⁱĀ'bēl-mīz'rā-im, which is beyond Jōr'dān.

12 And his sons did unto him according as he commanded them :

13 For ⁱhis sons carried him into the land of Cā'nāan, and buried him in the cave of the field of Māch-pē'lah, which Ā'brā-hām bought with the field for a possession of a buryingplace of Ē'phron the Hīt'tite, before Mām'rē.

14 ¶ And Jō'seph returned into Ē'gŷpt, he, and his brethren, and all that went up with him to bury his father, after he had buried his father.

15 ¶ And when Jō'seph's brethren saw that their father was dead, ^jthey said, Jō'seph will peradventure hate us, and will certainly requite us all the evil which we did unto him.

16 And they ^ksent a messenger unto Jō'seph, saying, Thy father did command before he died, saying,

17 So shall ye say unto Jō'seph, Forgive, I pray thee now, the trespass of thy brethren, and their sin ; for ^lthey did unto thee evil : and now, we pray thee, forgive the trespass of the servants of ^mthe God of thy father. And Jō'seph wept when they spake unto him.

18 And his brethren also went and ⁿfell down before his face ; and they said, Behold, we be thy servants.

THE SECOND BOOK OF MOSES, CALLED

EXODUS.

CHAPTER 1.

¹ Growth of Israel. ⁸ Oppressed by a new king. ²² Pharaoh's cruel order.

NOW ^athese are the names of the children of Ī'sra-el, which came into Ē'gŷpt ; every man and his household came with Jā'cob.

2 Reu'ben, Sīm'e-on, Lē'vī, and Jū'dah,

3 Īs'sa-char, Zēb'u-lun, and Bēn'jā-min,

4 Dān, and Nāph'tā-lī, Gād, and Āsh'ēr.

5 And all the souls that came out of the ^bloins of Jā'cob were seventy ^csouls : for Jō'seph was in Ē'gŷpt already.

6 And ^dJō'seph died, and all his brethren, and ^eall that generation.

7 ¶ And ^fthe children of Ī'sra-el were fruitful, and increased abundantly, and multiplied, and waxed exceeding mighty ; and the land was filled with them.

8 Now there arose up a new king over Ē'gŷpt, which knew not Jō'seph.

9 And he said unto his people, Behold, ^gthe people of the children of Ī'sra-el are more and mightier than we :

10 Come ^hon, let us ⁱdeal wisely with them ; lest they multiply, and it come to pass, that, when there falleth out any war, they join also unto our enemies, and fight against us, and so get them up out of the land.

11 Therefore they did set over them taskmasters ^jto afflict them with their ^kburdens. And they built for Phā'raōh treasure cities, Pi'thom ^land Rā-ām'sēs.

12 ^mBut the more they afflicted them, the more they multiplied and grew. And they were grieved because of the children of Ī'sra-el.

13 And the Ē'gŷp'tians made the children of Ī'sra-el to serve with rigour :

14 And they ^{na}made their lives bitter with hard bondage, ^{nb}in mortar, and in brick, and in all manner of service in the field : all their service, wherein they made them serve, was with rigour.

15 ¶ And the king of Ē'gŷpt spake to the Hē'brew midwives, of which the name of the one was Shīph'rah, and the name of the other Pū'ah :

16 And he said, When ye do the office of a midwife to the Hē'brew women, and see them upon the stools ; if it be a son, then ye shall kill him : but if it be a daughter, then she shall live.

17 But the midwives ^{nc}feared God, and did not ndas the king of Ē'gŷpt commanded them, but saved the men children alive.

18 And the king of Ē'gŷpt called for the midwives, and said unto them, Why have ye done this thing, and have saved the men children alive ?

19 And ^{ne}the midwives said unto Phā'raōh, Because the Hē'brew women are not as the Ē'gŷp'tian women ; for they are lively, and are delivered ere the midwives come in unto them.

20 Therefore ^{nf}God dealt well with the midwives : and the people multiplied, and waxed very mighty.

21 And it came to pass, because the midwives feared God, ^{ng}that he made them houses.

22 And Phā'raōh charged all his people, saying, Every son that is born ye shall cast into the river, and every daughter ye shall save alive.

1 Birth of Moses. 5 How nurtured. 15 Flight to Midian.

AND there went ^aa man of the house of Lē'vī, and took to wife a daughter of Lē'vī.

2 And the woman conceived, and bare a son : and ^bwhen she saw him that he was a goodly child, she hid him three months.

3 And when she could not longer hide him, she took for him an ark of bulrushes, and daubed it with slime and with pitch, and put the child therein ; and she laid it in the flags by the river's brink.

4 And ^chis sister stood afar off, to wit what would be done to him.

5 ¶ And the ^ddaughter of Phā'raōh came down to wash herself at the river ; and her maidens walked along by the river's side ; and when she saw the ark among the flags, she sent her maid to fetch it.

6 And when she had opened it, she saw the child : and, behold, the babe wept. And she had compassion on him, and said, This is one of the Hē'brews' children.

7 Then said his sister to Phā'raōh's daughter, Shall I go and call to thee a nurse of the Hē'brew women, that she may nurse the child for thee ?

8 And Phā'raōh's daughter said to her, Go. And the maid went and called the child's mother.

9 And Phā'raōh's daughter said unto her, Take this child away, and nurse it for me, and I will give thee thy wages. And the woman took the child, and nursed it.

10 And the child grew, and she brought him unto Phā'raōh's daughter, and he became her son. And she called his name ^eMō'seš : and she said, Because I drew him out of the water.

11 ¶ And it came to pass in those days, ^fwhen Mō'seš was grown, that he went out unto his brethren, and looked on their burdens : and he spied an Ē-gŷp'tian smiting an Hē'brew, one of his brethren.

12 And he looked this way and that way, and when he saw that there was no man, he slew the Ē-gŷp'tian, and hid him in the sand.

13 And when he went out the second day, behold, two men of the Hē'brews strove together : and he said to him that did the wrong, Wherefore smitest thou thy fellow ?

14 And he said, Who made thee ^ga prince and a judge over us ? intendest thou to kill me, as thou killedst the Ē-gŷp'tian ? And Mō'seš feared, and said, Surely this thing is known.

15 Now when Phā'raōh heard this thing, he sought to slay Mō'seš. But Mō'seš fled from the face of Phā'raōh, and dwelt in the land of Mīd'i-an : and he sat down by ^ha well.

16 ⁱNow the ^jpriest of Mīd'i-an had seven daughters : ^kand they came and drew water, and filled the troughs to water their father's flock.

17 And the shepherds came and drove them away : but Mō'seš stood up and helped them, and watered their flock.

18 And when they came to ^lReu'el their father, he said, How is it that ye are come so soon to day ?

19 And they said, An Ē-gŷp'tian delivered us out

20 And he said unto his daughters, And where is he ? why is it that ye have left the man ? call him, that he may ^jeat bread.

21 And Mō'seš was content to dwell with the man : and he gave Mō'seš Zīp-pō'rah his daughter.

22 And she bare ^khim a son, and he called his name ^{4k}Gēr'shōm : for he said, I have been ^{4a}a stranger in a strange land.

23 ¶ And it came to pass ^min process of time, that the king of Ē'gŷpt died : and the children of Īš'ra-el ⁿsighed by reason of the bondage, and they cried, and their ^ocry came up unto God by reason of the bondage.

24 And God ^pheard their groaning, and God ^qremembered his ^rcovenant with Ā'brā-hām, with Ī'saac, and with Jā'cob.

25 And God ^slooked upon the children of Īš'ra-el, and God ⁵had respect unto them.

CHAPTER 3.

1 Keeper of Jethro's flock. 2 The burning bush. 9 God commissions Moses.

NOW Mō'seš kept the flock of Jē'thrō his father in law, the priest of Mīd'i-an : and he led the flock to the backside of the desert, and came to ^athe mountain of God, even to Hō'reb.

2 And ^bthe angel of the LORD appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush : and he looked, and, behold, the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed.

3 And Mō'seš said, I will now turn aside, and see ^cthis great sight, why the bush is not burnt.

4 And when the LORD saw that he turned aside to see, God called unto ^dhim out of the midst of the bush, and said, Mō'seš, Mō'seš. And he said, Here am I.

5 And he said, Draw not nigh hither : ^eput off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground.

6 Moreover he said, ^fI am the God of thy father, the God of Ā'brā-hām, the God of Ī'saac, and the God of Jā'cob. And Mō'seš hid his face ; for ^ghe was afraid to look upon God.

7 ¶ And the LORD said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Ē'gŷpt, and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters ; for ^hI know their sorrows ;

8 And ⁱI am come down to ^jdeliver them out of the hand of the Ē-gŷp'tians, and to bring them up out of that land ^kunto a good land and a large, unto a land ^lflowing with milk and honey ; unto the place of the ^mCā'nāan-ites, and the Hīt'tites, and the Ām'ōr-ites, and the Pēr'iz-zites, and the Hī'vites, and the Jēb'u-sites.

9 Now therefore, behold, the cry of the children of Īš'ra-el is come unto me : and I have also seen the oppression wherewith ⁿthe Ē-gŷp'tians oppress them.

10 Come ^onow therefore, and I will send thee unto Phā'raōh, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Īš'ra-el out of Ē'gŷpt.

11 ¶ And Mō'seš said unto God, ^pWho am I, that I should go unto Phā'raōh, and that I should bring forth the children of Īṣ'ra-el out of Ē'gÿpt?

12 And he said, ^aCertainly I will be with thee; and this shall be a token unto thee, that I have sent thee: When thou hast brought forth the people out of Ē'gÿpt, ye shall serve God upon this mountain.

13 And Mō'seṣ said unto God, Behold, when I come unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and shall say unto them, The God of your fathers hath sent me unto you; and they shall say to me, ^rWhat is his name? what shall I say unto them?

14 And God said unto Mō'seṣ, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, ^sI AM hath sent me unto you.

15 And God said moreover unto Mō'seṣ, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, The LORD God of your fathers, the God of Ā'brā-hām, the God of Ī'saac, and the God of Jā'cōb, hath sent me unto you: this is ^tmy name for ever, and this is my memorial unto all generations.

16 Go, and gather the elders of Īṣ'ra-el together, and say unto them, The ^uLORD God of your fathers, the God of Ā'brā-hām, of Ī'saac, and of Jā'cōb, appeared unto me, saying, ^vI have surely visited you, and seen that which is done to you in Ē'gÿpt:

17 And I have said, ^wI will bring you up out of the affliction of Ē'gÿpt unto the land of the Cā'nāan-ites, and the Hīt'tites, and the Ām'ōr-ites, and the Pēr'-iz-zites, and the Hī'vites, and the Jēb'u-sites, unto a land flowing with milk and honey.

18 And they shall hearken to thy voice: and thou shalt come, thou and the elders of Īṣ'ra-el, unto the king of Ē'gÿpt, and ye shall say unto him, The LORD God of the Hē'brews hath ^xmet with us: and now let us go, we beseech thee, three days' journey into the wilderness, that we may sacrifice to the LORD our God.

19 ¶ And I am sure that the king of Ē'gÿpt will not let you go, ¹no, not by a mighty hand.

20 And I will stretch out my hand, and smite Ē'gÿpt with ^yall my wonders which I will do in the midst thereof: and ^zafter that he will let you go.

21 And ^aI will give this people favour in the sight of the Ē-gÿp'tians: and it shall come to pass, that, when ye go, ye shall not go empty:

22 But ^bevery woman shall borrow of her neighbour, and of her that sojourneth in her house, jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment: and ye shall put them upon your sons, and upon your daughters; ^cand ye shall spoil ²the Ē-gÿp'tians.

CHAPTER 4.

1 Rod of Moses. 6 His leprous hand. 14 Aaron's appointment. 21 His message to Pharaoh.

AND Mō'seṣ answered and said, But, behold, they will not believe me, nor hearken unto my voice: for they will say, The LORD hath not appeared unto thee.

2 And the LORD said unto him, What is that in thine hand? And he said, A rod.

3 And he said, Cast it on the ground. And he cast it on the ground, and it became a serpent; and Mō'seṣ fled from before it.

4 And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, Put forth thine hand, and take it by the tail. And he put forth his hand, and caught it, and it became a rod in his hand:

5 That they may ^abelieve that the LORD God of their fathers, the God of Ā'brā-hām, the God of Ī'saac, and the God of Jā'cōb, hath appeared unto thee.

6 ¶ And the LORD said furthermore unto him, Put now thine hand into thy bosom. And he put his hand into his bosom: and when he took it out, behold, his hand was leprous ^bas snow.

7 And he said, Put thine hand into thy bosom again. And he put his hand into his bosom again; and plucked it out of his bosom, and, behold, ^cit was turned again as his other flesh.

8 And it shall come to pass, if they will not believe thee, neither hearken to the voice of the first sign, that they will believe the voice of the latter sign.

9 And it shall come to pass, if they will not believe also these two signs, neither hearken unto thy voice, that thou shalt take of the water of the river, and pour it upon the dry land: and ^dthe water which thou takest out of the river ¹shall become blood upon the dry land.

10 ¶ And Mō'seṣ said unto the LORD, O my Lord, I am not ²eloquent, neither ³heretofore, nor since thou hast spoken unto thy servant: but ^eI am slow of speech, and of a slow tongue.

11 And the LORD said unto him, ^fWho hath made man's mouth? or who maketh the dumb, or deaf, or the seeing, or the blind? have not I the LORD?

12 Now therefore go, and I will be ^gwith thy mouth, and teach thee what thou shalt say.

13 And he said, O my Lord, ^hsend, I pray thee, by the hand of him whom thou ⁴wilt send.

14 And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Mō'seṣ, and he said, Is not Aār'ōn the Lē'vite thy brother? I know that he can speak well. And also, behold, he cometh forth to meet thee: and when he seeth thee, he will be glad in his heart.

15 And ⁱthou shalt speak unto him, and put words in his mouth: and I will be with thy mouth, and with his mouth, and ^jwill teach you what ye shall do.

16 And he shall be thy spokesman unto the people: and he shall be, even he shall be to thee instead of a mouth, and ^kthou shalt be to him instead of God.

17 And thou shalt take this rod in thine hand, wherewith thou shalt do signs.

18 ¶ And Mō'seṣ went and returned to ⁵Jē'thrō his father in law, and said unto him, Let me go, I pray thee, and return unto my brethren which are in Ē'gÿpt, and see whether they be yet alive. And Jē'thrō said to Mō'seṣ, Go in peace.

19 And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ in Mīd'i-an, Go, return into Ē'gÿpt: for ^lall the men are dead which sought thy life.

20 And Mō'seṣ took his wife and his sons, and set them upon an ass, and he returned to the land of Ē'gÿpt: and Mō'seṣ took the ^mrod of God in his hand.

21 And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, When thou goest to return into \bar{E} 'gÿpt, see that thou do all those wonders before Phā'raōh, which I have put in thine hand : but ⁿI will harden his heart, that he shall not let the people go.

22 And thou shalt say unto Phā'raōh, Thus saith the LORD, ^oĪṣ'ra-el is my son, ^peven my firstborn :

23 And I say unto thee, Let my son go, that he may serve me : and if thou refuse to let him go, behold, I ^qwill slay thy son, even thy firstborn.

24 ¶ And it came to pass by the way in the inn, that the ^rLORD met him, and sought to ^skill him.

25 Then Zīp-pō'rah took ^ta sharp ^ustone, and cut off the foreskin of her son, and ^vcast it at his feet, and said, Surely a bloody husband art thou to me.

26 So he let him go : then she said, A bloody husband thou art, because of the circumcision.

27 ¶ And the LORD said to Aâr'ōn, Go into the wilderness to meet Mō'šeṣ. And he went, and met him in ^wthe mount of God, and kissed him.

28 And Mō'šeṣ told Aâr'ōn all the words of the LORD who had sent him, and all the signs which he had commanded him.

29 ¶ And Mō'šeṣ and Aâr'ōn went and ^xgathered together all the elders of the children of Īṣ'ra-el :

30 And Aâr'ōn spake all the words which the LORD had spoken unto Mō'šeṣ, and did the signs in the sight of the people.

31 And the people ^ybelieved : and when they heard that the LORD had ^zvisited the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and that he had ¹looked upon their affliction, then ²they bowed their heads and worshipped.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Pharaoh chides Moses and Aaron. 5 Israel's tasks increased. 20 Murmurings against Moses and Aaron.

AND afterward Mō'šeṣ and Aâr'ōn went in, and told Phā'raōh, Thus saith the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el, Let my people go, that they may hold ^aa feast unto me in the wilderness.

2 And Phā'raōh said, ^bWho is the LORD, that I should obey his voice to let Īṣ'ra-el go? I know not the LORD, ^cneither will I let Īṣ'ra-el go.

3 And they said, ^dThe God of the Hē'brewṣ hath met with us : let us go, we pray thee, three days' journey into the desert, and sacrifice unto the LORD our God ; lest he fall upon us with pestilence, or with the sword.

4 And the king of \bar{E} 'gÿpt said unto them, ^eWherefore do ye, Mō'šeṣ and Aâr'ōn, let the people from their works? get you unto your ^fburdens.

5 And Phā'raōh said, Behold, the people of the land now are ^gmany, and ye make them rest from their burdens.

6 And Phā'raōh commanded the same day the ^htaskmasters of the people, and their officers, saying,

7 Ye shall no more give the people straw to make brick, as heretofore : let them go and gather straw for themselves.

8 And the tale of the bricks, which they did make heretofore, ye shall lay upon them ; ye shall not diminish ought thereof : for they be idle ; therefore they cry, saying, Let us go and sacrifice to our God.

11 Go ye, get you straw where ye can find it : yet not ought of your work shall be diminished.

12 So the people were scattered abroad throughout all the land of \bar{E} 'gÿpt to gather stubble instead of straw.

13 And the taskmasters hasted them, saying, Fulfil your works, ²your daily tasks, as when there was straw.

14 And ^jthe officers of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, which Phā'raōh's taskmasters had set over them, were beaten, and demanded, Wherefore have ye not fulfilled your task in making brick both yesterday and to day, as heretofore?

15 ¶ Then the officers of the children of Īṣ'ra-el came and cried unto Phā'raōh, saying, Wherefore dealest thou thus with thy servants?

16 There is no straw given unto thy servants, and they say to us, Make brick : and, behold, thy servants are beaten ; but the fault is in thine own people.

17 But he said, Ye are idle, ye are idle : therefore ye say, Let us go and do sacrifice to the LORD.

18 Go therefore now, and work ; for there shall no straw be given you, yet shall ye deliver the tale of bricks.

19 And the officers of the children of Īṣ'ra-el did see that they were in evil case, after it was said, Ye shall not minish ought from your bricks of your daily task.

20 ¶ And they met Mō'šeṣ and Aâr'ōn, who stood in the way, as they came forth from Phā'raōh :

21 And ^kthey said unto them, The LORD look upon you, and judge ; because ye have made our savour ³to be abhorred in the eyes of Phā'raōh, and in the eyes of his servants, to put a sword in their hand to slay us.

22 And Mō'šeṣ ^lreturned unto the LORD, and said, Lord, wherefore hast thou so evil entreated this people? why is it that thou hast sent me?

23 For since I came to Phā'raōh to speak in thy name, he hath done evil to this people ; ⁴neither ^mhast thou delivered thy people at all.

CHAPTER 6.

1 The covenant renewed with Moses. 14 Genealogies.

THEN the LORD said unto Mō'šeṣ, Now shalt thou see what I will do to Phā'raōh : for with a strong hand shall he let them go, and with a strong hand ^ashall he drive them out of his land.

2 And God spake unto Mō'šeṣ, and said unto him, I am ¹the LORD :

3 And I appeared unto Ā'brā-hām, unto Ī'saac, and unto Jā'cōb, by the name of ^bGod Almighty, but ^cby my name JĒ-HŌ'VAH was I not known to them.

4 And ^aI have also established my covenant with them, ^eto give them the land of Cā'nāan, the land of their pilgrimage, wherein they were strangers.

5 And ^fI have also heard the groaning of the children of Īs'ra-el, whom the Ē-gŷp'tians keep in bondage; and I have remembered my covenant.

6 Wherefore say unto the children of Īs'ra-el, I am the LORD, and ^gI will bring you out from under the burdens of the Ē-gŷp'tians, and I will rid you out of their bondage, and I will ^hredeem you with a stretched out arm, and with great judgments:

7 And I will ⁱtake you to me for a people, and ^jI will be to you a God: and ye shall know that I am the LORD your God, which bringeth you out ^kfrom under the burdens of the Ē-gŷp'tians.

8 And I will bring you in unto the land, concerning the which I did ^lswear to give it to Ā'brā-hām, to Ī'saac, and to Jā'cob; and I will give it you for an heritage: I am the LORD.

9 ¶ And Mō'seš spake so unto the children of Īs'ra-el: but they hearkened not unto Mō'seš for ^manguish of spirit, and for cruel bondage.

10 And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,

11 Go in, speak unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'gŷpt, that he let the children of Īs'ra-el go out of his land.

12 And Mō'seš spake before the LORD, saying, Behold, the children of Īs'ra-el have not hearkened unto me; how then shall Phā'raōh hear me, ⁿwho am of uncircumcised lips?

13 And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš and unto Aâr'on, and gave them a charge unto the children of Īs'ra-el, and unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'gŷpt, to bring the children of Īs'ra-el out of the land of Ē'gŷpt.

14 ¶ These be the heads of their fathers' houses: "The sons of Reu'ben the firstborn of Īs'ra-el; Hā'noch, and Pāl'lu, Hēz'ron, and Cār'mī: these be the families of Reu'ben.

15 And ^othe sons of Sīm'e-on; Jē-mū'el, and Jā'min, and Ō'hād, and Jā'chin, and Zō'har, and Shā'ul the son of a Cā'nāan-īt-ish woman: these are the families of Sīm'e-on.

16 ¶ And these are the names ^pof the sons of Lē'vī according to their generations; Gēr'shōn, and Kō'hath, and Mē-rā'rī: and the years of the life of Lē'vī were an hundred thirty and seven years.

17 The sons of Gēr'shōn; Līb'nī, and Shī'mī, according to their families.

18 And ^qthe sons of Kō'hath; Ām'rām, and Īz'har, and Hē'bron, and Ūz'zī-el: and the years of the life of Kō'hath were an hundred thirty and three years.

19 And the sons of Mē-rā'rī; Mā'ha-lī and Mū'shī: these are the families of Lē'vī according to their generations.

20 And ^rĀm'rām took him Jōch'e-bed his father's sister to wife; and she bare him Aâr'on and Mō'seš: and the years of the life of Ām'rām were an hundred and thirty and seven years.

21 ¶ And ^sthe sons of Īz'har; Kō'rah, and Nē'pheg, and Zīch'rī.

27 These are they which spake to Phā'raōh king of Ē'gŷpt, ^zto bring out the children of Īs'ra-el from Ē'gŷpt: these are that Mō'seš and Aâr'on.

28 ¶ And it came to pass on the day when the LORD spake unto Mō'seš in the land of Ē'gŷpt, 29 That the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying, I am the LORD: ^{aa}speak thou unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'gŷpt all that I say unto thee.

30 And Mō'seš said before the LORD, Behold, ^{ab}I am of uncircumcised lips, and how shall Phā'raōh hearken unto me?

CHAPTER 7.

1 Moses before Pharaoh. 8 Rod and serpent. 19 First plague.

AND the LORD said unto Mō'seš, See, I have made thee ^{ac}a god to Phā'raōh: and Aâr'on thy brother shall be thy prophet.

2 Thou shalt speak all that I command thee: and Aâr'on thy brother shall speak unto Phā'raōh, that he send the children of Īs'ra-el out of his land.

3 And I will harden Phā'raōh's heart, and ^{ad}multiply my ^{ae}signs and my wonders in the land of Ē'gŷpt.

4 But Phā'raōh shall not hearken unto you, ^{af}that I may lay my hand upon Ē'gŷpt, and bring forth mine armies, and my people the children of Īs'ra-el, out of the land of Ē'gŷpt ^{ag}by great judgments.

5 And the Ē-gŷp'tians shall know that ^{ah}I am the LORD, when I ^{ai}stretch forth mine hand upon Ē'gŷpt, and bring out the children of Īs'ra-el from among them.

6 And Mō'seš and Aâr'on did as the LORD commanded them, so did they.

7 And Mō'seš was ^{aj}four score years old, and Aâr'on four score and three years old, when they spake unto Phā'raōh.

8 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš and unto Aâr'on, saying,

9 When Phā'raōh shall speak unto you, saying, ^{ak}Shew a miracle for you: then thou shalt say unto Aâr'on, ^{al}Take thy rod, and cast it before Phā'raōh, and it shall become a serpent.

10 ¶ And Mō'seš and Aâr'on went in unto Phā'raōh, and they did so as the LORD had commanded: and Aâr'on cast down his rod before Phā'raōh, and before his servants, and it ^{am}became a serpent.

11 Then Phā'raōh also ^{an}called the wise men and ^mthe sorcerers : now the magicians of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$, they also ⁿdid in like manner with their enchantments.

12 For they cast down every man his rod, and they became serpents : but Aâr'ôn's rod swallowed up their rods.

13 And he hardened Phā'raōh's heart, that he hearkened not unto them ; ^oas the LORD had said.

14 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seš, ^pPhā'raōh's heart is hardened, he refuseth to let the people go.

15 Get thee unto Phā'raōh in the morning ; lo, he goeth out unto the water ; and thou shalt stand by the river's brink against he come ; and ^qthe rod which was turned to a serpent shalt thou take in thine hand.

16 And thou shalt say unto him, The LORD God of the Hē'brewš hath sent me unto thee, saying, Let my people go, ^rthat they may serve me in the wilderness : and, behold, hitherto thou wouldest not hear.

17 Thus saith the LORD, In this thou ^sshalt know that I am the LORD : behold, I will smite with the rod that is in mine hand upon the waters which are in the river, and ^tthey shall be turned ^uto blood.

18 And the fish that is in the river shall die, and the river shall stink ; and the $\bar{E}-g\ddot{y}p'tians$ shall ^vloathe to drink of the water of the river.

19 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, Say unto Aâr'ôn, Take thy rod, and ^wstretch out thine hand upon the waters of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$, upon their streams, upon their rivers, and upon their ponds, and upon all their ^xpoools of water, that they may become blood ; and that there may be blood throughout all the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$, both in vessels of wood, and in vessels of stone.

20 And Mō'seš and Aâr'ôn did so, as the LORD commanded ; and ^yhe lifted up the rod, and smote the waters that were in the river, in the sight of Phā'raōh, and in the sight of his servants ; and all the ^zwaters that were in the river were turned to blood.

21 And the fish that was in the river died ; and the river stank, and the $\bar{E}-g\ddot{y}p'tians$ could not drink of the water of the river ; and there was blood throughout all the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$.

22 And the magicians of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$ did so with their enchantments : and Phā'raōh's heart was hardened, neither did he hearken unto them ; as the LORD had said.

23 And Phā'raōh turned and went into his house, neither ^adid he set his heart to this also.

24 And all the $\bar{E}-g\ddot{y}p'tians$ digged round about the river for water to drink ; for they could not drink of the water of the river.

25 And seven days were fulfilled, after that the LORD had smitten the river.

3 And the river shall bring forth frogs abundantly, which shall go up and come into thine house, and into ^athy bedchamber, and upon thy bed, and into the house of thy servants, and upon thy people, and into thine ovens, and into thy ¹kneadingtroughs :

4 And the frogs shall come up both on thee, and upon thy people, and upon all thy servants.

5 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, Say unto Aâr'ôn, ^eStretch forth thine hand with thy rod over the streams, over the rivers, and over the ponds, and cause frogs to come up upon the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$.

6 And Aâr'ôn stretched out his hand over the waters of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$; and ^fthe frogs came up, and covered the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$.

7 And ^gthe magicians did so with their enchantments, and brought up frogs upon the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$.

8 ¶ Then Phā'raōh called for Mō'seš and Aâr'ôn, and said, ^hIntreat the LORD, that he may take away the frogs from me, and from my people ; and I will let the people go, that they may do sacrifice unto the LORD.

9 And Mō'seš said unto Phā'raōh, ²Glory over me : ³when shall I intreat for thee, and for thy servants, and for thy people, ⁴to destroy the frogs from thee and thy houses, that they may remain in the river only?

10 And he said, ⁵To morrow. And he said, Be it according to thy word : that thou mayest know that ⁱthere is none like unto the LORD our God.

11 And the frogs shall depart from thee, and from thy houses, and from thy servants, and from thy people ; they shall remain in the river only.

12 And Mō'seš and Aâr'ôn went out from Phā'raōh : and Mō'seš cried ^junto the LORD because of the frogs which he had brought against Phā'raōh.

13 And the LORD did according to the word of Mō'seš ; and the frogs died out of the houses, out of the villages, and out of the fields.

14 And they gathered them together upon heaps : and the land stank.

15 But when Phā'raōh saw that there was ^krespice, ^lhe hardened his heart, and hearkened not unto them ; as the LORD had said.

16 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seš, Say unto Aâr'ôn, Stretch out thy rod, and smite the dust of the land, that it may become lice throughout all the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$.

17 And they did so ; for Aâr'ôn stretched out his hand with his rod, and smote the dust of the earth, and ^mit became lice in man, and in beast ; all the dust of the land became lice throughout all the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$.

18 And ⁿthe magicians did so with their enchantments to bring forth lice, but they ^ocould not : so there were lice upon man, and upon beast.

19 Then the magicians said unto Phā'raōh, This is ^pthe finger of God : and Phā'raōh's heart was hardened, and he hearkened not unto them ; as the LORD had said.

20 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seš, ^qRise up early in the morning, and stand before Phā'raōh ; lo, he cometh forth to the water ; and say unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Let my people go, that they may serve me.

21 Else, if thou wilt not let my people go, behold, I will send ⁶swarms of flies upon thee, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people, and into thy houses: and the houses of the ^{Ē-gŷp'tians} shall be full of swarms of flies, and also the ground whereon they are.

22 And ^rI will sever in that day the land of Gō'-shen, in which my people dwell, that no swarms of flies shall be there; to the end thou mayest know that I am the LORD in the midst of the earth.

23 And I will put ⁷a division between my people and thy people: ⁸to morrow shall this sign be.

24 And the LORD did so; ^sand there came a grievous swarm of flies into the house of Phā'raōh, and into his servants' houses, and into all the land of ^{Ē-gŷpt}: the land was ⁹corrupted by reason of the swarm of flies.

25 ¶ And Phā'raōh called for Mō'seş and for Aâr'on, and said, Go ye, sacrifice to your God in the land.

26 And Mō'seş said, It is not meet so to do; for we shall sacrifice the abomination ^tof the ^{Ē-gŷp'tians} to the LORD our God: lo, shall we sacrifice the abomination of the ^{Ē-gŷp'tians} before their eyes, and will they not stone us?

27 We will go ^uthree days' journey into the wilderness, and sacrifice to the LORD our God, as ^vhe shall command us.

28 And Phā'raōh said, I will let you go, that ye may sacrifice to the LORD your God in the wilderness; only ye shall not go very far away: ^wintreat for me.

29 And Mō'seş said, Behold, I go out from thee, and I will intreat the LORD that the swarms of flies may depart from Phā'raōh, from his servants, and from his people, to morrow: but let not Phā'raōh deal deceitfully any more in not letting the people go to sacrifice to the LORD.

30 And Mō'seş went out from Phā'raōh, and intreated the LORD.

31 And ^xthe LORD did according to the word of Mō'seş; and he removed the swarms of flies from Phā'raōh, from his servants, and from his people; there remained not one.

32 And Phā'raōh ^yhardened his heart at this time also, neither would he let the people go.

Īş'ra-el and the cattle of ^{Ē-gŷpt}: and there shall nothing die of all that is the children's of Īş'ra-el.

5 And the LORD appointed a set time, saying, To morrow the LORD shall do this thing in the land.

6 And the LORD did that thing on the morrow, and ^eall the cattle of ^{Ē-gŷpt} died: but of the cattle of the children of Īş'ra-el died not one.

7 And Phā'raōh sent, and, behold, there was not one of the cattle of the Īş'ra-el-ites dead. And ^sthe heart of Phā'raōh was hardened, and he did not let the people go.

8 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seş and unto Aâr'on, Take to you handfuls of ashes of the furnace, and let Mō'seş sprinkle it toward the heaven in the sight of Phā'raōh.

9 And it shall become small dust in all the land of ^{Ē-gŷpt}, and shall be ⁹a boil breaking forth with blains upon man, and upon beast, throughout all the land of ^{Ē-gŷpt}.

10 And they took ashes of the furnace, and stood before Phā'raōh; and Mō'seş sprinkled it up toward heaven; and it became ^ha boil breaking forth with blains upon man, and upon beast.

11 And the ⁱmagicians could not stand before Mō'seş because of the boils; for the boil was upon the magicians, and upon all the ^{Ē-gŷp'tians}.

12 And ^jthe LORD hardened the heart of Phā'raōh, and he hearkened not unto them; as ^kthe LORD had spoken unto Mō'seş.

14 For I will at this time send all my plagues upon thine heart, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people; ^mthat thou mayest know that there is none like me in all the earth.

15 For now I will ⁿstretch out my hand, that I may smite thee and thy people with pestilence; and thou shalt be cut off from the earth.

16 And in very deed for ^othis cause have I ¹raised thee up, for to shew in thee my power; and that my name may be declared throughout all the earth.

18 Behold, to morrow about this time I will cause it to rain a very grievous hail, such as hath not been in ^{Ē-gŷpt} since the foundation thereof even until now.

19 Send therefore now, and gather thy cattle, and all that thou hast in the field; for upon every man and beast which shall be found in the field, and shall not be brought home, the hail shall come down upon them, and they shall die.

20 He that feared the word of the LORD among the servants of Phā'raōh made his servants and his cattle flee into the houses:

22 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seş, Stretch forth thine hand toward heaven, that there may be ^phail in all the land of E'gypt, upon man, and upon beast, and upon every herb of the field, throughout the land of E'gypt.

23 And Mō'seš stretched forth his rod toward heaven: and ^qthe LORD sent thunder and hail, and the fire ran along upon the ground; and the LORD rained hail upon the land of E'gypt.

24 So there was hail, and fire mingled with the hail, very grievous, such as there was none like it in all the land of E'gypt since it became a nation.

25 And the hail smote throughout all the land of E'gypt all that was in the field, both man and beast; and the hail ^rsmote every herb of the field, and brake every tree of the field.

26 Only ^sin the land of Gō'shen, where the children of İš'ra-el were, was there no hail.

27 ¶ And Phā'raōh sent, and called for Mō'seš and Aār'ōn, and said unto them, ^tI have sinned this time: ^uthe LORD is righteous, and I and my people are wicked.

28 ^vIntreat the LORD (for it is enough) that there be no more ³mighty thunderings and hail; and I will let you go, and ye shall stay no longer.

29 And Mō'seš said unto him, As soon as I am gone out of the city, I ^wwill spread abroad my hands unto the LORD; and the thunder shall cease, neither shall there be any more hail; that thou mayest know how that the ^xearth is the LORD'S.

30 But as for thee and thy servants, ^yI know that ye will not yet fear the LORD God.

31 And the flax and the barley was smitten: ^zfor the barley was in the ear, and the flax was balled.

32 But the wheat and the rie were not smitten: for they were ⁴not grown up.

33 And Mō'seš went out of the city from Phā'raōh, and ^aspread abroad his hands unto the LORD: and the thunders and hail ceased, and the rain was not poured upon the earth.

34 And when Phā'raōh saw that the rain and the hail and the thunders were ceased, he sinned yet more, and hardened his heart, he and his servants.

35 And the heart of Phā'raōh was hardened, neither would he let the children of İš'ra-el go; as the LORD had spoken ⁵by Mō'seš.

CHAPTER 10.

AND the LORD said unto Mō'seš, Go in unto Phā'raōh: ^afor I have hardened his heart, and the heart of his servants, that ^bI might shew these my signs before him:

2 And that ^cthou mayest tell in the ears of thy son, and of thy son's son, what things I have wrought in E'gypt, and my signs which I have done among them; that ye may know how that I am the LORD.

3 And Mō'seš and Aār'ōn came in unto Phā'raōh, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD God of the Hē'brews, How long wilt thou refuse to ^dhumble thyself before me? let my people go, that they may serve me.

4 Else, if thou refuse to let my people go, behold, to morrow will I bring the ^elocusts into thy coast:

5 And they shall cover the ¹face of the earth, that one cannot be able to see the earth: and ²they shall eat the residue of that which is escaped, which remaineth unto you from the hail, and shall eat every tree which groweth for you out of the field:

6 And they ³shall fill thy houses, and the houses of all thy servants, and the houses of all the E'gyptians; which neither thy fathers, nor thy fathers' fathers have seen, since the day that they were upon the earth unto this day. And he turned himself, and went out from Phā'raōh.

7 And Phā'raōh's servants said unto him, How long shall this man be ⁴a snare unto us? let the men go, that they may serve the LORD their God: knowest thou not yet that E'gypt is destroyed?

8 And Mō'seš and Aār'ōn were brought again unto Phā'raōh: and he said unto them, Go, serve the LORD your God: ⁵but who are they that shall go?

9 And Mō'seš said, ⁶We will go with our young and with our old, with our sons and with our daughters, with our flocks and with our herds will we go; for ⁷we must hold a feast unto the LORD.

10 And he said unto them, Let the LORD be so with you, as I will let you go, and your little ones: look to ⁸it; for evil is before you.

11 Not so: go now ye ⁹that are men, and serve the LORD; for that ye did desire. And they were driven out from Phā'raōh's presence.

12 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seš, ¹⁰Stretch out thine hand over the land of E'gypt for the locusts, that they may come up upon the land of E'gypt, ¹¹and eat every herb of the land, even all that the hail hath left.

13 And Mō'seš stretched forth his rod over the land of E'gypt, and the LORD brought an east wind upon the land all that day, and all ¹²that night; and when it was morning, the east wind brought the locusts.

14 And ¹³the locusts went up over all the land of E'gypt, and rested in all the coasts of E'gypt: very grievous were they; ¹⁴before them there were no such locusts as they, neither after them shall be such.

15 For they ¹⁵covered the face of the whole earth, so that the land was darkened; and they ¹⁶did eat every herb of the land, and all the fruit of the trees which the hail had left: and there remained not any green thing in the trees, or in the herbs of the field, through all the land of E'gypt.

16 ¶ Then Phā'raōh ¹⁷called for Mō'seš and Aār'ōn in haste; and he said, ¹⁸I have sinned against the LORD your God, and against you.

17 Now therefore forgive, I pray thee, my sin only this once, ¹⁹and intreat the LORD your God, that he may take away from me this death only.

18 And he ²⁰went out from Phā'raōh, and intreated the LORD.

19 And the LORD turned a mighty strong west wind, which took away the locusts, and ²¹cast them into ²²the Red sea; there remained not one locust in all the coasts of E'gypt.

20 But the LORD ²³hardened Phā'raōh's heart, so that he would not let the children of İš'ra-el go.

21 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seš, ²⁴Stretch out

22 And $\bar{M}\bar{o}'\bar{s}\bar{e}\bar{s}$ stretched forth his hand toward heaven; and there was a ^w thick darkness in all the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$ three days:

23 They saw not one another, neither rose any from his place for three days: ^w but all the children of $\bar{I}\bar{s}'r\bar{a}-el$ had light in their dwellings.

24 ¶ And $\bar{P}\bar{h}\bar{a}'r\bar{a}\bar{o}\bar{h}$ called unto $\bar{M}\bar{o}'\bar{s}\bar{e}\bar{s}$, and said, Go ye, serve the LORD; only let your flocks and your herds be stayed: let your ^v little ones also go with you.

25 And $\bar{M}\bar{o}'\bar{s}\bar{e}\bar{s}$ said, Thou must give ⁶ us also sacrifices and burnt offerings, that we may sacrifice unto the LORD our God.

26 Our cattle also shall go with us; there shall not an hoof be left behind; for thereof must we take to serve the LORD our God; and we know not with what we must serve the LORD, until we come thither.

27 ¶ But the LORD ^z hardened $\bar{P}\bar{h}\bar{a}'r\bar{a}\bar{o}\bar{h}$'s heart, and he would not let them go.

28 And $\bar{P}\bar{h}\bar{a}'r\bar{a}\bar{o}\bar{h}$ said unto him, Get thee from me, take heed to thyself, see my face no more; for in that day thou seest my face thou shalt die.

29 And $\bar{M}\bar{o}'\bar{s}\bar{e}\bar{s}$ said, Thou hast spoken well, ^a I will see thy face again no more.

2 Speak now in the ears of the people, and let every man ¹ borrow of his neighbour, and every woman of her neighbour, ^b jewels of silver, and jewels of gold.

3 And ^c the LORD gave the people favour in the sight of the $\bar{E}-g\ddot{y}p'ti\bar{a}n\bar{s}$. CHAPTER 12.

AND the LORD spake unto $\bar{M}\bar{o}'\bar{s}\bar{e}\bar{s}$ and $\bar{A}\bar{a}\bar{r}'\bar{o}\bar{n}$ in the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$, saying,

2 This ^a month shall be unto you the beginning of months: it shall be the first month of the year to you.

3 ¶ Speak ye unto all the congregation of $\bar{I}\bar{s}'r\bar{a}-el$, saying, In the tenth day of this month they shall take to them every man a ¹ lamb, according to the house of their fathers, a lamb for an house:

4 And if the household be too little for the lamb, let him and his neighbour next unto his house take it according to the number of the souls; every man according to his eating shall make your count for the lamb.

5 Your lamb shall be ^b without blemish, a male ² of the first year: ye shall take it out from the sheep, or from the goats:

6 And ye shall keep it up until the ^c fourteenth day of the same month: and the whole assembly of the congregation of $\bar{I}\bar{s}'r\bar{a}-el$ shall kill it ³ in the evening.

7 And they shall take of the blood, and strike it on the two side posts and on the upper door post of the houses, wherein they shall eat it.

8 And they shall eat the flesh in that night, roast with fire, ^d and unleavened bread; and with bitter herbs they shall eat it.

9 Eat not of it raw, nor sodden at all with water, but roast with fire; his head with his legs, and with the purtenance thereof.

10 And ^e ye shall let nothing of it remain until the morning; and that which remaineth of it until the morning ye shall burn with fire.

11 ¶ And thus shall ye eat it; with your loins girded, your shoes on your feet, and your staff in your hand; and ye shall eat it in haste: it ^f is the LORD'S passover.

12 For I ^g will pass through the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$ this night, and will smite all the firstborn in the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$, both man and beast; and ^h against all the ⁴ gods of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$ I will execute judgment: I am the LORD.

13 And ⁱ the blood shall be to you for a token upon the houses where ye are: and when I see the blood, I will pass over you, and the plague shall not be upon you ⁵ to destroy you, when I smite the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$.

14 And this day shall be unto you for a memorial; and ye shall keep it a ^j feast to the LORD throughout your generations; ye shall keep it a feast by an ordinance for ever.

15 ^kSeven days shall ye eat unleavened bread ; even the first day ye shall put away leaven out of your houses : for whosoever eateth leavened bread from the first day until the seventh day, ^lthat soul shall be cut off from Īṣ'ra-el.

16 And in the first day there shall be an holy convocation, and in the seventh day there shall be an holy convocation to you ; no manner of work shall be done in them, save that which every ⁶man must eat, that only may be done of you.

17 And ye shall observe the feast of unleavened bread ; for ^min this selfsame day have I brought your armies out of the land of Ē'ġypt : therefore shall ye observe this day in your generations by an ordinance for ever.

18 ¶ In ⁿthe first month, on the fourteenth day of the month at even, ye shall eat unleavened bread, until the one and twentieth day of the month at even.

19 ^oSeven days shall there be no leaven found in your houses : for whosoever eateth that which is leavened, ^peven that soul shall be cut off from the congregation of Īṣ'ra-el, whether he be a stranger, or born in the land.

20 Ye shall eat nothing leavened ; in all your habitations shall ye eat unleavened bread.

21 ¶ Then Mō'seṣ called for all the elders of Īṣ'ra-el, and said unto them, ^qDraw out and take you a ⁷lamb according to your families, and kill the passover.

22 And ye shall take a bunch of hyssop, and dip it in the blood that is in the bason, and strike the lintel and the two side posts with the blood that is in the bason ; and none of you shall go out at the door of his house until the morning.

23 For the LORD will pass through to smite the Ē-ġyptians ; and when he seeth the blood upon the lintel, and on the two side posts, the LORD will pass over the door, and will not ^rsuffer ^sthe destroyer to come in unto your houses to smite you.

24 And ye shall observe this thing for an ordinance to thee and to thy sons for ever.

25 And it shall come to pass, when ye be come to the land which the LORD will give you, according as he hath promised, that ye shall keep this service.

26 And ^tit shall come to pass, when your children shall say unto you, What mean ye by this service ?

27 That ye shall say, It is the sacrifice of the LORD'S passover, who passed over the houses of the children of Īṣ'ra-el in Ē'ġypt, when he smote the Ē-ġyptians, and delivered our houses. And the people bowed the head and worshipped.

28 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el went away, and did as the LORD had commanded Mō'seṣ and Aâr'on, so did they.

29 ¶ And it came to pass, that at midnight the ^uLORD smote all the firstborn in the land of Ē'ġypt, from the firstborn of Phā'raōh that sat on his throne unto the firstborn of the captive that was in the ⁸dungeon ; and all the firstborn of cattle.

30 And Phā'raōh rose up in the night, he, and all his servants, and all the Ē-ġyptians ; and there was a ^vgreat cry in Ē'ġypt ; for there was not a house where there was not one dead.

37 ¶ And ^cthe children of Īṣ'ra-el journeyed from ^dRā-mē'sēṣ to Sūc'coth, about ^esix hundred thousand on foot that were men, beside children.

38 And ¹¹a mixed multitude went up also with them ; and flocks, and herds, even very much cattle.

39 And they baked unleavened cakes of the dough which they brought forth out of Ē'ġypt, for it was not leavened ; because ^fthey were thrust out of Ē'ġypt, and could not tarry, neither had they prepared for themselves any victual.

40 ¶ Now the sojourning of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, who dwelt in Ē'ġypt, was ⁹four hundred and thirty years.

41 And it came to pass at the end of the four hundred and thirty years, even the selfsame day it came to pass, that all ^hthe hosts of the LORD went out from the land of Ē'ġypt.

42 It is ¹²a night to be much observed unto the LORD for bringing them out from the land of Ē'ġypt : this is that night of the LORD to be observed of all the children of Īṣ'ra-el in their generations.

43 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ and Aâr'on, This is ⁱthe ordinance of the passover : There shall no stranger eat thereof :

44 But every man's servant that is bought for money, when thou hast ^jcircumcised him, then shall he eat thereof.

45 A ^kforeigner and an hired servant shall not eat thereof.

46 In one house shall it be eaten ; thou shalt not carry forth ought of the flesh abroad out of the house ; ^lneither shall ye break a bone thereof.

47 All the congregation of Īṣ'ra-el shall ¹³keep it.

48 And when a stranger shall sojourn with thee, and will keep the passover to the LORD, let all his males be circumcised, and then let him come near and keep it ; and he shall be as one that is born in the land : for no uncircumcised person shall eat thereof.

49 ^mOne law shall be to him that is homeborn, and unto the stranger that sojourneth among you.

50 Thus did all the children of Īṣ'ra-el; as the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ and Aâr'on, so did they.

51 And it came to pass the selfsame day, that the LORD did bring the children of Īṣ'ra-el out of the land of Ē'gÿpt by ⁿ their armies.

CHAPTER 13.

¹ Keeping of the passover. ¹⁷ The exodus begun. ²¹ The pillar of cloud and also of fire.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,
2 Sanctify ^a unto me all the firstborn, whatsoever openeth the womb among the children of Īṣ'ra-el, both of man and of beast: it is mine.

3 ¶ And Mō'seṣ said unto the people, ^b Remember this day, in which ye came out from Ē'gÿpt, out of the house of ¹ bondage; for by ^c strength of hand the LORD brought you out from this place: there shall no leavened bread be eaten.

4 This ^d day came ye out in the month Ā'bīb.

5 ¶ And it shall be when the LORD shall bring thee into the land of the Cā'nāan-ītes, and the Hīt'tītes, and the Ām'ōr-ītes, and the Hī'vītes, and the Jēb'u-sītes, which he sware unto thy fathers to give thee, a land flowing with milk and honey, that thou shalt keep this service in this month.

6 ^e Seven days thou shalt eat unleavened bread, and in the seventh day shall be a feast to the LORD.

7 Unleavened bread shall be eaten seven days; and there shall no leavened bread be seen with thee, neither shall there be leaven seen with thee in all thy quarters.

8 ¶ And thou shalt ^f shew thy son in that day, saying, This is done because of that which the LORD did unto me when I came forth out of Ē'gÿpt.

9 And it shall be for a ^g sign unto thee upon thine hand, and for a memorial between thine eyes, that the LORD'S law may be in thy mouth: for with a strong hand hath the LORD brought thee out of Ē'gÿpt.

10 Thou shalt therefore keep this ordinance in his season from year to year.

11 ¶ And it shall be when the LORD shall bring thee into the land of the Cā'nāan-ītes, as he ^h sware unto thee and to thy fathers, and shall give it thee,

12 That ⁱ thou shalt ² set apart unto the LORD all that openeth the matrix, and every firstling that cometh of a beast which thou hast; the males shall be the LORD'S.

13 And every firstling of an ass thou shalt redeem with a ³ lamb; and if thou wilt not redeem it, then thou shalt break his neck: and all the firstborn of man among thy children ^j shalt thou redeem.

14 ¶ And ^k it shall be when thy son asketh thee ⁴ in time to come, saying, What is this? that thou shalt say unto him, By strength of hand the LORD brought us out from Ē'gÿpt, from the house of bondage:

15 And it came to pass, when Phā'raōh would hardly let us go, that the LORD slew all the firstborn in the land of Ē'gÿpt, both the firstborn of man, and the firstborn of beast: therefore I sacrifice to the LORD all that openeth the matrix, being males; but all the firstborn of my children I redeem.

17 ¶ And it came to pass, when Phā'raōh had let the people go, that God led them not through the way of the land of the Phī-līs'tīneṣ, although that was near; for God said, Lest peradventure the people repent ^m when they see war, and they ⁿ return to Ē'gÿpt:

18 But ^o God led the people about, through the way of the wilderness of the Red sea: and the children of Īṣ'ra-el went up ⁵ harnessed out of the land of Ē'gÿpt.

19 And Mō'seṣ took the bones of Jō'seph with him: for he had straitly sworn the children of Īṣ'ra-el, saying, ^p God will surely visit you; and ye shall carry up my bones away hence with you.

20 ¶ And they took their journey from Sūc'coth, and encamped in Ē'tham, ^q in the edge of the wilderness.

21 And ^r the LORD went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night:

22 He ^s took not away the pillar of the cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, from before the people.

CHAPTER 14.

¹ Instructions to the Israelites. ²¹ Passage of the Red sea. ²⁶ Pharool's army drowned.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,
2 Speak unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, that they turn and encamp before ^a Pī-ha-hī'roth, between ^b Mīg'dol and the sea, over against Bā'al-zē'phon: before it shall ye encamp by the sea.

3 For Phā'raōh will say of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, ^c They are entangled in the land, the wilderness hath shut them in.

4 And ^d I will harden Phā'raōh's heart, that he shall follow after them; and I ^e will be honoured upon Phā'raōh, and upon all his host; that the Ē-gÿp'tiānṣ may know that I am the LORD. And they did so.

5 ¶ And it was told the king of Ē'gÿpt that the people fled: and the heart of Phā'raōh and of his servants was turned against the people, and they said, Why have we done this, that we have let Īṣ'ra-el go from serving us?

6 And he made ready his chariot, and took his people with him:

7 And he took six hundred chosen chariots, and all the chariots of Ē'gÿpt, and captains over every one of them.

8 And ^f the LORD hardened the heart of Phā'raōh king of Ē'gÿpt, and he pursued after the children of Īṣ'ra-el: and the children of Īṣ'ra-el went out with an high hand.

9 But the ^g Ē-gÿp'tiānṣ pursued after them, all the horses and chariots of Phā'raōh, and his horsemen, and his army, and overtook them encamping by the sea, beside Pī-ha-hī'roth, before Bā'al-zē'phon.

10 ¶ And when Phā'raōh drew nigh, the children of Īṣ'ra-el lifted up their eyes, and, behold, the Ē-gÿp'tians marched after them; and they were sore afraid: and the children of Īṣ'ra-el ^hcried out unto the LORD.

11 And ⁱthey said unto Mō'seṣ, Because there were no graves in Ē'gÿpt, hast thou taken us away to die in the wilderness? wherefore hast thou dealt thus with us, to carry us forth out of Ē'gÿpt?

12 ^jIs not this the word that we did tell thee in Ē'gÿpt, saying, Let us alone, that we may serve the Ē-gÿp'tians? For it had been better for us to serve the Ē-gÿp'tians, than that we should die in the wilderness.

13 ¶ And Mō'seṣ said unto the people, ^kFear ye not, stand still, and see the salvation of the LORD, which he will shew to you to day: ^lfor the Ē-gÿp'tians whom ye have seen to day, ye shall see them again no more for ever.

14 The ^mLORD shall fight for you, and ye shall ⁿhold your peace.

15 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, Wherefore criest thou unto me? speak unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, that they go forward:

16 But ^olift thou up thy rod, and stretch out thine hand over the sea, and divide it: and the children of Īṣ'ra-el shall go on dry ground through the midst of the sea.

17 And I, behold, I will ^pharden the hearts of the Ē-gÿp'tians, and they shall follow them: and I will get me honour upon Phā'raōh, and upon all his host, upon his chariots, and upon his horsemen.

18 And the Ē-gÿp'tians shall know that I am the LORD, when I have gotten me honour upon Phā'raōh, upon his chariots, and upon his horsemen.

19 ¶ And ^qthe angel of God, which went before the camp of Īṣ'ra-el, removed and went behind them; and the pillar of the cloud went from before their face, and stood behind them:

20 And it came between the camp of the Ē-gÿp'tians and the camp of Īṣ'ra-el; and ^rit was a cloud and darkness to them, but it gave light by night to these: so that the one came not near the other all the night.

21 And Mō'seṣ stretched out his hand over the sea; and the LORD caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all that night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were ^sdivided.

22 And ^tthe children of Īṣ'ra-el went into the midst of the sea upon the dry ground: and the waters were ^ua wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left.

23 ¶ And the Ē-gÿp'tians pursued, and went in after them to the midst of the sea, even all Phā'raōh's horses, his chariots, and his horsemen.

24 And it came to pass, that in the morning watch the LORD looked unto the host of the Ē-gÿp'tians through the pillar of fire and of the cloud, and troubled the host of the Ē-gÿp'tians,

25 And took off their chariot wheels, ^vthat they drave them heavily: so that the Ē-gÿp'tians said, Let us flee from the face of Īṣ'ra-el; for the LORD fighteth for them against the Ē-gÿp'tians.

27 And Mō'seṣ stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the sea ^{ba}returned to his strength when the morning appeared; and the Ē-gÿp'tians fled against it; and the LORD ^{bb}overthrew the Ē-gÿp'tians in the midst of the sea.

28 And ^{bc}the waters returned, and covered the chariots, and the horsemen, and all the host of Phā'raōh that came into the sea after them; there remained not so much as one of them.

29 But ^{bd}the children of Īṣ'ra-el walked upon dry land in the midst of the sea; and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left.

30 Thus the LORD ^{be}saved Īṣ'ra-el that day out of the hand of the Ē-gÿp'tians; and Īṣ'ra-el saw ^{bf}the Ē-gÿp'tians dead upon the sea shore.

31 And Īṣ'ra-el saw that great ^{bg}work which the LORD did upon the Ē-gÿp'tians: and the people feared the LORD, and ^{bh}believed the LORD, and his servant Mō'seṣ.

CHAPTER 15.

1 Moses' song. 23 Waters of Marah. 27 Wells of Elim.

THEN sang ^{ca}Mō'seṣ and the children of Īṣ'ra-el this song unto the LORD, and spake, saying, I will sing unto the LORD, for he hath triumphed gloriously: the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

2 The LORD ^{cb}is my strength ^{cc}and song, and he is become my salvation: he is my God, and I will prepare him an habitation: my father's God, and I ^{cd}will exalt him.

3 The LORD ^{ce}is a man of ^{cc}war: the LORD is his ^{cd}name.

4 Phā'raōh's chariots and his host hath he cast into the sea: his chosen captains also are drowned in the Red sea.

5 The depths have covered them: they sank into the bottom as a stone.

6 Thy ^{cf}right hand, O LORD, is become glorious in power: thy right hand, O LORD, hath dashed in pieces the enemy.

7 And in the greatness of thine excellency thou hast overthrown them that rose up against thee: thou sentest forth thy wrath, ^{cg}which ^{cd}consumed them ^{ch}as stubble.

8 And ^{ci}with the blast of thy nostrils the waters were gathered together, ^{cc}the floods stood upright as an heap, and the depths were congealed in the heart of the sea.

9 The enemy said, I will pursue, I will overtake, I will ^{ck}divide the spoil; my lust shall be satisfied upon them; I will draw my sword, my hand shall ^{cl}destroy them.

10 Thou didst blow with thy wind, the sea covered them: they sank as lead in the mighty waters.

11 Who ^{cm}is like unto thee, O LORD, among the ^{cd}gods? who is like thee, glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders?

12 Thou stretchedst out thy right hand, the earth swallowed them.

13 Thou in thy mercy hast led forth the people which thou hast redeemed: thou hast guided them in thy strength unto ^mthy holy habitation.

14 The ⁿpeople shall hear, and be afraid: ^osorrow shall take hold on the inhabitants of Pāl-es-tī'nā.

15 Then the dukes of Ē'dom shall be amazed; ^pthe mighty men of Mō'ab, trembling shall take hold upon them; all the inhabitants of Cā'nāan shall melt away.

16 ^qFear and dread shall fall upon them; by the greatness of thine arm they shall be as still ^ras a stone; till thy people pass over, O LORD, till the people pass over, ^s*which* thou hast purchased.

17 Thou shalt bring them in, and ^tplant them in the mountain of thine inheritance, in the place, O LORD, which thou hast made for thee to dwell in, in the Sanctuary, O Lord, which thy hands have established.

18 The LORD shall reign for ever and ever.

19 For the horse of Phā'raōh went in with his chariots and with his horsemen into the sea, and the LORD brought again the waters of the sea upon them; but the children of Īṣ'ra-el went on dry land in the midst of the sea.

20 ¶ And Mīr'ī-am the prophetess, the sister of Aâr'ōn, ^utook a timbrel in her hand; and all the women went out after her with timbrels and with dances.

21 And Mīr'ī-am answered them, Sing ye to the LORD, for he hath triumphed gloriously; the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

22 So Mō'šeṣ brought Īṣ'ra-el from the Red sea, and they went out into the wilderness of Shûr; and they went three days in the wilderness, and found no water.

23 ¶ And when they came ^vto Mā'rah, they could not drink of the waters of Mā'rah, for they were bitter: therefore the name of it was called ^wMā'rah.

24 And the people murmured against Mō'šeṣ, saying, What shall we drink?

25 And he ^xcried unto the LORD; and the LORD shewed him a tree, ^y*which* when he had cast into the waters, the waters were made sweet: there he ^zmade for them a statute and an ordinance, and there ^ahe proved them,

26 And said, ^bIf thou wilt diligently hearken to the voice of the LORD thy God, and wilt do that which is right in his sight, and wilt give ear to his commandments, and keep all his statutes, I will put none of these ^cdiseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the Ē-gÿp'tiānṣ: for I am the LORD ^dthat healeth thee.

27 ¶ And ^ethey came to Ē'līm, where were twelve wells of water, and threescore and ten palm trees: and they encamped there by the waters.

came unto the wilderness of ^aSin, which is between Ē'līm and Sī'nāi, on the fifteenth day of the second month after their departing out of the land of Ē'gÿpt.

2 And the whole congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el ^bmurmured against Mō'šeṣ and Aâr'ōn in the wilderness:

3 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el said unto them, Would to God we had died by the hand of the LORD in the land of Ē'gÿpt, when ^cwe sat by the flesh pots, and when we did eat bread to the full; for ye have brought us forth into this wilderness, to kill this whole assembly with hunger.

4 ¶ Then said the LORD unto Mō'šeṣ, Behold, I will rain ^dbread from heaven for you; and the people shall go out and gather ^ea certain rate every day, that I ^emay prove them, whether they will walk in my law, or no.

5 And it shall come to pass, that on the sixth day they shall prepare ^fthat which they bring in; and ^fit shall be twice as much as they gather daily.

6 And Mō'šeṣ and Aâr'ōn said unto all the children of Īṣ'ra-el, ^gAt even, then ye shall know that the LORD hath brought you out from the land of Ē'gÿpt:

7 And in the morning, then ye shall see the ^hglory of the LORD; for that he heareth your murmurings against the LORD: and what ⁱare we, that ye murmur against us?

8 And Mō'šeṣ said, This shall be, when the LORD shall give you in the evening flesh to eat, and in the morning bread to the full; for that the LORD heareth your murmurings which ye murmur against him: and what ⁱare we? your murmurings are not against us, but ⁱagainst the LORD.

9 ¶ And Mō'šeṣ spake unto Aâr'ōn, Say unto all the congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, Come near before the LORD: for he hath heard your murmurings.

10 And it came to pass, as Aâr'ōn spake unto the whole congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, that they looked toward the wilderness, and, behold, the glory of the LORD ^jappeared in the cloud.

11 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'šeṣ, saying,

12 I ^khave heard the murmurings of the children of Īṣ'ra-el: speak unto them, saying, ^lAt even ye shall eat flesh, and ^min the morning ye shall be filled with bread; and ye ⁿshall know that I am the LORD your God.

13 And it came to pass, that at even ^othe quails came up, and covered the camp: and in the morning ^pthe dew lay round about the host.

14 And when the dew that lay was gone up, behold, upon the face of the wilderness ^qthere lay ^qa small round thing, as small as the hoar frost on the ground.

15 And when the children of Īṣ'ra-el saw ^rit, they said one to another, ^rIt is manna: for they wist not what it was. And Mō'šeṣ said unto them, ^rThis is the bread which the LORD hath given you to eat.

16 ¶ This is the thing which the LORD hath commanded, Gather of it every man according to his eating, ^san omer ^sfor every man, according to the number of your ⁴persons; take ye every man for them which are in his tents.

17 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el did so, and gathered, some more, some less.

18 And when they did mete it with an omer, ^the that gathered much had nothing over, and he that gathered little had no lack; they gathered every man according to his eating.

19 And Mō'seṣ said, Let no man leave of it till the morning.

20 Notwithstanding they hearkened not unto Mō'seṣ; but some of them left of it until the morning, and it bred worms, and stank: and Mō'seṣ was wroth with them.

21 And they gathered it every morning, every man according to his eating: and when the sun waxed hot, it melted.

22 ¶ And it came to pass, that on the sixth day they gathered twice as much bread, two omers for one man: and all the rulers of the congregation came and told Mō'seṣ.

23 And he said unto them, This is that which the LORD hath said, To morrow is ^uthe rest of the holy sabbath unto the LORD: bake that which ye will bake to day, and seethe that ye will seethe; and that which remaineth over lay up for you to be kept until the morning.

24 And they laid it up till the morning, as Mō'seṣ bade: and it did not ^vstink, neither was there any worm therein.

25 And Mō'seṣ said, Eat that to day; for to day ^wis a sabbath unto the LORD: to day ye shall not find it in the field.

26 ^xSix days ye shall gather it; but on the seventh day, which is the sabbath, in it there shall be none.

27 ¶ And it came to pass, that there went out some of the people on the seventh day for to gather, and they found none.

28 And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, How long ^yrefuse ye to keep my commandments and my laws?

29 See; for that the LORD hath given you the sabbath, therefore he giveth you on the sixth day the bread of two days; abide ye every man in his place, let no man go out of his place on the seventh day.

30 So the people rested on the seventh day.

31 And the house of Īṣ'ra-el called the name thereof Manna: and ^zit was like coriander seed white; and the taste of it was like wafers made with honey.

32 ¶ And Mō'seṣ said, This is the thing which the LORD commandeth, Fill an omer of it to be kept for your generations; that they may see the bread wherewith I have fed you in the wilderness, when I brought you forth from the land of Ē'gÿpt.

33 And Mō'seṣ said unto Aâr'ḡn, Take ^aa pot, and put an omer full of manna therein, and lay it up before the LORD, to be kept for your generations.

34 As the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ, so Aâr'ḡn laid it up ^bbefore the Testimony, to be kept.

35 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el did eat manna ^cforty years, ^duntil they came to a land inhabited;

CHAPTER 17.

1 Rock of Horeb smitten. 8 Battle with Amalek. 15 Moses' altar.

AND ^aall the congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el journeyed from the wilderness of Sīn, after their journeys, according to the commandment of the LORD, and pitched in Rēph'i-dim: and there was no water for the people to drink.

2 ^bWherefore the people did chide with Mō'seṣ, and said, Give us water that we may drink. And Mō'seṣ said unto them, Why chide ye with me? wherefore do ye ^ctempt the LORD?

3 And the people thirsted there for water; and the people ^dmurmured against Mō'seṣ, and said, Wherefore is this that thou hast brought us up out of Ē'gÿpt, to kill us and our children and our cattle with thirst?

4 And Mō'seṣ cried unto the LORD, saying, What shall I do unto this people? they be almost ready to ^estone me.

5 And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, ^fGo on before the people, and take with thee of the elders of Īṣ'ra-el; and thy rod, wherewith ^gthou smotest the river, take in thine hand, and go.

6 ^hBehold, I will stand before thee there upon the rock in Hō'reb; and thou shalt smite the rock, and there shall come water out of it, that the people may drink. And Mō'seṣ did so in the sight of the elders of Īṣ'ra-el.

7 And he called the name of the place ¹Mās'sah, and ²Mēr'i-bah, because of the chiding of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and because they tempted the LORD, saying, Is the LORD among us, or not?

8 ¶ Then ⁱcame Ām'a-lēk, and fought with Īṣ'ra-el in Rēph'i-dim.

9 And Mō'seṣ said unto ^jJōsh'u-ā, Choose us out men, and go out, fight with Ām'a-lēk: to morrow I will stand on the top of the hill with the rod of God in mine hand.

10 So Jōsh'u-ā did as Mō'seṣ had said to him, and fought with Ām'a-lēk: and Mō'seṣ, Aâr'ḡn, and Hûr went up to the top of the hill.

11 And it came to pass, when Mō'seṣ ^kheld up his hand, that Īṣ'ra-el prevailed: and when he let down his hand, Ām'a-lēk prevailed.

12 But Mō'seṣ' hands were heavy; and they took a stone, and put it under him, and he sat thereon; and Aâr'ḡn and Hûr stayed up his hands, the one on the one side, and the other on the other side; and his hands were steady until the going down of the sun.

13 And Jōsh'u-ā discomfited Ām'a-lēk and his people with the edge of the sword.

14 And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, ^lWrite this for a memorial in a book, and rehearse it in the ears of Jōsh'u-ā: for ^mI will utterly put out the remembrance of Ām'a-lēk from under heaven.

15 And Mō'seṣ built an altar, and called the name of it ³Jē-hō'vah-nīs'si:

16 For he said, ⁴Because ^fthe LORD hath sworn that the LORD will have war with Ām'a-lēk from generation to generation.

CHAPTER 18.

¹ Visit of Jethro. ¹³ He counsels Moses and departs.

WHEN Jē'thrō, the priest of Mīd'i-an, Mō'seš' father in law, heard of all that God had done for Mō'seš, and for Īš'ra-el his people, and that the LORD had brought Īš'ra-el out of Ē'g̃ypt ;

2 Then Jē'thrō, Mō'seš' father in law, took Zīp-pō'-rah, Mō'seš' wife, after he had sent her back,

3 And her two sons ; of which the name of the one was ¹Gēr'shōm ; for he said, I have been an alien in a strange land :

4 And the name of the other was ²Ē-li-ē'zēr ; for the God of my father, said he, was mine help, and delivered me from the sword of Phā'raōh :

5 And Jē'thrō, Mō'seš' father in law, came with his sons and his wife unto Mō'seš into the wilderness, where he encamped at the mount of God :

6 And he said unto Mō'seš, I thy father in law Jē'thrō am come unto thee, and thy wife, and her two sons with her.

7 ¶ And Mō'seš went out to meet his father in law, and did obeisance, and kissed him ; and they asked each other of their ³welfare ; and they came into the tent.

8 And Mō'seš told his father in law all that the LORD had done unto Phā'raōh and to the Ē-g̃ypt'-tjans for Īš'ra-el's sake, and all the travail that had ⁴come upon them by the way, and how the LORD delivered them.

9 And Jē'thrō rejoiced for all the goodness which the LORD had done to Īš'ra-el, whom he had delivered out of the hand of the Ē-g̃ypt'tjans.

10 And Jē'thrō said, Blessed be the LORD, who hath delivered you out of the hand of the Ē-g̃ypt'tjans, and out of the hand of Phā'raōh, who hath delivered the people from under the hand of the Ē-g̃ypt'tjans.

11 Now I know that the LORD is ^agreater than all gods : ^bfor in the thing wherein they dealt ^cproudly he was above them.

12 And Jē'thrō, Mō'seš' father in law, took a burnt offering and sacrifices for God : and Aâr'on came, and all the elders of Īš'ra-el, to eat bread with Mō'seš' father in law ^abefore God.

13 ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, that Mō'seš sat to judge the people : and the people stood by Mō'seš from the morning unto the evening.

14 And when Mō'seš' father in law saw all that he did to the people, he said, What is this thing that thou doest to the people ? why sittest thou thyself alone, and all the people stand by thee from morning unto even ?

15 And Mō'seš said unto his father in law, Because the people come unto me to enquire of God :

16 When they have ^ea matter, they come unto me ; and I judge between ^bone and another, and I do ^fmake them know the statutes of God, and his laws.

17 And Mō'seš' father in law said unto him, The thing that thou doest is not good.

18 ⁶Thou wilt surely wear away, both thou, and this people that is with thee : for this thing is too heavy for thee ; ⁷thou art not able to perform it thyself alone.

19 Harken now unto my voice, I will give thee counsel, and God shall be with thee : Be thou ^hfor the people to God-ward, that thou mayest ⁱbring the causes unto God :

20 And thou shalt ^jteach them ordinances and laws, and shalt shew them ^kthe way wherein they must walk, and ^lthe work that they must do.

21 Moreover thou shalt provide out of all the people ^mable men, such as ⁿfear God, ^omen of truth, hating covetousness ; and place such over them, to be rulers of thousands, and rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens.

22 And let them judge the people at all seasons : ^pand it shall be, that every great matter they shall bring unto thee, but every small matter they shall judge : so shall it be easier for thyself, and they shall bear the burden with thee.

23 If thou shalt do this thing, and God command thee so, then thou shalt be able to endure, and all this people shall also go to their place in peace.

24 So Mō'seš hearkened to the voice of his father in law, and did all that he had said.

25 And ^qMō'seš chose able men out of all Īš'ra-el, and made them heads over the people, rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens.

26 And they judged the people at all seasons : the ^rhard causes they brought unto Mō'seš, but every small matter they judged themselves.

27 ¶ And Mō'seš let his father in law depart ; and ^she went his way into his own land.

CHAPTER 19.

IN the third month, when the children of Īš'ra-el were gone forth out of the land of Ē'g̃ypt, the same day came they into the wilderness of Sī'nāi.

2 For they were departed from Rēph'i-dim, and were come to the desert of Sī'nāi, and had pitched in the wilderness ; and there Īš'ra-el camped before the mount.

3 And ^aMō'seš went up unto God, and the LORD called unto him out of the mountain, saying, Thus shalt thou say to the house of Jā'cōb, and tell the children of Īš'ra-el ;

4 Ye have seen what I did unto the Ē-g̃ypt'tjans, and how ^bI bare you on eagles' wings, and brought you unto myself.

5 Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ^cye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people : for ^dall the earth is mine :

6 And ye shall be unto me ^ea kingdom of priests, and an ^fholy nation. These are the words which thou shalt speak unto the children of Īš'ra-el.

7 ¶ And Mō'seš came and called for the elders of the people, and laid before their faces all these words which the LORD commanded him.

8 And ^oall the people answered together, and said, All that the LORD hath spoken we will do. And Mō'sēš returned the words of the people unto the LORD.

9 And the LORD said unto Mō'sēš, Lo, I come unto thee ^hin a thick cloud, ⁱthat the people may hear when I speak with thee, and believe thee for ever. And Mō'sēš told the words of the people unto the LORD.

10 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'sēš, Go unto the people, ^jand sanctify them to day and to morrow, and let them ^kwash their clothes, 11 And be ready against the third day: for the third day the ^lLORD will come down in the sight of all the people upon mount Sī'nāi.

12 And thou shalt set bounds unto the people round about, saying, Take heed to yourselves, that ye go not up into the mount, or touch the border of it: ^mwhosoever toucheth the mount shall be surely put to death:

13 There shall not an hand touch it, but he shall surely be stoned, or shot through; whether it be beast or man, it shall not live: when the ¹trumpet soundeth long, they shall come up to the mount.

14 ¶ And Mō'sēš went down from the mount unto the people, and sanctified the people; and they washed their clothes.

15 And he said unto the people, Be ready against the third day: come ⁿnot at your wives.

16 ¶ And it came to pass on the third day in the morning, that there were thunders and lightnings, and a thick cloud upon the mount, and the voice of the trumpet exceeding loud; so that all the people that was in the camp trembled.

17 And ^oMō'sēš brought forth the people out of the camp to meet with God; and they stood at the nether part of the mount.

18 And ^pmount Sī'nāi was altogether on a smoke, because the LORD descended upon it ^qin fire: and the smoke ^rthereof ascended as the smoke of a furnace, and the whole ^smount quaked greatly.

19 And when the voice of the trumpet sounded long, and waxed louder and louder, Mō'sēš spake, and ^tGod answered him by a voice.

20 And the LORD came down upon mount Sī'nāi, on the top of the mount: and the LORD called Mō'sēš up to the top of the mount; and Mō'sēš went up.

21 And the LORD said unto Mō'sēš, Go down, ²charge the people, lest they break through unto the LORD to ^ugaze, and many of them perish.

22 And let the priests also, which come near to the LORD, ^vsanctify themselves, lest the LORD ^wbreak forth upon them.

23 And Mō'sēš said unto the LORD, The people cannot come up to mount Sī'nāi: for thou chargedst us, saying, Set bounds about the mount, and sanctify it.

24 And the LORD said unto him, Away, get thee down, and thou shalt come up, thou, and Aâr'on with thee: but let not the priests and the people break through to come up unto the LORD, lest he break forth upon them.

CHAPTER 20.

1 The commandments given. 22 Idolatry forbidden. 24 The altar.

AND God spake all these words, ^asaying, 2 I ^bam the LORD thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Ē'gypt, ^cout of the house of ¹bondage.

3 ^dThou shalt have no other gods before me.

4 ^eThou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth:

5 ^fThou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the LORD thy God am ^ga jealous God, ^hvisiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me;

6 And ⁱshewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.

7 ^jThou shalt not take the name of the LORD thy God in vain; for the LORD ^kwill not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.

8 ^lRemember the sabbath day, to keep it holy.

9 ^mSix days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work:

10 But the ⁿseventh day is the sabbath of the LORD thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, ^onor thy stranger that is within thy gates:

11 For in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the LORD blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it.

12 ¶ ^pHonour thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee.

13 ^qThou shalt not kill.

14 ^rThou shalt not commit adultery.

15 ^sThou shalt not steal.

16 Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour.

17 ^tThou shalt not covet thy neighbour's house, ^uthou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbour's.

18 ¶ And ^vall the people saw the thunders, and the lightnings, and the noise of the trumpet, and the mountain smoking: and when the people saw it, they removed, and stood afar off.

19 And they said unto Mō'sēš, ^wSpeak thou with us, and we will hear: but let not God speak with us, lest we die.

20 And Mō'sēš said unto the people, Fear not: ^xfor God is come to prove you, and ^ythat his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not.

21 And the people stood afar off, and Mō'sēš drew near unto the thick darkness where God was.

22 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'sēš, Thus thou shalt say unto the children of Īs'ra-el, Ye have seen that I have talked with you from heaven.

23 Ye shall not make with me gods of silver, neither shall ye make unto you gods of gold.

24 ¶ An altar of earth thou shalt make unto me, and shalt sacrifice thereon thy burnt offerings, and thy peace offerings, thy sheep, and thine oxen : in all ^zplaces where I record my name I will come unto thee, and I will ^abless thee.

25 And ^bif thou wilt make me an altar of stone, thou shalt not ²build it of hewn stone : for if thou lift up thy tool upon it, thou hast polluted it.

26 Neither shalt thou go up by steps unto mine altar, that thy nakedness be not discovered thereon.

CHAPTER 21.

¹ Setting forth the judgments. ¹⁷ Laws for cursers of parents. ²⁸ Law for an ox that gores.

NOW these are the judgments which thou shalt ^aset before them.

2 If ^bthou buy an Hēbrew servant, six years he shall serve : and in the seventh he shall go out free for nothing.

3 If he came in ¹by himself, he shall go out by himself : if he were married, then his wife shall go out with him.

4 If his master have given him ^ca wife, and she have born him sons or daughters ; the wife and her children shall be her master's, and he shall go out by himself.

5 And ^dif the servant ²shall plainly say, I love my master, my wife, and my children ; I will not go out free :

6 Then his master shall bring him unto the ^ejudges ; he shall also bring him to the door, or unto the door post ; and his master shall ^fbore his ear through with an aul ; and he shall serve him for ever.

7 ¶ And if a man ^gsell his daughter to be a maid-servant, she shall not go out as the menservants do.

8 If she ³please not her master, who hath betrothed her to himself, then shall he let her be redeemed : to sell her unto a strange nation he shall have no power, seeing he hath dealt deceitfully with her.

9 And if he have betrothed her unto his son, he shall deal with her after the manner of daughters.

10 If he take him another wife : her food, her raiment, ^hand her duty of marriage, shall he not diminish.

11 And if he do not these three unto her, then shall she go out free without money.

12 ¶ He ⁱthat smiteth a man, so that he die, shall be surely put to death.

13 And ^jif a man lie not in wait, but God ^kdeliver him into his hand ; then ^lI will appoint thee a place whither he shall flee.

14 But if a man come ^mpresumptuously upon his neighbour, to slay him with guile ; ⁿthou shalt take him from mine altar, that he may die.

15 ¶ And he that smiteth his father, or his mother, shall be surely put to death.

16 ¶ And ^ohe that stealeth a man, and ^pselleth him, or if he be ^qfound in his hand, he shall surely be put to death.

18 ¶ And if men strive together, and one smite ⁵another with a stone, or with his fist, and he die not, but keepeth his bed :

19 If he rise again, and walk abroad ^supon his staff, then shall he that smote him be quit : only he shall pay ⁶for the loss of his time, and shall cause him to be thoroughly healed.

20 ¶ And if a man smite his servant, or his maid, with a rod, and he die under his hand ; he shall be surely ⁷punished.

21 Notwithstanding, if he continue a day or two, he shall not be punished : for ^the is his money.

22 ¶ If men strive, and hurt a woman with child, so that her fruit depart from her, and yet no mischief follow : he shall be surely punished, according as the woman's husband will lay upon him ; and he shall ^upay as the judges determine.

23 And if any mischief follow, then thou shalt give life for life,

24 ^vEye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot,

25 Burning for burning, wound for wound, stripe for stripe.

26 ¶ And ^wif a man smite the eye of his servant, or the eye of his maid, that it perish ; he shall let him go free for his eye's sake.

27 And if he smite out his manservant's tooth, or his maidservant's tooth ; he shall let him go free for his tooth's sake.

28 ¶ If an ox gore a man or a woman, that they die : then ^xthe ox shall be surely stoned, and his flesh shall not be eaten ; but the owner of the ox shall be quit.

29 But if the ox were wont to push with his horn in time past, and it hath been testified to his owner, and he hath not kept him in, but that he hath killed a man or a woman ; the ox shall be stoned, and his owner also shall be put to death.

30 If there be laid on him a sum of money, then he shall give for the ^yransom of his life whatsoever is laid upon him.

31 Whether he have gored a son, or have gored a daughter, according to this judgment shall it be done unto him.

32 If the ox shall push a manservant or a maid-servant ; he shall give unto their master ^zthirty shekels of silver, and the ox shall be stoned.

33 ¶ And if a man shall open a pit, or if a man shall dig a pit, and not cover it, and an ox or an ass fall therein ;

34 The owner of the pit shall make it good, and give money unto the owner of them ; and the dead beast shall be his.

35 ¶ And if one man's ox hurt another's, that he die ; then they shall sell the live ox, and divide the money of it ; and the dead ox also they shall divide.

36 Or if it be known that the ox hath used to push in time past, and his owner hath not kept him in ; he shall surely pay ox for ox ; and the dead shall be his own.

CHAPTER 22.

¹ Further setting forth of the judgments. ²⁰ Law for idolatry. ²⁵ Law of usury.

IF a man shall steal an ox, or a ¹sheep, and kill it, or sell it; he shall restore five oxen for an ox, and ^afour sheep for a sheep.

2 ¶ If a ^bthief be found breaking up, and be smitten that he die, there shall ^cno blood be shed for him.

3 If the sun be risen upon him, there shall be blood shed for him; for he should make full restitution; if he have nothing, then he shall be ^dsold for his theft.

4 If the ²theft be certainly ^efound in his hand alive, whether it be ox, or ass, or sheep; he shall ^frestore double.

5 ¶ If a man shall cause a field or vineyard to be eaten, and shall put in his beast, and shall feed in another man's field; of the best of his own field, and of the best of his own vineyard, shall he make restitution.

6 ¶ If fire break out, and catch in thorns, so that the stacks of corn, or the standing corn, or the field, be consumed therewith; he that kindled the fire shall surely make restitution.

7 ¶ If a man shall deliver unto his neighbour money or stuff to keep, and it be stolen out of the man's house; if the thief be found, let him pay double.

8 If the thief be not found, then the master of the house shall be brought unto the judges, to see whether he have put his hand unto his neighbour's goods.

9 For all manner of trespass, whether it be for ox, for ass, for sheep, for raiment, or for any manner of lost thing, which another challengeth to be his, the ^ocause of both parties shall come before the judges; and whom the judges shall condemn, he shall pay double unto his neighbour.

10 If a man deliver unto his neighbour an ass, or an ox, or a sheep, or any beast, to keep; and it die, or be hurt, or driven away, no man seeing it:

11 Then shall an ^hoath of the LORD be between them both, that he hath not put his hand unto his neighbour's goods; and the owner of it shall accept thereof, and he shall not make it good.

12 And ⁱif it be stolen from him, he shall make restitution unto the owner thereof.

13 If it be torn in pieces, then let him bring it for witness, and he shall not make good that which was torn.

14 ¶ And if a man borrow ought of his neighbour, and it be hurt, or die, the owner thereof being not with it, he shall surely make it good.

15 But if the owner thereof be with it, he shall not make it good: if it be an hired thing, it came for his hire.

16 ¶ And ^jif a man entice a maid that is not betrothed, and lie with her, he shall surely endow her to be his wife.

17 If her father utterly refuse to give her unto him, he shall ^kpay money according to the ^kdowry of virgins.

18 ¶ ^lThou shalt not suffer a witch to live.

19 ¶ Whosoever lieth with a beast shall surely be put to death.

22 ¶ ^oYe shall not afflict any widow, or fatherless child.

23 If thou afflict them in any wise, and they ^pcry at all unto me, I will surely ^qhear their cry;

26 If ^uthou at all take thy neighbour's raiment to pledge, thou shalt deliver it unto him by that the sun goeth down:

27 For that is his covering only, it is his raiment for his skin: wherein shall he sleep? and it shall come to pass, when he crieth unto me, that I will hear; for I am gracious.

28 ¶ Thou ^vshalt not revile the ⁴gods, nor curse the ruler of thy people.

29 ¶ Thou shalt not delay to offer ⁵the first ^wof thy ripe fruits, and of thy ⁶liquors: the firstborn of thy sons shalt thou give unto me.

30 Likewise ^xshalt thou do with thine oxen, and with thy sheep: seven ^ydays it shall be with his dam; on the eighth day thou shalt give it me.

31 ¶ And ye shall be ^zholy men unto me: neither ^ashall ye eat any flesh that is torn of beasts in the field; ye shall cast it to the dogs.

CHAPTER 23.

THOU ^ashalt not ¹raise a false report: put not thine hand with the wicked to be an ^bunrighteous witness.

2 ¶ Thou ^cshalt not follow a multitude to do evil; ^dneither shalt thou ²speak in a cause to decline after many to wrest judgment:

3 ¶ Neither shalt thou ^ecountenance a poor man in his cause.

4 ¶ If ^fthou meet thine enemy's ox or his ass going astray, thou shalt surely bring it back to him again.

5 If thou see the ass of him that hateth thee lying under his burden, ³and wouldest forbear to help him, thou shalt surely help with him.

6 ^gThou shalt not wrest the judgment of thy poor in his cause.

7 Keep ^hthee far from a false matter; and the innocent and righteous slay thou not: for ⁱI will not justify the wicked.

8 ¶ And ^jthou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth ⁴the wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous.

9 ¶ Also ^kthou shalt not oppress a stranger: for ye know the ⁵heart of a stranger, seeing ye were strangers in the land of E'gypt.

10 And ^lsix years thou shalt sow thy land, and shalt gather in the fruits thereof:

11 But the seventh year thou shalt let it rest and lie still; that the poor of thy people may eat: and what they leave the beasts of the field shall eat. In like manner thou shalt deal with thy vineyard, and with thy ⁶oliveyard.

12 Six ^mdays thou shalt do thy work, and on the seventh day thou shalt rest: that thine ox and thine ass may rest, and the son of thy handmaid, and the stranger, may be refreshed.

13 And in all things that I have said unto you be circumspect: and make ⁿno mention of the name of other gods, neither let it be heard out of thy mouth.

14 ¶ Three ^otimes thou shalt keep a feast unto me in the year.

15 Thou shalt keep the feast of unleavened bread: (thou shalt eat unleavened bread seven days, as I commanded thee, in the time appointed of the month Ā'bīb; for in it thou camest out from Ē'gŷpt: and none shall appear before me empty:)

16 And ^pthe feast of harvest, the firstfruits of thy labours, which thou hast sown in the field: and the feast of ingathering, which is in the end of the year, when thou hast gathered in thy labours out of the field.

17 Three times in the year all thy males shall appear before the Lord God.

18 Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leavened bread; neither shall the fat of my ^rsacrifice remain until the morning.

19 The ^qfirst of the firstfruits of thy land thou shalt bring into the house of the LORD thy God. Thou shalt not seethe a kid in his mother's milk.

20 ¶ Behold, I send an Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared.

21 Beware of him, and obey his voice, provoke ^rhim not; for he will ^snot pardon your transgressions: for ^tmy name is in him.

22 But if thou shalt indeed obey his voice, and do all that I speak; then ^uI will be an enemy unto thine enemies, and ^ban adversary unto thine adversaries.

23 For mine Angel shall go before thee, and ^vbring thee in unto the Ām'ôr-ites, and the Hīt'tites, and the Pēr'iz-zites, and the Cā'nāan-ites, the Hī'vites, and the Jēb'u-sites: and I will cut them off.

24 Thou shalt not ^wbow down to their gods, nor serve them, nor do after their works: but thou shalt utterly overthrow them, and quite break down their images.

25 And ye shall ^xserve the LORD your God, and he ^yshall bless thy bread, and thy water; and ^zI will take sickness away from the midst of thee.

26 ¶ There ^ashall nothing cast their young, nor be barren, in thy land: the number of thy days I will ^bfulfil.

27 I will send ^cmy fear before thee, and will destroy all the people to whom thou shalt come, and I will make all thine enemies turn their ^dbacks unto thee.

28 And I ^ewill send hornets before thee, which shall drive out the Hī'vite, the Cā'nāan-ite, and the Hīt'tite, from before thee.

CHAPTER 24.

1 Moses builds an altar. 9 Ascends the mount. 18 Forty days and nights in the mount.

AND he said unto Mō'seš, Come up unto the LORD, thou, and Aâr'on, ^a*Nā'dāb*, and Ā-bī'hū, ^band seventy of the elders of Īš'ra-el; and worship ye afar off.

2 And Mō'seš alone shall come near the LORD: but they shall not come nigh; neither shall the people go up with him.

3 ¶ And Mō'seš came and told the people all the words of the LORD, and all the judgments: and all the people answered with one voice, and said, All the words which the LORD hath said will we do.

4 And Mō'seš ^cwrote all the words of the LORD, and rose up early in the morning, and builded an altar under the hill, and twelve ^dpillars, according to the twelve tribes of Īš'ra-el.

5 And he sent young men of the children of Īš'ra-el, which offered burnt offerings, and sacrificed peace offerings of oxen unto the LORD.

6 And Mō'seš ^etook half of the blood, and put it in basons; and half of the blood he sprinkled on the altar.

7 And he took the book of the covenant, and read in the audience of the people: and they said, All that the LORD hath said will we do, and be obedient.

8 And Mō'seš took the blood, and sprinkled it on the people, and said, Behold ^fthe blood of the covenant, which the LORD hath made with you concerning all these words.

9 ¶ Then went up Mō'seš, and Aâr'on, Nā'dāb, and Ā-bī'hū, and seventy of the elders of Īš'ra-el:

10 And they ^gsaw the God of Īš'ra-el: and there was under his feet as it were a paved work of ^ha sapphire stone, and as it were the ⁱbody of heaven in his clearness.

11 And upon the nobles of the children of Īš'ra-el he ^jlaid not his hand: also ^kthey saw God, and did ^leat and drink.

12 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seš, Come up to me into the mount, and be there: and I will give thee ^mtables of stone, and a law, and commandments which I have written; that thou mayest teach them.

13 And Mō'seš rose up, and ⁿhis minister Jōsh'u-â: and Mō'seš went up into the mount of God.

14 And he said unto the elders, Tarry ye here for us, until we come again unto you : and, behold, Aâr'ôn and Hûr are with you : if any man have any matters to do, let him come unto them.

15 And Mō'seş went up into the mount, and ^oa cloud covered the mount.

16 And ^pthe glory of the LORD abode upon mount Sî'nāi, and the cloud covered it six days : and the seventh day he called unto Mō'seş out of the midst of the cloud.

17 And the sight of the glory of the LORD was like ^qdevouring fire on the top of the mount in the eyes of the children of İş'ra-el.

18 And Mō'seş went into the midst of the cloud, and gat him up into the mount : and ^rMō'seş was in the mount forty days and forty nights.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,
2 Speak unto the children of İş'ra-el, that they ¹bring me an ²offering : ^aof every man that giveth it willingly with his heart ye shall take my offering.

3 And this is the offering which ye shall take of them ; gold, and silver, and brass,

4 And blue, and purple, and scarlet, and ³fine linen, and goats' hair,

5 And rams' skins dyed red, and badgers' skins, and shittim wood,

6 Oil for the light, spices for anointing oil, and for sweet incense,

7 Onyx stones, and stones to be set in the ephod, and in the ^bbreastplate.

8 And let them make me a ^csanctuary ; that ^dI may dwell among them.

9 According to all that I shew thee, after the pattern of the tabernacle, and the pattern of all the instruments thereof, even so shall ye make it.

10 ¶ And ^ethey shall make an ark of shittim wood : two cubits and a half shall be the length thereof, and a cubit and a half the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof.

11 And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, within and without shalt thou overlay it, and shalt make upon it a crown of gold round about.

12 And thou shalt cast four rings of gold for it, and put them in the four corners thereof ; and two rings shall be in the one side of it, and two rings in the other side of it.

13 And thou shalt make staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold.

14 And thou shalt put the staves into the rings by the sides of the ark, that the ark may be borne with them.

15 The ^fstaves shall be in the rings of the ark : they shall not be taken from it.

16 And thou shalt put into the ark ^gthe testimony which I shall give thee.

17 And ^hthou shalt make a mercy seat of pure gold : two cubits and a half shall be the length thereof, and a cubit and a half the breadth thereof.

18 And thou shalt make two cherubims of gold,

26 And thou shalt make for it four rings of gold, and put the rings in the four corners that are on the four feet thereof.

27 Over against the border shall the rings be for places of the staves to bear the table.

28 And thou shalt make the staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold, that the table may be borne with them.

29 And thou shalt make ⁿthe dishes thereof, and spoons thereof, and covers thereof, and bowls thereof, ⁵to cover withal : of pure gold shalt thou make them.

30 And thou shalt set upon the table ^oshewbread before me alway.

31 ¶ And ^pthou shalt make a candlestick of pure gold : of beaten work shall the candlestick be made : his shaft, and his branches, his bowls, his knops, and his flowers, shall be of the same.

32 And ^qsix branches shall come out of the sides of it ; three branches of the candlestick out of the one side, and three branches of the candlestick out of the other side :

33 Three bowls made like unto almonds, with a knop and a flower in one branch ; and three bowls made like almonds in the other branch, with a knop and a flower : so in the six branches that come out of the candlestick.

34 And in the candlestick shall be four bowls made like unto almonds, with their knops and their flowers.

35 And there shall be a knop under two branches of the same, and a knop under two branches of the same, according to the six branches that proceed out of the candlestick.

36 Their knobs and their branches shall be of the same : all it shall be one beaten work of pure gold.

37 And thou shalt make the seven lamps thereof : and they shall light the lamps thereof, that they may give light over against it.

38 And the tongs thereof, and the snuffdishes thereof, shall be of pure gold.

39 Of a talent of pure gold shall he make it, with all these vessels.

40 And look that thou make them after their pattern, which was shewed thee in the mount.

CHAPTER 26.

1 The tabernacle curtains. 14 Covering. 15 Boards. 31 Veil for the ark.

MOREOVER thou shalt make the tabernacle with ten curtains of fine twined linen, and blue, and purple, and scarlet : with cherubims of cunning work shalt thou make them.

2 The length of one curtain shall be eight and twenty cubits, and the breadth of one curtain four cubits : and every one of the curtains shall have one measure.

3 The five curtains shall be coupled together one to another ; and other five curtains shall be coupled one to another.

4 And thou shalt make loops of blue upon the edge of the one curtain from the selvedge in the coupling ; and likewise shalt thou make in the uttermost edge of another curtain, in the coupling of the second.

5 Fifty loops shalt thou make in the one curtain, and fifty loops shalt thou make in the edge of the curtain that is in the coupling of the second ; that the loops may take hold one of another.

6 And thou shalt make fifty taches of gold, and couple the curtains together with the taches : and it shall be one tabernacle.

7 ¶ And thou shalt make curtains of goats' hair to be a covering upon the tabernacle : eleven curtains shalt thou make.

8 The length of one curtain shall be thirty cubits, and the breadth of one curtain four cubits : and the eleven curtains shall be all of one measure.

9 And thou shalt couple five curtains by themselves, and six curtains by themselves, and shalt double the sixth curtain in the forefront of the tabernacle.

10 And thou shalt make fifty loops on the edge of the one curtain that is outmost in the coupling, and fifty loops in the edge of the curtain which coupleth the second.

11 And thou shalt make fifty taches of brass, and put the taches into the loops, and couple the tent together, that it may be one.

12 And the remnant that remaineth of the curtains of the tent, the half curtain that remaineth, shall hang over the backside of the tabernacle.

13 And a cubit on the one side, and a cubit on the other side of that which remaineth in the length of the curtains of the tent, it shall hang over the sides of the tabernacle on this side and on that side, to cover it.

14 And thou shalt make a covering for the tent of rams' skins dyed red, and a covering above of badgers' skins.

15 ¶ And thou shalt make boards for the tabernacle of shittim wood standing up.

16 Ten cubits shall be the length of a board, and a cubit and a half shall be the breadth of one board.

17 Two tenons shall there be in one board, set in order one against another : thus shalt thou make for all the boards of the tabernacle.

18 And thou shalt make the boards for the tabernacle, twenty boards on the south side southward.

19 And thou shalt make forty sockets of silver under the twenty boards ; two sockets under one board for his two tenons, and two sockets under another board for his two tenons.

20 And for the second side of the tabernacle on the north side there shall be twenty boards :

21 And their forty sockets of silver ; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.

22 And for the sides of the tabernacle westward thou shalt make six boards.

23 And two boards shalt thou make for the corners of the tabernacle in the two sides.

24 And they shall be coupled together beneath, and they shall be coupled together above the head of it unto one ring : thus shall it be for them both ; they shall be for the two corners.

25 And they shall be eight boards, and their sockets of silver, sixteen sockets ; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.

26 ¶ And thou shalt make bars of shittim wood ; five for the boards of the one side of the tabernacle,

27 And five bars for the boards of the other side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the boards of the side of the tabernacle, for the two sides westward.

28 And the middle bar in the midst of the boards shall reach from end to end.

29 And thou shalt overlay the boards with gold, and make their rings of gold for places for the bars : and thou shalt overlay the bars with gold.

30 And thou shalt rear up the tabernacle according to the fashion thereof which was shewed thee in the mount.

31 ¶ And thou shalt make a veil of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen of cunning work : with cherubims shall it be made :

32 And thou shalt hang it upon four pillars of shittim wood overlaid with gold : their hooks shall be of gold, upon the four sockets of silver.

33 ¶ And thou shalt hang up the veil under the taches, that thou mayest bring in thither within the veil the ark of the testimony : and the veil shall divide unto you between the holy place and the most holy.

34 And thou shalt put the mercy seat upon the ark of the testimony in the most holy place.

35 And thou shalt set the table without the veil, and the candlestick over against the table on the side of the tabernacle toward the south : and thou shalt put the table on the north side.

36 And ^athou shalt make an hanging for the door of the tent, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen, wrought with needlework.

37 And thou shalt make for the hanging five ^rpillars of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold, and their hooks shall be of gold: and thou shalt cast five sockets of brass for them.

CHAPTER 27.

¹ Furniture of the tabernacle. ⁹ The court. ¹⁸ Its measure. ²⁰ Oil for the lamp.

AND thou shalt make ^aan altar of shittim wood, five cubits long, and five cubits broad; the altar shall be foursquare: and the height thereof shall be three cubits.

2 And thou shalt make ^bthe horns of it upon the four corners thereof: his horns shall be of the same: and ^cthou shalt overlay it with brass.

3 And thou shalt make his pans to receive his ashes, and his shovels, ^dand his basons, and his fleshhooks, and his firepans: all the vessels thereof thou shalt make of brass.

4 And thou shalt make for it a ¹grate of network of brass; and upon the net shalt thou make four brasen rings in the four corners thereof.

5 And thou shalt put it under the compass of the altar beneath, that the net may be even to the midst of the altar.

6 And thou shalt make staves for the altar, staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with brass.

7 And the staves shall be put into the rings, and the staves shall be upon the two sides of the altar, to ^ebear it.

8 Hollow with boards shalt thou make it: ^fas ²it was shewed thee in the mount, so shall they make it.

9 ¶ And ⁹thou shalt make the court of the tabernacle: for the south side southward there shall be hangings for the court of fine twined linen of an hundred cubits long for one side:

10 And the twenty pillars thereof and their twenty sockets shall be of brass; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets shall be of silver.

11 And likewise for the north side in length there shall be hangings of an hundred cubits long, and his twenty pillars and their twenty sockets of brass; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of silver.

12 ¶ And for the breadth of the court on the west side shall be hangings of fifty cubits: their pillars ten, and their sockets ten.

13 And the breadth of the court on the east side eastward shall be fifty cubits.

14 The hangings of one side of the gate shall be fifteen cubits: their pillars three, and their sockets three.

15 And on the other side shall be hangings fifteen cubits: their pillars three, and their sockets three.

16 ¶ And for the gate of the court shall be an hanging of twenty cubits, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen, wrought with needlework: and their pillars shall be four, and their sockets four.

19 All the vessels of the tabernacle in all the service thereof, and all the pins thereof, and all the ⁴pins of the court, shall be of brass.

20 ¶ And ^hthou shalt command the children of Īṣ'ra-el, that they bring thee pure oil olive beaten for the light, to cause the lamp ⁵to burn always.

21 In the tabernacle of the congregation without ⁱthe veil, which is before the testimony, ^jAâr'ḡn and his sons shall order it from evening to morning before the LORD: ^kit shall be a statute for ever unto their generations on the behalf of the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

CHAPTER 28.

¹ The priesthood established. ¹⁵ The breastplate of twelve precious stones. ³¹ The sacred vestments.

AND ^atake thou unto thee Aâr'ḡn thy brother, and his sons with him, from among the children of Īṣ'ra-el, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office, even Aâr'ḡn, Nā'dāb and Ā-bī'hū, Ē-le-ā'zar and Īth'ā-mār, Aâr'ḡn's sons.

2 And ^bthou shalt make holy garments for Aâr'ḡn thy brother for glory and for beauty.

3 And ^cthou shalt speak unto all that are wise hearted, ^dwhom I have filled with the spirit of wisdom, that they may make Aâr'ḡn's garments to consecrate him, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office.

4 And these are the garments which they shall make; a breastplate, and an ephod, and a robe, and a brodered coat, a mitre, and a girdle: and they shall make holy garments for Aâr'ḡn thy brother, and his sons, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office.

5 And they shall take gold, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen.

6 ¶ And ^ethey shall make the ephod of gold, of blue, and of purple, of scarlet, and fine twined linen, with cunning work.

7 It shall have the two shoulderpieces thereof joined at the two edges thereof; and so it shall be joined together.

8 And the ¹curious girdle of the ephod, which is upon it, shall be of the same, according to the work thereof; even of gold, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen.

9 And thou shalt take two onyx stones, and grave on them the names of the children of Īṣ'ra-el:

10 Six of their names on one stone, and the other six names of the rest on the other stone, according to their birth.

11 With the work of an engraver in stone, like the engravings of a signet, shalt thou engrave the two stones with the names of the children of Īṣ'ra-el: thou shalt make them to be set in ouches of gold.

12 And thou shalt put the two stones upon the shoulders of the ephod for stones of memorial unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el : and ᵛAâr'qn shall bear their names before the LORD upon his two shoulders ᵝ for a memorial.

13 ¶ And thou shalt make ouches of gold ;

14 And two chains of pure gold at the ends ; of wreathen work shalt thou make them, and fasten the wreathen chains to the ouches.

15 ¶ And ᵇthou shalt make the breastplate of judgment with cunning work ; after the work of the ephod thou shalt make it ; of gold, of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet, and of fine twined linen, shalt thou make it.

16 Foursquare it shall be being doubled ; a span shall be the length thereof, and a span shall be the breadth thereof.

17 And ᵇthou shalt ᵇset in it settings of stones, even four rows of stones : the first row shall be a ᵇsardius, a topaz, and a carbuncle : this shall be the first row.

18 And the second row shall be an emerald, a sapphire, and a diamond.

19 And the third row a ligure, an agate, and an amethyst.

20 And the fourth row a beryl, and an onyx, and a jasper : they shall be set in gold in their ᵇinclosings.

21 And the stones shall be with the names of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, twelve, according to their names, like the engravings of a signet ; every one with his name shall they be ᵇaccording to the twelve tribes.

22 ¶ And thou shalt make upon the breastplate chains at the ends of wreathen work of pure gold.

23 And thou shalt make upon the breastplate two rings of gold, and shalt put the two rings on the two ends of the breastplate.

24 And thou shalt put the two wreathen chains of gold in the two rings which are on the ends of the breastplate.

25 And the other two ends of the two wreathen chains thou shalt fasten in the two ouches, and put them on the shoulderpieces of the ephod before it.

26 ¶ And thou shalt make two rings of gold, and thou shalt put them upon the two ends of the breastplate in the border thereof, which is in the side of the ephod inward.

27 And two other rings of gold thou shalt make, and shalt put them on the two sides of the ephod underneath, toward the forepart thereof, over against the other coupling thereof, above the curious girdle of the ephod.

28 And they shall bind the breastplate by the rings thereof unto the rings of the ephod with a lace of blue, that it may be above the curious girdle of the ephod, and that the breastplate be not loosed from the ephod.

29 And Aâr'qn shall ᵇbear the names of the children of Īṣ'ra-el in the breastplate of judgment upon his heart, when he goeth in unto the holy place, ᵇ for a memorial before the LORD continually.

30 ¶ And ᵇthou shalt put in the breastplate of judgment the Ū'rim and the Thūm'mim ; and they shall be upon Aâr'qn's heart, when he goeth in before the LORD : and Aâr'qn shall bear the judgment of the children of Īṣ'ra-el upon his heart before the LORD continually.

31 ¶ And ᵇthou shalt make the robe of the ephod all of blue.

32 And there shall be an hole in the top of it, in the midst thereof : it shall have a binding of woven work round about the hole of it, as it were the hole of an habergeon, that it be not rent.

33 ¶ And beneath upon the ᵇhem of it thou shalt make pomegranates of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet, round about the hem thereof ; and bells of gold between them round about :

34 A golden bell and a pomegranate, a golden bell and a pomegranate, upon the hem of the robe round about.

35 And it shall be upon Aâr'qn to minister : and his sound shall be heard when he goeth in unto the holy place before the LORD, and when he cometh out, that he die not.

36 ¶ And ᵇthou shalt make a plate of pure gold, and grave upon it, like the engravings of a signet, HOLINESS TO THE LORD.

37 And thou shalt put it on a blue lace, that it may be upon the mitre ; upon the forefront of the mitre it shall be.

38 And it shall be upon Aâr'qn's forehead, that Aâr'qn may ᵇbear the iniquity of the holy things, which the children of Īṣ'ra-el shall hallow in all their holy gifts ; and it shall be always upon his forehead, that they may be ᵇaccepted before the LORD.

39 ¶ And thou shalt embroider the coat of fine linen, and thou shalt make the mitre of fine linen, and thou shalt make the girdle of needlework.

40 ¶ And ᵇfor Aâr'qn's sons thou shalt make coats, and thou shalt make for them girdles, and bonnets shalt thou make for them, for glory and for beauty.

41 And thou shalt put them upon Aâr'qn thy brother, and his sons with him ; and shalt ᵇanoint them, and ᵇconsecrate them, and sanctify them, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office.

42 And thou shalt make them linen ᵇbreeches to cover ᵇtheir nakedness ; from the loins even unto the thighs they shall ᵇreach :

43 And they shall be upon Aâr'qn, and upon his sons, when they come in unto the tabernacle of the congregation, or when they come near ᵇunto the altar to minister in the holy place ; that they ᵇbear not iniquity, and die : ᵇit shall be a statute for ever unto him and his seed after him.

CHAPTER 29.

1 Consecration of priests. 36 Various offerings. 45 God's promise to be among the Israelites.

AND this is the thing that thou shalt do unto them to hallow them, to minister unto me in the priest's office : ᵇTake one young bullock, and two rams without blemish,

2 And ᵇunleavened bread, and cakes unleavened tempered with oil, and wafers unleavened anointed with oil : of wheaten flour shalt thou make them.

3 And thou shalt put them into one basket, and bring them in the basket, with the bullock and the two rams.

4 And Aâr'qn and his sons thou shalt bring unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and shalt wash them with water.

5 And thou shalt take the garments, and put upon Aâr'qn the coat, and the robe of the ephod, and the ephod, and the breastplate, and gird him with the curious girdle of the ephod :

6 And thou shalt put the mitre upon his head, and put the holy crown upon the mitre.

7 Then shalt thou take the anointing oil, and pour it upon his head, and anoint him.

8 And thou shalt bring his sons, and put coats upon them.

9 And thou shalt gird them with girdles, Aâr'qn and his sons, and put the bonnets on them : and the priest's office shall be theirs for a perpetual statute : and thou shalt consecrate Aâr'qn and his sons.

10 And thou shalt cause a bullock to be brought before the tabernacle of the congregation : and Aâr'qn and his sons shall put their hands upon the head of the bullock.

11 And thou shalt kill the bullock before the LORD, by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

12 And thou shalt take of the blood of the bullock, and put it upon the horns of the altar with thy finger, and pour all the blood beside the bottom of the altar.

13 And thou shalt take all the fat that covereth the inwards, and the caul that is above the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and burn them upon the altar.

14 But the flesh of the bullock, and his skin, and his dung, shalt thou burn with fire without the camp : it is a sin offering.

15 ¶ Thou shalt also take one ram ; and Aâr'qn and his sons shall put their hands upon the head of the ram.

16 And thou shalt slay the ram, and thou shalt take his blood, and sprinkle it round about upon the altar.

17 And thou shalt cut the ram in pieces, and wash the inwards of him, and his legs, and put them unto his pieces, and unto his head.

18 And thou shalt burn the whole ram upon the altar : it is a burnt offering unto the LORD : it is a sweet savour, an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

19 ¶ And thou shalt take the other ram ; and Aâr'qn and his sons shall put their hands upon the head of the ram.

20 Then shalt thou kill the ram, and take of his blood, and put it upon the tip of the right ear of Aâr'qn, and upon the tip of the right ear of his sons, and upon the thumb of their right hand, and upon the great toe of their right foot, and sprinkle the blood upon the altar round about.

21 And thou shalt take of the blood that is upon the altar, and of the anointing oil, and sprinkle it upon Aâr'qn, and upon his garments, and upon his sons, and upon the garments of his sons with him : and he shall be hallowed, and his garments, and his sons, and his sons' garments with him.

22 Also thou shalt take of the ram the fat and the rump, and the fat that covereth the inwards, and the caul above the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and the right shoulder ; for it is a ram of consecration :

23 And one loaf of bread, and one cake of oiled bread, and one wafer out of the basket of the unleavened bread that is before the LORD :

24 And thou shalt put all in the hands of Aâr'qn, and in the hands of his sons ; and shalt wave them for a wave offering before the LORD.

25 And thou shalt receive them of their hands, and burn them upon the altar for a burnt offering, for a sweet savour before the LORD : it is an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

26 And thou shalt take the breast of the ram of Aâr'qn's consecration, and wave it for a wave offering before the LORD : and it shall be thy part.

27 And thou shalt sanctify the breast of the wave offering, and the shoulder of the heave offering, which is waved, and which is heaved up, of the ram of the consecration, even of that which is for Aâr'qn, and of that which is for his sons :

28 And it shall be Aâr'qn's and his sons' by a statute for ever from the children of Is'ra-el : for it is an heave offering : and it shall be an heave offering from the children of Is'ra-el of the sacrifice of their peace offerings, even their heave offering unto the LORD.

29 ¶ And the holy garments of Aâr'qn shall be his sons' after him, to be anointed therein, and to be consecrated in them.

30 And that son that is priest in his stead shall put them on seven days, when he cometh into the tabernacle of the congregation to minister in the holy place.

31 ¶ And thou shalt take the ram of the consecration, and seethe his flesh in the holy place.

32 And Aâr'qn and his sons shall eat the flesh of the ram, and the bread that is in the basket, by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

33 And they shall eat those things wherewith the atonement was made, to consecrate and to sanctify them : but a stranger shall not eat thereof, because they are holy.

34 And if ought of the flesh of the consecrations, or of the bread, remain unto the morning, then thou shalt burn the remainder with fire : it shall not be eaten, because it is holy.

35 And thus shalt thou do unto Aâr'qn, and to his sons, according to all things which I have commanded thee : seven days shalt thou consecrate them.

36 And thou shalt offer every day a bullock for a sin offering for atonement : and thou shalt cleanse the altar, when thou hast made an atonement for it, and thou shalt anoint it, to sanctify it.

37 Seven days thou shalt make an atonement for the altar, and sanctify it ; and it shall be an altar most holy : ^j whatsoever toucheth the altar shall be holy.

38 ¶ Now this is that which thou shalt offer upon the altar ; ^k two lambs of the first year ^l day by day continually.

39 The one lamb thou shalt offer in ^m the morning ; and the other lamb thou shalt offer at even :

40 And with the one lamb a tenth deal of flour mingled with the fourth part of an hin of beaten oil ; and the fourth part of an hin of wine for a drink offering.

41 And the other lamb thou shalt ⁿ offer at even, and shalt do thereto according to the meat offering of the morning, and according to the drink offering thereof, for a sweet savour, an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

42 This shall be ^o a continual burnt offering throughout your generations at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the LORD : ^p where I will meet you, to speak there unto thee.

43 And there I will meet with the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and ^q the tabernacle ^r shall be sanctified by my glory.

44 And I will sanctify the tabernacle of the congregation, and the altar : I will ^r sanctify also both Aâr'ôn and his sons, to minister to me in the priest's office.

45 ¶ And ^s I will dwell among the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and will be their God.

46 And they shall know that I am the LORD their God, that brought them forth out of the land of Ē'gÿpt, that I may dwell among them : I am the LORD their God.

CHAPTER 30.

AND thou shalt make ^a an altar ^b to burn incense upon : of shittim wood shalt thou make it.

2 A cubit shall be the length thereof, and a cubit the breadth thereof ; foursquare shall it be : and two cubits shall be the height thereof : the horns thereof shall be of the same.

3 And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, the ¹ top thereof, and the ² sides thereof round about, and the horns thereof ; and thou shalt make unto it a crown of gold round about.

4 And two golden rings shalt thou make to it under the crown of it, by the two ³ corners thereof, upon the two sides of it shalt thou make it ; and they shall be for places for the staves to bear it withal.

5 And thou shalt make the staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold.

6 And thou shalt put it before the veil that is by the ark of the testimony, before the mercy seat that is over the testimony, where I will meet with thee.

7 And Aâr'ôn shall burn thereon ⁴ sweet incense every morning : when he dresseth the lamps, he shall burn incense upon it.

8 And when Aâr'ôn ⁵ lighteth the lamps ⁶ at even, he shall burn incense upon it, a perpetual incense before the LORD throughout your generations.

11 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,
12 When ^f thou takest the sum of the children of Īṣ'ra-el after ⁷ their number, then shall they give every man ^g a ransom for his soul unto the LORD, when thou numberest them ; that there be no ^h plague among them, when thou numberest them.

13 This ⁱ they shall give, every one that passeth among them that are numbered, half a shekel after the shekel of the sanctuary : (^j a shekel is twenty gerahs :) an half shekel shall be the offering of the LORD.

14 Every one that passeth among them that are numbered, from twenty years old and above, shall give an offering unto the LORD.

15 The ^k rich shall not ⁸ give more, and the poor shall not ⁹ give less than half a shekel, when they give an offering unto the LORD, to make an atonement for your souls.

17 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,
18 ^m Thou shalt also make a laver of brass, and his foot also of brass, to wash withal : and thou shalt put it between the tabernacle of the congregation and the altar, and thou shalt put water therein.

19 For Aâr'ôn and his sons ⁿ shall wash their hands and their feet thereat :

20 When they go into the tabernacle of the congregation, they shall wash with water, that they die not ; or when they come near to the altar to minister, to burn offering made by fire unto the LORD :

21 So they shall wash their hands and their feet, that they die not : and ^o it shall be a statute for ever to them, even to him and to his seed throughout their generations.

22 ¶ Moreover the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

25 And thou shalt make it an oil of holy ointment, an ointment compound after the art of the ¹⁰ apothecary : it shall be ^u an holy anointing oil.

26 And ^v thou shalt anoint the tabernacle of the congregation therewith, and the ark of the testimony,

27 And the table and all his vessels, and the candlestick and his vessels, and the altar of incense,

28 And the altar of burnt offering with all his vessels, and the laver and his foot.

29 And thou shalt sanctify them, that they may be most holy : whatsoever toucheth them shall be holy.

30 And thou shalt anoint Aâr'ôn and his sons, and consecrate them, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office.

31 And thou shalt speak unto the children of Īš'ra-el, saying, This shall be an holy anointing oil unto me throughout your generations.

32 Upon man's flesh shall it not be poured, neither shall ye make any other like it, after the composition of it : it is holy, and it shall be holy unto you.

33 Whosoever compoundeth any like it, or whosoever putteth any of it upon ¹¹ a stranger, ^w shall even be cut off from his people.

34 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seš, ^x Take unto thee sweet spices, stacte, and onycha, and galbanum ; these sweet spices with pure frankincense : of each shall there be a like weight :

35 And thou shalt make it a perfume, a confection after the art of the apothecary, ¹² tempered together, pure and holy :

36 And thou shalt beat some of it very small, and put of it before the testimony in the tabernacle of the congregation, ^y where I will meet with thee : ^z it shall be unto you most holy.

37 And as for the perfume which thou shalt make, ye shall not make to yourselves according to the composition thereof : it shall be unto thee holy for the LORD.

38 Whosoever shall make like unto that, to smell thereto, shall even be cut off from his people.

15 Six days may work be done ; but in the ^j seventh is the sabbath of rest, ² holy to the LORD : whosoever doeth any work in the sabbath day, he shall surely be put to death.

CHAPTER 32.

AND when the people saw that Mō'seš ^a delayed to come down out of the mount, the people gathered themselves together unto Aâr'ôn, and said unto him, ^b Up, make us gods, which shall go before us ; for as for this Mō'seš, the man that brought us up out of the land of Ē'gÿpt, we wot not what is become of him.

2 And Aâr'ôn said unto them, Break off the ^c golden earrings, which are in the ears of your wives, of your sons, and of your daughters, and bring them unto me.

3 And all the people brake off the golden earrings which were in their ears, and brought them unto Aâr'ôn.

4 And ^d he received them at their hand, and fashioned it with a graving tool, after he had made it a molten calf : and they said, These be thy gods, O Īš'ra-el, which brought thee up out of the land of Ē'gÿpt.

5 And when Aâr'ôn saw it, he built an altar before it ; and Aâr'ôn made ^e proclamation, and said, To-morrow is a feast to the LORD.

6 And they rose up early on the morrow, and offered burnt offerings, and brought peace offerings ; and the ^f people sat down to eat and to drink, and rose up to play.

7 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seš, ^g Go, get thee down ; for thy people, which thou broughtest out of the land of Ē'gÿpt, ^h have corrupted themselves :

8 They have turned aside quickly out of the way which I ⁱcommanded them : they have made them a molten calf, and have worshipped it, and have sacrificed thereunto, and said, ^jThese be thy gods, O Īṣ'ra-el, which have brought thee up out of the land of Ē'gÿpt.

9 And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, ^kI have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiffnecked people :

10 Now therefore ^llet me alone, that my wrath may wax hot against them, and that I may consume them : and ^mI will make of thee a great nation.

11 And ⁿMō'seṣ besought ¹the LORD his God, and said, LORD, why doth thy wrath wax hot against thy people, which thou hast brought forth out of the land of Ē'gÿpt with great power, and with a mighty hand ?

12 Wherefore should the Ē-gÿp'tiānṣ speak, and say, For mischief did he bring them out, to slay them in the mountains, and to consume them from the face of the earth ? Turn from thy fierce wrath, and repent of this evil against thy people.

13 Remember Ā'brā-hām, Ī'saac, and Īṣ'ra-el, thy servants, to whom thou ^oswarest by thine own self, and saidst unto them, ^pI will multiply your seed as the stars of heaven, and all this land that I have spoken of will I give unto your seed, and they shall inherit it for ever.

14 And the LORD ^qrepented of the evil which he thought to do unto his people.

15 ¶ And ^rMō'seṣ turned, and went down from the mount, and the two tables of the testimony were in his hand : the tables were written on both their sides ; on the one side and on the other were they written.

16 And the ^stables were the work of God, and the writing was the writing of God, graven upon the tables.

17 And when Jōsh'u-ā heard the noise of the people as they shouted, he said unto Mō'seṣ, There is a noise of war in the camp.

18 And he said, It is not the voice of them that shout for mastery, neither is it the voice of them that cry for ²being overcome : but the noise of them that sing do I hear.

19 ¶ And it came to pass, as soon as he came nigh unto the camp, that he saw the calf, and the dancing : and Mō'seṣ' anger waxed hot, and he cast the tables out of his hands, and brake them beneath the mount.

20 And he took the calf which they had made, and burnt it in the fire, and ground it to powder, and strawed it upon the water, and made the children of Īṣ'ra-el drink of it.

21 And Mō'seṣ said unto Aâr'on, ^tWhat did this people unto thee, that thou hast brought so great a sin upon them ?

22 And Aâr'on said, Let not the anger of my lord wax hot : ^uthou knowest the people, that they are set on mischief.

23 For they said unto me, Make us gods, which shall go before us : for as for this Mō'seṣ, the man that brought us up out of the land of Ē'gÿpt, we wot not what is become of him.

25 ¶ And when Mō'seṣ saw that the people were ^vnaked ; (for Aâr'on had ^wmade them naked unto their shame among ³their enemies :)

26 Then Mō'seṣ stood in the gate of the camp, and said, Who is on the LORD'S side ? let him come unto me. And all the sons of Lē'vī gathered themselves together unto him.

27 And he said unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el, Put every man his sword by his side, and go in and out from gate to gate throughout the camp, and ^xslay every man his brother, and every man his companion, and every man his neighbour.

28 And the children of Lē'vī did according to the word of Mō'seṣ : and there fell of the people that day about three thousand men.

30 ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, that Mō'seṣ said unto the people, ^zYe have sinned a great sin : and now I will go up unto the LORD ; ^aperadventure I shall make an atonement for your sin.

31 And Mō'seṣ returned unto the LORD, and said, Oh, this people have sinned a great sin, and have made them gods of gold.

32 Yet now, if thou wilt forgive their sin — ; and if not, ^bblot me, I pray thee, ^cout of thy book which thou hast written.

33 And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, ^dWhosoever hath sinned against me, him will I blot out of my book.

34 Therefore now go, lead the people unto the place of which I have spoken unto thee : ^ebehold, mine Angel shall go before thee : nevertheless ^fin the day when I visit I will visit their sin upon them.

35 And the LORD plagued the people, because ^gthey made the calf, which Aâr'on made.

CHAPTER 33.

¹ The tabernacle moved. ⁹ God talks with Moses. ¹² Moses prays for God's presence.

AND the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, Depart, and go up hence, thou and the people which thou hast brought up out of the land of Ē'gÿpt, unto the land which I swear unto Ā'brā-hām, to Ī'saac, and to Jā'cob, saying, ^aUnto thy seed will I give it :

2 And ^bI will send an angel before thee ; and I will drive out the Cā'nāan-īte, the Ām'ôr-īte, and the Hīt'tite, and the Pēr'iz-zite, the Hī'vite, and the Jēb'u-site :

3 Unto a land flowing with milk and honey : for I will not go up in the midst of thee ; for thou art ^ca stiffnecked people : lest I consume thee in the way.

4 ¶ And when the people heard these evil tidings, they mourned : and ^dno man did put on him his ornaments.

5 For the LORD had said unto Mō'seṣ, Say unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, Ye are a stiffnecked people: I will come up into the midst of thee in a moment, and consume thee: therefore now put off thy ornaments from thee, that I ^e may know what to do unto thee.

6 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el stripped themselves of their ornaments by the mount Hō'reb.

7 And Mō'seṣ took the tabernacle, and pitched it without the camp, afar off from the camp, and called it the Tabernacle of the congregation. And it came to pass, that every one which ^fsought the LORD went out unto the tabernacle of the congregation, which was without the camp.

8 And it came to pass, when Mō'seṣ went out unto the tabernacle, that all the people rose up, and stood every man ^g at his tent door, and looked after Mō'seṣ, until he was gone into the tabernacle.

9 And it came to pass, as Mō'seṣ entered into the tabernacle, the cloudy pillar descended, and stood at the door of the tabernacle, and the LORD ^h talked with Mō'seṣ.

10 And all the people saw the cloudy pillar stand at the tabernacle door: and all the people rose up and worshipped, every man in his tent door.

11 And ⁱ the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. And he turned again into the camp: but ^j his servant Jōsh'u-ā, the son of Nūn, a young man, departed not out of the tabernacle.

12 ¶ And Mō'seṣ said unto the LORD, See, thou sayest unto me, Bring up this people: and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me. Yet thou hast said, ^k I know thee by name, and thou hast also found grace in my sight.

13 Now therefore, I pray thee, ^l if I have found grace in thy sight, ^m shew me now thy way, that I may know thee, that I may find grace in thy sight: and consider that this nation is ⁿ thy people.

14 And he said, ^o My presence shall go with thee, and I will ^p give thee rest.

15 And he said unto him, ^q If thy presence go not with me, carry us not up hence.

16 For wherein shall it be known here that I and thy people have found grace in thy sight? ^r is it not in that thou goest with us? so ^s shall we be separated, I and thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth.

17 And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, ^t I will do this thing also that thou hast spoken: for thou hast found grace in my sight, and I know thee by name.

18 And he said, I beseech thee, shew me ^u thy glory.

19 And he said, ^v I will make all my goodness pass before thee, and I will proclaim the name of the LORD before thee; ^w and will be gracious to whom I will be gracious, and will shew mercy on whom I will shew mercy.

20 And he said, Thou canst not see my face: for ^x there shall no man see me, and live.

21 And the LORD said, Behold, there is a place by me, and thou shalt stand upon a rock:

CHAPTER 34.

1 The tables renewed. 10 God's covenant. 28 Moses brings the tables down from the mount after forty days.

AND the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, ^a Hew thee two tables of stone like unto the first: and ^b I will write upon these tables the words that were in the first tables, which thou brakest.

2 And be ready in the morning, and come up in the morning unto mount Sī'nāi, and present thyself there to me in the top of the mount.

3 And no man shall come up with thee, neither let any man be seen throughout all the mount; neither let the flocks nor herds feed before that mount.

4 ¶ And he hewed two tables of stone like unto the first; and Mō'seṣ rose up early in the morning, and went up unto mount Sī'nāi, as the LORD had commanded him, and took in his hand the two tables of stone.

5 And the LORD descended in the cloud, and stood with him there, and proclaimed the name of the LORD.

6 And the LORD passed by before him, and proclaimed, The LORD, The LORD ^c God, merciful and gracious, longsuffering, and abundant in ^d goodness and ^e truth,

7 ^f Keeping mercy for thousands, ^g forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that ^h will by no means clear the guilty; visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and upon the children's children, unto the third and to the fourth generation.

8 And Mō'seṣ made haste, and bowed his head toward the earth, and worshipped.

9 And he said, If now I have found grace in thy sight, O Lord, let my Lord, I pray thee, go among us; for it is a stiffnecked people; and pardon our iniquity and our sin, and take us for ⁱ thine inheritance.

10 ¶ And he said, Behold, ^j I make a covenant: before all thy people I will ^k do marvels, such as have not been done in all the earth, nor in any nation: and all the people among which thou art shall see the work of the LORD: for it is ^l a terrible thing that I will do with thee.

11 ^m Observe thou that which I command thee this day: behold, I drive out before thee the Ām'ōr-ite, and the Cā'nāan-ite, and the Hīt'tite, and the Pēr'-īz-zite, and the Hī'vite, and the Jēb'u-site.

12 ⁿ Take heed to thyself, lest thou make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land whither thou goest, lest it be for a snare in the midst of thee:

13 But ye shall destroy their altars, break their ^o images, and ^p cut down their groves:

14 For thou shalt worship no other god: for the LORD, whose ^q name is Jealous, is a ^r jealous God:

15 Lest thou make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land, and they go a whoring after their gods, and do sacrifice unto their gods, and one call thee, and thou eat of his sacrifice ;

16 And thou take of their daughters unto thy sons, and their daughters go a whoring after their gods, and make thy sons go a whoring after their gods.

17 Thou shalt make thee no molten gods.

18 ¶ The feast of unleavened bread shalt thou keep. Seven days thou shalt eat unleavened bread, as I commanded thee, in the time of the month Ā'bīb : for in the month Ā'bīb thou camest out from Ē'gypt.

19 All that openeth the matrix is mine ; and every firstling among thy cattle, whether ox or sheep, that is male.

20 But the firstling of an ass thou shalt redeem with a lamb : and if thou redeem him not, then shalt thou break his neck. All the firstborn of thy sons thou shalt redeem. And none shall appear before me empty.

21 ¶ Six days thou shalt work, but on the seventh day thou shalt rest : in earing time and in harvest thou shalt rest.

22 ¶ And thou shalt observe the feast of weeks, of the firstfruits of wheat harvest, and the feast of ingathering at the year's end.

23 ¶ Thrice in the year shall all your menchildren appear before the Lord GOD, the God of Īṣ'ra-el.

24 For I will cast out the nations before thee, and enlarge thy borders : neither shall any man desire thy land, when thou shalt go up to appear before the LORD thy God thrice in the year.

25 Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leaven ; neither shall the sacrifice of the feast of the passover be left unto the morning.

26 The first of the firstfruits of thy land thou shalt bring unto the house of the LORD thy God. Thou shalt not seethe a kid in his mother's milk.

27 And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, Write thou these words : for after the tenor of these words I have made a covenant with thee and with Īṣ'ra-el.

28 And he was there with the LORD forty days and forty nights ; he did neither eat bread, nor drink water. And he wrote upon the tables the words of the covenant, the ten commandments.

29 ¶ And it came to pass, when Mō'seṣ came down from mount Sī'nāi with the two tables of testimony in Mō'seṣ' hand, when he came down from the mount, that Mō'seṣ wist not that the skin of his face shone while he talked with him.

30 And when Aâr'on and all the children of Īṣ'ra-el saw Mō'seṣ, behold, the skin of his face shone ; and they were afraid to come nigh him.

31 And Mō'seṣ called unto them ; and Aâr'on and all the rulers of the congregation returned unto him : and Mō'seṣ talked with them.

32 And afterward all the children of Īṣ'ra-el came nigh : and he gave them in commandment all that the LORD had spoken with him in mount Sī'nāi.

33 And till Mō'seṣ had done speaking with them, he put a veil on his face.

34 But when Mō'seṣ went in before the LORD to

CHAPTER 35.

1 Keeping the sabbath. 4 Tabernacle offerings. 30 Workmen ready.

AND Mō'seṣ gathered all the congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el together, and said unto them, These are the words which the LORD hath commanded, that ye should do them.

2 Six days shall work be done, but on the seventh day there shall be to you an holy day, a sabbath of rest to the LORD : whosoever doeth work therein shall be put to death.

3 Ye shall kindle no fire throughout your habitations upon the sabbath day.

4 ¶ And Mō'seṣ spake unto all the congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, saying, This is the thing which the LORD commanded, saying,

5 Take ye from among you an offering unto the LORD : whosoever is of a willing heart, let him bring it, an offering of the LORD ; gold, and silver, and brass,

6 And blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and goats' hair,

7 And rams' skins dyed red, and badgers' skins, and shittim wood,

8 And oil for the light, and spices for anointing oil, and for the sweet incense,

9 And onyx stones, and stones to be set for the ephod, and for the breastplate.

10 And every wise hearted among you shall come, and make all that the LORD hath commanded ;

11 The tabernacle, his tent, and his covering, his taches, and his boards, his bars, his pillars, and his sockets,

12 The ark, and the staves thereof, with the mercy seat, and the veil of the covering,

13 The table, and his staves, and all his vessels, and the shewbread,

14 The candlestick also for the light, and his furniture, and his lamps, with the oil for the light,

15 And the incense altar, and his staves, and the anointing oil, and the sweet incense, and the hanging for the door at the entering in of the tabernacle,

16 The altar of burnt offering, with his brasen grate, his staves, and all his vessels, the laver and his foot,

17 The hangings of the court, his pillars, and their sockets, and the hanging for the door of the court,

18 The pins of the tabernacle, and the pins of the court, and their cords,

19 The cloths of service, to do service in the holy place, the holy garments for Aâr'on the priest, and the garments of his sons, to minister in the priest's office.

20 ¶ And all the congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el departed from the presence of Mō'seṣ.

21 And they came, every one ^rwhose heart stirred him up, and every one whom his spirit made willing, and they brought the LORD'S offering to the work of the tabernacle of the congregation, and for all his service, and for the holy garments.

22 And they came, both men and women, as many as were willing hearted, and brought bracelets, and earrings, and rings, and tablets, all jewels of gold: and every man that offered offered an offering of gold unto the LORD.

23 And ^severy man, with whom was found blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and goats' hair, and red skins of rams, and badgers' skins, brought them.

24 Every one that did offer an offering of silver and brass brought the LORD'S offering: and every man, with whom was found shittim wood for any work of the service, brought it.

25 And all the women that were ^twise hearted did spin with their hands, and brought that which they had spun, both of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet, and of fine linen.

26 And all the women whose heart stirred them up in wisdom spun goats' hair.

27 And ^uthe rulers brought onyx stones, and stones to be set, for the ephod, and for the breastplate;

28 And ^vspice, and oil for the light, and for the anointing oil, and for the sweet incense.

29 The children of Īṣ'ra-el brought a ^wwilling offering unto the LORD, every man and woman, whose heart made them willing to bring for all manner of work, which the LORD had commanded to be made by the hand of Mō'seṣ.

30 ¶ And Mō'seṣ said unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, See, ^zthe LORD hath called by name Bē-zāl'ē-el the son of Ū'rī, the son of Hūr, of the tribe of Jū'dah;

31 And he hath filled him with the ^zspirit of God, in wisdom, in understanding, and in knowledge, and in all manner of workmanship;

32 And to devise curious works, to work in gold, and in silver, and in brass,

33 And in the cutting of stones, to set them, and in carving of wood, to make any manner of cunning work.

34 And he hath put in his heart that he may teach, both he, and ^zĀ-hō'lī-ab, the son of Ā-hīs'a-mach, of the tribe of Dān.

35 Them hath he ^afilled with wisdom of heart, to work all manner of work, of the engraver, and of the cunning workman, and of the embroiderer, in blue, and in purple, in scarlet, and in fine linen, and of the weaver, even of them that do any work, and of those that devise cunning work.

every wise hearted man, in whose heart the LORD had put wisdom, even every one ^ewhose heart stirred him up to come unto the work to do it:

3 And they received of Mō'seṣ all the offering, which the children of Īṣ'ra-el ^dhad brought for the work of the service of the sanctuary, to make it withal. And they brought yet unto him free offerings every morning.

4 And all the wise men, that wrought all the work of the sanctuary, came every man from his work which they made;

5 ¶ And they spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying, ^eThe people bring much more than enough for the service of the work, which the LORD commanded to make.

6 And Mō'seṣ gave commandment, and they caused it to be proclaimed throughout the camp, saying, Let neither man nor woman make any more work for the offering of the sanctuary. So the people were restrained from bringing.

7 For the stuff they had was sufficient for all the work to make it, and too much.

8 ¶ ^fAnd every wise hearted man among them that wrought the work of the tabernacle made ten curtains of fine twined linen, and blue, and purple, and scarlet: with ^gcherubims of cunning work made he them.

9 The length of one curtain was twenty and eight cubits, and the breadth of one curtain four cubits: the curtains were all of one size.

10 And he coupled the five curtains one unto another: and the other five curtains he coupled one unto another.

11 And he made loops of blue on the edge of one curtain from the selvedge in the coupling: likewise he made in the uttermost side of another curtain, in the coupling of the second.

12 ^hFifty loops made he in one curtain, and fifty loops made he in the edge of the curtain which was in the coupling of the second: the loops held one curtain to another.

13 And he made fifty taches of gold, and coupled the curtains one unto another with the taches: so it became one tabernacle.

14 ¶ And ⁱhe made curtains of goats' hair for the tent over the tabernacle: eleven curtains he made them.

15 The length of one curtain was thirty cubits, and four cubits was the breadth of one curtain: the eleven curtains were of one size.

16 And he coupled five curtains by themselves, and six curtains by themselves.

17 And he made fifty loops upon the uttermost edge of the curtain in the coupling, and fifty loops made he upon the edge of the curtain which coupleth the second.

18 And he made fifty taches of brass to couple the tent together, that it might be one.

19 And ^jhe made a covering for the tent of rams' skins dyed red, and a covering of badgers' skins above that.

20 ¶ And ^khe made boards for the tabernacle of ^lshittim wood, standing up.

21 The length of a board was ten cubits, and the breadth of a board one cubit and a half.

22 One board had two tenons, equally distant one from another: thus did he make for all the boards of the tabernacle.

23 And he made boards for the tabernacle; twenty boards for the south side southward:

24 And forty sockets of silver he made under the twenty boards; two sockets under one board for his two ¹tenons, and two sockets under another board for his two tenons.

25 And for the other side of the tabernacle, which is toward the north corner, he made twenty boards,

26 And their forty sockets of silver; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.

27 And for the sides of the tabernacle ²westward he made six boards.

28 And two boards made he for the corners of the tabernacle in the two sides.

29 And they were ³coupled beneath, and coupled together at the head thereof, to one ring: thus he did to both of them in both the corners.

30 And there were eight boards; and their sockets were sixteen sockets of silver, ⁴under every board two sockets.

31 ¶ And he made ^mbars of shittim wood; five for the boards of the one side of the tabernacle,

32 And five bars for the boards of the other side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the boards of the tabernacle for the sides westward.

33 And he made the middle bar to shoot through the boards from the one end to the other.

34 And he overlaid the boards with gold, and made their rings of gold to be places for the bars, and overlaid the bars with gold.

35 ¶ And he made ⁿa veil of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen: with cherubims made he it of cunning work.

36 And he made thereunto four pillars of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold: their hooks were of gold; and he cast for them four sockets of silver.

37 ¶ And he made an ^ohanging for the tabernacle door of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen, ⁵of needlework;

38 And the five pillars of it with their hooks: and he overlaid their chapiters ^pand their fillets with gold: but their five sockets were of brass.

AND ^aBē-zāl'ē-el made ^bthe ark of shittim wood: two cubits and a half was the length of it, and a cubit and a half the breadth of it, and a cubit and a half the height of it:

2 And he overlaid it with pure gold within and without, and made a crown of gold to it round about.

3 And he cast for it four rings of gold, to be set by the four corners of it; even two rings upon the one side of it, and two rings upon the other side of it.

4 And he made ^cstaves of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold.

5 And he ^dput the staves into the rings by the sides of the ark, to bear the ark.

6 ¶ And he made the ^emercy seat of pure gold: two cubits and a half was the length thereof, and one cubit and a half the breadth thereof.

7 And he made two cherubims of gold, beaten out of one piece made he them, on the two ends of the mercy seat;

8 One cherub ¹on the end on this side, and another cherub ²on the other end on that side: out of the mercy seat made he the cherubims on the two ends thereof.

9 And the ^fcherubims spread out their wings on high, and covered with their wings over the mercy seat, with their faces one to another; even to the mercy seatward were the faces of the cherubims.

10 ¶ And he made ^gthe table of shittim wood: two cubits was the length thereof, and a cubit the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof:

11 And he overlaid it with pure gold, and made thereunto a crown of gold round about.

12 Also he made thereunto a border of an hand-breadth round about; and made a crown of gold for the border thereof round about.

13 And he cast for it four rings of gold, and put the rings upon the four corners that were in the four feet thereof.

14 Over against the border were the rings, the places for the staves to bear the table.

15 And he made the staves of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold to bear the table.

16 And he made the vessels which were upon the table, his ^hdishes, and his spoons, and his bowls, and his covers ³to cover withal, of pure gold.

17 ¶ And he made the ⁱcandlestick of pure gold: of beaten work made he the candlestick; his shaft, and his branch, his bowls, his knops, and his flowers, were of the same:

18 And six branches going out of the sides thereof; three branches of the candlestick out of the one side thereof, and three branches of the candlestick out of the other side thereof:

19 Three bowls made after the fashion of almonds in one branch, a knop and a flower; and three bowls made like almonds in another branch, a knop and a flower: so throughout the six branches going out of the candlestick.

20 And in the candlestick were four bowls made like ^jalmonds, his knops, and his flowers:

21 And a knop under two branches of the same, and a knop under two branches of the same, and a knop under two branches of the same, according to the six branches going out of it.

22 Their knops and their branches were of the same: all of it was one beaten work of pure gold.

23 And he made ^khis seven lamps, and his snuff-ers, and his snuffdishes, of pure gold.

24 Of a talent of pure gold made he it, and all the vessels thereof.

25 ¶ And ^lhe made the incense altar of shittim wood: the length of it was a cubit, and the breadth of it a cubit; it was foursquare; and two cubits was the height of it ; the horns thereof were of the same.

26 And he overlaid it with pure gold, both the top of it, and the sides thereof round about, and the horns of it : also he made unto it a crown of gold round about.

27 And he made two rings of gold for it under the crown thereof, by the two corners of it, upon the two sides thereof, to be places for the staves to bear it withal.

28 And he made the staves of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold.

29 ¶ And he made ⁴the holy anointing oil, and the pure ^mincense of sweet spices, according to the work of the apothecary.

AND he made the altar ^aof burnt offering of shittim wood : five cubits was the length thereof, and five cubits the breadth thereof ; it was foursquare ; and three cubits the height thereof.

2 And he made the horns thereof on the four corners of it ; the horns thereof were of the same : and he overlaid it with brass.

3 And he made all the vessels of the altar, the pots, and the shovels, and the basons, and the flesh-hooks, and the firepans : all the vessels thereof made he of ^bbrass.

4 And he made for the altar a brasen grate of network under the compass thereof beneath unto the midst of it.

5 And he cast four rings for the four ends of the grate of brass, to be places for the staves.

6 And he made the staves of shittim wood, and overlaid them with brass.

7 And he put the staves into the rings on the sides of the altar, to bear it withal ; he made the altar hollow with boards.

8 ¶ And he made ^cthe laver of brass, and the foot of it of brass, of the ¹lookingglasses of the women ²assembling, which assembled at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

9 ¶ And he made ^dthe court : on the south side southward the hangings of the court were of fine twined linen, an hundred cubits :

10 Their pillars were twenty, and their brasen sockets twenty ; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets were of silver.

11 And for the north side the hangings were an hundred cubits, their pillars were twenty, and their sockets of brass twenty ; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of silver.

12 And for the west side were hangings of fifty cubits, their pillars ten, and their sockets ten ; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of silver.

13 And for the east side eastward fifty cubits.

14 The hangings of the one side of the gate were fifteen cubits ; their pillars three, and their sockets three.

15 And for the other side of the court gate, on this hand and that hand, were hangings of fifteen cubits ; their pillars three, and their sockets three.

16 All the hangings of the court round about were of fine twined linen.

17 And the sockets for the pillars were of brass ; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of silver ; and the overlaying of their chapiters of silver ; and all the pillars of the court were filleted with silver.

18 And the hanging for the gate of the court was needlework, of blue, ^eand purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen : and twenty cubits was the length, and the height in the breadth was five cubits, answerable to the hangings of the court.

19 And their pillars were four, and their sockets of brass four ; their hooks of silver, and the overlaying of their chapiters and their fillets of silver.

20 And all the ^fpins of the tabernacle, and of the court round about, were of brass.

21 ¶ This is the sum of the tabernacle, even of ^gthe tabernacle of testimony, as it was counted, according to the commandment of Mō'seš, for the service of the Lē'vītes, by ^hthe hand of Īth'a-mār, son to Aâr'on the priest.

22 And ⁱBē-zāl'ē-el the son of Ū'rī, the son of Hūr, of the tribe of Jū'dah, made all that the LORD commanded Mō'seš.

23 And with him was Ā-hō'lī-ab, son of Ā-hīs'a-mach, of the tribe of Dān, an engraver, and a cunning workman, and an embroiderer in blue, and in purple, and in scarlet, and fine linen.

24 All the gold that was occupied for the work in all the work of the holy place, even the gold of the offering, was twenty and nine talents, and seven hundred and thirty shekels, after ^jthe shekel of the sanctuary.

25 And the silver of them that were numbered of the congregation was an hundred talents, and a thousand seven hundred and threescore and fifteen shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary :

26 A ^kbekah for ³every man, that is, half a shekel, after the shekel of the sanctuary, for every one that went to be numbered, from twenty years old and upward, for ^lsix hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty men.

27 And of the hundred talents of silver were cast ^mthe sockets of the sanctuary, and the sockets of the veil ; an hundred sockets of the hundred talents, a talent for a socket.

28 And of the thousand seven hundred seventy and five shekels he made hooks for the pillars, and overlaid their chapiters, and filleted them.

29 And the brass of the offering was seventy talents, and two thousand and four hundred shekels.

30 And therewith he made the sockets to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the brasen altar, and the brasen grate for it, and all the vessels of the altar,

31 And the sockets of the court round about, and the sockets of the court gate, and all the pins of the tabernacle, and all the ⁿpins of the court round about.

CHAPTER 39.

¹ The priestly vestments. ³² Moses views and approves.

AND of ^athe blue, and purple, and scarlet, they made ^bcloths of service, to do service in the holy place, and made the holy garments for Aâr'ôn; ^c as the LORD commanded Mō'seš.

2 And ^ahe made the ephod of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen.

3 And they did beat the gold into thin plates, and cut it into wires, to work it in the blue, and in the purple, and in the scarlet, and in the fine linen, with cunning work.

4 They made shoulderpieces for it, to couple it together: by the two edges was it coupled together.

5 And the ^ecurious girdle of his ephod, that was upon it, was of the same, according to the work thereof; of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen; as the LORD commanded Mō'seš.

6 ¶ And ^fthey wrought ^gonyx stones inclosed in ouches of gold, graven, as signets are graven, with the ^hnames of the children of Īš'ra-el.

7 And he put them on the shoulders of the ephod, that they should be stones for a ⁱmemorial to the children of Īš'ra-el; as the LORD commanded Mō'seš.

8 ¶ And ^jhe made the breastplate of cunning work, like the work of the ephod; of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen.

9 It was foursquare; they made the breastplate double: a span was the length thereof, and a span the breadth thereof, being doubled.

10 And ^kthey set in it four rows of stones: the first row was a ^lsardius, a ^mtopaz, and a ⁿcarbuncle: this was the first row.

11 And the second row, an ^oemerald, a ^psapphire, and a ^qdiamond.

12 And the third row, a ^rligure, an ^sagate, and an ^tamethyst.

13 And the fourth row, a ^uberyl, an ^vonyx, and a ^wjasper: they were inclosed in ouches of gold in their inclosings.

14 And the stones were according to the names of the children of Īš'ra-el, twelve, according to their names, like the engravings of a signet, every one with his name, according to the twelve tribes.

15 And they made upon the breastplate chains at the ends, of wreathen work of pure gold.

16 And they made two ouches of gold, and two gold rings; and put the two rings in the two ends of the breastplate.

17 And they put the two wreathen chains of gold in the two rings on the ends of the breastplate.

18 And the two ends of the two wreathen chains they fastened in the two ouches, and put them on the shoulderpieces of the ephod, before it.

19 And they made two rings of gold, and put them on the two ends of the breastplate, upon the border of it, which was on the side of the ephod inward.

20 And they made two other golden rings, and put them on the two sides of the ephod underneath, toward the forepart of it, over against the other coupling thereof, above the curious girdle of the ephod.

21 And they did bind the breastplate by his rings unto the rings of the ephod with a lace of blue, that it might be above the curious girdle of the ephod, and that the breastplate might not be loosed from the ephod; as the LORD commanded Mō'seš.

22 ¶ And ^che made the robe of the ephod of woven work, all of blue.

23 And there was an hole in the midst of the robe, as the hole of an habergeon, with a band round about the hole, that it should not rend.

24 And they made upon the hems of the robe pomegranates of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and twined linen.

25 And they made ^ubells of pure gold, and put the bells between the pomegranates upon the hem of the robe, round about between the pomegranates;

26 A bell and a pomegranate, a bell and a pomegranate, round about the hem of the robe to minister in; as the LORD commanded Mō'seš.

27 ¶ And ^vthey made coats of fine linen of woven work for Aâr'ôn, and for his sons,

28 And ^wa mitre of fine linen, and goodly bonnets of fine linen, and ^xlinen breeches of fine twined linen,

29 And a girdle of fine twined linen, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, of needlework; as the LORD commanded Mō'seš.

30 ¶ And they made the plate of the holy crown of pure gold, and wrote upon it a writing, like to the engravings of a signet, ^yHOLINESS TO THE LORD.

31 And they tied unto it a lace of blue, to fasten it on high upon the mitre; as the LORD commanded Mō'seš.

32 ¶ Thus was all the work of the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation finished: and the children of Īš'ra-el did ^zaccording to all that the LORD commanded Mō'seš, so did they.

33 ¶ And they brought ^athe tabernacle unto Mō'seš, the tent, and all his furniture, his taches, his boards, his bars, and his pillars, and his sockets,

34 And the covering of rams' skins dyed red, and the covering of badgers' skins, and the veil of the covering,

35 The ark of the testimony, and the staves thereof, and the mercy seat,

36 The table, and all the vessels thereof, and the shewbread,

37 The ^bpure candlestick, with the lamps thereof, even with the lamps ^cto be set in order, and all the vessels thereof, and the oil for light,

38 And the golden altar, and the anointing oil, and ¹³the sweet incense, and the hanging for the tabernacle door,

39 The ^dbrassen altar, and his grate of brass, his staves, and all his vessels, the laver and his foot,

40 The hangings of the court, his pillars, ^eand his sockets, and the hanging for the court gate, his cords, and his pins, and all the vessels of the service of the tabernacle, for the tent of the congregation,

41 The cloths of service to do service in the holy place, and the holy garments for Aâr'ôn the priest, and his sons' garments, to minister in the priest's office.

42 According to all that the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ, so the children of Iṣ'ra-el ^fmade all the work.

43 And Mō'seṣ did look upon all the work, and, behold, they had done it as the LORD had commanded, even so had they done it: and Mō'seṣ ^gblessed them.

CHAPTER 40.

1 Rearing of the tabernacle. 13 Sanctification of Aaron and his sons. 34 The covering cloud.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,
2 On the first day of the ^afirst month shalt thou set up ^bthe tabernacle of the tent of the congregation.

3 And ^cthou shalt put therein the ark of the testimony, and cover the ark with the veil.

4 And ^dthou shalt bring in the table, and set ^ein order ¹the things that are to be set in order upon it; and thou shalt bring in the candlestick, and light the lamps thereof.

5 And thou shalt set the ^faltar of gold for the incense before the ark of the testimony, and put the hanging of the door to the tabernacle.

6 And thou shalt set the altar of the burnt offering before the door of the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation.

7 And ^gthou shalt set the laver between the tent of the congregation and the altar, and shalt put water therein.

8 And thou shalt set up the court round about, and hang up the hanging at the court gate.

9 And thou shalt take ^hthe anointing oil, and anoint the tabernacle, and all that is therein, and shalt hallow it, and all the vessels thereof: and it shall be holy.

10 And thou shalt anoint the altar of the burnt offering, and all his vessels, and sanctify the altar: and ⁱit shall be an altar ²most holy.

11 And thou shalt anoint the laver and his foot, and sanctify it.

12 And ^jthou shalt bring Aâr'ṓn and his sons unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and wash them with water.

13 And thou shalt put upon Aâr'ṓn the holy garments, ^kand anoint him, and sanctify him; that he may minister unto me in the priest's office.

14 And thou shalt bring ^lhis sons, and clothe them with coats:

15 And thou shalt anoint them, as thou didst anoint their father, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office: for their anointing shall surely be ^man everlasting priesthood throughout their generations.

16 Thus did Mō'seṣ: according to all that the LORD commanded him, so did he.

17 ¶ And it came to pass in the first month in the second year, on the first day of the month, that the ⁿtabernacle was reared up.

18 And Mō'seṣ reared up the tabernacle, and fastened his sockets, and set up the boards thereof, and put in the bars thereof, and reared up his pillars.

19 And he spread abroad the tent over the tabernacle, and put the covering of the tent above upon it; as the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ.

20 ¶ And he took and put ³the testimony into the ark, and set the staves on the ark, and put the mercy seat above upon the ark:

21 And he brought the ark into the tabernacle, and ^pset up the veil of the covering, and covered the ark of the testimony; as the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ.

22 ¶ And ^qhe put the table in the tent of the congregation, upon the side of the tabernacle northward, without the veil.

23 And he set the bread in order upon it before the LORD; as the LORD had commanded Mō'seṣ.

24 ¶ And ^rhe put the candlestick in the tent of the congregation, over against the table, on the side of the tabernacle southward.

25 And ^she lighted the lamps before the LORD; as the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ.

26 ¶ And ^the put the golden altar in the tent of the congregation before the veil:

27 And ^uhe burnt sweet incense thereon; as the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ.

28 ¶ And ^vhe set up the hanging at the door of the tabernacle.

29 And he put the altar of burnt offering by the door of the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation, and ^woffered upon it the burnt offering and the meat offering; as the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ.

30 ¶ And ^xhe set the laver between the tent of the congregation and the altar, and put water there, to wash withal.

31 And Mō'seṣ and Aâr'ṓn and his sons washed their hands and their feet thereat:

32 When they went into the tent of the congregation, and when they came near unto the altar, they washed; ^yas the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ.

33 And ^zhe reared up the court round about the tabernacle and the altar, and set up the hanging of the court gate. So Mō'seṣ finished the work.

34 ¶ Then ^aa cloud covered the tent of the congregation, and the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle.

35 And Mō'seṣ ^bwas not able to enter into the tent of the congregation, because the cloud abode thereon, and the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle.

36 And ^cwhen the cloud was taken up from over the tabernacle, the children of Iṣ'ra-el ⁴went onward in all their journeys:

37 But ^dif the cloud were not taken up, then they journeyed not till the day that it was taken up.

38 For ^ethe cloud of the LORD was upon the tabernacle by day, and fire was on it by night, in the sight of all the house of Iṣ'ra-el, throughout all their journeys.

LEVITICUS.

CHAPTER 1.

AND the LORD ^acalled unto Mō'sēs, and spake ^bunto him out of the tabernacle of the congregation, saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, ^cIf any man of you bring an offering unto the LORD, ye shall bring your offering of the cattle, even of the herd, and of the flock.

3 If his offering be a burnt sacrifice of the herd, let him offer a male ^dwithout blemish: he shall offer it of his own voluntary will at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the LORD.

4 And ^ehe shall put his hand upon the head of the burnt offering; and it shall be ^faccepted for him to ^gmake atonement for him.

5 And he shall kill the ^hbullock before the LORD: ⁱand the priests, Aâr'on's sons, shall bring the blood, and ^jsprinkle the blood round about upon the altar that is by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

6 And he shall flay the burnt offering, and cut it into his pieces.

7 And the sons of Aâr'on the priest shall put fire upon the altar, and ^klay the wood in order upon the fire:

8 And the priests, Aâr'on's sons, shall lay the parts, the head, and the fat, in order upon the wood that is on the fire which is upon the altar:

9 But his inwards and his legs shall he wash in water: and the priest shall burn all on the altar, to be a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a ^lsweet savour unto the LORD.

10 ¶ And if his offering be of the flocks, namely, of the sheep, or of the goats, for a burnt sacrifice; he shall bring it a male without blemish.

11 And he shall kill it on the side of the altar northward before the LORD: and the priests, Aâr'on's sons, shall sprinkle his blood round about upon the altar.

12 And he shall cut it into his pieces, with his head and his fat: and the priest shall lay them in order on the wood that is on the fire which is upon the altar:

13 But he shall wash the inwards and the legs with water: and the priest shall bring it all, and burn it upon the altar: it is a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD.

14 ¶ And if the burnt sacrifice for his offering to the LORD be of fowls, then he shall bring his offering of ^mturtledoves, or of young pigeons.

15 And the priest shall bring it unto the altar, and ⁿwring off his head, and burn it on the altar; and the blood thereof shall be wrung out at the side of the altar:

16 And he shall pluck away his crop with ^ohis feathers, and cast it beside the altar on the east part, by the place of the ashes:

CHAPTER 2.

¹ The law of meat offering. ¹³ Salt of the offering.

AND when any will offer ^aa meat offering unto the LORD, his offering shall be of fine flour; and he shall pour oil upon it, and put frankincense thereon:

2 And he shall bring it to Aâr'on's sons the priests: and he shall take thereout his handful of the flour thereof, and of the oil thereof, with all the frankincense thereof; and the priest shall burn ^bthe memorial of it upon the altar, to be an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD:

3 And ^cthe remnant of the meat offering shall be Aâr'on's and his sons': ^d*it is* a thing most holy of the offerings of the LORD made by fire.

4 ¶ And if thou bring an oblation of a meat offering baken in the oven, it shall be unleavened cakes of fine flour mingled with oil, or unleavened wafers ^eanointed with oil.

5 ¶ And if thy oblation be a meat offering baken ¹in a pan, it shall be of fine flour unleavened, mingled with oil.

6 Thou shalt part it in pieces, and pour oil thereon: it is a meat offering.

7 ¶ And if thy oblation be a meat offering baken in the fryingpan, it shall be made of fine flour with oil.

8 And thou shalt bring the meat offering that is made of these things unto the LORD: and when it is presented unto the priest, he shall bring it unto the altar.

9 And the priest shall take from the meat offering a memorial thereof, and shall burn it upon the altar: it is an ^foffering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD.

10 And that which is left of the meat offering shall be Aâr'on's and his sons': it is a thing most holy of the offerings of the LORD ^gmade by fire.

11 No meat offering, which ye shall bring unto the LORD, shall be made with ^hleaven: for ye shall burn no leaven, nor any honey, in any offering of the LORD made by fire.

12 ¶ As ⁱfor the oblation of the firstfruits, ye shall offer them unto the LORD: but they shall not ²be burnt on the altar for a sweet savour.

13 And every oblation of thy meat offering shalt ^jthou season with salt; neither shalt thou suffer the ^ksalt of the covenant of thy God to be lacking from thy meat offering: with ^lall thine offerings thou shalt offer salt.

14 And if thou offer a meat offering of thy ^mfirstfruits unto the LORD, thou ⁿshalt offer for the meat offering of thy firstfruits green ears of corn dried by the fire, even corn beaten out of ^o full ears.

15 And thou shalt put oil upon it, and lay frankincense thereon : it is a meat offering.

16 And the priest shall burn the memorial of it, part of the beaten corn thereof, and part of the oil thereof, with all the frankincense thereof : it is an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

CHAPTER 3.

AND if his oblation be a ^a sacrifice of peace offering, if he offer it of the herd ; whether it be a male or female, he shall offer it without blemish before the LORD.

2 And ^b he shall lay his hand upon the head of his offering, and kill it at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation : and Aâr'qn's sons the priests shall sprinkle the blood upon the altar round about.

3 And he shall offer of the sacrifice of the peace offering an offering made by fire unto the LORD ; the ¹ fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards,

4 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them, which is by the flanks, and the ² caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away.

5 And Aâr'qn's sons ^c shall burn it on the altar upon the burnt sacrifice, which is upon the wood that is on the fire : it is an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD.

6 ¶ And if his offering for a sacrifice of peace offering unto the LORD be of the flock ; male or female, he shall offer it ^d without blemish.

7 If he offer a lamb for his offering, then shall he offer it before the LORD.

8 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of his offering, and kill it before the tabernacle of the congregation : and Aâr'qn's sons shall sprinkle the blood thereof round about upon the altar.

9 And he shall offer of the sacrifice of the peace offering an offering made by fire unto the LORD ; the fat thereof, and the whole rump, it shall he take off hard by the backbone ; and the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards,

10 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away.

11 And the priest shall burn it upon the altar : it is ^e the food of the offering made by fire unto the LORD.

12 ¶ And if his offering be a goat, then he shall offer it before the LORD.

13 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of it, and kill it before the tabernacle of the congregation : and the sons of Aâr'qn shall sprinkle the blood thereof upon the altar round about.

14 And he shall offer thereof his offering, even an offering made by fire unto the LORD ; the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards,

CHAPTER 4.

¹ The law of sin offerings. ¹³ Made for the congregation.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,
2 Speak unto the children of İş'ra-el, saying,
^a If a soul shall sin through ignorance against any of the commandments of the LORD concerning things which ought not to be done, and shall do against any of them :

3 If ^b the priest that is anointed do sin according to the sin of the people ; then let him bring for his sin, which he hath sinned, a young ^c bullock without blemish unto the LORD for a sin offering.

4 And he shall bring the bullock unto ^d the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the LORD ; and shall lay his hand upon the bullock's head, and kill the bullock before the LORD.

5 And the priest that is anointed shall ^e take of the bullock's blood, and bring it to the tabernacle of the congregation :

6 And the priest shall dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle of the blood seven times before the ^f LORD, before the veil of the sanctuary.

7 And the priest shall ^g put some of the blood upon the horns of the altar of sweet incense before the LORD, which is in the tabernacle of the congregation ; and shall pour ^h all the blood of the bullock at the bottom of the altar of the burnt offering, which is at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

8 And he shall take off from it all the fat of the bullock for the sin offering ; the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards,

9 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away,

10 As it was taken off from the bullock of the sacrifice of peace offerings : and the priest shall burn them upon the altar of the burnt offering.

11 And ⁱ the skin of the bullock, and all his flesh, with his head, and with his legs, and his inwards, and his dung,

12 Even the whole bullock shall he carry forth ¹ without the camp unto a clean place, ^j where the ashes are poured out, and ^k burn him on the wood with fire : ² where the ashes are poured out shall he be burnt.

13 ¶ And ^l if the whole congregation of İş'ra-el sin through ignorance, ^m and the thing be hid from the eyes of the assembly, and they have done somewhat against any of the commandments of the LORD concerning things which should not be done, and are guilty ;

14 When the sin, which they have sinned against it, is known, then the congregation shall offer a young bullock for the sin, and bring him before the tabernacle of the congregation.

15 And the elders of the congregation shall lay their hands upon the head of the bullock before the LORD: and the bullock shall be killed before the LORD.

16 And the priest that is anointed shall bring of the bullock's blood to the tabernacle of the congregation:

17 And the priest shall dip his finger in some of the blood, and sprinkle it seven times before the LORD, even before the veil.

18 And he shall put some of the blood upon the horns of the altar which is before the LORD, that is in the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall pour out all the blood at the bottom of the altar of the burnt offering, which is at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

19 And he shall take all his fat from him, and burn it upon the altar.

20 And he shall do with the bullock as he did with the bullock for a sin offering, so shall he do with this: and the priest shall make an atonement for them, and it shall be forgiven them.

21 And he shall carry forth the bullock without the camp, and burn him as he burned the first bullock: it is a sin offering for the congregation.

22 ¶ When a ruler hath sinned, and done somewhat through ignorance against any of the commandments of the LORD his God concerning things which should not be done, and is guilty;

23 Or if his sin, wherein he hath sinned, come to his knowledge; he shall bring his offering, a kid of the goats, a male without blemish:

24 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of the goat, and kill it in the place where they kill the burnt offering before the LORD: it is a sin offering.

25 And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering with his finger, and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering, and shall pour out his blood at the bottom of the altar of burnt offering.

26 And he shall burn all his fat upon the altar, as the fat of the sacrifice of peace offerings: and the priest shall make an atonement for him as concerning his sin, and it shall be forgiven him.

27 ¶ And if any one of the common people sin through ignorance, while he doeth somewhat against any of the commandments of the LORD concerning things which ought not to be done, and be guilty;

28 Or if his sin, which he hath sinned, come to his knowledge: then he shall bring his offering, a kid of the goats, a female without blemish, for his sin which he hath sinned.

29 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of the sin offering, and slay the sin offering in the place of the burnt offering.

30 And the priest shall take of the blood thereof with his finger, and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering, and shall pour out all the blood thereof at the bottom of the altar.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Law of trespass offerings. 14 Sacrilege. 17 Ignorance.

AND if a soul sin, and hear the voice of swearing, and is a witness, whether he hath seen or known of it; if he do not utter it, then he shall bear his iniquity.

2 Or if a soul touch any unclean thing, whether it be a carcase of an unclean beast, or a carcase of unclean cattle, or the carcase of unclean creeping things, and if it be hidden from him; he also shall be unclean, and guilty.

3 Or if he touch the uncleanness of man, whatsoever uncleanness it be that a man shall be defiled withal, and it be hid from him; when he knoweth of it, then he shall be guilty.

4 Or if a soul swear, pronouncing with his lips to do evil, or to do good, whatsoever it be that a man shall pronounce with an oath, and it be hid from him; when he knoweth of it, then he shall be guilty in one of these.

5 And it shall be, when he shall be guilty in one of these things, that he shall confess that he hath sinned in that thing:

6 And he shall bring his trespass offering unto the LORD for his sin which he hath sinned, a female from the flock, a lamb or a kid of the goats, for a sin offering; and the priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his sin.

7 And if he be not able to bring a lamb, then he shall bring for his trespass, which he hath committed, two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, unto the LORD; one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering.

8 And he shall bring them unto the priest, who shall offer that which is for the sin offering first, and wring off his head from his neck, but shall not divide it asunder:

9 And he shall sprinkle of the blood of the sin offering upon the side of the altar; and the rest of the blood shall be wrung out at the bottom of the altar : it is a sin offering.

10 And he shall offer the second for a burnt offering, according to the ^j3 manner : and the priest shall make an atonement for him for his sin which he hath sinned, and it shall be forgiven him.

11 ¶ But if he be not able to bring two turtle-doves, or two young pigeons, then he that sinned shall bring for his offering the tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a sin offering ; ^k he shall put no oil upon it, neither shall he put any frankincense thereon : for it is a sin offering.

12 Then shall he bring it to the priest, and the priest shall take his handful of it, even a memorial thereof, and burn it on the altar, according ^l to the offerings made by fire unto the LORD : it is a sin offering.

13 And the priest shall make an atonement for him as touching his sin that he hath sinned in one of these, and it shall be forgiven him : and the remnant shall be the priest's, as a meat offering.

14 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

15 If ^m a soul commit a trespass, and sin through ignorance, in the holy things of the LORD ; then ⁿ he shall bring for his trespass unto the LORD a ram without blemish out of the flocks, with thy estimation by shekels of silver, after ^o the shekel of the sanctuary, for a trespass offering :

16 And he shall make amends for the harm that he hath done in the holy thing, and ^p shall add the fifth part thereto, and give it unto the priest : ^q and the priest shall make an atonement for him with the ram of the trespass offering, and it shall be forgiven him.

17 ¶ And if a soul sin, and commit any of these things which are forbidden to be done by the commandments of the LORD ; ^r though he wist it not, yet is he guilty, and shall bear his iniquity.

18 And he shall bring a ram without blemish out of the flock, with thy estimation, for a trespass offering, unto the priest : and the priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his ignorance wherein he erred and wist it not, and it shall be forgiven him.

19 It is a trespass ^s offering : ^t he hath certainly trespassed against the LORD.

CHAPTER 6.

2 If a soul sin, and ^a commit a trespass against the LORD, and ^b lie unto his neighbour in that ^c which was delivered him to keep, or in ¹ fellowship, or in a thing taken away by violence, or hath ^d deceived his neighbour ;

3 Or ^e have found that which was lost, and lieth concerning it, and ^f sweareth falsely ; in any of all these that a man doeth, sinning therein :

4 Then it shall be, because he hath sinned, and is guilty, that he shall restore that which he took violently away, or the thing which he hath deceitfully gotten, or that which was delivered him to keep, or the lost thing which he found,

7 And the priest shall make an atonement for him before the LORD : and it shall be forgiven him for any thing of all that he hath done in trespassing therein.

8 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

9 Command Aâr'qon and his sons, saying, This is the law of the burnt offering : It is the burnt offering, ³ because of the burning upon the altar all night unto the morning, and the fire of the altar shall be burning in it.

10 And ⁱ the priest shall put on his linen garment, and his linen breeches shall he put upon his flesh, and take up the ashes which the fire hath consumed with the burnt offering on the altar, and he shall put them beside the altar.

11 And he shall put off his garments, and put on other garments, and carry forth the ashes without the camp unto a clean place.

12 And the fire upon the altar shall be burning in it ; it shall not be put out : and the priest shall burn wood on it every morning, and lay the burnt offering in order upon it ; and he shall burn thereon the fat of the peace offerings.

13 The ^j fire shall ever be burning upon the altar ; it shall never go out.

14 ¶ And ^k this is the law of the meat offering : the sons of Aâr'qon shall offer it before the LORD, before the altar.

15 And he shall take of it his handful, of the flour of the meat offering, and of the oil thereof, and all the frankincense which is upon the meat offering, and shall burn it upon the altar for a sweet savour, even the memorial of it, unto the LORD.

16 And the remainder thereof shall Aâr'qon and his sons eat : ^l with unleavened bread shall it be eaten in the holy place ; in the court of the tabernacle of the congregation they shall eat it.

17 It ^m shall not be baked with leaven. ⁿ I have given it unto them for their portion of my offerings made by fire ; ^o it is most holy, as is the sin offering, and as the trespass offering.

18 ^p All the males among the children of Aâr'qon shall eat of it. ^q It shall be a statute for ever in your generations concerning the offerings of the LORD made by fire : ^r every one that toucheth them shall be holy.

19 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

20 This ^s is the offering of Aâr'qon and of his sons, which they shall offer unto the LORD in the day when he is anointed ; the tenth part of an ^t ephah of fine flour for a meat offering perpetual, half of it in the morning, and half thereof at night.

21 In a pan it shall be made with oil ; and when it is baken, thou shalt bring it in: and the baken pieces of the meat offering shalt thou offer for a sweet savour unto the LORD.

22 And the priest of his sons that is anointed in his stead shall offer it: it is a statute for ever unto the LORD; it shall be wholly burnt.

23 For every meat offering for the priest shall be wholly burnt: it shall not be eaten.

24 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

25 Speak unto Aâr'on and to his sons, saying, This is the law of the sin offering: in the place where the burnt offering is killed shall the sin offering be killed before the LORD: it is most holy.

26 The priest that offereth it for sin shall eat it: in the holy place shall it be eaten, in the court of the tabernacle of the congregation.

27 Whatsoever shall touch the flesh thereof shall be holy: and when there is sprinkled of the blood thereof upon any garment, thou shalt wash that whereon it was sprinkled in the holy place.

28 But the earthen vessel wherein it is sodden shall be broken: and if it be sodden in a brasen pot, it shall be both scoured, and rinsed in water.

29 All the males among the priests shall eat thereof: it is most holy.

30 And no sin offering, whereof any of the blood is brought into the tabernacle of the congregation to reconcile withal in the holy place, shall be eaten: it shall be burnt in the fire.

CHAPTER 7.

1 Laws of the various offerings. 12 Thanksgiving. 28 The priests' portion.

LIKEWISE a this is the law of the trespass offering: it is most holy.

2 In c the place where they kill the burnt offering shall they kill the trespass offering: and the blood thereof shall he sprinkle round about upon the altar.

3 And he shall offer of it d all the fat thereof; the rump, and the fat that covereth the inwards,

4 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them, which is by the flanks, and the caul that is above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away:

5 And the priest shall burn them upon the altar for an e offering made by fire unto the LORD: it is a trespass offering.

6 f Every male among the priests shall eat thereof: it shall be eaten in the holy place: it is most holy.

7 As the sin offering is, so is h the trespass offering: there is one law for them: the priest that maketh atonement therewith shall have it.

8 And the priest that offereth any man's burnt offering, even the priest shall have to himself the skin of the burnt offering which he hath offered.

9 And i all the meat offering that is baken in the oven, and all that is dressed in the fryingpan, and in the pan, shall be the j priest's that offereth it.

10 And every meat offering, mingled with oil, and dry, shall all the sons of Aâr'on have, one as much as another.

11 And k this is the law of the sacrifice of peace offerings, which he shall offer unto the LORD.

15 And o the flesh of the sacrifice of his peace offerings for thanksgiving shall be eaten the same day that it is offered; he shall not leave any of it until the morning.

16 But p if the sacrifice of his offering be a vow, or a voluntary offering, it shall be eaten the same day that he offereth his sacrifice: and on the morrow also the remainder of it shall be eaten:

17 But the remainder of the flesh of the sacrifice on the third day shall be burnt with fire.

18 And if any of the flesh of the sacrifice of his peace offerings be eaten at all on the third day, it shall not be accepted, neither shall it be q imputed unto him that offereth it: it shall be an r abomination, and the soul that eateth of it shall bear his iniquity.

22 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

23 Speak unto the children of İş'ra-el, saying, Ye shall eat no manner of fat, of ox, or of sheep, or of goat.

24 And the fat of the beast that dieth of itself, and the fat of that which is torn with beasts, may be used in any other use: but ye shall in no wise eat of it.

27 Whatsoever soul it be that eateth any manner of blood, even that soul shall be cut off from his people.

28 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

29 Speak unto the children of İş'ra-el, saying, He that offereth the sacrifice of his peace offerings unto the LORD shall bring his oblation unto the LORD of the sacrifice of his peace offerings.

30 His own hands shall bring the offerings of the LORD made by fire, the fat with the breast, it shall he bring, that ^athe breast may be waved for a wave offering before the LORD.

31 And ^bthe priest shall burn the fat upon the altar: but the breast shall be Aâr'ôn's and his sons'.

32 And ^cthe right shoulder shall ye give unto the priest for an heave offering of the sacrifices of your peace offerings.

33 He among the sons of Aâr'ôn, that offereth the blood of the peace offerings, and the fat, shall have the right shoulder for his part.

34 For ^dthe wave breast and the heave shoulder have I taken of the children of Īš'ra-el from off the sacrifices of their peace offerings, and have given them unto Aâr'ôn the priest and unto his sons by a statute for ever from among the children of Īš'ra-el.

35 ¶ This is the portion of the anointing of Aâr'ôn, and of the anointing of his sons, out of the offerings of the LORD made by fire, in the day when he presented them to minister unto the LORD in the priest's office;

36 Which the LORD commanded to be given them of the children of Īš'ra-el, ^ein the day that he anointed them, by a statute ^ffor ever throughout their generations.

37 This is the law ^gof the burnt offering, of the meat offering, ^hand of the sin offering, and of the trespass offering, ⁱand of the consecrations, and of the sacrifice of the peace offerings; golden plate, the holy crown; as the LORD ^ocommanded Mō'seš.

10 And ^hMō'seš took the anointing oil, and anointed the tabernacle and all that was therein, and sanctified them.

11 And he sprinkled thereof upon the altar seven times, and anointed the altar and all his vessels, both the laver and his foot, to sanctify them.

12 And he ⁱpoured of the anointing oil upon Aâr'ôn's head, and anointed him, to sanctify him.

13 And ^jMō'seš brought Aâr'ôn's sons, and put coats upon them, and girded them with girdles, and ^lput bonnets upon them; as the LORD commanded Mō'seš.

14 And ^khe brought the bullock for the sin offering: and Aâr'ôn and his sons ^llaid their hands upon the head of the bullock for the sin offering.

15 And he slew it; ^mand Mō'seš took the blood, and put it upon the horns of the altar round about with his finger, and purified the altar, and poured the blood at the bottom of the altar, and sanctified it, to make reconciliation upon it.

16 And ⁿhe took all the fat that was upon the inwards, and the caul above the liver, and the two kidneys, and their fat, and Mō'seš burned it upon the altar.

17 But the bullock, and his hide, his flesh, and his dung, he burnt with fire without the camp; as the LORD ^ocommanded Mō'seš.

18 ¶ And ^phe brought the ram for the burnt offering: and Aâr'ôn and his sons laid their hands upon the head of the ram.

19 And he killed it; and Mō'seš sprinkled the blood upon the altar round about.

20 And he cut the ram into pieces; and Mō'seš burnt the head, and the pieces, and the fat.

21 And he washed the inwards and the legs in water; and Mō'seš burnt the whole ram upon the altar: it was a burnt sacrifice for a sweet savour, and an offering made by fire unto the LORD; ^qas the LORD commanded Mō'seš.

22 ¶ And ^rhe brought the other ram, the ram of consecration: and Aâr'ôn and his sons laid their hands upon the head of the ram.

23 And he slew it; and Mō'seš took of the blood of it, and put it upon ^sthe tip of Aâr'ôn's right ear, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot.

24 And he brought Aâr'ôn's sons, and Mō'seš put of the blood upon the tip of their right ear, and upon the thumbs of their right hands, and upon the great toes of their right feet: and Mō'seš ^tsprinkled the blood upon the altar round about.

25 And ^uhe took the fat, and the rump, and all the fat that was upon the inwards, and the caul above the liver, and the two kidneys, and their fat, and the right shoulder:

26 And ^vout of the basket of unleavened bread, that was before the LORD, he took one unleavened cake, and a cake of oiled bread, and one wafer, and put them on the fat, and upon the right shoulder:

27 And he put all ^wupon Aâr'ôn's hands, and upon his sons' hands, and waved them for a wave offering before the LORD.

28 And ^zMō'seş took them from off their hands, and burnt them on the altar upon the burnt offering: they were consecrations for ^ya sweet savour: it is an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

29 And Mō'seş took the breast, and waved it for a wave offering before the LORD: for of the ram of consecration it was ^zMō'seş' part; as the LORD commanded Mō'seş.

30 And ^aMō'seş took of the anointing oil, and of the blood which was upon the altar, and sprinkled it upon Aâr'qn, and upon his garments, and upon his sons, and upon his sons' garments with him; and sanctified Aâr'qn, and his garments, and his sons, and his sons' garments with him.

31 ¶ And Mō'seş said unto Aâr'qn and to his sons, ^bBoil the flesh at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and there eat it with the bread that is in the basket of consecrations, as I commanded, saying, Aâr'qn and his sons shall eat it.

32 And ^cthat which remaineth of the flesh and of the bread shall ye burn with fire.

33 And ye shall not go out of the door of the tabernacle of the congregation in seven days, until the days of your consecration be at an end: for ^dseven days shall he consecrate you.

34 As he ^ehath done this day, so the LORD hath commanded to do, to make an atonement for you.

35 Therefore shall ye abide at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation day and night seven days, and ^fkeep the charge of the LORD, that ye die not: for so I am commanded.

36 So Aâr'qn and his sons did all things which the LORD commanded by the hand of Mō'seş.

CHAPTER 9.

¹ First offerings of Aaron. ²³ The people blessed. ²⁴ Fire comes upon the altar.

AND ^ait came to pass on the eighth day, that Mō'seş called Aâr'qn and his sons, and the elders of Īş'ra-el;

2 And he said unto Aâr'qn, ^bTake thee a young calf for a sin offering, and ^ca ram for a burnt offering, without blemish, and offer them before the LORD.

3 And unto the children of Īş'ra-el thou shalt speak, saying, ^dTake ye a kid of the goats for a sin offering; and a calf and a lamb, both of the first year, without blemish, for a burnt offering;

4 Also a bullock and a ram for peace offerings, to sacrifice before the LORD; and a ^emeat offering mingled with oil: for ^fto day the LORD will appear unto you.

5 ¶ And they brought that which Mō'seş commanded before the tabernacle of the congregation: and all the congregation drew near and stood before the LORD.

6 And Mō'seş said, This is the thing which the LORD commanded that ye should do: and ^gthe glory of the LORD shall appear unto you.

7 And Mō'seş said unto Aâr'qn, Go unto the altar, and ^hoffer thy sin offering, and thy burnt offering, and make an atonement for thyself, and for the people: and ⁱoffer the offering of the people, and make an atonement for them; as the LORD commanded.

8 ¶ Aâr'qn therefore went unto the altar, and slew the calf of the sin offering, which was for himself.

9 And ^jthe sons of Aâr'qn brought the blood unto him: and he dipped his finger in the blood, and ^kput it upon the horns of the altar, and poured out the blood at the bottom of the altar:

10 But ^lthe fat, and the kidneys, and the caul above the liver of the sin offering, he burnt upon the altar; ^mas the LORD commanded Mō'seş.

11 And ⁿthe flesh and the hide he burnt with fire without the camp.

12 And he slew the burnt offering; and Aâr'qn's sons presented unto him the blood, which he sprinkled round about upon the altar.

13 And they presented the burnt offering unto him, with the pieces thereof, and the head: and he burnt them upon the altar.

14 And he did wash the inwards and the legs, and burnt them upon the burnt offering on the altar.

15 ¶ And ^ohe brought the people's offering, and took the goat, which was the sin offering for the people, and slew it, and offered it for sin, as the first.

16 And he brought the burnt offering, and offered it according to the ¹manner.

17 And he brought the meat offering, and ²took an handful thereof, and burnt it upon the altar, ^pbeside the burnt sacrifice of the morning.

18 He slew also the bullock and the ram for a sacrifice of peace offerings, which was for the people: and Aâr'qn's sons presented unto him the blood, which he sprinkled upon the altar round about,

19 And the fat of the bullock and of the ram, the rump, and that which covereth the inwards, and the kidneys, and the caul above the liver:

20 And they put the fat upon the breasts, and he burnt the fat upon the altar:

21 And the breasts and the right shoulder Aâr'qn waved ^qfor a wave offering before the LORD; as Mō'seş commanded.

22 And Aâr'qn lifted up his hand toward the people, and ^rblessed them, and came down from offering of the sin offering, and the burnt offering, and peace offerings.

23 And Mō'seş and Aâr'qn went into the tabernacle of the congregation, and came out, and ^sblessed the people: ^tand the glory of the LORD appeared unto all the people.

24 And ^uthere came a fire out from ^vbefore the LORD, and consumed upon the altar the burnt offering and the fat: which when all the people saw, ^wthey shouted, and fell on their faces.

CHAPTER 10.

¹ Burning of Nadab and Abihu. ¹² Eating of holy things.

AND ^aNā'dāb and Ā-bī'hū, the sons of Aâr'qn, took either of them his censer, and put fire therein, and put incense thereon, and offered ^bstrange fire before the LORD, which he commanded them not.

2 And there ^cwent out fire from the LORD, and devoured them, and they died before the LORD.

3 Then Mō'seş said unto Aâr'on, This is it that the LORD spake, saying, I will be sanctified in them that ^dcome nigh me, and before all the people I will be ^eglorified. And Aâr'on held his peace.

4 And Mō'seş called Mîsh'a-el and Ē'l'zā-phān, the sons of Ūz'zī-el the uncle of Aâr'on, and said unto them, Come near, ^fcarry your brethren from before the sanctuary out of the camp.

5 So they went near, and carried them in their coats out of the camp; as Mō'seş had said.

6 And Mō'seş said unto Aâr'on, and unto Ē-le-ā'zar and unto Īth'a-mār, his sons, ^hUncover not your heads, neither rend your clothes; lest ye die, and lest ⁱwrath come upon all the people: but let your brethren, the whole house of Īş'ra-el, bewail the burning which the LORD hath kindled.

7 And ^jye shall not go out from the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: ^kfor the anointing oil of the LORD is upon you. And they did according to the word of Mō'seş.

8 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Aâr'on, saying,

9 ^lDo not drink wine nor strong drink, thou, nor thy sons with thee, when ye go into the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations:

10 And that ye may ^mput difference between holy and unholy, and between unclean and clean;

11 And ⁿthat ye may teach the children of Īş'ra-el all the statutes which the LORD hath spoken unto them by the hand of Mō'seş.

12 ¶ And Mō'seş spake unto Aâr'on, and unto Ē-le-ā'zar and unto Īth'a-mār, his sons that were left, Take the ^omeat offering that remaineth of the offerings of the LORD made by fire, and eat it without leaven beside the altar: for ^pit is most holy:

13 And ye shall eat it in the holy place, because it is thy due, and thy sons' due, of the sacrifices of the LORD made by fire: for so I am commanded.

14 And ^qthe wave breast and heave shoulder shall ye eat in a clean place; thou, and thy sons, and thy daughters with thee: for they be thy due, and thy sons' due, which are given out of the sacrifices of peace offerings of the children of Īş'ra-el.

15 The heave shoulder and the wave breast shall they bring with the offerings made by fire of the fat, to wave it for a wave offering before the LORD; and it shall be thine, and thy sons' with thee, by a statute for ever; as the LORD hath commanded.

16 ¶ And Mō'seş diligently sought the ^rgoat of the sin offering, and, behold, it was burnt: and he was angry with Ē-le-ā'zar and Īth'a-mār, the sons of Aâr'on which were left alive, saying,

17 ^sWherefore have ye not eaten the sin offering in the holy place, seeing it is most holy, and God hath given it you to bear the iniquity of the congregation, to make atonement for them before the LORD?

18 Behold, the blood of it was not brought in within the holy place: ye should indeed have eaten it in the holy place, ^tas I commanded.

CHAPTER 11.

Of clean and unclean meats.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seş and to Aâr'on, saying unto them,

2 Speak unto the children of Īş'ra-el, saying, ^aThese are the beasts which ye shall eat among all the beasts that are on the earth.

3 Whatsoever parteth the hoof, and is clovenfooted, and cheweth the cud, among the beasts, that shall ye eat.

4 Nevertheless these shall ye not eat of them that chew the cud, or of them that divide the hoof: as the camel, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.

5 And the coney, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.

6 And the hare, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is ^bunclean unto you.

7 And the swine, though he divide the hoof, and be clovenfooted, yet he cheweth not the cud; ^che is unclean to you.

8 Of their flesh shall ye not eat, and their carcase shall ye not touch; ^dthey are unclean to you.

9 ¶ ^eThese shall ye eat of all that are in the waters: whatsoever hath fins and scales in the waters, in the seas, and in the rivers, them shall ye eat.

10 And all that have not fins and scales in the seas, and in the rivers, of all that move in the waters, and of any living thing which is in the waters, they shall be an ^fabomination unto you:

11 They shall be even an abomination unto you; ye shall not eat of their flesh, but ye shall have their carcases in abomination.

12 Whatsoever hath no fins nor scales in the waters, that shall be an abomination unto you.

13 ¶ And ^gthese are they which ye shall have in abomination among the fowls; they shall not be eaten, they are an abomination: the eagle, and the ¹ossifrage, and the ²ospray,

14 And the vulture, and the kite after his kind;

15 Every raven after his kind;

16 And the owl, and the night hawk, and the cuckow, and the hawk after his kind,

17 And the little owl, and the cormorant, and the great owl,

18 And the swan, and the ^hpelican, and the ³g:er eagle,

19 And the stork, the heron after her kind, and the lapwing, and the bat.

20 All ⁴fowls that creep, going upon all four, shall be an abomination unto you.

21 Yet these may ye eat of every flying creeping thing that goeth upon all four, which have legs above their feet, to leap withal upon the earth;

22 Even these of them ye may eat; the ⁱlocust after his kind, and the bald locust after his kind, and the beetle after his kind, and the grasshopper ^jafter his kind.

23 But all other flying creeping things, which have four feet, shall be an abomination unto you.

24 And for these ye shall be unclean: whosoever toucheth the carcase of them shall be unclean until the even.

25 And whosoever beareth ought of the carcase of them ^kshall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even.

26 The carcasses of every beast which divideth the hoof, and is not clovenfooted, nor cheweth the cud, are unclean unto you: every one that toucheth them shall be unclean.

27 And ^lwhatsoever goeth upon his paws, among all manner of beasts that go on all four, those are unclean unto you: whoso toucheth their carcase shall be unclean until the even.

28 And he that beareth the carcase of them shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even: they are unclean unto you.

29 ¶ These also shall be ^munclean unto you among the creeping things that creep upon the earth; the weasel, and ⁿthe mouse, and the ^otortoise after his kind,

30 And the ferret, and the chameleon, and the lizard, and the ^psnail, and the ^qmole.

31 These are unclean to you among all that creep: whosoever doth touch them, when they be dead, shall be unclean until the even.

32 And upon whatsoever any of them, when they are dead, doth fall, it shall be unclean; whether it be any vessel of wood, or raiment, or skin, or sack, whatsoever vessel it be, wherein any work is done, ^rit must be put into water, and it shall be unclean until the even; so it shall be cleansed.

33 And every earthen vessel, whereinto any of them falleth, whatsoever is in it shall be unclean; and ^sye shall break it.

34 Of all meat which may be eaten, that on which such water cometh shall be unclean: and all drink that may be drunk in every such vessel shall be unclean.

35 And every thing whereupon any part of their carcase falleth shall be unclean; whether it be oven, or ranges for pots, they shall be broken down: for they are unclean, and shall be unclean unto you.

36 Nevertheless a fountain or pit, ^twherein there is plenty of water, shall be clean: but that which toucheth their carcase shall be unclean.

37 And if any part of their carcase fall upon any sowing seed which is to be sown, it shall be clean.

38 But if any water be put upon the seed, and any part of their carcase fall thereon, it shall be unclean unto you.

39 And if any beast, of which ye may eat, die; he that toucheth the carcase thereof shall be unclean until the even.

40 And ^uhe that eateth of the carcase of it shall wash ^vhis clothes, and be unclean until the even: he also that beareth the carcase of it shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even.

41 And every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth shall be an abomination; it shall not be eaten.

42 Whatsoever goeth upon the belly; and whatsoever goeth upon all four, or whatsoever ^hhath more feet among all creeping things that creep upon the earth, them ye shall not eat; for they are an abomination.

43 Ye ⁱshall not make ^jyourselves abominable with any creeping thing that creepeth, neither shall ye make yourselves unclean with them, that ye should be defiled thereby.

44 For ^kI am the LORD your God: ye shall therefore sanctify yourselves, and ^lye shall be holy; for I am holy: neither shall ye defile yourselves with any manner of creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

45 For ^mI am the LORD that bringeth you up out of the land of ⁿE'gypt, to be your God: ^oye shall therefore be holy, for I am holy.

46 This is the law of the beasts, and of the fowl, and of every living creature that moveth in the waters, and of every creature that creepeth upon the earth:

47 To ^pmake a difference between the unclean and the clean, and between the beast that may be eaten and the beast that may not be eaten.

CHAPTER 12.

1 Of the purification of women. 6 Their offerings.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying, 2 Speak unto the children of Iſ'ra-el, saying, If a woman have conceived seed, and born a man child: then ^ashe shall be unclean seven days; ^baccording to the days of the separation for her infirmity shall she be unclean.

3 And in the ^ceighth day the flesh of his foreskin shall be circumcised.

4 And she shall then continue in the blood of her purifying three and thirty days; she shall touch no hallowed thing, nor come into the sanctuary, until the days of her purifying be fulfilled.

5 But if she bear a maid child, then she shall be unclean two weeks, as in her separation: and she shall continue in the blood of her purifying three-score and six days.

6 And ^dwhen the days of her purifying are fulfilled, for a son, or for a daughter, she shall bring a ^elamb ¹of the first year for a burnt offering, and a young pigeon, or a turtledove, for a sin offering, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, unto the priest:

7 Who shall offer it before the LORD, and make ^fan atonement for her; and she shall be cleansed from the issue of her blood. This is the law for her that hath born a male or a female.

8 And ^gif ²she be not able to bring a lamb, then she shall bring two turtles, or two young pigeons; the one for the burnt offering, and the other for a sin offering: and the ^hpriest shall make an atonement for her, and she shall be clean.

CHAPTER 13.

Signs and treatment of leprosy.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seš and Aâr'on, saying,

2 When a man shall have in the skin of his flesh a ¹rising, ^aa scab, or bright spot, and it be in the skin of his flesh like the plague of leprosy; ^bthen he shall be brought unto Aâr'on the priest, or unto one of his sons the priests:

3 And the priest shall look on the plague in the skin of the flesh: and when the hair in the plague is turned white, and the plague in sight be deeper than the skin of his flesh, it is a plague of leprosy: and the priest shall look on him, and pronounce him unclean.

4 If the bright spot be white in the skin of his flesh, and in sight be not deeper than the skin, and the hair thereof be not turned white; then the priest shall shut up him that hath the plague seven days:

5 And the priest shall look on him the seventh day: and, behold, if the plague in his sight be at a stay, and the plague spread not in the skin; then the priest shall shut him up seven days more:

6 And the priest shall look on him again the seventh day: and, behold, if the plague be somewhat dark, and the plague spread not in the skin, the priest shall pronounce him clean: it is but a scab: and he shall ^cwash his clothes, and be clean.

7 But if the scab spread much abroad in the skin, after that he hath been seen of the priest for his cleansing, he shall be seen of the priest again:

8 And if the priest see that, behold, the scab spreadeth in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is ^da leprosy.

9 ¶ When the plague of leprosy is in a man, then he shall ^ebe brought unto the priest;

10 And ^fthe priest shall see him: and, behold, if the rising be white in the skin, and it have turned the hair white, and there be ²quick raw flesh in the rising;

11 It is an old leprosy in the skin of his flesh, and the priest shall pronounce him unclean, and shall not shut him up: for he is unclean.

12 And if a leprosy break out abroad in the skin, and the leprosy cover all the skin of him that hath the plague from his head even to his foot, where-soever the priest looketh;

13 Then the priest shall consider: and, behold, if the leprosy have covered all his flesh, he shall ³pronounce him clean that hath the plague: it is all turned white: he is clean.

14 But when raw flesh appeareth in him, he shall be unclean.

15 And the ⁴priest shall see the raw flesh, and pronounce him to be unclean: for the raw flesh is unclean: it is a leprosy.

16 Or if the raw flesh turn again, and be changed unto white, he shall ^hcome unto the priest;

17 And the priest shall see him: and, behold, if the plague be turned into white; then the priest shall pronounce him clean that hath the plague: he is clean.

19 And in the place of the boil there be a white rising, or a bright spot, white, and somewhat reddish, and it be shewed to the priest;

20 And if, when the priest seeth it, behold, it be in sight lower than the skin, and the hair thereof be turned white; the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a plague of leprosy broken out of the boil.

21 But if the priest look on it, and, behold, there be no white hairs therein, and if it be not lower than the skin, but be somewhat dark; then the priest shall shut him up seven days:

22 And if it spread much abroad in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a plague.

23 But if the bright spot stay in his place, and spread not, it is a burning boil; and the priest ^kshall pronounce him clean.

24 ¶ Or if there be any flesh, in the skin whereof there is ⁴a hot burning, and the quick flesh that burneth have a white bright spot, somewhat reddish, or white;

25 Then the priest shall look upon it: and, behold, if the hair in the bright spot be turned white, and it be in sight deeper than the skin; it is a leprosy broken out of the burning: wherefore the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is the ^lplague of leprosy.

27 And the priest shall look upon him the seventh day: and if it be spread much abroad in the skin, then ^mthe priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is the plague of leprosy.

28 And if the bright spot stay in his place, and spread not in the skin, but it be somewhat dark; it is a rising of the burning, and the priest shall pronounce him clean: for it is an inflammation of the burning.

29 ¶ If a man or woman have a plague upon the head or the beard;

30 Then ⁿthe priest shall see the plague: and, behold, if it be in sight deeper than the skin; and there be in it a yellow thin hair; then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a dry ^oscall, even a leprosy upon the head or beard.

31 And if the priest look on the plague of the scall, and, behold, it be not in sight deeper than the skin, and that there is no black hair in it; then the priest shall shut up him that hath the plague of the scall seven days:

32 And in the seventh day the priest shall look on the plague: and, behold, if the scall spread not, and there be in it no yellow hair, and the scall be not in sight deeper than the skin;

33 He shall be ^pshaven, but the scall shall he not shave; and the priest shall shut up him that hath the scall seven days more:

34 And in the seventh day the priest shall look on the scall : and, behold, if the scall be not spread in the skin, nor be in sight deeper than the skin ; then the priest shall pronounce him clean : and he shall wash his clothes, and be clean.

35 But if the scall spread much in the skin after his cleansing ;

36 Then the priest shall look on him : and, behold, if the scall be spread in the skin, the priest shall not seek for yellow hair ; he is unclean.

37 But if the scall be in his sight at a stay, and that there is black hair grown up therein ; the scall is healed, he is clean : and the ^qpriest shall pronounce him clean.

38 ¶ If a man also or a woman have in the skin of their flesh bright spots, even white bright spots ;

39 Then the priest shall look : and, behold, if the bright spots in the skin of their flesh be darkish white ; it is a freckled spot that groweth in the skin ; he is clean.

40 And the man whose ⁵hair is fallen off his head, he is ^rbald ; yet is he clean.

41 And he that hath his hair fallen off from the part of his head toward his face, he is forehead bald : yet is he clean.

42 And if there be in the bald head, or bald forehead, a white reddish sore ; it is a leprosy sprung up in his bald head, or his bald forehead.

43 Then ^sthe priest shall look upon it : and, behold, if the rising of the sore be white reddish in his bald head, or in his bald forehead, as the leprosy appeareth in the skin of the flesh ;

44 He is a leprous man, he is unclean : the priest shall pronounce him utterly unclean ; his plague is in his head.

45 And the leper in whom the plague is, his clothes shall be rent, and his head bare, and he shall put ^ta covering upon his upper lip, and shall cry, ^uUnclean, unclean.

46 All the days wherein the plague shall be in him he shall be defiled ; he is unclean : he shall dwell alone ; ^vwithout the camp shall his habitation be.

48 Whether it be in the warp, or woof ; of linen, or of woollen ; whether in a skin, or in any ⁶thing made of skin ;

49 And if the plague be greenish or reddish in the garment, or in the skin, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any ⁷thing of skin ; it is a plague of leprosy, and shall be shewed unto the priest :

50 And ⁸the priest shall look upon the plague, and shut up it that hath the plague seven days :

51 And he shall look on the plague on the seventh day : if the plague be spread in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in a skin, or in any work that is made of skin ; the plague is ^ya fretting leprosy ; it is unclean.

52 He shall therefore burn that garment, whether warp or woof, in woollen or in linen, or any thing of skin, wherein the plague is : for it is a fretting leprosy ; it shall be burnt in the fire.

B. C. 1490.

53 And if the priest shall look, and, behold, the plague be not spread in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin ;

54 Then the priest shall command that they wash the thing wherein the plague is, and he shall shut it up seven days more :

55 And the priest shall look on the plague, after that it is washed : and, behold, if the plague have not changed his colour, and the plague be not spread ; it is unclean ; thou shalt burn it in the fire ; it is fret inward, ⁸*whether it be* bare within or without.

56 And if the priest look, and, behold, the plague be somewhat dark after the washing of it ; then he shall rend it out of the garment, or out of the skin, or out of the warp, or out of the woof :

57 And if it appear still in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin ; it is a spreading plague : thou shalt burn that wherein the plague is with fire.

58 And the garment, either warp, or woof, or whatsoever thing of skin it be, which thou shalt wash, if the plague be departed from them, then it shall be washed the second time, and shall be clean.

59 This is the law of the plague of leprosy in a garment of woollen or linen, either in the warp, or woof, or any thing of skins, to pronounce it clean, or to pronounce it unclean.

CHAPTER 14.

1 Law of cleansing lepers. 33 Signs of leprosy.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,
2 This shall be the law of the leper in the day of his cleansing : He ^ashall be brought unto the priest :

3 And the priest shall go forth out of the camp ; and the priest shall look, and, behold, if the plague of leprosy be healed in the leper ;

4 Then shall the priest command to take for him that is to be cleansed two ¹birds alive and clean, and ^bcedar wood, ^cand scarlet, ^dand hyssop :

5 And the priest shall command that one of the birds be killed in an earthen vessel over running water :

6 As for the living bird, he shall take it, and the cedar wood, and the scarlet, and the hyssop, and shall dip them and the living bird in the blood of the bird that was killed over the running water :

7 And he shall ^esprinkle upon him that is to be cleansed from the leprosy ^fseven times, and shall pronounce him clean, and shall let the living bird loose ²into the open field.

8 And he that is to be cleansed ^gshall wash his clothes, and shave off all his hair, and ^hwash himself in water, that he may be clean : and after that he shall come into the camp, and ⁱshall tarry abroad out of his tent seven days.

9 But it shall be on the seventh day, that he shall shave all his hair off his head and his beard and his eyebrows, even all his hair he shall shave off : and he shall wash his clothes, also he shall wash his flesh in water, and he shall be clean.

33 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš and unto Aâr'on, saying,

34 ^aWhen ye be come into the land of Cā'nāan, which I give to you for a possession, and ^bI put the plague of leprosy in a house of the land of your possession ;

40 ^eThen the priest shall command that they take away the stones in which the plague is, and they shall cast them into an unclean place without the city :

41 And he shall cause the house to be scraped within round about, and they shall pour out the dust that they scrape off without the city into an unclean place :

42 And they shall take other stones, and put them in the place of those stones ; and he shall take other mortar, and shall plaster the house.

43 And if the plague come again, and break out in the house, after that he hath taken away the stones, and after he hath scraped the house, and after it is plaistered ;

44 Then the priest shall come and look, and, behold, if the plague be spread in the house, it is ^f a fretting leprosy in the house : it is unclean.

45 And he shall break down the house, the stones of it, and the timber thereof, and all the mortar of the house ; and he shall carry them forth out of the city into an unclean place.

46 Moreover he that goeth into the house all the while that it is shut up shall be unclean ^g until the even.

47 And he that lieth in the house shall wash his clothes ; and he that eateth in the house shall wash his clothes.

48 And if the priest ^h shall come in, and look upon it, and, behold, the plague hath not spread in the house, after the house was plaistered : then the priest shall pronounce the house clean, because the plague is ⁱ healed.

49 And he shall take to cleanse the house two birds, and cedar wood, and scarlet, and hyssop :

50 And he shall kill the one of the birds in an earthen vessel over running water :

51 And he shall take the cedar wood, and the ^j hyssop, and the scarlet, and the living bird, and dip them in the blood of the slain bird, and in the running water, and sprinkle the house seven times :

52 And he shall cleanse the house with the blood of the bird, and with the running water, and with the living bird, and with the cedar wood, and with the hyssop, and with the scarlet :

53 But he shall let go the living bird out of the city into the open fields, and make an atonement for the house : and it shall be clean.

54 This is the law for all manner of plague of leprosy, and ^k scall,

55 And for the ^l leprosy of a garment, and of a house,

56 And ^m for a rising, and for a scab, and for a bright spot :

57 To ⁿ teach ^o when it is unclean, and when it is clean : this is the law of leprosy.

CHAPTER 15.

Unclean issues and their cleansing.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'se and to Aâr'on, saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Īs'ra-el, and say unto them, ^a When any man hath a ¹ running issue out of his flesh, because of his issue he is unclean.

3 And this shall be his uncleanness in his issue : whether his flesh run with his issue, or his flesh be stopped from his issue, it is his uncleanness.

4 Every bed, whereon he lieth that hath the issue, is unclean : and every ² thing, whereon he sitteth, shall be unclean.

5 And whosoever toucheth his bed shall wash his clothes, ^b and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.

8 And if he that hath the issue ^c spit upon him that is clean ; then he shall wash his clothes, and bathe ^d himself in water, and be unclean until the even.

9 And what saddle soever he rideth upon that hath the issue shall be unclean.

10 And whosoever toucheth any thing that was under him shall be unclean until the even : and he that beareth any of those things shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.

11 And whomsoever he ^e toucheth that hath the issue, and hath not rinsed his hands in water, he shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.

12 And the ^f vessel of earth, that he toucheth which hath the issue, shall be broken : and every vessel of wood shall be rinsed in water.

13 And when he that hath an issue is cleansed of his issue ; then ^g he shall number to himself seven days for his cleansing, and wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in running water, and shall be clean.

14 And on the eighth day he shall take to him ^h two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, and come before the LORD unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and give them unto the priest :

15 And the priest shall offer them, ⁱ the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering ; and the ^j priest shall make an atonement for him before the LORD for his issue.

16 And ^k if any man's seed of copulation go out from him, then he shall wash all his flesh in water, and be unclean until the even.

17 And every garment, and every skin, whereon is the seed of copulation, shall be washed with water, and be unclean until the even.

18 The woman also with whom man shall lie with seed of copulation, they shall both bathe themselves in water, and ^l be unclean until the even.

19 ¶ And ^m if a woman have an issue, and her issue in her flesh be blood, she shall be ³ put apart seven days : and whosoever toucheth her shall be unclean until the even.

25 And ^pif a woman have an issue of her blood many days out of the time of her separation, or if it run beyond the time of her separation; all the days of the issue of her uncleanness shall be as the days of her separation: she shall be unclean.

26 Every bed whereon she lieth all the days of her issue shall be unto her as the bed of her separation: and whatsoever she sitteth upon shall be unclean, as the uncleanness of her separation.

27 And whosoever toucheth those things shall be unclean, and shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.

28 But if she be cleansed of her issue, then she shall number to herself seven days, and after that she shall be clean.

29 And on the eighth day she shall take unto her two turtles, or two young pigeons, and bring them unto the priest, to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

30 And the priest shall offer the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering; and the priest shall make ^qan atonement for her before the LORD for the issue of her uncleanness.

31 Thus shall ye ^rseparate the children of Īṣ'ra-el from their uncleanness; that they die not in their uncleanness, when they ^sdefile my tabernacle that is among them.

32 This is the law of him that hath an issue, and of him whose seed goeth from him, and is defiled therewith;

¹ Priestly vestments and offerings. ²⁰ The scapegoat. ²⁹ Feast of expiations.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ after the ^adeath of the two sons of Aâr'ōn, when they offered before the LORD, and died;

2 And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, Speak unto Aâr'ōn thy brother, that he ^bcome not at all times into the holy place within the veil before the mercy seat, which is upon the ark; that he die not: for I ^cwill appear in the cloud upon the mercy seat.

3 Thus shall Aâr'ōn ^dcome into the holy place: ^ewith a young bullock for a sin offering, and a ram for a burnt offering.

4 He shall put on ^fthe holy linen coat, and he shall have the linen breeches upon his flesh, and shall be girded with a linen girdle, and with the linen mitre shall he be attired: these are ^gholy garments; therefore ^hshall he wash his flesh in water, and so put them on.

5 And he shall take of ⁱthe congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el two kids of the goats for a sin offering, and one ram for a burnt offering.

6 And Aâr'ōn shall offer his bullock of the sin offering, which is for himself, and ^jmake an atonement for himself, and for his house.

8 And Aâr'ōn shall cast lots upon the two goats; one lot for the LORD, and the other lot for the ¹scapegoat.

9 And Aâr'ōn shall bring the goat upon which the LORD'S ²lot fell, and offer him for a sin offering.

10 But the goat, on which the lot fell to be the scapegoat, shall be presented alive before the LORD, to make ³an atonement with him, and to let him go for a scapegoat into the wilderness.

11 And Aâr'ōn shall bring the bullock of the sin offering, which is for himself, and shall make an atonement for himself, and for his house, and shall kill the bullock of the sin offering which is for himself:

12 And he shall take ^ma censer full of burning coals of fire from off the altar before the LORD, and his hands full of ⁿsweet incense beaten small, and bring it within the veil:

13 And ^ohe shall put the incense upon the fire before the LORD, that the ^pcloud of the incense may cover the ^qmercy seat that is upon the testimony, that he die not:

14 And ^rhe shall take of the blood of the bullock, and sprinkle it with his finger upon the mercy seat eastward; and before the mercy seat shall he sprinkle of the blood with his finger seven times.

15 ¶ ^sThen shall he kill the goat of the sin offering, that is for the people, and bring his blood within the veil, and do with that blood as he did with the blood of the bullock, and sprinkle it upon the mercy seat, and before the mercy seat:

16 And he shall ^tmake an atonement for the holy place, because of the uncleanness of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and because of their transgressions in all their sins: and so shall he do for the tabernacle of the congregation, that ³remaineth among them in the midst of their uncleanness.

17 And ^vthere shall be no man in the tabernacle of the congregation when he goeth in to make an atonement in the holy place, until he come out, and have made an atonement for himself, and for his household, and for all the congregation of Īṣ'ra-el.

18 And he shall go out unto the altar that is before the LORD, and ^wmake an atonement for it; and shall take of the blood of the bullock, and of the blood of the goat, and put it upon the horns of the altar round about.

19 And he shall sprinkle of the blood upon it with his finger seven times, and cleanse it, and ^xhallow it from the uncleanness of the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

20 ¶ And when he hath made an end of ^yreconciling the holy place, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and the altar, he shall bring the live goat:

21 And Aâr'ōn shall lay both his hands upon the head of the live goat, and confess over him all the iniquities of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and all their transgressions in all their sins, ^zputting them upon the head of the goat, and shall send him away by the hand of ⁴a fit man into the wilderness:

22 And the goat shall ^abear upon him all their iniquities unto a land ⁵not inhabited: and he shall let go the goat in the wilderness.

23 And Aâr'ôn shall come into the tabernacle of the congregation, and ^bshall put off the linen garments, which he put on when he went into the holy place, and shall leave them there:

24 And he shall wash his flesh with water in the holy place, and put on his garments, and come forth, and offer his burnt offering, and the burnt offering of the people, and make an atonement for himself, and for the people.

25 And ^cthe fat of the sin offering shall he burn upon the altar.

26 And he that let go the goat for the scapegoat shall wash his clothes, ^dand bathe his flesh in water, and afterward come into the camp.

27 And ^ethe bullock for the sin offering, and the goat for the sin offering, whose blood was brought in to make atonement in the holy place, shall one carry forth without the camp; and they shall burn in the fire their skins, and their flesh, and their dung.

28 And he that burneth them shall wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in water, and afterward he shall come into the camp.

29 ¶ And this shall be a statute for ever unto you: that ^fin the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month, ye shall afflict your souls, and do no work at all, whether it be one of your own country, or a stranger that sojourneth among you:

30 For on that day shall the priest make an atonement for you, to ^gcleanse you, that ye may be clean from all your sins before the LORD.

31 ^hIt shall be a sabbath of rest unto you, and ye shall afflict your souls, by a statute for ever.

32 And the priest, whom he shall anoint, and whom he ⁱshall consecrate to minister in the priest's office in his father's stead, shall make the atonement, and shall put on the linen clothes, even the holy garments:

33 And he shall make an atonement for the holy sanctuary, and he shall make an atonement for the tabernacle of the congregation, and for the altar, and he shall make an atonement for the priests, and for all the people of the congregation.

34 And ^jthis shall be an everlasting statute unto you, to make an atonement for the children of Īš'ra-el for all their sins ^konce a year. And he did as the LORD commanded Mō'seš.

nacle of the congregation, to offer an offering unto the LORD before the tabernacle of the LORD; blood shall be ^bimputed unto that man; he hath shed blood; and that man ^cshall be cut off from among his people:

5 To the end that the children of Īš'ra-el may bring their sacrifices, ^dwhich they offer in the open field, even that they may bring them unto the LORD, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, unto the priest, and offer them for peace offerings unto the LORD.

6 And the priest shall sprinkle the blood upon the altar of the LORD at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and ^eburn the fat for a sweet savour unto the LORD.

7 And they shall no more offer their sacrifices ^funto devils, after whom they ^ghave gone a whoring. This shall be a statute for ever unto them throughout their generations.

8 ¶ And thou shalt say unto them, Whatsoever man there be of the house of Īš'ra-el, or of the strangers which sojourn among you, that offereth a burnt offering or sacrifice,

9 And bringeth it not unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, to offer it unto the LORD; even that man shall be cut off from among his people.

10 ¶ And ^hwhatsoever man there be of the house of Īš'ra-el, or of the strangers that sojourn among you, that eateth any manner of blood; ⁱI will even set my face against that soul that eateth blood, and will cut him off from among his people.

11 For the life of the flesh is in the blood: and I have given it to you upon the altar ^jto make an atonement for your souls: for ^kit is the blood that maketh an atonement for the soul.

12 Therefore I said unto the children of Īš'ra-el, No soul of you shall eat blood, neither shall any stranger that sojourneth among you eat blood.

13 And whatsoever man there be of the children of Īš'ra-el, or of the strangers that sojourn among you, ^lwhich hunteth and catcheth any beast or fowl that may be eaten; he shall even ^mpour out the blood thereof, and ⁿcover it with dust.

16 But if he wash them not, nor bathe his flesh; then ^phe shall bear his iniquity.

CHAPTER 18.

Unlawful marriages and lusts.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,
2 Speak unto the children of Īš'ra-el, and say unto them, ^aI am the LORD your God.

3 After ^bthe doings of the land of E'g'gypt, wherein ye dwelt, shall ye not do : and after ^cthe doings of the land of Ca'nāan, whither I bring you, shall ye not do : neither shall ye walk in their ordinances.

4 Ye shall do my judgments, and keep mine ordinances, to walk therein : I am the LORD your God.

5 Ye shall therefore keep my statutes, and my judgments : ^dwhich if a man do, he shall live in them : ^eI am the LORD.

6 ¶ None of you shall approach to any that is ¹near of kin to him, to uncover their nakedness : I am the LORD.

7 The nakedness of thy father, or the nakedness of thy mother, shalt thou not uncover : she is thy mother ; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.

8 The ^fnakedness of thy father's wife shalt thou not uncover : it is thy father's nakedness.

9 The ^gnakedness of thy sister, the daughter of thy father, or daughter of thy mother, whether she be born at home, or born abroad, even their nakedness thou shalt not uncover.

10 The nakedness of thy son's daughter, or of thy daughter's daughter, even their nakedness thou shalt not uncover : for theirs is thine own nakedness.

11 The nakedness of thy father's wife's daughter, begotten of thy father, she is thy sister, thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.

12 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's sister : she is thy father's near kinswoman.

13 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy mother's sister : for she is thy mother's near kinswoman.

14 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's brother, thou shalt not approach to his wife : she is thine aunt.

15 ^hThou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy daughter in law : she is thy son's wife ; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.

16 ⁱThou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy brother's wife : it is thy brother's nakedness.

17 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of a woman and her daughter, neither shalt thou take her son's daughter, or her daughter's daughter, to uncover her nakedness ; for they are her near kinswomen : it is wickedness.

18 Neither shalt thou take ²a wife to her sister, ^jto vex her, to uncover her nakedness, beside the other in her life time.

19 ^kAlso thou shalt not approach unto a woman to uncover her nakedness, as long as she is put apart for her uncleanness.

20 Moreover ^lthou shalt not lie carnally with thy neighbour's wife, to defile thyself with her.

21 And thou shalt not let any of thy seed ^mpass through the ⁿfire to Mō'lech, neither shalt thou ^oprofane the name of thy God : ^pI am the LORD.

22 ^qThou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind : it is abomination.

23 Neither shalt thou lie with any beast to defile thyself therewith : neither shall any woman stand before a beast to lie down thereto : it is confusion.

25 And ^tthe land is defiled : therefore I do ^uvisit the iniquity thereof upon it, and the land itself vomiteth out her inhabitants.

26 Ye shall therefore keep my statutes and my judgments, and shall not commit any of these abominations ; neither any of your own nation, nor any stranger that sojourneth among you :

27 (For all these abominations have the men of the land done, which were before you, and the land is defiled ;)

28 That the land ^vspue not you out also, when ye defile it, as it spued out the nations that were before you.

29 For whosoever shall commit any of these abominations, even the souls that commit them shall be cut off from among their people.

30 Therefore shall ye keep mine ordinance, that ye commit not any one of these abominable customs, which were committed before you, and that ye defile not yourselves therein : I am the LORD your God.

CHAPTER 19.

Sundry laws repeated.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,
2 Speak unto all the congregation of the children of İş'ra-el, and say unto them, ^aYe shall be holy : for I the LORD your God am holy.

3 ¶ Ye shall fear every man his mother, and his father, and ^bkeep my sabbaths : I am the LORD your God.

4 ¶ ^cTurn ye not unto idols, nor make to yourselves molten gods : I am the LORD your God.

5 ¶ And if ye offer a sacrifice of peace offerings unto the LORD, ye shall offer it at your own will.

6 It shall be eaten the same day ye offer it, and on the morrow : and if ought remain until the third day, it shall be burnt in the fire.

7 And if it be eaten at all on the third day, it is abominable ; it shall not be accepted.

8 Therefore every one that eateth it shall bear his iniquity, because he hath profaned the hallowed thing of the LORD : and that soul shall be cut off from among his people.

9 ¶ And ^dwhen ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not wholly reap the corners of thy field, neither shalt thou gather the gleanings of thy harvest.

10 And thou shalt not glean thy vineyard, neither shalt thou gather every grape of thy vineyard ; thou shalt leave them ^efor the poor and stranger : I am the LORD your God.

11 ¶ Ye shall not steal, neither deal falsely, ^fneither lie one to another.

12 ¶ And ye shall not swear by my name falsely, neither shalt thou profane the name of thy God : I am the LORD.

13 ¶ Thou shalt not defraud thy neighbour, neither rob him : ^gthe wages of him that is hired shall not abide with thee all night until the morning.

14 ¶ Thou shalt not curse the deaf, ^h nor put a stumblingblock before the blind, but shalt ⁱ fear thy God : I am the LORD.

15 ¶ ^j Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment : thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honour the person of the mighty : but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbour.

16 ¶ Thou shalt not go up and down as a talebearer among thy people : neither shalt thou ^k stand against the blood of thy neighbour : I am the LORD.

17 ¶ ^l Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart : ^m thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbour, ¹ and not suffer sin upon him.

18 ¶ ⁿ Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people, ^o but thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself : I am the LORD.

19 ¶ Ye shall keep my statutes. Thou shalt not let thy cattle gender with a diverse kind : thou shalt not sow thy field with mingled seed : neither shall a garment mingled of linen and woollen come upon thee.

20 ¶ And whosoever lieth carnally with a woman, that is a bondmaid, ² betrothed to an husband, and not at all redeemed, nor freedom given her ; ³ she shall be scourged ; they shall not be put to death, because she was not free.

21 And he shall bring his trespass offering unto the LORD, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, even a ram for a trespass offering.

22 And the priest shall make an atonement for him with the ram of the trespass offering before the LORD for his sin which he hath done : and the sin which he hath done shall be forgiven him.

23 ¶ And when ye shall come into the land, and shall have planted all manner of trees for food, then ye shall count the fruit thereof as uncircumcised : three years shall it be as uncircumcised unto you : it shall not be eaten of.

24 But in the fourth year all the fruit thereof shall be ⁴ holy ^v to praise the LORD withal.

25 And in the fifth year shall ye eat of the fruit thereof, that it may yield unto you the increase thereof : I am the LORD your God.

26 ¶ Ye shall not eat any thing with the blood : ^u neither shall ye use enchantment, nor observe times.

27 ^r Ye shall not round the corners of your heads, neither shalt thou mar the corners of thy beard.

28 Ye shall not ^s make any cuttings in your flesh for the dead, nor print any marks upon you : I am the LORD.

29 ¶ ^t Do not ⁵ prostitute thy daughter, to cause her to be a whore ; lest the land fall to whoredom, and the land become full of wickedness.

30 ¶ ^u Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and ^v reverence my sanctuary : I am the LORD.

31 ¶ ^w Regard not them that have familiar spirits, neither seek after wizards, to be defiled by them : I am the LORD your God.

32 ¶ ^x Thou shalt rise up before the hoary head, and honour the face of the old man, and fear thy God : I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 20.

1 Divers laws and ordinances. 7 Sanctification. 10 Adultery. 22 Obedience required with holiness.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,
2 Again, thou shalt say to the children of Iš'ra-el, ^a Whosoever he be of the children of Iš'ra-el, or of the strangers that sojourn in Iš'ra-el, that giveth any of his seed unto Mō'lech ; he shall surely be put to death : the people of the land shall stone him with stones.

3 And I will set my face against that man, and will cut him off from among his people ; because he hath given of his seed unto Mō'lech, to ^b defile my sanctuary, and to profane my holy name.

4 And if the people of the land do any ways hide their eyes from the man, when he giveth of his seed unto Mō'lech, and kill him not :

5 Then I will set my face against that man, and ^c against his family, and will cut him off, and all that ^d go a whoring after him, to commit whoredom with Mō'lech, from among their people.

6 ¶ And ^e the soul that turneth after such as have familiar spirits, and after wizards, to go a whoring after them, I will even set my face against that soul, and will cut him off from among his people.

7 ¶ ^f Sanctify yourselves therefore, and be ye holy : for I am the LORD your God.

8 And ye shall keep my statutes, and do them : ^g I am the LORD which sanctify you.

9 ¶ For ^h every one that curseth his father or his mother shall be surely put to death : he hath cursed his father or his mother ; ⁱ his blood shall be upon him.

10 ¶ And ^j the man that committeth adultery with another man's wife, even he that committeth adultery with his neighbour's wife, the adulterer and the adulteress shall surely be put to death.

11 And ^k the man that lieth with his father's wife hath uncovered his father's nakedness : both of them shall surely be put to death ; their blood shall be upon them.

12 ^l And if a man lie with his daughter in law, both of them shall surely be put to death : they have wrought confusion ; their blood shall be upon them.

13 If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination : they shall surely be put to death ; their blood shall be upon them.

14 And ^mif a man take a wife and her mother, it is wickedness: they shall be burnt with fire, both he and they; that there be no wickedness among you.

15 And ⁿif a man lie with a beast, he shall surely be put to death: and ye shall slay the beast.

16 And if a woman approach unto any beast, and lie down thereto, thou shalt kill the woman, and the beast: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.

17 And ^oif a man shall take his sister, his father's daughter, or his mother's daughter, and see her nakedness, and she see his nakedness; it is a wicked thing; and they shall be cut off in the sight of their people: he hath uncovered his sister's nakedness; he shall bear his iniquity.

18 And ^pif a man shall lie with a woman having her sickness, and shall uncover her nakedness; he hath ¹discovered her fountain, and she hath uncovered the fountain of her blood: and both of them shall be cut off from among their people.

19 And ^qthou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy mother's sister, nor of thy father's sister: for he uncovereth his near kin: they shall bear their iniquity.

20 And if a man shall lie with his uncle's wife, he hath uncovered his uncle's nakedness: they shall bear their sin; they shall die childless.

21 And ^rif a man shall take his brother's wife, it is ²an unclean thing: he hath uncovered his brother's nakedness; they shall be childless.

22 ¶ Ye shall therefore keep all my ^sstatutes, and all my judgments, and do them: that the land, whither I bring you to dwell therein, spue you not out.

23 And ye shall not walk in the manners of the nation, which I cast out before you: for they committed all these things, and ^ttherefore I abhorred them.

24 But ^uI have said unto you, Ye shall inherit their land, and I will give it unto you to possess it, a land that floweth with milk and honey: I am the LORD your God, ^vwhich have separated you from other people.

25 ^wYe shall therefore put difference between clean beasts and unclean, and between unclean fowls and clean: and ye shall not make your souls abominable by beast, or by fowl, or by any manner of living thing that ³creepeth on the ground, which I have separated from you as unclean.

26 And ye shall be holy unto me: for ^xI the LORD am holy, and ^yhave severed you from other people, that ye should be mine.

27 ¶ A ^zman also or woman that hath a familiar spirit, or that is a wizard, shall surely be put to death: they shall stone them with stones: their blood shall be upon them.

9 ¶ And ^hthe daughter of any priest, if she profane herself by playing the whore, she profaneth her father: she shall be burnt with fire.

10 And ⁱhe that is the high priest among his brethren, upon whose head the anointing oil was poured, and ^jthat is consecrated to put on the garments, ^kshall not uncover his head, nor rend his clothes;

11 Neither shall he ^lgo in to any dead body, nor defile himself for his father, or for his mother;

12 ^mNeither shall he go out of the sanctuary, nor profane the sanctuary of his God; for ⁿthe crown of the anointing oil of his God is upon him: I am the LORD.

13 And ^ohe shall take a wife in her virginity.

14 A widow, or a divorced woman, or profane, or an harlot, these shall he not take: but he shall take a virgin of his own people to wife.

15 Neither shall he profane his seed among his people: for ^pI the LORD do sanctify him.

16 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

17 Speak unto Aâr'qon, saying, Whosoever he be of thy seed in their generations that hath any blemish, let him not ^qapproach to offer the ²bread of his God.

18 For whatsoever man he be that hath a blemish, he shall not approach: a blind man, or a lame, or he that hath a flat nose, or any thing ^rsuperfluous,

19 Or a man that is brokenfooted, or brokenhanded,

20 Or crookbackt, or a ³dwarf, or that hath a blemish in his eye, or be scurvy, or scabbed, or ^shath his stones broken;

21 No man that hath a blemish of the seed of Aâr'qon the priest shall come nigh to offer the offerings of the LORD made by fire: he hath a blemish; he shall not come nigh to offer the bread of his God.

22 He shall eat the bread of his God, both of the ^tmost holy, and of the ^uholy.

23 Only he shall not go in unto the veil, nor come nigh unto the altar, because he hath a blemish ; that he profane not my sanctuaries : for I the LORD do sanctify them.

24 And Mō'seş told it unto Aâr'on, and to his sons, and unto all the children of İş'ra-el.

CHAPTER 22.

¹ Laws concerning priests and offerings. ²⁶ Age of sacrifice. ²⁹ Law of eating sacrifice.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,
2 Speak unto Aâr'on and to his sons, that they ^aseparate themselves from the holy things of the children of İş'ra-el, and that they profane not my holy name in those things which they ^bhallow unto me : I am the LORD.

3 Say unto them, Whosoever he be of all your seed among your generations, that goeth unto the holy things, which the children of İş'ra-el hallow unto the LORD, having his ^cuncleanness upon him, that soul shall be cut off from my presence : I am the LORD.

4 What man soever of the seed of Aâr'on is a leper, or hath ^da ¹running issue ; he shall not eat of the holy things, ^euntil he be clean. And ^fwhoso toucheth any thing that is unclean by the dead, or a man whose seed goeth from him ;

5 Or ^gwhosoever toucheth any creeping thing, whereby he may be made unclean, or ^ha man of whom he may take uncleanness, whatsoever uncleanness he hath ;

6 The soul which hath touched any such shall be unclean until even, and shall not eat of the holy things, unless he ⁱwash his flesh with water.

7 And when the sun is down, he shall be clean, and shall afterward eat of the holy things ; because ^jit is his food.

8 ^kThat which dieth of itself, or is torn with beasts, he shall not eat to defile himself therewith : I am the LORD.

9 They shall therefore keep mine ordinance, ^llest they bear sin for it, and die therefore, if they profane it : I the LORD do sanctify them.

10 ^mThere shall no stranger eat of the holy thing : a sojourner of the priest, or an hired servant, shall not eat of the holy thing.

11 But if the priest buy any soul ⁿwith his money, he shall eat of it, and he that is born in his house : they shall eat of his meat.

12 If the priest's daughter also be married unto ^oa stranger, she may not eat of an offering of the holy things.

13 But if the priest's daughter be a widow, or divorced, and have no child, and ^pis returned unto her father's house, ^qas in her youth, she shall eat of her father's meat : but there shall no stranger eat thereof.

14 ¶ And ^rif a man eat of the holy thing unwittingly, then he shall put the fifth part thereof unto it, and shall give it unto the priest with the holy thing.

15 And ^sthey shall not profane the holy things of the children of İş'ra-el, which they offer unto the LORD ;

16 Or ¹suffer them to bear the iniquity of trespass, when they eat their holy things : for I the LORD do sanctify them.

17 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

18 Speak unto Aâr'on, and to his sons, and unto all the children of İş'ra-el, and say unto them, Whatsoever he be of the house of İş'ra-el, or of the strangers in İş'ra-el, that will offer his oblation for all his vows, and for all his freewill offerings, which they will offer unto the LORD for a burnt offering ;

19 Ye shall offer at your own will a male without blemish, of the beeves, of the sheep, or of the goats.

20 But ^swhatsoever hath a blemish, that shall ye not offer : for it shall not be acceptable for you.

21 And whosoever offereth a sacrifice of peace offerings unto the LORD ^tto accomplish his vow, or a freewill offering in beeves or ^usheep, it shall be perfect to be accepted ; there shall be no blemish therein.

22 Blind, or broken, or maimed, or having a wen, or scurvy, or scabbed, ye shall not offer these unto the LORD, nor make an offering by fire of them upon the altar unto the LORD.

23 Either a bullock or a ^vlamb that hath any thing ^usuperfluous or lacking in his parts, that mayest thou offer for a freewill offering ; but for a vow it shall not be accepted.

24 Ye shall not offer unto the LORD that which is bruised, or crushed, or broken, or cut ; neither shall ye make any offering thereof in your land.

25 Neither ^vfrom a stranger's hand shall ye offer the bread of your God of any of these ; because their ^wcorruption is in them, and blemishes be in them : they shall not be accepted for you.

26 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

27 ^xWhen a bullock, or a sheep, or a goat, is brought forth, then it shall be seven days under the dam ; and from the eighth day and thenceforth it shall be accepted for an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

28 And whether it be cow or ^yewe, ye shall not kill it ^vand her young both in one day.

29 And when ye will ^zoffer a sacrifice of thanksgiving unto the LORD, offer it at your own will.

30 On the same day it shall be eaten up ; ye shall leave none of it until the morrow : I am the LORD.

31 ^aTherefore shall ye keep my commandments, and do them : I am the LORD.

32 Neither shall ye profane my holy name ; but ^bI will be hallowed among the children of İş'ra-el : I am the LORD which hallow you,

33 ^cThat brought you out of the land of Ē'gypt, to be your God : I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 23.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,
2 Speak unto the children of İş'ra-el, and say unto them, Concerning the feasts of the LORD, which ye shall ^aproclaim to be holy convocations, even these are my feasts.

3 ^bSix days shall work be done: but the seventh day is the sabbath of rest, an holy convocation; ye shall do no work therein: it is ^cthe sabbath of the LORD in all your dwellings.

4 ¶ ^dThese are the feasts of the LORD, even holy convocations, which ye shall proclaim in their seasons.

5 ^eIn the fourteenth day of the first month at even is the LORD'S passover.

6 And on the fifteenth day of the same month is the feast of unleavened bread unto the LORD: seven days ye must eat unleavened bread.

7 ^fIn the first day ye shall have an holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein.

8 But ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD seven days: in the seventh day is an holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein.

9 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,

10 Speak unto the children of Iſ'ra-el, and say unto them, ^gWhen ye be come into the land which I give unto you, and shall reap the harvest thereof, then ye shall bring a ^hsheaf of ^hthe firstfruits of your harvest unto the priest:

11 And he shall ⁱwave the sheaf before the LORD, to be accepted for you: on the morrow after the sabbath the priest shall wave it.

12 And ye shall offer that day when ye wave the sheaf an he lamb without blemish of the first year for a burnt offering unto the LORD.

13 And the meat offering thereof shall be two tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil, an offering made by fire unto the LORD for a sweet savour: and the drink offering thereof shall be of wine, the fourth part of an hin.

14 And ye shall eat neither bread, nor parched corn, nor green ears, until the selfsame day that ye have brought an offering unto your God: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

15 ¶ And ^jye shall count unto you from the morrow after the sabbath, from the day that ye brought the sheaf of the wave offering; seven sabbaths shall be complete:

16 Even unto the morrow after the seventh sabbath shall ye number ^kfifty days; and ye shall offer a new meat offering unto the LORD.

17 Ye shall bring out of your habitations two wave loaves of two tenth deals: they shall be of fine flour; they shall be baked with leaven; they are ^lthe firstfruits unto the LORD.

18 And ye shall offer with the bread seven lambs without blemish of the first year, and one young bullock, and two rams: they shall be for a burnt offering unto the LORD, with their meat offering, and their drink offerings, even an offering made by fire, of sweet savour unto the LORD.

19 Then ye shall sacrifice ^mone kid of the goats for a sin offering, and two lambs of the first year for a sacrifice of peace offerings.

20 And the priest shall wave them with the bread of the firstfruits for a wave offering before the LORD, with the two lambs: ⁿthey shall be ²holy to the LORD for the priest.

22 ¶ And ^owhen ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not make clean riddance of the corners of thy field when thou reapest, ^pneither shalt thou gather any gleaning of thy harvest: thou shalt leave them unto the poor, and to the stranger: I am the LORD your God.

23 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,

24 Speak unto the children of Iſ'ra-el, saying, In the ^qseventh month, in the first day of the month, shall ye have a sabbath, a ^rmemorial of blowing of trumpets, an holy convocation.

25 Ye shall do no servile work therein: but ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

26 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,

27 Also on the tenth day of this seventh month ^sthere shall be a day of atonement: it shall be an holy convocation unto you; and ye shall afflict your souls, and offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

28 And ye shall do no work in that same day: for it is a day of atonement, to make an atonement for you before the LORD your God.

29 For whatsoever soul it be that shall not be afflicted in that same day, ^the shall be cut off from among his people.

30 And whatsoever soul it be that doeth any work in that same day, the same soul will I destroy from among his people.

32 It shall be unto you a sabbath of rest, and ye shall afflict your souls: in the ninth day of the month at even, from even unto even, shall ye ³celebrate your sabbath.

33 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,

34 Speak unto the children of Iſ'ra-el, saying, ^uThe fifteenth day of this seventh month shall be the feast of tabernacles for seven days unto the LORD.

35 On the first day shall be an holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein.

38 Beside the sabbaths of the LORD, and beside your gifts, and beside all your vows, and beside all your freewill offerings, which ye give unto the LORD.

39 Also in the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when ye have ^wgathered in the fruit of the land, ye shall keep a feast unto the LORD seven days : on the first day shall be a sabbath, and on the eighth day shall be a sabbath.

40 And ^x ye shall take you on the first day the ⁵ boughs of goodly trees, branches of palm trees, and the boughs of thick trees, and willows of the brook ; ^y and ye shall rejoice before the LORD your God seven days.

41 And ye shall keep it a feast unto the LORD seven days in the year. It shall be a statute for ever in your generations : ye shall celebrate it in the seventh month.

42 Ye shall dwell in booths seven days ; all that are Īṣ'ra-el-ites born shall dwell in booths :

43 ^z That your generations may know that I made the children of Īṣ'ra-el to dwell in booths, when I brought them out of the land of Ē'gypt : I am the LORD your God.

44 And Mō'seṣ declared unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el the feasts of the LORD.

CHAPTER 24.

¹ The oil and shewbread. ²³ Concerning blasphemy.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,
2 Command ^a the children of Īṣ'ra-el, that they bring unto thee pure oil olive beaten for the light, ¹ to cause the lamps to burn continually.

3 Without the veil of the testimony, in the tabernacle of the congregation, shall Aâr'on order it from the evening unto the morning before the LORD continually : it shall be a statute for ever in your generations.

4 He shall order the lamps upon the ^b pure candlestick before the LORD continually.

5 ¶ And thou shalt take fine flour, and bake twelve ^c cakes thereof : two tenth deals shall be in one cake.

6 And thou shalt set them in two rows, six on a row, ^d upon the pure table before the LORD.

7 And thou shalt put pure frankincense upon each row, that it may be on the bread for a memorial, even an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

8 ^e Every sabbath he shall set it in order before the LORD continually, being taken from the children of Īṣ'ra-el by an everlasting covenant.

9 And ^f it shall be Aâr'on's and his sons' ; and ^g they shall eat it in the holy place : for it is most holy unto him of the offerings of the LORD made by fire by a perpetual statute.

10 ¶ And the son of an Īṣ'ra-el-it-ish woman, whose father was an Ē-gyp'tian, went out among the children of Īṣ'ra-el : and this son of the Īṣ'ra-el-it-ish woman and a man of Īṣ'ra-el strove together in the camp ;

11 And the Īṣ'ra-el-it-ish woman's son blasphemed the name of the LORD, and ^h cursed. And they ⁱ brought him unto Mō'seṣ : (and his mother's name was Shēl'q-mith, the daughter of Dīb'ri, of the tribe of Dān :)

CHAPTER 25.

¹ The seventh year sabbath. ⁸ Year of jubile. ³⁵ Redeeming the poor. ⁴⁷ Servants redeemed.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ in mount Sī-nāi, saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye come into the land which I give you, then shall the land ¹ keep a ^a sabbath unto the LORD.

3 Six years thou shalt sow thy field, and six years thou shalt prune thy vineyard, and gather in the fruit thereof ;

4 But in the seventh year shall be a sabbath of rest unto the land, a sabbath for the LORD : thou shalt neither sow thy field, nor prune thy vineyard.

5 ^b That which groweth of its own accord of thy harvest thou shalt not reap, neither gather the grapes ² of thy vine undressed : for it is a year of rest unto the land.

6 And the sabbath of the land shall be meat for you ; for thee, and for thy servant, and for thy maid, and for thy hired servant, and for thy stranger that sojourneth with thee,

7 And for thy cattle, and for the beast that are in thy land, shall all the increase thereof be meat.

8 ¶ And thou shalt number seven sabbaths of years unto thee, seven times seven years ; and the space of the seven sabbaths of years shall be unto thee forty and nine years.

9 Then shalt thou cause the trumpet ³ of the jubile to sound on the tenth day of the seventh month, in ^c the day of atonement shall ye make the trumpet sound throughout all your land.

10 And ye shall hallow the fiftieth year, and ^dproclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof: it shall be a jubile unto you; and ^eye shall return every man unto his possession, and ye shall return every man unto his family.

11 A jubile shall that fiftieth year be unto you: ye shall not sow, neither reap that which groweth of itself in it, nor gather the grapes in it of thy vine undressed.

12 For it is the jubile; it shall be holy unto you: ye shall eat the increase thereof out of the field.

13 ^fIn the year of this jubile ye shall return every man unto his possession.

14 And if thou sell ought unto thy neighbour, or buyest ought of thy neighbour's hand, ^gye shall not oppress one another:

15 According to the number of years after the jubile thou shalt buy of thy neighbour, and according unto the number of years of the fruits he shall sell unto thee:

16 According to the multitude of years thou shalt increase the price thereof, and according to the fewness of years thou shalt diminish the price of it: for according to the number of the years of the fruits doth he sell unto thee.

17 ^hYe shall not therefore oppress one another; but thou shalt fear thy God: for I am the LORD your God.

18 ¶ Wherefore ye shall do my statutes, and keep my judgments, and do them; ⁱand ye shall dwell in the land in safety.

19 And the land shall yield her fruit, and ye shall eat your fill, and dwell therein in safety.

20 And if ye shall say, ^jWhat shall we eat the seventh year? behold, we shall not sow, nor gather in our increase:

21 Then I will ^kcommand my blessing upon you in the sixth year, and it shall bring forth fruit for three years.

22 And ^lye shall sow the eighth year, and eat yet of ^mold fruit until the ninth year; until her fruits come in ye shall eat of the old store.

23 ¶ The land shall not be sold ⁿfor ever: for ^othe land is mine; for ye are ^pstrangers and sojourners with me.

24 And in all the land of your possession ye shall grant a redemption for the land.

25 ¶ ^qIf thy brother be waxen poor, and hath sold away some of his possession, and if ^rany of his kin come to redeem it, then shall he redeem that which his brother sold.

26 And if the man have none to redeem it, and ^shimself be able to redeem it;

27 Then let him count the years of the sale thereof, and restore the overplus unto the man to whom he sold it; that he may return unto his possession.

28 But if he be not able to restore it to him, then that which is sold shall remain in the hand of him that hath bought it until the year of jubile: and in the jubile it shall go out, and he shall return unto his possession.

39 ¶ And ^vif thy brother that dwelleth by thee be waxen poor, and be sold unto thee; thou shalt not ¹⁰compel him to serve as a bondservant:

40 But as an hired servant, and as a sojourner, he shall be with thee, and shall serve thee unto the year of jubile:

41 And then shall he depart from thee, both he and his children with him, and shall return unto his own family, and unto the possession of his fathers shall he return.

42 For they are ^wmy servants, which I brought forth out of the land of Ē'g̃ypt: they shall not be sold ¹¹as bondmen.

43 ^xThou shalt not rule over him with rigour; but ^yshalt fear thy God.

44 Both thy bondmen, and thy bondmaids, which thou shalt have, shall be of the heathen that are round about you; of them shall ye buy bondmen and bondmaids.

45 Moreover of the children of the strangers that do sojourn among you, of them shall ye buy, and of their families that are with you, which they be-gat in your land: and they shall be your possession.

46 And ye shall take them as an inheritance for your children after you, to inherit them for a possession; they ¹²shall be your bondmen for ever: but over your brethren the children of Īṣ'ra-el ye shall not rule one over another with rigour.

47 ¶ And if a sojourner or stranger wax ¹³rich by thee, and thy brother that dwelleth by him wax poor, and sell himself unto the stranger or sojourner by thee, or to the stock of the stranger's family :

48 After that he is sold he may be redeemed again ; one of his brethren may redeem him :

49 Either his uncle, or his uncle's son, may redeem him, or any that is nigh of kin unto him of his family may redeem him ; or if he be able, he may redeem himself.

50 And he shall reckon with him that bought him from the year that he was sold to him unto the year of jubile : and the price of his sale shall be according unto the number of years, according to the time of an hired servant shall it be with him.

51 If there be yet many years behind, according unto them he shall give again the price of his redemption out of the money that he was bought for.

52 And if there remain but few years unto the year of jubile, then he shall count with him, and according unto his years shall he give him again the price of his redemption.

53 And as a yearly hired servant shall he be with him : and the other shall not rule with rigour over him in thy sight.

54 And if he be not redeemed ¹⁴in these years, then he shall go out in the year of jubile, both he, and his children with him.

55 For unto me the children of Īṣ'ra-el are servants ; they are my servants whom I brought forth out of the land of Ē'gÿpt : I am the LORD your God.

CHAPTER 26.

YE shall make you ^ano idols nor graven image, neither rear you up a ¹standing image, neither shall ye set up any ²image of stone in your land, to bow down unto it : for I am the LORD your God.

2 ¶ Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary : I am the LORD.

3 ¶ If ye walk in my statutes, and keep my commandments, and do them ;

4 ^bThen I will give you rain in due season, and the land shall yield her increase, and the trees of the field shall yield their fruit.

5 And your threshing shall reach unto the vintage, and the vintage shall reach unto the sowing time : and ^cye shall eat your bread to the full, and ^ddwell in your land safely.

6 And ^eI will give peace in the land, and ye ^fshall lie down, and none shall make you afraid : and I will ³rid ^gevil beasts out of the land, neither shall ^hthe sword go through your land.

7 And ye shall chase your enemies, and they shall fall before you by the sword.

8 And five of you shall chase an hundred, and an hundred of you shall put ten thousand to flight : and your enemies shall fall before you by the sword.

9 For I will ⁱhave respect unto you, and ^jmake you fruitful, and multiply you, and establish my covenant with you.

10 And ye shall eat old store, and bring forth the old because of the new.

B. C. 1491.

11 And ^kI will set my tabernacle among you : and my soul shall not ^labhor you.

12 And ^mI will walk among you, and ⁿwill be your God, and ye shall be my people.

13 I am the LORD your God, which brought you forth out of the land of Ē'gÿpt, that ye should not be their bondmen ; ^oand I have broken the bands of your yoke, and made you go upright.

14 ¶ But ^pif ye will not hearken unto me, and will not do all these commandments ;

15 And if ye shall ^qdespise my statutes, or if your soul abhor my judgments, so that ye will not do all my commandments, but that ye break my covenant :

16 I also will do this unto you ; I will even appoint ⁴over you terror, consumption, ^rand the burning ague, that shall ^sconsume the eyes, and cause sorrow of heart : and ^tye shall sow your seed in vain, for your enemies shall eat it.

17 And I will set my face against you, and ye ^ushall be slain before your enemies : ^vthey that hate you shall reign over you ; and ^wye shall flee when none pursueth you.

18 And if ye will not yet for all this hearken unto me, then I will punish you ^xseven times more for your sins.

19 And I will ^ybreak the pride of your power ; and I will make your heaven as iron, and your earth as brass :

20 And your ^zstrength shall be spent in vain : for ^ayour land shall not yield her increase, neither shall the trees of the land yield their fruits.

21 ¶ And if ye walk ⁵contrary unto me, and will not hearken unto me ; I will bring seven times more plagues upon you according to your sins.

22 ^bI will also send wild beasts among you, which shall rob you of your children, and destroy your cattle, and make you few in number ; and ^cyour high ways shall be desolate.

23 And if ^dye will not be reformed by me by these things, but will walk contrary unto me ;

24 ^eThen will I also walk contrary unto you, and will punish you yet seven times for your sins.

25 And ^fI will bring a sword upon you, that shall avenge the quarrel of my covenant : and when ye are gathered together within your cities, ^gI will send the pestilence among you ; and ye shall be delivered into the hand of the enemy.

26 And ^hwhen I have broken the staff of your bread, ten women shall bake your bread in one oven, and they shall deliver you your bread again by weight : and ⁱye shall eat, and not be satisfied.

27 And if ye will not for all this hearken unto me, but walk contrary unto me ;

28 Then I will walk contrary unto you also ^jin fury ; and I, even I, will chastise you seven times for your sins.

29 And ^kye shall eat the flesh of your sons, and the flesh of your daughters shall ye eat.

30 And ^lI will destroy your high places, and cut down your images, and ^mcast your carcasses upon the carcasses of your idols, and my soul shall ⁿabhor you.

31 And °I will make your cities waste, and °bring your sanctuaries unto desolation, and I will not smell the savour of your sweet odours.

32 And °I will bring the land into desolation : and your enemies which dwell therein shall be astonished at it.

33 And °I will scatter you among the heathen, and will draw out a sword after you : and your land shall be desolate, and your cities waste.

34 °Then shall the land enjoy her sabbaths, as long as it lieth desolate, and ye be in your enemies' land ; even then shall the land rest, and enjoy her sabbaths.

35 As long as it lieth desolate it shall rest ; because it did not rest in your sabbaths, when ye dwelt upon it.

36 And upon them that are left alive of you I °will send a faintness into their hearts in the lands of their enemies ; and the °sound of a °shaken leaf shall chase them ; and they shall flee, as fleeing from a sword ; and they shall fall when none pursueth.

37 And °they shall fall one upon another, as it were before a sword, when none pursueth : and °ye shall have no power to stand before your enemies.

38 And ye shall perish among the heathen, and the land of your enemies shall eat you up.

39 And they that are left of you °shall pine away in their iniquity in your enemies' lands ; and also in the iniquities of their fathers shall they pine away with them.

40 °If they shall confess their iniquity, and the iniquity of their fathers, with their trespass which they trespassed against me, and that also they have walked contrary unto me ;

CHAPTER 27.

1 Of vows and their redemption. 32 Tithes may not be changed.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō's'es, saying, 2 Speak unto the children of Ī's'ra-el, and say unto them, °When a man shall make a singular vow, the persons shall be for the LORD by thy estimation.

3 And thy estimation shall be of the male from twenty years old even unto sixty years old, even thy estimation shall be fifty shekels of silver, after °the shekel of the sanctuary.

4 And if it be a female, then thy estimation shall be thirty shekels.

5 And if it be from five years old even unto twenty years old, then thy estimation shall be of the male twenty shekels, and for the female ten shekels.

6 And if it be from a month old even unto five years old, then thy estimation shall be of the male five shekels of silver, and for the female thy estimation shall be three shekels of silver.

7 And if it be from sixty years old and above ; if it be a male, then thy estimation shall be fifteen shekels, and for the female ten shekels.

8 But °if he be poorer than thy estimation, then he shall present himself before the priest, and the priest shall value him ; according to his ability that vowed shall the priest value him.

9 And if it be a beast, whereof men bring an offering unto the LORD, all that any man giveth of such unto the LORD °shall be holy.

10 He shall not alter it, nor change it, a good for a bad, or a bad for a good : and if he shall at all change beast for beast, then it and the exchange thereof shall be holy.

11 And if it be any unclean beast, of which they do not offer a sacrifice unto the LORD, then he shall present the beast before the priest :

12 And the priest shall value it, whether it be good or bad : °as thou valuest it, who art the priest, so shall it be.

13 But if he will at all redeem it, then he shall add a fifth part thereof unto thy estimation.

14 ¶ And when a man shall °sanctify his house to be holy unto the LORD, then the priest shall estimate it, whether it be good or bad : as the priest shall estimate it, so shall it stand.

15 And if he that sanctified it will redeem his house, then he shall add the fifth part of the money of thy estimation unto it, and it shall be his.

16 And if a man shall sanctify unto the LORD some part of a field of his possession, then thy estimation shall be according to the seed thereof : °an homer of barley seed shall be valued at fifty shekels of silver.

17 If he sanctify his field from the year of jubile, according to thy estimation it shall stand.

18 But if he sanctify his field after the jubile, then the priest shall °reckon unto him the money according to the years that remain, even unto the year of the jubile, and it shall be abated from thy estimation.

19 And if he that sanctified the field will in any wise redeem it, then he shall add the fifth part of the money of thy estimation unto it, and it shall be assured to him.

20 And if he will not redeem the field, or if he have sold the field to another man, it shall not be redeemed any more.

21 But the field, ^fwhen it goeth out in the jubile, shall be holy unto the LORD, as a field devoted; the ^gpossession thereof shall be the priest's.

22 And if a man sanctify unto the LORD a field which he hath bought, which is not of the fields of his possession;

23 Then the priest shall reckon unto him the worth of thy estimation, even unto the year of the jubile: and he shall give thine estimation in that day, as a holy thing unto the LORD.

24 ^hIn the year of the jubile the field shall return unto him of whom it was bought, even to him to whom the possession of the land did belong.

25 And all thy estimations shall be according to the shekel of the sanctuary: ⁱtwenty gerahs shall be the shekel.

26 ¶ Only the ^kfirstling of the beasts, which should be the LORD'S firstling, no man shall sanctify it; whether it be ox, or sheep: it is the LORD'S.

27 And if it be of an unclean beast, then he shall re-

NUMBERS.

CHAPTER 1.

¹ The numbering. ⁵ Princes and number of each tribe. ⁴⁷ The Levites exempt.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seš ^ain the wilderness of Sī'nāi, ^bin the tabernacle of the congregation, on the first day of the second month, in the second year after they were come out of the land of Ē'gypt, saying,

2 ^cTake ye the sum of all the congregation of the children of Iſ'ra-el, after their families, by the house of their fathers, with the number of their names, every male by their polls;

3 From twenty years old and upward, all that are able to go forth to war in Iſ'ra-el: thou and Aâr'ōn shall ¹number them by their armies.

4 And with you there shall ^dbe a man of every tribe; every one head of the house of his fathers.

5 ¶ And these are the names of the men that shall stand with you: of the ^etribe of Reu'ben; Ē-lī'zūr the son of Shēd'ē-ur.

6 Of Sīm'e-on; Shē-lū'mī-el the son of Zū-rī-shād'dā-ī.

7 Of Jū'dah; ^fNāh'shon the son of Ām-mīn'a-dab.

8 Of Iſ'sa-char; Nē-thān'e-el the son of Zū'ar.

9 Of Zēb'u-lun; Ē-lī'ab the son of Hē'lon.

10 Of the children of Jō'seph: of Ē'phrā-īm; Ē-līsh'a-mā the son of Ām-mī'hūd: of Mā-nās'seh; Gā-mā'li-el the son of Pē-dāh'zur.

11 Of Bēn'ja-min; Āb'i-dān the son of ²Gīd-e-ō'nī.

12 Of Dān; Ā-hī-ē'zēr the son of Ām-mī-shād'dā-ī.

13 Of Āsh'ēr; Pā'gī-el the son of Ōc'ran.

14 Of Gād; Ē-lī'a-sāph the son of ^gDeū'el.

39 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Dān, were threescore and two thousand and seven hundred.

40 ¶ Of the children of Āsh'ēr, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

41 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Āsh'ēr, were forty and one thousand and five hundred.

42 ¶ Of the children of Nāph'ta-lī, throughout their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

43 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Nāph'ta-lī, were fifty and three thousand and four hundred.

44 ^rThese are those that were numbered, which Mō'seš and Aâr'q̄n numbered, and the princes of Īs'ra-el, being twelve men: each one was for the house of his fathers.

45 So were all those that were numbered of the children of Īs'ra-el, by the house of their fathers, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war in Īs'ra-el;

46 Even all they that were numbered were ^ssix hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty.

47 ¶ But ^tthe Lē'vites after the tribe of their fathers were not numbered among them.

48 For the LORD had spoken unto Mō'seš, saying,

49 ^uOnly thou shalt not number the tribe of Lē'vī, neither take the sum of them among the children of Īs'ra-el:

50 But ^vthou shalt appoint the Lē'vites over the tabernacle of testimony, and over all the vessels thereof, and over all things that belong to it: they shall bear the tabernacle, and all the vessels thereof; and they shall minister unto it, ^wand shall encamp round about the tabernacle.

51 And ^xwhen the tabernacle setteth forward, the Lē'vites shall take it down: and when the tabernacle is to be pitched, the Lē'vites shall set it up: and the ³stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.

52 And the children of Īs'ra-el shall pitch their tents, ^yevery man by his own camp, and every man by his own standard, throughout their hosts.

53 But the Lē'vites shall pitch round about the tabernacle of testimony, that there be no ^zwrath upon the congregation of the children of Īs'ra-el: ^aand the Lē'vites shall keep the charge of the tabernacle of testimony.

54 And the children of Īs'ra-el did according to all that the LORD commanded Mō'seš, so did they.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Captains of the tribes. 10 Order of the camps.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seš and unto Aâr'q̄n, saying,

2 ^aEvery man of the children of Īṣ'ra-el shall ^bpitch by his own standard, with the ensign of their father's house: ¹far off about the tabernacle of the congregation shall they pitch.

3 And on the east side toward the rising of the sun shall they of the standard of the camp of Jū'dah pitch throughout their armies: and ^cNāh'shon the son of Ām-mīn'a-dab shall be captain of the children of Jū'dah.

4 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were threescore and fourteen thousand and six hundred.

5 And those that do pitch next unto him shall be the tribe of Īs'sa-char: ^dand Nē-thān'ē-el the son of Zū'ar shall be captain of the children of Īs'sa-char.

6 And his host, and those that were numbered thereof, were ^efifty and four thousand and four hundred.

7 Then the tribe of ^fZēb'u-lun: and Ē-lī'ab the son of Hē'lon shall be captain of the children of Zēb'u-lun.

8 And his host, and those that were numbered thereof, were fifty and seven thousand and four hundred.

9 All that were numbered in the camp of Jū'dah were an hundred thousand and fourscore thousand and six thousand and four hundred, throughout their armies. ^gThese shall first set forth.

10 ¶ On the south side shall be the standard of the camp of ^hReu'ben according to their armies: and the captain of the children of Reu'ben shall be Ē-lī'zūr the son of Shēd'ē-ur.

11 And his host, and those that were numbered thereof, were forty and six thousand and five hundred.

12 And those which pitch by him shall be the tribe of Sīm'ē-on: and the captain of the children of Sīm'ē-on shall be Shē-lū'mī-el the son of Zū-rī-shād'da-ī.

13 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were fifty and nine thousand and three hundred.

14 Then the tribe of Gād: and the captain of the sons of Gād shall be Ē-lī'a-sāph the son of ⁱReu'el.

15 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were forty and five thousand and six hundred and fifty.

16 All that were numbered in the camp of Reu'ben were an hundred thousand and fifty and one thousand and four hundred and fifty, throughout their armies. And ^jthey shall set forth in the second rank.

17 ¶ ^kThen the tabernacle of the congregation shall set forward with the camp of the Lē'vites in the midst of the camp: as they encamp, so shall they set forward, every ^lman in his place by their standards.

18 ¶ On the west side shall be the standard of the camp of ^mĒ'phrā-īm according to their armies: and the captain of the sons of Ē'phrā-īm shall be Ē-līsh'a-mā the son of Ām-mī'hūd.

19 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were forty thousand and five hundred.

20 And by him shall be the tribe of Mā-nās'seh: and the captain of the children of Mā-nās'seh shall be Gā-mā'lī-el the son of Pē-dāh'zur.

CHAPTER 3.

1 The Levitical families. 21 Their number and charges. 40 Freedom of the firstborn.

THESE also are the generations of Aâr'qon and Mō'seş in the day that the LORD spake with Mō'seş in mount Sī'nāi.

2 And these are the names of the sons of Aâr'qon; Nā'dāb the ^afirstborn, and Ā-bī'hū, Ē-le-ā'zar, and Īth'a-mār.

3 These are the names of the sons of Aâr'qon, ^bthe priests which were anointed, ¹whom he consecrated to minister in the priest's office.

4 And ^cNā'dāb and Ā-bī'hū died before the LORD, when they offered strange fire before the LORD, in the wilderness of Sī'nāi, and they had no children:

and Ē-le-ā'zar and Īth'a-mār ministered in the priest's office in the sight of Aâr'ōn their father.

5 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,

6 ^aBring the tribe of Lē'vī near, and present them before Aâr'ōn the priest, that they may minister unto him.

7 And they shall keep his charge, and the charge of the whole congregation before the tabernacle of the congregation, to do the ^eservice of the tabernacle.

8 And they shall keep all the instruments of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the charge of the children of Īš'ra-el, to do the service of the tabernacle.

9 And ^fthou shalt give the Lē'vītes unto Aâr'ōn and to his sons: they are wholly given unto him out of the children of Īš'ra-el.

10 And thou shalt appoint Aâr'ōn and his sons, ^gand they shall wait on their priest's office: and ^hthe stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.

11 And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,

12 And I, behold, ⁱI have taken the Lē'vītes from among the children of Īš'ra-el instead of all the firstborn that openeth the matrix among the children of Īš'ra-el: therefore the Lē'vītes shall be mine;

13 Because ^jall the firstborn are mine; ^kfor on the day that I smote all the firstborn in the land of Ē'g'gypt I hallowed unto me all the firstborn in Īš'ra-el, both man and beast: mine shall they be: I am the LORD.

14 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš in the ^lwilderness of Sī'nāi, saying,

15 Number the children of Lē'vī after the house of their fathers, by their families: ^mevery male from a month old and upward shalt thou number them.

16 And Mō'seš numbered them according to the ⁿword of the LORD, as he was commanded.

17 And ^othese were the sons of Lē'vī by their names; Ġēr'shōn, and Kō'hath, and Mē-rā'rī.

18 And these are the names of the sons of Ġēr'shōn by their families; ^pLīb'nī, and Šīm'e-ī.

19 And the sons of Kō'hath by their families; Ām'rām, and Īz'e-hār, Hē'bron, and Ūz'zī-el.

20 And the sons of Mē-rā'rī by their families; Mäh'lī, and Mū'shī. These are the families of the Lē'vītes according to the house of their fathers.

21 Of Ġēr'shōn was the family of the Līb'nītes, and the family of the Šīm'ītes: these are the families of the Ġēr'shon-ītes.

22 Those that were numbered of them, according to the number of all the males, from a month old and upward, even those that were numbered of them were seven thousand and five hundred.

23 The ^qfamilies of the Ġēr'shon-ītes shall pitch behind the tabernacle westward.

24 And the chief of the house of the father of the Ġēr'shon-ītes shall be Ē-lī'a-sāph the son of Lā'el.

25 And ^rthe charge of the sons of Ġēr'shōn in the tabernacle of the congregation shall be ^sthe tabernacle, and ^tthe tent, ^uthe covering thereof, and ^vthe hanging for the door of the tabernacle of the congregation,

33 ¶ Of Mē-rā'rī was the family of the Mäh'lītes, and the family of the Mū'shītes: these are the families of Mē-rā'rī.

34 And those that were numbered of them, according to the number of all the males, from a month old and upward, were six thousand and two hundred.

35 And the chief of the house of the father of the families of Mē-rā'rī was Zū'rī-el the son of Āb-i-hā'il: ^hthese shall pitch on the side of the tabernacle northward.

36 And ⁱunder the custody and charge of the sons of Mē-rā'rī shall be the boards of the tabernacle, and the bars thereof, and the pillars thereof, and the sockets thereof, and all the vessels thereof, and all that serveth thereto,

37 And the pillars of the court round about, and their sockets, and their pins, and their cords.

38 ¶ ^jBut those that encamp before the tabernacle toward the east, even before the tabernacle of the congregation eastward, shall be Mō'seš, and Aâr'ōn and his sons, keeping ^kthe charge of the sanctuary ^lfor the charge of the children of Īš'ra-el; and ^mthe stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.

39 ⁿAll that were numbered of the Lē'vītes, which Mō'seš and Aâr'ōn numbered at the commandment of the LORD, throughout their families, all the males from a month old and upward, were twenty and two thousand.

40 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seš, Number ^oall the firstborn of the males of the children of Īš'ra-el from a month old and upward, and take the number of their names.

41 And ^pthou shalt take the Lē'vītes for me (I am the LORD) instead of all the firstborn among the children of Īš'ra-el; and the cattle of the Lē'vītes instead of all the firstlings among the cattle of the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

42 And Mō'seṣ numbered, as the LORD commanded him, all the firstborn among the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

43 And all the firstborn males by the number of names, from a month old and upward, of those that were numbered of them, were twenty and two thousand two hundred and threescore and thirteen.

44 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,

45 Take the Lē'vītes instead of all the firstborn among the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and the cattle of the Lē'vītes instead of their cattle; and the Lē'vītes shall be ⁿmine: I am the LORD.

46 And for those that are to be ^oredeemed of the two hundred and threescore and thirteen of the firstborn of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, ^pwhich are more than the Lē'vītes;

47 Thou shalt even take ^qfive shekels apiece by the poll, after the shekel of the sanctuary shalt thou take them: (^rthe shekel is twenty gerahs:)

48 And thou shalt give the money, wherewith the odd number of them is to be redeemed, unto Aâr'ōn and to his sons.

49 And Mō'seṣ took the ^sredemption money of them that were over and above them that were redeemed by the Lē'vītes:

50 Of the firstborn of the children of Īṣ'ra-el took he the money; ^ta thousand three hundred and threescore and five shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary:

51 And Mō'seṣ gave the money of them that were redeemed unto Aâr'ōn and to his sons, according to the word of the LORD, as the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ.

CHAPTER 4.

¹ On moving the tabernacle. ¹⁷ Service of the Levites.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ and unto Aâr'ōn, saying,

2 Take the sum of the sons of Kō'hath from among the sons of Lē'vī, after their families, by the house of their fathers,

3 ^aFrom thirty years old and upward even until fifty years old, all that enter into the ¹host, to do the work in the tabernacle of the congregation.

4 ^bThis shall be the service of the sons of Kō'hath in the tabernacle of the congregation, about the most holy things:

5 ¶ And when the camp setteth forward, Aâr'ōn shall come, and his sons, and they shall take down ^cthe covering veil, and cover the ^dark of testimony with it:

6 And shall put thereon the covering of badgers' skins, and shall spread over it a cloth wholly of blue, and shall put in ^ethe staves thereof.

7 And upon the ^ftable of shewbread they shall spread a cloth of blue, and put thereon the dishes, and the spoons, and the bowls, and covers to ²cover withal: and the continual bread shall be thereon:

8 And they shall spread upon them a cloth of scarlet, and cover the same with a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put in the staves thereof.

9 And they shall take a cloth of blue, and cover the ^ucandlestick of the light, ^vand his lamps, and his tongs, and his snuffdishes, and all the oil vessels thereof, wherewith they minister unto it:

10 And they shall put it and all the vessels thereof within a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put it upon a bar.

11 And upon ^wthe golden altar they shall spread a cloth of blue, and cover it with a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put to the staves thereof:

12 And they shall take all the instruments of ministry, wherewith they minister in the sanctuary, and put them in a cloth of blue, and cover them with a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put them on a bar:

13 And they shall take away the ashes from the altar, and spread a purple cloth thereon:

14 And they shall put upon it all the vessels thereof, wherewith they minister about it, even the censers, the fleshhooks, and the shovels, and the ³basons, all the vessels of the altar; and they shall spread upon it a covering of badgers' skins, and put to the staves of it.

15 And when Aâr'ōn and his sons have made an end of covering the sanctuary, and all the vessels of the sanctuary, as the camp is to set forward; after that, the ^ysons of Kō'hath shall come to bear it: ^zbut they shall not touch any holy thing, lest they die. ¹These things are the burden of the sons of Kō'hath in the tabernacle of the congregation.

16 ¶ And to the office of Ē-le-ā'zar the son of Aâr'ōn the priest pertaineth ^mthe oil for the light, and the ⁿsweet incense, and the ^odaily meat offering, and the ^panointing oil, and the oversight of all the tabernacle, and of all that therein is, in the sanctuary, and in the vessels thereof.

17 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ and unto Aâr'ōn, saying,

18 Cut ye not off the tribe of the families of the Kō'hath-ites from among the Lē'vītes:

19 But thus do unto them, that they may live, and not die, when they approach unto the ^umost holy things: Aâr'ōn and his sons shall go in, and appoint them every one to his service and to his burden:

20 ^vBut they shall not go in to see when the holy things are covered, lest they die.

21 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,

22 Take also the sum of the sons of Ĝēr'shōn, throughout the houses of their fathers, by their families;

23 ^sFrom thirty years old and upward until fifty years old shalt thou number them; all that enter in ⁴to perform the service, to do the work in the tabernacle of the congregation.

24 This is the service of the families of the Ĝēr'-shon-ites, to serve, and for ⁵burdens:

25 And ^tthey shall bear the curtains of the tabernacle, and the tabernacle of the congregation, his covering, and the covering of the badgers' skins that is above upon it, and the hanging for the door of the tabernacle of the congregation,

26 And the hangings of the court, and the hanging for the door of the gate of the court, which is by the tabernacle and by the altar round about, and their cords, and all the instruments of their service, and all that is made for them : so shall they serve.

27 At the ⁶u appointment of Aâr'ôn and his sons shall be all the service of the sons of the Ĝēr'shon-ites, in all their burdens, and in all their service : and ye shall appoint unto them in charge all their burdens.

28 This is the service of the families of the sons of Ĝēr'shôn in the tabernacle of the congregation : and their charge shall be under the hand of Īth'a-mâr the son of Aâr'ôn the priest.

29 ¶ As for the sons of Mē-rā'rī, thou shalt number them after their families, by the house of their fathers ;

30 ^vFrom thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old shalt thou number them, every one that entereth into the ⁷w service, to do the work of the tabernacle of the congregation.

31 And ^xthis is the charge of their burden, according to all their service in the tabernacle of the congregation ; the boards of the tabernacle, and the bars thereof, and the pillars thereof, and sockets thereof,

32 And the pillars of the court round about, and their sockets, and their pins, and their cords, with all their instruments, and with all their service : and by name ye shall reckon ^ythe instruments of the charge of their burden.

33 This is the service of the families of the sons of Mē-rā'rī, according to all their service, in the tabernacle of the congregation, under the hand of Īth'a-mâr the son of Aâr'ôn the priest.

34 ¶ And ^zMō'seš and Aâr'ôn and the chief of the congregation numbered the sons of the Kō'hath-ites after their families, and after the house of their fathers,

35 ^aFrom thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that entereth into the service, for the work in the tabernacle of the congregation :

36 And those that were numbered of them by their families were two thousand seven hundred and fifty.

37 These were they that were numbered of the families of the Kō'hath-ites, all that might do service in the tabernacle of the congregation, which Mō'seš and Aâr'ôn did number according to the commandment of the LORD by the hand of Mō'seš.

38 And those that were numbered of the sons of Ĝēr'shôn, throughout their families, and by the house of their fathers,

39 From thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that entereth into the service, for the work in the tabernacle of the congregation,

40 Even those that were numbered of them, throughout their families, by the house of their fathers, were two thousand and six hundred and thirty.

41 These are they that were numbered of the families of the sons of Ĝēr'shôn, of all that might do service in the tabernacle of the congregation, whom Mō'seš and Aâr'ôn did number according to the commandment of the LORD.

42 ¶ And those that were numbered of the families of the sons of Mē-rā'rī, throughout their families, by the house of their fathers,

43 ^bFrom thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that entereth into the service, for the work in the tabernacle of the congregation,

46 All those that were numbered of the Lē'vītes, whom Mō'seš and Aâr'ôn and the chief of Īš'ra-el numbered, after their families, and after the house of their fathers,

47 ^cFrom thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that came to do the service of the ministry, and the service of the burden in the tabernacle of the congregation,

48 Even those that were numbered of them, were eight thousand and five hundred and fourscore.

49 According to the commandment of the LORD they were numbered by the hand of Mō'seš, ^devery one according to his service, and according to his burden : thus were they numbered of him, as the LORD commanded Mō'seš.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Cleansing the camps. 5 Recompensing trespasses. 11 Trial of jealousy.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,
2 Command the children of Īš'ra-el, that they put out of the camp every ^aleper, and every one that hath an ^bissue, and whosoever is defiled by the ^cdead :

3 Both male and female shall ye put out, without the camp shall ye put them ; that they defile not their camps, ^din the midst whereof I dwell.

4 And the children of Īš'ra-el did so, and put them out without the camp : as the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, so did the children of Īš'ra-el.

5 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,

6 Speak unto the children of Īš'ra-el, ^eWhen a man or woman shall commit any sin that men commit, to do a trespass against the LORD, and that person be guilty ;

7 ^fThen they shall confess their sin which they have done : and he shall recompense his trespass ^gwith the principal thereof, and add unto it the fifth part thereof, and give it unto him against whom he hath trespassed.

8 But if the man have no kinsman to recompense the trespass unto, let the trespass be recompensed unto the LORD, even to the priest ; beside ^hthe ram of the atonement, whereby an atonement shall be made for him.

9 And every ¹offering of all the holy things of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, which they bring unto the priest, shall be his.

10 And every man's hallowed things shall be his : whatsoever any man giveth the priest, it shall be his.

11 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,
12 Speak unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, If any man's wife go aside, and commit a trespass against him,

13 And a man lie with her carnally, and it be hid from the eyes of her husband, and be kept close, and she be defiled, and there be no witness against her, neither she be taken with the manner ;

14 And the spirit of jealousy come upon him, and he be jealous of his wife, and she be defiled : or if the spirit of jealousy come upon him, and he be jealous of his wife, and she be not defiled :

15 Then shall the man bring his wife unto the priest, and he shall bring her offering for her, the tenth part of an ephah of barley meal ; he shall pour no oil upon it, nor put frankincense thereon ; for it is an offering of jealousy, an offering of memorial, bringing iniquity to remembrance.

16 And the priest shall bring her near, and set her before the LORD :

17 And the priest shall take holy water in an earthen vessel ; and of the dust that is in the floor of the tabernacle the priest shall take, and put it into the water :

18 And the priest shall set the woman before the LORD, and uncover the woman's head, and put the offering of memorial in her hands, which is the jealousy offering : and the priest shall have in his hand the bitter water that causeth the curse :

19 And the priest shall charge her by an oath, and say unto the woman, If no man have lain with thee, and if thou hast not gone aside to uncleanness with another instead of thy husband, be thou free from this bitter water that causeth the curse :

20 But if thou hast gone aside to another instead of thy husband, and if thou be defiled, and some man have lain with thee beside thine husband :

21 Then the priest shall charge the woman with an oath of cursing, and the priest shall say unto the woman, The LORD make thee a curse and an oath among thy people, when the LORD doth make thy thigh to rot, and thy belly to swell ;

22 And this water that causeth the curse shall go into thy bowels, to make thy belly to swell, and thy thigh to rot : And the woman shall say, Amen, amen.

23 And the priest shall write these curses in a book, and he shall blot them out with the bitter water :

24 And he shall cause the woman to drink the bitter water that causeth the curse : and the water that causeth the curse shall enter into her, and become bitter.

25 Then the priest shall take the jealousy offering out of the woman's hand, and shall wave the offering before the LORD, and offer it upon the altar :

26 And the priest shall take an handful of the offering, even the memorial thereof, and burn it upon the altar, and afterward shall cause the woman to drink the water.

27 And when he hath made her to drink the water, then it shall come to pass, that, if she be defiled, and have done trespass against her husband, that the water that causeth the curse shall enter into her, and become bitter, and her belly shall swell, and her thigh shall rot : and the woman shall be a curse among her people.

28 And if the woman be not defiled, but be clean ; then she shall be free, and shall conceive seed.

29 This is the law of jealousies, when a wife goeth aside to another instead of her husband, and is defiled ;

30 Or when the spirit of jealousy cometh upon him, and he be jealous over his wife, and shall set the woman before the LORD, and the priest shall execute upon her all this law.

31 Then shall the man be guiltless from iniquity, and this woman shall bear her iniquity.

CHAPTER 6.

1 Law of the Nazarites. 22 Form of blessing the people.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,
2 Speak unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, When either man or woman shall separate themselves to vow a vow of a Nāz'a-rīte, to separate themselves unto the LORD :

3 He shall separate himself from wine and strong drink, and shall drink no vinegar of wine, or vinegar of strong drink, neither shall he drink any liquor of grapes, nor eat moist grapes, or dried.

4 All the days of his separation shall he eat nothing that is made of the vine tree, from the kernels even to the husk.

5 All the days of the vow of his separation there shall no razor come upon his head : until the days be fulfilled, in the which he separateth himself unto the LORD, he shall be holy, and shall let the locks of the hair of his head grow.

6 All the days that he separateth himself unto the LORD he shall come at no dead body.

7 He shall not make himself unclean for his father, or for his mother, for his brother, or for his sister, when they die : because the consecration of his God is upon his head.

8 All the days of his separation he is holy unto the LORD.

9 And if any man die very suddenly by him, and he hath defiled the head of his consecration ; then he shall shave his head in the day of his cleansing, on the seventh day shall he shave it.

10 And on the eighth day he shall bring two turtles, or two young pigeons, to the priest, to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation :

11 And the priest shall offer the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering, and make an atonement for him, for that he sinned by the dead, and shall hallow his head that same day.

12 And he shall consecrate unto the LORD the days of his separation, and shall bring a lamb of the first year for a trespass offering: but the days that were before shall ^bbe lost, because his separation was defiled.

13 ¶ And this is the law of the Nāz'a-rīte, when ^othe days of his separation are fulfilled: he shall be brought unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation:

14 And he shall offer his offering unto the LORD, one he lamb of the first year without blemish for a burnt offering, and one ewe lamb of the first year without blemish ^hfor a sin offering, and one ram without blemish ⁱfor peace offerings,

15 And a basket of unleavened bread, ^jcakes of fine flour mingled with oil, and wafers of unleavened bread ^kanointed with oil, and their meat offering, and their ^ldrink offerings.

16 And the priest shall bring them before the LORD, and shall offer his sin offering, and his burnt offering:

17 And he shall offer the ram for a sacrifice of peace offerings unto the LORD, with the basket of unleavened bread: the priest shall offer also his meat offering, and his drink offering.

18 And ^mthe Nāz'a-rīte shall shave the head of his separation at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall take the hair of the head of his separation, and ⁿput it in the fire which is under the sacrifice of the peace offerings.

19 And the priest shall take the ^osodden shoulder of the ram, and one unleavened cake out of the basket, and one unleavened wafer, and ^pshall put them upon the hands of the Nāz'a-rīte, after the hair of his separation is shaven:

20 And the priest shall wave ^qthem for a wave offering before the LORD: this is holy for the priest, with the wave breast and heave shoulder: and ^rafter that the Nāz'a-rīte may drink wine.

21 This is the law of the Nāz'a-rīte who hath vowed, and of his offering unto the LORD for his separation, beside that that his hand shall get: according to the vow which he vowed, so he must do after the law of his separation.

22 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,

23 Speak unto Aâr'on and unto his sons, saying, On this wise ^sye shall bless the children of Īš'ra-el, saying unto them,

24 The LORD ^tbless thee, and ^ukeep thee:

25 The LORD ^vmake his face shine upon thee, and ^wbe gracious unto thee:

26 The ^xLORD lift up his countenance upon thee, and ^ygive thee peace.

27 And ^zthey shall put my name upon the children of Īš'ra-el; and ^aI will bless them.

of their fathers, who were the princes of the tribes, ¹and were over them that were numbered, ^boffered:

3 And they brought their offering before the LORD, six covered wagons, and twelve oxen; a wagon for two of the princes, and for each one an ox: and they brought them before the tabernacle.

4 And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,

5 Take it of them, that they may be to do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation; and thou shalt give them unto the Lē'vītes, to every man according to his service.

6 And Mō'seš took the wagons and the oxen, and gave them unto the Lē'vītes.

7 Two wagons and four oxen he gave unto the sons of Ĝēr'shōn, according to their service:

8 And four wagons and eight oxen he gave unto the sons of Mē-rā'rī, according to their service, under the hand of Īth'a-mār the son of Aâr'on the priest.

9 But unto the sons of Kō'hath he gave none: because the service of the sanctuary belonging unto them ^cwas that they should bear upon their shoulders.

10 ¶ And the princes offered ^dfor dedicating of the altar in the day that it was anointed, even the princes offered their offering before the altar.

11 And the LORD said unto Mō'seš, They shall offer their offering, each prince ^eon his day, for the dedicating of the altar.

12 ¶ And he that offered his offering the first day was Nāh'shon the son of Ām-mīn'a-dab, of the tribe of Jū'dah:

13 And his offering was one silver charger, the ^fweight thereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after ²the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them were full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:

14 One ^gspoon of ten shekels of gold, full of ^hincense:

15 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:

16 One kid of the goats for ⁱa sin offering:

17 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Nāh'shon ^jthe son of Ām-mīn'a-dab.

18 ¶ On the second day Nē-thān'e-el the son of Zū'ar, prince of Īs'sa-char, did offer:

19 He offered for his offering one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:

20 One spoon of gold of ten shekels, full of incense:

21 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for ^ka burnt offering:

22 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:

23 And for a sacrifice of ^lpeace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Nē-thān'e-el the son of Zū'ar.

24 ¶ On the third day Ē-lī'ab the son of Hē'lon, prince of the children of Zēb'u-lun, did offer:

25 His offering was one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:

26 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense:

27 One young bullock, one ram, one ^mlamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:

28 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:

29 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Ē-lī'ab the son of Hē'lon.

30 ¶ On the fourth day Ē-lī'zūr the son of Shēd'ē-ur, prince of the children of Reu'ben, did offer:

31 His offering was one silver charger of the weight of an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:

32 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense:

33 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:

34 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:

35 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Ē-lī'zūr the son of Shēd'ē-ur.

36 ¶ On the fifth day Shē-lū'mī-el the son of Zū-rī-shād'da-ī, prince of the children of Sīm'e-on, did offer:

37 His offering was one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:

38 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense:

39 One young bullock, one ram, one ⁿlamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:

40 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:

41 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Shē-lū'mī-el the son of Zū-rī-shād'da-ī.

42 ¶ On the sixth day ^oĒ-lī'a-sāph the son of Deū'el, prince of the children of Gād, offered:

43 His offering was one silver charger of the weight of an hundred and thirty shekels, a silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with ^poil for a meat offering:

44 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense:

45 One ^qyoung bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:

46 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:

47 And for a sacrifice of ^rpeace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Ē-lī'a-sāph the son of Deū'el.

48 ¶ On the seventh day ^rĒ-līsh'a-mā the son of Ām-mī'hūd, prince of the children of Ē'phrā-īm, offered:

76 One kid of the goats for a sin offering :

77 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year : this was the offering of Pā'gi-el the son of Ōc'ran.

78 ¶ On the twelfth day ^hĀ-hī'rā the son of Ē'nan, prince of the children of Nāph'ta-li, offered :

79 His offering was one ⁱsilver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary ; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering :

80 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense :

81 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering :

82 One kid of the goats for a sin offering :

83 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year : this was the offering of Ā-hī'rā the son of Ē'nan.

84 This was ^jthe dedication of the altar, in the day when it was anointed, by ^kthe princes of Īṣ'ra-el : twelve chargers of silver, twelve silver bowls, twelve spoons of gold :

85 Each charger of silver weighing an hundred and thirty shekels, each bowl seventy : all the silver vessels weighed two thousand and four hundred shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary :

86 The golden spoons were twelve, full of incense, weighing ten shekels apiece, after the ^lshekel of the sanctuary : all the gold of the spoons was an hundred and twenty shekels.

87 All the oxen for the ^mburnt offering were twelve bullocks, the rams twelve, the lambs of the first year twelve, with their ⁿmeat offering : and the kids of the goats for sin offering twelve.

88 And all the oxen for the sacrifice of the peace offerings were twenty and four bullocks, the rams sixty, the he goats sixty, the lambs of the first year sixty. This was the dedication of the altar, after that it was anointed.

89 And when Mō'seṣ was gone into the tabernacle of the congregation ^oto speak with ⁵him, then he heard ^pthe voice of one speaking unto him from off the mercy seat that was upon the ark of testimony, from between ^qthe two cherubims : and he spake unto him.

1 Lighting of the lamps. 5 Separation of the Levites. 23 Term of their service.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,

2 Speak unto Aâr'on, and say unto him, When thou ^alightest the lamps, the seven lamps shall give light over against the candlestick.

3 And Aâr'on did so ; he lighted the lamps thereof over against the candlestick, as the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ.

4 And ^bthis work of the candlestick was of beaten gold, unto the shaft thereof, unto the flowers thereof, was ^cbeaten work : ^daccording unto the pattern which the LORD had shewed Mō'seṣ, so he made the candlestick.

5 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,

8 Then let them take a young bullock with ⁹his meat offering, even fine flour mingled with oil, and another young bullock shalt thou take for a sin offering.

9 And ^hthou shalt bring the Lē'vites before the tabernacle of the congregation : ⁱand thou shalt gather the whole assembly of the children of Īṣ'ra-el together :

10 And thou shalt bring the Lē'vites before the LORD : and the children of Īṣ'ra-el ^jshall put their hands upon the Lē'vites :

11 And Aâr'on shall ³offer the Lē'vites before the LORD for an ⁴offering of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, that ⁵they may execute the service of the LORD.

12 And ^kthe Lē'vites shall lay their hands upon the heads of the bullocks : and thou shalt offer the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering, unto the LORD, to make an atonement for the Lē'vites.

13 And thou shalt set the Lē'vites before Aâr'on, and before his sons, and offer them for an offering unto the LORD.

14 Thus shalt thou separate the Lē'vites from among the children of Īṣ'ra-el : and the Lē'vites shall be ^lmine.

15 And after that shall the Lē'vites go in to do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation : and thou shalt cleanse them, and ^moffer them for an offering.

16 For they are wholly given unto me from among the children of Īṣ'ra-el ; ⁿinstead of such as open every womb, even instead of the firstborn of all the children of Īṣ'ra-el, have I taken them unto me.

17 ^oFor all the firstborn of the children of Īṣ'ra-el are mine, both man and beast : on the day that I smote every firstborn in the land of Ē'gypt I sanctified them for myself.

18 And I have taken the Lē'vites for all the firstborn of the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

19 And ^pI have given the Lē'vites as ⁶a gift to Aâr'on and to his sons from among the children of Īṣ'ra-el, to do the service of the children of Īṣ'ra-el in the tabernacle of the congregation, and to make an atonement for the children of Īṣ'ra-el : ^qthat there be no plague among the children of Īṣ'ra-el, when the children of Īṣ'ra-el come nigh unto the sanctuary.

20 And Mō'seṣ, and Aâr'on, and all the congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, did to the Lē'vites according unto all that the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ concerning the Lē'vites, so did the children of Īṣ'ra-el unto them.

21 And the Lē'vites were purified, and they washed their clothes ; and ^rAâr'on offered them as an offering before the LORD ; and Aâr'on made an atonement for them to cleanse them.

22 And ^safter that went the Lē'vītes in to do their service in the tabernacle of the congregation before Aâr'on, and before his sons: as the LORD had commanded Mō'seş concerning the Lē'vītes, so did they unto them.

23 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

24 This is it that belongeth unto the 'Lē'vītes: from twenty and five years old and upward they shall go in ⁷ to wait upon the service of the tabernacle of the congregation:

25 And from the age of fifty years they shall ⁸cease waiting upon the service thereof, and shall serve no more:

26 But shall minister with their brethren in the tabernacle of the congregation, ^u to keep the charge, and shall do no service. Thus shalt thou do unto the Lē'vītes touching their charge.

CHAPTER 9.

¹ Concerning the passover. ¹⁵ The directing cloud.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seş in the wilderness of Sī'nāi, in the first month of the second year after they were come out of the land of Ē'gŷpt, saying,

2 Let the children of Īş'ra-el also keep ^athe passover at his appointed season.

3 In the fourteenth day of this month, ¹at even, ye shall keep it in his appointed season: according to all the rites of it, and according to all the ceremonies thereof, shall ye keep it.

4 And Mō'seş spake unto the children of Īş'ra-el, that they should keep the passover.

5 And ^bthey kept the passover on the fourteenth day of the first month at even in the wilderness of Sī'nāi: according to all that the LORD commanded Mō'seş, so did the children of Īş'ra-el.

6 ¶ And there were certain men, who were ^cdefiled by the dead body of a man, that they could not keep the passover on that day: and ^dthey came before Mō'seş and before Aâr'on on that day:

7 And those men said unto him, We are defiled by the dead body of a man: wherefore are we kept back, that we may ^enot offer an offering of the LORD in his appointed season among the children of Īş'ra-el?

8 And Mō'seş said unto them, Stand still, and ^fI will hear what the LORD will command concerning you.

9 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

10 Speak unto the children of Īş'ra-el, saying, If any man of you or of your posterity shall be unclean by reason of a dead body, or be in a journey afar off, yet he shall keep the passover unto the LORD.

11 The ^gfourteenth day of the second month at even they shall keep it, and ^heat it with unleavened bread and bitter herbs.

12 ⁱThey shall leave none of it unto the morning, ^jnor break any bone of it: ^kaccording to all the ordinances of the passover they shall keep it.

13 But the man that is clean, and is not in a journey, and forbeareth to keep the passover, even the same soul ^lshall be cut off from among his people:

because he brought not the offering of the LORD in his appointed season, that man shall ^mbear his sin.

14 And if a stranger shall sojourn among you, and will keep the passover unto the LORD; according to the ordinance of the passover, and according to the manner thereof, so shall he do: ⁿye shall have one ordinance, both for the ²stranger, and for him that was born in the land.

15 ¶ And on the day that the tabernacle was reared up the cloud covered the tabernacle, namely, the tent of the testimony: and ^oat even there was upon the tabernacle as it were the appearance of fire, until the morning.

16 So it was alway: the cloud covered it by day, and the appearance of fire by night.

17 And when the ^pcloud ^qwas taken up from the tabernacle, then after that the children of Īş'ra-el journeyed: and in the place where the cloud abode, there the children of Īş'ra-el pitched their tents.

18 At the commandment of the LORD the children of Īş'ra-el journeyed, and at the commandment of the LORD they pitched: ^ras long as the cloud abode upon the tabernacle they rested in their tents.

19 And when the cloud ³tarried long upon the tabernacle many days, then the children of Īş'ra-el kept the charge of the LORD, and journeyed not.

20 And so it was, when the cloud was a few days upon the tabernacle; according to the commandment of the LORD they abode in their tents, and according to the commandment of the LORD ^sthey journeyed.

21 And so it was, when the cloud ⁴abode from even unto the morning, and that the cloud was taken up in the morning, then they journeyed: whether it was by day or by night that the cloud was taken up, they journeyed.

22 Or whether it were two days, or a month, or a year, that the cloud tarried upon the tabernacle, remaining thereon, the children of Īş'ra-el abode in their tents, and journeyed not: ^tbut when it was taken up, they journeyed.

23 At the commandment of the LORD they rested in the tents, and ^uat the commandment of the LORD they journeyed: they kept the charge of the LORD, at the commandment of the LORD by the hand of Mō'seş.

CHAPTER 10.

¹ Use of the trumpets. ¹¹ Journey from Sinai to Paran. ³³ Blessing of Moses.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

2 Make thee two trumpets of silver; of a whole piece shalt thou make them: that thou mayest use them for the ^acalling of the assembly, and for the journeying of the camps.

3 And when ^bthey shall blow with them, all ^cthe assembly shall assemble themselves to thee at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

4 And if they blow but with one trumpet, then the princes, which are ^dheads of the thousands of Īş'ra-el, shall gather themselves unto thee.

5 When ye blow an alarm, then the ^ecamps that lie on the east parts shall go forward.

6 When ye blow an alarm the second time, then the camps that lie on the south side shall take their journey : they shall blow an alarm for their journeys.

7 But when the congregation is to be gathered together, ye shall blow, but ye shall not ^fsound an alarm.

8 And ^gthe sons of Aâr'ôn, the priests, shall blow with the trumpets ; and they shall be to you for an ordinance for ever throughout your generations.

9 And if ye go to war in your land against the enemy that ^hoppresseth you, then ye shall blow an alarm with the trumpets ; and ye shall be ⁱremembered before the LORD your God, and ye shall be saved from your enemies.

10 Also ^jin the day of your gladness, and in your solemn days, and in the beginnings of your months, ye shall blow with the trumpets over your burnt offerings, and over the sacrifices of your peace offerings ; that they may be to you ^kfor a memorial before your God : I am the LORD your God.

11 ¶ And it came to pass on the twentieth day of the second month, in the second year, that the cloud was ^ltaken up from off the tabernacle of the testimony.

12 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el took ^mtheir journeys out of the ⁿwilderness of Sî'nāi ; and the cloud rested in the ^owilderness of Pā'ran.

13 And they first took their journey ^paccording to the commandment of the LORD by the hand of Mō'seṣ.

14 ¶ In the first place went the standard of the camp of the children of Jū'dah according to their armies : and over his host was Nāh'shon the son of Ām-mīn'a-dab.

15 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Īs'sa-char was Nē-thān'e-el the son of Zū'ar.

16 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Zēb'u-lun was Ē-lī'ab the son of Hē'lon.

17 And ^qthe tabernacle was taken down ; and the sons of Ġēr'shōn and the sons of Mē-rā'rī set forward, ^rbearing the tabernacle.

18 ¶ And the standard of the camp of Reu'ben set forward according to their armies : and over his host was Ē-lī'zūr the son of Shēd'ē-ur.

19 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Sīm'e-on was Shē-lū'mī-el the son of Zū-rī-shād-da-ī.

20 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Gād was Ē-lī'a-sāph the son of Deū'el.

21 And the Kō'hath-ites set forward, bearing the ¹sanctuary : and ²the other did set up the tabernacle against they came.

22 ¶ And the standard of the camp of the children of Ē'phrā-īm set forward according to their armies : and over his host was Ē-līsh'a-mā the son of Ām-mī'hūd.

23 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Mā-nās'seh was Gā-mā'lī-el the son of Pē-dāh'zur.

24 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Bēn'ja-min was Āb'i-dān the son of Ġīd-e-ō'nī.

25 ¶ And ^sthe standard of the camp of the children of Dān set forward, which was the rereward of all the camps throughout their hosts : and over his host was Ā-hī-ē'zēr the son of Ām-mī-shād-da-ī.

26 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Āsh'ēr was Pā'gī-el the son of Ōc'ran.

27 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Nāph'ta-lī was Ā-hī'rā the son of Ē'nan.

28 ³ⁱThus were the journeyings of the children of Īṣ'ra-el according to their armies, when they set forward.

29 ¶ And Mō'seṣ said unto Hō'bāb, the son of ^uRā-gū'el the Mīd'i-an-ite, Mō'seṣ' father in law, We are journeying unto the place of which the LORD said, ^vI will give it you : come thou with us, and ^wwe will do thee good : for ^xthe LORD hath spoken good concerning Īṣ'ra-el.

30 And he said unto him, I will not go ; but I will depart to mine own land, and to my kindred.

31 And he said, Leave us not, I pray thee ; forasmuch as thou knowest how we are to encamp in the wilderness, and thou mayest be to us ^yinstead of eyes.

32 And it shall be, if thou go with us, yea, it shall be, that what goodness the LORD shall do unto us, the same will we do unto thee.

33 ¶ And they departed from ^zthe mount of the LORD three days' journey : and the ark of the covenant of the LORD ^awent before them in the three days' journey, to search out a resting place for them.

34 And ^bthe cloud of the LORD was upon them by day, when they went out of the camp.

35 And it came to pass, when the ark set forward, that Mō'seṣ said, ^cRise up, LORD, and let thine enemies be scattered ; and let them that hate thee flee before thee.

36 And when it rested, he said, Return, ^dO LORD, unto the ⁴many thousands of Īṣ'ra-el.

CHAPTER 11.

1 Lusting for flesh. 10 Complaint of Moses. 16 The seventy elders. 31 Quails sent.

AND ^awhen the people ¹complained, ²it displeased the LORD : and the LORD heard it ; and his anger was kindled ; and the ^bfire of the LORD burnt among them, and consumed them that were in the uttermost parts of the camp.

2 And the people cried unto Mō'seṣ ; and when Mō'seṣ ^cprayed unto the LORD, the fire ³was quenched.

3 And he called the name of the place ⁴Tāb'e-rah : because the fire of the LORD burnt among them.

4 ¶ And the ^dmixt multitude that was among them ⁵fell a lusting : and the children of Īṣ'ra-el also ⁶wept again, and said, ^eWho shall give us flesh to eat ?

5 ^fWe remember the fish, which we did eat in Ē'gypt freely ; the cucumbers, and the melons, and the leeks, and the onions, and the garlick :

6 But now our soul is dried away : there is nothing at all, beside this manna, before our eyes.

7 And the manna was as coriander seed, and the ⁷colour thereof as the colour of ^gbdellium.

8 And the people went about, and gathered it, and ground it in mills, or beat it in a mortar, and baked it in pans, and made cakes of it : and the taste of it was as the taste of fresh oil.

9 And when the dew fell upon the camp in the night, the manna fell upon it.

10 ¶ Then Mō'seş heard the people weep throughout their families, every man in the door of his tent : and the anger of the LORD was kindled greatly ; Mō'seş also was displeased.

11 And ^hMō'seş said unto the LORD, Wherefore hast thou afflicted thy servant ? and wherefore have I not found favour in thy sight, that thou layest the burden of all this people upon me ?

12 Have I conceived all this people ? have I begotten them, that thou shouldest say unto me, 'Carry them in thy bosom, as a ^jnursing father beareth the sucking child, unto the land which thou ^kswarest unto their fathers ?

13 'Whence should I have flesh to give unto all this people ? for they weep unto me, saying, Give us flesh, that we may eat.

14 ^mI am not able to bear all this people alone, because it is too heavy for me.

15 And if thou deal thus with me, ⁿkill me, I pray thee, out of hand, if I have found favour in thy sight ; and let me not ^osee my wretchedness.

16 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seş, Gather unto me ^pseventy men of the elders of İş'ra-el, whom thou knowest to be the elders of the people, and officers over them ; and bring them unto the tabernacle of the congregation, that they may stand there with thee.

17 And I will ^qcome down and talk with thee there : and ^rI will take of the spirit which is upon thee, and will put it upon them ; and they shall bear the burden of the people with thee, that thou bear it not thyself alone.

18 And say thou unto the people, ^sSanctify yourselves against to-morrow, and ye shall eat flesh : for ye have wept 'in the ears of the LORD, saying, Who shall give us flesh to eat ? ^tfor it was well with us in Ē'gypt : therefore the LORD will give you flesh, and ye shall eat.

19 Ye shall not eat one day, nor two days, nor five days, neither ten days, nor twenty days ;

20 But even a ^uwhole month, until it come out at your nostrils, and it be loathsome unto you : because that ye have despised the LORD which is among you, and have wept before him, saying, Why came we forth out of Ē'gypt ?

21 And Mō'seş said, The people, among whom I am, are six hundred thousand footmen ; and thou hast said, I will give them flesh, that they may eat a whole month.

22 ^vShall the flocks and the herds be slain for them, to suffice them ? or shall all the fish of the sea be gathered together for them, to suffice them ?

23 And the LORD said unto Mō'seş, ^wIs the LORD's hand waxed short ? thou shalt see now whether ^xmy word shall come to pass unto thee or not.

24 ¶ And Mō'seş went out, and told the people the words of the LORD, and gathered the seventy men of the elders of the people, and set them round about the tabernacle.

25 And the LORD ^ycame down in a cloud, and spake unto him, and took of the spirit that was upon him, and gave it unto the seventy elders : and it came to pass, that, ^zwhen the spirit rested upon them, they ^aprophesied, and did not cease.

26 But there remained two of the men in the camp, the name of the one was Ēl'dād, and the name of the other Mē'dād : and the spirit rested upon them ; and they were of them that were written, but ^bwent not out unto the tabernacle : and they prophesied in the camp.

27 And there ran a young man, and told Mō'seş, and said, Ēl'dād and Mē'dād do prophesy in the camp.

28 And Jōsh'u-à the son of Nūn, the servant of Mō'seş, one of his young men, answered and said, My lord Mō'seş, ^cforbid them.

29 And Mō'seş said unto him, Enviest thou for my sake ? ^dwould God that all the LORD's people were prophets, and that the LORD would put his spirit upon them !

30 And Mō'seş gat him into the camp, he and the elders of İş'ra-el.

31 ¶ And there went forth a ^ewind from the LORD, and brought quails from the sea, and let them fall by the camp, as it were ⁹a day's journey on this side, and as it were a day's journey on the other side, round about the camp, and as it were two cubits high upon the face of the earth.

32 And the people stood up all that day, and all that night, and all the next day, and they gathered the quails : he that gathered least gathered ten ^fhomers : and they spread them all abroad for themselves round about the camp.

33 And while the ⁹flesh was yet between their teeth, ere it was chewed, the wrath of the LORD was kindled against the people, and the LORD smote the people with a very great plague.

34 And he called the name of that place ¹⁰Kīb'roth-hat-tā'a-vah : because there they buried the people that lusted.

35 And ^hthe people journeyed from Kīb'roth-hat-tā'a-vah unto Hā-zē'roth ; and ¹¹abode at Hā-zē'roth.

CHAPTER 12.

1 Sedition of Miriam and Aaron. 10 Miriam healed of leprosy.

AND Mīr'ī-am and Aâr'ōn spake against Mō'seş because of the ¹Ē-thī-ō'pī-an woman whom he had married : for ^ahe had ²married an Ē-thī-ō'pī-an woman.

2 And they said, Hath the LORD indeed spoken only by Mō'seş ? ^bhath he not spoken also by us ? And the LORD ^cheard it.

3 (Now the man Mō'seş was ^dvery meek, above all the men which were upon the face of the earth.)

4 And ^ethe LORD spake suddenly unto Mō'seş, and unto Aâr'ōn, and unto Mīr'ī-am, Come out ye three unto the tabernacle of the congregation. And they three came out.

5 And ^fthe LORD came down in the pillar of the cloud, and stood in the door of the tabernacle, and called Aâr'q̄n and Mîr'î-am : and they both came forth.

6 And he said, Hear now my words : If there be a prophet among you, I the LORD will make myself known unto him ^gin a vision, and will speak unto him ^hin a dream.

7 ⁱMy servant Mō's̄eṣ̄ is not so, ^jwho is faithful in all mine house.

8 With him will I speak ^kmouth to mouth, even ^lapparently, and not in dark speeches ; and ^mthe similitude of the LORD shall he behold : wherefore then ⁿwere ye not afraid to speak against my servant Mō's̄eṣ̄ ?

9 And the anger of the LORD was kindled against them ; and he departed.

10 And the cloud departed from off the tabernacle ; and, ^obehold, Mîr'î-am became ^pleprous, white as snow : and Aâr'q̄n looked upon Mîr'î-am, and, behold, she was leprous.

11 And Aâr'q̄n said unto Mō's̄eṣ̄, Alas, my lord, I beseech thee, ^qlay not the sin upon us, wherein we have done foolishly, and wherein we have sinned.

12 Let her not be ^ras one dead, of whom the flesh is half consumed when he cometh out of his mother's womb.

13 And Mō's̄eṣ̄ ^scried unto the LORD, saying, Heal her now, O God, I beseech thee.

14 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō's̄eṣ̄, ^tIf her father had but spit in her face, should she not be ashamed seven days ? let her be ^ushut out from the camp seven days, and after that let her be received in again.

15 And ^vMîr'î-am was shut out from the camp seven days : and the people journeyed not till Mîr'î-am was brought in again.

16 And afterward the people removed from Hā-zē'roth, and pitched in the wilderness of Pā'ran.

CHAPTER 13.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō's̄eṣ̄, saying, ² ^aSend thou men, that they may search the land of Cā'nāan, which I give unto the children of Īṣ̄'ra-el : of every tribe of their fathers shall ye send a man, every one a ruler among them.

3 And Mō's̄eṣ̄ by the commandment of the LORD sent them from the wilderness of Pā'ran : all those men were heads of the children of Īṣ̄'ra-el.

4 And these were their names : of the tribe of Reu'ben, Shām-mū'à the son of Zāc'cur.

5 Of the tribe of Sîm'ē-on, Shā'phat the son of Hō'rî.

6 Of the tribe of Jū'dah, ^bCā'leb the son of Jē-phūn'neh.

13 Of the tribe of Āsh'ēr, Sē'thūr the son of Mî'chaël.

14 Of the tribe of Nāph'tā-lî, Nāh'bî the son of Vōph's̄î.

15 Of the tribe of Gād, Ġē-ū'el the son of Mā'chî.

16 These are the names of the men which Mō's̄eṣ̄ sent to spy out the land. And Mō's̄eṣ̄ called ^cŌ-shē'à the son of Nūn ¹Jē-hōsh'u-ā.

17 ¶ And Mō's̄eṣ̄ sent them to spy out the land of Cā'nāan, and said unto them, Get you up this way ²southward, and go up into ^dthe mountain :

18 And see the land, what it is; and the people that dwelleth therein, whether they be strong or weak, few or many ;

19 And what the land is that they dwell in, whether it be good or bad ; and what cities they be that they dwell in, whether in tents, or in strong holds ;

20 And what the land is, whether it be ^efat or lean, whether there be wood therein, or not. And ^fbe ye of good courage, and bring of the fruit of the land. Now the time was the time of the first-ripe grapes.

21 ¶ So they went up, and searched the land from the wilderness of Zîn unto Rē'hōb, as men come to Hā'math.

22 And they ascended by the south, and came unto Hē'bron ; where ^gĀ-hî'mān, Shē'shāi, and Tāl'māi, the children of Ā'nāk, were. (Now Hē'bron was built seven years before ^hZō'an in Ē'ḡypt.)

23 And they came unto the ³brook of Ēsh'cōl, and cut down from thence a branch with one cluster of grapes, and they bare it between two upon a staff ; and they brought of the pomegranates, and of the figs.

24 The place was called the ⁴brook ⁵Ēsh'cōl, because of the cluster of grapes which the children of Īṣ̄'ra-el cut down from thence.

25 And they returned from searching of the land after forty days.

26 ¶ And they went and came to Mō's̄eṣ̄, and to Aâr'q̄n, and to all the congregation of the children of Īṣ̄'ra-el, unto the wilderness of Pā'ran, to Kā'desh ; and brought back word unto them, and unto all the congregation, and shewed them the fruit of the land.

27 And they told him, and said, We came unto the land whither thou sentest us, and surely it floweth with ⁱmilk and honey ; ^jand this is the fruit of it.

28 Nevertheless ^kthe people be strong that dwell in the land, and the cities are walled, and very great : and moreover we saw the children of Ā'nāk there.

29 The ^lĀm'a-lēk-îtes dwell in the land of the south : and the Hî'tîtes, and the Jēb'u-sîtes, and the Ām'ôr-îtes, dwell in the mountains : and the Cā'nāan-îtes dwell by the sea, and by the coast of Jôr'dān.

30 And ^mCā'leb stilled the people before Mō'seş, and said, Let us go up at once, and possess it; for we are well able to overcome it.

31 But the men that went up with him said, We be not able to go up against the people; for they are stronger than we.

32 And they ⁿbrought up an evil report of the land which they had searched unto the children of İş'ra-el, saying, The land, through which we have gone to search it, is a land that ^oeateth up the inhabitants thereof; and ^oall the people that we saw in it are ^rmen of a great stature.

33 And there we saw the giants, ^pthe sons of Ā'nāk, which come of the giants: and we were in our own sight ^qas grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight.

CHAPTER 14.

¹ The people murmur. ¹³ Moses intercedes. ²⁶ God's sentence.

AND all the congregation lifted up their voice, and cried; and the people wept that night.

2 And ^aall the children of İş'ra-el murmured against Mō'seş and against Aâr'on: and the whole congregation said unto them, ^bWould God that we had died in the land of Ē'ğypt! or would God we had died in this wilderness!

3 And wherefore hath the LORD brought us unto this land, to fall by the sword, that our wives and our children should be a prey? were it not better for us to return into Ē'ğypt?

4 And they said one to another, ^cLet us make a captain, and let us return into Ē'ğypt.

5 Then Mō'seş and Aâr'on fell on their faces before all the assembly of the congregation of the children of İş'ra-el.

6 ¶ And Jōsh'u-â the son of Nūn, and Cā'leb the son of Jē-phūn'neh, which were of them that searched the land, rent their clothes:

7 And they spake unto all the company of the children of İş'ra-el, saying, The land, which we passed through to search it, is an exceeding good land.

8 If the LORD ^ddelight in us, then he will bring us into this land, and give it us; ^ea land which floweth with milk and honey.

9 Only ^frebel not ye against the LORD, ^gneither fear ye the people of the land; for ^hthey are bread for us: their ⁱdefence is departed from them, ⁱand the LORD is with us: fear them not.

10 ^jBut all the congregation bade stone them with stones. And ^kthe glory of the LORD appeared in the tabernacle of the congregation before all the children of İş'ra-el.

11 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seş, How long will this people ^lprovoke me? and how long will it be ere they ^mbelieve me, for all the signs which I have shewed among them?

12 I will smite them with the pestilence, and disinherit them, and ⁿwill make of thee a greater nation and mightier than they.

13 ¶ And ^oMō'seş said unto the LORD, Then the Ē-ğypt'ians shall hear it, (for thou broughtest up this people in thy might from among them;)

15 ¶ Now if thou shalt kill ^rall this people as one man, then the nations which have heard the fame of thee will speak, saying,

16 Because the LORD was not ^rable to bring this people into the land which he sware unto them, therefore he hath slain them in the wilderness.

17 And now, I beseech thee, let the power of my Lord be great, according as thou hast spoken, saying,

18 The LORD is ^slongsuffering, and of great mercy, forgiving iniquity and transgression, and by no means clearing ^tthe guilty, ^tvisiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation.

19 Pardon, I beseech thee, the iniquity of this people according unto the greatness of thy mercy, and as thou hast forgiven this people, from Ē'ğypt ^ueven until now.

20 And the LORD said, I ^vhave pardoned according to thy word:

21 But ^vas truly as I live, ^vall the earth shall be filled with the glory of the LORD.

22 ^wBecause all those men which have seen my glory, and my miracles, which I did in Ē'ğypt and in the wilderness, and have tempted me now ^xthese ten times, and have not hearkened to my voice;

23 ^ySurely they shall not see the land which I sware unto their fathers, neither shall any of them that provoked me see it:

24 But my servant Cā'leb, because he had another spirit with him, and hath followed me fully, him will I bring into the land whereinto he went; and ^zhis seed shall possess it.

25 (Now the Ām'a-lēk-ites and the Cā'nāan-ites dwelt in the valley.) To morrow turn you, and get you into the wilderness by the way of the Red sea.

26 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş and unto Aâr'on, saying,

27 ^oHow long shall I bear with this evil congregation, which murmur against me? ^bI have heard the murmurings of the children of İş'ra-el, which they murmur against me.

28 Say unto them, ^cAs truly as I live, saith the LORD, as ye have spoken in mine ears, so will I do to you:

29 Your carcasses shall fall in this wilderness; and ^dall that were numbered of you, according to your whole number, from twenty years old and upward, which have murmured against me,

30 Doubtless ye shall not come into the land, concerning which I ^esware to make you dwell therein, ^esave Cā'leb the son of Jē-phūn'neh, and Jōsh'u-â the son of Nūn.

31 But your little ones, which ye said should be a prey, them will I bring in, and they shall know the land which ^fye have despised.

32 But as for you, ^g your carcasses, they shall fall in this wilderness.

33 And your children shall ^{5h} wander in the wilderness ⁱ forty years, and bear your whoredoms, until your carcasses be wasted in the wilderness.

34 ^j After the number of the days in which ye searched the land, even ^k forty days, each day for a year, shall ye bear your iniquities, even forty years, ^l and ye shall know my ⁶ breach of promise.

35 ^m I the LORD have said, I will surely do it unto all this evil congregation, that are gathered together against me: in this wilderness they shall be consumed, and there they shall die.

36 And ⁿ the men, which Mō'seş sent to search the land, who returned, and made all the congregation to murmur against him, by bringing up a slander upon the land,

37 Even those men that did bring up the evil report upon the land, ^o died by the plague before the LORD.

38 ^p But Jōsh'u-à the son of Nūn, and Cā'leb the son of Jē-phūn'neh, which were of the men that went to search the land, lived still.

39 And Mō'seş told these sayings unto all the children of İş'ra-el: and ^q the people mourned greatly.

40 ¶ And they rose up early in the morning, and gat them up into the top of the mountain, saying, Lo, ^r we be here, and will go up unto the place which the LORD hath promised: for we have sinned.

41 And Mō'seş said, Wherefore now do ye transgress ^s the commandment of ^t the LORD? but it shall not prosper.

42 ^u Go not up, for the LORD is not among you; that ye be not smitten before your enemies.

43 For the Ām'a-lēk-ītes and the Cā'nāan-ītes are there before you, and ye shall fall by the sword: ^v because ye are turned away from the LORD, therefore the LORD will not be with you.

44 But they presumed to go up unto the hill top: nevertheless the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and Mō'seş, departed not out of the camp.

45 Then the Ām'a-lēk-ītes came down, and the Cā'nāan-ītes which dwelt in that hill, and smote them, and discomfited them, even unto Hōr'mah.

7 And for a drink offering thou shalt offer the third part of an hin of wine, for a sweet savour unto the LORD.

8 And when thou preparest a bullock for a burnt offering, or for a sacrifice in performing a vow, or ^j peace offerings unto the LORD:

9 Then shall he bring with a bullock a meat offering of three tenth deals of flour mingled with half an hin of oil.

10 And thou shalt bring for a drink offering half an hin of wine, for an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD.

11 Thus shall it be done for one bullock, or for one ram, or for a lamb, or a kid.

12 According to the number that ye shall prepare, so shall ye do to every one according to their number.

13 All that are born of the country shall do these things after this manner, in offering an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD.

14 And if a stranger sojourn with you, or whosoever be among you in your generations, and will offer an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD; as ye do, so he shall do.

15 ^k One ordinance shall be both for you of the congregation, and also for the stranger that sojourneth with you, an ordinance for ever in your generations: as ye are, so shall the stranger be before the LORD.

16 One law and one manner shall be for you, and for the stranger that sojourneth with you.

17 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

18 Speak unto the children of İş'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye come into the land whither I bring you,

19 Then it shall be, that, when ye eat of the ¹ bread of the land, ye shall offer up an heave offering unto the LORD.

20 ^m Ye shall offer up a cake of the first of your dough for an heave offering: as ye do ⁿ the heave offering of the threshingfloor, so shall ye heave it.

21 Of the first of your dough ye shall give unto the LORD an heave offering in your generations.

22 ¶ And ^o if ye have erred, and not observed all these commandments, which the LORD hath spoken unto Mō'seş,

23 Even all that the LORD hath commanded you by the hand of Mō'seş, from the day that the LORD commanded Mō'seş, and henceforward among your generations;

24 Then it shall be, ^p if ought be committed by ignorance ² without the knowledge of the congregation, that all the congregation shall offer one young bullock for a burnt offering, for a sweet savour unto the LORD, with his meat offering, and his drink offering, according to the ³ manner, and ^q one kid of the goats for a sin offering.

25 And ^r the priest shall make an atonement for all the congregation of the children of İş'ra-el, and it shall be forgiven them ; for it is ignorance : and they shall bring their offering, a sacrifice made by fire unto the LORD, and their sin offering before the LORD, for their ignorance :

26 And it shall be forgiven all the congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and the stranger that sojourneth among them ; seeing all the people were in ignorance.

27 ¶ And ^sif any soul sin through ignorance, then he shall bring a she goat of the first year for a sin offering.

28 And ^tthe priest shall make an atonement for the soul that sinneth ignorantly, when he sinneth by ignorance before the LORD, to make an atonement for him ; and it shall be forgiven him.

29 Ye shall have one law for him that ⁴sinneth through ignorance, both for him that is born among the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and for the stranger that sojourneth among them.

30 ¶ But ^uthe soul that doeth ought ⁵presumptuously, whether he be born in the land, or a stranger, the same reproacheth the LORD ; and that soul shall be cut off from among his people.

31 Because he hath ^vdespised the word of the LORD, and hath broken his commandment, that soul shall utterly be cut off ; ^whis iniquity shall be upon him.

32 ¶ And while the children of Īṣ'ra-el were in the wilderness, ^xthey found a man that gathered sticks upon the sabbath day.

33 And they that found him gathering sticks brought him unto Mō'seṣ and Aâr'ōn, and unto all the congregation.

34 And they put him ^yin ward, because it was not declared what should be done to him.

35 And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, ^zThe man shall be surely put to death : all the congregation shall ^astone him with stones without the camp.

36 And all the congregation brought him without the camp, and stoned him with stones, and he died ; as the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ.

37 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,

38 Speak unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and bid ^bthem that they make them fringes in the borders of their garments throughout their generations, and that they put upon the fringe of the borders a ribband of blue :

39 And it shall be unto you for a fringe, that ye may look upon it, and remember all the commandments of the LORD, and do them ; and that ye ^cseek not after your own heart and your own eyes, after which ye use ^dto go a whoring :

2 And they rose up before Mō'seṣ, with certain of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, two hundred and fifty princes of the assembly, ^bfamous in the congregation, men of renown :

3 And ^cthey gathered themselves together against Mō'seṣ and against Aâr'ōn, and said unto them, ¹Ye take too much upon you, seeing ^dall the congregation are holy, every one of them, ^eand the LORD is among them : wherefore then lift ye up yourselves above the congregation of the LORD ?

4 And when Mō'seṣ heard it, ^fhe fell upon his face :

5 And he spake unto Kō'rah and unto all his company, saying, Even to morrow the LORD will shew ^gwho are his, and who is ^hholy ; and will cause him to come near unto him : even him whom he hath ⁱchosen will he cause to ^jcome near unto him.

6 This do ; Take you censers, Kō'rah, and all his company ;

7 And put fire therein, and put incense in them before the LORD to morrow : and it shall be that the man whom the LORD doth choose, he shall be holy : ye take too much upon you, ye sons of Lē'vī.

8 And Mō'seṣ said unto Kō'rah, Hear, I pray you, ye sons of Lē'vī :

9 Seemeth it but ^ka small thing unto you, that the God of Īṣ'ra-el hath ^lseparated you from the congregation of Īṣ'ra-el, to bring you near to himself to do the service of the tabernacle of the LORD, and to stand before the congregation to minister unto them ?

10 And he hath brought thee near to him, and all thy brethren the sons of Lē'vī with thee : and seek ye the priesthood also ?

11 For which cause both thou and all thy company are gathered together against the LORD : ^mand what is Aâr'ōn, that ye murmur against him ?

12 ¶ And Mō'seṣ sent to call Dā'than and Ā-bī'rām, the sons of Ē-lī'ab : which said, We will not come up :

13 Is it a small thing that thou hast brought us up out of a land that floweth with milk and honey, to kill us in the wilderness, except thou ⁿmake thyself altogether a prince over us ?

14 Moreover thou hast not brought us into ^aa land that floweth with milk and honey, or given us inheritance of fields and vineyards : wilt thou ²put out the eyes of these men ? we will not come up.

15 And Mō'seṣ was very wroth, and said unto the LORD, ^pRespect not thou their offering : ^qI have not taken one ass from them, neither have I hurt one of them.

16 And Mō'seṣ said unto Kō'rah, Be thou and all thy company before the LORD, thou, and they, and Aâr'ōn, to morrow :

17 And take every man his censor, and put incense in them, and bring ye before the LORD every man his censor, two hundred and fifty censers ; thou also, and Aâr'ōn, each of you his censor.

18 And they took every man his censor, and put fire in them, and laid incense thereon, and stood in the door of the tabernacle of the congregation with Mō'seṣ and Aâr'ōn.

19 And Kō'rah gathered all the congregation against them unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and ^rthe glory of the LORD appeared unto all the congregation.

20 And the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ and unto Aâr'ōn, saying,

21 ^sSeparate yourselves from among this congregation, that I may ^tconsume them in a moment.

22 And they fell upon their faces, and said, O God, ^uthe God of the spirits of all flesh, shall ^vone man sin, and wilt thou be wroth with all the congregation?

23 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,

24 Speak unto the congregation, saying, Get you up from about the tabernacle of Kō'rah, Dā'than, and Ā-bī'rām.

25 And Mō'seṣ rose up and went unto Dā'than and Ā-bī'rām; and the elders of Īṣ'ra-el followed him.

26 And he spake unto the congregation, saying, ^wDepart, I pray you, from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing of theirs, lest ye be consumed in all their sins.

27 So they gat up from the tabernacle of Kō'rah, Dā'than, and Ā-bī'rām, on every side: and Dā'than and Ā-bī'rām came out, and stood ^xin the door of their tents, and their wives, and their sons, and their little children.

28 And Mō'seṣ said, ^yHereby ye shall know that the LORD hath sent me to do all these works; for I have not done them ^zof mine own mind.

29 If these men die ³the common death of all men, or if they be ^avisited after the visitation of all men; then the LORD hath not sent me.

30 But if the LORD ⁴make ^ba new thing, and the earth open her mouth, and swallow them up, with all that appertain unto them, and they ^cgo down quick into the pit; then ye shall understand that these men have provoked the LORD.

31 ¶ And ^dit came to pass, as he had made an end of speaking all these words, that the ground clave asunder that was under them:

32 And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and ^eall the men that appertained unto Kō'rah, and all their goods.

33 They, and all that appertained to them, went down alive into the pit, and the earth closed upon them: and they perished from among the congregation.

34 And all Īṣ'ra-el that were round about them fled at the cry of them: for they said, Lest the earth swallow us up also.

35 And there ^fcame out a fire from the LORD, and consumed the two hundred and fifty men that offered incense.

36 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,

37 Speak unto Ē-le-ā'zar the son of Aâr'ōn the priest, that he take up the censers out of the burning, and scatter thou the fire yonder; for they are hallowed.

38 The censers of these ^gsinners against their own souls, let them make them broad plates for a covering of the altar: for they offered them before the LORD, therefore they are hallowed: ^hand they shall be a sign unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

39 And Ē-le-ā'zar the priest took the brasen censers, wherewith they that were burnt had offered; and they were made broad plates for a covering of the altar:

40 To be a memorial unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, ⁱthat no stranger, which is not of the seed of Aâr'ōn, come near to offer incense before the LORD; that he be not as Kō'rah, and as his company: as the LORD said to him by the hand of Mō'seṣ.

41 ¶ But on the morrow ^jall the congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el murmured against Mō'seṣ and against Aâr'ōn, saying, Ye have killed the people of the LORD.

42 And it came to pass, when the congregation was gathered against Mō'seṣ and against Aâr'ōn, that they looked toward the tabernacle of the congregation: and, behold, the ^kcloud covered it, and the glory of the LORD appeared.

43 And Mō'seṣ and Aâr'ōn came before the tabernacle of the congregation.

44 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,

45 Get you up from among this congregation, that I may consume them as in a moment. And ^lthey fell upon their faces.

46 ¶ And Mō'seṣ said unto Aâr'ōn, Take a censer, and put fire therein from off the altar, and put on incense, and go quickly unto the congregation, and make an atonement for them: ^mfor there is wrath gone out from the LORD; the plague is begun.

47 And Aâr'ōn took as Mō'seṣ commanded, and ran into the midst of the congregation; and, behold, the plague was begun among the people: and he put on incense, and made an atonement for the people.

48 And he ⁿstood between the dead and the living; and the plague was stayed.

49 Now they that died in the plague were fourteen thousand and seven hundred, beside them that died about the matter of Kō'rah.

50 And Aâr'ōn returned unto Mō'seṣ unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and the plague was stayed.

CHAPTER 17.

1 The budding of Aaron's rod. 10 A token against rebels.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,
2 Speak unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and take of every one of them a rod according to the house of their fathers, of all their princes according to the house of their fathers twelve rods: write thou every man's name upon his rod.

3 And thou shalt write Aâr'ōn's name upon the rod of Lē'vī: for one rod shall be for the head of the house of their fathers.

4 And thou shalt lay them up in the tabernacle of the congregation before the testimony, ^awhere I will meet with you.

5 And it shall come to pass, that the man's rod, ^bwhom I shall choose, shall blossom: and I will make to cease from me the murmurings of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, whereby they murmur against you.

6 ¶ And Mō'seṣ spake unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and every one of their princes gave him ¹a rod apiece, for each prince one, according to their fathers' houses, even twelve rods: and the rod of Aâr'ōn was among their rods.

7 And Mō'seṣ laid up the rods before the LORD in ^ethe tabernacle of witness.

8 And it came to pass, that on the morrow Mō'seṣ went into the tabernacle of witness; and, behold, the rod of Aâr'ōn for the house of Lē'vī was ^dbudded, and brought forth buds, and bloomed blossoms, and yielded almonds.

9 And Mō'seṣ brought out all the rods from before the LORD unto all the children of Īṣ'ra-el: and they looked, and took every man his rod.

10 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, Bring ^eAâr'ōn's rod again before the testimony, to be kept for ^fa token against the ²rebels; and thou shalt quite take away their murmurings from me, that they die not.

11 And Mō'seṣ did so: as the LORD commanded him, so did he.

12 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying, Behold, we die, we perish, we all perish.

13 ^gWhosoever cometh any thing near unto the tabernacle of the LORD shall die: shall we be consumed with dying?

CHAPTER 18.

¹ The Levitical charge. ⁹ Portion of the priests. ²⁵ The heave offering.

AND the LORD said unto Aâr'ōn, ^aThou and thy sons and thy father's house with thee shall ¹bear the iniquity of the sanctuary: and thou and thy sons with thee shall bear the iniquity of your priesthood.

2 And thy brethren also of the tribe of Lē'vī, the tribe of thy father, bring thou with thee, that they may be ^bjoined unto thee, and ^cminister unto thee: but thou and thy sons with thee shall minister before the tabernacle of witness.

3 And they shall keep thy charge, and the ^dcharge of all the tabernacle: ^eonly they shall not come nigh the vessels of the sanctuary and the altar, ^fthat neither they, nor ye also, die.

4 And they shall be joined unto thee, and keep the charge of the tabernacle of the congregation, for all the service of the tabernacle: and a stranger shall not come nigh unto you.

5 And ye shall keep ^gthe charge of the sanctuary, and the charge of the altar: that there be no wrath any more upon the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

6 And I, behold, I have ^htaken your brethren the Lē'vītes from among the children of Īṣ'ra-el: to you they are given as a gift for the LORD, to do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation.

7 Therefore thou and thy sons with thee shall keep your priest's office for every thing of the altar, and ⁱwithin the veil; and ye shall serve: I have given your priest's office unto you as a service of gift: and the ^jstranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.

9 This shall be thine of the most holy things, re-served from the fire: every oblation of theirs, every ^mmeat offering of theirs, and every ⁿsin offering of theirs, and every trespass offering of theirs, which they shall render unto me, shall be most holy for thee and for thy sons.

10 In the ²most holy place shalt thou eat it; every male shall eat it: it shall be holy unto thee.

11 And this is thine; ^othe heave offering of their gift, with all the wave offerings of the children of Īṣ'ra-el: I have given them unto thee, ^pand to thy sons and to thy daughters with thee, by a statute for ever: ^qevery one that is clean in thy house shall eat of it.

12 ^rAll the ³best of the oil, and all the best of the wine, and of the wheat, the firstfruits of them which they shall offer unto the LORD, them have I given thee.

13 And whatsoever is first ripe in the land, which they shall bring unto the LORD, shall be thine; every one that is clean in thine house shall eat of it.

14 ^sEvery thing devoted in Īṣ'ra-el shall be thine.

15 Every thing that openeth ^tthe matrix in all flesh, which they bring unto the LORD, whether it be of men or beasts, shall be thine: nevertheless ^uthe firstborn of man shalt thou surely redeem, and the firstling of unclean beasts shalt thou redeem.

16 And those that are to be redeemed from a month old shalt thou redeem, ^vaccording to thine estimation, for the money of five shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary, ^wwhich is twenty gerahs.

17 But ^xthe firstling of a cow, or the firstling of a sheep, or the firstling of a goat, thou shalt not redeem; they are holy: ^ythou shalt sprinkle their blood upon the altar, and shalt burn their fat for an offering made by fire, for a sweet savour unto the LORD.

18 And the flesh of them shall be thine, as the ^zwave breast and as the right shoulder are thine.

19 All the heave offerings of the holy things, which the children of Īṣ'ra-el offer unto the LORD, have I given thee, and thy sons and thy daughters with thee, by a statute for ever: it is ⁴a covenant of salt for ever before the LORD unto thee and to thy seed with thee.

20 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Aâr'ōn, Thou shalt have no inheritance in their land, neither shalt thou have any part among them: ^aI am thy part and thine inheritance among the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

21 And, behold, ^bI have given the children of Lē'vī all the tenth in Īṣ'ra-el for an inheritance, for their service which they serve, even the service of the tabernacle of the congregation.

22 Neither must the children of Īṣ'ra-el henceforth come nigh the tabernacle of the congregation, ^clest they bear sin, ⁵and die.

23 But the Lē'vites shall do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation, and they shall bear their iniquity: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations, that among the children of Īṣ'ra-el they have no inheritance.

24 But the tithes of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, which they offer as an heave offering unto the LORD, I have given to the Lē'vites to inherit: therefore I have said unto them, ^dAmong the children of Īṣ'ra-el they shall have no inheritance.

25 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,

26 Thus speak unto the Lē'vites, and say unto them, When ye take of the children of Īṣ'ra-el the tithes which I have given you from them for your inheritance, then ye shall offer up an heave offering of it for the LORD, even ^ea tenth part of the tithe.

27 And this your heave offering shall be reckoned unto you, as though it were the corn of the threshingfloor, and as the fulness of the winepress.

28 Thus ye also shall offer an heave offering unto the LORD of all your tithes, which ye receive of the children of Īṣ'ra-el; and ye shall give thereof the LORD's heave offering to Aâr'on the priest.

29 Out of all your gifts ye shall offer every heave offering of the LORD, of all the ⁶best thereof, even the hallowed part thereof out of it.

30 Therefore thou shalt say unto them, When ye have heaved the best thereof from it, then it shall be counted unto the Lē'vites as the increase of the threshingfloor, and as the increase of the winepress.

31 And ye shall eat it in every place, ye and your households: for it is ^fyour reward for your service in the tabernacle of the congregation.

32 And ye shall ^gbear no sin by reason of it, when ye have heaved from it the best of it: neither shall ye pollute the holy things of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, lest ye die.

shall come into the camp, and the priest shall be unclean until the even.

8 And he that burneth her shall wash his clothes in water, and bathe his flesh in water, and shall be unclean until the even.

9 And a man that is clean shall gather up the ^hashes of the heifer, and lay them up without the camp in a clean place, and it shall be kept for the congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el ⁱfor a water of separation: it is a purification for sin.

10 And he that gathereth the ashes of the heifer shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even: and it shall be unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and unto the stranger that sojourneth among them, for a statute for ever.

1 Miriam's death. 7 The water of Meribah. 22 Aaron's death.

THEN ^acame the children of Īṣ'ra-el, even the whole congregation, into the desert of Zīn in the first month : and the people abode in Kā'desh ; and ^bMīr'ī-am died there, and was buried there.

2 And ^cthere was no water for the congregation : ^dand they gathered themselves together against Mō'seṣ and against Aâr'ōn.

3 And the people ^echode with Mō'seṣ, and spake, saying, Would God that we had died ^fwhen our brethren died before the LORD !

4 And ^gwhy have ye brought up the congregation of the LORD into this wilderness, that we and our cattle should die there ?

5 And wherefore have ye made us to come up out of Ē'gÿpt, to bring us in unto this evil place ? it is no place of seed, or of figs, or of vines, or of pomegranates ; neither is there any water to drink.

6 And Mō'seṣ and Aâr'ōn went from the presence of the assembly unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and ^hthey fell upon their faces : and the glory of the LORD appeared unto them.

7 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,

8 ⁱTake the rod, and gather thou the assembly together, thou, and Aâr'ōn thy brother, and speak ye unto the rock before their eyes ; and it shall give forth his water, and ^jthou shalt bring forth to them water out of the rock : so thou shalt give the congregation and their beasts drink.

9 And Mō'seṣ took the rod ^kfrom before the LORD, as he commanded him.

10 And Mō'seṣ and Aâr'ōn gathered the congregation together before the rock, and he said unto them, ^lHear now, ye rebels ; must we fetch you water out of this rock ?

11 And Mō'seṣ lifted up his hand, and with his rod he smote the rock ^mtwice : and the ⁿwater came out abundantly, and the congregation drank, and their beasts also.

12 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ and Aâr'ōn, Because ^oye believed me not, to ^psanctify me in the eyes of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, therefore ye shall not bring this congregation into the land which I have given them.

13 ^qThis is the water of ¹Mēr'ī-bah ; because the children of Īṣ'ra-el strove with the LORD, and he was sanctified in them.

14 ¶ ^rAnd Mō'seṣ sent messengers from Kā'desh unto the king of Ē'dom, ^sThus saith thy brother Īṣ'ra-el, Thou knowest all the travail that hath ²befallen us :

15 How our fathers went down into Ē'gÿpt, and we have dwelt in Ē'gÿpt a long time ; and the Ē-gÿp'tiānṣ vexed us, and our fathers :

16 And ^twhen we cried unto the LORD, he heard our voice, and ^usent an angel, and hath brought us forth out of Ē'gÿpt : and, behold, we are in Kā'desh, a city in the uttermost of thy border :

wells : we will go by the king's high way, we will not turn to the right hand nor to the left, until we have passed thy borders.

18 And Ē'dom said unto him, Thou shalt not pass by me, lest I come out against thee with the sword.

19 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el said unto him, We will go by the high way : and if I and my cattle drink of thy water, ^wthen I will pay for it : I will only, without doing any thing else, go through on my feet.

20 And he said, ^xThou shalt not go through. And Ē'dom came out against him with much people, and with a strong hand.

21 Thus Ē'dom refused to give Īṣ'ra-el passage through ^yhis border : wherefore Īṣ'ra-el ^zturned away from him.

22 ¶ And the children of Īṣ'ra-el, even the whole congregation, journeyed from ^aKā'desh, and ^bcame unto mount Hôr.

23 And the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ and Aâr'ōn in mount Hôr, by the coast of the land of Ē'dom, saying,

24 Aâr'ōn shall ^cbe gathered unto his people : for he shall not enter into the land which I have given unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, because ye rebelled against my ³word at the water of Mēr'ī-bah.

25 ^dTake Aâr'ōn and Ē-le-ā'zar his son, and bring them up unto mount Hôr :

26 And strip Aâr'ōn of his garments, and put them upon Ē-le-ā'zar his son : and Aâr'ōn shall be gathered unto his people, and shall die there.

27 And Mō'seṣ did as the LORD commanded : and they went up into mount Hôr in the sight of all the congregation.

28 ^eAnd Mō'seṣ stripped Aâr'ōn of his garments, and put them upon Ē-le-ā'zar his son ; and ^fAâr'ōn died there in the top of the mount : and Mō'seṣ and Ē-le-ā'zar came down from the mount.

29 And when all the congregation saw that Aâr'ōn was dead, they mourned for Aâr'ōn ^gthirty days, even all the house of Īṣ'ra-el.

CHAPTER 21.

1 The fiery serpents. 9 The serpent of brass. 21 Israel's victories.

AND when ^aking Ā'rād the Cā'nāan-ite, which dwelt in the south, heard tell that Īṣ'ra-el came by the way of the spies ; then he fought against Īṣ'ra-el, and took some of them prisoners.

2 And ^bĪṣ'ra-el vowed a vow unto the LORD, and said, If thou wilt indeed deliver this people into my hand, then ^cI will utterly destroy their cities.

3 And the LORD hearkened to the voice of Īṣ'ra-el, and delivered up the Cā'nāan-ites ; and they utterly destroyed them and their cities : and he called the name of the place ¹Hôr'mah.

4 ¶ And they journeyed from mount Hôr by the way of the Red sea, to compass the land of Ē'dom : and the soul of the people was much ²discouraged because of the way.

5 And the people ^dspake against God, and against Mō'seṣ, ^eWherefore have ye brought us up out of Ē'gÿpt to die in the wilderness ? for there is no bread, neither is there any water; and four soul loatheth this light bread.

6 And ^o the LORD sent ^h fiery serpents among the people, and they bit the people; and much people of Īṣ'ra-el died.

7 ¶ ⁱ Therefore the people came to Mō'seṣ, and said, We have sinned, for we have spoken against the LORD, and against thee; ^j pray unto the LORD, that he take away the serpents from us. And Mō'seṣ prayed for the people.

8 And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, Make thee a fiery serpent, and set it upon a pole: and it shall come to pass, that every one that is bitten, when he looketh upon it, shall live.

9 And ^k Mō'seṣ made a serpent of brass, and put it upon a pole, and it came to pass, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he beheld the serpent of brass, he lived.

10 ¶ And the children of Īṣ'ra-el set forward, and pitched in Ō'both.

11 And they journeyed from Ō'both, and pitched at ³ Īj'e-āb'a-rīm, in the wilderness which is before Mō'ab, toward the sunrising.

12 ¶ From thence they removed, and pitched in the valley of Zā'red.

13 From thence they removed, and pitched on the other side of Ār'nōn, which is in the wilderness that cometh out of the coasts of the Ām'ōr-ītes: for ^l Ār'nōn is the border of Mō'ab, between Mō'ab and the Ām'ōr-ītes.

14 Wherefore it is said in the book of the wars of the LORD, ⁴ What he did in the Red sea, and in the brooks of Ār'nōn,

15 And at the stream of the brooks that goeth down to the dwelling of Ār, and ⁵ lieth upon the border of Mō'ab.

16 And from thence they went to ^m Bē'er: that is the well whereof the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, Gather the people together, and ⁿ I will give them water.

17 ¶ ^o Then Īṣ'ra-el sang this song, ⁶ Spring up, O well; ⁷ sing ye unto it:

18 The princes digged the well, the nobles of the people digged it, by the direction of the ^p lawgiver, with their staves. And from the wilderness they went to Māt'ta-nah:

19 And from Māt'ta-nah to Nā-hā'lī-el: and from Nā-hā'lī-el to Bā'mōth:

20 And from Bā'mōth in the valley, that is in the ⁸ country of Mō'ab, to the top of ⁹ Pīṣ'gah, which looketh ^q toward ¹⁰ Jēsh'i-mōn.

21 ¶ And ^r Īṣ'ra-el sent messengers unto Sī'hōn king of the Ām'ōr-ītes, saying,

22 ^s Let me pass through thy land: we will not turn into the fields, or into the vineyards; we will not drink of the waters of the well: but we will go along by the king's high way, until we be past thy borders.

23 And ^t Sī'hōn would not suffer Īṣ'ra-el to pass through his border: but Sī'hōn gathered all his people together, and went out against Īṣ'ra-el into the wilderness: and ^u he came to Jā'hāz, and fought against Īṣ'ra-el.

24 And ^v Īṣ'ra-el smote him with the edge of the sword, and possessed his land from Ār'nōn unto Jāb'bok, even unto the children of Ām'mōn: for the border of the children of Ām'mōn was strong.

25 And Īṣ'ra-el took all these cities: and Īṣ'ra-el dwelt in all the cities of the Ām'ōr-ītes, in Hēsh'bōn, and in all the ¹¹ villages thereof.

26 For Hēsh'bōn was the city of Sī'hōn the king of the Ām'ōr-ītes, who had fought against the former king of Mō'ab, and taken all his land out of his hand, even unto Ār'nōn.

27 Wherefore they that speak in proverbs say, Come into Hēsh'bōn, let the city of Sī'hōn be built and prepared:

28 For there is ^w a fire gone out of Hēsh'bōn, a flame from the city of Sī'hōn: it hath consumed ^x Ār of Mō'ab, and the lords of the high places of Ār'nōn.

29 Woe to thee, Mō'ab! thou art undone, O people of ^y Chē'mōsh: he hath given his sons that escaped, and his daughters, into captivity unto Sī'hōn king of the Ām'ōr-ītes.

30 We have shot at them; Hēsh'bōn is perished even ^z unto Dī'bōn, and we have laid them waste even unto Nō'phah, which reacheth unto Mēd'e-bā.

31 ¶ Thus Īṣ'ra-el dwelt in the land of the Ām'ōr-ītes.

32 And Mō'seṣ sent to spy out ^a Jā-ā'zēr, and they took the villages thereof, and drove out the Ām'ōr-ītes that were there.

33 ¶ And they turned and went up by the way of Bā'shān: and Ōg the king of Bā'shān went out against them, he, and all his people, to the battle ^b at Ēd're-ī.

34 And the LORD said unto Mō'seṣ, ^c Fear him not: for I have delivered him into thy hand, and all his people, and his land; and ^d thou shalt do to him as thou didst unto Sī'hōn king of the Ām'ōr-ītes, which dwelt at Hēsh'bōn.

35 ^e So they smote him, and his sons, and all his people, until there was none left him alive: and they possessed his land.

CHAPTER 22.

1 Balak and Balaam. 22 The opposing angel. 36 Balak entertains Balaam.

AND ^a the children of Īṣ'ra-el set forward, and pitched in the plains of Mō'ab on this side Jōr'dan by Jēr'ī-chō.

2 ¶ And ^b Bā'lāk the son of Zīp'por saw all that Īṣ'ra-el had done to the Ām'ōr-ītes.

3 And ^c Mō'ab was sore afraid of the people, because they were many: and Mō'ab was distressed because of the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

4 And Mō'ab said unto the ^d elders of Mīd'ī-an, Now shall this company lick up all that are round about us, as the ox licketh up the grass of the field. And Bā'lāk the son of Zīp'por was king of the Mō'ab-ītes at that time.

5 He sent messengers therefore unto ^e Bā'laam the son of Bē'or to ^f Pē'thōr, which is by the river of the land of the children of his people, to call him, saying, Behold, there is a people come out from

Ē'gÿpt : behold, they cover the ¹face of the earth, and they abide over against me :

6 Come now therefore, I pray thee, ^acurse me this people ; for they are too mighty for me : peradventure I shall prevail, that we may smite them, and that I may drive them out of the land : for I wot that he whom thou blessest is blessed, and he whom thou cursest is cursed.

7 And the elders of Mō'ab and the elders of Mīd'i-an departed with the ^brewards of divination in their hand ; and they came unto Bā'laam, and spake unto him the words of Bā'lāk.

8 And he said unto them, Lodge here this night, and I will bring you word again, as the LORD shall speak unto me : and the princes of Mō'ab abode with Bā'laam.

9 And ^cGod came unto Bā'laam, and said, What men are these with thee ?

10 And Bā'laam said unto God, Bā'lāk the son of Zip'por, king of Mō'ab, hath sent unto me, saying,

11 Behold, there is a people come out of Ē'gÿpt, which covereth the face of the earth : come now, curse me them ; peradventure ²I shall be able to overcome them, and drive them out.

12 And God said unto Bā'laam, Thou shalt not go with them ; thou shalt not curse the people : for ^dthey are blessed.

13 And Bā'laam rose up in the morning, and said unto the princes of Bā'lāk, Get you into your land : for the LORD refuseth to give me leave to go with you.

14 And the princes of Mō'ab rose up, and they went unto Bā'lāk, and said, Bā'laam refuseth to come with us.

15 ¶ And Bā'lāk sent yet again princes, more, and more honourable than they.

16 And they came to Bā'laam, and said to him, Thus saith Bā'lāk the son of Zip'por, ³Let nothing, I pray thee, hinder thee from coming unto me :

17 For ^eI will promote thee unto very great honour, and I will do whatsoever thou sayest unto me : come therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people.

18 And Bā'laam answered and said unto the servants of Bā'lāk, If Bā'lāk would give me his house full of silver and gold, ⁴I cannot go beyond the word of the LORD my God, to do less or more.

19 Now therefore, I pray you, tarry ye also here this night, that I may know what the LORD will say unto me more.

20 And God came unto Bā'laam at night, and said unto him, If the men come to call thee, rise up, and go with them ; but ^myet the word which I shall say unto thee, that shalt thou do.

21 And Bā'laam rose up in the morning, and saddled his ass, and went ⁿwith the princes of Mō'ab.

22 ¶ And God's anger was kindled because he went : ^oand the angel of the LORD stood in the way for an adversary against him. Now he was riding upon his ass, and his two servants were with him.

23 And ^pthe ass saw the angel of the LORD standing in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand :

and the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field : and Bā'laam smote the ass, to turn her into the way.

24 But the angel of the LORD stood in a path of the vineyards, a wall being on this side, and a wall on that side.

25 And when the ass saw the angel of the LORD, she thrust herself unto the wall, and crushed Bā'laam's ^afoot against the wall : and he smote her again.

26 And the angel of the LORD went further, and stood in a narrow place, ^rwhere was no way to turn either to the right hand or to the left.

27 And when the ass saw the angel of the LORD, she fell down under Bā'laam : ^sand Bā'laam's anger was kindled, and he smote the ass with a staff.

28 And the LORD ^topened the mouth of the ass, and she said unto Bā'laam, What have I done unto thee, that thou hast smitten me these three times ?

29 And Bā'laam said unto the ass, Because thou hast mocked me : I would there were a sword in mine hand, ^ufor now would I kill thee.

30 And ^vthe ass said unto Bā'laam, Am not I thine ass, ⁴upon which thou hast ridden ⁵ever since I was thine unto this day ? was I ever wont to do so unto thee ? And he said, Nay.

31 Then the LORD ^wopened the eyes of Bā'laam, and he saw the angel of the LORD standing in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand : and he ^xbowed down his head, and ⁶fell flat on his face.

32 And the angel of the LORD said unto him, Wherefore hast thou smitten thine ass these three times ? behold, I went out ⁷to withstand thee, because thy way is ^yperverse before me :

33 And the ass saw me, and turned from me these three times : unless she had turned from me, surely now also I had slain thee, and saved her alive.

34 And Bā'laam said unto the angel of the LORD, ^zI have sinned ; for I knew not that thou stoodest in the way against me : now therefore, if it ⁸displease thee, I will get me back again.

35 And the angel of the LORD said unto Bā'laam, Go with the men : but only the word that I shall speak unto thee, that thou shalt speak. So Bā'laam went with the princes of Bā'lāk.

36 ¶ And when Bā'lāk heard that Bā'laam was come, ^ahe went out to meet him unto a city of Mō'ab, which is in the border of Ār'nōn, which is in the utmost coast.

37 And Bā'lāk said unto Bā'laam, Did I not earnestly send unto thee to call thee ? wherefore camest thou not unto me ? am I not able indeed to promote thee to honour ?

38 And Bā'laam said unto Bā'lāk, Lo, I am come unto thee : have I now any power at all to say any thing ? ^bthe word that God putteth in my mouth, that shall I speak.

39 And Bā'laam went with Bā'lāk, and they came unto ⁹Kīr'jath-hū'zoth.

40 And Bā'lāk offered oxen and sheep, and sent to Bā'laam, and to the princes that were with him.

41 And it came to pass on the morrow, that Bā'-

CHAPTER 23.

Balak's sacrifice and Balaam's parable.

AND Bā'laam said unto Bā'lāk, Build me here seven altars, and prepare me here seven oxen and seven rams.

2 And Bā'lāk did as Bā'laam had spoken; and Bā'lāk and Bā'laam offered on every altar a bullock and a ram.

3 And Bā'laam said unto Bā'lāk, Stand by thy burnt offering, and I will go: peradventure the LORD will come to meet me: and whatsoever he sheweth me I will tell thee. And ¹ he went to an high place.

4 And God met Bā'laam: and he said unto him, I have prepared seven altars, and I have offered upon every altar a bullock and a ram.

5 And the LORD ^a put a word in Bā'laam's mouth, and said, Return unto Bā'lāk, and thus thou shalt speak.

6 And he returned unto him, and, lo, he stood by his burnt sacrifice, he, and all the princes of Mō'ab.

7 And ^b he took up his parable, and said, Bā'lāk the king of Mō'ab hath brought me from ^c Ā'ram, out of the mountains of the east, saying, Come, curse me Jā'cōb, and come, ^d defy Īṣ'ra-el.

8 How shall I curse, whom God hath not cursed? or ^e how shall I defy, whom the LORD hath not defied?

9 For from the top of the rocks I see him, and from the hills I behold him: lo, ^f the people shall dwell alone, and ^g shall not be reckoned among the nations.

10 ^h Who can count the dust of Jā'cōb, and the number of the fourth part of Īṣ'ra-el? Let ⁱ me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his!

11 And Bā'lāk said unto Bā'laam, What hast thou done unto me? ^j I took thee to curse mine enemies, and, behold, thou hast blessed them altogether.

12 And he answered and said, Must I not take heed to speak that which the LORD hath put in my mouth?

13 And Bā'lāk said unto him, Come, I pray thee, with me unto another place, from whence thou mayest see them: thou shalt see but the utmost part of them, and shalt not see them all: and curse me them from thence.

14 ¶ And he brought him into the field of Zō'phim, to the top of ^k Piṣ'gah, and built seven altars, and offered a bullock and a ram on every altar.

15 And he said unto Bā'lāk, Stand here by thy burnt offering, while I meet the LORD yonder.

16 And the LORD met Bā'laam, and put a word in his mouth, and said, Go again unto Bā'lāk, and say thus.

17 And when he came to him, behold, he stood by his burnt offering, and the princes of Mō'ab with him. And Bā'lāk said unto him, What ^l hath the LORD spoken?

18 And he took up his parable, and said, ^m Rise up, Bā'lāk, and hear; hearken unto me, thou son of Zīp'por:

20 Behold, I have received commandment to bless: and ^o he hath blessed; and I cannot reverse it.

21 ^p He hath not beheld iniquity in Jā'cōb, neither hath he seen perverseness in Īṣ'ra-el: the ^a LORD his God is with him, ^r and the shout of a king is among them.

22 God brought them out of Ē'gÿpt; he hath as it were ^s the strength of an unicorn.

23 Surely there is no enchantment ⁴ against Jā'cōb, neither is there any divination against Īṣ'ra-el: according to this time it shall be said of Jā'cōb and of Īṣ'ra-el, ^t What hath God wrought!

24 Behold, the people shall rise up as a great lion, and lift up himself as a young lion: he shall not lie down until he eat of the prey, and drink the blood of the slain.

25 ¶ And Bā'lāk said unto Bā'laam, Neither curse them at all, nor bless them at all.

26 But Bā'laam answered and said unto Bā'lāk, Told not I thee, saying, All that the LORD speaketh, that I must do?

27 ¶ And Bā'lāk said unto Bā'laam, Come, I pray thee, I will bring thee unto another place; peradventure it will please God that thou mayest curse me them from thence.

CHAPTER 24.

¹ Balaam prophesies in favor of Israel. ¹⁰ Balak's anger.

AND when Bā'laam saw that it pleased the LORD to bless Īṣ'ra-el, he went not, as at other times, ¹ to seek for enchantments, but he set his face toward the wilderness.

2 And Bā'laam lifted up his eyes, and he saw Īṣ'ra-el abiding in his tents according to their tribes; and ^a the spirit of God came upon him.

3 And ^b he took up his parable, and said, Bā'laam the son of Bē'or hath said, and the man ² whose eyes are open hath said:

4 He hath said, which heard the words of God, which saw the vision of the Almighty, ^c falling into a trance, but having his eyes open:

5 How goodly are thy tents, O Jā'cōb, and thy tabernacles, O Īṣ'ra-el!

6 As the valleys are they spread forth, as gardens by the river's side, as the trees of lign aloes ^d which the LORD hath planted, and as cedar trees beside the waters.

7 He shall pour the water out of his buckets, and his seed shall be in many waters, and his king shall be higher than ^e Ā'gäg, and his ^f kingdom shall be exalted.

8 God brought him forth out of Ē'gÿpt; he hath as it were the strength of an unicorn: he shall eat up the nations his enemies, and shall break their bones, and pierce them through with his arrows.

9 He couched, he lay down as a lion, and as a great lion: who shall stir him up? ⁹Blessed is he that blesseth thee, and cursed is he that curseth thee.

10 ¶ And Bā'lāk's anger was kindled against Bā'laam, and he smote his hands together: and Bā'lāk said unto Bā'laam, I called thee to curse mine enemies, and, behold, thou hast altogether blessed them these three times.

11 Therefore now flee thou to thy place: I thought to promote thee unto great honour; but, lo, the LORD hath kept thee back from honour.

12 And Bā'laam said unto Bā'lāk, Spake I not also to thy messengers which thou sentest unto me, saying,

13 If Bā'lāk would give me his house full of silver and gold, I cannot go beyond the commandment of the LORD, to do either good or bad of mine own mind; but what the LORD saith, that will I speak?

14 And now, behold, I go unto my people: come therefore, and I will advertise thee what this people shall do to thy people in the latter days.

15 ¶ And he took up his parable, and said, Bā'laam the son of Bē'or hath said, and the man whose eyes are open hath said:

16 He hath said, which heard the words of God, and knew the knowledge of the most High, which saw the vision of the Almighty, falling into a trance, but having his eyes open:

17 ^hI shall see him, but not now: I shall behold him, but not nigh: there shall come ⁱa Star out of Jā'cōb, and ^ja Sceptre shall rise out of Īš'ra-el, and shall ^ksmite the corners of Mō'ab, and destroy all the children of Shēth.

18 And ^lĒ'dom shall be a possession, Sē'ir also shall be a possession for his enemies; and Īš'ra-el shall do valiantly.

19 Out of Jā'cōb shall come he that shall have dominion, and shall destroy him that remaineth of the city.

20 ¶ And when he looked on Ām'a-lēk, he took up his parable, and said, Ām'a-lēk was ⁴the first of the nations; but his latter end ⁵shall be that he perish for ever.

21 And he looked on the Kēn'ites, and took up his parable, and said, Strong is thy dwellingplace, and thou puttest thy nest in a rock.

22 Nevertheless ⁶the Kēn'ite shall be wasted, ⁷until Āssh'ur shall carry thee away captive.

23 And he took up his parable, and said, Alas, who shall live when God doeth this!

24 And ships shall come from the coast of ^lChīt'tim, and shall afflict Āssh'ur, and shall afflict ^mĒ'bēr, and ⁿhe also shall perish for ever.

25 And Bā'laam rose up, and went and returned to his place: and Bā'lāk also went his way.

CHAPTER 25.

1 The camp at Shittim. 10 Phinehas given an everlasting priesthood.

AND Īš'ra-el abode in ^aShīt'tim, and ^bthe people began to commit whoredom with the daughters of Mō'ab.

2 And ^cthey called the people unto the ^dsacrifices of their gods: and the people did eat, and ^ebowed down to their gods.

3 And Īš'ra-el joined himself unto Bā'al-pē'or: and ^fthe anger of the LORD was kindled against Īš'ra-el.

4 And the LORD said unto Mō'seş, ^gTake all the heads of the people, and hang them up before the LORD against the sun, ^hthat the fierce anger of the LORD may be turned away from Īš'ra-el.

5 And Mō'seş said unto the judges of Īš'ra-el, ⁱSlay ye every one his men that were joined unto Bā'al-pē'or.

6 ¶ And, behold, one of the children of Īš'ra-el came and brought unto his brethren a Mid'i-an-ī-ish woman in the sight of Mō'seş, and in the sight of all the congregation of the children of Īš'ra-el, ^jwho were weeping before the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

7 And when Phīn'e-has, ^kthe son of Ē-le-ā'zar, the son of Aâr'ōn the priest, saw it, he rose up from among the congregation, and took ^la javelin in his hand;

8 And he went after the man of Īš'ra-el into the tent, and thrust both of them through, the man of Īš'ra-el, and the woman through her belly. So the plague was stayed from the children of Īš'ra-el.

9 And ^mthose that died in the plague were twenty and four thousand.

10 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

11 ⁿPhīn'e-has, the son of Ē-le-ā'zar, the son of Aâr'ōn the priest, hath turned my wrath away from the children of Īš'ra-el, while he was zealous ^ofor my sake among them, that I consumed not the children of Īš'ra-el in ^pmy jealousy.

12 Wherefore say, ^qBehold, I give unto him my covenant of peace:

13 And he shall have it, and ^rhis seed after him, even the covenant of ^san everlasting priesthood; because he was ^tzealous for his God, and made an atonement for the children of Īš'ra-el.

14 Now the name of the Īš'ra-el-ite that was slain, even that was slain with the Mid'i-an-ī-ish woman, was Zīm'rī, the son of Sā'lu, a prince of a ^uchief house among the Sīm'e-on-ites.

15 And the name of the Mid'i-an-ī-ish woman that was slain was Cōz'bī, the daughter of Zûr; he was head over a people, and of a chief house in Mid'i-an.

16 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

17 Vex the Mid'i-an-ites, and smite them:

18 For they vex you with their wiles, wherewith they have beguiled you in the matter of Pē'or, and in the matter of Cōz'bī, the daughter of a prince of Mid'i-an, their sister, which was slain in the day of the plague for Pē'or's sake.

CHAPTER 26.

¹ Israel is numbered. ⁵² Inheritance to be by lot.

AND it came to pass after the plague, that the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ and unto Ē-le-ā'zar the son of Aâr'on the priest, saying,

2 ^a Take the sum of all the congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, from twenty years old and upward, throughout their fathers' house, all that are able to go to war in Īṣ'ra-el.

3 And Mō'seṣ and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest spake with them ^b in the plains of Mō'ab by Jôr'dan near Jēr'i-chō, saying,

4 Take the sum of the people, from twenty years old and upward; as the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ and the children of Īṣ'ra-el, which went forth out of the land of Ē'gÿpt.

5 ¶ ^c Reu'ben, the eldest son of Īṣ'ra-el: the children of Reu'ben; Hā'noch, of whom cometh the family of the Hā'noch-ites: of Pāl'lu, the family of the Pāl'lu-ites:

6 Of Hēz'rōn, the family of the Hēz'ron-ites: of Cār'mī, the family of the Cār'mītes.

7 These are the families of the Reu'ben-ites: and they that were numbered of them were forty and three thousand and seven hundred and thirty.

8 And the sons of Pāl'lu; Ē-lī'ab.

9 And the sons of Ē-lī'ab; Nē-mū'el, and Dā'than, and Ā-bī'rām. This is that Dā'than and Ā-bī'rām, which were ^d famous in the congregation, who strove against Mō'seṣ and against Aâr'on in the company of Kō'rah, when they strove against the LORD:

10 And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up together with Kō'rah, when that company died, what time the fire devoured two hundred and fifty men: ^e and they became a sign.

11 Notwithstanding ^f the children of Kō'rah died not.

12 ¶ The sons of Sīm'e-on after their families: of ^g Nē-mū'el, the family of the Nē-mū'el-ites: of Jā'min, the family of the Jā'min-ites: of ^h Jā'chin, the family of the Jā'chin-ites:

13 Of ⁱ Zē'rah, the family of the Zār'hītes: of Shā'ul, the family of the Shā'ul-ites.

14 These are the families of the Sīm'e-on-ites, twenty and two thousand and two hundred.

15 ¶ The children of Gād after their families: of ^j Zē'phon, the family of the Zē'phon-ites: of Hāg'gī, the family of the Hāg'gītes: of Shu'nī, the family of the Shu'nītes:

16 Of ^k Ōz'nī, the family of the Ōz'nītes: of Ē'rī, the family of the Ē'rītes:

17 Of ^l Ā'rōd, the family of the Ā'rōd-ites: of Ā-rē'lī, the family of the Ā-rē'lītes.

18 These are the families of the children of Gād according to those that were numbered of them, forty thousand and five hundred.

19 ¶ The ^m sons of Jū'dah were Ēr and Ō'nan: and Ēr and Ō'nan died in the land of Cā'nāan.

20 And ⁿ the sons of Jū'dah after their families were; of Shē'lah, the family of the Shē'lan-ites: of Phā'rēz, the family of the Phār'zītes: of Zē'rah, the family of the Zār'hītes.

46 And the name of the daughter of Āsh'ēr was Sā'rah.

47 These are the families of the sons of Āsh'ēr according to those that were numbered of them; who were fifty and three thousand and four hundred.

48 ¶ ^bOf the sons of Nāph'tā-lī after their families: of Jāh'zē-el, the family of the Jāh'zē-el-ites: of Gū'nī, the family of the Gū'nī-ites:

49 Of Jē'zēr, the family of the Jē'zēr-ites: of ^cShīl'lem, the family of the Shīl'lem-ites.

50 These are the families of Nāph'tā-lī according to their families: and they that were numbered of them were forty and five thousand and four hundred.

51 ^dThese were the numbered of the children of Īs'ra-el, six hundred thousand and a thousand seven hundred and thirty.

52 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,

53 Unto ^ethese the land shall be divided for an inheritance according to the number of names.

54 ^eTo many thou shalt ^fgive the more inheritance, and to few thou shalt ^ggive the less inheritance: to every one shall his inheritance be given according to those that were numbered of him.

55 Notwithstanding the land shall be ^hdivided by lot: according to the names of the tribes of their fathers they shall inherit.

56 According to the lot shall the possession thereof be divided between many and few.

57 ¶ And ⁱthese are they that were numbered of the Lē'vites after their families: of Ġēr'shōn, the family of the Ġēr'shōn-ites: of Kō'hath, the family of the Kō'hath-ites: of Mē-rā'rī, the family of the Mē-rā'rī-ites.

58 These are the families of the Lē'vites: the family of the Līb'nītes, the family of the Hē'bron-ites, the family of the Māh'lītes, the family of the Mū'shītes, the family of the Kō'rath-ites. And Kō'hath begat Ām'rām.

59 And the name of Ām'rām's wife was ^hJōch'e-bed, the daughter of Lē'vī, whom her mother bare to Lē'vī in Ē'gypt: and she bare unto Ām'rām Aār'on and Mō'seš, and Mīr'i-am their sister.

60 And unto Aār'on was born Nā'dāb, and Ā-bī'hū, Ē-le-ā'zar, and Īth'ā-mār.

61 And ⁱNā'dāb and Ā-bī'hū died, when they offered strange fire before the LORD.

63 ¶ These are they that were numbered by Mō'seš and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, who numbered the children of Īs'ra-el in the plains of Mō'ab by Jōr'dān near Jēr'i-chō.

64 ^mBut among these there was not a man of them whom Mō'seš and Aār'on the priest numbered, when they numbered the children of Īs'ra-el in the wilderness of Sī'nāi.

65 For the LORD had said of them, They ⁿshall surely die in the wilderness. And there was not left a man of them, ^osave Cā'leb the son of Jē-phūn'neh, and Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn.

CHAPTER 27.

¹ Law of inheritance. ¹⁸ Joshua to succeed Moses.

THEN came the daughters of ^aZē-lō'phē-hād, the son of Hē'phēr, the son of Ġīl'e-ād, the son of Mā'chīr, the son of Mā-nās'seh, of the families of Mā-nās'seh the son of Jō'seph: and these are the names of his daughters; Māh'lah, Nō'ah, and Hōg'lah, and Mīl'cah, and Tīr'zah.

2 And they stood before Mō'seš, and before Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and before the princes and all the congregation, by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, saying,

3 Our father ^bdied in the wilderness, and he was not in the company of them that gathered themselves together against the LORD ^cin the company of Kō'rah; ^dbut died in his own sin, and had no sons.

4 Why should the name of our father be ¹done away from among his family, because he hath no son? Give unto us therefore a possession among the brethren of our father.

5 And Mō'seš ^ebrought their cause before the LORD.

6 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,

7 The daughters of Zē-lō'phē-hād speak right: ^fthou shalt surely give them a possession of an inheritance among their father's brethren; and thou shalt cause the inheritance of their father to pass unto them.

8 And thou shalt speak unto the children of Īs'ra-el, saying, If a man die, and have no son, then ye shall cause his inheritance to pass unto his daughter.

9 And if he have no daughter, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his brethren.

10 And if he have no brethren, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his father's brethren.

11 And if his father have no brethren, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his kinsman that is next to him of his family, and he shall possess it: and it shall be unto the children of Īs'ra-el ^ga statute of judgment, as the LORD commanded Mō'seš.

12 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seš, ^hGet thee up into this mount Āb'ā-rim, and see the land which I have given unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

13 And when thou hast seen it, thou also shalt be gathered unto thy people, as Aār'on thy brother was gathered.

14 For ye rebelled against my commandment in the desert of Zin, in the strife of the congregation, to sanctify me at the water before their eyes: that is the water of Mēr'i-bah in Kā'desh in the wilderness of Zin.

15 ¶ And Mō'seš spake unto the LORD, saying,

16 Let the LORD, the God of the spirits of all flesh, set a man over the congregation, 17 Which may go out before them, and which may go in before them, and which may lead them out, and which may bring them in; that the congregation of the LORD be not as sheep which have no shepherd.

18 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seš, Take thee Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn, a man in whom is the spirit, and lay thine hand upon him;

19 And set him before Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and before all the congregation; and give him a charge in their sight.

20 And thou shalt put some of thine honour upon him, that all the congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el may be obedient.

21 And he shall stand before Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, who shall ask counsel for him after the judgment of Ū'rim before the LORD: at his word shall they go out, and at his word they shall come in, both he, and all the children of Īṣ'ra-el with him, even all the congregation.

22 And Mō'seš did as the LORD commanded him: and he took Jōsh'u-ā, and set him before Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and before all the congregation:

23 And he laid his hands upon him, and gave him a charge, as the LORD commanded by the hand of Mō'seš.

CHAPTER 28.

1 Observance of offerings. 11 Feasts. 26 Firstfruits.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seš, saying,
2 Command the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, My offering, and my bread for my sacrifices made by fire, for a sweet savour unto me, shall ye observe to offer unto me in their due season.

3 And thou shalt say unto them, This is the offering made by fire which ye shall offer unto the LORD; two lambs of the first year without spot day by day, for a continual burnt offering.

4 The one lamb shalt thou offer in the morning, and the other lamb shalt thou offer at even;

5 And a tenth part of an ephah of flour for a meat offering, mingled with the fourth part of an hin of beaten oil.

6 It is a continual burnt offering, which was ordained in mount Sī'nāi for a sweet savour, a sacrifice made by fire unto the LORD.

7 And the drink offering thereof shall be the fourth part of an hin for the one lamb: in the holy place shalt thou cause the strong wine to be poured unto the LORD for a drink offering.

8 And the other lamb shalt thou offer at even: as the meat offering of the morning, and as the drink offering thereof, thou shalt offer it, a sacrifice made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD.

9 ¶ And on the sabbath day two lambs of the first year without spot, and two tenth deals of flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, and the drink offering thereof:

10 This is the burnt offering of every sabbath, beside the continual burnt offering, and his drink offering.

11 ¶ And in the beginnings of your months ye shall offer a burnt offering unto the LORD; two young bullocks, and one ram, seven lambs of the first year without spot;

12 And three tenth deals of flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, for one bullock; and two tenth deals of flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, for one ram;

13 And a several tenth deal of flour mingled with oil for a meat offering unto one lamb; for a burnt offering of a sweet savour, a sacrifice made by fire unto the LORD.

14 And their drink offerings shall be half an hin of wine unto a bullock, and the third part of an hin unto a ram, and a fourth part of an hin unto a lamb: this is the burnt offering of every month throughout the months of the year.

15 And one kid of the goats for a sin offering unto the LORD shall be offered, beside the continual burnt offering, and his drink offering.

16 And in the fourteenth day of the first month is the passover of the LORD.

17 And in the fifteenth day of this month is the feast: seven days shall unleavened bread be eaten.

18 In the first day shall be an holy convocation; ye shall do no manner of servile work therein:

19 But ye shall offer a sacrifice made by fire for a burnt offering unto the LORD; two young bullocks, and one ram, and seven lambs of the first year: they shall be unto you without blemish:

20 And their meat offering shall be of flour mingled with oil: three tenth deals shall ye offer for a bullock, and two tenth deals for a ram;

21 A several tenth deal shalt thou offer for every lamb, throughout the seven lambs:

22 And one goat for a sin offering, to make an atonement for you.

23 Ye shall offer these beside the burnt offering in the morning, which is for a continual burnt offering.

24 After this manner ye shall offer daily, throughout the seven days, the meat of the sacrifice made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD: it shall be offered beside the continual burnt offering, and his drink offering.

25 And on the seventh day ye shall have an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work.

26 ¶ Also in the day of the firstfruits, when ye bring a new meat offering unto the LORD, after your weeks be out, ye shall have an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work:

27 But ye shall offer the burnt offering for a sweet savour unto the LORD; ^r two young bullocks, one ram, seven lambs of the first year;

28 And their meat offering of flour mingled with oil, three tenth deals unto one bullock, two tenth deals unto one ram,

29 A several tenth deal unto one lamb, throughout the seven lambs;

30 And one kid of the goats, to make an atonement for you.

31 Ye shall offer them beside the continual burnt offering, and his meat offering, (they shall be unto you without blemish) and their drink offerings.

CHAPTER 29.

Solemn feasts and their offerings.

AND in the seventh month, on the first day of the month, ye shall have an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work: ^a it is a day of blowing the trumpets unto you.

her, and disallowed her not: then all her vows shall stand, and every bond wherewith she bound her soul shall stand.

12 But if her husband hath ³utterly made them void on the day he heard them; then whatsoever proceeded out of her lips concerning her vows, or concerning the bond of her soul, shall not stand: her husband hath made them void; and the LORD shall forgive her.

13 Every vow, and every binding oath to afflict the soul, her husband may establish it, or her husband may make it void.

14 But if her husband altogether hold his peace at her from day to day; then he establisheth all her vows, or all her bonds, which are upon her: he confirmeth them, because he held his peace at her in the day that he heard them.

15 But if he shall any ways make them void after that he hath heard them; then he shall ⁴bear her iniquity.

16 These are the statutes, which the LORD commanded Mō'seş, between a man and his wife, between the father and his daughter, being yet in her youth in her father's house.

CHAPTER 31.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying, ² ^aAvenge the children of İş'ra-el of the Mīd'ī-an-ītes: afterward shalt thou ^bbe gathered unto thy people.

3 And Mō'seş spake unto the people, saying, Arm some of yourselves unto the war, and let them go against the Mīd'ī-an-ītes, and ^cavenge the LORD of Mīd'ī-an.

4 ¹Of every tribe a thousand, throughout all the tribes of İş'ra-el, shall ye send to the war.

5 So there were delivered out of the thousands of İş'ra-el, a thousand of every tribe, twelve thousand armed for war.

6 And Mō'seş sent them to the war, a thousand of every tribe, them and Phīn'e-has the son of Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, to the war, with the holy instruments, and the ^dtrumpets to blow in his hand.

7 And they warred against the Mīd'ī-an-ītes, as the LORD commanded Mō'seş; and ^ethey slew all the ^fmales.

8 And they slew the kings of Mīd'ī-an, beside the rest of them that were slain; namely, ^gĒ'vī, and Rē'kem, and Zûr, and Hûr, and Rē'bà, five kings of Mīd'ī-an: ^hBā'laam also the son of Bē'or they slew with the sword.

9 And the children of İş'ra-el took all the women of Mīd'ī-an captives, and their little ones, and took the spoil of all their cattle, and all their flocks, and all their goods.

10 And they burnt all their cities wherein they dwelt, and all their goodly castles, with fire.

11 And ⁱthey took all the spoil, and ^jall the prey, both of men and of beasts.

12 And they brought the captives, and the prey, and the spoil, unto Mō'seş, and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and unto the congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, unto the camp at the plains of Mō'ab, which are by Jōr'dan near Jēr'i-chō.

13 ¶ And Mō'seṣ, and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and all the princes of the congregation, went forth to meet them without the camp.

14 And Mō'seṣ was wroth with the officers of the host, with the captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, which came from the ²battle.

15 And Mō'seṣ said unto them, Have ye saved all ^jthe women alive?

16 Behold, ^kthese caused the children of Īṣ'ra-el, through the ^lcounsel of Bā'laam, to commit trespass against the LORD in the matter of Pē'or, and there was a plague among the congregation of the LORD.

17 Now therefore ^mkill every male among the little ones, and kill every woman that hath known man by lying with ³him.

18 But all the women children, that have not known a man by lying with him, keep alive for yourselves.

19 And ⁿdo ye abide without the camp seven days: whosoever hath killed any person, and whosoever ^ohath touched any slain, purify both yourselves and your captives on the third day, and on the seventh day.

20 And purify all your raiment, and all ⁴that is made of skins, and all work of goats' hair, and all things made of wood.

21 ¶ And Ē-le-ā'zar the priest said unto the men of war which went to the battle, This is the ordinance of the law which the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ;

22 Only the gold, and the silver, the brass, the iron, the tin, and the lead,

23 Every thing that may abide the fire, ye shall make it go through the fire, and it shall be clean: nevertheless it shall be purified with ^pthe water of separation: and all that abideth not the fire ye shall make go through the water.

24 And ^qye shall wash your clothes on the seventh day, and ye shall be clean, and afterward ye shall come into the camp.

25 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seṣ, saying,

26 Take the sum of the prey ⁵that was taken, both of man and of beast, thou, and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and the chief fathers of the congregation:

27 And ^rdivide the prey into two parts; between them that took the war upon them, who went out to battle, and between all the congregation:

28 And levy a ^stribute unto the LORD of the men of war which went out to battle: ^tone soul of five hundred, both of the persons, and of the beeves, and of the asses, and of the sheep:

29 Take it of their half, and give it unto Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, for an heave offering of the LORD.

30 And of the children of Īṣ'ra-el's half, thou shalt take one portion of fifty, of the persons, of the beeves, of the asses, and of the ⁶flocks, of all manner of beasts, and give them unto the Lē'vites, ^uwhich keep the charge of the tabernacle of the LORD.

31 And Mō'seṣ and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest did as the LORD commanded Mō'seṣ.

53 (For ^zthe men of war had taken spoil, every man for himself.)

54 And Mō'seṣ and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest took the gold of the captains of thousands and of hundreds, and brought it into the tabernacle of the congregation, ^afor a memorial for the children of Īṣ'ra-el before the LORD.

CHAPTER 32.

Reuben and Gad inherit east of Jordan.

NOW the children of Reu'ben and the children of Gād had a very great multitude of cattle : and when they saw the land of ^aJā'zēr, and the land of Gīl'e-ād, that, behold, the place was a place for cattle ;

2 The children of Gād and the children of Reu'ben came and spake unto Mō'seš, and to E-le-ā'zar the priest, and unto the princes of the congregation, saying,

3 Āt'a-rōth, and Dī'bōn, and Jā'zēr, and ^bNīm'rah, and Hēsh'bōn, and E-le-ā'leh, and ^cShē'bam, and Nē'bō, and ^dBē'ōn,

4 Even the country ^ewhich the LORD smote before the congregation of Īš'ra-el, is a land for cattle, and thy servants have cattle :

5 Wherefore, said they, if we have found grace in thy sight, let this land be given unto thy servants for a possession, and bring us not over Jōr'dan.

6 ¶ And Mō'seš said unto the children of Gād and to the children of Reu'ben, Shall your brethren go to war, and shall ye sit here ?

7 And wherefore ¹discourage ye the heart of the children of Īš'ra-el from going over into the land which the LORD hath given them ?

8 Thus did your fathers, ^fwhen I sent them from Kā'desh-bār'ne-ā ^gto see the land.

9 For ^hwhen they went up unto the valley of Ēsh'cōl, and saw the land, they discouraged the heart of the children of Īš'ra-el, that they should not go into the land which the LORD had given them.

10 And ⁱthe LORD'S anger was kindled the same time, and he sware, saying,

11 Surely none of the men that came up out of E'g'yp't, ^jfrom twenty years old and upward, shall see the land which I sware unto Ā'brā'hām, unto Ī'saac, and unto Jā'cōb ; because ^kthey have not ²wholly followed me :

12 Save Cā'leb the son of Jē-phūn'neh the Kēn'ez-ite, and Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn : ^lfor they have wholly followed the LORD.

13 And the LORD'S anger was kindled against Īš'ra-el, and he made them ^mwander in the wilderness forty years, until ⁿall the generation, that had done evil in the sight of the LORD, was consumed.

14 And, behold, ye are risen up in your fathers' stead, an increase of sinful men, to augment yet the ^ofierce anger of the LORD toward Īš'ra-el.

15 For if ye ^pturn away from after him, he will yet again leave them in the wilderness ; and ye shall destroy all this people.

16 ¶ And they came near unto him, and said, We will build sheepfolds here for our cattle, and cities for our little ones :

17 But ^qwe ourselves will go ready armed before the children of Īš'ra-el, until we have brought them unto their place : and our little ones shall dwell in the fenced cities because of the inhabitants of the land.

children of Īš'ra-el have inherited every man his inheritance.

19 For we will not inherit with them on yonder side Jōr'dan, or forward ; ^sbecause our inheritance is fallen to us on this side Jōr'dan eastward.

20 ¶ And ^tMō'seš said unto them, If ye will do this thing, if ye will go armed before the LORD to war,

21 And will go all of you armed over Jōr'dan before the LORD, until he hath driven out his enemies from before him,

22 And ^uthe land be subdued before the LORD : then afterward ^vye shall return, and be guiltless before the LORD, and before Īš'ra-el ; and ^wthis land shall be your possession before the LORD.

23 But if ye will not do so, behold, ye have sinned against the LORD : and be sure ^xyour sin will find you out.

24 ^yBuild you cities for your little ones, and folds for your sheep ; and do that which hath proceeded out of your mouth.

25 And the children of Gād and the children of Reu'ben spake unto Mō'seš, saying, Thy servants will do as my lord commandeth.

26 ^zOur little ones, our wives, our flocks, and all our cattle, shall be there in the cities of Gīl'e-ād :

27 ^aBut thy servants will pass over, every man armed for war, before the LORD to battle, as my lord saith.

28 So concerning them Mō'seš commanded E-le-ā'zar the priest, and Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn, and the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Īš'ra-el :

29 And Mō'seš said unto them, If the children of Gād and the children of Reu'ben will pass with you over Jōr'dan, every man armed to battle, before the LORD, and the land shall be subdued before you ; then ye shall give them the land of Gīl'e-ād for a possession :

30 But if they will not pass over with you armed, they shall have possessions among you in the land of Cā'nāan.

31 And the children of Gād and the children of Reu'ben answered, saying, As the LORD hath said unto thy servants, so will we do.

32 We will pass over armed before the LORD into the land of Cā'nāan, that the possession of our inheritance on this side Jōr'dan may be ours.

33 And ^bMō'seš gave unto them, even to the children of Gād, and to the children of Reu'ben, and unto half the tribe of Mā-nās'seh the son of Jō'seph, ^cthe kingdom of Sī'hōn king of the Ām'ōr-ites, and the kingdom of Ōg king of Bā'shān, the land, with the cities thereof in the coasts, even the cities of the country round about.

34 ¶ And the children of Gād built ^dDī'bōn, and Āt'a-rōth, and ^eĀr'ō-ēr,

35 And Āt'rōth, Shō'phan, and ^fJā-ā'zēr, and Jōg'be-hah,

36 And ^gBēth-nīm'rah, and Bēth-hā'ran, fenced cities : and folds for sheep.

37 And the children of Reu'ben built Hēsh'bōn, and E-le-ā'leh, and Kīr-jath-ā'im, 38 And ^hNē'bō, and ⁱBā'al-mē'on, (ⁱtheir names being changed,) and Shīb'mah: and ³gave other names unto the cities which they builded.

39 And the children of ^kMā'chīr the son of Mā-nās'seh went to Gīl'e-ād, and took it, and dispossessed the Ām'ōr-īte which was in it.

40 And Mō'seš ^lgave Gīl'e-ād unto Mā'chīr the son of Mā-nās'seh; and he dwelt therein.

41 And ^mJā'īr the son of Mā-nās'seh went and took the small towns thereof, and called them ⁿHā'voth-jā'īr.

42 And Nō'bah went and took Kē'nath, and the villages thereof, and called it Nō'bah, after ^ohis own name.

CHAPTER 33.

¹ The wilderness journeys. ⁵⁰ Canaanites to be expelled.

THESE are the journeys of the children of Īš'ra-el, which went forth out of the land of Ē'gypt with their armies under the hand of Mō'seš and Aâr'on.

2 And Mō'seš wrote their goings out according to their journeys by the commandment of the LORD: and these are their journeys according to their goings out.

3 And they ^adeparted from Rā-mē'sēš in the ^bfirst month, on the fifteenth day of the first month; on the morrow after the passover the children of Īš'ra-el went out ^cwith an high hand in the sight of all the Ē-gypt'ians.

4 For the Ē-gypt'ians buried all their firstborn, which the LORD had smitten among them: ^dupon their gods also the LORD executed judgments.

5 And ^ethe children of Īš'ra-el removed from Rā-mē'sēš, and pitched in Sūc'coth.

6 And they departed from ^fSūc'coth, and pitched in Ē'tham, which is in the edge of the wilderness.

7 And ^gthey removed from Ē'tham, and turned again unto Pī-ha-hī'roth, which is before Bā'al-zē'phon: and they pitched before Mīg'dol.

8 And they departed from before Pī-ha-hī'roth, and ^hpassed through the midst of the sea into the wilderness, and went three days' journey in the wilderness of Ē'tham, and pitched in Mā'rah.

9 And they removed from Mā'rah, and came unto Ē'līm: and in Ē'līm were twelve fountains of water, and threescore and ten palm trees; and they pitched there.

10 And they removed from Ē'līm, and encamped by the Red sea.

11 And they removed from the Red sea, and encamped in the ⁱwilderness of Sīn.

12 And they took their journey out of the wilderness of Sīn, and encamped in Dōph'kah.

13 And they departed from Dōph'kah, and encamped in Ā'lūsh.

14 And they removed from Ā'lūsh, and encamped at ^jRēph'ī-dim, where was no water for the people to drink.

15 And they departed from Rēph'ī-dim, and pitched in the ^kwilderness of Sī'nāi.

16 And they removed from the desert of Sī'nāi, and pitched ^lat ¹Kib'roth-hat-tā'a-vah.

17 And they departed from Kib'roth-hat-tā'a-vah, and encamped at Hā-zē'roth.

18 And they departed from Hā-zē'roth, and pitched in ^mRīth'mah.

19 And they departed from Rīth'mah, and pitched at Rīm'mon-pā'rez.

20 And they departed from Rīm'mon-pā'rez, and pitched in ⁿLib'nah.

21 And they removed from Lib'nah, and pitched at Rīs'sah.

22 And they journeyed from Rīs'sah, and pitched in Kē-hēl'a-thah.

23 And they went from Kē-hēl'a-thah, and pitched in mount Shā'pher.

24 And they removed from mount Shā'pher, and encamped in Hār'a-dah.

25 And they removed from Hār'a-dah, and pitched in Māk-hē'loth.

26 And they removed from Māk-hē'loth, and encamped at Tā'hāth.

27 And they departed from Tā'hāth, and pitched at Tā'rah.

28 And they removed from Tā'rah, and pitched in Mīth'cah.

29 And they went from Mīth'cah, and pitched in Hāsh-mō'nah.

30 And they departed from Hāsh-mō'nah, and ^oencamped at Mō-sē'roth.

31 And they departed from Mō-sē'roth, and pitched in Bēn-e-jā'a-kān.

32 And they removed from ^pBēn-e-jā'a-kān, and encamped at ^qHôr-hā-gīd'gad.

33 And they went from Hôr-hā-gīd'gad, and pitched in Jōt'ba-thah.

34 And they removed from Jōt'ba-thah, and encamped at Ē-brō'nah.

35 And they departed from Ē-brō'nah, ^rand encamped at Ē'zī-on-gā'bēr.

36 And they removed from Ē'zī-on-gā'bēr, and pitched in the ^swilderness of Zīn, which is Kā'desh.

37 And they removed from ^tKā'desh, and pitched in mount Hôr, in the edge of the land of Ē'dom.

38 And ^uAâr'on the priest went up into mount Hôr at the commandment of the LORD, and died there, in the fortieth year after the children of Īš'ra-el were come out of the land of Ē'gypt, in the first day of the fifth month.

39 And Aâr'on was an hundred and twenty and three years old when he died in mount Hôr.

40 And ^vking Ā'rād the Cā'nāan-īte, which dwelt in the south in the land of Cā'nāan, heard of the coming of the children of Īš'ra-el.

41 And they departed from mount Hôr, and pitched in Zal-mō'nah.

42 And they departed from Zal-mō'nah, and pitched in Pū'non.

43 And they departed from Pū'non, and pitched in Ō'both.

44 And they departed from Ō'both, and pitched in ²Īj'e-āb'a-rīm, in the border of Mō'ab.

45 And they departed from Ī'im, and pitched in ^wDī'bon-gād.

46 And they removed from Dī'bon-gād, and encamped in ^aĀl'mōn-dīb-lā-thā'im.

47 And they removed from Āl'mōn-dīb-lā-thā'im, ^uand pitched in the mountains of Āb'ā-rim, before Nē'bō.

48 And they departed from the mountains of Āb'ā-rim, and ^zpitched in the plains of Mō'ab by Jōr'dān near Jēr'ī-chō.

49 And they pitched by Jōr'dān, from Bēth-jēs'-ī-mōth even unto ³Ā'bēl-shīt'tim in the plains of Mō'ab.

50 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seš in the plains of Mō'ab by Jōr'dān near Jēr'ī-chō, saying,

51 Speak unto the children of Īš'ra-el, and say unto them, ^aWhen ye are passed over Jōr'dān into the land of Cā'nān;

52 ^bThen ye shall drive out all the inhabitants of the land from before you, and destroy all their pictures, and destroy all their molten images, and quite pluck down all their high places:

53 And ye shall dispossess the inhabitants of the land, and dwell therein: ^cfor I have given you the land to possess it.

54 And ^dye shall divide the land by lot for an inheritance among your families: and to the more ye shall ⁴give the more inheritance, and to the fewer ye shall ⁵give the less inheritance: every man's inheritance shall be in the place where his lot falleth; according to the tribes of your fathers ye shall inherit.

55 But if ye will not drive out the inhabitants of the land from before you; then it shall come to pass, that those which ye let remain of them shall be ^epricks in your eyes, and thorns in your sides, and shall vex you in the land wherein ye dwell.

56 Moreover it shall come to pass, that I shall do unto you, as I thought to do unto them.

2 Command the children of Īš'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye come into ^athe land of Cā'nān; (this is the land that shall fall unto you for an inheritance, even the land of Cā'nān with the coasts thereof:)

3 Then ^byour south quarter shall be from the wilderness of Zīn along by the coast of Ē'dom, and your south border shall be the outmost coast of ^ethe salt sea eastward:

4 And your border shall turn from the south ^dto the ascent of Ā-krāb'bim, and pass on to Zīn: and the going forth thereof shall be from the south to Kā'desh-bār'ne-ā, and shall go on to Hā'zar-ād'dar, and pass on to Āz'mōn:

5 And the border shall fetch a compass from Āz'mōn ^eunto the river of Ē'gŷpt, and the goings out of it shall be at the sea.

6 And as for the western border, ye shall even have ¹the great sea for a border: this shall be your west border.

23 The prince of the ^rchildren of Jō'seph, for the tribe of the children of Mā-nās'seh, Hān'nī-el the son of Ē'phōd.

24 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Ē'phrā-īm, Kē-mū'el the son of Shīph'tan.

25 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Zēb'u-lun, Ē-līz'a-phān the son of Pār'nach.

26 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Īs'sa-char, Pāl'tī-el the son of Āz'zan.

27 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Āsh'ēr, Ā-hī'hūd the son of Shēl'q-mī.

28 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Nāph'ta-lī, Pēd'a-hēl the son of Ām-mī'hūd.

29 These are they whom the LORD commanded to divide the ^sinheritance unto the children of Īš'ra-el in the land of Cā'nān.

CHAPTER 35.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'seş in the plains of Mō'ab by Jōr'dan near Jēr'i-chō, saying,

² ^a Command the children of Īş'ra-el, that they give unto the Lē'vites of the inheritance of their possession cities to dwell in; and ye shall give also unto the Lē'vites suburbs for the cities round about them.

³ And the cities shall they have to dwell in; and the suburbs of them shall be for their cattle, and for their goods, and for all their beasts.

⁴ And the suburbs of the cities, which ye shall give unto the Lē'vites, shall reach from the wall of the city and outward ¹ a thousand cubits round about.

⁶ And among the cities which ye shall give unto the Lē'vites there shall be ^b six cities for refuge, which ye shall appoint for the manslayer, that he may flee thither: and ² to them ye shall add forty and two cities.

⁷ So all the cities which ye shall give to the Lē'vites shall be ^c forty and eight cities: them shall ye give with their suburbs.

⁸ And the cities which ye shall give shall be ^d of the possession of the children of Īş'ra-el: ^e from them that have many ye shall give many; but from them that have few ye shall give few: every one shall give of his cities unto the Lē'vites according to his inheritance which ³ he inheriteth.

⁹ ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'seş, saying,

¹⁰ Speak unto the children of Īş'ra-el, and say unto them, ^f When ye be come over Jōr'dan into the land of Cā'nān;

¹¹ Then ^g ye shall appoint you cities to be cities of refuge for you; that the slayer may flee thither, which killeth any person ⁴ at unawares.

¹² And ^h they shall be unto you cities for refuge from the avenger; that the manslayer die not, until he stand before the congregation in judgment.

¹³ And of these cities which ye shall give six cities shall ye have for refuge.

¹⁴ ⁱ Ye shall give three cities on this side Jōr'dan, and three cities shall ye give in the land of Cā'nān, which shall be cities of refuge.

¹⁶ And ^k if he smite him with an instrument of iron, so that he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.

¹⁷ And if he smite him ⁵ with throwing a stone, wherewith he may die, and he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.

¹⁸ Or if he smite him with an hand weapon of wood, wherewith he may die, and he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.

²⁰ But ^l if he thrust him of hatred, or hurl at him ^m by laying of wait, that he die;

²² But if he thrust him suddenly without enmity, or have cast upon him any thing without laying of wait,

²³ Or with any stone, wherewith a man may die, seeing him not, and cast it upon him, that he die, and was not his enemy, neither sought his harm:

²⁴ Then ⁿ the congregation shall judge between the slayer and the revenger of blood according to these judgments:

²⁵ And the congregation shall deliver the slayer out of the hand of the revenger of blood, and the congregation shall restore him to the city of his refuge, whither he was fled: and ^o he shall abide in it unto the death of the high priest, which ^p was anointed with the holy oil.

²⁶ But if the slayer shall at any time come without the border of the city of his refuge, whither he was fled;

²⁷ And the revenger of blood find him without the borders of the city of his refuge, and the revenger of blood kill the slayer; ⁷ he shall not be guilty of blood:

²⁸ Because he should have remained in the city of his refuge until the death of the high priest: but after the death of the high priest the slayer shall return into the land of his possession.

²⁹ So these things shall be for ^q a statute of judgment unto you throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

³⁰ Whoso killeth any person, the murderer shall be put to death by the ^r mouth of witnesses: but one witness shall not testify against any person to cause him to die.

³¹ Moreover ye shall take no satisfaction for the life of a murderer, which is ⁸ guilty of death: but he shall be surely put to death.

³² And ye shall take ^s no satisfaction for him that is fled to the city of his refuge, that he should come again to dwell in the land, until the death of the priest.

³⁴ ^v Defile not therefore the land which ye shall inhabit, wherein I dwell: for ^w I the LORD dwell among the children of Īş'ra-el.

CHAPTER 36.

¹ Law of female inheritance. ⁵ Marriage within the tribe.

AND the chief fathers of the families of the ^a children of Ġil'e-ād, the son of Mā'chīr, the son of Mā-nās'seh, of the families of the sons of Jō'seph, came near, and spake before Mō'seş, and before the princes, the chief fathers of the children of Īṣ'ra-el :

2 And they said, ^bThe LORD commanded my lord to give the land for an inheritance by lot to the children of Īṣ'ra-el : and ^cmy lord was commanded by the LORD to give the inheritance of Zē-lō'phe-hād our brother unto his daughters.

3 And if they be married to any of the sons of the other tribes of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, then shall their inheritance be taken from the inheritance of our fathers, and shall be put to the inheritance of the tribe ¹whereunto they are received : so shall it be taken from the lot of our inheritance.

4 And when ^dthe jubile of the children of Īṣ'ra-el shall be, then shall their inheritance be put unto the inheritance of the tribe whereunto they are received : so shall their inheritance be taken away from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers.

5 And Mō'šeṣ commanded the children of Īṣ'ra-el according to the word of the LORD, saying, The tribe of the sons of Jō'ṣeph ^ehath said well.

6 This is the thing which the LORD doth command concerning the daughters of Zē-lō'phe-hād, saying, Let them ²marry to whom they think best ; only to the family of the tribe of their father shall they marry.

8 And ^gevery daughter, that possesseth an inheritance in any tribe of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, shall be wife unto one of the family of the tribe of her father, that the children of Īṣ'ra-el may enjoy every man the inheritance of his fathers.

9 Neither shall the inheritance remove from one tribe to another tribe ; but every one of the tribes of the children of Īṣ'ra-el shall keep himself to his own inheritance.

11 ^hFor Mäh'lah, Tir'zah, and Hög'lah, and Mil'cah, and Nō'ah, the daughters of Zē-lō'phe-hād, were married unto their father's brothers' sons :

12 And they were married ⁴into the families of the sons of Mā-nās'seh the son of Jō'ṣeph, and their inheritance remained in the tribe of the family of their father.

13 These are the commandments and the judgments, ⁱwhich the LORD commanded by the hand of Mō'šeṣ unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el in ^jthe plains of Mō'ab by Jōr'dan near Jēr'i-chō.

THE FIFTH BOOK OF MOSES, CALLED

DEUTERONOMY.

CHAPTER 1.

¹ Speech of Moses in the plains of Moab. ³⁴ God's anger for Israel's unbelief.

THESE be the words which Mō'šeṣ spake unto all Īṣ'ra-el ^aon this side Jōr'dan in the wilderness, in the plain over against ¹the Red sea, between Pā'ran, and Tō'phel, and Lā'ban, and Hā-zē'roth, and Dīz'a-hāb.

2 (There are eleven days' journey from Hō'reb by the way of mount Sē'ir ^bunto Kā'desh-bār'ne-ā.)

3 And it came to pass ^cin the fortieth year, in the eleventh month, on the first day of the month, that Mō'šeṣ spake unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, according unto all that the LORD had given him in commandment unto them ;

4 ^dAfter he had slain Sī'hōn the king of the Ām'ōr-ites, which dwelt in Hēsh'bōn, and Ōg the king of Bā'shān, which dwelt at Ās'tā-rōth ^ein Ēd're-i :

5 On this side Jōr'dan, in the land of Mō'ab, began Mō'šeṣ to declare this law, saying,

6 The LORD our God spake unto us ^fin Hō'reb, saying, Ye have dwelt long ^genough in this mount :

7 Turn you, and take your journey, and go to the mount of the Ām'ōr-ites, and unto ²all the places nigh thereunto, in the plain, in the hills, and in the vale, and in the south, and by the sea side, to the land of the Cā'nāan-ites, and unto Lēb'a-non, unto the great river, the river Eū-phrā'tēṣ.

8 Behold, I have ³set the land before you : go in and possess the land which the LORD sware unto your fathers, ^hĀ'brā-hām, Īṣ'aac, and Jā'cōb, to give unto them and to their seed after them.

9 ¶ And ⁱI spake unto you at that time, saying, I am not able to bear you myself alone :

10 The LORD your God hath multiplied you, and, behold, ^jye are this day as the stars of heaven for multitude.

11 (The LORD God of your fathers make you a thousand times so many more as ye are, and bless you, ^kas he hath promised you !)

12 ^lHow can I myself alone bear your cumbrance, and your burden, and your strife ?

13 ⁴Take you wise men, and understanding, and known among your tribes, and I will make them rulers over you.

14 And ye answered me, and said, The thing which thou hast spoken is good for us to do.

15 So I took the chief of your tribes, wise men, and known, and ⁵made them heads over you, captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, and captains over fifties, and captains over tens, and officers among your tribes.

16 And I charged your judges at that time, saying, Hear the causes between your brethren, and ^mjudge righteously between every man and his ⁿbrother, and the stranger that is with him.

17 ^oYe shall not ⁶respect persons in judgment ; but ye shall hear the small as well as the great ; ye shall ^pnot be afraid of the face of man ; for the ^qjudgment is God's : and the cause that is too hard for you, ^rbring it unto me, and I will hear it.

18 And I commanded you at that time all the things which ye should do.

19 ¶ And when we departed from Hō'reb, ^swe went through all that great and terrible wilderness, which ye saw by the way of the mountain of the Ām'ōr-ites, as the LORD our God commanded us; and ^twe came to Kā'desh-bār'ne-ā.

20 And I said unto you, Ye are come unto the mountain of the Ām'ōr-ites, which the LORD our God doth give unto us.

21 Behold, the LORD thy God hath set the land before thee: go up and possess it, as the LORD God of thy fathers hath said unto thee; ^ufear not, neither be discouraged.

22 ¶ And ye came near unto me every one of you, and said, We will send men before us, and they shall search us out the land, and bring us word again by what way we must go up, and into what cities we shall come.

23 And the saying pleased me well: and ^vI took twelve men of you, one of a tribe:

24 And they turned and went up into the mountain, and came unto the valley of Ēsh'cōl, and searched it out.

25 And they took of the fruit of the land in their hands, and brought it down unto us, and brought us word again, and said, It is a good land which the LORD our God doth give us.

26 ^wNotwithstanding ye would not go up, but rebelled against the commandment of the LORD your God:

27 And ye murmured in your tents, and said, Because the LORD ^xhated us, he hath brought us forth out of the land of Ē'g̃ypt, to deliver us into the hand of the Ām'ōr-ites, to destroy us.

28 Whither shall we go up? our brethren have ^ydiscouraged our heart, saying, ^zThe people is greater and taller than we; the cities are great and walled up to heaven; and moreover we have seen the sons of the ^aĀn'a-kim̃ there.

29 Then I said unto you, Dread not, neither be afraid of them.

30 ^bThe LORD your God which goeth before you, he shall fight for you, according to all that he did for you in Ē'g̃ypt before your eyes;

31 And in the wilderness, where thou hast seen how that the LORD thy God ^cbare thee, as a man doth bear his son, in all the way that ye went, until ye came into this place.

32 Yet in this thing ^dye did not believe the LORD your God,

33 ^eWho went in the way before you, ^fto search you out a place to pitch your tents in, in fire by night, to shew you by what way ye should go, and in a cloud by day.

34 And the LORD heard the voice of your words, and was wroth, ^gand sware, saying,

35 ^hSurely there shall not one of these men of this evil generation see that good land, which I sware to give unto your fathers,

36 Save Cā'leb the son of Jē-phūn'neh; he shall see it, and to him will I give the land that he hath trodden upon, and to his children, because he hath ⁱwholly followed the LORD.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Speech of Moses continued. 35 Sihon is subdued.

THEN we turned, and took our journey into the wilderness by the way of the Red sea, as the LORD spake unto me: and we compassed mount Sē'ir many days.

2 And the LORD spake unto me, saying,

3 Ye have compassed this mountain long enough: turn you northward.

4 And command thou the people, saying, Ye are to pass through the coast of your brethren the children of Ē'sāu, which dwell in Sē'ir; and they shall be afraid of you: take ye good heed unto yourselves therefore:

5 Meddle not with them; for I will not give you of their land, ¹no, not so much as a foot breadth; ^abecause I have given mount Sē'ir unto Ē'sāu for a possession.

6 Ye shall buy meat of them for money, that ye may eat; and ye shall also buy water of them for money, that ye may drink.

7 For the LORD thy God hath blessed thee in all the works of thy hand: he knoweth thy walking through this great wilderness: these forty years the LORD thy God hath been with thee; thou hast lacked nothing.

8 And when we passed by from our brethren the children of Ē'sāu, which dwelt in Sē'ir, through the way of the plain from ^bĒ'lāth, and from Ē'zī-on-gā'bēr, we turned and passed by the way of the wilderness of Mō'ab.

9 And the LORD said unto me, ²Distress not the Mō'ab-ites, neither contend with them in battle: for I will not give thee of their land for a possession; because I have given ^cÄ'r unto ^dthe children of Löt for a possession.

10 ^eThe E'mimš dwelt therein in times past, a people great, and many, and tall, as ^fthe Ä'n'a-kimš;

11 Which also were accounted giants, as the Ä'n'a-kimš; but the Mō'ab-ites call them E'mimš.

12 ^gThe Hō'rīmš also dwelt in Sē'ir beforetime; but the children of E'sau ³succeeded them, when they had destroyed them from before them, and dwelt in their ⁴stead; as İş'ra-el did unto the land of his possession, which the LORD gave unto them.

13 Now rise up, said I, and get you over the ⁵brook Zē're'd. And we went over the brook Zē're'd.

14 And the space in which we came from Kā'desh-bār'ne-á, until we were come over the brook Zē're'd, was thirty and eight years; ^huntil all the generation of the men of war were wasted out from among the host, ⁱas the LORD sware unto them.

15 For indeed the ^jhand of the LORD was against them, to destroy them from among the host, until they were consumed.

16 ¶ So it came to pass, when all the men of war were consumed and dead from among the people,

17 That the LORD spake unto me, saying,

18 Thou art to pass over through Ä'r, the coast of Mō'ab, this day:

19 And when thou comest nigh over against the children of Ä'm'mōn, distress them not, nor meddle with them: for I will not give thee of the land of the children of Ä'm'mōn any possession; because I have given it unto ^kthe children of Löt for a possession.

20 (That also was accounted a land of giants: giants dwelt therein in old time; and the Ä'm'mōn-ites call them ^lZam-züm'mimš;

21 A people great, and many, and tall, as the Ä'n'a-kimš; but the LORD destroyed them before them; and they succeeded them, and dwelt in their stead:

22 As he did to the children of E'sau, ^mwhich dwelt in Sē'ir, when he ⁿdestroyed the Hō'rīmš from before them; and they succeeded them, and dwelt in their stead even unto this day:

23 And ^othe Ä'vimš which dwelt in Hâ-zē'rīm, even unto ^pÄz'zah, ^qthe Cāph'tō-rīmš, which came forth out of Cāph'tōr, destroyed them, and dwelt in their stead.)

24 ¶ Rise ye up, take your journey, and ^rpass over the river Ä'r'nōn: behold, I have given into thine hand Si'hōn the Ä'm'ōr-ite, king of Hēsh'bōn, and his land: ^sbegin to possess it, and contend with him in battle.

25 ^tThis day will I begin to put the dread of thee and the fear of thee upon the nations that are under the whole heaven, who shall hear report of thee, and shall tremble, and be in anguish because of thee.

26 ¶ And I sent messengers out of the wilderness of Kēd'e-mōth unto Si'hōn king of Hēsh'bōn ¹with words of peace, saying, 27 ^uLet me pass through thy land: I will go along by the high way, I will neither turn unto the right hand nor to the left.

29 (^wAs the children of E'sau which dwell in Sē'ir, and the Mō'ab-ites which dwell in Ä'r, did unto me;) until I shall pass over Jōr'dān into the land which the LORD our God giveth us.

30 ^xBut Si'hōn king of Hēsh'bōn would not let us pass by him: for the ^yLORD thy God ^zhardened his spirit, and made his heart obstinate, that he might deliver him into thy hand, as appeareth this day.

31 And the LORD said unto me, Behold, I have begun to give Si'hōn and his land before thee: begin to possess, that thou mayest inherit his land.

32 Then Si'hōn came out against us, he and all his people, to fight at Jā'hāz.

33 And ^athe LORD our God delivered him before us; and ^bwe smote him, and his sons, and all his people.

34 And we took all his cities at that time, and ^cutterly destroyed the ⁷men, and the women, and the little ones, of every city, we left none to remain:

35 Only the cattle we took for a prey unto ourselves, and the spoil of the cities which we took.

36 ^dFrom Ä'r'ō-ēr, which is by the brink of the river of Ä'r'nōn, and from the city that is by the river, even unto Gīl'e-ād, there was not one city too strong for us: ^ethe LORD our God delivered all unto us:

37 Only unto the land of the children of Ä'm'mōn thou camest not, nor unto any place of the river ^fJāb'bok, nor unto the cities in the mountains, nor unto whatsoever the LORD our God forbad us.

CHAPTER 3.

THEN we turned, and went up the way to Bā'shān: and Ög the king of Bā'shān came out against us, he and all his people, to battle at E'd're-ī.

2 And the LORD said unto me, Fear him not: for I will deliver him, and all his people, and his land, into thy hand; and thou shalt do unto him as thou didst unto ^aSi'hōn king of the Ä'm'ōr-ites, which dwelt at Hēsh'bōn.

3 So the LORD our God delivered into our hands Ög also, the king of Bā'shān, and all his people: and we smote him until none was left to him remaining.

4 And we took all his cities at that time, there was not a city which we took not from them, three-score cities, ^ball the region of Ä'r'gōb, the kingdom of Ög in Bā'shān.

5 All these cities were fenced with high walls, gates, and bars; beside unwalled towns a great many.

6 And we utterly destroyed them, as we did unto Sī'hōn king °of Hēsh'bōn, utterly destroying the men, women, and children, of every city.

7 But all the cattle, and the spoil of the cities, we took for a prey to ourselves.

8 And we took at that time out of the hand of the two kings of the Ām'ōr-ites the land that was on this side. Jōr'dān, from the river of Ār'nōn unto mount Hēr'mōn;

9 (Which °Hēr'mōn the Sī-dō'nī-anš call Sīr'i-ōn; and the Ām'ōr-ites call it °Shē'nir;)

10 °All the cities of the plain, and all Gīl'e-ād, and °all Bā'shān, unto Sāl'chah and Ēd're-ī, cities of the kingdom of Ōg in Bā'shān.

11 °For only Ōg king of Bā'shān remained of the remnant of °giants; behold, his bedstead was a bedstead of iron; is it not in °Rāb'bath of the children of Ām'mōn? nine cubits was the length thereof, and four cubits the breadth of it, after the cubit of a man.

12 And this land, which we possessed at that time, °from Ār'ō-ēr, which is by the river Ār'nōn, and half mount Gīl'e-ād, and °the cities thereof, gave I unto the Reu'ben-ites and to the Gād'ites.

13 °And the rest of Gīl'e-ād, and all Bā'shān, being the kingdom of Ōg, gave I unto the half tribe of Mā-nās'seh; all the region of Ār'gōb, with all Bā'shān, which was called the land of giants.

14 °Jā'ir the son of Mā-nās'seh took all the country of Ār'gōb °unto the coasts of Gēsh'u-rī and Mā-āch'-a-thī; and called them after his own name, Bā'shān-hā'voth-jā'ir, unto this day.

15 °And I gave Gīl'e-ād unto Mā'chīr.

16 And unto the Reu'ben-ites °and unto the Gād'ites I gave from Gīl'e-ād even unto the river Ār'nōn half the valley, and the border even unto the river Jāb'bok, °which is the border of the children of Ām'mōn;

17 The plain also, and Jōr'dān, and the coast thereof, from °Chīn'ne-rēth °even unto the sea of the plain, °even the salt sea, °under Āsh'dōth-pīš'-gah eastward.

18 ¶ And I commanded you at that time, saying, The LORD your God hath given you this land to possess it: ye shall pass over armed before your brethren the children of Īš'ra-el, all that are °meet for the war.

19 But your wives, and your little ones, and your cattle, (for I know that ye have much cattle,) shall abide in your cities which I have given you;

20 Until the LORD have given rest unto your brethren, as well as unto you, and until they also possess the land which the LORD your God hath given them beyond Jōr'dān: and then shall ye °return every man unto his possession, which I have given you.

21 ¶ And I commanded Jōsh'u-ā at that time, saying, Thine eyes have seen all that the LORD your God hath done unto these two kings: so shall the LORD do unto all the kingdoms whither thou passest.

22 Ye shall not fear them: for the °LORD your God he shall fight for you.

23 And I besought the LORD at that time, saying,

24 O Lord GOD, thou hast begun to shew thy ser-

CHAPTER 4.

1 Moses' exhortation. 41 Cities of refuge chosen.

NOW therefore hearken, O Īš'ra-el, unto °the statutes and unto the judgments, which I teach you, for to do them, that ye may live, and go in and possess the land which the LORD God of your fathers giveth you.

2 °Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it, that ye may keep the commandments of the LORD your God which I command you.

3 Your eyes have seen what the LORD did because of Bā'al-pē'or: for all the men that followed Bā'al-pē'or, the LORD thy God hath destroyed them from among you.

4 But ye that did cleave unto the LORD your God are alive every one of you this day.

5 Behold, I have taught you statutes and judgments, even as the LORD my God commanded me, that ye should do so in the land whither ye go to possess it.

6 Keep therefore and do them; for this is °your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the nations, which shall hear all these statutes, and say, °Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people.

7 For °what nation is there so great, who hath °God so nigh unto them, as the LORD our God is in all things that we call upon him for?

8 And what nation is there so great, that hath statutes and judgments so righteous as all this law, which I set before you this day?

9 Only take heed to thyself, and °keep thy soul diligently, °lest thou forget the things which thine eyes have seen, and lest they depart from thy heart all the days of thy life: but °teach them thy sons, and thy sons' sons;

10 Specially °the day that thou stoodest before the LORD thy God in Hō'reb, when the LORD said unto me, Gather me the people together, and I will make them hear my words, that they may learn to fear me all the days that they shall live upon the earth, and that they may teach their children.

11 And ye came near and stood under the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire unto the ¹midst of heaven, with darkness, clouds, and thick darkness.

12 And the LORD spake unto you out of the midst of the fire: ye heard the voice of the words, but saw no similitude; ²only ye heard a voice.

13 And he declared unto you his covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even ten commandments; and he wrote them upon two tables of stone.

14 ¶ And the LORD commanded me at that time to teach you statutes and judgments, that ye might do them in the land whither ye go over to possess it.

15 ^kTake ye therefore good heed unto yourselves; for ye saw no manner of ^lsimilitude on the day that the LORD spake unto you in Hō'reb out of the midst of the fire:

16 Lest ye corrupt yourselves, and make you a graven image, the similitude of any figure, ^mthe likeness of male or female,

17 The likeness of any beast that is on the earth, the likeness of any winged fowl that flieth in the air,

18 The likeness of any thing that creepeth on the ground, the likeness of any fish that is in the waters beneath the earth:

19 And lest thou ⁿlift up thine eyes unto heaven, and when thou seest the sun, and the moon, and the stars, even ^oall the host of heaven, shouldest be driven to worship them, and serve them, which the LORD thy God hath divided ³unto all nations under the whole heaven.

20 But the LORD hath taken you, and brought you forth out of the iron furnace, even out of Ē'gÿpt, to be unto him a people of inheritance, as ye are this day.

21 Furthermore the LORD was angry with me for your sakes, and sware that I should not go over Jôr'dan, and that I should not go in unto that good land, which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance:

22 But ^pI must die in this land, I must not go over Jôr'dan: but ye shall go over, and possess that good land.

23 Take heed unto yourselves, lest ye forget the covenant of the LORD your God, which he made with you, and make you a graven image, or the likeness of any thing, which the LORD thy God hath forbidden thee.

24 For ^qthe LORD thy God is a consuming fire, even ^ra jealous God.

25 ¶ When thou shalt beget children, and children's children, and ye shall have remained long in the land, and shall corrupt yourselves, and make a graven image, or the likeness of any thing, and ^sshall do evil in the sight of the LORD thy God, to provoke him to anger:

26 ^tI call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that ye shall soon utterly perish from off the land whereunto ye go over Jôr'dan to possess it;

ye shall not prolong your days upon it, but shall utterly be destroyed.

27 And the LORD ^ushall scatter you among the nations, and ye shall be left few in number among the heathen, whither the LORD shall lead you.

28 And ^vthere ye shall serve gods, the work of men's hands, wood and stone, which neither see, nor hear, nor eat, nor smell.

29 ^wBut if from thence thou shalt seek the LORD thy God, thou shalt find him, if thou seek him with all thy heart and with all thy soul.

30 When thou art in tribulation, and all these things ⁴are come upon thee, ^x*even* in the latter days, if thou ^yturn to the LORD thy God, and shalt be obedient unto his voice;

31 (For the LORD thy God is ^za merciful God;) he will not forsake thee, neither destroy thee, nor forget the covenant of thy fathers which he sware unto them.

32 For ^aask now of the days that are past, which were before thee, since the day that God created man upon the earth, and ^bask from the one side of heaven unto the other, whether there hath been any such thing as this great thing is, or hath been heard like it?

33 Did ever people hear the voice of God speaking out of the midst of the fire, as thou hast heard, and live?

34 Or hath God assayed to go and take him a nation from the midst of another nation, by temptations, by signs, and by wonders, and by war, and by a mighty hand, and by a stretched out arm, and by great terrors, according to all that the LORD your God did for you in Ē'gÿpt before your eyes?

35 Unto thee it was shewed, that thou mightest know that the LORD he is God; ^c*there is* none else beside him.

36 ^dOut of heaven he made thee to hear his voice, that he might instruct thee: and upon earth he shewed thee his great fire; and thou heardest his words out of the midst of the fire.

37 And because he loved thy fathers, therefore he chose their seed after them, and brought thee out in his sight with his mighty power out of Ē'gÿpt;

38 To drive out nations from before thee greater and mightier than thou art, to bring thee in, to give thee their land for an inheritance, as it is this day.

39 Know therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that ^ethe LORD he is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath: there is none else.

40 ^fThou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments, which I command thee this day, ^gthat it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the LORD thy God giveth thee, for ever.

41 ¶ Then Mō'seš ^hsevered three cities on this side Jôr'dan toward the sunrising;

42 That the slayer might flee thither, which should kill his neighbour unawares, and hated him not in times past; and that fleeing unto one of these cities he might live:

43 Namely, ⁱBē'zēr in the wilderness, in the plain country, of the Reu'ben-ites; and Rā'moth in Gīl'e-ād, of the Gād'ites; and Gō'lan in Bā'shān, of the Mā-nās'sites.

44 ¶ And this is the law which Mō'seš set before the children of Īš'ra-el:

45 These are the testimonies, and the statutes, and the judgments, which Mō'seš spake unto the children of Īš'ra-el, after they came forth out of Ē'gypt,

46 On this side Jōr'dān, ^jin the valley over against Bēth-pē'ōr, in the land of Sī'hōn king of the Ām'ōr-ites, who dwelt at Hēsh'bōn, whom Mō'seš and the children of Īš'ra-el smote, after they were come forth out of Ē'gypt:

47 And they possessed his land, and the land ^kof Ōg king of Bā'shān, two kings of the Ām'ōr-ites, which were on this side Jōr'dān toward the sun-rising;

48 ^lFrom Ār'ō-ēr, which is by the bank of the river Ār'nōn, even unto mount Sī'ōn, which is ^mHēr'mōn, 49 And all the plain on this side Jōr'dān eastward, even unto the sea of the plain, under the springs of Piš'gah.

2 The ^aLORD our God made a covenant with us in Hō'reb.

3 The LORD ^bmade not this covenant with our fathers, but with us, even us, who are all of us here alive this day.

4 The ^cLORD talked with you face to face in the mount out of the midst of the fire,

5 (^dI stood between the LORD and you at that time, to shew you the word of the LORD: for ^eye were afraid by reason of the fire, and went not up into the mount;) saying,

6 ¶ ^fI am the LORD thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Ē'gypt, from the house of ²bondage.

7 ^gThou shalt have none other gods before me.

8 ^hThou shalt not make thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the waters beneath the earth:

22 ¶ These words the LORD spake unto all your assembly in the mount out of the midst of the fire, of the cloud, and of the thick darkness, with a great voice: and he added no more. And he ^vwrote them in two tables of stone, and delivered them unto me.

23 And it came to pass, when ye heard the voice out of the midst of the darkness, (for the mountain did burn with fire,) that ye came near unto me, even all the heads of your tribes, and your elders;

24 And ye said, Behold, the LORD our God hath shewed us his glory and his greatness, and we have heard his voice out of the midst of the fire: we have seen this day that God doth talk with man, and he liveth.

25 Now therefore why should we die? for this great fire will consume us: if we ³hear the voice of the LORD our God any more, then we shall die.

26 ^wFor who is there of all flesh, that hath heard the voice of the living God speaking out of the midst of the fire, as we have, and lived?

29 ^yO that there were such an heart in them, that they would fear me, and ^zkeep all my commandments always, that it might be well with them, and with their children for ever!

30 Go say to them, Get you into your tents again.

31 But as for thee, stand thou here by me, and ^aI will speak unto thee all the commandments, and the statutes, and the judgments, which thou shalt teach them, that they may do them in the land which I give them to possess it.

32 Ye shall observe to do therefore as the LORD your God hath commanded you: ^bye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left.

33 Ye shall walk in ^call the ways which the LORD your God hath commanded you, that ye may live, ^dand that it may be well with you, and that ye may prolong your days in the land which ye shall possess.

CHAPTER 6.

An exhortation to obedience.

NOW these are the commandments, the statutes, and the judgments, which the LORD your God commanded to teach you, that ye might do them in the land whither ye ¹go to possess it:

2 ^aThat thou mightest fear the LORD thy God, to keep all his statutes and his commandments, which I command thee, thou, and thy son, and thy son's son, all the days of thy life; ^band that thy days may be prolonged.

3 ¶ Hear therefore, O Īs'ra-el, and observe to do it; that it may be well with thee, and that ye may increase mightily, as the LORD God of thy fathers hath promised thee, in the land that floweth with milk and honey.

4 ^cHear, O Īs'ra-el: the LORD our God is one LORD:

5 And ^dthou shalt love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might.

6 And ^ethese words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart:

7 And ^fthou shalt ²teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

8 And ^gthou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between thine eyes.

9 And ^hthou shalt write them upon the posts of thy house, and on thy gates.

10 And it shall be, when the LORD thy God shall have brought thee into the land which he sware unto thy fathers, to Ā'brā-hām, to Ī'saac, and to Jā'cob, to give thee great and goodly cities, ⁱwhich thou buildedst not,

11 And houses full of all good things, which thou filledst not, and wells digged, which thou diggedst not, vineyards and olive trees, which thou plantedst not; when thou shalt have eaten and be full;

12 Then beware lest thou forget the LORD, which brought thee forth out of the land of Ē'gypt, from the house of ³bondage.

13 Thou shalt ^jfear the LORD thy God, and serve him, and ^kshalt swear by his name.

14 Ye shall not ^lgo after other gods, of the gods of the people which are round about you;

15 (For the LORD thy God is a jealous God among you) lest the anger of the LORD thy God be kindled against thee, and destroy thee from off the face of the earth.

16 ¶ ^mYe shall not tempt the LORD your God, ⁿas ye tempted him in Mās'sah.

17 Ye shall ^odiligently keep the commandments of the LORD your God, and his testimonies, and his statutes, which he hath commanded thee.

18 And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the LORD: that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest go in and possess the good land which the LORD sware unto thy fathers, 19 To cast out all thine enemies from before thee, as the LORD hath spoken.

20 And when thy son asketh thee ⁴in time to come, saying, What mean the testimonies, and the statutes, and the judgments, which the LORD our God hath commanded you?

21 Then thou shalt say unto thy son, We were Phā'raōh's bondmen in Ē'gypt; and the LORD brought us out of Ē'gypt with a mighty hand:

22 And the LORD shewed signs and wonders, great and ⁵sore, upon Ē'gypt, upon Phā'raōh, and upon all his household, before our eyes:

23 And he brought us out from thence, that he might bring us in, to give us the land which he sware unto our fathers.

24 And the LORD commanded us to do all these statutes, to fear the LORD our God, ^pfor our good always, that ^qhe might preserve us alive, as it is at this day.

25 And ^rit shall be our righteousness, if we observe to do all these commandments before the LORD our God, as he hath commanded us.

CHAPTER 7.

Communion with the nations forbidden.

WHEN the LORD thy God shall bring thee into the land whither thou goest to possess it, and hath cast out many nations before thee, the Hīt'tītes, and the Ġīr'ga-shītes, and the Ām'ôr-ītes, and the Cā'nāan-ītes, and the Pēr'iz-zītes, and the Hī'vītes, and the Jēb'u-sītes, seven nations greater and mightier than thou;

2 And when the LORD thy God shall deliver them before thee; thou shalt smite them, and ^autterly destroy them; ^bthou shalt make no covenant with them, nor shew mercy unto them:

3 ^cNeither shalt thou make marriages with them; thy daughter thou shalt not give unto his son, nor his daughter shalt thou take unto thy son.

4 For they will turn away thy son from following me, that they may serve other gods: so will the anger of the LORD be kindled against you, and destroy thee suddenly.

5 But thus shall ye deal with them; ye shall ^ddestroy their altars, and break down their ¹images, and cut down their groves, and burn their graven images with fire.

6 ^eFor thou art an holy people unto the LORD thy God: ^fthe LORD thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth.

7 The LORD did not set his love upon you, nor choose you, because ye were more in number than any people; for ye were the fewest of all people:

8 But because the LORD loved you, and because he would keep the oath which he had sworn unto your fathers, hath the LORD brought you out with a mighty hand, and redeemed you out of the house of bondmen, from the hand of Phā'raōh king of Ē'gŷpt.

9 Know therefore that the LORD thy God, he is God, the faithful God, which keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love him and keep his commandments to a thousand generations;

10 And repayeth them that hate him to their face, to destroy them: he will not be slack to him that hateth him, he will repay him to his face.

11 Thou shalt therefore keep the commandments, and the statutes, and the judgments, which I command thee this day, to do them.

12 ¶ Wherefore it shall come to pass, if ye hearken to these judgments, and keep, and do them, that the LORD thy God shall keep unto thee the covenant and the mercy which he sware unto thy fathers:

13 And he will love thee, and bless thee, and multiply thee: he will also bless the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy land, thy corn, and thy wine, and thine oil, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep, in the land which he sware unto thy fathers to give thee.

14 Thou shalt be blessed above all people: there shall not be male or female barren among you, or among your cattle.

15 And the LORD will take away from thee all sickness, and will put none of the evil diseases of Ē'gŷpt, which thou knowest, upon thee; but will lay them upon all them that hate thee.

16 And thou shalt consume all the people which the LORD thy God shall deliver thee; thine eye shall have no pity upon them: neither shalt thou serve their gods; for that will be a snare unto thee.

17 If thou shalt say in thine heart, These nations are more than I; how can I dispossess them?

18 Thou shalt not be afraid of them: but shalt well remember what the LORD thy God did unto Phā'raōh, and unto all Ē'gŷpt;

19 The great temptations which thine eyes saw, and the signs, and the wonders, and the mighty hand, and the stretched out arm, whereby the LORD thy God brought thee out: so shall the LORD thy God do unto all the people of whom thou art afraid.

20 Moreover the LORD thy God will send the hornet among them, until they that are left, and hide themselves from thee, be destroyed.

21 Thou shalt not be affrighted at them: for the LORD thy God is among you, a mighty God and terrible.

22 And the LORD thy God will put out those nations before thee by little and little: thou mayest not consume them at once, lest the beasts of the field increase upon thee.

24 And he shall deliver their kings into thine hand, and thou shalt destroy their name from under heaven: there shall no man be able to stand before thee, until thou have destroyed them.

25 The graven images of their gods shall ye burn with fire: thou shalt not desire the silver or gold that is on them, nor take it unto thee, lest thou be snared therein: for it is an abomination to the LORD thy God.

26 Neither shalt thou bring an abomination into thine house, lest thou be a cursed thing like it: but thou shalt utterly detest it, and thou shalt utterly abhor it; for it is a cursed thing.

CHAPTER 8.

Moses further exhorts to obedience.

ALL the commandments which I command thee this day shall ye observe to do, that ye may live, and multiply, and go in and possess the land which the LORD sware unto your fathers.

2 And thou shalt remember all the way which the LORD thy God led thee these forty years in the wilderness, to humble thee, and to prove thee, to know what was in thine heart, whether thou wouldest keep his commandments, or no.

3 And he humbled thee, and suffered thee to hunger, and fed thee with manna, which thou knewest not, neither did thy fathers know; that he might make thee know that man doth not live by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the LORD doth man live.

4 Thy raiment waxed not old upon thee, neither did thy foot swell, these forty years.

5 Thou shalt also consider in thine heart, that, as a man chasteneth his son, so the LORD thy God chasteneth thee.

6 Therefore thou shalt keep the commandments of the LORD thy God, to walk in his ways, and to fear him.

7 For the LORD thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a land of brooks of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills;

8 A land of wheat, and barley, and vines, and fig trees, and pomegranates; a land of oil olive, and honey;

9 A land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarceness, thou shalt not lack any thing in it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass.

10 When thou hast eaten and art full, then thou shalt bless the LORD thy God for the good land which he hath given thee.

11 Beware that thou forget not the LORD thy God, in not keeping his commandments, and his judgments, and his statutes, which I command thee this day:

12 Lest when thou hast eaten and art full, and hast built goodly houses, and dwelt therein;

13 And when thy herds and thy flocks multiply, and thy silver and thy gold is multiplied, and all that thou hast is multiplied ;

14 ⁱThen thine heart be lifted up, and thou ^jforget the LORD thy God, which brought thee forth out of the land of Ē'gÿpt, from the house of bondage ;

15 Who ^kled thee through that great and terrible wilderness, ^lwherein were fiery serpents, and scorpions, and drought, where there was no water ; ^mwho brought thee forth water out of the rock of flint ;

16 Who fed thee in the wilderness with ⁿmanna, which thy fathers knew not, that he might humble thee, and that he might prove thee, ^oto do thee good at thy latter end ;

17 And ^pthou say in thine heart, My power and the might of mine hand hath gotten me this wealth.

18 But thou shalt remember the LORD thy God : ^qfor it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth, that he may establish his covenant which he sware unto thy fathers, as it is this day.

19 And it shall be, if thou do at all forget the LORD thy God, and walk after other gods, and serve them, and worship them, I testify against you this day that ye shall surely perish.

20 As the nations which the LORD destroyeth before your face, ^rso shall ye perish ; because ye would not be obedient unto the voice of the LORD your God.

CHAPTER 9.

Moses recalls the rebellions of the children of Israel.

HEAR, O Īs'ra-el : Thou art to pass over Jôr'dan this day, to go in to possess nations ^agreater and mightier than thyself, cities great and ^bfenced up to heaven,

2 A people great and tall, ^cthe children of the Ān'a-kîmş, whom thou knowest, and of whom thou hast heard say, Who can stand before the children of Ā'nāk !

3 Understand therefore this day, that the LORD thy God is he which ^dgoeth over before thee ; as a ^econsuming fire he shall destroy them, and he shall bring them down before thy face : ^fso shalt thou drive them out, and destroy them quickly, as the LORD hath said unto thee.

4 ^gSpeak not thou in thine heart, after that the LORD thy God hath cast them out from before thee, saying, For my righteousness the LORD hath brought me in to possess this land : but ^hfor the wickedness of these nations the LORD doth drive them out from before thee.

5 ⁱNot for thy righteousness, or for the uprightness of thine heart, dost thou go to possess their land : but for the wickedness of these nations the LORD thy God doth drive them out from before thee, and that he may perform ^jthe word which the LORD sware unto thy fathers, Ā'brā-hām, Ī'saac, and Jā'cob.

6 Understand therefore, that the LORD thy God giveth thee not this good land to possess it for thy righteousness ; for thou art a stiffnecked people.

7 ¶ Remember, and forget not, how thou provokedst the LORD thy God to wrath in the wilderness : ^kfrom the day that thou didst depart out of the land of Ē'gÿpt, until ye came unto this place, ye have been rebellious against the LORD.

8 Also ^lin Hō'reb ye provoked the LORD to wrath, so that the LORD was angry with you to have destroyed you.

9 When I was gone up into the mount to receive the tables of stone, even the tables of the covenant which the LORD made with you, then ^mI abode in the mount forty days and forty nights, I neither did eat bread nor drink water :

10 And the LORD delivered unto me two tables of stone written with the finger of God ; and on them was written according to all the words, which the LORD spake with you in the mount out of the midst of the fire in the day of the assembly.

11 And it came to pass at the end of forty days and forty nights, that the LORD gave me the two tables of stone, even the tables of the covenant.

12 And the LORD said unto me, ⁿArise, get thee down quickly from hence ; for thy people which thou hast brought forth out of Ē'gÿpt have corrupted themselves ; they are ^oquickly turned aside out of the way which I commanded them ; they have made them a molten image.

13 Furthermore ^pthe LORD spake unto me, saying, I have seen this people, and, behold, ^qit is a stiff-necked people :

14 Let me alone, that I may destroy them, and ^rblot out their name from under heaven : and I will make of thee a nation mightier and greater than they.

15 So I turned and came down from the mount, and the mount burned with fire : and the two tables of the covenant were in my two hands.

16 And I looked, and, behold, ye had sinned against the LORD your God, and had made you a molten calf : ye had turned aside quickly out of the way which the LORD had commanded you.

17 And ^sI took the two tables, and cast them out of my two hands, and brake them before your eyes.

18 And I ^tfell down before the LORD, as at the first, forty days and forty nights : I did neither eat bread, nor drink water, because of all your sins which ye sinned, in doing wickedly in the sight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

19 ^uFor I was afraid of the anger and hot displeasure, wherewith the LORD was wroth against you to destroy you. ^vBut the LORD hearkened unto me at that time also.

20 And the LORD was very angry with Aâr'ôn to have destroyed him : and I prayed for Aâr'ôn also the same time.

21 And ^wI took your sin, the calf which ye had made, and burnt it with fire, and stamped it, and ground it very small, even until it was as small as dust : and I cast the dust thereof into the brook that descended out of the mount.

22 And at ^xTāb'e-rah, and at Mās'sah, and at ^yKīb'roth-hat-tā'a-vah, ye provoked the LORD to wrath.

23 Likewise ^zwhen the LORD sent you from Kā'-desh-bār'ne-ā, saying, Go up and possess the land which I have given you; then ye rebelled against the commandment of the LORD your God, and ye ^abelieved him not, nor hearkened to his voice.

24 ^bYe have been rebellious against the LORD from the day that I knew you.

25 Thus I fell down before the LORD forty days and forty nights, as I fell down at the first; because the LORD had said he would destroy you.

26 ^cI prayed therefore unto the LORD, and said, O Lord GOD, destroy not thy people and thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed through thy greatness, which thou hast brought forth out of Ē'gÿpt with a mighty hand.

27 Remember thy servants, Ā'brā-hām, Ī'saac, and Jā'cob; look not unto the stubbornness of this people, nor to their wickedness, nor to their sin:

28 Lest ^dthe land whence thou broughtest us out say, ^eBecause the LORD was not able to bring them into the land which he promised them, and because he hated them, he hath brought them out to slay them in the wilderness.

29 ^fYet they are thy people and thine inheritance, which thou broughtest out by thy mighty power and by thy stretched out arm.

CHAPTER 10.

¹ Restoration of the tables. ¹² An exhortation by Moses.

AT that time the LORD said unto me, ^aHew thee two tables of stone like unto the first, and come up unto me into the mount, and ^bmake thee an ark of wood.

2 And I will write on the tables the words that were in the first tables which thou brakest, and thou shalt put them in the ark.

3 And I made an ark of ^cshittim wood, and hewed two tables of stone like unto the first, and went up into the mount, having the two tables in mine hand.

4 And ^dhe wrote on the tables, according to the first writing, the ten ¹commandments, ^ewhich the LORD spake unto you in the mount out of the midst of the fire ^fin the day of the assembly: and the LORD gave them unto me.

5 And I turned myself and ^gcame down from the mount, and ^hput the tables in the ark which I had made; ⁱand there they be, as the LORD commanded me.

6 ¶ And the children of Ī's'ra-el took their journey from Bē-ē'rōth ^jof the children of Jā'a-kān to Mō-sē'ra: ^kthere Aār'ōn died, and there he was buried, and Ē-le-ā'zar his son ministered in the priest's office in his stead.

7 From thence they journeyed unto Gūd'go-dah; and from Gūd'go-dah to Jōt'bāth, a land of rivers of waters.

8 ¶ At that time the LORD separated the tribe of Lē'vī, to bear the ark of the covenant of the LORD, to stand before the LORD to minister unto him, and ^lto bless in his name, unto this day.

9 ^mWherefore Lē'vī hath no part nor inheritance with his brethren; the LORD is his inheritance, according as the LORD thy God promised him.

10 And I stayed in the mount, according to the ²first time, forty days and forty nights; and the LORD hearkened unto me at that time also, and the LORD would not destroy thee.

11 And the LORD said unto me, Arise, ³take thy journey before the people, that they may go in and possess the land, which I swore unto their fathers to give unto them.

12 ¶ And now, Ī's'ra-el, ⁿwhat doth the LORD thy God require of thee, but to fear the LORD thy God, to walk in all his ways, and ^oto love him, and to serve the LORD thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul,

13 To keep the commandments of the LORD, and his statutes, which I command thee this day for thy good?

14 Behold, ^pthe heaven and the heaven of heavens is the LORD's thy God, ^athe earth also, with all that therein is.

15 Only the LORD had a delight in thy fathers to love them, and he chose their seed after them, even you above all people, as it is this day.

16 Circumcise therefore ^rthe foreskin of your heart, and be no more stiffnecked.

17 For the LORD your God is ^sGod of gods, and ^tLORD of lords, a great God, a mighty, and a terrible, which ^uregardeth not persons, nor taketh reward:

18 ^vHe doth execute the judgment of the fatherless and widow, and loveth the stranger, in giving him food and raiment.

19 Love ye therefore the stranger: for ye were strangers in the land of Ē'gÿpt.

20 ^wThou shalt fear the LORD thy God; him shalt thou serve, and to him shalt thou cleave, ^xand swear by his name.

21 ^yHe is thy praise, and he is thy God, that hath done for thee these great and terrible things, which thine eyes have seen.

22 Thy fathers went down into Ē'gÿpt with three-score and ten persons; and now the LORD thy God hath made thee as the stars of heaven for multitude.

CHAPTER 11.

¹ Moses exhorts to obedience. ²⁶ A blessing and a curse.

THEREFORE thou shalt love the LORD thy God, and ^akeep his charge, and his statutes, and his judgments, and his commandments, *a*lway.

2 And know ye this day: for I speak not with your children which have not known, and which have not seen the chastisement of the LORD your God, his greatness, his mighty hand, and his stretched out arm,

3 And his miracles, and his acts, which he did in the midst of Ē'gÿpt unto Phā'raōh the king of Ē'gÿpt, and unto all his land;

4 And what he did unto the army of Ē'gÿpt, unto their horses, and to their chariots; how he made the water of the Red sea to overflow them as they pursued after you, and how the LORD hath destroyed them unto this day;

5 And what he did unto you in the wilderness, until ye came into this place ;

6 And ^b what he did unto Dā'than and Ā-bī'rām, the sons of Ē-lī'ab, the son of Reu'ben : how the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their households, and their tents, and all the ¹ substance that ² was in their possession, in the midst of all Īṣ'ra-el :

7 But your eyes have seen all the great acts of the LORD which he did.

8 Therefore shall ye keep all the commandments which I command you this day, that ye may ^e be strong, and go in and possess the land, whither ye go to possess it ;

9 And ^a that ye may prolong your days in the land, which the LORD sware unto your fathers to give unto them and to their seed, ^e a land that floweth with milk and honey.

10 ¶ For the land, whither thou goest in to possess it, is not as the land of Ē'g̃ypt, from whence ye came out, ^f where thou sowedst thy seed, and wateredst it with thy foot, as a garden of herbs :

11 ^g But the land, whither ye go to possess it, is a land of hills and valleys, and drinketh water of the rain of heaven :

12 A land which the LORD thy God ³ careth for : ^h the eyes of the LORD thy God are always upon it, from the beginning of the year even unto the end of the year.

13 ¶ And it shall come to pass, if ye shall hearken ⁱ diligently unto my commandments which I command you this day, ^j to love the LORD your God, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul,

14 That ^k I will give you the rain of your land in his due season, ^l the first rain and the latter rain, that thou mayest gather in thy corn, and thy wine, and thine oil.

15 And ^m I will ⁴ send grass in thy fields for thy cattle, that thou mayest ⁿ eat and be full.

16 Take heed to yourselves, ^o that your heart be not deceived, and ye turn aside, and serve other gods, and worship them ;

17 And then ^p the LORD's wrath be kindled against you, and he ^q shut up the heaven, that there be no rain, and that the land yield not her fruit ; and lest ye perish quickly from off the good land which the LORD giveth you.

18 ¶ Therefore shall ye lay up these my words in your heart and in your soul, and bind them for a sign upon your hand, that they may be as frontlets between your eyes.

19 ^r And ye shall teach them your children, speaking of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

20 ^s And thou shalt write them upon the door posts of thine house, and upon thy gates :

21 That ^t your days may be multiplied, and the days of your children, in the land which the LORD sware unto your fathers to give them, ^u as the days of heaven upon the earth.

22 ¶ For if ^v ye shall diligently keep all these com-

23 Then will the LORD ^w drive out all these nations from before you, and ye shall ^x possess greater nations and mightier than yourselves.

24 ^y Every place whereon the soles of your feet shall tread shall be yours : ^z from the wilderness and Lēb'a-non, from the river, the river Eū-phrā'tēs, even unto the uttermost sea shall your coast be.

25 ^a There shall no man be able to stand before you : for the LORD your God shall lay the fear of you and the dread of you upon all the land that ye shall tread upon, ^b as he hath said unto you.

26 ¶ ^c Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse ;

27 A ^d blessing, if ye obey the commandments of the LORD your God, which I command you this day :

28 And a ^e curse, if ye will not obey the commandments of the LORD your God, but turn aside out of the way which I command you this day, to go after other gods, which ye have not known.

29 And it shall come to pass, when the LORD thy God hath brought thee in unto the land whither thou goest to possess it, that thou shalt put ^f the blessing upon mount Ġēr'i-zīm, and the curse upon mount Ē'bal.

30 Are they not on the other side Jôr'dan, by the way where the sun goeth down, in the land of the Cā'nāan-ites, which dwell in the champaign over against Ġil'gāl, beside the plains of Mō'reh ?

31 For ye shall pass over Jôr'dan to go in to possess the land which the LORD your God giveth you, and ye shall possess it, and dwell therein.

32 And ye shall observe to do all the statutes and judgments which I set before you this day.

CHAPTER 12.

1 Moses lays down certain laws and judgments. 17 Holy things to be eaten in a holy place.

THESE are the statutes and judgments, which ye shall observe to do in the land, which the LORD God of thy fathers giveth thee to possess it, ^a all the days that ye live upon the earth.

2 ^b Ye shall utterly destroy all the places, wherein the nations which ye shall ¹ possess served their gods, ^c upon the high mountains, and upon the hills, and under every green tree :

3 And ^d ye shall ² overthrow their altars, and break their pillars, and burn their groves with fire ; and ye shall hew down the graven images of their gods, and destroy the ^e names of them out of that place.

4 Ye shall not do so unto the LORD your God.

5 But unto the place which the LORD your God shall ^f choose out of all your tribes to put his name there, even unto his habitation shall ye seek, and thither thou shalt come :

6 And ^g thither ye shall bring your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, and your ^h tithes, and heave offerings of your hand, and your vows, and your freewill offerings, and the firstlings of your herds and of your flocks :

7 And ⁱthere ye shall eat before the LORD your God, and ^jye shall rejoice in all that ye put your hand unto, ye and your households, wherein the LORD thy God hath blessed thee.

8 Ye shall not do after all the things that we do here this day, every man whatsoever is right in his own eyes.

9 For ye are not as yet come to the rest and to the inheritance, which the LORD your God giveth you.

10 But when ye go over Jôr'dan, and dwell in the land which the LORD your God giveth you to inherit, and when he giveth you rest from all your enemies round about, so that ye dwell in safety;

11 Then there shall be ^ka place which the LORD your God shall choose to cause his name to dwell there; thither shall ye bring all that I command you; your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, your tithes, and the heave offering of your hand, and all ³your choice vows which ye vow unto the LORD:

12 And ye shall rejoice before the LORD your God, ye, and your sons, and your daughters, and your menservants, and your maidservants, and the Lē'vite that is within your gates; forasmuch as ^lhe hath no part nor inheritance with you.

13 ^mTake heed to thyself that thou offer not thy burnt offerings in every place that thou seest:

14 But in the place which the LORD shall choose in one of thy tribes, there thou shalt offer thy burnt offerings, and there thou shalt do all that I command thee.

15 Notwithstanding thou mayest kill and eat flesh in all thy gates, whatsoever ⁿthy soul lusteth after, according to the blessing of the LORD thy God which he hath given thee: the unclean and the clean may eat thereof, ^oas of the roebuck, and as of the hart.

16 ^pOnly ye shall not eat the blood; ye shall pour it upon the earth as water.

17 ¶ Thou mayest not eat within thy gates the tithe of thy corn, or of thy wine, or of thy oil, or the firstlings of thy herds or of thy flock, nor any of thy vows which thou vowest, nor thy freewill offerings, or heave offering of thine hand:

18 ^qBut thou must eat them before the LORD thy God in the place which the LORD thy God shall choose, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Lē'vite that is within thy gates: and thou shalt ^rrejoice before the LORD thy God in all that thou putteth thine hands unto.

19 ^sTake heed to thyself that thou forsake not the Lē'vite ⁴as long as thou livest upon the earth.

20 ¶ When the LORD thy God shall enlarge thy border, ^tas he hath promised thee, and thou shalt say, I will eat flesh, because thy soul longeth to eat flesh; thou mayest eat flesh, whatsoever thy soul lusteth after.

21 If the place which the LORD thy God hath chosen to put his name there be too far from thee, then thou shalt kill of thy herd and of thy flock, which the LORD hath given thee, as I have commanded thee, and thou shalt eat in thy gates whatsoever thy soul lusteth after.

22 Even as the roebuck and the hart is eaten, so thou shalt eat them: the unclean and the clean shall eat of them alike.

23 Only ⁵be sure that thou eat not the blood: ^ufor the blood is the life; and thou mayest not eat the life with the flesh.

24 Thou shalt not eat it; thou shalt pour it upon the earth as water.

25 Thou shalt not eat it; ^vthat it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, ^wwhen thou shalt do that which is right in the sight of the LORD.

26 Only thy ^xholy things which thou hast, and ^ythy vows, thou shalt take, and go unto the place which the LORD shall choose:

27 And ^zthou shalt offer thy burnt offerings, the flesh and the blood, upon the altar of the LORD thy God: and the blood of thy sacrifices shall be poured out upon the altar of the LORD thy God, and thou shalt eat the flesh.

28 Observe and hear all these words which I command thee, ^athat it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee for ever, when thou doest that which is good and right in the sight of the LORD thy God.

29 ¶ When ^bthe LORD thy God shall cut off the nations from before thee, whither thou goest to possess them, and thou ⁶succeedest them, and dwellest in their land;

30 Take heed to thyself that thou be not snared ⁷by following them, after that they be destroyed from before thee; and that thou enquire not after their gods, saying, How did these nations serve their gods? even so will I do likewise.

31 ^eThou shalt not do so unto the LORD thy God: for every ⁸abomination to the LORD, which he hateth, have they done unto their gods; for ^deven their sons and their daughters they have burnt in the fire to their gods.

32 What thing soever I command you, observe to do it: ^ethou shalt not add thereto, nor diminish from it.

CHAPTER 13.

¹ Idolaters to be put to death. ¹² Idolatrous cities to be destroyed.

IF there arise among you a prophet, or a dreamer of dreams, and ^agiveth thee a sign or a wonder,

2 And ^bthe sign or the wonder come to pass, whereof he spake unto thee, saying, Let us go after other gods, which thou hast not known, and let us serve them;

3 Thou shalt not hearken unto the words of that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams: for the LORD your God ^cproveth you, to know whether ye love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul.

4 Ye shall ^dwalk after the LORD your God, and fear him, and keep his commandments, and obey his voice, and ye shall serve him, and cleave unto him.

5 And ^ethat prophet, or that dreamer of dreams, shall ^fbe put to death; because he hath ¹spoken to turn you away from the LORD your God, which brought you out of the land of E'g'gypt, and redeemed you out of the house of bondage, to thrust thee out of the way which the LORD thy God commanded thee to walk in. ^oSo shalt thou put the evil away from the midst of thee.

6 ¶ If thy brother, the son of thy mother, or thy son, or thy daughter, or ^hthe wife of thy bosom, or thy friend, which is as thine own soul, entice thee secretly, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which thou hast not known, thou, nor thy fathers;

7 Namely, of the gods of the people which are round about you, nigh unto thee, or far off from thee, from the one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth;

8 Thou shalt ⁱnot consent unto him, nor hearken unto him; neither shall thine eye pity him, neither shalt thou spare, neither shalt thou conceal him:

9 But thou shalt surely kill him; ^jthine hand shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterwards the hand of all the people.

10 And thou shalt stone him with stones, that he die; because he hath sought to thrust thee away from the LORD thy God, which brought thee out of the land of E'g'gypt, from the house of ²bondage.

11 And ^kall I's'ra-el shall hear, and fear, and shall do no more any such wickedness as this is among you.

12 ¶ If thou shalt hear say in one of thy cities, which the LORD thy God hath given thee to dwell there, saying,

13 Certain men, ³the children of B'e'l'i-al, ^mare gone out from among you, and have ⁿwithdrawn the inhabitants of their city, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which ye have not known;

14 Then shalt thou enquire, and make search, and ask diligently; and, behold, if it be truth, and the thing certain, that such abomination is wrought among you;

15 Thou shalt surely smite the inhabitants of that city with the edge of the sword, ^odestroying it utterly, and all that is therein, and the cattle thereof, with the edge of the sword.

16 And thou shalt gather all the spoil of it into the midst of the street thereof, and shalt burn with fire the city, and all the spoil thereof every whit, for the LORD thy God: and it shall be ^pan heap for ever; it shall not be built again.

17 And ^qthere shall cleave nought of the ⁴cursed thing to thine hand: that the LORD may ^rturn from the fierceness of his anger, and shew thee mercy, and have compassion upon thee, and multiply thee, ^sas he hath sworn unto thy fathers;

18 When thou shalt hearken to the voice of the LORD thy God, ^tto keep all his commandments which I command thee this day, to do that which is right in the eyes of the LORD thy God.

3 ¶ ^dThou shalt not eat any abominable thing.

4 ^eThese are the beasts which ye shall eat: the ox, the sheep, and the goat,

5 The hart, and the roebuck, and the fallow deer, and the wild goat, and the ¹pygarg, and the wild ox, and the chamois.

6 And every beast that parteth the hoof, and cleaveth the cleft into two claws, and cheweth the cud among the beasts, that ye shall eat.

7 Nevertheless these ye shall not eat of them that chew the cud, or of them that divide the cloven hoof; as the camel, and the hare, and the coney: for they chew the cud, but divide not the hoof; therefore they are unclean unto you.

8 And the swine, because it divideth the hoof, yet cheweth not the cud, it is unclean unto you: ye shall not eat of their flesh, nor touch their dead carcase.

9 ¶ These ye shall eat of all that are in the waters: all that have fins and scales shall ye eat:

10 And whatsoever hath not fins and scales ye may not eat; it is unclean unto you.

11 ¶ Of all clean birds ye shall eat.

12 ^fBut these are they of which ye shall not eat: the eagle, and the ossifrage, and the ospray,

13 And the glede, and the kite, and the vulture after his kind,

14 And every raven after his kind,

15 And the owl, and the night hawk, and the cuckow, and the hawk after his kind,

16 The little owl, and the great owl, and the swan,

17 And the pelican, and the gier eagle, and the cormorant,

18 And the stork, and the heron after her kind, and the lapwing, and the bat.

19 And every creeping thing that flieth is unclean unto you: they shall not be eaten.

20 But of all clean fowls ye may eat.

21 ¶ ^gYe shall not eat of any thing that dieth of itself: thou shalt give it unto the stranger that is in thy gates, that he may eat it; or thou mayest sell it unto an alien: for thou art an holy people unto the LORD thy God. ^hThou shalt not seethe a kid in his mother's milk.

22 ⁱThou shalt truly tithe all the increase of thy seed, that the field bringeth forth year by year.

23 And thou shalt eat before the LORD thy God, in the place which he shall choose to place his name there, the tithe of thy corn, of thy wine, and of thine oil, and the firstlings of thy herds and of thy flocks; that thou ^jmayest learn to fear the LORD thy God always.

24 And if the way be too long for thee, so that thou art not able to carry it; or ^kif the place be too far from thee, which the LORD thy God shall choose to set his name there, when the LORD thy God hath blessed thee:

25 Then shalt thou turn it into money, and bind up the money in thine hand, and shalt go unto the place which the LORD thy God shall choose :

26 And thou shalt bestow that money for whatsoever thy soul lusteth after, for oxen, or for sheep, or for wine, or for strong drink, or for whatsoever thy soul ²desireth : and thou shalt eat there before the LORD thy God, and thou shalt rejoice, thou, and thine household,

27 And ¹the Lē'vīte that is within thy gates ; thou shalt not forsake him ; for ^mhe hath no part nor inheritance with thee.

28 ¶ ⁿAt the end of three years thou shalt bring forth all the tithe of thine increase the same year, and shalt lay it up within thy gates :

29 And the Lē'vīte, (because he hath no part nor inheritance with thee,) and ^othe stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, which are within thy gates, shall come, and shall eat and be satisfied ; that the ^pLORD thy God may bless thee in all the work of thine hand which thou doest.

CHAPTER 15.

¹ The seventh year and manner of release. ¹² Concerning an Hebrew servant.

AT the end of ^aevery seven years thou shalt make a release.

2 And this is the manner of the release : Every ¹creditor that lendeth ought unto his neighbour shall release it ; he shall not exact it of his neighbour, or of his brother ; because it is called the LORD'S release.

3 ^bOf a foreigner thou mayest exact it again : but that which is thine with thy brother thine hand shall release ;

4 ²Save when there shall be no poor among you ; ^cfor the LORD shall greatly bless thee in the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance to possess it :

5 Only if thou carefully hearken unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to observe to do all these commandments which I command thee this day.

6 For the LORD thy God blesseth thee, as he promised thee : and thou shalt lend unto many nations, but thou shalt not borrow ; and ^dthou shalt reign over many nations, but they shall not reign over thee.

7 ¶ If there be among you a poor man of one of thy brethren within any of thy gates in thy land which the LORD thy God giveth thee, thou ^eshalt not harden thine heart, nor shut thine hand from thy poor brother :

8 ^fBut thou shalt open thine hand wide unto him, and shalt surely lend him sufficient for his need, in that which he wanteth.

9 Beware that there be not a ³thought in thy ⁴wicked heart, saying, The seventh year, the year of release, is at hand ; and thine ^geye be evil against thy poor brother, and thou givest him nought ; and ^hhe cry unto the LORD against thee, and ⁱit be sin unto thee.

10 Thou shalt surely give him, and ^jthine heart shall not be grieved when thou givest unto him :

11 For the poor shall never cease out of the land : therefore I command thee, saying, Thou shalt open thine hand wide unto thy brother, to thy poor, and to thy needy, in thy land.

12 ¶ And ¹if thy brother, an Hē'brew man, or an Hē'brew woman, be sold unto thee, and serve thee six years ; then in the seventh year thou shalt let him go free from thee.

13 And when thou sendest him out free from thee, thou shalt not let him go away empty :

14 Thou shalt furnish him liberally out of thy flock, and out of thy floor, and out of thy winepress : of that wherewith the LORD thy God hath ^mblessed thee thou shalt give unto him.

15 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of E'gypt, and the LORD thy God redeemed thee : therefore I command thee this thing to day.

16 And it shall be, ⁿif he say unto thee, I will not go away from thee ; because he loveth thee and thine house, because he is well with thee ;

17 Then thou shalt take an aul, and thrust it through his ear unto the door, and he shall be thy servant for ever. And also unto thy maidservant thou shalt do likewise.

18 It shall not seem hard unto thee, when thou sendest him away free from thee ; for he hath been worth ^oa double hired servant to thee, in serving thee six years : and the LORD thy God shall bless thee in all that thou doest.

19 ¶ ^pAll the firstling males that come of thy herd and of thy flock thou shalt sanctify unto the LORD thy God : thou shalt do no work with the firstling of thy bullock, nor shear the firstling of thy sheep.

20 ^qThou shalt eat it before the LORD thy God year by year in the place which the LORD shall choose, thou and thy household.

21 And ^rif there be any blemish therein, as if it be lame, or blind, or have any ill blemish, thou shalt not sacrifice it unto the LORD thy God.

23 Only thou shalt not eat ^tthe blood thereof ; thou shalt pour it upon the ground as water.

CHAPTER 16.

¹ Of the stated feasts. ¹⁸ Of judges and judgments.

OBERVE the ^amonth of Ā'bīb, and keep the ^bpassover unto the LORD thy God : for in the month of Ā'bīb the LORD thy God brought thee forth out of E'gypt by night.

2 Thou shalt therefore sacrifice the passover unto the LORD thy God, of the flock and ^cthe herd, in the place which the LORD shall choose to place his name there.

3 ^dThou shalt eat no leavened bread with it ; seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread therewith, even the bread of affliction ; for thou camest forth out of the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$ in haste : that thou mayest remember the day when thou camest forth out of the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$ all the days of thy life.

4 And there shall be no leavened bread seen with thee in all thy coast seven days ; ^eneither shall there any thing of the flesh, which thou sacrificedst the first day at even, remain all night until the morning.

5 Thou mayest not ¹sacrifice the passover within any of thy gates, which the LORD thy God giveth thee :

6 But at the place which the LORD thy God shall choose to place his name in, there thou shalt sacrifice the passover ^fat even, at the going down of the sun, at the season that thou camest forth out of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$.

7 And thou shalt ^groast and eat it ^hin the place which the LORD thy God shall choose : and thou shalt turn in the morning, and go unto thy tents.

8 Six days thou shalt eat unleavened bread : and ⁱon the seventh day shall be a ²solemn assembly to the LORD thy God : thou shalt do no work therein.

9 ¶ ^jSeven weeks shalt thou number unto thee : begin to number the seven weeks from such time as thou beginnest to put the sickle to the corn.

10 And thou shalt keep the feast of weeks unto the LORD thy God with ³a tribute of a freewill offering of thine hand, which thou shalt give unto the LORD thy God, ^kaccording as the LORD thy God hath blessed thee :

11 And thou shalt rejoice before the LORD thy God, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the $L\bar{e}'v\ddot{i}te$ that is within thy gates, and ^lthe stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, that are among you, in the place which the LORD thy God hath chosen to place his name there.

12 And ^mthou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$: and thou shalt observe and do these statutes.

13 ¶ ⁿThou shalt observe the feast of tabernacles seven days, after that thou hast gathered in thy ⁴corn and thy wine :

14 And ^othou shalt rejoice in thy feast, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the $L\bar{e}'v\ddot{i}te$, the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, that are within thy gates.

15 Seven days shalt thou keep a solemn feast unto the LORD thy God in the place which the LORD shall choose : because the LORD thy God shall bless thee in all thine increase, and in all the works of thine hands, therefore thou shalt surely rejoice.

16 ¶ Three times in a year shall all thy males appear before the LORD thy God in the place which he shall choose ; in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles : and they shall not appear before the LORD empty :

17 Every man shall give ⁵as he is able, according to the blessing of the LORD thy God which he hath given thee.

19 ^pThou shalt not wrest judgment ; ^qthou shalt not respect persons, ^rneither take a gift : for a gift doth blind the eyes of the wise, and pervert the ⁶words of the righteous.

20 ⁱThat which is altogether just shalt thou follow, that thou mayest ^slive, and inherit the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee.

21 ¶ ^tThou shalt not plant thee a grove of any trees near unto the altar of the LORD thy God, which thou shalt make thee.

22 Neither shalt thou set thee up any ⁸image ; which the LORD thy God hateth.

CHAPTER 17.

1 Divers injunctions. 14 Choice of a king. 16 His duties.

THOU shalt not sacrifice unto the LORD thy God any bullock, or ¹sheep, wherein is blemish, or any evilfavouredness : for that is an abomination unto the LORD thy God.

2 ¶ If there be found among you, within any of thy gates which the LORD thy God giveth thee, man or woman, that hath wrought wickedness in the sight of the LORD thy God, in transgressing his covenant,

3 And hath gone and served other gods, and worshipped them, either the ^asun, or moon, or any of the host of heaven, ^bwhich I have not commanded ;

4 And it be told thee, and thou hast heard of it, and enquired diligently, and, behold, it be true, and the thing certain, that such abomination is wrought in $\bar{I}s\bar{r}\ddot{a}$ -el :

5 Then shalt thou bring forth that man or that woman, which have committed that wicked thing, unto thy gates, even that man or that woman, and ^cshalt stone them with stones, till they die.

6 ^dAt the mouth of two witnesses, or three witnesses, shall he that is worthy of death be put to death ; but at the mouth of one witness he shall not be put to death.

7 The hands of the witnesses shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterward the hands of all the people. So thou shalt put the evil away from among you.

8 ¶ ^eIf there arise a matter too hard for thee in judgment, ^fbetween blood and blood, between plea and plea, and between stroke and stroke, being matters of controversy within thy gates : then shalt thou arise, ^gand get thee up into the place which the LORD thy God shall choose ;

9 And ^hthou shalt come unto the priests the $L\bar{e}'v\ddot{i}tes$, and ⁱunto the judge that shall be in those days, and enquire ; ^jand they shall shew thee the sentence of judgment :

10 And thou shalt do according to the sentence, which they of that place which the LORD shall choose shall shew thee ; and thou shalt observe to do according to all that they inform thee :

11 According to the sentence of the law which they shall teach thee, and according to the judgment which they shall tell thee, thou shalt do: thou shalt not decline from the sentence which they shall shew thee, to the right hand, nor to the left.

12 And ^kthe man that will do presumptuously, ²and will not hearken unto the priest ¹that standeth to minister there before the LORD thy God, or unto the judge, even that man shall die: and thou shalt put away the evil from Īṣ'ra-el.

13 And all the people shall hear, and fear, and do no more presumptuously.

14 ¶ When thou art come unto the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee, and shalt possess it, and shalt dwell therein, and shalt say, ^mI will set a king over me, like ⁿas all the nations that are about me;

15 Thou shalt in any wise set him king over thee, whom the LORD thy God shall choose: one ^ofrom among thy brethren shalt thou set king over thee: thou mayest not set a stranger over thee, which is not thy brother.

16 But he shall not multiply horses ^pto himself, nor cause the people ^qto return to Ē'gÿpt, to the end that he should multiply horses: forasmuch as ^rthe LORD hath said unto you, ^sYe shall henceforth return no more that way.

17 Neither shall he multiply wives to himself, that ^this heart turn not away: neither shall he greatly ^umultiply to himself silver and gold.

18 And ^vit shall be, when he sitteth upon the throne of his kingdom, that he shall write him a copy of this law in a book out of that ^wwhich is before the priests the Lē'vītes:

19 And ^xit shall be with him, and he shall read therein all the days of his life: that he may learn to fear the LORD his God, to keep all the words of this law and these statutes, to do them:

20 That his heart be not lifted up above his brethren, and that he ^yturn not aside from the commandment, to the right hand, or to the left: to the end that he may prolong his days in his kingdom, he, and his children, in the midst of Īṣ'ra-el.

CHAPTER 18.

1 Of priestly dues. 9 Avoiding abominations. 15 A promised Prophet.

THE priests the Lē'vītes, and all the tribe of Lē'vī, shall have no part nor inheritance with Īṣ'ra-el: they ^ashall eat the offerings of the LORD made by fire, and his inheritance.

2 Therefore shall they have no inheritance among their brethren: the LORD is their inheritance, as he hath said unto them.

3 ¶ And this shall be the priest's due from the people, from them that offer a sacrifice, whether it be ox or sheep; and ^bthey shall give unto the priest the shoulder, and the two cheeks, and the maw.

4 The ^cfirstfruit also of thy corn, of thy wine, and of thine oil, and the first of the fleece of thy sheep, shalt thou give him.

5 For the LORD thy God hath chosen him out of all thy tribes, ^dto stand to minister in the name of the LORD, him and his sons for ever.

8 They shall have like ^fportions to eat, beside ¹that which cometh of the sale of his patrimony.

9 ¶ When thou art come into the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee, ^gthou shalt not learn to do after the abominations of those nations.

10 There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, ^hor that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch,

11 Or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer.

CHAPTER 19.

1 Of refuge cities. 14 Landmarks. 15 Witnesses.

WHEN the LORD thy God hath cut off the nations, whose land the LORD thy God giveth thee, and thou ¹succeedest them, and dwellest in their cities, and in their houses;

2 ^aThou shalt separate three cities for thee in the midst of thy land, which the LORD thy God giveth thee to possess it.

3 Thou shalt prepare thee a way, and divide the coasts of thy land, which the LORD thy God giveth thee to inherit, into three parts, that every slayer may flee thither.

4 ¶ And this is the case of the slayer, which shall flee thither, that he may live: Whoso killeth his neighbour ignorantly, whom he hated not ²in time past;

5 As when a man goeth into the wood with his neighbour to hew wood, and his hand fetcheth a stroke with the ax to cut down the tree, and the ³head slippeth from the ⁴helve, and ⁵lighteth upon his neighbour, that he die; he shall flee unto one of those cities, and live:

6 Lest the avenger of the blood pursue the slayer, while his heart is hot, and overtake him, because the way is long, and ⁶slay him; whereas he was not worthy of death, inasmuch as he hated him not ⁷in time past.

7 Wherefore I command thee, saying, Thou shalt separate three cities for thee.

8 And if the LORD thy God ^benlarge thy coast, as he hath sworn unto thy fathers, and give thee all the land which he promised to give unto thy fathers;

9 If thou shalt keep all these commandments to do them, which I command thee this day, to love the LORD thy God, and to walk ever in his ways; ^cthen shalt thou add three cities more for thee, beside these three:

10 That innocent blood be not shed in thy land, which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance, and so blood be upon thee.

11 ¶ But ^dif any man ^ehate his neighbour, and lie in wait for him, and rise up against him, and smite him ⁸mortally that he die, and fleeth into one of these cities:

12 Then the elders of his city shall send and fetch him thence, and deliver him into the hand of the avenger of blood, that he may die.

13 Thine eye shall not pity him, ^fbut thou shalt put away the guilt of innocent blood from Īs'ra-el, that it may go well with thee.

14 ¶ ^gThou shalt not remove thy neighbour's landmark, which they of old time have set in thine inheritance, which thou shalt inherit in the land that the LORD thy God giveth thee to possess it.

15 ¶ ^hOne witness shall not rise up against a man for any iniquity, or for any sin, in any sin that he sinneth: at the mouth of two witnesses, or at the mouth of three witnesses, shall the matter be established.

16 ¶ If a false witness ⁱrise up against any man to testify against him ⁹that which is wrong;

17 Then both the men, between whom the controversy is, shall stand before the LORD, before the priests and the judges, which shall be in those days;

18 And the judges shall make diligent inquisition: and, behold, if the witness be a false witness, and hath testified falsely against his brother;

WHEN thou goest out to battle against thine enemies, and seest ^ahorses, and chariots, and a people more than thou, be not afraid of them: for the LORD thy God is ^bwith thee, which brought thee up out of the land of Ē'g'gypt.

2 And it shall be, when ye are come nigh unto the battle, that the priest shall approach and speak unto the people,

3 And shall say unto them, Hear, O Īs'ra-el, ye approach this day unto battle against your enemies: let not your hearts ¹faint, fear not, and do not ²tremble, neither be ye terrified because of them;

4 For the LORD your God is he that goeth with you, ^cto fight for you against your enemies, to save you.

5 ¶ And the officers shall speak unto the people, saying, What man is there that hath built a new house, and hath not ^ddedicated it? let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man dedicate it.

6 And what man is he that hath planted a vineyard, and hath not ^eyet ³eaten of it? let him also go and return unto his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man eat of it.

7 And ^ewhat man is there that hath betrothed a wife, and hath not taken her? let him go and return unto his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man take her.

8 And the officers shall speak further unto the people, and they shall say, ^fWhat man is there that is fearful and fainthearted? let him go and return unto his house, lest his brethren's heart ⁴faint as well as his heart.

9 And it shall be, when the officers have made an end of speaking unto the people, that they shall make captains of the armies ⁵to lead the people.

10 ¶ When thou comest nigh unto a city to fight against it, ^gthen proclaim peace unto it.

11 And it shall be, if it make thee answer of peace, and open unto thee, then it shall be, that all the people that is found therein shall be ^htributaries unto thee, and they shall serve thee.

12 And if it will make no peace with thee, but will make war against thee, then thou shalt besiege it:

13 And when the LORD thy God hath delivered it into thine hands, ⁱthou shalt smite every male thereof with the edge of the sword:

14 But the women, and the little ones, and ^jthe cattle, and all that is in the city, even all the spoil thereof, shalt thou ⁶take unto thyself; and ^kthou shalt eat the spoil of thine enemies, which the LORD thy God hath given thee.

15 Thus shalt thou do unto all the cities which are very far off from thee, which are not of the cities of these nations.

16 But ^lof the cities of these people, which the LORD thy God doth give thee for an inheritance, thou shalt save alive nothing that breatheth :

17 But thou shalt utterly destroy them ; namely, the Hīt'tites, and the Ām'ôr-ites, the Cā'nāan-ites, and the Pēr'iz-zites, the Hī'vites, and the Jēb'u-sites ; as the LORD thy God hath commanded thee :

18 That ^mthey teach you not to do after all their abominations, which they have done unto their gods ; so should ye ⁿsin against the LORD your God.

19 ¶ When thou shalt besiege a city a long time, in making war against it to take it, thou shalt not destroy the trees thereof by forcing an ax against them : for thou mayest eat of them, and thou shalt not cut them down (⁷for the tree of the field is man's life) ⁸to employ them in the siege :

20 Only the trees which thou knowest that they be not trees for meat, thou shalt destroy and cut them down ; and thou shalt build bulwarks against the city that maketh war with thee, until ⁹it be subdued.

3 And it shall be, that the city which is next unto the slain man, even the elders of that city shall take an heifer, which hath not been wrought with, and which hath not drawn in the yoke ;

4 And the elders of that city shall bring down the heifer unto a rough valley, which is neither eared nor sown, and shall strike off the heifer's neck there in the valley :

man, and hast a desire unto her, that thou wouldest have her to thy wife ;

12 Then thou shalt bring her home to thine house ; and she shall shave her head, and ³pare her nails ;

13 And she shall put the raiment of her captivity from off her, and shall remain in thine house, ⁱand bewail her father and her mother a full month : and after that thou shalt go in unto her, and be her husband, and she shall be thy wife.

14 And it shall be, if thou have no delight in her, then thou shalt let her go whither she will ; but thou shalt not sell her at all for money, thou shalt not make merchandise of her, because thou ^jhast humbled her.

15 ¶ If a man have two wives, one beloved, and ^kanother hated, and they have born him children, both the beloved and the hated ; and if the first-born son be hers that was hated :

16 Then it shall be, ^lwhen he maketh his sons to inherit that which he hath, that he may not make the son of the beloved firstborn before the son of the hated, which is indeed the firstborn :

17 But he shall acknowledge the son of the hated for the firstborn, by ^mgiving him a double portion of all ⁴that he hath : for he is ⁿthe beginning of his strength ; ^othe right of the firstborn is his.

18 ¶ If a man have a stubborn and rebellious son, which will not obey the voice of his ^pfather, or the voice of his mother, and that, when they have chastened him, will not hearken unto them :

19 Then shall his father and his mother lay hold on him, and bring him out unto the elders of his city, and unto the gate of his place ;

20 And they shall say unto the elders of his city, This our son is stubborn and rebellious, he will not obey our voice ; he is a glutton, and a drunkard.

21 And all the men of his city shall stone him with stones, that he die : ^qso shalt thou put evil away from among you ; ^rand all Īṣ'ra-el shall hear, and fear.

22 ¶ And if a man have committed a sin ^sworthy of death, and he be to be put to death, and thou hang him on a tree :

2 A bastard shall not enter into the congregation of the LORD; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the LORD.

3 ^aAn Ām'mōn-ite or Mō'ab-ite shall not enter into the congregation of the LORD; even to their tenth generation shall they not enter into the congregation of the LORD for ever:

4 ^bBecause they met you not with bread and with water in the way, when ye came forth out of Ē'gÿpt; and ^cbecause they hired against thee Bā'laam the son of Bē'or of Pē'thōr of Mēs-q-pō-tā'mī-ā, to curse thee.

5 Nevertheless the LORD thy God would not hearken unto Bā'laam; but the LORD thy God turned the ^dcurse into a blessing unto thee, because the LORD thy God loved thee.

6 ^eThou shalt not seek their peace nor their ¹prosperity all thy days for ever.

7 ¶ Thou shalt not abhor an Ē'dom-ite; ^ffor he is thy brother: thou shalt not abhor an Ē-gÿp'tian; because ^gthou wast a stranger in his land.

8 The children that are begotten of them shall enter into the congregation of the LORD in their third generation.

9 ¶ When the host goeth forth against thine enemies, then keep thee from every wicked thing.

10 ¶ ^hIf there be among you any man, that is not clean by reason of uncleanness that chanceth him by night, then shall he go abroad out of the camp, he shall not come within the camp :

17 ¶ There shall be no ^mwhore of ⁿthe daughters of Īṣ'ra-el, nor ^oa sodomite of the sons of Īṣ'ra-el.

18 Thou shalt not bring the hire of a whore, or the price of a dog, into the house of the LORD thy God for any vow : for even both these are abomination unto the LORD thy God.

19 ¶ ^oThou shalt not lend upon usury to thy brother ; usury of money, usury of victuals, usury of any thing that is lent upon usury :

20 ^pUnto a stranger thou mayest lend upon usury ; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury : ^qthat the LORD thy God may bless thee in all that thou settest thine hand to in the land whither thou goest to possess it.

21 ¶ ^rWhen thou shalt vow a vow unto the LORD thy God, thou shalt not slack to pay it : for the LORD thy God will surely require it of thee ; and it would be sin in thee.

22 But if thou shalt forbear to vow, it shall be no sin in thee.

23 ^sThat which is gone out of thy lips thou shalt keep and perform ; even a freewill offering, according as thou hast vowed unto the LORD thy God, which thou hast promised with thy mouth.

24 ¶ When thou comest into thy neighbour's vineyard, then thou mayest eat grapes thy fill at thine own pleasure ; but thou shalt not put any in thy vessel.

25 When thou comest into the standing corn of thy neighbour, ^tthen thou mayest pluck the ears with thine hand ; but ^uthou shalt not move a sickle unto thy neighbour's standing corn.

¹ Offering of firstfruits. ¹² Of tithing.

AND it shall be, when thou art come in unto the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance, and possessest it, and dwellest therein;

2 ^aThat thou shalt take of the first of all the fruit of the earth, which thou shalt bring of thy land that the LORD thy God giveth thee, and shalt put it in a basket, and shalt ^bgo unto the place which the LORD thy God shall choose to place his name there.

3 And thou shalt go unto the priest that shall be in those days, and say unto him, I profess this day unto the LORD thy God, that I am come unto the country which the LORD sware unto our fathers for to give us.

4 And the priest shall take the basket out of thine hand, and set it down before the altar of the LORD thy God.

5 And thou shalt speak and say before the LORD thy God, ^cA Šÿr'i-an ^dready to perish was my father, and he went down into Ē'gÿpt, and sojourned there with a ^efew, and became there a nation, great, mighty, and populous:

6 And ^fthe Ē-gÿp'tians evil entreated us, and afflicted us, and laid upon us hard bondage:

7 And ^gwhen we cried unto the LORD God of our fathers, the LORD heard our voice, and looked on our affliction, and our labour, and our oppression:

8 And the LORD brought us forth out of Ē'gÿpt with a mighty hand, and with an outstretched arm, and ^hwith great terribleness, and with signs, and with wonders:

9 And he hath brought us into this place, and hath given us this land, even ⁱa land that floweth with milk and honey.

10 And now, behold, I have brought the firstfruits of the land, which ^jthou, O LORD, hast given me. And thou shalt set it before the LORD thy God, and worship before the LORD thy God :

11 And ^kthou shalt rejoice in every good thing which the LORD thy God hath given unto thee, and unto thine house, thou, and the Lē'vīte, and the stranger that is among you.

12 ¶ When thou hast made an end of tithing all the ^ltithes of thine increase the third year, which is ^mthe year of tithing, and hast given it unto the Lē'vīte, the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, that they may eat within thy gates, and be filled ;

13 Then thou shalt say before the LORD thy God, I have brought away the hallowed things out of mine house, and also have given them unto the Lē'vīte, and unto the stranger, to the fatherless, and to the widow, according to all thy commandments which thou hast commanded me : I have not transgressed thy commandments, ⁿneither have I forgotten them :

14 ^oI have not eaten thereof in my mourning, neither have I taken away ought thereof for any unclean use, nor given ought thereof for the dead : but I have hearkened to the voice of the LORD my God, and have done according to all that thou hast commanded me.

15 ^pLook down from thy holy habitation, from heaven, and bless thy people Īṣ'ra-el, and the land which thou hast given us, as thou swarest unto our fathers, a land that floweth with milk and honey.

16 ¶ This day the LORD thy God hath commanded thee to do these statutes and judgments : thou shalt therefore keep and do them with all thine heart, and with all thy soul.

17 Thou hast ^qavouched the LORD this day to be thy God, and to walk in his ways, and to keep his statutes, and his commandments, and his judgments, and to hearken unto his voice :

18 And ^rthe LORD hath avouched thee this day to be his peculiar people, as he hath promised thee, and that thou shouldst keep all his commandments ;

19 And to make thee ^shigh above all nations which he hath made, in praise, and in name, and in honour ; and that thou mayest be an ^tholy people unto the LORD thy God, as he hath spoken.

AND Mō'seṣ with the elders of Īṣ'ra-el commanded the people, saying, Keep all the commandments which I command you this day.

2 And it shall be on the day ^awhen ye shall pass over Jôr'dan unto the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee, that thou ^bshalt set thee up great stones, and plaister them with plaister :

3 And thou shalt write upon them all the words of this law, when thou art passed over, that thou mayest go in unto the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee, a land that floweth with milk and honey ; as the LORD God of thy fathers hath promised thee.

4 Therefore it shall be when ye be gone over Jôr'dan, that ye shall set up these stones, which I command you this day, ^ain mount Ē'bal, and thou shalt plaister them with plaister.

5 And there shalt thou build an altar unto the LORD thy God, an altar of stones : ^dthou shalt not lift up any iron tool upon them.

6 Thou shalt build the altar of the LORD thy God of whole stones : and thou shalt offer burnt offerings thereon unto the LORD thy God :

7 And thou shalt offer peace offerings, and shalt eat there, and rejoice before the LORD thy God.

8 And thou shalt write upon the stones all the words of this law very ^eplainly.

9 ¶ And Mō'seṣ and the priests the Lē'vītes spake unto all Īṣ'ra-el, saying, Take heed, and hearken, O Īṣ'ra-el ; this day thou art become the people of the LORD thy God.

10 Thou shalt therefore obey the voice of the LORD thy God, and do his commandments and his statutes, which I command thee this day.

11 ¶ And Mō'seṣ charged the people the same day, saying,

12 These shall stand ^fupon mount Ġēr'ī-zīm to bless the people, when ye are come over Jôr'dan ; Sīm'e-on, and Lē'vī, and Jū'dah, and Īs'sa-char, and Jō'seph, and Bēn'ja-min :

13 And these shall stand upon mount Ē'bal ¹to curse ; Reu'ben, Gād, and Āsh'ēr, and Zēb'u-lun, Dān, and Nāph'ta-lī.

14 ¶ And ^gthe Lē'vītes shall speak, and say unto all the men of Īṣ'ra-el with a loud voice, 15 ^hCursed be the man that maketh any graven or molten image, an abomination unto the LORD, the work of the hands of the craftsman, and putteth it in a secret place. ⁱAnd all the people shall answer and say, Amen.

16 ^jCursed be he that setteth light by his father or his mother. And all the people shall say, Amen.

17 ^kCursed be he that removeth his neighbour's landmark. And all the people shall say, Amen.

18 ^lCursed be he that maketh the blind to wander out of the way. And all the people shall say, Amen.

19 ^mCursed be he that perverteth the judgment of the stranger, fatherless, and widow. And all the people shall say, Amen.

20 ⁿCursed be he that lieth with his father's wife ; because he uncovereth his father's skirt. And all the people shall say, Amen.

21 Cursed be he that lieth with any manner of beast. And all the people shall say, Amen.

22 ^oCursed be he that lieth with his sister, the daughter of his father, or the daughter of his mother. And all the people shall say, Amen.

23 Cursed be he that lieth with his mother in law. And all the people shall say, Amen.

24 ^pCursed be he that smiteth his neighbour secretly. And all the people shall say, Amen.

25 ^qCursed be he that taketh reward to slay an innocent person. And all the people shall say, Amen.

26 ^rCursed be he that confirmeth not all the words of this law to do them. And all the people shall say, Amen.

CHAPTER 28.

AND it shall come to pass, ^aif thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the LORD thy God ^bwill set thee on high above all nations of the earth :

2 And all these blessings shall come on thee, and ^covertake thee, if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the LORD thy God.

3 ^dBlessed shalt thou be in the city, and blessed shalt thou be ^ein the field.

4 Blessed shall be ^fthe fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy ground, and the fruit of thy cattle, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep.

5 Blessed shall be thy basket and thy ¹store.

6 ^gBlessed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and blessed shalt thou be when thou goest out.

7 The LORD ^hshall cause thine enemies that rise up against thee to be smitten before thy face : they shall come out against thee one way, and flee before thee seven ways.

8 The LORD shall ⁱcommand the blessing upon thee in thy ²storehouses, and in all that thou ^jsettest thine hand unto ; and he shall bless thee in the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee.

9 ^kThe LORD shall establish thee an holy people unto himself, as he hath sworn unto thee, if thou shalt keep the commandments of the LORD thy God, and walk in his ways.

10 And all people of the earth shall see that thou ^lart called by the name of the LORD ; and they shall be afraid of thee.

11 And ^mthe LORD shall make thee plenteous ³in goods, in the fruit of thy ⁴body, and in the fruit of thy cattle, and in the fruit of thy ground, in the land which the LORD sware unto thy fathers to give thee.

12 The LORD ⁿshall open unto thee his good treasure, the heaven to give the rain unto thy land in his season, and to bless all the work of thine hand : and thou shalt lend unto many nations, and thou shalt not borrow.

13 And the LORD shall make thee the head, and not the tail ; and thou shalt be above only, and thou shalt not be beneath ; if that thou hearken unto the commandments of the LORD thy God, which I command thee this day, to observe and to do them :

14 ^oAnd thou shalt not go aside from any of the words which I command thee this day, to the right hand, or to the left, to go after other gods to serve them.

15 ¶ But it shall come to pass, ^pif thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee this day ; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee :

19 Cursed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and cursed shalt thou be when thou goest out.

20 The LORD shall send upon thee cursing, ^rvexation, and ^srebuke, in all that thou settest thine hand unto ⁵for to do, until thou be destroyed, and until thou perish quickly ; because of the wickedness of thy doings, whereby thou hast forsaken me.

21 The LORD shall make ^tthe pestilence cleave unto thee, until he have consumed thee from off the land, whither thou goest to possess it.

22 ^uThe LORD shall smite thee with a consumption, and with a fever, and with an inflammation, and with an extreme burning, and with the ⁶sword, and with blasting, and with mildew ; and they shall pursue thee until thou perish.

23 And thy heaven that is over thy head shall be brass, and the earth that is under thee shall be iron.

24 The LORD shall make the rain of thy land powder and dust : from heaven shall it come down upon thee, until thou be destroyed.

25 ^vThe LORD shall cause thee to be smitten before thine enemies : thou shalt go out one way against them, and flee seven ways before them : and ^wshalt be ⁷removed into all the kingdoms of the earth.

26 And thy carcass shall be meat unto all fowls of the air, and unto the beasts of the earth, and no man shall fray them away.

27 The LORD will smite thee with ^xthe botch of E'gypt, and with ^ythe emerods, and with the scab, and with the itch, whereof thou canst not be healed.

28 The LORD shall smite thee with madness, and blindness, and astonishment of heart :

29 And thou shalt grope at noonday, as the blind gropeth in darkness, and thou shalt not prosper in thy ways : and thou shalt be only oppressed and spoiled evermore, and no man shall save thee.

30 ^zThou shalt betroth a wife, and another man shall lie with her : thou shalt build an house, and thou shalt not dwell therein : thou shalt plant a vineyard, and shalt not ⁸gather the grapes thereof.

31 Thine ox shall be slain before thine eyes, and thou shalt not eat thereof : thine ass shall be violently taken away from before thy face, and ⁹shall not be restored to thee : thy sheep shall be given unto thine enemies, and thou shalt have none to rescue them.

32 Thy sons and thy daughters shall be given unto another people, and thine eyes shall look, and fail with longing for them all the day long : and there shall be no might in thine hand.

33 ^aThe fruit of thy land, and all thy labours, shall a nation which thou knowest not eat up ; and thou shalt be only oppressed and crushed alway :

34 So that thou shalt be mad for the sight of thine eyes which thou shalt see.

35 The LORD shall smite thee in the knees, and in the legs, with a sore botch that cannot be healed, from the sole of thy foot unto the top of thy head.

36 The LORD shall ^bbring thee, and ^cthy king which thou shalt set over thee, unto a nation which neither thou nor thy fathers have known; and ^dthere shalt thou serve other gods, wood and stone.

37 And thou shalt become ^ean astonishment, a proverb, ^fand a byword, among all nations whither the LORD shall lead thee.

38 ^gThou shalt carry much seed out into the field, and shalt gather but little in; for ^hthe locust shall consume it.

39 Thou shalt plant vineyards, and dress them, but shalt neither drink of the wine, nor gather the grapes; for the worms shall eat them.

40 Thou shalt have olive trees throughout all thy coasts, but thou shalt not anoint thyself with the oil; for thine olive shall cast his fruit.

41 Thou shalt beget sons and daughters, but ¹⁰thou shalt not enjoy them; for ⁱthey shall go into captivity.

42 All thy trees and fruit of thy land shall the locust ¹¹consume.

43 The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low.

44 He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him: ^jhe shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail.

45 Moreover all these curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue thee, and overtake thee, till thou be destroyed; because thou hearkenedst not unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to keep his commandments and his statutes which he commanded thee:

46 And they shall be upon thee ^kfor a sign and for a wonder, and upon thy seed for ever.

47 ^lBecause thou servedst not the LORD thy God with joyfulness, and with gladness of heart, for the abundance of all things;

48 Therefore shalt thou serve thine enemies which the LORD shall send against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in want of all things: and he ^mshall put a yoke of iron upon thy neck, until he have destroyed thee.

49 ⁿThe LORD shall bring a nation against thee from far, from the end of the earth, ^oas swift as the eagle flieth; a nation whose tongue thou shalt not ¹²understand;

50 A nation ¹³of fierce countenance, ^pwhich shall not regard the person of the old, nor shew favour to the young:

51 And he shall ^qeat the fruit of thy cattle, and the fruit of thy land, until thou be destroyed: which also shall not leave thee either corn, wine, or oil, or the increase of thy kine, or flocks of thy sheep, until he have destroyed thee.

52 And he shall ^rbesiege thee in all thy gates, until thy high and fenced walls come down, wherein thou trustedst, throughout all thy land: and he shall besiege thee in all thy gates throughout all thy land, which the LORD thy God hath given thee.

53 And ^athou shalt eat the fruit of thine own ¹⁴body, the flesh of thy sons and of thy daughters, which the LORD thy God hath given thee, in the siege, and in the straitness, wherewith thine enemies shall distress thee:

54 So that the man that is tender among you, and very delicate, his eye shall be evil toward his brother, and toward the wife of his bosom, and toward the remnant of his children which he shall leave:

55 So that he will not give to any of them of the flesh of his children whom he shall eat: because he hath nothing left him in the siege, and in the straitness, wherewith thine enemies shall distress thee in all thy gates.

56 The tender and delicate woman among you, which would not adventure to set the sole of her foot upon the ground for delicateness and tenderness, her eye shall be evil toward the husband of her bosom, and toward her son, and toward her daughter,

57 And ^{toward} her ¹⁵young one that cometh out from between her feet, and toward her children which she shall bear: for she shall eat them for want of all things secretly in the siege and straitness, wherewith thine enemy shall distress thee in thy gates.

58 If thou wilt not observe to do all the words of this law that are written in this book, that thou mayest fear ^uthis glorious and fearful ^vname, THE LORD THY GOD;

59 Then the LORD will make thy plagues ^wwonderful, and the plagues of thy seed, even great plagues, and of long continuance, and sore sicknesses, and of long continuance.

60 Moreover he will bring upon thee all the diseases of E'gypt, which thou wast afraid of; and they shall cleave unto thee.

61 Also every sickness, and every plague, which is not written in the book of this law, them will the LORD ¹⁶bring upon thee, until thou be destroyed.

62 And ye shall be left few in number, whereas ye were ^xas the stars of heaven for multitude; because thou wouldest not obey the voice of the LORD thy God.

63 And it shall come to pass, that as the LORD ^yrejoiced over you to do you good, and to multiply you; so the LORD ^zwill rejoice over you to destroy you, and to bring you to nought; and ye shall be plucked from off the land whither thou goest to possess it.

64 And the LORD ^ashall scatter thee among all people, from the one end of the earth even unto the other; and there thou shalt serve other gods, which neither thou nor thy fathers have known, even wood and stone.

65 And ^bamong these nations shalt thou find no ease, neither shall the sole of thy foot have rest: ^cbut the LORD shall give thee there a trembling heart, and failing of eyes, and sorrow of mind:

66 And thy life shall hang in doubt before thee; and thou shalt fear day and night, and shalt have none assurance of thy life:

67 ^dIn the morning thou shalt say, Would God it were even! and at even thou shalt say, Would God it were morning! for the fear of thine heart wherewith thou shalt fear, and for the sight of thine eyes which thou shalt see.

68 And the LORD ^eshall bring thee into ^Ē'gÿpt again with ships, by the way whereof I spake unto thee, Thou shalt see it no more again: and ¹⁷ there ye shall be sold unto your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and no man shall buy you.

CHAPTER 29.

THESE are the words of the covenant, which the LORD commanded Mō'seš to make with the children of Iš'ra-el in the land of Mō'ab, beside the covenant which he made with them in Hō'reb.

2 ¶ And Mō'seš called unto all Iš'ra-el, and said unto them, Ye have seen all that the LORD did before your eyes in the land of ^Ē'gÿpt unto Phā'raōh, and unto all his servants, and unto all his land;

3 ^a The great temptations which thine eyes have seen, the signs, and those great miracles:

4 Yet ^b the LORD hath not given you an heart to perceive, and eyes to see, and ears to hear, unto this day.

5 ^c And I have led you forty years in the wilderness: your clothes are not waxen old upon you, and thy shoe is not waxen old upon thy foot.

6 ^d Ye have not eaten bread, neither have ye drunk wine or strong drink: that ye might know that I am the LORD your God.

7 And when ye came unto this place, ^e Sī'hōn the king of Hēsh'bōn, and Ōg the king of Bā'shān, came out against us unto battle, and we smote them:

8 And we took their land, and ^f gave it for an inheritance unto the Reu'ben-ites, and to the Gād-ites, and to the half tribe of Mā-nās'seh.

9 ^g Keep therefore the words of this covenant, and do them, that ye may prosper in all that ye do.

10 ¶ Ye stand this day all of you before the LORD your God; your captains of your tribes, your elders, and your officers, with all the men of Iš'ra-el,

11 Your little ones, your wives, and thy stranger that is in thy camp, from ^h the hewer of thy wood unto the drawer of thy water:

12 That thou shouldest ⁱ enter into covenant with the LORD thy God, and into his oath, which the LORD thy God maketh with thee this day:

13 That he may ^j establish thee to day for a people unto himself, and that he may be unto thee a God, as he hath said unto thee, and as he hath sworn unto thy fathers, to Ā'brā-hām, to Ī'saac, and to Jā'cob.

14 Neither with you only ^k do I make this covenant and this oath;

15 But with him that standeth here with us this day before the LORD our God, ^l and also with him that is not here with us this day:

16 (For ye know how we have dwelt in the land of ^Ē'gÿpt; and how we came through the nations which ye passed by;

17 And ye have seen their abominations, and their

18 Lest there should be among you man, or woman, or family, or tribe, whose heart turneth away this day from the LORD our God, to go and serve the gods of these nations; ¹ lest there should be among you a root that beareth ³ gall and wormwood;

19 And it come to pass, when he heareth the words of this curse, that he bless himself in his heart, saying, ^m I shall have peace, though I walk ⁿ in the ⁴ imagination of mine heart, ^o to add ⁵ drunkenness to thirst:

20 ^p The LORD will not spare him, but then ^q the anger of the LORD and ^r his jealousy shall smoke against that man, and all the curses that are written in this book shall lie upon him, and the LORD shall blot out his name from under heaven.

21 And the LORD ^s shall separate him unto evil out of all the tribes of Iš'ra-el, according to all the curses of the covenant that ⁶ are written in this book of the law:

22 So that the generation to come of your children that shall rise up after you, and the stranger that shall come from a far land, shall say, when they see the plagues of that land, and the sicknesses ⁷ which the LORD hath laid upon it;

23 And that the whole land thereof is brimstone, ^t and salt, and burning, that it is not sown, nor beareth, nor any grass groweth therein, ^u like the overthrow of Sōd'om, and Gō-mōr'rah, Ād'mah, and Ze-bō'im, which the LORD overthrew in his anger, and in his wrath:

24 Even all nations shall say, ^v Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this land? what meaneth the heat of this great anger?

25 Then men shall say, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the LORD God of their fathers, which he made with them when he brought them forth out of the land of ^Ē'gÿpt:

26 For they went and served other gods, and worshipped them, gods whom they knew not, and ⁸ whom he had not ⁹ given unto them:

27 And the anger of the LORD was kindled against this land, ^w to bring upon it all the curses that are written in this book:

28 And the LORD ^x rooted them out of their land in anger, and in wrath, and in great indignation, and cast them into another land, as it is this day.

29 The ^y secret things belong unto the LORD our God: but ^z those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law.

CHAPTER 30.

¹ A promise of mercies. ¹⁵ Good and evil before all.

AND ^a it shall come to pass, when ^b all these things are come upon thee, the blessing and the curse, which I have set before thee, and ^c thou shalt call them to mind among all the nations, whither the LORD thy God hath driven thee,

2 And shalt ^d return unto the LORD thy God, and shalt obey his voice according to all that I command thee this day, thou and thy children, with all thine heart, and with all thy soul ;

3 ^e That then the LORD thy God will turn thy captivity, and have compassion upon thee, and will return and ^fgather thee from all the nations, whither the LORD thy God hath scattered thee.

4 ^g If any of thine be driven out unto the outmost parts of heaven, from thence will the LORD thy God gather thee, and from thence will he fetch thee :

5 And the LORD thy God will bring thee into the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt possess it ; and he will do thee good, and multiply thee above thy fathers.

6 And ^hthe LORD thy God will circumcise thine heart, and the heart of thy seed, to love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, that thou mayest live.

7 And the LORD thy God will put all these curses upon thine enemies, and ^oon them that hate thee, which persecuted thee.

8 And thou shalt return and obey the voice of the LORD, and do all his commandments which I command thee this day.

9 And the LORD thy God will make thee plenteous in every work of thine hand, in the fruit of thy body, and in the fruit of thy cattle, and in the ⁱfruit of thy land, for good : for the LORD will again ^jrejoice over thee for good, as he rejoiced over thy fathers :

10 If thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to keep his commandments and his statutes which are written in this book of the law, and if thou turn unto the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul.

11 ¶ For this commandment which I command thee this day, it is ^knot hidden from thee, neither is it far off.

12 ^lIt is not in heaven, that thou shouldest say, Who shall go up for us to heaven, and bring it unto us, that we may hear it, and do it ?

13 Neither is it beyond the sea, that thou shouldest say, Who shall go over the sea for us, and bring it unto us, that we may hear it, and do it ?

14 But the word is very nigh unto thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart, that thou mayest do it.

15 ¶ See, ^mI have set before thee this day life and good, and death and evil ;

16 In that I command thee this day to love the LORD thy God, to walk in his ways, and to keep his commandments and his statutes and his judgments, that thou mayest live and multiply : and the LORD thy God shall bless thee in the land whither thou goest to possess it.

17 But if thine heart turn away, so that thou wilt not hear, but shalt be drawn away, and worship other gods, and serve them ;

18 ⁿI denounce unto you this day, that ye shall surely perish, and that ye shall not prolong your days upon the land, whither thou passest over Jôr'dan to go to possess it.

19 I call heaven and earth to record this day

CHAPTER 31.

¹ The people encouraged. ¹⁴ Joshua charged. ²⁴ Book of the law given to the Levites.

AND Mō'seş went and spake these words unto all Ī'srā-el.

2 And he said unto them, I ^aam an hundred and twenty years old this day ; I can no more ^bgo out and come in : also the LORD hath said unto me, ^cThou shalt not go over this Jôr'dan.

3 The LORD thy God, ^ahe will go over before thee, and he will destroy these nations from before thee, and thou shalt possess them : and Jōsh'u-ā, he shall go over before thee, as the LORD hath said.

4 And the LORD shall do unto them ^eas he did to Sī'hōn and to Ōg, kings of the Ām'ōr-ites, and unto the land of them, whom he destroyed.

5 And ^fthe LORD shall give them up before your face, that ye may do unto them according unto all the commandments which I have commanded you.

6 ^gBe strong and of a good courage, ^hfear not, nor be afraid of them : for the LORD thy God, ⁱhe it is that doth go with thee ; ^jhe will not fail thee, nor forsake thee.

7 ¶ And Mō'seş called unto Jōsh'u-ā, and said unto him in the sight of all Ī'srā-el, ^kBe strong and of a good courage : for thou must go with this people unto the land which the LORD hath sworn unto their fathers to give them ; and thou shalt cause them to inherit it.

8 And the LORD, ^lhe it is that doth go before thee ; ^mhe will be with thee, he will not fail thee, neither forsake thee : fear not, neither be dismayed.

9 ¶ And Mō'seş wrote this law, ⁿand delivered it unto the priests the sons of Lē'vī, ^owhich bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and unto all the elders of Ī'srā-el.

10 And Mō'seş commanded them, saying, At the end of every seven years, in the solemnity of the ^pyear of release, ^qin the feast of tabernacles, 11 When all Ī'srā-el is come to ^rappear before the LORD thy God in the place which he shall choose, ^sthou shalt read this law before all Ī'srā-el in their hearing.

12 ^tGather the people together, men, and women, and children, and thy stranger that is within thy gates, that they may hear, and that they may learn, and fear the LORD your God, and observe to do all the words of this law :

13 And that their children, ^uwhich have not known any thing, ^vmay hear, and learn to fear the LORD your God, as long as ye live in the land whither ye go over Jôr'dan to possess it.

14 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'seş, ^wBehold, thy days approach that thou must die: call Jōsh'u-ā, and present yourselves in the tabernacle of the congregation, that I may give him a charge. And Mō'sēš and Jōsh'u-ā went, and presented themselves in the tabernacle of the congregation.

15 And ^athe LORD appeared in the tabernacle in a pillar of a cloud: and the pillar of the cloud stood over the door of the tabernacle.

16 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'sēš, Behold, thou shalt ¹sleep with thy fathers; and this people will ²rise up, and ³go a whoring after the gods of the strangers of the land, whither they go to be among them, and will ⁴forsake me, and break my covenant which I have made with them.

17 Then my anger shall be kindled against them in that day, and ^bI will forsake them, and I will ^chide my face from them, and they shall be devoured, and many evils and troubles shall ²befall them; so that they will say in that day, ^dAre not these evils come upon us, because our God is ^enot among us?

18 And I will surely hide my face in that day for all the evils which they shall have wrought, in that they are turned unto other gods.

19 Now therefore write ye this song for you, and teach it the children of Īš'ra-el: put it in their mouths, that this song may be a witness for me against the children of Īš'ra-el.

20 For when I shall have brought them into the land which I swear unto their fathers, that floweth with milk and honey; and they shall have eaten and filled themselves, ^fand waxen fat; then will they turn unto other gods, and serve them, and provoke me, and break my covenant.

21 And it shall come to pass, when many evils and troubles are befallen them, that this song shall testify ³against them as a witness; for it shall not be forgotten out of the mouths of their seed: for ^gI know their imagination ^hwhich they ⁴go about, even now, before I have brought them into the land which I swear.

22 ¶ Mō'sēš therefore wrote this song the same day, and taught it the children of Īš'ra-el.

23 And he gave Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn a charge, and said, ⁱBe strong and of a good courage: for thou shalt bring the children of Īš'ra-el into the land which I swear unto them: and I will be with thee.

24 ¶ And it came to pass, when Mō'sēš had made an end of writing the words of this law in a book, until they were finished,

25 That Mō'sēš commanded the Lē'vites, which bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD, saying,

26 Take this book of the law, ^jand put it in the side of the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God, that it may be there for a witness against thee.

27 ^kFor I know thy rebellion, and thy ¹stiff neck: behold, while I am yet alive with you this day, ye have been rebellious against the LORD; and how much more after my death?

28 ¶ Gather unto me all the elders of your tribes, and your officers, that I may speak these words in their ears, ^mand call heaven and earth to record against them.

30 And Mō'sēš spake in the ears of all the congregation of Īš'ra-el the words of this song, until they were ended.

CHAPTER 32.

1 Song of Moses. 48 He is ordered to Nebo to die.

GIVE ^aear, O ye heavens, and I will speak; and ^bhear, O earth, the words of my mouth.

2 ^bMy doctrine shall drop as the rain, my speech shall distil as the dew, ^cas the small rain upon the tender herb, and as the showers upon the grass:

3 Because I will publish the name of the LORD: ascribe ye greatness unto our God.

4 He is the Rock, ^dhis work is perfect: for ^eall his ways are judgment: ^fa God of truth and ^gwithout iniquity, just and right is he.

5 ¹They have corrupted themselves, ²their spot is not the spot of his children: they are a perverse and crooked generation.

6 Do ye thus ^hrequite the LORD, O foolish people and unwise? is not he ⁱthy father that hath ^jbought thee? hath he not made thee, and established thee?

7 ¶ Remember the days of old, consider the years of ³many generations: ask thy father, and he will shew thee; thy elders, and they will tell thee.

8 When the most High ^kdivided to the nations their inheritance, when he ^lseparated the sons of Ād'ām, he set the bounds of the people according to the number of the children of Īš'ra-el.

9 For ^mthe LORD'S portion is his people; Jā'cōb is the ⁴lot of his inheritance.

10 He found him in a desert land, and in the waste howling wilderness; he ⁵led him about, he ⁿinstructed him, he ^okept him as the apple of his eye.

11 As an eagle stirreth up her nest, fluttereth over her young, spreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings:

12 So the LORD alone did lead him, and there was no strange god with him.

13 ^pHe made him ride on the high places of the earth, that he might eat the increase of the fields; and he made him to suck ^qhoney out of the rock, and oil out of the flinty rock;

14 Butter of kine, and milk of sheep, with fat of lambs, and rams of the breed of Bā'shān, and goats, ^rwith the fat of kidneys of wheat; and thou didst drink the pure ^sblood of the grape.

15 ¶ But Jēsh'u-rūn waxed fat, and kicked: thou art waxen fat, thou art grown thick, thou art covered with fatness; then he ^tforsook God which made him, and lightly esteemed the ^uRock of his salvation.

16 They provoked him to jealousy with strange gods, with abominations provoked they him to anger.

17 They sacrificed unto devils, ^vnot to God; to gods whom they knew not, to new gods that came newly up, whom your fathers feared not.

18 Of the Rock that begat thee thou art unmindful, and hast forgotten God that formed thee.

19 And when the LORD saw it, he ⁷abhorred them, because of the provoking of his sons, and of his daughters.

20 And he said, I will hide my face from them, I will see what their end shall be: for they are a very froward generation, ^vchildren in whom is no faith.

21 They have moved me to jealousy with that which is not God; they have provoked me to anger ^wwith their vanities: and ^xI will move them to jealousy with those which are not a people; I will provoke them to anger with a foolish nation.

22 For ^ya fire is kindled in mine anger, and ⁸shall burn unto the lowest hell, and ⁹shall consume the earth with her increase, and set on fire the foundations of the mountains.

23 I will heap mischiefs upon them; I will spend mine arrows upon them.

24 They shall be burnt with hunger, and devoured with ¹⁰burning heat, and with bitter destruction: I will also send the teeth of beasts upon them, with the poison of serpents of the dust.

25 ^zThe sword without, and terror ¹¹within, shall ¹²destroy both the young man and the virgin, the suckling also with the man of gray hairs.

26 I said, I would scatter them into corners, I would make the remembrance of them to cease from among men:

27 Were it not that I feared the wrath of the enemy, lest their adversaries should behave themselves strangely, and lest they should ^asay, ¹³Our hand is high, and the LORD hath not done all this.

28 For they are a nation void of counsel, neither is there any understanding in them.

29 ^bO that they were wise, that they understood this, that they would consider their latter end!

30 How should ^cone chase a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight, except their Rock ^dhad sold them, and the LORD had shut them up?

31 For their rock is not as our Rock, ^eeven our enemies themselves being judges.

32 For their vine ¹⁴is of the vine of Söd'om, and of the fields of Gō-mōr'rah: their grapes are grapes of gall, their clusters are bitter:

33 Their wine is the poison of dragons, and the cruel venom of asps.

34 Is not this ^flaid up in store with me, and sealed up among my treasures?

35 ^gTo me belongeth vengeance, and recompence; their foot shall slide in due time: for the day of their calamity is at hand, and the things that shall come upon them make haste.

36 For the LORD shall judge his people, ^hand repent himself for his servants, when he seeth that their ¹⁵power is gone, and there is none shut up, or left.

37 And he shall say, ⁱWhere are their gods, their rock in whom they trusted, 38 Which did eat the fat of their sacrifices, and drank the wine of their drink offerings? let them rise up and help you, and be ¹⁶your protection.

god with me: ^kI kill, and I make alive; I wound, and I heal: neither is there any that can deliver out of my hand.

40 ^lFor I lift up my hand to heaven, and say, I live for ever.

41 If I whet my glittering sword, and mine hand take hold on judgment; I will render vengeance to mine enemies, and will reward them that hate me.

42 I will make mine arrows drunk with blood, and my sword shall devour flesh; and that with the blood of the slain and of the captives, from the beginning of revenges ^mupon the enemy.

43 ¹⁷Rejoice, O ye nations, with his people: for he will ^oavenge the blood of his servants, and ^pwill render vengeance to his adversaries, and will be merciful unto his land, and to his people.

44 ¶ And Mō'šeş came and spake all the words of this song in the ears of the people, he, and ¹⁸Hō-shē'a the son of Nūn.

45 And Mō'šeş made an end of speaking all these words to all Īş'ra-el:

46 And he said unto them, Set your hearts unto all the words which I testify among you this day, which ye shall command your children to observe to do, all the words of this law.

47 For it is not a vain thing for you; ^qbecause it is your life: and through this thing ye shall prolong your days in the land, whither ye go over Jōr'dan to possess it.

48 ^rAnd the LORD spake unto Mō'šeş that selfsame day, saying,

49 Get thee up into this mountain Āb'ā-rim, unto mount Nē'bō, which is in the land of Mō'ab, that is over against Jēr'i-chō; and behold the land of Cā'nāan, which I give unto the children of Īş'ra-el for a possession:

50 And die in the mount whither thou goest up, and be gathered unto thy people; as Aâr'on thy brother died in mount Hōr, and was gathered unto his people:

51 Because ^sye trespassed against me among the children of Īş'ra-el at the waters of ¹⁹Mēr'i-bah-Kā'-desh, in the wilderness of Zīn; because ye sanctified me not in the midst of the children of Īş'ra-el.

52 Yet thou shalt see the land before thee; but thou shalt not go thither unto the land which I give the children of Īş'ra-el.

CHAPTER 33.

1 Moses blesses the tribes. 23 Safety of Israel.

AND ^athis is the blessing, wherewith Mō'šeş the man of God blessed the children of Īş'ra-el before his death.

2 And he said, ^bThe LORD came from Sī'nāi, and rose up from Sē'ir unto them; he shined forth from mount Pā'ran, and he came with ^cten thousands of saints: from his right hand went ¹a fiery law for them.

3 Yea, ^dhe loved the people; ^eall his saints are in thy hand: and they ^fsat down at thy feet; every one shall receive of thy words.

4 ^gMō'šeş commanded us a law, even the inheritance of the congregation of Jā'qob.

5 And he was ^hking in Jēsh'u-rūn, when the heads of the people and the tribes of Īs'ra-el were gathered together.

6 ¶ Let Reu'ben live, and not die; and let not his men be few.

7 ¶ And this is the blessing of Jū'dah: and he said, Hear, LORD, the voice of Jū'dah, and bring him unto his people: ⁱlet his hands be sufficient for him; and be thou an help to him from his enemies.

8 ¶ And of Lē'vī he said, ^jLet thy Thūm'mim and thy Ū'rim be with thy holy one, whom thou didst prove at Mās'sah, and with whom thou didst strive at the waters of Mēr'ī-bah;

9 Who said unto his ^kfather and to his mother, I have not seen him; ^lneither did he acknowledge his brethren, nor knew his own children: for ^mthey have observed thy word, and kept thy covenant.

10 ⁿThey shall teach Jā'cob thy judgments, and Īs'ra-el thy law: ^othey shall put incense ^pbefore thee, ^qand whole burnt sacrifice upon thine altar.

11 Bless, LORD, his substance, and accept ^rthe work of his hands: smite through the loins of them that rise against him, and of them that hate him, that they rise not again.

12 ¶ And of Bēn'ja-min he said, The beloved of the LORD shall dwell in safety by him; and the LORD shall cover him all the day long, and he shall dwell between his shoulders.

13 ¶ And of Jō'seph he said, ^sBlessed of the LORD be his land, for the precious things of heaven, for ^tthe dew, and for the deep that coucheth beneath,

14 And for the precious fruits brought forth by the sun, and for the precious things ^uput forth by the ^vmoon,

15 And for the chief things of the ancient mountains, and for the precious things ^wof the lasting hills,

16 And for the precious things of the earth and fulness thereof, and for the good will of ^xhim that dwelt in the bush: let the blessing come upon the head of Jō'seph, and upon the top of the head of him that was separated from his brethren.

17 His glory is like the firstling of his bullock, and his horns are like the horns of ^yunicorns: with them ^zhe shall push the people together to the ends of the earth: and they are the ten thousands of Ē'phrā-īm, and they are the thousands of Mā-nās'seh.

18 ¶ And of Zēb'u-lun he said, Rejoice, Zēb'u-lun, in thy going out; and, Īs'sa-char, in thy tents.

19 They shall ^{aa}call the people unto the mountain; there ^{ab}they shall offer sacrifices of righteousness: for they shall suck of the abundance of the seas, and of treasures hid in the sand.

20 ¶ And of Gād he said, Blessed be he that ^{ac}enlargeth Gād: he dwelleth as a lion, and teareth the arm with the crown of the head.

21 And ^{ad}he provided the first part for himself, because there, in a portion of the lawgiver, was he ^{ae}seated; and ^{af}he came with the heads of the people, he executed the justice of the LORD, and his judgments with Īs'ra-el.

22 ¶ And of Dān he said, Dān is a lion's whelp: ^{ag}he shall leap from Bā'shān.

CHAPTER 34.

1 Moses on mount Nebo. 5 He views the land and dies. 9 Joshua succeeds him.

AND Mō'seš went up from the plains of Mō'ab unto the mountain of Nē'bō, to the top of ¹Piṣ'gah, that is over against Jēr'ī-chō. And the LORD shewed him all the land of Gīl'ē-ād, ^aunto Dān,

2 And all Nāph'ta-lī, and the land of Ē'phrā-īm, and Mā-nās'seh, and all the land of Jū'dah, ^bunto the utmost sea,

3 And the south, and the plain of the valley of Jēr'ī-chō, ^cthe city of palm trees, unto Zō'ar.

4 And the LORD said unto him, This is the land which I swear unto Ā'brā-hām, unto Ī'saac, and unto Jā'cob, saying, I will give it unto thy seed: I have caused thee to see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not go over thither.

5 ¶ ^dSo Mō'seš the servant of the LORD died there in the land of Mō'ab, according to the word of the LORD.

6 And he buried him in a valley in the land of Mō'ab, over against Bēth-pē'ôr: but ^eno man knoweth of his sepulchre unto this day.

7 ¶ ^fAnd Mō'seš was an hundred and twenty years old when he died: ^ghis eye was not dim, nor his ^hnatural force abated.

8 ¶ And the children of Īs'ra-el wept for Mō'seš in the plains of Mō'ab ⁱthirty days: so the days of weeping and mourning for Mō'seš were ended.

9 ¶ And Jōsh'u-à the son of Nūn was full of the ^jspirit of wisdom; for Mō'seš ^khad laid his hands upon him: and the children of Īs'ra-el hearkened unto him, and did as the LORD commanded Mō'seš.

10 ¶ And there ^larose not a prophet since in Īs'ra-el like unto Mō'seš, ^mwhom the LORD knew face to face,

11 In all the signs and the wonders, which the LORD sent him to do in the land of Ē'gÿpt to Phā'raōh, and to all his servants, and to all his land, 12 And in all that mighty hand, and in all the great terror which Mō'seš shewed in the sight of all Īs'ra-el.

THE BOOK OF JOSHUA.

CHAPTER 1.

1 Joshua ordered to cross Jordan. 10 He prepares the people.

NOW after the death of Mō'seş the servant of the LORD it came to pass, that the LORD spake unto Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn, Mō'seş' ^aminister, saying,

2 ^bMō'seş my servant is dead; now therefore arise, go over this Jōr'dān, thou, and all this people, unto the land which I do give to them, even to the children of Īş'ra-el.

3 ^cEvery place that the sole of your foot shall tread upon, that have I given unto you, as I said unto Mō'seş.

4 ^dFrom the wilderness and this Lēb'a-non even unto the great river, the river Eū-phrā'tēs, all the land of the Hīt'tites, and unto the great sea toward the going down of the sun, shall be your coast.

5 ^eThere shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life: ^fas I was with Mō'seş, so I will be with thee: ^gI will not fail thee, nor forsake thee.

6 Be strong and of a good courage: for ¹unto this people shalt thou divide for an inheritance the land, which I swear unto their fathers to give them.

7 Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law, ^hwhich Mō'seş my servant commanded thee: turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest ²prosper whithersoever thou goest.

8 ⁱThis book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but ^jthou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for ^kthen thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt ³have good success.

9 Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; ^lbe not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the LORD thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.

10 ¶ Then Jōsh'u-ā commanded the officers of the people, saying,

11 Pass through the host, and command the people, saying, Prepare you victuals; for ^mwithin three days ye shall pass over this Jōr'dān, to go in to possess the land, which the LORD your God giveth you to possess it.

12 ¶ And to the Reu'ben-ites, and to the Gād'ites, and to half the tribe of Mā-nās'seh, spake Jōsh'u-ā, saying,

13 Remember ⁿthe word which Mō'seş the servant of the LORD commanded you, saying, The LORD your God hath given you rest, and hath given you this land.

14 Your wives, your little ones, and your cattle, shall remain in the land which Mō'seş gave you on this side Jōr'dān; but ye shall pass before your brethren ⁴armed, all the mighty men of valour, and help them;

CHAPTER 2.

1 Spies sent to Jericho. 4 Rahab conceals them. 12 Their covenant.

AND Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn ¹sent ^aout of Shīt'tim two men to spy secretly, saying, Go view the land, even Jēr'ī-chō. And they went, and ^bcame into an harlot's house, named ^cRā'hāb, and ²lodged there.

2 And ^dit was told the king of Jēr'ī-chō, saying, Behold, there came men in hither to night of the children of Īş'ra-el to search out the country.

3 And the king of Jēr'ī-chō sent unto Rā'hāb, saying, Bring forth the men that are come to thee, which are entered into thine house: for they be come to search out all the country.

4 ^eAnd the woman took the two men, and hid them, and said thus, There came men unto me, but I wist not whence they were:

5 And it came to pass about the time of shutting of the gate, when it was dark, that the men went out: whither the men went I wot not: pursue after them quickly; for ye shall overtake them.

6 But ^fshe had brought them up to the roof of the house, and hid them with the stalks of flax, which she had laid in order upon the roof.

7 And the men pursued after them the way to Jōr'dān unto the fords: and as soon as they which pursued after them were gone out, they shut the gate.

8 ¶ And before they were laid down, she came up unto them upon the roof;

9 And she said unto the men, I know that the LORD hath given you the land, and that your ^gterror is fallen upon us, and that all the inhabitants of the land ³faint because of you.

10 For we have heard how the LORD ^hdried up the water of the Red sea for you, when ye came out of E'g'gypt; and ⁱwhat ye did unto the two kings of the Am'ōr-ites, that were on the other side Jōr'dān, Sī'hōn and Ōg, whom ye utterly destroyed.

11 And as soon as we had ^jheard these things, ^kour hearts did melt, neither ⁴did there remain any more courage in any man, because of you : for ^lthe LORD your God, he is God in heaven above, and in earth beneath.

12 Now therefore, I pray you, ^mswear unto me by the LORD, since I have shewed you kindness, that ye will also shew kindness unto ⁿmy father's house, and give me a true token :

13 And that ye will save alive my father, and my mother, and my brethren, and my sisters, and all that they have, and deliver our lives from death.

14 And the men answered her, Our life ⁵for yours, if ye utter not this our business. And it shall be, when the LORD hath given us the land, that ^owe will deal kindly and truly with thee.

15 Then she ^plet them down by a cord through the window : for her house was upon the town wall, and she dwelt upon the wall.

16 And she said unto them, Get you to the mountain, lest the pursuers meet you ; and hide yourselves there three days, until the pursuers be returned : and afterward may ye go your way.

17 And the men said unto her, We will be ^qblameless of this thine oath which thou hast made us swear.

18 Behold, when we come into the land, thou shalt bind this line of scarlet thread in the window which thou didst let us down by : ^rand thou shalt ⁶bring thy father, and thy mother, and thy brethren, and all thy father's household, home unto thee.

19 And it shall be, that whosoever shall go ^sout of the doors of thy house into the street, his blood shall be upon his head, and we will be guiltless : and whosoever shall be with thee in the house, ^this blood shall be on our head, if any hand be upon him.

20 And if thou utter this our business, then we will be quit of thine oath which thou hast made us to swear.

21 And she said, According unto your words, so be it. And she sent them away, and they departed : and she bound the scarlet line in the window.

22 And they went, and came unto the mountain, and abode there three days, until the pursuers were returned : and the pursuers sought them throughout all the way, but found them not.

23 ¶ So the two men returned, and descended from the mountain, and passed over, and came to Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn, and told him all things that befell them :

24 And they said unto Jōsh'u-ā, Truly ^uthe LORD hath delivered into our hands all the land ; for even all the inhabitants of the country do ^vfaint because of us.

ye see the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God, ^dand the priests the Lē'vites bearing it, then ye shall remove from your place, and go after it.

4 ^eYet there shall be a space between you and it, about two thousand cubits by measure : come not near unto it, that ye may know the way by which ye must go : for ye have not passed this way ¹heretofore.

5 And Jōsh'u-ā said unto the people, Sanctify ^fyourselves : for to morrow the LORD will do wonders among you.

6 And Jōsh'u-ā spake unto the priests, saying, ^gTake up the ark of the covenant, and pass over before the people. And they took up the ark of the covenant, and went before the people.

7 ¶ And the LORD said unto Jōsh'u-ā, This day will I begin to ^hmagnify thee in the sight of all Īṣ'ra-el, that they may know that, as I was with Mō'seṣ, so I will be with thee.

8 And thou shalt command the priests that bear the ark of the covenant, saying, When ye are come to the brink of the water of Jōr'dān, ye shall stand still in Jōr'dān.

9 ¶ And Jōsh'u-ā said unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, Come hither, and hear the words of the LORD your God.

10 And Jōsh'u-ā said, Hereby ye shall know that the ⁱliving God is among you, and that he will without fail ^jdrive out from before you the Cā'nāan-ites, and the Hīt'tites, and the Hī'vites, and the Pēr'iz-zites, and the Gīr'ga-shites, and the Ām'ōr-ites, and the Jēb'u-sites.

11 Behold, the ark of the covenant of ^kthe Lord of all the earth passeth over before you into Jōr'dān.

12 Now therefore ^ltake you twelve men out of the tribes of Īṣ'ra-el, out of every tribe a man.

13 And it shall come to pass, as soon as the soles of the feet of the priests that bear the ark of the LORD, the Lord of all the earth, shall rest in the waters of Jōr'dān, that the waters of Jōr'dān shall be cut off ^mfrom the waters that come down from above ; and they ^mshall stand upon an heap.

14 ¶ And it came to pass, when the people removed from their tents, to pass over Jōr'dān, and the priests bearing the ⁿark of the covenant before the people ;

15 And as they that bare the ark were come unto Jōr'dān, and the feet of the priests that bare the ark were dipped in the brim of the water, (for ^oJōr'dān ²overfloweth all his banks ^pall the time of harvest,)

16 That the waters which came down from above stood and rose up upon an heap very far from the city Ād'ām, that is beside ^qZār'e-tān : and those that came down ^rtoward the sea of the plain, even ^sthe salt sea, failed, and were cut off : and the people passed over right against Jēr'ī-chō.

17 And the priests that bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD stood firm on dry ground in the midst of Jōr'dān, ^tand all the Īṣ'ra-el-ites passed over on dry ground, until all the people were passed clean over Jōr'dān.

CHAPTER 4.

1 The twelve stones of Jordan. 10 Crossing of the people. 20 Camp at Gilgal.

AND it came to pass, when all the people were clean passed ^aover Jôr'dan, that the LORD spake unto Jōsh'u-â, saying,

2 ^bTake you twelve men out of the people, out of every tribe a man,

3 And command ye them, saying, Take you hence out of the midst of Jôr'dan, out of the place where the priests' feet stood firm, twelve stones, and ye shall carry them over with you, and leave them in the lodging place, where ye shall lodge this night.

4 Then Jōsh'u-â called the twelve men, whom he had prepared of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, out of every tribe a man :

5 And Jōsh'u-â said unto them, Pass over before the ark of the LORD your God into the midst of Jôr'dan, and take you up every man of you a stone upon his shoulder, according unto the number of the tribes of the children of Īṣ'ra-el :

6 That this may be a sign among you, that ^cwhen your children ask their fathers ¹in time to come, saying, What mean ye by these stones?

7 Then ye shall answer them, That ^dthe waters of Jôr'dan were cut off before the ark of the covenant of the LORD ; when it passed over Jôr'dan, the waters of Jôr'dan were cut off : and these stones shall be for ^ea memorial unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el for ever.

8 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el did so as Jōsh'u-â commanded, and took up twelve stones out of the midst of Jôr'dan, as the LORD spake unto Jōsh'u-â, according to the number of the tribes of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and carried them over with them unto the place where they lodged, and laid them down there.

9 And Jōsh'u-â ^fset up twelve stones in the midst of Jôr'dan, in the place where the feet of the priests which bare the ark of the covenant stood : and they are there ²unto this day.

10 ¶ For the priests which bare the ark stood in the midst of Jôr'dan, until every thing was finished that the LORD commanded Jōsh'u-â to speak unto the people, according to all that Mō'seṣ commanded Jōsh'u-â : and the people hastened and passed over.

11 And it came to pass, when all the people were clean passed over, that the ark of the LORD passed over, and the priests, in the presence of the people.

12 And ^gthe children of Reu'ben, and the children of Gād, and half the tribe of Mā-nās'seh, passed over armed before the children of Īṣ'ra-el, as Mō'seṣ spake unto them :

13 About forty thousand ³prepared for war passed over before the LORD unto battle, to the plains of Jēr'i-chō.

14 ¶ On that day the LORD magnified ^hJōsh'u-â in the sight of all Īṣ'ra-el ; and they feared him, as they feared Mō'seṣ, all the days of his life.

15 And the LORD spake unto Jōsh'u-â, saying,

16 Command the priests that bear ⁱthe ark of the testimony, that they come up out of Jôr'dan.

17 Jōsh'u-â therefore commanded the priests, saying, Come ye up out of Jôr'dan.

19 ¶ And the people came up out of Jôr'dan on the tenth day of the first month, and encamped ^jin Gīl'gāl, in the east border of Jēr'i-chō.

20 And those twelve stones, which they took out of Jôr'dan, did Jōsh'u-â pitch in Gīl'gāl.

21 And he spake unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, saying, When your children shall ask their fathers ⁶in time to come, saying, What mean these stones?

22 Then ye shall let your children know, saying, Īṣ'ra-el came over this Jôr'dan on dry land.

23 For the LORD your God dried up the waters of Jôr'dan from before you, until ye were passed over, as the LORD your God did to the Red sea, ^kwhich he dried up from before us, until we were gone over :

24 ^lThat all the people of the earth might know the hand of the LORD, that it is ^mmighty : that ye might ⁿfear the LORD your God ⁷for ever.

CHAPTER 5.

1 A second circumcision. 10 Passover at Gilgal. 12 Manna ceases.

AND it came to pass, when all the kings of the Ām'ôr-ites, which were on the side of Jôr'dan westward, and all the kings of the Cā'nāan-ites, ^awhich were by the sea, ^bheard that the LORD had dried up the waters of Jôr'dan from before the children of Īṣ'ra-el, until we were passed over, that their heart melted, ^cneither was there spirit in them any more, because of the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

2 ¶ At that time the LORD said unto Jōsh'u-â, Make thee ¹sharp knives, and circumcise again the children of Īṣ'ra-el the second time.

3 And Jōsh'u-â made him sharp knives, and circumcised the children of Īṣ'ra-el at ²the hill of the foreskins.

4 And this is the cause why Jōsh'u-â did circumcise : ^dAll the people that came out of Ē'gÿpt, that were males, even all the men of war, died in the wilderness by the way, after they came out of Ē'gÿpt.

5 Now all the people that came out were circumcised : but all the people that were born in the wilderness by the way as they came forth out of Ē'gÿpt, them they had not circumcised.

6 For the children of Īṣ'ra-el walked ^eforty years in the wilderness, till all the people that were men of war, which came out of Ē'gÿpt, were consumed, because they obeyed not the voice of the LORD : unto whom the LORD sware that ^fhe would not shew them the land, which the LORD sware unto their fathers that he would give us, a land that floweth with milk and honey.

7 And ^gtheir children, whom he raised up in their stead, them Jōsh'u-â circumcised : for they were uncircumcised, because they had not circumcised them by the way.

8 And it came to pass, ³when they had done circumcising all the people, that they abode in their places in the camp, ^htill they were whole.

9 And the LORD said unto Jōsh'u-ā, This day have I rolled away ⁱthe reproach of Ē'g'gypt from off you. Wherefore the name of the place is called ⁴Gil'gāl unto this day.

10 ¶ And the children of Īṣ'ra-el encamped in Gīl-gāl, and kept the passover ^jon the fourteenth day of the month at even in the plains of Jēr'i-chō.

11 And they did eat of the old corn of the land on the morrow after the passover, unleavened cakes, and parched corn in the selfsame day.

12 ¶ And the manna ceased on the morrow after they had eaten of the old corn of the land; neither had the children of Īṣ'ra-el manna any more; but they did eat of the fruit of the land of Cā'nāan that year.

13 ¶ And it came to pass, when Jōsh'u-ā was by Jēr'i-chō, that he lifted up his eyes and looked, and, behold, there stood ^ka man over against him with his sword drawn in his hand: and Jōsh'u-ā went unto him, and said unto him, Art thou for us, or for our adversaries?

14 And he said, Nay; but as ⁵captain of the host of the LORD am I now come. And Jōsh'u-ā ^lfell on his face to the earth, and did worship, and said unto him, What saith my lord unto his servant?

15 And the captain of the LORD'S host said unto Jōsh'u-ā, ^mLoose thy shoe from off thy foot; for the place whereon thou standest is holy. And Jōsh'u-ā did so.

CHAPTER 6.

NOW Jēr'i-chō ¹was straitly shut up because of the children of Īṣ'ra-el: none went out, and none came in.

2 And the LORD said unto Jōsh'u-ā, See, ^aI have given into thine hand Jēr'i-chō, and the king thereof, and the mighty men of valour.

3 And ye shall compass the city, all ye men of war, and go round about the city once. Thus shalt thou do six days.

4 And seven priests shall bear before the ark seven ^btrumpets of rams' horns: and the seventh day ye shall compass the city seven times, and ^cthe priests shall blow with the trumpets.

5 And it shall come to pass, that when they make a long blast with the ram's horn, and when ye hear the sound of the trumpet, all the people shall shout with a great shout; and the wall of the city shall fall down ²flat, and the people shall ascend up every man straight before him.

6 ¶ And Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn called the priests, and said unto them, Take up the ark of the covenant, and let seven priests bear seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of the LORD.

7 And he said unto the people, Pass on, and compass the city, and let him that is armed pass on before the ark of the LORD.

8 ¶ And it came to pass, when Jōsh'u-ā had spoken unto the people, that the seven priests bearing the seven trumpets of rams' horns ^dpassed on ³before the LORD, and blew with the trumpets: and the ark of the covenant of the LORD followed them.

9 ¶ And the armed men went before the priests that blew with the trumpets, ^eand the ⁴rereward came after the ark, the priests going on, and blowing with the trumpets.

10 And Jōsh'u-ā had commanded the people, saying, Ye shall not shout, nor ⁵make any noise with your voice, neither shall any word proceed out of your mouth, until the day I bid you shout; then shall ye shout.

11 So the ark of the LORD compassed the city, going about it once: and they came into the camp, and lodged in the camp.

12 ¶ And Jōsh'u-ā rose early in the morning, ^fand the priests took up the ark of the LORD.

13 And seven priests bearing seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of the LORD ^gwent on continually, and blew with the trumpets: and the armed men went before them; but the rereward came after the ark of the LORD, the priests going on, and blowing with the trumpets.

14 And the second day they compassed the city once, and returned into the camp: so they did six days.

15 And it came to pass on the seventh day, that they rose early about the dawning of the day, and compassed the city after the same manner seven times: only on that day they compassed the city seven times.

16 And it came to pass at the seventh time, when the priests blew with the trumpets, Jōsh'u-ā said unto the people, ^hShout; for the LORD hath given you the city.

17 ¶ And the city shall be ⁶accursed, even it, and all that are therein, to the LORD: only Rā'hāb the harlot shall live, she and all that are with her in the house, because ⁱshe hid the messengers that we sent.

18 And ye, ^jin any wise keep yourselves from the accursed thing, lest ye make yourselves accursed, when ye take of the accursed thing, and make the camp of Īṣ'ra-el a curse, ^kand trouble it.

19 But all the silver, and gold, and vessels of brass and iron, are ⁷consecrated unto the LORD: they shall come into the treasury of the LORD.

20 So the people shouted when the priests blew with the trumpets: and it came to pass, when the people heard the sound of the trumpet, and the people shouted with a great shout, that ^lthe wall fell down ⁸flat, so that the people went up into the city, every man straight before him, and they took the city.

21 And they ^mutterly destroyed all that was in the city, both man and woman, young and old, and ox, and sheep, and ass, with the edge of the sword.

22 But Jōsh'u-ā had said unto the two men that had spied out the country, Go into the harlot's house, and bring out thence the woman, and all that she hath, ⁿas ye sware unto her.

23 And the young men that were spies went in, and brought out Rā'hāb, ^oand her father, and her mother, and her brethren, and all that she had; and they brought out all her ⁹kindred, and left them without the camp of Īṣ'ra-el.

24 And they burnt the city with fire, and all that was therein: only the silver, and the gold, and the vessels of brass and of iron, they put into the treasury of the house of the LORD.

25 And Jōsh'u-ā saved Rā'hāb the harlot alive, and her father's household, and all that she had; and ^pshe dwelleth in Īṣ'ra-el even ¹⁰unto this day; because she hid the messengers, which Jōsh'u-ā sent to spy out Jēr'ī-chō.

26 ¶ And Jōsh'u-ā adjured them at that time, saying, ^aCursed be the man before the LORD, that riseth up and buildeth this city Jēr'ī-chō: he shall lay the foundation thereof in his firstborn, and in his youngest son shall he set up the gates of it.

27 ^rSo the LORD was with Jōsh'u-ā; and his ^sfame was noised throughout all the country.

CHAPTER 7.

¹ Israel smitten at Ai. 16 Crime and death of Achan.

BUT the children of Īṣ'ra-el committed a trespass in the accursed thing: for ^{a1}Ā'chān, the son of Cār'mī, the son of ²Zāb'dī, the son of Zē'rah, of the tribe of Jū'dah, took of the accursed thing: and the anger of the LORD was kindled against the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

2 And Jōsh'u-ā sent men from Jēr'ī-chō to Ā'ī, which is beside Bēth-ā'ven, on the east side of Bēth'-el, and spake unto them, saying, Go up and view the country. And the men went up and viewed Ā'ī.

3 And they returned to Jōsh'u-ā, and said unto him, Let not all the people go up; but let ³about two or three thousand men go up and smite Ā'ī; and make not all the people to labour thither; for they are but few.

4 So there went up thither of the people about three thousand men: ^band they fled before the men of Ā'ī.

5 And the men of Ā'ī smote of them about thirty and six men: for they chased them from before the gate even unto Shēb'a-rīm, and smote them ⁴in the going down: wherefore ^ethe hearts of the people melted, and became as water.

6 ¶ And Jōsh'u-ā ^drent his clothes, and fell to the earth upon his face before the ark of the LORD until the eventide, he and the elders of Īṣ'ra-el, and ^eput dust upon their heads.

7 And Jōsh'u-ā said, Alas, O Lord GOD, ^fwherefore hast thou at all brought this people over Jōr'dān, to deliver us into the hand of the Ām'ōr-ites, to destroy us? would to God we had been content, and dwelt on the other side Jōr'dān!

8 O Lord, what shall I say, when Īṣ'ra-el turneth their ⁵backs before their enemies!

9 For the Cā'nāan-ites and all the inhabitants of the land shall hear of it, and shall environ us round, and ^gcut off our name from the earth: and ^hwhat wilt thou do unto thy great name?

⁹ poured.

11 Īṣ'ra-el hath sinned, and they have also transgressed my covenant which I commanded them: ⁱfor they have even taken of the accursed thing, and have also stolen, and ^jdissembled also, and they have put it even among their own stuff.

12 ^kTherefore the children of Īṣ'ra-el could not stand before their enemies, but turned their backs before their enemies, because ^lthey were accursed: neither will I be with you any more, except ye destroy the accursed from among you.

13 Up, ^msanctify the people, and say, ⁿSanctify yourselves against to morrow: for thus saith the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el, There is an accursed thing in the midst of thee, O Īṣ'ra-el: thou canst not stand before thine enemies, until ye take away the accursed thing from among you.

14 In the morning therefore ye shall be brought according to your tribes: and it shall be, that the tribe which ^othe LORD taketh shall come according to the families thereof: and the family which the LORD shall take shall come by households; and the household which the LORD shall take shall come man by man.

15 ^pAnd it shall be, that he that is taken with the accursed thing shall be burnt with fire, he and all that he hath: because he hath transgressed the covenant of the LORD, and because he ^qhath wrought ^rfolly in Īṣ'ra-el.

16 ¶ So Jōsh'u-ā rose up early in the morning, and brought Īṣ'ra-el by their tribes; and the tribe of Jū'dah was taken:

17 And he brought the family of Jū'dah; and he took the family of the Zār'hītes: and he brought the family of the Zār'hītes man by man; and Zāb'dī was taken:

18 And he brought his household man by man; and ^rĀ'chān, the son of Cār'mī, the son of Zāb'dī, the son of Zē'rah, of the tribe of Jū'dah, was taken.

19 And Jōsh'u-ā said unto Ā'chān, My son, ^sgive, I pray thee, glory to the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el, ^tand make confession unto him; and tell me now what thou hast done; hide it not from me.

20 And Ā'chān answered Jōsh'u-ā, and said, Indeed I have sinned against the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el, and thus and thus have I done:

21 When I saw among the spoils a goodly Bāb'ŷ-lō-nish garment, and two hundred shekels of silver, and a ⁸wedge of gold of fifty shekels weight, then I ^ucoveted them, and took them; and, behold, they are hid in the earth in the midst of my tent, and the silver under it.

22 ¶ So Jōsh'u-ā sent messengers, and they ran unto the tent; and, behold, it was hid in his tent, and the silver under it.

23 And they took them out of the midst of the tent, and brought them unto Jōsh'u-ā, and unto all the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and ⁹laid them out before the LORD.

24 And Jōsh'u-ā, and all Īṣ'ra-el with him, took Ā'chān the son of Zē'rah, and the silver, and the garment, and the wedge of gold, and his sons, and his daughters, and his oxen, and his asses, and his sheep, and his tent, and all that he had : and they brought them unto ^vthe valley of $\bar{A}'ch\hat{o}r$.

25 And $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$ said, ^wWhy hast thou troubled us? the LORD shall trouble thee this day. ^xAnd all $\bar{I}\ddot{s}'ra-el$ stoned him with stones, and burned them with fire, after they had stoned them with stones.

26 And they ^yraised over him a great heap of stones unto this day. So ^zthe LORD turned from the fierceness of his anger. Wherefore the name of that place was called, ^aThe valley of ¹⁰ $\bar{A}'ch\hat{o}r$, unto this day.

CHAPTER 8.

AND the LORD said unto $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$, ^aFear not, neither be thou dismayed : take all the people of war with thee, and arise, go up to $\bar{A}'i$: see, ^bI have given into thy hand the king of $\bar{A}'i$, and his people, and his city, and his land :

2 And thou shalt do to $\bar{A}'i$ and her king as thou didst unto ^c $\bar{J}\ddot{e}r'i-ch\hat{o}$ and her king : only ^dthe spoil thereof, and the cattle thereof, shall ye take for a prey unto yourselves : lay thee an ambush for the city behind it.

3 ¶ So $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$ arose, and all the people of war, to go up against $\bar{A}'i$: and $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$ chose out thirty thousand mighty men of valour, and sent them away by night.

4 And he commanded them, saying, Behold, ^eye shall lie ¹in wait against the city, even behind the city : go not very far from the city, but be ye all ready :

5 And I, and all the people that are with me, will approach unto the city : and it shall come to pass, when they come out against us, as at the first, that ^fwe will flee before them,

6 (For they will come out after us) till we have ²drawn them from the city ; for they will say, They flee before us, as at the first : therefore we will flee before them.

7 Then ye shall rise up from the ambush, and seize upon the city : for the LORD your God will deliver it into your hand.

8 And it shall be, when ye have taken the city, that ye shall set the city on fire : according to the commandment of the LORD shall ye do. ^gSee, I have commanded you.

9 ¶ $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$ therefore sent them forth : and they went to lie in ambush, and abode between $\bar{B}\ddot{e}th'-el$ and $\bar{A}'i$, on the west side of $\bar{A}'i$: but $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$ lodged that night among the people.

10 And $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$ ^hrose up early in the morning, and numbered the people, and went up, he and the elders of $\bar{I}\ddot{s}'ra-el$, before the people to $\bar{A}'i$.

11 And all the people, even the people of war that were with him, went up, and drew nigh, and came before the city, and pitched on the north side of $\bar{A}'i$: now there was a valley between them and $\bar{A}'i$.

12 And he took about five thousand men, and set them to lie in ambush ⁱbetween $\bar{B}\ddot{e}th'-el$ and $\bar{A}'i$, on the west side ³of the city.

13 And when they had set the people, even all the host that was on the north of the city, and ⁴their liers in wait on the west of the city, $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$ went that night into the midst of the valley.

14 ¶ And it came to pass, when the king of $\bar{A}'i$ saw it, that they hasted and rose up early, and the men of the city went out against $\bar{I}\ddot{s}'ra-el$ to battle, he and all his people, at a time appointed, before the plain ; but he ^jwist not that there were liers in ambush against him behind the city.

15 And $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$ and all $\bar{I}\ddot{s}'ra-el$ ^kmade as if they were beaten before them, and fled ^lby the way of the wilderness.

16 And all the people that were in $\bar{A}'i$ were called together to pursue after them : and they pursued after $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$, and were drawn away ^mfrom the city.

17 And there was not a man left in $\bar{A}'i$ or $\bar{B}\ddot{e}th'-el$, that went not out after $\bar{I}\ddot{s}'ra-el$: and they left the city open, and pursued after $\bar{I}\ddot{s}'ra-el$.

18 And the LORD said unto $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$, Stretch out the spear that is in thy hand toward $\bar{A}'i$; for ⁿI will give it into thine hand. And $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$ stretched out the spear that he had in his hand toward the city.

19 And the ambush arose quickly out of their place, and they ran as soon as he had stretched out his hand : and they entered into the city, and took it, and hasted and set the city on fire.

20 And when the men of $\bar{A}'i$ looked behind them, they saw, and, behold, the smoke of the city ascended up to heaven, and they had no ⁵power to flee this way or that way : and the people that fled to the wilderness turned back upon the pursuers.

21 And when $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$ and all $\bar{I}\ddot{s}'ra-el$ saw that the ambush had taken the city, and that the smoke of the city ascended, then they turned again, and slew the men of $\bar{A}'i$.

22 And the other issued out of the city against them ; so they were in the midst of $\bar{I}\ddot{s}'ra-el$, some on this side, and some on that side : and they smote them, so that they ^olet none of them remain or escape.

23 And the king of $\bar{A}'i$ they took alive, and brought him to $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$.

24 And it came to pass, when $\bar{I}\ddot{s}'ra-el$ had made an end of slaying all the inhabitants of $\bar{A}'i$ in the field, in the wilderness wherein they chased them, and when they were all fallen on the edge of the sword, until they were consumed, that all the $\bar{I}\ddot{s}'ra-el-ites$ returned unto $\bar{A}'i$, and smote it with the edge of the sword.

25 And so it was, that all that fell that day, both of men and women, were twelve thousand, even all the men of $\bar{A}'i$.

26 For $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$ drew not his hand back, wherewith he stretched out the spear, until he had utterly destroyed all the inhabitants of $\bar{A}'i$.

27 ^pOnly the cattle and the spoil of that city $\bar{I}\ddot{s}'ra-el$ took for a prey unto themselves, according unto the word of the LORD which he commanded $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$.

28 And $\bar{J}\ddot{o}sh'u-\dot{a}$ burnt $\bar{A}'i$, and made it an ^qheap for ever, even a desolation unto ^rthis day.

29 *And the king of Ā'ī he hanged on a tree until eventide: 'and as soon as the sun was down, Jōsh'u-ā commanded that they should take his carcase down from the tree, and cast it at the entering of the gate of the city, and "raise thereon a great heap of stones, that remaineth unto this day.

30 ¶ Then Jōsh'u-ā "built an altar unto the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el "in mount Ē'bal,

31 As Mō'šeṣ the servant of the LORD commanded the children of Īṣ'ra-el, as it is written in the "book of the law of Mō'šeṣ, an altar of whole stones, over which no man hath lift up any iron; and "they offered thereon burnt offerings unto the LORD, and sacrificed peace offerings.

32 ¶ And "he wrote there upon the stones a copy of the law of Mō'šeṣ, which he wrote in the presence of the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

33 And all Īṣ'ra-el, and their elders, and officers, and their judges, stood on this side the ark and on that side before the priests the Lē'vītes, "which bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD, as well "the stranger, as he that was born among them; half of them over against mount Ġēr'ī-zīm, and half of them over against mount Ē'bal; "as Mō'šeṣ the servant of the LORD had commanded before, that they should bless the people of Īṣ'ra-el.

34 And afterward "he read all the words of the law, "the blessings and cursings, according to all that is written in the book of the law.

35 There was not a word of all that Mō'šeṣ commanded, which Jōsh'u-ā read not before all the congregation of Īṣ'ra-el, "with the women, and the little ones, and "the strangers that "were conversant among them.

CHAPTER 9.

1 Gibeon's crafty league. 16 Their servantage to Israel.

AND it came to pass, when all the kings which "were on this side Jōr'dān, in the hills, and in the valleys, and in all the coasts of the "great sea over against Lēb'a-non, "the Hīt'tite, and the Ām'ôr-ite, the Cā'nāan-ite, the Pēr'īz-zīte, the Hī'vīte, and the Jēb'u-site, heard thereof:

2 That they "gathered themselves together, to fight with Jōsh'u-ā and with Īṣ'ra-el, with one "accord.

3 ¶ And when the inhabitants of Ġīb'e-on "heard "what Jōsh'u-ā had done unto Jēr'ī-chō and to Ā'ī,

4 They did work wilily, and went and made as if they had been ambassadors, and took old sacks upon their asses, and "wine bottles, old, and rent, and bound up;

5 And old shoes and clouted upon their feet, and old garments upon them; and all the bread of their provision was dry and mouldy.

6 And they went to Jōsh'u-ā "unto the camp at Ġil'gāl, and said unto him, and to the men of Īṣ'ra-el, We be come from a far country: now therefore make ye a league with us.

7 And the men of Īṣ'ra-el said unto "the Hī'vītes, Peradventure ye dwell among us; and "how shall we make a league with you?

vants. And Jōsh'u-ā said unto them, Who are ye? and from whence come ye?

9 And they said unto him, "From a very far country thy servants are come because of the name of the LORD thy God: for we have "heard the fame of him, and all that he did in Ē'gÿpt,

10 And "all that he did to the two kings of the Ām'ôr-ites, that were beyond Jōr'dān, to Sī'hōn king of Hēsh'bōn, and to Ōg king of Bā'shān, which was at Āsh'ta-rōth.

11 Wherefore our elders and all the inhabitants of our country spake to us, saying, Take victuals "with you for the journey, and go to meet them, and say unto them, We are your servants: therefore now make ye a league with us.

12 This our bread we took hot for our provision out of our houses on the day we came forth to go unto you; but now, behold, it is dry, and it is mouldy:

13 And these bottles of wine, which we filled, were new; and, behold, they be rent: and these our garments and our shoes are become old by reason of the very long journey.

14 And "the men took of their victuals, "and asked not counsel at the mouth of the LORD.

15 And Jōsh'u-ā "made peace with them, and made a league with them, "to let them live: and the princes of the congregation sware unto them.

16 ¶ And it came to pass at the end of three days after they had made a league with them, that they heard that they were their neighbours, and that they dwelt among them.

17 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el journeyed, and came unto their cities on the third day. Now their cities were "Ġīb'e-on, and Chē-phī'rah, and Bē-ē'rōth, and Kīr'jath-jē'a-rīm.

18 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el smote them not, "because the princes of the congregation had sworn unto them by the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el. And all the congregation murmured against the princes.

19 But all the princes said unto all the congregation, We have sworn unto them by the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el: now therefore we may not touch them.

20 This we will do to them; we will even let them live, lest "wrath be upon us, because of the oath which we sware unto them.

21 And the princes said unto them, Let them live; but let them be "hewers of wood and drawers of water unto all the congregation; as the princes had promised them.

22 ¶ And Jōsh'u-ā called for them, and he spake unto them, saying, Wherefore have ye beguiled us, saying, We are very far from you; when ye dwell among us?

23 Now therefore ye are "cursed, and there shall "none of you be freed from being bondmen, and hewers of wood and drawers of water for the house of my God.

24 And they answered Jōsh'u-ā, and said, Because it was certainly told thy servants, how that the LORD thy God "commanded his servant Mō'šeṣ to give you all the land, and to destroy all the inhabitants of the land from before you, therefore ^v we were sore afraid of our lives because of you, and have done this thing.

25 And now, behold, we are ^w in thine hand : as it seemeth good and right unto thee to do unto us, do.

26 And so did he unto them, and delivered them out of the hand of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, that they slew them not.

27 And Jōsh'u-ā ⁵ made them that day hewers of wood and drawers of water for the congregation, and for the altar of the LORD, even unto this day, ^z in the place which he should choose.

CHAPTER 10.

1 Conspiracy against Gibeon. 8 Joshua defeats the kings. 13 The sun stands still. 28 Further conquests.

NOW it came to pass, when Ā-dōn'i-zē'dec king of Jē-ru'sā-lēm had heard how Jōsh'u-ā had taken Ā'ī, and had utterly destroyed it ; ^a as he had done to Jēr'i-chō and her king, so he had done to ^b Ā'ī and her king ; and ^c how the inhabitants of Gīb'e-on had made peace with Īṣ'ra-el, and were among them ;

2 That they ^d feared greatly, because Gīb'e-on was a great city, as one of the ¹ royal cities, and because it was greater than Ā'ī, and all the men thereof were mighty.

3 Wherefore Ā-dōn'i-zē'dec king of Jē-ru'sā-lēm sent unto Hō'ham king of ^e Hē'brōn, and unto Pi'ram king of Jār'mūth, and unto Jā-phī'ā king of Lā'chish, and unto Dē'bīr king of Ēg'lōn, saying,

4 Come up unto me, and help me, that we may smite Gīb'e-on : ^f for it hath made peace with Jōsh'u-ā and with the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

5 Therefore the five kings of the Ām'ōr-ites, the king of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, the king of Hē'brōn, the king of Jār'mūth, the king of Lā'chish, the king of Ēg'lōn, ^g gathered themselves together, and went up, they and all their hosts, and encamped before Gīb'e-on, and made war against it.

6 ¶ And the men of Gīb'e-on sent unto Jōsh'u-ā ^h to the camp to Gīl'gāl, saying, Slack not thy hand from thy servants ; come up to us quickly, and save us, and help us : for all the kings of the Ām'ōr-ites that dwell in the mountains are gathered together against us.

7 So Jōsh'u-ā ascended from Gīl'gāl, he, and ⁱ all the people of war with him, and all the mighty men of valour.

8 ¶ And the LORD said unto Jōsh'u-ā, ^j Fear them not : for I have delivered them into thine hand ; ^k there shall not a man of them stand before thee.

9 Jōsh'u-ā therefore came unto them suddenly, and went up from Gīl'gāl all night.

10 And the LORD ^l discomfited them before Īṣ'ra-el, and slew them with a great slaughter at Gīb'e-on, and chased them along the way that goeth up ^m to Bēth-hō'rōn, and smote them to ⁿ Ā-zē'kah, and unto Māk-kē'dah.

11 And it came to pass, as they fled from before Īṣ'ra-el, and were in the going down to Bēth-hō'rōn,

^o that the LORD cast down great stones from heaven upon them unto Ā-zē'kah, and they died : they were more which died with hailstones than they whom the children of Īṣ'ra-el slew with the sword.

12 ¶ Then spake Jōsh'u-ā to the LORD in the day when the LORD delivered up the Ām'ōr-ites before the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and he said in the sight of Īṣ'ra-el, ^v Sun, ² stand thou still upon Gīb'e-on ; and thou, Moon, in the valley of ³ Āj'a-lōn.

13 And the sun stood still, and the moon stayed, until the people had avenged themselves upon their enemies. ^v Is not this written in the book of ³ Jā'shēr? So the sun stood still in the midst of heaven, and hasted not to go down about a whole day.

14 And there was ^s no day like that before it or after it, that the LORD hearkened unto the voice of a man : for ^t the LORD fought for Īṣ'ra-el.

15 ¶ And Jōsh'u-ā returned, and all Īṣ'ra-el with him, unto the camp to Gīl'gāl.

16 But these five kings fled, and hid themselves in a cave at Māk-kē'dah.

17 And it was told Jōsh'u-ā, saying, The five kings are found hid in a cave at Māk-kē'dah.

18 And Jōsh'u-ā said, Roll great stones upon the mouth of the cave, and set men by it for to keep them :

19 And stay ye not, but pursue after your enemies, and ⁴ smite the hindmost of them ; suffer them not to enter into their cities : for the LORD your God hath delivered them into your hand.

20 And it came to pass, when Jōsh'u-ā and the children of Īṣ'ra-el had made an end of slaying them with a very great slaughter, till they were consumed, that the rest which remained of them entered into fenced cities.

21 And all the people returned to the camp to Jōsh'u-ā at Māk-kē'dah in peace : ^v none moved his tongue against any of the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

22 Then said Jōsh'u-ā, Open the mouth of the cave, and bring out those five kings unto me out of the cave.

23 And they did so, and brought forth those five kings unto him out of the cave, the king of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, the king of Hē'brōn, the king of Jār'mūth, the king of Lā'chish, and the king of Ēg'lōn.

24 And it came to pass, when they brought out those kings unto Jōsh'u-ā, that Jōsh'u-ā called for all the men of Īṣ'ra-el, and said unto the captains of the men of war which went with him, Come near, ^v put your feet upon the necks of these kings. And they came near, and put their feet upon the necks of them.

25 And Jōsh'u-ā said unto them, ^w Fear not, nor be dismayed, be strong and of good courage : ^x for thus shall the LORD do to all your enemies against whom ye fight.

26 And afterward Jōsh'u-ā smote them, and slew them, and hanged them on five trees : and they ^y were hanging upon the trees until the evening.

27 And it came to pass at the time of the going down of the sun, that Jōsh'u-ā commanded, and they ^z took them down off the trees, and cast them into the cave wherein they had been hid, and laid great stones in the cave's mouth, which remain until this very day.

28 ¶ And that day Jōsh'u-ā took Māk-kē'dah, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof he utterly destroyed, them, and all the souls that were therein; he let none remain: and he did to the king of Māk-kē'dah ^aas he did unto the king of Jēr'ī-chō.

29 Then Jōsh'u-ā passed from Māk-kē'dah, and all Īṣ'ra-el with him, unto ^bLīb'nah, and fought against Līb'nah:

30 And the LORD delivered it also, and the king thereof, into the hand of Īṣ'ra-el; and he smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls that were therein; he let none remain in it; but did unto the king thereof as he did unto the king of Jēr'ī-chō.

31 ¶ And Jōsh'u-ā passed from Līb'nah, and all Īṣ'ra-el with him, unto ^cLā'chish, and encamped against it, and fought against it:

32 And the LORD delivered Lā'chish into the hand of Īṣ'ra-el, which took it on the second day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls that were therein, according to all that he had done to Līb'nah.

33 ¶ Then Hō'ram king of ^dGē'zēr came up to help Lā'chish; and Jōsh'u-ā smote him and his people, until he had left him none remaining.

34 ¶ And from Lā'chish Jōsh'u-ā passed unto Ēg'lōn, and all Īṣ'ra-el with him; and they encamped against it, and fought against it:

35 And they took it on that day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls that were therein he utterly ^edestroyed that day, according to all that he had done to Lā'chish.

36 And Jōsh'u-ā went up from Ēg'lōn, and all Īṣ'ra-el with him, unto ^fHē'brōn; and they fought against it:

37 And they took it, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof, and all the cities thereof, and all the souls that were therein; he left none remaining, according to all that he had done to Ēg'lōn; but destroyed it utterly, and all the souls that were therein.

38 ¶ And Jōsh'u-ā returned, and all Īṣ'ra-el with him, to ^gDē'bīr; and fought against it:

39 And he took it, and the king thereof, and all the cities thereof; and they smote them with the edge of the sword, and utterly destroyed all the souls that were therein; he left none remaining: as he had done to Hē'brōn, so he did to Dē'bīr, and to the king thereof; as he had done also to Līb'nah, and to her king.

40 ¶ So Jōsh'u-ā smote ^hall the country of the hills, and of the south, and of the vale, and of the springs, and all their kings: he left none remaining, but utterly destroyed all that breathed, as the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el ⁱcommanded.

41 And Jōsh'u-ā smote them from Kā'desh-bār'ne-ā ^jeven unto ^kGā'zā, and ^lall the country of Gō'shen, even unto Gīb'ē-on.

CHAPTER 11.

AND it came to pass, when ^aJā'bin king of Hā'-zōr had heard those things, that he ^bsent to Jō'bāb king of Mā'dōn, and to the king ^cof Shīm'rōn, and to the king of Āch'shāph,

² And to the kings that were on the north of the mountains, and of the plains south of ^dChīn'ne-rōth, and in the valley, and in the borders ^eof Dōr on the west,

⁴ And they went out, they and all their hosts with them, much people, ⁱeven as the sand that is upon the sea shore in multitude, with horses and chariots very many.

⁵ And when all these kings were ¹met together, they came and pitched together at the waters of Mē'rom, to fight against Īṣ'ra-el.

⁷ So Jōsh'u-ā came, and all the people of war with him, against them by the waters of Mē'rom suddenly; and they fell upon them.

⁹ And Jōsh'u-ā did unto them as the LORD bade him: he houghed their horses, and burnt their chariots with fire.

¹⁰ ¶ And Jōsh'u-ā at that time turned back, and took Hā'zōr, and smote the king thereof with the sword: for Hā'zōr beforetime was the head of all those kingdoms.

¹¹ And they smote all the souls that were therein with the edge of the sword, utterly destroying them: there was not ⁴any left to breathe: and he burnt Hā'zōr with fire.

¹³ But as for the cities that stood still ⁵in their strength, Īṣ'ra-el burned none of them, save Hā'zōr only; that did Jōsh'u-ā burn.

¹⁴ And all the spoil of these cities, and the cattle, the children of Īṣ'ra-el took for a prey unto themselves; but every man they smote with the edge of the sword, until they had destroyed them, neither left they any to breathe.

15 ¶ ^lAs the LORD commanded Mō'seş the servant, so ^mdid Mō'seş command Jōsh'u-â, and ⁿso did Jōsh'u-â; ⁶he left nothing undone of all that the LORD commanded Mō'seş.

16 So Jōsh'u-â took all that land, the ^ohills, and all the south country, ^pand all the land of Gō'shen, and the valley, and the plain, and the mountain of İş'ra-el, and the valley of the same;

17 ^qEven from ⁷the mount Hā'lāk, that goeth up to Sē'ir, even unto Bā'al-gad in the valley of Lēb'a-non under mount Hēr'mōn: and ^rall their kings he took, and smote them, and slew them.

18 ⁸Jōsh'u-â made war a long time with all those kings.

19 There was not a city that made peace with the children of İş'ra-el, saye ^sthe Hī'vites the inhabitants of Gīb'e-on: all ^tother they took in battle.

20 For ^uit was of the LORD to harden their hearts, that they should come against İş'ra-el in battle, that he might destroy them utterly, ^vand that they might have no favour, but that he might destroy them, ^was the LORD commanded Mō'seş.

21 ¶ And at that time came Jōsh'u-â, and cut off ^xthe Ān'a-kimş from the mountains, from Hē'bron, from Dē'bīr, from Ā'nab, and from all the mountains of Jū'dah, and from all the mountains of İş'ra-el: Jōsh'u-â destroyed them utterly with their cities.

22 There was none of the Ān'a-kimş left in the land of the children of İş'ra-el: only in Gā'zā, in ^yGāth, and ^zin Āsh'dōd, there remained.

23 So Jōsh'u-â took the whole land, ^aaccording to all that the LORD said unto Mō'seş; and Jōsh'u-â gave it for an inheritance unto İş'ra-el ^baccording to their divisions by their tribes. ^cAnd the land rested from war.

CHAPTER 12.

CHAPTER 13.

NOW Jōsh'u-â ^awas old ^{and} stricken in years; and the LORD said unto him, Thou art old ^{and} stricken in years, and there remaineth yet very much land ¹to be possessed.

2 ^bThis ^{is} the land that yet remaineth: all ^cthe borders of the Phī-lis'tīneş, and all ^dGēsh'u-rī,

3 ^eFrom Sī'hōr, which ^{is} before Ē'ggypt, even unto the borders of Ēk'rōn northward, ^{which} is counted to-the Cā'nāan-ite: ^ffive lords of the Phī-lis'tīneş; the Gā'zāth-ites, and the Āsh'dōth-ites, the Ēsh'ka-lōn-ites, the Gīt'tites, and the Ēk'rōn-ites; also ^gthe Ā'vītes:

4 From the south, all the land of the Cā'nāan-ites, and ²Mē-ā'rah that is beside the Sī-dō'nī-anṣ, ^hunto Ā'phek, to the borders of ⁱthe Ām'ōr-ītes :

5 And the land of ^jthe Ġīb'lītes, and all Lēb'a-non, toward the sunrising, ^kfrom Bā'al-gad under mount Hēr'mōn unto the entering into Hā'math.

6 All the inhabitants of the hill country from Lēb'a-non unto ^lMīs're-photh-mā'im, and all the Sī-dō'nī-anṣ, them ^mwill I drive out from before the children of Īṣ'ra-el : only ⁿdivide thou it by lot unto the Īṣ'ra-el-ītes for an inheritance, as I have commanded thee.

7 Now therefore divide this land for an inheritance unto the nine tribes, and the half tribe of Mā-nās'seh,

8 With whom the Reu'ben-ītes and the Gād'ītes have received their inheritance, ^owhich Mō'šeṣ gave them, beyond Jōr'dan eastward, even as Mō'šeṣ the servant of the LORD gave them ;

9 From Ār'ō-ēr, that is upon the bank of the river Ār'nōn, and the city that is in the midst of the river, ^pand all the plain of Mēd'e-bā unto Dī'bōn ;

10 And all the cities of Sī'hōn king of the Ām'ōr-ītes, which reigned in Hēsh'bōn, unto the border of the children of Ām'mōn ;

11 ^qAnd Ġil'e-ād, and the border of the Ġēsh'u-rītes and Mā-āch'a-thītes, and all mount Hēr'mōn, and all Bā'shān unto Sāl'cah ;

12 All the kingdom of Ōg in Bā'shān, which reigned in Āsh'ta-rōth and in Ēd're-ī, who remained of ^rthe remnant of the giants : ^sfor these did Mō'šeṣ smite, and cast them out.

13 Nevertheless the children of Īṣ'ra-el expelled not the Ġēsh'u-rītes, nor the Mā-āch'a-thītes : but the Ġēsh'u-rītes and the Mā-āch'a-thītes dwell among the Īṣ'ra-el-ītes until this day.

14 ^tOnly unto the tribe of Lē'vī he gave none inheritance ; the sacrifices of the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el made by fire are their inheritance, as he said unto them.

15 ¶ And Mō'šeṣ gave unto the tribe of the children of Reu'ben inheritance according to their families.

16 And their coast was ^ufrom Ār'ō-ēr, that is on the bank of the river Ār'nōn, ^vand the city that is in the midst of the river, and all the plain by Mēd'e-bā ;

23 And the border of the children of Reu'ben was Jōr'dan, and the border thereof. This was the inheritance of the children of Reu'ben after their families, the cities and the villages thereof.

24 And Mō'šeṣ gave inheritance unto the tribe of Gād, even unto the children of Gād according to their families.

25 ^cAnd their coast was Jā'zēr, and all the cities of Ġil'e-ād, ^dand half the land of the children of Ām'mōn, unto Ār'ō-ēr that is before ^eRāb'bah ;

26 And from Hēsh'bōn unto Rā'math-mīz'peh, and Bēt'ō-nim ; and from Mā-hā-nā'im unto the border of Dē'bīr ;

27 And in the valley, Bēth-ā'rām, and Bēth-nīm'rah, ^fand Sūc'coth, and Zā'phōn, the rest of the kingdom of Sī'hōn king of Hēsh'bōn, Jōr'dan and his border, even unto the edge ^gof the sea of Chīn'ne-rēth on the other side Jōr'dan eastward.

28 This is the inheritance of the children of Gād after their families, the cities, and their villages.

29 ¶ And Mō'šeṣ gave inheritance unto the half tribe of Mā-nās'seh : and this was the possession of the half tribe of the children of Mā-nās'seh by their families.

30 And their coast was from Mā-hā-nā'im, all Bā'shān, all the kingdom of Ōg king of Bā'shān, and ^hall the towns of Jā'ir, which are in Bā'shān, threescore cities :

31 And half Ġil'e-ād, and ⁱĀsh'ta-rōth, and Ēd're-ī, cities of the kingdom of Ōg in Bā'shān, were pertaining unto the children of Mā'chīr the son of Mā-nās'seh, even to the one half of the children of Mā'chīr by their families.

32 These are the countries which Mō'šeṣ did distribute for inheritance in the plains of Mō'ab, on the other side Jōr'dan, by Jēr'ī-chō, eastward.

33 ^jBut unto the tribe of Lē'vī Mō'šeṣ gave not any inheritance : the ^kLORD God of Īṣ'ra-el was their inheritance, as he said unto them.

CHAPTER 14.

1 The west Jordan inheritance to be by lot. 6 Caleb is given Hebron.

AND these are the countries which the children of Īṣ'ra-el inherited in the land of Cā'nāan, ^awhich Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn, and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, distributed for inheritance to them.

2 ^bBy lot was their inheritance, as the LORD commanded by the hand of Mō'šeṣ, for the nine tribes, and for the half tribe.

3 ^cFor Mō'šeṣ had given the inheritance of two tribes and an half tribe on the other side Jōr'dan : but unto the Lē'vītes he gave none inheritance among them.

4 For ^dthe children of Jō'seph were two tribes, Mā-nās'seh and Ē'phrā'im : therefore they gave no part unto the Lē'vītes in the land, save cities to dwell in, with their suburbs for their cattle and for their substance.

5 ^eAs the LORD commanded Mō'šeṣ, so the children of Īṣ'ra-el did, and they divided the land.

6 ¶ Then the children of Jū'dah came unto Jōsh'u-ā in Gīl'gāl: and Cā'leb the son of Jē-phūn'neh the ^fKēn'ez-īte said unto him, Thou knowest ^gthe thing that the LORD said unto Mō'seš the man of God concerning me and thee ^hin Kā'desh-bār'ne-ā.

7 Forty years old was I when Mō'seš the servant of the LORD sent me from Kā'desh-bār'ne-ā to espy out the land; and I brought him word again as it was in mine heart.

8 Nevertheless my brethren that went up with me made the heart of the people melt: but I wholly ⁱfollowed the LORD my God.

9 And Mō'seš swore on that day, saying, ^jSurely the land ^kwhereon thy feet have trodden shall be thine inheritance, and thy children's for ever, because thou hast wholly followed the LORD my God.

10 And now, behold, the LORD hath kept me alive, ^las he said, these forty and five years, even since the LORD spake this word unto Mō'seš, while the children of Īš'ra-el ^lwandered in the wilderness: and now, lo, I am this day fourscore and five years old.

11 ^mAs yet I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Mō'seš sent me: as my strength was then, even so is my strength now, for war, both ⁿto go out, and to come in.

12 Now therefore give me this mountain, whereof the LORD spake in that day; for thou heardest in that day how the Ān'a-kīmš were there, and that the cities were great and fenced: ^oif so be the LORD will be with me, then ^pI shall be able to drive them out, as the LORD said.

13 And Jōsh'u-ā ^qblessed him, and ^rgave unto Cā'leb the son of Jē-phūn'neh Hē'bron for an inheritance.

14 Hē'bron therefore became the inheritance of Cā'leb the son of Jē-phūn'neh the Kēn'ez-īte unto this day, because that he wholly followed the LORD God of Īš'ra-el.

15 And ^sthe name of Hē'bron before was Kīr'jath-ār'bā; which Ār'bā was a great man among the Ān'a-kīmš. ^tAnd the land had rest from war.

the end of Jōr'dān. And their border in the north quarter was from the bay of the sea at the uttermost part of Jōr'dān:

6 And the border went up to Bēth-hōg'lā, and passed along by the north of Bēth-ār'ā-bah; and the border went up ^eto the stone of Bō'han the son of Reu'ben:

7 And the border went up toward Dē'bīr from ^fthe valley of Ā'chōr, and so northward, looking toward Gīl'gāl, that is before the going up to Ā-dūm'mīm, which is on the south side of the river: and the border passed toward the waters of Ēn-shē'mesh, and the goings out thereof were at ³Ēn-rō'gēl:

8 And the border went up ^gby the valley of the son of Hīn'nom unto the south side of the ^hJēb'u-sīte; the same is Jē-ru'sā-lēm: and the border went up to the top of the mountain that lieth before the valley of Hīn'nom westward, which is at the end ⁱof the ⁴valley of the giants northward:

9 And the border was drawn from the top of the hill unto the fountain of the water of Nēph'to-ah, and went out to the cities of mount E'phron; and the border was drawn to ^jBā'al-ah, which is ^kKīr'-jath-jē'a-rīm:

10 And the border compassed from Bā'al-ah westward unto mount Sē'ir, and passed along unto the side of mount Jē'a-rīm, which is Chēs'ā-lon, on the north side, and went down to Bēth-shē'mesh, and passed on to ^lTīm'nah:

11 And the border went out unto the side of ^mĒk'rōn northward: and the border was drawn to Shī'crōn, and passed along to mount Bā'al-ah, and went out unto Jāb'nē-el; and the goings out of the border were at the sea.

12 And the west border was ⁿto the great sea, and the coast thereof. This is the coast of the children of Jū'dah round about according to their families.

13 ¶ And ^ounto Cā'leb the son of Jē-phūn'neh he gave a part among the children of Jū'dah, according to the commandment of the LORD to Jōsh'u-ā, even ⁵the city of Ār'bā the father of Ā'nāk, which city is Hē'bron.

14 And Cā'leb drove thence ^pthe three sons of Ā'nāk, ^qShē'shāi, and Ā-hī'mān, and Tāl'māi, the children of Ā'nāk.

15 And ^rhe went up thence to the inhabitants of Dē'bīr: and the name of Dē'bīr before was Kīr'-jath-sē'phēr.

16 ¶ And Cā'leb said, He that smiteth Kīr'jath-sē'phēr, and taketh it, to him will I give Āch'sah my daughter to wife.

17 And ^sŌth'nī-el the ¹son of Kē'nāz, the brother of Cā'leb, took it: and he gave him Āch'sah his daughter to wife.

18 And ^uit came to pass, as she came unto him, that she moved him to ask of her father a field: and ^vshe lighted off her ass; and Cā'leb said unto her, What wouldest thou?

19 Who answered, Give me ^wa blessing; for thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And he gave her the upper springs, and the nether springs.

20 ^aThis is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Jū'dah according to their families.

21 And the uttermost cities of the tribe of the children of Jū'dah toward the coast of Ē'dom southward were ⁶Kāb'ze-el, and ⁷Ē'dēr, and Jā'gūr, ¹ Boundaries of Joseph and Ephraim. ¹⁰ Canaanites conquered.

AND the lot of the children of Jō'seph ¹fell from Jōr'dān by Jēr'ī-chō, unto the water of Jēr'ī-chō on the east, to the wilderness that goeth up from Jēr'ī-chō throughout mount Bēth'-el,

4 ^dSo the children of Jō'seph, Mā-nās'seh and Ē'phrā-īm, took their inheritance.

5 ¶ And the border of the children of Ē'phrā-īm according to their families was thus: even the border of their inheritance on the east side was ^eĀt'a-rōth-ād'dār, ^funto Bēth-hō'rōn the upper;

8 The border went out from Tāp'pu-ah westward unto the ⁱriver Kā'nah; and the goings out thereof were at the sea. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ē'phrā-īm by their families.

THERE was also a lot for the tribe of Mā-nās'seh; for he was the ^afirstborn of Jō'seph; to wit, for ^bMā'chīr the firstborn of Mā-nās'seh, the father of Ġīl'ē-ād: because he was a man of war, therefore he had ^cĠīl'ē-ād and Bā'shān.

2 There was also a lot for ^dthe rest of the children of Mā-nās'seh by their families; for ^ethe children of ¹Ā-bī-ē'zēr, and for the children of Hē'lek, and ^ffor the children of Ās'rī-el, and for the children of Shē'chem, and for the children of Hē'phēr, and for the children of Shē-mī'dá: these were the male children of Mā-nās'seh the son of Jō'sēph by their families.

3 ¶ But ^gZē-lō'phē-hād, the son of Hē'phēr, the son of Gīl'e-ād, the son of Mā'chīr, the son of Mā-nās'seh, had no sons, but daughters: and these are the names of his daughters, Māh'lah, and Nō'ah, Hōg'lah, Mil'cah, and Tīr'zah.

4 And they came near before ^hE-le-ā'zar the priest, and before Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn, and before the princes, saying, 'The LORD commanded Mō'sēš to give us an inheritance among our brethren. Therefore according to the ²commandment of the LORD he gave them an inheritance among the brethren of their father.

5 And there fell ten portions to Mā-nās'seh, beside the land of Gīl'e-ād and Bā'shān, which were on the other side Jōr'dān;

6 Because the daughters of Mā-nās'seh had an inheritance among his sons: and ^jthe rest of Mā-nās'seh's sons had the land of Gīl'e-ād.

7 ¶ And the coast of Mā-nās'seh was from Āsh'ēr to Mīch'mē-thah, that lieth before Shē'chem; and the border went along on the right hand unto the inhabitants of Ēn-tāp'pu-ah.

8 Now Mā-nās'seh had the land of ^kTāp'pu-ah: but Tāp'pu-ah on the border of Mā-nās'seh belonged to the children of Ē'phrā-īm;

9 And the coast descended ^lunto the ⁴river Kā'nah, southward of the river: ^mthese cities of Ē'phrā-īm are among the cities of Mā-nās'seh: the coast of Mā-nās'seh also was on the north side of the river, and the outgoings of it were at the sea:

10 Southward it was Ē'phrā-īm's, and northward it was Mā-nās'seh's, and the sea is his border; and they met together in Āsh'ēr on the north, and in Īs'sa-char on the east.

11 ⁿAnd Mā-nās'seh had in Īs'sa-char and in Āsh'ēr ^oBēth-shē'ān and her towns, and Īb'le-ām and her towns, and the inhabitants of Dōr and her towns, and the inhabitants of Ēn'-dōr and her towns, and the inhabitants of Tā'a-nāch and her towns, and the inhabitants of Mē-gīd'dō and her towns, even three countries.

12 Yet ^pthe children of Mā-nās'seh could not drive out the inhabitants of those cities; but the Cā'nāan-ītes would dwell in that land.

13 Yet it came to pass, when the children of Īš'ra-el were waxen strong, that they put the Cā'nāan-ītes to ^qtribute; but ⁵did not utterly drive them out.

14 And ^rthe children of Jō'sēph spake unto Jōsh'u-ā, saying, Why hast thou given me but ^sone lot and one portion to inherit, seeing I am ^ta great people, forasmuch as the LORD hath blessed me hitherto?

15 And Jōsh'u-ā answered them, If thou be a great people, then get thee up to the wood country, and cut down for thyself there in the land of the Pēr'iz-zītes and of the ⁶giants, if mount Ē'phrā-īm be too narrow for thee.

16 And the children of Jō'sēph said, The hill is not enough for us: and all the Cā'nāan-ītes that dwell in the land of the valley have ^uchariots of iron, both they who are of Bēth-shē'ān and her towns, and they who are ^vof the valley of Jēz're-el.

18 But the mountain shall be thine; for it is a wood, and thou shalt cut it down: and the outgoings of it shall be thine: for thou shalt drive out the Cā'nāan-ītes, ^wthough they have iron chariots, and though they be strong.

CHAPTER 18.

1 Tabernacle set up. 2 Land described. 11 Benjamin's lot.

AND the whole congregation of the children of Īš'ra-el assembled together ^aat Shī'lōh, and ^bset up the tabernacle of the congregation ¹there. And the land was subdued before them.

2 And there remained among the children of Īš'ra-el seven tribes, which had not yet received their inheritance.

3 And Jōsh'u-ā said unto the children of Īš'ra-el, ^cHow long are ye slack to go to possess the land, which the LORD God of your fathers hath given you?

4 Give out from among you three men for ^{each} tribe: and I will send them, and they shall rise, and go through the land, and describe it according to the inheritance of them; and they shall come ^{again} to me.

5 And they shall divide it into seven parts: ^dJū'dah shall abide in their coast on the south, and ^ethe house of Jō'sēph shall abide in their coasts on the north.

6 Ye shall therefore describe the land ^{into} seven parts, and bring the description hither to me, ^fthat I may cast lots for you here before the LORD our God.

7 ^gBut the Lē'vītes have no part among you; for the ^hpriesthood of the LORD is their inheritance: ⁱand Gād, and Reū'ben, and half the tribe of Mā-nās'seh, have received their inheritance beyond Jōr'dān on the east, which Mō'sēš the servant of the LORD gave them.

8 ¶ And the men arose, and went away: and Jōsh'u-ā charged them that went to describe the land, saying, Go and walk through the land, and describe it, and come again to me, that I may here cast lots for you before the LORD in Shī'lōh.

9 And the men went and passed through the land, and described it by cities into seven parts in a book, and came ^{again} to Jōsh'u-ā to the host at Shī'lōh.

10 ¶ And Jōsh'u-ā ^jcast lots for them in Shī'lōh before the LORD: and there Jōsh'u-ā divided the land unto the children of Īš'ra-el according to their divisions.

11 ¶ And the lot of the tribe of the children of Bēn'ja-min came up according to their families: and the coast of their lot came forth between the children of Jū'dah and the children of Jō'sēph.

12 And ^ktheir border on the north side was from Jôr'dan; and the border went up to the side of Jêr'î-chô on the north side, and went up through the mountains westward; and the goings out thereof were at the wilderness of Bêth-â'ven.

13 And the border went over from thence toward Lüz, to the side of Lüz, ^lwhich is Bêth'-el, southward; and the border descended to Ât'a-rôth-â'dâr, near the hill that lieth on the south side ^mof the nether Bêth-hô'rôn.

14 And the border was drawn thence, and compassed the corner of ²the sea southward, from the hill that lieth before Bêth-hô'rôn southward; and the goings out thereof were at ⁿKîr'jath-bâ'al, which is Kîr'jath-jê'a-rîm, a city of the children of Jû'dah: this was the west quarter.

15 And the south quarter was from the end of Kîr'jath-jê'a-rîm, and the border went out on the west, and went out to ^othe well of waters of Nêph'-to-ah:

16 And the border came down to the end of the mountain that lieth before ^pthe valley of the son of Hîn'nom, and which is in the ³valley of the giants on the north, and descended to the valley of Hîn'nom, to the side of Jê-bû'si on the south, and descended to ⁴Ën-rô'gêl,

17 And was drawn from the north, and went forth to Ën-shê'mesh, and went forth toward Gêl'î-lôth, which is over against the going up of Â-dûm'mîm, and descended to the ^qstone of Bô'han the son of Reu'ben,

18 And passed along toward the side over against ⁵Âr'a-bah northward, and went down unto Âr'a-bah:

19 And the border passed along to the side of Bêth-hôg'lah northward: and the outgoings of the border were at the north ⁶bay of the salt sea at the south end of Jôr'dan: this was the south coast.

20 And Jôr'dan was the border of it on the east side. This was the inheritance of the children of Bën'ja-min, by the coasts thereof round about, according to their families.

21 Now the cities of the tribe of the children of Bën'ja-min according to their families were ^rJêr'î-chô, and ^sBêth-hôg'lah, and the valley of Kê'ziz,

22 And Bêth-âr'a-bah, and Zêm-a-râ'im, and Bêth'-el,

23 And Â'vîm, and Pâ'rah, and Ôph'rah,

24 And Chê'phâr-hâ-âm'mô-nâi, and Ôph'nî, and ^tGâ'bâ; twelve cities with their villages:

25 Gîb'e-on, and Râ'mah, and Bê-ê'rôth,

26 And Mîz'peh, and Chê-phî'rah, and Mô'zah,

27 And Rê'kem, and Îr'pê-el, and Târ'a-lah,

28 And ^uZê'lah, ^vË'leph, and ^wJê-bû'si, which is Jê-ru'sâ-lêm, Gîb'e-ath, and Kîr'jath; fourteen cities with their villages. This is the inheritance of the children of Bën'ja-min ^vaccording to their families.

ording to their families: and their inheritance was ^awithin the inheritance of the children of Jû'dah.

2 And ^bthey had in their inheritance ^cBê'er-shê'bâ, and Shê'bâ, and ^dMôl'a-dah,

3 And Hâ'zar-shû'al, and Bâ'lah, and Â'zem,

4 And ^eËl'to-lâd, and Bê'thûl, and Hôr'mah,

5 And Zîk'lâg, and Bêth-mâr'câ-bôth, and Hâ'zar-sû'sah,

6 And Bêth-lêb'a-ôth, and Shâ-ru'hen; thirteen cities and their villages:

7 Â'in, Rêm'mon, and Ë'thêr, and Â'shan; four cities and their villages:

8 And all the villages that were round about these cities to Bâ'al-ath-bê'êr, Râ'math of the south. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Sîm'e-on according to their families.

9 Out of the portion of the children of Jû'dah was the inheritance of the children of Sîm'e-on: for the part of the children of Jû'dah was too much for them: therefore the children of Sîm'e-on had their inheritance within the inheritance of them.

10 ¶ And the third lot came up for the children of Zêb'u-lun according to their families: and the border of their inheritance was unto Sâ'rid:

11 ^fAnd their border went up toward the sea, and Mâr'a-lah, and reached to Dâb'ba-shêth, and reached to the river that is ^gbefore Jôk'nê-âm;

12 And turned from Sâ'rid eastward toward the sunrising unto the border of Chîs'lôth-tâ'bôr, and then goeth out to Dâb'e-râth, and goeth up to Jâ-phî'â,

13 And from thence passeth on along on the east to Gît'tah-hê'phêr, to Ît'tah-kâ'zin, and goeth out to Rêm'mon-¹mêth'ô-âr to Nê-ah;

14 And the border compasseth it on the north side to Hân'na-thon: and the outgoings thereof are in the valley of Jîph'thah-el:

15 And ^hKât'tath, and Nâ-hâl'lal, and ⁱShîm'rôn, and Î-dâ'lah, and Bêth'-lê'hêm: twelve cities with their villages.

16 ^jThis is the inheritance of the children of Zêb'u-lun according to their families, these cities with their villages.

17 ¶ And the fourth lot came out to Îs'sa-char, for the children of Îs'sa-char according to their families.

18 And their border was toward ^kJêz're-el, and Chê-sû'lôth, and ^lShû'nem,

19 And Haph-râ'im, and Shî'hôn, and Â-n-â-hâ'-rath,

20 And Râb'bîth, and Kîsh'î-ôn, and Â'bêz,

21 And ^mRê'meth, and Ën-gân'nîm, and Ën-hâd'-dah, and Bêth-pâz'zez;

22 And the coast reacheth ⁿto Tâ'bôr, and Shâ-hâz'i-mah, and Bêth-shê'mêsh; and the outgoings of their border were at Jôr'dan: sixteen cities with their villages.

23 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Îs'sa-char according to their families, the cities and their villages.

24 ¶ And the fifth lot came out for the tribe of the children of Âsh'êr according to their families.

25 And their border was °Hēl'kāth, and Hā'li, and Bē'ten, and Āch'shāph,

26 And Ā-lām'mē-lech, and Ā'mād, and Mī'she-al; and reacheth to °Cār'mel westward, and to Shī'hōr-lib'nath;

27 And turneth toward the sunrising to Bēth-dā'gon, and reacheth to Zēb'u-lun, and to the valley of Jīph'thah-el toward the north side of Bēth-ē'mēk, and Nē'i-el, and goeth out to °Cā'būl on the left hand,

28 And Hē'bron, and Rē'hōb, and Hām'mōn, and °Kā'nah, even unto great °Zī'dōn;

29 And then the coast turneth to Rā'mah, and to the strong city °Tīre; and the coast turneth to Hō'sah; and the outgoings thereof are at the sea from the coast to °Āch'zīb:

30 Ūm'mah also, and Ā'phek, and Rē'hōb: twenty and two cities with their villages.

31 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Āsh'ēr according to their families, these cities with their villages.

32 ¶ The sixth lot came out to the children of Nāph'tā-lī even for the children of Nāph'tā-lī according to their families.

33 And their coast was from Hē'leph, from Āl'lōn to Zā-a-nān'nim, and Ād'a-mī, Nē'keb, and Jāb'ne-el, unto Lā'kūm; and the outgoings thereof were at Jōr'dān:

34 And then ° the coast turneth westward to Āz'nōth-tā'bōr, and goeth out from thence to Hūk'kōk, and reacheth to Zēb'u-lun on the south side, and reacheth to Āsh'ēr on the west side, and to Jū'dah upon Jōr'dān toward the sunrising.

35 And the fenced cities are Zīd'dim, Zēr, and °Hām'māth, Rāk'kāth, and °Chīn'ne-rēth,

36 And Ād'a-mah, and Rā'mah, and Hā'zōr,

37 And Kē'desh, and Ēd're-ī, and Ēn-hā'zōr,

38 And Ī'ron, and Mīg'dal-ēl, Hō'rem, and Bēth-ā'nāth, and Bēth-shē'mēsh; nineteen cities with their villages.

39 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Nāph'tā-lī according to their families, the cities and their villages.

40 ¶ And the seventh lot came out for the tribe of the children of Dān according to their families.

41 And the coast of their inheritance was °Zō'rah, and Ēsh'tā-ōl, and Īr-shē'mēsh,

42 And °Shā-āl-āb'bin, and Āj'a-lōn, and Jēth'lah,

43 And Ē'lōn, and Thīm'na-thah, and Ēk'rōn,

44 And Ēl'te-keh, and Ġīb'be-thon, and Bā'al-ath,

45 And Jē'hūd, and Bēn'e-bē'rāk, and Gāth-rīm'mon,

46 And Mē-jār'kōn, and Rāk'kōn, with the border ° before ° Jā'phō.

47 And ° the coast of the children of Dān went out too little for them: therefore the children of Dān went up to fight against Lē'shem, and took it, and ° smote it with the edge of the sword, and possessed it, and dwelt therein, and called Lē'shem, ° Dān, after the name of Dān their father.

dren of Dān according to their families, these cities with their villages.

49 ¶ When they had made an end of dividing the land for inheritance by their coasts, the children of Īš'ra-el gave an inheritance to Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn among them:

50 According to the word of the LORD they gave him the city which he asked, even ° Tīm'nath-° sē'rah in mount Ē'phrā-īm: and he built the city, and dwelt therein.

51 ° These are the inheritances, which Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn, and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Īš'ra-el, divided for an inheritance by lot ° in Shī'lōh before the LORD, at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation. So they made an end of dividing the country.

CHAPTER 20.

Six cities of refuge appointed.

THE LORD also spake unto Jōsh'u-ā, saying,

2 Speak to the children of Īš'ra-el, saying, ° Appoint out for you cities of refuge, whereof I spake unto you by the hand of Mō'seš:

3 That the slayer that killeth any person unawares and unwittingly may flee thither: and they shall be your refuge from the avenger of blood.

4 And when he that doth flee unto one of those cities shall stand at the entering of ° the gate of the city, and shall declare his cause in the ears of the elders of that city, they shall ° take him into the city unto them, and give him a place, that he may dwell among them.

5 And ° if the avenger of blood pursue after him, then they shall not deliver the slayer up into his hand; because he smote his neighbour unwittingly, and hated him not beforetime.

6 And he shall dwell in that city, ° until he stand before the congregation for judgment, and until the death of the high priest that shall be in those days: then shall the slayer return, and come unto his own city, and unto his own house, unto the city from whence he fled.

7 ¶ And they ° appointed ° Kē'desh in Gāl'i-lee in mount Nāph'tā-lī, and ° Shē'chem in mount Ē'phrā-īm, and ° Kīr'jāth-ār'bā, which is Hē'bron, in ° the mountain of Jū'dah.

8 And on the other side Jōr'dān by Jēr'i-chō eastward, they assigned ° Bē'zēr in the wilderness upon the plain out of the tribe of Reū'ben, and ° Rā'moth in Ġil'e-ād out of the tribe of Gād, and ° Gō'lan in Bā'shān out of the tribe of Mā-nās'seh.

9 ° These were the cities appointed for all the children of Īš'ra-el, and for the stranger that sojourneth among them, that whosoever killeth any person at unawares might flee thither, and not die by the hand of the avenger of blood, until he stood before the congregation.

CHAPTER 21.

1 The Levitical cities. 43 Israel possesses the land.

THEN came near the heads of the fathers of the Lē'vites unto ° Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and unto Jōsh'u-â the son of Nūn, and unto the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Īṣ'ra-el;

2 And they spake unto them at ^bShī'lōh in the land of Cā'nāan, saying, ^cThe LORD commanded by the hand of Mō'ṣeṣ to give us cities to dwell in, with the suburbs thereof for our cattle.

3 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el gave unto the Lē'vītes out of their inheritance, at the commandment of the LORD, these cities and their suburbs.

4 And the lot came out for the families of the Kō'hath-ites: and the children of Aâr'ōn the priest, which were of the Lē'vītes, ^dhad by lot out of the tribe of Jū'dah, and out of the tribe of Sīm'e-on, and out of the tribe of Bēn'ja-min, thirteen cities.

5 And the rest of the children of Kō'hath had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Ē'phrā-īm, and out of the tribe of Dān, and out of the half tribe of Mā-nās'seh, ten cities.

6 And the children of Ĝēr'shōn had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Īs'sa-char, and out of the tribe of Āsh'ēr, and out of the tribe of Nāph'ta-lī, and out of the half tribe of Mā-nās'seh in Bā'shān, thirteen cities.

7 The children of Mē-rā'rī by their families had out of the tribe of Reu'ben, and out of the tribe of Gād, and out of the tribe of Zēb'u-lun, twelve cities.

8 And ^ethe children of Īṣ'ra-el gave by lot unto the Lē'vītes these cities with their suburbs, ^fas the LORD commanded by the hand of Mō'ṣeṣ.

9 ¶ And they gave out of the tribe of the children of Jū'dah, and out of the tribe of the children of Sīm'e-on, these cities which are here ¹mentioned by name,

10 Which the children of Aâr'ōn, being of the families of the Kō'hath-ites, who were of the children of Lē'vī, had: for theirs was the first lot.

11 And ^gthey gave them ²the city of Ār'ba the father of ^hĀ'nāk, which city is Hē'bron, ⁱin the hill country of Jū'dah, with the suburbs thereof round about it.

12 But ^jthe fields of the city, and the villages thereof, gave they to Cā'leb the son of Jē-phūn'neh for his possession.

13 ¶ Thus ^kthey gave to the children of Aâr'ōn the priest ^lHē'bron with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and ^mLīb'nah with her suburbs,

14 And ⁿJāt'tīr with her suburbs, and ^oĒsh-tē-mō'â with her suburbs,

15 And ^pHō'lōn with her suburbs, and ^qDē'bīr with her suburbs,

16 And ^rĀ'in with her suburbs, and ^sJūt'tah with her suburbs, and ^tBēth-shē'mēsh with her suburbs; nine cities out of those two tribes.

17 And out of the tribe of Bēn'ja-min, ^uĜīb'e-on with her suburbs, ^vĜē'bā with her suburbs, 18 Ān'a-thoth with her suburbs, and ^wĀl'mōn with her suburbs; four cities.

19 All the cities of the children of Aâr'ōn, the priests, were thirteen cities with their suburbs.

20 ¶ ^xAnd the families of the children of Kō'hath, the Lē'vītes which remained of the children of Kō'- hath, even they had the cities of their lot out of the tribe of Ē'phrā-īm.

21 For they gave them ^yShē'chem with her suburbs in mount Ē'phrā-īm, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Ĝē'zēr with her suburbs, 22 And Kīb'za-im with her suburbs, and Bēth-hō'rōn with her suburbs; four cities.

23 And out of the tribe of Dān, Ēl'tē-keh with her suburbs, Ĝīb'be-thon with her suburbs, 24 Āij'a-lōn with her suburbs, Gāth-rīm'mon with her suburbs; four cities.

25 And out of the half tribe of Mā-nās'seh, Tā'nāch with her suburbs, and Gāth-rīm'mon with her suburbs; two cities.

26 All the cities were ten with their suburbs for the families of the children of Kō'hath that remained.

27 ¶ ^zAnd unto the children of Ĝēr'shōn, of the families of the Lē'vītes, out of the other half tribe of Mā-nās'seh they gave ^aGō'lan in Bā'shān with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and ^bBē'ēsh'-tē-rah with her suburbs; two cities.

28 And out of the tribe of Īs'sa-char, Kī'shon with her suburbs, Dāb'a-reh with her suburbs, 29 Jār'mūth with her suburbs, Ēn-gān'nīm with her suburbs; four cities.

30 And out of the tribe of Āsh'ēr, Mī'shal with her suburbs, Āb'dōn with her suburbs, 31 Hēl'kāth with her suburbs, and Rē'hōb with her suburbs; four cities.

32 And out of the tribe of Nāph'ta-lī, ^bKē'desh in Gāl'i-lee with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Hām'moth-dōr with her suburbs, and Kār'tan with her suburbs; three cities.

33 All the cities of the Ĝēr'shon-ites according to their families were thirteen cities with their suburbs.

34 ¶ ^cAnd unto the families of the children of Mē-rā'rī, the rest of the Lē'vītes, out of the tribe of Zēb'u-lun, Jōk'ne-ām with her suburbs, and Kār'tah with her suburbs, 35 Dīm'nah with her suburbs, Nā'ha-lāl with her suburbs; four cities.

36 And out of the tribe of Reu'ben, ^dBē'zēr with her suburbs, and Jā'hā'zah with her suburbs, 37 Kēd'e-mōth with her suburbs, and Mēph'a-āth with her suburbs; four cities.

38 And out of the tribe of Gād, ^eRā'moth in Ĝīl'e-ād with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and ^fMā'hā-nā'im with her suburbs, 39 Hēsh'bōn with her suburbs, Jā'zēr with her suburbs; four cities in all.

40 So all the cities for the children of Mē-rā'rī by their families, which were remaining of the families of the Lē'vītes, were by their lot twelve cities.

41 ^gAll the cities of the Lē'vītes within the possession of the children of Īṣ'ra-el were forty and eight cities with their suburbs.

42 These cities were every one with ⁴their suburbs round about them: thus were all these cities.

43 ¶ And the LORD gave unto Īṣ'ra-el ^hall the land which he swore to give unto their fathers; and they possessed it, and dwelt therein.

44 ⁱ And the LORD gave them rest round about, according to all that he swore unto their fathers: and there ^j stood not a man of all their enemies before them; the LORD delivered all their enemies into their hand.

45 ^k There failed not ought of any good thing which the LORD had spoken unto the house of Īṣ'ra-el; all came to pass.

CHAPTER 22.

THEN Jōsh'u-ā called the Reu'ben-ītes, and the Gād'ītes, and the half tribe of Mā-nās'sseh,

2 And said unto them, Ye have kept ^a all that Mō'šeṣṣ the servant of the LORD commanded you, ^b and have obeyed my voice in all that I commanded you:

3 Ye have not left your brethren these many days unto this day, but have kept the charge of the commandment of the LORD your God.

4 And now the LORD your God hath given rest unto your brethren, as he promised them: therefore now return ye, and get you unto your tents, and unto the land of your possession, ^c which Mō'šeṣṣ the servant of the LORD gave you on the other side Jōr'dan.

5 But ^d take diligent heed to do the commandment and the law, which Mō'šeṣṣ the servant of the LORD charged you, ^e to love the LORD your God, and to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and to cleave unto him, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

6 So Jōsh'u-ā ^f blessed them, and sent them away: and they went unto their tents.

7 ¶ Now to the one half of the tribe of Mā-nās'sseh Mō'šeṣṣ had given possession in Bā'shān: ^g but unto the other half thereof gave Jōsh'u-ā among their brethren on this side Jōr'dan westward. And when Jōsh'u-ā sent them away also unto their tents, then he blessed them,

8 And he spake unto them, saying, Return with much riches unto your tents, and with very much cattle, with silver, and with gold, and with brass, and with iron, and with very much raiment: ^h divide the spoil of your enemies with your brethren.

9 ¶ And the children of Reu'ben and the children of Gād and the half tribe of Mā-nās'sseh returned, and departed from the children of Īṣ'ra-el out of Shī'lōh, which is in the land of Cā'nāan, to go unto the i country of Gīl'e-ād, to the land of their possession, whereof they were possessed, according to the word of the LORD by the hand of Mō'šeṣṣ.

10 ¶ And when they came unto the borders of Jōr'dan, that are in the land of Cā'nāan, the children of Reu'ben and the children of Gād and the half tribe of Mā-nās'sseh built there an altar by Jōr'dan, a great altar to see to.

11 ¶ And the children of Īṣ'ra-el ^j heard say, Behold, the children of Reu'ben and the children of Gād and the half tribe of Mā-nās'sseh have built an altar over against the land of Cā'nāan, in the borders of Jōr'dan, at the passage of the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

² To morrow.

12 And when the children of Īṣ'ra-el heard of it, ^k the whole congregation of the children of Īṣ'ra-el gathered themselves together at Shī'lōh, to go up to war against them.

13 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el ^l sent unto the children of Reu'ben, and to the children of Gād, and to the half tribe of Mā-nās'sseh, into the land of Gīl'e-ād, ^m Phīn'e-has the son of Ē-le-ā'zar the priest.

14 And with him ten princes, of each ¹ chief house a prince throughout all the tribes of Īṣ'ra-el; and ⁿ each one was an head of the house of their fathers among the thousands of Īṣ'ra-el.

15 ¶ And they came unto the children of Reu'ben, and to the children of Gād, and to the half tribe of Mā-nās'sseh, unto the land of Gīl'e-ād, and they spake with them, saying,

16 Thus saith the whole congregation of the LORD, What trespass is this that ye have committed against the God of Īṣ'ra-el, to turn away this day from following the LORD, in that ye have builded you an altar, ^o that ye might rebel this day against the LORD?

17 Is the iniquity ^p of Pē'or too little for us, from which we are not cleansed until this day, although there was a plague in the congregation of the LORD,

18 But that ye must turn away this day from following the LORD? and it will be, seeing ye rebel to day against the LORD, that to morrow ^q he will be wroth with the whole congregation of Īṣ'ra-el.

19 Notwithstanding, if the land of your possession be unclean, then pass ye over unto the land of the possession of the LORD, ^r wherein the LORD'S tabernacle dwelleth, and take possession among us: but rebel not against the LORD, nor rebel against us, in building you an altar beside the altar of the LORD our God.

20 ^s Did not Ā'chān the son of Zē'rah commit a trespass in the accursed thing, and wrath fell on all the congregation of Īṣ'ra-el? and that man perished not alone in his iniquity.

21 ¶ ^t Then the children of Reu'ben and the children of Gād and the half tribe of Mā-nās'sseh answered, and said unto the heads of the thousands of Īṣ'ra-el,

22 The LORD ^u God of gods, the LORD God of gods, he ^v knoweth, and Īṣ'ra-el he shall know; if it be in rebellion, or if in transgression against the LORD, (save us not this day,)

23 That we have built us an altar to turn from following the LORD, or if to offer thereon burnt offering or meat offering, or if to offer peace offerings thereon, let the LORD himself ^w require it;

24 And if we have not rather done it for fear of this thing, saying, ² In time to come your children might speak unto our children, saying, What have ye to do with the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el?

25 For the LORD hath made Jōr'dan a border between us and you, ye children of Reu'ben and children of Gād; ye have no part in the LORD: so shall your children make our children cease from fearing the LORD.

26 Therefore we said, Let us now prepare to build us an altar, not for burnt offering, nor for sacrifice:

27 But that it may be ^a a witness between us, and you, and our generations after us, that we might ^u do the service of the LORD before him with our burnt offerings, and with our sacrifices, and with our peace offerings; that your children may not say to our children in time to come, Ye have no part in the LORD.

28 Therefore said we, that it shall be, when they should so say to us or to our generations in time to come, that we may say again, Behold the pattern of the altar of the LORD, which our fathers made, not for burnt offerings, nor for sacrifices; but it is a witness between us and you.

29 God forbid that we should rebel against the LORD, and turn this day from following the LORD, ^z to build an altar for burnt offerings, for meat offerings, or for sacrifices, beside the altar of the LORD our God that is before his tabernacle.

30 ¶ And when Phīn'ē-has the priest, and the princes of the congregation and heads of the thousands of Īṣ'ra-el which were with him, heard the words that the children of Reu'ben and the children of Gād and the children of Mā-nās'seh spake, ³ it pleased them.

31 And Phīn'ē-has the son of Ē-le-ā'zar the priest said unto the children of Reu'ben, and to the children of Gād, and to the children of Mā-nās'seh, This day we perceive that the LORD is ^a among us, because ye have not committed this trespass against the LORD: ⁴ now ye have delivered the children of Īṣ'ra-el out of the hand of the LORD.

32 ¶ And Phīn'ē-has the son of Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and the princes, returned from the children of Reu'ben, and from the children of Gād, out of the land of Gīl'ē-ād, unto the land of Cā'nāan, to the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and brought them word again.

33 And the thing pleased the children of Īṣ'ra-el; and the children of Īṣ'ra-el ^b blessed God, and did not intend to go up against them in battle, to destroy the land wherein the children of Reu'ben and Gād dwelt.

34 And the children of Reu'ben and the children of Gād called the altar ⁵ Ēd: for it shall be a witness between us that the LORD is God.

16 When ye have transgressed the covenant of the LORD your God, which he commanded you, and have gone and served other gods, and bowed yourselves to them; then shall the anger of the LORD be kindled against you, and ye shall perish quickly from off the good land which he hath given unto you.

CHAPTER 24.

AND Jōsh'u-ā gathered all the tribes of Īṣ'ra-el to ^a Shē'chem, and ^b called for the elders of Īṣ'ra-el, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers; and they ^c presented themselves before God.

2 And Jōsh'u-ā said unto all the people, Thus saith the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el, ^d Your fathers dwelt on the other side of the flood in old time, even Tē'rah, the father of Ā'brā'hām, and the father of Nā'chōr: and ^e they served other gods.

3 And ^fI took your father Ā'brā-hām from the other side of the flood, and led him throughout all the land of Cā'nāan, and multiplied his seed, and ^ggave him Ī'saac.

4 And I gave unto Ī'saac Jā'cōb and Ē'sau: and I gave unto ^hĒ'sau mount Sē'ir, to possess it; but Jā'cōb and his children went down into Ē'gypt.

5 ⁱI sent Mō'seš also and Aār'on, and ^jI plagued Ē'gypt, according to that which I did among them: and afterward I brought you out.

6 And I ^kbrought your fathers out of Ē'gypt: and ye came unto the sea; ^land the Ē-ğyp'tians pursued after your fathers with chariots and horsemen unto the Red sea.

7 And when they cried unto the LORD, he put darkness between you and the Ē-ğyp'tians, and brought the sea upon them, and covered them; and your eyes have seen what I have done in Ē'gypt: and ye dwelt in the wilderness a long season.

8 And I brought you into the land of the Ām'ôr-ites, which dwelt on the other side Jôr'dan; ^mand they fought with you: and I gave them into your hand, that ye might possess their land; and I destroyed them from before you.

9 Then ⁿBā'lāk the son of Zīp'por, king of Mō'ab, arose and warred against Īš'ra-el, and ^osent and called Bā'laam the son of Bē'or to curse you:

10 ^pBut I would not hearken unto Bā'laam; ^qtherefore he blessed you still: so I delivered you out of his hand.

11 And ye went over Jôr'dan, and came unto Jēr'-i-chō: and the men of Jēr'-i-chō fought against you, the Ām'ôr-ites, and the Pēr'iz-zites, and the Cā'nāan-ites, and the Hīt'tites, and the Ġir'ga-shites, the Hī'vites, and the Jēb'u-sites; and I delivered them into your hand.

12 And ^rI sent the hornet before you, which drave them out from before you, even the two kings of the Ām'ôr-ites; but ^snot with thy sword, nor with thy bow.

13 And I have given you a land for which ye did not labour, and ^tcities which ye built not, and ye dwell in them; of the vineyards and oliveyards which ye planted not do ye eat.

14 ¶ ^uNow therefore fear the LORD, and serve him in ^vsincerity and in truth: and ^wput away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the flood, and ^xin Ē'gypt; and serve ye the LORD.

15 And if it seem evil unto you to serve the LORD, choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served that were on the other side of the flood, or ^ythe gods of the Ām'ôr-ites, in whose land ye dwell: ^zbut as for me and my house, we will serve the LORD.

16 And the people answered and said, God forbid that we should forsake the LORD, to serve other gods;

17 For the LORD our God, he it is that brought us up and our fathers out of the land of Ē'gypt, from the house of bondage, and which did those great signs in our sight, and preserved us in all the way wherein we went, and among all the people through whom we passed:

18 And the LORD drave out from before us all the people, even the Ām'ôr-ites which dwelt in the land: therefore will we also serve the LORD; for he is our God.

19 And Jōsh'u-ā said unto the people, ^aYe cannot serve the LORD: for he is an ^bholy God; he is a jealous God; ^che will not forgive your transgressions nor your sins.

20 ^dIf ye forsake the LORD, and serve strange gods, ^ethen he will turn and do you hurt, and consume you, after that he hath done you good.

21 And the people said unto Jōsh'u-ā, Nay; but we will serve the LORD.

22 And Jōsh'u-ā said unto the people, Ye are witnesses against yourselves that ^fye have chosen you the LORD, to serve him. And they said, We are witnesses.

23 Now therefore ^gput away, said he, the strange gods which are among you, and incline your heart unto the LORD God of Īš'ra-el.

24 And the people said unto Jōsh'u-ā, The LORD our God will we serve, and his voice will we obey.

25 So Jōsh'u-ā ^hmade a covenant with the people that day, and set them a statute and an ordinance in Shē'chem.

26 ¶ And Jōsh'u-ā ⁱwrote these words in the book of the law of God, and took ^ja great stone, and ^kset it up there under an oak, that was by the sanctuary of the LORD.

27 And Jōsh'u-ā said unto all the people, Behold, this stone shall be ^la witness unto us; for ^mit hath heard all the words of the LORD which he spake unto us: it shall be therefore a witness unto you, lest ye deny your God.

28 So Jōsh'u-ā let the people depart, every man unto his inheritance.

29 ¶ And it came to pass after these things, that Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn, the servant of the LORD, died, being an hundred and ten years old.

30 And they buried him in the border of his inheritance in ⁿTīm'nath-sē'rah, which is in mount Ē'phrā-īm, on the north side of the hill of Gā'āsh.

31 And ^oĪš'ra-el served the LORD all the days of Jōsh'u-ā, and all the days of the elders that ¹overlived Jōsh'u-ā, and which had known all the works of the LORD, that he had done for Īš'ra-el.

32 ¶ And ^pthe bones of Jō'seph, which the children of Īš'ra-el brought up out of Ē'gypt, buried they in Shē'chem, in a parcel of ground ^qwhich Jā'cōb bought of the sons of Hā'mor the father of Shē'chem for an hundred ²pieces of silver: and it became the inheritance of the children of Jō'seph.

33 And Ē-le-ā'zar the son of Aār'on died; and they buried him in a hill that pertained to ^rPhīn'-e-has his son, which was given him in mount Ē'phrā-īm.

CHAPTER 1.

1 Conquests by Judah. 8 Jerusalem taken. 21 The acts of Benjamin. 29 Nations remaining unconquered.

NOW after the death of Jōsh'u-ā it came to pass, that the children of Īṣ'ra-el ^aasked the LORD, saying, Who shall go up for us against the Cā'nāan-ites first, to fight against them?

2 And the LORD said, ^bJū'dah shall go up: behold, I have delivered the land into his hand.

3 And Jū'dah said unto Sīm'e-on his brother, Come up with me into my lot, that we may fight against the Cā'nāan-ites; and I likewise will go with thee into thy lot. ^cSo Sīm'e-on went with him.

4 And Jū'dah went up; and ^dthe LORD delivered the Cā'nāan-ites and the Pēr'iz-zites into their hand: and they slew of them in Bē'zek ten thousand men.

5 And they found Ā-dōn'ī-bē'zek in Bē'zek: and they fought against him, and they slew the Cā'nāan-ites and the Pēr'iz-zites.

6 But Ā-dōn'ī-bē'zek fled; and they pursued after him, and caught him, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes.

7 And Ā-dōn'ī-bē'zek said, Threescore and ten kings, having ¹their thumbs and their great toes cut off, ²gathered their meat under my table: ^cas I have done, so God hath requited me. And they brought him to Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and there he died.

8 Now ^fthe children of Jū'dah had fought against Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and had taken it, and smitten it with the edge of the sword, and set the city on fire.

9 ¶ ^gAnd afterward the children of Jū'dah went down to fight against the Cā'nāan-ites, that dwelt in the mountain, and in the south, and in the ³valley.

10 And Jū'dah went against the Cā'nāan-ites that dwelt in Hē'bron: (now the name of Hē'bron before was ^hKīr'jath-ār'bā :) and they slew Shē'shāi, and Ā-hī'mān, and Tāl'māi.

11 ⁱAnd from thence he went against the inhabitants of Dē'bīr: and the name of Dē'bīr before was Kīr'jath-sē'phēr:

12 And Cā'leb said, He that smiteth Kīr'jath-sē'phēr, and taketh it, to him will I give Āch'sah my daughter to wife.

13 And Ōth'nī-el the son of Kē'nāz, ^jCā'leb's younger brother, took it: and he gave him Āch'sah his daughter to wife.

14 ^kAnd it came to pass, when she came to him, that she moved him to ask of her father a field; and she lighted from off her ass; and Cā'leb said unto her, What wilt thou?

15 And she said unto him, ^lGive me a ⁴blessing: for thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And Cā'leb gave her the upper springs and the nether springs.

16 ¶ ^mAnd the children of the Kēn'ite, Mō'seṣ' father in law, went up out ⁿof the city of palm trees with the children of Jū'dah into the wilderness of Jū'dah, which lieth in the south of ^oĀ'rād; ^pand they went and dwelt among the people.

17 And Jū'dah went with Sīm'e-on his brother, and they slew the Cā'nāan-ites that inhabited Zē'phath, and utterly destroyed it. And the name of the city was called ^qHōr'mah.

18 Also Jū'dah took ^rGā'zā with the coast thereof, and Ās'ke-lōn with the coast thereof, and Ēk'rōn with the coast thereof.

19 And ^sthe LORD was with Jū'dah; and ⁵he drave out the inhabitants of the mountain; but could not drive out the inhabitants of the valley, because they had ^tchariots of iron.

20 ^uAnd they gave Hē'bron unto Cā'leb, as Mō'seṣ' said: and he expelled thence the three sons of Ā'nāk.

21 ^vAnd the children of Bēn'ja-min did not drive out the Jēb'u-sites that inhabited Jē-ru'sā-lēm; but the Jēb'u-sites dwell with the children of Bēn'ja-min in Jē-ru'sā-lēm unto this day.

22 ¶ And the house of Jō'seph, they also went up against Bēth'-el: and the LORD was with them.

23 And the house of Jō'seph ^wsent to descry Bēth'-el. (Now the name of the city before was ^xLūz.)

24 And the spies saw a man come forth out of the city, and they said unto him, Shew us, we pray thee, the entrance into the city, and ^ywe will shew thee mercy.

25 And when he shewed them the entrance into the city, they smote the city with the edge of the sword; but they let go the man and all his family.

26 And the man went into the land of the Hit'tites, and built a city, and called the name thereof Lūz: which is the name thereof unto this day.

27 ¶ Neither did ^zMā-nās'seh drive out the inhabitants of Bēth-shē'ān and her towns, nor ^aTā'anāch and her towns, nor the inhabitants of Dōr and her towns, nor the inhabitants of Īb'le-ām and her towns, nor the inhabitants of Mē-gīd'dō and her towns: but the Cā'nāan-ites would dwell in that land.

28 And it came to pass, when Īṣ'ra-el was strong, that they put the Cā'nāan-ites to tribute, and ⁶did not utterly drive them out.

29 ¶ ^bNeither did Ē'phrā-īm drive out the Cā'nāan-ites that dwelt in Gē'zēr; but the Cā'nāan-ites dwelt in Gē'zēr among them.

30 ¶ Neither did Zēb'u-lun drive out the inhabitants of Kīt'rōn, nor the ^cinhabitants of Nā'hā-lōl; but the Cā'nāan-ites dwelt among them, and became tributaries.

31 ¶ ^dNeither did Āsh'ēr drive out the inhabitants of Āc'chō, nor the inhabitants of Zī'dōn, nor of Āh'lāb, nor of Āch'zīb, nor of Hēl'bah, nor of Ā'phīk, nor of Rē'hōb:

32 But the Āsh'ēr-ites ^edwelt among the Cā'nāan-ites, the inhabitants of the land: for they did not drive them out.

33 ¶ Neither did Nāph'ta-lī drive out the inhabitants of Bēth-shē'mēsh, nor the inhabitants of Bēth-ā'nāth; but he dwelt among the Cā'nāan-ites, the inhabitants of the land: nevertheless the inhabitants of Bēth-shē'mēsh and of Bēth-ā'nāth became tributaries unto them.

34 And the Ām'ôr-ites forced the children of Dān into the mountain: for they would not suffer them to come down to the valley:

35 But the Ām'ôr-ites would dwell in mount Hē'rēs in Āij'a-lōn, and in Shā-āl'bim: yet the hand of the house of Jō'seph prevailed, so that they became tributaries.

36 And the coast of the Ām'ôr-ites was^h from⁸ the going up to Ā-krāb'bim, from the rock, and upward.

CHAPTER 2.

1 An angel rebukes Israel. 6 A wicked generation. 16 Judges defied.

AND an^a angel of the LORD came up from Gīl'gāl to Bō'chim, and said, I made you to go up out of Ē'gypt, and have brought you unto the land which I swore unto your fathers; and^b I said, I will never break my covenant with you.

2 And ye shall make no league with the inhabitants of this land; ye shall throw down their altars: but ye have not obeyed my voice: why have ye done this?

3 Wherefore I also said, I will not drive them out from before you; but they shall be^c as thorns in your sides, and^d their gods shall be a snare unto you.

4 And it came to pass, when the angel of the LORD spake these words unto all the children of Īš'ra-el, that the people lifted up their voice, and wept.

5 And they called the name of that place² Bō'chim: and they sacrificed there unto the LORD.

6 ¶ And when Jōsh'u-ā had let the people go, the children of Īš'ra-el went every man unto his inheritance to possess the land.

7 And the people served the LORD all the days of Jōsh'u-ā, and all the days of the elders that³ outlived Jōsh'u-ā, who had seen all the great works of the LORD, that he did for Īš'ra-el.

8 And Jōsh'u-ā the son of Nūn, the servant of the LORD, died, being an hundred and ten years old.

9 And they buried him in the border of his inheritance in Tīm'nath-hērēs, in the mount of Ē'phrā-īm, on the north side of the hill Gā'āsh.

10 And also all that generation were gathered unto their fathers: and there arose another generation after them, which^e knew not the LORD, nor yet the works which he had done for Īš'ra-el.

11 ¶ And the children of Īš'ra-el did evil in the sight of the LORD, and served Bā'al-īm:

12 And they^f forsook the LORD God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Ē'gypt, and followed^g other gods, of the gods of the people that were round about them, and^h bowed themselves unto them, and provoked the LORD to anger.

13 And they forsook the LORD, and served Bā'al and Āsh'ta-rōth.

14 ¶ And the anger of the LORD was hot against Īš'ra-el, andⁱ he delivered them into the hands of spoilers that spoiled them, and^k he sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, so that^l they could not any longer stand before their enemies.

15 Whithersoever they went out, the hand of the LORD was against them for evil, as the LORD had said, and^m as the LORD had sworn unto them: and they were greatly distressed.

16 ¶ Neverthelessⁿ the LORD raised up judges, which⁴ delivered them out of the hand of those that spoiled them.

17 And yet they would not hearken unto their judges, but they^o went a whoring after other gods, and bowed themselves unto them: they turned quickly out of the way which their fathers walked in, obeying the commandments of the LORD; but they did not so.

18 And when the LORD raised them up judges, then^p the LORD was with the judge, and delivered them out of the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge: for^q it repented the LORD because of their groanings by reason of them that oppressed them and vexed them.

19 And it came to pass, when the judge was dead, that they returned, and⁵ corrupted themselves more than their fathers, in following other gods to serve them, and to bow down unto them;⁶ they ceased not from their own doings, nor from their stubborn way.

20 ¶ And the anger of the LORD was hot against Īš'ra-el; and he said, Because that this people hath^r transgressed my covenant which I commanded their fathers, and have not hearkened unto my voice;

21 I also will not henceforth drive out any from before them of the nations which Jōsh'u-ā left when he died:

22 That through them I^s may prove Īš'ra-el, whether they will keep the way of the LORD to walk therein, as their fathers did keep it, or not.

23 Therefore the LORD⁷ left those nations, without driving them out hastily; neither delivered he them into the hand of Jōsh'u-ā.

CHAPTER 3.

1 Nations left to prove Israel. 8 Othniel as judge. 12 Ehud slays Eglon.

NOW these are the nations which the LORD left, ^ato prove Īš'ra-el by them, even as many of Īš'ra-el as had not known all the wars of Cā'nāan;

2 Only that the generations of the children of Īš'ra-el might know, to teach them war, at the least such as before knew nothing thereof;

3 Namely, ^bfive lords of the Phī-līs'tīnes, and all the Cā'nāan-ites, and the Sī-dō'nī-an, and the Hī-vītes that dwelt in mount Lēb'a-non, from mount Bā'al-hēr'mōn unto the entering in of Hā'math.

4 And they were to prove Īš'ra-el by them, to know whether they would hearken unto the commandments of the LORD, which he commanded their fathers by the hand of Mō'seš.

5 ¶ ^cAnd the children of Īš'ra-el dwelt among the Cā'nāan-ites, Hīt'tites, and Ām'ôr-ites, and Pēr'iz-zītes, and Hī'vītes, and Jēb'u-sītes:

6 And ^athey took their daughters to be their wives, and gave their daughters to their sons, and served their gods.

7 ^eAnd the children of Īṣ'ra-el did evil in the sight of the LORD, and forgot the LORD their God, and served Bā'al-īm and ^fthe groves.

8 ¶ Therefore the anger of the LORD was hot against Īṣ'ra-el, and he sold them into the hand of ^gChū'shan-rīsh-ā-thā'im king of ^hMēs-q-pō-tā'mī-ā: and the children of Īṣ'ra-el served Chū'shan-rīsh-ā-thā'im eight years.

9 And when the children of Īṣ'ra-el ⁱcried unto the LORD, the LORD ^jraised up a ^kdeliverer to the children of Īṣ'ra-el, who delivered them, even ^lŌth-nī-el the son of Kē'nāz, Cā'leb's younger brother.

10 And ^mthe Spirit of the LORD ⁿcame upon him, and he judged Īṣ'ra-el, and went out to war: and the LORD delivered Chū'shan-rīsh-ā-thā'im king of ^oMēs-q-pō-tā'mī-ā into his hand; and his hand prevailed against Chū'shan-rīsh-ā-thā'im.

11 And the land had rest forty years. And Ōth-nī-el the son of Kē'nāz died.

12 ¶ ^pAnd the children of Īṣ'ra-el did evil again in the sight of the LORD: and the LORD strengthened ^qĒg'lōn the king of Mō'ab against Īṣ'ra-el, because they had done evil in the sight of the LORD.

13 And he gathered unto him the children of Ām'mōn and ^rĀm'ā-lēk, and went and smote Īṣ'ra-el, and possessed ^sthe city of palm trees.

14 So the children of Īṣ'ra-el ^tserved Ēg'lōn the king of Mō'ab eighteen years.

15 But when the children of Īṣ'ra-el ^ucried unto the LORD, the LORD raised them up a deliverer, Ē'hūd the son of Gē'rā, ^va Bēn'ja-mīte, a man ^wleft-handed: and by him the children of Īṣ'ra-el sent a present unto Ēg'lōn the king of Mō'ab.

16 But Ē'hūd made him a dagger which had two edges, of a cubit length; and he did gird it under his raiment upon his right thigh.

17 And he brought the present unto Ēg'lōn king of Mō'ab: and Ēg'lōn was a very fat man.

18 And when he had made an end to offer the present, he sent away the people that bare the present.

19 But he himself turned again ^xfrom the ^yquarries that were by Gīl'gāl, and said, I have a secret errand unto thee, O king: who said, Keep silence. And all that stood by him went out from him.

20 And Ē'hūd came unto him; and he was sitting in ^za summer parlour, which he had for himself alone. And Ē'hūd said, I have a message from God unto thee. And he arose out of his seat.

21 And Ē'hūd put forth his left hand, and took the dagger from his right thigh, and thrust it into his belly:

22 And the haft also went in after the blade; and the fat closed upon the blade, so that he could not draw the dagger out of his belly; and ^{aa}the dirt came out.

23 Then Ē'hūd went forth through the porch, and shut the doors of the parlour upon him, and locked them.

24 When he was gone out, his servants came; and when they saw that, behold, the doors of the parlour were locked, they said, Surely he ^{aa}covereth his feet in his summer chamber.

25 And they tarried till they were ashamed: and, behold, he opened not the doors of the parlour; therefore they took a key, and ^{ab}opened them: and, behold, their lord was fallen down dead on the earth.

26 And Ē'hūd escaped ^{ac}before they tarried, and passed beyond the quarry, and escaped unto Sē'irāth.

27 And it came to pass, when he was come, that ^{ad}he blew a trumpet in the ^{ae}mountain of Ē'phrā-īm, and the children of Īṣ'ra-el went down with him from the mount, and he before them.

28 And he said unto them, Follow after me: for ^{af}the LORD hath delivered your enemies the Mō'abites into your hand. And they went down after him, and took ^{ag}the fords of Jōr'dān toward Mō'ab, and suffered not a man to pass over.

29 And they slew of Mō'ab at that time about ten thousand men, all ^{ah}lusty, and all men of valour; and there escaped not a man.

30 So Mō'ab was subdued that day under the hand of Īṣ'ra-el. And the land had rest fourscore years.

31 ¶ And after him was ^{ai}Shām'gār the son of Ā'nāth, which slew of the Phī-lis'tīnes six hundred men ^{aj}with an ox goad: ^{ak}and he also delivered ^{al}Īṣ'ra-el.

CHAPTER 4.

1 Deborah and Barak deliver Israel. 18 Death of Sisera.

AND ^{aa}the children of Īṣ'ra-el again did evil in the sight of the LORD, when Ē'hūd was dead.

2 And the LORD sold them into the hand of Jā'bin king of Cā'nāan, that reigned in ^{ab}Hā'zōr; the captain of whose host was ^{ac}Sīs'e-rā, which dwelt in Hā-rō'sheth of the Gēn'tīleṣ.

3 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el cried unto the LORD: for he had nine hundred ^{ad}chariots of iron; and twenty years ^{ae}he mightily oppressed the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

4 ¶ ^{af}And Dēb'q-rah, a prophetess, the wife of Lāp'ī-dōth, she judged Īṣ'ra-el at that time.

5 ^{ag}And she dwelt under the palm tree of Dēb'q-rah between Rā'mah and Bēth'-el in mount Ē'phrā-īm: and the children of Īṣ'ra-el came up to her for judgment.

6 And she sent and called ^{ah}Bā'rak the son of Ā-bīn'ō-ām out ^{ai}of Kē'desh-nāph'tā-lī, and said unto him, Hath not the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el commanded, saying, Go and draw toward mount Tā'bōr, and take with thee ten thousand men of the children of Nāph'tā-lī and of the children of Zēb'u-lun?

7 And ^{aj}I will draw unto thee to the ^{ak}river Kī'shōn Sīs'e-rā, the captain of Jā'bin's army, with his chariots and his multitude; and I will deliver him into thine hand.

8 And Bā'rak said unto her, If thou wilt go with me, then I will go: but if thou wilt not go with me, then I will not go.

9 And she said, I will surely go with thee: notwithstanding the journey that thou takest shall not be for thine honour; for the LORD shall sell Sis'e-rā into the hand of a woman. And Dēb'q-rah arose, and went with Bā'arak to Kē'desh.

10 ¶ And Bā'arak called ^mZēb'u-lun and Nāph'ta-lī to Kē'desh; and he went up with ten thousand men ⁿat his feet: and Dēb'q-rah went up with him.

11 Now Hē'bēr ^othe Kēn'ite, which was of the children of ^pHō'bāb the father in law of Mō'seš, had severed himself from ^qthe Kēn'ites, and pitched his tent unto the plain of Zā-a-nā'im, which is by Kē'desh.

12 And they shewed Sis'e-rā that Bā'arak the son of Ā-bin'ō-ām was gone up to mount Tā'bōr.

13 And Sis'e-rā ¹gathered together all his chariots, even nine hundred chariots of iron, and all the people that were with him, from Hā-rō'sheth of the Ġēn'tīleš unto the river of Kī'shōn.

14 And Dēb'q-rah said unto Bā'arak, Up; for this is the day in which the LORD hath delivered Sis'e-rā into thine hand: ^ris not the LORD gone out before thee? So Bā'arak went down from mount Tā'bōr, and ten thousand men after him.

15 And ^sthe LORD discomfited Sis'e-rā, and all his chariots, and all his host, with the edge of the sword before Bā'arak; so that Sis'e-rā lighted down off his chariot, and fled away on his feet.

16 But Bā'arak pursued after the chariots, and after the host, unto Hā-rō'sheth of the Ġēn'tīleš: and all the host of Sis'e-rā fell upon the edge of the sword; and there was not ²a man left.

17 Howbeit Sis'e-rā ^tfled away on his feet to the tent of Jā'el the wife of Hē'bēr the Kēn'ite: for there was peace between Jā'bin the king of Hā'zōr and the house of Hē'bēr the Kēn'ite.

18 ¶ And Jā'el went out to meet Sis'e-rā, and said unto him, Turn in, my lord, turn in to me; fear not. And when he had turned in unto her into the tent, she covered him with a ³mantle.

19 And he said unto her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water to drink; for I am thirsty. And she opened ^ua bottle of milk, and gave him drink, and covered him.

20 Again he said unto her, Stand in the door of the tent, and it shall be, when any man doth come and enquire of thee, and say, Is there any man here? that thou shalt say, No.

21 Then Jā'el Hē'bēr's wife ^vtook a nail of the tent, and ⁴took an hammer in her hand, and went softly unto him, and smote the nail into his temples, and fastened it into the ground: for he was fast asleep and weary. So he died.

22 And, behold, as Bā'arak pursued Sis'e-rā, Jā'el came out to meet him, and said unto him, Come, and I will shew thee the man whom thou seekest. And when he came into her tent, behold, Sis'e-rā lay dead, and the nail was in his temples.

23 So ^wGod subdued on that day Jā'bin the king of Cā'nāan before the children of Īš'ra-el.

24 And the hand of the children of Īš'ra-el ⁵prospered, and prevailed against Jā'bin the king of Cā'nāan, until they had destroyed Jā'bin king of Cā'nāan.

CHAPTER 5.

Song of Deborah and Barak.

THEN sang Dēb'q-rah and Bā'arak the son of Ā-bin'ō-ām on that day, saying,

2 Praise ye the LORD for the avenging of Īš'ra-el, when the people willingly offered themselves.

3 Hear, O ye kings; give ear, O ye princes; I, even I, will sing unto the LORD; I will sing praise to the LORD God of Īš'ra-el.

4 LORD, ^awhen thou wentest out of Sē'ir, when thou marchedst out of the field of Ē'dom, ^bthe earth trembled, and the heavens dropped, the clouds also dropped water.

5 ^cThe mountains ¹melted from before the LORD, even that Sī'nāi from before the LORD God of Īš'ra-el.

6 In the days of ^dShām'gār the son of Ā'nāth, in the days of Jā'el, ^ethe highways were unoccupied, and the ²travellers walked through ³byways.

7 The inhabitants of the villages ceased, they ceased in Īš'ra-el, until that I Dēb'q-rah arose, that I arose ^fa mother in Īš'ra-el.

8 They ^gchose new gods; then was war in the gates: ^hwas there a shield or spear seen among forty thousand in Īš'ra-el?

9 My heart is toward the governors of Īš'ra-el, that offered themselves willingly among the people. Bless ye the LORD.

10 ⁴Speak, ye ⁱthat ride on white asses, ye that sit in judgment, and walk by the way.

11 They that are delivered from the noise of archers in the places of drawing water, there shall they rehearse the ⁵righteous acts of the LORD, even the righteous acts toward the inhabitants of his villages in Īš'ra-el: then shall the people of the LORD go down to the gates.

12 Awake, awake, Dēb'q-rah: awake, awake, utter a song: arise, Bā'arak, and lead thy captivity captive, thou son of Ā-bin'ō-ām.

13 Then he made him that remaineth have dominion over the nobles among the people: the LORD made me have dominion over the mighty.

14 ^jOut of Ē'phrā-īm was there a root of them against Ām'a-lēk; after thee, Bēn'jā-min, among thy people; out of ^kMā'ch'ir came down governors, and out of Zēb'u-lun they that ⁶handle the pen of the writer.

15 And the princes of Īs'sa-char were with Dēb'q-rah; even Īs'sa-char, and also Bā'arak: he was sent on ⁷foot into the valley. ⁸For the divisions of Reu'ben there were great ⁹thoughts of heart.

16 Why abodest thou ^lamong the sheepfolds, to hear the bleatings of the flocks? ¹⁰For the divisions of Reu'ben there were great searchings of heart.

17 ^mĠil'e-ād abode beyond Jōr'dān: and why did Dān remain in ships? ⁿĀsh'ēr continued on the sea ¹¹shore, and abode in his ¹²breaches.

18 ^oZēb'u-lun and Nāph'ta-lī were a people that ¹³jeoparded their lives unto the death in the high places of the field.

19 The kings came and fought, then fought the kings of Cā'nāan in Tā'a-nāch by the waters of Mē-gīd'dō; ^pthey took no gain of money.

20 ^aThey fought from heaven; the ^rstars in their ¹⁴courses fought against Sīs'e-rā.

21 ^sThe river of Kī'shōn swept them away, that ancient river, the river Kī'shōn. O my soul, thou hast trodden down strength.

22 Then were the horsehoofs broken by the means of the ¹⁵pransings, the pransings of their mighty ones.

23 Curse ye Mē'rōz, said the angel of the LORD, curse ye bitterly the inhabitants thereof; ^tbecause they came not to the help ^uof the LORD, to the help of the LORD against the mighty.

24 Blessed above women shall Jā'el the wife of Hē'bēr the Kēn'ite be, ^vblessed shall she be above women in the tent.

25 He asked water, and she gave him milk; she brought forth butter in a lordly dish.

26 She put her hand to the nail, and her right hand to the workmen's hammer; and ¹⁶with the hammer she smote Sīs'e-rā, she smote off his head, when she had pierced and stricken through his temples.

27 ¹⁷At her feet he bowed, he fell, he lay down: at her feet he bowed, he fell: where he bowed, there he fell down ¹⁸dead.

28 The mother of Sīs'e-rā looked out at a window, and cried through the lattice, Why is his chariot so long in coming? why tarry the wheels of his chariots?

29 Her wise ladies answered her, yea, she returned ¹⁹answer to herself,

30 ^wHave they not sped? have they not divided the prey; ²⁰to every man a damsel or two; to Sīs'e-rā a prey of divers colours, a prey of divers colours of needlework, of divers colours of needlework on both sides, meet for the necks of them that take the spoil?

31 ^xSo let all thine enemies perish, O LORD: but let them that love him be ^yas the sun ^zwhen he goeth forth in his might. And the land had rest forty years.

2 And the hand of Mīd'ī-an ¹prevailed against Īṣ'ra-el: and because of the Mīd'ī-an-ites the children of Īṣ'ra-el made them ^cthe dens which are in the mountains, and caves, and strong holds.

3 And so it was, when Īṣ'ra-el had sown, that the Mīd'ī-an-ites came up, and the Ām'a-lēk-ites, ^dand the children of the east, even they came up against them;

4 And they encamped against them, and ^edestroyed the increase of the earth, till thou come unto Gā'zā, and left no sustenance for Īṣ'ra-el, neither ²sheep, nor ox, nor ass.

5 For they came up with their cattle and their tents, and they came as grasshoppers for multitude; for both they and their camels were without number: and they entered into the land to destroy it.

6 And Īṣ'ra-el was greatly impoverished because of the Mīd'ī-an-ites; and the children of Īṣ'ra-el ^fcried unto the LORD.

7 ¶ And it came to pass, when the children of Īṣ'ra-el cried unto the LORD because of the Mīd'ī-an-ites,

8 That the LORD sent ³a prophet unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, which said unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el, I brought you up from Ē'gŷpt, and brought you forth out of the house of bondage;

9 And I delivered you out of the hand of the Ē-gŷp'tians, and out of the hand of all that oppressed you, and drave them out from before you, and gave you their land;

10 And I said unto you, I am the LORD your God; ^afear not the gods of the Ām'ōr-ites, in whose land ye dwell: but ye have not obeyed my voice.

11 ¶ And there came an angel of the LORD, and sat under an oak which was in Ōph'rah, that pertained unto Jō'āsh ^hthe Ā'bī-ēz'rīte: and his son Ġīd'e-on threshed wheat by the winepress, ⁴to hide it from the Mīd'ī-an-ites.

12 And the ⁱangel of the LORD appeared unto him, and said unto him, The LORD is with thee, thou mighty man of valour.

13 And Ġīd'e-on said unto him, Oh my Lord, if the LORD be with us, why then is all this befallen us? and ^jwhere be all his miracles which our fathers told us of, saying, Did not the LORD bring us up from Ē'gŷpt? but now the LORD hath ^kforsaken us, and delivered us into the hands of the Mīd'ī-an-ites.

14 And the LORD looked upon him, and said, ^lGo in this thy might, and thou shalt save Īṣ'ra-el from the hand of the Mīd'ī-an-ites: ^mhave not I sent thee?

15 And he said unto him, Oh my Lord, wherewith shall I save Īṣ'ra-el? behold, ⁵my family is poor in Mā-nās'seh, and I am the least in my father's house.

16 And the LORD said unto him, ⁿSurely I will be with thee, and thou shalt smite the Mīd'ī-an-ites as one man.

17 And he said unto him, If now I have found grace in thy sight, then ^oshew me a sign that thou talkest with me.

¹⁸ ^pDepart not hence, I pray thee, until I come unto thee, and bring forth my ⁶present, and set it before thee. And he said, I will tarry until thou come again.

19 ¶ And Ġīd'e-on went in, and made ready ⁷a kid, and unleavened cakes of an ephah of flour: the flesh he put in a basket, and he put the broth in a pot, and brought it out unto him under the oak, and presented it.

20 And the angel of God said unto him, Take the flesh and the unleavened cakes, and ^qlay them upon this rock, and ^rpour out the broth. And he did so.

21 ¶ Then the angel of the LORD put forth the end of the staff that was in his hand, and touched the flesh and the unleavened cakes; and ^sthere rose up fire out of the rock, and consumed the flesh and the unleavened cakes. Then the angel of the LORD departed out of his sight.

22 And when Gīd'e-on perceived that he was an angel of the LORD, Gīd'e-on said, Alas, O Lord GOD! ^tfor because I have seen an angel of the LORD face to face.

23 And the LORD said unto him, "Peace be unto thee; fear not: thou shalt not die.

24 Then Gīd'e-on built an altar there unto the LORD, and called it ⁸Jē-hō'vah-shā'lom: unto this day it is yet ^vin Ōph'rah of the Ā'bī-ēz'rītes.

25 ¶ And it came to pass the same night, that the LORD said unto him, Take thy father's young bullock, ⁹even the second bullock of seven years old, and throw down the altar of Bā'al that thy father hath, and ^wcut down the grove that is by it:

26 And build an altar unto the LORD thy God upon the top of this ¹⁰rock, ¹¹in the ordered place, and take the second bullock, and offer a burnt sacrifice with the wood of the grove which thou shalt cut down.

27 Then Gīd'e-on took ten men of his servants, and did as the LORD had said unto him: and so it was, because he feared his father's household, and the men of the city, that he could not do it by day, that he did it ^xby night.

28 ¶ And when the men of the city arose early in the morning, behold, the altar of Bā'al was cast down, and the grove was cut down that was by it, and the second bullock was offered upon the altar that was built.

29 And they said one to another, Who hath done this thing? And when they enquired and asked, they said, Gīd'e-on the son of Jō'āsh hath done this thing.

30 Then the men of the city said unto Jō'āsh, ^yBring out thy son, that he may die: because he hath cast down the altar of Bā'al, and because he hath cut down the grove that was by it.

31 And Jō'āsh said unto all that stood against him, Will ye plead for Bā'al? will ye save him? he that will plead for him, let him be put to death whilst it is yet morning: if he be a god, let him plead for himself, because one hath cast down his altar.

32 Therefore on that day he called him ^{12z}Jē-rūb'-ba-āl, saying, Let Bā'al plead against him, because he hath thrown down his altar.

33 ¶ Then all the Mīd'i-an-ītes and the Ām'a-lēk-ītes and the children of the east were gathered together, and went over, and pitched in ^athe valley of Jēz're-el.

34 But ^bthe Spirit of the LORD ¹³came upon Gīd'e-on, and he ^cblew a trumpet; and Ā'bī-ē'zēr ¹⁴was gathered after him.

35 And he sent messengers throughout all Mā-nās'seh; who also was gathered after him: and he sent messengers unto Āsh'ēr, and unto Zēb'u-lun, and unto Nāph'tā-lī; and they came up to meet them.

36 ¶ And Gīd'e-on said unto God, If thou wilt save Īṣ'ra-el by mine hand, as thou hast said,

37 ^dBehold, I will put a fleece of wool in the floor; and if the dew be on the fleece only, and it be dry upon all the earth beside, then shall I know that

38 And it was so: for he rose up early on the morrow, and thrust the fleece together, and wringed the dew out of the fleece, a bowl full of water.

39 And Gīd'e-on said unto God, ^eLet not thine anger be hot against me, and I will speak but this once: let me prove, I pray thee, but this once with the fleece; let it now be dry only upon the fleece, and upon all the ground let there be dew.

40 And God did so that night: for it was dry upon the fleece only, and there was dew on all the ground.

CHAPTER 7.

1 Gideon's three hundred. 16 The lamps and pitchers. 24 Midian defeated.

THEN ^aJē-rūb'ba-āl, who is Gīd'e-on, and all the people that were with him, ^brose up early, and pitched beside the well of ¹Hā'rod: so that the host of the Mīd'i-an-ītes were on the north side of them, by the hill of ^cMō'reh, in the valley.

2 And the LORD said unto Gīd'e-on, The people that are with thee are too many for me to give the Mīd'i-an-ītes into their hands, lest Īṣ'ra-el ^dvaunt themselves against me, saying, Mine own hand hath saved me.

3 Now therefore go to, proclaim in the ears of the people, saying, ^eWhosoever is fearful and afraid, let him return and depart early from mount Gīl'e-ād. And there returned of the people twenty and two thousand; and there remained ten thousand.

4 And the LORD said unto Gīd'e-on, The people are yet too many; bring them down unto the water, and I will ²try them for thee there: and it shall be, that of whom I say unto thee, This shall go with thee, the same shall go with thee; and of whomsoever I say unto thee, This shall not go with thee, the same shall not go.

5 So he brought down the people unto the water: and the LORD said unto Gīd'e-on, Every one that lapped of the water with his tongue, as a dog lapped, him shalt thou set by himself; likewise every one that boweth down upon his knees to drink.

6 And the number of them that lapped, putting their hand to their mouth, were three hundred men: but all the rest of the people bowed down upon their knees to drink water.

7 And the LORD said unto Gīd'e-on, ^fBy the three hundred men that lapped will I save you, and deliver the Mīd'i-an-ītes into thine hand: and let all the other people go every man unto his place.

8 So the people took victuals in their hand, and their trumpets: and he sent all the rest of Īṣ'ra-el every man unto his tent, and retained those three hundred men: and the host of Mīd'i-an was beneath him in the valley.

9 ¶ And it came to pass the same ^gnight, that the LORD said unto him, Arise, get thee down unto the host; for I have delivered it into thine hand.

10 But if thou fear to go down, go thou with Phū'rah thy servant down to the host:

11 And thou shalt ^hhear what they say; and afterward shall thine hands be strengthened to go down unto the host. Then went he down with Phū'rah his servant unto the outside of the ³armed men that were in the host.

12 And the Mīd'i-an-ītes and the Ām'a-lēk-ītes and ²all the children of the east lay along in the valley like grasshoppers for multitude; and their camels were without number, as the sand by the sea side for multitude.

13 And when Gīd'e-on was come, behold, there was a man that told a dream unto his fellow, and said, Behold, I dreamed a dream, and, lo, ²a cake of barley bread tumbled into the host of Mīd'i-an, and came unto a tent, and smote it that it fell, and overturned it, that the tent lay along.

14 And ^khis fellow answered and said, This is nothing else save the sword of Gīd'e-on the son of Jō'āsh, a man of Īš'ra-el: for into his hand hath God delivered Mīd'i-an, and all the host.

15 ¶ And it was so, when Gīd'e-on heard the telling of the dream, and ⁴the interpretation thereof, that he worshipped, and returned into the host of Īš'ra-el, and said, Arise; for the LORD hath delivered into your hand the host of Mīd'i-an.

16 And he divided the three hundred men into three companies, and he put ⁵a trumpet in every man's hand, with empty pitchers, and ⁶lamps within the pitchers.

17 And he said unto them, Look on me, and do likewise: and, behold, when I come to the outside of the camp, it shall be that, as I do, so shall ye do.

18 When I blow with a trumpet, I and all that are with me, then blow ye the trumpets also on every side of all the camp, and say, The sword of the LORD, and of Gīd'e-on.

19 ¶ So Gīd'e-on, and the hundred men that were with him, came unto the outside of the camp in the beginning of the ¹middle watch; and they had but newly set the watch: and they blew the trumpets, and brake the pitchers that were in their hands.

20 And the three companies blew the trumpets, and brake the pitchers, and held the lamps in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right hands to blow withal: and they cried, The sword of the LORD, and of Gīd'e-on.

21 And they ^mstood every man in his place round about the camp: ⁿand all the host ran, and cried, and fled.

22 And the three hundred ^oblew the trumpets, and ^pthe LORD set ^qevery man's sword against his fellow, even throughout all the host: and the host fled to Bēth-shīt'tah ^rin Zēr'e-rāth, and to the ^sborder of Ā'bēl-mē-hō'lah, unto Tāb'bath.

23 And the men of Īš'ra-el gathered themselves together out of Nāph'tā-lī, and out of Āsh'ēr, and out of all Mā-nās'seh, and pursued after the Mīd'i-an-ītes.

24 ¶ And Gīd'e-on sent messengers throughout all ^tmount Ē'phrā-īm, saying, Come down against the Mīd'i-an-ītes, and take before them the waters unto Bēth-bā'rah and Jōr'dān. Then all the men of Ē'phrā-īm gathered themselves together, and ^utook the waters unto ^vBēth-bā'rah and Jōr'dān.

CHAPTER 8.

1 Gideon slays Midian's kings. 29 His children and death. 33 Idolatry of Israel.

AND ^athe men of Ē'phrā-īm said unto him, ¹Why hast thou served us thus, that thou calledst us not, when thou wentest to fight with the Mīd'i-an-ītes? And they did chide with him ²sharply.

2 And he said unto them, What have I done now in comparison of you? Is not the gleaning of the grapes of Ē'phrā-īm better than the vintage of Ā'bī-ē'zēr?

3 ^bGod hath delivered into your hands the princes of Mīd'i-an, Ō'reb and Zē'eb: and what was I able to do in comparison of you? Then their ³anger was abated toward him, when he had said that.

4 ¶ And Gīd'e-on came to Jōr'dān, and passed over, he, and the three hundred men that were with him, faint, yet pursuing them.

5 And he said unto the men ^cof Sūc'coth, Give, I pray you, loaves of bread unto the people that follow me; for they be faint, and I am pursuing after Zē'bah and Zal-mūn'nā, kings of Mīd'i-an.

6 ¶ And the princes of Sūc'coth said, ^dAre the hands of Zē'bah and Zal-mūn'nā now in thine hand, that ^ewe should give bread unto thine army?

7 And Gīd'e-on said, Therefore when the LORD hath delivered Zē'bah and Zal-mūn'nā into mine hand, then I will ⁴tear your flesh with the thorns of the wilderness and with briars.

8 ¶ And he went up thence ^fto Pē-nū'el, and spake unto them likewise: and the men of Pē-nū'el answered him as the men of Sūc'coth had answered him.

9 And he spake also unto the men of Pē-nū'el, saying, When I ^gcome again in peace, I will break down this tower.

10 ¶ Now Zē'bah and Zal-mūn'nā were in Kār'kōr, and their hosts with them, about fifteen thousand men, all that were left of all ^hthe hosts of the children of the east: for there fell ⁵an hundred and twenty thousand men that drew sword.

11 ¶ And Gīd'e-on went up by the way of them that dwelt in tents on the east ⁱof Nō'bah and Jōg'be-hah, and smote the host: for the host was ^jsecure.

12 And when Zē'bah and Zal-mūn'nā fled, he pursued after them, and ^ktook the two kings of Mīd'i-an, Zē'bah and Zal-mūn'nā, and ⁶discomfited all the host.

13 ¶ And Gīd'e-on the son of Jō'āsh returned from battle before the sun was up,

14 And caught a young man of the men of Sūc'coth, and enquired of him: and he ⁷described unto him the princes of Sūc'coth, and the elders thereof, even threescore and seventeen men.

15 And he came unto the men of Sūc'coth, and said, Behold Zē'bah and Zal-mūn'nā, with whom ye did upbraid me, saying, Are the hands of Zē'bah and Zal-mūn'nā now in thine hand, that we should give bread unto thy men that are weary?

16 And he took the elders of the city, and thorns of the wilderness and briers, and with them he ⁸taught the men of Sūc'coth.

17 And he beat down the tower of ¹Pē-nū'el, and slew the men of the city.

18 ¶ Then said he unto Zē'bah and Zal-mūn'nā, What manner of men were they whom ye slew ^mat Tā'bōr? And they answered, As thou art, so were they; each one ⁹resembled the children of a king.

19 And he said, They were my brethren, even the sons of my mother: as the LORD liveth, if ye had saved them alive, I would not slay you.

20 And he said unto Jē'thēr his firstborn, Up, and slay them. But the youth drew not his sword: for he feared, because he was yet a youth.

21 Then Zē'bah and Zal-mūn'nā said, Rise thou, and fall upon us: for as the man is, so is his strength. And Gīd'e-on arose, and ⁿslew Zē'bah and Zal-mūn'nā, and took away the ¹⁰ornaments that were on their camels' necks.

22 ¶ Then the men of Īṣ'ra-el said unto Gīd'e-on, Rule thou over us, both thou, and thy son, and thy son's son also: for thou hast delivered us from the hand of Mīd'i-an.

23 And Gīd'e-on said unto them, I will not rule over you, neither shall my son rule over you: ^othe LORD shall rule over you.

24 ¶ And Gīd'e-on said unto them, I would desire a request of you, that ye would give me every man the earrings of his prey. (For they had golden earrings, ^pbecause they were Īsh'mā-el-ītes.)

25 And they answered, We will willingly give them. And they spread a garment, and did cast therein every man the earrings of his prey.

26 And the weight of the golden earrings that he requested was a thousand and seven hundred shekels of gold; beside ornaments, and ¹¹collars, and purple raiment that was on the kings of Mīd'i-an, and beside the chains that were about their camels' necks.

27 And Gīd'e-on ^qmade an ephod thereof, and put it in his city, even ^rin Ōph'rah: and all Īṣ'ra-el ^swent thither a whoring after it: which thing became ^ta snare unto Gīd'e-on, and to his house.

28 ¶ Thus was Mīd'i-an subdued before the children of Īṣ'ra-el, so that they lifted up their heads no more. And the country was in quietness forty years in the days of Gīd'e-on.

29 ¶ And Jē-rūb'ba-āl the son of Jō'āsh went and dwelt in his own house.

30 And Gīd'e-on had ^uthreescore and ten sons ¹²of his body begotten: for he had many wives.

31 And his concubine that was in Shē'chem, she also bare him a son, whose name he ¹³called ¹⁴Ā-bīm'ē-lech.

32 ¶ And Gīd'e-on the son of Jō'āsh died in a good old age, and was buried in the sepulchre of Jō'āsh his father, ^vin Ōph'rah of the Ā'bī-ēz'rītes.

33 And it came to pass, ^was soon as Gīd'e-on was dead, that the children of Īṣ'ra-el turned again, and

CHAPTER 9.

1 Abimelech made king. 7 Jotham's fable. 22 Gaal's conspiracy. 50 Abimelech slain.

AND Ā-bīm'ē-lech the son of Jē-rūb'ba-āl went to Shē'chem unto ^ahis mother's brethren, and communed with them, and with all the family of the house of his mother's father, saying,

2 Speak, I pray you, in the ears of all the men of Shē'chem, ¹Whether is better for you, either that all the sons of Jē-rūb'ba-āl, which are ^bthreescore and ten persons, reign over you, or that one reign over you? remember also that I am ^cyour bone and your flesh.

3 And his mother's brethren spake of him in the ears of all the men of Shē'chem all these words: and their hearts inclined ²to follow Ā-bīm'ē-lech; for they said, He is our ^dbrother.

4 And they gave him threescore and ten pieces of silver out of the house of ^eBā'al-bē'rith, wherewith Ā-bīm'ē-lech hired ^fvain and light persons, which followed him.

5 And he went unto his father's house ^gat Ōph'rah, and ^hslew his brethren the sons of Jē-rūb'ba-āl, being threescore and ten persons, upon one stone: notwithstanding yet Jō'tham the youngest son of Jē-rūb'ba-āl was left; for he hid himself.

6 And all the men of Shē'chem gathered together, and all the house of Mīl'lō, and went, and made Ā-bīm'ē-lech king, ³by the plain of the pillar that was in Shē'chem.

7 ¶ And when they told it to Jō'tham, he went and stood in the top of ⁱmount Gēr'i-zīm, and lifted up his voice, and cried, and said unto them, Harken unto me, ye men of Shē'chem, that God may hearken unto you.

8 ^jThe trees went forth on a time to anoint a king over them; and they said unto the olive tree, ^kReign thou over us.

9 But the olive tree said unto them, Should I leave my fatness, ^lwherewith by me they honour God and man, and ⁴go to be promoted over the trees?

10 And the trees said to the fig tree, Come thou, and reign over us.

11 But the fig tree said unto them, Should I forsake my sweetness, and my good fruit, and go to be promoted over the trees?

12 Then said the trees unto the vine, Come thou, and reign over us.

13 And the vine said unto them, Should I leave my wine, which cheereth God and man, and go to be promoted over the trees?

14 Then said all the trees unto the ⁵bramble, Come thou, and reign over us.

15 And the bramble said unto the trees, If in truth

ye anoint me king over you, then come and put your trust in my ^mshadow: and if not, ⁿlet fire come out of the bramble, and devour the ^ocedars of Lēb'a-non.

16 Now therefore, if ye have done truly and sincerely, in that ye have made Ā-bīm'ē-lech king, and if ye have dealt well with Jē-rūb'ba-āl and his house, and have done unto him ^paccording to the deserving of his hands;

17 (For my father fought for you, and ^qadventured his life far, and delivered you out of the hand of Mīd'i-an:

18 And ye are risen up against my father's house this day, and have slain his sons, threescore and ten persons, upon one stone, and have made Ā-bīm'ē-lech, the son of his maidservant, king over the men of Shē'chem, because he is your brother;)

19 If ye then have dealt truly and sincerely with Jē-rūb'ba-āl and with his house this day, then ^rrejoice ye in Ā-bīm'ē-lech, and let him also rejoice in you:

20 But if not, let fire come out from Ā-bīm'ē-lech, and devour the men of Shē'chem, and the house of Mīl'lō; and let fire come out from the men of Shē'chem, and from the house of Mīl'lō, and devour Ā-bīm'ē-lech.

21 And Jō'tham ran away, and fled, and went to Bē'er, and dwelt there, for fear of Ā-bīm'ē-lech his brother.

22 ¶ When Ā-bīm'ē-lech had reigned three years over Īs'ra-el,

23 Then ^sGod sent an evil spirit between Ā-bīm'ē-lech and the men of Shē'chem; and the men of Shē'chem ^tdealt treacherously with Ā-bīm'ē-lech:

24 ^uThat the cruelty done to the threescore and ten sons of Jē-rūb'ba-āl might come, and their blood be laid upon Ā-bīm'ē-lech their brother, which slew them; and upon the men of Shē'chem, which ^vaided him in the killing of his brethren.

25 And the men of Shē'chem set liers in wait for him in the top of the mountains, and they robbed all that came along that way by them: and it was told Ā-bīm'ē-lech.

26 And Gā'al the son of Ē'bed came with his brethren, and went over to Shē'chem: and the men of Shē'chem put their confidence in him.

27 And they went out into the fields, and gathered their vineyards, and trode the grapes, and made ^wmerry, and went into ^xthe house of their god, and did eat and drink, and cursed Ā-bīm'ē-lech.

28 And Gā'al the son of Ē'bed said, ^yWho is Ā-bīm'ē-lech, and who is Shē'chem, that we should serve him? is not he the son of Jē-rūb'ba-āl? and Zē'bul his officer? serve the men of ^zHā'mor the father of Shē'chem: for why should we serve him?

29 And ^awould to God this people were under my hand! then would I remove Ā-bīm'ē-lech. And he said to Ā-bīm'ē-lech, Increase thine army, and come out.

30 ¶ And when Zē'bul the ruler of the city heard the words of Gā'al the son of Ē'bed, his anger was ^bkindled.

31 And he sent messengers unto Ā-bīm'ē-lech ¹⁰privily, saying, Behold, Gā'al the son of Ē'bed and his brethren be come to Shē'chem; and, behold, they fortify the city against thee.

32 Now therefore up by night, thou and the people that is with thee, and lie in wait in the field:

33 And it shall be, that in the morning, as soon as the sun is up, thou shalt rise early, and set upon the city: and, behold, when he and the people that is with him come out against thee, then mayest thou do to them ¹¹as thou shalt find occasion.

34 ¶ And Ā-bīm'ē-lech rose up, and all the people that were with him, by night, and they laid wait against Shē'chem in four companies.

35 And Gā'al the son of Ē'bed went out, and stood in the entering of the gate of the city: and Ā-bīm'ē-lech rose up, and the people that were with him, from lying in wait.

36 And when Gā'al saw the people, he said to Zē'bul, Behold, there come people down from the top of the mountains. And Zē'bul said unto him, ¹²Thou seest the shadow of the mountains as if they were men.

37 And Gā'al spake again and said, See there come people down by the ¹³middle of the land, and another company come along by the plain of ¹³Mē-ōn'-e-nīm.

38 Then said Zē'bul unto him, Where is now thy mouth, wherewith thou saidst, Who is Ā-bīm'ē-lech, that we should serve him? is not this the people that thou hast despised? ¹⁴go out, I pray now, and fight with them.

39 And Gā'al went out before the men of Shē'chem, and fought with Ā-bīm'ē-lech.

40 And Ā-bīm'ē-lech chased him, and he fled before him, and many were overthrown and wounded, even unto the entering of the gate.

41 And Ā-bīm'ē-lech dwelt at Ā-ru'mah: and Zē'bul thrust out Gā'al and his brethren, that they should not dwell in Shē'chem.

42 And it came to pass on the morrow, that the people went out into the field; and they told Ā-bīm'ē-lech.

43 And he took the people, and divided them into three companies, and laid wait in the field, and looked, and, behold, the people were come forth out of the city; and he rose up against them, and smote them.

44 And Ā-bīm'ē-lech, and the company that was with him, rushed forward, and stood in the entering of the gate of the city: and the two other companies ran upon all the people that were in the fields, and slew them.

45 And Ā-bīm'ē-lech fought against the city all that day; and he took the city, and slew the people that was therein, and ¹⁵beat down the city, and ¹⁴sowed it with salt.

46 ¶ And when all the men of the tower of Shē'chem heard that, they entered into an hold of the house ^oof the god Bē'rith.

47 And it was told Ā-bīm'ē-lech, that all the men of the tower of Shē'chem were gathered together.

48 And \bar{A} -bim'ě-lech gat him up to mount ^dZāl'mōn, he and all the people that were with him; and \bar{A} -bim'ě-lech took an ax in his hand, and cut down a bough from the trees, and took it, and laid it on his shoulder, and said unto the people that were with him, What ye have seen ¹⁵me do, make haste, and do as I have done.

49 And all the people likewise cut down every man his bough, and followed \bar{A} -bim'ě-lech, and put them to the hold, and set the hold on fire upon them; so that all the men of the tower of Shē'chem died also, about a thousand men and women.

50 ¶ Then ^ewent \bar{A} -bim'ě-lech to Thē'bez, and encamped against Thē'bez, and took it.

51 But there was a strong tower within the city, and thither fled all the men and women, and all they of the city, and shut it to them, and gat them up to the top of the tower.

52 And \bar{A} -bim'ě-lech came unto the tower, and fought against it, and went hard unto the door of the tower to burn it with fire.

53 And ^fa certain woman cast a piece of a millstone upon \bar{A} -bim'ě-lech's head, and all to brake his skull.

54 Then ^ghe called hastily unto the young man his armourbearer, and said unto him, Draw thy sword, and slay me, that men say not of me, A woman slew him. And his young man thrust him through, and he died.

55 And when the men of Īṣ'ra-el saw that \bar{A} -bim'ě-lech was dead, they departed every man unto his place.

56 ¶ ^hThus God rendered the wickedness of \bar{A} -bim'ě-lech, which he did unto his father, in slaying his seventy brethren:

57 And all the evil of the men of Shē'chem did God render upon their heads: and upon them came the curse of Jō'tham the son of Jē-rūb'ba-āl.

Phī-lis'tīneṣ, and into the hands of the children of Ām'mōn.

8 And that year they vexed and ³oppressed the children of Īṣ'ra-el: eighteen years, all the children of Īṣ'ra-el that were on the other side Jōr'dān in the land of the Ām'ōr-ītes, which is in Ġil'e-ād.

9 Moreover the children of Ām'mōn passed over Jōr'dān to fight also against Jū'dah, and against Bēn'jā-min, and against the house of Ē'phrā-īm; so that Īṣ'ra-el was sore distressed.

10 ¶ And the children of Īṣ'ra-el cried unto the LORD, saying, We have sinned against thee, both because we have forsaken our God, and also served Bā'al-īm.

11 And the LORD said unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el, Did not I deliver you ^jfrom the Ē-gŷp'tīaneṣ, and ^kfrom the Ām'ōr-ītes, ^lfrom the children of Ām'mōn, ^mand from the Phī-lis'tīneṣ?

13 ^qYet ye have forsaken me, and served other gods: wherefore I will deliver you no more.

14 Go and ^rcry unto the gods which ye have chosen; let them deliver you in the time of your tribulation.

15 ¶ And the children of Īṣ'ra-el said unto the LORD, We have sinned: ^sdo thou unto us whatsoever ⁴seemeth good unto thee; deliver us only, we pray thee, this day.

16 ^tAnd they put away the ⁵strange gods from among them, and served the LORD: and ^uhis soul ⁶was grieved for the misery of Īṣ'ra-el.

CHAPTER 11.

¹ Jephthah captains Ġilead. ¹² His message to Ammon. ²⁹ His vow. ³² He conquers Ammon.

NOW Jēph'thah the Ġil'e-ād-īte was ^aa mighty man of valour, and he was the son of ¹an harlot: and Ġil'e-ād begat Jēph'thah.

2 And Ġil'e-ād's wife bare him sons; and his wife's sons grew up, and they thrust out Jēph'thah, and said unto him, Thou shalt not inherit in our father's house; for thou art the son of a strange woman.

3 Then Jēph'thah fled ²from his brethren, and dwelt in the land of Tōb: and there were gathered ^bvain men to Jēph'thah, and went out with him.

4 ¶ And it came to pass ³in process of time, that the children of Ām'mōn made war against Īṣ'ra-el.

5 And it was so, that when the children of Ām'mōn made war against Īṣ'ra-el, the elders of Ġil'e-ād went to fetch Jēph'thah out of the land of Tōb:

6 And they said unto Jēph'thah, Come, and be our captain, that we may fight with the children of Ām'mōn.

7 And Jēph'thah said unto the elders of Gīl'e-ād, °Did not ye hate me, and expel me out of my father's house? and why are ye come unto me now when ye are in distress?

8 And the elders of Gīl'e-ād said unto Jēph'thah, Therefore we °turn again to thee now, that thou mayest go with us, and fight against the children of Ām'mōn, and be our °head over all the inhabitants of Gīl'e-ād.

9 And Jēph'thah said unto the elders of Gīl'e-ād, If ye bring me home again to fight against the children of Ām'mōn, and the LORD deliver them before me, shall I be your head?

10 And the elders of Gīl'e-ād said unto Jēph'thah, °the LORD °be witness between us, if we do not so according to thy words.

11 Then Jēph'thah went with the elders of Gīl'e-ād, and the people made him head and captain over them: and Jēph'thah uttered all his words °before the LORD in Mīz'peh.

12 ¶ And Jēph'thah sent messengers unto the king of the children of Ām'mōn, saying, What hast thou to do with me, that thou art come against me to fight in my land?

13 And the king of the children of Ām'mōn answered unto the messengers of Jēph'thah, °Because Īṣ'ra-el took away my land, when they came up out of Ē'g'gypt, from Ār'nōn even unto °Jāb'bok, and unto Jōr'dān: now therefore restore those lands again peaceably.

14 And Jēph'thah sent messengers again unto the king of the children of Ām'mōn:

15 And said unto him, Thus saith Jēph'thah, °Īṣ'ra-el took not away the land of Mō'ab, nor the land of the children of Ām'mōn:

16 But when Īṣ'ra-el came up from Ē'g'gypt, and °walked through the wilderness unto the Red sea, and °came to Kā'desh;

17 Then °Īṣ'ra-el sent messengers unto the king of Ē'dom, saying, Let me, I pray thee, pass through thy land: but the king of Ē'dom would not hearken thereto. And in like manner they sent unto the king of Mō'ab: but he would not consent: and Īṣ'ra-el °abode in Kā'desh.

18 Then they went along through the wilderness, and °compassed the land of Ē'dom, and the land of Mō'ab, and °came by the east side of the land of Mō'ab, and pitched on the other side of Ār'nōn, but came not within the border of Mō'ab: for Ār'nōn was the border of Mō'ab.

19 And °Īṣ'ra-el sent messengers unto Sī'hōn king of the Ām'ōr-ites, the king of Hēsh'bōn; and Īṣ'ra-el said unto him, Let us pass, we pray thee, through thy land into my place.

20 But Sī'hōn trusted not Īṣ'ra-el to pass through his coast: but Sī'hōn gathered all his people together, and pitched in Jā'hāz, and fought against Īṣ'ra-el.

21 And the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el delivered Sī'hōn and all his people into the hand of Īṣ'ra-el, and they °smote them: so Īṣ'ra-el possessed all the land of the Ām'ōr-ites, the inhabitants of that country.

22 And they possessed all the coasts of the Ām'ōr-ites, from Ār'nōn even unto Jāb'bok, and from the wilderness even unto Jōr'dān.

23 So now the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el hath dispossessed the Ām'ōr-ites from before his people Īṣ'ra-el, and shouldest thou possess it?

24 Wilt not thou possess that which °Chē'mōsh thy god giveth thee to possess? So whomsoever °the LORD our God shall drive out from before us, them will we possess.

25 And now art thou any thing better than °Bā'lāk the son of Zīp'por, king of Mō'ab? did he ever strive against Īṣ'ra-el, or did he ever fight against them,

26 While Īṣ'ra-el dwelt in Hēsh'bōn and her towns, and in °Ār'ō-ēr and her towns, and in all the cities that be along by the coasts of Ār'nōn, three hundred years? why therefore did ye not recover them within that time?

27 Wherefore I have not sinned against thee, but thou doest me wrong to war against me: the LORD °the Judge be judge this day between the children of Īṣ'ra-el and the children of Ām'mōn.

28 Howbeit the king of the children of Ām'mōn hearkened not unto the words of Jēph'thah which he sent him.

29 ¶ Then °the Spirit of the LORD came upon Jēph'thah, and he passed over Gīl'e-ād, and Mā'nās'seh, and passed over Mīz'peh of Gīl'e-ād, and from Mīz'peh of Gīl'e-ād he passed over unto the children of Ām'mōn.

30 And Jēph'thah °vowed a vow unto the LORD, and said, If thou shalt without fail deliver the children of Ām'mōn into mine hands, 31 Then it shall be, that °whatsoever cometh forth of the doors of my house to meet me, when I return in peace from the children of Ām'mōn, °shall surely be the LORD'S, °and I will offer it up for a burnt offering.

32 ¶ So Jēph'thah passed over unto the children of Ām'mōn to fight against them; and the LORD delivered them into his hands.

33 And he smote them from Ār'ō-ēr, even till thou come to °Mīn'nith, even twenty cities, and unto °the plain of the vineyards, with a very great slaughter. Thus the children of Ām'mōn were subdued before the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

34 ¶ And Jēph'thah came to °Mīz'peh unto his house, and, behold, °his daughter came out to meet him with timbrels and with dances: and she was his only child; °beside her he had neither son nor daughter.

35 And it came to pass, when he saw her, that he °rent his clothes, and said, Alas, my daughter! thou hast brought me very low, and thou art one of them that trouble me: for I °have opened my mouth unto the LORD, and °I cannot go back.

36 And she said unto him, My father, if thou hast opened thy mouth unto the LORD, °do to me according to that which hath proceeded out of thy mouth; forasmuch as ^hthe LORD hath taken vengeance for thee of thine enemies, even of the children of Ām'mōn.

37 And she said unto her father, Let this thing be done for me: let me alone two months, that I may ^ggo up and down upon the mountains, and bewail ⁱmy virginity, I and my fellows.

38 And he said, Go. And he sent her away for two months: and she went with her companions, and bewailed her virginity upon the mountains.

39 And it came to pass at the end of two months, that she returned unto her father, who ^jdid with her according to his vow which he had vowed: and she knew no man. And it was a ¹⁰custom in Īṣ'ra-el,

40 That the daughters of Īṣ'ra-el went ¹¹yearly to ¹²lament the daughter of Jēph'thah the Gīl'e-ād-ite four days in a year.

CHAPTER 12.

AND ^athe men of Ē'phrā-īm ¹gathered themselves together, and went northward, and said unto Jēph'thah, Wherefore passedst thou over to fight against the children of Ām'mōn, and didst not call us to go with thee? we will burn thine house upon thee with fire.

2 And Jēph'thah said unto them, I and my people were at great strife with the children of Ām'mōn; and when I called you, ye delivered me not out of their hands.

3 And when I saw that ye delivered me not, I ^bput my life in my hands, and passed over against the children of Ām'mōn, and the LORD delivered them into my hand: wherefore then are ye come up unto me this day, to fight against me?

4 Then Jēph'thah gathered together all the men of Gīl'e-ād, and fought with Ē'phrā-īm: and the men of Gīl'e-ād smote Ē'phrā-īm, because they said, Ye Gīl'e-ād-ites ^care fugitives of Ē'phrā-īm among the Ē'phrā-īm-ites, and among the Mā-nās'sites.

5 And the Gīl'e-ād-ites took ^dthe passages of Jōr'dan before the Ē'phrā-īm-ites: and it was so, that when those Ē'phrā-īm-ites which were escaped said, Let me go over; that the men of Gīl'e-ād said unto him, Art thou an Ē'phrā-īm-ite? If he said, Nay;

6 Then said they unto him, Say now ²Shīb'bq-lēth: and he said Šīb'bq-lēth: for he could not frame to pronounce it right. Then they took him, and slew him at the passages of Jōr'dan: and there fell at that time of the Ē'phrā-īm-ites forty and two thousand.

7 And Jēph'thah judged Īṣ'ra-el six years. Then died Jēph'thah the Gīl'e-ād-ite, and was buried in one of the cities of Gīl'e-ād.

8 ¶ And after him ³Īb'zān of Bēth'-lē-hēm judged Īṣ'ra-el.

9 And he had thirty sons, and thirty daughters, whom he sent abroad, and took in thirty daughters from abroad for his sons. And he judged Īṣ'ra-el seven years.

10 Then died Īb'zān, and was buried at Bēth'-lē-hēm.

CHAPTER 13.

AND the children of Īṣ'ra-el ¹did evil again in the sight of the LORD; ²and the LORD delivered them ^ainto the hand of the Phī-līs'tīneš forty years.

2 ¶ And there was a certain man of ^bZō'rah, of the family of the Dān'ites, whose name was Mā-nō'ah; and his wife was barren, and bare not.

3 And the ^cangel of the LORD appeared unto the woman, and said unto her, Behold now, thou art barren, and bearest not: but thou shalt conceive, and bear a son.

4 Now therefore beware, I pray thee, and ^ddrink not wine nor strong drink, and eat not any unclean thing:

5 For, lo, thou shalt conceive, and bear a son; and no ^erazor shall come on his head: for the child shall be a Nāz'a-rīte unto God from the womb: and he shall ^fbegin to deliver Īṣ'ra-el out of the hand of the Phī-līs'tīneš.

6 ¶ Then the woman came and told her husband, saying, ^gA man of God came unto me, and ^hhis countenance was like the countenance of an angel of God, very terrible: but I asked him not whence he was, neither told he me his name:

7 But he said unto me, Behold, thou shalt conceive, and bear a son; and now drink no wine nor strong drink, neither eat any unclean thing: for the child shall be a Nāz'a-rīte to God from the womb to the day of his death.

8 ¶ Then Mā-nō'ah intreated the LORD, and said, O my Lord, let the man of God which thou didst send come again unto us, and teach us what we shall do unto the child that shall be born.

9 And God hearkened to the voice of Mā-nō'ah; and the angel of God came again unto the woman as she sat in the field: but Mā-nō'ah her husband was not with her.

10 And the woman made haste, and ran, and shewed her husband, and said unto him, Behold, the man hath appeared unto me, that came unto me the other day.

11 And Mā-nō'ah arose, and went after his wife, and came to the man, and said unto him, Art thou the man that spakest unto the woman? And he said, I am.

12 And Mā-nō'ah said, Now let thy words come to pass. ³How shall we order the child, and ⁴how shall we do unto him?

13 And the angel of the LORD said unto Mā-nō'ah, Of all that I said unto the woman let her beware.

14 She may not eat of any thing that cometh of the vine, neither let her drink wine or strong drink, nor eat any unclean thing: all that I commanded her let her observe.

15 ¶ And Mā-nō'ah said unto the angel of the LORD, I pray thee, let us detain thee, until we shall have made ready a kid ⁵for thee.

16 And the angel of the LORD said unto Mā-nō'ah, Though thou detain me, I will not eat of thy bread: and if thou wilt offer a burnt offering, thou must offer it unto the LORD. For Mā-nō'ah knew not that he was an angel of the LORD.

17 And Mā-nō'ah said unto the angel of the LORD, What is thy name, that when thy sayings come to pass we may do thee honour?

18 And the angel of the LORD said unto him, ^jWhy askest thou thus after my name, seeing it is ⁶secret?

19 So Mā-nō'ah took a kid with a meat offering, ^kand offered it upon a rock unto the LORD: and the angel did wonderously; and Mā-nō'ah and his wife looked on.

20 For it came to pass, when the flame went up toward heaven from off the altar, that the angel of the LORD ascended in the flame of the altar. And Mā-nō'ah and his wife looked on it, and ^lfell on their faces to the ground.

21 But the angel of the LORD did no more appear to Mā-nō'ah and to his wife. ^mThen Mā-nō'ah knew that he was an angel of the LORD.

22 And Mā-nō'ah said unto his wife, ⁿWe shall surely die, because we have seen God.

23 But his wife said unto him, If the LORD were pleased to kill us, he would not have received a burnt offering and a meat offering at our hands, neither would he have ^oshewed us all these things, nor would as at this time have told us such things as these.

24 ¶ And the woman bare a son, and called his name ^rSām'son: and the ^pchild grew, and the LORD blessed him.

25 And ^qthe Spirit of the LORD began to move him at times in ⁸the camp of Dān ^rbetween Zō'rah and Esh'tā-ōl.

was ^fof the LORD, that he sought an occasion against the Phī-lis'tīneš: for at that time the Phī-lis'tīneš had dominion over Īš'ra-el.

5 ¶ Then went Sām'son down, and his father and his mother, to Tīm'nath, and came to the vineyards of Tīm'nath: and, behold, a young lion roared ²against him.

6 And ⁹the Spirit of the LORD came mightily upon him, and he rent him as he would have rent a kid, and he had nothing in his hand: but he told not his father or his mother what he had done.

7 And he went down, and talked with the woman; and she pleased Sām'son well.

8 ¶ And after a time he returned to take her, and he turned aside to see the carcase of the lion: and, behold, there was a swarm of bees and honey in the carcase of the lion.

9 And he took thereof in his hands, and went on eating, and came to his father and mother, and he gave them, and they did eat: but he told not them that he had taken the honey out of the carcase of the lion.

10 ¶ So his father went down unto the woman: and Sām'son made there a feast; for so used the young men to do.

11 And it came to pass, when they saw him, that they brought thirty companions to be with him.

12 ¶ And Sām'son said unto them, I will now ^hput forth a riddle unto you: if ye can certainly declare it me ⁱwithin the seven days of the feast, and find it out, then I will give you thirty ³sheets and thirty ^jchange of garments:

13 But if ye cannot declare it me, then shall ye give me thirty sheets and thirty change of garments. And they said unto him, Put forth thy riddle, that we may hear it.

14 And he said unto them, Out of the eater came forth meat, and out of the strong came forth sweetness. And they could not in three days expound the riddle.

15 And it came to pass on the seventh day, that they said unto Sām'son's wife, ^kEntice thy husband, that he may declare unto us the riddle, ^llest we burn thee and thy father's house with fire: have ye called us ⁴to take that we have? is it not so?

16 And Sām'son's wife wept before him, and said, ^mThou dost but hate me, and lovest me not: thou hast put forth a riddle unto the children of my people, and hast not told it me. And he said unto her, Behold, I have not told it my father nor my mother, and shall I tell it thee?

17 And she wept before him ⁵the seven days, while their feast lasted: and it came to pass on the seventh day, that he told her, because she lay sore upon him: and she told the riddle to the children of her people.

18 And the men of the city said unto him on the seventh day before the sun went down, What is sweeter than honey? and what is stronger than a lion? And he said unto them, If ye had not plowed with my heifer, ye had not found out my riddle.

19 ¶ And ⁿthe Spirit of the LORD came upon him, and he went down to Āsh'ke-lōn, and slew thirty men of them, and took their ⁶spoil, and gave change of garments unto them which expounded the riddle. And his anger was kindled, and he went up to his father's house.

2 And her father said, I verily thought that thou hadst utterly ^bhated her; therefore I gave her to thy companion: is not her younger sister fairer than she? ¹take her, I pray thee, instead of her.

3 ¶ And Sām'son said concerning them, ²Now shall I be more blameless than the Phī-līs'tīneṣ, though I do them a displeasure.

4 And Sām'son went and caught three hundred ³foxes, and took ⁴firebrands, and turned tail to tail, and put a firebrand in the midst between two tails.

5 And when he had set the brands on fire, he let them go into the standing corn of the Phī-līs'tīneṣ, and burnt up both the shocks, and also the standing corn, with the vineyards and olives.

6 ¶ Then the Phī-līs'tīneṣ said, Who hath done this? And they answered, Sām'son, the son in law of the Tīm'nīte, because he had taken his wife, and given her to his companion. ^cAnd the Phī-līs'tīneṣ came up, and burnt her and her father with fire.

7 ¶ And Sām'son said unto them, Though ye have done this, yet will I be avenged of you, and after that I will cease.

8 And he smote them ⁵hip and thigh with a great slaughter: and he went down and dwelt in the top of the rock ^aE'tam.

9 ¶ Then the Phī-līs'tīneṣ went up, and pitched in Jū'dah, and spread themselves in Lē'hī.

10 And the men of Jū'dah said, Why are ye come up against us? And they answered, To bind Sām'son are we come up, to do to him as he hath done to us.

11 Then three thousand men of Jū'dah ⁶went to the top of the rock E'tam, and said to Sām'son, Knowest thou not that the Phī-līs'tīneṣ are ^erulers over us? what is this that thou hast done unto us? And he said unto them, As they did unto me, so have I done unto them.

12 And they said unto him, We are come down to bind thee, that we may deliver thee into the hand of the Phī-līs'tīneṣ. And Sām'son said unto them, Swear unto me, that ye will not fall upon me yourselves.

13 And they spake unto him, saying, No; but we will bind thee fast, and deliver thee into their hand: but surely we will not kill thee. And they bound him with two new cords, and brought him up from the rock.

CHAPTER 16.

THEN went Sām'son to Gā'zā, and saw there ¹an harlot, and went in unto her.

2 And it was told the Gā'zītes, saying, Sām'son is come hither. And they ^acompassed him in, and laid wait for him all night in the gate of the city, and were ²quiet all the night, saying, In the morning, when it is day, we shall kill him.

3 And Sām'son lay till midnight, and arose at midnight, and took the doors of the gate of the city, and the two posts, and went away with them, ³bar and all, and put them upon his shoulders, and carried them up to the top of an hill that is before Hē'bron.

4 ¶ And it came to pass afterward, that he loved a woman ⁴in the valley of Sō'rek, whose name was Dē-lī'lah.

5 And the lords of the Phī-līs'tīneṣ came up unto her, and said unto her, ^bEntice him, and see wherein his great strength lieth, and by what means we may prevail against him, that we may bind him to ⁵afflict him: and we will give thee every one of us eleven hundred pieces of silver.

6 ¶ And Dē-lī'lah said to Sām'son, Tell me, I pray thee, wherein thy great strength lieth, and where-with thou mightest be bound to afflict thee.

7 And Sām'son said unto her, If they bind me with seven ⁶green withs that were never dried, then shall I be weak, and be as ⁷another man.

8 Then the lords of the Phī-līs'tīneṣ brought up to her seven green withs which had not been dried, and she ^cbound him with them.

9 Now there were men lying in wait, abiding with her in the chamber. And she said unto him, The Phī-līs'tīneṣ be upon thee, Sām'son. And he brake the withs, as a thread of tow is broken when it ⁸toucheth the fire. ^aSo his strength was not known.

10 And Dē-lī'lah said unto Sām'son, Behold, thou hast mocked me, and told me lies: now tell me, I pray thee, wherewith thou mightest be bound.

11 And he said unto her, If they bind me fast with new ropes ⁹that never were occupied, then shall I be weak, and be as another man.

12 Dē-lī'lah therefore took new ropes, and ^ebound him therewith, and said unto him, The Phī-līs'tīneṣ be upon thee, Sām'son. And there were liers in wait abiding in the chamber. And he brake them from off his arms like a thread.

13 And Dē-lī'lah said unto Sām'son, Hitherto thou hast mocked me, and told me lies: tell me wherewith thou mightest be bound. And he said unto her, If thou weavest the seven locks of my head with the web.

14 And she fastened it with the pin, and said unto him, The Phī-līs'tīneṣ be upon thee, Sām'son. And he awaked out of his sleep, and went away with the pin of the beam, and with the web.

15 ¶ And she said unto him, ^fHow canst thou say, I love thee, when thine heart is not with me? thou hast mocked me these three times, and hast not told me wherein thy great strength lieth.

16 And it came to pass, when she pressed him daily with her words, and urged him, so that his soul was ¹⁰vexed unto death;

17 That he ^gtold her all his heart, and said unto her, ^hThere hath not come a razor upon mine head; for I have been a Nāz'a-rīte unto God from my mother's womb: if I be shaven, then my strength will go from me, and I shall become weak, and be like any other man.

18 And when Dē-lī'lah saw that he had told her all his heart, she sent and called for the lords of the Phī-līs'tīneṣ, saying, Come up this once, for he hath shewed me all his heart. Then the lords of the Phī-līs'tīneṣ came up unto her, and brought money in their hand.

19 And ⁱshe made him sleep upon her knees; and she called for a man, and she caused him to shave off the seven locks of his head; and she began to afflict him, and his strength went from him.

20 And she said, The Phī-līs'tīneṣ be upon thee, Sām'son. And he awoke out of his sleep, and said, I will go out as at other times before, and shake myself. And he wist not that the LORD ^jwas departed from him.

21 ¶ But the Phī-līs'tīneṣ took him, and ¹¹put out his eyes, and brought him down to Gā'zā, and bound him with fetters of brass; and he did grind in the prison house.

22 Howbeit the hair of his head began to grow again ¹²after he was shaven.

23 Then the lords of the Phī-līs'tīneṣ gathered them together for to offer a great sacrifice unto ¹³Dā'gōn their god, and to rejoice: for they said, Our god hath delivered Sām'son our enemy into our hand.

24 And when the people saw him, they praised ^ktheir god: for they said, Our god hath delivered into our hands our enemy, and the destroyer of our country, ¹⁴which slew many of us.

25 And it came to pass, when their hearts were ^lmerry, that they said, Call for Sām'son, that he may make us sport. And they called for Sām'son out of the prison house; and he made ¹⁵them sport: and they set him between the pillars.

26 And Sām'son said unto the lad that held him by the hand, Suffer me that I may feel the pillars whereupon the house standeth, that I may lean upon them.

27 Now the house was full of men and women; and all the lords of the Phī-līs'tīneṣ were there; and there were upon the ^mroof about three thousand men and women, that beheld while Sām'son made sport.

28 And Sām'son called unto the LORD, and said, O Lord GOD, ⁿremember me, I pray thee, and strengthen me, I pray thee, only this once, O God, that I may be at once avenged of the Phī-līs'tīneṣ for my two eyes.

29 And Sām'son took hold of the two middle pillars upon which the house stood, and ¹⁶on which it was borne up, of the one with his right hand, and of the other with his left.

30 And Sām'son said, Let ¹⁷me die with the Phī-līs'tīneṣ. And he bowed himself with all his might; and the house fell upon the lords, and upon all the people that were therein. So the dead which he slew at his death were more than they which he slew in his life.

31 Then his brethren and all the house of his father came down, and took him, and brought him up, and ^oburied him between Zō'rah and Ēsh'tā-ōl in the buryingplace of Mā-nō'ah his father. And he judged Īṣ'ra-el twenty years.

CHAPTER 17.

AND there was a man of mount Ē'phrā-īm, whose name was Mī'cah.

2 And he said unto his mother, The eleven hundred shekels of silver that were taken from thee, about which thou cursedst, and spakest of also in mine ears, behold, the silver is with me; I took it. And his mother said, ^aBlessed be thou of the LORD, my son.

3 And when he had restored the eleven hundred shekels of silver to his mother, his mother said, I had wholly dedicated the silver unto the LORD from my hand for my son, to ^bmake a graven image and a molten image: now therefore I will restore it unto thee.

4 Yet he restored the money unto his mother; and his mother ^ctook two hundred shekels of silver, and gave them to the founder, who made thereof a graven image and a molten image: and they were in the house of Mī'cah.

5 And the man Mī'cah had an house of gods, and made an ^dephod, and ^eteraphim, and ¹consecrated one of his sons, who became his priest.

6 ^fIn those days there was no king in Īš'ra-el, ^obut every man did that which was right in his own eyes.

7 ¶ And there was a young man out ^hof Bēth'-lē-hēm-jū'dah of the family of Jū'dah, who was a Lē'vīte, and he sojourned there.

8 And the man departed out of the city from Bēth'-lē-hēm-jū'dah to sojourn where he could find a place: and he came to mount Ē'phrā-īm to the house of Mī'cah, ²as he journeyed.

9 And Mī'cah said unto him, Whence comest thou? And he said unto him, I am a Lē'vīte of Bēth'-lē-hēm-jū'dah, and I go to sojourn where I may find a place.

10 And Mī'cah said unto him, Dwell with me, ⁱand be unto me a ^jfather and a priest, and I will give thee ten shekels of silver by the year, and ³a suit of apparel, and thy victuals. So the Lē'vīte went in.

11 And the Lē'vīte was content to dwell with the man; and the young man was unto him as one of his sons.

12 And Mī'cah consecrated the Lē'vīte; and the young man became his priest, and was in the house of Mī'cah.

13 Then said Mī'cah, Now know I that the LORD will do me good, seeing I have a Lē'vīte to my priest.

1 Dan seeks new territory. 14 They take Micah's images and priests. 27 Laish conquered.

IN ^athose days there was no king in Īš'ra-el: and in those days ^bthe tribe of the Dān'ites sought them an inheritance to dwell in; for unto that day all their inheritance had not fallen unto them among the tribes of Īš'ra-el.

2 And the children of Dān sent of their family five men from their coasts, ¹men of valour, from ^cZō'rah, and from Ēsh'tā-ōl, ^dto spy out the land, and to search it; and they said unto them, Go, search the land: who when they came to mount Ē'phrā-īm, to the ^ehouse of Mī'cah, they lodged there.

3 When they were by the house of Mī'cah, they knew the voice of the young man the Lē'vīte: and they turned in thither, and said unto him, Who brought thee hither? and what makest thou in this place? and what hast thou here?

4 And he said unto them, Thus and thus dealeth Mī'cah with me, and hath ^fhired me, and I am his priest.

5 And they said unto him, ^gAsk counsel, we pray thee, ^hof God, that we may know whether our way which we go shall be prosperous.

6 And the priest said unto them, ⁱGo in peace: before the LORD is your way wherein ye go.

7 ¶ Then the five men departed, and came to ^jLā-ish, and saw the people that were therein, how they dwelt careless, after the manner of the Zī-dō'nī-anš, quiet and secure; and there was no ²magistrate in the land, that might put them to shame in any thing; and they were far from the Zī-dō'nī-anš, and had no business with any man.

8 And they came unto their brethren to Zō'rah and Ēsh'tā-ōl: and their brethren said unto them, What say ye?

9 And they said, ^kArise, that we may go up against them: for we have seen the land, and, behold, it is very good: and are ^lye still? be not slothful to go, and to enter to possess the land.

10 When ye go, ye shall come unto a people secure, and to a large land: for God hath given it into your hands; ^ma place where there is no want of any thing that is in the earth.

11 ¶ And there went from thence of the family of the Dān'ites, out of Zō'rah and out of Ēsh'tā-ōl, six hundred men ³appointed with weapons of war.

12 And they went up, and pitched in ⁿKīr'jath-jē'a-rīm, in Jū'dah: wherefore they called that place ⁴Mā'hā-neh-dān unto this day: behold, it is behind Kīr'jath-jē'a-rīm.

13 And they passed thence unto mount Ē'phrā-īm, and came unto the house of Mī'cah.

14 ¶ ^oThen answered the five men that went to spy out the country of Lā'ish, and said unto their brethren, Do ye know that ^pthere is in these houses an ephod, and teraphim, and a graven image, and a molten image? now therefore consider what ye have to do.

15 And they turned thitherward, and came to the house of the young man the Lē'vīte, even unto the house of Mī'cah, and ⁵saluted him.

16 And the six hundred men appointed with their weapons of war, which were of the children of Dān, stood by the entering of the gate.

17 And the five men that went to spy out the land went up, and came in thither, and took ^qthe graven image, and the ephod, and the teraphim, and the molten image: and the priest stood in the entering of the gate with the six hundred men that were appointed with weapons of war.

18 And these went into Mī'cah's house, and fetched the carved image, the ephod, and the teraphim, and the molten image. Then said the priest unto them, What do ye?

19 And they said unto him, Hold thy peace, ^rlay thine hand upon thy mouth, and go with us, ^sand be to us a father and a priest: is it better for thee to be a priest unto the house of one man, or that thou be a priest unto a tribe and a family in Īš'ra-el?

20 And the priest's heart was glad, and he took the ephod, and the teraphim, and the graven image, and went in the midst of the people.

21 So they turned and departed, and put the little ones and the cattle and the carriage before them.

22 ¶ And when they were a good way from the house of Mī'cah, the men that were in the houses near to Mī'cah's house were gathered together, and overtook the children of Dān.

23 And they cried unto the children of Dān. And they turned their faces, and said unto Mī'cah, What aileth thee, ⁶that thou comest with such a company?

24 And he said, Ye have taken away my gods which I made, and the priest, and ye are gone away: and what have I more? and what is this that ye say unto me, What aileth thee?

25 And the children of Dān said unto him, Let not thy voice be heard among us, lest ⁷angry fellows run upon thee, and ⁸thou lose thy life, with the lives of thy household.

26 And the children of Dān went their way : and when Mī'cah saw that they were too strong for him, he turned and went back unto his house.

27 And they took the things which Mī'cah had made, and the priest which he had, and ¹came unto Lā'ish, unto a people that were at quiet and secure : ²and they smote them with the edge of the sword, and burnt the city with fire.

28 And there was no deliverer, because it was ¹far from Zi'dōn, and they had no business with any man ; and it was in the valley that lieth ²by Bēth-rē'hōb. And they built a city, and dwelt therein.

29 And ¹they called the name of the city ²Dān, after the name of Dān their father, who was born unto Īṣ'ra-el : howbeit the name of the city was Lā'ish at the first.

30 ¶ And the children of Dān set up the graven image : and Jōn'a-than, the son of Ġēr'shōm, the son of Mā-nās'seh, he and his sons were priests to the tribe of Dān ¹until the day of the captivity of the land.

31 And they set them up Mī'cah's graven image, which he made, ¹all the time that the house of God was in Shī'lōh.

1 The Levite of mount Ephraim. 16 His treatment at Gibeah. 20 His concubine divided.

AND it came to pass in those days, ¹when there was no king in Īṣ'ra-el, that there was a certain Lē'vite sojourning on the side of mount Ē'phrā-īm, who took to him ¹a concubine out of ²Bēth'-lē-hēm-jū'dah.

2 And his concubine played the whore against him, and went away from him unto her father's house to Bēth'-lē-hēm-jū'dah, and was there ²four whole months.

3 And her husband arose, and went after her, to speak ³friendly unto her, and to bring her again, having his servant with him, and a couple of asses : and she brought him into her father's house : and when the father of the damsel saw him, he rejoiced to meet him.

4 And his father in law, the damsel's father, retained him ; and he abode with him three days : so they did eat and drink, and lodged there.

5 ¶ And it came to pass on the fourth day, when they arose early in the morning, that he rose up to depart : and the damsel's father said unto his son in law, ⁴Comfort thine heart with a morsel of bread, and afterward go your way.

6 And they sat down, and did eat and drink both of them together : for the damsel's father had said unto the man, Be content, I pray thee, and tarry all night, and let thine heart be merry.

7 And when the man rose up to depart, his father in law urged him : therefore he lodged there again.

8 And he arose early in the morning on the fifth day to depart : and the damsel's father said, Comfort thine heart, I pray thee. And they tarried ⁵until afternoon, and they did eat both of them.

9 And when the man rose up to depart, he, and his concubine, and his servant, his father in law, the damsel's father, said unto him, Behold, now the day ⁶draweth toward evening, I pray you tarry all night : behold, ⁷the day groweth to an end, lodge here, that thine heart may be merry ; and to morrow get you early on your way, that thou mayest go ⁸home.

10 But the man would not tarry that night, but he rose up and departed, and came ⁹over against ¹Jē'bus, which is Jē-ru'sā-lēm ; and there were with him two asses saddled, his concubine also was with him.

11 And when they were by Jē'bus, the day was far spent ; and the servant said unto his master, Come, I pray thee, and let us turn in into this city ¹⁰of the Jēb'u-sites, and lodge in it.

12 And his master said unto him, We will not turn aside hither into the city of a stranger, that is not of the children of Īṣ'ra-el ; we will pass over ¹¹to Ġib'ē-ah.

13 And he said unto his servant, Come, and let us draw near to one of these places to lodge all night, in Ġib'ē-ah, or in Rā'mah.

14 And they passed on and went their way ; and the sun went down upon them when they were by Ġib'ē-ah, which belongeth to Bēn'ja-min.

15 And they turned aside thither, to go in and to lodge in Ġib'ē-ah : and when he went in, he sat him down in a street of the city : for there was no man that ¹²took them into his house to lodging.

16 ¶ And, behold, there came an old man from ¹³his work out of the field at even, which was also of mount Ē'phrā-īm ; and he sojourned in Ġib'ē-ah : but the men of the place were ¹⁴Bēn'ja-mītes.

17 And when he had lifted up his eyes, he saw a wayfaring man in the street of the city : and the old man said, Whither goest thou ? and whence comest thou ?

18 And he said unto him, We are passing from Bēth'-lē-hēm-jū'dah toward the side of mount Ē'phrā-īm ; from thence am I : and I went to Bēth'-lē-hēm-jū'dah, but I am now going to ¹⁵the house of the LORD ; and there is no man that ¹⁶receiveth me to house.

19 Yet there is both straw and provender for our asses ; and there is bread and wine also for me, and for thy handmaid, and for the young man which is with thy servants : there is no want of any thing.

20 And the old man said, ¹⁷Peace be with thee ; howsoever let all thy wants lie upon me ; ¹⁸only lodge not in the street.

21 ¹⁹So he brought him into his house, and gave provender unto the asses : ²⁰and they washed their feet, and did eat and drink.

22 ¶ Now as they were making their hearts merry, behold, ²¹the men of the city, certain ²²sons of Bē-lī-al, beset the house round about, and beat at the door, and spake to the master of the house, the old man, saying, "Bring forth the man that came into thine house, that we may know him.

23 And °the man, the master of the house, went out unto them, and said unto them, Nay, my brethren, nay, I pray you, do not so wickedly; seeing that this man is come into mine house, "do not this folly.

24 "Behold, here is my daughter a maiden, and his concubine; them I will bring out now, and °humble ye them, and do with them what seemeth good unto you: but unto this man do not ¹³so vile a thing.

25 But the men would not hearken to him: so the man took his concubine, and brought her forth unto them; and they °knew her, and abused her all the night until the morning: and when the day began to spring, they let her go.

26 Then came the woman in the dawning of the day, and fell down at the door of the man's house where her lord was, till it was light.

27 And her lord rose up in the morning, and opened the doors of the house, and went out to go his way: and, behold, the woman his concubine was fallen down at the door of the house, and her hands were upon the threshold.

28 And he said unto her, Up, and let us be going. But °none answered. Then the man took her up upon an ass, and the man rose up, and gat him unto his place.

29 ¶ And when he was come into his house, he took a knife, and laid hold on his concubine, °and divided her, together with her bones, into twelve pieces, and sent her into all the coasts of Īš'ra-el.

30 And it was so, that all that saw it said, There was no such deed done nor seen from the day that the children of Īš'ra-el came up out of the land of Ē'ġypt unto this day: consider of it, °take advice, and speak your minds.

inheritance of Īš'ra-el: for they °have committed lewdness and folly in Īš'ra-el.

7 Behold, ye are all children of Īš'ra-el; °give here your advice and counsel.

8 ¶ And all the people arose as one man, saying, We will not any of us go to his tent, neither will we any of us turn into his house.

9 But now this shall be the thing which we will do to Ġib'e-ah; we will go up by lot against it;

10 And we will take ten men of an hundred throughout all the tribes of Īš'ra-el, and an hundred of a thousand, and a thousand out of ten thousand, to fetch victual for the people, that they may do, when they come to Ġib'e-ah of Bēn'ja-min, according to all the folly that they have wrought in Īš'ra-el.

11 So all the men of Īš'ra-el were gathered against the city, °knit together as one man.

12 ¶ °And the tribes of Īš'ra-el sent men through all the tribe of Bēn'ja-min, saying, What wickedness is this that is done among you?

13 Now therefore, deliver us the men, °the children of Bē'lī-al, which are in Ġib'e-ah, that we may put them to death, and °put away evil from Īš'ra-el. But the children of Bēn'ja-min would not °hearken to the voice of their brethren the children of Īš'ra-el:

14 But the children of Bēn'ja-min gathered themselves together out of the cities unto Ġib'e-ah, to go out to battle against the children of Īš'ra-el.

15 And the children of Bēn'ja-min were numbered at that time out of the cities twenty and six thousand men that drew sword, beside the inhabitants of Ġib'e-ah, which were numbered seven hundred chosen men.

16 Among all this people there were seven hundred chosen °men lefthanded; every one could sling stones at an hair breadth, and not miss.

17 And the men of Īš'ra-el, beside Bēn'ja-min, were numbered four hundred thousand men that drew sword: all these were men of war.

18 ¶ And the children of Īš'ra-el arose, and went up to the house of God, and °asked counsel of God, and said, Which of us shall go up first to the battle against the children of Bēn'ja-min? And the LORD said, Jū'dah shall go up first.

19 And the children of Īš'ra-el rose up in the morning, and encamped against Ġib'e-ah.

20 And the men of Īš'ra-el went out to battle against Bēn'ja-min; and the men of Īš'ra-el put themselves in array to fight against them at Ġib'e-ah.

21 And °the children of Bēn'ja-min came forth out of Ġib'e-ah, and °destroyed down to the ground of the Īš'ra-el-ites that day twenty and two thousand men.

22 And the people the men of Īš'ra-el encouraged themselves, and set their battle again in array in the place where they put themselves in array the first day.

23 (And the children of Īš'ra-el went up and °wept before the LORD until even, and asked counsel of the LORD, saying, Shall I go up again to battle against the children of Běn'ja-min my brother? And the LORD said, Go up against him.)

24 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el came near against the children of Běn'ja-min the second day.

25 And Běn'ja-min went forth against them out of Ġīb'e-ah the second day, and ^sdestroyed down to the ground of the children of Īṣ'ra-el again eighteen thousand men; all these drew the sword.

26 ¶ Then all the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and all the people, went up, and came unto the house of God, and wept, and sat there before the LORD, and fasted that day until even, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the LORD.

27 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el ^tenquired of the LORD, (for ^uthe ark of the covenant of God was there in those days, 28 ^vAnd Phīn'e-has, the son of Ē-le-ā'zar, the son of Aār'on, ^wstood before it in those days,) saying, Shall I yet again go out to battle against the children of Běn'ja-min my brother, or shall I cease? And the LORD said, Go up; for to-morrow I will deliver them into thine hand.

29 And Īṣ'ra-el ^xset liers in wait round about Ġīb'e-ah.

30 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el went up against the children of Běn'ja-min on the third day, and put themselves in array against Ġīb'e-ah, as at other times.

31 And the children of Běn'ja-min went out against the people, and were drawn away from the city; and they began ⁵to smite of the people, and kill, as at other times, in the highways, of which one goeth up to ⁶the house of God, and the other to Ġīb'e-ah in the field, about thirty men of Īṣ'ra-el.

32 And the children of Běn'ja-min said, They are smitten down before us, as at the first. But the children of Īṣ'ra-el said, Let us flee, and draw them from the city unto the highways.

33 And all the men of Īṣ'ra-el rose up out of their place, and put themselves in array at Bā'al-tā'mār: and the liers in wait of Īṣ'ra-el came forth out of their places, even out of the meadows of Ġīb'e-ah.

34 And there came against Ġīb'e-ah ten thousand chosen men out of all Īṣ'ra-el, and the battle was sore: ^ybut they knew not that evil was near them.

35 And the LORD smote Běn'ja-min before Īṣ'ra-el: and the children of Īṣ'ra-el destroyed of the Běn'ja-mītes that day twenty and five thousand and an hundred men: all these drew the sword.

36 So the children of Běn'ja-min saw that they were smitten: ^zfor the men of Īṣ'ra-el gave place to the Běn'ja-mītes, because they trusted unto the liers in wait which they had set beside Ġīb'e-ah.

37 ^aAnd the liers in wait hastened, and rushed upon Ġīb'e-ah; and the liers in wait ⁷drew themselves along, and smote all the city with the edge of the sword.

38 Now there was an appointed ⁸sign between the men of Īṣ'ra-el ⁹and the liers in wait, that they should make a great ¹⁰flame with smoke rise up out of the city.

39 And when the men of Īṣ'ra-el retired in the battle, Běn'ja-min began ¹¹to smite and kill of the men of Īṣ'ra-el about thirty persons: for they said, Surely they are smitten down before us, as in the first battle.

40 But when the flame began to arise up out of the city with a pillar of smoke, the Běn'ja-mītes ^blooked behind them, and, behold, ¹²the flame of the city ascended up to heaven.

41 And when the men of Īṣ'ra-el turned again, ^cthe men of Běn'ja-min were amazed: for they saw that evil ¹³was come upon them.

42 Therefore they turned their backs before the men of Īṣ'ra-el unto the way of the wilderness; but the battle overtook them; and them which came out of the cities they destroyed in the midst of them.

43 Thus they ^dinclosed the Běn'ja-mītes round about, and chased them, and trode them down ¹⁴with ease ¹⁵over against Ġīb'e-ah toward the sun-rising.

44 And there fell of Běn'ja-min eighteen thousand men; all these were men of valour.

45 And they turned and fled toward the wilderness unto the rock of ^eRīm'mōn: and they gleaned of them in the highways five thousand men; and pursued hard after them unto Ġī'dom, and slew two thousand men of them.

46 So that all which fell that day of Běn'ja-min were twenty and five thousand men that drew the sword; all these were men of valour.

47 ^fBut six hundred men turned and fled to the wilderness unto the rock Rīm'mōn, and abode in the rock Rīm'mōn four months.

48 And the men of Īṣ'ra-el turned again upon the children of Běn'ja-min, and smote them with the edge of the sword, as well the men of every city, as the beast, and all that ¹⁶came to hand: also they set on fire all the cities that ¹⁷they came to.

CHAPTER 21.

¹ Benjamin's fate lamented. ¹⁶ Wives provided for the remnant.

NOW ^athe men of Īṣ'ra-el had sworn in Mīz'peh, saying, There shall not any of us give his daughter unto Běn'ja-min to wife.

2 And the people came ^bto the house of God, and abode there till even before God, and lifted up their voices, and wept sore;

3 And said, O LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el, why is this come to pass in Īṣ'ra-el, that there should be to day one tribe lacking in Īṣ'ra-el?

4 And it came to pass on the morrow, that the people rose early, and ^cbuilt there an altar, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings.

5 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el said, Who is there among all the tribes of Īṣ'ra-el that came not up with the congregation unto the LORD? ^dFor they had made a great oath concerning him that came not up to the LORD to Mīz'peh, saying, He shall surely be put to death.

6 And the children of Īṣ'ra-el repented them for Běn'ja-min their brother, and said, There is one tribe cut off from Īṣ'ra-el this day.

7 How shall we do for wives for them that remain, seeing we have sworn by the LORD that we will not give them of our daughters to wives?

8 ¶ And they said, What one is there of the tribes of Īṣ'ra-el that came not up to Mīz'peh to the LORD? And, behold, there came none to the camp from ^eJā'besĥ-gīl'e-ād to the assembly.

9 For the people were numbered, and, behold, there were none of the inhabitants of Jā'besĥ-gīl'e-ād there.

10 And the congregation sent thither twelve thousand men of the valiantest, and commanded them, saying, ^fGo and smite the inhabitants of Jā'besĥ-gīl'e-ād with the edge of the sword, with the women and the children.

11 And this is the thing that ye shall do, ^gYe shall utterly destroy every male, and every woman that ¹hath lain by man.

12 And they found among the inhabitants of Jā'besĥ-gīl'e-ād four hundred ²young virgins, that had known no man by lying with any male: and they brought them unto the camp to ^hShī'lōh, which is in the land of Cā'nāan.

13 And the whole congregation sent some ³to speak to the children of Bēn'jā-min ⁱthat were in the rock Rīm'mōn, and to ⁴call peaceably unto them.

14 And Bēn'jā-min came again at that time; and they gave them wives which they had saved alive of the women of Jā'besĥ-gīl'e-ād: and yet so they sufficed them not.

15 And the people repented them for Bēn'jā-min, because that the LORD had made a breach in the tribes of Īṣ'ra-el.

16 ¶ Then the elders of the congregation said, How shall we do for wives for them that remain, seeing the women are destroyed out of Bēn'jā-min?
